PUBLIC NOTICE

PERMIT APPLICATION

Interested parties are hereby notified that the Coastal Management Section of the Cameron Parish Police Jury has received the following apparently complete application for a Coastal Use Permit in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Louisiana Coastal Resources Program and R.S. 49:213.1, the State and Local Coastal Resources Management Act of 1978, as amended.

L.C.U.P. Application # 890306
CORPS OF ENGINEERS #.....
Name of Applicant: Amos Miller, Rt. 2 Box 437, Jennings, LA 70546
Location of Work: Section 15, Township 14 South, Range 5 West, Lat. 29° 49' 29.30" Long. 93° 02' 22.98"
Character of Work: Applicant requests authorization to construct and maintain a trenass and a boat launch ramp. The trenass is needed to provide water depths necessary to allow outboard and inboard boat traffic across applicant's property. Approximately 600 cubic yards of sand and clay material will be dredged by dragline and deposited adjacent to the proposed trenass.

The decision on whether to issue a permit will be based on an evaluation of the probable impacts of the proposed activity in accordance with the state policies outlined in R.S. 49:213.2. The decision will reflect in the national concern for both protection and utilization of important resources. The decision must be consistent with the state program and approved local programs for affected parishes and must represent an appropriate balancing of social, environmental and economic factors. All factors which may be relevant to the proposal will be considered; among these are flood and storm hazards, water quality, water supply, feasible alternative sites, drainage patterns, historical sites, economics, public and private benefits, coastal water dependency, impacts on natural features, compatibility with the natural and cultural setting and extent of long term benefits or adverse impacts.

Certification that the proposed activity will not violate applicable water and air quality laws, standards and regulations will be required before a permit is issued.

Any person may request, in writing, within the comment period specified in this notice, that a public hearing be held to consider this application. Request for public hearings shall state, with particularity, the reasons for holding a public hearing.

Plans for the proposed work may be inspected at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex Building, Coastal Management Division, Courthouse Square, P. O. Box 366, Cameron, Louisiana, (318) 775-5718. PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality has issued a temporary Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System (LWDPS) permit and is proposing to issue a final LWDPS permit to Pennzoil Exploration and Production Company to discharge treated wastewater from dewatering operations of drilling site reserve pits/ring levees, shale barges, and inactive or abandoned oilfield production pits, treated sanitary wastes, domestic wastes, storm water runoff (deck drainage), and other associated uncontaminated discharges such as cooling water, ballast water, etc. from workover and drilling barges, and production facilities to Deep Lake, Joseph Harbor Bayou, Cross Bayou, Little Constance Bayou, Little Constance Lake, Duhon Bayou, Sardine Bayou, Grassy Bayou, Grassy Lake, Constance Bayou and canals, lakes, and streams associated with Deep Lake Field, in Deep Lake Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana. The final permit, if issued, will require the discharge of produced water, source water and produced sand to cease six (6) months after the effective date of the final permit. The limitatons and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.

During the preparation of this permit, it has been determined that these discharges will have no adverse impact on the existing uses of the receiving waterbodies. As with any discharge, however, some change in existing water quality may occur.

Although all designated uses of the receiving waters are being fully supported, they are considered threatened. The threat to the support of designated uses is suspected to be due to organic enrichment from crop production, petroleum activities, and natural occurrences.

The application and proposed limitations may be examined at the Office of Water Resources, 9th Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North Fourth Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Persons wishing to provide data, views or comments, or request a public hearing relative to the issuance of the permit are invited to submit their comments and requests, in writing, within thirty (30) days of the date of this notice using reference No. WP 2513 to:

Office of Water Resources
Post Office Box 44091, Capitol Station

ATTN: Douglas A. Hale
Telephone: (504)342-8363

All written comments submitted during the period of comment shall be retained by the office and considered in the formulation of a determination to issue a final permit.

Rebels lose to Rebels in J. Bayou Relays

By ROBERT MANUEL

It was a battle of opposing Rebels in the annual Johnson Bayou Rebel Relays. The Midland Rebels outscored the Johnson Bayou Rebels 159-151 to take the team trophy. Hackberry followed in third place with 55, Fenton 53, St. Louis JV 50, Singer 17 and Reeves 13.

Midland's effort was led by Mark Woodward's 3 event wins in 600m, 1600m and long jump. Johnson Bayou's Scott Sandifer led a spirited Rebel team effort with 2 individual first and one second place.

In the girl's division, Barbe easily dominated the opposition with 108 1/2 points. The Lady Rebels followed with 74 1/2, Hackberry picked up 7 points, and Fenton 1.

The South Cameron Tarpons and the Grand Lake Hornets competed elsewhere, South Cameron in the Yellow Jacket Relays and Grand Lake in the South Beauregard Relays.

The annual Cameron Parish Track Meet will be held this week, Thursday, at Johnson Bayou High School. The weather forecast calls for warmer temperatures and fairer skies, but the team championships are up for grabs.

Free recreational fish days set in the state

Louisiana will join the nation in celebrating National Fishing Week June 5-11, and will highlight the observance by offering two Free Recreational Fishing Days.

In authorizing the event, the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission noted that the state's 800,000-plus sport fishermen contribute a billion dollars a year to the economy while engaging in a wholesome and pleasurable activity.

The commission acted to lure even more people into the pastime by declaring the free fishing days for Saturday and Sunday, June 10-11.

On those two days, residents of Louisiana and nonresidents as well are invited to exercise the privileges of a licensed recreational fisherman without having to buy a license. All other fishing regulations will, of course, prevail.

In addtion, education coordinators of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries will conduct free fishing clinics for children across the state. Interested parents may obtain details of the clinic closest to home by calling any of LDWF's eight district offices after May 1.

Birders to be in parish Sat..

Members of the Gulf Coast Bird Club will make a field trip to the Holleyman Bird Sanctuary at Johnson Bayou Saturday, April 15, leaving from the First National Bank parking lot in Lake Charles at 7 p.m.

The general public is invited. The club will have a regular meeting at 7 p.m., Thursday, April 13, in Frasch Auditorium at McNeese.

Spec fishing comes to end until Aug. 31

The commercial harvest or landing of speckled trout (spotted seatrout) in Louisiana closed at midnight, Sunday, April 9, and will remain closed through midnight, Aug. 31, the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries announced today.

The closure prohibits the commercial harvest, purchase, barter, trade or sale of spotted seatrout taken from Louisiana waters after the effective date of the closure, but does not prohibit dealers from possessing spotted seatrout legally taken prior to the date of the closure if appropriate records are maintained in accordance with LSA R.S. 56:306.4.

The closure also prohibits the commercial taking or landing of spotted seatrout in Louisiana, whether caught within or without the waters of the state.

Also effective with the closure, the commercial mesh size for gill nets, trammel nets and seine nets used in saltwater areas of the state, other than strike nets, shall be a minimum of 4½ inches stretched and a person shall have in possession no more than two strike nets.

The term "strike net" is newly defined as any gill net, trammel net or seine net not anchored or secured to the waterbottom or shore and which is used off a vessel and actively worked while being used.

Virginia VanSickle, Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries, said the action was taken as a result of the Wildlife and Fisheries commission's directive established at its March 3, 1989 meeting in Baton Rouge and the legislative mandate which established a 1.25 million pound annual quota for spotted seatrout.

CREOLE RECREATION DISTRICT

The Police Jury, in an effort to re-open the Multipurpose Building, softball field, and swimming pool, has appointed a Board of Directors for the Recreation District #7 of Cameron Parish. The members of the Board are as follows: Ronald Daniels, William Morris, Coach Eddie Benoit, Charles Glenn Theriot and Joe Soileau.

The Board is faced with the task of budgeting, operation and maintenance of all three facilities. The responsibilities not only include the operation as usual, but making every effort to improve and assure use by all members of the District.

The Board has proposed the following objectives and needs to re-open the services:

A 1½ mill tax, which will fund about $17,000.00 - $19,000.00 per year is on the ballot for April 29th. 95% of all residents will not have to pay a tax and the average business will pay about $7.50/year. The assessment over Homestead Exemption is 15 cents on every 100.00 dollar assessment.

We understand that in an effort to be fair that a usage fee will have to be used (i.e. $1.00 a day to swim for children, etc.). This takes pressure off of those who pay taxes and balances the burden between the taxpayer and those who use the facilities.

The tax, when passed, will ALWAYS remain in control of the Board and CAN ONLY be used for the operation, maintenance and improvement of the three facilities maintained.

The objective of this Board is to provide recreation for all members of our community, create an environment we are all proud to share in, provide supervision for our children during summer months (pool, softball leagues), and assure each member a multi-purpose building for various personal and community functions.

We urge you to support our efforts in this tax package on April 29th. Vote yes for a better community.

The proposed budget is listed for your benefit. Please read it carefully.

sessor will not ppraise homes

By RIFFITH

B , Cameron Parish Tax Assessor, was notified this week by the Louisiana Tax Commission that he will not have to reappraise residential property in Cameron Parish.

Conner had previously been notified that the parish's assessed values were not within the tolerances allowed by the law. This would have meant that Conner would have to reappraise all residential property in the parish, unless he could present facts which would contradict the results of the parish measurements.

Conner pointed out to the Commission that the local multipliers used in the handbook to judge the local handbook were approximately 15 to 25% higher, when using the nearest town of Lake charles.

The major difference, he pointed out, between the cost of building a residence in the two parishes is the labor cost. Calcasieu Parish must comply with the union pay scale for carpenters and laborers, while Cameron Parish has no unions, and the cost of an identical structure will vary from 15 to 25% less due to the labor cost savings.

Using a quote from a Calcasieu Parish contractor, the cost for two carpenters and two laborers would cost $65 an hour, whereas a similar crew from Cameron Parish costs $31.50 per hour.

Conner said, "Our parish is a rural parish, and from 80 to 90 percent of the buildings built, whether they are commercial, farm or residential, are constructed in whole or part by free labor (either by themselves or by relatives or friends).

"Cameron residents must build on a small network of ridges which run between the marshes, which makes this parish somewhat unique from other parishes," he said.

"We have many things that adversely affect construction in this parish. The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) regulates construction in Cameron Parish. Each building must be elevated to a certain level according to the flood plane indicated on a government flood plane map.

"This devastates and hampers construction of any new homes, offices or business building. You either build on pilings or move elsewhere, and can you imagine building a service station on pilings?

"These regulations have crippled the construction of buildings so severely that you can count the new buildings on hand.

"Current homeowners are seeing a reduced market price on their initial investments, as shown by evidence in recent sales in the conveyance records of Cameron Parish."

For these reasons, Conner requested the tax commission to grant him authority to reduce the local multiplier by 15 to 25%, so Cameron Parish will be in line with the current market value and original costs of residential properties in the parish.

The commission accepted the findings and Cameron Parish will not be ordered to reappraise their residential property as some other parishes around the state have been ordered to do.

6,282 registered to vote here

CAPITAL NEWS

When the polls open April 29, in Cameron Parish, the number of registered voters who can cast their ballots will be somewhat lower than if the election had been held in January.

By the end of 1988, 6,282 voters were registered in the parish, according to figures from the state Department of Elections and Registration. The most recent data, compiled March 31, shows 6,015 registered voters in the parish.

The number of white voters on the parish rolls decreased by 243 during the three-month period of 5,668 while the number of black voters was down 22 to 343. Only four voters were classified as neither race on the most recent report, down from six at the end of 1988.

Registered parish Democrats decreased in number of 192 to 5,275 at the end of March. The 322 registered Republicans also reflected a decrease down from 358 at the end of 1988. Registrations for other parties dropped from 457 at the close of 1988 to 418 on March 31.

When the first quarter of 1989 ended, the state had 2.13 million registered voters -- 1.56 million white, 555,926 black and 11,762 of other races. Of the total, 1.6 million were registered as Democrats, 358,228 were Republicans and 171,487 had other party affiliations.

Those numbers indicate a decrease in all major categories from the totals on Dec. 30, 1988. The total of registered voters in the state dropped about 31,000 during the three months. About 27,000 of that decline was among white voters, while the number of black voters fell about 4,000. Only the "other" race category showed an increase, rising from 11,741 to the 11,762 in the most recent report.

The department reports show 28,000 fewer Democrats were registered at the end of March than on Dec. 30, 1988. Voters affiliated with neither major party decreased in number by about 5,500, but the number of registered Republicans increased nearly 2,300 during the period.

Fish advisory signs put up on river

By SHIRLEY HAUPT

Department of Environmental Quality Water Quality Division officers Kirk Manuel and Larry Racca erected fish advisory signs at the Interstate-10 boat ramps Monday. Signs will be going up all week at 26 public boat launches from the salt water barrier to the Gulf of Mexico.

Signs warning against the sale and consumption of white and speckled trout taken from anywhere in the Calcasieu River system will be going up all week, Manuel said.

Racca said signs will not be going up on the water itself because of the expense and because they are either removed or shot up.

The signs were going up in response to a joint advisory issued by the DEQ, the Department of Health and Hospitals and the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries against the sale and consumption of trout taken from the river system from the salt water barrier to the Gulf of Mexico.

The three agencies issuing the advisory cited high levels of chemical contaminaton found in white and speckled trout as reasons for the advisory.

DEQ is in the process of collecting other fish and seafood samples to learn whether other species may be contaminated with hexachlorobenzene or hexachlorobutadiene, possibly carcinogenic chemicals found in trout.

Martin Miller, with KCA Research, said Monday he is collecting information for the National Marine Fisheries to be used in setting size and quota limits for recreational fishing.

Miller, from Cameron Parish, said he had stopped eating fish taken from the river because of the contamination.

He said Spanish mackeral, red fish and speckled trout were being regulated using the data his company provided.

The Cameron Community Action Agency will give out commodities starting at 8:30 a.m. Tuesday, April 25, at the Cameron VFW Building.

Parish students to attend drug rally

Some 6,000 school students from every parish, including 58 from Cameron Parish, will converge in Baton Rouge April 27, at a special rally to petition Governor Buddy Roemer and other top officials for drug-free schools.

"The students are bringing us a powerful message -- a demand that we eliminate drugs in schools -- and we'll respond with our commitment to make that happen," Roemer said.

Roemer, Attorney General William Guste and Superintendent of Education Wilmer Cody have formed the Partnership for a Drug Free Louisiana and are sponsoring the rally.

"These students are drug free, and they've been working in their schools and communities to make them drug free. We're eager to join forces in Baton Rouge to fight drugs," Roemer said.

Two months ago, formal petitions were circulated in all public and many private schools, asking students to join the partnership and to pledge their support in the fight against drugs.

Officials say more than 500,000 students from 1,200 schools signed the petitions which will be presented to Roemer, Guste and Cody during the rally. Legislators, federal and local officials also will attend.

The day will feature a motivational program at the Baton Rouge Centroplex at 10:30 a.m. At 1 p.m. the students will march down Fourth Street to the Capitol where they will present their petitions to Roemer, Guste and Cody.

Mr. McCall buys some fine cattle

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American Press, April 20, 1917)

MCCALL BUYS FINE CATTLE

M. W. McCall has just returned from Baton Rouge, where he went several days ago to look at some registered Holstein cattle with a view to purchasing a number for his stock farm out near Black Bayou. Mr. McCall has a big ranch of about 300 acres and is going into the stock business extensively. He has a well equipped, modern and thoroughly up-to-date farm, one of the finest in this section of the country.

He purchased seven head of these registered Holsteins nd expects to raise a number of Holsteins on his farm, as he is specializing in registered stock at present. Mr. McCall raises all the feed for his stock on the farm, and is operating it along the most approved lines, making the proposition a business one and getting the greatest results on investments and labor.

There are a number of new enterprises such as Mr. McCall's being established in this community now, and at the present time when the "back to the farm" idea is the key note of national life, it looks like Imperial Calcasieu was coming into her own and not only keeping up with the times, but leading them in southwest Lousiana.

POLICE JURY NEWS

On April 2, 1917, the Cameron Parish Police Jury convened at 8 a.m. The following members were present: W. R. McCall, president; J. A. Miller, Placide Montie, Benson Vincent, Honore Hebert, J. A. Welch and Moise Sturlese, clerk.

Police Juror Montie, representing Ward Three, presented a petition with a number of signatures, showing that they wanted a road from High Island to the Public Road at the intersection of the public road at Raymond Richard. The starting point from the grave yard, or near the grave yard at High Island, running through the marsh to Raymond Richard.

CAPT. PICHNIC

April 11—The many friends of Captain John Pichnic, will be sorry to hear of his death there will be no doubt. He died on April 8, at 3:40 a.m.

Captain Pichnic was born in Austria on July 15, 1861, and came to American at an early age, landing at Galveston, where he followed the life of a sailor and later was a ship officer on a ship plying between Galveston, Tex., and north Atlantic ports.

He came to Cameron Parish while still a young man and married Miss Delisca Peshoff of this place. After his marriage, he embarked in the retail grocery business, and was known by every man in this parish as well as a host of friends throughout southwest Louisiana for his kind heartness and hospitality. He could not refuse anyone and it has been said too often that his free heartness would get ahead of his business.

There are but few people in this parish, who have not at some time or a another been helped by the willing hand of Captain John Pichnic. His funeral was attended by one of the largest attendances that the people here have seen for many years, and interment was made at the Catholic cemetery at Creole.

DISTRESS IN CAMERON PARISH

Baton Rouge, April 21—E. D. Sweeney, S. O. Carter and Alfred Richard, a committee from Cameron Parish, Tuesday presented to Governor Parke., Commissioner of Agriculture Wilson, the pink boll worm commission and to the constitution convention a petition signed by several hundred citizens of Cameron parish, asking that steps be taken immediately to compensate the farmers of that parish for their losses in being prohibited from planting cotton during 1920 and 1921 under an act of the last session of the legislature.

The petition recites that, although the act of the legislature provided a fund of $250,000 to reimburse the farmers of Cameron Parish, the farmers have so far recieved only $50 each. The petition further sets forth that many of the farmers are in absolute want, their families are suffering on account of lack of proper food and clothing, they are unable to pay their store accounts for supplies, and that in many cases their taxes have not been paid.

The petitioners also assert that merchants of that section have given the farmers credit, with the expectaton of being reimbursed through the distribution of the state fund, and as this has not been forthcoming, the storekeepers have reached the limit and are unable to extend further credit.

SOUTH CAMERON Seniors Lisa LaBove, Becky Theriot, Latonia Andrews, Penny LaBove and Chermaine Primeaux are shown pricing items for their garage sale, car wash and bake sale to be held Saturday, April 22, at 9 a.m. at the Hurricane Car Wash in Creole. All proceeds will go to the Senior Class.

Census Bureau to have some temporary jobs

The U. S. Census Bureau has a number of temporary jobs open during spring and summer of 1989 in some parishes in Louisiana to help compile a master address list for use during the 1990 National Census.

Temporary census workers usually will work two to eight weeks and will be paid $5.50 an hour plus auto mileage where appropriate. Applicants for the jobs must be 18 years old or over, a U. S. citizen and take a written test.

The work involves driving or walking to prepare a list of addresses of each dwelling unit in designated areas of the county. The collected addresses will be combined to build a nationwide automated address file which will be a key to a complete census.

"This address listing operation is the foundation for a successful 1990 cenus," said Census Bureau Regional Director John E. Bell. "The resulting automated address file will be the central mechanism to keep track of over 100 million census questionnaires nationwide."

The address file will be used to produce census questionnaire address labels, keep track of returned forms, pinpoint those households where personal follow-up visits must be made to complete the forms, and provide local governments with precensus and postcensus housing unit counts for their review. Each housing unit in the nation will receive a questionnaire during March 1990. Census day is April 1, 1990.

Persons interested in applying for the temporary census jobs should contact: The Local Louisiana Office of Employment Security or the Monroe Census Office at 2324 Cypress St., or telephone (318) 323-7221.

GRAVITY DRAINAGE DISTRICT NO. 3

On the ballot of the April 29, 1989 election, there will be a proposal to renew the maintenance tax of Gravity Drainage District #3. This is only a renewal of a present tax you now pay, and if you give it your approval, it will be renewed at a lower rate.

The money derived from this tax is our only means of providing you with the present drainage systems and structures in our area. We beg of you to support and vote for this tax, but if for some reason you feel that you cannot help, please at least go to the polls and exercise your right to vote.

Please help us continue to serve you -- Vote YES on April 29th.

ONCE AGAIN, THIS IS NOT A NEW TAX, BUT A RENEWAL OF A PRESENT TAX AT A LOWER RATE.

12 arrested here for illegal shrimping

An impromptu air-sea operation carried out by employees of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries has resulted in the arrest of 12 seamen on charges of illegal shrimping.

Col. Winton Vidrine, chief of LDWF's Enforcement Division, said the 12 suspects were picked up while manning three shrimping vesels near the Rockefeller State Wildlife Refuge in Cameron Parish.

Vidrine said all were charged with trawling within the three-mile limit in closed season. He said the Wildlife and Fisheries employees seized 3,025 pounds of shrimp and confiscated the three boats along with 10 shrimp trawls.

He gave this account:

Acting on complaints of shrimp poaching, two Rockefeller Refuge employees, Guthrie Perry and James Nunez, began patrolling the area April 7, in the refuge's small plane.

They spotted the three boats and summoned the refuge's own motorcraft, the Skip Jack, with three fellow employees aboard. The seaborne trio rode herd on the shrimping vessels and made the arrests.

Of those arrested, seven were residents of Port Arthur, Tex. They were Capt. Khiem Hong Diep, Capt. Cang Van Nguyen, Duc Phuoc Ta, Dat Huynh Huynh, Le De, Matias Vargas Mateo and Thanh Vo.

The others, all residents of Lafayette, were Capt. Tuan U.U., Tudi Van Tran, Hoi Tran, Dung Tuong Cao and Thanh Van Nguyen.

Besides trawling within the three-mile limit, the three captains were charged with taking commercial fish without a commercial license. Khiem Hong Diep and Cang Van Nguyen were also charged with taking fish without a commercial vessel license and without a comemrcial gear license.

Judge Ward Fontenot of 38th Judicial District Court set bond at $2,000 each for the captains and $500 each for the deckhands.

The confiscated shrimp was sold by LDWF for a high bid of $9,451.70 and the money placed in escrow.

Wildlife and Fisheries personnel who assisted Guthrie and Nunez in the air-sea roundup included Keith Bell, Larry Breaux, Dennis Theriot, Ivan Vaughn and Jessie White.

GRAND CHENIER RECREATION DISTRICT #9 TAX PROPOSAL

ON APRIL 29th VOTE YES FOR YOUTH

To: All Registered Voters of Grand Chenier

Re: Recreation Tax Proposal for Grand Chenier

On April 29, 1989 voters from Grand Chenier District #9 will be voting on a 1 mill property tax that will provide the funds needed to re-open Grand Chenier swimming pool and recreation center. Additionally, the recreation board plans to construct a ball park behind the Grand Chenier recreation center, due to the recent closure of Canik Field, and assure the availability of the Grand Chenier Park for public use in the future.

Please vote to support the youth of Grand Chenier. The children of Grand Chenier are our future and we must provide recreational facilities for their total development.

Vote yes on Saturday, April 29, 1989. The future of the children is in your hands.

Sincerely,
Paul Corell
Darrell East
Mark Theriot
Robby Dale Mhire
Carol "Zeke" Wainwright

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF THIS TAX PASSES?

1. The Grand Chenier Pool will be re-opened for the 1989 summer season.

2. The Grand Chenier Recreation Center Facility will be re-opened for use year-round for private and public functions.

3. Due to the closure of Canik Field, a ball park will be constructed for both adult and youth softball competition behind the Grand Chenier Recreation Center.

4. The Grand Chenier Park will be placed under the jurisdiction of the Grand Chenier Recreation Board. Public use of the Park for church or civic group related fundraisers will be assured.

5. The youth of Grand Chenier will be provided with good recreation facilities that will help them develop into productive citizens.

FACTS ABOUT PROPOSED GRAND CHENIER RECREATION DISTRICT #9 TAX PROPOSAL

1. This tax is a 1 mill property tax proposal that will be paid by owners of property that is not homestead exempt. Owners of property that is currently homestead exempt will pay no tax under this proposal. This tax is not a floating millage, therefore, it will never go above 1 mill.

2. Approximately $17,000 - $18,000 is expected to be generated from this tax each year.

3. The Grand Chenier Recreation Board will disburse all funds derived from this tax and be responsible for the management and supervision of the G. C. pool, recreation center, Grand Chenier Park, and any other recreation facilities.

4. The Recreation Board is an appointed board and serves with no pay whatsoever. All time and expenses associated with the attendance of meetings and other board work is paid for by individual board members out of their own pocket.

5. This tax does not generate enough income to pay for all recreation related operating expenses; therefore, a small user fee for use of these facilities will be necessary. Additionally, annual fundraisers will be held to raise funds for a ball park and other needs.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF THIS TAX DOES NOT PASS?

1. The pool will remain closed and this expensive investment will be lost.

2. The Recreation Center will remain closed and remain unavailable for public or private use. This large investment will also be lost.

3. The youth of Grand Chenier will have no ball field on which to practice or play softball.

4. The Grand Chenier Park will remain in jeopardy of being un-maintained.

5. The youth of Grand Chenier will have no means of recreation (swimming, softball, fellowship, etc.). Without healthy and supervised recreational opportunities Grand Chenier's youth may be put in danger of turning to other unhealthy activities.

Mrs. Goodrich guest of Navy at Charleston

Beverly Goodrich, assistant principal at Hackberry High School, recently returned from a four day trip to Charleston Naval Base, South Carolina, where she was a guest of the Navy.

The Navy sponsored the education orientation visit to strengthen awareness of the professional training, educational oportunities, and career skills available to young men and women in the Navy.

During the tour, the group received a briefing and saw fire fighting and damage control demonstrations at the Fleet and Mine Warfare Training Center. Lunch was enjoyed at the Naval Station Galley. Later the group toured a nuclear submarine and a submarine tender.

The next morning the group attended a presentation on Navy Family Services that demonstrated the Navy's desire not only to take care of its men and women, but also to take care of their families.

After touring the Frigate the U. S. S. Nichols, the group enjoyed lunch in the Officer's Mess.

Rear Admiral Johnson hosted the group and encouraged them to speak with the young men there and ask any questions. Admiral Johnson, originally from Boston, was on the eve of his retirement after serving his country for 33 years.

At the banquet given at the Cooper River Club at the Naval Base, Rear Admiral Johnson commended educators for the job they are doing in preparing young people to accept responsibilities of this world.

Several individuals, including Mrs. Goodrich, were recognized by the Admiral and given a plaque in appreciation for their work with young people.

Rebels, Tarpons parish champs

By ROBERT MANUEL

Adverse weather conditions throughout March and April have not been particularly enhancing to track programs in the Cameron Parish schools; still all of the parish schools were represented in the annual Cameron Parish track meet.

The Johnson Bayou Lady Rebels edged out the Lady Tarpons 89-88 on the last event to claim the parish crown.

The South Cameron Tarpons, led by veteran performers Walter Jones and Jim Curtis, outscored runner-up Johnson Bayou 98-82½ for the parish championship.

Outstanding track and field performers in boys division were Loy Bader of Johnson Bayou in track and Clint Hewitt of Hackberry in field events.

In girls division, the Lady Tarpon's Derinda Morris was named the Oustanding Track Performer and teammate Billie Jo Trahan was named Outstanding Field Performer.

Transportation will be extended here

The Cameron Council on Aging is getting ready to expand its rural transportation program to include the Grand Lake, Grand Chenier and Hackberry areas of the parish. The program, now in its third year, presently covers the Cameron and Creole areas.

Dinah Vaughn, council director, said the Council has received a $17,000 grant for the coming fiscal year, as opposed to $12,000 last year. The council hopes to secure an $11,000 grant with which to purchase an additional van.

While the elderly, handicapped and low income citizens of the parish are the primary users of the service, Vaughn said that the service is available to everyone. There is a small fee that is charged.

Transportation is available to persons to go to medical facilities, pharmacies, grocery stores, etc.

Grand Lake Sr. 4-Hers meet

Report given on agriculture and fishing

A report on farming and fishing in Cameron parish was given to the Cameron Parish Police Jury and School Board at their respective meetings this month by the Cameron Parish Cooperative Extension Agents.

Making the reports were Paul Coreil, Gary Wicke and Nancy Cronan.

The reports show that the parish has a total acreage of 924,160 which breaks down as follows: 1,444 square miles; 311,883 acres of salt marsh; 228,172 acres of fresh marsh and 242,969 acres of roads, canals and state/federal land.

Total agricultural acreage was 260,012.

Fifty-one Cameron Parish rice farmers have 14,485 acres planted. Thirty-one soybean farmers have 6,933 acres in production.

The agents note 975 gardens planted in Cameron Parish.

Fisheries statistics show 1,200 commercial fishermen in the parish. Of that total, 900 are shrimpers; 425 are oystermen; 76 are crab fishermen and 60 are fin fishermen.

There are 17 seafood dealers/processors in the parish. There are also 26 menhaden boats supplying two processing plants.

Statistics also note 124 fur trappers and 200 alligator hunters.

Good bass caught

By Loston McEvers

Fishing in our area, especially fresh water has seen two fronts move in each weekend, however, some good bass have been caught. White perch in the Big Burns are still hitting. Shiners are best for the white perch, but a small 1/16 Beatle (white red dot) without the spindle, using a float and jig it.

I did not get any reports on salt water fishing, but crabbing has begun to pick up.

Back to bass fishing, the hottest bait has been the buzz bait, and a regular spinner bait. Some anglers are having luck with the worms.

FREE FISHING DAY SET

Louisiana will join the rest of the nation in celebrating National Fishing Week, June 5-11. The highlight is offering two free recreational fishing days. On these two days any resident of Louisiana with a fishing license may take another resident of Louisiana without a fishing license on a fishing trip and also he may take a non-resident fishing without a license for those two days. All other fishing laws and regulations apply.

NETS HAVE TO BE MARKED

All gill nets and trammel nets used by commercial fishermen in saltwater areas of the state will have to mark their nets starting May 1, 1989.

Each net will have to be marked with a waterproof tag attached to the corkline at each end of the net, no more than three feet from the edge of the webbing.

Each commercial fisherman will have to furnish his own waterproof tag, with his full name, commercial license number (not the net license), printed in the English language so it can be read clearly.

Each net has to be marked with buoys, visible above the surface of the water. The fisherman has to supply his own buoy being not less than 6 inches in diameter and be in international orange color. The buoys will have to be attached at each end of the net.

SHRIMPING DATES SET

The shrimp trawling season in the state's offshore territorial waters will begin at 6 a.m. Friday, April 21.

A public hearing on proposed dates for the inshore shrimp seaon will be at 10 a.m. on May 4, on the University of New Orleans campus. Dates for inland waters will be set the next day by the Commission.

THINGS OF INTEREST

*A proposed 1990 budget left by our outgoing President Reagan's administration would put a cap on funds available to state agencies.

Our Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries told commissioners that the cap would reduce Louisiana's share for 1990 by $1,350,000. These funds are for restoration for sports fishing. Also lost would be $517,000 of Louisiana's share for wildlife restoration and hunters education.

* We hear everyday how Wildlife and Fisheries is broke or in bad shape, well after laying off people and making cuts they turned down $300,000.

An increase of one dollar per acre on oyster leases was turned down by the National Resources Committee.

We do know our oyster fishermen are also in bad shape, but how they can justify turning money down, yet when it comes to the alligator trappers Mr. Bob Misso wants them to pay all.

* Something that caught my eye, was an advertisement in a Louisiana magazine, by a league from Virginia, "Guess What This Fish Ate For Lunch." It goes on like this:

If you like fish, you know there's nothing that compares with eating a plateful of "fresh trout" or bass. But before you dig into this dinner, you should stop to ask: What did this fish have for lunch? Did it consume a dose of deadly chemicals, mercury EDHP or lead?

There's about 400 million pounds of toxic waste a year going into our water streams. Looks like everyone knows this, but what in the hell is going to be done about it.

Now stop and think, where is all the poison in our waters in the Big Lake and Calcasieu River System coming from. I think they said the plants located in the Lake Charles area. Stop and think again, should one of the oil cargo ships going right through Cameron Parish to Lake Charles plants run aground or break and we have an oil spill like in Alaska, we could kiss our waterways goodbye. Who do these ships benefit, surely not Cameron Parish, as they don't even stop for a ferry crosing, much less to buy anything.

If sports fishermen and commercial fishermen don't try to help each other, instead of fighting one another, we can kiss it all goodbye.

We are the second largest seafood parish or should I have said were, what's going to happen. Commercial fishing hassurely helped our parish and trying to keepit alive since the oil patch went to hell, and the sports fishermen have also helped our parish, so again our parish needs both.

According to Paul Coreil, our area agent for Cameron parish, our total acreage in the parish is estimated at over 924,000 acres or 1,444 square miles. Now, 311,883 acres in salt marsh, 228,172 acres of fresh marsh and the rest of the approximately 242,000 acres is roads, canals, state and federal lands.

It also shows 1200 commercial fishermen in our parish. Breaking it down, 425 are oystermen, 900 are shrimpers, 76 crab fishermen and 60 fin fish fishermen. We also have 17 seafood dealers or processors. Now don't forget the 26 menhaden boats supplying two pogy plants. Hey, don't forget the dozen or so crawfish farmers, then we got 200 alligator farmers and another 124 fur trappers.

I guess we can all see now why with all the salt marsh and fresh water marsh we have, how it is important for our parish to stick together and our living comes from our lands here in Cameron Parish.

Civil War battle was 125 years ago

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

May 6, 1989 will mark the 125th anniversary of one of the major battles of the Civil War "The Battle of Calcasieu Pass". It took place at the mouth of the Calcasieu River, just off what is now known as Monkey Island.

It was the only battle to take place in Southwest Louisiana during the war and was considered to be one of the most crucial at that time.

Cameron Parish as a political entity was not organized until after the war ended. Because of its isolation from the outside world, it became, in a sense, "No Man's Land", neglected by the Confederacy because of its inaccessibility, and prized by the Union Navy as a source of supply.

The Union would confiscate cattle from the native inhabitants, and would also scour the countryside seeking knowledgeable men to pilot their gunboats through local waters. Some of these men were known to have hid out in the marshes to be tended to and fed by their families, to escape the Union.

Due to the lack of law and order in the area, Cameron Parish became a haven for deserters, draft dodgers, Union sympathizers and criminals.

Especially troublesome were the Jayhawkers, a band of about 200 desperados who roamed the countryside stealing, looting, burning and killing. Oddly enough, it was the Jayhawkers who were instrumental in bringing about the Battle of Calcasieu Pass.

The battle brought together two determined foes, Union gunboats bent on "purchasing" stolen livestock and recruiting men to serve in the Navy and a scrappy band of Confederates determined to expel the invaders.

The two Union gunboats, "Granite City" and "Wave", received orders on April 15, 1864, to proceed to Calcasieu Pass to buy 250 head of cattle and 200 horses from the Jayhawkers who had stolen the livestock from area farmers.

The "Wave" arrived April 24, with gold for the purchase, bombarding an abandoned Confederate fort on the way, and anchoring two miles offshore.

Lt. Benjamin W. Loring was the commander and the ship's armament included four 24-pounders, a 32-pounder and a 20-pound Parrot gun.

The "Granite City", commanded by Lt. Charles Lamson, arrived two days later and anchored about 300 yards from the "Wave".

The arrival of the gunboats abruptly reversed Confederate neglect of Southwest Louisiana, and when Col. W. H. Griffin, at Fort Manhassett (at Sabine Pass, Tex.) received word of the landings, his first though was: "This is it - the invasion." He immediately wired General J. B. McGruder's

Amendment vote set

Louisiana voters will have one statewide issue presented to them in the election--a revision of Article VII of the state constitution, which would provide a major reworking of the tax system as well as providing for some major construction projects.

The package would lower taxes for lower income residents of the state while raising some taxes on more well to do taxpayers.

A major highway, port and airport construction program would be initiated, primarily through an increase in the gasoline tax which would be dedicated to the highway program.

The program would provide some tax incentives to industry to try to bring more jobs to the state.

The reform package is being vigorously championed by Gov. Buddy Roemer, most of the Legislators in this area, and numerous civic, business, professional and some religious groups.

In Cameron Parish, the Tax Reform Package has picked up support from several sources.

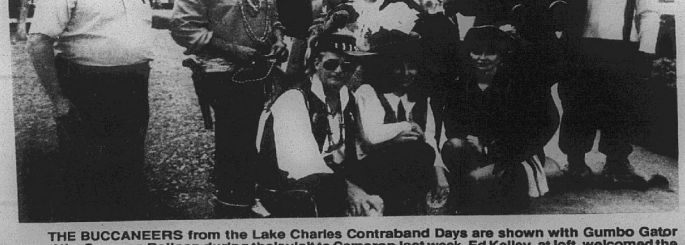
The Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the package pointing out that it will provide coastal erosion protection, better roads and bridges, better education, potential for new jobs, better climate for business development and potential for parish port development.

The Cameron Lions Club also is backing the amendment for the same reasons and noting that it will provide a fair taxing structure for Louisiana citizens.

Both of Cameron parish's state legislators, Rep. Sandy Roach and Sen. Jack Veland, voted for the tax reform package in the Legislature and have since then spoken to many groups in support of the amendment.

In addition, Cameron's former state representative for many years, Conway LeBleu, has also endorsed the amendment.

Group visits



A group from Lake Charles representing the Contraband Days festival was in Cameron last Wednesday issuing invitations to visit Contraband Days.

Ed Kelley, with the Cameron Parish tourist group, was presented with a certificate and made an honorary member of the Buccaneers by Burt Bollotte, president of the Buccaneers group of the Contraband Days.

Accompanying the Lake Charles group was Gumbeaux Gator, the Contraband mascot, who was greeted by Et-Tou-Fe Pelican, the new Cameron Parish mascot, created by the Cameron Parish Unit of the American Business Women's Association.

Also, a special group of children from the pre-kindergarten class at Cameron Elementary School was on hand.

Members of the Contraband group were Bertie Bland, Gumbeaux Gator, Roxanne Benoit, Lane Roberts, Randy Roberts, Sam Wilkerson, Ron Richard, and Jerome Adams.

THE BUCCANEERS from the Lake Charles Contraband Days are shown with Gumbo Gator and the Cameron Pelican during their visit to Cameron last week. Ed Kelley, at left, welcomed the group.

IN OUR OPINION

Support package

Cameron Parish voters should make a point to go and vote Saturday as there are a number of propositions on the ballot which vitally affect the parish.

The Constitutional Amendment, which provides for state tax reform, deserves your support, we believe, because it offers a solution for the many problems that beset our state--high unemployment, poor highways, coastal erosion and educational short comings.

We realize there are sincere people who oppose the package on the grounds that some taxes are raised and they feel that not all unnecessary expenditures have been eliminated. But we believe that Gov. Roemer and the Legislature has made a sincere effort to come up with the best proposal possible for the state.

Please note that the package has the full support of the parish's two state legislators, the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce, the Cameron Lions Club and the parish's former state legislator. All, we believe, have the parish's best interest in mind.

Also, do not forget to vote on the special district taxes and the Grand Lake school bond issue. Each voter should make up his or her mind on these issues, but by all means go and vote. These are too important issues to be left up to only a few voters.

--Jerry Wise

Identification needed to vote

Cameron Parish citizens who go to vote Saturday and who are asked to prove their identity to voting commissioners they have known all of their lives should not take offense--the commissioners are just doing what a state law requires them to do.

At the urging of the Louisiana League of Women Voters last year, the Legislature passed a new law requiring that ALL voters PROVE their identity to the election commissioners. This was done to help reduce election fraud.

Cameron Clerk of Court Debbie Theriot said that the parish's election commissioners have been informed they must comply with revised Statutes 18:562 Identification of Voters, which states:

"The commissioner shall identify each applicant, in the presence and view of the bystanders by requiring the voter to submit his current Louisiana driver's license, current registration certificate, other identification card or by comparison with the descriptive information on the precinct register."

Under the latter means, a voter could be asked a question such as "what was your mother's maiden name?" to determine his or her identification.

The clerk said that even though an election commissioner is very well acquainted with a voter, identification still must be proven.

Chamber backs reform package

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce went on record endorsing the Louisiana Tax Reform Package at their monthly meeting Thursday at the Cameron Motel restaurant.

John Debarge, vice president, was in charge of the business session.

The Chamber said it supports the package, Amendment Number One of the Louisiana Constitution for the following reasons: (1) Coastal Erosion Protection; (2) better roads and bridges; (3) better education for our children); (4) potential for new jobs; (5) better climate for business development; and (6) potential for Parish Port Development.

The chamber is urging everyone to go to the polls and vote "yes" on April 29, for Louisiana's future.

The Chamber also voted to send a resolution to the U. S. Corps of Engineers opposing the fencing of the jetties. The Chamber said that this would effect the economy of Cameron Parish and the local tourist industry.

They discussed the building of walkways on the jetties to be used as fishing platforms.

The Chamber is asking everyone to write to the U. S. Corps of Engineers, P. O. Box 60267, New Orleans, La. 70160 registering their protests against the proposed closure.

It was pointed out that there have never been any major injuries from anyone climbing on the rocks, except a few minor cuts on feet, where people climbed on them barefooted.

A member pointed out that Dr. Richard Sanders in Creole said that he didn't even charge to bandage up small cuts on tourists that come to him when this has happened.

Ed Kelley reported on petitions that are being signed by local people protesting the FEMA Flood Insurance Regulations which he is forwarding on to Congressman John Breaux.

The Chamber voted a resolution of support for Senator Breaux's Coastal Protection Proposal, promising the Chamber's full support.

Rodney Guilbeaux reported that the Coalition for Coastal Erosion is to meet May 13, at 9 a.m. in Baton Rouge in the LSU Union Hall and will be represented by local members who have been appointed to the board: Jack Wheeler, Rodney Guibleaux, Ed Kelley and Dean Rome.

The next meeting of the Chamber will be held May 18, at 11:30 a.m. at Pat's Restaurant.

Fencing opposed

The Army Corps of Engineers has announced intentions to fence-off the jetty located in Cameron and Congressman Jimmy Hayes feels a compromise is in order.

"It seems the Corps is concerned with problems that could arise with safety and the possibility of liability should the jetty remain open," Hayes said.

"The jetty has been one of the area's tourist attractions for years and has been used throughout the lifetime of the structure by the people of South Louisiana.

"I believe that if the jetty was capped (for any given distance) by a concrete walkway, bounded with some form of railings, this would provide a low-cost, safe solution to the problem", he said.

Hayes' office has contacted Colonel Gorski of the Corps and expressed concern over the possibility of the fencing-off of the jetty and hopes that a viable solution can be made that will be agreeable to all involved.

Tax issues on ballot

In addition to the vote on the proposed state constitutional amendment, which would revise the state's tax and fiscal structure, Cameron parish voters will vote on a variety of special taxes, both new and renewals.

New tax issues being voted on are:

* Recreation District No. 7, Creole area--1.5 miles for 10 years to operats recreation facilities.
* Recreation District No. 8, Klondike area--1.5 mills for 10 years to operate the district's Community Center.
* Recreation District No. 9--Grand Chenier area--1 mill for 10 years to operate the district's recreation facilities.

Renewal of taxes already in existence will be voted on in these districts:

* Sewerage District No. 1, Cameron area--renewal of a 4 mill tax for 10 years to operate sewer system in district.
* Waterworks District No. 2, Hackberry area--to renew a 5 mill tax for 10 years to operate district's water system.
* Gravity Drainage District No. 2, Hackberry area--to renew a 5 mill tax for 10 years to operate district's water system.
* Gravity Drainage District No. 3, Cameron area, renewal of a 4.75 mill tax to maintain drainage works in the district.
* Gravity Drainage District No. 4, Creole area--to renew a 3.5 mill tax to maintain drainage works in the district.
* East Cameron Port, Harbor and Terminal District, Creole, Grand Chenier, Klondike and Lowery areas--to renew a 1 mill tax to operate facilities in the district and also for capital improvement purposes.

Due to an error in calculation, the tax renewal election for the Hackberry Fire Protection District will not be on the April 29, ballot as originally planned but will be voted on at a later date this year.

Because some of the special districts do not coincide with the election precincts and some of the special districts cover several precincts, some voters may be confused as to what propositions they will be voting on. Voting commissioners should be able to clarify any confusion that results.

In most cases voters will vote on the Constitutional Amendment plus one or two of the special elections. However, in Precinct 1, Election District 4 and Election District 5, there will be a total of five propositions on each ballot.

GRAND LAKE VOTE

In School District Four--the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area--voters will vote on a $1 million bond issue to provide a major addition to the Grand Lake High School.

A new wing will be constructed and will include nine new classrooms, an updated science lab and expanded library facilities.

School Board Member Rickey Guidry said the school is now 35 years old and has grown from a student body of 125 in 1954 to 400 now and the area is one of the fastest growing sections of the parish.

Guidry said the bond issue will be paid off in ten years and homeowners will not pay on the first $75,000 of the value of their property due to homestead exemption.

BATTLE

Houston, Tex., headquarters for instructions.

His reply was, "Attack the small force at Calcasieu at once, and disperse, defeat, or capture the expedition."

Major Felix McReynolds, Commandant of Fort Manhassett, led its two companies, one from Griffin's Battalion and one from Creuzbauer's Battery, along with other units, numbering about 300 in all, from the Fort to Calcasieu Pass, (during the night to avoid detection) and began the attack on the two gunboats at daybreak.

Creuzbauer's gunners opened fire at 1,000 yards to cover the infanty's advance to the banks of the Calcasieu River, the brave Confederate soldiers making their stand in the salt grass marsh without any benefit of cover.

The Confederate infantrymen had the benefit of surprise, but could get off only ten rounds before the two gunboats opened fire.

In only 2¼ hours the two gunboats had been knocked out by the crossfire of the Confederate muskets and 22 Union and Confederate soldiers had gallantely died for their cause, many remaining behind to be buried in simple graves marked with white picket crosses in the marsh.

Some of the cannon balls fired form the vessels landed on the Wakefield home (which was constructed in 1876) and located east of the center of Cameron.

The home was later occupied by the J. A. Davis family, Davis being Wakefield's nephew.

The safe full of gold from one of the ships was thrown overboard at the mouth of the river, but was later retrieved by the Union.

Lt. Benjamin W. Loring, commander of the "Wave" reported 24 wounded on the two gunboats. Four died later.

Col. W. H. Griffin, who headed the Confederate forces, reported eight Confederates killed and 13 wounded, of whom some later died.

Col. Griffin also reported that on May 11, five weighted-down bodies wearing blue jackets were found after they floated up on the beach. Presumably they were killed aboard the Granite City and thrown overboard during the battle; all were unknown.

The bodies of many other casualties of the battle were sent back to their homes for burial.

Captain J. A. Brinkhouse of Beaumont, Tex., wrote one of the two eye witness accounts of the battle and stated that he was sure that this battle and those who died in it would be forever forgotten in time.

THIS BRONZE MARKER, located on the Cameron Parish war dead monument, lists the Union and Confederate troops killed in the Battle of Calcasieu Pass. (Photo by Geneva Griffith)

A group of Cameron Parish civic clubs and organizations, the Cameron Lions Club, the Cameron Parish Bi-Centennial Commission and Historical Society, the local unit of the United Daughters of the Confederacy and the Cameron Parish Police Jury got together and on May 31, 1981, erected a granite marker in front of the Cameron Courthouse dedicating it to "The Battle of Calcasieu Pass and War Memorial".

The names of the men on both sides who died in the Calcasieu Pass battle are engraved on the front side, and the war dead from World War I, World War II, the Korean War and the Vietnam War are on the other three sides.

The dead from the Calcasieu Pass battle, as documented from military records were:

Union: Quartermaster John W. Tindall, Seaman Joseph Johnson, Ensign Henry Jackson, Ensign S. R. Tyrrel, Seaman John Scott, Quartermaster John Jacobs, Ord. Seaman William Hayden, Ensign A. H. Berry.

Confederate: Pvt. William Knelp, Cpl. Ferdinand Fahrenthold, Pvt. John Lynch, Pvt. Henry Foestermann, Pvt. Aaron Russell, Pvt. J. D. Lancaster, Sgt. R. M. Jones, Pvt. A. Scrinkle, Pvt. W. A. Jackson, Pvt. P. Whittenberg, Pvt. M. Yvarro, pvt. Jackson J. Risinger, Sgt. William Ingle, Pvt. William Guhre.

At the dedication ceremonies of the monument, it was pointed out that this should put to rest the worries of Captain Brinkhouse that the deeds of these brave men would be lost to history.

The gravesites of the dead soldiers have been lost to time and many, many hurricanes that have devastated the area, but their names and brave deeds will forever be inscribed in history and granite in the center of the tiny town of Cameron.

When Cameron got ice house?

CAMERON ICE HOUSE

April 28--The town of Cameron and neighboring communities are soon to have the modern convenience of ice in quantities and easily accessible to the general public as needed.

E. R. Henry of Lake Charles and J. B. Daigle and E. L. Henry of Cameron have arranged with the Gulf States Company to handle ice in Cameron. The company will begin work in the near future on a 20-ton ice storage plant, with a two-ton refrigerating machine, and Messrs. Daigle and Henry will operate the enterprise under a long-time lease. The refrigerating machine will be operated by gasoline power.

The plant is to be ready for use by the time the summer demand for ice begins. Supplies will be brought to Cameron from Lake Charles in large quantities in barges.

Shell on the Cameron-Grand Chenier highway, comprising parts of routes No. 42 and 292, has been spread east from the town of Cameron as far east as the Catholic Church, a distance of 8 miles.

H. K. Kennedy, foreman of highway work in Cameron Parish, under E. M. Scarborough, supervisor, District No. 5, Lake Charles, reports that all road work is benefited greatly by fine weather conditions and that he has 13 men and 10 trucks engaged in rebuilding and maintaining highways in Cameron at this time.

VACUUM OIL AT JOHNSON BAYOU

The Vacuum Oil Company is reported as having again found favorable formations in its Cameron Meadows No. 1 wildcat test in the Johnson Bayou section of Cameron Parish. The first showing was served weeks ago at a shallow depth.

Present reports, however, are conflicting, but it is certain that sandy shale with showings of oil in it has been encountered and prospects of a new field in Southwest Louisiana are very encouraging.

Reports from Houston today are to the effect that the top of the sandy shale oil formation was struck at 3,723 feet; that the bottom of the hole Wednesday was 3,733 feet and that a drill stem test was to be made.

Reports from Orange this morning state that Friday the hole was down 3,749 feet; that oil had been obtained from the intended drill stem test, and that the sample was being taken to Houston for examination. The Orange report stated that casing would be set for putting in a strainer.

In Lake Charles today, however, it is said that the hole is 3,930 feet and that drilling is being carried on in a sandy shale formation.

