ALGAE AND LICHENS

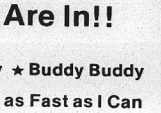
Algae and lichens grow profusely on trunks, limbs and twigs of many trees and shrubs. Cloudy, wet weather is ideal for these organisms.

The presence of algae, lichens and mosses on plants is often an indication that the plant is in poor vigor. Such plants are usually suffering from soil compaction, poor drainage or lack of fertilizer.

They may be controlled by spraying trunks with a copper fungicide, such as Bordeaux Mixture or a Fixed copper.

VEGETABLES TO PLANT

Transplant - tomatoes and bell peppers. Seed - broccoli, cauliflower, brussels sprout, chinese cabbage, collards, mustard, turnips, squash, irish potatoes, and southern peas. Mid to late August - carrots, beets, snap beans and lettuce.



WETTER WEATHER

According to the National Weather Service, warmer and wetter than usual weather can be expected for now through mid-August.

Average daily high temperatures will be in the low 90's while low temperatures will be in the low 70's. Normal precipitation for the period will be 4.5 inches.

The anticipated hot wet month suggests a lot of moist air from the gulf, possible interspersed with periods when very hot air comes from the Southwest resulting in high temperatures to be scattered and of varying intensities.

Plants may save marshes of parish

By Billy R. Craft and Jack Cutshall
Soil Conservation Service

Just about everybody these days wants to do something to help save the Louisiana gulf marsh. Many federal and state agencies are joining with local governments and groups like police juries, drainage districts, and soil and water conservation districts to plan projects and programs for the good of the marsh. One thing that agencies and conservationists have learned is that plants may be the answer to the quality of the marsh's future.

"Louisiana's coastal marsh area has an abundance of plants that play a major role in the ecosystem of the coastal zone," says Joe Branco, assistant state conservationist with the U. S. Soil Conservation Service. "In many ways, plants are the basis of animal life, and plants in the marsh are important contributors of nutrients for estuarine organisms. Wildlife abundance is directly related to plants, since plants supply food, escape cover, nesting, loafing, and roosting areas. Of all the relationships in the coastal marsh, plants form the common bond that links them together."

Marsh plants also help to stabilize bayou and canal banks, which reduces land loss and helps maintain water quality. Let's consider some specific examples to gain a better understanding of some of these plants.

Olney bulrush, commonly called "three - cornered grass" in South Louisiana, forms the backbone for muskrat populations and management, since it is their preferred food. Data from the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries shows that during the 1980-81 trapping season, over 700,000 muskrat pelts were sold at a value of 4.6 million dollars. This monetary value for only the muskrat harvest indicates the magnitude of the importance of marsh plants and their impact on the fur industry.

Olney bulrush is called a subclimax plant by marsh ecologists. This simply means that the plant is easily crowded from the stand unless management practices, such as prescribed burning, are followed to maintain it in the plant community. Controlled marsh burning is the practice most commonly used to maintain olney bulrush in greatest abundance and reduce stands of competing species. Specifically, brackish marsh tracts need annual burning in the fall (October) to get maximum production of olney bulrush.

Another plant that deserves special attention in the marsh is smooth cordgrass. It is normally found growing in saline marshes in the daily tidal zone area. Field trial plantings by SCS conservationists in two locations are currently underway to evaluate the effectiveness of smooth cordgrass for shoreline erosion control. This work involves collecting smooth cordgrass from local marshes or purchasing it from nurseries and planting it along lake shorelines where erosion problems exist.

The field plantings are located in Fountainbleu State Park and along the eastern shore of Calcasieu Lake. According to Zeke Williams, SCS District Conservationist at Franklinton, who has supervised the work at Fountainbleu State Park, the smooth cordgrass has done exceptionally well in protecting the shoreline of lake Pontchartrain from eroding in this area.

The eastern shoreline of Calcasieu Lake has been eroding at an average annual rate of 10 feet. This means that a 10 foot strip of marsh is converted to open water annually along the eastern shore of the lake. Smooth cordgrass is being planted along the lake shoreline in the tidal zone to check this erosion rate.

Jimmy Winston, SCS area conservationist in Crowley, said that excellent results have been obtained on this project. The smooth cordgrass plantings have had a high survival rate and are spreading into adjacent tidal areas. This early work with smooth cordgrass indicates it has a high potential in the tidal zone for erosion control and related functions.

Ray Conner, past president of the Cameron Parish Police Jury, has firm convictions about the use and future of the marsh. "We need to do a lot of things to improve the vegetation and other conditions in the marsh," he said. "We surely don't need to drain it completely, but we do need measures to control the water levels for wildlife. Usually when something is done to benefit plants, wildlife and people also benefit soon after that."

The Louisiana coastal marsh is a vital resource that deserves the state and national attention it is currently receiving. Plants --their management, retention, and establishment -- will continue to play a key role in maintaining and improving this valuable wetland resource.

Cameron club has swim party

The Cameron Extension Club held their July meeting July 26 at the home of Francis Mudd. Hostess was May Bostick.

Members enjoyed a swimming party and weiner roast at the pool area of the Mudd home.

A surprise "bring a box of diapers" party was given for Sheila Griffin. There was also a cake that members shared with Sheila.

Visitors were Julie Burleigh, Patience Cogar, Brooke Jouette, Stacy Guillory, Renee Reyes, and Patsy Poindexter.

The door prize was won by Renee Reyes.

The club had a report on the July 4th contest.

Members would like to say "Thank You" to Francis for an enjoyable evening.

OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA
WATERWORKS BONDS
SERIES 1982

Time and Place for Receipt of Bids. Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), for the purchase of all but not less than all of six hundred sixty-three thousand dollars ($663,000) Waterworks Bonds, Series 1982, of the District at the Office of the Cameron Parish Police Jury in Cameron, Louisiana, up to 11:00 oclock A.M., Louisiana time, on July 30, 1982 at which time and place the said proposals will be publicly opened.

Bond Details. The bonds offered for sale will be dated August 1, 1982; will be coupon bonds in the denomination of and numbered, as follows:

NUMBER	DENOMINATION
2 to 133 (inclusive)	$5,000

The bonds will bear interest payable semiannually on February 1 and August 1 of each year until the maturity thereof, commencing on February 1, 1983; and will mature serially in numerical order on August 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1983	$3,000
1985	45,000
1986	50,000
1987	55,000
1988	60,000
1989	70,000
1990	80,000
1991	85,000
1992	95,000
1993	5,000
1994	5,000
1995	5,000
1996	5,000
1997	5,000
1998	5,000
1999	5,000
2000	5,000
2002	5,000

The bonds maturing August 1, 1993, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on and after August 1, 1992, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the city of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for $663,000 Waterworks Bonds of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same single rate from their date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fifteen per centum (15%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one-half percent (2½%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and bids providing for additional coupons to be attached will be rejected. No proposals will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of thirteen thousand two hundred sixty dollars ($13,260). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the Purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on August 31, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by the certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of said Waterworks District No. Eleven of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood & Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. copies of a consolidated offering circular regarding the Waterworks Bonds, Series 1982, of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and the Fire Protection Bonds, Series 1982, of Fire Protection District No. Fourteen of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana being contemporaneously offered by said fire protection district and copies of the respective official bid forms are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana, 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

Pregnant women should not drink

The risk of having an abnormal baby increases as a pregnant woman drinks more alcohol. Many people don't realize the dangers of alcohol usage during pregnancy.

According to Barbara Schilde, health and safety specialist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service, the condition is called Fetal Alcohol Syndrome and has been suspected for centuries.

Symptoms include slow growth before and after birth, a defective heart or mental retardation. Also, Miss Schilde says affected children may have behavioral problems, such as hyperactivity, extreme nervousness or a poor attention span.

Current studies show some abnormalities in babies born to women who consume between one and two ounces of alcohol a day (two to four drinks). These include abnormalities of growth, congenital malformations and behavioral changes.

The risk of full Fetal Alcohol Syndrome appears more pronounced with consumptions of 3 ounces of alcohol a day, but there are indications that problems short of the full syndrome could be caused by lesser doses of alcohol on a regular basis or by a single high dose in one day or by a weekend of heavy drinking during a critical time in fetal development.

The best advice, Miss Schilde says, is for pregnant women to avoid alcohol completely. However, if alcohol is consumed, follow the rule of no more than two drinks in any one day. This may help avoid potential harm to the unborn child.

What To Do If A Hurricane Threatens Cameron Parish

When a HURRICANE WATCH is issued for the Cameron area, the national Weather Bureau Office will immediately notify the Cameron Parish Civil Preparedness Office. The Chairmen will call an immediate meeting of their commitees to review preparations for emergency procedures.

DEFINITIONS:

HURRICANE WATCH: An announcement issued by the Weather Bureau to the public and all other interests via press and radio and television broadcasts whenever a tropical storm or hurricane becomes a threat to a coastal area. The "Hurricane Watch" announcement is not a warning; it indicates that the hurricane is near enough that everyone in the area covered by the "Watch" should listen for subsequent advisories and be ready to take precautionary action in case hurricane warnings are issued.

HURRICANE WARNING: A warning indicating that hurricane winds of 74 miles per hour (64 knots) or higher or a combination of dangerously high water and very rough seas (with winds as low as 60 miles per hour) are expected in a specified coastal area. When a Hurricane Warning is announced hurricane conditions are considered imminent and may begin immediately or at least within 24 hours. It is of utmost importance that precautionary actions be instituted immediately when a Hurricane Warning is announced.

The public will be asked to take the following precautionary measures: THESE ARE PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES PRIOR TO EVACUATION

1. Check homes. Secure loose shingles or tiles. Repair window shutters and shaky chimneys.
2. Check yards. Trim or remove dead or dying trees. Anchor removable objects such as dog houses, chicken coops, lumber piles, etc.
3. Maintain supply of boards for boarding up picture and show windows.
4. Always keep at hand at least one flashlight in good condition.
5. Maintain in good operating condition battery-powered radio receivers for reception of Emergency Weather Warnings and other information from KOLE, KPAC, KAOK, KLOU, KLCL, KIKS-FM, and KPLC-TV. Also to be broadcast and published are instructions on what should be done when a hurricane is expected to strike the area. These include the following:
1. Keep your radio or television on and listen for latest Weather Bureau warnings and advisories. If power fails, use your car radio or other battery-powered receivers. Keep radio tuned to one of the following: KOLE, KPAC, KAOK, KLOU, KLCL, KIKS-FM, or KPLC-TV, and observe the instructions, Keep monitors on at all times if not actually listening to broadcasts. Keep your neighbors informed.
2. Avoid being misled by rumors. Rely only on advices from responsible public officials.
3. Be alert for high water in areas where streams of rivers may flood after heavy rains.
4. Board up windows or protect them with storm shutters or tape. Use good lumber securely fastened. Makeshift boarding may do more damage than none at all. Have strong bracing for outside doors.
5. Buy extra food, especially things which can be eaten without cooking or with very little preparation. Electric power may be off and you may be without refrigeration. Place dry ice in deep freezers and refrigerators to keep food from spoiling.
6. If emergency cooking facilities are necessary, be sure they are in working order.
7. Store drinking water in clean bathtubs, jugs, bottles, and cooking utensils. City water service may be interrupted during the hurricane and wells become polluted.
8. If in one of the evacuation areas, move furniture and other valuables to upper floors to minimize flood damage.
9. Check your battery-powered radio, emergency lights and flashlights. Be sure they are in working condition and keep them handy.
10. Make certain you have gasoline in your car. If electric power is off, filling stations may not be able to operate pumps for several days. (However, Cameron Shell Station and Creole Shell Station are able to operate on a generator.)
11. Make provisions for children and adults requiring special diets. If anyone in your home has to be removed by ambulance, phone the Emergency Operating Center, 775-5551.
12. If possible, arrange for the safe keeping of pets and other animals by friends living in quarters that will not have to be evacuated. No pets or animals of any kind will be allowed in evacuation shelters.
13. Be calm. Your ability to meet emergencies will inspire and help others.
14. When your civil Preparedness Committee advises evacuation, follow these instructions promptly:

a) Shut off main gas valve and pull main power switch before leaving home.

b) Head for the proper shelters or evacuation points indicated for your area.

c) Evacuated areas will be policed to prevent looting.

d) At shelter, follow instructions of Red Cross personnel in charge. Volunteer your assistance to do any tasks which are needed for the efficient operation of the shelter.

e) If the center or the "eye" of the hurricane passes directly over, there will be a lull in the wind lasting from a few minutes to half an hour or more. STAY IN A SAFE PLACE. Make emergency repairs during the lull if necessary, but remember the wind will return suddenly from the opposite direction, frequently with even greater violence.

f) Remain at shelter until informed that you may leave. Re-entry into evacuated areas will be given by Civil Defense when it is safe to return.

g) Keep calm at all times. If instructions are observed promptly, there is little personal danger involved. The local hazards from hurricanes have been carefully evaluated, and the measures taken for your protection have been well planned.

26th Year--No. 39 Aug. 5, 1982 Cameron, La.

SHOWN HOLDING some of the auction items for the annual Ducks Unlimited banquet in Cameron parish are Wilbur Trahan, Carolyn Beard, Rickey Guidry, and Sidney Theriot, DU committeemen.

DU banquet set here

Wilbur Trahan was named chairman - elect of the Cameron parish chapter of Ducks Unlimited at a meeting of the group held last week at the Crain Bros hunting camp at Little Chenier.

Zeke Wainwright, chairman, was in charge of the business meeting.

He appointed the following committee to pick up auction items from businesses for the upcoming DU banquet to be held Sept. 18 at the KC hall in Creole: Sidney Theriot, Randy Martel, Sheila Wainwright, Carolyn Beard, and Brenda Boudreaux.

Theriot was also put in charge of contacting the area radio stations regarding publicity for the banquet.

Wainwright gave a report on the sponsors and displayed some of the auction items which have already arrived. The committee decided that the main raffle item will be a 3-wheeler.

Larry Myers reported that he will again make and donate another DU barbecue pit for the banquet auction.

Wainwright said that the South Cameron high school cheerleaders have volunteered to help out at the banquet.

A report on Green-Wing Day to be held at Little Pecan Island was given. All youngsters are invited to attend. Any child who does not already belong to the Green Wings can pay their $5 annual dues that day. Those up to 16 years of age are eligible to join.

The group will depart by boat from the Little Pecan landing at Grand Chenier at 9 a.m. to go out to the island and will arrive back at the dock at approximately 3 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 14.

The next meeting of the organization will be held at the Crain camp Monday, Aug. 9, at 7 p.m.

A gumbo made by Fats Dupont was served by Mrs. Baro Boudreaux.

Surgery being done again at hospital

South Cameron Memorial Hospital's program is reinstigated at the facility for many years selective surgery.

In June Ulla Sinnemaki, O.R. supervisor of the hospital, organized the surgical program which has now been put in effect.

Dr. Charles Washington, a Lake Charles physician has joined the hospital staff as the head of the surgical team, doing general surgery every other Thursday.

The rest of the surgical team is Mary Jane Guidry, R.N.; Rena LeBouef, L.P.N.; and Irene Stephenson, N.A.

Only elective surgery which is prescribed by lower Cameron parish's two doctors, Dr. Cecil Clark and Dr. Richard Sanders, is performed, no emergencies.

Dr. Washington works in a very modern surgical suite at the hospital which contains special equipment such as a cardiac monitor, cardiac defibrilator, suction machine, tracheotomy set, thorocotomy set, and a resuscitator.

A nurse call system is also available at all times.

The patients who have used the services since it has been reinstated at the hospital have been very satisfied with the surgery, according to Ken Hopper, hospital administrator.

DU meeting

A meeting of the Cameron Parish Ducks Unlimited chapter will be held Monday, Aug. 9, at 7 p.m. at the Crain Brothers hunting camp at Little Chenier, according to Zeke Wainwright, president.

Final plans for Green Wing Day will be made and other club activities will be discussed.

Fines told

$6,436.00 was collected through 38th Judicial District traffic court on 117 tickets during the week of July 26-30, according to District Attorney Jerry G. Jones.

Board meeting

The regular meeting of the Gravity Drainage District #3 will be Friday, August 13, at 2:30 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Police Jury annex.

Tax backed

The Cameron Lions Club, at their weekly noon meeting this week, went on record as endorsing the upcoming recreation tax.

Fire District bonds sold

Fire Protection District No. 14 bonds totaling $633,000 were sold by the Cameron parish policy jury Tuesday at its monthly meeting.

Submitting the joint low bid of 10.84 percent were Shearson/American Express Inc., Calcasieu Marine National Bank and Ladd Dinkins & Co.

One other bid--12.2 percent--was submitted by Howard Weild & Co.

In another bid opening, McDaniel Welding Service company submitted the low bid of $42,500 on a boat launch in Ward 5.

The Cameron State Bank and the Calcasieu Marine Bank were named the joint fiscal agent for the jury after they submitted a joint bid on the services.

George Bailey, parish engineer, said he expected the jury would be able to open bids on Sept. 15 on the expansion of the town of Cameron's sewer system to all parts of the sewer district.

The jury agreed to invite the Lake Charles Harbor and Terminal District to send a representative to the jury's claim meeting to discuss mutual problems in regards to the Lake Charles ship channel.

Jurors were particularly distrubed because the harbor and terminal district opposed the construction of a high level bridge over the ship channel at Cameron.

Juror Ernest Trahan asked the jury to write the highway department to investigate the need of lowering the speed limit on the state highway near the Johnson Bayou school.

Local court has busy schedule

Judge Ward Fontenot, 38th Judicial District Court judge, serving Cameron parish has been holding court in Jennings this past month.

For the last two years he has used a portion of his summer vacation to serve other judicial districts.

In the summer of 1981, he presided two weeks in the 13th Judicial District (Evangeline Parish) due to the illness of the judge from that district.

This summer he conducted two weeks of criminal jury trials in the 31st Judicial District (Jefferson Davis Parish). This was to assist that district judge who was burdened with some extensive civil cases.

Although Judge Fontenot says that he has not minded the extra work, he may not be able to accept these special assignments in the future. This is because of the increased workload of the 38th Judicial District (Cameron Parish).

He explained that both the criminal and civil work of his district have increased.

An example of this increase is shown in the following comparisons. In the past year, the parishes of Jefferson Davis, Allen and Beauregard had a combined total of seven civil jury trials.

Judge Fontenot has already presided over six civil juries in Cameron Parish as of July, 1982, and anticipates an equal number for the balance of the year.

Another marked increase is the number of criminal cases filed.

In 1979, the first year of the Cameron (38th Judicial) District Court, 3,129 criminal cases were filed and in 1981, the total number of criminal cases was 7,036.

Judge Fontenot says that an increase in the population of Cameron Parish and an increase in general business activity has accounted for the greater use of the court.

Goodwin is candidate for constable

Johnny R. Goodwin of Johnson Bayou has announced his candidacy for Constable of Ward 5, Cameron Parish.

Goodwin is the father of three children, Johnny Jr., Sherry and Denman.

Goodwin is married to the former Phyllis A. Broussard.

Goodwin has been employed by Trunkline Gas Co. at the Sting Ray Plant in Johnson Bayou for the past eight years and is a member of the Ward 5 Gravity Drainage board.

In 1977 Goodwin went to Baton Rouge with commercial fishermen from all over Louisiana to organize a commercial fisherman's organization.

Goodwin was appointed to the board of directors of the Louisiana Fisherman's Federation where he served for two years before retiring.

Office to be expanded

The Louisiana Motor Vehicle Division may expand the services of the Cameron driver's license office to include the issuance of motor vehicle titles and other services, Juror Braxton Blake reported to the Cameron police jury Tuesday.

Blake said the division has asked the jury to furnish it with a piece of property on which to locate a trailer for the expanded office.

The jury indicated it would cooperate with the state agency. At the present time the driver's license office is located in the courthouse.

Merchant gets degree

Ricky David Merchant of Creole received his master of education in administration and supervision from McNeese State University Friday, July 30.

He was one of 225 McNeese students to receive their degrees at the university's commencement exercises held at the Lake Charles Civic Center.

Mrs. Theriot

Mrs. Theriot attends LSU banking school

Margaret M. Theriot, assistant vice president at Cameron State Bank was among 106 bankers who successfully completed the premiere session of the Louisiana Bankers Association School of Banking.

Held on the Baton Rouge campus of Louisiana State University, the school taught students lessons in funds management, economics, accounting, marketing, and communications. This school is not to be confused with the School of Banking of the South which is also held on the LSU campus.

The school was designed primarily for bankers who hold intermediate banking positions. The demand for continuing banker education has grown to such a point that the Louisiana Bankers Association continues to provite banker educational programs of all kinds to all bankers.

Students from all over the state representing banks of all sizes attended the first-ever, week-long session of the school. Students must attend a second session next year in order to be graduated from the school. In the meantime, students must complete unique banking assignments in their hometowns before returning to their second year of studies with the LBA School of Banking.

Mrs. Theriot has been with Cameron State Bank since 1976.

Revival set at Johnson Bayou Baptist Church

Rev. Wes Johnson of St. Joe, Texas will be the evangelist for the revival at the Johnson Bayou Baptist Church Aug. 8-13. Evening services will be at 6:30 p.m. each day.

Each night has been designated as a special event. Monday night grades 1-6 will be hosted to a hot dog supper before services with the children honored at the service.

Tuesday night is men's night and Wednesday night, ladies night. The group with the least attendance will give the winners a party later.

Thursday night is family night when families will be asked to sit together.

Friday night following the service will be a time of fellowship and refreshment.

There will be a prayer time each evening at 6 p.m. preceeding the services. Monday thru Friday noon day services will be a combination lunch and Bible study.

With the exception of Monday (hot dogs), those attending are requested to bring a dish as they come. Tuesday will be salads, Wednesday cold cuts, Thursday casseroles and Friday pot luck/left overs. It will start at 12 and end at 1 p.m.

Music will be under the direction of Richard Drost. Everyone is invited to attend.

Athletic Assoc. sets drive here

The South Cameron High School Athletic Association will conduct a door-to-door membership drive Saturday, Aug. 14, according to James "Pep" LeBlanc, president.

Starting at 10 a.m., the group will cover the Grand Chenier, Creole, East Creole and Cameron areas.

Firm may be hired here

The Cameron parish police jury and school board are looking into the possibility of entering into an agreement with the Educational and Treatment Council, Inc. of Lake Charles to provide counseling and treatment services for children, adults and families in the parish.

Jurors, School Supt. Thomas McCall and District Attorney Jerry Jones discussed the proposal Tuesday and agreed to present the matter to the school board next week and also to ask the Lake Charles agency to make a concrete proposal on the cost of its services.

An initial proposal by the council was to provide services to the parish on an annual basis of $75,000 with the cost to be split between the police jury and school board.

Mr. Jones said possibly funds left over after the operation of the district court could be used for the program.

In its initial proposal, the council said it would provide services to law enforcement agencies, the courts and all Cameron parish residents ages 6 and over with emphasis on child and adolescent family problems, drug abuse problems, marital counseling, crisis intervention and general mental health treatment needs.

The agency said the services would be provided in Cameron parish and also at its Lake Charles offices.

The Lake Charles council is a non-profit private corporation that provides counseling services to five parishes in this area.

Drill activity still good here

Despite a general slow down in oil and gas activities in most parts of the nation, there is still a good bit of work going on in Cameron parish.

At its monthly meeting Tuesday, the Cameron parish police jury approved permits for oil or gas wells Lamson/Onshore Petroleum Corp., two wells near Gueydan; Diamex Co., Grand Chenier area; Nestro Petroleum Corp., Pumpkin Ridge area; Davis Oil Co., two wells in Grand Chenier area; Diamex Co., Miami Corp. land.

Pipeline permits were approved for Mobil Oil Co. to cross a Cameron canal into Vermilion parish near Lowery and Louisiana Resources Co., in Grand Chenier area.

Sam Myers was given two permits to dredge canals and slips in the South King Bayou area on Dr. S. O. Carter Estate property.

Seiscom Delta Unite was given permission to do seismic work in the parish.

Other permits granted by the jury included one for a salt water disposal barrel tank for Union Oil Co. in the Sweetlake field; a permit for a camp site and timber dock for Jerry G. Jones on the West Fork of the Calcasieu river.

Residential building permits were approved for E. J. Duhon in Cameron and Thomas F. McCall in Grand Chenier and a non-residential permit was given to Anthony Meyers, Hackberry.

Liquor permits were approved for Michael W. Benoit, Fishing Shack, Hackberry; and Orrie P. Canik, Kajon Food Store, Grand chenier.

Bayou man dies in traffic mishap

A 69-year-old Johnson Bayou man was killed early Sunday in a two-vehicle accident on La. 82 approximately two miles west of Johnson Bayou, according to State Police Troop D.

The fatality was identified as Ira Jinks. He was pronounced dead at the scene and later taken to South Cameron hospital.

Troopers said the accident occurred at 8:32 a.m. George Delossantos, 36, of Houston was traveling west on La. 82. He was driving a truck and trailer.

Delossantos was reportedly traveling at a high rate of speed when he looked into his rear-view mirror to check his trailer. When he looked back ahead, Delossantos spotted Jinks' pickup truck in front and couldn't stop in time to avoid hitting it.

Troopers said Delossantos' truck skidded 46 feet before hitting Jinks' vehicle, knocking 100 feet and causing it to roll over. Jinks' truck came to rest on the north shoulder of La. 82. He was partially ejected.

Delossantos' truck skidded 100 feet in the east lane and traveled 130 feet on the south shoulder of the road. The truck then came across the highway and traveled another 145 feet before coming to rest on the roadway.

Jinks' death was the fifth reported traffic fatality in Cameron Parish this year.

Funeral services for Mr. Jinks, 69, were held Tuesday, Aug. 3, at First Baptist Church.

Burial was in Head of the Hollow Cemetery.

A native and lifelong resident of Johnson Bayou, he was a retired pumper for Texaco Co.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Maydell Raggio Jinks; four sons, James Lee, Charles Hubert, Larry Allen, and Roger Dale Jinks, all of Johnson Bayou; two daughters, Mrs. Faye Marie Watkins and Mrs. Juanita Elaine Sandifer, both of Johnson Bayou; five brothers, Archie, Clifford, Eddie and Ronald Jinks, all of Johnson Bayou, and Vernon Jinks of Hackberry; one sister, Mrs. Hattie Trahan of Johnson Bayou; 19 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

'Lance Mudd Day' set

Thursday, Aug. 12 has been proclaimed "Lance Mudd Day" in Cameron parish by the Cameron parish police jury in honor of the Cameron youth who won first place in the cutting horse contest in the National High School Championship Rodeo in Douglas, Wyoming last week.

Cameron parish was represented by eight contestants in the national competition: Lance Mudd and Stacy Mudd of Cameron; Guy Murphy III of Grand chenier; and Tim Little, Paul Doucet, Duane Brown, Scott Kyle and Mark Trahan of Hackberry.

Permit asked

Another Corps of Engineers permit is being sought by Arco Oil and Gas Co. to dredge a slip as an extension to an existing canal for access to a proposed oil well location about 7.9 miles northeast of Creole.

Blood sought

The Louisiana Blood Center will have a unit at the Wakefield Memorial Methodist church in Cameron on Aug. 11 from 6 to 8 p.m. for blood donations to replace blood for George Blake.

Schools open August 31

By Geneva Griffith

Cameron Parish school will open Monday, August 23, and close on May 31, 1983.

The following holidays will be observed during the 1982-83 school year: Teacher In-Service on Sept. 2 and 3; Labor Day, Sept. 6; Thanksgiving holidays, Nov. 22-26; Christmas holidays Dec. 20-Jan. 3; Fur Festival, Jan. 14, 1983; Easter holidays, March 28-April 4, 1983.

The enrollment in Kindergarten through 8th grades in 1616, an increase of 50 over last year; 697 in 9th through 12th grades, an increase of 105, making a total increase from last year of 155 students.

152 teachers serve the school system including 68 with a B.A. degree, 63 with M.A.; 18 with +30; and 3 specialists.

The pupil-teacher ratio is approximately 15-1 with all teachers teaching in their degree field.

The difficulty in finding teachers for the 82-83 school year was limited to special education.

Robert Ortego, Assistant School superintendent, said "We are in need of four resource room teachers, one gifted and talented teacher, one speech therapist, one social worker, and one assessment teacher."

Cameron parish has been and will remain as one of the highest paying parishes in the state for teachers salaries.

A proposed salary increase will be brought before the Board at its August meeting.

Approximately 80 percent of the parish students, including those on free and reduced lunches, participate in the school lunch program.

Of the 33 school buses serving Cameron Parish, 29 bus elementary and secondary students, three serve students attending McNeese State University and SOWELA Tech. in Lake Charles, and one transports special education students.

About 1700 students, or 80 percent of the student population ride school buses daily. The cost of transportation to the local system is approximately $100,000 annually.

Three administrative positions have been filled for the 1982-83 school year.

Roger Richard was appointed supervisor of maintenance, transportation and fixed assets. He was a teacher at Grand Lake school prior to this appointment.

Clarence Vidrine was appointed principal at the Cameron Elementary school replacing Wayne Batts. Vidrine was the guidance counselor at South Cameron High School.

Wayne Batts was appointed to the position of principal at South Cameron High school. He was principal at Cameron Elementary School for one year prior to his appointment.

Over $10 million dollars will have been spent on all the schools in Cameron Parish by the end of 1983-84 school year for new construction and renovation of existing buildings.

The majority of the monies being used are a result of bond issues passed in all four school districts in 1980 and 1981.

Some of the projects are very near completion and will be in operation at the beginning of this school term.

Other projects have recently begun, while others are to be started in the very near future.

The basic school curriculum in Cameron Parish is enhanced by special programs and specialized personnel.

The basics, reading, writing, and mathematics continue to be emphasized. The curriculum has been broadened to include such programs as gun and bus safety, substance abuse, CPR, Newspaper In Education, self-development and word processing.

Persons with specialized training are employed to supplement the work of the regular classroom teacher. Special education teachers provide enrichment for the academically and artistically talented and students needing remedial aide.

The tutorial program gives students additional help in reading and mathematics.

Registrar sets visit

Mrs. Faye Jones, Cameron parish registrar of voters, announced that a deputy registrar from her office will be at the following locations for the convenience of persons wishing to register to vote:

Monday, Aug. 9
Klondike recreation center, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.
Mrs. Clifford Broussard's home, Lowery, 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Tuesday, Aug. 10
Johnson Bayou recreation center, 10 a.m. to noon.
Hackberry rec. center, 1 to 3:30 p.m.

Dance set

The CYO of the Big Lake area is planning a dance, Saturday, Aug. 7, 8 to midnight. The band will be "The Outlaws".

The cost will be $2 per person or $3 a couple.

CARD OF THANKS

CARD OF THANKS

The Grand Chenier Catholic Community Organization would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to the many people who worked so diligently to make our Fourth of July functions a success. Special thanks are expressed to the members of St. Eugene and Immaculate Conception Catholic Churches. Also, we appreciate the cooperation of the Cattlemen's Association, the American Legion Sturlese Post, officials of Cameron Parish, especially Sheriff Sono Savoie, his deputies and the Agents from Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries. Thanks to the Cajun Saltwater Anglers for sponsoring the offshore rodeo activities.

Along with the above, our Organization appreciates all who participated in the activities and celebrations including the Tiny Tot Contest, Raffle Ticket Sales, Boat Races, Queen's Contest, Auctions, Country Store and Food Sales.

This year's festivities were a great success. Monies received by this organization will be used to improve our Catholic Community as a whole. Your support both moral and financial, prayers, and assistance are deeply appreciated.

Sincerely,
Robert Mhire
Coordinator

Shade trees valuable to homeowners

The hot days of summer increase the appreciation and value of dependable shade trees, says Dr. Neil G. Odenwald, landscape architect with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service. In addition to aesthetic and utilitarian values, shade trees have dollar value that has been increasing in recent years.

"Shade trees have managed to increase their dollar worth," he adds. If storm damage to shade trees is properly evaluated and substantiated as a casualty, the loss is deductible on income taxes. The value and resultant loss can be determined by the decrease in assessed value of the real estate. The value of a healthy specimen or a tree grouping is very much a consideration when buying and selling real estate, Odenwald adds.

The professional "Guide for Establishing Values of Trees and Other Plants," prepared by the Council of Tree and Landscape Appraisers, computed the worth of a tree at $18 per square inch of trunk size at 4½ feet above the ground.

Tree value is based on such factors as tree size, species, condition and location.

Small trees are not evaluated by the shade tree formula, Odenwald says. Those under 6 inches have a "replacement value" only. It is the cost of a new tree of the same size.

Among the most desirable shade trees are oaks, magnolia, beech, ginkgo, and yellow poplar. Least desirable include silver maple, boxelder, chinaberry and mulberry.

Relative values for tree location must be left to the competent plant appraiser, who, with basic knowledge of trees and landscape design, can carefully analyze each case, Odenwald says.

Regardless of the category and formula value, a tree which provides much-needed shade during the summer months is a valuable and often irreplaceable asset to a homesite.

For more information on growing shade trees, contact the county agent in the parish office of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service, a unit of the University's Center for Agricultural Sciences and Rural Development.

Vo-tech to begin fall classes soon

Classes at Cameron Vocational-Technical School will be closed July 31 - Aug. 20 for teachers conference and annual summer vacation. The admitting office will be closed Aug. 9 - 13 for staff vacation.

The fall session begins Monday, Aug. 23, according to Leslie D. Griffith, director of the school. Classes will be held from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Courses offered include Auto Mechanics, Welding, and Office Occupations.

High school students who wish to attend school to earn credit toward high school graduation will be accepted provided they are at least 16 years old and have written permission from their high school principal.

Post to have memorial gifts

The Sturlese American Legion Post has initiated a memorial Gifts Fund for those who wish to donate to the Post in memory of loved ones.

Those wishing to make donations may do so by sending it to Mrs. Mamie Richard, Rt. 1, Box 119, Grand Chenier, La. 70643 and a notification will be sent to the family of the deceased.

Coast guard number told

Of interest to local marine interest is the fact that the United States Coast Guard has recently installed a toll-free telephone number which is provided to assist the commercial and recreational boating industry and the general public with any questions regarding Coast Guard regulations.

The service is primarily available to assist in answering questions that cannot be handled by the local Coast Guard district office.

The toll-free number is 1-800-368-5647.

Hospital patients

Patients admitted to South Cameron Memorial Hospital this past week were:

July 26, Gilbert Daigle, Cameron; Brenda LeLeux, J. B. Route, Cameron; Mahleen Hebert, Esterwood; Deric January, Creole; Mark Lavergne, Creole.

July 27, Tommy Thompson, Creole; Lucy Abrahamsen, Cameron; Leslie Griffith, Grand Chenier; Wilfred Reid, Anniston, Ala.; Rebecca Conner, Cameron; Roland Levier, Lake Charles.

July 28, Michael McGrady, Cameron; Margaret Griffin, Cameron.

July 29, Daniel J. LaBove, Cameron; Jerome Foff, Leaf, Miss.

July 31, Joyce Dinger, Cameron; John W. Thomas, Pensacola, Fla.

Obstructions are mapped along coast

Underwater obstructions off the Coast of Cameron Parish from the beach to three miles offshore will be charted in a new book chart format and will be available to fishermen before the 1983 shrimping season.

Most marine interest have already received the large 26 x 42 inch charts listing Cameron Parish obstructions which were recently available free to commercial fishermen.

This large chart proved to be beneficial; however, many fishermen requested that in future maps the standard 1:80,000 scale be used because of fishermen's familiarity with the scale on the NOAA charts commonly used.

Fishermen also requested that the offshore areas off Cameron Parish be broken down into several units and that small book charts be made available which illustrate underwater obstructions in each individual unit.

Because of the requests and comments made by fishermen an entirely parish-wide chart of underwater obstructions will be developed at the 1:80,000 scale.

In addition to the parish-wide chart several smaller book chart "maps" will also be developed which will more specifically illustrate obstructions in several various areas comprising the offshore state waters of Cameron parish.

These smaller book charts will be 8½ x 11 inches in size and will be designed to be placed in a metal binder.

At least 5 book chart "maps" will be developed to cover the entire Cameron Coast and will be made so that they can be overlapped for complete coverage.

User fees are a hot topic

The federal government has released its draft of legislation on the proposed Coast Guard user fees.

These fees are lower than the ones originally proposed.

Fishermen are supposed to pay about $51 million under the new plan, compared to $165 million under the old plan.

The draft legislation proposes a yearly fee of $290 for commercial fishing boats under 5 gross tons, $600 yearly for vessels of 5 to 99 gross tons and $1200 for those 100 to 499 gross tons.

The administration has substantially reduced the proposed user fees in part due to the commercial fishing industry criticism that few benefits are received from the Coast Guard.

Recent deliberations were so heated that the measure did not clear the subcommittee.

