Sheriff explains Jeff Davis incident

Cameron Parish Sheriff James "Sono" Savoie said this week that he took an alcohol breath test last Thursday night in Jeff Davis Parish after he accidentally ran his car into the ditch, but said the test measured .016 which is below the legal level of intoxication.

He said the Jeff Davis Sheriff's Department issued him a ticket for failure to maintain control of a motor vehicle.

Savoie said he was not involved in "a one-car accident" nor did he have an altercation with the Jeff Davis deputy who investigated the incident, as was reported in the Jennings Daily News.

Savoie said that he was on his way to his farm near Jennings when the mishap happened at about 7:19 p.m. at the intersection of Hwys. 101 and 90. He said he heard something hit underneath the car and figuring that he had run over something, tried to turn around.

While turning around in the road, Savoie said his foot slipped off the brake and the car went off into the ditch.

A Jeff Davis deputy responded to a call that a car was in the ditch. The Daily News, which quoted an eye witness, said that Savoie got out of the car and "came" at the deputy responding to the accident. The paper quoted the witness as saying that the deputy struck Savoie in the head with his flashlight.

"No, that's not true; he was real nice to me," Savoie stated referring to the Jeff Davis deputy.

Savoie said that Sheriff Cormier came to the scene and took him by Cormier's camp and then on to Jennings where Savoie was given the alcohol breath test at 9:39 p.m., a little over two hours after the mishap.

Savoie said that the two hour delay in taking the test "didn't mean anything". He said he had seen subjects tested four hours after accidents with readings still high enough to sustain a DWI charge.

Sheriff Savoie said he had one highball earlier in the evening but that he was not intoxicated when he ran into the ditch.

Savoie said he was told by Sheriff Cormier that he needed to take the DWI test, and he agreed to do so. Savoie said he went and stayed at his farm that night and worked all the next day on his farm.

Fur festival to have new format

BY GENEVA GRIFFITH

The board of directors of the annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife festival announces that the 1990 festival will be held January 11-13 in Cameron and this year will honor the oil industry.

The upcoming festival will have a new format, with all of the activities, with the exception of the night programs, to be held at the parish recreation facility behind the Cameron courthouse.

The multipurpose building will house all the arts and crafts, the trap setting and nutria and muskrat skinning contests, oyster shucking, and posters.

The archery contest and food booths will be around the complex, with Friday and Saturday night dances inside.

This year the Lowery Amusement company will furnish the carnival with the proceeds going to the festival. Advance tickets will be sold for the rides at $7 each night to ride everything all night.

Advance ticket sales will also be held for the Queens contests with the prices to be announced at a later date.

Also new this year will be a street dance to be held during the day on Saturday.

Anyone wishing to have a food booth should contact the festival directors.

The festival parade will be rerouted this year with the parade to start on the eastern end of Cameron, near the Methodist church and proceed west ending at the festival grounds.

Festival featured

Hayes "Pete" Picou, Jr., president of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival has just received word that the festival has been selected as one of Southeast Tourism Society's top 20 events for the month of January, 1990.

The society was formed five years ago by the private sector tourism industry for the purpose of promoting tourism to the Southeast U.S.A.

Nine southeastern states are represented, including Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia.

Each year the top 20 events are selected and are advertised in more than 270 different types of publications throughout the country, including AAA publications, newspapers, and travel magazines.

The festival is to receive a plaque from the society whose goals and objectives are to develop, market and promote travel to and within the southeastern states.

Walk-a-thon

A Walk-a-thon for Cystic Fibrosis, a hereditary disease of the lungs, has been set for Saturday, Oct. 28 at the Johnson Bayou High School track field beginning at 9 a.m. Participants will collect donations. Refreshments will be served and prizes awarded. For more information call Cindy McGee at 569-2359.

New fire station is dedicated Sun.

The Grand Lake-Sweet Lake Volunteer Fire Department held a grand opening of its Engine Co. No. 5 station in the Grangerville area on Oct. 22.

After a large crowd gathering, Msgr. James Gaddy gave the invocation and blessing on the building. Capt. Black Granger and Chief Tony Smith made the official ribbon cutting which formally dedicated the building.

Afterward, Assistant District Attorney Glen Alexander addressed the group. Police Juryman Brent Nunez emphasized the importance of a sub-station in this area of the fire district.

Chief Tony Smith stated that the sub-station was important in this area so the residents could benefit from the lower fire insurance rating.

Following the ceremonies, those in attendance enjoyed a meal furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Brent Nunez.

Mary F. January

Mrs. January dies at 101

Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Frances January, 101, were held at 11 a.m. Monday, Oct. 23, in Ebenezer Baptist Church.

The Rev. Samuel C. Tolbert, Jr. officiated. Burial was in Saint Martin de Porres Cemetery.

Mrs. January died at 3:45 Friday at her residence.

A lifelong resident of Cameron Parish, she was a member of Ebenezer Baptist Church for 89 years. She had served as deaconess, finance committee chairman, and assistant mother of the church. She was a charter member of Gulf Coast Chapter 143, Order of Eastern Star.

Survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Lillie Harrison of Grand Chenier, Mrs. Ethel Mae Dozier of Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Emma Frank of Port Arthur, Tex.; two sons, Philip Ray and Ben "Bobby" January of Port Arthur, Tex.; 45 grandchildren, 65 great-grandchildren and 75 great-great-grandchildren.

Gator meeting

The Louisiana Fur and Alligator Advisory Council will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 1 at the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Building in Baton Rouge.

Among the topics to be discussed are a Louisiana Museum Foundation alligator exhibit, status report on marketing, and a discussion of selection of council members for 1990.

Wildlife meeting

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission will meet at 2 p.m., Thursday, Nov. 2 at the Wildlife and Fisheries Building in Baton Rouge.

Among the topics to be discussed are ratification of hunting seasons for migratory birds and waterfowl, the 1989 fall inshore shrimp season and alternative to traditional trapping.

Larger gator hides got best prices

Larger alligator hides brought the highest prices at the three public auctions sponsored by the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service.

Top price was $55 per foot, with the average for hides measuring 7 feet or more ranging from $46 to $47.50 per foot at the public sales held in Raceland, Abbeville and Cameron.

"Demand of the international market, particularly from the manufacturers, affected prices offered at the sale," said fisheries agent Mark Shirley of the Vermilion Parish Extension office. "Their preference for the larger hides affected prices received for the smaller hides."

Prices for the smaller farm-raised skins have been running in the low $30-per-foot range, which affected the dollars the smaller skins from the wild got at the sales. However, auction prices for the smaller skins brought bids in the high $30s to low $40s.

Shirley noted that farm-raised alligators, which take 18 to 20 months to reach 5 feet, begin costing more to feed in relation to additional leather at that stage of growth, making it economically unfeasible to grow an animal to 7 feet or more.

"At around 5 feet, the alligator's growth in length slows down and the animal puts on more weight than leather, making it less profitable to feed," he added.

The Raceland sale, moved from St. Bernard Parish to a location more central to the big land companies, sold 26 lots totaling 1,264 hides for $407,631. Golden Ranch Plantation had the biggest lot of 459 hides, followed by Delta Farms with around 400.

Second in size this year was the Cameron sale, where 51 hunters brought 1,151 hides. Amoco sold the most hides with a lot of 300. That sale totaled $350,000, nearly $25,000 more than at the first sale there last year.

The fifth annual Abbeville sale got bids on 683 hides that sold for $243,223. The sale had the largest hide of the three sites at 13 feet, 2 inches. Average bid for the bigger hides was $46.40 per foot, 88 cents per foot less than in 1988. Market demand meant the hides measuring 7 feet or longer attracted bids in the $50 range.

Last year's sale in Abbeville was actually too big, running from early morning until midnight. A total of 2,275 hides were sold for $777,714. The biggest lot was 455 hides from Lafourche Parish, leading to establishment of the Raceland sale.

Caravan slated

A "Roll Big Tarpons" caravan will leave South Cameron high school at 4:30 p.m. this Friday for Oberlin where the Tarpons will meet Oberlin in an important district football game.

All Tarpon supporters have been urged to join the caravan. It is suggested that they decorate their vehicles and bring a tail gate supper and noise makers. The caravan should arrive at 6 p.m. which will give everyone time to visit and eat before the game.

Flu shots set

The Cameron Parish Health Unit will start giving flu shots on Nov. 2 between the hours of 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Health Unit.

The shots will also be given at the Hackberry Recreation on Nov. 7 from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m.; and at the Grand Lake Recreation Center on Nov. 21 from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m.

A $5 administrative fee will be charged for people above the federal poverty guidelines. No one below the federal poverty guidelines will be charged.

Roach tells of services

The Cameron Parish office of Rep. Randy Roach has announced an additional service which will be provided by his Cameron office "Senior Citizens Day" on the last Tuesday of each month.

Senior citizens are welcomed to call in and set up an appointment for any Medicare assistance. All other types of legislative services will also be conducted on each Tuesday, therefore senior citizens are asked to call for an appointment at the Cameron office on Tuesdays or call any other time, Local 775-5418 or 542-4443 or Toll free, 1-800-737-2474.

Rep. Roach's office is opened every Tuesday from 9 a.m.-2 p.m. located in the James Watts Bldg. located on Main Street.

Commissioner school set

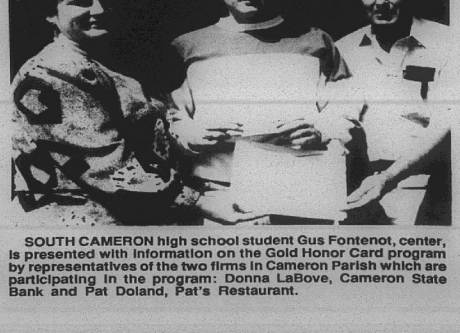
Debbie B. Theriot, Clerk of Court of Cameron Parish, has announced that the Clerk of Court will be receiving applications for Commissioner-in-Charge course of instructions for the Commissioners-in-Charge to be eligible to serve during the 1990 year term.

The course of instruction will be held on Wednesday, Nov. 15 at 6 p.m. in Klondike at the Parish Community Center and on Thursday, Nov. 16, 1989 at 6 p.m. in Cameron at the Voting Machine Building.

All interested should contact the Clerk of Court office either by phone at 775-5316 or by mail, P. O. Box 549, Cameron, LA 70631 to make application to attend.

Parish gets only 71 percent of due funds

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service recently announced that Cameron Parish was due $99,661 as its annual refuge revenue sharing payment, but due to a shortage of funds the parish would only receive 71 percent of this amount.



However, James W. Pulliam, Jr. regional director for the government agency, noted that this was 11 percent more than last year's payment when the government was only able to pay 60 percent of what was owed the parish.

The funds are based on the number of federally owned acres in the parish plus 25 percent of the net receipts collected on these lands for trapping, grazing, etc.

In a letter to congressman Jimmy Hayes, Garner Nunez, parish administrator stated that in view of parish services provided to the federal refuges and their employees it was not fair to the parish to receive only a portion of the money due the parish.

"We therefore feel that federally-owned lands should be assessed and taxed at the same rate as private property in Cameron Parish", he stated.

"We know that this can only be accomplished by changing the law and by this letter we are asking the congressional Delegation to take whatever steps that are necessary to have federal refuges in Cameron Parish assessed and taxed at the same rate as private property. Only in this way can the full tax base of Cameron Parish be able to support the needed services that local government must provide to all."

SOUTH CAMERON high school student Gus Fontenot, center, is presented with information on the Gold Honor Card program by representatives of the two firms in Cameron Parish which are participating in the program: Donna LaBove, Cameron State Bank and Pat Doland, Pat's Restaurant.

TEST AT HACKBERRY FIELD

O. C. Bevins, pioneer oil well driller in the Edgerly Field and field manager of the Hackberry Oil Company, was in the city Monday afternoon and announced another test well would be sunk in the near future on the island by the Cameron Oil Company, a new concern in process of organization and composed principally of Hackberry and Sulphur people, with J. H. Duhon of Hackberry, field manager.

The new company, a trustee affair at present, has bought one of the derricks and the piping of the Hackberry Oil Company, and is moving it about 1,000 feet in a southwest direction from the producing well Mr. Bevins put down two years ago. They have bought a drilling rig in the Vinton-Ged field and will move it at once and begin setting it up. They hope to be drilling by the first week in November.

Hackberry and Sulphur people interested in the new proposition to make another test at Hackberry, and who still believe oil is there somewhere, are: John H. Duhon, Porter Ellender, Simeon Duhon, Arthur Vincent, O. C. Bevins, Lake Charles; M. C. McEleevan, Sulphur, and a number of stockholders in the Hackberry Oil Company.

AID ON NEW HIGHWAY APPRECIATED

A number of Cameron Parish people have been writing to the Association of Commerce thanking Lake Charles citizens for their interest in securing a survey of a road into that parish. This is in reply to a number of letters sent out by the association advising the citizens of Cameron of their action in the matter and the organization is very much pleased to note that the interest is increasing in that section daily and the hope is expressed that in the near future work will begin looking to a road direct to Cameron.

Bird dedication held

A informal dedication of the new addition of land purchased for the Holleyman Bird Sanctuary was held Saturday at the Sanctuary grounds.

Bruce Cridell and Steve Shurtz, officials of the Baton Rouge Audobon Society shared the Master of Ceremonies spot.

They recognized members of the Holleyman family who had made the original donations for the purchase of the land being added to the Sanctuary.

They thanked the Cameron Police Jury for mowing and getting the access roads ready for the dedication.

State Representative Randy Roach gave a short address in which he stressed the importance of bird watching as a tourist asset in Cameron Parish.

Mrs. Marianna Tanner, of Cameron, was recognized for her assistance in setting up the dedication.

Ed and Ruby Kelley represented the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce and were told by Audubon Society members, who have been active in the Cameron beach cleanups that they are ready for the next annual cleanup. Kelley serves as chairman of the beach clean-up.

Refreshments were served by Audubon Society members.

MUCH GAS FOUND
NEAR J. B.

The Johnson's Bayou section of the country is in southwest Louisiana and many citizens of Calcasieu Parish have long believed there is a great oil field there just waiting to be developed. A news item from Orange Saturday morning tells of the discovery of heavy gas pressure in that section of Louisiana, as follows:

"What was declared to be one of the greatest gas showings ever found in the gulf coast territory was reported here yesterday afternoon by a party composed of C. N. Scott, George J. McManus and C.L. Andrews of Houston and Andrew LeMaire of Beaumont, who came here from Johnson's Bayou territory by boat.

"Gas shot up through a hole, that had been put down to a depth of 24 feet with a hand auger, to a height of more than 20 feet in the air. Mud, water and sand thrown up by the gas showered the party.

"The gas was said to be so strong the prospectors were afraid to set fire to it for fear it would burn them up. While gas showings have been found several times in the bayou section by prospectors, it is declared no such showing as this was ever found before.

"Scott and McManus are representatives of the Johnson's Bayou Prospecting Company. Andrews is said to be a representative of the Pure Oil Company"

LAKESIDE LACONICS

One of our fishermen had the misfortune to have his gasoline boat pretty well demolished by an explosion of gasoline. He smelled the fumes and took a lantern to investigate. He was badly burned and also one of his children. Mr. Terragroise is his name, as near as we can learn.

Harry Miller was here on a short visit to his folks Sunday and Monday.

We have had a pretty bad spell of wet weather and quite a lot of rice is damaged by the water.

Quite cool weather now. It has cleared off for a few days and we hope it will stay that way for a while.

About three regular boats are now running in the Mermentau River, down one day and up the next and one once a week; all running from Lake Arthur To Grand Cheniere.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality is proposing to issue a final Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System (LWDPS) permit to The Louisiana Land & Exploration Company, Inc. This permit, if issued, will establish effluent limitations and monitoring requirements for the discharge of certain wastewater streams associated with the company's oil and gas exploration, development and production operations in the South Pecan Lake Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Receiving waters in the South Pecan Lake Field include Natural and manmade waterbodies in south Pecan Lake Field. The limitations and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.

During the preparation of this permit, it has been determined that these discharges will have no adverse impact on the existing uses of the receiving waters. As with any discharge, however, some change in existing water quality may occur.

The designated uses of the receiving waters are being partially supported. Impairment of designated uses is attributed to nutrient over enrichment and to high levels of suspended solids. The suspected source of contamination is agricultural runoff.

The application and proposed limitations may be examined at the Office of Water Resources, 9th Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North Fourth Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Persons wishing to provide data, views or comments, or request a public hearing relative to the issuance of the permit are invited to submit their comments and requests, in writing, within thirty (30) days of the date of this notice using reference No. WP 2985 to:

Department of Environmental Quality, Office of Water Resources, Post Office Box 44091, Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70804-4091, ATTN: Bruce Fielding, Telephone: (504) 342-6363.

All written comments submitted during the period of comment shall be retained by the office and considered in the formulation of a determination to issue a final permit.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By:
DR. KEVIN COX

SHOULDER IMPINGEMENT

Every time you repeat an overhead motion with your arm, whether slamming a tennis ball, swimming competitively or even wielding a sledge hammer, you risk damaging your shoulder a little bit. In time, these microtraumas can result in shoulder impingement.

In the earliest stages, there is swelling and interior bruising of the arm and shoulder. Eventually the damage may extend to tears of the rotator cuff, muscle lesions, and bone alterations.

Your doctor of chiropractic, using the most modern diagnostic methods, spots the effects of shoulder overuse early, so it can be treated before it becomes more painful.

Chiropractic's drug-free care is designed to correct troublesome misalignments or impingements so the body can heal itself.

Sports fishing has been good

By Loston McEvers

FISHING EXTRA GOOD

If you're wanting to get some fabulous redfishing in, this is the time. You can almost take your choice throughout Cameron Parish.

Rockefeller Refuge is hot, at Joseph Harbor, a Gulf outlet, to the canals, almost anywhere in the refuge. At the Grand Chenier jetties, Hog Bayou, the Grand Chenier Mermentau River Bridge, on up to upper Mud Lake. The back western bayou of Creole, the Cameron jetties and Calcasieu Lake are also good. You may also fish Rutherford Beach, Holly Beach, on up to the Sabine.

Don't forget you'll pick up some speckle trout, as it seems some real nice specs as well as redfish are being caught this week.

PADDLEFISH HARVEST CLOSED

Beginning Nov. 1, 1989, the Paddlefish (commonly known as spoonbill catfish) will be closed for a period of three years. This means body parts or eggs are prohibited throughout the state.

There were such a low number of sexually mature paddlefish, the LDWF closed harvest on this species. Only 18 percent of the population are sexually mature and capable of spawning.

BAIT MENHADEN SEASON

A bait menhaden season has been established beginning Oct. 13, and extending through Dec. 1, or until a quota of 3,000 metric tons has been harvested, to help get bait for crawfish, blue crab and catfish fishermen, because of insufficient bait supplies during the winter.

RECREATIONAL LIMITS ON SPANISH, KINGS

Recrational bag limits for Spanish and King Mackerel have been adopted by the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

The "recreational limit", for Spanish Mackerel is 10 fish per person, per trip and the "recreational limit" for King Mackerel is 2 fish per person, per trip for private vessels. For charter vessels, the "recreational limit" for king Mackerel is either 3 fish per person, per trip, excluding captain and crew, or 2 fish per person, per trip, including captain and crew, whichever is greater.

WETLANDS LOSS

According to Virginia Van Sickle, Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries, coastal wetlands loss is a big concern today. She claims we are losing more interior wetlands each year than along the Gulf coast.

According to Van Sickle, since 1934, bottomland hardwoods have been reduced by 37% in Louisiana. This means about 90 square miles of interior wetlands are lost each year. This land is supposed to be perfect for waterfowl habitat and for many other types of birds.

Ninety percent of all the birds in eastern North America use bottomlands at one time or another. This 160 acre tract is just one of some 80 pieces of marginal land which qualify for transfer. In the future, all properties return to the Farmers Home Administration and will be evaluated and considered for conservation use.

I hope we don't fight now to see if we'll save the coast or bottomland hardwoods. Also, I hope we don't get too many acres of land and save the birds, and move out the people. Kind of reminds me of the T.E.D., which will be more endangered in another 10 years, the turtle or the shrimper?

ARE PESTICIDES KILLING US?

A report by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the Canadian Wildlife Services specialists have revealed some shocking information on the effects of agricultural pesticides on ducks and other wildlife.

One survey here in the U. S. shows that some fenced in wetlands in sunflower fields treated with pesticides, shows that out of about 100 or so ducklings released, only four survived within three days after the spraying. On the same amount of fenced in land, crops not treated with pesticides, 52% of 100 survived.

SOMETHING OF INTEREST

We all remember years ago, we used to kill quite a few "Black Ducks" (mallard species), that we used to call the Florida Mallard. In recent years we do not see many of these Black Ducks, if any at all in our area. In fact, according to reports the population is only 40% of what it was 30 years ago.

A study has been going on to find out the reason for such a decline, but something of interest turned up from researchers. A female Black Duck when given a choice will mate with a Mallard Drake, rather than one of its own Black Duck Drakes. When males of both species were put together in an enclosure and allowed to compete for a female's attention, the two species of ducks immediately challenged each other. In some instances, the Mallard Drake came out on top. When a female of either species was let in, she always paired with the Mallard Drake. This is rather interesting.

DOVES

Dove hunting this second split season has really been good and with this cold spell, we should see more doves coming down south.

Many hunters are limiting out on doves, not having too much of a problem.

Tarpons to play at Oberlin this Friday

BY ROBERT MANUEL

Headlines on last week's 7A District games read, "Oberlin spanks Elton 40-6, South Cameron thunders past East Beauregard 34-14, Merryville rallies past Rosepine." That's how the big three of District 7 stack. The next two games, South Cameron at Oberlin this Friday and Merryville at South Cameron next Friday will determine who will be No. 1.

There will be no lack of motivation as the only assurance of a playoff berth is to come out 1 or 2. The third place team will have to rely on a wild card berth.

South Cameron's 7-1 overall and 3-0 district record will be pitted against the 6-2, 2-1 Oberlin Tigers at Oberlin this Friday. The Tigers will put a couple of 1,000 yard running backs on the field, South Cameron will place its No. 1 ranked defense of the district on the line and rely on its ability to score from every scoring position.

Oberlin will be counting on the home team advantge, but the Tarpons have played as well at home or away before a capacity crowd of well wishers. The Tarps have shown an amazing capacity and consistency of effort, pulling itself over the hump when behind or rolling ahead once ahead.

Both teams rely on an over powering ground game, Oberlin more so than South Cameron. The Tarpons can turn to a potent passing attack to maintain its ball control.

See you at the game. Game time is 7 p.m. at Oberlin.

Tarpons beat E. B. 21-0 last Friday

BY ROBERT MANUEL

The South Cameron Homecoming fans saw the Tarpons come out on the playing field with guns blazing, jumping to a 21-0 first half lead. They added 13 more points in the third quarter to end that quarter with a 34-0 headstart. East Beauregard scored 14 points in the 4th quarter against a spirited but outmanned J. V. unit. The final score, Tarpons 34, East Beauregard 14.

The Tarpons are now 7-1 overall and are tied with Merryville with each a 3-0 District 7A record.

Fullback Kevin Olivier capped a 75 yard, 3 play scoring drive, on a 30 yard sprint right through the middle, on the Tarpons first possession. QB Robin Rutherford kicked the first of 3 consecutive extra points in the first half. Minutes later, still in the first quarter, Chester Moore capped a 6 play 84 yard drive with a 37 yard scamper.

In the second quarter, the Tarpons struck again with Charles Duhon crashing in from 10 yards out. The Tarpons went in at halftime with a 21-0 lead over the shocked East Beauregard Trojans.

South Cameron picked up two more quick scores in the 3rd quarter on 4 and 5 yard burst by Duhon and Dwayne Guilbeaux. The Tarpons had built up a 34-0 cushion at the end of 3 quarters of play.

The 4th quarter was fun time for both teams and their coaches. East Beauregard managed to score twice and all Tarpon players had some playing time.

NOTICE

CHANGES ARE MADE IN DETERMINATIONS OF THE CAMERON PARISH, LOUISIANA, BASE FLOOD ELEVATIONS UNDER THE NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM.

On July 17, 1985, the Federal Emergency Management Agency identified Special Flood Hazard Areas in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, through issuance of a Flood Insurance Rate Map.

The Administrator, Federal Insurance Administration, has determined that modification of the elevations of the flood having a one-percent chance of occurrence in any given year (base flood) for certain locations in Cameron Parish, is appropriate. The modified base flood elevations amend the Federal Emergency Management Agency Flood Insurance Rate Map for the community.

The changes are made pursuant to Section 206 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), and are in accordance with the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended. (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, P.L. 90-448) 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR Part 65.

This modification to the effect Flood Insurance Study and Flood Insurance Rate Map reflects a reduction in the base flood elevations for the coastal reach of Cameron Parish from Holly Beach to the Mermentau River. The revised base flood elevations along the Gulf of Mexico are as follows:

Location	Base Flood Elevations (NGVD) Effective	Revised
Holly Beach to the Mermentau River	14	13
	15	14
	16	15
	17	15
	18	16
	19	17
	20	21
	22	20

*National Geodetic Vertical Datum.

Under the above-mentioned Acts of 1968 and 1973, the Administrator, Federal Insurance Administration, must develop criteria for floodplain management. In order for the community to participate in the National Flood Insurance Program, the community will be using the new base flood elevations to administer the floodplain management measures of the National Flood Insurance Program. These modified base flood elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

Upon the second publication of notice of these changes in this paper, any person has 90 days in which he can request through the Chief Executive Officer of the community that the Administrator, Federal Insurance Administration, reconsider the determination. Any request for reconsideration must be based on knowledge of changed conditions or new scientific or technical data. All interested parties are on notice that until the 90-day period elapses, the Administrator's determination to modify the base flood elevations may itself be changed.

Any person having knowledge or wishing to comment on these changes should immediately notify:

The Honorable Ernest Carol Trahan, President, Cameron Parish Police Jury, P.O. Box 366, Cameron, Louisiana 70631.

WILDLIFE ARRESTS

Wildlife agents have arrested four people in Ouachita and Richland parishes and charged them with game violations.

A businessman owner of a fish and seafood company in Monroe was charged with two counts of selling game fish, two counts of selling deer meat, two counts of failure to comply with alligator parts, (no tagging alligator parts correctly) and three counts of selling wild rabbits.

Another businessman from Monroe was charged with one count of selling wild rabbit and two counts of selling squirrels.

One of the men from Richland Parish was charged with two counts of selling game fish, one count of selling migratory game birds and selling fish without either a wholesale or retail dealer's license.

TALK ABOUT A BIG ONE

Being as how our alligator season has just finished, I think this story will be of interest.

In Florida a nuisance alligator was asked to be removed by a legal trapper by the Florida wildlife officers. Normally this is a quiet and easy chore. However, this time a big surprise was waiting.

An alligator took up residence in a fishing camp and the licensed gator trapper harpooned the gator as usual but they needed 3 hours to get the thing in his airboat and bring it to shore. When at the landing he needed a winch truck and boom of a tow truck to hoist the alligator onto the scale, however, it took three scales, not one to weigh the gator.

This troublesome gator was 13 feet 10½ inches long and weighed 1,043 pounds, the largest gator on record in Florida.

WILDLIFE FUR FESTIVAL

Congratulations are in order for all the past and present fur and wildlife festival officers and organizers for a job well done. Our festival has received word that the festival has been selected as one of Southwest Tourism Society's top 20 events for January 1990.

Also redoing the festival parade route and bringing all activities to the multi-purpose building will be

MONKEY ISLAND YOUTH FISHING RODEO

I would also like to take time out to congratulate Robert Manuel for his fine work he does every year and especially this year with the Monkey Island Youth Fishing Rodeo. He really had a bleak moment this year as Hurricane Jerry came to our coast, he still had great attendance and a fine rodeo. Maybe next year, the Lemesche Bass Club and other organizations can give him a helping hand.

TALK AROUND

We're all ears when it comes to more refuges in our parish and state. We know the taxes that will be lost if we lose any more lands to the Federal Reserve Service. Well, the $99,661 Cameron Parish is suppose to get, turned up short by about 29 percent or roughly short $28,901.

I don't think we as individuals or businessmen can come up short in our parish taxes and get by with it. I also know we can't come up short on our state and federal taxes and get by with it. I don't think we should. Maybe a little interest on the monies owed our parish would work.

If the refuges federally owned or even state owned don't have to pay these taxes and they continue buying more lands for refuges, we as individuals and business property owners will not be able to afford the tax base set up for us and we'll have to just get out of this parish.

Council will sell dinners here Friday

The Cameron Youth Council will be selling barbecue dinners Friday, Nov. 3 beginning at 11 a.m. at the Masonic Temple. The lunches will include chicken, potato salad, rice dressing, baked beans and dessert for a donation of $4 per plate. Proceeds will purchase Christmas presents for indigent families' children.

DR. KEVIN COX
SPINAL ARTHRITIS

The aches and pains of rheumatoid arthritis are caused by swollen joints that may become stiff. Spinal stiffness may be the first symptom. Osteoarthritis, caused by the wear and tear of age, thickens the joints and makes ordinary movements difficult.

Chiropractic works with the special relationship between body structure and the nervous system in the restoration of health.

Treatment usually begins with the repositioning of any misaligned vertebrae that may be impinging on the normal flow of nerve energy. Spinal traction is designed to relieve the pressure of bony spurs on nerves. No drugs are used.

Helpful exercises and stretching motions are often prescribed to increase range of motion.

When cotton was king

COTTON IN CAMERON PARISH

S. W. Sweeney of Cameron, deputy clerk of court of Cameron Parish, is spending several days in Lake Charles. Asked Saturday about crops in his parish, Mr. Sweeney stated that there was about a 20 percent larger acreage planted in cotton this year than last, but owing to the rains in the spring, farmers would make only about a half crop.

This he said, applied to Johnson's Bayou, the Cameron section and Grand Chenier. Corn and potatoes are the other crops in lower Cameron and these, he said, have done very well.

Mr. Sweeney believes the coming fur season in Cameron will be a good one and reported that trappers and fur companies are ready for the season that opens in a few days. Asked if the people of Cameron are expecting engineers of the state highway commission to make the survey for a road to his parish in a short while, he replied that he had not heard anyone express such expectations and therefore could not say concerning that matter.

Lake Charles American Press, Nov. 1, 1929

"NO MAN'S LAND"

The State of Louisiana will seek a new federal survey of lands in Vermilion and Cameron parishes to settle an ancient dispute over title to "No Man's Land" in that area, Fred J. Grace, registrar of the state land office, announced on his return from Washington where he conferred with officials of the Department of the Interior.

Department officials received Mr. Grace, Attorney General Percy Saint of Louisiana, Carl Campbell, chief clerk of the land office, and other interested parties and heard details of the dispute over the property, which is claimed both by the state and private interests.

The property, involving about 25,000 acres, was dubbed "No Man's Land" years back when its ownership became a subject of prolonged controversy, due, it is alleged, to an omission in a federal survey of a half-century ago. The land is chiefly valuable as a cattle range and for trapping and mineral rights.

We have had Indian Summer

By Bernice Denny

If ever there was a perfect Indian summer, we have received one this fall. It was wrapped in gray mists and shot through with golden sunshine. Carpets of oak leaves and pine needles are underfoot. Chilly mornings have warmed into summer afternoons. The silver glow of moonlit skies gave way to star-studded ones. And roadside grasses and marsh-lined reeds have gilded and bronzed.

Such is the miracle of nature with its rhythm of seasons. No power on earth can intercept or change them. What a blessing is its constancy in this world of man-made changes!

Traditionally, Indian summer has been looked upon as a gift to enjoy before the onslaught of a cold and barren winter. No calendar marks its coming although it most often arrives in October. Its approach is as silent as the moccasined footstep of an Indian. Its duration is undetermined. It is lagniappe and serendipity all rolled into one.

Enjoy it. Feel its sun on your face, its wind ruffling your hair. Gaze through its mists for the return of our wild fowl. Be alert to the honking of geese flying home to our marshes and ridges.

Be grateful for the blessing of another Cameron Indian summer.

Drug free zone to be dedicated

Cameron Parish's first drug free school zone will be dedicated at Cameron Elementary School in ceremonies to begin at 12:30 p.m. Monday, Nov. 13. Students from all parish schools will join in the program.

Representatives from the State Department of Education, the Governor's office and Attorney General's office will be on hand, along with parish and area officials.

Establishment of drug free zones is mandated by Act 171 of the Louisiana Legislature. A drug free zone is defined as "an area inclusive of any property used for school purposes by any school, within 1,000 feet of such property, and school buses."

School systems are required to publish maps delineating the zones and identifying signs and markers are to be posted near each school and in each school bus.

Violations of Act 17 are punishable by fines and imprisonment.

First time offenders arrested in the zone will face the maximum fine and half of the maximum jail sentence allowed by law. Second time offenders will face maximum fines and jail sentences without benefit of parole, probation or suspension of sentence.

Representatives from business and industry, companies, church congregations, community clubs and organizations, parish officials, parents, indeed all citizens of Cameron Parish are asked to join in this celebration in order to make it a community wide effort.

All scrolls signed during "Celebration Week" Oct. 15-21, will be collected and presented by participating schools, churches, community groups, businesses and individuals at this ceremony.

More detailed information about Drug Free Zones or this special ceremony is available by calling Uland Guidry at the Cameron Parish School Board Office 775-7393.

Parish waste now going to Jeff Davis

All of Cameron parish's solid waste is now being transported to the Jeff Davis Parish Sanitary Landfill north of Welsh, Parish Administrator Garner Nunez told the Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday.

Nunez said that the difference in cost of hauling the waste to Jeff Davis instead of to the landfill at Sulphur will mean an additional cost of $2,400 in hauling fees and $3,600 in tipping fees to the parish or a total increase of $75,000 a year.

Because the parish has been able to cut down on the number of containers hauled each month from an original 110 to 60 a month, the jury will be in its budget this year on waste disposal, Nunez stated.

However, he said there could be a deficit in the program for 1990.

He suggested that the jury look into purchaing a chipping machine to make compost out of limbs which would greatly reduce the amount of waste being hauled.

Also he noted that there are many more restrictions on the type of waste the Jeff Davis site will accept. (An advertisement elsewhere in this issue outlines these restrictions).

Juror Ray Conner said that some business people were upset with the new regulations concerning old tires, oil filters, paint cans, etc. which are not being accepted now.

FOR CHRISTMAS, NEW YEAR EVES

Liquor sale approved

By JERRY WISE

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday voted to permit Cameron parish bar and lounge owners to sell both beer and liquor from 4 p.m. to 2 a.m. on Christmas and New Year's eves, both of which will fall on Sunday this year.

Loston McEvers, Creole businessman, speaking on behalf of a number of parish bar and lounge owners, asked for the special dispensation noting tht the two eves are the best business days of the year for the owners.

He stated that the parish economy has been off and that the extra business would enable the businesses to pay their taxes. He noted that the two eves only fall on Sunday every seven years.

McEvers, who also has a band, said that allowing the Sunday openings would provide additional employment for the several bands in the parish.

McEvers said he had talked to the sheriff and the district attorney and they said they had no objections as long as the police jury took action to make the Sunday sales legal.

Assistant District Attorney Glenn Alexander was asked to check to see if state law permitted the jury to permit the Sunday sales and he later reported that it did.

McEvers had asked that the bars be permitted to open at noon on the two Sundays, but the jury decided to let them open at 4 p.m., which McEvers said would be fine with the bar owners.

Upon a motion by Douaine Conner and seconded by George LeBouef, the jury voted for the special Sunday openings. However, Juror Kenneth Ducote said he thought this would be setting a precedent and abstained from voting and Brent Nunez, acting president, did not vote. Juror Ray Conner voted in favor of the openings.

The jury presently has an ordinance which permits restaurants to sell beer and wine with meals on Sunday.

At LeBouef's request, the jury added an amendment to its resolution requiring that future requests for such Sunday waivers be made to the jury at least four months in advance so that the jurors would have time to talk to their constituents.

McEvers said he had talked to a couple of the jurors previously about the matter but that they had never brought it up at the jury meetings.

Agencies problems told

By JERRY WISE

Representatives of both the Cameron Parish Health Unit and of the Cameron Parish Library came before the Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday with problems concerning space and funding.

Pat Ortego of the Health Unit told the jurors that the Health Unit, which was built in 1955 and rebuilt in 1957 after Hurricane Audrey, was in poor shape and inadequate to take care of the unit's needs today.

She said the building was settling and there were cracks in the slab and that because of the small lot it was on there was no practical way to expand it.

Larry Richard, Health Unit administrator, said that the best solution would be to build a new building, and there was a discussion about trying to secure the property adjoining the health unit or perhaps build behind the courthouse on property already owned by the jury.

The jury asked Richard and Ortego to come up with some alternative plans as to a new building and various possible sites and meet later with the jury.

They also asked that FEMA be contacted to see if a variance could be secured so a new building would not have to be elevated which would require the installation of an expensive elevator.

MRS. ADA BROUSSARD, Cameron Parish Librarian, asked the jury's permission to call an election on March 3, to renew the library's present 2-mill maintenance tax and also to put an additional 1-mill tax on the ballot to provide the library with additional funds.

She noted that the library had been a gift to the parish from the Jaycees following Hurricane Audrey and that the parish had passed the first maintenance tax in 1960 which has been renewed every 10 years since.

She said the library board was seeking an additional 1-mill this time because of the large increase in cost of books and other expenses in running the library. She said the board wanted to break the millage up into two propositions, one for 2-mills and the other for 1-mill as a hedge against the voters rejecting the additional mill.

However, jurors expressed the opinion that voters would be confused by two propositions and urged the library board to only have one proposition for a 3-mill tax. If this was rejected, the board could come back later and just ask for the 2-mill tax, they said.

Mrs. Broussard said she thought her board would go along with this suggestion and agreed to come back to the jury's December meeting with their final request.

She also noted that the library is getting very crowded for space and said her board was looking for a site on main street to build a new library at some future date. However, this would require a bond issue and is not contemplated for the next few years.

Mrs. Broussard reorted that Mrs. Rae Chadwell, a former resident of the parish, who died recently in Cincinnati, Ohio, had left the library a bequest of $30,000 and that these funds would be used later to buy land to apply on the construction of a new library.

Circus tickets

The Cameron Volunteer Fire Department will sell advance tickets for the Franzen Bros. Circus at the Cameron Fire Station Saturday, Nov. 11. Tickets can also be purchased at the Cameron Recreation Center at any time.

With duck hunting only ten days off from Thursday, Nov. 9, many sportsmen are busy making preparations for the coming season such as repairing and building blinds, cleaning out ditches to their leases.

Although with the scarcity of ducks this past winter duck leases are still very popular and hard to get here. Some hunters turned their leases loose and will not hunt this winter, but the leases were picked up by others who want to try their luck. Many of the sportsmen say there were many days they did not get their limit this past winter but they enjoy the sport in the Chenier marshes.

Cyclists to make tour of Creole Nature Trail

Cycling up the I-10 Bridge across the Calcasieu River will be the first challenge facing bicyclists riding in the Second Annual Veterans' Day Bicycling Festival this Saturday and Sunday. Hundreds of riders will leave the Lake Charles Civic Center at 6:30 a.m. each day on treks along the Creole Nature Trail or the Old Spanish Trail.