In the Calcasieu Lake, east of the Hackberry oil field, the Texas Company has encountered salt in its State-East Hackberry No. 6, and has abandoned the hole.

At Sweetlake, the Pure Oil Company has set casing in its Young-Lee No. 9 at 4,660 feet and is waiting on cement to harden.

The Rex Petroleum Company at Hackberry has given up its struggle against heaving shale in its J. H. Duhon No. 1 and has abandoned the test at a depth of 3,700 feet.

CAMERON LIBERTY LOAN MEETINGS

The Liberty Loan meetings in Cameron Parish have been highly successful, according to parties who were instrumental in staging the meetings, and every community has over subscribed its quota.

At Grand Chenier last Saturday there was an all-day celebration with a parade fully a mile long, being the greatest celebration the place ever had.

S. W. Sweeney, parish chairman, and Miss Irene Doxey, chairman of the Women's Liberty Loan Committee of the parish, have been doing heroic work for the cause, and are keeping it up, so that every settlement in the parish will be reached and the subscriptions continue to roll in. The address in French by Father Souris, together with the picture slides, aroused the citizens to a high pitch of enthusiasm, as nearly everyone in the parish speaks or understands the French language.

(Abbeville Meridional, April 30, 1910)
JOHNSON'S BAYOU

Port Arthur, April 28--The launch "Mercedes" came over from Johnson's Bayou with an assorted cargo of freight and a number of passengers. The cargo of the Mercedes included four hundred dozen eggs and several swine. The return cargo will be groceries for the stores on the bayou.

Capt. Loyd Griffith, who runs the Mercedes, has the mail contract for service between the bayou and Port Arthur which is to begin July 1. The present route will be discontinued. The contract was taken at $475 per annum, about half what it costs to carry the mail to Cameron. Capt. Griffith now makes this port twice a week on schedules, but frequently makes extra trips. The government mail service will require three trips a week. The contract was taken low, had to be taken low in order to obtain the service at all to Port Arthur. Only a freight and passenger boat could carry this mail at this price, but the Bayou people wanted the Port Arthur route, and it had to be cheaper than the Cameron route or it would not have been put in force.

LAKESIDE LACONICS

The drouth is becoming a very serious affair at this point, for everybody. Farming operations are almost discontinued and the Lake has a wide margin of dry land and getting wider every day.

Miss Laura Kirtland is visiting at Lakeside investigating the berry crop.

The thermometer went below the frost line Monday night but we have not as yet seen that any damage resulted.

Emery Cheek and his mother have been considerably under the weather for about a week.

Mrs. Diehlt has been having quite a sick spell.

Cameron Parish will soon be the celebrated one of the State. Several thousand acres of the marsh lands are to be redeemed and turned into fine gardens.

Gold, silver and lead are reported to have been found at the Western end of the Parish and prospecting for oil at the eastern end.

We will surely soon be in the line of rapid improvement and development. It is to be hoped that these various propositions will be verified and Cameron will take her rightful place.

Roy Nash is Knight of the Month

Roy Nash

Roy Nash was named "Knight of the Month" of Our Lady Star of the Sea Knights of Columbus Council #5461 for his work in the church and with the youth and council activities.

A benefit and bingo will be held Saturday, May 16, at the hall to raise funds to send local youths to retreat. Roy Nash will host the benefit.

K.C.s and CDA are hosting a dinner and bingo Sunday, April 30. Funds will be used to aid Catholic Daughters to carry out their activities throughout the year. Over $1,000 in cash will be given away. The meal will be served at 11 a.m. and the bingo will follow.

The Council matched a $50 donation by Hayes Picou Sr. to go to the South Cameron High School Rodeo.

Hayes Picou also hosted a Sunday dinner at the K.C. hall for the Council on Aging and raised over $800. Further plans include hosting a covered dish banquet for the senior citizens.

Prayers were said for the recovery of J. A. Colligan who was in the hospital at the time.

TO ALL CAMERON PARISH RESIDENTS:

September 1989 is the month that FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) will return to check and enforce building and elevation regulations in Cameron Parish.

It is important and urgent that Cameron Parish residents in some manner contact their U.S. Congressional delegation, urging them to review, revise and lower elevation regulations in Cameron Parish. In the present state of regulations, both business and personal building has come to a halt due to these stringent regulations. In view of the economic situation this is disastrous to Cameron Parish.

The Chamber of Commerce and the Cameron Lions Club have circulated petitions for the public to sign asking that this problem be corrected by legislation or other means. If you have not signed this petition, you may contact Paul Coreil at 775-5516 or Ed Kelley at 775-5493 and they will see that a petition is made available to you.

We sincerely request that you the citizens of Cameron write a letter to all three of your Congressmen. At right is a short version of a letter that you may use as a guide in writing this letter. Also listed are the Congressional addresses.

Clubs and Organizations will be visted by Coreil or Kelley on request, to solicit their help. Also volunteers to help us will be appreciated.

Dear Congressman or Senator,

I am a citizen of Cameron Parish and I am deeply concerned about the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) restrictions covering home and business development.

With the flood restrictions in effect today, economic and residential growth throughout the entire parish has been all but stopped.

Please help us with this problem. The future of our parish is in your hands.

Sincerely,

(your name)

Skeet shoot held

By Loston McEvers

SKEET SHOOT HELD

Winners in the senior division were Barry Richard of Creole, with a perfect 25 round, first; and taking second was Wade Carroll of Cameron, with 23.

Winners in the junior division were Ryan Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlo Miller of Cameron, posting a 17 round; second, Eric Rutherford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Rutherford of Creole, 16.

Frederick Boudoin and Ricky LeBouf were in charge of the shoot-out. Also helping was Bobby Conner.

LOCAL FISHING

Catching some fish on two consecutive days were Barry and Lester (Ferpo) Richard. They were caught with worms. Travis Broussard had a nice catch of bass last week, with one going over five pounds.

TALK AROUND

* The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission held a meeting last week, hearing comments on the '89-90 hunting seasons. The Commission is expected to authorize a Notice of Intent filing on bag limits and regulations at its May 4 and 5 meeting in New Orleans.

* Twelve people were arrested on charges of illegal shrimping before the three mile limit inland shrimping opened. They were shrimping near Rockefeller Refuge in Grand Chenier.

The Wildlife and Fisheries Commission has adopted a resolution opposing any international shipment of live alligators or alligator eggs out of Louisiana.

The commission acted at the request of the state's Alligator Task Force, which had received an inquiry from the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service as to its opinion on the matter.

The task force told the commission that the Louisiana alligator program could be adversely impacted by the removal of alligators from their natural range.

EAST COVE AREA CLOSED

The boat passage at Grand Bayou on Sabine Wildlife Refuge was closed to public access on April 19. Fishing in the East Cove portion of the refuge is now closed to all public use until July 15, 1989. The closure of this area was originally announced in a late February news release concerning public fishing on the refuge. The construction contract was completed and the work accepted on April 18.

The closure is the first phase of a two year plan to help reestablish vegetation in these marshes. Persons desiring additional information on the refuge portion of this area may call 318-762-3816. Anyone interested in additional information on the Cameron-Creole Small watershed project should contact members of the cameron Parish gravity District No. 3.

FLORIDA'S FIRST GATOR HUNT

The controlled hunt quota harvest was 3450 gators. Two hundred and thirty alligator hunters took 2988 hides, a little less than the quota.

Only two accidents occurred, a harpooned alligator bit one man and another lost the tip of his finger by a bang stick, a four foot stick with a cartridge.

WATERFOWL PROJECTS

Several North American waterfowl management plan projects have taken place or fixing to take place in Alabama and Louisiana. The projects are to restore waterfowl habitats loss to the drought, in Northern U. S. and Canada. The plan is to try and restore waterfowl population back to normal by the year 2000.

Alabama has 58,000 acres to improve winter habitat.

Louisiana has five different tracts in several parishes for lease or donated, to be used for feeding or wintering areas. Amoco Corporation donated, rent-free, 7400 acres in Vermilion and Calcasieu parishes.

RECORD STRIPER

One of the hottest spots to catch large stripers is in Arkansas. The White and Fork River have become famous for their record-sized trout.

In nearby Greer Ferry Lake, it has also become a hot spot. A 20 pound 11 ounce hybrid striped bass was caught on a top water plug with 14 power test line.

It should become a world record in line class. The current International Game Fish Association record was beat by almost 4½ pounds.

Knights thank everyone for their support

The J. P. Boudoin Sr. Knights of Columbus Council would like to thank everyone who came and helped with the spring barbecue last week.

It was a success and funds will be used for the youth expansion program.

The next council meeting on May 11, will be ladies night and blood pressure will be checked by a nurse. A meal will be served.

On May 4, there will be an officers meeting and anyone can attend.

Restrictions may remain

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is considering keeping last year's waterfowl hunting restrictions in place for the upcoming fall season, according to a notice published in the March 27, 1989, Federal Register.

Early results of waterfowl harvest studies confirm thtt duck production was very poor last year, as predicted. Although complete harvest information will not be available until summer, preliminary analysis of wings submitted by hunters indicates that mallard and pintail populations contained less than one young for each adult bird, whereas in years of good production the young outnumber the adults.

Pintail production was down dramatically, with only one young for every two adults. Wood duck production also declined, reflecting the effects of drought in the southeast.

The current waterfowl situation underscores the importance of long-term efforts to conserve and enhance waterfowl habitat through the North American Waterfowl Management Plan. The North American Plan is a joint effort between the United States and Canada to preserve and restore key waterfowl habitats, and is considered particularly crucial now because widespread drought has accelerated habitat loss, particularly in Canada. Many areas important to breeding ducks have been permanently affected. Several years of good weather conditions will be required before remaining habitat areas can recover, revegetate, and produce ducks.

Because a large harvest on populations with poor production is not in the best interest of waterfowl or the future of waterfowl hunting, the Fish and Wildlife Service is tentatively proposing to continue restrictive hunting regulations in 1989, including the suspension of the September teal season, extra teal and scaup options, and the point system. Proposals for outside season dates, bag limits, and season length will be deferred until results of nesting, production, and harvest surveys become available later this year.

The Service is also proposing to open shooting hours at sunrise and close them at sunset for all migratory birds, with two exceptions: (1) shooting hours will begin one-half hour before sunrise for doves and pigeons, and (2) migratory bird hunters may shoot one-half hour before sunrise prior to the earliest duck season opening date (including sea ducks) and after the latest duck season closing date.

These proposals are contained in the March 27, 1989 Federal Register. This document also contains details of proposed regulations for early migratory bird hunting seasons (those opening before Oct. 1). A public hearing on early season regulations, including those for Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands, will be held June 22, 1989, at 9 a.m. at a location to be named later.

A public hearing on late season regulations will be held Aug. 3, at 9 a.m. Public comments on proposed early season regulations will be accepted through July 21, and for late season regualtions through Aug. 28, and should be submitted to the Director (FWS/MBMO), U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior, Washington, D.C. 20240.

Aquaculture Field Day to be held at LSU

The latest information about ongoing aquaculture research and project findings will be available April 29, at the annual LSU Aquaculture Field Day in Baton Rouge.

The field day site is the LSU Agricultural Center's Ben Hur Aquaculture Research Station off Nicholson Drive, about three miles south of the LSU campus.

According to program coordinator Albert Gaude, who is resident director of the Ben Hur facility for the Louisiana Agricultural Experiment Station, visitors will be able to learn about research developments and projected plans in crawfish (hard and soft shell), channel catfish, redfish, hybrid striped bass, alligators and prawns.

Other developments to be discussed will include nutrition, health, water quality, economic potential, marketing strategies and harvesting methods. Providing information will be staff members of the Experiment Station, the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service, the LSU School of Forestry, Wildlife and Fisheries, and the LSU Collee of Agricultural Engineering.

The field day will begin with a formal program at 8:30 a.m., to be followed at 10:30 by a tour of station research projects. Lunch will be served at the end of the program. In case of bad weather, the program will be cancelled.

For more information, contact Gaude at 504-769-7576, or Tom Lawson at 504-388-1049, or call Paul Coreil in the Cameron Parish Extension Service office at 318-775-5516.

MUSING . . . By Bernice Denny

Parish names . . .

The geographical nomenclature of Southwest Louisiana runs true to that of the rest of the world. Some of the names are those of early settlers, Indian tribes, nations, famous individuals, saints. Others are based on particular physical features of the land. Many are derived from names of animals, flowers, or trees.

Some may be traced to biblical, classical or historical writings. A few feature the abstract and the whimsical. A number of the names are combinations of one or more words or are corruptions of the same.

There is no established record as to why Cameron Parish was so named. According to the March 20, 1902, issue of the "New York Sun," (and I accept this one personally) one reads: "The Hon. Samuel P. Henry, 'father of Cameorn Parish'. . . gave it the name of Cameron in honor of his friend, Simon Cameron of Pennsylvania."

Both Henry and Cameron (U. S. Senators from 1866-77) were born in Lancaster County, Pa. The former, having moved into Calcasieu Parish in 1870, soon became the Parish Judge of Cameron.

Another version of the naming of the parish is that it was given in honor of Robert Alexander Cameron, a soldier of the Confederate Army who took part in Bank's Red River campaign. He was prominent in Louisiana politics during the immediate postwar period.

The name Cameron itself is of Scottish origin. In the old Gaelic tongue it meant "Crook Nose." It is derived from the words kam, meaning crooked or bent, and teron, meaning nose.

There are also two explanations for Mermentau, both of Indian origin. The first is that Mermentau is derived from both French and Indian -- from the French "mer" meaning ocean, sea, or a large body of water, and the Attakapas "Immanatu," name of an Indian chief. However, Dr. William Alexander Read in his book, Louisiana Place Names of Indian Origin, claims that Mermentau is a form of Nementou, name of an Indian chief in the last quarter of the 18th century. In 1784, Nementou sold a tract of land and subsequently was mentioned as the chief of the village by the river of the same name.

Through a clerical error, Nementou became Mementou. The latter was, in turn, corrupted by folk etymology into Mermentau through confusion with the French "mer," meaning sea as we have noted.

From "The War of the Rebellion -- Correspondence" we find that in the 1860's the correct spelling for the river was Mermentan.

Since the parish of Cameron was carved from old Imperial Calcasieu and since the river by that name flows through the parish, let us consider the name. Calcasieu is of Attakapas origin, from "katk-osh", meaning eagle and "yok", to cry. The appelation "Crying Eagle", was the war title of an Indian chief living along the river from which the parish later borrowed the name.

Subsequent spellings found on early maps or in land records have been Calkousiouk, 1807; Culkeshoe, 1816; Kelke-chute, 1817; Quelkeshoe, 1818l Calcasuit, still later.

Lacassine, the name of a bayou and a wildlife refuge within the parish, is derived from that of Chief Lacassine of the Comanche tribe. Each year during the hunting season of the early 1800's the Comanche migrated into Southwest Louisiana. When the season ended they returned to their home in the central part of the state. There came a day, however, when Lacassine and his squaw settled near what is now the village of Lacassine in Jefferson Davis Parish.

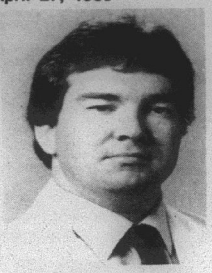
The settlement of Lowery bears the surname of a Terre Haute, Indiana man, Capt. Lowery, who had purchased an 8,060 acre plantation from Desire Hebert and had attempted large scale rice farming on it.

Such names as Lakeside, Grand Lake, North Island, Hackberry are easily conjectured.

Since "Cheniere" meant a grove of oaks and since oak trees were there in abundance, the term is a part of the name of many settlements: Grand Chenier, Little chenier, Cheniere Perdue (lost chenier), Cheniere du Fond (a terrain of oak trees); then Oak Grove itself with its anglicized version.

A railroad company attempting to induce mid-western farmers to migrate to what is now Klondike named the settlement. They promised the yellow grain of rice fields that would produce the wealth of Alaska's oil in the Klondike.

Johnson's Bayou and Leesburg (old name for Cameron) were named for early settlers.



Lataignier, which is one of the branches from the main ridge of Grand Chenier, may have been named for an early pioneer. It may also be a corruption of the world "latanier", meaning palmetto. Cow Island, another branch, derived its name from the herds of wild cattle roaming the ridge when the white man explored it.

"What's in a name?" Shakespeare had one of his characters soliloquize. "That which we call a rose would smell as sweet."

Undoubtedly, but it is interesting and informative to learn why and by whom our towns and waterways were so called.

GRAND CHENIER RECREATION DISTRICT #9 TAX PROPOSAL

ON APRIL 29th VOTE YES FOR YOUTH

To: All Registered Voters of Grand Chenier

Re: Recreation Tax Proposal for Grand Chenier

On April 29, 1989 voters from Grand Chenier District #9 will be voting on a 1 mill property tax that will provide the funds needed to reopen Grand Chenier swimming pool and recreation center. Additionally, the recreation board plans to construct a ball park behind the Grand Chenier recreation center, due to the recent closure of Canik Field, and assure the availability of the Grand Chenier Park for public use in the future.

Please vote to support the youth of Grand Chenier. The children of Grand Chenier are our future and we must provide recreational facilities for their total development.

Vote yes on Saturday, April 29, 1989. The future of the children is in your hands.

Sincerely,

1. This tax is a 1 mill property tax proposal that will be paid by owners of property that is not homestead exempt. Owners of property that is currently homestead exempt will pay no tax under this proposal. This tax is not a floating millage, therefore, it will never go above 1 mill.

2. Approximately $17,000 - $18,000 is expected to be generated from this tax each year.

3. The Grand Chenier Recreation Board will disburse all funds derived from this tax and be responsible for the management and supervision of the G. C. pool, recreation center, Grand Chenier Park, and any other recreation facilities.

4. The Recreation Board is an appointed board and serves with no pay whatsoever. All time and expenses associated with the attendance of meetings and other board work is paid for by individual board members out of their own pocket.

5. This tax does not generate enough income to pay for all recreation related operating expenses; therefore, a small user fee for use of these facilities will be necessary. Additionally, annual fundraisers will be held to raise funds for a ball park and other needs.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF THIS TAX PASSES?

1. The Grand Chenier Pool will be re-opened for the 1989 summer season.

2. The Grand Chenier Recreation Center Facility will be re-opened for use year-round for private and public functions.

3. Due to the closure of Canik Field, a ball park will be constructed for both adult and youth softball competition behind the Grand Chenier Recreation Center.

4. The Grand Chenier Park will be placed under the jurisdiction of the Grand Chenier Recreation Board. Public use of the Park for church or civic group related fundraisers will be assured.

5. The youth of Grand Chenier will be provided with good recreation facilities that will help them develop into productive citizens.

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IF THIS TAX DOES NOT PASS?

1. The pool will remain closed and this expensive investment will be lost.

2. The Recreation Center will remain closed and remain unavailable for public or private use. This large investment will also be lost.

3. The youth of Grand Chenier will have no ball field on which to practice or play softball.

4. The Grand Chenier Park will remain in jeopardy of being un-maintained.

5. The youth of Grand Chenier will have no means of recreation (swimming, softball, fellowship, etc.). Without healthy and supervised recreational opportunities Grand Chenier's youth may be put in danger of turning to other unhealthy activities.

Delcambre has winning ways

By ROBERT MANUEL

If you want to make money on your track meet, invite Class A Delcambre. Those were the words of head basketball and assistant track coach Benny Dronet of Delcambre. (He is the nephew of E. J. and Jules Dronet of Cameron and Creole.)

Those words were supported by a large turn-out of cheering fans for the Delcambre Panthers.

The Panthers made a complete sweep of the District 8A championships at South Cameron, winning both the boys and girls division titles. For the boys team it was, in a period of ten years, the ninth district title. The one runner-up had occurred while in a two year stretch in AA classification in 1986-87.

Head track coach Willard Foreman and girls coach Dahrie Koenig are quick to point out that the success story is a result of all the staff coaches pitching in for a solid team effort and support. The fan support is part of the success story that has become a tradition at Delcambre High School.

Track programs in Louisiana high schools are relatively short, especially in the smaller schools, where the program waits until basketball season is over and its only likely participants, who were basketball players, have rested a week or two (after playing 30 to 50 basketball games, they need a lot of rest). By that time, it's time for competition that becomes a painful experience for the inadequately oriented participant.

Delcambre, who has partially solved that problem with cross-country track under an assigned coach, begins early with students who are not in basketball, weight training, wrestling or in other sports. For some schools without the coaching depth, a physical fitness unit in physical education can be a very worthy alternative in providing every student an oportunity to discover knowledge that becomes guiding principles in mind and body health care during their youth and adult life, regardless of body type.

It is but a small pebble thrown with little waves in a big body of water, still good programs, usually the result of good coaching or teaching, gives out only positive signals. That in itself, is the strongest incentive for student involvement and commitment.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

In seeking the name of an emigrant to America, researchers turn to emigration lists, hopefully published in books.

Three valuable ones recently printed or reprinted are:

EMIGRATION LISTS

A List of Emigrants from England to America 1718-1759 by Jack and Marion Kaminkow lists over 3000 "Agreements to Serve in America" on file at the Guildhall in London.

These indentures, alphabetical, generally give: name, parish and county of origin, age, occupation, agent, length of service and destination in the colonies. Volume is 320 pg., $22.50.

A List of Emigrants from England to America 1682-1692 by Michael Ghirelli as taken from the Lord Mayor's Waiting Books, Record Office, London, names almost a thousand persons alphabetically, generally giving:

Age, date and indenture, length of service, name of master, destination in the colonies and, if under age, name of a witness. Frequently named are parents, usually with their trade and place of origin. Volume is 120 pg., $17.50.

Irish Emigration Lists 1833-1839 by Brian Mitchell name more than 3000 emigrants from Counties Londondery and Antrim, these records now in the Royal Irish Academy in Dublin.

Alphabetical by parishes, the lists give age, year emigrated, townland, destination and religion. Volume is 128 pg., $22.50.

Each volume is hc, 6 x 9 in., indexed, prices incl. mailing from: Genealogical Publishing Co., 1001 N. Calvert St., Baltimore, MD 21202-3897.

WEBER-WEAVER FAMILY

Hybrid Vigor 1711-1987 by Les Weaver is the interesting family history of his American ancestors and his wife's, Dorothy Parsons.

Beginning with the 1711 emigration of Johann Anton WEBER from Switz. to Penn. with his family, through the 3rd generation change of this name to WEAVER, the book traces also Saul, Parsons and Bare lines.

Well written in narrative style, hardcover with bookjacket, 8½ x 11 in., 87 pg., photos, available from Vantage Press, 516 W. 34th St., New York, NY 1001.

Publications reviewed in this column are given to the Genealogical Library, Louisiana State Archives, Baton Rouge.

ASK OCHSNER . . .

Q. I have a medicine chest full of prescriptions and other medications. How can I tell if they are still good to use?

A. Over the counter medications, including aspirin, lose their potency faster than prescription drugs because of the packaging and storage once they're brought home, says Jeanne Fant, registred pharmacist and director of the outpatient pharmacy at the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans. "This is because air and moisture seep into the bottle causing the medications to dilute in strength," she adds.

Aspirin, when it is stored properly in a cool, dry place, may last as long as five years. However, if crystals have formed on the tablets, if it is discolored, or if it has an odor of vinegar, the aspirin is no longer effective and should be discarded.

Prescription drugs, in additon to purchase date, usually have a computerized expiration date on the bottle and are normally good for six months to a year. Any prescription medication over a year old should be thrown away. If the prescription shows signs of changes before six months, your pharmacist can check the potency of the drug and let you know if it can be safely used.

When purchasing an over-the-counter drug, it is a good idea to label it by date. That way you are sure of its age. Fant says if liquid medications have become discolored or separated, they should be discarded. The safest way to dispose of medications is to flush them down the toilet.

Finally, Fant reminds us never to tell children that a certain medication is "candy". "It may encourage them to be curious about the other 'candy' in the medicine chest. And, always store medicine out of the reach of children," she concludes.

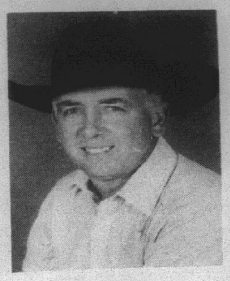
Final figures are in on the "Beachsweep 88" program in which Cameron parish took a great part.

Approximately 2700 persons participated within Louisiana in the program last September picking up 6192 bags of litter and debris equaling about 100 tons. A total of 77 miles of beaches along the Gulf Coast were cleaned.



Participants were supported by generous donations from food and beverage industries and included state and federal agencies, oil industry employees, members of the Sierra Club, Keep America Beautiful, Audubon Society, civic organizations and other volunteers.

The cleanup effort was conducted simultaneously Gulfwide with 15,000 persons participating.

Unusual debris consisted of a refrigerator, burned lifejacket, Bulgarian deodorant, Zenith data system, a bag from Thailand, a brassiere, a right new Adidas tennis shoe, Russian shampoo bottle, a Japanese syrup bottle, a 12-inch bone, a beer can from Singapore, coconuts, and a television set.

Inland efforts to clean swamps and lakes were conducted by members of the Acadiana Sportsmen's League and other sports groups in and around the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge.

John Walker is new MSC Rodeo coach

John Walker

John Walker of Sulphur has been named as the new Rodeo Coach at McNeese State University. Mr. Walker, who is a graduate of Northeast Louisiana, has an extensive rodeo background and is still an active competitor. He has instructed and producted numerous rodeo skills clinics and schools. He will assume his new duties July 1, 1989.

Mr. Walker inherits a team that is the largest in the nation in numbers and is rich with tradition dating back to the years as the National Champions in the mid 50's.

Johnny Suydam, Chairman of the Faculty Rodeo Committee said of Walker, "We had criteria that we had set forth in our rodeo coach selection that consisted of (1) a college graduate (2) prior rodeo experience as a participant (3) knowledge of media relations (4) public relations abilities and a strong and conscientious attitude towards developing the rodeo potential of McNeese University, and Johnny Walker emerged as the candidate that more closely fit this criteria." Mr. Walker is a mature, professinal, and personable individual whom we feel will maintain and continue to strengthen tradition of McNeese Rodeo.

A newly hatched alligator is just eight inches long. It will grow about a foot a year until it reaches the average adult length of six to eight feet.

(1) We will be able to re-open our Multi-purpose Building for public and private use, ie. weddings, receptions, anniversaries, dances, meetings, etc.
(2) Provide a comfortable place for pulbic meetings and private parties.

A YES VOTE on Saturday, April 29th will allow the newly formed Recreation District to collect approximately $18-$19,000.00 to:

(a) Operate the Creole Swimming Pool
(b) Operate the Creole Ball Park
(c) Operate the Creole Multi-purpose Building

All money derived from this tax will be handled by the Recreaton District Board of Directors. NO outside influence or control from any other governing body will affect the collection and spending of this money.

All money collected from this tax will be spent only on the above named projects. The Board Members serve voluntarily and will receive no pay or expense.

In order to derive enough money to operate the three projects properly and to make it even fairer for non-taxpaying citizens, a users fee schedule will be established at all the project sites. All such fees will be used to help operate the three facilities in the best manner possible.

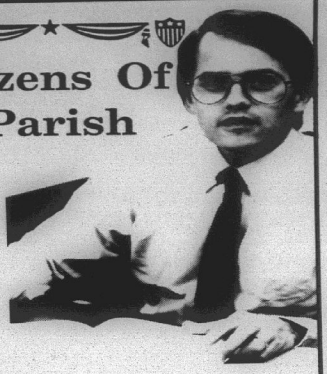
An unfavorable vote will mean that:

—(1)The Creole Pool WILL NOT open this summer and the recreational swimmers, swimming classes and swimming parties will have to be held somewhere else.

2) The Creole Ball Park WILL NOT be used this susmmer. All Little League and softball practices will have to be played somewhere else. All tournaments and fun-days will have to be scheduled at other ball parks.

(3) The Creole Multi-Purpose Building WILL NOT be reopened. This fine, attractive facitity will not be available for use by anyone for any reasonl.

Therefore, many of the recreational activities that our young people AND adults have become used to in our community, will no longer be available. Think about it!



Consider your children and grandchildren, and give them a chance to enjoy their summer-time as they once did--swimming, playing ball and having a place for our community to meet when necessary.

Why Does Louisiana Need Tax Reform?

In the last six years oil and gas revenues have declined by more than one billion dollars. Last year the Legislature approved $512 million in budget cuts and adopted a temporary tax plan designed tokeep state government operating until we could come up with a new tax plan that encourages economic growth and generates approximately the same amount of revenue based on a person's ability to pay. This outline summarizes the major features of the tax reform proposal.

How Does Tax Reform Affect Individuals in Louisiana?

A. Sales taxes on food, drugs and utilities are reduced by one-third -- from $ .03 to $ .02.

B. Sales taxes on gasoline are elimnated.

C. Income tax rates are increased -- from the present rates of 2% - 4% - $6% to 3%-4%-5%-6%. Taxpayers will still be able to deduct their federal income taxes.

Example: As a result of the decrease in sales tax and increase in income tax a family of four with a net taxable income of $25,000 will pay $11.00 less in total taxes to the state. A family of four with a net taxable income of $40,000 will pay $82 a year more in total taxes to the state.

D. The $3.00 motor vehicle license tag fee has been taken out of the Constitution. It is increased to $10.00 for each $10,000 of value of a car. The proceeds are dedicated to the Highway Trust Fund. The rate cannot be changed without a 2/3rds vote at the Legislature.

E. State Property Tax is reduced from 5 3/4 mills to 1 mill for 1990 and 1/2 mill beginning in 1991. The homestead exemption remains unchanged. Example: A $100,000 home will pay additional property taxes of $2.50 per year. A home assessed at $75,000 or less pays nothing.

F. The tobacco tax on cigarettes is increased by $ .06 per pack. $ .02 of this increase is dedicated to cancer research.

What About Gasoline Taxes?

A. The constitutional amendment specifically provides that sales taxes can never again be levied on gasoline.

B. The present $ .16 gasoline tax will be constitutionally dedicated to a special Highway Trust Fund. The proceeds can only be used for highway maintenance and construction and the improvement of parish roads.

C. An additional $ .04 tax is constitutionally dedicated to a special highway trust fund. The money will be used:
1. To four-lane U. S. Highways 171, 165, 167 and 90.
2. To improve ports and airports in Louisiana.

D. Since sales taxes are being eliminated the net increase in the gasoline tax will be $ .01 per gallon: The cost to the average driver is about $7.30 per year.

E. Highway construction will begin July 1, 1989.

F. 80% of the highway construction jobs are required by law to go to Louisiana residents.

How Does This Program Affect Business?

A. Reduces the maximum corporate income tax from 8% to 6%. Same as maximum rate applied to individuals.

B. Provides a sales tax credit for taxes paid on machinery and equipment purchased by manufacturing firms, wholesale distribution firms and research facilities.

C. Eliminates the double sales tax on equipment and goods offered for lease.

D. Eliminates the corporate franchise tax on borrowed capital.

E. Follows the federal law and allows small corporations to be taxed as partnerships -- instead of taxing corporate income twice.

F. Increases the severance tax on natural gas to either a percentage of value or a special indexed rate based on the volume of gas produced.

Why Do You Call This Proposal "Tax Reform"?

Not only does the proposal change the basic tax structure for individuals but it includes certain constitutional safeguards to make sure that the state acts responsibly in spending your tax dollars. Never again will Louisiana find itself in the same kind of financial mess that we are in today. The constitutional amendments specifically provide that:

A. The budget must be balanced at the beginning and end of each fiscal year.

B. No more deficit spending.

C. Beginning in 1992 the rate of increase in state expenses cannot exceed the same rate of growth in the income of Louisiana taxpayers.

D. State revenue estimates must be reviewed and unanimously approved by the Revenue Estimating Conference. State expenditures cannot exceed the official estimate.

E. Mineral revenues above $750 million a year will be placed in a special Mineral Revenue Trust Fund. The interest from this money can only be used to pay off the state debt.

F. Up to $25 million per year will be placed in a special Wetland Preservation Fund to provide money to stop coastal erosion. A special authority is created to administer this fund.

Isn't Louisiana Worth It?

Flood study is completed here

By JERRY WISE

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Thursday got some good news--and also some criticism--about the long battle it has had with the federal government over the flood insurance program for the parish.

Dr. Joe Suhayda, LSU professor who has been working with the jury for five years on the matter, said that the parish's study has been finished and FEMA, the government's agent, has been furnished with new topographic and hurricane data.

"There are some substantial and significant differences," he said, between the new and old data which show the ridges in the parish to be higher than originally shown and the effects of hurricanes less than first shown.

He said that most of the "V zones", those of highest flooding risk, do not appear now to be present on the ridges. He said that areas along the highways and chenieres all apepared not to be in the V zones and that changes in some areas could amount to three or four feet.

Suhayda said that the study shows that the parish was correct a few years ago when local officials maintained that the FEMA study was in effect as far as elevations were concerned. He also said the FEMA study had over estimated the severity of hurricanes.

He said these two factors together would change the water levels by an average of three feet, which would mean that levels required for buildings could be lowered.

Suhayda said he did not see any problem in preventing FEMA from accepting the parish's new data.

Parish Administrator Garner Nunez said that a meeting has been scheduled for May 18, in Senator John Breaux's office in Washington to discuss the new date with FEMA.

A Cameron resident, C. J. Kiffe, took the microphone to criticize the study. He said that since it began in 1984, the jury has paid out $71,451 to Dr. Suhayda and $248,231 to parish engineer, Lonnie Harper & Associates for their work on the study.

Special shrimp season asked

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday adopted a resolution asking for a special three day shrimp season in Calcasieu Lake from sunrise, Monday, May 8, to sundown Wednesday, May 10, after they received a report on shrimp samples made in the lake by six local fishermen.

The fishermen said in a letter to the jury that they had made sample hauls in the net from 6:30 to 11:30 a.m on Monday, May 1, coming up with an average catch of 60 shrimp per try with the shrimp averaging in size from 31 to 35 per pound.

The fishermen said they believed their samples showed more white shrimp in the lake than samples taken by the wildlife and fisheries department because the latter used a flat net while the fishermen used a bib try net which they said was more accurate.

"Because our brown shrimp crop is running smaller than normal this year due to the cold spring we feel this special season will not hurt our spring season whatsoever", the fishermen stated.

Cameron Parish Wildlife Agent Paul Coreil of the Extension Service agreed with the fishermen and stated that the shrimpers needed to "get in there and get the shrimp quickly" before they were gone.

The jury voted to send their resolution to the La. Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries and to especially to call its attention to local commission member, Norman McCall.

Signing the shrimp sample letter as witnesses were Jimmy Dyson, boat captain; Elmer Peshoff, Bolo Trosclair, Butch Willis, Kevin Boudreaux and Joey Trosclair.

Hack. graduation

Hackberry High School graduation exercises will be held Friday, May 26 at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Blood Drive set

A Community Blood Drive will be held Saturday, May 6, from 8 a.m. to 12 noon at the Cameron Fire Station.

Chamber meeting

The May meeting of the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce will be held Thrusday, May 18, at 11:30 a.m. at Pat's Restaurant.

TEDs law now being enforced

The law requiring shrimp fishermen to use Turtle Excluder Devices (TEDs) to protect sea turtles went into effect Monday, May 1, but no fines will be issued for the first 60 days.

It also was unclear who would actually enforce the law in this area. It would not be done by the Lousiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries, and presumably would have to be done by the Coast Guard out of Sabine Pass or by Commerce Dept. agents out of New Orleans.

A statement on the new law as issued by Commerce Dept. Sec. Robert A. Mosbacher is as follows:

"These regulations will be enforced immediately, and warnings, but not fines, will be given to fishermen who do not have TEDs in trawl nets during the initial 60-day period of enforcement," Mosbacher said.

Mosbacher reiterated his commitment to protection of endangered species, which he said is of paramount importance to the nation. Accordingly, "during the 60-day period ending June 30, 1989, on a case-by-case basis, repeated or flagrant violations will be dealt with appropriately, to include civil penalties," Mosbacher emphasized.

TEDs are attached to shrimp nets and allow the air-breathing turtles to escape through a net opening.

The May 1, regulations require shrimpers in offshore waters to use TEDs. Boats less than 25 feet long must either use a TED or limit their towing time to 90 minutes.

According to NOAA, use of TEDs will substantially reduce the loss of an estimated 11,000 threatened and endangered turtles that are caught and drowned in shrimp nets every year.

Letters urged

Organizations and citizens of Cameron Parish are urged by the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce and the Cameron Lions Club to contact the congressional delegation in Washington concerning FEMA regulations in the Parish.

In September the FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) will return to the parish to check and enforce building and elevation regulations.

It is important that Cameron Parish residents contact their congressional delegation urging FEMA to lower the elevation regulations in Cameron Parish, the clubs point out.

Both business and residential building has come to a halt due to these stringent regulations.

Both the Chamber and the Lions have circulated petitions for the public to sign asking that this problem be corrected by legislation or other means.

Anyone who has not signed the petition may contact Paul Coreil at 775-5516 or Ed Kelley at 775-5493.

Citizens are also asked to contact the congressmen by letter as follows:

Sen. J. Bennett Johnston, 136 Hart Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D. C. 20510.

Sen. John Breaux, 197 Dirkson Senate Office Bldg., Washington, D. C. 20515.

Rep. Jimmy Hayes, 503 Canon Office Bldg., Washington, D. C. 20515.

Jetties being closed

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The U. S. Corps of Engineers has notified the Cameron Parish Police Jury that one of the parish's major tourist and sportsmen attractions - fishing off the Cameron jetties - will be closed for good in a few days.

The Corps will fence off the east jetties and post no trespassing signs. It is taking this action in line with a new policy of closing areas that it controls that might pose bodily harm to the public.

The jetties rocks are uneven to walk on and sometimes are slippery from spray from the water, the Corps contends.

The Police Jury passed a resolution asking the Corps to halt the action and the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce sent a protest to the Corps and suggested that a cap be built on the jetties to make them even more attractive to fishermen.

Jerry Jones, Cameron Parish District Attorney said, "According to Louisiana tort law the Cameron Parish Police Jury and the federal government is protected from any liability or injuries sustained at boat ramps, and any other type of recreation facility under its jurisdiction."

The idea for the building the jetties at the mouth of the Calcasieu River was first conceived in the 1800s and was first built to accommodate the vast lumber industry near Lake Charles.

The River and Harbor Act of Aug. 5, 1886, required, among other things, that an examination be made of the Calcasieu Pass, the two bars obstructing the navigation and of the "Calcasieu River and the bar obstructing its mouth."

According to a report made in the Congressional record of Dec. 2, 1886, by W. H. Heuer, Major of Engineers, from the Chief of Engineers, U. S. A. in New Orleans. "An appropriation made by Congress at its last session permitted funds heretofore available, on account of the wording of the act, to be used for removing two of the bars heretofore mentioned.

"The third or outside bar, that in the Gulf of Mexico, has not heretofore been a serious obstruction to navigation, but the wording of the act requiring the examination be made, made it evident to me that Congress wanted an examination be made of the outer bar."

JETTIES

Engineer, in his report on the proposed jetty said that the least depth of water at mean low tide on the outer bar was 6½ feet, while the water on the two inner bars was 3½ feet, with the depths liable to vary in consequences of storms, which cause the shifting of the channel.

Raymond said that the depth of the water in Calcasieu Lake, which was about 15 miles long, was 6 feet.

He stated in his report that, "The advantage to the commerce of the town of Lake Charles would be that vessels could load deeper in proportion to the increase of depth of water produced, and thus carry out much larger cargos of lumber than at present, thus enabling the lumber merchants of this locality to compete with those in other Gulf ports less favorably situated geographically, besides enabling vessels to find safe harbor in the Calcasieu Pass when necesssary.

"On account of the shallow depths in Calcasieu Lake, it is still probable that the increased quantity of lumber produced for export in the event of an improved bar would have to be lightened before transfer to the sea-going vessel.

"The estimated annual value of the output of lumber at Lake Charles is about $750,000; about one-half of this is transported by rail.

"Should deeper water be required on the outer bar, the most certain, as well as satisfactory way of obtaining it would be by means of two jetties extending from the shore seaward, with each jetty to be about 1¼ miles in length, the jetties to be of brush covered stone, dredging to be used as an auxiliary aid in producing depth."

The estimated cost of improvement to obtain a 12-foot depth was $600,000.

Authorization for the construction of the jetties was enacted Sept. 19, 1890 and provided for the construction of two converging jetties of brush and stone approximately 1.5 miles long at the Gulf entrance to Calcasieu Pass, and dredging between the jetties to secure a 12 x 200 foot channel.

In the annual eport of the Chief of Engineers for 1894, it states that the jetty construction was similar to that at Sabine Pass, Texas.

Construction of the east jetty was begun in 1893 and by 1897 was constructed to a length of 7,847 feet.

Construction of the west jetty began in 1896 and by 1900 was comleted to a length of 3,200 feet.

The annual report of 1899 states that both jetties were badly damaged by storms that displaced about 3,000 tons of granite capping blocks.

In 1903-04, the damages were repaired and the east jetty was extended 600 feet.

This work required 21,000 tons of riprap stone, 5,000 square yards of mattresses and recovery and replacement of 52 granite capping stones.

No other work was performed on the jetties until 1940, when under authority of the 1947 project modifications, the west jetty was repaired and raised to a grade of 4.0 feet above mean low Gulf from the shoreline and extended 2,600 feet seaward parallel to the east jetty, and no work has been done since then.

The east jetty extends approximately 6,450 feet and the west jetty approximately 5,150 feet from the present shoreline.

The jetties are located at the foot of David Road that extends south from the main highway, La. 27-82, to the Gulf.

This road is located just west and south of the main branch of the Cameron State Bank, off Cameron's Main street.

Fishermen using the jetties report all kinds of fish in their catches and many license plates from all parts of the United States on cars parked there gives mute evidence to its popularity as a great fishing spot that is easily accessible from the road.

It is hoped that the Corps of Engineers will reconsider their plans to close off this gret tourist attraction to Cameron Parish and Southwest Louisiana.

Fishing picks up

By Loston Mcevers

FISHING NEWS

Fishing in our area has picked up, as some good redfish are being caught in the Grand Chenier area. Grubs with a good lead of at least 1/2 ounce is what it takes.

Crabbing has picked up all along our parish roads and waters.

On the fresh water scene, white perch is still the hottest catch, however, some nice 5 pound bass have been brought in, in the past two weeks.

Shrimping in the state three mile limit is really bad. I got a chance to talk to some of the shrimpers as their boats came in, and their catch was really bad. Some didn't catch enough to pay for their fuel.

These people are really in a bad situation, however, we should know this week what dates will be set for inland waters to open. I saw a sample of the inland waters shrimp and they look a little small, but in a couple of weeks, the size might be right.

BASS CLUB NEWS

TALK AROUND

* Remember if you are the owner of a charter boat fishing the Gulf of Mexico, and fishing for king and Spanish mackerel, cobia, cero, dolphin, and bluefish, you are required by federal law to have an annual Charter Vessel Permit. If you had one, remember it expired March 31, 1989.

* On May 1, the TED regulations went into effect for all shrimp trawlers 25 ft. and larger, in our Gulf waters. This is from the coast of North Carolina to Texas.

If your trawler is less than 25 ft., and you trawl only 90 minutes or less, you do not to use the TED.

* Remember, if you're offshore and fishing and catch a cobia (Lange), both state and federal law require that the length be over 37 inches. All cobia under 37 inches have to be released.

*This week has been good for fishing and this weekend should be hot, weather permitting. Late afternoon fishing should put you in the major feeding period. Thursday through Tuesday, May 11-16, should be good at 5 p.m. adding about 45 minutes later each day.

Birthdays are celebrated

A crawfish and crab boil was held at the home of Ricky Canik Saturday, April 29, in honor of several family members' birthdays and anniversaries.

Celebrating April birthdays were Ricky Canik, James and Debbie Jo Doxey. Celebrating April anniversaries were Darilyn and Ricky Canik, and Tom and Kathy Rowland.

View given on jury meeting

Dear Editor:

I am writing to you concerning the Police Jury meeting which was held on May 2. These meetings are supposed to be open to the public and their suggestions -- right?

If that is true, then why did Mr. Trahan, the Police Jury president, tell Mr. C. J. Kiffe he was being too nitpicky. Mr. Kiffe was making a suggestion that the Sheriff's Annex building was in need of a water cooler when Mr. Trahan made this remark.

Why are these meetings open to the public and their suggestions for improvements in the parish if they are not going to be listened to or are going to be insulted.

I think Mr. Trahan needs to apologize to Mr. Kiffe. Since Mr. Trahan has only 2½ years left to his term and said that he is not seeking re-election, then why not resign now and let there be a special election to put someone else in his place...someone who will listen to the people and their needs.

Jury criticized

By JERRY WISE

A sizable number of parish citizens were present Thursday night at the claims meeting of the Cameron Parish Police Jury to hear several spokesmen present a number of questions and allegations to the jurors.

The main one of these was the charge that the police jury had paid to survey a homesite for a police jury employee, Tina Horn, and also had shelled a road to her house while refusing to provide similar services to other citizens.

Chief spokesmen for the group were business woman Evelyn Hay and Clerk of Court Debbie Theriot.

Mrs. Theriot indicated that her group felt the jury had given its employee favorable treatment by paying for the survey and road shell for Mrs. Horn and her husband while requiring other persons to provide these before a right-of-way was accepted.

Juror Kenneth Ducote asked Mrs. Horn, who was recording the meeting for the jury, if she had a cancelled check showing that she had paid for the work.

"I did not know I was going to be on trial tonight," she replied.

Mrs. Theriot then presented documents from the parish engineer showing that the parish had paid a total of $1,864.22 for the survey and work on the road. She did note that Mrs. Horn had paid $50 of the charges.

Mrs. Theriot said she had contacted two other property owners in the area who said they had had to pay for their own survey.

She also said that someone had ordered parish employees to go out and shell the road for Mrs. Horn and three were willing to testify to that if they were assured of not losing their jobs.

Parish Engineer Lonnie Harper said that a special survey had to be made in the case of the Horn road since it involved getting a Coastal Management Zone permit and that it only took a few extra minutes to set the boundary markers.

Mrs. Theriot asked Harper: "Who ordered you to bill the police jury?" and Juror Kenneth Ducote broke in: "We are not on trial!"

"I'm just trying to find out where you got your order," Mrs. Theriot said. Harper then said he got his order from the parish administrator.

Mrs. Theriot said she thought, "Tina should reimburse the police jury and others should be paid back" referring to other people who had paid for their surveys and shell.

Jury President Carroll Trahan said that if Mrs. Horn had not paid for the work that she would.

Parish Administrator Nunez told the audience that during the past year about 20 rights-or-way had been accepted by the jury and in about 12 or 14 instances they had been handled in the same manner as that for Mrs. Horn.

Mrs. Theriot stated: "I had asked if there were any similar situations. Why did you wait until tonight to tell us that?"

Another local citizen, Paul Duhon, asked how many names it would require on a petition to get the state to make an investigation of the police jury.

Larry Taylor also charged that the jury was paying for "three or four" security lights in private yards and asked that this be corrected.

Road abandonment policy adopted

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday voted to abandon a blacktop road leading to F. O. Theriot's home and at the same time adopted a new policy for abandoning similar roads in the future.

In past years when parish funds were plentiful, the jury blacktopped a large number of short roads that led to residents' homes even though in many cases the road served only one home and went thorugh only one person's property.

In order for this to be legal, the property owner had to grant a road right of way to the parish.

Jury President Carrol Trahan said on several past occasions the jury had refused to abandon these rights-of-way back to the property owner due to the money spent by the parish hardsurfacing these roads.

However, in this case he said, Theriot had agreed to repay the parish for the blacktopping cost.

Juror Kenneth Ducote offered a motion to set up a depreciation schedule on such roads based on a 20-year life expectancy and to depreciate each road in question 5 percent for each year that it had been in existence.

The jury then agreed to advertise to abandon Theriot's road and to base the amount of reimbursement to the jury on the number of years the road had been built.

District Attorney Jerry Jones suggested that the jury reserve utility rights-of-way on such roads.

Office is open

The Cameron Motor Vehicle Office is now open full time, according to Daleen Cheramie, office manager. The office hours are from 8 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

The local office is now handling vehicle registration, title transfers, license plate renewals and lost registrations.

Fun Day Sat.

The Cameron Recreation Center will hold a Children's Fun Day and softball tournament Saturday, May 6, beginning at 8 a.m.

Youth and adult leagues will play and the pool will be open from 2:30 to 5 p.m. on Saturday and from 5:30 to 8 p.m. on Sunday.

Other events include a car bash, hula hoop contest, roller racer races, watermelon eating contest, shuffle board, crab races, greased pig, balloons, petting zoo, carnival booths, bubble gum blowing contest, pie throwing, etc.

NAACP airs complaint

The Cameron Parish Police Jury was criticized Thursday night by two representatives of the Cameron Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for not acting to name a street after Dr. Martin Luther King.

Mrs. Louise Cole, local NAACP president, said the jury had promised a year ago to rename the street running from the east end of the town to the beach after Dr. King but that nothing had ever been done.

Juror George LeBouef, in whose district the street is located, said he found out that the street in question belonged to the state and therefore the jury had no authority to rename it.

Another street in the area suggested for renaming, Peshoff Road, was named after early owners of property in the area, LeBouef said, and he was not willing to change the name of a road that had already been named for a local family.

Charles Cole told the jury that Dr. King was "an outstanding citizen" and deserved to have a street named after him, pointing out that other cities, such as Lake Charles had done so.

Ethics report is sought by local group

Several persons who confronted the Cameron Parish Police Jury with a number of questions and allegations Thursday night also raised questions concerning information presented to the State Ethics Commission a year ago concerning Parish Administrator Garner Nunez.

C. J. Kiffe asked what was the status on the Commission's investigation and Evelyn Hay asked who had given the information to the committee.

Nunez explained that he had brought the matter up at a meeting of the jury last May after he said some personal allegations were made against him. (The allegation involved the jury's doing business with an insurance agency in which he had an interest and also renting a fish pond that he owned.)

He said the jury told him to submit all of the information to the Ethics Committee and ask if there was a conflict of interest, which he said he had done. He said he had been contacted by the commission several times but had never received a ruling. He said the commission told him not to talk about the matter.

Parish Clerk of Court Debbie Theriot asked the jury to furnish the citizens group with a copy of the report that Nunez had filed. She said she wanted to make it public in the newspaper.

