Post Ofc. to reopen

A temporary postal facility serving residents of Cameron, Creole and Grand Chenier is being established in a temporary building that will be located at 144 Adam Roux St., the site of the old Dyson Lumber Co. in Cameron. The new facility will begin operating Sept. 6.

Post office buildings in Cameron, Creole and Grand Chenier were destroyed by Hurricane Rita last September. These customers have been served out of a temporary office in Lake Charles and most recently out of the Cameron courthouse and lately from a trailer.

Evia Hodge, customer relations coordinator, U. S. Postal Service, announced that the new facility will operate from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. It will be a full service Post Office.

Customers who have not relocated to lower Cameron Parish may want to submit a change of address to a more convenient location. This can be done by filling out a Change of Address form which you can picked up at any post office or by accessing the website www.usps.gov and filling FEMA will replace locks on as many as 118,000 trailers used by Gulf Coast hurricane victims after discovering the same key could open many of the mobile homes.

One manufacturer cut only 50 different kinds of keys for the trailers it sold to FEMA, officials said Monday. That means, in a worst-case scenario, one key could be used at a post office box will continue to receive mail in the same manner (using P.O. Box address.) Additional boxes will be available for rent at this location.

The new temporary facility in Cameron will also provide delivery service throughout Grand Chenier, Creole, Cameron and Johnson Bayou areas.

Customers who wish to have route delivery resumed should erect a suitable mailbox with their address clearly marked.

The temporary building at 150 Main St. (Eastside Station) in Lake Charles will close on or about Sept. 6.

Children share

By CYNDI SELLERS

Tears and laughter were the response to the excerpt of Untold Stories - Documenting Disaster Through the Eyes of Children, a DVD created by students of Dolby Elementary School in Lake Charles shown to the Cameron Parish School Board at their Monday meeting. The interviews with several South Cameron High School students were shown.

Retired South Cameron Elementary teacher Elizabeth Brasseaux assisted Dolby teacher Kathie Istre in locating Cameron Parish students for the project. Students from Cameron Elementary, South Cameron Elementary School, and South Cameron High School were interviewed, and photographs and video were recorded on the two-DVD set. Each student interviewed is to receive a copy.

In the excerpt, student Deil LaLande said right after the storm he was told "as bad as you think it is, it's 10 times worse." His family thought their house was OK from aerial photographs, but it was completely empty. Most of the students had nothing left, and only took a few essentials with them when they evacuated.

Kami Savoie was luckier. Her family's house survived, but water damage caused most of their possessions to be ruined. The house was being repaired as the video was made, but living elsewhere was a strain. "You come home, and you're not at home," she said. Another student said he looks forward to going outside and not seeing another trailer next door.

Most of the students commented on the loss of freedom that living in the city has caused. Country kids, used to wide open spaces now were confined by the neighborhoods they were living in. Living in homes with multiple families was a strain as well. They all wanted to be home in Cameron Parish.

The project included students from Cameron and Calcasieu parishes, and was funded by a grant which Istre received in April.

Beginning this fall, infants and children younger than 24 months old will need to have the PCV7 vaccine in order to attend daycare.

The PCV7 vaccine protects children against streptococcus pnemoniae bacteria. These types of bacteria can cause ear and skin infections, and in extreme cases can cause meningitis, blood infections, pneumonia, brain damage and death.

The vaccine requirement is in effect now, for the upcoming fall season, when most parents enroll children into daycare. The PCV7 vaccine is required for this age group because young children are at a slightly higher risk for infections than others, and also because they tend to spread germs to each other easily since they are not old enough to understand handwashing and disease prevention techniques.

For more information on the vaccine, please visit http://www.cdc.gov/niP/publications/VIS/vis-PneumoConjugate.pdf, or the Department of Health and Hospitals' Immunizations Program site at http://www.dhh.louisiana.gov/ offices/?ID=265.

Taxpayers who have a casualty loss as a result of Hurricanes Katrina or Rita must decrease their basis in the property by any insurance or other reimbursement they receive and by any deductible loss. The result is your adjusted basis in the property.

You must increase your basis in the property by the amount you spend on repairs that substantially prolong the life of the property, increase its value or adapt it to a different use. To make this determination, compare the repaired property to the property before the casualty. FUR FESTIVAL OFFICERS NAMED

Jennings B. Jones, Jr., was re-elected president of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival at the annual meeting of the Board of Directors at Rockefeller Refuge.

Elected to serve with Jones for another year were Mrs. Geneva Griffith, secretary; Garner Nunez, treasurer; and William O. Morris, Ward Fontenot, and Joe O'Donnell, vice presidents.

Jones praised the work of the two outgoing vice presi-dents, A. J. Howard and Wilmer Smith, who had asked to be relieved of their positions.

