THE CAMERON FIRE department was a little action last Thursday when they were called to the Trifle drilling rig about a half mile north of Cameron. THE LOUISIANA congressional delegation advised us by wire Thursday that the U. S. department of agriculture seems reluctant to re-classify Nato rice in Group Four for government price supports this year as asked by area growers at a hearing in Crowley recently. However, they say they have arranged a meeting with USDA officials later this week and will keep plugging away on the matter.

Vertol 44 is one of the biggest commercial 'copters in the world

Giant helicopter based at Cameron

Helicopters have been a familiar sight around this area for several years, but the giant 'copter flying in and out of the Cameron airstrip these days has made local folks sit up and take notice.

And well they may. For this is one of the largest commercial helicopters in the world. Only one other concern in the country--New York Airways--are now using them.

The big 'copter is a Vertol 44 and is owned by the Atlas Helicopter Service Inc. of Omaha, Neb., which also has a branch office in Lafayette.

Weighing over seven tons and with a total length of 52½ feet, the Vertol has been in Cameron more than a month flying offshore oil workers back and forth between Cameron and two offshore rigs some 40 miles out in the Gulf.

The bird cost an amazing $390,000, and will carry 15 passengers and a pilot. It leases for $400 per flight hour.

B. B. McRea is the chief pilot and Al Jaroma the chief engineer. Atlas Vice-President B. T. Brown has also been a visitor to Cameron.

THIS PARTICULAR helicopter has a very interesting background, Pilot McRea reports. During the Brussels World Fair it was leased to Sabrina Airlines and flew passengers back and forth between Brussels and Paris.

It is said to be the only helicopter to land within Vatican City in Rome, and has been blessed by Pope John himself.

Cameron folks have been cordially invited by Pilot McRea to come by and inspect the Vertol 44.

Robert Manuel of Basile is named Tarpon coach

Robert L. Manuel, assistant coach at Basile for the past six years and acting coach this year, has been named head football coach and athletic director at South Cameron high school for the 1960-61 school term, according to Supt. U. E. Hackett.

He succeeds Alton Magee, who has resigned effective the end of the present school term.

Mr. Manuel graduated from Basile high school in 1946, received his B.A. degree from Louisiana College and M.A. degree from Colorado State College, with majors in physical education and science. He spent two years in service, 17 months of this in Korea.

In addition to serving as assistant coach, Mr. Manuel has taught seventh and eighth grade science at Basile.

The highlight of Mr. Manuel's coaching career was in 1957-58 when Basile's head coach, Louis Hanson, took a leave of absence, and Mr. Manuel assumed the head coaching duties. That year the football team won eight games, lost one and tied one. They tied for district honors with St. Michael's and Welsh and was beaten 18-13 in the playoff with Welsh, a team they had defeated in regular season play 26-0.

ROBERT MANUEL

The Basile basketball team also entered the state playoff and was defeated in bi-district play by Welsh.

Mr. Manuel has had coaching experience in football, basketball, track, baseball and wrestling. He is 33 years old.

His wife, who received her B.A. degree from Southwestern and has had nine years of classroom experience, will teach in the Cameron elementary school.

Mr. Hackett announced that he had had eight applications for the South Cameron coaching job.

Winn and Nunez also ran legs on Grand Lake's winning 440 and 880 yard relay teams, and Winn won the 220 and Nunez the high hurdles.

The Cameron parish grand jury met May 3, but with no cases to come before it, had nothing to do but inspect the courthouse. They found little to be improved upon except for some painting in the jail, a drainage problem in the sheriff's garage, and a water fountain needing repair.

Holly Beach News

Streets surfaced

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

Holly Beach streets were blacktopped Monday. Everyone is rejoicing that the shell dust will no longer fly. We hear that more streets may be hard surfaced later.

Phones were working this week after almost a month of complete idleness.

The Hackberry cattlemen were driving their herd to summer range this week. Vaccinating and branding are now taking place everywhere.

Let it not be said that local people are not international-ly minded. Princess Margaret's wedding was a much discussed affair and the TV viewing was a "must be seen" thing.

Our highways and country lanes were very proud of themselves lately, and their colors and beauty on parade were, wild purple iris, yellow oleanders, shaded pink hues of buttercups, all this topped with the soft green of the spring debut in threes and grass.

The country scenes in the peak of their glory were complete with the frisky colts and calves that are numerous along the highway.

Mae Dora Constance and Mrs. Robert Penny drove to DeRidder Monday.

Tourist and friend from everywhere greet us with favorable comment on the Pilot. They say they keep in touch with the parish through the news.

Fishermen make unusual catch

By MRS. TOM TAYLOR

Last Sunday Raymond and Gussie Menard were fishing in the Intracoastal canal when Menard hooked a big logger-head turtle weighing about 75 lbs. Being afoot the problem was, how to get the turtle home. After a good tussle with it, they decided to get help, one staying with the turtle while the other went for help. John W. Farque who lives nearby came to their aid with his wheelbarrow. There was turtle galore to share with the neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Poole and Mrs. Calvin Devall drove to Orange last Tuesday where Mr. Poole met his boat. Mr. Poole is employed by the Southern Marine Service.

Last week the Grand Lake Community was swamped with berry pickers. Along highway and byways berry pickers could be seen, and no wonder for this year the berries are bountiful. But as the saying goes – a thorn for every rose, and so it is with the berries, a thorn in the form of red-bugs--Mrs. C. J. Farque reports she has found a solution to this problem by adding epson salts to the bath water which eliminates the bugs.

I would like to correct an error in last week's column --It was Russell Broussard who had mumps and not Russell Young.

MRS. IVA FREE, Cameron Home Demonstration Agent, underwent surgery last Monday at St. Patrick's Hospital.

Last week, Alex Young was hospitalized for treatment at St. Patrick's.

Last Friday, Charles Daigle suffered a hand injury while working on and oil well rig, and was rushed to St. Patrick's. Charles is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Zephren Daigle.

Mrs. Nelson Faulk underwent surgery at St. Patrick's last Friday.

We wish them, every one, a speedy recovery.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ovey Babineaux were their son and family, the Lonnie Babineauxs of Crowley.

Mother's Day, Mrs. Edgar Poole visited her mother, Mrs. Irene Vincent in Hackberry, also her brother, Charles Wayne, who was home on a fifteen day leave from Fort Knox, Ky.

Two families report that they are enjoying fresh green beans out of their garden, the Leon Heberts and Wilfred Ogeas.

Mother's Day has come and gone and in its wake left a song in the hearts of many mothers everywhere.

Three mothers were awarded gifts at the Big Lake Gospel Tabernacle last Sunday. A beautiful brooch was presented to each of the following: Mrs. John Peshoff, the oldest mother; Mrs. Edward Hebert, the youngest mother, and Mrs. Edgar Poole, the mother having the largest number of children.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Johnsrude and daughter, Liza Gay left Saturday for Madison, Wis., where they plan to make their home. Mrs. Johnsrude is the former Millie Merle Poole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Poole.

Mrs. Lucille Young left Thursday for Crowley where dren who are living in a Foster Home in Branch. The children were given a few days leave to enjoy this visit with their mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Phorbus Stutes visited his and her parents in Crowley Mother's Day.

Mrs. Nellie Royer is keeping real busy these days. She is the new Avon representative for the Grand Lake area.

FISHERMEN in the Grand Lake area welcomed the strong south winds of last week which brought high water and with it an abundance of garfish. Some went out afoot, others horseback, all with rifles, getting their share of garfish, averaging from 2 to 5 ft. long.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Farque, last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Raoul Mott and daughter, Mary Ann and son Murel; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Mott and daughter De De, and Mr. and Mrs. Florn Hebert and family all of Lake Charles.

Rev. and Mrs. Rene Saltzman and daughter Rida of Grand Lake with their friend, Rev. Warren Johnson of Liberty, Texas, visited in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Olphy Gaspard in Abbeville, last Saturday. Rev. Johnson is a missionary from Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Poole and family were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Guidry of Jennings, Sunday.

Mrs. John B. Hebert left Tuesday of last week for a few days visit with her son and family the Ambra Heberts of Vinton. Mr. Hebert was recently released from the Sulphur hospital where he underwent treatment for a back injury.

Miss Lucille Miller crowns the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary at Grand Chenier.

Special observance marks Mothers Day

By ELORA MONTIE
Grand Chenier Reporter

Mother's Day was marked with a beautiful and moving observance at the Immaculate Conception Catholic church in Grand Chenier Sunday.

Miss Lucille Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Savan Miller, crowned the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary with a crown of white roses.

Miss Miller, an honor student in the graduating class at South Cameron high school, was attended by a court of six junior and senior high school girls: Misses Glenda Mae Nunez, Quida Theriot, Gloria Ann Martin, Mary Lee Theriot, Joyce Montie and Lydian Faye Theriot.

The ceremony was in honor of the feast of Mary The Mother of Mankind which Pope Pius XII ordered to be observed on Mother's Day, the second Sunday of May.

The Rev. Francis X. Lanoue, assistant pastor in charge of the Immaculate Conception church said in part, "I do not think there is a sweeter way of manifesting our devotion to the Mother of God than the crowning ceremony of the statue of Mary the Mother of Mankind. It is simply the fulfillment of Mary's prophetic words uttered centuries ago, 'Behold, all generations shall call me blessed' ".

The Procession was led by the cross bearer Teddy Broussard, followed by the American and Papal flag bearers Glen Richard and Dwight Mhire. The Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Altar Boys, and twenty children making their first Holy Communion preceded the crown bearers Dallas Brasseaux, Jr., two little flower girls, Kathy Miller and Mona Arceneaux, the queen's court and the queen, Miss Miller. The ceremony closed with a prayer of dedication by Father Lanoue and Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

Rural Electrics Celebrate 1st 25 Years!

Standing--E. C. Todd, Welsh; R. J. Champagne, Cameron; Gus H. Laurents, Klondike; H. O. Lestage, Jr., attorney, Jennings; and H. O. Hackett, Sweetlake.

What makes a co-op tick?

Urban peoples--those who have never lived in the country --may be surprised to know just what makes an electric Co-op tick. Most are also surprised to learn that elec-o tric co-ops are privately-owned service utilities, owned by the people they serve.

Members of the local Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative are more than mere customers or consumers of electricity. They are the stockholders with valuable equities and property rights protected by Louisiana State law.

Each member has one vote, regardless of social or financial standing, which he may exercise at legally required annual membership meetings. Members elect outstanding local farmers, merchants, doctors, lawyers, teachers, etc. to represent their interests on the Co-op board of directors.

The Board is all-powerful. It formulates all policies governing the business, except for certain restrictions reserved for approval of the membership in the by-laws and under Louisiana State Act 266. The Board hires the manager to operate the highly technical business. Employees are solely responsible to the manager.

With ownership vested in the members and under the controll of local, elected directors, the electric cooperative is truly a private enterprise business.

The cooperative and its governing Board have but one obligation to the federal government. . .to repay the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) loans on strict schedules, plus interest. (Works about like FHA-financed home ownership.)

* * *

NOT ONE SINGLE employee works for the government. The electric cooperative must operate efficiently, prudently and soundly just like any other private business or it will go broke and the government will foreclose the mortgage. Any one of the millions of FHA or VA-financed home owners can well understand what that means.

The electric cooperative has but one purpose and goal: To provide modern electric service at cost to rural homes, homes businesses and industries "no one else would serve".

For instance, the local Jefferson Davis Co-op has 928 miles of lines serving 3838 members, whereas commercial utilities may serve hundreds per mile of line. (And rural lines are more expensive to maintain.) Therefore, if the members didn't help in such matters as reading their own meters, reporting outages, trees about to fall into lines, etc. the co-op simply could not serve its widely dispersed members at competitive rates.

* *

THERE IS ANOTHER unusual aspect of member-owned electric co-ops: When a co-op member pays his monthly bill, he is building up equity in the business and valuable financial assets on the books.

The monthly bills not only bring in revenue to provide member service, repay REA loans with interest and maintain the system, adequate reserves for disasters, etc., if there is a margin at the end of the year, it is set up on the books as a "capital credit" for the members, each one's share being based upon the amount of power consumed and paid for each month.

This gives members added incentive to help the co-op economize and to use electric power wherever possible.

Jeff Davis manager says:

Co-ops need cooperation

Electric Cooperatives must be allowed to develop their service areas without invasion and harrassement, must have an adequate supply of wholesale power and continued low-interest financing if they are to survive.

J. S. Robbins, manager of the local member-owned Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc. made this statement to Southwest Louisiana civic leaders, legislators and police jurors at an appreciation banquet recently in Jennings.

It was stressed that electric cooperatives are home-owned private enterprises owned by those they serve--are not government agencies or "REAs", as often called. The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) was explained as a mere federal lending agency, making loans to 20 private companies in the state as compared to by 13 electric cooperatives.

The local manager said the service areas of the non-profit cooperatives are threatened by municipal expansion into former rice fields and pastures. Also some commercial utilities who refused rural service for 50 years are invading co-op service areas to take the more lucretive customers now that the co-ops have developed rural areas to the extent "that profit glimmers."

An outline of the history of rural electrification revealed that less than 2% of the rural people in Southwest Louisiana had electricity in 1941 when the co-op was organized out of necessity by local people.

"Today, there isn't a single home, farm or business in our five-parish service area without electricity, so far as I know", the manager stated.

* * *

IT WAS STATED that rural power consumption is doubling every seven years, necessitating heavy investments in re-phasing, heavier facilities, etc. This calls for continued low interest financing, as income from the rural areas is small in comparison to invested capital.

"The present move by the Administration to hike our interest rates," Robbins explained, "would severly curtail the co-op's rural development program and keeping in pace with spiraling consumer demands. We are now paying 27.1% of each revenue dollar on interest and principal to REA.

"If our interst rate is boosted to 4.5%, called for in the pending measure, it would be disastrous," the manager continued.

It was noted the government is giving billions to foreign nations, some of it for rural electrification. Contrarily, the money is loaned in this country and repaid with interest.

"REA has loaned private companies, public bodies and electric cooperatives $4-billion over the past 25 years. More than a billion dollars of that has been repaid," the local manager said while refuting advertising copy from a national magazine insinuating the co-ops to be government enterprises is competition with commercial utilities.

Reporting the history of Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, he noted the co-op was founded only after local rural people "couldn't get commercial companies to borrow money from REA to provide rural service."

The speaker asked: "Who were these people that propaganda falsely labels 'socialist'? They were all local Jeff Davis parish business men, farmers and civic leaders, many who still serve on the non-paid Board of Directors today."

After the co-op was organized under state laws, Cameron parish came into the organization in 1944, at which time some 6,000 of its citizens had no electricity.

Today the co-op has the third largest payroll in Jefferson Davis Parish, all employees being local people--"not a socialist among them," the speaker emphasized. In addition to the local payroll, USDA estimated that for every one of the more than $3-million invested by the co-op, its members have spent $6.00 for appliances, hardware and other merchandise.

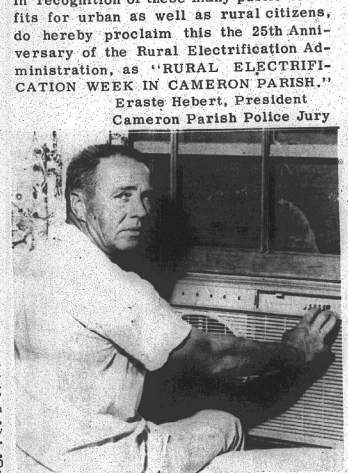
Week Proclaimed



WHEREAS, Rural Electrification has uplifted the general living standards of ALL AMERICANS, town and country, by increasing agricultural, industrial and commercial production during the past 25-years;

And WHEREAS, Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc. has provided 98% area coverage, including the remote hamlets, back-forty folks and all else who need and want electricity, as compared to 1.7% of the rural homes and farms having electricity in 1937;

WHEREAS this monumental achievement on the part of the local Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative with the help of repayable REA loans has helped to a great extent to strengthen the economy, employment and general conditions in the parish of Cameron,

THEREFORE, I, Eraste Hebert, president of the Cameron Parish Police Jury, in recognition of these many public benefits for urban as well as rural citizens, do hereby proclaim this the 25th Anniversary of the Rural Electrification Administration, as "RURAL ELECTRIFICATION WEEK IN CAMERON PARISH."

3838 members-owners are served by Jeff Davis Co-op

This is the story of a revolution in better rural living created by member-owned Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc. in Southwest Louisiana.

This week, the Co-op, with headquarters in Jennings and Cameron joins millions of grateful people in celebration of the 25th anniversary of the Rural Electrification Administration with the theme: "Rural Electrification--GOOD FOR ALL AMERICANS."

REA loans to locally-owned electric cooperatives and companies have played a major role in rural development and mainfstreet progress of this area. In fact, so great has been the impact that the federal banking agency has become a symbol of rural electrification to many people who often confuse REA with the local privately-owned electric cooperative.

Actually, REA owns not a foot of electric or telephone lines anywhere. It has been the banker, a prudent banker requiring exacting standards in construction, repayment of loans on strict schedules, plus interest.

The instrument of rural electrification has been the rural people themselves through their local electric cooperatives, owned and controlled by those they serve.

Born of Great Need

Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc. was born of a great and urgent need. When Congress approved the Rural Electrification Administration Act of 1936, less than 2% of the rural homes and farms in Louisiana had electricity, although many lived within sight of town or city lights. Rural life was a grim struggle offering few rewards or conveniences. Economic stagnation and drudgery was the picture throughout rural Louisiana.

Today, Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op is proud to report that 99% of the rural homes, farms and businesses in its service area in the parishes of Jefferson, Cameron, Calcasieu, Allen and Vermillion have modern electric service at competitive rates.

It hasn't been an easy job, nor was this the accomplishment of federal bureaucrats or employees as many seem to believe. The directors, management and employees of Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op are all local people. They've had to fight every inch of the way to bring electricity to ALL who need and want it, regardless of social, economic or political standing.

The unprecedented success story of Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op had its beginning shortly after passage of the REA Act of 1936 which made loan funds available to any company, public body or private cooperative group interested in extending service to rural areas. Visionary community leaders, County Agents, the Extension Service, Farm Bureaus, etc. began to make far-reaching plans.

First, they went to the local power company and requested service, urging them to borrow REA funds. Told by the power company that rural electrification would never be "profitable" or practical, they petitioned County Agents, civic-service organizations and political leaders to hold mass meetings to organize a home-owned and operated non-profit cooperative to provide electric service.

Some of the Pioneers

Such prominent local men and women as Aaron B. Hartwell, Henry N. Hatch, Charles M. Davis, Harry E. Jester, William Herzel, John J. Martin, Jr., Ralph Potter, Joseph L. Tupper and Charles J. Todd (Original Board of Directors) were instrumental in organizing Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op.

After it was chartered under Louisiana laws on Sept. 17, 1941, there was still a long way to go before kerosene lamps would go out in Southwest Louisiana.

The fledgling co-op was little more than a dream, having no office, no stationery, equipment. . . just the determination of a few endowed with a pioneering spirit and a fighting heart, REA required a minimum of three members per mile or line to insure loan feasibility. Often, the organizers paid their own expenses to solicit members, using the offices of the County Agent or Farm Bureau.

In fact, the first board members were among those men and women who not only worked tirelessly to obtain members, but actually gave or loaned the $5.00 membership fee to many needy families to assure the required three members per mile.

J. S. ROBBINS, above, is manager of the Jeff Davis Electric Cooperative, and has been active for a number of years in the Louisiana Electric Cooperative Association. He is currently chairman of the State Association's advertising and public relations committee.

Co-ops are needed to serve sparsely populated areas

It is a well-established and proved fact that only non-profit electric cooperatives can provide universal area coverage in rural areas at reasonable rates, serving ALL the people regardless of social or financial standing.

Unlike closely integrated commercial utility lines which often serve more than a 100 families, business and industries per mile of line, the electric cooperative lines in Louisiana average just a bit over four and one-half consumers per mile of expensive facilities.

Running over all kinds of countryside, lakes, rivers, marshes, forests, etc. rural lines are expensive to build and to maintain; yet, the comparative income is extremely low when that of urban or town electric facilities.

For this reason, the commercial utilities shunned, in most instances, REA loans which are just as available to companies as to cooperatives. They maintained rural areas would never be profitable to serve.

Under the non-profit service concept of the electric cooperatives, the more thickly populated areas and larger consumers of electricity help to off-set the cost of serving the isolated communities, the back-forty people, etc.

Also, the cooperative concept is based upon the theory that total rural development will lift the general economic level of town and country. In turn, this would more than justify the extensive investments in rural facilities and insure repayment of the REA loans, plus interest.

* * *

THIS VISIONARY outlook and faith in rural people has paid great dividends for ALL Americans in terms of more business, more jobs, more industry, etc., plus a revolution in better living in rural homes and on the farms.

There are 25,000 miles of electric cooperative lines in Louisiana (The Jeff Davis co-op has 928.) Of course, the companies would like the profitable segements, but they simply could not serve the rest at rates low income families could afford. It is as simple as that.

As U. S Congressman Edwin Willis of St. Martinville, La., pointed up in a 25th Anniversary of Rural Electrification talk on April 28th from Washington, the electric cooperatives are vital as a yardstick to determine fair rates for all citizens-town and country.

A member of the House Anti-Monopoly Committee, Congressman Willis said:

"The electric power business is monopolistic by its very nature. Since the electric co-ops buy their power from the commercial companies, then turn around and deliver it over far-flung miles of lines to low-income families and marginal areas at competitive rates, they provide a true yardstick to determine fair rates for everyone. . .the only yardstick.

"I can't stress too much," Willis continued, "the competitive value of the cooperatives. Believe me, as a member of the anti-monopoly committee which has investigated countless cases, if the electric cooperatives are destroyed everybody's electric rates will go up."

Discounting the factor of total rural development which strengthens the over-all economy, the cooperatives are vitally necessary to the continued progress of the state and nation, as only they can serve ALL the people at reasonable rates.

Nobody, but nobody, wants to return to the era of kerosene lamps or the drudgery that was rural life before rural electrification.

Co-op has annual payroll totaling $123,668.23

Most everybody knows what rural electrification has meant to rural people in terms of better living, comforts and more productivity, but not many realize its many contributions to urban citizens and to main street business, states Joseph L. Tupper, president, Jeff Davis Electric Cooperative.

The local member-owned co-op has an annual payroll of $123,668.23, which is spent at home by its 300 employees. In addition, the cooperative spent $559,565.73 for materials and supplies last year.

While this is a direct boost to local business, it is minor compared to the business created by rural electrification. In 1941 when the co-op was organized by area rural citizens, only 1.7% of the homes and farms had electricity. Today, the co-op offers 99.9% area coverage.

Tupper stated the co-op's members are more than doubling their usage of electric power every five years, meaning that the business firms of the area can continue to expect more and more fruits from rural electrification.

"The U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that for each of the millions of dollars invested by the co-op, its 3838 members have spent $6.00 for appliances alone. Discounting the increased productivity of farms and rural businesses, think what this has meant to the economy of the area," Mr. Tupper said.

Mr. Tupper stated that the co-op's members are more than doubling their usage of electric power every five years, meaning that the business firms of the area can continue to expect more and more fruits from rural electrification.

Mr. Tupper noted that electric power has long been used as a realiable index to measure community or area progress. In 1944 the average monthly kilowatt-hour consumption per member was only 57 kwh; in 1950 it was 140 kwh; and today it is 398 kwh, indicating progress in leaps and bounds.

Still, the co-op president observed, rural power consumption in Louisiana is far

Rural housewives played an unforgettable role in the tough job of member solicitation. They, above all, envisioned a better life for themselves and their children.

The First REA Loan

Despite the critics and skeptics (and they're still around today) the first REA loan, in the amount of $60,000.00 was received by the co-op on May 15, 1944 for purchase of Grant Utilities in Cameron area and to begin construction of new lines in Jennings area.

One of the most historic events in the history of Cameron, followed in May, 1944 (Jennings area energized Dec. 16, 1946) when the first lines of Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op were energized.

On hand for the celebration were pioneer Board Members Joseph L. Tupper, president; Henry N. Hatch, vice-president; Charles M. Davis, secretary-treasurer; and Harry E. Jester, William Hetzel, John J. Martin, C. A. Miller, Ralph Potter and C. J. Todd. Manager of the fledgling member-owned enterprise was J. W. Purvis.

That momentous year, the members used an average of 57 kilowatt hours per consumer per month with an average bill of $4.95 in 1944 per consumer. There were just four employees. The semi-annual payroll was $2,584.22 that first year. There was only one service vehicle.

Compared with Today

Today, the co-op has 913 miles of modern distribution —and 46 miles of transmission lines, serving 3838 member-owners. Average member consumption last year was 398 kwh per month; the average cost per kwh being .029 cents, or 5.1 cents less a kwh than the first year.

And, today, the co-op has 30 fulltime employees, all local people, drawing a yearly payroll of $123,668.23 and spent with local businesses in the area served. Too, the co-op purchased materials and supplies last year in the amount of $559,565.73.

Repayment REA Loans

As contrasted with the original REA loan of $60,000.00, today Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op is a $3,003,756.62 enterprise, one of the largest in the area. Of the total $4,232,438.00 loaned by REA over the past 16 years, $406,265.71 has been paid on the principal and $277,298.81 in interest on the loans.

In addition to this splendid record, the co-op has repaid $52,094.20 in ADVANCE OF SCHEDULES. Contrast that to the almost countless give-away programs and foreign aid handouts, all of which never return anything to the government.

All the aforementioned has been a great boost for local businesses, but it is only a beginning. Not counting such things as improved productivity, better health, more conveniences, development of rural areas, creation of the great dairy industry, etc. rural electrification has created many new businesses and markets.

Contributions to Mainstreet

For instance, the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimates that for each of the millions of dollars invested by Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op in this area, its members have spent $6.00 for appliances, electric hardware, etc. In addition to the local payrolls, purchases, etc. of the Co-op, that' a multi-million dollar golden flow directly to mainstreet businesses.

This golden flow is just really beginning. Rural people are just really beginning to put electricity to work here in Louisiana in their homes and on the farms. A national survey shows rural electric members will purchase a BILLION DOLLAR's worth of appliances in 1960.

This means more business, more jobs and greater national productivity from the farms, retailers, wholesalers, merchants, manufacturers all the way back to the mines of America.

"Rural Electrification -- GOOD FOR ALL AMERICANS", is no idle boast. Ever the commercial utilities have benefited. Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op, Inc. buys all its wholesale power from Gulf States Utilities Co. Last year 20,332,185 kwh were purchased from the company at a cost of $116,187.78.

And to think, most people thought rural electrification a pipe-dream just 16 years ago when the co-op was organized. Actually about 90% of the work has been done since 1946, as World War II greatly interrupted construction.

Present manager of the co-op is J. S. Robbins, a veteran rural electrification specialist who has served since 1947. Hired by the member-elected Board of Directors which formulates all policy, Manager Robbins directs the activities of all employees, every single one a specialist in his or her field.

Assistant Manager is O. W. Says. Other key employees are M. H. Fulton, superintendent; Mrs. Mary Blackledge, office manager and head bookkeeper, Mrs. Emily J. Theriot, Cameron office manager.

Members Control Co-op

Ownership and control of Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op, Inc. is in hands of members of the system. Every member is an equal-share stockholder and has one vote at legally required annual membership meetings. At these meeting, the members must approve all by-law changes or business and elect the governing Board of Directors.

Present Board members are:

Joseph L. Tupper, president, Elton; Ralph Potter, vice-president, Rt. 1, Lake Arthur; Charles M. Davis, secretary-treasurer, Rt. 1, Box 10, Jennings; J. W. Doxey, Cameron, R. J. Champagne, Cameron, Gus N. Laurents, R. F. D., Gueydan, R. O. Hacket, Rt. 1, Bell City, E. C. Todd, Rt. 1, Welsh, and Sidney Derouen, Rt. 1, Bell City, directors.

Co-op members have consistently over the years shown a great sense of responsibility in electing leading farmers, businessmen, merchants, etc. to the Board. This has contributed in no small measure to the sound business practices and unusual success of the Cooperative.

Since operation of an electric utility is a highly involved technical and administrative business, members are reluctant to change directors. Of the present directors Joseph L. Tupper, C. M. Davis and Ralph Potter have served since the co-op's inception, providing a wealth of experience that money cannot buy.

Among past directors who contributed greatly to the success of rural electrification were Aaron B. Hartwell, deceased; Henry N. Hatch, deceased; Harry E. Jester, William Hetzel, John J. Martin, Jr.; Charles J. Todd, deceased; C. A. Miller, deceased; H. H. Harris who recently resigned because of ill health.

J. W. Purvis was co-op manager from 1944 to July 1947.

Yes, rural electrification has been good for ALL Americans—TOWN AND COUNTRY.

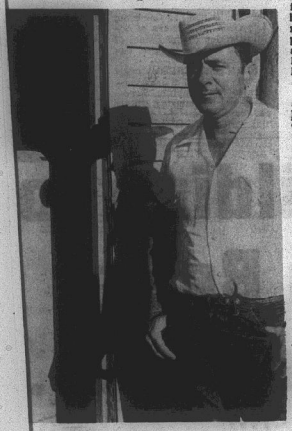
TYPICAL CO-OP members who are living modern today are Elias Ardoin, Rt. 1, Jennings; Mr. and Mrs. Drozen Gary, Iowa; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Richard, Cameron; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cohen, Grand Chenier; and Mr. and Mrs. Enos Sturlese, Creole.

Mr. Ardoin, a retired rice planter, lives about eight miles southeast of Jennings. He has been a co-op member for 11 years. With him live his daughter Lila Ann, a 17-year-old high school senior, and his son, Huey, a 14-year-old student. Their home is well-equipped with electrical appliances, making living for them no harder than living in the city. Of his cooperative, Mr. Ardoin said, "We just couldn't do without the electrical conveniences made possible by Jeff Davis Co-op."

About five miles southeast of Iowa stands the attractive bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. Drozen Gary, original members of the co-op. Mr. Gary raises rice and cattle. The Garys have been living there for 28 years. Fourteen of the years were spent without electricity and Mrs. Gary can well remember reading by kerosene lamps and cooking on a wood stove. Today everything in the Gary home is electric except heating. Recalled Mrs. Gary, "We were really glad to see the co-op lines come to our place." And she said, "We like the service of the co-op just fine and find the rates reasonable."



Enjoying the modern way of life made possible by the co-op for 13 years is Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cohen of the Grand Chenier community. Mrs. Cohen has been teaching school for 22 years; presently she's at the South Cameron School. Mr. Cohen works for the state wildlife and fisheries department.

Mr. Cohen said, "We get doggone good service from the cooperative and have no complaints whatsoever. After the hurricane we decided to put in everything electric but our heating system. I think that rural electrification made possible by the co-op has been a wonderful thing." Mr. and Mrs. Cohen have one daughter, Mrs. Barbara Jean Hatcher.

A CAMERON couple, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Richard have been members of Jeff Davis Co-op ever since its inception. Their attractive air-conditioned home is a testament to better living created by Jeff Davis Electric Co-op. Mr. Richard is parish tax accessor. Mrs. Richard said, "With all the electrical conveniences we enjoy in our home today, it's almost shocking to recall the dark days before co-op electricity changed our lives."

The beautiful brick home of Mr. and Mrs. Enos Sturlese is located just past the Cameron turnoff at Creole. Mr. Sturlese is half-owner of the Nunez Lumber Co. He and his wife have three sons, Anthony Charles, 3, George, 14, and Wayne, 11. Mr. and Mrs. Sturlese have been co-op members since 1946. Mr. Sturlese also has a camp at Grand Chenier and a water pump at East Creole served by the co-op. The Sturlese's new home is full of electric appliances such as a range and oven, air-conditioning system, washer, dryer, well

ese of Creole stands beside one of his electric

CAMERON COLORED NEWS

By Mrs. Lee J. Harrison

Principal R. S. Guice makes the report that he literally made a round trip to and from Grambling. He was routed to Ruston by way of Shreveport and chose to return by way of Alexandria.

The occasion was the annual conference of elementary principals of Louisiana schools. Principal Guice was in the Group No. 5 which discussed a topic, "Closer Articulation Between the Elementary and High School."

The Macedonia Baptist church produced one of the greatest revivals of its short existence. The evangelist was Rev. K. E. Robinson of Moss Bluff near Lake Charles. He was aided by Rev. R. B. House and the pastor Rev. VanDyke.

Two persons were initiated into the Gulf Coastal chapter recently. Persons initiated were Mrs. Rosie Lee Van Dyke and Mrs. Shirley Mae LaSalle. Special Deputy John Ferguson of Lake Charles was present.

Co-op's relation to REA explained

Noting that many town and urban people think electric cooperatives are federal agencies, J. S. Robbins, Manager of the local member-owned Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc., states they are greatly mistaken.

Mr. Robbins explained that the Rural Electrification Administration, commonly known as, "REA", is a federal lending agency. REA lends money to any responsible company, public body or cooperative for rural electric or telephone service.

"This cooperative is a private business, owned by the members it serves. Our relationship with REA is merely that of banker-borrower." Robbins stressed.

He stated that the Cooperative borrows money at interest on 35-year repayment terms. The government holds a first mortgage on the coops' facilities and lines. The loan must be repaid on strict schedule, plus interest--just like millions of FHA and VA -financed homes.

"In fact," Mr. Robbins said, "there are but 13 electric co-ops in Louisiana borrowing from REA, as compared to 20 private commercial utilities--one major power company and 19 independent telephone companies, which have borrowed more than $22-million.

"This Co-op has borrowed $4,232,438.00 from REA over the past 16 years I'm proud to report we've repaid $408,265.71, plus $277,298.81 in interest and $52,094.20 in ADVANCE of schedule," Mr. Robbins continued.

THE LOCAL MANAGER, a veteran rural electrification specialist, observed that over the past 25-years REA has loaned 1,055 cooperatives, public bodies and commercial utilities $3.2-billion--about what the U. S. is GIVING to foreign nations, some for rural electrification.

"The REA loan program is the only government-sponsored one I know of that is even remotely paying its way, not counting the factors, such as a more productive agriculture, a better life for rural people and more business for the entire nation.

"Yet I know of no program under a more irresponsible attack--especially the constant implication in national advertising that the rural electric co-ops are 'government agencies' and that rural people get electricity at the expense of the public.

"If borrowing federal money means federal ownership-what of the private companies who borrow from REA? What of the millions of VA and FHA-financed homes--the great industries, such as Kaiser Aluminum?

"Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc. is no more a federal agency than they are," Mr. Robbins concluded.

97.8 percent of Louisiana farms have electricity

At the time the Rural Electrification Administration was created on May 11, 1935, only 2,826 farms in Louisiana, or 1.7 percent, were receiving central station electric service. Current REA estimates show that 108,650 farms in the State, or 97.8 percent of all farms recorded in the 1954 Census, were being served by June 30, 1959. REA borrowers serve about 52.7 percent of these electrified farms.

The first REA electrification loan in Louisiana was approved in February of 1937. The first REA-financed line was placed in operation on March 22, 1938 by the Teche Electric Cooperative of Centerville.

Up to January 1, 1960, the beginning of REA's 25th year, the agency had approved a total of $69,219,908 in loans to 19 electric borrowers in the State, of which 17 are cooperatives. The loans were made to enable the borrowers to construct 26,488 miles of line and other electric facilities to serve 145,607 consumers.

Loan funds actually advanced to these borrowers amounted to $63,096,300 by January 1, 1960. With the help of this financing, the locally owned and managed systems had already placed 25,640 miles of line in operation and were serving 124,515 farm and other rural consumer outlets. The average monthly consumption of electricity by these consumers had increased from 76 kilowatt-hours per farm in 1950, to 189 in 1958.

REA electric borrowers in Louisiana have repaid $14,775,539 on the principal of their government loans. In addition, they have paid $6,171,045 in interest and $5,005,692 ahead of schedule. As of January 1, 1960, no borrower in the State was overdue in its loan payments.

THE OFFICIALS of the Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative are proud of the safety record that its employees have achieved. Here Manager J. S. Robbins receives a safety award from the co-op insurer while linemen and supervisory personnel look on.

Let's face it--"It just ain't REA"

If you are one of those who calls everything connected with rural electrification "REA"--read on! You will be surprised to learn that "REA" is the abbreviated name of a division in the U. S. Department of Agriculture--far removed from the local Rural Electric System that provides electrical service to rural Americans.

Actually, a number of organizations, and groups of organizations are actively engaged in making the nationwide rural electrification go and grow! As a help in understanding this program, here are a few basic facts about the various groups directly involved in rural electrification.

Rural Electric Systems are local organizations that actually do the work of providing electrical service to people who need and use the electricity. Individual electric systems, incorporated under state law, borrow money from the government through the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) to build electric lines and facilites.

These systems bill their members for the electricity they use. A portion of each bill is set aside for interest and principal payments on the REA loan. Rural Electric Systems are an outstanding example of private enterprise. They are owned, controlled, and operated by the local people who use the service they provide.

Since the start of the rural electrification program 25 years ago, over 1,000 rural electric systems have been organized to bring electric light and power to people who had to do without electricity up to 1935. These systems have crisscrossed the rural areas of the Nation with nearly 1.5 million miles of electric lines which serve approximately 16 million people. While, by far, most of the rural systems are cooperatives, in some states they are called public power districts or public utility districts.

below the national average, meaning that local business can expect continued benefits as rural people will ultimately correct that situation.

"However, we shouldn't make the mistake of thinking of just the financial advantages of rural electrification. It has been an instrument to uplift the pride and hopes of rural citizens, providing incentive to strive for better things, better methods and techniques --not to mention the untold benefits in conveniences, comforts and health.

"I have served on the non-salaried governing Board of Directors of Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative for many years", Mr. Tupper continued. "As a business man-farmer myself, it gives me great personal satisfaction to know that I have been associated with an institution owned by the people that has been of immeasurable value to the entire area - town and country.

The meaning of power

by David A. Hamil, Administrator
Rural Electrification Administration

The progress of rural electrification generally is described in terms of statistics: dollars and cents, kilowatt-hours, miles of line. Much of this is necessary, but it is also unfortunate. When we talk about total loans and circuit miles, we are talking about the means to rural electrification, and not the end. The end product of REA's rural electrification program is a human one, and it cannot be measured in statistics.

In human terms, rural electrification means a light to read by on a dark winter night in North Dakota.

It means a radio and a television set, broadcasting a frost warning in Georgia or a late market report in Iowa.

On an Arkansas farm, it means ironing a Sunday shirt in July without first stoking a range red-hot to heat the flatiron.

It means that a youngster in Colorado changes his mind about seeking his fortune in the city, and plans to stay on the ranch after he graduates from Ag School.

It means better food on the table year-round, for both city and country people.

It means that a farmer can intensify and diversify his operations.

It means a cooperative annual meeting, where thousands of rural families have turned out to elect directors to run the electric system they own.

It means more pride, greater self-respect, for millions of rural people.

This is the real meaning of rural electrification, and it is for these things that we give thanks as we observe the silver anniversary of REA on May 11, 1960.

CO-OP NEEDS--

"That's an $18-million 'shot in the arm' for local business, not counting the better living, increased productivity, etc., derived from the self paying cooperative" Robbins declared.

• • •

ANOTHER POINT also brought out was the fact that the co-op is not in competition with a commercial power company, because it is serving people companies chose not to serve.

"How can our small cooperatives be a danger to commercial power companies every one of the 13 electric co-ops in the state buy all their wholesale power from the companies. They control the supply.

"We are good customers for them. Why last year", Robbins continued, "this cooperative paid Gulf States Utilities $116,000 or 23% of its gross revenue for electrical power. I personally want the companies to prosper, but I also think there is room for us."

Mrs. Ida Primeaux left Tuesday to spend a few weeks with her sister and family in Lake Charles.

Again blasting the myth that the electric co-ops are federal power or federal agencies, the manager said that 19 independent telephone companies in the state have borrowed more than $16-million from REA.

One major power company is the third largest REA borrower in Louisiana, a fact seldom mentioned.

"Why is it socialistic for our local rural people to group together and borrow the same REA money to serve themselves, and not so for these commercial utilities?" he asked.

• • •

INCLUDED AMONG the legislators present was Cameron Parish Representative Alvin Dyson who expressed his appreciation to the co-op for having rebuilt service in devastated Cameron parish in less than 60-days, following Hurricane Audrey.

"It was a marvelous job. We couldn't have rehabilitated the parish without electric power," Dyson said.

It was explained that the co-op lost $850,000.00 from the Hurricane. This was used as a vivid example as to why it is necessary for the cooperatives to maintain proper surplus reserves, a practice that has been criticized by some who do not understand the practical business of adequate reserves.

Street names tell town's history

This map shows the new names that have been given Cameron streets

Acting under the authorization of the police jury, a Cameron Lions Club committee recently named all of the unnamed streets in the town of Cameron and erected concrete street markers.

Some 48 markers, cost $5 each were put up, and street names were painted on them. The markers are two feet in the ground and stand about 4½ feet tall.

Members of the marker committee were J. Berton Daigle, chairman; Wilma Saltzman, Martin G. Theriot, E. W. Swindell and Ray Champagne.

An interesting by-product of the street naming was a short history of the town which was compiled by Mr. Daigle as a basis on which to select the street names. In most cases the streets have been named after their original donors or some name associated with Cameron's history.

Mr. Daigle's history follows:

THE PARISH OF CAMERON was created March 16, 1870, by a bill of the state legislature, signed by Governor Henry Clay Warmouth. The parish was carved out of Calcasieu and Vermilion parishes.

Formerly known as Leesburg, most of the town of Cameron was patented by two different people. The south portion, lying south of the centerline of Sec. 31, Tp. 14 S.R. 9 West, was patented by John Todd on March 18, 1856, from the state of Louisiana.

Todd died Nov 19, 1865, leaving this tract to his wife, Amanda Harrison Todd, who later married Captain George C. Marshall. Amanda died on May 25, 1885, leaving to her second husband this same property.

Marshall later remarried Mary Debleux. One child, Georgie Mae Marshall, was born to them and later married Rex Deaton. All that portion of the Marshall property lying south of the present highway from the Monkey Island Ferry to land now owned by J. A. Davis was subdivided into lots, called the George C. Marshall subdivision. Streets were laid out but were not named.

Marshall died on May 2, 1903, leaving the property to his wife, Mary D. Marshall and his daughter, Georgie Mae Marshall. The lots in this Marshall subdivision were sold to pay debts, leaving the other properties clear of debts.

On May 13, 1908, Mrs. Marshall and her daughter gave a right-of-way for Cameron's main street to the Cameron police jury. This bordered the Marshall subdivision on the north, and extended eastward to the old J. A. Wakefield homeplace, now owned by J. A. Davis.

Since the Marshall family donated the right-of-way for main street, the committee deemed it appropriate to name it MARSHALL STREET.

THE STREET LEADING from Marshall street to the river was named REX STREET, since it ends at where the old river boat, the Borealis Rex, used to dock. The Rex for years was the only means of transportation between Cameron and Lake Charles. The old Rex landing is now the location of Steel's Fish Company.

Another unnamed street going east from Rex Street to Boudoin & Richard and J. W. Doxey's fuel establishments, was named LEESBURG STREET in memory of the name by which Cameron was first called.

The street running south from Marshall street between Mitcheletti - Higgins Grocery and Fred's Restaurant was donated by W. H. Carter, who now owns the eastern portion of the Marshall subdivision, and was named CARTER STREET.

NEW CAMERON PARISH ENTERPRISE

Worm 'ranch' prospers

By HADLEY FONTENOT
County Agent

Cameron parish has a new enterprise- the Hebert worm ranch at Grand Lake.

Myrle Hebert and his father, George Hebert, estimate their "holdings" at the present time to be between six and seven million worms--a fair "herd" in anybody's language.

They hope that all these worms will wind up on (or around) fishing hooks. They pack their worms in paper cartons of 50 and 100 worms with plenty of choice dirt and food so they will still be right wigsly for several days.

The red wiggler is the most common variety raised for fishermen and are the best, according to Myrle. However, some like a much larger worm so they will also include the African Night Crawler in their next crop.

Light has a strange affect on the worm's behavior. As long as there is light overhead, either daylight or electric light, they will not venture above ground. The Heberts had the misfortune of finding out what happens when the surroundings get completely dark. It seems that the light bulb burned out one night and when they went out to feed them the next morning most had crawled out of the boxes and there were literally millions of worms crawling on the ground walls, post and everywhere.

Yes, they feed the worms and they also must water them regularly. Chicken feed is their main diet. It's sprinkled on top of their beds and they will feed from below and blend it with just enough dirt mixture to suit their taste.

After a brood, batch or what-have-you, has been raised in a rich dirt mixture a new mixture must be made up for a new family. This worm dirt is one of the best pot plant material available as it is rich in all of the fertilizer elements, has lots of humus and is very light, having much water holding capacity. This material is dried, packed and sold to pot plant enthusiast.

This handful of red wrigglers represents a new crop that is now being grown in Cameron parish--fishing worms.

Parish population shows increase of 509 persons

Cameron parish's population now totals 6,727 persons, it was announced this week by Mrs. Betty L. Boyd, district supervisor for the 1960 U. S. census. This gives the parish an increase of 509 persons over the 1950 census total of 6,218--about an 8 percent increase.

The 1960 figures are substantially correct, Mrs. Boyd stated, but are subject to revision after the returns for non-residents are credited to their proper locality and other routine checks have been made. She said an official announcement of the population will be made at a later date by the Director of the Bureau of the Census.

Mrs. Boyd said she felt that the 509 increase in population for the parish was significant in light of the fact that more than 400 parish residents died in Hurricane Audrey in 1957. Had this disaster not happened, the parish's population probably would have been well over 7,000.

Graduates urged to consider a library career

"There is a desperate shortage of trained personnel to staff the rapidly increasing number of libraries both in Louisiana and in the nation," Mrs. Brand reports. No matter in which field a student's major interest may lie, chances are that it can be related to the library profession in the many new services now offered by libraries."

Students can train for work in the four major types of libraries - public, school, college and university, and special libraries. Louisiana college graduates are particularly fortunate in having LSU, one of the 32 accredited library schools of the United States, located close at hand. LSU offers a master's degree in library science.

CHEVROLET
Chevy hums through Chicago traffic to the tune of 21 miles to the gallon!
Working for Bumper and Auto of Illinois, Inc., ten 1960 Chevrolet pickups battle Chicago traffic day after day. Each truck averages about 2,000 miles a month in this wearing stop-and-start delivery service. Mr. Harry Haller, General Manager of S & H Truck Leasing, who leases the trucks to the bumper firm, reports: "We provide full maintenance on the trucks—gas, oil and everything else—so it pays us to know just where we stand on costs. And our records show that the '60 Chevies are giving us as much as 21 miles per gallon . . . with an average of better than 17 miles per gallon. Mister, these are our kind of trucks!"
Truck owners have good things to say about all Chevy engines. And when they're not talking about Chevrolet performance and economy, they're telling you how great that new Torsion-Spring Ride is. How it soaks up road shock and vibration. Protects fragile loads. Lets you run at faster, safe speeds to get more work done in a day. Drive a torsion-spring Chevy soon. Shaheen seeks re-election as Dist. Attorney

It is with a deep feeling of humility and pride that I formally announce my candidacy for the reelection to the position of District Attorney of the 14th Judicial District comprising the parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron. As a candidate permit me to give you a brief but concise sketch, pertaining to my background, qualifications and experience.

I attended the public and parochial schools in Lake Charles, and later for higher learning Loyola University of the South in New Orleans, and was later successful in receiving my law degree from the Louisiana State University School of Law. In 1939 I returned to Lake Charles to pursue the private practice of law and was actively engaged in that endeavor until May of 1942. It was then that I entered the armed forces. After having served my country for a period of approximately four years, I returned to Lake Charles in December of 1946.

The following year I became 2nd Assistant District Attorney under the late and beloved Griffin T. Hawkins. At that time the 14th Judicial District was composed of the parishes of Calcasieu, Cameron, Beauregard, Allen and Jefferson Davis. In August of that year, Mr. Hawkins saw fit to elevate me to the position of First Assistant. It was my duty to handle criminal prosecutions in the five parishes. I served the people in that capacity until 1954 when Mr. Hawkins decided to retire, and in which year the citizens of Calcasieu and Cameron bestowed upon me the great honor of electing me to the office of District Attorney, which I presently hold.

In connection with law enforcement I wish to commend the chief law enforcement officers of the parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron, and of all municipalities in my district, for their vigilant enforcement of the law. In my humble opinion the two parishes comprising the 14th District are the cleanest in the state, and in making this observation I am thinking of commercialized gambling and it's associated vices. As long as I am District Attorney the gambling element will not be allowed to infest this District. Both Sheriff Reid and Sheriff Carter are wholly in accord with my views.

Laughter is a wonderful thing

By MRS. TOM TAYLOR

"A merry heart doeth good like a medicine", wrote a wise man about 3,000 years ago. Recently, merriment in the home of Mrs. Rosa Demarest, proved to be just as effective, even in this atomic age. It came about as a result of a visit from a nephew, Clayton Hebert of Port Arthur, who brought along his record player with some of the most humorous records they had ever heard, Mrs. Demarest said. They listened to these merrymaking records and Mrs. Demarest says they never laughed so.

This was a real treat for Mrs. Demarest's father, Clopha Hebert 89, who lives with her.

With Clayton on this visit was his father, Ezube Hebert. Both thoroughly enjoyed their visit.

BIRTH ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Edward Romero of Lake Charles, announced the birth of a 10 lb. 11½ oz. daughter, Elizabeth, May 15, at St. Patricks. There is one other child in the family, David age 2.

Grandparents are: Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Ogeo of Grand Lake and Mrs. Edward Romero of Lake Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Ogea while at St. Patricks to visit their new granddaughter, also visited Mrs. Iva Free who underwent surgery recently. The Ogeas reports that she is getting along nicely, however, due to the nature of the operation, there will be from 6 to 8 weeks more of hospitalization for Mrs. Free.

Staff Sgt. Pervis Demarest, son of Mrs. Rosa Demarest, will leave the Chennault Air Base sometimes in July for Turkey, where he will be stationed for the next three or four years. His wife, Jeannie, a native of Bourdeaux, France, is taking their daughter Florence, 6, for a visit with relatives in Bourdeaux, after which she will join her husband in Turkey if possible.

Staff Sgt. Demarest has been in the Air Force for the past nine years and plans on putting in eleven more years.

In the absence of our Home Demonstration Agent, Mrs. Iva Free, the Grand Lake Club president, Mrs. C. J. Farque is planning a project on which the club can work until the agent can take over.

Mrs. Barbara Matte and Mrs. Nora Bell Matte of Lake Charles came by last week and picked up their nephew, Stephen Farque, and went crabbing on the lake, in about one hour's time their catch was sufficient for a big crab dinner.

Last Sunday afternoon an ice cream party was given to some thirty altar boys, by their pastor, Rev. Charles Levasseur, on the St. Mary of the Lake Church grounds. Amusement was under the direction of Mrs. Ivan Fontenot, and Elwood Robicheaud.

The C. J. Farque family had quite a lot of misfortune last week. First, Darryl Lynn 5, suffered an injury of the left leg while out at play, and to top it all he developed an ear infection causing a lot of fever, however, he is doing much better and his doctor said he would soon be able to walk again. Last Saturday Robert Wayne 13, was on his way to the neighbor when his bike skidded on shells and he was thrown off, cutting a gash on his right arm, he was rushed to Dr. Carter's Clinic where stitches were taken.

A belated Thank You from Mrs. C. J. Farque goes to Mrs. Ivan Fontenot, Mrs. Junius Granger, and Savan LaBove for their kind help on the Red Cross Drive.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Broussard were: D. A. Broussard, Mr. and Mrs. David Broussard, and Mrs. Charles Lagrange of Sulphur.

How streets were named

(EDITOR'S NOTE--When the Cameron Lions Club recently appointed a committee to work with the police jury in the erecting of street markers in the town of Cameron, the committee dug back through parish records to select appropriate names for the unnamed streets. The committee's report, begun last week, is completed in this issue.)

The northern part of the town of Cameron--formerly Leesburg--lying north of the center line of Section 31 was patented from the state by Edward R. Simms on Sept. 18, 1856, and was later sold to Mary A. Mudd.

On April 16, 1871, shortly after the parish of Cameron was formed, Mary Mudd sold this tract to Phineas E. Smith, who was the assessor of the new parish. He came here as a surveyor, and stayed on as assessor for 20 years.

Mr. Smith donated two acres to the police jury as a site for a courthouse and jail. Sometime in February, 1874, the courthouse burned and all parish records were lost.

On Sept. 4, 1875, Mr. Smith again donated the same two acres to the police jury (Charles C. Burch was president then) for the erection of a new courthouse and jail.

The courthouse now stands on the north portion of the two-acre tract with the outer portion used as a street, which has been named P. E. SMITH CIRCLE in recognition of Mr. Smith's donation.

* * *

THE ROAD LEADING south from the highway--or Marshall street--to Roland J. Trosclair's Canning Co. was donated by J. A. Davis, who owns the property from the Marshall Subdivision east, having been acquired by Mr. Davis by will from James A. Wakefield. This road has been named DAVIS ROAD after Mr. Davis.

Another road given by Mr. Davis to the parish is the one leading from the highway near the ship channel ferry north to the Louisiana Menhaden plant, which has been named WAKEFIELD ROAD in memory of Mr. Wakefield, the former owner and a former Cameron parish sheriff.

The alley running north from Marshall street to the Cameron hotel was donated by the late William Stine, father

THIS WEEK

By Jerry Wise

THE EARLY RICE stand around the parish is looking good. County Agent Hadley Fontenot reports following an inspection tour last week. He says most of the rice in the Klondike area is planted, and a large part of the Sweetlake rice is in the ground.

Weeds don't seem to be much of a problem so far, he says, but the Klondike farmers had one unusual hinderence--they had to hire an airplane to drive the geese out of their fields. Usually the geese are gone by this time.

* * *

INCIDENTALLY, here is a note to home gardeners from Mr. Fontenot: A simplified guide giving the best varieties of vegetables to plan in Louisiana, when to plant, amount of fertilizer to use, etc., is now available. You can pick one up free in the county agent's office.

For gardeners who plan to seed some vegetables this summer, here is a hint from the guide you can use: After the row is worked up, open a furrow on top of the row and fill with water. Pull dry soil over this and sow seeds immediately.

* * *

AND HERE IS ANOTHER agriculture note: the U. S. department of agriculture has agreed to reconsider its decision to downgrade the support price of Nato rice. A letter from the Louisiana congressional delegation advises that the department will go into this matter again after June 15.

* * *

THE MEN FACULTY members of Grand Lake high school had an overnight outing last Friday at a camp near Oberlin. They were the guests of I. P. Renfro, band instructor.

* * *

THE SOUTH CAMERON football team had three spring practice sessions with their new coach, Robert Manuel, and assistant coach Sonny McCall last Friday and Sunday. Fall practice will begin Aug. 15.

TWO AGENCIES HAVE traded offices in the Cameron courthouse. The welfare office is now located in the office formerly occupied by the license bureau in the basement, and the license bureau is in the welfare department's old office on the second floor. The parish Civil Defense agency will also share the office with the license bureau.

THIS WEEK IS Soil Stewardship Week, and the Gulf Coast Soil Conservation District, which includes Cameron parish, wishes to call to everyone's attention that soil is our nation's most precious natural resource. Various ministers throughout the parish are using this as the theme of their sermons this week. The ministers were recently the guests of the conservation district on a tour of a rice farm in the Roanoke area.

McCAINS RAISE THEM IN SWEETLAKE

Quarter horses popular

By HADLEY FONTENOT
Cameron County Agent

One of the first cattlemen in this area to take special interest in quarter horses was George McCain of Sweetlake, who has been raising them for several years. This type of horse is now considered the standard working horse for the cow man.

Two of Mr. McCain's several purebreds are pictured here. The black horse held by Mr. McCain, above, was shown by his son, Vernon Wayne, at both the district and state livestock shows and got blue ribbons in both and placed high in his class.

It's interesting to note how the quarter horse got its name. The breed originated in the Carolinas and Virginia during the Colonial era. There match-racing was popular, with races run on village streets, in country lanes and alongside fields of plantation owners. Seldom were these horses raced more than 440 yards, hence the colloquial name, "quarter-miler."

The foundation of these quarter running horses was the Arabs, Barbs, Turks brought to North America by the Spanish explorers and traders. Established in Virginia in 1665, the quarter horse became the earliest American horse breed.

These horses were of two strains or types -- the Choctaw from Florida and the Chickasaw from the Texas Plains. Both strains were of superior Oriental ancestry.

Getting back to Mr. McCain, one does not have to talk with him very long to realize how proud he is of his horses. In a little while he can tell you all about the family history of each of his horses. He has pedigree going back several generations on them and can tell you the outstanding qualities of most of them.

It's an asset to the parish to have such good blood lines available to improve our local strain of horse flesh, and Mr. McCain's horses are of course, available for studding.

Television interference studied here

A strange type of television interference which has plagued the Cameron-Creole area for the past 15 months seems to be getting worse, a local television repairman told the Cameron Lions Club Wednesday.

Ed Kelley, who owns Kelley's Radio & TV Service, said it appeared that the interference was coming from the Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative's 69 KV transmission line, but so far the co-op had been unable to locate the source of the trouble.

Mr. Kelley said the interference was in the form of two bands across the top and bottom of the picture tube and only occurred on Channels 2 through 6.

He told the club that a representative of the Federal Communication Commission from Beaumont had traced the distrubance to the transmission line, but that the pinpointing of the trouble could not be done by the FCC as this agency does not have any authority to work with entertainment frequencies such as television.

A similar problem was encountered in the Galveston area some time ago and took many months to trace down, Kelley stated.

Ray Champagne, a member of the Jeff Davis Coop's board of directors, said the coop was well aware of the problem and was trying to remedy it. So far, he stated, the coop has been unable to locate anyone with experience in this type of work to trace the interference.

The Lions Club, after hearing the discussion, voted to invite the coop manager, L. S. Robbins, and a representative of the FCC to an early meeting of the club to discuss possible solutions to the problem.

Dyson offers bill on dike for Big Lake

A bill seeking the appropriation of $125,000 to construct an earthen dike between the ship channel and Calcasieu (Big) Lake in Cameron parish has been introduced by Rep. Alvin Dyson and other area lawmakers.

Cameron parish authorities have complained that spoil from ship channel dredging has reduced the depth of Big Lake and made boat navigation difficult. Police jurors from the Seventh Congressional district endorsed a resolution at their April meeting in Crowley requesting that spoil intrusion in Big Lake be prevented.

Dyson previously introduced a bill asking the appropriation of $110,000 to construct floodgates on King's bayou and Bayou LaBauve in Cameron parish and to enlarge the Creole canal and the Little Chenier canal. The work would provide drainage and prevent salt water intrusion.

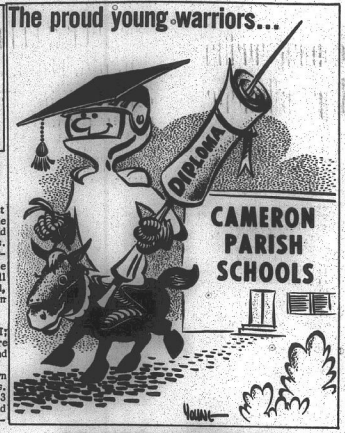
Where's Creole?

Several Creole residents called to our attention the fact that a population figure was not released for Creole by the Census Bureau, although figures were given for Cameron, Grand Chenier, Grand Lake and other Cameron parish communities.

We checked with Mrs. Betty L. Boyd, census district supervisor, who said it was impossible to give a figure for Creole since it is unincorporated and has no definite boundaries. All the other communities in the parish are also unincorporated, but in most of these cases, ward population figures were given for the community population.

Thus Hackberry and Ward 6 have the same figure of 1181; Cow Island and Ward 1 are 610; Grand Chenier and Ward 2 are 881; Grand Lake and Ward 4 are 1034; and Johnson Bayou and Ward 5 are 463.

And here's where the rub comes: the population of the town of Cameron and of Ward 3 is listed as the same: 2,558 persons.



Of course, everybody knows that Creole is also in Ward 3 and that a good portion of those 2,558 people live in Creole and not Cameron. And up in Ward 4, Grand Lake got all the opoulation credit with none going to Sweetlake.

Apparently then, the Census Bureau does not have any accurate figures for the communities of the parish--only the wards. But before anyone begins jumping on the Bureau, please remember that there was no earthly way the bureau could give accurate figures for the communities of the parish for the simple reason that there are no incorporated towns and no boundary lines, other than ward lines, in the parish.

Who can say for sure where Cameron ends and Creole begins? Or where the boundary line is between Grand Lake and Sweetlake?

So there is no point in criticizing the Census Bureau. They did the best they could under the circumstances. But one thing is clear--Cameron certainly can't lay full claim to Ward Three's 2,558 population. Creole is certainly due its share.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

TWELVE YEARS AGO

SEPT. 19, 1948--The Cameron Lions Club unanimously passed a resolution in favor of keeping the inland waters of Cameron Parish closed to commercial shrimping.

of John Whitney Stine, who was parish assessor for 24 years, and is called STINE ALLEY. It is only 20 feet wide.

Another alley going east from the courthouse square has been named KENNEDY ALLEY in memory of F. B. Kennedy, a former postmaster and civic leader here. This alley, which is also 20 feet wide, runs east and west along the centerline of Section 31, between the old P. E. Smith tract and the George C. Marshall tract.

All other streets in the town were named by the land owners in creating their subdivision, as shown on the parish's public records, except one short street next to the Cameron Shell Service Station leading back to Dyson's Lumber Yard. This was called LIONS STREET in honor of the Cameron Lions Club, which has done much to help improve the town.

On the eastern end of Cameron in the Rogers subdivision, the road leaving the highway and winding through the subdivision to the school board building was named DEWEY STREET in honor of the donor, the late Theodore (Dewey) Rogers.

Further eastward to the Valian J. Theriot Subdivision, the street leading to the Cameron Telephone Co. office has been named VE-JAY STREET in honor of Mr. Theriot who donated it.

On eastward is a new street which runs north from the highway through Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church property to the site of the future cemetery. By consent of the adjoining owners, this street was named OUR LADY'S STREET.

In a telephone planned home

In most modern homes you visit these days, telephone convenience is pre-planned so that phones are where you need them, when you need them. Additional outlets for extensions have been installed during construction or remodeling with all the wiring concealed. Then, as your phone needs change, you merely plug an extension in where it's needed. It's as easy and convenient as that.

HOLLY BEACH NEWS

Salt spray from Gulf coats area

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

The salt spray emanting from the Gulf last week was the worst one residents had seen in years. Fanned over a wide area by strong southeast winds the thick white molasses-like substance clung to screens, windows and TV antennas. Telephones were silent due to this plague also. Beachers complained they had to pull the stuff off their eyelashes and hair.

The weather last Friday provoked much interest, as the wind changed and a slight rain fell, telephones began to ring and TV reception was once more viewable.

This spray severly burns trees on the south side and also damages gardens. Everyone was relieved to see the murky spray go.

Our locale this week is reenacting the old western saga --men and women dress in real western fashion on their cattle drives.

MR. AND MRS. W. G. Sexton of Dallas recently spent a week on Holly Beach. Mr. Sexton is general manager of Toronto Pipeline Co.

The Sextons and the A. J. Lovellens enjoyed a supper at the Chateau Charles. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lovellen returned Saturday from Morgan City where they were sent for five days on the pipeline job. Mr. Lovellen is inspector for the Toronto Pipeline Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Mason Istre, Mrs. Walter Stanley and daughters, Arlene and Paree, attended the Midland High graduation Monday night.

The first sunfan of the season were sported the past two weekends as heavy crowds enjoy crabbing, picnicking, and swimming.

Several camps have been put up lately and the beach really looks "bigger" than before the hurricane.

Revival to be held at Johnson Bayou

The Baptist Church at Johnson Bayou, will be led in revival services, June 20-26 with Rev. Wilton Anthony of Ragley, as guest speaker, according to an announcement made by the pastor, M. C. Johnson.

Man electrocuted at Johnson Bayou

ADRIAN BALLIARGEON

A 22-year-old Texas was accidentally electrocuted while working on a barge about a hundred yards off the beach near Johnson Bayou Monday morning.

He was identified as Keith Wilson Cadenhead, Jr. of Prairie Lea, Texas, an employee of Collins Construction Company. He was apparently electrocuted by a battery charger on the barge at about 6 a.m.

Fellow workers gave him artificial respiration for more than an hour, before he was pronounced dead.

The body was taken to O'Donnell Funeral Home in Creole, and from there was sent to San Marcus, Texas for burial.

Cadenhead was living in Port Arthur at the time of the accident.

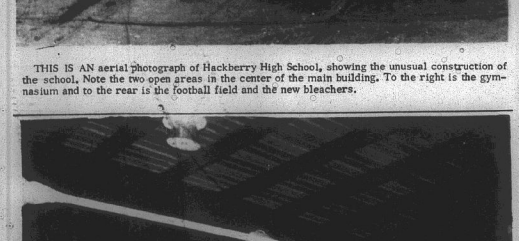
More wrestling set for Sat.

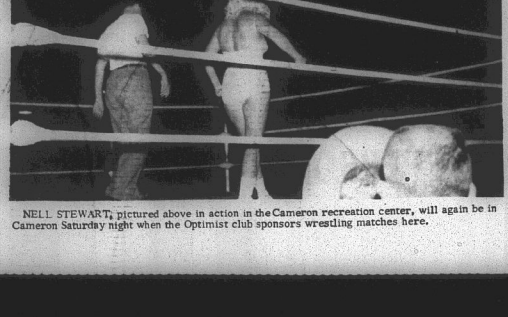
Cameron parish wrestling fans will have some real action in store for them Saturday night when the Cameron Optimist Club schedules another series of bouts beginning at 8 p.m. in the Cameron Recreation Center.

A new attraction will be Adrian Balliargeon, 235-pound, 6 foot, 5 inch Parisian Frenchman, whom, among other things, claims the heavy weight title of Louisiana, Canada and Asia. A professional weight-lifter prior to becoming a wrestler, Adrian and his five brothers went on tours billing themselves as the "strongest family in the world."



And back for a second visit to Cameron will be Nell Stewart, who looks more like a bathing beauty than a female wrestler, but who once held the Texas women's championship.

Balliargeon will tangle with a 210-pound Mexican, Tony Jiminez in the preliminary; and Rod Rivera, 220 pounds of Salt Lake City, clashes with Jesse Jiminez, 200 pounds, of Mexico, in the semi-finals.



The windup will be a free-for-all tag team match with everybody getting into the act. Balliargeon and Chene Mira, another lady grappler, will pair off against Tony Jiminez and Nell Stewart in a two-out-of three fall match, one hour time limit.

Admission to the matches are $2 for reserved seats, $1.50 for general admission and 50 cents for students, with all profits being used by the Optimists to pay the debt on the recreation center and for youth work.

WANT ADS BRING FAST RESULTS

THIS IS AN aerial photograph of Hackberry High School, showing the unusual construction of the school. Note the two open areas in the center of the main building. To the right is the gymnasium and to the rear is the football field and the new bleachers.

NELL STEWART, pictured above in action in the Cameron recreation center, will again be in Cameron Saturday night when the Optimist club sponsors wrestling matches here.

Masons to give barbecue Sunday

The Cameron Masonic Ledge No. 439, F. & A.M. will hold a barbecue at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Cameron elementary school auditorium to honor 25-year members, all past Masters, members of the Thelma Hackett Chapter 225, Order of the Eastern Star and all Master Masons and their wives living or working in this area.

James Nunez, master of the local lodge, said 25 year award will go to Lee R. Nunez, Sr., Paul Nunez, James A. Singletary, C. M. Singletary and Frank E. Welch.

Past Masters to be honored are John B. Armstrong, J. A. Davis, Robert H. Pittman, Thomas W. Steed, Billy B. Zigler and Arnold Rutherford.

Sulphur arena remodeled for youth rodeo

Final preparations for the 11th annual Louisiana High School Championship Rodeo are being made by members of the Sulphur High School Future Farmers of America with the competition to be held beginning Wednesday, June 15 and continuing through June 19.

FFA members extensively remodeled their arena and all of its facilities this Spring. The length has been extended 10 feet to comply with the Rodeo Cowboys Assn. regulation of 310 feet long and 100 feet wide.

The bleacher section has had many boards replaced, new water lines have been installed and the concession booth and press box have been repainted.

The bleachers seat 7,000.

Ninety loads of sandy soil were brought in to raise the arena floor eight inches. The FFA members spread and leveled the soil. All gates opening into the arena had to be raised also.

The FFA boys also remodeled and repaired the chutes and press box.

Through its 11 years, the Louisiana High School Championship Rodeo has been sponsored by the Sulphur High School Chapter of FFA.

C. C. JAUBERT of Lake Charles has announced that he is a candidate for the office of district judge, Section "B", to serve Calcasieu and Cameron parishes.

La Salle named Louisiana in honor of Louis XIV of France and the queen mother Anne.