NOTICE

The Cameron Council on Aging will hold a public hearing on Monday, May 22, 1989, at the Cameron Senior Center, D. Street, at 4 p.m. The purpose of the hearing is to discuss the obtaining of a legal services waiver. The Council on Aging intends to seek an exception to the rule from the Governor's Office of Elderly Affairs. Amendments to the Area Plan will be covered at this hearing also. All interested persons are urged to attend. RUN: May 4

Jury tells new policy

One new police jury policy resulted from the two hours of accusations made at the Cameron Parish Police Jury meeting Thursdaynight.

Businesswoman Evelyn Hay suggested to the jury that "perhaps a lot of errors could be eliminated if two separate persons signed the jury checks." At the present time only the parish administrator signs them.

Juror George LeBouef said he had discussed this idea last year but did not get any support for it. He made a motion that the jury president sign the checks along with the administrator and this was seconded by Juror Dwaine Conner, and passed by the jury.

Local motel owner Larry Taylor went even further. He suggested that a committee be designated to "go over the bills with a watchful eye."

Jury tells new agenda rule here

Some of the complaints and charges made at last Thursday's claims meeting of the Cameron Parish Police Jury resurfaced at the jury's regular monthly meeting Tuesday.

Before C. J. Kiffe, who had asked to be on Tuesday's agenda, could begin speaking, Jury President Carrol Trahan asked that in the future persons wishing to be on the agenda to make known in advance what they wanted to talk about. He said it put the jury in an awkward position when they had to answer questions on topics they did not know were coming up.

The jury then voted to make this a policy for future meetings.

Mr. Kiffe said he didn't want to criticize the jury but that he was there to talk about the "good, the bad and the ugly."

The "good", he said, for which he praised the jury, was the construction of a new kitchen for the jail at the rear of the courthouse. However, he said they should have done it years ago and would have saved a lot of money from not having to pump out the low area that it took up following rains.

He then complained that in the judge's offices, a light switch had been located behind a door making it inconvenient to turn the lights on.

Jury President Trahan broke in to accuse Kiffe of "nitpicking" and said that all the judge had to do to take care of the matter was to call the jury. "You are playing games with us," he told Kiffe.

Kiffe then said the jury had refused to fix a wall in the sheriff's office that had been damaged by a chair. He offered the jury pictures of the wall.

Jury Secretary Pete Picou said the jury had ordered a replacement panel for the sheriff's office but had not put it in because the sheriff said he wanted a different type of material.

Kiffe then asked why certain repairs on the courthouse recommended by the grand jury had not been made and Trahan said that some of the work has already been done and other work must wait until funds are available.

Police Jury Briefs

These were some of the items that were considered by the Cameron Parish Police Jury at its monthly meeting Tuesday:

PROCLAMATIONS

At the request of the Cameron Council on Aging, May was proclaimed "Older Americans Month."

The jury also adopted a proclamation recognizing the 75th anniversary of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service.

DRILLING PERMITS

Six oil and gas drilling and pipeline permits and three seismic permits were approved for work in the parish.

Also approved were a permit for Hunter Perrin for a wharf and boat house for campsite on Calcasieu Lake; a permit for Columbia Gulf Transmission to repair bulkheads in the Intracoastal Canal; and for Richard Hebert for sand mining at Oak Grove.

LIQUOR PERMITS

Temporary Sunday liquor permits were approved for two benefits: one for Clyde Theriot for the benefit of May Broussard who lost her home in a fire, May 28, at Grand Chenier Park; and for Debbie Theriot for a benefit for Carla Primeaux, who has a serious illness, May 21, at the Cameron KC hall.

BIDS ASKED

The jury authorized the advertisement for bids on some old metal desks and trays out of the clerk of court's office.

Bids were also approved on the Cameron Fire District No. 1 substation near Ray Burleigh's home. Juror George LeBouef said this station needed rebuilding so as to accommodate a large fire truck.

VARIANCE GRANTED

The jury voted to grant George Basco a variance from the parish flood insurance ordinance so that he could locate a mobile home at a lower level than required by the ordinance.

The variance was granted on the condition that FEMA accept a letter from Basco's doctor that he was legally disabled.

APPOINTMENTS

The jury reappointed board members of two districts whose terms had expired. They were Cecil Thompson of the Mosquito Abatement District and Robert Schwark of Sewer District No. 1.

LOANS APPROVED

The jury approved loans to three new districts in the parish that successfully passed operating taxes last Saturday. The loans are to be repaid over a period of several years from tax monies.

Loans of $9000 were approved for recreation districts in Creole and Grand Chenier and $2000 for the Klondike recreation district.

BILL OPPOSED

The jury voted to go on record opposing Senate Bill 6 by Senator Doland that would reduce the number of acres covered by homestead exemption from 160 to 40 acres.

ROCKEFELLER WORK

The jury was read a letter from State Rep. Randy Roach to Senator John Breaux asking for Breaux's cooperation in securing a visitors center and nature trail at the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge at Grand Chenier similar to such facilities at the Sabine Wildlife Refuge near Hackberry.

Roach asked Breaux to try to get federal funds for such projects. The police jury passed a resolution in support of Roach's efforts.

SPEED LIMIT CHANGED

Juror George LeBouef asked the jury to amend the parish speed limit ordinance to change the present limit of 25 to 15 miles per hour in the Primeaux subdivision at Cameron. He said there were a lot of children playing in the street there.

Creole Homemakers meet

By MRS. HAROLD CARTER

At the April meeting of the Creole Extension Homemakers Club held in the home of Mrs. Wayne Montie, members heard a talk given by Ed Kelley of Cameron on the F.E.M.A. Insurance Program for lower Cameron Parish. Later, they saw a craft demonstration given by member, Mayola Wicke.

Kelley began his talk by stressing how crucial this matter of the F.E.M.A. Insurance Program was to lower Cameron residents insofar as securing flood insurance on their homes and businesses. He stated that the parish had been given six months to comply with the program and if it didn't, the government would cut off federal funds to the parish.

To cope with the problem, Kelley said that several parish organizations were collecting signatures on petitions to present to Senators J. Bennett Johnston and John Breaux and Rep. Jimmy Hayes for congressional action.

Following Kelley's talk, club members drew up a petition and all signed it.

Mrs. Wicke gave a demonstration on how to make a pin cushion using a small basket.

A final report on the Cancer Crusade conducted recently by the club in the Creole area was given by Mayola Wicke who presented a check for the total collected to Earline Baccigalopi, club president, and secretary-treasurer of the Cameron unit of the American Cancer Society. Wicke stated that funds collected this year topped last year's figures.

Ira Wicke and Estelle Theriot reported on the March 28, council meeting which they had attended at the Extension office in Cameron. Projects discussed were:

The 50th anniversary celebration of the Cameron Parish Extension Council with an Anniversary Workshop set for July 13, at 10 a.m. in the Muria Multipurpose Building. The workshop, at which a covered dish lunch will be served, will substitute for the July council meeting.

An Open House in celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service was set for May 8, at 2 p.m. at a place to be announced.

Members finalized plans for Teacher Appreciation Week, April 16-22, when the club will honor the staff of South Cameron Elementary School on April 18, with homemade cookies and coffee. Volunteering to serve at the affair were Eleanor West, Willa Dean Morris, Theriot, and Mayola Wicke.

MUSING . .

By Bernice Denny

In the early days in lower Cameron Parish there were no hospitals although a dedicated doctor was usually there. The only dentists available were traveling ones, who went down every few years and set up offices in private homes.

Since the only method of traveling to the outside world was by boat, nearly everyone who developed toothache went to the medical doctor to have the offender extracted.

One man, whom we shall call Joe Bonita, began suffering from a decayed molar. He was a man who felt sufficient untohimself. He probably would have disdained going to a dentist had one been available.

He melted down shot and proceeded to pour the molten lead into the hollow tooth.

You know the rest. Poor Joe suffered a horribly burned mouth. We understand that this was his first and last attempt to practice dentistry.

Mr. Sweeney grows potatoes

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American Press, May 10, 1930)
SWEENEY GROWS MANY POTATOES

W. W. Sweeney of Lake Arthur, former clerk of court of Cameron Parish, is a practicaloil producer, but he is also a successful farmer.

Mr. Sweeney believes in the soil and climate of Southwest Louisiana for growing practically all semi-tropical farm and fruit products, and also vegetable and truck crops. He has just demonstrated how well adapted the soil in this section of Louisiana is for commercial growing of Irish potatoes.

During the past three months he planted on his farm in Grand Chenier in Cameron Parish, 4¼ acres of Irish potatoes and just 72 days from the time he planted the crop, he harvested 15,000 pounds.

He graded the yield according to government standard and sold 11,300 pounds of the top grade to Kelly-Weber & Co., Lake charles. Making a calculation upon the price received, the fraction over four acres produced a crop worth more than $100 an acre.

The land was well prepared, of course, and well fertilized. The potatoes were put into 100-pound burlap bags and shipped to Lake Charles on the traffic boat, the Winona, which runs between Lake Charles and Cameron and Grand Chenier.

(Lake Charles American Press, May 5, 1933)
CAMERON SCHOOL NEWS

The Cameron Parish School Board met in regular session on April 3, 1933, with members A. A. Roux, president; and Dennis Bonsall, Martial Conner, Joseph Demarets, Alfred Trahan and Dupra Vincent present.

The superintendent submitted a complete financial statement covering the actual present financial status of the board and a carefully prepared estimate of the revenues to become available and the cost of operating expenses to the end of the current fiscal year, June 30, 1933. A study of this report showed that if the funds as estimated still available for the current fiscal year should be paid in full that said funds would be insufficient to meet the cost of operating expenses at the end of the eighth scholastic month and that if the schools should close at that time there would be a small deficit to carry over to the next fiscal year.

He also reported a group meeting of the teachers of the parish had been held at Hackberry High School on Saturday, April 1, for the purpose of giving the teachers accurate information as to the present financial condition; to advise that due to funds restricted in the bank and no collection of funds nor payments of any kind being made to the board during the month of March, there were absolutely no funds in sight to make any payments to them on the two and one-half months now due. The teachers were also advised that funds would not be sufficient to continue the schools longer than the end of the eighth scholastic month.

After a thorough discussion of the matter, the teachers in all the schools, except two, agreed to teach without pay for an additional two weeks after the end of the eighth scholastic month thereby providing for a session of eight and one-half months, provided the board would allow each teacher the amount of ten dollars for the two weeks taught as part payment ofliving expenses during that time. The board agreed.

The insurance carried on the building, furniture and fixtures on the Creole High School through the Dolby Insurance Agency was adjuted and reduced from $9500 to $8000.

The board instructed the superintendent to apply all funds now restructed in the Calcasieu National Bank to the payment of notes due the bank and other parties when and at such time as said funds became available.

It was reported that payment had been received from the Pure Oil Co. in the amount of $640 to apply on a mineral lease to that company for 12 months in Section 16. The board instructed that this amount be deposited in the Calcasieu National Bank subject to 100 percent withdrawal.

The question of a reduction in the salaries of transfer drivers beginning with the 1933-34 session was discussed and all drivers were to be present at the meeting of the board on Monday, May 1, 1933 to discuss the terms and agreement on plans of operation for the next session.

The board instructed that all funds available at this time be applied to the payment of transfer drivers on salaries now due them.

Due to insufficient funds on hand to pay outstanding bills, the payment of all bills submitted prior to this meeting was postponed until a later date.

(Note: The country was in the midst of a banking crisis because of the Great Depression. President Franklin Roosevelt had even declared a "banking holiday" on March 6, 1933 which lasted a short while.)

Extension Service is 75

The Cameron Parish Extension Service Office celebrated the 75th anniversary of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service with an open house Monday in the County Agent's office in the courthouse.

Pictures of past 4-H club members and their projects were displayed on posters around the reception room.

Hosting the event were Paul Coreil, parish chairman and area fisheries and wildlife agent; Gary Wicke, Associate County agent; Nancy Cronan, Associate Home Economist and 4-H Agent; and Claire Delafield, secretary.

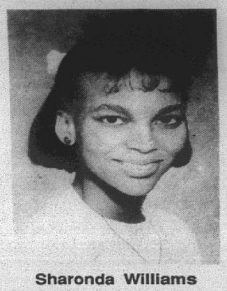
AIDS policy is adopted

By JERRY W

Although as far as anyone knows there has never been an AIDS case in Cameron parish schools--or in the entire parish, for that matter--if, and when, such a case should materialize the Cameron Parish school system will be ready for it.

At its monthly meeting Monday, the parish school board adopted a Communicable Disease Control Policy, which not only covers AIDS cases, but other communicable diseases such as tick fever, hepatitis, malaria and syphilis.

The board's new policy, which was prepared by Supervisor Ulan Guidry and school health nurse Nell Colligan, is a composite of guidelines from both the state education department and public health service.



The new policy provides that if a student cannot attend school, provisions will be made for homebound instructions.

The affected student or school employee's right of privacy also is protected with only the people who need to know being made aware of e disease.

According to the policy statement, the superintendent may exclude a student or employee for not more than five days from school or employment "when reliable evidence of information from a public health officer physician confirms him/her of having a communicable disease or infestation that is known to be spread by any form of casual contact and is considered a health threat to the school population." Under the guidelines, such a student or employee shall be excluded until sufficient evidence is presented that his/her condition is no longer contagious.

School Nurse Nell Colligan says she plans to conduct a series of in-service workshops to educate personnel in dealing with a communicable disease situation. According to the newly-adopted policy, instruction regarding the primary modes by which communicable diseases are spread and effective methods for the restriction and prevention of these diseases shall be taught to students and in-service education provided to employees.

Sharonda Williams

Williams to Valley Forge

Sharonda Williams, the daughter of Michael Semien and Linda Felton of Cameron, recently attended a Freedom and Leadership Youth Conference at Valley Forge, Penn.

She was chosen by a group of Calcasieu Marine employees to represent Cameron parish along with two other Louisianians. The youth leaders attending the conference had the opportunity to tour Valley Forge, Philadelphia, and to hear lectures concerning Constitutional freedoms.

Sharonda attends South Cameron High School where she is active in SADD, Beta, FBLA, Student Council, track, cheerleading, and 4-H.

Ethics board sets hearing

The Board of Ethics for Elected Officials has announced that it will hold a hearing at 10 a.m. on Aug. 24, in Baton Rouge on a formal complaint that was filed last year concerning a Cameron parish police juror and a Lake Charles architectural firm.

The board did not reveal who had filed the complaint but said the charges involved A. Brent Nunez, police juror for the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area, and Hackett & Bailey Architects and Civil Engineers.

The charges were that the Lake Charles firm paid $3,782 to Mr. Nunez on May 17, 1985 with the check made payable to "Shirley's Place" a Sweetlake restaurant owned by Mr. Nunez and his wife.

According to both Mr. Nunez and to Sonny Hackett, the check was for the purchase of a pig raised by the Nunez's son and sold at the annual parish junior livestock show.

Mr. Hackett, who with his associate George Bailey, have been employed by the Cameron Parish Police Jury and school board for many years, made the following statement:

"Hackett & Bailey has supported the 4-H program in Cameron Parish for over 20 years. We feel that the accusation made against us concerning the purchase of a kid's animal is totally unfounded and we will more than welcome the opportunity to explain this before the Ethics Committee."

Mr. Nunez said he had talked to an attorney concerning Hackett and Bailey purchasing his son's 4-H animal and had been advised there was nothing illegal about it. He said he was certain that this matter could be satisfactorily cleared up with the Ethics Committee.

Hospital joins care network

South Cameron Memorial Hospital has announced its affiliation with the Cardiac Care Network of Baptist Hospital of Southeast Texas in Beaumont.

The Cardiac Care Network is an affiliation between Baptist Hospital and various community hospitals. This affiliation provides smaller hospitals access to advanced technology for diagnosing and treating cardiac problems which they could not otherwise afford.

Joe Soileau, Administrator at South Cameron Hospital, feels that the arrangement with Baptist Hospital is an opportunity for smaller hospitals, such as South Cameron hospital, to provide state-of-the-art diagnostic services on a local level.

The Cardiac Care Network offers affiliated hospitals access to thrombolytic agents. Thrombolytic agents are the latest medications that are capable of stopping a heart attack in progress. These medications are costly, but the affiliation allows smaller hospitals to stock them.

The affiliation also provides access to Baptist Hospital's Air Ambulance Service and Mobile Peripheral Vascular Unit. The air rescue helicopter is equipped with a portable intra-aortic balloon pump which may be used prior to transporting the patient. The mobile peripheral vascular unit is capable of performing diagnostic tests of the neck and limbs in an attempt to detect vascular problems.

Realizing that communication is a key to the success of the Cardiac Care Network, South Cameron hospital will be in communication with Baptist Hospital and can contact cardiologists for consultations, readings and interpretations.

Progress told

The South Cameron Memorial Hospital has made some notable progress during the past nine months, according to hospital administrator Joe Soileau.

From July 1, 1988 to March 1989 the hospital has had 748 admission days and 1812 swing bed days. Out-patients have totaled 1026 and the ambulances have made 219 runs.

There were 895 visits made to the emergency room during that period.

The hospital also is participating in the Meal on Wheels program and during the first month prepared and served 2552 meals to the elderly of the parish.

The hospital recently entered into two new affiliations with other hospitals. It is operating a chemical dependency unit in conjunction with Savoy Memorial Hospital of Mamou.

It also has gone into a cardiac care affiliation program with Baptist Hospital of Beaumont in which helicopter service is provided.

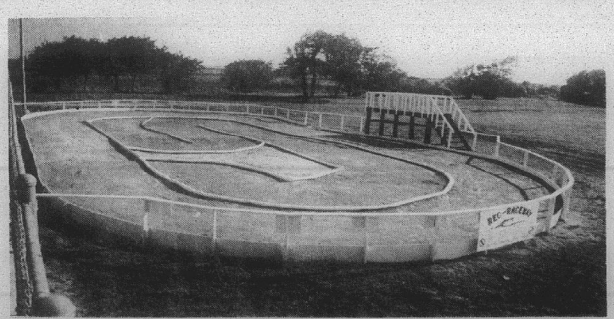
Miniature race car track opened here

A new attraction has been added to the Cameron Recreation Complex and will hold its grand opening on Sunday, May 14.

Designed and built by Kirk Burleigh and some of his racing friends, a miniature racing car track has been constructed on the north side of the recreation building.

It has been named the Rec-Raceway and plans are to hold races every two weeks. The oval track features a maze and an observation deck for the judges.

On opening day the classes will be offroad and oval and the categories will be buggies, trucks and fulbody.



The entry fee is $6 and trophies for first, second and third places will be awarded.

The practice will be from 12 to 2 p.m. with the races to start at 3 p.m.

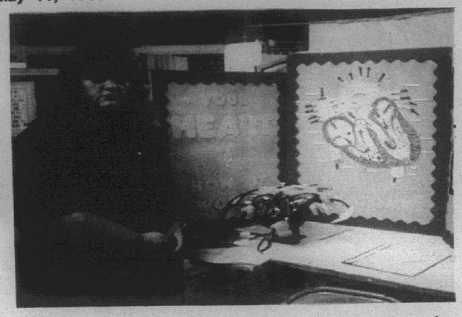
Safety Chain requirements

By TROOPER ED COMEAUX

Many Louisiana motorists are not aware of the laws requiring the use of safety chains when towing trailers and semi-trailers.



The Louisiana Revised Statute states: "Every trailer and semi-trailer with a loaded gross weight capacity of up to 6000 pounds shall be equipped with safety chains. The safety chains shall be securely attached to the towing vewhicle when the trailer or semi-trailer is in motion, and shall be of sufficient strength to hold the trailer behind the towing vehicle in case the connection between the two vehicles detaches."

The key phrase in the law is, "...with a gross weight capacity of up to 6000 pounds..." Most of the boat and utility trailers used in Louisiana have a gross weight capacity of far less than 6000 pounds and are required to have safety chains attached while being towed.

The 6000 pounds gross weight capacity limit is required because if the connection detaches, safety chains normally would be able to temorarily hold loads of 6000 pounds or less. Loads less than 6000 pounds may cause the towing vehicle to lose control. Loads over 6000 pounds may cause the towing vehicle togo out of control when only safety chains maintain the connection.

The unstable condition caused when only the safety chains maintain the connection could result in a head-on collision if the towing vehicle is forced across the center of the roadway by the weight of the trailer. For this reason, it is usually less hazardous for the trailer to separate completely from the towing vehicle.

Whenever a trailer is being towed, one should always check the condition of the connecting mechaniems on both the trailer and the towing vehicle.

A MOTHER'S DAY TRIBUTE

On this Mother's Day, which will be the first that my dear Mother, Annie Paris, will not be with us to hear me say "Happy Mother's Day", I wish to honor her memory with this tribute. She was one of the best Mothers and persons ever — kind, understanding, lovable, friendly as "all get out", always willing and ready to help whenever called upon, pleasant to be around, great sense of humor, and above all, unselfish to the point that she always put others ahead of herself. Wherever she is, may she know that Harold and I miss her and love her!

Camp Fire members work on preservation

The Campfire boys and girls of Cameron Elementary are working on a project of importance to all Cameron Parish residents, preservation of our coastline and wetlands. They have studied pictures and articles about the problem.

Having found that the loss of our coastal barrier ridges would also lead to the loss of our salt and freshwater marshes, they decorated T-shirts with the theme, "Save Our Beaches".

Next, the group viewed the situation first-hand Saturday, April 22. They toured the Sabine Refuge Nature Walk, visited the Refuge Visitors' Center exhibits, and then went to Constance Beach in Johnson Bayou to see the erosion for themselves.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Guilbeaux of Mickey's Shell Shop, gave each child a shell and an alligator tooth and showed slides picturing the amount of erosion that has occurred in the last 15 years or so. The boys and girls also went down to the beach to see where the road had been destroyed last year by the Gulf.

The group plans to create an exhibit using materials gathered in the last two months and display it in local banks, etc. For more information, contact Cyndi Sellers, Laura Doxey, or Patricia Murrell, leaders.

Cam. School Board acts on many items

COMPUTER BIDS

Modern Technology of Hineston, La. was awarded a contract to furnish personal computers for each of the school lunchrooms in the parish, along with two computers for the central office and accessories for a total cost of $20,000.

The computers will be used to keep track of the number of free and reduced cost meals served by the lunchroom.

INSURANCE BIDS

Two bids were received on general liability insurance for the school board and a special meeting was called for Monday, May 15, to act on these bids.

Contracts also were awarded to several contractors for painting at various schools in the parish.

R/W REQUEST

At the request of Gabe Nunez of Lake Charles, the board agreed to grant him and other land owners access across school boad property in the Little Chenniere Bayou area. He said they planned to build some camps.

Nunez told the board that Drainage District No. 5 had agreed to permit the road to be located on a drainage control structure in the area.

CO-OP MEETING

SUMMER SCHOOL

The superintendent was authorized to apply for permission from the State Dept. of Education to offer summer school in the parish. A survey will be made to determine how many students will want to attend the classes.

PROJECT OKED

The board authorized the employment of teachers during the summer to develop a pre-test for students in grades 3, 5 and 7 to correlate with the required state test.

ASSISTANCE APPROVED

The board received a request for assistance in sending a Hackberry student, Shanna Thibodeaux, a state officer, to the National FHA Convention in California and also to send one or two Grand Lake students to compete in national FBLA competiton in Florida.

The board agreed to put up $700 for each school, with the understanding that the school organizations involved would also put up part of the cost. It was agreed to adopt a policy on such grants at a later date.

TRAINING APPROVED

The board approved a one-week training course for persons who may be hired as school bus drivers. Supervisor Roger Richard said that 15 persons have applied and applications are still being taken.

REVISED GRADING POLICY

The board adopted a revised grading policy for parish schools. The chief difference between it and the old one, according to Asst. Supt. Robert Ortego, is that it drops the grade points needed for an "A" from 95 to 94.

He said this did not represent much of a change, but that the lowering of the points could mean the difference in a Cameron parish student getting a scholarhip in competition with students from other parishes with lower "A" levels.

COMMENDATION

The board adopted a resolution commending the La. Cooperative Extension Service and its agents in Cameron Parish on the 75th anniversary of the Cooperative Service in the United States.

The board also adopted a resolution recognizing the Johnson Bayou boys and girls track teams for their accomplishments in district, regional and state competition.

PETITION RECEIVED

School Board Member Rickey Guidry presented the board with a petition signed by 229 Grand Lake school patrons urging that the board hire a permanent physical education teacher for the elementary grades.

Supt. Thomas McCall said that the school had a temporary physical education teacher this year while one of the coaches was on sabbatical leave, but with the coach's return next fall the school will have a permanent teacher for that post.

Gator task force meets

By Loston McEvers

ALLIGATOR TASK FORCE MEETS

The task force for the alligator met last week at Rockefeller Refuge headquarters to discuss a tag fee for each alligator, for the 1989 seson.

This proposal will go to the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission and they will still have the upper hand in setting the fees.

The figures now show approximately 75 percent of the Louisiana gators are farm gators, with 25 percent wild gators.

It seems $170,000 is needed to keep the program alive and try and hire a new research biologist to help out. $300,000 was asked from the Rockefeller mineral funds but Bob Misso, Assistant Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries says no.

There is $4,500,000 coming out of Rockefeller refuge per year and it seems $300,000 could be used to help.

It also seems as quite a bit of money, like $278,00 is going into the conservation Fund and the task force cannot use this money.

Bob Odom was present at this meeting and he's in the process of having a tanning factory and processing meat plant set up in Louisiana. Mr. Odom is the head of the Agriculture Department for Louisiana. He has $10,000,000 okayed for these projects and I think that's a fine job on his part.

According to figures 23,000 wild alligators and 20,000 farm alligators should be harvested for 1989. Also 7000 live young gators along with 65,000 eggs will also be sold.

Rockefeller will slowly get out of the small gator and egg business after contracts they already have are filled. Private people will take over this operation. Now what happens to over stock of alligator on Rockefeller will be a good question to answer, when they stop selling eggs and small gators.

Alligators cannot be shipped out of state unless they are 4 foot long. Now eggs bought by farmers or states have to have a 17 percent return back to the wild plus we all know the mortality rate will be there, so a firm buying 100 eggs will be lucky to get a 75 percent survival rate.

Something that really surprised me was that we can't ship alligator meat to the State of Florida, because it is butchered in Louisiana. It seems also that there was some bad alligtor meat in Florida, but it turned out to be butchered in Florida. They don't want our gator meat, but they want our small gators and eggs to raise their own.

What the task force was trying to do was put a figure on each tag for each alligator sold, by both farmers and wild hunters. Last year after the license a $2 tag fee was charged.

A motion was brought on the floor for $4 tag fee for both alligator farmers and wild alligator hunters. There was no second.

Another motion was to have a $4 fee for 1989 and a $3 for 1990. It was out-voted 6 to 4.

This is to send to the commission and they will be the ones to make the decision. I think it will end up a $5 per tag fee but we'll wait and see.

There was one thing said that really stuck in my mind. Someone said that the alligator farmers should pay like $3 per tag and the wild alligator trapper should pay $4 per tag. However, this was said with lots of heads saying no.

One wild alligator trapper said very well, their expenses were also great as most have to give a 35 percent share to the landowner.

THINGS ABOUT

*According to the last news I got the jetties in Cameron will be closed for sports fishing.

*The TED law will be enforced as of May 1. Warnings will be issued for 60 days, with no fines. This law will probably be enforced by the Coast Guard or Commerce Department, but not by the Louisiana Widdlife and Fisheries Commission.

*A North Dakota resident was caught south of Belle Chasse, with a truckload of redfish. Commercial redfishing or redfish in posession by a commercial establishment is illegal.

Gary W. Kuhn, 39, of Napolean, North Dakota has been ordered to forfeit his truck that was hauling 2,294 pounds of redfish.

*Local fishing both fresh water and salt water is still good. Redfish still hitting in the Grand Chenier area. Bass and white perch are number one in Big Burns.

*A reminder the Lemesche Bass Club will have their annual family tournament May 21, Sunday.

J. Bayou teams place 2nd and 5th

by ROBERT MANUEL

A state championship in track or any other sport, is not an easy accomplishment.

Johnson Bayou boys and girls qualified athletes in 12 events at the Regionals, but were nosed out in the State meet.

Johnson Bayou, with but two of its top athletes back from last year's Class C championship team, made a good run of it and claimed the 1989 Class C runner-up title. The Lady Rebels, with no seniors on board, placed fifth overall.

In boys division, Kilbourne won the title with 91 points. Johnson Bayou, in second place, had 61.

In girls division, Epps took team honors with 78 points. Saline was runner-up with 70. The Johnson Bayou Lady Rebels took fifth with 44 points.

Barry Badon and Scott Sandifer were the individual standouts. Badon took firsts in both sprints, the 100 m and 200 m dashes.

Scott Sandifer took a first in the triple jump, a second in the 110 m hurdles and a third and fourth in the javelin and shot put respectively.

The young Lady Rebel team had two individual state champs with Nicole Duhon, a first in the 100 m hurdles and April Trahan with a first in high jump.

Stephanie Vining added points with a third place in the same event. Sprinter Tiffany Romero had a fourth in the 100 m dash and anchored the fifth and sixth place relay teams.

Hackberry's Clint Hewitt, an outstanding basketball player, gave Hackberry 10 points with an amazing triple jump first place of 48'6¼". His jump was the second best in all classes at the state meet. Lamar Clark of Captain Shreve, a AAAA school, had a best of 50'9¾".

Grand Lake's Jason Cheramie and Larry Broussard each took a fifth place, Cheramie in the 400 m dash and Broussard in the discus.

Personnel matters

A number of personnel matters were handled at the Cameron Parish School Board's monthly meeting Monday.

Catherine Kyle, Hackberry High School sweeper, submitted her retirement notice and the board agreed to permit Catherine Simon, who works in the school meat processing plant to transfer to this position.

Applications are now being taken for Mrs. Simon's previous position.

Betty Faulk's retirement as lunchroom manager at Grand Lake High School was received and Sandy Reon was named to this position. Advertisement was approved to fill Mrs. Reon's position.

Retirement of Clarence LaBove as South Cameron elementary janitor also was received and Jerry Theriot was named to this position.

A request for leave without pay for the remainder of the school year was granted to Debra Doland Manuel, Cameron Elementary teacher.

The resignations of Patricia Morris, Federal Programs tutor, and of Cora Howard, teacher's aide in special education at Grand Lake, were received.

Went to tournament

Miss Kitties women's softball team from Creole placed third in the Class E state tournament in Denham Springs, qualifying them for the regional tournament in Tulsa, Okla. on Aug. 26, 27, 28.

Due to heavy rains and thunderstorms, the tournament was cancelled on April 28. Miss Kitties was one of only 8 teams still remaining in the tournament at that time. They had outscored their opponents 55-16 in the three games played.

Shrimp season set

The brown shrimp season in Zones 1 and 2 of the state's inshore waters will open at 6 a.m. on Monday, May 22, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

The two shrimp management zones comprise the Louisiana coast reaching from the Mississippi state line westward to the western shore of Vermilion Bay and Southwest Pass at Marsh Island.

The shrimping season in Zone 3, from the western shore of Vermilion Bay and Southwest Pass at Marsh Island to the Texas state line, will open at 6 a.m. Monday, June 5.

The opening dates were set by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission following a public hearing in New Orleans attended by shrimpers, buyers and other interested parties.

LDWF biologists told the commission that current projections showed the May 22 and June 5 dates represented the earliest time at which half or more of the brown shrimp would reach marketable size--100 or fewer to the pound.

The Commission authorized LDWF Secretary Virginia Van Sickle to order an earlier or later opening if brown shrimp growth conditions warranted and to close the season when it became advisable.

Thoughts on Mother's Day

Mother love is one of the tenderest, most sacrificial, most enduring of all emotions ever centered in the heart of woman. Real mother love, that is.

I was moved last Tuesday to realize anew the magnitude of it. Sue, my daughter, and Jenny, my granddaughter, and the latter's eight-month-old baby spent the day with us. I have always known the depth of my love for Sue and of her abiding love for her four. Now Jenny extends that same type of love to her little Jeremy.

James A. Garfield reacted to his mother's love when he was inaugurated president of the United States. Immediately after having taken the oath of office, he walked back to where his aged mother sat and kissed her.

One year when I was teaching, I asked by sixth graders to pay tribute to motherhood by writing poems or essays. I happened to run across some of these today that had been printed in the high school "Tiger's Roar."

The following excerpts were composed by my twelve-year-olds:

"To me a mother is a woman who possesses the great talent of loving and really knowing her children." —Manuel Romero.

"She is kind and tender, both to children and to the big collie in the back yard." —David Guidry.

"A mother never seems to mind the work that she does nor the sacrifices that she makes." —Harold Martin.

"A mother is the most wonderful thing in the world. And you can never buy, or even borrow, one in the real sense of the word." —Kathy Hebert.

"A mother means to me, a lady who does a lot for the rest of the family. She works from morning till night to see that her children are cared for and are given wholesome opportunities to develop meaningful lives. —Harold Martin.

"She has a lot of patience with her noisy little ones. She prepares good meals and does not expect too much help with the cleaning up.

"She finds little time in which to relax, for she rises at dawn and works into the night. Yet, she seldom complains, and she always loves her whole family." —Dale Hollister

The above fragments from the children's essays were written in 1968. I wonder how many have become parents. I trust that they have in that capacity followed their mothers' example. I trust, too, if their mothers are still with them that they let her know this Mother's Day all that she has meant to them.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

After moving to this area seven years ago, and comparing this to others, I can't help but brag about our schools and the activities they have for elementary age children. But the beginning of the baseball season has really been an unpleasant ordeal.

I do not want to give the impression that we do not appreciate the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Dept. for their support in sponsoring this event. It is the way in which it was handled that I object to.

In Grand Chenier we have such a small school that we are lucky to have enough to have any teams. So for years we have asked our preschoolers to play on our T-Ball teams. Without them we could not have a team. When I say preschoolers, I mean children who are registered for kindergarten. Their names are on file just like any other child in school.

But a couple of weeks before the start of the season we were sent a letter stating no preschoolers would be allowed to play. The letter also said we are not running a day care center. When we asked why, we were told three or four different stories. None of which were backed up by facts. We just had to accept it because they said so. No real explanation was given.

When we asked why we were allowed to play preschoolers before they replied, they didn't know we were playing them. But before every season we have to turn in a list of names and birthdates. We have also told different dates for age requirements. These were changed back and forth between two dates. And the list goes on.

As it turns out, Grand Chenier will have our teams without the preschoolers but the count was close. The point I am trying to make is, if we are going to play any sport let's adopt a set of rules before the season practice begins. And let's stick to them. Everyone should have a fair chance.

This game is for our children to enjoy. The last thing they need to hear is everyone arguing over who can play and what the rules are. Please, let's not let this happen next year. Let's adopt a set of rules for everyone and not change them to suit our own purposes.

This is a great place to live. Let's keep it that way by setting examples for our children.

Thank you,
/s/ Kellie McKoin
Grand Chenier

Jetty closing is deplored

"I am 100 percent against what they have done to us," Cameron Parish Police Juror Ray Conner said of the U. S. Corps of Engineers' fencing of the Cameron jetties.

Conner spoke at a meeting of the board of the Southwest Louisiana Convention and Visitors Bureau Thursday.

"It all has to do with tourism," Conner said. "It affects the poor people who can't afford boats."

Board member Monte Hurley of the Belmont Motor Inn said travelers frequently comment that the jetties afforded them an opportunity to "wet a hook" in Gulf waters. "People from other parts of the country can say they fished the Louisiana coast."

Conner said his biggest complaint was that the Corps started work without a public hearing or any other notification.

The Corps has cited the danger posed by the slippery rocks as the reason for fencing people out.

The bureau adopted a resolution urging that some other course of action be taken so people can still use the jetties.

Conner was also successful in his request for the boards' support for a change in Cameron ferry procedures. He said in February or March of each year, the Coast Guard requires that the ferry be removed from service for inspection and repairs, and in the interim, a small ferry replaces it.

During that period, motor homes may not be able to cross and may have to wait half a day, "and that makes them mad," he said. "They say they're going back to Texas and never coming back."

The board adopted a resolution asking for better warning signs or some other solution to avoid antagonizing tourists.

Report given on new wildlife refuge here

The Cameron Parish Police Jury was given a report on the progress being made in developing the new Cameron Prairie National Wildlife Refuge located just north of the Intracoastal Canal near Gibbstown.

Refuge Manager Paul Yakupzack said the Department of the Interior's U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service acquired the 9,600 acre property last December through a sale of 8,181 acres by Hebert-Helms and Co. at a price of $4,090,650. An additional 1,440 acres was purchased from the Trahan Land Company Inc. for $1 million.

Funds to acquire the refuge came from the sale of Duck Stamps, which are required of all waterfowl hunters 16 years of age or older.

"The Cameron Prairie Refuge consists of fresh marsh and prairie-type habitat," said Yakupzack. "We are currently farming 500 acres of rice and plan to expand that in the future. We are maintaining our base on a much larger acreage. We plan to pursue farming as an active development on the refuge as well as some other things."

Yakupzack said immediate plans are to complete the necessary paperwork to stage a commercial alligator harvest on the site.

"As you know," he said, "in any enterprise, whether it's government or the private sector, you have to start off small. We're very new . . . but we're thinking about such things as a public fishing program, boat hunting, nature trails and wildlife observation areas."

The refuge currently employs a staff of only two, but Yakupzack said that three more employees will be hired.

"We understand the situation that Cameron parish is in with the economy," said Yakupzack, who previously served as the assitant manager of the Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge. "We realize that tourism is one of the things you are trying to promote. We want to work with you, and hopefully, in a cooperative effort, we can come up with some mutually beneficial projects to increase economic activities in the parish."

Yakupzack said that the Fish and Wildlife Service's long-range plans call for establishment of a maintenance facility on the site as well as a visitor's center similar to that currently located at the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge. The projected cost for planning, developing and implementing these projects is some $2 million.

Juror W. Ray Conner asked Yakupzackif if the Fish and Wildlife Service planned to acquire any more property in Cameron Parish.

"We'd like to have some more land in Cameron Parish," he responded. "Cameron Parish is probably one of the finest counties or parishes in the United States for wintering waterfowl. It's of continental importance. There's more ducks that winter in Cameron than probably anywhere else in the flyway and probably east of the Rockies.

"Most of them winter on our federal and state refuges," Yakupzack continued. "So we'd like to have more, but we only buy from willing sellers. If somebody doesn't want to sell their land, we don't try to buy it from them."

Youth dies following care wreck

(From American Press)

A car that stopped in the roadway on La. 27 just north of the Gibbstown Bridge Thursday allegedly caused a seven-vehicle, chain reaction collison that left one person dead and three injured, according to Cameron Parish Sheriff Sono Savoie.

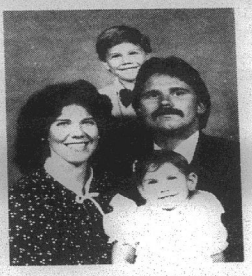
The fatality was identified as Joshua Peshoff, 4, of Cameron. The boy's father, Leroy Peshoff, 30, and Johnny Harris, 46, both of Cameron, were taken by Holston's Ambulance Service to Lake Charles Memorial Hospital. Peshoff was then transferred to University Medical Center in Lafayette.

Ethel Janice, 56, of Sweetlake received minor injuries in the mishap, deputies said.

A Lake Charles man, Timothy Amos, 23, of 3924 Swanee St., was later arrested in connection with the accident and booked into the jail at the Lake Charles Police Department for hit and run, negligent homicide and three counts of negligent injury. He was then transferred to the Cameron Parish Jail, deputies said.

Deputies said the accident occurred at 5:30 p.m. when the northbound car Amos was allegedly driving stopped in the roadway because the trunk was not closed.

Six cars behind Amos then collided in rear-end, chain reaction collisons. The fourth vehicle in the chain, driven by Harris, was knocked into the southbound lane and collided head-on with the southbound Peshoff vehicle, deputies said.



The car driven by Amos, which was not hit, reportedly left the scene of the accident but witnesses descriptions led to the arrest at 11:40 p.m. at Amos' residence, deputies said.

This Little Bottle Could Save Your Life

Heart attacks ... They are the number one killer in America today.

But today, South Cameron Memorial Hospital is better prepared than ever to treat heart attack patients in the first critical moments following the attack.

As an affiliate of the Baptist Hospital Cardiac Care Network, South Cameron Memorial Hospital is now supplied with life-saving drugs that help in a vast majority of all heart attacks.

In 90 percent of all heart attacks, a blood clot closes the artery that supplies blood to the heart. The longer the artery is blocked, the greater the damage to the heart muscle ... and the greater risk to the patient. Restoring the blood flow immediately can make the critical difference.

Through the Baptist Cardiac Care Network, South Cameron Memorial Hospital is now supplied with very important life-saving drugs like Tissue Plasminogen Activator (t-PA). These special clot-dissolving drugs enable us to intervene in a heart attack and, in most cases, restore blood flow. Once blood flow is restored, your physician has ample time to evaluate and diagnose your condition.

What this little bottle means is that you can get the absolute best in cardiac care right here at home in the Cameron area.

In short, it's a little bottle that could save your life.

REMEMBER . . . . By Keith Hambrick

Parish's population was 6,045 in 1930

(Lake Charles American Press, May 15, 1930)
CAMERON HAS BIG INCREASE IN POPULATION

The parish of Cameron as a whole, did not double its population during the past ten years, but it increased it by 65-1/3 percent.

The growth in population was just a very small fraction under two-thirds of the number of inhabitants in 1920.

Figures given out today are as follows: Population in 1930, is 6,045. Population in 1920, was 3,952. Increase since last census, 2,093. There has also been an increase of 139 farms in the parish since the census of 1920.

The 1930 enumeration which has been completed and figures compiled today, given by police jury wards in the parish, is as follows: Ward 1, Cow Island, 339 as against 428 in 1920. Ward 2, Grand Chenier, 961 as against 875 in 1920. Ward 3, town of Cameron, 1,423 as against 1,220 in 1920. Ward 4, Grand Lake, 1,369 as against 850 in 1920. Ward 5, Johnson Bayou, 445 as against 332 in 1920. Ward 6, Hackberry, 908 as against 247 in 1920.

In no ward division of the parish was there a decrease in population, and in Cow Island, Grand Lake and Hackberry communities there were very material increases in the number of inhabitants. Advocates for a greater Cameron Parish are firm in their belief that the completion of the Gulf Beach highway to the town of Cameron and the further development of oil fields and good roads in the parish, are going to cause a much larger percentage gain in Cameron population during the next ten years than there has been during the past decade.

SCHOOL TAX ELECTION

The Cameron Parish School Board has issued a proclamation calling for a special school tax election, of three mills, on June 19. It is also announced that bids will be received for the school supply of coal, and for two building projects, a two-room addition to the Johnson Bayou school and a three-room addition to Chruch school, bids to be opened on June 20.

This proclamation and the notices will appear in full in the weekly American Press, the official journal of the Cameron Parish School Board.

HACKBERRY

The new six room dwelling of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Decote is nearing completion here. The new home is located across the road from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sanner in the southwestern section of the Hackberry oil field. It consists of two bedrooms living room, dining room, sun parlor and kitchen, with built-in cabinets and closets.

Mr. Decote is principal of the high school at Hackberry and is a former resident of Cottonport. He and his family will move into their new home soon.

Forty workmen are busy laying a two-mile pipe line from the Yount-Lee Oil Company's oil storage tanks near the Kelso Bayou bridge in the East Hackberry field to the company's No.11 Gulf Land fee well in section 14-12s-10w. This well is in 20 feet of oil sand near 6100 feet and will be set with screen and brought in upon completion of the oil line. A string of 7-inch casing was set and cemented above the pay early this week.

Other construction besides the 12,000-foot line at Hackberry is the building by the Gulf Refining Company of two additional company cottages.

The Texas Company has spotted a third well in Calcasieu Lake at East Hackberry. It is the No. 12-B State and is located about 500 feet southeast of No. 10-B.

LAKESIDE LACONICS

Allen Hunt of Salt Island was visiting relatives in the neighborhood.

We had a fine little shower on Saturday night but we need much more.

On Thursday morning Mrs. Cleodes Benoit died very suddenly. She leaves a husband and three little girls, her twin sister, Mrs. Cleomere Benoit, her mother and near relatives, who mourn her sudden taking away. She was sick only a few hours.

It is reported that Mr. Allen Hunt and family will soon be residents of Lakeside.

Some of our gardeners are furnishing roasting ears and cucumbers.

No indication of salt water as yet but planting has been put back so much by the dry weather that the farmers will take advantage of the fresh water. The Lake still continues very low.

The fish seem to all have deserted this part of the country and the fishermen are certainly having a poor time.

This entire section is anxiously awaiting for the completion of the Intercoastal Canal. It will certainly be a great business producer and will furnish direct communication to many points where it now requires lots of time and money to reach, and will furnish an outlet for many articles of produce. It will also be a drain for our marsh lands and already some of the recent purchases of the development companies are being put into shape for cultivation. This is going to be a fine fruit section and the miserable service of the Railroad will receive a check such as it needs. A number of reliable people are waiting to inaugurate a good water service between here and ports Est and West where markets and reliable service can be obtained.

No census enumerator has appeared here yet. Why is this?

(Lake Charles American Press, Feb. 9, 1923)
CAMERON TRIALS

Feb. 6--Judge Thos. F. Porter went to Cameron Parish today for a short term of court in Cameron Parish. A number of Lake Charles citizens are in attendance as witnesses in a case in which a man is charged with possessing and selling intoxicating liquors. It is understood that a rather heavy criminal docket awaited the judge and district attorney this term in Cameron.

It is reported that a number of trapping cases and criminal suits growing out of others held last year are to come up in Cameron this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow. It is said that the intoxicating liquor case is attracting considerable attention and it is said that a number of surprises are in store in this prosecution.

LAKESIDE LACONICS

Lakeside has an epidemic of LaGrippe and the majority of the people, big and little are sick with it. (Grippe was a bad case of the flu.)

Mr. Diehl is still confined to the house; he has been sick for about two months.

W. S. Streater has a gang of men cleaning the hyacinths from the canal. It has become completely filled with the pest, preventing any traffic to Monroe and Klondike by that route.

Ora Benoit and Miss Eva Benoit were married at the Shell Beach Catholic Church. They will make their home with the groom's father, Numa Benoit at Monroe for the present. The hall and reception took place at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Jo. Benoit of Shell Beach.

Our Farmers are busy plowing these days and they will put in the "mother" sweet potatoes in a few days if the pleasant weather continues.

There will be quite an acreage of sweet potatoes planted at this neck of the woods and it certainly is a good paying crop here. The prices in the fall ranging from 50¢ to $1 per bushel.

Urime Miller and Ulyes Benoit are putting in time on the hyacinth proposition.

It would be a fine thing if we could pull some of that big appropriation to Lakeside to make a protection for our water front. In a few years, if something is not done, Lakeside will about all be in the Lake.

THANKS FOR the memories! This is to thank the entire Hackberry High School Faculty and Staff along with every organization, clubs, all students and many friends, who got together for a day of surprises and presentation of gifts up on my retirement.

The limousine ride being met by the entire school presenting flowers, crown and sceptor--being Cinderella. Banners, songs, gifts from each group, gold bracelet, gold engraved Bill, sterling letter opener, shirt with 51 names, booklet, posters, fruit, cross and cards galore were so gracious.

My video tape will have a magic way of keeping my dear friends forever close in mind. You have all been so kind, loving, generous, and helping friends. I love you and will miss you.

LOSTON MCEVERS, outdoors sports columnist for the Cameron Pilot, here holds the third place certificate that his column won in 1988 in competition with other sports columnists on small weekly newspapers throughout the state.

Flood insurance talked in Wash.

A meeting crucial to the future of Cameron Parish is being held in Washington, D. C. this week concerning the federal flood insurance program.

At its recent monthly meeting, Dr. Joe Suhayda, the jury's flood insurance consultant, reported that he has completed a five-year study of regulations imposed on the parish in connection with the flood insurance program.

His findings were what Cameron Parish residents had suspected all along--the federal government's data on ridge elevations, hurricane severity, etc., were in error and had resulted in parish residents having to build at unreasonable high levels during the past years.

A delegtion from the police jury is in Washington this week to try to get FEMA, the agency that administers the flood program, to accept the new Cameron date and hopefully to lower building elevations here.

Members of the delegation are Dr. Suhayda, Parish Engineer Lonnie Harper, District Attorney Jerry Jones, Parish Administrator Garner Nunez and Police jurors Ray Conner, Kenneth Ducote and George LeBoeuf.

The group is scheduled to meet with Congressman Jimmy Hayes and Senators John Breaux and Bennett Johnston.

They will ask FEMA to issue new elevation maps lowering building elevations in the parish, reimburse the parish for the expense of its study and also for reimbursement for overpayments made by parish citizens for flood insurance for past years.

Benefit set on May 21

A benefit will be held at the Cameron K.C. Hall Sunday, May 21, starting at 11 a.m. and lasting all day.

There will be a barbecue, jambalaya and hamburgers as well as music and dancing.

Bands will be the The Teardrops at 11 a.m.; Breaking Ground at 2 p.m.; and Uncle Remus at 6 p.m.

All proceeds will go toward the medical expenses for cancer patient Carla Primeaux, 17-year-old daughter of Lonnie and the late Carolyn Primeaux.

Chips event is June 11

Mrs. Shirley Bonsall, president of the Cameron Parish Chapter of the American Cancer Society, reports that most of the tickets have been sold for the "Let the Chips Fall Whey They May", event.

It will be held on June 11, at 3 p.m. at the Cameron Rec-Plex when Shawn Bonsall's cow will be let loose on a giant checkerboard of 200 squares on one of the ball fields.

The cow will be allowed to roam at will until she picks a square on which to land a chip and the person who bought that square will be the winner of the $1,000 prize.

This is the second year for this money raiser. All the money raised will go to the cancer fund.

Mrs. Bonsall stated that other cancer societies are interested in the money raising event. Information has been sent to the New Orleans chapter this week, she said.

Hearing set on legal services

The Cameron Council on Aging will host a public hearing on Legal Services for the Elderly. The Council on Aging intends to apply for a waiverfor legal service expenses.

Also at the hearing, the Area Plan updates will be reviewed.

A board meeting will be held following the hearing. The hearing will begin at 4 p.m. at the Cameron Senior Center.

Contract set on asbestos

Wendell's Electric Service of Cameron Monday was awarded a $61,785 contract by the Cameron Parish School Board to remove asbestos on hot water piping at Hackberry High School and other asbestos at various other schools in the parish.

After the completion of this project, the school board will be in almost complete compliance with federal regulations either to remove asbestos from schools or else provide a management program to make sure the material does not cause a health hazard.

The bid was under the $70,000 engineer's estimate of the cost of the work.

The board took under advisement four bids for the remodeling of the South Cameron High School home economics kitchen and the Hackberry High School gymnasium. The low bid submitted was $69,590.

