AMENDMENTS

estimate.

Expenditure limit -- In 1989 the voters approved a constitutional amendment that tied the rate of growth in state spending to the rate of growth in personal income. The amendment clarifies the existing provision specifying that the "state general fund" includes all money collected and deposited in the state treasury except federal funds and money generated by colleges and universities.

Budget cuts -- The most controversial provision in the proposed amendment was suggested by the governor. It would allow a budget cut of up to 10 percent in all state programs funded by dedicated revenues. This includes money for elementary and secondary education, the Parish Road Transportation Trust Fund, the Wetland Trust Fund and similar programs.

The provision would not require a budget cut. It would simply put a cap on the amount of cuts that could be made in these areas. Because of our current budget structure, 72 percent of the budget cannot be cut. Higher education and health and social services make up the approximately 20 percent that can be cut to balance the budget. The proposal does not affect the Transportation Trust Fund.

All of these provisions are included in the "unnumbered" amendment on the ballot. It is an all-or-nothing proposal. In my opinion, it was a mistake to put all of these proposals together in one amendment. I did not vote to present these proposals in this manner. However I intend to vote in favor of the proposal.

In addition to the unnumbered amendment adopted by the constitutional convention, six other amendments proposed during the regular session will be on the ballot.

NUMBER ONE would allow the state treasurer to invest a portion of the permanent Education Quality Trust Fund in stocks. A vote against the amendment would continue the ban on stock purchases.

NUMBER TWO would authorize the state and local governments to invest, grant or loan public funds for economic development under programs enacted by a two-thirds vote of the Legislature or the appropriate governing body of a political subdivision.

Many believe public money should not be used for private business investments, and I agree.

NUMBER THREE would give the Legislature authority to call a constitutional convention limited to a specified constitutional provision, article or articles.

NUMBER FOUR would constitutionally dedicate $5 million in lottery funds each year to a health insurance program for uninsurable persons. The program currently relies on state appropriations.

NUMBER FIVE would decrease membership on the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education from 11 to nine. This amendment is necessary to allow election of BESE board members from the new congressional districts.

NUMBER SIX would authorize the Legislature to give family courts jurisdiction in property settlements resulting from divorce or annulment of a marriage. Neither Cameron nor Calcasieu has a family court, but this provision would help those areas that do.

Carefully consider the merits of each amendment and remember to vote on Nov. 3.

My Dear People of Cameron Parish,

I am sorry for being a little late with my annual report. As we all know, our economy is bad and it seems like it will get worse because we've been depending on the oil companies for economic growth for the past 40 years. Now they're caught up in an economic squeeze, laying off, transferring and moving out of the parish, and I don't foresee any quick fix in the future. So I expect it will be awhile before it starts recovering. But I'd love to see it start tomorrow.

I don't know whether you know it or read it in the paper that I rolled my millage forward, but I would like to take the time to explain it. As you know when the economy started downward, we had $120,000.00 in surplus. That kept us moving with the same amount of service as westarted out giving you. Each year the surplus would dwindle. Then as our millage came up for renewal, I asked you for 8 mills so we could keep with the cost and inflation. You gave me the extra millage.

As the economy worsened, in the end we didn't receive any more money at 8 mills than we did at 5 mills. As of this year my surplus dwindled down to $450,000.00. My internal auditor came up with the figures to roll the millage forward. Because without rolling it forward, I would have collected $47,000 less than the previous year. After giving this a lot of consideration, I went to the tax roll and figured out how much tax I was paying last year on Law Enforcement and how much I would pay extra by rolling the millage forward.. Last year I paid $159.00 for Law Enforcement tax, and after rolling the millage forward I would pay $166.00. I came to the conclusion that if I couldn't afford a little over $6.00 to pay the salary of two deputies then I shouldn't have the protection that we have.

So I wanted to explain to you why I rolled the millage forward. Of course, you will have the last word when it comes time for renewal if you don't like the way I handle the money situation and run the Sheriff's Department. I am always open for suggestions to save or improve our Sheriff's Department.

The Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department now has 70 full time deputies. This includes 1 Chief Deputy, 4 Investigators, 1 Civil Deputy and 1 Assistant. 31 Road Deputies, 5 Office Clerks, 3 Records Clerks, 8 Dispatchers, 1 Youth Director, 4 School Guards, 3 Boat Deputies, 1 Chief Jailer and 4 Jailers, 1 Mechanic and 1 Escort Deputy.

As you can see I have a breakdown of all revenues and expenditures. Some of these are large figures and some you may not understand, but feel free to come in or call and I will do my utmost to explain everything to you. One thing I believe in is showing you what it costs to operate our department because these are public funds and I try to spend all of it back to serve and protect the people of Cameron Parish to the best of my ability, so help me God.

SINCERELY,

Sono Savoie

Cameron [illegible]631

36th Year--No. 22 Nov. 5, 1992

Bret Barham

Barham new assistant Dist. Attor.

Cameron Parish District Attorney Glenn W. Alexander announces the appointment of Bret L. Barham as assistant district attorney for Cameron Pariah.

Barham received his law degree from the L.S.U. School of Law in 1975 and thereafter moved to Lake Charles where he was appointed as law clerk to Judge John T. Hood Jr. on the Louisiana Third Circuit Court of Appeal.

He has since established and maintained an active law practice in Calcasieu and Cameron parishes with extensive trial practice.

He is married to the former Nancy Brittain and they have two daughters, Beth Ann and Amy Diane.

He will be handling criminal misdemeanor and felony trials and will have an office in the District Attorney's office on the north side of the Cameron courthouse.

Davis, Cox will be festival highlighters

Former Louisiana Governor Jimmie Davis, author of the internationally famous "You Are My Sunshine", will headline the 1992 Louisiana Folklife Festival. Davis sings old time country gospel songs.

The Folklife Festival will be held Nov. 13-15, in downtown Eunice. Gov. Davis will perform during a special Friday night concert at 7 p.m. at the Liberty Theater.

The festival's theme is "Celebrate Life's Diversity" and this year's special attractions also will include rodeo clown skits, a working bronc riding rodeo chute and a new Ritual Spaces demonstration act.

Folklife Festival Director Peter Schwarz says the festival will provide visitors with a wide array of Louisiana's multi-cultural heritage.

Participating from Cameron Parish will be Terry Cox of Sweetlake who makes whips, saddles, horse gear, tack, and does basic repairs. Cox's whips are all handmade and are considered working whips by the cowboys and cattlemen who use them. His whip handles are made out of hickory or the beautiful bois d'arc or osage orange, an extremely hard wood native to the lower part of Cameron Parish.

He crafted his first whip when he was sixteen years old, and five years ago started making them commercially. The demand for Cox's whips is so great that he never has one hanging in his shop and each is sold before he begins.

Cox was also a champion roper during his high school rodeo days. He is a fifth generation cowboy and grew up on a rice and cattle farm which helps him understand the needs of the horse and rider.

Cox considers two things when making a saddle, "comfort for your horse and comfort for your rider... blistering the horse's back or blistering the rider, then they won't perform right."

PTO gumbo

The South Cameron High School PTO will sponsor a gumbo from 5 to 6:30 p.m., Friday prior to the South Cameron-St. Louis game. It will be held in the cafeteria with gumbo, potato salad, desert and tea going for $4.

Board meeting

The Cameron Council Aging/Area Agency advisory board will meet Wed., Nov. 28, at 9:30 a.m. at the Cameron Senior Center. This meeting is open to the public.

WOW to have T'giving dinner

Woodman of the World Lodge 706 reminds all members that the Nov. 24 meeting will be at 7 p.m. with a Thanksgiving supper and election of officers. A covered dish supper is in order.

The annual Christmas supper will be Wednesday, Dec. 16, at 7 p.m. A covered dish is to be brought by everyone attending.

There will be no monthly meeting for December.

If members and their guests want to exchange gifts, men need to bring men's gifts and ladies bring a lady's gift. If you bring a child, you need to bring a gift for him or her.

For more information, call Loston McEvers at 542-4322 or 542-4586.

...ons end perfect ...on; dist. champs

By JOE MUELLER

The South Cameron Tarpons hope to finish out a perfect regular season this week as the St. Louis Saints come to town for a 7 p.m. game Friday, Nov. 6.

The Tarpons have already clinched first in district and the Saints have cinched last place in district.

The game should not be close as the Tarpons lead the district offensively and are near the top defensively while the Saints are in last place in every category.

The Tarpons #3 state ranking should not be in jeopardy but you never know until the game is played.

The Saints loss streak was broken last week thanks to the Louisiana High School Athletic Association forcing the DeQuincy Tigers to forfeit their on the field win over the Saints.

The Tarpons will have 22 seniors playing their final home regular season game. Let's get the stands full to show these seniors we appreciate their efforts.

The crystal ball sees the Tarpons winning by a score of 48-6.

District 6AA Statistics

Well, last week the South Cameron Tarpons clinched first place with a 33-26 victory over the Welsh Greyhounds who are now 2-2 in district, the same as Lake Arthur. Iota cinched second place with a win over 0-4 St. Louis. Notre Dame, who lost to Lake Arthur is 1-3 in district.

Sabine Refuge project is told

Governor Edwin Edwards, Secretary John Ales of the Louisiana Department of Natural Resources (DNR), Senator Cecil Picard and Rep. Randy Roach announced a cost-share agreement between the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and DNR for the "Sabine Refuge Protection Project."

The goal of the project is to protect approximately 13,000 acres of freshwater marshes within the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge.

These marshes are the last major remnant of a once vast coastal freshwater marsh in western Cameron Parish.

"This project for the refuge is important to the preservation of this unique marsh area for all of coastal Louisiana. All freshwater species native to coastal Louisiana are represented in this area, such as water celery, water lillies, bull tongue, jamaica sawgrass, and giant cutgrass," said Will Niedecker, the manager of Sabine National Wildlife Refuge.

The U. S. Congress approved the Sabine Project in November 1991. The project is estimated at a total cost of $4.8 million. Through this interagency agreement, 75 percent of all project costs will be funded by the federal Coastal Wetlands Planning, Protection, and Restoration Act. Louisiana's Wetlands Conservation and Restoration Fund will be responsible for the remaining 25 percent.

The now failing levee system was built in 1951. Many portions of the existing levee have deteriorated due to boat wake erosion. Breaches along the existing levee are imminent and if not prevented, will result in devastating increases in salinity and water level fluctuations within this freshwater marsh area.

The existing 5.5 mile levee along Burton canal will be restored to prevent this. Dredged material, stone rip-rap and vegetation will be used in the restoration.

Projects approved

[illegible] Southwest Louisiana legis[illegible] delegation has announced the approval of following coastal restoration projects in the Cameron Parish area:

Mermentau basin--Freshwater Bayou.

Calcasieu-Sabine basin--Clear Marais, Mud Lake, Brown's Lake, Hwy 374.

Placed on the deferred list were Humble Canal and Sawmill Canal in the Mermentau basin.

Seventy-five percent of the funding will come from the Breaux-Johnston Bill fund and 25 percent will be provided by the State Coastal Restoration funds.

The legislative delegation recognized the efforts of the Cameron and Calcasieu police juries in securing these projects.

Cotton was important here in '23

Lake Charles American Press Nov. 2, 1923

S. W. Sweeney of Cameron, deputy clerk of court of Cameron Parish, is spending several days in Lake Charles. Asked Saturday about crops in his parish, Mr. Sweeney stated that there was about a 20 percent larger acreage planted in cotton this year than last, but owing to the rains in the spring, farmers would make only about a half crop.

This he said, applied to Johnson Bayou, the Cameron section and Grand Chenier. Corn and potatoes are the other crops in lower Cameron and these, he said, have done very well.

Mr. Sweeney believes the coming fur season in Cameron will be a good one and reported that trappers and fur companies are ready for the season that opens in a few days. Asked if the people of Cameron are expecting engineers of the state highway commission to make the survey for a road to his parish in a short time, he replied that he had not heard anyone express such expectations and therefore could not say concerning the matter.

Oil, gas production down here slightly

—CAPITAL NEWS—

Natural resource production in Cameron Parish was down slightly but remained above the $2 million mark in the latest severance tax report from the Department of Revenue and Taxation.

The August report indicates $2.22 million in overall severance taxes for work in the parish. While that is down from $2.47 million in July, it is the fifth highest overall figure for the month. Still, it illustrates the pattern of lower monthly collections this year since the August 1991 report shows natural resource production in the parish accounted for $2.35 million of the state's severance taxes that month. Receipts have dipped below $2 million during three of the first eight months of this year.

The largest portion of the taxes from production in the parish was attributed to oil production, which accounted for $1.13 million of the total for the month. But natural gas was close behind with $1.08 million in taxes. The figures ranked the parish eighth and second in the state, respectively, in severance taxes for those two groups. The remaining $177 was received for salt brine.

The parish collecting the tax on oil and gas receives one-fifth of the total up to $500,000.

After climbing for four consecutive months, state severance taxes overall dropped to $38.9 million in August from $41.5 million the previous month. Still, the figure was slightly higher than the $38.6 million recorded in August 1991.

Oil production accounted for $28.6 million of the latest total while another $9.3 million was attributed to natural gas. Taxes on timber products added $911,212 to the August figure. Smaller amounts came from sulphur, shell, gravel, sand, salt, salt brine, stone and lignite.

Plaquemines Parish showed $6.5 million in severance taxes for the month, holding its usual vast lead from other parishes totals. Lafourche listed $3.2 million, less than $100,000 ahead of neighboring Terrebonne's receipts. Vermilion was credited with $2.7 million, followed in the overall ranking by Cameron with $2.2 million.

The leader in the oil category also was Plaquemines Parish, where $6 million in severance taxes was collected. Lafourche reported $2.9 million to place second in that group also, followed again by Terrebonne -- this time with $2.1 million in taxes. Vermilion ranked fourth also in the oil group, showing $1.3 million for the month. East Baton Rouge rounded out the top five with $1.2 million. St. Mary, LaSalle, Cameron and Claiborne also exceeded the $1 million mark in oil taxes.

In its traditional spot at the top of the natural gas ranking, Vermilion recorded $1.3 million in the current report. Cameron's $1 million figure was the only other one to reach the seven-digit level in that category. Terrebonne's collections reached $992,845 for August. St. Mary showed $751,970 and Iberia listed $542,154.

Tarpons win over Welsh Greyhounds

By JOE MUELLER

The South Cameron Tarpons are District 6AA football champions. The Tarpons, last Friday at Welsh, raised their overall record to 9-0 and their district record to 4-0 with only one game left in the regular season.

The 33-26 win by the Tarpons dropped the Welsh Greyhounds record in district to 2-2 and Iota, with a win over St. Louis, has a district record of 3-1.

South Cameron jumped out to a 7-0 lead as quarterback Chris McCall fumbled at the Welsh one yard line and Jody Lavergne recovered the bouncing ball in the end zone.

The Greyhounds came right back and scored on a 1-yard run by Clifton Rubin. The run was set up by a 61-yard run by punter Gilbert Achan.

The Tarpons increased the margin to 14-6 on the possession following the Welsh touchdown as James Bonsall scored on a 4-yard run. The big play down to the 4 was a 26-yard pass from Chris McCall to Byron Richard.

Welsh came back and scored on a 3-yard run by Gilbert Achan before half time to make the score 14-12. The Greyhounds, also in the second quarter right before half time, fumbled at the Tarpon 6 yard line.

The third quarter saw Welsh take a 20-14 lead as they scored on a 16-yard run by Clifton Rubin.

The Tarpons scored early in the fourth quarter to take a 21-20 lead on Jobe Johnson's 10-yard run.

The Greyhounds did not give up with the score 21-20, but drove for a touchdown on a one yard run by Gilber Achan. With 4:29 left in the game, they were up 26-21.

South Cameron came right back and scored on a 35-yard run by Byron Richard to take a 27-26 lead.

The Tarpons final touchdown of the night came when Welsh quarterback Shane Jackson tried to throw from his own 38 even though he was hit in the arm. Jay Seymour picked off the pass at the 39 and ran it in making the score 33-26.

After the touchdown Welsh still had 2:50 to try and tie the game but the Tarpon's Jobe Johnson picked off a Shane Jackson aerial and the Tarpons ran the clock out.

Once again the Tarpons used a stable of running backs as eight different ball carriers carried the ball for South Cameron. Chris McCall was the top rusher with 110 yards and Rusty Welch had 42 yards.

The Tarpon defense also did an excellent job causing six fumbles and intercepting two passes.

Why cholesterol matters

By MICHAEL W. McELDERRY, M.D.

Concern about cholesterol has probably done more to change the American diet than any single medical issue this century – and with good reason. Cholesterol is a major culprit in coronary artery disease, the nation's leading killer.

Cholesterol is a fatlike substance found in animal fat, many oils, milk, and egg yolks. As a result of a diet high in these products, it's also found in excess in our blood streams, where waxy deposits of it gradually block arteries, including those serving the heart muscle itself. A heart attack is the death of a part of the heart muscle from oxygen starvation caused, in almost every instance, by cholesterol-based blockages in the coronary arteries.

There's evidence that these deposits start forming in childhood. They usually occur at stress points in the arterial system, such as the branching points of major arteries. Once the process begins, it never stops: if you have coronary artery disease, you have it for a lifetime.

To complicate matters, there are other lifestyle factors that make it worse – smoking, high blood pressure and diabetes, for instance. It's also known that a tendency toward coronary artery disease runs in some families.

There are two components to cholesterol – high-density lipoprotein (HDL) and low-density lipoprotein (LDL). LDL is the part that's deposited in your arteries. HDL, on the other hand, acts as a scavenger, removing LDL from the plaque deposits. So the higher the percentage of HDL in your blood cholesterol, the more slowly plaque can accumulate.

There are medications which can reduce your blood cholesterol level, but, for most people, they aren't necessary. There's a lot you can do on your own to reduce your own blood cholesterol and improve the HDL/LDL ratio: 1) cut your consumption of cholesterol-rich foods. That alone can reduce blood cholesterol up to 25 percent; 2) stop smoking; 3) if you have diabetes or high blood pressure, get them under control; 4) exercise aerobically at least 20 minutes three times a week. A brisk walk will do just fine.

If that sounds like a lot of trouble, consider how much more trouble it would be to rebuild your life and health following a heart attack!

Ponds are good for bass fishing here

FISHING GOOD

I made a trip to Rockefeller Refuge last weekend and really did good on bass fishing. I hit several ponds and also fished the points of the larger canals.

I really did better in the ponds, fishing the moss lines. I started with the Tequila Sunrise worm by Culprit and caught 5 bass. They were really active and taking the worm all the way. I tried a Zora Spoon puppy but they didn't buy it so I went to a 1/8 buzz bait by Cajun Lures and that's when the excitement began. Just about every cast I had a bass on. When I'd see a good swirl, I chunked the worm again and the bass would just murder it. I ended up with 10 nice bass averaging just under two pounds, with the largest going 2 1/2 pounds. I figure I caught about 30 altogether.

I talked with other anglers fishing the points of the big canals and they were catching a few bass, but were also catching some nice redfish.

The river inlets are still producing some nice Reds and the Big Lake area is still good on speckle trout.

HUNTING REMINDER

A reminder, the second split of dove season will close this Sunday, Nov. 8, and won't reopen until Dec. 12.

Many hunters are getting ready for the opening of duck and coot season on Nov. 21. Boat repairs and the blind structures are keeping many hunters busy. It's only two weeks away.

It does seem we are getting a few more ducks in our area. I noticed quite a few pintails and lots of gray ducks (gadwal) in our area. I just hope they stay and don't go further south to Mexico.

The goose season will also open Nov. 21. You need to see and read the new 1992-93 La. Migratory Game Bird Hunting Regulations Pamphlet. It's pink in color.

QUESTIONS

According to the La. Wildlife and Fisheries, their phone keeps ringing daily, calls from sportsmen and commerical fisherman about required licenses and fees.

The most asked question is about recreational fishing, about who must purchase the gear licenses.

One thing is, any citizen of the State of Louisiana who is on active duty in the Armed Services of the United States and is assigned to an active duty post located outside this state, shall not be required to obtain a license or pay a fee to fish and hunt while he is visiting in this state, provided he has the written evidence that his absence from active duty assignment is authorized. In plain words, he is not A.W.O.L.

This includes all non-commercial hunting and fishing licenses and recreational gear licenses.

Persons under 16 years old and 60 years or older are not required to purchase a recreational fishing license to use bow and arrow, a barbless spear, frog or gig catchers, scuba gear, hooks and line or a cast net.

Persons are required to purchase a license to fish with the following recreational gear.

Crab traps (limit to 10), $10; Hoop nets (limit to 5), $20; Slat traps (Limit to 5), $20; Trawls (up to 16 ft.), $25; Oyster tong (per tong), $5; Crab trap on trot line (per trap), (limit 10 traps), $1.

Something else, I talked with the agents at Rockefeller Refuge and there is something that needs to be cleared up on the recreational fishing on the refuge. The limit of shrimp you can catch is 25 pounds. Some people have the impression that you may have a 5 gallon bucket full, you cannot. Different count on the shrimp will change the weight of a 5 gallon bucket of shrimp.

If you are shrimping (cast net only) on Rockefeller Refuge, you need to have a scale to weigh your shrimp so as to avoid a citation. Remember only 25 pounds.

Shrimp plan comments are being taken

The Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries announced today that a "Louisiana Shrimp Management Plan" has been completed. This plan is a cooperative effort between the department and Louisiana State University's Coastal Fisheries Institute.

A package consisting of a summary of technical information and proposed management guidelines for the fishery is available for public review and comment. This packet may be picked up at Rockefeller Refuge in Grand Chenier or at the Marine Fisheries Division Office, 1213 North Lakeshore Drive in Lake Charles.

The department will accept written public comment pertaining to management of the shrimp industry throughout November. Comments should be sent to Claude Boudreaux, Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, P O Box 98000, Baton Rouge, LA 70898.

Tarps 3rd

The South Cameron Tarpon remained third in the State Sportswriters Poll receiving 91, which is a 14 point lead over fourth place Iota.

Welsh of District 6AA dropped from eighth to tenth following their loss to the Tarpons last week.

Tarpons take 3rd conference win

The South Cameron Tarpons continued their drive toward a District 5-B championship last Friday by rolling up a 34-0 victory over the Merryville Panthers at Creole.

The win gives the Tarps a 3-0 conference record to tie them with Oberlin and Kinder for the lead in the district.

Hackberry high school met powerful Oberlin that same night and, while losing 40-24 to the district champs, showed definite improvement over the Mustangs.

Scoring for South Cameron in the Merryville game were James Arceneaux, a 1-yard run; Leon Richard, two TDs, on 10- and 15-yard runs; Bobby LaLande, from the one; and Roland Trosclair, from the 12.

Suit filed against jury

A $2,500 suit has been filed against the Cameron police jury by Elco Electric, Inc. of Acadia parish in connection with a contract awarded by the jury some months ago to electrical work in the courthouse.

Two tombs still not identified

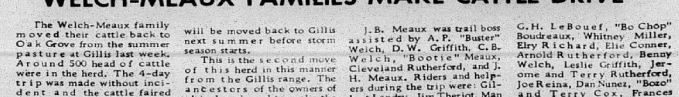
By ELORA MONTIE
Grand Chenier Reporter

A number of burial vaults which were washed out into the marsh by high tides in Hurricane Audrey in 1957 were opened by O'Donnell Funeral Home at the St. Eugene cemetery at Grand Chenier Monday in order to identify them. This was done by court order upon the petition of a number of local persons.

Of the two unidentified tombs reburied in St. Eugene cemetery Monday, one contained the body of an adult woman approximately 5 ft. 3 in., short body, long wavey light brown or blond hair. A wide gold 18 karat wedding band was found in the casket with the inside engraving "Placide Miller". She had false teeth with one gold tooth on the top plate left side, second tooth from center. The vault also contained a crystal rosary.

The ring and false teeth may be viewed at O'Donnell Funeral Home in Creole. Anyone knowing the identity of this person should notify O'Donnell Funeral Home.



Of the six vaults opened these four were identified: those of Lucien Sturlese, Adam Boudreaux, David Turner and Josh Janvary (the latter, colored). These were returned to their respective burial grounds.

Assisting in the vault opening were the Welsh Vault Co., Edison Miure of parish health unit and Claude Boraz, deputy sheriff.

WELCH-MEAUX FAMILIES MAKE CATTLE DRIVE

Lead horses and much welcomed help was furnished by Creole cowboys. The cattle will winter on Oak Grove and will be moved back to Gillis next summer before storm season starts.

This is the second move of this herd in this manner from the Gillis range. The ancestors of the owners of this herd used to make the Chenier Teague trip every year to move their cattle. This trip was discontinued in 1956, after 30 years.

J.B. Meaux was trail boss assisted by A.P. "Buster" Welch, D.W. Griffith, C.B. Welch, "Bootie" Meaux, Cleveland Rutherford, and J. H. Meaux. Riders and helpers during the trip were: Gilbert Landry, Jim Theriot, Man Theriot, Cayboy Stewart, Guy Jr. Murphy, James Burton, Howard Cox, Jack Primeaux, James Cox, Lynex Richard, G.H. # The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

The WILDER family established in American when Thomas, Jr., Edward and Alice arrived with their widowed mother, Martha, from England to the Virginia Colony in c1638, expanded across the nation into hundreds of lines including one which came to Louisiana.

A recently published book traces this family back 118 generations to Nicholas Wylder (1485) into the present, linking with more than 800 families from which some 3,690 persons are named.

From the 10th generation, Elias Wilder of Vermont born c1765 was the father of Truman Harris Wilder born 1814 in New York, who emigrated to Illinois, to Wisconsin.

From his line came Frances Edward (Ed)Wilder who married Ella May Moore in 1892, had ten children and many grandchildren including descendants of Wilder, Chandler, Robinson, Rasberry, Edwards, Day, Gabbard, Laird, Ledoux, Salazar, Trouth, Bartlett, Holland, Dykes, Branton, and other lines in Shreveport, Bossier City, Sulphur, Lake Charles, etc.

WILDER FAMILY

The Wilder Connection subtitled "Elias Wilder, His Descendants and Antecedent Lineage (Thomas Line)" is a contribution by estension of Rev. Moses Hale Wilder's Book of the Wilders (1878) and connects to Dr. Edwin Milton Wilder's revised Book of the Wilders (1962) and Justin E. Wilder's The Descendants of Harvey Wilder (1974).

Compiled and produced by Donald R. Davis, M.D., 12131 Goddard, Overland Park, KS 66213, this well-done and well-documented volume has interesting narrative and history along with its wealth of genealogy.

Hardcover, 7 x 10 in., 376 pages, indexed, photos and other illus., it is available at $35.00 from the author.

LEACH-LEECH FAMILY

Leach-Leech by Anna Laura Griffith traces this family line from their arrival before 1754 to American from Northern Ireland, settling in western North Carolina, descendants emigration to South Carolina, Mississippi, Texas, Kentucky, Tennessee, Virginia and other states.

Following John Leech, son of David, born 1734, married Sarah Collins or Thompson (?), had 8 children; many descendants are traced to the present, sometimes as far as the 10th generation.

Related families for which more genealogy is given in a separate section include: Deadmon, Dunbar, Hendon, Griffith, Wilford, Wheeler, Yarbrough, Jetton, Magness, Galloway, Guthrie, Drennon, Dublin, Timmons, etc.

First published in 1985, the 1992 reprint of this family genealogy is softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 144 pages, indexed, $23.00 from the author, Rt. 3, Box 2263, Mayfield, KY 42066.

DEDMAN-DEADMON FAMILY

Dedman-Deadmon Family History by Anna Laura Griffith, same author as above, traces this line from Christopher Deadmon (many variant spellings including Dodman, Debnam, Debden, Deadmond, Dedman), who had emigrated to Virginina from England by a least 1648.

His son, Philip, had 7 children including Philip II who had 6 children including Samuel from whom the lines of 6 of his 8 children are traced further, sometimes into the 11th generation, as they spread into many states including Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Illinois, Texas, Alabama, Arkansas, etc.

An additional secion gives genealogy on the related families of White, Haile, McNatt, Slayden, Griffith, Holmes, Steele, Wade, Rhodes, Johns, Workman, James, Jones, Leech, etc.

Softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 156 pages, indexed, first published 1983, $23.00 from author, same address above.

GRIFFITH FAMILY

The Griffiths of Wales and America by Anna Laura Griffith, same address above, is softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 154 pages, indexed, first published 1979, $23.00.

Beginning in the year 100, 50 generations of this family are traced-42 generation from Rome to Wales and Ireland to the American emigration of brothers William, John and Griffith (this name chosen as their permanent surname) and their settling in Pennsylvania. Descendant generations are traced into Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Texas, etc.

Additional sections include genealogy for allied families of Dedman, Jenkins, Cook, Goodwin, Sasseen; a chapter of Griffith wills; one on Welsh genealogy; and additional Griffith genealogies plus census, marriage, military, immigration and other data.

Publications reviewed in this column are given to the Genealogical Library, Louisiana State Archives, Baton Rouge.

Parish's war dead

LAKESIDE LACONICS

The orange crop is certainly a success in this country again. The old Leonard place occupied by Mr. Gowdy has a magnificent crop and many others also. Bananas are reported from several points not far away. Southwest Louisiana is just entering upon a period of its old-time semi-tropical character, and if the horticulturalists and agriculturalists will improve the present humor, they can, with the experiences of the past, make our section a garden as much to be desired as the highly advertised foreign ports.

After reading the above, I wonder what can be said about farmers deliberately flooding rice fields across the public road as was done in this vicinity and the road supervisors of the section permitting said nuisance of public road to continue. This has been the practice for a number of years on a public road of Vermilion parish and when about half mile of road is rendered dangerous to the traveling public for the benefit of one rice farmer.

Cameron Pilot Nov. 6, 1959

CAMERON PARISH WAR DEAD

The Board of Commissioners of the South Cameron Memorial Hospital, to be built this coming year between Cameron and Creole, are compiling a list of all Cameron Parish servicemen who died in World Wars I and II and the Korean War.

LACROSSE RICE

The Cameron Farm Bureau and the police jury have both gone on record favoring increased government price support for the Lacrosse rice variety in 1960.

County Agent Hadley Fontenot, who brought the matter to the attention of the two bodies this past week, said that Lacrosse is resistant to blast, straighthead and Hoja Blanca, diseases which are threatening the rice industry in Louisiana.

LIGHTNING HITS CHENIER HOME

Lightning hit the home of Mrs. Victorine Sturlese Saturday morning at 2 o'clock during an electrical storm. Mrs. Sturlese was visiting with friends and relatives in Lake Arthur at the time.

The bolt tore the telephone from the wall, scorched the wall and knocked some of the siding off the outside of the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nunez, who are looking after the house while Mrs. Sturlese is away, had her grandson, Enos Sturlese of Nunez Lumber Co. repair the damages, which were covered by insurance.

By Bernice Denny

Tales of Cameron Parish oldtimers tell the present generation much about them, their values, their similarities, their diverse attitudes and styles of living. A few examples follow:

Mrs. A sewed not only for her family and relatives but also for Mrs. B, her neighbor, all without charging for her services. Mrs. A became ill, and her doctor advised her against using the old treadle sewing machine.

Mrs. B visited her one day bringing with her several pieces of material to be made into garments. Mrs. A explained her doctor's orders. Mrs. B insisted that she really needed the clothes and continued pressuring Mrs. A to make them.

Finally Mrs. A said, "I will if you will do this week's ironing for me."

Mrs. B was insulted. "Iron for you!" she exclaimed. "I wouldn't do free work for anybody."

Jim McShane (not his real name) was ever alert to earning a spare dime even if it meant being somewhat devious. On this occasion he was selling teacups -- ordinary chunky teacups. In a bag attached to the pommel of his saddle, he carried a number of them.

He rode up to the gate of an old friend and proclaimed his wares.

The friend said, "Jim, how can I be sure that those cups are as unbreakable as you say?"

"To prove how good they are," answered Jim, "I'll throw one over into the yard and prove it."

Jim picked out a grassy spot, tossed the cup towards it, and heard a loud cracking sound. The cup had hit a piece of brick concealed by the grass.

As a child, I heard the following story about a certain very frugal man on Grand Chenier. Shall we call him Chappel (a fictitious name)?

