Jeremy Furs making good recovery

Furs, Cameron, who underwent a bone marrow transplant last September in the Methodist Hospital in Houston, is home and doing well, it was reported by his mother this week.

Furs, who is the son of Jerry and Sharon Furs, was diagnosed acute lymphocytic leukemia last year while a student at McNeese.

A search was begun for a donor of bone marrow, an effective treatment for the disease. Nearly 80 local and area persons had blood tests made to see if they were a possible match for a

None of the local potential donors were found to be a match, but a match was found through the National Marrow Donor Program.

This person who became the donor was a 39 year old resident of Germany. Sharon Furs said they will not learn this person's identity until a year has passed.

Jeremy received the trans-plant on Sept. 8, 2000 and it appeared to be successful. He remained in the hospital until Sept. 27 and had to remain in Houston for daily tests until Dec. 18 when he got to come home. He returns to Houston once a month for a checkup.

Jeremy is confined to a wheelchair but he hopes to continue his college education using the internet and enrolling at LSU. He is interested in accounting or financial field.

Senate OKs parcel fee for S. Board

The purpose of the legislation is to help the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area fund the construction of a new school or to improve existing facilities. A property tax would require too high a millage, so the board is looking at the parcel fee approach.

Theunissen said the School Board would have to define what a parcel is so that the fee can be spread evenly among property owners.

Similar parcel fees have been approved for ambulance and fire districts, but this is a first for school boards.

He said if public funding is available the work on the project could begin by next April. It would consist of dredging 1.7 million cubic yards of sand offshore to build up the coastline between Holly Beach and Constance Beach.

He said there was a large crowd on the beaches this past weekend including a number of high school groups.

Duhon said deputies are expecting a peaceful holiday as was experienced last Memorial

The beaches are expected to be in better shape this year than last year when there was a lot of seaweeds washed up on the beach. Rodney Guilbeaux, who lives at Constance Beach, said some seaweeds have washed in the last few days but the beaches are in much better shape than last year.

Cameron Parish has the most accessible beaches in the state, including Rutherford, Holly, Constance, Peveto and Ocean View beaches. With the exception of Rutherford Beach, which is near Creole, all of the beaches are located on the west side of the parish.

The Grand Chenier group is seeking Morris's recall because of the recent 4-2 vote by the Cameron Parish School Board to close the Grand Chenier school and consolidate it with the South Cameron Elementary School There are presently 63 students attending the Grand Chenier. election of a new school board member from Grand Chenier probably would not change the fate of the school, since the board members who voted to close the school would have to vote to rescind their action.

Mrs. Theriot said her group may pursue other avenues to try to keep the school open. One would be to try to secure a court injunction to prevent the closing. The other would be to file a civil suit against the school board to seek to nullify their action.

She said her committee is talking to several out-of-parish attorneys about representing her group in these actions.

Fight back on your electric bill!

Steep hikes in the price of electricity are predicted across the nation for this summmer, and more rolling blackouts and brownouts as utilities struggle to meet demand. Consumers can help themselves, the environment and the economy by taking some simple steps to conserve power.

Here are four tips that can take the effort out of saving dollars on your electric bill.

1. Install dimmer switches. By dimming the lights in a room you use less electricity. For example, a light bulb at 50 per cent brightness uses approximately 40 per cent less electricity. A dimmer switch also extends the life of your bulbs. A bulb at 50 per cent brightness will last approximately 20 times longer.

2. Install occupancy sensors. An occupancy sensor automatically turns lights on when someone enters a room, and then turns them off after the person leaves the area. They're ideal for closets, hallways, the laundry room and garages - all the places where lights may needlessly be left on hours, or even days. Occupancy sensors are designed to replace standard wall switches. so they're easy to install.

3. Install motion detectors outside. Many homeowners know that good outdoor lighting makes their home less appealing to a burglar. But keeping outdoor floodlights on all night can be expensive. Instead, install a motion detector to control your outdoor security lights. Motion detectors are programmed to react to body heat. When they detect the presence of a person, they automatically turn on the outside lights. They also turn the lights off when they no longer detect the presence of body heat.