The course along the Creole Nature Trail is called the Gator 110. The approximately 110-mile route takes riders west to Sulphur and south to Cameron along the Creole Nature Trail, then heads back north through Creole to Lake Charles.

Along the way, the Ellender Bridge, Cameron ferry, and Gibbstown Bridge will challene their riding skills.

Other bicyclists will travel the Old Spanish Trail, on the route followed by settlers of long-ago days.

The Lake City Cyclists, a local bicycling club, are helping with the Festival.

They expect several hundred bicyclists to ride. Riders are registered from as far away as Alabama and San Antonio.

Rest stops will line the routes, offering water, high-energy snacks and words of encouragement for the bicyclists. SAG wagons (vans with extra supplies that cruise the routes in case a rider has a problem) will be manned by members of the Calcasieu Parish Sheriff's Department Reserve forces.

Eight area businesses are major sponsors of the Festival, providing everything from portable phones and gasoline for the support vehicles toportable toilets for the rest stops.

Hearing set in L. Charles

The Louisiana Department of Environmental Quality has been mandated by the state legislature to coordinate public hearings for the reauthorization of the department and DEQ will sponsor "Environmental Town Meetings" in all regions of the state.

For this area the meeting is scheduled at 6 p.m. in Lake Charles for Nov. 15, at A & B Gayle Hall at McNeese.

"Environmental Town Meetings" are structured as fact-finding missions to determine environmental issues in each area of the state. Organized in a seminar fashion, these meetings will allow citizens to express their concerns about the condition of the air, water and waste in their particular region.

DEQ personnel will gather information from citizen panelists at each town meeting. This information will then be used to develo an action agenda for the environment.

CAMERON DISPLAY AT PORT ARTHUR FAIR

S. W. Sweeney has returned from Port Arthur where he exhibited at the Gulf Coast Exposition and Fair a great variety of Cameron Parish products, including Louisiana sweet oranges, Washington navel oranges, grapefruit, satsumas, tangerines, kumquats, lemons and bananas.

A display of home-grown tobacco, sugar cane, pumpkins, sweet potatoes, pecans, corn, sweet vegetable gourd, black walnuts, pomegranites, etc., also attracted much attention.

Most of the Cameron exhibits won first prizes. This was Cameron's first exhibit at any fair.

SWEETLAKE WELL

The Pure Oil Company's No. 2 well at Sweetlake has again reached a depth of around 5200 feet, with preparations now under way to set a string of casing in order to be ready for setting screen in the hole at approximaely the same depth where the first test was made in this well.

The No. 2 was tested several months ago at a depth of around 5200 feet, and a heavy gas pressure with some oil resulted from the test. However, from some cause, salt water made its appearance while the test was under way, ruining the prospects of completing the well as an oil producer at that time.

This well is expected to be ready for another screen setting job within the next two weeks, and the results of the test are being awaited with much interest in local oil circles, as it is believed that a successful completion as an oil gusher of the No. 2 well by the Pure will result in a real drilling campaign in the near future for the Sweetlake field.

The No. 3 well of the Pure at Sweetlake, which was the last well tested at a depth of around 5890, and that "blew in" as a terrific gasser several weeks ago, continues to "blow" with practically no let up of the gas pressure and is still "spraying" about 200 barrels of oil per day.

There are certainly some fine candidates for the Ananias Club in the brush around here somewhere judging by the nature of the letters some correspondent from nowhere has been sending to various papers. These letters state that Mr. Geo. Haliburton has been making some wonderful statements regarding Lakeside and its supposed trouble.

Capt. Haliburton does not reside here for one thing; and an arrest of 12 people would leave quite a few more. And the facts are, no arrests whatever have been made, and if the sheriff came here at all, he certainly took nobody from here with him. Nobody knows of his having been here at all; the wonderful author of the various lettrs is the only one that knew about it; so he must have been visiting his neighborhood and not ours. Capt. Geo. disclaims the assertions laid to his charge and the census of lakeside

By Dr. Kevin Cox

WHIPLASH

What brings people with neck pain to see a chiropractor? In more cases than not, it's whiplash resulting from an auto accident. Even in a minor rear-end collision, the head is thrown forward, then back, then forward again, causing real injury.

What surprises many people is that the pain may be one-sided; down the right arm, perhaps, or lower back stiffness on one side, even a one-sided headache. One reason is that the person's head may have been turned slightly before the moment of impact.

Your doctor of chiropractic is alert to the dangers of whiplash and trained to restore the normal alignment of spinal segments in order to ease discomfort.

NOTICE

CHANGES ARE MADE IN DETERMINATIONS OF THE CAMERON PARISH, LOUISIANA, FLOOD ELEVATIONS UNDER THE NATIONAL FLOOD INSURANCE PROGRAM.

On July 21, 1985, the Federal Emergency Management Agency identified Special Flood Hazard Areas in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, through issuance of a Flood Insurance Rate Map.

The Administrator, Federal Insurance Administration, has determined that modification of the elevations of the flood having a one-percent chance of occurrence in any given year (base flood) for certain locations in Cameron Parish, is appropriate. The modified base flood elevations amend the Federal Emergency Management Agency Flood Insurance Rate Map for the community.

The changes are made pursuant to Section 206 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (P.L. 93-234), and are in accordance with the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968, as amended. (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, P.L. 90-448) 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 44 CFR Part 65.

This modification to the effect Flood Insurance Study and Flood Insurance Rate Map reflects a reduction in the base flood elevations for the coastal reach of Cameron Parish from Holly Beach to the Mermentau River. The revised base flood elevations along the Gulf of Mexico are as follows:

Location	Base Flood Elevations (NGVD) Effective	Revised
Holly Beach to the Mermentau River	14	13
	15	14
	16	15
	17	15
	18	16
	19	17
	20	21
	22	20

*National Geodetic Vertical Datum.

Under the above-mentioned Acts of 1968 and 1973, the Administrator, Federal Insurance Administration, must develop criteria for floodplain management. In order for the community to participate in the National Flood Insurance Program, the community will be using the new base flood elevations to administer the floodplain management measures of the National Flood Insurance Program. These modified base flood elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and contents.

Upon the second publication of notice of these changes in this paper, any person has 90 days in which he can request through the Chief Executive Officer of the community that the Administrator, Federal Insurance Administration, reconsider the determination. Any request for reconsideration must be based on knowledge of changed conditions or new scientific or technical data. All interested parties are on notice that until the 90-day period elapses, the Administrator's determination may modify the base flood elevations may itself be changed.

Any person having knowledge or wishing to comment on these changes should immediately notify:

The Honorable Ernest Carol Trahan, President, Cameron Parish Police Jury, P.O. Box 366, Cameron, Louisiana 70631.

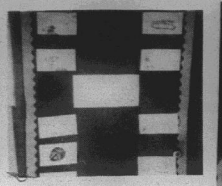
CAMERON PARISH LIBRARY

•The Library Building was donated by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as a memorial to those who died in 1957 in Hurricane "Audrey".

• The Library Building was dedicated on June 27, 1958.

• The Library is the only two-year Demonstration Library in the state. Louisiana State Library supplied a basic collection of books, periodicals, newspapers, etc., as well as a bookmobile, and paid the operating expenses of the Cameron Library for two years after the dedication because of the unusual circumstances surrounding its inception. All other parish libraries had a one-year demonstration period.

• The Library is supported by a 2-mill tax, first passed in 1960 and renewed in 1970 and 1980. Throughout its thirty-one years of existence there has been no increase in millage for maintenance and operation of the Library.



• The Library Building was enlarged in 1963 and renovated in 1982, at which time the bookmobile garage was made into a meeting room to be used by the Library Board and the general public. Moving shelves were installed in one section to allow for maximum shelving of books.

• The Library serves all the people of Cameron Parish either from the Headquarters Building in Cameron or from the bookmobile, which visits all communities of the parish.

• Library hours are 9:00 A.M.-5:00 P.M. five days a week. Employees report to work at 8:00 A.M.

Door winners named at Johnson Bayou

Classes at Johnson Bayou School observed Substance Abuse Prevention month by holding a door decorating contest. Each class decorated their door to symbolize their stand against substance abuse. The SAFE team voted for an elementary and high school winner.

A poem by a 5th grade student caught the eyes of the team members which voted this grade first place in the elementary division.

The poem went like this:
Some People Drink,
Some People Get High.
Some People Get Hurt.
And Some Even Die.
Listen People and Listen Good.
Be A Recruit In Your Neighborhood.
Don't Do Drugs and Don't You Drink.
And Never Act Before You Think.
Be Like Us and Stay Drug Free.
And Help Make Your Town a Safe Place To Be.

MUSING . . . By Bernice Denny

Wards and Sears --household friends

Around 1900 it was difficult for people in rural areas to purchase merchandise except a limited number of staple goods even if they had the money. This fact was true of Cameron Parish, especially the southern half.

It was only natural that they turned to the catalogs of Montgomery Ward and Sears, Roebuck & Co. Montgomery Ward had begun issuing its catalogs in the 1870's. Because of federal restrictions on shipments, at first Ward's sent out heavy overcoats in two packages, one half in each with needle and thread for sewing them together upon arrival.

Sears, Roebuck was formed in 1893 and a catlog was issued. Almost at once it became known as the Wish Book and the Farmer's Bible. However, the customer soon learned to be cautious. One Sears ad offered a sewing machine priced at one dollar. It turned out to be a sewing needle and a spool of thread.

My grandmother told me that previous to Rural Free Delivery several families would get together and select items from one of the catalogs. A certain individual would order the merchandise in his name. It would be shipped by freight. By rail and boat the big box, a wooden one, would arrive. Then the person who had ordered the goods would distribute them.

By the turn of the century both companies featured buggies, heavy farm equipment, furniture, and jewelry along with about everything else that was marketable.

It is said that in Montgomery Ward's earlier days the company received requests for wives, summer boarders, lawyers, babies to adopt, and marital advise.

During the pre-Christmas season the eyes of little children were as glued to the toy pages of Ward's and Sear's as they are to the animated toys traipsing across the television screen today.

The two catalogs resulted in a device unforeseen by their founders. They became an educational tool in the hands of their readers. The customer learned about new inventions; they studied the makeup and quality of items; they learned to compare prices; to judge for themselves.

The catalogs provided a form of recreation. At the end of a busy day many a housewife sat beside a lamp and allowed herself to be carried into fantasy land as she leafed through her catalog.

Wards and Sears became household friends.

Fina employees take part in the cleanup

On September 23, the South Louisiana Division of Fina Oil Company, located in Houston, Texas, participated in Louisiana's Beachsweep '89 Project, by cleaning 1 1/2 miles of Holly Beach. This beach is adjacent to Fina's 29,000 acre Mecom Ranch property containing the East Mud Lake and Second Bayou Fields.

Lynn Conner, Field Superintendent of the South Louisiana Western Area, was "Beachsweep Captain".

The Fina volunteers picked up and catalogued each item to determine its origin. Everyone participating in the clean-up was given a T-shirt with the "Fina Beachsweep Crew" logo designed by Ken Neeley, drafting supervisor.

After completing the work on the beach, plenty of food was consumed at the Joyce Tract Lodge. After lunch volleyball, other yard games and a pinata for the kids was enjoyed by all. Many also enjoyed a tour of the Second Bayou Field.

The division voted to take part in the beachsweep project on a continuing basis so the Division will adopt the 1 1/2 mile of beach and commit to clean it twice a year.

Ed Nash, South Louisiana Division Manager, said "Beachsweep '89 allowed us to do our part in helping clean up the environment as well as give the division a chance to work and play together on an informal basis. It also allowed a number of division office employees to view the field operations to better appreciate that end of our business."

Some 100 people participated in the Fina effort.

Creole church to be 100 next year

Sacred Heart Parish in Creole will celebrate its 100th birthday next year. The parish was established in 1890 by the Most Rev. Francis Janssen of New Orleans, and is the second oldest church parish in the Diocese of Lake Charles.

There were about 250 Catholic families residing in Cameron Civil Parish, and when the new church parish was established, its boundaries included the entire civil parish.

The first resident priest was the Rev. John Engberink, a native of Holland, according to the Most Rev. Jude Speyrer, Bishop of Lake Charles.

Plans are being drafted for an extensive observance of the centennial, according to Msgr. M. J. Bernard, pastor of Sacred Heart Parish since 1972. Included among these plans will be the publication of a history of the church parish, being written by Truman Stacey, editor of The Southwest Catholic.

The year 1990 will not only mark the 100th anniversary of Sacred Heart Parish and the 10th anniversary of the Diocese of Lake Charles, it will also mark several other parish anniveraries, according to Bishop Speyrer.

"Next year will mark important anniversaries for nine other church parishes," the bishop said, "so we will all have a great deal to celebrate next year."

Other church parish anniversaries which will occur in 1990 are:

St. Joan of Arc, Oberlin -- 70th; St. Joseph, Vinton -- 70th; St. John Vianney, Bell City -- 50th; St. Margaret, Lake Charles -- 45th; Our Lady of LaSalette, DeQuincy -- 35th; St. John Bosco, Westlake -- 35th; St. Peter The Apostle, Hackberry -- 35th; Our Lady of Good Counsel, Lake Charles -- 20th; St. Theresa of the Child Jesus, Carlyss -- 20th.

Johnson Bayou takes 1st win of season

With 4 seconds remaining, Layne Boudreaux took the inbound pass from Karl Romero and sunk a 3 pointer to give the Johnson Bayou Rebels a 56-55 victory over Bell City and their first win of the season.

The Rebels led by one at the end of the first quarter, but missed shots and turnovers left them behind at the half by five points. Coming back in the second half, the Rebels outscored the Bruins and pulled within one point. In the fourth quarter, the Rebels dropped back as much as six points, but were able to close in as the clock ran down. With 4 seconds on the clock, they trailed by two. After two strategy-planning time outs by each squad, the Rebels executed a perfect play with Layne Boudreaux sinking the winning basket.

Top scorer for the Rebels was Layne Boudreaux with 21 points. Dale Morris added 13 points while Karl Romero tossed in 10 and Blaine Erbelding and Scott Trahan each added 6.

Scoring in double figures for Bell City were Joey Romero with 13, Mike Phillips with 12, Glyn Foreman with 12, and Jason Leonards with 10.

Despite a 20 point effort by Betsy Koppie, the Lady Rebels fell to the Lady Bruins 65-33. Sonja Trahan and Nicole Duhon each added 4 points to the cause. Tiffany Romero scored 3 and Stephanie Vining contributed 2.

Bell City's Gretchen Schultz popped the nets for 19 points, while Missy Breaux tallied 12 and Desiree Aucoin netted 10.

In the junior varsity contests, the Bell City squads claimed both wins. In the girls action, Kelly Koppie and Julie Boudreaux each scored 4 points in the 17-14 loss. Adding to the score were Karen Erbelding with 3, April Tingler with 2 and April Trahan with 1. The Bruin's high scorer was T. Conner with 6.

The Johnson Bayou boys junior varsity suffered a 31-20 loss. The Rebels were led by Brandon Badon with eight points. Heath Jinks netted 7 and Bradley Jinks and Jerry Doucet each scored 4 and 1, respectively.

Singer beats Rebels

In non-district basketball action in Johnson Bayou on Friday, Nov. 3, the Singer Hornets were easy winners in all four contests. The Lady Rebels junior varsity game resulted in the closest score, with Singer winning 34-13.

Michelle Reed accounted for 12 of Singer's points. Scoring for Johnson Bayou were Jenny Trahan with five, Julie Boudreaux with four, and Karen Erbelding and Kelly Koppie each with two.

The Singer junior varsity squad dumped the Rebel team 63-27 behind the scoring of Keith Smith with 13, Chad Parker with 12, and Paul Parker with 11. For the Rebels, Blandon Badon netted 12, Lance Blanchard collected 6, Bradley Jinks posted 5 and Heath Jinks canned 4.

In varsity action, the Lady Rebels were no match for the Lady Hornets. Led by Temple Baldwin who poured in 21 points, Singer topped J.B. 75-32.

Betsy Koppie netted nine points for the Lady Rebels. Others scoring were Sonja Trahan and Stephanie Vining each with seven, Tiffany Romero with five and Nicole Duhon and Karen Erbelding each with two.

Karl Romero notched 17 points and Layne Boudreaux chipped in 14 in Johnson Bayou's 73-47 loss to Singer. Lance Blanchard added seven, Blaine Erbelding collected five, and Dale Morris scored four.

Bell City Elementary 4-H Club elected officers for the 1989-90 year as follows: Barrett Natali, president; Jerod O'Blanc, vice president; Kyle O'Blanc, secretary, and Dominigue Abshire, reporter.

Oystering opens 15th

The 1989-90 oyster season in Calcasieu Lake will open a half-hour before sunrise Wednesday, Nov. 15, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

The harvest, which will be by tonging only, will continue until a half-hour after sunset Thursday, March 15, 1990.

In approving the season dates, the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commisson specified that the lakes be kept open for oyster fishing only so long as the state Department of Health and Hospitals classifies those waters as safe.

In the event of any health closures, the commission authorized LDWF Secretary Virginia VanSickle to extend the harvest. However, no extension would be allowed past April 30.

The commission also authorized Secretary VanSickle to close the season if biological data indicated the need to do so or if enforcement problems arose.

A new oyster harvesters' license will be required for all persons harvesting or possessing oysters in state waters beginning Jan. 1, 1989.

The cost of the license is $100 for Louisiana residents and $400 for non-residents, and must be purchased by each individual on a vessel involved in the harvesting of oysters on public or leased grounds.

The oyster harvesters' permit will not be needed during the 1989 portion of the Calcasieu Lake oyster season but will be necessary to fish oysters beginning January 1, 1990.

Teenage drivers are affected by new laws

Due to two new laws passed by the 1989 Legislature affecting teenage drivers, students will now have to work with their local school in obtaining the necessary information and forms before applying for a Louisiana's drivers license, according to Uland Guidry, supervisor of student services of the Cameron Parish School Board.

He suggested that students take care of the necesary paperwork at least two weeks before applying for a license.

Act 641 of the 1989 Legislature requires any person fifteen years of age who applies for a driver's or chauffeur's license to submit "documentary evidence that the applicant is attending school, or is a student in an approved home study program, is maintaining at least a one point cumulative average on a four point scale or its equivalent, and is complying with the compulsory attendance law or has received a GED certificate."

Act 648 of the 1989 Legislature mandates that any person seventeen years or under meet the requirements of enrollment in school, a GED program, or a state approved home study program in order to maintain driving privileges. The act further mandates that school systems report withdrawal from school (dropping out) of any student who is seventen or under to the Office of Motor Vehicles.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality is proposing to issue a final Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System (LWDPS) permit to Phillips Petroleum Company. This permit will, if issued, establish effluent limitations and monitoring requirements for the discharge of certain wastewater streams associated with the company's oil and gas exploration, development and production operations in the West Cameron Area Block 45 Field in the Gulf of Mexico. The limitations and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.

During the preparation of this permit, it has been determined that these discharges will have no adverse impact on the existing uses of the receiving waters. As with any discharge, however, some change in existing water quality may occur.

The designated uses of the receiving waters are being fully supported.

The application and proposed limitations may be examined at the Office of Water Resources, 9th Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North Fourth Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Persons wishing to provide data, views or comments, or request a public hearing relative to the issuance of the permit are invited to submit their comments and requests, in writing, within thirty (30) days of the date of this notice using reference No. WP 2515 to:

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality is proposing to issue a final Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System permit to Phillips Petroleum Company. This permit will, if issued, establish effluent limitations and monitoring requirements for the discharge of certain wastewater streams associated with the company's oil and gas exploration, development and production operations in the Johnsons Bayou Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Receiving waters in the Johnsons Bayou Field include Smith Bayou, the Gulf of Mexico, and associated manmade and natural waterbodies. The limitations and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.

The final permit, if issued, will require termination of the produced water discharge at the Johnsons Bayou Field, Johnsons Bayou Facility within six (6) months after the permit effective date, unless the company submits an acceptable alternate schedule for discharge termination. Termination of the produced water discharge will be required due to the potential for conflict with primary and secondary contact use of the receiving water.

During the preparation of this permit, it has been determined that these discharges will have no adverse impact on the existing uses of the receiving waters. As with any discharge, however, some change in existing water quality may occur.

Gift given to aid Richard scholarship

Cameron Telephone Company recently donated a $100 answering machine to help with fund raising for the annual Riley V. Richard Scholarship. The answering machine is being raffled to help raise money for the annual scholarship.

Patty Morris and Frances Tingler, administrators of the scholarship, accepted the answering machine. The two Cameron State Bank employees, started the scholarship in 1987 in memory of Riley Richard who was very active in community affairs and in his church.

The Riley Scholarship is for a Johnson Bayou High School student pursuing a college education and possessiong a B average or better. The student is chosen annually by the principal and assistant principal. The scholarship exists solely through donations from the community.

Only interest from the money donated is used for the $200 yearly scholarship. The administrators of the scholarship would like to increase the amount of the scholarship. This can only be accomplished through the support of the community.

Cameron Telephone Company and Cameron State Bank are challenging the businesses of the Johnson Bayou area and community to help in making this scholarship a success. Donations can be made at the Johnson Bayou Branch of the Cameron State Bank. Raffle tickets, for the answering machine, may also be purchased at the bank.

Shrimping rules told in the lake

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission recently adopted a resolution restricting the harvesting of shrimp within one quarter mile of four of the control structures in Calcasieu Lake which are part of the Cameron-Creole Watershed Project.

The Commission, noting that certain fishermen have been fishing close to the structures and that this is detrimental to fishery, has limited fishing an area outside a quarter mile radius of the Lambert, Grand Bayou, Mangrove and Peconi water control structures.

This includes trawls, butterfly nets, gill nets, seines, or trammel nets, but does not exempt hand cast nets.

An official notice on this resolution is to be found in the legal section of the Pilot this week.

State Rep. Randy Roach said the restrictions were favored by parish shrimpers since without the regulaton two or three boats could position themselves around the openings on the control structures and catch most of the shrimp as they came out.

Volleyball clinic is set

A free volleyball clinic will be held at 6 p.m., Tuesday Nov. 28, for all ages at the Cameron Recreation Center.

League basketball will begin Nov. 29, at the center and be held every Wednesday.

Tarpons beat Panthers to win championship

By ROBERT MANUEL

The South Cameron Tarpons' versatile scoring machine, with its gutty defense, was too much for the 9th ranked Merryville Panthers last week. South Cameron was the best of the show, as they defeated the Panthers 40-21.

South Cameron claimed the District 7A championship with a 5-0 district record and will play Wild Card Shady Grove at Tarpon stadium at 7 p.m. Friday, Nov. 10. Merryville, the number 2 team, will play Ascension Catholic at home and Oberlin, the wild card team from District 7A, will travel to Logansport.

Merryville opened the scoring duel with a 68 yard scoring drive on its first possession following the initial kickoff. A 10 yard scoring strike to Webb Stark and a kick for the PAT had the Panthers with a 7-0 lead, 6:04 into the first quarter actiion.

The Tarpons came right back on its initial possession and scored in two plays, a 45 yard bomb to Charles Duhon and a 26 yard blast for 6 by FB Kevi Olivier. A run for the PAT failed. Merryville held a 7-6 lead with still 5:29 of playing time in the first quarter.

Merryville was forced to punt on its 2nd possession. The Tarpons took over from their 39. A 4 yard dive by Olivier got the Tarpons going on its second possession. A good gainer by QB Robin Rutherford was canceled when the ball was fumbled and recovered by the Panthers.

The Panthers started their 3rd possession from the Tarpon 35 and scored in 5 plays. QB Lance Beard used a perfectly executed 22 yard screen pass to running back Webb Stark to go ahead 13-6. A pass for the PAT failed.

The Panther momentum was short lived, as the Tarpons took over from their 25 and began a bruising 75 yard 14 play drive that was eventually capped by FB Kevin Olivier from 2 yards out. The grinding ground game had a big boost with 2 of 2 pass completions, a 30 yard strike to Charles Duhon and a 7 yarder to Albert Doucet. The try for the extra point failed. The score 13-12 Merryville with 7:10 left in second quarter play.

Merryville took its 4th possession from its 33. A 1-yard run by Webb Stark and a sack by corner back Charles Duhon had the Panthers with a 3rd and 20. A cautious Tarpon secondary gave the short pass to make it 4th and 10. The 30 yard punt was fielded by Albert Doucet who returned it 20 yards. The punt return provided good field possession for the short time remaining in the second quarter.

The Tarpons took its own 4th possession and moved quickly to the one, following a 15 yard pass interference call on the Panther secondary defense. Albert Doucet, one of two outstanding Tarpon split ends, had his hands reaching for gold in the end zone, when a push or grab by a desperate Panther aborted the effort. A pass completion to Chester Moore placed the ball on the five. Two runs, a 3 and 2 yarder by Robin Rutherford and Charles Duhon placed the ball on the one.

A 5 yard penalty placed the ball back to the 6. With time running out (4 seconds) Rutherford split the uprights for a 16 yard field goal. The Tarpons went ahead 15-13 to stay ahead as the first half came to an end.

Third quarter action had the Tarpons receiving to begin play. Nine plays later, split end Derek Hardie snagged a pass ina slant over the middle, splitting the two safties and sprinting untouched into the end zone. Albert Doucet made it 23-13 with the PAT pass reception. Hardie's pass reception from Rutherford was good for a 29 yard touchdown completion.

Merryville took over following the kickoff from its 24 to begin its 5th possession. Two running plays and one pass completion netted but 1 yard. A 15 yard pass interference call onthe Tarpons on the next play moved the ball to the 42. Two first downs on 2 running plays and 2 pass completions had the Panthers threatening. The Tarpons held, forcing 4 incompletions from its own 13 yard. A Tarpon secondary that clung to Panther receivers like ticks and a rushing line had stopped the Panther drive once more.

A cautious Tarpon secondary gave the short pass to make it 4th and 10. The 30 yard punt was fielded by Albert Doucet who returned it 20 yards. The Tarpons took its own 4th possession and moved quickly to the one. A 15 yard pass interference call on the Panther secondary defense and 14 yards by Tarpon backs had the ball on the one yard line. A 5 yard penalty placed the ball on the 6. With time running out (4 seconds) Rutherford split the uprights for a 16 yard field goal. The Tarpons went ahead 15-13 to stay ahead as the first half came to an end.

Albert Doucet made it 23-13 with the PAT pass reception. Hardie's pass reception from Rutherford was good for a 29 yard touchdown completion.

Merryville was forced to punton its first possession of the third quarter. Its punt was fielded by punt receiver Albert Doucet. Doucet's 30 yard punt return to the Panthers 29 had the Tarpons threatening another score. Four plays later Robin Rutherford split the uprights from 35 yards out to up the score to 26-13.

Merryville came back with a long drive that fizzled out on 4 incompletions on the Tarpon 13 yard line. The Tarpons had held. A Tarpon secondary that clung to Panther receivers like ticks and a rushing line had stopped the Panther drive once more.

The Tarpons began its longest drive of the game, an 87 yard bruiser that was capped by TB Charles Duhon from 3 yards out. The run for the extra point failed. A 40 yard pass completion to Chester Moore and 8 yarders by Duhon, Ruhterford, and Moore showed the crisp blocking of the Tarpon offensive line. The Tarpons now lead 32-13 with 6:27 of playing time in the 4th quarter.

Merryville amde it 32-21 with a 12 yard pass to Phillip Tarver. An on-side kick effort failed and chances of overtaking the Tarps evaporated. The Tarpons took over and in two plays had made the final score 40-21. Kevin Oliver found daylight through the line and rambled 32 yards for his third TD score of the night. Albert Doucet made the 2 point play on a pass reception from Robin Rutherford.

The Tarpon performance was a fitting tribute to all their supporting fans and to the Cameron Office Supplies Francis Guilbeaux, who was in charge of an award ceremony during the pre-game pep rally. All team members, coaches and close associates received keepsake certificates commemorating the Tarpon effort and success for the 1989 season. A pat on the back goes a long way in saying I care about you.

The Tarpons wil play the Shady Grove Bears in the first round of playoff games. Game time at Tarpon Stadium is 7 p.m.

The Tigers are 2-2 in district and 4-5 overall. Three of their losses were to strong AA schools. According to a report from head coach Parry LaLande, the Bears are big and fast. The Tarpons will be at full speed according to Mondays report.

CAMERON OUTDOORS

Sportsmen in their glory

By Loston McEvers

This is the time of the year when a fisherman and hunter is at his busiest. Dove season is still open and most hunters are getting all the dove hunting in that they can. However, this will close Nov. 12.

Redfish are hitting like they haven't in a long time (the sizes are running large), and anglers are taking advantage of this time of the year. Then there's the old mud boat to get ready, the trails to clean, the decoys to weight and tie up, blinds to build, licenses and stamps to buy, rubber boats to patch, guns to clean, shells to buy, rain coats and warm camouflage clothes to get ready, practice the old hunting dog, read the regulations on limits and shooting hours, check the alarm clock and get the hot thermos bottle ready.

Just to go over the seasons again: Ducks, coots, geese, rails, gallinules will all open Nov. 18; snipes open Nov. 11; woodcock opens Dec. 9; quail opens Nov. 23; rabbit and squirrel are open and deer is open in Cameron parish.

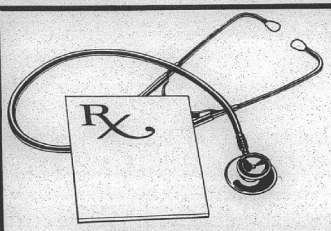
To hunt migratory game birds (duck, coot, geese), remember besides your hunting license you must have a federal duck stamp (sign your name across), and a state duck stamp (sign your name across).

In the West Zone (our zone) duck and coot season is split. The first season, Nov. 18, and closes Dec. 4, reopens Dec. 26 through Jan. 7. Shooting hours are one half hour before sunrise to sunset. The daily bag limit on ducks is 3 and may include no more than 2 mallards (no more than 1 of which may be a female), one black duck, 2 wood ducks, one pintail or one redhead. Daily bag limit on coots is 15.

In addition to the daily bag limit for ducks, you may take 5 mergansers, but only one may be a hooded merganser.

The goose season will have a 3 season split - Nov. 18-Dec. 4; Dec. 15-Feb. 5; Feb. 6-Feb. 14. Daily bag limit is 7 in the aggregate of blue, snow and white fronted geese (speckle belly), of which not more than 2 may be white fronted. During the last 9 days, Feb. 6-14, only blue and snow geese may be taken. Possession is twice the daily bag limit.

The possession limit on ducks, coots and mergansers is also twice the daily bag limit.



Remember there is a closed season on canvasbacks.

Also remember it shall be unalwful to approach geese by creeping, crawling or stalking for the purpose of taking geese.

Ducks, coots and geese can only be shot with steel shots.

There seems to be lots of ducks in our area if you ride the road between Creole and Gibbstown Bridge. However, with the water so low, these ducks and coot are heavily populated in the area.

If you go in most of the marshes, the population is not as great. If there would be water in every part of our marshes and our ponds were full, the population would not look as great. Don't let what you see on the side of the road fool you. Our duck population is lower than you think.

33rd Year--No. 5

Nov. 16, 1989

Cameron, La.

Drug free zone dedicated

Cameron Parish's first drug free school zone was dedicated at the Cameron Elementary School in ceremonies held at noon Monday.

A sign designating an area 1000 feet around the school was erected and public officials and school children took part in a program marking the occasion. Similar zones will be established at the six other schools in the parish.

Judge Ward Fontenot, who was the emcee for the program, told the students present that public officials were trying to arrest the drug problem through education of school children and said this seemed to be the real answer to drugs.

Cheerleaders from Cameron and Grand Chenier elementary schools and South Cameron High School led in special cheers designed to encourage the non-use of drugs.

Then representatives of the seven parish schools presented School Supt. Thomas McCall with scrolls signed by many students pledging their fight against drugs and alcohol.

Students also told about special programs in their schools during Drug Awareness Week including posters, essays, decoration of doors, etc.

Thirteen community groups, including business firms, churches, public bodies, etc., also presented scrolls signed by their members or employees.

Emory Wood from the governor's office spoke briefly on the Drug Free Louisiana program.

Deputy Precht of the sheriff's department announced that the Cameron Parish Crime Stoppers were offering a $1000 cash reward to anyone who furnished information leading to the arrest and conviction of anyone violating the provisions of the drug free school zone. Anyone with such information may call 775-7867.

Uland Guidry, parish school supervisor in charge of the drug program, also announced that there will be telephone numbers on the school zone signs which anyone can use to call to report a violation in the zone.

Following the program, Cameron Elementary Principal Clarence Vidrine, aided by school board members, erected the first sign while balloons were released by students.

Class sizes concern boa

Several parents from Hackberry attended the Cameron Parish School Board meeting Monday to discuss a problem involving the sizes of the second and fifth grade classes.

The second grade class has grown to 29 pupils and under state guidelines must be broken up into two classes which is to be done this week.

The fifth grade, which has 31 students, is presently in two sections although the guidelines allow up to 33 students in one class. The two fifth grade sections are being combined into one class and one of the fifth grade teachers will take over the new second grade section.

The Hackberry parents, for whom Glen Poole was the spokesman, asked the board to consider hiring an additional teacher so that the two fifth grade classes would not have to be consolidated. They were particularly concerned that the fifth graders will have to take a state LEAP test at the end of the year before advance.

Supt. Thomas McCal the parents that the promotion was dependei number of other criteria t LEAP test. As for the hirin additional teacher, the boa not in a financial condition to do so. He noted there were similar situations in two other schools.

McCall said the school system presently had 38 more teachers than it was receiving reimbursement from the state for and that this cost presently was about $700,000 a year. He said the board had been able to hire the additional teachers to provide extra subjects for parish students, but the board could not continue to add more teachers.

New policy adopted on tobacco use

An employee tobacco use policy affecting all teachers and employees of the Cameron Parish school system was adopted without opposition by the Cameron Parish School Board Monday.

Individual schools have had various tobacco policies in the past, but the board decided that a uniform policy was needed for all of the schools.

The new policy prohibits school employees from the use of any type of tobacco during the regular school day except in areas designated by the principal.

These areas shall be located where access by students is limited and employees may not carry tobacco on their person where such products would be in view of the students.

A separate policy governing the use of tobacco by students will be acted on by the board at a later date.

Refuge will open for hunting

The Sabine National Wildlife Refuge will open Nov. 18 to public waterfowl hunting, Refuge Manager John Walther announced. The designated hunt area contains 24,000 acres and is the same area that has been hunted in past years.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK
By Dr. Kevin Cox

SHIN SPLINTS
Shin splints is a general term for pain below the knee. Though it's referred to as a runner's or jogger's problem, this overuse problem is often seen in non-runners.
If the pain is in the front of the leg, it's usually felt as the walker moves from heel strike to the forefoot. Pain in the calf occurs as the flattening of the arch stretches the posterior tabialis.
Your doctor of chiropractic utilizes specific adjustments to restore body structure to proper alignment, and custom-made orthotics, - special shoe inserts - improve foot function to avoid further injury and reduce shock as well, In addition, the chiropractor may recommmend moist heat before activity and ice massage after.

TARPONS

Tarpons win over Shady Grove Fri.

By ROBERT MANUEL

The South Cameron Tarpons, expecting a challenge from Shady Grove, came out on the field, loaded for Bear Friday night. Their first and second quarter salvos accounted for a 42-0 first half lead. The Bears, in the meantime, had been held to two first downs and 28 yards rushing, all in the closing minutes of the first half action. The Tarpons went on to defeat the Bears 62-20.

The 10-1 Tarpons will meet the 9-2 St. Edmund Blue Jays in Bobcat Stadium in Eunice at 7 p.m., Friday, in a regional playoff game.

The outcome of the Tarpon vs Bears game may have been decided prematurely, as the Bears got their first shock along the Creole Nature Trail. A large sign, crudely constructed, but very conspicuous, read, "Death Valley, one way in, one way out." Something did let the wind out of the Bears' sails, the blocking, tackling and execution of the Tarpons offensive and defensive units. The Tarpons completely dominated every aspect of the football game.

The Tarpons never had to punt, scoring on every possession of the first half. With a 42-0 first half lead, the second half was really a second game between the Tarpons reserve units (Hard Heads and Mullets) vs the varsity Bears. That interesting conflict ended in a tie 20-20.

The Tarpons held the Bears on their initial kickoff series and began its first possession on the 38 yard line. Seven plays later, Derek Hardie capped the 62 yard drive with a one yard end around one yard run. The run for the PAT failed. The score was highlighted by two pass completions, a 15 and 35 yard pass completion to Charles Duhon and tight end Lionel Robert by quarterback Robin Rutherford. Of the five running plays, a seven yarder by Kevin Olivier was the longest.

Minutes later the Tarpons were back on the board with a 14 yard pass reception by Robert from Rutherford. Tailback Duhon made it 14-0 with the PAT run, 3:36 left in the first quarter action. Two pass completions, a 32 and 11 yarder, to split end Derek Hardie and a 6 yarder to Kevin Olivier had moved the ball to the 14.

The Bears were forced to punt following the kickoff. The short punt had the ball resting on the Bears 37. Rutherford made quick work with that drive by combining with Duhon for a 37 yard touchdown pass, his second strike in the opening quarter. Rutherford made it 21-0 with a kick for the extra point.

The Tarpon defense turned the ball over to the offense again and Rutherford went to the air again. An 8 yard completion to Robert and a 42 yard bomb to Duhon put the ball on the one yard line. Halfback Dwayne Guilbeaux's one yard buck and PAT kick by Travis Pradia made it 26-0, 10:48 into the second quarter.

The Tarpon defense held again on the first set of downs and freshman tailback Arris Moore capped a 52 yard 6 play drive with a 10 yard scoring scamper. Travis Pradia split the uprights for the second of five straight PAT kicks to make it 35-0, 6 minutes into the third quarter.

A series of incomplete passes by the Bears had the Bears punting again.

The Tarpons took over from their 39 and tailback Shane LeBlanc capped the four play 61 yard drive with a 30 yard dash. Pradia's kick made it 42-0. The Tarpon defense held and the first half ended with the Tarpons leading 42-0.

The second half began with a complete new unit for the Tarpons. Reserve fullback Albert Guillot capped a 50 yard drive with a one yard buck. Pradia made it 49-0 with the PAT kick; 6:28 into third quarter play. The ten play 50 yard ground attack was headed by quarterback Derek Hardie, and backs Shane LeBlanc, Arris Moore and Albert Guillot. The third quarter ended at 49-0.

The reserve units scored twice more, a one yard burst by Kevin Miller and a two yard keeper by quarterback Jody Lavergne. The Bears got their offense going against the young Tarpon defenders and scored 20 points, all in the fourth quarter. The score ended at 62-20. The game was a show of the traditional football playing attitude of the Tarpons.

Tarps to meet Jays in regional Friday

By ROBERT MANUEL

The Tarpons expect a different game with the St. Edmond Blue Jays in the playoffs this week in Eunice. The Jays are strong in motivation, hefty in size and sport a powerful ground game with a timely pass combination. Their ground attack is led by a 200 lb. plus tailback who is also a prime pass receiver.