Chappel saw no reason to spend money unless it was absolutely necessary. As a result, he continued using an old rag of a saddle long after it was worn out. In his mind it was as strong as ever.

One day Chappel fastened his beloved old relic upon his horse and rode out to rope an errey cow. Rope it he did; but, when the cow came to the end of the rope, the saddle was jerked off the horse's back.

Chappel knew that his saddle would be ruined as the cow drug it through the mud and brush. The rope had previously been securely tied to the pommel of the saddle.

Away went the cow and away went Chappel bobbing and sliding along with arms wrapped about the saddle. Through a palmetto grove and across mudholes they sped.

Another cowhand, knowing Chappel's determination to save and to spend not, feared for the poor fellow's safety.

He spurred his own horse forward, roped the fleeing cow, and brought her and Chappel and his battered old saddle to a standstill.

Then there was Mr. X, who loved coffee but was too stingy to buy it. He watched for the three o'clock smoke to rise from his neighbor's kitchen chimney. He knew that the lady of the household was brewing afternoon coffee.

By the time the water had boiled and coffee had been dripped, Mr. X had arrived at his neighbor's front porch.

"Thought I'd drop by for a little visit," he'd say.

Tarps host Buras in playoffs Fri.

By JOE MUELLER

The South Cameron Tarpons once again enter the state playoffs in search of the Louisiana Class 2A football championship.

The Tarpons, who have made the playoffs seven of the last ten years, find themselves at home this Friday, Nov. 13 to face Buras of District 11AA in a game that starts at 7 p.m.

Buras, a wildcard team, brings a 6-4 overall season record into the game. The Buras team's losses have come to state ranked Newman, St. Martins, Fisher and Port Sulphur. The Buras team has six wins to go with the four losses.

Buras has a lot of playoff tradition and they were state runners-up last year losing to Haynesville in the championship game. In 1990 Buras was the state champion.

The Buras team does not return many starters from last year's team but the tailback of 1991 has moved to quarterback in 1992 and he does an excellent job of running the football. They run lots of quarterback options and sprint outs.

The Tarpons will counter with a very tough defensive team having given up only 75 points in district with probably half of these points given up after the contest was decided.

The Tarpons also have lots of depth using at least seven different ball carriers in the game. Chris McCall, the Tarpon quarterback, has shown that when necessary he can throw the ball and both Troy Conner and Jobe Johnson have proved they can catch it.

The Tarpons can't look too far ahead but if they win Friday they will play the winner of the Homer-Coushatta game on Nov. 20. If Homer wins the Tarpons would travel and if Coushatta wins the Tarpons would be at home.

Last year in the playoffs the Tarpons advanced to the quarterfinals with wins over Block on the road and DeQuincy at home before losing to Haynesville, who went on to win the state championship.

The Tarpons will bring a Number 3 ranking by the state's sportswriters into the game. They trail Haynesville and Ouachita Christian in the polls. Fellow District 6AA team Iota finished 4th in the final poll.

The Tarpons defense has been very opportunistic recently and in the final district game they captured six turnovers as they recovered three fumbles and intercepted three passes.

The defense needs to be very aggressive and stop the Buras quarterback before he gets started or they will be in trouble.

The Tarpons historically have very good crowds for the playoffs so let's not stop this year.

Even though they don't have that good of a record, the Tarpons can't afford to take Buras lightly. The only way to the Dome is take each game seriously and eliminate the roadblocks one at a time.

Let's get a big crowd out and see the Tarpons win their 11th straight game.

The crystal ball sees the Tarpons winning by a score of 28-13.

Death ruled as suicide

The death of a 32-year-old Hackberry woman, who was found shot at a private camp early Sunday, was apparently suicide, according to the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Dept.

The victim, Chong Son Brewer, apparently died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the head, deputies said.

They said that a note was found that also indicated that the death was suicide.

Chamber meet

The November meeting of the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce will be held thurs., Nov. 19, at 11:30 a.m. at the Chamber office.

Reapportionment postponed here

The Cameron Parish School Board had relatively few items on their plate when they sat down for the November board meeting Monday.

After receiving no bids on surface leases on five school sections for the second time, the board gave up on leasing these sections this year.

They did receive one mineral bids on Section 16-15-6 in the Grand Chenier area for a $20,206 cash bond and one half rental on 160 acres but rejected the bid as being too low.

An election was called for Jan. 16 for the renewal of two 10 year school taxes, one the 7 mil special leeway tax and the other the special 5 mil building tax.

A decision on the reapportionment of the school board districts was tabled until December pending a meeting with the legislative delegation.

The board authorized the superintendent to file a proof of claim with the bankruptcy trustees reading the involuntary bankruptcy involving the Grand Chenier Alligator Farm.

A day of inservice for teachers was authorized for Dec. 9 for pre-kindergarten through seventh grade to give instructions concerning the dyslexia law.

A new policy considering holidays and annual leave for 12-month employees was discussed. The board instructed the superintendent to grant the same number of holidays to janitors and sweepers as for other office personnel.

The board approved a joint agreement with the Cameron Parish Police Jury for the placement of old Christmas trees on the Black Bayou school section in January to help prevent erosion. Tina Horn, jury secretary, explained the project to board members.

The board approved the purchase of two lots adjoining the school board office property at a cost of $12,000.

TERRY COX of Sweetlake will participate in the annual Folklife Festival Friday through Sunday in Eunice. He will demonstrate how to make whips, saddles, horse gear, etc. A wide variety of state crafts will be on display at the three day festival.

Tarps have perfect year

The South Cameron Tarpons enter the state playoffs as the District 6AA champions and they have a perfect 10-0 regular season record.

The Tarpons will be in the bottom of the state bracket this year as they were in the top half last year when they entered the playoffs as the Number 2 team from District 6AA. This placed them in the top bracket with Haynesville.

This year, at this early date, the Tarpons toughest foe in their bracket will be Ouachita Christian who is ranked #2 in the Sportswriters Poll.

Other teams in South Cameron's bracket are Loyola, Ouachita Christian, Block, Episcopal, Homer, Coushatta, Buras the Tarpons opponent in the opening round, Vinton, Mamou, Loreauville, Fisher, University, St. Martins, Kentwood and Berwick.

New president needs the prayers of all citizens

The heated presidential election of 1992 is over. Bill CLinton has become President-Elect. We wonder -- we do not know -- what the next four years will bring. We have gathered a few tidbits about past presidents and their wives that you might enjoy. Some of them you have probably heard. All are supposed to be true.

George Washington had to borrow money to pay for the trip to his inauguration. He wore wooden teeth. He was the only president to be inaugurated in two cities, first term in New York City, second in Philadelphia.

When President Kennedy was assassinated, Lyndon Baines Johnson took the oath of office aboard the presidential Air Force jet at Love Field in Dallas on Nov. 22, 1963. In 1964, he was elected to a full term and the formal inauguration that followed was in Washington, D. C.

Thomas Jefferson, our third president, was author of the Declaration of Independence and was a successful inventor of sundry items. The White House, then called the "President's House", was only partly built when Jefferson moved in. Feeling somewhat lonely as a widower, he described it as "a great stone house, being enough for two emperors, one pope, and the grand lama." He kept a pet mocking-bird for company.

James Madison followed Jefferson. His wife, Dolley, was the first to serve ice cream in the White House. Washington Irving wrote of the couple: "Mrs. Madison is a fine, portly, buxom dame who has a smile and pleasant word for everybody . . . as to Jeemy Madison -- ah! poor Jeemy! -- he is but a withered little apple-John."

Madison was the shortest president, five-foot-four. Lincoln at six-four was the tallest. Howard Taft was the heaviest, at 332 pounds.

In the War of 1812, the White House was burned by the British. Dolley Madison fled the building so late that British soldiers ate a hot meal she had prepared. She saved many state papers and the portrait of George Washington as she took them with her in her getaway buggy.

Andrew Jackson, the first president born in a log cabin, was the hero of the Battle of New Orleans in the War of 1812. His election of 1828 was the first in which all nominations were made by state legislatures and mass meetings instead of by congressional caucuses. Jackson introduced the "spoils system," rewarding his "deserving" supporters.

Sarah Childress Polk, wife of James Knox Polk, our 11th president, served as the first official secretary to the president. Very religious, she banned card playing, dancing, and alcoholic beverages from the White House. She was devoted to Andrew Jackson, whom she called "Uncle Andrew."

Theodore Roosevelt, 26th president, was the youngest to ever be inaugurated. One cartoon showed him with a bear cub; hence the "teddy bear" was born. His first wife and mother died on the same day. He was left with a two-day-old daughter. His second wife, Edith, influenced him greatly. He said, "Whenever I go against her judgment, I regret it."

He and his friends more than once while on hikes swam across the Potomac River through chunks of floating ice.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt served more than 12 years; was elected four times. He served during his country's worst depression and worst war, 1933-1945. He instituted the "new deal", saying that he wanted to help the average American whom he called "the forgotten man". In that respect, does he sound akin to Bill Clinton?

Roosevelt and his wife Eleanor called their six children "the chicks". In 1939, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth became the first British monarchs to visit the United States. They stayed at the White House as guests. On one occasion Eleanor served them the famous American hot dogs.

The day after Harry S. Truman took the oath of office as president, he told White House newsmen, "Boys, if you ever pray, pray for me now. I don't know whether you fellows ever had a load of hay fall on you, but when they told me yesterday what had happened (Roosevelt's death), I felt like the moon, the stars, and all the planets had fallen on me."

Perhaps the nation should draw together and pray for the incoming president. Each president as he comes to office needs the support of every American and the prayers of each.

Salvagers tried to claim stranded barge

Abbeville Meridional

LAKESIDE LACONICS

Our poultry raisers are having quite a time with chicken pox in their flocks of poultry. If they will get a tin can, fill half of coal oil, then catch the sick chicken and dip his head and neck into the oil in the can and then turn him loose, he will have no more trouble. In a few days the sores will dry up and the chicken will recover. In very severe cases a second or third application for adult fowls will be needed.

Mr. Guidry gave a "musicale" at his residence Monday evening. The musicians were from Grand Chenier and rendered some very fine selections on the violin and guitar. We contemplate giving a ball in the near future.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

The Cameron Parish Farm Bureau membership drive is currently under way, according to D. Y. Doland, of Grand Chenier, president.

Members of the membership committee are Severin Miller of Grand Chenier, chairman: Francis Erbelding, of Johnson Bayou, Savoie of Creole, Secretary.

"SALVAGERS"

"Salvagers" were at it again in the Cameron area this week. Monday night a barge loaded with pipe and anchored in the Mermentau River at Grand Chenier drifted onto a sandbar when some rough weather came up. The barge was being used in an offshore pipeline job.

A shrimp boat, reportedly from Morgan City, came along, and the crew boarded the barge and later washed the barge off the sandbar. When the owners of the barge tried to claim it, the shrimpers refused to turn the barge over to them, claiming salvage rights.

At last reports the barge owners were considering legal action against the shrimpers.

HOG LAW DEFEATED

The Ward 5 hog law was defeated by only nine votes in a very close election Saturday.

Some of the supporters of the proposed law, which would have prohibited hogs from roaming at large in the ward, charged that there were irregularities in the election, and several of them discussed the matter with J. B. Jones, Jr., assistant district attorney.

However, Mr. Jones stated that no official protest had been filed concerning the election.

I received an answer from NBC-TV concerning my complaint to them about the very unkind things that John Chancelor said about Cameron Parish residents and Hurricane Audrey. It was a form letter. (The same letter was sent to Geneva Griffith, and is reprinted elsewhere in this issue.)

Boat user fee to be discontinued

The controversial recreational boat user fee imposed by the federal government two years ago has been repealed.

Approximately 4.1 million boat owners around the country are affected, explained Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Lieutenant Colonel Charles Clark of the Enforcement Division.

Under the terms of H.R. 2152, the boat user fee which required an annual sum of $20 and up to be paid to the federal government, will be phased out over a two year period. Effective immediately, all boats 21 feet and under are no longer required to purchase and display the user fee decal. On Oct. 1, 1993, all boats 37 feet and under will be exempted, and on Oct. 1, 1994, the levy will be repealed on all remaining vessels.

"We believe that 90% of the boat owners in Louisiana will be immediately effected by the repeal," explained Clark, who is the department's representative to the National Safe Boating Council. "We want to get the word out as soon as possible, in order to save boat owners any expense.

Dr. Anderson honored

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Long time friends and Cameron Parish patients joined in honoring Dr. George Anderson of Lake Charles to help him celebrate his 75th birthday Sunday.

Msgr. M. J. Bernard conducted a special Mass at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church at 11 a.m., with Dr. Anderson and his wife, Dr. Yvonne Anderson, as special guests.

After the Mass a luncheon and birthday party were held in the Life Center of the church.

Msgr. Bernard presented Dr. Anderson with gifts and a testimonial.

Judge Edwin F. Hunter, an old friend of Dr. Anderson, was also introduced.

Dr. Anderson and his wife still share a medical practice which they have maintained since World War II, when Dr. Anderson served in the 102nd General Hospital Unit in London during the war.

Dr. Anderson is from Sanford, Fla., and Mrs. Anderson, the former Yvonne Stelly, was reared in Lake Charles and Sulphur.

The two met at Charity Hospital in New Orleans where she was an intern and he was a resident doctor.

The two doctors, who specialize in heart disease, organized the Heart Association in Lake Charles and the Cameron Parish Heart Association about 30 years ago. They have two children and two grandchildren.

Their daughter, Dr. Ann Hayman Pagani, of Houston, Tex., is a professor at Baylor University School of Medicine. She has written several books on diseases of the brain, and is known worldwide for her work.

Their son, Dr. George Anderson II lives in Baton Rouge and holds a PhD in Pharmaceutical Chemistry.

Retirement is not in the vocabulary of the two doctors as they love their work and have no plans for giving it up.

HAPPY 50TH ANNIVERSARY

"Now I will show you the way that surpasses all others. If I speak with human tongues and angelic as well, but do not have love, I am a noisy gong, a clanging cymbal. If I have the gift of prophecy and, with full knowledge, comprehend all mysteries, if I have faith great enough to move mountains, but have not love, I am nothing. If I give everything I have to feed the poor and hand over my body to be burned, but have not love, I gain nothing.

Love is patient; love is kind. Love is not jealous, it does not put on airs, it is not snobbish. Love is never rude, it is not self-seeking, it is not prone to anger; neither does it brood over injuries. Love does not rejoice in what is wrong but rejoices with the truth. There is no limit to love's forbearance, to its trust, its hope, its power to endure.

Love never fails. Prophecies will cease, tongues will be silent, knowledge will pass away. There are in the end three things that last: faith, hope and love, and the greatest of these is love." (Paul to Corin./1, 13:1-13)

May your enduring love, which can only come through Christ, be an example to all. Thank you for your love of Christ and His Church; thank you for your love of neighbor; thank you for your love for each other; thank you for your love of us; thank you for your love of life; thank you for life. Happy 50th Anniversary!

One Of America's Top Ten Banks...Again

Remember?
A little over a year ago, we shocked quite a few people by releasing the national study of banks which showed a Lake Charles bank — Calcasieu Marine National Bank — to be in the top ten banks in America in security and financial stability.

Well, guess what?
Here we are again, but actually even a bit more impressively than then: our literal ranking of ninth in America then has improved to eighth this time.

Need the details? We understand...
...the study is performed by an independent bank rating service. Just released to us, it shows that among all financial institutions with over $500,000,000 in assets — what bankers themselves call "big banks" — Calcasieu Marine is a top-ten bank in the very tough measurement of risk-based capital, the weighing of quality of assets AND strength of capital.

So, it really is true...again:
if you want a bank in America's Top Ten in strength, stability, quality of assets and other like measurements of real bank safety and security, you'll have to move to

Anchorage, Alaska
Long Beach, California
Lubbock, Texas
Lakeland, Florida
Cranford, New Jersey
Houston, Texas
New York, New York
Perinton, New York
San Francisco, California

or you can stay right here and bank with a locally owned bank, Calcasieu Marine.

PLEASE REMEMBER.
No matter how banking in America may change, and no matter how many banks may experience difficulties in strength and stability, one of America's strongest, safest banks is right here — at home.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A Public Hearing will be held at the Lake Charles Civic Center, 900 Lakeshore Drive, Lake Charles, Louisiana, on Tuesday, November 17, 1992, at 9:30 a.m.

This Public Hearing will be held in accordance with Act 334 of the 1974 regular session of the Louisiana Legislature and conducted by the Joint Legislative Committee on Transportation, Highways and Public Works.

The purpose of this Public Hearing is to review highway construction priorities for the 1993-94 Program Year in the parishes of ALLEN, BEAUREGARD, CALCASIEU, CAMERON, AND JEFF DAVIS, which comprise Highway District 07. The review is based upon the project priorities established by the highway needs analysis. The Highways Needs Analysis serves as a basis to determine the estimated cost of improving state maintained roads in Louisiana which do not meet a specified minimum criteria condition for a particular functional class. Act 334 provides for a firm priority listing of the first ensuing year and tentative priorities for each of the next five subsequent years. This provides advise on the status of highway projects contemplated or under preparation.

A copy of the "Preliminary Program for Fiscal Year 1993-94" is available for review by interested persons at the Department of Transportation and Development District 07 Administrator's office at 5837 Highway 90 East, Lake Charles, Louisiana, and also at the Louisiana Department of Transportation and Development Headquarters Building, 9002 Capitol Access Road, Baton Rouge, La., Room 236.

All interested persons are invited to be present at the above time and place for the purpose of becoming better acquainted with the proposed program and will be afforded an opportunity to express their views.

Oral testimony will be received. However, in order that all persons desiring to make a statement have an equal opportunity to be heard it is requested that every effort be made to complete individual testimony in as short a period of time as possible. Prior testimony may be supplemented by presenting important facts and documentation in writing. Your cooperation and assistance will be appreciated.

Written statements and comments should be handed to the committee coordinator at the hearing, or can be mailed to the following address, postmarked with 10 calendar days following the hearing:

LAKESIDE LACONICS

Old Mr. Pomeroy has been under treatment for rheumatism and has been so much benefitted that he was able to do quite a few stunts with the threshing crew.

He sent bands for several days last week and enjoyed it. Ha has been several years since he was able to even appear around the machine.

Mrs. John Rupert has been appointed Postmistress at Lowry and the office has been moved to the Lowry plantation house which makes quite a difference in the trip for the mail carrier.

It is reported that Hezakiah Winn has purchased a section of the Broussard Co.'s land and will put it into rice the coming season.

We received word from Mrs. Diehl that she arrived last Thursday eve at her old home at York, Pa., safe and sound, and passed a fine trip.

Our school is doing excellent work and pupils seem much interested in the studies and progress.

REGISTERED VOTERS

The Cameron Parish voter registration books closed last week for the December 5th primary election with a total of 3,195 voters registered in the parish.

Miss Wynona Welch, registrar, said this figure included four Republican and 158 Negro voters. There had been six Republicans in the parish, but two changed their registration to Democrats, so they could vote in the local elections.

UNITED GAS SEEKS INCREASED RATES

The United Gas Pipe Line Co. has filed a petition with the Louisiana Public Service Commission at Baton Rouge for new rate schedules affecting the price of natural gas it sells to distributors in the Southwest Louisiana Zone.

The new schedules, if approved, would increase the cost of natural gas in the town of Cameron by $18,587 annually. Cameron users now buy some 244,242 million cubic feet of gas a year at a cost of $39,543. The increase would bring this figure up to $58,130.

It is interesting to note that Cameron is the 11th biggest user of natural gas among the 73 smaller cities and towns listed under the second schedule application. The reason for this is the large amount of gas used by one of the town's menhaden plants--Louisiana Menhaden Co. Gulf Menhaden uses electricity.

GRAND CHENIER BRIDGE OPENS

The new bridge over the Mermentau River at Grand Chenier was opened to traffic last Friday with no other fanfare than the grateful thanks of the Chenier residents.

The old wooden bridge was destroyed by Hurricane Audrey in 1957, and a cable ferry has served the community ever since.

The new bridge, built downstream from the old location at the Bluff, was completed months ago, but opening had been delayed while the bridge approaches were being blacktopped.

The operation of the ferry has ceased. Bridge tenders are Marion and Enes Domino of Grand Chenier.

PLANE LANDS ON LITTLE CHENIER ROAD
(By Mrs. H. D. Primeaux)

A Houston couple escaped injury Wednesday of last week when they had to make a forced landing in their light airplane on the Little Chenier Road.

Trying to get to Lake Charles, they ran into bad weather and had to land on the road. The plane then nosed over causing considerable damage, but the occupants were not hurt.

The forced landing occurred between the homes of Donat Broussard and Raymond Duhon. Prevate Broussard and Donat Broussard brought the couple to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leva Duhon so they could telephone home, and Mrs. Conner took them to Lake Charles.

The Texans then rented another plane and flew home.

A recent newcomer to Cameron Parish is Clyde Goings, who has replaced Almon Johnson as administrative clerk at the Sabine refuge near Hackberry. Mr. Johnson has transferred to the White River Reserve at St. Charles, Ark.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Lottye Ellerbee of Port Arthur, mother of Mrs. Geneva Griffith, is recovering from her serious operation and has been able to go home. Mrs. Griffith is the Pilot's Oak Grove reporter.

Cameron will have a new grocery story and market sometime this month. Manuel Peshoff is opening the new enterprise in the old Vincent Dry Goods building, which was occupied by a pool hall up until a few months ago.

Tom Steed reports that the shrimping has slacked up somewhat and several of the shrimp boats from Florida, which have been fishing here during the summer, have returned home.

Geneva's letter to NBC is answered

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

I received an answer this week to the letter that I wrote to the President of NBC protesting the remarks made by John Chancellor after Hurricane Andrew about the people of Cameron Parish being foolish for not leaving for Hurricane Audrey in 1957.

The answer stated: "Thank you for your thoughts about NBC's programming. Audience response is a valued and important source of information and we appreciate the time and effort you took to write.

"Your comments are being shared with the appropriate NBC executives concered with the programming to which your comments related. Regrettably the volume of mail we receive makes it impossible for us to respond in a more personal way."

We will now be watching to see if John Chancelor makes any comment on the many complaints made against him concerning his remarks.

Area thanked

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter to thank some people who stood behind my husband, my two sons, Brian and Wayne, and myself when we were involved in a dispute with Louisiana State University concerning an incident that happened last February 27 at the 1992 State Livestock Show.

Let me start off first by saying that we are not proud that this incident happened but under the same circumstances, we cannot think of one "father" who would not have done the same thing if he saw his child being treated out of a fair chance to compete.

We are just overwhelmed by the support we have been given by Police Jury President Douaine Conner, Parish Administrator Pete Picou, County Agent Gary Wicke, Vo-Ag teacher Nicki Rodrigue and his wife, Stephanie; Vo-Ag teacher, Steve Racca, Myrna Conner, Legal Asst. to Randy Roach, and the many parents of Cameron Parish 4-H children. Also, Mr. Richard Sturlese and all the phone calls that were placed and the letters that were written on my husband, Dan's, behalf. These were greatly appreciated.

I think we have made a mark in the office of Dewyer T. Loope, vice chancellor and director of LSU Agricultural Center. There they seem to have forgotten that the taxpayers of this state do butter their bread when they tried to bar Dan, my husband, from attending the Cameron Parish Livestock Show and Sale. They really must think that they are sitting in the Governor's office instead of the LSU Agriculture Office.

We have shown these people that when you buck up against one person from Cameron Parish you might as well be ready to take on the whole parish.

Once again we thank each and every one who helped us whether it was through a phone call, letter, or prayer. We thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

c/o Dan, Cissy, Brian,
and Wayne Nunez

A TRIP TO REMEMBER!

I made a trip to remember week before last with a gentleman who knows his stuff.

Former Minnesota Viking and Miami Dolphin team member, Terry Shaughnessy, who owns Hackerry Rod and Gun Club, was my fishing guide for a day. This trip I won by taking part in a Gates Rubber sales promotion for two months.

We really got on speckle trout and redfish. The largest speck, going 6 pounds, was caught by Terry, but I really enjoyed catching a limit of specks and reds by lunch time. Oh, the large specks we released back into the water for another day.

The area we fished was Calcasieu Lake, translated by Indian dialect means "Lake of Many Shells". There are plenty of oysters in the lake and you will hook them every once in a while, but from the number of fish he and his guides put their hooks in, it could be the "Lake of Many Fish."

Fishing for speckle trout, lots of 5 pounders and redfish up to 15 pounds and flounders 8 pounds and better, is a fisherman's dream and it comes out of Calcasieu Lake.

You may ask how a former pro football player from Minnesota got to Southwest Louisiana. Terry had read articles of Toledo Bend being the number 1 bass lake in the country and an article on Cameron Parish in the National Geographic. When leaving Vietnam, he requested a Fort Polk assignment and then he started making trips to the coast from Fort Polk.

Terry remembers his first customer, a man from Shreveport wanted a guide. He got $50 to take him out. They caught fish, the customer was very impressed and word got out, bringing in more customers. Twenty years later, Terry Shaughnessy is running 9 boats a day, keeps 8 full time guides and books 600 anglers a month during prime fishing season. During duck season he has 800 customers a month. We'll cover his hunting at a later date.

People come from all over the world to Hackberry, especially from Texas and Lousiana and he also has a good customer relations internationally.

I can tell you this, you are treated special by Terry and his crew. His guides are courteous and they know what they're doing. The food prepared by his people is out of this world and the lunch you get in the boat is for a super big eater.

I really think Terry's success is not only due to the fact he puts you on some good fishing, but also the way you're treated and the services he provides on land. There's the club house for all to gather, with TV and all, the patio's for outside gatherings, including barbecues and the condo with living room with two sofas, TV, kitchen fully equipped, bedroom to sleep four and bath.

To put anglers on fish is no easy job, especially every day, but with the aids of radios in each boat, it sure makes it easy to let one another know where the fish are and where the fish aren't.

He advertises light tackle and it's a must after you've tried it. You get way more strikes and catch more fish with light tackle than heavy tackle. I saw this on my trip. Ten pound test line is great, not over 12 pound test, but Terry fishes lots of 6 pound test. In fact the large speckle trout of 6 pounds he landed was on 6 pound test line. Oh, yes, fish a loose drag, but you really have fun fighting the catch when you've hooked on.

Prime time fishing on Calcasieu Lake is April thru October and even November. 100 sea trout a day can easily be caught per boat. We fished on grub, a silver or gold sprite and a rattletrap and did great. If you use fresh shrimp, the fish will play you out.

In the December/January 1991-92 North American Fisherman Magazine, they had four fabulous saltwater hotspots: Number One, Southern Florida - sailfish; No. 2, Los Roques, Venezuela, bonefish; No. 3, Lake Calcasieu, Cameron Parish, redfish and seatrout and No. 4, Cabo San Lucas, Mexico, billfish.

By the way, when the lake is calm and slick, don't forget top water fishing can explode and is really out of this world.

I think what makes Calcasieu Lake's fishing so great is it's surrounded by Sabine Refuge on three sides, and the water flowing from the Gulf of Mexico goes right through the lake to Lake Charles. The lake itself is an average of 8 feet deep, but the channel is 55 feet deep. In plain words, Sabine is fishable for sports fishing but not commercial, the lake at 8 feet deep is fertile and it's never too hot or too cold for the channel. There's lots of grassy banks to work your bait, shell bass, oyster reefs and flowing water from the marshes where the fish can feed.

I'm sure many of you have seen Terry on TV, a spot on KPLC which started out once a week sseven or so years ago and is now expanded to Monday thru Friday.

The trademark Terry always uses, "You should have been here yesterday" is not to his credit, his wife came up with the idea.

At a later date we'll cover some of his hunting, which in 1987 was rated #1 Best Duck Hunting in Sports Afield Magazine.

ARIZONA VOTE

P.S. - I've had several calls concering the outcome of the election in the state of Arizona on Proposition 200. This proposition was proposed to ban the use of leghold traps. This would have given Arizona the first state animal rights policy in the country. It did not call specifically for a ban on all hunting and fishing, but the language in the "Declaration of Policy" would have open the doors for an endless injunction to stop hunting and fishing, according to the Arizona Game and Fish Commission and the Western Association of Game and Fish Commissions.

I just got off the phone and contacted the Arizona For Wildlife Conservation and the vote did not pass. It was voted down and that's good news.

High risk groups need flu shots

Parish health units, including Cameron, and private physicians will begin administering flu immunization shots on Nov. 2, to those in high health risk groups, said Louis Trachtman, M. D., assistant state health officer.

The shots are given in early November to allow for the immunity to develop in the body, which usually takes two to three weeks. The flu season usually begins in early winter and continues through February.

The flu shot is designed to prevent people from getting the virus, however, it is not a guarantee. Still, if a person contacts the disease, the shot will modify the intensity of the infection, Trachtman said.

Members of high risk groups should get the shot from their own physician or public health unit.

Congratulations go out to the South Cameron football players, coaches and all of the school as the Tarpons have completed their first-ever perfect season. The Tarpons scored a 46-14 win over St. Louis for their tenth win of the year.

The Tarpons jumped out to a 26-0 lead after one quarter and never looked back as they increased the lead to 40-0 before the Saints scored 14 fourth quarter points.

The Saints, whose only win of the year came on a forfeit by DeQuincy, committed six turnovers in the game, losing three fumbles and having three passes picked off by alert Tarpon defenders.

In fact, the Tarpon defense completely dominated the game as they gave up only 31 yards rushing and the majority of the 189 yards passing came after the game was out of control scorewise.

The Tarpons first touchdown came as the Tarpons James Bonsall recovered a St. Louis fumble at the Saint 48. Two plays after the recovery Chris McCall scored on an 18-yard run.

The Tarpons second score came as Rusty Welch capped a 32-yard drive with a 5-yard run and again Travis Pradia's extra point kick was good and the Tarpons were up 14-0 with 7:14 left in the opening quarter. The third touchdown of the opening quarter came on a 27-yard pass from Chris McCall to Jobe Johnson. The pass was set up as the Tarpon's James Bonsall recovered a Saint fumble at the Saints 40. The final score of the opening quarter came on a 30-yard run by Byron Richard.

The second quarter was scoreless so the halftime score was 26-0, Tarpons.

The third quarter saw the Tarpons score twice more, once on a 20-yard run by Chris McCall and once on a 20-yard run by Jobe Johnson. That made the score 40-0 entering the final quarter.

The Saints scored first in the final quarter as they stopped the Tarpons on a fourth down play at their own 17. On the first play following the Saints stop they scored on a 19-yard pass from David Ardoin to Jason Monet. They then converted the 2-point extra point to trail 40-8.

The Tarpons final touchdown of the night came as Clyde Doxey intercepted an Ardoin pass at the 40 and raced 60 yards to the end zone untouched.

The Saints then moved 37 yards in four plays and scored on a 5-yard run by Nick Manasco with only a minute left in the game.

The win raised the Tarpons district record to 5-0 and they will be at home this week in the first round of the state playoffs as they face Buras.

The win was the 95th of his career for head coach Parry LaLande. All his wins have come at South Cameron.

The Tarpons once again used a bunch of ball carriers and the top two rushers for the Tarpons were Byron Richard with 75 yards and Aaron LaSalle with 72.

Tarpons advance to the regionals

By JOE MUELLER

The unbeaten South Cameron Tarpons continue on the road to the Dome this week as they host Coushatta in a regional game Friday at Tarpon Stadium.

The Tarpons will be seeking their twelfth win of the year and their seventh visit to the quarterfinals in the last eight years. With a win, the Tarpons will play the winner of the Episcopal - Ouachita Christian game.

The Tarpons also will be seeking to set a school record for consecutive wins.

The Coushatta team is big and strong having linemen that weigh 270, 300 and 320.

They are district runners-up from District 3. They have an overall record of 8-2. They beat Homer last week 22-20.

Coach LaLande said they are similar to Iota in their play, in that they play very physically. The Tarpons, with their stable of running backs and fine offensive line hope to run around the big linemen. The line blocked for 488 rushing yards.

The weather Friday, with rain predicted, could be a factor and may make it harder to throw and pitch the ball.

