Letters

Dear Editor:

I am writing this letter concerning the Cameron Parish education system. I am a graduate of Johnson Bayou High School and McNeese State University. I have lived in Cameron Parish all 25 years of my life. I now have a loving wife and 6 month old child. In 4 years and 6 months our child will enter the Cameron Parish school system.

Let me share with you a theory I hold very dear to my hear, "I believe that children are our future, lead them well then let them lead the way." My friends, it is our duty to provide quality education for our children. We must begin this education at home and let me emphasize it is never too early. There comes a time though, that we as parents need help so we send out children to school.

Let me express my sincere gratitude and utmost respect to those people who choose to devote their life to the profession that guides and educates our young people, Teachers.

A word of caution, parents, this does not mean that teachers are suppose to raise our children. If teachers would be allowed to teach and not have to be moms and dads the world would be a better place. We as parents, along with teachers, must instill the proper morals and values that they need to survived.

Let me now address the remainder of our school system, the staff, the administration, and the school board. In the educaiton process we must not forget the people who provide clean classrooms to learn, cook the food to keep our children healthy, transport them safely to and from, and deal with the everyday bookkeeping to keep things in order. These items are essential to education. Let us not forget the administrators of this sytem. It is a known fact that someone must ensure that the job is being done right.

Now, Mr. Editor, let me share a few thoughts about the Cameron Parish School Board. Let me first commend the six members of the board for making the effort to run for public office. However, let me now express an opinion. On April 17, 1996, my wife and I attended a school board meeting at the central office. I'll be honest, it was the first school board meeting I had ever attended. However, I assure you it will not be my last.

A financial meeting began at 1:05 p.m. and rolled over into a regular monthly meeting. It lasted for approximately 8 hours. To be honest, I was quite disgusted at what I saw and heard. In the eight hours that I sat in that meeting I saw the general public denied the right to speak and employees of the school board denied the right to express their views.

I saw and heard the president of the board belittle techers, try to "trade" teachers, overpower other board members, vote for items with conditions that were not stated in the specific motions (which, by the way, Mr. President, can't be done) and to top everything off, made a mockery of a letter sent to him from the President of the United States.

I was very offended. Throughout the proceedings the president of the board made a statement, the further away from the kids you are, the less you are needed. Let me remind you, Mr. President, you are the furthest away.

People of Cameron Parish, we must get involved. God help us.

Sincerely,

/s/ Barry Wayne Badon

Doctor's discovery may end obesity

Paid Advertisement

HILTON HEAD, S.C. -- A doctor has discovered that an ingredient found in a small fruit grown in Asia, combined with an ingredient praised by the U.S. Department of Agriculture can help cause significant weight loss.

In a study published in a prestigious American medical journal, Dr. Anthony A. Conte, M.D. reported that the formula, now called Bio-Max 3000, caused patients to lose more than twice as much weight as a control group on the same fat reduced diet. Neither group was instructed to decrease the amount of food they ate or to increase their exercise levels. An article published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition confirms that you don't have to reduce the amount of food you eat to lose weight, provided that you limit the fat.

Scientists suggest that the mechanism behind the weight reduction includes decreasing sugar cravings and interruption of the "Krebs Cycle", an important step in the body's fat storage process. "The best part of this unique discovery is that it is not a drug, but a safe dietary food supplement" says Dr. Conte. The Asian fruit, called garcinia, is similar to citrus fruit found in the United States with one big exception-- it may help some people fight obesity! While Dr. Conte's study may be preliminary, the exclusive North American distributor, Phillips Gulf Corp., is calling the Bio-Max 3000 supplement "Nature's Ideal Diet Aid."

According to a spokesperson for the company, Bio-Max 3000 is now available on a limited basis through pharmacies and nutrition stores or call 1-800-729-8446.© 1995 Phillips Gulf Corp

Picard new supt. of education

—CAPITAL NEWS—

The state Board of Elementary and Secondary Education unanimously selected a veteran lawmaker and former educator as the new head of the Department of Education.

Maurice Sen. Cecil Picard, chosen over two other finalists last week, said he will not assume his new job until July 1, so he may represent his senatorial district during the regular legislative session.

After July 1, Gov. Mike Foster will call a special election, to coincide with November's general election, to elect someone to serve the remainder of Picard's term in the District 25 Senate seat.

Qualifying for the District 25 Senate race will take place July 10-12.

The 58-year-old legislator was a public school teacher and principal from 1959 to 1980. He served in the state House of Representatives from 1976 to 1979 and has been serving in the Senate since 1979. His district encompasses Cameron Parish and parts of Acadia, Calcasieu, Jefferson Davis and Vermilion parishes.

Picard, who had Gov. Mike Foster's support for superintendent, will oversee the department's 977 employees and implement policy in the state's more than 1,400 public schools. He called his unanimous selected "a strong vote of confidence."

He promised to be the "ambassador for education" saying he will "sell education throughout the state and get public confidence back in education." He plans to tour the state, meeting each of the local school superintendents, and then evaluate personnel at the state department as part of an effort to "build a team" where he is comfortable and confident of its loyalty. BESE members believe one of his most valuable assets could be his years in the Legislature.

"I have the ability to bridge the gap between BESE and the Legislature and the governor. It's got to be a two-way process. It's been a problem in the past," Picard said. The governor has considered trying to eliminate BESE, and lawmakers often balk at approving the annual public school funding plan BESE proposes. When the current formula is not approved, the system must operate on the most recent approved one.

Hackberry teams state champions

(Alexandria Daily Town Talk)

Powerful Hackberry collected 12 hits and Sheree Abshire fired a seven-hitter to down Hicks 9-6 Saturday in the Class C state high school softball chamionship game at the Youth Complex in Alexandria.

The state title was the first in school history for Hackberry.

"They just hit the ball like we needed to and they just played well," said Sandy Thibodeaux, whose team ended its season 13-6 and missed a chance to win the school's first title since the 1991 Lady Pirate squad won the Class B championship. "Plus, they had that six-run second inning that killed us."

Abshire (12-1) struck out two and walked none. Hicks' Felicia Meade (8-3) took the loss, allowing 12 hits, fanning four and walking six in seven innings.

Hackberry, which completed the season 13-1, was led at the plate by Jansie Poole, who had two singles, a double and three RBIs. Candace Smith paced Hicks with two doubles and an RBI.

"The kids believed in themselves and showed a lot of heart and dedication," said Hackberry coach Tara Johnson. "What is so good about softball is that on any given day one team can beat another and we were just prepared and played well today."

After a scoreless first inning, Hackberry's relentless offense went to work.

The Lady Mustangs sent 10 batters to the plate in the top of the second, collecting six runs on five hits and took advantage of three Hicks errors.

The key hits of the inning were a two-run single by Brandy LaBauve and run-scoring singles by Poole and Shelly Fontenot.

The Lady Mustangs continued their stampede in the top of the third with one run when LaBauve cracked another RBI single.

Hicks, which crushed St. Joseph's 14-4 in the semifinals, finally got its offense on track in the fourth.

The Lady Pirates rallied for three runs on three hits led by Smith and Carla Tibbitts' RBI doubles.

Hicks' final run was unearned, reducing the deficit to 7-3.

Hackberry countered with two runs in the sixth, grabbing a 9-3 edge.

Poole provided the spark again with a two-run double to ceter field that scored Lori Sanders and Jackie Gross.

Hicks kept battling, however, and scored three unearned runs in the bottom of the inning.

New oyster rules

An emergency rule promulgated by the Department of Health and Hospitals for oyster harvesters that goes into effect May 1, includes among its requirements more rapid refrigeration of oysters that are harvested and marketed for raw consumption.

Oysters intended for shucking in a certified shucking plant may be harvested under the current less stringent refrigeration rules only if properly identified. Tags for oysters harvested in a certified plant must be overstamped in large neon green letters with the words For Shucking By A Certified Dealer.

Department of Wildlife and Fisheries License Section Supervisor Janis Landry said that prestamped tags will not be available by the May 1, effective date. "Until the Department receives its first supply of special prestamped tags, harvesters will be required to hand-stamp the basic tags that are currently in use," she said.

Landry noted that care should be taken to write legibly and in bold letters a minimum of a half inch in height on one side of the tag.

Pre-stamped tags should be available by mid-May, according to Landry. Oyster harvesters should call LDWF's Dennis Miller in New Orleans at 504/568-5736 regarding availability.

A divided community

Dear Editor:

A community divided. This is what Hackberry has become. What major incident could cause a close-knit (or so we thought) community so much turmoil? Well, it's that ugly green-eyed monster called jealousy.

On Sat., April 27, Hackberry accomplished a feat that may have never been accomplished before and may never occur again in community history. In that one day, three athletic teams brought home state championships.

Fans crowded into the gymnasium to support our elementary basketball teams. Afterwards, some of these fans drove to Alexandria to join other die-hard supporters in rooting for the high school team. Members of the community participated in a big welcome home for the girls high school softball team to show our support. Support was also generously exhibited for the two girls state Lil' Dribblers champions.

But by Monday morning, jealousy had begun to rear its ugly head.

An assembly for the entire school (pre-K through 12) was conducted that morning to honor all three teams. At first, the support seemed genuine. However, as the assembly progressed, subtle indications from some "supporters" in the audience demonstrated discontent at the idea of the high school team having to "share the limelight" with the elementary teams. Unfortunately, the discontent did not end there.

On Tuesday, word leaked out that there was a movement by several supporters of the high school team to eliminate the elementary teams from participating in the school's yearly athletic banquet. This, in spite of the fact that the Lil' Dribblers who had won state last year, not only received invitations to last year's banquet, but received medals for their accomplishment.

The comment was made that due to finances and space, to honor the elementary at a "high school" banquet would be too overwhelming. What community would not love to be "overwhelmed" with three state champion teams, whether it be high school or elementary?

Hackberry High School has always encompassed all students (grades pre-K through 12), whether it be for school activities, academic achievement, athletic achievement, fund raisers, attendance at pep rallies, etc.

Why do these few now insist on a separation of the elementary and high school? Why cast a cloud of gloom over what should have been a momentous occasion for all?

Now, at a time when our entire school should feel nothing but pride and unity, we have become a community divided due to pettiness.

Attendance at the athletic banquet is not the real issue here. The issue is support -- equal support, that is.

We have supported school activities long before we even had children in school. We feel proud when any member of our student body excels, whether it be academic or athletic, elementary or high school. Needless to say, we will continue to support our "whole" school.

Outcome based ed questioned

Dear Editor:

Outcome Based Education seems to have the goal of trying to de-educate our children and grandchildren in order for eventual government control by educating children to be ignorant. OBE does not stress scholastic academics. Knowledge is power.

FISHING LICENSES

The 1996-97 hunting and fishing license will not be available until June 17, and will not be valid until July 1. The 1995-96 licenses will be available until June 30, so sportsmen will not be two weeks without a fishing license.

A reminder, a basic resident fishing license is required before you purchase a resident sasltwater license, and after purchasing a resident saltwater license, you still have to purchase the Marine Conservation Act Stamp for saltwater fishing to be legal. You cannot purchase a saltwater license unless you purchase the Marine Conservation Stamp.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB

The Lemesche Bass Club held their first tournament of the year April 20. Club members chose non-club members to fish as their partners. Entry fees were $20 a team, plus 410 for largest bass. Money paid three places in each. Winners were as follows:

Team Stringer: 1. Darren Richard and Quenton LeBoeuf, Lacassine Refuge. 2. Scooter Trosclair and Ricky Canik, Miami Corp, Amoco. 3. Carl Broussard and Neil Smith, Miami Corp, Amoco.

Largest Bass: 1. Quenton LeBoeuf. 2. Jerry Canik. 3. Todd Conner.

Single stringers: 1. Scooter Trosclair, Lacassine. 2. Jerry Canik, Big Burn. 3. Todd Conner, Lacassine. 4. Ricky Canik, Amoco. 5. Darren Richard, Lacassine. 6. Tom Hess, Amoco. 7. Mike Johnson. 8. Loston McEvers, Lacassine. 9. Carl Broussard, Amoco.

DROUGHT CONDITIONS

we are still extra low on water in all our marshes. Again we got only 1/2 inch of rain. Things are really getting serious, not only for fishermen but cattlemen as well. No water in our marshes hurts the fishermen and we'll probably end up with a large fish kill, but the cattlemen as well are still moving cattle because of the no drinking water in the marsh, and yes, they are losing cattle as a few reports that came to me.

With the drought conditions of western Louisiana and eastern Texas continuing, even authorities of the Sabine River are expressing concern with the water drop on Toledo Bend Reservoir. Normally at this time during the spring of the year, the reservoir is at or near full pool level. If no rainfall comes within the next week or so, it will not come close to filling up.

The authority has made an agreement with the electric power company, seeking temporary relief and not drawn water power to further down the reservoir.

This will help, but without rain the reservoir could still go down further. If an emergency situation occurs, additional generation would occur or if the water comes up by rain to average elevation, then regular generation would occur.

ROCKEFELLER REFUGE NEWS

Last week I visited Guthrie Perry at Rockefeller Refuge and he took me through the lab where they were hatching striped bass. They were there by the thousands about one-quarter of an inch long. These folks at Rockefeller have hatched millions of these stripers and put them in our rivers for more resources for sports fishermen. Their set up is great and they do go day and night when the hatching occurs.

LACASSINE REFUGE NEWS

Still big fish coming out of Lacassine, but it seems most of the bass have spawned and left the beds. Fishing is getting pretty tough and the pool is over a foot lower than normal. The Ron Castille Monday night dog fight a week ago had 45 boats, but fishing was tough. A two fish stringer won, with a 7 lb. in the limit also taking the large bass. The team won the tournament money and big bass money. Many anglers didn't even weigh-in.

SALTWATER FISHING

Fishing Big Lake may be slow and the water may not be the best, but this is the time of the year to catch a big speckle trout. The water is fairly clear and salt water is up to the northern part of the lake due to low water conditions. The specks are ready to spawn this time of the year.

Remember, these large specks have large teeth so use a leader on a barrel swivel. Also, speckle trout have a tender mouth, so don't hoist them in. Turner's Bay is usually good as well as the old jetties and West Cove. Also, May is the month to do some surf fishing by walking along the Gulf beaches.

FEEDING PERIODS

Best: Fri., May 3, 10:50 a.m. and 11:30 p.m.; Sat., May 4, 12 noon and 12:55 a.m.; Sun., May 5, 12:50 p.m.

Good: Fri., 5:20 a.m. and 5:40 p.m.; Sat., 6:15 a.m. and 6:40 p.m.; Sun., 7:10 a.m. and 7:50 p.m.

Search on for special children

The Cameron Parish School Board has proclaimed April as "Child Search Awareness Month". Child Search is a continuing effort of the Louisiana State Department of Education and Public School system to locate and identify children with disabilities. Federal and state legislation require educators to find and evaluate children birth through 21 who are in need of services in order to benefit from education.

Due to legislation concerning services to the infant/toddler population, birth through 2 years of age, special emphasis is being placed on identifying and serving children in this age group who may need special services.

Child Search is looking for children who may be mentally disabled, hearing or visually impaired, severe language disordered, autistic, emotionally disturbed, health impaired, multi-disabled, or otherwise disabled. The program also seeks gifted and talented children who are provided special programs under Louisiana law.

To make a referral or for more information, call Willyne Kestel, Supervisor of Special Educaiton or Donna Kaufman, Child Search/Child Net coordinator at 775-7570.

Birding events set in area

Sixty-five million Americans enjoy bird watching and bird feeding. yet, many are not aware that populations of some of our favorite birds are declining, for example wood thrush, cerulean warbler, bobolink, and Bachman's sparrow. The second Saturday in May is this year's International Migratory Bird Day, and is set aside for appreciation of the more than 300 species of birds in North America that migrate to and from the tropics each year, and to increase awareness of declines inpopulations of many of these species, the "Neotropical" migratory songbirds.

There are several events being planned locally to celebrate Migratory Bird Day and help educate the public about our feathered international travelers.

The Gulf Coast Bird Club will hold a meeting at 7 p.m. on May 9, at Frasch Hall on the McNeese University Campus in Lake Charles.

Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge will host a birding field trip on May 4, at 7 a.m. at the Lacassine Refuge headquarters. Call Wayne Syron at 318-774-5923 to register.

The Gulf Coast Bird Club will host a birding field trip on May 11, and interested bird watchers should meet in Lake Charles at 7 a.m. at the First National Bank parking lot at the corner of Ryan and College Streets (take the Ryan Street exit off I-210).

Films on neotropical birds and their conservation will be shown at Cameron Prairie National Wildlife Refuge on Highway 27 (south of Holmwood) from 1-4 p.m. on May 11.

40-unit apartments to be built here

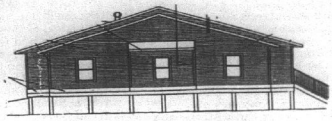
By GENEVA GRIFFITH

A contract of partnership between the Cameron Community Action Committee and Calhoun Builders of Mansfield was signed this week in the Police Jury office to build the $1.6 million 40-unit Cameron Place Apartments on a 7½ -acre site about four miles east of Cameron. It will be just east of Cameron Steel, which was formerly a part of the Sells property.

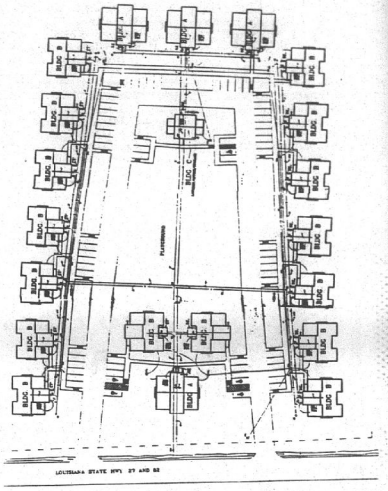
The Community Action Agency has been working on the project for two years and its partnership with Calhoun Builders was approved last month.

Steven J. Finagan, architect, of Metairie, designed the complex which consists of thirty-two 2-bedroom wood frame duplexes and eight 3-bedroom units.



All units are handicapped adaptable and will sit on 4-foot piers to meet the flood plain requirements. (The previous owner had already filled in 5 feet of dirt.)

This will not be a public housing facility but only familes with incomes of less than $26,500 will qualify for the unit. This income amount has been set by the State Division of Administration.



Bank One, formerly Premier Bank, and Louisiana Finace Housing Agency, are the financiers for the project. Calhoun Builders will manager the apartments after they are built.

Applications for apartments are being taken by calling the Council on Aging office, 775-5145 to be put on the list.

A ground-breaking ceremony will be held in the near future and the completion date for the complex will be in October.

H'berry teams are honored

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

A capacity crowd, standing room only, packed the Cameron Police Jury meeting room Tuesday for the jury's monthly meeting which lasted all day.

Ethel LeBleu Precht of Sweet Lake was recognized as Cameron Parish's only Olympic Torch carrier and Brent Nunez presented her with a certificate of commendation from the Jury.

All Hackberry school state championship softball teams, Lady Mustangs, and the Little Dribblers 7-8 and 9-10 year olds were presented certificates by Juror George Hicks.

Glenn W. Alexander, District Attorney, introduced Supreme Court Judge Jack Watson, who is seeking re-election for another ten years.

The following proclamations were made by the Jury: National Older American Month, National Nurses Week, and Hurricane Preparedness Week.

CIVIL DEFENSE UPDATE

Pete Picou, Parish Civil Defense Director, gave a Civil Defense update and announced that an open house will be held at the Weather Bureau in Lake Charles June 14.

He introduced the two weathermen from the Lake Charles Weather Bureau, who assured the jury that even though funds have been cut the hurricane program will be adequately covered.

The prediciton for 1996 is 13 hurricanes, with two reaching a category 3 or higher.

Juror Douaine Conner asked if the Weather Bureau could give storm notices from the Cameron coast instead of Lake Charles. It will be taken into consideration.

Dennis Arnold presented the Police Jury with a framed print of the cove of the latest Cameron Telephone Company phone book, a turn-of-the century cotton gin.

CABLE COMPLAINTS

Andy Ezell, representing the cable company that servces the Grand Chenier and Grand Lake areas, appeared before the jury to answer complaints voiced by subscribers about the service. He informed the jury he had sold out to Torrence Cablevision of Jackson, Miss., and their representative Pat Scanlon assured the Police Jury that they would correct all the problems. Douaine Conner told him that four things were needed: a weather channel, reasonable rates, better service and expansion.

WEED ORDINANCE

The jury ammended the Noxious Weed Ordinance to add Drost Subdivision to District No. 6.

Noxious weed complaints from Ridgecrest, Bonsall and Hebert's Summer Place subdivisions were heard and the owners will be notified and if they do not comply the Police Jury will cut the weeds and send a bill.

Several residents of Rutherford Beach subdivision appeared and asked to be included in the parish livestock ordinance in regard to the free-roaming cattle. Cindi Sellers, chairman of the Rutherford Beach area, said that the cattle were causing havoc on the beach, which the parish is trying to promote as a tourist attraction.

The jury amended the ordinance to include the Rutherford Beach community from fence to fence. Douaine Conner voted against the amendment.

BLOCK GRANT

The jury heard a citizens participating plan for a $600,000 Block Grant by the Creole Water System.

The Police Jury granted a request from Waterworks District No. 9 for authority to borrow funds not to exceed $200,000 if needed.

Representatives from various seismic companies asked for variances on ordinances for seismic work in the Mallard Bay area. Conner asked that they hire local people.

The variance in the Holly Beach to Sabine Lake area that was estimated to take four months and would be during the shrimping season was opposed by George LeBouef, who stated that it would disrupt shrimping.

The seismic representative said that local scout boats will be hired to monitor the seismic work and notify the local shrimpers where they are shooting.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

The jury called an executive session to consider a staff problem and then went back into open session to discuss the solid waste problem facing the parish.

Tina Horn, parish administrator, explained that there is a serious problem with the amount of white goods that are showing up at the dump.

The parish is paying Sunset and Sons $30 a load for white goods (10 applications a load) for a total of about $500 a month. She said non-residents may be bringing items to the local dumps.

She said the wood chipping man who has a contract with the parish wants to get out of the business and there doesn't seem to be anyone else who wants to do it.

It was suggested that all dump sites be closed down but five - Klondike, Sweet Lake, Front Ridge (for lower Cameron), Holly Beach and Hackberry.

This will be discussed at a called meeting of the jury next Tuesday morning. This will not be a voting meeting.

Ethel Precht

Precht will carry torch for Olympics

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Ethel LeBleu Precht of Sweet Lake was honored by the Cameron Parish Police Jurors Tueday at their monthly meeting as being Cameron's only representative chosen to carry the Olympic Torch when it passes through Calcasieu Parish May 22-23.

She said that the Coca Cola Company asked people to nominate a true hero to help carry the Olympic Torch. Her best friend, Susan Goff, submitted her name.

Around two years ago Mrs. Precht had asked Susan to help her try out two boats that she owned in the Intracoastal Canal. They were each with 30 horse motors on them. The two women has passed a large tug boat that was pushing two empty barges. Mrs. Precht had passed her friend to go ahead. She faintly heard her friend calling her name and she turned to see her friend standing up in the boat waving her arms in depseration as her small boat was being sucked into the large tug.

Mrs. Precht turned around and went to help. As she passed, Susan threw an 8-foot nylon rope to her which she miraculously caught and wrapped around her hand, not having time to secure it to her boat.

"God please save us both", she prayed out loud and yelled to her friend to jump. Goff was thrown into the water and she was being sucked under the tug boat. Luckily the tug boat captain saw what was happening and cut his engine.

"God heard my prayers that day and saved us both, and the only injury we had was my rope-burned hand where I had wrapped the rope around it," Mrs. Precht said.

"We later learned that both of the gas tanks were empty. Mine must have just had fumes left for me to get back to the other boat. We discovered that we had not opened the gas tank breather and were just running on gas that was in the line," she said.

Hackberry eliminated

The Hackberry Mustangs were eliminated from the state baseball playoffs as they lost 7-3 to Simpson.

The Mustangs scored two runs in the fourth inning to cut Simpson's lead to 4-3, but couldn't get any closer.

Patrick Dennis handled the pitching chores for the 10-1-1 Mustangs.

Dennis also led the Mustangs at the plate.

Scholarship

Selina McGee, a senior at Johnson Bayou High School, has been chosen from Cameron Parish to receive the Computer - One Scholarship. The award is a one-year scholarship worth $500.

Selina is the daughter of Sonny and Cindy McGee. She will enroll at McNeese in the fall majoring in Business Education.

Tournament

A USSSA statewide softball tournament will be held Memorial Day weekend at the Cameron Recreation fields east of Cameron. Over 60 teams are expected.

There is a $100 entry fee per team. Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for children.

The Cameron Fun Day tournament has been postponed until the first weekend in June.

Shrimping to open

The 1996 spring inshore shrimp season will open statewide at 6 a.m., Wed., May 29.

The date was set by emergency declaration at the May 2, meeting of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission in Thibodaux. The season will be closed when biological and technical date indicate that white shrimp are moving into inshore waters or if enforcement problems develop.

The Commission's decision followed a presentation by Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Marine Fisheries Division Administrator William "Corky" Perret on the department's latest data. Traditional management criteria used by LDWF in recommending shrimp season opening dates are based on populations of shrimp in three traditional zones reaching such a size that 50 percent or more of the shrimp are 100 count (per pound) or larger.

Approximately 100 shrimpers and other concerned individuals from throughout the coastal zone attended the Thibodaux meeting. Prior to voting on the measure, the commission heard from 12 individuals who voiced opinions for the record.

HACKBERRY FIELD

The people of Sulphur have never lost faith in Hackberry Island as a future oil field. The report that the Gulf Refining Company and Gardiner - Noble Company of Lake Charles would sink two test wells on the island in the near future.

The Gulf Refining Company and the Gardiner - Noble Company leased 600 acres from the Joe Vincent heirs on a drilling consideration instead of a bonus. These wells will be northwest and near the old homestead place.

HACKBERRY RECREATION

After nearly three years of delay, occasioned by a court suit, the Hackberry recreation district will open bids at 4:30 p.m., Fri., May 24, on the construction of recreation facilities for the town of Hackberry.

Bonds totaling $290,000 were approved by Hackberry property owners on Sept. 17, 1960, by a vote of 126 to 79.

However, before the bonds could be sold, an injunction suit was filed by 49 Hackberry property owners asking that the election be declared null and void on the grounds that (1) recreation commissioners had not taken their oaths of office, (2) that the boundaries of the recreation district were not properly defined and that (3) the bonds voted were "excessive".

There followed two and a half years of litigation during which the suit was tried and won by the recreation district in district court, appealed to a higher court and finally to the state supreme court, where the the recreation district won a favorable decision.

The facilities will be located on a 9.5 acre tract of land purchased from Nason Ellender at a cost of $12,000. The property is located one mile west of the Catholic church on the paved road.

Members of the recreation district board are J. T. Johnson, president; William Reasoner Jr., Frank Comeaux Jr., Leland Colligan, Ferdie Frey and Alfred Devall. Police Juror C. A. Riggs serves in an ex-officio capacity.

OYSTERS ARE TRANSFERRED

L. D. Young, Jr., Director of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission, has announced that transfer of oysters from natural reefs in a portion of Calcasieu Lake prior to the start of dredging and widening of the channel there has resulted in saving valuable oysters which would have been covered by spoilage from the dredging operation and lost.

Action of the commission, expected to be finished Friday, involved the transfer of approximately 13,000 barrels or 26,000 sacks of oysters at new areas which will not be affected by spoilage from dredging operations.

ROUNDABOUT THE PARISH

Grand Lake-Sweet Lake -- Spring really gets people on the move. With spring cleaning and that good healthy feeling we get from spring, things are really "popping".

Farmers still have lots of planting ahead of them. Nolton Richard and Absie Duhon are still planting, and they are planting by water. With the warm weather, people are heading for the beaches and fishing places.

Oak Grove -- Our high winds in this area have died down, but the drought continues. Lawns are parched, sprinklers are constantly at work in the gardens to save them from the drought. Mrs. Ellie Conner's garden is very pretty, but the sprinkler is going continuously.

Rural Route 1 -- Little Joe Ballanger was bitten by a poisonous snake Friday and was rushed to Carter's Clinic for treatment. Ruben Morales had fixed a tourniquet on the arm before going to the doctor. Joe was very sick but he's improving now.

Up and Down the Creole Ridges -- South Cameron High School student, Donna Miller, daughter of the Fletcher Millers of Cameron, who won the school's annual Yam Recipe Contest with her unusual recipe for yam pralines, went on to win the Parish contest held at Grand Lake two weeks ago and then represented Cameron Parish in the regional contest which took place at Lafayette, this past Saturday.

PROCLAMATION
Our children deserve the best we have within us. They look to us to be their protectors, role models, heroes, and counselors.
Children who are loved and nurtured grow up to love and nurture others. They give back to their families, to their neighbors, and the entire nation the good that was bestowed on them. When we show we care, they can show they care. And so the chain reaction can should continue.
The frightening reality is that nearly 3 million children each year are abused and neglected. Every week, over 1,000 children die from their injuries. The rest live on, but they may carry the burden of their maltreatment into adulthood. Children who were abused are more likely to suffer from substance abuse, depression, learning disabilities, school failure, emotional and behavioral disorders, criminal activity and an inability to foster healthy relationships. Child maltreatment knows no social or economic boundaries. It occurs in every neighborhood in America. We must dedicate our energies to eliminate child abuse, sexual abuse and neglect and their terribly legacy.
We encourage the citizens of this great community to show they care by committing themselves to fighting child abuse and neglect. In our homes, businesses, schools, and neighborhoods, let us all accept the responsibility of assuring a safe environment for all children. The problem that face too many of our nation's children can be met if each one of us is determined to make a difference.
Therefore, the Cameron Parish Police Jury does hereby declare that April, 1996, and every April hereafter be designated as Child Protection Month throughout this community. We pledge to create communities that care enough to protect our children.
ADOPTED AND APPROVED, by the Cameron Parish Police Jury this 2nd day of April, 1996.

Johnson Bayou folks & Peace Pole

Peace Pole erected at J. Bayou church

A ceremony was held Fri., April 19, by F. J. Pavell Knights of Columbus Council 8323 at Assumption Catholic Church in Johnson Bayou. A Peace Pole was erected in front of the Church, with the assistance of Danielle Sato, Peace Representative of the World Peace Prayer Society in Tokyo, Japan and Los Angeles, Calif.

In this Peace Pole Project, 720 Peace Poles have been donated in 1996 as sincere presents of love from Japanese people to all the people living in the United States of America and Canada.

The objective of the project is to erect the Peace Prayer Poles which have messages of "May Peace Prevail on Earth" on two sides and "May Peace Be In Our Homes and Communities" on the other two. They are about 8.2 feet long and 4.3 inches wide. When planted, they stand about 6 feet high. To date there are over 100,000 poles in 160 countries around the world. More than 5000 poles in the United States have been planted. In Louisiana, only 10 have been planted, one of which is now situated in Johnson Bayou.

To prepare for the ceremony, Knights of Columbus Council 8323 had their members as well as the youth in the community write peace messages on small pieces of paper. These messages were stored in a plastic envelope and sealed inside the peace pole during the ceremony.

The peace Pole ceremony was conducted by Danielle Sato and a Japanese companion in both English and Japanese. Father Roland Vaughn, Pastor of Assumption Church and Chaplain of KC Council 8323, assisted and ended with the blessing of the Peace Pole.

Council 8323 was honored with the Peace Pole through the efforts of the America the Beautiful Fund in Washington, D. C.

Cameron Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

WEAR LIFE JACKETS

Too often we see boating tragedies with the loss of young life. Youngsters should always wear life jackets and these life jackets should always fit the youngster to which it is assigned.

Life jackets for children are sized according to the weight of the young person. Example: a jacket for under 30 pounds, 30 to 50 pounds, and 50 to 90 pounds. Choose the right one. Also, measure the child's chest as some manufacturers include a chest size. The jacket needs to fit tight.

FISHING NEWS

It seems there's a petition going around from Lake Charles Marine about concern for their customers who are extremely unhappy with the unnecessary, they claim, of slaughter of prime bass in Lacassine Refuge.

The talked about a tournament held on the opening of the reserve which is suppose to have killed over 30 bass in the 5 pound plus weight, and full of eggs. They want to try and make changes in regulations for Lacassine Refuge.

They feel that a five fish limit (instead of state limits of 10) with only one trophy bass per day and a slot limit from 16 inches to 22 inches should also be imposed. Also, all tournament fish should be released back into Lacassine Refuge alive. This is to insure future bass fishing for our children.

I can't go along with this petition for a couple of reasons. First, biologists have said pulling big bass out would not harm the population of the reserve, as this lets the small fish expand and grow, sort of like deer herds, you have to take the older, larger bucks out and also the does as there is over production.

Ninety percent of the large bass in the refuge are Florida bass and a slot of 16 to 22 inches when full of eggs. I think the biologists and refuge manager know what they're doing and in no way would let the refuge be fished out.

Second, this type of thing sounds like it is playing right into the PETA's hands, the people trying to stop fishing in 1996. This would be right up their alley. I'll stay in and let the federal and state tell me what's what in fishing, as well as hunting. They pay and have good biologists who went to college, studied hard and have experience with this sort of thing, and I think we should let them tell us what's needed in our waterways and refuges.

When you have as many as 600 to 800 anglers fishing on an opening day, 30 or so large bass is not that many and the number of anglers phase down as it's getting tougher, where right now you have fewer limits reached and very few large bass, no matter what size and as it gets hotter and the sun brigher, less anglers out and less bass caught per angler.

OFFSHORE

Good catches of large red snapper reported about 25 to 30 miles out of Grand Chenier. Snappers in the 6 to 18 pound class are reported and they're plentiful and the trip doesn't take long.

Number 5 Reason why you should increase your advertising. . .

5. You say your customers know you and for a while at least they'll keep coming in even if you don't promote? That's partly true, but shortsighted. Remember, one of five Americans moves every year. Pain may be eliminated for millions
(SPECIAL)-- A new drug has been approved that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain. This material has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis™" and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis™ relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis™ is an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work. # Parish teachers set to get $544 annual raise

Cameron Parish teachers would receive a $544 annual raise in September under a plan approved by the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education Monday. This would be about a 1.8 percent increase and would raise the average teacher pay in the parish to $30,809 a year.

However, under the plan, teachers in the poorer districts of the state could receive a raise of up to $1,800 a year.

Cameron Parish, which has had a good income from oil and gas on its school sections in past years, is considered one of the wealthier districts and these districts would only receive a $544 raise.

Giving teachers in poorer districts more money is an attempt to try and equalize spending in rich and poor districts, members of the BESE board said.

Both of the statewide teacher organizations have opposed the new plan on the basis it gave some teachers higher raises than others.

In Calcasieu parish, which will get the same $544 raise as Cameron, State Rep. Vic Stelly said the plan would punish affluent parishes. He noted that Calcasieu Parish last year voted a half-cent sales tax to give its teachers a raise.

"The BESE plan is almost a disincentive for local people to pay teachers well," he stated.

Stelly said the Legislature does not have the authority to change the BESE recommendations.

"We can either accept it or reject it," he said. "If we reject it, the funding would revert back to last year's formula without any raises in it."

Cameron Parish School Superintendent Pam LaFleur said she did not to wish to comment on the proposal until a study can be made to see how the plan will affect the parish.

Because of its oil and gas income, Cameron parish in past years has usually had the highest, or nearly the highest, average teacher pay in the state. With the proposed increases, it still would rank near the top.

Here is how other Southwest Louisiana parishes' annual teacher pay would compare with Cameron's $30,809: Allen, $24,620; Beauregard, $27,061; Calcasieu, $25,843; and Vernon, $26,162.

Hurricane season near

June 1, marks the official start of the hurricane season that lasts through the end of November. Louisiana, with over 400 miles of coastline, is extremely vulnerable to the destructive winds and storm surge associated with hurricanes. In addition, the inland areas of north and central Louisiana are not spared the destructive forces of landfalling tropical storms or hurricanes.

Tornadoes and rainfall totals of 10 to 20 inches causing flash flooding often accompany tropical storms or hurricanes as they move inland over Louisiana.

With this in mind, the State of Louisiana in cooperation with the National Weather Service has declared the week of May 6-10, as Hurricane Preparedness Week in Louisiana.

While hurricane preparedness in Louisiana is a year-round activity, May is the month when most hurricane preparedness exercises are conducted. On May 7, federal, state, and local emergency managers from southeast Louisiana will meet in Metairie for a hurricane preparedness exercise to review response and recovery plans for a landfalling hurricane.

A similar hurricane exercise will be conducted for southwest Louisiana on May 14, in Jennings, and for the remainder of the state on May 22, in Alexandria.

During the early portion of the Hurricane Season, Louisiana residents, especially those in vulnerable coastal locations, should review action they would take if a hurricane threatened the Louisiana coast. Many people never take time to think about preparedness plans, even though they live in a vulnerable area. This lack of planning could lead to a large loss of life if a major hurricane struck Louisiana.

Some locations may take only a few hours to evacuate while large metropolitan areas may take several days to fully evacuate for a major hurricane. A recent hurricane evacuation study of southeast Louisiana indicates that it may take over 48 hours to evacuate the greater New Orleans area in the event a major hurricane threatened the region.

When developing or reviewing your preparedness plans ask yourself these question: Do I need to evacuate for a hurricane, and how early do I need to leave? Where will I go when I evacuate? How will I get there and what should I bring? If I stay, do I have provisions of food and water to last from several days to a week or more without normal service?

Sgt. Hebert is honored

Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Enforcement Sgt. Malcolm Hebert was presented the 1996 Law Enforcement Award by the Southwest Louisiana Bar Association. The award recognizes the outstanding law enforcement officer in three law enforcement agencies serving within the jurisdiction of the 14th and 38th Judicial Court system.

The award was presented to Hebert May 1, at a ceremony in Lake Charles by Robert E. Guillory Jr., president of the Southwest Louisiana Bar Association.

Hebert, 40, has been an LDWF enforcement agent for 17 years and has served as sergeant in Calcasieu and Cameron parishes for 15 years.

PICTURED IS the newly crowned Cameron Parish Farm Bureau Queen, Toni Kay Nunez. Toni was crowned at the annual Farm Bureau banquet held on Sunday, May 5, and will represent the parish organization at the state convention held in New Orleans during July. She is being crowned by last year's parish representative, Kristi Jo Dupuie.

Shrimpers decry new TED rules

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Local shrimpers attended a public hearing Tuesday to receive information from national fisheries officials on turtle excluder devices (TEDs) regulations.

The National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) held the meeting to discuss proposed changes to TED regulations aimed at improving sea turtle protection, particularly the endangered Kemps Ridley turtle.

There were about 24 people at the meeting and about half were associated with the local shrimp industry. The remainder were representatives of NMFS, Coast Guard, law enforcement officials and wildlife and fisheries personnel.

The consensus of the shrimpers in attendance was that the government is putting too many rules to protect the turtles and that shrimpers don't have a chance to make a living.

Monroe Gray, a local shrimp boat owner, questioned why this added TED was needed.

"The fishermen have given up," Gray said. "You don't treat fishermen fair. That's why you don't have anyone here tonight. We have abided by all of your rules and still you put more rules on us.

"The NMFS was formed to help fishermen, but you are not helping the fishermen, you are destroying the commercial fishermen," he said. "Turtles are important, but shrimpers are too, but they (shrimpers) are paying the cost of all of this."

C. J. Kiffe, a local shrimp net maker, asked who are the specialists designing these TEDs.

"You can't put a 28 inch by 28 inch hard TED into a 12-foot try net," he said.

He suggested that the NMFS use designs from the local shrimpers who can use their experience to tell what will work. To express his point, Kiffe brought a model onthe try net and copy of the proposed TED.

The propsal for the rule was in the April 26, 1996, federal register and the final law will take place 120 days after the proposed rule is made into law.

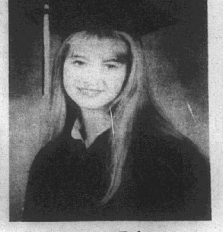
Charles A. Oravetz with the chief protected species branch of NMFS in St. Petersburg, Fla., conducted the hearing and said the final rule would probably be in mid-August.

The 1996 shrimp season starts May 29.

Specifically, the proposed rules to the TEDs top opening structure include:

Removal of the approval of the use of all soft TEDs effective Dec. 31.

Use of NMFS-approved hard TEDs in try nets with a headrope link greater than 12 feet or a footrope length greater than 15 feet by Dec. 31.



Establishment of shrimp, fisheries, sea turtle conservation areas (SFSTCAs), where shrimping efforts and sea turtle abundance are high, specifically, in the northwestern Gulf of Mexico consisting of the offshore waters out to 10 nautical miles along the coasts of Louisiana and Texas from the Mississippi River South Pass to the U.S.-Mexican border.

NOTICE

During the reporting period of March 25, 1996 to April 14, 1996 the Cameron Parish Water Systems Nos. 1 and 2 Water Supply violated the maximum contaminant level of coliform bacteria as set forth in the State and Federal Primary Drinking Water Regulations. Action was taken to eliminate the contamination.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliforms is a possible health concern. Total coliforms are common in the environment and are generally not harmful themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, is usually a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliforms to reduce the risks of these adverse health effects. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe.

The Cameron Parish Waterworks District No. 1 submits water samples, taken by the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals. For the month of March, 1996, water samples were not in compliance with standards. The Cameron Parish Waterworks District No. 2 completely flushed out the distribution system, increased the chlorine chlorination and submitted new samples to the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals.

As of April, 1996, the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals has determined that the Cameron Parish Waterworks District No. 2 has corrected the problem and is now in compliance with Standards.

SNAPPER FISHING

Saltwater snapper fishing is still great, again good catches and good sizes reported. Many are using bass rigs to fish these red snappers, while others are using 40 to 6 pound test on deep sea rigs. The snappers have been suspended around 12 feet in most areas.

A few catches of speckle trout and red fish reported around the Grand Chenier jetties and of course, the Big Lake area, where anglers are looking for trophy size specks. There were a few specks reported along the beaches and it's that time of the year for schools to start coming to shore. Lead head jigs 1/4 to 3/8 ounce and the cockahoe grubs (find the right color) will produce in the Grand Chenier area.

The fresh water fishing is still the same. Low water keeps many anglers out of the marshes, but the deep canals of the Big Burn and the old Amoco field, if you find clear water, will produce nice bass as well as bream and white perch.

If you want to find clear water and good water, the best bet is Lacassine and Sabine refuges. They're still producing bass.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB

The Lemesche Bass Club finalized their tournaments for 1996. They will fish six tournaments, the first one already fished was April 20. The other five will be May 18, June 29, July 13, August 10 and August 24.

The Aug. 10 tournament will have a 3 p.m. weigh-in at the Grand Chenier State Park and a fish fry for members, guests and their families. All other tournaments will have a 6 p.m. weigh-in at the WOW Hall in Creole.

Club members fish with someone outside the club as their partner. Entry fee is $30 per team, with top money for the first three place team stringer and first through third largest bass. An option was voted on for the largest "shoe-pick" caught. A $1 entry fee and a $10 cash prize award. This is per person.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

The 1996 spring inshore shrimp season will open statewide at 6 a.m. Wed., May 29.

The law will see higher prices for shrimp this year as you always see a little political and natural force to mess with shipments, shorter season and it also depends on the growth of the shrimp and if catches are good. Also, countries not using TEDs will see an embargo on shrimp exports. Three countries out of 30 that will see the embargo are India, China and Thailand and these three account for most of the 750 million or so pounds of U.S. shrimp imports. Supplies of shrimp could be short as the Gulf produces about 200 millions pounds annually.

We have to remember, fuel costs have risen and that has to be passed on to consumers and the decline in shrimp supply could add a dollar or more per pound. Good 31-35 shrimp will cost 5 dollars or more I'm sure. Maybe our shrimpers will have a chance to make a little money this season if the shrimp are there.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

Frog season will again crank up on June 1. Frogging is a favorite pastime in Louisiana and Cameron Parish is no exception. Frog legs are great eating and one of the healthiest game food out there. Seventy-three calories per four leg serving and only .3 grams of fat. Remember, no fire arms when frogging. Bullfrog 5 inches or less body length and grunters 3 inches or less body length cannot be harvested. The low water could possibly make frogging a chore as they could be hard to get to. Watch out for snakes.

National Fishing Week is June 3-9. Free fishing days for Louisiana are June 9 and 10. Check with your local game agents and see if any restrictions are in place.

Life jackets float, you don't. Wear them.

Signup will begin for farm program

Kirk L. Smith, County Executive Director for the Calcasieu-Cameron Parish Farm Service Agency, has announced the one-time signup period of May 20 through July 12, for producers wishing to enroll their farms in a Production Flexibility Contract. The contracts, authorized by the 1996 Farm Bill, are for 7 years, beginning in 1996 and ending in 2002.

"I must stress that this is the only opportunity producers are going to have to enroll and those who fail to do so now will not be eligible at a later date," said Mr. Smith.

Farms with a planting history in one of the past five years of wheat, corn, grain, sorghum barley, oats, upland cotton or rice are eligible to be enrolled in this program.

Mr. Smith reminded producers that compliance with conservation and wetlands provisions continues to be a condition of participation. Payment limitation rules that were applicable in 1995 will also be applicable to these payments. The total amount of payment a person may receive in any fiscal year may not exceed $40,000.

Farmers may plant as they wish under the program, but fruits or vegetables may not be planted on contract acres, except under certain circumstances. A producer may enroll all or part of the farm's contract base acreage in the program and, after signup, may request a permanent reduction in the acreage without penalty.

Payment and loan rates will be announced soon.

Jr. Leaders have meeting

By TRISHA SILVER

The Cameron Parish Jr. Leader Club met April 10, at Grand Lake High School and made plans for the club's educational trip to New Orleans in June. They plan to tour the aquarium, the zoo, the riverwalk and historical buildings.

The club had a successful spaghetti dinner fund raiser. About 400 plate lunches were sold throughout the parish.

Nominations were taken for next year's club officers and an election will be held at next month's meeting.

The next club meeting will be May 8, in Cameron. Plans are being made to honor the seniors. Club members will be able to invite a potential recruited member for next year.

The club received an invitation from the Beauregard Parish Club to visit them next school year.

FOR THE RECORD

S. Cam. Elem.

Two first grade students at South Cameron Elementary School were left off the honor lists for the 4th and 5th six weeks periods. They are Kyle LeBoeuf, who made the honor roll for the 4th six weeks period, and Marcus Mudd, who achieved banner roll for the 5th six weeks period.

S. Cam. High

The name of Jennifer Harper, a twelfth grade student at South Cameron High School, was inadvertently omitted from the honor roll. She had all A's.

CHERYL STAR DAIGLE, who is of Indian descent, is shown working on Indian craft which she gives to friends. (Photo by Geneva Griffith.)

Local woman proud of Indian heritage

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Cheryl Star Daigle (Mrs. Ernest Daigle) is proud of her American Indian heritage, and has used her knowledge and crafts she learned from her grandmother, the late Ruby Star, to help her guide her life. Her grandfather was Orley Star, whose name was later Americanized to William Start.

Mrs. Daigle was born into the Blackfoot-Oneda tribe of the Iroquois Nation in the Northeast United States and she lived in many states before coming to Cameron about 18 years ago, where she met a local boy to whom she is married.

She said her mother was brought up in an orphaniage and the family was very ppor, because in those days Indians were shunned.

Her mother did not care to follow any of the ways of her ancestors, nor possessed anything that would remind her of the bad times, so she drew on her memory of what she had learned from her grandmother when she had a life threatening illness and was able to define her true identity.

She started making mandellas for her friends, which are round circles decroated with symbols connected with each person's life. The mandellas could also be a war shield, maybe decorated with the thunderbird, the bird that cannot die and rise from the ashes.

Indians usually used stretched skins to stretch across the mandell and hung rabbit tails around it.