Elections set for July 23rd

Senate committee approves channel work in parish

The widening and deepening of the Lake Charles ship channel in Calcasieu and Cameron parishes was approved by the U. S. Senate Public works committee this week.

Cost of deepening the channel from the present 35 feet to 40 feet and increasing its width from 250 to 400 feet was set at $16,992,000.

The bill, which includes this project, must now be approved by the Senate and House and signed by the president before coming law. Later bills would be needed to provide the actual construction cost.

She had formerly made her home in Sulphur and graduated from Sulphur high school in 1957. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin LeJeune, live on East Napoleon street, in Sulphur. Safety Council Award Presented To Dolby Company

A National Safety Council award was presented today to Dolby Advertising of Lake Charles, the Calcasieu Area Safety Council has announced.

The "public interest" award is for "the exceptional volume of outdoor advertising space the firm gave to traffic safety during 1959," the local Council said.

* * *

THIS IS THE second time the Dolby firm received this citation, said the Council. A similar award was earned for 1957.

Safety advertising appeared regularly each month on Dolby billboards from the Texas border east to Morgan City and from Cameron north to DeRidder.

The award resulted from information gathered in the Annual Inventory of Traffic Safety Activities sponsored by the National Safety Council. Norman Ledgin, manager of the local chapter of N.S.C., is Lake Charles inventory coordinator.

Legislation Would Tighten Assistance

Legislation has been proposed which would tighten some rules for public assistance but also pose some problems in the care of children born out of wedlock, the Public Affairs Research (PAR) said today.

Changes in public welfare laws reviewed by PAR in its weekly Legislative Bulletin would:

1. Lengthen and tighten residence requirements for eligibility for public assistance.

2. Stop assistance to children living with mothers who give birth to an illegitimate child after receiving public aid.

3. Re-establish case audit teams to probe eligibility of applicants for aid where there is difficulty in determining eligibility.

4. Provide for recovery of money fraudulently received by any recipient of aid.

5. Allow the department of public welfare to obtain information from state income tax returns for use in administering assistance programs.

Other measures which have a bearing on welfare and other state programs would prohibit publicly-supported hospitals from providing free medical services in the birth of illegitimate children, and make common law marriage and the conception and birth of illegitimate children crimes, with possible jail sentences.

* * *

ONE administration measure, according to PAR, would require persons seeking old age assistance, disability assistance, general assistance for those age 60 to 65, and aid to needy blind to reside in the state five years out of the nine years immediately preceeding application for assistance. Other adults applying for general assistance would be required to live in the state six years. As before, only the last year of residence before applying would have to be continuous residence in the state. However, under the new proposal, actual physical residence would be required.

In connection with common law marriages, PAR noted at present the department of welfare considers couples living in stable, non-legal unions as able to support their children and denies them public assistance, unless the father is disabled.

"If common law marriage is made a crime and the parties to such marriages are jailed, numbers of children who otherwise might never have been charges of the state will have to be taken care of in some fashion by relatives or community and church agencies," PAR stated.

* * *

"SIMILAR provisions," PAR added, "will have to be made for illegitimate children whose parents are jailed for conceiving and bearing them. Registration of the birth of an illegitimate child would be an admission of violation of law and could result in immediate arrest of the mother and possibly the father."

PAR also noted that the bill to prohibit charity hospital services in illegitimate births "makes no provision for care for the mothers and children in such cases."

"From the wording of the bill it appears that charity beds in non-public hospitals, where supported by public funds, could not be used for mothers bearing illegitimate children", PAR commented. "Presumably volunteer community agencies and community funds would have to provide aid, and where community aid was lacking, local physicians and private hospitals would be looked to for free services."

IN reference to the measure which would make it a crime to conceive and bear an illegitimate child, PAR said this would penalize illicit sexual relations only if it results in birth of an illegitimate child.

Turning to the matter of re-establishing case audit teams in the department of public welfare, PAR said that investigations by such teams in prior years resulted in substantial reductions in aid among cases investigated. Out of 635 cases involving aid to dependent children, for example, PAR said 176 were closed because of ineligibility and grants were reduced in 84. In 27 cases aid was increased.

Jobs well done

The terms of office of two conscientious Cameron parish police jurors ends this week. The Pilot wishes to salute Bernard Duhon of Hackberry and Conway LeBleu of Cameron for jobs well done.

Mr. Duhon, who served 12 years on the jury, chose not to run again so that he could spend "more time around home." Mr. LeBleu, who served one term, did not run for re-election, as he sought another elective position.

These two outgoing jurors had one thing in common: neither was afraid to speak his mind, no matter how controversial the subject, and to stick up for what he thought right. Both continually worked for the betterment of their wards and parish.

Mr. Duhon was a leader in the move that resulted in a fully equipped fire department for Hackberry, and was instrumental in getting road and bridge improvements in his part of the parish. He represented the parish on the Sabine Watershed Commission; served on the West Calcasieu-Cameron hospital board; and is a director of the West Calcasieu Chamber of Commerce. He is presently serving on a committee of the latter group which is seeking a bridge over the ship channel at Cameron.

Mr. LeBleu was responsible for getting the streets in the town of Cameron resurfaced. He took the lead in pushing through such civic improvements as the parish library and Lower Cameron hospital, and worked diligently on the sewerage project. He served on the Sabine Causeway operating committee, and has been a leader in such parish organizations as the Farm Bureau, Cattlemen Association and Optimist Club.

The retirement of these two men from the jury would be a serious loss to the parish if it were not for the fact that they are being replaced by men whom we believe to be equally as dedicated and capable—Roland J. Trosclair in Ward 3 and Charles A. Riggs in Ward 6.

To Mr. Duhon and Mr. LeBleu we extend congratulations on jobs well done, and to Mr. Riggs and Mr. Trosclair we send our best wishes for equally successful terms of office.

The Real Secret of SUCCESSFUL MARRIAGE

Advice on how to be happily married was never so freely available as it is today.

Marriage problems are openly discussed in newspaper columns and on the radio. Marriage advice is available from the man next door, who speaks from experience . . . from the psychologist, whose views come from study and research. There is no topic . . . from etiquette to fidelity . . . on which advice and counsel are not available.

Yet with all this marriage education, the modern divorce rate continues at an appalling high!

This condition obviously is not due to ignorance of the so-called "facts of life." It cannot be attributed to economic problems, for good times have been repeatedly marked by a high divorce rate. Nor can it be blamed on the excuse of personal "incompatibility," which so often appears in divorce petitions.

These and other practical problems undoubtedly contribute to marriage conflicts. But the basic, fundamental cause of marriage failures goes deeper. It is the failure of many people to realize the true meaning of marriage . . . to recognize that it is a life-long union of a man and a woman . . . to see that its main purpose is the begetting and rearing of children.

In Catholic eyes, marriage is, first of all, a contract which . . . as with all contracts . . . must be governed by justice. A purely sentimental and physical attraction between a man and a woman, which is not permeated by a sense of duty to each other and to God, is not the love upon which enduring homes are built.

But the Catholic Church teaches that marriage must be what God meant it to be . . . and He made it not only a contract--but a Sacrament.

When the marriage of a man and a woman is a Sacrament, they receive title to all the divine helps necessary to overcome the disappointments and difficulties of domestic life. They are thus better able to overcome personality differences . . . better able to deal justly with each other . . . better able to understand the many practical problems of living together.

Marriage is not a strictly private affair. It is the concern of the whole community. It is the special concern of the Church, which is charged with safeguarding this Sacrament. That is why the Catholic Church strives to impress the true nature of marriage upon all who hear her voice.

Whether you are already married . . . or just thinking about it . . . you will be helped by a pamphlet we will send you explaining the true nature of marriage and the blessings that come from a proper understanding of the married state. Write today for your free copy. It will come to you in a plain wrapper and nobody will call on you. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-19.

Clement Moss Candidate For Dist Judge

Clement M. Moss, a Lake Charles attorney, has announced as a candidate for Judge of the Fourteenth Judicial District in the forthcoming election, subject to the action of the democratic primary. Moss will qualify for Division A, the position now held by Judge Mark C. Pickrel.

In announcing his candidacy for the position now held by Judge Pickrel, Moss issued the following statement:

"Many people have expressed the opinion that there should be a change in Division A of the district judgeship in the next election. The incumbent of Division A, under present law, may retire on $10,000.00 per year for life. Under a proposed amendment, if passed by the Legislature and ratified by vote of the people in November, the present judge may retire at full pay, $15,000.00 per year for life. Believing that the best interests of all concerned will be served by a change, I respectfully solicit the support of the qualified voters of Cameron and Calcasieu Parishes."

* * *

MOSS, a native of Lake Charles, has continously resided in Calcasieu Parish since birth. He is a son of the late Clement D. Moss and Mary C. Murphy. Educated in the public schools of Lake Charles, he graduated from Lake Charles High School in 1918.

He attended V.M.I., graduating with a B.A. Degree. His study of law and graduate work at Tulane University earned the degree of Bachelor of Laws and Master of Arts.

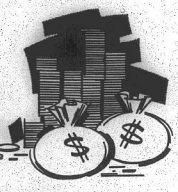
In June, 1924, Moss began the practice of law and is still so engaged as senior member of the law firm of Moss & Graham. He is a member of the American, Louisiana State and Southwest Louisiana Bar Associations. In 1955, Moss was elected to honorary membership in The Order of the Coif, a national honorary legal fraternity.

Moss was a member of the Louisiana State Senate in 1932-1936. In 1935, he was a candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana. He was City Attorney of Lake Charles from 1937 to 1939, and from 1941 to 1945. For a period of eight years, Moss was a member and secretary of the Board of Commissioners of Lake Charles Harbor & Terminal District.

Lovely Louisiana

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles on Louisiana's tourist attractions prepared by the Louisiana Tourist Bureau and published by this newspaper to call attention to the state's many interesting features and attractions.)

Germantown Colony, located seven miles northeast of Minden on Route 186, is one of the oldest settlements in Northeast Louisiana. It was founded in 1835.



Evidence of an interesting experiment in a communal form of living and a profound religious movement that swept Europe in the early 19th Century can still be noted in the area.

The colony was established by a broup of German followers of Count Leon, a self-styled Messiah. The Department of Commerce and Industry placed a historical marker at Germantown on October 12, 1954.

Count Leon, whose real name was possibly Maxmillian Bernard Lewis, said he was stolen from his home at birth. He claimed to be the twin brother of the wife of Kaiser Franz of Austria, who later became Napoleon's mother-in-law.

GRAND LAKE

An unusual fishing accident

By MRS. TOM TAYLOR

Mrs. Kathrine Askew and Mrs. Cotton were out fishing last Thursday when Mrs. Askew lost her balance and caught Mrs. Cotton to keep from falling in. This caused Mrs. Cotton to clamp down on the fish hook which she had in her hand forcing the hook through her right thumb. She had to go to a doctor for its removal.

Mrs. Zeldia Hebert, Bob Gilmore, and Peggy and Veronica Gilmore left Friday morning for a two weeks visit with relatives in Madrid, Missouri.

Those from Grand Lake attending the youth rally held at the Lake Charles Revival Center last Saturday, were Mrs. Rene Saltzman and Rida, Mrs. Nellie Royer and Linda and David, Robert and Stephen Farque, and Junior Poole.

Daisy Bell Askew had chicken pox last week.

In spite of dry weather there is an abundance of vegetables for some of the gardeners. Mrs. C. J. Farque, Mrs. John W. Farque and Mrs. Wilfred Ogea are busy canning beans, and Mrs. Ernest Jones is gathering daily an abundance of cucumbers and reports that she has a bumper crop of tomatoes. She counted as many as seventeen large tomatoes on one plant.

Darryl, age 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Farque, who as yet is not able to walk due to a leg injury he suffered three weeks ago, was made very happy Sunday morning when his Sunday School class along with their teached, Miss Marlyn Lejeune and their pastor's wife, Mrs. Rene Saltzman, came to visit him and enjoy their Sunday School lesson together. Mrs. Farque served refreshments to the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Parker, who have been living at the Hebert Trailer Park, moved last week into their new home near Lake Charles.

The Alverd Duhons and the Leslie Heberts visited relatives in Mamou last week.

It is commendable the way our highways are being neatly kept by the Highway Department.

The universal law, "As we sow we reap", certainly can be applied, with immediate results to the group of boys and girls who rode Mrs. Earl Robideaux's school bus. Mrs. Robideaux was so pleased with their good conduct throughout the school term, she gave them a treat of candy and gum to show her appreciation.

Mrs. Pierre Thibodeaux was honored with a stork shower last Saturday given by Mrs. Russell Broussard of Lake Charles, and Mrs. Eloi Broussard of Little Chenier, in the home of the former.

Games were enjoyed after which refreshments were served to the group of approximately forty persons.

SWEETLAKE

THURSDAY NIGHT the Grand Lake Boy Scouts met with their leader, Mr. Robicheaux, at Grand Lake school. They made plans to go to Camp Edgewood June 12-18. Carroll Hatcher showed them films on Scouting. Guests were Mervyn Taylor, Albert Guidry, and Lyon Breaux.

Mrs. Joe Fruge entered John Sealy hospital in Galveston, Texas Sunday to undergo tests.

Clement Mott underwent surgery in Memorial Hospital. The Motts were residents of Sweetlake for many years but for the last few years have lived in Lake Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Dulva Breaux and granddaughter, Jean Hebert and Mrs. Hebert Beard visited in New Iberia Friday and Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olide Manuel. Mrs. Manuel is the former Lillian Breaux of Sweet Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gary of Hathaway Tuesday night attended the graduation of their granddaughter, Juanita Breaux.

Mrs. Raymond Fusilier, the head cook at Grand Lake school, has not missed one day in all the nine months of school.

Mrs. Hebert Beard spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. Dulva Breaux. Mrs. Beard and the late Hebert Beard were residents of Sweet Lake years ago when they were farming for the Sweet Lake Land and Oil Company. Mrs. Beard is now making her home with one of her daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Cloie Crochet, on the old gulf highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand Gary, Helen and Albert visited relatives in Jennings Sunday.

Mrs. Gladys Wrigley, parish health nurse, will not make her regular visit to Sweetlake in June since she will be attending a six weeks class in New Orleans. She will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyon Breaux Wednesday, July 6, to give immunizations.

Mrs. John B. Duhon has been gathering cucumbers by the bucketful and is enjoying nice tomatoes.

HOLLY BEACH

Beach crowded over Memorial Day weekend

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

A tremendous crowd turned out for the three day Memorial Day weekend. Businessmen are preparing for the continuation of a good summer now that school has been let out throughout the state.

A six year old boy was sent to the hospital Sunday as the result of an accident on the black topped street.

The boy ran after a ball which had rolled on the street and was hit by a car driven by a young teenage girl. He was taken to the Sulphur hospital with a cut on his head but was released that night after his injuries were determined to be minor.

The virus made its appearance last week again and attacked several residents and tourists also.

H. L. Foret has now returned to his job after recuperating from his operation. He is employed by T. L. James Co.

Something new for the weekend crowds—Tommy Stanley now has a Sunday paper service due to heavy demand for reading material on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Raney Martin and three daughters of Estherwood spent the day with the W. Stanleys Sunday. Melva Lou, the eldest daughter is spending a week on the beach.

Calcasieu Cowbelles

The Calcasieu Cowbelles met Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tuten. Hostesses were Mrs. Henry Maddox, Mrs. John E. Jackson, and Mrs. Tuten.

Arthur L. Gayle Sr., who was chosen the "All American Father of the Year", was presented a hand-tooled leather wallet by Mrs. Gordon Daughenbaugh, acting in the absence of Mrs. Leroy Daughenbaugh, chairman of that project. The selection was made by the Calcasieu 4-H council and sponsored by the Cowbelles.

Final reports were made on the progress of the "Beef for Father's Day" project. Mrs. Dudley Johnson, chairman, distributed display posters and stickers to be placed in business places. Mrs. O. D. McFillen reported that the sale of tickets was about completed for the Beef Project, and that the time of drawing had been decided upon, which will be held June 17 on the afternoon Panorama, KPLC TV.

IS YOUR NEIGHBOR REALLY LOST?

I had the greatest thrill of my life last Tuesday night," said Sam Neal to his friend, James Carver.

"What did you do, Sam?" James asked.

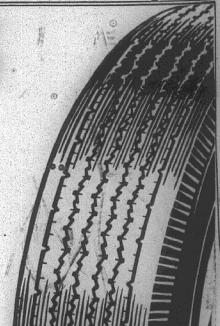
"Tuesday night I went over to see Andy Bost," Sam replied. "He has been in trouble with the law and with his wife and children. He is a good-hearted man, but can't stay out of trouble. You remember how the preacher in our revival challenged us to get out and talk to some people about salvation. I decided to talk to Andy about his soul."

"How did he take it?" James wanted to know.

"At first he was so surprised that he looked at me as if he thought I was crazy," Sam said. "Then he told me that he wanted to talk to somebody about his sins and how he might be saved. The two of us talked for nearly three hours. Then he put me on the spot. He asked me to pray with him. I had never done such a thing. But we got down on our knees. We must have looked awfully clumsy to God, but we tried to pray.

"When we got up Andy told me that a great burden had rolled from his soul. He says he is coming to church, profess Christ, join the church, and live a different life. That was the first time I ever tried to talk to a lost person about salvation. Now I am going to talk to a lot of my friends."

"Sam, you will not get that kind of response every time," James warned.



"I know," Sam admitted. "But I'll have the satisfaction of knowing that I am trying. I never tried before. If I can help somebody just once in awhile it will be rewarding."

Is your neighbor lost? Lost from service in your community? Lost from his own family? Lost from values that matter? Lost in a bad attitude? Lost in hate or despair or prejudice? Lost in sin, out of fellowship with God?

Revival meeting time is a good time to go to your neighbor who is lost. Express a personal interest in him. Quote some passages of scripture which will be helpful. Let him know that you love him—that Christ loves him enough to make his life over into a new kind of life. Plead with him to give up the old life of sin and take on the new life of righteousness. Offer to take him to church if he needs a ride. Pray with him if he opens the way for you to do so.

Jesus Christ went to people wherever they were and talked to them—on a road, at a well, in a home. Go to your neighbor and urge him to attend one of the Baptist revivals near his home. He can find a blessing there. It will be a good place for him to give his life to the Lord.

HEY!!! It's you I'm talking to. Summer's here, already yet, with the chillun out of school for three long months and rarin' to go. Just rare up and go withxhem, son, 'cause you're living in Louisiana, and our cajun state has just about the mostest of everything that makes for fine hot weather cavorting.

Trek to Texas, Arkansas, Florida, or Wisconsin for a vacation if you will, but not because you have to. Louisiana offers enough variety in her waterways to suit the taste of any boater, be he skippering a Chris Craft or a canoe. Fishing--there's none better anywhere. From Grand Isle, Cocodrie, Empire, Cypremort Point, or Cameron you'll catch more fish per boat than you'll see anywhere else.

Accomodations on our fresh water lakes have improved rapidly, and most bodies of water offer facilities ranging from comfortable to luxurious. Some which offer lakeside cottages for rent are Caddo, Cross, Bistineau, Black, and Saline, in northwest Louisiana; Anacoco Lake near Leesville & De Ridder; Lake Providence and Yucatan, in northeast Louisiana; Concrodia, Bruin, & St. John, in Tensas and Concordia parishes; False River and Old River, near New Roads. Many of the other fine fishing sports--Catahoula, Saline, Laccasine, and others--are near excellent motel accommodations in town.

Summertime life in the outdoors requires a bit of care. Expose yourself to the rays of Ole Sol gradually, and use suntan lotion. A bad burn can ruin a vacation. Use sunglasses when you're on the water long long periods, since prolonged exposure to brilliant glare can injure your eyes.

Non-swimmers should always have a life jacket on when boating, and even good swimmers could do worse than to have one immediately available. Use more than ordinary care when boating in waters where there are swimmers or water skiers, since it's difficult to undo the damage done by running a potent outboard up a body's spine.

* * *

Ducks and geese have been dealt another blow, as "progress" moves relentlessly forward. Work is under way on a new dam in Manitoba which will flood 2,400 square miles--more than 1½ million acres. Some is the best duck and goose habitat in that Canadian province.

Ducks Unlimited has done some good in Canada, but they can't compete with such enormous losses as this. Waterfowl breeding habitat in Canada is being steadily and rapidly converted to other purposes. (Most of the U. S. breeding grounds have already been destroyed by drainage and other agricultural pursuits, most of it subsidized with your tax dollar.)

When the Canadian breeding habitat has been reduced to a certain point you can wrap it up--give you blind back to the nutria. The finest layout in the marsh at Creole, or the best spread on Catahoula, won't be worth a hoot that fall when no ducks head south.

You may think your home is properly insured against fire... but are you sure your furnishings are protected? Check with us today!

Police Jury Minutes

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON

The Police Jury of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, met in regular session this 2nd day of May, 1960, with the following members present: Eraste Hebert, President, Horace Mhire, Vian Theriot, Conway LeBleu, Archie Berwick, and Bernard Duhon. There were no members absent. The minutes of the last session were read, and upon motion by Mr. Theriot, seconded by Mr. Duhon and carried they were adopted as read.

A delegation from the Grand Chenier Community requested that the asphaltic concrete blacktop approximately 1.3 miles of street in the Village of Grand Chenier. Pursuant to this request, it was moved by Mr. Mhire, seconded by Mr. Theriot and carried that a resolution be adopted requesting that the Louisiana Department of Highways furnish engineering services and estimates of the cost of improving with bituminous hot mix surfacing approximately 1.3 miles of streets at Grand Chenier, in Ward Two.

Mrs. Mary Brand, Librarian for the Cameron Parish Public Library, submitted her budget for the library for the period July 1, 1960, through October 31, 1960 and requested that the Police Jury advance the amount of this budget to the Cameron Parish Library Construction and Maintenance Fund, as the State had agreed to support the library only for the two-year period beginning June 27, 1958 and ending July 1, 1960, and collection of the Library Tax recently voted will not begin until October, 1960. Pursuant to an opinion from J. B. Jones, Jr., Assistant District Attorney, that such an advance may be legally made from the General Fund, and that the General Fund may be reimbursed from the Library Tax collections, it was moved by Mr. Mhire, seconded by Mr. Duhon and carried that the Treasurer is hereby authorized to issue a check from the Cameron Parish General Fund to the Cameron Parish Library Construction and Maintenance Fund in the amount of $8,380.00, which is to be repaid to the General Fund from the Library Tax collections.

Mr. Ray Brugess of Cities Service Refining Corporation, Lake Charles, and Chairman of the committee selected to study the silting of Calcasieu Lake from the maintenance dredging of the Lake Charles Ship Channel, reported to the Police Jury the findings of his Committee. Mr. Burgess stated that certain areas along the channel were dedicated as spoil areas, and that in most cases the owners of the land were willing to have the spoil deposited in those dedicated areas, as it would enhance the value of the land. At his suggestion, the following Resolution was adopted, upon motion by Mr. Mhire, seconded by Mr. Berwick, and carried.

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE POLICE JURY OF CAMERON, PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA in regular session convened the 2nd day of May, 1960, that we do hereby object to the issuance of a permit to Sohio Petroleum Company to dispose of oil field brine in "Cut Around Bayou", and the Louisiana Stream Control is hereby requested to reconsider the action it has taken on this issue.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, etc. that the Secretary of this Police Jury is hereby directed to forward copies of this Resolution to the Louisiana Stream Control Commission, the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, and Sohio Petroleum Company.

The foregoing Resolution, having been reduced to writing, was read and considered and then a vote thereon was called for with the following result:

YEAS: Eraste Hebert, Conway LeBleu, Vian Theriot, Archie Berwick, and Horace Mhire

NAYS: None

ABSENT: None

NOT VOTING: Bernard Duhon

and the said Resolution was declared duly adopted and was approved this 2nd day of May, 1960.

APPROVED:
/S/ Eraste Hebert,
President
Cameron Parish Police Jury
ATTEST:
/S/ J. W. Doxey, Secretary

• • •

Pursuant to a request from Sohio Petroleum Company for approval to dispose of oil field brine from Grand Chenier Field, Louisiana into "Cut Around Bayou" in Section 36, Township 14 South, Range 5 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana, the following resolution was offered by Mr. LeBleu, who moved its adoption, and the motion was seconded by Mr. Berwick:

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON

WHEREAS, Sohio Petroleum Company has requested approval of the Cameron Parish Police Jury for the disposal of oil field brine from Grand Chenier Field, Louisiana, into "Cut Around Bayou" in Section 36, Township 14 South, Range 5 West, and,

WHEREAS, a conditional or limited approval of the proposed brine disposition was obtained from the Louisiana Stream Control Commission, and,

WHEREAS, the marshlands, as the natural habitat of the abundant wildlife and commercial fur-bearing animals, are one of the greatest assets of this Parish, and,

WHEREAS, from the standpoint of wildlife conservation, protection for our marshlands and particularly the vegetation therein, is not only of local but also of national concern, and,

WHEREAS, the location of the proposed brine disposal is approximately 20 miles from the Gulf of Mexico, and, as the waters from the streams to be affected spread out over the adjacent marshlands during the frequent periods of high tide in the area, we feel that the addition of oil field brine into the streams will be harmful to the vegetation in the surrounding area, and,

WHEREAS, the Cameron Parish Police Jury desires to cooperate with and to assist the oil and gas production interests in this area as using disposal wells to return the oil field brine into the earth, and to our knowledge, the cost of the disposal well is not so great that its use is prohibitive, and,

WHEREAS, the Sohio Petroleum Company representative stated at the regular meeting of the Louisiana Stream Control Commission held in Baton Rouge on December 15, 1959, and recorded in the minutes of that meeting, that the cost of the facilities to dispose of the oil field brine into "Cut Around Bayou" is approximately $20,000.00, and,

WHEREAS, since the permit granted by the Louisiana Stream Control Commission is limited, there is a possibility that this cost may be increased should additional permits be required, and,

WHEREAS, issuance of this permit to Sohio petroleum Company has established a precedent that other companies operating in this area may wish to follow;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE POLICE JURY OF CAMERON, PARISH, LOUISIANA, in regular session convened the 2nd day of May, 1960, that we do hereby object to the issuance of a permit to Sohio Petroleum Company to dispose of oil field brine in "Cut Around Bayou", and the Louisiana Stream Control is hereby requested to reconsider the action it has taken on this issue.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, etc. that the Secretary of this Police Jury is hereby directed to forward copies of this Resolution to the Louisiana Stream Control Commission, the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, and Sohio Petroleum Company.

HACKBERRY RECREATION

District is created

Charles A. Riggs, new Ward Six police juror, introduced at the jury meeting Monday an ordinance creating a recreation district for the Ward and Hackberry.

The ordinance which was passed unanimously by the jury, named the following as members of the board of commissioners for the new recreation district:

P. Frank Comeaux, one year term; Alfred Devall, two years; Ferdie A. Frey, three years; Julius T. Johnson, four years; and Joseph L. Colligan, five years.

Mr. Riggs said that the purpose of the district would be to build a park and set up a recreation program for Hackberry. A recreation bond issue will be submitted to property owners in Ward Six at a later date, he stated.

The recreation board held its first official meeting Monday night at the Hackberry fire station and elected Mr. Johnson as president; Mr. Colligan as vice-president; and William E. Reasoner, Jr., as secretary-treasurer.

Regular meetings will be held monthly. A special meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m. this coming Monday to discuss additional plans for the recreation program.

IN CAMERON PARISH

First hay of '60 cut

By HADLEY FONTENOT

As far as this writer knows, the first hay put up in Cameron parish this year was by Charlie Theriot and Severin Miller, who farm together at Grand Chenier.

And fine hay it is! It is alfalfa and was seeded late last fall. The first cutting was on April 25, with two and a half acres yielding 151 bales. A second cutting on May 29 yielded 66 bales.

What about alfalfa hay for Cameron parish, some may wonder? This is not the first time it has been grown here. A few years back Ojust Richard and Sond Savoy grew a couple of acres successfully, but Hurricane Audrey destroyed the stand.

Alfalfa needs a fertile, well drained soil that is high in calcium. The Grand Chenier ridges answer all of these requirements so there is no reason why it can't be grown successfully here. One of the objections as far as Mr. Ojust was concerned was the fact that it was hard to cure. Now however, with a conditioner, which cuts curing time in about half, this should not be too much of a problem.

Coming back to Mr. Severin's field of alfalfa, it might be interesting to note that he has applied 700 pounds of 10-20-10 and 200 pounds of 6-24-24 and with good moisture conditions he expects to get two more cuttings this year.

Registration books to close June 23

Cameron parish voter registration books will close on June 23, one month before the July 23 primary election for school board members, district attorney and judges and U. S. representative, Miss Wynona Welch, parish registrar reminds voters.

Not too many new registrations are expected as most of the parish's voters were registered for the parish and state elections just recently held.

Mrs. Conner Dies Of Long Illness

By WANDA BREAUX

Mrs. Abra Conner of Lake Arthur died Sunday afternoon in the home of one of her daughters in Lake Charles. She had been in ill health for a long time.

Funeral services were held at 9 a.m. Tuesday in the Lake Arthur Catholic church. Burial was in the Lake Arthur cemetery.

The Conners were residents of Sweet Lake for many years. They lost two of their sons during World War II and another one was accidentally killed in Lake Charles a few years ago.

POLICE JURY BRIEFS

Here are some of the things that took place at the police jury meeting Monday:

CHENIER STREETS

The jury received an estimate from the state highway department that the cost of blacktopping 1.35 miles of streets in Grand Chenier would be around $32,689.90. This project would include seven streets running from the highway to the Mermentau river. Bids on this project are expected to be called for soon.

* * *

HACKBERRY ROADS

Juror Charles A. Riggs asked for permission from the jury to grade and maintain three private roads in Ward Six which are being used by the public. Assistant District Attorney J. B. Jones, Jr. was asked to look into the legality of the matter.

* * *

JULY MEETING

The July meeting of the jury, which would have fallen on the Fourth of July, was postponed until the following Monday, July 11.

* * *

HACKBERRY BUILDING

The jury urged Juror Riggs to go slow on expenditures when he asked for permission to build a 40-by 40-in building to house Ward Six's road equipment. Other jurors admitted they did not have any such shelter for their equipment and suggested that Riggs postpone this project. They also suggested that he rent a pickup truck and a tractor mower instead of buying such equipment.

* * *

COURTHOUSE REPAIRS

Upon the recommendation of the grand jury, the police jury authorized Ward 3 Juror Bolo Trosclair to raise the floor of the sheriff's garage by about 16 inches to try to relieve the drainage situation there.

* * *

FIREARM ORDINANCE

An ordinance introduced by Juror Vian Theriot and passed unanimously makes it illegal to discharge firearms on the parish roads and provides penalties up to a $100 fine, 30 days in jail or both. Mr. Theriot said that the shooting of rifles and pistols on some roads in his ward was endangering livestock and humans as well.

* * *

CAUSEWAY FILL

Two Port Arthur businessmen are still interested in leasing the Sabine causeway fill on the Cameron side for commercial purposes, such as a restaurant, boat docks, etc., the jury was told. Juror Archie Berwick said he had been contacted by another party also interested in leasing the fill. The jury decided to wait and see what the legislature does with a bill which would permit the jury to lease this land for a period up to 25 years. The maximum period is now five years.

* * *

NEW SUBDIVISION

Bolo Trosclair announced that a new subdivision, to be known as the Bonsall Subdivision, will be opened soon east of Cameron with 100 lots for sale. He wanted to know what width he should ask for when the roads were dedicated to the public. Other members said that 60 feet should be the minimum.

* * *

CIVIL DEFENSE MEETING

The jury agreed to pay the expenses of five members of the parish Civil Defense and any of the police jurors who want to go to a regional CD meeting in Galveston this week. CD members scheduled to go are Wilber Smith, Buster Rogers, Frankie Henry, Hayes Picou and Joe Doxey.

FIRE STATION CUSTODIAN

SECOND LT. Olen O. Clark, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Clark of Johnson Bayou, was recently assigned to the 71st Transportation Company, U. S. Army, at Camp Leroy Johnson, New Orleans. A native of Drumright, Okla., he received his B. S. degree from McNeese State College this year and is now serving six months of active duty under the provisions of the Reserve Forces Act. Lt. Clark is married to the former Myra Sue Whitaker, and they reside at 118 Garden Street, Maplewood.

Two weather balloons found at Grand Chenier

By ELORA MONTIE

Two radio transmitters have been picked up on the Chenier during the past week. One was found the earlier part of last week by Mrs. Bertha Roy who saw the balloon object floating down in the back field north of her home.

Sunday when returning from Sunday Mass Richard Wyane Granger saw a balloon of the same kind falling near the Cow Island cemetery. They stopped and picked it up. It had been sent out from the United States weather Bureau some place in Texas.

Instructions on detaching the balloon and mailing it back to the weather bureau were enclosed.

Mrs. Kelley dies Saturday in hospital

Mrs. Elder A. Kelley, 57, of Cameron, died in Hotel Dieu in Beaumont, Texas, at 7:50 p.m. Saturday. Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Monday at the Wakefield Memorial Methodist church in Cameron with the Rev. Taylor Wall officiating.

Burial was in the Rogers cemetery under the direction of O'Donnell Funeral Home.

Mrs. Kelley was a member of the Wakefield Memorial Church and of the W.S.C.S.

She is survived by one daugher, Mrs. O'Neil Roberts; five sons, Edwin, George W., Donald, Gary and Jeff Kelly, all of Cameron; three brothers, Jeff Nunez of Grand Chenier, Asa Nunez of New Orleans, and Oba Nunez of Creole; and twelve grandchildren.

Jury officers are re-named

Despite a few tense minutes during the election of officers and the seating of two new members, the Cameron parish police jury got off to a harmonious start Monday with everybody pledging to "work with everybody."

Roland J. (Bolo) Trosclair of Cameron and Charles A. Riggs of Hackberry, who were recently elected to the jury, took their seats on the jury for the first time.

Apparently expecting some controversy during the election of officers, Eraste Hebert, jury president, suggested that the group go into executive session and bar visitors from the room while this business was being transacted.

But other jurors pointed out that the voting could not legally be done in closed session, and Mr. Riggs and Mr. Trosclair stated they did not desire a closed meeting.

Thereupon Vian Theriot nominated Mr. Hebert as jury president, Horace Mhire as vice-president and Joe Doxey as secretary-treasurer, and all were unanimously re-elected to these positions. Miss Dorothy Doxey was also renamed assistant secretary-treasurer.

The following committees were also unanimously elected:

Claims committee--Vian Theriot, Roland Trosclair and Archie Berwick.

Road and Bridge Committee--Mr. Trosclair, Mr. Theriot and Mr. Berwick.

The discord expected earlier in the meeting failed to materialize and both new jurors made short speeches stating their willingness to work in harmony with the rest of the jury. The old members of the jury and Mr. Doxey expressed their desire for cooperation among the jurors during the next four years.

The Cameron Parish Pilot was again named official journal of the jury.

Salt water problem study asked by jury

A resolution requesting the state department of public works to make a survey of salt water intrusion in the marshes around Grand Chenier was passed by the police jury Monday.

Daye Doland and Lionel Theriot of Grafti Chenier, and Roland Laurent, an engineer from Lafayette, appeared before the jury to ask that the survey be made of the Mermentau river from the Bluff at Grand Chenier up to the locks at Grand Lake.

Mr. Doland said that at the present fresh water is being held above the locks for the benefit of the rice farmers, leaving the marshes to the south salty. Later when more fresh water than is needed is accumulated, it is released into the marshes. This alternate fresh and salty condition of the marshes does not permit either fresh or salt water grasses to grow and has left the marshes bare, he stated.

Hospital bids to be opened June 29

Bids on the construction of the new Lower Cameron hospital will be opened at 3 p.m., Wednesday, June 29, at the office of the police jury in Cameron.

The bid opening had originally been scheduled for June 22, but was postponed a week in order to give contractors more time in which to prepare their bids.

THESE TROPHIES, displayed here by Ray Burleigh, will be awarded winners in the local class boat races to be held at 1 p.m. Sunday, July 3, during the Fourth of July celebration here. Donated by area sports equipment dealers, the trophies will be awarded in three classes: 10-18 horsepower outboard motors, 18-35 horsepower, and a free-for-all class. There will be first, second and third place prizes. The entry fee is $5 per boat per event.

Salvaged ship Anvers brings $60,000 bid

The Belgium ship Anvers, which was salvaged by a group of Cameron men after it caught on fire off the coast here last July, was sold at public auction in New Orleans last week for $60,000.

The $60,000 bid was the minimum set by the U. S. District court in New Orleans for the sale, and was the only bid received. Acceptance of the bid was being processed, the U. S. marshal's office there said.

Phillip Vauer purchased the ship for his firm, Toplis and Harding, Wagner and Glidden, American Bank building, New Orleans.

The auction was directed by the U. S. marshal, who claimed custody of the ship several weeks ago. The Anvers is anchored in the old Calcasieu river about three miles north of Cameron.

The Belgium ship caught fire six miles off the Cameron coast on July 5, 1959, and was beached and abandoned two days later. The Anvers was kept under watch by the Galveston, Texas, tug Grampus, but was boarded by Russell Broussard of Lake Charles and two other men on the night of July 9.

Broussard said he and his crew extinguished the fires, and later after the ship was partially sunk by a hurricane, raised it and towed it into Cameron. They claimed they invested about $15,000 in the quest for salvage rights.

The U. S. court in New Orleans will decide the split of the $60,000 bid at a later date. Owners of cargo aboard the vessel have also filed a claim.

Hadley Fontenot judges 'cleanest city' contest

Hadley Fontenot, Cameron county agent, was one of the three judges who chose Jennings as the cleanest city in the Seventh Congressional district this past week.

Other judges were O. D. Hyatt of McNeese State College and Lt. Joseph D. Waters of Chennault Air Force Base.

No Cameron parish communities entered the contest. Several other cities in the district entered.

Three in race for congress

Three persons qualified as candidates for Congress from the Seventh district last week. They are incumbent, Rep. T. A. Thompson of Ville Platte, former State Senator Arsene Stewart of DeRidder and Sam Tarleton, commissioner of public safety of Lake Charles.

Thompson is seeking his fifth two-year term in Congress. He had no opposition in 1958.

Stewart, a former mayor of DeRidder, was edged out by Sen. Guy Sockrider by 100 votes in his bid for re-election to the state senate last December.

Also filing as candidates for the state board of education from the Seventh district were Dr. B. M. Woodard and Dr. H. B. Hewitt of Lake Charles and Fulton J. Bacon of Basile. The incumbent, Alfred E. Roberts of Lake Charles, is not seeking re-election.

One of two planes damaged in landing

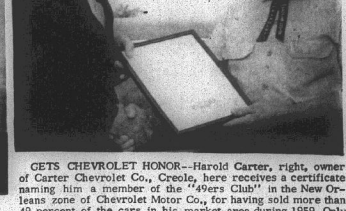
ON OLD HOLLY BEACH STRIP

Two planes damaged

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

A four-passenger plane was damaged and one person was injured when two light aircraft landed in a pasture at Holly Beach about 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Roy and Bobby Dangereaux, and a group of friends from Texas City had come to spend the weekend with their Uncle, Irvin Thibodeaux. They were unaware that the beach airstrip was no longer used and graded. The four passenger plane received about $500 damage as it hit the bank of a ditch. The pilot had two cuts on his forehead and had several stitches taken.



The two passenger plane also received minor damage. It had landed on the opposite end of the strip and taxied to join the other group when it too struck the ditch. The lighter plane was towed to the road by jeep where it was loaded on a transport truck for its destination. The heavily damaged plane is expected to be picked up this weekend.

GETS CHEVROLET HONOR--Harold Carter, right, owner of Carter Chevrolet Co., Creole, here receives a certificate naming him a member of the "49ers Club" in the New Orleans zone of Chevrolet Motor Co., for having sold more than 49 percent of the cars in his market area during 1959. Only two other dealers among the 13 in the district received the same honor. Making the presentation is L. J. Loving, district manager, Chevrolet Motor Division.

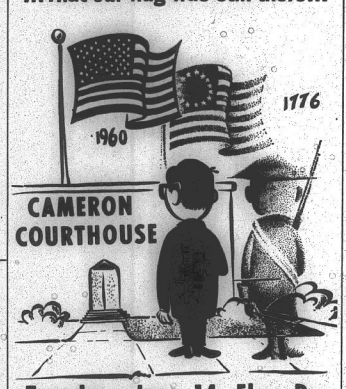
A PILOT EDITORIAL

RECREATION IS ON MOVE IN PARISH

The establishment this week of a recreation district at Hackberry is another indication of the growing interest in recreation in Cameron parish.

Other signs are the Little League and American Legion baseball programs, the church baseball league, community softball teams, and peewee football and basketball teams.

A recreation center has been built in Cameron through the leadership of the Optimists and other civic groups, and a center and park are planned for Hackberry.



This recreation movement is the result of the realization by parents and civic leaders that there is nothing better suited to develop youngsters physically and socially, and to keep them entertained and out of trouble than a good recreation program.

Famous last words . . .

A resident of Lower Cameron once made a trip to Orange, Texas, a number of years ago. Incidentally, it was the first time he had ever been away from the chenieres, and he was much impressed with the distance he had traveled. On his return, he mentioned this to his friends. "If the world's as big that way," he said, pointing to the east, "as it is that way," pointing to the west, "then she sure must be a whopper."

The biscuits which Aunt Amanda served up one day were so hard that her son insisted on standing to eat his meal. When asked for an explanation of this unusual conduct, he replied, "Teg-gannit, Ma, your biscuits are so hard that a man's got to stand up to swallow them."

MY GRANDFATHER, Ed Stine, used to tell of his visits to his grandmother's home when he was a little chap on Pecan Island back in the 1860's. At the time she was living in a small house, the roof and walls of which were covered with palmetto. Doubtless he was a mischievous kid, and irritated the old lady at times beyond endurance, for occasionally she sought to give him a spanking. In this she was seldom successful, for it was no trick at all for him to dart through the palmetto walls of her house wherever he might happen to be, and so elude the punishment.

GRAND LAKE

Quick thinking saves Askew home from being destroyed

Quick thinking on the part of Mrs. Terrell Woosley of Lake Charles saved the home of the Ted Askews over the weekend.

While sitting on the porch of her summer home in Grand Lake Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Woosley noticed smoke coming from the Askew home. She ran to the house and cut off the multi-breaker, took the fire hose and put out the fire by herself. Little damage was done to the home.

No men were around to give assistance at the time and Mrs. Askew was working in her store. The utility company said that Mrs. Woosley's quick decision to turn off the electricity before pouring water on the home was a wise one. It was presumed the fire had started when lightning struck the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Abshire from Gueydan were called to Lake Charles last Thursday due to the wreck of their son, Oscar Abshire who was admitted in the St. Patrick hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ortego from Jennings have been spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Granger.

Mrs. Phorbus Stutes and children spent the weekend in Crowley with relatives. Her husband joined them. Mr. Stutes is now working in Egan.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmie Duvall jr. and children, Mr. and Mrs. Curley Thomas and children visited relatives in Center, Texas over the weekend.

Inspite of the hail that came along with the rain Sunday evening the farmers really enjoyed it because they were so in need of rain for their rice. The rain will also help the gardens.

Miss Linda Faye Royer is on the sick list this week.

Mr. Alvord Dubon, Mrs. John W. Farque and Mrs. Merbra Farque went and paid their last respects to Mrs. Mary Louis Vesper whose body was in the Burke-Hamer Funeral Home. The Vespers had a camp at the Hebert's fishing camp and were well known in Grand Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hebert left Sunday on their vacation for San Diego, Calif. They will visit Mrs. Hebert's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson, the former Betty Fontenot. Accompaning them is Mrs. Hebert's mother, Mrs. Lonnie Fontenot and a niece, Ruth Hebert from Lake Charles.

Saturday, June 5th Bristow-Fontenot was honored with a party on his 14th birthday, given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Fontenot. Games were played and refreshments were served. Afterwards dancing was enjoyed by Judy Sensat, Stanly Thomas, Alcia Barbia, Jackie Barbia, Wilma Hebert, Richard Berry, Lee Allen Benoit, Sammy Faulk, Charlotte Poole, Peggy and Eugene Theriot, Wanda Robideaux, Hewitt Doucet, Kay Marrel and Wanda Breaux.

Mrs. Iva Free came back home Monday from the St. Patrick's hospital in an ambulance. She will have to return to the hospital at the end of four weeks for x-rays. She is reported doing fine.

A. P. Stewarts mark 25th anniversary

The silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Amdee Pujo Stewart was observed with an open house Saturday afternoon, June 4, in their home on Thornwell Road at Lake Arthur.

Assisting in hospitality duties were Mrs. Effie Hollister, mother of Mrs. Stewart; Susan Beth Stewart, daughter of the couple; Mrs. Bradley Hardee of Gueydan, sister of Mr. Stewart; and Charles Harold Fox, Jr.

Upon arrival the guests were registered in a white and silver twenty-fifth anniversary book, gift of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. George. Mrs. John Lloyd Cagle of Vinton was in charge of the guest book.

The serving table, covered with an ivory lace cloth over pale green, held a centerpiece of pink and white gladioli, Miss Lottie Gene Holbrook of Rayne presided at the crystal punch service. Refreshments of assorted sandwiches, petit-fours frosted white and trimmed in miniature pink rosebuds, nuts, mints, coffee, and lemon-lime punch in which floated a gold wedding band of frozen citrus juices. The napkins used were white designed in silver.

Mrs. Stewart's frock, a champagne satin sheath, was brocaded in silver-gold leaves. She wore a corsage of red-feathered carnations, among which were outlined in rhinestones a tiny heart and the number "25". Her only jewelry was rhinestone earrings.

The beautiful gifts received from their many firends were on display.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, both originally from Grand Chenier, were married in Vinton. The first eleven years of their marriage were spent in Houma. Since then they have lived in their present location. Mr. Stewart is employed in the production department of Texaco at Lafitte. Mrs. Stewart is currently employed by the Jefferson Davis School Board. She taught eighteen years in Cameron Parish schools.

Dry weather has not seriously hurt local crops

The long spell of dry weather has not seriously hurt Cameron parish crops yet, and the scattered showers this past week have been helpful, County Agent Hadley Fontenot reports.

The corn crops have not been damaged to the point where they cannot recover when an abundance of rain does come, he said. The rice has not suffered, but the lack of rain has been costly to farmers who have had to flush their fields, in some places as many as two or three times, to get the seeds up.

Some loss of lespediza has been reported and pastures have been slightly affected, but on the whole, Cameron is not yet as seriously affected as in some parts of the state.

Rain helps crops but was not so good for roads

By BERNICE STEWART

Cleveland Broussard just about sums up the situation here when he says, "Good crops; bad roads; the latter destined to be excellent soon." According to Mr. Broussard, the long awaited rain resulted in an inch and a quarter downpour Saturday afternoon.

The road, in the process of being built, in the red-clay stage at present. Rumors, which seem more optimistic than practical to us, promise hard-surfacing by the fourth of July.

Fur industry at low ebb

(EDITOR'S NOTE--Here is another of the entries in the wildlife essay contest sponsored earlier this year by the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival. The writer was a junior at South Cameron high school this past term)

By BARBARA LOU LABOVE

Once a fifteen to twenty million dollar annual economy in Louisiana--now a three to four million! What has happened? What were the causes and the effects, and could anything have been done about it?

Fur is supposed to be one of the most basic commodities, dating back to the caveman days and was surely one of the first great industries to be established.

It is always difficult to write about a trade where your friends have their fortunes, hopes, and years of work invested. Today, more than ever before, the furs that are produced have no intrinsic value. Therefore the potential value of our furs is governed mainly by the skill of the manufacturers, dresser, and dyer. Unfortunately this phase of the industry has never been participated in on a large scale in Louisiana.

The physiognomy and ecology of our state has so endowed us that the coastal marshes and swamps produce more than half the number of wild pelts in the United States with Canada included in some years. This has made the fur industry in Louisiana one that has been participated in by 20,000 expert trappers with techniques handed down from one generation to the next rather than a "farm boy hobby" as is practiced in most other states. However, all through the years certain of our larger dealers with their intricate knowledge and participation in our "set-up" have acted as a stablizing factor in preventing some deep "troughs" and by the same token leveled a few of the "peaks".

In the early 1920's when the population of muskrats in the Louisiana marshes had reached such a peak that "eatouts" were occuring in large areas, trappers began setting their traps at random over these vast marshes with little or no regard for property rights or ownership. Under this system the trapper did well. It was not unusual for a trapper to clear three to five thousand dollars in a three month's season. This, of course, was not wholly due to this system or method of operation but was due to many circumstances, some man-made and some natural that occurred at the right time during this peak production and peak prices.

Unfortunately by this time our industry's greatest peak had passed and the miserable creeping fog of decline was settling into every avenue of the industry and it seemed impossible to stem the cancerous situation. The more money and effort expended--the greater the loss. Some dealers who tried to hold their leases and organizations were unable to break even with the greatest effort. Small trapping land operators who trapped themselves, along with their uncles, brothers, children, and wives working in the camp, saw their substantial savings dwindle away by doing the same thing that had meant success to them for the past twenty years. During this same period practically all other business in the United States was on the up-grade. The only thing on the up-grade in the fur industry was bankrupcy and suicide.

In retrospect, what was the combination of life-giving circumstances that started the entire fur industry in Louisiana?

Basically we have approximately 4,000,000 acres of coastal marsh land and ten to fourteen million acres of swamp and submarginal for producing lands. The coastal marshes and some of the deeper swamps account for 95% of the total fur in take. These areas will only produce so much food and cover.

When thinking of the fur industry in Louisiana we usually think only in terms of muskrats and consider the 100,000 mink, the otter, raccoon, etc. as a by-product of the trapping business, except for certain deep swamp areas where mink are of primary importance locally.

BEFORE LONG great localized cyclic muskrat populations would occur, eating the available food, then sliding back to the trough. In seven to twelve years, depending upon a number of conditions such as rainfall, drought, dry marsh burns, storms, etc. the peak would be reached again.

Although storms have an immediate adverse affect, some benefits seem to follow shortly. The hurricanes seemed to scour and cleanse the marshes leaving new, rich mud deposits which created a nutritious marsh floor resulting in new vegetative growths. The rain in summer retarded the excessive heating that occurs in a dry marsh, which is thought by some biologists to retard summer muskrat populations. Wet cycles maintain a backlog of fresh water, tending to act as a buffer against salt water intrusion. Abrupt tides and salinity fluctuations are both known to adversely effect the finer muskrat food plants.

The fur prices were good and the trappers and operations were enthusiastic in fact the entire income was at a peak. The Per Capita income was on the increase and ranges as follows at the present date.

Muskrat	$1.25 to 1.50
Mink	$5.00 to 8.00
Raccoon	$1.00
Otter	$12.00 to 14.00
Nutria	$2.00 down
Opossum	$.10

Toward the end of 1947 everything seemed to be sliding at the same time. The marsh could no longer support the terrific beating that it was taking from the 8 to 10 million trappable rats--the rainy cycle was over and a prolonged five year drought set in; industrial activies in the marshes were increasing beyond anything that had been dreamed of.

But now everything added up against the fur industry. The trapper had already lost the fight against the muskrat; the very cream of the muskrat habitat had been churned into a flat expanse, denuded of solid stands of vegetation, the ditches and water-control structures that had been created by the trappers for travel and management purpose had been abandoned, creating the reverse effect, allowing water and salinity fluctuations. Trappers were forced to seek other means of livlihood.

A sound promotion and publicity program might create a consumers acceptance of all the wild furs produced in the State of Louisiana.

LIBRARY LETTER

Bill Williams back here at the library

By BILL WILLIAMS

To be back in Cameron again, to renew friendships of last summer and to work with the patrons of Cameron Library again is a good feeling for me.

Summer activities at the library have begun with a great deal of enthusiasm. Ramona Myers of Cameron was the first to join our summer reading club. Youngsters from all over the parish are joining this project both in the branch and on the bookmobile. Each child who is a member of the club will receive a reading certificate if he reads five fiction and five non-fiction books. If you have not joined, be sure to register soon.

Each Monday between the hours of 3:30 and 4:30, your library will have a story hour for the children of Cameron. Parents are requested to encourage their children to attend these story hours.

* * *

Among visitors to the library recently were members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce from Lake Charles and Baton Rouge. Bob Carter, Louisiana state president, presented the library with a book, "Young Men Can Change the World", by Booton Herndon, which is the Jaycee story. This is the story of the powerful impact these enthusiastic and dedicated young men are making on national and international levels as well.

* * *

Another recent edition to the library is "The Saturday Evening Post Stories, 1959". This is a collection of 20 of the best stories and novelettes of the year selected from the Saturday Evening Post. The stories include suspense, adventure, humor, mystery, fact and fancy; combining the greatest variety with the highest quality.

A new biography that should be of interest about a prospective presidential candidate is "This is Humphrey" by Michael Amrine. Senator Hubert M. Humphrey of Minnesota became a national figure overnight in his Civil Rights stand in 1948 and has an interesting political career to be studied.

An interesting novel of intrigue and suspense is "The Venus of Konpara" by John Masters. This is a moving and exciting tale of a jungle search for an Indian statute and the powerful effect the search has on six people caught up in this archaeological adventure. For each of them the lost statue of Venus comes to mean something personal, significant of good or evil, hope or despair.

HOLLY BEACH

Jelly fish dampen beach activities

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

The huge weekend crowd was somewhat hampered in their pleasure by a wave of jelly fish infesting the beach. Several persons were burned as they contacted the fish in the water and the beach was littered with the pests. As the jelly fish menace subsided the water turned very muddy for a couple of days and again the swimmers were disappointed.

Even fair weather fans are wishing for rain as the loose sand has become so dry it is impossible to drive through and people come to go on the beach. There is also a shortage of cabins and many camp on the beach.

Boys of Woodcraft, junior organization of Woodmen of the World were treated to their annual beach outing at the L. A. Richard camp Tuesday and Wednesday. Woodmen from Alexandria and Eunice gave a big barbecue for the boys of their area.

The Garden District in New Orleans, a small area between St. Charles Avenue and the Mississippi river, is the old American suburb built by the Americans who came to New Orleans after 1803.

Don't go 'round much anymore!

That once-familiar landmark, the wind-mill, has all but disappeared from the rural scene . . .

. . . along with the wood stove and the kerosene lamp. In their place are the modern appliances of this electrical age. And no one can foresee what new electrical marvels will do our bidding ten years from now! . . .

. . . But millions of Americans know that the Rural Electric Systems they own, operate, and control, will serve their needs . . .

With nearly a quarter-century of experience, these Member-Owned businesses will, if unhampered, continue to fulfill their great mission: Rural Electrification.

Another Plea made for aid quake victims

Financial aid for the more than two million left homeless by earthquakes and floods in Chile is being sought by the American National Red Cross, the chairman of the Calcasieu-Cameron Chapter said today.

Loyd D. McClatchey said the appeal through the chapters has come directly from President Eisenhower and from General Alfred M. Gruenther, American National Red Cross president.

The toll of dead and missing in Chile is 5,000, making the disaster the worst in the Western Hemisphere since the Galveston flood 60 years ago, said McClatchey.

"Finding homes for the two million survivors of this terrible disaster will be the biggest job of relief agencies," said McClatchey. "To imagine the scope of this job, visualize every man, woman, and child in the entire southern portion of Louisiana washed out of his home."

Response to appeals has been quick, said McClatchey. He noted that two million pounds of rice was shipped out of the Port of Lake Charles as a donation from the National Catholic Relief Service last Wednesday.

By Thursday, 49 major cities throughout the United States had contributed $110,000 for disaster relief, and additional $175,000 in cash has been sent from the American National Red Cross and its Children's Fund.

"Funds are the greatest need at the moment," said McClatchey. They can be sent by making checks payable to the American Red Cross Chilean Disaster Fund and sending them to the Red Cross, P. O. Box 379, Lake Charles, Louisiana.

If a body needed convincing as to just how important tourism can be he should visit the British island of Bermuda. I recently had the pleasure of spending some ten days there, and it continued my education along the aforementioned lines considerably.

The first thing the trip did for me was to straighten me out as to just where Bermuda is. It's not, as many people think while Bermudians violently protest, in the Bahamas. It is, contrary to what I imagined, closer to New York than to Miami.

I found out all these things while checking with Delta and Pan American about how to get there. The new 880 Convair jet of Delta went into service on May 15, and on the 16th I took it from Atlanta to New York—flying time 1½ hours. According to the poop sheet it's the fastest commercial buggy flying, and I'll take their word for it. Pan American's DC-8 jet covered the 700 plus miles from New York to Bermuda in another 1½ hours. It just shows how fast you can get from here to there, but let me just mention that you might also allow 1½ hours to claim your baggage at New York's International Airport.

Bermuda lives on its tourist trade! There is a small perfume industry, it's true, and the U.S. air and naval bases there contribute substantially to the economy, but most people are employed in some way in the care and comfort of visiting vacationers. They do a fine job of it, too.

With more than 300 varieties of fish in the crystal-clear waters around the island, Bermuda has some fine fishing. It's probably wahoo headquarters of the world, with summer and fall being the top fishing times. I saw one mounted fish that weighed 110 pounds when caught. They have great offshore trolling for black-fin tuna, too, and many light-tackle world's records have been set there.

But it was the reef fishing I enjoyed most, and with it I ran into a method we should try here in Louisiana. That's chumming! It's a common technique off the east coast, but I've never seen it tried here. The idea is to anchor offshore (we fished in 12-15 fathoms), then to throw a stream of bait fish over into the tide. They used a small fish called the hog-mouth fry, but our menhaden should be perfect. Some of the fry were tossed overboard as is, but others were squeezed into a ball of wet sand and tossed overboard. The ball took the bait deeper, disintegrating slowly as it sank.

All manner of fish followed the chum line up to the boat, and we caught 12 different kinds one day. The yellowtail was the most numerous, and it's a terrific fighter on light tackle. There were four of us fishing, and sometimes we'd have four fish at one time.

The Bermuda Trade and Development Board does a terrific job of publicizing the attributes of their isle. For any of their many booklets and brochures which you can get gratis, write the Board at Hamilton, Bermuda. Airmail postage is 10¢ per ½ ounce.

IN THE LEGISLATURE

On May 31 H.B. 619 was amended and passed by committee, and would now call for these resident license requirements: $1.00 fishing for all between 16 & 60; $2.00 hunting license; $2.50 combination hunting & fishing license; $2.00 tag for deer & turkey hunters . . . H. B. 617, the boat registration bill, was also passed by committee the same day . . . The Louisiana Wildlife Federation has withdrawn its support of the license revisions in protest to the administration's move to abolish the constitutional Wild Life and Fisheries Commission. Creation and protection of a "commission form" has been the key campaign of the Federation for almost two decades.

HAD BEEN KILLING CALVES, PIGS

Bayou wolf pack snared

Trappers of the Louisiana wildlife department caught four big timber wolves at Johnson Bayou last week, puting an end, it was hoped, to the wolf pack that had been killing calves, sheep and hogs in the area for months.

The two trappers--G. C. Bailey of St. Maurice and M. M. Cockerham of Winnfield--said the wolves were among the largest that they had ever trapped in the state.

The one male animal caught stood about 30 inches tall and weighed around 80 pounds, it was estimated by Francis Erbelding, a Bayou cattleman. This male and the three females caught were all fully grown.

The trappers came down Monday of last week and set out steel traps in an area about a half mile from the Johnson Bayou school where the wolves had been seen on numerous occasions in recent months.

One wolf was caught Tuesday night, two Wednesday night and the last one Thursday night. Three were caught within a 50-foot radius of each other.

The trappers, who have caught wolves all over the state, said that these wolves were different from the others they had been taking, but they believed them to be Louisiana timber wolves. One of the animals was taken back alive so it would be studied by the wildlife department.

Mr. Erbelding said that he and other stockmen on Johnson Bayou were grateful to the trappers and the wildlife department for doing such a good job. He said that the trapping of the pack would save stockmen many head of livestock in the future.

A number of wolves were also caught in the Gum Cove area in the northern part of Cameron parish several years ago.

THIS IS ONE of the four wolves captured by wildlife trappers at Johnson Bayou this past week. The wolves had been killing livestock in the area for months.

Survey asked on channel problem

The Louisiana department of public works has been asked by the Cameron parish police jury to make an immediate survey of the problem of the silting of Calcasieu Lake and the erosion along the Lake Charles ship channel.

In a resolution adopted by the jury last week, the public works department was asked to find solutions to these two problems that have long plagued Cameron parish.

The jury pointed out that the spoil dredged from the ship channel to maintain its proper depth has been pumped into Calcasieu Lake and that the lake has now become so shallow that navigation is hindered.

The erosion of the ship channel has resulted in suits being filed against the police jury, which had guaranteed the rights-of-way for the ship channel through the parish.

"The jury does not feel that other sections of the state should profit at the expense of Cameron parish," the resolution stated.

EARLY MAIL DELIVERY STARTS HERE

The U. S. mail is now arriving in Cameron at 7:50 a.m. an hour or so earlier than usual, as a result of the delivery schedule which went into effect here this week.

The Cameron Lions Club received letters from the Louisiana congressional delegation stating that effective June 15 the mail would be brought directly to Cameron from Creole as soon as the star route carrier arrived in Creole from Lake Charles.

Formerly, the carrier, Murray Hebert, had first taken the mail on to the Grand Chenier post office and delivered mail along the route before coming to Cameron. Under the new plan, he will bring the mail from Creole to Cameron and then return to Grand Chenier.

Lion President E. J. Dronet said the new schedule apparently will make mail delivery in Cameron an hour or so earlier and only about 15 or 20 minutes later in Grand Chenier.

The club asked Edison Mhire to contact the Grand Chenier postmaster to see if the new schedule was causing undue delay in the mail delivery there.

ANVERS IS MOVED TO GALVESTON

The salvaged Belgium ship Anvers, which was sold at public auction in New Orleans recently for $60,000, was scheduled to be moved to Galveston this Wednesday.

The ship, which was salvaged by a group of Cameron men after it burned off the coast of Cameron last July, had been anchored in an inlet of the river north of the Louisiana Menhaden Company since then.

Ashburn Roux, one of the salvagers, said the tug Grampus out of Galveston and another tug were scheduled to move the ship to Galveston. Scheduled to ride on the Anvers during the trip were Russell Broussard, Alb Broussard, Clouda Broussard, Sam McCloyd and Pete Boudein, most of whom were among the original salvagers.

Roux said that he did not know the plans of the purchasers after the ship reached Galveston. The vessel was bought by an English firm, Toplis and Harding, Wagner and Glidden.

He said the purchasers reportedly had sold the rubber that was a part of the ship's cargo for about $40,000, and that he understood an offer of $50,000 or more had been made for the tallow on board.

Just how much money the salvagers will end up with is not known. They have already spent more than $15,000 in salvaging the ship, and the owners of the cargo may have some claims against the vessel. The U. S. court in New Orleans will decide the final split.

D. M. Williams

National SCS director to visit Cameron

Ben Williams, national administrator of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service, will visit Cameron next Friday, June 24, and meet here with local and state agricultural leaders.

Mark Richard of Cameron, a director of the Gulf Coast Soil Conservation District and a member of the state SCS committee, said Mr. Williams will be a guest of the Gulf Coast district on his visit here.

The Washington official will arrive by air at the Cameron air strip at 8 a.m., and from there will go to the police jury room in the Cameron courthouse for a briefing on area soil conservation practices.

Mr. Richard, H. B. Martin, state SCS manager, and County Agent Hadley Pontenot are among those who will speak at this meeting.

Soil conservation technicians who will present brief outlines on various subjects are Delouis Soileau, area SCS manager, who will talk about Louisiana marshes; Henry Clark, marsh soil; Thomas Shiflet, marsh range; Carl Thomas, biology; and Eloi Primeaux, work unit program.

At 10 a.m., the group will tour the farms of Mark Richard, Joe Rutherford and Mayo Boudreaux in the Oak Grove and Creole area. This will be followed by a luncheon at Fred's restaurant, with Mr. Williams scheduled to leave at 1 p.m. for Franklin, La.

Cameron boy hit by car Monday

Fr. Lanoue observes 25th anniversary

Wednesday, June 15 marked the twenty fifth anniversary of ordination to the priesthood for Rev. Francis X. Lanoue M. S., pastor in charge of the Grand Chenier and Cow Island Catholic parishes. Two classmates are also celebrating their Silver Jubilees in Loreauville, La. and Nashua, New Hampshire.

Father Lanoue was ordained at St. Joseph's cathedral, Albany, N. Y. by the oldest living Bishop in the United States, Most Rev. Edmond Gibbons. The Minor Orders of priesthood were administered by Bishop Emmett Walsh, Charlston, S. C.

Prior to ordination Father Lanoue studied at LaSalette College, Hartford, Conn., and LaSalette major seminary, Altamont, N. Y. The three religious vows of poverty, chastity, obedience were received July 2, 1929, Bloomfield, Conn.

He has done considerable parish and missionary work in the United States and England. His appointments have included the parishes of St. Joseph, Fairmont, W. Va.; Sacred Heart, Sioux City, Ia.; Our Lady of LaSalette, Berkley, Michigan' St. Peter The Apostle, Houston, Texas; Our Lady of Sorrows, Hartford, Conn.; St. Peter's, Dagenham Essex, England; and presently Sacred Heart, Creole.

The Shell Oil Co. of New Orleans totaled the number of miles Father Lanoue traveled between parishes and estimated about 16,700 miles of road, train, sea and plane travel. "Anyway you look at it", Father Lanoue said, "it represents a lot of bag-toting and ticket window appearances".

The priest traveled extensively while abroad, visiting the countries of Scotland, Wales, Ireland, France, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland, Spain, Portugal, and northern Africa.

He came directly to Creole from England October 20, 1956, "The date is easy to remember", Fr. Lanoue remarked, "it coincides with my birthday".

Father Lanoue also remembers hurricane Audry and the struggle to rebuild his parish at Grand Chenier. "Only once in my twenty five years of ministry", Fr. Lanoue said, "has it been necessary to take a census of my people with the aid of the American Red Cross. This was done during the days following Audry at the Lake Charles high school."

Commenting on the reconstruction period Fr. Lanoue said, "I slept on an Army cot on the stage of the Grand Chenier elementary school for five nights and the heat and mosquitos were something to write home about; the McCall hunting club was much more satisfactory and eventually I moved into the home of Mrs. Alcide Miller. Financial help quickly arrived from Most Rev. Maurice Schexnayder to replace the many church furnishings needed for divine worship. Bishop Schexnayder gave me $1,900 and the parishioners gave Memorial Gifts which amounted to $1,800. I suggested the purchase of a Wurlitzer electric organ and the Altar Society raised $1,600. As necessary as these material things are for the devotional and sacramental life of the church I received more satisfaction in enrolling the parishioners in the Rosary confraternity and the society of the Brown Scapilar of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel."

Father Lanoue

He added, "I guess my pet ambition is to organize a choir that will some day harmonize in four parts."

For the past two years the priest has been taking 16 mm. moving pictures of the topography and every-day life of

Texan seriously hurt in wreck at Grand Chenier

Everett Earl Gordon of Kemah, Texas was seriously injured last Saturday afternoon when his car failed to make a curve west of the Mermentau River bridge at Grand Chenier and turned over.

Gordon was taken by O'Donnell Funeral Home ambulance to the Lake Charles Memorial hospital, where he was still unconscious several days later.

The Texas had spent the night in the Cameron jail after having been arrested Friday night for fighting at a local night club.

Two Cameron men charged with disturbing peace

Alvin Nunez and Steve Sedlock, both of Cameron, have been charged with disturbing the peace by fighting as the result of an altercation Tuesday night.

Sedlock suffered a serious cut on his head, while Nunez had a gash under his eye. Both men were released by the sheriff's department on bond.

THIS WEEK

Recreation plans made at Hackberry

Plans for the calling of a $290,000 bond election for recreation purposes in Ward Six were made by the recently appointed recreation board at Hackberry Monday night.

The bond issue, if approved by Ward Six property owners, would provide funds for the establishment of a park, and construction of a recreation center and swimming pool. A softball field would be built, and barbecue pits, tables and playground equipment purchased.

The board also proposed a four-mill maintenance tax for the upkeep of the recreation facilities.

J. B. Shipp of the firm of J. B. Shipp and Associates, Lake Charles engineers, showed the board drawings of the proposed recreation center and swimming pool. The firm has been engaged to prepare the plans for the facilities.

It was also decided that a full time recreation director will be hired.

Bob Bornscheuer, Ward Four recreation director from Sulphur, gave the board advice on how to go about setting up its program. He told of the rapid expansion of recreation programs all over the state in recent years.

Charles Trahan, 78, overseer for the Gray Estate at Johnson Bayou, died at 2:45 p.m. Wednesday from injuries received when his horse fell on him.

Dr. Cecil Clark of Cameron pronounced Mr. Trahan dead on his arrival at the ranch. He had suffered a fractured skull.