4. Install digital timers. If anyone in your family has left a bathroom exhaust fan or a heat lamp on all day, you'll appreciate the convenience of timers - and the fact that they can reduce energy consumption.

The latest digital timers are installed right in the wall, wherever you would put a standard wall switch. Many versions come from the factory with preset time intervals, and others offer programmable time settings. To use a timer with a preset interval, simply push the button for the length of time you want the fan or lamp to be on. The timer will turn it off automatically. You can use digital timers with longer time intervals to control your outdoor landscape lighting.

We're pleased to present to you this year's Annual Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water.

potential sources of contamination to the water supply. This assessment will include a delineated area around our wells (or intakes) through which contaminants, if present, could migrate and reach our source water. It also includes an inventory of potential sources of contamination within the delineated area and a determination of the water supply's susceptibility to contamination by the identified potential sources. When the assessment has been completed for this system, you will be notified through the annual water quality report.

The Louisiana Dept. or Health/Office of Public Health routinely monitors for constituents in your drinking water according to Federal and State laws. This table shows the results of our monitoring for the period of January 1st to December 31, 2000. All drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. It's important to remember that the presence of these constituents does

SUMMER NEAR

It seems we have gone into summer time and left spring out, but the little cool spell, probably the last for spring weather, let us know its not quite summer yet, although the temperatures are in the upper 80 degrees. Its also dry in many parts of our parish, and rain would surely be a blessing.

Crawfish season is in full swing and it seems that prices have lowered in the past week. Crabbing is picking up some and lots of folks are trying their luck.

NEWS BRIEFS

A reminder that you cannot take game fish with a hoop net. It is illegal.

Federal waters from 9 to 200 nautical miles off Texas was closed to shrimping 30 minutes after sunset on May 15, 2001. Texas also closed its inland waters to shrimp trawling at this time. It allows brown shrimp to reach a larger and more valuable size prior to harvest and prevents waste of brown shrimp that would otherwise be discarded due to their small sizes. It closes for 45 to 90 days and usually reopens around July 15.

AREA FISHING REPORTS

Area fishing reports are good this week, a little harder work with the strong Southeast winds, but saltwater reports have been good. Nice speckled trout taken in Big Lake around the old jetties and red fish at the Cameron Jetties. Rockefeller Refuge had nice catches of Red fish and a few speckled trout out of Joseph Harbor to the closed old Shell platform.

The Grand Chenier jetties still producing some redfish and they're beginning to move up to the Mermentau River bridge.

Bass fishing has been good in both the Big Burn and Amoco part of Miami's Permit fishing.

Lacassine Refuge is still slow, however a few bass are being caught, but still lots of shallow water and heavy growth.

I had only one report of red snapper fishing. A couple of anglers out of Lafayette made a trip last week out of Grand Chenier and they caught six red snappers with the largest weighing about 5 pounds. Rough seas made them come in early and really couldn't get to the different spots they really wanted to fish

TORPEDO OR SOMETHING

What it was or how it got there, no one was sure, but the torpedo-like object found on Rutherford Beach south of Creole Friday afternoon stirred up a little excitement.

The object, about 8 feet long with a propeller on one end, was found by two men on the east side of the beach near the Mermentau River. On it was printed: "Royal Canadian Navy."

Believing the object to be as torpedo, authorities blocked off the beach and called the demolition squad from Fort Polk who took it away.

A spokesman for the local Coast Guard station said he did

JOHN BOUDREAUX is shown working out on an exercise bike to strengthen his knee which was injured when a horse fell on him.

Hospital aids with recovery

John Boudreaux injured his knee many years ago and required surgery. Everything was fine until a horse he was riding stepped in a hole, fell, and rolled on top of him. At first he thought he would handle the injury, but it worsened over time. Again, he required arthroscopic surgery, on the same knee.

Two days after his surgery, he was undergoing outpatient physical therapy at South Cameron Hospital with Jason Adams, PT. Jason treats Mr. Boudreaux daily with bike riding, range of motion, and exercises to strengthen his knee.