She also weaves medicine balls and wheels that feature four corners to represent the four seasons from which is hung a big filled with semi-precious stones, which represent the various areas of the person's life.

When the individual stones are rubbed the Spirit World will help make the request come true, according to Indian tradition.

Dream Catchers are woven with prayers said as each knot is made for the particular individual. "Bad spirit dreams get caught in the web and disappear with the morning light, and the good dreams pass through the center eye and are fulfilled in the dreamer's reality," she said.

Cheryl said the Iroquois has now written language and the language was handed down, along with the stories and culture, from one generation to another, and she remembered the sounds and stories her grandmother told her.

She recently purchased a record that an Indian shaman had made and she remembered hearing it from her childhood and wrote this down.

A Prayer for Special Needs

"I can hear the other side of the stars, The stars will hear you. Timeless is my voice.

"The land is sacred, you don't live off it, you live in it and it in you."

Sister Lurlie is celebrating 50 years of service to the order. She has been a teacher and in charge of medical records at St. Patrick Hospital in Lake Charles. Currently she is in data entry at Our Lady of Holy Cross College.

Senate vote is July 20

Senate President Randy Ewing has called a special election on July 20, to fill State Senate District 25 seat to be vacated by Sen. Cecil Picard, whose District 25 includes all of Cameron Parish.

Picard has been named by the state Board of Elementary and Secondary Education as Superintendent of Education. He is expected to assume the post on July 1.

Qualifying for the election would be June 12-14. Ewing said a July 20, election will keep costs down because that date is already set aside for parish bond elections around the state.

Any runoff would be on Aug. 17.

The planned special election dates should allow for a reasonable length of time for interested candidates to conduct a campaign and for citizens in the district to become familiar with the candidates, he said.

No one ran against Picard in his re-election bid last fall.

Three to get MSU degrees

According to Linda Finley, MSU registrar, the following area students received degrees:

Master of Business Administration - Thuy Nguyen, Cameron.

Bachelor of Arts - Elementary - Kellie McKoin, Grand Chenier.

Bachelor of Science in Nursing - Penny LaBove, Cameron.

Shrimp season

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission has set the spring inshore shrimping season to open statewide on Wed., May 29, at 6 a.m.

The season will be closed when biological or technical data indicate that white shrimp are moving into inshore waters or if enforcement problems develop.

THE EXTENT OF the drought in Cameron Parish is indicated by the roadside ditches which normally have several feet of water in them. They are now dry and cracking. Both cattle and wildlife in the marshes are affected. (Photo by Geneva Griffith.)

Salary revisions tabled by board

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish School Board had a lengthy discussion of proposed salary scheduled revisions last Wednesday, but made no progress and the board voted to table the matter.

Because of the board's financial problems, it has called a 10-year, 10-mil property tax to give additional support to the public elementary and secondary school system.

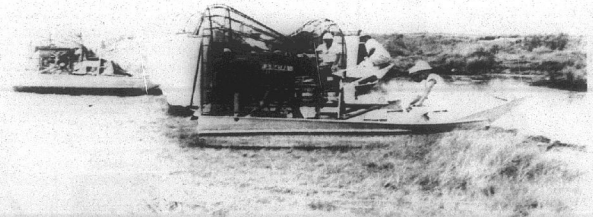
A new salary scheduled for teachers was approved at the April meeting to affect only those hired in the future.

Superintendent Pam LaFleur wanted a new schedule approved before she starts recruiting teachers for the next school year, which offers a higher starting salary, but the teacher earned less over the span of years.

Her proposal also includes coaching salary changes making equal supplements for head coaches in football, boys basketball and girls basketball, including additional compensation for athletic directors.

President Bill Morris said he didn't think girls basketball coaches should make as much as football coaches.

LaFleur's proposal would create more head coaching positions at each school, but showed a savings over the employees' careers.



Another objection by Morris was the proposed salary schedule for central office clerical workers, which Morris said was stillout of line with what other businesses in the area pay secretaries.

LaFleur's proposal would put central office clerical workers at the same hourly rate as school secretaries, starting at $7.76 and going up to $9.96 per hour after 20 years, and recommended requiring more than a high school education.

EXPULSION UPHELD

The school board went into executive session to hear an appeal on the expulsion of a male

Proposed TED rules will be tough on shrimpers

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

C. J. Kiffe, a local net shop business owner, says he has a lot of trouble trying to figure out why the National Marine Fisheries Service (NMFS) is putting such a burden on the commercial shrimping industry.

He isn't the only one with this problem. At least 25% of the shrimpers along the entire Gulf coast have gotten out of the business out of an approximately 8600 boats.

"I can't see why the NMFS several years ago required the shrimpers who were pulling an over 200 foot net to use a TED (Turtle Excluder Device) in the net, because we don't have turtles in our part of the Gulf," Kiffe said.

"They have them in abundance a Cape Canaveral off of Florida but we hardly ever see one in this area," he said.

In spite of the added expense, and the extra cost of gas it took to run their shrimp boats dragging the extra weight of the TEDs and the danger to the fishermen when hauling up the shrimp nets and getting them tangled, the shrimpers complied with the rules.

The U. S. Coast Guard and NMFS respresentatives at a meeting held recently at the Cameron Elementary School acknowledged this fact.

Kiffe said that a weekly check in the Gulf both by boat and air to check on the presence of turtles is conducted by the NMFS each week and very seldom do they ever spot any turtles in this area.

Charles A. Oravetz, NMFS representative from St. Petersburg, Fla., who conducted the meeting, stated that 2200 hours of observation in the Gulf of Mexico was carried out recently and 45 turtles were caught in trynets.

But Kiffe said this was in the entire Gulf and was not representative of the Southwest Gulf, particularly this area.

As the proposed rule now stands, a TED must be installed in try-nets, as well as the primary nets, if the try-net is over 12 feet.

(The try-net is the smaller net the shrimper puts overboard to test if there are any shrimp in the area before he puts his large net overboard.)

"I would like for the NMFS to tell me where they were and the name of the boat they were on when the made this survey of seeing 45 turtles in 2200 hours, and I plan to get it under the Freedom of Information Act," Kiffe said.

"Pete Juneau, with La. Wildlife and Fisheries in Vermilion Parish goes out every year before the shrimp season starts and samples the water with a 16 foot try-net and he told me that he has never caught a turtle yet," Kiffe said.

Kiffe made a mock-up of the proposed TED that is to be implemented to fit into the try-nets and he says that it will not fit.

"You can't fit a 28 inch by 28 inch hard TED into a 12-foot try-net", he told the NMFS representatives and the few shrimpers who attended the Tuesday night hearing. At that time he questioned who designed the TED and why the didn't get the advice of shrimpers in putting it together.

Kiffe fished for 39 years from the Amazon River in Brazil to the Mississippi River and had every kind of experience that could befall a fisherman, including boats sinking under him and guns pointed at him, arrests,etc., and is very knowledgeable about everying concerning the fishing and shrimping industry.

"I just can't believe what the government is trying to do, in thinking more of the turtles that the humans who are obeying the laws and trying to eke out a living to feed their families", Kiffe said.

Kiffe is keeping a close eye on the plight of the local shrimpers and continues to keep in touch with government officials to try to better the plight of the shrimpers and fishermen in the area.

"Congressman Jimmy Hayes has been especially interested in the plight of our shrimpers in our area," he said.

Bicyclist from Arizona has come through area

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Bill Mueller, a 64-year-old bicyclist, passed through lower Cameron Parish last week on his "mission of closure" in memory of his wife, Jackie, who died last January.

She was also a bicyclist and accompanied him on his many trips. They had planned to circle the United States in the year 2000 to usher in the next century. However, after she died he decided to go ahead with their plans but do it this year.

A small gold angel on his handlebar bag represents his "earth angel" Jackie, who died her sleep while he was on a five-day training ride. She had been scheduled to meet him in Apache Junction but didn't show up.

Bill is a retired military man and is a member of Tucson-based Perimeter Bicycling Association. Perimeter bicyclists like to ride around the perimeter of the states instead of across them.

He lives in Glendale, Airz., from which his trip started, and said he loves meeting people along the way. He met Harry Leland in the bicycling club and asked him to come along. Harry travels in a van in front or in back of Bill and they use the van to carry their gear.

They spend nights either in motels or camp out along the way, with Harry also joining him on his bicycle when they want to go see something special.

They spent on night at the Rutherford Motel on Oak Grove, where the proprietor Cecil Clark, treated the pair to a crawfish fettucini.

Both men have been involved in bicycling accidents that put each in hospitals for over a week.

A burglar sneaked into their motel room in San Augustine, Fla., and stole over $1,000 from their wallets and didn't even wake them up.

Harry, who is also retired, has been bicycling about 40 years and says it keeps him young and fit.

Becky Watson, Entergy's Customer Service Manager for Cameron Parish

GSU is now Entergy.
What exactly does that mean to Cameron Parish?

We at GSU recently changed our name to Entergy. And while you're probably familiar with the name of our parent company, you may not know that for the past several years we have been unifying five separate power companies into one cohesive whole. Streamlining operations. Eliminating redundancies. Pooling resources.

Today our one company—Entergy—is a world-class energy company offering you the strength and dependability of a four-state power system. While still providing the local service of a company that has served your community for generations.

The Entergy name is a reflection of the strong, efficient and customer-focused company we have become. But what does that mean for you?

It means that every day we're putting 12,000 employees and 80 years of experience to work for you. It means we're even stronger and more sure in the face of storms and emergencies. It means we're more effective than ever at stabilizing your energy costs. And it means we're positioned to grow with your community and this region no matter what the future may hold.

One company. One name. And one commitment to serve you like no other company can.

Entergy

Doctor's discovery may end obesity

HILTON HEAD, S.C. -- A doctor has discovered that an ingredient found in a small fruit grown in Asia, combined with an ingredient praised by the U.S. Department of Agriculture can help cause significant weight loss.

In a study published in a prestigious American medical journal, Dr. Anthony A. Conte, M.D. reported that the formula, now called Bio-Max 3000, caused patients to lose more than twice as much weight as a control group on the same fat reduced diet. Neither group was instructed to decrease the amount of food they ate or to increase their exercise levels. An article published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition confirms that you don't have to reduce the amount of food you eat to lose weight, provided that you limit the fat.

Scientists suggest that the mechanism behind the weight reduction includes decreasing sugar cravings and interruption of the "Krebs Cycle", an important step in the body's fat storage process. "The best part of this unique discovery is that it is not a drug, but a safe dietary food supplement" says Dr. Conte. The Asian fruit, called garcinia, is similar to citrus fruit found in the United States with one big exception-- it may help some people fight obesity! While Dr. Conte's study may be preliminary, the exclusive North American distributor, Phillips Gulf Corp., is calling the Bio-Max 3000 supplement "Nature's Ideal Diet Aid."

According to a spokesperson for the company, Bio-Max 3000 is now available on a limited basis through pharmacies and nutrition stores or call 1-800-729-8446.© 1995 Phillips Gulf Corp

Theunissen enters senate seat race

State Representative Gerald J. "Jerry" Theunissen of Jennings has announced he will run for the 25th Senate District seat in the July 20, special election. The 25th Senate seat is being vacated by Senator Cecil Picard on July 1, when he will leave the Senate to become the new Louisiana Superintendent of Schools.

The 62-year-old representative is presently in his second term in the Louisiana House. He was unopposed in his re-election bid for his second term. He currently serves as Chairman of the House Committee on the Environment and has served on the Administration of Criminal Justice, the House Committee on Transportation, Highways and Public Works and on the House Agriculture Committee.

A native of Lake Arthur, Theunissen is a graduate of Jennings High School and the University of Nebraska. He is a decorated Vietnam combat pilot with over 100 missions flown and has received two Bronze Starks and the Legion of Merit. Following his tour of duty in Indochina, Theunissen was assigned to the Pentagon in Washington, D.C., where he was dubbed "Mr. Vietnam", and became the Air Force's point man on Southeast Asia. The state representative authored part of the January 1973 Parish Peace Agreement negotiated between Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and North Vietnamese emissary Le Duc Tho.

After returning from the military Theunissen returned to Jefferson Davis Parish and entered into a partnership in an aerial pesticide application service. Also, Theunissen served as manager of the Jennings Airport, without pay.

Theunissen is married to the former Pat Reaud of Jennings who is the president of the Legislative Spouses Auxiliary. They are the parents of three children, Terry, Julie and Jay and have four grandchildren.

The 25th Senate District seat covers portions of five Southwest Louisiana parishes including all of Cameron, the southern half of Jefferson Parish, a part of Calcasieu and much of of Acadia and Vermilion.

Randy Roach will not be candidate

Former State Representative Randy Roach has announced that he will not be a candidate for the Senate seat being vacated by Senator Cecil Picard. In making the announcement Roach expressed his appreciation to those who encouraged him and offered him their support to run for senate.

Roach stated that it was a difficult decision to make. "I enjoy public service. From my work as Assistant City Attorney on the Chenault consolidation project to my eight years in the House of Representatives, I learned a great deal about Southwest Louisiana and its people.

"It was very tempting to return to the legislature. The new House and Senate have given us every reason to believe that we will be able to make great strides in the next four years toward realizing Louisiana's potential.

"However, when I decided to seek re-election to a third term as State Representative I did so in part because I realized that if I was going to continue in public service it would be better for my family if I served in a full-time position suited to my training as a lawyer and my experience as a legislator.

Remember?

By Keith Hambrick

THIS WEEK
(By Jerry Wise)
(Jan. 31, 1963)

We didn't get the complete details, but Mrs. Heyward Peppers, draft board clerk, said her husband witnessed it: Last Wednesday a pontoon airplane broke loose from its moorings at Cameron and went sailing up the river with an oil boat in hot pursuit. Finally someone lassoed the tail of the plane before it ran into anything.

Two important construction projects will be completed in the Cameron area this spring. The new South Cameron Memorial Hospital should be completed around April and should be ready for patients in May or June.

The water system for the town of Cameron is coming along nicely also. Work on the water lines is just about completed and the water wells and elevated tank should be ready within another six weeks or two months.

CANDY SALE

Jessye Bettina Roux and Julia Ann Authement, Cameron Camp Fire Girls, here sell a box of Camp Fire candy to Principal J. C. Reina of the Cameron Elementary School. The annual candy sale will begin in Cameron Friday after school.

CATTLE IN GOOD SHAPE

Despite the unusual number of hard freezes experienced in recent weeks, Cameron Parish cattle are in good shape this winter, according to County Agent Hadley Fontenot.

He said the cattlemen have been fortunate that the freezes have been dry ones and are therefore not as hard on the livestock as freezing rain, snow or sleet.

SCS TECHNICIAN ALSO SONG WRITER

Remember "Diggly Liggly Lo", the song about the love of a little French boy, "Diggly Liggly Lo" for a little French girl, "Diggly Liggly La", which Louisiana hayride star Jimmy Newman made a hit record of a few years back?

Cameron Parish folks will be interested to know that this song was written by and originally recorded by none other than Terry J. Clement, the parish's Soil Conservation Service technician.

Terry has been writing and recording in the Cajun, country and rock and roll style, ever since he was in high school. He and his band, The Tune Tones, have recorded four numbers, two of which were written by Terry, and have a backlog of ten more original tunes by Terry which they hope to get around to recording soon.

"Diggly Liggly Lo" was written by Terry in his senior year in high school and he and his band recorded it in French in Crowley that year. Terry did not realize much financial return on his first hit tune, but he said he was pleased that it had helped him and his band break into the recording business.

ROUNDABOUT THE PARISH

Grand Chenier -- The Creole and Cameron fire departments were called to the aid of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Roy whose barn burned down last Thursday.

A passerby noticed the smoke, called it to the attention of Mrs. Roy who was busy with her house chores. Mr. Roy, who was not home as he is employed by the Louisiana Wildlife Refuge here, was called and soon many helpers and the fire trucks arrived. The barn burned rapidly as a strong north wind was blowing.

Cameron -- A surprise birthday party was given to Bobby LaLande last week at the home of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Diel LaLande. Many friends helped him celebrate.

Grand Lake-Sweet Lake -- Mr.and Mrs. C. J. Farque's home was opened to the public last Thursday with a church benefit for the Big Lake Gospel Tabernacle Building Fund.

Hackberry -- The basic steps for good reporting were explained by Marie David and Corrine Peace of the American Press at the reporters clinic in Lake Charles last week. Mrs. Floyd Little and Mrs. Nata Hebert of the Hackberry Home Demonstraton Club were guests of the Calcasieu H.D. Council, sponsors of the reporters clinic.

Area participants were:

Farm bill meetings

Meetings to discuss provisions of the 1996 Farm Bill are set in Calcasieu and Cameron parishes.

The meetings are:

■9 a.m., Tues., May 21, St. Joseph Catholic Hall, Vinton.

■9:30 a.m., Wed., May 22, Calcasieu County Agent's office, Lake Charles.

■7 p.m., Wed., May 22, Iowa High School cafeteria.

■9:30 a.m., Thurs., May 23, Klondike Fire Station on La. 14.

The new farm law offers a one-shot chance for farmers to sign up for the new seven-year program. After the sign-up closes on July 12, only farmers with land going out of the Conservation Reserve Program will be eligible to enroll.

"It is critical that all affected people understand the changes that the new farm law will bring to farm operation. It places a lot of responsibility squarely on the shoulders of farmers and there is little time left to get all of the information needed to make some important, long-term decisions," said Calcasieu-Cameron Farm Service Agency (FSA) executive director Kirk Smith.

NOTICE

During the reporting period of April 15, 1996, the Cameron Parish Waterworks District No. 2 Water Supply violated the Maximum contaminant level of coliform bacteria as set forth in the State and Federal Primary Drinking Water Regulations. Action was taken to eliminate the contamination.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliforms is a possible health concern. Total coliforms are common in the environment and are generally not harmful themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, generally is a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipe which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Disease symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and any associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease-causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliforms to reduce the risks of these adverse health effects. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe.

The Cameron Parish Waterworks District No. 2 submits water samples, taken by the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals. For the month of April, 1996, water samples were not in compliance with Standards. The Cameron Parish Waterworks District No. 2 completely flushed out the distribution system, increased the level of chlorination and submitted new samples to the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals.

As of May, 1996, the Louisiana Department of Health and Hospitals has determined that the Cameron Parish Waterworks District No. 2 has corrected the problem and is now in compliance with Standards.

BASS FISHING

Bass fishing has slowed, especially in the marshes. Low water has taken its toll on both bass anglers and fish as well. Many anglers are just not taking the chance to burn a motor or get stuck in the mud flats and having to walk out. It's really bad right now to catch nutria itch as bad as the water is. There have been a number of fish kills along the Little Chenier road ditches as well as along the Gibbstown Road west side canals. Further in the marshes, fish are dying again. The spraying of water lillies along some of the deep canals has also played a part and slowed fishing. There really isn't any place to go for these fish and I don't think this spray will help.

Lacassine Refuge is low, but you can still get around and pick up some good bass. Now, there are some areas that are really low in the target area and in the flats, but where there's deep water you'll find bass.

Some of our locals have placed in tournaments in the last couple of weeks. The Calcasieu Parish Sheriff's Department sponsored bass tournament showed Quenton LeBoeuf and Darrin Thibodeaux taking first place, Lynn Thibodeaux and his partner, third; and Travis Broussard and Richard Duhon, fifth. The Monday night shootouts had Richard Duhon and Lynn Thibodeaux placing first in one and in another, Quenton LeBoeuf and his partner and Travis Broussard and Richard Duhon placed in the top five.

The Lake Charles Bassmasters won the Louisiana Top Six Fishing Tournament, consisting of the top fishermen from the top fishing clubs in Louisiana. It was held on Toledo Bend. The six anglers for the club had a total of 24 bass that weighed 85.54 pounds. All fish were released.

SALTWATER FISHING

Saltwater fishing has been good, however, in Grand Chenier they're dredging the river going towards the jetties and this is mudding the water. I think it's keeping the speckle trout and redfish from coming up the river for a short while. This dredging needed to take place and will do the channel and jetties good, not only for larger boats but will help out fishing.

Fishing outside the jetties in Grand Chenier is good, the jetties in Cameron and going toward the rocks around Constance Beach are good. Rockefeller Refuge is producing nice size speckle trout as well as redfish.

FARM BILL

The new farm bill that includes important conservation measures to protect fish and wildlife will help sports fishing. Commercial fisheries and hunting, signed by President Clinton, $1.7 billion annually is for vital conservation reserve program to help farmers protect wetlands, improve water quality in our streams and rivers. Another $1.4 billion is there to stop water pollution.

NUTRIA ITCH

With the water so low and with the thousands of nutria in our marshes, it's best not to go over board if at all possible. Nutria itch is a bad thing if you catch it.

It's some sort of parasite that infects nutria, especially during warm weather. Stagnant water areas and thick vegetation where nutria feed are prime places to catch it. It will start at the ankles or legs and always move up your body. It's a terrific itch, sometimes keeping you from sleeping. It's really unbearable. You can scratch until you pull the skin off and it only gets worse. It could look like bumps the size of pimples to a long rash. This can last from 7 to 10 days, but you need to see a doctor and get prescription drugs for a cure.

DEAD ZONE

A dead zone off the Louisiana coast, oxygen-depleted water expanded to 7,000 square miles last year, and it shows no sign of shrinking. It seems plankton growth coming from all the rich nutrients of the Mississippi River flowing into the Gulf of Mexico, and when it dies, it settles on the bottom and decays and this uses up oxygen. This continues and as it piles up from year to year, the oxygen is cut and an area becomes a dead zone from lack of oxygen. Fish will not be in that area.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

The TED is back in the news. It seems our shrimpers are back again to the drawing board, and every time this takes place, it's the shrimpers who get hurt.

The National Marine Fisheries Services has a proposed change in TED regulations. This is suppose to be to protect the sea turtles, especially the endangered Kemp Ridley turtle.

From what I can understand, the soft TED, which was approved a while back, is now to be replaced with a hard TED, this to happen even in "try nets". It would also prohibit the use of bottom opening hard TEDS. All of this would take place somewhere by mid-August.

The National Marine Service claims the population of sea turtles is higher in the northwestern Gulf of Mexico, ten miles out all along the Louisiana-Texas coast from the Mississippi River South Pass to the U. S.-Mexican border.

The service also claims that using try nets for a 22 hour period in the Gulf, they caught 45 turtles.

It seems our shrimpers as well as our commercial fishermen are in a never-win situation.

Group targets fishermen and tournaments

People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) have announced their intentions to stall recreational fishing by disrupting fishing tournaments, pier and bridge fishing, charter fishing oeprations and marinas.

In November, 1995, PETA conducted surveys to find out why people fish. The information was then used to develop programs that attempt to switch people to a harmless past-time.

Survey questions included: (1) What do you think it feels like to suffocate? (2) Do you think fish should be protected in any way? (3) What do you think makes your pet different from fish?

PETA members have a strong belief in anthropomorphism, which is the assigning of human attributes, feelings, conduct, or characteristics to animals. They regard fish not as a renewable resource, but as sensitive individuals.

PETA claims that a fish's lips and tongue can be compared to human's in some ways; fish use them to catch and gather food, build nests, and even hide their offspring from danger.

PETA also claims that fish which are released suffer severe physiological and psychological stress.

The group is also concerned for the suffering and pain of live bait used in fishing, such as worms, clams and eels.

PETA's efforts to stop fishing are not to be taken lightly. This is the same organization which, quite effectively, fought the wearing of fur coats. PETA is not pro-commercial. They want no fish to be harmed by any means.

Concerned persons are urged to gather the facts and use common sense in making decisions on this issue, according to Kevin A. Savoie, Associate Area Agent (Fisheries), Cameron - Calcasieu Parishes.

student from South Cameron High School, and upheld the expulsion.

Teddy Broussard, a resident of Grand Chenier, appeared before the board in regard to the proposed school tax saying that a majority of residents are saying the money is going for salaries and not for the classrooms and said it will be hard to pass.

"People don't feel that enough cuts have been made," he said.

He also suggested that they call for a sales tax instead of a property tax.

Ron Vining presented bids for school bus, truck, and car parts and fluids for which an out-of-parish bidder had presented the lowest bid.

Morris asked how an in-parish business could be awarded the bid, and Assistant District Attorney Cecil Sanner told the board that is could not award to a higher, in-parish business unless there was a good reason to reject the out-of-parish bid.

HOURS REDUCED

The school board adopted new guidelines for the number of sweepers at each school and agreed that instead of reducing the number of sweepers, to reduce the hours, such as more 4½ and 6 hour employees instead of 8 hour workers.

LaFleur said, "Sweepers can't clean while school is in session anyway, so the shorter workday could be more productive. Cameron Elementary will have the biggest cut because it is overstaffed."

The board will advertise for a 4½ hour sweeper at Grand Lake High School to replace the two sweepers who have resigned.

ATTENDANCE ZONES

LaFleur presented another cost-saving measure in moving attendance zones which she said she had discussed with attorneys who told her it would just be a matter of drawing up new boundaries. If approved it would not start until the 1996-97 year.

WILL BACK TAX

Peggy Boudreaux, president of the Cameron Parish Association of Educators, informed the board that her association will campaign for passage of the tax proposal and plans to make phone calls to survey parish residents.

In other business, the board received resignation from Anna Temple, special education teacher at Hackberry HIgh School.

Received retirement notices from Billie Smith, teacher aide at Grand Lake High School and Ardine Thomas, lunchroom technician at Grand Lake High School, effective 5/31/96.

The board approved of one-half year sabbatical leave for Stacy Miller, elementary teacher at Cameron Elementary School and approved advertising for a six hour per day lunchroom technician at Grand Lake High School.

Resignations were received from Sherre Doland and Dorothy Collins, sweepers at Grand Lake High school; Hal Fontenot, teacher at Johnson Bayou High School, effective at the end of the school year.

Approved leave without pay for Juanita East, teacher aide at South Cameron Elementary School, from 4/19/96 to 5/31/96.

Class visits the beach

Cameron Elem. 1st graders

The Cameron Elementary first grade made a field trip to Constance Beach for slide presentation by Rodney Guilbeaux on beach erosion. The classes also visited the 85 breakwaters along the Cameron coastline from Peveto Beach thru Constance Beach, Gulf Breeze Beach and Ocean View Beach.

They walked the beaches looking for sea shells and viewed first-hand the effects of coastal erosion. Then they were told about the different types of sea shells found on the Louisiana coast by Mickey Guilbeaux.

The group toured the Sabine Wildlife Refuge visitor center and the 1½ mile walking trail.

GENEVA GRIFFITH, local newswoman, is shown being interviewed at Rutherford Beach by Channel 12 newsman Ed Buckner for a hurricane program to be aired Thursday, June 30 at 7 p.m.

Be prepared for hurricanes here

"Safety and preparedness steps taken now could make life safer and recovery easier for the residents of Southwest Louisiana if and when the next hurricane strikes", said Ralph Wright, executive director of the Calcasieu Cameron Chapter of the American Red Cross.

With hurricane season approaching, Wright advised residents of high-risk areas to take the following precautions:

1. Keep battery powered equipment in good shape, including radios and flashlights. Keep extra batteries on hand.

2. Keep a supply of boards, tools and other equipment to cover windows if necessary.

3. Stock up on canned goods and other foods that don't require cooking or refrigeration and a minimum supply of potable water.

4. If a family member requires prescription medication, a two week supply should always be on hand in a hurricane season.

Meteorologists at the National Weather Service try to give plenty of warning before coastal areas are hit by hurricanes, but, because of the erratic nature of tropical storms, it is often impossible to predict the exact location and time of landfall of the hurricane.

Wright said that as soon as a "Hurricane Watch" is announced, residents should stay tuned to the radio or television for further advisories and should take the following steps:

1. If told to evacuate, leave early to avoid being caught in traffic. Get away from beaches and other areas that might be swept by high tides. Hurricanes moving inland can cause severe flooding, so choose a reoute that takes you away from river banks and streams.

2. Take important documents with you, and such things a prescriptions, eyeglasses, foods for special diets, changes of clothing and toys and books for children.

3. If you area is not ordered to evacuate, stay indoors during the hurricane, preferably in a brick or concrete building, stay away from windows.

4. If high winds are likely, board up windows.

5. Collect drinking water in clean bottles, cooking utensils and clean bathtubs.

6. Turn refrigerators up to the coldest setting to preserve food as long as possible if the power fails.

7. Bring outdoor objects, such as garbage cans, garden furniture, antennas, toys and tools inside.

8. Stay tuned to the radio and television to monitor the storm and the possiblity of tornadoes that may develop when the hurricane makes landfall.

Fish kill reported in this area

People who headed for beaches along the coast of the Gulf of Mexico Memorial Day weekend may have seen a lot of dead hardhead catfish.

Reports began coming in recently of large numbers of fish being found dead in Cameron Parish. Contact with other Gulf Coast states has established that similar incidents are also occurring along the upper Texas coast and in some parts of the Florida Gulf coast.

The cause of this extensive mortality is still unknown, though several possible causes have been suggested. "Due to the widespread nature of the kill, pollution is not considered to be directly involved with this kill," said Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Marien Fisheries biologist Harry Blanchet. "There may be some environmental cause, however, such as an algal bloom, or it may be a disease of the fish."

A similar fish kill, also composed almost entirely of hardhead catfish, was observed in Texas last summer and in the Calcasieu Lake area in 1994.

Tarpon girls all academic

The South Cameron girls softball team, which advanced to the state semi-finals, also had some players who excelled in the classroom.

Three members of the team made the Class 2AA All Academic Softball Team as announced by the Louisiana High School Athletic Association.

The players are Jennifer Harper, who compiled a 4.0 academic average; Jennifer Savoie had a 3.4 average and Leslie Suratt, with a 3.12 average.

Tarpon girls are on All State team

The South Cameron Tarpons girls softball team advanced to the State Semi-Finals this year.

The Tarpons Jennifer Savoie has been selected to the first Class AA All state team.

Savoie, who batted .370 on the year, was selected as utility player on the elite team. Jennifer is a senior.

Library program

The Cameron Parish Library announced that registration for the 1996 Summer Reading Program will begin Wed., June 5, at 10 a.m. All children, ages 3 to 12, are invited to participate.

BEACHCOMBING IS among the fun things to do at the beach this summer. This group gathered giant shells, coils of rope, coconuts, life jackets and other items along Hackberry beach. They included Barbie Fontenot, Destinee, Desiree, Tessa and Drew LaBove, Norman and Sandra Fontenot, Dean Desonier and Stephanie and A. J. LaBove. (Photo by Geneva Griffith.)

TO DISCUSS TB SITUATION

Jury to request public health meeting here

Among the items that will be discussed at the Tuesday, June 4 monthly meeting of the Cameron Parish Police Jury will be the possible calling of a public meeting to discuss the tuberculosis situation in the parish.

Police Juror Brent Nunez said he has heard there are seven tuberculosis cases in Cameron parish and he would like to find out from public health officials if this an unusual number and what public health measures are being taken.

A spokesperson at the regional public health office in Lake Charles said that the office could not comment on the situation in Cameron parish and said any statement would have to come out of Baton Rouge.

Dr. Richard Sanders of Creole told the Pilot there are seven active cases of tuberculosis in Cameron parish at the present time, with four in town of Cameron area.

He said that 130 persons in the parish who have had contacts with the active cases are being given preventive treatment but they are not considered having the disease.

Dr. Sanders said that the tuberculosis situation in Cameron parish was no more serious than anywhere else. He said many people will test postive when they take a tuberculosis test but this usually only indicates that they were exposed to TB at some time during their life and are not actually infected.

The physician noted that tuberculosis, which had been brought under control in the United State during past years, seems to be making a comeback in some areas. He commended parish and state health officials for their prompt action in monitoring the situation in Cameron parish.

The police jury's Tuesday's agenda can be found in the legal section of this issue.

Class offered

The Cameron Parish Health Unit and the Cooperative Extension Service are offering a baby sitting class for teens age 13 years and older. Teens will be taught things such as infant and child CPR, safety, crafts for children, and do's and don't's while babysitting this summer. It will be held June 3, 1-2:30 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Health Unit.

Ramblers honored

Seven individuals and organizations representing a cross-section of the Louisiana arts community were named winners of the 1996 Governor's Arts Awards, the Louisiana State Arts Council has announced.

Receiving the Outstanding Lifetime Achievement in the Arts were William D. Kushner, Lake Charles, and the Hackberry Ramblers, Sulphur.

For over six decades, the Hackberry Ramblers - founded by fiddler Luderin Darbone and guitarist/accordionist Edwin Duhon - have played a toe-tapping blend of Cajun and Western swing with a dash of swamp pop, rock & roll, classic country and blues.

The seven winners each received a work of original art by Baton Rouge glass artist Marjorie Blake for recognition of their achievements. They were the guests of honor at a special reception and ceremony held Tues., May 28, at the Governor's mansion in Baton Rouge. Governor Mike Foster and Lt. Governor Kathleen Babineaux Blanco presenected the awards to the honorees.

Postal carriers collect food

Cameron Post Office rural carriers and highway contract carriers joined other area post offices in a food drive Sat., May 11. All food items collected were donated to Help/Hope of Cameron to benefit local people in need.

The local carriers picked up 300 pounds of non-perishable food items. Rev. Louana Pruitt accepted the donations on behalf of Help/Hope.

Cameron Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

The Lemesche Bass club held their second tournament May 18. Fishing was tough, low water, summer time heat and bass that just didn't want to cooperate.

Largest Team Stringers: 1. Todd Conner and Scott Canik; 2. Carl Broussard and Neil Smith; 3. Ricky Canik and Rica Canik; 4. Tom Hess and Barry Wilson; 5. Darren Richard and Goose Richard; 6. Jerry Canik and Myron Dean Picou; 7. Loston McEvers; 8. Scooter Trosclair and Amanda Bertrand.

Largest single stringers (denotes club members): 1. Carl Broussard; 2. Ricky Canik*; 3. Scott Canik; 4. Barry Wilson; 5. Todd Conner*; 6. Goose Richard*; 7. Loston McEvers*; 8. Tom Hess*; 9. Neil Smith; 10. Jerry Canik*; 11. Rica Canik; 12. Myron Dean Picou; 13. Darren Richard*; 14. Scooter Trosclair*; 15. Amanda Bertrand.

Largest bass: 1. Goose Richard*; 2. Scott Canik; 3. Carl Broussard*; 4. Darren Richard*; 5. Ricky Canik*; 6. Barry Wilson; 7. Loston McEvers*; 8. Todd Conner*; 9. Jerry Canik*.

There was a "shoepick" pot and it turned out close. Ricky Canik won with a 4-5 followed by Loston McEvers, 4-3. The next tournament is Sat., June 29.

MONTHLY WINNERS

The monthly largest bass weighed at Rudy's Fish N'Stop for the month of April and winning the prize was Quenton LeBoeuf with a 9-3 bass caught at Lacassine Refuge. Loston McEvers had a 7-13 caught in the Big Burn and Jimmy Trahan had a 7-3 caught in Lacassine Refuge.

AREA FISHING

Bass fishing is slowing down as low water and hot weather are making it hard fishing. You really have to find the deep holes or fish the canals. There are some ponds with water but getting to them could become a problem.

Saltwater fishing is still fair and reds and specks are being caught and even some flounders in the Mermentau River in Grand Chenier. Fresh shrimp is the best, even for specks. In Big Lake rough water with the strong southeast winds were a problem and made it a little hard fishing. Red snapper fishing off shore is still good, again seas a little rough.

ALLIGATOR PROBLEMS

This dry spell has created a problem with alligators. They're coming in yards, carports and around docks. There are many reports and this could be dangerous.

In Grand chenier on Rockefeller's west-end, folks fishing had a scare. One tried to get on a dock and attack a 7 year old girl and even two adults trying to solve the problem. One on a carport after a dog in Grand Chenier. In Little Chenier, one by steps in a yard. There are also many getting hit on the road. It's especially bad on the Creole to Gibbstown road. We really need to be careful with our pets, our children, as well as ourselves. I do know there's plenty in the big canals in our marshes.

NEWS TALK

Many anglers, including myself, often wonder how many of the redfish and speckle trout that are released because of over-size or under-size die. The La. Wildlife and Fisheries conducted an 18 month study at their Marine Lab in Grand Tene Island. After catching fish in different methods, they held them in tanks for 3 to 7 days with circulated bay water.

They used single hook with live bait (SHB), treble hook with live bait (THB), single hook artificial bait (SHA); and trebel hook, artificial bait (THA).

A total of 1521 speckle trout and 743 redfish were caught. The overall survival was 82.5% in specks and 97.3% in reds. When fish did die, it was usually in the first 48 hours.

Listed is the survival rate: SHB - speckle trout 74%; red fish 96%; THB - speckle trout 83%; redfish 94%; SHA - speckle trout 91%; redfish 99%; THA speckle trout 97%; redfish 97%.

It's a surprise treble hooks cause less kills in specks than single hooks. Not much different in redfish.

Smaller specks, less than 12 inches, were more likely to survive (87%) than legal size specks (81%. Redfish was 98% under 16 inches and 96% for legal size reds. There is another study being done for redfish over 27 inches that's not complete.

FEEDING PERIODS

Best: Fri., May 31, 11:15 a.m. and 11:45 p.m.; Sat., June 1, 1:15 a.m. and 12:40 p.m.; Sun., June 2, 3:15 a.m .and 1:40 p.m.

Good: Fri., 5:35 a.m. and 5:25 p.m.; Sat., 6:30 a.m. and 6:20 p.m.; Sun., 7:25 a.m. and 7:50 p.m.

Frog season opens June 1. Remember, read the rules and regulations.

Grand Lake 4-H news

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Darlene for choosing of new officers.

They are: president, Sheena LeBouef; reporter, Todd Taylor; 1st vice president, Holly Manuel; 2nd vice president, Laura Savoie; secretary, Kelsey Chesson; treasurer, Keri Cronan; CRD chairman, Brett Wicke; parliamentarians, Tyler Theriot, Scott Myers, Justin LaBove; bulletin board chairmen, Mandi Richard, Gregorie Theriot and Lance Guidry.

Alligator problems

Louisiana's healthy alligator populations make brushes between these reptiles and people inevitable. When an individual alligator becomes a nuisance, however, the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries should be notified immeidately so the situation can be evaluated.

The Department annually receives between 600 and 1,000 complaints about alligators causing problems, according to LDWF biologist Larry McNease. Most calls originate from south Louisiana. More than 1050 complaints were reported in1994.

Springtime, including breeding season, is one of the prime times for problems with alligators. "They're getting active at that time and begin moving," McNease explained.

Environmental circumstances also can result in alligators coming into contact with humans. "Drought might make alligtors move to find new water sources and heavy rains or flooding may allow for dispersal," he said.

There are very few incidents in Louisiana of alligators attacking people. "It's more common in Florida, but we just don't have that many problems here," McNease said. "The potential is there, however."

Anyone with complaints can call 800/442-2511. Operators will contact appropriate nuisance alligator hunters, who may assist with the problem reptile.

Summer Food program set

GSU is now Entergy. What exactly does that mean to Cameron Parish?

We at GSU recently changed our name to Entergy. And while you're probably familiar with the name of our parent company, you may not know that for the past several years we have been unifying five separate power companies into one cohesive whole. Streamlining operations. Eliminating redundancies. Pooling resources.

Today our one company—Entergy—is a world-class energy company offering you the strength and dependability of a four-state power system. While still providing the local service of a company that has served your community for generations.

The Entergy name is a reflection of the strong, efficient and customer-focused company we have become. But what does that mean for you?

It means that every day we're putting 12,000 employees and 80 years of experience to work for you. It means we're even stronger and more sure in the face of storms and emergencies. It means we're more effective than ever at stabilizing your energy costs. And it means we're positioned to grow with your community and this region no matter what the future may hold.

One company. One name. And one commitment to serve you like no other company can.

Olympic torch poster contest

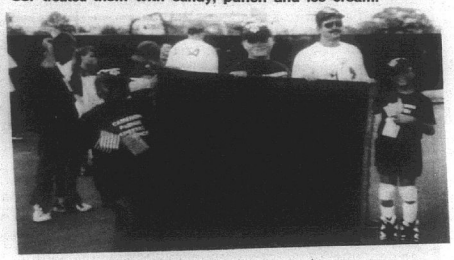
An Olympic Torch poster contest culminated a study in grades K-5 on the Olympic games at Hackberry High School.

The study, conducted by Margaret Shove of the Title I Tutorial Program, consisted of three basic phases. The students learned the history of the Olympics, and how the Olympics today differ from the first Olympic games in Olympia, Greece in 776 BC.

They learned the meaning of the torch and about the design of the torch since its inception for the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin.

The students were all given maps of the U. S. to track the torch across the U.S.A., from its arrival April 27, in Los Angeles, Calif., until its arrival at the opening ceremonies in Atlanta, Ga., July 19.

Each student in grades 4 and 5 researched an Olympic athlete who participated in past Olympics and gave oral reports with flags from the country the athlete represented.



Forty-five posters were entered in the contest. Winners in grades K-5 category were: 1st, Samantha Pitre; 2nd, Natasha Hicks; 3rd, Ry McChesnie; HM, John Davis, Sarah White, and Darrah East. Grades 3-5, 1st, Kristin Gray; 2nd, Alonna LeBlanc; 3rd, Jessica East; HM, Lindsay Mire, Layn Buford, Annette Gunter. Honorable mention went to Pre-K students Drew East and Alex Backlund.

The students brought their posters with them as they participated in the celebration of the torch relay Wednesday night. Many of the students and faculty members witnessed the relay and the celebration at the Civic Center in Lake Charles.

The Gulf of Mexico has much to offer its users: recreation, enjoyment, seafood and a source of income for many. We at Vastar Resources, Inc. have an ongoing interest in maintaining the benefits derived for all of the Gulf's users. Natural gas and liquid hydrocarbons are safe and efficient fuels for heating our homes, cooking our meals and aiding in transportation. # Oak Grove waste site to be closed by jury

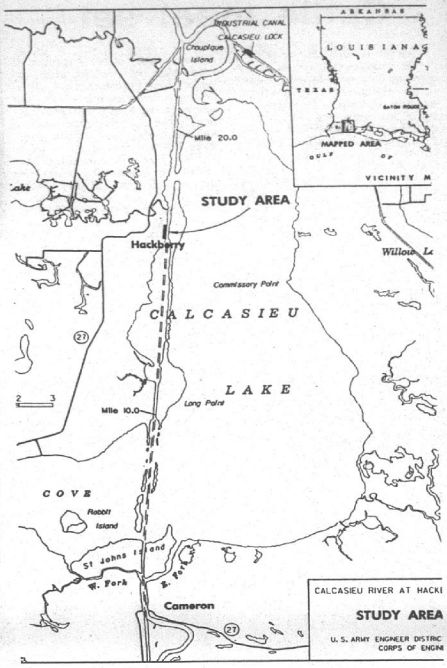
By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Police Jury voted to close the Oak Grove solid waste facility July 1, at their monthly meeting Tuesday for an annual savings of over $35,000.

Parish Administrator Tina Horn said the compactor and building will be moved to other solid waste sites where they are needed and this will save the parish from having to buy additional equipment.

The jury was told that the Oak Grove site was the least used site in the parish, and is only a few miles from the Front Ridge site.

The site to be closed is located under the Oak Grove water tower, and the savings will be used in the Roads and Bridges Fund.



The problem of the disposal of wood was addressed. It was announced that the wood must be cut into 4-foot lengths and tied and will be picked up at the homes in the regular garbage pick-up rather than at the solid waste sites where they will not be accepted.

Brent Nunez, jury president, said that the solid waste budget for the parish last year had an over-run of $274,000 and drastic cuts had to be made.

He said he has heard that Waste Management has offered businesses a 10% cut because they will have to pay for the entire cost of their containers, and no longer be subsidized one-half by the jury.

The jury was informed by Mrs. Horn that CUMBA, Inc. had offered the jury $10 a ton for their white goods (household appliances, etc.) which will deliver to Sweet Lake and Hackberry where they will be picked up. Locals can still off-load these at the solid waste sites in their communities.

The jury signed the white goods contract.

Program on TB is scheduled

The Louisiana Dept. of Health and Hospitals will conduct an educational program on tuberculosis at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex Wednesday, June 12 at 2 p.m., it was announced by the police jury. The public is invited.

Police Juror Brent Nunez requested the meeting at the jury's monthly meeting Tuesday after it was reported there are seven cases of tuberculosis in the parish.

Parish Administrator Tinas Horn said she had contacted the health department regarding the concern of local residents about incidents of TB here.

She said that the Cameron Parish health unit has installed ultraviolet lights to keep down the danger of contagion.

Board tells need for tax millage

The Cameron Parish School Board has called a special election for Saturday, July 20 to submit a 10-mill, 10-year property tax proposal to parish voters. Funds created would give additional support to parish schools.

In an effort to give voters a clear picture of the board's financial condition, a consolidated financial statement is being published elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

In the statement it is pointed out that the school system's general fund had a $1,577,107 deficit for 1993-94, a $1,410,955 deficit for 1994-95 and a $1,104,493 deficit for 1995-96.

Also published in this issue by the board is a comparison of tax collections for school districts similar in size to Cameron parish. All of these districts have sales taxes ranging from 1 to 2 percent. Cameron parish has no sales tax.

The board notes that if Cameron parish were to levy a 2 percent sales tax it would generate only about $281,000 annually, far too less to offset the current deficit.

In comparison, a 10-mill property tax would bring in about $1 million.

It was also noted that Cameron and West Feliciana are the only two parishes in the state with less than 3000 students that are classified as "hold harmless" parishes. The term "hold harmless" refers to one of 12 parishes in the state which have received no increases in state funding since 1991.

3 Hornets All State

The Grand Lake Hornet baseball team, which won the district and advanced to the state quarter-finals, had two players receive All State first team honors and one other receive honorable mention status.

The first team selectees were senior pitcher Josh Johnson, who had an 11-2 overall record on the year. Neil Kiser, a senior, batted .541 and was the other All State selection.

The honorable mention status winner was Cody LeBleu.

Magic show

The Cameron Parish Library will present a magic show at its Wed., June 12, story hour at 10 a.m. Young magicians Beaux and Jenny Duhon will give a performance of their sleight-of-hand.

For more information, call the library at 318-775-5421.

Library seeks grant

The Cameron Parish Library is applying for a grant from the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities for a 'Readings Program' to be held at the library in Cameron in the spring of 1997. The program, which will run one night a week for eight weeks, will be conducted by a visiting scholar from McNeese University.

The grant provides a stipend for the scholar as well as funds for texts that will be loaned to each registered participant.

As part of the application process, the library provides statistical information as a way of determining both interest and need. Questionnaires are now being handed out to library patrons who are asked to help the library demonstrate to endowment officials the level of interest that can be expected for such a program, as well as show the needs of the participants.

For more information about the grant and the courses available contact the Cameron Library at 775-5421.

Dennis named to All State

The Hackberry Mustangs, who advanced to the state baseball playoffs, had one player receive All state recognition.

Senior Patrick Dennis received honorable mention status on the team selected by the Louisiana sports writers.

Study planned on H'berry anchorage

The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers has begun a study of navigation improvements along the Calcasieu Ship Channel near Hackberry in Cameron Parish.

The purpose of this study is to address the feasibility of an anchorage area long the Calcasieu Ship Channel to be used for general navigation or to service ships and other vessels.

Oceangoing cargo moving to and from facilities along the ship channel increased from 16 million tons in 1985 to 30.5 million tons in 1993, and ship traffic has increased from 523 vessel trips to 972 vessel trips over the same period.

This cargo included crude petroleum, refined petroleum products, agricultural products, and liquefied natural gas. The inability of many of the larger snips to pass on the relatively narrow, 400-foot-wide ship channel causes significant delays, because ships must wait offshore or at terminals until ships moving in the opposite direction clear the 34-mile-long channel.

The construction of a general anchorage would reduce these delays because some ships could wait closer to their destinations while waiting for oncoming traffic to clear the channel.