Mobil brings in good gas well offshore

(From New Business)

Mobil Oil Exploration and Production has brought in a dandy gas well off the coast of Cameron Parish in state waters. Mobil's State Lease 1123 L-1 in West Cameron Block 33 was completed early last month. On state test the well flowed over 15 million cubic feet of natural gas and 234 barrels of condensate per day through a 19/64-inch choke, with flowing tubine pressure of 8025 psi and shut-in tubing pressure of 8500 psi. Perforations were in the Lieb 9 sand between 12,390 and 12,440 feet.

A Second Bayou in Cameron Parish, Texaco brought in its Miami Corp. Fee No. 6 last month as a healthy gas producer. The well tested at 1.7 million cubic feet of gas and 2 barrels of condensate per day on a 12/64-inch choke. Flowing tubing pressure was 312 psi and shut-in tubing pressure was 3200 psi. Perforations were between 9,92 and 9,926 feet in the Upper No. 3 sand.

Also in Cameron Parish veteran wildcatter J. P. Owen of Lafayette has asked to drill a 14,000-foot test on state lease in Section 22 T15S R 14W.

The count of active drilling rigs on land in southern Louisiana has plunged to 115, with 92 land rigs, or 44 percent of the fleet, reported idle, according to Drilling Records.

Drilling Records indicates the number of barge rigs at work in the area dropped recently from 45 to 41, and the number of active posted barges has remained steady at about 35

Mrs. Earline Baccigalopi, Creole, reported that all the clubs were represented at National Library Week in the Cameron Library. All the clubs helped with the Council on Aging Health Fair.

All clubs were reminded to have their 1983 lists of members, officers and educational chairman in to the extension office by oct. 1, 1982.

Hostesses, meeting dates and times need to be in by Aug. 15.

It was announced that training for 1983 educational chairmen will be held in Eunice in October.

The following assignments were made for Achievement Day: Mrs. Nata Hebert, call to order; Mrs. Earline Baccigalopi, pledge of allegiance; Mrs. Billie Fruge, club collect; and Mrs. Hebert, welcome.

At the morning session, Mrs. Anna Kittrell, Home Economist with Entex, presented a series of egg cookery slides and gave a talk on processing eggs and gave out egg menus, recipes, and reported she will hold a holiday foods workshop in the fall.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

The British Element - English, Scotch, Scotch-Irish and Welsh - according to research, "makes up about one third of the flesh and blood of the United States" - this holding true also for Louisiana.

The Scotch-Irish heritage of our nation is long, proud and lively. When in the early 1700s these families began emigrating to America in large numbers, they came for religious and political freedom with the right to own land on their strongly individualistic terms.

Some of these families had been in Ireland for over one hundred years. However, they had never mingled with the Irish natives - socially, politically or religiously - and they still considered themselves to be Scots.

The Scotch-Irish as they came to be called in America, were generally a rugged lot. With a heritage of stubbornly fighting for their rights they made excellent frontiersmen and seemed to take naturally to the pioneering life. Then too, they had a gift for trade.

Almost any family with a Scotch-Irish heritage will find they have a military heritage as well. These ancestors volunteered readily for service in the American Revolution, being strongly anti-British and inherently independent. As often as not they earned reputations as unmatched in battle but almost impossible for the officers to handle when there wasn't any action.

TAYLOR FAMILY

On the Taylor Trail compiled by Ardis Taylor with Luella Taylor Wagner, Marjorie Robinson and Neal Taylor is the story of one of America's Scotch-Irish TAYLOR emigrants and many of his prolific line.

William Taylor, Sr., c1740-1820s, according to family tradition, is from a branch of Taylors who first settled in Pennsylvania, moved to Virginia, later to North Carolina, then to Georgia, on further south and west, arriving early in Texas, as well as going up into Illinois, Tennessee, Kentucky, etc. True to their heritage, the Taylors pioneered in many places.

William Taylor, Sr. married "the Widow Rice" whose first name may have been Martha. They had nine sons and one daughter, descendants listed in this book for all but two sons.

This Taylor volume is well done and very interesting. The introduction tells how the author set queries NOT be sent to her as she cannot answer them due to a lack of time.

ALABAMA QUARTERLY

Alabama Family History and Genealogy News is published quarterly by: Briarwood Press, Rt. 1, Box 221, Hanceville, Alabama 35077.

The official publication for The North Central Alabama Genealogical about researching her husband's family; the first chapter gives historical background, political and religious, for Scotch-Irish emigrants and paints a picture of pioneer life in the 1700s.

Many personal stories are given through the book, including amusing ones. Photographs, sketches and reproductions; the use of subheads, blackface and different sizes of type, plus a two column per wide-page makeup all add to the book's easy reading and large amount of information.

Hardcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 268 pages, indexed, $32.50, available from the author: Ardis Taylor, Rt. 2, Box 135, Lisbon, ND 58054.

Mrs. Taylor requests that queries NOT be sent to her as she cannot answer them due to a lack of time.

Society which was organized in January of 1980, this quarterly is available with membership in the Society at $12.00 annually sent to their treasurer, Edwin D. Guthrie, same address above. Joyce Davis is editor.

The spring issue, soft-cover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., pages 21-36, contains records from Blount, Cullman, Limestone, Marshall, Morgan, Walker, Franklin and Winston counties, the Creek and Florida Wars, etc.

Monceaux rites held at L. Arthur

Funeral services for Mrs. Etulia Monceaux, 85, were held Tuesday, Aug. 3, in the Miguez Funeral Home Chapel in Lake Arthur.

The Rev. Gerrard Smit, pastor of Our Lady of the Lake Catholic Church officiated.

Burial was in the Andrus Cove Cemetery.

Mrs. Monceaux died Monday in a Jennings hospital.

She was a native and lifelong resident of the Lowery-Lake Arthur area.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Marie Spell, Mrs. Norma Pellerin, both of Lake Arthur and Mrs. Russie Morine of Lake Charles; two sons, Dallas Monceaux and Nick Monceaux, both of Lake Arthur; three sisters, Mrs. Della Boatner of Silsbee, Texas, Mrs. Amelia Trahan and Dana Gary, both of Lake Athur; one brother, Joseph Gary of Beaumont, Texas; 25 grandchildren, and 33 great-grandchildren.

Permits asked for crawfish ponds here

Crawfish farming is becoming more popular in Cameron parish. The U. S. Corps of Engineers currently have requests for permits for two such farms in the parish.

John Paul Crain of Grand Chenier is seeking to build one in the Johnson Bayou area near Hamilton Lake and proposes to excavate 35,860 cubic yards of material.

Carroll LeMaire is proposing to build one about 8.5 miles northwest of the Grand Lake ridge near Willow Lake. He plans to install a fill to construct a levee to enclose an area 1,320 feet long and 660 feet wide.

August going to be hot & humid as usual

By Dr. Robert A. Muller

[EDS. NOTE: This is one in a series of monthly columns on Louisiana's unique and varied climate, with special emphasis on what types of weather might be expected in August. Dr. Muller, an LSU professor in the Department of Anthropology and Geography, also serves as climatologist for the State of Louisiana.]

Climatic stress and the proper clothes--these are two very important points to make in this month's column.

August stalks in with the year's last blistering heat and draining humidity. Whether it feels like it or not, September represents the onset of fall.

For those who must be outside--farm workers, practicing athletes and band members, joggers and construction workers--August is not a comfortable month. Probably the most climatically stressful month of the year, our eighth month has hot and humid weather with little or no wind except during storms. Louisiana is part of a large section of the southeastern United States with very weak winds during summer and early fall.

August temperatures are often as warm as the body temperature, particularly in north Louisiana. This means that those who work or play outside cannot depend on the air to cool them, but must rely on the body's ability to cool itself.

The body should have some cooperation, however, and I offer a word of caution: don't drip! Evaporative cooling is many times more effective than dripping.

Topless workers and joggers expose their body surfaces to direct solar radiation. Consequently, when the body tries to cool itself by the perspiration process, the water drips off before it can do any significant cooling. Wearing loose, light-colored clothing will shield the skin from the direct sun rays and reflect a great deal of the solar heat away from the body. The clothing also gets wet from the perspiration and provides an evaporating surface that cools the air between the body and the fabric. It may not sound like much fun, but with the temperatures in the upper 90s and no wind, it's about the only thing you've got going if you have to be outside.

August is not all negative, though. One of the best things about the month is the shortening days, a marvelous psychological boost because they hint of cooler times to come. We begin with 13½ hours of daylight and end the month with only about 12½. The sun rises at 5:15 a.m. Standard Time and sets at 6:45 p.m. at the beginning of the month, then lessens to a sunrise at 5:45 a.m. Standard Time and sunset at 6:15 p.m. toward the end of the month. Shorter days mean less time for the earth to heat and longer nights for it to cool.

Now a little bit about the hows and whys of our August summer.

Louisiana -- particularly south Louisiana -- is dominated almost entirely by Gulf weather systems during the month. The most predominant is the Gulf High, which occurs about 26 percent of the time and means warm, humid air and southwesterly winds. A second system, the Coastal Return, accounts for another 21 percent of the weather and is characterized by warm, humid air and easterly winds. The Gulf Return represents still another 16 percent and is typified by warm, very moist air and southerly winds.

Obviously it takes neither seer nor prophet to be able to predict that August is probably going to be hot and humid, no matter which way the wind blows--the little that we have. If we're lucky, however, we might get "one of those summers," created when a Continental High or two slip into the northern part of the state and eke their way southward. When that happens, overnight temperatures fall to the lower 60s in north Louisiana and the upper 60s in south Louisiana. The days are still very warm but the air is noticably drier and everyone is much more comfortable and often easier to get along with.

As in July, rainfall is particularly important in August, since the moisture loss is so great this month. South Louisiana usually has an ample amount, due primarily to the Gulf Tropical Disturbance systems, which, incidentally, represent another 10 percent of this month's weather. New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Lake Charles, and Lafayette can expect six or seven inches during the month, but Alexandria, Monroe, and Shreveport will typically only receive three or four inches because the Gulf systems often expend themselves before they get far enough inland to benefit the entire state.

The meager rainfall in north Louisiana has some serious agricultural implications, because the landscape is not getting enough water to keep the vegetation healthy. Shallow - rooted plants tend to suffer in August, when the state's potential moisture loss to the atmosphere by evaporation and plant transpiration is at least six inches. (You may remember from last month that plants "transpire" instead of "perspire.")

The gap between water loss and water gain--made worse in recent years by especially dry summers--has prompted increased supplemental irrigation in agriculture. Some experimental cloud seeding has also begun in Natchitoches Parish, but it is too soon to know how successful the venture will prove.

August is the middle of hurricane season, and the Gulf Coast still bears the scars of some August biggies of the past. Camille in August of 1969 devastated coastal Mississippi and destroyed virtually all of the buildings south of Buras in Louisiana's Plaquemines Parish. The hurricane created a 22-foot rise in sea level, one of the highest storm surges in U.S. history.

Another record-breaker is the more recent Frederick of 1979. Officially a September villain, Frederick actually brewed up in late August. Although few lives were lost during Frederick, it was the most destructive storm, in dollar terms, that the United States has experienced. Striking the Mobile area--its first major hit since 1926--the storm seriously damaged the neighboring prime coastal resort areas of Mississippi, Alabama, and Florida. The storm also claimed five lives and $2.3 billion in damages.

Plant now for fall garden vegetables

August and September are important months in the calendar of the fall vegetable gardener. A bountiful crop of Louisiana spring vegetables can be grown in the coming months, says Dr. Tom Koske, horticulturist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Most seeds will need good soil moisture to germinate. Koske recommends using a mulch or provide shade to hold moisture.

Tomatoes and peppers can still be transplanted in early August if well - developed transplants are available. Most other vegetables can be started in flats and transplanted directly into gardents. However, with warm soil temperatures, most gardeners prefer to seed directly into the garden.

During August, gardeners may seed broccoli, cauliflower, squash, cucumbers, Brussels sprouts, cabbage, Chinese cabbage, collards, mustard and turnips.

Southern peas can still be planted if seeded in early August. August is also a good time to start any of the bush-type beans. A planting can be made the first part of the month and a second planting about two weeks later. Toward the end of August, head lettuce can be seeded. From now into early September, Irish potato seed pieces can be planted.

Gardeners who have had a successful crop this spring should use about half the rate of fertilizer in starting fall crops, says Koske. Be sure to sidedress as needed so that plants will have productive but not overly vegetative growth.

For more information on vegetable gardening, contact an agent with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service in your parish.

Referendum set on wool

A referendum will be held Aug. 16 - 27 to give lamb and wool producers an opportunity to vote for the continuation of the promotion program. Wool producers will vote on whether they want the American Sheep Producers Council, Inc. to continue its market promotion and improvement program on their behalf by entering a new agreement with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, according to Kirk D. Moore, County Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Calcasieu-Cameron parish.

The agreement to be voted on is similar to one approved in 1978, except it would authorize larger deductions from producer incentive payments. By approving it, wool producers would authorize deductions of up to 4 cents per pound on shorn wool and 20 cents per hundredweight on unshorn lambs marketed in 1982. The wool program is administered by ASCS, Moore said, and the new agreement would provide for ASCS to withhold part of any wool incentive payments that might be made to wool producers on 1982 - 85 marketings to finance the Council's promotion activities.

ASCS parish offices will mail copies of the agreement and ballots to sheep producers in early August, Moore said.

Loran hang book available

Of interest to local fishermen is a new Loran C hang book titled "Louisiana Hangs and Bottom Obstructions" which has recently been completed by Arthur Matherne, a commercial shrimper from Barataria.

This new Loran hang book is well designed with obstructions plotted on Loran lined sheets labeled with coordinates.

It covers underwater obstructions along the Louisiana coastline from the Mississippi River to the Texas line.

A large number of hangs from the east side of the Mississippi river are also listed in the back of the book. Hangs from the beach to approximately 70 fathoms are included in the covered area.

The new Loran book can be obtained for $25 from the following address: Arthur J. Matherne, Box 0429-C, Barataria, La. 70036 or by calling (504) 689-2239.

He has also just completed a book covering the Texas coast titled "Texas Hangs and Bottom Obstructions" which can also be obtained at $30.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

While traveling up and down the Mississippi, thousands of settlers steered their boats toward northwestern Louisiana, into Red River which was the early border for northeast Texas.

From the Red River they could proceed into various branches, stopping perhaps at Port Caddo, Port Monterey or Port Jefferson on the Cypress. Others went to Spring Bank or Factory Bluff, now within Arkansas, going into Texas territory from the east or traveling up the Sulphur Fork to enter on the north side of present day boundaries.

Records show that settlers of Louisiana and Texas moved back and forth within the disputed boundaries so that their history was permanently entertwined.

CASS COUNTY

The Cass County Genealogical Society was organized in 1973 for the purpose of preserving and publishing records of that Texas area year of Texas Independence.

Marion County was formed in 1860 from Cass, which had a name change to Davis for a time but was changed back in 1871.

Membership in the Cass County Genealogical Society is $7.00 per year, members receiving four quarterlies annually in which they may run free queries.

PEDIGREES

Pedigrees: Cass County, Texas has been compiled by The Cass County Genealogical Society, P.O. Box 541, Atlanta, Texas 75551. Stiffcover, 8 x 11., indexed, $6.00 incl. mailing, available from them.

Consisting of 105 Ancestor Charts with Cass County connections, these show much of the usual migration pattern from the Carolinas, Georgia, Alabama, etc.

CEMETERY RECORDS

Cass County Cemeteries, also available from the genealogical society, same address, is a stiff bound volume, 8 x 11 in. 275 pages, $15.50 incl. mailing, alphabetical by cemeteries.

Some twenty people worked on this volume which lists information from the gravestones and gives cemetery where each is located. An introductory section explains where the cemeteries may be found.

FLORENCE COUNTY

Rise Up So Early: A History of Florence County, South Carolina is a hardcover book by G. Wayne King, 452 pages, 6 x 9 in., indexed, $17.50, available from: The Reprint Company Publishers, P.O. Box 5401, Spartanburg, South Carolina 29304.

Well written, with photographs and sketches, this is another of the information filled area histories that blend with genealogy.

Welch immigrants from Penn. came into this area about 1735 beginning its long history with roots in the American Revolution and Civil War. The migration of families from Carolina south and west to the Gulf Coast was a steady process that established permanent family ties from there to here.

Prevent Hypertension

Are you on speaking terms with your blood pressure? If you are overweight, use a lot of salt or tend to be "up tight," you could be headed for a close encounter of the worst kind.

High blood pressure, or hypertension, is a major killer in the United States. And more than 90% of hypertension cases are caused by one or more factors which only you can control.

To help prevent hypertension, say the folks at Colonial Penn Insurance Group:

- Stay away from salt.
- Stay slim and keep moving.
- Learn to relax.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment to be Voted on at the Congressional Election September 11, 1982
SENATE BILL NO. 46

BY MESSRS. BRADEN, JEFFERSON, AND NELSON
A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing to amend Article VII, Section 20(A)(3) of the Constitution of Louisiana, to delete, effective January 1, 1983, the existing homestead exemption from ad valorem taxes applicable to general city taxes in Orleans Parish and to specifically extend the homestead exemption to special district taxes, Sewerage and Water Board taxes, and the special tax for the Audubon Park Zoological Garden in that parish.
Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of Louisiana, two-thirds of the members elected to each house concurring, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Louisiana, for their approval or rejection in the manner provided by law, a proposal to amend Article VII, Section 20 (A)(3) of the Constitution of Louisiana, so that the same shall read as follows:
§20. Homestead Exemption
Section 20.(A) Homeowners.
(3) This exemption shall not extend to municipal taxes. However, the exemption shall apply (a) in Orleans Parish, only to city, special, levee, and levee district taxes, special district taxes, Sewerage and Water Board taxes, and the special tax for the Audubon Park Zoological Garden, and (b) to any municipal taxes levied for school purposes.
Section 2. This proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Louisiana at the next statewide election, to be held in September, 1982, which, upon approval thereof, shall become effective January 1, 1983.
Section 3. On the official ballot to be used at the election there shall be printed:
FOR the proposed amendment to Article VII, Section 20(A)(3) of the Constitution of Louisiana, to provide that in Orleans Parish, effective January 1, 1983, the homestead exemption from ad valorem taxes shall not apply to general city taxes but shall apply to special district taxes, Sewerage and Water Board taxes, and the special tax for the Audubon Park Zoological Garden.
AGAINST the proposed amendment to Article VII, Section 20(A)(3) of the Constitution of Louisiana, to provide that in Orleans Parish, effective January 1, 1983, the homestead exemption from ad valorem taxes shall not apply to general city taxes but shall apply to special district taxes, Sewerage and Water Board taxes, and the special tax for the Audubon Park Zoological Garden.
Each elector voting on the proposition for so amending the Constitution shall indicate his vote relative thereto in the manner provided by the election laws of the state of Louisiana.

SENATE BILL NO. 89

BY MR. CASEY
A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing an amendment to Paragraph (A) of Section 1 of Article VII of the Constitution of Louisiana, to provide for extending obligations issued to extend the term of outstanding indebtedness shall not be subject to the same interest rate limitation as refunding bonds issued for other purposes.
Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of Louisiana, two-thirds of the members elected to each house concurring, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Louisiana, for their approval or rejection in the manner provided by law, a proposition to amend Paragraph (A) of Section 6 of Article VII of the Constitution of Louisiana, to read as follows:
§6. State Debt; Full Faith and Credit Obligations
Section 6. (A) Authorization. Unless otherwise authorized by this constitution, the state shall have no power, directly or indirectly, or through any state board, agency, commission, or otherwise, to incur debt or issue bonds except by law enacted by two-thirds of the elected members of each house of the legislature. The debt may be incurred or the bonds issued only if the funds are to be used to repel invasion; suppress insurrection; provide relief from natural catastrophes; refund outstanding indebtedness at the same or a lower effective interest rate, however, the aforesaid interest rate requirement shall not apply to refunding obligations issued for the purpose of extending the term of outstanding indebtedness; or make capital improvements, but only in accordance with a comprehensive capital budget, which the legislature shall adopt.
Section 2. This proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Louisiana at the next congressional primary election to be held in September, 1982.
Section 3. On the official ballot to be used at said election there shall be printed:
FOR the proposed amendment to Paragraph (A) of Section 6 of Article VII of the Constitution of Louisiana, to provide that refunding obligations issued to extend the term of outstanding indebtedness shall not be subject to the same interest rate limitation as refunding bonds issued for other purposes.
and also:
AGAINST the proposed amendment to Paragraph (A) of Section 6 of Article VII of the Constitution of Louisiana, to provide that refunding obligations issued to extend the term of outstanding indebtedness shall not be subject to the same interest rate limitation as refunding bonds issued for other purposes.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment to be Voted on at the Congressional Election September 11, 1982
HOUSE BILL NO. 142

BY MR. WEAVER
A JOINT RESOLUTION
Proposing to amend Section 8 and Section 12 of Article X of the Constitution of Louisiana, relative to appeals to a civil service commission established by Part I of Article X of the Constitution of Louisiana, to authorize the State Civil Service Commission to appoint referees to take testimony, hear, and decide removal and disciplinary cases, to provide for qualification of such referees, and to provide for review of such decisions.
Section 1. Be it resolved by the Legislature of Louisiana, two-thirds of the members elected to each house concurring, that there shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Louisiana, for their approval or rejection in the manner provided by law, a proposal to amend Section 8 and Section 12 of Article X of the Constitution of Louisiana, so that the same shall read as follows:
§8. Appeals
Section 8. (A) Disciplinary Actions. No person who has gained permanent status in the classified state or city service shall be subjected to disciplinary action except for cause expressed in writing. A classified employee subjected to such disciplinary action shall have the right of appeal to the appropriate commission pursuant to Section 12 of this Part. The burden of proof on appeal, as to the facts, shall be on the appointing authority.
(B) Discrimination. No classified employee shall be discriminated against because of his political or religious beliefs, sex, or race. A classified employee so discriminated against shall have the right of appeal to the appropriate commission pursuant to Section 12 of this Part. The burden of proof on appeal, as to the facts, shall be on the appointing authority.
(B) Discrimination. No classified employee shall be discriminated against because of his political or religious beliefs, sex, or race. A classified employee so discriminated against shall have the right of appeal to the appropriate commission pursuant to Section 12 of this Part. The burden of proof on appeal, as to the facts, shall be on the appointing authority.
§12. Appeal
Section 12. (A) State. The State Civil Service Commission shall have the exclusive power and authority to hear and decide all removal and disciplinary cases, with subpoena power and power to administer oaths. It may appoint a referee, with such power and power to administer oaths, to take testimony, hear, and decide all removal and disciplinary cases. The decision of a referee is subject to review by the commission on any question of law or fact upon the filing of an application for review with the commission within fifteen calendar days after the decision of the referee is rendered. If an application for review is not timely filed with the commission, the decision of the referee becomes the final decision of the commission as of the date the decision was rendered. If an application for review is timely filed with the commission and, after a review of the application by the commission, the application is denied, the decision of the referee becomes the final decision of the commission as of the date the application is denied. The final decision of the commission shall be subject to review on any question of law or fact upon appeal to the court of appeal wherein the commission is located, upon application filed with the commission within thirty calendar days after its decision becomes final. Any referee appointed by the commission shall have been admitted to the practice of law in this state for at least three years prior to his appointment.
(B) Cities. Each city commission established by Part II of this Article shall have the exclusive power and authority to hear and decide all removal and disciplinary cases, with subpoena power and power to administer oaths. It may appoint a referee to take testimony, with subpoena power and power to administer oaths to witnesses. The decision of the commission shall be subject to review on any question of law or fact upon appeal to the court of appeal wherein the commission is located, upon application filed with the commission within thirty calendar days after its decision becomes final.
Section 2. This proposed amendment shall be submitted to the electors of the state of Louisiana at the next statewide election to be held on September 11, 1982.
Section 3. On the official ballot to be used at the election there shall be printed:
FOR the proposed amendment to Section 8 and Section 12 of Article X of the Constitution of Louisiana, to authorize the State Civil Service Commission to appoint referees to take testimony, hear, and decide removal and disciplinary cases involving certain state government employees and to provide for review of such cases.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. Savoie seconded by Mr. Manuel and duly adopted.

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF SIX HUNDRED SIXTY-THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($663,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS OF WATERWORKS DISTRICT NO. ELEVEN OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA FOR THE PURPOSE OF PROVIDING FUNDS TO CONSTRUCT AND MAINTAIN WATERWORKS SYSTEMS IN SAID DISTRICT, TITLE TO WHICH SHALL BE IN THE PUBLIC; PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS; FIXING THE FORM AND DETAILS OF SAID BONDS; AND PROVIDING FOR THE SALE OF SAID BONDS.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted by the Board of Commissioners (hereinafter called the "Board") of Waterwords District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, (hereinafter called the "District") on March 24, 1982, a special election in the District was held on May 15, 1982 on the question of the issuance of general obligation bonds of the District in an amount not to exceed six hundred sixty-three thousand dollars ($663,000) for the purpose of providing funds to construct and maintain waterworks systems in the District, title to which shall be in the public; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the qualified electors of the District voting on the aforesaid question posed in said election voted in favor of such question to incur debt and issue such bonds of the District; and

WHEREAS, the Board has investigated the proceedings heretofore taken authorizing the issuance of said bonds and has found and does hereby determine that the same are regular and have been taken in all respects in due conformity with law; and

WHEREAS, Section 39:569 Louisiana Revised Statues of 1950, as amended, makes it the duty of the Board to impose and collect annually, in excess of other taxes, a tax on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due on general obligation bonds for each year.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF WATERWORKS DISTRICT NO. ELEVEN OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA:

SECTION 1. There are hereby authorized to be issued and sold bonds of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana in the aggregate principal amount of six hundred sixty-three thousand dollars ($663,000) for the purpose of providing funds to construct and maintain waterworks systems in the District, title to which shall be in the public. Said bonds shall be designated "Waterworks Bonds, Series 1982" (hereinafter called the "Bonds"). The Bonds shall be dated August 1, 1982, and shall be in the denominations of, and numbered in order of maturity, as follows:

NUMBER	DENOMINATION
2 to 133 (inclusive)	$5,000

The Bonds shall be in coupon form payable to bearer, and shall bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding fifteen per centum (15%) per annum, as shall be determined upon the sale of the Bonds, payable semiannually on February 1 and August 1 of each year, until the final payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon, commencing on February 1, 1983, but only upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons for such interest as they severally become due. Both principal of and interest on the Bonds shall be payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which, on the dates of payment thereof, shall be legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Bonds shall become due and payable serially in numerical order on August 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1983	$33,000
1984	40,000
1985	45,000
1986	50,000
1987	55,000
1988	60,000
1989	70,000
1990	80,000
1991	85,000
1992	95,000
1993	$5,000
1994	5,000

1996	5,000
1997	5,000
1998	5,000
1999	5,000
2000	5,000

The Bonds maturing on and after August 1, 1993, shall be redeemable by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after August 1, 1992, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event the Bonds shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If the Bonds shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount of the Bonds to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for then the Bonds so called for redemption shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

SECTION 2. The Bonds shall be executed in the name of the District by the President and Secretary of the Board by their manual or facsimile signatures, provided that at least one such signature shall be a manual signature, and the corporate seal of the District shall be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted thereon. The coupons to be attached to the Bonds shall be authenticated by facsimile signatures of the said President and Secretary. The Bonds and coupons pertaining thereto bearing the signatures of officers in office at the date of the signing thereof shall, upon delivery thereof and payment therefore be valid and binding obligations of the District, notwithstanding that before delivery thereof and payment therefore any or all of the persons whose signatures appear thereon shall have ceased to be such officers.

SECTION 4. The Bonds, the coupons pertaining thereto, and the endorsement of the Secretary of State of the State of Louisiana to appear thereon, shall be in substantially the following respective forms, to wit:

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON
WATERWORKS BOND, SERIES 1982
OF
WATERWORKS DISTRICT NO. ELEVEN
OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON,
STATE OF LOUISIANA

No. $0,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENT that Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), a subdivision of the State of Louisiana, acknowledges itself indebted and for value received hereby promises to pay to the bearer hereof the principal sum of ——— thousand dollars ($———) on the first day of August ——— (subject to the right of prior redemption hereinafter mentioned), upon presentation and surrender of this bond, and to pay interest on said principal sum from the date hereof until said principal sum is paid in full, at the rate of ———per centum (——%) per annum, payable semiannually on the first days of February and August in each year, commencing on the first day of February, 1983, upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons therefore attached hereto as the same severally become due. Both principal of and interest on this bond are payable in any coin or currency of the United States of American which at the time of such payment is legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

This bond is one of a duly authorized issue of bonds of like date and tenor herewith, except as to number, denomination, interest rate and maturity, issued by the District under and in strict compliance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana, approved by a majority of qualified electors of the District voting on the question of the issuance of said bonds at an election held in the District on May 15, 1982, and issued in accordance with proceedings of the Board of Commissioners of Waterworks District No. Eleven of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, duly adopted, for the purpose of providing funds to construct and maintain waterworks systems in the District, title to which shall be in the public.

The bonds of the issue of which this bond is a part maturing on and after August 1, 1993, may be called for redemption by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after August 1, 1992, in whole at any time, upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event this bond shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If this bond shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount hereof to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then this bond shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

The full faith and credit of the District are irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due. The District has made or will make provisions for the collection of an annual tax, in excess of all other taxes, on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount o pay the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that this bond is authorized by and is issued in conformity with the requirements of the Constitution and statute of the State of Louisiana; that all conditions, acts and things required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana to exist, happen and be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one do exist, have happened and have been performed in regular and due time, form and manner as required by law; and that this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one, together with all other indebtedness of the District, do not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation of indebtedness applicable to the District.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Board of Commissioners of the District, has caused this bond to be executed in its name by the President and Secretary of said Board, by th.ir manual or facsimile signatures (provided that one of such signatures hereon shall be a manual signature), the seal of the said District to be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted hereon, the coupons pertaining to this bond to be executed by the facsimile signatures of said President and Secretary, and this bond to be dated the first day of August, 1982.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the city of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for $663,000 Waterworks Bonds of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same single rate from their date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fifteen per centum (15%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one-half percent (2½%). Only one coupon may be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and bids providing for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposals will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or more than the par plus accrued interest of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest on the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of thirteen hundred sixty dollars ($13,260). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the Purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on August 31, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Waterworks District No. Eleven of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood & Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular. Additional information, copies of a consolidated offering circular regarding the Waterworks Bonds, Series 1982, of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and the Fire Protection Bonds, Series 1982, of Fire Protection District No. Four of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana being contemporaneously offered by said fire protection district and copies of the respective official bid forms are available upon application to Stephen W. White Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana, 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

Robert Manuel,
Secretary of the Board
Commissioner of Waterworks District
No. Eleven of the Parish of
Cameron, Louisiana

SECTION 7. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason for such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

SECTION 8. The proceeds derived from the sale of the Bonds shall be applied to construct and maintain waterworks systems in the District, title to which shall be in the public. The District covenants to and with the purchasers of the Bonds, and with the holders thereof from time to time, that the District shall make no sue of the proceeds of the sale of the Bonds or any investment income therefrom which would cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" under Section 103(c) of the U. S. Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, as the District shall comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations adopted under such Section 103 (c) so long as any Bond is outstanding.

SECTION 9. This resolution shall take effect immediately upon its adoption, and all prior resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with this resolution be and are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

Poolside Tips

To keep your family healthy and 'in the swim' this summer, set up standard pool safety rules.

Statistics show that more than 2,400 young children drown each year. Youngsters should be taught to enjoy the water but with a healthy respect. Some rules you might consider:

- No young child should swim or play in the water without adult supervision.

Cameron. . . . . .Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

Plenty of rain this past weekend has put a little more water in the marshes.

Something I would like to remind or let our anglers know that I'm sure may be a surprise, is the law on speckle trout and red fish concerning sportsman fishing.

Sport fishermen are limited to a combined total of not more than 50 spotted sea trout (speckled trout) or red fish (red drum) per day with a maximum two day catch in possession. Not more than two redfish exceeding 36 inches in length may be taken per day by sports fishermen. No other size for sports fishermen.

In other words, you cannot have 50 spec and 50 redfish, but you may have 50 of one or the other or 50 of a combination of the two.

OFFSHORE
RUDY'S FISH N' STOP

Specs and rat reds are still plentiful at the outgoing tides, but don't linger too far offshore as thunder storms come up fast and you can get into a little more trouble than you barganed for. Earlier in the week there were a few nice drum caught in the cuts off Joseph Harbor with one drum going 22 lbs. and another 18 lbs.

CRABBING

Crabbing has been good enough, but lots of small crabs are being caught, but are catching some nice ones.

BIG BURNS
[illegible]

Stop were good for the Big Burns, with quite a few anglers limiting out. Manning (Tex) Coleman and Keno Nunez caught 20 some nice bass with the largest going close to 3 lbs. They were using the marsh king indigo twister tail metal flake and the purple with fire tail.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB NEWS

The Lemesche Bass Club held a club tourney Sunday, fishing the Big Burn and Anococo and the results went like this:

Largest Stringer: Ricky Canik 20-14; Gerald Richard 17-0; Carl Broussard 16-6; Keno Nunez 11-10; Fredman Theriot 10-2; Anthony Nunez 9-6; Barry Richard 6-0; Loston McEvers 5-8; Ronnie Picou 3-0.

Largest Bass: Ricky Canik 4-4; Gerald Richard 4-0; Carl Broussard 3-6; Keno Nunez 2-8; Loston McEvers 2-6; Fredman Theriot 2-0.

Largest Team Stringer: Ricky Canik and Carl Broussard 37-04; Gerald Richard and Anthony Nunez 26-6; Keno Nunez and Barry Richard 17-0.

Also picking up a few bass Sunday in the Big Burn was Mr. Young and his son from Sweetlake.

Did You Know? Here's a few Louisiana saltwater records:

Redfish - 56 lbs. 8 oz. caught Sept. 1963 by O. L. Comisk.

Speckle trout - 12 lbs. 6 oz, caught May 1950 by Leon Mattes.

Croaker - 8 lbs. caught August 1972 by Douglas J. Bernard.

Until next week, take a friend fishing.

3-wheelers to race Sun. at L. Chenier

A 3 wheeler meet will be held at the "Mud Hold Track" on the Little Chenier Road Sunday, Aug. 8, starting at 11 a.m.

The five events will be pulls, and drags, flat track, mud race, men and ladies team, and boat race.

First through third place trophies will be awarded in each event and an overall trophy awarded for highest point.

Four classes will be competing: 90-125, 175-185, 200 and 500.

For more information call 542-2498, after 5 p.m.

State leads nation in comm. fishermen

In a recent nationwide survey conducted by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources the number of commercial freshwater fishermen in the United states was evaluated.

The results of the survey indicated that approximately 33,000 people identified themselves as freshwater commercial fishermen.

Louisiana led the Nation with approximately 6,000 and Florida was second with 5,525.

Arkansas had 3,775, Mississippi 3,169 and Tennessee 2,709.

The number of freshwater fishermen in the Great Lake States was not impressive, with Wisconsin being the top state in that region with only 855.

Texas closure was legal says judge

Federal District Judge Robert Collins has ruled that the seasonal closure of the federal coastal zone off Texas to shrimping was established in a procedurally correct manner and it is a valid regulation.

The judgement was rendered in a suit brought by the State of Louisiana and the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries against the Secretary of Commerce who had implemented the Fishery Management Plan for shrimp in the Gulf of Mexico.

Louisiana shrimp fishermen had feared that a 45-day seasonal closure of the Western Gulf Waters off Texas would result in a shift of fishing effort to Louisiana waters.

Judge Collins ruled that there is a rational basis, supported by the administrative record, for the Secretary to promulgate regulations implementing the "Texas Closure"

Years ago, country folk believed that the seventh son in a family possessed unsual gifts.

Tax exemption available to fishermen

In 1975 the Louisiana State Legislature passed a bill which makes commercial fishing vessel owner - operators exempt from the payment of state sales taxes on any purchase of equipment or supplies used in their commercial fishing operation.

The exemption is called "a tax exempt number" by commercial fishermen and it applies not only to all purchases of equipment and supplies but also to all repairs on this equipment, including the vessel itself.

It also exempts the fishermen from state sales taxes on deisel fuel and lubricants such as oil for the vessel.

The application for this exemption can be obtained from the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries at 400 Royal Street, New Orleans, 70130, or can be obtained from the office of Paul Coreil, Wildlife and Fisheries agent on the first floor of the Cameron courthouse in the County Agent's office.

26th Year-- No. 40 Aug. 12, 1982 Cameron, La.

Gator season is announced

A statewide alligator hunting season, opening Sept. 4 and extending through Oct. 3, was established by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission at its regular monthly public meeting in New Orleans July 27.

Jesse J. Guidry, secretary of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, said alligator hunting will be permitted only in certain areas, with the consent of landowners, parish officials, or the department, according to specific harvest methods, and following strict regulations which must tract provisions of the Endangered Species Act.