A life resident of Cameron Parish, Mr. Trahan was born at Johnson Bayou. He had worked for the Gray Estate for 23 years.

His body is at the O'Donnell Funeral Home in Creole. Services will be held at the funeral home at 9 a.m. Friday. The Rev. Taylor Wall, pastor of Wakefield Methodist Church of Cameron, will officiate. Burial will be in Highland Memory Garden Cemetery in Lake Charles.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Susan LeBouef Trahan, of Johnson Bayou; two sons, Henry (Bud) Trahan of Johnson Bayou and Muriel Trahan of Lake Charles; two daughters, Mrs. Thelma Landry of Lake Charles and Mrs. Enos Domingue of Cameron; eight grandchildren; one great-grandchild and two brothers, Henry Trahan of Dayton, Tex., and James Trahan of Call Junction, Tex.

Two parish men enter services

Harry Roger of Bell City will be inducted into the Armed Forces during June, and Ernest Koppie of Johnson Bayou enlisted in the Marines, the Cameron draft board reports.

Construction of road to jetties approved by jury

The Cameron police jury has approved the construction of a 60-foot wide shell road from end of Davis road at the Baroid Company out to the jetties on the east side of the ship channel.

Ward Three Police Juror Roland Trosclair said that a committee appointed by the Lions club, composed of Berton Daigle and Jimmy Derouen, are working on the rights-of-way and that the road will be graded up as soon as this is done.

The road has been a project of the Lions club, which says the road would open up the area for more port facilities as well as for fishermen.

Bids asked on Chenier streets

The Cameron parish police jury will open bids at 11 a.m., July 11, on the blacktopping of 1.35 miles of streets in Grand Chenier. These are six streets which run between the highway and the river, plus the street along the river.

List of available rooms for rodeo visitors sought

Cameron residents who have rooms which they would be willing to rent to visitors during the deep sea fishing rodeo here over the Fourth of July holidays are requested to contact J. Berton Daigle, who is in charge of these arrangements.

LIBRARY LETTER

Reading club is popular

By BILL WILLIAMS
Acting Parish Librarian

Mrs. Mary Brand, parish librarian, departed Thursday morning for summer school.

Summer reading activities are growing rapidly at the library. We presently have over 200 students enrolled in the Treasure Chest Reading Club. Enrollment in this club is open through June. If you have not enrolled, be sure to enroll soon. We hope to see this number of students reading for certificates grow since we have not yet started the program at either Johnson Bayou or Klondike. We are also looking forward to seeing more young people a the story hour from 3:30 to 4:30 each Monday.

Each year during Book Week in November, the Louisiana State Library issues certificates to adults. This reading program was designed to broaden the reading interest of Louisiana citizens; therefore, it is required that the books be on a variety of subjects; for example, a book from each of the following fields: religion, science, history, gardening, home arts, etc. This would, indeed, be a fitting project for you as an individual; or as a leader in one of your civic clubs to undertake. The list of books for each individual participating should be submitted to your local librarian by October 25th.

Two of our past presidents, Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman, issued a statement that is indicative of the value of books.

"The Bible tells us that the truth shall make men free. We Americans know that if freedom means anything it means the right to think. And the right to think means the right to read . . . anything, written anywhere, by any man, at any time."

"Print is our passport to truth. It opens the richest empire man knows—the empire of the human heart and mind. Men die; devices change, success and fame run their course. But within the walls of even the smallest library of our land lie the treasures, the wisdom and the wonder of man's greatest adventure on earth."

June is the month when many people will be preparing vegetables and fruit for the freezer. Your library has several books that will give you advice of a professional nature to assist you with this. One of the books, THE COMPLETE BOOK OF HOME FREEZING, by Hazel Meyer tells you how to choose a home freezer and step by step procedures for maintenance and management of the freezer, guides for purchasing meats, fish, poultry, fruit, and vegetables, in quantity during their seasonal peaks. Many new ways in handling food for freezing are included and foods are designated as being the kinds that can or cannot be frozen.

The ferry problem

You solve one problem and another one pops up in its place. A good example is the Cameron ship channel ferry.

Up until a few years ago, the roads into Cameron were so bad and the traffic so light that no one really was bothered by the ferry too much.

But then Cameron began getting good roads, which in turn brought in more fishermen, swimmers, hunters, tourists and visitors, and the line of cars at the Cameron ferry began to get longer and longer, particularly on weekends.

What has made the problem acute lately is the Hug-the-Coast road which is nearing completion. Designed to provide a shorter route between Houston and New Orleans and to open up the coastal area to motorists, this road cannot really be effective until the ferry problem is solved.

Cameron folks aren't the only people worrying about the ferry. The West Calcasieu-Cameron Chamber of Commerce recently appointed a committee to meet with the highway department to see if a bridge can be secured.

And only this past week, the Abbeville Chamber of Commerce declared that the Hug-the-Coast highway would be a "complete failure" if nothing is done to prevent the jam at the Cameron ferry. One of the chamber's directors, Gladu Hebert, said he had had to wait for 84 vehicles to cross before him on a recent trip over this way.

And Jefferson County, Texas, citizens are concerned about our ferry problem. They have a half interest in the Sabine Lake causeway which is being paid for with the tolls of motorists who cross it. The long line of cars at the Cameron ferry has made many a Texan turn around and head for home, vowing never to return to Cameron until a bridge is built. All of which means less tolls with which to pay for the causeway.

Our state representative, Alvin Dyson, has been working on plans for a bridge for sometime now. In view of the fact that so many other areas are now taking an interest in our ferry problem, we think this is the opportune time to give Mr. Dyson all the aid possible in pushing the bridge through to completion.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

OCT. 10, 1948—Joseph Carl Boudreaux, son of Mrs. Knute Kershaw of Cameron, was featured in Life magazine, which told about his acting in the movie, "Louisiana Story." Joseph Carl was born in Vermilion parish but has lived in Cameron for about 8 years.

About two years ago, Mrs. R. E. Wilder of Abbeville, who has lived in Cameron several times when her husband was stationed here with the Superior Oil Co., advised Mrs. Robert Flaherty, to come to Cameron to interview a local boy for the part in the movie. It was here that he found Joseph Carl Boudreaux.

AN EARLIER DAY

The naming of Constance bayou

By ARCHIE HOLLISTER

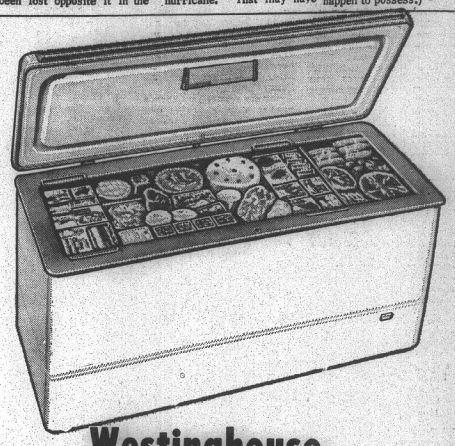
The origin of place names is always an interesting and intriguing subject. Little speculation is warranted concerning many of the names in Cameron—Oak Grove, Hackberry, and Boggy Bayou are self-explanatory—but other names do not lend themselves so readily to explanation.

The western terminus of the bridge across the Mermentau River at Grand Chenier was known in the old days as Callahan's Bluff, and one may assume that an Irishman of that name was connected with it; in fact, one can be fairly certain that he lived near by. It would be interesting to know more of the man, of course, but only the most elderly people now living would be able to shed any light on Mr. Callahan, and perhaps it is too late even now, for that.

Two small bayous that empty into the Gulf of Mexico near the border line between Cameron and Vermilion bear the name of Big Constance Bayou and Little Constance Bayou, and one of the tragic hurricanes which occur along this coast was responsible for their naming.

Our information comes from the log book of Don Jose Evia, an ensign and first pilot of the Spanish Royal Armada, who had been sent to map the northern shores of the Gulf. Writing in 1785, nineteen years after the event, Don Jose says:

". . . Bayu del Constante. It was so called because of a vessel of this name having been lost opposite it in the month of September of the year 1776, in a southeast hurricane."



With this tantalizingly brief bit of information we have to be content; no mention is made of survivors, or their nationality, although the likelihood is that the Constante was a Spanish ship. Louisiana was a Spanish possession from 1763 to 1803, and they were not likely to tolerate ships of other nations if they could help it.

Nor do we know exactly what the good Don meant by the expression "southeast hurricane." That may have referred to the direction of the wind at the particular time the ship went down, but more likely it refers to the general direction from which the hurricane itself came. Many of our hurricanes do come up from the southeast, particularly those that enter the Gulf by way of the Florida Straits.

(I came across this bit of information, more less by accident, when I was looking for something else. I invite the readers of this column to contribute any more information of a similar nature which they happen to possess.)

A Message From Eddie Shaheen To Voters of Cameron

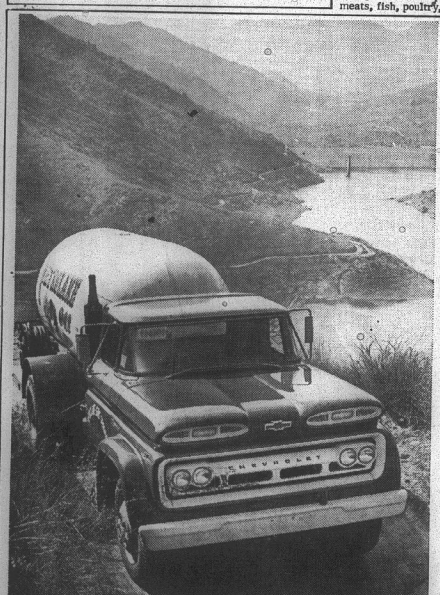
It is with a deep feeling of humility and pride that I formally announce my candidacy for re-election to the position of District Attorney of the 14th Judicial District comprising the parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron. As a candidate permit me to give a brief but concise sketch, pertaining to my background, qualifications and experience.

I attended the public and parochial schools in Lake Charles, and later for higher learning Loyola University of the South in New Orleans, and was later successful in receiving my law degree from the Louisiana State University School of Law. In 1939 I returned to Lake Charles to pursue the private practice of law and was actively engaged in that endeavor until May of 1942. It was then that I entered the armed forces. After serving my country for a period of approximately four years, I returned to Lake Charles in December of 1946.

The following year I became 2nd Assistant District Attorney under the late and beloved Griffin T. Hawkins. At that time the 14th Judicial District was composed of the parishes of Calcasieu, Cameron, Beauregard, Allen and Jefferson Davis. In August of that year, Mr. Hawkins saw fit to elevate me to the position of First Assistant. It was my duty to handle criminal prosecutions in the five parishes. I served the people in that capacity until 1954 when Mr. Hawkins decided to retire, and in which year the citizens of Calcasieu and Cameron bestowed upon me the great honor of electing me to the office of District Attorney, which I presently hold.

The duties of the District Attorney's office are many and varied. The most familiar duty and the best known to the public is the prosecution of violators of the criminal laws of the state. The District Attorney is usually best known for his appearances in court in the role of public prosecutor. The time spent in the trial of cases, however, represents only a small portion of that utilized in the enforcement of our criminal laws. Charges filed in the District Attorney's office, before any Judge or Justice of the Peace, must, of necessity be processed. These are carefully investigated and evaluated to eliminate those which are sometimes improperly or unjustifiably filed. Proper charges must be prepared before the accused is brought before the court. This entails the interview of literally thousands of witnesses, the examination and study of large amounts of evidence.

This, of course, involves the complete cooperation of the District Attorney's office with all law enforcement agencies, state, parish and municipal; cooperation which my office has always been happy to encourage and promote.



In the study, processing, and prosecution of cases, I have conscientiously tried to be fair and impartial, vigorous and efficient. I never have, nor will I ever prosecute any individual through improper motives, nor have I ever failed to prosecute vigorously any one guilty of crime, regardless of his individual standing, be it political, financial or social. I have followed the maxim that a good prosecuting attorney is measured not by the number of convictions he obtains, but by the amount of humane and impartial justice that he does. I have never in the past, nor will I ever in the future compromise principle for the sake of political expediency. In connection with law enforcement I wish to commend the chief law enforcement officers of the parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron, and of all municipalities in my district, for their vigilant enforcement of the law. In my humble opinion the two parishes comprising the 14th District are the cleanest in the state, and in making this observation I am thinking of commercialized gambling and it's associated vices. As long as I am District Attorney the gambling element will not be allowed to infest this District. Both Sheriff Reid and Sheriff Carter are wholly in accord with my views.

Further reflecting on the duties of this office permit me to say that they are not limited to the handling of criminal work. Your District Attorney represents the school boards, the police juries, and numerous drainage and sewerage districts and other governmental subdivisions in the two parishes. As their representative and legal adviser he is called upon frequently to prepare and supervise school, library, road and other bond and tax elections. He defends suits brought against these boards and when necessary institutes litigation in their behalf. He and his staff prepare and render literally hundreds of opinions, resolutions, contracts and other legal documents for these various bodies and agencies of the parish government. All of this work is performed without any additional fee, whatsoever, to the agencies involved or to the tax payers.

In closing I wish to thank my assistants, Mr. Fred C. Shelby, Mr. J. B. Jones, Jr., Mr. James A. Smith, and Mr. Warren E. Hood for their cooperation, efficiency and above all, loyalty.

In offering myself as a candidate for re-election I pledge to the citizenry that I will serve all as an impartial and reasonable administrator with patience and vigor, with fairness to all and with malice toward none.

Where they used to deliver 2,300 gallons of liquefied petroleum gas in other trucks, Petrolane Gas Service of Long Beach, California, can now deliver 3,500 gallons a day! That's 7 days a week usually, over back trails and up into high rock country with maximum GVW loads. And with Chevy's Torsion-Spring Ride paving every foot of the way! "You don't get any more jolting on washboard roads than you do in a passenger car, or any sideway on curves," says driver Bernie Stone. "I used to take some rough roads at from 5 to 8 miles an hour. Now I can go 30 over them." Petrolane has over 200 Chevrolets hauling for them.

If you think we're excited about Chevy's independent front suspension, you ought to talk to the truck owners who are profiting by it. They'll tell you Chevy's torsion-spring design is the hottest thing to hit the industry since trucks began. Drive one—that's the proof, short and sweet.

Miss Virgie Theriot Marries Curtis Nunez

Miss Virgie Ann Theriot and Curtis Nunez exchanged vows at a nuptial mass held at Sacred Heart Catholic church in Creole Saturday, June 4. The Rev. A. Gilbert officiated at the 9 o'clock ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Theriot of Chenier Perdue, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Adonille Nunez of Sulphur.

The bride wore a gown of white lace and net over taffeta, featuring a fitted bodice, long sleeves coming to points over the hands, and a floor length skirt. Her fingertip veil was held by a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a white prayer book topped by a purple orchid.

Sam Tarleton announces for congress race

Sam Tarleton, Commissioner of Public Health and Safety for Lake Charles, this week formally announced his candidacy for Congress as a member of the U. S. House of Representatives for the Seventh District, and pledged the citizenry that he "will make my Washington Office a business office instead of a political office."

Commissioner Tarleton, who was elected in 1957 over two opponents for his present post, is a native of New Orleans, where he was born November 21, 1909, and has been a resident of Lake Charles since 1949. Before that he resided in Opelousas from 1934 until he moved to Lake Charles in connection with news and sport reporting which he did for 20 years before seeking public office.

During World War II, Tarleton volunteered for the U. S. Infantry and served with the Seventh Armored Division as a machine gun platoon sergeant in the unit that spearheaded the Third Army Drive across France. He was twice wounded and was awarded the Purple Heart. His other military decorations include the Combat Infantryman's Badge, Bronze Star Medal, The European-African-Middle East campaign medal and two battle stars, the Verdun Medal by the French Government, for participation in the liberation of the great French city, and the Good Conduct Medal.

He also holds citations from the Civil Defense for his work during Hurricane Audrey, and the Secretary of the Treasury for selling a million dollars in War Bonds while a patient in the Army Hospital during the Seventh War Bond Drive.

He is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the AMVETS, and a member of the Catholic church.

Before his election to the Lake Charles City Council, where he serves as head of the Police Department and Fire Department, Tarleton aided in many civic undertakings both here and in Opelousas.

In Lake Charles he staged Charity wrestling programs for more than two years, realizing several thousand dollars for needy causes and persons. He has served as publicity chairman for many campaigns among which were the Muscular Dystrophy drive, and the March of Dimes campaign. In Opelousas he worked on Red Cross Campaigns and March of Dimes drives.

He is past president of the Lake Charles Fifty Club, sportsman-civic group and served twice as Senior Vice Commander for the Robertson-Lewis Post in Opelousas before coming to Lake Charles.

Educated in both the Public and Catholic schools of Louisiana, Tarleton attended Jesuit high school in New Orleans until 1926 and eventually received his high school diploma from Lake Charles High School, March 17, 1954. He also attended the FBI Police school before World War II, and both the LSU-In-Service Police Training course in basic and advanced police study since becoming Commissioner here.

Assessment up 300% in past ten years

Cameron parish may not have had the biggest population increase in the state during the past ten years, but it has had one of the biggest property assessment increases in the state during that time.

So reported Leslie Richard, tax assessor, at the Cameron Lions meeting Wednesday.

In 1950, he stated, the parish had a total assessment of $6,768,025. This year the assessment will be over $21,000,000. This represents an increase of more than 300 percent.

He said the big jump is due to the oil activity in the parish, plus new petroleum plants that have been built in recent years. The assessments should continue to grow, he stated.

Walkways increased here

"More new cattle walkways will be built in Cameron Parish this year than any year since Hurricane Audrey struck in 1957", according to Mark Richard of Cameron, Supervisor for the Gulf Coast Soil Conservation District.

District records show that approximately four miles have already been built this year with another five miles planned for construction. This is more new cattle walkways than was constructed in the past three years combined.

Richard points out that Hurricane Audrey almost wiped out the cattle industry in Cameron Parish and that these figures indicate not only that the industry is bounding back, but also that landowners are taking steps to achieve better range management.

"Marsh rangeland", he states, is often overgrazed near the ridges and undergrazed out in the marsh. Walkways are installed to allow better distribution of the grazing. Quite often some areas in the marsh cannot be grazed at all because of soft areas or bayous that cattle cannot cross. Walkways enable cattle to reach and utilize these areas.

Richard points out many other benefits derived from walkways. Some of these are: they provide resting and calving places; makes livestock handling easier thereby saving time and labor; provides a place for cows to have small calves while they graze; gives some relief from mosquitoes; provides a refuge from high water during storms; and provides open water in the borrow pits for wildlife.

"All of these benefits often make it possible for walkways to repay the cost of construction in one or two years," Richard asserts.

District cooperators who have built walkways in 1960 include: Ojust Richard, James R. Savoie and Charles F. Richard of Creole; Charlie Davis of Grand Chenier; and Daniel Broussard of Klondike.

Those who are building at the present time or plan to build later this year are: John V. Nunez and Mark Richard of Oak Grove; A. A. Myers of Hackberry; Watkins Miller and Perry Doxey of Grand Chenier; Archie Berwick, J. W. Erbelding, J. B. Erbelding and Fred Erbelding of Johnson Bayou; and F. O. Theriot and Roland Primeaux of Creole.

Cost-share assistance for constructing cattle walkways is being provided by the Cameron Parish ASC Office. This amounts to about one-half of the construction cost.

HOLLY BEACH

Hundreds throng the beach here

By MR3. WALTER STANLEY

The beach crowd had a field day last Wednesday and Thursday when the Gulf was calm and clear and shrimps were plentiful. A flotilla of small boats could be seen over a wide area and the yield of shrimps must have been several tons.

A tremor of alarm ran out Friday morning as the tide, was unusually high and rough. Tidewaters ran over the road and under the first row of camps coming up to some floors. There were no warnings and as the water receded so did the fears.

The Four Corner Bar changed ownership last Thursday when Paul Romero bought out Sullie Menard. The Romeros also bought the Elias Saltzman house where they'll move from Johnson Bayou. The Menards will move to the Bayou.

Rain welcomed on Bayou Monday

By MRS. M. C. JOHNSON

A welcome relief from all the dust and dryness was felt Monday when we had quite a rain here. It was not sufficient to soak the ground, but certainly helped. For quite a while the wind blew very hard and we all enjoyed the downpour.

Vacation Bible School commencement will be held this Friday night at 7:30. A display of handwork from each department will be shown.

The annual Raggio reunion was held last Sunday in Lafayette, with 130 persons attending. Those making the trip from Johnson Bayou were Mr. and Mrs. Ira Jinks and family, Mrs. Amy Erbelding, Mrs. Agnes Trahan, Mrs. Eunice Billeaud, and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Erbelding, III, and family.

Recently, Sharon Johnson sold subscriptions to the "Pilot" in order to earn a new bicycle. The new wheel arrived Monday. She would like to take this means of thanking Mr. Wise and all those from Johnson Bayou who purchased the subscriptions from her, thus making it possible for her to have the new bike.

Mr. and Mrs. Oley Clark returned home Monday after vacationing in Oklahoma. One outstanding feature about their vacation was that they returned in a new Falcon.

And speaking of new automobiles, Billy Griffith purchased for his wife a new Ford pickup.

Saturday visitors in the Claude Rutherford home were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith and granddaughter, Vicky Lynn, of Port Arthur, Texas.

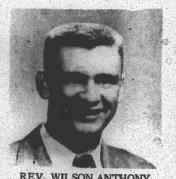
Mr. and Mrs. Paul Romero have purchased the Cafe in Holly Beach, previously owned by the Sullie Menard's. The Romero family moved to their new place on Tuesday.

We extend belated sympathy to Mrs. Rafael Manuel, whose mother passed away recently.



Claude Rutherford received word that his nephew's wife, Mrs. Frank Sawvor, Jr. of Port Acres, Texas, passed away suddenly from a heart attack last Thursday. The Rutherfords visited with the family on Friday. Funeral services were held Saturday morning in Port Arthur.

Announcing a new arrival-Marvlyn Fannin announces that she has a new baby brother which was born Monday night in St. Mary's Hospital in Port Arthur. Parents, Marvin and Audrey, are both doing fine.

The R. A. boys will play another baseball game here on the Bayou this Saturday against Oliver Baptist Church of Sulphur. Our boys standing in the league at this time is 4 wins and 2 loses, tied with Oliver for second place.

Rev. and Mrs. Portroff of Oak Grove visited in the Claude Rutherford home Sunday afternoon.

Make your plans now to attend every night of the meeting which begins Monday at the Baptist Church.

REV. WILSON ANTHONY

Revival to start at Johnson Bayou

The Rev. Wilson Anthony, above, pastor of Magnolia Baptist Church, Ragley, will be the evangelist for a series of special meetings to be held at the Johnson Bayou Baptist Church beginning Monday night, June 20, and continuing through June 26. Services will begin each night at 8 p.m., according to an announcement by Rev. M. C. Johnson, pastor.

The Rev. Anthony attended East Texas Baptist College and Louisiana College, and has been at the Ragley church for four years. The public is invited to attend all of these services.

MENARD BABY

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Menard of Hackberry announce the birth of a daughter, Peggy Ann, May 26, at the West Calcasieu-Cameron hospital in Sulphur.

Be safe, not sorry when handling your power lawnmower

Accidents involving lawnmowers rank with poisonings and burns as leading causes of injury for children under 15 years of age in Louisiana. A tri-parish survey made by the state board of health shows that the rate of lawnmower accidents was higher in Louisiana than in the rest of the nation.

Such accidents are not confined to children, a spokesman for the Board said. In an effort to reduce the number of lawnmower accidents by acquainting the public with the hazards of improper use of the machines, the state board of health makes the following recommendations:

1. Read the instructions for your machine carefully and follow the instructions exactly.

2. Inspect the area to be mowed and remove stones, shells, and other debris. Serious injury can result to the operator or to persons nearby from objects thrown by the machine.

3. Keep feet and hands at a safe distance from the rotating blade. It has been found that the large majority of accidents have involved lacerations of the hand, fingers, leg or foot. Be especially careful when working on slopes; the greater the incline the greater the need for caution.

4. Keep children and pets away from power mowers at all times, and never allow a child to operate the machine.

5. The mower should never be left unattended when the mower is running.

6. If you must handle the mower's blade, do so only with the power cut off. If you have a gasoline motor, be sure to disconnect the spark plug wire. Otherwise, if the blade is rotated, the engine may be cranked and the blade begin whirling.

7. Blade nuts should be checked and tightened periodically. This is best done before the machine is used.

8. Always cool a gasoline engine before refueling, and never smoke while fueling the motor.

Following these rules can save you, your family and your neighbors from serious injury, safety experts advise.

Big Erbelding branding and barbecue held

More than a hundred persons attended the big branding and barbecue held recently at the Harry Erbelding ranch at Johnson Bayou. Some 580 cows were vaccinated and 200 calves branded.

Helping out with the branding were Brown Marshall, Harry Erbelding, Manuel Peshoff, Ashburn Roux, Joe Rogers, Dorestan Broussard, Lonex Richard, Gene Constance, J. P. Constance, Orlando Marshall, Ernest Miller, Dwight Erbelding, Charles Wayne Vincent, Thomas Nunez, Burnell Nunez, and Clayton Nunez.

Mr. and Mrs. Cloudy Broussard of Cameron and Mr. Derouen of Lake Charles were in charge of preparing the beef and pork barbecue.

The children had a big time after the branding. They were turned loose in the pen with the calves and wrestled them until they were tired.

The first group of Acadians were given land in the Attakapas prairies of southwest Louisiana; other groups settled along Bayou Lafourche, and in the parishes of Plaquemines, St. James, Iberville and Pointe Coupee.

$6,000 in prizes await anglers

More than $6,000 in prizes will be up for grabs early next month, when the Southwest Louisiana Fishing Club stages its annual angling rodeo.

The 1960 prize list exceeds in value that of all previous rodeos, according to Hudson C. East, of Lake Charles, president of the club.

The rodeo will be held in two divisions this year, for deep sea and inland waters anglers. Headquarters for the annual fishing festival, July 2, 3, 4, will be set up at Cameron, La.

Prizes will be awarded for 16 species of fish this year, 10 in the deep sea division and six in the inland waters division. The top three fish in each species will draw a prize. Extension of federal route is sought here

A meeting will be held at noon, Wednesday, June 21 in Port Arthur, Texas, of parties interested in getting U.S. Hwy. 11 extended from New Orleans to Brownsville, Texas. The proposed route would include the new Hug-the-Coast road through Cameron and Vermilion parishes.

J. W. Doxey, secretary of the Cameron police jury, said the jury would be represented at the meeting to be held in the Goodhue hotel.

The proposed highway would eventually extend from Montreal, Canada to Mexico City, under the proposal being made.

Hurricane preparedness program began

The American National Red Cross this week began a special month-long hurricane preparedness program in 118 chapters along coastal areas of the south, it was announced by Lloyd McClatchey, chapter chairman.

Officially the hurricane season begins June 15 each year, and disaster staff volunteers, and other Red Cross field staff will be visiting chapters to review disaster preparedness plans. They will also discuss Red Cross responsibilities and coordination aspects of local government, Civil Defense, and other agencies having functional responsibility in time of natural disaster, said McClatchey.

"Operation Hurricane Watch," as the Red Cross has tagged the annual preparedness event, carries the preparedness program by the Southeastern Red Cross Office from coastal Louisiana around Florida and up the Atlantic seaboard to North Carolina.

Primary emphasis is on the emergency action Red Cross chapters would take for providing shelters, food, clothing, medical and nursing assistance, and other emergency needs prior to and following a hurricane strike.

Local weather bureaus also will participate in the meetings where they have stations and bring to the attention of local residents the need for early evacuation from low coastal points, the danger of high tides, and other life saving information.

Keep cool and you command everybody.--St. Just

Wildlife dept. begins shrimp marking

The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, Oysters, Water Bottoms and Seafood Division, has recently initiated a shrimp marking program.

This program is part of a cooperative effort of the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to determine patterns of movement of certain species of shrimp from the nursery ground, located in the estuarine areas along the gulf coast, to the offshore fishery where these shrimp are captured by the commercial shrimpers, according to Commission Director, Rudolph P. Easterly.

During the second week of June, 1960, workers of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission caught and marked with a biological stain, 12,000 juvenile Brown shrimp, PENAEUS AZTECUS. These shrimp were taken, marked and released in the western portion of Mississippi Sound.

This program will contain two additional areas where juvenile shrimp will be stained and released. These areas are the Barataria Bay Estuarine Composite and the Vermillion Bay Estuarine Complex.

Here again, over 10,000 Brown shrimp will be marked and released, at each site, with hope turned toward a good percent recovery.

A reward will be offered for each marked shrimp returned. By establishing this reward it is hoped that more cooperation and interest will be stimulated among the shrimpers, dealers, and processers.

Fifty cents reward will be paid for each of the shrimp, which are stained with a fast green or tripan stain or biological dye. The chemical is harmless to humans. Representatives to contact for the rewards are Fred Grace, P.O. Box 173, Biloxi, Mississippi or the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission, 400 Royal street, New Orleans. Two more similar releases of stained shrimp will follow in the near future, McConnell said.

Double ring ceremony unites Dezere Miller, Wayne Foster

The Saint John Marie Vianney Catholic Church of Bell City was the scene of the wedding of Miss Dezere Lynn Miller to Mr. Fred Wayne Foster on Saturday, June 11, at 10 a.m. with the Reverend Father Jean Fidel Paradis officiating.

Howell Miller of Lake Charles, cousin of the bride, attended Father Paradis as altar boy.

The marriage vows were repeated before an altar which held two fan-shaped arrangements of white gladiolas and greenery.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of silk organza and lace. The bodice was lace with a scalloped bateau neckline and organza sleeves ending in a petal point at her hands. The front panel of the skirt was silk organza with lace flowered appliques placed about in an indefinite arrangement. The back of the skirt was arranged in alternating ruffles of lace and silk organza which fell into a chapel-length train.

Her finger tip veil of illusion was held in place by a small queen's crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins.

The bride's bouquet was of cybidium orchids surrounded by stephanotis and English ivy cascading over a bridal missal given her by Ellienne Todd a bridesmaid.

Beverly Hilley, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of varigated shades of lavender silk organza over lavender taffeta, fashioned with short sleeves, a large shawl collar held at the waist by a midriff and full fashioned skirt. Her shoes were of matching satin opera pumps. She wore a small crown of silk organza petals. Her bouquet was of various size asters and English ivy falling into a cascade.

Bridesmaids were Misses Sandra Foster, sister of the groom, Ellienne Nell Todd, Shirley Echols, and Myrna Reed. They wore dresses fashioned identically to that of the maid of honor in a rolid shade of lavender silk organza over matching taffeta.

Best man was Jerry Foster, brother of the groom. Ushers were Roy Davidson, Donas Mathieson, Edward Sonnier, and Raymond Rentz.

The bride's table was covered with lavender net over taffeta. The table was centered with a four-tiered cake flanked on either side by silver cupid candelabras. The serving table was covered as the bride's table and centered with a two-tiered silver epergne with seasonal flowers and greenery. It was flanked by a silver candelabra on either side. A silver punch service was placed on one end; a silver coffee service on the other.

Miss Linda Fruge, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. R. L. Guillory and Mrs. Lester Guidry alternated at the punch service. Mrs. D. L. Miller attended the coffee service. Mrs. Curtis McInnis and Miss Arlene Stanley served the wedding cake.

For traveling, the bride chose a sage green sheath dress with matching checked jacket. Her accessories were of dark green gloves and hat, and bone shoes and bag. She wore the cybidium orchids from her bouquet as her corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster will be traveling to parts of the west and to complete their wedding trip will be in Clayton, New Mexico where they will be competing in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo. Mr. Foster is a member of the McNeese Rodeo Team.

The bride is a graduate of Bell City high school and is a junior at McNeese State College. She holds office and is a member of the Home Ec Club and Rodeo Club.

The groom is a graduate of A. C. Jones High School in Beeville, Texas and is also a junior at McNeese. He is a member of the Horn and Hoof and Rodeo Clubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster will reside at 4105 Common St., and will continue their education at McNeese in the fall semester.

Beverly Landry, Terry P. Trahan wedding date set

Mr. and Mrs. Eurstin Landry of Port Arthur announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Beverly Ann, to Terry P. Trahan, son of Adan Trahan of Creole and Mrs. Hilda Trahan of Lake Charles.

The Rev. Frank Schanzer will officiate at a nuptial mass at 10 a.m., Sunday, June 26, at St. Catherine's Church in Port Arthur.

The bride-elect graduated from Bishop Byrne high school where she was a member of the National Honor Society, Spanish Club and Junior Cathelic Daughters of America. She is a graduate of Port Arthur College and is employed by the Port Arthur independent school district.

Mr. Trahan completed school in Cameron parish and graduated from Port Arthur college. He is presently employed by Federal Electric Corporation as an electrical technician.

Cameron Pilot

Fourth Year -- No. 38 | Cameron, La., June 24, 1960 | 10¢ A Copy

BY THE TIME that you read this I will be on my way for San Diego, Calif., for a week's cruise on the aircraft carrier, the Lexington as a guest of the Navy. As this will be my first trip out to sea, I'm eagerly looking forward to it.

The trip is a part of the Navy's guest cruise program designed to better acquaint representative citizens with naval operations at sea. The ship will sail at 8 a.m. on June 27 and return to San Diego on the afternoon of July 1.

However, don't get the idea that the Navy is spending the taxpayers money on free vacations for civilians. The guests on this cruise pay their own transportation to and from the port of debarkation and for meals and laundry while on board.

While I am away, anyone having news or advertising for the Pilot is asked to turn it in to Mrs. Pearl Deville in the county agent's office, telephone PR 5-8516.

SPEAKING OF the Navy, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dronet of Cameron are planning to attend the reunion of the men of the Indianapolis in Indianapolis, Ind. on July 30, the anniversary of the sinking of this ship during the war. One of the greatest sea disasters, 825 men lost their lives in the mishap. E. J. was among the fortunate ones who was rescued.

Library to mark 2nd Anniversary

By BILL WILLIAMS
Acting Librarian

Monday, June 27, marks the second anniversary of the Cameron Parish Library, and to commemorate the occasion the library will have an open house from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone to drop by, have a cup of coffee and renew friendships with books.

The library was dedicated on June 27, 1958, the first anniversary of Hurricane Audrey which did so much damage in Cameron parish. The building was a gift to the people of Cameron parish from the Louisiana and United States Junior Chamber of Commerce and the state library staffed and equipped the building for the first two years at no cost to the parish.

The parish will take over the operation of the library from the state at the first of July, an operating two mill tax having been overwhelmingly approved by parish property owners in March.

The progress of the library is truly significant in view of the fact that Cameron is Louisiana's smallest parish with a population of just over 6,000 people. The circulation of the library's books continues to grow with more than 75,000 books having been read by the people of the parish.

Arsene Stewart announces for Congress seat

Former State Sen. Arsene Stewart of DeRidder Saturday formally announced his candidacy for the office of U. S. Representative from the Seventh Congressional District of Louisiana.

Two others have qualified for the race. They are the incumbent, U. S. Rep. T. A. Thompson of Ville Platte, and Sam Tarleton, City Commissioner of Public Health and Safety of Lake Charles.

Stewart, who served as mayor of DeRidder from 1946 through 1954, has lived in that city for the past 24 years. He is a native of West Lake and graduated from West Lake high school.

For 15 years, Stewart was employed by the state highway department in the road and bridge divisions and studied civil engineering in his spare time. He now is president of the McMahon investment company of DeRidder and general manager of Gulf States Advertising division of McMahon investment.

During the period he served as mayor of DeRidder, he was president for one term of the Central Louisiana Mayors council, an organization of about 30 cities in Central Louisiana.

Stewart served for four years as one of the two senators from the 14th senatorial district, but was defeated in his bid for re-election last year by a vote so close that a special recount was necessitated.

In 1948 Stewart was a delegate to the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia.

He is a member of the DeRidder Rotary club and has served as chairman of the savings bond committee in Beauregard parish since World War II. During the war he was chairman of the war bond committee.

White Clover will grow on Bayou

By HADLEY FONTENOT
County Agent

If seeing is believing, then the above photography proves that S-1 White Clover will grow on Johnson Bayou (or Smith Ridge, to be more particular.)

This improved White Dutch Clover has done well on Archie Berwick's place. The plot in which he is shown above was seeded in the fall of 1958 on old corn land. Another plot next to it was seeded in 1956 and still comes up to a good stand each year.

Clover is a heavy phosphate feeder so Archie applied 500 pounds of 20% super phosphate per acre and worked in the soil before seeding and that's about all there was to it. He also kept the stock off until the plants had a good root system established, which is always a good practice in getting any new plant started.

Anyone wanting to establish a clover pasture may like to know more details!

1st. a soil test may be advisable as some land may need calcium and potash besides phosphate.

2nd. work up the land in advance of planting so it has time to firm if you don't have a culipacker.

3rd. Seed in October with 4 pounds of seed per acre.

4th. Keep stock off until plants have good root system, which will probably be in January.

Senate approves channel project

The Public Works Omnibus authorization bill---which includes $17 million for deepening and widening the Calcasieu ship channel between Lake Charles and Cameron---was passed by the U. S. Senate last Friday.

Congressman T. A. Thompson said he was sure that the bill would now go through.

Under provisions of the bill the 34-mile channel will be deepened from 35 to 40 feet, and widened from approximately 250 feet to 400 feet. The cost is estimated at slightly under $17 million.

Thompson said that a second appropriations bill for $100,000, for preliminary survey work by the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, has been approved.

Three charged after free-for-all here

Hwy. 11 group is organized

By HADLEY FONTENOT

An association whose goal is the creation of a federal highway stretching from Canada to Mexico---through Cameron Parish---was formed at a meeting in Port Arthur, Texas Tuesday.

Attending from Cameron were Eraste Hebert, president, Joe Doxey, secretary-treasurer, and Vian Theriot, member, all of the Cameron police jury, and Hadley Fontenot, representing the Cameron Lions Club.

The association, presently called the Highway Eleven Improvement Association, hopes to get certain roads along the Gulf Coast designated as a part of the federal Route 11, which would include the present Hug-the-Coast road which runs the length of Cameron parish.

It is assumed that such a route, would attract many tourists and industries along this vast area rich in resources and tourist attractions.

Improvements sought by the association would be the elimination of such bottlenecks as now exist at Cameron and Galveston with the present ferry systems.

Named as temporary co-chairmen of the group were Vick Schriever of Abbeville and Mr. Daughtie of Bay City, Texas.

group and he stated that America's last two wars were fought on foreign soils, and Americans do not take this matter very seriously because our country was spared from war destruction. The fight facing us today is survival, he continued, so each family will have to provide for themselves some means of protection of radioactive fallout.

Wilmer R. Smith, Assistant Director of Cameron Parish Civil Defense, stated that the local Civil Defense organization has ordered over 2,000 Civil Defense booklets on the various types of shelters that can be built and these will be distributed to all families in the parish.

Fallout shelters could save many lives

By E. J. DRONET

Colonel Thomas Binford, Area 3 Coordinator of Louisiana Civil Defense, spoke to members of the Cameron Civil Defense last week at the Cameron Courthouse on the subject of fallout shelters.

He explained that in the event of a nucleur attack, not only would millions of people be killed by the initial burst, but, many more millions, would be threatened by radioactive fallout. However, he continued, there is an answer to this possibility, fallout shelters. No matter where you live, this shelter is necessary insurance which would not be needed except in an emergency. He also stated that from available sources, it has been determined that following an attack, the amount of radioactive fallout is reduced to one-tenth of it's original amount in the atmosphere at the end of seven hours, to one-hundredth at the end of 49 hours.

He also stated that fallout shelters can be built with public works buildings and the Federal government would furnish free planning on this. F.H.A. has also approved these as home improvement and are eligible for loans insured by F.H.A.

Cameron Parish Sheriff O. B. Carter also spoke to the MONDAY, JUNE 27 marks the third anniversary of Hurricane Audrey, the devastating storm that took more than 400 lives in Cameron parish. The above picture should serve as a reminder of the vigorous recovery that the parish has been in the past three years. Workmen are shown erecting "Red Cross City" at the Creole intersection, where hundreds of families were fed for several weeks while homes were being rebuilt. Note the destruction in the background.

DR. CECIL CLARK

Dr. Clark is installed as Lion president

Dr. Cecil Clark was installed as president of the Cameron Lions Club at the weekly luncheon at Fred's Restaurant Wednesday. He succeeds E. J. Dronet.

The new president and other club officers were installed by George Waldhers of Lake Charles, Lions district governor.

The outgoing president outlined a few of the successful projects on which the club has worked for the past year, including a road to the east jetties (to be built soon), eyeglasses for needy children, a successful drive for funds for the crippled children's camp, street markers for Cameron, and assistance in getting oyster fishing re-opened.

He pointed out that the club has served the community and parish not only as a civic club but as a Chamber of Commerce as well.

The club's board of directors voted to write the state highway department about securing a caution light at the Creole intersection and getting the Front Ridge road blacktopped.

The club also plans to write all area Chambers of Commerce and police juries seeking support for the construction of a bridge over the Lake Charles ship channel.

Monday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 is a good time for mothers of Cameron to do some carefree shopping without the children along, since this is the time that your library has its weekly story hour. Attendance at the story hour has not been too large, and we are hoping that our parents will encourage the young people to attend.

AN EARLIER DAY

A unique cotton press long ago

By ARCHIE HOLLISTER

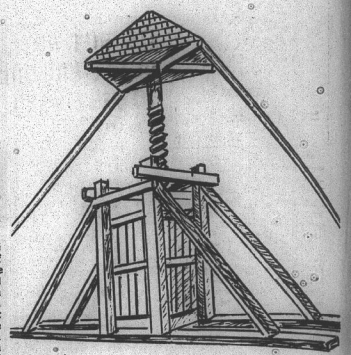
Some seventy-five years ago, give or take a dozen, John Wetherill of Grand Chenier built one of the earliest cotton gins in this area. Information concerning this gin is exceedingly scanty; most likely, it was quite similar to others throughout the South at the time, and if so, it was probably operated by horse power at first. Later, Mr. Wetherill installed a small steam engine to operate the saws, but it is likely that he used the horse-driven press to the last.

The accompanying illustration shows the type of press in common use up to the beginning of this century. Old drawings and photographs show a wide variety of types, as is to be expected, but the fundamental principles do not differ. A strong wooden box set within heavy uprights, and a massive plate of timbers driven by a huge wooden screw were the essentials.

The box, which stood on end, was ten or twelve feet in height; the other two dimensions were 30 inches by 24 inches usually. The completed bale measured about five feet, by two and a half, by two feet. The wider sides of the box were hinged at the bottom, and the narrower sides were held in place by large wooden wedges.

My Grandfather Hollister—Gus Hollister—was a carpenter in his day, and a good one. A small, dark, wiry man—a perfectionist—it took him twice as long to do a job as it would have anyone else, but when he was finished the work was perfect and destined to endure. Uncle John engaged him in the project. Building the box itself would be a comparatively simple job for any carpenter worthy of the name, but turning out the screw itself was another matter. Yet Grandpa Hollister, using only the ordinary carpenter's tools which were available in his day, accomplished it. He selected a young pin oak tree of the right diameter—20 inches or so—and felled it. Then with draw knife, foot adze, plane, and chisel, he turned out the screw. The screw worked in a large wooden nut, and this he made too, again using oak for his material. This nut was made in two sections which were later bolted together.

Attached to the bottom of the screw, below the nut, was the heavy wooden plate which fit just inside the box. When the screw was turned, the plate moved up or down as occasion required and pressed the lint into bales.



In operation, the screw was run to the top, the sides of the box were let down, and the bagging for the bale spread over them. They were then raised into place and secured. Lint cotton was dumped in at the top as it came from the gin. Naturally, a ladder or a pair of stairs, (not shown in the drawing) would be required for the man carrying the basket of lint to reach the top. Another man was stationed within the box to tramp the cotton down with his feet as it was dumped. Luckily most of the ginning was done in winter when it was cool; that could have been a most disagreeable job on a hot August day. From time to time the man in the box would climb out, and then the screw was run down in order to press the cotton together as compactly as possible. This operation would be repeated several times before the bale was completed.

The final step was in tying the bale; at first ordinary rope was used for this purpose, and later heavy wire was tried. Both proving something less than satisfactory, the flat strip of iron now in common use was finally adopted.

The drawing shows that the upper end of the screw ended in a roofed enclosure; when not in use, the screw was let down to the bottom of the box, and the entire structure was thus protected from the weather.

The projecting arms on either side of the roof were used for turning the screw, and could be operated by hand or by horse. Most likely, when the heavy work of baling was in progress, a horse would be needed on each of the arms.

Although the whole setup appears crude to anyone familiar with the powerful modern presses, yet the contraption was effective enough and worked quite well. And if Uncle John's home-made press could turn out only six or eight bales a day, still that was enough; his gin itself would not gin more than that either.

An invitation from LSU

We relay to our readers an invitation from Louisiana State University to visit Louisiana's largest institution of higher education during Farm and Home Week, August 15-18. As the University says, those attending this event will have an opportunity to brush up on the latest research information in various fields of farming and homemaking, learn more about the services the University offers to all the people of the state, and generally spend three pleasant and profitable days on the attractive, spacious LSU campus.

Farm and Home Week visitors can room free of charge in one of LSU's modern dormitories. Hadley Fontenot, Cameron county agent, will help those who wish to attend to make their plans.

This is one of many activities through which the University makes available to Louisianians other than the student body on the campus the benefits of its extensive program of research and education. The title, Farm and Home Week, has an agricultural ring, but the topics presented are of interest to many others in many phases of agricultural science and agribusiness as well as farmers themselves. The interests of homemakers in city and country are very much the same nowadays.

The 1960 Farm and Home Week program, according to details released so far, will be especially timely. The important and sometimes controversial subject of chemicals in agriculture and federal regulation of their use will be one of the principal topics of discussion.

Socony Mobil Oil to drill offshore

Socony Mobil Oil Company of Lafayette has applied for a Corps of Engineers permit to install drilling barges and other structures to drill for oil in the west-half of Block 23, East Cameron Area, about 17.8 miles southeast of Grand Chenier.

Any objections from the standpoint of navigation will be received up until June 27.

The Louisiana "water lily" costs the state between 65 and 75 million dollars a year. These floating plants, often as many as 900,000 to the acre -one plant will produce 65,000 other plants in one season- completely ruins wide life resources. The water hyacinth ruins the finest fishing waters by blocking out light so that all game and commercial fish either starve or move away.

The sale of all wild birds and all wild game animals, in open season, is absolutely prohibited in Louisiana.

THE SAP OF A TREE DOES NOT RISE IN THE SPRING

Analysis shows that pieces of wood cut from trees in the winter have just as high or even higher moisture content than pieces cut in the spring or early summer. There is an increase of circulation, however, and the sap is nearer the bark. 1. "Popular Questions Answered" - Geo. W. Stimpson.

Louisiana second in rice receipts

Louisiana ranked second among all states in 1959 in cash receipts from farm marketings of rice, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service, reports Hadley Fontenot county agent with the LSU Agricultural Extension Service.

Sales of rice by Louisiana farmers brought $59 million, according to preliminary estimates just released. This was 15 percent of the money Louisiana farmers received from marketings.

Texas ranked first, with $64 million in rice sales. Arkansas was third with $56 million; California fourth with $46 million; and Mississippi fifth, with $5.4 million. The 1959 ranking of these states was the same as in 1958.

Total receipts of United States farmers from rice in 1959 amounted to $231 million, about one-half of 1 percent of cash receipts from marketings of all farm commodities.

Our community was well represented in Sulphur at the annual rodeo last week. Almost every family made the trip for one night of the event and reported it to be one of the best rodeos ever held.

Increase mileage sought for bus drivers

Baton Rouge, La., -- An increase in mileage allowances for school bus operators is being considered by the legislature, in addition to full implementation next school year of their salary schedule, it was reported today by the Public Affairs Research Council (PAR).

School bus drivers were given a new salary schedule and a new mileage allowance schedule in 1956, at the same time a new salary schedule was adopted for teachers, PAR noted in its weekly Legislative Bulletin. Both groups are scheduled to receive full implementation of their salary schedules in the coming school year. However, bus operators have been paid the full 1956 mileage allowances since the school year 1957-58.

House bill 1018, which has passed the house of representatives, would again increase the mileage allowance for bus drivers. A companion appropriation measure of $1.8 million, HB 1019, is awaiting action to pay for the higher allowance if it is finally approved.

* * *

PAR REPORTED that if the mileage allowance is increased and state funds provided to pay for this, the increase in state funds for school bus drivers will be considerably greater on a percentage basis than the funds provided for teacher pay.

If, PAR said, the new mileage allowance is adopted and financed by the state, this will mean an increase in state funds for bus operators from $3,1 million in 1955-56 to $9.7 million in 1960-61, or an increase of 209,3 per cent.

In the same period, the state funds for teacher pay would have risen 141.5 per cent.

PAR cited a report to the state board of education in 1958 by a committee of parish superintendents which was critical of mileage allowances in the schedule adopted in 1956.

This study said the rates tended to encourage establishment of shorter bus routes, using longer buses than were needed, which would mean higher pay for the bus operators.

* * *

PAR SAID the pending proposal "would continue the trend to pay larger increases in mileage rates for shorter bus routes and for longer buses."

The bill, according to PAR, would continue the provision that no bus operator shall be penalized for four years (by a loss in mileage payments) as a result of any change made by a local school board in the designated size of his bus, school boards involved . . . Many bus routes are being operated in many parishes when they are not needed."

According to PAR, most school bus operators in the coming school year will earn $267 a month for nine months. Where they operate station wagons and the smallest buses, they will be paid $200 a month.

The study by the superintendents' committee, cited by PAR, reported that driving a school bus required "not much over two hours a day" on an average.

National Safe Boating Week Will Be Observed July 3-9

National Safe Boating Week will be observed here July 3 through July 9 through the distribution of water safety reminders by the Calcasieu Area Safety Council.

A locally prepared pamphlet citing causes of Calcasieu drownings is now available at the main offices of four banks and will be distributed also through civic clubs.

The pamphlet, entitled "Come On!", cites failure to carry approved life preservers as the biggest factor in local drownings over the past two years.

* * *

OTHER FACTORS of high frequency are swimming in unguarded areas, drinking by boaters and swimmers, and use of substandard and homemade boats.

The survey of drowning causes made by the Recreation Safety Division of the Safety Council in cooperation with the Calcasieu Parish Sheriff's Department.

Boating and water skiing safety rules are outlined in the pamphlet, and sources of water safety instruction and information are listed.

"Our goal in this and future observances," according to Nina Neely, who is "Miss Water Safety" and the recreation safety spokesman for the Council, "is to create the same public awareness of boating and swimming hazards that has been created in the Calcasieu Area in the field of traffic safety."

"MISS WATER Safety" took part in the Contraband Days boat parade this past weekend under Lake Charles Power Squadron sponsorship.

She returned recently from Cypress Gardens, Fla., where she assisted in teaching swimming to children who will appear with Esther Williams in a television spectacular later this summer.

"If everyone would learn to swim," Miss Neely added, "we wouldn't have half the drowning problem. Seventy per cent of those who drown are non-swimmers," she said.

PROMPT AND IMPARTIAL ADMINISTRATION OF JUSTICE FOR ALL

Bayou Browsing

By GRITS GRESHAM

Wouldn't you know it! I could have predicted it, and so could you. I speak of the quality of fishing off Bermuda just AFTER I had to leave.

"All hell broke loose after you had gone", Joe Brooks wrote this week. "We started chumming out on the banks (Challenger Banks) for Allison tuna and had them cutting into the bait only 10 feet from the stern. We landed some good ones, too. Pete had a 48 pounder on 10 lb line, and a 66 pounder on 20. I took a 53 and 3/4 pounder on 20, lost one after a half hour on a fly, lost another after 20 minutes on a plug, landed several smaller ones, Lake Gorham took a 60 pounder on 20, and went back to Miami with 4 new rod and reel club records."

But that's the way the ball bounces where fishing is concerned. That chumming business is a choice method of getting fish up to where you can work on them with light tackle—spinning, casting, and even fly fishing.

* *

DON'T SELL that fly rod short. It's a killer. Many anglers have the impression that sportsmanship increases as you switch from plug casting to spinning to fly casting. Perhaps it does, but not because of the tools you're using. Let's examine it.

Plug casting—using the old revolving spool reel—is the most difficult form of fishing to do well. A most educated thumb is required to delicately brake a fast spinning spool on a casting reel so that the lure drops gently to the surface—and so a backlash doesn't result. I'll match the Louisiana plug casters with any in the world. The era of anglers who grew up in cajunland with their Presidents, Supremes, Marhoffs, Skil-casts, Criterions, and Direct Drives are the cream of the bass fishing crop.

Next in the order of difficulty comes fly fishing—or fly casting, I should say. Last comes spinning and spin casting. The ease with which these last two can be learned has been responsible—more than any other one thing—for the great boon in sporting goods sales in the past decade. Anybody can spin or spin cast!

Before I'm throttled with somebody's spinning stick, let me hasten to add that, although anybody can cast with a spinning or spin cast reel, it requires great concentration and practice before an angler can be a good, accurate, consistent spinner.

Cowbelles Hold Regular Meet

The regular meeting of the Calcasieu Cowbelles was held Tuesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Helms in Bell City. Hostesses were Mrs. O. D. McFillen, Mrs. L. C. Wittler, and Mrs. Helms.

Mrs. H. F. Keever, president, read correspondence from senators and representatives, concerning the problems of the Utah Cattlemen and Cowbelles.

Two new members, Mrs. R. P. Friesen and Mrs. James Friesen were introduced and welcomed to the organization.

The winner at the drawing of the hind quarter of prime beef was announced, as Mrs. Mildred Nauss, an employee at Chenault Air Force Base. Thru the courtesy of the Broadmore Market the meat is being cut and wrapped for her freezer.

* * *

THE HEADS of the various committees working on the Beef For Father's Day projects, expressed their thanks and gratitude to all who assisted in the success of the projects.

Mrs. Dudley Johnson, float committee chairman, displayed the trophy, presented to the Calcasieu Cowbelles for their first place entry in the State High School Rodeo parade.

It was announced that there will be no meetings during the months of July and August.

Members and guests present were Mesdames Berle Bush, L. Roberson, Walter Helms, L. G. Wittler, I. D. Bayne, James Friesen, F. P. Friesen, Angelo Palermo, Leroy Daughenbaugh, Clyde Le-Doux, Vaughn Managan, Edward Stine, E. O. Daughenbaugh, Gordon Daughenbaugh, Clifton Derouen, Dudley Johnson, Desire Miller, H. F. Keever, Kenneth Cayon, Miss Helen Daughenbaugh and husbands of the members.

RODEO IS THIS WEEKEND

Cameron, which is rapidly becoming the sporting mecca of Louisiana, this weekend will again play host to hundreds of fishermen and visitors here for the annual deep sea fishing rodeo sponsored by the Southwest Louisiana Fishing Club.

In conjunction with the rodeo, Cameron will hold its second annual Fourth of July Festival to provide entertainment for the fishermen during the evenings and for other visitors throughout the Fourth of July weekend.

The festival opens Friday night with a street dance in the courthouse square, and there is a full schedule of activities for Saturday and Sunday. (See other stories in this issue.)

Fishing officially begins at 5 a.m., Saturday. All participants and boats must be registered at Rodeo Headquarters at Pete's Pier prior to starting competition.

Fish caught each day can be presented for weighing until 7 p.m. except for the last day, Monday, when the final deadline is 5 p.m.

Entry fee to participate in rodeo competition is $6 per person.

The rodeo will be held in two divisions, for deep sea and inland waters anglers, with prizes to be awarded for 10 species of fish in the former and six in the latter division.

In addition, there will be prizes for the outstanding anglers in both divisions, prizes for the top women and junior anglers, and a grand prize, as well as boat prizes.

The outstanding angler awards will be made on points which are awarded according to the size of the prize fish within its species, and according to the rarity of the species or the difficulty in landing it.

There are three classes of deep sea prizes, divided as follows: Group 1 - tarpon and sailfish; Group 2 - cobia, jackfish, barracuda, king mackerel; Group 3 - bonito spanish mackerel, dolphin, blue fish.

Outstanding deep sea angler last year was Mrs. C. M. Long. Outstanding inland waters angler last year was Willie Reed.

Some of the top prizes include:

$200 Savings Bond, Grand Prize.

C. A. MILLER, left, displays the 61-pound Tarpon he caught in last year's rodeo.

Street dances scheduled for Friday, Saturday

Two street dances and a dance contest will highlight the Fourth of July festival here this weekend, according to Hadley Fontenot, who is in charge of these arrangements.

Friday night there will be a street dance in the courthouse square with music furnished by a local French band and the South Cameron high school combo.

Saturday night from 9 to 1, the Strollers from Lake Charles will play for a country street dance in the square, which will also feature a rock ad roll contest.

Smoke forces Cameron from homes

Several Cameron residents were forced to evacuate their homes Monday morning when heavy smoke from a prairie being burned entered the residences, according to Charles Murphy, chief deputy sheriff.

State police and sheriff's deputies were required to direct traffic through the dense smoke.

Mrs. Rita Vincent, was overcome by the smoke and was placed under oxygen tent treatment for some four hours.

The field being burned is about three miles east of Cameron on the south side of the highway and belongs to J. A. Davis, Murphy said. A strong southerly wind was blowing at the time the field was burning, he said.

There'll be plenty of good eats

There'll be plenty of good eats at the fishing rodeo this year, including both seafoods and barbecue.

Saturday at noon, the Home Demonstration Club will serve barbecue at Esso Station on Marshall street, with V. J. Theriot and Blanc Bonsall in charge of the barbecuing.

That evening from 6 to 9, the Optimist Club will give a big shrimp boil in the courthouse square, with Frankie Henry and Bolo Trosclair doing the culinary honors.

The Home Demonstration Club will again serve barbecue (chicken and sausage) at the Esso station at noon Sunday, with the expert help of Jimmy Derouen and E. J. Dronet.

And a big fish fry will be served from 5:30 to 8 p.m. in the square that night. Hayes Picou, Duck Guthrie and Clayton Nunez will prepare the fish.

All food this year is $1.25 a plate.

Jeff-Davis Coop meets July 11

The annual meeting of the Jefferson- Davis Electric Coop, Inc., will be held in the Jennings High School auditorium on Monday, July 11. Registration will begin at nine a.m.

Door prizes will be given away again this year.

Tarpon queen to be chosen

Selection of the 1960 Tarpon Rodeo queen will highlight Saturday's activities in Cameron. The program will begin at 8 p.m. in the Cameron elementary school auditorium.

Mrs. Sue Norman, chairman of the queen's contest, announced that the following two girls have entered the competition: Glenda Ford, Sulphur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Ford, Jr. who is a freshman at McNeese and Diana Patricia Ketchell of Vinton, a Lamar Tech student, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Freyou.

There are at least 15 entrants expected in this contest.

The girls will meet with the judges at Fred's restaurant at 4:30 p.m. Saturday. The contest will be conducted in three parts: interview, stage appearance in sports clothes and stage appearance in bathing suit or shorts.

A queen and two runners-up will be selected.

Serving with Mrs. Norman on the queen contest committee are Mrs. Gay Lawton and Mrs. Dorothy Lawton of Sulphur, Mrs. Harold Carter of Creole and Mrs. Hadley Fontenot of Cameron.

Judges will be Jimmy St. Dizier, Ted Price, Robert Norman, Frank Gayle, Ellis Woody Thompson, Carroll Woosley and Dr. A. C. DiBartolo, all of Lake Charles and Sulphur.

Boat races scheduled here

Visitors here this weekend will be treated two different brands of boat racing, plus a boat parade, according to Ray Burleigh, who is in charge of these arrangements for the Fourth of July Festival.

Members of the Calcasieu Boat Club will stage a series of races from 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, and a parade of boats will be held on Marshall street at 1:15 p.m.

Sunday, from 1 to 4 p.m., more boat races will be held, this time for Cameron parish contestants.

In the Cameron races there will be three classes of races: 10 to 20 horsepower outboards, 20 to 35 horsepower, and a free-for-all for boats 35 horsepower and up, including fishing boats.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in all three divisions. There will also be a high point trophy. These trophies, donated by area sporting goods dealers, are on display at Fred's Restaurant.

Clay L. Pettefer of Lake Charles is in charge of the Calcasieu Boat Club races. Three trophies will be awarded in these races also.

Pettefer is well known in boat racing circles having won first place in Class "F" runabout racing for two straight years in Springfield, Ill., and McAllister, Okla. He also took first in the hydroplane free-for-all event in Springfield last year.

All area boat and sporting goods dealers, as well as individuals, have been invited to enter boats in the boat parade Saturday afternoon. For further information they should call Ray Burleigh at PR 5-5349.

Blessing of Fleet is Sunday

The traditional Blessing of the Fishing Fleet will be held Sunday morning in Cameron as part of the festivities of the fishing rodeo and Fourth of July Festival.

Roland J. Trosclair, chairman of the event, said the ceremony will begin at about 9:30 a.m., following Mass. Father Eugene Senneville, pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Church, will bless all of the boats in harbor here during the course of a parade of boats up and down the river.

Mr. Trosclair invited everyone interested to decorate their boats and take part in the parade and blessing ceremony.

Candidates to speak here

All candidates in the July 23 Democratic primary have been invited to speak Sunday afternoon in Cameron during the fishing rodeo. The speaking will be held from 4:30 to 5 p.m. in the courthouse square.

Sheriff O. B. Carter will introduce the candidates, who will each be given 15 minutes in which to speak.

Most of the candidates for the following races are expected to attend: congressman, state board of education, district judge, district attorney, and school board.

Gov. Earl K. Long was a speaker at last year's fishing rodeo and drew a large crowd.

INLAND SHRIMPING CLOSES

The closed season for shrimp in Louisiana's inside waters will go into effect July 1 and will continue until the third Monday of August and the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission will not extend the open season, now in effect, further than that date, Rudolph P. Easterly, director of the commission said today.

"Under the law the extension of the season would have to be made by the legislature, which enacted the legislation, and not by the commission," Easterly said.

"Act 53 of the regular 1958 legislature specifies that no person shall take, have in possession, sell, or offer for sale, any salt water shrimp taken from inside waters between December 21 and April 30, both inclusive, and between July 1 to the third Monday in August of any year," Easterly said.

"The shrimp law, as it was last year, will be rigidly enforced."

Other events scheduled

In addition to the boat races, dances and queen's contest, numerous other events will be going on during the four-day Fourth of July festival this weekend.

Saturday, from 2 to 4:30 p.m., midget auto races will be put on by youngsters from Lake Charles in the square. Conway LeBleu is in charge of arrangements.

There will be a talent show at the same location from 4:30 to 7 p.m., under the direction of Ray Champagne and Lynn McKee.

Sunday there will be a Little League baseball game on the Cameron diamond at 4 p.m., and wrestling matches in the Cameron recreation center at 8 p.m.

The Right to Life

One hundred and 84 years ago members of the Continental Congress met in Philadelphia and affixed their signatures to a document declaring it to be self evident, that all men are endowed with certain unalienable rights.

On July 4th this year, millions of Americans will leave their homes to celebrate that event and to exercise one of those rights--the pursuit of Happiness In the pursuit hundreds of Americans will lose the vastly more precious right of Life. Thousands more will be deprived of Liberty through crippling injuries that will confine them to hospital or home, many of them permanently.

Since 1776, eight wars have been fought to preserve for you the rights proclaimed in the Declaration of Independence. On this 184th anniversary, do YOUR part to preserve them for others. Drive carefully. Swim carefully. Play carefully. Make certain that you are not the cause of any other American losing his life, his liberty, or his ability to pursue happiness on a weekend.

Funds donated for Hospital room

A donation which will be used to equip one room in the proposed South Cameron Memorial Hospital was given yesterday by the Junior Welfare League of Lake Charles to the Lower Cameron Hospital Service district.

Mrs. F. Lisle Peters, Jr. presented the check to Dr. Cecil Clark of Cameron, secretary-treasurer of the Hospital board, two days before the anniversary of Hurricane Audrey.

Bids on construction of the hospital will be taken June 29, Dr. Clark said, and building is expected to get underway shortly after the construction contract is awarded.

He pointed out that the $350,000 bond issue voted by the Cameron parish to build the hospital will not be sufficient to build and equip the institution. Cameron parish officials and the hospital board are working, Dr. Clark said, to secure additional funds from the federal government under the Hill-Burton act. He expressed the Board's gratitude to the Junior Welfare League and added that donations such as the League made will contribute toward realization of the hospital project.

The new hospital, which will accomodate 25 beds, was designed to weather possible future disaster, Dr. Clark said, and will be built on an elevated slab supported by steel piers. Planned for expansion into a 50-bed structure, the hospital will be fully air conditioned and will have up-to-date hospital facilities.

The building will be located near the Catholic Church at Creole.

Edision Mhire is president of the hospital board and other members are Dr. Steven Carter, Dr. George Dix, and James L. Derouen.

AN EARLIER DAY — BY ARCHIE HOLLISTER

Archie reads the census

A survey of old United States Census records, a century and more ago, makes highly interesting reading, if your mind happens to turn that way. Some old familiar family names appear, whose descendants are still living in the chenier region today; there are names which I know only be hearsay, and names too of which I have never heard.

The earliest United States census in Louisiana was made in 1810, but the records for the years prior to 1830 are not available here at the LSU library. Even those of 1830 and 1840 are distressingly vague. In 1830 that part of Cameron east of the Mermentau River, together with Pecan Island, formed a portion of a huge parish that went by the name of Lafayette. And the names for the Parish of Lafayette are all lumped together with nothing to indicate a person's place of residence. A citizen of Grand Chenier could conceivably be listed next to a resident of Pin Hook, for all that one can tell from the information available.

Everything west of the Mermentau, at the same period, was in Calcasieu Parish, and again the lack of information leads only to wild guesses. Nor was the situation improved to any great extent by the Census of 1840. However, when we come down to 1850, we begin to get information upon which we can in part rely.

In that year familiar names appear on the rolls. There is a George Wakefield, age 38, from Ohio, and a Mr. Hutchins, 35 and unmarried, a school teacher from Maine. One wonders how he managed to wander down here. There is Ralph Rutherford, 22, and Martha Rutherford, 14. Peter Steward is listed, and Elisa, presumably husband and wife; he is 23 and she is 19; in the same family is Ralph?, two years old. (Remember, of course, the records do not give the place of residence, and Calcasieu was a large parish then; but since these names all appear close together, it is likely that this is the progenitor of the family we know as Stewart.)

I had barely gotten started on this portion of the census when I found that the reel was broken, and had to stop; when the film is repaired and available again, it is likely that more information will be found.

On the eastern side of the Mermentau the situation is a little better. In 1844 Lafayette Parish was divided, and the southern portion was given the name of Vermilion. The records themselves are somewhat more definite. Under the heading, Western District, Ward 8, are names of people that almost certainly lived on Grand Chenier and Pecan Island, but even at that, there is no way to tell, from the census, which people lived in which community.

A John Wetherill, a teacher from Pennsylvania, is listed along with his family. Evidently they had not been here long, for the birthplace of the youngest child is given as Texas. Her name is Amanda, and her age is not given, but two older children, twins, were listed ans being seven years of age.

There is a Theogene Broussard, 40, and a Thomas Carr who gives his occupation as school teacher, and the place of his birth as Massachusetts. Benjamin Root from New York, 69, and Francis Acher are listed. The record shows an Elias (or is it Charles?) Lindstrom from Sweden, and and a William Smith from Russia. This last strikes one as odd. Could Mr. Smith have been pulling the census-taker's leg, or did that worthy make a mistake himself; she made many others, and worse, his handwriting is a times undecipherable. Again, he must have run short of ink on occasion and attempted to eke out his dwindling supply with water, for some names are so faint as to be unreadable, while others are clear and black.

So far as I can tell, the oldest person among them is an Edmond Vaughan, 74, from Virginia. The vast majority are fairly young, which is only to be expected. Pioneering appeals mostly to the young and adventurous; perhaps Mr. Vaughan fits into the category of those who are not old--they have merely been living for a long time. His wife was an Elizabeth Smith and her birthplace is given as the Bahama Islands.

John P. Benus came from France, and calls himself a manager;

Milledge McCall from Georgia was a Justice of the Peace, and I have heard my grandfather refer to him as Squire McCall. They went in for titles in those days. Mrs. McCall was a Sarah B. Martin from North Carolina. He was 47 and she was 40.

"What Do You Mean--Only ONE True Church?"

Non-Catholics often resent the claim that the Catholic Church is the true Church of Christ.

"You Catholics," some of them say, "have a lot of nerve. The Church is universal. Anybody can belong to it who accepts Christ as his personal Savior and models his life after Christ's teaching. We can be members of the true Church without being Catholics."

