Mrs. Hebert celebrating 100 birthday

Friends and relatives are invited to the 100th birthday party of Mabel Helms-Hebert at the Sweetlake United Methodist Church family life center Saturday, April 7 from 2 to 4 p.m.

A life long resident of Cameron Parish, she was mar-ried to the late Eraste "Tumpy" Hebert, who was a former member of the Cameron Police Jury. The Heberts made a living as rice and cattle farmers.

Mrs. Hebert is one of seven children born of Fielder and Ida Jenner-Helms. Her siblings included: Walter Helms, Herman H. Helms, Teitum Helms-Viedt, Lafayette Helms, and Lee K. Helms. (all deceased).

She also has out-lived all of her four children: Malcolm G. Hebert, Dorothy Hebert, Herbert W. Hebert and Donald E. Hebert.

Mrs. Hebert lives Eraste Hebert Ln. off of Hwy 384E. She is cared for by friends and family and expects to be there many

Employees honored for safety here

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Omer B. Smith, superintendent of Shorebases for Amarada Hess Corporation Gulf Coast Operations congratulated the staff of Cameron Shorebase for 18 years of accident-free service.

"Handling millions of tons of tubulars and heavy equipment in support of deepwater and shelf operations over the years with such an outstanding safety record is a very proud achievement," he said.

Harold Chapman, Manager of Safety for Amarada Hess Corp. was on hand to congratulate the employees and said that their safety record was one of the best in the nation.

Smith honored the employees with a dinner at the base plant and passed out gifts to each.

Library has display of nature photographs

An exhibit of nature photographs by Charles W. Ancona of New Iberia is now on display at the Cameron Parish Library and will be part of the National Library Week and the Library's open house Thursday, April 5 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Ancona, vice president of Health and Life department of the ICT Group, bought his first camera when he joined the Navy at the young age of 17 and has carried it with him ever since.

An avid sportsman, "When you see me I've got it all," said Ancona. "I like to hunt and fish a lot, so when I bring my fishing rod or shotgun, I always bring along my camera."

Although his lifelong dream is to have his photographs in National Geographic magazine, Ancona never entered a contest until a woman made a comment to him about some family photos. The lady persuaded Ancona to enter his picture of a sunset over the marsh after telling him of her recent backpacking expedition in the mountains and that he was not too old to follow his

That picture of the sunset was the winning entry in the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries magazine photo contest for its May/June issue of "Louisiana Conservationist." Ancona won that contest as well as the July/August one.

"There is a story with every picture," claimed Ancona. He described how he was outside and saw a green male anole lizard and how he was told, "if you stand about three feet from them and go 'click, click, click' while you move your finger, the males become defensive and show their red throat fan, or 'money bag' as the Cajuns call it. As a kid I was told that there was a dime in there."

Ancona uses "very inexpensive" magnifying filters on his Canon camera to "fill the frame and paint with the photos." He said that he is constantly conscious of where the sun is and what is in the background of the shot, but keeps sight of the picture's focus, which is the animal.

Even though his thirst for pictures has taken him to Rockefeller Refuge and Cameron Prairie Refuge, which he calls "the prettiest place on earth" and the Smokey Mountains, to name a few, Ancona encourages, "A lot can be done in your backyard. I live in it and I love it." He searched all over Louisiana for six months to find a tiger swallowtail butterfly to add to his photograph collection. Charles finally found the elusive butterfly as a deadline neared...in his neighbor's yard.

Ancona said that he plans to chase his dream with the National Geographic magazine and in about two years, when he is 62, do more traveling, of course with his camera.

Open house to be held at Library

The Cameron Parish Library will observe National Library Week, April 2-6, with an open house on Thursday, April 5 from 2 to 4 p.m.

The library will have two guest speakers. Judge Ward Fontenot will speak on the last public execution held in Cameron Parish and Hadley Fontenot will speak on the development of Cameron, such as the first bank, phones, etc. On display will be the award winning wildlife photographs of Charles Wayne Ancona (winner of the Louisiana Conservationist Award), quilts and handicrafts from the Crafty Ladies who meet at the Wakefield Methodist Church on Monday mornings, and wood carvings by Robert Schwark.

Area Homemaker Clubs will be furnish refreshments after the program.

THE CAMERON PARISH Courthouse is 64 years old and still is in full use by parish offices (although some have had to move into other buildings due to a need for more space.) It was one of 12 new courthouses built in Louisiana from 1937 to 1940 as WPA projects. The plaques in the foreground list Cameron Parish residents who served during war time and in front of the courthouse is a monument to the parish's war dead.

