Parish teams to play away from home Friday

All three of Cameron parish's football teams will play away from home this Friday night: Hackberry at Oberlin, Grand Lake at Kinder and South Cameron at Port Barrie.

Both South Cameron and Hackberry lost home games last week, while Grand Lake had a layoff.

South Cameron, will be taking on a new and formidable opponent this week—Port Barrie.

This team up until this season had won 22 straight regular games, winning its district Class B title three years in a row. Last year they were beaten in the sub-district here.

Coach Robert Manuel said that Port Barrie has a very heavy and experienced team, its backfield averaging over 165 pounds, and its tackles, over 200.

South Cameron plans to take 35 players to the game, plus the school band, pep squad, Tarponettes and majorettes.

COACH BENNY SANDERS says he will have a number of changes in his lineup when the Hackberry Mustangs go to Oberlin Friday. Oberlin is last year's district champions and are expected to give Hackberry a rough time.

Coach Sanders said his team played very badly in losing to Gillis 20-6 Friday.

Grand Lake will be opening its regular season this Friday at Kinder. The Hornets played a practice game the week before last against LaGrange a game this past week.

Gillis 20, Hackberry 6

Hackberry was snowed under by a a rampant Gillis team, which made two touchdowns in the first quarter, another in the second and coasted the rest of the way.

Kenny Drost scored Hackberry's sole tally in the fourth quarter on a four-yard run.

The Mustangs also completed 8 of 15 attempted passes for 102 yards.

HOLLY BEACH NEWS

Beach is crowded over the weekend

By Mrs. Walter Stanley

The beach had full scale crowds over the weekend after two weeks of the dullest business we have ever experienced.

The boat crowd had beautiful weather, a calm Gulf, and plenty shrimp to accomodate them. An eyewitness to the fleet of boats over the blue waters remarked that no modern marina or popular resort could beat our crowd. The landlubbers were occupied with barbecues everywhere.

One of the lowest tides ever seen here was brought to our attention last Wednesday. It was theorized by amateur weathermen that the formation of Hurricane Ethel in the Gulf could have been responsible. No change of weather occurred from this latest storm. W.O.W. members and their families from all over the state were entertained with a big barbecue dinner Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Richard at the beach home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Boullion cancelled their Florida trip due to Donna and are touring North Louisiana and Arkansas instead. A postcard from them states they are accompanied by Mr. and Elphedge Sonnier and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Daigle.

Mr. and Mrs. Robley Simon are just back from McAllen, Texas where they viewed their stock in grapefruit orchids.

Hunters Cautioned About Woods Fires

Louisiana hunters were cautioned this week about woods and grass fires so detrimental to our wildlife.

Rudolph F. Easterly, law enforcement chief of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, said he is concerned about woods and grass fires as we approach the squirrel and rabbit season which opens in the state on October 1.

"The forests and grasses are extremely dry in certain sections of the state and if our people want to help protect wildlife, they can do so by being fire conscious while stalking their favorite game," he said.

Easterly pointed out that timber and wildlife go together and without good habitat wildlife cannot survive. He said that forest and grass fires help no one and urged outdoorsmen to be careful with that match while afield.

Cameron Students Attend Circus

Students from Cameron elementary school attended the Shrine Circus at Lake Charles Tuesday afternoon. Transportation was furnished by the parents.

Tickets for the students were donated by local business people.

They report that the trees are loaded with fruits and the outcome looks good. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fontenot of Lake Charles and Holly Beach also made the trip.

Speaking of trips, Mrs. Edwin Roy of Lafayette and Mrs. J. E. Richard of Sulphur who both have camps here relate their trip to Montreal and Quebec, Canada. In Quebec they attended the solemn novena at St. Anne DeBeaupre Cathedral and made the Stations of the Cross in the mountainous outdoor procession.

Wildlife Commission To Meet In Monroe

The regular monthly meeting of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission will be held in Monroe on September 27, says L. D. Young, Jr., director.

"It has been a long established policy of the state wildlife agency to meet in various sections of Louisiana in order that more people can better understand the programs of the commission," Young added. He went on to say that Northeast Louisiana offers some of the best hunting and fishing areas in the entire state.

All interested persons are invited to participate in the meeting which will get under way at 9 a.m. in the Virginia hotel.

John Paul Crain of Grand Chenier is a member of the commission.

Although just a sophomore, Kenny Drost, was a stand out in the Hackberry-Gillis game last week. Alternating between quarterback and tailback, he passed for a total of 102 yards, got most of Hackberry rushing yardage and scored the Mustang's sole touchdown.

By: Messrs. Ainsworth, Duplantier, Sockrider, O'Hara, Hirsh, Girlich, Jr. & Keefe

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to Section 8 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Louisiana, relative to the retirement of Judges.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of Louisiana, two-thirds of the members elected to each House concurring, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Louisiana for their approval or rejection, in the manner provided for by law, a proposition and ballot title as hereinafter set forth, which said section may be made to read as follows, to-wit:

Section 8. (a) The provisions of this section shall apply to Judges of the Supreme Court, the Courts of Appeal, District Courts, including the Judges of the Criminal District Courts for the Parish of Orleans, City Courts, Municipal Courts and Traffic Courts which are courts of record, and Juvenile and Family Courts.

The term "Judge" as used hereinafter in this section, means a Judge of one of the courts to which this section is applicable.

(b) Every Judge shall retire upon reaching the age of 70 years if he has been a Judge of a court of record for 20 years. He shall receive full pay for life.

However any Judge now serving who, on attaining the age of seventy-five years, has served less than twenty years, may remain in service until he has served twenty years or until he has attained the age of eighty years, whichever shall occur first, and shall then retire if he has served for twenty years; he shall receive full pay for life and if he has served for less than twenty years, he shall receive that proportion of his pay which the number of years served on a court of record bears to 20.

(c) Any Judge now completing more than 23 years of service as a Judge of a court of record may, irrespective of age, retire on two-thirds pay.

Any Judge may retire on two-thirds pay when he shall have served as a Judge of a Court of Record for twenty (20) years and shall have attained the age of sixty-two (62) years.

Any appellate Judge may retire upon reaching the age of 65 years and receive full pay for life if he has served as such previously as a Judge for 25 years.

(d) Any Judge who is or becomes physically or mentally incapacitated to perform his duties shall be retired, and he shall be paid as in the case of voluntary retirement at the age of 70 years, irrespective of his age at retirement, but in no event less than two-thirds of his pay. Such incapacity shall be made to appear by a certificate which shall be filed with the Governor and Secretary of State. In the case of a Judge of the Supreme Court, one Justice of Appeal, District Court or a City Court Judge, such certificate shall be executed by a majority of the other members of the court of which he is a member and, in all other cases, this certificate of incapacity shall be signed by a majority of physicians and approved by a majority of the Supreme Court.

(e) Any Judge who is or may hereafter become entitled under the provisions of this section shall continue to receive the same retirement pay which would be received at the time of retirement and from the same source.

(f) Retirement of a judge shall become effective:

(1) Where compulsory, when he reaches the age of 70 years.

(2) Where voluntary, upon the date specified in the notice of retirement which he shall give to the Governor and Secretary of State.

(3) When he is retired for incapacity, when the certificate of incapacity is filed with the Secretary of State.

(g) The retirement of a Judge creates a vacancy which office shall be filled as in the manner provided by law.

(h) Any Judge retired under the provisions of this section, may, with his consent, be assigned by the Supreme Court to sit as a Judge of any court of record, for a specified time, and under such rules and regulations as it may adopt.

A retired Judge so assigned to active duty shall have the same powers, duties and jurisdiction as the Judge of the court to which he is assigned. If his retired pay is less than the salary of the Judge of the court to which he is assigned, he shall be paid compensation, to be agreed upon by the court, to equate the pay he receives while on active duty, to which he shall likewise be entitled to the same expense allowance provided by law and the rules of the court to which he is assigned. Any such additional salary and expenses shall be made on his own warrant.

(i) The Legislature and all political subdivisions and public authorities which contribute to the salary of any Judge shall make adequate provisions for the pay of judges retired or who may retire when they do for Judges in active service.

Payment to a retired Judge shall be made monthly on his own warrant.

Section 2. That said proposed amendment be so submitted to said electors at the next election for Representatives in Congress, to be held in Louisiana on the first Tuesday next following the first Monday of November, 1960.

and also

AGAINST the proposed amendment to Section 8 of Article VII of the Constitution of Louisiana, relative to the retirement of Judges.

By: Mr. Dyson, chairman, Committee on Game, Fish and Oysters, and Messrs. Adams, Ammons, Lewis, Cooper, J. M. Brown, Knowles, Peck and Senator Poston (Substitute for House Bill No. 1344)

A JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to Article XIV of the Constitution of Louisiana, by adding a new section thereto to be designated as Section 45, ratifying and approving the creation of the Sabine River Authority, State of Louisiana, defining the powers and purposes of said Authority and authorizing the said Authority to issue bonds; dedicating the avails of the special ad valorem tax authorized by Section 3, of Article XVIII of the Constitution of Louisiana to the Department of Public Works, State of Louisiana, for a period of ten years, commencing with the fiscal year 1961-1962, to be used for water conservation, recreation and the development of the water resources of the State, with priority to be given to the Sabine River Authority, State of Louisiana, for the construction of the Toledo Bend Dam Project.

Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of Louisiana, two-thirds of the members elected to each House concurring that there shall be submitted to the electors of the State of Louisiana, for their approval or rejection, in the manner provided by law, a proposition to amend Article XIV of the Constitution of Louisiana, by adding a new section thereto to be designated as Section 45, which shall read as follows:

Section 45. The creation of the Sabine River Authority, State of Louisiana, (hereinafter referred to as "Authority"), as an instrumentality and agency of the State is authorized, ratified and approved. Limits of the Authority shall include parishes or portion of parishes as the Legislature may determine, with the view of improving navigation on the Sabine River and its tributaries, providing for adequate drainage and flood control within the Sabine River and Calcasieu River watersheds, utilizing the waters of the Sabine River and its tributaries for the purpose of providing recreation and irrigation, and of attracting industry to the area, maintaining an adequate water supply for agricultural, municipal, domestic and industrial use in the Sabine and Calcasieu River watersheds, and for the development of hydroelectric power. The Legislature shall be authorized to provide the method of appointing members of the governing body of the Authority and their terms of office. The Authority shall be fully authorized to cooperate financially and otherwise with the government of the United States, the States of Texas and Louisiana and with any political subdivision or agency of the said states and the instance of any Federal Government in carrying out any of the powers hereunder.

Authority shall have the power to construct and operate by itself or in cooperation with the State of Texas, the Federal Government and the State of Louisiana, or any of them or any subdivision of agency thereof, improvements in the Sabine basin, on the Sabine River and its tributaries, providing for drainage and flood control and the conservation utilization and preservation of the waters of the Sabine River and its tributaries, to provide irrigation, navigation, improved water supply, drainage and hydroelectric power. Authority may acquire, develop and provide recreational facilities for the use of the public. In addition to its other powers it may, for the purpose of furnishing fresh water to the Sabine and Calcasieu River watersheds as heretofore or hereafter defined by the Authority, construct locks, gates, pumping facilities, pipeline facilities, channels, ditches and canals, and may fix and impose such reasonable rates, charges and rents for electricity, water and other commodities and services furnished as it may consider proper, which charges and rates shall not be subject to review by any other state agency.

Authority shall have the power to control, preserve and dispose by sale or otherwise, of the waters of the Sabine River, subject to control and disposition of the State of Louisiana. Authority shall be fully empowered to acquire by expropriation all lands necessary for the construction of works of public improvement herein authorized and necessary to carry out the purposes and intention of this section. Such power of eminent domain shall be exercised as provided for under general law. Authority shall have the right to acquire title to lands reserving to the owner, his heirs and assigns perpetual mineral rights thereto, provided the exploration and development of such mineral rights shall not endanger or impair properties and facilities of the Authority. Authority shall have the right to charge reasonable fees, licenses and rentals for the use of its facilities, services and water and the revenues derived from such sources, together with revenues from the sale of hydroelectric power may be pledged to the obligations of the Authority as herein provided. Authority is fully empowered to adopt regulations protecting the public health, welfare and safety and its properties and facilities and insuring the preservation thereof for the present and future generations.

Authority shall have the power to make and enter into contracts, leases and other arrangements for the use of facilities administered by the Authority or any part or portion thereof.

Authority, with the approval of the Board of Liquidation of the State Debt and the State Bond and Tax Board, is authorized to incur debt for its lawful purposes and to issue in its name negotiable bonds and notes therefor, and to pledge for the payment of the principal and interest of such negotiable bonds or notes, the revenues derived from the operation of properties and facilities maintained and operated by it or received by the Authority from other sources; provided, however, that the amount of such bonds and notes outstanding at any one time shall not exceed $15,000,000. Such bonds when authorized to be issued shall constitute a general obligation of the Authority and the full faith and credit of the Authority shall be and is hereby pledged to the payment of principal of and interest on such bonds and notes. In addition to the pledge of revenues to secure said bonds and notes, the Authority may further secure their payment by a conventional mortgage upon any and all properties constructed or acquired or to be constructed or acquired by it. The Authority is further authorized to receive by gift, grant, loan or donation of otherwise any sum of money, aid or assistance from the United States, the State of Louisiana, or any political subdivision, agency or instrumentality hereof, and unless otherwise provided by the terms of such gift, grant, loan or donation it is in its discretion, to pledge all or any part of such monies for the further securing of the payment of the principal and interest of its bonds or notes. For a period of thirty days from the date of the publication in a newspaper published in the limits of the Authority or, if there be no newspaper published in the limits of the Authority, then in a newspaper published in New York and Chicago and such other places as the Authority may determine, any interested party may contest the legality of the said resolution and the validity of the said bonds or notes to be issued and any agreement to be executed pursuant thereto, after which time no one shall have any cause of action to contest the regularity, formality or legality of the said resolution or to draw in question the legality of the said bonds or notes or the debt represented thereby, or said agreement for any cause whatever, and it shall be conclusively presumed that every legal requirement has been complied with, and no court shall have authority to inquire into such matters after the lapse of the said thirty days. All bonds issued by the Authority shall be sold to the highest bidder at a public sale for not less than par and accrued interest, after advertisement at least once a week for not less than twenty days by the Authority in a newspaper published in New York and Chicago and such other places as the Authority may determine, reserving to the Authority the right to reject any and all bids and the right to readvertise for new bids. If after the advertisement as hereinabove provided no bids are received, or if such bids as are received are considered in the discretion of the Authority to be unsatisfactory, then in that event the Authority may publicly negotiate for the sale of such bonds. The bonds so authorized shall be in such form and denomination and payable at such times and places as the Authority may determine, but shall not be for a longer period than forty years, and shall be free from taxes of all kinds in the State of Louisiana. Said bonds shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable annually or semi-annually, and shall be made to mature at such times and in such amounts as may permit them to be conveniently retired out of the funds and revenues pledged for their payment.

The Sabine River Authority is hereby declared to be an agency and instrumentality of the State of Louisiana required by the public convenience and necessity for the carrying out of the functions of the State, and to be a corporation and body politic and corporate and shall have perpetual existence, invested with all the powers, privileges rights and immunities conferred by law upon other corporation of like character within the State. It shall have and possess the authority to sue and be sued. All legal process shall be asserted upon the Chairman of the Authority. The said Authority in carrying out the purpose of this section shall be performing an essential public function under the Constitution, and shall not be required to pay any tax or assessment upon its properties or part thereof, nor to pay any excise, license or other tax or imposition on its operating revenues and the bonds issued hereunder and their transfer and the income therefrom shall at all times be free from taxation within the State. The Authority may locate, construct and operate and maintain any of its works or facilities over, under, through, in and along any of the lands which are the property of the State or any agency thereof within its territorial jurisdiction without the obtaining of consents, licenses or permits other than the consent herein granted. Chapter 31 of Title 25, Louisiana Revised Statutes, as heretofore amended and as herein supplemented, is hereby approved, ratified, confirmed and continued in full force and effect, except to the extent of any conflict with the provisions of this section. The Legislature may hereafter enact such supplemental laws as it may consider desirable and which are not in conflict with the provisions of this section. Authority is specifically authorized and empowered, acting alone or in cooperation with the United States, or any agency or instrumentality thereof, or the State of Texas, or any agency or instrumentality of that state, or in cooperation with both to construct a dam on the Sabine River in the vicinity of Toledo Bend to be known and designated as the Toledo Bend Dam Project, and for that purpose and such other purposes as will be shown hereinafter, there is hereby dedicated to the Department of Public Works, State of Louisiana, for a period of ten years commencing with the fiscal year 1961-1962, subject to such prior dedications as have been made heretofore by the Constitution and Statutes of Louisiana, the avails of the special ad valorem tax authorized by Section 3 of Article XVIII of the Constitution of Louisiana after the deductions therefrom in favor of the holders of bonds secured by pledge or dedication of the avails of said tax, to be used by that department exclusively for water conservation, recreation and the development of the water resources of the State, provided that said Department of Public Works shall give preference and priority to the construction of the Toledo Bend Dam Project and shall make available to the Authority when and as needed in the construction of said Dam Project the funds herein dedicated until a sum of not to exceed $15,000,000 has been made available to Authority and used in the construction of said Dam Project, and provided that after the construction of said Dam Project any revenues remaining in Authority's hands at the end of each fiscal year from the operation of its facilities or from any other source, after paying the cost of the operation and maintenance of its facilities, making the required principal and interest payments on its obligations and meeting its reserve requirements by the terms of any resolution or resolutions authorizing the issuance of any bonds shall be paid, turned over and made available to the Department of Public Works, State of Louisiana, to be used by said department in the creation of additional facilities, and the further development of the water resources of the State.

STATE POLICE Cpl. C. E. Jones wishes to remind local motorists that car speeds are being checked all over the parish with a time machine. Just last Saturday, 14 persons were given tickets for speeding when the machine was set up at Hackett's corner at Sweetlake.

Waterfowl hunters asked to cooperate in mail survey

Daniel H. Janzen, Director of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife at Washington, D. C., today urged all waterfowl hunters who have received registration cards with the purchase of their Federal duck stamps to cooperate with the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior by filling out and promptly returning the indicated portion of the form.

This year more than 1400 post offices throughout the country have been furnished with double postcard forms which are handed to purchasers of duck stamps at these particular post offices.

One-half of the card is to be filled out by the hunter and returned at once to the Bureau. The other half is to be retained as a sort of scorecard on which the hunter can list the numbers and kinds of waterfowl which he bags during the coming season, and the number of days he hunted.

"This sample of hunters who return the cards", said Director Janzen, "will receive questionnaires at the end of the hunting season in which they will be asked to report their seasonal hunting success. It is highly important that all duck stamp purchasers receiving registration cards fill them out and mail them promptly. Cards from everyone contacted are necessary to make our sample representative of the entire hunting population."

The chief purpose of the survey is to determine as accurately as possible the extent of the waterfowl hunting kill for the season in order that a proper balance between the harvest of these birds and the hunting regulations may continue to be maintained.

TOY PARTY

A toy show was held at the home of Mrs. Freddie Richard in Grand Chenier last Wednesday. Mrs. Donna Rae Ducote and Mrs. Bonnie Theriot won prizes.

Way cleared for passage of refuge royalty measure

The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, meeting Tuesday in Monroe, adopted a resolution backing Cameron parish's efforts to get part of the royalty from the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge.

It was also announced at the meeting that the United States Department of Interior has withdrawn its objection to the plan.

These two developments are expected to make clear sailing for a bill putting into effect this measure to be introduced in Congress when it reconvenes in January.

Such a bill was introduced in the recent congressional session but due to the press of other legislation it never did get out of committee.

John Paul Crain of Grand Chenier, a member of the wild life commission, and Alvin Dyson, Cameron's state representative, presented the refuge resolution to the state commission Tuesday. They report that there was no opposition to it.

If the compressional bill is approved, Cameron and Vermilion parishes will receive ten percent of oil royalities from the Rockefeller refuge for use in raod and bridge building and maintenance.

Although this royalty is paid to the parishes on all other state-owned land, it has never been paid on the Rockefeller oil and gas production.

The refuge was donated to Louisiana nearly 40 years ago by the Rockefeller foundation, which made certain stipulations on the state, which if not carried out, would cause the land to be reverted to the federal government.

It is because of this provision that the congressional bill must be passed assuring the state that the federal government has no objection to 10 percent royalty being paid Cameron parish.

Voters faced with record number of amendments

Louisiana voters face the job of deciding in November on a record number of proposed constitutional amendments, the Public Affairs Research Council (PAR) said this week in announcing publication of its "Guide to the 1960 Constitutional Amendments."

In its 64-page booklet which briefly analyzes each amendment, PAR said that the 55 proposals constitute a record high number for the state.

At the same time, PAR suggested that the number of amendments submitted every two years could be reduced if the state adopted a broad home rule provision in the constitution.

The non-partisan research organization said that more than half of the present state constitution is devoted to local issues and 25 of the proposed 55 amendments concern local affairs.

Reviewing voting participation by citizens since adoption of the 1921 Constitution, PAR said that an average of 24.4 per cent of the registered voters have participated in balloting on constitutional amendments. The participation has reached as high as 47 per cent of registered voters and dropped as low as 7.8 per cent.

PAR stated that this shift-

Contract Let On Holly Beach Streets

A $15,235 contract has been let by the state highway department to T. L. James and Co., Inc., Ruston, for the bituminous surfacing of .7 miles of streets in Holly Beach.

New ferry is sought here

The most feasible solution to the Cameron ferry problem at this time seems to be a new, 42-car side-loading ferry, Rep. Alvin Dyson said this week. He said that efforts are being made to get such a replacement for the old ferry.

The old ferry has been criticized for being too small, too slow and dangerous. The Cameron Lions Club recently adopted a resolution which was sent to the state highway department pointing out all these shortcomings.

Mr. Dyson said that while a bridge was the ultimate goal, that it would cost several million dollars and that such funds were not available.

If the Rockefeller royalty bill (see adjoining story) is passed in congress next year, then perhaps these funds could be used for a bridge, but even then it would take four or five years before the bridge could be built, Mr. Dyson said.

In the meantime, better ferry facilities were needed now. He estimated that the cost of the larger, side-loading ferry and new approaches would be $750,000.

Contestants for fair selected

Miss Catherin LeBlanc and Miss Linda Fay Landry will represent Hackberry high school in this year's queen contest at the Calcasieu-Cameron fair in Sulphur.

Grand Chenier Natural Gas Turned On

WEDNESDAY WAS a memorable day for Grand Chenier--the day that the community's new natural gas line was turned on. Taking part in the ceremony, above, are, left to right: J. H. Waterfield, United Gas district engineer, Lake Charles; D. Y. Doland, member of community natural gas committee; John Paul Crain, local civil leader; B. F. Worley, superintendent of Louisiana-Mississippi operations, United Gas, Shreveport; Lionel Theriot, member of local committee; A. M. Bujard, division superintendent, United Gas, New Iberia; Sheriff O. B. Carter and A. H. Crain, who are turning the valve. Also present, but not in the picture was L. C. Landry, division engineer, United Gas, New Iberia.

Grand Chenier gas is turned on Wed.

Sheriff O. B. Carter and A. H. (Sono) Crain Wednesday morning turned a valve which started natural gas to flowing into Grand Chenier homes. Looking on were other local leaders and officials of the United Gas Corporation.

The new 31,000 foot gas line which runs the length of the Chenier between the Mermentau river bridge and Carl McCall's home will serve about 90 homes in the community.

Mr. Crain, chairman of a community committee which worked with the gas company on getting the line installed, said that gas meters were now being installed and service to each home would be turned on as rapidly as this was done.

He said that home owners could call his office, JE 8-2180, just as soon as they had their service lines in and that he would forward the report to the serviceman who will put in the meters.

The gas is being fed into the Grand Chenier line directly from a United Gas line running from Mudd Lake and offshore.

Other members of the local committee are D. Y. Doland, Lionel Theriot and Mrs. Emily Theriot. This committee collected $115 each from the new gas users to help finance the line. During the next five years, as new customers are added on the line, the United Gas Corp. will refund some or all of this money, and the committee will see that it is redistributed.

United Gas officials announced that a survey has been completed of Creole and that it may be possible to give this area natural gas soon.

Knights Erect Shrine Of Thanksgiving

KC's to dedicate shrine

The Cameron Knights of Columbus Council will hold a dedicatory ceremony at 2 p.m. Sunday for the shrine to Our Lady of Fatima which they have erected in front of the Sacred Heart rectory at Creole.

Grand Knight J. Berton Daigle said the shrine was erected to show the appreciation of the council for the many donations which the organization received from Knights of Columbus council members all over the world following Hurricane Audrey.

These funds, totaling more than $30,000, were used to build the new KC hall in Creole.

The marble statues, representing the Blessed Virgin as she appeared ato three children in Fatima, Portugal in 1917, were carved in Italy. They are surrounded by palms, a dwarf gardena hedge and other shrubbry.

Charles DesOrmeaux, landscape architect, did the landscaping for the shrine. The marble figures were secured through Salari Marble Works in Lake Charles.

At the dedication Sunday, the Rev. Eugene Senneville, pastor of Our Lady of the Sea Church, Cameron, will give a talk on the history of Fatima, and the Rev. Joseph Decoteaux pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, will officiate at the blessing.

HERE! '61 CHEVY TRUCKS
WITH WORK-PROVED INDEPENDENT FRONT SUSPENSION!
Chevy's '61 fleet swings in with a ready-made reputation as the trucks that are worth more because they work more . . . the latest editions of the haulers that scrapped the I-beam axle and proved the important advantages of independent front suspension!
You'll find new models for '61—long-wheelbase 4-wheel drive units—and thoughtful refinements throughout the line. But the big news for '61 is nailed-down proof (based on owner reports) that Chevy's torsion-spring design is the best thing that's happened to trucks in decades!
With Chevy's independent front suspension and Sturdi-Bilt design, you cruise over trails where other trucks creep. You feel the difference in less wheel fight and vibration. You can see why drivers are happier, why loads are better protected and why the truck itself will stand up to thousands of miles of more work. That goes for any size Chevy, too—pickups, tilt cabs, tandems, all of them.
Check the latest specs with your Chevrolet dealer: capacity, power teams, options. Then, by all means, drive a '61. Once around the block and you'll never be satisfied with a front axle truck again!

Our apologies to Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge Hebert, Jr. for overlooking the announcement of their son, Joseph Purvis, born Sept. 1. The baby weighed 8 lb. and was welcomed by a sister Mona, 2½ years old.

Picturesque highway scenes: Blue heron in graceful pose atop utility pole, lavender wild morning glories embracing foliage along highways, large flocks of white egrets and black water turkeys blending checkered pattern in fishing pond.

Trosclair, Archie Berwick and C. A. Riggs. There were no members absent. The meeting was called to order by the President. The minutes of the previous session were read and upon motion by Mr. Theriot, seconded by Mr. Mhire and carried, they were adopted as read.

A letter from Mr. A. P. Tugwell, State Treasurer, was read, advising that the Cameron Parish Police Jury might safely issue an additional $200,000.00 in Royalty Road Bonds. Jones, Jr., Assistant District Attorney, prepare the necessary documents for the issuance of $200,000.00 Royalty Road Bonds.

An estimate was received from the Louisiana Department of Highways in the amount of $5,833,32 for blacktopping approximately 2.25 miles of streets in Hackberry, Ward Six, reef shell required for the project to be hauled, spot-dumped and spread by Ward Six maintenance forces. Further correspondence was received and read concerning financing the blacktopping of the Front Ridge Road, approximately 7.7 miles, at an estimated cost of $462,000.00. It was moved by Mr. Theriot, seconded by Mr. Mhire and carried that further action regarding these two projects be postponed until sufficient funds are available to finance the projects.

Pursuant to advertisement, in the Cameron Parish Pilot, Lake Charles American Press, Port Arthur News, and Beaumont Enterprise for the leasing of the Sabine Lake Causeway fill, the following proposal was received:

The price offered for this lease is $1,000.00 per year for the first five years, $1,500.00 per year for the next ten years, and $2,000.00 per year for the next five years; the price for the ten year option to be left open to negotiation but not to exceed $2,500.00 per year.

In addition to the cash consideration for the rights to be granted, lessees propose to construct and maintain the following public improvements to the Fill at a cost of approximately $10,000,00, to-wit:

1. A launching slip for small boats located at the Fill and at the northern end of a canal to be dug the width of 40 feet, extending in a southerly direction approximately 500 feet and terminating its point of origin at the Shell Cut on Sabine Lake.

2. A shelled parking area to accommodate a minimum of 50 cars, increasing in size as needed.

3. Construction of a fence along the highway right-of-way boundary across the fill tract for the protection of the traveling public and for general public safety.

The lease shall be for any general commercial purpose, particularly but not limited to the following:

1. Construction and operation of a marine filling station.

2. Construction and operation of a small boat refueling and docking wharf.

3. Construction and operation of a fisherman's bar, sandwich grill and sporting goods supply store.

Respectfully Submitted,
George Clark and
H. M. Rosen

ORDINANCE NO. BX-9,1960
AN ORDINANCE CORRECTLY DEFINING THE BOUNDARIES OF THE SIX WARDS OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA

WHEREAS, by an ordinance passed at the July Term for the year 1911 of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, found in Minute Book "C" at pages 433 to 435, inclusive, of the Parish of Cameron were defined and delineated and by a second ordinance passed at the same term, found in Minute Book "C" at pages 435 and 436, the boundaries of Ward Six of the Parish of Cameron were defined and delineated, said six wards comprising the entire Parish of Cameron; and,

WHEREAS, recent activities of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish necessitated an examination of the boundaries of said six wards has indicated that certain slight errors and ambiguities exist in the description of the boundaries of said wards as set forth in said ordinances; and,

WHEREAS, by comparing boundaries of said six wards as set forth in said ordinances with detailed maps of Cameron Parish and by comparing said boundaries of the six wards with one another, the obviousness of the errors and ambiguities is readily apparent; and,

WHEREAS, the intention of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish when adopting said ordinances was to have the boundary lines of the six wards coincide with State, parish, township and section lines of with the three natural boundaries formed by the Gulf of Mexico, the Sabine River and Calcasieu Lake, which intention is readily ascertainable from a study of the descriptions contained in the said ordinances, from the interpretation of the ordinances given by the Police Jury of Cameron Parish in its actions from the date of adoption of said ordinances to the present, from the actions and interpretations of the various officials of the parish, wards and townships in said intervening years, and by a comparison of the boundaries as set forth in said ordinances with the boundaries as generally assumed by the public; and,

WHEREAS, the Police Jury of Cameron Parish now finds and determines that it is desirable to restate and readopt those portions of the two ordinances which define and delineate the boundaries of the six wards comprising Cameron Parish in order to properly state said boundaries so as to eliminate the errors and ambiguities;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Police Jury of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, in Regular Session convened on this 6th day of September, 1960:

SECTION 1. The first paragraph and words of enactment thereof of an ordinance entitled: "An ordinance establishing the ward lines of the several wards of Cameron Parish, La.", passed at the July Term of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish for the year 1911, which now reads as follows (punctuation added):

"Be it ordained that the Boundry line of ward one (1) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

Ward One

"Be it ordained that the boundary line of Ward One (1) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

Commencing at the point on the line between Calcasieu and Cameron Parishes at the southwest corner of Township 13 South, Range 4 West; thence running south to the southwest corner of said township; thence west to the northwest corner of Section 2, Township 13 South, Range 5 West; thence south to the northern line of irregularly shaped Section 47, Township 15 South, Range 5 West; thence with the boundaries of said Section 47, as follows: northwesterly along its northern line to its western line, thence southerly along its western line to its southern line, thence southeasterly along its southern line to the point of intersection with the line between Section 14 and 15, Township 15 South, Range 5 West; thence south along the section line between said Sections 14 and 15, Township 15 South, Range 5 West, to the Gulf of Mexico; thence easterly along the Gulf of Mexico to the boundary line between Cameron and Vermilion Parishes; thence north along said boundary line to the northeast corner of Township 12 South, Range 3 West; thence west along the line between Calcasieu and Cameron Parishes to the point of Commencement."

SECTION 2. The second paragraph and words of enactment thereof of an ordinance entitled: "An ordinance establishing the ward lines of the several wards of Cameron Parish, La.", passed at the July Term of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish for the year 1911, which now reads as follows (punctuation added):

Ward (2)

"Be it further ordained that the Boundry line of ward Two (2) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

commencing at the N. E. Cor. of Sec. 2, TP. 13 S., R. 5 W.; thence west to the N.W. cor. of Sec. 32, TP. 14 south, Range 7 W; thence south to the Gulf of Mexico; thence westerly along the Gulf of Mexico to the west Boundry line of ward one (1); thence north along west Boundry line of ward One (1) to the point of commencement", which description erroneously states that the boundary of said Ward Two when running along the Gulf of Mexico to the west boundary line of Ward One runs in a westerly direction, whereas in actuality it runs in an easterly direction, be restated so as properly to read as follows:

Ward Two

"Be it further ordained that the boundary line of Ward Two (2) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

Commencing at the northeast corner of Section 2, Township 13 South, Range 5 West; thence west to the center of the north line of Section 3, Township 13 South, Range 7 West; thence from the center of the north line of Section 3, Township 13 South, Range 7 West, south on the half section lines to the center of the south line of Section 27, Township 14 South, Range 7 West; thence west to the northwest corner of Section 32, Township 14 South, Range 7 West; thence south to the Gulf of Mexico; thence easterly along the Gulf of Mexico to the west boundary line of Ward One (1); thence north along the west boundary line of Ward One to the point of commencement.

SECTION 3. The third paragraph and words of enactment thereof of an ordinance entitled: "An ordinance establishing the ward lines of the several wards of Cameron Prish, La.", passed at the July Term of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish for the year 1911, which now reads as follows (punctuation added):

"Be it further ordained that the Boundry line of ward Three (3) shall Be and is hereby established as follows:

Commencing at the center of north Boundry Sec. 3, TP. 13 S., R. 7 W.; thence west along township line to N.W. cor. of TP. 13 S., R. 7 W.; thence south to S.W. cor. of Sec. 13, TP. 13 S., R. 8 W.; thence west to Calcasieu Lake; thence following the eastern Boundry Line of the Southern Bank of Calcasieu Lake to the Range line Between TP. 14 S., R. 10 W. and TP. 14 S., R. 11 W.; thence south to the Gulf of Mexico; thence easterly along the Gulf of Mexico to the west Boundry of ward (2) Two; thence Northerly along west Boundry of Ward Two (2) to the Point of commencement".

which description contains an error, in that it states that the boundary of Ward Three running south from the northwest corner of Township 13 South, Range 7 West, runs to the southwest corner of Section 13, Township 13 South, Range 8 West, which would seem to indicate that said boundary runs diagonally across several sections, whereas a comparison of the description of the boundary of Ward Three with the boundary of Ward Four indicates that in actuality the boundary of Ward Three runs along the section line from the northwest corner of Township 13 South, Range 7 West, to the southeast corner of Section 13, Township 13 South, Range 8 West, be restated so as properly to read as follows:

Ward Three

"Be it further ordained that the boundary line of Ward Three (3) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

Commencing at the center of the north line of Section 3, Township 13 South, Range 7 West; thence west along the township line to the northwest corner of Township 13 South, Range 7 West; thence south to the southeast corner of Section 13, Township 13 South, Range 8 West; thence west to Calcasieu Lake; thence following the eastern and southeastern banks of Calcasieu Lake to the range lines between Township 14 South, Range 10 West and Township 14 South, Range 11 West; thence south to the Gulf of Mexico; thence easterly along the Gulf of Mexico to the west boundary of Ward Two (2), to the point of commencement."

SECTION 4. The fourth paragraph and words of enactment thereof of an ordinance entitled: "An ordinance establishing the ward lines of the several wards of Cameron Parish, La.", passed at the July Term of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish for the year 1911, which now reads as follows (punctuation added):

"Be it further ordained that the Boundry line of ward four (4) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

commencing at the N. E. cor. of TP. 12 S., R. 5 W.; Thence running south the S.E. cor. of TP. 12 S., R. 5 W.; thence west to S. W. cor. Tp. 12 S., R. 7 W.; thence south to S. E. cor. of Sec. 13, Tp 13 S., R. 8 W.; thence west to Calcasieu Lake; thence Northerly along the East Bank of Calcasieu Lake to the line Between Calcasieu and Cameron parishes; thence East along parish line to point of commencement,"

Ward Four

"Be it further ordained that the boundary line of Ward Four (4) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

Commencing at the northeast corner of Township 12 South, Range 5 West; thence running south to the southeast corner of Township 12 South, Range 5 West; thence west to the southwest corner of Township 12 South, Range 7 West; thence south to the southeast corner of Section 13, Township 13 South, Range 7 West; thence west to Calcasieu Lake; thence northerly along the east bank of Calcasieu Lake to the line between Calcasieu and Cameron Parishes; thence east along said parish line to the point of commencement."

SECTION 5. The fifth paragraph and words of enactment thereof of an ordinance entitled: "An ordinance establishing the ward lines of the several wards of Cameron Parish, La.", passed at the July Term of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish for the year 1911, which now reads as follows (punctuation added):

Ward 5

"Be it further ordained that the Boundry line of ward Five (5) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

commencing at the N. E. cor. of Sec. 4, Tp. 12 S., R. 12 W.; thence running south to S. E. cor. of Sec. 33, TP. 13 S., R. 12 W., thence east to N. E. cor. of Tp. 14 S., R. 11 W.; thence South to the Gulf of Mexico; thence along the Gulf of Mexico to the Sabine River; thence Northerly along the line Between the States of Louisiana and Texas to the Calcasieu parish line; thence east along the line Between the parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron to the point of commencement."

which description, by stating that the boundary of said Ward Five runs south from the northeast corner of Section 4, Township 12 South, Range 12 West, to the southeast corner of Section 33, Township 13 South, Range 12 West, would seem to indicate that this portion of the boundary of said ward runs diagonally across several sections of two townships, whereas in actuality said portion of the boundary of said Ward Five follows the section and township lines, be restated so as properly to read as follows:

Ward Five

"Be it further ordained that the boundary line of Ward Five (5) shall be and is hereby established as follows:

Commencing at the northeast corner of Section 4, Township 12 South, Range 12 West; thence running south to the southeast corner of Section 33, Township 12 South, Range 12 West; thence east to the northeast corner of Section 4, Township 13 South, Range 12 West; thence south to the southeast corner of Section 33, Township 13 South, Range 11 West; thence east to the northeast corner of Township 14 South, Range 11 West; thence south to the Gulf of Mexico; thence westerly along the Gulf of Mexico to the Sabine River; thence northerly along the line between the States of Louisiana and Texas to the Calcasieu Parish line; thence east along the line between the Parishes of Cameron and Calcasieu to the point of commencement."

SECTION 6. The title, words of enactment and the first paragraph of an ordinance entitled "An ordinance creating an additional ward in the Parish of Cameron to be known as Ward Six (6) and establishing an Election District and a Justice of the peace District therein and Repealing all ordinances in conflict therewith," passed at the July Term of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish for the year 1911, which now reads as follows (punctuation added):

"An ordinance creating an additional ward in the Parish of Cameron to Be Known as Ward (6) Six and establishing an Election District and a Justice of the peace District therein and Repealing all ordinances in conflict therewith.

Be it Resolved and ordained by the police jury of the Parish of Cameron in regular session assembled That a New ward to be Known as Ward 6 of said parish of Cameron be and the same is out of the following territory (sic), to wit:

commencing at the Northwest corner of Section (3) three, Township (12), twelve South of range (sic), (12) Twelve west, La. Mer.; thence running south to south west corner of Section Thirty four (34), Township (13) thirteen south of range (12) Twelve West; Thence running (sic); Thence east to the South East corner of Township (13) thirteen south of range Eleven (11) west; thence south to Calcasieu Lake; Thence westerly along west Bank of Calcasieu Lake to the Calcasieu parish Line; thence west along the line between the parishes (sic), of Calcasieu and Cameron to point of commencement", which description, by stating that the boundary of said Ward Six runs south from the northwest corner of Section 3, Township 12 South, Range 12 West, to the southwest corner of Section 34, Township 13 South, Range 12 West, would seem to indicate that this portion of the boundary of said ward runs diagonally across several sections of two townships, whereas in actuality said portion of the boundary of said Ward Six follows the section and township lines, and which description states that the boundary of said Ward runs westerly along the western bank of Calcasieu Lake to the Calcasieu Parish line, whereas in actuality it runs northeasterly along said bank to said line, be restated so as properly to read as follows:

"An ordinance creating an additional ward in the Parish of Cameron to be known as Ward Six (6) and establishing an Election District and a Justice of the Peace District therein and repealing all ordinances in conflict therewith.

Commencing at the northwest corner of Section 3, Township 12 South, Range 12 West, La. Mer.; thence running south to the southwest corner of Section 34, Township 12 South, Range 12 West; thence east to the northwest corner of Section 3, Township 13 South, Range 12 West; thence south to the southwest corner of Section 34, Township 13 South, Range 12 West; thence east to the southeast corner of Section 34, Township 13 South, Range 12 West; thence west to the southwest corner of Section 34, Township 13 South, Range 11 West; thence south to Calcasieu Lake; thence northeasterly along the west bank of Calcasieu Lake to the line between the Parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron; thence west along the line between the Parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron to the point of commencement."

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Police Jury of Cameron Parish, Louisiana in regular session convened on the 6th day of September, 1960:

SECTION 1: That the boundaries of Hackberry Recreation District be and the same are hereby properly described as follows, to-wit:

Boat club plans big water carnival

The newly formed Cameron Boat Club will climax a full summer season of activity with a big annual Water Festival to be held in front of Smith's docks on Sunday, Oct. 30.

Roy DiAngelo, chairman for the event, announced that there would be boat races, swimming and diving contests, and a water skiing show. He invited the public to come out. Admission will be free.

The boat races are opened to anyone, with an entrance fee of $1 being charged for each race. Several hundred dollars have been contributed by area business people with which to buy trophies.

Only stock boats and motors are eligible, and contestants must register before races. Area boat clubs are invited to enter boats. All boats entered will be launched free of charge at Pete's Pier.

The swimming contest is opened to high school boys in two age groups. Qualified life guards will be on duty during this event. Trophies will be awarded to first, second and third place winners.

Sandwiches and cold drinks will be sold during the festival.

To promote interest in the boat club in the Grand Chenier area, races will be held in the Mermentau River next to the state park there on Sunday Oct. 16. All boats owners are invited to participate and visitors are welcome.

The Cameron Boat Club now has a membership of 64, and has just been incorporated. Arsene LeBleu is the president; DiAngelo, vice-president and Albert Richard, secretary-treasurer.

This Sunday in Cameron, the club will hold the finals in the series of five weekend races. Winners of the most points during the five races will receive trophies provided by the club.

Police Jury Briefs

SPOILS RESOLUTION

A resolution adopted at the Aug. 23 meeting of the State Wild Life and Fisheries Commission was read. It urged the federal government to stop the practice of dump spoils dredged from the Lake Charles ship channel into Calcasieu Lake and that retainer levees be built.