Many who feel this way about it are, of course, sincere and devout people. And it is not our intention to challenge the various shades of Christian thought which they represent. We do ask them, however, to understand that the Catholic claim is not a matter of arrogance or intolerance--but of the deepest religious conviction.

Nearly all Christians agree that there can be only one true Church. Yet there are hundreds of different denominations--some of them miles apart in what they teach--all claiming to be the true Church. Certainly all of them cannot be right... in fact, only ONE can.

But which one? How can we identify it?

The Son of God made Himself recognizable to men by coming upon the earth with a body and soul like ours. It was in His physical body that He died for our redemption. Having thus so carefully revealed Himself to the people of His own time, would He not make equally sure that future generations should also know Him?

Catholics believe that the Savior did so, through the Church... in which he is able at all times to save those who came to God through Him." The Church is therefore, not merely a body of people believing in Christ... but the body appointed by Christ Himself to continue His mission of redemption.

"He who hears you," the Savior said, "hears Me." For Catholics, this means that when the Church speaks it is Christ speaking. When the Church offers prayer and sacrifice and forgiveness of sins, it is Christ's prayer and sacrifice and forgiveness of sins. The Church, as Catholics see it, is Christ living in the world today!

Must the Church be an organized system? Is the Church invisible? Is it composed of saints and sinners? Can we reject the Church without rejecting Christ? Must I belong to the Catholic church to be saved? The answer to these and many other important questions is available in a pamphlet which we will send you in a plain wrapper without cost or obligation. You can read it in the privacy of your home and nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet No. KC-16.

from North Carolina.

Some of the records hint of tragedy and broken homes. Consider this one: Frosin Roy, 40, and his wife, Mary Miller, 26. Then the following entries: Frosin Roy, Jr., 16, Andrew Roy, 14; Frosine Roy, 12 (a girl); Eugene Roy, 4; Fimmie? Roy (a girl) one month; Andeon Miller, 4 (a girl); Gustave Miller, age not given; Adam Miller, 7; Margie? Miller, 5; Damon Miller, 3; and another child whose name and age are not recorded. From this, one might reason that a man whose wife had died married a woman who had lost her husband. This appears to be the most logical explanation.

John H. Sweeney was here at the time; he was from Maryland and his wife was from Virginia. Her given name is undecipherable, but her family name was Hickock. They had five children then, Henry, John, James, and Harriet, and another whose name cannot be read.

(More material of this nature will appear in later issues of the Pilot.)

Don Williams addresses SCS group

"I am gratified to find that the same principles of proper land use and treatment applies to this area in the same way it does in other areas" were the comments of Don A. Williams, Administrator, Soil Conservation Service at the meeting with local soil conservationists in Cameron last Friday.

Mr. Williams flew in from Alexandria, Friday morning with H. B. Martin, SCS, State Conservationist, and Don D. Burkhalter, Executive vice-president of T. L. James and Co., Jim H. Kitchens, former Executive Director of Louisiana Forestry Association also accompanied the group.

The meeting was arranged by the Gulf Coast SCD board of supervisors to review the conservation activities in marshlands with the National Administrator of Soil Conservation Service.

Mark Richard was chairman during the conference in the police jury room. Delouis Soileau, SCS Area Conservationist of Crowley, gave the extent of marshlands in Louisiana. Henry Clark, Soil Scientist, SCS of Crowley, explained marsh soil capabilities. Carl Thomas, Biology Specialist from Crowley discussed biology and wildlife conservation; Eloi Primeaux, Work Unit Conservationist, SCS, Lake Charles reported on the progress of the program; Hadley Fontenot, county agent, Cameron, told of the parish's agricultural outlook.

The meeting ended after the group was served a seafood dinner at Fred's as a guest of the Gulf Coast Soil Conservation District. Following the meal Mr. Williams said, "I am certain that the landowners and operators are as proud as I am of the sound and practical soil, water and plant conservation program developed through the Gulf Coast Soil Conservation District for the marshlands of this area". He complimented Hadley Fontenot, county agent, and the extension service, nationwide, for their splendid contributions to this job of conservation.

HOLLY BEACH NEWS

By MRS. WALTER SPENCER

The peak of the tourist season is expected to be reached this weekend as the 4th of July holiday creates a three day weekend.

Businessmen are preparing for a record crowd and are hoping the weather is favorable.

LAST FRIDAY'S small craft warnings brought on a storm scare. Many people left due to abnormally high tide and rough sea. Two accidents were reported when people attempted to swim in the swirling gulf. One man and a teenage girl both suffered severe cuts as they were thrown over by strong waves. Both received medical care.

The rain that fell intermittently for two days may have disappointed tourists; however, it was a blessing to the residents.

A TEXAS DRIVER rammed two parked cars at 12 a.m. Sunday. The accident occurred opposite Simon's cabins on the blacktopped street. The parked cars were completely off the street. Damage was light. The driver was charged with DWI.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lewellen left Saturday morning for their home in Sterling, Colorado. Before leaving Louisiana they toured New Orleans on the previous weekend. The Lewellens were stationed here on a pipeline job for several months.

Tommy Stanley joined a group of parish youngsters Sunday to go to Camp Maryhill for the week. The boys will return Saturday.

A belated but deeply felt birthday greeting to our parish library.

Mrs. K. Manuel is back home after a sick stay in Lake Charles. Her condition is improving.

Mrs. M. B. Carroll and her two children of Grand Prairie, Texas are spending two weeks with her parents, the Joe Campbells.

COLORED NEWS

By MRS. LEE J. HARRISON

DEDICATION

Standing in the still, dry and hot sun Monday afternoon overlooking a common grave for 115 victims of Hurricane Audrey, it was difficult not to think of that rain and windswept day three years ago when these and over 300 others lost their lives in Cameron Parish area.

On the occasion of the dedication of the "Garden of the Unknown" the personal recollections of Hurricane Audrey on the morning of June 27, 1957, were evident as the tears rolled freely down the cheeks of young and old, and the heads of strong men bowed staring at the ground beneath their feet.

Dedication of the grave for the unknown hurricane victims and the unveiling of twin monuments and a white marble memorial figure in the Combre Memorial Park was a joint effort of the Cameron Disaster Relief Committee funds.

Buried in the plot are bodies of 115 victims of the hurricane interred there in July, 1957, after all efforts to identify them failed.

A dragline dug the mass grave, and carpenters donated their labor to construct wooden caskets for the bodies.

About 75 persons assembled in the cemetery for the dedication service at 2 p.m. Monday. Atent was provided with seats for the older people. Umbrellas were used as protection against the hot sun.

Rev. R.B. House of Lake Charles who pastors the Ebenezer Baptist Church of Cameron gave the dedicatory address and offered a prayer.

The burial plot of the unknown dead was landscaped by the colored people of Cameron Parish.

LIBRARY LETTER

By BILL WILLIAMS
Acting Parish Librarian

Cameron is enjoying its fifth annual Fourth of July celebration and the annual Southwest Louisiana Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo this weekend. Your library has quite a few books that should be of interest to people interested in sports namely:

SUCCESSFUL SURF FISHING by Jerry Jansen - gives detailed information on identification and recognition of the habits and habitats of the chief game fish for the surf fisherman, tackle and equipment used, how to use this equipment, baits, conditions of the weather favorable for fishing, and equipment used by anglers. The book is concluded with an interesting account of some of the most popular spots for surf fishing.

STANDARD HANDBOOK OF SALT WATER FISHING by Robert Scharff - a guide that includes a great deal of information that tells both the beginner and the expert how to become a better fisherman.

THE FIRESIDE BOOK OF FISHING edited by Raymond R. Camp - a book that contains the most knowledgeable fishing literateurs in the field which should bring hours of reading enjoyment to anyone who ever baited a hook.

STANDARD BOOK OF FISHING edited by Bruce R. Tuttle which is a book that tells you how to get more fun out of fishing and catch more and bigger fish - the book will tell you how to fish, where to fish and when to fish. All methods are explained here in an easy understandable language.

HOW TO MAKE FISHING LURES by Vlad Evansoff - a book that tells the angler how to make his own fishing lures with a few simple tools and materials.

Kay Armstrong, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Armstrong of Lake Charles, was named Queen of the 11th annual Southwest Louisiana Deep Sea and Inland Fishing Rodeo in Cameron last week.

First runner-up in the Queen's contest was Betty Wills, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Wills of Lake Charles. Third runner-up was Diana Ketchell, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Freyou of Orange, Texas.

THIS WEEK

MY TRIP TO California and the cruise aboard the USS Lexington as a guest of the Navy was a wonderful experience, and I hope to have a long story and pictures on my experiences in next week's paper.

* * *

THE ONLY BAD feature about the trip was that I had to miss out on the fishing rodeo and Fourth of July Festival. I had planned to get home in time to attend the final day Monday, but the holiday travel made me late in getting a seat on a plane for home.

I would like to thank Hadley Fontenot, Dr. Cecil Clark and Mrs. Pearl Deville for helping out with the news while I was away, and especially my wife Joy, who not only got out the paper in my absence, but put up with the kids by herself as well.

* * *

I UNDERSTAND that the local organizations did very well on the concession at the Fourth Festival this year. A preliminary report is that they will clear around $4,000, which will be used to help pay off the debt on the recreation building.

Incidentally, some of the news articles on the festival in the daily newspapers gave the impression that it was sponsored solely by the Lions Club. Not so, the festival was put on by all of the civic and fraternal groups in Cameron, with all doing their share. The Optimist Club especially worked hard on the program.

Mrs. Hebert attends national library meeting in Canada

Mrs. Charles W. Hebert of Sweetlake has just recently returned from a bi-national convention in Montreal, Canada, of the American and Canadian Library Associations which drew a crowd of more than 45,000 librarians and trustees.

Mrs. Hebert, president of the Cameron Parish Library Board, represented Cameron Parish, and was one of the 15 trustees from Louisiana at the convention. The convention opened with salutory telegrams from President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth of England. The six day confab was one designed with many workshops, book luncheons, and talks made by people of importance in the library world to acquaint delegates with the latest techniques and principles of library administration and gverning procedures.

Among the many people who Mrs. Hebert met at the convention was Marion Gilroy, a librarian assigned the task of augmenting a program of reading for people in the Canadian North. Her assignment is unique in that some areas have less than two people per square mile. Her studies brought about a proposal which would make use of an automobile to get books to the most remote areas and boat transportations to others.

Agricultural groups in the United States spent $72 million for the promotion of farm products in 1959.

Holly Beach bar gutted by fire

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

The Anchor Inn Bar and dance hall was gutted by fire about 3 a.m. Tuesday.

Elphedge Sonnier, owner, says he was awakened by dense smoke shortly before 3 a.m. He and his wife made it to safety just as the fire engulfed the entire building. The Sonniers lived in a second story apartment over the bar.

Mr. Sonnier grabbed two bundles of clothing in a closet on his way down the stairs, but they came out shoeless. He attempted to go back inside to retrieve a considerable amount of cash but was unable to do so because of the heat.

Mr. Sonnier had not made an estimate of their loss when interviewed. He said he had about $6,000 insurance policies, but this would not cover the entire loss.

Neighbors around the fire were awakened by the glow and some removed their clothing from the cabins in case the fire would spread. The wind was favorable to keep the fire from being fanned to other buildings. The fire was still smoldering for six hours after it started.

Mr. Sonnier theorized the fire may have started from shorted wires.

The Sonniers moved into one of their rent cabins until they make further plans.

This is the second catastrophe in little more than three years for the Sonniers. They were beach residents when Hurricane Audrey obliterated the community in 1957.

THE CAMERON FIRE department responded to call for assistance but due to having to wait on the ferry at the ship channel arrived too late to save the building. The firemen stood by to keep the fire from spreading to other buildings.

It was suggested by Burleigh that the Hackberry fire department publish telephone numbers of its firemen, so that they could be called in case of a fire on the west side of the ship channel. They would be able to reach such a fire much quicker than the Cameron department because of the time lost in crossing the ferry.

Another fire a few days previous completely destroyed a 1960 Mercury on the west side of the river, and again the fire truck was delayed in getting to the scene because of the ferry.

Organization of boat club sought

There will be a meeting at 8 p.m. Friday at Fred's Restaurant of all persons interesting in organizing a boat club for Cameron, according to Ray Burleigh.

The club would promote such things as water safety, first aid and boat races, Burleigh states.

The boat races held at the Fourth of July festival last week has shown that there is much interest in boating here, he says.

Hospital aid is sought

Members of the Lower Cameron Hospital board this week expressed confidence that they will be able to secure federal Hill-Burton matching funds for the new hospital which is to be built between Cameron and Creole.

Board members delivered $350,000 worth of hospital bonds to the bond buyers in New Orleans this weekend and received a check for that amount. It is hoped that if Hill-Burton funds for about the same amount will be approved.

Bids on the construction of the 25-bed hospital were opened last week, with the low bid of $364,413.13 being submitted by Dyson Lumber Company of Cameron.

The board plans to delay the awarding of a contract until it is definitely known whether the federal funds will be available here or not. The board, however, is proceeding under the assumption that this money will be available.

* * *

THE BOARD members met with Jessie Bankston, hospital consultant, in Baton Rouge, who advised the following procedure to secure the federal aid:

A special hospital service district will be set up to include all the area which the hospital will serve--which will be all of Cameron parish, with the exception of Hackberry which is in the West Calcasieu-Cameron hospital district, and also Pecan Island in Vermilion parish.

This district will be for population purposes alone and not for taxes. (Taxes on the hospital will only be paid in that area of the parish east of the Calcasieu river and south of the Intracoastal canal which originally voted the hospital bonds.) For each 1,000 people in this district, the government will allow matching funds for four beds. Thus if there are 5,000 people in the area, the hospital would match funds on 20 beds.

At the present time all of Cameron parish except Hackberry is considered in the Lake Charles hospital service district. The state hospital board is expected to create the new Cameron district when it meets in the near future.

Board president Edison Mhire said that Louisiana has been granted $3 million in Hill-Burton funds this year, of which $1 million has been committed. He said he was sure that Cameron parish could get what it needs from the remaining $2 million.

The hospital presently has about $399,000 in available funds, including $350,000 from the bonds and $43,000 from the American Legion.

Mr. Mhire said he contacted state Legion officials in New Orleans last weekend about a list of prospective donors who wish to furnish rooms in the new hospital. He said the Legion planned to contact all of these people shortly.

Dr. Cecil Clark, a member of the hospital board, said that the application for Hill-Burton funds probably will hold up construction of the hospital for about three months, but that the board felt it was worth while to do so because of the large amount of assistance that may be made available.

Making the trip to New Orleans and Baton Rouge last week were Mr. Mhire, Dr. Clark, Dr. G. W. Dix, J. B. Jones, Jr. and Robert Miller, the architect.

Wildlife bills passed

BOAT REGISTRATION and HUNTING LICENSE REVISION bills have passed the Louisiana legislature.

The boat bill will comply with the Federal Boating Act, so we'll now get to register our boats with the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission instead of the U. S. Coast Guard. It wasn't a question of having to or not having to; just a question of where the money would end up. This way we keep it in Louisiana, where it will be used for improvement of boating facilities.

The bill applies only to boats of more than 10 h.p., and the registration fee is $5.00 for three years.

The fishing license provisions of the license bill were chopped out, but the hunting license increases went through with only minor changes. This year it'll cost a resident $2.00 to hunt in Louisiana, plus another $2.00 tag if he hunts either deer or turkey. The non-resident fee will be $25.00 for the year, or $5.00 for a two-day trip.

Not many hunters will complain about having to dig deeper for these funds IF they're used properly, since most realize that the cost of providing something to shoot at goes up all the time. It's up to us to see the money IS used as it should be.

The Outdoor Writers Association of America held their annual convention on Lake Texoma June 19-26, and it surpassed any other gathering ever held by the group. More than 600 people attended, from every state in the U. S., plus Hawaii and Alaska. Louisiana had it's fair representation: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, Lake Charles; Hunter Barrilleaux, Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. John Blanchard, Bastrop; Mr. and Mrs. Hurley Campbell, Baton Rouge; John L. Ferguson, New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hornsey, Baton Rouge; Mr. and Mrs. Wes Reeves, Ruston; Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Williams, Shreveport; and Mr. and Mrs. Grits Gresham, of Natchitoches.

At the meeting Winchester unveiled their new Model 100 semi-automatic rifle in the .308 caliber. Remington had their nylon .22 auto available, the marine folk had all the latest boats and motors for the use of the writers, and the workshop speakers dished out some fine material on writing, photography, and other phases of the profession.

The 1961 convention will be held in Jackson Hole, Wyoming.

The Grand Isle Tarpon Rodeo will be held July 14-15-16, with headquarters at the eastern end of Bayou Rigaud on Grand Isle. Last year there were 1775 fishermen who paid their $5 registration fee to angle for the multitude of prizes, and eight new rodeo records were set.

This Rodeo is some shindig, in case you haven't ever been exposed to it. For three or four days the eight-mile long island will be jammed to the gills with pleasure seekers. From beach to Bayou Rigaud will be a milling conglomeration of people--tents, trailers, autos, boats. If you're seeking the restful solitude of the great outdoors, don't go to Grand Isle on these three days. Go in the right frame of mind and you'll have fun at one of the best of the fishing contests, and you'll see brought in to the Bayou Rigaud docks a tremendous sample of the sporting fish the Gulf has to offer.

Annual Rice Meet Slated July 26

Ralph R. Lyon, President of the Louisiana Rice Promotion Association, announced that the annual meeting of the Association would be held in Kaplan on Tuesday, July 26th at 10:00 a.m. The meeting will be held in the air conditioned Joy Theatre.

Some of the leading figures in agriculture will discuss with the group the rice situation, possible future legislation and the accomplishments of the promotion organization.

Also on the program will be the election of officers and a short demonstration by Mrs. Dorothy Hutcheson, Home Economist for the Rice Council.

HUNDREDS ATTEND RODEO

A late arrival of tarpon that started taking baits produced heated competition and a race to the finish in the closing hours of the 1960 Southwest Louisiana Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo Monday at Cameron.

When the rodeo opened at 5 a.m. Saturday, a southwest wind which boiled up muddy water, greeted sportsmen and for three days, the fishing fleet hunted long and hard for the big fish.

A few tarpon, but no sailfish, were sighted both Saturday and Sunday, but few fishermen had more than one strike and none held a tarpon for more than a matter of seconds.

But Monday, the water looked better, and shortly after noon, it appeared that the rodeo was a free-for-all when some big tarpon were spotted in the ship channel, between six and eight miles offshore.

The first report came from the boat Maids-R of Lake Charles when Jud Rives Jr. had a tarpon strike. Jud said the tarpon hooked on a large silver spoon and he held him for better than an hour before the big fish was lost at the stern of the boat when an attempt was made to bring it to gaff. The Maids-R also had two more strikes but missed both fish.

The lack of tarpon and sailfish, however, failed to take too much of an edge off the overall fishing. Competition was especially keen in the cobia (ling) class with many boats bringing in large catches of this fish.

The top catch was probably turned in by T-Boy McCall, skipper of the Sunrise II. McCall listed a total of 70 big cobia taken in two day's fishing.

Another good catch was made by Gus Gauthier on the Gulf Queen. Gauthier brought in 40 cobia Sunday. Many other boats brought in from two to 10 cobia. Most of the skippers reported the cobia hitting better than usual when they could be located.

Sportsmen participating in the rodeo weighed in fish taken in every eligible species except tarpon, sailfish and jewfish.

AFTER CHECKING overall results late Monday night, judges reported a four way tie for the top title of Outstanding Angler in the deep sea division. The honor is shared by Dr. J. W. Crookshank, Ralph Gravelle, Chip Young and Mrs. Dorothy Martin.

Dr. Crookshank landed the largest cobia, 53 pounds; Gravelle, the top jackfish, 22.8 pounds; Young, the largest barracuda, 19.8 pounds; and Mrs. Martin, the largest king mackerel, 17 pounds.

In the inland waters division, the title of Outstanding Angler went to Ernest George. He landed the first place sheepshead, 4 pounds; and the third place red fish, 10.5 pounds.

Sharing the honors in the ladies deep sea division were Mrs. Lawrence Arceneaux of Grand Chenier and Mrs. Vera Duplechin of Lake Charles with 40 points each. Mrs. Arceneaux landed the first and second place jackfish. They are tied for first and second places. Third is Gene Cremillion of Abbeville who landed the first place barracuda and second place dolphin in this division.

In juniors competition, the top spot went to J. W. Crookshank Jr., who earned 50 points. Second went to Van Brooks Walker, 40 points; and third was a three-way tie between Chip and Chris Young and Harry Liles, 25 points each.

Young Crookshank had the first and second place dolphin and the first place cobia. The Walker youth landed the first place Spanish mackerel and the first place king mackerel. Chip Young had first place barracuda; Chris, the first and second place bonito and Henry Liles, first place jackfish.

Inland competition was just as keen. In the ladies inland class, Una Reed was first; Brenda Vincent, second and Mary B. Newlin and Mrs. Larry Fontenot, tied for third.

First place for juniors inland went to Mike Vincent. Second and third was tied between Roland C. Kent and Hugh Raetzsch.

On an over-all basis, the sponsoring Southwest Louisiana Fishing Club recorded the rodeo as a definite success. Never before has so much interest been shown by participants and spectators, President Hudson East said in Cameron.

Total registration was listed late Monday at 508, and this does not include tickets that were sold in Cameron. Some 50 boats were registered representing the communities of Lake Charles, Port Arthur, Abbeville, Crowley and Cameron.

KC Fishing Rodeo to be held this weekend

Cameron will again roll out the welcome mat this weekend for the Louisiana Knights of Columbus Salt Water Fishing Rodeo. This will be the seventh such rodeo held here, the others having been held prior to Hurricane Audrey.

General headquarters for the event is Pete's Pier. Registration is $10 per person, which covers a fish supper Saturday night at 7 p.m., and breakfast Sunday morning. Sleeping accommodations in the men's dormitory are also included in the fee.

The Most Rev. Charles P. Greco, Bishop of Alexandria and State Chaplain for the KC's will offer Mass at 4 AM in Cameron for the entrants of the Rodeo.

* * *

FISHING time is between 5 a.m. and 6 p.m. on SUNDAY ONLY. All fish must be at weighing station (Pete's Pier) by 6 p.m. Prizes will be awarded to the first, second, and third largest fish in each of the following classes: (1) tarpon, sail-fish and jew fish; (2) king mackeral; (3) ling, jack fish and shark; (4) spanish mackeral, dolphin, bonita and red snapper; (5) flounder, speckel trout, sheep head, drum, red fish, blue fish and gaft-top. Fish must be caught by rod and reel, except in class 5, with no line more than 72 lb. test.

Points toward the best fisherman and top boat will be scored with 20 points for the first place; 10 points for the second place and 5 points for third place. In addition to the prizes for first, second, and third places in each class, the prize for the all around fisherman will be determined by the largest number of points from the prize fish. All prizes not won shall be awarded as entrance prizes drawn by lot.

Highlighting the Saturday night supper will be the annual contest for the "Teller of Tallest Tales," or more truly, annual Liar's Contest.

LIBRARY LETTER

By BILL WILLIAMS
Acting Parish Librarian

"Open house" at the library to commemorate the second anniversary of the library brought in more than fifty guests. We were especially interested in seeing some of our friends who use bookmobile service as guests on this occasion. We, also, want to thank the ladies on the library board who give so much of their time to assist us on these occasions.

Summer time is travel time and your library is one place that has a good collection of books to assist you in reading about places you plan to visit. We presently have a travel display including a large number of maps for anyone who might be planning a trip at this time. One needs not to travel by some type of vehicle to enjoy the wonders of travel books.

To become an "armchair" traveler learning of places throughout the world is a profitable experience for anyone. Through the eyes of Della Goetz, one can visit with OUR NEIGHBORS TO THE SOUTH. A RUSSIAN JOURNEY is a thrill to anyone as we travel with William O. Douglas and through books as an armchair traveler we can visit ALASKA, U.S.A. by Miriam Hilscher. A whole new world can be opened up with books.

CALLS THAT COUNT

"Did you call the plumber, dear?"

It's easy to dramatize the value of telephone service by telling about calls that determine life or death, success or failure.

However, it's the every day calls that best demonstrate the value of your telephone.

For business, social, or just plain personal reasons, there's nothing like a telephone for fast, efficient communication.

WHY DO CHURCHES CONDUCT REVIVALS?

The large white oak tree stood leafless. Its acorns had fallen to the ground. It appeared to be dead. But spring came. The sun warmed the earth. Showers moistened the soil. Buds on the white oak began to swell. Its branches burst forth, green with foliage and with fruit. The tree was not dead. It was only sleeping in the cold of winter. Springtime brought the response of life and produced a harvest.

People have a tendency to live like the oak, having seasons or cycles—producing fruit and resting, working and then relaxing.

Why should a church conduct revivals?

Because a church is made up of people who act like human beings. They tend to grow careless, to relax their efforts, to do less than their best. When this happens they need to be aroused from their slumbering, awakened to fresh effort, challenged again to do their best as Christians.

Revivals are also needed because every community has some people who have not been reached by the church. They have need for God, salvation, and the fellowship of Christians in a church. It is necessary for the church to put forth a special effort to prove its concern for them, to attract their attention, to call upon them to consider trusting Christ.

There is a story in the Bible about a man who arranged for a feast. He invited many guests. Those invited were rude enough to reject his invitation. Each made some excuse. The master was told that the invited guests had decided not to come. Then he sent his servants out to bring in the unfortunate, the poor, the blind, the lame. He said, "Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled" (Luke 14:23).

The church, of which Jesus Christ is the head, is trying to serve by bringing to him people whose souls may be fed with spiritual truth. All the time there are people who are rejecting Christ's invitation to receive forgiveness, love, and mercy. So the church, serving Christ, is aggressive. It takes the initiative for Christ. It goes to the people. It searches and finds those whose souls cry, "Lord save us" (Matthew 8:25). It invites them to sit at God's table of mercy and goodness.

Because of the very nature of the church it can do no other than take such initiative, put on such an emphasis as a revival.

Because of the very nature of man he must have this special emphasis, especially when he is lost in sin and does not know how to find salvation.

98% Area Coverage
Reported By Co-ops
WAS 1.7% IN 1937

In 1937 only 2,826 (1.7%) of Louisiana's 170,218 farms had electricity . . . so essential for decent and productive living.

TODAY LEAD NATION

Today, Louisiana's 13 member-owned electric co-ops proudly report slightly more than 98% area coverage in their service areas . . . leading all states in percentage of rural homes and farms served, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"Think what this has meant in terms of rural development, a stronger Louisiana economy, Main Street business--jobs--not counting the revolution in better living and productivity throughout rural Louisiana," a member-elected director of the local co-op stressed.

Electric co-ops were born of vital necessity in Louisiana. They were organized by prominent farmers, county agents, Farm Bureau and civic-service leaders, etc., because non-profit co-ops were (and are) the only way ALL rural people can have electric service at reasonable rates.

While setting the national record for area coverage, without regard for social or financial standing of those who need and want electricity, the 13 Louisiana member-owned electric co-ops have repaid $25-million of the approximate $55-million loaned by REA, including $5,809,379 in interest.

In addition, they have paid $5-million in ADVANCE of loans on repayment schedules.

It was stressed that REA also lends to 21 commercial companies in Louisiana, including one major power company.

AN EARLIER DAY . . .

BY ARCHIE HOLLISTER

Civil War action in area

We are fast approaching the hundredth anniversary of the beginning of the Civil War, or as it is more aptly termed, the WAR BETWEEN THE STATES. Considerable interest on a national scale has been evident of late, and much is being written concerning that conflict.

The great battles of that war, First and Second Manasses, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg, Shiloh, the Wilderness, Vicksburg, and a dozen others, have received, and will continue to receive treatment in minutest detail. These are the spectacular ones—the ones that everyone knows of—and the ones that rightly hold first place. But still there are literally thousands of smaller engagements, which were only of local interest even when they happened, and which have been forgotten since, by all save a few.

Even here in Louisiana, the well-informed student of American history is aware only of the capture of New Orleans, the siege of Vicksburg, the heroic action of Dick Dowling's little band at Sabine Pass, and perhaps Bank's Red River campaign, that inglorious fizzle. Aside from these, the conventional histories that we study in our schools are largely silent about numerous other encounters within the borders of our state.

Yet action there was, widespread and prolonged throughout the entire period of the war. Cameron Parish itself was the scene of several. Confederate blockade runners slipped in and out of our rivers, and Federal gunboats of the blockading fleet sought to seek them out and to destroy them, to borrow a phrase from the military parlance of that day.

The Sabine River area especially was a focus for such activities, and similar related incidents occurred all along the Gulf Coast. A few will be retold in this article. My information comes from the official correspondence of the officers involved, both North and South. It can be found in a series of volumes entitled THE WAR OF THE REBELLION—CORRESPONDENCE. Anyone interested in such matters can find these books in the Public Library at Lake Charles.

One of the earliest reports is dated December 5, 1861, and it is written by Major General M. Lovell from his headquarters at New Orleans to the Honorable Judah P. Benjamin, Secretary of War for the Confederacy. The general writes:

". . . commencing at Calcasieu Bay, we have one company with two 42-pounders, which are now being put up, and will prevent foraging parties from reaching the cattle grazing prairies around the head of the lake. At Grand Chenier, there is a company of militia that I am furnishing with a 6-pounder gun . . ."

In the light of subsequent events, one wonders as to the effectiveness of these preparations, for by no means did they prevent Federal gunboats from ascending both rivers. In fact, there are no further references to these three guns throughout the conflict.

Then there is a report of a Federal officer, Frederick Crocker, commanding a Northern gunboat. From the tone of this report one would judge that he was a young man, and a particularly brash one at that. It ought to be interesting to know what comments old Admiral Farragut made when he read it. the officer writes:

U. S. S. Kensington
Sabine Pass,
Oct. 12, 1862

Sir: At the date of my last report I was just leaving with the launch and howitzer, 12 man and 2 officers, on an expedition up the Calcasieu River and Lake.

I have the honor now to report the expedition successful. I was absent 4 days. I proceeded 80 miles up, where I found the steamer DAN, of which I went in search, and captured it.

Returning with the launch in tow, I stopped at the town of Charleston, on Lake Charles, and burned a large schooner lying there. I then levied on the town a contribution of sweet potatoes and beef, which was furnished. By this time I had been three days, nearly, up the river, and was informed by Union men, plenty of whom I found, that a large party had collected to attack us below; whereupon I seized upon 10 or 12 of the inhabitants of the place, and posting them around the man at the wheel, who was exposed, made the best of my way down the river. I found one other large schooner, which I also burned, and thus destroyed all the navigation in that place, besides teaching the people a lesson they will not soon forget. As soon as I reached a place of safety I released the prisoners.

Frederick Crocker
Acting Master,
Commanding

Captain Crocker's statement relative to plenty of Union men strikes one as singular, yet it is not an isolated instance. An order from Cammander Bell, U. S. N., to Lt. Sumner, and dated December 22, 1863, reads in part: "There are about 300 residents of Grand Chenier who are Union People; you will therefore permit no plundering nor ill usage of the inhabitants as long as they offer no resistance."

Earlier in the year, writing in his private diary, Commander Bell makes this statement: "They also report that there are 1000 to 1100 men in the swamps near Mermentan (this is not a typographical error; that was correct spelling in 1863) resisting conscription. (into the Confederate Army.) it is said that they will join us if we give them support."

No doubt there was disaffection and loyalty to the Union, but one wonders if the Federal officers did not misjudge the situation. A very large proportion of the able-bodied young men of the region served with distinction in the armies of the Confederacy.

HOLLY BEACH NEWS

Hundreds crowd beach for 4th

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

"A sea of cars and people" is the best way to describe the crowd which covered the beach for the three-day Fourth of July holiday.

Hot but clear weather prevailed and a sunburned crowd was the order of the day.

The peak of the transient population was reached Sunday. Clear-cut evidence was the crowd which surrounded the church at mass Sunday morning. There were standees in all the aisles. It was estimated that almost as many people had to remain outside as there were inside.

A teenage center was opened Saturday night adjacent to the Four Corner Bar. Teenagers of the community are overjoyed at having a place of entertainment as all places with liquor were out of bounds for them. Owner of the new place is Paul Romero.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrar G. Lindsay of Lafayette and Mrs. J. Wesley Vann of Leeds, Alabama have been vacationing at the Wendell Lindsay camp on Long Beach. (The new beach developed next to Mecom Landing).

They held open house Sunday, July 3 and visitors were: Mrs. Ada Duas, Ville Platte, Mrs. Odelia Knapp and Patricia, Buck York, Charles Lusco, and Wendell Lindsay, all of Lake Charles, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Dugas of Beaumont, Texas, Victor Miller, Jerry Furs and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stewart of Cameron.

Miss Wana Landry of Lafayette, former teacher on Johnson Bayou, and Mrs. Anthony Mouton of Duson, visited at the Lindsay camp on Long Beach and also visited friends and relatives at Hackberry.

The framework of cabins for the Eddie Arceneaux' went up over the weekend.

The A. Browns closed their Texaco station and moved in the building which was formerly Bruce's Cafe. They will continue the cafe operation.

Paul Romero says a major fire was averted at his place Monday night when his children discovered a pile of lumber on fire. The lumber was next to the building and the fire was well started. They put it out without major damage.

Cameron Garden Club hears Prof. Hyatt

Four basic areas should be considered in making a landscape plan for your home, members of the Cameron Garden Club were told at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

O. D. Hyatt, professor of horticulture at McNeese State College, outlined these areas:

(1) Portal planting. Plants at entrances should be of a smooth texture and inviting, he said.

(2) Corner plants. These should never be quite as tall as the eaves, yet taller than the base plants to give the effects of an arch from end to the center. Corner plants may also be used to give a house the illusion of being longer, by placing them some distance from the end corners.

(3) Standing specimens. Plants for these areas should be selected for individual beauty and for balance. But never over do these to the point where you detract from or hide the house.

(4) Private area. These Plants are usually located in back of the house and planted to give privacy.

Attending the club's first meeting since it was organized were Mesdames Wm. Henry, Jr., William E. Cutrie, Carlos Ratcliff, Walter Stanley, Hadley Fontenot, Alvin Dyson, C. A. Rogers, Robert Tanner, Leslie Richard and County Agent Hadley Fontenot.

Legislative report given by Dyson

Five bills affecting Cameron Parish were passed in the session of the Louisiana legislature just ended and have been signed into law by Gov. Jimmie Davis, Cameron's representative, Alvin Dyson reported this week.

Six other bills which he introduced were defeated or died in committee.

The successful bills passed were as follows:

*No. 167 gives the Cameron police jury the right to lease the surface rights of the spoil bank built out into Sabine Lake adjoining the Sabine Lake Causeway. Two Texas businessmen have been seeking to lease this land for several years for boat docking, restaurant, motel, etc.

*No. 282 transfers the liability for erosion to the Lake Charles ship channel from the Cameron police jury to the State of Louisiana. In the past, the jury has been sued by land owners when the channel eroded into their land.

*No. 599 extends homestead exemption on any bond which the Cameron water and sewerage district might issue for two years. Exemption was originally granted for two years in 1958, and since then a sewerage and water bond issue has been voted down by local property owners. This bill merely extends the same exemption for another two years, in case the issues are brought to a vote again.

*No. 623 gives municipalities, police juries, dock boards, etc. the right to spend money on projects in adjoining parish. This bill was offered so as to give the Lake Charles Dock Board the legal right to pay for erosion damages to property along the Lake Charles ship channel in Cameron parish.

*No. 972 creates a special water and sewerage district confined to the town of Cameron. When the water and sewerage bonds were voted on here last year, the election had to be held parish wide because of legal reasons, even though the tax was to be paid only in the town of Cameron. This bill eliminates the need for calling any such future elections parishwide.

* * *

FOUR APPROPRIATION bills for Cameron parish offered by Mr. Dyson were defeated in the legislature along with a $140,000,000 in various appropriations for the rest of the state. Mr. Dyson said that the state's severe financial shortage was responsible for the defeat of these bills.

A bill appropriating $5,000 for the operation of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival in Cameron was defeated, as were all other fair and festival bills.

Also defeated was Mr. Dyson's bill for a $110,000 appropriation for drainage and salt water intrusion work on the Mermentau river.

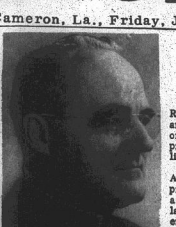
A $125,000 bill for dike work to prevent silt from the Lake Charles channel from going into Calcasieu Lake also fell by the wayside.

A bill which would have given Cameron $250,000 from the Rockefeller wildlife refuge oil revenues for a water and sewerage system was voted down 10-9 in committee.

* * *

TWO WILDLIFE BILLS offered by the Cameron representative were also defeated.

House Bill 911 which would have taken alligators off the outlaw list and closed the season on them for five years was killed in the senate. However, Senate Bill 22 offered by Senator Fruge contain much of the same provisions. This bill took the alligators off the outlaw list, limited alligators that can be killed to those over five feet, and gives the Louisiana Department of Wildlife the authority to close any area where it sees fit for the preservation of alligators.



Mr. Dyson said he did not feel the Fruge bill was as comprehensive as his was, but that it would give more protection to the alligator population which is steadily being killed off.

A similar Dyson bill to take the nutria off the outlaw list was also killed, with opposition coming from the sugar cane parishes where the animal is quite a nuisance to crops.

Mr. Dyson argued that outlawing nutria had hurt the price of their pelt thereby making them less desirable for trappers to take. Also he said that some trappers had been taking nutria during the summer when their fur was poor, thereby giving a bad name to all nutria fur.

This bill passed with only three votes against it in the house, but was killed in the senate committee.

Mr. Dyson was chairman of the Game, Fish and Oyster Committee of the house this year and a member of the Ways and Means Committee.

REV. THEODORE BRANDLEY

3 parish churches get new pastor

Three Cameron parish Catholic churches will have new pastors effective Friday, July 15, according to an official announcement of church leaders this week.

The Rev. Theodore Brandley has been appointed pastor of Our Lady of Victory Parish at Loreauville. He is being replaces as pastor of St. Peter's parish at Hackberry by the Rev. Francis Lundgren, who is coming here from Jacksonville, Texas.

The Rev. Alvarez Gilbert has been named pastor of St. Joseph's Parish at Vinton, and will be succeeded as pastor of Sacred Heart Parish at Creole by the Rev. Joseph Decoteau.

The Rev. Francis Lanoue, who has been assistant pastor at Sacred Heart in charge of the Grand Chenier church, is being transferred to St. Joseph's in Loreauville as assistant pastor. And the Rev. Henry LaChappelle from Loreauville is being transferred here to take Father Lanoue's place.

Father Brandley, St. Peter's first pastor, transferred

The Theodore Brandley, pastor of St. Peter's Catholic Parish for the past five years, has been named pastor of Our Lady of Victory church Loreauville.

Father Brandley was the first pastor of St. Peter's when it became a parish in 1955. Up until then the church at Hackberry was a mission of the Sulphur church. The Holly Beach and Johnson Bayou missions, until then served out of Creole, were also included in the new parish.

Born and raised in the Boston, Mass., archdiocese, Father Brandley was ordained into the priesthood in Albany, N.Y., in 1932, a member of the Missionaries of LaSallette. He spent some 15 years doing missionary work in Southern Brazil, and during the war was port chaplain for Rio de Janario.

In 1948, he returned to the United States and was assigned as an assistant pastor to the Sulphur church. In that capacity, he was in charge of the Hackberry mission.

Following the creation of St. Peter's parish, mission churches at Holly Beach and Johnson Bayou were built. The Holly Beach church, a quonset building, was completely destroyed in Hurricane Audrey and has since been rebuilt.

Also during Father Brandley's pastorate, a rectory was built at Hackberry and the Catholic Hall was renovated.

Father Brandley stated that St. Peter's parish is out of debt, and future plans include the construction of a new church at Hackberry.

IN A CLOSING MESSAGE to his parishioners, Father Brandley had this to say:

"Whenever a priest is assigned to a parish he knows that sooner or later the day will come when he must leave, either for eternity or for other parts of the world. That time has now come for me, and I must bid a fond and painful farewell to old St. Peter's.

"Early in life the priest must learn that he is never to allow himself to become so attached to the things of this world that he cannot leave them. Therefore, when the time comes, he must depart, always looking upward and onward, never down and back."

Father Lanoue given farewell breakfast Sun.

Father F. X. Lanoue, assistant in charge of the Grand Chenier Catholic church who is being transferred to Loreauville, was given a farewell breakfast at the home of Miss Oma Miller Sunday morning after mass. A large number of people turned out for coffee, cakes and doughnuts.

Father Henry LaChappelle of Loreauville who is replacing Father Lanoue here celebrated his 25th anniversary of his ordination Thursday. Father Lanoue is also celebrating his 25th anniversary.

ROAD JOB SOUGHT

Blacktopping of the Front Ridge road between Oak Grove and Cameron and of two miles of roads at Hackberry was proposed at the Cameron police jury Monday.

Roland J. Trosclair and C. A. Riggs, Ward 3 and 6 jurors, proposed that the jury issue a half million or million dollars in bonds, backed by revenues that the parish receives from the state under Act 80.

"If we don't dedicate Act 80 money," Riggs stated, "someone will beat us out of it one of these days."

Parish revenues from this source is running about $150,000 a year, the jury was told.

Jurors Vian Theriot and Eraste Hebert objected to but Dave Doland of Grand Chenier told the jury that the people in his section of the parish used the Front Ridge road as much or more as the people of Ward 3. A number of other people from Grand Chenier and Oak Grove also appeared at the meeting seeking the road project.

It was finally agreed that Trosclair and Riggs should get an engineer to survey the roads and make an estimate of the blacktopping cost. Assistant District Attorney J. B. Jones was instructed to look into the bonding procedure.

* * *

TURNING TO OTHER business the jury adopted an ordinance establishing the rules and regulations for the new Hackberry fire department.

Mr. Jones was asked to contact the out-of-town owner of a lot in Cameron about cleaning it up. Mr. Trosclair said the lot and damaged building had not been cleaned up since the hurricane.

The jury voted 3-2 for paying for a $104.83 bill for decorating the town of Cameron for the Fourth of July. Vian Theriot and Horace Mhire voted against the payment, stating that permission should have gotten ahead of time.

An agreement between the jury and the Soil Conservation Service providing the SCS 150 square feet of office space in the courthouse was approved. The SCS plans to station a technician here.

The jury agreed to buy a section of the old Klondike school from the school board for $150 for use as a polling place and community center.

The jury briefly discussed the possibility of a parishwide drainage tax, after a right-of-way for a drainage ditch was presented to it on behalf of Norman LaBove. Juror Trosclair was instructed to see if this ditch would fall in the Creole drainage district.

Miss Dorothy Doxey, assistant secretary-treasurer, was given a $50 a month raise by the jury, and the courthouse janitor got a $30 raise.

J. Berton Daigle, clerk of court, was given permission to get the jury box and judge's bench in the courtroom revarnished.

It was decided that following the next election that the polling place for Ward 3 will be moved somewhere else. It is presently in the police jury room of the courthouse.

The jury also set as a board of review to hear anyone who wished to protest his assessment but no one appeared before it.

John P. Crain named to state commission

John Paul Crain, Grand Chenier businessman, has been appointed by Governor Jimmie H. Davis as a member of the state Wild Life and Fisheries commission.

This is the second time that Mr. Crain has been appointed to the commission. Four years ago, he was appointed by Governor Robert Kennon to fill the vacancy on the commission caused by the resignation of Joe W. Doxey of Cameron. He served for three months before being addressed out of the office by incoming Gov. Earl K. Long.

Recently Gov. Davis addressed out of office all of the Long appointments, and has renamed Mr. Crain to the wildlife board.

The appointment is for four years and board members serve without pay, except for a per diem when attending meetings. A meeting was scheduled for this Thursday in New Orleans.

Mr. Crain said he would work to improve hunting, fishing and trapping in the state.

The new board member is a partner in the Crain Brothers business which manufactures marsh buggies and does contracting work at Grand Chenier.

THE CAMERON girls softball team and junior boys team will play teams from Port Arthur on the Smith fieldhere at 6 p.m. Saturday. Everybody is urged to turn out for what promises to be two good games.

First pogy fisherman of year drowns

The first drowning of a pogy fisherman this year occurred at the Louisiana Menhaden Company docks at 8 p.m. Saturday. Dead is Jud Chatman, Negro, of North Carolina.

Chatman, reportedly drinking, fell off the boat "George R. Wallace". His body was recovered about 10 minutes later, but attempts to revive him failed.

Each year some five or six pogy fishermen are drowned or meet other violent deaths.

Contract is awarded on street work

A $30,986.50 contract for the blacktopping of 1.35 miles of streets in Grand Chenier was awarded Monday by the Cameron police jury. These are the several streets that run north from the highway to the river.

Successful and only bidder was Coastal Contractors, Inc., of Baton Rouge, which is presently resurfacing the highway between the Mermentau river and the Superior Bridge.

Speeding of ships protested

The matter was brought to the attention of the jury by a letter from Jack T. Styron, secretary-treasurer of the Louisiana Menhaden Company, who reported the following incident:

"The Cities Service tanker Council Grove passed the Louisiana Menhaden Company on June 22 at 7:20 p.m. at such a speed that two 1½-inch hawsers broke on the Jose Carinhas' moored at the docks.

"A barge loaded with solubles was pulled from its mooring, breaking four double 1½-inch hawsers. The barge drifted down against the bow of the 'Frenchman' doing some damage."

Mr. Styron pointed out that his company operates ten menhaden boats out of Cameron on which there are 220 men. Six other men work on the docks and in the plant.

He said he feared that the excessive speed of ships in the future might cause some of the menhaden boats to sink and trap men sleeping below.

Police Jury Secretary Joe Doxey urged the jury to take strong action in the matter, pointing out that the menhaden plants are the "life of this town."

The jury debated the question of whether the coast guard or the sheriff had the authority to control the speeding of the ships.

One suggestion made was that Cameron parish set up its own pilot association and require ships going up and down the channel to use a Cameron pilot while in the parish. At the present time the Lake Charles Pilots Association is in charge of the entire length of the channel.

The jury asked J. B. Jones, Jr., assistant district attorney to write letters of protest to the Lake Charles dock board, pilot association and Cities Service refinery.

Tupper renamed coop president

Tupper was one of the five board members re-elected by acclamation to represent the 3,800-member cooperative at its annual meeting, also held Monday. Others were Eugene C. Todd, Welsh; Gus H. Laurents, Lake Arthur; R. O. Hackett, R. 1, Bell City; and J. W. Doxey, Cameron.

Doxey was also re-elected to his second vice-president post of the board.

J. S. Robbins, Co-op manager, in his annual report to the board and membership, pointed out that 1900 members were knocked off the co-op's electric system three years ago by Hurricane Audrey, but that the system was built back very rapidly.

"We now have 158 more members than the day Hurricane Audrey struck," Robbins said.

"Our system studies are made during the summer months, and we are now studying the needs for 1965," he explained. "Consumer requirements double about every seven years."

* * *

CO-OP MEMBERS were given 24 valuable electric attendance prizes. Names of winners were drawn from tickets in a barrel, immediately following the business meeting.

Prize winners were Clifton J. Doucet, Jennings; Charles Miller, Jennings; Mrs. Eraste Montie, Grand Chenier; Mrs. Maurice Martin, Jennings; V. E. Cattleman elect officers here

By HADLEY FONTENOT

New officers were elected by the Cameron Cattlemen's Association at a barbecue held Thursday evening of last week at the K.C. hall in Creole.

They are Mark Richard, president; J. B. Meaux, vice-president; and Clifford Meyers, secretary-treasurer.

Named to the board of directors were: Archie Berwick, Johnson Bayou; D. Y. Doland, Sr., Grand Chenier; Conway LeBleu, Cameron; Horace Montie, Creole; Eraste Hebert, Sweet Lake; Curtis McCain, Grand Lake; and Horace Mhire, Cow Island.

Two guest speakers from Louisiana State University were present--Dr. George Robertson, head of the animal industry department, and Dr. Stewart Fowler, associate professor.

Dr. Fowler told about the beef crossbreeding program at LSU. Remarkable differences in the offsprings are noted when Brahman cattle are crossed with European beef animals. Such crossbreed beef calves are heavier at weaning, grade high as slaughter calves and gain rapidly on feed and pasture, he stated.

He emphasized the importance of selecting good bulls and keeping only the best heifers for replacements, because a high quality offspring will not be produced by crossing two scrub animals.

HOLLY BEACH NEWS

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

The rain that fell in this area Tuesday night was a blessing. The water situation was getting extremely critical as more and more cisterns dried up. The popular phrase used the past few days was "save the water" or "out of water". The rain eased the situation.

Many hogs are dying and this has been attributed to the drought.

Father Theodore Brandley bade farewell to his parishioners Sunday. He left Thursday to assume his duties at Loureauville. Father Brandley was pastor of the mission here for five years and it was under his leadership that the beautiful chapel was built following Hurricane Audrey.

The blockade runners

Last week's column in the PILOT spoke of the activities of blockade runners and Federal gunboats during the Civil War. While no statistics are, or ever were, available, it appears likely that for every blockade runner captured by the gunboats, a dozen or two others must have escaped detection and seizure.

The need for the goods they carried was great, the profits were large, and there will always be found men who delight in taking such chances to begin with. At any rate, their activities continued right down to the last year of the war.

In May of 1864 there was a real battle between two Federal gunboats lying in Calcasieu Pass and Confederate land forces operating on the west bank of the river. This encounter, which merits detailed description, will be related in a subsequent issue.

An incident of small consequence, except to those on the captured vessel, shows the importance which the Federal navy attached to the blockade. On July 10, 1863, Lt. Commander W. H. Dana commanding the U.S.S. CAYUGA made this report to his superior officer:

Sir: I have the honor to report that on the morning of the second of July I saw a small sloop under sale in the Mermentan River, about 3 miles above its mouth. Sent in boats and captured her. The chase proved to be the sloop boat BLUE BELL, of about 10 tons burden. The cargo consists of 6,646 pounds of sugar and 90 gallons of molasses, in barrels.

The vessel was from Franklin, Louisiana, bound to Calcasieu, and had gone into the Mermentan through mistake as the captain acknowledged. Neither papers nor colors were found on board. The persons on board were as follows, viz: E. Cooper, (American), master and owner; T. Chadwick, claiming to be an English subject; B. Johnson (colored) slave, belonging to E. Cooper, master.

I have paroled the master, E. Cooper, and T. Chadwick, and will send the contraband to the senior officer at New Orleans. The vessel being small, I will keep her here for service and send the cargo to Key West to be disposed of by the prize commissioners.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant.

W. H. Dana

A few days later, there appears another report of the same nature. It reads:

Sabine Pass
July 22, 1863

Sir: I have the honor to report that yesterday I sent in to Calcasieu two boats from this vessel and two from the CAYUGA, to reconnoiter in regard to what appears to be small vessels at anchor up near the lake; the result was the capture of a schooner of about 20 tons (the REVENGE of New Orleans.) She, being several miles from the bar, and aground, it was determined to destroy her by scuttling. Her cargo consisted of 18 hogsheads of sugar, 200 hides, and a small quantity of mineral salt. The boats, having destroyed the schooner and cargo, returned without accident or resistance, leaving the inhabitants of that community undisturbed.

John Madigan, Jr.
U.S.S. OWASSA
Sabine Pass

In October of that same year Lt. Dana made what he must have considered quite a haul, and doubtless complimented himself on a good day's work. One wonders how many vessels slipped by him during that three-month period of seeming inactivity. His report on October 8, 1863, is a rather lengthy one:

U.S.S. CAYUGA
Off Sabine Pass,
Texas

Sir: I have the honor to report that on the morning of the seventh instant, while off Calcasieu River, La., saw a schooner and a sloop, both under sail and both some distance from the mouth of the river, near the lake. While watching their movements, made a sail to the eastward, and stood for her (a schooner trying to get into Mermentan River.) I fired several shots, some of which fell near her.

She went ashore 3/4 of a mile from the beach and dropped her main peak. I manned and lowered boats, and at that time another sail was made on our starboard bow to the eastward. I sent one boat to the vessel which was already aground, and stood for the other sail, which was working inshore, the wind offshore. A rain squall came up and for a time I lost sight of her. When the weather cleared up I saw she was quite a large schooner and in range of bow gun.

After firing one shell, which struck very near her, she immediately went about and the next moment blew up, leaving nothing in sight but some burning fragments. How she could go about in the manner she did without some person on board I cannot imagine. Her boat was shortly afterwards discovered halfway inshore. At the time of the explosion the CAYUGA was within 3/4 to 1 mile of her, and I judge she must have had a large amount of powder on board, from the concussion and great cloud of smoke which hung over her, and her being blown to atoms.

I immediately stood into 2 fathoms of water, as near as I could approach the other vessel which proved to be the PUSHMATAHA from Havana, with a cargo of rum, claret, and gunpowder. On our boat's crew getting on board of her, it was discovered that she had been set on fire by her crew, which had left her a few minutes before and were pulling for the shore. One of a number of kegs of powder had been opened, and a match, which was inserted in the hole, was on fire; this was taken out, and with the keg, thrown overboard by Thomas Morton, ordinary seaman.

The cargo was all taken out by boats, and after working until 4 p.m., trying to heave her off with an anchor, finally set fire to her, leaving 2 kegs of powder, which blew the after part of the vessel to pieces and burned her to the water's edge. The English ensign was found on board the PUSHMATAHA, also her papers. Her muster roll, which contained the names of 2 Englishmen, 1 Italian and 1 Portuguese, was dated Havana, September 22, 1863, and was signed by John V. Crawford, her Brittanic Majesty's acting consul-general in Cuba.

The powder on board was of French manufacture (10 kilograms to the keg.)

A DARK LAND IN 1937

Yes, except for a few brightly lighted islands that were towns and cities, Louisiana was, indeed, a dark land in 1937. Just try to imagine! Only 2,826 (or 1.7%) of the state's 170,216 farms had electricity . . . so essential for progress and decent living.

Because they could not get service anywhere else, outstanding rural citizens, county agents, Farm Bureau leaders, etc., organized member-owned electric co-ops to provide themselves with electricity. They chartered these privately-owned businesses under Louisiana law and borrowed money from REA to build the lines.

Today, the 13 electric co-ops in Louisiana provide 98% area coverage. Furthering the proud record: Of the $55-million loaned by REA, the independent co-ops have repaid nearly $25-million in principal and interest on the REA loans, PLUS $5,809,379.22 IN ADVANCE OF SCHEDULES.

Don't you agree that's a remarkable record deserving the highest praise? Rural electrification has meant millions of dollars for Main Street business, whole new industries, rural development . . . jobs . . . better living for everybody — Town and Country.

- Strengthened the Entire Economy
- Total Rural Development . . . Jobs!
- Helped Everybody—TOWN and COUNTRY

Electric Co-ops Are Owned and Controlled by Your Neighbors

Don't let anyone confuse you. REA is a lending agency in Washington. It lends money to 21 private companies in Louisiana as compared to 13 electric co-ops. The local electric co-op is a private business, owned by those it serves. The electric co-ops are repaying the REA loans in ADVANCE of schedules, PLUS INTEREST, while making immeasurable contributions to productive and decent living for all Louisianians.

LIBRARY LETTER

By Bill Williams

Circulation statistics tell an interesting story for any library insomuch as they reveal the reading habits of the patrons of the library. Circulation in Cameron continues to increase. There has been an overall increase of reading in the parish with the advent of the summer months.

A recent trip to the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area circulated more than 425 books in one day on the bookmobile. Statistics available in the library indicate that the total circulation for the month of June, 1960 exceeds the total for the month of June, 1959 by 900 books.

A look backwards into history reveals that our heritage as Americans roots from many countries. In the field of religion, government, and politics, we owe a great deal to Europe; however, many of our philosophies and our pioneer work in analytical psychology comes from the East.

A most interesting book in your library is "The Importance of Living" by Lin Yutang which is a personal guide to enjoyment. This book is too human to be called philosophy, too honest to be classed with the so called "self help" books. This book is serious, yet gay; naive, yet cynically kind; and has a sense of comedy that is backed by science as well as by the thoughts of the Chinese sages of many centuries; it brings forth the salt and flavor, and tang of life.

"Life doesn't consist of achievement, in making a fortune in the mental sallies of Philosophers or the imaginative flights of poets. Life rather consists in the enjoyment of ourselves and one another, of homes, of rocks, and trees, and stars, and sound, in having a haircut once in two weeks, or watering a potted flower, or watching a neighbor fall off his roof. Life is to be valued in itself because we are living here and now, and not as a means to obtain other ends."

Through the eyes of Lin Yutang, this book distills for the western world the Chinese philosophy of three thousand years, in the hope that it may bring to men and women who have not yet learned, as the Chinese have, that the meaning of life lies just in living itself.

Roland J. (Bolo) Trosclair, local shrimp canner, told the police jury Monday that he is planning to build a 500-foot dock on Monkey Island.

Trosclair said that the dock would not only be for the use of his shrimpers, but that he hoped to work out an arrangement with local business people to permit boats who patronize them to use the facilities, with the cost being paid by the business people.

Salvation Army for Cameron sought

The organization of a Cameron committee of the Salvation Army was proposed by a field representative of the organization at the Lions Club meeting Wednesday.

Walter Brown Currie of Cordele, Ga., said that such a committee would help raise funds for both local and state emergency programs.

He pointed out that the passage by the state legislature removing from the welfare rolls the children of unwed mothers would merely pass the burden on to private organizations such as the Salvation Army.

The Lions Club members said they would study the proposal and look around for people who would be willing to serve on such a committee.

Water getting low on Johnson Bayou

By MRS. M. C. JOHNSON

Due to such long dry weeks, the water supply on Johnson Bayou is becoming critical. Most people report their water is very low and the Koppies and Johnsons are already "borrowing" water from their neighbors. For those who live on the front road from the school toward the bridge, the dust is really the topic of conversation and the object of much work. Older residents report it to be the worst ever due to so many oil field trucks and the increase of Texas traffic.

Sister Pauline and Sister Annette came to Johnson Bayou where they conducted one week of instructions for the children. Following the instructions, Gwendolyn Leger, Lester Hinks, Steven Billiot and Clifton Koppie took their first communion. Donnell Trahan was unable to attend due to an eye operation.

LAST WEEK, REV. Brandley, pastor of the Catholic Church, was transferred to Loreauville, La., and a new church field. His replacement is scheduled to arrive in this parish this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Rutherford have moved from Johnson Bayou to their new home at Holly Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Koppie visited with Mr. Koppie's parents last week. At present, Virgil and Millie Ruth are living in Monroe where she is completing her college education at Northeast State College.

NEXT SATURDAY a picnic has been scheduled as an all day affair. Starting time is 11 a.m. The ground has been cleaned for the occasion. After lunch there will be a recreation time, including a softball game, volleyball, horseshoes, sack race, etc. All those who are young or young-in-heart will enjoy the outing. Don't miss it!

Visitors in the M. C. Johnson home last week were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fuller and daughter, Phyllis, and Ronnie Walton of San Francisco, Roger Walton of Los Angeles, and Bernice Holt of Dallas. Also Mr. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Gertie Root of Lake Charles spent the week on the Bayou. Saturday visitors in the Johnson household were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Johnson and seven children from Lake Charles.

Visiting the Rafael Manuel's last week were Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fontenot of Vinton.

Mrs. Sully LeNormand is home after undergoing major surgery at Memorial Hospital in Lake Charles. Her recovery will take at least six months. Rita LeNormand is spending some time in Hull, Texas with her grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson enjoyed relatives from their former home, Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Tharrington of Snow Hill, North Carolina, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Grant, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tharrington of Newport News, Virginia, made their first trip to this area.

The R. A. Baseball team wound up their season last Saturday when their final game was played against Cameron. Their season closed out with 6 wins and 4 loses and tied in second place.

Mrs. Elvin Donahue has been confined to St. Patrick's Hospital in Lake Charles.

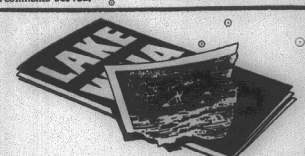
MR. AND MRS. Eddie Jinks and family were on their way to Morse last Sunday when their car collided head-on with another. The accident occurred on Highway 90 last of Lake Charles. The car was a total wreck and the family received only minor scratches and bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Istre have moved back to the Bayou after living in Sulphur for some time.

The Baptist Church will have a Baptismal service next Sunday afternoon.

Junior girls honored at Hackberry party

The Junior girls of the Hackberry Baptist church who learned their memory verses each Sunday for three months were honored at a party in the home of their teacher, Mrs. W. E. Reasoner, Sr., Monday.



The girls were Lana B. Andrews, Tommy Rountree, Judy Landry, Molly and Dolly Reasoner and Ethelyn Barbier. There were also a number of other guests.

Games were played and refreshments served.

Cameron Pilot

Fourth Year--No. 42 | Cameron Parish Pilot, Friday, July 22, 1960 | 10¢ A Copy

SOME ELECTION OBSERVATIONS: Hottest race is between incumbent Eddie Shaheen and Lake Charles Attorney Frank Salter. Shaheen is expected to carry Cameron parish, but probably will have some stiff opposition in Calcasieu . . . both candidates have been going at it strong and furious, both showing up regularly on TV . . . even J. B. Jones, Cameron's assistant DA got into the act, with an appearance on television this week . . . he made a very good presentation, too . . .

And while the seven candidates for the three district judgeships have all conducted dignified campaigns, they have really worked hard at it . . . it is conceded by most everyone that all seven are capable, fair men, all of whom would make good judges . . .

The U. S. representative's race is also turning into a hot battle with incumbent T. A. Thompson caught in the cross fire between challengers Arsene Stewart and Sam Tarleton . . .

Priests exchange assignments here

Two priests of the Missionaries of LaSalette, both of whom are celebrating their 25th anniversary of their ordination this year, stepped into each other's shoes this week.

Father Francis Lanoue, assistant pastor of the Sacred Heart Church, Creole, was transferred to St. Joseph's Church in Loreauville to succeed the Rev. Henry LaChapelle, who came to Creole to take Father Lanoue's place.

Father Joseph Decoteau, who has been named pastor of Sacred Heart, replacing Father A. Gilbert (who has gone to Vinton) has not yet arrived in Creole, and a priest from Sulphur has been assisting Father LaChapelle until he does.

Father LaChapelle is native of Mass.

The Rev. Henry LaChapelle, new assistant pastor at the Sacred Heart church in Creole, comes here from Loreauville, where he had served as assistant pastor of Our Lady of Victory Church and St. Joseph mission since 1959.

He was born in Fall River, Mass., May 22, 1910, and attended school there before entering LaSalette College, Hartford, Conn. He completed his studies in philosophy and theology at LaSalette Seminary, Altamont, N. Y., and was ordained June 15, 1935, at the Immaculate Conception Cathedral, Albany, N. Y.

His first appointment was to LaSalette Juniorate Enfield, N. H., where he taught Greek, English and sciences. He served as assistant pastor in Holyoke, Mass, from 1936 to 1946, and taught French for one year at the seminary in Altamont, N. Y.

He served five years as assistant pastor at Fitchburg, Mass., and then eight more years back at Holyoke. In 1959 he was appointed assistant pastor at Loreauville.

Father LaChapelle also has two brothers who are LaSalette missionaries, and a sister in the order of the St. Joseph Sisters. His sister will celebrate her golden anniversary of the Profession August 15.

WHEN HE CELEBRATED his silver anniversary in Loreauville on June 23, Mayor Forbus J. Mestayer proclaimed it as "Father LaChapelle Day" in Loreauville.

Father LaChapelle will live at the rectory in Creole where he and Father Decoteau both will serve the Immaculate Conception Church at Grand Chenier.

The new assistant pastor officiated at his first mass in Grand Chenier Sunday. Afterwards, he was welcomed at a luncheon given at the home of Miss Oma Miller.

Three running for school board seat

Three candidates are seeking election as the school board member from Ward 2 in the primary election Saturday. This is the only local race in Cameron parish.

An Earlier Day

More on the Civil War blockade runners

By Archie Hollister

In previous columns we have spoken of the activities of the blockade runners in the passes of the Calcasieu and the Mermentau. A similar report concerns the capture of a schooner on the Vermilion River. That may have been, and probably was, the only instance of the Federal gunboats taking a prize there--at least it is the only one recorded--but doubtless many a boatload of contraband slipped by the blockade without detection. Acting Commander L. S. Fleet of the U.S.S. GLIDE made the following report just a month or so before the end of the war:

U.S.S. GLIDE
Off Brahsear City,* La.
March 4, 1865

Sir: In obedience to your order of the 28th ultimo, I proceeded toward Vermilion Bayou. The weather being very bad I did not arrive at the mouth of the bayou until morning. On my way over there, however, I captured a boat and one of three men who, were with her, and he informed me that he belonged to the Seventh Louisiana Cavalry Reserve Corps.

Early on the morning of the third I determined to sound out the channel which leads into the bayou, and while doing so I took on board a rebel deserter, also of the Seventh Louisiana Cavalry who informed me that the blockade runner which you sent me after had gone to sea about a month since, and that she had laid on the bar aground nearly two weeks before getting out. He also informed me that there was another schooner about 9 miles up the bayou, loaded with about 75 bales of cotton, and bound for Havana. I proceeded toward her, and about 11:30 a.m. sighted her across a point of woods under foresail and jib, steering up the bayou. I fired one shot across the point to heave her to. In about ten minutes after that I had a boat alongside of her in charge of Acting Ensign John P. Cole, who reported her scuttled and abandoned. I found a chronometer box on board but no chronometer, no register, crew list, or bills of lading. There was a British flag in her cabin. All the papers found on board I forward to you as I found them. Her name is the MALTA of Belize, though there was evidently been two other different names painted on her stern. I lightened her forward so as to get at the leak, by transferring part of her deck load to my vessel. After temporarily stopping it, I proceeded with all possible dispatch to this place, where I arrived at 8 p.m. today. I found Vermilion Bayou navigable and very clear of trees on the banks as far as I went. The water is very shoal on the bar however, except in southerly winds. I found 11 feet going in, and as the tide was flowing very fast, with a southeast wind blowing fresh, I found 6 feet coming out. I understand from the people living on the banks of the bayou that the schooner was guarded against rebel deserters by five rebel soldiers while on her passage down the river.

This report, when read carefully, brings out a couple of facts of more than passing interest. For one thing, it shows the loopholes in the blockading fleet. That a Rebel vessel should remain grounded on the bar for two weeks without detection is clear proof that the Federal gunboats were strung out pretty thinly along the western Gulf coast; over and over in their reports to higher authority the Federal officers request more men, more ships, and more supplies in order to plub the gaps in their line of blockade. This is to be expected when the main effort of the blockading ships was concentrated along the coast of Virginia, the Carolinas, and Georgia. That was where the culminating battles of the war were being fought, and that was where supplies for the armies of General Lee were most needed. Louisiana was more or less out of the picture by 1865, and although Confederate forces had recovered most of the state for the South, no great effort was made by the Federal government to regain the territory they had once held.

A second condition, hinted at in the report, is the disorganization of the Rebel forces themselves. Commander Fickett speaks of capturing one rebel deserter, and later on he mentions the use of organized Confederate forces to guard against the depredations of deserters. The plain truth is that at no time was the South united in its drive for independence. Had the matter been decided by popular vote in 1861, there is little doubt but the people would have voted against secession in overwhelming numbers. Most of the plain people felt that the war was a war for the benefit of the slave-holding class only; that it was no concern of theirs, and that the dissolution of the Union was a grave mistake. In Southwest Louisiana many of the young men not only refused to volunteer, but actively defied the later conscription laws. Throughout the South, time and time again, Confederate regulars had to be detached from active duty to round up deserters and enforce conscription laws. Jones County in Mississippi not only seceded from the Confederacy and the State of Mississippi but carried on an active little war of their own with the Rebel forces that had to be sent to subdue them. This was not an isolated case either; many other similar instances could be cited.

Of course, the South had no monopoly on deserters and draft-dodgers. New York City and Chicago both staged draft riots, and seasoned veterans of the Army of the Potomac had to be re-called and sent to those, and other Northern cities, in order to restore peace and enforce the provisions of the draft laws.

Had the people of either North or South shown the spirit of whole-hearted cooperation so evident during the first and second World Wars, then the War Between the States could have probably been ended in a year or two at the most.

This spirit of disunion was without doubt more widespread in the Northern States, and it is not at all unlikely that had General Pickett's famous charge at Gettysburg been successful -- and it missed that success by a hair's breadth -- the war effort of the Union would have collapsed then and there. That of course would have been quite gratifying to the Confederacy, but the consequences for the American nation would have been disastrous.

J. B. Jones presented Heart award

Dr. Cecil T. Yancey of Monroe, president of the Louisiana Heart Association has announced that Jennings B. Jones, Cameron attorney, has been awarded the American Heart Association's distinguished recognition trophy.

The award was presented at the Wednesday luncheon of the Cameron Lions Club. Carol Coffee from Lafayette, field director for Southwest Louisiana for the Association presented the award and praised the 1960 Heart Fund performance of Cameron Parish as the best per capita record in the history of the Louisiana Heart Association.