Courthouse featured Drivers Lic. in magazine article

(EDITOR'S NOTE--The Cameron courthouse was built in 1937 during the period described in the article below. The story is told that President Roosevelt told W. P. A. officials to give Cameron Parish a fine courthouse because of fond memories that he had of a hunting trip to Grand Chenier prior to becoming president.)

(The Cameron courthouse was designed by the Herman J. Duncan Company of Alexandria and was constructed as a W.P. A. project by Farnel Blair of Lake Charles.)

(Preservation In Print) Franklin Roosevelt's New Deal created the Public Works Administration (PWA) and the Works Progress Administration (WPA) in the midst of the Great Depression. A cooperative effort between federal and local governments, these two massive public building projects put peo-ple to work, jump-started the economy, and gave us schools, sewerage systems, hospitals, bridges, roads, and university buildings.

Between December of 1937 and July of 1940, the PWA erected twelve new courthouses, added six additions or annexes to existing structures, and so extensively rebuilt another that it might well be considered a new building. The WPA was responsible for two more court-

The PWA put new courtouse-iails in Caldwell Cameron, East Carroll, Iberia, Jackson, Natchitoches, Rapides, St. Bernard, St. Landry, and Terrebonne parishes.

They also overhauled the Madison parish courthouse and added its jail. They added jails in Caddo and St. John the Baptist parishes and additions or annexes to Morehouse, Pt. Coupee, St. James, and Tangipahoa parish courthouses. The WPA built courthouses in Concordia and St. Helena parishes.

All the courthouses and most of the additions are still standing, and all but Concordia are still their parish's primary court

Most of these buildings have a distinctive style, known variously as "stripped-down classicism," "starved classicism," "PWA Moderne," or "Greco-Deco." As the terms collectively imply, a simplified version of Greco-Roman classicism is combined with features of the then-fashionable Art Deco. The basic elements of the Greek temple, base, column, and entablature, still dominate, but the window treatments, lighting, and details like doors and handrails show the Deco influence.

This style was not imposed from Washington. PWA projects were initiated and designed locally. The term "PWA Moderne" came about because that agency made possible the vast majority of public building during this period and because the starved classicism or Greco-Deco style was favored by most architects across the country at the same time.

In addition to their handsome appearance, these courthouses are also well built. The fact that they are all still standing sixty years later and almost all of them still serving their original purposes is testimony to their sturdiness. Another bit of evidence is the fact that Cameron Parish's courthouse was one of the few buildings in town to stand up to Hurricane Audrey in 1957. Cont. on Page 9.

closing to be opposed

The Cameron Parish Police Jury is expected to adopt a resolution Monday opposing the proposed closing of the Cameron Driver's License office. The office is due to be closed soon as an economy measure by the state. The jury also will approve advertising for bids on a new bookmobile for the Cameron Parish Library and bids on a timber walkway from the Jetty Pier park to the Gulf.

Amends to the parish ambulance ordinance and the dog ordinance will be considered.

Other items on the monthly jury meeting set for 5 p.m. Monday are a cable TV franchise extension, a recycling plan, and a proposal to abandon a portion of Bourg Point road.

Delinquent tax list is published

Published elsewhere in this issue is a list of over 100 pieces of property in Cameron Parish on which the 2000 taxes have not been paid. Certified notices had been previously mailed to the owners of each property.

If the taxes, plus interest and advertising cost, are not paid these properties will be sold by the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Dept. at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, May 2 at the front door of the

The sales will be for cash and the immovable property sold will be redeemable at any time for the space of three years by paying the taxes, including costs and five per cent penalty thereon and interest a the rate of one per cent per month until paid.

Fishing pier to begin charging fees Sunday

The Cameron jetties fishing pier, which has been open for about a year, will start charging a $2 fee per person to fish beginning Sunday, April 1, according to Tina Horn, Cameron parish administrator.

The pier was built by the Police Jury with the aid of state grants. It is located on the east side of the ship channel at the end of the Jetty road at

Hub Enterprises, a security service, will have personnel on duty to collect fishing fees. The RV park at the site also is open and owners of RV vehicles who wish to hook up to electricity will be charged $10 per day, which will include the fishing

Reservations for the RV park may be made by calling 337-775-5718 or 337-477-8655, which are the Police Jury numbers. A telephone at the site will be installed later.

Fishing off of the pier which extends into the mouth of the channel has been good.

Fees charged for fishing and for RV hookups will be used to provide security and upkeep for the pier and park.

Horn also announced that the parish has received a $23,000 state grant to build a timber walkway from the RV park to the beach.