RIGHT-OF-WAY

The Truckline Gas Co. of Houston, Texas, was given a right-of-way by the jury to lay a natural gas pipeline under parish roads and streams. The jury also voiced no opposition to an application from British American Oil Co. to drill an offshore well.

JAIL REPAIRS

Upon the advice of the grand jury, the police jury Monday decided to get estimates on the repainting and repairing of the parish jail.

RO 2-7200 is dept. number Hackberry fire

The Hackberry fire department wishes to announce that its telephone number is RO 2-7200, and that anyone wishing to report a fire should call this number until someone answers.

The phone is also hooked up to the Kelso Bayou bridge tender's house, and will be answered there or at the fire station.

The fire truck, which has been in operation since March, has answered three calls since then. The latest was to put out a fire on Dean Samer's truck.

1961 Chevys on display at Carter's

The 1961 Chevrolets and Corvairs are now on display at Carter Chevrolet Company in Creole.

During the big showing Friday, souvenirs will be given to everyone and refreshments served. In addition, some very handsome gifts will be given to the first 20 persons who buy new cars and trucks from Carter's.

Street lights touch off big jury debate

The matter of the police jury paying for community street lights came up in the jury meeting Monday and again touched off another big debate on the subject.

Ed Kelley came forward with a petition signed by 21 persons in the Kelley Subdivision asking for street lights.

"I think we ought to put an end to this streetlight business," he said. "It's just like foreign aid--there's no end to it."

Juror Vian Theriot offered a resolution that in the future the jury install no more lights, and Mr. Riggs seconded it. However, the matter was never called to a vote.

It was pointed out by the treasurer, Dorothy Doxey, that the parish receives $9,360 in tobacco tax from the state, which could be used for such purposes.

It was also discovered that three street lights for the Kelley subdivision had already been approved several months ago, and the whole matter was dropped with Mr. Kelley being promised action on the lights very soon.

Airstrip to be extended 300 feet here

The police jury has agreed to extend the Cameron airstrip 300 feet to the north to give airplanes a longer runway for taking off and landing.

The present strip is about 2,000 feet long at the present time, but has a power transmission line at the south end which makes it difficult for large planes to land.

J. A. Davis, who owns the land on which the airport is located, gave the jury permission to extend the strip, but stated that this permission was not to be constructed as a dedication to the public.

The airport is maintained by the Gulf Menhaden, Company, and officially is a private strip. However, the firm allows anyone who wishes to use it.

Parish average rice yield of only 15 barrels seen

This year's rice yield in Cameron parish is proving very disappointing to rice farmers, County Agent Hadley Fontenot reported this week. It now appears that the average yield for the parish may not exceed 15 barrels per acre.

Last year, a good many farmers had an average yield of 24 barrels, Mr. Fontenot says, but this year the only yield of that kind is 24½ barrels reported by the Zaumbecker brothers--Phillip and Wilford--on the Illinois Plantation near Hayes.

Early planted crops, mainly Nato, yielded well generally. Lyons Breaux of Sweet Lake, Cleveland Broussard of Lowery and Sidney Vincent of Klondike reported yields of 22 barrels or better. Reports on later planted rice brings out yields of 16 and 17 barrels and some as low as 10 barrels. A number of farmers will not exceed 15 barrels average over their whole crop.

It is thought by some, according to Francis Klein of Klondike, that the heavy rains the rice was subjected to in late July may have interferred with the normal pollination of the flowers. He states that many fields had the appearance and stands which would have indicated yields of over 20 barrels. Yet when these fields were harvested they yielded only 16 and 17 barrels. Many seeds were not filled and of course had no weight and were blown out with the straw in the harvesting operation.

If the 15 barrel average yield estimate states, says Mr. Fontenot, it will mean that some 25 thousand barrels less than last year will be produced in Cameron Parish. Not only that, but the average price received for rice is about 75 cents less per barrel which would mean a reduction of income to Cameron Parish farmers of over $200,000 from last year.

Athletic Assoc. To Sell Gumbo

The Hackberry Athletic Association will sell shrimp gumbo Friday night before and after the South Cameron Game in Hackberry, according to Albert Kyle, president. The public is invited to come out and eat.

The 1960 Boy Scout fund raising drive is now in progress in Cameron parish.

This Thursday Elwood Robicheaux, Grand Lake chairman, and his workers met at Grand Lake high school, and in Cameron Dr. Cecil Clark conducted a worker's meeting at James Derouen's home.

Joe O'Donnell of Creole and Melvin Tartar of Grand Chenier will have their workers meet jointly at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday Oct. 11 in the Knights of Columbus hall in Creole.

Father J. F. Peradis, chairman of Holmwood and Bell City, and Mr. Alvin Hebert, chairman of Hayes, will have their groups meet jointly on Wednesday, Oct. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall of Bell City.

$95,930 suit filed in oil well accident

A $98,930.95 damage suit has been filed by Clarence Crader, Cameron resident, in connection with injuries which he received while doing oil-well work at Johnson Bayou on Sept. 19, 1959.

The suit, filed in district court here, is against the Ashworth Oil Service Company of Bay City, Texas, and its insurer, the National Automobile and Casualty Insurance Co.

At the time of the accident, Mr. Crader was working for Griffith's Rental Tools, Inc., which was doing working for the Ashworth Co., which in turn was drilling for Mecom Petroleum Co.

Mr. Crader says in his suit that he was standing on the derrick floor, when a piece of 3 by 8 wood plant 35 feet above the floor broke and fell on him, causing injuries to his head, neck, back and shoulders.

Alleging that the drilling firm was negligent in providing defective planking, Mr. Crader is asking compensation for pain, medical expenses and loss of earning.

Parish health board has meeting

The Cameron Parish Health Board, recently appointed by the police jury, has named Dr. Cecil Clark chairman and Dr. J. B. Colligan, vice-chairman. Other members are Wilson Montie, Charles Hebert and Dr. Stephen Carter.

The board will meet again on Oct. 13 at which time it is expected that it will have clarification from the state on the appointment of a parish health officer.

FATHER DECOTEAU

Fr. Decoteau is new pastor for Creole

Prior to coming to Creole, Father Decoteau was a teacher at various LaSalette seminaries around the country. Most recently he was head of the seminary at Jefferson City, Mo. This is his first parish appointment.

He has also taught at seminaries in Harton, Conn; Milford, Iowa; and Ipswich, Mass.

A native of Massachusetts, he attended seminaries in Hartford, Bloomfield Conn., and Altamont, N. Y.

He was ordained on May 18, 1940, and was sent as a missionary to Burma. War broke out, and he was captured by the Japanese in the Philippines on Jan. 2, 1942. He then spent three years in Japanese prison camps along with 100 other priests and 200 nuns.

He weighed 140 pounds when he was captured, and only 85 when released on Feb. 23, 1945 by the Eleventh Airborn Rangers. He then returned to the United States to begin his teaching work.

Lease proposal on causeway is withdrawn

Two Port Arthur, Texas, businessmen have withdrawn a proposal which they gave the Cameron police jury last month to lease the Sabine causeway fill.

A letter from C. A. Miller, Jr., attorney for George Clark, an H. M. Rosen, asked the jury Monday to refund their good faith deposit put up last month.

Clark and Rosen had proposed to lease the fill for 20 years from the jury and to construct a boat slip, parking lot, marine filling station, refueling wharf and fishermen's bar and grill.

The jury had declined to act on their proposal last month until after it met with the county commissioners of Jefferson County, Texas.

Action expected soon on hospital

Lower Cameron Hospital Service District officials this week announced that action on the hospital is expected to be taken in the very near future.

They also explained why construction has not started on the hospital, although the bond issue was approved one year ago last week.

Edison Mhire, chairman of the hospital board, said the group has been working very hard to get federal Hill-Burton funds from the state for the hospital. He said the hospital could be built with the $350,000 in bonds approved by tax payers last year, but that it is hoped that this much more can be secured in matching federal funds, which would give the area a $700,000 hospital plant.

A committee of the state hospital board was scheduled to survey lower Cameron Wednesday to see if the area qualifies for federal assistance, but the trip was postponed because of a conflict. The survey will be made later.

Dr. Cecil Clark, a member of the local hospital committee who was named to the state hospital board recently, said he felt sure the board would approve the federal funds for Cameron.

He said he would ask the state board to meet in special session--perhaps in Cameron --just as soon as the survey is made to act on Cameron's application for funds.

The local hospital committee has asked the public to bear with it for a little while longer. They expressed regret at the delay of construction, but said they felt it was worth it if the additional funds can be secured for the hospital.

Garbage fee may soon be resumed here

Residents in the Cameron area may soon have to resume paying for their garbage collection, the police jury stated Monday. Juror Bolo Trosclair said he would like to continue the service as it is, but other jurors said they didn't feel there was money available for it.

Garbage pickup was begun here after Hurricane Audrey when a used garbage truck was given the parish. At that time, home owners were paying $5 a month for the service, with this money paying the salary of the truck driver.

This driver quit some months ago, and since then the police jury has been furnishing a driver at no cost to the residents.

Juror C. A. Riggs of Hackberry said that he did not think it fair for the parish to be paying for such service. He said that if the people want garbage pickup, they ought to create a garbage district and vote a millage.

Bids to be received on causeway building

The Cameron police jury will open bids at 10 a.m., Monda, Nov. 7., ~~a the~~ construction of the operators house on the Sabine Lake causeway. This was the structure which was destroyed when hit by a tug about a year ago. The causeway operator was killed in the accident.

The official notice on these bids is to be found elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

Creole CD firemen put out brush fire

Sunday, October 2, at about 6:45 p.m. the Creole Area Civil Defense Fire Department answered a call from the sheriff's department in Cameron to a brush fire just east of the Jim Daigle home on the Oak Grove ridge.

The fire was crawling slowly up the ridge and was endangering two homes. The truck was at the scene from about 7:00 p.m. until 8:15 p.m. fighting the blaze.

The following thirteen civil defense men reported: Odia Duhon, Dalton Richard, T. P. Bonsall, Clarence Boudreaux, Gordon Johnson, J. P. Boudoin, Jr., Johnny Boudoin, Fredman Theriot, J. M. Theriot, G. H. LeBoeuf, Gerald Guidry, Thomas Savoie, and Lynex Richard, all of Creole.

The origin of the fire is not known but it is believed it started when someone threw a lighted cigarette on the side of the road.

Gas well blows out on Chenier

BY ELORA MONTIE

A gas well being drilled in the south marsh at Grand Chenier, blew out at 2:30 p.m. Monday at 11,000 feet. All of the equipment was lost, but no one was injured and the well was brought under control that night.

The well, Dr. M. O. Miller, No. 1, rig number 14, was being drilled by the U.S. Oil Co. of Louisiana.

Salvage operations have begun.

Lake Arthur resident dies

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Monday in Our Lady of the Lake Catholic church in Lake Arthur for Mrs. Felicia Walters Richard, 84, who died of a heart attack Sunday at her residence in Lake Arthur. The Rev. Harry Pelous officiated at the rites.

Burial was held in St. Anthony's cemetery in Lake Arthur.

Mrs. Richard was born in Cameron May 11, 1875. She has lived in Lake Arthur for 53 years.

Survivors are two sons Nelson Richard and Dr. G. ~~A.~~ Richard, a former schoolteacher at Grand Chenier, both now of Lake Arthur; three daughters, Mrs. Abraham Broussard, Mrs. Steven Broussard of Lake Arthur, and Mrs. N. C. Arendall of Opelousas; eight grandchildren, and three great-grandchildren.

Assessments to be studied

The Cameron police jury has begun a study of the problem of how to make sure that all property improvements are the parish tax rolls.

Police Juror C. A. Riggs of Hackberry and Assistant District Attorney J. B. Jones were asked to check with the Calcasieu police jury and assessor to see what system they use.

Mr. Riggs brought the matter up at the Monday meeting of the jury, stating that he knew of at least 25 homes in Hackberry that were not assessed, even though some had been built as long as 10 or 20 years. He estimated that 20 percent of the buildings in Ward 6 were not on the tax roll--or nearly $100,000 in assessments.

The juror said he wasn't blaiming the tax assessor--the trouble being that there was no system to insure that improvements get on the tax roll.

He suggested a parish wide building permit ordinance, requiring persons to secure building permits before building. The jury decided not to do anything until after Riggs and Jones had looked into the matter.

MR. RIGGS ALSO brought up another tax matter.

He wanted to know why the Cameron Sheriff's department received 20 percent of the taxes collected in the parish, while in other parishes the sheriff gets only 10 percent for the collection work.

He was told that the percentage is actually 18 percent for collection and non-collectable taxes, and that this percentage for Cameron parish was established years ago when the parish had a very low assessment and the sheriff needed more money for the work.

Mr. Riggs said he was not criticizing Sheriff O. B. Carter, that the system had been in operation before he went into office, but that he did think the percentage was too high.

He said the sheriff's department has a surplus while the police jury always has a shortage.

The rest of the jury had little or no comments on the matter.

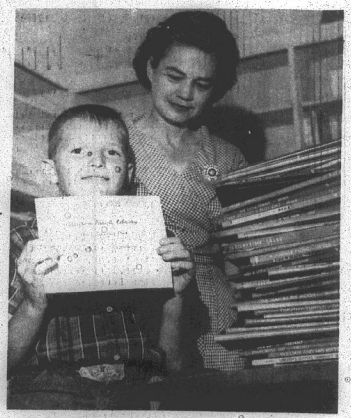
THE AMENDMENTS

Farm bureau asks support of No. 32

(EDITOR'S NOTE--This is the first of a series of editorials on the proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in November. The following article was written by Hadley Fontenot, Cameron County Agent.)



Constitutional amendment No. 32 provides for the exemption from state and local taxes all agricultural implements. Conway LeBleu, president of the Cameron Parish Farm Bureau and the board of directors have gone on record approving this amendment and are seeking it's full support by Cameron Parish voters.

Cameron Parish along with thirty other parishes do not assess farm equipment at the present time. It is contended, however, that unless an act is passed to safeguard the farmers from equipment taxation the loacal assessors may be forced to do so in years to come.

The present act only allows for $500 exemption which is antiquated considering the fact that todays mechanized farms have thousand of dollars invested in farm tools and machinery.

With today's situation of lower farm income and higher production cost it would spell reination to many farmers if they were forced to pay taxes on their equipment. It is also felt that the exemptions are in line with the theory of other tax exemption granted industries to encourage economic growth.

The local farm bureau would like to make it clear that the passage of Act 623, which is amendment No. 32 on the ballot, will not reduce local revenues. Voting on the proposed amendments will be done on the day of thegeneral election in November.

Post office sets new all time record

A new all-time high in the nation's mail volume was reached during fiscal year 1960 ended June 30, which continued the steady upward trend of the past seven years at a rate which even exceeds the population growth, according to advance information from the Annual Report of the Post Office Department which bas been made available to Postmaster Wagnor.

Although subject to last minute revisions, the year's total has been estimated as 63.6 billion pieces of mail which includes about one billion pieces of parcel post. It was stated that this would mean an increase of nearly 25 per cent over the corresponding figures for 1953 when the annual volume was 50.9 billion pieces.

Chevy Beautifies, Expands Lines for '61

Three for the road—here are three smart new Chevrolet passenger cars which will make their bow to the public on October 7. Left—One of the newcomers in the Corvair line . . . the Greenbrier Sports Wagon designed for multiple cargo jobs and outdoor living with seats that may be repositioned to accommodate many varied arrangements. Center—The sleek Impala Convertible with its soft, graceful body lines converging into an entirely new styling motif. Right—Another new model is the challenging Corvair Lakewood Station Wagon with rear-engine and second folding seat. Front and rear compartments combined give the Lakewood an unusual amount of cargo space.

Corvair blossoms out into 9 different models

Chevrolet's ingenious, rear-powered Corvair blossoms out as a full line of automobiles for 1961.

In addition to the three half-ton commercial cars previously announced, the company disclosed today that station and sports wagons will join the family at dealer showings of new models Friday, October 7.

Thus, the superior riding and performance qualities which the Corvair pioneered in the small car field a year ago will become available to a majority of all transportation requirements.

Here is the Corvair lineup for 1961:

Passenger cars -- Club coupes, four-door sedans and a new Lakewood Station Wagon in the "500" and "700" series plus the deluxe Monza Sport Coupe and the new Greenbrier Sports Wagons.

Commercial — Corvan, Rampside and Loadside trucks.

In appearance, the latest Corvair retains its lithe, symmetrical form. New styling touches and beautified interiors clearly distinguish the models as 1961's, but the low-slung, appealing profile remains unchanged.

Also untouched are the engineering fundamentals which have made the Corvair the most talked-about automobile in America. The flat, air-cooled engine and transmission-axle combination are continued at the rear. Compact body-frame integration lends its special staunchness to all models.

TO SUPPLEMENT the primary excellence of the Corvair features, however, several improvements have been adopted. Fuel economy especially benefits from the lower-numerical axle ratio and the new non-gas burning heater which will improve fuel economy even beyond the excellent miles per gallon now achieved. A hot air heater is now offered as optional equipment. Increased luggage capacity is made possible by moving the spare tire from under the hood to the engine compartment. A 14-gallon fuel tank is substituted for the former 11-gallon tank.

Although most chassis specifications are common throughout the line — all models carry a certain family relationship — structural differences distinguish newcomers from earlier body types.

The rear-engine mounting proves itself extremely suitable to the Lakewood Station Wagon, the Greenbrier Sports Wagon and the Corvan--the commercial panel van. The absence of a transmission tunnel provides cargo and passenger loading convenience impossible with the conventional small car.

The Greenbrier is a totally new forward control vehicle designed on a 95-inch wheelbase. The normal car hood has been eliminated. A full-width driver's seat mounts over the front wheels. The roomy body will accommodate two additional seats, positioned conventionally or facing each other.

For ready accessibility, the Greenbrier is equipped with six doors -- one on each side of the driver's compartment—and double doors at the curbside and at the rear. Side and rear doors open a full 180 degrees.

Nominally rated at 1,600-pound capacity, the Greenbrier's speedy conversion from a commercial to a pleasure vehicle recommends it to varied utility. As a bus, nine passengers and 250 pounds of luggage or six passengers and 700 pounds of luggage can be transported. With single, three-passenger seat, the cargo accommodation tot-

20 models offered in the 1961 line

The 1961 Chevrolets and Corvairs will be on display Friday, October 7, at Carter Chevrolet Company in Creole, it is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carter, owners.

Top seller of 1960 automobiles, Chevrolet promises to solidify its position in 1961 by significantly broadening its range of passenger cars, Mr. Carter stated.

Everyone in Cameron parish is invited to come by and see the new cars during the showing Friday and Saturday. There will be souvenirs for everyone, including Prince Matchabelli perfume, heavy duty yard sticks, dial ball-point pins, and plastic ball toss games.

Coffee and donuts will be served to visitors.

Scheduled for display at dealer showrooms Friday, are 20 freshly styled conventional models; nine Corvairs including new passenger and commercial models, and the spirited two-place Corvette.

Complete new body styling, which provides easier loading for both passengers and baggage and establishes new heights in motoring comfort and convenience, is featured in the regular line of passenger cars.

The entire body, from floor to roof and grille to rear bumper, is all new. Prime design emphasis has been placed on functionalism with thrift.

High on the list of advantages of the all-new body are:

1. Easier entrance to passenger compartments.

2. Large, more accessible luggage space, with the trunk loading level lowered as much as 10.5 inches.

3. Improved chair height and over-the-hood visibility which will increase the ease of parking and add to driving safety.

4. Other safety items include improved brakes, overlap electric windshield wipers, and a new placement for the fuel tank which protects it from road hazards such as hard bumps and flying stones.

Although the conventional cars are shorter, narrower and slightly lower, the interior roominess remains about the same or better than comparable 1960 models. Riding comfort is improved.

From a styling standpoint, the new models feature gentle curves and smooth lines and a generally cleaner and airier appearance from all angles.

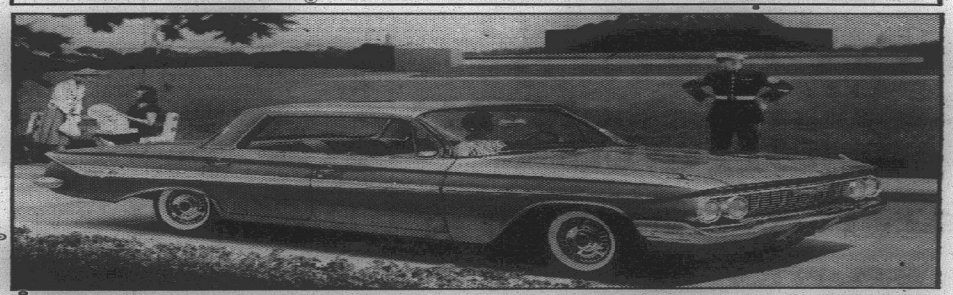
THE CORVAIR MODELS to be unveiled Friday also blossom out into a complete line of passenger and commercial vehicles. They includes:

Passenger cars -- Club coupes, four-door sedans and a new Lakewood Station Wagon in the "500" and "700" series, plus the deluxe Monza Sport Coupe and the new Greenbrier Sports Wagon.



Commercial -- Corvan, Rampside and Loadside trucks.

Basic mechanical features of the Corvair — the air-cooled engine, combination of transmission and axle at the rear, and frame-body integration -- are continued. So is the basic body styling, although exterior ornamentation provides a fresh appearance and the interiors are completely new.

As in 1960, the lineup in the conventional-size passen-

Sleek Impala One of 20 New Chevrolets

Designers have applied smooth, graceful lines to the '61 Chevrolet Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne passenger car lines. Wings on the rear deck have been smoothed into the body. Roof lines, as noted in the Impala Sport Sedan (above) are freshly contoured and are separately styled for each model. Overall body design features gently sloping lines. Rear trunk deck lid now opens flush with top of bumper affording easier loading and unloading. Fuel tank has been repositioned for greater safety. The Impala Sport Sedan is one of 20 body styles in the standard Chevrolet line.

"CORVAIR 95" TRUCKS INTRODUCED

New light-duty trucks have rear engine, short wheelbase

To meet a growing demand for lower cost, efficient transportation in the local delivery and service fields, Chevrolet has introduced the "Corvair 95" — a new series of short wheelbase, rear powered, light-duty trucks.

The new line is designed for maximum utility of cargo space and load capacity in relation to overall dimension and weight. With a 95-in. wheelbase and short overall length of less than 15 ft., it has a short turning radius and is highly maneuverable.

Comprising a panel delivery and two pickup models, the "Corvair 95" line incorporates innovations for easy loading and cargo accessibility. One of the pickup models has a unique, swing-down, side-loading ramp.

For economy of operation the new series is powered by the 80 hp. air-cooled Corvair six-cylinder engine and transaxle power unit mounted at the rear. Other features are unit-frame construction for rigidity and light weight, independent coil spring suspension at all four wheels, and almost equal load weight distribution between front and rear wheels for excellent handling and ride.

"With this new line, we are able to meet a wide range of needs by truck users for a light-duty vehicle that is more economical to operate, much easier to drive and park in congested city traffic or in close quarters, and is considerably easier to load. Yet it makes no compromise with cargo space or load capacity," states James E. Conlan, assistant general sales manager for Chevrolet trucks.

The Corvan panel delivery is 70 inches wide with an overall height of 68.5 inches. Cargo space is 191 cubic feet with a payload rating of 1800 pounds for a maximum gross vehicle weight of 4600 pounds. The load area is easily accessible from the driver's seat and through double doors on the right hand side of the vehicle and at the rear. Additional left hand doors also are available as an option. A crate as large as 4 feet by 4 feet may be loaded through the double side doors.

THE LOADSIDE AND Rampside pickup models are rated at 1900 pounds payload, and feature a grain-tight box of 80 cubic feet capacity, identical in length and width to the Corvan panel delivery, the pickup cabs are only 69 inches high. The pickup tailgate opening is 44.8 inches wide on both models while the ramp opening of the Rampside model is 47.5 inches.

Load floor height of Corvair 95 trucks at the side opening is less than 14 inches from the ground and rear door or tailgate loading height is only 26.5 inches. This reduced payload height also provides the vehicle a desirably low center of gravity for stability and safety. Step height at the front doors is only 17 inches for easy entry and exit.

Cab location at the extreme front of the vhicle affords superior visibility as well as good maneuverability. Benefits from rear engine location are a full width, flat cab floor and exceptionally good traction when the vehicle is empty or only partially loaded.

The horizontally-opposed, 145 cubic in., 80 horsepower, six-cylinder, air-cooled engine runs efficiently on regular grade gasoline. Access doors are provided for normal service and maintenance of engine components. For major servicing, the complete power package, including engine, transaxle and rear suspension, may be removed as a unit. Similarly, the entire front suspension may be removed as a unit with the front cross member.

A direct air heater which utilizes engine heat to provide warm air for the passenger compartment is available for the Corvair 95 trucks as either a factory or dealer installed option.

A removable, three-piece floor panel assembly is available for Corvair 95 pickup box. Capacity of the box with the level floor in place is 37 cu. ft. On Rampside models an additional storage compartment is provided beneath the auxiliary floor.

Gardening time is here again

By Hadley Fontenot
County Agent

If weeds instead of vegetables greet you at your garden gate, you can change this outlook very quickly, if not easily. It's time now to seed a number of vegetables:

Mustard, lettuce, turnips, carrots, beets, radishes, cabbage and onions are just a few which may be planted now. Onion seeds should be planted around the 1st. of October for transplanting later in December and January.

You will have better luck with a fall garden if you will clean out all old vegetables stalks and weeds instead of trying to bury them under. Moisture in the fall is usually short and burying a lot of vegetable matter will aggravate this condition.

Use one gallon of 8–8–8 or 1–12–4 per hundred feet of row for quick growth. Work this in when spading or place several inches deep so it will not interfere with germination.

The bee I see I do not mine;
Yet . . . with fear I hear a bee behind.

SHOW ON WORTH! CHEVROLET

NEW '61 CHEVY CORVAIR

More space . . .
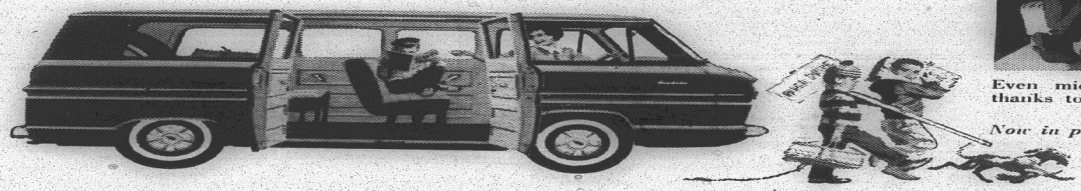
and wagons, too!



The newest car in America: the CORVAIR 700 LAKEWOOD 4-DOOR STATION WAGON.

CORVAIR 700 CLUB COUPE. Like all coupes and sedans, it has a longer range fuel tank.

CORVAIR 700 4-DOOR SEDAN. Provisions for heating ducts are built right into its Body by Fisher.

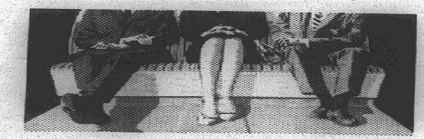
Here's the new Chevy Corvair for '61 with a complete line of complete thrift cars.



To start with, every Corvair has a budget-pleasing price tag. And Corvair goes on from there to save you even more. With extra miles per gallon . . . quicker-than-ever cold-start warmup so you start saving sooner . . . a new extra-cost optional heater that warms everyone evenly. Riding along with this extra economy: more room inside for you, more room up front for your luggage (sedans and coupes have almost 12% more usable trunk space).

And our new wagons? You'll love them—think they're the greatest thing for families since houses. The Lakewood Station Wagon does a man-sized job with cargo, up to 68 cubic feet of it. The Greenbrier Sports Wagon you're going to have to see—it gives you up to 175.5 cubic feet of space for you and your things.

Corvair's whole thrifty lineup gets its pep from a spunkier 145-cu.-in. air-cooled rear engine. Same rear-engine traction, same smooth 4-wheel independent-suspension ride. See the polished and refined 1961 Corvair first chance you get at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Spare tire is in the rear in coupes and sedans—leaving more luggage space up front.

Even middle-seat passengers sit pretty, thanks to Corvair's practically flat floor.

Now in production—the GREENBRIER SPORTS WAGON with up to twice as much room as ordinary wagons (third seat optional at extra cost).

Chevrolet's Corvette is only USA production sports car

Stepping out with a completely re-styled rear deck and rear quarters to effect a trimmer, fleeter appearance, the Chevrolet Corvette enters its eighth year as America's only production sports car.

For 1961, the sleek, two-passenger model also boasts several refinements which promise added convenience and owner satisfaction.

Among the improvements: A new underbody makes possible a 19 per cent reduction in transmission tunnel width.

New body-to-roof sealing for both hard tops and convertibles more efficiently insulates interiors.

An aluminum case for four speed transmissions. Weight of the unit is thus reduced 15 pounds.

A domed, heavy-duty piston an new cast-iron head for fuel injection engines, producing a compression ratio of 11 to 1.

Increased cooling capacity of the light-weight aluminum cross-flow radiators.

HERE! THE GREATEST

SIXTY-ONEDERFUL CHEVROLET

Here's the car that reads you loud and clear—the new-size, you-size '61 Chevrolet. We started out by trimming the outside size a bit (to give you extra inches of clearance for parking and maneuvering) but inside we left you a full measure of Chevy comfort. Door openings are as much as 6 inches wider to give feet, knees, and elbows the undisputed right of way. And the new easy-chair seats are as much as 14% higher—just right for seeing, just right for sitting.

Once you've settled inside you'll have high and wide praises for Chevrolet's spacious new dimensions (in the Sport Coupes, for example, head room has been upped as much as 2 inches, and there's more leg room, too—front and rear). Chevy's new trunk is something else that will please you hugely—what with its deep-well shape and bumper-level loading it holds things you've never been able to get in a trunk before.

Yet, generously endowed as this car is with spaciousness and clean-etched elegance, it holds steadfastly to all the thrifty, dependable virtues Chevrolet buyers have come to take for granted. Your dealer's the man to see for all the details.

There's never been a trunk like it before! The floor's recessed more than half a foot and the loading height is as much as 10½ inches lower.

". . . much better than other compacts that I have tried . . ."

"The roadability and handling qualities are excellent, much better than other compacts that I have tried in comparison. Being a veterinarian, driving on rural roads almost exclusively, I have had many occasions to use my Corvair in both mud and snow. With the engine in the rear, the traction is outstanding . . . The Corvair absorbs road shock and handles exceptionally well in a way that I thought was impossible in a car with a short wheel base.

"The gas mileage is also very pleasing to me. I am presently getting from 20 to 26 miles per gallon in driving consisting of short trips with many stops and starts at fairly high speeds."

". . . had the woman in mind . . ."

"I must tell you how pleased I am with my new Corvair. I am sure General Motors had the 'woman' in mind when they designed this car. The Corvair handles with such ease, and parking is no problem at all . . . The Corvair is indeed the ideal car for the 'busy, modern day mother.'"

"I have owned several big cars but none of them has given me the pleasure and satisfaction as my Corvair. I have over 11,000 miles on it. I recently made a trip of 6,742 miles. I averaged 25-2/10 miles per gallon of gasoline. The tires are still like new . . . If I owned two cars they would both be Corvairs."

Chevy adds Corvair Station Wagon

Chevrolet stylists adroitly meshed the requirements of a roomy and versatile vehicle with the crisp, smart design of the Corvair line and came up with this sparkling new Corvair Lakewood Station Wagon. The car with its air-cooled engine in the rear, folding seat and forward luggage compartment is readily adaptable to almost any job . . . commercial or pleasure. In addition to the Lakewood, Chevrolet added a sports wagon and three half-ton trucks to the Corvair line for '61.

Corvair

als 175 cubic feet.

THE LAKEWOOD Station Wagon which, like the Greenbrier, houses its six-cylinder engine under the flat luggage compartment floor, is built with the same airy superstructure that characterizes the larger 1961 Chevrolet Station Wagons.

The vehicle is approximately two inches higher than Corvair sedans and is equipped with four doors and a folding rear seat. Cargo space is surprisingly generous. With seat down, the enclosed load can reach nearly 6.5 feet in length. In total, the body adds 58 cubic feet of cargo capacity to the 10 cubic feet under the hood.

To aid operating economy, a manual choke replaces the former automatic. Recirculation of engine cooling air, more precise fuel metering and a lower rear axle ratio also furthers gas mileage. At the same time, torque has been boosted by increasing engine displacement to 145 cubic inches. Engines of 80 or 98 horsepower in specified models and three and four-speed manual shifts are available as well as an automatic transmission.

Listed among the optional items is a "perimeter hot air heater" which employs a mixing and blending chamber back of the rear seat and a blower to propel heat forward through ducts to the passenger compartment. Outlets are built near the floor, just forward of the front seat and beneath the rear seat. The gas-fired heater used in 1960 is also offered as an accessory.

ger cars will be offered in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series. But, they have been expanded to include an Impala two-door Sedan not previously available.

The station wagon series also has been expanded so that there is a choice of either six or nine-passenger accommodations in each of them -- the Nomad, Parkwood and Brookwood.

Reversal of the trend to longer, wider bodies also is noted in the fact that the new passenger cars are 1.5 inches shorter and 2.4 inches narrower. Overall length is 20.93 inches and overall width is 78.4 inches.

Distinctive design effects are achieved by matching exclusive roof contours of body types. Particularly noteworthy is the elimination of small, triangular windows at the rear of four-door sedans and station wagons. Also, the rear corner pillars of sport sedans have been widened to create a slightly hooded effect.

Things of beauty often shake up men who view them minus makeup.

WHY DO CHURCHES TRY SO HARD?

Publicity about Baptist revivals has attracted your attention. It has been a steady, hard-hitting emphasis. Visiting preachers. Everybody invited. Special prayer groups. Transportation for all who need it. So goes the news in papers, by radio on television, from billboards, in front of church houses, even on automobile bumper stickers.

Why all the extra effort to get people interested in churches and revivals? This involves a great deal of time, work, and money. Why do churches try so hard?

They have God's instructions. They can do no less. Paul said of himself that "I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God" (Ephesians 3:7). A church also is made to minister to people. It is one of God's means of extending his love to people.

It is necessary for churches to put forth great effort because people who make up churches are imperfect. In a grocery store a meat cutter said to a customer, "I got religion last week, and now I can't sin any more."

The customer quoted the Bible to prove him wrong. "If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, and the truth is not in us" (1 John 1:8).

Church members find it necessary to work hard for their own spiritual growth. A revival meeting is an effort to revive or bring fresh vigor and new life into the church itself.

Churches are concerned about the salvation of persons, and they try to get their attention, stir up their interest, attract them to worship God.

If a church is not concerned for people it can become like one church that had only two members left. They nailed up the doors and windows and agreed, "As long as we live we will meet here once a year and clean off the cemetery." No more worship. No more revivalship. No more work except more giving. No more fellowship. No more work except to once a year with a hoe scraping weeds from graves. Concerned only about dead people. The church quit work, and it died.

A true church of Jesus Christ is a living, working, power-filled force. It is anxious to reach out arms of love and understanding to all people. It tries desperately to convince every person of God's love. It knows that a person who tries "If to live without God is living without hope and is lost. That is why the church puts forth every effort to get people to accept salvation through Christ.

Fishing season ends on refuge

The 1960 fishing season on the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge will end on October 15. By regulations, the refuge is closed throughout the winter in order to protect waterfowl concentration in the area, according to Kent E. Myers, refuge manager.

All persons are cautioned against entering the refuge during the closed season. Closure of the refuge to public use included crabbing or fishing in the road-side canals and camping or picnicing on the highway right-of-way with the refuge boundaries.

Grand Bayou on the east side of the Calcasieu Lake is also closed to public use by this regulation.

All boats must be removed from the refuge by sun down October 15.

Miss Granger demonstrated the freezing of shrimp in water to form a solid pack in milk cartons. Her second demonstration was based on the planning of meals. Her third, the preparation of an inexpensive meat dish, was not completed due to power failure.

Coffee was served by Mrs. Jake White to Mesdames Gus Laurents, Curley Cormier, Mayo Cain, Roy Duhon, Edwin Ellender and to Miss Patsy Granger.

Tarpons tops Iowa 20-7

The South Cameron Tarpons won their first District 5-B football game and their second straight game smashing the Iowa Yellow Jackets 20-7 Friday night.

The other parish teams did not do as well. Grand Lake lost to West Lake 47-0, and Hackberry was downed 40-7 by Vinton.

The first intra-parish game will be played this Friday night, when South Cameron journeys to Hackberry. Grand Lake will also be playing away from home—at Merryville.

In the Iowa game, the Tarpons came from behind to catch and pass the Yellow Jackets in the second quarter. Terry Conner sprinted 14 yards and ran the extra point to wipe out a 7-6 Iowa lead.

Alvin Ray Mudd scored for South Cameron in the first quarter on an eight-yard run, and Melvin Boudreaux scored in the third on a six-yard run.

Hackberry's only score was made by Kenny Drost who received a 29-yard pass from Gary Sellers, which briefly gave the Mustangs a 7-0 lead. However, the Lions proved too powerful, and Hackberry was never able to get in scoring position for the rest of the game.

Grand Lake too was thoroughly outplayed by a strong Class A West Lake team. The Hornets got into Ram territory only three times, only to be turned back each time.

IF THE UTTER MASS of the constitution amendments published recently in the Pilot staggered you, don't feel bad --they're staggering to almost everyone else.

A little booklet that is doing a good job of bringing order out of chaos is the "Guide to the 1960 Constitutional Amendments" published by the Public Affairs Research Council. It gives a brief analysis of each of the 55 proposed amendments to aid voters reach their decisions.

If you would like a copy just write to PAR Box 2748, Baton Rouge and send 15 cents.

DID YOU KNOW that you are still paying a Confederate Veterans Tax--even though there are no confederate vets still living? That's the interesting little item that we learned in connection with the big discussion over the Toledo Ben Dam project.

Constitutional Amendment No. 8 would throw all undedicated revenues from this tax over to pay off the dam for the next ten years.

According to the Louisiana Tax Commission report, Cameron parish paid $12,100.66 in confederate veterans tax during 1959.

JUNE ROBICHAUX, the 1960 queen of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, has another invitation to participate in a state festival--the Plaquemines Orange Festival on Dec. 10 and 11. She has represented the festival at several other such functions already this year.

YOU MAY BE interested to know that the Hackberry Ramblers, which we mentioned in the 26-year-old item in our "Do You Remember" column, are still around and going strong--which should make them one of the oldest musical groups in this area.

The son of Luderin Darbone, leader of the band, dropped by our office and reported that the Ramblers play regularly each Saturday night at the Sulphur VFW. Two members of the original group -- Darbonne and Edwin Duhon-- are still with it.

J. B. JONES, Jr. has been named the Cameron parish "coordinator" for the Kennedy-Johnson campaign.

Hackberry high school will be presented in the queen's contest at the Calcasieu-Cameron fair in Sulphur next week by Linda Landry, left, and Catherine LeBlanc.

9-foot devilfish caught in trawl

By Mrs. Walter Stanley

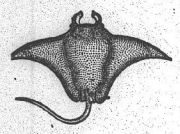
Holly Beach people are not accustomed to the whole cry, but the "there she blows" call came to mind Saturday when Louis Latiolais found his small horsepower boat insufficient to pull in his shrimp trawl.

He says everything from boat to trawl was aquiver and the boat was on the verge of sinking when he called Irvin Thibodeaux for help. Irvin hooked his jeep winch to the trawl from shore and hauled it in.

The "catch" turned out to be devilfish. At first no one knew what identity to give the monster. Mrs. Savoy Duhon of Kaplan gave it a name sounding like "monteray".

A frenzied look up through encyclopedia and dictionary referred to devilfish. The Latin name being Manta and belonging to the ray species.

The devilfish had a span of nine feet between the tips of its flaps. Its mouth measured about 24 inches. From mouth to tail it was 7 feet.



After everyone had viewed the curiosity Irvin towed it back to the beach.

SC Guidance Program In 2nd Year

Now entering its second year at South Cameron high school is a program which promises to have a lasting effect on the life of every student in the school.

This is the guidance program started last year when the school board hired A. B. Sibley as a guidance councelor for the school. Mr. Sibley, who was principal at Johnson Bayou high school, 1952-54, has a master's degree in guidance work, and is widely experienced in the field.

"The purpose of guidance," he says, "is to assist the individual student personally, vocationally and educationally in obtaining his maximum."

Most of last year's work was devoted to setting up a guidance folder on every child in school, with information on his parents, home, his aptitudes, etc. Each child was also asked to write an autobiography and teachers were asked to enter observations in the folders.

Each year the child is given an achievement test to discover his aptitudes and weakeness in such things as reading, mathematics and languages.

From such testing, Mr. Sibley says he has found that most of the students are strong in mechanics of English, but weak in reading comprehension.

A step has already been taken to relieve the latter condition: a remedial reading class of one hour a day has been set up, and although it is strictly elective, 26 high school students are taking it to learn how to read better.

Vocational guidance is a major part of the South Cameron program. Graduating seniors are given individual assistance in choosing colleges, jobs or military service.

Ten of 19 last year's seniors entered college, and more than half of this year's class of 33 are expected to go to college. Mr. Sibley was instrumental in aiding one of last year's seniors, John Watts, in securing a special $2,000 scholarship from L.S.U.

The guidance office has a complete occupational file from which a student may get information on almost any field he wishes to enter.

Something new this year will be the Career Day to be held at school at which representatives of various occupations will speak to the students.

The guidance program is being expanded, and the school board has plans to build a special guidance office at the school this summer.

A native of Springfield, La., Mr. Sibley received his B.A. degree from Southeastern and his Master of Education from L.S.U. He has had 12 post graduate hours of guidance work at L.S.U., and plans to attend Atlanta University the second semester this year to work on his PhD degree.

In addition to his teaching work, he has been a probation officer and a vocational rehabilitation councelor with the state department of Education.

A new concept in milk has been introduced in Cameron Parish by the Borden Company. The new milk, Borden's Hi-Protein, combines factors of high protein and low calorie content, while retaining the essential flavor of whole milk.

Unlike most skimmed or diet milks, the new milk contains all the nutritional value of whole milk--except for calorie content.

In connection with the introduction of the new milk, Borden's is making available two booklets on dieting and nutrition--"A New You" and "Is Yours A Weighty Problem".

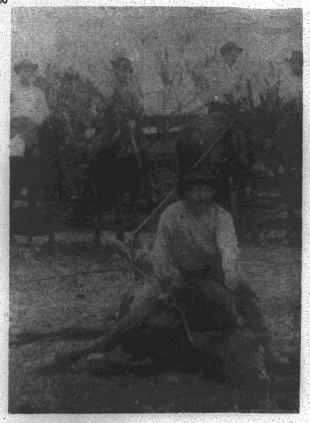
A PILOT EDITORIAL

Let's keep LSU out of politics



The Pilot can see no justification for constitutional amendment No. 1 which would increase the membership of the Louisiana State University Board of Supervisors from 15 to 20 members and reduce their terms of office from 14 to 9 years.