A $28,028 contract was awarded to Titan Insurance Company for one million dollars in general liability insurance coverage.

The board adopted a revision to its current budget, revising its estiamted surplus from $470,000 to $320,000 in the general fund. Margaret Jones, board employee, said that the board's collections on oil royalties were down, but noted that interest on invested funds was up and expenditures were down.

Board President Arnold Jones commented: "It looks like we are in good financial shape for another year."

Four graduations are next week

By ROBERT MANUEL

The four Cameron Parish high schools will begin winding up the school with graduation ceremonies scheduled for next week. Grand Lake is on Monday, May 22, at 7:30 p.m. South Cameron is scheduled for Thrusday, May 25, and Hackberry and Johnson Bayou are scheduled for Friday, May 26.

According to figures provided by principals of the four high schools, 38 scholarships worth approximately $100,000 will be awarded to approximately 29 graduating seniors. This total does not include final accuning of pending scholarship applications and those students receiving grants.

Grants or loans are available for those students who qualify according to low family income. Even those of moderate family income can apply and receive loans on their own initiative.

Cameron Parish has again an outstanding group of graduates who will determine how Cameron Parish, the state and nation will prosper.

The Cameron Council on Aging is sponsoring a Health Fair Tuesday, May 30, in Hackberry and May 31, in Cameron. Mobile phones service better

Mobile Comm, a communications company, is pleased to announce to the people of Cameron Parish that Mobile Comm's mobile telephone service for the area has been upgraded. As of June 1, a taller and more powerful tower will be put into service.

In addition, according to E. G. McFillen, company representatives, Jack Hanks, Craig Vincent, Errol (Bubba) Cheramie and Michelle Robbins will be available at 494-1401 to answer any question or to respond to any concerns that area residents may have regarding communication needs.

Cancer answers are available

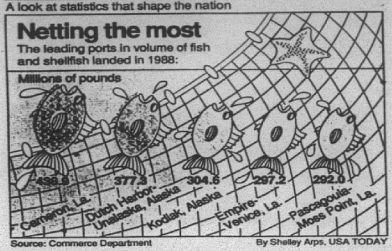
Answers to questions about cancer are just a toll-free telephone call away. The American Cancer Society offers the public free, statewide easy access to the most accurate and up-to-date information about cancer by dialing 1-800-ACS-2345.

The toll-free number may be called from anywhere in Louisiana. Hours of operation are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The information service was introduced by the American Cancer Society to provide the public with accurate information about the disease. Callers talk with trained volunteers and staff who can provide information in clear, concise, laymen's language about cancer causes, prevention, detection, diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation. Callers can also find out about services available to cancer patients and their families in their own area.

Shirley Bonsall, president of the Cameron Unit said, "We feel the Cancer Information Line is one of the most important programs we have ever undertaken. We hope this service will help ease many of the public's fears and anxieties about cancer."

All calls are confidential. No names or addresses are ever used unless information is being mailed.



Although the Cancer Information Line cannot provide a diagnosis or a treatment recommendation relating to individual cancers, the program is designed to help callers better understand and cope with cancer.

MRS. VIRGIE LeBleu, Memorial Gifts and Service chairman; and Mrs. Shirley Bonsall, president of the Cameron Cancer Society, make plans for the upcoming "Let The Chips Fall Where They May" event and the opening of the toll-free telephone-away of the American Cancer Line. Mrs. Bonsall holds a poster of the June 11, event.

USA SNAPSHOTS

EVERYONE IN Cameron Parish knows that Cameron is the number one port in the nation in the volume of fish and shellfish landed. Now everyone in the nation knows it thanks to the little chart published this week on the front page of the USA Today, the second largest newspaper in the nation. Cameron's large catch is due primarily to the menhaden and shrimp landed here.

Gulf fishing rules proposed

Following public hearings, the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council has adopted proposed management measures intended to restore the ailing fishery for reef fish in the Gulf of Mexico. At its meeting in Tampa, Fla., on Apr. 27, and 28, the Council heard recommendations of fishermen and then came to grips with some tough decisions to reduce catches.

Recreation bag limits for red snapper are to be 7 fish per person per trip. A commercial quota of 3.1 million pounds (equivalent to 75 percent of the average landings from 1985-87) is proposed for the first year. A minimum size limit for red snapper remains unchanged at a 13 inch total length.

Recreational bag limits for other snappers, excluding vermilion and lane, is 10 fish in the aggregate. There are no bag limits for vermilion and lane snappers. Minimum size limits are 12 inches for gray, mutton, and yellowtail, and 8 inches for lane and vermilion snappers. No commercial quotas are set for these species.

A 5 fish recreational bag limit for all groupers combined and a minimum size limit of 20 inches on red, gag, black, yellowfin, and Nassau groupers and 50 inches on jewfish is proposed.

Commercial quotas of 9.2 and 1.8 million pounds are to be set for shallow water and deep water groupers. Deep water groupers include only snowy, yellowedge, misty and warsaw groupers.

Black seabass would have a minimum size of 8 inches with no bag limits or commercial quotas.

A recreational bag limit for amberjack would be set at 3 fish per angler per trip and a minimum size limit of 28 inches fork length. A commercial annual quota of 1.5 million pounds would be established for the first year. All bag limits are to be trip limits with an allowable possession limit up to two days on multi-day trips aboard charter, head boats, and other commercial vessels taking reef fish as a bycatch.

Bottom longlines for reef fish would be prohibited within 50 fathoms west and 20 fathoms east of Cape San Blas. Incidental catches of reef fish on other longlines, shrimp trawls, and nets would be limited to the recreational bag limit (up to two days limit in possession) and minimum size limits.

Fish traps are to continue to be allowed outside designated stressed areas but will be limited to 100 traps per permit holder and annual permits are to be required.

Fishermen are to be restricted to the recreational bag limits unless they possess a commercial permit issued by the National Marine Fisheries Service. To qualify for a commercial permit a fisherman must be able to prove that in the previous year he earned more than 50 percent of his earned income from commercial or charter/head boat fishing. Retirement income and similar income does not count as earned income. Reef fish taken under a bag limit, i.e., without a commercial permit, may not be sold.

Coastal Concern

The monthly meeting of the Coastal Concern organization will be held May 18, at 7 p.m. in the Police Jury Annex.

Spring game

The South Cameron Tarpons will play the Kinder Yellow Jackets in a spring scrimmage game at 4 p.m., Thursday, May 18, at South Cameron. There will be a $1 admission fee.

Correction

Matilda LaBove has been transferred from Cameron Elementary to South Cameron Elementary as a janitor and the opening at Cameron Elementary is being advertised by the school board.

The Pilot's story on these personnel matters last week was in error.

Attend academy

Two Cameron Parish Law Enforcement Officers attended the Calcasieu Parish Regional Law Enforcement Training Academy.

They were George L. Landry and Kent LaBove. LaBove received the second place Firearms Award.

Festival set

Loston McEvers and the Swamp Country Band will perform from 2 to 6 p.m. on Sunday, May 21, at the Cajun Bon Ton Festival to be held on the grounds of St. Theresa's Catholic Chruch at Carlyss.

The festival will be held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday with plenty of Cajun food, music and entertainment.

Event cancelled

The American Legion Post 176 Cameron family barbecue scheduled for Sunday, May 21, has been cancelled due to a decision made at Tuesday night's meeting to donate the meat to the Primeaux benefit.

THIS ORIGINAL print by Grand Chenier elementary student Adam Corell will be among the items on exhibit at the Cameron Parish Library.

Students show work

Students with work on display are: Kimberly Sturlese, Sandy Booth, Darron Guidry, and Adam Coreil of Grand Chenier Elementary.

South Cameron Elementary students are: Leonard Harper, Travis Pradia, Brandi Sturlese, Scott Rogers, Garreth Turner, Courtney Isgitt, Julie Thomas, Patrick Theriot, Charmaine Trahan, Joshua Dahlen, and Angie Thibodeaux.

South Cameron High students are: Patrick Hebert, Ernest January, Dori Taylor and Kenneth Walker.

Better Hearing, Speech Month is observed here

The American Speech - Language - Hearing Association is a sponsor of May Better Hearing and Speech Month. Locally, speech therapists, Susan Caldwell at Grand Lake High School, Natalie LaLande at Cameron Elementary, So. Cameron Elementary, and Grand Chenier, and Lisa Quesnel at Hackberry and Johnson Bayou High Schools, plan to instruct students in the cause and prevention of noise-induced hearing loss, have a "Bring a Friend to Speech Day", and plan other activities to celebrate this month.

The public school therapists want to be certain that every child with a speech/langauge or hearing problem is identified. He/she may be eligible to receive appropriate habilitative services free of charge in a public school setting if the child qualifies.

Communication problems often seen in preschool or school-aged children include those of articulation, language, voice, fluency, and hearing loss. A child with an articulation problem produces certain speech sounds incorrectly (For example: He might say "tootie" for "cookie").

Language problems can be both receptive (understanding) and/or expressive. A child with a language problem might speak in short utterances with a restricted vocabulary. A child with a voice problem might have inappropriate pitch, loudness, or voice quality, such as hoarseness. Most fluency problems in school-aged children involve some type of stuttering behavior.

In addition to evaluating the kinds of speech disorders described above, the public school speech therapists can aid in the identification and referral of hearing problems.

The public school system provides screening and subsequent evaluation of children with suspected communication problems. For more information, call the Cameron Parish School Board Office at 775-7570.

Redfishing is good

By Loston Mcevers

FISHING NEWS

Fishing for freshwater bass, crappie and perch slowed last week due to the front that came through. However, this past weekend was pretty good as very good catches of white perch and bass were reported.

Redfish is still going pretty good as I saw some nice 5 to 6 pound reds caught last week by four boats.

REEF PROGRAM

Louisiana Artificial Reef Program gained $250,000 when Exxon Company presented a check to the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries Secretary, Virginia VanSickle.

Exxon has already donated two oil rigs that were destined ro be dismantled. The rigs were towed to a destination 120 miles south of Cameron and sunk to the bottom of the Gulf of Mexico to create an artificial reef.

This will attract fish by providing habitat, which will benefit both sports fishermen and commercial fishermen.

The reef project saves a company money and then in return keeps out the reef project. The $250,000 must be used to support Louisiana reef projects.

LAKE MISERE

Lake Misere is producing some nice catfish, not large in size, but good 2 to 3 pound catfish.

Opening of the brown shrimp season in Zone 1 of the state's inshore waters has been postponed until 6 a.m. Monday, June 5, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

The Zone 1 opening originally had been set for May 22. The zone extends along Louisiana's Gulf Coast from the Mississippi state line westward to South Pass of the Mississippi River.

LDWF Secretary Virginia Van Sickle explained that the Zone 1 opening was being delayed because state biologists had reprted a new influx of immature brown shrimp into the area.

Opening of the brown shrimp season in Louisiana's other two shrimp management zones will take place as previously scheduled.

Zone 2, from South Pass of the Mississippi to the western shore of Vermilion Bay and Southwest Pass at Marsh Island, will open at 6 a.m. Monday, May 22. Zone 3, comprising the rest of the coast westward to the Texas state line, will open at 6 a.m. Monday, June 5.

Sweetlake oil found

ENCAMPMENT ON CALCASIEU LAKE

The necessary papers are being drawn this week by which the Y.M.C.A. of Louisiana, for itself and correlated organizations for the young people of the state, for vacation and training purposes, leases for a term of years, from J. W. Gardiner and Krause & Managan, the 4-acre tract of land on the north side of Calcasieu Lake known as the target practice or camp grounds of the Gerstner field boys during the war. The house and barracks will also be included in the lease.

The purposes of securing these grounds are for having state encampments for the Y.M.C.A., state Boy Scouts and girls of the State Sunday School Union, each organization occupying the grounds 10 or 15 days during the summer, the Y.M.C.A. doubtless first.

The time at these encampments will be given to vacation, fishing, swimming and boat riding, and also to moral, educational and athletic training. Visitors will be welcome from all parts of the stae, hundreds of them, to this encampment, and while here, will be principally under the supervision of the officers of their state organizations.

There are a number of houses and barracks on the ground that will afford ample accomodations to winter affairs. In the summer as many as come can be cared for with tents. The local scout organizations of Calcasieu Parish doubtless will use the grounds frequently.

OIL AT SWEETLAKE

It is reliably reported that the Pure Oil Company has entered sand in its test at Sweetlake at a depth of around 4,500 feet and that the indications now are good for a producer in that section of country which will mean another oil field in the Lake Charles territory.

It is understood that casing will be set and a test made for production before any further drilling will be done, so well impressed is the management of the operations with the showing which has now been encountered.

The Yont-Lee Oil Company today started drilling on its last location in Hackberry Island, according to reports received in Lake Charles this afternoon. Considerable excitement prevails in oil circles over the prospect of a big field being brought in at Hackberry in the near future and those who keep posted in local developments, believe that there will be a tremendous scramble for leases and royalties in and near the island in a short time.

The drilling crew putting down Chas. G. Hooks' test in the southwestern part of Hackberry Island is said to have finished making mud and has resumed drilling. The test is reported to be down about 500 feet now.

FINE RAIN AT LAKESIDE

May 12--Friday was celebrated as school day, with 32 visitors present, two pupils absent, and 16 present. The teacher, Miss Lusk, gave the tests to the children and had on display various articles of their work. The advance made by the pupils was very marked indeed and the construction articles showed quite a bit of patience and skill and was very creditable to both teacher and pupils and the patrons were certainly pleased.

A community dinner was served and everybody brought their share and the trustees furnished quite a bit more with plenty of iced lemonade and bananas by the teacher. All the young folks voted for a weekly repetition.

Beach cleaned

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Over 150 people descended on the Creole area Saturday morning to clean up a five-mile stretch of Rutherford beach. They were employees and their families from the Lafayette division of Conoco Oil Company.

As a part of the statewide "Adopt A Beach" program, volunteers from the Lafayette division have agreed to clean up this beach twice a year.

The next scheduled cleanup will take place in September during the national Clean-Sweep program, and Conoco officials are looking forward to doubling or even tripling the number of their volunteers.

"Adopt A Beach" is a litter-control program designed to rid Louisiana's recreational beaches of debris and litter left behind by careless beach-goers or washed ashore from the Gulf.

"The purpose of the program is to encourage private citizens, environmental groups, civic organizations, and corporations to share responsibility for the stewardship of our beaches and waterways," says Frank Balke, Lafayette division manager.

"Conoco believes that it is the responsibility of every citizen, both corporate and individual, to do what is environmentally right, and we are extremely proud of our employees who volunteered."

Conoco officials set up a base camp at the beach from which red T-shirts with the Conoco name and an emblem of an umbrella shaded pelican walking down a clean beach on them, were passed out along with garbage bags and safety gloves.

The participants were ferried to the various spots on the beach by jeeps and the Cameron Parish Police Jury furnished front-end loaders to haul off logs and debris.

Some people brought 3 and 4 wheelers to traverse the beach hunting for the debris.

At noon, a picnic lunch furnished by Conoco, was served to all who helped with the cleanup.

Whole families joined in the effort, with the children even bringing along beach pails in which to stash beach shells they might happen to find during the operation.

At the close of the day it was found that over 1,000 large garbage bags were filled with the debris on this five mile stretch of sand beach.

Lower flood levels will be accepted for parish

JERRY WISE

A Cameron parish delegation came back with some good news from Washington, D. C. last week--a federal agency has conditionally accepted a parish flood study that may lower base building levels by three feet or more in Cameron parish and save property owners thousands of dollars in flood insurance premiums.

Garner Nunez, parish administrator, said that Dr. Brian R. Mrazik, chief of risk assessment for FEMA, the agency that administers the flood insurance program, stated in a public meeting attended by the parish delegation and Senator John Breaux that the building level would be lowered immediately by three feet if the parish data checked out. Later relief of as much as 7 feet could be forthcoming six months from now.

In addition, Nunez said, the FEMA official promised to refund the $500,000 that the parish has spent over the past five years on its study and to refund some of the premium money for the past year to parish property owners.

Nunez said that all of these relief measures for the parish were not in writing yet and were dependent on FEMA giving final approval to the parish's study, but that it appeared that this would go through.

He said that Mrazik told the Cameron group that FEMA would write the parish in two weeks and ask for any additional backup data needed and within 60 days an order giving administrative relief to the parish could be issued.

Nunez said that the biggest relief that the parish will receive will be the lowering of all base elevation requirements by across the board three feet.

For the town of Cameron, for example, the base building level now is 14 feet, with a present ground level of 5 feet, a difference that now requires a building to be elevated 9 feet. The 3 foot relief would lower the building level to 6 feet.

Six months or so later, Nunez stated, after new elevation maps are completed, some areas of the parish, such as Holly Beach, could receive a reduction of as much as seven feet.

Property owners also stand to receive a large rebate on their flood insurance, but only for the past year, Nunez stated. He cited the example of one property owner now paying $1100 a year for flood insurance who could receive as much as an $800 rebate.

Unfortuantely, the government will not rebate more than one year on the flood insurance, although Cameron parish property owners have been paying the wrong high rates for years.

Another big boost for the parish, Nunez stated, will be the refunding of the nearly $500,000 that the police jury has paid out on its study. Conducted by Dr. Joe Suhayda of LSU with the assistance of the parish engineer, the study has definitely shown that the federal government's figures on storm surges, ground elevations, etc. have been in serious error resulting in overly severe building regulations and very high insurance rates.

Nunez said that the FEMA official praised the parish for making the study and said that Cameron was the first county in the nation to provide the necessary information for revisions of the federal regulations.

In the future, the study is expected to save parish property owners at least $100,000 a year, Nunez stated. This is based on the estimate that the new flood maps will reduce the present $400,000 in annual premiums by a least 25 percent. Cameron parish is presently paying the highest flood insurance premiums in the state, he noted.

Members of the parish delegation to Washington included Nunez, Dr. Suhayda, Parish Engineer Lonnie Harper and Police Jurors Ray Conner, Kenneth Ducote and George LeBoeuf.

The group met with all of the members of the Louisiana Congressional delegation or their aides, with Congressman Jimmy Hayes making the necessary arrangements.

Parish officials also expresed their appreciation to the Cameron Chamber of Commerce, Cameron Lions Club and all other parish organizations and individuals who wrote letters, signed petitions and sent telegrams in support of the effort.

"It has been a long and expensive endeavor," Nunez commented, "but all of our efforts appear to be paying off for the long term benefit of Cameron parish citizens," Nunez commented.

Bill offered on cruise ships

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

An update on the cruise ship was given to the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce by Paul Coreil, president, at the monthly meeting last week at Pat's restaurant.

He said that two bills are being introduced in the legislature by a New Orleans senator regarding gambling on "Cruises to Nowhere".

He said that one of the specific parts of the bills relate to Cameron in which it says gambling will be allowed on ships leaving out of parishes populated with 20,000 people or less.

The bills are scheduled to come up on June 1, but if passed by the legislature will also have to be voted on in a parish election.

Several resolutions were acted on endorsing the wetlands program and another to be sent to Gov. Roemer protesting the proposed closing of McNeese University and the Agriculture and Engineering Departments.

The Chamber also agreed to host a "Town Meeting" by Rep. Randy Roach and Sen. Jack Doland on May 29, where they will explain legislation that is critical to Cameron Parish.

Coreil read a letter from Congressman John Breaux stating that the U. S. Corps of Engineers had changed their mind about fencing off the Cameron jetties at this time. He also stated that the Corps seems to be willing to cap the top of the jetties and there is a possibility they will be willing to turn it over to some agency that is willing to take charge of the liability in case someone is injured.

It was pointed out that the Cameron District Attorney had said that the Corps nor the Cameron Police Jury could not be sued for liability in such a case.

Mike Johnson, local manager of the Jefferson Davis Electric Co-op, told the Chamber that the electric company, in conjunction with Cajun Electric, is offering a good rate reduction to new businesses wanting to move into the parish.

Congressman Breaux sent a response to the inquiry by the Chamber on the status of the FEMA regulations in the parish.

Ed Kelley reported that he already has around 1800 signatures on petitions to be sent to FEMA.

The Chamber voted to participate in the Business Retention and Expansion program in which volunteers are to interview businesses to document their problems and comments in the community. Coreil said Cameron Parish will be the first parish in the state to participate and the findings would be documented in a book form.

The volunteers will receive training from L.S.U. before the work starts.

Coreil reported that the Chamber is eligible for a summer CETA worker and the Chamber is looking into establishing an office for the summer in Cameron.

Chasity Boudreaux, a 7th grade student at South Cameron Elementary School, was presented with a plaque by Coreil as the first place winner in a parishwide Educational Essay contest sponsored by the Cameron Parish Chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

She read her essay, "Cameron Parish and It's Future" to the Chamber.

Mosquitoes coming

Don Menard, director of the Cameron Parish Mosquito Control, reports that heavy rains and high tides last week flooded all major mosquito breeding grounds in the parish.

The larval surveys have turned up light to heavy infestations of mosquitoes throughout the parish, which means that heavy infestatins are expected, he said.

Depending on the species, their life cycle takes from 5 to 7 days to go from the hatched egg to the flying, biting adult.

"For this reason, we expect to see rapidly increasing levels in most areas for the next several days," Menard said.

"The entire parish is being checked on a daily basis and treatments will be scheduled according to the severity of the problem in each area, as mosquitoes migrate in from the surrounding breeding areas. Since some species easily fly 30 miles or more, reinfestation will occur in many areas, causing us to have to respray some areas several times before settles down.

"It must be noted that, due to E.P.A. label regulations and for safety reasons, we cannot spray in winds over 10 miles per hour, in low visibility such as fog or haze or in rain. These adverse weather conditions, unfortunately, often lengthen the time it takes us to treat all the areas.

"Spray requests are welcome, so if you are experiencing mosquito problems, please call our office at 775-5942."

Cameron Cattlemen given donation

The Cameron Parish Cattlemen Association received 1 percent of the gross amount paid for Cameron parish livestock sold at Miller Livestock Barnin DeQuincy on May 13. This was $1,959.51, which was donated by Jim Miller, owner.

Miller Livestock holds annual sales for Cameron, Vernon, Beauregard and Allen Parish Cattlemen Associations with the money going to help promote the cattle industry and sponsor 4-H and FFA programs.

Over the past ten years, Miller Livestock has donated over $50,000 to the cattlemen associations. Mr. Miller thanked everyone who participated in the annual sales.

Area just misses out on national finals

Lake Charles just narrowly missed being selected as the site for the 1990 National Little Britches Rodeo Championship Rodeo, according to Robert Penny of DeQuincy, who is a member of the board of directors for the national rodeo.

Penny said that Lake Charles, Colorado Springs, Colo., and Craig, Colo., had issued invitations for the national rodeo with the choice later being narrowed to Lake Charles and Craig.

In the voting in March on the selection, Lake Charles received 20 votes and Craig received 22 votes.

Penny said that the two deciding votes came from national directors who had not seen the Lake Charles video presentation showing the outstanding facilities offered for the rodeo by the Burton Coliseum.

"Had they seen it, I think Lake Charles would have gotten the rodeo," Penny stated, "but we will try again for 1991 and I think we will be succesful then."

This year's national Little Britches Rodeo will be held in Colorado Springs Aug. 19-26. Contestants may qualify for the nationals by placing twice in their event. Five of their best rodeos also will be counted for points to go to national.

Last year, about 60 contestants from Louisiana participated at the national level, with the national queen, national dogger and fourth national saddle bronc rider coming from this area.

A series of nationally approved Little Britches Rodeos, sponsored by Penny and Sons Rodeo Company, will be held as follows:

Penny's Arena east of DeQuincy--May 26 and 27, June 2 and 3, June 16 and 17, 7 p.m. nightly.

Bo Clark Arena, Starks--May 23 and 24, 7 p.m.

Twenty-two approved events will be featured. Admission is $3 for adults and $2 for children. There is a $10 entry fee for both junior and senior events. For more information call Sis Penny at 786-8142.

Penny & Sons Rodeo Company has been selected to send 15 bucking horses to this year's National Little Britches finals in Colorado Spring. They were one of four stock contractors selected. The company is owned by Robert Penny and his sons, all of DeQuincy.

LORRAINE DeJOHNETTE, Cameron Parish Senior Olympian, captured the state horseshoes title again this year. She was also a winner in 1987 in St. Louis. She participated in the games in Baton Rouge earlier this month.

Special Olympics

A number of participants from Cameron parish will be among the 92 Louisiana Special Olympians and 27 coaches who will attend the 1989 Louisiana Special Olympics Summer Games May 26-28, at Southeastern University in Hammond.

Approximately 2000 Special Olympians will be involved in the annual sports event. Athletes will compete in track and field, gymnastics, soccer, roller skating, tennis, cycling, and table tennis.

Opening ceremonies and parade of athletes will be Friday, May 26, at 7 p.m. in Strawberry Stadium.

Citizens invited to adopt elderly person

By DINAH B. VAUGHN,
Director
Cameron Council on Aging

The Cameron Council on Aging recently was forced to reduce the elderly feeding program by 50%. Over 80 senior citizens were dropped from the program due to a loss in funding.

We are seeking the help of individuals and organizations who might be able to sponsor or "adopt an elderly person", to assure that the person receives the services they so desperately need.

By adopting the elderly person, you or your group or organization will supply the funds to serve a meal to the senior citizen on a daily basis, you will know the person's name and information concerning their condition. We are hoping to form a relationship between the "adoptor" and the "adoptee". The program can be both rewarding and enjoyable.

Cost of adopting an elderly:

Meals: Monthly - $3.35 per day x 21 serving days = $70.35 per month, or $844.22 yearly, or $211.05 quarterly.

Transportation, homemaker, telephone assurance and other services may be adopted and the task performed by the adoptor. However services may be purchased.

Transportation - $3.50 in town and $5 out of town.

Escort services - $2.50 in town and $3.75 out of town.

Homemakers - $5.50 per hour.

Telephone Assurance - $3.35 per hour.

CAMERON BOARD PLANS SCHOOL HOUSE

Bids for the construction of two frame buildings and for an addition to a third building are to be opened June 12, by the executive committee of the Cameron Parish School Board.

A three-room building is to be erected in the Hackberry school district; a four-room building to be erected in the Grand Chenier school district; and a two-room addition built to the present building in the Grand Lake school district.

The committee is to meet in the courthouse at Cameron and open proposals, which are to be received by Thos. W. McCall, parish superintendent.

SWEETLAKE OIL EXPLORATION

At Sweetlake, the Pure Oil Company is making rapid progress on units No. 4 and No. 5 wells, with the No. 4 drilling around 2,000 feet, and the No. 5 drilling around 3,500 feet. Both of these wells are in the nature of wildcats, and an oil producer in either well would be quite an extension in the oil producing area of that new field. This company's No. 3 well, after making a sudden jump in its daily oil flow from around 150 barrels to 500 barrels, about ten days ago, is still holding up with a steady flow of 500 barrels per day. The No. 2 well is being rigged up to go on the pump and should be ready for pumping next week.

CAMERON HAS FIRST WOMAN JUSTICE OF THE PEACE

Grand Chenier, Cameron Parish, the richest agricultural section in the state, and one of the most hospitable, and cultured sections of Louisiana, claims the distinction of being the first in Louisiana to elect a woman justice of the peace.

Mrs. James Bonsal, young, educated, a devoted wife and mother is now saluted by all as Judge Bonsal.

Judge (Mrs.) Bonsal is very modest and retiring, but her neighbors say, "look out if you transgress the law, no mercy will be shown," for she was before her marriage a school teacher who knew how to make the boys and girls march the chalk line. Bernie Calvin was her name then until Jim Bonsal convinced her that his name sounded better and they were married in June, 1923. Then came Jimmy, Jr., a fine bright-eyed and mischevious boy of two years, who bosses the ranch, the judge included, and by the way he will be the best and only advocate before that court.

The judge taught school following her graduation as a teacher, in Jackson, her native parish; one year in Allen Parish, and thenone year in Cameron, and here she decided to stay; though there are no railroads, or other roads leading intothe parish, no telegraph, no telephone lines, there are, though, some of the best people on earth.

The people of Cameron Parish pride themselves on having good public officials. They select them for their worth, and they predict that Mrs. (Judge) Bonsal will make good the promise of womanhood and give the state one of its best officials.

Area shrimping opens June 5

By Loston McEvers

The opening of the brown shrimp season in Zone 1 of the state's inshore waters has been postponed until 6 a.m., Monday, June 5, according to the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Department.

Originally set to open May 22, it was delayed because state biologists say there are immature brown shrimp in the area.

Zone 1 is from the Mississippi state line westward to South Pass of the Mississippi River.

Zone 2, from Southwest Pass to the western shore of Vermilion Bay and Southwest Pass at Marsh Island, opened at 6 a.m. Monday, May 22.

Zone 3, which is the rest of the coast going west to the Texas state line, will open at 6 a.m. Monday, June 5.

TALK AROUND

* The Oyster task force met last Tuesday to review the current status of the oyster industry.

* The Louisiana Artificial Reef Initiative also had a meeting this week to discuss artificial reefs for our inshore lakes and bays, and water adjacent to our coast.

* The state's Advisory Panel on Wildlife and Fisheries Management met Friday, May 19, in Lafayette at the Holidome.

The panel was created by the 1988 Legislature "to review, evaluate and make recommendations to the Legislature of Louisiana regarding the appropriate roles of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries and the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission."

The eight-member panel includes representatives of the department, the commission, the Senate and House natural resources committees, and recreational and commercial user groups. Included on the panel are Bonner Butch Willis of cameron and Rep. Randy Roach.

* The Bassmasters Alabama Invitation tournament on Lake Guntersville was won by a Zwolle angler, Robet Byrd.

Prizes of $155,000 were in this big tournament.

Byrd, a fishing guide, won the tournament with a three day catch of 21 bass weighing in at 60 pounds and seven ounces. This is over a 2¾ pound average per fish. He won $33,000 in cash and prizes.

* With all the heavy rains and bad weather in our area, fishing has slowed down quite a bit. However, we did need more water in our marshes and this will surely help out as the summer months approach.

TOLEDO BEND NEWS

Fishing has been real good on the big lake this spring, both in bass and white perch.

With all this heavy rain they had to open the dam on Toledo as this was the highest it's ever been and flodding would have been bad.

Also, the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission has ratified a continuation of the special scuba gamefish season at Toledo Bend Reservoir, but has removed black bass from the list of gamefish that may be taken.

A new rule specifies crappies (white perch) and bream as the only game fish that may legally be taken by divers using underwater spearing equipment.

Parish's future is winning essay subject

Chasity Boudreaux was named the first place winner in the Cameron American Business Women Association parishwide education essay contest.

Chasity is the daughter of Debra and the late Pierre Boudreaux of Creole and is a 7th grade student at South Cameron Elementary School.

Her essay was on "Cameron Parish and Its Future" and outlined her suggestions on how the parish can best utilize its assets in improving its economy.

Her entry won over 30 other entries in the contest and she read her entry at the monthly meeting at the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce, where she was presented with a plaque by Paul Coreil, Chamber president.

Here is her essay:

CAMERON PARISH AND ITS FUTURE

With the declining economy of southwest Louisiana we have to find ways to improve and promote tourism to this section of the state. One way of promoting tourism is through advertisement of the area and activities in that area. We need to advertise not just locally but statewide and to neighboring states, such as Texas.

Along with advertisement, we need to set up some type of museum and tourist information center allowing tourists to be aware of the activities of the parish. Also, this center would enable tourists to learn more about the culture and industries of Cameron Parish.

We also need activities to draw the public to this area. Activities such as festivals or celebrations are a big help in promoting the area. More fishing tournaments or rodeos such as Fish Fest, through the year would help to draw more attention to this area during the vacation.

Another way of improving tourism is by improving on attractions already here. One attraction to this area is the beach, such as Holly Beach. Building some type of amusement center and camping area would greatly enhance the activities to do while spending a day in Cameron Parish.

Lions hold a highway cleanup

The Cameron Lions Club held a clean-up day Saturday on the section of Highway 27-82 which the club has adopted under the state Adopt-A-Road program.

Members picked up 40 garbage bags of trash from their section, which includes the town of Cameron with the Beach road on the east to the ship channel.

Mrs. Nunez cuts ribbon to open phone office

By Geneva Griffith

Mrs. Camelia Nunez, 89 year old resident of Creole, cut the ribbon at the opening of the Cameron Telephone Company's Creole office and open house last week.

The open house was to showcase newly installed digital equipment in the local area.

Mrs. Nunez is the oldest telephone cutomer in Creole, and had one of the first two telephones installed in Creole, one at the Nunez Grocery store and one at Landry's cafe.

It was pointed out that she and her husband, the late Edras Nunez, used to deliver all sorts of messages, both good and bad, to people in the Creole area at all hours of the day or night because this was the only means of telephone connection.

Mrs. Nunez is still active in community civic and religious organizations and lives in the center of Creole, adjacent to the family-run grocery store.

A special guest was Al Worley, reopresenting the office of the Louisiana Public Service Commission.

Complete information on the contest is to be found in the ad elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot or by calling Evelyn Hay, 775-7884 or Carla Richard, 775-5826.

Galucoma unit to be in Cameron Thursday

The Lions Mobile Glaucoma Screening Unit will make its annual visit to Cameron Thursday, May 31 under the sponsorship of the Cameron Lions Club.

Tests for Glaucoma will be given free of charge from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the unit which will be parked at the Wakefield Methodist church.

Glaucoma is a symptonless disease in its early stages, but one whose progress toward blindness can be halted through early detection and treatment. It is especially prevalent among adults.

Staffing the unit will be local Lions volunteers headed by Ed Kelley, chairman, and Dr. Don Ellender, O.D. of the Louisiana State Association fo Optometrists.

No appointments are necessary for the test, which takes only a few minutes and is painless. In the test an instrument is used to record the fluid pressure in the eye. Elevated pressure might mean Glaucoma, or it might mean something else. Persons with elevated pressure are referred to doctors for a complete eye examination.

The Cameron Lions Club announced that screening tests for visual acuity also will be given if time permits.

"Considering how serious Glaucoma can be if it is not detected in its early stages, this is a rare opportunity to safeguard your eyesight", said Dr. Raymond Leidig, club president.

Cowbelles to honor fathers

The Cameron Parish Cowbelles will celebrate their "Beef for Father's Day" project by honoring the members' husbands at a covered dish supper Wednesday night, June 7 at 7 p.m. at the Creole Fire Station.

Each club member is to bring a dish and the club will furnish the beef for the supper.

Health Fair scheduled

The Cameron Council on Aging is sponsoring a Health Fair Tuesday, May 30, in Hackberry and May 31, in Cameron. The fair in Hackberry will be from 9 a.m. - 12 noon at the Hackberry Nutrition Site and from 10 a.m. - 3 p.m. in Cameron at the Methodist Church. The fair will consist of blood pressure checks, height and weight checks, blood sugar tests, hearing tests and glaucoma testing in Cameron only. All senior citizens are invited to attend. Tests are free of charge. Fasting is necessary for blood sugar tests.

RESOLUTION
WHEREAS, the Teachers' Retirement System of Louisiana is one of the best incentives for teaching in Louisiana; and
WHEREAS, the retirement system of any group is of serious concern to that group; and
WHEREAS, Amendment III of the state constitution was adopted by the 1987 regular session of the Louisiana Legislature by Act 947 and was approved by the people of this state; and
WHEREAS, this Amendment calls for the funding of the Teachers' Retirement System's unfunded liability by the state; and

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Cameron Parish School Board solicit the support of Governor Roemer and members of our legislative delegation to initiate legislation which will repeal the mandates of Act 81 and support the original intent of Amendment III of the Louisiana Constitution, which was to fund the unfunded liability funded by the state treasury; now

Open house held at Hackberry

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

An open house of the Hackberry branch of the Cameron Telephone Company was held last week. Dennis Arnold, plant manager, opened the ceremony.

John Henning, vice-president, welcomed the residents of Hackberry, and Raymond Henagan, company manager, presented a fruit basket to three sisters, Mrs. Sadie Little, Mrs. Susie Strahan and Mrs. Alice Reeves, who had all been telephone operators for the company.

In the early 1930's Susie Strahan was the third operator to be hired in the Hackberry area. She worked the switchboard around the clock, on call 24 hours by herself until she talked her sister, Sadie Little, into coming to work as a relief operator.

Mr. Henagan presented Mrs. Sadie Little with an engraved pen in appreciation for all she has done for the company over the years. She still collects telephone payments at Sadie's Dry Goods Store in Hackberry.

She was the honored guest who cut the ribbon for the Hackberry open house, celebrating the new central office equipment.

Comany employees attending and helping with the ceremony were: John Henning, Raymond Henagan, Dennis Arnold, Mike LeJeune, Ron Darnutze, Butch Silver, Charlotte Seay, Faye Kyson, Marcie Graham, Lonnie Lormand, Brent Clement, Tammy Nester, and Joe Whitbeck.

Al Worley from the office of the Louisiana Public Service Commission was a special guest.

Rebecca Theriot

Theriot gets the Burton Scholarship

Rebecca Melica Theriot has received the William T. and Ethel Lewis Burton Foundation Scholarship for 1989 at South Cameron High School. Presenting the scholarship was Yvonne Mhire, manager of the Cameron branch of Calcasieu Marine National Bank. The Burton Foundation award is worth up to $4,000 during four years of higher education.

Miss Theriot plans to attend McNeese State University and enter the field of education. She is ranked first in her class of 50, with a perfect grade point average of 4.0. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hugh Theriot of Grand Chenier.

Miss Theriot served her class as treasurer for all four year of high school. At district literary rally, she has won second place in English II, fifth in chemistry and fourth in trigonometry. At South Cameron High, she was named outstanding student in typing, geometry and English II.

Meeting off

The monthly claims meeting of the Cameron Parish Police Jury, originally set for this Thursday evening, has been cancelled since a number of the jurors will be in Baton Rouge that day.

The jurors will have a legislative briefing from the Police Jury Association and also will meet with Rep. Randy Roach. They also plan to attend a Wildlife and Fisheries Commission meeting that will be dealing with matters affecting Cameron parish.

The Jury's regular monthly meeting will be held Tuesday, June 6.

Baptist Home

As churches in Calcasieu, Cameron and Beauregard parishes observe Louisiana Baptist Children's Home Sunday June 11, they will use the theme "90 Years of Restoring Young Lives."

On the calendar of activities for Baptist churches throughout the state, Children's Home Sunday falls on Children's Day, U.S.A., just one week prior to Father's Day. It comes during the annual emphasis on Christian homes.

Cr e ship bill slated for later

Although a bill to create a super commission to regulate gambling in Louisiana was rejected by the Louisiana House Tueday by a 72-28 vote, two bills that would permit a cruise ship with a casino on board to sail out of Cameron are still alive.

Amendments to permit cruise ships to operate out of Cameron were attached to two bills introduced by a New Orleans legislator that would permit gambling on cruise ships operating out of New Orleans.

The amendments were offered by Rep. Randy Roach.

Myrna Conner, Cameron parish legislative assistant to Rep. Roach, said that due to the fact that the present legislative session has been shortened, the two bills have been pulled off the calendar and will be reoffered at the special session that will begin June 11 and 12.

It is expected that the two bills will be offered at the same time as bills setting up a state lottery.

House bills 1304 and 1305 would allow cruise ships leaving the docks at New Orleans to open their casinos while still in the Mississippi river without waiting to get outside of territorial waters.

Roach's amendments would allow a cruise ship to operate out of Cameron, but the ship would have to be out of territorial waters before the casino was opened.

In addition, Roach's bill would require that a referendum be held in Cameron parish on whether such a ship could operate here.

Several months ago Holiday Cruises, headed by Gary Carr of Pearland, Tex., announced they would operate such a ship out of Cameron if the law permitted them to do so. However, District Judge Ward Fontenot later ruled that state law does not presently permit the ship to operate.

Roach's bill, if passed and approved by the voters here, would make such operations legal.

In the meantime, Carr and his associates have taken their cruise ship to Florida where it is legal. However, Carr has indicated that they will return the ship to Cameron if the present legislation is passed.

Several hundred persons applied for jobs on the cruise ship when applications were taken recently, and many persons in the parish, including the Chamber of Commerce, are supporting it as a means of getting more jobs in the parish.

In the meantime, a cruise ship bill has been passed by the Texas Legislature and is expected to permit such ships to operate out of Galveston and Corpus Christi. These operations are not expected to have any effect on the proposed Cameron operation.

Since 1953 tropical storms and hurricanes have been given names as this reduces the confusion when exchanging information about the storm, especially when two storms are occurring during the same time period. Men's names were included in the list for the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico tropical storms and hurricanes in 1979. If a hurricane becomes strong and causes significant damage, that name is retired from the list and will not be used again, such as Audrey and Camille.

List of Tropical Storm and Hurricane Names for 1989: Allison, Barry, Chantal, Dean, Erin, Felix, Gabrielle, Hugo, Iris, Jerry, Karen, Luis, Marilyn, Noel, Opal, Pablo, Roxanne Sebastien, Tanya, Van, Wendy.

Hayes aids with FEMA matter

According to Cameron Parish officials, development in the parish has virtually come to a stop due to regulations imposed by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). In light of the problems surrounding development in Cameron Parish, U. S. Rep. Jimmy Hayes held a meeting last week with members of the Cameron Parish Police Jury and FEMA officials to discuss problems in the current data used to determine flood zone levels.

Inconsistencies in maps provided by FEMA and actual flooding of areas prompted parish residents to make inquiries and complaints to the parish police jury.

"The continuing and persistent complaints about actual flooding, the cost of insurance premiums and high building expenses, police jury members felt the issue should be looked into.

Cameron Parish Engineer, Lonnie Harper, along with Dr. Joseph Suhayda from the Department of Civil Engineering at Louisiana State University researched and compiled new data, which did not coincide with existing data. Upon the findings of Harper and Suhayda police jury officials contacted FEMA to discuss possible re-evaluation of the flood zone areas.

Hayes' office was provided with information from the police jury and arranged a meeting in Washington which was attended by the Congressman, Senator John Breaux, FEMA officials, Cameorn Parish Police jury members and congressional staff to discuss the possibility of FEMA reassessing the Cameorn Parish flood zone results.

After hours of discussion, FEMA officials realized that previous data that had been provided for computer analysis was not accurate. FEMA has agreed to re-evaluate the terms of the cameron Parish regulations and hope to provide a more accurate account of the flood risk areas. If the information provided by Harper and Suhayda is accurate it appears as if flood levels could be reduced.

"I'm pleased that FEMA oficials have been so cooperative in deciding to reassess previous information used in determining these high risk areas. The new findings could greatly affect the residents and businesses of Cameron by reducing the cost of their yearly insurance premiums and allowing new development to begin," Hayes said.

FEMA officials have stated that the final review will take approximately ten weeks to complete. If successful, Cameron Parish will then be eligible for administrative relief to help defray cost to reprint maps and initiate the new program.

Census jobs open here

The U. S. Census Bureau has issued another call for additional Cameron residents to apply for temporary jobs still open.

Workers will compile a list of addresses in Cameron Parish for use during the national 1990 Census.

Census work in the parish will last between two and eight weeks for most workers. They will receive $5.50 an hour plus mileage for any official use of a private vehicle.

Applicants for the temporary positions must be 18 years old or over, a U. S. citizen, and take a written test.

The work consists of driving or walking in designated areas of the parish to prepare a list of dwelling unit addresses. The collected addresses will be combined to build a nationwide automated address file that will be a key to a complete census.

Persons interested may apply at the Cameron Elementary School Thursday, June 1, at 1 p.m.

Unit closed

Sabine National Wildlife Refuge announces that the East Cove marsh unit (north of the town of Cameron) is closed until July 15.

The water control structures, or weirs, are off limits, as well as a 250 foot dead space up to the weirs.

There is no entrance from adjacent or public lands to the refuge. Signs to this effect are to be posted soon.

Hurricane season

The National Weather Service (NWS)and the State of Louisiana have designated the week of May 29 through June 2, 1989 as Hurricane Awareness Week in Louisiana. The Hurricane Season officially begins on June 1, and lasts through November 30.

The state of Louisiana with nearly 400 miles of coastline and a broad, populated coastal plain is very vulnerable to the destructive winds and storm surge associated with a land falling hurricane.

The hurricane season of 1988 was active, with a total of six tropical storms and five hurricanes. One of those hurricanes, Gilbert, will long be remembered as one of the greatest hurricanes of the Atlantic, Caribbean and Gulf of Mexico. 318 persons lost their lives and property damage exceeded five billion dollars when Hurricane Gilbert churned its way through the Caribbean and southern Gulf of Mexico before entering northeast Mexico. Fortunately, the state of Louisiana was only on the outer fringes of this dangerous hurricane and only experienced high tides along the coast.

One tropical storm and one hurricane directly affected Louisiana during 1988. Tropical Storm Beryl developed over Lake Ponchartrain and Lake Borgne on Aug. 8, then meandered around the Mississippi Sound before moving inland near New Orleans on Aug. 10.

Hurricane Florence, a minimal hurricane, developed in the southern Gulf of Mexico, then moved northward across the Mississippi River delta and the New Orleans area during the early morning hours of Sept. 9. In both cases, only minor property damage and minor coastal flooding was reported.

If the National Weather Service can be of assistance in hurricane preparedness efforts, or for further information, please contact the National Weather Service Office in your area: Lake Charles -- 318-477-5285.

CLIMATOLOGY

Climatological records from 1944 through the present show that on average ten tropical weather systems over the Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico, and Caribbean will become tropical storms. Of those ten tropical storms, six will intensify into hurricanes. In the last 50 years, the total number of hurricanes and tropical storms have varied greatly, from as high as 18 in the 1969 season to only 4 in the 1983 season. Louisiana has experienced 23 direct hits from hurricanes since 1899, and 11 of these have been major hurricanes (Category 3, 4, 5).

The greatest hurricane threat for Louisiana is typically during August and September, but destructive hurricanes have occurred as early as mid June, such as Audrey in 1957, and as late as the end of October,such as Juan in 1985.

Whether the 1989 hurricane season is active or inactive, it only takes one land falling hurrcane to cause significant loss of life. For instance, there were only three hurricanes in 1957, however, one of those hurricanes, Audrey, struck southwest Lousiana in June killing over 350 persons. For this reason, Louisiana residents living in hurricane prone areas should be prepared for the upcoming hurricane season. This could be the year a destructive hurricane strikes our state.

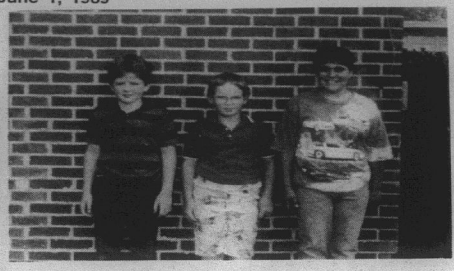
Demonstration given club on solar screens

When the Creole Extension Homemakers Club held its May meeting in the home of Mrs. Mayola Wicke, members saw a demonstration given by assistant home economist, Nancy Cronan.

Mrs. Cronan's demonstration was on "Do It Yourself Solar Screens." She first talked about "Sun Control Strategy for the Home," detailing the seven different devices that can be used on the home to block out the sun. She then demonstrated how to make a solar screen by using a frame, a measured piece of screen, and the spline to fit the frame.



The July 13, council workshop to be held at the Muria Multipurpose Building beginning at 10 a.m., was discussed. Planned for the morning session is the holding of the July Council meeting followed by the making of various articles for the upcoming celebration of the Council's 50th anniversary. A covered dish lunch will be served. In the afternoon there will be a T-shirt decorating workshop.

Mrs. Estelle Theriot reported on the Cameron Parish celebration of the 75th anniversary of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service which she had attended May 8, at the Extension office in Cameron. Pictures of past events that took place in extension work were displayed, and Paul Coreil, assistant county agent, gave a brief talk on Extension work. Several presentations were made to the two county agents, Gary Wicke and Coreil and to assistant home economist, Cronan. Refreshments were served.

Outdoor bills are offered

HOUSE BILLS AND THEIR EFFECT

As most of you know, our legislators have been in session and here are a few of the bills that have caught my eye.

* Provides for a 3000 metric ton quota for taking bait gulf menhaden during closed menhaden season, until December 1. If the quota is not reached, the bait menhaden season will resume April 1, until the quota is reached.

* Set a $5 tag fee for each farm-raised alligator.

* Create the La. Alligator Hide and Meat Processing Authority. Allows for financing, contracts, and leases with private industry for construction, operation, maintenance and management and use of alligator hide and meat processing plants.

*-Requires crab traps be equipped with two 3-inch escape vents or rings.

*Prohibits pulling more than one trawl, plus a test trawl in inside waters.

* Provides for penalties of crab trap theft. (This I know would make our local crab fishermen happy).

*Requires written notice or reasons for the setting of shrimp seasons and a hearing in each zone. (This Bill was introduced by Rep. Randy Roach.)

* Remove spotted sea trout (speckle trout) from commercial fish. (This means making speckle trout a sports fish, so I guess the fight's on again between recreational and commercial fishermen).

* Provides for the definition of "butterfly nets". (This has been a real big thing talked about. Shrimpers claim as long as we have butterfly nets, shrimp catches will be down for the boats. The reason is there are so many butterfly nets and the shrimp and even fish killed are greater than realized. We are talking about undersize shrimp released that die or are already dead.

*Provides that captains or owners of boats are liable for fishing violations.

* Try to delay the TED on shrimp trawls.

Here are just a few of the commercial Bills brought up and the following are some of the sports or recreational Bills brought up.

* Set a $15 recreational gear fee for the use of bait trawls for shrimp.

* Create a recreational gear license for a group of no more than 4 persons. Sets a $40 fee for and provides that each person's name shall be listed on the license.

* Provides for tests and the taking of samples related to the operation of a boat or watercraft while under the influence of alcohol or drugs. (This would be for both commercial, recreational, fishermen and all who operate a motor vessel.)

* Fishermen must purchase a recreational fishing license to take or possess fish or bait in state waters.

* Allows the landing of fish taken outside of stat ewaters.

* Establishes fee for temporary saltwater fishing licenses.

* Requires license fee for residents age 60 and older and no license fee for nonresidents under 16. (This one takes the cake. Our senior citizens, who have been our backbone to our state, have to pay, but let an out of state person come in and fish for free.)

* Prohibits obstructing of fish in streams with trawls or butterfly nets.

* Provides that a receational fisherman possessing a basic recreational fishing license is not required to obtain a gear license for the recreational use of a trawl ten feet or less in length.

* Allows federal agents to be able to issue a citation for state laws broken.

* Allows on-board vessel, fileting of saltwater finfish recreationally as long as the skin is on the filet. Minimum size filet on redfish at 11 inches and speckle trout at 8 inches.

WETLAND PRESERVATION

As most of you are aware, the Louisiana coast is losing about 50 square miles of land a year. I saw a sketch and in the next 50 years there will be no Cameron parish, except what's up against Calcasieu parish.