"Mr. Jones, the many dedicated volunteers, and the people of Cameron Parish can be justly proud of the amazing results of last February's Heart Fund Campaign," the director said. "Since Hurricane Audrey, the Louisiana Heart Association withheld the assignment of Heart Fund quotas to the Parish, but the local Heart Council each year made a voluntary contribution without conducting a Heart Fund campaign. This year for the first time since the storm, the local council under the leadership of Jones asked that a quota be assigned and a campaign was conducted. A quota of $440.00 was assigned the local unit and the final Heart Fund contribution of $1556 exceeded that quota by more than 350%".

Coffee presented the award to Dr. Cecil W. Clark, physician advisor to the Cameron Parish Heart Council, who accepted on behalf of Mr. Jones who was unable to attend the luncheon.

"The American Heart Association's award recognizes Mr. Jones active participation in the fight against heart disease which spans five years, and during which he has served as Parish Heart Fund Chairman, Parish Heart Council Chairman, and this year was elected to the Association's State Board of Directors," the director concluded.

Lowery News

The long-awaited showers have become a reality, and the spirits of the people here appear as refreshed as the fields and gardens themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Nowak and children, Dianne, Edward, Jr., and Christopher, after spending a week at the Lacassine Refuge here with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Von Hough, have left for Hinesville, Ga., where they will visit her father before returning to their home in Toledo, Ohio.

Visiting last week in the Truman Collins' home were his mother, Mrs. E. R. Collins, of Plainview, Texas, and his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yates, and children, Allen and Ann, of Lubbock, Texas.

On Sunday the Garys and Sonniers joined other relatives for a barbecue at the home of Mrs. Lodias Vincent.

Guests of Mrs. Mildred Brown last week were her cousins from Gueydan, Mrs. Ellas LeJeune and Misses Marian Ann and Lynn Hartwell.

On Friday afternoon Mrs. Brown entertained in their honor with an ice cream party.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Whitman and children, Michael, Cathy, and Loretta, of Nederland, Texas, were guests of the C. H. Whitmans from Wednesday through Saturday.

Spending Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whitman were their daughters, Miss Carolyn Whitman and Mrs. Joel Landers of Bridge City, Texas. With the latter were her children, Joyce and James.

Miss Margie Whitman, who is spending the summer in Baton Rouge with the Archie Hollisters, became ill last Tuesday and was brought to Jennings Legion Hospital by Mr. and Mrs. Hollister. She was met there by her parents, the C. H. Whitmans, and her twin sister, Martha.

The Hollisters returned that night to Baton Rouge, Margie was hospitalized till the next afternoon. Tests eliminated the fear of acute appendicitis and revealed a case of flu and infected throat.

Monday Margie returned to Baton Rouge with Miss Doris Lockwood, who is engaged in post graduate work at the University.

RELIGIOUS Vacation School in Thornwell started Monday. Children of this vicinity who are in first through seventh grades are attending it.

Lay teachers are in charge this week. Nuns will arrive Sunday to teach the following two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Perry of Orange, Texas, are spending a part of this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Whitman.

Miss Micaela Lasserre of Opelousas has been the house guest of Miss Pat Potter recently.

We cannot resist feeling a thrill over the following story: A thirteen-year-old girl in New York asked that her parents' gift to her when she was graduated from elementary school this spring be a vacation trip to Lowery during the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Riley granted their daughter's request. Monday afternoon, Jean O'Riley arrived by plane in Lake Charles, where she was met by her uncle, aunt, and cousins, the Bernard Hartwells of here.

HOLLY BEACH

Flounders caught in abundance

Many fishermen went home with happy fish stories this week as unprecedented catches of flounders were caught along the ship channel.

A fresh school of jellyfish invaded shallow water and the beach over the weekend causing many burns. Sieners say their catches were nothing but heavy loads of jellyfish.

The highlight of the week pennant goes to the National Democratic Convention. There were grand scale discussion and many sleepy-eyed convention enthusiasts. Most of the rooters here were happy with the outcome.

Showers playing follow-the-leader over the past few days have broken the drought spell and water supplies are now replenished.

Just as living plants grow new branches, the human arterial system may grow new blood vessels to take blood to the part of the heart injured by a heart attack or deprived of its normal supply, the Louisiana Heart Association says.

LIBRARY LETTER

Library has interesting books on the political candidates

By BILL WILLIAMS
Acting Parish Librarian

The year 1960 promises to be one of the most interesting election years in the history of our nation. Students of political theory contend that the oncoming election will occur in one of the most crucial periods that ever marked the eve of choosing a presidential candidate. Prominent leaders from all over our nation have stressed the importance of choosing the "right man".

Through the use of your library, you, as a voter, can go to the polls better prepared in choosing the "right man" by reading the lives of men representing our different political parties as candidates.

By reading James MacGregor Burns' biography, "John Kennedy, A Political Profile," you can study the life of Mr. Kennedy who was named the Democratic nominee to the election on July 15th.

Mr. Kennedy is an author himself as portrayed in his collective biography "Profiles in Courage", a book that was written while the senator was convalescing in a hospital to crrect a disability incurred during World War II. This book is a study of greatness -- the greatness of men who disregarded dreadful consequences to their public and private lives to do that one thing which seemed right in itself.

Books about Republican nominee possibilities are also most interesting. Even though there has been a great deal of question as to whether or not Nelson Rockefeller will accept a nomination, there is still strong possibility that he will be considered by the Republicans. Another man who has been "groomed" by the Republicans for greater heights is Richard Nixon. To gain an insight into the lives of two great men, regardless of your political affiliation, a good book to read is "Nixon and Rockefeller, A Double Portrait" by Steward Alsop.

This book approaches the lives of the two men from an occasional critical but amusing readable study. Your library highly recommends these books about Mr. Nixon, Mr. Kennedy, and Mr. Rockefeller as a means to avail yourself with a uniquely perceptive study of extraordinary men, whose strenths and weaknesses will predictably influence for good or ill, the future history of the United States.

Cameron among parishes showing population growth

Despite the loss of more than 400 residents in Hurricane Audrey, Cameron Parish still was among the 45 parishes in Louisiana which showed a population increase between 1950 and 1960, according to the Department of Commerce and Industry.

Cameron's population jumped from 6,244 to 6,727 during the decade, an increase of 7.73 percent.

Neighboring parishes showed these increases: Vermilion, 4.38 percent; Jefferson Davis; 12.49 percent; and Calcasieu, 58.81 percent.

Nineteen parishes showed population losses. Claiborne, with a population drop of 22.8 percent, was the most severely hit.

The population figures also show that if the present trend continues, within a few more years Cameron may lose the distinction of being the smallest parish population-wise in the state.

Let's Tell Millions of Americans What They're Missing!

And yet, business economists tell us that there is a vast consumer market open for rice sales—a market that is not being exploited:

LET'S PUT RICE ON EVERY AMERICAN TABLE!

According to the U.S. Department of Commerce there are many sections of the United States where millions of people consume less than two pounds of rice per person yearly.

This suggests that a better and bigger selling job for rice can — and must — be done!

'Crip' Moore has fine corn patch in spite of the drought

By HADLEY FONTENOT

It isn't much, only a quarter acre, but it does prove one thing, says Leon (Crip) Moore; plenty of nitrogen placed deep will produce corn in spite of a drought.

The corn above received it's last rain when about knee high. It was sidedressed with approximately 100 lbs. of actual nitrogen (300 pounds of ammonium nitrate) placed about 8 inches deep about 8 inches from the stalk.

"Crip" was accused of irrigating his small patch of corn. "Taint so" he says, as his only source of water is from a cistern and hand pump.

"Crip" also warned the writer that plenty of fertilizer placed deep and good hybrid seed certainly had a lot to do with producing this fine corn in spite of lack of moisture, but don't forget to give him credit for the good tillage and weeding that he did. As a matter of fact it was all done with a hoe and shovel. You might also notice the fine watermelon in the foreground which also benefitted from "Crip's" tender care.

CHEVROLET
Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route
"That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana. "With my previous truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty. . . . I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."
Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. These facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.
"I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

"our GAS air-conditioning is Simply the COOLEST"
Young Miss Priss may never figure out how a gas flame can produce cool air, but she knows the end result — and loves it!
Dad loves it, too . . . especially the low operating and maintenance costs. Central GAS air conditioning actually pays for itself in a few years — in lower utility bills and very minor upkeep expense.
Mother really appreciates gas air conditioning more than anyone else in the family, because she lives with it more hours every day. She likes it because it's so quiet . . . so gentle . . . so vibration-free.
Whether you're building or remodeling, be sure to investigate dependable GAS air conditioning. Ask your home builder, contractor, heating equipment dealer or the gas company.

Man suffers a broken leg in accident Sat.

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

A man suffered a broken leg in an accident Saturday night in front of the "Bon Ton Roule" club near Holly Beach.

The injured man, "Choo" Monceaux, was taken to Carter clinic in Creole and later on to a hospital in Lafayette. He was injured as he stooped down to examine his tires after being pulled out of the ditch.

The driver whose last name was given as Hebert was blinded by car lights. He was on his way to Holly Beach from West Columbia, Texas. Mr. Hebert immediately rendered aid and took the injured man to the hospital.

In another mishap, a car reportedly belonging to a Cameron resident was hit by a car driven by a group of young boys from Sulphur. The car damaged was parked by the Four Corner Teenage Center. The boys fled the scene of the accident and were later apprehended by local deputies.

Birth, medical records needed to get licenses

More than 2000 marriages took place in Louisiana in June, it is estimated, and at least another 2000 in August, the second most popular month for wedding bells. Altogether, more than 21,000 marriages will be performed in Louisiana this year.

A spokesman for the state board of health reminded Louisiana couples planning marriage that they are required by law to produce both birth and medical certificates when applying for a marriage license.

"It is surprising how many people are unaware of this requirement," said Anthony Ciaccio, director of the Board's division of vital statistics, which supplies birth records. "Ignorance of the law in this matter often couses distress and delays," he explained.

When one of the marriage partners if from out-of-state, for example, he must obtain a copy of his birth certificate from the state of his birth. An incorrect birth certificate cannot be accepted by the licensing clerk; baptismal certificates are not acceptable.

Briefly, the law with regard to birth certificates requires all applicants to produce certificates for verification of date and place of birth, race, name of father and maiden name of mother.

Additionally, a medical certificate is required of both parties. It must be issued by a physician qualified and licensed to practice in the State of Louisiana, and be dated within 10 days of the application, and should state that the parties have been examined and are free of venereal diseases.

Members of the Armed Forces stationed outside of Louisiana may be examined by the medical officer in charge of the Base.

Two candidates seeking education board post

The State Board of Education is composed of 11 members: one each from the three public service commission districts and the eight congressional districts. The members elected from the commission districts serve 6 years, while the remainder hold office for 8 years.

All members serve without salary but receive from $10 to $25 per diem, as determined by the board, for each meeting and expenses. The board exercises supervision and control over the state's public schools and over all state colleges and universities, with the exception of L.S.U. The State Department of Education, however, which administers the state's public school system, is established and supervised by the state superintendent of education. The state superintendent is elected every four years at the time of the gubernatorial election.

The terms of the board members are staggered in order that three of the positions are up for election every two years: one from a public service district and two from congressional districts.

This year board members will be selected from the Third Public Service Commission District and from the Sixth and Seventh Congressional Districts.

Fulton Bacon of Basile and Dr. Boyd M. Woodard of Lake Charles are contesting for the board position from the Seventh Congressional District. There will be no Republican opposition for this spot in the November voting. Incumbent Alfred E. Roberts of Lake Charles is not seeking re-election.

He is a board member of the Evangeline Area Guidance Center and of the Evangeline Parish Red Cross Chapter, and a member of the National Vocational Rehabilitation Association.

In business life he is a lumberman, cattleman, farmer and banker.

Dr. B. M. Woodard

Dr. Boyd M. Woodard, Lake Charles physician and former school teacher and principal, is one of the two men running for member of the state board of education from the Seventh Congressional district.

A native of Red River parish, Dr. Woodard graduated from Northwestern State College in 1935. He taught chemistry and science at LaGrange high school, and was assistant football coach and basketball and track coach.

He served as principal of West Lake high school from 1940 until World War II, when he entered the Navy. He served as a lieutenant senior-grade in the anti-submarine division in both the Pacific and Atlantic areas.

Following his discharge, he entered the Louisiana State University medical school, graduating in 1950. He entered general practice in Lake Charles in 1951.

At this time, Dr. Woodard is the vice-president of the Louisiana Academy of General Practice. He is president of the Lake Charles Credit Bureau.

A MESSAGE FROM RODOLPH THERIOT TO THE CITIZENS OF WARD 2, CAMERON PARISH:

I'm seeking re-election as your school board member from Ward 2. Below are a few of the accomplishments of the Cameron Parish School board that I have supported during my 14 years in office.

(1) I have always voted for good salaries for our teachers, bus drivers, janitors and all school employees.

(2) I have supported every improvement for our school system. I worked and voted for the consolidation of the high school grades of the schools of Wards 1, 2 and 3, that our children might have a school plant and up-to-date facilities second to none.

(3) Notwithstanding the tremendous loss suffered by the parish schools in Hurricane Audrey, all our school plants have been rebuilt or repaired and are today in much better condition than before the storm.

I worked closely with the other members of the board and the superintendent in securing federal funds to rebuild the schools after Audrey, without additional taxes to the people.

(4) I believe that school finances should be handled in a business-like way, and as a result of such management, I am happy to say that our school system is in a healthy condition financially.

(5) I have advocated certain improvements at South Cameron high school, including increased shower-room facilities and a guidance center. Plans are now in he hands of the architect for these improvements.

(6) I have supported and will continue to support a first-class school lunch program for the schools of our parish.

(7) I believe a school board member should cooperate to the fullest extent with the other members of the board, and such has been my policy, and I shall continue to pursue such a policy in the future.

Based on my record as a school board member who has served you faithfully, conscientiously and honestly, I humbly solicit your vote and support in the forthcoming election, Saturday, July 23.

I have been a member and leader of the Woodmen of the World Fraternal Life Insurance Society and Knights of Columbus for over thirty-five years.

From 1930 thru 1950 I was actively associated with The Boy Scouts of America. Also spent 15 years as American Red Cross Director of Water Safety and Life Saving and as their fund raising Chairman in 1941.

Voters of the Seventh Congressional District:

Let's Send a Congressman to Washington Who Will Represent ALL of Us — and Not Just One or Two Rich Men!

If we send ARSENE STEWART to Congress, he will:

ARSENE STEWART

1--Maintain a field office in both the Eastern and Western parts of the district to take care of immediate problems.

2--Always be available in Washington whenever individuals or groups from the Seventh District need his help.

3--Use all his influence to maintain Chennault Air Force Base and to reactivate Fort Polk.

4--Try to improve the shrimp and oyster industry in the coastal parishes of the district—and to support existing industries and promote new industries throughout the entire district.

5--Support the working man (as he has in the past) by legislation in Washington and by encouraging both military and civilian construction projects within the district.

6--Hold periodic meetings, with farmers, cattlemen, oilmen, lumbermen, businessmen and all others in the district to help work out their problems.

By the same token, ARSENE STEWART will NOT:

Jeopardize a vital military installation, and the economy of the entire district, because of the selfish interests of any constituent; or shirk his efforts for a greater Calcasieu River Channel to the Gulf.

ABOVE ALL, ARSENE STEWART WILL REPRESENT ALL OF THE PEOPLE OF THE SEVENTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT, AND NOT JUST A FAVORED FEW.

Three area men running for U.S. representative

Louisiana is divided into eight congressional districts, and every two years voters in each district select one U. S. Representative to represent them in Congress. In the July primary, though, only three congressional districts have contested races. No one filed to run against the incumbent representatives in the remaining five districts, and these five congressmen have been certified as the Democratic nominees for the November general election.

In five of the eight districts (the first, second, third, fourth and sixth), the Democratic nominees will face Republican opposition in the general election.

In the Seventh Congressional District, which includes Acadia, Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron, Evangeline, Jefferson Davis and St. Landry parishes, Rep. T. A. Thompson of Ville Platte, the incumbent, faces opposition from former State Senator Arsene L. Stewart of DeRidder and Sam Tarleton, Lake Charles Commissioner of Health and Safety.

Qualifications for U. S. Representative require residency in the United States for 7 years, and a resident and elector of the state's congressional district from which he is elected, in addition to a 25-year minimum age limit. Representatives also receive $22,500 annually.

Arsene Stewart

Arsene Stewart, a former Louisiana state senator, is one of the three candidates for the office of U. S. representative from the Seventh Congressional District.

A native of West Lake, he graduated from West Lake high school, and has been a resident of DeRidder for the past 24 years.

He served as mayor of DeRidder from 1946 to 1954, and during that time was president for one term of the Central Louisiana Mayors Council, an organization of about 30 cities in central Louisiana.

For 15 years, Stewart was employed in the state highway department in the road and bridge divisions. He is now present of the McMahon Investment Company of DeRidder and general manager of Gulf States Advertising Division of McMahon Investment. Stewart served for four years as one of the two senators from the 14th senatorial district. In 1948 he was a delegate to the Democratic national convention in Philadelphia.

He is a member of the DeRidder Rotary club and served as chairman of the savings bond committee in Beauregard parish during World War II.

Sam Tarleton

Tarleton, who was elected in 1957 over two opponents for his present post, was born and raised in New Orleans, and has been a resident of Lake Charles since 1949.

He was a news and sports reporter in Lake Charles and Opelousas for 20 years before seeking public office.

During World War II, Tarleton volunteered for the U. S. infantry and served with the Seventh Armored Division as a machine gun platoon sergeant in the unit that spearheaded the Third Army Drive across France.

He was twice wounded and awarded the Purple Heart and received a number of other military decorations.

He also holds citations from the Civil Defense for his work during Hurricane Audrey, and the Secretary of the Treasurer for selling a million dollars in War Bonds while a patient in the Army hospital.

He is a member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the AMVETS and a member of the Catholic Church.

Tarleton has served as master of ceremonies of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival in Cameron for the past several years.

T. A. Thompson

T. A. Thompson, U. S. Representative from the Seventh District for the past eight years, is a candidate for reelection in the July 23 primary.

He has senority on two important congressional committees, on Public Works and Merchant Marine and Fisheries, and is a member of four subcommittees and chairman of a fifth.

Arsene L. Stewart

Sam Tarleton

T. A. Thompson

A resident of Ville Platte, Thompson had 18 years of experience before being elected to congress.

Among the projects which Rep. Thompson helped put through congress was the 40-foot seaway channel, 400 feet wide, from the Port of Lake Charles to the Gulf. "It is expected that this channel will double the industrial importance of the Calcasieu-Cameron area within the next few years," he states.

He has also worked for a low-level dam in the Calcasieu river above Lake Charles and for the McGee Ben and Toledo dams on the Sabine river to create more power and water reservoirs for industry and recreation.

Other federal improvements in the district during his term office have included new post offices at Lake Charles and Sulphur beginning of work on the interstate highway system, a new bridge and cross the Calcasieu river at Lake Charles.

Ellender and GOP candidates up for senator

Sen. Allen J. Ellender has already been certified as the Democratic nominee for U.S. Senator from Louisiana as no one filed against him this year. His name will not be on the July 23rd primary ballot.

However, Louisiana Republicans will select their nominee for the office in the July Congressional Primary. Two Republicans are contesting for the nomination: William Dane and George W. Reese Jr., both of New Orleans. The winner will face Sen. Ellender in the Nov. 8 general election.

A U. S. Senator must be at least 30 years old, a resident of the United States for 9 years and a resident and elector of the state from which chosen. Senators now receive an annual salary of $22,500.

THIS WEEK

MENHADEN FISHING has dropped off some lately despite the good spell of weather, and it is as well that it has, as we understand that the menhaden companies are having trouble moving their fish products due to a slow market.

Shrimping, on the other hand, remains exceedingly good, with many boats fishing out of Cameron and the shrimp plants all doing good business.

• • •

IT WAS MENTIONED at the Lions Club meeting Wednesday that some Texas with a little extra capital was interested in building a swimming pool in Cameron. We doubt that it would go over commercially, but it certainly would be welcomed by the kids here.

• • •

CONGRATULATIONS to the Cameron parish sheriff's department for the capture of the two Dallas murder suspects and the solving of the camp break-ins in the Gueydan area. It shows that Sheriff Carter and his deputies are on their toes.

• • •

THE CAMERON Optimists have some more wrestling matches scheduled for Saturday night, Aug. 6, in the Cameron recreation center. Ken Cooper will meet Jessie Jiminez in a one-fall 60 minute semifinals; and the winup will be a two out of three fall tag team match with Ken Cooper and Bob Morrow versus Jessie Jiminez and Tony Jiminez.

• • •

AS THE RESULT of the promotion of two district judges and the defeat of a third, Cameron parish will have three new judges serving on the bench when court is held here from time to time.

They'll find that J. Berton Daigle, local clerk of court, has been looking out after their interest. He recently got permission from the police jury to have the jury box and the judge's bench sanded and revarnished. They look real nice.

AN EARLIER DAY

CAMERON PARISH & CIVIL WAR: Rebs capture Yankee gunboats

(EDITOR'S NOTE--With the hundredth anniversary of the beginning of the Civil War approaching, Archie Hollister has been tracing for PILOT'S readers the part played by Cameron parish in the conflict. This week we begin a two installment series on the battle between two Yankee gunboats and a Confederate land force in Cameron parish.)

By ARCHIE HOLLISTER

Beyond any doubt the most exciting event in all of Cameron Parish during the Civil War period was the battle between two Federal gunboats on the one hand, and a land-based Confederate infantry force on the other.

From the reports of the officers commanding the opposing forces we can get a fairly clear picture of the battle itself, but of necessity much that we might like to know is not to be found in those accounts. Speculation here might be pleasant, but it is likely to be useless if not misleading; therefore, it will be best to allow the men who were in this battle to tell the story themselves, with no more comment than may be required to link their separate reports together.

The Federal gunboats involved in the engagement were the GRANITE CITY and the WAVE. The GRANITE CITY was a side-wheel steamer with an iron hull, 160 feet in length and 23 in breadth. She was powered by two steam engines, carried six 24-pound howitzers, one 12-pound rifle pivot gun, and one 20-pound Parrot rifle.

The WAVE was evidently a somewhat smaller vessel, for she carried a battery of only six guns. Like the GRANITE CITY she was a side-wheel steamer, and is referred to as a "tinclad," whatever the term may mean.

No pictures of the two ships are available, but pictures of other vessels of the blockading fleet are, and it is likely that they were all pretty much of the same type. If so, then we can assume that the GRANITE CITY and the WAVE carried masts and sails for auxiliary power as well. Both vessels were of shallow draft, which is why they were chosen for the work; the GRANITE CITY had a maximum draft of five and a half feet, which enabled her to cross the bar at the mouth of Calcasieu Pass without difficulty.

On May 4, 1864, Commodore Palmer, commanding units of the Federal fleet with headquarters at New Orleans, sent the following order to Lt. Loring, commanding the WAVE, then already at anchor in Calcasieu Pass:

Sir: . . . So soon as the object of the expedition has been accomplished you will return to Southwest Pass with the GRANITE CITY and WAVE and report to me by telegraph.

You understand that you were sent there to assist the army in getting stock, and to pick up recruits for the Navy. When, in your opinion, you have accomplished these things, you will obey your orders as instructed above.

. . . You can judge of the situation of affairs better where you are than I can, so you must use your own discretion about leaving there.

Lt. Loring, writing in February of the following year, states the purpose of the expedition more precisely, and gives a detailed account of the entire affair:

". . . (I had been ordered to) proceed to Calcasieu Pass and receive such refugees as may be willing to enter the Navy of the United States, receiving further instructions regarding the expedition from a Mr. Smith, whom I was directed to receive as a passenger.

. . . daylight, April 24 off Mermentau Pass--arrived off Calcasieu about 11 a.m., discharged several shell at the old fortification, receiving no response, steamed into the pass--anchored 2 miles above the mouth of the pass opposite Mr. Smith's house.

. . . GRANITE CITY arrived 2 days later, anchored several hundred yards downstream--guard of 25 soldiers landed from GRANITE CITY and quartered upon east bank.

He also announced that boiled shrimp and other refreshments will be served afterwards.

Four involved in shooting, cutting scrape

Four Cameron Negroes were involved in a shooting and cutting scrape Saturday night, leaving one, Eunice Otis Davis, in a serious condition in a Lake Charles hospital.

The Cameron sheriff's department gave the following sequence of events:

Davis and Raymond Bartie got into a fight at about 7:30 p.m. ouside Cozy Inn, resulting from an argument over attentions that Davis had been giving Bartie's daughter.

Davis cut Bartie on the arm, and the latter then shot at Davis three times with a 22-pistol hitting him once in the stomach. Whitney Bartie, a brother, knocked Davis down with a 2 x 4 board, and Raymond Bartie's son, Eugene, also got into the fight.

David was also stabbed in the stomach during the fray. Originally from North Carolina, he served three months in Rawleigh, N. C, penitentiary for assault with a deadly weapon.

The shooting victim was taken to a Lake Charles hospital, and the Barties were apprehended in Lake Charles where they had gone for treatment of Raymond Bartie's wounds.

All four men have been charged with aggravated battery, according to the sheriff department. Deputies Edward Broussard and J. B. Constance made the investigation.

Cameron only parish with no welfare cutoffs

Cameron parish now has another distinction: it is the only parish in the state in which no families have been removed from the welfare roll under the new laws passed by the 1960 legislature.

Vincent J. Lamendola, welfare director for Calcasieu and Cameron parishes, states that under the new regulations money payments have been discontinued to families in which the mother has had an illegitimate child since receiving public assistance; and also payments are prohibited to families in which the persons receiving help lives with a member of the opposite sex without being legally married.

The director said none of the 194 active cases on the welfare in Cameron are violating these provisions, a fact that speaks well for the parish. He pointed out that in other parishes many families have recently been removed from the welfare rolls because of this.

Welfare payments to Cameron recipients total between $10,000 and $12,000 a month.

The welfare cases in this parish are broken down as follows: old age assistance, 18; aid to needy blind, 4; aid to dependent children, 27; disability cases, 27; and general assistance, 18.

Mr. Lamendola also announced that the resident requirements for receiving welfare assistance will change effective Aug. 1.

The requirements for old age assistance, aid to needy blind and disability will be that the recipient must have lived in Louisiana 5 years during the past 9 years. Formerly it was 3 years out of 9.

For aid to dependent children, the requirement is one year of residence in the state.

And for general assistance the applicant must have lived 6 out of the past 9 years in the state, with the last two years having been continious and immediately preceeding application.

Salter elected D. A.; two in Ward 2 runoff

Frank T. Salter, Lake Charles attorney, was elected district attorney of Cameron and Calcasieu parishes in last Saturday's Democratic primary. Two district judges were also elected, and a third judge's race as well as the Ward 2 school board races will go into runoffs on August 27.

Salter polled 17,107 votes in the two parishes to defeat Edward L. Shaheen, who was seeking a second term as district attorney for the 14th Judicial district.

However, Shaheen carried Cameron parish by almost 2-1, receiving 1288 votes to Salter's 687. In Calcasieu parish the vote was 17,107 for Shaheen and 13,935 for Salter.

Another incumbent, Mark C. Pickrel, 14th judicial district judge for the past 25 years, was also defeated. Lake Charles attorney Clement Moss received 14,584 votes to 13,459 for Pickrel.

In Cameron parish Pickrel had a narrow edge, 933 votes to 912, but Moss led 14,584 votes to 13,459 in Calcasieu.

C. W. (Bill) Swift was elected district judge in Division C, with 17,114 votes to 12,344 for his opponent, Vance Plauche. In Cameron parish the vote favored Plauche 937 to 833 for Swift.

In the third district judge's race, Division B, there will be a runoff between Cecil Cutrer, 13,682 votes, and John Stewart, 10,323 votes. The third man in the race was C. C. Jaubert with 6,004 votes.

In the seventh congressional district election, Rep. T. A. Thompson, with 40,596, will face former state Sen. Arsene Stewart, who drew 26,913 in the runoff. Sam Tarleton, Lake Charles city official, drew 14,787 votes.

Thompson had a big lead in Cameron parish with 1020 votes to Tarleton's 591 and Stewart's 323.

In the seventh district state board of education election, Dr. Boyd Woodard of Lake Charles won with 43,032 votes to 28,184 for Fulton Bacon of Basile.

The Cameron vote was 1271 for Woodard and 354 for Bacon.

Arrests solve camp break-ins

The arrest of five Kaplan youths by Cameron and Vermilion sheriff officers last week has solved a rash of recent camp break-ins and thefts in the two parish area.

Arrested were the following: John Conner, 18; Clifton Conner, 29; and Joseph Conner, 14, all brothers; Mahlon Joseph Hebert, 23; and Larry Guidry, 16.

They were charged with breaking into a camp and boat owned by Mrs. Lovenia Beinvenu at Marceau's landing near Gueydan in Cameron parish and stealing a 22-rifle, two 50-foot lengths of plastic hose, a flashlight, alarm clock, and about 60¢ in change.

Cameron Deputies Charles Murphy and Carlos Ratcliff and Vermilion Deputy Nelson LeJeune picked up a lead on the boys in Kaplan, obtained a search warrant and found some of the items at the boys' home.

The three older youths were arrested and brought back to the Cameron jail. The two younger ones were turned over to Vermilion juvenile authorities.

The boys admitted some six other camp break-ins in the Gueydan area, Deputy Murphy said, stealing such items as groceries, meat, shot gun shells, gas, tires, fishing tackle, etc.

Vermilion authorities have placed a detainer on the three in the Cameron jail, and they will be returned to Vermilion after they stand trial here.

Workman killed in accident on Johnson Bayou road

Shirley Artego, 25, of Ville Platte, an employee of T. L. James and Company was killed almost instantly last Sunday morning while at work on the blacktopping of the road between the Johnson Bayou school and the Sabine Lake Causeway.

Artego, who was operating a dirt hauling machine, fell off the machine and was apparently run over by one of the wheels.

Ronald Istre of Sulphur, operator of another road machine, told deputies that he and Artego had been engaging in some horseplay, bumping into each other with their machines. The force of Istre's machine hitting Artego's from the rear apparently caused the latter to fall.

An inquest was scheduled to be conducted by Dr. Stephen Carter, parish coroner, at 8 p.m. Thursday.

"Lord's Herd" begun here

The first of a group of cattle that will become known as the "Lord's Herd" was dedicated last Saturday by men of the Fairview and Sweetlake Methodist churches.

The cattle were branded "LH" after a brief dedication and prayer service Saturday afternoon at the McNeese state college farm.

The "Lord's Herd" is a part of the Methodist church's "Lord's Acre" program, and all offspring and proceeds from the cattle dedicated Saturday will go to the Men's club of the two churches.

Five cows and two calves were branded with "LH" in the services, but the original will have 12 cows.

This is the second such program initiated in the Methodist church in this country. Homer Daughenbaugh got the program started here after learning about it from Carlton Corbin of Fittstown, Okla., originator of the idea.

The Oklahoma project was started two years ago and today has 37 head.

The services were conducted under an oak tree by the cattle stalls by Rev. Hubert A. Gibbs, pastor of the Fairview and Sweetlake churches, and two former pastors. They were Rev. W. F. Howell of the Lake Arthur Methodist church, who was pastor when the program originated, and Rev. Garland Dean of the Vinton Methodist church.

In addition to the cattle dedicated by members of the Men's club, other cattle are being donated by some non-members. The greatest percentage of members of the two small churches are engaged in farming and cattle raising.

Murder suspects caught

The capture in Cameron Saturday of a young couple wanted for the slaying of an elderly Dallas, Texas, woman has been credited to the suspicion of their neighbors in a local rooming house, and the alertness of two Cameron deputies.

Arrested at about 8:30 p.m. as they left the Grand movie theatre were Samuel Lewis, 20, a native of Rosepine, La., and Dorothy Virginia Imes, 20, alias Dorothy Lewis.

(Local officials said they did not believe the couple were married as earlier reported, as they then had not been able to secure a marriage license from the local clerk of court earlier in the week because they did not have birth certificates.)

Lewis admitted to deputies of Sheriff O. B. Carter that he had stabbed to death with a butcher knife, Mrs. Spencer C. Frost, Sr., 77, in her home in South Dallas.

Chief Deputy Charles Murphy said Lewis told him that he and his woman companion had gone to the home of Mrs. Frost on the night of Tuesday of last week to steal her car so they could leave town. (Lewis had done some work on Mrs. Frost's home earlier.)

He broke into the house while the woman waited outside. Deputies said Lewis told them the woman awoke while he was going through her purse and he stabbed her with the knife. Her throat was also cut.

The couple then headed for Cameron, where Frost had worked in a shrimp plant for a short while prior to Hurricane Audrey, and took a room at George Authement's boarding house.

• • •

SATURDAY EVENING Deputies J. B. Constance and Edward Broussard were asked to deliver a message to a person believed living in Cameron. In their search for this person, they went to the rooming house, where some of the other roomers told about the suspicious actions of the Lewis couple.

The pair always backed their car into the parking place so as to hide the license plate, the deputies were told. They took the license number and radioed the Calcasieu parish sheriff's office to see if the car, which had a Texas license plate, was stolen.

The Calcasieu office radioed back that "all occupants of the automobile are wanted in connection with a Dallas murder."

The deputies then took up a wait in front of the theatre and arrested the couple as they left the movie.

Lewis and his companion admitted the murder, the deputies said, and signed a waiver giving permission for them to be taken back to Dallas. Dallas police came and picked them up the same night.

Both were charged with murder.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Pilot received the following letter from Mr. and Mrs. George Savoy of Lake Arthur about their trip to Canada where they had gone to see the country and fish. They were accompanied by her niece, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Byland.)

Dear Editor:

We left Port Arthur, Texas, Monday, July 11, going through Texarkana, Little Rock and St. Louis. We visited Mrs. Savoy's brother in St. Louis and saw Shaw's Garden and Forest Park.

From there we crossed the Mississippi river three times at different places before reaching Port Arthur, Canada on Thursday. We spent two nights and a day there. We saw Chippewa Park and drove up on Mt. McKay about seven hundred feet. The city of Port Arthur is supplied with water from a lake on told of this mountain. The water is pure, needs no purification and flows down without pumps. It is very cold—in fact almost ice cold when you draw it from the faucets.

Saturday we left Port Arthur and drove to Thunderbird Resort on Lac Des Mille Lacs where we spent four days fishing. Fish were plentiful and we caught our limits. We dared not get out of our cabin at night as bear were seen eating at the garbage dump and moose were roaming the forests.

We left for home Thursday by way of Des Moines, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Ft. Smith and enjoyed the scenery in the Ozarks, reaching home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Savoy

LIBRARY LETTER

By Bill Williams

"Persons who read more write better, speak better, think better and know more. Naturally, then, they are more successful in life". - George

With knowledge in all fields expanding at a remarkable rate, and with competition growing keener for top positions in the business and professional world, the importance of reading must be carefully reassessed.

The cultural value of reading is well established. Likewise, the pleasures of reading have been widely extolled and it is because of these very practical reasons that both young and old should spend more time reading.

Fortunately, or unfortunately, competition starts at an early age in our highly competitive society. There was time in America when the accepted formula for success was hard work. Today the formula calls for a college education for the very young or for the older a good background in all fields that has been gained through self improvement by reading.

A simple truth that all of us need to recognize is that in the near future, our colleges will not be able to take care of all those students who are planning to go to college and that a rigorous screening process will be employed to sort out the students who are best prepared. Certainly one's reading background will play a large part in determining those students who will or will not be accepted.

* * *

THOSE OF US who have made friends with the book world know the values of reading. Two interesting books in your library expressing the love of others for books are "I Love Books" by John D. Snider and "Books Alive" by Vincent Starrett. Each of these books express the authors' profound love for books that have in some way or another influenced greatness in the lives of people.

Look up when planting trees advises coop

That tiny seedling will become a big giant in a few years, so be careful that it isn't planted near electric power lines.

So many people spend a lot of time and money planting shade trees only to have them cut down by utilities who must put public service above individual interests in some instances.

"No utility, cooperative or commercial, wants to cut anyones' prized shade tree," explains J. S. Robbins, Manager, Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc.

"It isn't good public relations; and, besides, we love trees as much as anyone. It is also expensive to the utility as well as irritating to the member or consumer," J. S. Robbins added.

Any electric utility official will agree that most folks apparently just don't think in terms of future growth or tomorrow when planting trees. Often, they are planted directly under low-hanging home service wires, or along extremely high voltage transmission and distribution lines.

Maybe that $5 or $10 plant is only three-feet high today; however, 10-years hence it may be 40-feet high. It may even grow to cover an area larger than the average small lot.

"A good many outages are caused by shade trees growing into lines, limbs breaking off during high winds, or from lightning.

"Not only is this sometimes expensive or an inconvenience to the consumer, uprooted trees or broken limbs can be great safety hazards when dangling into power lines," J. S. Robbins emphasizes.

Rice crops to be smaller

PRODUCTION 1 PERCENT BELOW LAST YEAR

Production of rice in Louisiana in 1960 is forecast at 12,824,000 hundredweight (7,916,000 barrels), the Louisiana Crop Reporting Service announced today. This is 1 percent below the 12,910,000 hundredweight produced last year but 4 percent above the 1949-58 average.

Prospective yield per acre is indicated at 2,800 pounds (17.3 barrels), 50 pounds below the record yield set last year.

The crop generally has made good progress. Land preparation and seeding were slowed by wet weather early in the season and dry weather later but by July 1 virtually all acreage had been seeded. Condition of the crop generally was good and early planted acreage was in the boot stage. Salt water intrusion was beginning to be a problem in some coastal areas owing to prolonged dry weather. Rainfall was needed to replenish supplies of irrigation water which were getting low.

A rice crop of 53.1 million equivalent 100-pound bags is indicated for 1960 in the United States as a whole, just slightly below last year. The harvested acreage is somewhat above last year but lower yields were offsetting. The yield per acre of 3,328 pounds is 21 pounds below the record yield last year.

National allotments are unchanged from last year and the acreage seeded is unchanged in Mississippi, Arkansas, and Texas. California increased acreage 1 percent and Missouri is up 5 percent.

Jonesville site visited by DeSoto

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles on Louisiana's tourist attractions prepared by the Louisiana Tourist Bureau and published by this newspaper to call attention to the state's many interesting features and attractions.)

Jonesville, the largest town of Catahoula Parish, is thought to occupy the site of the Indian village referred to as "Anilco" by Hernando DeSoto who stopped here in 1541.

A marker is located near the bridge on U. S. Highway 84, dedicated in June 1955 by the Department of Commerce and Industry. Anilco lay in the angle formed by the confluence of the Black and Red Rivers, where Indians had built several large mounds on an area of 200 to 400 acres, enclosed by an earthern embankment 10 feet high and 10 feet wide.

The largest mound is about 80 feet high, the second highest such mound located in North America. This great mound is believed to have been the residence of the chief, and probably served as a temple of sun worship.

Following DeSoto's visit, the mounds seem to have been deserted except for nomadic tribes that occasionally used the site as a camping site. Some historians name the mound as the site of the last stand of the Natchez Indians against Governor Perier in 1730.

Port official answers ship speeding charge

A protest concerning damages caused by ships going up and down the Lake Charles ship channel at excessive speeds has been answered by director of the Port of Lake Charles, who stated that the only real solution is the enlarging of the channel to 40 by 400 feet.

In a letter to the Cameron police jury, Lions club and other interested parties, Director John H. Groh stated that the enlarged channel "will prevent such a drastic drawdown of water from the channel when a supertanker is proceeding through the channel in a normal fashion."

But Ed Swindell, manager of the Louisiana Menhaden Co. which had filed the protest, stated that vessel which caused damage to boats moored at the company's Cameron docks on June 22 was no supertanker and was not proceeding in a normal fashion.

However, Mr. Swindell said he felt that the protest would serve to slow the vessels down for awhile. He said that legal action might result from the damages.

The ship involved was the Cities Service tanker "Council Grove".

There are few, very few, that will own themselves in a mistake.—Swift

Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham

Jo Anne Roux Weds James Cunningham

The First Baptist church in Cameron was the setting for the wedding of Miss Jo Anne Roux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Roux Sr., of Cameron and James Otis Cunningham of Camden, South Carolina.

The Rev. G. P. Fournet, pastor, officiated at the ceremony which was held at 7 p.m. on July 12. Mrs. John McKee was soloist and Mrs. Gary Kelly was pianist.

White and pink gladioli, and caladiums formed the background for the exchange of vows with white carnations and greenery arranged on an archway.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported silk organdy over net and taffeta, fashioned with a basque bodice and full gathered skirt which flowed into a chapel train. Hand clipped chantilly lace and iridescent paillettes outlined the round neckline and appliques of the same lace re-embroidered in paillettes and pearls enriched the bodice and skirt. Self-fabric gauntlets accented the tiny scalloped sleeves. Her floor length veil of illusion net edged in lace was held to a tiara of seed pearls and sequins.

Carol Sue McClelland of Cameron, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of ice blue taffeta and net over taffeta. She wore a matching headdress of taffeta and net, blue gloves and carried pink chrysanthemums in a bouquet arrangement.

Jo Ann Rutherford and Darladene Ratcliff, both of Cameron were bridesmaids. Their gowns, hats and bouquets were identical to the honor attendant.

Marlea Arlene Roux, Cameron was flower girl. She wore a pink gown, blue flowered headpiece, and pink costume jewelry.

Ring bearer was Allen Baker, Cameron, and veil carriers were Lercial Fontenot, who was gowned in white, and Rickie Wolfe, who wore a white suit. Richard McClelland, Cameron was candlelighter and also laid the white aisle runner.

Best man was Daniel Roux, Jr., brother of the bride. Charles Primeaux and Richard Taber were groomsmen and John Ashburn and Ernest Taber were ushers.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. Pink roses, white mums and candelabra were used in decorations about the home. Serving in the house party were Mrs. Hadley Fontenot, at the cake, Mrs. Warren Nunez and Mrs. Burton Fusilier at the punch bowl.

The bride's mother received, wearing a pink lace dress with pink hat and other accessories in white. Her corsage was of pink flowers.

For a wedding trip to Nuevo Laredo and Monterrey, Mexico, the bride chose a navy blue serrano dress trimmed white and navy blue Prestige Schiffli embroidery and a navy duster. For her corsage, she wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is employed by the Calcasieu Marine National bank and the groom is associated with Noble Drilling company. The couple will make their home in Cameron.

Farmers Home loans total $256,930

Loans totaling $265,930 were made by the Farmers Home Administration to farm families in Beauregard, Calcasieu and Cameron parishes during the 1960 fiscal year, according to Linward J. Manuel, the agency's county supervisor.

Borrowers repaid $233,254 during the year on loans of all types obtained from the Farmers Home Administration. Their repayments on loans came mainly from the sale of rice, beef cattle and dairy products. Improvements which these farmers have achieved, Mr. Manuel said, include better dairy herds, better housing for themselves and their livestock and equipment, improved pastures, and other improvements that assure better net income.

La. calf crop to be slightly larger

A 1960 calf crop of 895,000 head is expected, according to the Louisiana Crop Reporting Service, some 2,000 head more than in 1959. However, the 1960 crop will be 83,000 head, or about 10 percent, greater than the 1949-58 average.

REBS CAPTURE—

. . . from 27th labored diligently, preparing to fulfull the objects of the expedition as I had understood it from Mr. Smith, collecting horses, saddles, and all the arms that could be found among the citizens.

The bridge across Mud Bayou was destroyed—a small bridge across Oyster Bayou was destroyed. Mr. Smith (who) was an old resident of the place assured me that it was impossible for the enemy to cross Mud Bayou after the destruction of the bridges and that it could not be rebuilt at that season of the year.

Gathering refugees to drive cattle and form a force for protection was one of our objects. Scouts were scattered throughout the surrounding country to inform them of our presence. Scouting parties were on the alert, day and night, endeavoring to capture rebel soldiers and disaffected citizens. Pickets were stationed at prominent points by day and night, and a boat in addition at the head of the pass by night. To do all this labor there were but 25 soldiers and 8 or 10 refugees who had returned from New Orleans with Mr. Smith, and belonged to his party. Ten more were added, and only 10 during the time we remained, from April 24 to May 6, the day of the capture. Many prisoners were brought in and confined to the GRANITE CITY.

A boat expedition was sent to the head of the lake, returning with two prisoners. Mr. Smith was a very visionary man and required constant watching to keep him at the required work. Each evening I met him and perfected the required arrangements for the following day's duties and stationing night pickets, who were partly composed of refugees —using refugees for picket duty was a necessity.

. . . engineer's department was engaged in cutting wood for an emergency (supply of coal was short) . . . detected sentry asleep while on watch on upper deck. He was placed in irons for future Court-Martial.

The night previous to the capture I met Mr. Smith near his house, as usual, to arrange pickets for the night. I always consulted him, because he and his sons had control of the refugees, the sons generally taking charge of the parties and acting as guides for the scouts. Four points were picketed that night, viz: one near the bayou to the northward, one to the southward and westward on the Mermentau road; one on the west side near Mr. Thayer's house, in the Sabine Pass road, and one at the head of the pass, at the lake, by a boat from the GRANITE CITY. A scouting party to consist of 10 men with the lieutenant in command of the squad, to examine the country 15 miles on the Mermentau road, toward the pass of that name. All of the parties were necessarily small, and we experienced considerable difficulty in securing even a small number for each station. A citizen in charge of one of the picketing parties came on board with me and was furnished arms for that service . . .

On the morning of the sixth of May, at daybreak, I was awakened by the report of artillery, proceeding from an attack by the enemy; discovered them by the smoke posted well upon our starboard bow, abreast of the GRANITE CITY, upon the west side of the bayou. The banks were raised somewhat above the level of the surrounding country, and the whole covered with tall prairie grass, which entirely prohibited us from seeing the enemy, judging of their position by the smoke.

A large number of sharpshooters were behind the bank, firing toward the GRANITE CITY.

We'll have to forsake the lieutenant's report for a little here in the interests of brevity. The WAVE attempted to help the GRANITE CITY, but since she did not yet have steam up, the ship was not maneuverable, and more or less helpless. Only when the WAVE swung favorably with the tide could her guns be brought to bear. The Confederate artillery on shore, with a few well-placed shots, wrecked the drum and boilers of the vessel so that getting up steam was out of the question. At this juncture the GRANITE CITY surrendered, and the whole force of the Confederate guns was turned upon the WAVE. Lt. Loring, in the best tradition of the service, continued the now unequal battle. His report continues:

The port bow gun was a Sawyer rifle, for which the only projectile on board was a percussion shell, which, with the difficulty of training it to fire across the forecastle, rendered it but of little use. The other bow gun, a 32-pounder, was struck at the muzzle and split 4 feet, rendering it useless. The enemy, in sweeping around to get astern of the WAVE, was discovered and treated to canister from the howitzers, and I afterward learned that they suffered severely.

. . . Finally the enemy obtained a position upon our starboard bow and quarter, and opened a cross-fire upon the ports, lying concealed in the grass and so far aft and forward that our guns could not be trained upon them, even when loaded, which had been a very difficult operation for the cross-firing at the ports. At this stage of the action, believing it impossible to save the vessel, I ordered the destruction of all munitions of war; all muskets, pistols, revolvers, cutlasses, percussion primers, percusion caps, boarding spikes, etc. The paymaster's safe and signal books were thrown overboard; the guns spiked . . . (and more damage inflicted upon the ship, including the flooding of the magazine.)

. . . The force of the enemy consisted of the whole Sabine Pass garrison, with the exception of ten men left as guards, of 4 pieces of heavy artillery, and 350 sharpshooters.

The guard of soldiers stationed on the opposite bank of the river from the point of attack gave us no assistance.

The enemy subsequently reported the WAVE struck by 65 artillery shot, besides grape, considerable of which was used. Their loss, by report of the rebel surgeon, was 20 killed; no mention was made of wounded. We were permitted to take all of our personal effects, and were well treated while in the hands of our immediate captors.

Bandsmen needed for Army bands

There is a critical shortage of bandsmen within the Fourth Army Area, according to SFC Hal A. Bonesio, local Army recruiter. Young musicians can fulfill their military obligations and also further their musical careers at the same time, he said.

Interested persons should contact Sgt. Bonesio at the Hackberry post office on Wednesday mornings, or call him collect at HE 9-9190, Lake Charles. Sgt. Sparks is available at the Cameron post office on Thursdays.

Here is historic photograph

Among the buildings destroyed by Hurricane Audrey in 1957 was Holly Beach's unique quonset hut Catholic chapel. Before Father Theodore Brandley departed for his new assignment in Loreauville recently, he loaned the Pilot this photograph of the interior of the old chapel. It is quite a contrast to the modern chapel that has been built since the storm.

Police jury refuses to act on the appointment of new HD agent here

The Cameron parish police jury refused to make any action Monday on the appointment of a new parish home demonstration agent to replace Mrs. Iva Free, who was fired by the Louisiana State University Extension Service.

County Agent Hadley Fontenot told the jury that Miss Patsy Granger, who taught at the Sweetlake school several years ago, had been hired for the job, but that the police jury and school board, who pay a portion of the agent's salary, would have to approve the appointment.

The school board, meeting in a separate session at the school board office, did so without comment, but the jury flatly refused to take any action either of approval or disapproval.

Hackberry Juror C. A. Riggs offered a motion that the matter be tabled to a future date stating that the extension service had not consulted the jury when it fired Mrs. Free, and that he didn't see why they bothered to ask their approval in hiring her replacement.

In reply to a question by Mr. Riggs as to why Mrs. Free had been fired, Mr. Fontenot said that she had been unable to work with her superiors in the state office of the extension service. He said that more detailed complaints had been made against her but that he was not authorized to go into them.

"I think it's something personal," Mr. Riggs replied. "All the people in my ward got along with her."

Horace Mhire, Grand Chenier juror agreed: "I'm like Mr. Riggs, many women in my area liked Mrs. Free and asked me why they didn't come out and give the reasons for firing her."

Other jurors agreed that Mrs. Free was well liked in their areas, and that many people were aroused about the firing.

County Agent Fontenot said he would not argue the fact that Mrs. Free had done some good work in the parish, but that the extension service was not known for letting people go without reason.

He said that Mrs. Free was told of the reasons why she was being let go, but that these reasons had not been made public because the extension service didn't want to get into a controversy.

"It stands to reason," he said, "that if you can't get along with the people above you, your organization will fall apart."

Mr. Riggs said that many people had gotten the idea that the jury was a party to the firing of Mrs. Free, and that he, for one, wasn't going on record of approving anyone to replace her.

Fontenot stated that he did not think the extension service would send any replacement to Cameron unless she was approved by the jury.

"We stand to lose a very good woman," he stated, referring to Miss Granger, whom he said had an offer of a position in another parish. He said that unless action was taken this month, the parish schools would open in the fall with no agent to work with the 4-H club girls.

A proposal that the jury approve the appointment of Miss Granger, but at the same time voice their disapproval of the firing of Mrs. Free was dismissed.

Jury members said they wanted to make it clear that they had no objections to Miss Granger, but that they did not feel that they should take any action.

Mr. Fontenot said that he would try to get District Extension Agent E. R. McCrory to come to the parish to talk to the jurors to try to work out some sort of solution to the problem.

Proposed new agent is area native

Miss Patsy Granger, who has been tentatively hired as the new Cameron parish Home Demonstration agent, is no stranger to the parish.

She was raised in the Big Lake area just over the line in Calcasieu parish, and one of her first jobs was as a teacher in the Sweetlake elementary school.

Later she secured her degree in home economics from L.S.U. and was named assistant home demonstration agent at Ville Platte. Two years ago she was named H. D. agent for St. Landry parish to replace an agent who went on sabatical leave.

This agent returned to her post this past year, and Miss Granger remained on in Opelousas as associate agent.

Miss Granger has a number of relatives in the Grand Lake area. If her appointment is approved, she plans to rent a home in the town of Cameron.

Cameron Pilot

FOURTH YEAR - NO. 44. CAMERON PARISH PILOT, AUGUST 5, 1960 10¢ A COPY

Permanent vote registering OKed

A permanent registration of voters for Cameron parish was approved by the police jury Monday, after they were told that many parish voters would be knocked off the registration books by a new state law if they failed to do so.

Under permanent registration, a voter needs to register only once, instead of every four years as under the present system.

Rep. Alvin Dyson told the jury that a new state registration law which goes into effect the first of 1961, would require all voters to be able to read and write. Although it was passed primarily as a segregation bill, the law would apply equally to all voters, white or colored, and many people now voting in the parish would no longer be able to do so, he said.

Mr. Dyson said that if permanent registration was approved by the parish, then all voters registered by January 1 would remain on the voting lists and would not be effected by the new law.

Jury President Eraste Hebert said that permanent registration was proposed to the parish several years ago but that the jury had not taken action on it then because it was new and untried.

C. A. Riggs, Hackberry juror, wanted to know if it would have any effect on persons living elsewhere who are still voting in the parish.

"I know of four guys who haven't lived in Hackberry for ten years who are still voting there."

J. B. Jones, assistant district attorney, said that situation could be taken care of by any voter who cared to register an official complaint in such matters.

The jurors unanimously agreed that permanent registration was a good thing for the parish, and upon motion by Roland J. Trosclair it was approved.

Details of the new registration system will be announced later.

Hospital contract given to Dyson

A $364,413.13 contract was awarded to Dyson Lumber Co. of Cameron Friday by the Lower Cameron Hospital board of supervisors for the construction of the new 25-bed Lower Cameron Hospital between Cameron and Creole.

Dr. Cecil Clark, board supervisor, said that the board is still waiting for approval for Hill-Burton federal aid for the hospital, and that a work order will not be issued for about 60 days to make sure the funds are available.

Dyson Lumber Co. was lowest of seven bidders on the project.

Proposals asked on lease of Sabine causeway fill

BY JERRY WISE

ABOUT 50 persons from Cameron parish—members of the cattlemen association and their wives—attended a barbecue given by the Vermillion Cattlemen Association on Pecan Island Sunday. Hadley Fontenot reports that they were well fed and entertained. The new Pecan Island road got a good workout too.

WAYBURN LABOVE, who has quite a collection of marine life on display at his service station, got a new specimen for his collection recently—a good size lobster caught by a shrimp boat off the coast here. He says that lobsters are not too plentiful here, but are just as tasty as anywhere else.

BARNEY KORNEGAY of Cameron, who attended the national Scout Jamboree at Colorado Springs last week was named junior assistant Scoutmaster of his troop while there. Congratulations, Barney.

BUSINESS IN Cameron parish during June was 7.9 percent better than a year ago and 4.9 percent better than in May, according to the Louisiana Business Review. And although local merchants have noted a tapering off of sales, they agree that things are a lot better than last year.

* * *

WE WISH TO apologize to Police Jurors Eraste Hebert and Vian Theriot about an omission in a recent issue of the Pilot. We stated in a story about the proposed blacktopping of the Front Ridge road that the two were opposed to the project.

What the story failed to say—a portion of a paragraph was accidentlly left off—was that they did so because they were not sure funds were available for the project.

Both jurors stated Monday that they had received a lot of criticism from the folks back home because of their apparent opposition to the road. Both stated that they were highly in favor of the blacktopping, if and when the financing can be secured.

* * *

AT MR. MILLER'S suggestion, the jury adopted the following procedure for the leasing:

(1) Proposals on the leasing will be advertised for in both the Cameron and Port Arthur newspapers for thirty days. Prospective leasers will be asked to put up $25 "good faith" bonds, submit written proposals and appear before the jury in September to explain exactly what they would do with the fill if given the lease.

(2) The jury, which reserves the right to reject andy all proposals, will be free to accept what it considers the best proposal.

(3) The final draft of the lease would be presented to the jury for approval in October, and then turned over to the Sabine Causeway Committee for its approval. This committee is composed of three members of the Cameron police jury and three members of the Jefferson County, Texas, commissioners court.

(Although Cameron parish has the authority to do what it wishes with the causeway fill as it is on the Louisiana side, Jefferson County is being given some say-so in the matter through its members on the Causeway committee, since the causeway was a joint undertaking of Cameron parish and Jefferson County.)

If the causeway committee approved the lease, it would be signed in October or November. If the committee had taken no action by the end of November, the lease would automatically go into force.

The jury also included the following provisions in the lease:

(1) No gambling or any violations of Louisiana laws will be permitted on the fill, the lease to be nullified if any such violations are found.

(2) A 300-foot right-of-way would be reserved for the highway, which is expected to be taken into the federal highway system at a later date.

Jury members said they understood that there were several other parties beside Rosen and Clark interested in the lease.

Yankees stumped by term "police jury"

The movie, "Libraries For Louisiana", was filmed by the state library in Cameron last year to show how a library demonstration works. Recently the library received the following letter from Alice M. Cahill, assistant director of library extension, Massachusetts Department of Education:

"Many thanks for the opportunity to preview the film 'Libraries for Louisiana'. All of us were unanimous in its praise. All too many library films are amateurish productions. Your film is quite the opposite. We feel that it could be used in Massachusetts to illustrate services of this division . . .

"We are curious, however, about the duties of a 'Police Jury'. It is not really a part of the police force, is it?"

Miss Sarah Irwin Jones of the Louisiana state library staff replied:

"Yes, we have 'police jurymen', 'parishes', and 'Cajuns' here. Louisiana jury members are elected, each ward being allowed members according to population. They form the parish (county) governing body.

"The term 'police' come from their first function, historically. When the State was divided into parishes there was the question of enforcing law and order in these newly established political units. Appointed by the governor, not elected as today, these men functioned in isolated territory, and they had unquestioned authority.

"Substituting for pastor, doctor, midwife, advisor to the lovelorn, social worker, deciding on names for babies, locating escaped slaves, controlling Indian trade, were but a few of the early jurors' self-imposed duties. It is said in a little book WHY LOUISIANA HAS PARISHES, POLICE JURYMEN, RED BONES, CREOLES, CAJUNS that these law enforcement officers had gold badges which first read 'Peace Officers,' then 'Police Officers' and later 'Police Jurymen'."

Ernest Mhire dies Wed. in L.C. hospital

Ernest Mhire, 53, Grand Chenier farmer, trapper and carpenter, died at 12:55 a.m. Wednesday at Lake Charles Memorial Hospital where he had been seriously ill for several weeks.

He is a native of Cameron parish.

Mr. Mhire is survived by his wife and two children, Melvin and Wilda Mae, of Grand Chenier; four brothers, Horace, Norris, Edison and Edwin, all of Grand Chenier; and two sisters, Mrs. Alfred Theriot of Creole and Mrs. Pete Rutherford of Grand Chenier.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. Joseph Decoteau, at 10 a.m. in the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Grand Chenier. Burial was in the Cow Island cementery under the direction of O'Donnell Funeral Home.

Chenier homes to get natural gas

Some 100 homes in Grand Chenier will have natural gas for heating and cooking purposes by the time cold weather set in this fall.

Pat Chaffin, manager of the Lake Charles office of the United Gas Corp., announced this week that work has begun on a five or six mile gas line running from the Mermentau River bridge to the Carl McCall home.

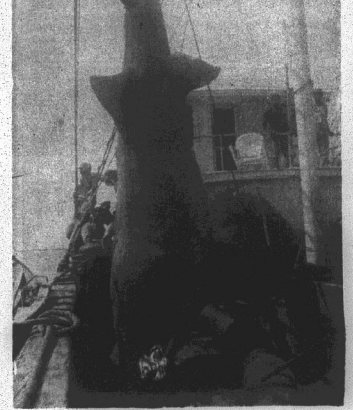
The gas will come directly from offshore gas wells in the Grand Chenier area.

Mr. Chaffin said about 95 percent of the homes and businesses on the new line have signed up for service, which is expected to begin in about 30 days.

Each home owner must pay for his yard line and connection, and will pay for a portion of the main line. This latter expense will be refunded local customers as more customers are added to the line in the future.

Because of the small number of homes being served, the rate will be slightly higher than for more populated areas, Mr. Chaffin stated.

Gas bills will be mailed from Lake Charles and Chenier customers may either pay their bills by mail or at the United Gas office in Cameron.



Mr. Chaffin also stated that Creole residents may get natural gas next year when the company builds some new field lines in that area.

Welfare visitor here gets grant

Ralph Campbell, welfare visitor here in the Cameron welfare office this past year, has received a graduate scholarship to Louisiana State University and will be leaving here Sept. 7.

Campbell has received a Louisiana Department of Hospital mental health scholarship and will be working on his master's degree.

Eunice Otis Davis, Cameron Negro who was shot, stabbed and hit over the head in a fracas here two weeks ago was released from a Lake Charles hospital Tuesday, brought back to Cameron and charged with aggrivated battery by the sheriff's department.

THIS ONE DID'T GET AWAY

This monster of a sawfish, estimated to weigh several thousand pounds and 15 or more feet long, was caught in the nets of the menhaden boat "Commander" last week. Capt. William E. Wade suffered a deep gash on his hand from the fish's teeth when he attempted to untangle it from the net. The crew cut off the four or five foot sawlike beak and threw the rest of the fish back overboard.

Road bonds are studied here

Cameron parish is looking into the possibility of issuing up to $500,000 in revenue bonds to finance road construction and possibly a new Cameron ferry.

The bonds would be retired with revenues which the parish receives from the Road Royalty Fund. This is the parish's share of the oil and gas royalty which the state collects in the parish and which is set aside for road and bridge projects.

Assistant District Attorney J. B. Jones told the jury that the parish received $147,756.40 from this fund in 1958-59 and $162,103.90 in 1959-60. Of this amount, $68,775.35 was used this past year to pay off bond obligations on the Hug-the-Coast road, leaving a balance of more than $90,000 against which bonds could be issued.

Mr. Jones was asked by the jury to ask State Treasurer Pat Tugwell's opinion on how much the parish could bond, with the Road Royalty Funds as backing.

Other parishes are following this procedure, the jury was told.

Two proposals were made for the use of the money from the road bonds if issued:

(1) Jurors Roland J. Trosclair and C. A. Riggs proposed that the Front Ridge Road between Cameron and Oak Grove, and several roads at Hackberry be blacktopped.

(2) Police Jury Secretary Joe Doxey suggested that the funds be used to match those of the state and that a 40-car ferry be secured on the ship channel at Cameron.

Mr. Trosclair objected to the ferry proposal.

"I don't think Cameron ought to put up a bridge or ferry on a state highway," he declared.

Mr. Doxey pointed out that the ferry bottleneck was keeping many people from coming to the parish.

The following compromise was reached: the parish will propose to the state that it will put up funds for the 40-car ferry if the state will agree to take over and blacktop the Front Ridge road.

Jurors Vian Theriot and Eraste Hebert said they had received some criticism because they had been quoted in the Cameron Pilot as being opposed to the Front Ridge road blacktopping.

"We're not against the blacktopping," Mr. Hebert said. "We just wanted to be sure where the money was coming from."

(Juror Theriot commented that the Pilot was a "joke" in his ward and people there just read it to see what was next in "propoganda.")

DA to push refuge bill

A bill which would enable Cameron parish to receive part of the royalty from the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge is due out of the Senate interior affairs Monday morning.

The Cameron police jury this week voted to pay the expenses of District Attorney Edward L. Shaheen to Washington to work for the passage of the bill during this session of Congress.

Assistant District Attorney J. B. Jones, who went to Washington several months ago with Shaheen to get the ball rolling on the bill, said he would not be able to go this time due to the press of work.

Shaheen has an appointment with Democratic presidential nominee, John F. Kennedy, and will discuss the wildlife refuge bill with him.

Shaheen was instrumental in bringing Kennedy to Lake Charles last October as speaker at a $10 a plate dinner. Shaheen said he will see Kennedy sometime Monday.

The U. S. Senate is due to reconvene Monday, the House of Representatives the following week. Both houses were recessed during the political conventions.

The bill which is due out of committee Monday waived the federal government's right to claim violation of the Rockefeller reserve deed of donation to Louisiana if a percentage of oil royalties is paid to the Cameron parish road fund.

The Rockefeller refuge located in southeast Cameron and southwest Vermillion parishes along the Gulf coast was donated to Louisiana nearly 40 years ago by the Rockefeller foundation. The foundation made certain stipulations on the state, which if not carried out, would automatically cause the land to revert to the Rockefeller foundation.

Under the Rockefeller grant, oil royalties from the refuge would go to the upkeep and adding of facilities of the refuge itself. If there was an excess, it was to go to the state treasury, for use in schools and welfare agencies.

Shaheen explained that under the Louisiana constitution ten per cent of oil royalties from state-owned lands are to be kept in the parish of origin for use in road-building and maintenance.

However, the state has never paid this ten per cent to Cameron or Vermilion parishes for fear that under the terms of the Rockefeller donation the land would return to the donors.

Moreover, since the original grant, the Rockefeller foundation has turned its rights over to the U.S. government. The bill due out of committee Monday would allow the state to pay Cameron money from the Rockefeller refuge oil royalties without endangering the state's title to the refuge.

HUNTING SEASON SET--Clip this out and stick it in your wallet, to answer queries and settle arguments until the official Commission regulations are printed. Here they are, with species, season dates, bag and possession limits, in that order: DOVE: Sept. 3-20 and Nov. 12-Jan. 2, 12 & 24; SNIPE: Dec. 3-Jan. 1, 8 & 8; WOODCOCK: Dec. 7-Jan. 15, 4 & 8; RAILS AND GALLINULES: Oct. 1-Nov. 19, 15 & 15; QUAIL: Nov. 25-Feb. 15, 10 & 20; SQUIRREL: Oct. 1-Jan. 10, 8 & 16; RABBIT: Oct. 1-Feb. 15, 8 & 16; DEER: The general season and the game management areas will all open on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, and run for various periods of times; ARCHERY HUNTS: the West Bay, Evangeline, Jackson-Bienville, and Union game management areas will be open to bow hunters, with any deer, rabbits, & squirrels legal games, for five weekends--Oct. 21-23, 28-30, Nov. 4-6, 11-13, and 18-20.

Note that we were allotted, by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, five more days of dove season this year, and two more birds per day in the bag. Shooting hours are still noon until sunset. The crop of locally raised doves looks very good once again, with the dry weather we've had this spring and summer perfect for the nesting birds. Heavy rains, and the winds that often go with such rainstorms, cause high mortality to young doves in their flimsy nests, as well as to unhatched eggs.

Notice also that ALL general deer sessons and deer hunts on game management units will begin at the same time, something which many, many hunters have advocated. Popular demand, plus the recommendation of the game biologists, has moved the squirrel opening back up to October 1, and the limit is changed back to 8 per day.

* * *

The budget recently adopted by the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission has in it an item that will put the game wardens back in uniform, which is the first step toward regaining for that branch of the Commission some of the respect lost during the past four years. Many of the individual game wardens did heroic work during that period in the face of tremendous odds against them, but no enforcement program can succeed without sincere, dedicated, competent, and unrelenting supervision and encouragement from the top.

The two hottest bass holes in the state right now are Lake St. John, between Ferriday and St. Joseph; and the Lacassine Refuge ponds west of Jennings. Plastic worms, and the deep-running plugs like the notched River Runts, Swimming Minnows, and Bayou Boogies are poison when worked around the piers and cypress trees on St. John. At Lacassine a top-water lure dropped into a pocket at daybreak is an invitation to disaster--like losing a plug, for instance.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

WOULD LIKE TO BUILD FISHING RESORT HERE
600 N. Brighton St.
Burbank, Calif.

Dear Jerry:

I would like to subscribe to the Cameron Parish Pilot. In that way I may be able to sell my land and the landing which I bought from Sterling and Ray Vaughan through the information I get from your newspaper.

We moved out to California after losing out in the hurricane. I did not have money to build back. The Red Cross, government and parish refused to give us aid and we had no insurance.

If I could get sportsmen from the area to back me I would like to go back and get up the resort as I had planned it. My plans were already OKed by the Army Engineers for the docks of a yacht basin, to charter party boats.

By the way, I am going to offer my 3½ acre landing for $15,000 if you know of anyone who may be interested in a good location.

More on battle of Calcasieu Pass

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Archie Hollister this week continues his story of how a force of Confederate infantrymen captured two Federal gunboats, the GRANITE CITY and WAVE, in Calcasieu Pass at Cameron during the Civil War.)

By ARCHIE HOLLISTER

Not only were the crews of the two gunboats captured, but also the garrison referred to in Lt. Loring's report, and the crew of the picket boat which had been sent to the head of the pass the night before. They were absent during the battle, but were captured upon their return. It would appear that the captives were marched to Sabine and then sent on to Houston by train, for we have a report from Lt. Loring, dated May 9, and written at Houston. This was but three days after the capture and they certainly could not have walked from Calcasieu Pass to Houston in that length of time.