The Tarpon defense also has done an excellent job this year and they will have to stop Clyde Wilson who has rushed for over 1,000 yards for Coushatta. The Coushatta quarterback has thrown for over 500 yards, so if needed, they can throw. Coushatta has averaged 30.8 points per game and has given up only 6.8 points per game. Coushatta has registred three shutouts on the season.

The Tarpons have averaged 32 points per game and they have given up nearly 13 points per game.

The game should be exciting and hard fought and the winner continues on the road to the Dome with the loser packing up and going to the house.

Let's get a big crowd out as the Tarpons have done an excellent job of providing entertainment for their fans. They have no individual stars but play exceptionally well as a team.

The crystal ball sees the Tarpons winning 28-13.

Wall of Honor to be built here

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Veterans were remembered for what they did for their country when the citizens of the parish and the entire Cameron Elementary student body turned out last week for a Veterans Day celebration and the dedication of the plans for a Veterans Wall of Honor.

The students marched to the Cameron courthouse behind flag bearers and were escorted by a Cameron Parish sheriff's car.

The Wall of Honor is planned for the courthouse lawn. The first shovel of dirt for the ground breaking was turned by George LeBouef, a police jury member, and a member of the memorial committee.

Committee members said the Veterans Wall is being erected to honor the men and women of Cameron Parish who presently serve or have served in the Armed Forces.

The 35-foot marble wall will be constructed on the courthouse grounds, near the monument which lists the names of all of those who died in all of the wars, from the Civil War through the Korean conflict.

All donations will make the donor a partner in the construction of this historic wall.

Donations of $40 or more will entitle donors to receive the official Certificate of Recognition for Honor Wall Partners.

The contributions may be sent to the Honor Wall Fund, Dept. CT, Box 421, Cameron, La. 70631. Information can be obtained by calling Donna LaBove at 775-7211.

LeBouef introduced the guests and asked commanders of local veteran's posts to give the pledge of allegiance. They are Oscar Reyes, Jules Dronet and Glen Richard.

Boy Scout Troop 201 of Cameron raised the American and Louisiana flags.

State Rep. Randy Roach recognized all the veterans from all the wars who were assembled on the courthouse steps.

Donna LaBove and Dinah Nunez, co-chairmen of the Veteran's Wall unveiled the drawing of the wall.

Members of the board of directors unveiled the thermometer which will show the amount of money as it is collected until the goal is reached.

Larry Dyson led the school children and audience in songs and Rev. Jack Tanner gave the invocation and the benediction.

Refreshments, furnished by the Cameron Police Jury, were served by the Veteran's Wall board of directors: Donna LaBove, Dinah Nunez, George LeBouef, Sing Faulk, Bill Turnbull, Janie Turnbull, Dada LaBove, Yvonne Mhire, Ed Kelley, Lonnie Harper, Mike Johnson, Barbara Lou LeBlanc, Dan Dupont, Clayton Trahan, John Driscoll, J. # One Of America's Top Ten Banks...Again

Remember?
A little over a year ago, we shocked quite a few people by releasing the national study of banks which showed a Lake Charles bank — Calcasieu Marine National Bank — to be in the top ten banks in America in security and financial stability.

Well, guess what?
Here we are again, but actually even a bit more impressively than then: our literal ranking of ninth in America then has improved to eighth this time.

Need the details? We understand...
...the study is performed by an independent bank rating service. Just released to us, it shows that among all financial institutions with over $500,000,000 in assets — what bankers themselves call "big banks" — Calcasieu Marine is a top-ten bank in the very tough measurement of risk-based capital, the weighing of quality of assets AND strength of capital.

So, it really is true...again:
if you want a bank in America's Top Ten in strength, stability, quality of assets and other like measurements of real bank safety and security, you'll have to move to

Anchorage, Alaska
Long Beach, California
Lubbock, Texas
Lakeland, Florida
Cranford, New Jersey
Houston, Texas
New York, New York
Perinton, New York
San Francisco, California

or you can stay right here and bank with a locally owned bank, Calcasieu Marine.

PLEASE REMEMBER.
No matter how banking in America may change, and no matter how many banks may experience difficulties in strength and stability, one of America's strongest, safest banks is right here — at home.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF LOUISIANA, OFFICE OF CONSERVATION, BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA.

In accordance with the laws of the State of Louisiana, and with particular reference to the provisions of Title 30 of Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, a public hearing will be held in the Conservation Auditorium, 1st Floor, State Land & Natural Resources Building, 625 North 4th Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at 9:00 a.m., on WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 2, 1992, upon the application of MOBIL EXPLORATION & PRODUCING SOUTHEAST INC.

At such hearing the Commissioner of Conservation will consider evidence relative to the issuance of an order approving the commingling in their East Mud Lake Commingling Facility No. 1 of gas and liquid hydrocarbons produced from the applicant's LUTCHER C lease, VINCENT ESTATES lease and the ALPINE ENERGY, INC. - HUNGERFORD lease in the East Mud Lake Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana.

Applicant will request that it be authorized to commingle and allocate production based on monthly well tests as normally allowed in compliance with the provisions of Paragraph 6 of Statewide Order No. 29-D.

Applicant states a diligent effort to obtain 100% agreement of royalty and working interest owners in the leases affected in seeking authorization to commingle pursuant to Paragraph 6 has been made by them. A number of persons have failed to return consent or cannot be located, thus making the condition "in the absence of protest" impossible to attain. # Johnson Assumes Presidency

New Chief Pledges His 'Best'

Executive Is Given Oath Aboard Plane; Flies to Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Lyndon B. Johnson took over the burdens of the presidency Friday night pledging to do his best in the nation's highest office with the help of God and the American people.

Still stunned by the assassination of John F. Kennedy, the new President began his White House tenure by meeting with Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and Presidential Aide McGeorge Bundy shortly after his arrival in the capital from Texas.

The former vice president, known as an exacting taskmaster, also summoned Democratic and Republican congressional leaders to the White House for a mid-evening conference on the difficult legislative problems he faces.

Takes Oath of Office

Johnson, only a few cars back when an assassin's bullet felled his predecessor in a Dallas, Tex., motorcade, already had been sworn into office by a woman judge before he left on the capital-bound plane that bore the body of President Kennedy.

Johnson arrived in the capital at 5:58 p.m. and was at work almost at once. He flew to the White House from Andrews Air Force Base in a helicopter and touched down on the grounds of the mansion at 6:27 p.m. for the first time as President of the United States.

Under floodlights at Andrews Air Force Base, just outside Washington, the grim Texan read his first statement as the nation's 36th President. While his wife stood by his side with partially bowed head, he said:

"This is a sad time for all people. We have suffered a loss that cannot be weighed. For me it is a deep personal tragedy. I know the world shares the sorrow that Mrs. Kennedy and her family bear. I will do my best. That is all I can do. I ask your help — and God's."

After a brief discussion with the many saddened congressional leaders and other officials at the airport, he board-

Few Can Be Articulate On Kennedy

"A great soul has passed to his reward."

Thus did former Gov. A. T. Hannett describe his feelings over the assassination Friday of President Kennedy. His comment typified the feelings of political leaders of both parties. Most were too stunned, however, to be so articulate.

Stunned was the reaction of all. Friends sat at lunch together, without speaking a word. Some found themselves unable to continue their work and left their offices. Others stayed at their offices, but with their television sets turned on.

"I couldn't believe it," said George Stavron, peace justice and Democratic chairman of Precinct 4. "I still can't believe it. I've watched television all afternoon and I still can't believe it. It's impossible such a thing should happen to a man like him."

Gallant Spirit

"A courageous and gallant spirit has left us," comment-

U.S. Leader Slain On Dallas Street; Suspect Charged

DALLAS (UPI)—President John Kennedy was assassinated Friday and 11 hours later police charged a 24-year-old former U.S. Marine and avowed Marxist as the sniper who put a bullet into the brain of the nation's 35th President.

Charged with the President's murder was Lee H. Oswald, a Fidel Castro sympathizer who once tried to gain Russian citizenship. Oswald has not confessed to the assassination, Police Chief Jesse Curry said in revealing the onetime defector would be brought before a grand jury next week.

Kennedy and Gov. John Connally of Texas were shot at 12:31 p.m. as they rode in a motorcade through downtown Dallas. Kennedy died a half hour later without gaining consciousness. Connally was seriously wounded in the chest but was expected to recover.

The assassin used a telescopic rifle from 100 yards to kill the Chief Executive.

Lyndon B. Johnson, who was two cars behind Kennedy in the motorcade, was sworn in as the 36th President in a tearful ceremony which took place at Dallas' Love Field as the presidential jet prepared to fly Kennedy's body back to Washington.

Oswald also was charged with the murder of a Dallas police officer who was killed while trying to hunt down the President's slayer. The onetime Marine captured in a downtown movie house, denied complicity in either shooting.

Manacled and his face bloodied from a fight with the police who arrested him, Oswald was arraigned shortly before midnight before Peace Justice David B. Johnson.

Police said it was established that at the time of the assassination Oswald was in a building a block from the presidential car where a Mauser rifle was found on a fifth floor landing. Oswald was employed as a clerk in the building.

The 46-year-old Kennedy was mortally wounded in the back of the head as he drove, smiling and waving, in an open car through a Texas crowd of a quarter million.

Kennedy died at Parkland Hospital at about 1 p.m. His wife, Jacqueline, cradled his bloody head in her arms during the frantic but futile dash to the hospital.

Johnson was sworn in as President at 2:39 p.m. inside the presidential plane, and then left for Washington with the body of his late chief.

Gov. Connally, riding on the jump seat facing Kennedy in the famous bubbletop presidential limousine—its top down—was wounded by one bullet through the right chest.

The fatal shot apparently came from a window of the Texas school book depository building overlooking Main Street.

Oswald, a crew-cut man of 5 feet 8 inches, of Fort Worth, is chairman of a local "Fair Play for Cuba" committee.

Oswald, in 1959 renounced his American citizenship and went to the Soviet Union. Russian authorities refused him citizenship and he returned to the United States.

Kennedy had flown to Love Field outside Dallas from nearby Carswell Air Force Base Friday morning and skies lifted as he began the drive with Connally, Mrs. Kennedy and Mrs. Nellie Connally to the Texas Trade Mart where the President was to speak on this second day of politicking.

Curbs Jammed

Crowds jammed the curbs. The Secret Service men ran alongside the car and watched from another car behind. Dallas motorcycle police formed a phalanx. But the as-

No Flowers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The family of slain President John F. Kennedy asked Friday night that anyone wishing to send flowers to the White House or to the funeral instead donate to charity an equivalent amount of money.

Kennedy Funeral Will Be Monday In Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy's funeral will be held Monday at St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Cathedral, the White House announced Friday night.

The body of the slain President will lie in repose at the White House today and will lie in state in the rotunda of the Capitol Sunday and Monday.

The President's body will be taken a couple of miles to the cathedral at 11 a.m. Monday.

There, Richard Cardinal Cushing, Archbishop of Boston and close friend of the Kennedy family, will celebrate a pontifical requiem mass at noon.

Acting White House Press Secretary Andrew T. Hatcher said he did not know where Kennedy will be buried. There has been one report, still unconfirmed, that burial would be in the family plot in Brookline, Mass.

To Rotunda Sunday

The President's body will be moved from the White House in an official cortege to the Capitol rotunda at 1 p.m. Sunday. This ceremony will be attended by members of

New Mexicans In Capital Share Stunned Disbelief

By PAUL R. WIECK
Of the Journal's Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — New Mexicans in the nation's capital shared the stunned disbelief that swept this city early Friday afternoon when news of President Kennedy's assassination was received.

They gathered around radios and television sets to listen to reports flowing into the capital. Many of the women staff members broke into tears when the President's death became official.

Words such as "frightening" and "unbelievable" were heard over and over.

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, a confidante of the late President, heard the report for the first time when he passed a television set in the Capitol after lunching with Rep. Thomas G. Morris.

A few minutes after he heard the official report of the President's death from a bullet wound in the head,

An Admitted Marxist

Suspect Spent Three Years in Russia

DALLAS (UPI) — The man charged in President Kennedy's assassination is a self-admitted "Marxist" who spent three years in Russia trying to renounce his American citizenship, but got a U. S. government-paid passage home when he had a change of heart.

The onetime defector was identified as Lee H. Oswald, 24, a former Marine, and chairman of a "Fair Play for Cuba Committee."

Police formally charged him with the murder of the President and a pursuing patrolman shot down in the street shortly after Kennedy was fatally shot. Texas Gov. John Connally was wounded as he and Kennedy rode in a motorcade through Dallas.

Police said Oswald, battered and sullen, denied having anything to do with the assassination, but admitted he worked in the building from which the fatal shots were fired.

Oswald would not account for his whereabouts at the time of the assassination, but Police Captain Will Fritz of the homicide department said it had been established Oswald was in the building then.

Oswald was seized by police in a theater in the Oak Cliff district of Dallas less than four miles from the scene of the assassination.

A policeman, J. D. Tippit, 38, was shot down in the street about five blocks from the Texas Theater. The theater cashier, Mrs. Julie Postal, had reported to police that a suspicious man had entered the theater. Four policemen went after him.

After shooting Tippitt, according to police, Oswald tried to shoot Patrolman M. N. MacDonald but his snubnosed 38-caliber revolver misfired. The police pounced on him. He fought wildly. They dragged him to a car.

Police said FBI agents questioned both Oswald and his brother, Robert Oswald of Denton.

Oswald's Russian wife, who does not speak English, was brought to police headquarters and was questioned through interpreters.

Oswald's wife lives in suburban Irving. Last Oct. 14 he rented a box-like room for $8 per week from Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Johnson in Dallas.

Mrs. R. C. Roberts, who works for the Johnsons, said that at about 12:45 p.m. Friday she had just learned that Kennedy was shot. Kennedy was shot at 12:30 p.m.

In rushed Oswald "on the dead run," she said.

"He ran to his room, came running back with a gray zipper jacket and out the door.

"I said 'you sure are in a hurry' but he didn't even answer."

Police found a leather pistol holster and some books on communism and political magazines in his 8-by-15-foot

Police said they raced into the theater shortly after 1:18 p.m. when a citizen called to report a policeman had been shot on the street. Tippitt was shot twice.

A movie was in progress, but the house lights were thrown on. Oswald was sitting in the third row, center section of the Texas Theater.

As four officers walked in, Oswald rose and said "This is it."

Police said he drew a bead on Patrolman M. N. MacDonald but the pistol misfired.

Officers Ray Hawkins, C. T. Walker and Bob Carroll leaped at him.

Oswald fought. Effects of his battle showed later as he appeared in police headquarters, a cut over one eye, his face swollen.

Oswald said he had no attorney. He kept repeating he had not shot anyone.

Oswald's rooming house — in which he used the alias O. H. Lee — is approximately 12 blocks from the Texas Theater.

"I don't know what this is all about," he said. "I didn't do anything."

Oswald admitted owning a snub-nose 38-caliber pistol used to kill patrolman Tippitt.

Oswald did not admit owning a rifle found in a building near the scene of the assassination.

Asked whether fingerprints on the rifle matched those on

Tarps take big win over Buras Friday

By JOE MUELLER

The South Cameron Tarpons have moved into the second round of the playoffs with a 46-21 win over Buras.

The Tarpons, who ground out 482 yards on the ground in the win, will be at home this Friday to play Coushatta, who defeated Homer 22-20.

The Tarpon victory eliminated Buras, who had made two straight trips to the Superdome and the finals of Class AA. They were state champs in 1990 and runners-up in 1991.

The Tarpons, who once again used a stable of backs and three different backs scoring on runs, had two touchdowns through the air as Chris McCall hit 6 of 9 passes for 88 yards.

This gave the Tarpons a total offense of 570 yards. They also picked up 22 first downs.

The Tarpons jumped out to a 28-7 first half lead as they scored on their first three possessions on drives of 41, 83 and 93 yards.

The first touchdown for the Tarpons came on a 5-yard run by Rusty Welch. The second in the opening quarter came on a 3-yard run by Darnell Frank. The Tarpons second quarter touchdowns were both scored by Jobe Johnson, one on a 13-yard run and the other on a 25-yard pass play from Chris McCall.

The Buras team scored their only touchdown on a 33-yard pass play.

In the second half South Cameron scored on two runs and one pass and Travis Pradia closed out the Tarpon scoring with a 25-yard field goal.

The Tarpons first touchdown of the second half was an 11-yard pass from McCall to Todd Conner. The running touchdown was scored by Darnell Frank on a 25-yard run.

Buras scored in the second half on a 3-yard run by Carl Riley and on a 25-yard pass from Riley to Anthony Mackey.

Defensively the Tarpons did an excellent job as they forced Buras to punt four times and they had lots of pressure all night on the Buras quarterback and running backs.

The Tarpons top rusher on the night was Darnell Frank with 117 yards. Byron Richard had 75 yards for the 11-0 Tarpons and Jody Lavergne and James Bonsall each had 66 yards for the District 6AA champs.

The Tarpons next opponent, if they beat Coushatta, will come from the Ouachita Christian - Episcopal winner.

Avoiding holiday diet disasters

By PETER ABEL, M.D.

Let's face it: the holidays are a dieter's nightmare. Every time you turn around, you confront temptation. Our holiday traditions are as full of fat, cholesterol and calories as they are of warmth, joy and sharing.

So, how do you survive the festivities with your good nutritional habits intact and without looking like some sort of diet crank to your hostess or your guests? Here are some tips.

Before going to a party, eat something that's on your diet. Arrive fashionably late. Don't rush to the food. Greet everyone you know. Circulate around the room, avoiding the food. Keep talking. It's hard to eat and talk.

When you do decide to snack, avoid the fried foods and concentrate on the crackers, bread, fruit and vegetables. Go light on the dip. Boiled shrimp and scallops are a good choice. Use cocktail sauce or lemon and horseradish as a condiment. For portion control, use a napkin to hold your snack instead of a plate.

If you bring something to eat, make sure yours is a dish light in fat and calories; that way you'll know there's at least one thing there you can eat.

Avoid the punch bowl. Most holiday punch is loaded with calories.

At a sit-down dinner where you know second helpings are obligatory, take a very small first portion. White turkey meat has fewer calories than dark meat or meat with skin. A roll is fine – especially if you skip the butter or margarine.

If you want to avoid dessert, tell the hostess it looks wonderful, but you couldn't eat another bite. Don't say you're dieting.

If you're the cook, let someone else be the official taster, so you don't add extra pounds as you cook.

Don't prepare easily eaten foods – cookies, for instance – ahead of time. They're too tempting. Make a cake or pie. That discourages nibbling. Prepare calorie-rich dishes last.

Serve small portions; let your guests ask for seconds. You're probably not the only one trying to watch his or her food intake. Balance rich dishes with light and lean alternatives.

Above all, don't decide that you'll just forget your diet for a few weeks and start again after the first of the year. That way lies disaster!

Deer hunting good in Cameron Parish

By Loston McEvers

DEER HUNTING GOOD

I've got to say right now deer season in our area of the parish is some of the best. Very good reports of spike bucks up to 8 point bucks reported.

I talked with David Trahan of Creole and he told me that he had been leaving his blind at 8 a.m. each morning. He and his son hunt together. He shot an 8 point but really didn't start to see deer until after 8 a.m. and he tells me now to stay at least until 9 a.m.

The rain we've had after opening weekend has brought the deer closer to the ridges and along the levees and that's within most of the deer stands. This has helped our hunters to bag a deer. On doe day, Nov. 7, only a few reports of does taken and really most hunters chose to shoot a buck instead.

The next doe day is Nov. 27, Friday after Thanksgiving.

A friendly reminder - dove season is closed until Dec. 12-Jan. 11, and that's the last split.

PLENTY TO HUNT

This Sat., Nov. 21, will be a good day in our parish for hunters. It's the opening day for ducks, coots and geese (Nov. 21-Dec. 5 and Dec. 26-Jan. 9). The dates posted are the dates of the 30-day season with a split. There is a closed season on canvasbacks. The daily bag limit on ducks is 3 and may include no more than 2 mallards, no more than 1 of which may be a female, 2 black ducks, 2 wood ducks, 1 pintail and 1 redhead. The daily bag limit on coots is 15.

The daily bag limit for merganser is 5, only 1 of which may be a hooded merganser. This is in addition to the daily bag limit for ducks.

The possession limits, after the first day of each split, on ducks, coots and mergansers is twice the daily bag limit.

The goose season has a three-way split - Nov. 21-Dec. 12; Dec. 19-Feb. 4; and Feb. 5-Feb. 14. Daily bag limit is 7. This includes snows, blues and white fronted geese (specks) but only 2 may be white fronted.

The last ten day (Feb. 5-14) split only blue and snow geese may be taken.

Shooting hours for ducks, geese and coots are 1/2 hour before sunrise to sunset. Besure and get your 1992-93 pink copy of the La. Migratory Game Bird Hunting Regulations.

A state stamp, a federal stamp and hunting license are required for all hunters between the ages of 16 and 59 years of age. Remember, these two stamps need to be signed across the face in ink.

Other hunting you can enjoy starting Nov. 21, are rails, gallinules andsnipes. Woodcock will open Nov. 28.

Rabbit and squirrel seasonis also open with squirrell closing Jan. 31, and rabbit closing Feb. 28.

REFUGE HUNTING

The portion of the Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge south of the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway and west of the Mermentau River will be open to waterfowl hunting during the regular state duck season. Western Zone - Nov. 21 through Dec. 5, and Dec. 26 through Jan. 9. Hunting will be permitted until noon each day, Wednesday through Sunday.

All hunters on Lacassine Refuge are required to possess a refuge hunting permit. The refuge hunting and fishing brochure serves as the required permit when it has been signed and dated. The permit must be in the hunter's possession while hunting waterfowl on the refuge.

Beginning one week before the opening of the first split, hunters may visit the refuge from one hour before sunrise until one hour after sunset to check water levels and locate hunting sites. Hunters are reminded that steel shot shells must be used and only ducks, geese and coots may be taken on the refuge.

The permit and brochure are free and can be obtained at the refuge headquarters located off Highway 3056, 11 miles southwest of Lake Arthur. Individuals may also obtain copies through the mail by writing to: Refuge Manager, Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge, HCR 63, Box 186, Lake Arthur, La. 70549 or telephoning 774-5923.

TRAPPING TALK

Being our trapping season is opening next month, on Dec. 1, in our South Zone, I couldn't help but notice a write-up from the Oct. 30 1942 American Press, bringing 50 years ago news to readers.

It says that in 1942, Louisiana had a multi-million dollar fur season, which opened on a Sunday, Nov. 1, 1942, to all fur bearing animals except muskrat, which didn't openuntil Dec. 10, 1942. It goes on to talk about the difficulties as the result of World War II, but trappers of Louisiana were looking forward to trapping season.

What really got my attention was muskrat meat had been proven edible and was being sold on the open market in many sections of the country, especially in the state of Maryland.

In Maryland it was marketed under the name of marsh rabbit or marsh hare and was very much in demand.

It went on to state that our state trapped more than six million muskrats each season and each muskrat averaged one-half pound, thus giving 3 million pounds of meat for the market. It said it was the equivalent of 3,000 steers of 1,000 pounds each.

Today we do not see many muskrats although there are still a few. The fact is nutria population has dwindled, but still they claim the nutria is eating away our coastal lands.

50+ reunion at Northwestern

Last Saturday my son-in-law, daughter and I attended my 50+ alumni reunion at Northwestern State University in Natchitoces. We enjoyed this one as much as the ones in the two preceding years. Again, one of my former roommates and my former P. E. instructors were there as well as several old classmates.

We reminisced about our days on the old HIll, shared some of our experiences since then, joked, laughed and felt the last years fall away like the shedding of a cloak. For one delightful day we were young and carefree.

Once more a tradition as old as the college, perhaps older than the college, for it dates back to the time when a convent stood where the university now is, surfaced. It was the sad story of the young nun.

In that long distant past the only sounds heard came from the black-robed nuns as they said their beads. Among them was a beautiful, sweet young girl, the daughter of one of Louisiana's finest families.

She had fallen deeply in love with a young man from the eastern part of the country. His father had sent him to Louisiana to check out the lumber industry in which he had invested money.

The two young people met, fell in love, and became engaged. The father of the boy objected because of his youth and sent him abroad to forget the girl. At first the two exchanged letters secretly. The young man could bear the separation no longer and shipped aboard a steamer at Paris as a stowaway.

A storm arose; the ship sank; but the young lover and ten others were cast upon an island. Months fled by before the poor men were rescued by a passing ship.

During this time the boy's sweetheart waited impatiently for another letter. Finally she concluded that he had been untrue to her. She took the vows of a Catholic nun and was sent to the convent in Natchitoches.

Later her lover returned, hastened to her home, and was told of her pledge to the church to live unwedded. Determined to get a glimpse of her, he hurried to Natchitoches. He met her on the little road that ran from the old convent to the river. He pledged his vows anew. Her heart was broken even as she told him she could not break her vows to the church.

The strain was too much for the girl. One night she slipped away to the old attic and pierced her heart with a dagger. When she withdrew it her hand was stained with blood. As she fell, she left the imprint of her hand on the wall.

When I was a freshman at the college, her ghost was said to float through East Hall, one of the dormitories. When the building was later demolished, the white figure with its weird tapping and blood-curdling sounds was said to have moved into another structure. And so from building to building to this day goes the sad ghost of the once beautiful maiden.

And little homesick freshmen are still being told the story of the Ghost of East Hall.

Accidental discovery may end obesity

WASHINGTON—Researchers may have discovered a way to end obesity—— by accident

In a study with a potential cholesterol lowering agent, scientists noted an unusual side effect. Instead of lower cholesterol levels, patients receiving a natural plant colloid lost weight while body weight in a control group remained constant.

The scientists say the mechanism behind the weight loss is not clear, but suggest it is partially due to a decrease in the intestinal absorption of calories. Scientists in another study published in the British Journal of Nutrition, found that patients consuming the same colloid lost weight in spite of being instructed not to alter normal eating patterns. Despite this evidence, other scientists may not agree on the weight loss benefits of colloids. Someday, pending further study, there could be universal agreement that colloids are helpful in confronting the problem of obesity.

National Dietary Research, whose research topics have been the subject of articles published in recent medical and nutritional journals, has successfully incorporated a series of colloids into a chewable food tablet called FS-1. When used as directed, FS-1 replaces high calorie fats with lower calorie nutrients, thus providing optimum nutrition with a minimum number of fat calories. According to an article published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition, consciously limiting the amount of food one consumes is not necessary to lose weight, provided you limit the fat

A Florida company has obtained exclusive distribution rights to FS-1, which is available through pharmacies and other health care professionals.

Thanksgiving thoughts

Another Thanksgiving Day is here...a day in which Nature's work for the year seems complete. Against a backdrop of smoke gray and purple haze and beneath a canopy of wind swept filmy clouds we see tall branches stir and fling their leaves of gold and bronze, crimson and amber in sheer abandon.

It is a day for family gatherings a bridging of the gap between two and three and even four generations, a day of understanding and acceptance, of joy and laughter.

And it is sometimes a day in which the silken cord of memory tugs at our hearts, and we feel again the presence of dear ones who are no longer with us.

Above all, it is a day of thanksgiving, of bowing in true humbleness before our Creator to acknowledge His tender care and blessings throughout the past year and to praise Him thereof.

A story is told of two men each of whom was given a box of sand. Within each box were two particles of iron. A jewel of great value was to bestowed upon the man ingenious enought to lift out the iron from all the grains of sand.

The first man again and again grasped a handful of sand clumsily and let it sift down through his fingers as he strained his eyes to catch a glimpse of the bits of iron. The longer he sifted the surer he became that sand alone was his lot.

The second man meanwhile appraised his box with clear reason. he took from his pocket a small magnet and swept it back and forth through the sand. Then he lifted it out and beheld two tiny particles of iron adhered to it.

The unthankful heart, like the clumsy fingers of the first man, discovers no tenderness, no joys, no mercies in life. The grateful heart, like the magnet of the second man, sweeps through the moments of each hour and draws unto itself blessings untold.

In the end the grateful heart, like the finder of iron, is the recipient of the jewel of great value.

Pogy catch is predicted off

In early November the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries announced the forecast for the 1993 menhaden fishing season. The projected Louisiana menhaden landings are in the 300,000 to 350,000 metric tons range. The projection factors in the expected level of fishing -- 17% lower than in 1991.

The harvest totals have generally been low since the mid-80's when the industry began downsizing. LDWF marine fisheries managers explain that the projected harvest for 1993 does, however, reflect a slight increase over the last three years in the actual availability of the resource.

Fishermen, economists, public officials and state planners look forward to the department's menhaden forecast each year. LDWF has made an annual forecast of the menhaden harvest since 1982. In the past, marine fisheries biologists could not make the forecasts until one or two months prior to the season opening.

One of the predictor variables that they rely on is abundance of juvenile menhaden, a determination that they base on trawl samples. Prior to this year, this variable was based on samples collected from January all the way through December.

The menhaden industry in Louisiana accounts for 80% of the harvest of menhaden in the Gulf of Mexico. It is the largest volume fishery in the state. Menhaden is processed into fish meal and used extensively by the poultry, swine and aquaculture industries. There is a European market for the fish oil used in margarine and an international market for the oil for use in cosmetic products and high grade lubricants.

Drunk drivers program told

Mothers Against Drunk Driving and Mercury Cellular and Paging have announced a new toll-free cellular number designed to get drunk drivers off the roads this holiday season. Not only will drivers be asked to tie ribbons on their radio and cellular antennas this year, but Mecury Cellular subscribers will now be able to dial *MADD (*6233) on their cellular phones and report a drunk driver and his/her location to the local authorities.

This toll-free call will be effective in all 5,000 square miles of Mercury Cellular's local calling area - north of Leesville, south to Cameron, the Texas state line, east to Jennings. Cellular callers will have the ability to report a drunk driver to the local police or sheriff's department. For example, when a Mercury Cellular subscriber sees a drunk driver in Cameron, the *MADD number will ring locally to the Cameron Sheriff's office, where the caller can report a description and location of the drunk driver.

The local chapter of MADD is distributing red ribbons, to be tied on car antennas, to all Southwest Louisiana organizations and individuals. The ribbons are used as a reminder to not drink and drive during this festive time of the year. MADD urges drinkers to give up their car keys to a designated driver, in lieu of putting others in danger on the road.

NOTICE

During the reporting period of October 15 to November 14 the Cameron Parish Waterworks District #11 water supply violated the maximum contaminant level of coliform bacteria as set forth in the State and Federal Primary Drinking Water Regulations. Action was taken to eliminate the contamination.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliform is a possible health concern. Total coliform are common in the enviornment and are GENERALLY NOT HARMFUL THEMSELVES. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, generally is a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distributes the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease.

Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possible jaundice, and associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water.

EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliforms to reduce the risks of these adverse health efforts. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe.

The Cameron Parish Waterworks District #11 was notified on October 28, 1992 that we were in non-compliance of sample taken on October 26, 1992. Again the system was resampled on October 29, 1992 with the system being in compliance on November 01, 1992. We routinely take water samples monthly as required by the Department of Health on dates set by the Department of Health and taken to them for analysis.

SECTION 3.03. Legends. The Bonds may contain or have endorsed thereon such provisions, specifications and descriptive words not inconsistent with the provisions of this Resolution as may be necessary or desirable to comply with custom or otherwise as may be determined by the Governing Authority prior to delivery thereof.

SECTION 3.04. Place and Medium of Payment. The principal (and premium, if any) of each Bond shall be payable upon maturity or redemption at the principal corporate trust office of the Paying Agent/Registrar in any coin or currency of the United States of America which at the time of payment is legal tender for the payment of public and private debts, upon presentation and surrender thereof. The Issuer shall cause books for the registration and for registration of transfer of the Bonds as provided in this Resolution to be kept by the Paying Agent/Registrar at its principal corporate trust office, and the Paying Agent/Registrar is hereby constituted and appointed the registrar for the Bonds. All Bonds so surrendered shall be cancelled by the Secretary of the Governing Authority of the Issuer and held for the account of the Issuer. If any Bond shall have matured or be about to mature, instead of issuing a substitute Bond, the Issuer may pay the same upon being indemnified as aforesaid, and if such Bond be lost, stolen or destroyed, without surrender thereof.