Sen. Bennett Johnston is Chairman of Natural Resources and he is working hard to try and stop this serious problem, as our wetlands are in danger, as well as our homes and businesses, and all of our fishing inland.

He along with his other members of the delegation are trying several approaches to provide funding necessary to help stop the loss of our wetlands and coastal areas.

At a recent hearing in Washington D. C., things were a little on the mixed side. They're trying to determine the extent to which they consider coastal marshes of Louisiana as part of the wetlands.

Just dry and cut a ditch or build a levee and the Corps of Engineer or environmentalists will tell you wetlands begin off our ridges, but to try and stop soil or coast line erosion, they have to make a study. I bet when the coast line reaches the steps of the White House, they'll stop their study.

Senator Johnston sees it like budget balancing they just went through. It is balanced but it is not balanced. The question is what does "no loss" mean?

They admit they have seen the loss and have addressed the problems to groups through the years, so now they are going to put a task force which will be getting together all the environmental agencies and different governmental agencies that would be looking at the wetland loss.

As I get it they're just starting now, which I think they're ten years late.

As Sen. Johnston says, the group is starting to put it together now, and that's unacceptable to the people of Louisiana to say we are starting to study the situation, what we want is action.

I got to say our legislature and Senators from Louisiana who are in Washington are trying to help us out.

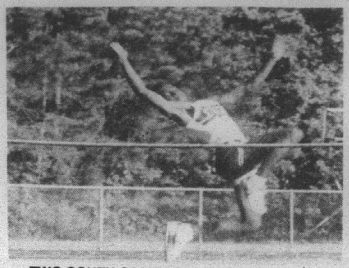
COMMISSION MEETS

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission will meet today for a pretty good, maybe hot, meeting.

Some of the things on the agenda are the waterfowl outlook, report of alligator task force, (we should find out how much each alligator tag will cost) and probably the hot issue is the wanting to merge the Fur and Refuge Division (Rockefeller Refuge) with the Game Division.

The Fur and Refuge Division is working for commercial things, such as alligator, trapping, etc. The Game Division is more or less working with the public by waiting to buy or lease more land, set things up for squirrel and deer hunters, etc.

The budgets are probably close to the same in both divisions, but the Fur and Refuge Division probably has only ten biologists to the Game division's over 30. Employees in the Fur and Refuge, like 70 to probably 128 in the Game Division. The Fur and Refuge Division operates with speciality equipment such as tug boats, barges, draglines and cranes, marsh buggies, marsh buggy dragline, air boats, etc., while the Game Division probably can take care of their needs with just a few tractors and four wheelers.



What I really see is the Rockefeller money would surely help out the Game Division and that would probably push Rockefeller Refuge to maybe just ten or so employees.

I sure hope our Commissioners leave both divisions separate or our trappers will surely see the effects for the worst.

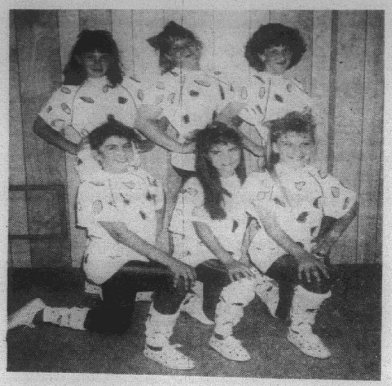
Camp Fire camp to open for summer camping

Camp Wi-Ta-Wentin opens its summer season of camping June 19, in keeping with a long tradition of camping by Camp Fire.

Throughout the organization's 79-year history, outdoor activities have been a part of the camping experience. Camp Fire campers are taught how to take care of their environment, how to prepare meals outdoors and how to safely enjoy a camping experience. Both resident and day camping are offered to Camp Fire members and non-members.



Day Camp is for youth from first through sixth grades; resident camp, for boys and girls fourth through 12th grades. Day Camp has a new feature this year, an optional overnight on Thursday.

This will give the day camper a taste of the fun ahead of them at resident camp. Day Camp is from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m and the sessions are June 19-23, July 10-24, and July 31-Aug. 4. Transportation is provided for a nominal fee. There will be hiking, games, archery, arts and crafts, swimming, horseback riding and canoeing.

Resident camp will be held June 25-30; July 16-21; and July 23-28. Resident campers have a variety of activities including old favorites like swimming, horseback riding, canoeing and outdoor cooking; as well as many challenging and stimulating new events such as a dinosaur egg hunts, jungle breakfasts, orienteering and more.

Campers who choose to attend Resident Camp Extended session, in addition to all of the regularly scheduled resident camp activities, will be treated to an overnight canoe trip down the Calcasieu River beginning Saturday morning after breakfast.

For more information concerning camp summer programs, please call the Camp Fire Program Center (478-6550) or write for a brochure, 2126 Oak Park Blvd., Lake Charles, La. 70601.

MUSINGS . . .

By Bernice Denny

The value of a dollar is relative. It depends upon the individual, the place, and the time. Nearly all of us will agree that in our inflationary present the value of our "good old American dollar" shrinks with every washing of exchange.

Since we have little control over the place and the time our only recourse in handling our money lies within ourselves. And then, no matter how carefully we budget, we have difficulty in balancing dollars that go out with dollars that come in.

No matter how carefully one plans, the unexpected is likely to happen at any moment and is sure to occur in the long run. Accident or illness springs forth without warning. The car breaks down. Household equipment wears out. Jobs change. Lay-offs occur.

Although one can never be fully prepared for emergencies, one should consistently add to a savings fund, buy wisely, carry insurance consistent with one's salary and needs, and refrain from excessive purchasing on credit. In the possession of a novice that little plastic credit card may spell temptation with a capital "T".

Our state is feeling the impact of overspending. The very life of our educational facilities and hospitals is in jeopardy. Our roads are pot-holing beneath the millions of wheels that traverse them daily.

Our federal government talks of "balancing the budget." Talk, it seems, is about the only cheap commodity found within the halls of Congress. We have minute control over government spending, but we are the master of our own.

We need to remind ourselves that money has a moral as well as a legal stamp.

It was Thomas Starr King, an American who died during the last year of the Civil War, who said, "It (our money) is coined over again in an inward mint. The use we put to it, the spirit in which we spend it, give it a character which is plainly perceptible to the eye of God."

Rev. Jacobs to observe his 25th anniversary

The Rev. Sam Jacobs, director of the Office of Vocations for the Diocese of Lake Charles, will celebrate the 25th anniversary of his ordination to the Catholic priesthood on Sunday, June 11.

Major event in the observance will be the celebration of a Mass of Thanksgiving at 2 p.m., in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception. Father Jacobs himself will celebrate the Mass, and Bishop Jude Speyrer will preside.

A reception in honor of Father Jacobs will be held immediately after the Mass in the Diocesan Chancery at 414 Iris Street.

Father Jacobs is the son of the late Galip and Mrs. Jacobs. He was born in Mississippi but grew up in Lake Charles as a member of Immaculate Conception Parish, where he was baptized, received the Holy Eucharist for the first time, and was confirmed.

After attending public schools and Landry High School in Lake Charles, Father Jacobs entered Immaculate Seminary in Lafayette, from which he was graduated in 1957. He earned bachelor and master degrees in philosophy and a master degree in education administration from the Catholic University of America in Washington, D. C.

He was ordained on June 6, 1964 in Lafayette's Cathedral of St. John by Bishop Warren L. Boudreaux, and celebrated his first Mass on June 7, in Immaculate Conception Church in Lake Charles.

His first assignment was an associate pastor of St. Joseph Parish in Rayne, where he remained until 1970. Then he was appointed pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish in Lake Charles, and Catholic chaplain of students at McNeese State University. In 1981 he was appointed pastor of St. Mary of the Lake Parish in Big Lake, where he remained until 1985, when he was appointed to his present post as director of the Office of Vocations and Seminarians for the diocese.

He has also been the director of the diocesan television and radio outreach programs since 1981.

He is currently serving as the chaplain of the Serra Club of Lake Charles and is a member of Calcasieu Council 1207 of the Knights of Columbus.

CAMERON MILK

The representative of the Lake Charles Creamery has recently been to Grand Chenier to arrange with the people of this section to ship milk and butter fat to their plant in Lake Charles.

The creamery is paying the producers forty-two cents per pound for butter fat and much is expected to be shipped in increasing amounts during the future. Only a few people are now making an effort to supply the Lake Charles plant with their milk, but the number interested is gradually increasing until it appears that a large part of their supply might come from Grand Chenier and its vicinity in future years. Cream separaters are being bought by more and more people in this section each week.

As the present conditions now stand there are only a few farms that are producing milk and butter fat on a large scale, but with the outlook for a better price and a new source of income in the dairy business, many of the farmers will increase their herds of milch cows.

Many of the natives have hundreds of heads of cattle on the ranges now, but few are being used for milk, however, it will be only a small matter to bring more cows into the business, for with the prospects that Grand Chenier now has, it ought to be a great milk producing section in a few years. With several large towns and cities just a few miles to the north of the island, there will be a greater need for more milk.

The milk that is to be bought by the Lake Charles Creamery will be shipped to Lake Arthur, where it will be weighed and tested for percentage of butter fat, then prepared for the market and shipped to Lake Charles.

A WORD OF THANKS . . .

I sit with pen in hand, and I am finding it hard to find the right words to express how I feel. Many events have occurred in the life of a very special young woman who has touched the people she has met in a special way. This special young woman is my daughter, Carla. Carla is fighting a hard battle with a foe we have all met somewhere in our families, Cancer.

Through the efforts of many friends and loved ones this battle has been made easier. One of the greatest gifts given to Carla has been the generosity shown during the benefit given on her behalf. Somehow THANK YOU is not enough. My heart is full of love and gratitude to all of you who helped make this possible.

Also a special thanks to the committee that worked so hard to put the benefit together. Carla is very special to many and now those of you who helped and supported her through this battle are special to her and her family. We thank God for Carla, now we thank God for beautiful, generous people like you.

Sincerely Yours,
Lonnie Primeaux

Softball team plants oyster grass on river

The Cameron Telephone Tarpons (18 and under) softball team recently planted approximately 3,000 linear feet of oyster grass in Cameron at various spots along the Calcasieu river.

The erosion control project is to make use of a salt water grass taken from a fresh water area, which is readily available. The sodded grass helps prevent bank erosion.

When the oyster grass cover is established it will also help provide for the esturine food chain.

This public service project by the softball team was to raise money to go to state and national softball playoffs. They had 15 sponsors at $50 a sponsor from throughout the community. They raised $750 for this project through their sponsors.

Sabine Refuge was in charge of the project, which is one of the many carried on by the refuge using donated help by organizations.

Advisory panel to meet Friday in B. Rouge

The state's advisory Panel on Wildlife and Fisheries Management will meet at 1 p.m. Friday, June 2, at the Wildife and Fisheries office in Baton Rouge.

The panel was created by the 1988 Legislature "to review, evaluate and make recommendations to the Legislature of Louisiana regarding the appropriate roles of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries and the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission."

The Legislature noted that the commission is a policy-making and budgetary-control board.

The eight-member panel includes Department Secretary Virginia VanSickle, Baton Rouge; Commission Chariman Don Hines, Bunkie; Sen. Ben Bagert, New Orleans; Rep. Randy Roach, Lake Charles; Jane Black, Galliano, Organization of Louisiana Fishermen; Randy Lanctot, Baton Rouge, Louisiana Wildlife Federation; William Shaddock, Lake Charles; and Bonner Butch Willis, Cameron.

GRAND CHENIER Elementary held a Grandparents Day on Wednesday, May 17, in the kindergarten class. Grandparents ate lunch with their grandchildren and attended a party in which certificates were presented to certain ones accoring to age, years of marriage, number of grandchildren and miles traveled.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT

Special session items

By REP. RANDY ROACH

I want to thank you for your support during the fiscal reform effort. I believe that Southwest Louisiana demonstrated once again that it has obtained a high level of political maturity and understanding and is ready to begin the process of building a new Louisiana.

I know that many of you are upset and concerned about the budget submitted to the Appropriations Committee by Governor Roemer on May 15. In order to balance the budget, the administration had to recommend $702,000,000 in cuts. I strongly disagree with the manner in which the budget process was handled after the defeat of the fiscal reform package.

I, along with several other members of the Senate and the House argued for an immediate end to the Regular Session so that we could begin a Special Session to deal with these problems. Although a majority of the Senate agreed with this proposal, a majority of the House did not. As a result the Regular Session will probably continue until around June 11, at which time we will adjourn and immediately go into Special Session.

SALES TAX EXPECTED

The budget recommended by the administration requires that the Legislature find the means to generate approximately $400,000,000 in revenue. In all probability this will be done primarily by imposing a permanent two cent sales tax on food, drugs, and utilities, the imposition of a tax on interstate and intrastate telecommunications, an increase in tobacco/wine taxes, an increase in the price of oil to somewhere between $16 and $17 per barrel and some modification of the exemptions which are currently allowed on personal income tax returns. These proposals will require a 2/3 majority vote of both the House and the Senate. They will not require voter approval.

In the Special Session we will undoubtedly see a lottery proposal with funds dedicated for a specific purpose, a separate constitutional amendment which provides for the "non-tax" budgetary reform measures which were part of the fiscal reform package, and an increase in the license tag fee from $3 per vehicle to $1 per $1,000 of value with the rates in the construction.

The coastal erosion protection fund will also be proposed either independently or as part of one of the other constitutional amendments. These amendments will be voted on separately.

FLOOD INSURANCE RELIEF

On behalf of the state, our full support is given to all of the Cameron Parish Police Jurors and the Parish Administration Office for their efforts towards changing FEMA Flood Regulations for Cameron Parish. The recent trip to Washington D. C. proved to be very productive having the federal agency conditionally accepting a parish flood study. They may lower base building levels by 3 feet or more for Cameron Parish and save property owners thousands of dollars in flood insurance premiums.

The report conducted by Dr. Joe Suhsyda with the assistance of the Parish Engineer, Lonnie Harper, has definitely been an asset to the parish. I congratulate the Parish in being the first parish in the nation to provide the necessary information for revisions of the federal regulations.

McNEESE NOT CLOSING

Please let me emphasize that McNeese University will not be closed. The Legislature will adopt a permanent revnue plan to bring stability to the revenue base so that we can avoid the "roller coaster" approach to the state budget process. However, this piecemeal approach to fiscal reform will not have the immediate economic impact that the previous reform measures would have had if they had been approved on April 29.

I would like very much to hear from you regarding your thoughts and feelings on the revenue and reform measures outlined above.

A kangaroo cannot jump if its tail is lifted off the ground. It needs its tail for pushing off.

PROCEEDINGS
DISTRICT NO. 9
MAY 10 1989

The Cameron Parish Recreation District No. 9 met in special session on Wednesday, May 10, 1989, at 6:00 o'clock P.M. at the Cameron Parish District No. 9 Recreation Center in the Village of Grand Chenier, Louisiana. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Paul Coreil.

The following members were present: Mr. Robbie Dale Mhire, Mr. Mark Theriot, Mr. Carol Wainwright, Mr. Paul Coreil, Mr. Darrell East, Mrs. Emma Nunez, and Mrs. Coral C. Perry. Absent: None.

A prayer was led by Mrs. Emma Nunez.

The minutes from the previous meeting were read by Mr. East and approved by the Board.

It was moved by Mrs. Perry and seconded by Mr. Wainwright that Greg Fawvor would be hired as the board's certified bookkeeper.

Mr. Fawvor gave a report on Flood Insurance Coverage.

Mr. Coreil reported that, concerning repairs on the Grand Chenier Recreation Center Pool, an estimate was received from Thibodeaux Pool Co. for $7,650.00. He also said that Pelican Pool Co., without looking at the pool, had given an estimate of $3250.00.

It was agreed by the board that More Pool Co. would also be asked to give a clean up and repair estimate.

A discussion on a usage fee on the Grand Chenier Park was decided to be set at $50.00 per day and $30.00 per day clean up fee. The clean up fee will be refunded, at the board's discretion, to the user if they do the clean up work themselves. On a motion by Mr. Theriot, and a second by Mr. Wainwright, the board agreed to this fee schedule.

Mr. Belton Bonsall addressed the board concerning the Grand Chenier Park. Mr. Bonsall said that he was concerned by the way that the park had been abused in the past. He suggested that all drinking be stopped at the park. Mr. Bonsall said that in the past, loud bands, and a lack of proper liter control had disturbed residents near the park. He complained that church services had been interrupted by Easter egg hunts, that large crowds and the lack of parking space during annual events were also a problem. He also asked that the boat ramp be closed up to prevent nearby property from being washed away by boats being launched there.

A motion was made by Mrs. Perry, seconded by Mr. East, and carried that Mr. Mhire be given authority to purchase twelve brass locks for the recreation center and the park.

A motion was made by Mr. Mhire, seconded by Mrs. Nunez and carried that the following fee schedule be adopted by the board concerning use of the recreation center:

Four hours or more -$50.00
Less than four hours - $25.00
Clean up fees - $30.00
(Pool use NOT included)

It was further moved and carried that the clean up fees would be refunded if the work was done by the user, and met with the board's approval. Also it was decided that no fee would be charged to youth groups for the use of the recreation center or the park.

It was moved by Mrs. Nunez, seconded by Mrs. Perry, and carried that the following fees would be charged for use of the pool:

Family Memberships - $35.00 per summer season
Single Memberships - $20.00 per summer season
Senior Citizen Membership - $10.00 per summer season
Non-Member (any age) - $1.00 per day

It was also decided that the pool would be open to the public Tuesday - Sunday, during the hours of 2:00 o'clock P.M. till 8:00 o'clock P.M. and that a Certified life guard would be on duty at all times. It was also moved and carried that the pool could be reserved Tuesday - Sunday, during the hours of 8:00 o'clock A.M. till 2:00 o'clock P.M. for private use. The lessor would be charged a fee of $25.00 per day and would have to provide for their own Certified life guard.

On the motion of Mr. Mhire, seconded by Mr. Theriot, and carried, it was moved that Mrs. Perry would be the third person whose signature would be used on the checks.

The board decided that they would next meet on Wednesday, May 17, 1989, at 6:00 o'clock P.M., at the Grand Chenier Recreation Center.

There being no further business, Mrs. Nunez made a motion seconded by Mrs. Perry, that the meeting be adjourned.

Seaweed clogs beaches

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron beaches were invaded last week.

Wave after wave of brown seaweed floated in out of the Gulf, piling up in mounds in which rotting fish and debris had been caught, causing an awful stench in places.

Airplanes flying over the Gulf reported that miles and miles of seaweed were seen floating in.

Shrimpers reported that their work had been stymied by the seaweed choking up their nets.

C. J. Kiffe, a veteran Gulf shrimper, stated that even though the seaweed invasion is hard on the shrimp industry at this time, it will probably bring the shrimp closer to the shore, and will probably help the industry when the invasion subsides.

No one knows for sure why the seaweed is so prolific at this time, other than the mild winter allowed it to keep growing, instead of freezing.

Seaweed grows in patches on top of the water, mostly in the southern part of the Gulf of Mexico, and floats in on the tide in small amounts periodically, said Paul Coreil, Fisheries and Wildlife agent in the County Agent's Office.

As it rots and disintegrates, it is buried in the sand or is washed back out with the tides.

Ed Kelley, who supervised the recent beach clean-up at Rutherford Beach in which Conoco Oil Company employees picked up 1,000 bags of trash, stated that it was a shame their clean beach was inundated with all the seaweed.

It also caused some hardship on Memorial Day revelers who came to the beaches.

The Cameron Parish Police Jury sent some bull dozers out to some of the beaches to push the seaweed up into piles to clean up a part of some of the beaches during the weekend. The cleanup crews at Holly Beach have pushed the seaweed up against the sand hills to help control erosion.

Cameron parish beaches were not the only beaches affected--apparently beaches to the west also were affected including Galveston's.

Beach goers in Galveston County are seeing and smelling tons of seaweed that has inundated the beaches and officials say no solution is in sight.

The seaweed has been piling up on area beaches in large quantities and Galveston County Commissioner, Eddie Barr, said Thursday he expects it to cor plaguing beach managers users alike for some time.

"As an experiment, we're ing it on the beach," said Barr helped form the Galveston C Beach Erosion Committee year. "It looks like it's al building the beach up."

Although the seaweed de produce an unpleasant odor a decompose, officials say the brown, clingy algae poses no ular health hazard.

The seaweed originates in the Sargasso Sea in the mid-North Atlantic, marine biologist Eric Hovland said.

Properly called Sargassum weed, the seaweed is free-floating and is carried by currents into the Gulf of Mexico in huge sheets, he said.

CAMERON PARISH crews and equipment are shown hauling tons of seaweed from the beach in the Holly Beach area this past week. The police jury has been cleaning some of the most used beaches but are leaving the seaweed on some of the less used stretches.

"WORSE THAN FLOOD INSURANCE"--CONNER

Wetland legislation opposed by jurors

By JERRY WISE

Creole Juror Ray Conner had some strong words about some proposed federal regulations governing the use of wetlands when the Cameron parish police jury held its monthly meeting Tuesday.

Conner said that the Corps of Engineers 404 permit, if fully implemented, would mean that no more construction would be permitted in lower Cameron parish except on top of the ridges.

"This has gone too far, it's worse than the flood insurance," Conner declared. "A fellow would not be able to do anything on his property unless it was on top of a ridge."

Conner said that 95 percent of the property owners in his district would be affected by the regulations. "I don't want someone from New York coming down here and telling us what we can do," he declared.

He said that Senator John Breaux has introduced a bill that would transfer the authority over the wetlands from the Corps to the State of Louisiana but he didn't see where this would help matters any.

"This is going to be a big black eye for Cameron parish," Conner said.

At his request the jury adopted a resolution opposing the 404 permit.

On a happier note, the jury heard another report from Parish Administrator Garner Nunez on the recent parish delegation's trip to Washington, at which time the parish was promised some relief on the flood insurance building guidelines.

Juror Conner, who was in the delegation, said that the $500,000 the jury has spent on its own flood insurance study during the past five years was "the best investment we ever made for our people." (The federal government has promised to refund the cost of this study to the parish.)

Nunez said that the parish expects to be able to lower building levels by three feet in several months and even more after new flood maps are published.

At Conner's request, the jury voted to adopt a resolution commending Senators Breaux and Johnston and Congressman Hayes for their assistance. Conner also praised two former police jurors, Lester Richard and Braxton Blake, for their support of the flood study when they were on the jury.

Conner said that the relief given parish residents on the building of homes and businesses would mean that "our people will be able to stay home now" and not leave the parish.

Rec districts loaned funds

The Cameron Parish Police Jury voted to loan some funds to new recreation districts in Grand Chenier and Creole but urged jurors from those districts to make sure the loans were repaid to the general fund in the future.

Juror Douaine Conner at first asked the jury to pick up a $4475 bill for repairs to the Grand Chenier swimming pool filter system which he said resulted when the jury shut down the pool some months ago in an economy move. A recreation district tax has since been voted there and the pool reopened.

Juror Ray Conner said that the Creole recreation district could use some funds for moving a fence at the Creole pool and George LeBoeuf said he could use some funds for his recreation department.

Juror Brent Nunez said that all of the recreation districts needed funds and said his had to have a bingo to keep their pool open.

Jurors then agreed that the jury was in no position to be taking money from the general fund for recreation purposes.

Later in the meeting, Douaine Conner asked to borrow $3,000 for his recreation district in addition to the $9000 borrowed earlier and to pay the entire amount back at $4000 a year for four years.

Ray Conner asked to borrow $2000 additional for this recreation district.

Juror Nunez said he was agreeable to the loans but wanted to make sure that the districts did not forget to repay the money to the general fund.

"We don't want to go back where we were," said Nunez referring to a few years ago when the jury frequently took funds from the general fund to help the recreation districts. He said his district was the only one that had repaid these funds.

Drug abuse fight mapped

A united effort is underway to "fight back" the abuse of illegal drugs and alcohol in Jeff Davis, Beauregard, Allen, Acadia, and Cameron parishes.

Recently, the Jeff Davis Task Force on Chemical Health initiated a consolidated effort to promote chemical health in this area. Representatives from the groups invited the named surrounding parishes to participate. The parishes unanimously accepted the proposed program. Efforts are developing to extend the program to every facet of the communities involved.

Charles Dubois and Heloise Cassidy, President and Vice-President, represented the Task Force at a special conference conducted by The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation on May 25, in Nashville, Tenn., at Vanderbilt University. The purpose of the conference was to explain the detailed information on how to apply for the 3.2 million dollar grant.

Insurance cost upped

The Cameron Parish Police Jury was informed Tuesday that the premiums on group insurance coverage for parish employees would go up 21 percent effective July 1 because of inflation and a high loss ratio this past year.

They were told that health service costs are going up 2 percent a month for a total of 24 percent a year.

It was noted that $351,191 in insurance premiums were paid this past year for parish employees with claims totaling $305,000.

The jury was given the option of dropping its drug and alcohol dependence treatment and mental illness coverage which would reduce the premiums, but after being told of claims by five persons under this section last year, they agreed to keep the coverage.

Joe Soileau, South Cameron Memorial Hospital administrator, urged the jury to retain the drug and alcohol dependence coverage noting that these conditions were becoming more of a problem in the parish.

The jury voted to continue with the insurance coverage as now provided and to absorb the additional cost instead of passing it along to the employees.

ASK
OCHSNER

Q. What are the symptoms which indicate that you have gallstones? How is this condition treated?

A. Most people will know when a severe gallbladder attack has hit them. It is characterized by acute pain between the center and right upper quadrant of the torso and is quite excruciating, says Dr. Luis A. Balart, a gastroenterologist at the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans. The pain may also be accompanied by nausea or vomiting.

Gallstones are caused by the hardening of a substance, usually cholesterol, which accumulates in the gallbladder or bile ducts. They are more common in women and American Indians who are 40 years of age or older, but are not limited to these groups. Recent studies have shown that some people who fast as a means of dieting have an increased tendency to get gallstones.

Mild cases can be treated with oral medication to help dissolve the stones, but this treatment is gradual and takes a period of time to work, and the condition of the patient is usually taken into consideration. If a stone has traveled and is blocking the bile duct leading to the pancreas (this is known as pancreatitis), surgery is the recommended course of treatment.

There is a new, non-invasive treatment for gallstones called lithotripsy, which is still under scientific investigation for treatment of gallstones. It is already a well-established and accepted method of treating kidney stones and is now being actively used for treatment of gallstones in many European medical centers, Dr. Balart oints out.

"Ochsner is part of the investigation to test the Sonolith 3000, a device which is used to break up stones from outside the body with the use of shock waves," says Dr. Balart. "The patient is sedated and positioned on the machine so that the abdominal area is in contact with the water. The stone is located using an untrasound probe attached to a multi-positioned arm. A computer calculates the coordinates of the location of the stone and, shock waves produced by a generator are transmitted through water, which is in direct contact with the patient's skin. After each set of shock waves, the alignment of the stone and shock wave focal point are checked. The entire procedure is complete in about one hour," he adds.

In order to be a candidate for this procedure, a person must be 18 years of age, have symptoms of gallstones and a functioning gallbladder.

Cameron Lions plan installation June 13

The annual Cameron Lions Club ladies night and installation of officers will be held Tuesday night, June 13, at 6:30 p.m. at the Cameron Motel.

At last week's club meeting a report was given on the scholarship and awards given by the club to graduating seniors throughout the parish.

Stephanie Nunez, a South Cameron high senior was the winner of the $2,000 Lions scholarship; and the following were presented the good citizenship awards: Cecilia Walther, Hackberry; Scott Poole, Sweetlake; Patricia Henkie, South Cameron; and Barry Badon, Johnson Bayou.

Paul Coreil reported that the cruise ship bills have been delayed until the special session of the legislature.

Baron Thomas recognized all Lions members who participated in the road clean-up program held recently.

The club voted to send a resolution to the Legislature commending the local Extension Office for the work it has done on such things as tourism and helping the fishing industry; and opposing the proposed budget cuts of 50%.

The club feels that any kind of cut to the local office and staff is not acceptable.

Workers with the glaucoma unit who are screening Cameron Parish people on this date were recognized as special guests.

CAMERON POLICE JURY BRIEFS . .

ROAD ABANDONED
After receiving no objections and in line with a new policy adopted last month, the police jury voted to abandon a hardsurfaced road going to F. O. Theriot home and serving no other property owners. This was with the provision that Theriot pay the parish $4,782, which was determined to be the depreciated value of the road originally built for $13,662.

LIQUOR PERMITS
Temporary Sunday liquor permits were approved for the Cameron Parish Fishing Rodeo at Grand Chenier Park on July 2 and for the Cameron Parish Special Olympics on June 18, at Grand Chenier Park.

A special event liquor permit was approved for Scott Henry for a benefit for the Billy Navarre women's softball team on June 16, and 17, at the Creole ball field.

When jurors questioned the latter permit, Joe Soileau, president of the Creole recreation board said that beer would only be sold at adult events such as this benefit and not for youth events.

APPOINTMENT
J. P. Constance, whose term had expired, was reappointed to the Waterworks District 10 board.

BIDS ACCEPTED
Low bids were accepted by the jury on a rotary cutter and mower. The jury authorized the purchase of a surplus motor grader from the state for $4000. Bids on some used tables, racks from the clerk's office were rejected as being too low and readvertisement authorized.

The jury authorized advertisement for aluminum culverts and for the tearing down and removal of the old Cameron sub-fire station next to Ray Burleigh's home. A new sub-station will be built.

OIL & GAS PERMITS
Twelve permits for oil and gas wells and pipelines were approved, and also two seismic permits.

Other permits approved were for Frank Pruitt, covered boat slip in Calcasieu Lake; A. J. Vaughan, proposed homesite; and Cameron Recreation Dist. 9, proposed sand mining.

RESOLUTIONS
Resolutions were adopted by the jury urging that McNeese University continue to receive full state funding, that the funding for the Extension Service office in Cameron not be cut.

APPRECIATION
Paul Coreil of the Cameron Parish Extension Service Office presented a certificate of appreciation to the jury for their financial support of the office over the years. He noted that the office has received a 25 percent cut in state funding since 1985 and expressed the belief that the office might not be able to continue its services if any more cuts are made.

COPY MACHINE
The jury agreed to replace the present copy machine in the basement of the courthouse with a new and larger machine with the monthly rental to go from $150 to $275. It was noted that the machine is used by many of the offices in the courthouse.

TAX MILLAGES
Tax millages for the new fiscal year were adopted by all of the parish districts. Parish Administrator Garner Nunez said all the millages remained the same with the exception of a Hackberry district that went up a little and the Creole Fire District sinking fund that went down a little.

GARBAGE SITES
The jury voted to complete the closure of all of the old garbage dump sites in the parish with the exception of two on which there are monitoring wells. The sites were discontinued three years ago when the jury began contracting solid waste disposal to an out-of-parish firm.

NATURAL GAS SURVEY
At the request of Juror Douaine Conner the jury agreed to request the United Gas Company to make a survey of an area near Creole to see if it would be feasible to extend natural gas service there. George LeBouef asked that the survey also include the Garber Subdivision.

CHECK SIGNING
The jury voted to amend a new procedure approved at last month's meeting in which the signature of the jury's president was required on parish checks as well as the administrator's.

Juror George LeBleu, who had offered the motion last month, noted that since the jury president lives at Johnson Bayou and is not available every day at the jury office, the payroll checks were delayed last month. He offered a motion to require only one signature on payroll checks.

COMBINE DISTRICTS
The jury approved a request from LeBoeuf to ask Rep. Randy Roach to introduce a legislative bill to combine Waterworks District 1 and Sewerage District 1 for the town of Cameron into one district with one board. He said this would permit a more economical operation of the two districts.

The event is sponsored by the Cal-Cam Chapter of the American Red Cross.

MUSINGS . . . .

By Bernice Denny

There are times when we find it difficult to develop our abilities because we are concentrating on obstacles in our way. The alternative is, of coure, to recognize and make the most of our strengths.

The only shame in failure is to allow ourselves to be submerged by it. By overcoming failure we are better able to succeed later.

Louisa Mae Alcott became famous by writing Little Women and its sequels. Much earlier an editor had told her that she had no writing ability and should "stick to her sewing."

Miss Alcott felt strongly that she could write -- so strongly that she was willing to endure the rejection of her work as she practices to improve.

Andrew Johnson, who succeeded Lincoln to the presidency and whose ides of reconstruction differed from those of Congress, was saved from impeachment by one vote. He endured this defeat to his leadership, but he did not surrender his convictions regarding his responsibilities in office.

Early in life Johnson had learned to conquer difficulties by daring to attempt solving them. He had a yearning for knowledge, but never was he able to attend school for a day. Determined to pick up information, he learned the alphabet from tailors in a shop where he had been apprenticed at the age of ten. He listened over and over while a visitor to the shop read aloud a book of famous speeches. The same gentleman helped him learn to spell.

Later Johnson married a young lady of good education. She taught him how to write and instructed him in other branches of study. Soon afterward he joined a debating society connected with a college and distinguished himself by his oratory.

Josiah Wedgwood, also uneducated, was a lame and neglected boy. He overcame these obstacles by becoming England's foremost potter of his day. Under his leadership pottery became one of England's important industries. His creations are today rated rare pieces of art and are found in museums and private collections.

Louisa Alcott, President Johnson and Josiah Wedgwood, each as different from the other as is night from day, had one thing in common. They forgot obstacles while thinking of opportunity. As a second common trait, they not only thought of opportunity but they exerted energy to find opportunity and used endurance to make the most of it.

It has been written, "Our strength often increases in proportion to the obstacles imposed upon it."

The author must have had in mind individuals like the three mentioned above.

New phone plan told

Public service commissioners Louis Lambert of Gonzales and Kathleen Blanco of Lafayette will propose to the Public Service Commission on June 13, massive long distance reductions along with a state-of-the-art urban telecommunications system.

According to Lambert, this plan would open up communication lines throughout the state's rural parishes, including Cameron.

The proposal would slice long-distance telephone rates within 55 rural parishes by an average of 70 percent.

Currently, there is a long-distance telephone charge for someone in a rural community to call someone in another community as close as 10 miles away, Lambert said.

For example, he said a call from Sweetlake to Sulphur now costs $1.33 for the first five minutes. Lambert's plan would reduce that cost to 38 cents, a 71.4 percent savings.

The plan also would put a ceiling on the amount paid for such long-distance calls, Lambert said. For residential callers, once a person makes $15 worth of in-parish long-distance calls any calls above that would be free. For business phones, the cap would be $25.

Anna Paris by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Baccigalopi.

Sagebrush Country, Garland Richard by Pat, Julian and Alice Robichaux.

Grand Chenier News

By Elora Montie

Although there is about two weeks of spring left, and summer starts June 21, there are still many yards in full bloom at the Chenier. The rosebud trees were some of the first to show off their beautiful decorations. The mimosa trees have been in full bloom for the past few weeks and the wisteria brought a beautiful showing in yards here.

This past Thursday, June 1, meant the starting of the storm season for this year. Many folks from the Chenier and other parts of the parish who have evacuated homes on higher grounds in Cameron parish and other parishes, are busy mowing, cleaning and repairing and making preparations if an evacuation would be needed.

Last year folks had to evacuate from low lying areas due to Hurricane Gilbert. Fortunately there was not too much damage done here at the Chenier.

Mrs. Dorothy Sturlese, who spent some time in St. Patrick's hospital, came home this week.

Lynn McCall has his knee brace off after four weeks. He had fallen and broken his knee cap.

VISITORS

Miss Marilyn Miller spent some time in their home here last weekend.

The Gooch Baccigalopi family of Alvin, Tex., spent the weekend with parents, the Whitney Baccigalopis.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hebert spent the weekend visiting their relatives in Creole, Cameron, and Grand Chenier.

Mr. and Mrs. Everette Miller of Creole visited Mr. and Mrs. Larry Miller and son and Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Miller.

Spending the weekend in DeRidder in their camps were Mr. and Mrs. Gilford MIller and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Brasseaux. While there they were visited by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mhire of Sweetlake.

Mr. and Mrs. Orrie Canik and Jennifer, Mrs. Corrine Canik, Louis Canik and Mrs. Charles D. Theriot attended the funeral of Whitney Canik in Lake Arthur, Saturday.

d cable TV nchise asked

d Lake-Sweetlake ...thern part of Came... ...ould be getting cable television service in the future if the plans of the Friendship Cable Television company of Tyler, Tex. materialize.

Mark Dunham, company representative, appeared before the Cameron Parish Police Jury last week to seek a franchise to provide cable TV service to some areas of the parish not presently served by Cameron Television, the company that has been serving other parts of the parish for some years.

Dunham indicated that his firm would like to serve the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area, but would also serve other parts of the parish not presently served.

He said the company would offer a 25 channel system at a basic cost of $16 a month with HBO and Disney channel offered for an additional $9.50.

Assistant District Attorney Glenn Alexander told the jurors that they had the right to give the company a non-exclusive franchise to serve any portion of the parish and noted that the present cable company also has a non-exclusive franchise.

Juror Ray Conner said that he wanted to make sure if awarded a franchise, the company would have a full time office in the parish, and Alexander said that the franchise calls for a 5-day-a-week office.

Conner also wanted to know if the company would serve any areas other than Grand Lake and Sweetlake and would offer service to less populated areas. Dunham said his firm would be happy to survey the entire parish but were only interested in the areas not presently served.

In line with the jury's procedure for granting franchises, it was agreed to advertise for bids on a TV franchise on the entire parish, although it was understood that only the Grand Lake and Sweetlake areas might be served.

Mudd All Around state cowboy

Chad Mudd

Chad Mudd won his third straight All-Around Cowboy title at the Louisiana High School Championship Rodeo last week. A senior from South Cameron, he qualified in three events for the National Finals Rodeo in Pueblo, Colo., to be held July 24-30.

Adrienne Picou of Grand Chenier, who qualified for two National Finals events, was the All-Around Cowgirl runner up.

Event winners qualifying for Nationals are James Boudreaux, Hackberry, bareback; Chad Mudd, calf roping, team roping and cutting horses; Thad Little, Hackberry, steer wrestling (alternate), and saddle bronc.

Parish students score highly

Cameron parish students placed better on recent state educational assessment tests than did students in Southwest Louisiana and the state as a whole, the Cameron Parish School Board was told Monday.

The tests were given to third, fifth, seventh and tenth graders in language arts and mathematics and in every grade and in both subjects Cameron students were ahead of students elsewhere.

Asst. Supt. Robert Ortego said one reason Cameron students did well was because the school board instituted a tutoring program for students who needed extra help. The board paid teachers to do the tutoring before and after school and in some cases at night.

Students who failed the tests will have to be given remedial help this coming year and by aiding a large number of students to pass the tests the amount of remedial studies will be reduced.

Ortego said that students in two parish schools passed the test 100 percent and will need no remedial classes at all this coming year. He attributed the high scores in these schools to smaller classes where the students were able to receive more attention from the teachers.

Students in the five parishes of Southwest Louisiana also did better than the state average although they did not do as well as Cameron students did.

Supt. Thomas McCall said that the Cameron parish students and teachers were to be commended for their excellent showing.

Jury asks input on shrimp season

The Cameron Parish Police Jury has asked the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries to give the jury some input in the setting of shrimping seasons in Calcasieu Lake.

At the jury's May meeting they heard a report from a group of local fishermen who had made a sample of white shrimp in the lake and said they were large enough for a special 3 day season. The jury voted to request the special season.

However, Juror George LeBouef reported at the June meeting that not only had the wildlife department declined to grant a special 3-day season but they had also charged the fishermen for violating the law by taking the samples.

LeBouef said the fishermen claimed that the wildlife department was using the wrong size net which showed a larger percentage of small shrimp than were actually caught with the larger shrimp nets.

The juror said he would like to see the state people use the proper size nets and also to have a local fisherman along with Wildlife commission Member Norman McCall on board when they make their tests.

"Had we been given a three or four day season," LeBouef stated, "the fishermen could have picked up some harvestable shrimp before they went out into the Gulf."

LeBouef urged that the Cameron police jury be given some input in the setting of the shrimp season in the lake and other jurors agreed.

It was noted that local Rep. Randy Roach has a bill in the current legislature that would set standards for setting of the white shrimp season and would provide for a hearing to be held in Cameron parish.

Kristy Carroll gets Crain scholarship

Kristy Carroll, a 1989 graduate of South Cameron High School, was this year's recipient of the Crain Brothers Inc., Livestock Scholarship. Presenting the four year scholarship of $2,000 per year was Coral Perry, a Crain Brothers representative.

Kristy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Criglow of Grand Lake. She plans to attend McNeese State University and major in Marine Biology.

An applicant of the scholarship must be a Cameron parish student enrolled in the 4-H or FFA programs, and be a graduating senior with a minimum grade point average of 2.0.

Other requirements are: participation in the parish livestock show, preparing a project record, and writing an essay on why the student is in the livestock program and why he/she wants to attend college. The student must also present a 10 to 15 minute illustrated talk on any topic of importance today.

Other applicants for the scholarship were: Rhonda Perry of South Cameron, Scott Poole of Grand Lake, Chad Primeaux of Grand Lake and Derrick Robideaux of Grand Lake.

Board awards contracts

A number of contracts were awarded by the Cameron Parish School Board at its monthly meeting Monday.

A contract for workman compensation for school employees was awarded to the Cameron Insurance Co. for $87,600. The Southwest Louisiana Insurance Agency had submitted an identical bid, since the rates are set by the state.

District Attorney Jerry Jones advised that the board could award the contract to either company, but the withdrawal of one of the bids did not make a choice necessary.

The Cameron agency was also successful bidder on vehicle insurance with a bid of $23,110, which was a reduction from last year's premium of $31,000.

The board renamed the Cameron State Bank and the Calcasieu Marine National Bank as its joint fiscal agent for the next two years. Board Member Rickey Guidry abstained from voting as he is employed by the Cameron State Bank.

The Cameron Parish Pilot was renamed as the official journal of the board.

The board approved advertisements for bids for replacing the lunch serving counter at Johnson Bayou High School and for reinsulating boiler pipes at Hackberry High School. Bids were readvertised for acoustical ceiling at Hackberry High and for remodeling the South Cameron high home ec department, and for a covered walkway and handicapped ramp at South Cameron elementary.

INSURANCE AID

The Cameron Parish School Board Monday agreed to continue the board's contribution of $50 per month per employee toward medical insurance for the 1989-90 fiscal year. The board members were advised that Cameron was the only parish in the state that did not have an increase in the cost of the insurance from Blue Cross.

RESOLUTION

The board went on record urging the state not to cut the LSU extension service by 24 percent as proposed. Paul Coreil, who heads the local extension office, said his office has already taken a 25 percent cut since 1985 and a 30 percent cut in travel expenses. He thanked the board for their financial support of the office over the years.

SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting was set for 10 a.m., Wednesday, June 28, to sell the Grand Lake bonds, set the millage for School District 4 and adopt the final budget.

The board authorized members to attend the southern Region School Boards' convention July 6-8, in Biloxi, Miss.

Pit cleanup is coming

The Cameron Parish School Board was urged Monday by its oil and gas advisor, geologist David Sturlese to make a check of old oil pits on school sections and to start trying to get well operators to clean up those that are in bad shape.

He said the state has begun a drive to get old oil pits cleaned up and will make the operators do it.

The danger, he said, would be if some operator is now out of business, in which case it might fall on the land owner--the school board--to have to clean up the pits.

Sturlese reported to the board that he had heard that the Exxon company had made a "major discovery" not too far from one of the school sections.

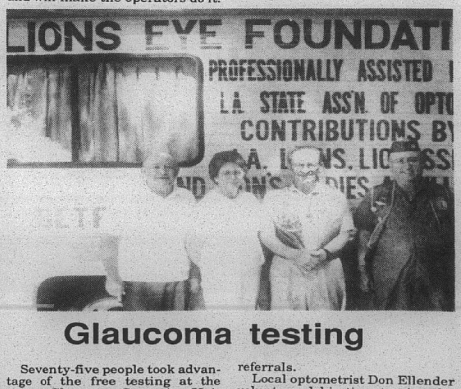
No phone cancer survey

The American Cancer Society is not making a survey in Cameron parish concerning breast cancer and anyone who represents himself as doing that is unauthorized, a spokesman for the Society said this week.

She said that a Creole resident had received a call from a man claiming to be making a breast cancer survey. The man started out in a professional manner but then proceeded to ask very personal questions.

The spokesman said there have been a number of similar calls in the last several years both in Cameron and Calcasieu parish, but because the calls are made at random and never repeated neither police nor the telephone company have ever been able to trace the calls.

Persons receiving such prank calls should hang up on the caller, the spokesman stated. She asked that if anyone might know anything that might lead to the arrest of such a person, to contact the Cancer Society or the sheriff's department.



Alligator contracts

The Cameron Parish School Board approved contracts for providing alligator eggs to two Cameron parish alligator farms at the board's monthly meeting Monday.

It was agreed to furnish 1000 eggs to the Grand Chenier alligator farm and 2000 to the Jerry G. Jones, Jr. farm at Sweetlake.

The eggs are collected by personnel of the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge, hatched and then the small gators are sold to the farmers. Ted Joanen of Rockefeller said that some of the young alligators also are put back on the school board sections in order to keep the alligator population there stable.

He said that the eggs would be collected from the property next week and that it looked like there would be a good crop of eggs this year.

Glaucoma testing

Seventy-five people took advantage of the free testing at the recent Glaucoma Screening Unit that was in Cameron under the sponsorship of the Cameron Lions Club.

Three people were found to have elevated eye pressure and were referred to eye doctors for further testing.

Thirty-four people took the diabetes test and there were no referrals.

Local optometrist Don Ellender volunteered his time to give the tests and Lions volunteering were J. Berton Daigle, Bill Turnbull, Audrey Daigle, Ed Kelley, Roland Primeaux, and Vernon Primeaux.

CAMERON HAS BOARD OF HEALTH

At its regular meeting at Cameron this week, the Cameron police jury, acting on a petition from the taxpayers of Ward Two, called a special election in that ward on July 7, to decide upon a proposition to impose a special tax of three mills for ten years for the benefit of the schools.

A board of health was named for the parish, the salary of the president being fixed at $150 a year. Those appointed are Dr. S. O. Carter, president; Eraste Hebert and W. C. Lacy.

The request of Judge Milling, representing the Chicago Title & Trust Company, asking that the police jury accept the survey, field notes and plat of the company's land holdings in the parish, was refused.

CAMERON SHIPPING PRODUCE

The Southwestern Produce Association received its first shipment from local growers yesterday. It consisted of a quantity of chickens and Irish potatoes, the first fruits of Wylie Gauthier's missionary trip through Cameron Parish.

The association looks upon Cameron Parish as a fine field for development, and after holding the meetings already announced for the first three days of next week, Manager Foster of the association and Government Demonstrator Paul D. Perkins will go to Cameron on the boat next Friday morning and tell the farmers just what the association plans are. Meetings have already been arranged to be held at Creole Friday evening and at Leesburg Saturday evening.

These gentlemen are experts from the practical standpoint of producing and marketing Louisiana crops, and what they have to say will have a direct money value to the farmers who hear them. It is hoped to obtain a large audience of farmers.

During his trip in Cameron Parish which ended a few days ago, Wylie Gautheir, whose energies were mainly directed to the elimination of the unproductive old hen by marketing all the old fowls, was astonished to find the up-to-dateness of Cameron farmers on the poultry question. One man he visited had over 400 birds of one prominent breed and is about to abandon general farming to pay exclusive attention to chickens.

At another place he found 250 birds in prime condition and at only one farm he visited did he find the old fashioned poultry yard with a variety of breeds. Most of the farmers also own incubators, brooders and other appliances for modern production of fowl. and they are all making the poultry business pay them well.

LAKESIDE LACONICS

Charbon has appeared and several herd of stock are reported dead from that disease. We are suffering from a terrible scourge of mosquitoes and probably that is the cause of some of the fatalities among the stock.

Jos. Richard has been most unfortunate since moving to the place of Lucus Broussard. Since the beginning of the year he has lost 4 head of large hogs, 7 head of cattle, two big mules and a pony. This leaves him with no stock to go ahead with his work. Fortunately he just got his crop in before his last mule died.

Aristide Broussard lost a pony last Saturday. Mr. Cleodes Benoit also lost his pony this week.

Numa Benoit has set out 300 fig trees and all our farmers are putting out more or less, fruit, orange, peaches and figs, which is certainly a move in the right direction.

Arthur Miller and family visited Mr. Adolph Miller on Monday.

It is reported that the mosquitoes are so bad at Grand Chenier that all outdoor work has had to be discontinued and much stock is being killed by the pests.

We had another 2 inch rain last week and had blow but no real damage was done.

Richard reunion to be held Sunday

A Catholic Mass at 11 a.m. on Sunday, June 18, will kick-off the Richard family reunion in the Grand Chenier State Park.

Among those attending will be some of the 2,000 descendants of Sosthene Richard, the founder of Creole, along with descendants from other siblings, who are all descendants of Michel Richard Sansoucy, who arrived in Acadia with the Emanuel LeBorgne expedition at Guilbault in 1652.

Family and friends are asked to bring a covered dish and lawn chairs.

There will be games, contests, awards, and dancing all afternoon.

Air Conditioners

Want to keep your cooling level up and your energy costs down? Home economists from Whirlpool Corporation suggest you can keep more of your cold cash on hand if you keep these three "Ws" of air conditioner operation in mind:

Watch where you put it. Don't place it behind heavy furniture or install it in a corner where it'll have a hard time reaching the rest of the room.

Wash the filter regularly in warm water and mild detergent. Rinse and wipe or shake dry.

When "hot days" are inevitable, start the unit in the morning. It operates less efficiently if started during the hottest part of the day.

Taking care to put these three "We" into practice will enhance the air conditioner's task of keeping you comfortable.

Some observations on the American Flag

Flag Day, observed annually on June 14, provides us with an opportunity to re-evaluate those values upon which our great country was founded.

Our national flag symbolizes the freedom, equality, and justice which characterize our nation. It is an emblem of our unity and our heritage. It represents the traditions and ideals that we hold most sacred.

As our country received its birthright from the peoples of many lands who gathered here to found a new nation, so did the pattern of stars and stripes rise from diverse origins back in the midst of antiquity to become emblazoned on the standard of our infant republic.

The stars, a symbol of heaven and the divine goal to which man has aspired from time immemorial, and the stripes, symbol of the rays of light emanating from the sun, had long been used on the standards of nations.

On the first birthday of Old Glory on June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted a resolution "That the flag of the thirteen United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

When the Star Spangled Banner was first flown at the head of the Continental Army, General George Washington described its symbolism in these words: "We take the stars from heaven, the red from our mother country, separating it by white stripes, thus showing that we have separated from her, and the white stripes shall go down to posterity representing liberty."