The argument for the passage of the amendment is that shorter terms and a ban on reappointment would keep a steady flow of new ideas necessary for the growth of the university.

Well, that may be--but the big danger is that the move would put LSU back into politics--something that almost ruined the university just a few years ago.

The present board as now set up has served the university and state well, and any change will endanger the independent status of the board.

We think a vote against Amendment Number One would be a wise move for everyone.

AN EARLIER DAY

Bulldogging hasn't changed much here

By Archie Hollister

Things haven't changed much in the cow-throwing business in the past fifty years after all as the above picture shows. True, one could hardly match the mustache, and suspenders are even scarcer than mustaches these days, but outside of that the picture could have been snapped last week.

Well, perhaps we should attempt to account for the jugs too. If they were whiskey jugs then you couldn't have found them last week--nobody buys whiskey by the gallon any more. And if they were tar jugs, then they would be replaced by a bomb spray. (Or should I have said "spray bomb?")

I am not able to identify the four men on the horses, and even if I knew, I don't think I would reveal the information just now. You'll have a lot more fun guessing at the identities.

But just to give you a clue to work on, I'll name the man who is sitting so composedly on the critter lying full-length on the ground. He is Ike Bonsall, brother of Jim Bonsall of Grand Chenier, and I understand that at present he is living in or around Vinton, Louisiana.

BAYOU BROWSING

By Grits Gresham

A PLACE TO HUNT is no problem for people living out west, since such a tremendous percentage of the land in most western states is in public ownership--national forests, Indian reservations (many of which are open to hunting), and lands of the Bureau of Land Management.

That is not true in the South however, and a place to hunt has been a real problem for most gunners in this section of the country. But that situation is improving, particularly with respect to forest game. Louisiana has more large landowners (50,000 acres or more) than any other state. Most of these are in the timber business, and more and more are opening their lands to hunters. Many have never closed them.

Take a look at some of the companies and the acreage they have in our state which is open for your hunting pleasure: there's International Paper Company, with 344,000 acres; T. L. James & Company, 135,000 acres; Crosby Chemical Company, 146,000 acres; and there are many others. A. J. Hodges Industries, Southern Advance, Gaylord Container Corp., and Olin Mathieson have large tracts. Seven companies in the southwestern part of the state got together and opened 250,000 acres to hunting at one time last year.

More are following suit. The Roy O. Martin Lumber Company just recently opened its 300,000 acres, and the Arkansas Fuel Oil company changed the signs on their lands from "No Trespassing" to "Hunting Permitted".

The network of game management areas and public shooting areas of the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission are really paying off, and more of these are in the making. The Commission recently completed a 10-year, no-fee, lease agreement with the Chicago Mill and Lumber Company for 115,000 acres of choice wildlife land in Tensas, Madison, Franklin, and East Carroll parishes. It will be open for a short deer season this year.

Then there's the half million acres of the Kisatchie National Forest, where more interest and effort is now being placed on recreational facilities and wildlife.

More public shooting

CAMERON PARISH OFFICIAL JOURNAL

AROUND THE CAPITOL

BATON ROUGE--A national magazine has assigned a Louisiana writer to do an article which, if it appears as written, will make this state do some thinking and maybe a little cringing.

The piece is on welfare programs and what they have done to a large segment of the state's people, and the picture isn't pretty.

This is no armchair discussion. The writer has been out working, painstakingly putting bits of information together and documenting his study with cases he is prepared to defend in court.

The general idea is that some phases of the welfare program have destroyed reason or desire of a lot of people to work, and in some cases have helped promote immorality and actual racketeering.

And he cites typical cases to prove his point.

There will, of course, be a number of actual cases in which mothers of a large number of actual cases in numbers of illegitimate children are drawing substantial monthly checks and using only a tiny fraction of them to take care of those children.

How the man got some of his information isn't clear, but the fact remains that he has tabulations on the number of welfare checks that were cashed at liquor stores, for instance.

Specific instances include the woman who, he reports, actually sent to Texas to get an additional chid, and thereby hiked her monthly check.

The story to begin with was just an assignment. As he got into it, however, the writer began reacting to it in words that he was not able to use for a family magazine.

The article is not, as might be expected, written along segregationist lines. The writer lays the blame for the situation on Louisiana voters in general, for some of the people they put in office--including congressmen.

The writer is attempting to wind up the article this month, but keeps running into more material. Right now, for instance, he is investigating reports that owners of some small businesses are making a lucrative racket out of welfare.

The story he is checking is that the owner of a small grocery store, for instance, will promise families to "get them on welfare"--if they will trade at his store.

That "trading" includes cashing welfare checks, for which a fee is charged. It also includes making virtually every purchase at that store regardless of prices.

Whether such people actually have any influence is one point on which he has not reached a conclusion. But his studies indicate no doubt that the racket works.

This particular author usually writes articles about a completely different and far more pleasant field, and took his current assignment for a simple reason--to earn money.

As of right now, however, he has gotten so wound up on the subject that he probably would contribute it to just about any publication in which he thought it would be widely read!

Morris L. East in European exercise

Army Specialist Four Morris L. East, 22 son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. East, Gackberry, participated with other personnel from the 29th Transportation Battalion in Operation Flash Back in Europe. The 12-day exercise ended Sept. 30.

The exercise tested the efficiency of Seventh U. S. Army Support Command units under actual field conditions, and involved NATO land, sea and air forces.

East, a light-truck driver in the battalion's 547th Company in Boblingen, Germany, entered the Army in September 1955 and arrived overseas on this tour of duty in May 1960. He attended Hackberry High School.

Cameron TELEPHONE COMPANY

Really Now! Isn't That A Ridiculous Question?

You bet! Millions of Americans would rightfully resent being called "Mr. or Mrs. FHA or VA." just because they financed their homes through these federal agencies.

Yet, by some strange twist of logic (so carefully sold to the public) member-owned Electric Co-ops are constantly referred to as "REA" or federal agencies . . because they, too, borrow federal funds to build desperately needed electric lines to serve rural folks.

Just like FHA or VA-financed home-owners and the 20 Commercial Companies in Louisiana who also borrow REA funds, the 13 Electric Co-ops repay the REA loans on strict schedules, plus interest. And, the non-profit cooperatives are doing an indispensible job nobody else can do for ALL rural people at rates ALL can afford. . .a job vital to Louisiana's development and continued progress in Town and Country.

Yes, the "REA" or "federal agency" tag is just as ridiculous as calling an FHA-financed neighbor, "Mr. FHA." Electric Co-ops are private businesses, owned and operated by thousands of your rural friends and neighbors.

Road group to meet in Texas

A meeting of the Hug-the-Coast association, which is trying to get route between New Orleans and Brownsville taken into the Federal highway system as a part of U. S. Hwy. 11, will be held in Port Lavaca, Texas next Wednesday.

Joe Doxey, Cameron police jury secretary, said he and one or two other local leaders are planning to attend the meeting.

He said that if the plan is approved, the highway which runs from Grand Chenier along the coast to Johnson Bayou in Cameron parish would become a part of the federal highway system.

Annual audit of sheriff's salary fund published

Elsewhere in this issue of the PILOT is the annual audit report on the expenditures of the sheriff's salary fund for Cameron parish for the year endid June 30, 1960, as audited by J. B. Lancaster, state supervisor of pubic funds.

The fund totaled $114,318.35 for that period. A breakdown on this expenditure may be found in the legal notice.

Coastal road endorsed by commissioners

The Jefferson County (Texas) commissioners court Monday endorsed the efforts of the Hug-the-Coast Highway Association to have the coastal route between New Orleans and Brownsville designated as an extension of Federal Highway 11.

The coastal road runs the length of lower Cameron parish between Grand Chenier and the Sabine Lake causeway.

If approved by the federal government the route, now in the state highway system, would be taken over by the federal government.

Grand Lake drops football program

Principal Carter thanked the parents and supporters of the school for their support of the football team. He said that the endebtedness of the football program was not great and would be taken care of. The football uniforms will be stored for future use.

In the meantime, Grand Lake boys will still get to play some football--in the physical education program.

Grand Lake high school has discontinued its football program and forfeited the remaining four games of the 1960 schedule, Principal George Carter announced this week.

"We feel that we just don't have enough boys with which to carry on," Carter said. "We will drop out of football for two years, and then if conditions warrant it, the school might resume the program."

Grand Lake has only 36 boys enrolled in high school and was one of the smallest schools in the state with a football program, Carter said that the number of boys in lower grade classes were substantially larger and that in a year or two, the high school enrollment of boys may pick up enough to enable the school to field a team again.

Principal Carter said he advised the principals of Iowa, South Cameron, Hackberry and Gillis that the Hornets were forfeiting the scheduled games with these teams.

In lieu of football, Grand Lake will concentrate on basketball and track, two sports in which a small school can compete on a more equal footage with larger schools.

In fact, Grand Lake has made an excellent showing in these sports in recent years. Last year the Hornets won the district Class B, track championship and was third in the state.

The previous year the school was second in district basketball and last year was fourth.

Coach Billy Ray Harper announced that the Grand Lake basketball team will start working out this coming Monday.

Grand Lake lost its homecoming football game last Thursday night to Elton, and was held scoreless by Merryville, Westlake and Kinder in other games this season.

The school won only two games last year.

Cameron ferry to be closed Monday night

The Cameron ferry will be closed to traffic from 7 p.m., Monday evening to 5 a.m., Tuesday morning next week so that one of the engines may be repaired, the state highway department has announced.

Motorists should take note of this closure so that it will not interfer with their plans.

The Cameron Lions Club recently passed a resolution directed to the highway department pointing out that a dangerous situation existed becasue one of the engines cannot be restarted immediately after it stops. The club said there was the possibility that the ferry might drift out into the Gulf if the engine were to go out in mid-stream.

EDITORIAL

Let's keep the wildlife board

Probably no other parish in Louisiana has a greater interest in wildlife than Cameron, what with our vast marshes, fur industry, wintering grounds for millions of waterfowls, and menhaden and shrimping industries.

For this reason, our parish has a special interest in Amendment No. 2 to be voted on in the November general election. This is the amendment, which if passed, would abolish the present wild life and fisheries commission.

Created in 1952, this seven member board was given the authority to manage and protect the fish and wildlife resources of the state. It appoints its own wildlife commissioner and adopts all rules and regulations pertaining to hunting and trapping seasons and protection of wildlife.

That it has done a good job is evident by the fact that practically every wildlife organization in the state has gone on record urging that the commission be retained in its present form. And in 1956 when a similar amendment was offered to the voters, it was defeated by better than 76 percent of the votes.

Here in Cameron parish we are fortunate to have a member on the wildlife board--John Paul Crain of Grand Chenier. Although he was just appointed several months ago, he has already accomplished a number of things for the parish and the coastal area. His work, and the work of the other conscientious commission members, would be hamstrung if this amendment passes.

The effects of the passage of the amendment would be to put more power into the hands of the governor.

We can see no reason what so ever to tamper with a board that is functioning efficiently as it is. The Pilot suggests that we give the wildlife commission a vote of confidence by voting AGAINST No. 2 in November.

AROUND THE CAPITOL

How will Louisiana vote?

BATON ROUGE--Presidential voting time is near enough to start looking backwards for a clue, if any, to this year's results.

Practically everybody remembers that Louisiana went Republican in 1956, along with neighboring Texas. Only seven states went Democratic. The Pelican State voted 329, 047 for Eisenhower to 243,977 for Stevenson. A few may remember that there were 44,520 Louisiana votes for Andrews, the States Rights candidate.

In 1952, only nine states went Democratic, and Louisiana was one, by a small margin: 345,027 for Stevenson, 306,925 for Eisenhower.

The picture was more complicated in 1948, in which Truman nosed out Dewey with a last-minute surge that caught most pollsters napping. A majority of states went Democratic, but Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, South Carolina and some of Tennessee went for States Rights Candidate Thurmond. He got 204,290 Louisiana votes, to 136,344 for Truman, 72,657 for Dewey and 3,035 for Wallace, the "Progressive."

In 1944, of course, Louisiana went along with 35 other states, and gave Roosevelt 281,564 votes to 67,750 for Dewey.

That's Pelican State political performance in recent years. The "trend," if any, escapes this writer; unless it is one of a definite degree of independence.

For those who like further background, here is the Louisiana presidential vote since 1900:

1900--Bryan (D) 53,671; McKinely (R) 14,233
1904--Parker (D) 47,708; Roosevelt (R) 5,205; Debs (S) 995
1908--Bryan (D) 63,568; Taft (R) 8,958; Debs (S) 2,538
1912--Wilson (D) 60,971; Taft (R) 3,834; Roosevelt (P) 9,323; Debs (S) 5,249.
1916--Wilson (D) 79,875; Hughes (R) 6,466; Roosevelt (P) 6,349; Benson (S) 292.
1920--Cox (D) 87,519; Harding (R) 38,538.
1924--Davis (D) 93,218; Coolidge (R) 24,670; LaFollette (P) 4,063
1928--Smith (D) 164,655; Hoover (R) 51,160
1932--Roosevelt (D) 249,418; Hoover (R) 18,863
1936--Roosevelt (D) 292,894; Landon (R) 36,791
1940--Roosevelt (D) 319,751; Willkie (R) 52,446
1944--Roosevelt (D) 281,564; Dewey (R) 67,750
1948--Thurmond (SR) 204,290; Truman (D) 136,344; Dewey (R) 72,657; Wallace (P) 3,035
1952--Stevenson (D) 345,027; Eisenhower (R) 309,925
1956--Eisenhower (R) 329,047; Stevenson (D) 243,977; Andrews (SR) 44,520

In the last few years, of course, there has been increasing interest in candidates for vice president. Earlier ones are easily forgotten. Here are some reminders:

Sparkman and then Kefauver with Stevenson, Bricker and then Warren with Dewey, McNary with Willkie, Knox with Landon, Curtis twice with Hoover, and Robinson with Al Smith.

But Who, in 1948, ran for vice president with Strom Thurmond? He got more than 200,000 Louisiana votes. He was from a neighboring state. Give up? Former Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi.

AN EARLIER DAY

More on origins of Louisiana words

By ARCHIE HOLLISTER

LAGNIAPPE: a small gift a merchant makes to a customer; something extra, or thrown in for good measure. It is a combination of the French article "la" and the Spanish "napa." The Spanish adopted napa from the Kechuan Indians of Peru. In the Kechuan tongue the word is "yapa", but the Spanish apparently were either unwilling or unable to reproduce the sound which the Indians gave it. The meaning of yapa is identical with that of lagniappe.

MAIS: Indian corn. This is a crop native to the Americas, and it was unknown to the people of Western Europe. The Taino Indians of the West Indies used the word "mahiz" when referring to the plant, and the Spanish, who were the first Europeans to make the acquaintance of Indian corn adopted the Indian word and rendered it as "maiz." Other European nations followed their lead. To the French, both here and in France, it is mais; the English have it maize, and the Germans mais.

CURAGAN: hurricane. The Spanish took the word "huracan" from the Tainos also. Hurokan was the name these Indians gave to their storm god.

PATATE: potato. This is another native American plant. The Spanish, who had never seen a potato before, found the Indians of Haiti growing them, and along with the plant, acquired the Haitian name. The Indians there called it "batata", and the Spaniard, coming as close to the original as he could, called it patata. The French managed to turn it into patate, and the English could do no better than potato.

PIROGUE: a dug-out. This is a native word also. The Caribs had "piragua," and the Spaniards, more adept this time, got the word right; it is listed in Spanish dictionaries as piragua. The French took the word from the Spanish, and following the laws of their own language, turned it into pirogue. The English, for once, ook the French spelling and prounciation over without change.

RACACHA: large spur rowels. The Quechuans used the word "rakacha" for a sandburr; the Spanish turned it into aracacha, and extended the meaning to include most burrs and prickly objects. Naturally a spur rowel would fit into this category. The French took it over from the Spanish and again extended the significance of the word; it was now now not only a rowel, but a particularly large one. The term was at times applied to a person or animal showing high spirits and might be used to describe an outlaw horse, especially if nature had failed to equip the creature with the normal amount of intelligence.

Woman to psychiatrist: I'm always forgetting things.
DOCTOR: What can I do?
Psychiatrist: Pay me in advance.

Hunters are reminded of restrictions

Waterfowl hunters are reminded by Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior officials that the practice of completely field dressing ducks and geese is not permitted. The head, head plumage, and feet must remain attached for identifications purposes while the birds are being transported from the place where taken to the personal abode of the hunter or to a commercial preservation facility.

There is also a prohibition against possession any live migratory game birds taken by hunting. Any wounded migratory game bird reduced to possession by the hunter must immediately be killed and shall become a part of the hunter's daily bag.

A crossbow may not be used in hunting migratory game birds this year but a longbow may be used. The prohibition against snares, traps, rifles, swivel guns, and machine guns continues.

Previous regulations specifically required that the one-piece filler used to plug the magazine of repeating shotgun must be of wood or metal. The amended regualtion permits the use of a one-piece filler made from any material. Any gun so plugged must be capable of holding no more than three shells in the magazine and chamber combined and the plug must be inserted so that it cannot be removed without disassembling the gun.

That section of the regulations which limited hunters to the out-of-State shipment of only one possession limit in any one calendar week has been revoked. Hunters may now ship their legal possession limit out-of-State as often as desired.

Two publications are being issued by the Department of the Interior relative to the "dos and don't" of migratory game bird hunting. One of these is the official Regulations for 1960-1961. The other is a Digest of the regulations which will give the hunter the main facts he should know about the waterfowl hunting regulations. The Digest will be as correct as an abbreviated publication can be but is not to be considered an "official" document.

Army PFC Presley J. Hebert, son of Mrs. Lena R. Hebert of Cameron, recently participated with other personnel from the 1st Cavalry Division in Exercise Trooper Turnout II, a three-day field problem in Korea.

TOLEDO BEND
A Gamble at Best!

WHAT CAN WE WIN?
Only another recreation area with questionable economic advantage for the affected parishes and Louisiana — a dam that won't be used for flood control — and power that is not needed. Why should Louisiana get into the power business?

THIS IS WHAT WE LOSE:
FIRST, we lose 4 million dollars annually in cold cash from the harvest and manufacture of 25,000,000 board feet of lumber and 22,000 cords of pulpwood. At least 300 industrial jobs will be eliminated.
SECOND, we lose ANY chance of getting a paper mill in the Toledo Bend area because the lake will block all stream flow to the Sabine River. No pulp and paper mill can exist without efficient waste disposal! A lake of 3,000 acres would satisfy fresh water requirements of an average size pulp mill. With planned valley development, we can have industry and recreation!

4-H committee has meeting

The Cameron parish 4-H club executive committee met Monday morning at the Cameron school board office to plan the year's activities and elect new officers.

Officers named were: Loretta Devall, Hackberry, president; Ora Lee Broussard, South Cameron, vice-president; Sylvia Young, Grand Lake secretary; Putty Reeves, Hackberry, treasurer; and Bobby Doland, South Cameron, reporter.

A new rotation plan for Achievement Day was set up so as not to conflict with F.H.A. Day. Achievement Day will be held this year at Grand Lake, next year at South Cameron and the following year at Hackberry.

The same coint system will be used for Achievement Day this year as in the past--15 points for first places, 10 for seconds, and 5 for thirds. In the group contests, first place will get 25 points, second 15 and third 10.

Two new projects will be added to Achievement Day--health and good grooming--Assistant County Agent Clifford Meyers told the Committee. In the health contest, contestants will be judged with a written test and with a physical examination by a qualified person.

In the good grooming contest, boys and girls are to wear school clothes and will be judged on poise, personality, costume, posture and record book.

Another new contest added to the 4-H program is the rice cooking demonstration. The seniors will hold their before Achievement Day, so the winner may go to the state contest in Crowley, while the juniors will have theirs during Achievement Day.

Richard Broussard, last year's vice-president, presided at the meeting. Wanda Breaux led the 4-H pledge and Gwendolyn McRight, the Pledge of Allegiance.

Loretta Devall reported that the treasury had a balance of $180.98 in the bank, and Marie Lannin read the minutes of last year's meeting.

Mr. Meyers stated that the dues this year is 15 cents per club member.

GRAND CHENIER NEWS

New cars, new camps on chenier

By ELORA MONTIE

The two new vehicles on the Chenier this week are a new Ford station wagon purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cohen. and a new Mercury belonging to Joe Canik.

Drozan Miller and Severin Miller were two busy men along with help this week plowing up their ridge land and planting grass for cattle range this winter.

Prevate Miller, Dallas Brasseaux and Arnold Jones were busy this past two weeks preparing for winter hunting. They hauled a house, which Prevate Miller had near his home to the east end of Grand Chenier on the highway to Pecan Island, which is called the Rhodare. Dallas and Arnold have been busy making necessary repairs on the house. They will spend much of their spare time this winter camping out in their comfortable camp home along with many friends who will join them.

Marvin Richard of Grand Chenier is still improving his place he purchased last year and moved to a new location near the John Paul Crain place. Mr. Richard is also building a large barn to the north of his home.

Tarpons to meet Vinton

The South Cameron Tarpons, who were knocked from the district unbeaten ranks by Merryville last week, will take on another District 5-H foe this Friday, the Vinton Lions, at the South Cameron homecoming.

Vinton, formerly a Class A school, is playing in the "B" division this year. Coach Robert Manuel says he expects a good, hard game. Vinton has lost three games this year, but two of these were to district leaders Oberlin and Merryville.

Three of the Tarpon players, have been out for the last two games because of ers, out for the last two games because of injuries, are expected to see action Friday. They are Buddy Skidmore, Roger Richard and Earl Cheramie.

The loss to Merryville last week puts South Cameron in third place in district standing with a 2-1 record. Oberlin is first with 4-0, with Merryville right behind with a 3-0 slate.

Terry Conner made South Cameron's only score last week on a five yard run. Alvin Mudd picked up the extra point on a run.

Hunters are getting ready

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

The approach of hunting season is very much in evidence. Loads of roseau canes are seen daily as hunters prepare blinds. Hunting caps are also back in style. Those in the hunting business say marshes are in good shape and in some places there are many ducks. Each cool wave seems to stir up anticipation vigorously.

Other activities here this week are the Erbelding cattle being moved to winter range, heavy dirt hauling equipment being moved out from the T. L. James road job and an oil rig moving in on Johnson Bayou.

Shrimping was curtailed Tuesday due to a rough Gulf. When water is calm there are many tries but not much success.

Since rice harvest is over in the more eastern parishes, many farmers are spending several days at their camps.

Cameron Pilot

5TH YEAR--NO. 4 | FRIDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1960 | 10¢ A COPY

Digest given of 55 amendments

As a service to our readers, the Pilot this week and next will carry a digest of the 55 proposed constitutional amendments to be voted on in the Nov. 8 general election.

Since the ballot is so lengthy this time, each voter is urged to study these amendments and make his decision on each before going to the polls. The Pilot will carry a convenient check list next week which may be used in checking off the amendments for which you wish to vote for or against.

The following digest was prepared by the Public Affairs Research Council of Louisiana, a non-political government research group which is dedicated to the purpose of keeping Louisianans better informed on their government:

1. Membership of the LSU Board of Supervisors would be increased from 15, including the governor as an ex-officio member, to 20. Terms would be cut from 14 to 9 years. One person would have to be appointed from each congressional district. No member serving five years or more would be eligible for re-appointment.

This proposal is offered in response to criticisms that the LSU Baord has been too much under the control of long time appointees from around Baton Rouge. It is opposed on the ground that the present system of board appointments, which has freed LSU from political control to the advantage of the University, should not be altered.

2. The present board governing the Department of Wild Life and Fisheries would be abolished. An advisory board, created by statute, would replace it.

The issue is whether the interests of wild life and fisheries would be better served by a board authorized in the constitution or by an administrative head appointed by the governor serving with an advisory board.

3. Abolition of the present constitutional authority for the Board of Highways is proposed. A new board, created by statute, and largely serving as an advisory board would be instituted.

The present highway board was established, along with several others, to place control of major spending agencies in the hands of a citizen board with extensive powers under the constitution and with its membership presumed to be beyond political control. Under successive administrations, members of these boards have been addressed out of office and new appointments made by new governors to maintain control.

4. Elimination of the Board of Institutions from the constitution is proposed. An advisory board, created by statute, would be substituted.

Comments on the purposes and political immunity made on the highway board apply in this case.

5. Abolition of the present constitutional Board of Public Welfare is proposed. It would be replaced by a statutory board with administrative and policy making decisions.

Comments on the purposes and political immunity of this board are the same as for the highway board.

6. Establishment of the Commissioner of Insurance as a constitutionally elective officer is proposed.

The insurance commissioner is presently elected under statutory authorization.

7. Establishment of the Custodian of Voting Machines as a constitutionally elective officer is proposed.

The voting machine custodian is now elected under statutory authorization.

8. Construction of a dam in the Sabine River at Toledo Bend is proposed with the Louisiana state government to supply $15 million to be matched by a like sum from Texas. Cost of the dam is estimated at $55 million. Revenue bonds would be issued to make up the difference between state funds and total cost.

There is present statutory authority to issue revenue bonds up to $50 million to build this dam. The amendment would provide for some state financing.

The dam is proposed as a means of water conservation, for recreational, hydro-electric power generation, and industrial use. It would create a lake of about 181,000 acres. Opponents say it would have questionable value for recreation, if used for industrial purposes, would remove valuable timber land from production, and involves a dedication of state funds to the department of public works of $20 million above the dam allocation.

9. New qualifications for voters would be established which would ban voting for five years for persons twice convicted and sentenced up to 90 days for misdemeanors, for living in a common law union, or becoming parents of an illegitimate child. It would not authorize future registration of illiterates.

The purpose is to place new moral qualifications for voting and to establish literacy standards which would require a person to read and write.

10. Parishes would be authorized to set up charter commissions to draft provisions for a commission form of parish government, if so desired by the voters of the parish. Petitions signed by 15 per cent of the voters could initiate work on a charter commission, or police juries could authorize the commissions. Commissioners under this form of government would be elected on a parishwide basis, if the plan is approved by voters.

Present statutory law authorizes parishes to adopt a commission form of government if desired by the people.

11. A halt to the functions of any tax-supported facility, other than schools, would be required if the facility should be ordered to operate on an integrated basis. Taxes would continue to be levied only for repayment of bonds outstanding.

This is an amendment designed primarily for halting operation of recreational facilities, if ordered to be integrated.

12. Taxes would be eliminated on goods stored in public facilities which are awaiting export from this country or which have been imported.

The purpose of this amendment is to clarify a situation arising from a court decision holding that when raw materials are stockpiled in a warehouse they have entered the manufacturing process and are subject to property taxes. Such taxes have not been imposed in the past in Louisiana, and proponents say the imposition of taxes would hurt the state's international trade. Such taxes are not levied at competing ports of Mobile, Houston, and others.

13. A companion proposal to No. 12 is offered which would exempt from property taxes goods held in Louisiana for shipment to another state.

The purpose is to aid the foreign trade flowing through the state.

14. Parish residence requirements for voting would be cut from one year to six months.

This is proposed to make it easier for persons to vote who have moved from one parish in the state to another and who would be otherwise qualified to vote.

May was an employe of the contracting division of the J. R. McDermott company. Location of the rig was given as West Cameron Block "A".

His body was brought to the Cameron docks by a Coast Guard Cutter and taken by O'Donnel funeral home of Creole to Houma.

LOUISIANA Did it Before We Must Do It Again

Although some politicians endorse Kennedy or Nixon, they are frank enough to say they don't endorse their platforms. But, both Kennedy and Nixon have pledged to carry out their platforms for total integration of our schools and all community life.

What will we do about it?

In 1876, during reconstruction, when the people of the South were being persecuted and Louisiana was governed by Carpetbaggers and negroes under federal military domination, neither candidate for President, Hayes or Tilden, had a majority of electoral votes. So, independent electors from Louisiana and two other Southern states traded their electoral votes, elected Hayes President, and saved the South from further persecution. That ended Carpetbag rule in Louisiana and the South. The situation today is the same with federal forced racial integration and the threat of military power lurking in the background as advocated by both Kennedy and Nixon platforms.

Louisiana did it before.
We can do it again.

Both Nixon and Kennedy admit the election is close.

The only way we can get protection against Total Integration, Unlawful Sit-Ins, F.E.P.C., or Federal Employment Commission Domination of Labor and Business, is to elect Unpledged Electors, who can bargain to save your liberty and freedom.

Amendment No. 11. To Close Integrated Facilities

For six years, this Committee has vigorously and successfully helped Louisiana maintain SEGREGATION in all phases of community life.

Your legislature has done its part in submitting these amendments. Now it's up to the voters to do their part and vote FOR AMENDMENTS 9, 10, AND 11.

Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of the lease. Payment of any delay rental shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the State's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the State Mineral Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board.

Certified check, payable to REGISTER, STATE LAND OFFICE, for the full amount of the cash bonus must be submitted and be deposited with each bid. Any bid upon which the check thereafter is dishonored or cancelled and the cash bonus thus deposited shall be forfeited to the State by the successful bidder in the event said bidder does not enter into lease contract within TWENTY (20) DAYS AFTER THE WRITTEN LEASE IS SUBMITTED TO HIM FOR EXECUTION.

NOTE: In the case of all State Agency Lands, above offered, certified checks for the cash bonus shall be made payable to each respective State Agency. Any Amendment, Assignment or Agreement entered into after the State Mineral Board has awarded such lease on behalf of the Agency must be approved by the Lessor Agency.

The State Mineral Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to grant a lease on any portion of the tracts advertised for a price not less than proportionate to the best bid offered for the lease on the entire tract.

5TH YEAR-- NO. 5 | FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1960 | 10¢ A COPY

BIG BALLOT FACES VOTERS

The average Cameron parish voter may be tempted to throw up his hands in dismay when he steps into the voting machine to cast his ballot in the general election next Tuesday.

For facing him will be the names of 30 presidential electors, 6 state and district candidates, 1 local candidate (if he lives in Ward 2 or 6) and a listing of 55 proposed constitutional amendments--a total of 92 candidates and proposals in all.

Actually voting for the presidential candidates will be very simple. A voter may vote a straight Democratic, Republican or States' Rights ticket by merely "stamping the Rooster" (Democrats); "Elephant", (Republican) or "Statue of Liberty", (States Rights). By pulling the lever at the top of these respective columns, the voter automatically votes for all of the electors of his particular candidate.

By "stamping the Rooster", a voter will automatically vote for both the national and the state, district and local candidates. (The only state Democratic candidate with opposition is Senator Allen J. Ellender, who is opposed by Republican George W. Reese, Jr.)

But should a voter wish to split his ballot by voting for the Republican or States Rights candidates and state and local Democratic candidates, he will have to pull down the lever by each individual elector and each individual state and local candidate.

Voting on the 55 constitutional amendments is another matter. Each of these must be voted on separately, although the voter is not required to vote on all of them if he does not wish.

THE POLLS WILL open at 6 a.m. throughout the parish and close at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Total registered voters in the parish are 3259, of which 5 are Republicans.

A list of the polling places and voting commissioners is to be found elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

Some 22 persons had cast absentee ballots, and 5 military ballots had been received by the clerk of court's office.

Eugenia Marie Montie

Eugena Marie Montie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam Montie of Port Arthur, is a cheerleader and homecoming princess for St. James Catholic School in Port Arthur. The Monties are former residents of Grand Chenier.

Digest of rest of amendments

The Pilot this week is publishing the remainder of the PAR digest on the 55 constitutional amendments to be voted on in the state next Tuesday.

This digest was prepared by the Public Affairs Research Council, a non-political fact-finding organization, which takes no stand on any of the amendments.

The Pilot suggests that voters study this digest closely, then mark their choice on the check list on this page. By taking this list with them to the polls, they will be able to speed up their voting considerably.

15. The present law prohibiting appointment of registrars of voters to another public office within a year after leaving their position would be repealed.

One purpose is to permit the appointment of a registrar to another office if he should be removed as registrar because of some federal court order.

16. Write-in candidates would be required by this proposal to notify court clerks of their intention to run and to do so within 10 days after a second primary election.

The purpose of this amendment is to give candidates a chance to learn well in advance of a general election just what opposition they might have. Present law does not require a write-in candidate to announce until 10 days before the election.

17. Membership in the Louisiana House of Representatives would be increased to 105 by this proposal through addition of two members for East Baton Rouge Parish and two for Jefferson Parish.

The purpose of this amendment is to give the two most under-represented parishes of the state more equitable representation in the Legislature.

18. A district would be created in St. Bernard Parish to operate port facilities along the proposed new ship channel from New Orleans to the Gulf.

The purpose is to give St. Bernard Parish an opportunity to participate in port development along the new channel.

19. The present language of the state constitution prohibiting governors running to succeed themselves in office would be clarified.

Some question has arisen in recent years as to the meaning of the present restriction. This amendment would make it clear that no governor could run to succeed himself.

20. The Legislature would be authorized to waive the state's immunity to damage suits by this amendment.

A recent court decision has changed the accepted procedure of many years allowing the Legislature to do this. The proposal would restore the previous situation.

21. Allocation of revenues from 16th section school lands to school boards in proportion to their ownership of these lands would be authorized.

This would change the present situation in which parishes having part of a township that includes 16th section lands shares in the revenues of these lands even though they do not have a part of the 16th section within their borders.

2. St. Bernard Parish would be set up as a separate judicial district, separating it from Plaquemines.

The caseload of the present district, comprised of Plaquemines and St. Bernard, and served by one judge, is no greater than the average for the state. Regardless of the adoption or rejection of this amendment, the Legislature has by statute created a new judgeship for the existing two-parish district. This amendment would also add another district attorney.

23. Separation of Webster and Bossier parishes into separate districts is proposed. A new judgeship for the existing district has been created already by legislative act.

24. Lafourche and Terrebonne parishes would be set up in separate judicial districts with one judge each. However, the assignment of Terrebonne as the 17th district could mean that a legislative act providing for two judges in this district would apply to the new smaller district and so give two judges to Terrebonne even though this was apparently not intended.

Pros, cons given on amendments

The pros and cons on a number of the constitutional amendments of interest to this area were voiced by various members at the Cameron Lions Club meeting Wednesday.

Tom Steed, local shrimp dealer, asked support of No. 29 which exempt boats of 1,200 horsepower or less using diesel fuel as a motor fuel from paying ad valorem taxes. Nearly all of the fishing and shrimping boats in the state would become exempt.

Proponents of this amendment say that the tax is hampering the growth of the fishing industry in the state, and in some years, fishermen get such a low return on their investment because of bad weather, they cannot afford to pay the tax.

State Rep. Alvin Dyson asked members to vote against Amendments No. 2, 3, 4 and 5 which would abolish the wildlife, highways, institutions and public welfare boards.

Noting that the state administration favored doing away with these boards, Mr. Dyson said he disagreed, that he thought they had done a good job and should be preserved.

Mr. Dyson said he was against No. 17 which would give two additional representatives for East Baton Rouge and Jefferson parishes.

"The cities have enough power already," he said. "The country parishes need to protect their interests.

BOTH REP. DYSON and County Agent Hadley Fontenot expressed support for Amendment No. 8, the Toledo Ben Dam project, the most controversial amendment among the 55.

Mr. Fontenot gave the following arguments given against the amendment by opponents:

(1) The dam would cost a lot more than the $55 million estimated by its backers.

(2) The electrical power, which the dam would generate could be produced cheaper by use of fuels.

(3) More than 400 families, mostly farmers, would be displaced and probably would have a hard time finding other farms.

(4) Pulpwood mills could not located on the Sabine river if it were damed up as they need a running stream to carry off waste materials.

Arguments for the dam were then outlined by Mr. Fontenot as follows:

(1) The water problem is getting critical in Louisiana; the dam would give a large supply of fresh water for industry and farmers in the area.

(2) The lake created would bring more than $12 million annually in tourist and sportsmen trade into an area that has been hard hit economically in recent years.

(3) Electricity created by the dam would pay for the dam.

MR. FONTENOT also asked support for Amendment 32 which prevents the assessment of farm equipment for ad valorem taxes. He said that no such taxes are presently levied on this machinery, but the amendment would prevent this from ever being done. Such taxes could ruin farm in a bad crop year, he pointed out.

Several opinions were expressed on Amendments No. 9, 10 and 11--the segregation amendments. It was pointed out by one member that No. 9 which sets up new voting qualifications is very broad and could be used to disqualify a large number of people in the parish.

Rep. Dyson said that the police jury was setting up permanent vote registration and said that all voters on the rolls now would be protected, regardless of the new law.

Mr. Fontenot asked members to seriously consider Amendment No. 1 that would revise the LSU board of supervisors. He said he felt it was unwise to change the present system.

One parish tract up for leasing

One tract in the Grand Lake area of Cameron parish is among 139 to be offered for mineral lease November 17 by the State Mineral Board, the first lease sale under the Davis administration.

The last mineral lease of state land brought in $5,250,000.

The bids will be opened in Baton Rouge in the state capitol building.

The board will meet Friday Nov. 18, to take up docket matters pertaining to lease already in force on state owned lands and water bottoms.

There will be no meeting of the board in December, but the organization will hold monthly meetings beginning in January, on the third Thursday of each month. The January meeting will be held in the Shell building auditorium in New Orleans.

Rep. Dyson says he's in dark on special session

Cameron parish's state representative, Alvin Dyson, says he's just as much in the dark as anyone to what is coming up at the special session of the legislature which opens at noon Friday.

The call which Mr. Dyson and other legislators got said the session would deal with the school children, preservation and protection of the powers and rights reserved to Louisiana, the state's police power, and a state militia.

The special session opens just 10 days before scheduled desegregation of first grades in New Orleans under a federal court mandate.

Rep. Dyson said the session was coming at a bad time for him--he would miss out on a large part of the duck season.

Hospital survey made here Thurs.

A survey team from the state hospital board was in Cameron last Thursday to determine whether the area qualifies for Hill-Burton federal funds for the new Lower Cameron hospital.

Dr. Cecil Clark, a member of the local hospital board, said it was hoped that the hospital can get a emergency priority rating to replace the hospital beds that were lost in Hurricane Audrey.

The local hospital is asking $250,000 in matching funds from the federal government which if approved would give the local board $500,000 with which to build the hospital here.

The request for funds has been sent to Washington.

Out of season hunting charge filed here

Two youths have been charged with shooting at migratory game birds during closed season by the Cameron sheriff's department.

They are: Franklin Noland, 18 of Gueydan, and Evalis Roy, 19, of Houston, Texas.

They were arrested Oct. 26 by W. J. Broussard, special deputy, at Lowery.

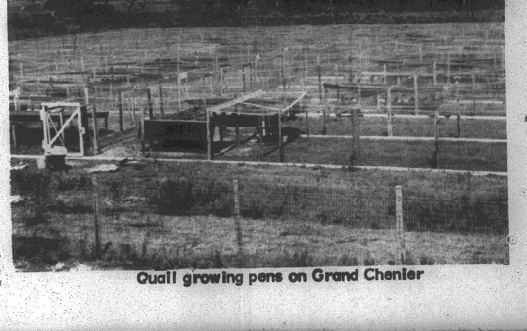
Easts operate quail farm

By HADLEY FONTENOT
County Agent

Another sportsman delight-quails--has been added to the Grand Chenier landscape, along with the native ducks, geese, coots, gallinules.

Julian East of Grand Chenier and Philo East of Lake Charles have formed a partnership to raise quails to furnish sportsmen a target to shoot at.

Philo has been raising quail for years and sells them to sportsmen clubs who plant them in the fields just prior to hunting trips. The dogs then flush them out for the hunters.



Philo has several hundred brood quail birds from which he gets his eggs. As soon as a qaul lays a clutch of eggs they are taken away from her and hatched in an incubator. That way she will start laying again in a few days instead of setting.

It's a business with Philo and he will sell eggs, little quails or grown quails. His price on eggs are 20 cents and $1.10 for grown birds.

The screened area on Grand Chenier next to Julian's Garage are are what they call growing pens. The quails are brought there from Lake Charles when half grown. There are presently 4,000 quails and some four hundred chuckers (an asiatic bird of the quail family) and some pheasants. Demand for these birds by sportsmen's club is increasing each year. Julian said Philo is planning to increase his production to 15,000 per year.

Duck season opens here this Friday

Duck season will open in Louisiana this Friday and indications are that the season will be much better than last year's.

The season on blue and snow geese opened Monday, but the success of the hunters has been somewhat mixed. Some hunters got their limits, while others failed to do so. One hunter remarked that the geese are old and wise birds and are not easy to come by.

The duck season is split, with the first half running from Nov. 4 to 15th, and the second half set for Dec. 16 - Jan. 8.

Daily bag limit is 4; and possession limit is 8. One wood duck and one hooded merganser may be included in a bag or possession limit. The season is closed on canvasback and redheaded ducks.

For red breasted and/or American Merganzer, the daily bag limit is 5, possession 10 in addition to other duck limits.

The season on Canadian and white fronted geese is the same as for ducks.

Shooting hours are one half hour before sunrise to sunset except Nov. 4 and Dec. 16 when shooting starts at 12 noon.

GEESE ARE quite numerous on the game refuges around the parish. Large flocks of blue geese numbering into the thousands are to be seen on the Sabine and Rockefeller refuges.

At Rockefeller, Robert Chabreck, state biologist, reports there a good many ducks on hand, including pintails, teals, widgeons, and gadwalls.

Mr. Chabreck reports that the refuge has put in a new fresh water retainer levee paralleling the gulf, which should improve water fowl and fur bearer conditions in about 13,000 acres.

Joe Rutherford, who operates a commercial hunting club on Oak Grove, said he took a party hunting on the opening day of geese season and all got their limit, but that it was hard to do so. He said there were plenty of geese but that they were wary.

Mr. Rutherford said hunting looks much better than last year--there's more fresh water, more duck food and a good many birds so far.

He said he is completely booked up for the season.

Another operator of a public hunting club, Charlie LaBove of Oak Grove, reports a good booking of hunters this year also.

Deputies to testify in murder trial

Two Cameron parish sheriff deputies, J. B. Constance and Edward Broussard, are in Dallas, Texas, this week to testify in the murder trial of Samuel Lewis.

Lewis, who is charged with the butcher knife slaying of a 77-year-old Dallas woman, was apprehended in Cameron in July along with a woman companion by local deputies.

The death penality has been asked by Dallas district attorney.

Library gets varied requests

How do the people of Cameron Parish use their library? The requests for material are as varied as the interests of the people of the parish.

The library has received several new books. Among these are "The Remarkable Kennedys" by Joe McCarthy. This is the complete story of the Kennedy family and especially of John Kennedy.

New books available at your library are: "A Long Row to Hoe" by Cilly Clark, "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich" by William L. Shrier, "The First Freedom" by Robert Downs, "Folk Medicine" by D. C. Jarvis, "Hunza Land" by Allen Banik, "My Three Lives" by Teresa-Lightwood and "The Remarkable Kennedys" by Joseph McCarthy.