Nunez reported that for the first time in 17 years the Festival is now totally self sufficient. All past festivals had received financial help from the Cameron Parish Police Jury. Nunez stated that this was due in part to the excellent leadership of Mr. Jones, the president.

Jones praised the Police Jury for their help over the past years in underwriting the Festival for the parish.

Jones announced that Mrs. Garner Nunez, who has been in charge of the Louisiana Fur Queen contest for many years, had asked to be relieved of her job. Mrs. Tommy Watts was appointed to assume the chairmanship of this contest.

Mrs. Braxton Blake will head the Miss Cameron Parish contest and Mrs. Guthie Perry will be chairman of the Little Miss Cameron contest.

Jones appointed the following committee to supervise the voting for the choosing of the industry and the king that the 1974 Fur Festival will salute: Miss Patsy Granger, chair-man; W. F. Henry, Jr., Lyle Crain, Pat Doland, Norman McCall, Ray Burleigh, and the presidents of all the parish home demonstration clubs. Jones appointed Mrs. George Wilkerson to be hostess to the visitinig dignitaries from Cambridge, Md. The South Cameron Jaycees are to help out also.

ROUNDABOUT THE PARISH

Cameron-(Nell Colligan)-News is scarce this week, so I'll use the space to share something nice with you. One day lately, while talking with Mrs. Carl McCall of Grand Chenier, she told about a little verse she'd written for her oother when she was only 20 and a student at USL in Lafayette. (That was probably some 40 or more years ago.) Reflecting on her lines, I'm reminded how like a rose Miss Anita is herself, that is, her sweetness lingers long after she's come and gone. Here's her verse: FLOWERS I've searched through creation / From rose to carnation; but the fairest of all / Is my mother. 8.....

MRS. LIZ PHILLIPS is shown in front of her home in Hackberry while volunteers from California work on repairing the damages to her roof caused by Hurricane Rita.

Volunteers help here

Volunteers from all over the country came to Cameron Parish after Hurricane Rita to help residents repair and rebuild their damaged homes.

One such volunteer was Doug Mead, a staff writer for the Tri-Valley Tribune in the Bay Area of California. He was one of the group of "angels" from the Fellowship Cornerstone Church of Livermore, Calif. who spent more than four months in Hackberry helping with the cleanup efforts.

Several articles by Mead on his Hackberry experiences appeared in his newspaper and also on his blog which can be found at:

http://rebuildinghackberry.blogspot.com

One of articles was on Liz and Bill Phillips, a Hackberry couple who will celebrate their 65th anniversary on

Aug. 20. Mead relates about how "Miss Liz" kept the volunteers working on her roof supplied with coffee, cookies, brownies, pecan pie, red beans & rice and "sweet tea."

Mead's columns about his Hackberry experiences can befound on the website mentioned above.

Damaged schools in southern Cameron Parish are hoping to be ready for students when classes begin on Monday. It will be a challenge. Board members School learned Monday that the kitchen at South Cameron will probably not be ready, and preparations are being made to provide sack lunches. Plumbing and electrical con-nections are still being made.

At Johnson Bayou School, the freezer compressor ran for only two hours before burning up. A temporary replacement is being sought. Restoration to the school's cafeteria are complete, however, and meal service should take place.

The condition of the classrooms at JBS are another story. School Board member Patty Morris and resident Marcia Trahan expressed concern about the unfinished ramps, grounds work, and classroom assembly. Morris asked why the sections were still not joined completely, since they have been on the site since June. She said she didn't see how the school could be ready to open on Aug. 21 as scheduled.

The reduction in classroom space, due to delays in the restoration of the school building also concerned Morris. School Superintendent Dr. Doug Chance assured the Board that restoration of the north wing was priority, to open a restroom and extra classrooms. A temporary restroom building has been moved onto the site until that happens. On Tuesday, JBS Principal Gene Reynolds said all the problems are being worked on, but "in the world of contractors, you are at their mercy." He said sometimes they just don't show up when scheduled, and everything has to happen in order, so the whole project can be held up. Tuesday at noon, the lumber to finish the ramps had still not arrived and skirting was being delivered as teachers tried to get their rooms ready even though the floors were not finished and furniture was not in the right rooms. The school does not have a library, but arrangements are being made to acquire additional temporary buildings to house books and other services until restoration of the school is complete. The gym is being repaired and the contractor, Bessette, expects completion by Oct. 1. Until then, basketball practice will take place in the covered pavilion, and perhaps at another school. Playground equipment is also being ordered for elementary students. In spite of all the challenges, Reynolds said "We will have school on Monday. The first week may be a little tough, but we'll get through it." He expects everything to be fully normal very soon, which will help students to learn better and grades to improve. He said stability in faculty would be key to a successful school year, and hopes gas prices and housing shortages will not adversely affect his faculty.