On April 4, 1818, Congress set the number of stripes in the flat at a permanent thirteen, one for each of the original states, and ordered a new star to be added to the flag on the Fourth of July following the admission of a state into the Union.

I like the words used by President Woodrow Wilson during his administration when he said, "This flag, which we honor and under which we serve, is the emblem of our unity, our power, our thought and purpose as a nation. It has no other character than that which we give it from generation to generation. The choices are ours. It floats in majestic silence above the hosts that execute those choices, whether in peace or in war. And yet, though silent, it speaks to us of the past, of the men and women who went before us, and of the records they wrote for us.

"We celebrate the day of its birth, and from its birth until now it has witnessed a great history, has floated on high the symbol of great events, or a great plan of life worked out by a great people."

Our flag - Old Glory - the Stars and Stripes forever, symbol of one nation under God... indivisible... liberal...just. May the literal truth bear out its beautiful symbolism always!

Commision has hot meeting

By Loston McEvers

COMMISSION MEETING

In the Lousiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission meeting last week, things really began to pop.

We all have heard about the merger being planned, the Game Division and the Fur and Refuge Division, which I personally don't think is acceptable. The majority of the Commission didn't think so either. However, the LDWF Secretary Virginia VanSickle said she will decide if the merger takes place or not, not the commission. Now, again, we see the Louisiana politics at work.

They think it's a duplication by running these two separate. A resolution passed by the commission, with only two voting against, brought this out in the open.

LDWF Assistant Secretary Bob Misso and Undersecretary Bettsie Baker told the commission that a merger of the two divisions would save the departments between $50,000 and $75,000 a year. It would also eliminate some duplication of services.

Joe Palmisano of Chauvin, a commissioner, sort of got heated up, because he had not been informed about the merger. He also claims it's another series of actions taking away facilities and services from the coastal areas, including enforcement agents.

Mr. Misso said of the merger and the savings of up to $75,000, was his opinion. Mr. Palmisano said Mr. Misso would save this money by getting rid of two people. He also said they could cut out the whole department and save $37 million, or cut Mr. Misso's job.

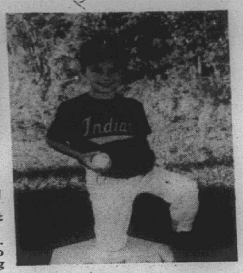
This heated discussion was in the Thursday meeting, but on Friday Virginia VanSickle made it clear the proposed merger was put on the agenda because she had it put there.

The department lawyer, Mr. Puckett, said that according to state law, "All powers concerning employment and administration is solely in the hands of the Secretary of the department.

VanSickle did say she would ask for the commission's input, but she would run the department.

Mr. Palmisano said he plans to ask for a ruling from the Attorney General, to define the duties of the commission, which is suppose to be the policy making board for the LDWF.

VanSickle said that in her opinion, he would get a ruling, but it would be a lawyer's opinion. However, she said she didn't think that it should be done at this time. She also said a panel to define the duties of the department and the commission and report it back to the Legislature, was authorized by the Legislature last year.



VanSickle said she would start giving a monthly secretary's report to keep the commission informed.

BILL IN QUESTION

A bill introduced to provide $800,000 in Rockefeller Refuge Reserve for buying wetland and upland game habitat was voted out of the House Committee Natural Resources last week.

A move by Senator Jack Doland to provide $400,000 in Rockefeller Refuge for wetlands ($200,00) and upland game ($200,000) was what was introduced by Senator Doland, or from 25% to 50% of the funds, but it seems someone in the department wanted this double, so it was also introduced that way.

If the larger amount would pass, Rockefeller's budget would surely suffer.

TALK AROUND

Fishing in our area has really been on an upswing. The Big Burns has produced some nice catches of bass. The grass is growing but water is still good traveling the mud boat trails, so you can get around quite well. Also, reports in Amoco part of Miami Corporation, permit fishing has been good.

Lacassine Refuge is not wide open but some good fish also coming out of the Refuge.

The hot bass baits in these areas have been the Mossicion Worm, a white scumfrog and a buzz bait, white being the best.

Redfish in the Grand Chenier area has been really good, with some up to 15 pounds taken last week. They were like the speckle trout, spot the birds and you'd find redfish. Green grub, green with red tail has been good, along with redfish rigs, white and yellow, with a little shrimp on end of hook.

Don't forget the big Cameron Parish Fishing Rodeo to be held June 30, July 1 and 2. See or call Carl Broussard in Grand Chenier for information. This is a saltwater inland and offshore tournament.

There is no single cat called a panther. The name is commonly applied to the leopard, puma, and the jaguar.

Hospital club topic

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Officials from the South Cameron Memorial Hospital were speakers at the June meeting of the Cameron Parish Chapter of the American Business Women's organization Monday night at the Cameron Motel restaurant.

Joe Soileau, hospital administrator, reported that the hospital is now averaging 90% occupancy, with an average of three patients a day in the emergency room, in addition to outpatient care.

He reviewed the new programs that have been incorporated into the hospital, including the Meals on Wheels which served 2550 meals last month, the swing bed, and the home health care programs.

He said new programs are being added to the hospital, such as the new Chemical Dependency Unit.

The local hospital is now affiliated with three hospitals, including St. Patrick's in Lake Charles; Baptist hospital in Beaumont, Tex., which includes their cardiology and air rescue units; and the Savoie hospital in Ville Platte.

He introduced Carl Kenney, counselor with the Chemical Dependency Clinic at the hospital, the 28-day program which handled in-patients as well as out-patients and is accredited with the Medicare and Medicaid programs.

He explained that no one will be turned away who requests help in this program.

Mrs. Barbara Lou LeBlanc, club president, announced that the July meeting will be held Monday, July 10, at 6:30 p.m. at Carlton's restaurant in Creole.

Do you remember? This is a reproduction of a portion of a page on Cameron Parish run in the New Orleans Times-Picayune on Oct. 4, 1914. Keith Hambrick turned up this page in research for the old time column that he writes for the Pilot.

One of the Quiet Wonder Regions on the Louisiana Gulf Coast

Corner of Nature's Flower Garden That the Rush of World Progress Has Not Yet Disturbed—Her Old-Fashioned Wealth—Faith in Humanity—Citrus Fruits—Surprising Profits.

A Slav Settler

For The Times-Picayune.

SHUT OFF FROM THE HURLY-burly of the modern world Cameron parish, the Hermit Kingdom of Louisiana, sits lake-embraced, waiting for her moment to strike.

Without telephones, telegraphs, railroads, banks or newspapers, and feeling no need of them, her sole contact with the outer warring world is the little river steamer Rex and a twice-a-week trip from Lake Charles. A virgin paradise that knows little and cares less for the strife and sweat of life beyond her limpid portals.

Cameron the quiet—Cameron the blessed!

Much of this royal resource is shipped to New Orleans, to Kansas, to West Texas, by the simplest of means. You would scarcely say that Cameron had any shipping facilities at all, and yet everyone is opalescent grech trout, sparkling black bass. Oysters bed in her inlets and on her marshes where the wild rice grows as it does nowhere else in the State; ducks and ring-necked geese fatten in flocks of millions.

pen. Checks don't go in Cameron. Why, it is only in the past three or four years that any business whatever has been carried on with banks. What does Cameron want with banks—she still has the family stocking.

Does it seem archaic to you, to brother of the Stock Exchange, that a man should humanity that the parish prisoners are trusted with the keys of the parish jail. When a man does anything wicked in Cameron—as happens perhaps once in a couple of years—and receives the verdict, "Reckon you'd better study it over in one 'er the cells until you come to your sense, son," he goes to the little cottage behind the rapt respect. Shall one say those strains of pure beauty are entirely lost upon him?

And the justice of all this peace—what a quaint character it is! Judge Bruckert, wheelwright and carpenter by profession, resident of Cameron since '75, he has never lost the music of his German soul. In a way he has a corner on melody in Cameron with the biggest phonograph and a collection of 400 records. It is his gentle hobby.

In that spare, plain little room with its few chairs and old-fashioned desk, there is always gathered of an afternoon and of winter evenings a spare, plain group, who sit in silence that might be emulated at your fashionable musicale.

The judge, gingerly careful of his program, refers to his library book and makes his selections. He handles the records with delicate touch.

Long use has told here and there. Elsa's Song is worn thin. Mendelssohn's "Fruelings Lied"—alas! there is a crack! Now and again voices that have stirred the world sing out to this spare, plain audience music that is the spiritual note of a race. Again the joyance of a tune that has rattled over the vaudeville circuits breaks the patient attention into warm quick smiles, and they turn to each other with a joviality of letdown and a common understanding. Faith, not in Cameron alone do the mind-wings become weary and find relief in descent from cultural heights!

So much for the judiciary, important in its way, 'tis true, but the real vital force of social Cameron—and in spite of its remoteness Cameron is decidedly social—is Mother Eagleson. Mother Eagleson's is one of the prominent village stores, along with Jones' store, Cormier's and Andersen's. And like the symbolic figure in a mural decoration her motherly love spreads its arms and takes in the entire town's people—150 of them! She is the mentor, the guide, the counselor. The joys and the sorrows come alike to her, and whatever it is she brightens the heart and cheers the state o' mind and being. It is a pretty unwritten law that the visitor who steps from the boat landing and passes up the and is still beneficent, there is Mr. Welsh, formerly a State Representative. The place of honor belongs to him, and therein he sits, his keen, merry mind the source of all the genial and heated arguments by which the hours are often whiled away in a land where it seems always afternoon. Such good of the parish he has at heart, such an example he is of sturdy loyalty. It is to be doubted if the up-to-date model leader of a political machine will leave on the young generation of his following so clear and sound an impression, and on his land memories so wholesome of a political faith based on general contentment. Cameron has produced other leaders in the large sense of the word.

OTHER LEADERS

When you go a sight-seeing you come upon a pleasant old house that was the home of S. P. Henry, once Speaker of the House of Representatives, who died in 1901. His son owns most of the little town to-day.

Another attractive place is that of Mr. S. W. Sweeney, clerk of the court, but more than this, a young, vital, progressive spirit, representative of the Cameron energy that is going to make its wireless message of developing wealth heard 'round the South one of these days.

Her hermitage is charming; it is delicious to bask in, delightful to write of, yet with so much that might be realized, so much idly at stake, one cannot but wish that the Moving Finger would write in railroads and transportation for the bearing of her bounteous gifts.

ORANGE RAISING

The most remarkable opportunity for raising oranges in the State is here in Cameron. Land may be bought, as you would buy ribbon, for any price. It depends upon quality. For $2.50 an acre or $25. Take it about the village lanes and it would be, perhaps, $50. The resources are not concealed. In the heart of the little burg you may cross a stile and a field of splendid corn. The pecan trees in Mr. Sweeney's garden are an income alone. A thousand wonderful orange trees aisle the C. F. Henry place. Probably $7000 is an approximate estimate of the yield that is shipped.

There are some remarkable little stories of money made. They sound like the biographies of our foremost and most joyous millionaires. For instance, meeting the weekly mail boat in summer time with luscious loads of melons is sturdy, rosy-cheeked, genial Mr. Grunik. A Southern farmer's hat frames his round, fair face. He is a Slav—stay, he was a Slav—now he is a Cameronite if ever there was one. A townsman will tell you the simple fascinating facts, how, in 1894, with a peddler's pack, this son of a foreign land, who had traveled over most of the world, came to Cameron. Mr. Grunik himself laughs. "I never see land I like for home till I come here." So here he settled, a few miles out of the village, purchased a bit of land and set out orange trees. To-day he has 1000 trees. He realizes from 66 trees $401, and the crop of 100 trees brings him in $1200. There are big stock owners—J. A. Wakefield, Charles F. Henry, John Stills, Mr. Chadwell. Mr. Boudoin ships 600 head of cattle a year.

WILD GAME WEALTH.

Police Jury Briefs

DISTRICT CONSOLIDATED

At the request of Juror George LeBouef, the jury agreed to consolidate the Cameron and Creole road districts into one in the interest of economy.

LeBouef said he had lost two of the three employees in the Cameron district. He said that by keeping the two road foremen and working out of the same headquarters the work could be done without hiring anyone else.

GRADE BEACHES

Juror LeBouef asked for permission to grade Broussard beach to make it more attractive to visitors and the jury also agreed to do likewise for Rutherford Beach. Holly Beach already is being graded by the jury.

Douaine Conner suggested that a sign be put up directing the way to Rutherford Beach and suggested looking into putting a sign on the Interstate.

LETTERS ASKED

Juror LeBouef asked the jury secretary to write a letter to the Department of Environmental Quality to see what progress has been made in cleaning up Calcasieu Lake.

Juror Ray Conner asked that legislators again be written urging the widening of Hwy. 27 between Creole and Hackett's Corner as a means of making storm evacuations quicker.

YOUTH JOBS

Carolyn Thibodeaux, who is in charge of the Job Match program for the jury, reported 20 youths are being employed this summer for 40 hour weeks and that the program also is providing remedial school for several youngsters and summer school. The aid is offered to youths to families have low incomes.

ELEVATION REQUIREMENTS

Juror LeBouef questioned the reasoning behind the requirements of the Federal Flood Insurance regulations requiring mobile homes and businesses to be elevated in lower Cameron parish. He said this was hindering growth in the parish and requested the jury to write legislators to try to get this changed.

Mackerel limits sought

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission has expressed its intent to establish a recreational bag limit for Spanish and King mackerel.

Limits spelled out in the notice of intent are 10 fish per person per trip for Spanish mackerel. The suggested King mackerel limit is two fish per person per trip for private vessels, and either three fish per person per trip for charter vessels (excluding captain and crew) or two fish per person per trip (including captain and crew.)

For the purpose of this rule, charter vessels are defined as vessels permitted by the National Marine Fisheries Service to fish as a charter vessel under the Federal Fishery Management Plan for the coastal Migratory Pelagic Resources of the Gulf of Mexico and South Atlantic.

Interested persons may submit written comments on the proposed rule to John E. Roussell, Saltwater Finfish Section, at the following address: Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, P.O. Box 98000, Baton Rouge, La. 70898-9000.

School personnel matters

The Cameron Parish School Board acted on several personnel matters at its Monday meeting.

Sabbatical leaves were approved for the 1989-90 school session for Peggy Carnahan, South Cameron high teacher; and Kay Palmer, South Cameron counselor. A sabbatical leave approved earlier for Wayne Johnson, South Cameron teacher, was rescinded at his request.

The board was advised of the retirement of Irene Trahan as Johnson Bayou high lunchroom manager and Faye Billiot, presently a lunchroom worker, was named to succeed her. A replacement is being sought for the worker's position.

Douglas Richard was named as janitor at South Cameron Elementary School.

The resignation of Katherine Scarbrough, Johnson Bayou teacher, was accepted.

Parish 10th graders better state average

CAPITAL NEWS

While education officials were pleasantly surprised by the number of Louisiana's sophomores and juniors who passed the graduation test, Cameron Parish 10th graders passed in even larger numbers than those statewide. The percentages for 11th graders were right at the state level.

In the parish, 91 percent of the 10th graders taking the English language arts section of the exit exam passed. Of those taking the test on mathematics, 87 percent passed. The test gauging writing skills is still being evaluated.

Statewide, the numbers showed 83 percent passed the language arts test and 76 percent successfully completed the math test. Based on pilot test results, the Department of Education had predicted an 80.3 percent pass rate on the English language arts test and 71 percent success in mathematics.

This class will be the first one required to successfully complete the five portions of the exam before receiving their high school diplomas. They will take tests on social studies and science next year.

Any student not passing the exam will be given remedial instruction in the area they failed and retake that portion. The catch-up courses will be offered during the summer or next school year.

Eleventh graders this year also scored better on the social studies and science portions of the exam than the department had predicted. They are not required to pass the exam before graduation but took the test as a comparison with pilot tests and next year's scores.

Seventy-seven percent of Cameron parish students taking the social studies exam passed, while 70 percent passed the science test. Statewide, 71 percent of the 11th graders passed the science test and 77 percent passed in social studies.

The department had estimated that 69 percent would pass in science and 70 percent would successfully complete the social studies exam.

While the results are better than expected, they indicate that many students have not learned the skills they should have during their tenure in high school. Superintendent of Education Wilmer Cody hopes that identifying their weak points two years before graduation will allow time for the extra help the students need, but he admits it may lead some to drop out.

Job openings

The U. S. Census Bureau has a number of job openings in this area for temorary workers to list household addresses for the 1990 census. The work is two to eight weeks.

Applications will be taken at the Hackberry recreation center, 10 a.m., June 19. Bring drivers license and Social Security Card.

The first American to enter the Olympic Pentathalon was George Patton, later, General Patton.

Chamber to ha[illegible] office

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce made plans to open an office in Cameron at their monthly meeting held at the Cameron Motel. Paul Coreil, Chamber president, announced that several buildings on main street had been offered to the Chamber to be used as an office and visitors center.

The old building east of the courthouse housing the now closed Leesburg Museum, which is owned by the Police Jury, was considered.

The newly remodeled building would be economical to operate, with expenses to include a nominal lease, utilities, insurance and a telephone.

Coreil reported that the telephone company has already donated funds to help get the office operable.

The Chamber agreed to contact the Police Jury for permission to use the building, which was closed down when the parish had to shut down several services a year ago. The Chamber agreed that a fund raiser to raise approximately $3,000 could be held once a year to cover costs.

During the summer months Vivian Saltzman will work for the Chamber through the Job-Match program.

It was suggested that the center could possibly contain a minimuseum.

The Chamber is now a member of the National U. S. Chamber of Commerce and Orrie Canik and Barbara Lou LeBlanc are working on brochures and oturism pamphlets.

A resolution commending the Cameron Parish Police Jury for their work with the FEMA problem was issued by the Chamber. The Police Jury was successful in getting the parish ground elevation for construction raised, in connection with the national flood insurance program.

Coreil announced that a Louisiana Open House workshop will be held July 6, at 10 a.m. at the Police Jury Annex building.

Mike Liffman, Assistant Director of the LSU Sea Grant program suggested in a letter to the Chamber that a survey be conducted to document the usage of the Cameron Jetties in an effort to keep it open to the public.

Ed Kelley volunteered to head the survey and is to meet with Liffman concerning the type of survey to be made. There is a possibility that the Jetties may be capped to make a safer place for public usage.

Business owners near Rutherford Beach are eager to see the beach become a tourist attraction again, and Police Juror Douaine Conner is concerned about the clean-up and maintenance of the beach. The Chamber voted to encourage the Police Jury to continue to clean the beach.

The Chamber also voted to contact the state highway department concerning erecting signs along Interstate 10 advertising the Gulf beaches.

Dinah Vaughn reported from the membership committee that new brochures have been printed and handed them out to members.

Ed Kelley reported from the tourism committee that the IMCAL meeting will be held June 29, at 1:30 p.m. at the Police Jury annex.

Rodney Guilbeaux reported from the Coastal Erosion committee that the CLEAN group had met in Lake Charles and discussed the bills that needed to be passed.

Robert Manuel encouraged everyone to participate in the two fishing rodeos to be held in July.

Bernard is Clergyman of the year

Seven members of the Clergy from the Catholic Dioceses of Alexandria, Lafayette and Lake Charles will be honored by the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus this summer, it has been announced by Easton J. Pitre of Golden Meadow, Master of the Fourth Degree for Louisiana.

The seven have been selected as "Clergyman of the Year" by their respective Fourth degree assemblies and will receive a certificate in recognition of their contributions to religion in their communities, Pitre said.

Those to be honored include Msgr. M. J. Bernard, pastor of Sacred Heart Parish in Creole, nominated by Msgr. Cramers Assembly, domiciled in Lake Charles.

The clergymen will receive their awards during the installation banquets of their respective assemblies this summer, Pitre explained.

Msgr. Bernard was ordained to the priesthood in 1952, and has beena ctive in the Knights of Columbus since 1953, when he joined as a member of Calcasieu Council 1207 in Lake Charles. He received the honors of the Fourth Degree in 19545 as a member of Msgr. Cramers Assembly.

A 12 member petit jury unanimously found Delister Williams, 54, P.O. Box 1142, Cameron, guilty of possession of marijuana with the intent to distribute and possession of cocaine with intent to distribute in 38th Judicial District Court this week.

Sponsors sought for the elderly

By DINAH B. VAUGHN,
Director, Cameron Council On Aging

The Cameron Council on Aging was forced to reduce the elderly feeding program by 50 percent. Over eighty senior citizens were dropped from the program due to a loss in funding.

We are seeking the help of individuals and organizations who might be able to sponsor or "Adopt an Elderly" person, to assure that the person receives the services they so desperately need.

By "Adopting an Elderly" person, you or your group or organization will supply the funds to serve a meal to the senior citizen on a daily basis. You will know the person's name and information concerning their condition. We are hoping to form a relationship between the "adoptor" and the "adoptee". The program can be both rewarding and enjoyable.

Transportation, homemaker, telephone assurance and other services may be adopted and the task performed by the adoptor. However, services may be purchased.

Meeting set

The state's new Shrimp Task Force will meet at 10 a.m. Wednesday, June 28, at the headquarters of the Lousiana Department of Wildlife and Fi-heries in Baton Rouge.

Items on the agenda include development of a temporary count size as a management standard for white shrimp in the fall season.

Registration

According to Ruby Kelley, Registrar of Voters for Cameron Parish, registration for July 22, 1989 Hackberry Fire Protection District #1, election, will close June 28, at the end of the working day.

Area girls who are between the years of 16 and 21 and have never been married may enter. The entry fee is $5.

The interview will be held at the Grand Chenier Methodist Church at 2 p.m.

Deadline to enter is Thursday, June 29. For more information contact Brenda Youdreaux at 542-4182 or Bobbie Primeaux at 542-4324.

State winning the war

Louisiana is winning the battle against brucellosis in cattle, State Veterinarian Dr. William B. Fairchild said in a recent visit to this area.

As of now there are 40 infected herds in Southwest Louisiana as compared to 87 a year ago, with 21 in Cameron and Calcasieu, 9 in Beaureugard and 10 in Vermilion.

Statewide, he said, there are presently 168 infected herds as compared to 354 a year ago.

Louisiana cattlemen had been warned by Commissioner of Agriculture Bob Odom last year that the state had to reduce its infection incidence to less than 360 herds by Oct. 1, 1988 and move from Class C to Class B category or the movement of virtually all cattle into other states would be stopped.

The state has surpassed these goals dropping from 657 infected herds in June 1987, to 367 last June and now to 168 herds.

The state's next goal, Dr. Fairchild said, was to get the total number of infected herds down to 65 by October, 1990, which would move Louisiana into a Class A status.

There are presently 27 states free of Brucellosis, 17 in Class A and 7 in Class B. Sharing Louisiana's position in Class B are Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and Kentucky.

Dr. Fairchild said that the Calcasieu, Cameron and Vermilion parish areas have had bad brucellosis problems because of the mixing of many herds owned by different cattlemen in the marsh areas.

He said that at one time Cameron parish had 200 infected herds and Vermilion had 150 herds. He said his department has had excellent cooperation from the cattlemen which has helped to start clearing up the problem.

Statewide, Dr. Fairchild said, there have been only two cattlemen in the past year who refused to have their cattle tested.

Brucellosis, also known as bangs, causes cows to abort their calves. It also can cause undulant fever in humans,and before pasturization, was a major threat.

By Loston McEvers

THREE BIG TOURNAMENTS

Our area will soon see three real good tournaments that quite a few of our local anglers take part in.

* The first is the Burton Sporting Goods Speckle Trout tournament, which will start Saturday, June 24, at 6 a.m. and end at 6 p.m.

The weigh-in headquarters will be at Dugas Landing in Hackberry. If you're in line by or before 6 p.m. your fish will be weighed.

The largest speckle trout will be worth $3,000.

* Another rodeo coming up is the Cameron Parish Fishing Rodeo, to be held at the Grand Chenier State Park, starting at 12:01 a.m. Friday, June 30, thru Sunday, at 3 p.m. There will be plenty of onshore activities for everyone.

There will be five groups in the fishing categories.

Group III - Fishermen in both divisions: Bluefish, Red Snapper, Bonito, Spadefish, Jack Crevallie, Spanish Mackeral, and Tripletail.

Group IV - Bay and Surf division only: Croaker, Saltwater Drum, Flounder, Shepherd, Gaftop Catfish, Speckle Trout, Garfish, White Trout, and Redfish.

There will be a ladies, junior and senior division in each category.

* Plans are underway for the second annual Cameron Summer Fishing Festival, which should open on July 27, with blessing of the fleet. Friday, a parade on Cameron's main street. This will also be a bay and surf tournament.

THINGS YOU MIGHT WANT TO KNOW

Did you read where an Amtrak train dumped their toilets when they crossed a bridge in Florida? That's a neat way to get rid of it, but this time there were two fishermen fishing below and you guessed it, the two fishermen soon found out it wasn't rain.

* Anglers over the age of 16 spent $28.1 billion on fishing tackle, boats, camping gear, fishing trips, magazines and other related items during 1985. Ten percent of the $28.1 billion was spent on fishing equipment.

Forty-six million Americans over the age of 16 went fishing; 39.8 million fished fresh wawter; 13.7 million fished saltwater; 31.4 million anglers were men and 15.0 million were women.

The five species of fish meat popular with freshwater anglers were: Black Bass, Panfish, catfish, Crappie and Trout. Saltwater fish were Striped Bass and Salmon, however, in our area it was Redfish, Speckle Trout, Red Snapper, Spanish and King Mackeral.

* The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission has expressed its intent to establish a recreational bag limit for Spanish and King Mackeral.

Limits of intent are 10 fish per person per trip for Spanish Mackeral; and 2 fish per person per trip for private boats and 3 fish per person per trip on charter boats (being the captain and crew cannot be counted) for King Mackeral.

People believe if you carry a potato with you, you will be healthy.

Bass club winners are announced here

The LeMesche Bass Club held their monthly club tournament last week with a poor catch of fish. The largest bass of the day was 2 lbs. 2 ozs.

The results were as follows, in order of placing:

Largest Stringer: Ricky Canik, Francis Basco, Carl Broussard, Gerald Richard, Rudy McEvers, Phillip Trosclair, Keno Nunez, Fredman Theriot and Darrell Boudoin.

Largest Team Stringer: Ricky Canik and Phillip Trosclair; Carl Broussard and Rudy McEvers; Gerald Richard and Keno Nunez; Francis Basco and Darren Thibodeaux; Fredman Teheriot and Darrell Boudoin.

Largest Bass: Francis Basco, Carl Broussard, Ricky Canik, Fredman Theriot, Rudy McEvers, Gerald Richard, Keno Nunez, Phillip Trosclair and Darrell Boudoin.

The meeting for July will be cancelled because of the July 4th weekend, but president Carl Broussard will get with each member to find out who each will be fishing with.

The month of July brings two club tournaments, one July 16, and one July 23. Each is a pick your own partner, so club members need to let Carl Broussard know who you'll be fishing with, or call Loston McEvers, club secretary, and let him know.

Saving Your Skin

Scientists have found ways to help prevent painful sunburn—a problem which may be much worse than many realize.

Byron Dickerson

Dickerson graduates

Byron C. Dickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. U. W. Dickerson of Ruston, graduated from Louisiana State University Medical School in Shreveport on June 3. He is a former student of Cameron Elementary School and South Cameron High School, a graduate of Ruston High School, and a magna cum laude graduate of Louisiana Tech.

Dr. Dickerson will begin his residency in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Ochsner Foundation in New Orleans on July 1, 1989.

Dr. Dickerson's father was the former Cameron Parish School Superintendent.

New cordgrass used in halt of erosion

The U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the Louisiana Agricultural Experiment Station have jointly released a new variety of smooth cordgrass for use in halting the erosion of coastal marshlands.

Apartina alterniflora Loisel var. Vermilion is the scientific name of the new cordgrass release.

Plant scientists selected Vermilion from an extensive collection of East Coast and Gulf of Mexico varieties of smooth cordgrass assembled and tested at the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Golden Meadow Plant Materials Center in Lafourche Parish.

Through field trials conducted by SCS, the Experiment Station and others, soil and plant scientists demonstrated that use of vegetative plantings of Vermilion is a low cost restoration and enhancement technique that has application in all coastal basins and across a wide range of habitat types from freshwater swamps to saline marshes.

Experiments with the new grass variety showed that vegetative planting and seeding retarded the conversion of marsh to open water, a process that has recently resulted in the loss of as much as 50 square miles of marsh a year along the Louisiana coast.

The grass also reduces erosion of lake shorelines, canal banks, dunes and other marsh-water interfaces, thus permitting the re-establishment of emergent wetland vegetation.

Introduction of Vermilion by the SCS and the Experiment Station, a unit of the LSU Agricultural Center, will ensure the availability of quality plant materials for use in coastal reclamation projects.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

Pioneers of Calcasieu Parish, Volume 2 continues with 35 more excellent articles by Nola Mae Wittler about the builders of Calcasieu Parish and their families.

First compiled as features regularly published in a newspaper, these expertly researched and recounted true tales are taken from records as well as "family diaries, letters and legends".

Each article unfolds as a genealogy of its featured southwest Louisiana pioneer(s), their children and grandchildren as romance and adventure are entwined with the history.

CALCASIEU PIONEERS

Just some of the names from early Calcasieu Parish: Charles Sallier and Catherine LeBleu who married in 1805; Arsene LeBleu descended from pioneer settlers of the 1770s who assembled the first Calcasieu Parish Police Jury at his home in 1840; Joseph C. LeBleu and Laonise Hebert who married in 1867.

Pierre Vincent who originally settled near Bayou D'Inde c1817 and married Sally, one of Jacob Ryan's daughters; St. Germain Alcendor Elender who came to this area c1820 and in 1829 married Rebecca, another Ryan daughter.

Adolph W. Wehrt who emigrated from Germany to the Gulf Coast in 1861, married Mary Hayse Ryan; Captain George Lock who in 1869 married Ellen, daughter of Captain Daniel Goos; J. Albert Bel who in 1879 married Della, another of the Goos daughters; Captain Conrad Funk who emigrated from Germany in 1859 and married Madora, another Goos daughter.

Dr. E. J. Lyons born 1839 near the Sabine River, in 1861 married Tabitha J. Robinson; Dr. Abram Moss born 1843 near Opelousas, married 1st Winifred Hayes of Plaquemine Brulee and 2nd, after moving to Lake Charles, in 1868 married Mary Leanna Clements.

Allen Jefferson Perkins, Sr. whose father, Reese Washington Perkins in 1824 had settled south of DeQuincy, in 1854 married Margaret Andrus whose parents had moved in 1840 from St. Landry Parish to Choupique; David Frank Levingston whose family emigrated to America from Ireland c1848, he married Irene Carolina Lee in Lake Charles c1870s.

David John Reid, first elected sheriff of Calcasieu Parish in 1858, who had moved there in 1855 from St. Martinville with his wife, Mathilde Veasey, and their three children, in 1868 was appointed first district judge for Imperial Calcasieu Parish. David H. Lyons of Bayou Choupique elected in 1874 was the first of the Lyons family to serve as Calcasieu Parish sheriff.

From the article Reids and Lyons: Early Sheriffs, "Between 1858 and 1980, members of the Reid and Lyons families served a total of 120 years as chief law enforcement officers for Calcasieu Parish . . . six members of the Reid family served as sheriff for combined terms of more than a century."

There are hundreds more of names and relationships in this collection of 35 separate articles accompanied by photographs on almost every page. The emphasis is on what these pioneers and their families accomplished in Calcasieu Parish and their influence on development of the area.

Well told, the articles make very interesting reading.

(Lake Charles American Press, June 20, 1913)
CAMERON LAND TO BE RECLAIMED

The following from the New Orleans Item will be of interest to both Calcasieu and Cameron readers:

Chicago and New York capitalists and land operators, backed by millions of dollars of assets, have just acquired by purchase, 106,000 acres of Louisiana marsh land at a price of $265,000, one-half of which was paid over in cash. The deal was completed Friday by Perry Ulrich, capitalist, of Chicago, and the papers in the big transaction are being recorded this Saturday by Attorney John Dymond, Jr., in Cameron and Vermilion parishes, where the land is located.

This is said to be one of the largest land deals ever consummated in the south and it involves vast reclamation plans that mean ultimately the expenditure of several million dollars in drainage and improvement work.

The purchasers are men of wealth and said to be able to finance amply the complete development of the purchase. Although the development plans are not given out in detail, it is said the immediate improvement of the big tract is contemplated.

Mr. Ulrich, who is in New Orleans at the St. Charles Hotel, gave out these details of the mammoth deal:

"The tract of 106,000 acres lies to the south of White Lake and skirts the gulf coast for 30 miles. It is all in one body, bounded on the west by the Mermentau River and stretching over to the Grand Chenier ridge.

"About 25,000 acres of the land lies in Vermilion Parish and the balance in Cameron.

"The deal involves about $265,000, one-half of which was paid in cash. I am not at liberty to give out the details of the development that is to follow, but I can say that the purchasers are in condition to finance the development, and they do not think it shall remain idle for a minute longer than necessary.

Two companies have been formed to develop this tract. The Louisiana Land & Mining Company has taken over 86,000 acres and the Cameron Parish Land & Development Company has taken 20,000. New York and Chicago capitalists are back of each.

"Mr. Dymond will be the direct representative of the developers. I understand that since the first papers were drawn in the transfer of this tract the purchasers have had offers for the sale of a part of it at a price much higher than the average cost per acre to them."

Mr. Dymond left New Orleans Friday night to complete the filing of the papers in the parishes where the land is located. He will return to New Orleans early next week, Mr. Ulrich said.

Mr. Ulrich has been a land operator in Louisiana for years. His brother and father also have extensive land holdings in the state. He gave it as his opinion that the state is due to receive a vast advancement in the way of agricultural improvement, and declared that land capitalists in the north and east held the marsh lands of Louisiana in high regard.

CAMERON GRAND JURY TERM

Judge Porter and Assistant District Attorney Robira returned from holding a grand jury term of court in Cameron Parish Tuesday noon. Only one case, one for wife desertion, was tried during this term and the grand jury returned one bill of indictment.

The report of the inquisitorial body, signed by Lloyd Vaughn as foreman and D. G. Jones as clerk, was as follows:

"To the Honorable Judges of the Fourteenth Judicial District Court, sitting in and for the parish of Cameron:

"We the Grand Jury, duly impaneled and sworn to and for the parish of Cameron, beg leave to submit this our final report:

"After listening to the able and lucid charge of the court, we retired to the chamber of our deliberation where we found in waiting witnesses previously summoned, with the result that we examined eight cases, finding one true bill and seven not true bills.

"As your honor will see from this, the affairs of the parish, in so far as criminal law violations are concerned, is in a most satisfactory condition; for this condition we attribute the splendid administration of the laws by those charged with their enforcement.

"Another factor largely contributing to this is the splendid advancement being made in our school system. We are advised that the school board, under the able management of the superintendent of education, has raised the period of schools from eight months to eight and one-half months; that while the parish is as yet unable to maintain a high school, that the grades have been so arranged that one year of high school enables the children who go through to complete a high school course. The attendance is better throughout the parish, and a general interest being taken in schools generally. The teachers are all of a very high order and we look forward to the day when this parish will support its own high school.

"The roads of the parish are in as good condition as can be expected, considering the limited means at hand.

"We examined the jail and find it in as good condition as can be possible until such time as a modern prison can be erected.

"We likewise find the court building in good condition, the offices all well kept.

"We wish to thank the court for assistance given us, the sheriff and clerk of court for prompt and efficient services rendered, and the assitant district attorney for the able and efficient services rendered this body."

In addition to Judge Porter and Assistant District Attorney Robira, the following attorneys were in attendance on this term of court in Cameron: J. R. Fontenot, E. D. Miller, Minos Miller of Jennings and A. R. Mitchell and Alfred Barbe of Lake Charles.

LAKESIDE LACONICS

Miss Mary, Lucia and Henry Miller decided to take a vacation and departed last Saturday for Iota, Eunice and neighboring towns. They will put in about a month having a good time among their relatives and friends. We miss them but wish them a good time. Henry Miller will return in a week and will tell us all about the farmers meeting at Eunice. He expects to join and will be able to give us interesting talk on their work.

Albert Miller is now chief housekeeper and with the aid of his friend Mr. Eaves, manages to have a good time. Last Sunday, he caught a big alligator, 9 ft. 8 in. which he has penned in the barn preparatory to shipping north.

Last week Alcide Teal, Jr., killed a 12 foot 'gator.

The Lowry pumping plant boiler blew out three flues last week, caused by the encrusting of salt from the water from the river.

Capt. Geo. Haliburton planted 10 lbs. of Irish Cobbler potatoes about Feb. 1st, and about June 1st gathered a crop of 6 bushels from them, numbers of them weighing 1½ lbs. apiece. Millers also gathered from some Bliss Triumphs and Early Rose an equal proportionate crop.

Summer often hard on landscape plants

Louisiana's summer days are often hard on ornamental landscape plants and increase demands on homeowners to keep plants in a healthy, attractive condition.

"It is important for gardeners to be prepared to help plants through the hottest, driest days of June, July and August," says horticulturist Dr. Tom Pope of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service.

He says that the first step in getting plants ready for summer stresses is the initial ornamental plant selection. Some plants will harden themselves against drought and constant high temperatures and demand a minimum of summer care. The state's long, hot summers rule out many plants that are traditional favorites in the northern climates.

During the summer, water becomes extremely important for plant growth and survival. Because continual watering is often costly and time consuming, it pays to conserve existing moisture around established plantings.

The best way to do that is by mulching, Pope notes. Mulching is especially critical for new plantings, since they may have a rather limited root system. A good mulch will not only retain valuable moisture needed for plant growth, but it will also help to improve a plant's chances of survival in other ways.

"A mulch acts as a soil insulator," says Pope. "It protects soil from drying and lessens the baking effects of the hot sun and winds. Mulched soils are cooler and generally show less fluctuation in temperatures. Cooler, more even temperatures and less moisture evaporation from the soil surface enable plants to grow at a more constant, less stressful rate."

Mulches, which greatly conserve soil moisture, also break the force of rain and irrigation water, thereby preventing erosion, soil compaction and crusting.

Pine straw and pine bark are two natural Louisiana products that make attractive, long-lasting mulches. Two to three inches of mulch under shrubs and landscape beds will last about a year.

Other gardening tips are available from your local county agent at the parish Extension office.

Ask Ochsner

Q. What is hay fever and what can be done for it? During the spring, I have such a severe problem with watering eyes and sneezing, it is almost unbearable.

A. Hay fever is a very common condition that can occur in about 10 percent of the population, says Dr. Michael S. Blaiss, head of the allergy and immunology department at Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans. The words "hay fever" were coined in England by those who experienced it about the turn of the century. It refers to the reactions suffered by those persons "exposed to hay", but no fever was experienced. It was later determined that the reactions were actually caused by mold spores growing in the hay.

The medical term for hay fever is allergic rhinitis. There are two types of hay fever -- seasonal and perennial. Seasonal hay fever is caused by tree pollen in spring, grass pollen in summer, and weed, such as ragweed, during the fall. Hay fever experienced year round is caused by dust, mold and hair of animals, usually house pets like cats and dogs.

Ask Ochsner . . .

Q. What is Parkinson's disease and have there been any recent developments in arresting or treating the disease?

A. Parkinson's disease is a degenerative brain disease in which a specific group of nerve cells in the brain slowly deteriorate, says Dr. Richard L. Strub, neurologist at the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans. This deterioration causes an imbalance between two chemicals in the brain, dopamine and acetylcholine, which control the transmission of nerve impulses.

The chemical imbalance results in a group of symptoms characteristic to those with Parkinson's disease. They include a tremor, rigidity in the arms and legs, slowness of movement and thought, and loss of equilibrium. Mental depression often occurs in this disease and is actually a part of the disease and not a reaction to the physical disability.

The cause of the most common form of the disease is not known. In a small percentage of the cases the disease is hereditary. Recently, there has been a suggestion that environmental toxins may somehow be involved, however, this is merely speculative at this time.

No treatment has been found that slows the progression of Parkinson's disease, but modern treatments have given many with the illness relief from its symptoms. The most common techniques use one drug which decreases the acetylcholine and another which increases the dopamine in order to restore the chemical balance. However, the drugs used may produce side effects, and Dr. Strub says the patients must be monitored closely.

New drugs and other techniques are constantly being developed. One involves the possible use of Vitamin E along with an antidepressant which, when combined, seems to block the entrance of toxins possibly arresting the progression of the disease in some cases. It will be several years until the results of this study are complete.

More immediate prospects are the developments of new forms of the current medication. Although they are not on the market yet, long acting forms of the dopamine-increasing drugs seem to be promising. The benefits of this form of medication include a less frequent dosage with a more sustained benefit to patients and the possibility of a decrease in side effects, concludes Dr. Strub.

Q. How can we avoid insect stings and bites during the summer?

A. Insect stings and bites are among the most underrated hazards of summer. Studies have shown that 30 to 40 people die each year from an allergic reaction to an insect sting.

The most common insects that are apt to cause an allergic reaction are those of the hymenopteria family, says Michael D. Blaiss, allergist in allergy and immunology and the Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans. "These insects are better known to us as honeybees, wasps, hornets and fire ants."

He offers the following precautions to help avoid stings and bites:

1. When venturing out of doors, wear neutral-colored clothing. Brightly colored clothes make you "attractive" to insects.

2. Wear shoes and socks to prevent ant bites. If possible, wear light-weight long sleeves to protect your arms against bee stings.

3. Perfumes, hair sprays, suntan lotions, some insect repellents and other scented cosmetics will attract flying insects. Avoid these as they may attract bees, wasps and yellow jackets.

Dr. Blaiss says that almost everyone suffers some type of reaction after being stung or bitten. Usually, swelling at the site of the wound and redness will occur, disappearing within 24 hours. At times, the swelling may last from two to three days.

"The most severe reaction to stings or bites can cause hives, bodily swelling, a decrease in blood pressure and arrested breathing. In a case like this, the person should be rushed to an emergency room for immediate treatment," Dr. Blaiss emphasizes.

Building Your Child's Basic Learning Skills: Who's Responsible?

Glenn Hogen, Ph.D.
V.P. Education, Sylvan Learning Corporation

When children's learning progress does not live up to the expectations of parents, they are tempted to lay the blame at the schoolhouse door.

But today, school systems and professional educaors are stressed beyond belief. Classroom sizes across North America average 17 to 25 students, making it all but impossible for teachers to provide individualized attention.

Yet the National Commission on Excellence in Education (NCEE) tells parents, "You have the right to demand for your children the best our schools and universities can provide."

But giving children an education that will equip them to compete in a global job market involves more than merely dropping them off under the porticos of their schools.

The NCEE report warns, "As surely as you are your child's first and most influential teacher, your child's ideas about education and its significance begin with you.

"You bear a responsibility to participate actively in your child's education. You should encourage more diligent study and discourage satisfaction with mediocrity."

Your participation is most critical in building your child's fundamental skills. For instance, you can have a profound impact on his or her reading skills, the foundation to all learning processes.

Here are some helpful ideas:

- Read to your preschool age child. Invite his participation by discussing stories and accompanying pictures. Encouraging him to link sounds to words and letters will help him learn the connection between reading and the written word. Such sessions should be frequent; limited by his attention span; and enjoyable for both you and your child.
- Relate what you've read to life around the preschooler. Opportunities abound everywhere you go.
- Listen to your older child read. Be helpful, but don't read for him. Positive support and reinforcement are critical.
- Discuss what is read with your young reader to facilitate comprehension and retention.
- Support your child's reading activity. Be willing to take him to the library. Urge him to participate in reading programs; foster reading as a leisure-time activity; and limit television viewing as a substitute for reading. Emphasize that reading is for fun, as you reinforce the need to become more efficient in reading classroom assignments.
- Encourage appropriate study habits and lovingly monitor his progress in school.

Developing good reading skills is essential to proper study habits. For free information on how to help your child develop improved study habits, read The Guide to Good Studying. Call 1-800-521-2900. Or write to Sylvan Learning Corporation, P.O. Box 5605, Montgomery, Alabama 36103-5605.

Lower Cameron parish once served by many schooners

(EDITOR'S NOTE--The following article was one of many that were written in 1970 in observance of Cameron Parish's Centennial celebration)

By NORMAN & JOYCE McCALL

Far to the southwest, out over the gulf a sail appeared, and within the hour a two masted schooner was in sight. Horses were quickly saddled and the team hurriedly hitched to the wagon so that the whole family might go to the Bluff and meet the boat when she landed.

This happy and exciting occasion occurred time and again in the early days of Cameron Parish because until 1931, their only access with the outside world was by water. From 1870 to about 1910 most of lower Cameron Parish shipped local products such as oranges, cotton and fur, received supplies, or traveled by schooner to Galveston, Tex.

George Locke owned by Capt. Bill Laurent was one such vessel; others were the D. Herbert owned by Capt. Charles Nelson, the E. O. Gladys owned by Alcide Miller and the Weaver, Clair Ida, Lark and the Pat Christian. Most of these two masted schooners were from 50 to 60 feet in length, had 16 to 19 feet beam, and drew 4 to 7 feet of water.

From 1891 to 1945 river boats made scheduled runs on both the Mermentau and Calcasieu Rivers. From 1891 to 1912 the Olive, a double decked stern wheeler made two trips a week from Mermentau to Grand Chenier, carrying freight, livestock and passengers. From 1910 until the 1930's when roads and automobiles were introduced into Cameron Parish, several other boats were in operation on the Mermentau; The Tuebor owned by Adam Nunez, the White Lily owned by Joe and Adam Nunez, Bert Vincent's Summer Girl, Lucien Miller's Eva, the Vaughn's Spy and the Winnona owned by Alcide Miller and Sons. As late as 1927 through the 1930's Mr. Henry McCall made two trips a week from Grand Chenier to Lake Arthur carring mail, freight and passengers with his boat the Margie.

Before the highway from Hackberry to Cameron was opened in 1931, Cameron's only link with the towns to the north, was the Calcasieu River. Around the turn of the century, the steamer Romeo carried the mail south from Lake Charles. But of all the boats that sailed the waters of lower Cameron Parish, the one everyone seems to remember or know about is the old stern wheeled steamer, the Borealis Rex.

The Rex was a typical Mississippi river boat with multiple decks and tall smoke stacks. It has been said that before her owners began her run on the Calcasieu, she had been actively engaged in commerce on the Mississippi. The Rex ran from Lake Charles to Cameron on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, returning on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

She carried passengers, mail, freight, groceries, cotton, building materials and any other articles which the community had to buy or sell. Perhaps she is so well remembered because of her resounding name, her importance to the population and the fact that her services continued until shortly before the first highway was complete in 1931.

With the building of roads to lower Cameron Parish, there was no longer a need for the river boats, but the development of the oil and fishing industries created a demand for a new type of boat. In 1937 James & Randolph Fawvor built two diesel powered boats for fishing shrimp, the James N. Fawvor and the Marie A. F. These boats were about 45 feet long with a 12 foot beam and were considered to be the most modern and efficient boats of their kind. The shrimp boats being constructed today are steel hulls with diesel power and are up to 90 feet in length.

In 1948 various oil companies began drilling for oil in the Gulf of Mexico. Cameron served as a base for some of these operations. Early in the development of the offshore oil industry, wooden fishing and surplus navy boats such as the K. A. Covell, a 136 foot wooden hull owned by Pure Oil Companhy were converted for their use. As in the fishing industry, these boats were soon replaced by steel or aluminum hulls built for speed or cargo capacity.

Correct fan use told

Before the days of air conditioning the hand-held fan was a necessity in Cameron. There were palmetto fans, cardboard ones, and the dainty folding ones carried by ladies when they attended church or socials.

My grandmother and my mother each told me of the unspoken language associated with the fan. By it a woman might declare her status or use it in a flirtatious manner. The following ways are some that I recall:

To fan very slowly: "I am married." To fan very quickly: "I am engaged." Twirling the fan in the left hand: "We are watched." To open and shut the fan several times: "You are cruel." Drawing the fan across the eyes: "I am sorry."

Drawing the fan across the cheek or to cover the left ear with the open fan: "I love you." Presenting the fan shut: "Do you love me?" Placing the fan near the heart: "You have won my love." To press the half-opened fan to the lips: "You may kiss me."

To shut the full open fan slowly: "I promise to marry you." Drawing the fan through the hand: "I hate you." Letting the fan rest on the right cheek: "Yes." On the left cheek: "No." To open the fan wide: "Wait for me."

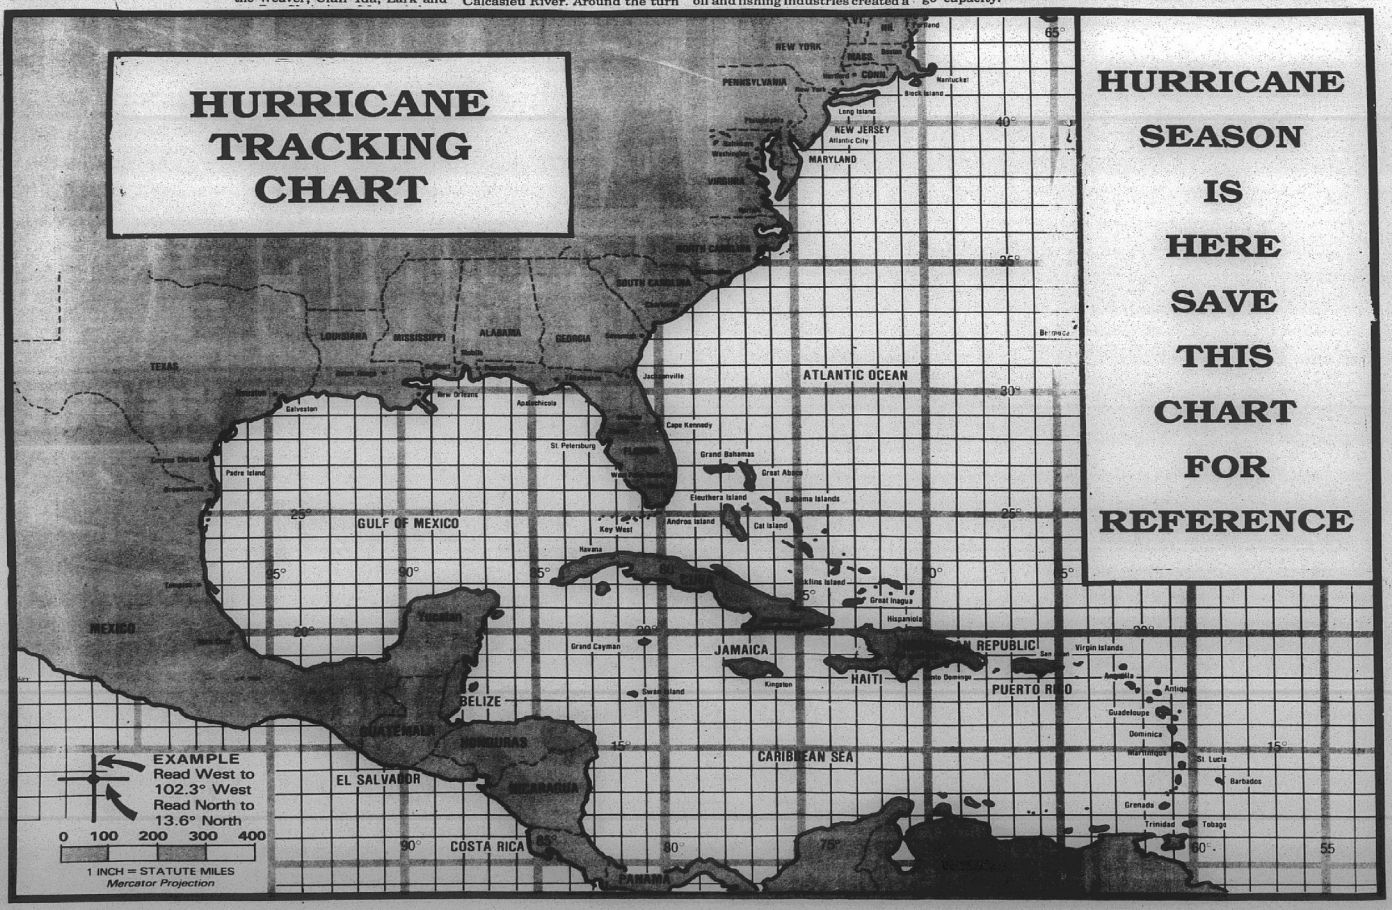
It would seem that the young man as well as the young lady must have learned the langugage of the fan. Although such maneuvers seem silly to us today, we must remember how carefully chaperoned young ladies were in earlier days. The language of the fan provided excitement.