NINE YEARS AGO

HACKBERRY, March 2, 1951 -- A big freeze hit this area, even freezing up part of Black Lake.

Boys Village boxers outpointed the Hackberry high school team, 5-4. A near capacity crowd witnessed the bouts. Referee was Ferdie Frey and judges were Charles Riggs and William Courmier.

James Weekley, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. Weekley, was recalled to active duty and will go to a guided missile school in El Paso, Texas.

The Hackberry Lions club met in the Catholic hall. A committee composed of J. T. Johnson, J. W. McNeill, Jack Moore and Johnny Harris was appointed to make plans for the erections of lights for a softball field.

FHA members attended a state meeting in Lafayette. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Krumm and Mrs. Randall Hale.

Amendments

If this amendment passes, Washington parish will be given two judges and St. Tammany one, though it was intended to provide one judge for each parish, as is the case now. The amendment would add one district attorney.

26. This amendment would provide that the backlog of cases awaiting action before the courts of appeal would be distributed among the four courts of appeal now in effect instead of the three courts that were in existence prior to July 1960.

The purpose of this amendment is to clarify some of the authority over cases in the courts after the court re-organization amendment of 1958.

27. This amendment would allow juvenile judges in Orleans parish to hear cases establishing paternity. It would also have the effect of eliminating one new juvenile judgeship for Orleans and reduce salaries of judges there.

Unintentional omissions in this amendment have the effect of reducing the judgeships and reducing the salaries.

28. A city court for Golden Meadow would be provided.

Sponsors say that the community of Golden Meadow is at some distance from the parish seat and causes inconvenience in handling of minor cases.

29. Boats with 1,200 horsepower or less, and which use diesel fuel, would be exempt from property taxes. However, the exemption now in effect for small pleasure boats would be repealed.

Net effect of this amendment is to exempt from property tax most commercial boats and begin taxing most pleasure boats.

30. Authority would be granted Assumption and Lafourche parishes to levy a two-cent sales tax to provide homes for the aged, if approved by voters.

There is existing authority to call property tax elections for this purpose.

31. Parishes near Francis T. Nicholls State College at Thibodaux, including Lafourche parish where it is located, would be authorized to call elections to vote up to one mill in property taxes for capital improvements at the college.

This would be the only institution of higher education in the state with such local financial support possible.

32. Property tax exemption would be granted on farm implements.

Thirty-one parishes levy property taxes now on farm implement. Only four or five assess them in any substantial amount.

33. Refund of motor fuel taxes used by farmers in stationary motors would be permitted.

This would bring under exemption the majority of farm implements not now covered.

34. Property tax exemption would be provided for aircraft used for agricultural purposes.

Aircraft of this type had been given exemption for ten years prior to 1958.

35. Parishes would be given power to create gas utility districts for operation of public utility facilities.

Legislative acts adopted in 1960 give parishes this authority. General powers given police juries are also adequate for this purpose. Proponents say constitutional authorization of the districts would aid the sale of bonds.

36. A pledge of the state's faith and credit up to $20 million behind bonds of the Port of Morgan City is proposed.

37. Authority would be given the New Orleans Board of Liquidation of City Debt to invest reserve funds from a special two-mill tax for sewerage and drainage.

38. Authority would be granted New Orleans to invest reserve funds from a special three-mill tax for sewerage and drainage.

39. New Orleans would be authorized to construct and operate a trade mart through the use of revenues from operation of the facility, including authority to issue revenue bonds.

40. The Orleans Levee Board would be authorized to sell Pontchartrain Beach to private operators for continued use for recreational purposes.

41. The City of New Orleans would be given authority to issue revenue bonds for capital improvements of Moisant International Airport.

42. The Central Labor Council of N. O. and vicinity (AFL-CIO) would be added to the list of organizations authorized to submit nominees for vacancies on the Bd. of Commissioners of N. O. Port.

43. An industrial canal and bridge authority would be created to construct and operate a toll bridge or tunnel across the industrial canal in New Orleans.

44. The New Orleans branch of Southern Univ., now operating under statutory authority, would be placed in the constitution.

45. A requirement for placing all paid firemen in cities between 1,000 and 13,000 under civil service is proposed, including parish and fire protection districts.

46. The City of New Orleans, primarily, would be required to give 6-months notice before moving unclassified employees into the classified service.

47. The Greater Krotz Springs Port Commission, now created by statutory authority, would be given constitutional status. The state would be liable to pay off bonds if the port could not do so.

48. Constitutional status would be given the Avoyelles Port Commission which was authorized in the 1960 session of the legislature.

49. Creation of the South Louisiana Port Commission is proposed.

50. The Concordia Parish Port Com. would be established.

51. A public improvement district in St. Charles Parish would be created for recreational and other projects along Lake Pontchartrain. Revenue bonds, or mortgage bonds, could be issued up to $30 million at any one time without a vote of the people.

52. Cities would be authorized to pledge their faith and credit behind certificates of indebtedness issued for such things as street paving.

53. Calcasieu Parish would be given expanded zoning authority.

A legislative act of 1960 extends this authority and is not dependent upon approval of this amendment. Some areas of Calcasieu parish were not included under zoning authority in an amendment adopted in 1958.

54. Zoning authority would be granted Bossier & Rapides parishes.

55. The mandatory retirement age of judges would be cut from 80 to 75 years.

Why The Catholic Church Says "INVESTIGATE!"

Probably not more than a handful of people hate the Catholic Church as it really is.

But many have heard anti-Catholic calumnies from sources they have been taught to respect, and have come to fear and suspect the Church as it has been falsely represented to them.

It is hardly reasonable to believe that 25 millions of Americans would remain in the Catholic Church if the rumors circulated against the Church are true. Nor would thousands of others become Catholics every year if they believed such things — without inquiring into the facts.

That is why the Catholic Church says again and again to people everywhere: "Investigate! Investigate!"

The Church makes this appeal not merely to settle an argument, nor primarily to win the good will of the non-Catholic people, although this is a hoped-for result.

Its more important aim is to invite people to inquire into Christ's truth as taught and preserved by the Catholic Church down through the centuries. For no man, seeking the salvation of his own soul, can conscientiously discount the Catholic claim to be Christ's Church on the basis of mere rumor and slander when the truth is so readily at hand.

The Catholic Church therefore invites you to inquire into its teaching and practices . . . to find out for yourself if what you believe about the Church is true or false.

Learn for yourself, for instance, if it is true that Catholics give divine worship to Mary, the Mother of Christ . . . or if this is not just another calumny. If you have been led to believe that Catholics worship idols and statues . . . buy and sell the divine worship of the Mass . . . are opposed to the religious freedom granted all religions by our Bill of Rights, then you have been deceived and misled.

If you have harbored these or any other false beliefs about the Catholic Church and its teachings . . . and if, above all, such misunderstanding has kept you from examining the Catholic claim to be the Church established by Christ Himself . . . you owe it to yourself in good conscience to seek the truth.

We shall be glad to send you free on request, a booklet dealing with the points mentioned here and many others . . . including the attitude of the Church toward Birth Control . . . secret societies . . . the salvation of non-Catholics . . . why Catholic priests are called "Father" . . . the Inquisition, and the alleged goings-on behind convent walls It will come to you in a plain wrapper — and nobody will call on you. Write today . . . ask for your copy of Pamphlet No. KC-7.

WHY GET EXCITED ABOUT SIN?

IN one of our states twenty-six people died in highway accidents during one week-end. The highway patrol was placed on a special alert. Road checks were set up. Law enforcement officers were called upon to get motorists to change bad driving habits. Radio and newspaper safety campaigns were started. Every effort was made to stop the death toll.

When death threatens it is time for people to get excited and try to save lives.

On the highway careless driving results in death. In the life of a person sin results in death.

The Bible puts it this way: "The wages of sin is death" (Romans 6:23). "The soul that sinneth, it shall die" (Ezekiel 18:4). This is one reason people should get excited about sins.

But there is another and better reason. Something can be done about sin in the human heart. One can be saved from this death of the soul. He does not have to die. By getting excited enough to take action it is possible for us to lower the spiritual death rate.

What can we do?

We can attend church each Sunday where the gospel is preached and the Bible is taught. There special attention is given to sin, its deadly results, and the way of salvation from sin. The church people are not perfect, but they realize what sin does. They are concerned about helping sinners live with the forgiveness and grace of God in their hearts.

You have been hearing about revivals in Baptist churches. These revivals are in progress because Baptist leaders believe that something can be done about sin. They have suggested that churches work together in a great effort to call people to salvation from sin. Pastors and local church leaders agree. We can do something about sin by attending revival meetings and sharing in their spirit and purpose.

If sin is so serious, what is it like?

It is the darkest fact about human nature. It is man at his worst. It is a person going in the wrong direction. It is a soul gone astray and lost in a wilderness. It is a life bound tight by heavy chains of evil.

A person who is in trouble needs help. He has a sense of guilt like the great preacher Spurgeon, "If I slept I dreamed of the bottomless pit, and when I awaked I seemed to feel the misery I had dreamed. God's law was flogging me with its ten-thonged whip."

If a sinner does not have such a sense of guilt, he needs to realize his great trouble. Then he can be pointed to the Lord Jesus Christ, the Saviour.

LOUISIANA Did it Before We Must Do It Again

Although some politicians endorse Kennedy or Nixon, they are frank enough to say they don't endorse their platforms. But both Kennedy and Nixon have pledged to carry out their platforms for full integration of our schools and all community life.

What will we do about it?

In 1876, during reconstruction, when the people of the South were being persecuted and Louisiana was governed by Carpetbaggers and negroes under federal military domination, neither candidate for President, Hayes or Tilden, had a majority of electoral votes. So, independent electors from Louisiana and two other Southern states traded their electoral votes, elected Hayes President, and saved the South from further persecution. That ended Carpetbag rule in Louisiana and the South. The situation today is the same with federal forced (racial) integration and the threat of military power lurking in the background, as advocated by both Kennedy and Nixon platforms.

Louisiana did it before.
We can do it again.

Both Nixon and Kennedy admit the election is close.

The only way we can get protection against Total Integration, Unlawful Rulings, F.E.P.C., or Federal Employment Commission Domination of Labor and Business, is to elect Unpledged Electors, who can bargain to save your liberty and freedom.

IS IT RIGHT to use the Confederate Veterans' Pension Fund to build Toledo Bend Dam?

A vote for Amendment 8 is a vote to continue this tax another ten years and give the estimated $35,000,000 excess revenue to the Department of Public Works for this and similar projects.

Additional Taxes were levied during the last legislative session to meet such increased costs as raises for school teachers. Why raise taxes and then use the Veterans' Fund for impractical projects?

Louisiana already has four million surface acres of fresh water streams. Texas needs water but

Amendment No. 9, Voter Qualifications

Amendment No. 10, SAVE HOME RULE

Amendment No. 11, To Close Integrated Facilities

Three of the most important safeguards of our States Rights against Federal Government Control are provided by these three constitutional amendments.

If you want to maintain control of your own Parish Government against Federal encroachment and threat of Federal Voter Registrars; if you want to maintain your segregated institutions, then vote for these three amendments on November 8.

For six years, this Committee has vigorously and successfully helped Louisiana maintain SEGREGATION in all phases of community life.

Your legislature has done its part in submitting these amendments. Now it's up to the voters to do their part and vote FOR AMENDMENTS 9, 10, AND 11.

STATE OF LOUISIANA
JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE
John S. Garrett, Chairman

Please Vote For Amendment No. 18

To create the St. Bernard Port Authority so that the 100 Million Dollar River to Gulf Seaway project, most of which lies in St. Bernard, may be developed for shipping facilities with storm protection levees and levee drainage, without involving the faith and credit of the state to support its construction bonds. The St. Bernard Port Authority, under Constitutional Amendment No. 18, is the future hope of the business interest and people of St. Bernard Parish, and will strengthen the economy of the State of Louisiana as a whole.

Paid for by St. Bernard Council of the Greater New Orleans Chamber of Commerce.

FARMERS -- CATTLEMEN -- FRIENDS !!

HELP US SAVE OUR HOMES !

We urge you to help us by voting against Amendment No. 8 which provides for the building of Toledo Bend Dam on Sabine River.

HERE ARE SOME OF THE FACTS:

1. Four hundred families will be forced to move away from their farms and homes. Many others will have their farms ruined.

2. Over one hundred thousand acres of valuable farming, grazing and timberland, or 1/6 of Sabine Parish, will be flooded.

3. Bodies of the dead in some twenty or more cemeteries will have to be moved because of flood waters.

Again we ask you to help us save our homes, schools and churches.

LOUISIANA NEEDS NIXON because NIXON

Is Best Prepared For Leadership!

Both presidential candidates are vigorous, imaginative, and politically skilled. But one clearly surpasses the other in his preparation for coping with world affairs.

On the record of words and deeds Nixon has a decisive superiority for the crucial task of pursuing peace while successfully waging the cold war.

The record of Congress for 20 years--accented by the recent short session--shows it to be controlled by a bipartisan moderate majority rather than by Democrats or Republicans. And that majority has been--and appears likely to be--nearer the moderate Nixon than the extreme Kennedy position on major domestic issues. So Nixon should be able to exert more effective legislative leadership.

Will Protect Free Enterprise!

Here in Louisiana, we have always been an independent people ready to make our own way, solve our own problems without any help or control from the federal government. Yet, today federal "statism" is on the march; the federal government, more and more is poking its nose into our affairs, telling us how to run our state, our businesses, our schools, our way of life.

The election of John Kennedy as president would be a giant step down the road to complete surrender of local rights and free enterprise. He sees national progress not as the achievement of a free people, but as the big assignment, the big task, the big function of the federal government."

Richard Nixon, on the other hand, sees the need for limits on federal power. He says: "I just do not accept the philosophy that Big Brother knows best . . . government should spend as much as it needs to, but no more."

With Your HELP and VOTE

NIXON WILL WIN!

THIS WEEK

BY JERRY WISE

SOUTH CAMERON high school students had their own presidential election Tuesday, complete full fledged campaigns for both candidates. Margaret East was campaign manager for Nixon and Barbara LaBove headed Kennedy's drive. Haven't heard the results of their election--but we can guess.

U. W. DICKERSON, South Cameron principal, probably has the world's largest collection of paintings by Shorty the Painter. Shorty, who lives in Mamou, makes the rounds through this area regularly painting signs. He also paints marsh scenes on the sides on anything from cardboard to plywood. Mr. Dickerson has some five or six of these colorful scenes.

BEST STORY OF the hunting season is credited to Hadley Fontenot. Said a big blue goose lit in his front yard Monday morning and then fell dead. Apparently he had been shot in the back marsh and made it as far as Hadley's yard. It was a goose supper at the Fontenot home that night.

HACKBERRY ELECTION SUIT IS FILED HERE

PETITIONERS ASK ELECTION BE DECLARED VOID

Forty-nine Hackberry property owners filed a suit in Cameron district court Tuesday contesting the Hackberry recreation election held Sept. 17, charging that recreation district and commissioners were illegally created and appointed and that "irregularities" took place during the election.

The petitioners asked that an injunction be issued prohibiting the sale of $290,000 in bonds and the collection of a 4-mill maintenance tax, both of which were approved by Hackberry property owners in the September election.

Named as defendants in the suit were the five members of the Hackberry recreation districts P. Frank Comeaux, Jr., Alfred Devall, Ferdie A. Frey, Julius T. Johnson and Joseph L. Colligan.

Filing the suit on behalf of the 49 property owners were Bernard Duhon, Elias Thibodeaux, Jasper King, Isaac A. White, Lee Duhon and John A. Lowery.

In their suit, the plaintiffs state:

"Said election and all proceedings preliminary thereto . . .were null, void and without effect whatever, for reason . . . defendants are not now, and have never been, members of the board of commissioners of said district because (1) no such district or board ever existed, and (2) none of the defendants ever qualified thereby by taking and signing an oath of office and filing the same as required by the constitution and laws of Louisiana."

The suit states that the description of Ward 6 (which has the same boundaries of the Hackberry recreation district) as adopted by the police jury in 1911, is "so vague, uncertain and defective in its calls that no surveyor can locate the boundaries for Ward 6, and no legal election was or could have been held pursuant to such proceedings".

The petitioners further state that even if the district did come into legal existence, the defendents were "illegally surporting and presenting themselves to be members of the Board of Commissioners of the Hackberry Recreation District" as they failed to take the required oath of office.

Another reason advanced by the 49 property owners for having the election declared null and void was that the bond issue and 4 mill tax would produce revenues "grossly in excess of the amount needed to provide adequate facilities and maintenance necessary to meet recreation needs in the area."

Another accusation of the suit was:

"Voters were not allowed the privilege, by those conducting the election, to vote secretly and to fold their completed ballots and place them in the ballot box." This caused those opposed to the bond issue to lose some votes for their position, the petition declares.

Still another charge made is that there were "various other irregularities in the conduct of said election." No other details are given on these alleged irregularities.

The suit asks the court to order a recount of the ballots, and an injunction to prohibit the issuing and sale of bonds, assessment and collection of taxes.

In the election on Sept. 16 the results were as follows:

For the bond issue and maintenance tax--126 votes and $125,207.50 in assessment.

Against -- 79 votes and $101,425.19.

Members of the recreation board have about 15 days in which to file an answer to the suit, and it is expected that it will be at least two months before the suit can be placed on the court docket for a hearing.

Attorneys for the plaintiffs are Jones, Kimball, Harper, Tete and Wetherill of Lake Charles.

THE 49 PROPERTY owners who filed the suit are as follows:

Eliaz Thibodeaux, Bernard Duhon, Albert Little, Gilbert A. Duhon, Sam Little, August J. Hebert, Mrs. Magdif L. Hebert, Armogen Hebert, Dupre Hebert, Sr., Dalton Benoit, Lenard Hughes, Jasper Little, Ralph R. Adams, J. A. Lowery, Mrs. Ernest I. Alex Seay to get safety award

The National Safety Council President's Medal and the American Petroleum Institute's Meritorious Safety Award was presented to Alex Seay of Hackberry, employe of Texaco Inc., domestic producing department, on Thursday, at a banquet to be held in his honor.

On July 5, 1959, Mr. Seay and the other members of his family were swimming in shallow water in Calcasieu Lake near a walk leading to Texaco's State-East Hackberry lease boat landing. His nine-year old son, Alex Ray Seay, was jumping from the bank into the lake when he jumped into a hole approximately seven feet deep.

The mother saw him fighting to stay above water and screamed. The father, Alex Seay, who was approximately thirty yards away, ran to the scene, jumped into the water and pulled his son to the bank. The boy was no longer breathing.

Artificial respiration was given by Seay, using the prone-pressure method. After the first stroke was applied water flowed from the victim's mouth and after the second stroke, the boy caught his breath and began breathing. He was then treated for shock and carried home.

Seay, who learned how to administer artificial respiration through the company's first aid training program, will become the 2,183rd member of American industry and the 104th Texaco employe to receive the National Safety Council President's Medal. He also will be the 103rd recipient of the American Petroleum Institute's Meritorious Safety Award.

Causeway damage claim settled Monday by jury

The Cameron police jury Monday agreed to accept $6,000 on its $7,100 claim for damages in connection with an accident about a year ago when the causeway was hit by a barge.

The jury was advised that the repairs could be made for $6,000.

A request from the Louisiana Mosquito Control Association for a $5,000 appropriation from the parish was tabled after Jurors Vian Theriot and C. A. Riggs said they did not feel the parish could afford it. The association has received appropriation from Calcasieu, Plaquemines and Jefferson parish so far.

Mr. Riggs was authorized to lease a garbage dump for Hackberry for $125 a year.

A liquor and beer permit was approved for the Gulf Lounge, to be operated by Andrew Richard.

A state auditor's report on police jury funds for the period ending Dec. 31, 1959 stated that the jury's records had been satisfactorily maintained. The report showed a surplus of $170,656 at the end of 1959 as compared to $135,063 in 1958.

The jury agreed to increase its share of the veterans service officer's salary by $10 a month, to be matched by a like increase from the state.

A bid of $10,462 on doing the electrical wiring for the Sabine causeway house was received from the Doc Roby Electric Co. of Port Arthur and accepted.

Dorothy Doxey, jury treasurer, reported that the parish's share of the state gasoline tax had fallen off some $18,000 since 1956. She said she believed that other parishes were getting credit for some of the gasoline being sold in Cameron. The jury authorized steps to find out if this is true.

Juror Horace Mhire made a protest about a canal being built by the Humble Oil Co. in the Money Island area. He said the jury should be informed on such projects in advance. He said this canal was stopping up a number of trappers' ditches.

A parish license ordinance, which is to be adopted in December, was discussed. Juror Riggs said he believed that out-of-the parish wholesalers and contractors who operate in Cameron parish should be required to have licenses, and Assistant District Attorney J. B. Jones was asked to look into the matter.

Mr. Riggs suggested that a $25 license to sell pistol and rifle bullets be eliminated, as these sales are small. Sheriff O. B. Carter agreed.

3 fishermen found after long search

Three Lake Charles fishermen who ran out of gas in Calcasieu lake on Thursday of last week were found Friday morning after an all night search by boats of the Cameron and Calcasieu sheriff's department.

The men, one of whom was identified as Libby Cline, were found about 8 a.m. Friday, with no ill effects from having spent the night in the open.

Other activities of the Cameron sheriff's department this past week were as follows:

Jessie Dagley, charged with stealing a bell from the Lowry Catholic church last December, was extradited from Houston, Texas, and brought here to stand trial. Dagley had been arraigned here some months ago but had jumped bond.

Stanford Bishop, Jr. was picked up for Calcasieu authorities for violation of parole.

State Police C. E. Jones filed drunken driving charges against Alfred Lacy after he ran into the rear of a car waiting at the Gibbstown bridge.

Mink trapping to open next Tuesday

The trapping season on mink opens in Louisiana Tuesday, Nov. 15 and continues through Jan. 10. The muskrat season is from Dec. 1 to Feb. 25.

Top rice producers to be honored by Cameron Lions

Cameron parish's top rice producers will be honored at the Cameron Lions Club luncheon at Fred's on Wednesday, Nov. 23, in observance of National Farm-City Week, it is reported by County Agent Hadley Fontenot.

In a contest sponsored by the Lions to see what farmers would have the highest average rice yields for this year's crop, the following farmers have been named as winners:

Large farm division (250 acres or more)--Morris Semar, Illinois Plantation, south of Hayes, 24.26 barrel average per acre on 265 acres.

Small farm division (less than 250 acres)--Lyons Breaux, Sweetlake, 19.5 barrel average on 246 acres.

Runners-up in the large farm division were Cauubecrecker Brothers, Illinois Plantation, 24.12 average on 410 acres; and A. H. Beken, Lowery, 24.14 average on 260 acres.

In the small division, runners-up were Cleveland Broussard, Lowery, 18.5 barrel average; and Sidney Vincent, 18 barrel average.

Mr. Semar had the following average acreage yields on the various varieties which he planted: Nato, 29.6; Blue Bonnet, 25.4 and Torro, 18.1.

Mr. Breaux averaged 23.8 with Nato and 17 with Blue Bonnet.

Both Mr. Breaux and Mr. Semar will be guests of the Lions at their luncheon and receive plaques in recognition of their accomplishments.

WITH THE PARISH rice harvest completed, County Agent Fontenot said the average yield of the 112 rice operators on 12,500 acres was about 14 barrels, as compared to 17 barrels last year.

He said the decrease was due to some blast damage, violent rains at blooming stage and some poor rice stands due to dry weather at planting time.

A PILOT EDITORIAL

Around the CAPITOL

By Walt Benton

BATON ROUGE —A group which will not be identified here—since they're seeking results and not credit—is asking people in other states to help Louisiana get justice in the tidelands deal.

Since it's hardly practical to contact directly some 180,000,000 persons, the group is using its limited budget to reach quite a share of them through letters of the editors of newspapers.

Three sets of letters are being sent, to give each enough "personality" to increase their chances of being published. Texas and Florida papers get one set, Atlantic and Pacific states another, and inland states the third.

This is the letter to Texas:

"Dear Editor:"

"We would like to congratulate your readers on thr fact that Texas at long last has been given its rightful ten and a half miles out in the Gulf of Mexico.

"But think of us next door in Louisiana—still held to three miles out in the same gulf, despite every conceivable proof of our rights to the same three leagues."

"Our only hope for justice seems to rest with Congress, and we would consider it right neighborly if you people would ask your congressman to help us get a square deal."

"While you are at it, you might want to voice a general protest against what our Gov. Jimmy Davis has described as creeping federalism along many lines."

Much the same letter, of course, is going to editors in Florida, which also got three leagues seaward compared with three miles for Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Editors—and their readers—in states along the Atlantic and Pacific coasts will be reminded that there is always the possibility of finding great mineral deposits along their shores; and asked how they would like it if the federal government suddenly limited their ocean fishing to a narrow strip along the shore.

The appeal to inland states was a little more difficult, but will include a question as to their attitude should the federal courts suddenly take over a seven-mile-wide strip through their area of richest resources.

The campaign is being undertaken because of the growing belief that the only remedy to several phases of "Creeping Federalism" does lie with Congress, including public schools and elections.

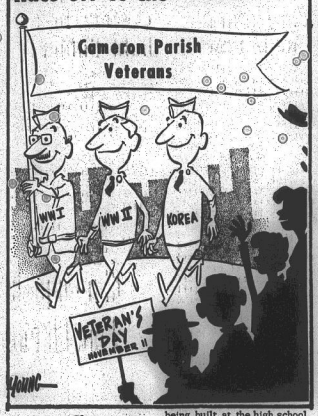
Budget limitation was not the only reason for choosing newspapers. Several surveys have shown that "letters to the editor" rate very high in actual readership—right up with sports and society news!

The group preparing and distributing the letters will never know how many letters were published, or read, or resulted in actual contacts with Congressmen. They can only hope.

They do now, however, that at least editors will read them and editors are opinion leaders. And that congressmen read newspapers, including letters to the editor.

Don't close our public schools!

Although their intentions were good, the state legislators, in our opinion, have taken a very drastic step in giving the governor the power to close the public schools in the integration battle with the federal government.



The Louisiana public schools have come far in the last 20 or 30 years, fighting their way up the educational ladder from one of the lowest rungs in the nation to a position now comparable with any in the nation.

Here in Cameron parish, we can be exceedingly proud of our public schools. We have some of the most modern school plants, best curricula and personnel to be found anywhere in Louisiana. Our teachers are among the highest paid in the state.

To abandon a school system that took years to build in favor of an untried and perhaps unworkable private school plan would result in chaos, we believe. Many of our children would be denied an education and the state would sink back into ignorance and poverty.

We do not believe in cutting off our noses to spite our faces and that is exactly what we would be doing if we closed the public schools.

Hats off to the veterans

AN EARLIER DAY

Uncle Charlie goes hunting

By ARCHIE HOLLISTER

Old Uncle Charlie Margill was a small, thin, wiry little man who could not have weighed more than 120 pounds. He had a peculiarly high opinion of his own importance, and hardly a shred of humor in his entire makeup. He would suffer no infringement on his dignity, and would take angry and immediate exception to any word or action that called attention to his diminutive size.

He once enlisted the aid of his neighbors to help him in some farm enterprise that required the united efforts of several men. The labor was free of course—no man in those days would think of charging a neighbor for a little help.

During the course of the morning Uncle Charlie happened to step rather heavily upon the pet corn of one of the men. The man in question, a large, good-humored sort of fellow, remarked jokingly, "Mr. Margill, don't you think that you're a mighty small man to be stepping on my foot," and promptly forgot the matter.

Uncle Charlie did not forget it though. After dinner he showed up with a big forty-five caliber revolver stuck into his belt. Walking up to his neighbor, he said, "You see this pistol; now I guess that that makes me just about as heavy as you are."

Old Uncle Charlie Margill once decided to shoot himself a few ducks. He took his gun, a big ten gauge double-barreled affair, and set out along the road.

A larger and stronger man would likely have used a sixteen gauge gun, or most a twelve; but not Uncle Charlie — his highly developed sense of his own worth required that he use the biggest gun procurable. He soon located a flock of wild ducks by the sounds they made while feeding, but he couldn't see them, hidden behind the tall grass as they were.

Light and active as a cat, he swung into the lower branches of a huge liveoak growing just at the edge of the marsh. From this vantage point he was able to see several hundred closely bunched ducks, well within the range of his big gun. Of course he must get as many as possible the first shot — there would be no chance of a second — and game laws did not even exist in that day.

Accordingly he loaded both barrels of his gun, and balancing himself on a small horizomal limb, took aim and pulled both triggers.

His expectations were realized and more than realized. Several dozen ducks lay dead upon the water all right, but the jolt of the heavy recoil had kicked Uncle Charlie off the limb upon which he was standing. He fell fifteen or twenty feet, landing in a large puddle of soft oozy mud.

Furious at this affront to his dignity, he pulled himself out of the marsh and stalked off down the road to his home. He would not even wait to get his ducks or his gun, but sent someone else to retrieve them instead.

Ducks, hunters plentiful

By ELORA MONTIE
Grand Chenier Reporter

The duck season opened on the Chenier Friday in a big way with both ducks and hunters plentiful.

Hunters at Miller's hunting club reported getting their limit over the weekend, particularly of the big ducks.

Biggest complaint was over the mosquitoes, which were so thick that hunters could hardly stay in their blinds. Cooler weather which set in Saturday slowed the mosquitoes down somewhat and made hunting more pleasant.

Rockefeller wildlife refuge officials say there are more ducks and geese here than in any recent year. Most of the ducks seem to be around Marsh Island in the north marsh.

There is plenty of duck feed in the marsh.

THE COASTAL Construction company, which is resurfacing the Grand Chenier road, now has 10 miles of road completed. With weather conditions permitting within the next week they should be up to the Superior Canal bridge.

REA owns no electric lines states Doxey

Member-owned electric cooperatives today serve nearly one-half million rural Louisiana citizens. Combined investments of the state's 13 electric cooperatives slightly exceed $60-million.

"And, if tied together, the distribution lines of these non-profit enterprises in Louisiana would circle the earth," states J. W. Doxey, Cameron, La., vice-president of Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc.

Yet few things are less understood, especially by the town and urban citizenry who usually think of rural electrification in terms of federal ownership and control, public power, etc., Mr. Doxey observed.

According to Mr. Doxey, electric cooperatives are privately-owned, non-profit local enterprises. They have but one obligation to the federal government; and, that is to repay the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) loans on strict time schedules, plus interest.

"REA does not own or control a single foot of electric lines anywhere, nor has it ever sold a single kilowatt-hour of power to anyone.

"REA is a federal lending agency," the official continued. "It lends money to any responsible private company, public body or cooperative group interested in extending electric or telephone service. For example, it lends money to a private power company and 20 independent telephone companies in Louisiana as compared to only 13 electric cooperatives."

Co-op building $250,000 facilities on the Chenier

To encourage industrialization and to insure efficient and adequate consumer services, Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc. is completing construction of a $250,000 high-voltage project on Grand Chenier.

According to Manager J. S. Robbins, 15-miles of 69,000-volt transmission lines with a three-phase underbuild is replacing the present system along Grand Chenier at a cost of $210,000. In addition, a $40,000 all-steel substation will be constructed at the load center . . . near the Julian East Garage.

The new facilities will assure members in the area of service second to none and provide more than adequate power for present industry.

"We expect continued progress for years to come in the Cameron parish area; and we of Jefferson Davis Electric are planning years ahead in order to encourage industry into the area. Meanwhile, our members will have the best of service facilities," the manager said. . ." not only in Cameron parish but over the entire area."

The progressive member-owned cooperative has already completed high-voltage lines to Cameron and to Hackberry where the co-op is waiting on the power company to provide wholesale power service.

Approximate cost of the new 69,000-volt line on Grand Chenier is $10,000 per mile, much of it standing above marsh and waterways. Crewmen of the R. D. Cooper Construction Co., contractor for the project, used marsh buggies to set the big 65-foot poles and to string wire through the marsh.

The new Grand Chenier transmission facilities will immediately serve a new plant installation.

Manager Robbins said the cooperative will have nearly a million dollars invested in transmission and substation facilities in the Cameron parish sector of the far-flung rural system when the Grand Chenier project is completed.

Facilities far exceed those present prior to Hurricane Audrey, being much more modern and of vastly superior carrying capacity.

JUST FOR THE RECORD . . . Freeport's Grand Isle mine set a few

While Freeport Sulphur Company engineers were planning and supervising construction of the Grand Isle mine, they had one goal in mind—the efficient removal of sulphur from beneath the Gulf. They were not worrying about setting records or establishing firsts.

But in the course of completing and placing into operation this mine located seven miles off the Louisiana coast in 50 feet of water, some records were made and some firsts were established.

Grand Isle is the Free World's first offshore sulphur mine . . . It is the largest offshore steel structure of any kind . . . The pre-stretched pipeline that delivers molten sulphur to shore is the longest ever built . . . The broad band microwave which links the operation to the mainland is one of the first such systems to handle digital information for computers.

These records are important. In some cases, they are milestones. But most important is what Freeport and its engineers had as their prime target—the addition of sulphur reserves to keep Louisiana an important producer for decades to come.

Acadian Country BRINGS TOURISTS TO Lovely Louisiana
Beneath a moss-draped oak on romantic Bayou Teche, Longfellow's Gabriel and Evangeline were reunited 200 years ago. Their fellow refugees from Canada settled this exotic land of bayous, and magnolia and cypress trees . . . and today, tourists are charmed by the "Cajuns," with their musical French names, gay songs and dances, folklore and handicraft. World famous Acadian cuisine, subtle sauces and magic seasoning, produces an unforgettable taste treat.

Wildlife writers to meet in parish

The Louisiana Outdoor Writers Association will hold its fall meeting Nov. 18-20 at Grand Chenier, at the camp of wildlife commissioner John Paul Crain. In addition to the regular business meeting, the writers will enjoy some blue goose shooting, and will make a tour of the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge.

Duck hunters in Louisiana had over two million birds to work on when the season opened last Friday, as a result of sizable migration flights into the state in the 10 days prior to that time. Some of the big mallard flights were not in, but there were still some 142,000 of these French ducks with us.

Southwest Louisiana had the lion's share, per usual, with 1,740,500 of the state total of 2,039,000 which showed up in the Commission inventory ending November 2. Southeast Louisiana had 204,00, Central Louisiana totaled 61,000, and Northeast Louisiana tallied 33,500. The Northwest wasn't even censused.

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is going to conduct a second national survey of fishing and hunting. The first was made in 1955, and this one will cover 1960. The actual survey work will be done by the Bureau of Census, and will take place in January and February, 1961.

The 1955 study showed that two billion dollars was spent that year by sports fishermen and one billion by hunters.

Archers took six deer during the first two weekends of hunting--two on Evangeline, three on Jackson-Bienville, and one on West Bay. Three of the successful bewmen were Lauris E. Lowery and Joe Kumzweiler, of Lake Charles; and Buzz Salard, of Natchitoches.

Man, was the fog thick on Black Lake on the second day of the duck season! Hunters were speeding, hither and yon in an effort to find their blind before legal shooting time, calling to one another in their efforts to be helpful. Fact is, we had very little trouble finding our blind--after five laps of the Prairie, that is--at 7:00 ayem.

The Audubon Society is taking up arms to try to save the bald eagle, the great, white-headed bird that serves the United States as its national emblem. Regional surveys have indicated that bald eagle population is quite low, but no national inventory of the bird has ever been done. This continent-wide survey of eagle numbers will be the first step in the societies program followed by intensive research into the eagle's biology and habitat requirements. The survey and research will probably take five years, and cost $50,000.

The bald eagle ranges from Alaska to Florida, and Louisiana has a very small nesting population. They are protected by federal law, but some of the few remaining are still lost to unthinking hunters who take a crack at any big bird that flies by.

Hackberry loses to Merryville

The Hackberry Mustangs lost to Merryville 40-14 in a football game at Merryville last Saturday.

Hackberry's touchdowns were made by C. J. Lowery on a six yard run, and Aubrey Welch, who caught a 40 yard pass from Kenny Drost.

Lee Buford played an outstanding game for Hackberry, making about 15 tackles.

South Cameron did not play last week, since the Grand Lake game had been cancelled. Hackberry will be off this week for the same reason. Grand Lake discontinued football several weeks ago.

South Cameron will play Gillis this week in Gillis, and is not expected to have much trouble winning. South Cameron beat Kinger 13-12, which in turn beat Gillis 26-20.

Coach Robert Manuel, warned, however, that Gillis has some very good players --Lynn Bridges, a fine quarterback; Leroy Seaman, one of the best halfbacks in the district; and Sonnier, fullback, who plays excellent defense.

South Cameron is now in third place in the district, having moved ahead of Iowa, which formerly held this spot. The Tarps have a 5-1 district record.

WONDERFUL — isn't it!

I'll Be A Healthier, Happier And More Productive Citizen Tomorrow Because Of Member-Owned Electric Cooperatives

GRADE A FOR BETTER HEALTH

If not for electric co-ops furnishing low cost power to Louisiana dairies there wouldn't even be enough grade A milk for us wearers of three-cornered pants.

And our state's multi-million dollar dairy industry is only one product of the revolution in better living brought about by member-owned electric co-ops. Just think of the accelerated rural development, improved sanitation, more convenient home life, improved agricultural methods — only to name a few.

Rural electrification, directly or indirectly, has touched all our lives — city folks, as well as farm folks. Why, this year alone, it has been estimated that Louisiana co-op members will spend over $50 million just for appliances! This means more jobs, more money for all.

Contrary to what you may hear, electric co-ops are not federal agencies. They are non-profit businesses owned and controlled by your rural friends and neighbors who decided to give themselves the advantages their city cousins have enjoyed for years.

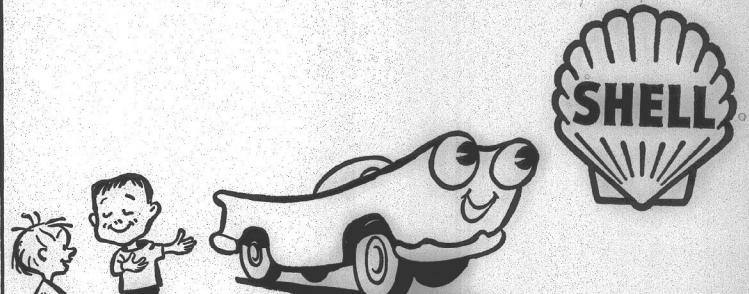
Hunters take to the marshes

by MRS WALTER STANLEY

Hunters took advantage of the first weekend of the season and took to the marshes in droves. Results were somewhat varied as the lower marshes are better stocked with games than the eastern sections. Geese are reported to be more numerous than ducks.

Elphege Sonnier is well under way with his new building. He is building on the site where his Anchor Inn bar burned this summer. Adjoining his living quarters will be just a bar and no dance hall as was before.



Holly Beach streets were prepared Saturday for shell hauling. They will be blacktopped when the causeway section is done. To be hard surfaced are Tarpon Ave. and Buccaneers Blvd. along with Egrett Street. Surfaced last spring are Lafitte Blvd and Brant Street.

J. S. Lestage, road project foreman says soil cementing is finished on the schoolhouse to Fred Griffith section. They are now about halfway on the causeway stretch. Blacktopping is to follow completion of this.

Mr. Lestage boasts the first '61 car on the beach. His new cream colored Ford came in two weeks ago.

The J. C. Locke family were visitors in the Walter Stanley home Sunday. The Locke's are former residents of the Magnolia gas plant settlement. They moved to Oklahoma four years ago and are now living in Nederland, Texas and Mr. Locke is working at a Mobil plant due to the merger.

Tarpons shoot for the big one this week--Oberlin

The South Cameron Tarpons this week were preparing for their final, toughest and most important game of the year--the battle royal here Friday with the powerful Oberlin Tigers.

Unbeaten this year, the Tigers are assured of another year's reign as the District 5-B champions if they get past South Cameron Friday.

However, should the Tarpons pull off an upset--and anything could happen--the district race would be thrown into a three-way tie between South Cameron, Oberlin and Merryville, all with a 7-1 record.

Then there would have to be a playoff to decide the district winner.

If the Tarpons lose, Merryville will become district champs with a 7-0 record; Merryville would end up in second place with a 7-1 slate; and the Tarpons would finish third with a 6-2 record.

TARPON COACH Robert Manuel said his boys were in top shape for the game and would be playing to win.

However, he points out that they are going up against the stiffest competition they have seen this year.

A comparison of the strength of the two teams can be seen in scores of their respective games against Merryville. Merryville beat the Tarpons 20-7, while Oberlin tromped Merryville 39-6.

There are no serious injuries on the Tarpon squad, although Lester Richard, second string quarterback has a sprained knee, was lost by the team several games ago.

A pep rally was scheduled in Cameron Thursday night by South Cameron students and fans.

The South Cameron Athletic Association will gave a seafood gumbo preceeding the game, beginning at 5:30 p.m.

A huge crowd of local fans is expected for this final game of the season and a big caravan of Oberlin fans will also come.

Sabine channel bids received

A New York dredging firm is expected to be awarded a 1.25 million-dollar contract for dredging projects in the Sabine-Neches Canal and Sabine River channel.

The announcement was received here in a telegram this week from U. S. Senators Allen J. Ellender and Russell E. Long and stated:

"District Engineer, Galveston, just advised apparent low bid submitted by Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific Co., New York, in response to invitation for dredging (Sabine-Neches Waterway, Sabine-Neches Canal, realignment of Sabine River Channel and Orange and Jefferson counties, Tex., and Cameron and Calcasieu Parishes, La., in estimated amount of $1,273,348.40."

Removal of approximately six million cubic yards of material is expected.

Muscular Dystrophy drive set

A mothers' march to raise money to fight muscular dystrophy will be held in most of the communities of Cameron parish Monday night, Jerry Jones, parish chairman, has announced.

Workers will call on homes in Cameron, Grand Chenier, Creole, Holly Beach, Sweetlake, Grand Lake and Hackberry, he said.

This is the first year that a parish-wide drive has been in cooperation with the Muscular Dystrophy Association of America. Most of the funds raised will be used in research to try to find a cure for this disease of the muscles that affects some 200,000 persons in the United States.

LOCAL MAN SENTENCED

Percy Ernest Dyson 30, of Cameron, pleaded guilty to car theft in Lake Charles district court Monday and was given a three-year suspended sentence. His nephew, Edmond Dyson, received a similar sentence last month.

They were accused of the Oct. 16 theft of a $400 auto from a Sulphur man.

Two oil firms intervene in Hackberry recreation suit

Three large oil and chemical corporations, who own property in Hackberry, Wednesday filed as intervenors in the Ward Six recreation district injunction suit brought earlier by 49 Hackberry property owners.

The firms intervened in behalf of the plaintiffs, who have asked that a $290,000 recreation bond issue passed on September 17 be declared "null and void" by the Cameron district court, and that the recreation commission be enjoined from selling the bonds or collecting a four-mill maintenance tax.

Joining the 49 property owners in the suit were the following firms:

Cities Service Refining Coporation, domiciled in Delaware.

Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation, domiciled in Virginia.

Pan American Petroleum Corporation, domiciled in Delaware.

All three corporations own sizable oil and gas producing, storage and transporting facilities in Hackberry and Ward Six.

Webster's Dictionary defines "intervening" as: "To become a party to an action or other legal proceeding, for the protection of an interest therein; said of a third person not originally a party thereto."

IN THEIR petitions to the three corporations state:

"Intervenors own and pay ad valorem taxes on property situated within the purported Hackberry Recreation district, and therefore have an interest in the outcome of this suit consistent with that of the plaintiffs . . ."

The original suit, of which the three firms are now a part, alleged that the Hackberry recreation bond issue was illegal because (1) the district was never legally created due to "vagueness" in the description of Ward 6; (2) the recreation commissioners failed to take an oath of office; (3) that the bond issue was "excessive; (4) and that there were "irregularities" at the polls during the election.

Named as defendants in the suit were the five members of the recreation commission: P. Frank Comeaux, Jr., Alfred Devall, Ferdie A. Frey, Julius T. Johnson and Joseph L. Colligan.

Filing the suit on behalf of the 49 property owners were Bernard Duhon, Elias Thibodeaux, Jasper King, Isaac A. White, Lee Duhon and John A. Lowery.

These petitioners amended their original suit Wednesday to include as defendants not only the five recreation commissioners but the recreation district as well.

CHARLES RIGGS of Hackberry, Ward 6 police juror, stated this week that 10 of 49 plaintiffs had told him that they did not know their names were being attached to a suit. He quoted them as saying they had been asked to sign a petition stating they had voted against the bond issue.

Mr. Riggs said the district attorney's office was drawing up a legal form which could be signed by any of the petitioners who wished to have their names removed from the suit.

The police juror said he knew of no irregularities during the election and that each step taken by the police jury and recreation commission pursuant to calling the election had been with the advise of the district attorney and bonding attorneys.

He pointed out that the same "vague" description for Ward 6 had been used in school and hospital bond elections in Hackberry and that these elections had never been challenged on this ground.

Mr. Riggs said the majority of the property owners in Hackberry had voted for the bond issue and wanted the recreation facilities.

Cameron clean-up campaign launched

Plans for a comprehensive clean-up campaign for the town of Cameron and the surrounding area, were formulated at a meeting of eight civic and fraternal organizations Thursday night of last week at Fred's Restaurant.

The meeting was called by the Gulf Coast Garden Club, and representatives were present from the Lions, Optimists, V.F.W., American Legion, V.F.W. Auxiliary, Altar Society, Baptist W. M. U., Methodist W.S.C.S, and Cameron Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Charles Rogers and Mrs. Frankie Henry were named co-chairmen of the committee.

Mrs. Robert Tanner, garden club president, was in charge of the meeting. A permanent intraclub committee was created to work on the campaign and a second meeting was set for December.

Professor William Hyatt, head of the plant science department of McNeese State College, who wrote the rules for the Louisiana Cleanest City Contest, was main speaker of the evening. He pointed out that cleanliness means beauty. In this area there is a natural beauty not common to most other sections of the stat. There are attractions not found anywhere else in the state such as wild birds of all varieties, fur animals and the best in salt water fishing be added.

Most unsightly and obvious in most towns, Mr. Hyatt said, is unkept ditches, fence and utility poles and trash along the roadsides and streets. These areas he said can be mowed and cleaned up with a vigorous campaign to wake up the people to it's unpleasant appearance.

LOUP DE FAGES

French bird expert is visitor here

By Elora Montie

Loup de Fages, a member of the French Society of Ornithology from Paris, France, was a guest of the Louisiana wildlife department at the Rockefeller refuge at Grand Chenier last week.

Mr. de Fages is touring the world studying various birds. He spent a week in Canada, several days in New York, Washington, Boston and Atlanta.

From here he goes to Texas, Colorado, Utah and California and then to Mexico.

On the Chenier he studied the ducks and geese.

Mr. deFages was born in Paris and graduated from the University of Paris. Three years ago he was in India studying birds.

Top corn growers named for parish

The names of the top corn growers in Cameron parish this year were announced this week by County Agent Hadley Fontenot.

The best acreage corn yield was turned in by Prevate Miller of Cow Island, who grew an average of 62 bushels of white Tuxpan corn per acre.

Runners-up, all who grew hybrid corn, were Randolph Fawvor, Grand Chenier, 58.5 bushels per acre; Severin Miller, Grand Chenier, 55.8 bushels; Whitney Baccigalopi, Grand Chenier, 55.5 bushels; and Enos Sturlese, Creole, 52.2 bushels.

Mr. Miller will be a guest of the Cameron Lions Club next Wednesday at Fred's restaurant and receive a plaque in recognition of his accomplishment.

Also to be guests of the Lions and to receive plaques will be Morris Semar and Lyons Breaux, who had the best rice yields in the parish this year. Mr. Simar had an average of 24.26 barrels and Mr. Breaux had 19.5 barrels per acre.

(One of the runners-up in the rice contest was Sidney Vincent of Klondike, who had an actual yield of 19.6 barrels per acre on 255 acres. The figure of 18 barrels, published by the Pilot last week, was an approximate figure gotten before the harvest was complete.)

Guest speaker at the Lions luncheon Wednesday will be Joe Richard, assistant director of agricultural extension, Louisiana State University. The club will be observing Farm & City Week.

SCHOOLS TO REMAIN OPEN

The public schools of Louisiana will remain open despite the clash between the state and federal government over intergration in New Orleans, Cameron School Superintendent U. E. Hackett said he was told in Baton Rouge Monday.

Mr. Hackett said that both Governor Jimmie Davis and State Superintendent Shelby Jackson told school officials from all sections of the state that there was nothing to be gained in the fight against intergration by abandoning public schools.

Cameron parish felt only slight effects from the tumultuous clash of state and federal governments in New Orleans and Baton Rouge this week. The only effect on schools here was the school holiday Monday.

Mr. Hackett said that Superintendent Jackson called him Saturday and asked that Cameron schools close in observance of a holiday called by Jackson for Monday, the day New Orleans schools were to be intergrated.

The parish superintendent said he contacted all but two of the school board (the two were out of the parish) and all agreed to observe the holiday as requested by the state superintendent. School principals had the holiday announced in various churches the following morning.

Mr. Hackett said that the lost day will have to be made up at the end of school as state schools are required to offer 180 days of instruction.

He said that instead of school ending on Friday, May 26, that it probably will end on Saturday, May 27.

THE SUBJECT of state legislature's battle with the federal court in Baton Rouge this week came up at the Cameron Lions Club meeting Wednesday.

Hadley Fontenot said he felt that the parish's state representative, Alvin Dyson, would appreciate hearing from the folks back home on what they thought about the segregation bills. He said it was "discouraging" for the lawmaker to have no words of support or expression of sentiment, one way or the other, on these important matters.

It was decided that while the club would take no public stand, individual members were urged to communicate their feelings to Mr. Dyson.

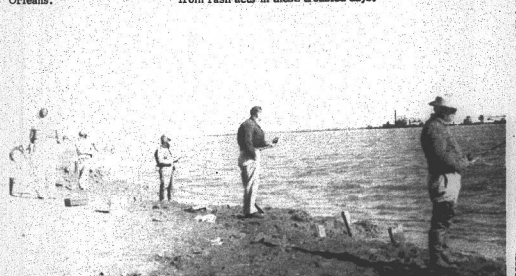
The Cameron representative has voted this week for all of the segregation bills introduced--as have most all the state legislators, with the exception of several from New Orleans.

A PILOT EDITORIAL

Wise words from Davis

Governor Jimmie H. Davis is to be congraulated on the good sense and restraint that he has shown during this crutial week of intergration turmoil in New Orleans and Baton Rouge.

The governor has consistently stated that he does not believe force will settle anything in the present struggle. Speaking on television to people of the state, he said:



"We do not intend to use the power vested in us by the people to provoke a physical class between our state and the forces of the federal government. This is an extreme course which would settle nothing except to prove which side had the greater might. It would add nothing to the merit of either side, but would leave us with a major question unresolved and the side imprudent enough to use force would bear a mark of shame for all to observe."

But most heartening of all was his assurance that he did not intend to let the present crisis destroy the public school system of the state. He told Louisianians:

"I did not call your representatives and senators into session to set into motion the machinery which will close the doors of our schools and abolish our system of public education. Those who advocate this drastic action are proposing no solution at all. You might just as well say that our homes can best be defended against invaders by burning the homes themselves, and thus removing the temptation to invade.

"This is a negative doctrine-- a "scorched earth" policy of self-penalty that will accomplish nothing. Louisiana has a bright future before it, but this future must be claimed by our children, who must be furnished with the intellectual capacity to achieve it."

We sincerely hope that all Louisianaians will follow Governor Davis' example by keeping cool, thinking clear and refraining from rash acts in these troubled days.

Grandpa Sanner dies at age 101

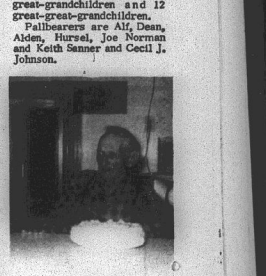
One of Cameron parish's oldest citizens died Monday evening.

He was Ernest (Grandpa) Sanner who was 101 years old. He died at the home of a son, Raymond Sanner, in Hackberry, after a lengthy illness.

Mr. Sanner was born in Matamoras, Mexico, in 1859. His father was from France and his mother from Breaux Bridge, La. The parents moved to Brownsville, Texas, while he was just a child. His father drowned in the Rio Grande and his mother died soon afterwards, leaving him an orphan.

The boy, eight years old then, lived with a couple in Galveston, Texas, but he was often mistreated. One day he was crying on the wharf when he was seen by a captain of a boat from Prien Lake, who asked him if he wanted to go with him.

Mr. Sanner came to this area, and lived with the boat captain and his family. When he became a man, he moved to Hackberry where he raised rice, hunted alligators and ran a small store.



He was janitor at the Hackberry school for many years, and it was there that he acquired the nickname "Grandpa".

Mr. Sanner celebrated his 100th birthday in March, 1959, and hundreds of relatives and friends came by to wish him good health as he began his second century.

Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. Wednesday at St. Peter's Catholic church in Hackberry with the Rev. Francis Lundgren, pastor officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Mr. Sanner is survived by his wife, the former Laura Vincent; two sons, Raymond and C. J. Sanner of Hackberry; 12 gradnchildren; 31 great-grandchildren and 12 great-great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers are Alf, Dean, Alden, Hursel, Joe Norman and Keith Sanner and Cecil J. Johnson.

Duck hunting is good

By GRITS GRESHAM

DUCK HUNTERS had fair to good success throughout the state for the opening of the first session of the season. The Pas-a-Loutre Shooting Grounds at the mouth of the Mississippi River had one of the best openings in its history, with the public hunters averaging about three duck per man per day on that first weekend hunt.

Shooting was also very good on the Biloxi marsh tract near Lake Borgne, the new public shooting area. The official name for this area is the Biloxi Marsh Public Shooting Grounds. It's in St. Bernard parish, and is 40,000 acres big. It's on the east side of Lake Borgne, and can be reached via Shell Beach or Hopedale, or directly across Borgne from Chef Menteur and the Rigolets if your boat is big enough.

The Southwest marshes, Catahoula Lake, and Wallace Lake were other good spots on opening day.

Louisiana people in general and hunters and fisthermen in particular, want a sound, long-range wildlife management program directed by a "staggered-term" Commission. That is evident following the Nov. 8 vote on Amendment No. 2, which was defeated decisively. That made the third time in eight years that the voters have solidly indicated their preference on this issue.

Much has been accomplished in behalf of wildlife in Louisiana in the past eight years under the Commission, but I look for even greater strides in the coming years. With adequate authority to set seasons and bag limits, a license structure that will more nearly bring in the funds needed to do the job, and sportsmen who are ready for progress, the department should be ready to wheel and deal.

Using a varmit call in Natchitches parish last week, Lane Foshee thought he had lowered the boom on a wolf with his .257 magnum, it turned out to be a big, 24 pound bobcat.

Two of the Commission biologists, Dan Dennett and J. B. Kidd, recently reported on the results of their squirrel tagging study by giving a paper on it at the 1960 conference of the Southeastern Association of Game and Fish Commissioners.

The study was made on the Grant-Rapides Game Management Area (which was lost last year when owners of the land did not renew the lease), and involved the trapping and tagging of 413 squirrels—99 in 1957, 103 in 1958, and 211 in 1959.

It is interesting and significant that almost the same percentage of the tagged animals were killed during the hunting season immediately following their trapping—15.6% in 1957; 14% in 1958; and 15.5% in 1959. This would seem to indicate that about 15% of the squirrels on an area would be harvested by hunters during controlled hunts like those held on G-R. 19.8% of the squirrels trapped in 1959, and two were killed during the 1959 hunt. From this it's pretty plain that this year's squirrel crop will make up a very small part of next year's and practically none of the population two years from now.

South Cameron band to be at LSU band night

The South Cameron high school band will be among the nearly 4,000 musician from 70 Louisiana high schools who will march and play Saturday at LSU's annual Band Night.

The annual Band Night performance will make up the entire half-time show at the LSU-Wake Forest game in Tiger Stadium.

Guest conductors will be Roy Welch, state supervisor of music, and Walter Minniear, band director at Fair Park High School in Shreveport. Minniear is president of the Louisiana Music Education Assn.

Welch will direct the mass band performances of "Touchdown LSU" and "Fight for LSU." Both these compositions were written by Castro Carazo, LSU band director in Huey Long's time. The colorful governor wrote the words to Carazo's music.

Minniear will lead the bandsmen in "Tiger Rag" and "Sweet Dreams," an LSU song composed by Gene Quaw, director of social recreation at LSU.

LSU Tiger Band Director Thomas N. Tyra will conduct "LSU Alma Mater" and "Dixie".

The half-time performance will be climaxed by the formation of a gigantic "LSU" on the football field. This formation resembles a kaleidoscope, with its array of bright colored band uniforms.

The 160 member LSU Tiger Band will also be on hand for the event.

Adult Study Club meets

The Adult Study Club was held Monday night at the "Our Lady Star of the Sea church in Cameron. Rev. Eugene Senniville led the group and answered questions asked by the group.

First inspection station set up

Cameron has its first official safety inspection station with the licensing of the Coastal Auto Repair Shop this week. It is one of 3,000 needed throughout the state for the inauguration of the safety inspection program in January.

The Cameron Service Garage has also made an application to be an inspection station.

The Department of Public Safety estimates that one million vehicles will be inspected throughout the state. The car owner will be charged not more than a dollar for the safety inspection.

The inspection law was passed by the last session of the Louisiana Legislature and it is expected that the inspection will result in fewer traffic accidents and deaths.

Sixteen other states have an inspection law and their death rates are lower than states without a safety inspection.

Draft boards have a new classification

New procedures to identify men who would be qualified for military service in an emergency, but who are not accepted under current Armed Forces standards, have been put into effect by Louisiana Selective Service local boards Major General Raymond H. Fleming, Louisiana Selective Service Director, has announced. The new procedures have been adopted on a national basis.

These men will no longer be placed in Class IV-F, General Fleming said. It is expected that Selective Service Regulations will be amended to provide in the near future a new Selective Service classification for men not accepted under current standards, but who are available and who would be qualified in an emergency, the State Director added.

Until the contemplated changes in the regulations are adopted, those men the local boards find would qualify in an emergency will keep their current classification. Local Boards will continue to place in class IV-F those men the Armed Forces are unlikely to need even in an emergency, the State Director said.

Armed Forces Examining Stations will adapt their procedures to report to local boards after examination whether a man is currently qualified, may be qualified in an emergency, or is unlikely to be needed for military service even in an emergency, General Fleming added.

The State Director pointed out that current standards of acceptability have resulted in high rejection rates. Many of those men not being accepted today and who are now classified IV-F would have to serve in an emergency under altered standards.

Approximately 85,876 men are classified IV-F in Louisiana as of June 30, 1960, out of 426,756 men classified by Local Boards since 1948. Far fewer will be put in this class in the future under the new procedure.

GRAND CHENIER

First part of hunting season ends

By ELORA MONTIE

The first half of the duck season ended Tuesday, with most of the hunters hereabouts pleased so far with their luck. All hope that the second half of the split will be as good or better than the first.

In the meantime, while waiting on the season to resume, the hunters are enjoying plenty of "armchair hunting" arguing over such things as whether the ducks are decoying good this year or not.

ROAD PROGRESS

The Coastal Construction Co., resurfacing the Grand Chenier road, has completed that section between their plant and the Superior canal bridge, and are now working west from the plant toward the Mermentau river bridge.

Cub Scouts who distributed stickers reminding people to vote last week were Howard Dupuis, John Doxey and Mark Spivy. They were assisted by Mrs. Perry Doxey, den mother, and Mrs. Spivey.

GET WELL WISHES

Get well wishes go this week to the following: Mrs. H. A. Miller, Mrs. Audrey Miller, Mrs. Audrey Murphy, Frank Vaughan (who underwent surgery Friday morning in Memorial Hospital in Lake Charles), Arnold Jr., and Betty Louise Jones, Gilford Miller, Albert Cohen, who have been suffering from the flu.

The Grand Chenier Elementary school pupils and teachers are busy this week planning their Christmas programs.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Provost have moved their trailer here from Houma and are living near the Dallas Cities Service station. Mr. Provost is a tool pusher for the John Mecom Rig which is drilling in the front marsh in front of Mrs. Sam Doland's on Dr. M. O. Miller's land.

Mrs. Dave Murphy was badly burned on her right hand and legs Friday when her gown caught on fire as she was trying to hang a picture on the wall back of the heater. Mrs. Marie Miller took Mrs. Murphy to Dr. Dix immediately for treatment. She is doing well. The Murphys live in the Shelton Millers apartment here.

Little Charolette Brasseaux and Willard Little will undergo tonsil operations in the Abbeville hospital Thursday.

NEW CARS

New cars on the Chenier this week are a 1961 Ford Fairlane, purchased by Mr. and Mrs. Lincel Ducote, a new Pontiac purchased by Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Harper, a 1961 Chevrolet pick-up truck bought by Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Boyd Jr., who recently moved here from Johnson Bayou. Mrs. Boyd is employed for Tennessee Gas Co. here by the Sam Warren Contracting Company.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mrs. and Mrs. Kenneth Dunn of Grand Chenier announces the birth of their first child, Kendall Leigh. He weighed 7 lbs. 5 oz.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dunn Jr. of Galveston, Texas, and J. F. Burdette and Mrs. Marie Burdette of Houston, Texas. Great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Jones of Sulphur and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burdette of Oklahoma.

WARD BYRON THERIOT

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Theriot of Grand Chenier announce the arrival of Ward Byron, born November 8 at Carter's clinic. He weighed 6 lbs.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Julian East and Mr. and Mrs. Claudius Theriot all of Grand Chenier. Great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Amar Theriot of Chenier Perdu and Mrs. Delma East of Lake Charles.

The Stephen Theriots now have 4 children.

The baby was baptized Sunday morning at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church with Mr. and Mrs. Darrel East as sponsors.

REVIVAL ENDS

The First Baptist church ended their Revival Sunday, with a good attendance. A covered dish dinner was served.

Cardinal Renault from Calvary Baptist church of Lake Charles, Cameron and Pecan Island attended the revival.

The Cameron Masonic Lodge sponsored a barbecue Sunday, Nov. 5th in "Captain Charlie's" road-side park here. Attending were members, their wives and the Eastern Star members and families.

Barbecue chicken and beef was served to some 150 persons.

The South Cameron Band, directed by Raymond Sibly, will go to Baton Rouge Saturday, where they will take part in the L. S. U. band day and see the LSU-Wake Forest game.

Hunting reported good

By BERNICE STEWART

Hunting has been reported very good by those at the Whitney Broussard camp, which has been filled with hunters from Florida, Baton Rouge, Alexandria, and New Orleans. Mrs. Odra Hebert of Cueydan has assisted Mrs. Broussard during the rush season.

Johnny David reports that hunting is much better than last year and that game is more plentiful than at any time since Hurricane Audrey, including French ducks and mallards.

On the sick list recently were Mrs. Gus Laurents and Mrs. Curley Cormier.

Mrs. Emery Sonnier underwent surgery last Tuesday in a Morgan City hospital.

Mrs. Odile Benoit, injured last week on Klondike highway, near her home while driving geese off the road, had her arm put in a cast Friday morning. She is reported in fair condition.

Saturday Curley Cormier drove Harry Benoit to Texas City, Texas, where the latter is employed by a tug boat concern.

Later Mr. Cormier visitted his parents, former residents of this community, the Z. N Cormiers of Winnie, Texas.

Mrs. Paul Laurents, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Blanche Bourque, of Bell City, is reported imporving after having recently broken her hip. All are former residents of here.

Mr. and Mrs. Burton David of Oklahoma City, Okla., have been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Percy David during the past week. They left Sunday to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Trahan, Sr., drove Friday to Alvin, Texas, with Arden Hill, their son-in-law who is employed in Cameron.

Sunday little Paula Ann LaCombe was honored on her fourth birthday by a party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe LaCombe.

Pictures were made; games were played; and colored balloons were given each child as favors.

Enjoying fruit punch and a snowy, pink candle-lit cake were Dora Dean Dugas, Billy Dugas, Michael Dugas, Lee Ann David, Brenda Ann Laborne, Carl, Cathy, and Doug Cormier, Earl and Roland LaCombe, Mesdames Percy David, Alton Dugas, Curley Cormier, and Joe LaCombe.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Flash, Jr., Susanne and Brent of Ville Platte spent Thursday and Friday with Mrs. Flash's parents, the Gus Laurents, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy LaPoint and little son of Lake Charles spent the past weekend with her parents, the George Kleins.

Birth Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Alshire, Jr., announce the arrival of a son October 27 in the Jennings Legion hospital. The 9 lb. 5 oz. lad was named Danny Leo.

Welcoming him are a brother, Allen, 4; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Abshire, ad Mr. and Mrs. Howard all of Lowery, great-arents, Mrs. Leo Somof Klondike, Mr. and Mrs. aul Dupont of Lake Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Moore of Andrus Cove, and Tulbert Abshire of Lyons Point.

Named as godparents are Mrs. Philip Ray Myer of Lake Charles and Floyd Vincent of Beaumont, Texas.

Returning last week from a recent visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Quatreveaux in New Orleans were Mr. and Mrs. Austin Abshire, Sr., and son, Logan.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Myer of Lake Charles spent the weekend with the Sustin Abshires, Sr.

Mrs. Myer is attending LaGrange High School while Mr. Myer is enrolled at McNeese State College.

Sunday Mrs. A. P. Stewart and Mrs. C. H. Fox, Sr., drove to U. S. L., Lafayette, where they were among forty guests, including Pres., and Mrs. Fletcher, relatives and friends of home economics majors at a Thanksgiving dinner in Whittington Hall. The feast was prepared and served by the majors themselves, among whom was Sue Stewart, daughter of Mrs. Stewart.

In the afternoon Mrs. Fox, Mrs. Stewart and Sue drove to Broussard to visit Miss Gertrude Stromer, a former teacher at Klondike.

Rice harvest is completed

The 1960 rice harvest has been completed in Cameron parish with the exception of several fields of second crop rice that is now being harvested, County Agent Hadley Fontenot reports.

The second crop harvest, being done by Charles Precht and Charles Hebert, and by Clyde LeDoux, is being watched with interest by other parish farmers. If successful the practice could mean any additional barrels of rice per acre each year for farmers here.

Mr. Fontenot explained that a second crop is grown on the same field by reflooding immediately after the first cutting. A second stand comes up from the stubble and if it ripes before frost sets in, the farmer has himself an additional crop.

The county agent also reported that the weather has been very favorable for winter grasses, and rye, oats and clover have gotten off to a good start. Because the winter marshes have been deteriorating, more and more cattlemen are planting winter grasses in the parish.

An interesting experiment is being conducted by John Paul Crain at Grand Chenier with marsh grasses. He is fertilizing a patch of marsh cord grass with nitrogen to see if he can improve its growth and protein content for grazing this winter.

5TH YEAR -- No. 8 CAMERON, LA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1960 10¢ A COPY

Oyster season to open next week

A four-month oyster season will open in Calcasieu lake next Thursday, Dec. 1. This will be the second oyster season for the lake since the state health department permitted the opening of the lake after a 14 year closure due to pollution.

Rep. Alvin Dyson said that the health department has made several tests of the oysters in recent weeks and that they are in very good condition.

He also announced that the department has approved the shipment of Calcasieu lake oysters out of the state this year.

The same rules used last year for taking the oysters from the lake will apply this year. They are:

(1) Oysters may not be taken at any time in the Calcasieu river nor from an area 500 feet on each side of the ship channel beginning north of St. John Island.

(2) The prohibited areas will be posted and will be patroled during the harvesting season.

(3) Harvesting will be permitted only from Dec. 1 patrolled during the harvesting season.

(3) Harvesting will be permitted only from Dec. 1 through March 31 and will be prohibited at any other time.

(4) The health department reserves the right to close down the oystering at anytime that the pollution level becomes excessive.

The oysters may only be taken by hand tongs, Mr. Dyson added. No dredging will be permitted.

The Louisiana wildlife and fisheries department will again patrol the lake to see that the above conditions are met. A wildlife boat will be stationed at Cameron during the season.

Mr. Dyson said that wildlife workers would be here Tuesday to erect signs in the Lake marking the polluted areas.

The representative stated that there are no leases being given on oyster beds in the lake, that the beds are open to anyone who follow the above regulations.

There are indications that the oysters will prove to be a big commercial crop for Cameron fishermen this year. Last year, when the oystering was started in February, local dealers did not have time to set up adequate facilities to process and market the oysters.

This year there will be several oyster houses in operation here, including one operated by Roland Trosclair and one by the Cameron Seafood Company.

Trapping of muskrats to start Dec. 1

The muskrat trapping season will open here Thursday, Dec. 1, with the prospects somewhat better than they were last year.

Reports are that the muskrats are more plentiful on Johnson Bayou than they have been in the past. Most of the rat trapping will be in the western part of the parish around the Bayou and Hackberry. There are very few muskrats in eastern part.

Alvin Dyson, who supervises the activity of some 25 or 30 trappers on the vast 158,000-acre Miami Corp. tract, said he will be trapping mostly for nutria, which are in about the same number as in the past, except on the Bayou where they seem to be multiplying faster.

Mr. Dyson said he expects a better price on nutria and mink this season.

Mink trapping opened Nov. 15. There is no season on nutria, as they are outlawed by the state (because of damage to farm crops), but Mr. Dyson said their fur would not become prime until around Dec. 15.

Red Cross planning group is named

Walter Richard and Mrs. L. D. McClatchey have been named to the planning committee of the 1961 Louisiana State Conference of the American Red Cross, the Calcasieu Cameron Chapter announced today.

The planning group members were among 33 delegates from the Lake Charles area who took part in the 3rd annual state conferencc of Red Cross that ended Saturday in Alexandria.

Program participants included Mr. and Mrs. Richard, who led a reading in a pagenat directed by Mrs. McClatchey, and Dianne Gabriel, of St. Charles Academy, who discussed "Junior Red Cross In The Community And School" at one of the sessions.

S/SGT David Rice, of Chennault Air Force Base, served as organist at the conference.

Auto safety inspection set

BATON ROUGE-- A statewide automobile safety inspection program is scheduled to begin in January. Over one million cars are expected to be checked for defective brakes, headlights, tail lights, stop lights, horn and windshield wipers.

Official inspection stations are now being licensed by the Department of Public Safety in preparation for the January inspections. The Louisiana Legislature has set the maximum charge for the inspection at one dollar.

"Safer cars and fewer traffic accidents and deaths may be the result of the safety inspection program," said Col. Murphy J. Roden, director of the Department of Public Safety. "The 16 states with inspection programs have a lower death rate than those without a safety inspection."

Dysons guests of governor at mansion

Rep. and Mrs. Alvin Dyson were guests of Gov. and Mrs. Jimmie H. Davis at the Louisiana mansion in Baton Rouge last weekend, and attended the LSU-Wake Forest football game with the governor.

Mrs. Davis, however, was taken suddenly ill and had to undergo an operation over the weekend.

Seven other state legislators and their wives were in the weekend party. The governor has a different group of legislators each weekend as his guests.

Rep. Dyson said that unless the current special legislative session conflicts, Gov. Davis, and possibly his 15-year-old son, will be guests at the Crain Brothers hunting camp at Little Chenier, Dec. 16 and 17 for a duck hunt.

Cattle walkway on Mayo Boudreaux's place

Cattle walkways prove to be very beneficial here

BY TOM SHIFLET, SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE

Marsh ranges along the Gulf Coast of Louisiana grow an abundance of high quality forage. However, much of the forage is not utilized because cattle will not venture more than a quarter of a mile into the marsh when it is covered with water.

This results in overgrazing near the ridge and little or no grazing further into the marsh. It is not at all uncommon to see large areas of good range not grazed because it is isolated by boggy marsh, sloughs or bayous.

A change has taken place in these marshy areas during the past 10 years as a result of cooperation between rancher and Soil Conservation technicians of the Gulf Coast Soil Conservation District in southwest Louisiana. In 1950 the idea of building a dump or levee into the marsh so cattle could better utilize the forage was born and during the early months of that year.

Mayo Boudreaux of Oak Grove in Cameron Parish built the first walkway. Thus, Cattle walkways, as they are known, were born and the income from livestock in the marshy areas of coastal Louisiana increased -- nearly doubled.

Many ranchers report that the walkways pay for themselves in any one year after installation. This year, more walkways have been built in the Gulf Coast Soil Conservation District than in the three previous years combined.

Cattle walkways are levees, resembling built-up roads. They are constructed with draglines operating on wooden mats and cost between $1,500 and $2,000 per mile to build. The walkways provide high, firm ground which cattle use for traveling into the marsh to better cover the foraging areas.

At the same time they provide high ground for calving and resting and feed locations. They also enable the rancher to get over his ranch much better to look after his stock, thereby making livestock handling easier. Barrow pits, dug to provide dirt for the walkways and also drain the adjoining marshes, are staggered from side to side to provide access to the marshland on either side. These barrow pits prevent unnatural drainage or salt intrusion and provides open water for wildlife.

Mark Richard of Cameron, Louisiana, is one rancher who has found that walkways pay. Richard owns three marsh units east of Cameron. Each unit is made up primarily of salt marsh with some ridge land. One unit could not be used at all until two miles of walkways were constructed.

Now it will safely carry 55 cows on a yearlong basis. From these cows, 40 calves averaging 375 pounds or a total of 15,000 pounds of beef can br sold. At 20 cents a pound this figures at $3,000 gross per year, or approximately the cost of the walkways when constructed. A part of this cost was shared by the U. S. Department of Agriculture through the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Richard has built approximately one-half mile of walkways on each of the two other places. He can run about the same number of cows as before but his beef production is much higher. Before building the walkways, he could expect to sell about 90 calves averaging 280 pounds, or 25,000 pounds of beef.

Now he sells 115 calves averaging between 350 and 400 pounds each or a net increase of nearly 18,000 pounds of marketable beef. At 20 cents a pound this amounts to a gross increase of $3,600 per year, or almost double the total cost of constructing the walkways.

Richard points out that walkways have permitted him to change from marsh cattle to grade Angus and sell stocker and feeder calves rather than slaughter calves. This has meant an increase in selling price.

He can now creep feed his calves and sell a heavier and better quality animal. With walkways he has to run fewer bulls than before and can better care for them. Labor is reduced and fewer horses are required to work the cattle.

Another rancher, Watkins Miller of Grand Chenier found that he could double his beef production by constructing one-fourth mile of walkway. Miller runs cattle on a small salt marsh range unit. Prior to building the walkway he could use about half of his acreage only occasionally and the land would safely carry only 20 brood cows. From these cows he could expect 15 calves at a gross market value of $750.

The walkways provide full use of all his land and he can safely carry 40 cows with a crop of 30 or more calves. Gross return now totals $1,-500. The walkways cost $750, part of which was shared by the Cameron Parish Association of Soil Conservation so that gross return the first year more than paid for the cost of the installation--proving that walkways do not cost --they pay.

Mark Richard is awarded certificate

By Former Area Resident

European trip described

(EDITOR'S NOTE--Of interest to many friends in this area is the European trip which Mr. and Mrs. Jaime Castrejon made this summer. Mrs. Castrejon, who sent us the following account, is the former Miss Ruby Nickel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elden Nickel of the Bell City and Sweetlake area.)

We spent the summer in Europe partly on business, partly for study and pleasure. In all we covered eleven countries and many many cities and villages.

On June 25 we left New York City on a Boeing Jet-Clipper flying at an altitude of some 37,000 feet. (Actually a little over seven miles up) In six and one half hours we were in Paris.

While in Paris, we visited the Louvre, Notre Dame, the Eiffel Tower and many other historical museums. In Versailles we saw the Palace of the former kings where so much of France's history took place. The rich interiors, walls adorned with oriental silk, the exquisite tapestries, and the beautiful furniture inspired an elegant splendor.

Also, of equal beauty and charm was the palace of Napoleon at Fontainebleau with its many acres of enchanting forests and gardens.

Some of the most scenic mountains and picturesque villages were seen in Switzerland. We visited Bern, Interloken, Zurich and Lucerne.

Of all the countries Italy was the most interesting. In Milan the original painting of "The Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vince on the wall of the little church, Santa Maria della Grazia was very inspiring. Another point of interest was LaScala Theatre.

In Florence we visited the Uffizi Art Gallery, the most renowned and conspicuous in the world. In this as well as in the Pitti Palace are found some of the best paintings by the famous renaissance artists.

Rome is simply grand. The famous Cistine Chapel where the work of Michaelangelo, "The Creation to the Last Judgement" is displayed causes one to stand in solemn wonder. It is incredible how a man could paint like that. The old Roman Ruins, the Catacombs, and the Church of St. Peter in which stands the impressive statue of "Moses" by Michelangelo were thought provoking. We went to Assisi to see the Basilica of St. Francis of Assisi. Leaving the mainland, a boatride lasting an hour and a half brought us to the romantic Isle of Capri. Of all waters the Mediterranean Sea is decidedly the most beautiful blue.

In Venice we found it exciting to travel down the Grand Canal and other smaller streets by "gondola". St. Mark's Cathedral and the old Ducal Palace were very interesting.

"The Ruins of Pompeii" give one the feeling that you were in a world of ancient times. To walk on those old stone streets was, indeed, impressive.

In Vienna, Austria everything was charmingly lovely with music everywhere. We saw the monuments to Brahms, Beethoven, and Mozart. We also, saw the garden with the little cafe where Johann Strauss made the waltz famous. While here, we also attended a concert.

Germany, seemingly has made much progress since World War II. We found Bavaria with its lovely mountains one of the most exotic places. We saw the Castle, "Neuschwanstein" of Ludwig II which looked like it had popped out of a fairytale--it was simply beautiful! Many other old castles were extremely lovely. In Cologne, the Cathedral is one of the finest examples of Gothic structures in the world.

Holland with its windmills was quaint and picturesque; and in Brussels, Belgium many buildings made of marble were blackened with age. In Belgium we saw the most beautiful handmade lace.

The first stop in Spain was with relatives who live in Santander, a beautiful beach resort. Here we visited the famous Prehistoric Caves "Altamira" and were amazed at the prehistoric paintings of animals which were carved on the walls of these caves. In southern Spain we touched the Moorish influence. The best example is the Alhambra in Granada.

One almost feels he is in Arabia when going through these old Mosques. Many of the little towns looked centuries old. This was somewhat true in other parts of Europe too.

Portugal was interesting for its friendly little villages. In many country towns people retained costumes in dress and

Five Hackberry property owners withdraw from suit

Five of the 49 property owners who filed suit against the Hackberry recreation commission on Nov. 8 this week petitioned the Cameron district court to remove their names from the suit.

They are P. C. White, Mrs. Julia Ellender, Lenard Hughes, August J. Hebert and Peter Constance, Sr.

In their petition to the court, they state that they "have given to no person neither written or oral authority to list them as plaintiffs in said suit, or to bring said suit on their behalf."

They ask for a court order removing their names from the recreation suit.

Police Juror Charles Riggs of Hackberry said he knew of at least five more property owners who also plan to have their names taken off the suit.

He quoted these people as saying that they had been asked to sign a petition stating that they voted against the recreation bond issue on Sept. 17, but that they did not know that their names were being attached to a suit.

The suit was brought by the property owners against the Hackberry recreation commission on the grounds that boundaries of the recreation bond issue on Sept. 17, but that they did not know that district were not fully defined and that the commissioners had failed to take an oath of office.

The petitioners asked that the $290,000 bond issue and four mill maintenance tax approved by a majority of Hackberry property owners in the election be declared null and void for these reasons.

Joining the property owners in the suit against the recreation commission last week were three large oil companies who own property in Hackberry. Filing as intervenors were Pan American Petroleum Corp., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. and Cities Service Refining Corp.

The district attorney's office, which is representing the recreation commission, this week filed an exception with the court stating that the plaintiffs have "no cause or right of action" and asking that all petitions be dismissed at the cost of the petitioners.

Legion backs stand of La. legislature

The stand taken by Rep. Alvin Dyson and the Louisiana legislature in their fight to maintain segregation in public schools in Louisiana was backed by a resolution of Richard Bros. Post 176, American Legion, held last week.

Members expressed their objection to the federal government's intervention in state affairs.

However, the members deplored the action of the legislature in ousting duly elected officials from their elective offices.

Commander Gervis Conner presented a past commander's pin to Edison Mhire and commended him for his leadership of the post from 1958 to 1960.

Commander Conner urged all members to pay their dues if they have not already done so.

Runaway boys fail to get very far

Two Hackberry brothers--one 12 and one 14--failed to get very far when they tried to run away from home last week. They were picked up in Lake Charles, and Deputy Jim Constance went up and brought them back home.

Creole cattle swim Cameron ship channel

A familiar sight in this area twice a year is the moving of the large herd of cattle back and forth between grazing rangins at Creole and Johnson Bayou. This picture was taken recently by Tom Shiflet of the Soil Conservation Service as the cattle were swimming the ship channel at Cameron. About 1000 head of cattle were in this herd.

GUEST EDITORIAL

Against boycott

(From the Franklin Banner-Tribune)

During last week's legislative sessions Senator Speedy Long advocated economic boycotts against the negroes of Louisiana.

The Banner-Tribune is opposed to this rash and imprudent position taken by the north Louisiana legislature and calls upon its readers to refrain from such action.

The negro citizen is part of the Louisiana community. He works in the sugar factories and the cane fields, in the automotive agencies and in the dry cleaning establishments, in the service companies and in the iron works.

He runs drug stores and grocery stores, sells insurance, practices medicine, nurses the sick, and is engaged in a thousand other meaningful and important positions of responsibility.

One of Louisiana's greatest problems down theough the years has been the failure of white and colored people to get together and plan the development of new industries that would mean new job opportunities for everyone. As an example of an area that has not been fully explored one need look only at the vast possibilities offered for new businesses in the field of industrial uses of the byproducts of agriculture, such as bagasse.

The failure to provide decent job openings has meant a great economic loss to every city in Louisiana, and these losses can never be accurately measured.

However, despite some shortcomings great forward strides have been made and new openings created with each passing year. Organizations like the Ku Klux Klan and the NAACP haven't provided these opportunities; and F. E. P. C. could never provide them; they have been created by the citizens of the various communities working in a spirit of harmony and understanding.

What Senator Speedy Long proposes would tend to destroy the progress that has been made and should be rejected by the employers of Louisiana.

Social security designed for farm, city folks

FARM CITY WEEK is a Nationwide observance calling attention to the common goals and common needs of farm and city people. In keeping with the observance, Julian Covington, district manager of the Lake Charles social security office, pointed out that social security is designed to meet the needs of both farm and city people.

"It wasn't always this way, Covington said. "In the beginning, only industrial and commercial workers were covered by the program. Later, self-employed people's earnings were counted toward social security. Also, some farm employees were also covered. In 1955, self-employed farmers were covered for the first time. Now, the program is the same for farm and non-farm people".

Covington added that this year additional changes were made in the social security law. Under the new law, both farm and city people will be a little more secure, a little safer from want because of the retirement, death, or disability of the bread winner. Paying the cost of this program by contributions from their earnings, employees, and their employers, and self-employed persons take care of tomorrow's worries today.

In Thee, O Lord, do I put my trust: let me never be put to confusion.—(Psalm 71:1)

Those who put their trust in God, completely and without reservation—who say "Thy will, not mine, be done" in wondrous faith, shall evermore be calm and strong, free from doubt and confusion.

LIBRARY LETTER

New books are received here

By Mary Brand
Cameron Parish Librarian

The library has several new books on a variety of subjects. One of these that is on the best seller list is the book "Taken at the Flood; the Story of Albert D. Lasker" by John Gunther. This is the story of Lasker, who as a young man went into advertising. His great success in this field established him as "the father of modern advertising".

One of Lasker's great contributions to the people of America was his efforts to see that funds were devoted to Medical research. In 1943 Lasker discovered that of the money raised by the Cancer Society not one cent went to research.

A book that will interest anyone that loves the natural beauty of our country is "Autumn Across America" by Edwin W. Teale. It is a naturalists record of a 20,000 mile journey through the North American autumn. The book contains many photographs taken by the author.

Other new books at your library are "Conscience of a Conservative" by Barry Goldwater, "Purs; Glamorous and Practical" by Frank G. Ashbrook, "Testament of Trust" by Faith Baldwin, "Mrs. Fitzherbert" by Anita Leslie and "The Waste Makers" by Vance Packard.

Tennessee Gas announces new gas completion

A successful natural gas completion in the Louisiana area of an offshore step-out well confirming an earlier test was announced this week by Tennessee Gas and Oil Company, a division of Tennessee Gas Transmission Company of Houston.

The well, in West Cameron Block 165, tested at 2.3 million cubic feet of gas per day, with four barrels of condensate per million, on a 12/64-inch choke from perforations at 9,691–9,697 feet. Production is from a 43-foot net sand in the Lower Cibicides opima zone of the Miocene Age.

Located on a 5000-acre block purchased at a federal-state lease sale last February, it is approximately one mile northeast of a discovery well brought in on the same block in August. The discovery well was potentialed at 3.5 million cubic feet of gas and 72 barrels of condensate per day on a 14/64-inch choke from perforations at 9,782–9,794 and 9,810–9,816 feet.

Farmers Home Ad. broadens program

Farmers who have regular off-farm employment, if otherwise eligible, may obtain farm operating and development loans from the Farmers Home Administration, under the recently revised regulations of the agency.

Linward J. Manuel, FHA county supervisor for Beauregard, Calcasieu and Cameron Parishes, said the new regulation went into effect October 1. Previously, except in rural development counties, a farmer had to spend most of his time farming in order to qualify for a loan.