According to official reports, casualties on both sides were relatively light. The Federal forces had 17 men wounded, two of whom died subsequently; the Confederates had 8 killed and 13 wounded; three of the wounded died later. Such are the official reports, but there is a mystery here. In his second report relative to the battle Colonel Griffin, commanding the Southern troops wrote:

. . . At the commencement of the battle a hospital was established at a vacant house to which all wounded were carried as fast as possible. As soon as the wounded of my command were disposed of, they lent all their aid to the Federal medical officer. Only one capital operation was performed upon the soldiers of my command, but there were nine capital operations performed upon the officers and crew of the GRANITE CITY. I thought it very strange when I went on board the GRANITE CITY that there were so many seriously wounded and so few dead. It will now be explained. Five bodies have washed ashore, to which weights had been attached and thrown overboard. How many more dead were thrown overboard of course will never be known . . . The probability is, therefore, that some 15 or 20 of the enemy were killed in the late battle.

Here is something that needs explaining, and yet no explanation is forthcoming. Nowhere in the reports of the Northern officers is mention made of this disposition of the dead, and one is at a loss to account for it. Certainly Colonel Griffin could not be mistaken, and just as certainly no responsible officer would report such a thing to his superiors if it were not true. And what advantage was to be gained by such an action, assuming that the Federal officers ordered it, or even permitted it? It is a puzzle.

We have Colonel Griffin's second report of the battle, but his first report has not been found. This is most unfortunate, since we would expect him to give as detailed an account of the actions of his men as did Lt. Loring of the WAVE. How did he get his heavy artillery past MUD BAYOU with the bridge destroyed? How did he dispose of the pickets who were stationed along his line of march? It is logical to assume that he followed the beach from Sabine Pass to the Calcasieu, since that appears to be the easiest approach, but did he? Or did he place his command in small boats and skirt the beach? Given the right combination of weather and a moonless night he could have done that without much danger of detection. Or did he use both methods, sending the cannon by boat and moving his infantry by foot?

Why did the 25 soldiers on the east bank avoid the fight? One would hardly think that the Calcasieu was so wide at that point as to be beyond the range of their rifles.

And one also wonders about the Union sympathizers, and the attitude of their former friends and neighbors once the power represented by the presence of the Federal gunboats had been disposed of.

The reaction of old Admiral David G. Farragut to the loss of two gunboats of his command is worth noting here. The Admiral is chiefly remembered for the thunderous reply he made to a junior officer who warned him of Rebel torpedos during the hotly contested Battle of Mobile Bay. At least, the story that comes down to us has the Admiral shouting out, "Damn the torpedoes! Full steam ahead!" In reporting the capture to the Secretary of the Navy Farragut wrote:

Sir: I have just received . . . two letters, herewith enclosed, one written by Acting Master Lamson, of the GRANITE CITY, and the other by (a surgeon on the WAVE,) from which it appears that they had come to the conclusion, as most of these gentlemen do, that there is no danger in the enemy's country as long as you do not see it. They were lying without steam or any precaution of any kind against attack, and the enemy, about 300 infantry and 4 pieces of artillery, opened upon them at the distance of perhaps 100 yards. They say that each vessel made a most gallant defense, but finally had to surrender, having so many killed or wounded, while the letters show that there were only ten wounded on board the GRANITE CITY, two of whom have since died, and eight wounded on board the WAVE, all flesh wounds. This was the desperate fighting that caused them to surrender. The enemy on shore were without cover of any kind. The commander of the WAVE fought a gun himself and fought 40 minutes longer than the GRANITE CITY.

Two days after the capture of the gunboats another Federal warship steamed up the Pass. Aboard her was Major J. Simpson, of the Second New Orleans Volunteers, a unit of the Northern Army. His report shows that he was not yet aware of the battle that had been fought.

Sir: I arrived at Calcasieu Sunday, 8th instant, at 7 a.m., on the steamer ELLA MORSE, Captain Pepper--crossed bar--entered river--suspicious, stopped boat 500 yards from GRANITE CITY--dipped flag--boardside from GRANITE CITY--ran down river--GRANITE CITY throwing shot and shell at us for ½ mile--then attacked by sharpshooters from either shore--pilot wounded--Captain Pepper took wheel and ran boat out--we know nothing further.

On May 10 the captain of the NEW LONDON, U. S. Navy, approached the Pass. He had a message to deliver to the captain of the GRANITE CITY and he too was unaware of the fact that the GRANITE CITY was now a Rebel prize. He reports:

. . . anchored outside about 5 miles from GRANITE CITY at 11:30 a.m., . . . and tried to communicate with her by signals, but the weather being misty could not make out her answer, and sent a boat with . . . dispatch, under the charge of executive officer, Acting Ensign H. Jackson, accompan-

Cameron jurors not in favor of Breedlove firing

W. A. Breedlove of Natchitoches, secretary of the state police jury association, who has been under fire by various public officials since the legislature met, got some support from the Cameron Jury Monday.

The local jury declined to pass a resolution sent to it by the Calcasieu parish jury asking that Breedlove be fired.

Breedlove aroused the ire of some jurors and other officials by various statements made before legislative committees at the legislature which some jurors claimed did not reflect the opinion of the police jury association.

State Rep. Alvin Dyson said that Breedlove had become upset over a segregation bill which gave juries the authority to change to a different type of government should Negroes be elected.

"He thought the legislature was trying to abolish police juries," Mr. Dyson said. "He made a mistake, but we all make a few mistakes, and it's no reason to fire him."

The police jury agreed.

Thank You!

To my many friends, my heartfelt thanks for the wonderful support given me in the recent primary election.

I earnestly solicit your continued support, advice and counsel in the second primary, and in turn, pledge my continued full-time services in Congress for all the people of the Seventh District.

Do You Remember?

TWELVE YEARS AGO

NOV. 21, 1948--It was brought to the attention of the Cameron Lions Club that fishermen from other parts of the state are dredging oysters in Cameron waters and taking them to other ports for sale, whereas this area has been condemned by the State Board of Health.

It was also brought out that the ferry over the Calcasieu River at Cameron is in a deplorable condition in that it is dangerous for crossing and requires continuous use of a pump to keep it afloat. As school children cross this ferry twice daily, the club viewed this situation as an emergency and voted to take the matter up with the highway department immediately.

My sincere appreciation to the people of Cameron Parish for their kindness and vote given to me in the recent election for District Attorney.

Bolo holds out for--and gets 5 street lights

Roland J. Trosclair got five new street lights for the town of Cameron Monday from the police jury -- but it wasn't easy.

Both jurors C. A. Riggs and Vian Theriot objected to the new lights, stating that the jury had started on a program that had no ending, and that each community ought to take care of its own lights.

Trosclair's motion on the lights failed to get a second.

But that didn't stop him. He kept bringing the motion up from time to time, and finally, Archie Berwick, who recently got some lights for Holly Beach seconded the motion, and it passed 3 to 2.

. . . Why Thousands of Your Rural Neighbors Who Wanted —DESERVED—A Better Life.

Only 1.7% of Louisiana's Farms Were Electrified in 1937

Agriculture — by far — is Louisiana's greatest industry. It would amount to little without electricity. But rural electrification has done far more than create a revolution in agricultural productivity and better living on the farm. It has truly helped EVERYBODY.

Think of the immeasurable contributions to Louisiana's progress (more jobs, industries, main street business, recreational facilities and opportunities) born of the noble "area coverage" ideal of electric cooperatives. That ideal is simply: Service to ALL Who Need and Want Electricity, Regardless of Social or Financial Standing.

In 1937, only 1.7% of the state's farms and rural homes had electric service. Today, the 13 Louisiana member-owned electric co-ops provide 98% area coverage with competitive rates. That's a record without parallel in history.

Don't let anyone confuse you. Electric co-ops are private enterprises, owned and controlled by thousands of your rural friends and neighbors. The non-profit co-ops merely borrow money from the REA (just like millions of home owners borrow money from the FHA) and they are repaying the loans in ADVANCE of schedules, plus interest. There isn't a single REA employee in all of Louisiana.

Mrs. Johnston back from trip

By MRS. TOM TAYLOR

Mrs. Celia Johnston, a native of South America—now residing at Chalkley Oil Field, recently returned form a six-weeks visit in Lima, Peru, where she visited a nephew, and her brother whom she had not seen for forty years.

Mrs. Johnston wanted to visit her old home and the farm where the missionaries lived but the altitude is so high she decided against it. She visited the ruins of the Inca Indians; the old museums, the large cathedrals decorated with gold, silver and mahogany, the flower gardens in the mountains, San Marcus University which is the oldest in the Western Hemisphere; the port of Callao, and many other interesting places.

She intended to stay longer but due to humid cold weather (it is winter there now) and as people live in unheated stone houses, she became ill and had to stay in her room most of the time after the first two weeks. She flew back home by jet which only takes six hours from Lima, to Miami. Mrs. Johnston was met in Miami by her son Max.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Johnston is recuperating nicely and was well enough to attend the Sweet Lake Methodist Church last Sunday.

• •

MR. AND MRS. Max Johnston are very proud of their latest purchase - 2½ acres of land with some very beautiful trees, mostly full grown oaks. They bought the land from Gus Menard.

Mrs. Will Beard, who underwent surgery at Memorial recently, is now back home and able to be up and about.

Mrs. M. Walding was admitted to St. Patrick's last Thursday week for surgery. The operation was successful and she is getting along nicely.

Beginning this week, Wanda Breaux, our Sweet Lake Reporter, will be very busy with her church work and asked to be relieved as reporter. Wanda is a member of the Sweet Lake Catholic Church.

Mrs. Walter Helms, assisted by Mrs. Leo O'Bryan and Carolyn O'Bryan gave a Coke party July 26, honoring Miss Sybileen O'Bryan, bride elect of Marsh Henshaw III, at the Helms home. Approximately twenty-five guests attended.

Recently Mrs. Max Johnston visited her mother, Mrs. S. S. Doland, in Grand Chenier, and together they drove to Lake Arthur to visit friends and relatives, among these were Mrs. Effie Hollister and Mrs. Lavara Clayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Faulk had as their supper guests recently, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ransom and sons of Maplewood.

Among those from Sweet Lake to attend the wedding of Miss Lucy Gosset and Leon Duhon were Mrs. Nolton Richard and Mrs. Abie Duhon.

The Sweet Lake Land & Oil Co. egg producers and employees enjoyed a picnic Sunday at the Sweet Lake Community Center. Games were played and music was furnished by Lyons Breaux and Isaac LeDoux. Approximately 32 persons were present.

Thursday, July 28, County Agent Hadley Fontenot accompanied by Mervyn Taylor, Claude Eagleson, and Lyons Breaux attended the Annual Field Day at the Rice Experiment Station in Crowley.

Lyons Breaux, Roy Guillotte, Mr. and Mrs. Dulva Breaux and Mrs. Raymond Fusilier drove to Port Neches, Texas last week to attend the funeral of their uncle, Mr. Robert Guillotte.

Mrs. W. Dave Haas of Bunkie attended worship service at the Sweet Lake Methodist Church last Sunday, Mrs. Haas is the wife of Colonel Haas who owns a hunting camp near the church.

Colonel Haas gives monetary support to the Sweet Lake Methodist Church as well as their presence. He and his wife, several years ago built a new church building in Bunkie which was presented to the church in memory of their son W. David III who was killed in an airplane accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Helms accompanied by her mother Mrs. Bob Robertson and a cousin Mrs. Merle Bush of Fluker, left last week for Florida where they will enjoy a few days vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Placid Chesson of Lake Charles, formerly of Sweet Lake, who were vacationing in California recently visiting in the home of their youngest daughter, the Gene Stanleys, returned home last Tuesday. Their daughter and baby son, Danny, came home with them for a four week visit, during which time L/Cpl. Stanley will be taking his regimental training.

The Chessons report that they thoroughly enjoyed their vacation which was highlighted by a visit to Disneyland.

While convalescing recently, Mrs. Celia Johnston was made very happy by a visit from three of her very close friends: Mrs. Ellen (Grandma) Cox, her daughter Bessie Goodman, and granddaughter Carolyn Callahan.

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. Bessie Goodman were her brother and his wife, the T. J. Coxs of Van, Texas and their son T. J. Jr., and wife Katherine of Denton who have just finished college there and will be teaching in Craine, Texas this coming term.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Clement Demarest last week were their three grandsons, John Demarest, Thomas and Keith Worthington all of Lake Charles.

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

"Making hay while the sun shines" is no literary phrase to Blue Badon and his helpers. Blue, who is overseer for the Macom Ranch, is trying an experiment which may prove helpful to local cattlemen.

A patch of what is commonly called "salt grass" was cut and baled for hay. The hay was tested, and proved highly nutritious especially in protein value. Around 3,000 bales were stored for winter use.

If this experience proves successful then catlemen can really "make hay" as salt grass abounds on the coast.

Gulf crabs were about the only thing seiners could catch over the weekend. There were no complaints as gulf crabs are a delicacy and not too plentiful.

The jelly fish situation has subsided but there are still a few burns.

The absence of news last week was due to a series of circumstances. First there was the shock of Shirley Ortego's death. Shirley was well known and had many friends in this area as he had been working here for several months. The community extends its sympathy to the Ortego family of Mamou.

Second we had an overnight stay in St. Patrick hospital with son Tommy with an appendicitis attack. The attack did not become accute, so we were discharged Monday. And third, that four letter word--work.

The Arlene Stanley - Rodney Seaford wedding is announced for Saturday September 3 at Holy Trinity Catholic Chapel, Holly Beach at 9 a.m. Our many friends who cannot be reached by invitation from lack of address are cordially invited through this medium.

Why We Are Sure of EVERLASTING LIFE

Of all the questions that confront a human being, none is so important ... none so perplexing ... as:

What happens after death?

A few will contend that there is no life hereafter ... that man ends his days in a blank nothingness like animals. But for most people, there is a natural and instinctive hope that life on earth is only the first step toward a more joyous eternal life to come.

This instinctive hope, however, carries with it no conclusive proof that there is a life hereafter, and no obvious "blue-print" showing how to attain it. Because of this, many are bewildered — uncertain of the earthly way of life that will determine their eternal destiny.

Catholics, of course, do not claim that they alone are capable of having a greater knowledge of eternity than is available to any one else. But where some may be confused and uncertain, the Catholic finds certainty in his Church for that time when "the night cometh that no man can work."

You may hear it said that this is only a blind and superstitious faith ... that Catholics are merely "whistling in the dark" ... that the Catholic Church doesn't know any more about God's plan for our destiny than does any one else.

On the contrary, Catholics believe that the way of life prescribed by Jesus Christ is God's Own plan for our salvation. We believe further that Christ established the Catholic Church to perpetuate His teaching — and administer His Sacraments ... and that it has done so from the time of Peter down to this very moment.

It is often said that the faith placed in Christ by Catholics ... and by other Christians, too ... is unwarranted by facts and reason. A powerful answer to this will be found in our pamphlet: "The Way To Everlasting Life ... The Catholic Church." Even though you may not be interested in the Catholic Faith, this pamphlet will help you better to understand God's plan for your life.

We invite all people of good will to write for a free copy of this pamphlet. It will be mailed in a plain wrapper and nobody will call on you. Write today ... ask for Pamphlet No. KC-20.

Library has important books on today's education system

by Bill Williams
Acting Parish Librarian

The American Educational System has experienced a "microscopic eye" within recent years. The lawyer, the minister, organized groups of civic and social workers, laymen from almost every field of endeavor, and the noted specialists are analyzing the system with a critical eye comparing our system with that of Russia and other major European countries.

Hardly a major magazine has missed the opportunity to capidalize upon the suitability of this subject for its reading public during the past two years. Two years ago, Life Magazine devoted a large portion of several successive issues to this subject.

One needs only to look around to determine that a great deal cannot be wrong. Our status in the world brought about by technological and scientific advancements by people educated in our system is indicative of an institution as old as any other in our country that merits praise along with scrutiny.

This "miscroscopic eye" is certainly not one to bring about an atmosphere of worry and disillusionment in that constructive criticism actuates improvements, and in our case, such improvements will lead to greater heights of accomplishments in all fields of education.

As a parent and as a citizen, you will play some part in this improvement either directly or indirectly in your own community. Be prepared by acquainting yourself with two books on the subject in your library, "The American High School Today", by James B. Conant which is truly a first report to interested citizens and better known as "The Conant Report" is a penetrating analysis of the problems and needs of our high schools. This book gives the answers to you on some of the things that can be done to challenge the "microscopic eye".

Dr. Conant's study of the problem should certainly be an authoritative one in that he has been a college professor, departmental director of certain college departments, a member of the General Advisory Committee of the Atomic Energy Commission, U. S. High Commissioner of Germany and later an ambassador to Germany. Presently, he is engaged in a study of the American high school under a grant from the Carnegie Corporation administered by the Educational Testing Service of Princeton, New Jersey.

Another book, published by the Bureau of Educational Materials and Research in cooperation with a series of studies from Louisiana State University, "Public Education in Louisiana After 1898," is similar to Dr. Conant's book except that the approach localizes the conditions to Louisiana.

WHY SHOULD I BECOME A CHISTIAN?

A MAN asked, "Why should I consider Christ as my master?"

His Christian friend quoted two verses from the Bible, "How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation?" and "We see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned a price? No he did not pay too with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man" (Hebrews 2:3,9).

This raises two big questions: How much has Christ done for us? Are we sinners really worth saving?

Christ left heaven and came into the world. He was born in a borrowed stable, the divine son of poor but honest earthly parents. He grew up in a small community and knew the thoughts, the joys, and the sufferings of his neighbors. He called a dozen humble-spirited men to be his disciples, and sent them to go forth and turn a sinful world in the right direction. He was given an unjust trial, crucified between two thieves on a rugged cross, buried in another man's grave, and raised again on the third day. So goes the oft-repeated story of Jesus Christ, the only begotten Son of God.

What does all this mean to the world? What does it mean to you? It means that Christ was willing to give up everything to bring salvation to people who will believe. The angels in heaven could not do this for sinful man. Only the Son of God, whom God made a little lower than the angels for our sake, could do it.

Are we human beings, sinful as we are, worth all that Christ wants to do for us? Yes, we are worth it. Did he pay too great great a price.

God thought enough of man to breathe into his nostrils the breath of life. We must be of special interest to God.

God thought enough of man to make him master over the earth and its resources. He must have a great deal of confidence in man.

God was willing to send Christ into our world to show his love for man. Only infinite love could do that. Since the time Adam sinned and was driven from the garden of Eden God has been trying to convince sinful, rebellious, ungrateful man that he is worth saving, that he is capable of accepting salvation, and that there is a place in God's eternity for persons who trust in God. Not only is it true that Christ was made a little lower than the angels; it is also true that man is intended to be lifted up by the same Christ so that he may have a place in heaven with the angels.

Go to the Baptist revival near you. Give yourself to this Christ and to service in his church.

Barney attends Jubilee

(EDITOR'S NOTE--Among the more than 50,000 Boy Scouts who attended the Fifth National Jubilee Jamboree near Colorado Springs, Colo. last week was Barney Kornegay of Cameron. Here are some of his experiences, as told by the scribe for the Calcasieu Area Council.)

By JOHN W. FENERSTEIN

We arrived in Colorado Springs by chartered train at 3 p.m., Wednesday, July 20. This Jamboree City was composed of thousands of tents spreading over 2,000 acres below Pikes Peak.

The Jamboree population was 56,078 scouts and scouters to make it Colorado's fourth largest city. Built for one week of service, the city was governed by the Scout Oath and Law. Some idea of the immensity of the city can be imagined in the 1,500,000 gallons of water consumed per day, or the 86,350 qts. of milk consumed per day, or the 1,330 steers, or 27,300 chickens necessary for two of the meals.

Three Skill-o-Ramas designed to show scouts from different sections of the United States and other nations crafts of their local region were held. Our troop demonstrated splices and lashings in the Pioneering section. There were booths of handicraft work, various types of cooking including clam bakes, smoked bear meat, etc. and dances from such places as Hawaii and Japan. One New England troop even demonstrated the making of Witch Hazel brooms.

The years of planning paid off with such examples as of entering and leaving the giant amphitheatre in an hour and thirteen minutes.

As a climax to the opening show including a drum and bugle corp, a band, an address by the President of the Boy Scouts of America, Dr. Arthur Shuck, and a narration of American heritage with live scenes by James Arness, star of the television series "Gunsmoke", a message arrived by Centennial Pony Express from President D. D. Eisenhower.

Bookkeeping was stenuous here with 293 boys named Jones, 318 named Williams, 689 named Smith, and 7 John Adams. Telephone calls back home went out at the rate of 10,000 per day from 120 booths. The Post Office system handled 1,500,00 pieces of mail including a crate of horned todes and a box of alligators.

Traffic controlers admitted 100,000 cars before 6 p.m. Sunday without an accident. The highest ranking Jamboree staff cook appeared to be Donald C. McKay, Rear Admiral, United States G. C. (retired) who was last ween in scouting working as an assistant cook.

Our troop took a tour of the U. S. Air Academy on Friday to bring the total Boy Scout visitors to over 30,000. Over 1,800 scouts per day went up Pikes Peak.

Port Hudson scene of great Civil War fight

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series of articles on Louisiana's tourist attractions prepared by the Louisiana Tourist Bureau and published by this newspaper to call attention to the state's many interesting features and attractions.)

Port Hudson was named in honor of James Hudson, an early 19th Century landowner. Port Hudson began as a trading post on the Mississippi River at the mouth of Thompson's Creek and developed into an important shipping center.

Floods and the boll weevil put an end to the once thriving port. Here the river has built a mile-wide batture, but at the landward edge stand the same high bluffs that fascinated early travelers who gave them such names as "Baton Rouge Bluffs," "White Cliffs," and "Milk Cliffs." The siege of Confederate-held Port Hudson began in May 1863, and ended with capitulation in July when its starving defenders stacked their arms and lowered their flag.

Port Hudson was the southernmost point which controlled the Mississippi for some 200 miles, and which kept open the Red River Valley from which the armies in Virginia, Tennessee, and other Southern states could draw supplies not only from the west, but goods from Europe that were landed in Mexico and taken overland as far as Virginia.

Port Hudson has a distinction, according to John Kendall in his "Recollections of a Confederate Officer," that the soldiers ate mule meat, and officers generally ate rats. The account of the siege is hair raising to read.

Port Hudson and the United States National Cemetery, burial place of 3,804 Union soldiers, is located 15 miles north of Baton Rouge on Louisiana Highway 272. A marker commemorating the bravery of the Confederate Army was dedicated in June 1955 by the Department of Commerce and Industry. The marker reads: "Here 6,500 Confederates held 30,000 Union troops May 12 until July 8, 1863. Fall of Port Hudson opened river, hastening fall of Confederacy."

ied by A. T. Vanzile, coast pilot, and four men, all armed. The boat did not return but . . . supposed that he was detained in consequence of the increasing wind and sea, which began to break heavily upon the bar.

The next morning got under way and ran near in until 31 miles of the GRANITE CITY, when engaged in signals, but without eliciting any reply. Sent in a second boat with a flag of truce . . . (which) returned with the following report: That Acting Ensign H. Z. Howard had approached the GRANIT CITY until within distance of small arms. He saw the rebel flag at her peak, but supposed, as the men said, that it was flying as a joke, and fired on it, when he was immediately killed by a shot from the GRANITE CITY. The rest of the boat's crew were taken prisoners. . . .

The Battle of Calcasieu Pass was a messy little affair, as any battle must be, and one feels sympathy for the pilot of the ELLA MORSE and even for Jackson in spite of his foolish stunt, but from here on the subsequent events partake of the nature of the ridiculous. Four Federal gunboats were rushed to the mouth of the Calcasieu and took up positions just outside the bar. There for months they stayed and only once did they make an attempt on the captured vessels. The NEW LONDON, on the 23rd of May, steamed to within 2½ miles of the GRANITE CITY and threw 14 shot at her, all of which fell short. From time to time the GRANITE CITY seamed down to the bar and then returned to her anchorage unmolested. Meanwhile the repair of the WAVE went on, and in due time she was again seaworthy and ready for action.

The night of the 20th of January, 1865, was dark, foggy, and rainy. Under cover of this darkness the GRANITE CITY and the WAVE steamed down the Calcasieu, the GRANITE CITY almost running down the Federal picket boat that was stationed at the mouth of the river to warn against any such attempt, and slipped through the blockade unnoticed.

The WAVE with a cargo of lumber headed for the Rio Grande, and must have been successful in reaching it, for her name does not appear again in the reports.

The GRANITE CITY ran into worse luck though, for about noon the next day, the fog lifting, she was sighted by a Federal warship which was able both to outrun and outslug her. The captain wisely ran her ashore on the beach at Velasco on the Texas coast, just under the guns of the Confederate batteries stationed there. The Federal captain decided to withdraw then, for he could not hope to exchange salvos successfully with the heavy land-based batteries. And he optimistically stated in his report that the GRANITE CITY would soon be a loss anyway, for a heavy sea was breaking over her when he backed out, and he confidentially predicted that she would break up within a few hours.

The captain missed his guess though, for we hear of the GRANITE CITY again a few months after the war was over. Evidently the Rebels were able to refloat her and use her throughout the remainder of the conflict, for in a complaint lodged by the Government of Mexico relative to some illegal trading during the war, the GRANITE CITY is mentioned as one of the offending vessels.

This was the battle of Calcasieu Pass. If any reader has anything to add to this, I shall be most happy to include his remarks in AN EARLIER DAY.

Missing fisherman turns up safe

A Lake Charles fisherman, missing for more than a day in Calcasieu Lake, was found by a Calcasieu sheriff's department boat at about 4 p.m. Tuesday safe and sound.

Milton D. Harris, 54, told the deputies that he had left Hebert's fish camp about 4 a.m. Monday to fish. He became lost and then ran out of fuel.

A search was conducted for Harris by two Calcasieu parish sheriff's boats, the Cameron sheriff's department boat and an airplane.

Cameron Pilot

Fourth Year--No. 45 | Cameron Parish Pilot, Cameron, La., August 12, 1960 | 10 A Copy

THIS WEEK

BY JERRY WISE

IF YOU DON'T think that Cameron parish is growing, note this report from Tax Assessor Leslie Richard:

The assessment on pipelines, telephones, public utilities, etc., which is determined by the Louisiana Public Service Commission, has increased more than a million dollars this past year, MORE THAN A 25 PERCENT RISE.

The public service assessment last year was $4,229,970. This year it is $5,461,410.

Pipeline construction is chiefly responsible for this huge increase, the assessor says. Three big ones built this past year were American Louisiana, Texas Gas and Trunkline.

THE SECOND ANNUAL softball game between the Cameron Optimists and Lions Clubs will be held here on Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 5, and it promises to be a real grudge battle.

If you remember, the Optimists beat the Lions last year. The Lions protested the game on some minor technicality, got a rematch and were snowed under again.

But it won't happen again this year says Lion Manager Larry Dyson. Just wait and see, retort Optimist Managers Buster Rogers and Deil LaLande.

It should be a good game in any case, with the proceeds going to pay for the annual visit of Santa Claus here in December.

WE RECEIVED A postcard from Father Henry LaChapelle, who reports that he is enjoying five weeks of cool New England air at Holyoke, Mass. "Greetings from the old grouchy assistant of Creole--the one you woke up!" he wrote. (He was taking a nap when we dropped by several weeks ago to get a story on his assignment here.)

MRS. ORAN TRAHAN of Johnson Bayou dropped us a note this week to tell us about her sister, Miss Agnes Constance, who makes her home with the Trahans. Miss Constance has been paralyzed since 1955 when she was in a car accident, and Mrs. Trahan said she really appreciates visitors.

Miss Constance observed her 54th birthday Sunday, and her nephew and nieces, Wayne, Lynn and Cathy Constance presented here with some nice gifts.

She spends much of her time reading the Bible. Her nurse is Miss Beverly Rose Jinks, and Mrs. Trahan says they could hardly get along without her.

In June, Agnes' father, Peter Constance of Hackberry who himself is confined to a wheelchair, came by to see her. She hopes that other friends and relatives will drop by as often as possible.

Car jumps five foot fence here

The car was badly damaged but the driver escaped without injury. The mishap occurred near the Luke Richard home.

Social Security program is now 25 years old

Today, twenty-five years after the original Social Security Act became law, over 14 million men, women, and children are receiving monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefit checks totalling $900 million a month.

Marking the twenty-fifth anniversary of the signing of the original Social Security Act by President Roosevelt on August 14, 1935, Julian Covington, district manager of the Lake Charles social security office noted that 25 years ago about half of all persons aged 65 or over were mainly or wholly dependent on relatives and friends. Today, over 72 percent of a much larger aged population are either drawing old-age and survivors insurance benefits, or will be eligible to draw them when the worker retires.

Originally designed to provide only old-age insurance benefits for workers in commerce and industry, these provisions of the social security programs have been expanded and improved over the years. About 9 out of 10 workers in the United States, almost the entire gainfully employed population, work in employment or self-employment covered by social security.

Hackberry recreation vote called for September 17th

A $290,000 bond election, which would provide funds for the construction of a recreation center, swimming pool and park at Hackberry, will be held in the Hackberry recreation district on Saturday, Sept. 17.

The bonds would be voted for a period of twenty years, with interest not to exceed six percent.

At the same time, property owners in the district, which includes all of Ward Six, with the exception of the Gum Cove area, will be asked to approve a four mill maintenance tax for a period of ten years.

The Hackberry recreation commission, recently appointed by the police jury, proposes to provide the following facilities, if the tax issues are approved:

(1) A recreation building, with a 50 by 75 foot hall, restrooms, kitchen, office, equipment room, etc.

(2) A park equipped with six screened-in barbecue pits, benches and tables, and playground equipment.

(3) A swimming pool.

(4) A lighted baseball and softball field.

A full time recreation director would be hired to set up and supervise a recreation program for the community.

Balloting will be between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. at the Hackberry Catholic hall.

The following election commissioners have been named: Mrs. Doris Rollins, Mrs. Marie Johnson, Mrs. Eula Devall and Mrs. T. W. Bonsall.

The recreation commission will meet at 7:30 p.m. on election day to tabulate the ballots and declare the results of the election.

FATHER LUNDGREN

Fr. Lundgren is new pastor at Hackberry

The Rev. Francis Lundgren, M.S, recently assumed his new duties as pastor of St. Peter's Catholic church at Hackberry, replacing the Rev. Theodore Brandley, who was transferred to Loreauville.

A native of Briston, Conn., Father Lundgren attended seminaries in Hartford and Bloomfield, Conn., and Altamont, N. Y. He was ordained as a Missionary of LaSalette priest by Bishop Givens on April 14, 1936.

In 1954 he as named pastor of the newly created parish in Jacksonville, Texas. During his stay there a new church costing $54,000 was built.

Father Lundgren says his hobby is fishing and that he hopes to get in some of it now that he is in such a good fishing location.

He is leaving Monday for Connecticut on his annual vacation and will be gone until the first week in September. During his absence, Father Thomas Leary of Houston will take care of the duties here.

AWOL soldier arrested at Holly Beach

A young man arrested for drunken driving at Holly Beach Monday was found to be an AWOL soldier who had escaped from the stockade at Fort Benning, Ga.

He was identified by the Cameron sheriff's department as William Joseph Doerfler of Pennsylvania. He had come to Holly Beach to visit a friend who had served in the Army with him. Deputy Sheriff J. B. Constance made the arrest.

Estimate given on salt water intrusion work

A system of levees and floodgates designed to prevent salt water intrusion in an area around the Mermentau River at Grand Chenier would cost about $94,000 to build.

That is the estimate that has been given the Cameron police jury by the Louisiana department of public works.

The jury asked the state for the survey after a group of Grand Chenier cattlemen appeared before the body recently to ask for relief from salt water which has been killing the cattle ranges around the Mermentau.

The public works department pointed out that local interests had attempted to control salt water intrusion in this area years ago with a locally financed control structure. This dam was destroyed by blasting by cattle growers because it did not permit rapid escape of drainage.

More recently a control structure was completed in 1950 at Catfish Point at a cost of more than $625,000.

The jury was told that original plans had been to build this structure a short distance above the new highway bridge at Grand Chenier but that violent opposition had developed to its location there.

In a memorandum concerning the survey, Thurman C. Morgan, district engineer for the state, says:

"In view of the increased construction costs and the increased usage of the river below Upper Mud Lake by offshore oil operators, the construction of a major structure in the Mermentau River below Catfish Point would be ruled out by economic considerations.

"The most feasible means of providing protection is a system of levees and floodgates, with the possible later addition of pumping plants if the usage of the lands justifies pumping operations."

About 25 square miles of marsh grazing land, owned by the Miami Corporation, Mermentau Land and Mineral Company and many small landowners would benefit from the proposed work.

The project would include 6.6 miles of levees and seven floodgates.

A three-year-old child was slightly hurt when struck by a car on Cameron's main street Saturday, and his mother was charged with negligence by state police.

The youngster ran out into the street and was struck by a car driven by Eugene Broussard of Gueydan, according to State Police Cpl. C. E. Jones of Cameron. The accident happened about 1 p.m. in front of the old Methodist church site.

The child, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Crandelle, was taken to Lake Charles Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment, but his injuries were not believed serious.

Cpl. Jones filed a charge of criminal negligence to a juvenile against Mrs. Crandelle. He said that he had picked up the child off the highway that same morning, and that other motorists had done so on numerous other occasions.

G.W. Swift sworn in as district judge

Cameron parish now has a new judge--G. W. (Bill) Swift, Jr., who was sworn in as a judge for division C of the 14th Judicial District court, comprising Calcasieu and Cameron parishes.

Judge Swift was elected to the office on July 23 and has been named by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis to assume the post prior to the start of the regular term, Jan. 1, since the position is vacant.

The third district judgeship will be decided in an Aug. 27 second primary. Candidates are Cecil Cutrer and John R. Stewart, both Lake Charles attorneys. One will succeed Judge John T. Hood Jr., who, like Judge Savoy, was elected an appellate judge and has already assumed that post.

Oysters to be moved from West Cove polluted area

Some 10,000 or more barrels of oysters will be moved from the West Cove area of Calcasieu lake to another area of the lake during the next few weeks in order to prevent their destruction.

Rep. Alvin Dyson announced that the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission has awarded a $15,000 contract for the work, and that nine boats arrived this week to begin work.

The action is being taken to save the oysters in the West Cove into which spoil from the dredging of the Lake Charles ship channel is expected to be dumped.

The transplanting of the oysters is expected to improve their quality and provide a large crop to be harvested when the season opens in December.

The taking of oysters in Calcasieu lake had been prohibited for the past 14 years up until last year when the state health department opened up the oyster fishing in the lake with the provision that oysters could not be taken from areas that were deemed polluted, and that the oyster season would run from Dec. 1 to March 31.

No oyster leases are being accepted by the wild life commission, and the oyster beds are open to everyone during the season. Oysters must be taken by tongs only.

A. Sweeney former Chenier resident dies

Word has been received of the recent death of Andrew Sweeney of Port Neches, Texas. Mr. Sweeney, who was born and reared on Grand Chenier, was the son of James Sweeney and Ellen Smith Sweeney, whose parents were pioneer settlers on the Chenier.

He is survived by three sisters Misses Mildred and Ella Sweeney, and Mrs. Jane Block; two brothers, Hugh and Austin Sweeney, all of near Port Neches.

--Bernice Stewart

Funds for the moving of the oysters will come from the severance tax which is collected on oysters sold in the state.

The oysters will be spread over an area 1000 feet wide and 2000 feet long on the east side of the old jetties.

Explanation needed in firing of HD agent here

Now that the hiring of a new Home Demonstration agent has turned into an impasse between the L.S.U. extension service and the Cameron police jury, we think the people of the parish are due an explanation of why Mrs. Iva Free was fired as agent here.

The only reasons given so far by state officials were that Mrs. Free "was not well suited for extension work" and that she was "insubordinate" to her superiors.

But numerous Cameron parish Home Demonstration club women have rallied to Mrs. Free's defense, highly praising her work with these clubs and the 4-H clubs. There have been so many protests over the firing, that the police jury last week declined to approve the appointment of a new agent on the ground that they had not been consulted about Mrs. Free's firing.

As one juror summed it up: "If they don't want our advice when they fire someone, I don't see where they need our permission to hire a replacement."

The jury has a good point. If the extension service insists on having its agents approved by local officials, then in all consistency it should give some explanation when it relieves an agent of his or her duties.

But let's not overlook one point in this matter: the parish has been without a Home Demonstration agent for a month or more now, and unless some understanding is reached soon, we may not have one when school opens in a few weeks. Which would mean there would be no one to work with the 4-H club girls, as well as the Home Demostration clubs.

Let us hope that this controversy is settled soon so that these important programs will not suffer.

Road beautification studied here

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

T. Slack, Roadside Development Engineer for the state of Louisiana, met with several members and officers of the Gulfside Garden Club Friday, State Representative Alvin Dyson and County Agent Hadley Fontenot also took part in the meeting.

Mr. Slack was contacted to discuss the possibility of beautifying the parish highways. He stated the state does not have sufficient funds for maintenance of such projects, however he would advocate that club groups develop a plan for individual homeowners to beautify their yards. Ideas are catching he says and people take pride in caring for shrubs and plants that belong to them.

Other topics which came under discussion were a clean-up fix-up campaign, litterbug drives, and types of plants best suited for local climate.

At the club's regular meeting last Tuesday at the Cameron Parish Library, Mrs. Robert Tanner, president, read a letter from the district organizer, Mrs. LaHaye of Eunice, who stated that the club can become federated this fall.

Mrs. Hadley Fontenot spoke on the Chinch bug menace. The Chinch bug has been killing St. Augustine grass and damaging lawns which people thought had been caused by the drought. She outlined the methods of testing for the bugs and their eradication.

The bulb type plants and mulches to use for winter blooms were discussed. It was brought out that sweep peas can be successfully grown for Christmas blooming.

Hadley Fontenot, Cameron county agent, will attend the state county agents convention in Alexandria, Aug. 19-20. He will take with him a supply of Cameron shrimp to be served to the agents.

Next week Mr. Fontenot and his family will be on vacation in New Orleans and Biloxi.

...to Cook your Meals!

Gleaming new built-in gas ranges make cooking fun! Automatic controls and the "burner-with-a-brain" bring out the "home economist" in you... help you to serve more delicious meals in half the time, with half the work, thanks to natural gas.

But there's nothing simple about getting gas to your home. Consider the risk of drilling thousands of feet deep in the hope of finding a gas-bearing sand. Some wells cost more than $1,000,000 to drill, with no assurance of success. When gas is found there is still the job of "cleaning" it, making it suitable for use. A huge, enormously costly pipeline system is required to transport gas to places where it's needed. Finally, a maze of mains and service lines bring it to your home and business. No doubt about it... natural gas is still the biggest bargain in your family budget.

GRAND CHENIER NEWS

Corn breaking now in progress

By ELORA MONTIE

It's corn breaking time on Grand Chenier now, with everybody turning out to get the corn out of the fields.

Valian Theriot, with the help of Oliver Theriot, Sr., Alcia Theriot and Archie Osburn, brought in 135 bushels to store in his barn, and none too soon as the wild hogs, coons, possums and nutria were ruining his crop.

He said he made a bigger corn crop this year than last despite the dry weather.

Valian planted yellow hybrid corn, and the corn yielded 33, 32 and 27 pounds of corn on three different 50 foot sections of rows in his field.

By way of comparison, the white Mexican June corn planted by Prevate Miller yielded 17, 18 and 19 pounds on similiar 50 foot rows.

Father Joseph Decouteau met with the choir Wednesday afternoon for practice.

The State Highway men have been working on the river bank roads repairing and fixing the roads to be blacktopped later. They have also cut the grass in the Grand Chenier park.

Get well wishes go out this week for Lee Nunez who has been in St. Patrick's hospital for check up; Mr. Pierre Vincent who is in St. Patrick's; Mrs. Raymond Vaughan's mother; Mrs. Laurent Surlese; Mrs. Alcide Miller and Mrs. Nolia Montie.

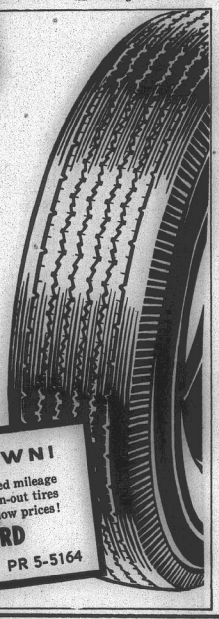
Let's Do Some Horse-Trading!

We 32,000,000 white people in the South are about to lose what few remaining constitutional rights and liberties we have left. The vicious Civil Rights planks in both Democratic and Republican platforms, drawn up in a desperate effort to capture the negro bloc vote in the large Northern cities, might well have been written in Russia. They follow almost to the letter the program outlined in the Communist newspaper "The Daily Worker," published May 6, 1928. If all the pledges in both platforms were carried out, there would be no more United States of America as set up under the Constitution by our forefathers.

Since the so-called "liberal politicians" of both parties, North and South, are willing to sell their souls, their honor, their principles, and their country down the river for votes, let's fight them with votes.

The President is elected by getting a majority of electoral votes cast by the states. Each state is entitled to as many votes as it has congressmen and senators. Louisiana, for example, has 10. The total for the 50 states is 536. Thus, a candidate must get 269 to win. Both candidates say it will be a close race. With a bloc of 50 to 70 independent votes pledged to neither party, we Southerners can trade—brother, how we can trade! We can make them call off the dogs!



It's been done before! Governor Francis Tillon Nicholls, Democratic Governor of Louisiana, rescued our state from the carpet-baggers and Federal troops in 1876 by trading our electoral votes to Rutherford B. Hayes, Republican nominee. Hayes won by one electoral vote!

Write your Governor that you want unpledged electors, and do it now! Get your civic organizations, Chambers of Commerce, PTA groups, Citizens Councils, etc., to do the same thing. Contact your members of the Democratic State Central Committee. Meanwhile, this Association is contacting patriotic organizations in other Southern states to work along the same line. Let's flood the Southern governors with letters. After all, we elected them, didn't we?

We have summarized the Civil Rights planks in both party platforms, analyzing their effect on the South. If you would like a copy, just write us.

Polio Shots Are Advised By Parish Health Unit

Louisiana ended the 29th week of the year with a total of 29 cases of polio, Dr. Vasquez, Calcasieu-Lake Charles Health Unit Director reports. Of these, 20 were paralytic, including two cases of bulbar polio; nine were non-paralytic.

These figures compare with 59 cases for the same period in 1959, of which 45 were paralytic. No polio deaths were reported in the state of Louisiana as of July 23rd of this year.

Noting that eight of the 20 paralytic cases had received no polio vaccine, and none had received the recommended four injections, Dr. Vasquez urged full immunization for everyone—three injections of Salk vaccine and a booster.

"It is especially important that infants and children of pre-school age get polio shots on schedule," Dr. Vasquez said. We are reaching the peak of the 1960 season; the months of hottest weather usually bring the most polio cases. Parents should make every effort to get their children protected. It does in no way harm a child to get polio shots in hot weather."

See your doctor or public health unit for polio shots, the health unit director advised.

Cameron Pilot

THIS WEEK

BY JERRY WISE

WE NOMINATED as candidate for the roughest road in Cameron parish the front ridge road between Cameron and Oak Grove. No reflection on Juror Bolo Trosclair--he's doing his darndest to get it blacktopped.

* * *

SPEAKING of roads, snakes are all over the one that goes through the Sabine Refuge south of Hackberry. Don't know why they're coming out this time of year, but every few yards you see one slithering across.

* * *

MR. AND Mrs. Harold Carter has asked us to announce that they will hold the drawing at 10 a.m., Saturday, to give away the cash prizes for which purchasers of new and used cars during May, June and July are eligible. All such purchasers are requested to be present for the drawing.

* * *

THE FIRST session of district court in some time will be held next Tuesday in Cameron with 117 cases scheduled to be heard. On the bench will be the new judge Bill Swift.

* * *

WE HAVEN'T received any official word on it as yet, but we understand that Miss Patsy Granger will report for work as Cameron's new Home Demonstration Agent Monday. Apparently the differences between the extension service and the police jury has been worked out.

* * *

J. B. JONES appears confident that the bill giving Cameron parish road royalty money from the Rockefeller refuge will be passed in this session of Congress. Although the bill is tied up now in a senate committee, members are being polled so that it can be brought on to the floor. The bill could mean a great deal to Cameron parish--perhaps even a bridge over the ship channel.

* * *

PERSONAL MENTION - Joe Rutherford of Oak Grove has been named to the board of directors of the Southwest Fishing Club, which sponsors the Tarpon Rodeo here each year . . . RAY CHAMPAGNE suffered a slight relapse and is still in St. Patrick's hospital following a heart attack, but he is reported rapidly improving . . . Richard Derby, manager of the Cameron Food Mart (formerly Micheletti's) is also in the hospital . . . ARSENE STEWART, candidate for representative, was in Cameron, Grand Chenier and Creole Wednesday doing a little handshaking . . . Mrs. Luna Hayes, executive secretary of the Calcasieu-Cameron Tuberculosis Association, was in town to meet with Cameron board members, Mrs. J. Berton Daigle, J. W. Doxey and Dr. Stephen Carter concerning the Christmas Seal sale this year . . .

Garbage pickup sought

The extension of garbage pickup service to Creole and Oak Grove is being investigated by the Cameron Lions Club. Joe Rutherford has been appointed by the Lions to talk to the police jury about the matter at the September meeting.

Garbage service was begun in Cameron by the police jury shortly after Hurricane Audrey, after a garbage truck was secured from the Calcasieu-Cameron health unit. Residents who take advantage of the service pay a small monthly fee.

The Lions board of directors also has adopted a resolution urging the commissioners of the Cameron water and sewerage district to convene to consider calling an election on either a water or a sewerage program.

A water and sewerage bond issue was turned down by the district last year, but it is felt that if one issue is presented by itself, it may be accepted.

J. Berton Daigle and E. J. Dronet were named chairmen of the Lions lightbulb sale to be held this fall.

A representative of the United Gas Corporation will be invited to a meeting of the club to discuss the possibility of extending the gas line east from Cameron and also to provide gas for Creole.

The club voted to install a candy vending machine in the courthouse to raise funds for club activities.

Creole cowboy shines

Charles LeBouef of Creole stayed up for 1.47 minutes to be the only one of 10 cowboys qualifying in bareback riding at the Friday performance of the South Texas Youth Rodeo in Beaumont.

John Bertrand (l) and Ralph Campbell

New welfare visitor on job

Cameron parish now has a new welfare visitor working out of the Louisiana welfare office located in the basement of the courthouse.

He is John A. Bertrand who is taking over the duties of Ralph Campbell, who returned to college to work on his master's degree.

A native of Ville Platte, Mr. Bertrand graduated from Southwestern in Lafayette in 1949 with a degree in vocational agriculture. He served as farm training instructor with the Veterans Administration for four years in Evangeline parish, before going to work for the Evangeline Welfare office five years ago.

He and his wife will make their home in Lake Charles. He will be in the Cameron office on Mondays and Wednesday, out in the field on Tuesdays and Thursdays and in Lake Charles on Friday.

The Cameron office is open five days a week, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Lake shrimpers out in big numbers

By MRS. C. J. FARQUE

Inland shrimping opened Monday and Big Lake was crowded with hundreds of small boats full of shrimpers.

The line of cars at the Sweetlake ferry was so long that Deputy Sheriff Dewey Hebert had to lend the ferrymen a hand in controlling the traffic. Cars and boats on trailers were lined up almost three-quarters of a mile.

The catches were reported to be very good.

Mrs. Bertrand dies Tuesday

Mrs. Maricia Elizabeth Bertrand, 41, of Hackberry, died Tuesday morning at her home after a long illness.

Born on Pecan Island, Feb. 16, 1919, she had lived in Hackberry for 20 years. She was a member of St. Peter's Catholic church.

Funeral services were held at a high mass at 10 a.m., Wednesday, at Our Lady of Prompt Succor Catholic Church in Sulphur, with Father Francis Lavin, pastor, officiating. Burial was in the Pecan Island Cemetery.

Survivors are her husband, John Wiley Bertrand of Hackberry; one son, Norris Bertrand and one daughter, Donna Dean Bertrand, both of Hackberry; her mother, Mrs. Albert Foster of Abbeville; three brothers, Martin C. Foster and Thomas Foster, both of Abbeville and Sidney Foster of Intracoastal City.

More replanting of oysters seen

The Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission may approve the transplanting of another 10,000 barrels of oysters from one area to another in Calcasieu lake when it meets on August 23, it was reported by Rep. Alvin Dyson this week.

A fleet of oyster boats from Houma pulled out of Cameron Tuesday after having dredged and moved 10,000 barrels of oysters from West Cove to the east side of the old jetties in the lake. The action was taken by the wildlife commission to save these oysters from being destroyed by the spoil which is to be pumped out of the ship channel into West Cove.

Mr. Dyson said that there were at least another 10,000 barrels of oysters left in West Cove, and that he was sure the commission would make the funds available to move them when it meets next week.

He said the oysters dredged this past week were "beautiful" and will make a very fine crop when they are harvested this fall. The oyster beds will be opened to all comers, but tongs only can be used.

Cost of moving the first 10,000 barrels was $15,000, but the oysters when they are harvested this fall are expected to bring many times that amount.

Former dentist at Hackberry dies Saturday

Dr. A. C. DiBartolo, who practiced dentistry in Hackberry for six years, died from a heart attack in New Orleans last Saturday night, where he had gone to visit his son who had undergone an operation there.

The 51-year-old dentist, a native of New Orleans, received his dental degree from Loyola University in 1935. He went to work for the state welfare department and was sent to Hackberry with a mobil dental unit to tour Cameron parish and examine school children's teeth.

In 1946 he set up his own dental practice in Hackberry, remaining there until 1952 when he moved his office to Sulphur, where he practiced until his death.

Dr. DiBartolo was active in civic and fraternal organizations in Sulphur and had served as governor of the Calcasieu Moose Lodge and as a member of the West Calcasieu-Cameron hospital board.

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Monday in New Orleans with burial in the Metarie cemetery.

Dr. DiBartolo is survived by his wife, a son A. Charles DiBartolo, and an aunt, Mrs. Catherine E. DiBartolo of New Orleans.

Proposed center for Hackberry

Above is an artist sketch of the proposed recreation center which will be built at Hackberry if property owners approve a $290,000 bond issue and a four mill maintenance tax on Sept. 17.

The building would contain a 50 by 100 foot hall, kitchen, administration office and board room, restrooms and supply rooms. It would be airconditioned.

The construction would consist of terrazzo floors, masonry interior and exterior walls, with a steel and wood framework. The building would be designed for a low fire insurance rate and low maintenance.

Other facilities which would be provided would be a 10-acre park, swimming pool, bath house, lighted baseball and softball diamond and bleachers, several picnic pavilions.

J. B. Ship and Associates of Lake Charles are the engineers for the Hackberry recreation district.

Father LaChapelle observes jubilee

The Rev. Henry Lachapelle, assistant pastor of the Sacred Heart Catholic church at Creole, Monday celebrated the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood with a High Mass of Thanksgiving in Saint Anne Church, Fairview, Mass.

The priest is presently spending his vacation in Fairview, a former parish where he spent 16 years, visiting with the Rev. Ed Authier, pastor.

Following the Mass Monday, which fell on the day of the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin, a reception for relatives, friends and former parishioners was held.

The guest speakers included the Very Rev. Edward Farrell, M.S., superior of LaSalette Seminary, Hartford, Conn.; Rev. Thomas McGuirl, pastor of Our Lady of Sorrows, Hartford; Rev. Gustave Gosselin, former superior of the Internation Seminary in Rome and former assistant with Father Lachapelle; and numerous other former associates of the honoree.

Last Sunday, Father Lachapelle said a Low Mass of Thanksgiving at Our Lady of Sorrows Church, Hartford, which was attended by his family who live in Hartford and his 35 nephews, and his 94-year-old father.

After the ceremonies Monday the priest will fly to Montreal to see brother, the Rev. Alcide Lachapelle, 69, who is very ill. Another brother, Rev. Alphone Lachapelle, is assistant pastor at Falmouth, Mass.

Father Francis Lanoue, former assistant pastor at Creole, will drive north on Aug. 28 to celebrate his Silver Jubilee in North Adams, Mass., and will meet Father Lachapelle in Springfield, Mass., on Aug. 30. The two were classmates and recently exchanged parishes.

Father Lachapelle will return to Creole on Sept. 3 to resume his duties at the Sacred Heart church. In his absence, the Rev. James Shakrigian, pastor at DeRidder, has been assisting here.

Navy shows off its wares

By JERRY WISE

A floating city that could easily house and feed half the population of Cameron Parish!

That is the best way to describe the immense size of the USS Lexington, the giant aircraft carrier on which I had the privilege of spending a week recently as the guest of the Navy on a training cruise off the coast of California.

Fourteen civilians, ranging from a Lutheran minister from Washington state to a clothing manufacturer from El Paso, Texas, were guests of the Secretary of the Navy, for the purpose of showing representative citizens just what their Navy was up to.

But it wasn't a pleasure junket for a bunch of VIPs--each guest paid his own transportation to and from the port of embarcation and for his meals on board ship. And during the five days we were at sea, we were given a full measure of ship tours, briefing and indoctrination.

Except for one or two areas marked "restricted" and guarded by an armed Marine, all sections of the ship were opened to us and we were invited to roam around at will, and to take as many photographs as we wished. (The restricted areas probably had something to do with nuclear weapons, which we were told were aboard.)

My invitation, arranged by the Lake Charles Naval Reserve Unit, came from the Commandant of the Eighth Naval District, New Orleans. Would I like to go out to San Diego and spend a week aboard an aircraft carrier watching air exercises at sea?, he wrote.

Indeed I would. Not only had I never visited California, but I had never been out to sea in anything bigger than Peewee Gauthier's "Marlin." (I hoped that the Lexington trip would be a little smoother than the snapper trip that I had made with Peewee. As it turned out, it was.)

The commandant's letter said to bring sport clothes, crepe sole shoes (for a sure footing on the carrier's decks) and a warm jacket. I found out what he meant by the latter which watching launching operations from one of the carrier's upper decks. Although the weather was balmy, it turned downright chilly when the carrier turned into the wind and speeded up to give the planes enough headwind for take off.

I was scheduled to drive out to San Diego with a friend, but at the last minute his Naval reserve duty orders were changed and I had to catch a plane to get there in time for the Monday morning sailing on June 27.

Flying over the hot, dry west Texas desert and the barren mountains in New Mexico and Arizona, I was glad to be up there in the cool airplane cruising along at hundreds of miles an hour, instead of down there crawling across the desert.

Coming into San Diego, the Naval fleet made a spectacular view at anchor in the bay. And later, as I crossed by ferry to the Naval Station on North Island, I got an even closer view of the ship that would be steaming out with us the following day to take part in the exercises.

(Next Week--"Out to sea.")

Some notes in calf calling

A number of the words used in common talk in Cameron, both French and English, have rather interesting histories, and are well worth one's study. The subject, of course, is too broad to be covered in one week's column; more material of the same nature will appear in later issues.

When I was a boy on the Chenier, one of the words in common use was "shickay." The "a" was long, and the placing of the accent was determined by the usage of the word. The first vowel was either a short "i" or a long "e" depending upon the urgency and emphasis in the speaker's voice. There is no point in referring to the dictionary for the correct spelling or pronunciation of this word, for that learned volume has never heard of it—at least, it does not appear in any one of those which I have consulted.

The word "shickay" had several distinct meanings, all of them connected with the handling of cattle, and more particularly calves. It meant first, a small enclosure into which the calves could be driven at night to separate them from their mothers. This was a small pen built either in the barn or next the cowpen itself.

Not only was the word a noun, but it could be a verb as well. When a boy was directed to shickay the calves, he knew that he was expected to drive them into their little pen for the night.

And then, paradoxially enough, it was an expression used either to call the calves up, or to drive them away. Naturally the tone of voice used here was all-important. When one wished to call the calves, he would use one tone of voice; when he wished to drive them away, he would use another. Cattle are not among the more intelligent forms of life on this earth, but they soon learned to distinguish between the two sounds given to the same word.

While the word has not made its way into our standard lexicons, and probably never will, still it has a most interesting origin and history. It comes from the Spanish "chilla", pronounced "chee-yah". Mr. Fred Simon of Hebbronville, Texas, and a former resident of Johnson Bayou, sends the following information. Since his explantion is full and adequate, I can do no better than to quote it verbatim. He writes:

"Spanish: chiquear, pronounced she-que-are. Hacer fiestas a los ninos chillandoles. (To call children to a feast with a chilla, or whistle.)

Chilla, an instrument or caller used by hunters. It may be a kind of whistle that produces a sharp sound, or a sound in imitation of certain living creatures, or other inarticulate sounds to call animals. In an earlier day, it was not only used to call children to a feast, but also to call domestic animals to be fed, especially pigs. Then the pigs would be put in a small pen as protection against wild animals at night. Ask any Spanish-American what is a chee-que-roh; he will tell you, 'a pig pen.'

Other domestic animals are called and shut up in a small enclosure also called a chiquero. Animals usually depend more on the tone of your voice than the words you use. For this reason, it is possible to call an animal or to drive it away by merely changing the tone of your voice.

In southwest Louisiana and southeast Texas, where I lived as a boy, the calves as a rule were willing enough to come to suck without being called, and in the event they didn't move quickly enough to go to the small pasture when we said 'shickay,' we would give them a slap or two with a rope or stick. Chiquero comes from the Spanish word "chico", meaning small."

Thus from "chico," meaning small, to "shickay," meaning a small pen, the relationship is easily apparent. By such means, words move from one language to another, changing their pronunciations somewhat perhaps, and their meanings a great deal more in certain cases. Watch this column for more words of the same nature.

"These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck...but not our Chevy"

Few trucks are subjected to the body-wracking beatings that are part of a day's work for this Chevrolet Series 60 pulpwood hauler. It's owned by J. E. Fox, North Carolina logging contractor. As Bobby Fox, a partner in the business says, "Loaded with pulpwood, we drive over stumps and potholes you'd think would tear the truck to pieces. These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck, but not our Chevy. We can average an extra load a day . . . make $45 to $50 a day more with this Chevy than we can with the others."

In every weight class these Chevies are doing more work at less expense than trucks have ever done before. Drive one at your Chevrolet dealer's. It's an experience that could pay you big dividends.

"That 6-cylinder engine really performs," says Bobby Fox. "It's got the lugging power we need in the woods and walks right along with a full load on the highway."

HOLLY BEACH NEWS

By MRS. WALTER STANLEY

Shrimpers anticipating the re-opening of inland waters took off in droves Monday morning after their crustacean product. Good catches were reported on opening day.

The weather went into reverse last week and has many wishing for a dry spell instead of more rain. The two day weekend had almost continuous showers here and it dampened the spirit of the swim and fish crowd.

Work on the causeway approach was hampered by the several days of rain and traffic was limited due to condition of the road.

All this dampness has brought out unwelcome hordes of mosquitoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Thibodeaux enjoyed a few days vacation in New Orleans last week. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Guilbeaux, Jr., of Sulphur.

WHAT PROMINENT COLLEAGUES SAY ABOUT . . .

T. A. THOMPSON

Congressman T. A. Thompson

There's No Substitute for Experience!

HOUSE MAJORITY LEADER for Democrats, JOHN McCORMACK, said four years ago: "I HAVE WATCHED WITH PRIDE HOW T. A. THOMPSON HAS DEVELOPED IN LEGISLATIVE ABILITY. HE SYMBOLIZES THE SPIRIT OF AMERICA BECAUSE HE IS A PEOPLE'S CONGRESSMAN. HE WILL EMERGE AS ONE OF OUR FOREMOST LEGISLATORS."

What senority and experience means for the Seventh District:

PUBLIC WORKS COMMITTEE . . . T. A. Thompson is the only Louisiana Democrat on this committee which among other things directs FLOOD CONTROL work.

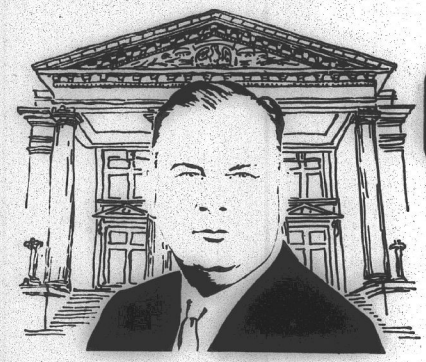
MERCHANT MARINE AND FISHERIES COMMITTEE . . . It's obvious what membership on this committee can do for the waterway development and fishing industry in this area.

Mr. Alvin DeRouen
P. O. Box 341
Ville Platte, Louisiana

Dear Alvin:

I have just learned that you have been named the campaign coordinator for my old and dear friend, T. A. Thompson. When I received this information, I couldn't resist the impulse to write you.

Knowing your father, the late Congressman H. L. DeRouen, who had established such a splendid record for the Seventh District in Congress, and knowing you when I first went to Washington twenty years ago, I felt privileged to write.



I don't know of any greater public service you could perform than to contribute to the re-election of T. A. I have been around a long time in Washington, and I can tell you that if ever I have been impressed by an individual, it has been T. A. When he came to Washington he was really on the ball. He was dedicated to the job he had to perform, and he has never lost that touch or that enthusiasm. As a matter of fact, if there is one criticism I can make of him, it is that he is overzealous in the performance of his duties and allows nothing to stand in the way of accomplishing his mission.

He never hesitates to get something done for his district and I must say that he is never refused what he asks. As far as I am concerned, a request from T. A. is a command. I hope that you are most successful in seeing to it that T. A. comes back to Washington. We need him and Louisiana needs him.

Sincerely yours,
Signed: F. Edw. Hebert

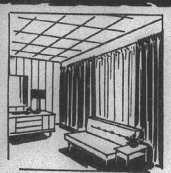
I pledge to you that I will work for a better school system. Education is the backbone of a community.

A school board member is not elected because of HIS need, but for the benefit of the children and the community.

If elected, I promise that I will always work for the progress of our community, parish and schools.



Come out Aug. 27 and vote for your choice.

Your vote and support will be appreciated.

New Cameron parish sheriff dept. boat

Sheriff gets patrol boat

The Cameron parish sheriff's department has an important new aid to use in its law enforcement and rescue work--a 33-foot all-metal patrol boat.

Sheriff O. B. Carter said the boat was built for his department by Breau's Bay Craft, Inc. of Loreauville at a cost of $10,500.

The craft, which is powered by a 165-horsepower diesel engine and cruises at 20 knots, has an all steel hull and an all aluminum cabinet. It has an 11½ foot beam and draws 28 inches of water.

Presently docked at the Diesel Marine Service docks, the boat later will be housed in a boat house to be built next to the Steed Fish Company dock.

Operators of the new boat are Deputies Carlos Ratcliff and Charles Murphy, both of whom have had marine experience.

Sheriff Carter said the boat is very seaworthy and will be not only in the river and lake, but in the Gulf as well for rescue and patrolling work.

The boat has already been used in searching for two lost fishermen in Big Lake. (Both turned up safe.) And it was used in the investigation of a a breakin of a camp at oyster bayou.

It is equipped with a two-way police radio.

The sheriff said the boat would also be used for other things such as making oyster surveys in Calcasieu Lake, and for controlling the speeding on the river and lake.

Tarpons to play in Iowa jamboree

The South Cameron Tarpons will see their first action this season when they play in the Iowa Football Jamboree Thursday night, Sept. 1, according to Coach Robert Manuel.

The Tarpons will play Elton in the second game of the evening. Other games will be Vinton vs. Gillis and Iowa vs. Iota. All are Class B games.

Each game will consist of two ten-minute halves, with five minutes between halves. The first game is at 7:30, with the others following immediately afterwards.

Coach Manuel gave his tentative lineup as follows:

Bobby LaLande LE, Leon Hebert LT, Rubin Morales LG, Barney Kornegay C, Raymond Hebert RG, Roland Trosclair RT, Eddie Joe Conner RE, Melvin Boudreaux QB, Alvin Mudd LH, Terry Conner FB and Charles Bernard RH.

Coach Manuel also listed these players as strong contenders for starting positions: F. J. Gaspard RE, James Albarado RH, Roger Richard LH and J. A. Miller RG.

Tickets are now being sold by the football players, coaches and at Boudoin Bros. Service Station in Creole. They are $1 for adults and 50¢ for students.

Local fans are urged to buy their tickets here before going to the Jamboree as South Cameron gets to keep the proceeds on all tickets sold here in advance. The ticket sales at the gate will be divided six ways.

The Tarpons have been working every day in preparation for the start of the season. Wednesday they scrimmaged at Basile and this Friday at 3:30 p.m., they will scrimmage with a Landry squad at Oak Grove.

Miss Granger assumes duties as H.D. agent

Miss Patsy Granger assumed her position here Monday as Cameron parish's new Home Demonstration agent. She succeeds Mrs. Iva Free in the job.

A native of Calcasieu parish, Miss Granger graduated from LeCrange high school, and attended McNeese State College. She received a degree in home economics education in 1951 from Louisiana State University.

She taught one year at Sweetlake and two years at Grand Lake in Cameron parish, and one year at Hayes in Calcasieu.

In 1955, Miss Granger entered agriculture extension work as assistant Home Demonstration agent of Evangeline parish. She was there two and a half years working with the 4-H clubs.

She served as Home Demonstration agent of Jeff Davis parish for one year and was then transferred to St. Landry parish as associate H.D. agent to work in the farm and home development program.

Miss Granger expects to complete her master's degree in extension education within the coming year.

She plans to make her home in the town of Cameron.

The new agent said she would begin meeting with the parish's Home Demonstration clubs in September, and she and Assistant County Agent Clifford Meyers will also begin meeting with 4-H clubs as soon as school opens.

William Savoie dies last week

William (Sam) Savoie, 47, of Creole, died suddenly Wednesday of last week while working with a survey crew in the Atchafalaya swamps near New Iberia.

A veteran of World War II, Mr. Savoie was a lifelong resident of Cameron parish.

It took some 26 persons more than 24 hours to remove the body from the swamp. A helicopter from the New Iberia Naval Air Station made three attempts to land near the body but could not do so because of the stumps and trees.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m., Friday, at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Creole with the Rev. Joseph Decoteau officiating. Burial was in the cemetery there under the direction of O'Donnell Funeral Home.

Surviving are six sisters, Mrs. Charles Primeaux, Mrs. Euzebe Savoie and Mrs. Loudies Richard, all of Cameron, Mrs. Jim Baccigalopi of Creole, Mrs. Oscar Sturlese of Grand Chenier, and Mrs. Joe Babineaux of Lake Charles; two brothers, Pierre Savoie and Eugene Savoie, both of Cameron; and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Camile Savoie of Cameron.

Schools to open in parish Monday

Cameron parish's five high schools and two elementary schools will open for the 1960-61 school term Monday. All schools will take in at 8:30 a.m., with the exception of South Cameron high which opens at 8:20 a.m.

The schools will be dismissed immediately after lunch is served Monday, so teachers can attend a meeting on teachers insurance at South Cameron high that afternoon. Full days will be taught the rest of the week.

All first graders and all transfer students from other states entering school here for the first time must have their birth certificates under the provisions of a new law adopted recently by the state legislature.

In the past, Superintendent U. E. Hackett said, these students have been given a week or two to secure their birth certificates if they did not have them. Under the new law, they will not be permitted to enter school until certificates are presented.

(This does not apply to first graders who have already presented their certificates at the pre-school roundups held earlier this year.)

Elementary schools--Cameron and Grand Chenier.

(Grand Chenier school definitely will operate this year, despite a rumor to the contrary, Mr. Hackett stated. He said the school board has no intentions of closing this school at any time in the foreseeable future.)

Dr. Clark named to state board

Dr. Cecil W. Clark of Cameron was appointed to the State Hospital Board by Gov. Jimmie H. Davis this week.

The Cameron physician, who operates the Cameron Medical Center, is secretary of the Lower Cameron Hospital Service District which is to build a new hospital between Cameron and Creole.

Dr. Clark gained nationwide recognition for his services during Hurricane Audrey in 1957 and received numerous citations, including being named General Practicioner of the Year for the United States that year.

Others named to the hospital board with Dr. Clark were G. Kemp Tricou, Baton Rouge; M. E. Brown, Minden; Jules Fogel, Vivian; and Walter D. Nelson, Alexandria.

Five members of the board were reappointed: James A. Stire, Hammond; A. R. Johnson, Baton Rouge; Mayor John Leveson, Abita Springs; Dr. R. U. Parrott, Alexandria and Cecil R. Rester, Varnado.

Second primary is Saturday

Cameron parish voters will vote for candidates in two run-off races in the second primary election to be held Saturday, while Ward 2 voters will also vote in a school board runoff election.

In the run-off for Congressman from the Seventh District are incumbent T. A. Thompson of Ville Platte and former state senator Arsene Stewart of DeRidder.

Thompson carried the parish by a big majority in the first primary, but failed to gain a majority vote district wide. The vote here last time was Thompson 1020, Sam Tarleton 591 and Stewart 323.