The 30-day season will be closely regulated by rules and procedures adopted by the commission at the meeting.

All alligator harvesting as well as the selling of hides, meat, and parts will be closely monitored by the department and enforcement will be strict, according to Guidry.

Under regulations adopted a quota was established for each area eligible for hunting. During the 1981 season, some 14,600 alligators were taken with an estimated value of almost $2 million.

It is anticipated that approximately 18,000 tags will be issued by the department for the upcoming season.

These tags must be attached to the hides immediately and remain intact during skinning, storage, shipment and processing.

All hunters must be authorized by landowners or proper parish authorities, or the department, and must be properly licensed. Cost of a resident alligator hunting license is $25 and a non-resident sport hunting license is $150.

Indiscriminate hunting of alligators anywhere in Louisiana or in designated no-hunting areas is a violation of state and federal laws.

Guidry said that participants in last year's hunting have already been mailed packets of information, including rules and regulations as well as application forms, along with other pertinent information necessary for participation in this year's season.

He said other interested persons can obtain similar information at any of the department's district offices in Monroe, Minden, Ferriday, Lake Charles, Baton Rouge, Alexandria, Opelousas and New Orleans.

General provisions for the approaching season are similar to those last year. No alligators under four feet in length can be taken. Hunting is allowed only in daylight hours between one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset.

Guidry stressed there would be no indiscriminate hunting of alligators and that this season was different from other hunting season in that sport hunting was strictly controlled.

He said the 'gator hunting program would be restricted to three types of hunting: by landowners of privately owned alligator habitat or their designated representatives, on department - selected lakes containing alligator habitat, and the removal of nuisance alligators.

Hunting on pre-selected Louisiana lakes where alligator habitat exists would be controlled by tag allotments. Hunters will be selected following proper application to the department by individual hunters.

In parishes where nuisance alligator problems exist, a limited number of alligators will be allowed to be removed by designated hunters.

In those cases, parish authorities may be requested to submit the names of designated hunters for review by the department prior to the issuance of tags.

Persons having alligator habitat and alligator populations on private property, as well as hunters interested in taking alligators from selected lakes in central and northern Louisiana

Green Wing day is Sat.

A full day of fun for Cameron Parish Ducks Unlimited chapter Green Wing members is planned for Saturday and Little Pecan Island, according to Zeke Wainwright, president of the organization.

Green Wing members, up to 18 years old, are eligible to attend and may sign up for membership at the dock on the day of the event, Wainwright said.

Green Wing day will start at 9 a.m. when the boats will leave Little Pecan Island dock for a boat trip out to the island.

The dock is located north of La. 29-82 that goes through Grand Chenier. It is the first blacktop road east of Rockefeller Refuge that turns north. The dock is located a short distance to the east at the turn in the road as it reaches the river.

Participants will shoot skeet, have retriever dog trials, duck calling contests, take boat rides out into the marsh and have a picnic, in addition to many other planned events.

Wainwright said that all Cameron parish youngsters are invited to participate and the day will not cost anything but a membership in the local Green Wing organization which costs $5 annually.

Board seeks council aid

The Cameron parish school board Monday indicated its interest in entering into a joint agreement itself, the Cameron parish police jury and the Educational and Treatment Council, Inc. of Lake Charles to provide counseling and treatment services for children in the parish.

Supt. Thomas McCall said the board has used the services of the Council in the past for individual cases since the board has been unable to find a qualified social worker to hire as required by state law. However, there has always been a delay of weeks since the board always had to come behind the council's regular customers.

McCall said that the proposed annual fee to the board probably would not be any more than the board is paying out now if the salary of a social worker is also considered.

District Attorney Jerry Jones told the board that the services of the council was needed by the district court particularly for young people who get in trouble.

Jones said the present proposal is for the school board and the police jury to each pay $37,500 a year for the council's services, but if the police jury did not choose to get into the program ifle council would still provide the school board services for its half.

The board asked that a detailed proposal and contract be presented to it for consideration.

Legal aid offered

On Aug. 4 a legal priority session was held at the Cameron Council on Aging sponsored by the Southwest Louisiana Legal Aid Society housed in Lake charles.

The speakers for the meeting were Mark Holden, director of the program, Richard Michaels, and Yvonne August with the clients council.

Twenty senior citizens took part in the session concerning the priority settings for legal services in Cameron Parish.

Mr. Holden explained their legal outreach programs, the toll free number to their office (1-800-542-7076), their tel-law program and the community education distributed to the various agencies containing legal information.

Anyone interested in finding out more information about their programs is encouraged to call the Council on Aging office at 775-5668 during normal working hours, 8-4.

Classes set for exercise

Aerobic exercise classes are to begin on Monday night Aug. 16 at the Cameron Recreation Center.

The classes will be held on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays of each week starting at 6:30 p.m. and lasting only one hour. There is no charge for the classes.

All those participating are asked to bring a mat to exercise on.

Anyone desiring more information may contact Judy Burleigh at 775-2870 or Angela Jouett at 775-5113.

Blessing of fleet set

There will be a blessing of the shrimping fleet Sunday, Aug. 15, at 2 p.m. at Hebert's Landing on Big Lake.

Father Pete Miller, pastor at Our Lady Queen of Heaven church in Lake Charles, will officiate.

Everyone is invited to come out in their boats and join in the procession of boats in the lake and have their boats blessed.

Drug program to be given

A drug program with music and slides will be presented by the Cameron parish Sheriff's Department at the Macedonia Baptist church Aug. 25, at 8 p.m.

Cameron parish deputies and prisoners will be present for questions and answers, acording to Rev. Enry Pradia, pastor.

Assoc. drive is postponed

A door-to-door membership drive scheduled by the South Cameron High School Athletic Association for Saturday, Aug. 14 has been cancelled because of conflict with other activities.

President Pep LeBlanc said the drive will be rescheduled at a later dat

Workshop set

St. Peter the Apostle Catholic Church of Hackberry will have a workshop for the parents of children who will be in grades 1 through 6 of the religion program.

Sister Pat Allison, of the Diocese of lake Charles, will conduct the workshop to be held Wednesday, Aug. 18 at 7 p.m. in the Catholic hall.

Lance Mudd on cutting horse

Lance Mudd Day is Thursday

By Geneva Griffith

The Cameron Parish Police Jury has proclaimed Thursday as Lance Mudd Day in Cameron parish.

The resolution was made at the August meeting of the Policy Jury after Lance won the National High School Cutting Horse Champion Cowboy award at the National High School Rodeo Finals held in Douglas, Wyo. last week.

The Police Jury said that this special recognition was given to Mudd for being the first Cameron Parish Champion in the National High School Rodeo competition.

The proclaimation was signed by Lester J. Richard, Jr., president of the Cameron Parish Police Jury.

Lance is the 16 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mudd, of Rt. 1, Cameron and is in the 10th grade at South Cameron high school.

There were 38 states and 3 provinces of Canada participating in the National rodeo.

Lance started rodeoing in Little Britches shows at the age of about 5. In Little Britches he rode bulls and horses and in the high school competitions he cuts and ropes.

He has won two saddles, several belt buckles and about 200 trophies throughout his rodeo years, in addition to a scholarship which he won in Wyoming.

He has been winning state and regional competition since 1979 and achieved the highest award a high school cowboy can win when he went to the National Finals this year.

His participation has been all over the state and in Raleigh, N.C.

Lance comes from a family of rodeo riders and winners.

His sister, Stacey, who is a senior at South Cameron high, has participated in rodeos since she was 5 also. She was All-Around cowgirl in Eunice this year and won the State Louisiana High School Championship in cutting in Sulphur last year. She placed 4th in the Nationals in Wyoming last year.

Their little brother Chad is 11 and is following in the footsteps of his brother and sister on the rodeo circuit.

School lunches to cost more

Cameron parish school students will pay 15 cents more for their school lunches this coming school year but the school lunch system will still have to be heavily subsidized by the school board.

The school board adopted a new lunch fee schedule at its monthly meeting Monday raising the lunch fee for elementary school students from 80 cents to 95 cents and for high school students from 90 cents to $1.05. Teachers and other adults were raised from $1.40 to $1.80.

Parish Lunchroom Supervisor Jerri Wainwright presented the board with three possible lunch schedules: 10 cents, 15 cents and 20 cents a day increase.

She noted that the school system would be losing money regardless of what rate the board chose since the lunches actually cost $1.67 to prepare.

She noted that the school board had had to subsidize the school lunch program with $50,000 last school year and with the $15,000 increase in pay for lunchroom employees (voted by the board along with other school employees) and the increase in food cost, the board probably would have to come up with a similar or larger contribution this year.

When questioned about a possible drop in the number of students who eat in the cafeterias because of increased lunch costs, Mrs. Wainwright said there had been about a 2.5 percent drop last year and there probably would be an additional drop because of this increase.

Board Member Arnold Jones questioned whether the board should be subsidizing the cost of lunches for students who come from families who could afford to pay the full cost. Although he did not press this point, he said he wanted it pointed out that the board was subsidizing each lunch served by about 60 cents.

Benefit is set

The family and friends of Mrs. Mary Lee Theriot Coleman are sponsoring a benefit Sunday, Aug. 15, at the Knights of Columbus Hall to raise money to help find her children, Marian, 3 and Phillip, 2 who were taken by their father on Nov. 9, 1981 from the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Brandon Carter at Oak Grove.

Mrs. Coleman was in the process of obtaining a legal separation from her husband and Judge H. Ward Fontenot, Jr. had granted her the custody of the children during the pendency of these proceedings.

The funds raised by this benefit will help Mrs. Coleman hire a professional private investigator to locate her children and have them returned to her.

Gumbo and hamburgers will be served at the K.C. Hall, starting at 11 a.m. and a dance, with music by Jerry Furs and his band will start at 3 p.m.

Anyone who is unable to attend the benefit and wishing to make donations may do so by sending it to the Mary Theriot Coleman Childrens Fund at the Cameron State Bank, P.O. Box 430, Cameron, La. 70631.

Raise is given

Cameron parish teachers and school employees were given an 8 percent cost of living raise by the Cameron parish school board Monday, which will amount to an increase of $450,414 annually in pay.

Supt. Thomas McCall said this made the fifth straight year that the teachers and employees have been given a raise by the board. He said the raise will keep Cameron teachers among the highest paid in the state. He said they rank about fifth now and will be close to first with the new schedule.

The board debated several pay options before voting on the 8 percent increase. One would have been a 6 percent increase with the board paying part of the teachers hospitalization insurance.

However, a survey taken among teachers and employees showed the majority to be in favor of a larger pay increase rather than aid with their insurance.

In addition, McCall said that the insurance plan could not have been used any way since many of the employees do not participate in the Blue Cross group plan sponsored by the board and the board could not legally contribute to other plans.

The board noted that teachers did not receive a pay raise from the state this year.

Board Member John DeBarge, a former principal himself, said he felt that if the board had the money the "best place to invest it was in teacher salaries."

School delay concern told

Cameron parish school board members expressed fears Monday at their monthly meeting that Cameron elementary school might not be ready for opening Monday, Aug. 23 because of delay in completion of remoderling work at the school.

The board voted to delay partial payment of $158,158.21 to the contractor until the board can make a personal inspection of the job at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Board Architect Sonny Hackett told the board the contractor's contract calls for the project to be completed by Friday, Aug. 20. He said the delay was not due to delivery of materials but because of the lack of workmen on the job.

Supt. Thomas McCall said no work had been done on the project for the past two weeks and declared "We need people on the job. You have us in a real quandary -- we have 500 kids reporting for school Aug. 23 and we may not be ready for them."

The contractor, Dave Davidson, was present at the meeting and assured the board he would have the school in shape for opening.

A representative of the contractor on two other school projects -- Alfred Palmer of Bartley, Inc. -- reported their work was on schedule and that Hackberry and Johnson Bayou high schools would have most of their new facilities ready for opening day. Partial payments on these two projects were authorized by the board.

Royalties to be checked

The Cameron parish school board Monday voted to go exploring, in a manner of speaking, for oil and gas.

The board approved a contract with the Louisiana Royalty Services of Baton Rouge to audit the records of oil companies that have had oil and gas production on school owned sections over the years.

The board has received some sizable royalties on these products in past years but has always had to take the production companies' figures on the amount of oil and gas produced on school lands.

Under the contract the Baton Rouge firm will receive 20 percent of any royalty payments that it finds were not paid to the board. If it finds no under payments, the board owes nothing.

In other business, the board awarded Cameron Insurance Agency an $11,546 annual contract on school bus liability insurance.

Three bids, ranging from $19,000 to $38,940 were rejected as being too high for improvements to the Cameron elementary school playground. The board agreed to eliminate drain pipes from the project and do only leveling work at a cost of about $8,000.

The board agreed to accept bids totaling $77,000 for furniture for a number of schools in the parish.

James Watts, local CPA, reported on the annual audit of individual school funds. He said all of the schools were doing a good job in keeping up with their funds but suggested that some could earn some interest by investing funds not needed immediately in certificates of deposit.

Incentive pay plan is out

An incentive pay plan used by the Cameron parish school board for the past two years to encourage teachers not to use their sick leave unnecessarily was discontinued by the board at its meeting Monday.

Supervisor Adam Conner told the board that the plan had not been as successful the second year as for the first, but that it had still saved the schools 74 days of "down time instruction" as compared to 115 days for the first year.

However, he said the attorney general ruled recently that incentive pay could not be paid to teachers.

Conner said that the board paid out $10,505 in incentive pay for the 1980-81 school year and $9,260 for 1981-82. Despite the decrease, he said he still felt the plan was effective.

He submitted the names of 22 teachers who had perfect attendance during the past school year and said they should be commended for their efforts.

The teachers were: Cynthia Arnold, Mrs. Ellis McWhirter, Parry LaLande, Juanita Sandifer, Wayne Kershaw, Charles Vining, Roxanne Richard, Debra Darnutzer.

James Welch, Phyllis Ritter, Mary Richard, Austin LaBove, Marsha Corbello, Josie Boudreaux, Ernestine Biagas, Donald Broussard, Ingrid Garofolo.

Class to have reunion

The South Cameron High School senior class of 1976 has scheduled a class reunion for Saturday, Aug. 28 at 6 p.m. in the Grand Chenier American Legion Hall. The reunion will have to be cancelled if everyone does not send in their response and $18 donation.

All responses must be in by Aug. 19. They may be sent to Bertie Broussard, Vickie Savoie, Stassus Richard or Mary Henry.

Any ideas or help will be appreciated.

School Opening

Aug. 23 is correct day!

Cameron parish schools will open Monday, Aug. 23 and close May 31, 1983.

In its headline last week the Pilot incorrectly listed the opening date of school as Aug. 31.

Hackberry

The Hackberry High School registration for all new students for the 1982-83 school years, grades K through 12, will be held Monday, Aug. 16, 10 to 12 noon in the principal's office.

All students must have birth certificates and up-to-date immunization records.

Parents should take their child's immunization record to their personal physician or Cameron Parish Health Unit and a card will be issued indicating if immunizations are in progress or complete. This is the card to be presented with birth certificate at time of registration.

S. Cam. Elem.

Pre-registration for South Cameron Elementary School will be held Aug. 16 - 20 from 9 til 12 noon.

Kindergarten will be from 8 til 11:15 a.m.

Birth certificates and health cards will be needed. Health cards can be obtained from the Cameron Parish Health Unit.

Cameron Elem.

A meeting for parents of kindergarten students entering Cameron elementary school will be held at 10 a.m., Tuesday, Aug. 17 at the Cameron elementary school. Only parents should attend.

Schedule of classes and school policies will be discussed. Kindergarten students will need birth certificates and immunization records.

Grand Lake

Registration for new students at Grand Lake School will be Monday, Aug. 16, Tuesday, Aug. 17, Thursday, Aug. 19 and Friday, Aug. 13 from 8 a.m. to 12 noon. Each new student must have their white health card and their birth certificate.

Returning high school students may use these same dates and times to change their schedules, if desired.

Cam. Elem.

Cameron elementary school will hold registration for new students from 9 a.m. to noon Monday through Friday, Aug. 16-20.

Birth certificates, immunization records and last year's record cards will be needed by new students.

S. C. High

Senior pictures will be taken at South Cameron high school Wednesday, Aug. 18 from 9 to 1. Seniors are also asked to check by the principal's office.

Transfer students may register at South Cameron that same day between 9 and 12, according to Principal Wayne Batts.

MUSING. . . .

By Bernice Stewart Denny

Sometimes in the saddest of circumstances amusing notes occur -- at least, they generate a smile decades later.

When my grandmother was a young matron expecting a child, she became deathly ill. For days she was unable to keep any food on her stomach.

Her sister, who was with her, had made deliciously rich butter pies. One of my great-aunt's little boys ran into my grandmother's bedroom while eating a slice.

Grandmother saw it and begged Aunt Jane to bring her a piece.

Aunt Jane protested, "Sue, it will make you worse. You haven't eaten in days!"

Grandmother insisted saying "Jane, even if it kills me I won't tell who gave it to me."

Jane brought the pie, and Sue recovered.

The day after Hurricane Audrey had swept through the parish helicopter crews began evacuating residents to Lake Charles.

An elderly relative of mine alighted at the airport. Her nephew was there to meet her.

"Auntie," he said, deeply moved, "in spite of your harrowing experience, you look plumper than usual."

She whispered to him with a solicitous twinkle in her eye, "Son, you know how I have always looked out for your uncle's comfort and you know how hard it is today to buy men's old - fashioned B.V.D.'s. We were asked not to bring any baggage out with us. Well, I'm wearing four paris of your uncle's old B.V.D.'s under my dress."

Mrs. Charles C. Elder

Miss Burton is wed to Charles Elder

Janna Kaye Burton and Charles Carey Elder were united in marriage Friday, Aug. 6, at 7 p.m. at Our Lady of Prompt Succor Catholic Church in Sulphur. The Rev. E. Vecchio and Rev. Louis Melancon officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Burton Jr. of Sulphur. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Tavia Guilbeau of Cameron. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Elder also of Sulphur.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of ivory alencon lace and silk organza. The fitted bodice with a victorian neckline was embellished with alencon lace jeweled with seed pearls and iridescents. Tint satin covered buttons adorned the back of the bodice which was trimmed with alencon lace.

The long tapered sleeves ended over the wrists in a point. The full skirt was adorned with scalloped alencon lace bordering the chapel length train.

The bride wore a Juliet cap trimmed with alencon lace, tiny seed pearls and crystals that anchored a ballerina length veil of illusion mist. She carried a nosegay of ivory silk flowers with peach silk flowers and baby's breath.

Carol Duncan was maid of honor. Joanie Burton, Rachel Elder, Lisa Bertrand and Stacy Dupuis were bridesmaids.

Dudley Bienvenu was best man. Rick Sprigg, Joe Gaar, Mark Elder, and Craig Childress were groomsmen. Ric Fontenot and Joe Duffel were ushers.

Annie and Paul Elder served as candle lighters.

House party members were Darly Landry, Carrie Rice, Liz Walla, Kym Wright and Ann Danahay.

The bride is a graduate of Sulphur High School and attended both Louisiana State University and McNeese. The groom is a graduate of Sulphur High School and McNeese and Schriner Jr. College. He is employed with Elder Forest Products.

Following their wedding trip to Puerta Valerta, Mexico, the couple will make their home in Sulphur.

Cameron. . . . . .Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

This week's fishing was what we call an "in - between", having to fish between the thundershowers. Saturday and Sunday were the worst, but a few anglers had good luck just the same.

GARY'S LANDING

LOWERY

Fishing is still on the slow side from the reports I got, but a few nice white perch and catfish are being taken. Bass fishing in the Lake Misere area has been a little on the slow side. Lots of the fishermen in that area are getting prepared for the next inland shrimp season to begin the middle of this month.

LACASSINE REFUGE

I talked to a friend of mine and there are not many anglers fishing Lacassine, but the ones that do have been taking a few nice bass.

LARRY'S SEAFOOD OFFSHORE

There have been some days of rough seas, but some nice catches of red snappers were reported, along with sand trout, speckle trout and red fish.

RUDY'S FISH N' STOP BIG BURN AND OFFSHORE

Barry Richard and Quentin LeBouf did real good this past week fishing specs right offshore. They caught their limit each day they fished.

There were seven other boats out of Lake Charles that stopped by Rudy's and they all had their limit of specs and rat reds. Also a few nice drums are being caught.

The Big Burn is still producing bass early in the mornings (best) and late in the afternoon (fair).

Vince Theriot and Sidney Theriot had a good trip this week, catching some real nice bass. Vince picked up one going 6 lbs. 6 oz.

David George and Terrance Savoie also had a good trip this week, picking up their limits with the largest going around 3 lbs.

ALMANAC INFO

According to the almanac the best fishing days left this month are the 15th and 31st and fair days are the 16th, 24th and 25th.

Also remember we have about 3 more weeks of Big Burn fishing as alligator season is to begin next month.

Until next week, be careful of the electrical and thunder storms.

DU banquet plans made by committee

Plans for the upcoming Cameron Parish Ducks Unlimited banquet to be held next month was the main topic at a meeting of the DU organization held Monday night at the Crain Bros. camp at Little Chenier.

Zeke Wainwright passed out banquet tickets and assigned duties for the committeemen who will be helping. Sidney Theriot is the banquet chairman.

The next meeting of the group will be Tuesday, Aug. 24, at 7 p.m. at the camp.

At the close of the meeting a supper was served by Mrs. Baro Boudreaux.

Fire Dept. to play DJs here Sunday

The Cameron Fire Dept. will play a softball game against the KLCL D.J.'s on Sunday, Aug. 22 at 5p.m. at the Cameron Recreation field.

Following this game, a game will be played between the South Cameron High School band members and the Band Boosters.

If time allows, the Cameron Fire Dept. will then play the winner of the second game.

Also, there will be a chicken chase for three age groups, with a prize for each group. Age 10 and under, 11-15 and 16-adult. A small fee will be charged for registration.

Food and drinks will be sold.

All proceeds will go to the South Cameron High School band.

LeBears are 12th in La.

Oscar Harmon, Jr., coach of the LeBears ladies softball team, announced that the team took 12th place in the state, out of 42 in the Division C, Women's State Softball tournament held last weekend in Vidalia.

Harmon said he would like to extend his appreciation to all the fans, coaches, and players who attended and gave their time and efforts in helping the team reach the state finals.

The only President to serve two nonconsecutive terms was Cleveland.

'Gator season

By Jesse Knowles
Chairman, Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission

Time has a way of racing by and in less than a calendar month, Louisiana will be conducting its second statewide alligator hunting season. It is scheduled to open Saturday, Sept. 4, and extend through Oct. 3.

The season was set by the commission at its regular monthly public meeting in New Orleans July 27 and general provisions for the upcoming season track those of last year.

This 30-day alligator hunting season will be closely regulated by rules and procedures adopted by the commission at its meeting. Additionally, all alligator harvesting as well as the selling of hides, meat, and parts, will be closely monitored by the Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries, and throughout the month-long season enforcement will be strict.

I'd like to remind readers that in 1981 when the first statewide 'gator season was conducted, some 14,600 alligators were taken and brought almost $2 million to the people who hunted them.

It is anticipated that some 18,000 tags will be issued this hunting season and if they are all filled out, that dollar value will probably be closer to $2½ million. The good thing about this, from a wildlife management standpoint, is that we're looking at a renewable wildlife resource and this harvest can be repeated year after year.

Louisiana's annual 'gator harvest has focused worldwide attention on the manner in which this particular resource has been managed. Alligators are still either threatened or endangered in the other southeastern states and Louisiana is the only state with an annual legal season on alligators.

This legal hunting, which actually started in southwest Louisiana in the early 1970s with a season in Calcasieu, Cameron and Vermilion parishes and eventually spread in the late 1970s and 1980 to 12 coastal parishes, is being conducted under strict guidelines.

Contrary to some popular opinion elsewhere in the state, there will be no indiscriminate hunting of alligators. This particular season is different from other hunting seasons in that hunters must have tags for all alligators that are taken. No 'gators can be taken by hunters without tags. It's not a squirrel hunt.

Elsewhere in the state, as it is here in southwest Louisiana, most hunting will be done on privately owned alligator habitat by landowners of their designated representatives.

There'll be some alligator hunting on designated lakes in central and north Louisiana. Hunting on the preselected lakes where there is suitable alligator habitat will be controlled by tag allotments. Hunters will be selected following proper application to the Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

In parishes where there are nuisance alligator problems, a limited number of alligators will be allowed to be removed by designated hunters.

As is customary, tags will be issued by the department on a quota system which will be governed by the type of habitat included in a hunting area. A formula has been worked out that provides a tag for so many acres of certain habitat.

These tags must be attached to the hides immediately and remain intact during skinning, storage, shipment and processing.

All hunters must be authorized by landowners or proper parish authorities, or the department, and must be properly licensed. Cost of a resident alligator hunting license is $25, and a nonresident sport hunting license is $150.

How much demand is there for sport hunting? Not much. Records of the department show that 47 alligator sport hunting licenses were sold during the past Sept. season. There were 23 licenses purchased by resident hunters and nonresidents purchased 24 alligator licenses.

Those statistics lend support to the commission's contention that alligators, like nutria, muskrats and other furbearers, are a commercial wildlife resource and should be treated as such.

Local growers go to Beefmasters meet

The East Texas-Louisiana Beefmaster Marketing Group held its mid-year seminar at Hodges Gardens, near Many on July 23-24.

More than 50 people, including members from Louisiana and Texas interested in purebred Beefmasters, attended the meeting. Attending the meeting from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Henry and Mr. and Mrs. Conway LeBleu of Cameron.

Topics dealing with pasture management, market potential, management objectives, preparing for sales, evaluating cattle, etc. were conducted.

The purpose of this year's seminar was to improve the quality of each member's overall Beefmaster program and prepare for the group's third Registered Beefmaster Sale in Crockett, Texas on Jan. 22.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

The name PRATHER has been in America at least since 1622 when Thomas arrived at Elizerbeth City, Virginia. He was a fifth generation descendent of John Prater, Gentleman, born before 1500 and buried with his wife at Wiltshire Manor, England.

The Prather name has many variant spellings, being found in old Welsh records as Rhydric, Rhydderch, Pluthero, Prothero(e), Prothroe and others. In England it took the Latin form of Preater, Pretor or Prater.

In America of the 1600s it was found as Prator, Protherer, etc. and by 1790 the census listed family heads in N. Car. and S. Car. as Prater; in Md., Me., N. Car. Penn. and Va. as Prather; and in S. Car. as Preator.

"Nothing helps scenery like ham and eggs." Mark Twain

PRATHER FAMILY

Robert and Marshall, The Prather Family in Louisiana in its 1982 Second Edition is twice as large as the first.

Written and published by Colonel Dudley Austin Tatman, 801 Celeste St., Opelousas, La. 70570, the volume is stiffcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 28 pages printed one side only, some photos, $10.00, available from the author.

Telling the story of how this Prather line came to America and to Louisiana, Maryland in 1760; moved on to Kentucky and then to Louisiana. Four of his sons, including Nicholas, fought in the Battle of New Orleans.

Robert and Marshall Prather, whose names appear in this book title, were grandsons of Nicholas.

MISSISSIPPI RECORDS

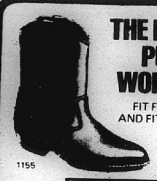
Choctaw County Chronicles, now in its second printing, is a history of Choctaw County, Mississippi, to which many Louisiana families have ties.

Beginning with 1830 as authored by J.P. Coleman, this is a hardcover volume, 6 x 9 in., 483 pages, indexed, many photos, $15.00 available from: The Reprint Company Publishers, P.O. Box 5401, Spartanburg, S. Car. 29304.

Courthouse fires have three times destroyed many of Choctaw County's records. This volume is valuable to researchers in that it pieces together much genealogical data in the form of military lists, political returns, personal recollections, lists of county leaders, important biographical sketches of individuals and families of the area, church histories, etc.

When first established in 1833 from Chickasaw Cession lands, Choctaw County covered more than a thousand square miles. Today it consists of 306 from the original plus 108 divided from Winston County in 1874. All of present day Webster and half of Montgomery Counties were formed from Choctaw.

The many stories as told by old timers plus descriptions of life as it was during various periods of this 140 year span do much to personalize this county history.



UPPER SOUTH RESEARCH

The Ridge Runners is a quarterly publication designed for the genealogist who researches in the Upper South: Virginia, West Virginia, North Carolina, Kentucky and Tennessee - an area to which the majority of Gulf Coast families have historical ties.

Edited and published by William A. Yates, P.O. Box 274, Ozark, Missouri 65721, the 1982 issues planned for a total of 240 pages, are available for $12.00 from the publisher.

Softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., in small print with maximum information per page, the Number One quarterly of the current Volume XV publishes sixteen pedigree charts, 40 pages of queries and some Hensley Family bible records.

A sonnet is a poem of 14 lines with a fixed pattern of meter and rhyme. Its name is an Italian word meaning a little song.

Parish youths are winners

Cameron parish youngsters fared well at the 1982 All American National Junior Brahman Show held July 8 - 10 at the Burton Coliseum in Lake Charles.

More than 500 entries from Fla., Ala., Tex., Miss., Ark. and Louisiana attended the show, making it the largest Brahman show ever held in the United States, according to Dr. John Sullivan, animal science specialist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Cameron parish winners were:

Showmanship, 10 year olds -- Bonnie McLean, 5th.

Showmanship, 11 year olds -- David Montie, 3rd.

Showmanship, 13 year olds -- Myron Picou, 2nd and Paul Canik, 4th.

Showmanship, 14 year olds -- James Meaux, 5th.

Showmanship, 17 year olds -- Jeffery Richard, 1st.

Stephen Canik of Cameron parish exhibited the champion heifer.

Doug Kershaw to be at Cajun festival

"Laissez les bons temps rouler!"

That's Cajun for "let the good times roll." At AstroWorld, that is, during the Cajun Folklife Festival. It's a celebration of Acadian Culture at the Houston theme park, weekends Aug. 21 and 22 and Aug. 28 and 29, with a variety of Cajun music, food, arts and crafts.

Headlining the event is the "Ragin' Cajun", Doug Kershaw, who will perform live in two concerts on Sunday, Aug. 29 at the Showcase Theater.

Kershaw is a Cajun in the true sense of the word. Born in the heart of Cajun country in Tiel Ridge, Louisiana, he is one of a few surviving members of a disappearing American culture and one of the few to keep his Cajun heritage music alive. His latest album "Instant Hero", is a country music favorite.

Visitors to AstroWorld during the Cajun Folklife Festival will enjoy a vaiety of music including classic, contemporary and zydeco presented by some of the top Cajun and Creole musicians from South Louisiana.

For those who want to indulge in true Cajun cuisine, AstroWorld will be serving up a variety of Cajun favorites such as red beans and rice, shrimp stew and gumbo, crawfish etouffee, creamy bread pudding and sweet potato pie. Louisiana food consultants, Mr. and Mrs. Galine Landry will be on hand to verify the authenticity of the dishes. And the "Boudin King", Ellis Cormier, will demonstrate the process of preparing the favorite traditional food of the Cajuns--boudin--a spicy sausage made of pork, rice, green onions and seasonings.

In addition to the music and food, there will be an arts and crafts exhibit including handmade accordians and knives, quilting, weaving and fiddle making.

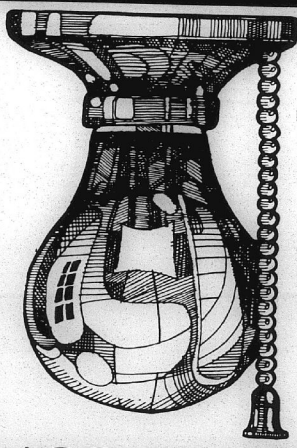
AstroWorld will be open on Aug. 21, 22 and 28, from 10 a.m. until midnight and on Aug. 29, from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. for the Cajun Folklife Festival. In addition to the festival activities, over 100 rides, shows and attractions will be open.

Exhibit set at museum

A photographic exhibit based on the international exhibition of Greek antiquities, "The Search for Alexander," now at the New Orleans Museum of Art, is currently on display in Lake charles at the Imperial Calcasieu Museum.

It has been created by the Texas Humanities Resource Center, of the University of Texas at Arlington Library, in collaboration with the New Orleans Museum of Art, with assistance from the National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C.

The photographs illuminate central themes of the major exhibition, which includes almost 100 priceless artifacts never seen outside Greece. The international exhibition was organized by the National Gallery of Art, with support from the National Bank of Greece and Time, Inc.



Meeting set

The August meeting of the Richard Bros. American Legion Post will be held Tuesday, Aug. 17, at 7 p.m. at the American Legion Hall.

40 YEARS AGO, ELECTRICITY COST 11¢ PER KILOWATT HOUR. GUESS WHAT IT COSTS TODAY?

LESS!
Surprised! Well, it's true!

People who lived in rural Louisiana during the late 1930s and were lucky enough to even have electricity paid on the average of 11 cents per kilowatt hour of electricity used. Today, people living on Co-op lines pay less. In fact, until just recently, members of the Electric Co-ops paid a great deal less than that per kilowatt hour. (A kilowatt hour is the electricity needed to burn the equivalent of ten 100-watt light bulbs for one hour.)

Many factors which are beyond the control of the Rural Electric Co-ops, such as inflation, skyrocketing fuel costs, and government regulations, have caused electric bills to go up. It's ironic, though, that while bills are higher, the Co-ops are charging less per kilowatt hour than 40 years ago. And how many things cost less today than 40 years ago? Not bread, not milk, not meat, not clothes, not gasoline, not homes, not cars, . . . the list goes on and on.

The big increase in electric bills involves another factor which the Co-ops have no control over . . . the amount of electricity people use. Family usage of electricity per month has increased from an average of 120 kilowatt hours in the 1940s to over 1,000 kilowatt hours today. Simply stated, people are using more electricity today than ever before!

It is our commitment to provide electricity to our members when it's needed, where it's needed, and at the lowest possible cost because we are non-profit. That's why the price per kilowatt hour is less today than it was 40 years ago.

Neither you nor we can control inflation, skyrocketing fuel costs, and government regulations. However, by practicing good conservation methods, you can reduce waste, save money, and still have all the electricity you need.

Electric power is readily available because the people of rural Louisiana brought it to themselves through the Rural Electric Co-ops . . . the people who lit up the countryside 40 years ago, and who will keep the lights on for decades to come.

County Agent Says

By CLIFFORD MYERS

BEEF CATTLE

Light (300 to 400 pounds) calf prices are expected to remain at present levels through this month. Beginning the first part of September, however, prices are expected to strengthen as feed lot owners from both the Panhandle areas of Texas and the Mid-West move into the market. Prices are expected to trend upward throughout the fall and winter. In other words, the longer you can delay sales, the better price you can expect.

SOYBEANS

The soybean market continues to move in a chippy side-wise pattern, indicating considerable uncertainty about the crop. There is some belief there has been too much moisture in the Mid-West and there might be considerable plant disease problems and lodging. In any event, August is usually a critical month.

If prices do not improve significantly this month, you can expect a slow down trend into harvest.

WATER AND PLANT SURVIVAL

One of the most misunderstood gardening chores is the proper watering of plants. The important thing about watering is to get water to the roots and at the right time. Too much is just as harmful as not enough.

Never water plants strickly by the calendar. Some soils due to high organic content, will hold moisture as much as 3 times longer than lighter soils. Therefore, it is important to recognize dry plants and soils and water them only as needed.

Plants should be mulched with several inches of organic matter such as pine bark, needles or leaf mold to conserve moisture.

Do not overwater. Roots in waterlogged soils die and cannot take up water, so plants wilt and turn yellow.

TOXIC MUSHROOMS

Many poisonous mushrooms showing up in lawns and pastures can be harmful to dogs and other animals.

Young dogs confined to the yard are most likely to eat these mushrooms. Lambs, calves, pigs and foals may also be tempted to eat them.

Diagnosing mushroom poisoning is complicated by the fact there is a 12 to 24 hour lage between the time the animal eats the mushroom and the onset of poisoning.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Sheriff "Sono" Savoie appeared on KPLC news Monday, August 9th at 6:00 p.m. The interview concerned the police jury renovating the courthouse air-conditioner and replacing an old and worn out generator. According to the newswoman, the police jury refused to help and stated: "the Sheriff would just have to wait or finance it himself." I was under the impression that the courthouse was a parish building, NOT the Sheriff's!

How many people are aware of the new police jury annex addition and its costs? Why was the annex building doubled in size? How many of these new offices were necessary really? How much did all this renovating and addition cost the parish?

The courthouse has been needing repairs and renovating for years. It would probably be cheaper to build a new courthouse. There are heating and air-conditioning problems; the major offices are completely out of office space; there are no facilities for the handicapped; the general appearance is obviously run-down inside and out; electrical system needs work and I'm sure many other problems (including the jail).

All I can say is "Bravo for Sono" for letting the people know some of these problems.