Any such duplicate Bond issued pursuant to this Section shall constitute original, additional, contractual obligations on the part of the Issuer, whether or not the lost, stolen or destroyed Bond be at any time found by anyone. Such duplicate Bond shall be in all respects identical with those replaced except that they shall bear on their face the following additional clause:

"This Bond is issued to replace a lost, cancelled or destroyed Bond under the authority of R.S. 39:971 through 39:974."

Such duplicate Bonds shall be signed by the same officers who signed the original Bonds, provided, however, that in the event the officers who executed the original Bonds are no longer in office, then the new Bonds shall be signed by the officers then in office. Such duplicate Bonds shall be entitled to equal and proportionate benefits and rights as to lien and source and security for payment as provided herein with respect to all other Bonds hereunder, the obligations of the Issuer upon the new Bonds being identical to its obligations upon the original Bonds and the rights of the owner of the new Bonds being the same as those conferred by the original Bonds.

SECTION 3.07. Preparation of Definitive Bonds, Temporary Bonds. Until definitive Bonds are prepared, the Issuer may execute, in the same manner as is provided in Section 3.09, and deliver, in lieu of definitive Bonds, but subject to the same provisions, limitations and conditions as the definitive Bonds except as to the denominations, one or more temporary Bonds in lieu of which such temporary Bond or Bonds are issued, in such denominations as may be authorized by the Issuer, and with such omissions, insertions and variations as may be appropriate to temporary Bonds.

In case any one or more of the officers who shall have signed or sealed any of the Bonds shall cease to be such officer before the Bonds so signed and sealed shall have been actually delivered, such Bonds may, nevertheless, be delivered as herein provided, and may be issued as if the person who signed or sealed such Bonds had not ceased to hold such office. Any Bond may be signed and sealed on behalf of the Issuer by such persons as at the actual time of the execution of such Bond shall be duly authorized or hold the proper office in the Issuer, although at the date of the Bonds such person may not have been so authorized to have held such office. Said officers shall, by execution of the Bonds, adopt as and for their own proper signatures their respective facsimile signatures appearing on the Bonds or any legal opinion certificate, and the Issuer may adopt and use for that purpose the facsimile signature of any person or persons who shall have been such officer at any time on or after the date of such Bond, notwithstanding that at the date of such Bond such person may not have held such office or that at the time which such Bond shall be delivered such person may have ceased to hold such office.

SECTION 3.10. Registration by Paying Agent/Registrar. No Bond shall be valid or obligatory for any purpose or entitled to any security or benefit under this Resolution unless and until a certificate of registration on such Bond substantially in the form set forth in a Supplemental Resolution shall have been duly executed by the Paying Agent/Registrar, and such executed certificate of the Paying Agent/Registrar upon any such Bond shall be conclusive evidence that such Bond has been executed, registered and delivered under this Resolution.

Each construction draw Requisition will be review by the Bank for verification of proper performance of the work for which reimbursement is sought. The Issuer will bear and pay the costs of the Bank arising from verification of each draw request.

SECTION 5.02. Rate Covenant. The Issuer covenants and agrees that if at any time following the issuance of the Bonds, and for so long as any Bonds are outstanding pursuant to the terms, provisions, conditions and limitations of the Resolution, the schedule of rates, fees and charges enacted by the Issuer does not produce in any calendar year Operating Income in an amount at least equal to One Hundred (100%) percent of debt service on the Bonds, it shall immediately by resolution or ordinance fix and place in effect a revised schedule of rates and charges that will produce no less than such amount. The Issuer further covenants and agrees, that for so long as any Bonds remain Outstanding that it shall produce "cash flow" (defined as net income plus depreciation) which will equal or exceed One Hundred Twenty-Five (125%) percent of the annual principal and interest payment requirements on the Outstanding Bonds.

SECTION 5.04. Creation of 1992 Hospital Revenue Bond Debt Service Reserve Fund. In order that the principal of and interest on the Bonds will be paid in accordance with their terms and for other objects and purposes hereinafter provided, the Issuer hereby further covenants as follows:

> On the date of delivery of the Bonds the Issuer shall deliver to the Bank, the full sum of $1,000,000.00, from its other funds on hand, which funds shall be deposited into and maintained within the 1992 Hospital Revenue Bond Debt Service Reserve Fund. The monies in said 1992 Hospital Revenue Bond Debt Service Reserve Fund shall be retained solely for the purpose of paying the principal of, interest on and Redemption Premium, if any, on the Issuer's outstanding Bonds. Monies and funds within the 1992 Hospital Revenue Bond Debt Service Reserve Fund shall initially be invested and reinvested in successive one (1) year certificates of deposit, bearing interest thereon at the then rate of interest established by at least three (3) bids from financial institutions. Upon maturity of the initial investment (certificate of deposit) the Issuer may, in its discretion, reinvest monies within the 1992 Hospital Revenue Bond Debt Service Reserve Fund in any Government Securities or withdraw said Fund and utilize same for any lawful purpose.

SECTION 5.05. Records and Accounts. As long as any of the Bonds are outstanding and unpaid in principal or interest, the Issuer shall maintain and keep proper books of record and accounts separate and apart from all other records and accounts in which shall be made full and correct entries of all transactions relating to the collection and expenditure of the Issuer's Operating Revenues and Operating Expenses. Not later than three (3) months after the close of each fiscal year, the Issuer shall cause an audit of such books and accounts to be made by a recognized independent firm of certified or registered public accountants showing the receipts of and disbursements made for the account of the Issuer's Operating Revenues. The costs of such audit shall be paid from the gross receipts of the Operating Revenues, and shall be included as an Operating Expense. Such audit, and the unqualified opinion of the auditor, shall be available for inspection upon request by the holders of any of the Bonds. The Issuer further agrees that the Paying Agent/Registrar as well as the owners of any of the Bonds shall have at all reasonable times the right to inspect the records, accounts and data of the Issuer relating thereto. It shall be the duty of the Issuer, at the time and manner provided for by law and resolutions of the Issuer, to punctually and periodically collect the Operating Revenues which secure the Bonds, in order to effectuate the provisions of this Resolution, for and on behalf of the holders, from time to time, of the Bonds. Immediately following delivery of the Bonds, the Issuer shall commence providing to the Bank, as the initial purchaser of the Bonds, quarterly financial statements of operations of the Hospital, within thirty (30) days of the end of each calendar quarter. The Issuer's obligation to provide quarterly financial statements to the Bank shall continue for so long as any Bonds are outstanding.

SECTION 5.06. Tax Covenants.

(A) The Paying Agent/Registrar shall be required to comply with any statute, regulation or ruling that may apply to it as Paying Agent/Registrar hereunder and which relates to reporting requirements necessary to preserve the exclusion from gross income of interest on the Bonds.

(B) The Issuer covenants that it will not take any action, or fail to take any action, if any such action or failure to take action would adversely affect the exclusion from gross income of the interest on the Bonds under Section 103 of the code. The Issuer will not directly or indirectly use or permit the use of any proceeds of the Bonds or any other funds of the Issuer, or take or omit to take any action that would cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" within the meaning of Sections 148 and 149(g) of the Code. To that end, the Issuer will comply with all requirements of Sections 148 and 149(g) of the code to the extent applicable to the Bonds. The Issuer will not purchase any Nonpurpose investments at other than fair market value as provided in Treasury Regulations Section 1.148-4(c) and specifically any purchased certificates of deposit will comply with Treasury Regulations Section 1.148-4(c)(5). In the event that at any time the Issue is of the opinion that for purposes of this Section 5.06 it is necessary to restrict or limit the yield on the investment of any moneys held by the Paying Agent/Registrar under this Resolution, or otherwise, the Issuer shall so instruct the Paying Agent/Registrar in writing, and the Paying Agent/Registrar shall take such action as may be necessary in accordance with such instructions.

Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Issuer agrees that there shall be paid from time to time all amounts required to be rebated to the United States pursuant to Section 148(f) of the Code and any temporary, proposed or final Treasury Regulations as may be applicable to the Bonds from time to time. This covenant shall survive payment in full or defeasance of the Bonds. The Issuer specifically covenants to pay or cause to be paid to the United States the Rebate Amount at the times and in the amounts determined under Section 5.09 hereof.

Notwithstanding any provision of this Section and Section 5.09 hereof, if the Issuer shall provide to the Paying Agent/Registrar an opinion of nationally recognized Bond counsel to the effect that any action required under this Section and Section 5.09 hereof is no longer required, or to the effect that some further action is required, to maintain the exclusion from gross income of the interest on the Bonds pursuant to Section 103 of the Code, the Issuer and the Paying Agent/Registrar may rely conclusively on such opinion in complying with the provisions hereof, and the covenants hereunder shall be deemed to be modified to that extent.

(C) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Resolution, at no time during any Bond Year shall the aggregate amount invested hereunder at a Yield in excess of the Bond Yield (other than amounts invested and amounts held in the 1992 Hospital Revenue Bond Sinking Fund for not more than thirteen (13) months) exceed $1,000,000 which is equal to ten percent (10%) of the original proceeds of the Bonds, nor exceed 150% of the debt service on the Bonds for such Bond Year. For purposes of the 1992 Hospital Revenue Bond Debt Service Reserve Fund, Yield shall be calculated using the fair market value of any certificate of deposit determined in accordance with the provisions of Regulation Sections 1.148-2(d) and 1.148-4(c)(5) regardless of the actual purchase price thereof.

SECTION 5.07. Additional Bonds. The Issuer has also covenanted that it will issue no other bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness or obligations of any kind or nature payable from or enjoying a lien on the Operating Revenues of the Issuer's Hospital having priority over or parity with the Bonds, without first acquiring the consent and approval of the Bank. The Issuer may, however, continue to lease, rent, purchase and otherwise acquire medical equipment, furnishings, instruments and accouterments as it had done in the ordinary course of business prior to the issuance, sale and delivery of the Bonds without violating the terms of the covenant contained within this Section 5.07.

SECTION 5.08. Approval of Construction Plans and Specifications. The Issuer convents and agrees that prior to commencement of construction, acquisition and renovation of the Project, that plans and specifications prepared by the Issuer's architect will be submitted to the Bank for review and approval by an architect or engineer employed by the Bank. The fee and expenses of such architect or engineer shall be borne and paid by the Issuer. Following commencement of construction, the Issuer shall submit all construction draw Requisitions to the Bank's architect/engineer who shall thereafter review and approve prior to payment of same. The fees and expenses of the Bank's architect/engineer shall be paid by the Issuer. All construction draw Requisitions shall be submitted to the Bank's architect/engineer not less than fifteen (15) days prior to payment of same.

SECTION 5.09. Rebate Fund.

(a) The Paying Agent/Registrar shall deposit in the Rebate Fund the Rebate Amount tendered to it by the Issuer. Moneys on deposit in the Rebate Fund shall not be subject to the lien and pledge of this Resolution, but otherwise shall be invested, administered and distributed as provided herein.

(b) Annually, within 30 days after each Calculation Date, the Issue shall make a computation of the Rebate Amount, and the Paying Agent/Registrar will receive from the Issuer notification of the calculation of the Rebate Amount for the immediately preceding Bond Year. If based on such calculation, the aggregate Rebate Amount for such Bond Year exceeds the amount credited to the Rebate Fund during such Bond Year, the Paying Agent/Registrar shall immediately transfer from the Construction Fund and or any pledged securities or obligations that constitute Operating Revenues, as applicable, to the Principal Account of the Rebate Fund an amount equal to such excess. If, at the time of transfer, or attempted transfer, the amount held in the Construction Fund and/or available to be transferred from any pledged securities or obligations that constitute Operating Revenues, as applicable (other than the Rebate Fund) is less than the Rebate Amount for such fund or such pledged securities or obligations required to be transferred to the Rebate Fund, the Paying Agent/Registrar shall immediately notify the Issuer of the amount of such deficiency and the Issuer shall immediately deposit such amount in the Rebate Fund. If based on such calculations, the aggregate amount of the Rebate Amount for such Bond Year is less than the amount credited to the Rebate Fund during such Bond Year, the Paying Agent/Registrar shall immediately transfer from the Principal Account of the Rebate Fund to the Interest Account of the Rebate Fund an amount equal to such differences. All income earned on amounts on deposit in the Rebate Fund shall be retained in the Interest Account of the Rebate Fund and rebated to the United States Treasury as hereinafter described.

(c) If then required by reason of Section 148(f) of the Code, the Paying Agent/Registrar on behalf of the Issuer shall remit to the United States Treasury, in such manner as may be required or permitted by the Code and the Regulations (including, without limitation,the information return filed pursuant to Section 149(c) of the Code, (i) no more than 30 days after the last day of each fifth Bond Year, at least 90% of the Rebate Amount, if any, and (ii) within 60 days after the date on which all of the Bonds have been retired, the difference between the final Rebate Amount and the sum of all amounts previously paid to the United States Treasury pursuant to this Section.

(d) Records of the determination with respect to the Rebate Amount and the Rebate Fund shall be retained by the Paying Agent/Registrar on behalf of the Issuer, until six (6) years after there are no Bonds Outstanding.

(e) The Bank shall not be responsible for calculation of the Rebate Amount.

SECTION 5.10. Final Balances. Upon the deposit with the Paying Agent/Registrar of moneys sufficient to pay all principal of, premium, if any, and interest, on the Bonds, and upon satisfaction of all claims against the Issuer hereunder, including the payment of all fees, charges and expenses of the Paying Agent/Registrar, which are properly due and payable hereunder, and after compliance with the provisions of Section 5.09 regarding moneys in the Rebate Fund, or upon the making of adequate provisions of the payment of such amounts, as permitted hereby, all moneys remaining in all funds and accounts shall be remitted to the Issuer.

SECTION 5.11 Event of Taxability. Upon the occurrence of an Official Determination, the Issuer and the Bondholder agree to retroactively convert the interest rate payable by the Issuer to the Bank on the Bonds to 8.25 % per annum. The interest rate conversion provided for in this Section shall be retroactive to the effective date of the Official Determination.

In addition, a second redemption notice must be provided to any Bondholder who has not surrendered its Bonds to the Trustee within 60 days after the applicable redemption date.

All such notices shall state (i) the maturity of the Bonds to be redeemed, (ii) the CUSIP number (if any) of the Bonds to be redeemed, (iii) the date of such notice, (iv) the issuance date for such Bonds, (v) the interest rate and maturity date of the Bonds to be redeemed, (vi) the redemption date, (vii) the place or places where amounts due upon such redemption will be payable and (viii) that on the redemption date there will become due and payable upon each Bond to be redeemed the amount of principal thereon, together with interest accrued to the redemption date, and that from and after the redemption date interest thereon will cease to accrue and be payable. Any notice mailed as provided in this Section 6.06 shall be conclusively presumed to have been duly given, whether or not the Bondholder receives such notice. Failure to give such notice by mail to any Bondholder, or any defect therein, will not affect the validity of any proceedings for the redemption of other Bonds.

SECTION 6.07. Payment of Redeemed Bonds. Notice having been given in the manner provided in Section 6.06, the Bonds so called for redemption shall become due and payable on the redemption date so designated at the Redemption Price, plus interest accrued and unpaid to the redemption date, and, upon presentation and surrender thereof at the office specified in such notice, such Bonds shall be paid at the Redemption Price plus interest accrued and unpaid to the redemption date. If, on the redemption date, monies for the redemption of all the Bonds, together with interest to the redemption date, shall be held by the Paying Agent/Registrar so as to be available therefor on said date and if notice of redemption shall have been given as aforesaid, then, from and after the redemption date interest on the Bonds of such maturity so called for redemption shall cease to accrue and become payable. If said moneys shall not be so available on the redemption date, such Bonds shall continue to bear interest until paid at the same rate as they would have borne had they not been called for redemption.

SECTION 6.08. Purchase of Bonds. The Paying Agent/Registrar shall endeavor to apply moneys furnished by the Issuer for the redemption of Bonds (but not committed to the redemption of Bonds as to which notice of redemption has been given) to the purchase of appropriate Outstanding Bonds. In accordance with Section 3.08, any Bonds so purchased shall be cancelled. The price paid by the Paying Agent/Registrar (excluding accrued interest, but including any brokerage or other charges) for any Bond purchased pursuant to this Section shall not exceed the principal amount thereof; the Paying Agent/Registrar shall also pay (from moneys furnished by the Issuer) accrued interest on any such Bond. Subject to the above limitations, the Paying Agent/Registrar, at the direction of the Issuer, shall purchase Bonds at such times, for such prices, in such amounts and in such manner (whether after advertisement for tenders or otherwise) with monies made available by the Issuer for such purpose, provided, however, that the Paying Agent/Registrar shall not expend amounts for the purchase of Bonds of a particular maturity in excess of the amount that would otherwise be expended for the redemption of Bonds of such maturity, and, provided further, that the Issuer may, in its discretion, direct the Paying Agent/Registrar to advertise for tenders for the purchase of Bonds sixty (60) days prior to any date for redemption of Bonds.

ARTICLE VII

SECTION 7.01. Supplemental Resolutions Effective Upon Filing with the Paying Agent/Registrar. For any one or more of the following purposes and at any time from time to time, a supplemental resolution may be adopted, which, upon the filing with the Paying Agent/Registrar of a certified copy thereof, shall be fully effective in accordance with its terms:

(1) to add to the covenants and agreements of the Issuer in this Resolution other covenants and agreements to be observed by the Issuer which are not contrary to or inconsistent with this Resolution as theretofore in effect;

ARTICLE VIII

AMENDMENTS

SECTION 8.01. Powers of Amendment. Any modification or amendment of this Resolution or of the rights and obligations of the Issuer and of the owners of the Bonds hereunder, in any particular, may be made by a supplemental resolution, with the written consent of the owners of a majority of the Bond Obligation at the time such consent is given. No such modification or amendment shall permit a change in the terms of redemption or maturity of the principal of any Outstanding Bond or of any installment of interest thereon or a reduction in the principal amount or the Redemption Price thereof or in the rate of interest thereon without the consent of the owner of such Bond, or shall reduce the percentages of Bonds the consent of the owner of which is required to effect any such modification or amendment, or shall change or modify any of the rights or obligations of either the Paying Agent/Registrar or the Trustee without its written assent thereto, without the consent of the owner of all of the Bonds then outstanding. For purposes of this Section, Bonds shall be deemed to be affected by a modification or amendment of this Resolution if the same adversely affects or diminishes the rights of the owners of said Bonds.

ARTICLE IX

REMEDIES ON DEFAULT

SECTION 9.01. Events of Default. If one or more of the following events by the Issuer (in this Resolution called "Events of Default") shall happen, that is to say,

(2) if default shall be made by the Issuer in the due and punctual payment of any installment of interest on any Bond when and as such interest installment shall become due and payable; or

(3) if default shall be made by the Issuer in the performance or observance of any other of the covenants, agreements or conditions on its part in this Resolution, any Supplemental Resolution or in the Bonds contained, and such default shall continue for a period of forty-five days after written notice thereof to the Issuer by the owners of not less than 25% of the Bond Obligation; or

(4) if the Issuer shall file a petition or otherwise seek relief under any Federal or State bankruptcy law or similar law;

then, upon the happening and continuance of any Event of Default the owners of the Bonds shall be entitled to exercise all rights and powers for which provision is made in this Resolution, the Mortgage, the Act or in any provision of law.

Any Bond shall, prior to maturity or redemption date thereof, be deemed to have been paid within the meaning and with the effect expressed in paragraph (A) of this Section if (i) in case such Bond is to be redeemed on any date prior to its maturity, the Issuer shall have given to the Paying Agent/Registrar in form satisfactory to it irrevocable instructions to give as provided in Article VI of this Resolution notice of redemption on said date of such Bond, and (ii) there shall have been deposited with the Paying Agent/Registrar either moneys or Government Securities, in the amounts and having such terms as are necessary to provide moneys (whether as principal or interest) in an amount sufficient to pay when due the principal or applicable Redemption Price thereof, together with all accrued interest. Neither Government Securities, or moneys deposited with the Paying Agent/Registrar pursuant to this Section nor principal or interest payments on any such securities shall be withdrawn or used for any purpose other than, and shall be held in trust for, the payment of the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest on said Bonds; provided that any cash received from such principal or interest payments on such direct obligations of the United States of America deposited with the Paying Agent/Registrar shall, to the extent practicable, be reinvested in Government Securities maturing at times and in amounts sufficient to pay when due the principal or Redemption Price, if applicable, and interest to become due on said Bonds on and prior to such redemption date or maturity date thereof, as the case may be.

Proof of (i) the execution of any such instrument, or of an instrument appointing any such attorney, or (ii) the ownership by any person of the Bonds shall be sufficient for any purpose of this Resolution (except as otherwise therein expressly provided) if made in the following manner, or in any other manner satisfactory to the Paying Agent/Registrar, which may nevertheless in its discretion require further or other proof in cases where it deems the same desirable:

(1) the fact and date of the execution by any Bondholder or his attorney-in-fact of such instrument may be proved by the certificates, which need not be acknowledged or verified, of an officer of a bank or trust company or of any notary public or other officers authorized to take acknowledgments of deeds, that the person signing such request or other instrument acknowledged to him the execution thereof, or by an affidavit of a witness of such execution, duly sworn to before such notary public or other officer. Where such execution is by an officer of a corporation or association or a member of a partnership, such certificate or affidavit shall also constitute sufficient proof of his authority;

(2) the ownership of Bonds and the amount, numbers and other identification, and date of owning the same shall be proved by the registry books.

(B) Any request or consent by the owner of any Bond shall bind all future owners of such Bond in respect of anything done or suffered to be done by the Issuer or the Paying Agent/Registrar in accordance therewith.

SECTION 11.03. Moneys Held for Particular Bonds. The amounts held by the Paying Agent/Registrar for the payment due on any date with respect to particular Bonds shall, on and after such date and pending such payment, be set aside on its books and held in trust by it for the owners of the Bonds entitled thereto.

SECTION 11.04. Parties Interested Herein. "It is certified that this Bond is authorized by and is issued in conformity with the requirements of the Constitution and statutes of the State of Louisiana."

SECTION 11.08. Bank Qualification. The Bonds herein authorized are hereby designated as "qualified tax-exempt obligations" within the meaning of Section 265(b)(3) of the Code. In making this designation, the Issuer finds and determines that:

(b) the reasonable anticipated amount of qualified tax-exempt obligations which will be issued by the Issuer and all subordinate entities in calendar year 1992 does not exceed $10,000,000.

SECTION 11.09. Severability. In case any one or more of the provisions of this Resolution or of the Bonds issued hereunder shall for any reason be held to be illegal or invalid, such illegality or invalidity shall not affect any other provision of this Resolution or of the Bonds, but this Resolution and the Bonds shall be construed and enforced as if such illegal or invalid provisions had not been contained therein. Any constitutional or statutory provision enacted after the date of this Resolution which validates or makes legal any provision of this Resolution, the Bonds which would not otherwise be valid or legal shall be deemed to apply to this Resolution and to the Bonds.

SECTION 11.10. Publication of Resolution. A copy of this Resolution shall be published immediately after its adoption in the Lake Charles American Press and Cameron Pilot, newspapers published in the Parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron, Louisiana, and of general circulation within the Issuer and being the official journals of the Parishes of Calcasieu and Cameron. 11.13. Resolution to Constitute A Contract. After any of the Bonds have been issued, this Resolution shall constitute an irrevocable contract between the Issuer and the Bondholders, and this Resolution shall be and remain irrepealable until the bonds and the interest accruing thereon shall have been fully paid, satisfied and discharged, as herein provided.

11.14. Inconsistent Resolutions Repealed. All orders, bylaws, ordinances and resolutions of the Issuer, or parts thereof, inconsistent with this Resolution are hereby repealed only to the extent of such inconsistency. This repeal shall not be construed to revive any order, bylaw, resolution, ordinance, or part thereof, heretofore repealed.

11.15. Effective Date. This Resolution shall take effect immediately upon its final adoption and approval.

11.16. Delivery of the Bonds. The Chairman and Secretary of the Issuer are hereby directed to have the Bonds prepared for delivery in a form acceptable to the Bank and executed as soon as may be practicable after adoption of this Resolution, and thereupon to have the Bonds delivered to the original purchaser, upon receipt by the Issuer of the agreed purchase price. The sale of the Bonds to the original purchaser is hereby in all things ratified and confirmed. The principal proceeds of the sale of the Bonds shall be devoted to and used with due diligence for the purposes hereinabove set forth and for which the Bonds are hereby authorized to be issued. The Issuer represents and certifies:

(1) any moneys derived from operations of the Hospital designated to be used to pay principal and interest on the Bonds will be spent within 13 months of the date of receipt, and any amount received from investment of such moneys will be spent within a one-year period beginning on the date of receipt. Any funds and accounts in which such moneys are held as designated for the Bonds will be depleted at least once a year, except for a reasonable carry-over amount not to exceed the greater of one year's earnings on such moneys or one-twelfth (1/12) of annual debt service on the Bonds;

(5) the Issuer expects that 100% of the spendable proceeds of the Bonds (including investment proceeds) will be expended on or before December 30, 1997, for the purpose of paying the cost of acquisition of the Project, said date being within five years following the date of issue of the Bonds;

(6) work on acquisition of the Project is expected to proceed with due diligence to completion;

The terms and conditions of the Bond Purchase Agreement shall be in addition to and supplemental to the terms and conditions contained within this Resolution, however, to the extent of any conflict as between the terms of the Bond Purchase Agreement and this Resolution, the terms and conditions of this Resolution shall prevail. The terms and provisions of the Bond Purchase Agreement shall survive the delivery of the Bonds and shall remain effective until such time as all Outstanding Bonds are paid in full.

(c) Prior to the Closing Time, the District will have duly authorized all necessary action to be taken by it for: (1) the issuance and sale of the Bonds upon the terms set forth herein and in the Bond Purchase Agreement and in the Bond Resolution; (2) execution and delivery of the Bond Resolution providing for issuance of and security for the Bonds and appointing the Trustee as trustee, paying agent and bond registrar; (4) execution, delivery, receipt and due performance of this Bond Purchase Agreement, the Bonds, the Bond Resolution and any and all such other agreements and documents as may be required to be executed, delivered and received by the District to carry out, give effect to and consummate the transactions contemplated hereby; and (5) carrying out, giving effect to and consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and by the Bond Resolution. Certified copies of the Bond Resolution will be delivered to the Bank by the District at the Closing Time.

(d) There is no action, suit, proceeding, inquiry or investigation at law or in equity or before or by any court, public board or body pending or, to the knowledge of the District, threatened against or affecting the District (or, to its knowledge, any basis therefor) wherein an unfavorable decision, ruling or finding would adversely affect the transactions contemplated hereby or the validity of the Bonds, the Bond Resolution, this Bond Purchase Agreement or any agreement or instrument to which the District is a party and which is used or contemplated for use in the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby or by the Bond Resolution.

(e) The execution and delivery of this Bond Purchase Agreement, the Bonds, the Bond Resolution and the other agreements contemplated hereby, and compliance with the provisions thereof, will not conflict with or constitute on the part of the District a breach of or a default under any existing law, court or administrative regulation, decree or order or any agreement, indenture, mortgage, lease or other instrument to which the District is subject or by which the District is or may be bound.

(f) The District has not been notified of any listing or proposed listing by the Internal Revenue Service to the effect that it is a bond issuer whose arbitrage certifications may not be relied upon.

(h) Between the date of this Bond Purchase Agreement and the Closing Date, the District will not, without the prior written consent of the Bank, issue any bonds, notes or other obligations for borrowed money, and, except as disclosed to the Bank and its counsel, the District will not incur any material liabilities, direct or contingent, nor will there be any adverse change of a material nature in your financial position, results of operations or condition, financial or otherwise.

(i) The District will furnish such information, execute such instruments and take such other action in cooperation with the Bank as they may reasonably request to qualify the Bonds for offer and sale under the Blue Sky or other securities laws and regulations of such states and other jurisdictions of the United States of America as the Bank may designate and will assist, in the continuance therefor, in the maintenance of such qualifications in effect so long as required for distribution of the Bonds; provided, however, the District shall not be required to qualify as a foreign corporation or to file any general consents to service of process under the laws of any state.

(j) The Bonds in original principal amount of $10,000,000.00 will be amortized by the District over a ten (10) year term, in semi-annual payments of interest at rates not to exceed 5.6%, and semi-annual payments of principal in the amount of $500,000.00. In addition, the District agrees:

(A) To provide to the Bank annual unqualified audited financial statements no later than 90 days following the end of the most rent fiscal year;

(B) To provide to the Bank quarterly financial statements to the Bank within 30 days of the end of each fiscal quarter;

(C) To provide to the Bank an appraisal which would verify a minimum of eighty (80%) per cent loan-to-value ratio. Such appraisal is to be made by a Bank approved, certified appraiser with the fees of such appraiser to be paid by the District. The appraised value will not drop beneath a point where the loan balance exceeds 80% of the collateral value for the remaining term of the Bonds. Upon completion of the improvements the District will provide a final appraisal which reflects the value of the new improvements. An appraisal performed by a certified appraiser approved and employed by the Bank will not be required on a biannual basis if the following criteria have been met:

(1) the District has made all payments as agreed;

(2) the District's credit and/or financial condition has not significantly deteriorated;

The cash collateral is required to be deposit and pledged to the Bond debt until such time as the 80% ratio is obtained. Verification of the ratio being obtained is to be provided by a Bank contracted and qualified appraiser with the cost of the appraisal borne by the Issuer.

(E) The Bank's purchase of the Bonds is subject to a full review of the plans and specifications of the planned expansion and renovation, by a Bank approved inspector, with the costs of such review to be borne by the District.

(F) During the term of, and for so long as the Bonds are outstanding and unpaid:

(1) the District will maintain with the Bank all of its operational deposit accounts;

(2) the District shall incur no other debt associated with the operation of its hospital without the prior knowledge and consent of the Bank, save and except for the purchase, lease or rental of hospital equipment, furnishings and accoutements in the ordinary course of business; and,

Tarps eliminated from the playoffs

By JOE MUELLER

The Coushatta Choctaws provided the road block in the road to the Dome for the South Cameron Tarpons last Friday night as they edged the Tarpons 14-13.

The Tarpons, who finished the season with an 11-1 record, have nothing to be disappointed about as this is only the second time in school history that a Tarpon football team went undefeated and the 11 consecutive victories were matched only by the 1962 Tarpon team.

The Tarpons definitely missed senior quarterback leader Chris McCall, who suffered an injury Monday, but if South Cameron had won he would have been ready for the next game.

The Tarpons took a 7-6 halftime lead as they scored early in the second quarter on a 1 yard run by Rusty Welch. Travis Pradia kicked the extra point and with 9:35 left in the quarter, the Tarons were up 7-0. Welch's run culminated a 12 play 74 yard drive which ran over five minutes off the clock.

The Coushatta touchdown in the opening half came on a 23 yard pass play from Harry Gray to Gabriel Smith.

The Choctaws had recovered a Tarpon fumble at the South Cameron 37 to set up the touchdown. The Choctaws tried to pass for the extra point but failed and so, at half time, the score was 7-6.

The second half was much like the first as each team scored once.

The Coushatta touchdown came in the third quarter as they stopped the Tarpons at their own 14 on a fourth down play, and then took over and drove 86 yards to score on a 9 yard pass from Harry Gray to Jerry Guye. the two then teamed up again on the extra point to put the score at 14-7.

South Cameron's touchdown in the second half came on a 20 yard pass from David West to Todd Conner with 6:25 left in the game. This made the score 14-13. Coach Perry LaLande then decided to go for two on the extra point but the Choctaws stopped Rusty Welch short of the goal line and as it turned out, that was the final score 14-13.

The two teams total yards were very close as the offense totaled 237 to the Coushatta total of 232.

The weather, which was rainy and wet, was also a factor as the field was slippery. This definitely was in favor of the bigger, slower Choctaws.

Defensively, the Tarpons had three turnovers, two pass interceptions and one fumble recovery.

The Tarpons also forced the Choctaws to punt five times while only having to punt twice themselves.

The Tarpons season was very successful and the fans and this writer wish to offer congratulations and thanks to the coaching staff, players, administration, and everyone connected with the team for an excellent football season.

DUCK HUNTING

Due to the fact that the Cameron Pilot is coming out early this week, we won't have much on the success of the duck hunting. As I write this, the weather forecast is lots of rain on Friday and Saturday, opening morning. I'm sure most will kill their limit of 3, but the weather could become a factor.