The Tarpons have not had to punt in the last two games. That's an exception in playoff games. From now on, the punting games will be the big play of every stalled series.

South Cameron will rely on a multiple coring attack and a defense bested only by AA Vinton, who is also going for a regional victory in the AA playoffs.

The Tarpons are more than a Cinderella team, playing consistently well from the beginning and winning not by luck but with hard work, good blocking, tackling and execution of football fundamentals.

The Tarpon leadership evolves from a host of exemplifiers who all seem to make the big play when their number is called. Congratulations all, may you continue your victory march.

The Tarpons will have in their corner many loyal and supportive fans, a staff of experienced coaches, whose knowledge and team teaching expertise is ever growing and is a major factor in the development of young talent into championship caliber.

Fishermen eligible for federal loans

Due to the effects of flooding on shrimp, crab, and oyster production during the 1989 production year, commercial fishermen are eligible for the Economic Injury Disaster Loan progarm.

This low interest loan program is administered through the U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA).

Severe flooding caused by tropical storm Allison resulted in an extemely poor spring and fall shrimp season, and a much lower than average oyster harvest potential for the upcoming 1989-90 season.

Anyone interested in applying for this loan should contact the SBA at 1-800-527-7735. A loan application will be sent to the applicant and must be completed and returned.

Prior years income tax returns and a profit-loss statement must also be sent along with the application. The deadline for applying for this disaster loan is April 18, 1990.

Interest rates for these loans will run in the range of 4% a year.

For more information contact the Cameron Extension Service Office.

Russian trip experience is not for everybody

(EDITOR'S NOTE--Geneva Griffith, Cameron parish newswoman, recently returned from a two-week tour of Russia that she made along with a group of other journalists from around the country. In the next several weeks she will report her account of the trip.)

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

If you are unable to cope with culture shock, drink only bottled water, climb stairs instead of taking an elevator, put up with broken promises and sudden changes in planned events, being under the constant gaze of KGB agents, finding no one who speaks English, constantly being harrassed by black marketeers negotiating for dollars, walking on ancient cobblestones, eating strange foods, including dry rice without "no gravy" don't go to Russia!

However, if you are brave enough to try new things, resourceful enough to figure out how to get out of difficult situations, have a desire to see history in the making, want to observe a mid-eastern culture, enjoy meeting the people and experience their warmness, want to visit sites built during the time of Christ, enjoy the beautiful sunrises and sunsets over the Black Sea, are able to compare the differences in the forms of governments and appreciate ethnic foods that each country and region has to offer, you must go to Russia!

My odyssey to the Soviet Union began a year ago, when the National Association of Press Women, of which I am a member, organized the trip for its members.

It was for only a limited number and we had to submit recommendations from our editors in order to secure our visas and get the permission to make the trip.

Armed with glowing letters from Hugh Shearman, publisher of the Lake Charles American Press and Jerry Wise, publisher of the Cameron Pilot, I submitted my application and was put on the list to go.

I had been preparing myself all year on how to conduct myself in order to stay out of trouble.

I had also been briefed by a cousin who had recently returned from a tour and had had her hand luggage searched and detained by the KGB in her hotel.

All of this had prepared me for something that never transpired in our group of 40 women and 5 men journalists.

Most of us first went to Washington, D. C. to attend a meeting of the National Federation of Press Women, where we met our congressional delegation, in my case, Congressman John Breaux and Senator J. Bennet Johnston. I was traveling with the only other press woman from Louisiana, Marsha Shuler, from Baton Rouge.

We were briefed on our trip in the Russian Embassy by Vladamire Yanen who found it very hard to smile. He assured us that, "The Soviet Union is undergoing a very important time in its history - radical changes and structuring in economic and political processes, and a bold foreign policy."

He assured us that "Mikhail Gorbachev's Glasnost is a policy signifying more public information and more participation of the public in affairs of state, and Premier Gorbachev is trying to guarantee freedom of religion."

We found all of this to be true from our observations, but there weere far deeper troubles that we learned of from talking to the Russian people.

We were entertained during the Washington meeting at the National Press Club at "An evening with Sarah McClendon and Helen Thomas", two veteran members of the Washington Press Corps, who will be on the trip with President Bush to meet Gorbachev next month.

We flew from Washington to New York, after a chance meeting with Stevie Wonder in the airport and met the remainder of our group who were unable to attend the Washington briefing.

Our tour guide handed out badges which we were to wear during our entire tour identifying us as members of NFPW and our names written in both English and Russian.

After an all night airplane trip, which also had on board a tour group from the North Carolina legislature, we landed in Helsinki, Finland, where we stayed for most of the day waiting for our Finair plane to take us into the Soviet Union.

We took advantage of the wait and took an airport bus into the city and walked down to the beautiful waterfront and visited the open air market where there were stalls of fresh fish laid out in boxes to be sold.

There were also bins of fresh vegetables, bunches of beautiful flowers, and fowl running around on foot until they were purchased.

There were also souvenirs and fur hats, but we decided to wait until later for our purchases because we knew that everything we purchased had to be carried throughout the trip. When you leave the United States there are no attendants to help carry your luggage.

Our noses led us to a delightful delicatessen that was putting out every conceivable dish you could desire and the smells just led into the place.

We caught the bus back to the airport in time to board our flight for Moscow.

Lacassine to open for hunting

A portion of the Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge will be open to waterfowl hunting during the regular state duck season (Western Zone - Nov. 18 through Dec. 4, and Dec. 26 through Jan. 7). Hunting will be permitted until noon each day, Wednesday through Sunday. There is no change from last year in the regulations that apply to refuge hunting.

The refuge is closed to the general public, but during the week prior to the opening of the season (Nov. 11-18) hunters may visit the refuge to check water levels and locate hunting sites.

Hunters are reminded that steel shot shells must be used and only species of ducks, geese, and coots may be taken.

For those hunters who utilize the west pipeline ditch, the bulkheads have been repaired so it will not be possible to go around them as has been the case in the past. Boat rollers have been placed on top of the bulkheads; however, water has been extremely low the past several weeks and even the rollers will be difficult to use.

Interested persons may obtain a copy of the hunting regulations and a map by writing to the refuge manager, HCR 63, Box 186, Lake Arthur, La. 70549 or by calling 774-5923 Monday through Friday.

MUSING . . . By Bernice Denny

Who is a Creole?

Today Creole refers usually to white descendants of French or Spanish settlers in the Gulf States. Paul Cluse, a black man, reminds the public of its original definition. He uses the term specifically for French-speaking descendants of settlers from France, Spain, West Africa, or the Caribbean.

By comparing census records I realize that many citizens of Cameron Parish may lay claim to both the Creole and the Acadian heritage. Acadian or Cajun means a descendant of those who came to Louisiana from Acadia, now known as Nova Scotia.

Cluse, an elementary school principal speaking in Lafayette, states that much that has been adopted as Cajun is really Creole.

He adds, "A good gumbo takes a lot of ingredients. We want to make sure everything is in the pot. This area has a lot of flavors, a lot of essences. We are one of them."

Cameron Parish is made up of a lot of flavors besides Creole and Cajun. Call it "gumbo" or the "melting pot", or whatever, this blending has produced a unique people. Cameronites are courageous, enterprising, optimistic. They face the inevitable with aplomb. They build and build again. And their intrinsic friendliness adds a potent essence to the whole.

An article in an area newspaper recently in regard to Paul Cluse, one of the founders of Creole Inc., prompts me to write this column.

Although Louisiana has long been called the Creole State the word Creole is often misunderstood. Creole comes from the Spanish word Crillo and from the French Creole, both meaning "domestic bred; native to the place; produced in the colonies; home-grown."

Persons of European ancestry but born in the colonies were properly called Creoles. The term was used commonly in the Gulf States, especially in Louisiana. Descendants of Spanish, French, Italian, or Portuguese Europeans were all called Creoles if born in the colonies. A Creole Negro was one born here of African parentage. There were also Creoles of mixed blood.

Later, especially in cities, such as New Orleans, only the elite, both French and Spanish, were called Creoles.

The old French newspapers of Louisiana referred to "home grown" products as Creole; those coming in from different states of the Union as American. Advertised for sale were "Creole horses" and "American horses," "Creole mules" and "Missouri mules", "Creole chairs", and "American furniture."

Sentences are given in district court

Judge H. Ward Fontenot rendered a guilty verdict in a bench trial in 38th Judicial District Court this week, with Glenn Alexander, assistant district attorney, prosecuting for the state.

Joseph Ho, 39, 700 Henning Drive, Sulphur, was found guilty of leaving gill nets unattended and was fined $100 and the forfeiture of his gill nets to the state.

The judge ordered him the choice of this sentence or a fine of $200 and 10 days in jail and getting his nets back, but Ho chose the former sentence.

Jimmy Lee Dyson, Jr., Rt. 1, Cameron, pleaded guilty to taking oysters from an unapproved polluted area and was fined $500 or 30 days in jail.

James Arthur Beard, 22, P.O. Box 387 Channel View, Hackberry pleaded guilty to taking or possessing undersize commercial fish, which was amended from failure to comply with closure order (red drum), and was fined $300 and had his license revoked for one year.

Ted H. Thompson, 19, pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana and resisting an officer.

Judge Fontenot suspended his sentence on the possession charge and placed him on unsupervised probation for one year with the conditions that he refrain from drugs and that he contact his outreach counselor and set up at least four screening sessions during the year of probation.

He was fined $100 on the other charge, and if at the end of the year he has complied with all of the conditions, the charges can be taken off his record, under Article 894.

Allen L. Haddox, 33, MRH Box 2938, Hackberry pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana and was fined $350.

James David Hartman, 39, Rt. 2, Lake Charles pleaded guilty to driving under suspension and was fined $175 and 15 days in jail, with the jail time suspended.

Guilty pleas to D.W.I. brought fines of $400 plus 10 days in jail, the 10 days to be suspended on the serving of four 8-hour days of community service: Gary William Scott, 42, Austin, Tex.; Jerome Anthony Picou, 27, P.O. Box 732, Cameron; and Karla Ann Klumb, 27, 1514 175th Ave. North, Texas City, Tex.

Russell E. Moore, 29, Rt. 14, Box 1844, Lake Charles, pleaded guilty to D.W.I. (3rd offense) and was sentenced to serve one year in jail, with 6 months suspended; 7 days in jail for driving under suspension; and was fined $150 for failure to secure insurance and another 15 days in the parish jail on another charge of driving under suspension; also with the condition that he not drive until he has a valid driver's license.

LETTER

Dear Editor:

Congratulations are due to South Cameron High School for winning the KPLC Public Service Announcement Contest and also to Cameron Parish for establishing Drug Free Zones on and around school property.

Hopefully these events signify the beginning of a change of attitude in our parish toward Substance Abuse. The point needs to be made, however, that Cameron Parish's biggest drug problem is not marijuana or cocaine (although these certainly are present!), but the terribly destructive drug - alcohol.

I would challenge all parish leaders, school officials, and enthusiastic high school sport fans to abide by the Drug Free Zone Law and eliminate alcohol from our school property. I would further challenge all adults to be role models for our youth and eliminate public drunkeness from our Fur Festival Parade in January.

Many concerned individuals in the parish were dismayed to learn that our Police Jury has seen fit, without allowing public input, to encourage alcohol abuse in the parish by allowing alcohol sales on two Sundays in December.

Many people feel that the celebration of the birth of Jesus is not an appropriate time to promote substance abuse.

Even those people for whom Christ is not important can still abide by the law and refrain from purchasing or selling alcohol on Sunday. The bars could have their Christmas dances and parties on Saturday night just as well, and people are certainly free to purchase their liquor ahead of time if they feel they have to drink on Christmas Eve.

Now, I'm going to make myself even more unpopular by suggesting that many cities have instituted family oriented, non-alcoholic, First Night celebrations for New Year's Eve. The new decade of the 1990's is about to begin, the threshold of a new millenia. Does anyone have the vision to make the 90's a decade to say "Yes" to life, to hope, to freedom from the tyranny of substance abuse?

We need enforcement of our laws, alternative entertainment, and personal accountability from our leaders. Without these, people will continue to be maimed and die on our roads, lives and marriages and families will continue to be destroyed, and children will continue to be abused. The cost of alcohol abuse is too high. Therefore attitudes must change. Without an attitude change from the top, all the congratulations are a hollow mockery.

CAMERON OUTDOORS By Loston McEvers

Fur harvest last year was off in state

FUR HARVEST POOR

Furbearer harvest results for last year's season was extremely poor for nutria, muskrat and raccoon. Prices were very low and population, especially in our area of Southwest Louisiana.

Here are some results for 1988-89 season:

Nutria, eastern La., 178,082 @ $1.52 for a value of $270,684.64.

Nutria, western La., 45,140 @ $2.50, $112,850.

Muskrat, eastern La., 1,013 @ .50, $506.50.

Muskrat, western La.,21,180 @ 1.52, $32,193.60

Raccoon, upland, 20,992 @3.50, $73,472.

Raccoon, coastal, 13,995 @ 2.00,$27, 990.

Mink, all, 25,782 @ 14.00, $360,948.

Opposum, all, 1,052 @, .25, $263.

Otter, all, 1,924, @ 10.00, $19,240.

Red fox, all, 76, @ 4.00, $304.

Gray fox, all, 579 @ 9.00, $5,211.

Bobcat, all, 874, @, 20.00, $17,480.

Beaver, all, 830, @ 3.00, $2,490.

Coyote, all, 76, @, 3.00, $228.

This gives a total of 311,595 pelts selling for $923,860.74.

Nutria meat sold for .07 per pound with 124,968 pounds sold for $8747.76, raccoon meat sold for .50 per pound with 135,000 pounds sold for $67,525 and opossum meat went for .25 per pound with 1,041 pounds sold for $260.25.

You can see the number of nutria in our area was down and also our prices, along with muskrat and raccoon.

I know the price hurt our catch in Southwest Louisiana, but we do not have that many nutrias left, compared to the eastern part of the state.

In the eastern part of the state, large eat outs in the swamp and bayous where the nutrias are eating lots of vegetation, causing large bodies of water and loss of wetlands.

With less trapping due to poor prices, the nutria alone has dropped from 1970. In that year trappers were able to 2 million nutria pelts and dollar wise they were worth around $1.5 million to our Louisiana trappers. The fur industry for 1987 with all pelts, took in $2.5 million. Pelts dropped from 2 million in 1970 to 223,000 in 1988.

If nutrias are not controlled by trappers they will multiply fast and it seems especially our eastern part of Louisiana has this problem.

We may see our nutria as a threat and they may be outlawed.

It was moved by Mr. Trahan, seconded by Mrs. Constance, and carried, to take the following items off the fixed asset list to be discarded: 4 folding tables, 1 antenna and 1 television (system 3).

There being no further business to discuss on a motion by Mr. Doucet, seconded by Mrs. Constance, and carried, the meeting was adjourned at 8:05 p.m.

This is one report that's sort of hard to understand. A release for market (a study), shows brightness ahead for our Louisiana fur industry.

Nutria pelts are trying to be marketed worldwide and should change our fur market throughout the world, according to the Louisiana Fur and Alligator Advisory Council.

Michael Consiflio of Montreal, Canada, has been contracted by the Council to evaluate joint venture and direct sales opportunities for Louisiana furs, as to developing new products utilizing Louisiana furs.

He explains our industry for fur in Louisiana was good from the late 1970's to mid 1980's because of a strong German market. The change for nutria pelts began falling in 1986. Lack of effective marketing throughout the world hasn't helped matters.

Recently 2,000 nutria coats, made out of more than 50,000 Louisiana nutria, were manufactured in Germany and sold to Russia under the label "Bayou Nutria". Nutria coats have been sold to Russia before, but not with labels representing Louisiana. Maybe this could increase our nutria sales.

Also, there's a possibility of an instate processing facility operating in Louisiana in early 1990.

SHRIMPING AREA
CURBED

Sanctuaries have been established in Calcsieu Lake to curtail shrimping activity in the vicinity of four water-control structures, the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries announced.

The Wildlife and Fisheries Commission voted to prohibit the harvesting of shrimp within a quarter-mile radius of each of the four water control structures. It said such activity "creates a waste of the state's fishery resources and is otherwise detrimental to the state."

The commission also banned, in the four closed zones, "all netting of fish by any means or method, including but not limited to trawls, butterfly nets, gill nets, seines or trammel nets...with the exception of hand cast nets."

The four water-control structures are known as the Lambert, Grand Bayou, Mangrove and Peconi structures and are numbered 5, 1, 8 and 4 respectively.

DOVES CONFISCATED

On opening day of dove season, a New Iberia resident is facing arraignment in federal court on a charge of possessing 90 doves over the daily bag limit. One hundred and two doves were confiscated. This took place in St. Mary Parish.

The legal limit on doves is 12 daily.

Swordfish reduction set

The South Atlantic Fishery Management Council is coordinating the development of a federal plan which seriously reduces the harvest of swordfish in the Gulf.

Their goal is 78% reduction in harvest.

What is being proposed at this time is a trip limit of seven swordfish per boat until a quota is filled.

After the quota is filled, all night-time longlining will be prohibited.

FIRST STEAMER ON SHIP CHANNEL

The S. S. "Federal", owned by the Galena Navigation Co. of Houston, was visited by hundreds from all sections of Southwest Louisiana yesterday (Nov. 8) as she was taking on a cargo of oil from the Lake Charles old field for the Vacuum Oil Co. at Port "Ellender" on the Calcasieu Ship Channel.

The Federal is the first ocean-going steamship to navigate the new ship channel under its own power, and when news of its docking at the Ellender ferry (Port Ellender) became known, a steady stream of automobiles began to move in that direction, loaded with men, women and children who were eager to get a close-up view of a real ocean-going steamer.

To the surprise and delight of the visitors, without any sort of a prearranged program to celebrate the entry of this first steamer they found the big ship docked right at the ferry, with all kinds of flags flying from the mast, and upon inquiry learned from Mr. (Uncle Poley) Ellender, the ferry man, that the captain of the ship was extending an open invitation to all visitors to come aboard the ship and inspect it from top to bottom.

The first visitors arrived about 9 a.m. and from that time on, the ship was crowded with visitors until after 5 p.m. Some of the equipment on board was a revelation to the average "land man".

MOONSHINE OVER CAMERON

Two Cameron men were brought to Lake Charles Thursday afternoon and lodged in the Calcasieu jail to await the criminal term of district court in Cameron by Raymond Hebert, Cameron deputy who charged the men with the operation of the still he found in the Green Bayou section of country Wednesday.

Deputy Hebert stated today in Lake Charles that after he had discovered evidences of intoxicating liquors being manufactured he set about to apprehend and arrest the person or persons who he believed to be guilty of the offense. The trail through the marsh, he said, leading from the men's house to the still near the banks of the bayou was the only outlet from the still location and this led him to believe the accused men were the parties he sought.

He did not take the men to Cameron for the reason, he said, that the jail there is said to have been condemned.

Chamber to hold membership drive

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce will conduct a membership drive during December and the winner who brings in the most new members will receive a rib-rack donated by Brown's Food Center in Hackberry.

This was decided at the monthly meeting of the Chamber held this week in Pat's Restaurant.

The Chamber also voted to contribute to the Rita Walther Scholarship Fund which has been set up in Hackberry for a graduating senior in memory of Mrs. Walthers, who was a teacher at Hackberry High School.

The Chamber took part in the ceremony at the first drug free zone which was held at Cameron Elementary School this week.

It also voted to send a letter of congratulations to the SAPE group at South Cameron High School as the first place winner in the KPLC-TV sponsored Drug Free video contest held this week at McNeese University.

The group was the top winner over 32 contestants and will be seen on public service announcements on the TV station during December and January.

Paul Coreil, Chamber president, announced that his office will sponsor a Marine Safety Program in March, which will give companies a break in insurance if their crews take the course.

January 23, 1990, was set as the date for the annual Chamber banquet and Yvonne Mhire, Orrie Canik, Dinah Vaughan and Jimmy Brown were appointed as chairmen of the event.

Ed Kelley announced that he represented the Chamber at the dedication of the Hollyman Bird Sanctuary at Johnson Bayou.

He also reported on the many letters of inquiry he has received on behalf of the Chamber from people requesting information about Cameron Parish.

He also reported that many more plastic garbage cans have been donated for the beach areas by Oxy and Fina Oil Companies.

Eddie Joe Conner reported that his committee, which has been compiling the Cameron Parish Chamber Resource Directory would like to have all the information compiled by Dec. 1.

It will contain a listing of all businesses in the parish.

Tarps play Cubs Fri.

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

South Cameron High School garnered another coveted award Friday at the Tarpon football team pep rally.

It was held in Tarpon Hall, just prior to the team's departure for Eunice to one of their playoff games on their bid for a state birth.

Roy Dunham, Lake Charles, with the Football Coaches Association, announced that the Tarpon football team and South Cameron High School had captured the Jack Hazel Sportsmanship Award trophy and presented it to Wayne Batts, principal.

In making the presentation he said the local school was in competition with 27 other schools in the district and had been scored over the last 10 games they had played.

He said that South Cameron had won the trophy with a perfect score of 100, which is the first time in the history of the award that it had ever been won with a perfect score.

Two of the team captains, Charles Duhon and Jamie Carrol, both seniors, aided in the acceptance of the huge trophy.

The Tarpon team was honored by many local organizations and businesses, including the Cameron State Bank, Calcasieu Marine Bank, Cameron Telephone Company, Sheriff James R. Savoie and Rep. Randy Roach.

Pep Rally

A pep rally will be held at South Cameron High School Friday, Nov. 24, at 1 p.m.

Area merchants or other quarter finalist team members from past years of South Cameron High School are asked to participate in the parade.

For more information contact Wayne Batts.

KAOK will broadcast live from Tarpon Stadium Friday and will have a rebroadcast Saturday at 12:05 p.m.

Cameron Library offers many things

Cameron Parish Library has approximately 37,000 hardback books in its collection and several thousand paperbacks. In addition, readers can choose from 75 titles of newspapers and magazines. If a reader needs a book not owned by the library, it can be borrowed from another library through a computerized interlibrary loan system.

The library owns over 1000 recordings; these represent all kinds of music from classical to rock to country. There is also a group of children's records.

The lending period for all audio and printed material is two weeks, and contrary to the policy of most libraries, no fines are charged for overdue materials. Although the library does not own any 16 mm films, these can be borrowed from the Louisiana State Library, Jefferson Parish Library, or Calcasieu Parish Library.

The library owns and will lend to patrons two 16 mm projectors, two slide projectors, one film strip projector, two public address sytems, four cassette players, one cassette player-recorder, and two screens. During the holiday season the library's five Santa Claus suits are much in demand.

The Memorial Book Fund receives contributions throughout the year. Anyone wishing to have a book placed in the library in memory of or in honor of a friend or loved one need only call the library. The staff will notify the family of the person to be remembered, thank the donor, pick out a suitable book, and place a commemorative plaque in the front of the book.

The meeting room in the library building may be used day or night by groups or individuals free of charge. During income tax season someone from the IRS is in the meeting room on Saturdays to assist taxpayers in the preparation of tax forms. Tax forms are also available.

Cameron Parish joins with the parishes of Calcasieu, Beauregard, Vernon, Jeff Davis and Allen in a reciprocal borrowers' agreement. A library card issued by one of these parish libraries is honored by any or all of the other libraries.

Tarpons and Cubs are equal teams

Sometimes the strongest playoff teams meet before reaching the finals. This may be the case Friday. South Cameron, a 28-6 winner in regional play against St. Edmonds and University High, a 28-13 winner over Riverside, will meet Friday at 7 p.m. in Tarpon Stadium in a quarter-final matchup.

The two teams matchup well, with each team fielding a balanced scoring attack and a strong defense.

University High finished the regular season ranked No. 1 and the Tarpons No. 9. Both teams were district champions and have identical 11-1 records. The Cub's ranking, enhanced to some extent by their string of victories in 88 and their capture of the Class A crown, can't rest on their laurels.

The Tarpons are rolling along with confidence and poise.

Assistant football coach Henry Griffin, a 29-year veteran coach and chief scout for the Tarpons, gives the Tarpons an even chance for a victory. Head coach Parry LaLande says, "We can play with them." Griffin assessed the Cubs as a big play team, relying on tailback Walker, the split end No. 12 and tightend No. 83 and a hefty line to do the scoring.

The Tarpons rely on a triple threat quarterback, a host of skill people and linemen who double effectively on both sides of the line and in the secondary. The Tarpon debt chart has developed considerably and provides alternating options.

Game time is 7 p.m. at Tarpon Stadium in Creole. Good luck Tarpons.

New rules for solid waste

Now that Cameron parish's solid waste is being hauled to a new landfill in Jeff Davis Parish, new rules are being enforced by the police jury on types of materials that can be picked up due to the restrictions of the landfill.

Tina Horn, police jury spokesperson, said the following items, at the present time, cannot be accepted at the Solid Waste Collection Sites and will not be picked up by the garbage crew.

Paint cans, tires, containers that have held hazardous materials such as drums, freon containers, etc.; liquids of any kind, asbestos, such as roofing shingles; auto batteries, dead animals or animal entrails.

The following items will be accepted: household garbage, wood, limbs, crab and shrimp hulls bagged, oil cans and filters, properly drained and bagged; white goods, such as refrigerators, stoves, etc.

Residents are asked to be patient about the changes in garbage collection, Mrs. Horn said. Some items that are not accepted now may be accepted in the near future.

Chamber Day held

The building, located on Cameron's main street between Radio Shack and Rep. Randy Roach's office, has been offered by Zapata Haynie Corporation to the Chamber for use as an office and Visitor's Bureau for Cameron Parish.

Volunteers turned out to scrape floors, scrub walls, prune trees and haul debris in the clean-up effort and were rewarded with cold drinks and barbecue.

Assisting in the clean-up were Robert Manuel, Ed Kelley, Larry Myers, Nancy Cronan, Tracy Myers, Charlie Walker, Mike Johnson, Joe Soileau, Don Criglow, Eddie Joe Conner, Gay Reeves, Judy Criglow, Paul Coreil, Ashburn Roux and many neighborhood women and children.

Additional clean-up days will be held in the near future and a Chamber building fund drive will be started soon to solicit community assistance in getting the building ready for use in early 1990.

Tarpons win over St. Edmonds Fri.

By ROBERT MANUAL

The South Cameron Tarpons moved into this Friday's quarterfinal matchup with the University High Cubs on a convincing 28-6 victory over the St. Edmond Blue Jays. The Tarpon defense was a dominant factor in the game outcome with 3 interceptions, one for a touchdown, one fumble recovery and one first down in first half action.

The Tarpons spotted the Blue Jays a 6 point lead early in the first quarter, when a deflected Tarpon pass was picked off by the Jays Perry Vidrine. His 45 yard dash along the sidelines was stopped on the Tarpon 3 yard line. Two plays later the Jays Scott Mhire scored from 1 yard out. The PAT failed and the Blue Jays had the Tarpons breathing fire with its surprising 6-0 lead. The Tarpons had gained its initial possession with a pass interception by defensive back Albert Doucet.

The Blue Jay's lead was short lived, as the Tarpons' Shane LeBlanc took the kickoff from the Tarpon 23 and threaded his way through heavy traffic for a 77 yard kickoff scoring run. The run for the PAT failed and the score was tied at six, 6:59 into the first quarter.

The Blue Jays were forced to punt following the kickoff. A 12 play 50 yard scoring drive by the Tarpons was capped by quarterback Robin Rutherford on a keeper play. Rutherford succeeded again on a convincing fake to tailback Charles Duhon for the 2 point conversion. Duhon was the main ground gainer on that drive with 34 yards in 7 carries. The Tarpons went ahead to stay 14-6 in the closing seconds of the first quarter.

The Blue Jays and Tarpons exchanged interceptions in the second quarter. The Jays interception by Perry Vidrine stopped a promising Tarpon scoring drive. The Tarpons interception by Kevin Olivier made up for that error by returning the interception 38 yards for a touchdown that upped the Tarpon lead to 20-6, 11:45 in the second quarter.

The Blue Jays next possession ended, when safety Derek Hardie of the Tarpons snagged a Blue Jay aerial. Two scoring opportunities fell short and the Tarpons went in with a 20-6 first half lead.

Second half action started with the Tarpons receiving. The Blue Jay kick carried into the end zone. The Tarpons began their longest scoring drive from the 20. The long time consuming drive was capped by Charles Duhon's 1 yard run. Tight end Lionel Robert's PAT pass from Robin Rutherford made the final score 28-6. The 17 play drive left but 13 seconds of third quarter play. The passing game, grounded largely with Vidrine's 3 interceptions, the Jays pass rush and pass defense had the Tarpons assert its ground game in the third quarter. The 17 play drive averaged 4.7 yards per carry with fullback Kevin Olivier and tailback Charles Duhon carrying for the bulk of the yardage.

Fourth quarter action had Tarpon reserve alternating tailbacks Arris Moore and Shane LeBlanc going for good yards but an interception, again by Perry Vidrine, stopped the promising drive. St. Edmonds efforts were quieted down as well with a fumble recovered by the Tarpons.

The game ended with a scoreless 4th quarter and the final score remained at 28-6.

Waterfowl stamp needed for hunting

Satuday marked the opening of duck, coot and goose seasons and the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries reminds those over 16 that for the first time the State Waterfowl Stamp is needed to hunt those birds this season.

LDWF Secretary Virginia Van Sickle emphasized that the state duck stamp is required in addition to the basic hunting license and federal duck stamp for the bagging of ducks, geese and coots. Both residents and non-residents must purchase the stamp and sign it across its face. It may be affixed to the manila license carrier provided by the department, she said.

The cost of the state stamp is $5 for residents and $7.50 for non-residents, with revenues earmarked for wetland habitats.

In accordance with U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service guidelines, shooting hours for all waterfowl have returned to the traditional 30 minutes before sunrise. Legal shooting for all migratory game birds will end at official sunset daily.

Duck and coot season in the West Zone will open Nov. 18 and close Dec. 4. It will reopen Dec. 26 and last through Jan. 7.

In the East Zone, the season will open Nov. 18 and close Nov. 23. It will reopen Dec. 15 and extend through Jan. 7.

The statewide goose season dates, applicable to both West and East zones, begin Nov. 18 and last through Dec. 4 for blue, snow or white-fronted geese. The season will reopen Dec. 15 and close Feb. 5 for these species.

An additional nine days of blue and snow goose only hunting will be allowed from Feb. 6 through Feb. 14, offering a 79-day blue and snow goose season. The Canada goose season remains closed.

Emergency regs. for black drum

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries commission recently enacted interim emergency regulations for black drum.

Effective immediatly there will be a 14-inch total length minimum size on black drum taken by recreational fishermen.

For the commercial harvest, there will be a 16-inch total length minimum size and a 300,000 fish quota until April 12, 1990.

Virginia VanSickle, secretary of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, said these were interim regualtions designed to relieve some of the fishing pressure which was being placed on the state's over-fished black drum resource.

The department is currently working on a long-range black drum management plan which is to be completed in draft form by Jan. 1990.

American makes Russian friend

(EDITOR'S NOTE--This is the second of serveral articles recounting the adventures of Geneva Griffith of Cameron and some fellow newswomen to Russia recently.)

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Our trip from Helsinki to Moscow put us landing late at night and very tired from many hours without sleep and baths.

If the somber faced KGB agents who were everywhere in the airport meant to intimidate me, they sure succeeded.

After going through customs where we had to present a list of everything of value we were taking in and every penny of money and travelers checks we had, we had to each go into a brightly lit check room to face two frowning KGB aents who examined our passports and visas.

I almost went into a panic when one of the agents looked at me for a long searching gaze and picked up the telephone and made a call, while still looking at my passport. After some words between the two men I was allowed to leave the locked room.

I just assumed that because I was so tired maybe my face did not look like the ones on my passport and visa, but will never know because I was not able to hear the conversation.

An Intourist bus transferred all of us to our hotel in town, the 3500 bed Kosmos, which was built for the Olympics and reserved only for tourists. No Russians are allowed to come inside.

All tourism in Russia is strictly controlled by the government and all tours are conducted on the state-owned Intourist buses.

As we entered the hotel there were at least 15 uniformed KGB agents who looked us all up and down.

We had to climb at least two flights of stairs to the main foyer to surrender our passports and visas to the desk and be issued hotel receipts, which we were to carry with us at all times in the city.

The foyer itself was full of other KGB agents and tourists from every country in the world it seemed.

Our tour director assigned roommates so we could get acquainted with our peers from other parts of the United States and issued room keys.

We had to turn these keys in to the floor girl, who stayed on duty at all times at a desk at each floor, when we left our rooms.

We were advised to keep our luggage locked at all times when we left our hotel rooms.

If my first day in Moscow was to be an indication of what my Russian trip was to be like, I might as well fly back home I thought as the first part of my morning progressed almost into a nightmare.

First of all, I awoke at 9:30 with a start and looked at my watch, realizing that our morning tour had already begun without me.

I aroused my roommate who realized that her alarm clock, which we had depended on, had been broken on the flight over, along with every other thing that could be broken in her checked suitcase.

We hurridly dressed and went downstairs to discover that the tour had gone off and left us.

We were devastated -- here we were in a city we knew nothing about, with no passport, no Russian money, and with no idea where we even were.

I persuaded the desk clerk to sell me some rubles, as the Intourist bank in the hotel was closed. She could only take credit cards, no American money was allowed, nor travelers checks, so I gladly exchanged $100 on my Visa for 66 Rubles.

She could barely speak English and could give me no directions as to get transportation to the Kremlin, other than to point out the door.

I knew our group was headed for the Kremlin and Red Square and thought perhaps if we could catch a taxi, a trolly, or bus, we could catch them there.

I saw an English tour guide with another group in the hotel and asked her directions, and she advised us to catch the Metro and get off at the second stop.

I got to the hotel door and asked the KGB agents how to get to the Metro and they all shook their heads (none spoke English).

We then made our way down to the main street, and not being able to find the Metro station, proceeded to hail a taxi, a bus, and a trolly, which all passed us by.

Finally a tall young man walked by and I asked him if he spoke English and he shook his head and reached in his pocket to pull out a tiny English-Russian dictionary.

In halting English he finally understood our predicament and motioned for us to follow him and he took us to a bus stop and motioned for us to follow him onto a trolly that had just reached us.

He paid our way on the trolly that required Kopecks (coins which we did not have anyway).

We traveled for miles and miles and my roommate was getting very apprehensive over my newfound friend, because she thought he might not be taking us to Red Square as we had requested; "Maybe he is going to rob us", she said.

I felt differently and knew we had to trust someone so I began to question him.

We had difficulty communicating because his command of the English language was not that great, but with the help of his English dictionary he told me he was 21, a student in a Vocational-Technical school, studying Atomic Physics, and was working on the Chernoble project.

As we were going through a parician; Harry Conner, Billy Bertrand, Thoezm Kershaw, trustees; Wilson Conner, secretary appointed from main office.

A meal to celebrate Thanksgiving was prepared by the ladies camp, with turkey and all the trimmings.

A Christmas party for all members and their spouses and children, will take place Sunday, Dec. 17, starting with a social hour from 11:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Dinner will be served starting at noon. Santa Claus will come for a visit from 1 to 2 p.m and a dance will follow, from 2 to 6 p.m.

Music will be by the "Swamp Country" band. Members are asked to bring a covered dish. If members or their spouses wish to have a gift, men bring a man's gift and ladies bring a lady's gift. If you have a child wishing to get a gift from Santa Claus, please bring a gift with the child's name on it.

This is a fun day for all Woodmen families, so let's all get together and have some fun and enjoy ourselves together.

This will also count for our December meeting.

Woodmen of World elects officers

The Woodmen of the World Camp 706 of Creole, which consists of mostly all of Cameron Parish, elected officers as follows for the coming year:

Loston McEvers, president; Vernon Primeaux, vice-president; Lynn Miller, treasurer; Greg Wolfe, watchman; Woodrow Bertrand, escort; Roland Primeaux, sentry; Oran Boudreaux, musicular "seedy" part of town my roommate got especially frightened, almost to the point of panic.

I guess this is why I remained surprisingly calm, because it was a necessity.

At last he told us to get off, that we were at the Kremlin and I could see the Square ahead of us, even though we were on a tiny side street leading into it.

There were hundreds of people and groups on the Square, but no sign of our group.

We made our own tour of Red Square, the great open area which is the focal point for Soviet military parades, and is surrounded by structures at its perimeter such as the State Historical museum, The GUM department store, the famous St. Basil cathedral, built by Ivan the Terrible to commemorate his victories over the Tarters, and the northeast wall of the Kremlin, as well as Lenin's tomb (which is set outside the Kremlin wall, but adjacent to it.)

The beautiful onion spires of the buildings and churches were awe inspiring, and mind boggling to think of all the real gold that they are trimmed with.

As we walked through the Mall that is GUMs Department Store I found out that my friend's name was Igor Jumper and he told me that the Russian people are very short on food and are hungry.

I gave him some ink pens and told him that I would write to him, at which he replied, "Do you know that you are the first foreign friend I have ever met?"

I then asked him if he could find us a cab to take us to the American Embassy where I knew our group was also scheduled to go.

He indicated that it would be very difficult, but he was able to find one and we ran to catch it.

We traveled for what seemed many miles and finally I saw the American flag flying over a building in the distance and thought that was one of the most beautiful sights I had ever seen.

Igor paid off the cab and led us up to the embassy gate where hundreds of people were crowded trying to get in.

He explained to the Russian KGB guards who we were and that we were American citizens (the Embassy was completed surrounded by these guards).

They opened the gate and let us in and we thrust rubles and some American dollars into Igor's reluctant hand and went through a gate.

I turned and looked back at him and he was smiling and waving and I blew him a kiss, to which he reciprocated.

I have always heard that we will remember the unfortunate things that happen to us better than we will the good things.

This must be true, because this stands out as one my most vivid experiences of my trip.

Police Jury to take ad in tourist guide

The Cameron Parish Police Jury at its November meeting agreed to take a $270 ad in a tourist guide being published by the Louisiana Travel Promotion Association.

Madeline "Puddy" Solina of the parish tourism committee said that five tourist orientated businesses in Hackberry and Holly beach, as well as the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce, are taking ads in the book and urged the jury to do likewise so the parish would have a full page in the publication.

She said that the booklet will be distributed to tourists coming through on Interstate 10 and would help to induce many of them to take the Creole Nature Trail down through the parish.

"We are the best kept secret in Louisiana," Mrs. Solina stated, referring to the tourist attractions in Cameron parish.

Ed Kelley, parish tourism chairman, and Paul Coreil, Chamber of Commerce president, agreed with her and stated that the tourism needs to be promoted more in the parish.

Thanksgiving day for true thanks

Thanksgiving should be a day of grateful evaluation.

From America's earliest recorded history our forefathers have thanked God for their blessings. The custom of Thanksgiving did not originate with them. We find in the Old Testament that God often called his people to a time of solemn thanksgiving and that he designated a special thanksgiving offering for them.

"He shall bring his offering with cakes of leavened bread with the sacrifice of his peace offerings for thanksgiving." (Leviticus 7:13 RSV).

Other special offerings were designated when Solomon dedicated the Temple in Jerusalem; when the broken walls of that city were rebuilt under Nehemiah; in the days of revival under Hekekiah.