Local interests in Cameron Parish have expressed their desire for an anchorage area to service ships moving over the Calcasieu Ship Channel between the Gulf of Mexico and the Port of Lake Charles. The anchorage area would be used to inspect, service, and repair ocean vessels; to bunker and load provisions onto tankers; and to service offshore supply and support vessels. Non-federal interests would provide the landside facilities required for these services.

The Corps will conduct the study in two phases. In the first -- reconnaissance phase -- they will identify problems and potential solutions. If the results of the first phase are favorable, they will being the second -- feasibility -- phase and investigate the most promising improvements in detail. The reconnaissance phase is federally funded. The feasibility phase would be cost shared on a 50-50 basis with a non-federal sponsor.

The Corps expects to complete the reconnaissance studies in about 12 months. Feasibility studies, if warranted, would take an additional 3 years.

If you have information or questions that pertain to the study, please send correspondence to: District Engineer, U. S. Army Engineer District, New Orleans, P.O. Box 60267, New Orleans, La. 70160. Attn: CELMN-PD.

Local youth to go to Washington

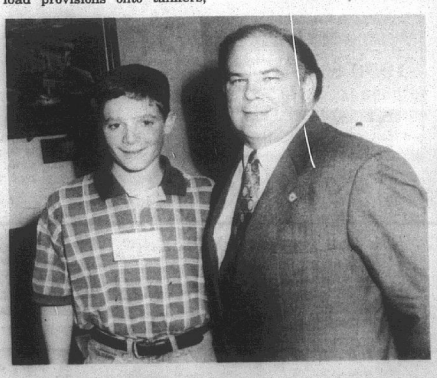
Two local high school students recently attended a Youth Leadership Conference in Baton Rouge and met with state officials and learn more about electric cooperatives.

The conference was hosted by Jeff Davis Electric Cooperative, together with Louisiana's 11 distribution cooperatives from around the state, and was in conjunction with the "Government-in-Action" Youth Tour of Washington, D. C., sponsored each year by Jeff Davis Electric.

Winners of Jeff Davis Electric's Washington Youth Tour trip who attended were Hathaway High School student Candice Alexander of Hathaway and Benjamin Richard of Grand Chenier, a student at South Cameron High School.



The two youths joined 33 Louisiana high school students for the training session where they formed and operated mock cooperatives, toured Cajun Electric Power Cooperative's "Big Cajun II" power plant in New Roads and spent an afternoon meeting lawmakers from the Louisiana House of Representatives and Senate.

In June, the students will return to Baton Rouge and then travel to Washington, D. C. where they will join over 1,500 students from 36 states. While in Washington, they will visit the offices of Louisiana's representatives and senators, the U. S. Capitol, the Smithsonian Insititute, Arlington National Cemetery and other historical and government sites.

One of the highlights of the trip to Baton Rouge was a visit to the Louisiana State Capitol to visit with lawmakers. While at the Capitol, Alexander and Richard met with local representatives and senators.

CHRISTOPHER BROWN, Cameron Parish Library Director, is shown with the summer reading program T-shirt and book bag. The T-shirts are $4 and the bags are $3. Summer reading program started Wed., June 5, at 10 a.m., at the library.

Cattle meet set

"Never in the history of the cattle business have so many adverse factors weighed so heavily on cattlemen at any one time, as they do today. The time has come to look for solutions," according to Lee Mallett of the Progressive Braunbieh organization of Iowa, La., who is hosting a Field Day, Sat., June 8, to explore ways for cattlemen to address some of their problems.

Mallett has issued invitations to more than 16,000 cattlemen in the East Texas - Louisiana region to attend the event, billed as a problem solving session.

"The field day will get underway at 11:30 a.m. with a Cajun-style lunch," Mallett said. "Then we'll spend the afternoon hearing some talks and exchanging ideas on how to survive as cattlemen in the tough months and years that lie ahead."

Mallett went on to say that not only are cattlemen facing the lowest price levels on their cattle seen in the industry in a decade, but they are facing wide-spread dry weather, short supplies of feed, high corn prices, and perhaps most significant of all, a heavy concentration of buying power in the beef packing industry that is discriminating against most of the cattle we produce in this region.

"We have a distinguished panel of speakers to address these problems," Mallett went on to say. "And we believe they will offer the cattlemen of this region some sound ideas on possible solutions."

Cattlemen attending the field day will have an opportunity to see the largest herd of Braunvieh in the nation at Progressive's facility just a few minutes east of Lake Charles. Braunvieh are a breed of cattle that have vaulted to popularity in recent years based on extensive testing that has proved their carcass merit.

"Any cattlemen wanting to attend contact Progressive Braunvieh at 1-800-737-6287

Dear Local Merchant,
Number 9 Reason why you should increase your advertising. . .
9. Advertising is "news" about products and services. Most shoppers look for this kind of news in the pages of the community newspaper. In plush times, retailers often experiment with other media. But when the going gets tough, they concentrate their efforts in the newspaper because it provides an immediate payoff at the cash register.

Fairs and Festival district created

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday passed an ordinance creating a Fairs and Festival District for the parish. Jury President Brent Nunez said that anyone planning to organize a fair or festival should turn the name in to the Police Jury office so it can be included.

By doing this the local health department doe snot have to issue a permit to the fair or festival.

In other business, the Jury voted to amend the noxious weeds ordinance to add the Nunez subdivision, located in Sweet Lake. A violation of the ordinance was reported and the owners of a propertry there have been contacted about the violation.

The Police Jury accepted bids on two grass planting projects with Black Lake Marsh being the low bidder on each project, $9,190 in the Hackberry area, and $5,190 in the Grand Lake area.

Brent Nunez reported that owners of the Pelican Point subdivision had contacted the Police Jury about paving the roads in the subdivision with the cost to be paid by the owners of the property. It would cost approximately $70,000, which would be approximately $1500 per household.

Brent Nunez asked the Jury to ask District Attorney Glenn Alexander to file suit against the owners of an abandoned barge in Calcasieu Lake, which is blocking one of the parish drainage laterals.

He said that a dragline at the site was sold 8 or 10 years ago and sat there for some time and finally two barges were brought in to move it and one was left. The owners have not done anyting about moving it.

The Police Jury requested the Dept. of Transportation to make a study for turnouts on the highway between Creole and Gibbstown.

SALARY CHANGES

After an executive session to study a staff report, the Jury agreed to implement an evaluation for the road and bridges crew, to take effect July 1.

A-operators will make $11 an hour; B-operators will make $10.50 an hour; and C-opeators will make $9.00 an hour.

Any new employee will be evaluated at the end of 6 months, and if they are not doing the work of at least a C-operator, they will be terminated. This is to be included in the policy manual

A motion was made by Brent Nunez to lift the hiring freeze in District 3 (Sweet Lake) for one employee who is going on a parishwide basis on the road patcher. A replacement will be hired, then the freeze was put back in effect.

PRISONERS TO PAY

Dusty Sandifer reported that the Police Jury is working on an ordinance to make parish prisoners pay a part of their medical expenses while in jail, as most other parishes have done.

Dinah Landry gave an update on several government grants that are being sought. One is the $600,000 grant for the Creole Water system which has to be submitted July 1, and the other w for the propsed fishing pier at the Cameron jetties which will be considered Oct. 1.

Pogy fishing plans told for '63 season

(Cameron Pilot, May 2, 1963)

POGY FISHING

Cameron's two menhaden processing plants were scheduled to go into operation this week, as their fleets of pogy boats and spotter planes fanned out over the Gulf in search of the big schools of pogy fish.

The two plants had one of their biggest catches on record last year and are hoping for a repeat.

Manager Ed Swindell of the Louisiana Menhaden Co. said there will be eight boats fishing for the plant this year -- the Sea Raider, Vasco De Gama, Aggie and Mille, Frenchman, Admiral, Commander and Jack T. Styron, plus a new refrigeration boat, the 147-foot Gallant Man, skippered by Fletcher Miller, which replaces the Jose Carinas, which has gone to Empire.

The plant will also have three spotter planes, one over last year. Pilots are Bob Schwark, chief pilot, Mike Boyette and Charles Davis, a new pilot.

Louisiana Menhaden will have some 35 men working in its plant and about 200 fishermen on the boats.

Also going into operation this week was the Gulf Menhaden Co. plant of which Al Bierman is the manager.

MARBLE TOURNAMENT

Ronie Delcambre, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Delcambre of Cameron, won the Cameron Parish Marble Tournament, sponsored by the Doxey-Vincent VFW Post Saturday. Ronnie came out first among several contenders from all parts of the parish. He will represent the parish in the Fifth District VFW Marble Tournament in May.

Taking second place in the contest was Phillip Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Smith of Cameron. Phillip is the youngest participant to come out in the top three.

Jerome Dimas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dimas, took third place in the tourney.

DEDICATION OF SHRINE DELAYED

The dedication of the Shrine to the Mother of God, originally scheduled to be dedicated in Cameron on Mother's Day, May 12, has been postponed, according to Norman McCall, co-chairman of the project.

The Bruno Cadalelli Marble Co. in Carrara, Italy, recently sent word that they will be unable to have the marble statue sculptured and delivered in Cameron by that date. In view of the delay, the dedication will probably be sometime in August when arrangements can be made with the Most Rev. Maurice Schexnayder, Bishop of Lafayette, to be present for the blessing.

Bishop Schexnayder was the originator of the idea of such a shrine to be erected in Cameron.

The overall cost of the project, expecting to be about $7,500 has not been quite fully raised yet, but Mr. McCall stated that he had all the confidence that it will be reached by the time the shrine is erected.

LIONS CLUB OFFICERS

Jennings B. Jones Jr. was elected president of the Cameron Lions Club at the annual election held last Wednesday. He succeeds Clarence Guilbeau.

Mr. Jones, a Cameron attorney, is also assistant district attorney and co-owner of the Cameron Insurance Agency. He is a native of Grand Chenier.

Other officers named were J. Berton Daigle, Charles F. Hebert, and Rodney Guilbeau, first, second and third vice-presidents; Jimmy Colligan, secretary-treasurer; James L. Derouen, tail-twister and George Boyd, Lion Tamer.

Elected as two-year board members were Joe Rutherford, Walter Stanley and Ray Dimas. Remaining on the board are Cecil Clark, E. W. Swindell and Braxton Blakè.

Part of gill net law unconstitutional

Act 1316 of the 1995 Louisiana State Legislature eliminated or severely restricted the use of gill nets, trammel nets and seines in the saltwaters of the state. The Louisiana Seafood Management Council, an umbrella organization of the commercial fishing industry challenged the act in state and federal court on constitutional grounds.

In May, Judge Janice Clark of the state court's 19th Judicial District handed down a ruling on the act. Judge Clark ruled two parts of the act unconstitutional.

The act provided for the net buy-back and training provisions for commercial netters who were impacted by the legislation. Only eleven netters qualified for the buy-back program. Clark rules that "the 'buy-back' and training provisions of the Act are woefully inadequate and fail to justly compensate the commercial fishermen." Therefore "...by failing to justly compensate the commercial fishermen, the state, through Act 1316 has taken property without just compensation.

Her ruling was based on the fact that under Louisiana Revised Statutes 56:640.3 (the Right to Fish Act) the state cannot make illegal the use of a legal method of harvesting fish without biological data showing damage to the species being harvested. Her ruling was that the gear "....was declared illegal without any supporting biological data showing that the gill nets were damaging a particular species of fish." Therefore, property was taken without compensation and this part of the act is unconstitutional.

Clark further ruled that the $250 license to fish gill nets in federal waters and the $250 traversing permit were unconstitutional because they conflicted with the "Commerce Clause" of the U. S. Constitution. This clause denies states the power to unjustifiably discriminate against or burden the interstate flow of articles or commerce.

Clark rules "....that these assessments do not relate to any increase in administrative costs" and that "....these fees do not contribute in any way to the professed aims of the Act. For these reasons this court finds through these fees the state is exacting more than its just share from interstate commerce."

The court did not overturn any other part of the act because the overturned portions of the act do not prevent the general objectives of the Act from being achieved. The court also ruled that the rest of the Act should not be overturned because the ban on the use of gill nets in state waters is a legitimate attempt by the state to meet its constitutional duty to preserve its natural resources.

Catfish kill dangers told

By DR. BERNARD FOCH, Regional Medical Director

Because of the ongoing evidence of hardhead catfish kill occurring along the southwest Louisiana coast and with insufficient information regarding the cause of this kill, the Office of Public Health is issuing precautions for those who visit the coastal beach areas for recreational as well as occupational activities.

Do not eat the dead hardhead catfish that have washed up on the beach.

Punture wounds can result from the fin of the hardhead catfish. To avoid puncture wounds, wear shoes when on the beach. Because the fish fin may puncture through shoes, you should consider avoiding areas where there is significant fishkill and remains.

Skin wound infections can be caused by bacteria found in saltwater when people have open wounds, including puncture wounds, that are exposed to the saltwater. Keep open wounds, including puncture wounds, out of warm seawater.

If you should suffer a puncture from fish remains:

1. Immediately wash the area with soap and clean water.
2. Remove any remaining foreign object from your foot. If the object is deep, report to your doctor or local emergency department for removal.
3. A tetanus shot will be needed if your tetanus immunization is not up to date (generally within the past ten years). Check with your doctor to be certain that you do not need a tetanus immunization.
4. Beware of possible complications of a puncture wound which include allergic reactions (local or generalized swelling, itching, shortness of breath), and skin infections (redness, warmth, swelling and pain around the site). Other complications are fever and bloodstream infections. If any of these symptoms occur, call your doctor or report to the emergency department as soon as possible.
5. Persons at higher risk for complications include children, diabetics, persons with foot problems like athlete's foot, liver disease, cancer or HIV infection.

CAMERON OUTDOORS

By Loston McEvers

The Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council will hold a Shrimp Advisory Panel meeting Mon., June 10, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Isle of Capri Casino Crown Plaza Resort, 151 Beach Boulevard, Highway 90 East, Biloxi, Miss.

The purpose of this meeting is to review some plans on shrimp fisheries of the Gulf of Mexico and U. S. waters. Also, environmental impact, really intended to find out the Council's commitment to reduce the by-catch mortality of red snapper, especially small red snappers, from shrimp trawls. It will also bring up alternatives for gear.

The Shrimp Advisory panel is made up of fishermen and other user groups who advise the Council on fishing sources. The meeting is open to the public and a copy of the agenda and amendments can be obtained by calling 813-228-2815.

AREA FISHING

The low levels of water in our marshes, which is getting lower each day with the high temperatures, is really making it tough for fishing. There are holes in the marshes, canals, but it's now very hard to get to these area. The Miami Corporation permit lands are really getting hit hard. Our refuges are also lower than normal, but in the pools there's deep holes, so fishing these holes and boat trails is almost a must. Early mornings and late evenings are the best on buzzbaits, worms and during the day it's spooning time. The salt water fishing is also tough, but there's water to travel. The high winds really give fishermen trouble.

There were some speckle trout in the Turner Bay and Prien Lake areas and a few small ones going south along the ship channel. There also were a few flounder being taken in the area and redfish is best in the salt water marsh area on cuts. With the shrimping open, there will be more fresh live bait to help matters.

NEWS TALK

A Texas angler from Houston, James Wallace, has broken a 21 year speckle trout Texas record. A 13 lb. 11 oz. trout was taken in Baffin Bay near Corpus Christi, breaking the old record by 2 ounces a fish coming out of the same bay.

A federal judge has decided to let the state courts determine the outcome of a lawsuit filed by commercial fishermen seeking to overturn last year's law restricting the use of gill nets.

Many offshore anglers fishing for red snapper have been using a kahlen hook, or as some call it, a horizontal hook. Anglers say it works better than the circle snapper hook. A new circle bait is out that is good for redfish and trout, which really lets the fish hook itself 95 percent of the time. It is also designed for lip hooking, which means more fish released will stay alive when put back into the water.

The parishes in Area 5 - Allen, Beauregard, Vernon and Calcasieu, have reported an increase in turkey harvest.

Hunters weighed in 1279 birds at voluntary weigh stations in 1996, 100 more birds than last year. It is estimated that 12 percent of the harvest during any given year is checked.

North Louisiana is doing very well in 1996. Union Parish had 45 turkeys reported by hunters, compared to 12 in 1995. Jackson Parish broke a two year string of no turkeys reported with a total of 31 for 1996.

A lot of dead hardhead catfish have floated onto the beaches of Louisiana and Texas, but also as far east as the Florida coast. The cause is still unknown. With the kill being wide-spread, pollution is not considered directly involved. La. Wildlife and Fisheries biologists say there may be some environmental cause, such as algae bloom or it could be a disease of the fish.

We're in the month of June now, we've seen temperatures in the 90's already and it will probably get hotter, so if you're enjoying the outdoors, be sure and have plenty of water or fluids with you so you don't dehydrate.

Fur festival board meeting

A meeting of the Fur and Wildlife Festival Board of Directors will be held Mon., June 10, at 5:30 p.m. at the Sabine Wildlife Refuge.

It will be hosted by Will Nidecker, one of the festival vice-presidents.

Sabine sets marsh work

The U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service, Sabine National Wildlife Refuge, and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers have started to rebuild marsh using material from the Calcasieu River Channel maintenance dredging program. This is being funded under Section 204 of the Water Resources and Development Act of 1992, using dredge spoil for beneficial purposes.

This year's project will be using an estimated 2 million cubic yards of dredged material to rebuilt approximately 400 acres of marsh on the south side of Hog Island Gully.

The first phase of this program is to build retention levees around the spoil deposition area. This will be accomplished using an amphibious backhoe. The levee will allow the dredge spoil to build up to desired elevations and keep water quality standards as high as possible. The levee will extend from Hog Island Gully south to the vegetated marsh and will parallel Hog Island Bayou. It will also extend east along the existing canal.

The eastern-most half mile will remain open and unleveed as long as possible. There are large numbers of redfish and other saltwater fish using this area. The open bank line will allow the fish to pass in and out. When the dredging begins the fish have an escape route and should be able to leave the area without any trouble. If water quality standards are exceeded along the open bank line, it will be closed off. Any fish remaining in the restoration area will have to pass through marsh areas and small bayous to get into Calcasieu Lake.

The dredging phase of the project is scheduled to start in late June or early July. When dredging is completed, the area will look like a large mud flat. The spoil material, made up of silt and clay, will slowly settle. It will be covered with plants and become marsh within a few years. The retention levees will be allowed to naturally degrade, opening the area up to fish and other estuarine species.

Three camps condemned

A condemnation hearing was conducted by the Cameron Parish Police Jury at its monthly meeting on four camps at Holly Beach that are in bad condition.

R. O. Addison, owner of the one of the camps, appeared before the jury and said he was in the process of renovating his camp and requested a 30 day extension to make the necessary repairs. It was granted by the jury on a motion by Dusty Sandifer.

Owners of the other three camps did not appear. The parish will now tear them down and the cost of the demolition will be added to the owners' taxes.

*Cameron and West Feliciana are the only two parishes with membership less than 3000 students that are classified as "Hold Harmless" parishes. The term "Hold Harmless" refers to one of twelve parishes in the State of Louisiana which have received NO INCREASES in state funding since 1991.

The above chart shows a comparison of Cameron to similar–sized school districts in the state in regard to ad valorem and sales tax collections. The above figures show that most parishes of our size rely on sales tax collections as a major source to their local income. However, if Cameron Parish were to levy a 2% sales tax it would only generate approximately $281,000 annually. In comparison, a 10–mill ad valorem property tax would bring in approximately $1,000,000 annually. It should be noted that although we levy property taxes exclusively, we are ranked 38th in the state–wide comparison.

Cameron home saved 152 lives during Audrey

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

If only the old George Wakefield home place could talk it could tell many wonderful tales of the history of Cameron Parish. It is better known locally as the Austin Davis home.

George Wakefield first came to Leesburg, which is now known as Cameron, and established his home, just east of the center of town, in 1844.

His son, James, inherited the home in 1926, and his nephew James Austin Davis inherited it in 1936. It is now owned by Davis' daughter, Wilma Davis Bride.

Leesburg was not changed to Cameron until 1870 when it became the new seat of the new parish carved from Imperial Calcasieu. Lessburg was named after the great General Robert E. Lee and the name Cameron was to honor Robert Alexander Cameron, a soldier of the Confederate Army who took part in Bank's Red River campaign and was later prominent in Louisiana politics.

During the Civil War, in the battle of Calcasieu Pass, just off what is now Monkey Island, Federal gunboats patrolled the Sabine, Calcasieu and Mermentau rivers and a contingent of Confederate troops from Sabine Pass, Tex., captured two Union ironclads on may 6, 1864 and several cannon balls from the battle landed in the yard of the old Wakefield home, according to his newphew, the late Austin Davis.

The old home also saw the jailing of its master during the Civil War in Lake Charles for being a Yankee sympathizer, because he had come to the parish from Pennsylvania.

It also saw a highway completed from Cameron to Hackberry in 1931 and a telephone system in 1928. Before that time the community was virtually isolated with entry only by boat.

It also saw the parish turn from only a vast cattle industry to an important oil and gas producer and a base for outdoor drilling, and to one of the busiest fishing ports in the nation, and a mecca for saltwater fishing and duck and goose hunting.

LIVES SAVED

However, the most important thing the home is famous for is the saving of 152 lives during Hurricane Audrey on June 27, 1957 when these people were saved under its roof; 50 of them were children.

Two daughters of the late Austin Davis recently reminisced about their experiences during the storm and the part the big house played in the saving of so many lives.

Wilma Davis Bride, who now owns the house, and her older sister, Mary Davis Henry, and their children, three of Mary's and two of Wilma's, spent the duration of the storm in the southwest corner of one of the upstairs bedrooms looking out of a window and trying to keep their children entertained.

Wilma said "Buster Rogers called the house at 5 a.m. the morning of the storm and told us to get up and get dressed for the water is coming over the road.

"By the time we got the kids dressed we could not get the car out to leave so we started walking to the field to Daddy's house.

"The Tickle family was visiting us so they went with us. When we got to Daddy's house he was as calm as he always was, and already had the bottom windows of his house open because his aid that in case the water came up it could flow through the house, and that it would also float.

"The Ashburn Roux and Ernest Taber families were also there, trapped when their automobiles were drowned out in front of the house. Mrs. Roux's mother, Mrs. Claudie Broussard, busied herself in the kitchen helping Mother make coffee to serve everyone, and making sure nothing was spilled on mother's immaculate floor.

"She later collapsed and turned as white as a sheet and

Cameron in the Civil War

By Archie Hollister

(EDITOR'S NOTE--The following story is reprinted from the Cameron Pilot of May 16, 1963 -- 30 years ago. The late Archie S. Holliser was principal of the old Klondike school and was Cameron parish's unofficial historian. Sabine City, referred to in the report, was probably the forerunner of Port Arthur.)

By ARCHIE S. HOLLISTER

Military activities during the Civil War were often handicapped by a lack of knowledge of the terrain over which armies moved. One can imagine the difficulties a man would run into who attempted to plan a campaign in Southwest Louisiana whenthe information he had was from the following report:

Headquarters, Sabine Pass, October 18, 1863. To: Capt. Edmund P. Turner Ass't Adj. Gen., Houston, Texas.

Sir: Enclosed please find a memorandum in regard to the roads leading from Sabine City to Lake Arthur and farther on. As soon as more thorough information can be obtained it will be forwarded. From the Louisiana shore oppposite Sabine City, to Johnson's Bayou settlement, 12 miles. During dry seasons wagons can pass.

From Johnson's Bayou settlement to Mud Pass bridge, 6 miles. Roads tolerably good in dry season.

From Mud Pass to mouth of the Calcasieu, 8 miles. Good roads.

From the mouth of the calcasieu (right bank of the river) to Niblett's Bluff road, 31 miles. the road can be traveled with wagons at almost any time.

From the point where it strikes the Niblett's Bluff road to Clifton's Ferry, 9 miles. Good road.

The only (way) from Lake Arthur to the mouth of the Calcasieu, so far as can be ascertained, is via the Cheniere along the beach. Distance from the mouth of the Calcasieu to the Cheniere, 15 miles. Bad road.

From the Cheniere to Lake Arthur, 35 to 40 miles. Bad road.

From Clifton's Crossing over the Calcasieu to Lake Arthur, about 30 miles, good road.

From Lake Arthur to the crossing of the Vermilion and Niblett's Road, over the Mermenon (sic) from 15 to 18 miles. Good road.

At the mouth of the Mermenton where it empties into Lake Arthur, is a good ferry, but which cannot be used during high winds.

At the mouth of the Calcasieu there is no ferry. Men cross in canoes and horses have to swim.

The foregoing information is all that can be obtained so far, and seems to be reliable.

CAMERON OUTDOORS

By Loston McEvers

DEEP SEA FISHING

July 4, is around the corner and most of the deep sea fishing is run out of Lake Charles. All of this used to be out of Cameron. It started out as the Lake Charles - Cameron Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo back in 1938, some 58 years ago. In 1946 the rodeo president was Dick Watson of Lake Charles and Joe Doxey of Cameron took care of things on our end with helpers such as W. J. Stine, Lee Nunez, Pete Henry and Jim Singletary.

This brought many visitors to Cameron even until it was brought to Lake Charles. Besides the fulf fishing anglers, there were games, carnival, a street dance in front of the court house in Cameron, where they also boiled shrimp, crabs, fried fish and shrimp and many other goodies. These were the good old days.

SHRIMP SEASON

Our shrimp season opened and it was average around our parish and above average in eastern Louisiana, but Wildlife and Fisheries would say catches throughout the state were slightly below average.

The majority of shrimp coming in were at 70-80 to 80-100 count per pound. Lots of brown-shrimp 80-100 count, but Vermilion Bay produced mostly white shrimp 21-25 count. Our area catches from Marsh Island to the Texas line were the worst with an average 100 count and smaller shrimp.

Hundreds of shrimpers from Cameron Parish were upset opening day as shrimp prices were only 40 to 50 cents a pound compared to prices in the eastern part of the state at 90 to 95 cents per pound. Many hosts tied up refusing to sell their shrimp.

The Texas Shrimp Association and the National Fisheries Institute have served notice of their intent to sue the Secretary of Commerce and Secretary of Interior for failing to protect sea turtles from recreational gear.

They say that the government has proof from data that the recreational is in part responsible for sea turtle stranding but no effort has been made to do anything about it under the Endangered Species Act. Talking of these turtles by recreational fishermen, they say the blame is on commercial fishermen and, of course the recreational fishermen say it's the shrimp trawls which cause death to the turtles.

FISHING NEWS

Fresh water, especially bass fishing, is still slow as water levels remain extremely low in the marshes and area canals.

Saltwater fishing has picked up, seas are calmer and boats are traveling the Gulf catching good red snapper and a few speckle trout. Depending how far you travel offshore, cobia, dolphin, wahoo, Spanish and king mackeral and amber jack are reported taken.

The Mermentau River has plenty of speckle trout, but many are under size. Flounders are showing up and a few redfish as well. The water in the river is real salty. I did not get reports from Calcasieu Lake and the Johnson Bayou area this week.

La. Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries biologists have predicted a summer of fishing for the Louisiana coast. We should see plenty of redfish like last year in our marshes, not as large and plenty of good specks. Our late cold spells this spring have really just set things back a little.

The warmer weather will see more bait fish in our inland marshes, low water will see more salt water inland and put this together, we'll see more reds and specks in our salt marshes and inland streams.

NEWS TALK

Recreation fishing licenses for 1996-97 will go on sale June 1, but remember, they will be good only beginning July 1. They do not become in effect when you buy them, so keep your old license to be legal until July 1. This is a change from previous years. The old licenses will be available until and through June 30.

Due to the flounder limit put this year at 10, the GCCA tournament will not have a flounder category, instead it will replace the flounder category with a sheephead category.

Turtle comments extended

National Marine Fisheries Service Director Rollie Schmitten announced that the comment period for the proposed permanent sea turtle protection rule would be extended until July 15. Schmitten's action was in response to recommendations made by Congressman Jimmy Hayes who has long criticized NMFS for the burdensome requirements placed on shrimpers in the Gulf of Mexico.

"Shrimpers off Cameron and Vermilion Bay have had enough," Hayes sayd. "Every time they spend the money and get used to the impact that turtle excluder devices (TED's) have on their livelihoods, NMFS changes the rules. Shrimpers simply want to obey the law and be left alone."

Last September, NMFS published an advanced notice of proposed rulemaking (ANPR) to gather comments on a proposed permanent sea turtle protection rule, which would place more stringent requirements of the uses of turtle excluder devices (TED's) in the Gulf of Mexico and the Southeast Atlantic.

Over 900 comments were received on a variety of topics. NMFS went ahead with the proposed permanent sea turtle rule on April 24, which included the elimination of soft TED's; the establishment of Shrimp Fishery Conservation Areas out to 10 nautical miles; and, the requirement that hard TED's be installed on 12 foot try nets. Louisiana law has allowed a maximum head rope of sixteen feet for try nets.

Hayes requested that NMFS extend the comment period as a gesture of good faith.

"With a 95% compliance rate of shrimpers in nearshore waters in the Gulf of Mexico for existing TED's requirements, the very least shrimpers should expect from NMFS is a fair and open process," Hayes said.

Booklets are available from LDWF

Have you ever been caught outdoors with a bird soaring majestically overhead, but you couldn't identify it?

Have you ever been in the woods and you couldn't figure out what animal made those 3-1/2 inch footprints?

Two booklets available from the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries are just what you're looking for. "Ducks at a Distance" and the "Wildlife Pocket Identification Guide" can help you hone your outdoor identification skills.

Both guides are avaialble from LDWF's library. Call 504/765-2934, or write Library, Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, P.O. Box 98000, Baton Rouge, La. 70898-9000. The guides are free.

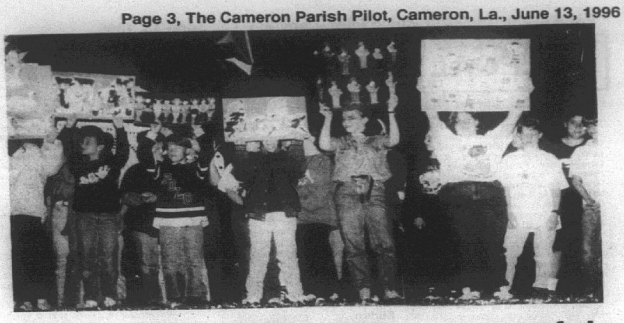
"People have been inquiring about these guides for almost five months, and I'm please to report that their wishes have come true," said LDWF librarian Rosalind Hollins.

"Ducks at a Distance" is not only for waterfowl hunters but is a handy tool for any birdwatcher. It has full-color illustrations showing differences between hens and drakes as well as drakes in eclipse plumage. Characteristics to look for, including body shape and silhouette flock patterns, are also illustrated, as are calls for which to listen.

The booklet distinguishes between puddle ducks like mallards, gadwalls and pintails, and diving ducks including ringnecks, canvasbacks and mergansers. There are also illustrations of swans and geese.

A handy chart at the back of the booklet shows comparative size of waterfowl, with all birds drawn to the same scale.

"Wildlife Pocket Identification Guide" is also in full-color, with illustrations of large and small mammals, upland birds, waterfowl and non-game raptors. The guide gives field dressing tips and includes illsutrations of tracks and scat where appropriate.



Since the guide is designed for identification of animals across North America, some of the animals included are not found in Loiusiana. Familiar species, hwoever, like white-tailed deer, black bear, alligator, opossum, squirrel and woodcock are clearly depicted.

Hollins noted that the guides are available well in advance of the 1996 hutning season. "Readers can study up so they won't get a ticket," she said. "There's no excuse for not being able to identify wildlife."

(Cameron Pilot, June 6, 1963)

GEODETIC SURVEY BEING MADE

(By Hadley Fontenot)

An important extensive coast and geodetic survey is being made along the Gulf Coast at Cameron. The steel towers seen every few miles along the Cameron coast are structures used in this work. From these lofty positions, the engineers can take sights to other stations and oil field platforms without obstructions from trees and buildings.

Army Lt. Charles K. Townsend is in charge of a work party of 26 men. He explains that the coast and geodetic surveys are an activity of the U. S. Department of Commerce, but they do use commissioned army officers to head most of the survey parties.

The work they are doing now, Lt. Townsend said, is what is called a Triangulation Survey of offshore oil well platforms. It will cover the whole area from Cameron to the Mississippi Delta and from the coast line to about 50 miles offshore.

BUSY FIRE DEPT.

The Cameron Fire Department has been busy lately according to Ray Burleigh, Fire Chief.

A marsh fire east of the town of Cameron last week occupied the firemen's time for several hours and burned off a number of acres of grazing range.

The firemen pumped out the pogy boat Sea Raider, which had taken on water at the Louisiana Menhaden docks because of a large load of fish. In appreciation, the company sent the firemen a $50 check.

Two fire plugs are being installed by the fire department across the road in the ditch at the Garber Subdivision to provide water shoudl it be needed there.

LIBRARY EXPANSION

The Cameron Parish Library Board is getting ready to nearly triple the size of the present library building in Cameron, all at no extra cost to the parish's taxpayers.

Plans for the library expansion were outlined to the Cameron Parish Police Jury Monday, which agreed to the library board's request to call for bids on the project.

The addition will include a room for book stacks, additional office space, a lounge for library workers, additional storage space, a visual aid room and a garage for the bookmobile.

The school board has agreed to give the library some additional land to permit the library expansion, and the Cameron Masonic Lodge has agreed to trade the library for a parcel of land in front for a parcel in the rear to make room for the garage.

Mrs. Mary Brand, parish librarian, said that enough funds have been accumulated from the maintenance tax during the past few years to pay for the addition. The library board also plans to buy a new bookmobile sometime in the not too distant future.

RUTHERFORD BEACH ROAD OPEN

Rutherford Beach, a mile-long beach stretching west from the mouth of the Mermentau River south to Oak Grove, is now open to the public as a result of a new 2½ mile road having been completed by the police jury.

Heirs to the B. F. Rutherford Estate dedicated the right-of-way for the new road to the parish more than a year ago and dirt work on the road was recently completed. Passable now in dry weather, the road will be shelled in the near future.

The Rutherford heirs have also dedicated a road along the beach to the public, plus two avenues and eight streets in a beach subdivision. Some 512 lots, 50 by 100 feet in size, will be offered for sale in the near future. A high-class subdivision is planned.

The beach, about 150 feet deep, belongs to the state, and is open to the public. The police jury has asked swimmers and picknickers to cooperate in keeping the beach clean.

OLD HOME

we all thought she was going to die, so we put her on an upstairs bed and she survived, probably having had a light stroke.

"Daddy put all the men and boys who had sought refuge in the house out in front to divert the boards, oilfield run, and any floating debris away from the house so it could not be used as a battering ram against the house."

Mary said, "Around 7 a.m. Daddy went out to his car to listen to the morning news on the radio because the electricity had long before gone off, and heard that the storm had already hit Port Arthur, Tex. He came in the house and told us the water probably would not go up any higher than the baseboards, if that high, becuase that was how high it got in 1918.

"Daddy had the men in front of the house form a human chain and rescue people floating by on debris and rooftops and from stalled cars.

"As the day progressed and we were all told to go upstairs as the water came up higher and higher on the downstairs, we watched the drama going on outside from the upstairs windows, two on each side and four dormer windows in the front. (The dormers have the date 1876 painted over each window under the eaves which was done on time when an iterant painter passed through and repainted the house during one of its remodelings.)"

Mary said it was like watching a movie, with all of the drama that was going on.

Wilma said that a family passed by, a man, his wife and two children, and Frankie Henry threw him an electric wire to catch and he wouldn't take it, probably because he had been educated not to touch electric downed wires, especially standing in water.

"That really bothered Frankie when he heard that the wife and children had drowned and the man survived.

"When the water finally got so high the men and boys were forced to come into the house, they joined the others upstairs." Wilma said, "Daddy, in his usual calm and reassuring voice, told everyone, 'If the house goes, just stay where you are and it will float and we will be saved'. I had all the confidence in the world that he was right because he had a way of making you feel like he knew exactly what to do.

"Everyone seemed to calm down, becuase they had seen many houses floating by to end up out in the back marsh. This seemed to make us all whimsical and many of the people started making bets on which of their houses would pass by first."

EYE PASSES

"When the eye of the hurricane passed over, there was an eerie calm and a vast stillness in the air, but Daddy told us not to move, that the other part of the storm would come and might even be worse than the first part, which we found to be true," Mary said.

"When the storm passed, and the water receded, we came down from the stairs and walked down the road, stepping over all kinds of debris, houses, boats, etc., that had floated up from the front and got to the courthouse, which was filled with people who had sought refuge there.

"They empited the jail and told the women and children they could sleep in the cells. Some did, but we didn't choose to do that," Wilma said. "I noted how amazing it was that everyone was calm, even when relating how many in their families had died, just like they were in a state of shock - I guess that is nature's way of allowing one to cope with their grief.

"The next morning we were all instructed to walk down to the river where we would be taken to Lake Charles in boats. I will never forget how hot it was that day and how the steel deck of the boat burned under our feet," Mary said. "When we got to Lake Charles we were met by members of the Henry family who took us to Doll Henry's home where we stayed until we could make arrangements to start over."

The only communication in and out of Cameron Parish for some time was by ham radio and was erratic at best.

Wilma and Mary's half-brother was stationed in the service at Cherry Point, N. C. at the time and received word that his step-mother had died in the hurricane and got an emergency leave to come to Cameron. It was also headlines on the front page of their local paper.

It was not until he arrived in Cameron that he learned it was not Tad Davis, but Frankie Henry's grandmother Murphy who had died, not from the hurricane, but because she was terminally ill already and had survived the storm in the old Davis home.

Both girls rebuilt their homes and the Davis home was remodeled and even though Mrs. Bride lives in Lake Charles and Mrs. Henry spends most of her time at her DeRidder ranch, their hearts will always remain in Cameron.

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) -- A new drug has been approved that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain. This material has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis™" and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscle aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis™ relieves pain by first selectively attracting, and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis™ is an odorless, greaseless, non-staining cream and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work. ## Big gar

PRAVATE MILLER is shown with the 130-pound, 7-foot garfish that he caught June 8 at Grand Chenier.

THE LOW WATER in the roadside ditches, resulting from the drought, has brought to light the skeleton of this old house which floated to the Gibbstown area during Hurricane Audrey in 1957—39 years ago this June 27. Many homes were washed into the marsh by the storm that took more than 300 lives. (Photo by Geneva Griffith.)

Board approves salary schedule

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish School Board approved a revised salary schedule for future school employees at its monthly meeting Wed., June 12.

Pam LaFleur, superintendent, presented a proposed salary schedule which was rejected by the board, which then went over each category making revisions.

Board President Bill Morris objected to the proposal of Mrs. LaFleur of paying $7.76 per hour for secretaries, saying it was out of line with local businesses. However, Mrs. LaFleur presented a survey of salaries paid at local businesses to the contrary. Morris said he did not thing most businesses paid this much, certainly not by his company.

Tony Johnson, board member, proposed setting $6.60 as the starting pay for secretaries. Mrs. LaFleur stated she did not think this was enough for skills the secretaries have to have these days,and felt like the secretaries were being singled out for deeper cuts.

Mrs. La Fleur's proposal for starting maintenance workers was upped from her suggested starting pay of $7.60 to $11.34 per hour, but Dan Billiot voted no, saying he liked Mrs. LaFleur's proposal better.

COACHES SALARIES

Each school will have one athletic director or head coach. These positions will pay a supplement of $5,600 for Class A-AA school.ls and $4,400 for Class B-C. This was upped from Mrs. LaFleur's proposal of $5,200 and $4,200 respectively.

Supplements for coach in Class A-AA will be $4,300 and $3,800 for Class B-C schools. To receive a coaching supplement, a coach must have at least two varsity

Willie pays surprise visit here

Betty Smith of Grand Chenier and Carita Guidry, head of the South Cameron hospital's home health department, couldn't believe their eyes Monday evening at the Creole Food Mart ("Sha-Sha's") owned by Adeline Styron when they spotted a familiar looking middle aged man with a braid.

It couldn't be! But it was none other than old "Crying in the Rain" himself--Willie Nelson having a cajun supper along with his wife, two children, a nephew and his wife.

Nelson, who proved quite willing to chat with Smith and Guidry, told them that he and his group were in route from a concert in Galveston, Texas to one in Biloxi, Miss. and had decided to follow the Hug the Coast road.

He said when he got to Oak Grove he asked someone where they could get a good cajun homecooked meal and they were directed to "Sha-Sha's" in Creole.

Mrs. Smith said Nelson was very friendly and talkative and signed autographs for the 30 or 40 local folks who showed up when they learned Willie was in town. Nelson said he found the coastal area to be very beautiful and interesting.

Someone came in with a camcorder to record the event and Mrs. Smith said she took some pictures and plans to send one to the Pilot for next week's issue.

Grand Lake group going to Austria

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Cameron Parish will be well represented this month at the International Basketball Tournament in Austria.

Grand Lake High School basketball coach Terry Bergeron and three members of the girls basketball team, Lindsay Smythe, and identical twins Missy and Laura Cox, will leave June 24, to join the other members of the two teams from Louisiana, a total of 14. They will join the other team members from all over the United States for a total of 12 teams, and will travel to Wels, Austria for the world tournament.

The twins are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James "Bozo" Cox, Jr. and Lindsay is the daughter of Dr. Mark Smythe and Sandra Smythe, all of Grand Lake.

The local girls were recommended for the trip by a coach from a competing team they played as members of the Grand Lake girls basketball team.

The Sports Challenge Co. sends a variety of sports teams throughout Europe, promoting cultural exchange and creating good will.

The girls raised all of the money for the trip along with their coach, by holding shoot-a-thons, car washes, raffles, four bake sales, and donations from local businesses and resident. Also from letters they sent out to all residents of the community.

They will play mostly European teams. They will play one day then on their day of rest, will tour the country, then play every other day. They return to the United States July 1.

Wild well is capped

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

An oil well being drilled in the Kings Bayou area known as the Theriot well blew out Friday night at 7:30 p.m.

Officials of Shell Oil Co., which is drilling the well, spent most of the night trying to bring the well under control. It was capped at 3:30 Saturday afternoon.

Some 50 residents of the area were ordered to evacuate by the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department because of the danger of the leaking methane gas. No injuries were reported.

The Cameron Recreation Center was opened as a shelter for persons needing it.

LAURA AND TIM ALLURED and friends will put on a ventriloquism, puppet, magic and music show at the Cameron Parish Library Mon., June 24, at 10 a.m. for Story Hour.

Goals told for beaches here

By CYNDI SELLERS, Chairman, Cameron Parish Beach Dist. #2

With the recent re-extension of Rutherford Beach Road to the beach, a joint project of Beachfront Development Dist. #2 and the Cameron Parish Police Jury, the first phase of the district's Rutherford Beach Improvement Project is complete. The results have been very positive so far, with more beach goers using the new entrance thereby reducing traffic in the residential area.

The overall goal of the project is to enhance the useability of Rutherford Beach for families, creating a safer, more pleasant and more user-friendly recreation area. To that end, the next phase of the project will be to place a security light at the end of the new road and then to provide electricity for a future concession stand.

It is hopes that a concession stand with cold drinks and snacks will make a day at the beach more attractive and at the same time provide the district with some funds to continue making improvements.

The Beachfront Development District welcomes input from the beach-going public. The monthly meetings are held on the third Tuesday of each month at 5 p.m. at the Creole Multi-Purpose Building.

The public is reminded that for safety reason, no glass containers are allowed on the beach. No display of power is permitted and a speed limit is in place.

Fun Day set

The Grand Chenier American Legion Post will hold a Fun Day, Sun., June 30, at the Grand Chenier Park. Barbecue lunches will be served as well as cakes and drinks, starting at 11 a.m.

Events are scheduled for the entire day including boat races, dancing, etc.

THE THERIOT oil and gas well at Creole blew out Friday night and was not capped until 3:30 p.m. Saturday. This is a view of the rig from the road after the well had been controlled. (Photo by Geneva Griffith.)

Picard going after that extra penny

-CAPITAL NEWS-

Before the ink is dry on the Legislature's plan to return the exemptions on one cent of the state's sales tax, the next superintendent of education has his eye on that $110 million.

State Sen. Cecil Picard of Maurice, who takes over as the head of the state's education system July 1, told the Louisiana Association of Principals last week that "we must go after the penny."

A Louisiana Association of Educators billboard beside the interstate near the state Capitol has been extolling lawmakers for weeks to "Give us that penny." Lawmakers instead renewed all four cents of the sales tax for another year with a provision to replace the traditional exemptions on food, utilities and some other items beginning July 1, 1997. They estimate that will cut state sales taxes by $110 million.

Picard told the principals that he plans to ask the Legislature to reimpose that sales tax and dedicate the proceeds to pay raises for teachers, administrators and others in the education community. He expressed disappointment that principals were excluded from the $60 million in pay raises approved for 52,000 educators during this legislative session.

The new superintendent has other ideas for education besides increasing educators' salaries. He plans to work to improve technology in the classrooms across the state and wants to allow public schools more flexibility, part of which means encouraging "site-based management, site-based budgeting," he said.

A former teacher, coach and principal, Picard also likes some of the ideas being promoted by the governor's Louisiana Learn Commission. For instance, he favors rewarding schools that excel in educating students, assisting those that need help and punishing those that continue to show poor results after getting help from the state.

"We need to reward schools that work," Picard agreed.

Archie tells old funeral customs

(EDITOR'S NOTE--This article was published in a 1963 issue of the Cameron Pilot. It was written by Archie Hollister, principal of the Klondike School and the unofficial historian of the parish. Mr. Hollister, who is now deceased, was a brother of Bernice Stewart Denny, who has written for the Pilot for many years.)

By ARCHIE S. HOLLISTER

The changes of the years have, of course, affected many of our old customs and habits, and not the least perhaps are those customs relative to deaths and funerals. Many of our readers will easily recall the time when there were no funeral homes on the cheniers and relatives and friends performed the final services for the dead.

Stated periods of mourning were faithfully observed, and dress and behavior were carefully regulated according to ancient custom. The length of the mourning period was related to the nearness of kin of the deceased, ranging from a few months for a cousin say, up to a year for husband or wife. Black was the standard color for clothing, and music was usually prohibited during much of the mourning period.

Like all human institutions, the outward show did not always accurately reflect the inward feeling; people did what they were expected to do under the circumstances. When I was a kid I overheard one sweet old lady express the wish that her relatives would quit dying for a while; she was getting tired of wearing black dresses, she said, and she hadn't been able to go to a dance for three years.

More illustrative perhaps is the tale that was told of a widow who had shown due sorrow for her husband's death and proper respect for the opinions of the community by faithful observance of all the regulations connected with mourning. But the widow was young and attractive and anxious to rejoin the social life of the neighborhood when her year's bereavement should be ended. Accordingly she planned to announce the end of her withdrawal from society by giving a dance on the anniversary of her husband's death.

Relatives were called in and plans were made. Musicians were engaged, refreshments prepared, and a blanket invitation extended to everyone in the vicinity. Shortly after dark a goodly number of people had gathered, and the widow was just about to announce the first dance, when some ceremonious individual pointed out that the widow's year was not yet at an end. Here it was only seven-thirty, he said, and the husband had actually died at nine o'clock. Clearly the stipulated year was not completed yet, and therefore the dance could not begin for an hour and a half. Well, this was a factor that had been overlooked, but everyone recognized the significance of it, and the necessity of waiting.

In good humor the crowd broke up, scattering to several nearby homes. At nine o'clock they promptly reassembled, and with a clear conscience and wholesome self-esteem for having done the right thing, the widow called upon the fiddlers to strike up a tune and as light-footed and light-hearted as anyone there, she led off the dance.

It was gratifying to know that everyone approved of her actions, and that her course was cited as an example of propriety and decorum.