To the answer on some of the telephone calls. Let's talk Mallard ducks. No more than 2 Mallards (only one female). This is French Mallards -- The green head and hen they're talking about. Only 1 black duck (a misprint in last weeks paper). The black duck is what we call a California Mallard, which we seldom see in our area. It is a much larger duck than our summer Mallards. Now, summer Mallard or black Mallard, the same bird, has a limit of 3. Example: 3 summer Mallard or 1 green head, 1 hen and 1 summer Mallard, 2 teals and 1 summer Mallard, or 1 pintail and 2 summer Mallards.

The deer bagged this past week was down according to my information. Many duck hunters were building blinds and not really deer hunting.

ANOTHER LOUISIANA FEE

Many of our people who don't hunt or fish and who visit Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries Management areas will now have to pay the price.

Citizens, both residents and non-residents, ages 16-59 inclusive, who enjoy canoeing, rowing, bird watching and other activities generally referred to as non-consumptive, will be required to pay a user fee beginning July 1, 1993.

Anyone visiting Department managed lands and who does not already have a hunting or fishing license, must purchase a "wild Louisiana stamp".

This stamp will be available in the spring of 1993 from the Department for a $10 fee.

The Department estimates that the program will generate $142,000 in the first year for the Wildlife Division. The money will be deposited in a newly created Natural Heritage Account in the Conservation Fund - this fund is for non-game activity.

I'mjust wondering how this will effect our tourists who visit our area state refuges. It will surely make a car load of say, 4 visitors, think twice and drop $40. Maybe I am wrong and I hope I am wrong, but I wonder how many local people who now visit our refuge will want to pay $10 to continue doing so.

Bingo to be held at K.C. hall Dec. 6

Cameron Grand Knight Terry Beard said that a bingo will be held by Our Lady Star of Sea Knights of Columbus at the K.C. Home in Cameron to raise money to buy food for the needy families of Cameron.

Each year more than 35 families in the area are given turkeys and food for Christmas dinners.

The kitchen will be open at 10:30 a.m., Sunday, Dec. 6, for barbecue dinners and bingo will begin at 12:30 p.m.

Students at Grand Lake and Hackberry recently participated first hand in the election process. After discussing the steps to the presidency, the students of Mrs. Cindy Cormier's Agate classes began their own campaign.

Each student wrote his or her platform speech, designed campaign buttons and bumper stickers and prepared for the big mock election day.

A week before the presidential election assemblies were held for the elementary student bodies of both schools. The candidates presented their speeches and even answered questions from the audience trying to convince the voters to support them. After the speeches, the classes were allowed to cast their vote for the candidate of their choice.

The candidates from Hackberry were: Mandi Gremillion, Dustin Hebert, Cayde Ellender, Bethany Richard, Haley LaBove, Meagan Broussard, Chelsie LaBove, Leah Billideau, and Lindsay LaBove. The announcer for the assembly was Julia Sanders. The winner was Mandi Gremillion.

Sweetlake Little Mr. & Miss contest slated

By SHERRY LAVERGNE
Reporter

The November meeting of the Sweetlake Extension Homemakers Club was held on Nov. 16 at Lena's Cajun Kitchen.

Plans were made to have a Christmas party during the December meeting which will be held at Lena's Cajun Kitchen, 6:30 p.m., Dec. 7. A covered dish supper will be served.

The Sweetlake Homemakers are again sponsoring the Little Miss and Mr. Grand Lake contest to be held at 9 a.m., Tues., Dec. 8, at the Grand Lake High School. This contest is a preliminary to the Little Miss and Mr. contest held during the Fur Festival.

Billie Fruge, club president, spoke in behalf of the Council on Aging and asked all members to be aware of the elderly in our community and to always try to notice if some elderly person needs assistance.

The Sweetlake Club will again participate, along with other civic organizations, in providing food baskets for the needy. Each club member is asked to bring canned or non-perishable food items to the December meeting. The items will be placed in food baskets, along with meat that will be purchased by the club.

Cindy Richard, Home Economist with the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service, gave a presentation on "Preservation of Historical Textile Heirlooms". This included information on cleaning and storage of old, valuable or pieces with sentimental value.

At the conclusion of the meeting, members and guests enjoyed refreshments.

Local helps make medical history

Gaston Thibeaux of Cameron recently helped to make medical history when a new type of brain surgery was performed on him at the LSU Medical Center in Shreveport.

An article in the Shreveport Times telling about Thibeaux's operation is reprinted in part here:

Gaston Thibeaux doesn't know anything about interoperative angiograms. Nothing, that is, except that the technique might have saved his life.

The 47-year-old fishing boat pilot from Cameron, a small town south of Lake Charles, had a wad of dangerously bloated blood vessels removed from a delicate part of his brain at LSU Medical Center recently.

"I'm just glad to be here and going home," the commercial pogey fisherman said just three days after the operation.

What was different about Thibeaux's surgery was one extra step surgeons used to ensure the surgery was successful.

In doing so, LSU Medical Center in Shreveport has broken new ground in Louisiana that makes it one of only a handful of centers in the nation that can perform interoperative angiograms.

"It will make us one of the busiest neurosurgery centers in the state — in this region," said Dr. Anil Nanda, the neurosurgeon who performed Thibeaux's surgery.

For the past two years, since Nanda's arrival at the medial center from the University of Pittsburgh, the neurosurgery department has begun a remarkable comeback.

But it didn't come without a price. Nanda said he has performed 700 brain surgeries since his arrival, many the result of increasing referrals from around the state.

With the latest, Nanda used the newly installed angiographic equipment to ensure that the "time bomb" in Thibeaux's head had been completely disarmed. Before the use of this equipment, surgeons could not know the surgical results until well after surgery, too late to do anything except operate again.

For Thibeaux, who has been susceptible to seizures for the past 12 years, life will pretty much return to normal after a recovery period.

"I hope I can go deer hunting next month," he said.

Wetland project set at Sabine

The Marine Spill Response Corporation (MSRC) has contracted with Black Lake Marsh, Inc. to build wave break fencing in Unit 1-A of the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge near Hackberry.

The wooden fencing has been designed in accordance with U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service recommendations and specifications, and will help stabilize and prevent erosion on the main north levee of Pool 1-A in the refuge. MSRC will build seven fences, each 200 feet long with six feet between each fence for a total project length of 1,436 feet.

"MSRC is providing this wetlands preservation project to mitigate wetlands loss associated with the building of our dock facility on the Industrial Canal south of Lake Charles," said Gus Stacy, MSRC's Gulf Region environmental advisor. "At the dock facility, MSRC will moor one of its 210 foot oil spill response vessels that will be stationed near Venice, La.; Galveston and Corpus Christi, Tex. These vessels will be a major component in enabling MSRC to help mitigate environmental damage from catastrophic oil spills," Stacy added.

"We are very pleased that MSRC is constructing these Wave Break Fences," said Will Nidecker, Sabine National Wildlife Refuge manager. "The fences will help protect a perimeter levee around the freswater marsh. They will help break down the wave energy and allow the sediment to settle out, thereby allowing the levee to naturally revegetate itself," he added.

Construction of the wave break fences will be completed by the end of the year.

1870 census names given

With all the interest in geneological research today, we trust that the following may prove of benefit to some of our readers. Having access to the old census records of 1870, we tabulated names of people recorded in the newly created parish of Cameron, who were born in foreign countries and in states other than Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas. Of the 1,600 people listed in Cameron Parish that year the majority were from the three states named above.

Census records, like all others, are not infallible. On occasion a neighbor or a census taker himself may have supplied the data when the individual or family cited was unavailable at the time.

The records reveal that many pioneers sojourned in Mississippi or Texas for a time; then moved into Cameron.

From foreign lands came th. following: England -- Elizabeth Brown, William Barton, a tailor; George Jones, a carpenter; Naom Jones; Louis Rodgers; George Maine; and Thomas Merryfield, a seaman.

France: Eugene Collin, a merchant; Jon Mauget and Charles Visen, both seamen; A. Gillett, and Catherine Bertrand.

Ireland: Thomas Doland; Ann Zero; Catherine Garner; Bridget Murphy; J. B. Quinn; Thomas Delaney and James Ronan, both seamen.

Switzerland: John Baumgartner. Sweden: Elias Lindstrom and Fred C. Schmidt.

Denmark: James Christian and Louis Duncan, both seamen; Ferdinand and Louisa Pavil.

Germany: Fred and Wilhelmina Wolfe; Henry Wolf; and Henry Duncan, a seaman from Hanover.

Spain: John Fabricas; James Farbes; Oliver Doming, John Smith and James Pogle, all seamen; also Frank Gonzales and Santiago P. Amee.

Italy: Laurent Sturlese, merchant; Emanuel Sturlese; Frank DeMarche, a ship carpenter; George Zero; Raphael Barbie; John Cu[illegible]o; Bubel Basilgalip.

Russia: Catherine (Mrs. James P.) Rona[illegible]; Hannah White.

From other states we find a majority south of the Mason and Dixon line.

Alabama: John Green, Thomas Gilaspie. Rebecca Gordon, Mary E. (Mrs. Henry S.) Sweeney, John E. Brown, A. R. Carpenter, James M. Carpenter, N. A. Suttles, Ann Clay, W. and Celeste Ziddeman, W. A. McShan, Burrell Nambrick, John H. and Elizabeth Harvey, A. F. Knight (female).

Arkansas: Narcissus and James A. Salisburg, both children, and George Harvey.

Kentucky: John Salisbury, Martha Jones, Elias Metcalf, and Jonathon Wing.

South Carolina: May Harper, Walter Washington, Milton Crumby, E. A. Derr (merchant), Elizabeth H. Derr, his wife, Mary Newman, H. Humphreyville, Margaret Smith, and Nancy A. Harvey.

North Carolina: R. B. Harper, Sarah Martin (Mrs. Milledge) McCall, Wm. M. Doxey, Mrs. Elizabeth Harrison Tanner, T. B. Lee, Duncan Smith, Benjamin Wilder, Peter and George Dozier.

Virginia: Sarah Hickok (Mrs. John W.) Sweeney, Mary E. Sweeney Bonsall, Jack Armstrong, A. J. Kearney (a teacher), Charles M. Thayer, Edmond Clark, J. T. Lindsey (a teacher), Samuel Carter, and Phyllis Carter.

Redfish meeting set in Cameron

The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council will hold a series of public meetings on red snapper across the Gulf area. Each meeting will consist of a public hearing on draft Amendment 6 to the Reef Fish Fishery Management Plan which will be immediately followed by an informal scoping workshop to gather a consensus on applicability of effort management or limited access for the commercial red snapper fishery.

One of these meetings will be held at 7 p.m., Monday, Dec. 14, at the Cameron Parish Police Jury meeting room.

Draft Amendment 6 proposes to extend through 1993 the provisions of an emergency rule which establishes a commercial vessel trip limit of 2,000 pounds of red snapper per trip for vessels that qualified for a red snapper endorsement on their vessel permit and a 200-pound trip limit for all other vessels. The trip limits will remain in effect until the commercial quota of 3.06 million pounds is harvested.

The red snapper vessel permit endorsement will be issued to those vessels which demonstrated from records landings of at least 5,000 pounds of red snapper in two of the previous three years (1990-1992).

The emergency rule establishing the trip limits will terminate about June 30, 1993. Amendment 6 would extend the rule through 1993 with a provision for the rule to also apply to 1994 unless replaced during that year by a limited access system for red snapper.

Amendment 6 also proposes a 3 to 4 month-long spawning season closure for the commerical fishery from June through August or September. No change is proposed for the recreational bag limit which is to remain at seven fish per person per day.

The scoping workshops which will immediately follow public testimony on Amendment 6 will present to persons in attendance various types of limited access systems and the provisions of those systems that could be applied to the commercial red snapper fishery.

Deer hunters urged to not be showoffs

By MAURICE COCKERHAM

One hot dog on a football team can prompt unknowing spectators to think that the whole team is a bunch of show-offs. The same is applicable to the one slob on a deer hunt.

As those who keep up with the information on Americans and their attitudes about the outdoors know, almost everyone enjoys seeing living wildlife. But few people, especially non-hunters, like seeing those same animals dead. That's why the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries strongly urges all big game hunters to cover their kill as they head for home.

"A deer strapped to a vehicle with a cigar hanging out of its mouth may seem comical to a few, but everyone else simply thinks it's crass," said LDWF Information Manager Maurice Cockerham.

"Hunters who care about the future of their tradition are willing to take steps not to alienate the majority of society," he added.

Many non-hunters have not yet formulated an opinion about the sport. When hunters cover their game during transport they are helping to educate those potential supporters of the sport.

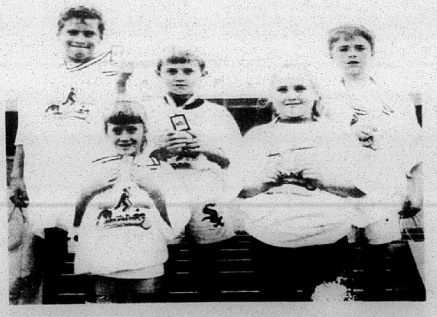
Creole Pirates were 1955 district champs

Cameron Pilot
Nov. 27, 1959

CREOLE PIRATES

(by Jerry Wise)

Our casual, but erroneous, mention recently that the South Cameron Tarpons might become the first district football champions ever produced by the parish has touched off more letters to the editor than anything we have written about since the hospital location controversy.



The Tarpons may have come close to being district champs, but an earlier team, the Creole High School Pirates, actually did achieve that goal in 1955 playing six-man football.

An account of that big year has been sent to us by Earl Roberts of Cameron, who was a member of that hard-running team coached by J.C. Reina, now principal of Cameron Elementary.

"In November of 1955, we beat Grand Chenier 59-12 for District One championship honors, and a crack at the state honors with the Morganza Tigers, which unfortunately we lost, 18-13. At any rate, we took district and second place in the state.

"In 1954, the Pirates shared the district crown with Iota High."

PUBLIC NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality is proposing to issue a final Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System (LWDPS) permit to Altex Exploration, Inc. This permit, if issued, will establish effluent limitations and monitoring requirements for the discharge of certain wastewater streams associated with the company's oil and gas exploration, development and production operations in the West Hackberry Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana. The receiving waters in the West Hackberry Field include Kelso Bay, Black Lake, Alkali Ditch, Black Lake Bayou, Rycade Canal, Portie Lakes, and associated natural and manmade waterbodies. The limitations and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.
The final permit, if issued, will require termination of the existing produced water discharge at the West Hackberry Field Mary B. Duhon SWD System within six (6) months after the permit effective date or by a date determined by submission of an acceptable plan for termination of the discharges. Termination of the discharge will be required because the field is located in an area of restricted receiving water circulation.
During the preparation of this permit, it has been determined that these discharges will have no adverse impact on the existing uses of the receiving waters. As with any discharge, however, some change in existing water quality may occur.
The designated uses of the receiving waters are being fully supported.
The application and proposed limitations may be examined at the Office of Water Resources, 3rd Floor, Department of Environmental Quality, 7290 Bluebonnet Road, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

BIG ELECTION SATURDAY
Voters all over Cameron Parish are expected to turn out large numbers Saturday to vote on a raft of candidates ranging all the way from ward constable to the governor of Louisiana.
The ballot is one of the most complicated in years, with the voters having to elect some 15 to 17 officials from a field of more than 60 candidates.
Of most interest around the parish are the sheriff and state representative races.
In the sheriff's race, O. B. Carter, the incumbent, is opposed by Claude Eagleson, Sweetlake farmer. Running for representative are Alvin Dyson, incumbent, and Conway LeBleu, Ward 3 police juror.

FUR QUEEN CONTEST
Six Cameron Parish communities have selected the girls who will represent them in the "Miss Cameron Parish" contest in Cameron on Jan. 15, which is a feature of the annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival.

Scout leaders of Cameron Parish were honored at a special program on Scouting held by the Cameron Lions Club Wednesday at Fred's Restaurant.
Jim Simpson, scout executive for the Lakeside Scout District, which includes Cameron Parish, said that Scouting has made tremendous progress in the parish in the last few years and that there are several new Scout units operating here now.
As a token of appreciation for their work, Mr. Simpson presented Scout desk weights to the following local leaders: J. C. Reina, Creole scoutmaster; Albert Cohen, Grand Chenier scoutmaster; Colliue Dupont, skipper of Ship 110; and Dr. Cecil Clark, of Cameron's Cub Scout Pack 102.
Hugh Baker of Troop 102 and Ray Burleigh of Ship 1310 were unable to attend to receive their awards.
Mr. Simpson announced that more than $1000 has been raised in this year's Boy Scout financial drive in Cameron Parish -- about $500 in Cameron, $300 in Grand Chenier and $200 in Creole.
He presented little Scout statuettes to the chairmen of the community finance drives: Dr. Clark and O. B. Carter in Cameron, Joe O'Donnell, Creole; and Mr. Cohen, Grand Chenier.
The club appointed Ray Champagne, Jimmy Derouen, Larry Dyson and E. J. Dronet to a committee to build a float for the Fur Festival Parade in January.

THIS WEEK
(By Jerry Wise)
The Pilot makes history this week with the largest issue ever published here--14 pages in two sections--thanks to the many advertisements placed by the leading candidates in the parish and state political races.
We would like to congratulate our parish candidates on the clean campaigns that they have all waged -- particularly the sheriff and representative candidates. Regardless of who wins in these races, they will have done so on their own merits and not on the demerits of their opponents.
We got this interesting little note from Mrs. George H. Phifer of Silver Spring, Maryland, recently along with a two-year renewal for the paper:
"This is the first time since my 14 years in Washington, D. C. that I have found something from Cameron in our stores. Now some of our larger chain of grocery stores is carring 5 lb. boxes of shrimp from Cameron, Louisiana."
The boxes Mrs. Phifer is referring to are the ones put out by Sloyd Fish Company here. They are in a very attractive carton and give prominent mention to Cameron. These cartons are shipped all over the country and bring recognition far and wide to our area.

DUCK HUNTING

Duck season is in full swing and limits are good in most parts.

The opening morning was foggy and sort of hard to see the birds, but we had a good hunt taking about 20 minutes for four of us and even one speckle belly. The second morning we had a northwest wind blowing pretty strong and cold. The birds were hard to hit, but four of us again took our limits, mostly with summer mallards, wigeons and teals. The fact is when we limited out, I had one shell left and my partner, which is my dad, was out.

In other areas, most of the hunting clubs are doing alright, but some blinds are stretching for the limits. In the Grand Chenier area some are having to make their limits with scoup, we call blackjacks. In some of the Grand Chenier front marshes, the ducks just aren't there.

The Creole and Cameron marshes are doing fair to good and Johnson Bayou area is doing pretty good also, according to reports.

We do have too much water, which I think some ducks have left, but really, with all the water the ducks are staying in the area with most feed, and less water covering the feed.

We need to think really hard of the ducks we're killing and count the black mallards (our summer mallards). These ducks are raised here and stay here and surely make up some to all our limits on many days. I think this makes us really fortunate. We had a good hatch this year, and it's paying off.

The first of our duck split will be over with on Sat., Dec. 5, and it will reopen Sat., Dec. 26, the da after Christmas, until Jan. 9, which is also a Saturday.

FEDERAL AID

For more than 50 years, the country's sportsmen have supported and funded conservation projects in all 50 states of the U. S. through federal aid programs.

The state of Louisiana allotment for 1993 fiscal year is 1.7 million dollars for Louisiana wildlife restoration projects for next year and 2.4 million dollars for sportsfish restoration projects.

This money comes frm an 11 percent excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition, 10% on pistols and revolvers, 11% tax on certain archery equipment and a 10% excise tax on fishing equipment, 3% on electric troll motors and fish finding sonars. Fishing tackle is also taxed.

BOAT REGISTRATION

We all know we have to have our boats registered, no matter how large or how small, as long as it's motor driven. Here are a few items you need to take note of, it's important and it could keep you from getting a citation from a game agent or even the Coast Guard.

You must register your boat with the state Lousiana Wildlife and Fisheries Department in Baton Rouge. There is a fee and the registration form must be completed with motor size, inboard or outboard, type of boat (wood, etc.), and seial numbers of your boat and motor. Your registration must be signed to be valid and the serial numbrs have to match what's on your boat.

You will be issued a boat number, example LA345CE, and a motorboat registration sticker with a small number on it, that matches your registration and a large La. state picture decal with large numbers for the year of its expiration.

There is a correct way to put the decal on your boat. Example: Port side (left), LA-500-PT 95, starboard size (right) 95 LA-500-PT. Notice the dash or space between the LA and number and the number and letters. This decal, as we'll call it, or sticker, must be within 6 inches of the number.

Your boat numers should be painted on or put in block stick-on letters and these boat letters need to be at least (no less) 3 inches in height in a color which can be shown out and read at a distance. Example: Don't use grey letters on a grey boat. Use white or black letters on a grey boat, etc. The numbers need to be read from left to right. Remember the LA standing for Louisiana is part of your boat letters.

One more thing of great importance is you have to have your registration papers in your boat to show proof of ownership. Remember, if any of these things are not done, you could be issued a citation.

Dear Editor:

Leopard hunt

Dear Editor:

The "I Witness Video" show which aired on NBC Sunday, Nov. 15, concerning the black leopard canned hunt was very misleading. I accompanied the hunter on the trip to west Texas. One of the misleading factors was it left the majority of the viewers believing that I was involved in the wrong doing.

Very much to the contrary, I was the individual who contacted Mr. Bill Ferguson, of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and notified him of the illegal act of one of his customers. Chances are that if I had not brought this to the attention of the wildlife officials no one would have ever known about the incident.

Another misleading factor of the show led viewers to believe that the hunter went on the hunt to kill an endangered species black leopard. It never mentioned that when he was contacted before the hunt he was told he was making a legal wild black cougar hunt.

When he arrived for the hunt he was told by the outfitter that the cat was a black leopard that would be released from a cage and given a "head start" and later tracked by dogs. The hunting guide was repeatedly questioned about the legality of killing a black leopard released from a cage. He was reassured that it was legal. The hunter was conned. He was morally wrong to kill the cat in the manner that he did, but he had no intention of breaking any laws.

I have contacted NBC and the producers of "I Witness Video" and voiced my disapproval. I have retained a lawyer to contact NBC to request that a recap or corrected version be aired. Meanwhile I am having to defend my reputation and business as a law abiding taxidermist.

1993 jury budget is reduced 18%

The Cameron parish police jury adopted a $5,732,054 budget for 1993 at the monthly meeting held Monday. This was a $1,288,266 reduction from 1992 actual expenditures, or an 18 percent decrease.

The big decrease was due to the sizable reduction in jury revenues this past year, primarily due to the oil and gas slump.

Parish Administrator Pete Picou told the jury that the budget was balanced but very lean. "I think you can live with it and still give services to the public," he stated.

Jurors said the $5,732,054 figure only included funds for which the jury was responsible--general fund, road and bridge, courthouse, health unit, criminal court and parishwide garbage.

Juror George LeBouef pointed out that all of these budgets are supported by only 13.82 mills. Property owners pay other taxes for such things as recreation, fire and sewer districts, but these are not under the direct supervision of the police jury.

IN OTHER BUSINESS the jury was requested by Picou to require the various boards of districts in the parish, such as fire, water, garbage, to get their insurance programs in line with the jury's overall program.

Picou said that by going to a self insured workman compensation program, the parish had been able to reduce its annual premiums from $276,000 to $63,000. However, he said all of the districts needed to participate in the parish program in order to make it work.

The jury agreed to this request and also voted to ask that employees of the various districts be put under the same rules that apply to jury employees concerning leaves, vacations, retirement, etc.

At the request of Juror George Hicks, the jury voted to amend the animal ordinance to require dog owners to pay for vaccinations before recovering it from the animal control center.

Juror Ray Conner reported that he had made a presentation to the Joint Legislative Highway Committee on its long range highway program in Baton Rouge Nov. 30. He said the jury had not been notified when the district 7 hearing was held in Lake Charles.

Conner renewed the jury's requests that Hwy. 27 from Creole to Hackett's corner be widen because of its use as a hurricane evacuation route and also for a bridge over the ship channel at Cameron.

Administrator Picou read to the jury a form postcard that had been received from NBC-TV in reply to a protest that the jury had made over comments made by John Chancellor after Hurricane Audrey in which he described citizens of Cameron parish as "stupid."

NBC did not respond to the jury's invitation to Mr. Chancellor to come to its December meeting to explain his remarks so the jury extended him another invitation for the January meeting.

Dinah Nunez, Council on Aging director, reported that Cameron parish had exceeded its United Way goal collecting $18,489, with some of these funds going to the Council.

Carolynb Thibodeaux was appointed to the Estuary Task Force and the jurors, noting that 75 percent of the Calcasieu estuary is in Cameron parish, voted to write the governor requesting that the task force's meeting be rotated between Calcasieu and Cameron parishes and that more Cameron parish people be named to the task force.

The jury accepted the bid of Edward McCain of M & M Electric of Grand Lake of $11.700 to construction wooden holders for the discarded Christmas trees that will be placed in the marsh to help restore eroded areas. The trees will be put on the school board section north of Hackberry.

The jury agreed to advertise for bids on the old Council on Aging building to be moved from its present site. The council recently moved into the old parish health unit building.

Hayes Picou, Sr. was named to the Oyster Task Force.

The jury adopted a resolution urging the state to continue fully funding the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service, which has an office in the parish.

Belton Bonsall of Grand Chenier furnished the jury with information he had received about the possible placing of the Cameron Parish Courthouse on the National Register of Historic Places. The jury asked District Attorney Glenn Alexander to find out what restrictions on the building would be involved before any action was taken.

At Juror George LeBouef's request, the jury agreed to try to get a bill through the legislature to permit oyster fishermen in the ship channel to take some extra sacks of oysters prior to the dredging of the of the channel which would kill some of the oysters.

Hayes protests TED regulations

Congressman Jimmy Hayes last week stated his vehement opposition to new National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) regulations that would require shrimpers to use turtle excluder devices (TEDs) year-round in all areas.

"Government rules are supposed to regulate, not eliminate, an industry. What NMFS has done in the case of TEDs is come to the conclusion that they want to have these devices on every net everywhere, regardless of the fact that there is a great deal of evidence that shows they are unnecessary. What is even more aggravating to me and to shrimpers of this area is that this decision was not made yesterday, it was made five years ago. What we have witnessed is a regulatory process in which people have no voice and human factors don't count. This must change, and we (members from the Gulf states) are looking at several options to address this travesty," Hayes said.

Turtles are historically rare in Louisiana's coastal waters. In 1988, for example, 1,627 turtles were stranded on beaches on the Atlantic and the Gulf, but only 22 of those occurred in Louisiana. Additionally, these 22 deaths could not be conclusively linked to drowning in shrimp trawls.

This paucity of turtles is not due to any condition caused by man, but by the murkiness and other naturally occurring circumstances in the water which make the area unattractive to turtles. This same murky water is filled with microorganisms upon which shrimp feed, which, in the past, has created the best possible situation for the shrimpers. This, however, was not taken into account, Hayes said, when NMFS issued a regulation that impacts all areas equally, despite local turtle populations.

"Blanket prohibitions might be easier for NMFS to administer and enforce, but they are patently unfair and better reflect the insulated climate that exists within government agencies than they do the real world," Hayes said. "Turtle drownings are not a problem in Louisiana. Consequently, it alarms me that a needless regulation doesn't consider the importance of families who are deprived of their ability to make a living, but instead takes as a fact an unproven theory that has little releveance in Southwestern Louisiana. The shrimpers in Cameron, Vermilion and elsewhere along our coast simply do not see a lot of turtles, nor have they ever."

Harris was in workshop

Over 400 delegates gathered recently for the annual Louisiana Association of Educators Convention.

Kicking off the convention were two days of Instructional and Professional Development workshops presented by outstanding Louisiana teachers, one of whom was Roselyn Harris, sixth grade teacher from Grand Lake High School.

State Superintendent of Education, Dr. Raymond Arvison, spoke to the assembly and explained the new teacher evaluation. All teachers should have received a booklet on this matter.

State President, Linda Day, praised every state, county, school system and private organization in the United States that sent aid to the hurricane stricken parishes of southeastern Louisiana.

Cameron Parish delegates chosen but not attending were David Duhon, Peggy Boudreaux and Rick Merchant. Roselyn Harris, president of the Cameron Association of Educators, was the only member in attendance.

Pilot plans Yule edition

The Cameron Parish Pilot will publish its Christmas greeting edition on Thursday, Dec. 24. Businesses, organizations and individuals wishing to place greeting ads may call 1-800-256-7323 or ads may be faxed to 786-8131.

Reservations for ads should be made as soon as possible.

FFA members attend meet

FFA members from several of the chapters included in the Cal-Cam Federaton recently attended the National FFA Convention.

The members from Grand Lake High School were Allison Pool, Kristy Broussard, Beau Lejeune, Aaron Pool, Eric Broussard, and Mark Richard.

Those from South Cameron High School were Jeff Wainwright, Ronny Nunez, John Bourgois, Chris Ssavoie, and Brian Hardy.

The members from Hackberry High School were Keith LaBove and Kenny Devall.

The convention was held Nov. 11-14, in Kansas City, Mo. More than 28,000 FFA members registered for this convention making it the largest youth convention in America.

McCain back from sea duty

Navy Lt. J. G. John C. McCain, son of John W. and Glenna K. McCain of Hackberry, recently returned to Air Anti-Submarine Squadron-30, Naval Air Station, Cecil Field, Fla., from a six-month deployment to the Mediterranean and Red Sea as part of the aircraft carrier USS Saratoga Battle Group.

He is a 1988 graduate of the University of Florida, Gainesville, Fla., with a Bachelor of Science degree. He joined the Navy in Feb., 1989.

Outreach counseling is offered here

During the holiday season, families sometimes find the stress of time, finances, and high expectations overwhelming. Tragically in some cases this happy time turns into fear and pain as violence erupts in the home.

Outreach Counseling and Legal Advocacy services through the Calcasieu Women's Shelter are designed to address the needs of women in family violence. A full time outreach counselor, Ronnie Soileau, provides counseling, referrals, and community education. Gwen Olivier, legal advocate, acts as a liaison between law enforcement, state agencies, attorney referrals, and court systems.

These services are offered free of charge through the Calcasieu Women's Shelter Crime Victims Grant. In Cameron Parish, services are available every Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. at South Cameron Memorial Hospital. For assistance and appointments, call 1-800-223-8066.

SCHS wrestling clinic is set

The South Cameron Junior Wrestling Club will sponsor a wrestling clinic Dec. 19 and 20 at the high school gym.

Registration will be from 7 to 8 p.m. on Dec. 19 with a $25 registration fee. The clinic will be from 8 to 12 and 1 to 4 on Saturday and 8 to 12 on Sunday when a wrestle off at 1 p.m.

The wrestling coaches will be Greg Oplotnek and Jeff Gowens, both three time all Americans from Central Oklahoma and Wes White, an all American and a national freestyle champion.

For information contact Charles Theriot at 542-4140 or Bonnie Theriot at 538-2440.

Dr. Mouton gets intern

Randy Head, a third year medical student at Louisiana State University in New Orleans, was recently admitted to the Southwest Area Health Education Center's program.

Head will practice his one month externship with Dr. Gerald Mouton in Lake Charles.

The program was established to encourage students to take on the challenge of rural practice.

A rural practice often means working with less sophisticated equipment, an elderly and often poor patient and no back-up specialist nearby. Therefore, most students would rather do an externship in suburban areas.

Council sale

A Mr. Gatti mobile pizza kitchen will be in Cameron Thursday, Dec. 17 from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. next to Gulfway Donuts.

Proceeds from the sale of pizza will go to the Cameron Council on Aging. For information call 775-5668.

Shooting is investigated

(From American Press)

The Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department is investigating the Saturday morning shooting of a 19-year-old man in the Oak Grove area.

The victim's name was listed as Steven Eels. According to Sheriff James R. "Sono" Savoie, the shooting occurred about 10 a.m. outside Eels' home near Creole.

The sheriff's department received a call from the man, who said he had been shot by an unknown man, Savoie said.