Benefit to be held in Johnson Bayou

A benefit to aid Ernest Trahan will be held Saturday, April 28 at the Johnson Bayou community center.

A sale of "anything and everything" will be held from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Call 569-2554 for donation information. Chicken gumbo will be sold at 6 p.m. for $5 a bowl.

A cow pattie bingo will be held at Crain Ranch.

Barry Badon and the Bayou Boys will play for a dance from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. There will be auctions, door prizes, raffles, etc. Admission is $15 per person, which includes gumbo.

class room for two years, under the same four teachers. In other words each teacher taught two classes in her room each day, first and second grades and so dents that graduated.

I've been told that back then there was a lack of money to keep the schools going. In fact I was told by one of my old teachers that at times the superintendent and the board members didn't bring home a check each month. But they never decided to just quit and give up. They fought it out and found a way to keep the school open. They knew of its importance.

Now here in 2001 we are told that money is not their reason for closing the school its enrollment. Well all I can say to that is if Mr. Tom McCall and Mr. U. E. Hackett could keep our school open with lack of money and students why are we closing Grand Chenier school now? Why, Why, Why?

The La. Department of Wildlife & Fisheries at the hunting season meeting at Burton Coliseum last week went well. Under consideration is to have all the coastal parishes have their duck seasons at the same time. This is to help out the Southeast Parishes to have about a two week advance on duck hunting. When the strong north winds begin to blow, where hunters have no water to get to their blinds, as they hunt in tidal marshes, and the strong north winds pushes their water out into the Gulf of

Also in consideration is to combine Area 2 and Area 3 deer hunting. In Area 2 there are 14 parishes involved and in Area 3 there are 9 parishes involved and other boundaries in both areas. They also brought up about adding 6 extra days of either sex (doe day) into Area 3. We already had 12 either sex days, this would make it 18 either sex

The duck hunting would not affect Southwest Louisiana and I don't see where combining Area 2 and Area 3 together would affect our deer hunting. Cameron Parish is in Area 3. The only thing I see is we here in Area 3 would have more doe

FISHING REPORTS

Area saltwater fishing is up & down. Good catches of large redfish up to 20 pounds, and big drums up to 40 pounds are being caught at the Cameron Jetties. Cracked crab, cut mullets and shrimp are the hot

I understand some anglers are cleaning their fish as they catch them, remember you have to leave the fish whole, heads on and body attached, and limits only. It's o.k. to gut your fish or scale your fish, but leave everything else attached.

The Calcasieu Lake & Big Lake area is slowed because of all the freshwater from the recent heavy rain. Rockerfeller is still producing Red fish, but slowed also.

Area freshwater fishing has had its downside, Old Man Winter doesn't seem to want to let go, although spring is here.

Many anglers are making trips with no fish or maybe two or three. You can tell it's tough as you see the results of the Bass Club Lemesche Tournaments.

So You Want to Be...

Have you ever wondered what it would be like to help people who have been sick or hurt. Well, that's what recreational therapists do. They help people who have gotten hurt in an accident or who have been sick and can't move around much get active again.

In order to do this, recreational therapists use sports, games, arts and crafts and even music. All these things work to build patients' confidence and help them on the road to recovery.

Recreational therapists build a program for the patient by looking at the doctor's chart, talking to the patient's doctor(s) and other staff, and also talking to the patient's family. They also listen to what the patient has to say. Then they help the patient with stretch exercises and even work with him/her to reduce stress.

Some recreational therapists are self-employed, but most of them work in hospitals and nursing homes. Many recreational therapists work in hospital activity rooms. Sometimes, they work with a patient in a swimming pool or on a playing field.

Most of the time, therapists work 40 hours a week, but sometimes they are required to work evenings, weekends and holidays.

Hospitals usually require therapists to have a degree. After that, therapists have to pass a test to become certified by a national board.

When You Wish...

What do you see when you look up at the night sky? If it's clear, you can probably see thousands of stars. But did you know there are thousands more that are not visible to the naked eye?

The universe has billions of galaxies, and each galaxy has hundreds of billions of stars. The stars you can see when you look up at the sky are in our own galaxy, which is called the Milky Way.

Along with the stars in each galaxy, there are clouds of dust and gas. Stars are actually big balls of gas, mostly hydrogen, that give off heat and light. They are born from the clouds of dust and gas. As more and more gas is pulled into a cloud, the cloud starts to spin. Atoms of gas bump into each other. As the bumping gets faster and faster, they create heat energy, which makes the cloud hotter and hotter. Once it gets so hot, the cloud starts to glow.

The glowing cloud is known as a protostar. The protostar will continue to grow, and the bigger the star gets, the longer it will live.