Book tells how to tell La. fish apart

How many times have you caught a fish you couldn't identify? Fish from different familes can look alike and sometimes even share common names. Today's size and bag limits make it more important than ever to know what you catch.

"A Fishermen's Guide to Common coastal Fishes of Louisiana & Adjacent Offshore Waters" is a 50-page guide produced as a joint venture between the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries and the Louisiana Sea Grant College Program. Descriptions of each species, including average length and weight, scientific name and the often confusing number of common names for each fish are also given.

The book's chapters are divided as follows: snappers and snapper-like fishes; groupers and grouper-like fishes; jacks, dolphins and cobia; mackerels, tunas and tuna-like fishes; seatrout, drums and rum-like fishes; and miscellaneous fishes. The final chapter is a guide to common shrimp.

The books may be purchased from the La. Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries headquarters in Baton Rouge or at the La. Sea Grant office on LSU campus. Mail order forms are available from the Cameron office of Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service; contact Kevin A. Savoie at 775-5516 or send a check or money order for $20 payable to Louisiana Sea Grant of : La. Sea Grant Communications Office, LSU, 105 Wetland Resources Bldg., Baton Rouge, La. 70803-7507.

Andrew booklet out

The National Biological Service and Louisiana Sea Grant College Program have produced "Willful Winds: Hurricane Andrew and Louisiana's Coast," available just in time for the 1996 hurricane season. This colorful, 16-page booklet details results from studies conducted on natural resources after Hurricane Andrew struck Louisiana's coast Aug. 26, 1992.

Hurricane Andrew caused over $27 billion in damage in Florida and Louisiana. Its 140 mph winds and storm surge of 7 feet eroded 30 to 40 percent of Raccoon Island off the coast of Louisiana. More than 40% of the bottomland hardwood forests in Iberia, St. Martin, and St. Mary parishes were severely damaged.

Three months after the storm, the U. S. Congress provided funds so that damages to Louisiana's coastal resources could be assessed and monitored.

Authors Glenn Guntenspergen and Beth Vairin, both with NBS, took information directly from the researchers as well as from their study plans and results as reported in professional publications and presentations and distilled it for less technical audiences.

Just as the hurricane itself moved from the coastal barrier islands to coastal marshes and on to forested wetlands, so did the studies, and so does "Willful Winds". First, it chronicles the development of the storm and then the damage and recovery of a series of coastal ecosystems. It concludes with a three-part segment on the inevitability of hurricanes and what can be done to protect Louisiana's valuable coastal resources from further damage.

REMEMBER

By Keith Hambrick

Chadwell remembered

(Cameron Pilot, April 25, 1963)

MRS. LILLIE H. CHADWELL

Shortly after we published the first issue of the Cameron Pilot in October, 1956, we received a wonderful letter from Mrs. Lillie H. Chadwell of Cincinnati, Ohio, who told us that she had been the wife of Benjamin L. Chadwell who published a newspaper in Cameron in the 1890's by the same name--the Cameron Pilot.

Mrs. Chadwell became a faithful subscriber to the "new" Pilot and on several occasions wrote us concerning her early life in Cameron Parish.

It was with regret that we learned this week of the death of Mrs. Chadwell. Her daughter, Miss Rae Chadwell, sent us the following information on her mother's life:

By MISS RAE CHADWELL

My mother had a most interesting and colorful life and she developed a commanding personality, tempered by envirable good nature and a keen sense of humor. She was beloved by all who knew her.

Lillie Helen Chadwell, who died October 1, 1962 in Cincinnati, Ohio, was born April 24, 1876 in Cameron, Louisiana, the daughter of Isaac and Amanda Bonsall. She married Benjamin L. Chadwell Jan. 28, 1892 at her father's home in Cameron. (It is a commentary on the life in Cameron at the time to say that her bridal gown was a fitted cream nun's veiling that touched the floor.)

Her husband was twice her age and a cattle buyer for northern cattle brokers. His occupation opened up a whole new world for her. He bought poor cattle on foot in Cameron Parish and the Southwest and transported them from the nearest rail point, by cattle cars, to what was then called the Indian Territory (roughly the present-day state of Oklahoma), where there was fine grazing land. Here they were put out to pasture to fatten.

These trips were slow and tedious, as the train had to make long stops at watering places, so that the cattle could be watered. Unwilling to leave his wife behind, he sent her and usually a relative (and later the children) on ahead in passenger coaches to hotels along the route, while he followed with the cattle train.

In the Indian Territory, she lived a pleasant life in the hotels until the cattle were sufficiently fattened and they were moved on to the Kansas City and Chicago stockyards to fulfill the contracts of the brokers.

This early experience made a profound impression on her and engendered in her a spirit of independence and a strong sense of self-reliance.

Although her husband continued in this business until the early 1900's, he always had other projects under way, and in the late Nineties he became editor and publisher of The Cameron Pilot, a venture which was proved to be less successful than was the cattle business, but of which she spoke with pride all her life. The Cameron association remained dear to her heart.

Ben Chadwell died in 1913, and six years later, she was married briefly to Lee M. Hoaglund of Beaumont, Tex. After his death, she went to live with her children, Rae Chadwell of Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio; the late Mrs. Robyn Thorburg of Washington, D. C., whose husband was news editor of the Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance during those years; and Harold Chadwell of Detroit, Michigan.

CATTLE DRIVE

The big semi-annual crossing of the Calcasieu River by some 1,000 head of cattle was made Tuesday at Cameron. Owned by some dozen or more Creole cattlemen, the cattle were being moved from their winter ranges at Johnson Bayou to summer pastures at Creole.

The big roundup and cattle drive takes nearly a week and a large number of riders take part in the drive each spring and fall.

The most spectacular part of the drive is the swimming of the river and ship channel at Cameron.

Creole nature Trail history told by Jones

The history of the Creole Nature Trail was reviewed by Lynn Jones for the DeQuincy Rotarians at the weekly meeting last week.

Jones, a native of DeQuincy, formerly worked on tourism affairs for the Lieutenant Governor. He is now a private consultant doing work for the Creole Nature Trail District.

The trail was established in 1975 largely through the efforts of Jim Lester, a Lake Charles sports writer. The 150 mile trail begins in Sulphur and goes south through Hackberry, Holly Beach, Cameron and Creole and then cut north through Sweetlake-Grand Lake to Lake Charles.

Jones said that thousands of tourists follow the trail each year to view the marshes, beaches, fishing boats, birds and alligators. Four wildlife refuges are located along or near the trail in Cameron parish.

The speaker said that the trail has been designated as a National Scenic Byway which will greatly increase the number of visitors and also help secure funds for the trail's upkeep.

The trail may also be designated as an All American Road, a distinction that is very unique. He noted that the chenieres or oak covered coastal ridges of Cameron parish are found only is about four other areas of the country.

He said the trail was especially noted for bird life and that 250 species of birds can found along it. Also it has one of the largest concentrations of alligators in the country.

Jones said he was working with the Trail district to put together a trail corridor management plan including such items as birdwaters booklets, multilingual brochures in French and Spanish, travel guide and booklet for children.

Rotary President David Buxton reminded members that the club's annual installation party will be held Thursday evening at the Horace Lynn Jones home

LSU makes survey on gambling in state

Officials from parishes offering casinos, river boats and video poker are very concerned about compulsive and underage gambling, according to an LSU survey.

But in parishes offering only video poker, officials are more concerned about the influx of money, the survey showed.

The questionnaire was sent statewide in April by LSU's Office of Government Programs to 2,000 elected and senior parish and municipal officials.

The survey showed that local officials are split into two interest groups, depending on whether their parishes host casinos, riverboats and video poker, or just video poker.

Officials from triple-gaming parishes are mostly concerned with the cost and training of police, fire, emergency medical services and social services related to gambling. These worries are closely followed by concerns about underage and addictive gambling.

However, officials from video poker-only parishes are concerned mainly about the impact of gaming on overall economic development. This worry is closely followed by concerns about understanding gaming regulations and the local government's role in enforcement.

The split between the two groups is because of the high visibility of Indian casino and riverboat gambling, according to Brookie Allphin, director of LSU's Office of Government Programs.

"The casinos and riverboats are a major presence in a community and create a large number of employees, gamblers and tourists, along with the accompanying social issues," she said.

"However, as video poker-only parishes tend to be more rural and less populated, officials there are more concerned with the bottom line, money and municipal control."

The survey will be used by LSU's Office of Government Programs to create the upcoming year's schedule of assistance to local government, with new programs starting in July.

As a result of the survey, Allphin said national experts will soon arrive from the University of Las Vegas to provide seminars on tapping into the tourist gambling dollar.

"We've also started publishing a bimonthly report on gaming regulations for parish legal department because a seminar takes too long to get the information out and local officials need our educational support now."

Additionally, she said, a 10-point program examining the social causes of compulsive gambling will be offered to officials in the fall.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Cameron Parish Gravity Drainage District No. 3, held on April 16, 1996, at 2:30 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex.
Members Present: Edwin W. Quinn, E. J. Dronet, Scott Henry, George Kelley, and Earl Guthrie.
Members Absent: None.
Others Present: Paul Yackupzak, Glenn Harris, George LeBoeuf, Brent Nunez, Malcolm Savoie, Amos Vincent, Greg Wicke, and Ted Joannen.
A motion was made by Scott Henry, seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried to approve the minutes of the March 19, 1996, regular meeting as written.
A motion was made by Earl Guthrie, seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried to approve the Financial Report for the month of March, 996.
A motion was made by Scott Henry, seconded by Earl Guthrie, and unanimously carried to approve the following bills for payment:
1. Cameron Parish Pilot $28.00; 2. Coastal Culvert & Supply, Inc., $466.00; 3. Gulf Coast Supply Company, $22.04.
Scott Henry reported that due to bad weather, DACI was delayed in installing the culvert on Henry property, but the machine was delivered last week and the culvert installed, and then they cleaned out the lateral at Staff Gauge #3. The work was done at a cost of under $3,000, and an invoice will be presented at next month's meeting.
The Sells lateral clean-out was discussed, and it was agreed that Scott Henry will get competitive quotes for that work and check on the mitigation requirements. A motion was made by E. J. Dronet, seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried to authorize Scott Henry to get competitive quotes on clean-out of the Sells Lateral, and if the lesser quote is suitable, he is authorized to have the work accomplished. It was also agreed that a representative of Lonnie Harper & Associates will be on the site to be sure it is within permit regulations.
Paul Yackupzak announced the promotion of Glenn Harris, who has officially been named to replace Steve Klett with the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service. He also stated that the apparent low bidder has been selected to do the plug project in the Cameron-Creole Watershed. Mr. Yackupzak also stated that money is still available for the Automation of Water Control Structures Project, and hopefully we can get approval and put it out for bid soon.
The Cameron-Creole Watershed Water Management Report was then presented by Glenn Harris. He stated that salinities have been quite high over the last month. Scott Henry mentioned that fact that fishermen have an interest in having slots open at least intermittently. Cameron Prairie officials objected to having any slots open at this time.
It was noted that the flapgate near Norman LaBove's old house is rusting, and we will need to dig up the old culvert and leave it open. It was agreed that this situation will be investigated.
There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.
Edwin W. Quinn, President
E. J. Dronet, Secretary-Treasurer

Doctor's discovery may end obesity

HILTON HEAD, S.C. -- A doctor has discovered that an ingredient found in a small fruit grown in Asia, combined with an ingredient praised by the U.S. Department of Agriculture can help cause significant weight loss.

In a study published in a prestigious American medical journal, Dr. Anthony A. Conte, M.D. reported that the formula, now called Bio-Max 3000, caused patients to lose more than twice as much weight as a control group on the same fat reduced diet. Neither group was instructed to decrease the amount of food they ate or to increase their exercise levels. An article published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition confirms that you don't have to reduce the amount of food you eat to lose weight, provided that you limit the fat.

Scientists suggest that the mechanism behind the weight reduction includes decreasing sugar cravings and interruption of the "Krebs Cycle", an important step in the body's fat storage process. "The best part of this unique discovery is that it is not a drug, but a safe dietary food supplement" says Dr. Conte. The Asian fruit, called garcinia, is similar to citrus fruit found in the United States with one big exception-- it may help some people fight obesity! While Dr. Conte's study may be preliminary, the exclusive North American distributor, Phillips Gulf Corp., is calling the Bio-Max 3000 supplement "Nature's Ideal Diet Aid."

According to a spokesperson for the company, Bio-Max 3000 is now available on a limited basis through pharmacies and nutrition stores or call 1-800-729-8446.© 1995 Phillips Gulf Corp

IN MEMORY

A TRIBUTE to Our Dad
Only A Dad

Only a Dad with a tired face, coming home from his daily race, bringing little of gold or fame to show how he has played the game. But glad in his heart that his own rejoice to see him come and to hear his voice. Only a Dad with a brood of five, one of ten million men who thrive, plodding along in the daily strife, bearing the whips and the scorns of life, with never a whimper of pain or hate for the sake of those who wait. Only a Dad, neither rich or proud, merely one of the surging crowd, toiling, striving from day to day, facing whatever comes his way. Silent whenever the harsh condemn and bearing it all for the love of them. Only a Dad, but he gives it all to smooth the way for his children small, doing with courage stern and grim the deeds his father did for him. Next is the line that for him I pen - Only a Dad, but the best of men.

We miss you Daddy. From the Arthur Murphy Family. Picture taken on Arthur Murphy's 80th birthday. This poem was written for our Dad during the Great Depression by his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lillie H. Chadwell, mother of Rae Chadwell. Submitted by Mrs. Warren Miller.

Man drowns off Cameron

A Port Arthur man drowned Thursday after falling overboard from a fishing boat off the Cameron coast.

The U. S. Coast Guard said the20 year old man was on a 78-foot fishing vessel and fell overboard about 30 miles east of Cameron at 11:03 a.m. Thursday, when a distress call was made to the Coast Guard Group in Galveston.

Officials have not released the name of the man.

The man, who was the son of the boat's captain and who could not swim, was working on nets when he was knocked overboard by a turtle excluder device. The Coast Guard said he was not wearing a life vest. The captain jumped in, but could not save his son.

SELLERS IS OWNER

New store caters to tourists, crafters

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Mrs. Cindy Sellers has been an avid beachcomber most of her life, having the opportunity to walk the Cameron beaches hunting for shells. Driftwood pieces that wash up on the beaches are highly prized by collectors also.

Some of the chunks of wood are from far away places, such as mahogany from South America or Africa, which float on the Gulf stream. If the wood has been immersed a long time, it may be encrusted with sea life or riddled with woodworm paths.

Decorators prize the most fanciful shapes for wall and floor art, and flower arrangements may be creatively made with driftwood.

Mrs. Sellers has turned her fascination with her shell hobby into a commercial venture, and a place where other shellers can display and sell their works of art they made from their finds along the beach.

She has named her quaint little shop Sea and Shore and has on display lovely mirrors, picture frames, various shell arrangements, and beautiful driftwood pieces.

Also in the shop can be found many unique souvenirs made from alligator teeth from craftsmen in local alligator farms.

The shop is located on street off the main highway 27-82, in back of the Cameron Branch of the Calcasieu Marine Bank.

CDA meets

At the May meeting of Court Saints Mary and Patrick Catholic Daughters, plans were discussed for the welcome new parishioners social, which was held June 2.

It was also decided to dispense with the June and July meetings because of the children being involved in baseball and other activities. Meetings will resume Aug. 12, at 7 p.m. in Class room 7.

S. Board approves permit

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Parish School Board met Friday morning to discuss with representatives of Union Pacific Resources Co. a seismic permit on Section 16-14-8, in the Creole area.

David Sturlese, the school board's geologist, said that he needed to know what is under the board's land and a mile around it in order to market the property.

"All big companies, such as Miami Corp., etc., require these specifics. That's why I came up with a very tough lease so you can be a sophisticated land owner," he said.

The company agreed to certain things they had refused two months ago, such as the "favored nation" clause which grants the land owner a higher amount of money if it is given to an adjacent land owner.

It also agreed to donate three computers to the board as well as $15,000 for the section, and agreed to let the geologist study the 3 D's, along with a consultant.

A representative of the company, Denny Wimberly, had told the school board at their Wednesday morning meeting that it was imperative that they get this approval this week, as their field work crews are up to that point, and further delay would be costly.

AMERICAN SPORTSMAN

American sportsmen are at a crossroads. The direction we will take in the next year will determine the future of hunting, fishing and trapping in America. It's how we deal with the challenges now to see the impact on our sports survival.

Sportsmen in seven states face the likelihood in 1996 of voters issues to challenge hunting and trapping. It could be tough to defeat these issues brought before the voters.

There are dozens of anti-sportsmen bills and lawsuits by animal rights folks. Don't be surprised that the 91 million acres of national wildlife refuge system is not challenged and they may mess around with the federal Endangered Species Act.

It's time for sportsmen to take a bow. Who's footing the bill for wildlife management? The same people who always have, the American sportsmen.

American sportsmen spend more than $48 billion each year, which supports 1.3 million U. S. jobs, $28.1 billion in U. S. salaries and wages, $4.5 bilion in state and federal tax revenues, and $104 bilion plus in the U. S. economy.

The monies come from license fees, excise taxes, tags, stamps, permits and other costs for whatever recreation you are doing that's associated with the American sportsman.

In 1991, 57 percent of the U. S. population took part in hunting, fishing, trapping, or wildlife related activity, with programs funded through taxes paid only by sportsmen.

AREA FISHING

There's very little freshwater activity around our marshes and good catches are few and far between. Water is at the lowest point than it has been in years, and no sign of the drought letting up.

The big canals of the Miami Corporation Permit lands are still producing some bass and perch. Lacassine and Sabine Refuges are also still producing catches of bass and perch,but even their impoundments are getting noticeably low.

I guess as of this month, saltwater fishing is best. Good catches of speckle trout in Mermentau River along the rocks and Little Pecan Bayou. Fresh shrimp is good and so is the purple/chartreuse cockahoe minnow on a 1/4 to 1/2 ounce lead head.

A few fish are showing up along the beaches and the rocks west of Holly Beach. Rockefeller Refuge is another good spot for trout. The closer platforms off the Grand Chenier jetties and Cameron jetties are also producing trout, as well as Spanish mackeral. Further offshore, red snapper fish is as good as it could be, big snappers reported.

The Calcasieu Lake area from Turner's Bay, south to the jetties of Cameron is producing some trout and redfish, but some anglers told me they're just not having that good of luck.

NEW FISHING LICENSES

The new fishing licenses will go on sale at local outlets June 17. These licenses will not be valid until July 1, so don't throw away your old license, as you have to have them to fish until and through June 30. You should get your new licenses right away after they go on sale and not wait and get bottle-necked around or before the July 4, weekend and have to stand in line or maybe outlets could sell out and you would miss some good holiday weekend of fishing.

FISHING PERIODS

Best: Fri. June 21, 4 a.. and3:30 p.m.; Sat., June 22, 4:55 a.m .and 5:10 p.m.; Sun., June 23, 5:40 a.m. and 6:05 p.m.

Four arrested for gator possession

Wildlife and Fisheries Agents, Louisiana State Police and Calcasieu and Cameron Parish sheriff's deputies combined their resources to apprehend four Lake Charles men accused of possessing alligators in closed season last Sunday.

On June 9, 1996, Cameron Parish Sheriff's Deputy Charles Smith attempted to stop a vehicle for speeding. The two occupants of the vehicle fled and were eventually stopped in Calcasieu Parish by State Troopers Steven Lafargue and Mike McCain, Calcasieu Parish Sheriff's Deputy Johnny Mouton and Auxiliary Reserve Deputy Wayne Guillory.

The speeders were identified as Vic Demone Patterson, 24, and Victor Dewayne Pea, 31. The arresting officers discovered an alligator tail in the vehicle and contacted wildlife and Fisheries Enforcement Sgt. Malcolm Hebert.

Patterson and Pea told Hebert they had purchased the tail from two fishermen they met at Monkey Island in Calcasieu Parish and described the fishermen's truck.

Sgt. Hebert contacted Enforcement Pilot Bruce Stamey and Senior Agent Frank Louviere who were flying a patrol route in the area. They spotted the fishermen's truck, still on Monkey Island.

Senior Agent Mark Davis, on boat patrol in the Calcasieu Ship Channel, was directed to the truck by the airborne agents and arrested Michael Shayne Poole, 24, and George Franklin Sims, 27. Poole, Sims, Patterson and Pea were booked in the Cameron Parish jail.

After questioning the men, officers determined that two alligators had been killed. All four were charged with possession of alligators in closed season. Pea, the driver of the fleeing vehicle, was also charged with speeding, reckless operation of a motor vehicle and flight from an officer.

Bond was set at $5,000 each for Patterson, Poole and Sims by 38th Judicial District Judge Ward Fontenot. Pea's bond was set at $6,000 due to the traffic violations.

Maps available through LDWF for safer trips

Maps are an essential tool for nearly every excursion into the outdoors, whether it's woods or waters. The Dept. of Wildlife & Fisheries has many maps available to make your trip safer and more enjoyable.

The office of the Louisiana Conservationist magazine sells four coastal Louisiana maps. All four of the two sided full-color maps provide information on locations of oil and gas platforms and artificial reefs, fish identification guides, angling tips and boating safety rules. Fishing marinas and boat launches are identified and keyed and water depths are indicated.

Map #1 highlights the Louisiana coast around Venice and extends west to Fourchon. Map #2 extends from Fourchon west to Point au Fer. Map #3 details the coast from the western portion of Lake Pontchartrain eastward and southward to Chandeleur Sound. Map #4 covers the coast from Sabine Pass at the Texas state line eastward to White Lake in Vermilion Parish.

The maps are the first in a series of six completed by the Louisiana Artificial Reef Program designed to span the entire state coastline and provide regional information for recreational fishermen.

Each map is available for $11.44 ($11.88 for East Baton Rouge Parish residents), plus $3 for shipping of each order. Each measures 25 inches by 35 inches, and is available either rolled or folded.

Swimming consumes about 12 calories a minute.

Map shows location of Broussard Beach

Broussard Beach to be discussed

All interested persons are invited to attend a meeting to discuss Broussard Beach to be held at 6 p.m., Thursday, July 11 at 6 p.m. at the Police Jury Building in Cameron.

Broussard Beach is located just to the southeast of the town of Cameron. Years ago the beach was a very fine beach and attracted many visitors. There was even a hotel there--Broussard's Hotel which was destroyed by Hurricane Audrey.

In the past 30 or 40 years, the beach has had a lot of silt on it caused by the jetties along the ship channel but many people still go out to it for shell collecting and birdwatching.

However, other persons have used the beach for dumping and the beach has become very unsightly.

Cyndi Sellers, chairman of the Cameron Parish Beach District 2, said the district and the police jury are calling the public meeting to see if something can be done to clean up the beach and to prevent future dumping.

While the silt makes the beach unsuitable for swimming, she said it is a good place to find shells and it also abounds in birdlife.

The beach can be accessed from Bobby's Lane at Cameron and anyone can actually drive the ten mile stretch that consists of Broussard's Beach and then becomes Rutherford Beach south of Creole.

Beach District 2, which takes in the beaches east of the Calcasieu river, and District 1, which includes the beaches west of the river, were created by the Legislature several years ago to enable the parish to improve its beaches and to attract more beachgoers and tourists.

Cameron parish has some 50 to 60 miles of Gulf beaches, more than any other parish in the state. However, only Rutherford, Holly and Constance beaches have had much development.

Police Juror George LeBouef said that the parish hopes to get a $100,000 rural development grant to build a fishing pier into the Gulf at Broussard Beach as well as a parking area for cars. Also planned is a raised walkway from the Cameron Recreation Center to Broussard Beach which is behind the center.

Sheriff & clerk to be sworn

Two Cameron Parish public officials will take their oaths of office for four year terms at 10 a.m., Monday, July 1 in the Cameron parish courthouse courtroom.

James R. "Sono" Savoie will be sworn in for his fifth term as sheriff--a record for Cameron parish-- and Carl Broussard will receive his oath of office as clerk of court.

Other parish officials who were elected last fall began their terms of office on Jan. 1 but the Louisiana constitution provides that the sheriff's and clerk's terms begin on July 1.

Sheriff Savoie was first sworn into office in July 1980 succeeding Claude Eagleson who retired after 16 years in office. Prior to that O. B. Carter had served 16 years. When Savoie takes his office on Monday he will be setting a new record as no other sheriff has ever been elected to a fifth term.

Mr. Broussard, who was elected to his first term last fall, will succeed Debbie Theriot who did not seek reelection.

The two officials will be given their oaths of office by Judge Ward Fontenot.

Hurricane plans are made here

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Cameron Parish Civil Defense personnel gathered at the Creole Fire Station last week to meet with Lake Charles Weather Bureau officials Dave McIntosh, Ellie Pittman and Roger Erickson to coordinate hurricane evacuation plans.

Also present were Police Jurors George LeBouef and Malcolm Savoie.

Pete Picou, Parish Civil Defense Director, praised Civil Defense volunteers who have been very loyal year after year assuring that the parish is protected in the case of emergencies,such as hurricanes.

George LeBouef, Police Juror, cautioned everyone to keep informed and to be prepared to leave in case of an order to evacuate.

Dave McIntosh, of the Lake Charles Weather Bureau, said that it only takes four hours to evacuate Cameron Parish, but it doesn't take much time when a storm gets into the Gulf for the water to rise. The earlier the residents leave, the better chance they have to get a place to stay, he said.

He said statistics show a hurricane makes landfall in Cameron Parish every 13 years, and the return time on a category 3 hurricane is 35 years, so Cameron Parish is past due for a big hurricane since Hurricane Audrey was 39 years ago.

"Most storms come in August or September, although Hurricane Audrey came in June,and I am predicting we will have a Gulf storm this year", he stated.

Roger Erickson presented a video on past hurricanes and pointed out that there are 12 meterologists in the Lake Charles Weather Bureau who will be on a 24 hour alert to keep track of any hurricane.

He pointed out that the keypoint in predicting where a hurricane is going to make landfall is the upper level winds, and that the local weather bureau can see 200 miles out into the Gulf with their equipment.

After the meeting a fish courtbouillion, prepared by Civil Defense members from Creole nd Oak Grove, was served.

Mineral production off here in March

CAPITAL NEWS

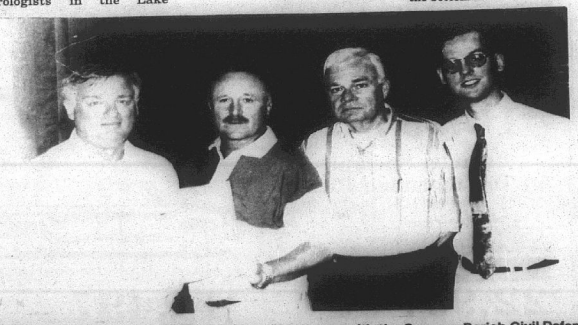
Natural resource production declined in Cameron Parish during March, according to the Department of Revenue and Taxation, and was even farther below the level recorded in the parish a year earlier.

The department's March severance tax report listed $1.18 million collected for work in the parish, ranking the parish fifth overall. The previous month's report registered an increase in receipts from $1.24 million in January to $1.27 million. Figures for 1995, however, reflected even higher collections, with $1.28 million reported for March that year.

The bulk of the work in th eparish was oil production, which accounted for $615,491 of the severance taxes for March and was the fourth highest figure in that group. Another $566,302 wa attributed to natural gas, and the remaining $43 was collected on timber products.

The parish collecting the tax on oil and natural gas receives one-fifth of the total up to $500,000. Seventy-five percent of all revenue collected on timber products goes back to the parish.

Overall, the state's severance tax receipts continued to slip, dipping $70,000 to $26.8 million in the March report. Collections in January had totaled more than $29.8 million.



Plaquemines continued to lead the parishes with a total of $5 million in severance taxes for March. Vermilion was its nearest competition with $2.9 million, followed closely by Terrebonne's $2.4 million. Iberia registered nearly $1.6 million for the month as Cameron showed almost $1.2 million. Lafourche was the only other parish with taxes totaling more than $1 million.

Where to call on water, sewer

Customers served by Cameron Water and Sewer District 1, the town of Cameron area, are asked to call 775-5660 when calling about water and sewer problems after 4 p.m. and before 7 a.m. Monday through Friday and on weekends and holidays.

They should follow instructions given them on the phone.

The district is also giving notice that due to the size of the oxidation pond, the district is limiting the dumping of commercial sewerage by independent companies. With the exception of South Cameron hospital and the schools, no commerical or industial waste may be put into the existing sewer drains or manholes. A notice to this effect is to be found elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

Cameron Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

DEAD ZONE

We've seen the catfish kill with the results all along our Gulf Coast and now it seems the dead zone is upon us for maybe a 7,000 square mile area in the Gulf. This oxygen depleted area holds no fish, not even shrimp and again a great blow to sports fishing anglers, but really a much more hardship on our commercial fishermen. Then there's still the sea turtle that's pegging our shrimpers as well as the new TED law.

It is said the Texas Shrimp Association and the National Fisheries Institute recently served notice of their intent to sue the Secretary of Commerce and Secretary of Interior for failing to protect sea turtles from recreational fishing gear. They say they have proof that recreational fishing is in part responsible for sea turtle strandings, but no action has been taken to protect sea turtles against recreational fishermen and lots of taking of sea turtles by recreational anglers are blamed on commercial fishermen.

FISHING REPORTS

With the water still low, freshwater fishing is touch, but if you're lucky and in the right place, you can have a hey day. Plastic worms, spoons with pork frogs are your best bass baits.

Saltwater fishing is just getting better each week with good catches booth offshore and inland being reported. Offshore, lots of tripletails being caught. The rivers and inland waters are getting better each day with speckle trout.

NEWS BRIEFS

It seems big bass are still swimming the state waters of Florida. A 17.98 pound bass caught on Lake Rousseau could become the new state record, beating the old record of 17.27 lbs. It was weighed on certified scales, but it was not seen by Florida Game and Fish Commission, even though witnesses were present at the weigh-in, and this could change things around.

A 336,000 gallon gasoline spill around the Gramercy area has killed hundreds of fish. Tests are being taken on wildlife samples from the Blind River in St. James Parish to see what impact the gas spill will have. There is concern also on the kills of turtles, alligators and other wildlife. Three species that are being looked at are bass, bluegill and choupique. The Blind River was closed to fishing and boating for clean-up work.

The Lake Charles Bass-master was the winner of the 1996 La. Top Six Tournament with a two day take of 85.54 lbs. The six man team's largest bass was 6.28.

The June 3, Lacassine Dog Fight winner had a large fish of 10.44 which also won the team stringer and on June 10, a 3 fish stringer of 17.3 pounds took the dog fight.

A 15 pound bass caught on the Red River has raised eyebrows. A Florida strain bass caught on the river could really be a new trophy place for La. anglers, and fishing on the Red River will only get better over the next 3 to 4 years.

The Red River is full of game fish and has always been a good place to fish. July and August will be good. Crank bait and spinner bait fishing, trees along the river and flow -outs make fishing good. From Marksville to Bossier City you have lots of river to fish and don't forget, catfishing is also great fishing on the river.

From Colfax to Coushatta, the U. S. Corps of Engineers has held water at high levels, so that a pool is almost like a lake and stops some of the river currents and you fish it like a lake.

roof. And we knew the area where the big trees were located would be right in the path of the tin when it blew off. We figured it would slice right into us.

So we picked a medium sized pear tree, not tall enough to stay out of the water but out of the way of the flying tin, and all seven of us climbed up in that little pear tree. It sure wasn't the one we'd have gotten in if we'd had a choice.

"Once we were all up in the pear tree we watched in horror and shock as we saw the gigantic waves heading our way. We were all terrified and knew we couldn't keep our heads above the high waves when they blew over that small pear tree that we were in.

"I knew we'd all drown because that pear tree couldn't stand in those waves and wind and we'd all go right with it.

"Then my husband, Nelson LeBlanc, thought of a way to save us. He worked his way around the tree until he faced south where he could see the waves coming in. We all turned our backs to the water.

"When a big wave would get close he'd shout, 'Take a deep breath and keep your eyes and mouth closed. And hang on tight.'

"We did as we were told and even though we were all terrified each time a wave smashed over us, thinking we'd choke to death, we all survived. All that long, long day seven of us clung to that poor little pear tree and we all stayed alive."

(Postscript: No one in this household lost their lives but Mrs. Lois LeBlanc did lose her father, Steve Sturlese, who was in the Rodney Guilbeaux Sr. home plus other members of her extended family.)

Cancer Society presents awards at meeting here

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Awards by the Cameron Parish Chapter of the American Cancer Society were presented at their meeting last week at Pat's Restaurant.

Mrs. Shirley Bonsall, president, announced that the winners of the "Let the chips fall where they may" contest were Emma Nunez and the Sweet Lake Extension Homemakers Club, who each received $500.

Sweet Lake club members said they would use their winnings to take a trip. Mrs. Nunez was unable to attend the meeting. Accepting for the club were Lena Guidry, Billie Fruge, Charlene Morgan, Bernice Greathouse, and Melba Faulk.

Mrs. Bonsall announced that the local unit had made a total of $5,100 on the project. An extra $100 was a donation from Cameron State Bank. The $1,000 prize to the winners was taken from that, leaving a profit of $4100.

Other people recognized for making the project a success: Jim Paul Dupont who make the plaques for the winners; Stephanie and Nicky Rodrigue, who made the lines for the field used in the contest; and Estelle and Man Theriot, who donated the field and the cow who made the "choice" of blocks, which was the line between the Sweet Lake Extension Club and Emma Nunez's block.

A checker board of squares are sold for $25 each for a total of $5,000. On the day of the event a range cow is selected from the herd and turned loose on a marked-off field to correspond with the squares sold.

The field of the event was in back of the Man Theriot house, and when the cow was turned out she ran in a straight line to drop her "chip" between the winning blocks.

Mrs. Jan Scharrier, area director of the American Cancer Society, presented a Life Saver Award pin for Tobacco Control and Comprehensive School Health Education to Mrs. Bonsall.

New board members on the board of directors are Beverly Salter and Rachael Baccigalopi.

Officers of the local society are Shirley Bonsall, president; Hilda Crain, vice-president; and Earline Baccigalopi, secretary-treasurer.

*Cameron and West Feliciana are the only two parishes with membership less than 3000 students that are classified as "Hold Harmless" parishes. The term "Hold Harmless" refers to one of twelve parishes in the State of Louisiana which have received NO INCREASES in state funding since 1991.

The above chart shows a comparison of Cameron to similar–sized school districts in the state in regard to ad valorem and sales tax collections. The above figures show that most parishes of our size rely on sales tax collections as a major source to their local income. However, if Cameron Parish were to levy a 2% sales tax it would only generate approximately $281,000 annually. In comparison, a 10–mill ad valorem property tax would bring in approximately $1,000,000 annually. It should be noted that although we levy property taxes exclusively, we are ranked 38th in the state–wide comparison.

Fishermen may seek storm compensation

Kevin A. Savoie, Associate Area Agent, Fisheries, for Cameron and Calcasieu Parishes, announces that commercial fishermen may now submit applications requesting compensation for fishing gear or vessels damaged by hurricanes, floods, or other after-effects, according to the Commerce Department's National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration.

NOAA's fisheries Disaster Program will award up to $5 million in emergency aid grants to commercial fishermen in the Gulf of Mexico for such uninsured losses or damages occurring from Aug. 23, 1992 through Dec. 31, 1995.

Pursuant to the Interjurisdictional Fisheries Act, amended in April, awards will be granted for up to 100 percent of fishing gear or vessel repair or replacement cost, or for an amount not to exceed $7500.

Applications will be considered on a first come, first serve basis.

Interested parties can obtain applications by contacting the National Marine Fisheries Service Financial Service Division, at 301-713-2396, or the Cameron Extension Office, Kevin Savoie, 318-775-5516.

When completed applications should be sent to Charles L. Cooper, Chief Program Leader, Financial Services Division, National Marine Fisheries Services Division, 1315 East-West Highway, Silver Springs, Md. 20910.

Storm season is here, check your insurance

With hurricane season right around the corner, Commissioner Jim Brown is urging consumers to shop now, so they don't pay later. Hurricane season has begun and will continue through November.

"One of the most important things you can do before the hurricane season begins is to check to see what type of insurance you have on all your property," Brown said.

Often people who live in areas prone to flooding from hurricanes do not realize that their homeowners policy does not cover flooding, he said.

"When people do check on their coverage, a dangerous situation arises, because most coastal damage caused by hurricanes is the result of flooding", Brown said.

Most people wait too late to buy insurance to protect themselves from hurricane waves, winds, and rains, Brown said. They do not know that there is a 30-day waiting period before flood insurance policies become effective. Also, many companies restrict the sale of insurance once a hurricane or tropical storm moves into the Gulf of Mexico crossing the 80 longitude/30 latitude line.

You should check with your property and casualty agent to see what types of damage your homeowners policy covers, he said. Also, flood insurance can be purchased from the National Flood Insurance Program through local agents.

"Our Department feels this is such an important issue that we have created a Hurricane Preparedness Guide to answer consumers questions," Brown said.

Abraham Broussard 1st county agent

(EDITOR'S NOTE--The following story is reprinted from the Cameron Pilot of April 11, 1963. The late Archie S. Hollister was principal of the old Klondike school and was Cameorn Parish's unofficial historian.)

(By Archie Hollister)

Abraham Broussard became county agent in Cameron in 1917 and served for 16 months. Although he was the first fulltime agent, he was preceded, in one sense, by H. C. Fondren of Jennings, who, while county agent in Jeff Davis, did some part-time work in Cameron also. According to available information, this was shortly before the United States entered World War I.

Broussard was a native of Vermilion Parish, earned his degree at LSU when that institution was still located on the "old campus". One of his classmates was Ernest S. Clements, prominent in Louisiana political activities for many years.

Broussard first lived in Lake Charles, but moved to Lake Arthur when the 1918 hurricane detroyed his house. In order to reach his work, it was necessary for him to do much traveling. He well remembers the "Tubeor" on the Mermentau and the "Borealis Rex" on the Calcasieu.

Cameron roads in that day were not hard-surfaced. In fact, they were seldom even graded, and consequently they were often impassable except on foot or horseback. Such handicaps as these place severe limits upon the effectiveness of an agent's work; nevertheless, Mr. Broussard was able to organize 4-H clubs in several of the schools and made a beginning in the introduction of better poultry and swine.

After Mr. Broussard left Cameron, he went into the field of education and had a long and successful career as principal of the Wright School in Vermilion Parish. He is now retired and living in Lake Arthur. He and Mrs. Broussard, the former Lucille Richard, give much of their time to the growing of flowers.

July 12 deadline for new farm law

Kirk L. Smith, County Executive Director for the Calcasieu - Cameron Parish Farm Service Agency says the new farm law offers a one-shot opportunity to sign-up for the new 7-year program. Once the May 20 through July 12, 1996, sign-up period closes, only farmers with land coming out of the Conservation Reserve Program will be eligible to enroll.

"It is critical that all affected people understand the changes that the new farm law will bring to farm operation," Mr. Smith said. "The Farm Bill places a lot of responsibility squarely on the shoulders of farmers and there is little time left to get all of the information needed to make some important, long-range decisions.

"Included with the new planting flexibility are some options -- and some risks -- farmers haven't had to face before," Mr. Smith said. "Crop insurance has been "de-linked" from the programs, but disaster assistance is gone. This means that with few exceptions, farmers are out of luck if weather ruins their crops.

"Planting flexibility means the market place will decide what and how much, not the government. Farmers will need to learn how to make the most of the markets," Mr. Smith said. "The marketing assistance loans will be a big help, but the decisions are not going to be made for producers -- they're going to have to learn the details of these programs and make all the decisions.

"This is the biggest change in production agriculture since the Great Depression of the 1930's," Mr. Smith said. "Yet all of the changes have to be implemented in the shortest time the Department of Agriculture has ever had to implement a new Farm Bill."

Shrimp farming

FIRM TO RAISE SHRIMP

Three young Cameron men have set out to disprove the proverb about there being nothing new under the sun. If they are successful in their undertaking, they will become the first "shrimp farmers" in this country.

The Cameron Fish Co., Inc., was recently chartered by O. J. Terrebonne, Peter C. Henry and George W. Kelley, to see if it is feasible to raise shrimp as a commercial crop, just as crawfish and oysters are grown.

"Some of the old time fishermen around here just sit back and laugh at our plans and tell us that what we are trying to do is impossible," says Peter Henry. But, he adds that he and his associates fully realize the odds against the success of their undertaking, and points out that their investment is small, and that should they be successful, they would become the pioneers in a wonderful new field.

The corporation has leased 30 acres of marsh land from Warren Miller near the South Cameron High School in Oak Grove. Mr. Kelley, who has a dragline, is busy building a dike around this tract so as to form a small pond in which the shrimp experiments can be conducted.

BOREALIS REX BELL

One of the most interesting displays at the Cameron Parish Library this week during National Library Week is this old bell of the Borealis Rex, river steamer, that ran between Cameron and Lake Charles up until 1930. The bell was loaned to the library by J. A. Davis, according to Mrs. Mary Brand, librarian.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR CHANNEL JOB

A $331,598 contract for the dredging of an 8.5 mile section of the Lake Charles ship channel in Calcasieu Lake has been awarded to Williams-McWilliams Industries, Inc., of New Orleans. The contract is for maintenance dredging and has no connection with the widening of the ship channel, which has been approved by Congress.

OYSTERS HARVESTED

Approximately 50,000 bushels of oysters were harvested out of Calcasieu Lake this winter bringing into Cameron Parish about $125,000.

That is the estimate of Roland J. (Belo) Trosclair, one of several oyster processors who operated in Cameron this year. He said that he bought and sold some 15,000 bushels himself.

Mr. Trosclair said that the 60 oyster fishermen who worked in the lake this year earned about $2 a barrel, and were able to take about 20 bushels a day per man.

The processors sold the oysters for about $2.50 to $2.60 a bushel, although the oyster market was somewhat slow this year. Many of the oysters taken here were shipped to the East Coast because the local market could not take all of them.

Writer finds he's fond of alligators

By GLYNN HARRIS, (From Forests & People)

Recently the outdoor page in a south Louisiana newspaper carried a photo of an alligator caught by hunters, a reptile that looked much longer than its 12-foot-plus length. You could almost hear gasps and shrieks emanating across south Louisiana as children and squeamish adults looked in horror at the ugly beast.

That's the way most people view alligators, and this is partly due to the nature of these creatures. A hungry bull gator, or a female guarding her young, can indeed, present a formidable danger to pets — and people — who venture too close.

Even small alligators are due a certain measure of respect. A few years ago while visiting the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge, I was walking the raised concrete foot path that extends nearly a mile into the marsh. Rounding a bend, I saw a small four-foot alligtor ahead of me on the path.

Hurrying to close the distance to get a photo, the mini-beast turned toward me, opened its mouth to reveal a respectable set of dental work, and began hissing menacingly at me. That didn't scare me. The thought that mama gator might be hiding in the rousseau cane nearby, however, did. I shot a couple of quick photos and beat a rather hasty retreat, looking over my shoulder until I was well past the agitated alligator.

A couple of months ago, I was introduced to another alligator. You wouldn't call this one mean. On the contrary, it was sweet. You wouldn't think of it as a tough customer. Indeed, this gator was quite tender.

The Louisiana Ourdoor Writers Association met in Lafayette for its annual convention and while there, we were treated to one of the most delicious, if not unusual, meals this north Louisiana boy has ever sat down to.

Chef James Graham with Prejean's Restaurant in Lafayette, prepared the feast straight from the marsh. I'm not finicky about trying a new dish. On the up-scale, I've sampled escargot. On the downside, I've tasted armadillo and 'possum.

Even if I had been fussy about what I eat, had someone given me a sample of the dishes Chef Graham prepared without telling me what it was, I'd have gone back for seconds. It was that good.

We had alligator filet, sauteed with Morel mushrooms in a Cajun herb cream sauce tossed with rotini pasta; Alligator and Andouille Sauce Piquante served with steamed popcorn rice; and Alligator Bayou Courtableu, a filet of alligator stuffed with tasso, andouille, crawfish, shrimp, a duo of cheeses, baked, sliced and served in an alligator batter cream. The chef also prepared Alligator Grand Cheniere, which was a seafood-stuffed roulade served with alligator etouffe.

For the persnickety, Chef Graham prepared Chicken Tchoupitoulas, sauteed chicken in beer and fresh herb sauce.

I didn't bother with the chicken dish. I can dine on chicken anytime.

The next time I'm in south Louisiana and I run across a menacing photo of a giant, toothy alligator, I won't cringe. I'll smile, because I'll be visualizing alligator filet and Alligator and Andouille Sauce Piquante and Alligator Grand Cheniere.....

M-m-m-m good!

Cameron Pilot, Jan. 24, 1963

NUTRIA BUSINESS HITS BIG SLUMP

What's happened to the nutria?

That's the big question being put to each other by Cameron Parish trappers, fur buyers and nutria meat dealers, all of whom are troubled by the fact that the nutria catch this year is less than half of what it was last winter.

Tom Steed, co-owner of Steed's Fish Co., which started buying and freezing nutria meat two years ago for shipment as food to mink ranches in Wisconsin, estimates that not more than 400,000 pounds of nutria have been shipped out of the parish so far this year, with not much more of the season to go.

Steed said that last year more than a million pounds of meat was frozen and shipped from the parish.

What is the reason for the decline? Nutria meat prices are about the same. The demand for the meat is as good or better than ever. There are just as many trappers in the marsh as ever.

THIS WEEK

(By Jerry Wise)

We had a nice note from Mr. P. J. Henderson, Jr., of Austin, Texas, who said she had enjoyed the recipe for chicken gumbo in Bernice Stewart's column and that she had given it to several people in Austin.

"We would like to see you make this a regular feature in your paper," she wrote. Thank you Mrs. Henderson. Mrs. Stewart's column certainly will be a regular feature.

The Pilot welcomes this week to its community correspondents staff Mrs. George Nunez, who lives midway between Cameron and Creole, and who will report on the activities of folks living on Rural Route 1, Cameron.

Cameron Parish had a good orange industry some years ago but most of the trees were killed by freezes. In recent years, one or two groves have been planted at Sweetlake and Grand Lake and it is hoped that a comeback can be made for the industry here.

STYLE SHOW

The "Style Show" skit "Ever Onward Silhouettes, Si Vous Plait?" originally presented at the annual Cameron Parish Home Demonstration Council Achievement Day was given again at the Saturday night program of the Fur and Wildlife Festival at South Cameron High School.

Members of the cast were: Loretta Boyd in a "Merry Widow" ensemble, Geneva Griffith wearing a "net" dress, Dianne McCall in a "dinner" dress, Vivian Mayard with a "box" suit, Shirley Crain in a "check" dress, Nancy Nunez modeling a "print" dress, Ruby Dupuie in a "balloon" dress, Mamie Richard wearing a "twist" dress, and Peggy Mhire depicting the "tarpon" dress.

The big game of the week will be between the Mustangs and the Tarpons Friday night.

Officials sworn in

BY GENEVA GRIFFITH

Two Cameron Parish officials and 78 deputy sheriffs were sworn into office by Judge H. Ward Fontenot Monday morning on the courthouse steps.

Sheriff James R. "Sono" Savoie was sworn for his 5th term of office, which is a record for Cameron Parish, and Carl Broussard began his first term as Clerk of Court.

The ceremony was held on the courthouse steps at the request of Sono because that is where he was first sworn in 16 years ago.

He said that he set two predidents by being the first Sheriff to be elected to five terms of office, and that he had worn the same clothes for each ceremony. he had purchased his grey cowboy suit, shirt, and tie for the first ceremony in 1980 and had worn it for all the other swearing ins.

Broussard became the 12th Clerk of Court since the parish was first established in 1870. Before that it was a part of Imperial Calcasieu Parish.

