Recall election is called for Oct. 20th

Gov. Mike Foster has called a special election in School District 4 of Cameron Parish for Saturday, Oct. 20 to let voters there decide on the recall of the district's school board member, Bill Morris.

The election was called after the governor's office received a petition signed by 424 registered voters in the district asking for the special election.

The 424 total was more than the one-third of the 1,103 registered voters required to call the election.

Registrar of Voters Ruby Kelley had earlier certified that all of the 424 names were those of qualified voters.

The Oct. 20 date was the first available election date-it was too late to get the election on the July 21 date.

Voters will vote yes or no on the proposition to recall Morris. Should it carry then another election would be required to

Conservation assistance offered here

A new conservation provision called Soil and Water Conservation Assistance is now available for farmers and ranchers in Calcasieu and Cameron Parishes.

"Soil and Water Conservation Assistance provides cost-sharing to help farmers and cattle producers install conservation practices on their land," said Clay Midkiff, District Conservationist with the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service. "SWCA provides 75 percent of the cost of the installation of eligible conservation practices on private lands. The Farm Agency will disburse cost-share funds to the participating landowners."

Soil and Water Conservation Assistance is authorized under the provisions of the Agricultural Risk Protection Act of 2000. The conservation provision will address the current backlog of conservation applications and other program requests and afford an opportunity for others to apply for program assistance.

Persons applying for Soil and Water Conservation Assistance must own or control the land and agree to implement specific eligible conservation practices. The contract period is from five to ten years. The maximum total payment per participant for SWCA shall not exceed $50,000.

elect a successor.

Sponsors of the recall petition said they were seeking Morris' recall because they thought he did not do enough to keep the Grand Chenier school open although he was one of two board members to vote not to close the school.

The school was closed at the end of the 2000-2001 school year and its students will be transferred to South Cameron Elementary School in the fall.

G. Chenier teachers are reassigned

Grand Chenier Elementary School's principal and teachers will be assigned to new schools when the fall classes begin, according to Supt. Judy Jones.

The Grand Chenier school was closed at the end of the 2000-2001 school year because of declining enrollment.

Principal Carrol Wainwright will become the principal of Cameron Elementary School. Four of the Grand Chenier teachers will be transferred to South Cameron Elementary and two will go to Cameron Elementary.

A total of 62 Grand Chenier students will be enrolled at South Cameron Elementary in the fall. About 20 were already attending this school, being transported by their parents. Another 43 will be transported by buses.

Although some Grand Chenier students will have longer bus rides in the fall, most should arrive home at about the same time as in the past due to the closing times of the two schools, according to Ron Vining, maintenance supervisor.

Grand Chenier Elementary had been closing at 3:30. South Cameron Elementary will close at 3:15.

The Cameron Parish School Board is advertising for the purchase of two new school buses, both of which will be assigned to the Grand Chenier/South Cameron Elementary & High routes.

Crop dusting in the old days

By Keith Hambrick

Cameron Pilot, June 27, 1968
(By Bernice Stewart)

A farm airplane zooms overhead at more or less frequent intervals this morning. Our home lies along the ellipse made by the plane as it scatters insecticide over an adjacent rice field.

The present method of poisoning crop insects today is totally different from that employed during our childhood that we wonder if the youth of today are acquainted with the old.

We grew up on a farm planted in diversified crops. Cotton, however, was the main one, the one that resulted in monetary gain.

Then, as now, the farmers were called upon to battle crop-destroying insects. The chief poison used to kill cotton worms was paris green. We children were taught from infancy the fatality of the green powder. It was always stored in a place inaccessible to youngsters or animals.

The active ingredient in paris green is arsenic, but the compound is a green powder composed of copper arsenic, which is poisonous to all forms of life.

The farm hand who administered paris green had to be most cautious. Generally, he used a board one inch thick, about four inches wide, and a yard long. With a knife he curved in the sides of one end of the board for a handle. At right angles to the other end he nailed a block one by four inches with a depth of six inches. Some ten inches back on the long board he nailed a similar block. Half way between the two he drilled a hole an inch in diameter and made a peg for it. The hole was made so that a funnel might be inserted into it through which the poison might be poured. Around the frame formed by the blocks the farmer tacked a thin cloth bag, one of cheesecloth preferably, that would hold approximately a gallon and a half of powder.

Paris green was mixed with enough flour to make it adhere to the cotton plants when sifted on.

The farmer wore a veil of cheesecloth over his hat so that he would not inhale the poison. He also tied a cheesecloth bag over his horses's muzzle. He rode horseback between two rows of cotton. He rested the free end of the stick on the pommel of his saddle. He tapped the former rhythmically against the latter as he rode. The poison sifted down.

There were a few men who used a double poisoning apparatus, a six-foot long board with a sifting bag on each end. Then, two rows were poisoned at the same time. However, the work was awkward, slow, and hazardous.

The poisoning was done at dawn while the plants were heavy with dew and the air still.

We recall one exception, a calm, moonlight night when Frank Washington, the tenant on our farm, poisoned a whole cotton patch. he used a flashlight to supplement the light from the moon.

We can still see the pride on his face the next morning as he received praise from the family for his industry and perseverance.