The Psalmist speaks more than thirty times of giving thanks. Jesus admonished his followers to give thanks for all providential blessings.

We, too, observe our national day of thanksgiving. We also give thanks -- or should -- for immediate or in-between blessings. The custom is good.

We, as a nation and as individuals, have much to rejoice in. Our freedom to live and work and worship where we deserve. Our spacious homes. Our weather controlled interiors. Our silent servants that function at the flip of an electrical switch. Our cars and boats and planes. Even our brain-saving computerized machines.

Thanksgving Day is also a time to give thanks for that which we do not have -- the unpleasantries of life, its sorrows, its tragedies.

He started hunting early, but at 21 he still doesn't know what he's hunting for. He keeps bring home those smiling mallards.

HUNTING SEASON BEGINS

This past weekend, Saturday, Nov. 16, was the opening of the first half of the duck season. One of the largest turnouts was noticed here. Out of parish sportsmen who have duck leases and camps, had them filled to capacity for the occasion. Places such as rent houses, rooming houses and mobile homes were also filled and many still looking for places to rent.

The hunters weatherwise had a good opening day. Saturday morning it was cloudy with a cool temprature of 48 degrees and misting rain along with the cool weather made it a good start. After speaking with many sportsmen, many reported it was good hunting and many got their limit. One local sportsman stated that there were two in their blind and by 7 a.m. they had their limits and were back home.

The second day, Sunday, sportsmen had mostly the same kind of weather but the ducks had scattered from the day before. Many didn't do as well as the first day.

ACCIDENT

Elora Montie fell last week and broke two bones in her right hand. She will be in a cast.

BIRTH

DANIEL LEE KELLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Kelley of Cameron announce the birth of their second child, Daniel Lee, Oct. 19, at Humana Hospital in Lake Charles. He weighed 9 lbs. 7 ozs.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Brasseaux of Grand Chenier and Mr. and Mrs. George Kelley of Cameron.

Great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Moleon Brasseaux of Abbeville and Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Theriot of Grand Chenier.

The couple's other child is Kayla, 7.

Perhaps the Pilgrims should have thanked God also for their privations and perils. Perils on the ocean. Privations in the new land. Sickness. Suffering. Grief. Cold. Hunger Toil. And Sweat.

Perhaps they should have been grateful for the above, for it was those things endured and overcome that helped make them the strong, courageous people that America is proud to list among its founders.

Perhaps we today should add a sequel to our usual prayer of thanksgiving. Perhaps we should ask God to strengthen us for problems ahead, to help us conquer ease, to grant us the stamina to remain whole -- unshattered by comforts and material abundance or by discomforts and scarcities.

In any event, may we make this holiday a day of genuine thanksgiving in recognition of the manifold blessings that are ours.

The bagpipe is an old instrument. It is spoken of in the Old Testament and it was used by the Egyptians, Greeks and Romans.

Damage at Big Lake from windstorms

DAMAGE AT BIG LAKE

Windstorms early Sunday morning destroyed the wharves at Big Lake of J. W. Gardiner, C. O. Noble and J. B. Feagin. The bath houses at the Rex wharf were wrecked and several hundred feet of the Charles Benckenstein wharf were lost. Some damage also was done to breakwaters.

Worms peculiar to salt water had materially cut into and weakened the wharf supports during the summer, and with the high water and strong gusts of winds, the structures were easily demolished.

Why dogs & cats dislike each other

Back in the early 1920's "The Delineator," a favorite magazine of my mother, carried the following story. It was supposed to have been told by Chinese mothers to their children. In my opinion it could have been attributed to any nationality. I shall revise it and give it a local setting.

A Cameron cat and a Cameron dog lived with an elderly Cameron couple. The old lady and old gentleman were sad because robbers had stolen their magic wishing ring.

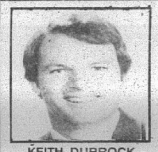
So the dog and cat scurried after the thieves. When they came to the Calcasieu River the dog took the cat on his back and swam across, because, as you know, cats dislike water.

On the further shore they found a wooden chest in which the ring was hidden. The cat caught a mouse that gnawed a hole in the chest. To save his life he gave the ring to the cat.

Once again the cat jumped on the dog's back and was carried over to Cameron. Then that wily cat raced over roofs of houses while the dog had to run around them. The cat reached home first and dropped the ring at the feet of the old couple. When the tired dog reached them, he was scolded for being late.

The hurt and angry dog chased the deceitful cat up a tree. Ever since dogs and cats have hated each other.

Direct deposit of S. S. checks safe



Direct deposit of Social Security and supplemental security income (SSI) benefits makes even more sense than ever before, thanks to recent advances in the direct deposit program, Bill Dixon, Social Security district manager in Lake Charles, said today.

All financial institutions involved in the direct deposit program are now required to have computer facilities to allow electronic transfer of benefits. In addition, benefit payments which cover more than one month can now be sent by electronic transfer rather than by paper check.

This insures that payments will be made quickly and safely to Social Security and SSI beneficiaries, Dixon said.

To switch from paper checks to direct deposit, call Social Security. Have available your Social Security claim number and a check or account statement from your financial institution, Dixon said.

Social Security's new toll free telephone number is available from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Friday. The number is 1-800-234-5772.

FALLING

Ever watch a toddler learning to walk? The child falls down every few steps, then gets up again as if nothing happened.

The rest of us are neither so resilient nor so well-padded, and falls hurt.

Where possible, it's wise to avoid falls with safety precautions. Put gates at stairs and windows to guard older children. Protect older folks with sturdy supports, good lighting, and non-skid surfaces in floors and tubs.

When someone does fall, the pain and discomfort can be eased with chiropractic care. After a complete examination, your doctor of chiropractic will utilize gentle adjustments to restore normal spinal alignments so that nerve energy can flow naturally.

CAMERON OUTDOORS By LOSTON McEVERS

Trapping Season to open December 1

TRAPPING SEASON

Trapping season in the South Zone (which includes Cameron parish) will open Dec. 1 and end Feb. 28. Other regulations governing buying, selling and shipment of furs is contained in the LDWF trapping regulations.

The North Zone, which is north of I-10 opened Nov. 20. In some parts of the North Zone, an experimental season will run from Feb. 16 through Mar. 11, during which trappers will be allowed to use only traps with padded or soft jaw traps.

I sure hope we don't get a new regulation to where these type of traps have to be used in our area.

HUNTING OPEN

The migratory duck, coot and goose season has opened in our area. The duck population is fair, but not what hunters expected. Many of the ducks we have down here already moved further south to Mexico.

Most reports were good, however, in some marshes it was tough.

LOUIDIANA DEPARTMENT OF WILDLIFE & FISHERIES NEWS

* In Recent weeks, there have been quite a few (14) citations issued in portions of our state for taking deer illegally, not tagged or sex identification.

What's been happening, road blocks are being set up and hunters scheduled.

Remember when you deer hunt you have to have a basic hunting license, plus a Big Game license. Also your deer has to be tagged. The head and sex I.D. must be attached to your deer to know what it is. Also if you're transporting a deer for a friend, the deer must be tagged, sex I.D. (to be seen), name, address and license number of the person killing it.

* The department is very concerned about threats of oil spills. Being in a parish of such great oil production, and over half being on the water, this is serious for our parish.

We have many underground oil and gas lines. Some very old, some abandoned, some are not checked and maintained properly. Many of these lines pose a threat to human life, such as the vessel that hit a supposedly underground line which exploded right offshore and caused loss of life. Also, a huge oil spill could cause a bad situation on our marshes and wildlife.

Virginia VanSickle, Secretary of LDWF is trying to stay on top of this situation in both federal waters of the Louisiana coast and Louisiana waters as well.

If anyone in our parish should see what is believed to be an oil spill, or seepage from underground, LDWF should be notified.

* It seems that declining income in our LDWF funds are creating a concern, maintaining services to the public at their present high level.

There is supposed to be a budget crunch. The 1990-91 budget calls for expenditures of nearly $37 million, but the revenues will fall short of that figure by anywhere from 3 to 7 million dollars.

With the short seasons and low duck limits, revenues have fallen in duck licenses and stamps and also in fishing licenses. I also think the price per license has hurt.

It may be that the LDWF may have to ask the governor, like other agencies do, for money from the general fund, which comes from taxpayers.

We could see some major problems occur.

* The Department of Wildlife and Fisheries has started to keep an eye to see what convictions are handed down in all parishes from wildlife violations.

If a conviction is obtained and sentence passed, any fine levied remains with the parish.

A quarterly report on disposition of game violations in each parish will be submitted by the Secretary of LDWF to the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

LIBRARY SERVICES

Cameron Parish Library has approximately 37,000 hardback books in its collection and several thousand paperbacks. In addition, readers can choose from 75 titles of newspapers and magazines. If a reader needs a book not owned by the Library, it can be borrowed from another library through a computerized interlibrary loan system.

The Library owns over 1000 recordings; these represent all kinds of music from classical to rock to country. There is also a group of children's records.

The lending period for all audio and printed material is two weeks, and contrary to the policy of most libraries, no fines are charged for overdue materials. Although the Library does not own any 16mm films, these can be borrowed from the Louisiana State Library, Jefferson Parish Library, or Calcasieu Parish Library.

The Library owns and will lend to patrons two 16mm projectors, two slide projectors, one film strip projector, two public address systems, 4 cassette players, one cassette player-recorder, and 2 screens. During the holiday season the Library's five Santa Claus suits are much in demand.

The Memorial Book Fund receives contributions throughout the year. Anyone wishing to have a book placed in the Library in memory of or in honor of a friend or loved one need only call the Library. The Staff will notify the family of the person to be remembered, thank the donor, pick out a suitable book, and place a commemorative plaque in the front of the book.

The meeting room in the Library building may be used day or night by groups or individuals free of charge. During income tax season someone from the IRS is in the meeting room on Saturdays to assist taxpayers in the preparation of tax forms. Tax forms are also available.

Cameron Parish joins with the parishes of Calcasieu, Beauregard, Vernon, Jeff Davis and Allen in a reciprocal borrowers' agreement. A library card issued by one of these parish libraries is honored by any or all of the other libraries.

$500,000 given for pollution study

Congressman Jimmy Hayes announced that $500,000 was appropriated through the Department of Commerce for funding the National Shellfish Pollution Indicator Study.

Of the nation's estuarine waters, fifteen million acres are classified for shellfish harvesting as 'approved', 'conditionally approved', 'restricted', or 'prohibited' according to microbiological guidelines established by the National Shellfish Sanitation Program. In 1987 only 64 percent of those waters were classified as 'approved', all other zones fell in the remaining categories.

Current health standards are determined from data developed in the 1920s, which were developed to protect the public from typhoid fever epidemics. Since then, results from recent studies indicate that the existing standards may no longer be valid or useful in determining what constitutes healthy seafood products.

"There are many reasons that updating these methods would be beneficial. Not only are there health reasons, to help determine the consumption safety of the shellfish and its waters, but also the economical aspects," Hayes said.

"Our goal is to study each of the coastal areas to come up with an accurate indicator of the sewage contamination levels and human health risks. Congressman Hayes has been very supportive and has really done a lot by being among the driving force behind this. All of the Louisiana congressmen have been very supportive," said Marilyn Kilgen, Project Coordinator for the Study at Nichols State University.

"The need for this national program is based upon the fact that in Louisiana alone, nearly 60 percent of the oyster grounds are closed at one time or another because the water quality does not meet the standards currently used. This program's activities may open many more areas for crabbing, crawfishing and oystering that are presently closed due to poor data," Hayes said.

No bids on old bus

The Cameron Parish School Board did not receive any bids on the old South Cameron Tarpon athletic bus that it had advertised for sale when the board met Monday.

President Arnold Jones suggested that the board might want to keep the bus and should it put in its own bus repair shop as has been considered, it could be repaired there.

Supt. Thomas McCall said that he had been advised by Rudy Apiin that plans for the setting up of a oyster purification plant at the old Vo-Tech school have been cancelled because of problems in securing permits. The school had been suggested as a site for a board-operated repair shop.

The board was advised that a Cameron repair shop has agreed to do some of the board's repair work in the Cameron area and the matter of the Tarpon bus and the proposed shop were put on hold.

Highway work requested by Juror Ducote

Hackberry Juror Kenneth Ducote requested the Cameron Parish Police Jury at its recent monthly meeting to request the state highway department to raise a half mile of Hwy. 27 north of Kelso bayou that floods frequently.

Ducote said that the passage of the recent highway trust fund amendment should make available state funds for such work.

He also asked that Hwy. 390 that runs west from the Catholic Church to the Department of Energy site be improved.

Juror Ray Conner asked that the highway department place the jury's request to four lane Hwy. 27 north from Creole on a higher priority list since it is used as a hurricane evacuation route.

FEMA threatens parish probation

The Cameron Parish Police Jury has been notified by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) that Cameron Parish will be placed on probationary status with the National Flood Insurance Program on March 19, 1990 "unless measures are taken to correct all deficiencies and violations to the Cameron Parish floodplain management program."

Parish Administrator Garner Nunez said the matter will be discussed at the jury's claim meeting set for 5 p.m., Monday, Dec. 3, but any action to be taken will be at the jury's regular meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday, Dec. 4.

In a letter to Jury President Ernest C. Trahan, Regional FEMA Director Edd Hargett stated that while some of the deficiencies and violations have existed in the Cameron Parish program since the start in 1974, only the period from July 17, 1985 to the present will be considered for corrective action.

Two pages of requirements to meet FEMA's guidelines were listed in the FEMA letter including making an accurate list of all structures in the parish that have been built or improved since 1985 plus plotting them on a map.

The jury is also asked to submit a list of structures that have not been permitted.

In the past the police jury has not strictly enforced the building requirements of the flood insurance program because to do so would work much hardship on persons building new homes or businesses.

However, in his letter, Director Hargett states: "The primary objective is to achieve nothing less than total compliance" and puts the jury on notice that it must enforce all of FEMA's regulations.

After March 19, if the remedial measures are not taken, the jury was advised, the parish will go on probation and while flood insurance will remain available in the parish, a $25 surcharge would be added to each new orrenewal flood insurance policy.

The probation period would extend for six months to Sept. 17, 1990 and if the FEMA requirements were not met the parish would become subject to suspension from the flood insurance program.

As a further threat to secure compliance, the FEMA letter noted that if flood insurance was suspended the parish would no longer be eligible for federal grants, loans or guarantees for acquisition or construction of structures located in the flood hazard zone, including funds from FHA, SBA, VA and other governmental agencies.

In addition, should there be a hurricane or flood disaster in the parish, federal disaster assistance would not be available to the parish, the jury was told.

AMANDA TRAHAN, who was crowned as the Johnson Bayou high school homecoming queen Nov. 17, is shown being escorted by her father, Ernest Trahan.

Jobless rate takes big jump

What a difference a month makes!

From a 4 percent rate in September, the second lowest of any parish in the state, Cameron parish's unemployment rate jumped to 7 percent in October, according to the Lousiana Dept. of Labor.

What had happened was that the menhaden plants had closed for the winter and many of their employees filed for unemployment benefits.

In September, according to the Department's figures there were 175 persons in the parish out of work out of a labor force of 4725.

In October, 350 were listed out of work out of a labor force of 4850.

A spokesman for the Labor Department said the increase of unemployment was seasonal and has been occurring every October for a number of years due to the "temporary shutdown in the non-durable goods sector of the manufacturing industry."

Paul Coreil, LSU wildlife and fisheries agent for the parish, confirmed this view. He said in past years, before the oil and gas industry slowdown, the menhaden plant workers were able to find other jobs during the six months off season, but there just aren't any extra jobs for them now.

It is expected that the parish will go back to being one of the lowest rates in the state next spring when the plants reopen.

Tarpons out of State A playoffs

The South Cameron Tarpons were eliminated from the state Class A playoffs Friday night in Creole when they were beaten 46-6 in a state quarterfinal game by the number one ranked team in the state--University High of Baton Rouge, the high school prep school of LSU.

University High will play Oak Grove in semifinal action this week.

The Tarpons finished the year with an 11-2 record.

Scoring South Cameron's lone touchdown was Kevin Olivier on a 5-yard run.

$1900 raised for meals program

The weather was beautiful, the mood was right and the support was great! This describes the Council on Aging's first annual Miles for Meals Walkathon held Nov. 14, at the Cameron Rec Plex.

Rep. Randy Roach, Silver Haired Rep. Ray Conner and Police Juror Brent Nunez led the walkathon by walking the first mile. During the course of the evening over thirty persons walked around the track in support of the elderly meals program. Over 150 sponsors made the event possible.

Each person averaged six miles during the event. However, one ambitious walker, Danielle Burgin, paced out 10 miles. She was the top walker. Rep. Roach and the team of Kenneth Fredrick, Bill Hargrave, Freddie Richard and Oscar Reyes brought in top dollars in pledges.

Cameron Telephone Company, represented by Donnie Nunez, Roger Baccigalopi, Albert and E. J. Duhon, Wilson Conner, and Charlie Walker, was the leading business contributor.

Over $1,900 was raised during the event. Funds will be used to enhance the elderly home delivered meals program. The Walkathon was held in conjunction with the National Miles for Meals Program sponsored by Actress Ann Jillian.

The Council on Aging expressed their appreciation to the large number of persons who were Miles for Meals sponsors.

Walkers taking part in the walk were:

Rep. Randy Roach, Kenneth Fredrick, Freddie Richard, Bill Hargrave, Oscar Reyes, Gail Wolfe, Rickey Wolfe, Margaret Griffin, Lucille Miller, Tutt Savoie, Dinah Vaughn, Lou Etta Nunez.

Linda Welch, Charlotte Bailey, Ray Conner, Brent Nunez, Paul Coreil, Phalia Saltzman, Nolan Savoie, Tina Horn, Pat Duhon, Frankie Campbell, Roland Roux, Tammy Roux.

Pageant deadline

Entry forms for the Miss Cameron Parish Pageant scheduled for Friday, Jan. 12, held in conjunction with the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, are now available.

Contestants must be 17 years of age by Jan. 1, 1990 and not over 21, and reside in Cameron Parish for one year. Applications must be received no later than Dec. 15.

Applications can be picked up at any area high school or call Ruby Dupuie at 538-2147.

THE ABOVE TEAM of Kenneth Fredrick, Bill Hargrave, Freddie Richard and Oscar Reyes, brought in the top dollars in pledges at the Miles for Meals Walkathon.

Duhon heads academy grads

Gary L. Duhon of the Cameron Sheriff's Department had the highest scholastic average of the class who graduated from the Calcasieu Regional Law Enforcement Training Academy Nov. 7.

Also graduating with Duhon from the local sheriff's department was Joey Babineaux.

Twenty-nine officers from eleven area agencies received over 280 hours instruction in all phases of basic law enforcement.

State law requires that peace officers receive Basic Training within one year of accepting employment as a police officer and graduates of Calcasieu Academy are certified by the Louisiana Peace Officer Standards and Training Council.

Santa at library

Santa Claus will be at the Cameron Parish Library on Dec. 8, 9 and 10, to have his picture taken with local children. Everyone is invited to stop by.

Santa to be here Dec. 16

Santa Claus will make his annual trip to Cameron to visit area children and will arrive on the Cameron courthouse square Saturday, Dec. 16, at 2 p.m. on a Cameron Volunteer Fire Department fire truck.

Each child will be given a bag of candy by Santa.

The event is sponsored by the Cameron Lions Club and the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department.

Pesticide meets set

Three private pesticide applicator certification meetings will be held during December, according to Gary Wicke, LSU Extension Agent.

The purpose of these meetings is to provide training to private pesticide applicators that will make them eligible for certification or re-certification in the private pesticide applicators program. Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry personnel will be at each meeting to certify or re-certify applicators after the training session is completed.

There will not be a charge for the training. However, the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry will collect a $10 fee for the certification card.

All meetings will start at 7 p.m. at the following locations:

Grand Lake High School, Tuesday, Dec. 4; Hackberry High School, Wednesday, Dec. 12; Creole Fire Station, Thursday, Dec. 13.

Private applicators (farmers and ranchers) who do not have a valid certification card or those who never were certified can be certified by attending one of these meetings.

After the first of the year, the only way a private pesticide applicator can become certified to use restricted-use pesticides is to take a closed-book test in the Louisiana Department of Agriculture and Forestry Area Office in Crowley or at the State Office in Baton Rouge.

Homeowners who do not use restricted-use pesticides need not be certified. Almost all of the pesticides used by homeowners in and around the home are for general use and not retricted-use.

For further information, please contact the LSU Cooperative Extension Office at 775-5516.

Adopt an Angel tree planned

The Cameron Youth Council has set up an "Adopt an Angel" tree at the Sears Catalog Store in Cameron.

Families who have low incomes may have their children placed on the tree by writing to Santa Claus, P.O. Box 204, Cameron.

Please list sizes and three items wanted for Christmas. Deadline is Dec. 14.

Chamber meet

The Cameron Chamber of Commerce will meet Dec. 21, at 11:30 a.m. at the Cameron Motel. All members are urged to attend. A by-law revision will be voted upon as well as the election of board members and officers.

Cattlemen to delay banquet

The Cameron Cattlemen annual banquet and dance, which was originally set for Friday, Dec. 1, has been postponed until a later date which will be announced, according to President Orrie Canik.

Due to the undertainty over whether the South Cameron Tarpons would be in a playoff game this week, final preparations and notices were not completed in time for the banquet to be held this week. Members will be notified of the new date.

Allen to play

Johnny Allen and the Memories will perform at the Cameron K.C. Hall Saturday, Dec. 16. There will be an auction and gumbo will be sold.

Proceeds will go to the South Cameron High School Athletic Department.

Blood drive set at church

Sacred Heart Parish of Creole will sponsor a blood drive Saturday, Dec. 2, and Sunday, Dec. 3, in the St. Rose of Lima Mission Hall.

The bloodmobile will be at the chapel each day at 7 p.m. to accommodate blood donors, according to Msgr. M. J. Bernard, pastor.

CAMERON OUTDOORS

Early shooting best

By Loston McEvers

DUCK HUNTING HOLDING ON

The duck hunting is holding its own, but shooting early is best. The half hour before sunrise has proven to pay off, as many hunters are getting their ducks early. If you choose to wait for better ducks, the limits get harder to kill.

There seems to be a good population of teals and spoonbills. There were plenty of gadwals (gray ducks), but it seems they have moved out. Many of the ducks killed are young ducks, which shows we might have had a fair hatch up north.

A reminder to our young hunters: If you're 16 or over, for the first time the State Waterfowl Stamp is needed to hunt migratory game birds. Don't forget to sign your name across front of stamp.

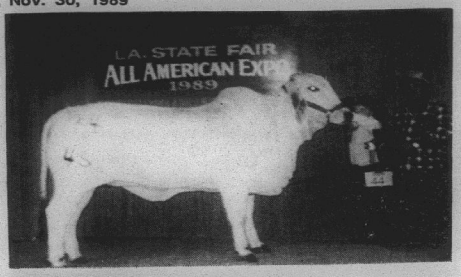
Another reminder is, if you're hunting with one or more persons, be sure to carry your own ducks and not yours and your hunting partner's, as it makes you illegal. If you do carry another persons ducks, be sure they're tagged properly.

SHRIMP SEASON

The shrimp season in Zone 2 of the state's inshore waters has closed as of Nov. 21. That's the portion of Louisiana inshore waters from South Pass of the Mississippi River to the Western Shore of Vermilion Bay and Southwest Pass at Marsh Island.

There were a large number of small shrimp, smaller than legal size. Our zone is still open until further notice.

TIPS



Good areas to cover when still-hunting deer, includes clearings, old homesites or barns on back ridges, brush areas, the edges of rye grass patches.

A deer hunter should periodically check his back tracks and areas off to the sides while still-hunting. Deer will often circle around to check on what spooked them earlier, when you passed that area.

When you shoot a deer, or really any animal, they often will play possum when in danger, some actually faint, some will just freeze and not move. Once they get the opportunity, they will run.

REDFISH

This has really been a great fall redfish month. Nice large redfish being taken, and most anglers are limiting out. Redfish in the 20 to 25 inch length are real common right now.

GULF BEACH ROAD ASSOCIATION

The called meeting of the Gulf Beach Highway Association in Sulphur Friday evening was well attended by workers for the new road project from DeRidder to the town of Cameron. A committee was appointed to go to Baton Rouge Tuesday in the interest of the proposed highway.

Several days ago the Louisiana Highway Commission sent an estimate of the cost of construction of the road south into Cameron to M. F. Hufham, secretary of the association, following the survey of the locating engineers some weeks ago.

Members of the Gulf Beach Association at the meeting last night were anxious to know just what work was included in the estimate sent to Mr. Hufham by the commission and accordingly Benson Vincent, president of the Cameron police jury; Chas. A. Richardson and J. S. Brice were appointed to go to Baton Rouge and confer with the highway commission. They will make their trip early next week.

It is the plan of workers for the new highway to have an approved estimate for submission to the police jury of Cameron at its meeting in December for the purpose of securing an election to provide funds for construction work.

THANKSGIVING HOLIDAY

With much rain and bad weather the day before Thanksgiving, the weather cleared off nice and brought cool 56 degree temperature Thanksgiving Day. Here at the Chenier while driving along the highway one could notice many family gatherings. It was also noticed out of parish sportsmen spending the Thanksgiving weekend, taking in the second weekend of duck hunting, while others were just relaxing and doing some fishing.

The hunting has slowed down some and not as good as the first weekend, some sportsmen state they had to stay longer in their blinds but still getting their limits while others are not doing as well.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS

With Thanksgiving gone by, some folks got busy the next day putting up their outdoor and indoor Christmas lighting. This past year there were approximately 100 homes beautifully decorated both inside and outside.

So far within the past five days there have already been ten homes with outdoor decorations, which is showing that Christmas is only three weeks away.

Mamie and Fred Richard spent Thanksgiving with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ball and children in West Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Garner Nunez celebrated a big Thanksgiving Day and also celebrated several birthdays. Helping celebrate the day were Jim Young and family of Sweetlake, Lee Nunez Jr. and family and the Garner Nunez family.

Cameron no longer top fishing port

The official 1988 commercial fisheries landing figures are in and Louisiana has slipped to second place for the first time in many years.

Louisiana for years held the title of first place and Cameron was the number one fishing port in the nation.

Alaskan production took a big jump to 2.6 billion pounds.

Louisiana lost 500 million pounds of production and fell to 1.4 billion pounds.

Menhaden accounted for most of the decline with a 30% drop in landings, although other fisheries such as shrimp (which was down 13%) also declined.

The Empire-Venice area came in first in the state and was fifth in the national ranking, followed by Dulac-Chauvin with a national ranking of No. 7; Golden Meadow-Leesville, 14th place in national ranking, and cameron, in 17th national ranking.

The value of the fisheries industry in 1988 in Cameron was $33.2 million dollars.

THIS IS the famed "bugged" American Embassy building in Moscow that was completed several years ago but never put in to use due to the many listening devices discovered throughout the building. (Photo by Geneva Griffith)

Life in Russia no bed of roses, writer finds

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

MOSCOW--At the American Embassy we were startled by the number of people clamoring to get into the building for permits to leave the country, and were held back by guards who surrounded it.

We were directed from the Embassy to go around the corner to the compound where all of the Americans in Moscow live and had to wait in the office of the compound until we could be escorted in by higher authorities -- the security was extremely tight.

We also noted that there was an air of urgency in those in charge, and were later to find out that a surprise visit by Allen Greenspan, the chairman of the U. S. Federal Reserve, had just arrived in town and was expected at any minute.

He pulled into the compound gate just as we were leaving, in his official car, with the American flags flying.

We later heard that this visit was to help arrange the meeting between President Bush and Premier Gorbachev to take place next month.

The compound is composed of rows of houses, beautifully furnished for the American citizens to live in.

Between the compound and the Embassy is the chancellery, or new office building that was built four years ago and cannot be used because it was discovered to be full of listening devices.

Mike Murley, the second secretary of press information, gave us the apologies of Ambassador Jack Matlock, who could not be present and explained how the Russians had bugged the building, had monitored all phone calls, and even conversations inside the buildings by bouncing lasers off the windows.

He explained that new policies on Glassnost have changed things immensely in the last three years, even to letting investigative reporters report what is going on, not as much as the West, but the news reporting is getting more like the American press.

He was asked, "What is the Soviet's reaction to all the Soviets leaving and the exodus from East German".

"Confusion", was his answer, "but the standard of living in the Soviet Union is not good -- it is not a consumer oriented society."

We observed this to be the truth because the grocery store shelves were half-filled and the consumer goods, such as fashions were shoddily made and drab.

We asked our Russian tour guide where she got the designer jeans she was wearing and she replied, "I traded for them from an American tourist."

The Embassy official explained that there are 256 official diplomats living and working in the Embassy, which is also guarded by the U. S. Marines. Soviets are banned from working there and help has to be brought in from other countries.

"It's an exciting time to be here, what with Soviet economic reforms, and all the changes taking place. The man on the street is a little less apprehensive about talking to Americans.

The American Ambassador briefs Russian journalists every Friday and they report it in the daily newspapers."

This was confirmed by the Russian news media that we visited with wherein the editors told us that there were no restrictions put on their reporting of events in the past two years.

Adrienne Segal, with the Embassy staff, told me, "In the past two years the Russians smile more and dress better. Gorbachev seems to be trying hard and is succeeding politically, but the economics are bad."

Phyllis Kirk, a young lawyer from Denver, Colo., told us that she has chosen to make her home in Moscow, "because this is one of the most exciting cities and times in the world - what's happening right here is going to be the trend."

She is learning the Russian language and has set up a law practice in Moscow, and is president of ASTADA, helping to bring Western companies to the Soviet Union to set up economic enterprises.

She explained that this is a perilous time for Gorbachev, but he is trying, and one of the main things he is doing is to try to bring joint ventures into the country (other countries joining forces with the Russians to set up companies).

She explained that up until now the Russians have had no incentives to work more than they just have to.

Everyone is expected to work, women and men, until the women are 55 and the men reach 60, at an average salary of 200 rubles a month.

They are guaranteed a job for life and they get paid whether they work or not, so they do not worry about broken escalators or elevators in buildings.

They all live in drab apartments in high rise buildings, all alike, with the rent subsidized by the government, costing them about 40 rubles a month.

Their health care is free, under the socialist government, but it is hard to get in to see a doctor.

The average retirement wage is 40 rubles a month, which is why we saw so many old women still working sweeping the streets, weeding gardens and at other menial tasks, while the men have their own private enterprises, many in the Black Market.

"I think this is the human drama -- this country is struggling to regain its soul," she said.

From Moscow we made an excursion into the Russian countryside along the Gorky highway to Vladimir, a classical Russian city founded in the 12th century.

We had lunch in the Spasoyekfimevsky monastery in Suzdal, where we ate an eight course meal.

The ancient monastery and grounds was once the refuge and where the Russian Czars sent their ex-wives to live out their lives when they divorced them.

We visited an Intourist office where a sign on the wall was written in both English and Russian, "Tourism -- a vital force for world peace."

It was food for thought.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality is proposing to issue a final Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System (LWDPS) permit to Amoco Production Company. This permit will, if issued, establish effluent limitations and monitoring requirements for the discharge of certain wastewater streams associated with the company's oil and gas exploration, development and production operations in the West Hackberry Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana. The final permit, if issued, will require termination of existing produced water discharge at the West Hackberry Field, Central Tank Battery Number 2 production facility within six (6) months after the permit effective date or by an alternate date determined by submission of an acceptable plan for termination of the discharge. Termination of produced water discharge from this facility will be required because of restricted receiving water circulation. Receiving waters in the West Hackberry Field include Black Lake, Kelso Bayou, Alkali Ditch, Black Bayou, and associated unnamed canals and watersheds. The limitations and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.

During the preparation of this permit, it has been determined that these discharges will have no adverse impact on the existing uses of the receiving waters. As with any discharge, however, some change in existing water quality may occur.

The designated uses of the receiving waters are being partially supported. Impairment of designated uses is attributed to bacterial contamination, high levels of suspended of solids, and to organic pollutants. Suspected sources of contamination include unsewered areas and industrial activities.

The application and proposed limitations may be examined at the Office of Water Resources, 9th Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North Fourth Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Persons wishing to provide data, views or comments, or request a public hearing relative to the issuance of the permit are invited to submit their comments and requests, in writing, within thirty (30) days of the date of this notice using reference No. WP 1473 to:

Department of Environmental Quality, Office of Water Resources, Post Office Box 44091, Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70804-4091, ATTN: Douglas A. Hale. Telephone: (504) 342-6363

All written comments submitted during the period of comment shall be retained by the office and considered in the formulation of a determination to issue a final permit.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK
By Dr. Kevin Cox

DON'T GET CHILLED

Sports experts emphasize, more and more, the importance of proper cool-down after a workout, the need to slow down the cardiovascular system and stretch out overheated muscles.

Rushing out in cold weather when muscles are warmed up is a common cause of muscle inflammation and spasm. Prolonged chilling can irritate the neurosensory system.

Your doctor of chiropractic can offer relief of discomfort with gentle manipulative therapy.

Chiropractic works without drugs. Adjustments are given to restore proper alignment of spinal segments so that nerves - centered in the spinal column - can send natural nerve energy where needed.

Trapping to open in area on December 1

The annual trapping season will open Nov. 20, and run through Feb. 15, in the state's north zone, according to Virginia VanSickle, secretary of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

In addition, an experimental season has been scheduled to begin this year in the north zone, running from Feb. 16, through March 15, during which trappers will be allowed to use only traps with padded jaws (soft-catch traps).

The north zone is that portion of the state north of Interstate 10 from the Texas state line to Baton Rouge, Interstate 12 from Baton Rouge to Slidell, and Interstate 10 from Slidell to the Mississippi state line.

The south zone season will begin Dec. 1, and end Feb. 28.

Other regulations governing buying, selling and shipment of fur are contained in the department's trapping regulations pamphlet.

Out of the Mouths of Babes . . .

Robbie Montie: Rice and Gravy - 1 cup rice, 2 gallons water, 6 gallons salt, little bit of grease. Buy your own gravy at the store. Put all the stuff in a pot and cook for ten minutes, take it out and put the gravy in the rice.

Michael Boudreaux: Macaroni & Cheese - 1 box of macaroni, 2 cups water, 3 gallons salt, 2 gallons pepper, 4 cups butter, 1 gallon cheese. Put macaroni and water in a pot, cook for 8 minutes. Take it out, add the salt and pepper. Stir it and put it in the bowl with the cheese and start eating.

Alicia LaBove: Baked Chicken - 3 chickens, 1 cup of gravy, 2 gloops of salt, 1 gloop of pepper. Put it in a big pan and stir it around, put a little salt and pepper and stir again. Bake it for 4 hours, not too long and take it out. You must hurry with the rice and gravy.

Kesha January: Baked Turkey - 1 big turkey, a little bit of salt, no pepper, 2 cups of gravy. Put the turkey in a pan and bake it for 3 hours, then you take it out and sit it down and now eat it.

Patrick Jones: Fried Duck - 10 ducks, 2 gallons of oil, 3 layers of milk and batter. Don't cut your ducks. Get the oil real hot when you put the stove on. Roll em in the batter and cook for 2 hours and that's all. Now, cut them up and get some Cokes out of the bar, now you can eat.

Louis Fontenot: Baked turkey - 5 turkeys, 1 gallon salt, 2 shoots pepper. Cut up the turkeys, put them on the oven. Bake for 50 minutes, then you take it out and eat it.

Lanette Baccigalopi: Mashed Potatoes and Baked Chicken - 2 for each of us (potatoes), 3 gallons of water, 3 salts, 2 chickens, 2 salts, 1 pie. Mix 2 layers of batter and pour it in the pan, put it in the oven and bake it for about 2 hours. Then you pour some icing in a pan and get a spatula and rub it across and all on the bottom and all around and I think that's all cause I don't know about cooking - call Moma, or Mamaw, or Aunt Judy - they know about all that.

Michael Boudreaux: Chocolate Pie - 1 gallon sugar, 2 gallons chocolate, 3 eggs, 2 gallons milk, 4 pie crusts. Mix it in a pot and that's all. Cook it for 28 hours and take out to cool off. That's it.

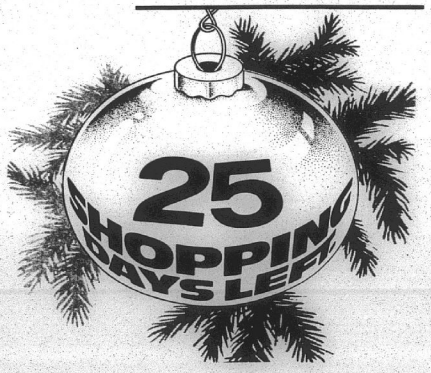
Katie McKoin: Chocolate Cake - 2 cups sugar, 2 eggs, 3 cups chocolate, 2 drops butter, 2 cups flour. Put it in a pan and then in the oven til it's made, then we lick the pot and ice it later. Eat it after it's made.

Jodi Landry: Oatmeal Cake - 5 cans oatmeal, 6 gallons sugar, 2 eggs, 3 gallons water, 2 gallons milk. Mix all the things in a bowl, then put it in a pan and bake it in the oven and bake it for 10 minutes and take it out. Put it in a bowl and ice it. Now, cook it for 5 minutes and take it out and now you munch on it.



Lanette Baccigalopi: Pecan Pie - 3 cups pecans, 2 cups sugar, 4 eggs, 5 cups butter, 3 crusts. You put it all in a pot and cook it for 1 hour. Put it in the crust and cook it for 3 hours and now you eat it.

Keith McKoin: Oreo Cookies - You just buy them at the store. You don't have to make them.

Rica Canik: Chocolate Chip Cookies - 6 bags of chips, 1 gallon of sugar, 3 eggs, 1 gallon flour, 2 gallons butter. Mix em all up and put em in a pan, uh, little cookie and then a big cookie, some are for little kids and some are for big people. Bake them for 3 seconds and take them out and eat them with your hands.

A sprinkle here, a sprinkle there, Christmas cheer is everywhere!

Just because treated lumber is green does not mean it has the proper amount of preservative penetration or retention. Nor does a greenish tint indicate that the lumber will be able to withstand attack by termites, rot and decay. With OSMOSE you can build with confidence. OSMOSE resists termites and decay. Donna LaBove and citizenship plaque

LaBove named as citizen of year

Donna LaBove, assistant vice-president of the Cameron State Bank, was named the recipient of the 30th annual Doxey-Vincent Veterans of Foreign Wars Citizenship Award Saturday night at the post home in Cameron.

Others nominated for the honor were John Driscoll, Debbie Theriot, Joe Soileau, Geneva Griffith, and Rodney Guilbeaux.

Mrs. LaBove was cited for her community service to the Boy Scouts, Cameron elementary pep squad and cheerleaders, the Summer Fishing Festival, the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, Fur and Wildlife Festival, Catholic Daughters, American Business Women Assoc., and the South Cameron High Tarpon Project.

She was nominated by the Cameron Volunteer Fire Dept., Cameron Catholic Daughters Court 1898, Creole Catholic Daughters Court and the Cameron Knights of Columbus 5461.