RESOLUTION

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON

TO URGE AND REQUEST THE UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF ENERGY TO CONTINUE ALL CURRENT MONITORING ACTIVITIES OF THE STRAGEGIC PETROLEUM RESERVE'S WEST HACKBERRY BRINE DISCHARGE OFF THE COAST OF CAMERON PARISH IN THE GULF OF MEXICO.

WHEREAS, the port of Cameron was the leading fishing port in the nation in 1980 and 1981; and,

WHEREAS, many of the residents of Cameron Parish and the entire gulf coast derive their entire livelihood from commercial fishing operations in the Gulf of Mexico and inland estuarine areas; and,

WHEREAS, Department of Energy's current brine discharge level has been on the average at or less than one half the proposed volume levels that will be discharged in the future; and,

WHEREAS, with these reduced brine pumping levels the scientific monitoring team has found results which indicate that there has been an adverse impact to marine life in the area surrounding the brine diffuser which include juvenile and adult fish and shrimp, microscopic plants and animals, and bottom dwelling organisms; and,

WHEREAS, the cummulative impact of brine disposal over a period of several years of pumping at full capacity may show even more adverse impact that is presently being observed; and,

WHEREAS, the State of Louisiana has signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the Department of Energy which specifies complete monitoring for the entire duration of the brine discharge and for a period of one year following cessation of pumping.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Cameron Parish Police Jury, that the United States Department of Energy is hereby urged and requested not to reduce the present full monitoring level for the entire brine discharge impact period (monitoring should continue even after discharge is halted for an adequate period of time).

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this Resolution be transmitted to each member of the Louisiana Congressional Delegation for their urgent assistance.

issued in accordance with proceedings of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, as the governing body of the District, duly adopted, for the purpose of providing funds to acquire buildings, machinery and equipment, including both real and personal property, to be used in giving fire protection to the property in the District, title to which shall be in the public.

The bonds of the issue of which this bond is a part maturing on and after August 1, 1993, may be called for redemption by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after August 1, 1993, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event this bond shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If this bond shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount hereof to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then this bond shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

The full faith and credit of the District are irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due. The District has taken or will make provisions for the collection of an annual tax, in excess of all other taxes, on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is a part as the same respectively become due.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that this bond is authorized by and is issued in conformity with the requirements of the Constitution and statute of the State of Louisiana, and all conditions, acts and things required by theConstitution and laws of the State of Louisiana to exist, happen and be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one do exist, have happened and have been performed in regular and due time, form and manner as required by law; and that this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one, together with all other indebtedness of the District, do not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation on indebtedness applicable to the District.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Police Jury of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, as the governing body of the District, has caused this bond to be executed in the name of the District by the President and Secretary of said Police Jury, by their manual or facsimile signatures (provided that one of their signatures hereon shall be a manual signature), the seal of the said District to be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted hereon, the coupons pertaining to this bond to be executed by the facsimile signatures of said President and Secretary, and this bond to be dated the first day of August, 1982.

The bonds maturing August 1, 1993, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on and after August 1, 1992, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be upon the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for $663,000 Fire Protection Bonds of Fire Protection District No. Fourteen of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent 1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same single rate from their date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fifteen percentum (15%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one-half percent (2½%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest falling due, and bidding for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or at a price specified as the aggregate of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest on the said date on which bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a bank or trust company payable to the order of Fire Protection District No. Fourteen of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of thirteen thousand two hundred sixty dollars ($13,260). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the District, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by the District as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder making a bid which will purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by computing for the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The District reserves the right to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the Police Jury or the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the Police Jury or the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder, at either the Police Jury Government Building in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on August 31, 1982, or as soon thereafter as the same may be prepared, since then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or chashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of the said Fire Protection District No. Fourteen of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood & Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of a consolidated offering circular regarding the Fire Protection Bonds, Series 1982, of Fire Protection District No. Fourteen of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, and Fire Protection Bonds, Series 1982, of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana being contemporaneously offered by said waterworks district and copies of the respective official bid forms are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana, 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

Secretary of the Police Jury of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, as the governing body of Fire Protection
District No. Fourteen of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana

SECTION VII: It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the Police Jury or the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the Police Jury or the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

SECTION VIII: The proceeds derived from the sale of the Bonds shall be applied to acquire buildings, machinery and equipment, including both real and personal property, to be used in giving fire protection to the property in the District, title to which shall be in the public. The District covenants to and with the purchasers of the Bonds, and with the holders thereof from time to time, that the District shall make no use of the proceeds of the sale of the Bonds or any other amounts income therefrom which would cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" under Section 103 (c) of the U. S Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the District shall comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations adopted under such Section 103 (c) so long as any Bond is outstanding.

SECTION IX: This resolution shall take effect immediately upon its adoption, and all prior resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with this resolution be and are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

McNeese officials speak to Lions

Desmond Jones, director of financial aid, and Ted Gravelle, head of the scholarship and testing department, with McNeese State University, were the guest speakers at the weekly meeting of the Cameron Lions club.

The local club sponsors a $2,000 McNeese scholarship each year for a South Cameron High School senior, and the two men outlined suggestions for the club to follow in offering the scholarships.

The men pointed out that there are now 1200 students at the University under scholarships.

Baron Thomas, Lions club president presided over the business session and reported that the club had spent $6,658.27 over the past fiscal year ending June 30 on various civic projects as follows:

13 pair eye-glasses, $1005; 2 eye examinations, $40; 1 South Cameron scholarship, $2000; South Cameron football ad, $100; Buck-A-Lion program (Saints and Lions benefit football game, $77; Boy Scouts of America, $100; Christmas candy program $216; Float in Fur Festival, $275; La. Lions Crippled Children Camp $750; La. Lions eye foundation, $750; Lions International Foundation (disaster relief); $75; Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind, $100; Calcasieu - Cameron Crippled Children and Adults Ass'n., $1,169.

Other community activities the club participated in was the hosting of the Glaucoma Testing Unit for public use, the sponsoring of the Saturday night Queens contest for the Fur Festival and the collection of 220 pair of used eye glasses for shipment to Central America.

Terry Hebert, chairman of community activities for this fiscal year outlined the following activities that have been planned for the 1982-83 fiscal year:

Ladies night and Lion of the Year, Las Vegas night, bucket brigades every two months to aid community projects such as Heart Fund, Crippled Children and Boy Scout drives; Fall Festival-a barbeque; Christmas tree sale, fur festival dances, softball tournament, donkey ball game and raffle of a color TV and VCR; and a number of projects that the Leo club can help out with.

August 26 was set as the date of the annual Lions club Ladies night and Lion of the Year award banquet. It will be held at the K.C. hall in Creole, at 7 p.m. and will cost $10 per couple.

Paul Coreil, Ladies night committee chairman appointed the following committeemen to help: Don Menard, Eddie Joe Conner, Ricky Guidry, Bob Fruge, and Terry Hebert.

Ed Kelley reported that the Louisiana Blood Bank Association will be at the Wakefield Memorial Methodist church on Wednesday, Aug. 11 from 6 to 8 p.m. to take blood to replace that given to George Blake and Charles Styron, Sr. and asked members to participate.

Bruce Craven was named chairman of a Bucket Brigade to be held on Friday, Aug. 20 for various civic projects.

Recipes

MEXICAN CHICKEN
Makes 6 servings

1 (2-1/2 pound) frying chicken, cut up
2 tablespoons Fleischmann's® Margarine, Sweet Unsalted or regular
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon crushed fresh garlic
1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
2 jars (4 ounces each) sliced pimientos
3 cups hot cooked rice
Parsley

Remove loose skin and visible fat from chicken pieces. Melt Fleischmann's® Margarine in a large skillet over medium heat. Add chicken pieces and brown on all sides until golden. Remove chicken from skillet. Add onion, garlic, cumin and pepper to skillet; saute until tender, stirring occasionally, 2 to 3 minutes.

In a blender or food processor, process undrained pimientos until smooth; stir into skillet mixture. Return chicken pieces to skillet; cover and cook 20 to 25 minutes, or until tender. Serve with hot cooked rice and garnish with parsley.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Ira M. Jinks wishes to express sincere appreciation for the acts of love and kindness shown during the death of our beloved husband and father. Our burden was truly lightened by the many prayers, visits, phone calls, floral arrangements, cards and food sent by our friends and relatives.

A special thanks to our Pastor, Bro. Floyd Petersen, for his words of wisdom and unceasing love and compassion. Also thanks to Richard Drost and John Belcher for being part of the memorable funeral service and to all those who gave money to the Johnson Bayou Baptist Church Building Fund in memory of our beloved husband and father.

We love you all and our prayers are with you also, that God will bless each one of you.

9 burglaries investigated

The Cameron Parish sheriff's department is investigating a series of nine burglaries in lower Cameron parish on Wednesday night, Aug. 11. Money, cigarettes and an air conditioner were taken.

Sheriff James Savoie said that most of the business places were entered by forcing open doors or windows.

Businesses hit were: Tarpon Inn, Chicken Hut, Gary's Barbershop of Creole; Big's Grocery of Oak Grove; Mr. D's Restaurant, Texaco Station, Larry's Seafood and Bonsall's Grocery in Grand Chenier; and Fantasy World in Cameron.

Grand jury indicts 2

The Cameron Parish Grand Jury returned two "true bills" and two "no true bills" Tuesday.

Norman Andrews of Cameron was indicted for second degree murder in the death of Lucinda Fullwoods, 57, also of Cameron, on Friday night, Aug. 13 in Cameron.

Frank P. Brown, 26, of Rt. 1, Grand Chenier, was indicted for aggravated rape of a 6-year-old child on Aug. 4 at Grand Chenier.

A no true bill was found against George E. Delossantos, 36, 7442 Shady Lane, Houston, Texas, who had been charged in the traffic death of Ira Jinks on Aug. 1 at Johnson Bayou.

A no true bill was also returned in the case of Benito A. Gonzales, 30, Cameron, who had been charged with indecent exposure.

Traffic system set for channel

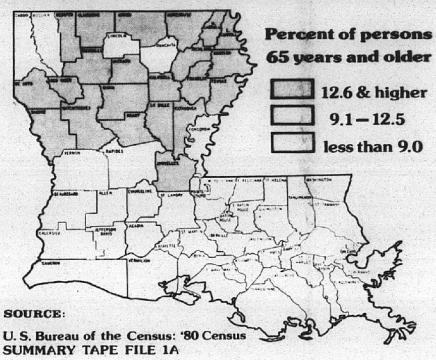
As a result of a meeting with representatives from the maritime industry recently in Lake Charles, a set of guidelines for the proposed "Vessel Traffic System" on the Calcasieu river has been finalized, according to Captain J. J. Wicks, USCG, Officer in Charge of Marine Inspection in Port Arthur, Tex.

The system is to provide information to all seagoing vessels using the Calcasieu Ship Channel so that each vessel in the system will know the movements and intentions of other vessels within the system at the time.

It is operated by the Lake Charles Pilots and the working channel for the system will be VHF Channel 66 and 66A.

The VTS will cover all of the Ship Channel from the "CC" Buoy to the Upper River at the I-10 bridge in Lake Charles.

Vessels calling "VTS Lake Charles" shall give their name, length, beam, draft, destination and ETA.



Vessels entering the system will be advised by VTS Lake Charles of the other traffic navigating within the system.

All vessels must advise VTS Lake Charles two hours before entering the system inbound, outbound or maneuvering between points within the system.

The movement of all vessels in the system will be on a first come, first served basis as vessels check into the system.

A review and grievance committee has been established to review the operation of the system when necessary and to hear complaints from system users and other interested groups.

Anyone having any comments may contact the Supervisor of Coast Guard Marine Safety Detachment, Lake Charles, telephone 443-3765.

SUMMARY TAPE FILE 1A

Passes, channels oystering closed

The Department of Health and Human Resources Office of Health Service and Environmental Quality has filed a notice of intent in the Louisiana Register to close East Pass, West Pass, and the Calcasieu Ship Channel in Cameron Parish to shellfish harvesting as of Sept. 1, 1982.

A sanitary survey completed in May revealed the water quality of these areas to be substandard and failed to meet the state and federal guidelines governing shellfish harvesting waters, the department says.

These standards require that all shellfish harvesting waters whose bacteriological quality has exceeded a fecal coliform median of 14 fecal coliforms per 100 mi. and of which more than 10 percent of the samples ordinarily exceed a median of 43 fecal coliforms per 100 mi. be closed to shellfish harvesting.

This action will assure the general public that Louisiana shellfish are being harvested from only certified growing waters and public grounds.

The projected loss of income to oyster fishermen who would normally be expected to work the affected areas is estimated at approximately $256,000, based on 32,000 sacks at $8 per sack.

However, the affected fishermen will be able to work other open areas.

At the intermediate processor level, an additional loss of $96,000 is projected based on a cost differential of $3 per sack, if production from closed areas were not replaced by harvests from other beds.

The affected areas are all state public grounds so no impact related to leasing of shellfish water bottoms will result.

As a result of this, it is predicted that there will be a nominal increase in oyster shellfish prices due to the lessened competition in the market place.

CAMERON PARISH, along with most of the other parishes in south Louisiana, have a lower percent of persons 65 years and older than do the parishes of north Louisiana. Cameron percentage is 9.1 as compared to the state average of 9.6. The median age in Cameron parish [the age where there is an many people younger as there is older] is 26.9 as compared to the state average median age of 27.4. Claiborne parish has the highest percentage of 65 years old and older--18.5 percent and the highest median age--33.2.

DOE seeks permit on Hackberry work

The Department of Energy has applied for a Corps of Engineers permit to dredge for maintenance of fire water canal and fire water system and access for oil spill control in Black Lake about 3.5 miles west of Hackberry.

The canal and existing structures, a fill and boat ramp, were installed in 1978 as an emergency measure to control a fire from an oil well blow. DOE is now requesting authority to maintain the canal and structures as an auxiliary firewater system and as an access route to Black Lake for oil spill control and pipeline maintenance.

The existing fill is the result of placement of limestone in the canal to avoid having a gap in the security fence. Culverts were placed through the fill to allow waterflow to the fire water pumps.

Comments on the proposed work will be received by the Corps until Sept. 13.

Parish tax total told

State sales tax collections in Cameron parish during June amounted to $41,798.84 according to the Louisiana Dept. of Revenue and Taxation.

Although Cameron parish ranks only ahead of Tensas parish in population in the state, Cameron was ahead of seven parishes in state sales tax collection.

Tensas had $24,515; Red River, $36,496; St. Helena, $10,567; Grant, $15,524; East Feliciana, $37,633; and Bienville, $27,677.

McNeese offers night classes

Off-campus classes will be held at South Cameron and Hackberry high school this fall if there is enough students to register for them, according to George Kuffel, coordinator of McNeese's Office of Community Services.

Registration is set for 6 p.m., Tuesday, Aug. 24 at South Cameron and at 6 p.m., Wednesday, Aug. 25 at Hackberry.

Kuffel said that groups and individuals are urged to come to the registration meetings because classes will only be scheduled if sufficient students register for each class.

He said the courses are being made available through the cooperation of the Cameron school board and principals.

Classes available include astronomy, English, Education, English, government, health and physical education, history, music appreciation, philosphy, physical science, psychology, sociology and speech.

The classes will be taught by McNeese professors and university personnel will be on hand for registration.

A special "Early Admissions program will be available at the same locations to certain high school seniors.

"To be eligible for this program," Kuffel said, "the senior must have completed six semesters of high school work with at least a "B" average and have the recommendation of his high school principal."

No ACT score will be required of the seniors, but they must come to the special registration prepared to complete the registration procedures and pay their fees.

More information concerning the off-campus classes and special registration may be obtained by telephoning Kuffel at McNeese during regular school hours, 7:30 a.m. to 4:15 p.m.

Shrimping reopens here

All inside coastal waters re-opened to shrimping Monday August 16, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries. They will remain open until Dec. 21.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, cautioned shrimp fishermen that Calcasieu Lake is closed to night trawling.

Guidry said it was now legal to use trawls with mesh size of 5/8-inch bar, 1-1/4 inch stretched during the white shrimp season. However, shrimpers can continue to use 3/4-inch bar, 1-1/2-inch stretched mesh if they prefer.

During the upcoming season, Louisiana law provides for 68 count heads-on for white shrimp.

Guidry said preliminary figures for the first six months of 1982 reveal Louisiana shrimpers took 26,365,000 pounds of heads-off shrimp. This compares with 16,513,000 pounds in 1980, but is 4,449,000 lbs. less than the first six months of 1981 which was the all-time record year.

Sub teaching

Anyone interested in substitute teaching at South Cameron High School for the 1982-83 school year should contact Jimmy Marcantel at South Cameron High School or at his home. For more information call 542-4628, 542-4419 or 542-4524.

Revival set

Rev. Wallace Kea will be the featured pastor at a revival at the Cameron Tabernacle for two nights on Aug. 19 - 20 at 7 p.m.

Everyone is invited to attend, according to the church pastor. Rev. Marse Pruitt.

Workshop set at J. Bayou

A CCD workshop will be held from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 19 at the Church of the Assumption Catholic Church spiritual revival center in Johnson Bayou.

The workshop will be conducted by Sisters Pat Alston and Sandy Gay, CCD coordinators for the Diocese of Lake Charles.

All CCD teachers and persons interested in teaching CCD or substituting are encouraged to attend.

Dance to be held Friday

"A. C. T. I. O. N. with S.A.P.E.", the parent support group from Grand Chenier will sponsor a back-to-school dance Friday, Aug. 20 after the scrimmage football game.

The dance will be held at the Grand Chenier Recreation Center. All students 18 years and under are invited. Music will be by Lee Landreneau and Company.

Proceeds from the dance will go to buy materials for the S.A.P.E. team to use in the drug program at South Cameron High.

Admission will be $1.50.

Calf theft charged here

The Cameron Parish District Attorney's office has accepted charges of theft of a calf, possession of drug paraphernalia and failure to yield to an emergency vehicle on Shanan Todd Landry, 25, Rt. 1, Box 231B, Cameron.

Other charges are pending.

Landry is charged with theft of a calf from Kenneth Theriot.

Salt water permit asked

Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. has applied for a Department of Natural Resources permit to construct and operate a 6-inch salt water disposal pipeline approximately 3.5 miles from the Grand Chenier compressor station to Lower Mud Lake (Mermentau River.)

The pipeline will be buried three feet below the surface of the marsh.

The pipeline will discharge between 5000 and 6000 gallons a day of brine effluent with salinity no greater than sea water into Lower Mud Lake with drainage into the Mermentau River Gulf Outlet.

Plans for the proposed work may be inspected at the Office of the Coastal Management Section in Baton Rouge and written comments will be accepted for 25 days.

Absentee vote begins here

Mrs. Fae M. Jones, Cameron Parish Registrar of Voters announces that absentee voting in the parish will be held from Aug. 23 through Sept. 4 in the Registrar's office on the ground floor of the Cameron courthouse, during regular office hours during the week and until noon on Saturday.

Schools to open Monday

Cameron parish schools will open for the 1982-83 session Monday, Aug. 23.

Cameron elementary school will open on schedule. There had been some concern that remodeling and improvements to the school might delay the opening.

Reunion off

The reunion of South Cameron High School's class of 1976 set for Aug. 28 has been cancelled. Due to a lack of donations by class members, certain obligations could not be met, resulting in the cancellation.

The efforts of class members who mailed in their donations was greatly appreciated and their donations will be returned promptly.

Grid tickets

Football game reserved seats and tickets are on sale now at South Cameron High School.

VA visit set

Jerry W. Furs, Cameron Parish Service Officer, will be at the Hackberry Water Works building Friday, Aug. 20 from 9:30 a.m. until noon, for anyone needing assistance with VA benefits.

SHELTON LEBLANC is shown with a bottle and a note he found in on Rutherford Beach last week.

Message in bottle found on the beach

Shelton LeBlanc and a group of his friends were riding their 3-wheelers on Rutherford Beach Thursday afternoon when he caught sight of a bottle that appeared to have a note in it. Upon uncorking it he found that it was from Brazil.

The instructions inside stated that it had been released for the study of ocean currents along the coasts of Brazil.

It asks that the finder fill out the enclosed card stating the circumstances under which it was found and giving the latitude and longitude of where it was found and to mail it back to the Oceangraphic Institute in Sao Paulo, Brazil for a reward.

LeBlanc said he plans to mail it right back to them and is anxious to know when and from where it was dropped into the ocean to make its way into the Gulf of Mexico and to be deposited upon Rutherford Beach, near Creole.

LeBlanc said that one of this favorite pasttimes is "beachcombing" and this new find has made his quest for "beach treasures" that much more interesting.

Msgr. Bernard to be honored here

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Monsignor M. J. Bernard, pastor of Sacred Heart and St. Rose of Lima Catholic churches, will be honored by the two churches on Aug. 28 and 29 on the occasion of Msgr. Bernard's 30th anniversary of ordination to priesthood, his 10th year as the pastor of the two churches and his departure for Rome.

He is taking a six months sabbatical leave to study at the university in theology, scripture, canon law and spirituality. Fr. Louis Perpete, M.S. will serve as administrator during his absence.

Msgr. Bernard was born in Lafayette on Feb. 22, 1927, the son of the late Alcide and Mary Bernard. He was ordained by Bishop Jules B. Jeanmard in St. John the Evangelist Cathedral in Lafayette on May 10, 1952.

His assignments have included assistant pastor of Immaculate Conception Church, Lake Charles; 17 years as the Catholic chaplain at McNeese State University and pastor of St. Bernard's Catholic church, Breaux Bridge, before coming to Creole.

His administrative assignments have been Advocate and Judge, on the Matrimonial Tribunal, in the Diocese of Lafayette and is at present a member of priest's senate and diocesan consultor.

Some of Msgr. Bernard's accomplishments since coming to Creole have been the renovation of Sacred Heart church; the construction of the Catholic Life Center at Sacred Heart and a church hall at St. Rose; reorganization of the Parish Council and School of Religion, encouraging more lay participation in various parish ministries; the beautification and enlargement of Sacred Heart and Our Lady of the Marsh cemeteries; the establishment of the Catholic Youth organization; the institution of an annual Leadership Award for active parishioners and leaders; and the installing of a new Wicks pipe organ at Sacred Heart and a Baldwin organ at St. Rose churches.

He also had the body of Father Francis Bishof reinterred in the Sacred Heart cemetery to carry out a wish of the late priest who was known as "The Missionary of the Marsh" and served the area for years.

Msgr. Bernard has also observed the following jubilees in Creole during the past ten years in which special people were honored and a celebration held on each occasion, participated in by the whole community: Father Anthony Bruzas' Golden Jubilee in the priesthood; Dr. George Dix's 25th anniversary of service in the Creole area; Bishop Maurice Schexnayder's 25th anniversary as a bishop; and the 90th anniversary of Sacred Heart Parish.

The celebration honoring Msgr. Bernard will start with the Saturday afternoon 5 p.m. Mass at Sacred Heart church, followed by a civic reception in the Life Center; and on Sunday at 10:30 a.m. a Mass at St. Rose of Lima, followed by a reception in the church hall.

Father Anthony Bruzas, from the priest's retirement home in Houston, Tex., and a former church pastor will attend.

The public is invited to attend the celebrations to pay tribute to Msgr. Bernard.

Council to hold meeting at S. Heart

Sacred Heart Parish of Creole will be the host for the fall meeting of the West Deanery Pastoral Council of the Diocese of Lake Charles, it has been announced by Mrs. Grace Savoie of Sulphur, Council president.

The meeting is scheduled for the Sacred Heart Parish Hall on Thursday, Aug. 19, and will be preceded by a dinner beginning at 6:30 p.m., Mrs. Savoie said.

Major items of business on the agenda will be presentations on music and liturgy. The presentations will be made by Sister Eleanor Bernstein, CSJ, director of liturgy for Immaculate Conception Cathedral Parish, and by the Rev. Whitney Miller, associate pastor of Our Lady Queen of Heaven Parish, both of Lake Charles.

The liturgy commission chairman and the music leader of each church parish in the West Deanery have been invited to attend, Mrs. Savoie said.

The Most Rev. Jude Speyrer, bishop of the diocese, will address the group, and Vernon Keating, assistant superintendent of schools for the diocese, will report on plans for the celebration of the 100th anniversary of Catholic education in Southwest Louisiana, which will be observed throughout the diocese next month.

Msgr. Irving A. DeBlanc, PA, vicar of the West Deanery, will preside at the meeting.

The West Deanery is made up of church parishes located in Lake Charles, Sulphur, Big Lake, Cameron, Carlyss, DeQuincy, Creole, DeRidder, Grand Chenier, Hackberry, Iowa, Maplewood, Moss Bluff, Vinton and Westlake.

SOS, the traditional call for help from a ship in distress, does not actually stand for anything. It was chosen because it could easily be sent as a wireless message.

Cattlemen & Cowbelles meeting set

A joint meeting of the Cameron Parish Cattlemen and Cowbelles organizations will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 24 at 7 p.m. at the K.C. Hall in Creole.

A dinner will be served prior to the meeting.

Abuse aid offered by L. C. agency

The Calcasieu Women's Shelter, Inc. is offering a new service to men who express anger through abuse called ADAP (A Domestic Abuse Project).

ADAP is an education group for men who express anger through abuse. The goal of this group is to help men better understand abuse through an educational approach and to end the violence in their relationships.

The group is set up to help the client learn to develop alternatives to battering, learn to better control anger, and learn to develop personal support systems.

The group meets for one and a half hours each week for ten consecutive weeks. The client has an intake interview with both male and female co-therapists before attending the group. The fee varies according to the income of the individual.

For information or referrals contact Ann Koenig, M.S.W. at ADAP 433.3446, Lake Charles.

TV class offered

"Psychology 201: Understanding Human Behavior" will be offered for three hours college credit over Channel 18, the Louisiana Public Broadcasting System, as a McNeese State University course for the 1982 fall semester.

The telecourse is the same course as "Introduction to Psychology 201," which is required in many McNeese degrees. The course surveys mental, physical and emotional fundamentals of human behavior and lays a foundation for additional work in psychology.

The classes will be broadcast to the public from 3 to 4 p.m. on Saturdays between Aug. 28 and Dec. 4.

Only five class meetings on campus are required. These meetings will be at 6:50 on Wednesdays. During these meetings, Dr. Toffee Nassar, head of the McNeese Department of Psychology and Special Education, will supplement the video lessons with discussion and review sessions and will administer a mid-term and final exam.

There will be a special registration for all telecourses at 10 a.m. on Saturday, Aug. 21 at Kaufman 206.

More specific information concerning the fall telecourses will be mailed to each person who calls or writes the Office of Community Services during regular business hours at McNeese.

Shelter for children set

Ground will be broken on Wednesday, Sept. 1 for the Emergency Shelter for Children, a facility that will provide temporary shelter for abused children and troubled youths in the five parishes of Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron and Jefferson Davis. The Emergency Shelter for Children will be another community service provided by Education and Treatment Council, Inc. (ETC), a prive non-profit counseling and drug abuse treatment center serving Southwest Louisiana.

The shelter will be the only facility of its kind in Southwest Louisiana to accept children ages 3 - 17 years old. It will be built on a five acre tract of land on the former Chennault Air Force Base.

The land was donated to ETC by the Calcasieu Parish School Board, and funds for construction of the shelter will be provided by a Coastal Zone Management Grant signed by Governor Dave Treen.

The Junior League of lake Charles will furnish volunteers and a sum of $65,000 over a three year period to help get operations underway at the facility.

The shelter will provide diagnosis, evaluation and treatment for children between the ages of 3 and 17 for a stay of up to 45 days.

The public is invited to the groundbreaking ceremony scheduled for 10 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 1 on the Chennault property. For more information call ETC.

Burton Foundation gives MSU funds

William B. and Jack E. Lawton renewed a tradition yesterday for the 16th consecutive year by presenting Hubert Boales, head football coach at McNeese State University, with $25,000 in football scholarships. The presentation was made in Coach Boales' office.

The scholarships have been an annual gift from the Wm. T. and Ethel Lewis Burton Foundation since 1966. That year, the late William T. Burton presented the school with $10,000 in football scholarships.

The gifts continued at that level until 1972, when it was raised to $13,000. In 1974, the scholarship amount was agin raised, this time to $16,000. In 1978, the Lawtons raised the amount to $20,000 and in 1981, it was increased to $25,000.

Including the scholarships presented this year, a total of $260,000 has been given to the McNeese Football Scholarship Program by the Foundation

YOUR ELECTRICITY FUTURE IS LOOKING BRIGHTER.
OUR COAL-FIRED POWER PLANTS ARE THE REASON.

Good electric service is essential to all of us. Having it as cheaply as possible is important to Louisiana's Rural Electric Co-ops and our one million members across the state. That's why we've done something to guarantee that our members will have electricity when it's needed, where it's needed, and at the lowest possible cost.

We've built Louisiana's first coal-fired power plants to meet the growing demands of the people who live in rural Louisiana. Coal was chosen because it is the cheapest fuel source available to us in today's economy.

In the early 1970s, Louisiana's electric industry was nearly 100 percent dependent on natural gas and oil as fuels to produce the electricity you use. These fuels were cheap and abundant . . . or so it seemed. But things changed, and for the worse. Our cheap and abundant oil and gas became expensive and scarce. And they were outlawed by the federal government as boiler fuels in new power plants. So, Louisiana's Rural Electric Co-ops made an historic decision to build Louisiana's first coal-fired power plants and began the crucial first step toward stabilizing power costs.

Today, coal is cheaper than natural gas and fuel oil, abundant in supply, and environmentally safe. Projections show that through the use of coal as a fuel, power costs should begin to stabilize. And when that happens, so should electric bills.

The "coal decision" is part of Louisiana's Rural Electric Co-ops' continuing commitment to provide a stable supply of dependable electric power at the lowest possible cost. Forty years ago, the Co-ops lit up Louisiana's countryside, and coal power will keep the lights on for decades to come.

[COLUMNIST'S NOTE: We are taking the liberty to roll time back some twenty years in order that the following letter might be timely. Tout Petit [Tiny, in English] was the pet of my late brother, Archie Hollister's household. We were the relatives mentioned. In a letter to you, the reader, Tout Petit records his adventures.]

Mes Chers Amis:

You don't know me, hein? Mais, I tell you my name and some leetle t'ing about me. Dey call me Tout Petit. Dat mean -- let me see -- what you call eet een English? Ah, oui. Tout Petit ees Tiny. Comprende? Me, I so leetle dey call me Tiny.

Ma Maman, la pauvre chienne, she say meeny time, "Tout Petis, whan you come cento thees world, me, I look at you and I say, 'Mon petit bebe, mon chien voir, you so leetle I teenk to call you Tout Petit.' "

So me, a leetle terrier spaniel, I grow up. Mais, steel I don' make very beeg.

Ma pauvre maman she go to dog heaven. Mon papa, I don' know where he go.

I leeve in Lac Artur wit' a nice family, dem Hollisters. Dey got two leetle boy and wan leetle gir. Dey like me, and me, I like dem.

Mais some time back dey decide to go to Baton Rouge. De man and de wife dey teach de school and dey want to go -- how you say? -- L.S.U. to geet some more education (a-doo-ka-see-on) in dere head. Dey leeve me wit' some relatif in de contree.

Ah! me, I teenk dat fine! Planty place to run and enjoy de scene. Eh, Mol! I like to make de hunt. De feeld dey full wit' rabbit. De bird by de bondred dey fly ovaire my haid.

Steel, I miss all de udder dog up town. De relatif dey say, "Non, Tout Petit, you mus' not go to Lac Artur. You wan to geet yo'self loss? You wan de poleese man to peek you up and put you in dat leetle pen behind de house where Miz Lois Rupert stay? We tak good care wit' you. You stay here like you s'pose to do."

Mais mol, comme un fou, I don' like eet! I come to resent evert'ing. I don' care 'bout de good way dey treat me -- chien imbecile lak I was.

Wan day whan nobody look at me, I leek my bowl and I run away. I make a short cut t'rough de feeld. I hide myself so nobody who know me can see me.

And den I meet up wit' Mutt and Bo. Dey don' ack like much. Bah! Dem t'ing dey tough. Dey mean comme le diable. Dey don' like me much neit'er. Mais, dey take me to dere gang, dat bunch dey call Hound Tramp.

Den, all dem guy, dey call me wan beeg seesy. Mais les femmes et les jeunes filles, dey swoon ovaire ma black hairs wit de wave een dem. Dey say how dey like my beeg brown eye.

Wan night de gang decide to stop a car and make de driver take us een. Now, you know me, I don' like dat; mais dey remind me where my meal come from.

We hide oursel' in de beeg grasses by de road. De time pass. Mais now, an old car eet come skeep along ovaire de corduroy. Mutt, he make a low gr-r-r-owl, and we all rush out and act like some chiens gone mad.

De man what drive de car -- eet ees too black a night to see him -- he mus' put his feet on dat t'ing what make de car go fast. Eet geeve wan leap like dat boolfrog down de bayou, and eet advance down dat gravel road like eet been shoot from Cape Keeneedee.

Dat's all I evair know what happen 'cause a beeg rock come whang on top my eye and knock me cold.

What I come to myse'f, me, I was alone. De Hound Tramp, dey tramp some udder place maybe.

I geet to my feets mais I hardly can stan' up. I make de lurch for de tall grasses, and me I stay dere de res' of de night. I don' hardly sleep a-tall. My eye, he swoll shut. My head she pound, pound like dat old freight train when he pool out from Lac Artur.

De star come out. Dey wink at me; and me, I bleenk back wit' my wan good eye.

I tell myself: Tout Petit, you been wan beeg cur for shore to run away from doze good peop' like you deed. You got business to go back. Mais, you teenk you got de gomption to go back to dere house and tak' you lickin' comme un beeg chien?

Well, ma fran', before the sun commence to geet up, me, I start for de home of de relatif in de contree.

Two day later I fin' myse'f on dere back doorstep. I sleenk down leetle like. I wait. I wait some more. My heart, she go bomp, bompa, bomp in my ches'. What de peep go to say? What dey do?

Pauvre moi! I hear dey feets comin'. Somebody cleek de latch and ope' de door. C'est la femme. She call. Dey all come on de run -- all dem relatif what stayeen de beeg house. I don' know what I teenk I was to geet, mais, ma fran, eet was not what I really geet.

Dey hug me -- dirty like a cochon like I was. Dey make coo, coo ovaire me. Dey cuddle me like dey do dat French poodle on de T.V. You know dat one what I talk about? Oui, dat Fifi, me I Believe.

De relatif dey put some teeng on my bad eye. Dey geeve me some cold water and dey mak' de "Gravy Train." Dey wash and dry me and dey brush me. Dey geet out an ol' queelt dere Grand-mere made and dey put me on eet. Dey pat me and say to me, "Tout Petit, you need some rest."

Ma fran' I was handle like de Prodigal Son in de Bible. For shore now, I know dere is some heaven on dis side of space.

Before the days of gas stations, gasoline for auto mobiles was sold door to door.

Immunization proof needed by pupils

Students enrolling in Cameron Parish schools for the first time are required to show proof of immunization. This includes first enterers such as kindergarten and first grade students as well as students who are in upper grades and have never attended school in Cameron Parish.

A student may meet this requirement by presenting an official record of immunization from a personal physician or from a public health unit. This record may be a parent's home record or an immunization record provided for school use.

If a home record is presented, the school secretary will make a copy of it for the school health record and the original record will be immediately returned to the parent.

Secretaries will cooperate with parents in thier efforts to obtain immunization records from schools which the child formerly attended.

MSU set its registration

Registration for the 1982 fall semester at McNeese State University will be held Monday, Aug. 23, through Wednesday, Aug. 25.

Freshmen orientation will be held Monday, Aug. 23, beginning at 8 a.m. in the Main Auditorium. All freshmen who have applied for admission, have had high school transcripts sent to the registrar, and have received letters of acceptance are eligible for orientation.

Almost 1,000 freshmen have already pre-enrolled at McNeese and a like number are expected for orientation according to Frances Summers, director of the freshman program.

The President who served the shortest time in office was W.H. Harrison, who only served one month, in 1841.

RUDY'S FISH 'N STOP

Spec fishing is still hot off the beaches and about a mile out to the platforms. Catching their limits this past week were Cedric Hebert, J-Boy Dinger, Joe Obay and John Allen Hebert. Cedric told me they were hooking two at a time. It's very exciting when you catch fish like that. He also told me early morning fishing was best for them.

Crabbing along the Creole canal has been fair but lots of the crabs are not full, according to our reports.

SUNRISE II
GRAND CHENIER

Very good report from Skipper Dale McCall on the Sunrise II. Dale says fishing is as good as it's ever been and his parties won't let him stop running, they just want more of the same. Last week on a two day trip, they caught all the red snapper (using cut bait) they could handle. They had snappers going 25 lbs., 22 lbs., and 15 lbs. These were some nice fish. Also trolling they picked up Spanish Mackerel, bonito and a few nice linge. They were fishing about 50 to 60 miles offshore.