Other Clerk of Courts were: James J. Welch who assumed the office in March, 1870 when he was appointed to the office by the Governor; L. O. Stansbury, April 21, 1874; T. E. Gee, Nov. 23, 1875; W. H. Laurents, Dec. 23, 1908; S. W. Sweeney, June 17, 1912; E. D. Sweeney, Feb. 26, 1919; Mark Richard, June 5, 1928; Lionel A. Theriot, June 1, 1936; J. Berton Daigle, June 1, 1948; Roland Primeaux, July 1, 1976; Debbie B. Theriot, July 1, 1988.

In addition the following recorders were elected and assumed office as follows: L. Mudd, April 1, 1874, and A. B. Smith, Nov. 8, 1879.

School B. short for this year

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish School Board met in special session to approve the 1995-96 budget.

Margaret Jones, school system accountant, reported the system is $441,000 short for the 1995-96 year, which includes expenses which are not payable until July and August.

She also reported that the 16th Section oil money was slightly up from the last fiscal year.

The school board has called a special election for Sat., July 20, on a 10-mill tax in order to secure additional revenue to run the school system.

The board has been running on deficits since the 1993-94 school year: $1,577,107 in 1993-94; $1,410,955 in 1994-95; and $1,104,493 in 1995-96.

Beach planted to build new dunes

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Police Jury has used its mitigation money wisely by accomplishing two things with one expenditure.

When they applied for a U. S. Corps of Engineers permit to reconstruct an old road that had grassed over to Rutherford Beach, they were told that the parish would have to furnish mitigation funds.

Tina Horn, parish administrator, explained that when wetlands are disturbed a like amount of funding must be furnished to make up for the wetlands which have been used.

The road, which extends from the present road all the way to the beach, crosses over a small section of wetlands which required a permit from the Corps of Engineers.

The Police Jury opted to invest in a dune stabilization project which would build up sand dunes to help control erosion in the area on Rutherford Beach.

The Natural Resources Conservation Service (formerly the Soil Conservation Service) requested that the Police Jury set up an experimental plot to study what plants are suitable to be grown on southwestern Louisiana beaches to help control erosion, since little is known about this in this area.

Mike Materne, who works for the agency on the LSU campus, is heading the experimental program and explained that there are 26 programs in the United States, but none in this area of Louisiana.

The local experimental area is on two plots which covers 3-1/2 acres on an extension located east of the new road and is surrounded by a barbed wire fence constructed by the Police Jury to keep the cattle and 4-wheelers from disturbing it.

Materne said that the purpose of the experimental plots will be to test for the best plants to use for sand dune stabilization.

He pointed out that 2 or 3 feet of elevation will give the right protection with a storm surge in the case of a hurricane, and that the dunes along the Cameron Parish beaches are virtually all missing.

7 indicted by G. Jury

The Cameron Parish Grand Jury brought in indictments on seven people this week in four cases, two involving attempted murder, one attempted kidnapping, and one distribution of marijuana.

Three Oberlin resident were charged with with criminal conspiracy to murder a Cameron Parish deputy Sheriff conspiracy to murder a local woman, and conspiracy to kidnap a juvenile on June 25.

Kenneth Roy Sonnier, Jr., 19; his wife, Monica J. Sonnier, 19; and Kirk Marcantel, 19, who were living and working in Cameron, but were formerly from the Oberlin area, were charged with the attempted murder of the deputy who had previously arrested Kenneth Sonnier for distribution of marijuana and the attempted murder of the local woman whom subjects they believed turned Sonnier into the sheriff's department.

In addition to the above charges, Kenneth Sonnier was charged with two counts of distribution of marijuana in April. He is under a $80,000 bond and in the Leesville jail. Monica Sonnier is out of jail on a $20,000 bond and Kirk Marcantel is in Cameron jail under an $80,000 bond.

SECOND MURDER CASE

The grand jury also brought in a charge of attempted second degree murder against Brian Keith Ceasar, 20, of 1005 McDonald, Lake Charles. He is charged with the attempted murder of John David "Dave" Eakin, Jr. on May 21. It involved an incident at a trailer in Grand Lake in which Ceasar is charged with stabbing Eakin three times. The victim was hospitalized for about a week.

Ceasar's bond has been set at $50,000 and he is still in the Cameron jail.

KIDNAPPING CHARGES

In a third case, the grand jury returned charges against a woman and two men who are charged with conspiracy to kidnap and rob the woman's former husband, a prominent Grand Chenier resident.

Those charged are Debrah Gail Alexander, formerly Deborah Gail McCall, 45, 341 Hwy. 112 Sugartown; Michael Gore Canada, 45, 12406 Homer Circle, Terrell, Texas; and Robert Keith Kelch, 35, 3005 Turner Wanell, Arlington, Texas.

The three were charged with conspiring to kidnap at gunpoint on May 21, Henry "T-Boy" McCall, the woman's exhusband, which would have been aggravated kidnapping. They were also charged with planning to commit battery on McCall by administering to him a controlled dangerous drug.

In a related case, Kenneth Roy Sonnier, Jr. was charged with two counts of distribution of marijuana on April 11 and 13.

All three of the charged persons are in the Cameron jail, Alexander and Canada under $140,000 cash bonds, and Kelch under a $150,000 cash bond, all set by Judge H. Ward Fontenot.

No arraignment dates have been set on any of these cases yet, according to Bret Barham, assistance district attorney, who is handling the cases.

Elections are set here

Birders, camp owners on collision course

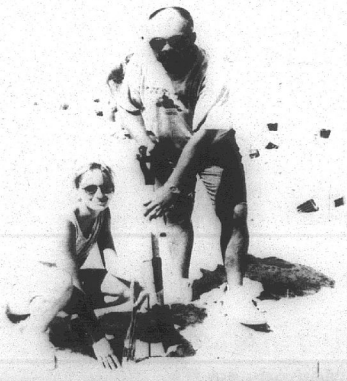
A conflict of interest between beach property owners and bird and wildlife lovers will come to the fore Tuesday when the Cameron Parish Police Jury considers an amendment to the noxious weeds ordinance.

Johnson Bayou Police Juror Charles "Dusty" Sandifer plans to introduce an amendment to the parish's noxious weeds ordinance adding the Little Florida and Oceanview subdivisions to its provisions.

The ordinance, which is already on the jury's books, requires the owners to keep the weeds cut on their property and provides for penalties if this is not done.

Sandifer said that several of the property owners in Little Florida subdivision have complained to him about the high weeds on the Holleyman-Shecly & Henshaw Migrary Bird Sanctuary which is partly located in the subdivison. They have complained about the appearance of the property and also about fire hazard.

The police juror said the bird sanctuary covers about 39 acres, with some of the property outside the subdivsion. He said he met with the president of the Baton Rouge Audubon Society, which is charge of the sanctuary, and offered a compromise under which about 2 acres near the beach homes would be bushhoged, leaving the rest of the property untouched.



Sandifer said the Audubon official refused stating that they did not want to cut any of the property even if the trees were left.

Since then a letter has been mailed by the Audubon society to its members and other wildlife supporters urging them to write or fax the Police Jury asking them to exclude the bird sancutary from the weed ordinance.

4th Degree Knights have meeting here

Wylace Vincent of Kinder, the outgoing Faithful Navigator of Msgr. Cramers Assembly, Fourth Degree . Knights of Columbus, received a standing ovation for his year-long leadership at the assembly's final meeting of the 1995-96 Columbian Year, held in Cameron.

Vincent went out of office June 30. He will be succeeded by Monroe Wicke, a Past Grand Knight of J. P. Boudoin Sr. Council 3014 of Creole.

Wicke, the incoming Faithful Navigator, reported that the assembly's 1996-97 officers will be installed on Sat., Aug. 17, in St. Margaret Church in Lake Charles, following the 6 p.m. mass.

Prior to the meeting, the assembly's Color Corps mounted a Guard of Honor for Msgr. Curtis Vidrine, Pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish, during a mass which commemorated the 39th anniversary of Hurricane Audrey, which swept over Cameron Parish on June 27, 1957, destroying vast amounts of property and taking 560 lives.

Msgr. Vidrine, in his homily at the mass, welcomed the Fourth Degree, and asked all present to pray for those who died in the hurricane, and further to pray that Southwest Louisiana be spared such disasters in the future.

Here is the text of the prayer that was recited:

"Oh God, Master of this passing world, hear the humble voices of your children. The Sea of Galilee obeyed Your order and returned to its former quietude; You are still the Master of land and sea. We live in the shadow of a danger over which we have no control; the Gulf, like a provoked and angry giant, can awake from its seeming lethargy, overstep its conventional boundaries, invade our land and spread chaos and disaster. During this hurricane season we turn to You, O Loving Father. Spare us from past tragedies whose memories are still so vivid and whose wounds seem to refuse to heal with the passing of time. O Virgin, Star of the Sea, Our Beloved Mother, we ask you to plead with your Son on our behalf, so that, spared from the calamities common to this area and animated with a true spirit of gratitude, we will walk in the footsteps of your Divine Son to reach the heavenly Jerusalem, where a stormless eternity awaits us."

Following the mass the Fourth Degree Knights and their guests were served a seafood luncheon by members of Our Lady of the Star of the Sea Council 5461. In charge of local arrangements for Council 5461 were Liaison Officer Howard Lancon and Grand Knight Hayes Picou Sr.

RAIN AT LAST!

The rain finally came and put a small amount of water in our marshes. This should help freshwater fishing and maybe help the marsh animals. It will surely help our cattlemen, as grass was dying and there was not much hay to cut. I know we lost a great number of nutria, turtles, and fish as you could see them dead in our marshes.

Fishing the Big Burn was mostly in the canals, but there has been pressure on these canals and it will surely slow up in the next couple of years.

Alex Broussard and his dad, Travis Broussard, had a 30.5 freshwater blue catfish caught last week.

Lacassine Refuge is still producing good bass as it shows up on the dog fights with a 3 fish stringer going 13.33 with an over 4 pound average.

Sabine Refuge's 3 fish stringer was 5.19 with just a little over 1 1/2 pound average. Even the Calcasieu River had only a little over 2 pound average.

Saltwater fishing has been excellent with nice catches of speckle trout from Lake Charles Prien Lake to the Gulf of Mexico.

The Mermentau River and inland waters have been good all the way to the Catfish Locks. Redfish has also been good and Rockefeller Refuge had some large reds caught last week. I don't think the reds will run the specks out of the river and inland waters, as water was pretty salty – time will tell.

Offshore was excellent before the low pressure hit the Gulf with nice catches of red snappers up to 18 pounds. Other catches reported were king mackeral of good size, Spanish mackerel along with cobia and amber jacks. Calm weather will get things back in order.

J. C. Boudreaux of Cameron took a week's fishing trip in the Lowery area. They did real good on catfish.

RECORDS

The Southwest Louisiana Fishing Rodeo for the July 4 weekend will see many anglers trying to break records. We do have a couple of our local anglers who still hold records.

Ray Burleigh has a 109 pound alligator gar record set in 1974.

T-Boy McCall has a 1971 record on a shark that topped the scales at 1,175 pounds.

Dusty Rhodes, 6.11 pounds in 1972 on a Spanish mackeral.

ACTIVISTS MARCH

It seems the animal rights activists are at it again. This time the protest was on the Capitol in Washington, D. C. They protest the in-humane treatment of animals, even for medical experiments. They want stronger laws to protect animals that are being used for scientific research. I don't think they understand how far research has come, diseases cured, by animal experiments. These folks will not quit, so again we need to be on guard.

DEAD ZONE

The dead zone is a place where oxygen levels are so low that fish and other sealife cannot live. It is believed by scientists that the cause is agriculture fertilizer runoff draining in the Mississippi River to the Gulf of Mexico. The corn belt states like Iowa, have high levels of fertilizer used along the Mississippi River. To control this would really take a lot of people watching for these runoffs.

Something has got to be done, as last year the dead zone stretched more than 7,000 miles of coastal state waters.

Richards hold first family reunion here

BY GENEVA GRIFFITH

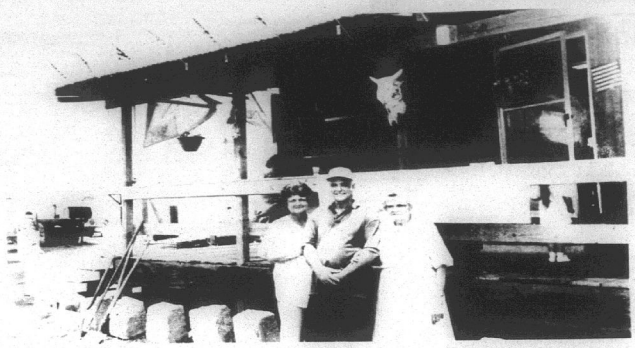
John Richard, of Lake Charles, formerly of Cameron Parish recently decided to organize the first reunion of the Richard family, and hold it at the old home place on the Mermentau River in Grand Chenier, where his father, Armand Richard, spent his last days.

Last weekent the Richard relatives came from all over to a reunion in and around a typical Cajun cottage John, his family and friends had constructed on the river.

The family's history has been traced back to a Civil War veteran Simon Richard, Sr., who walked all the way to Sabine Pass, Texas to join the army and serve under Col. Griffin in the Battle of Sabine Pass and the Calcasieu River. His homeplace, near Scott, is still standing, although it is in dis-repair and is now used as a barn.

His children were Pelogie Elenore, Simon, Jr., Joseph Stanville, Martial Leona, Armand, Marie Valentine, Helene Celina Richard.

John's father was Armand Richard, who was married twice and fathered ten children by the two wives: by Isabelle Martin: Isaure, Cecilia Alida, Theolia, Armanda, Oscar, Eleo, and Bernice Marie; and by Dora Meche: Geneva Rits, John, and Martin.



Mrs. Louella Leon Richard, of Rayne, along with Linn Richard LaBove of Lake Charles (John's daughter) completed the family tree just in time for the reunion.

Fresh caught shrimp, fish, and crabs from the river were the feature on the menu, with every conceivable cajun, and local dishes on the table.

The children were treated to marsh buggy rides, and other entertainment.

John said he wanted to dedicate the reunion to his father, Armand Richard, Sr., who has many descendants named after him.

The oldest relative in attendance was John's sister, Alida Richard Sonnier from Scott, who is in her nineties and lives by herself, does her own housework, and has a garden each year.

Mosquitoes are out in force in parish

BY DON MENARD
Mosquito Control Director

The drought breaking rains that fell over the last two week period have produced massive amounts of mosquitoes parish-wide. Virtually no area has been spared of mosquitoes and many areas have very high populations.

Mosquitoes can easily fly 40 miles or more from breeding grounds, which means that even Grand Lake and Sweetlake have fairly high populations of salt-marsh mosquitoes that were hatched down South along the beaches.

Some areas such as Johnson Bayou, Holly Beach and Grand Chenier still have larvae in the water that our spray won't affect, so this means that reinfestation will continue there for a few days more, sometimes making our spraying seem ineffective.

All areas of the parish are being checked on a daily basis with the worst areas being treated first. The Mosquito Control is performing maximum spraying with all 6 trucks and both airplanes and will continue to work throughout the Fourth of July weekend until mosquito populations are brought under control. With continued good weather, we hope to get them under control in the next few days.

Until levels subside, wearing repellants, light colored clothes and avoiding perfumes will help keep them off you. Empting water holding containers around your yard and draining low lying areas will also help prevent mosquito breeding.

Commodities

The July commodity distribution by the Cameron Community Action agency will be held Tues., July 9, at the Wakefield Methodist Church in Cameron for the Cameron, Creole and Grand Chenier areas. The times are 8 a.m. until noon and 1-3 p.m.

Dwight Savoie - trenasse maintenance, Sections 16, 21, 13, 14, 15, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, 35, 36, T13S, R8W and Sections 7, 18, 8, 9, 10, T13S, R7W, Cameron Parish.

Dan A. Hughes Company - proposed board road, Theriot No. 1 Well, Section 27, T14S, R7W, Cameron Parish.

There was a discussion of erosion problems at the Creole ditch adjacent to the J. T. Primeaux property. The property has eroded in some areas leaving only 6' to 7' remaining of the right-of-way. Mr. Harper discussed several possible solutions, the advantages and disadvantages of each option, and approximate costs based upon land based equipment. He felt the least expensive option would be to use riprap material. Harper stated consideration needs to be given to providing the least amount of disturbance in the area and recommended that no pilings be driven. Mr. Pinch agreed to get input from Mr. primeaux prior to the next meeting. Bonnie Conner was directed to get a status report from the Board's insurance agent and report back to the Board.

The Board agreed there is a need to adopt a written policy regarding the purchase of and installation of culverts and will do so at a future meeting when all Board members are in attendance.

Lonnie Harper reported on a letter from the Corps of Engineers dated April 26, 1996; whereby, it is stated that the compensatory mitigation for past improvements to Lateral C will consist of the placement of riprap along the southeastern shoreline of Calcasieu Lake. It was moved by Mr. Montie, seconded by Mr. Vincent and carried, that Mr. Harper is directed to write a letter to Clay Midkiff with Natural Resources Conservation Services to request a firm price to do the planting.

Lonnie Harper reported on a letter from the Corps of Engineers dated April 245, 1996; whereby, it is stated that there will be no compensatory mitigation for the dredging and maintenance work planned at Lateral A and that the Board could proceed with the work. Lonnie Harper informed the Board he is preparing the bid specifications packages for a bid opening date of June 19, 1996. There was a discussion as to whether right of ways signed in 1986 could still be used. Bonnie Conner was directed to question the District Attorney on this matter. It was decided if new right of ways must be acquired, a person would have to be contracted to do the work and that the work should need to be started as soon as possible.

On motion of Mr. Montie, seconded by Mr. Pinch and carried, the following bills were approved for payment:

Jeff Davis Electric Co-op, $13.76
Elliott & Associates, Inc., $1100.00
Cameron Parish Pilot, $50.00

Mr. Vincent spoke of the need for maintenance at the Kings Bayou structure.

There being no further business, on motion of Mr. Montie, seconded by Mr. Pinch and carried, the meeting was declared adjourned.

BIRDERS

In its letter, the Society points out that the sanctuary is an economic asset to Cameron parish with hundreds of bird lovers visiting from all the country as well as foreign countries.

It also argues that the sanctuary provides food and shelter for migratory birds and that most of the food is found in the plants that would be cut.

Charles Fryling, Jr., president of Audubon Society, is on the police jury's agenda to present the Society's case against cutting the property.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the jurors will honor the All State baseball players from Grand Lake.

Juror George LeBouef will discuss a proposed road from Cameron to Grand Lake.

An ordinance require jail inmates to make co-payments on medical insurance will be considered.

The complete agenda for the jury's Tuesday meeting can be found in the legal notices in this week's Pilot.

BEACH

planted on the experimental plots are from the Plants Material Center, a part of NSCS in Golden Meadow. Twelve varieties of plants have been planted, including marsh Hay Cord grass, and Atlantic Panic Grass, which was developed on the east coast.

Materne said the information gathered from this plot will be very beneficial in the build-up of sand dunes along all the beaches in southwestern Cameron Parish, which has the longest area of beaches in Louisiana.

Senate candidate is Lions Club speaker

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Gerald "Jerry" Theunissen, a Louisiana State Representative from Jennings, was the guest speaker at the Cameron Lions Club meeting last week.

He has announced his candidacy for the District 25 Senate, to fill the vacancy created when Cecil Picard resigned to accept the position of Superintendent of Education.

"The state is at last running in the right direction," he said, "and I want to move over on the other side of the state capitol, from the Representative to the Senate side," Theunissen said.

"Gambling, drinking age (21 years age) is being appealed, and public retirement is under scrutiny", the speaker said. "The Legislature is refocusing on things that are important, such as education, maintenance of colleges, police and firemen supplements and we will see our Department of Correction prisoners out of jails picking up trash."

Theunissen said that the state is now in the process of securing busses to transport the prisoners to various areas, including Cameron, for trash pickup.

The special election for the office has been set for Aug. 24.

Letter to Editor

To The Citizens of Cameron Parish:

The Cameron Parish School System wants to insure that our schools' environments are safe, supportive and nurturing. To that end, some nationally recognized programs have been and are being implemented to enhance and improve school environment. These programs include Conflict Resolution, Crisis Management, Natural Helpers, Power of Positive Students (POPS), and the D.A.R.E. program. Other personnel and program which contribute daily to the safety and well-being of our students include: school food services, school health services, and our maintenance and transportation services.

Our system wants to also insure that students are making reasonable academic progress. Standardized test scores on the CAT, LEAP, GEE, and ACT are evidence that our students are making academic progress. Performance and achievement at events such as Literary Rally, 4-H, FFA, FBLA, and FHA conferences and at competitions indicate our students are receiving the preparation needed to succeed.

Almost 70% of the total budget is spent in the area of instruction. In addition to payment of salaries, these monies are used to purchase textbooks, materials and supplies for the classrooms, library books and magazines, computers and computer programs, audio-visual equipment, scientific calculators, graphing calculators, science equipment and supplies, and many other instructional items. With technology advancing at a rapid pace, we will be pressed to acquire and upgrade our resources if we are to prepare our students for the 21st century.

Over the last three year period, expenditures have been reduced by $981,207. Our revenues have declined by $703,825. With revenues declining at almost the same rate as budget reduction, it will be impossible to balance our budget without an increase in revenues.

Because a 2% sales tax would only generate approximately $218,000 annually and a 10 mill ad valorem tax would generate approximately $1,000,000 annually, an ad valorem election has been called for July 20, 1996. While revenues have declined and the cost of living has increased, no new taxes have been requested since 1987. The cost of textbooks, duplicating paper, furniture, equment, utilities, and maintenance materials has continued to rise. Budget reduction measures which have been taken should result in substantial savings over the next several years.

Cameron Parish has maintained a tradition of having one of the finest, most productive school systems in the state of Louisiana. The people of Cameron Parish have voiced their support of the school system through the years and have expected a quality education for their children and grandchildren. I believe you still want the best we can offer for your community and children. A strong school system makes strong communities, and strong communities support quality schools. Your support of our system is an investment in the future of the young people of Cameron Parish. We need your continued support.

DESPITE AUDUBON SOCIETY'S PROTESTS

Subdivisions included in ordinance on weeds

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday amended the parish noxious weed ordinance to include the Little Florida and Oceanview subdivisions in the Constance Beach area.

The subdivisions include the Hollyman Bird Sanctuary owned by the Baton Rouge Audubon Society, composed of approximately 39 acres.

The Police Jury meeting room was crowded with Audubon Society members and local bird watchers, speaking against the ordinance, and others speaking for it.

Dusty Sandifer, Police Jury from the area, said he had met with both local residents and Audubon Society members trying to come to a solution.

The noxious weed ordinance says that if the weeds are not cut on a person's property, it will be cut by the jury and charged to the land owner, and if it is not paid it will go against the owner's property.

The neighbors are complaining about a fire hazard in the area, and also of wild animals.

Sandifer said that a compromise had been offered to the Audubon Society in which they were asked to cut the underbrush on the property on the south side of the property which is about two acres, which is the same amount they have cut on the north.

No trees would be affected, only the heavy growth of underbrush, he said. "We are only interested in cutting a small part of the area to prevent a fire hazard and proposed a compromise which the Audubon Society turned down."

Charles Frieling, Jr., president of the Baton Rouge Audubon Society, made an impassioned plea to the Police Jury to postpone the vote on the project until after a meeting the Society is having Mon., July 15, at 6:30 p.m. at the sanctuary at Hollyman, to which the public is invited.

Frieling pointed out the importance of the sanctuary which contains the Peveto Woods and is considered to be one of the most important birding areas in the United States. It is located in the coastal plain, Louisiana Chenier, which is the landing point for birds coming across the Gulf of Mexico.

It is located where the Mississippi Flyway overlaps the Central Flyway, and other flyways intersect these flyways, forming a most unusual intersection for flyways, he said.

When birds are tired after long flights over the Gulf they need the protection and cover to rest before they continue their flights north. The Cheniers of the sanctuary with their trees and shrubs provide special niches, both high and low, for their needs.

"The Baton Rouge Audubon Society has been coming here since the 1920's and we have plans to make this the bird capitol of the world," Freiling said. "We want to work with the Police Jury and the neighbors, and to make this place what the birds need. Cameron people have a treasure here in their hands."

He said he had 130 letters from all over the United States in support of the sanctuary, and that people are coming here from all over the world to visit the sanctuary.

14 SPEAKERS

Fourteen people spoke before the jury in support and against the ordinance.

In the end, the Police Jury voted unanimously on Sandifer's motion to include these two subdivisions in the noxious weed ordinance.

AUDIT REPORT

Bonnie Conner, Parish Treasurer, reported to the jury that the 1995-96 audit had been completed and that it was a clean audit.

The Police Jury honored three members of the Grand Lake Hornet baseball team, who received all state first team honors: Josh Johnson, Neil Kiser and Cody LeBleu. Brent Nunez, Jury President, presented certificates to them.

Jim Neveu, Coordinator of the RC&D, Imperial Calcasieu Resource and Development Council, reported on the progress on several projects including "The Jetty Road Fishing Pier", the "Fire Hydrant Project" and the "Livestock Barn." The Jury voted to pay the $200 annual dues to the Council.

Stan Hardee, a candidate for state senator, the seat vacated by Cecil Picard, addressed the Jury. The election is Aug. 24.

The Police Jury passed an ordinance requiring the jail inmates to obtain reimbursement of co-payments from inmates for medical, psychiatric and dental expenses.

George LeBoeuf, Juror, asked the Jury to consider using Rural Area Development funds to help start a phase of the proposed jetty fishing pier, possibly the parking lot for the pier by using the 1997 funds for the project. This was approved by the jurors.

Juror Douaine Conner asked the Jury to approve the proposed draining of the Lakeside subdivision in the Klondike area, which will require the use of heavy equipment at a cost of $2500. It was approved by the Jury.

The Jury approved the following speed ordinances: 15 miles per hour in the Rutherford Beach subdivision - Gulf Drive, Cameron Drive, Calcasieu Drive, Acadia Drive, Vermilion Drive, Beauregard Drive, and Caddo Drive, also 15 MPH on Parish Road 478 in the Big Lake area.

Juror Malcolm Savoie asked the Jury to submit projects on which mitigation funds can be used.

Tina Horn explained that these funds are given to the landowners, or the parish, or the state, when the wetlands are disturbed (in that order), and parish projects can be paid for by these funds. Savoie said that he was just concerned about the parish having projects when the money goes to the parish, and not going back to the state to be used elsewhere.

Absentee voting in progress

Absentee voting is in progress this week on the Cameron parish 10-mill, 10 year property tax for maintenance, improvements and operation of Cameron Parish school.

Absentee voting in the Registrar of Voters office in the basement of the court house is from 8:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. through this Friday and from 8 a.m. to noon Saturday.

The election will be held Saturday, July 20 with the polls open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Voters are reminded that they must have identification such as their voter registration card or driver's license.

If the tax is passed, it will be levied this year and will bring in enought revenue to bring the system's budget roughtly in balance. The school system's deficit for the 1995-96 school year is $1.1 million.

The tax is covered by homestead exemption.

Qualifying set

Four Cameron parish offices will be on the Sept. 21 primary ballot, according to Clerk of Court Carl Brousard. They are district judge and district attorney for the 38th Judicial District Court and justices of the peace and constables for all six wards.

Qualify for these offices will be done in the clerk's office on Wednesday and Thursday, July 10 and 11 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Friday, July 12 from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Medical student here for a month

While most students are taking a breather from studying this summer, some medical students are using their time off to learn more about the real life of a primary care physician in a small or rural community. Medical student Elizabeth McLain will spend the next four weeks working with Dr. Richard Sanders in Creole. They are participating in the Rural Preceptorship Program which is sponsored by the Central Louisiana Area Health Education Center (AHEC).

McLain is a second year medical student from LSu School of Medicine in Shreveport. More than 160 students statewide are participating in the program this year, which is designed to help them acquire hands-on experience in all aspects of medical care delivery in a rural setting.

The preceptorship is offered to medical students through Louisiana's AHEC network in cooperation with the LSU Schools of Medicine in New Orleans and Shreveport. The program's goal is to introduce students early in their medical careers to primary care in rural and under served communities.

Miss Mclain is the daughter of Robert and Jane McLain of Oakdale. she attended Oakdale High School and earned a degree in biology/pre-medicine from University of Texas at San Antonio.

She plans to specialize in family medicine and says she loves working in small communities, since she grew up on one -- Oakdale.

While working with Dr. Sanders she is staying in the family's summer cottage at Holly

Devall goes to national

Carissa Devall of Hackberry will represent Cameron parish at the National High School Rodeo in Pueblo, Colo., July 15-21.

Carissa placed fourth in pole bending and third in barrel racing at the Louisiana High School Rodeo Association State Finals held recently at Burton Coliseum.

Jury filing charges against B.R. firm

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday took the unusual action of asking that criminal charges be filed against a Baton Rouge firm that had been awarded a parish contract.

After an executive session, the jury voted unamimously to instruct Tina Horn, parish administrator, to file charges of attempted felony theft charges against the Baton Rouge company and its president.

The company submitted the low bid of $13,000 some time ago on a contract to test, plug and abandon monitoring wells at the parish's abandoned waste dumps at Little Chenier, Sweet Lake and Holly Beach.

Glenn W. Alexander, district attorney, had informed the company that the work was not properly done and was not in compliance with Department of Environmental Quality.

The jury later rebid the project and got another firm to do the work. The jury had not paid the Baton Rouge company.

It was reported that the company had done a similar job for Beauregard parish which was found to be done improperly. The parish, in this case, had paid the company but later was refunded its money.

Miss Conner relinquishes crown Sat.

Ashlie Conner, the reigning Teen Miss Cajun Music, will relinquish her title July 13. This year, she has traveled throughout the state to various fairs, festivals and pageants as an ambassador promoting Cajun music and culture.

She is the daughter of John Raymond and Margaret Conner of Creole and the granddaughter of Harold and Margie Savoie of Grand Lake. Ashlie is a student at South Cameron High School.

She will crown the new queen at the VFW Hall on Country Club Road, Lake Charles, on July 13, at 6:30 p.m. The first Cajun Music Ball will be held after the crowning.

Cameron Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

INDEPENDENCE DAY

Last weekend, our Independence Day, was a time to remember the freedom of our country. Families getting together not only for a back yard barbecue, but many to enjoy the outdoors - boating, skiing, picnicking, beach goers and many fishermen, both onshore and offshore, and of course, crabbing.

Taking a kid fishing is still an important part of the American way, especially here in Southwest Louisiana. When you introduce a kid to fishing, it's the next generation of understanding of the outdoors and the important part of conservation. The Future Fishermen Foundation slogan is "Get Hooked on Fishing, Not on Drugs".

Economic impact of sports fishing is rising and here in Louisiana is no exception. Anglers spent in the 1991 year (last figures) over $622 million, the economic output was $1,248,-569,000, with earnings of $330,-282,000 creating 18,404 jobs.

The state sales tax taken in on fishing was $24,881,000, state income tax paid was $5,445,000 and federal income tax paid was $34,158,000. It has even gotten bigger in the last five years, so there is ag a great impact on our economy.

AREA FISHING NEWS

The Lemesche Bass Club held a tournament the last weekend of June and fishing was tough, but good bass caught. The top three bass went to Darren Richard 6-2, Richard LeBouef 4-0, and Ricky Canik 4-0. Placing in the top single stringers were in order, Darren Richard, Ricky Canik, Carl Broussard, Todd Morales and Scottie Trosclair.

The top team stringers went to Darren Richard and Richard LeBoef with a 20-12, 10 bass stringer. In order were Ricky Canik, Scottie Trosclair; Amanda Bertrand, Carl Broussard; and Todd Morales and Kevin Saltzman. Next tournament is July 13.

Waters in Sabine and Lacassine pools are still low, but still good fishing and good fish being taken. Even though we've had 8 to 10 inches of rain in some areas, our marshes are still low and the Big Burns is no exception. There's plenty of floating turf with grass growing on them in the trails and yes, there are some trails clogged with water lilies. I think our alligator folks will have a hard time this year, providing there's an alligator season or is it just talk.

Saltwater fishing couldn't be any better at this time. Real nice speckle trout at both the Cameron and Grand Chenier jetties, inland on the reefs and Calcasieu Lake doing well. There are specks in the surf along the beaches and real nice ones at that. Redfish are still here mixed along with the speckle trout. Offshore is real good in most areas, but I heard some anglers had a hard time last week on red snappers.

COMMERCIAL FISHERMEN REMINDER

Commercial fishermen applying for 1996 mullet, spotted seatrout and restricted species permits, and rod and reel licenses under Act 1316, must have certified copies of their IRS form 1040 before permits for 1996 can be issued. They have to have 50 percent of their income from commercial sale of fish.

Fishermen should act now as the IRS turn around is at lest 6 weeks for these certified copies and the October season is around the corner. No transcripts will be accepted nor will copies stamped by the local IRS office. Certified copies only. Even though fishermen hold a 1996 license with a provisional stamp having April 30, 1996, expiration date, are still required to provide IRS certified copies of the appropriate years qualifying 1040's prior to fishing the October 1996 season. Contact 504-765-2880 for more information.

BRIEFS

Remember, sports fishing folks, the new 1996-97 fishing licenses are what you need as of July 1. For freshwater only, a resident license will do. You can frog, catch turtles and even go on Rockefeller Refuge to visit, but if you're going to saltwater fish, or fish south of Highway 82, you'll need a saltwater license and you have to have a basic resident fishing license before you purchase a saltwater license. Now after purchasing a saltwater license, you must also purchase a Marine Stamp license. Now, you're home free to go fishing.

"A bad day fishing" is still better than "a good day at work".

New vaccine OKed

A new vaccine to prevent brucellosis in Louisiana cattle should end the uncertainty and complications resulting from a high rate of false positives that resulted from the old vaccine, according to Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom.

The new vaccine was approved two weeks ago by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. An emergency meeting of the Louisiana Livestock Sanitary Board was convened immediately after the federal approval to change Louisiana regualtions to permit use of the new vaccine here.

"Louisiana's 15,000 cattlemen will get a break from the new vaccine. Before, each time we got a positive from a brucellosis test, we had to do follow up testing to make certain we weren't getting a false positive. This was expensive, time consuming and for the cattleman very aggravating," Odom said.

Brucellosis, a major infectious disease in cattle, causes cows to abort. For the last 15 years a national program has been underway to eliminate brucellosis from U. S. cattle herds.

Brucellosis has been particularly severe in the southeast where the humidity and other climatic factors contributed to a high incidence of infection. In the early 1980's, Louisiana had more than 1,1000 infected herds. There have been no infected herds found in the state since April, 1995. Louisiana has some 750,000 cattle.

The state is in the process of filing the final test data to secure its brucellosis-free status from the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

To maintain the free status, the state will continue an intensive testing program similiar to that in force since the early 1980's. All animals moving through auction barns as well as selected herds on individual ranches will be tested.

Birders & camp owners seeking compromise here

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

As you walk along the birding paths in the Hollyman-Sheeley-Henshaw Bird Sanctuary at Johnson Bayou,you can't help but feel serene.

There under the moss laden trees with grape vines climbing into their branches you can even rest and observe the wildlife, and listen to the birds in their branches.

People have been coming to these Peveto woods since the early 1920's to watch the spring and fall bird migrations, observing the migratory birds resting before or after their flights over the Gulf of Mexico.

"When you witness the complete exhaustion of the birds as they land on the trees and shrubs of the sanctuary many barely able to even open their eyes until they can rest, it is close to a religious experience", said one birder who frequents the sanctuary.

Charles Fryling, Jr., president of the Baton Rouge Audubon Society, which owns the sanctuary and Bruce Crider, head of the sanctuary conducted a tour of the sanctuary and identified the different species of trees and plants which attract the birds and butterflies.

Crider pointed out that there are four things the birds and butterflies are seeking - food, water, cover and vegetation, and all of which are found in abundance here.

"That is also why the underbrush, as well as the taller trees, is so important because the smaller birds can only find refuge while they rest in the lower reaches of the lower grasses," Fryling said.

The society has been busy planting trees, and other plants throughout the area with money they have received from grants.

Fryling pointed to a passion flower on which the Gulf Fritillary butterfly feeds, and stated this year it has been chosen to grace the 1996 non-game wildlife stamp. They are somewhat rare in other areas, but they flourish in this area.

All of this will be lost if the sanctuary has to abide by a ruling made by the Cameron Parish Police Jury at their July meeting, Fryling stated.

The Jury voted at the request of neighbors in the Little Florida subdivision, to include it in the noxious weed ordinance which would mean all of the underbrush would have to be cut.

The Barton Rouge Audubon Society called a special meeting at the sanctuary Monday night of all its members, the Police Jury, District Attorney and the homeowners of the subdivision to try to come to some sort of compromise on the issue.

"We hope to have a facility to teach about the birds, butterflies, plants and environmental education, and we need the cooperation of the community, Fryling stated. "We plan to have a visitor and education center where school children can come to study."

He unveiled an architect's drawing of the proposed center, and said the plans were to coordinate it with the local school system.

Dusty Sandifer, Police Juror for the area, said, "We are not against the Audubon Society, we want you here, but we have to also listen to the wishes of the subdivision residents who want this ordinance."

Fryling said that the noxious weed ordinance would do away with the Henshaw tract of the sanctuary because the plants provide cover and food from the ground up, and only leaving the trees would defeat the purpose.

Lawrence Suire, the resident immediately next to the sanctuary, said the danger is mostly from fire.

When the Audubon Society members asked how much was really needed to be cut for a fire lane, Glenn Alexander, Cameron Parish District Attorney, suggested a meeting with the State Fire Marshal.

All parties said they were willing for a compromise, so it was decided that a committee from the Audubon society, neighbors of the community, Police Jury, District Attorney, and fire marshal, meet to try to find a solution that would be satisfactory to everyone.

Cameron locale for new novel

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Loretta Theriot, local school teacher and writer, sits on the front porch of her over a century old home at Chenier Perdue and reads a new novel which she was the researcher. The book is "Tigress" by Jennifer Blake.

The idea for the contemporary novel was conceived in the summer of 1993 as Patricia Maxwell, whose pen name is Jennifer Blake, and Loretta toured Europe researching a proposed novel about the French President Giscard D'Estaing set in France and Spain.

Patricia discussed with Loretta an idea that began when she was attending a party in New Orleans during Mardi Gras, and the story that was told there about carnival in Rio.

The two had successfully collaborated on a previous novel "Wildest Dreams", and began discussing the possibility of writing a trilogy exploring the lives of a family in Southwest Louisiana living on the Chenieres, long island-like ridges surrounded by marsh and swamp land, and involving them in Rio and France.

The basic story idea was that in spite of their insulated lifestyle, the people of the chenieres enjoy wider business activities.

They have endlessly expanding circles of relatives and friends who extent well beyond the small town of Ombre-Terre (Creole).

With that basic premise in mind, a proposal was sent to a New York agent, a contract was drawn up and Loretta began writing ideas about a fictional family who would live on Oak Ridge (Cheniere Perdue), owners of a crew boat and charter business for offshore rigs that would be involved in a "friendly" takeover with a Brazilian company, old family stories, scandals, nicknames, descriptions of locales around Cameron, her house on Cheniere Perdue, and the surrounding land.

Also, the shell road across the marsh that becomes an airstrip, the place near the marsh where the washhouse once stood and an imaginary gazebo to be constructed on that spot.

In 1994-95, the two women researched the physical sites in Creole, Cheniere Perdue, New Orleans, Cameron, and the Gulf beaches, with Patricia doing the writing and Loretta providing

School tax vote Sat.

A 10 mill, 10 year property tax will be presented to the voters of Cameron Parish Saturday, July 20 by the Cameron Parish School Board which says it needs the additional revenue to maintain the present school programs and to offset the large deficits of the system in the past several years.

The tax will be homestead exempt which means if a property owner's home is valued at $75,000 or less, he will pay no additional tax.

Because of the decline in oil and gas production from which the school board received much of its operation funds in the past, the school revenues have declined $703,825. The board has already made $981,207 in cuts during this period but is still running a deficit.

Because of Cameron's past mineral revenues the state has classified Camron Parish as a "hold harmless" parish which means the parish has not received an increase in state funding since 1991 although other parishes did and despite an increase in student enrollment in the parish.

Due to Cameron's revenues from mineral leases in the past (which now have greatly declined) Cameron parish property owners have not paid as much in school taxes as those in most other parishes. In fact, 37 of the 66 school districts levy more millage than Cameron parish.

A spokesman for the school board said that the recent teacher raises granted by the legislature will come from state funds provided for that purpose and that the proposed tax is not to fund raises for school employees.

The proposed tax is expected to generate $1 million a year, if passed, and would be levied this year bringing the system's general fund deficit nearly in balance. The projected deficit for the 1995-96 school year is $1.1 million.

Approximately 6,072 registered voters are eligible to vote in this Saturday's election which will be conducted at 12 precincts thoughout the parish.

In addition to the school board, the Cameron Educators Association and the attorneys of Cameron parish have endorsed the passage of the school tax.

All officials are unopposed

District Attorney Glenn W. Alexander and 38th Judicial District Judge H. Ward Fontenot were re-elected to their respective posts at the end of qualifying on Friday for Cameron Parish.

No contenders filed paperwork to run against the pair in the Sept. 21, primary election.

Fontenot will begin his fourth term of office. He was appointed to the post when the 38th Judicial District was separated from the 14th Judicial District and took his first oath of office on March 1, 1979.

Alexander begins his second term. He was first elected in 1990 to take over the post vacated by the retirement of Jerry G. Jones.

Also elected without opposition were justices of the peace in all six districts and constables in five districts.

Unopposed justices of the peace elected were: Ward 1, Willie M. Gary; Ward 2, incumbent Catherine L. Perry Miller; Ward 3, incumbent Harold W. "Buddy" Hardie; Ward 4, Elray LeBleu; Ward 5, Marsha Baldwin Trahan; and Ward 6, incumbent Beulah Bradley.

Unopposed constables elected were: Ward 1, incumbent Nolan J. Broussard; Ward 2, incumbent Darrell J. East; Ward 3, incumbent Adam Dorostan LaBove; Ward 5, incumbent James L. Jinks; and Ward 6, incumbent Gwen Sanner Constance.

This 40th book by Jennifer Blake, which was published by Fawcett Books, carries this acknowledgement:

"Anyone at all familiar with the southwest corner of Louisiana will recognize at once the chenier country below Lake Charles that is used in this book.

"Lying back from the Gulf a distance of 3 to 5 miles, these landmark ridges of ancient shell and silt rise above the wetland paradise of the marsh.

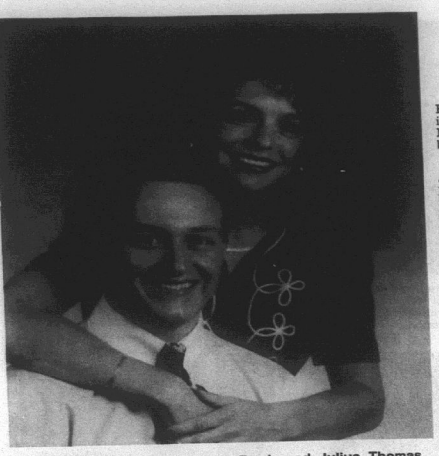
"The prototype for Oak Ridge in the story is Cheniere Perdue, or Lost Ridge, which has been the home place (the Landing) of the Theriot family for generations.

"I am supremely grateful to Loretta Theriot, who still lives on the home chenier, for sharing with me the wonderful lore of this special place and of her family's long residence there.

"Though the family created for the story bears no resemblance to hers, the book still couldn't have been written without her."

Loretta is now writing her own book, under her pen name of Susanne Boursin, and is entitled "The Sign of the Dove".

It is a double entendre symbolizing the deep love and passion shared between Catherine (the main character), Father Ben and the presence of the Holy Spirit.



It takes place in Louisiana, New York and Rome.

Doctor's discovery may end obesity

HILTON HEAD, S.C. -- A doctor has discovered that an ingredient found in a small fruit grown in Asia, combined with an ingredient praised by the U.S. Department of Agriculture can help cause significant weight loss.

In a study published in a prestigious American medical journal, Dr. Anthony A. Conte, M.D. reported that the formula, now called Bio-Max 3000, caused patients to lose more than twice as much weight as a control group on the same fat reduced diet. Neither group was instructed to decrease the amount of food they ate or to increase their exercise levels. An article published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition confirms that you don't have to reduce the amount of food you eat to lose weight, provided that you limit the fat.

Scientists suggest that the mechanism behind the weight reduction includes decreasing sugar cravings and interruption of the "Krebs Cycle", an important step in the body's fat storage process. "The best part of this unique discovery is that it is not a drug, but a safe dietary food supplement" says Dr. Conte. The Asian fruit, called garcinia, is similar to citrus fruit found in the United States with one big exception-- it may help some people fight obesity! While Dr. Conte's study may be preliminary, the exclusive North American distributor, Phillips Gulf Corp., is calling the Bio-Max 3000 supplement "Nature's Ideal Diet Aid."

According to a spokesperson for the company, Bio-Max 3000 is now available on a limited basis through pharmacies and nutrition stores or call 1-800-729-8446.© 1995 Phillips Gulf Corp

Bird sanctuary boon to parish tourism

Dear Editor:

A bus load of Belgian tourists, numerous national tour companies specializing in birding tours, semi-annual conventions of the state ornithological society, over 300 bird watchers in a single weekend.

Can you believe this is happening right here in Cameron Parish? Well, it is, and it will probably continue to get even bigger. In fact, Holleyman - Sheely and Henshaw Migratory Bird Sanctuaries near Johnson Bayou are rapidly becoming a major destination for birding tourists. The sanctuaries have recorded visitors from all fifty states and over 30 foreign countries, and are particularly popular with the French, Germans, British, and Japanese.

Tourists flock to witness the arrival of thousands of spring migrants, which during a spring storm, may drop from the skies in large numbers in a phenomenon known as a "fallout". The cooler temperatures of autumn, too, draw birders to see the congregations of birds as they pile up in advance of "making the big jump" across the Gulf of Mexico.

Cameron Parish has long been known as a mecca for hunters and anglers, who have contributed much to the renown of the Parish not to mention the local economy. But in the past 15 years or so, recreational birding has been rapidly overtaking them. People interested only in catching a glimpse of wild birds instead of shooting them are now flocking to Cameron Parish in ever increasing numbers.

In fact, recent studies have shown that "eco-tourists" outnumber and outspend hunters and fishermen nationwide. In short, birding has really "taken off". Cameron Parish is feeling its share of the economic impact of eco-tourists.

On a single weekend this past April, over 300 birders visited the Audubon Sanctuaries and completely filled up several local lodging establishments from Oak Grove to Constance Beach for the popular spring convention of the Louisiana Ornithological Society.

The LOS has for many years chosen Cameron as the site of its spring and fall meetings because of the abundance of bird life, natural habitat, and friendly, hospitable people. The Holleyman - Sheely and Henshaw Sanctuaries are a focal point for those attending the LOS meetings.

The sanctuaries are open to the public year around for a nominal charge (waived during the summer months). Though the sanctuaries are at their best during spring and fall migration, the public is invited to visit at any time.

President, Baton Rouge

Refuge closes Unit 3 pool

Sabine National Wildlife Refuge has temporarily closed Management Unit 3 to public access, this is due to the unusually low water levels resulting from the lack of rain, according to A. W. Nidecker, Refuge Manager.

As a result of low water conditions, fish and wildlife requiring water have concentrated into the shallow ditches used by the visiting public. Travel has been difficult or impossible for many weeks now, and it is difficult to run a boat without hitting alligators, turtles, or fish.

"To avoid increased boat collisions with our wildlife, we have temporarily closed the Unit 3 impoundment until further notice. All other refuge recreation areas are open as usual," Nidecker stated.

Library applies for Humanities grant

The Cameron Parish Library is applying for a grant from the Louisiana Endowment for the Humanities for a 'Readings Program' to be held at the library next spring. The program would be conducted by a visiting scholar from McNeesse University.