Wadley Saltzman, Fifth District Commander, presented certificates to the following for their assistance to the VFW post this past year: Savoie Lumber Co., Bernice Bertrand, Cameron Construction Co., Sheriff James Savoie, Cameron State Bank and the Cameron Fire Department, Jeff Davis Electric Co-op, Coastal Laundry and Jean Dimas.

Thirty-five year membership pins were given to McKinley Savoy, Sidney Savoy and Alvin Nunez. A 20 year pin was given to Jean Dimas.

Alvin Nunez, 80, was introduced as the oldest member of the post.

Oscar Reyes was presented with a past commander's pin by Saltzman.

Bernice Bertrand, Auxiliary president, presented certificates of appreciation to Phalia Saltzman, Beneta Guillory and Ruby Nettles.

Past recipients of the Citizenship Award present at the meeting who were recognized were Roland Primeaux, J. Berton Daigle, Phalia Saltzman, Mayola Wicke and Paul Coreil.

Capt. James W. Whorton, public relations officer from Fort Polk, the guest speaker, told the group about the makeup of today's Army and told about the recent assignment in recent months of Polk soldiers to the Virgin Islands to keep order after Hurricane Hugo and to Panama due to the unrest there.

He noted that 55 percent of soldiers today are married and that 9 percent of Polk's soldiers are females.

He said that today's world peace was largely due to the United States maintaining a strong military.

Youth Council tells of two events here

The Cameron Youth Council has announced two projects to help buy toys for needy children in this area for Christmas.

Santa Claus will be at the Cameron Parish Library meeting room this weekend so that children may have their photo taken with him. A $3 fee will be charged with the proceeds to go into the toy fund. A polaroid photo will be given each child showing him or her with Santa.

The schedule this week is: Friday, 4 to 6 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m. to noon; Sunday, 9 a.m. to noon.

Santa will be at Joanne's Place in Creole Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 15, 16, 17 with the same schedule as above.

The council also has set up an "Adopt an Angel" tree at Sears Catalog Store in Cameron.

Families who have low incomes may have their children placed on the tree by writing to Santa Claus, P.O. Box 204, Cameron.

Please list sizes and three items wanted for Christmas. Deadline is Dec. 14.

CHARLES DUHON, South Cameron high football player and a parttime worker in the Cameron clerk of court's office, was greeted with a sign posted by fellow workers telling him how proud they were of him and the Tarpons this year. He is shown with his co-workers. (Photo by Geneva Griffith)

Parish to begin FEMA enforcement

By JERRY WISE

Parish Administrator Garner Nunez told the Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday that he "probably will have people on the road by the end of the week" making a survey of the parish to determine what buildings erected since July 17, 1985, do not comply with the parish's flood insurance ordinance.

This is being done, he said, as the result of a letter from Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) notifying the jury that if the parish is not in compliance with FEMA regulations by March 19, 1990, the parish will be put on probation status with the National Flood Insurance Program.

Six months later, if the parish still is not in compliance, the jury was told, flood insurance will be cancelled in Cameron parish and parish citizens would no longer be eligible for any types of federal aid.

In order to comply with the requirements set forth in its long letter to the jury, Nunez submitted a list of "corrective action procedures" which he said would have to be implemented by the parish.

(Both FEMA's letter to the jury and the correction procedures are to be found in an advertisement by the jury elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.) Nunez said that the parish has issued 235 permits under the flood insurance program in the last few years, but noted that many residents failed to secure permits before building or failed to follow up on their initial permits by submitting elevation data after buildings were completed.

In order to find what buildings have not been properly permitted since 1985, the parish has obtained a list of all electrical hookups made by Jeff Davis Electric Co-op since then, Nunez said.

He said that property owners who are apparently not in compliance with the ordinance will be notified. They will then have to complete the proper applications, obtain elevation surveys, etc., and submit them to the police jury.

It is anticiapted that owners who built without complying with the elevation requirements of the parish ordinance may lose their flood insurance although this is not definite yet.

Juror Ray Conner said that many people had told him that they did not want flood insurance but said he was informed that these people would lose all claim to any type of federal aid without the insurance.

However, the jury decided to leave the matter as voted last month--the establishments being able to open from 4 p.m. to 2 a.m. on the two Sundays.

Larry Dyson, chairman of deacons for the First Baptist Church of Cameron, said he understood that the jury had heard only one side of the matter at its November meeting and had not had time to consult with their constituents.

Dyson said there was strong community feeling against allowing Sunday liquor sales and said that he had also discussed the matter with two Catholic pastors who agreed with his church's stand.

He said allowing the Sunday sales would be setting a precedent for the future and would send mixed messages to the youth over the sacredness of the holy day.

Dyson offered the jury a resolution rescinding last month's action in which it was noted that Sunday was the one day of rest and that there had been no prior public notice on the matter before action was taken.

Juror Kenneth Ducote, who abstained from voting on the matter last month, said he had not been in favor of the jury's action but he felt that the jury should not get into the habit of making a decision one month and going back on it the next meeting. Jury President Carrol Trahan, who was not present at last month's meeting, said he agreed.

Ducote said the jury probably was at fault for not deferring action until talking to members of their district.

Juror George LeBouef said that he had talked to a number of his constitutents since the last meeting and that 20 of them had been in favor of the Sunday opening and 4 had been opposed.

LeBouef said he personally was not in favor of allowing the Sunday sales but that he was trying to represent the majority of the people in his district.

When no juror offered any further motions on the matter, the jury passed on to other subjects.

The jury approved the Sunday opening last month after Loston McEvers, Creole businessman, asked for the special dispensation on behalf of parish bar and lounge owners noting that the two eves are the best business days of the year for the owners.

Sunday opening not rescinded

Representatives of a number of local churches asked the Cameron Parish Police Jury at its monthly meeting Tuesday to rescind an action that it had taken at last month's meeting permitting bar and lounge operators to sell liquor on the upcoming Christmas and New Year's eves, which fall this year on Sunday.

Co-op to have tree lighting

The annual Christmas tree lighting of the Cameron branch of the Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op will be at 6:30 p.m. Friday, Dec. 15, at the Co-op's radio tower.

Co-op employees, local businesses and agencies have donated time and resources to convert the 300-foot radio tower into a giant "Christmas Tree" decorated with thousands of colored lights along the main mast and tower guy lines.

Events scheduled include child identification and finger printing, co-sponsored by the Cameron Parish Sheriff's office; stress evaluation tests by South Cameron Memorial Hospital; seasonal music; and a visit from Santa Claus.

The tree itself will be covered in fresh evergreens, embellished with huge red bows, sparkling tinsel, and hundreds of colored lights. The program will consist of modern and traditional music celebrating the Christmas season.

The program will be presented in the sanctuary of the First Baptist Church, which will seat approximately 250 people. Seating will be first-come, first-served, and a capacity crowd is expected.

There is no admission charge; the church will receive its annual Christmas offering at the end of the program.

Walter Phillips

Gym dedicated to Phillips

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The gymnasium at Boys Village has been dedicated as the "Walter Phillips Memorial Gymnasium" in memory of Phillips who was a board member of the Village for over 40 years.

It was dedicated last week at the annual Optimist Club Boys Village Thanksgiving dinner.

His wife, Marilyn Phillips, unveiled a portrait of him which will hang in the gym along with a bronze plaque which reads, "He loved children; He loved sports; He loved life."

Other members of his family attending were Arn Smith, a stepson; and his daughters and their husbands, Elizabeth and David Richard of Grand Chenier and Frances and Philip Byler of Lake Arthur.

Mr. Phillips died last year, after living in Lake Charles since 1947. Not long after moving here from Lafayette and starting his printing business, he joined a newly organized civic club, the Downtown Optimist Club of Lake Charles.

The motto of Optimist clubs is "Friend of the Boy" and the club led in forming a home for underprivileged boys, Boys Village, near Iowa.

Along with other members of the Optimist Club, Phillips played an integral part in getting the Village started. He continued to care for those boys and more recently, girls, by serving as a board member from then until the time of his death.

Having had an interest in sports since he was a youngster, Walter became active in a leadership role in many league and sporting activities in this area.

The South Cameron High School Athletic Department will sponsor a dance at the Cameron K. C. Hall Saturday, Dec. 16, starting at 9 p.m.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Kevin Cox

HOW TO LIFT ANYTHING

Whether you're a warehouseman stacking heavy cartons, a new mother with a baby who's getting heavier every week, or a shopper bringing home the groceries, soon or later you have to lift and carry something. But, be careful how you lift.

Keep your back flat, squat down to get a firm grip on what you're lifting, then use your legs, not your back, to bear the weight. Steady your legs by keeping the feet parallel and well spaced; use both arms for balance.

If any lifting motion causes pain, see your doctor of chiropractic promptly for examination and the expert adjustment therapy that restores spinal integrity.

Basketball, wrestling beginning at schools

By ROBERT MANUEL

With the end of football season, South Cameron will go full ahead into basketball and wrestling.

Cameron Parish basketball teams are in a rebuilding cycle with no definite powerhouse returning. District-wise, several teams are showing playoff possibilities and if improvement and commitment come through, we will see some good basketball play from all our parish teams.

The parish basketball titles will be decided soon as the Cameron parish basketball tournament is scheduled for Dec. 13-15, at Johnson Bayou.

The tournament titles are up for grabs with no one a certain winner. The tournament games are always highly competitive and any of the teams could be the winner.

Tarpons have good prospects in 1990

By ROBERT MANUEL

Articles written for publication and mailed on Tuesday for that week's Cameron Pilot have increasingly become a hit or miss situation. It seems our mail gets sidetracked to Lafayette instead of Lake Charles. The one day delay has our mail arriving in DeQuincy on Thursday morning instead of Wednesday morning.

As if missing the Tarpon-University Cub's quarter-final game wasn't bad enough, missing the opportunity to offer closing comments on the Tarpon's '89 season was perhaps even worse to my personal commitment.

Like the news I received from Hot Springs, Ark., the 46-6 setback was an unbelievable shock. Well, to make that story short, it happens to the best of teams even to the high flying University Cubs, who lost to Oak Grove 14-7 in the semi-finals.

The Tarpons team and coaching staff are already preparing for next year. Back to present, a healthy outlook for the future are 12 seniors, 12 juniors, 24 sophomores and 13 freshmen.

The '89 Tarpon team went as far as their best efforts could take them. From this corner, it was a far greater season than anticipated. The games were seasoned with excitement and an amazing display of football play.

The Tarpon tradition was kept on the roll, largely due to the 13 seniors on the squad. Although not all starters, their maturity and stability were prime factors and unique contributions to the Tarpon '89 success story.

Grand Chenier News

By Elora Montie

This past weekend, Monday, Dec. 4, meant the closing of the first half of the split duck season. Most of the sportsmen hunted over the weekend, but didn't hunt Monday as they brought in their boats, canoes, and decoys and are making preparations for the last half of the duck season. The turnout of the out of parish sportsmen was not as many as the opening day of the season due to hunting that slowed down after the first weekend.

Hunters stated that the first weekend was good but slowed down. The next weekend was fair with not many getting their full limits. But with redfishing good around the Chenier and surrounding area, many who didn't get their duck limits went fishing and caught nice catches of redfish which helped fill their day.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING

With cool, nice weather this past week, Chenier folks really kept busy with their Christmas shopping and decorating in and outside of their homes. Week before last there were ten homes decorated. This week there are approximately fifty.

East Feliciana sheriff made hunt here in 1928

CAMERON PARISH HUNT
Sheriff C. A. Andrews of East Feliciana Parish, spent several days hunting in Cameron Parish last week. He was accompanied by three friends from Clinton. They were entertained at the home of G. H. Savoy. Mr. Savoy led them to good hunting grounds and they came away with their car loaded with ducks, geese, crabs and oysters.

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 6, 1927)
VANDALS AT BIG LAKE
Basile Daigle, of Cameron Parish, who was in Lake Charles today reported recent depredations to culverts and small ridges over roads southeast of Big Lake.
Mr. Daigle said that unknown parties had torn up the planks of wooden culverts sometime during the night last Saturday night with the result that traffic over the roads was endangered, the holes in the road being unprotected.
Depredations were done to culverts leading to his place and to the places of John Daigle and Abraham Croker, near Big Lake, Mr. Daigle said.

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 6, 1929)

Some of the trappers on Hackberry Island have reported that their traps have been stolen from where they were left set in the marshes.
It is thought that some hunters may be finding the traps and taking them while hunting, or else someone is out stealing traps at night.

MUSING . . . . . By Bernice Denny

A wintry memory

It was the middle of December, 1929. A blizzard blew through Cameron Parish. Heavy rains fell. The temperature dropped rapidly and continued to drop. Massive icicles clung to fences and the eaves of buildings. Trees were sheathed in ice. So were the tall coffee weeds and reeds in the marshes.

Suddenly the old familiar world was frozen in space; had become a sort of never-never land of unreality and dazzling magnificence.

Fierce north winds rattled ice-clad branches that responded with clanking sounds like steel striking steel. The ground wasa frozen. Marshes, too, froze over.

My brother, Archie, and I, both of whom were attending Lousiana State Normal, were returning home from Natchitoches for the Christmas holidays. During the five-hour boat trip from Lake Arthur to Grand Chenier we few passengers huddled comfortably in the little cabin of Capt. Adam Nunez's "Delta."

Carl McCall, our grandmother's nephew, had driven our family car to the boat landing to meet us. Our grandfather was not well enough to brave the inclement weather.

As we drove past the Catholic Cemetery adjacent to the Grand Chenier village, we saw a young man kneeling at a new grave. Sleet slithered around him. It was a heart-wrenching sight.

Carl explained that the bereaved, a former high school classmate of ours, had lost his wife, also a former classmate, and ders, Angela Seay and Brandy LaBauve.

that her funeral had been held that day. His family and friends had been unable to coax him away from her grave. The pathetic scene called to mind Edgar Allen Poe's "Annabelle Lee."

Our heaterless Ford crunched along the frozen shell road. We were grateful for the extra wraps that our thoughtful mother had sent along.

At last the cold trip ended. We were home, surrounded by the glowing heat from the big old wood-burner and heart-warmed by the loving embraces of mother and grandparents.

Happy Holidays

THESE RUSSIAN singers helped entertain a group of United States newswomen on a recent trip to Russia. Geneva Griffith of Cameron was a member of the news group.

Russian account continued

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

GENEVA GRIFFITH talks with a Russian security officer while on her recent tour of Russia.

RUSSIA....From Moscow we traveled to Tbilisi in the province of Georgia, located in the Caucasus mountains of South Russia. It was at first thought that our trip would have to be cancelled due to the fighting.

Georgia wants to separate itself from the Soviet Union and there had been 21 deaths the week before we arrived when police supposedly threw gas bombs into a demonstration in Tbilisi.

The city, capitol of the province, is located on the Turkish-Armenia border, and the people seem to be more Turkish than Russian.

The day we arrived there was a sit-down strike and demonstration in the sports arena adjacent to our hotel. We went over to observe the students and towns-people speaking from the stage, which was the porch of the arena. When they found out we were journalists they tried to get us to get up on the stage, but we declined.

I noted that there was a sign posted saying that Madonna was to appear the following week in support of their cause.

The people were very friendly and invited us to their homes to share food and refreshments with them.

I noticed that the black market was especially active here. In Moscow the cafe waiters were peddling everything from rubles to caviar during our meals, but in Tbilisi they would approach us on the street trying to get us to buy all sorts of things for American dollars.

American money seemed to be at a premium and they would follow us everywhere, even into the churches trying us to buy from them. After I bought two Russian military watches for my grandsons I was beseiged by a certain young man who assured me everywhere I went he had the best prices for goods in town.

It was a game we all played with them and everyone seemed to enjoy it. After we got over being scared we would get caught we all played the game. I even figured out how I would get them back home, by putting them in the lead bag I had my film in.

I was later to purchase two hunting knives for my grandsons and had them in my carry-on bags until I was warned that they would be confiscated when they went through security, at which time I hurridly put them in my checked luggage and had no trouble.

We attended a beautiful folklore ballet where dancers and singers in native costumes performed almost unbelievable numbers.

While in Russia we also attended two circuses, which are unlike those we have in the United States. They are held in permanent indoor arenas built especially for the performances and are a cross between a ballet, vaudeville, trapeze and animal act.

The Russians teach their children very good manners, and they will not take anything without giving something back. One night at a circus I complimented a little girl (about 5 years old) who was sitting in back of me on her beauty and gave her a stick of bubble gum.

She gratefully accepted it, but gave me her circus program in return for it, on her mother's instructions.

Bubble gum is an unknown commodity in Russia and the school children followed us around offering us ornamental pins in exchange for a piece of bubble gum.

While in Tbilisi we rode up on the top of a mountain on a finicular (built in 1905) that rode on a railroad track straight up and could get a spectacular view of the city from a park on top.

We visited churches which were built from the time of Christ up to the 5th century.

We also had a cup of strong Turkish coffee in a quaint little coffeehouse that brewed it right in front of you in one cup pots that had frothy cream floating on top, and a dash of cognac to warm it up.

From Tbilisi we took an overnight train, sleeping four to a compartment, to the health spa city of Sochi, by the Black Sea and at the foot of the Caucasus mountains.

It is referred to as the "Russian Rivera" and lives up to its name, because it was obvious that it catered to only the wealthy and privileged class that came for vacations.

The highlight of this excursion was observing the countryside from the slow-moving train that stopped at every little town on the way, and visiting the picturesque Dagomys tea farm up in the mountains where we saw miles and miles of tea growing and were entertained in the teahouse by a Bellalika band while we drank tea and ate tea cakes.

It was here that we found the most beautiful necklaces in the Barioshka in the hotel and the earrings to match in the city museum gift shop.

The Barioskas are located in each tourist hotel and all of the items are priced in rubles, but only take American money.

We left the beautiful beaches of the Black Sea and boarded the Aeroflot airplane for our trip to Leningrad, proported to be the most beautiful city in Russia.

Aeroflot is another story, like something from another century. The only thing you get on the plane is a cup of water served by the cabin attendants in tiny round plastic cups.

The food and drinks come later for a fee; the food smells good, but is so greasy it is almost inedible - something like fried meat pies shaped like hotdogs.

When we started to deplane the cabin attendant said, "Tourists stand back - others go first." I could never figure out why he could tell I was a tourist because I hadn't opened my mouth to say a word.

Duck hunting has been good

FIRST SPLIT FOR DUCKS GOOD

The first split of our duck season is over and after talking to many hunters, it turned out good, with easy limits most days and good ducks making up the limits. With all the hot weather we have had, this was good news.

The second split part of the duck season will start Dec. 26 and run through Jan. 7. I think this part of the season should be as good or maybe better, as we're starting to get a little colder weather.

Southwest Louisiana is better known to visiting sport hunters as the "waterfowl paradise". We have a variety of different ducks to shoot, plenty of ponds and feed for wintering ducks and this makes Cameron Parish very attractive.

We do hold probably 3 to 4 million ducks south of the Intracoastal Canal from the Texas line to, say, Houma. Along with close to a million geese. These ducks winter here and those that pass through we see going and coming back to go north as late as May, especially blue wing teal. These ducks going to Mexico or Yucatan are extra shooting ducks, besides the ones that stay for the winter.

Last year, hunting was down, with many hunters not hunting at all, so the harvest was down 50 percent. I think this helped out, and more birds were able to breed and this year it seems we're seeing more ducks.

Looking forward to a good second half.

Even though we do have a break in duck and goose season, there's still plenty of hunting to do. Rabbit, squirrel, quail, rails, gallinules, snipes and woodcock are still open. Now, don't forget the last of three splits for doves will open Dec. 9.

Don't say it's too cold, because some of the best dove hunting comes towards the last. Many hunters hunt the first weekend of the season for doves and that's it.

There's up to 90,000 hunters throughout Lousiana opening weekend for dove, but the rest of the 69 or so days is left alone. The birds aren't as scattered and frightened as opening weekend and you have the fields all to yourself.

Mourning doves are like an annual crop of corn or wheat. They have extremely short life spans because of predators, disease and migration. Natural death runs as high as 50 to 70 percent each year and that's not counting the impact of hunting. However, nature steps in as doves, when paired off, will nest through the spring and early summer, raising two to five broods of two chicks each.

In a normal year a count of 500 millon doves; a nationwide hunter harvest of 45 million, will take place, but you can see this is a renewable resource.

DEER SEASON

Also, don't forget we still have the last split of deer season, Dec. 9 through Jan. 3, 26 days left in our zone of Southwest Lousiana.

The overall deer population in Louisiana has increased 40 percent annually. The exceptionally mild winters we've had the last three years has helped the population grow. We probably had 650,000 deer in Louisiana to start our season.

In a normal year, Louisiana has about 180,000 licensed hunters for deer, plus about 30,000 more, who due to their age, are not required to buy a license. In recent years deer hunting has declined across our state. About 175,000 actually hunt deer and the kill is between 150,000 and 160,000 deer statewide for the entire season.

In our area or district here in Southwest Louisiana, Acadia, Cameron and Vermilion parishes are open and portions of Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Iberia, Jefferson Davis, Lafayette, Rapides, St. Landry and Vernon parish are also open.

You can see that there are three different habitat areas. Coastal marsh, prairie and pine-hardwood hills.

In our coastal marshes this year, deer harvest is good. In the prairie area, mostly farm and land with scattered patches of woods, harvest is low. In the pine-hardwood hills, the population has remained stable.

Good trophy bucks are there. At the West Bay Wildlife Management Area, which has thick underbrush, the deer population is high. I have hunted this area, and you do have to work the thickness and have patience. At the Sabine Island WMA is fair,but produces nice trophy bucks.

Now you can see we still have plenty of hunting left. Don't forget the redfish, 'cause this is the time.

Police Jury Briefs

These were some of the matters that the Cameron Parish Police Jury acted on at their monthly meeting Tuesday:

APPOINTMENT

Ronnie Johnson was appointed to the Recreation District 6 board of directors to replace Russell Corley who resigned.

LIQUOR PERMIT

A liquor permit was approved for Loston McEvers, doing business as Evelyn's Private Club at

VARIANCES

A variance from the parish flood insurance ordinance was granted to Petroleum Helicopter to construct a helicopter hanger at Cameron.

Also a variance was given to Dorothy Braddock for a mobile home at Johnson Bayou on the ground that she is legally disabled.

Both variances were granted under the condition that FEMA approves them. The variance will permit the buildings to be at ground level instead of elevated as required by the flood ordinance.

LIBRARY TAX

Mrs. Ada Broussard returned to the jury to request permission for the Parish Library Board to call a 3-mill tax election for March 3. Two mills would be the renewal of the present tax and an additional mill would be asked for library expansion.

Juror George LeBouef asked the jury to delay action on the request until the January meeting to permit him to find out how his constituents feel about the proposed tax and the jury agreed to do so.

CLERK OF COURT REQUEST

Cynthia Ann King of the Cameron Clerk of Court's office asked the jury to increase the clerk's budget for the coming year. She was advised that the jury's budget had already been prepared but that the jury would consider amending it after the first quarter.

The jury later voted to request all parish agencies to turn in their budget requests by Sept. 1, in order to give the jury time to consider them.

PARISH BUDGET

The jury adopted the 1990 budget which totals $6,127,413 in anticipated revenues and $5,655,054 in expenditures.

However, Garner Nunez, parish treasurer, pointed out that of this figure only $3,524,161 is the jury's proposed expenditures and $3,806,008 its anticipated revenues. The other funds are dedicated to special purposes or districts such as the courthouse and jail, health unit, library, fire departments, criminal court, garbage department, etc.

HIGHWAY REQUESTS

Two jurors asked the jury to write to the state highway department and the area legislative delegation to try to get some of the recently approved Highway Trust Fund money for parish projects.

Ray Conner asked that funds be sought to improve Hwy. 27 north from Creole as an evacuation route and also to pay for billboards advertising the parish's tourist attractions.

George LeBouef asked that funds be asked to build a road directly north from Cameron to Big Lake which would reduce the distance to Lake Charles by 15 miles. He said this would help the Cameron area to grow and also would provide a storm evacuation route.

SHIP CHANNEL

LeBouef also asked the jury to write the Corps of Engineers requesting them to fill in some gaps on the banks of the ship channel when maintenance dredging is done again. He said this would help keep pollution out of parish marshes.

CONTRACT AWARDED.

The jury voted to award a $37,913.13 contract to Dyson Lumber Co., low bidder on the construction of a new sub-firestation in the Cameron area.

Action had been postponed on this matter since the firm did not have a performance bond when the bids were opened.

LeBouef said the bond had been secured at a cost of $1500 by the local firm and he asked that this amount be added to the contract amount if it could be legally done. He noted that this would still be lower than the next bid which was $46,000.

The jury agreed to this request, but Juror Ducote was opposed.

SOLID WASTE

Garner Nunez reported that the parish's garbage and solid waste is now going to Jeff Davis parish and that due to the additional costs the jury will have to take $80,000 out of its general fund next year for this service for a total expenditure of $680,000.

The jury agreed to contract with a local firm, Wendell's Electrical Service, to use a chipping machine to chip up limbs and trees at the dump sites instead of putting them in the dumpsters which would save a considerable amount in hauling and tipping fees. After one month, the jury will decide whether to continue the chipping on a contract basis or possibly buy its own machine.

Jackpot show set Saturday

The Annual Cajun Christmas Classic Jackpot Show will be held Saturday, Dec. 9, at the Cameron Parish Livestock Barn, according to Gary Wicke, LSU Extension Agent.

Market lambs and hogs will be exhibited. Exhibitors must be current Louisiana 4-H or FFA students. An entry fee of $10 per animal will be charged. Concessions will be furnished by Grand Chenier 4-H Club.

Hog weight cards must be turned in by 9:30 a.m. and market lambs will start weighing at 9 a.m.

TO THE CITIZENS OF CAMERON PARISH:

HERE IS WHAT FEMA HAS TOLD US WE MUST DO!

November 16, 1989

Ernest C.Trahan, President
Cameron Parish Police Jury
P. O. Box 366

Cameron, Louisiana 70631

Dear Mr. Trahan:

This is to inform you that Cameron Parish will be placed on probationary status with the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) on March 19, 1990 unless measures are taken prior to that date to correct all deficiencies and violations to the Cameron Parish floodplain management program to the maximum extent possible.

Probation serves as a formal notice to your community that its implementation of the local floodplain management program has been found to be noncompliant with the minimum criteria of the NFIP. Probation is the first step in the process to suspend community eligibility to participate in the NFIP, the result of which is the loss of available flood insurance coverage within the community.

Meetings with Parish Officials on September 28, 1983; February 25, 1988; February 15, 1989; and October 25, 1989 and in the follow-up correspondence to the Parish dated November 25, 1983; March 22, 1988; January 9, 1989; March 20, 1989; June 19, 1989; and September 21, 1989, noted numerous program deficiencies and violations and outlined required corrective actions to bring the Cameron Parish floodplain management program into minimum NFIP compliance.

Even though it has been determined that deficiencies and violations exist in the Cameron Parish program from the regular program entry in 1974, it has been resolved for the purpose of probation that noncompliant corrective action be accomplished from July 17, 1985 to the present. This is the date that the current Flood Insurance Study with accompanying Flood Insurance Rate Map (FIRM) became effective.

To correct these program deficiencies and violations to the maximum extent possible, the following actions must be taken. These requirements supersede any and all previous Community Assistance Visit (CAV) requirements.

1. The Parish must establish an accurate list of all structures by address, to include residential, commercial, industrial, public, and manufactured homes, that have been built, substantially improved, and/or enclosed since July 17, 1985. In addition to compiling this list, these structures should also be plotted on the appropriate FIRM map panel. A copy of this list and map must be sent to the Regional office upon completion for use in determining potential termination of probation.

2. The above list must then be separated into two individual lists. One list is to include all structures which have not been permitted. The other list is to include all structures which have been permitted, with records to verify whether the permitting resulted in a compliant on non-compliant structure. These two (2) lists must be sent to the Regional office upon completion.

3. Upon Completion of tasks number 1 and 2, complete permit files must be established for each structure on the nonpermitted list. These files should contain, at minimum, the following items:

A. A permit application indicating if the structure is in a flood zone and if so, what zone designation and the required base flood elevation (BFE); nature and use of the structure; and determination if the structure was new, substantially improved, or enclosed.

B. An elevation certificate of the actual lowest floor. Refer to the appropriate section of the regulations for the definitions of lowest floor in regard to A and V zones and for enclosures. [59.1, 60.3(c) (2), 60.3(e) (4)]

C. If the structure is in a V zone, proper V zone certification. [60.3(e) (4) and (5)]

D. If floodproofing of commercial structures was used in lieu of elevation (for A zones only), proper floodproofing certification. [60.3(c) (4)]

E. If the structure is located in an A zone and enclosed below the lowest floor, certification that requirements of 60.3(c) (5) have been met.

F. Verification that fill was not used as structural support in achieving elevation in V zones [60.3(e) (6)].

G. If the structure is a travel trailer or an RV, and is being used as a permanent or part-time residence or camp, and has been at the site for over 180 days, it either must be elevated or removed from the site.

If the structure is found to be in violation of the minimum NFIP standards, a retroactive variance can not be given under any circumstance.

Once the permit files are completed, all structures that are in NFIP violation, for any reason, will require corrective action by the Parish. Corrective action is intended to bring the structure in violation into compliance with the Minumum NFIP standards.

4. The primary objective is to achieve nothing less than total compliance. In the Parish's attempts to achieve compliance, the Parish should employ all legal procedures available to them. At the very minimum, the following items should be documented in regard to corrective action to be pursued:

A. Notation that the violation has been found.

B. Copy of registered letter to owner stating violation(s), required corrective action, time schedules, and possible actions by the Parish if the violation is not corrected.

C. Notation of any other correspondence, meetings, agreements, etc.

D. And finally, if compliance can not be achieved, filing of Section 1316.

5. For those structures on the permitted list, the permit file must be reviewed regarding the proper inclusion of all required documentation. This documentation is to include, at a minimum, those items found in number 3, A through G and the information found in number 4, corrective action, paragraph A through D.

6. Even though the use of variances has decreased and observance of the variance requirements has increased, the use of variances must continue to be monitored closely. All of the requirements of Section 60.6 of the NFIP regulations must be fulfilled. Use of the variance guidance policy (enclosed) should be followed in considering variances. The Parish should continue to notify the Regional office regarding each variance request.

7. The recently developed program of floodplain inspections must be intensified, at least during the time period required to achieve the above items. These inspections should be designed to detect development that has or is taking place without the proper permit and /or development that may be permitted but in violation of the NFIP minimum requirements.

8. The Parish is implementing its floodplain management program under Section 60.3(e) of the NFIP regulations and as such must enforce the requirements 60.3(a) (b) & (c).

Unless otherwise noted, the Parish shall provide this office a monthly progress report to include implementation status, problems encountered, and time schedules for completion.

If these remedial measures are not taken, NFIP probation will become effective on March 19,1990. During the probation period, flood insurance coverage will remain available within you community, however, a $25.00 surcharge will be added to the premium of each new or renewal flood policy sold within the community for a period of no less than one (1) year from the effective date of probation. The Federal Insurance Administration (FIA) will notify each policy holder of this surcharge along with an explanation of the reason. Furthermore, the $25.00 annual surcharge will continue to be added to the premium of all new or renewal flood insurance policies sold during any extended or successive probation periods.

Probation, beginning March 19, 1990, would be for a period of six (6) months, effective to September 17, 1990. Probation can be avoided by accomplishment to the maximum extent possible of the above described requirements by or before March 19, 1990. If this can not be accomplished before March 19, 1990, probation can be lifted prior to September 17, 1990, if all requirements are met and/or gain the Regional Office's approval. If these requirements are not met by September 17, 1990, Cameron Parish will become subject to suspension from the NFIP.

In NFIP suspended communities, where flood insurance coverage is no longer available, the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 prohibits Federal agencies from making grants, loans, or guarantees for the acquisition or construction of structures located in an identified flood hazard area. This restriction applies to assistance from the Federal Housing Administration (FHA), Veterans Administration (VA), and the Small Business Administration (SBA) among others. Lending institutions insured or regulated by a Federal agency may, however, continue to make conventional loans in these areas at their own discretion. If a flood disaster occurs in a suspended community, Federal disaster assistance for the acquisition, construction, or repair of insurable structures within an identified flood hazard area is not available. Furthermore, individual and Family Grant assistance for housing and personal property located in an identified flood hazard area is also not available.

In the event that the Parish FIRM is revised at any time during these proceedings, the BFE's depicted by the map revision will be the BFE's by which elevation compliance will be measured.

You are encouraged to take the necessary remedial measures to avoid the impending probation action and possible subsequent suspension from the NFIP. If you have any questions or need clarification of any part of this letter, please do not hesitate to contact the Region. As in the past, this staff is available to assist Cameron Parish in meeting and maintaining a compliant floofplain management program. Please do not overlook the required progress reporting as this will be used as a guage of compliance.

We are enclosing the following written materials to assist you in meeting the requirements.

*NFIP Regulations
*Retrofitting Manual
*Variance policy guidence
*Section 1316 procedures.

Please address correspondence and telephone calls to Mr. Alton S. Ray, Chief of the Natural and Technological Hazards Division at the above listed address or by calling (817) 898-9124.

Sincerely,

Edd Hargett

HERE ARE OUR PLANS TO COMPLY WITH THESE REQUIREMENTS

CORRECTIVE ACTION PROCEDURES

1. The Parish must establish an accurate list of all structures by address, to include residential, commercial, industrial, public, and manufactured homes, that have been built, substantially improved, and/or enclosed since July 17, 1985. In addition to compiling this list, these structures should also be plotted on the appropriate FIRM map panel. A copy of this list and map must be sent to the Regional Office upon completion for use in determining potential termination of probation.

a. The Administrator will contact the electric companies and obtain a list of all new installations from July 17, 1985 to the present.

b. The Inspector will locate possible substantially improved structures or enclosures.

c. The Engineer will work with the staff to plot the new and substantially improved and/or enclosed structures on the present FIRMs.

d. A copy of this list and map will be sent to the Regional Office upon completion.

2. The above list must then be separated into two individual lists. One list is to include all structures which have not been permitted. The other list is to include all structures which have been permitted, with records to verify whether the permitting resulted in a compliant or non-compliant structure. These two (2) lists must be sent to the Regional Office upon completion.

a. The staff will separate the structures into two lists. One list will include all permitted structures and the other list will include all non-permitted structures. These lists will tell which structures are compliant or non-compliant.

b. The Inspector will locate all non-permitted structures and report on appearance of structure.

c. A copy of these two lists with records of verification of compliance or non-compliance will be sent to the Regional Office upon completion.

3. Upon completion of tasks number 1 and 2, complete permit files must be established for each structure on the non-permitted list. These files should contain, at minimum, the following items:

A. A permit application indicating if the structure is in a flood zone and if so, what zone designation and the required base flood elevation (BFE); nature and use of the structure; and determination if the structure was new, substantially improved, or enclosed.

B. An elevation certificate of the actual lowest floor. Refer to the appropriate section of the regulations for the definitions of lowest floor in regard to A and V zones and for enclosures. [59.1, 60.3(c) (2), 60.3(e) (2) and 60.3(e) (4)]

C. If the structure is in a V zone, proper V zone certification. [60.3(e) (4) and (5)]

D. If floodproofing of commercial structures was used in lieu of elevation (for A zones only), proper flood proofing certification. [60.3(c) (4)]

E. If the structure is located in an A zone and enclosed below the lowest floor, certification that requirements of 60.3(c) (5) have been met.

F. Verification that fill was not used as structural support in achieving elevation in V zones. [60.3(e) (6)]

G. If the structure is a travel trailer or an RV, and is being used as a permanent or part-time residence or camp, and has been at the site for over 180 days, it either must be elevated or removed from the site.

a. The non-permitted structure files will contain the following:

1. The flood zone for the structure and the base flood elevation requirement, the type of structure and whether the structure is new, substantially improved, moved in or enclosed.

2. An elevation certificate of the top of the floor in an A zone or the bottom of the lowest horizontal supporting beam in a V zone will be requested by registered letter from the non-permitted structure's owner. Enclosures will be handled according to the FEMA regulations.

3. V zone certification procedures will be set by the office. All non-permitted structures in the V zone will be requested by registered letter to obtain a V zone certification.

4. There should not be any A zone floodproofing of commercial structures. The inspector will look for possible commercial structure floodproofing. If any A zone floodproofing is found a registered letter will be sent to the owner requesting floodproofing certification.

5. If enclosures are found in the A zone, proper requirements of 60.3(c) (5) will be met.

6. Verification will be made as to whether fill was or was not used for structural support. The inspector will visit any structures built on fill in the V zone.

7. The inspector will locate all travel trailers or RVs and report to the office with an owner's name. A registered letter will be sent to the owner of the travel trailer/RV requesting removal of the travel trailer/RV or proper elevation.

8.No retroactive variances will be given under any circumstances.

4. The primary objective is to achieve nothing less than total compliance. In the Parish's attempts to achieve compliance, the Parish should employ all legal procedures available to them. At the very minimum, the following items should be documented in regard to corrective action to be pursued:

A. Notation will be made that the violation has been found.

B. Copy of registered letter to owner stating violation(s), type of corrective action, time schedules, and possible actions by the Parish if the violation is not corrected.

C. Notation of any other correspondence, meetings, agreements, etc.

D. And finally, if compliance can not be achieved, filing of Section 1316 with FEMA will be made.

c. Notation of any other correspondence, meetings, agreements, etc. will be kept.

d. If compliance can not be achieved, filing of Section 1316 with FEMA will be made.

5. For those structures on the permitted list, the permit file must be reviewed regarding the proper inclusion of all required documentation. This documentation is to include, at a minimum, those items found in number 3, A through G and the information found in number 4, corrective action, paragraph A through D.

a. The structures on the permitted list will be reviewed and have all required documentation.

6. Even though the use of variances has decreased and observance of the variance requirements has increased, the use of variances must continue to be monitored closely. All of the requirements of Section 60.6 of the NFIP regulations must be fulfilled. Use of the variance guidance policy (enclosed) should be followed in considering variances. The Parish should continue to notify the Regional office regarding each variance request.

a. All variances will continue to be discussed with the Regional Office.

7. The recently developed program of floodplain inspections must be intensified, at least during the time period required to achieve the above items. These inspections should be designed to detect development that has or is taking place without the proper permit and/or development that may be permitted but in violation of the NFIP minimum requirements.

a. Inspection will be increased.

8. The Parish is implementing its floodplain management program under Section 60.3(e) of the NFIP regulations and as such must enforce the requirements 60.3(a) (b) & (c).

a. The Parish will implement the FEMA program and will enforce the FEMA program.

9. The Parish will provide the Regional Office with a monthly progress report.

We regret the inconceniences that these new regulations will put on the citizens of Cameron Parish but as you can see above, we have no recourse.

Tobacco policy adopted by board

A parishwide policy governing the use by students of tobacco on school property was adopted by the Cameron Parish School Board at its monthly meeting Monday.

Asst. Supt. Robert Ortego said the policy was similar to a state policy and that all of the schools had had policies in the past. This will give a uniform policy parishwide.

Under the policy students are prohibited from the use or the possession of tobacco, in any form, in school buildings, on school grounds, on school buses or at any school function at or away from school.