Experience gained in rural development countries has shown that many farmers who are regularly employed off the farm can profitable use the Farmers Home Administration's credit facilities to increase the farm portions of their total incomes. The regulation, which has limited credit assistance to farmers who spend most of their time farming, prevented some from obtaining the maximum income from their farms and from taking advantage of opportunities for industrial and other off-farm employment.

Other eligibility requirements remain unchanged. Applicants must have sufficient farm experience to carry on sound farm operations, must need credit, and be unable to obtain financial assistance from other sources. As in the past, credit will be extended only to operators of farms that are family-type size or smaller.

No loan will be made unless a plan for the coming year's farming operations shows that income from the farm and other sources will be large enough to enable the farm family to have a reasonable standard of living, pay debts, and have an adequate reserve for emergencies.

Loan funds may be used to pay farm operating costs, purchase equipment and livestock, pay farm development costs, and refinance certain debts. The interest rate is five percent. Repayment schedules depend upon the purposes for which funds are advanced and upon the estimated income from the farms. Usually, loans made for real estate purposes will be from funds advanced by private lenders and insured by the agency.

The Farmers Home Administration office is located in the Federal Building, Room 2530, Lake Charles. The agency also supplies credit for farm housing and soil and water conservation.

Don't take white shrimp

L. D. Young, Jr., director of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, this week requested shrimp trawlers to curtail trawling operations and move to other bodies of water when small white shrimp are taken in numbers during trawling operations.

Young's request for cooperation from commercial trawlers was made following a statement issued by James H. Summersgill, president of the Louisiana Shrimp association, that large numbers of small white shrimp were being taken in trawls.

"Depletion of the small white shrimp supply would seriously injure Louisiana's growing production of white shrimp in future seasons," Summersgill said. "This should be avoided, but it will take the understanding and cooperation of all commercial shrimpers."

Summersgill reported that during the period from November 15 to December 15, present shrimp laws call for a count per pound harvesting of brown shrimp.

Unfortunately, he added, white shrimp are being driven out of the "inside" waters with the passing of each cold front.

The small white shrimp are moving out into deeper water and are being taken in great numbers along with the brown shrimp. During the first part of November some catches have been running between 200 and 300 shrimp to the pound.

"Unless the trawlers cooperate fully, much of the young stock of white shrimp will be depleted," Summersgill said. "This will lower harvest figures for white shrimp next spring and will have a definite adverse effect on Louisiana's rapid return to leading state in shrimp production."

The progress referred to by Summersgill resulted from corrective shrimp laws pushed through the Louisiana Legislature about two years ago when landing reports revealed that the State of Louisiana had slipped from its position as the biggest shrimp-producing state and dropped to a poor third.

"Final figures of shrimp landings for the year will probably reveal that Louisiana has regained its prominence as the leading shrimp state in the country," Young said, in calling upon trawlers to exercise sound conservation measures during this period when a great deal of the state supply of white shrimp are being driven toward the gulf by weather conditions.

Christmas seals are mailed out

Christmas seals were mailed out this week to all residents of the two parishes by the Calcasieu-Cameron Tuberculosis Association, the 54th year that this method has been used to raise money to fight tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis is far from being licked, according to Dr. Thomas H. DeLaureal, seal sale chairman. In 1960, there were 264 known cases of TB in Cameron and Calcasieu alone, and some 1,255 new cases reported in the state last year.

"The dollars you send for Christmas Seals will work for the advancement of health, education, finding hidden tuberculosis cases, research and the association's varied services to the patients and to the public", Dr. DeLaureal said.

Vameron area seal chairmen this year are Mrs. Lee Nunez, Grand Chenier; Mrs. Burton Daigle, Cameron and Dr. S. E. Carter, Creole.

Little Chats about Legal Notices

Copyright 1960 by JAMES E. POLLARD

Published as a public service, in cooperation with the Louisiana Press Association

To be put on notice

(No. 1 in a Series)

Sometimes after a thing has been done, and interested party complains, "But they didn't tell me." If his complaint is justified it may or may not be too late to remedy the matter. In effect, however, the trouble was that he was not given due notice.

In the truly democratic countries an important legal principle is involved in the fundamental right "to be put on notice". This is true for the individual, as well as for business and other interests and for the community at large. Only the dictator countries restrict or deny this basic right to be put on notice.

The purpose of being put on notice is two-fold: (1) To inform the individual or others concerned as to some contemplated action that concerns their rights, and or (2) to enable them to take whatever steps they deem necessary to protect those rights.

As is pretty well known there are various ways of being put on notice. One is by personal service or direct notice. Another is by posting in a public place, and a third is usually done in a bona fide local newspaper of paid general circulation.

With the rapid growth of population and the complexity of modern living, personal service is not always feasible or is too costly where numbers of people are concerned. In such circumstances the bona fide newspaper is an effective medium. It is no accident that in thousands of situations, the law provides specifically for this method of giving notice.

You can grow better flowers and shrubs with good compost

COUNTY AGENT

Mrs. Charles Precht is a great believer in organic fertilizers. Compost is a very good source of such fertilizer and she had the County Agent get her the latest recommendation for it's production. Many readers are probably also interested in the use and how to make good compost.

Horticulture specialist, Warren A. Meadows of the L. S. U. Agriculture Extension Service has listed below what compost is and how to produce it.

Compost is decayed or partially decayed organic matter which is used primarily for the purpose of improving the physical condition of soils. This organic matter contains little actual plant food or nutrients. Benefits derived from the addition of organic matter to the soil are related primarily to the development of better root systems of plants and more efficient utilization of plant food elements which may be added by means of commercial fertilizers.

Compost piles can be made of any organic material which has a reasonably rapid decomposition rate. Examples of such material would be barnyard manure, leaves, grass clippings, dried straw etc.

The procedure in building a compost pile would be as follows:

1. Select a well drained site in the corner of the garden or in some area cut off from view of the house.

2. Construct a pen of wire or slats to contain the material. Dimensions of the pen will vary with the amount of compost desired.

3. Organic material is placed in the compost pile in layers with a sprinkling of commercial fertilizer between each layer. The organic material is placed in about six-inch layers with several handfuls of commercial fertilizer (8-8-8 or 5-10-5) and water sprinkled over each layer. (Water and commercial fertilizer will hasten decomposition of the organic materials and add to the fertility of the end product.) If weeds and grasses are used in the compost, the seed heads should be eliminated to prevent later trouble from germination of these seeds.

4. If a large compost pile is made, the material should be turned about once a month to prevent burning and assure even decomposition.

5. During the Fall months most homeowners will be raking leaves in their yards. This is considered a very troublesome chore but it can be a worthwhile project if these leaves are used to make compost. Make a compost pile during the Fall and by next Spring you will have organic matter to use as a mulch or as a soil conditioner for plants in the landscape. As a mulch the decayed material will help conserve moisture, help control weeds and grass, lower soil temperature during hot summer months and help condition the soil.

Dow-jacking will catch the big ones

By Grits Gresham

DOW-JACKING or HI-JACKING has a long and honorable history in Louisiana as a method of snatching a bass from bayou to boat. It calls for a strong cane pole; a stout line about two feet long; and some artificial lure, usually a tandem spinner or a topwater spinner plug. Fact is, the name "dow-jacking" came from the use of the big Heddon topwater plug which was made in Dowagiac, Michigan.

I recently ran across a present-day version of the past-time that's novel and effective, and which will let you fish in a lot of spots you can't work conventional gear. Raymond Prince showed me how he does it on Wallace Lake, where I believe he originated the trick.

Wallace Lake, like many other Louisiana water bodies, is plagued (or blessed, depending on your outlook) at certain periods of summer and early fall with a dense growth of aquatic vegetation---mostly duckweed and coontail moss. Raymond takes that same cane pole---two foot line---rig, and ties to it one of the plastic salamanders on a big, strong, long-shanked hook. A couple of inches above the lure he pinches on a half-pound sinker.

Raymond sits in the bow of his boat, sculls with one hand, and handles that pole with the other. He eases through that dense moss up to a clump of button bushes, a cypress tree, or snag, drops that salamander down through the moss---the sinker carries it right through. Then he jiggles it a couple of times. He fishes the thing in the middle of bushes you couldn't work with anything else---even if you could get through the moss.

When you feel the bass take the salamander---he won't usually hit it, but just closes his jaws around it---don't jerk too soon. If you think he has it ease up on your pole lightly. When the bass feels resistance he'll start to move off---then hit him. At getting him into the boat from then on, you're on your own, especially if he goes four to six pounds. Prince has taken several limits this summer with all fish in this healthy weight range.

Parish tourney is Dec. 9 & 10

The Cameron parish basketball tournament will be held Friday and Saturday, Dec. 9 & 10 at Grand Lake high school, it has been announced by the Cameron Parish Coaches Association.

Senior boys and girls and junior boys and girls teams from Grand Lake, Johnson Bayou, Hackberry and South Cameron high schools will compete.

The tournament will be one of the single elimination type with the losers playing for third and the winners playing for first.

Seeding is to be determined by the position of each team on the basis of the finish in the South Cameron tournament, the previous weekend. The team that finishes first will be seeded first, etc. Johnson Bayou accepted a seeded position of fourth for senior boys and girls.

Members of the junior teams must be in the 7th, 8th or 9th grade. A member of the junior team may also play on the senior team in the tournament.

Trophies will be awarded to the first and second place winners in each division.

The 1962 tournament will be held at Johnson Bayou.

Football season comes to an end

The 1960 football season came to an end in Cameron parish last week, with the three parish teams having rather mixed outcomes:

The South Cameron Tarpons, although beaten 41-7 by the powerful Oberlin Tigers Friday night at Oak Grove, ended their season with a 6-2 district record and finished third in the district.

The Hackberry Mustangs lost 27-7 to the Kinder Yellow Jackets to end up with no wins at all this year, except for a forfeit from Grand Lake.

Grand Lake dropped out of football at midseason because of a shortage of players and announced that it would be at least two years before the sport might be resumed.

There secret hopes among Tarpon fans were that South Cameron might pull off an upset and beat Oberlin, which would have thrown the district into a three-way tie, but the Tarps just were no match for the big Oberlin team.

Alvin Mudd scored the Tarpon's lone marker in the fourth period on a 48-yard run. He also added the extra point. But for the rest of the game, the Tigers pretty well had their own way.

Kenny Drost scored Hackberry's sole TD in the first quarter.

"KNOW YOUR DUCKS, A Field Guide for the Hunter", a duck identification leaflet developed by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, is now available free of charge at several places around the parish: C. A. Rigg's Hackberry, Walter Stanley's in Cameron and Dyson's Hardware in Cameron.

The leaflet is designed to help the hunter identify the most commonly sought species of ducks. It is especially appropriate at this time since two species, the redhead and canvasback ducks, are on the fully protected list.

Pick up a copy, if you get the chance.

DEER HUNTING takes the spotlight in Louisiana for the next few days, with all deer seasons over the state opening simultaneously on Thanksgiving Day, November 24. Seasons and boundaries vary widly, so check with your sheriff's office for details.

Something new has been added to deer hunting this year—deer licenses! These cost $2, and you must have one in addition to your regular hunting license. If you're under 16 or over 60 you can get one free. These are available through the sheriff's offices, too.

Actually, this license is a booklet of 8 cards. One you complete and mail as soon as you buy the license. Then there's a deer tag for each of the two deer you're allowed, and a report card that must be mailed in for each deer you kill.

As soon as you kill a deer you must show the month and day of the kill by punching holes in the right place on the deer tag, and then you must immediately tie that tag to your deer. That doesn't mean when you get back to camp with it, or to the freezer locker, but as soon as you drop the critter.

GUNS USED FOR deer hunting are most lethal weapons, both big game rifles and shotguns with buckshot or rifled slugs. Above all, make sure that your target is a deer BEFORE you pull that trigger. It's far better, it goes without saying, to let a deer get away than to chance wounding or killing a fellow hunter. Remember that once the shot is fired it can never be called back.

Another thing to keep in mind is that few deer are dropped in their tracks, even with a perfect chest cavity shot. Check closely each time you shoot at a deer, whether he shows signs of being hit or not. Track him for a couple of hundred yards or so if possible, even if there's no blood trail. Many a fine trophy is lost through failure to do this.

If you make a kill in front of another man's dogs remember that he is entitled by custom to half the deer. The hunter who makes the kill is usually given his choice of either the head or hide, and half the meat.

The following game management areas will be open Nov. 24-28: Union, Jackson-Bienville, Sabine No. 2, and West Bay. The first four days will be bucks only. The last day will be for bucks and does in all except Union and that part of Chicago Mill No. 1 that lies in Franklin Parish. The Catahoula area will be open for fucks only Nov. 24-26.

THE NEWLY created Fort Polk Game Management Area will be open for bucks only Nov. 24-Dec. 8, with no dogs permitted. Free permits to hunt this 64,000 acre area are available from Commission offices in Alexandria and De-Ridder, and from the Fort Polk Fire Station. They're good for the entire season.

* * *

QUAIL SEASON opens Thanksgiving Day plus one—November 25, which will give a lot of hunters a chance to make both opening days. The above mentioned Polk Area will be open for quail hunting, too, but no dogs of any variety are allowed on the area during the Nov. 24-Dec. 8 deer season.

Quail prospects are excellent but heavy cover will make it though going for a while.

Murderer captured here gets life

Samuel Lewis, who with his wife was captured by Cameron parish sheriff's deputies last July, was convicted of murder in a Dallas, Texas court recently and sentenced to life in prison. His wife, who pleaded guilty to being an accessory, was given 15 years.

Lewis was charged with the butcher knife slaying of a 77-year-old Dallas woman so that he could steal her money. He and his wife were apprehended in Cameron several days later after roomers at a local boarding house became supicious of their actions.

Deputies J. B. Constance and Edward Broussard went to Dallas recently to testify at Lewis' trial.

Bolo opens oyster shucking plant

Roland J. (Bolo) Trosclair, Cameron shrimp dealer and police juror, this week announced that he is opening Cameron's first oyster shucking plant since oystering was closed down in Calcasieu lake some 15 years ago.

Mr. Trosclair said the new plant, located next to his shrimp cannery, was scheduled to go into operation Thursday, the opening day of the four-month commercial oystering season here.

Oystering, which was closed down for 14 years due to pollution of the lake, was reopened last year after the state health department found that the pollution level was low enough during the winter months to permit the taking of the oysters.

Last year, oystermen were able to operate for only two months, so few facilities were set up to market the oysters. This year, Trosclair, and others are planning to go into the business in a big way.

Mr. Trosclair said he expected the oysters to "put Cameron on its feet" this winter. He pointed out that during the four winter months, there is no menhaden fishing and very little shrimping, so oyster will be a god sent for the community.

He said the plans to hire ten oyster shuckers on fairly regular basis to start and will $12.5 per gallon of shucked oysters. He will buy the oysters from independent fishermen, who must take the oysters by tongs. (No dredging is allowed.)

The oysters will be put up in pints and gallons and also sold in the shell by the sacks. They will be marketed to restaurants, grocery stores and at the shop. Most will be sold in New Orleans, Houston, and Beaumont.

The new shucking plant, which is expected to handle some 100 barrels of oysters a day, will operate under a permit from the Louisiana board of health.

Mr. Trosclair announced that he was looking for experienced oyster shuckers to employ.

In the meantime, shrimping was still brisk. Monday, Trosclair's camery, which employes some 60 people when going full blast, canned some 1500 cases of "sea bobs."

Lions urge purchase of drain pump

The Cameron Lions Club Wednesday went on record urging the police jury to purchase a water pump and diesel engine from Jimmy Henry which is used in draining the area north of the town of Cameron.

E. J. Dronet, chairman of the club's community betterment committee, stated that Mr. Henry had been operating the pump for a number of years at no cost to the parish, and that if the pump was not operated after heavy rains the northern part of Cameron would go under water.

He said Mr. Henry had offered to sell the pump and engine to the parish for $2000.

The club voted to write the police jury urging that this step be taken, as Mr. Henry was unable to keep on operating the pump at his own expense.

It was also reported that the Cameron Food Mart has offered to give the club 16 packages of frozen meat to be distributed to needy families. A committee was appointed to work out the details.

Martin Gayle Theriot announced that his mother-in-law, who lives in DeQuincy, has offered to donate a large pine tree to the town to be erected as a community Christmas tree in front of the courthouse. She donated a similar tree last year.

The tree will be picked up next week and decorated by Lions members with the assistance of the two menhaden companies.

Lion Theriot also reported that Boy Scout Troop 102 has been reactivated and has eight new members. He invited all interested boys to join, and announced that Harvey Smith is permitting the troop to fix up an old building next to the Cameron Motel as a scout hut. Meetings are each Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dimas will be hosts to the board of directors, other members and their wives, at a supper at their home next Tuesday night.

Principal George Carter of Grand Lake high school announces that report cards for the second 6 week period were given out Wednesday.

It's trapping season again

East found guilty of battery here

Joseph C. East was found guilty of aggravated battery by a five-man jury in Cameron district court Tuesday. However, the jury asked for mercy for defendant and he was sentenced to 90 days in jail.

East had been charged with battering W. R. Veazy in a Hackberry bar, hitting over the head with a beer bottle.

Members of the jury were Oscar Broussard, Gordon Nunez, James Cox, Elton Bacigalopi and Ernest C. Taber.

A second jury trial which had been scheduled was cancelled after Jonas Paul Kershaw changed his plea to guilty to a charge of theft. He was given a two year prison term, which was suspended and Kershaw was placed on probation.

Two more names removed from Hackberry recreation suit

Two more Hackberry property owners have asked the Cameron district court to remove their names from a suit against the Hackberry recreation commission.

They are Mrs. Alice East and Mable Swire. Five other persons had earlier asked that their names be taken off the suit.

The removal of these names will leave 42 property owners who are sueing the recreation commission to try to prevent the sale of $290,000 recreation bonds and the collection of a four mill maintenance tax.

The property owners have charged irregularities in the election and that the recreation commissioners were not properly sworn into office.

Three oil companies, Cities Service, Olin Mathieson and Pan American, have joined the 42 property owners in the suit.

Meanwhile, Charles Riggs, Hackberry police juror, announced that Bean and Rush, Lafayette attorneys, have been employed to assist the recreation commission in its defense. One of the attorneys, James W. Bean, is the Lafayette city attorney.

Decoration contest to be held

The first annual Christmas decoration contest will be sponsored by the Gulfside Garden Club for Cameron citizens.

Because the club is new and has only limited funds there will be only two categories this year. One will be for the home in general outdoor lighting effect. This may be in the yard or around doors and windows. The other will be for the best decorated place.

There will be only one award for each category, however there will be honorable mentions. The club hopes to have first, second and third prizes in several categories in the future years.

No civic or public place will be eligible for judging.

Judges will be from out-of-town and will be kept secret. The judging will take place Tuesday, Dec. 20 between the hours of 7 and 8 p.m. Anyone interested in this contest are asked to have all their decorations up by that time. Plaques will be awarded to the winners.

Letters TO THE EDITOR

Monroe, La.

Dear Editor:

I am beginning to wonder what the state legislature is trying to accomplish by its recent actions. The House of Representatives unanimously passed a resolution condemning the executive and judicial branches of the federal government as "making common cause with a Communist conspiracy to destroy our public school system."

Do the members of the House, including those from Cameron parish, believe that Federal District Judge John T. Hunter, Jr., with headquarters in Lake Charles, is engaged in this "Communist conspiracy"? Do they believe that Eisenhower and Nixon are "making common cause with a Communist conspiracy"? This resolution is already being condemned editorially by many newspapers of the south.

At the same time that the state legislature was yelling "federal intervention", it intervened in New Orleans and disposed the legally elected school board--an act that would not be tolerated in a democratic society.

The resolution designed to give Louisiana's electorial votes to unpledged electors has been defeated. The fact that it was even considered causes one to wonder.

Had the resolution passed, our electorial votes would have gone to the party that came in third in the general election. Why bother to have elections if the state legislature can nullify the results?

John Colligan

(EDITOR'S NOTE--Reader Colligan brings up a good point concerning the labeling of our federal leaders as communist inspired. Apparently, the Louisiana legislature, itself, after giving the matter some additional thought, came to the conclusion that this language was too strong, and the resolution was killed.)

Nutria processing plant opens here

The opening of a plant in Cameron to process nutria meat for sale as feed for mink ranches in the north was announced here this week.

The development is expected to provide an additional incentive for the trapping of the rodent-like animals which are literally swarming over the Cameron marshes.

Bruce Sterbenz of Shreveport, who last year opened a self-service laundry here, has opened Bruce's Fur House next to Doxey & Sons Fur House.

James Frederick, who will manage the business for Mr. Sterbenz, announced that they will buy whole nutria from trappers in this area, with trucks to make daily runs to Johnson Bayou, Hackberry, Grand Chenier and Pecan Island.

The nutria will be skinned at the new plant, and the pelts processed. These will then be sold to Doxey & Sons, for shipment to fur processors.

The carcasses will be packed in boxes, and sold to Steed's Fish Company in Cameron, which will freeze the meat, and in turn, sell it to a distributor for resale to the northern mink ranchers.

Tom Steed reported that he has an initial order for one million pounds of nutria meat, so the new local operation is assured of a ready market for all of the meat that it can get this year.

Both Frederick and Steed pointed out that the nutria meat must be fresh, and not more than one or two days old. "It must be as fit as if it were going to be used for human consumption," Mr. Steed stated.

Trucks from Abbeville and Kaplan have been coming into Cameron for the past couple of years buying nutria carcases, but this is the first time that a local concern has been set up to process the meat.

The new operation is expected to give a boost to nutria trapping. Although the animals are very plentiful, many trappers have been reluctant to take them because of the difficulty in skinning them. The new plant will relieve them of the skinning and provide a steady market for the meat as well as the pelts.

Welding shop is broken into again

A welding shop located on the Donald Todd farm near Sweetlake was broken into the night of Nov. 22, the second breakin at this location in recent months, according to the sheriff's department.

But while a several hundred dollar welding machine was taken the first time, the only thing missing in the second breakin was a 5-gallon can of gasoline.

WEEK OF PRAYER

The Women's Missionary Union of the Cameron Baptist Church is observing the Lottie Moon Week of Prayer for foreign missions this week.

'Yard of the Month' to be sponsored

Definite plans for a number of activities were made Tuesday when officers of the Gulfside Garden Club met.

Mrs. Robert Tanner, Mrs. Mary Brand and Mrs. Charles Borel were appointed to the committee for the "Yard of the Month" contest. Mrs. Brand outlined the rules for judging furnished her by the New Iberia Garden Club. No yard will win the distinction more than once each season.

Float plans were decided upon and Mrs. Walter Stanley is to report later on materials. The float will be entered in the Fur Festival parade Jan. 14.

Mrs. Tanner gave a report on the district meeting which she and Mrs. Charles Rogers attended in Eunice on Nov. 17. The Gulfside Garden Club was recognized as a new federated club and given a certificate. The state meeting will be held in Alexandria on Jan. 25 and several members plan to attend.

Mrs. Mardis McDaniel of Olla was a special guest. She is an active member of the Pinewood Garden Club and gave the club helpful information.

Mrs. Walter Stanley displayed the club scrapbook which she started.

Mrs. Tanner reported on the workshops held by the members. Christmas corsages are now for sale. Anyone interested in buying these may call Mrs. Charles Rogers or Mrs. Robert Tanner. The sale of centerpieces will be sponsored later. All proceeds are to help finance the Christmas contest.

Program for the next regular meeting will be the identification of potted plants. Members were asked to bring any plants available for this program.

WINNERS NAMED IN PIG CHAIN

By CLIFFORD MEYERS
Assistant County Agent

Judging of the Cameron parish 4-H club pig chain was held recently on the Lyons Breaux farm at Sweetlake, with John E. Jackson, Calcasieu county agent, as judge.

Jerry Demary's gilt was judged first. Albert Cary's was second; Ronnie Breaux's third; and Jim Crader's fourth. All four gilts were very close in the judging. Now eight months old, they weighed about 350 each.

Their growing ratio was about three pounds of feed for one pound of meat. However, they are now on a maintenance ration which requires much less feed.

The pig chain, sponsored by the Sears-Roebuck Foundation and the LSU extension service, was started in June with the four gilts and one boar. The choice gilts from each of these gilts, which will be soys this spring, will be given to other 4-H club members to keep the pig chain going. Another boar will be given by Sears-Roebuck.

The chain next year will be established in the Creole-Grand Chenier area. Any 4-H club member who is interested in getting a pig is asked to contact the county agent's office.

OPTIMIST TREES NOW ON SALE

The Cameron Optimist Club is again selling Christmas trees this year to raise funds to help pay for the Cameron recreation center and for youth activities.

Mrs. Sing Faulk above buys one of the first trees from Conway Leffleu, Optimist member. Trees range in size from 2 to 8 feet. Painted trees, Christmas lights and stands are also being sold.

The trees are being sold on the old Veterans Service Station lot and at the Coastal Supply Company.

Around the CAPITOL

WALT BENTON

BATON ROUGE—Some of the people who are behind Louisiana's fight to preserve state sovereignty against "creeping federalism" are sorry, in a way, that the argument is centered on segregation.

These are attorneys, mostly, and by their very profession they prefer to settle all things by cold logic, law and evidence, in courts. They get disturbed when emotion enters the picture.

It's not that these people aren't segregationists. They include, as a matter of fact, some attorneys who have some highly-emotional views on that subject.

But by profession as we said, they must try to view sovereignty as a problem-at-law, and consider it in all its aspects. This includes voting, tidelands, sit-ins, employment and other phases.

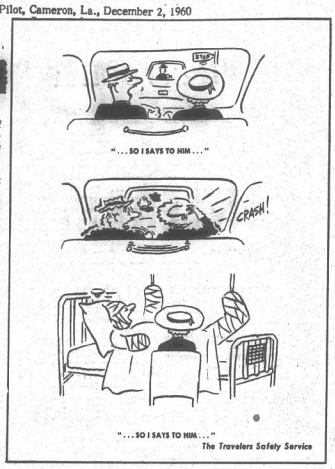
Right now, for instance, these Louisiana attorneys are greatly interested in a situation in Tennessee, and almost wish, they admit, that their own case down here was similar.

It seems that Tennessee, like Louisiana, has not seer fit for many years to reapportion its state legislature, and several taxpayers brought suit to force such action.

This sounds like a "Family fight" sort of thing that would be of little interest outside Tennessee. But the taxpayers who brought the suit have seen fit to take it to the U. S. Supreme court, and that federal body has agreed to hear the case.

There is always the chance, of course, that the Washington court will decide, finally, that it has no jurisdiction. As a matter of fact, it indicated that in a 1946 Illinois case, declaring that "courts ought not to enter this political thicket."

But the mere fact that the U. S. Supreme court has agreed to hear the case has encouraged the plaintiffs to believe that they may get a federal ruling--that a federal court may, this time, step into state affairs.



The plaintiffs, incidentally, base their case on their beliefs that they have been deprived of "equal representation" which they say is guaranteed under the 14th Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

If the Supreme court agrees, the case will be somewhat similar to that in Louisiana in that a federal court will be telling a state legislature what it can and cannot do.

The U. S. Supreme court in a little-noticed case recently ruled as unconstitutional an Alabama statute, passed in 1957, which altered the city limits of Tuskegee so as to exclude Tuskegee (Negro) Institute. This case, also being watched here, has been sent back to a lower federal court for trial.

On tidelands phase of state's rights, California has just run up against something new. The Navy has just taken over a 40-miles-long strip three miles wide off the coast, declaring it to be a "restricted" area for five years due to missile firings.

As a local sidelight on the other side of the picture: Some restaurants in the Capital city are converting into "clubs", and admission will be to members only. And management will decide who is eligible for membership.

Inattention is one of the chief causes of motor vehicle accidents.

Do you remember?

The Can Te Ki Ya Camp Fire Group sponsored a Thanksgiving food drive for a needy family.

Boxes were made by the girls and placed in each room at Cameron Elementary School Each girl was responsible for one or two rooms and daily reminded the classes of their project.

A contest was held among the girls as to which could collect the most food. Cheryl Hasha, who had Miss Pichnic's First Grade, placed first in collecting the largest box of canned goods and staple groceries.

The drive was so successful there was enough food to be given to two needy families.

The Camp Fire Girls would like to express their appreciation for the splendid cooperation of the Cameron Elementary school pupils and faculty in making their project such a success.

"What Do You Mean— Only ONE True Church?"

Non-Catholics often resent the claim that the Catholic Church is the true Church of Christ.

"You Catholics," some of them say, "have a lot of nerve. The Church is universal. Anybody can belong to it who accepts Christ as his personal Savior and models his life after Christ's teaching. We can be members of the true Church without being Catholics."

Many who feel this way about it are, of course, sincere and devout people. And it is not our intention to challenge the various shades of Christian thought which they represent. We do ask them, however, to understand that the Catholic claim is not a matter of arrogance or intolerance—but of the deepest religious conviction.

Nearly all Christians agree that there can be only one true Church. Yet these are hundreds of different denominations—some of them miles apart in what they teach—all claiming to be the true Church. Certainly all of them cannot be right . . . in fact, only ONE can.

But which one? How can we identify it?

The Son of God made Himself recognizable to men by coming upon the earth with a body and soul like ours. It was in His physical body that He died for our redemption. Having thus so carefully revealed Himself to the people of His own time, would He not make equally sure that future generations should also know Him?

Catholics believe that the Savior did so, through the Church . . . in which he is "able at all times to save those who came to God through Him." The Church is, therefore, not merely a body of people believing in Christ . . . but the body appointed by Christ Himself to continue His mission of redemption.

"He who hears you," the Savior said, "hears Me." For Catholics, this means that when the Church speaks it is Christ speaking. When the Church offers prayer and sacrifice and forgiveness of sins, it is Christ's prayer and sacrifice and forgiveness of sins. The Church, as Catholics see it, is Christ living in the world today!

Must the Church be an organized system? Is the Church invisible? Is it composed of saints and sinners? Can we reject the Church without rejecting Christ? Must I belong to the Catholic church to be saved? The answer to these and many other important questions is available in a pamphlet which we will send you in a plain wrapper without cost or obligation. You can read it in the privacy of your home and nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet No. KC-16.

THE TABLE IS SET, Mr. Hunter. Have at it! Except for ducks, Canada geese, and speckle-bellies, the season is on us for just about everything else. Rabbits, squirrels, deer, doves, quail, snipe are open, and woodcock will be legal on Dec. 7. It's quite a bountiful spread laid before us cajun nimrods, and best we should take advantage of it.

This is the time of year that puts a strain of many family relationships, and temporarily widowed wives are requested to be patient. After all, hunting seasons in Louisiana are relatively short (about five or six months), and during the rest of the year the gun can stay on the rack... except for crows and foxes... and I guess the missus does kinda have a beef coming... unless she hunts, too.

There's an excellent chance that the Agricultural Extension Service at L. S. U. will employ a wildlife extension specialist this coming year... but some help is needed. Such a specialist could work with schools to promote wildlife knowledge, and with 4-H and other youth groups on wildlife conservation projects. He could work with parish agents and landowners, and encourage the farmer to practice techniques that would benefit fish and game. They have extension specialists for just about everything up to and including bee keeping, and there should be one for wildlife.

Mr. H. C. Sanders, Director, Agricultural Extension Service, L. S. U., Baton Rouge, is the guy who needs to hear from you, your wildlife club, or your civic group to the effect that you want a wildlife extension specialist. Sanders has included one in the proposed budget for the coming year, but needs as much support as possible to prevent a possible cut by University officials. Both the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission and the Wildlife Federation are pushing for it. Won't you help with your letter!

During their meeting at Johnson Bayou last weekend, the Louisiana Outdoor Writers Association toured Rockefeller Refuge. I plan to write about it at length in a future column, but will just say here that more research in marsh management is being done there than in the rest of the country combined. Following the development work done there in the past eight years, Rockefeller is wintering about five times the number of ducks that it previously did. A good portion of the, I should add, are species and populations which formerly just blew right on through the state to points south. I'm all for this "short-stopping" of birds. We've been on the short end of it too long, what with states north of us chopping off our Canadas and mallards.

Hunters in 50 states spent a total of $57,811,191.76 for hunting licenses, stamps, tags and permits required by state wildlife agencies during the 1959 fiscal year. This exceeds the previous year's total by over four million dollars. There was a slight decline in the total number of hunters (2.2%). Louisiana hunters bought 575,622 licenses, for which they paid $301,954.15.

Army Recruit Reford R. Ethridge, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Ethridge, Hackberry, recently completed the telephone installation and repair course at The Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga. During the eight week course Ethridge was trained to install and repair many types of stationary and field telephone equipment. He entered the Army in June of this year. Ethridge is a 1960 graduate of Hackberry High School.

An analysis of the revenues from State Gasoline Taxes for the past five years revealed that these revenues had decreased $17,000.00 to $16,000,000 from the revenues from this source for the years 1956 and 1957, and it was decided that some sales by non-resident wholesalers are not being reported as Cameron Parish sales. It was moved by Mr. Riggs, seconded by Mr. Trosclair and carried that the Treasurer and J. B. Stanleys make holiday trip

The Walter Stanley family returned home Saturday after a week's visit with their daughter and son-in-law, the Doug Seafords, of Mebane, North Carolina.

Mebane has several textile mills and furniture factories. Within a few miles radius one can view the towers of mills and factories that are famous brands to us. It is also in the heart of the tobacco belt.

While there a sightseeing trip took them to Liggett-Myers cigarette factory and Duke University at Durham and University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Cameron seafood was boasted by being brought there in dry ice. Gumbo which is an unheard of dish was served to a large gathering along with a shrimp fry and everyone agreed it was delicious.

REVIVALS — WHO IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THEM?

A REVIVAL meeting is announced by a church near you. Questions run through your mind. Why should a church have revivals? Who should attend? Are they worth the effort? Whose business is a revival?

The purpose of a revival is twofold: 1. To call upon unconverted sinners to repent of their sins and accept Christ as Saviour and Lord. 2. To call upon professing Christians to dedicate themselves afresh to live more wholeheartedly for Christ and their church.

Some people who are sinners have never accepted Christ as Saviour and Lord. Christ has said, "The Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost" (Luke 19:10). A revival is a special effort to help these sinners know that Christ wants to assume responsibility for their sins.

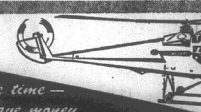
Other people who are sinners have accepted Christ. They have been freed from the burden of sin. But they do wrong from time to time. They are sinners saved by grace, and they need more of the grace to help them overcome evil.

Both kinds of sinners need what a revival can do for them. The unconverted sinner needs to confess his sins before men, accept Christ as Saviour and Lord, and identify himself with a church of Jesus Christ. The "saved" sinner needs to share in worship, fellowship with Christian people, and renewed dedication to the Lord. In this way he becomes stronger in Christ.

Whose business, then, is a revival? It is everybody's business.

A revival is the sinner's business because he needs freedom from bondage to sin.

A revival is the Christian's business, because Christ, the head of the church, has told his followers to go to all the world and present the gospel.



A revival is Christ's business. He came from heaven to earth, took on human flesh, lived, died, and arose from the grave in order to reveal to all men how much God cares. In a revival the church is preaching Christ.

A revival is God's business. This is God's world. We are his creatures. He put us here for a purpose. In a revival the church calls attention to God and his concern for man.

Jim was forty-four years of age. He was not a Christian. The Baptist church near Jim's home was engaged in a revival meeting. The minister went to see Jim. Jim was resentful. The minister left, discouraged. But the Holy Spirit began to work in Jim's life. Under conviction of sin, he could not sleep that night. He went to church later, confessed his sins, and accepted Christ. Today his only regret is that he waited so long to take that step. He is a new man in Christ. He is helping to make a better world. Revival is everybody's business.

Champagne given citizenship award

Ray Champagne, Cameron garage owner and civic leader, received the first annual Cameron Parish Citizenship Award presented by the Doxey-Vincent Veterans of Foreign Wars Post at a special dinner Monday night at the VFW home in Cameron.

The banquet also marked the tenth anniversary of the post, and a large group of VFW members, their wives, parish officials and guests turned out for the occasion.

In presenting the citizenship plaque to Mr. Champagne, Commander E. J. Dronet said that he was chosen in recognition of the service that he has given to the community and parish, particularly in youth activities.

Others nominated for the award were Mrs. Charles Hebert of Sweetlake, Mrs. Iva Free of Grand Lake, Bernard Duhon of Hackberry, Dr. Cecil W. Clark, Joe Doxey, Hadley Fontenot, Mrs. Virgie LeBleu and Linton Landry, all of Cameron.

Jessie Knowles, state representative from Calcasieu parish and legislative officer for the Louisiana VFW, was the guest speaker of the evening. He said that the current battle between the state legislature and the federal government was "not just a fight over whether four little Negro children should go to New Orleans school, it is a fight for the sovereign right of the 50 states."

He said that the Communists were behind the integrateion problem "pitting race against race," and that the Communist hoped to take over the United States from within.

Rep. Knowles said that the legislature would fight all the way "to the end" and he urged his listeners to have "faith in your elected officials."

Six past commanders of the local VFW received past commanders pins at the dinner. They were Winston Sellis, Dewey LaBove, J. Berton Daigle, Pat Cheramie, Tony Cheramie and C. M. Singletary.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Richard received the pin for their son, Percy M. Richard, who is deceased, and Mr. and Mrs. Austin Davis accepted a pin for their son, Norman Davis. Two other past commanders, Harold Cooling and Leo P. Folse, were also unable to attend.

It was announced that the Cameron post was the first in the state to get a 100 per cent membership renewal.

Others on the program were Father Eugene Senneville, invocation and benediction; J. Berton Daigle, pledge of allegiance; Ray Dimas, master of ceremonies; Everett Hoffpauir, Fifth District Commander, Sulphur.

The meal was served by the Ladies Auxiliary.

RAY CHAMPAGNE, Cameron parish's "Citizen of the Year" was born at Ama in St. Charles parish near New Orleans, one of thirteen children. His father died when he was ten years old, and he had to go to work at a young age to help support the family. He worked on a chicken farm after school and on weekends, he worked at the French Market in New Orleans.

Mr. Champagne took part in all athletics in shcool, and at one time played baseball with the New Orleans Pelicans. He served with the Coast Guard during World War II and attended a mechanics school at Groton, Conn.

During the past 14 years that he had been a resident of Cameron parish, he has accomplished the following things:

He has served on the board of directors of the Jefferson Davis Electric Coop, and worked closely with the REA after Hurricane Audrey to restore power to this area.

He is a charter member and the president of the Cameron Optimist Club. He built the bleachers and wrestling ring at the recreation center, and has assisted in the chaperoning of teenagers at functions there.

He is a captain in the Cameron volunteer fire department and was on a Lions Club committee which worked to make the department a reality in 1955.

Mr. Champagne was one of the main organizers of the Little League baseball program, and this past year started a girls softball team.

Other organizations in which he is active are the Cameron Lions Club, the South Cameron Athletic Association, the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, Civil Defense, American Legion, Knights of Columbus, and Cameron Boat Club.

He was largely responsible for getting a temporary school opened in Cameron in the fall of 1957 after Hurrican Audrey. He personally made a survey to determine the number of children who had returned to the community with their families, and the VFW made its new building available as a temporary school.

Mrs. Champagne suffered a heart attack in August, but has made a good recovery and is back active in the affairs of the community. He is the owner and operator of the Cameron Service Garage.

He is married to the former Loretta Peshoff and they have two daughters, Trudy and Jerry.

Gasoline report measure adopted by police jury

An ordinance requiring each gasoline distributor and retailer in Cameron parish to make regular reports on the number of gallons of gasoline they sell was adopted by the Cameron police jury Monday.

At the November jury meeting, Miss Dorothy Doxey, parish treasurer, reported that the parish's revenue from state gasoline taxes had been dropping for the past five years, and it was decided that some sales by non-resident wholesalers were not being reported as Cameron parish sales.

Miss Doxey and J. B. Jones, assistant district attorney, were appointed at the November meeting to look into the matter.

Mr. Jones reported Monday that his investigation showed that the parish was being reimbursed not on a per gallon basis but on a percentage basis. That is, Cameron parish receives a share of the state gasoline tax in proportion to the percentage of the gasoline that the parish sells as compared to the state total.

The state sales have been steadily increasing, while Cameron sales have been remaining about the same, thereby accounting for some of Cameron's decrease.

However, the jury decided that some of the parish's gasoline, supplied by out-of-parish wholesalers, was not being accredited to Cameron parish, and the new ordinance was adopted to try and correct this situation.

A report from the state revenue department showed that there were 4,170,286 gallons of gasoline sold in the parish during 1955, as compared to 32,992,154 for Calcasieu and 9,351,045 for Vermilion.

Jury declines to buy drainage pump

Despite a plea from the Cameron Lions Club and Ward 3 Juror Roland Trosclair, the police jury declined to buy a water pump and diesel engine which has been responsible for draining the north part of the town of Cameron for the past few years.

A letter from the Lions to the jury pointed out that Jimmy Henry had been operating the pump at his own expense, but that he was unable to continue this as he no longer lives in Cameron. The Lions asked the parish to buy the equipment from Mr. Henry for $2,000.

Both Jurors Vian Theriot and C. A. Riggs expressed strong opposition to the purchase, Mr. Theriot stating that he thought the town ought to buy the pump itself.

Juror Trosclair said the north part of Cameron will be in a sad shape if the pumping is discontinued.

However, upon a motion by Mr. Theriot, and approved by all the jurors, except Mr. Trosclair, the matter was tabled.

1961 budget is adopted by jury

The 1961 budget was adopted by the jury with anticipated revenues and expenditures estimated at $203,781.21, an increase of about $7,000 over last year's budget. Ad valorem taxes are expected to bring in $69,781.21, a big increase over the 1960 figure of $58,857.32.

The complete 1961 budget is to be found on page four of this issue.

Seaway survey

At the request of Rep. Alvin Dyson the police jury went on record asking the state public works department to make a feasibility survey of the Louisiana Intracoastal Seaway. He said that all the other coastal parishes through which the proposed seaway would go have requested this survey.

Mr. Dyson said the survey would take about two years and cost around $200,000. He said he did not believe this request would keep Cameron from getting other surveys made in the future.

The representative pointed out that this is a preliminary survey only, that the parish was not going on record in favor or against the project, that this would come later.

The jury applied to the State Bond and Tax Board for authority to issue $200,000 in road bonds to be backed from the road royalty funds that parish receives from the state.

The purpose of the bonds is to give the parish some immediate funds for road projects.

Appointment causes flurry in jury meet

The appointment of three members to the Calcasieu River Watershed Association board caused somewhat of a flurry in the police jury meeting Monday.

Bernard Duhon, retired police juror from Hackberry, appeared before the jury to ask that they appoint three board members for 1961.

Vian Theriot, Ward 2 juror, made a motion that the present three members -- Duhon, Police Jury President Eraste Hebert and Jury Secretary Joe Doxey -- be reappointed.

C. A. Riggs, the newly elected Hackberry juror, said that if he "had any say" he'd like to nominate Alfred Devall, Hackberry rental boat operator, to one of the three positions.

Mr. Duhon said it didn't make any difference to him whether he was reappointed or not.