Besides providing a stipend for the scholar, this grant will also provide funds for texts that will be made available to each participant.

As part of the application process, the library provides statistical information as a way of determining both interest and need. This poll will help the library demonstrate to endowment officials the level of interest that can be expected for a program,as well as the needs of the participants.

Listed below are the titles of the available 'Readings Program' (a complete course description for each one is available at the library or the bookmobile).

"Folktales of the South and State"; "Literary Lagniappe: Louisiana Writers and Their Worlds"; "The Native American World of the Southeastern United States".

The library is seeking feedback from patrons on the project and the order of preference on time and dates if the grant is approved.

Two area girls in rodeo finals

Mary Beth Greathouse and Nancy Norman, both of Grand Lake, participated in the Louisiana High School Rodeo Finals held at Burton Coliseum on June 25-29. Each of them qualified in the goat tying event.

Nancy had the fastest goat tying time overall in the first go-around and she also qualified to make it into the final round. She was awarded the Sportsmanship award.

As a graduating senior, Mary Beth was participating in her last high school rodeo, which is something that she has been a part of for the last four years. At the state finals she was awarded the Louisiana High School Rodeo scholarship along with the True Grit award. She will attend Texas A&M University beginning this fall.

CAMERON PARISH NEWS

"If you like to hunt, tell it to Sweeney" is the slogan which the Sweeney's Hunting Club has adopted. Not in particular a hunting club, but a hotel of the Class A style. During the last season of hunting, a traveling reporter for a Chicago daily commented on the splendid accommodations and food served at this modern resort.

S. W. Sweeney, widely known in real estate and oil circles, is the proprietor of the Sweeney's Hunting Club at Grand Chenier. In this club, visitors will find city accommodations such as hot and cold running water in each room, baths and showers downstairs and upstairs, and electric lights. The cooking is of the old familiar Creole or French quality, ably supervised by Mrs. E. L. marquart. Mr. Marquart handles the business of the hotel, provides guides to take visitors to the 33,000-acre hunting grounds.

The "Delta", a fine passenger and light freighter boat owned by Adam Nunez of Grand Chenier, plying between Lake Arthur and the town of Grand Chenier, is enjoying a splendid business at this time of the year.

During the summer months there are a large number of vacationists who travel over the route served by the "Delta". The Delta makes three round trips to and from Lake Arthur each week.

James Doxey, businessman of the Grand Chenier community and widely known over the entire parish, says that business conditions are much better now in the parish, than many have anticipated. Mr. Doxey, in addition to his business, has laborers on a farm and his crop of cotton, which is the long staple variety, is in good condition.

Mrs. Althea Sweeney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sweeney of Lake Arthur, is making an extended visit with friends and relatives in Cameron Parish. Miss Sweeney, while in Cameron, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marquart at the hunting club of her father. Miss Sweeney is a member of the college at Mansfield and a graduate of the 1930 class.

A petition will be circulated throughout the parish for a new ferry soon, it is said. The ferry will be due west of the town of Cameron and only a quarter of a mile from the present ferry landing. The proposed ferry will serve the new state highway, Route 104, and will represent a nice sum of money for such purchase, as it is said that a larger ferry with a greater amount of space and horsepower will be needed to take care of the many tourists who will have to cross at this point in order to go to the lower end of the parish and to the parish seat.

WATERSHED MEETING

The creation of a small watershed district taking in the Cameron and Creole areas and the marshes to the north was the subject of a meeting held in Cameron Tuesday.

Attending were members of the Cameron and Creole drainage boards and representatives of the Soil Conservation Service, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Department, and local farm groups.

The local groups hope to get a levee built along the western bank of Calcasieu Lake to prevent flooding. The levee would begin north of Cameron and meet a levee built by the Miami Corp. on the northside of Grand Bayou. The distance would be about 10 miles.

A side benefit of the levee would be a road which could be built on top of the levee. This road would give Cameron residents a shorter route to the north, open up another storm evacuation route and also give access to Calcasieu Lake for fishing.

Other projects planned, should be the watershed district be created, would be deepening the drainage canal north of Cameron and the construction of a new control structure on it.

Local interests point out that by leveeing the lake, the marshes can be maintained in fresh water state, which will improve the habitat for ducks and geese and for furbearers.

Members of the Cameron Drainage Board are J. A. Davis, president; Mark Richard, vice-president; E. J. Dronet, secretary; J. Berton Daigle, and Frankie Henry.

Members of the Creole board are Joe Rutherford, president; Dalton Richard, secretary; J. P. Boudoin, Jr., A. P. Welsh, Jr. and Traville Broussard.

CAMERON FERRY CONTRACT LET

A $347,701 contract is expected to be awarded within the next several days to the Zigler Shipyard of Jennings for the construction of a 50-car ferry for the deep-water channel at Cameron, Rep. Alvin Dyson announced this week.

The new ferry will replace the present 16-car ferry which has been in operation here since 1954. This ferry is frequently hard put to take care of the traffic, particularly on weekends and holidays.

EARLY DAYS OF WEATHER FORECASTING
(By Archie Hollister)

Undoubtably the spring of 1963 was an uncommonly dry one, but extended drouths are merely a part of the Louisiana weather picture. When I was a kid people took more interest in the actions of the weather than they do now, for most of them were farmers and their daily activities and their very livelihoods depended almost altogether upon the varires of the weather.

Radio and television forecasts were not available to confuse the issue and every man was forced to be his own weather prophet. Few achieved much success at it though, Louisiana climate being what it is.

Numerous signs of nature were observed, particularly the phases of the moon, cloud formations, the behavior of the animals, and almost anything else that one might care to name. Flights of birds were watched, especially during summer months when the wind was blowing "kinda stormy." If a certain species, locally called storm birds, appeared, it was considered time for any reasonable cautious man to start nailing up his doors and windows.

Flying cobwebs were considered an almost certain indication of rain, and so was the croaking of frogs. But none of these were infallible. If all signs foretelling rain proved false, my grandfather would remark that "All signs fail in dry weather."

The only really dependable one, he said, was the old Indian sign, "Cloudy all around and pouring down in the middle."

Once, during an extended drought--the word was never pronounced drought--my Uncle John Wetheril, or John Skenner as he was called to distinguish him from an uncle of the same name, essayed the role of the weather prophet. He would come up home each morning and prophesy rain before the day was over. Undismayed by his repeated failures, he continued his predictions for sixty days. On his sixty-first, there was a cloud-burst sufficient to drown all the young ducks. Uncle John said with pride, "There! I told you it was going to rain."

My grandfather classed Skenner's predictions with those of the prophet Ezekiel; nobody paid any attention to them. And in a burst of generosity, he included the efforts of everyone else in the community as well.

ROUNDABOUT THE PARISH

Grand Lake-Sweet Lake - Mr. and Mrs. Nolton Richard and Mr. and Mrs. Abise Duhon went on a little relaxation trip around the new road at Grand Chenier to Lake Arthur. They picnicked on the way. In Lake Arthur, they visited with Mrs. Neil Wooley and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Duhon. Having the same idea as the Richards and Duhons were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mouton who made a similar trip.

Black News - Joyce Ann Avant celebrated her birthday recently in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Harrison. Ice cream, cake, cookies and other eats were served to Lynn Donald, Beverly Sue, Jimmy Lee, and John A. January; Cynthia and Juan Avant; and Gregory, Marlon and Dexter Harrison.

Creole - What a wonderful and welcome sight to see the water level in the Creole canal on the rise now that the rains have come to our area. During the recent drought, the water level in the canal had dropped to the point where it seemed in danger of drying up.

Holly Beach - Crowds again filled everything to capacity last weekend. The water was rough but there were fewer jelly fish burns. Crabs aren't as plentiful as usual. With most of the canals dry, it leaves the river and the gulf as the main fishing areas.

PROCEEDINGS

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Cameron Parish Gravity Drainage District No. 3 held on May 21, 1996, at 2:30 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex.

Member absent: Earl Guthrie.

Others present: Clay Midkiff, Paul Yakupcack, Glenn Harris, J. Berton Daigle, James LeBoeuf, George LeBoeuf, Amos Vincent, Brent Nunez, and Nolois Savoie.

A motion was made by Scott Henry, seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried to approve the minutes of the April 16, 1996 regular meeting as written.

A motion was made by Scott Henry, seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried to approve the Financial Report for the month of April, 1996.

A motion was made by George Kelley, seconded by Scott Henry, and unanimously carried to approve the following bills for payment:

1. Coastal Culvert & Supply, $143.52
2. Cameron Pilot, 33.00
3. DACI Oilfield Construction, 2,600.00.

Mr. Scott Henry reported that three price quotes were obtained on cleaning the Sells Lateral as follows: DACI $8,600.00; Crain Brothers $5,490.00, and the Gravity Drainage District #7 of Cameron Parish sent a letter that they cannot perform the work. Crain Brothers bid was the best, and it was agreed by concensus that they be authorized to begin this work as soon as possible.

A motion was made by Scott Henry, seconded by George Kelley, and unanimously carried that President Edwin Quinn be authorized to write a letter to all agencies of the CRPWRA Task Force stating that we support automation of the structures, but that the Gravity Drainage District No.3 objects to the $3.8 million maintenance funds being used for maintenance of the automation of structures, and that these funds be kept, as originally designated, for maintenance of structures and levees.

It was noted that $500,000 ($350,000 from the State and $250,000 from the Federal Government) is still available for the automation itself. It is ready to be put out for bids.

Glenn Harris gave the report of the Water Management Plan for this month. Discussion took place regarding the high salinities and the fact that all gates are closed. Mr. Harris said that there is some water movement even with all gates closes. The main concern now is that further evaporation and greater concentration of salinities would be critical.

Mr. Quinn then presented the following resolution, a motion was made by E. J. Dronet, seconded by Scott Henry, and unanimously carried that the resolution be adopted and sent to all Cameron - Creole Watershed Advisory Committee Members:

"RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ADVISORY COMMITTEE MEETINGS FOR DISCUSSION OF THE CAMERON-CREOLE WATERSHED

The Cameron Parish Gravity Drainage District No. 3 agrees that anyone wishing to be placed on the agenda to discuss matters concerning the Cameron - Creole Watershed Project at meetings of the Advisory Committee should notify TimaHorn, P. O. Box 66, Cameron, La. 70631, in writing, that they would like to discuss a certain matter concerning said watershed at least thirty (30( days prior to the meeting date. A copy of all subject matter will then be sent to each member of the Advisory Committee. After each member has studied the material and determines that there is a need for a meeting, then it will be called.

Regular meeting dates will be on the third Tuesday of March for the Spring meeting and the third Tuesday of October for the Fall meeting at 10:00 a.m. at the Police Jury Annex in Cameron. An emergency meeting may be called at other times if the need should arise by polling each agency member or representative thereof by telephone."

Mr. Clay Midkiff then presented a bid schedule and specifications for repair of cracks in the Grand Bayou Water Control Structure; a contract for hydrologic restoration of two sheet pile wiers awarded to Rimrock Construction specifications and awings; and Cameron - Creole Watershed Project drawings. These items were accepted and reviewed by members of the Board.

Mr. Amos Vincent reported that on Amoco property there is an abandoned barge sitting at the opening of a drainage lateral. He stated that this poses a navigational problem also because people could run into it at night as there are no lights on it. He asked for the assistance of this Board in getting the barge moved.

A motion was made by Scott Henry, seconded by E. J. Dronet, and unanimously carried that this Board express support of efforts to get the above-mentioned barge moved, and that we request information on the situation from District Attorney Glenn Alexander, as it develops.

Mr. Nunez also requested that the Board consider cleaning the lower mile of the drainage canal which lies on North American Land and Oil property in Gravity Drainage District #3. He reminded the Board that Buddy Leach has committed to cover the mitigation cost of $10,000 if this Board will pay the approximately $6,000 to clean it out.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Secretary-Treasurer

FISHING RODEO

The Fourth of July anglers had nice weather and lots of good fish were caught in Calcasieu Lake as well as the inland waters and the Gulf. Some of the results of the Southwest Louisiana Fishing Rodeo went as follows:

Fly fishing division in: dolphin, 4-9; speckle trout, 2-3; redfish, 10-8; flounder, 1-9 and Spanish mackerel, 1-6.

Fishing: garfish, 29-4; flounder, 2-4; drums, 52-3; redfish, 10-9; speckle trout, 5-9; red snapper, 20-9; king mackerel, 49-6; Spanish mackerel, 5-35; triple tail, 15-6; sheepshead, 5-7; shark, 102-6; jackfish 26-5; grouper, 7-6; gaftop, 5-65; dolphin, 23-5; amberjack, 36-2; trigger fish, 7-8; wahoo, 57-0; bluefish, 9-5; barracuda, 15-7; bonita, 14-1; cobia, 74-6; croaker, 1-1; tuna, 40-1; and spade fish, 9-3.

I think we may see some new records this year in the cobia, spade fish and triple tail.

Ray Burleigh of Cameron still holds the alligator gar record of 109 lbs. set in the 1974 rodeo, as well as T-Boy McCall's 1971 shark record of 1,175 lbs.

FRESHWATER

Still good fish coming out of Lacassine Refuge and the eastern Miami Corporation lands. Large bass were taken last week on pumpkin seed frogs. At this time of the year if you're fishing a cut spinner baits are fair, but with the heavy cover, spoon and chunk and floating a worm or frog is good. I you find a clear pocket, throw a top water bait.

FISH DIET

These days many folks are on diets or at least watching their weight.Here's a fish category that might interest you: white meat, light to moderate flavor, flounder, speckle trout, red snapper, white trout, catfish, wahoo, cobia, butterfish, dolphin, trigger fish and whiting.

Light meat, every light and delicate flavor, crappie, bluegill, sturgeon and grouper.

Light meat, light to moderate flavor, croaker, Vermilion snapper, mullet, pompano, jewfish, redfish, black drum, striped bass, sheephead.

NEWS BRIEFS

On Jan. 21, 1986, a sport fisherman fishing about 200 miles east of Trinidad was stabbed in the stomach by a jumping swordfish. Coast Guard from the U. S. and Trinidad helped medivac the victim to a hospital. The swordfish bill had broken off and was lodged in the angler's abdomen just a fraction of an inch from his spine.

The state record bass in Louisiana stands at 15.97 lbs., coming out of Caney Lake and has stood for two years.

An angler had a 17.13 pound bass. He and a friend were looking for bedding bass and he saw this bass lying on its side and thought it was alive and was spawning. He poked the fish with his rod and when it didn't move, he hooked it and brought it to the boat. He couldn't believe what he saw. The bass was in good shape and had apparently just died.

According to officials with the La. Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries, fish decompose quickly in fresh water. Since the gills were still bright red, and the protective coating was still there, they guess the bass had been dead no more than an hour. The big bass measured 30 inches in length with a girth of 24 inches. Pat Malone of West Monroe is truly an honest angler with integrity for telling the truth, as he could have had a new state record.

DID YOU KNOW?

Ninety-seven percent of the world's water is saltwater and light tackle is best for hand fishing. So, the shark is the only fish that can blink both eyes and jellyfish can still sting several days after it dies and if the fish activists don't like people who fish, they can do as the writing on the first U.S. Mint in 1787 says - "Mind Your Own Business."

FEEDING PERIODS

Best: Fri., July 19, 2:30 a.m. and 2:55 p.m.; Sat., July 20, 3:20 a.m. and 3:40 p.m.; Sun.,July 21, 4:10 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Good: Fri., 8:40 a.m. and 9:10 p.m.; Sat., 9:30 a.m .and 9:55 p.m.; Sun., 10:20 a.m. and 10:45 p.m.

Remember, with the hot weather, real early in the morning and real late in the evening are always good times to fish and don't be afraid to throw buzzbaits for bass at these times.

CAMERON, LA. 70631

July 25, 1996 40th Year--No.

Tax pass

Cameron Parish residents passed a parishwide 10-year property tax Saturday to support parish schools.

It is expected to generate $1 million a year for maintenance, improvement and operations.

According to election returns from Clerk of Court Carl E. Broussard the vote was 921-857, or 52-48 perce

Of the pa registered voters, 1,778 (27 percent) turned out for the election.

The homestead-exempt tax will be levied this year, and will bring the system's budget roughly in balance. The projected general fund deficit for the 1995-96 school year is $1.1 million.

Video tells about Creole Nature Trail

The effort to gain national scenic byway designation for the Creole Nature in Cameron Parish has been speeded up and will be enhanced by a new videotape, Shelly Johnson, executive director for the Southwest Louisiana Convention and Visitors Bureau, told the bureau's board of directors Thursday.

The bureau had planned to submit its application -- a document of about 200 pages of words -- in January, Johnson said, but officials advised that submitting it for the July selection date would give the bureau a two-shot chance at gaining the recognition. A bonus is that if the application is passed over this month, officials in Washington will provide a critique which can improve chances for the reapplication in January, she said.

The 10-minute video shows the unique features of the Creole Nature Trail on wildlife, recreation opportunities such as the beaches, the oil fields and the cheniers.

Pool hours are reduced

Due to financial difficulties Grand Chenier Recreation District #9 announces effective July 27, the pool hours will be from 3-7 p.m., Wed. thru Sun. The closing date for the recreation center is Aug. 11.

There will be changes announced prior to the 1997 summer season to help curtail expenses unless more revnue is available from the parish, a district spokesman said.

DOT AND ABE MANUEL, former Cameron Parish residents, are shown playing with Jo-El Sonnier while making a country music video at the Manuel's country store in Milton, Tenn.

Local folks help make music video with stars

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Several Cameron and Creole natives mingled with country music stars and starred in two videos in Milton, Tenn., recently.

Nashville video director Buffalo Bob Witt turned the normal little sleepy hamlet into a Hollywood-like setting as recording artists Jo-El Sonnier and Eddy Raven made two country music videos.

The shooting focused on Abe and Tim Manuel's Cajun Country Store and Restaurant, the closest thing to a true Cajun setting that could be found in Tennessee.

Louisiana natives Sonnier and Raven would record awhile, eat jambalaya awhile and then play some more music as they all-day video session drew a throng of local spectators.

Several country music stars, including Alan Jackson, Patty Loveless, Ricky VanShelton, and Sammy Kershaw, came to Milton to make cameo appearances in Raven and Sonnier's duet videos. They joined with Sonnier and Raven as they stood over a Cajun pirougue and ate boiled crawfish.

Tony Hay and Roderick Dahlen had brought the pirogue, pots, and burners from Little Chenier and prepared the crawfish for the production. Abe's wife, the former Dot Vincent, is Roderick's aunt, and they are all from Little Chenier.

Sonnier had witnessed Hay and Dahlen dancing in Tennessee for Ricky VanShelton's crawfish boil and personally invited them to participate in the videos.

This was the second video Sonnier has made at Manuel's restaurant.

"The first one we made was in 1989, and it became a No. 1 video, so we wanted to repeat that record", Sonnier explained, "but Abe Manuel, recognized in Louisiana as one of the best and purest Cajun music makers, and I go back a long way to when I was a boy of 8 or 9 years old when he began encouraging me to become an entertainer. I would not be where I am today without Abe's encouragement."

"And his two sons, Abe Jr., and Joe Manuel, now are playing in Merle Haggard's band," he added. "Music and friendship have connected the Sonniers and Manuels for many decades since we came up in the same bayou community of Lake Charles."

Sonnier, Raven, VanShelton and Kershaw regularly come to Milton and dine on Cajun food out of the Manuel's kitchen when not performing in Nashville, or making road appearances.

"We love the food, the friendship, the mood and the atmosphere here for our videos, and the Manuels are true Cajuns and good people," said Sonnier.

"It's like seeing one of your own boys do well when looking at Jo-El and what he's doing in his career," said Manuel, who played in the band with the late Hank Williams, Sr. in the 1940's.

Milton took on a Cajun faisdo-do atmosphere between video takes.

Local and area people attending and participating were Tony Hay; Melissa Nunez Bonvillian; Roderick, Dave, Kayla, Mary, Kory, and Linda Dahlen; Poochie and Nedia Trahan; Skip and Kathy Benoit of Ragley; and Donna Chamber of Kinder.

Funds borrowed

CAPITAL NEWS

The Cameron Parish Law Enforcement District has been authorized to borrow up to $670,000 to fund its current operations.

The State Bond Commission last week approved the district's request to issue an anticipation of avails certificate with an interest rate no higher than 7 percent. The money must be repaid by June 30, 1997.

It is a common practice for law enforcement districts to seek authorization to borrow operating funds early in the fiscal year because they have periods of low income between revenue collection dates. Eight other law enforcement districts and one tax assessment district were on the July agenda for the same reason.

State law allows a district to borrow up to 75 percent of its anticipated revenue, which in Cameron's case would set a limit of just over $2 million for the year which will end June 30, 1997. So the amount requested for approval is well below the legal limit.

Commission analyst Steve Dicharry, in the summary he prepared for the panel, noted that the enforcement district anticipates $2.76 million in revenue for the 1996-97 fiscal year and $2.74 million in expenses. That would leave it with a $17,450 surplus at year's end.

His analysis also noted that the district expects a deficit for the year which just ended June 30. Its expenses of nearly $2.8 million is estimated to have exceeded its income by $25,742. However, the district had a beginning balance of $628,288 which would more than cover the small deficit and had no outstanding budgetary loans, he said.

All local governmental agencies must receive Bond Commission approval before selling any bonds or incurring debt. Their proposals are reviewed by staff members of the state attorney general's office and the legislative auditor's office as well as the commission staff before being presented to the panel for consideration.

Duncan Smith story told by historian

(EDITOR'S NOTE--This article was written by W. T. Block of Nederland, Tex., who has written numerous articles and books on the history of Southwest Louisiana and East Texas. Mr. Block's mother was a Sweeney from Grand Chenier. This article originally appeared in "KIN-FOLKS", publication of Southwest Louisiana Genealogical Society.)

By W. T. BLOCK

While the writer was growing up before World War II,he was one of several great-grandchildren of Duncan Smith, a pioneer settler of Leesburg, now Cameron, Louisiana, who regarded their great--grandfather as a traitor because he did not embrace the Confederate cause. And it was true -- Smith had a $10,000 Confederate price tag on his head. It wasn't so much that Duncan Smith disliked the Confederate States of America so much as it was that he hated human slavery much more.

More than a century in retrospect, it is perhaps understandable that many persons of pronounced Southern sympathies might still regard Dunc Smith in that fashion. However, despite a grandfather and several great uncles who were Confederate soldiers (two of whom died at the Battle of Mansfield), the writer can only conclude that the same Stars and Stripes that he swore allegiance to in World War II was the same "Old Glory" that Smith served in Civil War days. In fact, the writer had four great-grandfathers scattered out from Johnson's Bayou to Grand Chenier in 1862, three of whom refused the oath of allegiance to the Confederacy and two of whom were actively engaged as Union sympathizers.

Of Scots-Irish extraction, Dunc Smith was born in North Carolina in 1810, but had resettled in Rankin County, Miss., with his parents and brother Edmond at some time during the 1820's. Family traditions maintain that about 1832, Smith was engaged in moving bands of Choctaw Indians from Brandon, Miss., to the Indian Territory, now Oklahoma. When work was slack on his cotton farm, he sometimes did survey work for the United States government.

On January 9, 1834, he married Margaret "Peggy" Russell, daughter of the Rev. Jeremiah Russell, a Ward of 1812 veteran, and Margaret "Polly" Rhode Russell, both formerly of Charleston, S. C., and granddaughter of an American patriot who came to this country as an adjutant in the Marquis de Lafayette's army. Her parents had moved in 1825 with their entire Methodist Church congregation from Charleston, S. C., to Rankin County, Miss., where Rev. Russell soon became the first Methodist missionary to the Choctaw tribe.

In the 1850 Rankin County census, Dunc and Peggy Smith lived on a cotton farm next door to her parents. Smith owned $800 worth of real estate, but no slaves, and had eight children in his household, two of whom would eventually die young and were buried in Mississippi. Subsequently, two more children would be born to them in Mississippi and the last child in Louisiana.

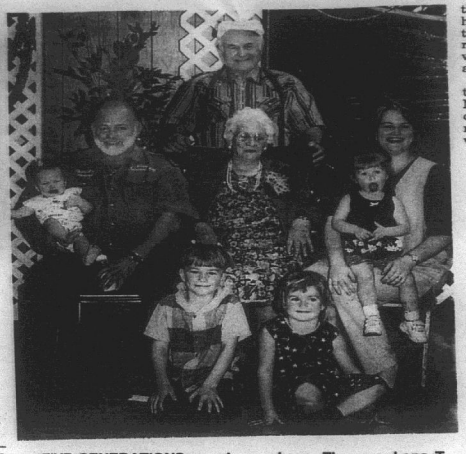
At some time during the early years of his life, Smith acquired an impassioned hatred of human slavery. Perhaps he had ample opportunity in Rankin County to witness the mistreatment and flogging of slaves, but there is no indication that he ever engaged in Abolitionist activities. If, however, he ever would voice his anti-slavery views publicly, he certainly would have generated the ire and rancor of all of his neighbors, and perhaps for that reason, he and his brother Edmond resettled their families in Lafayette Parish, La., in 1858.

Either late in 1860 or early 1861, Duncan and Peggy Smith moved to Leesburg (now Cameron) then in Calcasieu Parish, but destined in January, 1870, to become the parish seat of newborn Cameron Parish. They built their new home on the east bank of the Calcasieu River, under the live oak trees, and near where the Cameron courthouse stands today.

Perhaps the best record of Dunc Smith's life appeared in the Beaumont Enterprise of June 30, 1907, in an article entitled "How Cameron Parish, La. Received The Name It Bears." It was written by someone who claimed to have known Smith in Leesburg at the time the new parish was organized in 1870.

The author wrote an interesting account about a Confederate 'conscripting vessel' that called at Leesburg in August, 1863, and read aloud the recent draft declaration of the Confederate Congress. The author likened this boat to the British press gangs of the War of 1812 - one either volunteered himself or he "was volunteered at gunpoint" for the Confederate Army.

At that time, Dunc Smith was on the west side of the river in his skiff, and the conscripting boat, sensing that he was trying to escape, began firing musket volleys at him. Despite being hit in the leg by a minie ball, Smith kept on rowing until he reached the east bank. At that time, Peggy Smith suddenly appeared to help her husband, and the musket fire (which the author compared to the sounds of a "popcorn social") ceased when she arrived. Peggy Smith got her husband, then age 53, safely ashore and hid him in a sea cane marsh nearby.



When the Civil War began in 1861, Dunc Smith had two grown sons, Jeremiah, who was age 18, and Phineas A. "Dick" Smith, age 26. Both would accompany their father on many trips when the latter was engaged in his Unionist activities, and P. A. Smith would later become the first parish clerk of Cameron Parish. A third son, John Smith, was age 17, but remained at home to care for his mother and sisters.

It appears that Duncan Smith rode coastwise on the Union blockade ships as if he owned them. In 1862, two of his daughters (including the writer's grandmother Lou Ellen Smith sweeney) went to school in New Orleans when that city was occupied by Gen. Ben Butler's Federal Army, and the only way from there to the Calcasieu River was aboard some Union blockader.

His first experience with the West Gulf Blockading Squadron occurred on October 2, 1862, when Acting Lieutenant Frederick Crocker entered the Calcasieu River aboard the blockader U. S. S. Kensington. When Smith informed Crocker that the Goosport steam blockade-runner Dan had just returned to the Calcasieu from a successful voyage to Mexico, Crocker decided to go upriver with only 14 sailors and a 6-pound boat howitzer aboard a small sloop and capture the Dan. During a 6-day voyage which brought the Bluejackets inland to a point 30 miles north of lake Charles, Crocker succeeded in capturing the Dan and returning to the coast without a single shot being fired at him.

In April, 1864, at a time when all Confederate troops in Louisiana were engaged in combat at the Battles of mansfield and Pleasant Hill, near Shreve-port, Dunc Smith decided that it would be safe to anchor Union blockade gunboats in the Cal-casieu and load the Mermentau Jayhawkers' herd of 450 stolen cattle and horses and to recruit Union sympathizers (usually referred to as 'refugees') for the United States Navy.

Pilot reporter tells Audrey experience

(EDITOR'S NOTE: A book on the experiences of Cameron Parish residents in Hurricane Audrey in 1957 will be published in a few months by Nola Mae Ross of Lake Charles. One of the accounts in the book was written by Elora Montie of Grand Chenier, who has been a reporter for the Cameron Pilot for nearly 40 years. Her account follows:)

By ELORA MONTIE

I was living with my 75 year old mother, Ruth Montie, 10 miles east oft the Mermentau River Bridge in Grand Chenier. On the night before the storm Ray Nunez and I and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whatley, drove to Cameron for supper. The radio kept announcing severe weather was on the way and in Creole folks were boarding up their windows.

The next morning, June 27, 1957, at approximately 7 a.m., the wind was blowing very hard and it was raining. Shortly afterwards we saw driftwood, and animals on piles of driftwood coming through the front marsh over the highway into the yards. We knew that we had serious times ahead.

A few weeks before Ray Nunez, I and a neighbor, Mrs. Whatley, went down our canal through the marsh to the Gulf in a newly bought boat. We walked the beach, brought some nice shells back with us. I also picked up two boat life preservers. One was from "The J. C. Craig" of Lake Charles. The other was from the boat "The Tioga" of New Orleans. When the water kept rising we brought the preservers in the house.

There were two other people in our house, my mother's brother, Loren Portie of New Orleans, and a friend, Ray Nunez. As the water kept rising we made our way to the attic. The weather got very black. Very soon it seems as though a tornado had hit the house and detached the roof from the house. The north side of the roof went off with the water which was then knee deep in the attic.

The south side of the roof then floated. I, my mother, Ray Nunez and Uncle Loren Portie climbed on the top of the south roof and floated north as we would have in a boat.

A short distance from the home place the roof top we were on stopped against a big oak tree in the back woods. My Uncle Loren was able to hop onto the limb before the roof top floated on.

He wanted my mother to get off the roof too, but Ray told her there just wasn't enough room for both of them. My uncle remained there until the storm was over, then someone nearby placed a piece of lumber on the limb and he climbed down.

When the roof top left the limb it headed north across the back ridge and stopped at another big oak tree. Ray looked at both my mother and I and decided not to get off the roof but to ride on farther.

Soon we were in open waters, strong wind and very dark weather. We were then washed off the roof, separated from Ray and it was then each on his own.

My mother and I were both in life preservers. I held on to my mother's life preserver. We were being tossed about through crashing waves and raging winds and darkness.

Of course, we were scared, beaten, in shock and wondering what was to become of us. My mother was worrying because she had lost her glasses and couldn't see. The wind and dirty water were so bad on our eyes, we could hardly see.

We were tossed and tumbled around over land which then looked like were were in the Gulf. However, we were in God's hands. The debris which hit us and tore our clothes and skin seemed unreal.

I was hit on my back by a piece of lumber which knocked me out. My mother told me later another wave hit me and revived me. My mother was severely injured also. Seemingly, it lasted so long, this journey of dirty water, debris and worrying about what was next. We landed against a levee along the Mermentau River during the night. My mother was hardly talking anymore.

Saffron, known for its golden color, is the dried stigma of autumn crocus, valued for its color and flavor for culinary uses, as well as its fragrance. Its various applications drte back for many centuries. The Greeks sprinkled it in theaters, courts and rooms as a perfume and to decordorize; the Romans scented their giant baths with it, and strewed it in the streets. CYNDI SELLERS of Cameron displays some of the rare shells that she has found on Cameron beaches. (Photo by Geneva Griffith)

Museum confirms rare shells on local beaches

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Cyndi Sellers, Cameron's Shell Lady, received an important phone call this week from Fred White, the curator of the Brazosport Museum of Natural History in Lake Jackson, Tex.

Cyndi had contacted her about some of the seashells she has found along the Cameron beaches, particularly the Mitchell's Wendletrap and the Texas Venus.

Mrs. White informed her that these shells are very rare, and said that if a sheller on the Texas beaches found even one in a lifetime they would feel extremely lucky.

The Texas Venus is also a rare shell on the Texas beaches, and White was quite surprised when Sellers informed her that they were quite common on the Cameron beaches.

Sellers had sent her two specimen of each shell to help her identify and confirm what she had already found in Dr. R. Tudker Abbott's American Seashells book, the bible of shelling.

When she asked Cyndi if she should return the specimen, Cyndi told her she could keep them.

"Fantastic", she replied, "I will put them up for auction in our annual event we are holding next month to raise funds for the support of our museum, which has one of the largest collections of Gulf of Mexico shells west of the Mississippi River."

Cameron Parish has 36 miles of beaches, 30 of which are accessible, the most in Louisiana, according to Ed Kelley, chairman of the annual beach clean-up committee, which will hold their annual beach clean-up Sept. 21.

Sellers is wondering if Cameron Parish beaches are even more imoprtant than she thought, since the local shellers have been finding these rare shells for years.

In case interested beach combers want to identify some of their finds, the Mitchell's Wendletrap is described in Dr. Abbott's American Sheashells book, as being from 1-1/2 to 2-1/2 inches in length, thin but strong, without an umbilicus, with about 15 rather strongly contex, paleivory whorls, which have a dark brownish band at the low, irregular costae per whorl. It is not very common, but occasionally is washed up on Texas beaches, and is associated with sea anemones. It ranges from the Texas coast to Panama. There are 200 known species, some rare.

The Texas Venus is 1-1/2 to 3 inches in length, 3/4 inches high. Externally resembling Pitar Morrhuana, but much more elongated, having the beaks rolled under themselves, and with a more elongated, faint lunule. The posterior cardinal is S-shaped in the right valve, uncommon, if not rare. Lives offshore in silty mud 4 to 5 cm. below the surface at water depths of 4 to 15 fathoms. They range from Northwest Florida to Texas and Mexico.

Beach home owner tells problems at bird area

Dear Editor:

There has been a lot of media published about Baton Rouge Audubon Society and residents of Little Florida Subdivision. This is my point of view which no one has heard or asked about. There are several problems aside of the fire hazard, speeding, insects, rodents, snakes, etc. All of this stems from the heavy growth of underbrush inside the subdivision around the homes, and the lack of respect for the residents.

I requested children playing signs to let birders know children were around. Instead of reading the signs, half the birders start looking for birds the second they turn down the parish road #556. The other half are racing to the back parking lot to get a good parking space. The Police Jury reduced the speed limit to 5 mph to attempt to help with the high volume of traffic. This, however, is not working. I have asked for help from the Baton Rouge Audubon Society with no help from them.

Winter only brought on new problems, rodents. Spring arrives, snakes are everywhere and the rodents that don't know it's time to leave. The sign on Highway La. 82 explains everything. The sign reads "Boots or hightop shoes & insect repellent are necessary to enjoy the bird sanctuary." You can get a general idea of what the living environment has turned into. If there is any reader out there with a portable toilet in their Subdivison I would love to hear your views or feelings on this.

The Baton Rouge Audubon Society owns a lot of land outside the subdivision. I am only seeking for the residential lots that they own to be mowed and maintained like everyone else in the neighborhood. This is suppose to be a Class A subdivision.

I pray for the safety of my children from the birders racing down the road and using my driveway as a turn around. I know there are several readers out there who have experienced a birder quickly stopping on La. 82. I also pray no one gets hurt from this.

It was stated in the paper to the Editor in the Cameron Pilot that in one weekend 300 birders came to the sanctuary. This turns into quite a bit of traffic down an approximate 800 foot road. On the aveage 10 percent of the people who come here stop and ask where the sanctuary is, or pull in my yard and turn around and look for it. During peak time this number is even higher. I have asked Audubon to relocate the parking area outside the subdivision. To help reduce traffic and the danger of people pulling in my yard not knowing my children are playing, but as of yet this has not been done. These are just my concerns as a resident of Cameron Parish.

Concerned in Cameron Parish.

/s/ Kellie Suire

Dear Editor:

Your title to last week's article, "Birders and camp owners seeking compromise here" is incorrent. I am a resident of Little Florida Subdivision, not a camp owner. I have lived here for almost three years. The weed and grass that used to be cut two and a half years ago has gone untouched. The weeds and grass have grown and are not only a fire hazard, but they heavy growth also blocks the view of oncoming vehicles.

They cannot see the home down the road where I have 4 children playing. This obstruction has to be dealt with along with the rodent problems. My home is located on the same road as The Baton Rouge Audubon Society Entrance.

This is in reference to the picture in last week's paper on the front cover. If you notice the sign on the highway, it reads: "Boots or hightop shoes & insect repellent are necessary to enjoy the bird sanctuary." The sign alone tells how bad it really is. Think of the home owners who live in the subdivision.

/s/ Kellie Suire,
Home Owner

Thirty-eighth Judicial District Court
STATE OF LOUISIANA
P.O. Drawer 578
Cameron, Louisiana 70631

OFFICE OF
H. WARD FONTENOT
JUDGE

TELEPHONE
318-775-5649

July 23, 1996

To the dear citizens of Cameron Parish:

By virtue of being the only qualifier for the office, I have been given the honor to serve as judge of the 38th Judicial District Court (Cameron Parish) for a fourth term. I take this opportunity to share some thoughts with those whom I serve.

So many who run for public office vow to maintain the highest standards, a vow which is soon forgotten when the election is over. As you may recall, it was my vow, after taking office, to keep those standards and provide a judicial system in which the people of this parish and any and all persons having business before the court would be confident of fair and just treatment. To the best of my ability, I have dedicated myself to this end; and those who have followed my efforts know that my failures have not been for want of trying.

By its nature, being a judge keeps one in the center of controversy. It is conventional wisdom that the job of district judge is made more difficult in rural or small town jurisdictions where the judge knows everyone and is known by everyone. Of course, it is true that any judge has difficult decisions to make, decisions that affect those involved in the most profound way; but my experience of almost 20 years on the bench, both here and in other jurisdictions, has revealed that this conventional wisdom does not apply to Cameron Parish. Win or lose, the people of this parish have a respect for the court and for the system, which makes my job immensely easier. It is my hope that my tenure as judge has been, and will be, deserving of that respect.

Thanking the people of this parish for their continued support and rededicating myself to providing a court that is accessible, efficient, fair and just, and is worthy of their continued confidence, I am

Sincerely,

H. Ward Fontenot

GOV. LONG SIGNS CAUSEWAY PERMIT

H. L. Mckee and Associates of Port Arthur have received a permit from the State of Louisiana, signed by Gov. Huey P. Long, for the construction of a highway causeway across Sabine Lake and connecting Port Arthur in Jefferson County, Tex., and Cameron and Grand Chenier, in Cameron Parish, when a highway is constructed later from the east end of the causeway to Cameron, connecting with the Gulf Beach Highway at Cameron.

The proposed causeway, which has been under consideration by the businessmen of Port Arthur for several years, will cost, it is estimated, $1,457,000 and will be 5-1/2 miles in length. The permit was signed by Gov. Long on July 17.

EAGLESON ENTERS SHERIFF RACE

Claude Eagleson, Sweetlake rice farmer and cattleman for the past 30 years, this week announced that he will be a candidate for the sheriff of Cameron Parish in the December Democratic primary election.

The son of a former sheriff of Cameron Parish, Charles Eagleson, who served from 1904 to 1912, Mr. Eagleson was a candidate for sheriff four years ago, running a close second to the present sheriff, O. B. Carter.

Sheriff Carter recently announced that he is retiring and Mr. Eagleson is the first to announce for the post.

BAKERY DAMAGED BY FIRE

The Cameron Home Bakery was extensively damaged by a fire that was reported to the Cameron volunteer fire department at 7:15 p.m., Friday, according to Chief Ray Burleigh.

The firemen had the blaze under control within 15 minutes, using the town's new fire plugs for the first time to fight a fire.

The bakery was operated by Sidney Morrey and the building was owned by Johnny Roux.

NEW PARISH HD OFFICERS

New officers were elected last Friday by the Cameron Parish Home Demonstration Council. They are: Mrs. Charles W. Hebert, Sweetlake, president; mrs. Walter Stanley, Cameron Club, president-elect; Mrs. Harold Carter, Creole, vice-president; and Mrs. D. W. Griffith, Grand Chenier Club, secretary.

FORESTRY CAMP

Two youngsters from Cameron Parish were among some 118 4-H Club members from throughout Louisiana who attended the Junior 4-H Forestry Camp at Chicot State Park, June 3-7.

Robert Mhire of Grand Chenier and Catherine Lowery of Hackberry represented Cameron Parish for the four-day camp where outdoor classes in forestry subjects together with a recreation and fellowship program rounded out a full schedule of supervised activities.

GOOD VEGETABLES
(By Hadley Fontenot)

Some vegetables in the parish must not have known that an extended drought was experienced if size means anything.

Mrs. Laurent Broussard of Creole grew some yellow onions that averaged one pound each and had as many as five to the hill. She planted some sprouted onions she had purchased from a local grocery store. For a 73-year-old woman, she grows a mighty fine garden.

Mrs. Vian Theriot, another avid gardener, who pocketed a little extra change from the sale of her surplus tomatoes, grew what may be a record size tomato. It weighed 2 pounds even. Mrs. Vian lives at Chenier Perdue and is the wife of the Police Jury member of Ward 2.

ROUNDABOUT THE PARISH

Cameron--The winners in the contest held at Roux's Department Store Saturday were: Mrs. Johnny Vincent, E. J. Dronet, Willie Andrews, William Kelly, Ruby Miller, Hilliary Trahan, Frances Miller, Wiley Mudd, Curtis Stevens and Ginger Roux. Kathy Savoy of Jennings drew the names out of the box and LeRoy Mason was master of ceremonies.

Hackberry--All indications are this week that the first annual Hackberry professional rodeo, slated for this Friday and Saturday nights, will be a big success with a large number of professional cowboys from Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas scheduled to compete.

FUR FESTIVAL DATE CHANGED

The eighth annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival will be held in the spring, probably March or April, next year, it was decided at a meeting of the festival's board of directors and participating clubs last Thursday night.

The festival is held in January to coincide with the trapping season. However, freezing and rainy weather has interferred with the festival in recent years and it is felt that better weather and larger crowds can be expected if the event is held in the spring.

One problem will be that there will be no fresh nutria and muskrats for the skinning contest. This will be solved by freezing a number of carcasses during the trapping season and keeping them for the festival.

SHOWN ABOVE are Karen Theriot Deshotel, Paul Yakupzak, Refuge Manager, and Randy Deshotel. The Deshotels donated their collection of 19 mounted waterfowl to the Cameron Prairie Refuge in memory of Karen's great-grandparents, Rudolph and Alix Theriot, from the Chenier Perdue area. The mounted collected has an appraised value of $1700.

CAMERON PARISH GRAVITY DRAINAGE DISTRICT NO. 7
PROCEEDINGS

Meeting called to order July 18, 1996 at 6:30 p.m. by President Magnus McGee at Board Office, 205 Middle Ridge, Johnson Bayou.

Roll as follows: Magnus McGee, Carroll Trahan, Ivan Barentine, Leroy Trahan, Rogerest Romero.

Absent: None.

Guests: George Bailey, Wm. Lloyd Badon, Rodney Guilbeaux.

Motion to accept minutes of June 20 meeting by Leroy Trahan, second by Carroll Trahan, passed.

Motion to review and pay bills by leroy Trahan, second by Carroll Trahan, passed.

Permits reviewed: Motion to accept by Carroll Trahan, second by Leroy Trahan, passed.

Permits: Fina Oil & Chemical Sec 36, T14S R12W, second Bayou Field (Proposed Permit).

G.D.D. #7 Johnson Bayou various Secs in T14S, R14W, T14S, R13W, T15S, R14W, T15S, R13W (Clean existing ditches, replace and install variable crest weir structure).

Transco Pipeline various Secs, T12S, R14W, T15S, R13W (Retirement of pipeline facilities).

The 1995 audit conducted by Gus Schram, LTD. showed that G.D.D. #7 was in compliance and their books were in order with two exceptions. They are: Board minutes reflected that 4 board members were absent when in fact they were in attendance. This was in error, showing them absent when they signed bills and participated in the meeting. The amended budget inadvertently reported a higher revenue than was actually received and therefore had an unfavorable variance of more than 5%. The amended budget was correct and approved by the board, but the actual typing of the budget inadvertently used an incorrect figure causing the unfavorable variance. The CPA firm recommended that the District ensure that the minutes reflect the correct attendance of all board members, including those who arrive after the meeting has been called to order and the roll taken. The CPA firm also recommended that the District increase its review of the monitoring process for variances exceeding 5%.

Lloyd Badon met with Fletcher Miller with reference to some of the work needed to complete the project. Some of the work was not a drainage problem and could not be done by GDD #7. It was an erosion problem that was caused by high tides and salt water.

George Bailey gave a report on the Shallow Prong Permit that he was applying for modification through the US Corps, etc. He read letters sent to and received from the Corps, US F&WL, WL & P, NRCS, etc. He has made trips to their offices, will make additional ones, and is in the process of getting prices on structures necessary for permit.

Should the board need to do mitigation work on the Shallow Prong Project, there are a couple of areas that could be used for that purpose. Lloyd will ask the Public Notice for the modification should be coming in shortly.

George Bailey and Ivan Barentine are planning a field trip by air boat to Smith Ridge Bayou and adjacent areas preparatory to outlining permit needed for drainage work.

Lloyd Badon has boxed in the area below the stairs in the maintenance building for tools, materials, etc. He has repaired a broken hot water line and separated septic line.

An exhaust fan for the meeting room has been installed and is quiet and efficient.

A planning meeting for a wetlands workshop for west Cameron Parish is set for Wed., July 31, at 10 a.m. in the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex. A letter in support of this workshop is to be sent to the letterhead.

A salinity meter was purchased from Forestry Suppliers and has been received. The plastic guard that holds the batteries was missing and has been ordered from the manufacturer.

The aluminum welding additions to the Lincoln welder will be picked up in Sulphur, as will a dolly and necessary supplies.

On a motion by Carroll Trahan, second by Leroy Trahan, passed, the board is sending letters to the US Corps of Eng in New Orleans and to Len Bahr of the Governor's Office on Coastal Erosion with regards to the recommendation of La. DNR to widen and heighten 20 of the 85 break water structures at Constance Beach.

On a motion by Ivan Barentine, second by Rogerest Romero, passed, the board agreed to purchase slow moving sign, revolving warning lights, warning signs, etc. for use with the new back hoe. Warranties will be decided on at the next meeting.

The Sabine Lake Conference of the Trans Texas Water Plan will be held in Beaumont on Fri. and Sat., Sept. 6 and 7. Several Commissioners and the Exec. Secty. plan to attend.

A drainage request was received to clean out an existing drain ditch in Holly Beach. A motion by Rogerest Romero, second by Ivan Barentine, passed, that Lloyd Badon do so.

There being no further business, a motion to adjourn by Rogerest Romero, second by Leroy Trahan, passed.

CAMERON PARISH TOURIST COMMISSION
GRAND LAKE FIREMANS CENTER
JUNE 24, 1996

Meeting called to order at 6:30 p.m. by chairperson Sandra Landry. Pledge of Allegiance by Commissioner Bill Turnbull. Invocation by Commissioner Ed Kelley.

Guests: Toby Landry, Police Juror Malcolm Savoie and Bruce Crider of the Audubon Society. Meeting hosted by Police Juror Brent Nunez. All members present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read. Commissioner Madeline Solina moved they be accepted, Commissioner Marianna Tanner seconded the motion and motion carried.

Commissioner Bill Turnbull reported there was no new information on the status of the Jetty Project. He noted on the photo contest photos must be submitted by Sept. 15, 1996. He will attempt to submit some photos from Turnbull photos.