The penalty for the use of tobacco is detention or 1 to 3 days suspension and notification of parents on the first offense. (Detention refers to being sent to a detention room for a short period of time during school.)

Detention or suspension is increased for second and third offenses with a fourth offense bringing expulsion.

The penalty for possesion for the first offense is confiscation of the tobacco and warning and notification of parents. Second and third offenses will bring various degrees of suspension with the fourth offense bringing a 3-9 days suspension or expulsion.

A policy governing the use of tobacco by teachers and school board employees was adopted at last month's meeting by the board. This prohibits their use of tobacco except in areas designated by the principal. In addition, they may not carry tobacco on their person where it would be in view of students.

More wetland permits to be required now

A change in the way the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Army Corps of Engineers define wetlands may require many landowners in Louisiana to obtain permits for specific activities planned for their property, says agricultural economist Dr. Clyde St. Clergy of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service.

Such activities will include, but not be limited to, the construction of levees and ditches related to construction of catfish ponds, crawfish ponds, minnow ponds, sewage lagoons, rice levees and irrigation reservoirs.

"It is estimated that in Louisiana, where more than 11 million acres have been classified as wetlands, more than 4.8 million acres is in some type of row-crop production," St. Clergy says.

He says that, according to representatives of the Corps of Engineers, indications are that landowners of wetlands that have been in agricultural production since before 1985 should not have a real problem obtaining a permit for the above-listed activities.

However, owners of wetland acreage converted to farming after 1985 or who own wetlands still in the natural state, will be subject to additional requirements. It may involve allowing an acre of another parcel of land revert to its natural state for each wetland acre converted to one of the above-listed commercial purposes.

St. Clergy says that each permit for such activities will be limited to 320 acres. Other requirements will have to be met for construction of drainage ditches and levees.

The Corps of Engineers is devleoping a general permit that should shorten the time required to obtain a permit. Anyone wanting a copy of the proposed general permit or to make any comments regarding the permit process should contact the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers, Vicksburg District, Attention: CELMK-OD-F, P.O. Box 60, Vicksburg, MS 39181-0060.

Jury group seeks FEMA rules relief

A delegation from the Cameron Parish Police Jury is in Washington, D. C. this week to meet with the director and assistant director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency, and members of the congressional delegation.

They will discuss FEMA regulations imposed on the parish in regard to the National Flood Insurance program.

Making the trip are Police Jurors Brent Nunez and Douaine Conner, District Attorney Jerry Jones, Parish Administrator Garner Nunez, Dr. Joe Suhayda, and Lonnie Harper, Parish Engineer.

Jobs are filled by school board

Ervis Portie was named by the Cameron Parish School Board Monday as the school system's new parishwide maintenance man to take care of most of the air conditioning, plumbing, heating, etc. problems of the schools.

There were 17 applications for the position, and the board went into executive session to discuss the appointment. The school board staff recommended one nomination, but several board members said the board had a policy of promoting persons already employed by the board when it was feasible to do so and they held that Portie should get the job for this reason.

Following the executive session, the board voted to nominate Portie, with board member Rickie Guidry voting no.

There were four applications for a janitor's job at Grand Chenier Elementary School and the board voted to name Willard Little to the post, although the principal had recommended someone else.

There were five applications for a Grand Lake high lunchroom worker job and the board named Marie Elaine Young, who was recommended by the school board staff.

Resignations were accepted from Irene Picou, Cameron Elementary bus driver; Betty Constance, Cameron Elementary lunchroom worker and the board authorized advertising for replacements.

A request by Lisa Murphy Savoie for additional maternity leave without pay for the remainder of the year was granted.

16TH SECTION CLEANUP

The board agreed to hire Tom Hess, wildlife biologist, to inspect a school section at Johnson Bayou to determine if the oil company that formerly drilled on the property had removed all old equipment and restored it to good shape.

The board agreed to also consider other consultants in the parish for similar inspection jobs.

MEETING CHANGE

The board discussed the possibility of changing some of the future meeting dates to make it possible for the Johnson Bayou board member, Dan Billiot, to make the meeting.

Billiot is now working for an oil company offshore and his schedule does not permit him to be available for some of the meetings.

Action on this was postponed until next meeting.

ADVISORY COUNCIL

The board approved the names of a number of parish residents to serve on the special education advisory council. Most of them are presently serving. They are: Dale Swire, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hebert, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Miller, Dean Jim Brown, Rick Merchant, Mary Richard, Dan Dupont, Wayne Batts, Willyne Kestel, Robert Ortego, Dr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders, Mr. and Mrs. Conway LeBleu, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell East, Mrs. Peggy Eagleson, Mrs. Nell Colligan, Mrs. Isabell Gray and Mrs. Mary Lynn Constance.

New court rules regarding drug users

Judge H. Ward Fontenot and Assistant District Attorney Glenn Alexander have announced a new sentencing policy to be implemented immediately in cases involving drug users in Cameron Parish.

This policy calls for the imposition of additional conditions to be included in the terms of probationary sentences for such users.

Drug users will now face the additional requirements of: (1) participation in drug rehabilitation or counseling program; (2) community service; and (3) random drug testing.

Failure to comply with these conditions, or a finding that the defendant has returned to drug use during the period of his probation, will result in a jail sentence.

In implementing the new policy, Judge Fontenot and Mr. Alexander noted that the efforts of law enforcement have been concentrated on the distributors of illegal drugs, since these were the individuals who were most culpable.

Sentences imposed on such defendants have reflected the serious nature of their crimes.

For example, the most recent drug distributor sentenced by the local 38th Judicial District Court received a sentence of ten years at hard labor in the state penitentiary.

However, in order to address the entire problem, these public officials feel it is necessary to take stern measures to make users think twice before they purchase illegal drugs in Cameron Parish.

THIS IS THE Summer Palace of the Russian Czars near Leningrad. Destroyed by the Germans in World War II, it has been restored by the Russian government.

Leningrad USSR's most beautiful

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Leningrad, Russia . . . When we arrived in Leningrad it was easy to see why it is called "the most beautiful city in Russia."

It was the city of Peter the Great, was originally called St. Petersburg, later changed to Petrograd, then renamed Leningrad, after Nikolai Lenin, the founder of the Soviet Communist Union, after the Bolshevick revolution.

We visited the Hermitage, the winter palace containing magnificent works from some of the world's greatest artists, then went out in the country, passing palace after palace to the summer palace at Petrodvorets, Peter the Great's stunning response to France's Versailles.

This palace was completely destroyed by the Germans during World War II during their three year seige on Leningrad, and was restored to its original beauty by the Russian government from pictures and the original plans of the palace.

The furnishings had been taken out and shipped to Siberia by the government just ahead of the German army. We were awed by the extravagant use of gold inlay on the inside as well as on the walls and ceilings.

We were required to wear soft felt shoes over our footwear in order not to damage the richly inlaid floors.

We met with the Union of Leningrad journalists, representing Pravada, Tass, and Estevtia who talked very openly about the direction Russia is taking today and the part the news media is playing in this historical time in their country.

This had verified what we had been hearing everywhere we went, that the press is now working, according to the editors, for "socialism with a human face."

We found the food to be delicious and plentiful, but of course we knew that we were seeing the best face of everything.

We learned that the things Russia is most famous for are necklaces and earrings, colorful stacked dolls (one inside of the other, graduated down in sizes), fur hats and coats, babushki head scarves (named after the Russian name for grandmother), laquered boxes (more valuable if signed and dated), tea, Georgian wine, and colorful scarves.

Armed with as many souvenirs as we thought we could get home with, we started on our trip back.

We were only allowed 62 pounds of checked luggage (carefully weighed), and a carry-on bag and a purse.

We were reminded that on our way out through customs we were not allowed to bring out any Russian rubles and that we would have to turn in our original slip of declarations where we counted our money and listed our valuables when we went into the country.

Our spent money had to equal in the tally on the slip, and we were supposed to be able to produce the receipts for each purchase.

We had learned that a typical dinner menu included the following:

Squallows nest (squid, eggs, and pickles), seafood appetizer, cavier, pancakes (especially on Trove Tuesday), hot appetizer (pikefish cooked in sour cream and boullion), borsche, peasant soup (soup covered with rounds of dough and put back in the oven to brown), brown and white bread, a mead drink (tasted like fermented apple juice), and ice cream and apples for dessert.

Our Russian vocabulary consisted of splasiba (thank you, which we used a lot), strax/viche, menia savit (hello, my name is), naj (knife with a soft j, which I used a lot hunting knives for my grandsons), barioska (Russian gift shops in tourist hotels), dobra outra (good morning), nyet (no), da (yes), prospect (street), and tolks saem (how much does it cost?)

ST. BASIL'S Cathedral, built by Ivan the Terrible to commemorate his victories over the Tarters, is one of Moscow's best known landmarks.
(Photo by Geneva Griffith)

We caught the Aeroflot airplane for the last time for our flight back to Finland where we spent the night at the beautiful little hotel, the Hotelli Torni, in the heart of the city.

We only had time for a short visit to the second largest department store in the world, Stockman's, which was right around the corner from the hotel.

We caught a quick hamburger on the way back to the hotel at a McDonald's restaurant at $6.50 each plus the French fries and Cokes.

We found that Finland's costs are very high and their sales tax is 18%, which is refundable to tourists upon presenting the sales slips to Stockman's stores at the airport.

In summing up my soujourn in this ancient and historic country I must say that I am glad I had the privilege of going at this point in history when so many changes are taking place.

I am glad I was able to meet so many nice and warm people who are wanting to reach the same goals as I am and hope I will live to see this come to pass for their country.

As our group passed through Russia we handed out perfume, makeup, fountain pens, bubblegum, even blue jeans, books, Bibles, and pamphlets to the people who eagerly accepted them.

Bayou second graders write 'scary stories'

The second grade class at Johnson Bayou competed in writing contests in October and November. The theme of the October contest was "Scary Stories." The November theme was "Thanksgiving". Below are the top three stories in both contests.

1st place, Christopher McGee.
The Scariest Story Ever

One night at the graveyard a tomb opened. A vampire came out. All the other tombs opened. Ghosts came out, too. The ghosts went all over town. The vampire bit people. There were dead people. They turned into a deadly town. I was there. I got bit. I fell down and died.I turned into a vampire. I bit people. They died, too. That person and I were good partners. Frankenstein was there. There were bats, too.

2nd place, Sara Nunez.
The Witch

One night I saw a green thing out my window. Then I looked out my window again. I did not see the green thing. I got out of my bed. Then I got a flashlight. I went outside. I saw the green thing. It was a witch. I went to tell my mama and dad. They came outside. The witch ran away.

3rd place, Bridget Trahan.
Halloween

It is Halloween. Halloween is special. Everyone goes to Halloween. It is fun to trick or treat. Everyone dresses up in a costume. Everyone gives candy. One more thing, it is a little scary.

1st place, Megan Zammitt.
The Thanksgiving Spirit

The Thanksgiving spirit is nice to have. The Thanksgiving spirit is sharing. Do you have the Thanksgiving spirit? I have it and it is nice to have. I share on Thanksgiving, too. Does Thanksgiving spirit ever end? Yes it does; but your very spirit, it never end.

2nd place, Christopher McGee.
On Thanksgiving

Thanksgiving is a holiday. Everybody gets together as a family. God gives us thanks. In the old days, the Pilgrims came down. They showed the Indians how to grow food. Everybody eats turkey. A few days before Thanksgiving, we go turkey hunting so we can have a good Thanksgiving. We have it at my Maw Maw Bell's house.

3rd place, Casey Trahan.
A Turkey

And that is the way it happened. They helped the people and they helped each other. And that is the way it happened, a long long time ago.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Kevin Cox

WHAT HAPPENS TO KNEES

Many teens and young adults, especially those who participate in sports, suffer from chondromalacia. This condition, painful and sometimes disabling, involves the articular cartilage of the patella (the kneecap) and the bottom of the long thigh bones that meet it.

Rather than subject a youngster to surgery or injections of dangerous drugs, many thoughtful parents rely on their doctor of chiropractic. Chiropractic emphasizes spinal manipulation, rehabilitative exercises, and bracing if needed.

Chiropractic adjustments are utilized to correct spinal misalignments to permit the normal transmission of nerve energy, letting the body heal itself.

REMEMBER? By Keith Hambrick

New Cameron waterway was sought in 1929

WATERWAY FROM CAMERON

Washington, Dec. 10--The Army board of engineers today heard appeals for a shorter water route for movement of commerce and for communication between Johnson Bayou, Louisiana, and Sabine River, in Texas. W. E. Lea, attorney for Orange County and other interests read a brief appealing for reversal of a recommendation by District Engineer Major Milo P. Fox of Galveston, that the water route should not be completed.

Lea contended the only means of communication between Johnson's Bayou and any other community was by water, that the logical and obvious passage was the east pass of Sabine Lake into the Sabine-Neches canal and that if the route were completed, the cost of maintenance would be decreased because thereby the cost of moving the dredge into the region to maintain the channel would be lowered.

He said the east pass route was natural and the shortest route between Johnson's Bayou and Orange, that it was better protected than the others because it hugs the east and the shore of Sabine Lake, and therefore would be safest for small craft carrying fruit and vegetables and furs from the community and surrounding marshes to market.

He emphasized that water transportation was the only means people have of securing mail and medical attention. The board of engineers took the project under advisement.

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 12, 1930)

CAMERON OYSTER TERRITORY

The coastal territory of Cameron, always a fine breeding ground for oysters, will be utilized more than ever in the future for oyster culture with the opening of a seafood company at Cameron last month. The company will specialize in the canning of oysters and shrimp for the wholesale market, and reefs and fishing grounds covering about 257 acres in the Calcasieu River will be utilized as the source of supply. The company was started and is operated by local men of Cameron.

Council tells activities

The Cameron Youth Council is a group of concerned volunteers in Cameron Parish who meet monthly to plan programs to meet the needs of parish youths.

The Council believes that youth problems and their prevention are the responsibility of the community and that the contributing factors and solutions are to be found in the community. Factors causing youth problems are peer pressure, drug and alcohol abuse, truancy, lack of alternative activities, poor parenting, family problems and lack of community concern are noted. Local resources are used to provide programs and activities.

The Cameron Youth Council meets on the first Thursday night of each month at 7 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Library. Persons interested in being involved with the Council are invited to these monthly meetings.

Two precincts are moved

The Cameron Parish Police Jury this month voted to change two polling places in the parish.

District 4, Precinct 4 will move from the Klondike Parish Barn to the Klondike Community Center and District 5, Precinct 1 will move from the Creole WOW Hall to the Creole Community Center.

The polling places had been moved from the two community centers last year after the police jury was forced to close them due to a lack of funds. New taxes were voted in each district to provide funds for reopening the centers.

It was moved by Mrs. Constance, seconded by Mr. Trahan, and carried, to approve the financial statement.

Murder ... to be in sp...

Joan Marie Benoit, 34, who was indicted Friday afternoon for first degree murder in connection with the June 1986 slaying of Mrs. Julia Ethel Doxey, probably will be brought to trial in Cameron District Court in March or April, according to Assistant District Attorney Glenn Alexander.

Alexander said the Cameron Parish Grand Jury had been scheduled to hear evidence in the murder case in early January but was called into session Friday following the death of Mrs. Doxey's husband, Rupert "Ruto" Bernard Doxey, 70, at 2:45 a.m. Friday morning in a Lake Charles hospital.

The assistant district attorney said that it was feared that Benoit, who was in the employ of Mr. Doxey, might flee the area now that her employer was dead.

Benoit was arrested at 2 a.m. Saturday at the home of relatives in New Iberia. She is now in the Cameron Parish Jail where District Judge Ward Fontenot has ordered her held without bond.

Although there had been no arrests since Mrs. Doxey was murdered June 24, 1986, Benoit and Rupert Doxey had both been ordered by Judge Fontenot since then to present certain physical evidence to the Grand Jury in connection with the case.

Mr. Doxey reportedly suffered a "massive stroke" in Cameron and was given emergency treatment at the Cameron hospital and then transferred on to the Lake Charles hospital where he died.

Mrs. Doxey was murdered on June 24, 1986 but her body was not found until the afternoon of Wednesday, June 25, when it was found in the family truck on Broussard Beach near Cameron.

Mrs. Doxey's husband had notified the Cameron Parish Sheriff's department that his wife was missing after he returned to the Doxey home just east of Cameron about 9 a.m. on Wednesday. Bloodstains were found through-

Sheriff James (Sono) Savoie said after an autopsy that Mrs. Doxey, who was 65, had been beaten, shot and stabbed.

The body was discovered on the same afternoon that Cameron parish residents evacuated the lower part of the parish ahead of Hurricane Bonnie, which eventally hit the coast near Port Arthur, Texas.

Festival in Open House

Hayes P. Picou, Jr., president of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival announces that the festival will take part in the Louisiana Open House campaign, Jan. 11-13, in Cameron.

As part of the Open House, the Louisiana Office of Tourism is sending a story telling pavilion to the festival.

The Louisiana Open House is a statewide event for 1990 and an economic redvelopment initiative designed to increase tourism revenues and improve the way Louisianians feel about their state.

Anyone wishing to participate in the event during the local festival may contact Pat Mire, P.O. Box 821, Eunice, 70535; phone, 318-457-8214.

Picou says, "We welcome the story telling pavilion to Cameron Parish and know that it will be a big asset to our upcoming festival."

Offices closed

All Cameron parish government offices will be closed Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 25, and 26, in observance of the Christmas holidays.

Coreil winner of top state award

Paul Coreil, parish chairman of the Cameron Extension staff and area fisheries agent, was presented the Floyd S. Edmiston Award at the recent Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service annual recognition banquet in Baton Rouge.

He received a plaque and $1,000 from the LSU Alumni Association.

His was one of the two top awards given at the banquet. Philip H. Massey, editor of the Extension Service's statewide news service, received the First Mississippi Corp. Award, which includes a plaque and $1,500.

Coreil was instrumental in creating the Cameron Parish Alligator Hide Sale, which has been the second largest public auction sale of its kind in the state in its two years of operation, generating thousands of dollars for the parish economy.

He was cited for a comprehensive program that serves both mainland and offshore fisheries industries.

Coreil's citation read: "During 1988, he made 2,280 office contacts, 908 boat, home and processing plant visits, wrote 42 newspaper articles and mailed 10 newsletters to an average of 920 recipients. He appeared on seven radio and television programs and distributed 2,500 publications related to fisheries and wildlife."

He has been active in changes in Louisiana laws that allow commercial shrimpers to form self-insurance pools, cleanup of the Calcasieu Estuary and area beaches and the formation of a parish Chamber of Commerce.

He was the Chamber's first president and was instrumental in keeping industrial jobs in the parish. He was involved in the introduction of state and national legislation to help control beach erosion.

Patsy Granger, Calcasieu home economist, was among the extension agents who have retired this past year who were honored. She is a native of Cameron parish and a former Cameron parish home economist.

PAUL COREIL, left, parish chairman of the Cameron Parish LSU Extension Staff and Area Fisheries Agent, here receives the Edminston Award from Tony Gustwick, director of LSU Alumni Relations, at a recent dinner in Baton Rouge. Coreil also received a $1000 cash award.

Monkey Is. Bridge plans announced

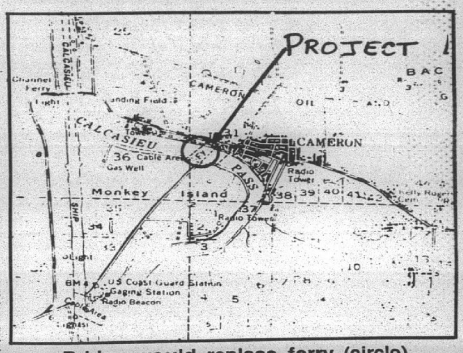
The Louisiana Dept. of Transportation and Development plans to replace the existing ferry at Monkey Island in Cameron with a low-level fixed span bridge, according to a notice from the U.S. Coast Guard which is asking for views from all interested parties.

The small ferry has operated for many years between the town of Cameron and Monkey Island, an island that is formed by the crook of the Calcasieu river being cut off by the ship channel.

Prior to about 30 years ago when the large Cameron ferry was placed on the ship channel, the Monkey Island ferry, plus another small ferry on the ship channel near the old Coast Guard station, were the only routes into Cameron from the west.

Today, the traffic on the Monkey Island ferry is relatively light and is used only by persons living or working on the island.

Although the fixed span bridge would cut off boat traffic on the river at that point, shrimp and crew boats using docks on either side of the bridge would be able to come around through the ship channel.



Many residents have expressed their desire for the bridge because it would make the island more accessible for marine and business development, as well as residential development.

However, there could be some opposition from marine interests in the river opposed to having to go around through the ship channel to reach points on the other side of the proposed bridge.

"We are soliciting the views of all interested parties to determine if the proposed project will unreasonably affect present and prospective navigation on the waterway," the notice states. "Please note that the bridge would not prevent vessels from moving north or south from the bridge site."

The proposed bridge would have a vertical clearance of 15 feet above the water and a horizontal clearance of 95 feet.

Interested parties are requested to express their views in writing, giving sufficient detail to establish a clear understanding of reasons for support or opposition. Comments will be received at the Eighth Coast Guard District, Bridge Administration Branch, 500 Camp Street, New Orleans, La. 70130-3396 through Jan. 22.

Photos sought

The Louisiana Black Heritage Festival is looking for photo's depicting life in the Black Communities of Louisiana from 1800 to 1950.

The photos will be exhibited Feb. 21-25, 1990 during the festival at the Lake Charles Civic Center. Please include a brief description of each photo and mail to P. O. Box 16365, Lake Charles, La. 70616-6365 or call (318)478-2127. The photos will be returned.

Parish and FEMA reach agreement

Ernest Carol Trahan, President of the Cameron Parish Police Jury, announced the following agreements were reached between FEMA and a delegation representing the Cameron Parish Police Jury at a meeting held Dec. 14, in Washington, D. C.

ENFORCEMENT AGREEMENTS

The Nov. 16, 1989 enforcement action for Cameron Parish will be amended so as to provide:

1. The March 19, 1990 date for corrective action by Cameron Parish will be extended so as to provide a like delay from the date that Cameron Parish receives the new FIRMs (flood Insurance Rating Maps). Preliminary maps are due mid-January, final maps are due mid-April.

2. In the interim, Cameron Parish will identify all structures which have been constructed since July 17, 1985 and for which no permit has been obtained.

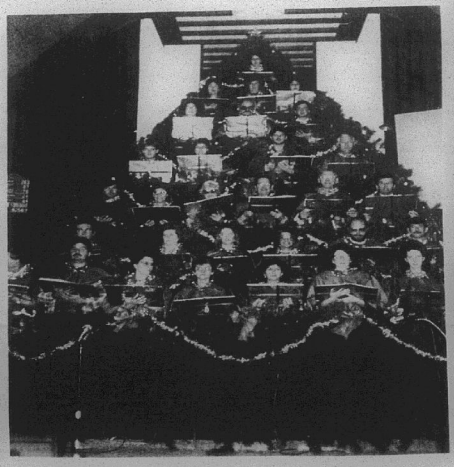
3. Once Cameron Parish receives the new FIRMs, Cameron Parish will:

a. Notify any owners of unpermitted structures that they are in violation and to get in compliance, if that is possible, and,

b. Notify any permittees of permits acquired after July 17, 1985 whose structures are out of compliance with the new FIRMs that they must get in compliance.

4. FEMA will then be notified of the results of these compliance requests and will institute 1316 action.

5. No variances will be issued to gain compliance.



INSURANCE PREMIUM REBATES

After new FIRMs are published, FEMA will advise Cameron Parish and the insurance agents servicing Cameron Parish of the time and manner to obtain a rebate of the excess insurance premium collected for the previous year and these rebates will be made to policy holders by FEMA.

STUDY REIMBURSEMENT

The Cameron Parish Police Jury had asked FEMA to reimburse the parish for the several thousand dollars that has been spent by the parish during the past five years making its own flood study and FEMA had initially agreed to do so.

However, Trahan said that FEMA now "feels it has no legal authority to reimburse these expenses because no appropriation has been made by Congress. Senators Johnston and Breaux and Rep. Hayes will initiate efforts to seek appropriations to effect reimbursement."

Cameron pioneer dies

CAMERON PIONEER

Dec. 15—Services for Eugene Miller, 73, a pioneer citizen of this section, who died at his home in Grand Chenier Saturday, were held on Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. The ceremony was in charge of the Rev. Fathers Bishop of Cameron and Alcee of Lake Arthur, and was conducted from the Little Chenier church. No more than one-fifth of those in attendance could find room in the small church.

Uncle Eugene Miller, as he was known here, was born on the home place where he spent the 73 years of his life. During an active church and community life, among his duties he served on the school board, as jury commissioner, and last as a member of the parish board of equalization. He was an active member of the Catholic Church, and a leader in church and charitable work.

Fifty-three years ago Mr. Miller was married to Miss Augustine Sturlese. To this union 13 children were born, 11 of whom are living. There are 29 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. He was a member of a big family himself, having 14 brothers and sisters. His grandfather had 24 children.

Mr. Miller spent his life in that romantic section known as "the ridge" in Cameron Parish. For almost 100 years, the Miller family has lived at Grand Chenier. Practically everybody on the "island" is a descendant of John Miller, who came here in 1841, the first settler on that end of "the ridge".

John Miller was born in Germany but, when he came to Louisiana, he married an Acadian French girl. He had 24 children.

His son, Pierre, was the father of Eugene. When Pierre died he left 150 direct descendants. He had 15 children.

Eugene married Angeline Sturlese on Oct. 25, 1877. They had 13 children, 11 of whom are living, all except two living at Grand Chenier.

Three years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Miller celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, the marriage of their granddaughter, Miss Corinne Miller, and Steve Canik, being solemnized at the same time. The little Church of St. Martin, where the Miller family have worshipped during the last century, was packed with crowds having to stand outside to attend the Nuptial Mass of the young couple, and to see the Rev. Monsignor Cramers of Lake Charles, give his blessing to the bride and groom of 50 years.

Following the services at the church for the celebration, which continued through the day, with a wedding breakfast, the photographing of family groups, a barbecued dinner served at noon, and dancing which continued through the afternoon and late into the night. The good wishes of the thousand or more guests present were expressed by a number of prominent speakers from various towns of Southwest Louisiana.

The school of Grand Chenier had declared a holiday for the day, so that all the children, most of whom were related to the honorees, might attend the festivities. By boats and automobiles the guests came, from Lake Arthur, Lake Charles, Big Pecan Island, Creole, Cameron, Chenier Perdue, and Little Chenier, nephews, nieces, grandnephews and grandneices, grandchildren, cousins, to the second and third and fourth and more ranks. Most of the thousand present were relatives.

For the 73 years of his life, Mr. Miller, with his immediate family and the others more distantly related, has worshipped in the little chapel a few miles from his home, the "Church of St. Martin." He was active in all church work. He was a ranchman with great herds of cattle and devoted much of his life, until very recently, on a horse, looking after his possessions. In spite of his advanced age, he was a hard rider. He was greatly interested and a leader in the civic affairs of his community.

The surviving children are H. A. Miller, Dr. L. O. Miller, Mrs. Alcie Theriot, Mrs. Charles Richard, Prevat Miller, Severin Miller, Mrs. Sosthene Broussard, Mrs. D. Y. Doland, and Mrs. Steve Carter, all of Cameron Parish and Dr. M. O. Miller of New Orleans and Mrs. Pete Broussard of Lake Arthur.

HACKBERRY PTA

The Hackberry Parent-Teachers association is sponsoring a campaign for home-made candy which is to be sold Friday, Dec. 20, and that night at a school entertainment. The funds are being raised for the school library. Those who cannot make the candy are asked for sugar or other ingredients which members of the PTA will make into candy.

Christmas seals will also be sold on this day and the money turned over the the American Red Cross.

HACKBERRY OIL ROADS BAD

Cars and trucks in Hackberry are having to be pulled by tractors as soon as they leave the main road on account of last week's rain and the heavy fogs every night.

The fogs settle each night and do not clear up before 9 or 10 o'clock in the mornings. The sun shines only a few hours each day and not enough to dry the ground which is just like it had a rain every morning.

The oil companies are having their trucks loaded with materials pulled by tractors from the main road to the leases.

MUSING . . . . . By Bernice Denny

What is Christmas?

What is Christmas?

It is bustle and preparation, gift buying and beautiful wrappings, ribbons and tinsel and gay stickers.

It is Christmas trees and twinkling lights, an angel atop the tallest branch, fragile ornaments and icicles of crystal or gold or silver.

It is Santa Claus and toyland, busy elves in a North Pole workshop. It is reindeer pulling a flying sleigh . . . Rudolph and a red nose . . . labored letters from first and second graders . . . the magic world of tiny dreamers.

It is outdoor lighting and indoor warmth, candles in the window and a wreath on the door, lighted crosses and ornamental stars.

It is Christmas cards sent and received . . . parties and plays . . . music and love . . . a kiss under the mistletoe . . . a chime at the door.

Christmas is manger scenes and biblical pageants . . . handmade costumes . . . endearing imps wearing halos and angel wings . . . small boys lost in shepherd and wise men cloaks.

It is fond mothers and daddies sitting in church pews straining to glimpse their progeny as the procession moves altar-bound up the aisle.

It is the singing of carols . . . soft tones from the piano . . . the deep ones of the organ . . . or the violin's molten, golden notes . . . the tinkle of sleigh bells . . . the carillon in the church steeple . . . the expressed wonder of childhood . . . a murmured prayer . . . a gay greeting . . . the laughter of youth . . . happiness tumbling out in work formation.

Christmas is the scent of spicy pine, the faint aroma of frankincense and myrrh . . . kitchen waftings of browning turkey and ham . . . the tantalizing odor of mince meat pies and rich fruit cake . . . open fires and scented candles.

Christmas is moonlight or starlight, sunlight or mist. It is the warmth of the tropics or the br-r-r of the arctic.

Christmas is a lonely time, a happy time — depending on who is who or when or where. It is a time for cherishing, for sharing, for giving. It is a time of anticipation and a time for remembering.

Christmas is God loving the world with infinite compassion. It is the Babe in swaddling clothes lying in a manger. It is Mary and Joseph and no room in the inn. It is the Holy Spirit still seeking a place in the hearts of men. It is goodness and beauty and peace that lie living but dormant in war-torn lands or scattered broadside wherever evil or hatred prevail.

Yes, Christmas is all these things and many more. It is the day that holds time together from the looking forward in the Old Testament to the looking backward in our Christian era.

This Christmas season may your heart capture its essence, and may you savor and share it in all the days to come.

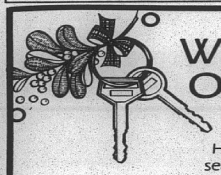
Christmas Tree Ornaments: Then and Now



Having a ball with tree trimming? If so, you're participating in an old tradition. The first Christmas tree ornaments were glass balls which were hung from trees by strings attached to small corks plugged into one end of each ball. These first ornaments were made around 1860 by the craftsmen of Lauscha, Germany for their own families. As news of these unique decorations spread, however, so did demand.

Grand Lake takes both parish championships

By ROBERT MANUEL

The Cameron Parish basketball tournament championship was expected to be close but not that close. The Grand Lake Hornets made school history by capturing its first ever double title. The boys and girls each came from behind with victories over defending champions, Hackberry.

In boys division, Friday's games had Hackberry and Grand Lake meeting for the champion and runner-up titles. Both had gone through Wednesday and Thursday games with victories over South Cameron and Johnson Bayou.

The Hackberry Mustangs going for their fourth straight parish title, led 6-2, 17-14, and 31-24 in the first three quarters. A scoring surge led by the Hornets Kevin Benoit, Roy Pesson and Dell Mansco moved the Hornets ahead only to have the Mustangs tie it up at the buzzer. Two overtimes later the Hornets claimed the title with a 61-57 double overtime victory.

Kevin Benoit, an alternate starter, came off the bench to score 12 of his 14 total points in the fourth quarter and two overtime periods.

The Hornets double digit scoring was led by Roy Pesson 17, Dell Mansco 16, and Kevin Benoit 14. Hackbery's scoring was led by Elmer Sullivan 15, Layne Kyle 14, and Alfred DeVall 10.

Naming a parish Champ in the girls division required a reference to the rule book. Grand Lake, Hackberry and South Cameron ended tournament play in a three way tie. Each had one loss. Grand Lake had lost to South Cameron, South Cameorn had lost to Hackberry and Hackberry had lost to Grand Lake. The point spread between the three tying teams was the deciding factor. The order of the point spread had Grand Lake first, South Cameron second, and Hackberry third.

The Hackberry Lady Mustangs entered Friday's round of games as the only undefeated team. Grand Lake had lost to South Cameron and South Cameron had lost to Hackberry. In the deciding game, Hackbery led Grand Lake 13-12 in the first quarter, 25-21 at half, and 31-29 at the end of three quarters. An 18-7 scoring spree by the Lady Hornets in the fourth quarter earned the Hornets a 47-38 victory.

The Lady Hornets padded a four point lead with one and one half minutes of play on the foul shooting of Amanda Broussard, a freshman alternate starter. Michelle Primeaux had previouly sunk 4 of 4 to put the Lady Hornets ahead.

The Lady Hornets got good balanced scoring but Amanda Broussard took the spotlight by making 6 of 8 foul shots in the closing minutes of play — five straight following a technical foul called. The Hackberry Lady Mustangs effort was led by Tiffany Kyle 16, and Tiffany Seay 12. Amy Arnold had 6, all in the first quarter.

Hackberry's Layne Kyle was named Mr. Basketball and Amy LeBoeuf was named Miss Basketball. All tournament team boys were Chris Jones (SC), Karl Romero (JB), Dell Mansco (GL), Kevin Benoit (GL), and Alfred DeVall (HB).

All tournament team girls were Tiffany Romero (JB), Tiffany Seay (HB), D'Juana Nunez (SC),Renee LaLande (SC), Jody Montgomery (GL), and Amy LeBoeuf (GL).

MERRY CHRISTMAS

With All Good Wishes For The Coming Year

Wishes You and Your families a

Merry Christmas

and a Happy and prosperous New Year!

MELVIN AND DEE ANN BOUDREAUX

SEASONS GREETING TO THE PEOPLE OF CAMERON PARISH:

As we prepare to celebrate our Savior's birthday, we should all be so grateful to celebrate it in a spiritual and holy way. We should all take a few moments to give thanks to Christ for all that He bestowed upon us. As we can see, I think prayer is one of the biggest asets to peace and comfort. As we celebrate this feast there will be millions of people in Eastern Europe celebrating Christmas and freedom for the first time in their life. In the United States, we take everything for granted and think that is the way it is supposed to be. Thank God we live in a free country. I think the people in Eastern Europe will say a prayer in thanks to our Savior for answering their request for freedom.

As Christmas and New Years will be the time of celebration, we should remember the Savior died on the cross for our sins to set us free. We should take a few moments to thank Him for all the blessings He bestowed on us. In some cases some of us who have problems should ask Him for guidance to overcome our weaknesses.

As you know, we always dread the tragedy that can happen on these holidays. As we read and listened to the T.V. last week where a terrible tragedy happened to a young couple that was preparing to get married, because someone had too many drinks. Let's try not to have the same tragedy as they had in Sulphur. So if you go out and celebrate Christmas and New Years and you happen to drink more than you expected, be sure to get someone to take you home or call the Sheriff's Department to get you home safe and sound. No one intends to go out and have an accident or injury through this celebration, but it happens. So think twice so we can all enjoy the spirit of Christmas and the happiness of a New Year. Waking up on Christmas morning and knowing that someone has had a serious accident, is no way to enjoy your Christmas day.

Those of you who have drug problems, wouldn't it be nice if you would make a new resolution to stop using drugs. Most of you think it is the finest way of getting high, but these drugs are destroying your brains and health. By making a new resolution to stop using drugs, I know you will have a different attitude about everything by the year 1991. If any of you would like help with a Substance Abuse Center, would like any counseling, or would like to just talk about it, feel free to come and see me. I always have time to listen. My goal is not to put you in jail. It is to set you free from depending on drugs.

So may God give each and everyone a Merry Merry Christmas and a Happy and Healthy and Prosperous New Year!

Your Sheriff,

Sono

There was a slave sale in which all FFA members, including Gary Poole, FFA advisor, were auctioned off to area buyers for an 8-hour service.

In the livestock show, Nikki Guidry received Grand Champion and Angela Guidry had Reserve Champion in the poultry division. For the rabbit division, Joe Ewing won Grand and Reserve Champion. While in beef, Missy Cox's heifer beat out her sister, Laurie's bull calf.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Kevin Cox

MUSCLE SPASMS

Muscles which have been damaged sometimes go into spasm, constant contractions that won't relax. The pain may disappear in a few moments, or you may be immobilized for days.

See your doctor of chiropractic as soon as you can. Without mind-altering drugs or injections, the chiropractor's manupulative therapy is designed to relieve pressure on the spine so that nerve impulses can be transmitted naturally through the body.

Your chiropractor utilizes gentle traction and adjustment of spinal vertebrae to relieve the tension which has been evidenced as muscle knots and restore normal structural relationships.

Littering law strong

LOUISIANA'S LITTERING LAW STRONG

Any sportsman preparing for hunting or fishing is always ready to comply with the laws of the land. Life jackets, licenses, limits and sizes, but does he or she ever think of the littering laws?

Mostly everyone who lives here in Lousiana can see the trash on the roadsides. However, if you travel the canals and marshes, you'll see lots of trash just as well. Just look at the beaches, which is trash from offshore platforms and boats.

Louisiana's littering law was strengthened in 1987 and is now one of the nation's strongest litter control laws. The penalty for littering is a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $750. Throwing any litter from a boat or car, the responsibility is placed on the driver of that vehicle. This goes for illegal trash dumping along roadways, woods or any other private or public lands.

A second conviction carries a fine of not less than $300 nor more than $1,500 and the suspension of driver's license for 30 days. A third conviction is not less than $500 nor more than $3,000, loss of driver's license for one year or be imprisoned for up to six months. A litterer could get all of the third penalties or a combination of any of the penalties.

So now we need to clean up our mess when camping and bring our litter to a trash bin or litter barrel and bring it home.

I can live with this law, but I can't see the driver being responsible for someone else throwing trash out, especially if the driver didn't see it happen.

LOUISIANA WILDLIFE DEPARTMENT NEWS

Don't forget the closure for three years on paddlefish (spoonbill catfish) began Nov. 1, and will last until sunset Oct. 31, 1992.

The closure was done after the department found out there was only 18 percent of the paddlefish population sexually mature.

This is a very low number because people were catching the paddlefish for the roe (eggs), and with so much pressure put on this species, the taking or possession of the fish, including body parts or eggs, is prohibited.

LDWF Secretary Virginia VanSickle will meet with key state and federal officials to discuss and also to see the problems and solutions facing Southeast Louisiana wetland resources, which is being lost to coastal erosion.

However, this is Southeast Louisiana and in their wildlife refuges. This is a start however, maybe it will rub off and start happening in Southwest Louisiana also.

It is a joint deal, for the North American Wetland Conservation Act, which promotes funding for the North American Waterfowl Management Plan. This is the same group responsible for trying to get as many refuges along the Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas gulf coastline as possible.