CONFUSION - These detour signs on Jimmy Savoie Road, which may be hard to understand, are the result of two bridge problems. The road became the detour to Trosclair Road when the Oak Grove bridge was closed. Then the bridge on Jimmy Savoie Road was damaged by heavy traffic and had to be replaced with culverts. Now, light traffic may use Jimmy Savoie Road, but heavy trucks must go all the way to the "Y" to access Trosclair Road. (Photo by Cyndi Sellers.)

Notice is given that the State Mineral Board will include provisions in the lease to insure applicable payments attributable to the lease property without regard to adverse title claims, disputes, litigation or title failure and the language of those provisions is available to any inter-ested party at the Office of Mineral Resources. Prospective bidders should carefully examine the same prior to submitting any bid.

OFFSHORE FISHING

Good weather this past week gave offshore anglers excellent fishing. The closer rigs are catching some nice red snappers, but they're smaller than the farther offshore areas, with bigger red snapper and some triple tails. I talked to two anglers in the Creole area that had just come from offshore out of Cameron, and they had some nice 8 to 12 pound red snapper and two nice lings. They said they ran into some Spanish Mackerals schooling but only caught a few when the sharks moved in. They didn't want to fight the sharks, so they came on in.

Future of S. Cam., central office decided by board

By CYNDI SELLERS

The futures of South Cameron High School and the School Board central office were decided in contested votes Monday by the Cameron Parish School Board.

On a 6-1 vote, the board committed to build a pre-K through 12 school at the site of South Cameron High School, to educate all stu-dents from Cameron, Creole, and Grand Chenier.

The dissenting vote was from Grand Lake representative Pat Howerton, who said he thought it was "premature to make that decision at this time, until we know how many students there will be."

Supt. Doug Chance had presented the concept that each quadrant of the parish should have a school for the children living there. Architect Gayle Zembower has provided an estimated cost per square foot of $198 to build the school at an elevation of 18 feet. The estimated cost for a location north of the intracoastal waterway would be $148 per square foot. Chance said the extra $50 would be a good investment for the parish, and a school in the southeast area would address the educational needs of children and the economic needs of the parish.

The decision on the central office was even more divided. On the motion to rebuild the central office at the former Cameron Elementary School site in Cameron, the three members from the northern part of the parish, Howerton, Rachel Abadie, and Dwayne Sanner, voted against, while the four members from the southern districts, Loston McEvers, Dot Theriot, Marvin Trahan, and Patty Theriot, Morris, voted in favor. Abadie said it was a business decision, since she fears the effects of future storms on records, equipment, and contents, as well as disruption to operations while power is out following a serious storm. Howerton has expressed opposition to the extra cost of building the kind of hurricane resistant structure that would be needed in lower Cameron Parish. Zembower's estimate for the central office is $176 per square foot at 18 feet elevation in Cameron versus $148 further north. The estimates have gone down from three months ago, but the actual cost can not be known until bids are opened. Completion of the central office could be in the summer of 2008; the school would be finished in 2009.

Skinner was appointed to the SCHS post last year, and almost immediately saw the school destroyed by Hurricane Rita and his students and faculty displaced to Grand Lake. Wainwright has been a principal for many years, first at Grand Chenier and then at Cameron Elementary.

SCHOOL STARTING

As the beginning of school looms, steps were taken to provide basic services to two schools in lower Cameron Parish. The Board approved the lease of a kitchen facility for South Cameron. The purchase of such a building had already been approved, but FEMA advised that leasing would get reimbursement quicker.

The cooking area needs a firewall, which is being installed. Sack lunches may be necessary for the first few days until the fire marshal approves the kitchen.

Chance reported that storation at South restoration at Cameron, which began in December, is so far non-existent. The gym, which was to be used for physical education, has not been touched, due to complications with asbestos and other contractor Since PE is required woes. for elementary students, and winter weather will prevent outside activities, Chance proposes to get the gym steam washed, climate controlled, and a minimum floor Cheniere Creole Trail Pipeline by adding 18.1 miles of natural gas pipeline facilities with appurtenances ("Segment 1"). The proposed Segment 1 will interconnect the previously-authorized Cheniere Creole Trail Pipeline and Cheniere Sabine Pass Pipeline systems.

CCTP is a Delaware limited partnership with its primary place of business located at 717 Texas Avenue, Suite 3100, Houston, Texas 77002. CCTP was granted authorization under Section 7(c) of the NGA on June 15, 2006 in Docket Nos. CP05-357-000, et al. to construct and operate approximately 116.8 miles of new pipeline facilities (i. e., Segment 2 and Segment 3) commencing at the outlet of the proposed Creole Trail LNG Terminal in Cameron Parish, Louisiana and extending through Cameron, Beauregard, Jefferson Davis, Allen and Acadia Parishes. Louisiana to a termination point near Rayne, Louisiana.