BIG BURN

The Burn is still producing bass, however, lots of small bass, but never the less, as hot as it's been, catching bass regular is very good at this time of the year. The water is in good shape so you can get to some good spots, however, the water lillies are still sort of a problem.

MERMENTAU RIVER
GRAND CHENIER

Alice and Lynn Richard caught some rat reds last week.

As I write this, the shrimping season, which opened Monday, doesn't seem to be what it was last year, but I'll try my luck the first day I get a chance, just like everyone else and hope for the best.

CORRECTION

A couple of weeks ago I had that Dennis Taylor caught a nice limit of bass, one going 6 lbs. It should have read James Taylor. Sorry about that James.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB

The regular club tournament will be held Aug. 22, which will be the last tourney for the 1982 season.

DID YOU KNOW
LOUISIANA RECORDS

Bonito - Sidney Gonsonlia, 29 lbs. 12 oz., July, 1974.

Sheephead, John N. Bourg, 14 lbs. 12 oz., May 1970.

Tarpon, Pat Para, 222 lbs 12 oz., June 1979.

Amber Jack, Mike Lane, 130 lbs 6 oz., April 1977.

REMEMBER

If you're fishing the Big Burn, early morning to about 10:30 is the best fishing for bass in the marsh and fish the thick stuff. There's only two more weekends left to fish the Big Burn, Amoco in Grand Chenier and any other Miami Corp. permit fishing.

Until next week, if you are fishing for bass in the marsh, do it seriously.

3-wheeler winners are announced

Controlling head lice

In an effort to control head lice and to avoid having students excluded from school because of lice infestation, Cameron Parish School Nurse, Nell Colligan, had made the following recommendations to all parents of school children:

(1) Check your child's hair before he or she returns to school and every week thereafter.

(2) If nits or live lice are found, shampoo the child's hair with a shampoo that kills lice and then remove all of the nits.

(3) Clean the household as recommended in instructions which may be obtained from any school in the parish.

(4) Do not use lice shampoo routinely unless you find evidence of lice.

(5) Do not use dog shampoo on a child's hair.

Children who went to camp for the summer or who visited overnight with friends or relatives are especially apt to have become infested with lice during the exposure and should be carefully checked.

Better hunting

By Jesse Knowles, Chairman
Louisiana Wildlife Commission

Greatly improved water conditions and a successful late hatch of ducks should provide Louisiana waterfowlers with better hunting than they have had in the past two years. It also looks bright for next year's nesting now that the drought has been broken.

As has been customary for many years, the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries sent a team of waterfowl biologists to western Canada on a six-day aerial inspection flight to survey waterfowl breeding grounds and provide state hunters with a first-hand report on prospects for the 1982-1983 duck hunting season.

The report, just finished, revealed that North Dakota, eastern Montana, southern Saskatchewan, parts of western Manitoba and all of western Minnesota are in the most productive condition for ducks than in the past several years.

The late but highly successful hatch of ducks is attributed to the fact there was a late snow storm during the latter part of May in Montana, southern Alberta and Saskatchewan. It forced many ducks to leave their nests, but they re-nested later and brought off successful broods.

During the two dry years the growth of vegetation in the former pond areas had been great. When rainfall and snow run-off filled the ponds, the emergent vegetation in the former pond areas had been great. When rainfall and snow run-off filled the ponds, the emergent vegetation provided excellent cover for the young ducklings.

This meant that the survival rate of the ducklings on the breeding grounds was greater than anticipated. This will contribute to the fall flight.

The May breeding pair count conducted by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service was down slightly from 1981 and that had not been unexpected following two years of extremely poor production. As a result, the total breeding population estimate was basically unchanged from last year.

What will benefit Louisiana hunters, as well as those in other states in the Mississippi flyway, is that the nesting birds did bring off a better hatch than had been anticipated.

With dense vegetation in those Canadian wetlands providing excellent cover for the young ducklings, it means that more birds will be fully fledged and ready for the southward migration when the time comes.

When the department team was there July 19-24, they saw plenty of newly hatched ducklings. Even those early nesting species such as mallards, pintails and canvasbacks were still bringing off late broods in mid-to-late July.

It is safe to say that the fall flights will contain more young ducks than have been evident in the past two years. Duck hunters know that the young birds are easier to decoy than older birds. This is another factor going in favor of waterfowlers for the upcoming season.

I'm sure a lot of duck hunters will remember how hard it was to decoy ducks last year. It took a large and carefully placed spread of blocks to get the ducks to come in. And hunters had to be especially careful about their blinds.

All of this changes a bit when there are plenty of young birds in the fall flight. The young birds will settle down in the decoys much more readily than older birds that have made a couple of round trips and been shot at in every state in the flyway.

Most waterfowlers know that Louisiana is locked into an agreement with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service under which the west zone must open on the first Saturday in November. That will be Saturday, November 6.

Duck, goose and coot hunting will be open then. Just what the length of the first split will be and how the second split will be positioned should be announced later this month.

The commission will set the season when it receives the final frameworks and regulations from the Dept. of the Interior. Whatever the actual season dates, there is a good feeling in knowing the Canadian drought has been broken and that things are looking better for duck hunters.

Get oyster licenses now

Paul D. Coreil, Fisheries and Wildlife agent for Calcasieu-Cameron parishes reminds area oystermen of recent legislation enacted by the Louisiana Legislature that goes into effect Sept. 11.

The bill requires that oystermen can only obtain licenses during the month of August, or within thirty days of the death of the boat owner where the ownership of the vessel is transferred.

Coreil said that he is sure there are many oystermen in the area who are unaware of the bill and if they do not get their licenses during the next two weeks they will have to wait until next August to get them.

Agent to aid fishermen

Paul Coreil, Associate Area Agent Fisheries and Wildlife for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes reminds area fishermen of the state Fishermen's Gear Compensation fund and says that he will be glad to assist anyone needing help in making a claim against the fund.

Louisiana now has in effect a program by which commercial fishermen can receive compensation for gear damages received due to un-marked underwater obstructions within the state's Coastal Zone waters.

To file a claim, all a fisherman has to do is call Ed Wagnor, collect at (504) 342-4600 in Baton Rouge and give him the necessary information.

THE CAMERON Lions Club recently were told about McNeese State University scholarships by two representatives of the school, Desmond Jones and Ted Gravelle.

Arco Oil Co. asks permit in Big Burn

Arco Oil and Gas Co. has applied for a Department of Natural Resources permit to dredge a 500 by 190 foot slip in fresh marsh for petroleum exploration access in the Big Burn area about 7.9 miles northeast of Creole.

An existing earthen plug at the junction of the Intracoastal Waterway and the existing canal will be temporarily removed and replaced after well abandonment.

Written comments on the proposed work will be received at the Office of Coastal Management Section for 25 days.

Trees should be hurricane-proofed

It has been more than 15 years since Louisiana homeowners have experienced a major hurricane.

The hurricanes of the early 1960s brought widespread destruction to property with many of the problems being directly associated with trees over or near building. People tend to forget the devastation caused by these hurricanes, says Dr. Neil Odenwald, landscape architect with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

"Now that we have entered the hurricane season trees should be checked carefully to determine susceptibility to prolonged winds," he says. Fifteen years of growth and change can make a difference in the condition of a tree.

Removal of dead or decaying wood and weak joints or cabling of large portions are jobs that take considerable time and, in many cases, must be handled by professional arborists.

Among the problem areas which can be identified before a hurricane are:

--Overall condition of a tree. If a tree is close to a building and contains decayed areas on the main trunk, the specimen should be removed because rot reduces a tree's ability to withstand strong winds. Many species are relatively short lived and should be carefully evaluated for their present value. Some of these include Arizona Ash, Siberian elm, willows and poplars. Remove specimens that are in poor condition and those which can be expected to give problems because of weak wood.

--Tree balance. Specimens which are one-sided should be relieved of excessive weight by selective pruning. After the prolonged rain associated with many hurricanes, the soil is often so soft that trees topple over very easily if the weight is not properly proportioned.

--Wind resistance. The removal of heavy growth such as suckers near the main trunk is a common practice of many homeowners. However, the most critical place is the need for thinning outer branches to allow wind to move through the canopy. Do not allow a tree to form a barrier to strong winds. When pruning, preserve the natural form but cut out as much as one-half of the growth to reduce the overall weight and to allow for better wind movement.

--Dead and decaying parts. All limbs which indicate weakness because of a lack of light, disease and mechanical injury should be removed. Large sections which fall onto a roof can cause considerable damage and pose a hazard to the people in a building.

--Weak joints. Trees often form weak joints or crotches. The point of limb attachment to the main trunk can often be a weakened area. These areas are normally associated with very narrow angles where bark and rot accumulate. They might be removed if they pose a threat to a building. Cabling major parts is another option, but is an expensive practice in tree work. It is worth the effort and cost for important specimens in a landscape.

--Tree management. The key to reduced injury in all natural disturbances is maintaining a healthy tree. Fertilizing at least every two years, providing adequate moisture and removing weakened parts will help a tree withstand hurricane winds.

The section of the state south of Baton Rouge is apt to be in the greatest danger of hurricanes, but wind turbulance associated with tropical disturbances has caused problems statewide in past years.

A good dinner in thirteenth century China could consist of some 150 separate dishes.

A RESOLUTION MAKING CERTAIN FINDINGS CONCERNING THE BIDS AND ACCEPTING THE BEST BID SUBMITTED FOR THE PURCHASE OF SIX HUNDRED SIXTY-THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($663,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF WATERWORKS BONDS OF WATERWORKS DISTRICT NO. ELEVEN OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA; FIXING THE RATES OF INTEREST TO BE BORNE BY SAID BONDS; APPROVING, AUTHORIZING AND RATIFYING THE PREPARATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT RELATING TO SAID BONDS; AUTHORIZING THE EXECUTION OF A CERTIFICATE RELATING TO SAID OFFICIAL STATEMENT; AND RATIFYING CERTAIN ACTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE SALE OF SAID BONDS; AND LEVYING A TAX ON ALL PROPERTY SUBJECT TO TAXATION BY SAID DISTRICT.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted on June 22, 1982 (hereinafter referred to as the "Bond Resolution"; by the Board of Commissioners of Waterworks District No. Eleven of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (hereinafter referred to as the "District"), a notice of sale (hereinafter referred to as the "Notice of Sale") of $663,000 Waterworks Bonds, Series 1982 (hereinafter referred to as the "Bonds"), of the District, was published on July 8, 15, 22, 29, 1982, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and on July 19, 20, 21, 1982 in the Times Picayune, a newspaper published in the City of New Orleans, Louisiana, and said Notice of Sale, together with an Official Statement setting forth information with respect to the District and the Bonds was distributed to prospective purchasers of and investors in the Bonds;

WHEREAS, the Notice of Sale called for sealed proposals for the purchase of the Bonds to be received by the Board of Commissioners of Waterworks District No. Eleven until 11 o'clock A.M., Louisiana time, on Friday, July 30, 1982 at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex Building in Cameron, Louisiana; and

WHEREAS, Section 39:569, Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, makes it the duty of the Board of Commissioners of Waterworks District No. Eleven to levy annually a special tax in addition to all other taxes sufficient to pay the interest and the principal falling due on the Bonds for each year;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF WATERWORKS DISTRICT NO. ELEVEN OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA:

1. The Board of Commissioners of the District (hereinafter referred to as the "Board") hereby finds and determines that two (2) bids were submitted at or prior to the time specified in the notice of Sale, copies of which bids are hereby ordered filed with the minutes of this meeting; of all the bids submitted for the purchase of the Bonds, the bid (hereinafter referred to as the "Bid") of Shearson/American Express Inc., Calcasieu-Marine National Bank, and Ladd Dinkins & Co. (hereinafter referred to as the "Purchaser") is the one offering to purchase the Bonds at the lowest interest cost to the District as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Notice of Sale; and the Bid has in all respects been submitted in the proper form and in a timely manner, any defects in the form of the Bid or the manner of its submission, being minor, are hereby waived.

2. a. The Board hereby finds and determines that it is necessary and in the best interest of the District to accept the Bid and the Bid shall be and hereby is accepted, the Bid being a bid of par plus a premium of $0 and accrued interest from the date of the Bonds to the date of the payment in full of the purchase price and delivery thereof, the Bonds to bear interest at the rates per annum as set forth in paragraph 4 hereof.

b. Said Official Statement is hereby adopted and the President and Secretary of the Board are hereby authorized and directed to execute for and on behalf of the District and cause to be delivered to the Purchaser, copies of said Official Statement.

3. a. All action taken to date by the Officers, employees, agents and attorneys of the District with respect to the sale of the Bonds, including the publication as aforesaid of the Notice of Sale, and the form and contents of said Notice of Sale, and the distribution of the Official Statement with regard to the District and the Bonds and the form and contents of said Official Statement, in the respective forms thereof presented and hereby ordered filed with the minutes of this meeting, be and the same hereby are approved, ratified and confirmed.

b. Said Official Statement is hereby adopted and the President and Secretary of the Board are hereby authorized and directed to execute for and on behalf of the District and cause to be delivered to the Purchaser, copies of said Official Statement.

c. The President and Secretary of the Board are hereby authorized to execute for and on behalf of the District and deliver to the Purchaser, the certificate referred to in said Official Statement under the caption "CERTIFICATION AS TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT" substantially in the form set forth in said Official Statement.

4. The Bonds shall be dated as of August 1, 1982, shall be numbered from 1 to 133, both inclusive, with Bond No. 1 in the denomination of $3,000 and Bond Nos. 2 to 133, both inclusive, in the denomination of $5,000 each, and shall mature serially in numerical order on August 1 in each of the years 1983 to 2002, both inclusive, in the principal amounts as set forth below, the Bonds maturing in each year to bear interest payable February 1, 1983 and semiannually thereafter each February 1 and August 1, at the rate per annum set forth opposite such year, to wit:

The Bonds shall be subject to redemption by the District, at the option of the District, as set forth in the Bond Resolution.

5. The President and Secretary of the Board are hereby authorized and directed to take such actions as are necessary, advisable and proper to effectuate the preparation, execution and delivery of the Bonds to the Purchaser at the expense of the District in accordance with the provisions of the Bond Resolution and this resolution and upon payment in full of the aforesaid amount of the bid for the Bonds.

6. Pursuant to law and especially to Section 39:569, Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, this Board shall impose and collect annually in excess of all other taxes a tax on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the Bonds.

7. This resolution shall take effect upon its passage.

Chas. Patterson

Candidate is speaker

Charles S. Patterson, candidate for the Louisiana State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education, was the speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Cameron Lions club.

Patterson, who is the incumbent member of the board, was introduced by Neal Crain.

Patterson, who represents the seventh congressional district and was appointed by governor Treen to fill the vacancy created when Mrs. Helen Reeds resigned, is a Lafayette businessman.

He pointed out that Louisiana has problems in the 12 year high school system and believes that the 12th grade needs strengthening.

He said he also hopes that the teacher tenure can be changed in the next few years to meet the teachers needs and also hopes to see a workable improvement in the teacher pay system to be more equitable with private industry.

Baron Thomas, Lions president, reminded members of the annual ladies night banquet and upcoming "Bucket Brigade."

Braxton Blake and Paul Coreil talked on the new vessel traffic system on the Calcasieu Ship Channel, an idea which was developed by the Lake Charles Pilots Association, which at this time seems to be a volunteer program.

However, Coreil said, it will be monitored by local interests and he said that they plan to get it in writing from the Coast Guard that it is a volunteer program.

19 persons charged after drug raid

Nineteen persons have been arrested by Cameron and Calcasieu law officers and $25,000 in narcotics seized following a drug raid in Hackberry early Friday morning.

Beginning at 2 a.m., the raid was the result of a six month undercover investigation requested by Cameron Sheriff James Savoie and carried out by his deputies and the narcotics division of the state police.

Also assisting with the raid were officers from the Lake Charles and Sulphur police department and Calcasieu sheriff's department.

Three of those arrested were held for Calcasieu Parish authorities and some of the investigation continued into Calcasieu parish.

Narcotics seized included marijuana, cocaine, hashish, diazepam, methaqualone & methamphetamine.

Sixteen persons were arrested Friday with three others picked up since then. Warrants for the arrest of four other persons are still outstanding.

Names, ages, addresses and charges are as follows:

James (Jimmy) Wynne, 32, Box 295, Hackberry. Dist. of marijuana, 5 counts.

Wendell F. Trahan, 28, Box 271, Hackberry, dist. of marijuana, 2 counts, contributing to child delinquency.

Allen R. DeVille, 37, Box 282, Hackberry, dist. of marijuana, 2 counts.

Geraldine Metcalf, 23, Panama City, Florida, possession of marijuana.

Douglas Spicer, 20, MRH Box 295-A, Hackberry, possession of marijuana.

Schedule set on alligators

A schedule for the issuance of alligator tags, licenses and skinning instructions at the Rockefeller Refuge headquarters in Grand Chenier for the Cameron, Calcasieu and Vermilion parish area has been announced by the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Applications for alligator hunting areas should be received by Wildlife and Fisheries personnel prior to the check-in, according to David Richard, Biologist with the Fur and Refuge Division. Resident alligator hunting licenses and sports hunting licenses will be available at the refuge headquarters throughout the alligator season, Sept. 4 - Oct. 3.

The schedule for the hunters from the various areas in each of three parishes to secure tags, licenses and instructions at Rockefeller is as follows:

TUESDAY, AUG. 31
Johnson Bayou, 7 a.m. - 10 a.m.; Hackberry, 10 a.m. - 12 noon; Lake Arthur and Big Lake, 1 p.m. - 5:30 p.m.

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 1

Cameron lakes in study by Corps

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, New Orleans District has initiated a study entitled "Grand and White Lakes Water Management Study" to review the operation of the Grand and White Lakes system in the interests of irrigation, navigation, flood control, enhancement of commercial fisheries, recreation, and other related land and water resources.

This interim study is being conducted under the authorization of the "Mermentau, Vermilion and Calcasieu Rivers and Bayou Teche, Louisiana," study.

Grand Lake and White Lake are located in Cameron and Vermilion Parishes. The neighboring parishes of Jefferson Davis and Acadia are also included in the study area. The Grand and White Lakes system consists of the two lakes and a number of waterways and control structures.

The study will review the operation of the Grand and White Lakes system with equal consideration being given to all purposes: irrigation, navigation, flood control, water quality, recreation, and fish and wildlife purposes. During the study, the feasibility of the following specific items will be investigated.

a. Reduce water levels in Grand and White Lakes by 6 to 8 inches during the non-irrigation period (Sept. - March).

b. Relocate irrigation intakes near Schooner Bayou to a more distant location to allow more frequent openings of the structure to benefit estuarine organisms.

c. Construct a lock at Catfish Point.

d. Operate Calcasieu and Vermilion locks to introduce unpolluted water into Lake Arthur and the Mermentau River to benefit recreation.

e. Investigate methods of allowing organisms to enter the lakes with the control structures closed.

f. Provide a 30 to 45 day drawdown in Grand and White Lakes sometime from July to Sept. to increase waterfowl use and hunter use.

g. Provide flood control on Lower Bayou lacassine.

The views of interested parties are welcomed at any time in the planning process. Any comments you may have on the information in this notice or any suggestions you may have should be sent to: District Engineer, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, ATTN: LMNPD-F, P.O. Box 60267, New Orleans, Louisiana 70160.

Oyster licenses due by Sept. 10

Oyster fishermen must obtain both vessel licenses and dredge licenses prior to Sept. 10 to be in compliance with two new laws adopted by the Louisiana Legislature during its recent regular session, according to the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said Acts 467 and 626, effective Sept. 10, provide that both vessel and dredge licenses can be sold by the department only during the period Aug. 1 through Sept. 10 each year.

Guidry said the vessel license and dredge fees remain the same as before.

He said the only exceptions to the time period for obtaining the necessary licenses established by the new laws provide for licensing within 30 days following the death of an oyster boat owner when the ownership of the vessel is transferred, or within 45 days of registration of a newly built or purchased vessel.

The license year begins Sept. 1 and ends on Aug. 31 of each year.

Guidry stressed that the department will not be able to issue oyster vessel and dredge licenses after Sept. 10, and that the next application period will be Aug. 1 - Sept. 10, 1983.

He urged oyster fishermen to obtain the necessary licenses immediately.

Proof of residency needed for license

Resident commercial fishermen purchasing resident commercial fishing licenses after Sept. 10 will be required to furnish proof of Louisiana residency at the time of application for the licenses, according to the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, dept. secretary, said that Act 390 of the recent Louisiana legislature provides that applications for commercial fishing licenses shall be certified by the sheriff's department, a wildlife and fisheries agent, or the district office of the Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries which has jurisdiction of the parish in which the applicant resides.

Such proof, he said, shall be a current Louisiana drivers license or voter registration certificate.

The requirement of proof of Louisiana residency shall apply to licenses issued for both freshwater and saltwater commercial fishing.

Ticket sale

Season football tickets for the South Cameron high school five home games are on sale now at the school.

Season tickets are $17 for reserved seats; $12 for general admission; and $8 for students.

Iowa Jamboree tickets also are on sale at the school for $3 for adults and $2 for students.

Bell City KCs to have sale

The Bell City Knights of Columbus Council will hold its annual garage sale to raise money for its building fund starting at 7 a.m., Saturday, Aug. 28 at the KC home on Hwy. 14 east of Bell City.

Other KC councils are invited to donate to the garage sale and participate and should contact A. J. Holland in Bell City or Haris O'Blanc in Hayes.

Robert Broussard is the sale chairman.

Jim Brown to speak here

Louisiana Secretary of State Jim Brown will be the guest speaker at the annual Cameron Lions club ladies night to be held Thursday, Aug. 26 at 7 p.m. in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Creole, according to Baron Thomas, club president.

Bonds set

Judge H. Ward Fontenot has set bonds of $100,000 each on the two men the Cameron Parish Grand Jury returned true bills on last week.

They are Norman Andrews, Cameron, who has been indicted for second degree murder and Frank P. Brown, Rt. 1, Grand Chenier who was indicted for aggravated rape.

Festival meet

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife festival will be held Friday, Aug. 27 at 7 p.m. at Rockefeller Refuge Headquarters House, according to Braxton Blake, Festival president.

Blake urges all board members to attend to help make plans for 1983 festival to be held the second weekend in January.

'41 Chenier class holds big reunion

The Grand Chenier high school graduating class of 1941 held a reunion Saturday, Aug. 21 at the Grand Chenier recreation center.

Preparations for the reunion were made by Mrs. Dora Mae Pinch, Tommy Doland and others.

School superintendent in 1941 was Thomas W. McCall; Dennis Bonsall was school board member and L. E. Stone was principal. He now lives in Ruston.

The decorations for the reunion were their class colors and flowers. Their invitations were a copy of their invitations of 1941.

Audrey Theriot Miller, who was a flower girl, was present. The other flower girl was Dorothy Mae Mhire, who is now deceased.

Members of the graduating class attending were as follows: Adam Sturlese, Martin Richard, Mrs. Dora Mae Nunez Pinch, Aline Miller Miller, Claude Fawvor, Ida Swire Boudreaux, Dorothy Logue Conner, Leona Theriot Broussard, G. C. Sweeney, Tommy Doland, Thomas Broussard, Brandon Carter, Gilford Miller, Verna Lee Roberts Borrell, Audrey Mhire Wainwright, Eddie Lois Stewart LeBouef, Eugene Miller, Odis Conner.

Norman McCall and Pauline Canik Jourdan were unable to attend.

Each member of the class of 1941 was handed a recopy of their high school diploma. Many had lost their original diploma.

The two deceased members of the class of 1941 were Douglas Wilhite and Gooch Sturlese.

Also attending the class reunion were husbands and wives of the class members and their teachers Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Gonsoulin of New Iberia and Mr. and Mrs. John Dorgant of Lake Charles. The public is invited.

Priest to be honored Sat.

The Sacred Heart Church, Catholic Church Council and members will honor Msgr. M. J. Bernard with a reception at the Life Center after the 5 p.m. Mass Aug. 28. The public is invited.

Gospel singing set Saturday

The Evening Star Church of God in Christ will have an evening of gospel singing Saturday night, Aug. 28 at 8 p.m.

The two groups that will be singing are "All God's Children" of Sulphur, and "The Sensationals" of Lake Charles. The public is invited.

Election laws to be explained

"Some major changes have taken place recently in Louisiana's election laws, and candidates in the upcoming September elections should carefully review all of the election laws," Secretary of State Jim Brown said.

"To help in this regard," the state's chief elections officer added, "I have scheduled election seminars in numerous areas around the state to explain those changes and to provide any information concerning the elections process people feel they need to know."

The Lake Charles seminar is scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 26, at 5:30 p.m. in Room B of the main courthouse building. This election seminar has been arranged for all candidates, campaign workers and public officials in a five-parish area: Allen, Beauregard, Cameron, Calcasieu and Jefferson Davis parishes.

"My office staff has been besieged with requests for information concerning the changes in the Election Code resulting from the recent, 1982 legislative amendments to the Code (Revised Statute 18). Therefore, I see a real need to conduct statewide elections seminars to assist people who will be directly involved with the September 11 primary and the November 2 general elections."

Reunion off

The reunion of South Cameron High School's class of 1976 set for Aug. 28 has been cancelled. Due to a lack of donations by class members, certain obligations could not be met, resulting in the cancellation.

The efforts of class members who mailed in their donations was greatly appreciated and their donations will be returned promptly.

Bishop coming

Bishop Jude Speyrer, Bishop of the Diocese of Lake Charles, will be the celebrant of the Mass at Holy Trinity Church of Holly Beach Saturday, Sept. 4 at 4 p.m.

Parishioners and neighboring parishes are encouraged to attend the Bishop's Mass.

3-wheelers to race 5th

A 3-wheeler meet will be held at the Mud Hole Track, on the Little Chenier Road, Sunday, Sept. 5 starting at 11 a.m. and lasting all day.

There will be five events: pulls, drags, flat track, mud race, and men and ladies team boot race.

Trophies will be awarded 1st through 3rd places in each event and a high-point overall award.

There will be 4 classes: 90-125; 175-185; 200, and 250.

Future races will be held Oct. 3, Oct. 31, and Nov. 21.

Further information can be had by calling 542-2498 after 5 p.m.

Classes set

Religion classes (CCD) will begin at the Church of the Assumption, Johnson Bayou, Thursday, Aug. 26 from 3:30 - 4:30 p.m. for grades 1 - 8.

The students will come on the bus from school and be taken home by Brother Don.

High school students will have their classes from 5 to 6 p.m. They are expected to come on their own, and parents will be responsible for seeing that they get home.

Dr. Coatney is honored

Dr. Barbara Coatney, professor and head of the Dept. of Home Economics at McNeese State University, was one of the honored recipients of Louisiana Vocational Association and in the division of study. Some of the concentrated efforts of service to the society by Dr. Coatney has been in the way of "In-Service presenter" to area teachers.

Dr. Coatney, who holds two master's degrees from Northwestern State University, also has a bachelor degree each from USL and McNeese and a Ph.D. degree from Texas Woman's University joined the McNeese faculty in 1976 as head of the Dept. of Home Economics.

She is a native of Grand Chenier, and she and her husband (Gene) are parents of three children, Sandy Eldred of Slidell and David and Richard of Lafayette.

Parish 7th in beer drinking

Cameron parish citizens drank an average of 328 cans of beer during 1981 to rank the parish as the seventh "beer drinkingist" parish in the state, according to the Beer Industry League of Louisiana.

W. Baton Rouge led the state with a 430 cans per capita for 1981, followed by Terrebonne with 364 cans; Iberia, 363 cans; lafayette, 360 cans; East Carroll, 334 cans; and Pointe Coupee, 329 cans.

According to the report Cameron beer drinkers consumed 130,254 cases or 3,126,096 cans during the year.

The statewide consumption average was 154 cans per capita, less than half of Cameron's consumption.

School begins

Schools reopened throughout Cameron parish Monday morning.

Although Cameron elementary school's remodeling has not been completed, classes have begun there with all of the old classrooms in use. Several new temporary classrooms have not been completed yet.

Dredging studied

(From American Press)

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is looking into the feasibility of dredging the Calcasieu River and the ship channel to enable large ships that must now enter the channel light loaded to come in full.

And, in a second study, the Corps is reviewing the operation of the Big Lake system in the interests of irrigation, navigation, flood control, enhancement of commercial fisheries, recreation, and other related land and water resources.

Port of Lake Charles director Jim Sudduth said the Corps began its ship channel dredging study Tuesday. The study, which actually will include three areas, is not expected to be completed for about one year.

Sudduth said the port requested the study almost two years ago.

Currently, the Lake Charles port can handle ships that draw up to 40 feet of draft. Sudduth said. The draft is the number of feet the ship is in the water when it is fully loaded.

The port is requesting that it be deepened to 55 feet.

The Port of New Orleans has made a similar request to the Corps.

"We felt that it was just as feasible or more feasible to dredge the Calcasieu River and ship channel," Sudduth explained. New Orleans is 100 miles upstream from the Gulf, whereas the Industrial Canal is only 20 miles upstream, the port director said.

One of the biggest advantages to the deepening of the channel would be the ability of the port to handle collier ships, Sudduth said. The collier ships draw 50-55 foot drafts.

They are open-type bulk cargo vessels which can carry 100,000 tons of cargo. The collier ships usually carry coal.

Only two ports in the United States can serve the collier ships, Sudduth said. Several European countries and Australia can handle the vessel.

My Dear People Of Cameron Parish:

Upon completing my second year in office, I am giving you the report of what we have done in the last year. First, I will give you all the revenues that have been collected for the Sheriff's Department. Second, where we have spent your money. Due to the high cost of automobiles, repairs, and insurance, you can see why we didn't have a surplus of more than $384.31 this year. But as a whole we have managed to have a surplus of $208,196.31 counting that from last year. With the protection I am trying to give the people, it cost a lot to maintain the present level.

Third, I'd like to give you a total of the bonds and fines that were collected during this same period. A total of $565,759.28 and this is how it was dispersed:

Cameron Parish Police Jury	$255,349.92
Sheriff's General Fund	63,541.61
Clerk of Courts	41,699.75
Calcasieu Crime Lab	20,143.00
District Attorney's Office	16,366.89
Indigent Defender's Board	46,466.00
Bonds & Fines Refunded	129,815.50

All these funds were generated from the arrests and tickets from the Sheriff's Department enforcing the law.

I would like to present some of the problems that we are faced with. We are having problems in our courthouse with inadequate maintenance and up-keep.

Provisions of LA R.S. 33:4713 provides as follows:

"Each parish shall provide and bear the expense of a suitable building and requisite furniture for the sitting of the district and circuit courts and such offices, furniture and equipment as may be needed by the clerks and recorders of the parish for the proper conduct of their offices and shall provide such other offices as may be needed by the sheriffs of these courts and by the tax collector and assessors of the parish and shall provide the necessary heat and illumination therefor."

We have one problem that I confronted the Police Jury with which is of grave importance and endangers the life of my deputies and prisoners. It is our electrical system, once we lose electricity and have to depend/use the stand-by generator which does not have an automatic starter on it. This generator is not capable of carrying an adequate load to serve the whole courthouse. This generator is also tied in with Civil Defense. Can you imagine what it would be like if we had to use this generator in a situation like we had to in Hurricane Audrey. I feel this is of most importance to have a generator to be able to handle the whole load with automatic starter and switches. I brought this to the attention of the Police Jury. I was told if I needed a generator that bad to buy one out of my funds. As you can see I have a surplus of $208,000 that is supposed to be for law enforcement and protecting you, the people of Cameron Parish.

We would need to have a generator of 150 KW, which I was assured could handle all the courthouse and the Civil Defense. The whole project would cost between $40,000 to $50,000. I will use the Sheriff's fund to protect my deputies and the people of Cameron Parish.

The courthouse is of utmost importance. It is where all records are kept since the town of Cameron started and where we file deeds, licenses, etc. All the offices in the courthouse are running out of space and storage room.

Also our jail is under court order as of now, and reduced by seven (7) inmates. Capacity before inspection was twenty-eight (28), since inspection we can only house twenty-one (21). So you can see we have out-grown our jail.

Sincerely,

James R. "Sono" Savoie, Sheriff

Mrs. Toerner honored on 91st birthday

Family and friends joined Mrs. Earl Toerner on July 18 in celebration of her 91st birthday. The barbecue party was held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Barnhart.

Mrs. Toerner has been a resident of Lake Charles since 1942, having resided in Creole previously. Born at Chenier Perdue in 1891, she has four children, Doris Weigmann, Baton Rouge; Paul Toerner, Boone's Corner; and Faye Barnhart and Bertha Stoner, Lake Charles. All were present for the special event.

In addition, Mrs. Toerner has 7 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

Four generations were present at the afternoon party.

Birth

ANGELA DAWN REGNIER

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Regnier announce the birth of a daughter, Angela Dawn, Aug. 19. She weighed 9 lbs., 3 oz.

Her paternal grandmother is Mrs. E. R. Regnier, Cameron; and maternal grandparents are Mrs. Gertie Rodrigue and Clarence Pellegrin, Sr., of Houma.

STATE BOARD OF ELEMENTARY AND SECONDARY EDUCATION

WHAT DO THE PEOPLE WHO KNOW JOHN BERTRAND THINK OF HIM?

Dr. John Bertrand has been in the public eye throughout his career as an educator. His job performance and leadership ability have been evaluated by the public he has served, the people with whom he has worked and the communities in which he has lived. What has been their judgment? What has been their appraisal of his ability? What is their recommendation to those who do not know him?

EDUCATION PROFESSION

- UNANIMOUSLY REELECTED AS SUPERINTENDENT FOR FOUR TERMS BY ACADIA PARISH SCHOOL BOARD
- OUTSTANDING GRADUATE OF U.S.L. COLLEGE OF EDUCATION FOR YEARS 1947-1950

THE RECOMMENDATION COMES THROUGH LOUD AND CLEAR!

We need someone who understands the problems facing teachers. We must have a leader who knows the practical problem of financing and administering a complicated system. BOTH ARE ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY if we are to meet our responsibility to provide the highest quality of education possible for our children.

Those who know John Bertrand recognize the experience and leadership ability which have made him a key figure in uplifting education in the State of Louisiana.

A CAREER DEDICATED TO EDUCATION

Paid for by The John A. Bertrand Election Committee

My Dear People Of Cameron Parish:

Upon completing my second year in office, I am giving you the report of what we have done in the last year. First, I will give you all the revenues that have been collected for the Sheriff's Department. Second, where we have spent your money. Due to the high cost of automobiles, repairs, and insurance, you can see why we didn't have a surplus of more than $384.31 this year. But as a whole we have managed to have a surplus of $208,196.31 counting that from last year. With the protection I am trying to give the people, it cost a lot to maintain the present level.

TOTAL	250

Third, I'd like to give you a total of the bonds and fines that were collected during this same period. A total of $565,759.28 and this is how it was dispersed:

Cameron Parish Police Jury	$255,349.92
Sheriff's General Fund	63,541.61
Clerk of Courts	41,699.75
Calcasieu Crime Lab	20,143.00
District Attorney's Office	16,366.89
Indigent Defender's Board	46,466.00
Bonds & Fines Refunded	129,815.50

All these funds were generated from the arrests and tickets from the Sheriff's Department enforcing the law.

I would like to present some of the problems that we are faced with. We are having problems in our courthouse with inadequate maintenance and up-keep.

Provisions of LA R.S. 33:4713 provides as follows:

"Each parish shall provide and bear the expense of a suitable building and requisite furniture for the sitting of the district and circuit courts and such offices, furniture and equipment as may be needed by the clerks and recorders of the parish for the proper conduct of their offices and shall provide such other offices as may be needed by the sheriffs of these courts and by the tax collector and assessors of the parish and shall provide the necessary heat and illumination therefor."

We have one problem that I confronted the Police Jury with which is of grave importance and endangers the life of my deputies and prisoners. It is our electrical system, once we lose electricity and have to depend/use the stand-by generator which does not have an automatic starter on it. This generator is not capable of carrying an adequate load to serve the whole courthouse. This generator is also tied in with Civil Defense. Can you imagine what it would be like if we had to use this generator in a situation like we had to in Hurricane Audrey. I feel this is of most importance to have a generator to be able to handle the whole load with automatic starter and switches. I brought this to the attention of the Police Jury. I was told if I needed a generator that bad to buy one out of my funds. As you can see I have a surplus of $208,000 that is supposed to be for law enforcement and protecting you, the people of Cameron Parish.

We would need to have a generator of 150 KW, which I was assured could handle all the courthouse and the Civil Defense. The whole project would cost between $40,000 to $50,000. I will use the Sheriff's fund to protect my deputies and the people of Cameron Parish.

The courthouse is of utmost importance. It is where all records are kept since the town of Cameron started and where we file deeds, licenses, etc. All the offices in the courthouse are running out of space and storage room.

Also our jail is under court order as of now, and reduced by seven (7) inmates. Capacity before inspection was twenty-eight (28), since inspection we can only house twenty-one (21). So you can see we have out-grown our jail.