Cecil Cutrer and John Stewart face each other in the run-off for Division B district judge for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes. The Cameron parish vote in the first primary was Stewart 677, Cutrer 613 and C. C. Jaubert 538.

The only local race in the parish is that of school board member from Ward Two. Rodolph Theriot, who polled 180 votes in the first primary, is opposed by Curley J. Vincent who got 200. The third candidate, Frank Miller, got 50 votes in the first primary.

Eight more voters have registered since the first primary, most of them from Ward Two, according to Miss Wynona Welch, registrar of voters.

Clerk of Court J. Berton Daigle reports eight absentee votes have been cast for Saturday's election, four from Grand Chenier, two from Cameron and two from Creole.

The polls will open at 6 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Two fishing boats towed into Cameron by Coast Guard

Two fishing vessels were towed into Cameron by the Coast Guard this past week, after one sprung a leak and the other had motor trouble.

Sunday morning the vessel "East Wind" was towed in by the local Coast Guard boat. A Coast Guard plane out of Corpus Christi had dropped it a pump by parachute, and the Guard cutter "Cohoone" from Galveston had towed it to the Cameron jetties.

On Thursday, the "Sea Duce" which had motor troubles about 35 miles out was brought into Cameron by the "Cohoone" and the local Coast Guard boat.

THIS WEEK

BY JERRY WISE

GOV. JIMMIE DAVIS apparently has a warm spot in his heart for Cameron parish. This week he named a third Cameron parish resident to an important state post--Dr. Cecil Clark to the State Hospital Board.

Earlier he had appointed John Paul Crain of Grand Chenier to the state wildlife and fisheries commission, and Rep. Alvin Dyson to the Gulf States Marine Fisheries Commission.

The appointment of Dr. Clark has added significance to Cameron parish in that the Lower Cameron Hospital Service District, of which Dr. Clark is a commissioner, is presently trying to secure Hill-Burton federal funds for the new Lower Cameron hospital. The agency which aids in securing these funds is none other than the State Hospital Board.

The posts held by Rep. Dyson and Mrs. Crain are no less important to Cameron parish because of the big fishing and wildlife industries in the parish.

As we said, Gov. Jimmie has done well by Cameron parish.

THE NEW pension program for unmarried widows and dependent children of veterans of World War II who died from non-military causes will mean payments of from $45 to $60 a month for some dozen or more persons in Cameron parish, according to Dell LaLande, parish service officer.

CARTER CHEVROLET CO. gave away the following prizes to new and used car purchasers last week: new cars -- Yenest Miller, $75; Curley Miller, $65; Lynex Richard, $55. Used cars -- Wilford Miller, $50; Leroy Morris, $45; and Mildred J. Theriot, $40.

The children who drew the names were Gwendolyn Boudreaux, Jerome and Terry Rutherford and Barbara Williams.

HADLEY FONTENOT, just back from a vacation at Biloxi, reports that the Mississippi beaches are no better than those of Cameron. It is almost impossible to swim there because of the great distance you have to go to get to deep water, and like beaches here, there is a silt problem.

As for the white sand along the beaches, this is pumped in at a great expense. Hadley said he read that one county had spent $500,000 in one year to keep up its beaches.

There is a moral here for Cameron parish: we too could have pretty beaches and thousands of tourists if we were willing to spend the money needed to improve the beaches.

Cameron cattle re-accredited

After six years being plagued with a heavy infestation of tuberculosis among their herds, the TB problem has been controlled and Cameron parish cattle have been re-accredited by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

County Agent Hadley Fontenot announced that of the cattle tested in recent months only .037 percent were found to have TB, far below the one half of one percent needed to be accredited.

The quarantine on several herds at Johnson Bayou has been lifted, leaving only one quarantine in the parish, that on 300 head of cattle at Sweetlake.

Agriculture leaders became concerned in 1954 when 199 cattle were found to have TB here. An extensive testing program was begun, and 30,291 head of cattle have been tested since then.

Some 34 TB reactors were found in 1958, but the number has dwindled in recent months. Animals found to have TB were slaughtered, with the government paying part of the loss suffered by the cattlemen.

Mr. Fontenot said that no more testing would need to be done for the next six years, unless more TB was to be discovered in the parish.

He thanked the parish cattlemen for their cooperation, and said that almost 100 percent of the cattle in the parish had been tested.

More races set by boat club

More boat races will be sponsored by the Cameron Boat Club this Sunday at 2 p.m., according to President Arsene LeBleu, who said the earlier races have been very well received by the public.

The races will be in front of the Diesel Marine Docks in Calcasieu river at Cameron.

There will be several races for boats of various horsepower, starting at 10 hp, and there will also be a free-for-all. There is a dollar entry fee for each race. Spectators are admitted free.

The boat club will hold its incorporation meeting this Friday night at 8 p.m. at Fred's Restaurant. All members are urged to attend.

Former Beach resident is killed by car

A former resident of Holly Beach was hit and killed by a car on U.S. Highway 90 six and a half miles west of Sulphur Tuesday evening.

She was Mrs. Edna Cobb Hargrave, 42, of Orange, Texas. A native of Alexandria, she had moved to Orange three months ago from Holly Beach.

State Police said Mrs. Hargrave had gotten her car stuck in a ditch and was trying to flag down a car for aid when she was struck.

The driver of the car, Lawrence E. Meadows, Lake Charles, told officers that he failed to see Mrs. Hargrave until it was too late to stop.

Mrs. Hargrave's husband, Ednor Hargrave, who is a cripple, was in the rear of the Hargrave car at the time of the accident.

Funeral services were held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at the Hixson Funeral Home in Sulphur. The Rev. C. Barnes, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church of Sulphur, officiated. Burial was in Big Woods cemetery.

Mrs. Hargrave is survived by her husband; two sons, Ednor Hargrave, Jr. of Orange and Ellie B. Clark of Oakdale, and one daughter, Miss Emma Lee Clark of Houston.

Fur queen invited to Morgan City's centennial event

Miss June Robichaux, queen of the 1960 Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival in Cameron, has been invited to be a guest of honor at the Morgan City Centennial and Shrimp Festival, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 3 and 4.

She will attend a luncheon for visiting queens at noon Saturday; will be presented Saturday night in the historical spectacle, "Bayou-Rama", and will be an honored guest at the Centennial Ball that same night.

Sunday morning a place on a guest boat for the Blessing of the Fleet and water parade will be reserved for her, followed by lunch at the American Legion Home. In the afternoon she will ride in the festival parade.

Hunting, trapping seasons set

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission this week set a 40-day hunting season on ducks and two species of geese and a 70-day season on two other species of geese.

Hunting dates for ducks, coots and Canadian and White fronted geese will be Nov. 11 to Dec. 20. Hunting dates for Blue and Snow geese will be Oct. 31 to Jan. 8.

The bag limit on ducks will be four daily, with a possession limit of eight. The bag limit on coot will be six daily, with 12 in possession.

The daily bag and possession limit on Canadian and White Fronted geese will be two, singly or in the aggregate. Daily bag and possession limit on Blue and Snow geese will be five.

The Commission set shooting hours from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset, except on opening day when shooting will extend from noon to sunset.

Also announced at this week's meeting were 1960-61 trapping seasons. The season on muskrat will be Dec. 1 to Feb. 25 and the mink season will extend from Nov. 15 to Jan. 10. The season for all other fur bearers will be Nov. 15 to Feb. 15.

The Commission also set a deadline of Nov. 1 for registration of motorboats under the new state motorboat act.

A PILOT EDITORIAL

Stay in school !

About this time each year, some high school students begin a debate with themselves. Should they return to school, or should they keep that summer job and go out on their own?

Our advise, the advise of school officials, employers, and responsible citizens everywhere is:

"STAY IN SCHOOL!"

Here are some very sober remarks on the subject by a man who ought to know what he is talking about, Richard E. Brown, Jr. administrator of the Louisiana Division of Employment Security:

"If the average high school student of Louisiana would take time to study our employment records and see for himself the limited opportunities available to him because of his lack of a high school diploma, he'd think twice before considering joining the ranks of the dropouts.

"Job opportunities in Louisiana, as elsewhere, just do not exist for the average dropouts below the high school graduation level. Most of Louisiana's skilled crafts, for example, demand that any applicant for apprenticeship training have at least a high school education and a youth desiring to learn a skilled trade almost always has to have a high school diploma before he'll even be considered.

"Louisiana is no different than anywhere else in the nation when it comes to job-hunting, and new developments in all the professions, automation, electronics, precision machinery, and so forth, in this state as throughout the nation, are daily accelerating the trend toward more jobs for the educated and skilled, and fewer and fewer opportunities for the unskilled."

Brown says that the files of the Louisiana Division of Employment Security conclusively prove that "irregular employment and low wages are 'musts' for the average Louisiana school dropout."

"It's most commendable for the average student to want to get out during the summer months and earn some money in a temporary job. But if he doesn't return to school in the fall and earn his high school diploma, he just doesn't have a chance facing the competition of those who have been graduated," he said.

Brown said he strongly urges all Louisiana employers who hire students for the summer to attempt to get them to go back to school.

"One large Louisiana oil company has asked its young vacation workers to sign a pledge to return to school in September," he said.

He added that the typical Louisiana high school graduate, during his adult earning years, will receive about $49,000 more than the 8th grade student, and about $30,000 more than the high school dropout.

We can vouch for Mr. Brown's remarks, from personal observation. On more than one occasion we have picked up young men hitchhiking to Cameron to try to find work in fishing or roughnecking to support their families. All said they were unable to find regular jobs because of the lack of a high school diploma.

Think it over, young man or young woman. A decision to return to school in the fall may be the most important decision you ever made.

History of chenier French traced

The study of the origins, history, and usage of words can be a fascinating and never-ending subject. Nor do we have to go far afield and delve into ancient or obscure languages to find our material. There is a fair amount of it right here at home. In this article I propose to discuss a few such words that are familiar to all of us, especially to those who are acquainted with the French language of the chenier country.

Before we go into this however, I would like to correct a widespread and erroneous view of the local dialect of French. It is held by many people that the Acadians of Louisiana speak a debased and degenerate form of French--that their pronunciation, their grammar, and their choice of words is not "correct."

With this opinion I take immediate and emphatic exception. In the broader sense, there can be neither correct nor incorrect language usage. It is the function of language to communicate the thoughts of one person to another, and the language that can do this with the greatest clarity and effectiveness is the best language.

That the French of Louisiana and the standard French of France are different, is, of course, readily apparent. There is a gap between the two, but it is not so wide as to make communication impossible, or even particularly difficult.

For a better understanding of their respective relationship, let us glance briefly at the language situation in France in the year 1650, at the approximate time of the settlement of Acadia. We have picked the year 1650 rather arbitrarily, for almost any date between the years 600 and 1960 could be used. During this period France has been divided into several distinct and mutually unintelligible language areas. The main ones are Celtic, Provencal, Basque and French. And each of these may be subdivided into distinct local dialects, particularly Provencal and French.

Over all these, of course, is the Standard French which is the official language of the Republic. It is the language of the government, of the courts, the newspapers and scientific bodies, and the schools.

The mother-tongue of the Breton may be Celtic, and that of the Gascon Provencal, and neither can understand the language of the other. Consequently, when they wish to converse they must resort to Standard French. Thus, practically every person in France speaks at least two languages, his own local dialect, and the Standard French of the nation as a whole. This situation, strange as it may seem to us, is normal to much of Europe, and can be duplicated in England, Spain, Italy, and other nations.

The Celtic language, with a million or so speakers, is confined mostly to the peninsula of Brittany. Provencal, in its numerous dialects, occupies the southern third of France and is the language of ten million people. Basque, the tongue of several hundred thousand persons, is restricted to the Pyrenees region of the extreme southwestern corner of the nation. The remainder of the republic is the home of French, which at least five major dialects have been identified. And while these five are mutually intelligible, still marked differences exist between any two of them.

Among these five dialects, there are two in which we are particularly interested in this study--the dialect of Normandy, and that of Paris.

* * *

IT IS FROM THE former that Acadian French is derived, while the latter went on to become the Standard French of today. The Norman dialect was as old and as highly developed as that of Paris, and held equal rank with it in the beginning. The accidents of politics and history have raised the latter to one of the world's great languages, principally because Paris eventually became the capital of a united France, enabling Paris French to gain preeminence. The Norman dialect, on the other hand, has been relegated to a much more limited and humble role.

Far from considering Acadian French as a degenerate offspring of the Parisian tongue, it would be much more realistic if we were to look upon the two as closely related, but separate and distinct languages. For Acadian French is a true language in its own right, and should be considered as such.

If a difference between the two dialects existed in 1650, then that difference must surely be more marked today. The dialect of Paris grew and expanded, borrowing numerous words from other European languages, and particularly from Greek and Latin. This growth has been rigidly controlled by French scholars who have set a universal standard for the whole nation.

In America, the Norman dialect, transplanted first to Acadia and then to Louisiana, has also been subject to change and growth, but in a different direction. From now on we shall refer to this branch of French as Acadian French.

It has remained largely an oral language, as opposed to a written language. Consequently, it has had an opportunity for the development of flexibility, and a freedom for growth in a manner that is denied a written language. A trend to simplicity has been the keynote of this growth. Grammar, particularly with reference to verb endings and tenses shows this trend most, but pronunciation has likewise been affected to a marked degree. This is especially noticable in the elision of certain sounds, and the occasional dropping of entire syllables.

Acadian French found it necessary to provide words which none of the French dialects originally had. For example, thee being no raccoons in France, no Frenchman had ever felt the need for such a word. But when he came to a land where raccoons were abundant the need of a word to identify this furry little creature was immediately apparent. And what was simpler or easier than to turn to the Indian for help? America was full of unfamiliar animals, strange plants, and fish that the white man had never seen. Consequently many words were lifted bodily from the Indian languages and incorporated in the language of the explorers. Too, the new world demanded a new way of life; unfamiliar situations and novel customs, forced upon the immigrant by the necessities of the situation, also created a need for new words to express the innovations which he was called upon to meet.

If new words were added, old ones were allowed to fall into disuse when there was no longer any need for their employment. This is an inherent process in all languages, and it can probably be best illustrated by an example of what is occurring in one specific instance today.

The fox was a common animal in the France of 1650, and in most dialects the word was "reynard," in the chenier country, the fox is practically unknown; if he was ever present here, he has long since disappeared. Since there has been no occasion to use the word "reynard" for several generations, it has become increasingly difficult to find people, especially younger people, who are familiar with the word. It is in danger of being lost altogether.

Not only has Acadian French adopted words from various Indian dialects, but it has also borrowed heavily from English, Italian, and Spanish, especially the latter. It must always be remembered too, that in Louisiana, Acadian French was in more or less close contact with Standard French which was dominant in New Orleans and the larger towns. The influence of the latter on the former must be considered in any study of Acadian French.

It will be well to keep in mind in discussing words derived from the Indian, that the Indians themselves spoke a multitude of tongues. The Attakapas of Southwest Louisiana and Southeast Texas spoke a language which was totally unrelated to any other, and an Attakapas could no more talk to a Choctaw or a Natchez, than you can talk to a Russian or a Swede.

Dove season to open Sept. 3rd

Louisiana opens its 1960-61 hunting season on September 3 at noon when the mourning dove becomes fair game for the state's ever-increasing number of nimrods, says L. D. Young, Jr., director of the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission. The first part of the split season will end on September 20.

According to the 1960 mourning dove status report, compiled by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service, the dove population in the country is up about six percent over 1959, Young added.

In keeping with the increased population of doves nationwide, the fish and wildlife service stepped up the bag limit from ten to 12 daily, and possession limit from 20 to 24. An additional five half days were added to the season.

Young pointed out that the shooting hours on doves are limited to afternoons only.

The second part of the dove split season will open on November 12 and close January 2, 1961.

Cheniers to be subject of a doctor's dissertation

By BERNICE STEWART

Saturday Archie Hollister accompanied L. Morris Morgan of Baton Rouge on a trip which led through the lower part of Cameron Parish and Pecan Island in Vermillion.

Mr. Morgan, an instructor of Vermillion and Cameron, and the pleistocene terrace, north of there.

Interested in the architectural influence found there, he checked particularly the pyramidal roofs and the "three I" house--that type of dwelling so typical of Iowa, Indiana and Illinois.

Morgan and Hollister drove from the Intracoastal bridge at Sweetlake through Little Chenier, Chenier Perdue, and Grand Chenier to Pecan Island.

There they talked with Eugene Broussard of the Conservation Department and with Sosthene Broussard. They were directed to obtain information from Jethro (Uncle Jack) Broussard, octogenarian unofficial historian of the Island.

Returning to the Chenier, they visited Moise Sturlese and Lynn McCall; drove to Cameron, via the Front Ridge.

On Sunday they stopped in Holly Beach, where again Mr. Morgan obtained historical data, this time from Mrs. Walter Stanley who is doing wonderful work in gathering historical information and folk lore in her locality.

The travelers continued through Peveto Beach, Constance Beach, and Johnson's Bayou.

THE BRIDE wore a full length white gown of nylon tulle and chantilly lace. The lace bodice had a sabrina neckline with a diamond shaped pleated tulle inset. A lace overshirt with scalloped edges hung over the gathered skirt in the front, and created a peplum effect at the back over tulle ruffles. The fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a tiara of pearls and irridescent sequins. Her flowers were a cascade of carnations, centered by a white orchid.

Mrs. J. W. Smith of Nederland, Texas, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of light blue brocade, with a scooped neckline and full skirt, with matching blue accessories. Her headdress of blue had a brief veil and was held in place by a bandeau. Her flowers were a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

Those serving as bridesmaids were Miss Bonnie Richardson of Hackberry, Miss Loretta Weekly of Sulphur, Miss Mary Lee Pitchford of Baton Rouge, Miss Margaret Wynn of Iowa, and Mrs. James Dennis of Lake Charles. Their costumes were identical to to that of the honor attendant. They carried colonial boquets of pink carnations trimmed in blue net and blue ribbon streamers.

4-H canning clubs mark 50th year

Tomato canning clubs were the first "girl projects" in 4-H, following closely on the heels of corn clubs established in 1910 for boys. These clubs were the forerunner of the present 4-H educational program now benefiting some 2½ million rural and urban youth.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the 4-H canning club, and the 150th anniversary of the discovery of a successful canning process. Methods and utensils have changed, but the end product remains the same. Young homemakers as well as experienced ones strive to turn out sparkling, wholesome, nutritious jars of food which can be stored for safe eating later on.

For the 32nd consecutive year, Kerr Glass Mfg. Co., sponsor of 4-H canning awards will offer $400 college scholarships to six national winners to be selected next November. In addition, county winners will receive medals of honor, and the state winner an all-expense trip to the 39th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 27 through December 1.

Last year over one and a half million containers of Talking Book records were distributed to blind persons throughout the country without cost to the user. The program is financed by the Library of Congress and many of the books are produced on the premises of the American Foundation for the Blind in New York City.

BAYOU BROWSING

By Grits Gresham

THIS IS IT!!! The last gasp of summer is upon us, since this is the last of schoolless vacation for most areas. It slipped up on us as it often does, with our salt-water trek yet to take place. Since my brood of two males and two females are half lizard and half sand crab, believing that there's no utopia like basking on the sunny sand where the salt spray is flying, we're heading for Grand Isle for these last few days. Who knows, maybe the specs will cooperate.

* * *

A lot of people get just a bit sad toward the tag end of summer, as the days get shorter and they recall pleasures experienced only in anticipation, but I can't quite dig that feeling. I have too many pleasant memories associated with dove shooting during the corn picking time. A smell of new-mown hay on a blazing hot August or September day never fails to conjur up the smell of gunpowder and the sight of a flock of the twisting gray ghosts headin' my way.

I can't get unhappy at anything that reminds me of the tremendous hunting prospects awaiting Louisiana gunners in the 1960-61 season. Summer was fun and we all enjoyed it, but the kids will be happy to see their schoolmates again, fall fishing is usually good, L.S.U. may win a few games, and it won't be long until next summer. Forward into September, sez I, and full speed ahead.

* * *

Talk about your fishing battles! If you've ever tied into a 20 or 30 pound jackfish (jack crevalle) off our Louisiana coast, and spent ten or twenty minutes working him to the boat, you know what an arm-tiring, shoulder-aching task it is. Last Sunday (August 7) Mrs. Flo Ray, wife of the well-known Bermuda guide, Bobby Ray, set a new world's record for women by taking an Allison tuna which weighed 78 lbs. 12 oz. Flo was using 18 lb. test line when she tied into the monster off the Challenger Banks at 9:35 a.m., and it was 6:30 p.m. when the tuna was finally gaffed.

That's eight hours and fifty-five minutes of battle, and to make the task more difficult she was using no harness. It was a tremendous feat that would have crumpled many a man. Once it became apparent that an exceptional fish was on—after about three hours—husband Bobby began giving a blow by blow radio account of the fight to other boats in the area. When I fished with Bobby in Bermuda in May he told me that his wife was one of the best fishermen he knew (she set the world's 20# test record for blackfin tuna last summer), and it looks like he knew whereof he spoke.

This record was set in Bermuda, but we've got a chance to do the same thing off South Pass, Louisiana. Our Allison tuna record now stands at 155#, showing that we have the big ones out there. It's just a matter of time before some angler gets one on light tackle.

The state highway department has already announced completion of at least one boat launching ramp (at Lake Charles) in its program to provide facilities for boaters. Cooperating with the Department of Public Works and the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, they plan to build them throughout the state in the next year or two. It's a fine, worthwhile, needed project.

Military obligations of a young man given by board

Many Cameron parish young men who are nearing military age may be wondering what their obligations are under the Universal Military Training and Service Act.

Here they are, as outlined by Mrs. Ermyne R. Peppers, clerk of the Cameron Parish draft board:

Selective service regulations require that all men, within five days after reaching their 18th birthday, must register with Selective Service.

If he is not in the area of his usual place of residence during this time, he may register with the nearest local draft board regardless of the state or parish in which he may be.

This board will forward his registration card to home local board.

Small farm owners can get FHA loans

Owners of small farms may now be eligible for loans to either build or repair homes, according to County Supervisor Linward J. Manuel of the Farmers Home Administration.

To be eligible for a housing loan a farm must produce, either for home use or for sale, at least $400 of farm products based on 1944 commodity prices. Using present day prices this will be about $550. Part-time farmers having dependable off-farm employment which will provide them sufficient income to meet the payments on Farm Housing loan and meet their other obligations may now qualify for a loan. Emphasis will be placed on providing adequate but modest dwellings and farm service buildings which are essential to the operation of the farm.

In addition to Farm Housing Loans, full-time and part-time farmers may also qualify for production-type loans to purchase seed, feed, fertilizer, beef and dairy cattle, and equipment to be used in normal farming operations.

Interested applicants may apply at the local office located in Room 2530, Federal Building, Lake Charles, or call Hemlock 9-3201.

TWELVE YEARS AGO

DEC. 12, 1948—The Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP) was organized in Cameron parish with the following officers:

Hadley Fontenot, chairman; all of the ministers in parish, vice-chairmen; Miss Barbara Doland, secretary; Wilson Montie, treasurer; Mrs. T. W. Steed, publicity.

It was decided that the group would concentrate its efforts on getting donations of old or useless horses. It was explained that horsemeat is relished by the hungry people of the war-torn countries, it was brought out that horsemeat is more nutritious than beef meat.

Horses donated in the parish will be shipped to St. Louis to be slaughtered and canned.

Community chairmen named for the project were Clayton LeDoux, Sweetlake, Grand Lake; Father E. Chartier, Creole; Rev. G. A. Tupper, Cameron.

Memorial fund begun by library

Rice Support Prices Are Announced

By HADLEY FONTENOT
County Agent

Government support price on rice is slightly lower than last year. It's only a few cents lower on Blue bonnet and Toro; ten and five cents respectively. However, on Nato it is 30 cents lower.

The support price for the various groups are as follows: Group I - Rexoro, $8.-84, Group II - Blue bonnet $8.04; Group III - Toro $7.-29; Group IV - Zenith $7.29; Group V - Lacross & Nato $7.04. Prices listed are for head rice on hundredweight basis. The price for broken rice is $3.54 for all groups.

In figuring the loan value U. S. No. 1 gets 20 cents premium per hundred pounds of head rice, No. 2 ten cents, No. 3 discount 5 cents; No. 4 discount 20 cents and No. 5 discount 40 cents.

It might be interesting to note that current sales in Louisiana, which have all been Nato up to now, has been averaging about $6.70 dried weight which is slightly below the average support loan value.

It has been reported that little contracting has been done for green rice. Reported contracts are about as follows: Zenith and Nato $5.50 per barrel, Toro at $5.75 and Blue Bonnet at $6.25.

2,250,000 pounds shrimp taken during season's extension

More than two and a quarter million pounds, heads-on weight, of brown shrimp were caught by Louisiana shrimp trawlers during the ten-day extended season for the period July 1-10, according to a preliminary report, issued by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service.

The season, which was to have been closed July 1, was extended by the Louisiana Legislature upon the advice of Percy Viosca, Jr., commission fisheries biologist.

Viosca had predicted that the extended season would bring a harvest to the trawlers not less than one million pounds. "The shrimp take actually exceeded my fondest hopes and had the brown shrimp not been taken at that time, a majority would have gone to sea and been lost forever to the industry," Viosca said.

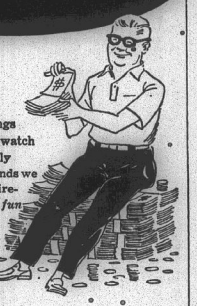
Rice crop estimate upped two percent



Production of the 1960 rice crop in Louisiana is forecast at 13,053,000 hundredweight (8,057,000 barrels) based on condition of the crop about August 1, the Louisiana Crop Reporting Service announced today. This is 2 percent above the July 1 estimate, 1 percent more than last year and 6 percent above the 1949-58 average.

The larger crop this year is attributed to a larger acreage for harvest as yield per acre is the same as a year ago. Yield per acre is now indicated at 2850 pounds or 17.6 barrels, which is 50 pounds above last month, the same as last year but 550 pounds

In terms of rural comforts and productivity . . . how true! There was little hope for betterment until rural folks organized their nonprofit electric co-ops. Only 1.7% of the state's rural homes had electricity in 1937 as compared with 98% area coverage provided by electric co-ops today. That's a wonderful record, deserving of praise. Tarpons begin 11-game schedule here next week

The South Cameron high school Tarpons, one of the top ranking Class B schools in the state last season, will open their regular season here Thursday of next week against the Lake Charles junior varsity.

The Tarps have already scrimmaged against Basile and Landry and were scheduled to meet Elton in the Class B Jamboree at Iowa last night (Thursday).

Their new coach, Robert Manuel, said the team looked "very promising". Sonny McCall is again assistant coach.

He said he will build his lineup around seven returning lettermen from last year. Of these two were last year regulars--Melvin Boudreaux as quarterback and Terry Conner, who has switched from guard to fullback this year.

Coach Manuel said he also expected good showing from Buddy Skidmore, Wiley Mudd, John Allen Vincent and Jerry Broussard.

Season tickets good for the seven home games are now being sold at the school and by the football players. Family tickets, which admit all the members of one family, are $12; adult tickets are $6; and students are $2.50.

WE RECEIVED a note from reader H. C. Bertrand in Lake Arthur inviting Cameron parish folks to attend the Lake Arthur fire department barbecue at noon, Sunday, Sept. 11, in the city park there. Plates are $1.25 for adults and 75¢ for students and proceeds will go into the building fund for the new fire station.

THE PARISH rice harvest has been delayed the past couple of weeks by the frequent rains but no loss of rice has been experienced, County Agent, Hadley Fontenot reports. The yield so far is as good or better than last year, but the market is slow.

* * *

RAY CHAMPAGNE who was in the hospital for several weeks following a heart attack returned home Wednesday and is feeling much better.

* * *

THE CAMERON POLICE jury will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday next week instead of Monday because of Labor Day. One important thing that is to come up is the receiving of proposals on the leasing of the Sabine Lake causeway fill.

The school board will meet on Monday as customary.

*

WE HAD A card and letter from Father Henry LaChapelle in Montreal, Canada. He said he was entering Notre Dame hospital there to undergo a serious vocal cord operation. Said he had lost his voice completely.

In the same hospital is his brother, also a priest, who is very near death.

The earlier letter, written before entering the hospital, tells about the events of his Golden Jubilee. Said his uncle gave him a banquet, attended by about 50 relatives, and he was presented a large collection of stereo records.

Father LaChapelle is the new assistant pastor at Creole.

Lions, Optimists to clash Monday

The Cameron Optimist and Lions Clubs will clash Monday evening in their second annual Labor Day softball game. Proceeds will be used to finance Santa Claus visit to Cameron in December.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. on Smith's field next to the post office. A small admission will be charged.

The two teams have pulled a "switcharoo" in their choice of pitchers this year. Last year behind the fine pitching of Dr. Cecil Clark the Optimists coasted to an easy victory in both the first game and a rematch game. Jimmy Derouen was the hapless losing pitcher.

This year the teams have switched pitchers--Clark will be on the mound for the Lions and Deouren will be firing them in for the Optimists.

(The switch is legal--each pitcher is a member of both clubs.)

Lion coaches Larry Dyson and Rodney Guilbeau announced Wednesday that all Lion players must report on the diamond in knee pants--mosquitoes or no. (But for the benefit of the spectators the field will be fogged by Gulf Menhaden Company.)

Optimist Managers Dell Lalande and Buster Rogers have been rather shut-mouth about their team, their only comments being: "Come out and watch us do it again."

The losers will have one consolation--they'll be through for another year's time. The winners will have to meet the challenging Cameron firemen the following week.

Split hunting season adopted

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission Tuesday discarded its previously-announced hunting dates for migratory waterfowl and set a split season on ducks, coots and Canadian and White-fronted geese.

Meeting in a called session, not announced to the public beforehand, the Commission by a 5-2 vote set a split season on the four species. The new hunting dates will be November 4 through November 15 and December 16, through January 8.

Voting against the change in hunting dates were Commission members John Paul Crain of Grand Chenier and John Cutrone of Morgan City.

The Commission last week announced a 40-day straight season on the four species from November 11 through December 20. The split season announced Tuesday provides 36 days of shooting since a ten per cent penalty of the number of days allowed is imposed by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service on states electing to hold a split season.

The previously announced season on Blue and Snow geese, October 31 to January 8, was not changed.

E. R. McDonald the Commission chairman, said the change in seasons was decided upon after a flood of protests were received from hunters on the dates previously set. McDonald said the opposition to the previous seasons was greater than against action taken by the body in the six years he has been a member.

Charles W. Bosch Jr., executive director of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, told the Commission that the split season had been endorsed by that organization.

William S. Denton, Commission member from Houma, offered a resolution adopted by the group calling for the Fish and Wildlife Service to divide Louisiana into two sections for waterfowl hunting so that different dates could be set to satisfy all sections of the state.

John Newsome, Chief of Fish and Game for the Commission, said that the earlier announcment of goose seasons and limits had led to misunderstanding about the limits. The limit on Blue and Snow geese for the 70-day season is five daily and five in possession, and the limit on Canadian and Whitefront geese for the 40-day season is two daily and two in possession, singly or in the aggregate. Newsome said it had been interpreted as meaning seven geese could be killed during the 40-day portion of the season but said that federal regulations limit the total goose bag to five. Therefore, he said, during the 40-day portion of the season a limit may include two of the large species, singly or in the aggregate, and three blue or snow, or five of the latter.

Newsome added that the decision to limit shooting of Canadian and Whitefront geese to 40 days was made on the basis of reports by waterfowl biologists. "The population of these two birds was extremely low last season," Newsome said, "and we had a tremendous kill of the birds that were in the state. Therefore, the biologists felt that a shorter season was essential to protect the future of these two species."

Plans made for Boy Scout drive in the parish

A training session to prepare local chairmen and workers for the Boy Scout financial drive in the Lakeside District will be held next Wednesday evening at the Knights of Columbus hall in Creole, according to Bob Goodkind, chairman of the district finance committee.

The drive will be held in areas not included in the Calcasieu and Vermilion Areas, and is scheduled to begin in October.

Training session leaders will be Goodkind, Joe Estes, John Paul, and Pete Manena.

Ten Creole Scouts make advancements at Court of Honor

Ten members of Creole Boy Scout Troop 202 received First Class awards at the Lakeside District Court of Honor held Thursday of last week at the Calcasieu court house.

Receiving Second Class awards were John R. Theriot, Adam G. Baccigalopi, Wesley P. LeBouef, Dale D. Hebert and John V. Nunez.

Advancing to First Class were John O'Donnell, Michael Savoie, Charles G. Theriot, Adam G. Stirlese and Bobby Bertrand.

MENHADEN PLANTS BEGIN OPERATIONS CURTAILMENT

Cameron's two big menhaden plants, which bring thousands of dollars into this area each season, this past week began curtailing their operations due to the flood of foreign fish into the American market.

Louisiana Menhaden Company Saturday let 18 of its plant employees go--more than a third of the normal work force of 28 men. And Gulf Menhaden Company, which operates with 150 plant workers at peak periods, now has only 95 men at work.

Louisiana's Cameron manager, E. W. Swindell, said his company had cut out two fishing boats in Cameron and four at Empire, and that the remaining eight boats here are limited to catches of 200,000 measure (or about 66 tons) each per day.

Mr. Swindell said he did not know how much longer his plant would operate this season. During normal times, the plants operated into October.

Al Bierman, manager of Gulf Menhaden, said his warehouses in Cameron and Lake Charles were bulging with fish products which were not moving because of the condition of the market.

* *

CAMERON WAS not alone in the menhaden dilemma. In Patterson this past week Captain John Santos Carinhas, president of the Patterson Shrimp Company and operator of a number of menhaden boats in the Cameron area, stated that the jobs of 150 persons in St. Mary parish were in jeopardy due to the market being flooded by menhaden from foreign countries.

He told a Franklin-Banner Tribune reporter that menhaden products sold for $156 a ton in January, 1959, but the imports from Chile, Canada, Peru, Angola and the Union of South Africa has forced the price down to $92 a ton today.

"Capt. John", as he is known throughout this area said that the menhaden industry problem was worsened during the past two years and that unless corrective action is taken the industry will be in dire circumstances.

He estimated that there are 100 menhaden boats and about 40 factories in the gulf area alone that are affected.

Big surpluses were reported in other areas besides Cameron, and one operator in the Morgan City area was reportedly storing surpluses in warehouses as far removed as Jeanerette.

Capt. John said telegrams have been sent to both presidental candidates Richard Nixon and John Kennedy asking their aid in this problem.

It was also pointed out that the gulf shrimp industry is suffering from same foreign competition.

Bids taken on another part of hug the coast road

Bids on another section of the Hug-the-Coast raod were opened by the state highway department in Baton Rouge last week.

Coastal Contractors, Inc. of Baton Rouge were the low bidders on 15.5 miles of blacktopping of the Pecan Island-Forked Island highway, State Rouge 82, in Vermilion parish.

This is the section of the road running north from Pecan Island to join the already paved section of the road at the old canal. When this section is complete, the road will be completely paved from Kaplan to the west end of Pecan Island.

The only link that then will be left to be hard surfaced in the coastal route will be from the Superior Bridge at the end of Grand Chenier to the end of Pecan Island, 11.2 miles.

Rep. Alvin Dyson said it probably will be another year before this contract can be let, as the road fill must be given time to settle. The road, however, is shelled and there is much traffic over it between Grand Chenier and Pecan Island.

DeAngelo is twice winner in boat races Sunday

By Hadley Fontenot

Roy DiAngelo was the winner in two of the four boat races sponsored by the Cameron Baot Club in the Calcasieu river last Sunday. There were a couple of unexpected mishaps which also added to the excitement.

In the first race, won by DiAngelo, the bottom of Sweeney Hebert's boat ripped off by the pounding, and he had to be hauled in by the pickup boat, Braxton Blake took second in this race for 20 h.p. engines or less.

In class C race (up to 30 h.p.) DeAngelo again placed first. Blake came in second and Floyd Marlette, third.

DeAngelo was leading the field again in the third race (Class D, up to 40 h.p.) when his boat made a complete flapjack flip. In a matter of seconds he was out from under the hull and he and his racing equipment was hauled out of the racing area by the pickup boat. Ansene LeBleu came out first in this race, with C. A. Rogers second, and Earnest Dyson third.

In the free-for-all race, J. M. Carbett of Lake Charles won first, Arsene LeBleu second and C. A. Rogers third.

DEMONSTRATION

Mrs. John Landry invites the public to a plastic ware demonstration at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 6 in the VFW hall. She said prizes will be given away.

Safety of ferry questioned here

The safety of the Cameron ferry was questioned by the Cameron Lions Club Wednesday and a resolution was adopted urging the state highway department to take corrective measures.

Lion Norman McCall pointed out that the present policy is to park all of the cars on one side of the ferry, even though there are no cars on the other side. He said that recent model cars are so wide, that it is impossible to open their doors when parked side by side.

"This is a definite hazard," he said. "Boats and ships are rammed and sunk everyday--even with radar. If something were to happen to the ferry, it would be almost impossible for the people in the cars to get out in time."

He suggested that when the ferry has only a partial load, that the cars be distributed on both sides to leave room for the opening of the doors.

HAROLD COOLING brought up another hazard. He said the ferry engine is in such a shape that once it is cut off, it takes hours to restart it. The last time it was stopped, it took 10 hours before it was running again.

"If the engine were to go out while the ferry was in midstream, there'd be nothing to stop it from drifting on out into the Gulf," he stated.

Rep. Alvin Dyson told the club that the highway department had been advised of the ferry's shortcomings and suggested that a resolution from the club might aid in getting some action.

Hadley Fontenot was appointed to draft the resolution.

Opposition to Hackberry recreation bonds voiced dropped this past year due to a cut in oil production, and said that the resident property owners would have to bear a large share of the cost if the assessment continued to drop.

He estimated that the cost to each resident property owner would be $10 per $1,000 assessment per year.

Mr. Lowery also pointed out that homestead exemption would not apply to the recreation bonds.

The spokesman said his group would work vigorously between now and the election to defeat the bond issue.

Mr. Lowery said his group did not oppose a recreation program, but they did not favor voting such a large bond issue at this time.

The total cost to Hackberry property owners over the twenty year life of the bonds would be as follows, he stated:

Bond principal, $290,000; interest at 5%, $179,750; four mill maintenance tax for 20 years, $4000,000, or a total cost of $869,750.

A group of Hackberry property owners this week announced that they are opposed to the passage of a $290,000 bond issue which would provide funds for the construction of a recreation center, swimming pool and park facilities at Hackberry.

The bond issue and a four mill maintenance tax will be voted on in the Hackberry recreation district on Sept. 17. The district takes in all of Ward Six, with the exception of the Gum Cove area.

J. A. Lowery said he had been elected as spokesman for the opposition group at a meeting held last week at his home in Hackberry. He said that he represented more than half the property owners in the district, or about 100 persons.

Theriot winner Saturday

Rodolph Theriot, Ward Two school board member for the past 16 years, was re-elected to that position in last Saturday's second primary election.

Theriot led 101 to 76 in the Muria precinct while Vincent was ahead 131 to 127 in the Grand Chenier box.

In the runoff race for district judge, Division B, Cecil Cutrer defeated John B. Stewart by a vote of 14,664 to 11,462 in Calcasieu and Cameron parishes. The vote in Cameron parish alone was 740 for Cutrer and 617 for Stewart.

T. A. Thompson, who was reelected congressman from the Seventh District, again carried Cameron parish by a vote of 885 to 501 for his opponent, Arsene Stewart. The district wide vote was Thompson 40,782, Stewart 34,709.

Fall - and Football Fever!

BAYOU BROWSING

By Grits Gresham

FALL ARRIVES this Saturday, September 3, in Louisiana! The calendar may object to that statement, and the temperature probably will be in the 90's, but the season of harvest will be on hand as far as cajun gunners are concerned. September 3, in the remote event you don't know, is the opening date of the dove season--the opening of the 1960-61 Louisiana hunting seasons.

If things go according to the script, thousands of birds will be brought to bag during this 18-day first session which ends on September 20. Many of them although this first "half" of the season is designed for north Louisiana conditions, will be killed south of the cajun Mason-Dixon line, which runs approximately through Alexandria.

But the firing will be most furious, come noon on Saturday, around the "yankee" villages of Delhi, Rayville, Bastrop, Oak Ridge, Newelton, Natchitoches, Coushatta, Arcadia and the like. Great concentrations of the gray ghosts gather in selected feeding spots in the agricultural area of north Louisiana in late August and early September, and great concentrations of hunters will surround these fields on Saturday. Whether hunted or not, those doves will begin their annual migration southwest into Texas around the second or third week in September, and this early season permits a harvest of this population before they leave.

If you are sixteen years of age or older you must have a hunting license, which will cost you two bucks this year. A migratory bird hunting stamp (duck stamp) is NOT required for hunting doves. Shooting hours are from noon until sunset, and the daily bag limit is 12 this season, an increase of two.

By its very nature, where many hunters are concentrated in a small area, dove shooting can be dangerous. Don't carry loaded guns in autos; don't shoot at doves that dip down below head-heighth. And don't shoot in the direction of the next hunter. It might be me.

* * *

DUCK SEASON SET

Louisiana hunters were handed a straight duck season of 40 days, beginning Nov. 11 and running through Dec. 20, last week. Bag limit is still 4 per day and 8 in possession. No canvasbacks or redheads allowed this year. One wood duck. Shooting hours one-half hour before sunrise until sunset, except that it begins at noon on opening day.

Season for Canada & White-fronted geese (specklebellies) is same as for ducks, with same shooting hours. For blue and snow geese we again get 70 days--Oct. 31-Jan. 8. Goose limit still 5, of which only two can be Canadas or specklebellies. Coot season same as for ducks, with limits of 6 & 12.

* * *

BOAT REGISTRATION DEADLINE

November 1 is the last day you can use a boat in Louisiana waters, if it's powered by more than 10 horsepower, unless it's registered with the Wild Life and Fisheries Commission. That's not quite true, of course, since you can do so. If so, however, you would be in violation of Section 4 of Act 43 of the past legislature, and subject to fine of up to $25.00. Registration, anyone? Forms are available at marine dealers and sheriff's offices.

AN EARLIER DAY

Origin of French loan-words traced

By ARCHIE HOLLISTER

The main purpose of this article, as stated in the beginning, is to discuss those loan-words which have now become an integral part of Acadian-French. A partial list of such words will now be considered. My authority for most of the material which follows is Dr. William A. Reid who has long been associated with Louisiana State University.

Chaoui; raccoon. This is an Indian word, little changed, which the French acquired from the Choctaw or Mobilian languages. Both tribes used the word "shaui" for raccoon. The word raccoon itself is also an Indian name. The English who settled in Virginia applied the Algonquin "arakunem" to the creature for which there was no English name. Arakunem, which means literally handscratcher, soon became raccoon, and more simply coon.

Choc: Blackbird. Authorities are not in total agreement concerning this, but some trace it back to the Attakapas "ts'ok," which was their designation for the blackbird. Choc, in Standard French, has the same meaning as the English shock, and the pronunciation of the two is almost identical. Both are derived from an Old High German source.

Choupique: This comes from the Choctaw "shupik," and means mudfish. This particular fish is variously known as the bowfin, grindle, or grinnel catfish in other sections of the South. There has been practically no change in pronunciation, although the spelling has undergone various transformations.

Early explorers and mapmakers rendered it as choupicatcha, campique, show pique, chou pique, shupac, shore pique, and tchoupic, to mention a few. This is understandable of course, for the Indians had no written language. Each man, when he first heard the word and attempted to write it, spelled it the way it sounded to him, and it is not unusual to find the same writer employing three or four different spellings in the course of his writing.

Mosquitoes plague Lowery

The Lowery community continues to be deluged with rain and besieged by mosquitoes.

Cleveland Broussard reports that early Sunday morning he was forced to move his cattle from Streeter's Ranch to his home pasture lest mosquitoes cause them to stampede and break into his rice fields.

Mr. Broussard also states that it took two weeks with three combines to cut 95 acres of Nato on his farm due to daily rains. At best the yield was fair. He has 200 more acres to cut soon.

Other farmers are also trying to combine between showers.

WALLACE Sonnier has begun the building of a thirty by forty foot barn on his farm.

The Rev. J. F. Paradis said mass here Sunday, having returned from a three-week trip to his home in Canada.

Miss Dorothy Perkins returned Thursday from a ten day trip to Mexico.

Mrs. Maurine Perkins will teach second grade in the Lake Arthur elementary school during the first semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernice Marceaux's little daughter Sandra, who had undergone a tonsillectomy in the Jennings Legion Hospital last Monday, had a hemorrhage Sunday. She was rushed back to the hospital, but was well enough to return home the next day.

Her brother, Gerald, who had also received a tonsillectomy the same day, has contracted splendidly.

Weather stymies farmers

Ten farmers here have formed a "combine pool", so to speak, a cooperative plan that is working with effective speed. Their ten combines, which are able to harvest about a hundred acres a day, are put into the field of ripest grain. From it they progress to the next ripest.

Owners of these combines are Louis Trahan, Jr., P. J. Woods, Henry Broussard, Jules Broussard, Jr., Daniel Broussard, Edward Broussard, L. O. Broussard, Dupreion Marceaux, Vernice Marceaux, and Chester Vincent.

Last week 45 acres of Nato belonging to Louis Trahan, Jr., brought in an average yield of 23 barrels to the acre. Next, 50 acres of Nato were cut for Mr. Woods. The yield was excellent, but his average has not been computed to date.

One day 111 acres for Dupreion Marceaux were cut near Thornwell, resulting in an unusually good yield also.

Romeyal Vincent's field of about 100 acres was cut the next day.

Other farmers here are also pooling their labor and equipment.

Among others who harvested last week were Whitney Broussard, Bob Klein, Rufus Dugas, Percy David, Roy Duhon, Robert Mire, Joe LaCombe cut two of his fields. Paul Sonnier's rice is being combined this week.

ON SATURDAY Mrs. Paul Sonnier, Mrs. Leo Sonnier, Mrs. Austin Johnny Rabelais of Alexandria spent the weekend with Earl LaCombe.

On Friday and Saturday guests in the Paul Sonnier home were Mr. and Mrs. Russell LeDoux and children of Morgan City, while spending last week there was Lester Sonnier, a grandson from Illinois Plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin LaCombe and children, Marilyn Glenn and Jack, of Buras spent last weekend with the Joe LaCombes.

THE NEW BIRTH— ITS IMPORTANCE

A YOUNG man from the South American tropics came to study in a college in the United States. He had never seen snow. When trees shed their leaves in the fall of the year he thought they were dead. His first winter in this country was cold. Ice covered a river near the school. When springtime came leaves began bursting out on the trees. Carlos told a friend, "This is wonderful. The trees were got dead, but asleep for a few months. Now they have more life than ever."

Human life is like that. A person has within his soul the capacity for good. But he is spiritually asleep, his soul rendered helpless and useless by evil and a sinful nature. If he is willing to open his heart to the warmth of the love of God in Christ, he can become a new person, alive, growing, bearing fruit.

Churches are making every effort to get people who are lost in sin to respond to the call of God. That is why you are hearing about Baptist revivals at this season of the year. Christians have found peace and joy for their souls. They want others to find inner peace, joy, and power.

What is this new birth in Christ, this bursting forth of new life and power?

It is a free gift of God, bought for the sinner "not re-deemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold . . . but with the precious blood of Christ" (1 Peter 1:18,19). The person who is lost in sin cannot pay for it. He cannot work enough to earn it. He can open his heart to Christ, trust him as Lord, and receive this divine gift of forgiveness and love. It has already been bought by Jesus Christ with the highest price ever paid. But it is a gift to the sinner.

It brings a complete change of life. To be "born anew," or "born again," or "born from above," or "born of the Spirit" means more than making a resolution. It is a radical change. The old life of sin is given up and buried. A new life of righteousness is started. It is a complete turn, a going forth in a new direction. It is accepting a whole new set of goals for life.

It brings power from God to help one live by his new faith. The Bible says, "As many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name" (John 1:12).

The new birth in Christ brings assurance of spending eternity with God in heaven. The godly life begins here on earth now, and extends into heaven forever.

Go to church this week and consider this new birth in Christ!

An industry studying a site for a new plant always begins with one basic question: What built-in advantages are offered by the location?

Among the competitors for new industries, Louisiana can offer an impressive answer—resources which include sulphur, the basic chemical element vital to scores of manufacturing processes; natural gas and petroleum; shell and salt; unlimited quantities of fresh water for industrial use; and first class water and rail transportation.

In fact, this combination of resources has attracted so much industry that Louisiana itself now consumes more Louisiana sulphur than all but four of the fifty states. Such growth reflects millions of dollars in investments, thousands of new jobs and other benefits to Louisianians.

Freeport is gratified that its own investment is helping stimulate the economic growth of the state.

1960 Hackberry High School Mustangs To Play Friday

THIS WEEK

BY JERRY WISE

THE OPTIMISTS did it again! For the second straight year they snowed under the Lions in a "grudge" softball game, the winners taking it 25-21.

But it was a good game all the way, and was tied up 21-21 at the end of nine innings. The Optimists blasted over four runs in extra inning to take home the marbles.

Winning pitcher was Jimmy Derouen, who was on the losing team last year when he pitched for the Lions. Dr. Cecil Clark pitched for the Lions up until the sixth inning, when he was called out for a patient and was relieved by Rodney Guilbeau.

The two clubs raised $62.-55 with the game, which will be used to buy candy for Santa Claus' visit to Cameron in December.

THE CAMERON Optimists have changed their meeting time from Tuesday night to Tuesday noon at Fred's Restaurant.

THE CREOLE TEAMS won both the junior and senior American Legion baseball championships this summer. Edison Mhire and O'Donnell appeared before the police jury Tuesday to try to get the jury to give a trophy to the winners of the junior league (the 13 and 14 year old players.)

The jury decided not to go into that field--but J. B. Jones spoke up and said the Cameron Insurance Agency would give the trophy.

POLICE JURY ODDS & ENDS . . . Juror Vian Theriot said that the United Gas in laying lines to homes on Grand Chenier had left some bad spots on some of the streets which are to be blacktopped soon. He asked the company to assume responsibility for any damage to the streets . . . the jury decided to dispose of the $3,300 left in its disaster fund by dividing it up among several other parish funds . . .

Johnny Reid of Grand Chenier appeared asking for a beer permit. The jury referred him to the sheriff . . .

Bolo Trosclair reported again that the drainage ditch along Davis road was eating into private property and should be repaired . . . the jury was told that the courthouse air-conditioning was giving more trouble and would need a $507 unit to get it back in shape.

JOSEPH E. HEBERT

Joseph Hebert enters seminary in England

Joseph Elmo Hebert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hebert of Thibodaux, has completed his years of novitiate with the White Fathers at Franklin, Pa. After a short visit with his family, he was scheduled to sail this month to London, England, to complete theology studies in St. Edward's seminary.

Mr. Hebert's mother is the former Margaret Conner of Little Chenier, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Desire Conner.

A graduate of St. Michael high school, Crowley, he served with the U. S. Army in Korea and the Far East. He graduated from St. Mary's college in Kentucky and taught in Catholic schools in the Caribbean before entering the White Fathers' novitiate in August, 1959.

The White Fathers, so called from their distinctive white garb, are an international society devoted exclusively to work in Africa. They started their work in North Africa and since then have established missions throughout the central, eastern and western regions of that continent.

After he is ordained, Mr. Hebert's first mass will be in Thibodaux, his second in Morse, where he was born, and his third in Creole.

Fourth Year--No. 49 | Cameron, La., Sept. 9, 1960 | 10¢ A COPY

Menhaden plant closes this week

The Louisiana Menhaden Company closed down its Cameron plant Wednesday, more than a month before its usual fall closing. Manager Ed Swindell said it was the earliest closing in the plant's history.

Ordinarily the plant operated into October, sometimes as late as the 25th.

A slow market, caused by fierce competition from foreign imports of menhaden products, has seriously affected the local plant and the entire American menhaden industry.

Catches have been good this year, but with little of the menhaden products moving, local warehouses are full--thereby necessitating the early closing.

Al Bierman, manager of the Gulf Menhaden Co. plant here, said this week that his plant was continuing operations, but that only two-thirds of the normal work force is being used at the plant. Gulf had a big catch Monday--4½ million measures of fish.

The closing of the Louisiana plant and the curtailment at Gulf will have a dampening effect on the Cameron economy. In normal times, the two plants provide employment for about 175 local persons, plus hundreds of transient fishermen who spend thousands of dollars with local merchants.

Parish to issue $200,000 in bonds

The Cameron parish police jury voted Tuesday to issue $200,000 in revenue bonds for road improvement projects in the parish, the bonds to be retired with revenue from the royalty road fund.

This fund is 10 percent of royalities which the state of Louisiana receives from oil and gas leases in Cameron parish. Amounting to approximately $100,000 a year, this money is turned over to the parish for road and bridge projects.

The jury recently received an opinion from state treasurer Pat Tugwell that it would be safe for the parish to issue up to $200,000 with the royalty road income as backing.

Upon the motion of Juror C. A. Riggs, seconded by Archie Berwick, assistant District Attorney J. B. Jones was authorized to take the necessary steps to issue the bonds.

*

THE JURY ALSO received estimates from the state highway department on the cost of two road projects in the parish, and there is a possibility that a portion or all of the $200,000 will go towards these projects.

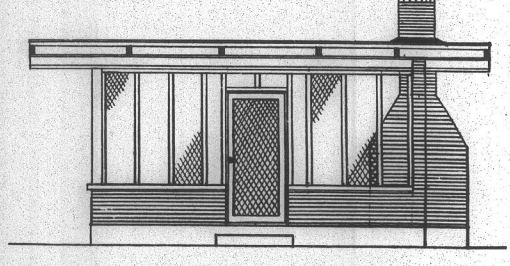
It was estimated that the cost of blacktopping 2.25 miles of streets in Hackberry would be $47,000.

The hardsurfacing of the Front Ridge road beginning 6 miles east of Cameron and continuing 7.7 miles to Oak Grove would cost $462,000, the highway department said.

A survey of the Front Ridge road would cost $16,000, it was added.

Police Juror Roland Trosclair suggested that this project be financed jointly with the bonds the jury will issue and with Road District 7 funds, but other jurors were dubious of there being enough money for the project.

It was suggested that the jury wait until it gets $200,-000 and then approach the state highway department to see how much matching funds they could get on the various projects.



It was agreed to table action on the two projects until then.

Vincent's Barber shop opens here

Cameron now has a new barber shop--Vincent's Barber Shop located next to the Ship Ahoy Drive In on Marshall street.

The owner is Crawford Vincent, a native of Grand Chenier, who has been barbering at Chennault Air Force Base at Lake Charles for the past nine years.

He announces that his shop will be open Monday through Saturday, 8 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

THIS IS AN artist sketch of one of the several picnic pavilions which would be built at the Hackberry recreation recreation park if a $290,000 bond issue is approved by property owners on Sept. 17. Other proposed facilities would include a swimming pool, recreation center, lighted playing field and a 10-acre park.

PARISH BOARD OF HEALTH IS CREATED

A Cameron parish board of health was created by the police jury Tuesday and five members named to the board.

A letter from Dr. W. J. Rein, president of the state board of health, asked that three licensed physicians, an educational leader and one other person at large be named to the board.

Following this advise the jury named the following board members: Dr. J. B. Colligan, Hackberry; Dr. Stephen Carter, Creole; Dr. Cecil W. Clark, Cameron; Wilson Montie, Creole, parish supervisor of schools; and Charles W. Hebert, Sweetlake farmer.

Dr. Rein's letter advised that the law requires the board to appoint a parish health officer, who must be a licensed physician, who shall establish his domicile in the parish.

Jury Secretary Joe Doxey suggested that Dr. G. Vasquez, present director of the Cameron Health Unit, be retained in that position for the time being. Dr. Vasquez is also the director of the Calcasieu Health Unit, but comes to Cameron once a week.

This was the first time the parish had ever appointed such a board and the first time the state had requested the appointment of one.

The reason for the action now was that the actions of a health unit director in another parish had been challenged because he had not been named parish health officer by a parish board of health.

The five members of the new board will serve four-year terms.

Faries new manager here

F. C. Faries, who has been in the grocery business in the Sabine area since 1936, is now a partner of Dale C. Higgins in the ownership of the Cameron Food Mart.

Mr. Faries is also the new manager of the store, formerly known as Mitcheletti-Higgins.

The new manager, a native of Longview, Texas, has owned or managed numerous groceries in Port Arthur and Orange, and more recently was associated with Mr. Higgins in a supermarket at Bridge City.

He said he plans to move his family to Cameron shortly. He has a son at Texas A & M, a daughter at Stephen F. Austin, and a 5-month-old daughter.

Local Man To Attend Reunion Of Ol' War Skule

The 5th Annual Reunion of the "Cadets of the Ol' War Skule" will be held October 22, at 9 a.m. in the auditorium of the State Welfare Building on the Old LSU Campus. This date is that of the LSU-Floriday football game with kick-off at 8 p.m. and a large crowd is anticipated for this reunion.

Dr. A. H. LaFargue of Sulphur, a member of the organization, is expecting to attend.

All male students of LSU on the Old Campus, even only for a day, whether they were cadets or not, and all male faculty and staff members on the old site of the University are eligible and are urged to attend. Former friendships will be renewed and tales of experiences at the Ol' War Skule will be the order of the day.

Jury receives proposal on causeway fill lease

The Cameron parish police jury Monday received only one proposal on the leasing of the surface rights of the Sabine Lake causeway fill--that submitted by George Clark and H. M. Rosen, Port Arthur businessmen, who have been trying to secure a lease for the past three years.

The proposal was taken under advisement by the jury, which plans to meet with the Jefferson County Commissioners Court in Beaumont at 1 p.m. Friday to discuss the matter.

Braste Hebert, jury president, said he felt that Jefferson County should have a voice in the leasing of the causeway fill, since the county shared in the cost with Cameron parish in the construction of the causeway.

"We're sort of in partnership with those people," Mr. Hebert said.

J. B. Jones, Jr., assistant district attorney, advised the jury that the Jefferson County officials were a little displeased that they had not been consulted before hand on the leasing of the fill, although it is located on the Louisiana side of the Lake.

(At the recent session of the Louisiana legislature, a bill was passed giving Cameron parish the authority to lease the fill on which the east end of the causeway rests.)

* * *

MR. CLARK AND MR. ROSEN, who with their attorney, C. A. Miller, Jr., were at the Tuesday jury meeting, submitted the following proposal:

They asked for a 20 year lease, with an option to renew for 10 additional years. They offered $1,000 per year for the first five years, $1,500 per year for the next ten years; and $2 a year for the next five years; with the price on the ten year option not to exceed $2,500.

The leases also proposed to make the following public improvements to the property at a cost of around $10,000:

(1) A launching slip for small boats located at the fill and at the northern end of a canal to be dug 40 feet wide, extending south 500 feet from the shell cut on Sabine Lake.

(2) A shelled parking area to accommodate a minimum of 50 cars, increasing in size as needed.

(3) Construction of a fence along the highway right of way extending across the fill tract for the protection of the traveling public and for general public safety.

(The launching slip and parking area would be free for public use.)

The Port Arthur men also proposed to construct the following for commercial purposes:

(1) A marine filling station.

(2) A small boat refueling and docking wharf.

(3) A fishermen's bar, sandwich grill and sporting goods store.

They indicated that future plans included construction of a motel on property which the two have under lease adjoining the causeway fill.

Fur Festival gets funds from parish

The Cameron police jury Tuesday voted to include $2,-000 in its 1961 budget for the annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival to be held in Cameron during January.

Mrs. Charles Hebert of Sweetlake, Joe O'Donnell of Creole and Ed Swindell of Cameron, all members of the festival board, told the jury that the festival probably could not be held this coming year if assistance were not secured from the parish.

Up until last year, the festival received a $5,000 appropriation each year from the state. But last year, and again this year, the appropriations for all state festivals and fairs were vetoed by the governor because of the lack of funds.

The festival had enough funds left over from the previous year to put on the 1960 festival, but with only about $1,500 scheduled to come in from concessions, it was doubtful that the 1961 festival could be held without additional aid.

Hackberry police juror C. A. Riggs said he wasn't against the festival, but that he thought he jury shouldn't be making such appropriations when it didn't have enough money for road projects.

Other jurors, though, praised the festival and the publicity that it has brought to Cameron parish. They pointed out to Mr. Riggs that the $2,000 could come out of the general fund and would not work a hardship on the road fund.

Upon motion by Roland J. Trosclair, seconded by Horace Mhire, all of the jurors, including Mr. Riggs, voted for the sum to be included in the 1961 budget.

School board to lease 8 sections

The Cameron parish school board will open bids October 3 on the surface leasing of eight school sections. A description of the land and instructions on bidding are to be found in the legal notice elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

Ward boundaries are redefined

The boundaries of Cameron parish's six wards were defined Tuesday in an ordinance adopted by the police jury which corrects a number of errors in old parish records.

Assistant District Attorney J. B. Jones said that in drawing up an ordinance on the Ward Six recreation district, he found that boundary between Ward Five and Six was in error.

He said that in 1911 when Ward Six was created, two surveyors had worked in the area and had inadvertently overlapped Townships 13 and 14. An ordinance creating Ward Six also had an error in which the boundary line along Calcasieu lake was given as going "west" when it truth it went "northeast".

With the aid of the New York bond attorneys, which the jury had employed to aid with the Ward Six recreation bond issue, Mr. Jones drafted a resolution correcting these mistakes and errors found in descriptions of other wards. (Ward Four was the only one in which no errors were found.)

Mr. Jones said that the redescribing of the wards would in no way take away or add any land to any of the wards.

Another ordinance was adopted by the jury redefining the boundaries of the Ward Six recreation district, in line with the new description of Ward Six.

Mr. Jones said that through a misunderstanding he had included the Gum Cove area in the recreation district, although Police Juror C. A. Riggs had requested that this area be left out.

Safety book prepared

Lake Charles, La. - A handbook for PTA safety chairmen and hints about where to get help for school programs will be made available Friday night as part of the Seventh District PTA Leadership Training Conference.

The Calcasieu Area Safety Council said today that a workshop in safety will be led by John E. Rolen, Rosteer School principal and safety chairman for the Lake Charles Council of PTA, and by Norman Ledgin, Safety Council manager.

The safety organization urged representation by unit safety chairmen or anyone interested in child safety problems. The Seventh District covers Calcasieu, Cameron, and Jeff Davis parishes.

The Leadership Training Conference is scheduled Friday and Saturday at Lake Charles High School.

Safety subjects to be covered include bicycles, pedestrians, school bus problems, school patrols, school building and playground safety, driver education, and home and recreation safety.

Frankie Henry named sewer & water board

Frankie Henry, Cameron motel owner, was named to the Cameron Sewer and Water board by the police jury Monday. He succeeds Alvin Dyson, whose term expired.

Hadley Fontenot, whose term was also up, was renamed to the board. Mr. Dyson had asked that he not be reappointed because of the press of business.

Remaining on the board are Conway LeBlieu, Clarence Guilbeau and Roland Trosclair.

A water and sewerage bond election called for the town of Cameron a year ago was defeated. The local board at a recent meeting decided to investigate the possibility of calling another election, this time just on a water system. It was felt by the board that such an election would be successful this time.

LIBRARY LETTER

Child care books are at library

By MARY BRAND
Cameron Parish Librarian

Dr. Benjamin Spock has become a familiar name in many homes. His book "Common Sense Book of Baby and Child Care" is used by millions of Americans as a guide to child care. Along with this book the library has a valuable companion volume "Feeding Your Baby and Child." In this book the author discusses many practical topics such as the do's and don'ts of breast feeding, the baby's formula, weaning the baby from the bottle, changing the infant's diet to the child's diet, and how to hugor a child's fussy appetite.

"When Children Ask" by Marguerite Bro is a book that will help the parent look right at his children's questions - and beneath them - to offer answers which the child need not later discard.

"Home Play for the Preschool Child" by June Johnson will help give an answer to that perpetual cry, "What shall I do now?"

"Don't Be Afraid of Your Child," by Hilde Bruch, "How to Help the Shut-in Child", by Margery D. McMullins and "The Encyclopedia of Child Care and Guidance" are other books that are available at your Cameron Parish Library.

Chinch bugs damage lawns in the parish

By HADLEY FONTENOT
County Agent

More and more brown areas are appearing in St. Augustine lawns in the parish. The culprit causing this damage is the chinch bug. In some yards over 80% of the grass has been killed which is the case in Douglas Murphy's lawn.

Chances are enough pieces of roots and stems will survive to restock itself over a period of months. However, should anyone want to stop these insects from doing anymore damage there is a recommended treatment which should do the job.

In 100 gallons of water dissolve 5 qts. of 25% emulsifiable DDT or 5 lbs. of 50% wettable powder and spray this on an area of not over 5000 sq. ft. That's an area 50 x 100 feet.

Other chemicals which may be used are one pint of 25% Diazinon in 100 gallons of water or V.C. 13 at the rate of two quarts per 100 gallons of water.

Mrs. Charles Precht renamed to board

Mrs. Charles Precht of Sweetlake was renamed to the Cameron parish library board by the police jury Tuesday. Her term was to expire October 1.

Believe In Slavery?

Of course not! But, that's about what rural Louisiana offered — especially to women—in 1937 when only 1.7% of the rural homes and farms had electricity.

Desperate country folks changed that sorry picture by organizing their own non-profit electric cooperatives—which, today, provide 98% area coverage with reasonable rates.

Rural electrification has truly helped EVERYBODY — town and country. It has meant more productivity, new markets, new business, industry — jobs — and a stronger Louisiana economy while revolutionizing rural life.

Nobody wants a return to slavery in rural Louisiana. That's why rural folks are asking their friends and neighbors in towns and cities to know and understand their privately owned electric co-operatives . . . asking for help to keep these local non-profit institutions strong.

New Payrolls... New Opportunities!

Every company or plant attracted to the Gulf South provides new jobs, new payrolls, greater opportunities for advancement. That's why our industrial development advertising program is so important to you, and to every resident of this area.

For more than 20 years we have advertised in leading national publications to invite industrialists to locate their new plants in the cities and towns of the Gulf South. We believe our advertising has helped to create many good jobs for the bright young people born and educated in this area. We believe it has made business better for everybody.

UNITED GAS
SERVING THE GULF SOUTH

This full-color page advertisement published by our company in leading national magazines urged industrialists to vacation in the Gulf South . . . and to see for themselves the advantages that have caused more and more industries to build plants in the new, progressive Gulf South.

A Message to the Citizens of Hackberry and Ward 6:

Dear Fellow Citizens and Tax Payers:

We had hoped to bring the recreation bond issue to a vote in a democratic election and let you decide the issues for yourselves.

However, the basic issue has been cast aside, our children, somehow, have been disregarded and this has become a political issue. We should feel ashamed.

We feel that you are entitled to hear the truth, make up your own minds without pressure, and tell us what to do. We will abide by this decision.

Here are the facts:

The last bonds sold in Cameron Parish (for the Lower Cameron hospital) went for 3.97% interest, which is very low. We all pay interest on schools, churches, homes, appliances --this is an accepted thing in our society.

We have 33 mills outstanding in Ward 6 which is one of the lowest in Louisiana. Sulphur (Ward 4) in the heart of the industrial area has 68 mills! Lake Charles has 89 and Cameron has 42. So you see, we are not taxing anyone unfairly.

We are the only parish in the state without an organized recreation district or program. Do you think it is unfair to ask for what our 63 other parishes have?

Here the old saying applies--you can't get anything for nothing.

Our neighboring towns have grown rapidly in population and industrial growth in the last 10 years. Yet, Hackberry, with all our natural resources has virtually remained the same. All of our property is classed as rural which prevents FHA home loans and other advantages. This can be changed only one way--by digging deeper and working harder for a better united program, such as recreation facilities, a bank, natural gas, etc.

Our population, industrial development, and income are all increasing and with faith and continued hard work we have every reason to believe that this trend will continue.

Concerning industry, we are proud to have them in our community. But let us ask you this question: Why are they here? Only because of the natural resources we have to offer. Is it unfair to ask their help in putting something back in our community?

"Is it worth the gamble?" as the opponents ask. If you want to go forward instead of backward; if you love your children and your home; if you believe in democracy, have faith in God and the future of our country, and want to build up instead of destroy--then, yes, its is worth it.

Fellow citizens, we ask you to seriously consider this issue and then go to the polls Saturday, Sept. 17 and vote yes for the bond issue and yes for the maintenance tax.

Combines roll holiday or not

By BERNICE STEWART

Labor Day elsewhere may have meant a holiday but in this community Monday meant a sunny day, a day in which the farmer might work extra long in garnering his rice and hay.

Nuffy Sonnier cut 40 acres of Nato on the Abshire farm last week. He considered the almost-21 barrel average good for the bad planting and harvesting seasons this year.