If a girl dropped her fan, a suitor might stealthily kiss her hand as he picked it up. If she forgot her fan, she was providing him with an opportunity to return it to her.

How times have changed!

4-H youngsters will go to short course

More than 2,000 boys and girls from all 64 Louisiana parishes will compete for educational trips and other awards at the 75th annual 4-H Short course to be held on the LSU campus here, June 20-22.



"Short Course marks a high point of a year of educational experiences for the boys and girls," says Dr. Norma Roberts, division leader for 4-H with the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service. "In addition to competition in nearly 50 project areas, it's a time for them to share fellowship and exchange ideas with club members from throughout the state."

Theme of this year's Short Course is "4-H Sparkles and Shines in '89". This year's program is part of the diamond Anniversary of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service, parent organization of 4-H in the state. Most of the 80,000 youths, ages 9 through 19, in the program are enrolled in clubs at their schools.

Motivational speaker at Wednesday night's general session at the Assembly will be Stanley "Skip" Bertman, coach of the LSU baseball team that recently fin-

'Giant ... s field' found ... S'lake

(From Houston Chronicle)

The stocks of Transco Energy Co. and Transco Exploration Partners Ltd., its 74 percent owned affiliate, soared Thursday on news that Transco Exploration has an interest in a significant natural gas find in Louisiana.

Transco Exploration (TXP) gained 2 to 11¾ , its highest closing price in almost two years. TXP was the fifth most actively traded issue on the New York Stock Exchange and posted the largest percentage gain of NYSE-listed stocks. Transco Energy climbed 1⅝ to 44¾ .

On Wednesday, TXP announced that Exxon Company U.S.A. had made a significant natural gas find on South Louisiana lease where TXP has a major interest. The company said Exxon's Sweet Lake No. 1 on the West Chalkley prospect "encountered what appears to be significant potentially productive gas-bearing sands totaling between 475 and 500 feet."

Electric logs and core samples of the formation have been taken, but the well will not be tested for production capacity until about mid-July, said John H. Lollar, president of Transco Exploration Partner

Neither Exxon nor Transco disclosed a reserves estimate for the discovery. Lollar said additional wells will be drilled to determine the dimensions of the field.

Although speculation about the size of the discovery has ranged from 500 billion cubic feet to 3 trillion cubic feet, industry sources familiar with the West Chalkley prospect put the figure at around 1 trillion cubic feet of natural gas.

If confirmed, the Sweet Lake find would be TXP's largest single property.

A natural gas find of 1 trillion cubic feet is equal to approximately 160 million barrels of oil. In the United States, a discovery with reserves of 100 million barrels of oil or 600 billion cubic feet of natural gas is considered a "giant field".

The thickness of the potential producing interval or "pay zone" in the Sweet Lake well is one reason for the high reserves estimates, said Eugene Nowak, an analyst with Dean Witter Reynolds in New York.

For example, a 1984 natural gas discovery by Exxon in the Gulf of Mexico had a pay zone 350 feet thick. Exxon said the find had reserves equal to at least 600 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Nowak said a typical U.S. well has a producing interval between 50 and 75 feet thick, and in some wells the pay zone measures only a few feet.

Exxon acquired the West Chalkley prospect, from TXP earlier this year. TXP retained a 5 percent overriding royalty interest in the property, which will convert to a 35 percent working interest in the revenues when Exxon has recovered all of its expenses.

TXP and Exxon hold leases on 960 acres surrounding the discovery, which is located about 15 miles southeast of Lake Charles, near the tiny community of Hackettes Corner. Exxon also has leased additional acreage in the area from Sweet Lake Land & Oil Co., which owns the property.

Cliffs Drilling Co. of Houston is the drilling contractor on the Sweet Lake well. Currently, the well is drilling below 15,111 feet, headed for a permitted target of 16,500 feet.

The productive zones are located in a Frio sand between 13,000 and 14,900 feet.

Tornado destroys homes at S'lake

By SHIRLEY HAUPT

The first tropical storm of the season inched across Southwest Louisiana Tuesday causing tornadoes, heavy rainfall, flooding and power outages.

A tornado ripped through Hackberry shortly after 8 a.m. Tuesday injuring two people and damaging 12 homes before moving on.

A tornado totally destroyed three or four of the homes, blew the roofs off others and caused extensive damage to buildings.

A second tornado touched down at the federal Strategic Petroleum Reserve, causing heavy damage.

SPR spokeswoman Cindi Nelson in New Orleans said the twister touched down near the SPR facility in Hackberry where millions of barrels of oil are stored in salt dome caverns thousands of feet below ground, but no damage was reported.

Nelson said that Emergency Response teams from SPR helped with the cleanup but that a tornado had not touched down at the facility.

The tornado caused extensive damage in Hackberry, and heavy rains from the edge of a dying tropical depression flooded ditches and covered roads in the western and central portions of Louisiana.

The tornado apparently touched down in the Lake Breeze subdivision, breaking trees, damaging carports and mobile homes, then skipped west, randomly touching again.

Paul Michon and his wife, Debbie, were renovating a mobile home in the Domingue Trailer Park when the mobile home exploded, Cameron Parish Sheriff's Deputy Ronnie Swire said.

Swire said the couple was Ferry tolls set

State ferry boats will begin charging drivers $1 per round trip July 1, at all locations except in the New Orleans area where tolls begin July 5, according to Transportation and Development Secretary Neil Wagoner.

Wagoner says imposition of tolls on the state's previously free ferry service has been prompted by drastic cuts in recent years of state general funds budgeted for the Statewide Marine Program. He says this has placed DOTD in the position of either charging tolls or discontinuing service.

He adds that vehicle tolls will only be collected for westside to eastside crossings. In contrast, pedestrians will pay 25 cents in both directions while the elderly and handicapped will ride free of charge at all times. Evidence of elderly and/or handicapped status must be demonstrated by an identification card issued by any of the parishes' transit operators.

Revenues from six of the ferries, at Edgard/Reserve, Plaquemine/Sunshinre, New Roads/St. Francisville, Cameron/Ship Channel, Cameron/Monkey Island, and Duty/Enterprise, will generate an estimated gross of $681,721 a year, only about 10 percent of the total expenses involved in operating the six ferries, Wagoner noted.

The three ferry operations in the New Orleans area, Chalmette/Lower Algiers, Canal Street/Algiers, and Jackson Avenue/Gretna, are expected to bring in $1,368,396 or about 20 percent of total expenses involved in operating the three sites.

Two other state-operated ferries at Melville and White Castle are being discontinued on the same date, and a third ferry servicing Angola from New Roads is being taken over by the Department of Safety and Corrections, Wagoner added.

DOTD estimates the institution of tolls will cost regular pedestrian users between $100 and $125 annually. Wagoner says all of the funds generated from the tolls will be applied to the construction, improvement, repair, maintenance and operation of ferry facilities and properties.

JOBLESS RATE HAS BIG DROP

Cameron parish's unemployment rate dropped nearly 3 percent from April to May to give the parish the second lowest unemployment rate in Louisiana. Only Lincoln parish (Ruston) had a lower jobless rate--4.6 percent.

According to the Louisiana Dept. of Labor the unemployment rate in Cameron dropped from 9.8 percent in April to 7 percent in May, as compared to a 9.7 percent rate for May a year ago.

Cameron's 7 percent rate was much lower than the 9.4 percent rate for the state but is still higher than the national rate of 5 percent.

According to the report, out of a labor force of 4,825 persons, 4,500 were employed and only 325 unemployed in the parish during May.

A year ago the Labor Dept. said there were 450 persons in Cameron unemployed out of a labor force of 4,650.

"WELCOME TEXANS" sign hangs on the Mobil Oil Corp. office building on the Jettie road. Mobil has closed down the Freeport, Tex. operations and moved everything to Cameron, as of Monday.

JURY PROTESTS

Garner Nunez, parish administrator, writing on behalf of the Cameron Parish Police Jury wrote to Gov. Roemer, Senator Doland and Rep. Roach as follows:

"We are aware that the state is in a terrible financial situation. We in Cameron Parish are in the same situation. We are, however, opposed to our citizens paying a toll or fee for any type of state services since the State of Louisiana derives millions of dollars from Cameron Parish oil revenues.

"Your help in removing these tolls for our citizens because of Cameron Parish's unique contributions to the State as a whole would be appreciated by the Cameron Parish Police Jury and applauded by the citizens of Cameron Parish. As you are aware, we are one parish who voted in support of your fiscal reform."

Meeting reset

Due to the Fourth of July holiday, the Cameron Parish Police Jury's monthly claims meeting, which was set for Thursday, June 29, has been cancelled and the regular meeting, which was set for Tuesday, has been changed to Wednesday, July 5, at 10 a.m.

Ship to operate from Pensacola

A casino-equipped cruise ship, once slated to operate out of Cameron, will begin operating from Pensacola, Fla., by Saturday, its owners say.

The Panamanian-registered La. Cruise has been here undergoing repairs since April after losing a March 22, court decision that prevented it from berthing at its intended home port in Cameron.

A Louisiana court ruled its slot machines and other gambling equipment could be seized if it remained in Lousiana.

The ship, built in 1979 as a containerized freight vessel, is equipped with a dining room, sundeck, entertainment area and casino outfitted with eight blackjack tables, 202 slot machines, a roulette wheel and dice table. It is berthed in downtown Pensacola near the aircraft carrier USS Lexington.

"We're selling tickets for Saturday, but we hope to sail by Wednesday," said Don Miller, chairman of the newly renamed Pensacola Cruise Line, formerly Holiday Cruises.

Evening cruises are planned every Wednesday through Saturday with daylight trips also set for Saturdays and Sundays. The ship will cruise 12 to 15 miles into international waters where gambling is legal and then return to port. Ticket prices are $49 except Friday and Saturday evening cruises that cost $10 more.

Miller became chairman after giving the company, formerly owned solely by the Ellis fmaily of Pearwood, Tex., an infusion of capital when the ship was moved to Pensacola. Robert Ellis III remains as president, but other family members have withdrawn from active participation.

Meeting set

The Coastal Concern meeting will be June 30, at 7 p.m. at the Police Jury Annex building. Election of new officers will be held.

MUSINGS . . . . . By Bernice Denny

Thoughts on the Fourth

As surely as the Fourth of July rolls around, we hear much about the freedmon of our land--freedom from this and freedom from that. Grateful are we for these promises of freedom.

May we also remember that true freedom, whether for an individual or a nation, lies in being free for something as well as being free from something.

Perhaps we have talked so long about the rights to which we are entitled that too many without virtue and understanding have taken up the chant, have made it their war cry, and are forcing their lawlessness upon another's inherent right to liberty and life.

They have failed to recognize that their freedom must stop before it encroaches upon the rights and well-being of others. They have failed to face the fact that to become free they must first become masters of their weaknesses.

Freedom from want does not give them the right to steal, nor freedom from oppression the right to kill. Neither does freedom from a poor paying job equate with the right to make a fortune in the dope trade.

"No free government, or the blessings of liberty," said Patrick Henry, "can be preserved to any people but by a firm adherence to justice, moderation, temperance, frugality, and virtue, and by a frequent recurrence to fundamental principles."

In the above words the great patriot has given us guidelines for preserving our freedom. The secret is to employ individual startegy in this offensive drive by developing the qualities enumerated by Patrick Henry.

The secret of success in any government is in wise employment of justice for all.

President Eisenhower expressed the idea in these words: "Though force can protect in emergency, only justice, fairness, consideration, and cooperation can finally lead men to the dawn of eternal peace."

If individuals and political parties ever learn to temper their ambition with wisdom and moderation, our federal, state, and local governments will be spared many a scandal.

Temperance and frugality go hand in hand. They eliminate waste, cut down on that which is superfluous, and benefit that which is essential. Eventually they could lead us to a golden harvest of freedom.

Virtue frees a people to exert all their faculties to do good not only for themselves but also for their country.

On this Fourth of July may we rededicate our lives to the principles of freedom--freedom to choose the right and to eradicate the wrong, freedom to secure capable leaders in high places, freedom to improve our educational facilities and to conserve our ecology, freedom to balance more wisely our affluence and our poverty, freedom to bring about internal peace as well as to avoid external conflict.

Our nation was founded upon high principles and ideals. Let us rededicate ourselves to upholding those freedoms expressed in our Constitution and our Bill of Rights.

Again we quote from President Eisenhower: "All our freedoms are a single bundle. All must be secure if any is to be preserved."

STATE KEY Club award and High Point Achivement Day winners Shannon Carroll and Cecilia Walthers, Hackberry Senior 4-Hers, are shown above with trophies.

Felicianas are subject of new book

"The Majesty of the Felicianas" photography by Paul Malone, text by Lee Malone, publ. by Pelican Publishing Co., available in bookstores, 96 pg., $15.95 hc

Reviewed by MARIE WISE

In Louisiana's East Feliciana and West Feliciana Parishes, some of the most spectacular examples of antebellum architecture in the nation still survive.

Before the Civil War "Cotton was King" in the South and owners of the huge cotton plantations were some of the richest men in the country. Competing with each other to build houses that would reflect their great wealth, these cotton barons spared no expense in the construction of plalatial mansions and elaborate gardens.

Importing builders from New Orleans, materials from the Mississipi Valley and furnishings from Europe, these wealthy Feliciana planters completed their mansions in the lovely area just east of the Mississippi River and bordered on the north by the state of Mississippi.

Now this beauty is in a book, The Majesty of the Felicianas, the third such by master photographer Paul Malone and his wife, Lee, whose history and description of each house matches the photos in excellence.

With words and pictures — there are more than 150 photographs in full color — these two authors take you visiting to: Afton Villa Gardens, Asphodel, Camilla Leake Barrow House, Bonnie Burn, Brame-Bennett House, Catalpa, and Centenary College.

Also: Clinton Courthouse and Lawyers' Row, The Cottage, Ellerslie, Glencoe, Greenwood, Highland, Lakeview, Lane Plantation Home, Live Oak, Locust Grove Cemetery, Marston House, Milbank, The Myrtles, Oakland, Oakley, and The Oaks.

Misso resigns from Dept.

By Loston McEvers

BOB MISSO DEPARTS

Bob Misso, assistant secretary of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, who was very outspoken and spoken about, has resigned suddenly. He will return to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington, D. C.

Misso, a native of the Shreveport-Bossier City area, a boyhood friend of Governor Buddy Roemer, was on loan to the LDWF from U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Misso didn't give any explanation about his leaving, but did say the departure was planned for several months.

I think where he really hit the wrong nail on the head was with his opposition for expenses involving the alligator program, not wanting to give enough Rockefeller funds to operate the program, but wanted to take Rockefeller funds for waterfowl and game habitat for the northern parishes.

I guess some of his ideas weren't bad, but the way they were brought out didn't go so well.

VanSickle said they may not replace the position Misso held and the division chiefs will be running their own sections of the department.

I think she's right and I also think she should do more speaking for herself, rather than have an assistant take over. Everyone looks up to the Secretary, not the assistant.

TOURNAMENTS HELD

The Cajun Saltwater Anglers held their saltwater-bay-surf and deep sea tournament in Pecan Island a couple of weeks ago.

Their turnout was good and they had a good tournament.

One of our local anglers, Albert John Crain, took first place overall in the speckle trout, 6lbs., and first place with a redfish going over 10 lbs.

A tournament held on Toledo Bend last week had around 1500 anglers entered, but fishing wasn't what it was supposed to be. There were only 150 or so fish weighed in with the largest going a little over 7 lbs.

BIG EVENT

Sunday at 10 a.m. a tiny tot contest; 11 a.m. food and beverages; dance at 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.; awards at 5 to 6 p.m. and dancing at 6 p.m. to end the event.

Y'all come on out and fish or take in the onshore activities or both.

CHAN MAYARD, 9 year old son of Myron and Delaine Mayard, formerly of Cameron, has been selected to play on a South Lake Charles Little League Fast Pitch All Star Team this summer.

Team works for funds

The Cameron Telephone Company senior boys softball team is earning money this summer to pay for trips to tournaments and state playoffs and at the same time performing a community service.

Last weekend they trimmed 13 yards of senior citizens connected with the Cameron Parish Council on Aging.

Local businesses and civic minded citizens donated $50 a day for the sponsored work by the boys.

Scoutmasters Billy Delaney and E. J. Duhon pointed out that they also recently planted grass along the Cameron shoreline to help in the battle against Coastal Erosion.

Team members taking part in the events were Joseph Duhon, Charles Duhon, J. M. Boudreaux, Derick Hardy, John Jay LaBove, Jared LaBove, Keith Portie, Ron Lontier, Kevin Oliver, Robin Rutherford and Kelly Vincent.

Survey to be made on use of jetties

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The proposed closure and fencing off of the Cameron Jetties by the U. S Corps of Engineers has threatened the tourist trade.

The Cameron Parish Police Jury, the Lake Charles Mayor's office, IMCAL, the Cameron Chamber of Commerce and many other organizations and individuals have contacted the U. S. Senators and Congressmen on behalf of the local tourist bureau to stop this closing and fencing procedure.

It is the opinion of the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce, tourist officials in Baton Rouge and some corps officials, that a survey conveying the use and need of the jetties to the Corps of Engineers would be very helpful in the local officials efforts in keeping the jetties open.

The Louisiana sea Grant association of Baton Rouge has furnished the local Chamber of Commerce with survey forms whereby tourists using the jetties from June 30, through July 4, can be interviewed, showing their interest in the use of the jetties for recreational purposes.

Persons will be needed to help man a booth fill out these forms on the above dates.

"This is a very urgent matter, for we do not want to see our jetties closed", states Paul Coreil, local Chamber president.

If anyone can volunteer for duty 1 or 2 hours or any amount of time during the day on the above dates, call Paul Coreil at 775-5516 or Ed Kelley at 775-5493 or at 775-5397 after 4 p.m.

Coreil and Kelley are setting up a duty roster for these forms and asks all civic minded citizens to please respond.

Bank given top rating

William B. Lawton, chairman of the board of directors of Calcasieu Marine National Bank, has announced that the bank has again been named a Blue Ribbon Bank by Veribanc, Inc.

Veriban, an independent research firm based in Massachusetts, assesses the financial health of all federally-insured banks, savings and loans and credit unions. Using data for the quarter ending Dec. 31, 1988, Veribanc analyzed Calcasieu Marine National Bank for asset quality, capital strength, earnings, liquidity and other criteria. Fewer than 10% of all banks in the United States earned the Blue Ribbon rating.

New refuge proposed for Cameron Parish

The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is proposing to establish a new national wildlife refuge in Cameron Parish. According to Southeast Regional Director James W. Pulliam, Jr., the Little Pecan Island National Wildlife Refuge would provide protection and management for wintering waterfowl on approximately 10,000 acres of wetlands and associated habitats.

Mr. Pulliam noted that the impetus for the new refuge is the North American Waterfowl Management Plan, a cooperative management agreement between the United States and Canada. The Plan establishes goals for the protection of important habitat for breeding, migrating, and wintering waterfowl. The marshes around Little Pecan are heavily used by wintering ducks such as mallards, pintails, gadwall, and green-winged and blue-winged teal.

Service biologists have prepared a draft environmental assessment (EA) in cooperation with the State of Louisiana, other federal agencies and other groups. The assessment addresses the impacts of the Service acquiring the land and establishing the refuge. Two alternatives to the acquisition and their subsequent impacts are also evaluated in the draft EA.

The preferred alternative, i.e., Service acquisition and management, would be a positive action in preventing the loss or deterioration of valuable wetland resources of this Nation.

The draft EA, entitled "Little Pecan Island National Wildlife Refuge: A Wildlife Habitat Preservation Proposal," is now available. Requests for copies of this document should be addressed to Mr. Charles Danner, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Division of Realty, 75 Spring Street, Southwest, Room 1240, Atlanta, Georgia 30303.

Any comments or recommendations regard in the proposal are welcome, and should be sent to Mr. Danner at the above address. To be considered during the preparation of the final draft of the assessment, comments must be received no later than July 31.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Catching drug dealers

Dear Editor:

The following article written tells so much how the drug activity intends to make law officers look like the criminals. I would like to have it printed in our local papers also.

The Only Means
By Greg Kendrick

"Allegations of harassment and misconduct by the officers involved in the multi-parish drug task force have been flooding the media for several weeks. Although some accusations are more severe, the citing of I-10 routine traffic stops as a form of harassment is meritless. To find an end to the drug trafficking problem, you must introduce a means.

"What is not debatable is the effectiveness of the task force in carrying out its mission. Since its creation in October, the agency has recovered over 1,000 pounds of marijuana, three kilos of cocaine, 26 vehicles and $635,000 in suspected drug-related money. At a local level, over 25 suspects were recently arrested on distribution charges after an intensive eight-month parish undercover operation.

"I question the true motives and timing of the flood date of information defense attorneys have made to the press. The reality about the allegations of sheriff's office harassment and forced donations is they remain to be just that — allegations.

"A formal investigation has yet to be announced by the state Attorney General's Office, the Drug Enforcement Agency (DEA) or any higher state and federal agency, and the members of the Louisiana Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers, who have made the allegations against the patrolmen and the sheriff's office, have clients facing drug charges because of a traffic stop.

"I question who is truly benefiting from these allegations.

"Perhaps the most surprising element about the multi-parish drug task forces' activity is the dent being made against trafficking. Citizens, lawmakers and lawyers appeared content with the harmless anti-drug pep rallies, cliches and PR campaigns manufactured by politicians seeking a constituent failsafe for the primaries.

"What may have thrown people aback was the decision by select law enforcement agencies to hold politicians to their words. A thousand bills can be signed and a million dollars can be appropriated but it is inevitable somebody must do the dirty work. The multi-parish drug task force decided to accept the responsibility and its social consequences.

"The public is guilty of practicing double standards toward such a program. The officer who we expect not to pull us over for a routine traffic stop is the same officer we expect to lay his life on the line encountering and pursuing a drug mule. The officer we expect not to search — or request to search — our vehicle is the same officer we expect to ensure drugs are not being transported on our highways.

"If I were traveling down the interstate, in a vehicle and manner in which law enforcement officers have been trained to isolate for possible drug trafficking activity, I would expect the officer in the rear view mirror to pull me over for questioning — just as I expect the bartender to card a patron who appears to be a minor or a day care administrator to question a stranger on the premises.

"The satisfaction lies in the ability to tell or prove to an officer there is nothing to hide."

I would like to see one day when the public will rise and march against drug activities as they do hazardous waste and all other problems that destroy our health. Until that happens we will never be able to bring illegal drug activity under control. You can pick up any paper and compare the fines and sentences for wildlife violations to the fines and sentences for drug traffic. Until we stop the users it's hard to put the dealers out of business. So, I ask you, the public, to stand up and be counted, for without informants, we cannot do it alone.

/s/ Sono Savoie,
Cameron Parish Sheriff

Advice on storm loss

By GUS W. SCHRAM,JR.

It is not news to those people in the fifteen Lousiana parishes which were declared a disaster area that we received more than enough rain during the period of May 4-27, 1989. However, it is news that any uninsured damage suffered from storms between May 4-27, may qualify property owners for federal assistance. Two toll-free numbers (1-800-334-3988 and 1-800-232-2816) have been set up to assist people in obtaining more information.

The Internal Revenue Code provides that any uninsured disaster loss can be claimed on an amended 1988 return. That's right - an affected taxpayer can claim the loss on last year's tax return.

So if you live in one of the fifteen parishes which were declared disaster areas and had uninsured damage caused by the storms of May 4-27, 1989, you may want to use this provision by filing an amended tax return for a quick refund.

When court came to Cameron on the Rex?

COURT IN CAMERON

Judge J. D. Cline, a number of Lake Charles and Jennings attorneys and several grand jurors left Monday morning at 9 o'clock on the Borcelin Rex for Leesburg to hold a two weeks term of district court for Cameron Parish. Several attorneys from Lake Charles and Jennings were on board and also a number of Cameron citizens living in the vicinity of Big Lake who had been summoned as grand jurors. In addition to the court, attorneys and jurors there were possibly 40 other passengers on the Rex Monday going to Cameron.

Judge Cline thinks it possible he will be home Saturday. There are only a few cases, and all of these are misdemeanors and small civil suits. The petit jury summoned for the second week will be released.

The Rex, in addition to its passengers Monday, carried down a heavy mail and quite a cargo of groceries, merchandise, ice and foodstuffs.

HACKBERRY OIL OUTLOOK

Reports from the Hackberry oil field state that the Gulf Oil Refining Company of Louisiana and Gardiner-Noble, of this city, are setting up on the Joe Vincent heirs' lands and are sending machinery down today.

O. C. Bevers of Montgomery, Texas, manager for the Hackberry Oil Company of Sulphur last year, is in the city and is going down to Hackberry this week to look after the interests of his company.

Interest in the Hackberry field is increasing daily among oil men. Several in Lake Charles today from different sections of the country express the belief that the pool at Hackberry lies in the north and northwest of the island.

FINE RAINS AT LAKESIDE

Court at Cameron this week took seven of our good citizens on the trip to the parish seat. One is a cattle stealing case that is exciting considerable interest, as our stock men have been suffering losses in that line for years and have been lenient to the offenders and their patience at last wore out.

Natal Courviell has the first watermelons and canteloupe. Alexie Moore also is taking melons to market.

Alcee Broussard and his tenants are all replanting cotton. It was completely destroyed with caterpillers and cut worms. Mr. Boudreaux had quite a patch and a bunch of turkeys got into it and devoured all the insects and saved the cotton. If all farmers would protect birds instead of killing them and turn droves of poultry into their cotton fields they would not be tormented with all these pests. This remedy was advised fifty years ago by the Department of Agriculture in the year books of that date. The conditions then were similar to the present and their advise reads like a present-time bulletin.

Eugene Smith and family have returned to Lakeside and will remain for some time. Mr. Smith and Mr. Ulyses Benoit will put in some time logging up the river.

We are having fine rains, more than the cotton farmers want but not too much for gardens and the rice farmers, but mosquitoes are so plentiful that it is almost impossible to get the necessary field work done.

Allen Guidrey is now living at Biloxi, Miss. He and his family are working in the canning factory and are getting along fine, making good wages and steady time. He expects to make a return visit to relatives at Lakeside in a few weeks.

This is fine weather to put in sweet potatoes and all the Lakeside people are sure of it. Mr. Moore has the largest area so far.

TORNADO

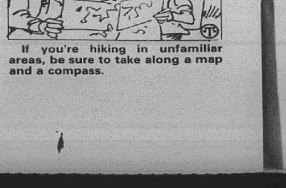
treated by emergency medical technicians for minor injuries.

Jay Duvall, 11, and his 13-year-old sister Jamie were inside a barn feeding their show lambs when the tornado ripped the door off the building.

"I was feeding the sheep, and the light blinked off and on for three times. I turned the light off, and it (the weather) started carrying on. I was scared and I just ran to the house."



Sister Jamie said, "I was scared. I didn't know what was happening."

Their mother said she was about to call the kids to come back from the barn when the tornado hit. "I heard the whistling. The kids said insulation was flying around inside the barn and boards were flyving. We were fortunate. Very fortunate."

Lana Duvall was not the only Hackberry resident to feel fortunate to survive the tornado without injury. Clyde Pierce said he was standing at the window drinking a cup of coffee when he saw the tornado coming.

"It was raining, the wind . . . the tornado sounded like a freight train coming, but there was nothing that you could do about it. I knew it was going to hit somewhere around here."

Pierce watched as the tornado ripped his carport from the back of his house and scattered it around his neighborhood.

If you're hiking in unfamiliar areas, be sure to take along a map and a compass.

Grand Chenier News

By Elora Montie

A week ago this past Wednesday, June 21, marked the first day of summer, temperature, at that time, registered in the high 80's.

With all the bad weather and rain this past weekend and the depression in the Gulf folks here were keeping a close eye on the weather. By Monday morning the depression had turned in to the first tropical storm of the season and was named Allison. Civil Defense officials were notified to be on alert for any changes of direction of the storm. So far the Chenier has had high tides with saltwater in the marshes, but no further damages have been reported.

MOSQUITOES

Toward the middle part of this past week the Chenier was again invaded by new hatches of mosquitoes.

Rain and high winds which pushed the saltwater into the marshes were the main cause of the new hatches. With high tides and wind of this week we can expect even more. Compliments go to the mosquito control who are battling the pesty bugs by air and trucks. It's been a big help.

IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Dorris Sturlese, who spent some time in St. Patrick's hospital in Lake Charles, came home this past week where she is recuperating at home with the help of her daughter.

Miss Dona Booth of Marrero, while visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Booth Sr., was taken to St. Patrick's hospital in Lake Charles, where she underwent surgery. She is reported doing well.

BOY SCOUT CAMP

Sunday, June 25, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Baccigalopi drove to Camp Edgewood to take their son, Aubrey, who will attend the Boy Scout camp for a week. He missed his Scout troop from here due to an injured leg from a fall. He was recuperated and did not want him to miss his camp duties.

VISITORS

Miss Annie Laurie Miller of Baton Rouge spent some time in their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Miller, Mrs. Cheryl Miller and Jess spent last weekend at their camp in DeRidder.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos Sturlese of Winnie, Tex., are spending some time at their camp here.

Leland East of Lake Charles spent the weekend in their camp.

Visiting Mrs. Dorris Sturlese were Mr. and Mrs. Loveless Theriot and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Theriot of Nederland, Tex., Bobby Baccigalopi and children of Houston, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. Curley Meaux, Mrs. Otis Mire, Irene Brousaard and Fabelo Meaux of Kaplan.

According to U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates, the job classification with the most openings likely between now and 1900 is that of computer service technician.

rish expected to be disaster area

By JERRY WISE

Cameron parish cattlemen are facing a crisis due to the high water brought on by Tropical Storm Allison, the Cameron Parish Police Jury was told at their monthly meeting Wednesday.

Associate County Agent Gary Wicke said that the high water has caused cattlemen to move their cattle to the ridges and that the available grazing will soon be exhausted.

In addition, he said, cattlemen have generally not been able to make cutting of hay so far this year and with much of the ranges under water and cattle feeding on the others, there may not be any cuttings.

He said that he and Kirk Moore, ASCS manager for Cameron and Calcasieu, are now getting the paper work together to get the parish declared a disaster area as far as agriculture is concerned.

He said this would permit cattlemen to secure hay and grain from the federal government on an emergency basis. He said it was hoped that details on how the feed will be delivered will be available by Monday.

He said that the situation will become very severe this winter when the cattlemen have no hay with which to feed the cattle. In past years, following flooding from storms many head of cattle have been lost in the parish due to starvation and cold weather.

Police Juror Kenneth Ducote also asked the jury to try to get the Hackberry area declared a disaster area due to the heavy damage caused there last week by a tornado.

The jury also will seek disaster aid for parish roads that have been heavily damaged by the rains.

MSU rodeo team 26% from parish

They gave highlights of the team, including statistics in which 26% of the team members are Cameron parish residents.

Walker pointed out that the team and scholarships are funded only through donations, of which Cameron Parish residents have been the major contributors.

He said that 50 students are in the program, one of the largest organizations in the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association.

McNeese also has one of the best facilities and programs in college rodeo, he pointed out.

Funds restored for Hwy. project

A Senate floor amendment restoring line-item funding for the Creole-Lake Charles (La. 27) improvement project was approved without opposition last week.

The Senate amendment, by Sens. Jack Doland, D-Lake Charles; Bryan Poston, D-Hornbeck; Sydney B. Nelson, D-Shreveport and Don Kelley, D-Natchitoches, was offered in order to restore the line-item to the capital outlay budget after it had been previously deleted on the House side.

The senate Finance Committee had rejected a previous amendment Wednesday, but Doland said that action was a result of "a problem with communication" and not a problem with the project per se.

The funding comes in the form of $1 million in cash to be used for studies, overlay, construction and acquisition of right-of-way. An additional $7 million is allocated to "category 4" bond funding, to be used for studies, engineering, acquisition of right-of-way, utilities, construction and overlay.

"It's approved by (Transportation Secretary) Neil Wagoner, it's approved by (Commissioner of Administration) Dennis Stine, and it's approved by Gov. Roemer," Doland continued. "This one is set. We're going to get that Cameron road."

The 40-mile stretch of La. 27, from Creole into Calcasieu Parish, is part of the primary hurricane evacuation route out of Cameron Parish. The $8 million line-item allocation was first obtained in 1987 by former Rep. Conway LeBleu.

FOOD TO BE GIVEN OUT

Cameron Community Action Agency in Cameron, will distribute USDA donated food commodities to needy families under the Temporary Emergency Food Assistance Program on July 13, at the Cameron VFW Post Building.

Distribution will begin at 8 a.m. for the residents of Cameron until 11:30 a.m. Residents of Creole, Grand Chenier, Grand Lake, Johnson Bayou, Klondike/Lowery and Hackberry are asked to come between the hours of 1 and 3:30 p.m. Participants in the program are asked to bring a bag or box for the food items.

For any further information contact the office at 775-5145.

2 charged in chopper chase

Two Texas men were charged Sunday for refusing to land their helicopter and flying at unsafe altitudes during a two-state chase involving Cameron Parish sheriff's deputies and Port Arthur, Tex., police.

The 70-mile chase ended in Texas at a gas station where the copter landed for refueling, according to Cameron Chief Deputy Theos Duhon.

The chase began when the helicopter flew into power lines in Grand Chenier around 6 p.m., causing $500 to $600 in damage, Duhon said. In addition to clipping the power lines, they almost collided with Pleasure Pier Bridge on the Texas side.

Power was out for a couple of hours.

Deputies were called to the scene and made contact with the copter, but could not get it to land.

Cameron officials sent up their own helicopter, but that still didn't work, Duhon said.

William Joseph Brown, 51, of Anahuac and Stephen Bailey Stelly, 38, of Stowell were placed in the Jefferson County Jail.

Brown was arrested by Port Arthur police after landing at a self-service station to fuel his craft. His passenger was captured at a nearby ballpark.

Port Arthur police charged them with reckless conduct. Brown was also charged with evading arrest.

Cameron officials have a "hold" on the two, Duhon said. They have been charged with flight from an officer, property damage and hit and run, Duhon said.

In addition, the Federal Aviation Administration has been called in, Duhon said, because the helicopter crossed a restricted flying area over a group of plants which hold gas tanks at Port Arthur.

First Sweetlake gas find was 64 years ago

(EDITOR'S NOTE--Last week's Pilot carried a news story on the discovery of what was termed "a giant gas field" in the Sweetlake-Hackett's Corner area of Cameron Parish. The following article from the June 8, 1925 issue of the Lake Charles American Press relates the story of the original discovery of gas at Sweetlake 64 years earlier. It was researched by Keith Hambrick.)

(Lake Charles American Press, June 8, 1925)

TERRIFIC GASSER AT SWEETLAKE

The well of the Pure Oil Company in Sweetlake is a terrific gasser, having blown in last night (Sunday, June 7, 1925) at 8:15 while the crew was in the act of completing the job of setting the screen. Within less than five minutes after the well began to show signs of gas pressure, and before the screen setting job could be finished, the well was blowing out with great force, coming with a steady blow that increased very rapidly until the sound had reached such proportions that the roar from the well could be heard for at least ten miles within an hour from the time it began to exert itself.

The gas pressure began to show its power with but very little warning after the well had been washed on the outside of the screen, and before the operations necessary to "back off" and seal the screen could be completed, the well started shooting a stream of water up on the outside of the wash pipe several feet over the heads of the men working on the derrick floor. Both the day and night crews were on the job with every man working at top speed trying to complete the job so that the well could have a chance to show what it could do. However, the gas pressure was gaining in volume every second, and the water was being forced higher above the men who were straining every muscle to complete the job, and falling back over them in a torrent. Seeing the impossibility of being able to complete the job, orders were given the men to rush to safety, and as the chain tongs which were fastened on the drill stem wand which the two drilling crews were working with, were turned loose, the gas and water forced the tools about 25 feet up on the "kelly joint".

RUSH FOR SAFETY

The members of the two crews immediately made a rush for their boat which had been tied to a barge near the derrick, after first having shut off the fire in the boiler and all steam connections to the derrick. Within a few moments all were out of the danger zone and the Pure Oil Company's No. 1 Sweetlake Land & Oil Co. well was giving its answer of what to expect when the drill bit reaches a depth of around 4500 feet deep in Sweetlake, by way of shooting a stream of gas, mud and water over the top of the 112-foot derrick with a roar that was almost deafening to

2 charged in gator kill

Two men were arrested on Rockefeller Refuge Monday and charged with possession of an untagged alligator, taking an alligator in closed season, taking an alligator without a license, and not abiding by rules of Rockefeller Refuge.

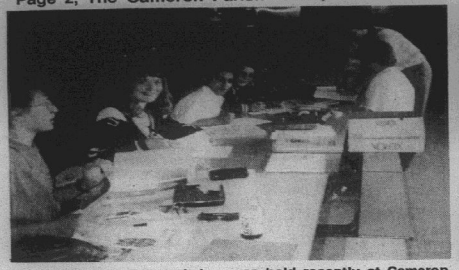
Dwayne Joseph Duhon, 27, Morse, and Donald James Pitre, 38, Lake Arthur, were on a tug boat servicing an oil rig on Rockefeller Refuge when they allegedly captured and killed a 10-foot alligator.

Fifteen workers on the oil rig witnessed the incident and notified wildlife game agent James Nunez who made the arrest and conducted the investigation.

School bonds

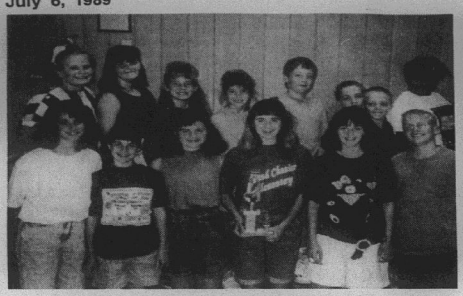
The low bid of Ladd Denkins and Company was accepted by the Cameron Parish School Board at a special meeting June 28, on the purchase of $1 million in School District 4 bonds.

The firm submitted a bid of 7.12991 percent net interest rate. The net interest cost was $511,215.



Other bidders and their bids were: Shearson Lehman Hutton, 7.265591 percent; National Bank of Commerce, 7.265591 percent.

The proceeds from the bonds will be used to construct a major addition to the Grand Lake High School.



The board also set the tax millage for School District 4 at 24 mills for the 1989 tax rolls. Other school millages had been set earlier.

every one within a quarter of a mile of the well.

All the boats at the well were soon anchored out in the lake a safe distance from the blowing well and after waiting about one hour, with the well showing no signs of a let-up, but on the contrary with the noise becoming greater as the water used in washing the well was being blown out, instructions were given the men on the job to let the well alone until daylight in order to give it a chance to blow itself out to a certain extent, or at least have daylight in which to make further preparations for getting the well under control, as it was considered very dangerous to try and do anything in the darkness.

On account of the darkness, it was impossible for anyone to see whether or not the well was spraying any oil with the gas, but regardless of whether or not the well will have a chance to make oil, it has proved that Sweetlake is the newest oil field for the Lake Charles district, and judging from the heavy gas pressure, the opinion of some of the best known local oil men is said to be that the new field will immediately be recognized by the big operators as one of the most promising in the coastal section.

One of the remarkable features of this well is the fact that the gas pressure is coming through such a small opening at the bottom of the hole, forcing itself from the outside between the lead seal on the top of the screen and the inside of the 6-inch casing bottom. Just what the gas pressure would do if the hole at the bottom were wide open is a question that no one at this time familiar with such things, will even venture a guess for an answer.

Two joints of screen were being set in the well it is said. With only ten feet of "pay sand" having been penetrated, leaving the matter of just how deep the "pay sand strata" is at that depth a wide open question.

WATCHING DEVELOPMENTS

With the announcement Saturday that efforts would be made at once to bring in a well at Sweetlake, citizens of Lake Charles, oil scouts and representatives of the American Press made a trip to the pure Oil Company test well Sunday evening to watch developments. On account of the location being a considerable distance out in the lake, it is necessary for one going there to drive to the pumping plant and take a boat at that point.

These visitors with permits had hardly arrived at the now monster gasser before it began to show signs of its power. Instruction was given boatmen to keep their engines running and in readiness for making a quick get-a-way from the derrick.

The visitors present did not need any special instructions to get back on the boat, and by the time everyone managed to hurry on board, it was "moving time" and all willing to help hurry the boat away from the torrent of water and noise coming from the well. Then followed the period of "watchful waiting" from a safe distance that soon convinced the visitors that Sweetlake had at last entered the stage of becoming "The Newest Oil Field for the Lake Charles District."

PURE OIL COMPANY

The Pure Oil Co., which controls some 7,000 acres of leases in the Sweetlake section, is a newcomer to this vicinity, and the manner in which this company has entered into the development of the Lake Charles Oil District has made a very favorable impression on all with whom the company has had dealings. It is thought the company will prove to be one of the most important assets to the community in future developments along the line of petroleum production.

It is said that the company has selected an ideal location for large earthern oil storage tanks out on the highland north of the present well location, and that should the well finally become a giant oil gusher, no time would be lost in getting the storage tanks ready and a pipe line built from the well to the highland tank location.

On Dec. 18, 1924, announcement was made through the column of this paper that the Pure Oil Co. had secured a lease block around Sweetlake and would start drilling operations within 60 days, and on Jan. 25, 1925, it was reported that the first well had been spudded in, which is the present gasser.

SWEETLAKE

Sweetlake in itself covers approximately 1900 acres, and is owned by the Sweetlake Land & Oil Co., of which H. G. Chalkley, of this city, is a large stockholder and general manager. Before the days of canals in that section, it is said that Sweetlake was without an outlet, and was more in the nature of a big pond in the marsh. The water depth of the lake is about five feet now. The well of the Pure Oil Co. appears to be located near the center of the body of water, and is about one thousand feet east of the big "gas escape" that has attracted the attention of the oil operators for several years.

On account of the well being out in the lake on pilings, it has been necessary to use barges to carry in the necessary equipment to it.

(From Home Edition)

During the night the well had made quite a quantity of oil as indicated by the fact that the water in the lake around the derrick for some distance was covered with oil. The drilling crews were putto work this morning on the job of removing all the drilling equipment from the derrick to barges in an effort to avoid the loss of machinery.

A report of the well received shortly after 2 o'clock said that the gas pressure was estimated to be at the rate of about 15 million cubic feet a day, and that the well was blowing dry gas with very little evidence of any sand coming from it.

On Wednesday evening some dry sand began to appear but by Thursday evening it had settled down to blowing dry gas with no sand or water. That day, material was barged out to the location and plans were made to drive piling for relocating the boiler which was thought too close to the gas flow and might cause a fire if operations were resumed on the well.

It was reported Thursday morning that pressure seemed to be giving way some and that there were slight sprinkles of oil over the surrounding water, but that mostly the gas was dry and that no accidents had happened so far as the gas escaped "from its underground prison."

Thursday evening it was reported that at around 4 o'clock the crater around the top of the big gasser had become so large that part of the piling on which the derrick foundations were resting, gave way and the derrick fell into the lake. At first it was seen to slightly lean out of line. The movement of the tall structure was slow until it snapped its guy lines. Then in less than a minute only a part of the debris and the foundations appeared above the surface of the water indicating where the well was located.

The continual pressure of gas had forced openings around the casing of the drill hole. It was reported that the well was not a bubbling, seething mass of water nearly a mile out in the surface of the lake.

Visitors to the spot on Friday described the sight as an enormous "blubber" with the water boiling up in the lake over an area of about 100 feet, with the center of the boiling spot blowing water 50 feet up in the air.

The big gasser was now a loss but Pure Oil Co. decided to immediately start another well a safe distance away. The gasser was taken as conclusive evidence that there was a big oil field at Sweetlake.

Discoveries made

Have you ever wondered how familiar items of today had their beginnings? The facts themselves are rather amazing. The idea for the following bit of research came to me as I lit the candles for a dinner party.

Matches were invented by John Walker, an English chemist, who got his idea when he discovered that friction ignited a mixture of potassium chloride and antimony sulphide. Walker sold his first box in 1827. He never got around to taking out a patent. With each box a small piece of sandpaper on which to strike the matches was given free.

Matches reminded me of cigarettes. Who invented them? That credit it seems, goes to a group of Turkish soldiers while defending the city of Acre from Napoleon Bonaparte in 1799. Cannon fire had destroyed their hookah (a water-cooled communal smoking pipe). They improvised by rolling tobacco in tough paper used for firing their guns.

Then I discovered that cigar bands were first used in Cuba during the days of the Spanish Empire. Rich and titled women who were fond of smoking cigars wrapped bands about them to protect their fingers from nicotine stains.

Did you know that Scotch tape, that handy little item with dozens of uses, was invented in 1925? It was the answer to paint sprayers who wished to make separate color areas. The sprayer called it Scotch tape because at first it did not adhere to the surface properly. The complaints were that the makers were being overly economical in their use of adhesive. For centuries the Scotch people have been considered ultra conservative in spending their money.

Vaseline, first called petroleum jelly, was developed by Robert Chesebrough, an English chemist. While visiting the Pennsylvania oil fields in 1859, he observed workers soothing burns and cuts with a colorless residue that collected on the pump rods of drilling rigs. He collected supplies of this "rod wax" and took it with him to New York, where he refined it into the vaseline that we know today. Chesebrough, who died at the age of 96, claimed that he ate a spoonful of Vaseline every day.

In each of the above cases it seems that the beginnings were carefully nurtured. Their results speak for themselves.

TEDs violators to be ticketed

The two-month transition period ended last Friday, and the federal government began fining shrimpers if they are caught trawling without "turtle excluder devices".

Only warnings have been issued during the two-month break-in since the TEDs were required, and the Coast Guard said only about 15 percent of the boats were pulling the cage-like devices that are supposed to deflect turtles out of their nets while allowing shrimp to be trapped.

"Quite a few fishermen had them but were waiting for the 60-day warning period to end to put them in the nets," said Lt. Pat Philbin, a Coast Guard spokesman in New Orleans.

Tom Shuler, a National Marine Fisheries Service special agent, said he expects trawlers off Louisiana without TEDs to get caught.

The Coast Guard had figures for May only, but said in that month 53 fishing vessels were boarded off Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi. Nine were ticketed, Philbin said.

The Coast Guard boarded another 36 boats that did not have the devices, Philbin said. But since the boats were not "actively engaged" in shrimping, no citations were issued.

The boat has to be actively engaged in fishing — the nets must be in the water — for it to violate the regulations, Shuler said.

There are no plans to step up enforcement efforts for the devices, Philbin said. The Coast Guard will enforce the TED regulations just as it does myriad other maritime laws.

The fine for the first violation is $8,000, Shuler said. The second fine is $12,000.

People who knowingly violate the regulations may also face criminal charges.

Miller completes Naval training

RAIN RESULTS

We've had our share of rain in the past week. The Cameron Parish Fishing Deep Sea and Inland Rodeo was cancelled and rescheduled for the weekend of July 7, 8, and 9.

I'm sure our inland fishing, and shrimping will be affected by all this water.

TOURNAMENT CANCELLED

The speckled trout tournament that Burton Sporting Goods sponsored was cancelled because of the lack of entries. There were only 104 registered. To break even it would have taken at least 154 registrations.

LOW PRICES ON SHRIMP

Biologists say the brown shrimp season which opened June 5, should be better than average.

Shrimpers do not agree as catches are real bad in inside waters and offshore is really not that much better.

Something else is the price. It's very low. Seventy count shrimp are running around 90 to 95 cents per pound. This is at the docks, so consumers are paying around $1.90 to $2 per pound for home use. This is rough on shrimpers as their expenses are still there. Now, with all this fresh water from the rains, it won't help matters at all.

FLORIDA ALLIGATOR HUNT

Florida is getting ready for their second alligator hunt. There has been a ban on alligator since they were on the endangered species 25 years prior to the first hunt last year.

About 250 to 300 trappers will be selected by a computer for a 30 day hunt for September of this year.

The Florida Game and Fresh Waterfish Commission had quite a surprise when over 20,000 applicants applied to hunt.

Last year 5,800 applications were turned in and 238 trappers were given permits.

Hunters in Florida are allowed 15 'gators each and residents selected pay a hunting license fee of $250.

Last year, Florida trappers took 2,988 alligators out of 3,570 allowed.

Florida has over a million alligator population, and all a nuisance, as they're showing up in back yards and swimming pools.

Trappers in Florida this year are required to kill their alligator on the spot. They were only binding their alligtors and keeping them alive, until they were brought to the meat processor.

ROCKEFELLER REFUGE ALLIGATOR EGGS

Many people don't seem to like the idea of eggs from alligator nesting to come off Rockefeller. The refuge gets a certain percent back in live gators.

As of the time we got all the rain, Rockefeller Refuge had already picked up between 17,000 and 20,000 eggs. These eggs are going to the alligator farms on contract with the refuge.