Sincerely,

James R. "Sono" Savoie, Sheriff

TIPS ON TRIPS

Getting Your Car Ready For Vacation Driving

If you want your car to get you where you're going on vacation this year, some safety and economy hints may help you to a carefree holiday.

Be sure the car has a good tune up before you start off. New spark plugs may be needed. The car should be lubricated. The oil changed. Brakes, windshield wipers, ignition, steering gear, lights and battery all should be checked.

Cameron Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

This week puts it almost ten days of the inland white shrimp season opening, and I don't think there's much bragging to be done in our area. There's a few shrimp caught in the Big Lake area, but the Mermentau River hasn't produced anything. Now, off Grand Chenier, along the beach west of the jetties, there's been some real fine catches, and Joseph Harbor area also, with some 400 lb. catches I've seen.

GARY'S LANDING
LOWERY

Water in the cuts off the river has begun to clear and some nice white perch were taken, so I believe fall fishing will again be good.

OFFSHORE
RUDY'S FISH N' STOP

Offshore fishing is still holding it's own with spec fishing closer to shore the number one catch. There were some nice specs caught in the Mermentau River at Grand Chenier last week, in fact under the bridge on Hwy. 82. Also, further casst Lynex and Alice Richard caught a bunch of rat reds.

We also had reports of some good red snaper catches off Grand Chenier around 50 miles out.

CREOLE CANAL

Quite a lot of fishermen were out this past weekend along the Creole Canal, but perch was the number one fish caught on rod and reel, but some nice gar fish were taken on gill nets. Most were just out crabbing, but crabs were not that plentiful.

BIG BURN

The Burn is really grown over with the trails getting narrow and water lillies have taken over again. But if you find the spot, there's bass. I picked up 15 nice bass last week with the largest going 2 lbs. There's a lot of little bass and they will hit the worm. I was fishing a purple red metal flake with Mr. Twister fire tail, using the small slip sinker (1/16) I had in my box and sure had a ball.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB

The bass club held their last tournament this past weekend and here are the reults:

Largest Bass: 1. Phillip Trosclair, 3-12. 2. Ricky Canik, 2-10. 3. Carl Broussard, Keno Nunez, tied, 2-0, 15 length, 10½ girth.

4. Loston McEvers, 1-14; and 5. Boyd Nunez (kenneth Jr.), 1-4.

Largest Stringer: 1. Phillip Trosclair, 20-8. 2. Loston McEvers, 11-10. 3. Ricky Canik, 11-8. 4. Carl Broussard, 10-14. 5. Keno Nunez, 8-8 and 6. Boyd Nunez (Kenneth Jr.), 7-12.

REMINDER

The meeting of Sept. 6, Monday, Labor Day, will be cancelled, to be held the second Monday, Sept. 13, at the W.O.W. Hall in Creole at 7:30.

DID YOU KNOW!

Some Louisiana saltwater records:

Barracuda: A. C. Mills, 50 lb. caught Aug. 1970.

Cobia: Douglas LaChico, 105 lbs. 5 oz. Caught May, 1980

Dolphin: Robert Post IV, 71 lbs. 4 oz. Caught June 1976.

Jack Crevalle: Jeffrey Blaine Lee, 44 lbs, 8 oz. Caught Sept. 1977.

REMEMBER

This is the last weekend of Miami Corp. permit fishing, which includes the Big Burn, Amoco in Grand Chenier and Hebert and Precht and other Miami areas.

Catch ya later!

Voting for absentees begun here

Mrs. Fae M. Jones, Cameron Parish Registrar of Voters announces that absentee voting in the parish will be held from Aug. 23 through Sept. 4 in the Registrar's office on the ground floor of the Cameron courthouse, during regular office hours during the week and until noon on Saturday.

Camp Fire begins drive

The Sowela Camp Fire Council of Sowela announces their 1982-83 membership campaign for area youth in grades one through twelve. Boys, as well as girls, are eligible for membership in the program.

A rally was recently held at the Camp Fire Program Center for school coordinators. The rally was to assist them in planning their meetings to form clubs, which will be held in area schools during August and September.

Carolyn Rutherford is the area coordinator for South Cameron high school.

Sweetlake club has meeting

The Sweetlake Home Extension Club had their meeting and a covered dish supper for husbands Aug. 9 in the multi-purpose building.

The club will hold a practice for their skit at 6:30 p.m. Aug. 30 in the recreation center.

All members are urged to attend. The practice is to help the club to prepare for Achievement Day.

Woodmen set meeting Thurs.

Woodmen of the World Camp 706 and Ladies Court meeting will be held Aug. 26 at the WOW hall. A supper will be served before the meeting which will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Airman Morgan is graduated

Airman William A. Morgan, son of Alton E. and Rose H. Morgan of Sulphur, has graduated from the U. S. Air Force security police specialist course at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

Graduates of the course studied security and law enforcement and earned credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Morgan will now serve at Kirtland Air Force Base, N.M.

His wife, Stephanie, is the daughter of Ira K. Ellender of Hackberry, and Jole M. Kayle of Sulphur.

Patterson candidate for board

State board of education member Charles Patterson announced that he has qualified for the Sept. 11 election. Patterson serves the State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education as the representative of the Southwest Louisiana parishes of Acadia, Cameron, Calcasieu, Jefferson Davis, Lafayette, Vermilion, Beauregard, St. Martin and Allen parishes.

Patterson is a Lafayette geologist and owner of Corrosion Logging Service International. He served as a member of the Lafayette Parish School Board for eight years and also served the Lafayette school board during the unexpired term of Dud Lastrapes when Lastrapes was elected Mayor of Lafayette.

Patterson was appointed to the state school board to fill the unexpired term of board member Helen Reed of Lake Charles.

Patterson is married to the former Cora Freund, an assistant professor of psychology at U.S.L. They have one daughter, Elizabeth Patterson Heidbrink, a science teacher at Carencro Elementary and a son, Charles Patteron, Jr., an attorney in Houston, Tex.

Patterson is a twelve-year member of the Rotary Club of Lafayette. He served as president of the Lafayette Natural History Museum and Planetarium Association and was assistant scout master of Boy Scout Troop 159.

Patterson is a member and elder of Grace Presbyterian Church, and serves as president of a non-profit church-related housing program for senior citizens of South Louisiana.

DREDGING

The added depth would also assist the large tankers that are carrying crude to Cities Service and Conoco, Sudduth said.

The vessels that bring in the crude must either carry a light load or put the crude on barges to bring it in.

Every inch of added depth in the ship channel would allow the large ships to carry thousands of extra tons of cargo.

In addition to the depth study, the Corps will also look at a solution to ease the bends in the ship channel. There are seven places that are difficult for large ships to navigate, Sudduth said.

A third facet of the study will involve the feasibility of having a holding and passing area. It could be used for customs to make inspections or as an area to hold a ship when another vessel is passing it, Sudduth said.

In the second study, the Corps is reviewing the operation of the Big Lake and White Lake systems. The lakes are located in southwestern Louisiana in Cameron and Vermilion Parishes.

The neighboring parishes of Jeff Davis and Acadia are also included in the study area. Among the objectives of the study will be investigating the feasibility of reducing water levels in the lakes by six to eight inches during non-irrigation months, operating Calcasieu and Vermilion locks to introduce unpolluted water into Lake Arthur and the Mermentau River to benefit recreation, and providing a 30 to 45 day drawdown in the lakes sometime from July to September to increase waterfowl use and hunter use.

Completion of the second study isn't expected until 1990.

Green Wing Day is held by DU group

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

"Green Wing Day" was held at Little Pecan island recently with the Cameron Parish Ducks Unlimited chapter serving as the host. Twenty-eight Cameron parish Green Wing members attended.

Zeke Wainwright, local D.U. president introduced all of the members, after a boat trip out to the island from the Grand Chenier landing.

He also gave a brief explanation of the Ducks Unlimited program and of the importance of being a Green Wing member.

Tom Hess, Staff Biologist at Little Pecan showed a series of slides on waterfowl management at the island. He also gave a presentation on gun safety including the proper handling of firearms and proper care of the guns.

Walter Wainwright gave the youngsters a mudboat ride into the marsh pointing out points of interest such as water control structures, marsh vegetation and various duck blinds, and waterfowl in the area.

A picnic lunch was served by Margaret Little, and Bonnie and Sheila Wainwright.

Competitions in skeet shooting, duck and goose calling was held after dinner with the following ages 2 to 11 winners named:

Duck Calling, Chad Mudd, 1st; Jimmy Carroll, 2nd; and Chad Little, 3rd.

Goose Calling, Chad Mudd, 1st; Brandon Hess, 2nd; and Aggie Nash, 3rd.

Skeet Shooting, Chad Mudd, 1st; Brandon Hess, 2nd; and Aggie Nash, 3rd.

In the 12-18 group the following winners were:

Skeet Shooting, Jimmy P. Saltzman. 1st; Ronald Mhire, 2nd; and Tim Dupont, 3rd.

Duck Calling, Jimmy P. Saltzman, 1st; Tim Dupont, 2nd; and Dwayne Nunez, 3rd.

Goose Calling, Dwayne Nunez, 1st; Tim Dupont, 2nd; and Jimmy P. Saltzman, 3rd.

Outstanding Green Wing members were named for each age group with Chad Mudd winning in the junior group followed by Aggie Nash as first runner-up and Jimmy P. Saltzman the outstanding senior and Tim Dupont first runner-up, and Dwayne Nunez, 2nd runner-up.

The day's activities were concluded with Zeke Wainwright awarding trophies to all winners, which were provided by Cameron State Bank.

The shortest lived U.S. coin was the twenty-cent piece, issued regularly only in 1875 and 1876. They were too easily confused with quarters.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION CAMERON PARISH SCHOOL BOARD

By virtue of and in conformity with the procedures of Section 151 through 158 of Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, sealed bids will be received at the office of the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana, on or before the 13th day of Sept., 1982 at 10:00 a.m., at which time all bids received will be opened by the Cameron Parish School Board for a lease covering the oil, gas, sulphur, potash, and/or other liquid gaseous hydrocarbon mineral rights in, to, and under the following described property: The North Half of the Southwest Quarter (N/2 of SW/4), Section 33, Township 14 South, Range 7 West, Cameron Parish, LA, including but not limited to: Commencing from a point which is 242.9 feet East and 2640 feet South of the Northwest Corner of Section 33, Township 14 South, Range 7 West, thence South 717.65 feet to a point on the North right-of-way line of State Route No. LA 82; thence South 83 degrees 18' East 350 feet along said right-of-way line; thence North 11 degrees 42' East 544 feet; thence North 85 degrees 43' West 338.3 feet; thence North 2 degrees 09' West 200 feet; thence North 89 degrees 56' West 113.2 feet to the point of commencement, containing 5.489 acres, more or less, less and except any and all navigable waterways contained therein.

Bids may be for the whole or any particularly described portions of the tract advertised herein.

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (1/2) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease and one-half (1/2) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed three years, and if the bid offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (1/2) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, not even for return by lessor of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. Minimum royalties shall be one-fourth (1/4) of all oil and gas produced and saved) one-eighth (1/8) of the value per long ton of sulphur produced and saved which shall yield not less than $2.00 per long ton; one-eighth (1/8) of the value per ton for all potash produced and saved, which shall yield not less than ten cents (10 cents) per ton); and one-fourth (1/4) of all other minerals produced and saved.

All leases awarded shall be executed upon terms and conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a delay rental (which shall in no event be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the Board's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the School Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the School Board.

Any lease granted hereunder shall be on the regular current State Agency form and shall be subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board. Certified Check, Bank Money Order, or Cashier's Check, payable to the Cameron Parish School Board for the full amount of the bonus, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid; and no bid thus submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled; and the cash bonus accompanying the bid of the successful bidder shall be forfeited to the Cameron Parish School Board should he not return the written lease, duly executed, within twenty (20) days after his receipt of the same.

The Cameron Parish School Board reserved the right to reject any and all bids and to grant a lease on any portion of the tract advertised for a price not less than proportionate to the best bid offered for the lease on the entire tract.

RESOLUTION

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON

A RESOLUTION MAKING CERTAIN FINDINGS CONCERNING THE BIDS AND ACCEPTING THE BEST BID SUBMITTED FOR THE PURCHASE OF SIX HUNDRED SIXTY THREE THOUSAND DOLLARS ($663,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF GENERAL OBLIGATION BONDS OF FIRE NO. 1 PROTECTION DISTRICT NO. FOURTEEN OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA; FIXING THE RATES OF INTEREST TO BE BORNE BY SAID BONDS; APPROVING, AUTHORIZING AND DIRECTING THE PREPARATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT RELATING TO SAID BONDS; AUTHORIZING THE EXECUTION OF A CERTIFICATE RELATING TO SAID OFFICIAL STATEMENT; AND RATIFYING CERTAIN ACTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE SALE OF SAID BONDS; AND LEVYING A TAX ON ALL PROPERTY SUBJECT TO TAXATION BY SAID DISTRICT.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted on June 22, 1982 (hereinafter referred to as the "Bond Resolution") by the Police Jury of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, the governing body of Fire Protection District No. Fourteen of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (hereinafter referred to as the "Police Jury"), a notice of sale (hereinafter referred to as the "Notice of Sale") of $663,000 Fire Protection Bonds, Series 1982 (hereinafter referred to as the "Bonds"), of the District was published on July 8, 15, 22, 29, 1982, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and on July 19, 20, 21, 1982 in the Times Picayune, a newspaper published in the City of New Orleans, Louisiana, and said Notice of Sale, together with an Official Statement setting forth information with respect to the District and the Bonds were distributed to prospective purchasers of and investors in the Bonds;

WHEREAS, the Notice of Sale called for sealed proposals for the purchase of the Bonds to be received by the Police Jury of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, the governing body of Fire Protection District No. Fourteen, until 11 o'clock A.M., Louisiana time, on Friday, July 30, 1982 at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Building in Cameron, Louisiana;

WHEREAS, Section 39:569, Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, makes it the duty of the Police Jury of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, the governing body of Fire Protection District No. Fourteen, to levy annually a special tax in addition to all other taxes sufficient to pay the interest and the principal falling due on the Bonds in each year;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE POLICE JURY OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA, THE GOVERNING BODY OF FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT NO. FOURTEEN OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA,

1. The Police Jury of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (hereinafter referred to as the "Police Jury"), the governing body of the District, hereby finds and determines that two (2) bids were submitted at or prior to the time specified in the Notice of Sale, copies of which bids are hereby ordered filed with the minutes of this meeting; all of the bids submitted for the purchase of the Bonds, the bid (hereinafter referred to as the "Bid") of Shearson/American Express, Inc., Calcasieu Marine National Bank, and Rauscher Pierce Refsnes, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as the "Purchaser") is the one offering to purchase the Bonds at the lowest interest cost to the District as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Notice of Sale, and the Bid has in all respects been submitted in the proper form and in a timely manner, any defects in the form of the Bid or the manner of its submission, being minor, are hereby waived.

2. a. The Police Jury hereby finds and determines that it is necessary and in the best interest of the District to accept the Bid and the Bid shall be and hereby is accepted, the Bid being a bid of par plus a premium of $0 and interest from the date of the Bonds to the date of the payment in full of the purchase price and delivery thereof, the Bonds to bear interest at the rate per annum as set forth in said Bid.

b. Said premium and accrued interest received on the Bonds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or to the interest on, the Bonds, and shall be deposited with the bank or banks, along with the taxes levied and collected for that purpose.

3. a. All action taken to date by the officers, employees, agents and attorneys of the Police Jury and District with respect to the sale of the Bonds, including the publication as aforesaid of the Notice of Sale, and the distribution of the Official Statement with regard to the District and the Bonds and the form and contents of said Official Statement, in the respective forms thereof presented to and considered filed with the minutes of this meeting, be and the same hereby are approved, ratified and confirmed.

b. Said Official Statement is hereby adopted and the President and Secretary of the Police Jury are hereby authorized and directed to execute for and on behalf of the District a certificate to be delivered to the Purchaser, copies of said Official Statement.

c. The President and Secretary of the Police Jury are hereby authorized to execute for and on behalf of the District and deliver to the Purchaser, the certificate referred to in said Official Statement under the caption "CERTIFICATION AS TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT" substantially in the form set forth in said Official Statement.

4. The Bonds shall be dated as of August 1, 1982, shall be numbered from 1 to 133, both inclusive, with Bond No. 1 in the denomination of $3,000 and Bond Nos. 2 to 133, both inclusive, in the denomination of $5,000 each, and shall mature serially in numerical order on August 1 in each of the years 1983 to 2002, both inclusive, in the principal amounts as set forth below, the Bonds maturing in each year to bear interest payable February 1, 1983 and semiannually thereafter each February 1 and August 1, at the rate per annum set forth opposite such year, to wit:

Msgr. Bernard honored Sat.

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Old friends, parishioners, former classmates and students and local politicians joined to bid "Bon Voyage" to Msgr. M. J. Bernard Saturday afternoon with a celebration which began with a mass at 5 p.m. at Sacred Heart Catholic church.

The occasion marked Msgr. Bernard's thirtieth anniversary of ordination to the priesthood, his tenth year as the pastor of Sacred Heart and St. Rose of Lima churches and his departure for Rome where he is to study at the university in theology, scripture, canon law and scripture.

Assisting Msgr. Bernard in the last mass he was to say at his church for six months, was Father Anthony Bruzas, from the priest's retirement home in Houston, Tex., who delivered the homily.

Kathy Nunez served as the lectorer during the mass and an honor guard of 4th Degree Knights of Columbus from Msgr. Cramers Council and Dr. Francis Bulbur and Ellis Guillory, Knights of St. Gregory served as the escorts and participants in the service.

The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Ching Conner, was accompanied by Irvin Rivette of Lake Charles, on the church's Wicks pipe organ.

Following the mass a reception was held for Msgr. Bernard in the Family Life Center of the church where many gifts were presented to him. John Driscoll served as the master of ceremonies.

Clifford Myers presented him with a short wave radio from the parish council and church members.

Mrs. Linda Dahlen presented him with a 30 years of service plaque from the Catholic Daughters Court Mary Olive No. 1463, and Mrs. Cora Hendrex presented him with a 10 year plaque also from the Court.

Mrs. Mayola Wicke and Mrs. Theressa Myers presented him with a scrapbook made up of his activities in the church for the past 10 years.

Christy Dimas presented him with a sweater from the children of the church; John Driscoll announced that the Knights of Columbus Council had presented him with a steamer trunk that has already been packed and sent ahead to Rome; and a special presentation was made by Lazime Kershaw.

Members of the Catholic Daughters, Church Council and Altar Society presided at the refreshment board.

Father Louis Perpete, M.S. will serve as the church administrator during the six month leave of absence of Msgr. Bernard.

Assoc. sets meeting Mon.

The South Cameron Athletic Association will meet at 6 p.m. Monday, Sept. 6 in the school cafeteria.

Plans will be made for the Tarpons' first home game against Kinder Friday night, Sept. 10.

The Tarpons will play Iowa this Friday night at Iowa.

Fans are reminded that season tickets are still on sale at the high school--$17 for reserved seats; $12 for adults general admission; and $8 for student general admission. Gate prices will be $3 for adults and $2 for students.

Services set at tabernacle

Jimmy Steward of Pensacola, Fla., recording artist and evangelist, will be at the Cameron Tabernacle on Friday night, Sept. 3 at 7 p.m.

Everyone is invited to attend, according to Rev. Morse Pruitt, pastor.

Bazaar set

The Pecan Island Methodist Church will have their bazaar Saturday, Sept. 4 beginning at 11 a.m.

They will serve barbecue at $3.50 per plate.

They will also have cold drinks, cakes, cookies, an handicrafts for sale.

The public is invited.

Unit closed

Dr. Russell R. conley, Director of the Cameron Parish Health Unit announced that the Health Unit and all its branch offices will be closed Monday, Sept. 6, in observance of Labor Day.

Tarpon games to be dedicated

The South Cameron High School faculty, staff, and student body plan to dedicate each home game this season. Homecoming against St. Edmund, Oct. 1, 1982, will follow the traditional pattern.

Each of the remaining home games will be dedicated as follows:

Sept. 10, against Kinder, will be dedicated to the 20 year graduates of South Cameron High School, the seniors of 1963.

Oct. 22, against St. Louis, the 15 year graduates of SCHS, the seniors of 1968.

Oct. 29, against DeQuincy, the five year graduates, the SCHS seniors of 1978; and

Nov. 5, against Vinton, to the parents of the football players.

If possible, the school would like to have these groups seated in some area together. They will be recognized either in the preliminary or the half time announcements.

The first group to be so honored will be the following:

James Albarado, Charles Bonsall, Martha Boudreaux, Anthony Brown, Roberta Conner, Glenn Duddleston, John Duhon, Wade Dupont, Chester Dyson, Joe Gerbine, Lonnie G. Harper, John Allen Hebert, Raymond Hebert, Kay Kohara, Mary Jane LaBove, Bobby Lalande, Lena Bell Miller, J. C. Murphy, Glenda Nunez, Marvin Owens, Ramona Picou, Eugene Primeaux, Andrew Richard, Earline Richard, Lester Richard, Jr., Carolyn Rome, Beverly Sue Rutherford, Janith Savoie, Ray Stevens, Louis Stoute, Mary Lee Theriot, Roland Trosclair, Jr., Agnes Venable.

Officers named by Fur Festival

Braxton Blake, president, and all of the other officers of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival were re-elected for a year at the annual board of directors meeting Friday night at the Rockefeller Refuge.

The weekend of Jan. 14 - 15, 1983 was set as the date of the next festival, which will honor the shrimp industry.

Judge H. Ward Fontenot was appointed to head the committee to choose a King to reign over the festival.

Blake got committments from the superintendents of each event that they would again take charge of the event for the upcoming festival.

Yvonne Savoie, Sweetlake, the 1982 Louisiana Fur Queen, and April Leger, Hackberry, Miss Cameron Parish, were both present and Blake called on each to tell some of her experiences since assuming her title.

Blake appointed Mrs. Martha Fontenot to be in charge of the judges for the arts and crafts show.

Garner Nunez, festival treasurer, reported that the festival is in good shape financially and Hayes Picou, Jr. reported that the festival had received a $1,000 federal grant.

It was noted that the festival cookbook, headed by Mrs. Norma Jean Blake and Mrs. Hilda Crain, is the main income source for the festival and is widely sought after as a collector's item.

'Gator season

The dates for the 1982 alligator season has been set for Sept. 4 - Oct. 3.

The 30-day season will be closely regulated by rules and procedures adopted by the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

During the 1981 season, some 14,600 alligators were taken with an estimated value of almost $2 million.

It is anticipated that approximately 18,000 tags will be issued for the upcoming season.

Hunters applying for alligator tags should identify the landowner who has given them signed permission to hunt on their property, describe the land involved and have this information notarized.

General provisions for the approaching season are similar to those of last year.

No alligators under 4 feet in length can be taken.

Hunting is allowed only in daylight hours between one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset.

Special skinning instructions will be distributed before the season opening by Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries personnel.

Cameron and Calcasieu Parish tag quotes are as follows:

Brackish marsh: 1 tag per 200 acres. Intermediate marsh: 1 tag per 100 acres; and Fresh marsh: 1 tag per 100 acres.

Sewerage contract to be given soon

Some 275 new residential and commercial customers will be added to the Cameron sewerage system when a contract in the neighborhood of $1,800,000 is awarded by Cameron Sewerage District No. 1 following the Sept. 23 bid opening.

The present Cameron sewerage system, built a number of years ago, serves 660 customers. The additions will expand the system to the ship channel on the west going up to the Louisiana Menhaden plant and about a quarter of a mile west of Jim Daigle's corner on the east.

The additions will include 6.25 miles of 8 and 10-inch gravity collections lines, 6.35 miles of force mains; six new lift stations; and the upgrading of the existing oxidation pond from one cell to three cells with a treatment capacity of 400,000 gallons of waste water per day.

Work is expected to start in about 60 or 90 days after the contract is awarded with 450 calendar days allowed for the completion.

Cost of the project is being financed with an Environmental Protection Agency grant for 75 percent and the remainder of the funds coming from the police jury.

J. A. Colligan is president of the sewerage board; J. B. Watts, secretary; and Ray Theriot, member. Braxton Blake is the police juror for the area.

Menard named Lion of Year

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Don Menard was named "Lion of the Year" at the 27th annual Cameron Lions Club "Ladies Night and Lion of the Year Awards Night", Thursday night at the K.C. hall in Creole.

Menard, who is manager of the Cameron Parish Mosquito Control Unit, was cited for his contribution to his local club and to Cameron parish.

He was presented with an engraved plaque by Baron Thomas who was last year's recipient.

Edwin F. Kelley, club secretary, announced that there was one charter member of the club who is still a member, Charles F. Hebert, and who was present at the dinner. He has been a member for 38 years Kelley said. He and his wife were recognized by the Lions.

Kelley read the list of charter members, most of whom are now deceased: W. J. Broussard, J. A. Colligan, J. A. Davis, Dr. A. C. Dibartolo, J. C. Doxey, R. C. Doxey, Alvin Dyson, N. B. Hackett, Charles F. Hert, L. R. Henry, A. D. Hickman, F. B. Kennedy, Brown Leboeuf, E. J. Lousteau, Henry McCall, W. McCall, J. H. Meaux, Clarence Miller, W. J. Montie, Lee Nunez, John Richard, Mark Richard, C. M. Singletary, J. A. Singleton, J. W. Stine, L. E. Storey, L. A. Theriot, Vian Theriot, Rudolph Theriot, and L. B. Welch.

The club was chartered on Nov. 23, 1944.

Kelley passed out perfect attendance for the past year awards to: E. J. Dronet, Robert Fruge, Charles F. Hebert, Terry Hebert, Ed. Kelley, Roland Primeaux, Baron Thomas and Larry Wainwright.

A Master Key was given to Ed Kelley and Chevrons to Leslie Richard, 35 years; Raymond Dimas, 25 years; Larry Dyson, 25 years; Braxton Blake, 20 years; John Paul Crain, 10 years and Tommy Watts, 10 years.

Braxton Blake introduced Louisiana Secretary of State James J. (Jim) Brown who spoke on the constitutional amendments and election procedures, citing the election law changes.

He pointed out that electioneering within 600 feet of any polling place on election day is illegal and punishable by as much as $500 and up to six months in jail.

He also told the new archives depository and geneological facility to be built in Baton Rouge in the near future.

He pointed out that a film library and oral history section will be included and that interviews are in the process of being made at this time so that oral history from many of the elderly citizens of the state will be preserved on tape.

He said that this facility is vitally needed to preserve the precious historical records that are rapidly being lost to time and the elements.

Night classes set at Cameron Vo-Tech

Cameron Vo-Tech School is now accepting applications for evening instruction (night classes) for the fall term which will begin Sept. 14, according to Leslie D. Griffith, director.

Interested students 16 years of age or older and not enrolled in high school may obtain applications in the administrative office at the school on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 542-4612 to be put on waiting lists for classes.

Courses offered will be welding, vehicle - marine engine mechanics and office occupations. These classes will start when the required number of students apply for admission. Prospective students are urged to contact the school so that these classes may start on schedule.

The classes will be scheduled on Tuesday and Thursday nights from 6 to 9 p.m. There are no tuition fees for these courses. The only expense incurred by the student is for books, supplies and insurance.

Recipes are sought here

Mrs. Braxton Blake announced that she is now accepting recipes to be included in the 1983 Louisiana Fur Festival Recipe book.

She asked that everyone send in their recipes to her at P.O. Box 457, Cameron, La. 70631.

She also asks that persons submitting recipes to list the ingredients in the order that they appear in the recipe.

Her deadline for receiving the recipes is Sept. 20.

Seasons are set

Duck, goose and coot hunting in Louisiana will begin Saturday, Nov. 6, with opening of the west zone of the state, according to the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

The first split in the west zone will provide waterfowlers with 30 days of hunting, coming to a close at sunset Dec. 5. The second split in that zone will run from Dec. 18 to Jan. 11.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said duck, goose and coot hunting in the east zone would open Saturday, Nov. 20.

The first split in the east zone will run for 16 days, extending through Dec. 5. It will reopen in the east zone on Dec. 18 and extend through Jan. 20, providing 34 days of hunting.

Guidry said that while there would be concurrent hunting of geese during the cuk seasons in both zones, the goose season in the west zone would extend through Jan. 26, providing additional goose hunting only days after the close of the duck season.

In the east zone, gooce hunting will continue until sunset Feb. 9.

Goose hunters in both zones will have a total of 70 days of hunting.

Duck hunters will be on the same point system as last season. The daily bag limit is reached when the point value of the last bird taken added to the sum of the point values of the other birds already taken during that day reaches or exceeds 100 points. The possession limit is twice the daily limit.

The Commission also ratified tentative seasons established earlier for doves, teal, rails gallinules, smike and woodcock. The action took place at its regular monthly public meeting Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Dove hunting in the north zone will open Saturday, Sept. 4, with the first of three splits extending through sunset, Sept. 19. The second and third splits are Oct. 16 - Nov. 7, and Dec. 11 - Jan. 10.

In the south zone, there will be two splits: Oct. 16 - Nov. 28, and Dec. 11 - Jan. 5.

Both zones will have 70 days of dove hunting. Shooting hours are from one-half hour before sunrise to sunset. The daily bag limit is 12, with a possession limit of 24 after opening days of each split.

The boundary between the north and south zones in Interstate Hwy. 10 from the Texas state line to Baton Rouge; Interstate Hwy. 12 from Baton Rouge to Slidell; and Interstate Hwy. 10 from Slidell to the Mississippi State Line.

The teal season will extend for nine days from Sept. 18 through Sept. 26. The daily bag limit is four, with a possession limit of eight after opening day.

Man found guilty in shooting here

Douglas Warren Freeze, Jr., 32, P.O. Box 198, Cameron was found guilty of aggravated criminal property damage by a Cameron parish jury Friday in Judge H. Ward Fontenot's 38th Judicial District Court.

Judge Fontenot ordred a presentence investigation and will pronounce the sentence on Sept. 29.

Freeze's charge stemmed from an incident in Cameron on April 2 when a gun was fired into the truck of Bruce Bang, injuring Roland J. Trosclair, III.

In a related case Joseph Russel Shea, 38, general delivery, Cameron, pleaded guilty to aggravated criminal damage to property and Judge Fontenot also set his sentencing for Sept. 29.

Jerry G. Jones and Glenn Alexander, of the District Attorney's office, prosecuted for the state. Freeze was represented by Herman J. Mouton, Jr., Lake Charles.

Three change their pleas in court here

Three people who had originally pleaded not guilty to charges in Cameron parish and who had been set to be tried by the jury changed their pleas to guilty Thursday in 38th Judicial District Court and received the following sentences from Judge H. Ward Fontenot:

Edward Joseph Rainey, 34, 143 Louie St., Lake Charles pleaded guilty to sexual battery, which was amended from aggravated rape and will be sentenced on Oct. 13. Judge Fontenot ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Steven Lee Fulp, 32, P.O. Box 486, Elton, was sentenced to one year in the Department of Corrections for distribution of marijuana.

Steven T. Taylor, 25, P.O. Box 98, Cameron, was fined $1,000 and sentenced to 3 years in the Department of Corrections, suspended and placed on 3 years supervised probation. He was charged with possession with intent to distribute.

Vote for Proposition 1

Help hold down the cost of your electric bill. Vote for Proposition 1.

On September 11th you will have your chance to reduce taxes and help hold down the cost of your electric bill when you vote for Proposition 1. Passage of Proposition 1 would amend the state constitution to exempt from property taxes all fuel used to generate electricity. It is estimated that this would save Louisiana's electricity consumers millions of dollars each year. A vote for Proposition 1 is a vote to reduce taxes and help hold down the cost of your electric bill.

Mrs. Terry Mitchel Beard

Miss Landry is wed to Terry M. Beard

Susan Marie Landry and Terry Mitchel Beard were united in marriage Saturday, Aug. 28 at 2 p.m. at the St. Mary of the Lake Catholic Church in Big Lake. Father Sam Jacobs officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Landry Jr. of Cameron. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Beard Jr. of Sweetlake.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of sheer candlelight dotted Swiss with full long sleeves edged with chantilly lace with lace cuffs and seed pearl buttons. The full skirt was tiered with chantilly lace flowing into a chapel length train. A victorian yoke was v-inset and trimmed with schiffli lace with a high round collar. Tiny pearl buttons and ruffles of wide chantilly lace accented the cape style yoke.

Judy Thibodeaux was matron of honor. Vida Nunez and Shari Beard were bridesmaids. Candace Willis was flower girl.

Mike Beard was best man. Joe Landry and Wade Boyett were groomsmen. Damon Beard was ring bearer. David Beard and Bryan Granger were ushers.

The bride is a graduate of South Cameron High School and is employed at Franklin Supply. The groom is a graduate of Grand Lake High School and McNeese State University and is employed at Lake Charles Diesel.

Following their wedding trip to Galveston, Tex. the couple will make their home in Sweetlake.

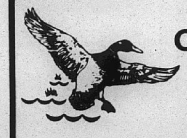
Achievement Day is discussed at meeting

When the Creole Extension Homemakers Club held its August meeting in the home of Mrs. Estelle Theriot, members discussed plans for the upcoming Achievement Day and heard a talk given by club Family Life leader, Mrs. Willa Dean Morris.

Assisting Mrs. Theriot with hostess duties were Mrs. Charlotte Bonsall and Mrs. Mary Driscoll.

Achievement Day plans centered on selection of the subject for the club's skit. Appointed to a skit committee to oversee preparations of the production were Mrs. Earline Baccigalopi, Mrs. Margaret Boudoin, and Mrs. Bonsall. Plans for carrying out the club's assigned duties at Achievement Day were also finalized.

Mrs. Morris' talk, titled "The Generation Gap", pointed up how crucial a period is the time between late childhood and youg adulthood. She focused in particular on the teenage years, offering suggestions as to what can be done by the teenager as well as adults dealing with teenagers so as to narrow the gap between the younger and the older generation.



Mrs. Winnie Mouton reported on the July Council meeting, hosted by the Creole club, which she had attended at the K. C. Hall in Creole. She reported that the host club had the largest attendance at the meeting.

Season setting not always easy

By JESSE KNOWLES

When the wildlife commission set the waterfowl season last week in Baton Rouge, it was forced to temper recommendations of the wildlife department's biologists with the wishes of a majority of the people in southwest Louisiana.

This isn't always easy to do because there are some folks who believe that biologists have the perfect handle on everything pertaining to wildlife management.

Under close questioning at the public meeting in Baton Rouge at which the duck, goose and coot seasons were set, spokesmen for the biological staff admitted they sometimes came up with recommendations that they considered politically satisfactory, trying to please what they consider to be the most people.

They's recommend a much later closing date for the west zone than had ever been set before, suggesting Jan. 18 as the closing date for the second slit.

Quite a few persons from the lake Charles area who attended the meeting emphasized that most serious duck hunting was over in Southwest Louisiana in early January. They stressed that the best hunting usually came during the opening split and it was this opening segment when most of the ducks taken were bagged.

The commission finally decided to trim a week off the late closing date of Jan. 18 proposed by the biologists and add it to the first segment which necessarily had to open Nov. 6 because Louisiana is still tied into that agreement with the federal government relative to zoning and giving the west zone 55 days of hunting compared to 50 days in the east zone.

Consequently, the west zone will have a season starting Saturday, Nov. 6 and running through sunset Dec. 5. The second split will be from Dec. 18 to Jan. 11.

The seasons are such that both the Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays are included for those who will have relatives home from school or visiting for the holidays.

I personally think it appears to be a proper season and that pushing the closing date back further into January would have cut many people in southwest Louisiana out of some good hunting.

Naturally, there will be concurrent goose and coot hunting with the splits in the duck season, plus additional days of goose hunting after the close of the duck season to provide a full 70 days of gunning blues, snows and specklebellies.

The dates selected by the commission for the west zone seemed to please a number of persons from the Shreveport area who were attending the meeting. They, too, didn't want to see the closing go as late as the biologists had recommended.

I think the commission will hear some grumbling from southeast Louisiana about the dates selected for the two waterfowl splits in that eastern zone.

Hunting in the east zone will open Nov. 20 and the first split provides for 16 days of hunting, extending through Dec. 5. The second split will be from Dec. 18 through Jan. 20, providing 34 days of hunting.

Waterfowlers in southeast Louisiana have a problem similar to some hunters in southwest Louisiana. When those northers start blowing, they lose their water and marsh ponds become big mud flats.

I personally would have favored a closer half and half split, lengthening the first plit in south Louisiana where they normally get their best shoting before the cold fronts.

There were two vacant seats that day on the commission and there wasn't much that I could do to swing the tide toward a late season in the east zone that favors northeast Louisiana and the timber and bean field hunters over the marsh of southeast Louisiana who numerically outnumber the hunters in northeast Louisiana.