Bernard Hartwell has been cutting with Darryl Gillette and Nelson Dugas' field near Welsh is still too muddy to go into.

Cleveland Broussard is cutting his on Streeter's Ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Arceneaux Baudoin and daughter, Carolyn, drove to Creole Sunday, where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Duhon and sons, Ricky and Tony, and Miss Mymae Duhon. From there they went to Hackberry then back to Holly Beach for swimming.

The C. H. Whitman family spent the weekend in Bridge City and Orange, Texas.

Jean O'Riley, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Riley of New York City, left early Tuesday for New Orleans by plane. From there she returned home by jet.

Jean had spent the summer with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hartwell, and their children.

There was a CCD meeting Thursday night at Catholic Hall in Thornwell.

LOWERY & KLONDIKE NEWS

Rice yields are good at Klondike

By Bernice Stewart

The rice farms here are scenes of activity as the huge combines crawl over the fields of ripened grain, leaving bare stubble in their wake.

In the last few days 40 acres were cut for Henry Broussard, 111 for Jules Broussard, jr., 59 for Louis Trahan, jr., all of Nato. These farmers reported a very good yield and were satisfied with the results of their crops. Sixty acres of Bluebonnet were combined this week for Henry Broussard.

On Monday a dozen combines, belonging four to each, Percy David, Carl Hoffpauir, and Mrs. Maple Hughes, began cutting 60 acres of Nato for Cecil David and later for both Dallas David and Wilfred La-Point.

Percy David had about 75 acres of Nato combined last week. Harvesting also was done on the farms of George Klein and Francis Klein.

Edval LaCombe and Joe LaCombe make up a brother team working together. On Saturday and Sunday they aided in cutting on the Douvic Bourque, jr., and the Paul Sonnier farms.

Whitney Broussard has 100 acres of Bluebonnet ready to be combined this week. He and Donald Broussard were helping Charlie Benoit gather his rice on Monday and Tuesday.

Just as the rice harvest is an annual event so is a little girl's birthday, and to five-year-old Lorraine Cormier the latter is far more important.

On Saturday afternoon her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curley Cormier invited her friends over to share her beautiful birthday cake. Cake and fruit punch were served to the Dugas children, Sandra Fae, Gloria, Mary Alice, Dora Dean, Curliss, Roberta, Billy, Shirlene and Michael; the Cormiers, Carl, Cathy, and Doug; Mrs. Alton Dugas; and Mr. and Mrs. Cormier.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Melancon spent Saturday in Cameron.

On Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brunt of Branch visited the Donald Broussards and the Whitney Broussards.

Visiting the Cus Laurents on Tuesday were Earl LeDoux and Pedro Laurents of Lafayette.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Savoy spent the past weekend in Fort Arthur, with their children.

Chester Savoy is now employed in Port Arthur.

NOTICE!

TO THE PEOPLE LIVING IN WARD 6, CAMERON PARISH, LA. OR WHO HAVE PROPERTY IN WARD 6, CAMERON PARISH, LA. WHICH INCLUDES HACKBERRY AND GUM COVE.

Those who are for the Recreation Center; or those who are against the Recreation Center, better get their pencils and do some figuring as to what it is going to cost before you make up your minds. Then, if you are satisfied, go to the polls and vote either "yes" or "no." You aren't doing any good either way to get upset and not vote. Be sure to vote on September 17, 1960.

The $290,000 (if they get the money at 5%) is a pretty good item. Then the 4 mills and the interest on this amount is another pretty good item. When it is all put together it will be more than our school house, what we put into the Calcasieu-Cameron Hospital and also our Fire Station. And then it is going to cost you even before you get your feet wet in this proposition. So, all I am asking is for everyone to figure for himself and make his own choice; but be sure to go vote "Yes" or "No" when you make up your mind as to its cost to you.

District officers meet with auxiliary

By ELDIE CHERAMIE

District officers of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary met last week with the Cameron Auxiliary at the VFW hall.

Fifth District President Essie Fontenot presented Hazel Dronet, outgoing Cameron president, with a Dixie Dame band for having participated in all programs, and several other awards.

The Auxiliary received a certificate for showing a ten percent membership increase. Mrs. Fontenot urged that the 1961 membership drive be begun immediately.

The Auxiliary made plans for a joint party in October for the Blue Birds, sponsored by the Auxiliary, and the Cub Scouts, sponsored by the VFW.

Plans for the float in the fur festival will be discussed at the next meeting.

MARRIAGE LICENSES

Charles W. Hamaker, Jacksonville, Fla. and Marilyn Irene Billings, Cameron.

Joseph Ellender and Arean Elouise Navarre, both of Hackberry.

Rodney Douglas Seaford, Nebane, N. C. and Arlene Blanche Stanley, Holly Beach.

Census can give proof of birth

Last year, 9,333 residents of Louisiana turned to the U.S. Bureau of the Census for help in proving they were born. These persons were among an estimated 30 million United States residents who are without proof of age or birth. The historical records of the Census Bureau provide the security source of this information for most of these 30 million people.

Proof of age or birth is needed today to collect social security and other retirement benefits. It is needed to obtain passports. It is needed to qualify for jobs carrying certain age or citizenship requirements. It is needed for some forms of insurance.

Since 1920, the Census Bureau has provided more than three and one-half million persons with copies of their Census records on age, place of birth, citizenship, or kinship. Persons seeking such records of facts about themselves should write to the Personal Census Service Branch, Bureau of the Census, Pittsburg, Kansas, for a Census Records Search Application Form.

A fee of $3.00 is charged for a search of not more than two censuses for one person and for one copy of the information found. Additional expedited search costs $4.00

Expedited searches are usually completed within a few days while the routine $3.00 search may take up to 30 days, depending upon the backlog of requests and the ease or difficulty in locating the information.

The personal information in the records of the 1900 and later Censuses is confidential by law and may be furnished only upon the written request of the person to whom it relates or, for a proper purpose, a legal representative such as guardian or administrator of an estate. Information regarding a child who has not reached legal age may be obtained upon the written request of either parent.

Grand Lake to have practice game Friday

The first regular game of the season will be on Sept. 23 at Kinder, with the first home game against Elton in October. Grand Lake has only three home games this year.

The team has a new coach—Billy Ray Harper, who replaces Jospeh Sonnier, who became principal of Johnson Bayou high school this year.

Tarpon Coaches Robert Manuel and Sonny McCall

Tarpons wins in jamboree

The South Cameron Tarpons demonstrated that they will again be among the top contenders for district honors this year by shutting out Elton 7-0 in the Class B jamboree at Iowa last week.

The Tarpons, taking the opening kickoff, moved 63 yards for a touchdown in just five plays and three minutes. Alvin Mudd scored from the two and Charles Bernard added the extra point on a run.

The Elton Indians played a fine game, and at one point drove to the Tarpon one yard line after recovering a fumble on the 26 yard line, but time ran out before they could get off another play.

Coach Robert Manuel had praise for the entire Tarpon squad, singling out Bobby LaLande for a good end play and Charles Bernard for making a tackle from behind when Elton broke into the clear.

BAYOU BROWSING

In the face of widespread dissatisfaction with the previously announced duck season, the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission met in a special session on August 30 and reconsidered it. They chose a split season — Nov. 4-15 and Dec. 16-Jan. 8— with bag limit of four and possession limit of eight. The same season will apply to coots, Canada geese, and White-fronted geese.

The Commission is faced each year with the impossible task of trying to set a season on waterfowl that will please all duck hunters. The problem is magnified when the lean years of duck production come around, when the season lengths are restricted to 40 days, as has been the case for the past two years.

The pressure on the Commission in the matter isn't just geographical. New Orleans' hunters, for instance, are divided in their druthers —some want early season, some want late, some want split. Northwest Louisiana gunners want the earliest possible season; northeast Louisiana wants the latest possible season; and the southwest marsh hunters are divided on early and late, on split versus straight.

The Commission members deserve plaudits for the effort they've gone to in an attempt to please the most hunters. I think the dates they've come up with will probably do just that, with a little early shooting and twice that much late shooting. Remember, however, that the Commission can't control the ducks. Mallards, as I recall, have made mulletheads out of people on many an occasion.

The Greshams held a housewarming—prefiature and unintended—on the morning of August 28. When I woke, about 3:00 a.m., the garage and storeroom was ablaze from stem to stern. Everything was destroyed.

Guess what was in the garage? Automobiles? Naw—this is 1960. Both stalls were occupied by a boat-motor-trailer rig. On the right, still hooked to my auto (which also burned), was a 15' DUT-G fiberglass Arkansas Traveler, sitting on a Tennessee Trailer, with a 40 horse Johnson on the stern. On the left was my fine fishing rig, a Skeeter boat on a Skeeter trailer, with both a 3 h.p. Johnson and a Minn-Kota electric motor on the stern.

Both boats practically disappeared, and there wasn't a great deal left of the motors. I was surprised that the fiberglass was consumed so completely, but now hear that the reisins in it really get hot when they do get going. I believe it!

In the storeroom, garage, boats, and auto were most of a lifetime accumulation of fishing, hunting, and camping equipment. When I began listing it I was surprised at the collection. There were a dozen or more rod and reel outfits—spinning, fly, casting, trolling; a couple of tackle boxes and several hundred lures; Coleman lanterns, stoves, water jugs, tables, and ice boxes; a Bauer down sleeping bag and a Hodgman air mattress that had seen me through many a rough night; Mary's 3 horse motor; four boat seats; ten life jackets and ski belts; three pairs of Kam water skiis; ski ropes and boarding ladder; paddles, decoys, and landing nets; a Bauer down jacket; all of my hunting boots, leather and hip boots, and hunting clothes; and skin diving equipment. Most of my guns, fortunately, were in the house.

Those are some of the items I can think of offhand, and there are many, many others. On what's left one Grits Gresham is going to have, in the near future, a complete inventory. And though it brings to mind the slammed gate after the hoss is gone, I'm gonna be a mighty good friend to the insurance companies in the future.

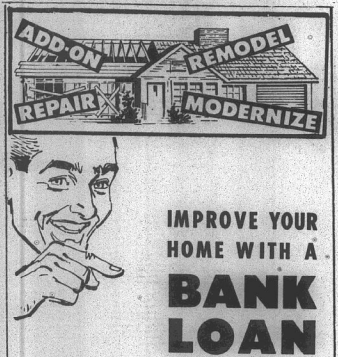
Apple tree variety recommended for South Louisiana

By Hadley Fontenot
Cameron County Agent

Up until now no apple tree variety had ever been recommended for South Louisiana. In a new booklet just published by L. S. U. and the Agricultural Experiment Station an apple variety known as Brillian is recommended.

This booklet also gives much good information on pruning, insect and disease control, fertilization, varieties to plant, when to plant, etc. It covers the many different kinds of fruit trees which can be grown here.



Get your copy of this booklet entitled the HOME FRUIT GARDEN IN LOUISIANA from your Agricultural Extension Service Office (County Agent) in Cameron by writing or picking it up at the office.

Cash or check drawn to favor of Cameron Parish School Board in the full amount of the cash bonus shall accompany and be deposited with each bid, and the cash bonus shall be forfeited to the Cameron Parish School Board as liquidated damages if the successful bidder fails to enter into written contract in accordance with the terms of his bid within ten (10) days after the bid has been accepted by the Board.

VOTE "NO" TO AMENDMENT 8 ON NOV. 8!

DON'T PUT LOUISIANA BEHIND THE EIGHT BALL!

EVERYBODY LOSES IF WE BUILD TOLEDO BEND!*

1. THE PEOPLE OF LOUISIANA WILL LOSE because revenue from sale of power will be insufficient to retire bonds. Then who will pay the bill? You!!!
2. SOME 400 FAMILIES WILL LOSE because they will be displaced to make way for waters not needed for flood control, not needed for electric power and not needed for recreation. Where would you go? What would you do? The Sabine River Authority has provided no means for relocating these families.
3. FOREST INDUSTRY WILL LOSE because valuable mill sites and raw material will be removed fosever. No industry will be able to locate anywhere above the dam because waste disposal will be impossible!
4. PEOPLE OF WEST LOUISIANA WILL LOSE because: (a) income from fishing camps can't compensate for the payrolls that would come with forest industries (in this area is the greatest concentration of forest resources in the South) and (b) existing outdoor recreational facilities in the area will lose customers to Toledo Bend.
5. AND EVEN RECREATIONISTS WILL LOSE because a lake built for flood control or for production of hydroelectric energy will be emptied in spring and summer just when outdoor activities begin, leaving mud flats and mosquito-infested pools. Furthermore, only a small portion of the lakebed is to be cleared, leaving shorelines and offshore channels cluttered with submerged stumps and standing trees dangerous to skiers — just like Black Lake.

WHO THEN WILL BENEFIT MOST FROM TOLEDO BEND DAM?
That's easy: Orange, TEXAS — Beaumont, TEXAS — Port Arthur, TEXAS.

WHY SHOULD WE PAY TAXES FOR TEXAS?

*Toledo Bend is a project proposed for the Sabine River Basin which proponents claim will aid in flood control, produce hydroelectric energy, provide water for irrigation and recreation. More than 190,000 acres of farm and timberland in Louisiana and Texas would be inundated should the project materialize.

VOTE FOR BOND ISSUE ☑ YES

VOTE FOR 4 MILL MAINTENANCE TAX ☑ YES

Microfilm Dept., Library
Louisiana State University
Baton Rouge, La.

Hackberry recreation election is Saturday

Hackberry property owners will vote Saturday on a $290 000 bond issue, which, if approved, would provide funds for the construction of a recreation center, swimming pool, recreation park, and lighted baseball field.

Also to be voted on at the same time is a four mill maintenance tax to run for ten years.

The polling place in the Catholic hall will open at 7 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. Election officials will be Mrs. T. W. Bonsall, Mrs. Martie Johnson and Mrs. Doris Rollins, commissioners, and Mrs. Eula Devall, clerk.

The election was called by the board of commissioners of the Hackberry Recreation District, which includes all of Ward Six. Commissioners are J. T. Johnson, chairman, P. Frank Comeaux, Jr., Alfred A. Devall, J. L. Colligan and Foydie Frey.

* * *

THE PROPOSED recreation building would be 115 feet long, have a large recreation hall that would accommodate 100 persons, a kitchen, administration office and board room, rest rooms, and supply room.

The swimming pool would be 80 feet long and in a fan shape, 60 feet wide at the shallow end and 32 feet wide at the deep end. It would be of concrete and steel construction, and 10 feet deep at its deepest point.

The pool could serve up to 252 persons at one time. Other pool facilities would include dressing rooms, restrooms, and a wading pool for children.

A ten acre recreation park would be built, complete with screened-in picnic pavilions, barbecue pits, tables and benches and parking areas.

There would also be lighted baseball and softball diamond with bleachers which could be used for children and adult ball games alike.

* * *

SOME OPPOSITION has developed in Hackberry to the bond issue. Among the spokesmen for this group are former police juror Bernard Duhon, J. A. Lowery and Isaac White.

The opposition maintains that the cost of the recreation program is too high for the community to support, and that if assessments in the ward were to drop because of less oil and gas activities, the local property owners would have to make up the difference in the taxes.

The recreation commissioners, on the other hand, point out that local property owners will pay only fivepercent of the cost of the project, with non-resident property owners, utilities and industry bearing the rest of the cost.

The commission states that the average property owner in Hackberry would not pay more than $4.50 a year in recreation tax.

Statements concerning the election are to be found in paid advertisements by the two groups elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

A PILOT EDITORIAL

The bond issue

Although we are not property owners in Hackberry and do not, presume to tell our readers there how to vote on the recreation bond issue Saturday, we would like to make one or two observations on recreation in general:

Although they are all relatively new, the other recreation programs in our immediate area—Sulphur, Vinton and Moss Bluff—have been most successful. The Sulphur program is recognized as one of the best in the country.

Recreation has its greatest value in giving youngsters something creative and instructive to do with their time, instead of getting into mischief. No one can deny that a supervised recreation program for Hackberry young people would do a world of good.

The only difference of opinions seems to revolve around the money angle. Each property owner should sit down and figure up how much the 8 or 9 mills in taxes will cost him each year and then ask himself this question:

"Are the benefits of the recreation program worth this much to me and my children?"

It is as simple as that.

Sulphur youth charged in hit & run case here

A 17-year-old Sulphur youth was in the Cameron parish jail this week charged with hit-and-run driving in connection with the death of a Port Arthur Negro near Holly Beach last Sunday morning.

However, officers say that the Negro was hit by three different cars and that he probably was already dead before he was hit by the third car, driven by the charged youth, Warren Adam Vincent.

State and parish officers are still seeking the driver of the first car which hit and probably killed James Curtis Jackson, 28, of Port Arthur.

Jackson, a native of Cullen in North Louisiana, had been in Port Arthur about three weeks working for a garage. A family from Cameron had had motor trouble there, and Jackson had brought them home Saturday evening.

He reportedly was drinking heavily. On the way back to Texas, his car ran off the road about four miles west of Holly Beach, and he apparently crawled out and went to sleep on the highway.

The Negro was hit, and probably killed by an unknown motorist, who failed to stop. Later, a second car driven by James Duhon, 22, of Cameron hit Jackson's body. Duhon backed up, saw that he had hit a man, and then went to call for help.

While he was gone, the third car, driven by Vincent of Sulphur, also hit the body. There were two other persons in the car, his brother, J. C. Vincent, and Edward Naquin.

Warren Vincent later told officers that they had turned around, came back and discovered the body. They then drove to Cameron where the other Vincent brother went to the courthouse and told deputies in the sheriff's office that they had seen a body on the road.

They did not at the time tell officers that their car had hit the body.

The following morning, following an investigation by Cpl. C. E. Jones of the state police, Warren Vincent was arrested and charged with hit and run driving and driving without a driver's license.

Sheriff deputies and state police have since picked up several persons for questioning in their search for the driver of the first car that hit the Negro.

The car of one suspect was found to have blood on the underside and this has been sent off to the state police laboratory to determine whether it is human or animal blood.

Cpl. Jones reported that the traffic victim, himself, had been breaking the law. His driver's license had been revoked in Webster parish in 1958 for drunken driving, and he had illegally secured a new license by using just his initials in applying for the new one.

He also had apparently stolen the license plates on his car.

The body was picked up by O'Donnel Funeral Home in Creole.

VFW protests new license ruling

A new law, adopted by the Louisiana Legislature this year requiring all servicemen on active duty in the armed forces to have licenses when hunting and fishing was protested by the Doxey-Vincent Veterans of Foreign Wars Post Monday night.

The post adopted a resolution pointing out that officials are concerned about the closing of Camp Polk at Leesville and the cut-back in manpower at Chennault Air Force Base at Lake Charles. Although the new law did not have any bearing on these curtailments, it was felt that such a law is not to the best interest of servicemen who are drawing lower wages than in civilian life.

The resolution will be submitted to local legislators, to the Fifth District encampment in Lake Charles, Oct. 30, and to the state mid-winter conference in Shreveport in December.

The post also established the "Doxey-Vincent Citizenship Award" to be presented annually to the man or woman named Cameron parish's outstanding citizen.

Nominations will be accepted from all organizations in the parish. The first award will be presented at a program in December when the post celebrates its tenth anniversary.

Everett Hoffpauir of Sulphur, Fifth District Commander, made his first official visit to the post and complimented the members on surpassing its 100 percent membership goal for 1961.

Other visiting officials were Guy Laurents, Jennings, state chaplain; Wilbur Martel, Lake Charles, district senior vice-commander; Gilliam Moore, Jr., Mermentau, district junior vice-commander; Clement L. Granger, Maplewood, state deputy inspector; and Delma Boulet, senior vice-commander of the Sulphur post.

Co-sponsorship with the ladies auxiliary of a weiner roast for the Blue Birds and Cub Scouts was approved. The post will also give a dance for the VFW baseball team.

Burman Cheramie, Amos Miller and Jules Dronete were welcomed as new members.

Most of the hardsurfacing will be in Cameron parish, the rest in Calcasieu.

When the project is complete, Grand Lake will have a hardsurfaced road all the way into Lake Charles.

New bids asked on causeway property

Proposals from parties interested in leasing the surface rights to the hydraulic fill on the Louisiana side of the Sabine Lake Causeway are expected to be asked by the Jefferson County Commissioners Court at its Oct. 3 meeting in Beaumont, Texas.

The Cameron police jury received proposals on the same thing at its Sept. 6 meeting, but the Jefferson County commissioners protested that they had not been informed before hand of the bids and asked that new ones be called for.

Several members of the police jury met with the commissioners in Beaumont last Friday, where it was decided that the new proposals be received in only by the commissioners at Beaumont in October. Following the Texans' action on the matter, they are planning to come to Cameron on Oct. 6 to consider with the police jury which proposal should be accepted.

George Clark and H. M. Rogers, Port Arthur businessmen, submitted the only proposal to the police jury on Sept. 5. They proposed to lease the fill for 20 years, with an option to renew for 10 additional years. They offered a price of $1,000 a year for the first five years, $1,500 per year for the next ten, and $2,000 for the next five.

Knights of Columbus to have communion

The Cameron Council, Knights of Columbus, will hold its quarterly communion at the Sacred Heart Church in Creole at the 8 a.m. mass. The Rev. Joseph A. Decoteau will be the celebrant of the mass.

NEWLY ELECTED District Judge Cecil Currer presided at his first session of court in Cameron last week, but didn't have much to come before him.

He asked that anyone interested call him at LI 2-4188 after 4 p.m.

There is no charge for these classes except for books and supplies used.

Grand Lake Hornets are looking for better year

With a more experienced team and a stronger defensive line, the Grand Lake high school Hornets, who also have a new coach, are looking for better things this year.

The new coach is Billy Ray Harper, who received his master's degree in physical education from Northwestern State College in August. He replaced Joe Sonnier, who was made principal at Johnson Bayou this year.

A native of Bald Knob, Ark., Coach Harper was stationed for three years with the Army at Camp Polk, La. He coached Army football, basketball and track teams, and his basketball team won 22 games while losing only four.

He will be in charge of football, basketball and track at Grand Lake. He, his wife and two children, are making their home in Lake Charles.

Indian words & our language

(EDITORS NOTE: Mr. Hollister continues his discussion on the history of the Louisiana French language with list of some French words that came from the Indians.)

CHEROKEE: cave-dwellers. At one time some of the Cherokees lived in caves, and their neighbors, the Choctaws, called them the "chiluk-okla," meaning literally, people who live in caves. Through repeated usage the Choctaws themselves reduced the expression to chalakki; the Europeans took over the word, and finding it somewhat mouth-filling and awkward, promptly turned it into Cherokee.

LATANIER: palmetto. Although this word occurs in Standard French, it is a relatively late arrival. In the dialect of the Carib Indians "alattani" was used to designate various species of small palms.

MICOINE: shoveler duck, or in technical parlance, spatula clypeata. During their sojourn in Acadia, the French adopted the Algonquin "emikwan," which meant wooden spoon, and it was certainly an appropriate name for this particular duck. With the elision of the initial letter, emikwan became micoine.

PACANE: pecan. This is another Algonquin word. The pronunciation has changed but little, although the meaning today is restricted to the fruit of a certain tree. Among the Algonquins it designated any hard-shelled nut, particularly a hickory nut or chestnut.

PATASSA: perch. This is the Choctaw "patassa," unchanged in pronunciation. To the Choctaw, patassa meant flat, and was used in such phrases as "hani patassa, a designation for several kinds of small flattened fish, such as the sunfish, perch, or bream.

PICHIU: wild cat. The name is applied indiscriminately to the several species of small, short tailed wild cats in eastern and southern North America. Tracing the word to its exact Indian origin is uncertain and complicated. The Mobilians had "pishu," the Ojibways "bishi" and pishiu," and the Menominees "pishcu." Several other Indian languages had quite similar words for the same animal.

PLAQUEMINE: persimmon. This goes back to the Mobilians who had adopted the word "piakimin" from the Illinois tribe.

SOCO: muscadine grape. This is derived from the Choctaw "suka," which has the same meaning.

GUMBO, or gombo. This is a word which the negro slaves in Louisiana brought with them from Africa. One tribe used the word "kingombo" to designate the okra plant, and we all know that okra is a prime ingredient of gumbo. It did not take long for the French to drop the first syllable of kingombo and come up with gumbo.

OKRA. This word is also of African origin. In the language of the Tshi tribe of West African origin. In the language of the Tshi tribe of West Africa "nkruman" was the word applied to the plant we today call okra. Nkruman is not an easy word for Europeans to pronounce, and they were soon calling it orka.

The term "okra gumbo" which we sometimes hear therefore can be somewhat misleading, for in their original languages, both words meant the same thing.

COUCHE-COUCHE: browned cornmeal, usually eaten with milk. Here is a word with a long and very involved history. It eventually traces back, through several Negro

BATON ROUGE--The story was pretty technical, and got lost in many other happenings, but there was encouraging news in a report that Louisiana had "modified a ban on multiple completions."

Translated into English, the announcement by Conservation Commissioner James "Buddy" Gill meant that some wells in new pools would be allowed to produce more of the oil that has become Louisiana's economic blood.

A "multiple completion" well is one which has been allowed to produce from several sands it encountered in drilling, thus increasing production from a single hole.

A "dual completion," of course, taps two such sands.

Early last June, to back up a little, Gill was forced to ban such completions, including duals, when it was learned that otherwise more oil would be produced in the state than could be sold.

Such overproduction would have worked a hardship on everybody, especially if it led to cutting still further the amount of oil each well was allowed to produce--the "allowable" set by the commissioner every other month.

It's wasteful, of course, to produce a lot of oil that isn't used, and the commission is bound by law to prevent waste. But some wells, including single producers, were already cut back to the point where production was not paying an equitable return on the investment.

On the other hand, many of the multiple completions were far out in the Gulf of Mexico, where drilling and maintenance costs are tremendous and sometimes require every drop of production just to break even.

Gill had a public hearing on the matter early in August. The resulting figures indicated, to quote him, that "the complete ban on all multiple completions is no longer appropriate, and if continued, probably will cause financial hardship to a substantial segment of the oil and gas industry in Louisiana."

So, effective September 1, he modified the order, permitting the industry to file applications to make dual completions in new fields.

This, Gill said, would be tried for four months. At the end of that period he would again study the results to determine future action.

So for the remainder of this year, anyway, the oil industry so vital in Louisiana economy has been given at least a small shot in the arm, and the effect should be felt in practically every other business.

The general problem the commission faces is a worldwide one. There is just too much oil, all over the globe. Recent oil developments by the Russians have aggravated the situation. And the switch to compact cars, with better mileage, hasn't helped the situation nationally.

But, from a defense standpoint alone, oil development must be continued in this country, including Louisiana. Otherwise, a war could cause us with imports blockaded and no way to meet sudden tremendous demands required for survival.

Yet, from the same defense standpoint, this nation can't afford to stop all imports—and therefore development—from countries such as those in Latin America, whose help we might need desperately.

So the problem in Louisiana is only part of an international one of vital significance. And no one here envies the commissioner and his staff in their search for a fair solution.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from the Bible

God's free gift is the Life of the Ages, bestowed upon us in Christ Jesus our Lord. —(Acts 6:23)

As He promised in the days when He walked among men, Christ Jesus is with us today when we open our hearts to Him in faith and devotion, when we love Him as He loved us, sacrificing our self-will and self-indulgence as tiny tokens of the sacrifice He made for us on the Cross.

DO YOU KNOW HOW THE PRESIDENT IS ELECTED?

Article II of the Constitution of the U.S.A. reads: "The Executive Power shall be vested in a President of the United States of America. He shall hold his office during the term of four years and, together with the Vice-President chosen for the same term, be elected as follows:

"Each state shall appoint, in such manner as the Legislature thereof may direct, a number of electors equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives to which the state may be entitled in Congress....."

Under the Constitution, every state, regardless of its size or population, is entitled to two (2) Senators, but the number of Representatives to which it is entitled is governed by its population. This is the reason a national census is taken every ten years, so the number of Representatives from each state may be reapportioned. At the present time Louisiana has eight Representatives and two Senators and consequently is entitled to ten Presidential Electors.

When the Constitution was first drawn up there were no political parties. Consequently, there was only one slate of electors in each state and each elector was independent and could vote for anyone he wished for President.

NEW SYSTEM IS DIFFERENT

With the formation of political parties, however, and with the nominating conventions of each party choosing a candidate for president to whom the electors of that party are generally pledged, (this is not a legal requirement and if the State Central Committee so votes, the electors can be unpledged) the situation has changed to the extent that in the so-called general election in November, the registered voters go to the polls and vote for the slate of electors representing the party they prefer, or the candidate they prefer, and in this election they do not have to vote for the electors of the party under which they are registered.

Whichever slate of electors gets the largest popular vote, that slate represents the state vote, and the electors of that party cast Louisiana's ten electoral votes for President.

In Louisiana the electors of each party are nominated by the State Central Committee of each party. The general election for Presidential Electors occurs every four years on the Tuesday following the first Monday in November, which this year will be November 8. Then on the first Monday following the second Wednesday in December, which this year will be December 19, the electors meet at their State Capitol and cast their vote for President and Vice-President. Thus there is a period of 40 days between the time you cast your vote for the electors and the time they cast their vote for a President.

THIS IS IMPORTANT!

Each state sends its electoral vote to Washington D. C. addressed to the President of the Senate, and on January 6, 1961, the votes of all the states are opened and counted before the two houses of Congress. The total electoral vote of all states at present is 537. To win, a candidate must receive a majority of these votes, or 269. If no candidate gets that many votes, the election is thrown into the House of Representatives, where each of the fifty states has only one vote.

Louisiana has three recognized political parties: Democratic, Republican, and States Rights. See our next ad in which we will tell you about them, and what we are trying to do, and cut this out and keep it for future reference.

ATTENTION HACKBERRY PROPERTY OWNERS:

Question No. 1
Is it worth the gamble?

Question No. 2
Do you want your taxes doubled?

We told you in our first circular the proposed recreation center would cost not $290,000 but $869,750.

Since then we have received even more alarming reports. Reliable information indicates industry may begin to move out of Ward Six. Taxes on their movable property amount to much more than taxes on their land. In fact, tax assessment on movable property of one industry alone amounts to nearly one and one-half million dollars. Taxes on other industries are largely due to movable property and not to land taxes.

Suppose these industries decide our taxes are too high and reduce or stop their operations. Then what happens?

The local taxpayers will have to pay the big part of all bond issues for roads, for schools, for the library and hospital, as well as the recreation center, etc., and not the big corporations.

Just remember they can move most of their assessed property out of Ward Six and we would have to shoulder a crushing tax burden.

Remember, too, that if we get unreasonable on tax matters, we can kill the goose that lays the golden egg. We want more industries, not fewer industries.

We want to build up Hackberry, not tear it down.

This is the turning point in our history.

Vote against extravagance and irresponsibility. Vote against the bond issue.

VOTE For Sound Government.

RECREATION ON TOLEDO LAKE?

Sure, there'll be recreation but not as much as one might think. Skiers will have a maximum of only 7 percent of the total lake area on which to romp and play safely — less than half the size of Catahoula Lake! No provisions are made in the Toledo Bend Dam plan to remove trees from the rest of the lake. Stumps and snags will loom beneath the surface, making skiing and boating dangerous if not impossible!

Louisiana does not need Toledo Bend because we have four million acres of lakes and streams already. Isn't there a better place to spend 15 million dollars of your tax money?

. . . "Aunt Fee" Desadier Had No Electricity!

Can you imagine that! Well, Aunt Fee was no exception. Only 1.7 per cent of the rural homes in Louisiana had electricity in 1937 . . . and there wasn't much hopes for correcting the sorry picture until desperate rural folks organized their own non-profit electric co-operatives. Today, the state's 13 member-owned electric co-ops provide 98 per cent area coverage with low rates . . . opening up a wonderful new world of better living and productivity throughout the state.

Non-profit co-ops are the ONLY way ALL rural people can have electricity. That's why electric co-ops are so vitally necessary to the progress of ALL Louisianians . . . especially their growing business economy.

Thousands of good, honest rural folks, like Aunt Fee, own and control these private businesses that have truly been good for everybody—Town and Country.

Miss Stanley and R Seaford marry

The marriage of Miss Arlene Blanche Stanley and Rodney Douglas Seaford was solemnized in a double wedding ring ceremony Saturday, September 3 at 9 a.m., in the Holy Trinity Catholic Chapel at Holly Beach. The Reverend Father Leary M.S., officiated.

Mrs. Calvin Trahan of Hackberry was organist. For the processional she played "Entree" by Louis Raffy and the recessional was "Recessional" by Charles Rengrd. During the ceremony she played "Panis Angelicus" by Ceasar Franck, "Veni Jesu" by L. Cherbiene, and "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" by L. Lambillitte.

The altar was decorated with bowls of large white mums and fern centered with yellow ribbon bows. Tall baskets of foilage were placed on each side inside the communion rail. A basket of fern stood by the organ. Family pews were marked with flowers and white ribbon bows.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stanley of Holly Beach and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roby Seaford of Oxford, North Carolina.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a floor length gown of white chantilly lace over tafetta. The sabrina neckline was accented by irridescent sequins. The long sleeves tapered in points over her wrist and the fitted bodice formed a V point at the front waist. The skirt front was tiers of pleated tulle and scalloped lace. A chapel train swept the back. Her finger tip veil of illusion fell from a lace crown bordered with seed pearl and trimmed with irridescent sequins. The bridal bouquet of white carnations and lillies of the valley was centered with a white orchid. A cascade of white streamers was ornamented with sprays of seed pearl. The center orchid held at its throat a minature set of engagement and wedding rings topped with two dainty hearts of seed pearl. The bride's only jewelry was a cultured pearl on chain given her by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Richard of Alexandria.

Miss Melva Lou Martin of Esterwood, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Her dress was lavender silk organza over tafetta fashioned with a plain bodice, puffed sleeves and bell skirt. Small velvet bows centered with rhinestones adorned the skirt and sleeves. Organza roses studded with rhinestone nestled on a front panel of the bell skirt. Her headdress was a nylon-leafed hat with color and trimmings matching her dress. Lavender tulle gloves completed her ensemble. She carried a bouquet of purple asters pinned to a taffeta heart surrounded by net in lavender color. Purple streamers cascaded from the point of the heart.

Bridesmaids were Miss Mae Doris Constance, Holly Beach, Miss Judy Schexnider, Maplewood, and Miss Norma Ann Stanley, Port Arthur, Texas, another cousin of the bride. Their dresses and headdresses were fashioned identical to the maid of honor except each was in different rainbow colors of yellow, green, and pink. Their bouquets were yellow pompom mums arranged as the honor attendant. Each girl wore for their jewelry a simulated pearl on chain given them by the bride.

Serving the groom as best man was Gilbert Rowe of Lake Charles. Groomsmen were Ernie Little, Hackberry, Edgar Billiot, Johnson Bayou, and Tommy Stanley, brother of the bride. Ushers were Mason Istre, bride's uncle, and Tommy Stanley.

The bride's mother wore a sheath dress of beige lace, her hat and gloves of matching color with light brown shoes and bag. Her corsage was bronze pompom mums.

For her ensemble, the groom's mother chose a navy lace dress over tafeta with all navy accessories. Her corsage was white pompom mums.

Mrs. Albert Benoit of Morse, the bride's grandmother, was attired in a beige silk dress with black accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

* * *

A RECEPTION was held in the playroom of the beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Richard. The bride's table was covered with a white cloth bordered with irish lace and a center lace inset. The centerpiece was a crystal candelabra resting in an arrangement of white roses, fern, and white ribbon. White candles were lighted for the reception. A hooped circle of tulle with a border of lace ruffles and centered with a bouquet of roses and lillies of the valley hung from the ceiling over the centerpiece. The tiered wedding cake was trimmed with yellow roses and topped with minature bride and groom. The reception room was decorated throughout with magnolia leaves and flowers, ferns and wedding bells. The entrance was marked by two rows of lighted hurrican lamps joined with white ribbon.

The bride was driven to church by Mr. Louis Richard in a Cadillac decked with flowers and white streamers.

Miss Nina DeVillis of Jennings registered the guests. The table was covered with yellow linen cloth overlaid with white plastic lace. The decoration was a double wedding ring motif and yellow tapers.

Mrs. Gilbert Rowe of Lake Charles served the cake at the bride's table.

At another service table those serving were: Mrs. Raney Martin, Esterwood, aunt of the bride, Mrs. Willie Stanley, Port Arthur, bride's godmother, Mrs. Robley Simon, Kaplan, Mrs. Robert Billiot, Johnson Bayou, and Mrs. Delmus Hebert, Creole. Mason Istre and Raney Martin served at the champagne table.

For her travel the bride wore a brown silk suit with a picture collar of beige silk organza. Her accessories were brown and her corsage was the orchid which centered her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Hackberry High School. She attended McNeese State College in Lake Charles for two years and also attended Durhum Business College in Beaumont, Texas.

The groom is a graduate of Beris High School, Beria, North Carolina. He served three years in the U. S. Air Force and is presently employed in Mebane, N.C., where they will make their home.

Their wedding trip was the three days travel through several states taking them to their home in Mebane.

Is The Catholic Church A MENACE TO DEMOCRACY?
Every now and then a false rumor about the Catholic Church gets into circulation and--for a time--fools a lot of people.
Usually such rumors die our when fair-minded people learn the truth. But some of them pop up again like "ghosts" out of the distant past, to deceive people who have not heard them before.
The one most prevalent today is that American freedom is in danger from "the anti-democratic program of the Roman hierarchy." This, to some people, will sound new and alarming. Actually, there is nothing new about it.
Catholics of a century ago heard the same "alarm"... that the Church was hostile to our form of government--that she was anti-republican in spirit and influence--that she would disregard our free institutions and deprive us of self-government.
Even those who do not understand the teaching and practices of the Catholic Church will have to admit the falsity of this rumor... for the evidence of a hundred years contradicts it in every particular. The Catholic people always have stood shoulder-to-shoulder with their non-Catholic fellow-citizens in building and defending our liberty and free institutions.
The rumor of today... like the rumor of a hundred years ago... does not claim that the Catholic Church is harmful to men's souls. It does not claim that the Church endangers the salvation of mankind. Its entire objection is that the Church is hostile to our political and social institutions.
In this there is a remarkable resemblance to the "alarm" sounded against Jesus Christ Himself.
"If we let this man go," said the Savior's critics, "the Romans will come and take away our name and our nation."
Some think that Catholics should get their blood pressure up and reply angrily to these rumors. This is not necessary. We know that the American people of all faiths... with their traditional sense of justice... will boot this ugly ghost back into its closet without our help.
But if you would like to know the Catholic attitude toward democratic freedom, our form of self-government, and the rights of the State and the individual, write today for free pamphlet on the subject. It will come to you in a plain wrapper--and nobody will call on you. Just ask for Pamphlet KC-21.

Haying and combining progresses

By Bernice Stewart

During the interim in which the threat of Hurricane Donna brought anxiety to the coastal states the farmers here worked doubly hard to bale their hay and to combine the ripened early rice. Many of them will need to wait a few days for Blue Bonnet and other later varieties to mature.

Mrs. Douglas Abshire of Houston, Texas, is now at the home of her parents, the Eddie Istres, after having been very ill in the Gueydan Memorial Hospital. She is the former Mona Rae Istre.

Miss Margaret Bourne, who has been here with a cousin, Mrs. Donald Broussard, returned home Wednesday to Lake Charles.

Mrs. Edmieres Weekly, who has been on the sick list recently, is feeling better.

Visiting the Joe LaCombes here and Mrs. Duplessis Conner in Lake Arthur over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin LaCombe and children, Glenn, Marilyn, and Jack, of Buras.

Sunday guests in the Paul Sonnier home were the Freddie Comeaux family of Lake Charles and the Russel LeDoux family of Morgan City.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Byler and baby of Hackberry, a friend of Mr. Byler's from St. Louis, and Mrs. Byler's sister, Miss Shirley Delaney, also of Hackberry spent Tuesday and Wednesday with Mrs. Henriette DeLaunay and Miss Vivian DeLaunay.

The young people went swimming in the pond on the farm in spite of the chilly weather, a result of Hurricane Donna's far-reaching influence.

The families connected with Lacassine Wildlife Refuge here are being ably represented in institutions of higher learning this fall.

Mrs. Edwin Wilder is continuing her study in speech correction in education at McNeese State College, Lake Charles.

Mrs. Von Hough has entered McNeese as a freshman. Her course is lower elementary.

HOLLY BEACH NEWS

Beach was ready for hurricane

By Mrs. Walter Stanley

Hurricane Donna created a flury of excitement over the weekend. Both the tide and weather remained normal, however the "remember what happened once" attitude put everyone on precaution.

Cattlemen from Johnson Bayou rounded up herds and some were driven to Holly Beach so they could take off for higher ground had the area been menaced. Several trailer residents were prepared to move out when the course of the storm changed.

Storm warning pamphlets and tracking charts were distributed by the weather bureau. Many of us, especially teenage school children were fascinated by the charts.

T. L. James Co. moved all their equipment to high ground, but resumed work Monday.

A GNAT-TYPE bug or infant mosquito has been plaguing the area for over a week. Windshields of cars bear the brunt of these and vision becomes nil. They make their way into homes and grasses seem to be their homing grounds.

The crimson and gold of the indian blanket flower is adding color to stretches along the highway and the beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Clay Boullion closed their restaurant last week for the annual vacation trip. The Boullions were expecting to tour Florida and everyone is hoping they were not caught in the storm.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Stogner headed back for their homegrounds in Hobert, Okla., The Stogners were employed by the Ed Arceneaux's this summer.

The feel of fall air which everyone had been longing for gives us small whiffs in the early morning hours.

(LAST WEEK'S NEWS)

The Labor Day weekend which is usually regarded as the official end of the summer season drew a large crowd of shrimpers, swimmers, and picnickers.

As school re-convenes throughout the state and harvest time gets in full swing, many bade farewell to the summer camps until next year. Business people of the beach, however, are optimistic about having a few good weekends before the cold weather sets in.

Ideal weather extended its graciousness throughout the holiday weekend and shrimp were running in abundance. Looking out towards the calm blue waters of the gulf one could see almost a solid mass of boats trawling for their winter provision of shrimps. Extra large shrimps were caught in several trawl runs, some weighing 3 oz. apiece or less than six to the pound.

All of us business people of the beach are thankful for another good summer. June and July were exceptionally good with record breaking crowds. A sharp decline was felt in August due to the rainy weather, but all of us are looking forward to seeing our many customers during hunting season and when summer once again opens its doors next year.

Monday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stanley were: Mr. and Mrs. F. Lindsay, Mrs. Walter Guidry, Mrs. Jerome Boudreaux, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Guidry and children, Glenn and Susanne, all of Lafayette.

For Your Children's Sake. . .

VOTE "YES" SATURDAY FOR RECREATION

Saturday, Sept. 17, the property owners of Ward Six (Hackberry) will go to the polls to vote on a $290,000 recreation bond issue, plus a four mill maintenance tax for ten years.

Since this issue has an important bearing on the future and welfare of your children we wish here to give you the full facts on the recreation program.

PROPOSED FACILITIES . . .

If the bond issue is approved, the following facilities will be constructed or provided:

(1) A 10-acre recreation park equipped with screened-in picnic pavilions and barbecue, pits, benches and tables and playground equipment.

(2) A 115-foot long recreation building, with a meeting room large enough to accommodate 100 persons, a kitchen, restrooms, offices and supply roon.

(3) A 80-foot long swimming pool, children's wading pool and bath house.

(4) A lighted softball and and baseball field and bleachers.

In addition, a full time recreation director would be hired to set up a full recreation program for all age groups and to supervise all activities.

COST TO PROPERTY OWNERS . . .

Despite the attempts of those few opposed to the recreation program to confuse the issue, the financing of the program will work no hardship on anyone.

The $290,000 bond issue probably will sell for around 4 percent interest, (the hospital bonds in lower Cameron went for 3.97%) The maintenance tax will add another 4 percent for a total of 8 mills --or 9 mills at the most.

95 percent of the recreation taxes would be paid by utilities, corporations and non-resident property owners, leaving only 5% to be borne by local taxpayers.

The average home owner's assessment in our community is about $500, which would mean that he would pay an annual recreation tax of only about $4.50 a year--the cost of one magazine subscription. Where else could you get a year of supervised recreation, crafts and entertainment for your children for just $4.50?

TOO MUCH TAXES? . . .

Opponents of the recreation program say that the millage is too high for such a small community as ours. Let us make an interesting comparison:

In 1958, the small community of Moss Bluff in Calcasieu parish, with a total assessment of only $1,600,000 as compared to Hackberry's, more than $4,400,000, voted a $1,600,000 bond issue, with a 10 percent recreation tax.

Moss Bluff now has a swimming pool, ball field, tennis court, and recreation center. If this small community, with an assessment of only one-third of Hackberry's assessment, can afford such a program--so can we!

NO RECREATION BONDS DEFEATED . . .

To the best of our knowledge, no recreation bond issue in the state of Louisiana has ever been defeated. This is because citizens everywhere are realizing the great need to provide our children with wholesome recreation and training, instead of leaving them to their own devices out on the highways and in less desirable places.

Everywhere that such bond issues have been voted, property values have increased, instead of decreased, and industry has been given more incentive for locating in these communities.

The recreation program can not only be a godsend for our children--it can be the means of helping our community grow and prosper.

For your community's sake --for your children's sake-- vote "yes" Saturday!

GRIS-GRIS: charm, witchcraft. This is another word which we can attribute to the negro slaves. In the dialect of the Mandingoes of West Africa, the word gri-gri occurs with practically the same pronunciation and meaning it has in Louisiana. It too can be traced back to Arabic, and is derived from "hirz acher," and this is the word applied to a charm or amulet to ward off the evil designs of witches.

Commissioners turn down causeway leasing plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE -- The following article, which appeared in the Beaumont Enterprise this week, concerns a meeting Monday of the Jefferson County (Texas) commissioners at which the leasing of the Sabine Lake causeway was discussed and rejected.)

BEAUMONT -- An attempt by County Commissioner Lamar Lawson to obtain authorization for advertising for proposals on the leasing of the surface rights to the hydraulic fill on the Louisiana side of the Sabine Lake Causeway was stopped cold here yesterday by a solid wall of resistance raised by other members of Commissioners Court.

Commissioners Ted Walker and T. B. Ellison, and County Judge James A. Kirkland, one after the other, made it clear that they were not in favor of continuing with plans to ask for lease proposals.

The exchange of words between Mr. Lawson and Mr. Ellison became especially heated.

Finally the four members of the court present, including Mr. Lawson, unanimously adopted a motion that the Cameron Parish La., Police Jury be notified that the majority of the court members felt the court should not entertain lease proposals without first setting the lease question down for a public hearing."

NO DATE MOTION

No one moved, however, to have a definite date decided upon for holding such a hearing.

Thus, while the door was not shut completely against the possibility of leasing the hydraulic fill, it was left barely ajar. The impression given was that no further action will be taken for an indefinite period and only if the matter is pressed by the police jury.

It was agreed at a meeting here Sept. 9 between the court and the police jury (the causeway is jointly operated by Jefferson County and Cameron Parish) that proposals would be advertised for on leasing the fill.

PROPOSALS ADVERTISED

The police jurors on their own had already advertised for such proposals at that time. The only proposal that had been received was from H. M. Rosen and George Clark, Port Arthur businessmen.

The Rosen-Clark proposal was discarded, temporarily at least, when it was decided that Commissioners Court would readvertise for proposals in the names of both the court and jury, the proposals to be receivable only at the courthouse here.

The court and the jury tentatively picked Monday, Oct. 3, as the date on which the proposals would be received. It was agreed that the court would then go to Cameron, Oct. 6, to discuss which of the proposals would be accepted.

At the court's regular meeting last week Commissioner Lawson, apparently satisfied that no legal or other complications would be caused by leasing the approximately 23 acres of land, made his first attempt to obtain authorization for advertising for proposals.

Commissioner Ellison insisted, however, that advertising should not be considered until the terms under which the lease would be granted had been drawn up in legal form.

The legal form was prepared by First Asst. Dist. Atty. Frank M. Adams and was ready for consideration by the court at yesterday's meeting.

One or two of the other members of the court appeared to make a studied effort to ignore Mr. Lawson's efforts to bring the matter up for discussion.

LAWSON PERSISTS

When Mr. Lawson persisted, saying that Cameron Parish should be told one way or the other whether the fill was going to be leased, the others voiced their objections to proceeding any further with the lease project.

Mr. Walker said he didn't know of any lease proposal that could be made that would prompt him to want to lease the fill.

Both Judge Kirkland and Mr. Ellison expressed doubt whether the county could legally lease the land. Mr. Ellison also said that, in his opinion, the matter should be put to a vote by the public.

LEGAL OPINION SUGGESTED

It was Judge Kirkland who first suggested that a public hearing would be in order since he was aware of no provisions under the law that provided for the setting up of an election on such a question.

The judge also suggested that Mr. Adams be asked for a legal opinion as to whether the fill could be leased. This suggestion was kicked back and forth but no formal request for such an opinion was ever made of Mr. Adams.

Mr. Adams did say during the discussion, however, that he had serious doubts whether the land would be leased even if the bonds issued to finance the cost of the causeway were paid off.

Mr. Lawson said he felt the leasing would be done legally and that he was in favor of taking such action because he felt commercial enterprises constructed in the fill by the lessee or lessees would draw heavier traffic across the causeway.

Drivers pay a toll charge to cross the causeway and these revenues are used to pay the principal and interest due on the causeway bonds.

Such revenues thus far have not been up to expectations and Mr. Lawson has been using funds from his own road and bridge precinct (in which the causeway is located) to make up the deficit.

Mr. Lawson said in disgust at one point that, if the rest of the court would not help him to increase the causeway revenues, they should make the causeway "a county project" so that the other commissioners could share the responsibility with him.

Democrats for Nixon named for Cameron

Bob Styron and Mrs. Tom Steed have been named the Cameron parish chairmen of "Democrats for Nixon and Lodge", it was announced this week by Mrs. Emma C. Michie, Lake Charles, Seventh District chairman of the organization.

Mrs. Michie said a statewide organization of Democrats of Nixon is being set up.

The district chairman and several of Lake Charles workers in the organizations were in Cameron Monday to meet with local leaders, including Harold Cooling, parish Republican chairman.

La. Menhaden gets exemption for addition

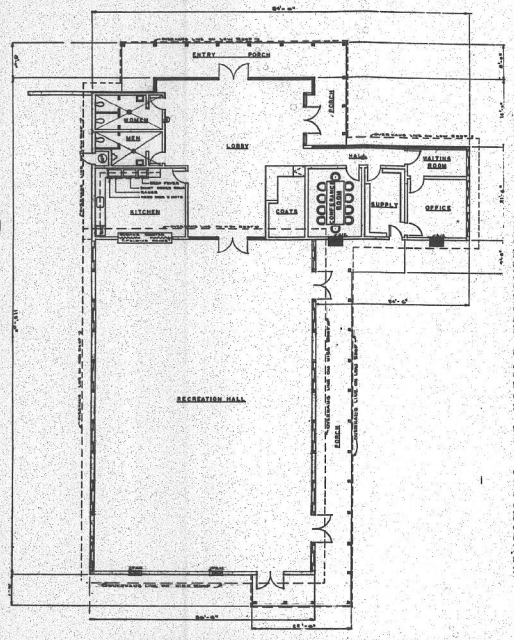
The Louisiana board of commerce and industry last week approved the application of the Louisiana Menhaden Co. of Cameron for a ten-year tax exemption on $132,984 addition to the plant.

E.E. Swindell, manager of the local plant, said the exemption was probably for the warehouse which the firm built at Holmwood last year.

Fishing pier corporation holds meeting

The Holly Beach Fishing Pier, Inc., owners of the fishing pier several miles west of Holly Beach, held its annual stockholders meeting Wednesday night at the Parkway Inn in DeQuincy.

The board of directors voted to pay stockholders a 10 percent divident, with Nov. 1, 1960 the eligibility date for stockholders to receive the dividend.



B. E. Brown, president, announced that the corporation still has 180 shares of stock to sell, with the funds raised to be used to extend the pier and to build four overnight cabins.

He said that more than 5,000 fishermen had used the pier during the past year.

Officers of the corporation are N. J. Brown, vice-president; Mary Brown, secretary-treasurer; Ed Carr and Bill

Fur Festival Board Meeting Postponed

A meeting of the board of directors of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival originally scheduled for Sept. 26 has been postponed until Monday, Oct. 3, because of a conflict with a Cameron fireman's supper.

Floor plan of Hackberry recreation center

Recreation bonds approved by Hackberry voters Sat.

A $290,000 bond issue to provide funds for recreation facilities at Hackberry was approved by a majority in both popular vote and assessment by property owners last Saturday.

The vote by assessment was $125,207.50 for and $101,425.19 against.

Also approved by the voters was a four mill maintenance tax, which is to run for ten years.

Among the facilities to be constructed with the funds from the bond issue are a recreation building, swimming pool, a ball field with bleachers, picnic area, screened-in barbecue pits and an equipped playground area.

The Hackberry recreation commission, which met Monday night, authorized a letter to Nason P. Ellender notifying him that the option which the commission has on 9.5 acres of land in the northwestern part of Hackberry will be exercised. The land is being purchased for $12,000.

The commissioners also instructed J. B. Jones, Jr., assistant district attorney, to take the necessary legal steps to sell the bonds. It is hoped that the recreation facilities can be completed in time for use by next summer.

Recreation commissioners are J. T. Johnson, chairman; P. Frank Comeaux, Alfred Duval, Ferdie Frey and Leland Colligan. William E. Reasoner, Jr. is secretary.

LETTER TO EDITOR

The election is over

(Editor's Note--The following guest editorial was written by M. G. Richardson, principal of the Hackberry high school, concerning the recreation bond issue which passed Saturday)

We who voted "yes" thought that we were doing that which was right for our children.

Those that voted "no" thought that they were right.

It could be that neither of us was 100% right, for there is always some drawback to every step of progress.

Be that as it is, let's all forget the hot arguments that took place before the election. For after all is said and done, if a man can't vote the way he wishes to, we no longer live in a free country. One might as well go to Russia to live, where he is told what to do and when to do it, where to live and how to live, and then has a secret police looking down his neck even in the supposed-to-be privacy of his home.

Many of our American men have paid with their lives for the liberty that we now enjoy. If we do not allow each other the right to vote as he sees fit, then those that died have died in vain, and it is too bad that it was not we instead of them who paid with their lives.

Let's learn to disagree without being disagreeable.

For the good of our community, and especially our children, let's be big enough to let by-gones be by-gones, and all be friends again. It takes a bigger man to say, "I am sorry for things I have said or done", than it does to be an Olympic winner.

"If any man seemeth to be religious, and brideth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain." James 1:26.

--M. G. Richardson

Visiting teachers meet in Cameron

Mrs. Pamela Wagner, Cameron parish visiting teacher, was host to members of the Visiting Teachers Association of Southwest Louisiana at a meeting in Cameron Wednesday.

The group held its business session at the school board office in the morning; had lunch at Fred's and then were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wagner on a boat ride that afternoon.

Shrimp boat sinks

The "Edna V", a shrimp boat owned by Hazard Segura of Sabine Pass, sunk about four miles off Johnson Bayou Sunday after it fowled its nets on a sunken barge.

Boat races set for Sunday

Boat racers from Hackberry and Lake Charles will compete against members of the Cameron Boat Club in races in Cameron at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The races will be in front of Pete's Pier and spectators will be admitted free.

There will be several races in various horsepower classes, with racers competing for points which will count toward a big jackpot to be awarded this fall.

President Arsene LeBleu said the club will hold its regular meeting at Fred's Friday night.

Catholic Women To Hold Convention

Catholic women from throughout Southwest Louisiana will gather in Lake Charles Thursday, September 29, for the annual convention of the Lafayette Diocean Council of Catholic Women. The convention will be held in the auditorium of Immaculate Conception School.

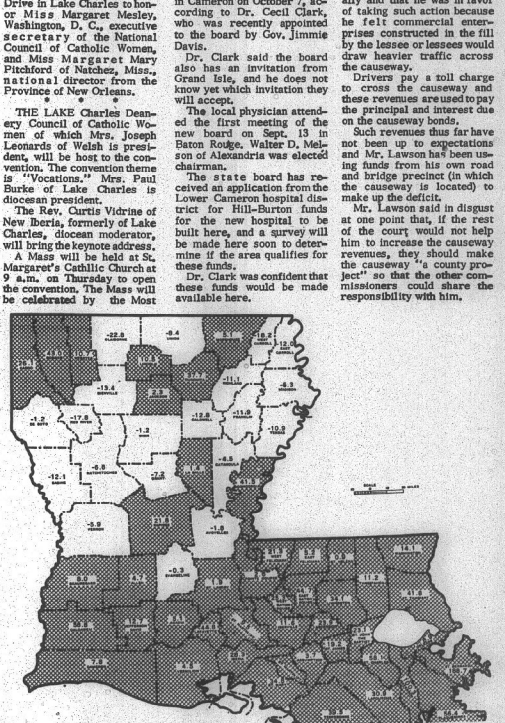
A pre-convention function will be a reception Wednesday night, September 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Korsmeyer, Shell Beach Drive in Lake Charles in honor Miss Margaret Mesley, Washington, D. C., executive secretary of the National Council of Catholic Women, and Miss Margaret Mary Pitchford of Natchez, Miss., national director from the Province of New Orleans.

THE LAKE Charles Deanery Council of Catholic Women of which Mrs. Joseph Leonards of Welsh is president, will be host to the convention. The convention theme is "Vocations." Mrs. Paul Burke of Lake Charles is diocesan president.

The Rev. Curtis Vidrine of New Iberia, formerly of Lake Charles, diocean moderator, will bring the keynote address.

A Mass will be held at St. Margaret's Catholic Church at 9 a.m. on Thursday to open the convention. The Mass will be celebrated by the Most Rev. Maurice Schexnayder, D. D., Bishop of Lafayette, who will participate in convention proceedings.

State Hospital Board Invited to Meet Here



The Louisiana Hospital Board has been invited to meet in Cameron on October 7, according to Dr. Cecil Clark, who was recently appointed to the board by Gov. Jimmie Davis.

Dr. Clark said the board also has an invitation from Grand Isle, and he does not know yet which invitation they will accept.

The local physician attended the first meeting of the new board on Sept. 13 in Baton Rouge. Walter D. Nelson of Alexandria was elected chairman.

The state board has received an application from the Lower Cameron hospital district for Hill-Burton funds for the new hospital to be built here, and a survey will be made here soon to determine if the area qualifies for these funds.

Dr. Clark was confident that these funds would be made available here.

Cameron parish shows population increase

Cameron was among the 44 Louisiana parishes which showed population increases between 1950 and 1960, according to 1960 U. S. Census figures. In the above map parishes with increases are shaded while the 20 parishes unshaded showed losses during the ten year period. Cameron had a 7.8 percent increase during the period, and probably would have shown an even higher figure had it not been for Hurricane Audrey.

THE CAMERON Optimists will again sell Christmas trees this year to raise money for their various youth projects. Diel Lalande reports that they recently put in an order for 400 trees.

RAY CHAMPAGNE, who is recuperating from a heart attack, has temporarily closed his business, the Cameron Service Garage, until he can be up and around again. We hope it won't be too long, Ray.

THE OPTIMISTS has a big ladies night supper Saturday at Conway LeBleu's house. Local workers in the Fourth of July festival were special guests. Conway received a past president's plaque.

IF YOU HAVE noticed that some of the communities' news has been a week late in recent week, it is because some of the correspondents did not have enough postage on their letters, which were then delayed by the post office. We hope our correspondents will be sure to have the right postage in the future so that their news will not be late.

WE HAD ANOTHER letter from Father Henry LaChapelle, assistant pastor at Creole, who has undergone a second throat operation in Montreal, Canada. He says he will have to have treatments for another several weeks. Local folks who would like to write to him, may do so in care of: Andre Brien, 2417 Rue Vaqueline, Montreal, Canada.

MR. AND MRS. Joe O'Donnell of Creole have just returned from the South Central Texas Funeral Directors convention which was held at Monterrey, Mexico. Joe reports that he saw his first bull fight and that it was a little gruesome--even for an undertaker.

JOE DOXEY, Buster Rogers and S. B. Hicks are representing the Cameron Parish Civil Defense at a national CD meeting in Minneapolis, Minn. this week. They flew up on a plane chartered by the Calcasieu Civil Defense.

THE CAMERON LIONS club will hold its second annual lightbulb sale on Oct. 4 to raise money for its sight-conservation fund. E. J. Dronet and J. Berton Daigle are co-chairmen.

If anyone knows of any child in the parishes who needs glasses, but his parents cannot afford them, they are urged to contact Alvin Dyson, chairman of the sight conservation committee.

More on word origins told

(EDITOR'S NOTE - Here are some more interested origins of French and English words used in this section of the country.)

By Archie Hollister

The negro influence on both French and English in America has been surprisingly slight. Only the merest handful of words can be definitely traced to that source.

Equally as surprising is the fact that the slaves soon lost their language entirely. With the exception of the Gullahs along the seacoast of Georgia and South Carolina, hardly a trace remains. The Gullahs, many of them runaway slaves, managed to maintain a degree of isolation and this probably explains the survival of a dialect which is basically, although not entirely, Gullah.

CANNIBAL E; Cannibal. This word occurs in Standard French as well as in Acadian, and in several of the languages of Western Europe. There is no question of its origin. Christopher Columbus himself--none other--is responsible for it. He referred to the Indians of the Caribbean area as Caribal Indians, and he thought that he had sufficient evidence that they ate other people.

Hence the word caribal and eventually cannibal, came to be applied to all such tribes suspected of utilizing their fellowman as the main ingredient of a feast. The word Carib, as thought of by these Indians themselves, meant brave, valiant, or daring.

CANOT: canoe. This is attributed to the Spanish "canoa", and there is a strong possibility that the Spanish acquired it from the Caribs who had the word "canaoa." It is interesting to note however that Standard French also has the word canot, and it is translated to mean a ship's boat, cutter, yawl, etc.

A canot de sauvetage becomes a life-boat in English. Both Standard French and Acadian French have adopted the Spanish word, but where Acadian French has retained the original meaning, Standard French has used the word to apply to almost any light boat, larger than a canoe.

CAOUANE: the snapping, or loggerhead turtle, sometimes called the alligator turtle. The word appears to be closely akin to, if not actually dreived from the Carib "cararou," which was the name they applied to this creature.

GREGUR: drip coffeepot. The word comes from the Cuban-Spanish "grega," apparently used in reference to a coffee pot made in the Greek style.

We usually think of a language as being almost indestructible. Numerous Indian dialects are alive, vigorous, and growing; true, many have disappeared, but they have died out only because the tribes that spoke them are no longer in existence. Louisiana has been American territory for a century and a half, and while French may be a dying language here--and there is much evidence to support this statement--still it is a long way from being dead. We can confidentially expect it to be around for a good many years yet.

SC has full band program

By Frances Miller

South Cameron high school has a full scale band and pep program this year, including the band under the direction of Raymond Sibley, majorettes, Tarponettes, pep squad and cheerleaders.

The band performed at half time during the Lake Charles and Westlake games. Their first halftime show was entitled "The Ten Little Indians".

The band and the other groups will also go to the Port Barrie game this Friday night.

Leading the marching band are drum majorette Sharon Welch and majorettes Beverly Sue Rutherford, Martha Boudreaux and Mary Jane LaBove.

Adding color to the marching squad are the ten Tarponettes. They are Brenda and Ramona Picou, Barbara Lane Dugas, Joyce Montie, Elora Domingue; Ella Mae Conner, Judy Hebert, Gloria Peron, Lena Belle Miller and Carolyn Rome.

Much of the success of the majorettes and Tarponettes is due to the efforts of Mrs. Jim Barber, who has been instructing the girls in different twirling routines for the last several weeks.

The pep squad, led by Bernice LaBove, and the cheerleaders are also putting forth every effort to make this Tarpon season a big success.

The band will appear in the CavOILcade parade in Port Arthur, Oct. 15, and Barbara Lane Dugas, will ride as a duchess in the parade.

Shop in Cameron Parish

Perhaps you never thought of it before, but the real supporters of Cameron parish athletic teams, schools, youth groups, churches, charities, etc. are the local merchants and business people who put up the lion's share of funds to support these activities.

When any organization wants to raise money for a worthwhile project--the Red Cross, the high school yearbook, crippled children's camp, a needy family, etc.--the business people are the first to be asked to buy advertisements or tickets and to give donations.

It is to the credit of our merchants that they never fail to give most generously. In fact, we dare say, that Cameron parish business people are more generous with their support than any similar group you could find anywhere.

And don't forget that a very large share of the taxes for our roads, schools, hospital, library, etc. are borne by the business people.

We are writing these things, not to heap credit on our businessmen--they do not seek publicity for helping their community and parish--but to point out one simple thing that parish citizens can do to help their merchants, who in turn help everyone--that is, buy at home.

Most of the goods and supplies that Cameron parish families need, such as food, clothing, hardware, drugs, automobiles, furniture, appliances, etc., can be purchased right here in the parish just as cheap as you can buy them elsewhere.

By spending your money at home with local merchants, you are not only helping the people who help our local organizations and pay local taxes, but you are keeping Cameron parish dollars in Cameron parish.

Think it over--Cameron parish's prosperity could be given a tremendous boost, if we all traded just a little bit more at home.

NEWS — VIEWS — COMMENTS

BATON ROUGE--"At this very moment, some of the best minds in the State of Louisiana are hard at work on the immediate problem of school integration, and they are neither fearful nor without hope."

That quotation is from a speech made recently by Frank Voelker (pronounced "Velker"), chairman of the new Louisiana State Sovereignty Commission. It is news.

What Voelker was saying, to those who listened closely, was that there is reason to believe that New Orleans and other Louisiana schools will continue to operate--segregated.

And he made that statement, remember, in the face of a Federal court decree that New Orleans schools will, effective Nov. 14, start integrating in the first grade.

The impression here is that Voelker, like Ol' Man River, "must know somethin'," but just isn't revealing it right now lest he furnish ammunition to those seeking integration or those willing to accept the so-called "token" integration tried unsuccessfully elsewhere.

Actually, when quizzed closely in a television interview after his speech, the commission chairman said he was "not at liberty" to reveal any plans. He did admit that they might include some phase of the "interposition" tactic discussed recently in this column.

Anyway, if there are good reasons behind the confidence shown by Voelker, the story will be of nationwide importance. Especially since the governor of neighboring Texas threw in the towel.

Voelker warned that:

"If the United States government can control a sovereign state's system of public education and its elections, it can as easily control the state itself; and I suggest that your private businesses are not entirely without jeopardy."

The national average for college trained teachers in the public schools is 83%. Louisiana's average of 88% makes it the tenth highest state in the professional training of its teachers.

Actually, Voelker devoted only a small part of his talk to the situation in New Orleans; His main point was that threatened school integration was only one phase of the commission's fight against "creeping federalism," and he mentioned tidelands and voter registration.

In the tidelands case he pointed to the present ridiculous situation--Texas and Florida given 10 miles out in the Gulf, Louisiana only three, and Mississippi now told that it does not own even its Gulf beaches.

Discussing the Civil Rights Commission hearing scheduled for Sept. 27 in New Orleans, he said:

"I am told they seek the appointment of Federal referees or registrars to register electors, and that no such registered elector can be challenged without the challenger subjecting himself to the possibility of Federal criminal prosecution for contempt!"

Voelker warned his hearers not to give in to "fear" or "hopelessness' propaganda.

"We do not intend defiance of constituted authority," he said. "We do propose that the state of Louisiana function entirely within the framework of the law of the land, and that the Federal government be given an opportunity either to do likewise--or answer to those who are truly supreme or sovereign, the American people."

PROGRESS REPORT

have meant progress for every single citizen of the state. They have opened a tremendous market for Main Street merchants, and the economic reverberations have created a higher standard of living for us all -- in a land which in the 30's was eveloped in dark stagnation. Then only 1.7% of rural families had electricity, compared with 98% today. All the 13 co-ops in the state want is to continue to serve their member-owners, to continue in the march of progress ... beneficial to all Louisiana.

TOLEDO BEND DAM

Louisiana's White Elephant!

WHY BUILD TOLEDO BEND DAM TO IRRIGATE TEXAS RICE FIELDS ?

Who needs water from Toledo Bend Lake for irrigation? For What? Where?

Not the landowners around the proposed lake, because this is 90% forest land!

Not the farms in the basin, because they will be under water!

Not the landowners below the lake in Southwest Louisiana, because there is plenty of subsurface water for irrigation here. Matter of fact, DeRidder, Louisiana is on top of the greatest supply of subsurface water in the U. S.!

Who, then, needs the water for irrigation? That's easy--the rice farmers in the Orange - Beaumont - Port Arthur, Texas area. They have a problem, but should we flood 105,000 acres of Louisiana Timberland to provide irrigation water for Texas?