The LDWF, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and the U.S. Department of the Interior are to manage the vast lands set aside for wildlife in Lousiana, in particular those lands which are managed for waterfowl.

DONATIONS FOR CONSERVATION

Arco Oil and Gas Co. hosted a luncheon honoring the Louisiana Nature Conservatory, the state office of the world's largest conservation organization, at the City Club in New Orleans. A $25,000 check from the Arco Foundaiton was presented to the conservatory. This is the third $25,000 grant awarded by Arco to the conservatory in Lousiana for wetland protection and to be used exclusively for the White Kitchen Wetland Preserve. This is one of the most criticized wetland areas located in the Pearl River basin.

STEEL SHOT FOR ALL

I couldn't help but read an article twice about steel shot.

In the uplands, where much of the dove hunting occurs, lead shots are a major mortality factor for waterfowl, killing upland game birds, especially the mourning doves.

Louisiana is the only state concerned. If lead shots kill ducks and geese it'll sure kill doves. If we shoot doves in the same areas as we do ducks and geese, the lead shot will surely be there for them to eat.

In one area of another state, an average of 3228 shots per acre was found before the dove hunting season started and after the dove season, the same land had 24,665 shots per acre, or an increase of 645 percent, and this figure remained unchanged over the winter and until the spring or until the soil was disturbed for planting, when this reduces the count of shots by 73 percent.

Shots fired in narrow fields, will go to the next field, and will not stay in the heavy population dove feeding fields, which again reduces the number of shot. Also shots falling on roads (which attracts doves) is again more harmful.

I guess you could say this is a toss up, but when talk begins, things happen, so don't be surprised if lead shots go out completely and steel shots are here to stay.

CHRISTMAS TREES

Don't forget, after the holidays, keep your old Christmas tree (live tree) to put in your favorite fishing hole. This is especially good for white perch and bream.

While talking about Christmas trees, we see all different prices on these trees. There's a reason. For instance a 6 foot Christmas tree varies considerably, depending upon where it is sold. For example, the highest quality tree in Milwaukee, Wis., will cost $30 to $40 this year.

The same tree will sell for $50 to $80 in downtown New York, Washington D.C., as well as the large cities in Florida, Texas and Louisiana.

The added cost is due to the high rent of the lot from which the tree is sold, the cost of the city permit to sell the tree, the shipping charges and of course, the cost to get someone to guard the trees from theft.

Sure glad we live in the country and we have the Lions Club selling Christmas trees.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Deplores Sun. opening

Dear Editor:

My heart is heavy this week, as a co-worker has lost his life. I am sure you may have heard of the young man and his fiance who were killed when a man lost control of his automobile, hitting the young couple as they were shopping for a Christmas tree. I don't think the driver of the vehicle had any idea this would happen, especially to him. Would you? A few drinks, a good time. Who would ever figure this would happen?

I can't help but think about the decision the Police Jurors made to allow the bars to open Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve, both of which fall on a Sunday. Is there not enough alcohol abuse without allowing the bars to open on Sundays? What is Christmas, another day to get together and drink? No! It's the time to celebrate with joy and love the birth of Jesus Christ.

We can't blame our elected officials alone for the decision that was made. We are all influenced at one time or another into doing something we know is not right. But is there really a just excuse? We have the power and free will to make our own decisions. Whether we do something because it is the right thing to do, or to impress others, or to gain favor from others is our choice. Right or wrong as the choice may be.

The decision was made to allow the bars to be open, "Because the majority of the people couldn't care one way or the other." I find this a litile hard to believe. How do you feel about the matter? How do you think Christ looks at the situation? Contact your juryman and let him know your feelings.

Remember the real reason for the season. Keep Christ in Christmas. Have a safe and joyous Holiday Season. Note: John 5:44.

MUSING . . . By Bernice Denny

A Christmas story

(Columnists's note: A heartfelt story, profound in its simplicity and in its portrayal of truth, was originally written by Raymond MacDonald Alden and later turned into a little play by Elizabeth Apthrop McFadden. Later Norman Vincent Peale included the story in one of his publications. It is entitled "Why the Christmas Bells Rang.")

Long ago in a far-off country there stood a famous church with the most amazing bells in its high tower. Their melody was the sweetest in all the world. Because of their heavenly music the chimes sounded only at Christmas -- never on ordinary occasions.

It became the custom for people all over the country to travel to the great church on Christmas Eve to hear the melodious music. No one knew who rang the bells. Some said it was done by angelic hands. All knew, however, that the chimes sounded only at the point of sacrificial giving. The worshipers at first brought magnificent gifts and laid them upon the altar. Then they became indifferent.

In the course of time the bells and their music became a legend, for no living person in the whole country had ever heard them although some gifts were brought each year.

Finally the king, grieving that under his leadership true worship was not reawakened, proclaimed that on Christmas Eve every family in the realm must travel to the church with the best and most generous gifts they could procure. He announced that he himself would attend and present his own gift.

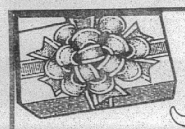
Excitement stirred. Interest mounted. To the city and to the church came people from all over the land. Exquisite gifts, beautiful gifts, gifts by fabulous amounts of gold and silver were carried thence. From the eldest to the youngest, from the richest to those in moderate circumstances were heard voices of expectation and delight.

In the meantime two young brothers far from the church made plans to attend. Each had diligently worked to earn a small silver coin. The day before Christmas they began their trek. Snow fell. They shivered in their thin patched clothing, but they hurried on. Their small hands gripped their coins lest they drop them.

Twilight was coming on. They saw great throngs hurrying to the church as they neared the city. They were almost there, they told each other. Surely on this night the bells would ring out.

And then, suddenly, the older boy stumbled on a dark object half-buried in the snow. He discovered an old woman, half-frozen but still breathing. He lifted her to an upright position and began to rub her wrists and temples.

Her breathing grew more regular; her pulses quickened. He redoubled his efforts. He had been taught that love and service to another human being were requisites to Christian living. Surely he could not leave her alone. When she revived more fully he would help her on her way.



He looked up. Darkness was all around them. Stars were lighting the heavens. Lights shone out form the great church beyond. He realized that he would never reach the altar in time to bestow his offering.

He gave his coin to his younger brother and bade him hurry on. The child scurried ahead. Being so small, he was able to work his way through the thong and gain a position near the altar.

People were laying their gifts upon the altar. No bells had rung. The gifts grew richer, more luxurious, more impressive. The chimes remained silent. Down the center aisle came the great king, resplendent in courtly apparel. He took off his jewel-encrusted golden crown and placed it upon the altar. The people held their breath in anticipation of the long awaited moment. Silence. Deep, disappointing silence.

Sadly the king turned, walked down the aisle, and out the church. Dejectedly his subjects followed him. The little boy fought back the tears that stung his eyelids. All their work, their dreams, and hopes were futile. Then he remembered the two coins he held, the ones which he and the older brother had worked so hard to earn. He crept nearer to the altar and laid them beside the sparkling crown. Young as he was, he was aware of how insignificant their offering appeared in the midst of such splendor.

Then suddenly, from high in the vaulted arches of the church, the purest, sweetest heavenly music poured out. The silvery tones of the Christams bells filled the frosty air. People were amazed. They turned and thrilled to the glorious melody that enveloped them. They beheld at the altar a small ill-clad boy. The king brushed a hand across his eyes. Had he for a moment seen a golden halo above the head of the child!

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

George D. Lepp, Field Editor of "Outdoor Photographer" is in Cameron Parish this week photographing wildlife in the wetlands to use in an upcoming article in the magazine, tentatively slated for the Fall.

Lepp is here at the invitation of Rep. Randy Roach who had seen some of Lepp's work on the October issue of the magazine entitled, "Wading Birds of the South", showing shore and wading birds in Florida.

Roach wrote a letter to the magazine inviting someone from the staff to come to Cameron to see what the parish has to offer in the way of wildlife.

Lepp said he found Cameron Parish to be very rich in wildlife and has the most wetlands that he has ever seen in his travels all across the United States.

He also said that in addition to the vast amount of pictures he was able to take all over the parish, he found the food to be incredibly good and the people incredibly friendly.

He is planning on bringing out all of this in his article slanted to "Cajun Country", and predicts that of the over 200,000 readers of the magazine, there will be a big majority who are interested in photographing wildlife who will travel here to take pictures and enjoy the local hospitality.

Paul Corell, the Cameron Chamber of Commerce president said, "We want the people all over the country to know what we have here in Cameron Parish and to come see for themselves."

Severance taxes down in parish

—CAPITAL NEWS—

Severance tax collections in Cameron Parish dipped below their 1988 level for the fourth time in September, leaving the parish trailing last year in receipts during the first nine months of the year.

The $1.48 million listed for the parish on the Department of Revenue and Taxation's latest report brought the total for the first nine months of this year to just under $17 million. By the end of September 1988, severance taxes in the parish added up to about $17.2 million.

The largest portion of the September severance taxes in the parish came from oil, which accounted for $1 million of the total. Natural gas added $391,310 to the figure, while salt brine yielded the remaining $182.

The parish collecting the tax on oil and natural gas receives one-fifth of the total up to $500,000. Seventy-five percent of all revenue collected on timber products goes back to the parish.

Slightly more than $34 million was received statewide from severance taxes in September, tying with January for the year's lowest figure. The highest total was reported in February, when the state collected $44.7 million.

As the third quarter came to a close, the state's severance tax receipts outdistanced those for 1988. The total of $333.5 million was $2.5 million more than was reported during the first three quarters of last year.

During September, the portion attributed to oil dropped from $27.7 million in August to $24.1 million. Natural gas brought in $8.9 million, up from $8.6 million. The amount collected on timber products rose from $583,840 to $717,239 in September. Smaller amounts were collected on sulphur, shell, gravel, sand, salt, salt brine and stone.

Co-op employees light giant electric tree

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The siren on the South Cameron Hospital ambulance as it approached the Jeff Davis Co-op building Friday night drew the attention of everyone attending the annual lighting ceremony of the 300 foot Christmas tree that towers over Cameron during the Christmas season.

When it turned into the parking lot, Mr. and Mrs. Santa stepped out with a bag of Christmas goodies, to the delight of all of the children in attendance.

They listened to the Christmas wishes of all the children and passed out candy to each one.

In spite of the very chilly weather a large crowd turned out to listen to the Christmas carols sung by the Our Lady Star of the Sea Church Choir and to witness the turning on of the lights on the 300 foot Christmas tree on the radio tower of the Jeff Davis Electric Co-op.

The tree is comprised of brightly colored lights up and down the guy wires of the radio tower, which is a gift of the REA employees who donated it three years ago, giving of their time to make it and their own money to finance it.

Mike Johnson, REA manager, gave the welcome address, and Rev. Paul Carter, pastor of the Wakefield Methodist Church, gave the invocation.

An added event during the evening was the fingerprinting of area children by deputies of the Cameron parish sheriff's department, which was a free service to the community by Sheriff James R. Savoie.

Deputies Ron Johnson and Herman "Budgie" Precht conducted the fingerprinting.

Video given to library on AIDS subject

The Cameron Youth Council has donated a VHS video, "Young People and Aids", to the Cameron Parish Library. The video combines interviews with young people, animation and the commentary of national authorities on AIDS education for an effective nonjudgmental presentation.

The video is suited for young people ages 11-18. Youth groups, schools and churches may use the video by contacting the Cameron Parish Library.

Shrimping to close on Fri., 22nd

The 1989 shrimp season in Zone III will close at 12:01 a.m., Friday, Dec. 22, according to Virginia VanSickle, secretary of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Zone III includes that portion of Louisiana's inshore waters from the Louisiana/Texas line to the western shore of Vermilion Bay and Southwest Pass at Marsh Island. That portion of Louisiana's offshore waters from the Louisiana/Texas line to Freshwater Bayou, and extending to the outer limit of Louisiana's territorial waters, as well as that portion of Louisiana's offshore waters from Freshwater Bayou to bayou Lafourche and extending to the outer limit of Louisiana's territorial waters, will also be closed to shrimping at 12:01 a.m., Friday, Dec. 22.

VanSickle ordered the closure after biologists and commercial fishermen reported that the shrimp in these areas are very small and water temperatures are such that little or no growth is anticipated. Continued harvest may well impact the white shrimp harvest in the spring of 1990.

Box 809, Houston, Texas 77002, herein called "LESSOR" (whether one or more) and SABLE MINERALS, INC., a Louisiana Corporation, whose address is 8440 Jefferson Highway, Ste. 420, Baton Rouge, LA 70809, herinafter called "LESSEE," witnesseth, that:

Lessor, in consideration of the sum of One Thousand Dollars ($1,000.00 & OVC), and Other Valuable Considerations ----------, hereby leases and lets unto Lessee, the exclusive right to enter and use the land hereinafter described for the exploration for, and production of oil and gas, together with the use of the surface of the land for all purposes incident to the exploration for and production, ownership, possession and transportation of said oil and gas (either from said land or acreage pooled therewith), and the right of ingress and egress to and from said lands at all times for such purposes, including the right to construct, maintain and use roads and/or canals thereon for operations hereunder and including the right to remove from the land any property placed by Lessee thereon and to draw and remove casing from wells drilled by Lessee on said land, all, however, subject to the restrictions set out hereinafter in Paragraph 19; the land to which this lease applies and which is affected hereby being situated in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, and described on Exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof.

All accretion or alluvion attaching to and forming a part of said land are included herein, whether properly or specifically described or not. Whether or not any reduction in rentals shall have previously been made, this lease, without further evidence thereof, shall immediately attach to and affect any and all rights, titles, and interests in the above described land, including reversionary mineral rights hereafter acquired by or inuring to Lessor and Lessor's successors and assigns.

For the purpose of calculating the payments hereinafter provided for, the above described land is deemed to comprise Five Thousand Nine Hundred Forty-one (5,941) acres, whether it actually comprises more or less.

This Lease shall be for a term of three (3) years and No (0) months from the date hereof (called "primary term") and so long thereafter as oil and/or gas is being produced or drilling operations are conducted either on this land or on acreage pooled therewith, all as hereinafter provided for; all subject to the following conditions and agreements:

1. It is understood and agreed that during any 1989-90 Louisiana Duck Stamp, Print and Artist Contest established by the Louisiana Department of Wild Life and Fisheries, and/or the U. S. Bureau of Wildlife and Fisheries, and during each such season thereafter, during the term of this agreement, the right and privilege to conduct geophysical or geological explorations for oil and/or gas minerals through the use of seismograph, core drill, electrical, magnetic or similar methods upon the leased premises shall be suspended.

2. This lease shall terminate on December 1, 1990, unless on or before said date the Lessee either (1) commences actual drilling of a well on the land, or on acreage pooled therewith, in search of oil and/or gas and thereafter continues such drilling to completion or abandonment; or (2) pays to the Lessor (or Depository) One Million One Hundred Eighty-eight Thousand Two Hundred Dollars ($1,188,200.00) for all or that part of the land which Lessee elects to continue to hold thereunder, which payment shall maintain Lessee's right in effect as to such land without actual drilling for one year from the date last above mentioned; and Lessee may likewise maintain the rights hereunder without actual drilling for successive twelve months' periods (during the primary term) by paying Lessor, on or before the beginning of each respective period, One Million One Hundred Eighty-eight Thousand Two Hundred Dollars ($1,188,200.00) for all or any part of the land held hereunder. Payments may be made to Lessor or to the credit of depositary for such rentals as the representative of Lessor and Lessor's successors and assigns; and the death or incapacity of Lessor shall not terminate or affect Lessee's right to continue to deposit all payments in said depository bank or its successor. The receipt of the payment of Lessor or Lessee's successors to Lessor at the address set forth above or to said banks on or before the rental paying date shall be considered as payment of rental and operate to maintain Lessee's right in force and effect. Should said banks fail, or liquidate, or if one should for any reason fail or refuse to accept Lessee's payment, the attempted payment in the manner above provided shall not be thereby rendered ineffectual and Lessee shall not be in default for failure to pay said rental until thirty (30) days after Lessor shall have furnished Lessee with a recordable instrument naming a new depositary; and this provision shall apply to all such new and subsequently named depositories.

3. All drilling and production units pooling the acreage, royalty or mineral interest covered by this lease or any portion thereof, whether land, lease or leases, royalty and mineral interests must be created by appropriate order of the Louisiana Department of Conservation, or its successor, or by voluntary unitization agreement signed by all interested parties.

4. Lessee may, at any time prior to or after the discovery and production of oil or gas on the land, execute and deliver to Lessor or place of record a release or releases of any portion or portions of lands and be relieved of all requirements hereof as to lands surrendered; provided, however, that no such release or releases shall operate to reduce the rental stipulated in Paragraph 2, hereof.

5. Lessee shall promptly execute and record a formal act releasing from the operation of this lease any acreage or any strata as to which this lease has terminated, and shall furnish Lessor's agent a copy of the recorded instrument.

6. (a) After beginning actual drilling on the leased premises, and in lieu of production in paying quantities, Lessee may maintain the rights granted during and after the primary term by continuing such drilling or reworking operations without the lapse of more than ninety (90) days between the abandonment of such operations on one well and beginning of actual drilling or reworking of another, which is herein referred to at times as "such operations, and during the primary term continuous operations may be discontinued and the rights granted maintained by resuming rental payments, by paying within ninety (90) days from such failure (regardless of the fixed rental paying date) the proportion of the fixed yearly rental that the number of days between the end of said ninety (90) days and the next rental paying date bears to the twelve months' period; but, if said ninety (90) days should expire during any year for which rentals have been paid, no further rental shall be due until the next fixed rental paying date.

(b) Within 180 days after completion of a well on the land herein leased capable of producing oil or gas and/or gas distillate in paying quantities, if a unit has not been created for the purpose of said period of production from such well by order of the Office of Conservation of Louisiana or by voluntary unitization under the provisions of Paragraph 3, hereof, Lessee shall execute and record in the Conveyance Records of Cameron Parish a written instrument designating a block for such well which shall not exceed substantially 40 acres out of the leased acreage in the case of an oil well, or 160 acres out of the leased acreage in the case of a gas and/or gas distillate well, in as near the form of a square as practicable, with the well in the center thereof (hereafter called a producing block). If, thereafter, a drilling or producing unit shall be created for the aforesaid well by order of the Commissioner of Conservation, or by voluntary unitization under the provisions of numbered paragraph 3 hereof, in the aforesaid producing field shall automatically, and without further action by Lessor or Lessee, be revised to coincide with said unit, whether same be larger or smaller. For the purpose of determining the area to be included in a producing block, the classification of the well by the Commissioner of Conservation as an "oil well" or "gas well" shall be controlling.

7. In the event a portion or portions of the land herein leased is pooled or unitized with other land interested in such form a pooled unit or units under the provisions of numbered Paragraph 3 hereof, or included in a producing block under the provisions of numbered Paragraph 6 (b) hereof, and thereafter operations or production in paying quantities from such unit or block will maintain this lease in force only as to the land included in such unit or block subject to the provisions of Paragraph 10, hereof. The lease may be maintained in force as to any land covered hereby and not included in such unit or block in any manner herein provided for, and if it be for the rental payments, rental shall be reduced in the proportion that the number of acres covered hereby which are included in the unit or producing block bears to the total acres covered by this lease; and Lessee's rights hereunder may be so maintained by rental payments during and for two (2) years after the end of the primary term.

8. Should Lessee discover oil and/or gas in paying quantities during the initial primary term of the lease, or as same may be extended under the terms hereof, and thereafter drill a well on the rental date to keep this lease or any part thereof in effect for a successive twelve-month period, such rental shall be reduced by the sum of "shut-in gas" royalties paid by Lessee under the terms hereof, which are allocable to the acreage as to which such rental is due, during the twelve-months period immediately preceding the rental date. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to modify the effect of continuous drilling operations upon the rental requirements as provided in Paragraph 6, hereof.

9. If prior to or after the discovery of oil and/or gas on the lands held hereunder, a well which produces oil and/or gas in paying quantities for thirty (30) consecutive days is completed on adjoining land not owned by Lessor, and such well is located on or included in a pooled unit of which at least one-third (1/3) of the surface area thereof is comprised of a portion of the land herein leased hereunder, and draining any portion of said land not included within such pooled unit, or not united with said well, Lessee shall drill an offset well to protect the land held hereunder from drainage.

10. Upon the expiration of the primary term or the subsequent termination of the lease should it have been extended in a manner herein provided for, then and in such event, Lessee's rights shall not terminate or be forfeited for any cause, Lessee on or before such date shall be entitled to designate and retain, subject to the terms of this lease, forty (40) acre tracts around each producing well including one hundred (100) feet below the depth of production from each respective forty (40) acre tract around each producing well being reworked or that portion of forty (40) acres of the leased premises which is included in an oil pooled unit on which such well is located, and one hundred sixty (160) acre tracts of land down to and including one hundred (100) feet below the depth of production from each respective one hundred sixty (160) acre tract around each producing well being reworked or that portion of one hundred sixty (160) acres of the leased premises which is included in a gas pooled unit or producing block on which such well is producing, shut-in unless the next succeeding paragraph of this numbered Paragraph 10, or being reworked. Such forty (40) and one hundred sixty (160) acre tracts or tracts of lesser size in the case of pooled units, are hereinafter referred to as "production units," the configuration of said production units to be in as near the shape of a square as practicable. This lease shall continue in force and effect as to all of the acreage contained in any given production unit or producing block as to all horizons, or the stratigraphic equivalent thereof, below a depth of 100 feet above the shallowest sand indicated by either (1) induction electric log or (ii) sidewall cores and wireline test for the well for such producing unit or producing block, to be capable of producing oil and/or gas, and above a depth of one hundred (100) feet below the depth of production from that unit or block, or stratigraphic equivalent, production from which in paying quantities from or from which so long as oil and/or gas are produced in paying quantities from that unit or block; provided, however, if after discovery and production of oil and/or gas from a production unit or block, the production thereof in paying quantities should cease from any production thereof in paying quantities should cease from any cause, this lease shall not terminate as to such production unit or block if Lessee commences actual drilling or reworking operations on said production unit or block within ninety (90) days thereafter and continues such operations with not more than ninety (90) days elapsing between abandonment of actual drilling or reworking of one well and beginning actual drilling or reworking of another well, and if such operations result in the production of oil and/or gas, the lease as to such production unit or block shall remain in force and effect as to the horizons above mentioned so long thereafter as oil or gas are produced in paying quantities from said production unit or block. If governmental authority having jurisdiction should prescribe the creation of units larger or smaller than the above described production units or producing block, such production units created shall conform in size and shape with those created by governmental regulations.

Should Lessee by the drilling of any well located on the land or on property pooled therewith, discover gas or gaseous substances capable of production in paying quantities but which Lessee is unable to produce (or which although previously produced Lessee is unable to continue to produce) because of lack of market or marketing facilities or governmental restrictions, then Lessee's rights in the land included in the production unit or created for such well as provided in numbered Paragraph 3, hereof, or in the producing block for such well as provided in numbered Paragraph 6 (b), hereof, may be maintained, in the absence of production or drilling operations, by paying as "shut-in gas royalty" on the next ensuing rental due date or within ninety (90) days after such well has been shut-in, whichever is later, as per Sections 2 and 6 (a) hereof and continuing monthly thereafter an amount equal to 1/12 of the annual rental of Two Hundred and No/100---------- Dollars ($200.00) per acre per year for each acre of Lessor's land included in the unit or producing block for such shut-in well. Payments hereunder shall be effective to maintain the lease in force for a period of two consecutive years from the date of the first payment of "shut-in gas royalty" and thereafter, without actual drilling operations or production of oil and/or gas in paying quantities for more than two (2) consecutive years.

11. Subject to the provisions of Paragraphs 3 and 14 hereof, Lessor hereby reserves, as a royalty, 25 percent of all oil and/or gas produced and saved from the leased premises, the same to be delivered to him or, at his option, may be paid for by Lessee as follows, to-wit:

(a) 25 percent of such oil and other liquid hydrocarbons that are produced hereunder and saved shall be delivered to Lessor as provided hereafter in subparagraph (e) hereof, or to his credit in the pipeline to which the wells may be connected; provided, however, Lessee shall, from time to time, at the option and request of Lessor, purchase such oil and liquid hydrocarbons, paying therefor the highest price of the liquid hydrocarbons currently prevailing, in the area where produced for substances of like grade and gravity at the time of the run to the pipeline to which the well or wells may be connected.

(b) 25 percent of such gas that is produced hereunder and saved shall be delivered to Lessor as provided hereafter in subparagraph (e) hereof, or to his credit in the pipeline to which the well or wells may be connected; provided, however, Lessee shall, from time to time, at the option and request of Lessor, purchase such oil and liquid hydrocarbons, paying therefor the highest price of the liquid hydrocarbons currently prevailing, in the area where produced for substances of like grade and gravity at the time of the run to the pipeline to which the well or wells may be connected.

(c) 25 percent of the market price at the plant of all products extracted or processed from 25 percent of the market price at the plant of all residue gas shall be paid to Lessor, where gas from the leased premises is processed as follows: (1) by Lessee itself or through an affiliated company, (2) by any other party in a plant or process in or adjacent to the field from which production is obtained, or (3) through any plant or process not in or adjacent to the field, and in this last event, Lessor shall be paid only his proportionate share of said royalty paid to Lessee.

(d) In the event Lessor elects to take his royalty oil in kind the same is to be delivered to him at Lessee's central tank battery, or if in the event Lessor elects to take his royalty gas in kind the same is to be delivered at the point of Lessee's gas station. Lessor shall have the right to use Lessee's then existing canals and roads, at his sole risk, insofar as Lessee has such right, to remove said royalty oil from the leased premises, and to construct pipelines and facilities necessary to remove and take his royalty oil and/or gas provided that such use by Lessor shall not interfere with Lessee's use thereof.

If Lessor elects to take his royalty oil and/or gas in kind, then Lessor, at his sole cost and expense, shall furnish necessary facilities on the leased premises for taking his share of the royalty oil and/or gas in kind.

(e) Except as provided for hereinabove, each and all of the royalties herein reserved shall be computed without any deduction or charge for any cost or expense whatsoever for production, delivery, processing or any other purpose, except that Lessee's royalties shall bear any severance taxes attributable to them.

(f) Lessee shall pay all royalties due on production under this lease on or before the last day of the month following such production. In the case of a unit commencing on Lessee shall have a ninety (90) day period within which to make initial royalty payments to allow sufficient time for bookkeeping and accounting purposes. Lessee shall furnish Lessor or his assigns, at the same time as the royalty payment, supporting statements showing the basis for computing those payments. Lessor shall have access at all reasonable times to the books, records and accounts kept by Lessee, showing the quantity, quality and value of oil, gas and other products on which royalty is paid.

12. The Lessee shall be responsible for all damages caused by Lessee's operations, and for any increase in taxes resulting from buildings or other improvements placed upon the land by Lessee.

Lessee agrees to indemnify and hold Lessor harmless from all claims for injury to and death of persons or damage to property arising out of or in connection with Lessee's operations under this lease, and agrees to defend any suit brought against Lessor on account of any such claim, and to pay any judgment against Lessor in any such suit. Lessee further agrees to use due care to avoid damage to Lessor's property, and, particularly, but without limitation, to avoid damage to Lessor's agricultural lands and the wildlife on the leased premises. Lessee shall pay for all damage and/or repair all canals, ditches, dams, levees, roads, bridges, fences and all other structures on the land, and all improvements on such property which may be worn or damaged by any operations hereunder and will remove all debris resulting from such operations. Lessee will not construct any pipelines below ordinary plow depth and the bottoms of ditches, canals and other water covered areas. No well shall be drilled within 400 feet of any house or barn or other similar structure without Lessor's prior written consent. Lessee shall have the right until six (6) months after the expiration of this lease to remove any property and fixtures placed by it upon the leased premises, including the right to draw and remove all casing. Lessee shall, however, plug and abandon all wells on released acreage in accordance with the regulations of the governmental agency having jurisdiction.

Lessor reserves the full enjoyment of the property covered hereby, for all purposes, except for those granted and to the extent granted to Lessee. Included within Lessor's reserved rights are, among others, all hunting and fishing rights, farming and grazing rights, reclamation rights, and all rights relating to minerals not covered hereby, as well as all rights concerning water and water wells; provided that neither Lessor or Lessee shall unduly interfere with the operations of the other upon the leased premises.

13. Lessee shall not assign, cede, or sublease this lease, in whole, or in part, as to acreage or depths, nor shall it be assigned in or by bearing upon the whole or any part, except with Lessor's prior written consent; provided, that this restriction shall not apply to any assignment, cession or sublease at a forced sale), to all of the mineral properties of Lessee in the State of Louisiana. No sale or assignment by Lessor, or other change in ownership, in whole or in part, shall be binding upon Lessee until Lessee shall be furnished with thirty (30) days prior written notice, consisting of a certified copy of the recorded instrument of title.

All provisions hereof shall extend to and bind the successors and assigns (in whole or in part) of Lessor and Lessee; but no change in the ownership of the land or any interest therein or change or division in the ownership of royalties or rentals, from sale, inheritance or otherwise, shall impose any additional burden on Lessee nor shall any change in ownership or in the status or capacity of Lessor be binding upon Lessee until Lessee to Lessor herein named unless the then record owner of said lease shall have been furnished thirty (30) days before payment is due, with certified copy of recorded instrument or judgment evidencing such transfer, inheritance or sale or evidence of such change in status or capacity of Lessor. The furnishing of such evidence shall not affect the validity of payments theretofore made in advance.

14. Without impairment of the proportionate reduction provisions which follow, this lease is granted without warranty of title or extent of interest even for the consideration paid herefor. Lessor agrees that Lessee may, at its option, discharge any tax, mortgage or other lien upon the land and be subrogated thereto and have the right to apply to the repayment of Lessee any rentals and/or royalties accruing hereunder. If Lessor owns less than the entire undivided interest in all or any portion or the lands or mineral rights relating thereto (whether such interest is herein specified or not) rentals and royalties as to the land in which an interest is outstanding in others shall be reduced proportionately to the interest of the Lessor therein, but the failure of Lessee to reduce rentals shall not affect Lessee's rights to reduce royalties; and all outstanding royalty rights shall be deducted from the royalties herein provided for.

15. In the event that Lessor at any time considers that operations are not being conducted in compliance with this lease, Lessor shall notify Lessee in writing of the facts relied upon as constituting a breach hereof, and Lessee, if legally required to conduct operations in order to maintain the lease in force shall have thirty (30) days after receipt of such notice in which to commence the necessary operations to comply with the requirements hereof.

16. If the land herein described is owned in divided or undivided portions by more than one party, this instrument may be signed in any number of counterparts each of which shall be binding on the party or parties so signing regardless of whether all of the owners join in the granting of this lease; and the failure of any party named herein as Lessor to sign this lease shall not affect its validity as to those whose signatures appear hereon or on a counterpart hereof. The failure of a Lessor party named herein to execute this lease, whether or not he is named a Lessor party, shall not constitute a failure of title as that term is used herein but the proportionate reduction provisions of Paragraph 14 hereof shall apply.

17. The requirements hereof shall be subject to any State and/or Federal law or order regulating operations on the land.

18. For purposes of this lease actual drilling means "spudding-in" and continuing the drilling of a well in a prudent, workmanlike manner, and reworking operations or a well being reworked means that work is actually being performed on a well designed to increase or restore production therefrom. The above defined terms do not include any activities preparatory to beginning these operations.

19. Any operations conducted by Lessee on the above described land shall be in conformity with the following provisions:

(a) No canals, boat, barge or dredge roads, ditches or drains shall be opened, cleaned or dredged across the leased premises without prior written approval of Lessor. In addition, survey plats showing location and method of all surface work, including that described in the preceding sentence, shall be submitted to and approved by Lessor or his designated representative in writing prior to commencement of any such work.

(b) Lessee shall limit its ingress and egress by canal to the existing canals on the leased premises wherever the use of such existing canals is feasible. Any canals, boat, barge, or dredge road, ditch, drain, or pit dug or used by Lessee shall upon request of Lessor be closed by a permanent dam, the design and construction of which shall be first approved by Lessor or his designated representative; when the same is no longer reasonably needed for operations hereunder and, following operations at any well site, the same shall be cleaned up and the surface restored as near as practicable to its pre-existing condition.

(c) No salt water shall be disposed of on the leased premises except subsurface into wells adequate to receive same without injury to surface.

(d) No plants, canals, storage or transportation facilities shall be located upon the leased premises except to serve the leased premises itself, or land with which it (or any part thereof) is pooled.

(e) On all geophysical exploration hereunder Lessee shall notify Lessor prior to commencing operations and shall furnish the following:

1. Data one mile on either side of the property.
2. Surveyor plat of line and shot point location on a 1" = 2,000' scale.
3. Reproducible film of fully migrated record section with a vertical scale of at least 5 inches per second.
4. Written notification of when work is to start and same when completed.
5. Delivery of data within 60 days of completion of line.

20. Each Lessor named herein does hereby authorize Lessee to make any payment hereunder in accordance with the provisions hereof, or to Lessor's credit in the respective depository bank set out below, or any successor depository bank which may be designated as hereinabove provided, and in the following proportions, to wit:

Lessee shall also furnish Lessor with a copy of such application, and shall, at least five (5) days prior to any hearing pursuant to such application, furnish Lessor with copies of all maps, plats, documents and other material or evidence to be submitted at such hearing in connection with such application, which obligation of Lessee shall be deemed to be of the essence of this contract of lease.

22. Lessor, on request, shall be furnished with copies of all logs and electrical surveys, information concerning wells and other operations, and copies of drilling and production reports and run tickets. Lessee, on request, shall furnish Lessor copies of all land surveys made by or for Lessee concerning the leased premises, and all maps submitted by Lessee to any governmental agency concerning canals or well sites.

PETITION FOR AUTHORITY TO GRANT OIL, GAS AND MINERAL LEASE

The Petition of WILLIAM M. COMEGYS, JR., Executor of the Succession of Emily Glassell Comegys, with respect represents:

1.

That Petitioner has been duly appointed as the Testamentary Executor of the Estate of Emily Glassell Comegys.

2.

That the Estate of Emily Glassell Comegys owns an undivided one-tenth interest in and to the minerals under the following described property located in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, to-wit:

Township 13 South, Range 3 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana:

All of Section 15, except E/2 of NE/4, containing 575 acres, more or less.

All of Section 21, containing 676 acres, more or less.

All of Section 22, containing 668 acres, more or less.

All of Section 23, except N/2 of NE/4, containing 582 acres, more or less.

All of Section 24, except N/2 of N/2, containing 561 acres, more or less, plus 46 acres, more or less, along the east line allocated to said section under boundary agreement with Amoco Production Company.

All of Section 25, containing 735 acres, more or less, plus 63 acres, more or less, along the east line allocated to said section under boundary agreement with Amoco Production Company.

All of Section 27, containing 680 acres, more or less.

All of Section 28, containing 680 acres, more or less.

CONTAINING A TOTAL OF 5,941 ACRES, MORE OR LESS.

That the Decedent's ownership in and to the mineral rights in and under said land is presently producing no revenue, and the consideration, terms and conditions of the Oil, Gas and Mineral Lease are fair and reasonable. Petitioner, therefore, believes it to be in the best interest of the Estate of Decedent, and, accordingly, recommends that he, as Testamentary Executor of the Decedent's property, be authorized to grant the proposed lease.

WHEREFORE, PETITIONER PRAYS that:

I. Notice of this application be published in the Parishes of Caddo and Cameron in the manner provided by law;

II. Box 809, Houston, Texas 77002, herein called "LESSOR" (whether one or more) and SABLE MINERALS, INC., a Louisiana Corporation, whose address is 8440 Jefferson Highway, Ste. 420, Baton Rouge, LA 70809 hereinafter called "LESSEE," witnesseth, that:

Lessor, in consideration of the sum of One Thousand Dollars and Other Valuable Considerations ($1,000.00 & OVC), hereby leases and lets unto Lessee, the exclusive right to enter upon and use the land hereinafter described for the exploration for, and production of oil and gas, together with the use of the surface of the land for all purposes incident to the exploration for and production, ownership, possession and transportation of said oil and gas (either from said land or acreage pooled therewith), and the right of ingress and egress to and from said lands at all times for such purposes, including the right to construct, maintain and use roads and/or canals thereon for the operations hereunder and including the right to remove from the land any property placed by Lessee thereon and to draw and remove casing from wells drilled by Lessee on said land, all, however, subject to the restrictions set out hereinafter in Paragraph 19; the land to which this lease applies and which is affected hereby being situated in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, and described on Exhibit "A" attached hereto and made a part hereof.

All accretion or alluvion attaching to and forming a part of said land are included herein, whether properly or specifically described or not. Whether or not any reduction in rentals shall have previously been made, this lease, without further evidence thereof, shall immediately attach to and affect any and all rights, titles, and interests in the above described land, including reversionary mineral rights, hereafter acquired by or inuring to Lessor and Lessor's successors and assigns.

For the purpose of calculating the payments hereinafter provided for, the above described land is estimated to comprise Five Thousand Nine Hundred Forty-one (5,941) acres, whether it actually comprises more or less.

This lease shall be for a term of three (3) years and No (0) days from the date hereof (called "primary term") and so long thereafter as oil and/or gas is being produced or drilling operations are conducted either on this land or on acreage pooled therewith, all as hereinafter provided for; all subject to the following conditions and agreements:

1. It is understood and agreed that during any 1989-90 Louisiana Waterfowl Hunting Season, as officially established by the Louisiana Department of Wild Life and Fisheries, and/or the U. S. Bureau of Wildlife and Fisheries, and during each such season thereafter, during the term of this agreement, the right and privilege to conduct geophysical or geological explorations for oil and/or gas minerals through the use of seismograph, torsion balance, gravity meter or similar methods upon the leased premises shall be suspended.

2. This lease shall terminate on December 1, 1990, unless on or before said date the Lessee either (1) commences actual drilling of a well on the land, or on acreage pooled therewith, in search of oil and/or gas and thereafter continues such drilling to completion or abandonment; or (2) pays to the Lessor a rental of One Million One Hundred Eighty-eight Thousand Two Hundred Dollars ($1,188,200.00) for all or that part of the land which Lessee elects to continue to hold thereunder, which payment shall maintain Lessee's right in effect as to such land without actual drilling for one year from the date last above mentioned; and Lessee may continue to maintain the rights granted without actual drilling for successive twelve months' periods (during the primary term) by paying Lessor, on or before the beginning of such respective periods One Million One Hundred Eighty-eight Thousand Two Hundred Dollars ($1,188,200.00) for all or any part of the land held hereunder. Payments may be made to Lessor or may be mailed or delivered for deposit to Lessor's credit in the banks named in Paragraph 20, hereof, which banks or their successors shall continue as the depository for such rentals as the representative of Lessor and Lessor's successors and assigns; and the death or incapacity of Lessor shall not terminate or affect Lessee's right to continue to deposit all payments in said depository bank or its successor. The receipt of the payment of Lessee or Lessee's successors to Lessor at the address set forth above or to the said banks on or before the rental paying date shall be considered as payment of rental and operate to maintain Lessee's right in force and effect. Should any of said banks fail or liquidate, or if one should for any reason fail or refuse to accept Lessee's payment, the attempted payment in the manner above provided shall not be thereby rendered ineffective and Lessee shall not be in default for failure to pay said rental until thirty (30) days after Lessor shall have furnished Lessee with a recordable instrument naming a new depository; and this provision shall apply to all such new and subsequently named depositories.