I'm predicting right now that southeast Louisiana hunters will make a strong case before the commission next year in opposition to what they might rightfully call a mallard and wood duck season in the east zone in lieu of a full chance at many species of ducks. Time will tell. Perhaps it will be different in the east zone next year.

This past weekend was the last of the Big Burn and Miami Corp. permit fishing until next spring. There were a few anglers getting their last weekend of bass fishing and doing rather well with 10 and 11 inch bass, but not many large ones.

OFFSHORE SUNRISE II

Red snapper is still the word about 50 miles off Grand Chenier. On one party last week Skipper Dale McCall had over 1200 pounds of snapper caught by the anglers on one trip, and on another trip, scuba divers had over 300 lbs. of red snapper. This has really been a good year for red snapper fishing.

RUDY'S FISH N' STOP

Reports of nice catches of speckled trout and rat reds right off the beach, and also reports of nice catches of shrimp along the beach. Inland water is still not producing the right size catches of shrimp. There's been quite a few cases made by our game agents by the count being too high, some 160 or more to the pound, which is only destroying shrimp that would be good in a couple of months.

ALLIGATOR SEASON

The alligator season will open at dawn Saturday, Sept. 4, for one month. The hunters will be baiting their lines Friday. The secret skinning instructions will be shown to the hunters this week. Last year the prices ranged $18 or better per foot and hoping for the same this year, but time will tell.

GARY'S LANDING LOWERY

Last weekend Glender and I went up to our camp with Kathy and Francis Basco joining us Friday night. Saturday, with the Walter Comeaux's and the Lynex Richard, we went white perch fishing, but it was sort of slow picking up 26 white perch and 4 bass. Saturday night all of us along with my parents and Ernest and Eugene Richard, the Pete Dubois' and Beau and Rusty Duhon, had a fish fry with some red snappers I caught offshore.

Pete and Beau fished on Saturday and caught 18 white perch and 10 more Sunday. Also caught 63 bream.

Firemen and Boosters win

A large crowd turned out to see the Cameron Fire Dept. beat the KLCL D.J's 25-10, Sunday, Aug. 22, in Cameron.

In the second game, the S.C.H.S. Band Boosters beat the Band Kids 9-6.

The winners of the Chicken Chase were:

Group 1, Chad Benoit; group 2, Carlos Fredericks, group 3, Ricky LeBleuf.

The Band Boosters would like to thank the Cameron Fire Dept. for their help.

All proceeds went to the Band's trip to Hawaii for a music festival.

Also, a special thanks to KLCL for coming down to play.

Lacassine to be opened for teal hunting

Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge, near Lake Arthur, will be open for teal only duck hunting Sept. 18-26. Hunting is allowed from sunrise until 11 a.m. each day of the season. No permit is required and all hunting is on a first-come, first-served basis.

The use of steel shot shells is required and the possession of any other type shells on the refuge is prohibited. Hunters may enter the hunting area beginning Sept. 11 to build blinds.

All hunters are urged to check for specific regulations at Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge, Rt. 1, Box 186, Lake Arthur, La. 70549, or phone 774-2750.

LABOR DAY

A pot-bellied stove can be an efficient source of heat if it's properly installed.

Benefit rodeo set Saturday

A benefit jackpot youth rodeo will be held Saturday, Sept. 4 at 7:30 p.m. at Penny and Sons arena east of DeQuincy. It will benefit Danny Richard of Sulphur who was recently injured while riding in a rodeo.

For more information call 786-8142.

Teal hunting to be allowed on Sabine R.

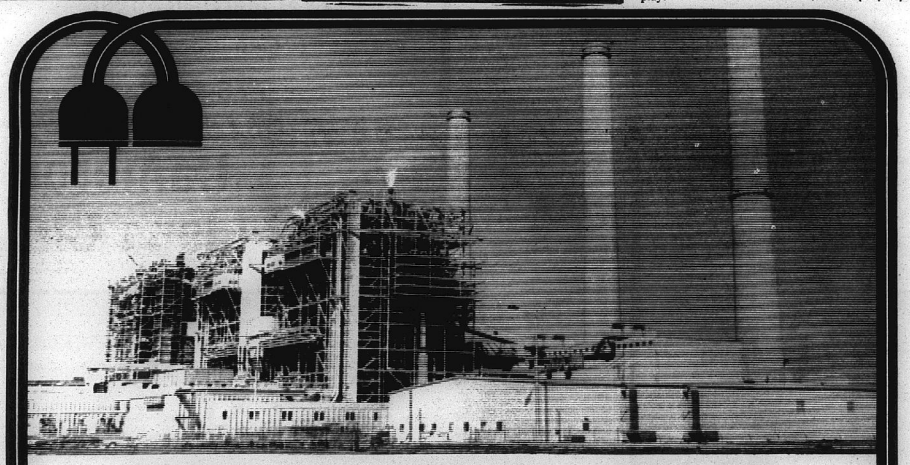
Refuge Manager John R. Walther announced that Sabine National Wildlife Refuge will again open for the Sept. teal season. Hunting will be permitted from sunrise until 11 A.M. daily during the entire nine day season.

Hunters planning to fish on the refuge after they finish hunting will have to first return to the check station and leave their guns and ducks in their vehicle before returning to fish. The area to be hunted will be the same 24,000 acres that were open last year.

Hunters should check with the refuge officer on duty at the check station to become familiar with the open areas. Steel shot shells will be required to hunt on the refuge. This year's teal season is Sept. 18 - 26.

Breaux seeks more Canadian geese here

Congressman John Breaux met with officials of the Interior Department and a number of Senators from southeastern states to urge the Interior Department to press forward with a program that could return Canadian geese to Louisiana. Breaux, Chairman of the House Subcommittee on Fisheries, Wildlife Conservation and the Environment expressed optimism that the program, developed by the Mississippi Flyway Council, would be implemented.



"For too long Louisianians have been deprived of any reasonable number of Canadian geese, a bird that is symbolic of waterfowl and waterfowl hunting, Breaux said. "Except for a small resident flock on the Rockefeller refuge, there are few Canadian geese in Louisiana. They are all short-stopped in northern states like Wisconsin and Illinois. The Mississippi Flyway Council has developed a plan that could help to remedy this situation and the Interior Department should follow through to see that the plan is implemented."

The program, agreed to in 1979 but never carried out, calls for a reduction in the harvest levels of geese in the northern states sufficient to bring about a 15 percent increase in the goose population each year. Wildlife biologists believe that the higher populations will result in some of the birds gradually moving further south, eventually reaching their traditional wintering grounds in Louisiana.

Breaux was concerned that pressure on the Interior Department by the states in the northern portion of the flyway would result in higher kills in those states.

YOUR ELECTRICITY FUTURE IS LOOKING BRIGHTER.
OUR COAL-FIRED POWER PLANTS ARE THE REASON.

Good electric service is essential to all of us. Having it as cheaply as possible is important to Louisiana's Rural Electric Co-ops and our one million members across the state. That's why we've done something to guarantee that our members will have electricity when it's needed, where it's needed, and at the lowest possible cost.

We've built Louisiana's first coal-fired power plants to meet the growing demands of the people who live in rural Louisiana. Coal was chosen because it is the cheapest fuel source available to us in today's economy.

In the early 1970s, Louisiana's electric industry was nearly 100 percent dependent on natural gas and oil as fuels to produce the electricity you use. These fuels were cheap and abundant . . . or so it seemed. But things changed, and for the worse. Our cheap and abundant oil and gas became expensive and scarce. And they were outlawed by the federal government as boiler fuels in new power plants. So, Louisiana's Rural Electric Co-ops made an historic decision to build Louisiana's first coal-fired power plants and began the crucial first step toward stabilizing power costs.

Today, coal is cheaper than natural gas and fuel oil, abundant in supply, and environmentally safe. Projections show that through the use of coal as a fuel, power costs should begin to stabilize. And when that happens, so should electric bills.

The "coal decision" is part of Louisiana's Rural Electric Co-ops' continuing commitment to provide a stable supply of dependable electric power at the lowest possible cost. Forty years ago, the Co-ops lit up Louisiana's countryside, and coal power will keep the lights on for decades to come.

MUSING....

By Bernice Stewart Denny

This writer believes in the equality of the sexes. However, we deplore the radical view taken by some women that in order to prove themselves liberated they must downgrade men in general; that in order not to feel inferior to men, they must strive to appear superior.

Our idea of man-woman equality coincides with that of Matthew Henry, who long ago wrote: "Woman was taken out of man; not out of his head to top him, nor out of his feet to be trampled underfoot; but out of his side to be equal to him; under his arm to be protected and near his heart to be loved."

Another factor that we disapprove is the ridiculous lengths to which some women go to prove their equality. First, they insist that one of their sex be called a chairwoman not a chairman, Poor dears, the second syllable of woman is man; or have they noticed? Now they call such a one a chairperson. Again, the word person contains the small word son which is still masculine.

One woman recently told us that any reference to people in general should allude to human beings, not mankind. We think that we detect man in human. We thought at the time that someone should do something about such quibbling. Now we learn that someone has.

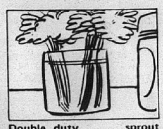
The National Association of Parliamentarians, composed of both males and females, passed the following resolution:

"Whereas, Parliamentary Law has a language all its own; and

Whereas in olden times the one presiding was the only person provided with a chair, while others sat on benches, hence he was called the chairman, and

Whereas, no parliamentary law authority or dictionary recognized the word chairperson and

Whereas, since time immemorial the term Mister Chairman or Madam Chairman has always been employed to differentiate between sexes; and



Whereas, further effort toward sex differentiation is redundant and contrived, now therefore be it.

Resolved that all National Association of Parliamentarians members should habitually stress the principle that the word Chairman belongs to the title of the office the same at the title of President or Secretary."

Thanks to the N.A.P's. for replacing nonsense with sense. And praises to men and women alike who strive to bring about genuine equality in all departments of life for all people.

Parish featured in three magazines

Cameron parish received some state and national recognition in three magazines this month--Southern Living, Louisiana Life and Louisiana Parish Government.

Cameron's Creole Nature Trail is featured in a two-page article in Southern Living, the prestigious magazine that focuses on southern United States. The article is accompanied by photographs taken in the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge and of an offshore oilwell off Holly Beach and of a map of the trail through Hackberry, Holly Beach, Cameron, Creole, Grand Chenier and Lake Charles.

Pointing out restaurants for travelers to try along the route, the article recommends Pat's Restaurant in Cameron and the Plantation House and Chez Oca in Lake Charles.

The nature trail is also featured in an article entitled "Weekend Cures for the Gotta-Getaway Blues" in Louisiana Life, the new magazine about Louisiana that has won several national awards.

The story is accompanied by colored photos of a blackbird in a Cameron marsh, a bucket of crabs at Holly Beach and of the large "Welcome to Cameron" sign on the side of Bolo's Ice House in Cameron.

Pat's Restaurant also is recommended by the Louisiana Life article, as is Tommy's Motel and Cabins in Holly Beach.

Cameron's third write-up is in an article entitled "Plants in the Louisiana Coastal Marsh" in Louisiana Parish Government, the journal of the Louisiana Police Jury Association.

The story shows a photograph of Ray Conner, police juror from Creole and quotes him concerning efforts to preserve the marshes of the parish.

16 families get benefits

A total of 16 Cameron Parish families were certified for benefits during July by the Dept. of Health and Human Resources' Office of Family Security.

Certification for Aid to Families with Dependent Children totaled 0 while 14 households were found eligible for Food Stamp benefits.

AFDC grants totaling $3,748 were paid to 25 families for 45 children in the parish.

Food Stamp coupons amounting to $7,313 were authorized for 77 households.

Farmers reminded of price support

Rice farmers of Calcasieu-Cameron parish are reminded of the availability of the price support loan program for rice administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Kirk Moore, County Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee for Calcasieu-Cameron Parish, said that any farmer having questions about the program, such as eligibility, should contact the Calcasieu-Cameron parish ASCS office in Lake Charles.

The price support loan program provides the farmer with another method of marketing his crop and in many cases proves to be a benefit.

Mr. Moore said that for the 1982 rice crop, the loan rate has been announced at $8.14 per hundredweight.

Also announced are the loan rates for milled rice which are $14.75 per hundredweight for long grain, $12.76 per hundredweight for medium and short grain, and $5.00 per hundredweight for broken rice.

As harvest of the 1982 rice crop begins, farmers should look into the details of the price support loan program, Mr. Moore said.

If you worry about your government check arriving in time, then you should be using Direct Deposit at the Calcasieu Marine National Bank. Direct Deposit is a government program that allows your Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, Railroad, Civil Service or Armed Services Retirement, or Veteran's Administration Benefits payments to be deposited straight into your bank account. No more worry over late checks.

Direct Deposit at the Calcasieu Marine saves time because your money goes straight into your account automatically. If everyone receiving Social Security would sign up for Direct Deposit, it would save the Social Security Fund $65 million a year. All you need to do is bring your next check to your branch of the Calcasieu Marine. Tell us you want to sign up for Direct Deposit and we will help fill out the form and give you a copy. Within 60 to 90 days, your payment will begin going to your personal checking or savings account. With a Direct Deposit account at the Calcasieu Marine, you can have peace of mind.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

According to word-of-mouth family history, a young Irishman with the family name of O'QUINN came to America in the early 1700s by way of New Orleans. His first name is unknown and so is that of his sweetheart for whose passage money to follow him he worked for a full year.

He sent for her as soon as he could; she came - probably to Virginia where there had been O'Quinns since the 1600s and where the groom could reasonably have found relatives - they were married and moved on to available land in North Carolina.

By the early 1800s O'Quinns of this line had made their way to Mississippi and by at least 1845, to Louisiana. From Red River to Calcasieu parishes and in many others, these O'Quinn descendants spread rapidly and now are numerous in Louisiana as well as other states.

O'QUINN FAMILY

The O'Quinns, Ireland to Texas by Dallas Patrick O'Quinn is a narrative history with many old photographs, fact-filled attachments, anecdotes and word-of-mouth family history not before put into print.

An educator and author, D.P. O'Quinn makes this book interesting to read as he adds reasonable assumption to documented fact and blends family stories with recorded names and dates.

Documents, letters, coats-of-arms, Irish heritage, all add to the living history of his O'Quinn research. Allied families include Roundtree, Spivey, Hall, Thompson, Conner, Walden, Ward, Mayben, Stewart, Dowies, Peveto, Hedick, etc.

Hardcover, 6 x 9 in., 124 pages, this book is available from: D.P. O'Quinn, Box 1331, Austin, Texas 78767.

Could you have roots from a part of Louisiana that you don't know about? Very possibly, you could.

Could you have a German or Swiss or Irish heritage when family legend tells only of French, Spanish or Acadian? Yes, you could.

Might you have an ancestor from Ohio, Missouri, Tennessee, or even New York or Pennsylvania about whom you have never heard? Indeed, you might.

Family research is full of surprises and finding out things you didn't know is some of the best of the lagniappe.

TERREBONNE LIFE LINES

Terrebonne Life Lines, new quarterly of the Terrebonne Genealogical Society, P.O. Box 295, Sta. 2, Houma, La. 70360 has been published in its first issue.

Stiffcover, 8 1/2 x 11., 76 pages, indexed, this and two more issues having a total of some 200 pages are planned for 1982 and are included in the $7.50 individual membership. Queries may be published without charge.

Material from surrounding areas will be used as well as that from Terrebonne Parish itself. Family charts and family histories are solicited for publication. Also, photos may be published in future issues.

"We don't want this to be just a quarterly for those of Acadian descent, but to cover families of all the settlers and residents of this general area. So many who once lived here MOVED WEST TO TEXAS and points beyond, that we think we can help (also) in their research" writes Billie Earp Robertson, editor of the new quarterly.

Mrs. Robertson states that the present membership fees, varying from student to life status, will be current only until the first of the year. Single issues of the quarterly are available at $5.00 per copy.

Terrebonne Life Line's first quarterly contains articles on The Settlement of Terrebonne Parish (many names); Early Families of Terrebonne: Arcement, Hebert, Belanger, LeJeune, Bergeron, Forest, Benoit, Brunet, Boudreaux, Chauvin, Toups, Comeau, Dupre, LeBlanc, LeBoeuf, Matherne, Lirette, Durambourg, Naquin, Doiron, Pitre, Dugas, Prejean, Durel, Lacroix, Robichaux, Thibodeau, Trahan, Use or Heuze, Bourg, and others.

There is an article on the Berger family, shortened from Kippenberger; excerpts from the weekly Thibodaux Sentinel newspaper of 1867 with many names; records at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic Church in Houma; the 1820 Census of Lafourche Interior Parish; inscriptions from the St. John Catholic Church Cemetery; yellow fever deaths (name, birthplace, date) from 1853; listing of ex-Confederate soldiers and widows in Terrebonne, 1911; "A Leisure Walk Down Main Street, Houma, La., 60 Odd Years Ago"; and other features.

Present officers of the Terrebonne Genealogical Society are: Philip Chauvin, Jr., president; Mrs. Dorotha Horvath, vice-pres.; Mrs. Ledora Hernandez, corresp. secy.; Mrs. Hope Paul, recording secy.; Mrs. Nancy Wright, treas.; Mrs. Mercedes Ray Pertuit, Mrs. Wilma B. Boudreaux and Mrs. Georgia B. Kelly, board of directors.

"There are so many more people interested in genealogy now than there were ten years ago when we first met as a group" (before organizing the Society) writes their treasurer, Nancy L. Wright.

The Terrebonne Genealogical Society, which meets monthly, was re-organized early this year. For memberships or additional information readers may write them at the address above. For a reply, enclose large SASE.

Zero. That's what 8 out of 10 New Orleans homeowners pay in property taxes. That's right. Nothing. Because New Orleans homeowners have a special property tax exemption that no one else has in any other city or town in Louisiana. Here are just a few examples:

Property Tax Rates in Louisiana
(based on 1983 projections with $75,000 Homestead Exemptions)

Value of home	$20,000	$40,000	$60,000	$80,000
Alexandria	$ 66	$132	$198	$292
Baton Rouge	17	34	51	102
Gretna	66	132	198	292
Kenner	37	74	111	179
Lake Charles	65	130	195	297
Monroe	70	141	211	312
New Orleans	0	0	0	51
Shreveport	72	143	215	320
Slidell	51	101	151	247

As you can see, other homeowners in Louisiana don't have the New Orleans property tax loophole. Would you go to the polls to change that? On Saturday, September 11th . . . you can. You can vote on Constitutional Amendment #4. If Amendment #4 passes, New Orleans homeowners will be subject to the same kind of municipal property taxes as you are. New Orleans will also become more self-reliant. At no cost to you. That's only fair.

Vote on Amendment #4.
The Fair Share Amendment.
Saturday, September 11th.

Paid for by the Louisiana Committee for Fairness.

Soc. Sec. Adm. will aid in applications

The Social Security Administration is prepared to assist applicants for Social Security numbers to obtain the evidence needed to support their applications, according to Donald Saulnier, manager of the local Social Security office. under the law, the evidence must include proof of date of birth, identity, and either United States citizenship or lawful admission status.

A parent who applies for a Social Security number for a child must furnish evidence of the child's date of birth, identity, citizenship, as well as of the parent's own identity. Persons over 18 years of age who have never had a Social Security number must apply in person.

Individuals requesting replacement cards or desiring to change their names or other identifying information on the Social Security record must provide evidence that establishes their identity. Any evidence submitted to support a request for a change in name must show both the old and new names.

Any documents submitted as evidence must be the originals or copies certified by the issuing agency. These documents will be returned to the applicant.

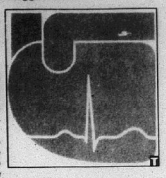
For persons born in the United States, the Social Security Administration is prepared to accept any of a number of documents as evidence of their date of birth, identity, and citizenship. For examle, a public or hospital record of birth that was established before the applicant was 5 years of age is most desired, as is a religious record of birth or baptism. If these records are not available, school and marriage records, as well as a variety of other documents, can be used. At least one of these documents must show the applicant's name, or date of birth, and place of birth.

A different form of evidence is required for individuals born outside the United States. Here, too, a variety of documents are acceptable, including a United States consular report of birth and evidence of identity or a foreign birth certificate, plus such evidence as a United States passport or certificate of citizenship, among others.

Applicants for Social Security numbers bear in mind that Social Security personnel are prepared to assist them in furnishing the required evidence. Additional information on applying for a number can be obtained at any Social Security office.

FACTS & FIGURES

A freeze on Social Security cost-of-living increases could cut the benefits of the average retired worker by more than $325 a year. For the average retired couple, the figure would be about $475.



* * *

Such cuts could result in a poverty rate spurt of as much as 25 percent among the elderly.

NEWS OF HEALTH

Sudden Cardiac Death: Our Country's Biggest Killer

It strikes once every minute. More than 1,000 times every day. And over 400,000 times every year in the United States alone.

The World Health Organization called it "the most serious epidemic facing mankind." Despite medical advances, it remains the leading cause of death in industrialized nations today.

For every American who dies of cancer, this disease claims three. And while no one can put a price on the loss of human life, the economic cost in the U.S. — expenditures for medical services, as well as losses in earnings and production — amounts to more than forty billion dollars a year.

What is this deadly disease? If you say heart attack, you are partially correct. The problem, according to physicians, is part of a complex syndrome called sudden cardiac death, where the victim literally "drops dead" or dies within hours of the first symptom.

While sudden cardiac death can be the result of a heart attack (heart muscle damage caused by an insufficient flow of blood to a particular part of the heart), a major cause and one less familiar to the public is called arrhythmia (a-rith'-meah).

An arrhythmia is an irregularity in heart beat or a problem with the electrical system that signals the chambers of the heart to contract. Arrhythmias can be as harmless as a skipped heartbeat or as severe as ventricular fibrillation, the arrhythmia often responsible for death. Simply put, the heart has an electrical accident and ceases to function.

According to Dr. Thomas B. Graboys, one of the nation's foremost authorities on sudden cardiac death, "the majority of people who drop dead on the street do not die of a heart attack or experience heart muscle damage. We've found that of all sudden cardiac death victims who are resuscitated and later examined in the hospital, less than 20 percent have evidence of a heart attack."

While these people may not have had a heart attack, they usually have serious heart disease which is not always apparent.

Arrhythmias which can lead to sudden cardia death may often be prevented through proper diagnosis and therapy. For further information, consult your physician.

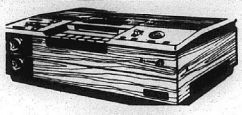
Oyster licenses

Oyster fishermen must obtain both vessel licenses and dredge licenses prior to Sept. 10 to be in compliance with two new laws adopted by the Louisiana Legislature during its recent regular session, according to the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said Acts 467 and 626, effective Sept. 10, provide that both vessel and dredge licenses can be sold by the department only during the period Aug. 1 through Sept. 10 each year.

Guidry said the vessel license and dredge fees remain the same as before.

He said the only exceptions to the time period for obtaining the necessary licenses established by the new laws provide for licensing within 30 days following the death of an oyster boat owner when the ownership of the vessel is transferred, or within 45 days of registration of a newly built or purchased vessel.



The license year begins Sept. 1 and ends on Aug. 31 of each year.

Guidry stressed that the department will not be able to issue oyster vessel and dredge licenses after Sept. 10, and that the next application period will be Aug. 1 - Sept. 10, 1983.

He urged oyster fishermen to obtain the necessary licenses immediately.

Feverfew is a low, hardy plant with white daisy-like flowers. People once believed that it could drive away fever. Its name means to put fever to flight. It doesn't work.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION
CAMERON PARISH SCHOOL BOARD
By virtue of and in conformity with the procedures of Section 1 through 158 of Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, sealed bids will be received at the office of the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana, on or before the 13th day of Sept., 1982 at 10:00 a.m., at which time all bids received will be opened by the Cameron Parish School Board for a lease covering the oil, gas, sulphur, potash, and/or other liquid gaseous hydrocarbon mineral rights in, to, and under the following described property: The North Half of the Southwest Quarter (N/2 of SW/4), Section 33, Township 14 South, Range 7 West, Cameron Parish, LA, including but not limited to: Commencing from a point which is 242.9 feet East and 2640 feet South of the Northwest Corner of Section 33, Township 14 South, Range 7 West, thence South 717.65 feet to a point on the North right-of-way line of State Route No. LA 82; thence South 83 degrees 18' East 350 feet along said right-of-way line; thence North 11 degrees 42' East 544 feet; thence North 85 degrees 43' West 338.3 feet; thence North 2 degrees 09' West 200 feet; thence North 89 degrees 56' West 113.2 feet to the point of commencement, containing 5.489 acres, more or less, and except any and all navigable waterways contained therein.

Bids may be for the whole or any particularly described portions of the tract advertised herein.

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (1/2) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease and one-half (1/2) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed three years, and if the bid offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than onehalf (1/2) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, not even for return by lessor of any payments received under the lease or Being otherwise responsible to lessee. Minimum royalties shall be one-fourth (1/4) of all oil and gas produced and saved) one-eighth (1/8) of the value per long ton of sulphur produced and saved which shall yield not less than $2.00 (1/4) of all other minerals produced and saved.

All leases awarded shall be executed upon terms and conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a delay rental (which shall in no event be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the Board's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the School Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the School Board.

Any lease granted hereunder shall be on the regular current State Agency form and shall be subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board. Certified Check, Bank Money Order, or Cashier's Check, payable to the Cameron Parish School Board for the full amount of the bonus, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid; and no bid thus submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled; and the cash bonus accompanying the bid of the successful bidder shall be forfeited to the Cameron Parish School Board should he not return the written lease, duly executed, within twenty (20) days after his receipt of the same.

The Cameron Parish School Board reserved the right to reject any and all bids and to grant a lease on any portion of the tract advertised for a price not less than proportionate to the best bid offered for the lease on the entire tract.

Cattlemen urged to vaccinate on farm

Considerable time and money can be saved if Louisiana cattlemen elect to have their heifer calves vaccinated for brucellosis on the farm before being shipped to market, State Veterinarian Dr. William B. Fairchild says.

As of last Jan. 1, state regulations require that all heifer calves between four and twelve months must be vaccinated before they can be moved in the marketplace.

Since calves are normally born between January and May of each year, cattlemen are now preparing to move them to market, Fairchild said. Calves can be vaccinated at the stockyards, he said, but this requires extra handling which can cause bruising and weight loss and result in an overall dollar loss to the rancher's cattle operation.

Calves of both dairy and beef breeds are subject to vaccination. In addition, 19 states, including all the major receiving and producing states, require that heifer calves be vaccinated before they are eligible to move into the markets in those states, Fairchild added.

The vaccination also builds immunity in the cattle population, preventing production losses and the costs associated with cattle being placed under quarantine and the testing that must be done on a regular basis to rid the herd of disease.

Vaccination for Burcellosis is with the reduced dosage of Strain 19 vaccine. Information on vaccinating heifer calves and all cattle can be obtained from the district offices of the Louisiana Dept. of Agriculture, local veterinarians, county agents' offices, or federal - state personnel in each district of the state.

Commissioner of Agriculture Bob Odom has committed his staff of state veterinarians to bringing Louisiana's brucellosis problem under control, Fairchild said. Louisiana currently is a Class C state, which along with Florida, Mississippi and part of Texas have the most serious brucellosis problem in the nation, Fairchild said.

Grain farmers get new fee schedule

A new schedule of fees for grain farmers went into effect Aug. 1, following passage of the grain and warehouse bill in the last session of the Louisiana Legislature, Commissioner of Agriculture Bob Odom said.

The new law was passed in response to seven grain dealer and grain warehouse bankruptcies since last Jan. 1 which resulted in $5.8 million lost by farmers.

The existence of the fees is nothing new, Odom pointed out. In fact, the fees have been reduced by about two thirds, but now they will be applied uniformly to all grains.

Under the old law, the collections were about one and a half cents per hundred pounds of grain stored more than 90 days. The burden of the fees fell mostly on rice farmers. Rice, generally, is the major commodity left in long term storage.

Under the new law, the fee will be applied to all grains, no matter how long left in storage. The new charges are one third ot a cent per bushel for those grains measured in bushels, and one half of a cent per hundredweight for grains measured in hundredweight.

Odom said this means, in effect, that soybeans, grain sorghum, corn, oats and wheat will be assessed .003 cents per bushel; rice, .005 per hundredweight.

The assessment will be collected by the grain dealer when it is purchased from the farmer. Or the assessment will be collected by the warehouse when it is removed from storage, if it enters the marketplace through a warehouse operation.

Since everyone will be charged the reduced fees, Odom said, the department expects to see a modest increase in collections. This was planned for, he said, to permit the department to hire additional auditors to carry out the strict audits of grain dealers and warehouses required by the new law.

MUSING....

By Bernice Stewart Denny

There was a time when cured Spanish moss was used almost exclusively in stuffing mattresses found in Southern homes. It is still used for cheap upholstering and in place of spagnum for packing purposes.

The process of picking and curing moss for home use, begun by the first settlers in this area, continued until factories produced cotton-filled and later, inner-spring mattresses.

The cheniers of Cameron Parish furnished moss for other areas that were devoid of oaks. One driving along the roads would see moss spread over fences or clothes lines to dry. It was then carefully picked to free it of twigs, leaves, or insects--picked till it was fluffy. Then it was stuffed into mattresses made of bed ticking. Small patchs of material were backed by coarse thread on opposite sides of the mattress to keep the moss from sliding and bunching.

Every year or so the thrifty housewife untacked the squares that held the contents in place, removed the moss, washed and dried it or merely aired and fluffed it, and filled the casings once more.

In Louisiana in 1926 there were 55 moss ginneries and factories listed in the yearbook that was issued by the Department of Agriculture and Immigration at Baton Rouge. There were the Mermentau Moss Factory at Mermentau and the Girard Moss Company and the Dave Schwartz Moss Gin, both in Lafayette.

By 1928, 51 moss factories and ginneries were attributed to Louisiana. In that year the moss gathered in our state was estimated at more than a million dollars.

Lake Arthur itself provided an ideal setting for a moss gin. There was more than a sufficiency of the "Spanish beard" or the "French wig," whichever you prefer to call it. The lake made transportation easy.

Isaac (Ike) Vaughan, formerly of Grand Chenier and now settled at Lake Arthur on the lake itself, capitalized on the potentials. Already he was operating a small shipyard on his lake-front property. He built a moss factory there, too, at the end of a canal dug inward from the lake.

Two youths -- his son, Clifton, and my first husband, A. P. Stewart, (both natives of Grand Chenier), sometimes assisted by an older man, Charles Durapau, gathered the moss and brought it in. Mr. Vaughan and the three named above are all deceased.

The moss-gathering season extended from November to April. George Durapau worked with the older Vaughan at the gin.

A small pontoon barge moved by a gasoline-motored boat was used in gathering the moss. It ran along the banks of Lake Arthur and several miles along the Mermentau River. A tubular mast centered the barge. Around the mast was a two-foot square platform called a "cradle", or "crow's nest", enclosed by a three-foot high rail. By means of a block and tackle a man might stand on the enclosed platform and pull himself up or down to the proper height to grasp the long banners of moss that floated from trees over-hanging the bank.

A long wooden pole with an iron hook set in the end was used to snag and pull down the moss that grew higher in the trees. The gathered moss was piled into the barge and taken ashore.

Big rocks were removed by hand from the Spanish moss. It was stacked in beds of eighteen to twenty inches in height and was saturated with water pumped from the lake.

This steeping process continued till the outer tissues could be washed off. Then the moss was allowed to dry and turn black.

By then it was ready for the ginning process. The gin operated from a gasoline motor. A cylinder with teeth and brushes cleaned the moss. It was processed and baled.

Most of it was shipped by boat to factories in the New Orleans area.

Residency proof needed

Resident commercial fishermen purchasing licenses for commercial fishing licenses after Sept. 10 will be required to furnish proof of Louisiana residency at the time of application for the Northwest Commercial Fishing Licenses, according to the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, dept. secretary, said that Act 590 of the recent Louisiana legislature provides that applications for commercial fishing licenses shall be certified by the sheriff's department, a wildlife and fisheries agent, or the district office of the Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries which has jurisdiction of the parish in which the applicant resides.

Such proof, he said, shall be a current Louisiana drivers license or voter registration certificate.

NOTICE FOR BIDS
The Cameron Parish Waterworks and Sewerage District #1 will receive sealed bids on Sept. 30 at 7 p.m. in the B & B Cafe for the following:

One steel building 110 ft. x 40 ft. with 12 ft. sides and 5 inch rise per foot on roof gable. Specifications for the building can be obtained from the Cameron Parish Waterworks District #1 office on the bottom floor of the Cameron Parish Courthouse.

RESOLUTION

On motion of Mr. Jones, seconded by Mr. DeBarge, the following Resolution was offered and adopted:

WHEREAS, the Cameron Parish School Board, has contracted with the accounting firm of Louisiana oyalty Services to conduct field audits;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Board request the following of its lessees:

1) That the above firm be recognized as an agent representing the Board and that it be given full cooperation in conducting any field audit; and,

2) That all lessees being audited fully comply with their obligation to allow (a) access to the production and processing sites, (b) supply, among other things, the most current flow schematic for the field and plant in which the gas is processed, and (c) provide access to any and all accounting records that could be used in computing royalty payments to the Board.

CONTRACT FOR PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

BE IT KNOWN that this agreement is entered into by and between Cameron Parish School Board (hereinafter referred to as C.P.S.B.) and Louisiana Royalty Services, P. O. Box 26, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, 70821 (hereinafter referred to as "Contractor").

Contractor hereby agrees to furnish the following described services: oil, gas and liquefied petroleum gas royalty accounting services, including but not limited to the inspection of lease royalty accounting records of C.P.S.B and holders of mineral leases from C.P.S.B entered into prior to the effective date of this contract; analysis of reporting methods of C.P.S.B.'s lessees; analysis of lease requirements and compliance; comparison of records with contemporary price schedules and regulated prices; analysis of volumes reported and actually produced. C.P.S.B obligates itself to make reasonable efforts to collect any and all amounts found to be due as a result of Contractor's audit. C.P.S.B. obligates itself to hear the cost of any litigation which may result, and if any such litigation results, Contractor will in no way be liable for costs of such litigation.

Contractor hereby agrees to use reasonable means to collect amounts found to be due during the audit, and to furnish any additional services required to aid in the collection of sums due, following final audit report, including attendance at meetings or serving as a witness for C.P.S.B. in any litigation, such additional services to be reimbursable to Contractor at the rate of $50.00 (fifty dollars) per hour plus actual expenses incurred.

Contractor's obligations hereunder will be effective as of the date indicated on the signature page hereof, and will terminate one year after that date or upon submission of final audit report, whichever is the earlier date.

3.

In consideration of the services described hereinabive, C.P.S.B. hereby agrees to pay to the Contractor a commission equal to twenty percent (20%) of all amounts, plus applicable penalties and interest, actually collected by C.P.S.B., as a result of contractor's audit, from mineral lessees of C.P.S.B. who have failed to pay or who have incorrectly paid royalties due on mineral leases entered into prior to the effective date of this contract. Such payment will be made to Contractor within thirty (30) days from the date any such amounts are actually received by C.P.S.B.

Contractor will be responsible for furnishing all travel and other incidental expenses incurred prior to furnishing the final audit report, and shall not be entitled to reimbursement for such expenses.

5.

Contractor will submit written reports to C.P.S.B. on a quarterly basis commencing on the effective date of this contract. Preliminary quarterly reports will be submitted, and a final audit report detailing all findings will be submitted at the completion of the audit which in no case shall be later than the termination date of this contract.

6.

In performing the professional services described herein, Contractor will at all times act as an independent contractor and consultant, and nothing herein contained shall be construed as constituting Contractor or its employees as employees of C.P.S.B. Contractor shall perform the services under this contract in a professional and workmanlike manner and shall maintain complete control of the working hours and work days during which such services shall be performed. Contractor reserves the right to engage its own personnel or the services of other such auditors and other persons as Contractor may, in its sole discretion, deem to be in the best interest of C.P.S.B.

7.

Contractor shall be deemed to be C.P.S.B's agent solely and exclusively for the purpose of receiving and having access to all information in the possession of C.P.S.B. or required to be furnished to C.P.S.B. under the terms of any mineral lease entered into prior to the effective date of this contract or under any applicable provision of law. Such information shall be treated by Contractor as confidential, and if furnished to Contractor, shall be deemed to have been furnished to C.P.S.B. Contractor agrees to furnish copies of any accounting or other information received by it as agent promptly to C.P.S.B.

C.P.S.B. and Contractor hereby understand and agree that Contractor may from time to time enter into other similar contracts with other parishes, municipalities, and other persons for the performance of the same, similar, or related professional services and nothing herein shall be construed as constituting C.P.S.B. as the exclusive agency or person with which Contractor may contract. Contractor agrees not to enter into any contract with any other agency or person which would represent a conflict of interest to the prejudice of C.P.S.B. during the term of this contract.