The jury, apparently confused about whom to appoint, went into a rare executive session, asked everyone else to leave, and debated the matter privately for some 20 minutes. At the end, it was announced that no decision had been reached, but later in the afternoon just before the jury adjourned, the matter was put to a vote with the jurors 3 to 2 in favor of appointing Mr. Devall to the watershed board. The re-appointment of Mr. Hebert and Mrs. Doxey was unanimous.

Another board appointment found the jury in agreement, however. It was announced that the term of Mrs. Lee Nunez of Grand Chenier on the parish welfare board would expire Dec. 18.

Mr. Riggs, pointing out that all of the present board members are from the eastern part of the parish, asked that a Hackberry board member be named to make it convenient for persons having business with the welfare board who live in that area. He submitted the name of Mrs. Leroy Devall of Hackberry and the other jurors agreed to her appointment to succeed Mrs. Nunez.

Others remaining on the welfare board are Mrs. Hadley Fontenot and Mrs. Charles Rogers of Cameron, Mrs. Curtis McCain of Grand Lake and Dalton Richard of Creole.

Nutria business off to big start

The new Cameron nutria meat business got off to a good start this past week with more than 60,000 pounds being processed and shipped.

Tom Steed, who operates Steed's Fish House, reported that he has already shipped out two trailer loads of frozen meats to Wisconsin where it will be used as feed on mink farms.

Mr. Steed estimated that some 10,000 nutria had been trapped during the past couple of weeks, with the trappers receiving close to $2,000 for the meat alone, in addition to what they have received for the pelts. The current price paid trappers for the meat is 3¢ a pound.

Bruce's Fur House, operated by Bruce Sterbenz and managed by James Frederick, has trucks picking up nutria daily from Hackberry, Johnson Bayou, Pecan Island and the Cheniers. They are reported to be getting 10,000 to 12,000 pounds of meat a day.

The fur house skins and processes the nutria pelts which are then bought by Doxcy Fur House. The meat is sold to Steed for freezing and resale to the mink farmers.

Trappers seem pleased with the new market for the nutria meat, which in the past has gone to waste. One trapper, Fletcher Miller, reported that he was averaging 300 to 400 pounds of meat a day, which he figured was paying the expenses of operating his marsh weasel, leaving his pelts as clear profit.

Fires damage two residences

Fires damaged two homes in Cameron parish this past week, but the Hackberry and Cameron fire departments responded quickly to put out the blazes.

A butane refrigerator set on fire the floor in Mrs. Eva D. Reon's home in Hackberry at about 7:10 a.m. Saturday. Three persons sleeping upstairs, Mrs. Reon's son, grandson and a visiting youth, had to jump out of a window when the flames engulfed the stairs. They were not injured.

Members of the Hackberry volunteer fire department had the blaze under control by 8:30 a.m., according to Fire Chief Jack Moore, who estimated the damages at around $2,000.

Monday morning at 1:30 a.m., the Cameron fire department received word that the Warren Jones home on the Front Ridge road was on fire. The fire, which had caught from wiring in the ceiling, did only about $150 damage, according to Chief Ray Burleigh. Twelve firemen answered the call.

Word expected next week on hospital aid

Word is expected sometime next week by the Lower Cameron Hospital Board on whether its request for $250,000 in federal matching funds for the hospital has been granted or not.

Both Edison Mhire, chairman of the hospital board, and Alvin Dyson, state representative, said they felt sure that the federal Hill-Burton funds for the hospital will be approved.

Mr. Dyson said that he talked with an official of the state hospital board in Baton Rouge last week and that he had been advised that the state probably would receive its federal hospital funds on Dec. 12, and that Cameron's request had been included in the appropriation asked by the state.

Mr. Mhire said that the hospital board had received some complaints from taxpayers about the delay in beginning hospital construction, but that the board had felt the delay was justified to see if the federal funds could be secured.

He pointed out that the federal aid would give the hospital board $500,000 with which to build the hospital, instead of the $350,000 already approved by the taxpayers.

It was announced that Dyson Lumber, which was the low bidder on the hospital project, has agreed to a 30-day extension of the contract so it can be seen whether the federal funds will be secured or not.

Another name is removed from suit

Mrs. Ozite Babineaux this week signed a petition asking that her name be removed from the suit that was brought recently against the Hackberry recreation commission by a number of local property owners.

A total of eight of the original 49 filers of the suit have asked that their names be removed stating that they did not give permission for their names to be used.

A preliminary hearing was scheduled to be held Thursday morning in Cameron before Judge G. W. Swift, who was expected to set a date for the formal hearing.

The property owners charge that a $290,000 recreation bond issue was illegally held and ask that the election be thrown out by the court.

Around the CAPITOL

WALT BENTON

BATON ROUGE—Once upon a time, to coin a phrase, a group of 13 men, each representing an independent business owned by several thousand investors, got together to organize a corporation.

The 13, as company directors, adopted a charter providing for certain officers, some elective and some appointive, to run the central office.

These officers, in keeping with sound business practice, were limited by the charter to certain specific powers. The charter, in fact, said:

"The powers not delegated to the corporation by this charter are reserved to the directors and the people they represent."

As the corporation grew, to include 50 companies, directors saw fit from time to time to amend the original charter. They did this, as the charter provided, by a three-fourths vote.

At one time, for instance, directors became aware that a lot of stockholders objected to any president of the corporation serving more than two terms. Sure enough, a majority voted to say that in the charter.

In other words, what the directors did was to interpose themselves between corporation officers and company stockholders, in the only manner provided for stockholders to express their wishes.

One sad day, however, a group of corporation officers, appointed by the president, ruled that all branch companies must conduct one part of their business in a manner demanded by a small minority of stockholders.

The ruling was that all stockholders must drink out of the same water jug in each branch. Some branches didn't seem to mind. But others, by long established custom, preferred separate but equal jugs for different groups. After all, they said, the jugs were bought and paid for by each branch, and not by the corporation.

Naturally, many company directors protested, especially those affected immediately. The corporation charter, they noted, gave no such power to corporation officers. In fact, it was reserved to each of the 50 branches.

But the company president not only upheld the ruling, but in one case even sent armed corporation employes to enforce it.

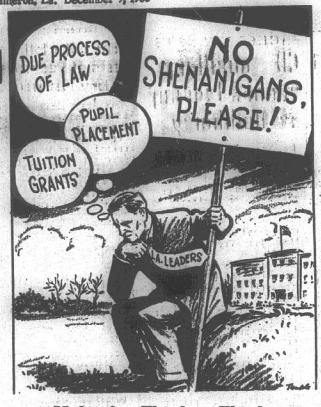
So, in another branch, stockholders again sought to use interposition.

"Let us go about this legally," they said, "as provided in the charter. Let's see if most stockholders in the entire corporation don't prefer separate-but-equal jugs. Let's all vote, and abide by majority decision."

But some minor officials in the corporation refused to go along. They told directors that jugs were none of their business, and ordered them and many stockholders not to interfere.

"Interposition," they ruled, "if taken seriously, is illegal defiance."

But how else could the stockholders be heard? Maybe a majority wanted the charter amended, to let branches handle the jug question.



"Interposition," the minor officials persisted, "is just a way for the directors to blow off steam."

Now that, as might be imagined, left several directors and many, many stockholders pretty upset.

"Just a doggone minute," they protested. "This thing is getting far more important than just jugs. The question is, just whose corporation is this—the owners, or the corporation officers?"

There was talk of an "appeal." But to whom—the same corporation officials who issued the original one-jug-or-none opinion?

And so endeth Chapter I of this not-so-funny modern fable.

LIBRARY LETTER By MRS. MARY BRAND

Library film widely shown

The film, "Libraries for Louisiana," that was made in Cameron Parish has been used extensively throughout the United States since its release last year. It also was shown at the meetings of the Louisiana Library Association and the Southwestern Library Association.

The latest request for the film has come all the way from Australia. H. C. Brideson, Public Library of South Australia, Adelaide, Australia read about the film in the American Library Association Bulletin and has written the State Library asking to borrow it.

The Landis Film Service Rating, a national publication, has some nice things to say about the Cameron film. In part it states:

"Most of the film is devoted to the story of Cameron and how the community was rebuilt after hurricane Audrey; showing the new library building open for business and the new bookmobile as it takes to the road.

"We see the people along the tour of the bookmobile as it makes its stops at a river-boat crossing, the post office, a school, a general store and a gas station (and a short chat and Louisiana coffee break for the librarian and her friends who eagerly have waited for the bookmobile to arrive.)"

Little Chats about Legal Notices

Copyright 1960 by JAMES E. POLLARD

Published as a public service, in cooperation with the Louisiana Press Association

One of the important books of the 1950's was "The People's Right to Know." It was written by the late Dr. Harold L. Cross, a leading attorney and for some years on the staff of th Graduate School of Journalism, Columbia University. As its foreword pointed out, the book was in reality a report to the American Society of Newspaper Editors which sponsored the study.

This 400 page book has to do with the status of legal access to the public records and proceedings in the United States. It deals with various aspects of what the book calls "the never-won struggle for a maximum of basic freedoms in a free society." Concerted attention has been focused upon this problem in recent years by a number of agencies, both state and national.

In wartime and under the security conditions necessary even during the cold war, there has been a tendency to go beyond necessity in withholding information from the public. Some of this has resulted from oversealousness on the part of the armed services. Some has grown out of the tendency of bureaucracy to protect itself and, in so doing, to make its own ground rules. But as a result of the efforts of Dr. Cross and others, some progress has been made in breaking down the fences erected around legitimate information.

Public notices, or legal advertising, is another aspect of the people's right to know. It is for the protection of their rights, both personal and collective. Whether it has to do with tax rates, a special election, or settling an estate, the principle is the same. The newspaper, in turn, performs a public service in publishing public notices. They are part of the legal machinery of helping to insure the people's right to know.

Many motorists have told us that, for them, carefree driving revolves around Shell. Probably that's because we have spent nearly half a century studying how to make cars perform their best. Out of this research have come 590 patents, including the one covering gasolines with TCP* additive. TCP makes engines run smoothly. So we think we can truthfully say that Shell gasolines with TCP and today's cars were made for each other. Sometime soon we hope you'll discover how smooth your car can run—how far you can go on a gallon. Your Shell dealer is the man to see.

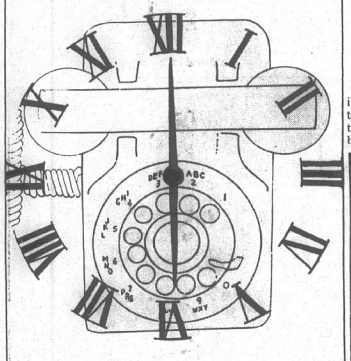
Romeros have much venison following hunt

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY



The Paul Romeros were feasting on venison steaks this week resulting from Paul and son, Allen's deer hunt near Del Rio, Texas. Mr. Romero states that his party killed three bucks and he brought a whole one home.

Mr. and Mrs. Robley Simon are back in their beach home after a long absence due to Mr. Simon's illness. He is still under doctors care, but is able to be up and around for short periods.

The sensation for the younger group is Raywood's Lanier's purchase of a little Nash Metropolitan since last week. The rage of the age seems to be the desire to own a compact car.

Our informers on the Johnson Bayou road projects says balcktopping of the last stretch should begin in about two weeks. The road is in the last stages of the soil cementing process.

Enes Theriot of Little Chenier and John Conner of Creole made a deer hunt with A. B. Cobb of Baton Rouge at Jonesville last week. Mr. Theriot killed a buck weighing 155 pounds, it is reported by our Creole correspondent, Miss Frances Carol Miller.

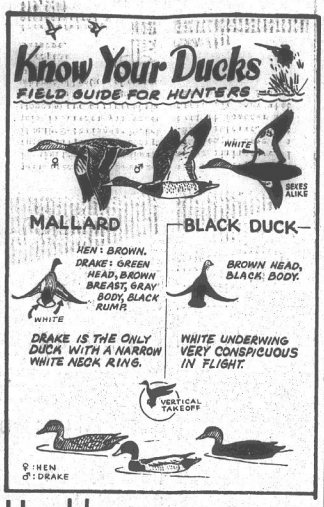
How about some of you other Cameron parish hunters? Any deer yet?

DEER HUNTERS IN LOUISIANA? How many would you guess that there are?

Prior to this year there was no reliable indication. The Commission did run a mail survey on hunting for the 1955-56 season, which indicated that about 27% of the hunters did some deer hunting. If we accept that percentage it would mean that about 67,000 of the hunting license buyers that year went after a buck. Add to that, of course, those deer hunters who aren't required to buy a license because of age.

For a number of reasons the reliability of that survey is subject to question, but the deer tag law that's in effect now should give some valid information on the number of potential deer slayers abroad in Louisiana.

From the postage already paid by the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission on the franked "Notice of Purchase" part of the deer license, it's apparent that the total number of deer hunters will run well over 60,000. This includes those issued free to those under 16 and over 60.



One of the interesting things about the new license is the number of free ones being called for. Having nothing to go on, the Commission underestimated quite badly how many would be required. In Natchitoches parish, for example, 1216 deer licenses had been SOLD up until Dec. 2, and 550 had been issued free.

About Deer Hunting

The Thanksgiving Day opening for all deer hunting in the state really spread the hunters out, which was just what was intended. On Jackson-Bienville, for instance, where more than 3000 hunters showed up on the Thanksgiving opening in 1959, the top for any one day this sear was 1118. Even that doesn't give a true picture of how many hunters actually hunted on the unit. Many admitted that they were going to hunt with dogs outside the unit, but were getting a permit just in case they needed to go across the boundary.

On several units one or two hunters in a party would release a pack of dogs just outside the boundary, while the rest of the hunters in the party went into the game management unit and took up stands. Dogs have a way of ignoring boundaries when they're after a deer. With dogs running in the units many hunters sat on pipeline rights-of-way and on roads instead of getting out in the woods and hunting. This, plus lighter hunter pressure, contributed to lower kills on most units. On Evangeline, However, more deer were killed this year by fewer hunters than was the case in 1959.

Cameron Pilot

5TH YEAR--NO. 11 | CAMERON, LA., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 16, 1960 | 10¢ A COPY

Civil War report begins next week

The fighting men who leaped to serve the flaming guns of the infant Confederacy were destined to earn the proudest reputation in military history. Beginning next week, the Cameron Parish Pilot correspondent, Robert Stonedale, on the scene will describe the exploits of the most feared soldiers and finest patriots who ever lived in: REPORT FROM THE CONFEDERACY.

Describing graphically the grand charges and stubborn defenses of our fighting countrymen . . . stories filed by The Pilot's correspondent glow with the warmth, humor, and fierce patriotism of the Confederate soldier. In each day's dispatches Johnny Reb and his great commanders come alive . . . talk, complain boast and sometimes die.

Overall shines the valor and devoation of the army whose exploits awed the world . . . a source of pride to every American. The struggles of the Southern people and their Government to create a modern army in the face of great odds, and without industry and supplies is a saga that must never be forgotten.

In REPORT FROM THE CONFEDERACY, the exploits of the men who rewrote modern military tactics and theory, are reported in the language of the day as they occur. The great gray Divisions of Hood, and Hill and Pickett and Ewell swing past on their way to the heights above Fredricksburg . . . and to the bloody scenes at Gettysburg.

The fierce scream of the charging Brigades echoes over the fields of Sharpsburg and the Wilderness, at Franklin and Dalton, and the thunder of their massed cannon near Richmond rumbles across the years.

Sir Winston Churchill has said that no one can appreciate the strength of American character who is not familiar with the magnificent record of the Confederate Army. Don't miss it starting next week in The Pilot.

McCall 'Knight of the Year'

Norman McCall of Cameron, was named "Knight of the Year" and given a plaque by the members of Cameron Council #3014, Knights of Columbus, Monday night at the annual banquet at the K. of C. Home in Creole.

The presentation was made by Dalton Richard, last year's recepient, who cited McCall for his outsmanding participations in council activities this past year. Among them was the heading of a council committee to raise funds from members and the erection of a shrine to Our Lady of Fatima at Sacred Heart Church in Creole.

Mr. McCall is a charter member of the council which was formed in 1946. He is also a member of Msgr. Hubert Cramers General Assembly of the Fourth Degree, the Cameron Lions Club, and the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

During World War II, he served on the famous submarine "Jack" in the Pacific. He is married to the former Joyce Colligan of Cameron and they have two children.

An address was delivered by Emile Reggie of Crowley, State Master of the Fourth Degree in Louisiana.

Past Grand Knight certificates were presented by Grand Knight J. Berton Daigle to Mark Richard, J. O. Theriot, Wilson Montie, Whitney J. Broussard, Sr., Dalton Richard, James L. Derouen, and E. J. Dronet.

The invocation was delivered by Father Henry LaChappelle, assistant at Sacred Heart Church in Creole and the benediction was made by Father Eugene Senneville, Pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish in Cameron. Wilson Montie served as master of ceremonies.

The meal was prepared by members of the Catholic Daughters and served by members of the Home Economics class of South Cameron High School.

Gov. Davis to make hunt here Friday

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis will help to open the second half of the duck season in Cameron parish by making a hunt at Little Chenier as a guest of the Crain Brothers.

Rep. Alvin Dyson said the governor was expected to arrive Thursday evening, make a hunt Friday morning and then return to Baton Rouge for the convening of the third special session of the state legislature Saturday.

"The governor certainly needs this little vacation," said Mr. Dyson, referring to the hectic sessions of the legislature for the past several weeks.

This second half of the duck season, which ends January 8, is expected to be better than the first, the cold rainey weather having brought in many more ducks.

Parish hunting clubs are reported to be booked almost solid for the three week period, and there should be a large number of hunters in the marshes.

Lawmakers express stand on sales tax

Cameron parish's three legislators this week expressed their stands on the proposed one-cent increase in the state sales tax which is expected to be introduced in the third session of the legislature which begins Saturday.

Senator Guy W. Sockrider of Lake Charles said he was "definitely opposed to any sales tax increase" and would "vote against any increase in existing taxes or against any new taxes."

In Jennings, Senator A. C. Clemons, Jr. held a special press conference Wednesday and urged the people of the state "to rise up and fight the proposed addition of a cent to the existing 2 per cent sales tax."

Cameron state representative, Alvin Dyson, said this week that he had not made up his mind yet on the sales tax and said he wanted an expression from the citizens of the parish as to how they felt about the proposed tax.

Mr. Dyson said he would welcome expression from any parish resident on the matter.

A VERY STRONG statement was issued by Senator Clemons against the sales tax. He charged that the segregation issue was only "a screen to get the taxes passed."

Senator Clemons, who is vice-chairman of the state finance committee said, "There is no evidence of economy in the state government -- and that includes the top office."

Recalling Gov. Davis' campaign promises that there would be "no additional taxes" the senator said, "to ask for an increase in sales taxes is not playing fair with the legislators or the people."

A one cent increase in sales taxes will bring in $55 million additional in revenue, Sen. Clemons estimated. If the legislation should pass the House of Representatives, 26 votes would be needed to carry the measure in the Senate.

The senator commented "I don't believe there will be that much support for the measure in the Senate, and I doubt it will pass the House". Sixty six votes would be necessary for the measure to pass in the House of Representatives.

Urging the people to wire Gov. Davis and their respective legislators the senator said the people should demand systematic budgeting and better economy at the state level.

He said, "Gov. Davis never will have enough money to run this state unless he puts it on a sound business basis and eliminates the current wasteful spending. To levy additional taxes under the pretense of needing the fund to maintain segregated schools is misleading."

Answer filed in Hackberry suit

An answer to the suit against the Hackberry recreation commission was filed in Cameron district court Thursday of last week and the case was placed on the trial docket. No date for the trial was set, however.

The suit was brought recently against the recreation commission by a number of Hackberry property owners, who charged irregularities in the calling of the election.

Filing the answer on behalf of the recreation commission last week was J. B. Jones, Jr., assistant district attorney. Representing the plaintiffs was Allen Kimball of Jones, Kimball, Harper, Tete and Wetherell, Lake Charles attorneys.

Another Hackberry resident, Thomas Babineaux, this week petitioned the court to remove his name from the suit as one of the plantiffs, stating that he did not give his permission for his name to be used in the suit.

Frank Salter takes office

Frank T. Salter, Jr. took the oath of office as district attorney for the 14th Judicial District, for Cameron and Calcasieu Parishes, at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

The ceremony was conducted in the main court room of the Calcasieu courthouse with Dist. Judge G. W. Swift Jr., administering the oath to the man who succeeds Edward L. Shaheen.

Relatives and friends, public officials and state and parish employes attended the ceremony. The Rev. T. V. Owens, pastor, Boulevard Baptist Church, gave the invocation and benediction.

A Lake Charles attorney for over nine years, Mr. Salter was for three years assistant in the district attorney's office, from which he resigned several months before running for the office.

He has resided in Calcasieu Parish for 15 years, is married and is the father of three children.

A 1951 graduate of the Law School of Louisiana State University, Mr. Salter served in the Air Force in World War II is a past president of the McNeese Alumni Association and has served as commander of W. B. Williamson Post of the American Legion.

He was in 1958 named "outstanding young man of the year" by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

A member of the First Methodist Church, Mr. Salter is also a member of Masonic Lodge 165 and is a 32nd degree Mason.

Mr. Salter, who won over Mr. Shaheen's bid for reelection in the Democratic primary election last Summer, said Wednesday that he will name the assistant district attorneys at a later date.

Army Pvt. John R. Akers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Akers, Hackberry, recently completed eight weeks of military police training at The Provost Marshal General's School, Fort Gordon, Ga. Akers received instructions in self defense, traffic control and the basic procedures of civil and military law. The 23-year-old soldier entered the Army in August and was last stationed at Fort Jackson, S. C. He is a 1955 graduate of Hackberry High School and was employed by Rollins Service Station, Hackberry, before entering the Army.

Santa's coming Sat.

Santa Claus will make his annual visit to Cameron Saturday afternoon at 2:30 p.m., riding up on the Cameron fire truck to distribute candy to parish children in the courthouse square.

The visit is made possible each year by Cameron fireman, Lions and Optimist clubs. Funds for the candy were raised in benefit softball games this summer.

All children of the parish are invited to turn out to meet old man whiskers himself.

An additional visit will be made by Santa Claus this year to the colored section of town. Sponsors ot the annual event observed that not many colored children turned out last year at the courthouse, and it was felt that a visit to their section of town might encourage more to come out.

Santa will visit the colored section at 4 p.m. and will be in front of Mary's cafe.

CAMERON PARISH

Population set at 6,909

Cameron parish's official population is 6,909 persons, it was announced by the U. S. Census bureau this past week.

This is 182 more persons than in the tentative figure released last May by Mrs. Betty L. Boyd, district census supervisor. The increase represents Cameron parish residents who were counted in other localities.

The new figure gives Cameron parish an increase of 691 persons since 1950 when the population stood at 6,218.

The census bureau lists all of the parish's population as rural, as there are no incorporated towns in the parish.

A breakdown by wards is as follows:

Ward 1 (Cow Island) -- 611.
Ward 2 (Grand Chenier) -- 879.
Ward 3 (Cameron & Creole) -- 2,721.
Ward 4 (Grand Lake & Sweetlake) -- 1,036.
Ward 5 (Johnson Bayou)-- 479.
Ward 6 (Hackberry) -- 1,183.

The 182 extra residents represents a 11 percent increase during the past ten years, which undoubtably would have been much larger had it not been for the large loss of life in Hurricane Audrey in 1957.

The population increase statewide was 21.4 percent.

Cattlemen's meeting place is changed

The semi-annual meeting of the Cameron Cattlemen's Association, originally scheduled to be held at the K of C hall in Creole, has been changed to the VFW home in Cameron, and will begin at 7 p.m., Friday. The change was due to a conflict with another meeting.

President Mark Richard said new officers will be elected by talks will be made by two Louisiana State University specialist: C. O. McKerley, animal husbandry, and Wick Babin, retired LSU show manager.

Rice growers approve quotas

Cameron parish rice growers voted 43 to 2 in favor of continuing rice marketing quotas Tuesday.

At Sweetlake the vote was 14 for, none against. At Klondike it was 29 for and 2 against.

There were no votes in the cotton referendum, as there are no longer any cotton farmers in Cameron parish.

Lions club to send child to specialist

The Cameron Lions Club Wednesday heard a report on a small needy Cameron boy who needs corrective eye-treatment. The club, which has a special sight conservation committee, voted to send the child to a specialist in Lake Charles.

E. J. Dronet announced that the club had made a profit of $219.96 on its sale of light bulbs, and it was voted that the club would make a $125 donation to the Lions Club League for Crippled Children this year.

Letter club elects officers

The South Cameron Letter Club held its first meeting Wednesday afternoon and elected the following officers: James LeBlanc, president; Eddie Joe Conner, vice-president; and Ruben Ray Morales, secretary-treasurer.

The initiation of four first year lettermen into the club was planned.

Bids asked on additions at S. Cameron

The Cameron parish school board will open bids on Jan. 12 on a large expansion project at South Cameron high school.

The project will include a field house for use by athletic teams, tripling of the sizes of the boys and girls dressing rooms in the gymnasium, and the construction of a guidance center.

At the school board meeting last week a surface lease on Section 16-15-3 was granted to Drozan Miller for $301 a year. One other bid was received, that of Dudley Swire for $170 a year.

Trial held in suit against menhaden firm

A trial was held Tuesday in U. S. District Court in Lake Charles in a $25,000 suit filed by Clinton B. Conner against Gulf Menhaden Co., Inc in connection with a June 24, 1959 accident in Cameron.

Conner seeks damages for loss of earning and injury allegedly suffered in a fall on "Muddy Waters," a fishing vessel owned by the defending company.

Diptheria immunization is urged here

All Cameron parish children should be given diptheria immunizations if they have not already received them, Dr. G. Vasquez, director of the Cameron parish health unit said this week.

Some 61 cases of the disease have been reported in 11 parishes in the state this year. Five children have died from the disease this year.

"Diptheria is highly infectious," Dr. Vasques said, "and even when not fatal can cause serious complications of the heart, blood vessels, kidneys and nerves."

The director said diptheria, tetanus and whooping cough injections should be given to babies as young as one to two months of age. It is especially important that children complete their diptheria shots before they start to school.

For families who cannot afford a private physician, the Cameron parish health unit holds regular immunization clinics at which diptheria shots are given without charge.

These clinics will be held at the Cameron health unit during December on Thursday, Dec. 22 and 29 from 8 a.m.

Hackberry and Gillis share district lead

Hackberry and Gillis were tied up this week with a 3-0 recording in the race for the lead in District 10-B basketball.

The Hackberry Mustangs had an easy time with Starks Tuesday night, winning 61-33. The Drost brothers, Donald and Kenney, dropped in 21 and 19 points, and Aubrey Welch got 10. Welch also got 18 rebounds.

Hackberry was scheduled to play LaGrange Thursday night in the American Press tourney in Lake Charles, and will meet South Cameron next Tuesday at South Cameron.

This latter game should be a thriller. Hackberry beat the Tarpons in the South Cameron tournament, and then the Tarps turned around and beat Hackberry in the parish tourney last week.

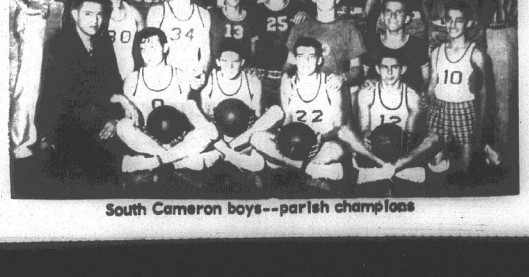
Hearing held on Gibbstown bridge suits

A hearing in connection with suits based on the burning of a tug at the Gibbstown bridge on Oct. 4, 1959, was held Wednesday U. S. Federal Court in Lake Charles.

The Louisiana Dept. of Highways has filed a $50,000 damage suit against Mike Hooks Inc., owner of a dredge in the intracoastal canal on the date of the fire, and J. S. Gissell and Co. has sued Hooks for $215,000 for damages to the tug and barge it was operatng, in the canal on that date.

According to the suit, the tug San Saba, headed east, pushing a gasoline laden barge, while passing on the north side of a dredge owned by Hooks, collided with an elbow pontoon supporting a discharge line from the dredge, causing gasoline to be spilled and a blaze to be ignited.



The tug and barge struck the tender system of the Gibbstown Bridge, the tug was gutted by fire and a large amount of gasoline was lost, according to the suit filed by Gissell.

The Dishonor Roll

by Jerry Marcus

More than 2,900,000 persons were killed or injured in motor vehicle accidents in 1959.

Around the CAPITOL

WALT BENTON

BATON ROUGE--What does the rest of the country think about Louisiana's efforts to run its own schools?

There has been no national survey, at least at this writing, but some idea may be gotten by letters received here on the subject.

There is always the question, of course, as to just what sort of person writes letters to officials. But there is some precedent for accepting such letters as a sample. The White House, for instance, has long been literally weighing mail on opposite sides of questions.

An actual count here of letters from nearly 40 states shows sentiment of more than ten-to-one in favor of Louisiana's fight for states' rights. Some of these took no stand on segregation as such, and said so, but praised the state for trying to run its own schools.

Some of the letters were typed, some were scribbled in pencil. Many quoted the Bible--on both sides. Some were humorous, some sad, some pathetic, some surprising.

A 14 year old boy in an integrated school in Wheeling, W. Va., wrote: "You must, and I pray you will, do everything in your power to stop integration. When I'm grown up and married I plan to move to Louisiana."

A long letter from a man in Camas, Wash., ended "I resent being made a second class citizen just because my skin is white."

From out in Riverton, Wyo, a woman declared "I am sure in my heart that you are right to disagree with the Supreme Court decision."

A Wildwood, N. J. writer confessed that "We in the north have been the victims of selfish politicians who would prostitute their principles at the drop of a hat, for a vote."

From Ohio, long integrated, a Painesville couple declared "In your courageous fight for states' rights, be assured there are millions of northerners who are deeply sympathetic to that cause."

A writer in New Rochelle, N. Y., said "Believe me, integration solves nothing x x x It adds to all sorts of problems. You should see and hear what goes on in some of our schools."

A "lifetime student" of the Constitution wrote from Sutherlin, Oregon: "I wish you would ask Judge Skelly just where in that great instrument power was ever delegated to a federal judge to issue orders to a governor"

An Oklahoma City writer said "It is indeed a relief to know that there are a few governors who are trying to help the people of the state, and not yes-men to everything that Washington puts out."

From Philadelphia: "I will not argue whether segregation is right or wrong. But I will stand faithfully behind the principle that every state is sovereign, its governor the chief executive, and that action of the legislature represents the willl of the people."

From Kittery, Maine: "I firmly believe in segregation. There are many, many more that feel the same as I do here."

Gloucester, Mass.: "Rest assured there are millions of fellow Americans in the north who are cheering for their fellow Americans in the south in their struggle for their state rights and freedoms guaranteed by the constitution."

Washington, D. C.: "Any group of savage tribes in Africa can demand and get independence, handed to them or a silver platter. And yet American states cannot run their own school systems!"

Body of tug crewman found

The body of William P. Ellis of Mobile, Ala., was recovered from the Intracoastal Canal near Grand Lake at about 2 p.m Monday, through dragging operations of the Cameron parish sheriff's office.

Mr. Ellis, member of the crew of the tug boat Felicity Ann, fell overboard Sunday afternoon and drowned near the Calcasieu Locks, south of Lake Charles.

The body has been sent by O'Donnell Funeral Home to Mobile, Ala. for funeral arrangements there.

He is survived by his wife, and one son.

The sales tax hike

It seems almost certain that an attempt will be made in the third special session of the state legislature, which begins Saturday, to raise the Louisiana sales tax from two to three cents on the dollar. This is a very serious matter, the outcome of which will effect the entire economy of the state, and should be examined very closely by every citizen.

The expressed purpose of the proposed tax would be to set up a system of private schools to give all Louisianians a freedom of choice of where to send their children should intergration be forced throughout the state.

But one strong supporter of the legislature's segregation program so far this year--the Shreveport Times--voiced this week some strong misgivings about a tax increase. Said the Times editorially:

"Neither the Legislature nor Governor Davis can state at this time whether the state's grants program is constitutional.

"Consequently, they cannot guarantee that passage of a sales tax increase permanently would keep so much as one white child out of one integrated school.

"Passage of any tax increase at this time would place the governor and the legislature in the position of using segregation to set up new taxes that certainly could not be enacted otherwise--and for which no present need has been demonstrated even if the educational grants law is constitutional. Once such a tax is established there would be little hope of rescinding it if the grants law is found unconstitutional."

The Times editorial goes on to point out that a one cent sales tax increase would yield $40,000,000 to $45,000,000 per year, but that only $300,000 would be needed for this school year for $300 grants to the 1,000 white students affected by desegregation in the two New Orleans schools, in Virginia, where a similar grants program is in operation, the total cost to the state is only $1,030,000 per year.

The Times suggests that before any new taxes be passed that the state administration should try to determine the constitutionality of the new law--perhaps with a friendly taxpayer's suit. The editorial concludes:

"Regardless of who may be right or wrong on these matters, it certainly is dead wrong to use segregation as a spring board for tax hikes without even the faintest knowledge of whether the segregation cause will be helped."

THEY WORK HARDER BECAUSE THEY RIDE EASIER!

Because they ride easier they last longer, too. They take better care of payloads and they make a long day's work a lot more pleasant for the driver. All that—primarily because of Independent Front Suspension (I.F.S.). If you think it's stretching a point to attribute that many advantages to a suspension system, you haven't driven a new Chevy with I.F.S. Take the wheel and feel its road-leveling ride, its almost total absence of shimmy and wheel fight, its ease of steering even in the big rigs. Spend hours behind the wheel and you're not nearly as tired. You're not and neither is the truck. That independent suspension soaks up the worst shock and vibration—the kind that can twist sheet metal and loosen joints and increase your maintenance costs. That's why Chevy trucks keep on working and saving for extra thousands of miles.

IN THE MARKET FOR A BOAT? Offhand, most people will say "not right now." Winter is icy, and despite the fact that this is the South, hub, boating activity of all kinds falls off during these months.

This is the time for you to go shopping, however, if you think you might want a rig in the next six months. For many reasons boat dealers will really "deal" in the fall and winter. New boat models are coming in and they need to move the old stock to make room. Most want to reduce their inventory before the first of the year, if possible.

Then, too, there are a lot of good used outfits available during this off season. Many owners plan to get a new rig next spring, usually a bigger one, and will sell their old boat, motor, and trailer at a good price if they can move it now.

Don't buy a boat unless you've tried it (or one like it) out on the water. A rig can be pretty, efficient, and in good condition---yet not be for you. Everybody has his own set of requirements for a craft, and they differ widely from person to person.

There is another reason for getting your boat now instead of waiting until spring. You can spend the winter altering it to your own particular specifications. Park it in the garage or under the carport and piddle to your heart's content. Add rodholders, lights, cabinets, ski racks, glass holders, and other equipment you desire. Then when Spring does come you'll be ready to use your rig---not spend some of the best fishing, skiing, and cruising days working on your craft.

LOST FOR THREE DAYS

The high mountain wilderness of Colorado found J. B. Deas, of DeRidder, a tough nut to crack this fall. For three days and two nights it enveloped him in all its fury, including more that 20 inches of snow. J. B. became lost while following a wounded elk but, with only his rifle and the clothes he had on, survived the long ordeal in good shape. He was never "found", actually, but walked 16 miles out to a ranger station. During the time he learned that squirrels cooked on a spit over an open fire will sustain life, but that they're mighty nasty fare when they've been feeding on the evergreen vegetation of that area.

Deas was part of the Dolph Lee party that made the trip to elk and deer hunt in the Gunnison area. Another of the party, from Stockton, Calif., was also lost during the same period, but fared much worse. He was finally found by search parties and was in poor condition. The guide on this trip had made all members carry waterproof matches and fire-starter material and it's probable that this saved life in this case.

OTHER La. hunters who Coloradoed in late Oct. were Charles Morgan, Roland LeBlanc, Lee Conner, Ben Pugh Sr. and Jr., B. G. Melendy, Lawrence Cook, and Ralph Pettigrew---all of Lake Charles and Iowa. They hunted near Leadville and killed 13 deer.

But there was more to it than this. Actually the hearing legally cleared the way for the city to appropriate nearly a score of properties required for the project right of way. At the time, the city was still negotiating for four valuable railroad properties that were necessary to the project.

As of that moment the city and the railroads were nearly $1,000,000 apart on a price for these properties. Sales tax increase proposal opposed by Cameron Lions

A resolution opposing the proposed one-cent state sales tax increase and urging Cameron parish legislators to vote against it was adopted almost unanimously by the Cameron Lions Club at its noon luncheon Wednesday. There was only one vote against the resolution.

The club authorized the sending of telegrams to Representative Alvin Dyson and Senators Guy W. Sockrider and A. C. Clemons, Jr. asking that they vote against the measure.

Tom Steed read to the club a resolution opposing the tax which had been adopted by the Young Men's Business Club of Golden Meadow.

The resolution pointed out that Louisiana already has the destinction of having one of the highest per capita tax structures in the nation, and that the state has already received much unfavorable publicity because of the school situation in New Orleans.

"Louisiana's present unfavorable publicity coupled with a tax situation would certainly not enhance this state as a good solid area in which to develop new industry and business," the resolution further stated.

NSC assistantship

Edgar Johnson, an undergraduate biological science major, is among 38 students at Northwestern State College holding assistantships in the various academic departments of the Natchitoches institution during the current school year.

Johnson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson of Hackberry.

Tax bill fails Wed.; another vote slated

Gov. Jimmie H. Davis' proposed $28 million sales tax raise failed to pass by three votes in the Louisiana House Wednesday, but another vote was scheduled for Thursday, or possibly after the Christmas holidays.

The vote for the one-cent tax raise for eight months, for private, segregated schools, was 65-36. This was three short, however, of the required 68 or two-thirds majority needed for passage.

Area legislators voted as follows on the sales tax:

FOR--Alvin Dyson, Cameron; T. J. Strother, Allen; and Bert Adams, Vernon.

AGAINST--J. M. Brown and Jesse Knowles, Calcasieu; John Lewis, Beauregard; and, Norman Ordoneaux, Jeff Davis.

5TH YEAR-- NO. 12 CAMERON, LA., DECEMBER 23, 1960 10¢ A COPY

YOU HEAR FREQUENT criticisms of newspapers for using the abbreviation "Xmas" in headlines where the word "Christmas" is too long, and some people go as far as to say that the practice is "Sacrilegious" as they construe the "X" to mean a disbelieve in Christ.

Yet newspapers are on firm ground when they use the term. The word Xmas, according to the World Book Encyclopedia, as a form of Christmas originated in the early Christian church. In Greek, X is the first letter of Christ's name, and was often used as a holy symbol.

So the next time you see Xmas--and it's sure to be around for some time--you can rest assured that the headline writer does mean CHRISTmas when he writes Xmas.

YOU DON'T have to go all the way to the North Pole to find Santa Claus--he has a home in Indiana. The Hoosiers named a small town after the plump giftgiver and put up a statue of him dedicated to "The Children of the World." In a typical year, some four million pieces of mail pour into the post office of the town, to be remailed with the postmark, "Santa Claus."

HERE WE GO again! The Cameron Lions Club has challenged the Optimist club to a basketball game -- sort of a continuation of the rivalry started in last summer's softball game.

Jerry Jones is captain of the Lions team, and says he will use a system of "free substitutions" to keep the team going at full steam.

Optimist acting president Jimmie Deroueh said he would relay the challenge to his club. The game probably will be played at the Cameron elementary gym sometime after the holidays.

THE CAMERON BOY Scout drive has gone well over the $600 mark--much more than the amount raised last year --Dr. Cecil Clark reported this week.

Nutria take nears 200,000 mark

Nearly 200,000 pounds of nutria meat has been processed in Cameron during the past several weeks and shipped out to mink farms in Wisconsin. Local processors say they are very pleased with the success of the operations to date.

Tom Steed of Steed's Fish Company, who has an initial order for a million pounds of the meat, says that with the present volumn, he should be able to easily fill this large order. He has already shipped out four truck loads of the meat.

The nutria operations, which began the first of the month, are expected to extend into spring.

Whole nutria carcasses are being bought by Bruce's Fur House, owned by Bruce Sterbenz and operated by James Frederick, who have trucks making daily runs to Pecan Island, Grand Chenier, Johnson Bayou, Gum Cove and Hackberry.

The nutria are skinned at Bruce's plant, the pelts treated and sole to Doxey & Sons, Fur Buyers, and the meat to Steed's Fish Company.

Steed, in turn, packs the meat in 30 pound boxes, freezes it and sells it to a broker for shipment north as mink food. Steed added an additional freezing unit to his plant this past year and has adequate room to freeze and store the meat.

Barbecued nutria to be served here

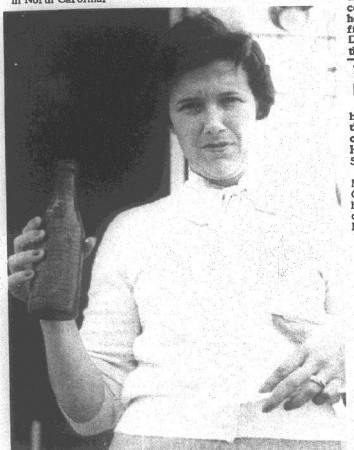
Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival goers may get the chance to sample barbecued nutria at the festival in January.

Tom Steed, manager of Steed's Fish Co. which has gone into the business of freezing and selling nutria meat as feed for ranch-raised mink in Wisconsin, told the Lions Club Wednesday that the meat is perfectly good for human consumption, and in fact is said to be very tasty.

J. Berton Daigle, Cameron's fearless clerk of court, said he'd eat the first plate, and Jimmy Colligan allowed that he'd be second in line.

The club is now looking for someone who'll take charge of the barbecuing. (That barbecuer--extraordinary, Jimmy Deroueh, declined the job.) Any volunteers?

Police jury to meet on Jan. 3rd



Because of the New Year's holidays, the Cameron police jury will meet on Tuesday, Jan. 3, instead of Monday.

A representative of the state mosquito control association will appear before the jury to seek an appropriation for continuation of research on mosquitoes.

Menhaden company closes for Xmas

The Louisiana Menhaden Co. this week shut down all of its maintenance operations in order to give its employees a two-week Christmas holiday.

Manager Ed Swindell and his family left to visit relatives in North Carolina.

Message in a bottle

MRS, ED KELLEY here holds a bottle which drifted all the way from the mid-Atlantic ocean to a Cameron beach. The bottle, similar to several others found here recently, was dropped into the ocean in 1959 by the Guiness Company, Liverpool, England ale bottler, in observance of its bicentennial anniversary. The bottle contained information on the company and instructions on how to make the bottle into a lamp. The bottle was found by Mrs. Kelley's brother-in-law, Donald Kelley.

A busy nutria skinner

One of the contests in the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival in January will be the nutria skinning contest. This picture was taken of one of the contestants in last year's contest. The nutria have come into added interest here in recent weeks as a result of a new business which has been set up to process and sell the nutria meat.