Commissioner Madeline Solina, the Tourist Commission delegate to the Cameron Parish Economic Development Task Force, reported on her attendance at the meeting last week. She stated that the meeting seemed to center on lack of planning at their meetings for future project but were somewhat critical of projects planned by other commissions and organizations. After discussion on this matter Commissioner Sammie Faulk moved the Tourist Commission request a copy of the minutes of the task force meeting, Commissioner Bill Turnbull seconded the motion and motion carried. A motion was made by Commissioner Sammie Faulk and seconded by Commissioner Madeline Solina for the chairperson and the secretary to write a letter to the Cameron Parish economic Task Force concerning the fact that the tourist commission is willing to work with them on projects that are of mutual benefit to the parish from both commissions. Motion carried. Commissioner Solina reported that the Creole Nature Center had not been opened yet and requested the secretary of the commission to check on signs that needed to be erected.

Commissioner Sammie Faulk reported there was a lot of tourist activity in the Cameron Parish area. In May he had a photographer interested in birds in the Rabbit Island area. He said there was a definite lack of birds in the area compared to the past. The end of the shrimping season was very good, especially in the 60 to 70 count. Commissioner Faulk also noted the riding of the Derby in Cameron. This was a tourist attraction and suggested that perhaps the same could be done here. It was suggested that Stacey White, with the Department of Transportation be contacted on this matter.

Commissioner Marianna Tanner discussed birding article she had mailed to commission members. She distributed pamphlets on new bread and breakfast facility in Cameron. She then introduced Mr. Bruce Crider with the Audubon Society. He suggested as a long range project that the new commission should look into the possibility of having a birding festival. Mr. Crider stated they had bird watchers in 50 states and 38 foreign countries. He said plans should be made on developing Sabine Refuge, check food and lodging area accommodations. After discussions Mr. Crider was asked to draft plans for a festival's needs and present it for next meeting.

Chairperson Dinah Landry gave a report. (Copies enclosed). She noted that the commission LTPA dues were due and payable. Commissioner Madeline Solina moved the dues in the amount of $277.00 be paid. Commissioner Sammie Faulk seconded the motion and motion carried. Chairperson Dinah Landry recorded the secretary to present the bill to th Police Jury for payment.

Police Juror told the commission of plans to further develop Rutherford Beach. He stated there would be a meeting of the beach development committee on July 15.

After discussion commissioner Bill Turnbull moved the commission have the minutes printed in the newspaper. Commissioner Sammie Faulk seconded the motion and motion carried. Police Juror Brent Nunez made this recommendation and discussion ensued.

Chairperson Dinah Landry thanked police Juror Brent Nunez for his cooperation of hosting the meeting in the Grand Lake area.

The next meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. at the Cameron Police Jury Annex on July 29, 1996. Meeting adjourned.

PUBLIC NOTICE

During the reporting period of June 15, 1996 to July 14, 1996 the Cameron Parish Water Works District #7 Water Supply violated the maximum contaminant level of coliform bacteria as set forth in the State and Federal Primary Drinking Water Regulations. Action was taken to eliminate the contamination.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that the presence of total coliforms is a possible health concern. Total coliforms are common in the environment and are generally not harmful themselves. The presence of these bacteria in drinking water, however, generally is a result of a problem with water treatment or the pipes which distribute the water, and indicates that the water may be contaminated with organisms that can cause disease. Diseases symptoms may include diarrhea, cramps, nausea, and possibly jaundice, and any associated headaches and fatigue. These symptoms, however, are not just associated with disease causing organisms in drinking water, but also may be caused by a number of factors other than your drinking water. EPA has set an enforceable drinking water standard for total coliforms to reduce the risks of these adverse health effects. Drinking water which meets this standard is usually not associated with a health risk from disease-causing bacteria and should be considered safe.

Action has been taken to eliminate the contamination by follow-up samples in which results were clear.

Shrimpers are reminded of mesh size

Shrimpers anticipating the 1996 fall white shrimp season are reminded that mesh size for trawls, skimmer nets and butterfly nets is not less than three-fourths of an inch square or one and one-half of an inch stretched. This applies in inside waters during the fall inshore shrimp season.

According to Col. Winton Vidrine, Chief of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Enforcement Division, the mesh size regulation will be enforced during the fall season. "We have been warning and educating shrimpers about the mesh size, and now we will issue citations to anyone taking shrimp with nets smaller than the inch and a half minimum," he said.

Vidrine explained that while the law was in effect for the fall 1995 season, enforcement agents did not issue citations, providing fishermen with time to find out about the new law and to acquire nets with the proper mesh size.

The penalty for using illegal mesh trawls, butterfly nets or skimmer nets is a fine of $250 to $500 or jail for not more than 90 days or both.

NEW BUSINESSES NOTED IN PARISH

One of the most encouraging signs around Cameron Parish this spring is the many new businesses which are being started and the new commercial buildings that are going up on the main street of the town of Cameron.

A new barber shop opened in Creole this past week. A new slaughter house began business between Cameron and Creole and a Cameron service station is under new management.

On the main street of Cameron, three new business buildings are now under construction. At Creole a new garage is being built.

The Creole area got its first full-time barbership when Vernon Perrin opened the Creole Barber Shop at the four-corners last Friday. A native of Kaplan, Mr. Perrin has been a barber at the Lake Charles Air Force Base for the past 11 years. His wife is the former Ilene Broussard of Grand Chenier.

Further down the road toward Cameron, Hulin Jouett and Bobby Guidry have opened the Cameron market and Slaughter House on the "Tooty" Marshall property. Mr. Jouett operated a slaughter house here before Hurricane Audrey and Mr. Guidry operated one at Sulphur for several years. they said they would have fresh meat at all times for sale at retail and wholesale.

Charles O. Styron, Jr. announced this week that he has purchased Perry's Esso Service Station in Cameron and in the future it will be known as Styron's Esso Center. F. J. Gaspard will be the station manager.

A variety store was opened in Grand Chenier recently in the T-Boy McCall house, with Mrs. Diane McCall and Mrs. Lillie Mayon as operators.

Other new businesses noted around the parish include an ice cream stand at Hackberry, a garage at Cameron and a discount store on main street at Cameron.

OYSTERS BROUGHT IN $750,000

The gross worth of the oyster catch in Calcasieu Lake during the 1962-63 season just ended was approximately $750,000 and could hit a million dollars next year, State Rep. Alvin Dyson said this week.

A total of 131,606 bushels of oysters were taken from the lake this season, an increase of nearly 66 percent over last year's catch of 85,500 bushels.

Local fishermen's share of profits from the catch amounted to $350,000.

"I don't know of any other local industry that can bring in so much money to local people in a period of only four months as the oysters have done," Mr. Dyson stated.

The Cameron oyster industry was revived four years ago following a 15-year period in which lake pollution prevented sale of the oysters. In 1959, the Louisiana Department of Health found the southern part of the lake to be free of pollution during the winter months and oystering was resumed.

MRS. CAMILLE SAVOIE IS 90

MERMENTAU PORT PROPOSED

The Cameron Parish Police Jury agreed to go along with Jeff Davis Parish on a proposal for a survey to determine the feasibility of a port on the Mermentau River, but jurors indicated they were far from sold on the idea.

A delegation of some 20 Jeff Davis civic leaders, police jurors and Jennings and Lake Arthur city officials outlined their dreams for such a port to the Cameron jury Monday.

Jeff Davis Attorney Bernard Marcantel told the Cameron jurors that his group was not seeking Cameron's approval of the proejct at this time, but only their indication of interest in having a survey made of the project.

Mr. Marcantel said the port envisioned by the Jeff Davis group would benefit not only his parish, but Cameron, Acadia and Vermilion as well.

Juror C. A. Riggs then proceeded to tell the Jeff Davis group why Cameron was a "little gun shy of ship channels". He said that the Lake Charles ship channel had split Cameron Parish in two, hd killed off most of the trapping in the marsh through salt water intrusion, had damaged the hunting and fishing in the parish, and had made it almost impossible for Cameron to ever get a bridge.

Speaking of Lake Charles and the Lake Charles Dock Board, Mr. Riggs declared: "They got the freight, the industry and the revenues--we got the salt water."

He reviewed for the visitors the strained relations between Cameron Parish and the dock board brought about by an executive order signed by the governor giving the dock board the authority to expropriate land in Cameron Parish without permission from the Cameron Police Jury.

Marcantel and others assured the Cameron jurors that they had no intentions of doing any harm to Cameron Parish. They said they too did not want salt water intrusion as it would harm the fresh water, rice-basin in Jeff Davis Parish.

Some of the Cameron jurors appeared reluctant at first to agree to endorse the feasibility survey on the channel, but after the Jeff Davis spokesmen pointed out that they were in no way committing themselves to the channel, the jury agreed to back the survey.

VFW OFFICERS

Dr. Cecil W. Clark, Cameron physician, was elected commander of the Doxey-Vincent VFW Post at the annual election held MOnday night. Dr. Clark is a World War II veteran, serving in Italy with the 329th Station Hospital attached to the 5th Army. He succeeds Ray Dimas as commander.

Other officers elected were: Edward J. Benoit, senior vice-commander; Amos Miller, junior vice-commander; J. Berton Daigle, quartermaster; Miles McJohnson, post advocate; Dr. G. W. Dix, surgeon; Deil G. LaLande, chaplain; Ray Dimas, 3-year trustee; Tony Cheramie, 2-year trustee; and E. J. Dronet, 1-year trustee.

Deil LaLande reported that Cub Scout Pack 102, which the Post sponsors, won first place in a skit presented recently at the Scout-O-Rama in Lake Charles. Cub Pack members presented to Commander Dimas a present of kitchen towels for use in the VFW kitchen.

ROUNDABOUT THE PARISH

Black News - A fish fry will be held on Good Friday, April 12, at the Grand Chenier park under the direction of Mrs. Wanita Harrison. Boating and games will also be featured. Funds will be used toward the publication of the Audrey Memorial yearbook.

Creole - Arriving in Creole Tuesday at Fawvor Chevrolet Co. from the Wayne-Bus Body Co. in Richmond, Ind., the brand-new Tarpon bus, eye-catching with its color combination of a heavenly shade of blue and white, was immediately put into service Tuesday afternoon to carry South Cameron's track team to a meet in Hackberry. Purchase of the new bus was made possible through funds being raised by the Athletic Association.

Grand Chenier - Spring has brought nice sunshine and dry weather and most folks are to be found outside doing yard, garden and field work. Most all trees are now budded and spring grass is out. Many cattlemen are busy working cattle now that the mosquitoes have slacked up some. Cattle are on the mend from the winter.

Johnson Bayou - The new auditorium for the Johnson Bayou Baptist Chruch is now under construction. The building will seat 150 and will be air conditioned. The Rev. Malcolm Self is the pastor.

Cameron - Floyd Marlott has been transferred by Pan Am to Jennings. His family remains here and will follow after the school term.

Rt. 1 Cameron - Mrs. C. R. Guilbeau, Mrs. George Nunez, Mrs. Donald Kelley and Toby visited in Port Arthur Friday with the James Austin and the Floyd Trahans. They also went to St. Mary's hospital with Mrs. J. A. Trahan.

Hackberry - Mrs. Freddie Bourg and Mrs. Delbert Sheffield were hostesses March 25, for a farewell get-together at the Community Center honoring the Frank Williams family who will be moving soon to Lafayette.

Holly Beach - The beauty and warmth of spring brought out scores of visitors this past weekend. Swimmers on the beach looked like an official splash day. Crabs and fish are both caught in sufficient numbers to keep the fishermen contented. The panorama of the countryside exalts itself not only with bursts of new plant life, but also numerous newborn calves doing frisky capers.

Musing by Bernice Stewart - In our backyard is a common little rose bush, the offspring of a parent plant from the Chenier. Cousin Corinne Sweeney Stevens of Lake Arthur gave us this cutting from her bush, which, in turn, had years ago, come fromthe old Sweeney place on Grand Chenier. In our family it is known as the "little Hattie rose," having been named for my great-grandmother, Harriet Sweeney McCall Wetherill.

Oak Grove - Mrs. J. D. Iker, a former resident of this area, visited the Millers, the Wests and the Rutherfords last week.

SHERIFF O. B. CARTER

Sheriff O. B. Carter has been Sheriff of Cameron Parish longer than any other person in the history of the parish, this weekend announced that he will not be candidate for re-election in the December primary.

Sheriff Carter was first elected to the office in January, 1948. He was re-elected in 1952, 1956 and 1959, and when his present term ends on June 1, 1964, he will have served four terms for a total of 16 years.

Sheriff Carter, who gained national recognition for the work of his office following the devastation of the lower section of the parish by Hurricane Audrey in 1957, said he wanted to devote more time to other interests.

The office also operates four patrol cars and a boat for rescue and patrol work in the lakes and rivers. The two-way radio communication system was installed in 1952 and a teletype system was put in operation last year.

Sheriff Carter and his wife make their home in the town of Cameron. He is the son of Dr. S. O. Carter, pioneer doctor of Creole, who practiced in the area for some 63 years before his retirement a few years ago.

Sheriff Carter had a varied career before becoming sheriff. He taught school in Cameron Parish for two years, worked as office manager and bookkeeper for an insurance company and six years for a Lafayette bank.

He was Cameron Parish Director of Public Welfare for six years prior to entering service during World War II. Following 32 months of service with the Army in Europe, he returned to Cameron and served as Veterans Service Officer for two years.

EARLY SHERIFFS
(By Jerry Wise)

We picked up some interesting information on former sheriffs of Cameron Parish this week from Sheriff O. B. Carter when he gave us the announcement that he will not run again.

Sheriff Carter has the recording of having served the longest in office--16 years come June. Serving the shortest term was J. M. McCall, who served from Feb. 5 to Feb. 27, 1880. He was appointed to fill the vacancy created by the death of A. M. Jones from yellow fever.

Allen R. Carpenter was the parish's first sheriff, taking his oath of office on Jan. 19, 1875. He was succeeded in 1878 by Sheriff Jones, followed by Sheriff McCall.

Later sheriffs and the year they took office were: E. D. Miller, 1880; Ira G. Harper, 1888; James A. Wakefield, 1886; Charles Eagleson, 1904; Duncan R. Crain, 1924; Mark Richard, 1936. Sheriff Carter took office on May 31, 1948.

CANDIDATES FOR SHERIFF
(By Jerry Wise)

With Sheriff Carter retiring from office, the 1963 Cameron Parish Sheriff's race is expected to be a wide-open affair with a number of candidates tossing their hats into the ring. Among those, we hear, thinking about running are Claude Eagleson, Sweetlake rice farmer, who ran four years ago; Charles A. Riggs, Hackberry police juror; and John Paul Crain, Sweetlaker, marsh buggy manufacturer and contractor.

Both Mr. Crain and Mr. Eagleson, if we are not mistaken, are sons of former Cameron Parish Sheriffs.

HEALTH UNIT TAX PROPOSED

A one-mill property tax designed to raise operating funds for the Cameron Parish Health Unit probably will be submitted to parish property owners within the next few months.

The police jury at its July meeting last week appropriated $6,000 as its share of the health unit's expenses for the remainder of 1963.

The health unit building in Cameron, built in 1955 with an appropriation from the Rockefeller funds, is staffed by an sanitarian, public health nurse, nurses aide, secretary and janitor.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

Shrimp season in Zone 3 is closed as of midnight Fri., July 12. That's the portion of Louisiana inshore waters from the western shore of Vermilion Bay and the western shore of Southwest Pass at Marsh Island to the Texas state line.

The alligator season is set for Sept. 7-Oct. 6. Biologists will study data and bring up to date information and inform the La. Wildlife and Fisheries secretary, who has the authority to close, delay, reopen or extend the alligator season as biology dictates, Alligator hunters may make license applications starting Aug. 1 through Sept. 17. The LDWF will mail applications to all who hunted alligators in 1995.

Harvest rules and regulations are available for our area at Rockefeller Refuge in Grand Chenier, or you can contact the LDWF in Baton Rouge for applications.

In 1995 about 28,300 alligators were harvested. Sales of alligator hides and meat were approximately $11.9 million to the La. economy.

SPORTS FISHING NEWS

If anyone asks you what the state freshwater fish is, and can you eat it, you can reply white perch or white crappie, or sac-a-lait or papermouth or calico bass (all same names). This took place in Aug. 1993.

The Lemesche Bass Club's next tournament will be Aug. 10 and weigh-in will be at 3 p.m., with a fish fry at the Grand Chenier State Park.

Water levels are still low in most marshes. We have had rain and it's helped, but still more needed.

Sabine National Wildlife Refuge has temporarily closed Management Unit 3 to the public access because of low water levels.

This will keep boats from hitting or killing fish, alligators, turtles and other wildlife, because they are concentrated in shallow ditches that the public was using. Other refuge recreation areas are still open as usual.

Good fish were caught in Lacassine Refuge last week with an 8 pounder, a 6 and two over 5 pounds from two local anglers. Water is fairly low and grass and weeds are high, so be extra careful of other boaters.

Miami Corporation lands have had their ups and downs this year. Some days good reports and other days bad reports. Last week a good report of a six pounder along with a 4 and two three pounders were taken on pumpkin - pepper, and brown - orange plaster frogs.

Black shad or black pearl and grape pearl worms have also been doing good. Maybe you need to throw the red shad worm also, as it's had favorable reports. In the heavy growth areas, don't forget the spoon and pork chunk.

Offshore fishing is fair as some rough water comes and goes with the thunderstorms we've been having. I had a good report of nice speckle trout east of the Cameron jetties rocks.

GOOD TRIP

Carroll (Sugar Boy) Miller, his wife Sheila and son Matt, went to Caney Lake with family members Ladd, Jerri Ann, Alan, Jeff and Craig Wainwright, Trudy Champagne and another couple. They had a good trip and caught bass, but with the slot limit 17 to 19 inches, you really throw nice bass back into the water. Trudy caught an 8 pounder the first day and Matt had 2 large bass throw the hook. They were fishing in 6 to 18 feet of water. (There's places over 50 feet deep). It's 204 miles from Rudy's Fishing Stop to Caney Lake one way if you plan to make the trip.

They stayed in a deer camp about 10 minutes from the boat launch and the bass were schooling.

Caney Lake had carp put into help keep the grass down, but now they have eaten up the grass, they're trying to get people to catch them and take them out. About 1000 have been caught so far.

Disaster subject of TV program

One Cameron resident, E. J. Dronet, will be watching with very close interest the program, "Indianapolis: Ship of Doom" when it is shown on Lake Charles Channel 18 at 7 p.m., Monday, Aug. 5.

After delivering the atomic bomb that was to be dropped on Hiroshima, the cruiser Indianapolis left Guam for the Philippines, but was interrupted by a Japanese submarine attack.

Just after midnight , July 30, 1945 (51 years ago this week), approximately 1,200 men went into the water. Five days later, 316 came out alive following the worst shark attack in recorded history.

Dronet was one of those 316 survivors in what has been called the greatest naval sea disaster in United States history.

Dronet and his wife, Hazel, attended the dedication of a memorial to the dead and survivors of the disaster last year in Indianapolis, Ind. The names of the 1,200 men, dead and living, including Dronet's, were inscribed in granite.

Dronet was president and manager of the Cameron State Bank until his retirement a few years ago.

Production picks up in the parish

CAPITAL NEWS

Natural resource production in Cameron Parish picked up in April after a dip during the third month of the year, according to the state Departmernt of Revenue and Taxation.

The April report released by the department showed $1.3 million in severance taxes collected for work in the parish, up from $1.1 million in March and the sixth highest figure in the state. However, monthly receipts continue to trail those recorded in 1995, when April collections totaled $1.4 million for production in the parish.

Most of the work was reported in the oil category, where $715,907 was listed during the month. Natural gas added the remaining $675,542 to the parish total, placing it fourth in that group for April receipts.

The parish collecting the tax on oil and natural gas receives one-fifth of the total up to $500,000. Seventy-five percent of all revenue collected on timber products goes back to the parish.

Severance taxes statewide reached their highest level for the year so far, totaling $32.6 million for April, the first month in 1996 that they have topped the $30 million mark.

Plaquemines Parish's overall tally of $6 million placed it ahead of all other parishes as usual. Vermilion's $3.09 million outdistances Terrebonne by less than $28,000. Lafourche ranked fourth with $2 million, followed by Iberia's $1.7 million. The $1.39 million listed for Cameron was just $26,900 less than St. Mary's total.

Welsh olympian is remembered here

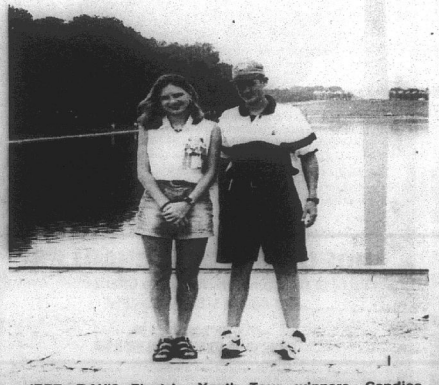
When the Olympic Torch passed through Southwest Louisiana in May, residents of Welsh gathered to pay homage to a native son, the late Rolland Lee Romero --a two-time Olympian.

A reception was held at the Welsh library at which there was a display of Romeo's Olympic medals, jackets and scrapbook.

A freshman at Loyola University in 1932, Romero was among four Louisiana athletes to travel to Los Angeles for the 1932 Olympics.

He finished seventh in the hop, step and jump. He later broke both the world and Olympic records in this event. In 1936 at the Berlin Olympics he took fifth place in the event.



Two Cameron parish girls are married to Mr. Romero's grandsons. They are Chermaine Primeaux Richard, married to Russell Richard, and Melanie (Tunie) Faulk, married to Tommy Richard.

Attending the reception from Cameron Parish were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Richard and children Thomas and Malorie, Chermaine Richard and Bobbie Primeaux.

Students make trip to Washington D. C.

Two area students recently returned from an all-expense paid trip to Washington, D. C. sponsored by Jefferson Davis Electric Cooperative to attend the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association's Government In Action Youth Tour Conference.

A total of 35 young people from throughout Louisiana joined more than 1,300 students from 40 states for a week of sightseeing and a chance to get a firsthand look at how our government functions.

Attending this year's Washington Youth Tour were Candice Alexander of Jennings representing Hathaway High School and Benjamin Richard of Grand Chenier representing South Cameron High School.

Students interested in the Washington, D. C. trip were selected by the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service through their high school 4-H programs. The top two winners were then selected by Jeff Davis Electric to make the trip to Washington, D. C.

In Washington, the students toured the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials, Washington Monument, Viet Nam and Korean Memorials, Arlington National Cemetery, Mount Vernon, the Smithsonian Institute, attended a play at Ford's Theatre and took a boat cruise down the Potomac River. One entire day was spent on Capitol Hill touring the U. S. Capitol and visiting the office of the Louisiana Congressional Delegation.

VISITED CAMERON TWICE

Famed birder dies at age 87

A man who had become the proverbial "legend in his own time" died Sunday in Old Lyme, Conn. Several Cameron parish residents who had gotten to know him briefly are among those who will miss him.

Roger Tory Peterson, 87, who died after suffering a mild stroke several months ago, had during his 60 year career become recognized as probably the leading authority on birds in the world.

He wrote, illustrated and edited 15 books on birds that sold millions of copies and were translated into at least 12 languages.

Audubon magazine called him "the man who turned bird watching into a super sport."

Sammy Faulk, Big Lake marina operator, guide and a member of the Cameron Parish Tourist Commission, said he took Peterson and his party out in the Cameron marshes about four years ago to see the birdlife. The parish is recognized as one of the "hottest" birding areas in the nation.

Last year Peterson returned and this time Faulk took him to the uninhabited Rabbit Island in Calcasieu Lake north of Cameron. Faulk said Peterson was fascinated by the fact that he could get so close to the many birds who seem unafraid of humans.

"He was particularly delighted with the laughing gulls which swarmed around him," Faulk recalled. He said Peterson took many rolls of film of the birds.

Roger Tory Peterson

Diel LaLande of Cameron furnished the pontoon boat to take Peterson to the island. Others along for the trip were local birders Marianna Tanner and Judy Fruge and photographer Bill Turnbull.

Mrs. Tanner said she was awed by the famous man but said he was "most friendly and the nicest fellow. He was a real warm, wonderful old fellow."

Mrs. Tanner said Peterson autographed copies of his famed bird guides for her and Mrs. Fruge.

While in Cameron Peterson and his party stayed at the Jerry Jones camp.

FISHING REPORTS

The Lemesche Bass Club will hold their August meeting on Tues., Aug. 6, 6:30 p.m. All members are asked to attend to prepare for the next club tournament and fish fry.

Area freshwater fishing is still rather slow. Many anglers are finding it hard to catch a limit of bass. Lacassine Refuge is still producing some big bass, but not many limits are caught. The Big Burn and Miami Corporation permit Lands are producing some small bass as well as Sabine Refuge. The spoon and chunk are still the best producers, also small frogs.

Saltwater fishing is still very good with good inland catches reported as well as offshore. This past week we've had some thunder storms and some choppy water, but boats are still headed out and doing rather well.

50 YEARS AGO

In the 50 years ago column in the Lake Charles American Press, I noted that the eighth annual Lake Charles Cameron Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo didn't have a tarpon the first day, but an Iowa angler scored 270 points with catches of king and Spanish mackerel. The first day's catch was 425 fish. Before the rodeo was over only one tarpon was caught a mile and a half out of the Mermentau River, weighing 31-1/2 pounds.

Fifty years ago Governor Jimmie began a tax on fishing licenses. It was intended to discourage out-of-state commercial fishermen from operating in Louisiana waters, mostly from Texas and Alabama.

At that time, Louisiana claimed jurisdiction for "30 miles" out into the Gulf of Mexico.

More of Elora's story on Hurricane Audrey

BY ELORA MONTIE

(EDITOR'S NOTE--Last week the Pilot's Grand Chenier reporter for nearly 40 years, Elora Montie, began a personal narrative of how she, her mother and others survived Hurricane Audrey in June, 1957. This week she continues her story.)

I was praying to God to spare us and for someone to find us. The next morning I told mother "the sun is coming up." She answered "Thank God, where are we?" I answered I did not know.

After the sun had rose for a while, I saw a person on a levee east of us but didn't know who it was.

It was Ray (Nunez) and he hollered and I answered. Ray had tied a piece of board to my mothers life preserver before the house was torn to pieces. It took me a while to dig the board out of the mud and untie the board so we could move.

We then started down the water's edge until we reached him. We then pulled my mother on a piece of a roof top which had drifted on top of the levee. she said she was freezing, an old blanket was near the rooftop, so we covered her with that and waited for help.

It wasn't too long before we saw a boat land on the Mermentau River shore not too far from us. The Tresemon Jones' two boys of Lake Arthur, were looking for survivors. One of the boys put a smaller boat in the marsh and came where we were. The boy recognized Ray.

They put my mother in the boat, then the boy and Ray drug the boat to the larger boat in the river and took us to the locks across the river. There was a family living near the locks on a hill and they took us in and gave us clothes as ours were badly torn.

Later three men came in a boat headed toward Grand Chenier but couldn't cross as there was so much debris and the locks couldn't be opened, so they came in and found it was kin folks.

One of the men was a cousin of Ray's (Adam Nunez). We also knew the other two men, Earl Doland and friend, and they loaded us in their boat and took us to Lake Arthur.

There were a a lot of folks on the wharf who had come to see who they had found. The Lee Monlezun family took us in their home and cared for us until the next day when the highway to Jennings was cleared for traffic.

We first received medical treatment at Lake Arthur. Ray had a gash on his head, my mother was so run down she had almost lost consciousness.

I could hardly get around from my hit by the lumber on my back. Soon as the highway was cleared to Jennings we were transferred to American Legion Hospital, where we stayed for a month.

OUT OF HOSPITAL

When we were released from the hospital, Ray found us an apartment in Sulphur with some other relatives and friends and we stayed there until October. We were issued a tent in which we stayed during the day.

About that time 15 oil companies, which were doing oil field work in Grand Chenier, moved into houses on our property for their use. We were able to use one house for a place to sleep. Ray stayed in the hotel in Crowley while we were in the hospital. The hotel supplied Ray with beds and bedding which we used for the house while carpenters were building us a home on the same place of our home before Hurricane Audrey. My mother finally got over everything and lived until he age of 89.

Later we found the results from the storm area. Our neighbors, the Hebert Doucet family of Evangeline, had moved their restaurant on our property from Evangeline in 1952, but Hurricane Audrey destroyed it completely. Hebert Doucet drowned after being washed off a piece of the restaurant he had climbed on. Fred and Henry, the two boys, grabbed a piece of lumber and were found and picked up near the Intercoastal Canal.

Another family, the Wayne Owens, lived in one of our apartments. When the weather got bad they brought their youngest child, Cindy, 3, to the Doucets for safety. When they got into their house their apartment broke up. The water was rising and they went off with part of their apartment to the woods, approximately 500 feet back, then were all able to climb trees. The father, mother, one daughter and two sons, who remained until the storm was over, survived. Cindy drowned.

On the west side across the parish road from our home were Mr. and Mrs. Edison Mhire's home and store which was all washed away. They had his stepmother, Leize Mhire, their niece, Mildred Carrier, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Whatley, who lived near them when the hurricane hit. Edison Mhire and son, Robert, and Mr. and Mrs. Whatley, survived by the big oak trees about 500 feet back of their place. Clementine, Edison's wife, and niece, Mildred, and Leize Mhire, all drowned.

JETTIES SITE TO BE IMPROVED

A portion of land about one-half mile long and several hundred feet deep at the end of the east jetties road at Cameron will be built up with spoil dredged from the ship channel and may eventually become a state or local park, it was learned this week.

Friday at a meeting with the U. S. Corps of Engineers and Jahncke Dredging Co., contractor on the dredging job, the Cameron Parish Development Association was assured that all interests would cooperate in having the spoil placed along the shore at the end of the jetties road.

This road, instigated by the Cameron Lions Club, was constructed by the police jury and opened last year so as to give fishermen access to the east jetties which go out into the Gulf along the ship channel.

The land on which the spoil is to be placed is accretion and belongs to the state. It is hoped that after it is built up, the state will place a roadside park at the location.

WORK BEGINS ON NEW CHURCH

Work is now in progress on the new Hackberry Methodist Church, which is expected to be completed in about five weeks, according to the Rev. W. D. Milton, pastor.

Being erected on the old church site, the new church is of very modern design with the sanctuary being built in the form of an "A". It will seat 100 persons. The adjoining wing will include a kitchen, restrooms, social hall, Sunday school room and study.

Church members are doing most of the work themselves with the aid of one carpenter and Rev. Milton is serving as supervisor.

Members of the building committee are Delbert Sheffield, chairman; Leroy Barbier, Albert Kyle, Jim Kirby and Leland Portie. Paul Ritter is the architect for the building.

Dominique J. Monlezun and his banker Cindy Oliver

"Business is very tough these days. It helps to have a good foundation — a foundation with a good bank. I think that Hibernia wants to make a big impact here with new ideas and services. My relationship with my banker, Cindy Oliver, will stay the same and it's nice to know I'll have a statewide bank behind me. They've obviously done it right all these years. They must be good."

For more than 125 years, Hibernia has helped businesses like Dominique Monlezun's throughout Louisiana. And when our proposed merger of Calcasieu Marine National Bank and Hibernia National Bank is complete, we'll keep the interests of Southwest Louisiana at heart. Local decisions stay local. # Annals of Duncan Smith-- was he on the wrong side?

(EDITOR'S NOTE--This is the continuation of article begun in the Pilot last week about the life of a pioneer settler of Cameron (Leesburg then)--Duncan Smith. It was written by historian W. T. Block of Nederland, Texas, who has family ties to Cameron Parish.)

By W. T. BLOCK

On April 15, 1864, Dunc Smith, his sons Phineas and Jeremiah, and "6 or 8 other refugees" were in New Orleans, where they had sailed earlier on a Union blockader. Smith convinced Union General Ben Butler that, by burning some bridges along the coast, it would be safe to anchor gunboats while loading the stolen livestock, and without fear of Confederate attack.

The following excerpts are from Lt. Benjamin Loring's official report of the Battle of Calcasieu pass (published in Official Records, Navies, Ser. 1, Vol. XXI, pp. 256-259), as follows:

"To Gideon Welles, Secretary of the Navy, Washington, Feb. 28, 1865, Sir:

". . .received order to proceed to Calcasieu Pass, La., with U. S. steamers "Wave" and "Granite City" and receive such 'refugees' as may be willing to enter the U. S. Navy, receiving further orders regarding the expedition from Mr. Smith whom I was directed to receive as a passenger. I left New Orleans on the evening of April 15 (1864). . . .(Delayed at Morgan City)."

". . .Off Calcasieu Pass April 24. . .Anchored two miles above the mouth of the Pass, opposite Mr. Smith's home. . . From the 27th labored diligently, preparing to fulfill objects of my expedition, as I had understood it from Mr. Smith, collecting horses, saddles, and all arms that could be found among the citizens."

". . .The bridges across Mud and Oyster Bayous were destroyed. Mr. Smith, who was an old resident of the place, assured me it was impossible for the enemy to cross Mud Bayou (on Beach Road to Johnson's Bayou) after the destruction of the bridges."

". . .Gathering refugees to drive cattle (the stolen Jayhawker herd) and form a force of protection was one of my objects. . .To do all this labor, there were but 25 (Union) soldiers and 8 or 10 refugees, who had returned from New Orleans with Mr. Smith and belonged to his party. Ten more refugees were added, and only ten, during the time I remained."

". . .Mr. Smith was a very visionary (?) man and required constant watching to keep him at his assigned work. Each evening I met him and perfected arrangements for the following day's duties and the stationing of night pickets, who were composed of 'refugees' (Leesburg's Union sympathizers). . .Using refugees for picket duty was a necessity."

". . .The previous night (May 5) to my capture (at Battle of Calcasieu Pass), I met Mr. Smith near his house as usual, to arrange the pickets for the night. I always consulted him because he and his sons (Phineas and Jeremiah) were generally taking charge of the parties and acting as guides for the scouts. . ."

BATTLE OF CALCASIEU PASS

The remainder of that long letter detailed the debacle of the Battle of Calcasieu Pass, when following a 90-minute fight, the Sabine Pass garrison of 350 men captured two gunboats and 177 prisoners, with 14 Confederates and 8 Bluejackets killed. And although Dunc Smith found enough local 'refugees' to stand picket duties, he failed miserably in his hope of recruiting dissidents for the Union Navy.

On the afternoon of May 6, 1864, the Confederates searched Smith's home, hoping to catch the arch-Unionist and collect his $10,000 bounty. Instead, Smith escaped by hiding under his wife's hoopskirts during the search. That night, he and a friend named Guil Broussard escaped to the marsh and remained hidden on North Island for the next year, returning to civilization only after their hair and beards had grown to their waists.

Needless to say, when a radical Reconstruction government took control in Baton Rouge, la., Duncan Smith exercised an influence with that body not shared by many other Southwestern Louisiana people in post-bellum days. And in 1870, whenever Cameron Parish was carved out of parts of Calcasieu and Vermilion, Smith suggested to the legislature in the state capitol that the new parish be named after Simon Cameron, a former senator from Pennsylvania and Pres. Lincoln's first Secretary of War, for whom Smith had a great respect and admiration.

At that time, there was hardly anyone in the new parish eligible for public office. To be sworn into office, a person had to take the "Ironclad Oath," affirming that he had neither born arms against the United States nor sworn allegiance to the Confederate States. And usually, only the very young, the very old, or the Union sympathizers qualified. His eligibility enabled Phineas Smith to become Cameron Parish's first clerk of court.

HURRICANES

On Sept. 13, 1865 and Aug. 22, 1879, two severe hurricanes struck Leesburg, leaving much death and destruction in their paths. Following the latter storm, the Galveston Daily News of Sept. 3, 1879, observed that the "dwelling houses of Capt. Tom Reynolds, Gus Williams, Joseph Cormier, and Duncan Smith are nowhere to be found" - each of them having been swept out to sea. Luckily, Smith and his family survived each hurricane, and they built their new home at Johnson's Bayou instead. And seven years later, they saw it torn to shreds by the giant whirlwind of Oct. 12, 1886.

By 1885, Smith had developed what the oldtimers called 'slow consumption" which was the earliest stage of tuberculosis. After the storm a physician suggested that he go out west for his health. The old Unionist, already age 76, was en route to his son's home in Cisco, Texas, when he died at San Marcos in 1887, and was buried in the San Marcos City Cemetery.

Peggy Smith eventually returned to Johnson's Bayou, died there on Nov. 5, 1891, and her tombstone still stands in the well-kept Smith Cemetery on Smith Ridge. The latter two places were not named for Duncan Smith, but rather for another set of the writer's great-grandparents, Frederick Smith (Schmidt) and Caroline Matilda Smith.

Phineas A. Smith, who served much of his life as parish clerk, eventually married at age 65 and sired two daughters. Until his death in 1923, he sometimes spoke of his service as a "Yankee spy" during the Civil War. At age 88, P. A. "Uncle Dick" Smith walked from Lake Charles to Sour Lake, Texas, to visit his youngest sister, but died of pneumonia while returning to Louisiana on foot. A street near the courthouse in Cameron is named for him.

Of Dunc Smith's three older daughters, Caroline Smith married Frank Pleasant and reared a large family at Grand Chenier. Mary Ann Smith married Martin A. Crain in Mississippi, and they reared their family at Big Pecan Island. Her son, Dunc Crain, was sheriff of Cameron Parish for much of his life. Lou Ellen Smith (the writer's grandmother) married James Hill Sweeney of Grand Chenier, but she moved her family to Nederland, Texas, in 1906.

Jeremiah Smith married Emilia Ann Bonsall of Grand Chenier and soon after moved to Cisco, Texas. Austin B. Smith married Emma Levingston, sired five children, and was at Johnson's Bayou and Port Arthur merchant thereafter. At age 68, John Smith married a much younger woman, Lottie Fuller, and fathered two sons. He was an early-day Cameron Parish school teacher, farmer, and merchant at Johnson's Bayou, but moved to Port Arthur about 1910. Not to be outdone, the youngest daughter, Margaret, remained single until age 75, but eventually married at Sour Lake, Tex.

WAS HE A TRAITOR?

And such were the annals of Duncan Smith, Calcasieu and Cameron parishes' arch-Unionist, who inadvertently led the United States Navy to a stinging defeat at the Battle of Calcasieu Pass, the last Civil War fight for control of the Texas-Louisiana coastline. Was Dunc a Confederate traitor? His neighbors and the Confederate Army certainly thought so, and obviously some of his own descendants share that view.

Perhaps, though, there is something to be said for a person who would risk the wrath of his neighbors, the welfare of his family, his capture, and even the firing squad rather than compromise the code of ethics he lived by. The Beaumont Enterprise writer, who knew Smith in 1870, added his comment:

"Duncan Smith had opposed human slavery since long before John Brownr raid, and when the Civil War came on, his fiery opposition to it put him in bad odor with the people who favored it and fought for it. He was a man of fixed and inflexible opinions, an Abolitionist bitterly opposed to slavery. He was ready at the drop of a hat to die for that principle!"

And yes, perhaps the outcome of the Civil War conferred some semblance of rectitude of Dunc Smith's principles. (The American Civil War was utter heartbreak on both sides of this writer's family. His paternal grandfather was a Confederate soldier, and two maternal great uncles, Pvt. isaac Bonsall and Lt. Bill McCall, both of Mumford's Division and Grand Chenier, died at the Battle of Mansfield.)

Cameron's history is told by Bernice Denny

(EDITOR'S NOTE--The early history of Cameron Parish was covered in this address given by Bernice Denny on the occasion of Cameron Parish's Centennial some years ago. Mrs. Denny, a retired teacher, and her brother, the late Archie Hollister, have earned for themselves the title of the "unofficial historians" of Cameron Parish.)

By BERNICE DENNY

One hundred years ago by an act of the Louisiana Legislature, our parish of Cameron was created. As forward-looking as were the citizens of that day, it is safe to assume that they would have doubted the credibility of any one who might have predicted the Cameron as we know it today.

Geologists tell us that at times Cameron Parish has been the bed of the Gulf of Mexico; at other times it was far inland with the coastline much farther to the south than it is at present.

During the periods when the polar parts of the world were covered by great glaciers the level of the sea dropped hundreds of feet, exposing immense areas of land. With the wartime trend and the inundation of coastal regions caused by melting ice, Cameron was again submerged by the Gulf waters. But, then, its rivers ran freely and fiercely, dumping silt at their mouths.

Year after year the silt spread along the coast, thickened, and slowly rose to the surface. Solid land apepared. Thus did the prairies in the northern part of our parish come into existence. In a similar manner our marshes were formed. Indeed, one might say that a prairie is a marsh grown older.

-THE CHENIERS-

The cheniers in the southern part of the parish are in reality former beaches that through the activities of nature have become isolated from the sea by strips of marshes. "Cheniere" is a word derived from the French "chene", meaning "oak". As you know, in French "cheniere" is literally "oak grove". The older cheniers lie to the north.

Geologists believe that the cheniers nearest the Gulf had lain there over 1200 years before the inquisitive eye of the first white explorer beheld their pristine beauty.

And beauty it was! Enormous groves of majestic oaks, producing rich crops of acorns and bearing their wealth of Spanish moss, supported strong vines that, in turn, yielded their harvest of luscious purple muscadines. There were clumps of wild plum and groves of walnut and pecan. In the springtime dewberry and blackberry vines were heavy with fruit.

The Sabine and Calcasieu and Mermentau harbored fish and crabs. The deeper marshes were the habitat of monstrous alligators. All manner of wild fowl found sanctuary there. Turtles, frogs, snakes were equally at home. In the woods were deer, bear, and smaller animals.

-NEUTRAL STRIP-

Prior to 1870, the region that is now Cameron Parish had been a part of varied political divisions. During the 17th and 18th centuries, the territory lying between the Sabine and Calcasieu -- called by the Spaniards the Rio Hondo, or Deep River -- was known as the Neutral Strip. Spain had claimed the Calcasieu as the boundary; France, the Sabine. When the United States bought the Louisiana Territory in 1803, the question again arose between our government and that of Mexico. In 1819 a final settlement placed the boundary at the Sabine.

Louisiana was early divided into parishes, ill-defined though they were. Our present parish fell into two of these. The territory west of the Mermentau belonged to Opelousas; east of the river, to Attakapas.

The Opelousas district became St. Landry Parish. The southwestern section of St. Landry was later converted into Calcasieu Parish. In 1870 the extreme southern part of Calcasieu was included in the newly created parish of Cameron.

The land east of the Mermentau has been a part of five different parishes. In 1807 it was included in the formation of St. Martin. In 1828 it became a part of Lafayette Parish, which was carved form the southern part of St. Martin. Vermilion was formed from the southern part of Lafayette in 1844. In 1870 the southwestern corner of Vermilion became a part of the new parish of Cameron.

Yes. We really have it, and we're going to keep it. For those of you who have come to rely on Account One, it will remain through our proposed merger with Hibernia National Bank. For those of you not yet enjoying the incredible benefits of this very special checking account, it is a single account which replaces all others, paying great interest rates on your account balance. With Account One, you pay no fees or charges when the account balance minimum of $7,500 is maintained, and, unlike many other so-called "money market checking accounts," Account One deposits are FDIC insured, up to $100,000.

No more checking account and savings account at a bank, money market account to earn deposit interest from some brokerage firm, and CDs somewhere else, to boot. A single account, with a consolidated monthly statement, that does it all.

Your account is accessible to the max: by check, ATM, account transfers, ACH deposits/debits, and through CMNB's current debit card program.

Charges?

Just maintain the $7,500.00 account balance minimum, and you will be charged nothing: no annual fee, no monthly service charge, no transaction fees, no per-check or check-printing charge (with our wallet-style corporate image checks), no fee for Travelers' Checks or Stop Payment service, and no overdrafts.

The end of complicated personal money management.

| Account Balance | Annual Percentage Yield |
|---|---|
| $50,000.00 + | 4.96% |
| $15,000.00 – $49,999.99 | 4.43% |
| $7,500.00 – $14,999.99 | 3.40% |

Rates may change after the account is opened, adjusted weekly to the 30-Day U.S. Treasury Bill asked rate, and rates shown are effective July 23, 1996. The account minimum is $7,500, and interest is not earned on lesser amounts. If the balance falls below $7,500, fees imposed could reduce earnings. Interest is earned on the entire account balance at the highest qualifying rate. The account is for individuals only.

Police Jury discusses boom boxes

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Police Jury is tired of complaints about "boom boxes" and excessive noise they make around the parish and agreed to get the input from citizens on excess noise prosecution.

District Attorney Glenn Alexander said that the fine for the offense is $100 plus court costs or 30 days in jail.

Some parishes have very stiff fines, with a fine and warning on the first offense, and the seizure of the equipment on the second.

Gloria Bang, a local bar owner, asked the Jury to consider changing the local ordinance under which the bars are forced to close at 2 a.m. on weekdays and 1 a.m. on Sunday morning. "In all adjoining parishes bars are allowed to stay open 24 hours", she stated, "and we are losing out on that business." She asked that this be amended to 4 a.m. on weekdays and 2 a.m. on Sunday morning (for Saturday).

The Police Jury tabled the request for later study, but amended the ordinance for the Labor Day weekend with the Sunday opening allowed to be 2 a.m. on Monday morning, Sept. 2.

Dinah Landry was presented with a certificate of appreciation for the work she has done on getting grants for the parish and for being certified as a Certified Community Action Professional. She will receive her certificate next month in San Francisco, and will be among the only 121 with the title in the United States.

Mike Francis, a candidate for Louisiana Senate, appeared before the Jury. If elected he said he will have a sub-office in Cameron at his local business, Francis Drilling Fluids.

ORDINANCE AMENDED

The Jury voted to amend the noxious weed ordinance deleting McCain subdivision and adding the Willow Acres, Willow Pines and Prairie Acres subdivisions which make up the McCain area.

Malcolm Savoie, Police Juror, asked the Jury to contact the DOTD to construct the Creole Bridge on Hwy. 27/82 of a different design to control the erosion it is causing to private property along the Creole Canal. The bridge is located just west of the red light. The Jury wants the state to construct a span type bridge instead of on pilings which is causing the erosion problem.

A variance request from Marie Dunn to move a trailer to the Cameron area, next to her daughter, as she is unable to climb stairs due to health conditions, was approved.

A six month probationary right-of-way in the Hurd subdivision on Jordon Lane, Hackberry and Ellender Lane in Channel View, was approved.

The Jury changed the polling place in Johnson Bayou from the fire station to the Johnson Bayou Multi-Purpose Building, effective Sept. 1.

OTHER ACTIONS

The Police Jury also:

Rejected a $3,000 bid for the Hackberry Fire Department's old fire truck. The department said it would keep the truck since no one met the $5,000 minimum price.

Lowered the speed limit from 25 mph to 15 mph on Constance Road in Big Lake.

Accepted Jordan Lane in Hackberry as a probationary right-of-way.

Authorized President Brent Nunez to sign an inter-agency agreement giving an old Police Jury truck to the Hackberry Recreation District.

Received resignations of Norman McCall and J. Berton Daigle from the Economic Development Board, and approved the appointment of Burl LaBove.

Naval disaster is remembered

(EDITOR'S NOTE--A television program was shown this week on Channel 18 on the U.S.S. Indianapolis disaster during World War II when more than 800 men lost their lives in what has been called the greatest naval sea disaster in history. E. J. Dronet of Cameron was among the 316 survivors of the ship's sinking. Dronet attended the 50th anniversary of the disaster in Indianapolis, Ind., last year and the accompanying picture shows him in front of the memorial that was dedicated then. The following is a brief account of Dronet's career, which will be included in a book to be published soon on the Indianapolis.)

By E. J. DRONET

Joseph E. J. Dronet, born August 10, 1927, in New Iberia. I joined the U. S. Navy on my 17th birthday, and took boot camp training for 3 months in San Diego.

Boarded the Indy December 12, 1944 and served as gunnery until sinking on July 30, 1945. Was discharged in June, 1946 Baker 3rd Class.