CARDS OF THANKS

FRIENDSHIPS: IT seems that it was just yesterday that we, that is Grace, Jamey, and I pulled into town with all our earthly belongings. Jamey was just a baby, Bobby was on the way, and we were about to start a new chapter in our lives. We had no idea what God had planned for us. We were new comers, most of you were strangers, and we were no longer surrounded with family and friends but that was soon to change. You made us feel welcome and we began to make a host of new friends, of which many became our new extended family. We truly thank you for your love and support through these past 27 years, and we thank God for letting us make so many good friends. As most of you know Grace and I have been called into the Pastoral ministry, and have joyfully accepted God's call. We are serving as Pastor of Topsy Baptist Church, which is about 6 miles east of Gillis. We began serving last July on a part-time basis and will begin full time service July 1, 2001. We will live in the parsonage at 4346 Topsy Bell road, and our phone number is 337-855-8427. We hope you can find the time to come by for a visit. We thank Wade, Pam, and all of Cam Tool for all they have done for us, and what they mean to our family. I will truly miss being a part of Cam Tool. I will miss all of you who came there for parts or repairs. We thank the people of First Baptist Church whom we served with and who have supported and inspired us to follow God's leadership. We covet your prayers, and we thank God often for what you mean to us and to His Kingdom. We won't miss the mosquitoes, but we will miss your friendship. We won't miss the smell that the west winds bring from the pogy plant, but we will miss the smell of roux cooking in the neighborhood. We won't miss hurricane evacuations or the ferry but we will miss the excitement and the anticipation of hunting season and football season. We will miss you and hope to see you often, Grace says that Super WalMart is a good place to meet. Romans 8:28.

Your Friends,
Lloyd and Grace Carroll

THE WATER WE DRINK CAMERON PARISH WATERWORKS DISTRICT #11 CONSUMER CONFIDENCE REPORT

We're pleased to present to you this year's Annual Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality of water and services we deliver to you every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water. Our water sources are four (4) wells.

We now have in place a source water protection plan available from our office, that provides more information, such as potential sources of contamination to the water supply. This assessment will include a delineated area around our wells through which contaminants, if present, could migrate and reach our source water. It also includes an inventory of potential sources of contamination within the delineated area, and a determination of the water supply's susceptibility to contamination by the identified potential sources.

We are pleased to report that our drinking water is safe and meets federal and state requirements. If you have any questions about this report or concerning your water utility, please contact Patrick Hebert at 337-598-3439. We want our valued customers to be informed about their water utility. If you want to learn more, please attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. They are generally held monthly and you can call us at the above telephone number for a specific place, date and time.

The Louisiana Dept. of Health/Office of Public Health, routinely monitors for constituents in your drinking water, according to Federal and State laws. This table shows the results of our monitoring for the period of January 1 to December 31, 2000. all drinking water, including bottled drinking water, may be reasonably expected to contain at least small amounts of some constituents. It's important to remember that the presence of these constituents does not necessarily pose a health risk.

In this table you will find many terms and abbreviations you might not be familiar with. To help you better understand these terms we've provided the following definitions:

Non-Detects (ND)-laboratory analysis indicates that the constituent is not present.

Parts per million (ppm) or Milligrams per liter (mg/l)-one part per million corresponds to one minute in two years or a single penny in $10,000.

Parts per billion (ppb) or Micrograms per liter - one part per billion corresponds to one minute in 2,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000.

Parts per trillion (ppt) or Nanogram per liter (nanogram/l) - one part per trillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000 years, or a single penny in $10,000,000,000.

Parts per quadrillion (ppq) or Picograms per liter (picograms/l) - one part per quadrillion corresponds to one minute in 2,000,000,000 years or one penny in $10,000,000,000,000.

Picocuries per liter (pCi/L) - picocuries per liter is a measure of the radioactivity in water.

Millirems per year (mrem/yr) - measure of radiation absorbed by the body.

Million Fibers per Liter (MFL) - million fibers per liter is a measure of the presence of asbestos fibers that are longer than 10 micrometers.

Nephelometric Turbidity Units (NTU) - nephelometric turbidity units is a measure of the clarity of water. Turbidity in excess of 5 NTU is just noticeable to the average person.

Variances & Exemptions (V&E) - State or EPA permission not to meet an MCL or a treatment technique under certain conditions.

Action Level - the concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

Treatment Technique (TT) - (mandatory language) A treatment technique is a required process intended to reduce the level of a contaminant in drinking water.

Maximum Contaminant Level - (mandatory language) The "Maximum Allowed" (MCL) is the highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal - (mandatory language) The "Goal" (MCLG) is the level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

During the period covered by this report we had no violations of drinking water regulations. We detected the following regulated contaminants but they were at levels below the maximum contaminant level. Additionally, we wish to inform you that these samples, except for lead and copper results, were collected at our individual sources and represent water before any treatment, blending or distribution. As such, the consumer tap levels could be less. The last chemical sampling of our source water was collected on 04/04/00.

Thank you for allowing us to continue providing your family with clean, quality water this year. In order to maintain a safe and dependable water supply we sometimes need to make improvements that will benefit all of our customers.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbiological contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Please call our office if you have any questions.

We at Cameron Parish Waterworks District #11 work around the clock to provide top quality water to every tap, as stated by (337)598-3439. We ask that all our customers help us protect our water sources, which are the heart of our community, our way of life and our children's future. FLOATING FISH

The torrential rains and flooding from two weeks ago, is taking it's toll on some areas of our state. Hard hit was the fish kills from Erath-Houma and the New Orleans area, however our own area, especially the Amoco area and Rockefeller Refuge on the fresh water bass, bream, white perch, mullets, catfish, carp that I have seen. It was a rotten marsh smell, that depleted the oxygen, and a stink of dead floating fish.

Yes our drought has ended, but there will be lots of pollution in our lakes and wetlands and surely damage to spawning fish.

Something else that's really taking over the East Grand Chenier marshes is the salvinia. It's clogging canals and moving every where with the currents and winds.

The cause of the lack of oxygen in the marshes, is the 90 degree weather, causing decaying organic matter, making oxygen even lower than it is, because it's already low during summer months.

I don't think I'd eat the fish I catch in these kind of waters and swimmers and water-skiers should stay out of these waters.

AREA EVENTS

The Southwest Louisiana Fishing Club will hold it's 64th