COURTHOUSE, BANK TO BE CLOSED FOR HOLIDAYS

Most of the offices in the Cameron parish courthouse as well as the Calcasieu Marine National Bank will be closed the Mondays following Christmas and New Year's.

Oyster business is booming here

The new Cameron oyster business is booming, Roland J. Trosclair, operator of a new oyster shucking house, told the Cameron Lions Club Wednesday.

In the last 20 days his plant has taken in 3200 sacks of oysters, he said. With fishermen getting $2 a sack, this has meant about $6,000 to $8,000 extra in circulation in Cameron during that time.

Several other places in Cameron are also in the oyster business. The Cameron Seafood Company is handling them by the sack; Gerald Authement is in the business, and Fred's Lounge has an oyster bar in operation.

Mr. Trosclair said oyster prices were good now, but there would be a slight slump after the holidays due to the let up of the demand for oysters in preparation of Christmas dinners.

Mr. Trosclair said the oysters, which are coming out of Calcasieu Lake are of a very good quality, especially during the last few days, and are in good demand in such oyster markets as New Orleans.

The shucking plant is turning out about 80 gallons of oysters a day. Trosclair said he had five good shuckers at work but could use more.

LeBleus hurt in explosion on houseboat

Mr. and Mrs. Arsand LeBleu of Cameron were severly burned Monday morning when a butane stove exploded on their houseboat used as a duck hunting camp on the south end of Little Lake Misere.

The LeBleus had gotten out about 4:30 a.m. to go hunting. When Mr. LeBleu lit the stove, as explosion blew out the sides of the houseboat and knocked his wife through the front door into the water.

Mr. LeBleu pulled his wife from the water and brought her to the Gibbstown ferry landing, eight miles to the west, in his outboat speed hull. They were then taken to the Lake Charles Memorial hospital by car for emergency treatment of burns over a large part of their bodies.

Telephone Co. completes job

The Cameron Telephone Co. has completed a big $40,000 or so improvement program on the Johnson Bayou telephone system, it was announced this week by William Henning, president.

The micro-wave system, which has been in operation throughout the rest of the parish for several years, has been extended to the Beyds, and some ten miles of buried telephone cable has been installed.

A micro-wave tower and telephone exchange building were erected at Johnson Bayou and the Cameron tower was extended 50 feet to give it an overall height of 150 feet.

Mr. Henning said the additions and changes will give much better telephone service to Bayou subscribers. The submarine cable across the ship channel has been eliminated, thereby doing away with the danger of it being cut by a ship's anchor, and the exposed line along the coast, which was constantly being shorted out by the salt spray, has been done away with.

Christmas program held on the Bayou

In the first, "Christmas is a Miracle", was the following students: Gene Miers, Gerald Jinks, Margaret Cravens, Jerry Constance, Daniel Billiot, Hebert Trahan, Winston Constance, James Erbelding, Kenneth Leger, James Rutheford, Jessie Trahan, and girls from the first through sixth grades.

Another play, "Her Christmas Wish," had as actors Linda Faye Thibodeaux, Linda Gayle Erbelding, Nola Bee Jinks, Jerry Constance, Delores Merritt, Ricky Ryan and Larry Jinks.

Carols were sung by the high school choir.

Tuesday night there was a Christmas party for the high school sponsored by the 4-H Club.

Principal Joe Sonnier said he would like to express Christmas greetings from the faculty to the members of the community and to thank them for their support and cooperation this past year.

Tuberculosis fight funds are needed

The Calcasieu-Cameron Tuberculosis Association needs contributions from all Cameron parish citizens to enable it to carry on its fight against TB and to assist TB victims, Joe W. Doxey, parish TB fund chairman, said this week.

Recently he said, Christmas seals were mailed to all residents of the parish. Certificates in the amount of $5 and $10 were also sent to prospective contributors. He urged all persons who received seals or certificates to send in their contributions as soon as possible.

"You seldom if ever hear of cases of yellow fever, typhoid or malaria these days," Mr. Doxey stated. "This is because such disease, which formerly took many lives, have been controlled through research. Tuberculosis can easily be controlled as well but it takes money to continue the research and control work.

Hospital aid is approved

The federal government has agreed to put up 50 per cent of the estimated $5000,000 cost of the Lower Cameron hospital, it was learned unofficially this week, according to Dr. Cecil Clark, a member of the local hospital board.

Dr. Clark, who is also a member of the Louisiana hospital board, said that Hill-Burton funds for the hospital were approved in Dallas this week by the U. S. Public Health and Welfare agency, but that the action will not become official until several minor suggested changes are made in the hospital plans to meet government requirements.

These changes will be made within a few days, and offical confirmation of the appropriation of the funds should be received in Cameron very shortly, Dr. Clark said. A work order for beginning of construction would then be issued.

The construction of the hospital has been delayed almost a year while the hospital board worked to secure federal matching funds for those already voted by the property owners of the hospital district.

Baptists asked to turn lights on Christmas

When members of Cameron parish Baptist churches start to church on Christmas morning, they are asked to turn their car headlights on.

The request, according to Rev. Glen Fournet of Cameron, comes from Rev. J. W. Bartlett of Sulphur, moterator of Carey Baptist association.

On two recent holidays, car lights were turned on by drivers to indicate they were "safe drivers". Rev. Fournet said that Baptists, by turning their auto headlamps on Christmas day, will indicate that "in addition to being safe drivers, they are saved drivers on the way to worship the Savior".

Secession likely--War threatens

By ROBERT STONEDALE,
Cameron Pilot Correspondent

CHARLESTON, S. C. Dec. 18, 1960.--The terrible specter of a fraternal war is arising to affright the Nation tonight, as a cry for Independence arises from the Southern States. The triumph of a screaming handful of Northern fanatics in the recent Presidential election has wrapped the hopes of Southern moderates in a bloody winding-sheet, and all patriots are resigned to an armed conflict with the forces of tyranny.

Hard on the news that Abraham Lincoln of Illinois and the Black Republicans won the Presidency by default, native sons of the great Southland moved to withdraw their States from the Federal Union - peaceably if possible, but by force if necessary.

As the truth dawns that the Northern Abolitionists are resolved on the destruction of the rights of the South, loyal citizens who voted for Breckinridge, as well as those who cast their ballots for Bell or Douglas, have coalesced into a great new party -- Liberty is its watchword -- Defiance is its warcry. The tocsin is sounding across the South tonight, while Southerners are mustering to arms and preparing to protect themselves and their families. ...

"War then.....let them have war!" shouted a South Carolina citizen from a lampost near Institute Hall last night, as he brandished a double barreled pistol. "Of blood I'll give quarts...mine and my four sons', before I'll yield one foot of land to Northern rule or Abolition despotism!" These fiery sentiments were applauded by the greatest part of the crowd awaiting the decision of the South Carolina Secession Convention now meeting. The delegates are expected to vote the removal of the Palmetto State from the Federal Union within the next few hours.

Reactions in other parts of the South range from resignation in some of the Border States, to calls for immediate and bloody war against those who would pervert the Constitution to their own ends. It is impossible to venture an accurate opinion as to the course of action in the rest of the States at this critical juncture.

However, it appears that 50 years of patient compromise and conciliation on the part of the South have come to and end. The moderates are unheard in the uproar and many hither to temperate citizens have reluctantly concluded that the Southern States will be deprived of their constitutionally guaranteed rights, and that independence is the only hope.

South Carolina is perhaps less restrained in the expression of its intention to reclaim its sovereignity from the Federal compact than is any other State. While some local citizens feel that the Federal authorities will be unable to interfere with the expected decision, the majority expect war, especially if the Federals refuse to evacuate the forts in Charleston Harbor.

"We must arm immediately if Lincoln is elected," Senator, Robert B. Rhett of Charleston warned the people last month, and State and local militia-

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

● What Should We Expect Of Our Teachers?

(Guest editorial from the Baton Rouge MORNING ADVOCATE.)

It is an awesome task that has been imposed on the teachers of Louisiana and on the many thousands of other teachers throughout the nation.

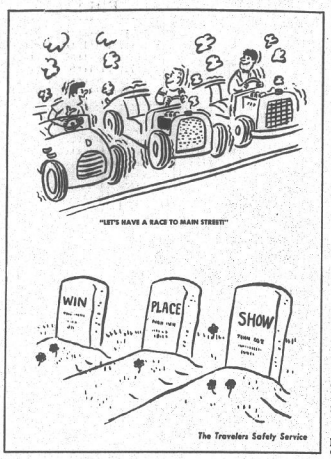
It is their task to give the children of America the education they will need to be good men and women, useful citizens, successful in their personal and public lives.

But it is not enough merely to make this education available on a come-and-get-it basis. The teachers must encourage every student to want an education. They are expected to judge the qualifications of each student, to worm out of him, regardless of his own indifference or ignorance, his true goal in life, and to give him the particular kind of education needed to equip him for the field of activity to which he is best suited.

The teachers are expected to remedy the mistakes and oversights of parents and to give each student a well-rounded personality, to train him in at least the basic social graces, and to teach him how to get along with other people. They are expected to give the student the discipline that his parents have not been able to give him or have been too lazy to apply.

The teachers are expected not only to do these things but also to make use of their own spare time and school facilities in affording the student opportunities for wholesome recreation and a balanced social life. They are expected to teach the student patriotism, Americanism and other intangibles, and to do so in a manner satisfactory to a half-dozen different groups who sometimes disagree with one another.

Finally, the teachers are generally expected to accept responsibility for the inadequacies of the student. If he fails, it is not because of his own lethargy or incompetence or the failure of his parents to steer him in the right path. It is because the instruction was at too high a level, at too low a level, too severe or too lax, or because the teacher didn't understand the student. The teacher is expected to advance the student regardless of his grades because to hold him back may affect his personality adversely.



After accepting this gigantic assignment, the teachers are expected to sacrifice a great many of their own personal interests and dedicate themselves to this superhuman task in a manner that few others would consider. They are expected to do all these jobs, do them well, and remain calm and steadfast in the midst of the endless controversies that rage over educational methods and when caught in the middle in such crises as that now occurring in Louisiana.

It has been said many times that we do not pay our teachers enough here in America. Certainly we don't, if we are to expect them to do what we ask them to do. Any who successfully carry out such an assignment earn more pay than any teacher ever received. But that more than a very, very few human beings can perform such a complex and burdensome task to the satisfaction of all those involved is very, very doubtful. Perhaps we need to take a close look at the job of teaching and decide more clearly what we should ask of teachers in America today.

We might get more out of our educational dollar and have a happier, more contented and more efficient national teaching staff if we quit expecting teachers to do the impossible or to take over jobs that so many of the rest of us ought to be doing.

The Dishonor Roll

"LET'S HAVE A RACE TO MAIN STREET!"

The Travelers Safety Service

Drivers under 25 years of age were involved in almost 29% of the fatal accidents in 1959.

Around the CAPITOL

BATON ROUGE - - "Without merit."

That, briefly, is how the United States Supreme Court has described Louisiana's efforts to preserve state sovereignty in general and segregation in particular.

What now?

On the immediate segregation problem, it looks like more action in courts, plus an effort to pay private school expenses for pupils in any public schools integrated.

On state govereignty in general and "interposition" in particular, it begins to look like a long, hard battle on a national scale.

The Louisiana legislature has asked the state's Congressional delegation to introduce a proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution Introduction is easy. Getting an amendment passed is quite a task.

In the first place, attorneys here say, the proposal must get approval by two-thirds of both the house and the Senate. Imagine what national and local pressures minority groups could bring against that!

Even if approved by both chambers, the proposal would then have to be approved by the legislatures of three-quarters of the states. So any 13 states could block it.

If such an attempt is made, despite these difficulties, what form would it take? Should the proposed amendement attempt to spell out "states' rights" in general, or be specific?

One version proposed here unofficially would be traditionally short and simple and on only two specific, points: Education and tidelands.

The amendment offered Congress would read something like this:

"Whereas the Constitution of the United States of America, as amended, delegates certain powers to the federal government and specifies that "the powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the states, respectively, or to the people,' and

"Whereas the federal judiciary in recent years has virtually legislated in such state fields as state borders and state public education.

"Therefore be it resolved that the Constitution of the United States is hereby amended to include the following:

"(1) Each of the several states reserves to itself exclusive rights and powers over its systems of public education.

"(2) The boundaries of the states, within which each state shall have exclusive mineral rights over all public lands except those owned by the United States with the approval of the state concerned."

That "except" clause in (2) would take care of national parks or other federal lands. Or, for that matter, of any tidelands some state might want to turn over to Uncle Sam.

Another version here, entitled "freedom of choice," would spell out that specific right to employers, restaurant owners, property owners and others, under "blessings of liberty" provisions of the Constitution.

The hope is, of course, that people in other states will begin to realize that their support could mean that the states' rights they save may be their own.

Shrimp boat is grounded in lake lake over night men have been drilling and equipping themselves as fast as possible ever since the election results were received here. At present the largest military organization in South Carolina is the Fourth Brigade. It is headquartered in Charleston under the command of Brigadier General James Simons.

Governor F. W. Pickens has ordered the mobilization of all state troops and the immediate issuance of all necessary ordnance supplies from the State Armory. There is no doubt here that virtually every citizen is resolved to defend the rights of South Carolina to the death.

GEORGIA RAISES TROOPS

Sentiment in other states is only slightly less heated. The Georgia Military Convention adopted a resolution last month which states that Georgia cannot remain in the Union consistantly with her safety and best interests.

Henry C. Wayne has been appointed State Adjutant-General and 10,000 troops are now being raised. The purchase of Maynard rifles has been authorized by Governor Joseph E. Brown, and the sum of $1 million appropriated for defense. An election for delegates to a Secession Convention has been called for the first Wednesday in January. It is a foregone conclusion that the delegates will dissolve the compact between Georgia and the Union.

Next week, the people of Alabama will elect delegates to a disunion convention scheduled for January 7th. It is rumored that the convention will also call for a meeting of the representatives from all Southern States with a view to forming military alliances, and to consider the formation of a general government. In the meantime, Governor Andrew D. Moore has authorized the organization of the Alabama Volunteer Corps consisting of ten regiments of infantry. The Second Regiment which includes the famed Tuskegee Light Infantry Company, is headquarted at Montgomery.

Mississippi will elect delegates to her Secession Convention day after tomorrow. The convention is expected to quickly endorse the resolution passed last month by the Legislature which calls for separation from the North. $150,000 has been appropriated for the emergency purchase of arms. Fifteen companies of infantrers has been organized thus far in Mississippi.

LOUISIANA RALLIED

In New Orleans, citizens are still quoting the pre-election speech of the Honorable William Lowndes Yancey of Alabama which called upon Louisianians to defend their rights with the bayonet if the need arises.

"We will, if necessary, make of the South a modern Thermopylae!" Yancey thundered at the crowd.

Even before a convention to consider Secession has been called, it is obvious that the people at large are ready for immediate separation. The Orleans Cadets and Louisiana Guards militia companies have been organized as the First Light Infantry Regiment under the command of Captain J. A. Jacquess of New Orleans. The Convention has been called to meet during the last week in January.

Although Governor Houston of Texas has made public speeches opposing Secession, it is said that he is known as the captive creature of the Federal Government, and that the people of Texas will make their voices heard in the cause of States Rights. Militant throngs are forming militia companies all over the Lone Star State, and there is no doubt that the sons of the defenders of the Alamo will not hesitate to spring to arms when and if their services are needed.

Fish are obtainable at a small cost through the offices of the Soil Conservation Service and the County Agent. It takes two stockings for a managed pond--bream in the fall and bass in the spring.

Parish farmers or land owners interested in stocking fish ponds should contact Charles Borel, SCS office, or Hadley Fontenot, county agent, in the parish courthouse.

What is a newspaper

There are times when what looks like a newspaper may not qualify as such for legal purposes. In my places there are what are known as "shoppers" or "throwaways." They contain more or less news, they serve a purpose, but their primary purpose is advertising.

Such publications are useful and many of them have been in existance for years. Some of them make a fine appearance. But it is significant that they cannot qualify for second class entry under the postal laws. This is because they do not come within the definition of a bona fide newspaper under the regulations.

Then again there are special interest newspapers which, within their limits, also serve useful purposes. The se may be fraternal or religious in nature or may have to do with a specific trade, business, industry or profession.

But in the very great majority of cases the thousands of state laws governing public notices, or legal advertising, specify the use of bona fide newspapers of paid general circulation in the community for such purposes. This is because such newspapers usually give maximum coverage, circulate throughout the community their main purpose is to publish editorial and news matter, and their paid circulations are undeniable proof of their merit, their influence and their being wanted in the community.

Joyous Christmas

"And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host, praising God and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth, peace, good will toward men. And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord has made known unto us. And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child."

Dyson says he will vote on tax as citizens wish

Cameron parish's state representative, Alwin Dyson, this week said he would vote on the proposed one-cent increase in the Louisiana sales tax in the way the citizens of Cameron parish want him to vote.

Last week Rep. Dyson voted in favor of the tax increase, but the measure failed by three votes in getting the two-thirds majority needed for passage in the legislature.

"My first vote was my own conviction," Mr. Dyson said this week. "The second vote I cast will be that of the people of Cameron parish."

However, Mr. Dyson indicated that he was still strongly in favor of the one cent increase and would do his utmost to convince the people of the parish of its need.

"My conviction," he said, "is that if we are going to carry on this fight against integration and for state rights we are going to need the money to do it with."

He said he feels that Cameron people will back his stand if they know the facts about the school fight. "The newspapers are not carrying the real facts, but I'm going to give them to the people of Cameron."

* * *

MR. DYSON, who explained his position to the Cameron Lions Club Wednesday, said that when the original proposal of a tax increase for four years was made, he had told Gov. Jimmie Davis that he couldn't go along with the increase unless the time was shortened. The period was later reduced to eight months.

He also said he had not gone along on the increase until the money was dedicated to the specific purpose of support to the grant in aid program areas where intergration had been ordered by the court.

Mr. Dyson said that it would take a two-third vote of the legislature to change the dedication of the tax, the same majority needed to pass the tax in the first place. He said he did not believe the money would or could be used for any other purpose other than for the school fight.

The legislator told the Lions Club, of which he is a member, that he had not received the club's telegraph last week until an hour after the vote on the tax bill had been taken.

The Lions last week had adopted a resolution, unanimously except for one vote, urging Mr. Dyson and the parish's two senators to vote against the tax increase. They had then telegraphed the legislators to this effect.

The two senators, Senator Guy Sockrider of Lake Charles and Senator A. C. Clemons of Jennings, have not yet had the opportunity to vote on the tax increase, but both have made very strong public statements against any tax increase at this time and said they would vote against it.

Mr. Dyson said that he would meet with both the Cameron police jury and school board next week to explain his position and to get an expression from the two bodies.

He said that he was ready "to discuss with anyone interested in carrying on the fight we're in, the tax measures needed to provide the means for continuing the fight."

"In this war, our ammunition is money," he said, "and if we stop the flow of ammunition we'll lose the war."

1961-62 Duck Stamp Design

The design chosen for the 1961-62 Federal Duck Stamp features mallard ducks--a hen and eight ducklings--in a natural habitat. Edward A. Morris of Minneapolis, Minn. drew the winning design which he entitled "Nine Mallards." This is the 26th in the series of migratory bird hunting stamps.

ONE OF OUR subscribers, Mrs. Ollie Davis, Mesa, Arizona, sent in a nice note along with a change of address. She writes: "I do enjoy reading my home paper as I was born and reared on Johnson Bayou. I also have friends and relatives in Cameron and all through Louisiana.

"My paternal grandmother was a Premeaux and my maternal grandfather was Frederick Erbelding, a postmaster on Johnson Bayou for many years."

THE LOUISIANA legislature reconvenes next Wednesday and main order of business will be the reconsideration of the proposed one-cent increase of the state sales tax.

The purpose of the tax increase would be to finance the co-operative schools in the areas where integration has been ordered by the federal courts. Originally, this bill proposed a terminal date of July 1, 1964, but it since has been amended to terminate Aug. 31, 1961.

The original proposal would have produced $45 million a year in income; the amended bill would produce $28 million in the eight-month period. Money bills originate in the House but must be confirmed by the Senate. A two-thirds majority is required to pass tax bills.

If the tax increase passes your taxes would be increased by the following amounts for the eight month period:

Annual Salary	Additional Tax
$3000	$21.00
$3600	$25.00
$4200	$31.00
$4800	$36.00
$5400	$38.00
$6000	$45.00

THE CALCASIEU AREA Safety Council is sponsoring another "lights on for safety" campaign over the New Year's weekend. Motorists are asked to turn on their headlights in the daytime as a reminder to others to drive carefully.

From all reports, Cameron parish certainly had a safe Christmas holiday. About the only accidents of which we heard was of a truck turning over and a car hitting a cow. No one was hurt. However, a Cameron family, Cpl. and Mrs. Allen Hebert and their small son were seriously hurt in a wreck in Jeff Davis parish.

MRS. TOM TAYLOR asked that we extend the community's appreciation to the following ladies who bagged the candy for the recent Sweetlake Christmas party: Mrs. Charles LeBleu, Mrs. McKinley Broussard, Mrs. Clyde LeDoux, Mrs. A. B. LeDoux, Mrs. Clement Demarest, and Mrs. M. Walding.

Frank T. Salter, Jr., new district attorney for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes, this week announced the names of four attorneys who will serve as his assistants. They are:

Henry L. Yelverton, first assistant, who handles the legal matters for the Calcasieu police jury, school board and other political subdivisions.

Jack C. Watson, second assistant, who will assist with the criminal activities of the district attorney's office.

Charles Richard, third assistant, who will assist with non-support cases and also help with criminal matters.

Jennings B. Jones, fourth assistant, who will assist in all legal matters concerning Cameron parish and such other matters that from time to time require his legal talents.

Mr. Salter stated that although the law requires that the assistant district attorneys be designed as "first, second, third and fourth," they would be of equal authority in handling the work in their respective positions.

He also said that Mr. Richard had accepted a temporary appointment for a period of six months as an accommodation to the district attorney.

MR. YELVERTON, a member of the Lake Charles law firm of Camp, Palmer, Yelverton & Carwile, was raised in Winn Parish. He received a B. A. degree from LSU; did graduate work at Tulane and received his law degree from LSU.

He taught parochial school in Tennessee and New Orleans for two years, and is an instructor in business law at McNeese State College.

He served two years with the Air Force reaching the rank of First Lieutenant in intelligence work with the strategic air command.

Mr. Yelverton has practiced law for three years. He is married to the former Lorraine LeJeune and they have five children.

Jennings B. Jones, Jr. was born in Grand Chenier April 13, 1926, the son of Mrs. Lola Jones and the late Jennings B. Jones, Sr. He graduated from Grand Chenier high school in 1943.

He attended Southern Methodist University, the University of Texas and received his law degree from Louisiana State University in 1949. He served with the U. S. Navy for two years.

Mr. Jones began practice in Cameron in 1949 and also served as the parish's veterans service officer until 1952. He was appointed assistant district attorney by Griffin T. Hawkins in 1953 and later re-appointed by Eddie Shaheen.

He is married to the former Fae McCall and they have three children.

Cameron Parish Cattlemen Assoc. holds annual election

By CLIFFORD MYERS
Assistant County Agent

The semi-annual meeting of the Cameron Parish Cattlemen Association was held last Friday evening at the V.F.W. Hall in Cameron at which time a shrimp boil was served.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mark Richard, president; Billy Doland, vice-president; Clifford Myers, secretary-treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were: Sam Little, Hackberry; Archie Berwick, Johnson Bayou; David Doland, Grand Chenier; Conway LeBleu, Cameron; Horace Montie, Creole; Eraste Hebert, Sweetlake; Curtis McCain, Grand Lake; and Horace Mhire, Cow Island.

Guest speakers were W.M. Babin, retired L.S.U. livestock show manager and C.O. McKerley, assistant L.S.U. beef specialist.

Mr. McKerly stated that one day's operation can mean the difference between profit or loss in cattle business. That is, the cattlemen must be aware of the market fluctuation. The cycle can make much difference and at the present time the spring calf programs are bringing in the most money.

His observations on the Cameron parish cattle situation was that more fence is going up than usual which means that the cattlemen are in a better position to properly manage their herds, such as; creep feeding, herd improvement (blood line), replacement program and the feeder calf program.

In order to improve the grade of calves, Mr. McKerly suggested that the cattlemen select bulls of high quality and then carry out a program of strict calf selection for herd replacement.

DEMOCRATS DO BEST IN CAMERON

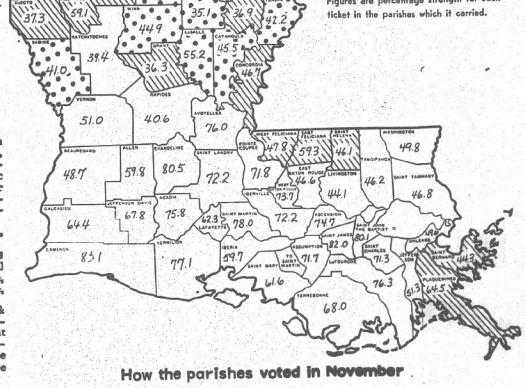
Jack does well in parish

President-elect John F Kennedy did very well in the November election in Cameron parish. In fact Cameron gave the Democrats the biggest majority of any parish in the state.

This information was revealed in the December report of the Public Affairs Research Council, a non-partisan governmental research organization.

Cameron gave 83.1 percent of its votes to Kennedy. Other parishes in the state which exceeded the 80 percent mark were Evangeline, St. James and St. John.

In the November vote, the Republicans received 13.7 of the Cameron vote and the States' Rights ticket got 3.2 percent.



Cameron was 16th in the state in voter participation in the presidential election with 70 percent of the registered voters voting.

State wide the Democrats got 50.4 percent of all votes cast. Republicans obtained 28.6 percent and States' Rights, 21 percent.

Among the 38 parishes in southern and south-central Louisiana, the Democratic slate obtained a majority in 25, and a plurality in an additional eight. The Kennedy-Johnson ticket received a majority in none of the 26 northern parishes and a plurality in only one--Natchitoches Parish.

The Nixon-Lodge slate did not carry any of the southern or south-central parishes. The five parishes in which the Republicans obtained a majority, and the eight in which they received pluralities are all in the northern part of the state.

REPORT FROM THE CONFEDERACY

South Carolina secedes

By ROBERT STONEDALE
Pilot Correspondent

CHARLESTON, S. C., Dec. 25, 1860. The South Carolina Secession Convention has voted unanimously as of December 20th to "dissolve the Union between the State of South Carolina and other states united with her under the compact entitled "The Constitution in the United States of America'."

As the 169 delegates signed the ordinance of Secession, the news sent the waiting street crowds into pandemonium. The gun at the Post Office roared in salute, and was echoed by the citadel guns. The chimes of St. Michael's brazenly heralded the moment of independence in concert with the bells of other churches, and the sun broke through the clouds that have drenched Charleston in rain during the past three days of excitement and apprehension.

After the last delegate had signed, the Reverend Dr. John Bachman invoked divine aid:

"Almighty God," he said in the sudden hush, "We beseech Thy blessing, favor and protection for this solemn act. The Hosts of Heaven and the manhood of South Carolina must be the united bulwark of our Independence."

As the cannon continued their thunderous salutes, a new flag bearing 15 stars, one for each Southern State, was hoisted to the accompaniment of roars from the crowd. Infantrymen from the Fourth Brigade fired 15 volleys as the banner fluttered to the top of the staff.

As Christmas dawned this morning, Federal officers and troops, now unwelcome invaders on the soil of South Carolina, continued their preparations for war at the forts in Charleston harbor. While church bells summon the citizens to adoration of the Prince Of Peace, the forces of tyranny continue to occupy the forts and batteries which are the lawful property of those same citizens.

Despite acts which are calculated to inflame the public to acts of hostility, Governor Francis W. Pickens and his military advisers are exercising the greatest restraint and tact in dealing with the Federals. How long the people will permit their property to be occupied by the military forces of a foreign Nation however, is an open question. The actions of the Federal garrison are arousing much anger among the people of Charleston.

The positions still under illegal Federal occupation include Fort Moultrie on Sullivan's Island on the north side of the harbor, Castle Pinckney on the mainland, Fort Johnson opposite Charleston, and Fort Sumter situated in the main ship channel. These positions effectively dominate the water approaches to the city, and constitute a threat to the security of Charleston which cannot be tolerated.

Fort Moultrie mounts 11 heavy cannon in barbette and several large mortars. It has stone-capped brick walls 16 feet in thickness which are filled with earth. The Federals have been laboring for weeks to protect the fort from an assault. Sandbags have been piled between the cannon to progect the gunners from raking fire, and a sloping fence of sharpened pickets has been placed at the top of the parapet to prevent scaling ladders being used in an assault. While this work has been going on, South Carolina militia officers have been keeping close watch from the roofs of the Summer houses on Sullivan's Island.

"The Yankees needn't think they can keep us out with sharpened stakes," said Lt. James Lewis of Orr's Rifle Company yesterday as he watched the Federals through an enormous pair of imported binoculars. He lowered the glasses and pointed to the surrounding homes: "If necessary, we can place 2000 riflemen atop these buildings and make it impossible for the Yankees to bring any creature larger than a sand flea near the guns."

Fort Moultrie and Castle Pinckney will be very difficult to defend against a land attack if Governor Pickens should decide to take them by force.

"We can drive them out of the land forts in an hour's fighting," General Simons commanding the Fourth Brigade of South Carolina Troops stated after Services this morning, "and they know it. Fort Sumter is another matter," the General continued, "We will require heavy guns and perhaps a floating battery to reduce it. However, I believe the Federals will return our property to us rather than have it taken from them with the bayonet."

Governor Pickens has warned the United State Government that any further attempt to victual Major Anderson's command will be considered an act of war and an open invitation to hostilities.

"We are willing to continue our attempts at arbitration with the Federals for a time," the Governor announced last week, "but the continuing work on the fortifications constitutes a threat to good relations between our two nations."

Around the Capitol

WALT BENTON

BATON ROUGE — It's a tiny candle, so far, in a lot of darkness, but there is some definite indication here that a growing number of Negroes in Louisiana are doubting the wisdom of integration.

Two legislators, for instance, have reported receiving direct word from colored constituents that they believe their race will make more progress under the "separate but equal" doctrine once approved by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Some of those writing, of course, are Negro teachers, who can see integration of public schools as marking the end of their jobs and their careers. And that same prospect undoubtedly has influenced the thinking of some professors in Negro colleges, where many colored boys and girls are studying to become teachers.

But there are reported to be increasing numbers of other Negroes, in other fields, who have looked at the overall picture objectively and see forced integration as actually impeding a history of progress of which they are proud.

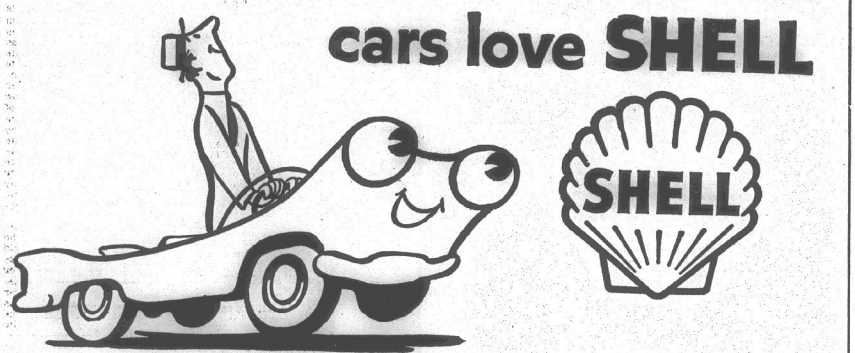
There are reports, in fact, of plans for an organization called "Proud," whose members are signing a document declaring something like "I am proud to be an American Negro—a member of a racial group that has risen in a few years from slavery to economic independence and eminence in many fields . . . I want my own schools, my own churches. . . . I want earned respect and understanding, and not forced integration."

Such an organization would, of course, come immediately under fire of the NAACP and similar groups seeking total integration, and it probably would require considerable determination to stand firm under resulting harrassment.

Less cheering are some other reports here, including talk, both ways, of some sort of boycott, such as that recently virtually promoted on a nationwide television program. A boycott either way, of course, would hurt the economy of a state already burdened with its share of the national recession.

As a result of that and other television programs, incidentally, there is also talk here that some state officials may seek to make telecasts in several eastern states, to give the "Louisiana side" of the segregation story. A newsman here who turned up that story said administration officials would not confirm it—but they refused to deny that such plans were in the making.

Cause of these and similar plans is reported to be a long series of "twisted" national reports on the situation here, including remarks by one arrogant "reporter" on television to the effect that "it is stupid to say that there are two sides to the segregation question."



Pan American to lay line across bayou

Pan American Petroleum Corp., Lake Charles, has applied for a Department of the Army permit to install two 2-1/2 inch pipe lines for gas and oil across Black Bayou, at a point about 0.3 of a mile above the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway, near Grand Lake in Cameron Parish. The pipe lines are to be laid at a depth of not less than 5 feet, below the bed of the waterway.

Mr. Riggs moved the adoption of the following resolution, and the same was seconded by Mr. Trosclair and carried:

ORDINANCE NO. EX-12, 1960

AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE FUNDING INTO BONDS OF CAMERON PARISH, THAT PORTION OF THE ROYALTIES RECEIVED BY THE STATE OF LOUISIANA FROM MINERAL LEASES HERETOFORE OR HEREAFTER GRANTED BY THE STATE OF LOUISIANA ON STATE OWNED LANDS, LAKES, AND RIVER BEDS AND OTHER WATER BOTTOMS BELONGING TO THE STATE OF LOUISIANA OR THE TITLE TO WHICH IS IN THE PUBLIC FOR MINERAL DEVELOPMENT WHICH IS CREDITED TO CAMERON PARISH IN THE ROYALTY ROAD FUND UNDER THE AUTHORITY OF SECTION TWO OF ARTICLE FOUR OF THE CONSTITUTION OF LOUISIANA, AS AMENDED BY ACT NO. 212 OF 1952.

WHEREAS, by Section 2 of Article 4 of the Constitution of Louisiana, as amended by Act No. 212 of 1952, Cameron Parish is authorized to fund into bonds of said Parish that portion of the royalties which are credited to it in the Royalty Road Fund created by said Section received by the State from all mineral leases heretofore or hereafter granted by the State on State owned lands, lake and river beds and other water bottoms belonging to the State or the title to which is in the public for mineral development, for the purpose of providing ready funds for the building and construction of black-top, concrete or other hard-surfaced roads, highways, bridges and tunnels in said Parish and to purchase, operate and maintain automobile ferries in said Parish, or for any one of said projects or combination thereof;

WHEREAS, this Police Jury has determined that it is desirable and to the best interest of the Parish to exercise this power, by issuing at this time $200,000 of said bonds of said Parish; and

WHEREAS, this Police Jury has received the consent and authority of the State Bond and Tax Board at Baton Rouge, Louisiana to issue and sell said bonds; and

WHEREAS, this Police Jury has investigated the operating history of the said Royalty Road Fund and has determined the amounts credited to the Parish of Cameron that can reasonably be expected in future years, particularly during the years that the bonds herein authorized would be outstanding and unpaid, and from such investigation and determination this Police Jury hereby finds and determines that there will be far more than enough money accruing to it in future years that will be necessary to pay the bonds herein authorized and all other obligations payable therefrom promptly and fully in principal and interest, and that sufficient monies have been deposited in said Fund in the past years to comply with all legal and contractual requirements to the issuance of the bonds herein authorized payable from the portion of the royalties credited to Cameron Parish in the Royalty Road Fund on a complete parity with the $800,000 Road Royalty Bonds dated January 1, 1955, hereinafter described and previously authorized and issued; and

WHEREAS, the Parish of Cameron, State of Louisiana has outstanding and unpaid as of the date of the adoption of this Resolution the following described bonds issued pursuant to authority of Section 2 Article 4 of the Constitution of the State of Louisiana, as amended by Act 212 of 1952, all of which bonds constitute general obligations of the Parish of Cameron for the payment of which the full faith and credit of said Parish is irrevocably pledged, with the monies placed to the credit of Cameron Parish in the Royalty Road Fund being primarily dedicated to the retirement of said bonds and the interest thereon, viz:

(a) $550,000.00 of Royalty Road Fund Bonds dated January 1, 1955, issued pursuant to an ordinance adopted by this Police Jury on October 4, 1954, as amended by an ordinance adopted January 3, 1955 ($800,000 of said bonds having been authorized by and issued pursuant to said ordinance); and

(b) $105,000.00 of Royalty Road Fund Bonds entitled "Public Improvement Bonds, Series 1957," dated January 1, 1957, issued pursuant to an ordinance adopted by this Police Jury on February 1, 1957 ($150,000 of said bonds having been authorized by and issued pursuant to said ordinance); and

WHEREAS, under the terms and provisions of the aforesaid ordinance adopted October 4, 1954, as amended on January 3, 1955, authorizing the issuance of the above described bonds dated January 1, 1955, the Parish of Cameron was authorized to issue additional bonds payable primarily out of monies deposited in the Royalty Road Fund to the credit of said Parish and ranking on a parity with said Royalty Road Fund Bonds dated January 1, 1955, provided that the monies deposited in the Royalty Road Fund to the credit of Cameron Parish during the twelve month immediately prior to the date of adoption of the ordinance authorizing the issuance of such additional bonds was equal to at least 110% of such amount which, if annually applied to the redemption or payment of the bonds then outstanding and the proposed additional bonds, would be sufficient to pay the interest and the principal of such bonds and such additional bonds at the maturity or respective maturities thereof; and

WHEREAS, under the terms and provisions of the aforesaid ordinance dated February 1, 1957 authorizing the issuance of the above described bonds dated January 1, 1957, the Parish of Cameron was authorized to issue additional bonds payable primarily out of monies deposited in the Royalty Road Fund to the credit of said Parish and ranking on a parity with said Royalty Road Fund Bonds dated January 1, 1957, provided that (a) the average annual amount of monies credited to Cameron Parish in the Royalty Road Fund when computed for the three completed fiscal years (commencing July 1st and ending June 30th) immediately preceding the issuance of the additional bonds was equal to or in excess of one and seven-tenths (1.7) times the highest combined principal and interest requirements for any succeeding twelve months' period on all bonds then outstanding, including any pari passu additional bonds thereafter issued and then outstanding and any other bonds or obligations whatsoever then outstanding which are payable from the funds credited to Cameron Parish in the Royalty Road Fund, and the additional bonds proposed to be issued; (b) the payments required to be made into required sinking funds for principal and interest for all outstanding bonds, including amounts required to be paid into any required reserve or emergency funds for said outstanding bonds, must be current and no defaults in payment of principal or interest must exist; and (c) the said additional bonds must be payable as to principal on January 1 of each year in which principal falls due and payable as to interest on January 1 and July 1 in each year; and

WHEREAS, this Police Jury has determined that, on the basis of the maturity schedule provided for hereafter for the aforesaid $200,000 additional bonds and assuming the constitutional maximum interest rate of five per centum (5%) per annum were payable thereon, more than sufficient funds have been deposited in the Royalty Road Fund to the credit of Cameron Parish to fully comply with the aforesaid tests for the issuance of the present $200,000 additional bonds, and that all other requirements of those tests to be complied with in order to authorize the issuance of said additional bonds, have been met including the requisite payments into the "Sinking Fund for Cameron Parish Public Improvements Bonds, Series 1957" and the "Emergency or Reserve Fund" established by the aforesaid ordinance adopted February 1, 1957;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED by the Police Jury of Cameron Parish, Louisiana:

In last week's column I wrote that the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission was considering the purchase of some land in northeast Louisiana for a game management area. Before the column was in print they had bought it!

Barring any legal complication, the sale should be final by the first of the year. The area is 15,000 acres of Lafourche bottomland, including a part of Wham Brake reservoir which provides a lot of duck hunting for the Monroe area. The sale price was $440,000, just a shade less than $30 per acre.

This marks the first purchase of land by the Commission for public hunting. All of the other game management areas are either on national forest land, or are leased by the Commission from private owners.

TWICE AS MANY DUCKS were in Louisiana for the opening of the last "half" on December 17 as were here for the first opening on November 4. The figure was four million against two million.

On the last weekend of the first split I hunted for a couple of hours on Wham Brake, the impoundment just north of Monroe which was built by International Paper Company to hold discharge wastes from their paper mills at Bastrop. I was with Lindy Houston, who is in charge of Wham, and got a kick out of the duck calling that went on.

"It's loud that counts", was the way Lindy put it. "The guy who can blow the loudest usually gets the ducks."

Quite a number of good strings of mallards crossed our end of the Brake, and I must say that competition for their attention was keen. If five or ten blindloads of hunters weren't unleasing their finest brand of ducktalk for each flock something was wrong.

With all that distraction it amazed me that the birds worked to any blind, but they usually did. Some fine shooting took place, too. With my binoculars, from the elevation of our blind, I had a ringside seat of the activity. One blind about 500 yards out front took seven mallards out of a flock reel neat-like, with no cripples, which is something you don't see too often.

The New Iberia Boat Club has served notice on the Corps of Engineers that more bouys and marker beacons are needed in the mid-Louisiana north Gulf area. They especially want more navigational aids along Southwest Pass, a deep channel which connects the Gulf with Vermilion Bay, on the west side of Marsh Island. Two other spots which need attention, according to the Boat Club, are Shell Keys and Diamond Reef, both off the southern shore of Marsh Island.

The New Iberia Boat Club is one of the most active in the country, and this type of activity is typical of the service that such groups can and should render.

Parish hay crop

By HADLEY FONTENO
County Agent

Hay production made the biggest gains of any agricultural crop in Cameron parish this year, although in early summer before the July rains started, indications were that there would be little hay because of the drought.

Some farmers had even gone into the marshes and cut seashore paspalum (Join Grass) for hay. Incidently, this makes a good quality high grade hay when cured properly.

Johnson Bayou cattlemen and farmers increased their production of hay more significantly than any other section. Warren Trahan, who does most of the custom baling on the bayou reported his baler turned out 32,000 bales this year. Some of that was baled out of the parish, but for Cameron cattlemen - this compares with hay production of a few thousand bales a few years back.

Other custom balers, Billy Doland, Conway LeBleu, Mervyn and Steve Taylor and Malcolm Hebert all reported a booming business this year. This is besides the several self owned balers who put up their own.

Good rains accounted for some of the increase in hay production. Other factors contributed a good deal to this increase. First, more cattlemen are conscious of the value of available hay, especially after a hard winter as we had last year. Second, more people are wintering bulls and heifers and need more hay. Third, fertilizing and seeding grasses and legumes for hay is no longer regarded as a waste of money.

Most popular seeded hay in the parish is Coba Lespedeza. However, many other kinds were planted. Alyce clover, alfalfa, coastal bermuda sorgum almum, pensocola, Behia and brown top millet are the other domestic plants grown for hay.

Another popular practice is fertilizing native bermuda and crab grass stands. This not only increase the quantity but also the protein content and quality.