I received the Purple Heart and three battle stars. Participated in the following battles: Asiatic-Pacific raids, Japan Air Strikes, Iwo Jima, and Okinawa, where we were hit by a suicide plane. On the return of delivering the atomic bomb, we were sunk by a Japanese submarine.

Our group consisted of about 124 men. We were in the ocean over 100 hours with life jackets only and a cork net which held the group together. When we were picked up, we were down to 26 men. I thank God for being one of the lucky survivors and for the miracle of our (Angel) Chuck Gwinn for sighting us, also Lt. Adrien Marks and all the other rescue units. I often wonder what tale would have been told about the disappearance of the Indy had Chuck not spotted us.

I retired as president of Cameron State Bank in 1985 due to a stroke which left me with very limited speech.

My wife, Hazel and I live in Cameron, and will celebrate our 50th wedding anniversary on Aug. 24, 1996. We have two children, a son, Terry Patrick (deceased), and a daughter, Mary Pamme; and one grandson, Terry Joseph.

Concern is told about deep well

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Sweet Lake community members are concerned about a proposal to locate an injection deep well in their area, according to Brent Nunez, police juror.

The proposed site will be located in Cameron Parish, Section 10, Township 12 South, Range 8 West, approximately 9 miles south of Lake Charles, in the Sweet Lake community.

The property is now owned by the Odell Vincent Estate, across from the old Big Diamond waste pit north of Black Diamond.

The old site faces a liability of $8 million to clean it up, but nothing has been done to date, Nunez said.

Paul Bannister of Bellaire, Tex., proposes to buy the property from the Vincent Estate on which to locate the facility.

Louisiana Environmental Resources, c/o Aucoin and Associates, Inc., P.O. Box 968, Eunice, has filed a notice of intent to file an application for the approval of a commercial facility from the Department of Natural Resources, requesting approval from the injection and Mining Division to operate a commercial nonhazardous oilfield waste treatment facility.

The applicant intends to treat waste generated from the drilling and production of oil and gas wells by means of the following: bioremediate waste in contained surface treatment cells; deep well injection of waste; and soil aeration methods, such as tilling, plowing and disking.

Nunez said that meetings are planned to oppose the project in the community.

Hackberry highway work set

A $1,011,449 contract recently award by the La. Dept. of Transportation will complete the improvement of Hwy. 27 between Sulphur and Hackberry.

R. E. Heidt Construction Co. of Westlake has been given a contract to overlay and construct shoulders for the highway south 3.4 miles from the Calcasieu Parish Line to just past the Kelso draw bridge at Hackberry.

Earlier a section of the highway was overlaid south of Sulphur and recently the section between this overlay and the parish line was awarded to Heidt.

The work will include the adding of paved shoulders to the highway which will improve the safety.

Festival cancelled

The seventh annual Cajun Riviera Festival, which had been scheduled for this weekend, has been cancelled.

Gerald Touchet, one of the officers of the festival, said the event was cancelled this year for a number of reasons, including a problem in securing a carnival this year.

The festival was organized in 1990 and has drawn large crowds each year to hear outstanding bands and to sample the the cajun food.

Football tickets

South Cameron High football reserved seats, season tickets and reserved parking are now on sale. Contact Stephanie Rogers at 542-4110 for further information.

Festival meet

Election of officers of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival will be held Tues., Aug. 13, at 6:30 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Extension Service Office, at a meeting of the board of directors.

THE ABOVE MAP shows the proposed route for a new road that may be built from just east of Cameron to connect with the Big Pasture road near Grand Lake. The police jury is seeking comments on the plan.

Jurors propose a new highway

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Police Jury is seeking the views of the public on their long-range proposal for a road north of Cameron to Grand Lake.

Views from federal, state and local agencies, organizations, and individuals are solicited.

"The special expertise of these groups can assist the Cameron Police Jury with the early identification of possible adverse economic, social and environmental effects or concerns", said Police Jury President Brent Nunez.

To date limited data concerning the proposed project exists, however, a map showing the proposed approximately 9 miles long road is shown here.

The road will be constructed from Highway 27/82, east of Cameron on the West Creole Highway, Section 31, Township 14 South, Range 8 West, to State Highway 1144 (Big pasture Road), Section 4, Township 13 South, Range 8 West.

It is anticipated that this roadway will be elevated so that a minimum disturbance of the wetlands occurs.

It appears that a 100 foot right-of-way will be needed to construct and maintain the road.

Mud Lake project dedicated Tuesday

The Mud Lake Hydrologic Restoration Project, the newest completed Coastal Wetlands Planning, Protection, and Restoration Act project, was dedicated Tuesday in Cameron Parish along the shoreline of the Gulf of Mexico.

"The Mud lake project was completed in two phases," said Don Gohmert, state conservationist with the USDA Natural Resource Conservation Service, the federal agency which had the leadership role in project construction.

"The first phase was hydrologic restoration which will allow water management within the area to maintain more natural levels and allow fishery access. The second phase of the project involved planting of shoreline and interior marsh with smooth cordgrass, an exceptionally versatile and aggressive native plant that adapts well to changes in water depths and salinities within dynamic marsh ecosystems."

Twenty-one culverts, with attachments for water control, three earthen plugs, two variable crest weirs, 3,000 feet of low overflow dikes and over 40,000 feet of boundary levee were rehabilitated as part of the hydrologic restoration phase of the Mud Lake Restoration Project.

Through the years, the Calcasieu Ship Channel, La. Hwy. 27, and West Cove Canal had all contributed to the changes in water levels and salinity in the project area. Mud lake, about 2,300 acres in size, is the largest water body in the 8,000 acre project area and is an important nursery for marine organisms.

"With the installation of the planned structural and vegetative measures and the implementation of a water management plan, the on-going trend of wetland loss will be virtually reversed," said John Woodard, surface manager with Fina Oil and Chemical Company, the major landowner in the area. "In years past, the Mud Lake area experienced high water and salinity levels, and unnatural water level and salinity fluctuations. This had resulted in conversion of highly productive emergent marsh to open water at a rate of 76 acres per year."

The Mud Lake Hydrologic Restoration Project is the 15th project to be completed under The Coastal Wetland Planning, Protection, and Restoration Act, or Public Law 101-46. The Act is commonly referred to as the Breaux-Johnson Bill which was passed by Congress in 1990 and provides for the use of targeted federal funds for planning and implementing projects that create, protect, restore, and enhance vegetated wetlands in coastal Louisiana.

The Act directed that a task force consisting of representatives of five federal agencies and the State of Louisiana develop a "comprehensive approach to restore and prevent the loss of coastal wetlands of Louisiana."

Public Law 646 Task Force members include representatives from the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service, Department of Commerce -- National Marine Fisheries Service, Environmental Protection Agency, Department of Interior -- U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, and the State of Louisiana.

"The Mud Lake Project is a new beginning for the wetlands west of the Calcasieu Ship Channel," explained Gohmert. "The westland ecosystems in the 8,000-acre project area will be restored, protected and enhanced. Water conditions will be improved, which in turn will encourage the establishment and growth of submerged aquatic vegetation needed to provide food and cover for fish and wildlife."

Crain Brothers Construction Company, Inc., was the contractor for the project.

F. J. PAVELL KC Council 8323 named Gerald Touchet, left, as Knight of the Month for June and Derald, Wanda and Amber Jinks as Family of the Month for June.

DO YOU REMEMBER

By Keith Hambrick

THE MERMENTAU DAM

Some parties are getting on the Mermentau Dam question again. It would seem after the history of the former one that it would be advisable to let that alone. The better solution is for each rice farmer to have a deep well. There is money enough in the crop to pay such a proposition and the superior service pays for the additional expense

Hundreds of tons of valuable young fish are destroyed annually by the pumping plants. Navigation intereferred with quite a bit from the lowering of the streams. Salt water would not come up if the streams were not pumped dry to irrigate and our cattle farmers are put to just as serious trouble by the lowering of the water supply. But we have not heard anyone taking up the cudgels in his behalf; and above all, the superior quality fo rice produced from well irrigation offsets everything and the fields are kept clean of weeds.

All these reasons should count. Our cattle are as important a proposition as rice and just as deserving of proteciton and the streams should not be emptied of their natural supply when there is so easy and profitable a remedy.--Cameron Courier.

NUTRIA RECIPE BOOK PUBLISHED

(By Hadley Fontenot)

"One of the finest and one of the tenderest of wild meats" is the rating given nutria in a new bulletin published by LSU in cooperation with the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

Many tasty recipes are described in the booklet, including nutria gumbo, chicken-fried nutria and roast nutria. The gathering and assimilation fo the information for the bulletin was done by Leslie Glasgow and Lavon McCallough of the LSU forestly department.

It is pointed out in the bulletin that the nutria is one of the cleanest animals in its eating habits, consuming nothing but vegetation. It is one of the few wild animals without musk glands and therefore does not have the "gamey" flavor found in squirrels and rabbits.

FORMER AGENT PAYS VISIT TO PARISH

(By Hadley Fontenot)

Charles J. Tassin, who was County Agent in Cameron Praish in the early 30's, visited the parish a few days ago. As can be expected he was impressed with the changes that have come about since this is his first visit in about 30 years.

The nice homes, good roads, improved pastures, new business places, airplanes, helicopters, fine school and church buildings all were a revelation to him. But the one thing that impressed him the most were the well kept yards and home surroundings.

"This", Charlies says, "means so much in that it shows pride in home and community. Nice home surroundings generally means a good home life."

A fine compliment from our old friend Charlie Tassin.

FESTIVAL GETS GRANT

A grant of $2,000 was made to the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival by the Cameron Police Jury Monday. The money will be used to put on the 1964 festival sometime next spring.

A delegation composed of Mrs. Harold Carter, Mrs. Roy Hebert, Mrs. Walter Stanley, Mrs. Emma Nunez, Mrs. Charles Precht, Ernest Hamilton and Hadley Fontenot, was present to seek the funds but the jury voted unanimously to make the grant even before the group could make an official request.

HOSPITAL NEWS

A blood bank is being set up at the South Cameron Memorial Hospital and donors are being sought, according to Kenneth Hopper, administrator.

Mr. Hopper reports that the hospital has had 173 admissions through last week, since it opened about a month ago.

TAX ELECTION FOR HEALTH UNIT

A one-mill tax, which would provide funds for the operation of the Cameron Parish Health AUnit, will be voted on by parish property woners on Sat., Sept. 14.

The health unit, built in 1955, has been operated with state appropriations from the Rockefeller Refuge oil royalties since that time. However, because of the state's financial situation, these funds no longer are available.

ROUNDABOUT THE PARISH

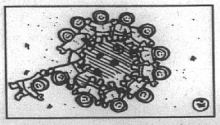
Klondike--A $90,721.11 contract for the blacktopping of 3.4 miles of road at Klondike was awarded to Rasberry & Clarke Inc. of Iota by the Cameron Parish Police Jury Monday.



Hackberry--Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Richardson spent a few days in Natchitoches last week visiting their daughter Mr. and Mrs. Steve (Bonnie) Murphy.

Grand Chenier--Employees at the Grand Chenier Post Office were really busy last week, when two sets of new fall catalogs came in. Two sets had come in the week before.

Holly Beach--Drag seining was the most successful method obtaining seafood for the weekend at Holly Beach. Speckled trout were running abundantly and each drag netted thirty to forty trout all weighing over 3 pounds. Several soft shell turtles were caught. This was regarded as a gourmet food by some of those who caught them.

Grand Lake-Sweetlake--It's that time of the year, again, when the hard work of planting and "watching over" the ricelands are beginning to pay off. The fields are buzzing with combines while the highways are filling up with tarp-covered, rice-ladden trucks headed for the rice dryers. Rice harvesting is just beginning. In this area, Buck Taylor was the first to harvest rice, closely followed by the Robinson brothers. Duval Breaux has been doing his share of taking in the headed rice while Sidney Fruge began Monday and Mervin Taylor started Tuesday to haul in the golden grain.

Creole--Joseph Lee conner of Creole was elected commander of Richard Brothers American Legion Post Thursday night. Conner is a World War II army veteran who served 32 months on active duty including 18 months in the European Theater of Operations with the 554th. Anti-air craft attached to the 9th Army.

A total of 12 men have walked on the moon during six expeditions from 1969-1972.

ON JULY 2, the final documents for the Cameron Place apartments were signed in New Orleans. Seated is Mrs. V. Jean Butler, secretary of the Dept. of Housing finance Agency along with Cameron Community Action Agency Director, Dinah Landry. Also attending from Cameron were Police Jurors Malcolm Savoie and Allen Brent Nunez along with the CAA attorney, Jay Delafield.

Calcasieu Marine and Hibernia.
It's another great event about to take place.

Chris and Kathy Taylor and their banker Matt Martin

"It's expensive having a baby. So we saw our banker Matt Martin, and he had great ideas in case we need extra money. We think that kind of personalized attention will continue with Hibernia. Plus, we'll get more services and more locations to bank. It's the best of both worlds."

For more than 125 years, Hibernia has helped keep the future bright for families throughout Louisiana. And when our proposed merger of Calcasieu Marine National Bank and Hibernia National Bank is complete, we'll keep the interests of Southwest Louisiana at heart. Local decisions stay local. And many of the same people you've trusted for years will continue to serve.

Club hears candidate

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

David Eakin, president of the Cameron Parish Lions Club, reported to the club last week that it has received a certificate of appreciation from the Cameron Parish Tourist Commission for its recent road clean-up.

Ed Kelley, chairman of the beach clean-up, reported that the Tourist Commission has purchased 5,000 litter bags to pass out to citizens.

Eakin introduced Mike Francis, a candidate for state senate in the special election to be held Aug. 24, to fill the seat vacated by former Sen. Cecil Picard.

A GOLDEN JUBILEE

Fifty years ago in the summer of 1946, I began my career as a lawyer by entering Louisiana State University Law School.

Because I liked this sportsman paradise, it was easy to return and open a law office in Cameron Parish where the hunting and fishing has been great .... but the best is the wonderful people!!

Your kindness in favoring me and my family with your legal business has been for us a mountaintop experience. Thank you so much!!

We look forward to the next 50 years.

Sincerely,

JENNINGS B. JONES, JR.

By Wanita Harrison

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harrison visited Dr. Gregory Harrison in Murphysboro, Ill., recently.

Friday the Harrisons visited Mrs. Jean Landgraf in Fredricktown, Mo. She accompanied them on a tour of Elephant Rocks State Park in Graniteville, Mo. One of the most curious geological formations in Missouri is found here. During the Precambrian era, the formation of this extraordinary herd began, when molten rock called magma, was pushed to the surface from below more than a billion years ago. For millions of years the magma cooled slowly, forming the solid granite. As it cooled, nearly vertical cracks called "joints" developed. These joints were accentuated during the upward thrust or pressure that formed the Ozark Mountains.

The present shape of the boulders is a result of natural weathering of granite blocks in which corners were rounded off. The weathering process is also aided by trees and shrubs growing in the cracks and joints. The rock surfaces are worn away as roots and stems grow to enlarge the existing fractures.

More stone elephants are in the making between the cracks and joints of the granite hillside park as rocks decompose and time goes by.

Saturday morning the Harrisons hiked two miles thr-ough Giant City Park in Mak-anda, Ill. The park features 3,694 acres of specatcular beauty. Wood, sandstone formations and an abundance of fascinating plants and wildlife make Giant city an experience few visitors forget.

The Harrisons toured the KDBX 91.1 FM radio station in Carbondale. Dr. Harrison is host of the "Sunday Rounds" from 3-4 p.m. each week. The talk show consists of useful news about health, fitness, nutrition and mental well-being.

On their return home, the Harrisons visited Marlon, Renza, Rian and Michael Harrison in Baton Rouge, Monday evening. They attended a baseball tournament between the Dodgers and Scorpions. Rian's team, the Dodgers, won 5-3.

VISITORS

Growers are being hurt by imports

Kevin A. Savoie, Associate Area Agent (Fisheries) for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes, has announced that the Louisiana crawfish industry has been seriously affected by the importation of frozen tail meat from China.

The increase of imports has grown nearly 800% since 1992 to 2.8 million pounds in 1995.

Local crawfish buyers and processors have seen their out of state markets vanish while the in state market is rapidly disappearing.

A number of crawfish producers, processors and others interested in restoring the industry have formed the Louisiana Crawfish Coalition (LCC).

HUNTING TALK

It may seem a little early for hunting talk, but it's coming sooner than we think.

The 25th anniversary annual observance of National Hunting and Fishing Day is scheduled for Sat., Sept. 28, this year.

We'll see alligator season open Sept. 7, as well as the first day of dove season and then teal season will open Sept. 21, as well as rails and gallinules.

It seems promising for us to have a good duck season, in fact it should be as good or better than last year. Reports are that blue-winged teal and shovelers are at an all time high and green-winged teal have also increased in population from 1995.

Almost all other ducks are about the same, pintails seems to be in trouble as there were 10 million in 1956, 4 to 7 million in 1970 and down to 1.8 million in 1991. Last year there was an improvement, up to 2.8 million birds.

The population of mallards has also declined from last year, 8.3 million in 1995 down to 7.9 million in 1996.

There are rumors that we could get 50 to 60 days of regular duck season and 5 to 6 ducks. I still say the more days is good, but 4 to 5 ducks is plenty.

I'll say one thing, we're beginning to get enough rain and water is finally showing in our marshes. There's plenty of wild rice in many areas and there should be a good crop of coffee beans.

FISHING NEWS

A planned fall/winter drawdown of Chicot Lake in Evangeline Parish is in the making. It's a drawdown planned to try to get rid of hydrilla that was discovered in the lake this year. It's the same pest plant that had almost taken over Caney lake where they introduced the carp and now these carp have taken over. We have quite a few of our locals who fish Chicot Lake, so keep in touch on the water levels this fall.

The Gulf Coast Conservation Association's annual speckle trout shootout had a 6 pound spec worth $2,000 in the adult division and in the youth division, a 4 pounder was worth a $1,500 U.S. Savings Bond.

Something to remember is bag limits on fish is not the same as waterfowl. State saltwater regulations provided that the possession limit on redfish, black drum and speckle trout is the same as the daily limits. In federal saltwater, if you're on a charter or head boat, you can have a possession limit of twice the daily limit. Remember, you have to be out offshore more than one day. The same as giving your buddy your fish. You can do it for game birds, but not fish. Only one limit per person.

BASS CLUB

Many of us know there are old bass clubs, especially in the 50's and better in the late 60's and mid-70's. An example is the Cameron Parish Lemesche Bass Club. It was formed din 1974 in Creole, however, in 1938 in Seattle, Wash., the Western Bass Club was formed.

This is thought to be the oldest bass club. Dues were $1 per year to cover postcard postage. They also had a big glass tank with bass swimming in it at a local store.

Outboard with 3 to 6 HP was great, as many only had oars for their boats. Casting rods were steel or bamboo, with basic level reels and nylon line. Spoons and top water baits were popular along with twin spinner baits. They also used pork rind strips and chunks. Boats were of wood.

I guess you could say "we've come a long way Baby."

FACTS

A skunk never sprays into the wind and even a deaf rooster crows. Did you realize a pigeon's feathers weigh more than its bones, and yes-no, anyhow wild animals don't snore.

TOURNAMENT

The Lemesche Bass Club Tournament is Aug. 10.

Parish school med. regulations are told

Cameron Parish parents of students who require medication during school hours are advised to obtain their child's medication orders and their medication and bring them to school on the dates designated for each school. This helps to avoid waiting and confusion on the first day of school.

Specific appointments have not been assigned. To avoid waiting needlessly, parents are advised to use the following schedule:

Students whose last name begins with any letter from A-L should come in during the first half of the time set aside for their school. Those whose names begin with any letter from M-Z should come in during the latter half of the scheduled time.

For example, a student at Cameron Elementary whose name begins with the letter D should come to school with his medication and orders between 10 and 11 a.m. on Aug. 7.

Nell Colligan, R. N., Cameron Parish School Nurse, will be at the schools to review the medication orders on the following dates:

Cameron Elementary, Wed., Aug. 7, 10 a.m. to noon.

South Cameron Elementary, Thurs., Aug. 8, 8 a.m. to noon

South Cameron High, Thurs., Aug. 8, 11 a.m.-noon.

Grand Chenier Elementary, Thurs., Aug. 8, 1:30-2:30 p.m.

Grand Lake High, Wed., Aug. 14, 1-3 p.m.

Johnson Bayou High, Thurs., Aug. 15, 10 a.m.-noon.

LONGEST BOARD MEETING EVER?

School board holds 9 1/2 hour marathon meeting

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

What is believed to be the longest Cameron School Board meeting ever was the 9-1/2 hour session held last Wednesday. It started at 3 p.m. with the financial meeting, followed by the board meeting that lasted until 12:30 a.m. Thursday morning, after the board had a closed session to try to resolve a "due process" brought by Wayne Kershaw, assistant principal, against Clarence Vidrine, Cameron Elementary school principal, and the school board.

Kershaw requested that the session be open and suddenly the board meeting room became a court, even though Bill Morris, board president reminded board members that they were not judge and jury.

However, several times Paul Veazy Jr., Kershaw's attorney, forgot and addressed Morris as "Your Honor."

Cecil Sanner, Cameron Parish assistant district attorney, represented Vidrine and the school board.

At issue was an incident at the Cameron Elementary School on Sept. 26, 1995, when Vidrine wrote Kershaw up for "spending an incredible amount of time on routine matters." This was put in Kershaw's record folder at the school board office, along with a write-up of what happened. All teachers and administrators are subject to observations and evaluations as part of their job.

Vidrine said Kershaw was unsatisfactory in the way he registered new students.

Vidrine said a woman came to the school at 1:10 p.m. to register her three children and was shown into Kershaw's office to fill out the necessary forms.

At 2:20 p.m. he said he stuck his head in the door to make sure Kershaw would be in the office by 3 p.m., so he could leave for an appointment, and no one was there.

Vidrine checked again in Kershaw's office at 2:55 p.m. and again he wasn't there, so he became angry because he had to call another employee to watch the office so he could leave.

There was a discrepancy about whether there was a sub-

Oilfield wa... plans are opposed

About 80 persons, including a number of public officials, attended a meeting held Tuesday night at the Grand Lake Multi-Purpose Building to discuss a proposal by a company to operate an oilfield waste disposal and treatment facility at the old Big Diamond waste facility in Grand Lake.

Among the officials in attendance were District Attorney Glenn Alexander, Rep. Dan Flavin, former Rep. Randy Roach, and Police Juror Brent Nunez. Also attending were Will Fontenot of the Attorney General's office; Wilma Subra, representing the environmental group, LEAN, and local attorney J. B. Jones.

Many of the officials expressed their opposition to the plan as did several local citizens.

After nearly two hours of debate and questions, Mike Savoy brought the discussion to an end and thanked Mr. Bannister for coming and sharing his plans with the community.

Afterwards the Concerned Citizens Committee put several committees into place to begin working on trying to block the facility from locating in Grand Lake. Mike and Carol Savoy will chair the communications committee, Wendell Greathouse will chair the technical information and research committee, Janice Crador will chair the committee for presentations for public hearings. Mr. Greathouse made a motion to hire Wilma Subra to gather technical information and do research into the type of facility proposed. She owns Subra's Analytical lab in New Iberia.

The Concerned Citizens Committee made plans to phone and write more citizens to make them aware of the proposed facility.

Layoffs told at local hospital

About a dozen of the 185 employees of the South Cameron Memorial Hospital were laid off last week, according to Joe Soileau, hospital CEO. A number of other employees had their hours cut.

He said the acute care section of the hospital is averaging three patients daily from a previous 10 to 12 patients.

The geriatric section of the hospital is averaging 13 to 14 patients a day and there are 24 swing bed patients.

In addition to the low patient census, the hospital still is owed $850,000 by the state for medicare and medicade services and Soileau isn't sure the hospital will ever receive these funds.

"We are in a tough market now," Soileau said, noting that many companies are going into management care agreements which can adversely affect local hospitals.

Dr. Richard Sanders, a member of the hospital's board, said that Medicade has made cuts of 35 percent that has hurt all hospitals. He said that the board was making the staff cuts at this time to make sure that the hospital does not lose money.

The hospital had hoped to open a nursing home wing and a new addition was built several years ago. However, the state permits have never come through for this since an Arkansas firm still holds a nursing home permit for the Grand Lake area.

$100,000 grant given to parish

Rep. Dan Flavin has announced that the Governor's Office of Rural Development has awarded the Cameron Parish Police Jury a $100,000 grant to dredge a portion of the Calcasieu River East Fork.

The application for this grant was made in May 1996 after an oil rig refurbishment company located on East Fork ran into problems with an Iranian rig getting lodged in the mud for over a ten day period. It was a major concern that oil companies located in the area would move out due to the condition of Calcasieu River East Fork and that companies considering a move to this area would go elsewhere.

Rep. Flavin stated, "This dredging operation will take approximately three days to complete -- a small amount of time considering the economic impact of this project. By having this dredging done now we are presenting a positive image to companies looking to locate in Cameron Parish and the surrounding area. We feel that we are in a position now to accommodate the needs of our current businesses as well as recruit new oil and gas industry to this area."

Young Cajun player makes good music

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

"A new star is on the horizon", and he's one of our own, 10 year old Kaleb Trahan, who lives at Little Chenier. He was given his title in a newspaper article when he performed at the Cajun French Music Festival in Iowa last month.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Trahan and a fifth grade student at South Cameron Elementary School. He keeps busy playing his accordion at fairs, festivals, social events and anywhere he is asked to play.

He has just been named "Cajun of the Month" by the Cajun French Music Association which presented him with a trophy and a citation which says that "he serves as an inspiration in his dedication to promote and preserve our Cajun music and culture."

Kaleb's mother says that he has always been fascinated with the accordion and spent hours listening to accordion players every chance that he could.

He purchased his first accordion from Cedric Hebert of Cameron, which is a "C" accordion, and has now special ordered a "D" accordion, which is being made for him by Clarence Martin in Lafayette. It's a 9 button red with white bellows and a crawfish with pearl buttons.

He has been taking lessons from Chris Mill, a teacher at Barbe High school, for the past ten months.

He was referred to this teacher by Shawn Vidrine of Westlake, three years ago when Vidrine performed at the Alligator Festival on Grand Chenier.

His accordion teacher said he has a very good ear for music, which helps greatly, due to the fact that there is no sheet music for the accordion.

Kaleb doesn't let this stop him from learning all the Cajun french songs that he can, and has even composed his own song, "Kaleb's Two Step."

His favorite radio program is KROF-960 in Abbeville which he listens to every morning for their French music show.

He has played with many of the Cajun bands in our area, including Steve Riley, Wayne Toups, Richard LeBoeuf, Ira LeJeune, Lesa Cormier and the Sundown Playboys, Chris Miller, Jackie Collier, Tommy Guidry, etc.

He has appeared on Channel 10 TV on the Pas-Pa-Tou show and participated in Cajun music festivals in Texas and Eunice.

In January he placed first in the talent show of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, the night he also relinquished his title of "Little Mr. Cameron Parish". He also won first in the Newcomer Festival in Vermilionville, Lafayette, and picked up the second place award in the Cajun Music Festival amateur accordion contest at Burton Coliseum in Lake Charles.

He entertained with his accordion at the Cameron Parish Library to help kick off the Summer Reading Program. He played at the Iowa Mall with Lesa Cormier and the Sundown Play-boys to promote the Cajun Music Festival.

Hospital featured in area magazine

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The telemedicine department of South Cameron Memorial Hospital was featured in the Acadiana Healthsmart magazine, which sends throughout the area.

Patients in Cameron Parish and other selected rural parishes are in the vanguard of this new style medical treatment.

Via sophisticated television cameras and equipment rural patients now have instantaneous access to medical specialists in Lake Charles and New Orleans through a two-way interactive television system.

Telemedicine provides medical consultations, imaging and telecontinuing education program.

Joseph L. Soileau, the hospital's chief executive officer, Dr. Paul keller, former director of the Governor's Office of Rural Development and Louisiana Health Care Authority, took the first steps into the realm of telemedicine by securing funds to implement the Louisiana Telemedicine Research project in January 1994.

Within months South Cameron secured its own federal funds to launch the Louisiana Rural Health Outreach Grant in September, 1994 from the Office of Rural Health Policy under the U. S. Department of Health and Human Services Administration.

Cathy Denison-Wicke, PhD, who serves as administrative director, recounts how the project is anchored with University Hospital - LSU Medical Center in New Orleans and W. O. Moss Regional Medical Center in Lake Charles.

The three-year funding provided approximately $272,000 for the first year; $298,000 for the second year; and $245,000 for the third year, which begins in September.

The Telemedicine grant consortium included South Cameron Memorial, W. O. Moss Regional, University Hospital, DeQuincy Memorial, Acadia - St. Landry Hospital, Louisiana Health Care Authority, which supervises the state's charity hospital system, and the Southwest Louisiana Development Center in Iota.

The first patient to use the two-way interactive television hookup was a 4-year-old Cameron Parish boy who was suffering from the swollen right side of his face.

Oil spill cleaned up at Johnson Bayou

The U. S. Coast Guard responded to a spill of about 1200 gallons of crude oil in Cameron Meadows Fields at Johnson Bayou last Friday.

The spill occurred when a 4" crude oil pipeline, owned by Samedan Oil Corporation, fracture, releasing an estimated 30 bbls of oil into Johnson Bayou and the surrounding marsh.

Samedan Oil Corporation hired Tricon Environmental of Lake Charles to clean up the spill.

However, due to the nature of the area and the potential danger that would be caused by further mechanical cleanup, Samedan Oil Corporation requested and received approval from federal and state environmental resource trustees to conduct an "in site" burn of the remaining product. The burn lasted about one hour.

New program told for four-year-olds

A program designed to serve the needs of high risk four-year-old children is planned for Cameron Elementary School. The child must be four before Oct. 1, 1996 to be eligible. This program is funded through the Louisiana Quality Education Support Fund - 8(g).

Children who live outside of the Cameron Elementary attendance zone may attend the program if other eligibility criteria are met. However, these parents must provide transportation to and from school.

Parents may call Delia DeBarge at Cameron Elementary School, 775-5518, after Aug. 19, 1996, to schedule a testing time for their child.

B & B honors memories of the Alvin Dysons

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

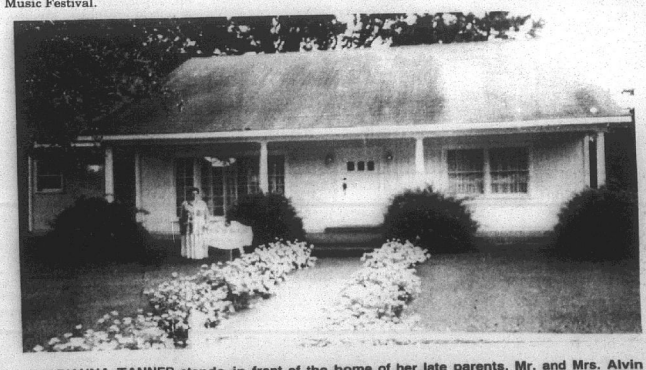
Alvin Dyson

Marianna Tanner has opened Cameron Parish's first Bed and Breakfast establishment.

"B & Bs" are found all over the world and cater primarily to tourists and out-of-town visitors. Usually a housewife offers one or two unused bedrooms for rent in her home and offers breakfast the next morning to her guests.

Mrs. Tanner's B & B has been named "The Dyson house", in memory of her late parents, Alvin and Allie Dyson, who lived there. It is located on a quiet, oak-lined street several blocks off of Cameron's main street.

B & B guests relax in a homey atmosphere and can sit and rock on the front porch watching the birds and butterflies in the garden. The area offers such attractions as bird watching, beachcombing, crabbing and fishing.



Cameron Parish is the noted birding area during spring and fall migration and people from all over the United States come to see the birds at the Seeley-Holliman Bird sanctuary at Johnson Bayou.

Visitors can also watch the shrimp boats on the Calcasieu River and the cowboys rounding up their cattle on the prairies.

History buffs can visit the site of the Battle of Calcasieu pass during the Civil War. Soldiers of both sides of the war are buried there.

Another attraction is the old Cameron courthouse built in 1937 during the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt (who

HURRICANE AUDREY

Survivor finds man in yellow raincoat

By Wesley Stonicher
Rayne Independent

A yellow raincoat is as ordinary as the sunshine, but to a young girl caught in raging water and surrounded by snakes, it is a glorious sight.

If you live in the South you are no stranger to thunderstorms and even hurricanes, but few have witnessed the destructive force of the storm as closely as Lou Thibodeaux.

On June 27, 1957 Hurricane Audrey struck Louisiana a terrible blow. Lou was only 16 years old. She and her parents, Hubert and Lea Dugas Theriot, were at their home, about 4 miles east of Creole, when the first tidal wave of the flood hit their house.

Moving to the attic provided little protection as the raging water's current broke the entire house apart. Lou's mother fell victim to the current and drowned soon after the house splintered and her father soon followed.

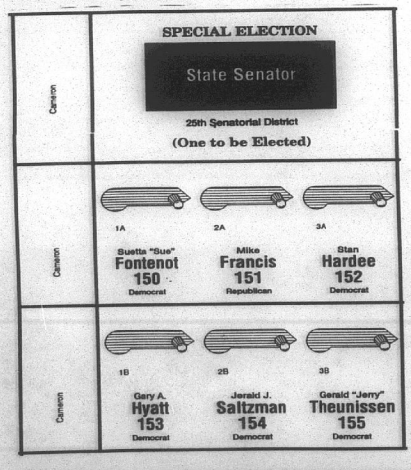
Lou was left all alone, a young girl clinging to a length of 2x4 board from the attic, in the midst of a river of flood water that did not belong there. For seven or eight hours Lou watched as the river seemingly became endless water.

Feeling that she was the only survivor, she finally drifted to the Intracoastal Canal levee. She could hardly believe her eyes, there on the levee was a house that, like hers, had drifted to the levee. What's more, she could see people alive in the house.

Not only was there a house, there was also a boat. The people were being rescued!

Next, Lou began to make her way toward the boat, hoping that they would see her in the water before they left, when suddenly she realized she was surrounded by numerous snakes. Being terrified of snakes, especially these snakes, fierce and disoriented because of the flood, she froze in terror and prayed that someone on the boat would see her. Her prayers were answered and as the boat neared, Lou thanked God that she would finally be taken out of the muddy water. As the boats occupants tried to help her aboard, a drifting cow gone mad, knocked her back allowing the depths to reclaim her.

Frustrated and exhausted Lou made her way to the surface and looked up to see the brightest yellow raincoat she had ever seen. Wearing the raincoat was a man Lou later discovered to be Capt. Percy Primeaux of the tugboat Southern II. After Capt. Primeaux successfully pulled Lou from the water he took off his yellow raincoat and wrapped it around her. Cuddled beneath the raincoat, Lou knew that she was safe at last and that her ordeal was finally over. Capt. Percy gave her food, clothes (hers being wet and tattered from the flood) and a place to rest. She and the other survivors were taken to a barge secured to the Gibstown bridge to be looked after until other arrangements could be made.



That was 39 years ago and Lou Thibodeaux has been searching for the man in the yellow raincoat ever since. By chance she met him again at the funeral of a friend on July 23, 1996 and finally had the opportunity to thank him.

She invited him to her home in Rayne on August 12, 1996 where her family (whom she says wouldn't exist if it were not for Percy) could personally express their appreciation to him.

Lou presented Percy with a plaque and he told them about other amazing and heart wrenching rescues from that June. He said that 185 people had been rescued in those harrowing 3 days!

Lou said that with all the negative things happening in the world today, there are still many good people like this retired tugboat captain, who care about their fellowman.

Lou, her husband Andrus and their family thank God for the man in the yellow raincoat

SHOWN ABOVE is the sample ballot for the special election to be held in the 25th Senatorial District on Aug. 24 to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Senator Cecil Picard to become the State Supt. of Education. This is the ballot for Cameron Parish which is a part of the district.

Six family size with free meals $27,092 and reduced price meals $38,554.

Seven family size with free meals $30,498 and reduced price meals $43,401.

Eight family size with free meals, $33,904 and reduced price meals $48,248.

For each additional family member add plus $3,406 for free meals and plus $4,857 for reduced price meals.

Children from families whose income level is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free or reduced price meals. Application forms are being sent to all homes, along with a letter to households. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households, should fill out an application for each child and return it to the school. If a multi-child application is used, complete one per household. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted at any time during the year. The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility, and information may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials.

For the school officials to determine eligibility, households now receiving Food Stamps or aid to families with dependent children must provide their Food Stamp case number or AFDC number as well as the signature of an adult household member. All other households must provide the following information on the application: names of all household members; the social security number of either the parent/guardian who is the primary wage earner, or the adult household member who signs the application, or a statement that the household member does not possess one; the amount of income (before deductions for taxes, Social Security, etc.) each household member receives, how often the person receives it, and where it is from, such as wages, retirement, or welfare; and the signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct.

Households that list a Food Stamp or AFDC case number must report when the household no longer receives these benefits. Other households approved for benefits based on income information must report increases in household income of over $50 per month or $600 per year and decreases in household size. Also, if a household member become unemployed or if the household size increases, the household should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the household eligible for meal benefits.

Foster children who are the legal responsibility of a welfare agency or court may be eligible for benefits. If a household has foster children, and wishes to apply for such meals for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

School Food Authorities that use direct certification should add the following paragraph with appropriate changes:

Households that receive Food Stamps or AFDC do not have to complete an application. School officials will determine eligibility for free meals based on documentation obtained directly from the Food Stamp/AFDC office which will certify that a child is a member of a household currently receiving Food Stamps or an assistance unit receiving AFDC. School officials will notify households of their eligibility and that the household must notify the school when it no longer receives Food Stamp or AFDC. Households who are notified of their eligibility but do not want their children to receive free meals must contact the school. Food Stamp and AFDC households should complete and application if they are not notified of their eligibility by August 21.

Under the provisions of the free and reduced price policy, Principal will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent or guardian is dissatisfied with the ruling of the official, he may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. If the parent wishes to make a formal appeal,he may make a request either orally or in writing to: Pam LaFleur, P. O. Box W, Cameron, La. 70631; phone 318-775-5784.

The policy contains an outline of the hearing procedures.

Charlie Buckels on
Abolishing the IRS

"I am committed to replacing the federal income tax with a national consumption (sales) tax."

Background

- The founding fathers of America were fearful of an income tax system because it penalized productivity and the individual initiative. That is why an amendment to the constitution was required in order for the federal government to tax income.
- The IRS code has grown from 14 pages in 1913 to over 2,000 pages of law plus an additional 6,000 pages of regulations.
- There are over 5 million words in the IRS code.
- We spend more than 5 billion hours a year complying with the IRS.
- For every dollar in taxes we spend another 50 cents in compliance.

Direction

- Enough is enough!
- Our 80 year experience with the federal income tax has proven that the founding fathers were correct in their objection to an income tax.
- Let's have a user friendly tax system.
- It is time to stop tinkering with our punitive income-based revenue system and replace it with a consumption-based revenue system.

Action

- Repeal the 16th Amendment.
- Abolish the IRS.
- Eliminate all federal income, capital gains, excise and estate taxes.
- Establish a federal consumption tax at the lowest possible rate.
- Require a 3/5's majority vote to raise the rate.

Results

- No more April 15th nightmares.
- The American taxpayer is freed from the fear of and compliance with the IRS.
- No withholding—your take home pay increases.
- Hidden taxes eliminated.
- Savings and investment rewarded.
- Underground economy taxed.
- No loopholes for the rich.
- The American economy increases.
- The American economy rewards well when it works well.

MARSHES LOOKING BETTER

Some of our marshes are looking better, the Big Burn and Lacassine's water level has risen, however, it's still not where it should be.

It will surely be hard on our alligator hunters with the low water. Also, talk is there will be 30 percent less tags for our alligator hunters and I've heard maybe some of the refuges may even be 50 percent. Season is Sept. 7 through Oct. 6.

Lacassine Refuge is still producing good bass. In the month of June, an 11 pound 9 ounce bass was caught on a spoon and chunk.

BASS WINNERS

Three weeks ago Todd Morales and Darren Thibodeaux placed third in the Monday night shoot out with 3 fish weighing 10.64 and two weeks ago the same team came in second with a stringer of 10.16. Also, Danny Demary and Doug Logan came in third with 3 bass going 9.89. These were caught in Lacassine Refuge.

The last three months big bass winners at Rudy's Fisherman Stop were May - Loston McEvers 5.4; June - Darren Richard, 5.2; and July, Todd Morales, 7.8. All of these bass were caught at Lacassine Refuge.

Todd Morales also caught a 7.6 in the Big Burn.

Some of the marsh baits that are now producing bass are red shad worms, pumpkin seed and pumpkin/green worms, spoon and chunk and don't hesitate to throw the bass assassins and slugs.

SALTWATER FISHING

If you're looking for saltwater fishing, the jetties in Cameron, Oyster Bayou, Old Jetties, washout, Nine Mile Cut and Big Lake is producing plenty of speckle trout. Also, nice redfish are being taken. Good baits for redfish are the chrome black back rattletrap, the gold or silver sprite spoon and don't forget live mullets and shrimp. Speckle trout baits avocado and avocado red tail grubs, chartreuse silver flake and purple/white or purple/chartreuse cockahoe are working. Don't be afraid to throw topwater baits or the slimy slugs.

Arnold Jones Jr. and Fred Conner had a hayday fishing catfish in Grand Lake two weekends ago. They did extra good, but I think Nina Jones showed them how it was done; well, anyhow she's a better angler than they are.

Remember, when saltwater fishing do not dehead or filet your catch. It's against the law. Now you can clean fish on your boat and eat them if your camp is on piers in the water, you still cannot clean fish there and bring them to the landing.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

I've listened to fishermen talk and it seems the fall shrimp season should be a good one. The opening date is Mon., Aug. 19, in all three of Louisiana's inshore shrimp management zones. The season was announced by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission at its Aug. 8, meeting. . White shrimp will begin migration to the Gulf when the water temperatures start to fall and that should start next month.

NEWS BRIEFS

Due to an interim rule from the Federal Communications Commission, recreational boaters no longer need an FCC license to operate Marine VHF radios, emergency position-indicating radio beacons or any type of radar in U.S. waters. A final decision is expected this month. For more updated information, call the FCC at 1-800-332-1117.

HUNTING NEWS

This is another warning, if you were born on or after Sept. 1, 1969, you have to have a hunter's education number, which you get by attending a number of classes and you get the card. To be certified you do have to attend all classes.

Instructors Remy Broussard and Glenn Harris with the La. Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries Enforcement Division will hold classes at the Cameron Prairie Refuge Headquarters (Sweet Lake). There will be only 25 to 30 persons per class, and the first to call will be the first accepted. Dates will be Aug. 20, 21 and 22. Call 491-2593 from 6-9:30 p.m.

DUCK TAGGING

I talked with Rockefeller Refuge Biologist Tom Hess and he was on a duck tagging detail in our area marshes. They tagged 2,000 black mallards in Cameron Parish, most of them (1500) on Miami Corporation lands west of Highway 82, between Creole and the Gibbstown Bridge. Also, 50 teal (blue-winged) were tagged.

Last year 3900 black mallards were tagged and 150 teals. They also tagged 500 around the Henderson Swamp and also another 500 in the Pass-a-lout area east of Venice.

Don't forget these dates, dove season opens at noon on Sat., Sept. 7, and teals, rails and gallinules open at 30 minutes before sunrise on Sept. 21.

I don't have the regular hunting season dates, but they should be set as of this writing.

FEEDING PERIODS

Best: Fri., Aug. 16, 1:45 p.m.; Sat., Aug. 17, 2:05 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.; Sun., Aug. 18, 2:55 a.m. and 3:15 p.m.

Good: Fri., 7:30 a.m. and 7:45 p.m.; Sat., 8:15 a.m. and 8:45 p.m.; Sun., 9:05 a.m. and 9:30 p.m.

When a duck dives underwater, it's heart beat slows by about 50%.

Oyster season set in lakes

The Louisiana Public Oyster Seed Grounds and the Bay Junop, Sister Lake, Hackberry Bay and Bay Gardene Oyster Seed Reservations not currently under leaase will open one-half hour before sunrise Sept. 4, 1996. The opening was set by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission at its August meeting.

A designated sacking-only area east of the Mississippi River will also open one-half hour before sunrise on Sept. 4. The sacking-only area is generally Lake Fortuna and Lake Machias to a line from Mozambique Point to point Gardner to Grace point at the Mississippi River Gulf Outlet.

The Calcasieu and Sabine Lake tonging areas will open one-half hour before sunrise Sept. 4, 1996, and remain open until one-half hour after sunset on April 30, 1997.

The secretary of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries is authorized to take emergency action to close areas if oyster mortalities are occurring, or to delay the season or close areas where significant spat catch has occurred with good probability of survival, or where it is found there are excessive amounts of shell in seed oyster loads.

The secretary has authority to reopen any closed areas if the threat to the resource has ended.

Fall shrimp season set

The fall inshore shrimp season will open at official sunrise Monday, Aug. 19, in all three of Louisiana's inshore shrimp management zones. The season was announced by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission at its Aug. 8, meeting.

The Commission also set the closing date for the 1996 fall season as official sunset on Sun., Dec. 15, 1996, except in Breton and Chandeleur Sounds. These areas shall remain open until 12:01 a.m. April 1, 1997.

The Commission authorized Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Secretary James H. Jenkins Jr. to change the closing date of the 1996 fall shrimp season if biological and technical data indicate a need to do so or if enforcement problems develop.

New cotton gin in '28

By Keith Hambrick

HOME FROM COLLEGE

Alcee Broussard, of Laurents, and Mr. Jones of Grand Chenier, were calling on lady friends in Lake Arthur Tuesday evening, on their way home from Baton Rouge where they have been attending the LSU--Lake Arthur Herald.

(Lake Charles American Press, June 22, 1928)
NEW COTTON GIN IN CAMERON

Cameron Parish has a fine cotton crop this year, with about a 5 percent increase in acreage and a new gin at the town of Cameron to help prepare it for marketing, according to statements Sunday by L. R. Henry, merchant of Cameron and vice president of the Calcasieu Gin Col. which has recently erected the new plant in the parish seat of Cameron.

Mr. Henry said that the new gin was two stands, modern design, for operation as soon as the season opens. There is considerable boll weevil emergency in Cameron, he said, and so far, farmers have done little or nothing to combat the pest.

His company, he said, owns the gin in Lake Charles, formerly known as the "Kelly gin" and will operate it also this fall. L. M. Huey is president of the company; E. R. Henry is treasurer; and Henry Goodman, secretary.

Mr. Henry stated that he and business associates in Cameron, who were planning to put in an ice factory in Cameron, gave up their project for this year.

CREOLE CATTLE BEING TESTED

Some 5,000 head of cattle in the Creole area are presently being tested for tuberculosis by federal veternarians after an animal from the area processed at a federally inspected slaughter house was found to have the disease.

County Agent Hadley Fontenot said he had a report from Dr. Willie Trahan, federal veterinarian, that 47 head of cattle had been found so far reacting positively to the TB test at Creole. This means that these cattle could have the disease.

Mr. Fontenot said that the positive test cattle belong to a number of different owners, but all ranged together at Johnson Bayou this past winter. (Creole cttlemen move their herds back and forth between winter ranges on the Bayou and summer ranges at Creole.)

All cattle that wintered at JohnsonBayou, probably around 5,000 head, are to be tested. Mr. Fontenot estimated that some 3,000 head had been tested by the end of last week.

A GOLDEN JUBILEE

Fifty years ago in the summer of 1946, I began my career as a lawyer by entering Louisiana State University Law School.

Because I liked this sportsman paradise, it was easy to return and open a law office in Cameron Parish where the hunting and fishing has been great .... but the best is the wonderful people!!

Your kindness in favoring me and my family with your legal business has been for us a mountaintop experience. Thank you so much!!

We look forward to the next 50 years.

Sincerely,

JENNINGS B. JONES, JR.