The man was taken by ambulance to St. Patrick's hospital, where he was listed in stable condition.

The man suffered a single gunshot wound to the left upper chest area, and the bullet traveled around his rib and into his shoulder, Savoie said. He was shot with a .25-caliber semi-automatic pistol believed to be his mother's, he said.

The firearm was found on the scene, Savoie said.

"He just said it was an unknown man who shot him," Savoie said. "It could have been self-inflicted. It could have been an accident; he could have been playing with the gun."

The sheriff's department plans to question the man once his medical condition improves, Savoie said.

Deadline near on nominations

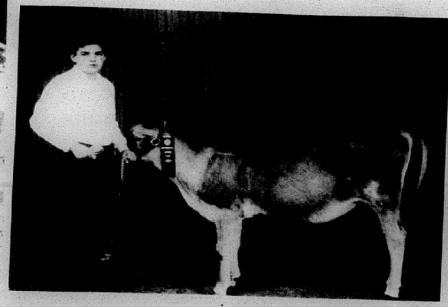
Dec. 15 is the deadline to turn in Citizenship Award nominees to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce office, according to Pete Duhon, awards chairman.

The nominations may be sent to him at P.O. Box 590, Cameron, La. 70631.

The Citizenship Award is presented each year to a person who has performed outstanding service to the parish over the years, and the Memorial Award is given in memory of a deceased person who has also been an outstanding citizen.



The awards will be presented at the annual Chamber banquet to be held at the Hackberry Multipurpose Building Jan. 18.

Chamber meet

The December meeting of the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce will be held Thurs., Dec. 17, at 11:30 a.m. in the Chamber office on Main Street.

THE BLASSIAH is an electrifying saga, set in the heartland of French Louisiana's Acadia area, depicting the struggles, strife and hardships of a poor black family fighting to overcome racism, which was so prevalent amongst their culture during an era of extreme racial intensity. This special family's perseverance aided in the fight for life, liberty, freedom, justice, equality and the pursuit of happiness for all mankind. Finally, the prayers and woes of former slaves and their offspring were heard when God created a miraculous celebration that placed the entire world in awe. RUEBEN LAVAUVE, wildlife enforcement officer at the Sabine Wildlife Refuge, put on a program on waterfowl regulations for the Agriscience I class at Hackberry high school recently. He is shown above with Steve Racca, agriscience instructor, and the ninth grade agriscience class.

Wildlife officer visits Vo-Ag Dept.

By MICHAEL ORGERON

From Nov. 9 to Nov. 12, Rueben Labauve, a wildlife enforcement officer at the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge, came to the Hackberry High Vo-Ag Dept. to discuss waterfowl regulations and laws.

Mr. Labauve informed the class about the migration of waterfowl and saving waterfowl from poachers. Also, we discussed what one needs to hunt - a license, a duck stamp, and a hunter's safety course for all young hunters.

We also viewed films of legal and illegal hunts. Mr. Labauve also informed the class that Louisiana was part of the non-toxic area. This means that only steel shots could be used to take waterfowl in Louisiana.

Use caution when deer hunting

FIRST DUCK HUNTING SPLIT

Trying to sum up our first split of duck hunting, I'd rate it fair to poor. Opening weekend was better than last year, but many of our marshes were slow. Water levels are up and that hurt our marsh duck hunting, This really drove lots of ducks to the north marshes and rice fields. Some of our marshes don't have birds at all and some only scoups. You may get one good day and then it gets bad again.

The marshes north of 82 and west of Gibbstown Road really have the best hunting, producing pintail, mallards, teals and widgeon and gadwalls.

The Oak Grove hunting lease on the Big Burn has been having slow hunting days. They even have blinds that are scratching with no ducks at all.

I hunted the Big Burns hunting club lease last week and we had three birds, and so did three other blinds. However, two of the blinds did produce beautiful ducks, pintails and green headed mallards, these blinds being not that far apart.

There are a few geese and speckle belly in our area and a few are being killed, but nothing to brag about.

Grand Chenier marshes are reported about the same as Johnson Bayou and Hackberry marshes good, bad and fair.

I'll go over openings and closes of seasons for the next month.

Duck season closed Dec. 5. It will reopen Dec 26 until Jan. 9 and it'll be over.

Goose season closes Dec. 12, and will reopen Dec. 19 to Feb. 4, and then Feb. 4 to Feb. 14.

Rail and Gallinules is open and won't close until Jan. 20. Sniope is open and will close Feb. 21. Woodcock is open and will close Jan. 31.

Dove season will open this weekend, Dec. 12, until Jan. 11, for the last of the three splits.

Remember coot runs with duck season.

We still have deer season open. It will close Jan. 3. There are no more doe days in our Area 3. Bucks only.

Rabbit and quail will not close until Feb. 28, and squirrel is open until Jan. 31.

The last doe day of our season, Nov. 27, I hunted one of my friend's, Fred Conner, stand. It was a really cold morning and we had planned to hunt late, as we brought water and snacks. We hunted different blinds.

I got steeled in my stand and started spotting the other stands in the area and all had hunters in them. There was one to my north, one to my northeast and three to my east. As I spotted with my binoculars I noticed the hunter in the blind to the northeast had gotten out of his stand and I saw him in the tall coffee weeds and mangroves twice. I also spotted a buck and doe about 100 yards ahead of him. I waited for the two deer to come a little closer toward me, but I could never spot the hunter again. He was not wearing hunter orange. A little while later the hunter to the north of me got out of his stand and took a 4-wheeler going towards the other hunter. I'm sure he also saw the buck and doe. This really bothers me - I just keep watching and didn't want to get out of the stand for fear if they shot at either of the two deer, and I was on the ground it would have been towards me. Finally I lost both deer in sight and the two hunters came out on the 4-wheeler and went to the road. After that I got out of the stand and went to the road and that ended my hunt for the day.

A HUNTER'S TALE

I hunted at the Big Burn hunting club a few days ago. I was hunting with Kevin Smith, one of the guides. We were duck hunting and I think we had two birds on the water, and it was really slow and I spotted something about 1,500 ft. away in the water. This is a huge lake-type pond. I made the remark that it looked like a pelican and Kevin said it wasn't. Finally I decided it was a deer. It kept coming toward us and then we really knew it was a deer. The blind was in some cut grass with about 10 feet of cut grass in front of the blind. The doe came through the duck decoys right to the cut grass, passed within 10 feet of me and veered off back into the pond. By that time we were standing up on the blind watching. The doe looked at us, but never did get nervous. She got to the bank, rested a minute and then took to the marsh grass. This was beautiful to see.

DEER HUNTING DANGEROUS

Just how dangerous is deer hunting? From some of my experiences and reading of accidents I really believe deer hunting is very dangerous. Some hunters don't stop and think and make sure before they fire at a deer or what's suppose to be a deer. In some cases, hunter orange doesn't make much difference. Two articles making the news in the last two weeks show two deer hunters dead.

One was a hunter aiming and shooting at a buck, pulled the trigger and supposedly another hunter walked in the line of fire and is killed. This hunter is charged with manslaughter.

In another accident, a father and son are hunting in two different deer stands. The son is 16 years old and his father had him take all training and gun safety courses. The son killed a 10 point buck, got out of the stand and walked over to the deer and started to drag it. The investigation showed where he had drug the deer and probably got tired. He put the deer over his shoulder to carry it. In the meantime his father sees the buck's head in the weeds, takes aim and fires. The buck being shot at was the dead deer being carried by his son. The father went to his kill and finds he had blown part of his son's head off. The father was hospitalized having a nervous breakdown.

I guess to all of us hunters, whether it's duck or goose hunting, rabbit, squirrel, or deer, we need to be more careful. Make sure what we're shooting at before we pull the trigger.

A friendly reminder, Rockefeller Refuge in Grand Chenier is now closed to the public. Only certain canals are open. Be sure and check with Rockefeller headquarters office for a map.

Because all of our public fishing marshes are closed, we'll stop the feeding periods until the spring time. Tide readings will continue.

Saturday, Grand Lake boys team beat Vinton 65-57 to claim third place in the tournament. Marcus Morgan hit 21 points while Terry Faulk and Beau LeJune each had 14 points for the 10-6 Grand Lake team.

School athletic districts set

The Louisiana High School Athletic Association Classification Division has finished all of their plans and they have announced districts for the 1993-94 and 1994-95 school years.

District 6AA has only one change as it remains a six team district. That change is Notre Dame has moved from District 6 to District 8. Iowa, which was Class 3A in 1991-92 and 1992-93, dropped down to Class AA and took Notre Dame's place in District 6AA.

Other area schools and their districts for 1993-94 and 1994-95 are as follows:

Class B - District 9, Grand Lake, Hackberry, Bell City, Singer, Starks, and Lacassine.

Class C - District 9, Johnson Bayou, Pecan Island.

Class AA - District 6, Iowa, Iota, Welsh, Lake Arthur, St. Louis and South Cameron.

In the 14th century, until 1752, the people of England considered March 25th New Year's Day.

Welsh to play in Dome Saturday

By JOE MUELLER

The Welsh Greyhounds, who finished third in District 6AA behind South Cameron and Iota, and received a wildcard berth into the state playoffs, will tee it up for a 6 p.m. kickoff in the Superdome in New Orleans in the State AA final game.

The Greyhounds, who have an 11-3 overall record will be opposed by Coushatta, the team that beat the Tarpons 14-13.

With the Greyhounds advancing to the state finals as a wildcard team after suffering two district losses, attests to the fact that District 6AA is definitely one of the top football districts in the state.

My crystal ball sees the Greyhounds winning by a score of 28-13.

Creole child dies Saturday in house fire

A three-year-old Creole girl died in a house fire last Saturday afternoon, according to the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department.

The child was Sonya Renee Robinson. Her mother, Rebecca Robinson, suffered burns in the fire and was treated at South Cameron Memorial Hospital and released.

According to the sheriff's report, the mother had gone outside to hang some clothes and while out the child had set a blanket on fire.

The mother carried the child from the home and then went back inside to try to put out the fire. However, deputies said, the child apparently followed her back into the home and the mother was unable to get to her because of the flames.

The Creole fire department responded to the fire at 2:20 p.m. and was assisted by the Cameron fire department. The wood frame house was located off La. 27 on Parish Road 3168.

Two persons are indicted

District Attorney Glenn W. Alexander and assistants Cecil Sanner and Bret L. Barham brought the following counts against Joseph Richard Averette, 44, 160 Main St., Hackberry, and Wanda Stutes Cournier, 47, Rt. 3 Box 377, Jennings: aggravated rape, oral sexual battery, aggravated sexual battery, and aggravated crime against nature.

The Grand Jury brought in four true bills against each defendant.

Judge H. Ward Fontenot has set bonds of $40,000 on each defendant.

The charges against the two Hackberry residents were in connection with alleged incidents involving a Hackberry woman last May.

Santa coming

Santa Claus is coming to Cameron this year to pass out candy to area children, according to Charles F. Hebert, chairman of the event for the Cameron Lions Club and the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department.

Santa will arrive on the courthouse square aboard the Fire Department fire truck at 2 p.m., Saturday, Dec. 19, and will hold court on the courthouse steps to talk to all of the children and pass out bags of candy to each one, Hebert said.

J. B. crowi homecoming

A senior, Julie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Boudreaux and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Udly Trahan.

The Rebels blasted the Hamilton Christian Warriors 77-47, with Scott Trahan hitting 19 and Jerry Doucet adding 17. Jason Vincent hit 16 for Hamilton.

Following the game, a dance was held at the Community Center with music supplied by Travis Trahan. Heath Jinks and Julie Boudreaux were chosen Prince and Princess of the Homecoming Dance.

Bank promotes two parish employees

Two Cameron Parish employees of the Calcasieu Marine National Bank were given promotions during the November board meeting. Yvonne E. Mhire of Cameron was promoted to assistant vice president and Judi A. Taylor of Sweetlake was named senior analyst officer in the statement analysis department.

Mhire is the manager of the bank's Cameron Branch. She began her career with the bank in 1966 in the proof department. She also has experience in the bookkeeping and general ledger departments, as a paying and receiving lobby teller, collection clerk, note/loan processor, operations supervisor, and loan officer.

A graduate of Grand Lake High School, Mhire has completed several American Institute of Banking courses and graduated from the Louisiana Bankers School Supervisory Training, the Louisiana Banking Association School of Banking, and the National Commercial Lending School in Norman, Okla.

Taylor joined the bank in 1989 as an analyst trainee. She then became a credit analyst, and later senior analyst in the credit department.

In 1983, she completed the Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., Credit and Financial Analysis correspondence course.

A recent graduate of the National Commercial Lending School from the University of Oklahoma, Taylor graduated from Grand Lake High School and attended McNeese State University.

Calcasieu Marine National Bank is based in Lake Charles, with assets of nearly $900 million. It has 21 branches in four southwest Louisiana parishes, with over 560 employees. The bank has recently been ranked as the eighth strongest bank in the nation based on risk-based capital, one of the most important measurements for banks today.

Cookbook is out

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Norma Jo Pinch and Bobbie Primeaux, editors of the annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival recipe book, announced that the 1993 cookbooks are now on sale.

This year the festival is honoring the wildlife and hunting industry and will be held in Cameron Jan. 7-9, 1993.

Many of the recipes are geared toward this industry and it reflects the best cooking of wild game and cooking from all categories from area kitchens.

Hunting has a tremendous economic impact on Cameron Parish and the state of Louisiana. Hunters spend an estimated $258.2 million in retail sales, including expenditures for travel.

Mrs. Pinch said that this year's cookbook is filled with an abundance of delicious recipes and anyone wanting to purchase one may do so for $6 at any branch of the Cameron State Bank in Lake Charles, Sulphur, and all the communities of Cameron Parish.

They can also be purchased at the Calcasieu Marine Bank in Cameron.

Parish featured in new guide book

BY JERRY WISE

The Pilot has just received a copy of the "Cajun Country Guide," a 510-page paperback book that is probably one of the best tour guides to South Louisiana ever published.

It contains about 15 pages of information and photographs on Cameron parish, which probably is the most coverage ever given the parish in such a book.

Published by Pelican Publishing Co. of Gretna and written by Macon Frey and Julie Posner, the book tells you everything that you ever need to know about the Cajun culture and the tourist attractions of South Louisiana from the Sabine to the Mississippi River.

There are chapters on the land, people, climate, economy, food, music recreation and special events.

The section on Cameron parish includes the Creole Nature Trail, Sabine Wildlife Refuge, the Hug-the-Coast highway, Holly Beach, Cameron, Hurricane Audrey Shrine, Cameron Prairie Wildlife Refuge, Rutherford Beach, Grand Chenier, Rockefeller Refuge, and Pecan Island.

Photos in the Cameron section include alligators on the Sabine Nature Trail, the beach at Holly Beach and the big welcome to Cameron sign on Bolo's ice house.

The book was written for tourists and not to promote any area and is quite frank in its assessment of tourist attractions and facilities. For example it lists a number of motels and camps for rent at Holly Beach but warns the reader that "most of the lodging at Holly Beach is of the rustic variety."

But the writers also rave about other features of the parish--for example the Boudin Factory at Sweetlake which it says "turns out some of the most solidly meaty and hot boudin in Cajun country."

The outdoor attractions of the parish--beaches, birdlife, marshes, fishing and crabbing and hunting--are well covered and the book should do a lot to attract visitors who are interested in these things.

The book sells for $14.95 and probably can be found at area bookstores.

Clarification

Kerry Lynn Roberts, 39, of Cameron has asked the Pilot to make it clear to everyone that she is NOT the person of the same name who was recently charged as an accessory in a murder in Sulphur.

Yule program

The Oak Grove Baptist Church will celebrate the birth of Jesus at 6:30 p.m., Wednesday, Dec. 23 with a program of sharing and carol singing. Everyone is invited to attend.

AT ROCKEFELLER REFUGE

Rare bald eagle sighted in parish

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

A rare bald eagle has been sighted on Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge by Refuge biologists Ted Joanen and Larry McNease.

This is an extremely rare sighting as the national bird has not been seen on the refuge in over 30 years, according to Joanen. However, the birds do nest in the winter in southeastern Louisiana.

Joanen and McNease were driving east-bound on Highway 82 around noon when they spotted the bald eagle perched on an oak tree limb over the marsh south of the highway, about 4.4 miles west of the refuge headquarters. The sex of the bird is unknown, but it was probably mature as it clearly had a white head. Immature birds have a dusky head.

At about 1 p.m. the day of the sighting, refuge personnel McNease and Ruth Elsey returned to the location and the eagle was still perched on the same limb. They turned their vehicle around further up the road and began slowly advancing eastward on the highway when the bird flew off its perch and had something clutched in its talons, which appeared to be either a small rodent or a bird. The eagle flew about 100 yards westward and settled in another tree.

The biologists left the area, but attempted to relocate the eagle about an hour later, accompanied by biologist Tom Hess, but were unsuccessful.

Bald eagle sighted

In addition to the eagle's white head it has a white tail, yellow bill, and shows considerable whitish in the wing linings and often on the breas.

Its favorite food is chiefly dead or dying fish, and its habitat ranges from Alaska, Canada to the U. S.

Fishing vessel inspections told

The Department of Transportation sent to Congress the Coast Guard's plan to require inspections for commercial fishing industry vessels.

The Commercial Fishing Industry Vessel Safety Act of 1988 required that the Secretary of Transportation conduct two studies. The first was to examine the safety problems on commercial fishing industry vessels and to make recommendations regarding whether a vessel inspection program should be implemented.

The second study examined what additional requirements should apply to fish processing vessels that are not physically surveyed and classed by the American Bureau of Shipping or any other classification society approved by the Secretary. The additional requirements that were to be considered concern the hull or structure of the vessel and the vessel's machinery or equipment.

The plan proposes a three-tiered inspection program based on vessel length. The examinations would begin with new and existing fishing vessels less than 50 feet in length being examined by their owners. New and existing fishing vessels ranging from 50 to less than 79 feet long would be subject to third party examinations.

New and existing vessels 79 feet and longer would be subject to Coast Guard inspections and assignments of load lines. The plan proposes additional hull and machinery standards for all existing commercial fishing industry vessels 79 feet and longer.

The plan also establishes a method for determining compliance with Coast Guard safety regulations and levels the playing field with regard to safety standards for all vessels of the same length. The Coast Guard plans to seek the legislative authority to implement the plan.

S. C. students make award winning video

In observance of Substance Abuse Awareness Month, KPLC-TV and other organizations sponsored a high school public announcement contest.

The South Cameron High School students were required to develop an idea into a 30 second commercial, then video it, and edit the tape. With the help of kindergarten and first grade students, they produced an award winning commercial.

At an awards banquet held in November at McNeese State University, the students received a plaque and were informed that Channel 7 would come to Creole and professionally produce their work.

On Dec. 7, KPLC sent a crew and worked with the students. The commercial will air throughout December urging young people to be drug free.

FIVE NEW members were welcomed into the Lake Charles Messiah Chorus's Ten-and-Over Club as they participated in their tenth presentation of Handel's Messiah. They included Judy Rutherford of Grand Chenier (standing on the right) and Donna Fletcher, Pearl LaFleur and Kitty Larson of Lake Charles and Dorothy Ritter of Reeves.

PICTURED ABOVE are the winners of the Hidden Clover Contest sponsored by the South Cameron Elementary 4-H Club held in conjunction with National 4-H Week.

MEMBERS OF the Hackberry 4-H clubs attending the Parish Food and Nutritions Workshop at South Cameron High School Nov. 21, are pictured above. They were: Shannon LaBove, Lancey Silver, Trisha Silver, Lacye Nolan, and Jeromy Nolan. Maranda Daigle also attended. Trisha presented a food demonstration from France and Jeromy presented one from the United Nations.

Lacassine habitat ideal this year

(NOTE: This article was prepared as part of a monthly series on the three national wildlife refuges located in Southwest Louisiana.)

With help from Mother Nature, the habitat on Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge, as well as surrounding lands, has been excellent for migrating waterfowl this fall. Large numbers have been observed both in the marsh and on the managed areas of the Refuge. According to the most recent surveys, approximately 194,000 ducks and 40,000 geese were counted in November.

By far the most numerous duck species is green-winged teal, accounting for 63% of the total count. Geese are primarily using the areas on the Refuge managed for agriculture and moist soil.

On the opening day of the waterfowl season, hunters on the Refuge were more successful than in the past several years. The average take per hunter was 2.5 ducks compared to 1.2 on opening day in 1991. The most common species taken were mallard and green-winged teal, and some hunters shot a few white-fronted geese. Hunters continued to see birds throughout the first split of the duck season.

Anyone hunting on the Refuge must obtain a copy of the regulations which, when signed, is considered a permit. You must have this permit with you while hunting. Waterfowl hunting resumes December 26 through January 9 on the Refuge.

As part of the Arctic Joint Venture of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan, the Canadian Wildlife Service and the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service are banding and putting neck collars on geese on the arctic breeding grounds. This past summer biologists marked approximately 3,750 white-fronted geese, locally called speckled bellies, and 4,820 small Canada geese, locally called ringnecks. Data from marked geese will be used to determine migration patterns, survival rates, and other important information relating to goose population dynamics.

The collars are red, blue and orange and have codes consisting of white letters and numerals that identify individual birds. Any hunter, birdwatcher, or interested person obtaining information on collars and legbands can call the Refuge at 774-5923 Monday through Friday during the day. It is not necessary to return the collars and bands from dead birds, we just need the information from them. Also, anyone interested in volunteering to travel local public roads in search of collared geese should contact the Refuge. We can provide scopes and binoculars to help in reading the codes.

Personnel of the Louisiana Cooperative Fish and Wildlife Research Unit from LSU are conducting the third and final year of their female pintail study. You may have seen their pickups with telemetry antennas mounted on top in the area. Anyone with information on pintails with radios attached should call 622-3546.

This is a very important study to determine habitat use, movements, and survival of female pintails in Southwest Louisiana. The pintail breeding population is 54% below the long term (1955-91) average and information from this study could help improve this trend.

Poor reproduction continues to limit recovery of duck populations. More emphasis is being put on wintering waterfowl habitat because of its effect on the condition of ducks returning to the breeding grounds.

The mini-refuge program administered by Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge is continuing for the fifth winter. This is a program involving private landowners in five parishes, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries to provide waterfowl sanctuaries in heavily hunted areas. This program is under the auspices of the Gulf Coast Joint Venture of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan and is part of the emphasis on improving and enhancing wintering waterfowl habitat.

The goal of 20,000 acres was met last year, so additional lands will be added only if present leases are not renewed. The program is considered a success with peaks of approximatley 34,000 ducks and 87,000 geese observed using the areas annually. Many shorebirds and other water birds are also provided habitat under this program.

If anyone needs information on these topics or any other matter, please contact Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge, HCR 63 Box 186, Lake Arthur, Louisiana 70549 or call 318/774-5923.

Safety tips on your Yule tree & lights

Christmas lights may put us in the holiday spirit, but they can also cause electric shock and fire if not used properly, says Jim deCordova, manager of Jeff Davis Electric Cooperative, Inc.

deCordova is urging Jeff Davis Electric's consumers to have a safe holiday season by following these holiday decorating suggestions:

•When buying new lights, strings of lights or other electric decorations, make sure each has the Underwriters Laboratories (UL) or Good Housekeeping seal on it.

•Before installing electric holiday decorations, inspect all cords and lights closely. Repair or replace any frayed or bare wires, loose connections and cracked or broken sockets.

•Make sure every socket on your strings of lights has a bulb in it, whether it lights up or not. Any empty socket is an invitation to danger.

•Don't string lights while they are plugged in.

•Once your strings of lights are in good shape, do not plug them into outlets that are easily overloaded. If, after the lights are plugged in, a fuse or breaker shuts down the current in one or more sections of your home, you have overloaded that circuit. The only safe remedy is to remove some of the load from the circuit or plug the lights into a circuit that they will not overload.

•Use flame-retardant decorations and keep paper decorations and tinsel away from hot lights. Keep a portable fire extinguisher close to the tree.

•Never put lights on an aluminum tree because aluminum is a conductor of electricity.

•Use a sturdy stand when you set up your Christmas tree. If a decorated tree, loaded with bulbs, topples over onto a hard floor, the bulbs could break and the exposed filament could ignite the tree.

•Keep your live Christmas tree in water so it can absorb the moisture and reduce hazards caused by a dry tree. Never place your tree near heat sources, included heating vents.

•If you decorate your yard or the outside of your house, use only lights and cords labeled for outdoors.

•When attaching lights to the outside of your house, avoid using staple guns. Use the insulated staples that you hammer into place instead.

•Always use a dry wooden ladder when installing outdoor decorations. Dry wood won't conduct an electric current.

•Avoid overhead electrical lines when decorating outdoors.

•Unplug all decorative lights, both inside and outside, when leaving home or going to bed.

Do You Remember?

(Abbeville Meridional, Dec. 7, 1912)

LAKESIDE LACONICS

Gabriel Martin is erecting a new house on the old Dormile Garrie place and John Garri will occupy it and run the place as a cattle ranch for Mr. Martin.

School commenced Nov. 26, with 9 pupils to make a start with and Miss Stine of Cameron is in charge. The term is promised to be 8 or 9 months in length.

There are rumors of a northern syndicate that is to purchase all the properties on the Lake and River front from McDonoughs to Haucks.

Rev. Mr. Neil and family and friends, of Lake Arthur, filled an appointment at Lakeside Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. Diehl. Hope the brother will visit us again soon and have a large congregation and less difficulties.

A boat load of oranges from the orchard of Robt. LaProise and some others of the Chenier country was shipped to Shreveport. Numbers of boat loads pass up the Lake every week and are distributed from Lake Arthur to various points all over the country. Louisiana oranges are the finest flavored that grow and the people are beginning to find it out.

(Cameron Pilot, Dec. 11, 1959)

PARISH FIRE DEPARTMENTS

Cameron Parish's three fire departments each took steps forward as the result of action taken at the Monday meeting of the police jury, namely:

1. A bid was accepted for the purchase of a fire truck at Hackberry; 2. The jury agreed to fix the fire truck at Creole, with the understanding it would be available for parishwide use; and 3. The jury decided to buy 2½ acres of land on main street as the site for a future Cameron fire station, with the understanding that the Cameron fire protection district will reimburse the parish for the cost.

A $14,650.50 contract was awarded the American-LaFrance Corp. for the purchase of a fire truck and fire-fighting apparatus for the Hackberry fire protection district.

Ward 6 Police Juror Bernad Duhon announced that the newly created Hackberry fire district has purchased 2½ acres of land from Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bourque on the old main street of Hackberry as a site for a fire station. The puchase price was $1350.

Dyson Lumber & Supply Co., which was recently awarded a contract for the construction of the station, plans to start work on it around the first of the year.

The jury also voted to spend around $2,000 putting the fire truck in fire fighting shape at Creole. Parish CD Director Joe Doxey explained that Civil Defense had given the truck, valued at around $8,000, to the parish following Hurricane Audrey; that it was in good running shape, but that hose and other equipment were needed for it.

OPPORTUNE TIME

The fire alarm Monday morning couldn't have come at a more opportune time!

The Police Jury was getting ready to discuss the problems of the parish's three fire departments when the fire siren on the courthouse went off.

Volunteer Fireman Ashburn Roux, who was in the jury room, sprinted out of the courthouse, along with Deil LaLande and one or two other firemen, and were on the truck and on their way to the fire even before the siren stopped blowing.

The police jurors, who could see the action from their windows, were visibly impressed.

The fire was a grass fire which had gotten out of hand. Thanks to the fire department, no damage was done. Fifteen volunteer firemen answered the fire call, Chief Ray Burleigh reported.

ELECTION RESULTS

Sheriff Carter received 1,585 votes, to win over Claude Eagleson, Sweetlake rice farmer, who got 1,163 votes.

Rep. Dyson polled 1,554 votes to beat Conway LeBleu who got 1,123 votes.

Former Governor Jimmy Davis was top man in Cameron Parish in Saturday's election for governor. Mayor Chep Morrison of New Orleans was close behind with James A. Noe, William J. Dodd and William M. Rainach following in that order.

RETURNING POLICE JURORS

Four returning police jury members, having been re-elected for another four-year term, are: Horace Mhire, Ward 1; Vian Theriot, Ward 2; Eraste Hebert, Ward 4; and Archie Berwick, Ward 5. (There will be a runoff in Ward 6 between Charles A. Riggs and O. J. Duhon.)

MORE NAMES FOR MEMORIAL

Eleven more names have been added to the list of Cameron Parish servicemen who died in service. A plaque in memory of these men and the others named previously will be erected in the South Cameron Memorial Hospital.

The latest names are: World War I, Philogene Bishop; World War II, Sgt. Samuel Lee LeBouef, Sgt. Loree L. LeBouef, Pvt. Andrew Henry Demarets, PFC Alton Lee LeBouef, PFC Paul Dolbo Demaret, Sgt. George Duhon and PFC Armogene Vincent; Korean War, Sgt. Warren Lejeune.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Group Hospitalization Insurance is an important benefit to teachers and support staff in public education, and

WHEREAS, traditionally the state has paid for one-half the cost of the state plan to all school systems, and

WHEREAS, for two years the Legislature has appropriated additional funding for those in the state plan while excluding those systems with private carriers, and

WHEREAS, medical insurance costs continue to increase for all school systems, and

WHEREAS, those twenty-six (26) school systems that are not members of the state plan are being intimidated and pressured to join the state plan, and

WHEREAS there is no benefit to the state for all school systems to be in the state plan [illegible] benefits to permitting choice of private or state carriers to school systems,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Cameron Parish School Board urges the Louisiana School Boards Association to provide the leadership to sponsor legislation, initiate legal action, or take any other actions necessary to reverse the current trend and to insure equity for the twenty-six (26) school systems not receiving their proportionate share of state funding, and

REINVEST IN AMERICA
A New Priorities Proclamation

We, the Board of Education of Cameron Parish, in the State of Louisiana, do hereby adopt the following resolution in support of new national federal budget priorities for the United States of America.

WHEREAS, the Cameron Parish School Board is committed to offering every child in our community the opportunity for a quality education, and

WHEREAS, our nation's economic well-being in the post-Cold War world will depend on the ability of America's public schools to educate each and every child, and

WHEREAS, no single school district has the financial capacity to both build a quality education program for the 21st Century and overcome the social and economic problems that prevent students from coming to school ready to learn, and

WHEREAS, the end of the Cold War and the collapse of the Soviet Union offer our nation a once-in-a-generation opportunity to rethink our national priorities, and

WHEREAS, our competitors in the global marketplace invest more tax dollars on children and elementary and secondary education than does the United States, and

WHEREAS, federal budget savings made possible by the end of the Cold War could be used to rebuild America and ensure that every child comes to school healthy and ready to learn, and

WHEREAS, the national organizations that represent the men and women at the local level who care most deeply about education--
The National School Boards Association, the National PTA, the National Association of Elementary School Principals, the National Association of Secondary School Principals, the American Association of School Administrators, The Council of Great City Schools, the National Education Association, and the American Federation of Teachers--have joined to called for new federal budget priorities that reflect post-Cold War realities.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Cameron Parish School Board believes it is time to reinvest in America. We join school districts across the United States to urge the Congress and President Clinton to make reordering federal spending priorities America's top priority in 1993, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Cameron Parish School Board will forward this call for new priorities to our community's elected representatives in Congress and to the President of the United States, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Cameron Parish School Board will also forward this resolution to the local legislative delegation and urge the Louisiana Legislature to join this call to reinvest in America.

Adopted and approved the seventh (7th) day of December, 1992.