Segment 1 will consist of approximately 18.1 miles of 42inch pipeline (and appurtenant facilities) that will originate at the previously-authorized Cheniere Sabine Pass Pipeline terminus point east of Johnson Bayou and connect to the previously-authorized Cheniere Creole Trail Pipeline (Segments 2 and 3), at the beginning thereof. The proposed Segment 1 will provide shippers on the Cheniere Creole Trail Pipeline system access to delivery points on the Cheniere Sabine Pass Pipeline system and vice-versa, thereby providing shippers on each system with enhanced market access, enhanced access to LNG sourced gas supplies, as well as increased operational flexibility. Each application filed with FERC receives a Docket Number for reference purposes. The Segment 1 CCTP application has been assigned Docket No. CP05-357-003. If you would like, you may review the application, which is available: (1) at the FERC located at 888 First Street, N.E., Washington D.C., 20426; (2) on the FERC web site at http://ferc.gov using the "e-library" link and the above referenced docket number: (3) by contacting Cheniere Creole Trail Pipeline, L.P. at 717 Texas Avenue, Suite 3100, Houston, Texas 77002 and requesting a copy; or (4) at the Cameron Parish Library located at 498 Marshall Street, Cameron, Louisiana 70631.

3, and have the same shooting of coots at that time. Coot has a daily bag limit of 15.

White geese (snows and blues) will also have two splits with total of 72 ays. The first split also includes specklebellies and will run the same as duck season, Nov. 11-Dec. 3. The daily bag limit on specklebellies is 2 per day, possession 4. The daiy bag limit on snows and blue geese is 20 with no possession limit.

The second split for ducks will be Dec. 15-Jan. 21, along with coots. The second split for blues, snows and specklebellies will be Dec. 16-Feb. 2.

We'll also have a gallinule and rail season during teal season and the regular season, so be sure and check your pamphlets.

The daily limit of six ducks may include no more than four mallards, (only 2 may be hens), three black mallards, one black duck, one canvasback, two wood ducks, two scaup, and two redheads.

I think our west zone duck hunters will be pleased with the season dates and limits, and should be hopeful for a better season than the last two years.

I'm sure we'll have a special conservation goose season to be announced.

CCA STAR RODEO

The only change in the CCA's Star Rodeo is in the Session II division. Joseph Buckley took over first place with a 7.25 trout, dropping Lance Conner to second, 6.95 and Cory LeBouef to third with a 6.85 pounder. The tournament ends Labor Day.

BOATING SAFETY

We're still plagued with boat accidents waiting to happen in our Southwestern part of Cameron Parish due to the Hurricane Rita debris. Waters may seem safe, but what's under the water, a boater doesn't know. The accident of my two friends J. C. Boudreaux and Kenneth Dupont a couple of weeks ago could have been bad. While going from Willow Lake to Sweetlake on the Intracoastal Canal, they hit a pipe, knocked a hole in the boat, but were only bruised up a little. They patched the hole, backed out and made it back to the launch with boat damage, thanks to J. C. wearing a "kill switch."

I guess what I'm trying to say, it's every boat that's in danger, not just the other guy. There's still plenty of fishing left, and with duck season next month, we'll have to be extra careful in what we do. Think hard about speeding, wear your life jacket and yes, use your kill switch, and think of the waters you're in. You will know in your mind the direction the debris went for the storm.

NEWS BRIEFS

I did see a few doves flying in the Sweetlake area and one nice bunch of blue-winged teals. With no bad luck, no storms, our hunting season is getting close, and dove season installed as soon a possible.

At Johnson Bayou, the new gym roof was installed upside down, and had to be reversed, putting the job behind schedule. However, completion is expected by Oct.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board voted to help teachers replace lost classroom supplies by allocating $150 per teacher for the purchase of instructional materials and supplies. In previous vears the amount was $100.

Four school sections were leased, for less money than in past years, and two will be readvertised, having received no bids.

The Eagle Scout project of Brian Doxey was approved. It will be a "Welcome" bench, planter, and sign for the South Cameron campus.

The price of meals for guest adults and children was raised to $2.25 for breakfast and $5.10 for lunch. The increase was required to meet the cost of preparation, since the parish served only about half the number of meals last year compared to the year before, while keeping the same labor costs. Federal law requires the price of guest meals to be at least equal to the actual cost.

Student meal prices will not change from last year.

The construction of the Grand Lake Elementary wing was accepted as substantially complete.