As I see it, if these eggs were not done this way, with all the high water, they would have been lost and no chance of any 'gator population being replaced.

Talking about alligators, there was an arrest made on the Refuge for an employee of a tug boat company killing a 'gator over 10 feet for the meat.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality has issued a temporary Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System (LWDPS) permit and is proposing to issue a final LWDPS permit to Pacific Enterprises Oil Company to discharge drill cuttings and adhering native mud drilling fluids; treated wastewater from dewatering operations of drilling site reserve pits/ring levees, shale barges, and inactive or abandoned oilfield production pits; excess cement; treated sanitary wastes; domestic wastes; storm water runoff (deck drainage); and other associated uncontaminated discharges such as cooling water, ballast water, etc. from workover and drilling barges, and production facilities to White Lake and associated natural and manmade waterbodies in North White Lake Field, Vermilion Parish, Louisiana. The limitations and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.

During the preparation of this permit, it has been determined that these discharges will have no adverse impact on the existing uses of the receiving waters. As with any discharge, however, some change in existing water quality may occur.

All designated uses of the receiving waters are being fully supported. However, the designated uses are considered threatened due to organic enrichment from non-irrigated and irrigated crop production, petroleum activities, and natural causes.

The application and proposed limitations may be examined at the Office of Water Resources, 8th Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North Fourth Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Persons wishing to provide data, views or comments, or request a public hearing relative to the issuance of the permit are invited to submit their comments and requests, in writing, within thirty (30) days of the date of this notice using reference No. WP2665 to:

PROCEEDINGS
CAMERON PARISH RECREATION DISTRICT No. 9
June 12, 1989

The Cameron Parish Recreation District No. 9 board met in regular session on Monday, June 12, 1989 at 7:00 o'clock p.m. at the Cameron Parish District No. 9 Recreation Center in the Village of Grand Chenier, Louisiana. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Paul Coreil. The following members were present: Mr. Robbie Dale Mhire, Mr. Mark Theriot, Mr. Paul Coreil, Mr. Darrell East, Mrs. Emma Nunez, and Mrs. Coral C. Perry. Absent: Mr. Carol Wainwright.

The minutes from the previous meeting were read by Mr. East and approved by the board.

The Board discussed paying the Recreation employees through the Cameron Parish Police Jury payroll system.

Mrs. Michelle Broussard gave a report on the first week of operations of the pool, and the consession stand.

The Board decided that unless someone qualified could be found to operate the pool during the Fourth of July, it would have to be closed for that weekend.

The Board then discussed the problems concerning horseplay around the pool. It was decided that Mrs. Broussard would have the right to expel anyone whom she felt was causing potential hazard around the pool or in the Recreation Center.

It was moved by Mrs. Perry, seconded by Mrs. Nunez, and carried that the Board would purchase Fire and Extended Insurance coverage in the following amount:

Building: $110,000.00
Contents: $ 30,000.00

It was moved by Mrs. Nunez, seconded by Mr. Mhire, and carried that Mr. Eddie Joe Conner should be contacted about the above mentioned coverage and asked to begin the coverage immediately.

It was moved by Mr. Coreil, seconded by Mr. Theriot, and carried that a petty cash fund be set up in the amount of One Hundred Dollars and No Cents. This petty cash fund would be used for small purchases required by the Recreation Center, and would be replenished periodically based upon invoices collected.

Mr. Coreil then told the Board that he felt that the Board should begin meeting monthly on a set day and time.

It was decided that the Recreation Board's next meeting would take place on Sunday, June 25, 1989, at 8:00 o'clock p.m. at the Grand Chenier Recreation center.

Mr. Coreil made the motion, seconded by Mr. East, that there being no further business, the meeting be adjourned.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that the Department of Environmental Quality is proposing to issue a final Louisiana Water Discharge Permit System (LWDPS) permit to Union Exploration Partners, Ltd. to discharge drill cuttings and adhering native mud drilling fluids; treated wastewater from dewatering operations of drilling site reserve pits/ring levees, shale barges, and inactive or abandoned oilfield production pits; excess cement; treated sanitary wastes; domestic wastes; storm water runoff (deck drainage); and other associated uncontaminated discharges such as cooling water, ballast water, etc. from workover and drilling barges, and production facilities to White Lake and associated natural and manmade waterbodies in North White Lake Field, Vermilion Parish, Louisiana. The limitations and conditions of this permit are consistent with the permitting policy of the Office of Water Resources, which is to achieve and maintain full support of designated uses of the waters of the state.

During the preparation of this permit, it has been determined that these discharges will have no adverse impact on the existing uses of the receiving waters. As with any discharge, however, some change in existing water quality may occur.

All designated uses of the receiving waters are being fully supported. However, the designated uses are considered threatened due to organic enrichment from non-irrigated and irrigated crop production, petroleum activities, and natural causes.

The application and proposed limitations may be examined at the Office of Water Resources, 9th Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North Fourth Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Persons wishing to provide data, views or comments, or request a public hearing relative to the issuance of the permit are invited to submit their comments and requests, in writing, within thirty (30) days of the date of this notice using reference No. WP-1561 to:

Department of Environmental Quality
Office of Water Resources
Post Office Box 44091
Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70804-4091
ATTN: Douglas A. Hale
Telephone: (504) 342-6363

All written comments submitted during the period of comment shall be retained by the office and considered in the formulation of a determination to issue a final permit.

Assistant Secretary
Office of Water Resources

L.C.U.P. Application #890601

Name of Applicant: Alton A. Trahan, HC 69 Box 265, Cameron, La. 70631.

Location of Work: Section 10, T15S, R14W.

Character of Work: Proposed road to homesite, approximately 1,500 cu. yds. of fill will be used to construct road. The fill will be dug to form ditch on site.

The decision will reflect in the national concern for both protection and utilization of important resources. The decision must be consistent with the state program and approved local programs for affected parishes and must represent an appropriate balancing of social, environmental and economic factors. PROCEEDINGS
JUNE 25, 1989

The Cameron Parish Recreation District No. 9 board met in regular session on Sunday, June 25, 1989 at 8:00 o'clock p.m. at the Cameron Parish District No. 9 Recreation Center in the Village of Grand Chenier, Louisiana. The meeting was called to order by Chairman Paul Coreil. The following members were present: Mr. Robbie Dale Mhire, Mr. Carol Wainwright, Mr. Paul Coreil, Mr. Darrell East, and Mrs. Emma Nunez, Mrs. Coral C. Perry. Absent: Mr. Mark Theriot.

A prayer was led by Mrs. Emma Nunez.

The minutes from the previous meeting were read by Mr. East and approved by the board.

The Board discussed the bill, received from Sabine Pools of Lake Charles, for work done on the swimming pool. It was moved by Mrs. Perry, seconded by Mrs. Nunez, and carried that the remainder of the money owed be paid. It was, however, decided that an adjustment should be made to the bill to reflect the additional chemicals that had to be used when the new chlorinator was not operating correctly.

It was moved by Mr. East, seconded by Mrs. Nunez, and carried that the utility bills for the month of June be paid.

It was moved by Mr. East, seconded by Mr. Wainwright, and carried that payment be made to the Cameron Parish Pilot for the publication of previous meeting's minutes.

It was moved by Mrs. Nunez, seconded by Mr. Mhire, and carried that the Board would buy paint, electric lights, new toilet seats, and paper dispensors for the bathrooms at the Grand Chenier State Park. Mr. Calvin Boudreaux had volunteered his time to install the new items and paint the bathrooms.

It was moved by Mrs. Nunez, seconded by Mr. East, and carried that an advertisement would be placed in the Cameron Parish Pilot to see if there is any interest, in the community, for a Ladies/Senior Citizen's Night for use of the swimming pool. Mrs. Michelle Broussard, Pool Director, had indicated to the Board previously, that several people had said that they would be interested in such a night.

It was moved by Mrs. Nunez, seconded by Mr. Wainwright, and carried that Mr. Wainwright would be reimbursed for the records that he had purchased for the recent Youth Dance held at the Recreation Center, and that the next Youth Dance would be held on July 4, 1989.

Mrs. Shirley Bonsall then addressed the Board about a recent incident involving her son at the swimming pool.

It was moved by Mr. Wainwright, seconded by Mr. East, and carried that, until the Board establishes its credit with local vendors, it would be acceptable to pay local vendors on a weekly basis. These payments would be subject to the Chairman's approval, and would continue until a monthly billing cycle had been established.

The Board decided that the next meeting would be on Monday, July 10, 1989, at 7:00 o'clock p.m. at the Grand Chenier Recreation Center.

It was moved by Mr. Mhire, seconded by Mrs. Nunez, and carried that the board would enter into Executive Session, and that the regular meeting was ended.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

Spain gained control of the Natchez District in late 1779 when British forces surrendered the post to the captain of the Spanish forces.

There was a great influx of settlers — new Americans and former British subjects leaving the infant United States after the Revolution - which rapidly increased the mostly British background residents already there before the Spanish takeover.

NATCHEZ DIST. 1787 CENSUS

Residents of the Natchez District: 1787 by Carroll Ainsworth McElligott lists the full names of heads of families and bachelors and the number of their household members according to race, sex and age groups.

All persons are listed as whites or slaves (mulattoes or Negroes) and male or female in one of 3 age groups; livestock and crops are given in categories; and number of firearms plus number of persons who could carry arms are listed.

LA VOIX DES PRAIRIES

La Voix des Prairies, quarterly publication of the Evangeline Genealogical and Historical Society, P.O. Box 664, Ville Platte, LA 70586 is available from them with $10.00 annual membership.

Articles in the current issue feature the line of John WHITMORE-WETMORE who was in Conn. c1639, as submitted by Elba Anthony Dardeau, Jr.; and the family of John Peter McDANIEL b. c1748 in Ireland, mar. 1st Elizabeth EVANS, had 4 children; mar. 2nd Catherine CORKRAN, had 10 more children; lived in Ville Platte area, this article by Thomas David McDaniel.

There is also info on Jacob BIHM compiled by Birdie Bihm Lewis; "Military Pension Records: A source of Genealogical Data" by Cecil P. Wiggins; inscriptions from the Louis David Young Cemetery compiled by Warren Lafleur and John Young and from the Chaumont Cove and Louis Belaire Fontenot Cemeteries compiled by John and Lu Young.

Also Allen Parish Successions 1911-1914 by Betty Sarver and Sherry Manuel, queries, etc., 20 pg., stapled, 8½ x 11 in.

GERMAN GENEALOGY

In 1979 the U.S. Census Bureau reported that almost 52 million Americans claimed German ancestry. In Louisiana the number is about half a million. Records show some seven million German immigrants to America over the past three centuries.

The German Genealogical Society of America, founded in 1986 and now with over 2000 members, publishes an award winning newsletter, the Bulletin which features info on researching German ancestors. Membership of $15 annually covers this and other research assistance.

More info and a copy of the Bulletin are available for $1 sent to: GGSA, Dept. NP, P.O. Box 291818, Los Angeles, CA 90029.

Poaching brings a jail term

By Loston McEvers

BREAK WILDLIFE LAWS AND PAY

A recent sentence on a Donaldsonville resident for an arrest on Jan. 22, brought a jail term.

This poacher previously convicted of 18 wildlife violations has been found guilty of illegal raccoon hunting without a dog and was given the maximum sentence in the 23rd Judicial District Court.

He was sentenced to three months in prison and also fined $750.

In another case in North Louisiana, a lawyer caught hunting doves over a baited field was sentenced to help others not to hunt over a baited field - "community service."

TOLEDO BEND

There is an area on Toledo Bend for the third straight year that has been ordered closed to fishing by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The area on the southern end of the lake is a half-mile square immediately in front of the Gulf States power house intake. The reason for this closure is to protect a group of striped bass broodfish, which congregate in the cool waters near the intake valves. These fish are highly susceptible to snagging, which is illegal, and also over-fishing when they are grouped up together in front of the turbine intake.

This restricted area is entirely in Texas waters, but both Texas and Lousiana fishermen are obligated to observe the closure. This area is clearly marked with buoys.

TURTLE EXCLUDER DEVICE

Well, if you have been reading or listening to the news, the TED is a must for shrimpers. There's no more warning, just citations. The first time around is an $8,000 fine and possible criminal charges and the second time around is a $12,000 fine and also criminal charges.

I realize this is tough on ou already hurting shrimpers, but sometimes a law is made for a reason, and whether we like it or don't like it, we have got to obey it or pay the consequences.

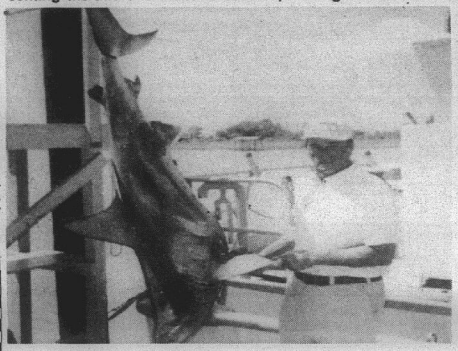
Some shrimpers have made threats with gun in hand, but I don't believe that's the way. Our shrimpers will have to get together as a group along the whole coast and try to fight this TED together, legally.

I just hope nobody gets hurt or even killed with this bad situation.

AREA FISHING

Believe it or not, with all this water, some anglers are catching fish. A few speckle trout have been caught, but the flounders are out by large numbers. In the freshwater scene, the yearling bass are going crazy with the movement of all the water. Good catches are reported.

Last Thursday, some very large (6 pounders) speckle trout and redfish (10 pounds) were caught off the Grand Chenier jetties. One boat of people had their limits of each species. They were feeding in schools.



The Cameron Parish Fishing Rodeo held this past weekend was a success. There were quite a few anglers taking part and some nice fish caught.

I'll have a write-up of all the fish caught in the three day period.

MARCIE NEELY of Ruston is shown receiving the trophy for Top Female Angler of the Cameron Parish Fishing Rodeo. Presenting the award is Mona Broussard, Fishing Rodeo Queen.

T-BOY McCALL, above, was named the Top Male Angler at the Cameron Parish Fishing Rodeo held this past weekend at Grand Chenier State Park.

No more free fish for ponds

Paul Coreil, Area Agent Fisheries and Wildlife for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes, announced that in a cost-saving move, the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries has stopped providing free bass and bluegill fingerlings for Louisiana ponds.

The department will honor existing commitments, but as of this month will charge landowners to stock ponds by purchasing these fish from private hatcheries.

Anyone interested in obtaining a list of game fish fingerling procedures should call Coreil at the Cameron Extension Service Office at 318-775-5516.

Charter vessel permits needed

Owners and operators of a charter vessel that fishes for king mackerel, Spanish mackerel, cero, cobia, dolphin, little tunny and bluefish must obtain an annual charter vessel permit from the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Poaching brings a jail term

By Loston McEvers

BREAK WILDLIFE LAWS AND PAY

A recent sentence on a Donaldsonville resident for an arrest on Jan. 22, brought a jail term.

This poacher previously convicted of 18 wildlife violations has been found guilty of illegal raccoon hunting without a dog and was given the maximum sentence in the 23rd Judicial District Court.

He was sentenced to three months in prison and also fined $750.

In another case in North Louisiana, a lawyer caught hunting doves over a baited field was sentenced to help others not to hunt over a baited field - "community service."

TOLEDO BEND

There is an area on Toledo Bend for the third straight year that has been ordered closed to fishing by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The area on the southern end of the lake is a half-mile square immediately in front of the Gulf States power house intake. The reason for this closure is to protect a group of striped bass broodfish, which congregate in the cool waters near the intake valves. These fish are highly susceptible to snagging, which is illegal, and also over-fishing when they are grouped up together in front of the turbine intake.

This restricted area is entirely in Texas waters, but both Texas and Lousiana fishermen are obligated to observe the closure. This area is clearly marked with buoys.

REMEMBER? . . . By Keith Hambrick

1925 Sweetlake gas discovery recalled

(EDITOR'S NOTE--This is the continuation of a story from the June 26, 1925 issue of the Lake Charles American Press relating the discovery of a large gas field in Sweetlake. The first part was published in last week's Pilot. This material was researched by Keith Hambrick.)

DISCOVERY OF GAS AT SWEETLAKE

The giant gasser of the Pure Oil Company at Sweetlake is not an accident. It is the result of persistent and intelligent efforts over a period of several years. The discovery of "bubbles" in the lake; how the strange phenomenon was mistaken for a "school of fish", early efforts to interest big companies in a hitherto little known section of the country; the disgust with which gulf geologists advised the abandonment of drilling operations, and the persistence of H. G. Chalkley and Chas. O. Noble until their faith and efforts were rewarded with a gasser that has become famous throughout the coastal belt of the country all form a new story in southern oil fields.

From a reliable source the following history is given:

Credit for the discovery of gas seepages or eruptions in Sweetlake is given to two men in Calcasieu Parish who were not at the time connected in any way with oil production. One of these was James Manning of the Grand (Calcasieu) Lake community, and the other was George Streater. Manning is said to have noted the bubbles on the lake about nine years ago and afterwards took the matter up with local citizens who were looking around the country for "indications."

George Streater, of the Lake Arthur Dredging Company, who was in charge of the dredging work for the company when the dredges were working on the intra-coastal canal between the Mermentau and Calcasieu rivers, took advantage of every opportunity to explore and to fish in the various lakes and streams along the route of the canal.

While on one of these "exploring trips", having heard of the wonderful fishing to be had in Sweetlake, it is said that he took a small row boat and proceeded to try his luck in Sweetlake. In the course of his journey around the lake his attention was attracted to a spot some distance out in the water where there was a continual commotion going on, and thinking that it was possibly a big school of fish striking at something on the water, he carefully worked his boat over near the spot of activity. Noting that there seemed to be no let up to the disturbance in the water, he became curious to know what species of fish inhabited this lake that paid no attention to a boat. By the time he had brought his boat close up to the spot, and could see the water "boiling" he came to the conclusion that no fish could be responsible for that kind of activity. Not thinking of oil gushers, etc., he proceeded on his journey.

Mention in Lake Charles

Sometime after this occurrence, he had occasion to be in Lake Charles, where, during the course of a conversation with A. M. Barbe and J. A. Williams, who were discussing oil indications, he mentioned to them what he had seen in Sweetlake, explaining that he did not know anything about oil indications. Messrs. Barbe and Williams were at attention at once. Mr. Streater told them that if they wanted to investigate his story he could tell them just where to locate the "boiling water" and if there was anything to the "oil indications" they were welcome to go ahead and work on the matter.

Mr. Streater described the exact location of the "boiling spot" and without delay Messrs. Barbe and Williams went to Sweetlake, and found that story true in every respect. To Mr. Barbe's experienced eye, it was the most pronounced "gas escape" he had ever seen. He and Mr. Williams made plans immediately to get one of the big operators interested.

They talked with Mr. Chalkley, who had charge of all of that section of the country, and it is said that they secured the exclusive right for six months to work out plans for oil development. During this period of time, they interviewed the geological department of several of the big oil companies, and had a number of geologists make examinations of the "gas escape" and the surrounding territory, but failed to get the necessary action for development during the term of their position, thereby losing out on the proposition.

C. O. Noble Interested

After the failure of Messrs. Barbe and Williams to get development at Sweetlake, C. O. Noble, a successful local operator, became interested in the proposition, and began to work out plans for development. This resulted in the Gulf Refining Company taking a lease on several thousand acres around the "gas escape" and drilling one well to a depth of around 3200 feet. This well was located 1000 feet west and south of the present gasser, and it is said that on account of the formation the Gulf encountered in its well, its geological department recommended the abandonment of the "prospect" as not worthy of further drilling operations.

At any rate, the lease was forfeited by the Gulf, and Mr. Noble, it is said, was not satisfied to let the development drop with one well. Taking S. A. Emerson into a partnership he put down a well some distance west of the old Gulf location, which failed, however, to strike the oil or gas strata. The derrick of that well is still standing, and it is said that the machinery has never been moved from the location.

Chalkley Experiments

H. G. Chalkley, manager of the Sweetlake Land & Oil Company, that owns Sweetlake, was a very close observer of the various efforts made by the oil operators to locate a field at Sweetlake. After seeing the first two wells fail to get the desired results, he became very much interested in the "why and wherefore of the gas escape." In his desire to assist Mr. Noble to get further drilling operations in that vicinity, he rigged up a contraption consisting of a steel tank with valves, etc., which he placed over the spot where the gas was boiling in the lake.

After the tank trap had been allowed to remain over the gas escape for a little time, he experimented with one of the valves by opening it a little and held a match to the opening. The gas began to burn immediately with a steady flame, and instead of just getting a "flash", his contraption proved to be something on theorder of a regular "gas jet".

On several occasions it is said that the gas, when ignited at the small opening on the tank, would burn for hours, unless a strong wind blew it out.

This outfit of Mr. Charlkley's was always very interesting to visitors. He never lost an opportunity to show it to representatives of the several oil companies who investigated Sweetlake.

Noble Made Happy

The "gas escape" never let up and Mr. Noble was convinced that there was something worthwhile somewhere in that vicinity. Realizing the possible necessity of a costly drilling campaign to locate the oil deposit, he came to the conclusion, according to the reports, that the Sweetlake prospect was a matter for some big company to work out. It is said he succeeded in interesting the geologist of the Pure Oil Comany, which resulted in that company taking over approximately 7000 acres of leases, with Mr. Noble retaining an overriding royalty.

When the big gasser blew in Sunday night, Mr. Noble knew that all doubt about an oil field at Sweetlake was a thing of the past, and while no doubt, a big oil gusher would have been more desirable, the fact that the first well of the Pure Oil Company had proven the territory as a new oil field, caused Mr. Noble to enjoy one of the happiest moments of his numerous oil field operations.

Letters to Editor

Officials are thanked here

Dear Editor:

Living at the end of Little Chenier Road in the rainy season is a lot like being the last one to catch the flu. You still feel just as bad but all the sympathy is gone. You begin to wonder if the road is called 201 because that's where it ranks on the "200 Most Pressing Projects" list.

The High Water signs stay up year round on the Little Chenier Road, and with good reason. Every couple of years Chenier Bayou tries to reclaim the road. Generally it does a pretty good job. Overflow from the Mermentau River along with heavy rainfall is trapped behind the levees. Trapped water always seeks the lowest point of egress. (That has something to do with gravity, I think.) Since the Little Chenier Road is the lowest point of egress, this massive stagnant lake gathers there waiting for access to the river. This gathering of water has other interesting side effects. It sends every living creature in miles scrambling for higher ground as people compete for the high ridge with skunks, frogs, and an amazing variety of snakes. Warm stagnant water is also an excellent breeding ground for mosquitoes and nutria itch.

As the water gets higher, it becomes impatient and begins making its own access to the river by washing away large portions of the road and completely obscuring others. This makes driving to work in the morning very interesting because you are never quite certain whether the water lilies you're driving through are over the road or the deepest part of the lake. Driving it at night is a frightening experience. Many of the residents of Little Chenier (some of whom are elderly) don't even try. That's why we keep a stock of canned goods and powdered milk.

In the past the Parish Officials have adopted a wait-and-see attitude, "let's wait until the water goes down and see how bad the road is." I remember a concerned call I made during the siege of 1985. I'd barely made it home in a borrowed one-ton truck. The road was so bad in one spot that by morning I knew it would be completely washed away. I called our Police Juror and asked what they intended to do about the road. He paused for a moment then said, "Well, eventually we hope to blacktop it." I thought about that. Eventually I hope to be rich and famous but I didn't say anything about it at the time because neither of those hopes had any bearing on whether I was going to be able to make it to work the next morning.

Too many times attempting to pin down an elected official is like trying to nail Jello to the wall. There's just no point to it. Many seem so concerned with their political careers that their opinions sway like palm trees, depending on who they talk to. Personally I've always admired public officals with backbone. The ones who will give you a straight answer, even if the answer is no. Ones who take their civic responsibilities seriously and to whom public service does not mean self-service. Until recently I didn't think there were any of those left. I'm happy to say I was wrong.

I wish to thank Douaine Conner of the Cameron Parish Police Jury for his concern and for trying to solve the problem in Little Chenier. My thanks also to Sheriff Sono Savoie, the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department and in particular to Deputy Charles Smith for his dedication to duty and public safety.

/s/ E. J. Gaspard

Treat all jurors alike

Dear Editor:

On June 12, 1989, Mr. Trahan, president of Cameron Parish Police Jury, wrote a letter to Lake Charles Diesel asking that either "(1) George LeBoeuf is no longer an elected official of Cameron Parish Police Jury " or "(2) George LeBoeuf is no longer an employee of Lake Charles Diesel."

This was brought about by Mr. Wright with the La. Ethics Board. The board "concurred that this (Mr. LeBoeuf's position) is a related party transaction and is thereby a prohibition."

Mr. Editor, do you think that the Police Jury purchases any type of product from Mobile, where Mr. Trahan is an employee, or what about Conoco, where Brent Nunez is an employee. And why did this same auditor not find where Garner Nunez was leasing his pond to the parish or selling insurance to them.

Could it be that the Cameron Parish Police jury has got to reelect a few new members or that the before-mentioned oil companies will lose a few employees.

Does the saying,"Do unto others as you would have them do unto you" mean anything here? Mr. Trahan should have his position reviewed with the Ethics Board right along with Mr. LeBoeuf and the other members.

1969 graduates are thanked

To the 1969 SCHS Graduating Class:

I would like to take this opportunity to personally and publicly express my gratitude to the 1969 South Cameron High School graduating class and special thanks to Edward Peterson for planning the recent class reunion.

The student response was remarkable, the food was delicious, and the sharing of 20 years activities was rewarding. It was interesting to note that all members of the class are successfully employed with many of them contributing hours of volunteer service to their school, community, and church.

This speaks eloquently of your values and your role in society.

I'm sure I express Mrs. Ricks' and her husband's sentiments when I say it was a most enjoyable evening, one that we will long remember.

Thank you for having invited us.

Sincerely,
/s/ Donald P. Broussard

Fishing gear to be licensed

Local fishermen are reminded that the 1988 Louisiana Legislature passed Act 825 which requires that all miscellaneous gear used by commercial fishermen, not covered by a specified gear license, must now be licensed.

Unspecified gear such as trotlines, bushlines, minnow traps, cast nets, must now be licensed if used for commercial purposes.

The miscellaneous gear license costs $25 and covers any legal number of gear items, such as trotlines, used in the commercial operation.

Convention set in N. O.

Paul Coreil, Area Agent of Fisheries and Wildlife for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes announced that the Louisiana oyster industry convention will be held July 28-29, at the Landmark Hotel in Metairie.

A full day of education presentations concerning the oyster industry will be conducted July 29, beginning at 9 a.m.

A supper dance is also planned for that evening.

Anyone interested in attending should obtain a convention registration form from Coreil's office in the Cameron Courthouse basement.

Shrimp imports are hurting

The Gulf of Mexico shrimp industry is suffering severe economic stress and one of the reasons is the flood of foreign shrimp, much of it farmed raised, that has been coming into the United States in recent years.

In ten years, shrimp imports from Ecuador have increased from less than 9 million pounds to nearly 101 million pounds.

In four years, shrimp imports from China have increased from about 2.5 million pounds to about 44 million pounds last year.

Another practice which has affected shrimp marketing is that many packers, with National Marine Fisheries Service approval, have been repacking these imported shrimp after very little processing and labeling them as "Product of the U. S."

This recently brought action by the U. S. Customs Service which ruled that even peeling and deveining shrimp did not change them enough to label imported shrimp as a product of the U. S.

After the Customs Service put out the work, the U. S. Drug and Food Administration jumped in and ruled that imported shrimp that were peeled in the U. S. and then labeled "product of the U.S." would be considered misbranded.

Whether or not the labeling requirements will really make a difference in the price of domestic shrimp, in the long run, remains to be seen, local fishermen say.

Hayes urged TEDs holdup

Louisiana Congressman Jimmy Hayes contacted Secretary of Commerce, Robert A. Mosbacher, Monday to further express his opposition to the Turtle Excluder Device and its regulations. He asked that the regulations now inplace be suspended immediately. These latest comments come as Coast guard and National Marine and Fisheries Service officials begin enforcement of TED regulations throughout the Gulf Coast this month.

In the letter sent to Mosbacher, Hayes once again voiced his strong opposition to the implementation of the TED for shrimping operations in the Gulf of Mexico and explained that a sudden influx of sea grass has now caused a new problem for the shrimpers.

"I have been deluged by calls from the shrimpers in my district saying that they can't even catch 15-25 percent of their normal catch due to sea grass clogging their nets. It seems that the TED is further aggravating the situation, thus making the questionable TED even more useless," Hayes said.

In past correspondence with Mosbacher, Hayes has expessed his concerns with the problems (i.e. 40-50 percent shrimp loss per trawl, unfairdisadvantage on the open market, etc.) that surround TEDs. But in his letter, Hayes' tone was even more combative in response to the shrimpers- escalating opposition to the regulations.

*A variance to the parish flood insurance ordinance was approved to permit Mobil Exploration to build a storage building at ground level. The jury was advised that FIMA had no objections to such a variance.

*At Juror George LeBouef's suggestion, the jury agreed to write a letter to the Mobil Exploration Co. thanking them for moving their Freeport, Texas operations to Cameron.

*Three members of parish boards whose terms have expired were reappointed as follows: Sidney Savoie, Waterworks District 9; Dr. Richard Sanders and J. C. Reina, Lower Cameron Hospital Board.

*The Polling Place at the Johnson Bayou Recreation Center was moved to the Johnson Bayou Community Center.

*Juror George LeBouef offered a motion to reopen the Council on Aging feeding sites at Grand Chenier, Johnson Bayou and Grand Lake at a cost of $50,652 a year. He agreed to postpone the matter until next month to make sure there is enough money available for this purpose. The three sites were closed some months ago due to a shortage of funds.

*Juror LeBouef also offered a motion for the jury to write Congressman Jimmy Hayes to see if there was some way the parish could get some revenue from the ship channel, such as charging a fee on ships that pass through it. He said these funds could be used to pay for wave wash damage caused by the ships to the banks of the canal.

*On a motion by Juror Ray Conner, the jury agreed to write the congressional delegation to see if the formula used for determining eligibility for commodities could be changed. He said he knew of many deserving families that were being denied commodities.

*Juror LeBouef asked the jury to put speed bumps on a parish road in Grand Chenier to slow down motorists due to children playing on the street. However, he agreed to postpone the matter until next month after Juror Brent Nunez asked that the jury's insurance company be consulted to make sure the jury would not be leaving itself open for suits.

*At LeBouef's request, the jury agreed to reduce the speed limit on the Ratcliff road from 25 to 15 miles per hour.

Nuns visit Creole to conduct school

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

She celebrated her Golden Anniversary last year after 50 years as a Nun, but Sister Claudette Marie Henry was not about to be "turned out to pasture" and retire from all the things she loves.

She keeps right on spreading the good news and brightening the lives of everyone she meets.

She, and two of her fellow Sisters from the Maarionites of the Holy Cross Order from New Orleans, are in Creole this week conducting a special Summer Bible School in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church Family Center.

The Nuns who are accompanying her in conducting the school are, Sister Mary Elaine Thompson, who teaches at Holy Angels Academy and Sister Mary Joan Barry, who teaches at St. Rita's School.

Sister Claudette Marie is no newcomer to the area as she taught at St. Charles Academy in Lake Charles and other Southwest Louisiana Catholic schools.

She is now retired from the teaching ministry and enrolls parishioners in prayer groups, and is working on the beatification of the founder of the Maarionites Order, Father Basil Moreau, who died in 1873 in Lemons, France.

Sister Mary Elaine Thompson also has close ties to the area, as she is the sister of Mrs. Ducie Carter, the wife of the late Dr. Stephen Carter.

During the Sisters' stay in Creole they are staying in a house furnished them by Miss Stacey Mudd and are driving a car loaned to them by Msgr. M. J. Bernard, church pastor.

Mrs. Olga Mudd is serving as their hostess, and they are being entertained with meals and hospitality in the homes of parishioners.

The Nuns have chosen as the theme of their Bible school, "Bear With Me" and have presented each of the students in the school blessed medals from Medjugorge, Yugoslavia.

The line of study includes religion, sacraments and commandments, miracles and parables of Jesus, a study of the Old Testament and singing in preparation for Mass.

Sheriff Savoie honored

At a recent board meeting for the Cameron Council on Aging, the Cameron Community Action agency presented Sheriff James R. "Sono" Savoie with an appreciation plaque.

The presentation was given by Community Action Board members Ruby Nettles and George LeBoeuf and Executive Director Dinah Vaughn.

Sheriff Savoie was honored because of his willingness to lend a hand to the CCAA whenever he and his staff are asked and for his willingness to assist with the commodities and other foods given for the disadvantaged of the parish.

Franchise given Co.

Cameron parish now has a second cable television company, but the new company says it only intends to serve certain parts of the parish that presently do not have cable.

The Cameron Parish Police Jury at its July meeting voted to grant a non-exclusive franchise to the Friendship Cable Television Co. of Tyler, Tex., for a 15 year period with the jury to receive 3 percent of basic gross revenues.

Mark Dunham, company representative, said his company was interested in serving the Grand Lake area of the parish but would consider offering service to any area with 200 homes and 18 to 20 homes per mile. He said surveys will be made to determine what areas would be feasible to serve.

Asked whether his firm intended to offer service in the areas of lower Cameron already served by another company, Dunham said this would not be feasible and his firm was not interested in doing so.

Juror Ray Conner said he wanted to be sure that the company would have a live person to talk to rather than an answering machine when there is a cable problem. Dunham assured him there would be someone human to talk to.

Dunham said that construction of the new system in the Grand Lake area probably could start within a month.

Students tell about youth conference

Thomasena Goodrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Goodrich; and Tiffany Kyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Kyle, all of Hackberry, represented Cameron Parish at the Louisiana Youth Takes a Stand 1989 Summer Conference in Baton Rouge June 8-11. They were accompanied by Beverly Goodrich, assistant principal.

At a luncheon the students were welcomed.

The students attended a panel discussion involving Doreen Atchinson of the LA Youth Concern Line; Mary Carroll Melton on Children of Alcoholics; Dr. James E. Hines, III, Medical Director of South Baton Rouge Community Development Health Education Program; and Sherry Poole with the Lafayette Parish Sheriff's Department.

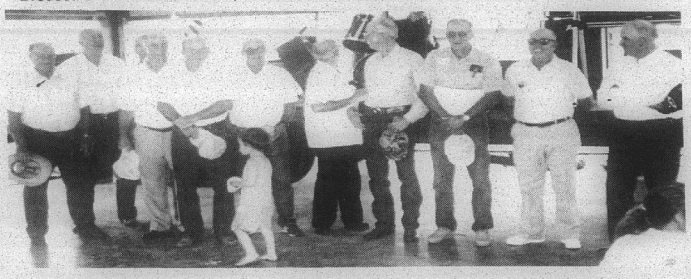
Later the students attended the Governor's Red Ribbon Banquet. Governor Roemer assured the students of his willingness to assist in any way. The students were also commended by Mayor Mike Grimmer of Walker, and Colonel Marlin Flores of the State Police. The students then were entertained with "Insight Teen Theater," given by a group from Nichols State University.

The next three mornings began at 7:30 with all of the group having breakfast together. The major portion of the program from then on was conducted by John Hewitt, a Trainer for the Reach America Program. Topics studied were as follows: Drugs; Problem/Solution, Marijuana and PCP, Cocaine and Crack; Stimulants, Depressants, Look-a-likes and Designer Drugs, Hallucinogens, Inhalants and Narcotics; Skits and How to Use Them; Helping others to say "No", Helping Yourself to say "No"; Positive Peer Pressure; How to Present a Program to Elenentary School Students; and Starting and Maintaining a Drug Free Student Group.

Friday the students attended a panel discussion by Charles Sullivan, DEA; Paul Woods, LA State Police; Police Chief Wayne Rogillio, City of Baton Rouge, and Ron Travis of the FBI. Later they attended a poolside jambalaya.

On Saturday the group toured the U.S.S. Kidd, followed by a pzza party and dance.

On Sunday there was a non-denominational worship service offered for those wishing to attend before breakfast. After breakfast each parish presented their plan for working in their area to make LA drug-free. The students then took a test on the work done during the conference and had them graded.



The Hackberry students thanked Uland Guidry and the Cameron Parish School Board for recognizing this activity as a necessary step toward informing and educating young people.

The LA Takes A Stand Red Ribbon Campaign originated when Federal Agent Enrique Camarena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The Red Ribbon became the symbol to reduce the demand for drugs, just as the yellow ribbon symbolized the hostages in Iran, and the green ribbon symbolized the murdered children in Atlanta.

The theme of the Conference is "My Choice...Drug Free." The Red Ribbon symbolizes a commitment to a drug-free, healthy lifestyle. . .no use of any illegal drug and no abuse of a legal drug. The goal of the Campaign is to present a unified and visible commitment toward the creation of a Drug-Free America.

The following dates are important: Oct. 22-29...Red Ribbon Week; Oct. 22 & 23...Red Ribbon Sports Week-end; Oct. 23...Red Ribbon Rally Day; Oct 25...Wear Red Day; Oct. 28 & 29 Red Ribbon Religious Week-end.

Tiffany and Thomasena would like to encourage each individual to demonstrate commitment for a Drug-free America by wearing and displaying Red Ribbons during Red Ribbon Week.

Boat bay to open July 15 at Sabine R.

On July 15, at one hour before sunrise the boat bay at Grand Bayou will be opened to public access. This structure is part of the Cameron-Creole Small Watershed Project and provides access into the East Cove unit of Sabine National Wildlife Refuge.

The boat bay should remain open until the end of the year for public usage unless salinities increase to a level that will require closing. Should this situation occur, area fishermen will be notified with a news release.

Fishermen are cautioned that strong outflowing water current through the boat bay will make access into the marsh hazardous. Please be careful while entering the refuge through the structure.

Fuel bids are suggested here

Police Juror George LeBouef suggested at the jury's July meeting that the jury seek bids on the purchase of fuel and oil for its vehicles in an effort to save money. It was noted that the School Board does this for its buses.

However, Juror Kenneth Ducote said that this might result in the convenience stores submitting lower bids than the full service stations and then the jury might have trouble finding someone to fix its tires and service its vehicles.

LeBouef agreed to the jury studying the matter further and bringing it up at the next meeting.

Chamber seeks to lease bldg.

A representative of the new Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce made a proposal to Cameron Parish police jurors at their July meeting to lease the old Bonsall home which houses the Leesburg Museum from the jury as an office for the chamber.

Eddie Conner said the site would be an ideal location for the chamber because of the old oak trees and beautiful setting. He said the chamber would be willing to pay a lease on the building and possibly set aside one room to be used for museum purposes.

He said the chamber would open the building five days a week and could serve as a tourist information center.

Juror Brent Nunez said he favored letting the chamber use the building, which was closed some months ago as a museum due to a lack of funds, but he wanted the jury to consult with the parish historical society first to see what their plans were.

The jury agreed to take the matter under advisement until its next meeting.

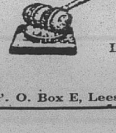
Jury protests ferry tolls

The collection of tolls went into effect on state ferry boats on July 1, and the Cameron Parish Police Jury is upset at how the collections are being handled.

The $1 tolls are being collected on both the ferries on the ship channel and the one to Monkey Island at Cameron. The tolls are only collected for westside to eastside crossings, so in effect the toll is $1 for a round trip.

Pedestrians pay 25 cents in both directions while the elderly and handicapped ride free of charge.

Parish administrator Garner Nunez said that the parish is having to pay the toll for the garbage trucks to cross to Monkey Island but that he hopes to get these vehicles exempted.



Braxton Blake, owner of a local contracting firm and former police juror, said that the tolls were working a hardship on his business. He said that he had been called to haul some sand to a business on the west side of the ship channel but that the collection of the tolls had delayed his trucks and he was afraid that the next time the customer might order his sand out of Sulphur.

Blake said the delay was due to the fact that the toll taker had to take up the money and then go up into the wheelhouse of the ferry and count it before the ferry could leave.

Jurors agreed to write a letter to the highway department and ask that the collection of the fees be postponed until a collection booth can be set up to properly handle the tolls.

Holiday for King urged

Mrs. Louise Cole, president of the Cameron NAACP Chapter, appeared before the Cameron Parish Police Jury again at its July meeting to urge the jury to honor the memory of slain civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King.

She had asked that Peshoff road on the east side of Cameron be renamed for Dr. King but Juror George LeBoeuf said that the heirs of John M. Peshoff who donated the land for the road and for whom it was named did not wish the road renamed.

Leboeuf said he would be happy to work with the NAACP to try to find another road that could be named for Dr. King.

Mrs. Cole said that the NAACP would settle for a second option--the declaring of a Dr. Martin Luther King holiday in the parish with parish offices and schools closing.

It was pointed out that the police jury has no authority over school holidays and Juror Kenneth Ducote said he did not feel the parish could afford another holiday.

The jury decided to take the matter under study.

Festival board shown with new hospital equipment

SLATED JULY 27-30

Festival aids hospital

It addition to have a good time, the goal of the second annual Cameron Summer Fishing Festival set for July 27-30,is to raise funds for community projects.

Members of the festival's board of directors are shown above with new equipment that was purchased for the South Cameron Memorial Hospital with funds raised at last year's festival.

This is a "thumper and CPR board and ventilator unit" that can be used by ambulance personnel in giving immediate treatment to someone who has had a heart attack. The unit compresses the chest to get the heart beating again and also feeds oxygen to the patient.

Hospital Administrator Joe Soileau said the unit costs about $5,000 and has been used a number of times since it was purchased with festival funds.

The festival board has pledged to make another donation to the hospital following this year's festival to be used for additional equipment. Also the board plans to make a donation to the Cameron Recreation District to help with the upkeep of the community building behind the courthouse.

With this new equipment, the Cameron Telephone Company will be able to provide improved and expanded services to the Johnson Bayou area customers. The work will consist of pavement widening, asphalt overlay and related work.

The 2.25 miles stretch of the highway from Creole north presently is under construction. When this and the new stretch is completed about 6.5 miles of the highway between Creole and the Gibbstown bridge will have been widened and overlayed.

Bank work told

Work is now in progress on the new Sulphur office of the Cameron State Bank, it was announced this week by Bank President Robert Fruge.

The facility, which will cost approximately $787,620 including the building, equipment and land, is located at the corner of Maplewood Drive and Louisiana avenue. Completion and opening of the office is expected in January.

Of brick construction, the bank will have a large lobby, offices, four teller stations, drive-in window, remote unit and an ATM. It will have about eight employees.

This will be the seventh office opened by the bank in addition to the main office in Cameron. Other offices are located in Creole, Grand Chenier, Hackberry, Johnson Bayou, Grand Lake-Sweetlake and Lake Charles.

HOLDING AN architect's drawing of the new Sulphur office of the Cameron State Bank now under construction are Donna LaBove, assistant vice-president, and Baron Thomas, executive vice president.

Sweetlake gets phone upgrade

South Central Bell telephone customers on the Sweetlake exchange were served by modern switching equipment beginning Monday, July 17, according to Tommy Powell, Louisiana Public Service Commission member.

The new equipment — installed at a cost of about $615,000 in the Sweetlake office — will serve approximately 1,060 customers in the Sweetlake 598 exchange.

With the new equipment, customers served by the Sweetlake office will be able to take advantage of the following option custom calling services: speed calling, which enables customers to reach frequently called numbers by dialing fewer digits; call waiting and call forwarding.

Many of the other festival pictures were taken by Geneva Griffith.

Refuge proposed

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The U. S. Department of the Interior, Fish and Wildlife Service, has announced a proposal for the Little Pecan Island National Wildlife Refuge in Cameron Parish.

The assessment outlines the actions proposed by the Service to preserve and protect approximately 10,000 acres of wetlands which provide wintering habitat for migratory waterfowl.

The proposal was developed by the Service in coordination with the State of Louisiana, other Federal agencies, and private groups.

Coreil, Hebert honored by Lions

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Paul Coreil and Charles "Charlie" Hebert were honored by the Cameron Lions Club at their annual "Ladies Night and Lion of the Year" banquet held this week at the Cameron Motel Restaurant.

Coreil received the "Lion of the Year" plaque from Bill Morris, last year's winner. Morris cited the many civic activities of Coreil and his work with the local Wildlife and Fisheries industry in his capacity as Agent of Wildlife and Fisheries for Cameron and Calcasieu Parishes.

He is president and one of the organizers of the Cameron Parish Chamber of Commerce, a vice president of the Fur and Wildlife Festival, an avid church worker and lay reader; a member of the recreation board, helped organize the annual alligator festival, and was named Cameron Parish Citizen of the Year last year.

Charles Hebert was presented with a "Distinguished Service Award" plaque for all he has done for the local club and was recognized as the only active charter member of the club he helped organize in 1944.

It was brought out in the roast, that was put on by several Lions members, that he played an important part in the oil industry in his capacity as owner of a local abstract company.

Emergency feed is distributed

An Emergency Feed Program has been implemented for Calcasieu and Cameron Parishes due to the loss of pasture as a result of recent rainfalls. The feeding period established for the program is July 7, through Aug. 5.

To be eligible, an applicant must have at least a 40% loss of pasture and 10% of his gross income must be derived from the production of grain or livestock. When applying, you must furnish the number of cows, bulls, calves and horses. You may apply at the ASCS Office, 1400 Hwy. 14, Lake Charles.

Election set

An election will be held in the Hackberry Fire Protection District Saturday, July 22, on the proposition to renew a four mill tax for two years to maintain and operate fire protection facilities and pay the cost of obtaining water for fire protection purposes.

It was noted by Police Juror Kenneth Ducote of Hackberry that this is the renewal of an existing tax and no new taxes are involved.

Girl Scouts visit area

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Forty-two Girl Scouts from 19 different states and three foreign countries, along with their escorts, spent the day in Cameron Parish Tuesday soaking up the local culture.

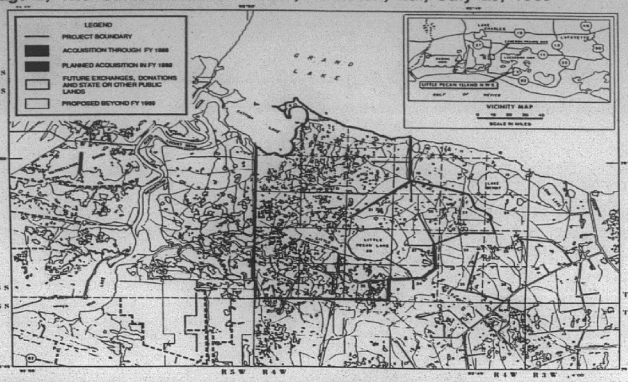
The Girl Scout trip had the theme "Cajun Days and Cajun Ways" took them all over Southwest Louisiana.

Before coming to Cameron they had toured Delcambre to watch the shrimp boats; visited the Shadows home at New Iberia, the Liberty Theatre in Eunice; visited a Mardi Gras float maker in Abbeville; visited McElhenney's pepper plant at Avery Island, and were treated to a couchon du lait at the PPG Industries in Lake Charles.

The trip to Cameron Parish started with a visit to Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge at Grand Chenier, then on to Cameron Parish where they were treated to a picnic lunch at the Cameron Recreation Center, hosted by Glenn Alexander and served by local 4-H club members Shawn Bonsall, Brandi Styron, Shirley Bonsall, and Candie Willis.

The afternoon featured a trip to Holly Beach, then on to Constance Beach to view the effects of coastal erosion and a slide presentation at the home of Rodney Guilbeaux.

Then they made a tour of the nature trail and live exhibits at the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge where they participated in crabbing and were treated to a crab boil in Hackberry, hosted by Mrs. Velma Lowery, who served as the official Cameron Parish hostess and French interpreter while they were in Cameron Parish.



When they left Cameron they were to travel on to Baton Rouge, after touring the Atchfalaya basin, then went to New Orleans.

When asked what impressed them most about the 12-day tour they answered that the friendliness of the local people came first; the spiciness of the food was second; and the heat and humidity took their breath away.

Viewing the Gulf of Mexico as they traveled toward Johnson Bayou was also a high point of their trip down the coast.

THE ABOVE MAP shows the location in Cameron Parish of the proposed Little Pecan Island National Wildlife Refuge located east of the Creole area.

Refuge proposed

serve wintering habitat for mallard, mottled duck, pintail, blue-winged teal, and a great variety of wading and shorebirds to help meet the habitat goals presented in the North American Waterfowl Management Plan (NAWMP).

The establishment of the proposed 10,000 acre refuge and proper management will provide excellent wintering waterfowl habitat and a needed waterfowl refuge in coastal Louisiana, the proponents say.

The proposed refuge is located in eastern Cameron Parish, approximately 20 miles southwest of Lake Arthur.

Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge lies approximately 12 miles to the northwest and Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge and State Game Preserve is five miles south. The only access to the property is by boat or aircraft.

Boat launching ramps at Grand Chenier and North Star are most commonly used and a 3,300 foot grass landing strip on Little Pecan Island can accommodate small aircraft.

Little Pecan Island is an elevated Chenier, surrounded by marsh, and was formed around 2,800 years ago when the Mississippi River shifted westward.

The island extends approximately three miles in a northwest to southeast direction and is about 160 acres in size.

A much smaller chenier, Elm Island, lies just north of Little Pecan Island and is approximately 1,000 feet in length.

Since its formation, Little Pecan has been continually inhabited by human life.

The Louisiana Purchase in 1803 gave the U. S. ownership of 828,000 square miles including Little Pecan Island.

The first private owner of Little Pecan was Martin A. Crain, who purchased the property in 1874.

Over the years Little Pecan has been the site for farming, timber harvest, shell and lime removal, market hunting, livestock production, and fur trapping.

During the Crain era, a community existed on the island, with a school house, saw mill and syrup mill.

Near the end of World War II, the property changed hands from the Crain family to some Lake Charles businessmen doing business as Vincent-Welch Oil Company. The buildings were razed and a hunting camp was constructed.

From this time on, Little Pecan has been used primarily for waterfowl hunting.

After Hurricane Audrey in 1957, no major agricultural enterprises were attempted on Little Pecan.

In 1974, Little Pecan Island and the surrounding marsh, 1,800 acres, were acquired by Herman Taylor, Jr., a businessman and leader in Louisiana conservation activities.

Taylor hired a team of wildlife biologists to turn a run-down club and deteriorating marsh into one of the more productive ecosystems in southwest Lousiana.

Taylor leased 7,000 acres of surrounding marsh owned by Miami Corporation and began construction of levees, water control structures, and pumping stations to create nine separate impoundments that range in size up to 25 acres.

Detailed records of management activities and waterfowl harvests have been kept since 1974.

Mr. Taylor experienced financial difficulties and Louisiana National Bank obtained title to Little Pecan.