CAMERON PARISH SCHOOL BOARD

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON

BE IT RESOLVED by the Cameron Parish School Board in regular session convened on this 7th day of December, 1992, that:

WHEREAS, under the provisions of Louisiana Revised Statutes 17:71.1 and 71.6 the Cameron Parish School Board is authorized to reapportion itself so that each member thereof represents as nearly the same number of constituents as is possible as is required by decisions of the United States Supreme Court; and

WHEREAS, under the provisions of Louisiana Revised Statutes 17:71.5 Cameron Parish School Board is required to reapportion itself based upon each decennial census, the last such census having been taken in 1990; and

WHEREAS, Louisiana Revised Staute 17:71.3 specifically provides that school boards may create such special school board election districts as they deem desirable, which districts need not be coterminous with the wards that may be created by any governing authority, but that after January 1, 1984, such election districts shall contain whole election precincts established by the parish governing authority under L.R.S. 18:532 or 532.1; and

WHEREAS, the Cameron Parish School Board has examined its apportionment and the populations of its six (6) presently existing districts as established by Resolution of the Cameron Parish School Board in regular session convened on October 10, 1983, and determined that according to the 1990 decennial census the populations of the various districts are as follows:

District #1:1199; District #2:1668; District #3,1,700; District #4:1639; District #5:1424; District #6: 1630; and

WHEREAS, the Cameron Parish School Board has further examined the populations of the various election precincts established by the Cameron Parish Police Jury under L.R.S. 18:532 and 532.1 following the 1990 decennial census, and has determined that it can more closely comply with the provisions of L.R.S. 17:1 7.1 and 71.6 so that each member thereof represents more nearly the same number of constituents as is possible by retaining the election district lines established and adopted on October 10, 1983, which election district lines are presently in force and effect; and

WHEREAS, a review of the distribution of the minority populations of the parish as determined by the 1990 decennial census reflects that the voting strength of the minority populations will be more closely concentrated and preserved intact and will be subject to less dilution of the minority voting population by retaining the presently existing school board election districts;

A motion was made by W. F. Henry, Jr., seconded by E. J. Dronet, and unanimously carried to approve a resolution calling for installation of a metal culvert with a flap at No. Name Bayou.

Mr. Quinn reported that a letter of contention between Miami Corporation and Gravity Drainage District No. 3 relative to proposed plugs in the Borrow Channel in the Cameron-Creole Watershed has been resolved by compromise.

A motion was made by Earl Guthrie, seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried to authorize President Quinn to sign an application for renewal of the bond insurance for E. J. Dronet.

By concensus, J. Berton Daigle was authorized to conduct necessary spraying for cattails, control of drainage laterals and to present a bill for labor and chemicals.

It was agreed that a letter be written to the Department of Natural Resources stating that J. Berton Daigle will be responsible for reading staff gauges No. 1, 2 and 3, in the Cameron-Creole Watershed, and giving the agency his home address and telephone number for contact purposes.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

PROCEEDINGS
Minutes of the regular meeting of the Cameron Parish Gravity Drainage District No. 3, held Tuesday, September 15, 1992, at 2:30 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex.
Members Present: Edwin W. Quinn, E. J. Dronet, George Kelley, and W. F. Henry, Jr.
Member Absent: Earl Guthrie.
Others Attending: Billy Delany, James LeBoeuf, Amos Vincent, J. Berton Daigle, Will Nidecker and Neal Hebert.
A motion was made by W. F. Henry, Jr., seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried to approve the minutes of the August 18, 1992, regular meeting.
A motion was made by George Kelley, seconded by W. F. Henry, Jr., and unanimously carried to approve the Financial Report for the month of August, 1992.
A motion was made by W. F. Henry, Jr., seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried to approve the following bills for payment:
1. Cameron Parish Pilot, $58.00
2. Clipper Office Supply, 4.50.
Miles Hebert reported that the permit for maintenance of levees in the Cameron Creole Watershed is verbally approved. The Department of Environmental Quality has approved it, and that was the last of the requirements before finalization. A motion was made by W. F. Henry, Jr., seconded by E. J. Dronet, and unanimously carried to authorize Edwin W. Quinn to sign the permit and send $100 processing fee as required should the permit be received before the next meeting.
It was reported by Mr. Quinn that the Department of Natural Resources is installing staff gauges in the Watershed, and Will Nidecker of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service will have the gauges read at least every two weeks, but we want someone to read them more often once a week. Earl Guthrie will read the one on J. A. Davis Property. It was agreed that J. Berton Daigle will read three gauges, one on J. A. Davis Property, one in South Prong of Grand Bayou and one in the marsh North of High Island ridge.
A motion was made by E. J. Dronet, seconded by W. F. Henry, Jr., and unanimously carried that the regular meetings of the Cameron Parish Gravity Drainage District No. 3 will once again be scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on the third Tuesday of each month.
Mr. Quinn reported that we had asked for negative comments to a completed draw-down of the Cameron-Creole Watershed in the early Spring of 1993 for discussion at an Advisory Committee meeting scheduled for October 20, 1992. Only one negative comment was received from the National Marine Fisheries; therefore, it was suggested that a letter be sent out to members of the Advisory Committee stating that since there were no more negative comments, this Board assumes that the majority will want to agree to the draw-down, and we will simply go ahead with the draw-down as called for in the Management Plan as early as possible in 1993.
Mr. Will Nidecker stated that if we start getting some good Norther's in late January or February, we should go ahead and take advantage of them to effect the draw-down. This was agreed by consensus of the Board of Commissioners.
A motion was made by W. F. Henry, Jr., seconded by E. J. Dronet, and unanimously carried to cancel the Advisory Committee meeting.
Mr. Will Nidecker reported that it was agreed by the agencies that in the face of preparations for Hurricane Andrew, the gates should be kept closed and flaps open to protect the back levees. He reported that they were unable to close the flaps until the next day. Salinities have crept up since the hurricane, and therefore gates were closed on the day after Labor Day. By Friday of this week, the salinities had leveled off, and there was a lunar tide; therefore, the gates were opened. As of today, salinities are down, but water levels are up a little bit.
Mr. Quinn reported that we need to get rid of some water. He stated that we cannot keep sacrificing the landowners for the sake of the shrimpers.
It was agreed that J. Berton Daigle will be asked to get rights-of-way for spraying for water lily control on an annual maintenance schedule (15-20 ft. spray) for drainage lateral on Savoie, Murphy, Daigle, and Marshall properties in North Creole Field area. It was also agreed to try to clean out W-1 West from Pogey Plant road to 1/2 mile past Jimmy Savoie Road. It was agreed that Miles Hebert will contact the Corps of Engineers to obtain a letter of no objection to accomplish maintenance of W-1 West Dainage Canal.
It was agreed that Paula Pool will contact Dallas Dartez of Industrial Helicopters, Inc. to let him know that they didn't get a "good kill" on recent spraying for vegetation control in W-1 West. He will be asked to come back, look at it, and let the Board know what can be done to complete the job.
There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Christmas tree project

Governor Edwin Edwards and Louisiana Department of Natural Resources (DNR) Secretary John Ales have announced cooperative agreements between 14 of Louisiana's coastal parishes, including Cameron, and DNR to develop, and manage restoration projects at the parish level.
The newly instituted "Parish Coastal Wetland Restoration Program" provides $15,000 to each participating coastal parish to construct Christmas tree fences, wetland vegetation plantings, shoreline armoring projects, or other low-cost restoration efforts.
Most parishes, including Cameron, have elected to refurbish existing Christmas tree projects by adding trees to existing containment structures or "pens". This provides a very cost-effective means of recycling trees that would otherwise stress already overburdened landfills and of enhancing coastal wetlands.
The most familiar and popular technique that has been utilized in this program to date is the Christmas tree fence. In shallow marsh ponds, these structures can enhance wetland habitats in several important ways. They provide an effective wave-break which can reduce erosion of marshes, they can enhance water clarity which allows more aquatic vegetation to become established, they provide important reef areas for many fish and crustacean species and, when an appropriate source of sediment is present, they can stimulate the formation of new marsh.
The program was expanded this year to allow for the implementation of any technically feasible project that coastal parishes felt would fit the project budget and create, conserve, enhance, or restore coastal wetlands. "This program should go a long way toward addressing wetland problems of local concern that are missed by major state and federal actions," said Governor Edwards.
Louisiana currently loses 25 square miles of coastal wetlands annually. In 1989 the state legislature statutorily dedicated a portion of the state's mineral revenues to help offset this problem through the Coastal Wetlands Conservation and Restoration Program which is administered through DNR.

CAMERON OUTDOORS By Loston McEvers

He wants a cellular phone for Christmas

CHRISTMAS WISHES

Things are fairly quiet around with closing of duck season and a short closing of goose season. With the recent rains, more deer hunters are bagging a buck. I saw in today's paper a nice 10 pointer killed last week. The hunter didn't want to be named.
Christmas is on the minds of hunters and fishermen - wondering what they will get for a gift to fit their outdoor needs.
I put my name into Santa Claus for something I want - not only for the highway, but for my boat and three-wheeler. Yes, a portable cellular phone. I sure hope I was good enough for Santa to bring me one.
Remember when all the nation had their eyes on the state of Arizona for the Nov. 3, vote on Proposition 200, that would have banned most traps on public land and the way it was set up could have closed hunting and fishing and trapping that state?
Well, folks, it was voted down two to one. I guess every sportsman was really concerned as we know all the animal rights activists were really counting on the Proposition 200 to pass.
Some of the positive wording was "we desire to manage our wildlife and protect our property by humane and non-lethal methods." This would have challenged traditional hunting and fishing practices in a court of law.
The final tally showed 62% of the voters were against and 38% were in favor. This would have applied, like I say, to only public land, but 85% of the state of Arizona's land area is in public ownership.

SQUIRREL YOU SAY

We're seeing our children getting out for school vacation and certain days off from school. In Evangeline Parish, school officials declare a holiday and schools are closed for the opening day of squirrel season. Even the regular Friday night football games are rescheduled so it doesn't interfer with getting ready the day before squirrel season opens.
The reason schools are closed is all the boys would miss school to hunt, plus the teachers and bus drivers also want to take off and hunt and replacing them would cost extra money for the school board.
Squirrel hunting is very popular in our state. There are around 160,000 squirrel hunters that take to the woods each year.
Beginning the first of 1993, I'll be throwing in some phrases from a fishing book I bought. It has lots of the baits made in the 1800's and early 1900's. Some of these old baits are worth as much as $20,000. Also some good tips on fishing and how to handle your baits.

Dear Editor:

Dear Editor:
I would like to clear up some facts regarding the article that ran in the Dec. 10 issue of the Cameron Pilot. The article stated that I was one of the delegates to the recent teachers' convention and that I did not attend. It is this statement that I would like to clarify.
First, I was chosen in 1991 as a delegate to the convention for two years. However, in the August-September CAE Newsletter from our President, Roselyn Harris, the following were listed as delegates: Roselyn Harris, David Duhon and Rick Merchant. Our local association is allowed only three voting delegates.
Furthermore, both myself and Doug Welch, Association Representative at Johnson Bayou High School, brought the matter of convention delegates to the attention of our President before and after the August-September newsletter. We were both given evasive resonses to our inquiries.
Finally, several weeks after I wrote a letter to all CAE members informing them that it was not my decision that I be removed from the delegate list and a week prior to LAE's deadline for delegate names, Mrs. Harris called to inform me that I could attend since Mr. Duhon was not.
While I wanted to serve my fellow CAE member, at this point, I declined believing my name as a delegate had been intentionally removed.
Sincerely,
/s/ Peggy Boudreaux

The Fall Inshore White Shrimp Season in all Inshore State Waters will close at 12:01 a.m., Dec. 21, according to Joe L. Herring, Secretary of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries. The closure was adopted as an emergency rule in accordance with emergency provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act.

Biologists at LDWF have determined that water temperatures in the inshore areas of coastal Louisiana are such that white shrimp growth will be greatly depressed and white shrimp in inshore waters will not meet the legal size of 100 count per pound. This legal size for white shrimp will be reinstated the third Monday in December.

How's Your Hearing?

Chicago, Ill. — A free offer of special interest to those who hear but do not understand words has been announced by Beltone. A non-operating model of the smallest hearing aid Beltone has ever developed will be given absolutely free to anyone requesting it.

It's yours for the asking, so send for it now. It is not a real hearing aid, but it will show you how tiny hearing help can be. The actual aid weighs less than an eighth of an ounce, and it fits completely into the ear canal.

These models are free, so we suggest you write for yours now. Again, there is no cost, and certainly no obligation. Although a hearing aid may not help everyone, more and more people with hearing losses are being helped. For your free sample send your name, address, and phone number today to: Department 08655, Beltone Electronics Corporation, 4201 West Victoria Street, Chicago, Illinois 60646.

WISHING YOU A BEAUTIFUL CHRISTMAS & A NEW YEAR OF PEACE AND HAPPINESS

Cameron road graded

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 14, 1928)

GRADE FOR NEW CAMERON ROAD

All of the grade work for the Gulf Beach highway between Hackberry Island and the town of Cameron, parish seat of Cameron Parish, is now completed and being allowed to settle before further action is to be taken upon it, according to a statement today by Floyd Hamilton, resident engineer of the Louisiana Highway Commission.

The new highway comes up to the west bank of the Calcasieu Riever at Cameron, a short distance above the town, and on the east side of the river it is graded out a short distance and then turns down the river to the parish courthouse.

The river for the present time will be crossed by means of a ferry, operated by means of gasoline engine power. At Cameron the river is deep and comparatively narrow so that ferry service is not going to require such a great amount of time and should it be desirable later on when both sides of the river in Cameron Parish are filled with oil fields, sulphur mines and pleasure towns along the gulf beaches, to build a bridge, its length will not be prohibitive in cost.

Just at this time, according to information from citizens of Cameron, the taxpayers of the parish are not worrying about a new courthouse, but are giving considerable thought to the building of more roads. One of these would be a highway from about Creole north to the outside world and then the road from Hackberry to Grand Chenier would come in for a complete rebuilding and hard surfacing.

The Gulf Beach highway from Hackberry Island north to its northern terminal, DeRidder, is reported by E. M. Scarborough, state highway supervisor for the Fifth District, as being in good condition, and that portion of it from the Calcasieu ship channel to Hackberry through Gardiner oil field, at the mouth of Kelso Bayou, he said, is in excellent condition for travel.

Waiting on long lines with children to see Santa could cause painful nighttime leg cramps.

(Cameron Pilot, Dec. 18, 1959)

RICE QUOTAS FAVORED

A total of 97 percent of the rice growers in Cameron Parish voted in favor of marketing quotas and 3 percent against in the rice and cotton referendum held Tuesday. The total vote in the rice referendum was 57 for and 2 against, and no challenge. The breakdown by communities was 23 for in Sweetlake and none against; 34 for in Klondike and 2 against; and no votes were cast in Cameron.

FINANCING OF LIBRARY

The Cameron Parish Library board, which met Dec. 9, is making plans to call a bond issue some time in 1960 to continue the operation of the library here.

The parish library since 1958 has been a demonstration of the Louisiana State Library. Most parish libraries in Louisiana began as demonstrations with the state bearing the cost of operation during a year's trial period.

In Cameron Parish this trial period was set for two years and all financial support has been borne by the state. The library building was erected with funds raised by the Louisiana Jaycees.

If the library is to remain in operation in Cameron Parish after June, 1960, it must be operated through local funds.

Mrs. Mary Brand, parish librarian, reported a total of 56,778 books had been borrowed by the people since the library began.

Attending the library board meeting were Mrs. Charles Precht, president, Mrs. Charles Hebert, Mrs. Lee Nunez, Mrs. Conway LeBleu, Donald Broussard, Eraste Hebert, president, police jury, and ex-officio member, Mrs. Mary Brand, Librarian and Miss Sarah I. Jones of the Louisiana State Library.

THIS SMELLY WEEK
(By Jerry Wise)

There was a skunk down at the courthouse Wednesday -- and we aren't getting personal. He was a real skunk that turned up at the front steps early in the morning and hung around most of the day. Courthouse employees prudently used the side door in going in and out.

J. B. Jones, Jr., reported that the little fellow came over and hung around his office during the afternoon. No damage done, we're happy to report.

PARISH 4-H CLUB OFFICERS

New officers were elected by the Cameron Parish 4-H Club executive council which met Dec. 9, at the courthouse. They are: Lucille Miller, South Cameron, president; Richard Broussard, Grand Lake, vice-president; Marie Lannin, Grand Lake, secretary; Loretta Devall, Hackberry, treasurer; and Shirley Delaney, Hackberry.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

The annual Christmas party sponsored by the Cameron Optimists and Lions clubs for the children of Cameron Parish will be held at 2 p.m. in the courthouse square.

Santa will come riding up on the Cameron fire truck and will distribute candy to all of the children. Funds for the candy were raised last summer by the Lions and Optimists in their softball series.

LETTERMEN CLUB
(By Mrs. H. D. Primeaux)

Twelve boys were initiated into the South Cameron High School Lettermen's Club in a ceremony last Friday. All lettered in various sports at the school during the past year.

Initiated were Raymond Hebert, Roland Trosclair, Jr., Leon Hebert, Alvin Mudd, Barney Kornegay, Edward Swindell, Roger Richard, MacArthur Rutherford, John Watts, J. C. Gallier, Eddie Joe Conner and Frank Pickett.

THE BLASSIAH
by Dexter Grant Harrison

DEXTER GRANT HARRISON

THE BLASSIAH is an electrifying saga, set in the heartland of French Louisiana's Acadia area, depicting the struggles, strife and hardships of a poor black family fighting to overcome racism, which was so prevalent amongst their culture during an era of extreme racial intensity. This special family's perseverance aided in the fight for life, liberty, freedom, justice, equality and the pursuit of happiness for all mankind. Finally, the prayers and woes of former slaves and their offspring were heard when God created a miraculous celebration that placed the entire world in awe. THE BLASSIAH—the greatest story of faith and hope ever told!

MUSING . . . By Bernice Denny

The true meaning of Christmas

"Not what we give but what we share, for the gift without the giver is bare."

The above quotation comes from "The Vision of Sir Launfal" by James Russell Lowell. To me it expresses perfectly the true spirit of unselfish love.

Sr. Launfal had traveled widely for years in search of the Holy Grail. At last and unexpectedly he found it when he learned that the Christian spirit was the art of sharing willingly and lovingly instead of unconcernedly throwing coins to a beggar.

With thousands and thousands of people out of jobs this winter, with other thousands victims of hurricanes and tornadoes, and untold numbers trying to finance hospital and medical bills there may be little money for exchanging gifts. Some are disheartened, some deeply troubled as their savings dwindle; others are bitter and resentful. Those of a generous spirit find it hard not to give as usual.

But monetary gifts are not necessarily the meaning of the Christmas spirit. There are so many things of intrinsic value that money cannot buy.

Christmas is a time to recommit our lives to our God above, to worship Him, and to thank Him once more for the Son whom He sent to bring salvation to all believers. It is a time to strengthen our ties with the church fellowship of our choice.

It is also a time to strengthen family ties, to perpetuate the traditions surrounding Christmases that we experienced in childhood and youth. And more than that it is a time to resolve the keeping of those ties day after day in the years to come.

Christmas is a time to teach our children its real meaning. Help them to understand that Santa Claus reprsents the spirit of loving and giving and that they, in turn, must share as well as receive.

Above all, we should teach our children that the day is really the birthday of Jesus Christ. Help them to understand that He is the greatest gift and His the most unselfish life that ever lived. Guide them to the realization that God's gift of His Son is as much for us in 1992 as it was for the world nearly 2,000 years ago.

All children revel in birthday parties. Teach them that they can bring gifts to Jesus by sharing their toys with other children, by showing their love for parents, grandparents and teachers by being obedient.

We adults can set our youth an example by giving from the heart and not from the pocketbook alone. Do you know one who is lonely? Visit or telephone such a person. Do you know another who is despondent? Cheer that one. Help in some meaningful way. Have you a friend or acquaintance recently bereaved? Bring comfort. Is there a hungry family in your community? Take that one some of your food.

There are those who put a "price tag" on the gifts they bestow by expecting a gift of like value in return. That is not giving; that is trading. Give freely to make another happy. Happiness is contagious, and it rebounds to us in double measure. Not only that but the person we make happy will make others happy.

Like the Star of Bethlehem, may God's sacrificial love guide us to the sharing of our and love and concern for others not only during the Christmas season but throughout the year that lies ahead.

By KRISTI JO DUPUIE

"Plant a Tree" was the theme of the South Cameron High School December 4-H meeting. Miss Shannon Swire and Mr. Mike LaVergne gave a presentation on Christmas tree production in Louisiana.

Miss Shannon handed out seedlings to the members and Mr. Mike explained the proper way to plant them.

Reports were given by Tricia Trahan on the Junior Leadership meeting, Kristi Jo Dupie on Contest Day and Shawn Bonsall on the manditory hog bleeding.

Christa Richard won Mr. Mike's "Ag in the Bag" game by guessing a pecan as this month's Louisiana agriculture product. Door prizes were given to Jared and Jennifer Savoie. To be eligible for the door prize members had to bring two canned goods for the Christmas basket. This basket is to be given to a needy family for Christmas.

SECOND SEASON

We all have Christmas on our minds this week, but we hunters surely have something else this weekend - the opening of the second split of duck season. Saturday, the day after Christmas, we'll be back in the old duck blind until Jan. 9.

I've talked to quite a few hunters and even in my marshes, we just don't seem to see as many ducks as we'd like to see. I know you can't tell, as we've got plenty of water with all the rain, but there seems to be fewer ducks in some of our marshes. All we can do is hope for a good second half.

Our goose season will run through Feb. 14. During the last ten days, Feb. 5-14, only blue and snow geese may be taken. No speckle bellies.

Remember, shooting hours are 1/2 hour before sunsrise to sunset on ducks and geese. December 26, for example, will be legal at 6:37 a.m. and you have to stop at 5:30 p.m.

Many hunters are getting citations, not so much for shooting too early, but shooting too late. Stop shooting five minutes before time in case your watch is off. At that moment, unload your gun and put it into the old gun case. That way on your way in you won't be tempted to shoot.

In my marsh, something that is scarce is rabbits. I tried the other day and saw one rabbit on three miles of road. In the Grand Chenier area, I had a friend of mine who killed two squirrels while rabbit hunting, but no rabbits.

I did not get any reports of deer kills this week. We're on our final leg of deer season. It will close Jan. 3.

Fishing reports in our area are fair with mostly saltwater fishing catches reported. With all the rainy weather, not too many anglers are going out. A few redfish and flounders are being caught, mostly in the inland canals and marshes.

I did get some reports on freshwater catfish. These are being caught on jug lines and trot lines.

Something I would like to do is wish each and every one of you a Merry Christmas and hope Santa Claus is good to you. On behalf of myself and the Cameron Coutdoors in the Cameron Pilot, have a safe and happy holiday and don't forget, deer sausage, deer roast, stuffed geese and stuffed ducks, make a very fine holiday meal.

The Greatest Christmas Gift

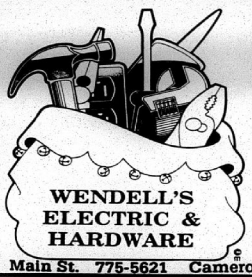
by Rev. G.R. Travis

It was the Christmas season and as usual the shoppers were busy doing their last minute shopping for the big day. A family stopped to look at a nativity scene displayed in one of the stores. One of the little boys observed that the manger was empty. He said, "Mother, look, they have left Jesus out." It is sad but true that many have left Jesus out. It is common to see Christmas spelled "Xmas." I think this expresses the inner feelings of many. They have simply left Christ out of Christmas. As Christians we must remember that the most important part of Christmas is the first six letters.

I want to share a story with you which made a great impression on me. I would like to give credit to the author, but I cannot remember where or when I read it.

"As the Christmas season approached, Shah Abbis the Emperor of Persia, decided he would find one person and give him the best Christmas gift he ever received. He reasoned that he could not give a gift to everyone, so he decided to choose only one.



"Shah Abbis disguised himself as a peasant and went among his people. He came to a public bath and wandered around for quite a while. Just before the noon hour he wandered into the boiler room. A workman, the keeper of the fires of the bath, was preparing to eat his lunch. Shah Abbis sat down and talked with him. The fireman offered him part of his meager lunch and the emperor accepted. A few days later the emperor returned. This time he brought his lunch, ample food for both of them. Of course, it was not the kind of food served on an emperor's table. A deep warm affection grew in his heart for this simple, lovable honest fireman. Maybe this is the man he was looking for.

"Shah Abbis returned many days for the visit and lunch with the fireman. One day after lunch he told the fireman who he was and produced the evidence. The fireman's face turned white and his hands went up in fear. The emperor said, 'Please don't be afraid of me, I'm exactly the same man you have eaten lunch with every day. I have learned to think so much of you and I don't want you to be afraid of me. I want to give you the nicest Christmas gift you ever received. What would you like to have?' Slowly the fear left the fireman and a smile came over his face. He said, 'I have always thought of you as so powerful, strong and mighty that I trembled when I thought of you. I didn't know you were like this, so loveable and kind. I just looked forward to the days that you came in. As for the gift: I don't want any riches. I don't want you to give me anything that is costly. Give me just what you have been giving me. Come back, sit and talk with me.'"

Jesus Christ wanted to give us the greatest Christmas gift we ever received. He did not single out one person, but he chose to give the gift to everyone who would receive it. That gift was himself. Matthew 1:23, "...they shall call His name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us."

Have you registered with Selective Service?

Young men who will turn 26 in 1993 will be reaching an important milestone according to the Selective Service System.

Beginning on Jan. 1, 1993, men who were born in 1967 and were required to register with Selective Service in 1985, will be turning 26 and will no loner be eligible for induction should a draft be reinstituted. Selective Service does not have the authority to accept late registrations after a man reaches his 26th birthday.

Selective Service officials warned that, with few exceptions, a man who fails to register before turning 26 will permanently forfeit his eligibility for certain programs such as federal student aid, job training and most federal employment, in addition to facing possible prosecution as a felon. Some states also require registration for state student aid, entrance to state-supported colleges and universities, state employment and permission to practice law.

Men ages 18 through 25 who have not yet registered can avoid the risk of prosecution and loss of eligibility by registering promptly at any local post office. Failure to register is a felony punishable by a fine of up to $250,000, up to five years in prison or both.

A man is exempt from registering while he is on full-time active duty in the U. S. Armed Forces. Cadets and midshipmen at the service academies are included in the exemption. Members of the National Guard and Reserve Forces not on full-time active duty must register unless they have reached age 26 or are already registered.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Gifts That Reduce Holiday Shopping Stress

Aching feet, stiff neck and tense muscles—just a few side effects incurred by stressed-out holiday shoppers battling crowded malls and long lines. Holidays bring additional burdens—especially for women—as family members deal with travel schedules, holiday entertaining and budget constraints.

To reduce stress created by holiday deadlines and duties, give yourself a "gift" that combats tension during holidays and year-round. A few suggestions to help you unwind this season:

•Take cozy winter naps.
•Prepare holiday goodies early, freeze until needed.
•Enjoy a private, peaceful bath.
•Give yourself a massage.

De-stressing with a relaxing massage is easy when you treat yourself to the Pollenex Aquassager—the first hand-held waterproof massager that effectively relieves stress on any part of the body. The Aquassager contains three separate attachments specifically for facials, feet and hands, and the neck and shoulder area.

Parish toured in 1918 for war effort

(IN 1918 AMERICA was embroiled in World War I and everyone was doing their part for the war effort. The following article, which was researched by Keith Hambrick, appeared in the April 26, 1918 edition of the Lake Charles American Press and tells of a tour of Cameron parish to raise funds for the war through the Liberty Loan which was similar to the War Bonds drive of World War II.)

(Lake Charles American Press, April 26, 1918)

Cameron Parish is aflame with enthusiasm on all war subjects and their quota will be trebled, according to reports from parties who have been touring the parish in the interest of the third Liberty loan. The party which left her Monday morning on the boat were Frank Roberts, zone chairman; Rev. J. K. McKenzie, E. R. Henry and L. L. Squires.

They were joined by Parish Chairman Sweeney and Supt. McCall at Cameron and held meetings at the latter place, also at Grand Chenier, Oak Grove and Creole, addresses being made by members of the party at each place as well as an illustrated lecture.

Abbe Souris joined the party Thursday and spoke to one of the largest meetings ever held at Creole and also used his illustrated lecture. He speaks in French only. Father P. J. Buissink, local priest of Cameron Parish, was also with the party. Father Buissink has been doing a noble work among the people of Cameron Parish in aid of all war measures, he is gladly giving the use of his churches in which to hold meetings, and assisting in every way possible that the war may be prosecuted to a successful issue.

Miss Irene Doxey, chairman of the woman's committee of the third Liberty Loan, is also doing good work in the parish and meeting with excellent results. She is the right woman in the right place.

The Lake Charles party returned here last evening accompanied by Father Souris and Father Buissink and last night they held a meeting at Sweetlake. This morning most of the party left for Cameron again, where there will be a meeting tonight addressed by Father Souris and he will also give his illustrated lecture. He did not have an opportunity to join the party in time for the meeting at Cameron before, and the people there are anxious to hear him.

The party will spend all day at Grand Chenier Saturday at which time there will be a great Liberty Loan rally with a parade by the school children and prominent organizations and citizens of that place. They will return here for Sunday and Sunday evening and there will be a rally meeting at the city hall at which time Father Souris will be one of the speakers. Monday evening at 8 o'clock they will hold a meeting at Sulphur and Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at Grand Lake.

All of Cameron Parish has been covered except the northeast part and Johnson Bayou, and these places will be covered later, arrangements now being made with that end in view.

SEASONS GREETING TO THE PEOPLE OF CAMERON PARISH:

As we prepare to celebrate Christmas and New Years we should remember our Savior who died on the cross for our sins to set us free. We should take a few moments and thank Him for all the blessings He has bestowed on us and ask Him for His guidance to overcome our weaknesses.

In my opinion I think God sent us a warning November 28, 1992 when two young people were traveling in their car, lost control and ran off the road, and were thrown from their car. They were lucky enough to survive the accident. Most of the time they do not survive an accident like that. So let's take a few moments and ask our Savior to watch over us and keep us save throughout the holidays.

If you go out and celebrate for Christmas and New Years and you happen to indulge in drinking more that you were expecting to, please get someone to drive you home or call the Sheriff's Department so we all can enjoy Christmas and New Years as a happy family. So anything the Sheriff's Department can do so you can enjoy your Christmas vacation please call us. The ones who have drug problems we'd like to see you make a new resolution to stop using drugs, because this is only destroying your capability of reaching your goal in having a brighter tomorrow. If any of you need help, please don't hesitate to come in and talk to us.

As I was going over some of my papers I found a Prayer for the Day.

This is the beginning of a new day and soon will be the beginning of a New Year. God has given me this day as I will. I can waste it or use it for my good. What I do today is important because I'm exchanging a day of my life for it.

When tomorrow comes this day is gone forever, leaving in its place something that I have traded for it.

I want it to be gain, and not loss; good and not evil; Success and not a failure; in order that I shall not regret the price that I have paid for it.

So I wish each and every one of you a very Merry Merry Christmas, and a Happy and Healthy New Year and a brighter tomorrow and future!

Wishing you Happy Holidays,

Sono

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

Thomas Sinclair who married 1st Mary Delcia Champagne, 2nd Heloise Priscilla Doiron; William Arthur, Jr. who marr. Severine Eve Giroir; Mary Elizabeth who mar. 1st Norris Chapman, 2nd John Stratton; Edmund Virginnier who mar. Mary Therese LeBouef; Robert Lee; Harry Nelson who mar. Clemence Elisha Bonvillain; Albert Sidney who mar. Lydia Bernadette Robichaux; Lauretta Margaret who mar. Adam Trosclair; and Annette Elizabeth who mar. Henry Clay Boudreaux.

There are now many descendants and many more related families.

TERREBONNE LIFE LINES

Terrebonne Life Lines which covers the old Interior Lafourche Parish area is a quarterly publication of the Terrebonne Genealogical Society. Its current issue includes the above information and more in "The Family of William Arthur Quick", an article by Mrs. Diane DuBois Quick of New Orleans.

The TALBOT family is featured in "Louis Andre Talbot of Louisiana", a long article on the French ancestry of this man who came to Louisiana before 1816, married Rosalie Dugas, lived in Lafourche Parish, had 11 children who reached adulthood.

Other articles and features include the Probate of Jean Baptiste Pilliot, 1809; Vital Records from The LaFourche Comet, 1889; excerpts from The Assumption Pioneer, 1898-1900; The Hurricane of 1915 from The Times Picayune; Marriage Contract of Francois Faucheux and Julie Haydel, 1780; Acts of the Legislature, 1833; The Revolutionary Calendar of France, 1792; questions asked in the U.S. census of 1920; queries; family photos needing identification; etc.

Softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 86 pages, full name indexed, available with $20.00 annual membership in the society, P.O. Box 295, Sta. 2, Houma, LA 70360.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR RECORDS

Revolutionary War Period Bible, Family & Marriage Records Gleaned from Pension Applications, the outstanding, continuing series by Chan Edmondson, now has Volume 13 in publication covering Foulkrod through Gehret soldier's names.

The more than 600 applications in this volume abstract a wealth of hard-to-find and authenticate information. In addition to the soldier's name, military service, home state, date and place of death, marriage date and place, resident state of pension applicant, widow's age and residence, etc. many records - especially those of widow's - may contain some of the following genealogical data:

Children with name, date and place of birth, sometimes spouses, death dates, grandchildren; info on siblings, other relatives; soldier's date and place of birth, parents; church membership; neighbors, witnesses, guardians; widow's later marriage(s), relatives, her maiden name; often migration patterns may be followed.

With an index of some 2700 names (Abbe-Young) this Volume 13 of Mr. Edmondson's valuable research series is softcover, 5 1/2 x 8 1/2 in., 146 pages, $15.00, available from him at P.O. Box 141235, Dallas, TX 75214-1235. Volumes 2-12 available at $15.00 each; a Cumulative Index of the first 10 volumes (47,000 entries) is $25.00; Vol. 1 may be reprinted at a charge per page.

WILL RECORDS

North Carolina Wills: A Testator Index, 1665-1900 by Thornton W. Mitchell is an index to more than 75,000 persons who died and left wills within this area and this time period.

From the first wills proved in the secretary of state's office to the last probated in the 19th century, from original wills in the State Archives and county courthouses, to recorded wills in county superior courts - if a will still exists in the records, its testator is listed in this volume along with county in which the will was proved, date of probate, location of the recorded copy by county, book and page number; and location of the original will.

Previously, a researcher would have had to go through the files at as many as 107 different county courthouses to find all the references now in this one volume which, in addition to its 75,000 indexed entries, starts the reader off with a forty-page background on the counties (several now defunct). Mr. Mitchell provides date of the county's formation, territory from which formed, dates wills were first filed and recorded, various record book designations, status of the records (intact, lost, destroyed, incomplete, etc.), and the location of original, recorded and copied wills.

Family researchers of the 1600's, 1700's, and 1800's in North Carolina - from where a great many Louisianians have roots - are fortunate to have this tremendous time-saver, revised and expanded from its 1987 two-volume edition, now in a hardcover, 6 x 9 in., 630 page, single volume, $52.50 incl. mailing from: Genealogical Publishing Co., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897.

Ferdinand Columbus WILBERN, 1827-1903, left a priceless gift to his descendants — at the age of 70 he wrote the story of his eventful life. More than a century after his death, a grandson used F.C.'s manuscript as the core for a very interesting genealogy.

F.C. Wilbern was born in Tennessee; his father, William W. (who "served under Jackson in the Florida War and was at the taking of Pensacola") had been born and raised in Georgia; and his grandfather (who "served in the Revolutionary War and was captured by the British at Charleston, South Carolina") had been born in North Carolina.

F.C.'s mother was Jane Graham. "Two uncles on her side served under General Jackson at the Battle of New Orleans."

WILBERN FAMILY

The Old Man of the Glen by Roy Wilbern, one of the 45 grandchildren, traces his unusual ancestor from Tennessee to Arkansas to Cherokee County, Texas, where in 1852 he married Sarah Adaline Kerr, daughter of David A. and Emaline Kerr, both from Mississippi where Sarah had been born.

By 1860 they were in Karnes County; in 1872 moved to Travis County; in 1885 to Llano County where F.C. developed Wilbern's Glen in the Texas Hill Country.

The 9 children of F.C. and Sarah Adaline were: Emily Jane who married George Washington Costley, William W. (Bill) who mar. Elizabeth Ricketson, John H. who mar. Luranie Ricketson, Franklin Columbus who mar. Mary Elizabeth M. Price, Margaret Leah who mar. Tom Calley, Mollie who mar. John C. Cate, David York who mar. Lavinia Ricketson, Alfred H. who mar. Mary Longbottom, and Horace Kerr (Bud) who mar. Ada Houston.

High on the list of F.C.'s unusual life experiences was his Civil War chapter: a strong Union supporter in a Confederate county and state, he "had two brothers and five brothers-in-law in the Confederate Army"; but after being conscripted, deserted the Confederacy and joined the Union Army; later was a leader in the Reconstruction.

Written like a novel with many excerpts from F.C.'s manuscript, this very personalized family history has photos, copies of records, a Descendancy Chart into 7 generations, and some 1900-1903 newspaper columns written by F.C.

Hardcover with illustrated book jacket, 6 x 9 in., 180 pages, $29.95 incl. mailing from the author, P.O. Box 1651, San Marcos TX 78666.

WHITE, HILL WILEY, KUNS

The White, Hill, Wiley and Kuns Cousins researched by Opal L. Streiff, compiled by Peggy L. Haskell, is a big book rich in photos and copies of records.

Descended from an ancient Welsh family from which some lines moved to Ireland and England, there have been Whites in America since the Mayflower on which William and his family arrived. Among the many distinguished family members have been Louisiana's Edward Douglass White, 1845-1921, who rose to the post of U.S. Supreme Court Chief Justice.

This comprehensive genealogy traces from John White who with his wife, Ann Wisdom, came to Virginia c1739, settled in Orange County, had 10 children.

The related Hill line is traced from the ancient Hull family of England and Russell Hill who married Ann Towles, 1738, in Virginia; includes Revolutionary War service.

A chapter of "The Kinsey-Wiley Merger" gives much background on the French Quaker Kinsey family and the 1834 marriage of Ruth Kinsey to Joshua Wiley of English ancestry.

The Kuns connection goes back to the immigrant, Emmanuel, born 1819 in Germany, married Ann Elizabeth Loman in Maryland.

Other chapters give Huckstep, Early, Wilhoit, Bledsoe, Powell, Doniphan, Tutt, etc. connections.

This handsome book with a great deal of information traces into present generations with descendants in many states. Hardcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 521 pages, index of some 4000 names, full-page White coat of arms in color, many illustrations, $30.00 incl. mailing from: Peggy Streiff Haskell, P.O. Box 747, Burwell, NE 68823-0747.

NOTICE

During the reporting period of the period of November 15, 1992 to December 14, 1992, the Cameron Parish Waterworks District #7 Water Supply violated the maximum contaminant level of coliform bacteria as set forth in the State and Federal Primary drinking Water Regulations. Action was taken to eliminate the contamination.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliforms is a possible health concern. Total coliforms are common in the enviroment and are generally not harmful themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, generally is a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nauses, and possible jaundice, and any associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water; but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliforms to reduce the risks of these adverse health effects. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe.

This contamination was due to having a leaking fire hydrant between the District Office and Creole. The leak has been repaired.

MRS. PIERRE BOUDOIN
(By H. D. Primeaux)

Mrs. Pierre Boudoin, who is probably Cameron Parish's oldest resident, observed her 100th birthday last Saturday at her home in Creole. She was born November 14, 1859, at Little Chenier, and has lived in the parish all of her life.

"Mrs. Beean", as she is affectionately known by everyone, lives with her daughter, Miss Elevlia Boudoin, but is still very active, and does some of her own housework. She gets around with the aid of a walker, and is in good health.

Her recollection of Civil War days is amazing, even though she was a child at the time.

Mrs. Boudoin's husband died in 1950 at the age of 90.

She went through Hurricane Audrey at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Ojust Richard.

She has three living daughters, the other one being Mrs. Edgar Theriot. A son, J. P. Boudoin, Sr. well-known Cameron Parish civic and business leader, died last year. Another daughter died at a young age.

She has nine grandchildren, fifteen great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren.

Fifty-one relatives and friends were at Mrs. Boudoin's home last Saturday to help her celebrate her birthday. Among these were a granddaughter, Sister Peters, who is a nun at Opelousas. Two other nuns accompanied Sister Peters.

CENSUS TAKERS

Census takers for Cameron Parish in the 1959 Census of Agriculture have been appointed and began a training course Wednesday at the Association of Commerce building in Lake Charles.

FUR DIRECTORS, CHAIRMEN NAMED

Eleven new members have been elected to the board of directors of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, and committee chairmen have been named for the 1960 festival, scheduled for Jan. 15 and 16, in Cameron.

New board members are: James L. Derouen, Ray Dimas, Ray Burleigh, Harold Carter, E. J. Dronet, Wilman Saltzman, Dr. Cecil Clark, A. H. Crain, Diel LaLande, Dalton Richard and U. E. Dickerson.

Members who remain on the board are W. F. Henry, Hadley Fontenot, J. B. Jones, Jr., E. W. Swindell, O. B. Carter, J. W. Doxey, J. Berton Daigle, Leslie Richard, Alvin Dyson, U. E. Hackett, Conway LeBleu, Walter Stanley, Wakefield Erbelding, Charles Precht, Eraste Hebert, Lee Nunez, Clarence Faulk, Percy David, Joe Sanner, Jerry Wise and Joe O'Connell.

Named as chairmen of the various events and contests for the 1960 festival were: E. W. Swindell, duck and goose calling; Mrs. Hazel Dronet, fur fashion show; Clifford Myers, fur judging; James L. Derouen, parade; Wilman Saltzman and J. W. Doxey, retriever dogs demonstration; Ray Burleigh and J. Berton Daigle, boat races; Ray Dimas and Joe O'Connell, trap shooting; Mrs. Hadley Fontenot, queen's contest; Fletcher Miller, nutria skinning; A. H. Crain, muskrat skinning; Jerry Wise, essay contest; Mrs. Harold Carter, queen's ball; O. B. Carter, traffic; Sam Tarleton, master of ceremonies.

TARPONS END SEASON

Despite the fact that they lost District 5-B honors to Oberlin, the South Cameron High School Tarpons finished up their season ranked as the sixth best Class B team in Louisiana.

The largest crowd ever to see a football game in Oberlin, estimated at more than 2,000 fans, turned out for the game. Half of more of these were from Cameron. There were more than 100 cars in a caravan that went to Oberlin from here.

In a special assembly program at South Cameron last Friday, members of the Tarpon football squad were given recognition for the outstanding season they have had. Alton Magee is coach of the team.

BAND PROGRAM EXPANDED
(by Geneva Griffith)

The South Cameron High School band program, under the direction of Raymond Sibley, has greatly expanded this year. At present there are more than 80 pupils enrolled in band instruction, of which only 18 have had any former training. Junior and senior bands have been organized.

The Tarpon band has had several severe setbacks since it was oranized by I. P. Renfro in 1956. The new uniforms, purchased by the Band Parents Club, were partially lost to Hurricane Audrey, and all of the hats were destroyed.

The following year, South Cameron students were enrolled at at Grand Lake High School, while South Cameron High was being rebuilt. The Band Parent Club elected to let the Grand Lake Band use their uniforms and what few instruments were saved.

When South Cameron reopened in 1958, many of the band students did not return to the band, some because they could not afford new instru-ments, others for other reasons.

This year, the Band Parents are helping the band to make a come back. The club is raising money by various means to purchase band music, to pay for the cleaning and storing of uniforms, sponsoring of band trips, and the purchase of new hats for the band.

might want to look for them at local stores.

1923 Hackberry gusher

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 28, 1928)
GUSHER AT HACKBERRY

The Calcasieu Oil Company has, in the opinion of local oil men, made a wonderful success with its No. 12 well in the West Hackberry field, and in bringing in a good gusher Saturday night, achieved something very much out of the ordinary during recent eyars in coastal fields.

No. 12 Watkins, which was brought in as a thousand-barrel, pipeline gusher, had no screen in it, the old style of "open hole" being given a test.

(Cameron Pilot, Dec. 25, 1959)
PECAN ISLAND ROAD NOT OPEN

The new road between Grand Chenier and Pecan Island is not open to through traffic yet, according to Rep. Alvin Dyson.

Although some cars have been going through, the Pecan Island end of the road has not been shelled yet and is not passble in wet weather.

Rep. Dyson asked the public not to use the road until the shelling is completed within a month or two.

The Superior bridge on the Cameron side is now in operation.

Mr. Dyson said the road will have to settle about two years before it can be blacktopped.

PARISH STUDENTS AT MCNEESE

Amng the 2,502 students enrolled at McNeese this semester, five are from Cameron; seven from Creole; and five from Grand Chenier, Mrs. Inez Moses, registrar, announced.

Those from Cameron include Randolph Adam Cheramie, Robert Ray Montie, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Montie; Kenneth J. Dupont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Collise Dupont; and the Misses Mae Doris constance, daughter of Peter Constance, Jr.; and Arlene Blanche Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Stanley.

And the Misses Jimmie Ann Meaux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Meaux; Josi Ann Richard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Richard; and Patricia Louise O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Abe O'Donnell.

Mhire; James Larry Roberts, son of Mrs. Henry Roy; and the Misses Mae Ann Theriot, daughter of Mrs. C. D. Theriot; and Olga Marie Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curley J. Vincent.

THIS WEEK
(By Jerry Wise)

Cameron gets a brief mention in the January issue of the Reader's Digest in an article entitled "The Posse Rides Again." Condensed from the Denver Post, the story tells about the many voluntary sheriff possees around the country which aid in search and rescue work.

The article tells about 40 of Sheriff Buster Kern's (Harris County, Texas) volunteers who flew to Cameron to help the hurricane victims.

J. P. Jones, Jr., may be a distinguished attorney and the assistant district attorney, but he's still a country boy at heart. The flower beds in front of his ofice contain--not flowers--but mustard greens, turnips and radishes.

Credit should be given to all those responsible for decorating the courthouse for Christmas this year. Under the chairmanship of Hadley Fontenot, many individuals donated their services in putting up the lights and Christmas tree. The 16-foot pine tree was donated by Mrs. Agnes Johnson of DeQuincy and Martin Gayle Theriot and Roland Primeaux hauled it

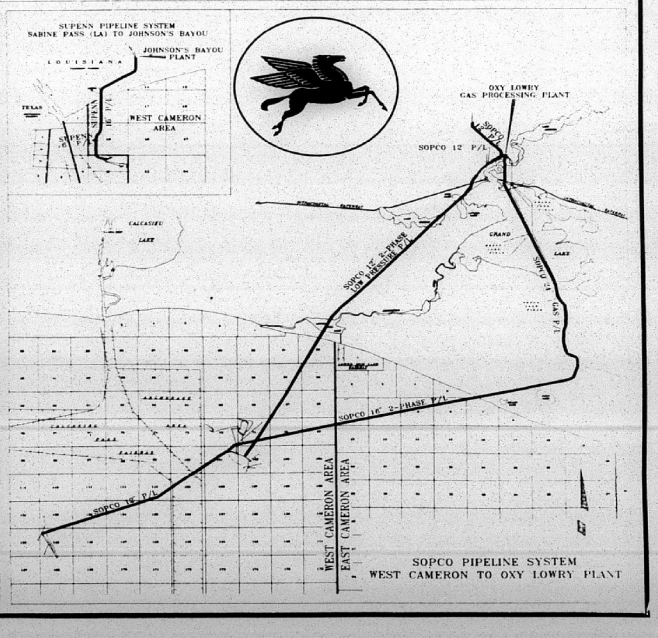
ATTENTION FISHERMEN, SHRIMPERS, DREDGE OPERATORS AND OTHER MARINE OPERATORS & ONSHORE EXCAVATORS



As pipeline, marine vessel operators and excavators, we need to look out for each other to prevent mishaps. Mobil Exploration and Producing U.S. Company would like to point out some common sense things that all of us can do to operate safely onshore and in the Gulf of Mexico.

What Mobil Oil Company is doing:

*We are periodically checking the condition of our offshore pipelines to ensure burial and structural integrity.
*We are periodically checking all road crossing locations to ensure that those crossings are properly marked with painted post and the signs contain correct contact information.
*We report the location of our offshore pipelines to the Corp of Engineers and Mineral Management Service for accurate recording on marine charts.
*We are members of the DOTTIE "One Call System" which allows onshore contractors to accurately locate buried pipelines prior to excavation activities. WE SINCERELY ENCOURAGE THE USE OF THE DOTTIE 'ONE CALL SYSTEM'.
*We work with the U.S. Coast Guard to ensure that our pipelines are shown on the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) nautical charts.

What Marine Vessel Operators and Onshore Contractors can do:

*Be aware that striking or snagging a pipeline can rupture the pipeline and endanger your vessel and crew.
*Surf, storms and varying current conditions among other things, can unearth pipelines. Therefore, avoid runing aground. . .all pipelines may not be buried.
*Check your charts for pipelines in your area of operation, especially before weighing anchor, lowering equipment, trawling, dredging, etc.
*CALL BEFORE YOU DIG; DOTTIE 1-800-272-3020 and advise of your intentions prior to excavating. Pipeline rights-of-ways and road crossing can be confusing; let DOTTIE and MOBIL help to make your excavation job safe and successful.

Welch named to All State team

By JOE MUELLER

The Louisiana Sportswriters have released their All State Team. The team has one representative on the first team from the Tarpons, Rusty Welch at defensive lineman.

The Tarpons Chris McCall received high honorable mention honors.

The Tarpons finished the year at 12-1. Seven players were named to the All state Team from teams the Tarpons faced during the year.

From District 6AA, of which the Tarpons are champions, Iota placed three players on the first team - Anthony Poullard at running back, tight end Christ Fontenot and defensive back Kyle Doucet.

Welsh placed one player, Gilbert Achan, at defensive back and Coach Dutton Wall won the coach's honor.

Pickering, a team from District 5AA who the Tarpons beat, had the outstanding defensive player in linebacker, Ricky Conn, and offensive guard, Brad McManus. The Coushatta team, who eliminated the Tarpons from the playoffs, had one player, defensive lineman Andres Lee.

South Cameron's Rusty Welch had 87 solo tackles on the season and 25 of those tackles were for losses.

Meeting set on by-catch

The public is invited to attend a meeting at USL to address federal mandates that will place a limit on the amount of fish by-catch allowed in the shrimping industry. By-catch Forum '93 will be held Jan. 30, to provide fishermen, environmental groups and regulatory agencies with the latest information on research and development in reducing fish by-catch.

The issue is extremely important since a reduction in fish by-catch will be shortly mandated by federal law, according to Jay Huner, director of the Crawfish Research Center at USL. The by-catch consists of fish and other marine life that is inadvertently caught in nets along with the shrimp. It is not part of the harvest, and is normally discarded.

"If the target level of fish catch is not reduced, then the feds can shut down the whole shrimping industry," says Huner. "Everyone's trying to develop gear to reduce by-catch while not affecting shrimp production."

The forum will be held at the USL Union Building Theatre from 1-5 p.m. Sat., Jan. 30. Sponsors include Gulf & South Atlantic Fisheries Development Foundation and USL. It will be attended by state and local officials, along with university researchers.

For more information, contact him at 318-231-5239 or 318-234-0682. Jane Black, director of Organization of Louisiana Fishermen, also has more information. She can be reached at 504-475-6770 or 504-475-5620.

0% acreage reduction set

The United States Department of Agriculture has announced a preliminary zero percent acreage reduction for the 1993 Rice Program, the same as the 1992 program, according to Kirk L. Smith, County ACSC Executive Director.

This means that farmers who participate will not be required to reduce their plantings to qualify for price support loans and deficiency payments, Smith said, and there is no requirement to place eligible cropland into an Acreage Conservation Reserve. Regardless of the zero requirement, producers will have to sign intentions to participate in order to qualify for the benefits.

Rice program benefits include price support loans at $6.50 per hundredweight, and target price protection at $10.71 per hundredweight, the same as in 1992. "To be eligible for loans, purchases, and payments n the 1993 rice crop, producers must not plant in excess of their rice acreage base plus plantings permitted on flexible acres," Smith said.

The program offers advance payments in cash of 50 percent of the estimated deficiency payments.

Subject to the approval of the electors of the district, an ad valorem tax can be voted. The district may collect charges for equipment, facilities and services rendered.

Questions concerning the legislation were answered by Rep. Roach and District Attorney Glenn Alexander.

Motorists to be given a break

Motorists going to and from work and school in the Grand Lake and Big Lake areas will get some relief from being held up by Intracoastal drawbridges if some new bridge operating regulations are adopted.

Two area drawbridges may soon be closed to navigation traffic from 6 to 8 a.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday except holidays.

The Louisiana Department of Transportation and Development recently requested the Coast Guard to amend operating regulations for the two drawbridges in Cameron and Calcasieu parishes.

One of the bridges, the LA 384 Grand Lake Bridge, crosses the Intracoastal Waterway. The other is located at LA 384 and Black Bayou.

The LA 384 Grand Lake Bridge has an average of 1.5 vessels per hour pass the bridge during the hours proposed for closing. The LA 384 Black Bayou Bridge averages 1.15 vessels per hour during the same period.

Vehicle traffic for these hours average 71.8 per hour for the Grand Lake Bridge and 33 per hour on the Black Bayou Bridge.

Comments in opposition to the porposal must specify how this proposal would create a hardship on the objector's method of operation.

Comments should be submitted to the Eighth Coast Guard District, Bridge Administration Branch, 501 Magazine Street, New Orleans, La. 70130-3396, before Jan. 25, 1993.

1926 Highway plans

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 31, 1926)

THE GULF BEACH HIGHWAY

The organization of the Gulf Beach Highway Association and the completion of plans for opening a modern road from DeQuincy into the rich trade and pleasure resort section of Cameron Parish occurred in 1926.

As soon as the bill by Rep. D. D. Hereford of DeQuincy, creating state route No. 104, had been signed by the governor, the DeQuincy Chamber of Commerce issued a call for a meeting in DeQuincy for the purpose of forming an organization to foster efforts for immediate action. This meeting was well attended by delegates from Sulphur, Hackberry, Singer, DeRidder, Johnson's Bayou and Lake Charles. A committee on organization, with Dr. A. H. Lafargue as chairman, was appointed and at a meeting of the committee in Sulphur a few days later, an organization was formed with Dr. Lafargue as president.

The results of these efforts have been a survey by locating engineers of the Louisiana Highway Commission; plans and estimates of cost made and approved by the commission; a road district created in Cameron Parish, and an election called for Jan. 11, to vote a bond issue to pay one-half of the cost of construction of an unfinished gap from Hackberry to the town of Cameron, in Cameron Parish.

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 27, 1929)

HACKBERRY

Hackberry was covered with ice, sleet and snow Saturday and Sunday. The heavy ice on the trees caused many limbs to break off. Fruit trees that were not covered are thought to have been killed.

The Gulf States Utilities high line broke in two in Hackberry Saturday evening at 5 o'clock cutting off all electricity in Hackberry until the line could be repaired about 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

The Hackberry oil field managers had to go to Sulphur to phone in their reports to their headquarters offices, being unable to use telephones here.

Three boys were busy shoveling snow and sleet off the ferry crossing of the Intracoastal canal leading into Hackberry.

(Cameron Pilot, Jan. 1, 1960)

MYSTERIOUS CALLS

(By Mrs. H. D. Primeaux)

Mysterious calls for help touched off a big search in the marsh around Creole Christmas Eve but nothing definite was found.

Several hunters heard the cries north of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Odus McCullman. Thinking perhaps some hunter had been accidently shot, a search was conducted by local residents and the sheriff's department.

All that was found was a group of young boys who had gotten tired of hunting with their elders and were playing games on the next ridge. They may have been the ones who were heard calling -- but no one is sure.

CEMENT SALES FIRM

The Cameron Supply Company, a firm which will sell portland cement to oilwell drilling firms and to building contractors, opened in Cameron Monday, according to Elmer E. Hasha, one of its owners.

The new business is located in the warehouse owned by Peter C. Henry across from LaBove's Magnolia Station.

ROAD TO BE SURFACED

Another section of the Hug-the-Coast road in Cameron Parish will be blacktopped in the near future, Rep. Alvin Dyson announced this week.

Mr. Dyson said the state highway department will let a contract on Jan. 27, for the blacktopping of four miles of the road from the east end of Grand Chenier to the Superior Bridge.

At the same time a contract will be let for a hot mix overlay for the road from the Mermentau River to the east end of Grand Chenier. This project plus the four mile project will total 19 miles of blacktop.

The new four miles of road to be surfaced were built by Cameron Parish six years ago, and at the same time the Superior Oil Co. built a bridge at the end of that section. Both this section of the road and the bridge have been turned over to the state highway department.

When these new projects are completed, only 11.2 miles of the Hug-the-Coast road will be left unpaved between Grand Chenier and Pecan Island, 4 miles in Cameron and 7.2 miles in Vermilion. The dirt work for this portion was completed this past summer, and will have to settle for about two years before it can be blacktopped.

On the west side of the parish, 12 miles of the road between the Johnson Bayou school and the Sabine causeway remain to be blacktopped. Mr. Dyson said the highway department is still trying to get rights-of-way for this project and that they hope to be able to call for bids in the near future.

FARM INCOME SETS RECORD IN 1959

Cameron Parish farmers income in 1959 will exceed 2¼ million, a record figure that exceeds even the pre-Hurricane Audrey years.

That is the highlight of the annual report just issued by Hadley Fontenot for the Cameron county agent's office.

Mr. Fontenot states that good prices for cattle in 1959 and a better than average yield of rice have helped to overcome the lower price of rice to bring the total income to the new record level.

The rice and corn crops were also new records for the parish according to the county agent's report.

Another indication of progress is the organization of a cattlemen's association which has long been needed to serve this very important phase of agriculture in the parish. Over 80 members have become members since it was organized just a few months ago.

A parish average yield of rice per acre of approximately 18 barrels, green weight, is the best in the history of the parish.

To name a few, Absie Duhon estimates he increased his yield about 2 barrels per acre by top dressing with nitrogen. Hebert-Precht Brothers were able to keep weed competition to a minimum by water planting and averaged over 20 barrels per acre on their crop. Daniel Broussard estimates he increased his yield by several barrels by having used a balanced fertilizer as recommended by a soil test.

Estimated average of corn yield per acre was in excess of 30 barrels, another first in Cameron Parish. A yield of 81 bushels was reported as top yield of the year and was produced by Conway LeBleu of Cameron. Several yields of over 60 bushels were reported. Severin Miller and Claude Bonsall of Grand Chenier, Dupre Guidry of Sweetlake and Ojust Richard of Creole to name a few.

About 1,000 acres were planted to corn this year by approximately 90 people.

New TEDs regulations are explained here

Regulations imposed by federal marine fish agencies now require shrimp trawlers to comply with sea turtle conservation measures throughout the year in all water bodies. Louisiana commercial shrimpers are alerted to the actions of the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) relative to the use of Turtle Excluder Devices (TEDs) and listed tow-times effective December 1, 1992.

Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Marine Biologist Pete Juneau noted that the sea turtle conservation requirements are applicble to all shrimp trawlers. He said the new TEDs rules for offshore fishermen mandate that all primary trawls (regardless of boat size or trawl size) be equipped with approved turtle excluder devices. Inshore requirements to pull TEDs will become effective January 1, 1993. Additionally, Juneau reports that various other technical corrections and changes to the sea turtle conservation measures have been made.

A summary of the final rule on the new TEDs regulations, effective dates and exemptions is provded here:

*By 1/1/93: All inshore primary trawls must be equpped with approved turtle excluder devices. However, inshore vessels pulling single trawls having a headrope length of less than 35 feet and a footrope length of less than 44 feet are eligible for limited tow times until 12/1/94. Limited tow time for such eligible trawls is 55 minutes (April 1 through October 31) and 75 minutes (November 1 through March 31).

*A shrimp trawler is exempt from the TEDs rule if it complies with the limited tow times restrictions and if it has on board no power or mechanical advantage trawl retrieval system; or is a bait shrimper that retains all live shrimp on board in a container with a circulating seawater system, if it does not possess more than 32 pounds of dead shrimp on board and has a valid original state bait shrimp license; or has only a pusher head trawl, skimmer trawl, or wing net (butterfly net) rigged for fishing; or it is in an area during a period in which tow time restrictions apply and it complies with applicable provisions associated with such. Prior to Jan. 1, 1993, a vessel is exempt from the TEDs rule if it is in inshore waters or offshore waters and is less than 25 feet in length.

*Fishing gear or activities exempt include a single test net (try net) with a headrope length of 20 feet or less, if it is either pulled immediately in front of another net or is not connected to another net in any way, if no more than one test net is used at a time, and if it is not towed as a primary net; a beam or roller trawl fished without doors, boards, or similar devices, that has a mouth formed by a rigid frame and rigid vertical bars, if none of the space between the bars or between the bars and frame exceed four inches; a shrimp trawler fishing for, or possessing, royal red shrimp, if at least 90 percent by weight of all shrimp either found on board or off-loaded from that shrimp trawler, is royal red shrimp.

A hollowed-out stone was one of the first lamps. Ancient peoples used plant fibers as a wick to burn fat placed in the hollow.

New Years' recipe comes from Texas

Mrs. Earl Alston has shared with us a clipping from the Beaumont Enterprise for December 1960 that gives not only a recipe but the legend of it.

This is taken from the "Country Cookin'" column of Lexie Herndon. Mrs. Alston says this has been her recipe since reading it in 1960.

"The peas and hog jowl concoction is probably the most popular of all the 'Good Luck' dishes that are served on the first of the New Year, even to the extent that practically all cafes and restaurants not only include the dish on their menus, but advertise it.

"This recipe is one that was used some 79 years ago in the household of Joseph F. Syler. He moved his family from Tennessee to Burkeville, Newton County, Tex., where he helped to organize the Blum Male and Female College. He was the first president of the college.

"Their Negro cook, a native of Newton County, cooked the peas on New Year's Day and insisted that all eat a 'goodly portion' to bring them luck.

"Wash and soak one pound of dried peas overnight. Drain the water and boil in clear water to cover about ten minutes. Drain. Put about two quarts of water in the pot. When it boils, add the peas, one-half pound of hog jowl cut into small pieces, salt, black pepper, a pod of red pepper and a small onion. Simmer for about two hours."

Trapping season

I really don't have much activity to report, except Christmas is gone for another year and the new year is here.

I sure hope you got your gift you wanted for Christmas, as Santa Claus was good to me getting the portable cellular phone I wanted for my truck and boat.

Duck season is on its last split and seems like hunting is on a hit and miss pattern. We do have lots of water in our marshes, and I really don't know if that's good or bad.

Remember our duck and coot season is going to close on Sat., Jan. 9.

Deer season is closing Jan. 3. It'll be finished for the year and we can grease up the old rifle until next year.

Dove season will close Jan. 11, and that's all for this season also.

Our Louisiana trapping season is in full swing. Catches are fair to poor in most areas. Some of the prices going now are: nutria $5 tops, $2.50 medium and $1 small pelts. Otter is $19 to $20, and mink is running $5 to $9. Muskrat is $1 and 50 cents. No coons are being bought as there's no price.

There will be some changes made in our offshore fishing for 1993, both sports and commercial. We'll bring these to you in 1993.

With not much else to report, I would like to thank everyone for reading our article and thanks to those who gave information for us to print.

I would like to wish each and every one of you a very Happy New Year and a prosperous 1993.

Little Miss, Mr. practice set

Practice for the 1993 Little Miss and Mister Cameron Parish contest will be held Sun., Jan. 3, at 2 p.m. in the Cameron Elementary auditorium.

Horse meeting set at L. C.

The latest in high-tech animal health monitoring and proposals to upgrade regulations dealing with Louisiana's horse industry will be the subjects of statewide meetings in January, according to Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom.

One meeting will be held in the Chalkley Room, Burton Coliseum, Lake Charles, Monday, Jan. 11, at 7 p.m.

State veterinarians will demonstrate how a microchip, implanted in the neck of horses, will track diseases and replace the brand and ear tags historically used on the animals, Odom said.

"This is a first-of-its-kind government program to help us keep up with the medical history of 200,000 horses in Louisiana. Hopefully it will eventually help eliminate some of the animal diseases in our livestock herds," Odom said.

The program is also seen as a forerunner to the day when cattle are no longer branded, but ownership and medical history are recorded with the use of the microchip, Odom said.

These include how to deal with horses found to have Equine Infectious Anemia and other diseases, and what and when disease-indicating tests are to be done before a horse is sold.