3. All drilling and production units pooling the acreage, royalty or mineral interest covered by this lease or any portion thereof, with other land, lease or leases, royalty and mineral interests must be created by appropriate order of the Louisiana Department of Conservation, or its successor, or by voluntary unitization agreement signed by all interested parties.

4. Lessee may, at any time prior to, or after the discovery and production of oil or gas on the land, execute and deliver to Lessor or place of record a release or releases of any portion or portions of lands and be relieved of all requirements hereof as to the land surrendered; provided, however, that no such release or releases shall operate to reduce the rental stipulated in Paragraph 2, hereof.

5. Lessee shall promptly execute and record a formal act releasing from the operation of this agreement any acreage or any strata as to which this lease has terminated, and shall furnish Lessor's agent a copy of the recorded instrument.

6. (a) After beginning actual drilling on the leased premises, and in lieu of production in paying quantities, Lessee may maintain the rights granted during and after the primary term by continuing such drilling or reworking operations without the lapse of more than ninety (90) days between abandonment of such operations on one well and beginning of actual drilling or reworking of another, which is herein referred to at times as continuous operations, and during the primary term continuous operations may be discontinued and the rights granted maintained by resuming rental payments, by paying within ninety (90) days from such discontinuance (regardless of the fixed rental paying date) the proportion of the fixed yearly rental that the number of days between the end of said ninety (90) days and the next ensuing rental paying date bears to the twelve months' period; and said ninety (90) days should expire during any year for which rentals have been paid, no further rental shall be due until the next fixed rental paying date.

(b) Within 180 days after completion of a well on the land herein leased capable of producing oil or gas and/or gas distillate in paying quantities, if a unit has not been created before expiration of said period for production from such well by order of the Office of Conservation of Louisiana or by voluntary unitization under the provisions of number Paragraph 3, hereof, Lessee shall execute and record in the Records of the Parish of Cameron a written instrument designating a block for such well which shall not exceed substantially 40 acres out of the leased acreage in the case of an oil well, or 160 acres out of the leased acreage in the case of a gas and/or gas distillate well, in as near the form of a square as practicable, with the well in the center thereof (hereafter called a "producing block"). If, thereafter, a drilling or producing unit should be created for the aforesaid well by order of the Commissioner of Conservation, or by voluntary unitization under the provisions of numbered paragraph 3, hereof, then the aforesaid producing block shall automatically, and without further action by Lessor or Lessee, be resized to coincide with said unit, whether same be larger or smaller. For the purpose of determining the area to be embraced in any producing block, the classification of the well by the Commissioner of Conservation as an "oil well" or "gas well" shall be controlling.

7. In the event a portion or portions of the land herein leased is pooled or unitized with other land or interests so as to form a pooled unit or units under the provisions of numbered Paragraph 3 hereof, or included in producing block under the provisions of numbered Paragraph 6 (b) hereof, continuous drilling operations on or production in paying quantities from such unit or block shall maintain this lease in force only as to the land included in such unit or block subject to the provisions of Paragraph 10, hereof. The lease may be maintained as to the land covered hereby and not included in such unit or block in any manner provided for herein provided that if it be by rental payments, rental shall be reduced in the proportion that the number of acres covered hereby which are included in the unit or producing block bears to the total acres covered hereby, and Lessee's rights hereunder may be so maintained by rentals during and for two (2) years after the end of the primary term.

8. Should Lessee discover oil and/or gas in paying quantities during the initial primary term of this lease or any extension thereof as extended under Paragraph 7 above and a rental is required on the next rental date to keep this lease or any part thereof in force for a successive twelve-month period, then such rental shall be effect for a successive twelve-month period, then such rental shall be reduced by the oil, gas and "shut-in gas" royalties paid by Lessee under the terms hereof, which are allocable to the acreage as to which such rental is due, during the twelve-month period immediately preceding said rental date. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to modify the effect of continuous drilling operations upon the rental requirements as provided in Paragraph 6, hereof.

9. If prior to or after the discovery of oil and/or gas on the lands held hereunder, a well which produces oil and/or gas in paying quantities for thirty (30) consecutive days is completed on adjoining property not owned by Lessee and said well is not included in a pooled unit of which at least one-third (1/3) of the surface area thereof is comprised of a part of the acreage leased hereunder, and if said well is located within six hundred sixty (660) feet of any boundary of the leased premises held hereunder, and draining any portion of the land leased hereunder which is not unitized with said well, Lessee shall drill an offset well to protect the land held hereunder from drainage.

10. Upon the expiration of the primary term or the subsequent termination of the lease should it have been extended in a manner herein provided, or in the event Lessee's rights hereunder shall terminate or be forfeited for any cause, Lessee on or before such date shall be entitled to designate and retain, subject to the terms of this lease, forty (40) acre tracts of land, and/or forty (40) acres of the leased premises which is included in an oil pooled unit on which an oil well is producing or being reworked, and including one hundred sixty (160) acre tracts of land down to and including one hundred (100) feet below the depth of production from each respective one hundred sixty (160) acre tract, around each oil well producing, or being reworked or that portion of one hundred sixty (160) acres of the leased premises which is included in a gas pooled unit or producing block on which a gas well is producing, shut-in under the next succeeding paragraph of this numbered Paragraph 10, or being reworked. Such forty (40) and one hundred sixty (160) acre tracts or portions of lesser size in the event of pooled units, are hereinafter referred to as "production units," the configuration of said production units to be in as near the shape of a square as practicable. This lease shall continue in force and effect as to all of the acreage contained in any given production unit or producing block as to all horizons, or the stratigraphic equivalent thereof, below a depth of 100 feet above the shallowest sand indicated by either (i) induction electric log or (ii) sidewall cores and wireline test for the well or such producing unit or producing block, to be capable of producing oil and/or gas, and above a depth of one hundred (100) feet below the depth of production from that unit or block, or stratigraphic equivalent, so long as oil and/or gas are produced in paying quantities from that unit or block; provided, however, if after discovery and production of oil and/or gas from a production unit or block, the production thereof in paying quantities should cease from any cause, this lease shall not terminate as to such production unit or block if Lessee commences actual drilling or reworking operations on said production unit or block within ninety (90) days thereafter and continues such operations with not more than ninety (90) days elapsing between the abandonment of one well or reworking of one well and beginning actual drilling or reworking of another well, and if such operations result in the production of oil and/or gas, the lease shall remain in force and effect as to the block shall remain in force and effect as to the horizons above mentioned so long thereafter as oil or gas are produced in paying quantities from the production unit or block, or commercial quantities, having jurisdiction should prescribe the creation of units larger or smaller than the above described production units or producing blocks, such production units created shall be in size and shape with those created by governmental regulations.

Should Lessee by the drilling of any well located on the land or on property pooled therewith, discover gas or gaseous substances capable of production in paying quantities but Lessee is unable to produce (or which although previously produced Lessee is unable to continue to produce) because of lack of market or marketing facilities or governmental restrictions, then Lessee's rights as to the land included in the production unit created for such well as provided in numbered Paragraph 3, hereof, or in the producing block for such well as provided in numbered Paragraph 6 (b), hereof, may be maintained, in the absence of production or drilling operations, by paying as "shut-in gas royalty" on the next ensuing rental due date or within 90 days after the well has been shut-in, whichever is later, as per Sections 2 and 6 (a) hereof and continuing monthly thereafter an amount equal to 1/12 of the annual rental of Two Hundred and No/100---------- Dollars ($ 200.00) per acre per year for each acre of Lessor's land included in the unit or producing block for such shut-in well; provided, however, that after expiration of the primary term of this lease, in no event shall Lessee's rights be extended by payment of "shut-in gas royalty" and without actual drilling operations or production of oil and/or gas in paying quantities for more than two (2) consecutive years.

11. Subject to the provisions of Paragraphs 3 and 14 hereof, Lessor hereby reserves, as a royalty, 25 percent of the oil and/or gas produced and saved from the leased premises, the same to be delivered to him or, at his option, may be paid for by Lessee as follows, to-wit:

(a) 25 percent of such oil and other liquid hydrocarbons that are produced hereunder and saved shall be delivered to Lessor as provided hereinafter in subparagraph (e) hereof, or to his credit in the pipeline to which the well or wells may be connected; provided, however, Lessor shall have, at all times, at the option and request of Lessor, purchase of such oil and liquid hydrocarbons, paying therefor the posted price of the purchasing companies currently prevailing, in the area where produced for substances of like grade and gravity at the time of the run to the pipeline to which the well or wells may be connected.

(b) 25 percent of such gas that is produced hereunder and saved shall be delivered to Lessor as provided hereinafter in subparagraph (e) hereof, or to his credit in the pipeline to which the well or wells may be connected; provided, however, Lessor shall have, at all times, at the option and request of Lessor, purchase or sell such gas as is being produced and if such gas is utilized or purchased by Lessee, or if such gas is sold by Lessee to a third party, Lessee shall pay Lessor the market price therefor at the mouth of the well.

(c) 25 percent of the market price at the plant of all products extracted or processed and 25 percent of the market price at the plant of all residue gas shall be paid to Lessor, where gas from the leased premises is processed as follows: (1) by Lessee itself or through an affiliated company, (2) by any other party in a plant or process in or adjacent to the field from which production is obtained, or (3) through arrangement on a royalty basis by Lessee with any other party in a plant or process not in or adjacent to the field, and in this last event, Lessor shall be paid only his proportionate share of said royalty paid to Lessee.

(d) In the event Lessor elects to take his royalty oil in kind the same is to be delivered to him at Lessee's central tank battery, or if in the event Lessor elects to take his royalty gas in kind the same is to be delivered to him at Lessee's meter station. Lessor shall have the right to use Lessee's then existing canals and roads, at his sole risk, insofar as Lessee has such right, to remove said royalty oil from the leased premises and/or to construct pipelines and facilities necessary to remove and take his royalty oil and/or gas provided that such use by Lessor shall not interfere with Lessee's use thereof.

If Lessor elects to take his royalty oil and/or gas in kind, then Lessor, at his sole cost and expense, shall furnish necessary facilities on the leased premises for taking his share of the royalty oil and/or gas in kind.

(e) Except as provided for hereinabove, each and all of the royalties hereinabove described shall be computed without any deduction or charge for any cost or expense whatsoever for production, delivery, processing or any other purpose, except that Lessor's royalties shall bear any severance taxes attributable to them.

(f) Lessee shall pay all royalties due on production under this lease on or before the last day of the month following such production. In the case of a unit containing other leases, Lessee shall have a ninety (90) day period within which to make initial royalty payments to allow sufficient time for bookkeeping and record purposes. Lessee shall furnish Lessor or his assigns, at the same time as the royalty payment, supporting statements showing the basis for computing these payments. Lessor shall have access at all reasonable times to the books, records and accounts kept by Lessee, showing the quantity, quality and value of oil, gas and other products on which royalty is paid.

12. The Lessee shall be responsible for all damages caused by Lessee's operations, and for any increase in taxes resulting from buildings or other improvements placed upon the land by Lessee.

Lessee agrees to indemnify and hold Lessor harmless from all claims for injury to and death of persons or damage to property arising out of or in connection with Lessee's operations under this lease, and agrees to defend any suit brought against Lessor on account of any such claim, and to pay any judgment against Lessor in any such suit. Lessee further agrees to use due care to avoid damage to Lessor's property, and, particularly, but without limitation, to avoid damage to Lessor's surface lessees and to the wildlife on the leased premises. Lessee shall pay for all damage to canals, ditches, dams, levees, roads, bridges, and/or repair all canals, ditches, dams, levees, roads, bridges, fences, pipelines and other structures, facilities and improvements on such property which may be worn or damaged by any operations hereunder and will remove all debris resulting from such operations. Lessee will bury all pipelines below ordinary plow depth and the bottoms of ditches, canals and other water covered areas. No well shall be drilled within 400 feet of any residence, barn or similar structure without Lessor's prior written consent. Lessee shall have the right until six (6) months after the expiration of this lease to remove any property or fixtures placed by it upon the leased premises, including the right to draw and remove all casing. Lessee shall, however, plug and abandon all wells on released acreage in accordance with the regulations of the governmental agency having jurisdiction.

Lessor reserves the full enjoyment of the property covered hereby, for all purposes, except for those granted and to the extent granted to Lessee. Included within Lessor's reserved rights are, among others, all hunting and trapping rights, farming, and grazing rights, reclamation rights, and all rights relating to minerals not covered hereby, as well as all rights concerning sand, gravel and shells; provided, that neither Lessor or Lessee shall unduly interfere with the operations of the other upon the leased premises.

13. Lessee shall not assign, cede, or sublease this lease, in whole, or in part, as to any segregated portion, or as to any interest in or bearing upon the whole or any part, except with Lessor's prior written consent; provided, that this restriction shall not apply to any assignee which succeeds (other than at a sheriff sale), to all of the mineral properties of Lessee in the State of Louisiana. No sale or assignment by Lessor, or other change of ownership, in whole or in part, shall be binding upon Lessee until Lessee shall be furnished with thirty (30) days prior written notice, consisting of a certified copy of the recorded muniments of title.

All provisions hereof shall extend to and bind the successors and assigns (in whole or in part) of Lessor and Lessee; but no change in the ownership of the land or any interest therein or change in the capacity or status of Lessor, whether resulting from sale, inheritance or otherwise, shall impose any additional burden on Lessee nor shall any change in ownership or in the status or capacity of Lessor impair the effectiveness of payments made to Lessor herein named unless the then record owner of said lease Lessor herein named unless the then record owner of said lease shall have been furnished thirty (30) days before payment is due, with notice of such change in ownership or advancing with certified copy of recorded instrument or evidence of such change in such transfer, inheritance or sale or evidence of such evidence status or capacity of Lessor. The furnishing of such evidence shall not affect the validity of payments theretofore made in advance.

14. Without impairment of the proportionate reduction provisions which follow, this lease is granted without warranty of title or extent of interest even as to a royalty paid hereunder. Lessor agrees that Lessee may, at its option, discharge herefor, Lessor agrees that Lessee may, at its option, discharge any tax, mortgage or other lien upon the land and be subrogated thereto and have the right to apply to the repayment of Lessee any rentals and/or royalties accruing hereunder. If Lessor owns less than the entire undivided interest in all or any portion of the lands or mineral rights relating thereto (whether such interest is herein specified or not) and royalties as to the land in which an interest is outstanding in others shall be reduced proportionately to the interest of the Lessor therein, but the failure of Lessee to reduce rentals shall not affect Lessee's rights to reduce royalties; and all outstanding royalty rights shall be deducted from the royalties herein provided for.

15. In the event that Lessor at any time considers that operations are not being conducted in compliance with this lease, Lessor shall notify Lessee in writing of the facts relied upon as constituting a breach hereof, and Lessee, if legally required to conduct operations in order to maintain the lease in force shall have thirty (30) days after receipt of such notice in which to commence the necessary operations to comply with the requirements hereof.

16. If the land herein described is owned in divided or undivided portions by more than one party, this instrument may be signed in any number of counterparts each of which shall be binding on the party signing regardless of whether all of the owners join in the granting of this lease; and the failure of any party named herein as Lessor to sign this lease shall not affect its validity as to those whose signatures appear hereon or on a counterpart hereof. The failure of a Lessor party named herein to execute this lease, whether or not he is named a Lessor party, shall not constitute a failure of title as that term is used herein but the proportionate reduction provisions of Paragraph 14 hereof shall apply.

17. The requirements hereof shall be subject to any State and/or Federal law or order regulating operations on the land.

18. For purposes of this lease actual drilling means "spudding-in" and continuing the drilling of a well in a prudent, workmanlike manner, and reworking operations or a well being reworked means that work is actually being performed on a well designed to increase or restore production therefrom. The above defined terms do not include any activities preparatory to beginning these operations.

19. Any operations conducted by Lessee on the above described land shall be in conformity with the following provisions:

(a) No canals, boat, barge or dredge roads, ditches or drains shall be opened, cleaned or dredged across the leased premises without prior written approval of Lessor. In addition, survey plats showing location and method of all surface work, including that described in the preceding sentence, shall be submitted to and approved by Lessor or his designated representative in writing prior to commencement of any such work.

(b) Lessee shall limit its ingress and egress by canal to the existing canals on the leased premises wherever the use of such existing canals is feasible. Any canals, boat, barge, or dredge road, ditch, drain, or pit dug or used by Lessee shall upon request of Lessor be closed by a permanent dam, the design and construction of which shall be first approved by Lessor or his designated representative; when the same is no longer reasonably needed for operations hereunder and, following operations at any well site, the same shall be cleaned up and the surface restored as near as practicable to its pre-existing condition.

(c) No salt water shall be disposed of on the leased premises except subsurface into wells adequate to receive same without injury to surface.

(d) No plants, canals, storage or transportation facilities shall be located upon the leased premises except to serve the leased premises itself, or land with which it (or any part thereof) is pooled.

(e) On all geophysical exploration hereunder Lessee shall notify Lessor's agent prior to commencing operations and shall furnish the following:

1. Data one mile on either side of the property.
2. Copy of plat of line and shot point location on a 1" = 2,000' scale.
3. Reproducible film of fully migrated record section with a vertical scale of at least 5 inches per second.
4. Written notification of when work is to start and date when completed.
5. Delivery of data within 60 days of completion of line.

20. Each Lessor named herein does hereby authorize Lessee to make any payments under in accordance with the provisions hereof, or to Lessor's credit in the respective depository bank which may be designated out below, or any successor depository bank which may be designated as hereinabove provided, and in the following proportions, to wit:

The consideration paid by Lessee to Lessor is accepted as full and adequate consideration for all rights, options and privileges herein granted.

21. In the event Lessee should deem it necessary or desirable to apply to state or federal governmental authority for rules or orders governing the spacing of wells or the establishment of drilling or other units affecting the leased premises, Lessee shall, prior to the filing of such application notify Lessor of its proposed plan, setting forth in detail the purposes of such application or plan, the results to be achieved thereby, and full information with respect thereto, and shall thereafter keep Lessor fully informed with respect to such plan, including, without limitation, any changes or modifications thereof. Lessee shall also furnish Lessor with a copy of such application, and shall, at least five (5) days prior to any hearing pursuant to such application, furnish Lessor with copies of all maps, plats, documents and other material or evidence to be submitted at such hearing in connection with such application, which obligation of Lessee shall be deemed to be of the essence of this contract of lease.

22. Lessor, on request, shall be furnished with copies of all logs and electrical surveys, information concerning wells and other operations, and copies of drilling and production reports and run tickets. Lessor shall be entitled, on request, to inspect adequate portions of cores, samples and cuttings as taken from all wells drilled on the leased premises. Lessor, at Lessor's risk, shall at all reasonable times have the right to inspect Lessee's operations hereunder, and shall have access at its own risk to the derrick floor and the right to witness the gauging of all tanks and to gauge the tanks. BREAD IS made the old fashioned way in Russia in a kiln-like oven. Two breadmakers are shown at work here. (Photo by Geneva Griffith)

RUSSIAN TRIP

Bread still made the "old fashioned way"

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

I recently returned from a tour of the Soviet Union with a group of National Press Women from all over the United Staes. The signs of the changes in Russia were very impressive, and we could see how Gorbachev's Perestroika and Glasnost policies are changing the country.

When we were preparing for our trip, we had been told that it might be a good idea to take along some snacks because food we might like might not be so plentiful, and that there would probably be plenty of cabbage and potatoes.

We were pleasantly surprised that this was indeed not the case, because we were lavishly dined, in most cases with many course dinners, with as many as eight courses.

We ate one of the most beautiful meals I have ever eaten in the 16th century monastary of the Intersession in Sudzal, on the Gorky highway out from Vladimir.

It consisted of at least eight or more courses (I lost count) and had one of the most uniquely prepared borsches (soup) I have ever tasted. The soup seemed to have a cabbage or potato base, with some type of meat and other vegetables in it.

It was put into a ramkin and a circle of pie crust was laid over the top and crimped all around the top edge, then popped into the oven and cooked until it is browned.

It came to the table piping hot and the top had to be punctured with the soup spoon and the crust fell down into the soup.

I thought that it was probably the Russian answer to the delicious rich onion soup France is famous for, wherein the toast is floated in it and the top covered with cheese.

Our Russion intourist tour guide explained that the following is a typical dinner menu in her country; squallows nest (squid, eggs, and pickles); seafood appetizer; caviar; pancakes (especially on Trove Tuesday); a hot appetizer (pike fish cooked in sour cream and boullion); borsche; peasant style soup (covered with rounds of dough such as I described above); drink (usually mead - tasted like fermented apple juice); brown or white bread; and ice cream and apples for dessert.

Caviar (from lumpback sturgeon, black and white sturgeon and paddlefish) was served at most meals, as was rice (served plain with no topping, such as gravy).

Their beef stroganoff and chicken dishes were delicious and I loved their breads.

We were lucky enough to visit a bakery and watch them bake the bread in round clay kilns that haven't changed in hundreds of years. Customers lined up to buy the bread fresh out of the ovens at one ruble a loaf.

We figured out why the people seemed to be so hefty (when we were told that the ordinary people were hungry) is because they eat so much bread that seemed to be plentiful.

I learned that John Folse, the famous Cajun chef from Lafitte's Landing in Donaldsonville, is negotiating to open a Cajun food restaurant in Moscow, at the invitation of the Soviets.

"To have a soup unequaled in the great kitchens of the world is the evolution of Lousiana cooking", he said.

Rod & Gun club backs refuge

The Calcasieu Rod and Gun Club of Lake Charles has gone on record supporting the efforts of the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service to establish the Little Pecan Island Wildlife Refuge in Cameron Parish.

The club also urged that federal revenue sharing appropriations be made to Cameron Parish to offset the loss of the parish tax base upon conversion of the refuge to public ownership.

The Cameron Parish Police Jury and other groups have opposed the creation of the new refuge in the parish on the grounds that it will further diminish the tax base in the parish which already has three other public wildlife refuges.

Paul Yakupsak, manager of the parish's newest national wildlife refuge, the Cameron Prairie National Refuge in the Gibbstown area, was elected as president of the Calcasieu Rod and Gun Club.

Other resolutions adopted by the Calcasieu club, which it will recommend to the Louisiana Wildlife Federation for support along with the two above, were:

1) Support of meaningful efforts of the "Governor's Task Force on Calcasieu Estuary Pollution," especially those efforts which concentrate on bringing about actual clean-ups and real restoration of aquatic and wetland habitats.

2) Support of an overall State Government Policy: that part of any penalty, settlement agreement, consent decree, or other compromise negotiated between the State and parties accused of wildlife or fisheries habitat damage must include, at the degrader's expense, local mitigation such as marsh rebuilding or heavy donation to wildlife research or protection projects.

3) Support of an overall State Government Policy of Prudence which would require that all wildlife, fisheries, public health and/or environmental decisions made by State Officials be made on the safe side, that is, if there is a difference of opinion, Caution will not be Compromised.

SHARONDA WILLIAMS, South Cameron High School's 1989 Homecoming Queen, has received a $1200 scholarship to participate in a summer program at Xavier University in New Orleans. She is the student body president, a varsity cheerleader, a member of the basketball team and maintains a 4.0 overall grade point average. She is the daughter of Linda Felton and Michael Semien and the granddaughter of Aline Johnson of Cameron.

CHRISTI JO Dupuie stands by the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival's new mascot, which has no name. The Festival is sponsoring a contest among the elementary school children to name him yet. The winner will be announced at the Thursday night program of the Fetival Jan. 11, at the Cameron school auditorium. The winner will be awarded a $50 prize.

They will be installed at the annual installation banquet to be held Jan. 23.

A delegation from the Chamber is slated to meet with Neil Wagoner, Secretary of the Louisiana Department of Transportation, to discuss the transportation needs of the parish, in the Calcasieu Parish Police Jury building in lake Charles Jan. 10, at 9:30 a.m.

George LeBoeuf called on the Chamber to push for a new highway from Cameron to Lake Charles.

"I think it is a long overdue project and necessary to the progress of Cameron, the county seat of the parish," he said. "It's only 16 miles from Cameron to Boone's Corner. I believe that if we really get behind this, we could get Calcasieu parish to help us also."

He said he was not against the widening of the existing highway through Creole because this would be a separate project. This would be an evacuation and industrial route to Cameron.

The Chamber passed a resolution supporting the proposed Monkey Island bridge.

Don Criglow said he had received a call from Senator Johnston's office stating that the government property on Monkey Island is to be turned over to the parish in the near future.

JENNIFER CANIK, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Canik of Grand Chenier has been named "Cameron Parish Cattleman Queen."

FEMA says jury on right path

The Cameron Parish Police Jury has received a letter from the regional director of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) commending the jury for the initial steps that it has taken to place the parish in compliance with the National Flood Insurance Program.

FEMA recently put the parish on probation because some of the NFIP requirements had not been met in the past. The jury was notified that if the parish did not get in compliance the parish could lose the flood insurance program.

Edd Hargett, FEMA regional director, wrote the jury:

"Even though a majority of the progress to date consists of establishing procedures to address the current NFIP violations and deficiencies, it demonstrates that the Parish has an apparent understanding of the NFIP criteria in general and the probation requirements specifically. We feel that the procedures established and the corrective actions taken thus far are definite steps in bringing the Parish's NFIP efforts into compliance with the minimum standards of the NFIP."

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality is proposing to issue a final Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System (LWDPS) permit to Petro Oil Company. This permit, if issued, will establish effluent limitations and monitoring requirements for the discharge of certain wastewater streams associated with the company's oil and gas exploration, development and production operations in the Betty Lake Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana. The receiving water is the Betty Lake Field is Grand Lake. The limitations and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.

REMEMBER?

By Keith Hambrick

It was cold in parish fifty years ago also

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 29, 1929)
WINTERTIME IN HACKBERRY

Dec. 24--Hackberry was covered with ice, sleet and snow Saturday and Sunday. The heavy ice on the trees caused many limbs to break off. Fruit trees that were not covered are thought to have been killed.

The Gulf States Utilities high line broke in two in Hackberry Saturday evening at 5 o'clock cutting off all electricity in Hackberry until the line could be repaired about 3:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

The Hackberry field managers had to go to Sulphur to phone in their reports to their headquarters offices, being unable to use telephones here.

Three boys were busy shoveling snow and sleet off the ferry crossing of the Intracoastal canal leading into Hackberry.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson and son left Hackberry Sunday to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives in Gist, Orangefield and Houston.

W. R. Conklin of Jennings and M. P. Irwin of Lake Charles were business visitors here Friday in interests of the Star Oil Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Darbonne and children of Orangefield are spending the Christmas holidays with relatives here.

G. W. Davis motored to Sulphur on business Sunday.

George Smith of Westlake is spending the holidays with his wife and son here.

Mrs. Hazel Darbonne and son left last week to spend Christmas with her mother in Morse.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson and Morris Darbonne were shoppers in Lake Charles Monday.

(Lake Charles American Press, Dec. 27, 1935)
CAMERON STEERS

Twelve carloads of Cameron steers, three and four years old, were shipped out of Vinton Thursday by Southern Pacific by R. A. Moore of Orange, Tex. These steers were bought by W. T. Johnson of San Antonio and were shipped to Darling, Tex. Mr. Johnson, who puts on a rodeo annually at Madison Square Garden in New York, will select the best show cattle for rodeo purposes.

These cattle were driven into Vinton Thursday from the Moore ranch. Mr. Moore expects to ship out more carloads Saturday and again Monday. These cattle will go to a different party.

FERRY PROPOSED

The Louisiana Highway Commission has applied for a permit from the War Department for the dredging of two slips on the Intercoastal Canal on the intersection of that waterway with the Creole-Calcasieu Parish line highway, about 6.3 miles west of Little Lake Misere in Cameron Parish, for the operation of a ferry.

Plans call for the dredging of two slips 50 feet wide and 90 feet long, one in the north and the other in the south bank of the canal. The ferry will be operated by a guide cble, placed in such a manner that it can be lowered promptly to permit the passage of vessels.

SWEETLAKE

Plans for a landscaping project using native trees and shrubs were made by the Sweetlake home demonstration club at its christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. L. Winters.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

COLD WEATHER

The bitter cold Arctic front which moved in Thursday night was right on schedule for the first day of winter, Thursday, Dec. 21. By that Friday morning folks had frozen water pipes and some broken pipes. Around 10 a.m. that day snow started falling, covering trees and grounds. Saturday morning brought colder temperatures in the low teens (11 degrees), a record breaker from the previous record of 12 degrees Jan. 24, 1948. After all the bad weather, Saturday morning brought beautiful clear sunshine through Christmas day; however there was still snow at many places.

Pipes didn't start thawing out until Sunday evening and Monday. That's when broken pipes began to show. A number of homes on Christams Day were without water and a plumber had to be called out.

Some folks at the Chenier stayed out of water for four days.

LIGHTING CONTEST

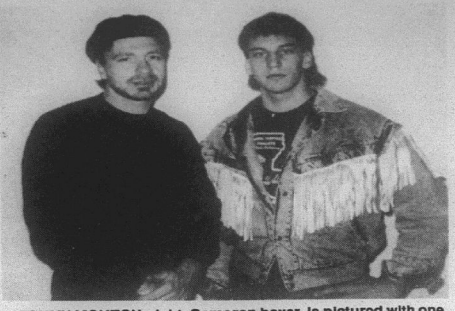
The Christmas lighting contest held Monday, Dec. 18, was one of the largest at the Chenier. Folks decorating in and outside of their homes are to be complimented on all their hard work and expense.

There were sixteen homes judged.

CHRISTMAS DAY

Christmas Day at Grand Chenier was a beautiful day with sunshine but a temperature of 12 degrees. There were many gatherings in spite of the cold weather. Good turnouts were seen at different churches. We've never seen snow for Christmas. The snow we usually get has always been in February.

VISITORS



Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Canik and Mrs. Corrine Canik recently attended the wedding of a relative. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. Pauline C. Jordon, formerly of Grand Chenier.

Mary Clark of San Antonio, Tex., spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark and brother, Roy, and also joining them for Christmas were Mr. and Mrs. Adam Miller and family of Carencro.

Mrs. Jeanette Bates of Orange, Tex., and Mrs. Corrine Canik spent Christmas Day with their sister, Mrs. Angeline Mhire in South Cameron Memorial Hospital Nursing Home in Creole. Mrs. Corrine Canik has since gone to Orange, Tex., to spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Bates.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Miller of Carencro spent Christmas Eve with Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Miller and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller of Pottstown, Penn., and their daughter, Brenda of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., spent the holidays with Mrs. Miller's mother, Mrs. Rosa Mhire and family.

Tommy Mouton gets knockout in Canada

Here is the latest news on Tommy Mouton, rising young boxer from Cameron:

Tex Fontain of Canada was using a fight with Mouton as a tuneup for his World Title clash in February. The fight was going Fontain's way, having knocked Mouton down two times in the first three rounds.

Mouton began the assault back on Fontain midway through the third round with a vicious right hand that opened a gash over Fontain's left eye. Mouton resumed the attack in the fourth round knocking Fontain down with a three punch combination. Mouton used a spinning heal kick accompanied by a barrage of punches shocking the Montreal crowd and knocking out Fontain.

Mouton now has the option of a North American or World Title fight in Canada around May. Mouton's next fight will be in Westlake in February.

Some wildlife notes

This week I'll hit and miss a few articles I think most of you would be interested in reading. As this is the last article of 1989, I would like to thank each and every one of you who read my articles. I'll try and make 1990 a better one.

* Duck season has reopened and shooting is fair, but the cold spell sure moved lots of birds further south. We did get a chance to shoot a few snipes and woodcocks.

* The 1989 shrimp season in Zone III closed Friday, Dec. 22, in the inshore waters from the Lousiana/Texas line to the western shore of Vermilion Bay and Southwest Pass at Marsh Island.

Shrimp have been running small, and closing may help out the 1990 spring season.

* Complaints of redfish violations have led to the arrest of a woman for possession of game fish for commercial purposes.

She was stopped on I-10 with a van load of 3,000 pounds of redfish. Another van following her also had 2,900 pounds of redfish, but the driver fled on foot.

The redfish were being transported out of state.

* Two men were also charged for illegal deer hunting, with a freshly killed doe. Charges were hunting from a moving vehicle, hunting during closed season, hunting during illegal hours, hunting from a public road, illegal possession of marijuana, hunting with an unplugged gun, possession of a firearm by a convicted felon, hunting without a big game license and also without a basic hunting license.

This goes to show a person may think he's doing just a little wrong, but many charges can be brought against a person when violating hunting or fishing laws.

* Erosion of natural habitat is causing a great concern for the Lousiana Brown Pelican.

Some of the barrier islands along our Gulf Coast are half the size they were ten years ago.

We've just started seeing some of these birds since a great number were killed back in the 1960's from DDT, which poisoned the fish, and killed the pelicans that ate the fish. About 5 million pelicans were killed in the Mississippi waterways from the pesticide DDT.

* Talk about TEDs: Talk about sea turtles, well the cold weather up north has endangered sea turtles before they could migrate to the Gulf of Mexico. Many died and some are still dying.

These turtles can't stand water colder than 45 degrees, that's when they slow down, then stiffen up and die.

Included in these species are the Ridley, when so much hell has been raised with our shrimpers and the TED to keep them from being destroyed. Also the loggerhead and the hawksbill were included in these turtles found dead.

Many of the live ones were rescued and put in heated aquariums to try to get them to survive.

However, according to Washington, man is still the main threat to these turtles, but Mother Nature does take her toll. I wonder if they would come and rescue our shrimpers and heat up their hearts and give them the amount of money they lost from pulling the TED.

IT'S A FACT!

One reason many people put off quitting smoking is fear they'll gain weight. Fortunately, there's a medication available that may help prevent that problem.

New studies show that people whose smoking cessation programs include use of a nicotine-containing gum gained significantly less weight after they quit smoking than those who didn't use the gum to help them quit. This could be because of the continuing nicotine intake, but it could also be because the activity of chewing suppressed appetite and/or prevented more frequent snacking. The prescription-only gum uses nicotine to help curb smoking withdrawal symptoms. If you are ready to quit, see your doctor.

CHIROPRACTIC OUTLOOK

By Dr. Kevin Cox

WHEN THE BACK SAGS

In middle age,the muscles that hold up the spine, the shoulder girdle and the upper ribs sometimes begin to sag. The normal curve of the back becomes exaggerated; between the shoulders, the spine curves backward sharply. The common name for this condition is "round back." The scientific name is kyphosis.

A complete diagnostic examination by a doctor of chiropractic will include tests to determine muscle tone, the range of motion, and any areas of muscle weakness. X-rays and the most modern diagnostic procedures are also used where appropriate.

Therapy may include specific adjustments as needed to loosen tight muscles and postural exercises to straighten the back.

MUSING . . . . . By Bernice Denny

One day at a time . .

Our lives are as rooms fashioned in the house of life. Each has two doorways -- an entrance and an exit. Through each we walk but once.

We have hovered some twelve months in the room marked '89. Shortly we shall be ushered from it whether we will it or not. And, as true of all the year-rooms in which we have dwelt, the exit from this one becomes the entrance to the next. God has so ordained. We must move on to that reserved for '90.

The past year can never be reentered save in memory. Its joys and sadness, its laughter and tears, its dreams and defeats are all in the past.

As always, we must live one moment at a time. We cannot leap forward over unlived days.

Yet, today we are blessed. God is granting us another beginning . . . another chance . . . a new birth . . . a brighter dawn . . . a new day.

We are free to set new goals, aspire to greater heights, plan again to grasp unexpected opportunities should they come our way. We are permitted to rededicate our lives to Him, the Source of Life.

We are free, too, to practice the lessons learned in '89 by casting aside our old grudges and doubts, our hates and fears and griefs. Out of the hurts and frustrations of the past we can develop strength and courage, hope and faith. We can deepen our sense of humor, revitalize our power to laugh.

Even now the door springs open. The time has come. Let us enter.

The palm tree gets its name from the type of palm that has blades that fan out, resembling the palm and fingers of a hand.

Ask Ochsner . . .

Q. I am considering having plastic surgery done. What is your advice for looking for a plastic surgeon?

A. when looking for a surgeon, whether for reconstructive or cosmetic surgery, "remember to make a point of being a consumer," advises Scott Greenberg, M. D., staff physician at the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans. "Do your research and know what you want and what you will be getting in return."

Greenberg says a priority should be finding out if the surgeon is American Society for Plastic and Reconstructive Surgery (ASPRS) certified. He adds there are many physicians who claim to be board certified for plastic and cosmetic surgery, but do not have the ASPRS certification. "An ASPRS certified surgeon is well-trained in doing any procedure and can also take care of any problems that may be related to it," explains Greenberg. "I would ask the surgeon about board certification, and even ask for verification."

A good place to start your search for a board certified plastic surgeron is the ASPRS information center. You can call their toll free number, 1-800-635-0635, and ask for a list of ASPRS certified surgeons in your area, he recommends. The Yellow Pages listing of plastic and cosmetic surgeons is extensive and can be confusing since there is no way to determine specific certification.

"Plastic and cosmetic surgery is a very personal matter," continues the plastic surgeon. "Take your time. Ask your family doctor or internal medicine physician for recommendations. Talk to friends or people who have used a surgeon for plastic or reconstructive surgery."

After you have chosen a surgeon or have narrowed the choices, Greenberg encourages the patient to set up an appointment to meet the surgeon. There is usually a consultation fee. Greenberg emphasizes the importance of the patient feeling comfortable with their choice of surgeon.

In the last five years computer-imaging technology has been used to give the patient the capability to see results theoretically that can be achieved with a specific procedure.

"However, the patient must realize that this is only an artist's conception and each body heals in its own way," cautions Greenberg. "No guarantees can be made that the body will heal to look exactly like the computer image."

Loans available for 1st time homeowners

Governor Buddy Roemer and Louisiana Housing Finance Agency President Allison Sondericker say banks and other lenders statewide will start accepting applications this week for $100 million in low-interest loans for first-time homebuyers.

Qualified lenders will begin taking applications at 9 a.m. Dec. 27, for the 30-year, 8.3 percent fixed-rate loans. New homes priced under $87,000 qualify, as do some existing homes, depending on their locations and costs, Roemer said.

"This progam will help more than 1,300 families and will create more than 2,000 construction jobs," Roemer said.

Roemer said funds will be awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis.

The $100 million comes from a recent bond sale issued by the LHFA and will be loaned by 22 participating lenders. At least $3 million will be targeted to home ownership in federally designated areas of economic distress, Sondericker said.

First time homeowners from low and moderate income families who are eligible for the loans must have good credit standing and a valid purchase agreement at the time of the application. Also, they should be able to pay one-percent mortgage costs and a two-point origination fee.

Also, the borrowers must have federal income tax statements for the last three years and not exceed income limits listed with participating lenders, Sondericker said.

For more information, contact the LHFA at 504-925-1762 on or after Dec. 27.

In most households, it makes sense to have on hand a full-size microwave oven—one measuring 1 to 1.3 cubic feet in capacity. Such roominess eliminates space restrictions, and accommodates virtually any size dish. For even more space, consider models with cooking racks.