9.

Contractor hereby agrees that the responsibility for payment of taxes from the funds thus received under this agreement shall be said Contractor's obligation.

10.

Either party shall have the right to cancel this contract with or without cause, by giving the other party ninety (90) days written notice forwarded to the appropriate address by certified mail.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have executed this agreement in duplicate originals on this 9th day of August, at Cameron, Louisiana.

Letter to Editor

Grand Chenier

Dear Editor:

I am Bernie L. Bonsall, owner of Bonsall's Grocery. My store was one of several broken into last Wednesday night or Thursday morning early.

I know the vandals were local Cameron Parish people, very familiar with the interior of the stores and knew the owners personally.

I am losing my eye sight now and was born with night blindness. The night of the robbery I left a light burning in my all and one in my bedroom. I also left a light burning on the back door at the store so I could see how to go out to the store at five o'clock for the bread. There is also a street light near the store.

What fool except a local person would break a padlock and get in the store unless they knew I had night blindness and was crippled with arthritis and had to walk with a cane?

I need my box of tools, hammer and other tools stolen out of the store. It is not easy for me to change the oil in my lawn mower and check the gas with my deformed arthritic hands. The tools taken were mostly small and easy for me to use.

Prove to me you do have a heart, and can be honest by bringing my box of tools back and hammer, etc. Put them on the porch near the bathroom. I don't know why you did it because you certainly were not hungry looking for food.

My husband, Jim Bonsall, former mail carrier for 44 years was taken off the route as he approached the age of 65 years. He has been gone 14 years on Aug 3 and my store has been broken into six times since he died and the house ransacked once in the daytime while I was in the store.

Jim did not get a pension or retirement for his long years of service and it is very hard for me to earn a living in the store. There are so many new stores going up and pushing the old ones out.

I forgot to tell the vandals they need not bring back the 18 cartons of cigarettes they took. It is over $100 but I don't smoke and can't sell them anyway.

Deputies, you caught the Cameron Parish cattle thieves in action and they served their time. Get busy even if this is "Cameron Parish". All the thieves have not been caught yet.

Thank you,
Bernie Bonsall

Pierce goes to ROTC camp at Fort Riley

Julius L. Pierce, son of Julius J. and Timmy T. Pierce of Route 2, Lake Charles, received practical work in military leadership at the Army ROTC advanced camp at Fort Riley, Kan.

The six - week training includes instruction in first aid, communications, marksmanship, weapons systems, orienteering, defensive and offensive tactics, reconnaissance techniques and other areas.

Most cadets fulfill their advanced camp requirement during the summer between their junior and senior years in college. The successful completion of the advanced camp and graduation from their respective college or university will result in the student's being commissioned a second lieutenant in the active Army or the U.S. Army Reserve or National Guard.

Pierce is a student at McNeese State University in Lake Charles.

Festival set at Hackberry

St. Peter's Catholic parish at Hackberry will hold a September Festival Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 17 - 19 in Hackberry to raise funds for the church.

A men's and women's softball tournament will begin at 5 p.m. Friday, Sept. 17 at the Hackberry high school field.

From 7:30 to 11 p.m. that evening a teen dance will be held in St. Peter's hall with admission $1 per person.

On Saturday, the softball tournament will continue throughout the day from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.

From 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. various rides and games will be held on the church grounds.

A country and western dance will be held from 9 p.m. to midnight Saturday at the Hackberry fire station with music by Larry Carrol and Southern Pride. Admission is $3 per person and $5 for couples.

On Sunday, Sept. 19 the softball tournament resumes at 8 a.m.

Rides and games resume at the church grounds at 10 a.m., plus bingo with a brisket dinner being sold at $3 a plate for adults and $1.50 for children.

Teams interested in participating in the softball tournament should contact Jim Brown in Hackberry. Entry fee is $65.

St. Peter's Parish consists of churches in Hackberry, Holly Beach, and Johnson Bayou.

The public is invited to take part in all of the activities.

Alligator season now in progress

The statewide alligator season, which opened Saturday, Sept. 4, and extends through Oct. 3 will be strictly controlled and there will be no indiscriminate hunting of alligators, according to the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said alligator hunting will be permitted only in certain areas, with the consent of landowners, parish officials, or the department.

They must be taken according to specific hunting methods, and following strict regulations which must track provisions of both federal and state laws.

An alligator hunting will be closely monitored by the department and enforcement will be strict, Guidry said.

Approximately 18,000 tags have been issued by the department to authorized hunters and all gators taken must be promptly tagged and later skinned according to specific instructions known only by those who have been issued tags.

Charges will be pressed against persons possessing untagged alligator hides, and persons who engage in indiscriminate alligator hunting.

Guidry stressed that the tags must remain intact during skinning, storage, shipment and processing.

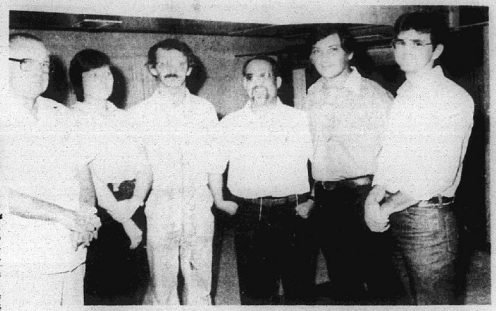
All alligator hunters must be properly authorized by landowners, proper parish officials, or the department, and they must be properly licensed.

He said general provisions for the approaching season are similar to those last year. No alligators under four feet in length may be taken. Hunting is allowed only in daylight hours between one-half hour before official sunrise to one-half hour after official sunset.

Guidry said alligator hunting is restricted to three types of harvesting: by landowners of privately-owned alligator habitat or their designated representatives, on department-selected lakes containing alligator habitat, and the removal of nuisance alligators.

Unemployed 3rd lowest in the state

The Cameron parish labor market area had the third lowest unemployment rate in the state for July, according to the Louisiana Department of Labor.



Only 7.2 percent of the labor force was listed as being out of work for the month, with only the Ruston (Lincoln parish) area -- 5.5 percent -- and Point-a-la-Hace (Plaquemine parish) -- 5.8 percent having less unemployment.

The unemployment rate for the state as a whole was 11 percent in July and for the nation as a whole it was 9.8 percent.

The Oakdale (Allen parish) area had the highest unemployment -- 31 percent for July.

The Department of Labor figures showed Cameron parish having a labor force of 4,725 with 4,375 employed.

The parish unemployment rate was down from 8.6 percent in June.

Vo-tech to begin night classes here

Cameron Vocational-Technical School's evening instruction (night classes) scheduled to start Sept. 14 with classes being held on Thursday nights has been changed, according to Leslie D. Griffith, director.

Classes will start on Sept. 13 and will be held on Monday and Thursday nights. Courses offered will be Welding, Vehicle/Marine Engine Mechanics and Office Occupations.

Persons interested in taking these classes are urged to call the school so that their names may be put on the waiting list for the course requested. Once the required number apply for admission, the remaining persons will be placed on the waiting list for future openings.

There are no tuition fees for these courses. The only expense incurred by the student is for books, supplies and insurance. Persons 16 years of age or older and not enrolled in high school may pick up applications in the administrative office at the school on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 542-4612 for more information.

Fines told

$6,239.35 was collected through 38th Judicial District Traffic Court on 113 tickets during the week of Aug. 30 - Sept. 3, according to Jerry G. Jones, district attorney.

Police jury gives permits approval

The Cameron parish police jury's September meeting lasted less than 30 minutes and consisted primarily of approving permits and other routine actions.

Six building permits were approved indicating some pickup in the construction business in the parish. Residential permits were approved for Ray Frederick, Cameron; Jimmy Kelley, Cameron; Harold Carter, Grand Lake; and Ricky LaBove, Hackberry.

Thurman Alexander was given a permit for a cafe building in Cameron and David Melancon one for a similar building in the Klondike area.

Liquor permits were approved for Mr. D's Seafood and Steak No. 4, John P. Madison, Grand Chenier; Strawberry's Crawfish Kitchen, David W. Melancon, Klondike; and Louisiana Club, Rayme Boudreaux, Holly Beach.

C. A. Rogers was reappointed to the West Cameron, Port, Harbor and Terminal District.

The board approved advertising for shelving for the new addition to the Cameron parish library.

After hearing no objections, the jury voted to abandon a road back to Floyd Kelley in the Kelley subdivision.

The board accepted a $1000 grant from the state for the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival.

George Bailey, parish engineer, reported that the new boat ramp at Johnson Bayou will be completed this month.

Sonny Hackett, parish architect, reported the new addition to the police jury building is almost complete and will be ready for occupancy in about a week. The contractor then will move into the old part of the building to do some remodeling there.

Ten oil and gas drilling and pipeline permits were approved by the jury, as was a seismic permit for the Klondike and Sweetlake area.

A request for a permit from Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. for a salt water disposal line from a Grand Chenier compressor station to a point in the Mermentau river was tabled for further study.

Candidate speaks

John a. Bertrand, a candidate for the State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education for the 7th congressional District was a guest at the meeting of the Cameron Lions Club last week.

Bertrand was introduced by Robert Ortego, a supervisor with the Cameron School Board.

Bertrand, who is now serving of Superintendent of schools in Acadia parish in Crowley, has 32 years of experience in education.

He praised the educational system in Louisiana and pointed out that the state has a lot of good things going, such as teacher evaluation and student accountability programs and incentive education programs for teachers to encourage them to seek further training.

He said that he is also against charging any tuition for Vo-Tech schools stating that he believes that every child in the state should be able to get an education to prepare him for a vocation.

Baron Thomas, Lions Club president, reminded club members of the District meeting in Franklin, on Sept. 12 and of the monthly board meeting in the home of Ray Stevens on Sept. 20.

Commercial fish licenses law is told

Jesse J. Guidry, secretary of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, urged both freshwater and saltwater commercial fishermen to obtain their licenses immediately to avoid any delays that might result from implementation of a new law effective Sept. 10.

Act 390 of the recent Louisiana Legislature, effective on that date, provides that applications for commercial fishing licenses shall be certified by the sheriff's department, a wildlife and fisheries agent, or the district office of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries which has jurisdiction of the parish in which the applicant resides.

Such proof, Guidry said, shall be a current Louisiana drivers license or voter registration certificate.

When the new act becomes effective, he said, the department must abide by its provisions.

Election Saturday

Secretary of State Jim Brown said this week he expects a "good" turnout Saturday, Sept. 11, when Cameron Parish voters go to the polls in a primary election.

"Although there is only one school board race on the local ballot, and a contest for Constable of Ward Five, apparently interest has been heavy," Brown said. "Clerk of Court Roland U. Primeaux tells me about 50 per cent of those registered will vote. That's higher than what we expect for the State as a whole."

Brown expects the statewide turnout to be between 35 and 40 per cent.

On the ballot in all 64 parishes will be eight proposed amendments to the 1974 Constitution.

There is one school board race in the parish Saturday, with the candidates seeking a four year term. Up to now, board members served six year terms, but this was changed by a recent legislative act.

In District 6, Mervyn L. Taylor, incumbent is opposed by Harold J. Savoie. Both are from the Sweetlake-Grand lake area.

In Ward 5, four candidates are seeking the position of constable: Johnny R. Goodwin, James L. Jinks, Rogerest L. Romero and Darrell Gene Trahan.

Also on the ballot Saturday will be the 7th district congressional race in which incumbent John Breaux is opposed by Johnny Myers.

In the race for member of State Board of Elementary and Secondary Education, incumbent Charles S. Patterson is opposed by John A. Bertrand and Ginger Falcon.

In Ward 3, Cameron and Creole voters will vote on a $2,700,000 bond issue and a 5 - mill maintenance tax, which if passed, will finance the construction of a recreation building, swimming pool, baseball fields, tennis courts, putt-putt course and other recreation facilities for the area.

The new facility will be built between Cameron and Creole. The tax is homestead exempt.

Flu shots to be given in parish

Flu shots to protect the elderly (over 65) and individuals of all ages who have chronic health problems will be available beginning Sept. 16, in Cameron Parish.

The flu shot which will protect against three types of influenza will be offered by the Cameron Parish Health Unit during regularly scheduled immunization clinic hours.

Dr. R. R. Conley, regional medical director, explained that the risk of complications from influenza is highest for older persons, and people with chronic health problems such as diabetes; diseases of the heart, lungs, or kidneys; or chronic severe anemia, such as sickle cell diseases.

He said vaccination before exposure is the best protection against influenza which is a highly contagious illness. Symptoms are similar to the common cold but include high fever, chills, headache, severe cough and muscle aches.

Dr. Conley said that many private physicians also have the flu vaccine.

Last year approximately 150 people in Cameron Parish received flu shots through the health unit clinics.

For more information you may contact the Cameron Parish Health Unit at 775-5368.

CLINIC SCHEDULE

Cameron Health Unit, every Thursday, 9 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Grand Lake Recreation Center, 1st Wednesday, 1 - 3 p.m.

Johnson Bayou Recreation Center, 3rd Tuesday, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

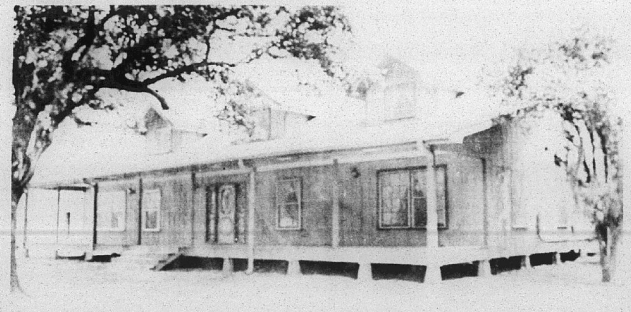
Hackberry Rec. Center, 3rd Friday, 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Mrs. Beverly Hiatt, nurse with the Cameron Parish Health Unit, will also be giving flu shots at the Council on Aging meal sites. Dates and times will be announced later.

License deadline

Time is running out for oyster fishermen to comply with two new laws pertaining to oyster vessel licenses and dredge licenses, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, reminded oyster fishermen that Acts 467 and 626, effective Sept. 10, provide that both oyster vessel and dredge licenses can be sold by the department only during the period Aug. 1 through Sept. 10 of each year.



Guidry said the only exceptions to the time period for obtaining the necessary licenses provided by the acts of the recent legislature are licensing within 30 days following the death of an oyster boat owner when the ownership of the vessel is transferred, or within 45 days of registration of a newly built or purchased vessel.

He warned that the department will not be able to issue oyster vessel and dredge licenses after Sept. 10, and that the next application period will be Aug. 1 - Sept. 10, 1983.

Oyster fishermen who normally wait until the oyster season approaches to obtain the necessary licenses must act quickly, Guidry warned, because the department, under law, cannot sell them after Sept. 10.

Fall shrimp season is set by law

By JESSE KNOWLES
Chairman, Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission

The fall season for shrimp trawling, often called the white shrimp season, opened at 12:01 a.m. Monday, Aug. 16. I'd like to go on record as saying the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission didn't have anything to do with that opening.

Although the commission has authority to fix the brown shrimp season in the spring, the fall season is set by law. The Louisiana legislature opens it arbitrarily on the third Monday in Aug. and it extends until Dec. 21.

It doesn't make a great deal of difference if the recruitment of post-larval white shrimp has been late or slow; or that the white shrimp are small. The season automatically opens, continuing from the dog days of Aug. until inside waters are whipped white by repeated Dec. northers.

It's a season for shrimping that is fixed by law and leaves little room for management of the shrimp fishery resource.

Folks in southwest Louisiana know that the season has been off to a poor start. Shrimpers are not catching many white shrimp and the ones they are taking do not measure up to the legal count of 68 to a pound.

There are some shrimpers, both commercial and sport shrimpers, who share a common belief that the wildlife commission should do something about such a situation.

I assure you I wish I had a solution to the problem that exists today, but I haven't. And, I do not thing the legislature has a solution to the problem.

Anyone who has done any shrimping will tell you that when you've caught a mess of jevenile shrimp in a trawl, they're dead. All of the ancient arguments about mesh size don't mean a thing when a trawl starts picking up trash and small shrimp. The shrimp are killed, and when they're running 150 - 100 to a pound, they're virtually worthless.

But those small shrimp grow rapidly in warm, fertile waters when the salinities are right. What might be a barrel of small, virtually worthless shrimp in mid-August, can be three or more barrels of marketable, usable shrimp in mid-September or early October.

There's nothing nicer than a fine mess of large white shrimp. It's true in the commercial trade and it's equally as true when it comes to stocking the home freezer.

The answer to the problem caused by a mandatory opening of a shrimp season is self-restraint on the part of shrimpers. This is true of commercial fishermen and sport trawlers alike. If the shrimp are coming up undersize, it would be far better to back off and leave them alone.

This is easy to suggest but it isn't always easy to abide by. I've talked to hundreds of shrimp fishermen and I know the reasons and excuses they give.

There are those who admit that culling can produce some shrimp that will make the 68-count and be useful for commercial sale or private consumption. I've heard that story a hundred times. It might sound right, but those thousands of small dead shrimp swept overboard represent a lost resource, a part of the total resource that will never be recovered.

There are those who say they keep trying because they have to make it from an economical standpoint and that's gambling with not much chance of winning. The better odds would favor waiting until the shrimp are better size. A fellow has a better chance of making it financially with good size shrimp.

The real solution to the problem would be to take the legislature out of the season setting business and leave it up to professionals. That's always raised such a hue and cry that the legislature was forced to step in and establish guidelines.

Those fixed guidelines don't hold true from year to year because climatic conditions have a lot to do with shrimp growth.

It isn't an easy problem to solve but biological data has produced some fine spring seasons, and the lack of use of that data has made some fall seasons open on a sour note.

There is forgiveness of our sins with God

Home open for tours

Groups in Calcasieu, Cameron and Beauregard parishes who wish to arrange a tour of the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home in Monroe may do so by contacting Earl D. Mercer, public relations director, at Box 4196, Monroe, La. 71203 or by phone at 318-343-2244.

Tours may be scheduled by groups on weekdays and on second and fourth Saturdays. No tours are conducted on Sundays.

Mercer said many groups from throughout the state visit the 110-acre Home campus each year. The Children's Home, owned by the Louisiana Baptist Convention, is in its 83rd year of helping children and families with problems.

Utility bills are affected by amend.

It's not often consumers have a chance to vote simultaneously to reduce taxes and hold down their electric bills. Louisiana citizens will be able to do precisely that on Saturday, Sept. 11.

Voters will decide on that day whether to adopt Proposition 1, which would amend the state constitution to exempt from property taxes all fuel used to generate electricity.

Historically, most of the electricity used by Louisiana consumers has been generated with natural gas, which, in effect, has been exempt from property taxation since it is used directly from a pipeline and not stored.

The question of taxing boiler fuels remained moot until electric utilities were required to begin using other fuels, such as oil, coal and uranium, to produce electricity. Unlike natural gas, these fuels are stockpiled and therefore considered to be real property subject to taxation.

These taxes are, of course, ultimately paid by Louisiana consumers as part of their electric bill. As oil, coal and uranium play an increasingly significant role in generating the state's electricity, the amount of property taxes paid on these boiler fuels will increase--and electric rates will increase accordingly. Natural gas, meanwhile, will still not be taxed--an inconsistent policy, to say the least.

Help hold down the cost of your electric bill. Vote for Proposition 1.

On September 11th you will have your chance to reduce taxes and help hold down the cost of your electric bill when you vote for Proposition 1. Passage of Proposition 1 would amend the state constitution to exempt from property taxes all fuel used to generate electricity. It is estimated that this would save Louisiana's electricity consumers millions of dollars each year. A vote for Proposition 1 is a vote to reduce taxes and help hold down the cost of your electric bill.

$0.

Zero. That's what 8 out of 10 New Orleans homeowners pay in property taxes. That's right. Nothing. Because New Orleans homeowners have a special property tax exemption that no one else has in any other city or town in Louisiana. Here are just a few examples:

Property Tax Rates in Louisiana
(based on 1983 projections with $75,000 Homestead Exemptions)

Value of home	$20,000	$40,000	$60,000	$80,000
Alexandria	$ 66	$132	$198	$292
Baton Rouge	17	34	51	102
Gretna	66	132	198	292
Kenner	37	74	111	179
Lake Charles	65	130	195	297
Monroe	70	141	211	312
New Orleans	0	0	0	51
Shreveport	72	143	215	320
Slidell	51	101	151	247

As you can see, other homeowners in Louisiana don't have the New Orleans property tax loophole. Would you go to the polls to change that? On Saturday, September 11th . . . you can. You can vote on Constitutional Amendment #4. If Amendment #4 passes, New Orleans homeowners will be subject to the same kind of municipal property taxes as you are. New Orleans will also become more self-reliant. At no cost to you. That's only fair.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

Researching your family history, by itself, isn't enough. From the very beginning it is critically important to plan on getting your genealogy into print. Otherwise your one copy can too easily be lost plus the fact that there is no reasonable way descendants can share this irreplaceable only copy.

Researching a family history is a big job. So is publishing that family history. Neither, however, need be more time consuming or expensive than other hobbies, and publishing a genealogy is, after all, the only way to preserve it for present and future generations.

The genealogist who needs most to plan on preserving his work is the beginner - experienced researchers have already seen that this is what they must do. The desire to preserve what is known (and what is found out) about a family is the very foundation of genealogical curiosity. Preservation means printing, from the most simple method of photo-copying to publishing a full fledged, bound book.

PUBLISHING GENEALOGIES

How To Publish and Market Your Family History by Carl Boyer, 3rd. has been written by an author who did just that. Thus, he writes from personal experience.

A major reason why the decision to publish should be made early, he says, is that it motivates the researcher to a more thorough and extensive job. Also, it lets family members know that you are planning a book and makes them more likely to furnish data you are seeking.

Again, family members - close as well as distant in both relationship and location - will be your primary customers for a family history book, once it has been published.

Always remember: the more interesting, accurate and complete you make your book, the more successful it will be to yourself, to your family, to reviewers and to purchasers.

Planning and organizing a family history for publication, preparing it for printing, building a customer list, expenses to face, publicity, etc. are outlined along with examples of book copy, a suggested time table, advice on typing and many other recommendations for the would-be publisher.

ASCENSION

1860 Census, Ascension Parish, Louisiana has recently been published by: Audrey B. Westerman, Rt. 3, Box 682, Thibodaux, La. 70301. Softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., indexed, 156 pages, well printed, $12.50, it is available from her.

Presented in columns from bottom to top of each page, this book contains full name, age, sex, occupation of adults and birthplace for each member of the 823 families living in Ascension Parish in 1860. It is made more valuable by the fact that many of these people moved away during the following decade because of the Civil War and thus are not to be found in the 1870 census.

These records show also that in addition to descendants of Acadian, French and Spanish settlers, in Ascension Parish by 1860 were many Americans who had migrated south from other states plus residents born in several European countries.

How to help kids overcome their shyness

Parents who recognize shyness in their children should try to understand the cause, advises Vicki Brunson, family like specialist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

According to Mrs. Brunson, shyness can be seen in children at different ages, such as five to seven months and around two years. She says a child may appear shy, but be very self-confident and quiet-natured.

The specialist stresses the real concern is for the preschool or school-age child who is consistently and excessively shy. If faced with a situation he or she can't handle, the child will withdraw, refuse to talk and cling to the parent.

It's very important for a child to understand that he or she is loved, regardless of any situation. A child at age five or six still needs affection even though this seems to be a natural time to decrease lap-sitting and cuddling.

Mrs. Brunson offers some advice to help avoid a child from becoming shy.

--Give an infant the freedom to crawl, toddle and walk. Basic tasks are learned at an early age. Give the child praise for being independent and moving about.

--Don't deny the child of trying something new. Encourage the child to do things for him or herself.

--Let the child make some decisions independently. For example, select two or three shirts and let him or her pick one to wear.

--Allow time to learn manners and personal habits. Children don't learn these all at once.

--Don't ridicule or embarrass a child for a mistake. Humiliation quickly lowers self esteem, Mrs. Brunson says.

--Don't scold a child for being shy, especially when others are present. Don't introduce a child as being naturally shy and try to encourage tasks done well.

Build this confidence and self-image with patience, understanding and sincere praise, the Extension specialist concludes.

The famed Red baron of World War I, Manfred von Richthofen, was so highly regarded by the Allied forces he flew against, that they gave him a hero's funeral after he was shot down by a Canadian flyer.

Hospital adds new respiratory service

On June 30, South Cameron Memorial Hospital acquired the services of Respi-Care as respiratory consultants, states K. H. Hopper, administrator.

The purpose is to develop a progressive Respiratory Therapy department. The program is under the direction of Mr. Marvin Holland and Mrs. Mary Martin. Newly appointed respiratory aids are Mrs. Lilly Guillory and Mrs. Margie Trahan.

Recently two inservices were presented by Mrs. Martin and Mr. Holland at the hospital. The first dealt with oxygen therapy with all interested staff invited. Respi-Care was very encouraged by the response shown. The next inservice was emergency intubation which was attended by all applicable personnel.

There are several more continuing education inservices planned in the near future by Mrs. Martin and Mr. Holland.

Feverfew is a low, hardy plant with white daisy-like flowers. People once believed that it could drive away fever. Its name means to put fever to flight. It doesn't work.

Council holds demonstration on decoration

On Friday, Aug. 27, the Cameron Council on Aging held a demonstration on how to decorate cakes.

Mrs. Pam Carroll of Cameron, decorated the cakes. Mrs. Carroll gave the two cakes for door prizes. Mrs. Agnes Bargeman and Mrs. Mary Bargeman were the winners.

The ladies who participated in the demonstration were: Mrs. Blanche Authement, elda Conner, Vic Daigle, Azelia Miers, Agnes Bargeman, Dora Payton and Mrs. Mary Bargeman.

Germany's oldest college, the University of Heidelberg, was founded in 1386.

Altar boys needed

Vote for Proposition 1

Help hold down the cost of your electric bill. Vote for Proposition 1.

On September 11th you will have your chance to reduce taxes and help hold down the cost of your electric bill when you vote for Proposition 1. Passage of Proposition 1 would amend the state constitution to exempt from property taxes all fuel used to generate electricity. It is estimated that this would save Louisiana's electricity consumers millions of dollars each year. A vote for Proposition 1 is a vote to reduce taxes and help hold down the cost of your electric bill.

Shouldn't your children have the best education possible . . .?

Ginger Falcon thinks so, and here are some reasons you and your children need her:

* She knows the true needs of children; she works with them everyday. She's from "within the ranks."
* She knows the parent's concern, being one herself.
* She knows you need to be informed as to how your educational dollar is spent to educate your children.
* She knows you should have access to and input for all things regarding school administration at state levels.
* She knows you should be provided with checks and balances for policies developed by the Department of Education.

"I believe that the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education should be more than a rubber stamp of the State Department of Education. Now more than ever, our children need and deserve quality education. Our future depends on it. The adults of tomorrow deserve your attention today."

Sentences given in district court

The following sentences were handed down in Judge H. Ward Fontenot's 38th Judicial District Court Wednesday, Sept. 1.

Rose B. Brandon, 30, Rt. 1, Creole, who was arrested on a bench warrant had her probation revoked for failure to live up to the conditions of her probation. She was fined $500, plus $35 court costs, plus six months in jail, suspended, given 90 days to pay and placed on two years supervised probation on Feb. 22, 1982 for possession of marijuana. Judge Fontenot ordered the probation revoked and ordered her to abide by the original sentence.

James D. Geaslin, 19, Gen. Del., Cameron, who had been picked up on a bench warrant for failure to show up in court for a criminal arraignment on July 21, on a charge of failure to maintain control of a vehicle, was fined $25 or one day in jail, plus five days in jail for contempt of court.

Judge Fontenot suspended the imposition of the sentence, ordered the paying of court costs and placed the following on one year unsupervised probation on guilty pleas: Victor James Heisler, 20, Baton Rouge, for possession of marijuana; and Kenneth Clyde Cross, 18, Bossier City, for D.W.I.

Guilty pleas to D.W.I. charges brought fines of $350 and costs or 30 days to Joseph J. Dudoit, 24, 817 Miller St., Sulphur, and Michael A. Harwell, 25, c/o M/V Allwn McCall, Cameron; $300 and costs or 30 days to Robert L. Patterson, 33, 766 West Jefferson Dr., Lake Charles; Lawrence J. White, 40, Port Arthur, Tex.; Louis A. Dudley, 29, 1904 3rd St., Lake Charles and $275 or 30 days to Tommie R. Blackmon, 25, Cameron.

Rodney Joseph Leger, 26, 116 LaPlace, Carencro, was fined $250 and costs or 30 days for possession of marijuana and $25 for not abiding by rules of refuge (taking drugs on refuge).

Guilty pleas to distrubing the peace charges brought the following fines: Joesph Roy Wilson, 18, J. B. Rt., Cameron, time served in jail; Dennis Glenn Broome, Houston, Tex., $35 and costs or one day in jail; Anthony L. Ingram, 20, Houston, Tex., $25 and costs or three days; Leon S. Higginbothem, 25, Cameron, $55 and costs or three days in jail; Tanya Jevenn Stine, 17, Rt. 1, Sulphur, $65 and costs or one week and $75 and costs or one week for criminal trespass (by entering the residence of Claude Daigle without permission).

Lionel Julius Gallet, 30, Kaplan, was fined $25 and costs or three days in jail for not abiding by rules of the refuge (taking firearms on refuge).

Elvis R. Warren, 23, Chauvin, was fined $45 and costs or one week, plus ten days, suspended and placed on one year unsupervised probation on the condition he doesn't drive until under compliance for driving under suspension.

Wilfred Frank Trahan, 34, San Marcus, Tex., was fined $200 and costs or 25 days in jail for reckless operation.

Bench warrants were issued by Judge Fontenot for the following who failed to show up in court for their criminal arraignments: Robert Keith Chaumont, 31, 1125 Bilbo, Apt. 10, Lake Charles; William Earl Sommers, 23, 3644 Kingshill, Birmingham, Ala.; Kay Sawyer, 25, 1113 West 13th Street, Austin, Tex.; William D. Rogers, 47, 723 LeBleu, Lake charles; Donald Ray Richardson, 34, 1504 Nona St., Leesville; John William Powell, 28, 145 Goldmark Apts., Cullen, Ala.; Johnny L. Moore, 34, c/o M/V "Gallent Man", Cameron; Ronald E. Dugas, 39, J.B. Rt., Cameron,; Paul L. LaFleur, 24, 401 20th St., Apt. 26, Gretna; Charlott Ann Burrell, 26, 1839 East 14th St., Port Arthur, Tex.; Ivory Lee Barnett, 32, Cameron; Vickie Carlquist, 30, 1501 Bank St., Lake Charles; Kenny Ray Cox, 24, Rt. 4, Box 138, Coushatta; Steve Erile Daigle, 19, Rt. 2, Box 985, Breaux Bridge; Will David Fowler III, 20, 214 Tanglewood, Alexandria; Bary Francis King, 32, 108 Merchants Blvd., Lafayette; Michael Louis Lowe, 35, 1600 Oak Park Blvd., Apt. C., Lake Charles; Rodney Joseph Richard, 30, 416 West 8th St., Crowley; John W. Roberts, 30, 2607 Demarest St., Lake Charles; and Richard Viator, 18, 908 Deshotels Ave., Kaplan.

MUSING...

Happy 100, Rev.!

By BERNICE STEWART DENNY

The Rev. Homer H. Broussard, formerly of Grand Chenier, was honored last Saturday afternoon at the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Vallie and Eugene H. White, in Poydras. Other children and grandchildren co-hosted the event.

The Rev. Broussard, the eldest son of Antoine and Aspasie Broussard, was born Sept. 4, 1882, at Tiger Island near Grand Chenier, where he received his early education.

At the age of 20 he sailed with Capt. Charlie Nelson to and from Galveston, Texas. They brought in lumber and produce to the Chenier and transported cotton, oranges, and syrup to Galveston.

Later he moved with his parents to Lake Arthur, where his father operated a general merchandise store.

In 1905 he was married to Myrtle Isadore Walters, who with her parents were originally from Illinois. To this union were born seven children.

From 1914 through 1917 Mr. Broussard served as a customs inspector at the docks in Port Arthur, Texas. He, also, served as a night watchman for the Southern Pacific Railway until 1926.

In 1932 he moved to New Orleans and engaged in public work. During the '30's he and his family lived at Grand Chenier, where he operated a grocery store and his children attended the local high school.

Mrs. Broussard died in 1940. Later the Rev. Broussard was married to Clara Raggio Vaughan of Lake Arthur. She was the widow of Isaac (Ike) Vaughan and was also a native of Grand Chenier. The couple lived in Lake Arthur in her former home. He pastored a church there. Upon her death he moved to the New Orleans area to make his home with his older daughter, Vallie, her husband, and their two sons.

In the city he served as assistant to the administrator of a nursing home; married a nurse named Elizabeth Polly Taylor; and retired in 1970.

When asked to what he attributed his longevity, he replied, "Good clean living and a closer walk with God."

The Rev. Broussard has enjoyed a full life as farmer, trapper, merchant, construction worker and ordained minister. He has been an inspiration to many, especially to young people who came within his sphere of influence.

He is the oldest living member of his family. The only one whose life spanned more than a century was "Aunt Bonnie Broussard" of Pecan Island.

Among the congratulatory messages received by the Rev. Broussard were special letters from President Ronald Reagan and Governor Dave Treen.

Does God Count Our Sins?

By Rev. Wallace Schulz Lutheran Hour Speaker

You and I may live with the notion that we are basically nice people and that we are even good enough to earn God's approval and to eventually gain, by our own efforts, reception into the mansions of heaven. But if God kept an accurate record of our sins, our mistakes and our failures, no one could ever face His justice and His demands for absolute perfection.

DIRECT DEPOSIT MEANS PEACE OF MIND.

If you worry about your government check arriving in time, then you should be using Direct Deposit at the Calcasieu Marine National Bank. Direct Deposit is a government program that allows your Social Security, Supplemental Security Income, Railroad, Civil Service or Armed Services Retirement, or Veteran's Administration Benefits payments to be deposited straight into your bank account. No more worry over late checks.

Direct Deposit at the Calcasieu Marine saves time because your money goes straight into your account automatically. If everyone receiving Social Security would sign up for Direct Deposit, it would save the Social Security Fund $65 million a year. All you need to do is bring your next check to your branch of the Calcasieu Marine. Tell us you want to sign up for Direct Deposit and we will help fill out the form and give you a copy. Within 60 to 90 days, your payment will begin going to your personal checking or savings account. With a Direct Deposit account at the Calcasieu Marine, you can have peace of mind.

The 8th and 9th grade football team of South Cameron high school won a 16-0 victory over Iowa at Iowa last week.

Touchdowns were scored by Johnny Reina and Gabe Lalande and Lance McNease made an extra point.

The Junior Tarps offense picked up 200 yards rushing.

Their defense was outstanding with one penetration of the Tarps 35 yard line.

The Tarps picked up a safety for three points after Gabe Lalande kicked the ball 35 yards and it rolled dead on the Iowa 3 yard line. On the next play the defense stopped Iowa for a safety.

Other outstanding players, according to Coaches Henry Griffin and Randall Williams, were Mike Theriot, Brandon Trahan, Tim Dupont, Peter LeBlanc, Wade Carroll, Todd Morales, Chris Morales and Wes Perry.

Pluto is no longer the most distant planet from the sun. In 1978, it and Neptune exchanged places. They change again in March, 1999.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

Alligator season opened Saturday, Sept. 4. Hunters were out early running their lines. Some had good catches and others fair. The cool weather may have had some effect on the catches as alligators prefer warmer weather.

BABY SHOWER

A baby shower honoring Mrs. Ella Mae (Kent) Little of Grand Chenier was held Sunday in her home.

Sponsoring the event were Mrs. Elizabeth Brasseaux, Mrs. Deborah Mier, Mrs. Margarette Little and Mrs. Nina Mae LeBouef.

There were 32 guests including relatives and friends from Abbeville, Hackberry, Carlyss and Pecan Island as well as Grand Chenier.

Herman Precht, of Sweetlake is recuperating from surgery.

Offer booklet on estates

The Louisiana Baptist Children's Home is offering upon request a publication titled "What I Should Know About My Wife's or Husband's Business."

"Because of so many tragedies regarding the settling of estates, it is imperative that a person have certain information and knowledge concerning his or her family's personal financial affairs," Dr. Wade B. East, Home superintendent, said. "Much trouble and worry can be avoided with a simple file of information."

The Children's Home will be glad to send a copy of this helpful publication free and without obligation to any one who asks for it by writing Dr. Wade B. East at Box 4196, Monroe, La. 71203.

Recipes are sought here

Mrs. Braxton Blake announced that she is now accepting recipes to be included in the 1983 Louisiana Fur Festival Recipe book.

She asked that everyone send in their recipes to her at P.O. Box 457, Cameron, La. 70631.

She also asks that persons submitting recipes to list the ingredients in the order that they appear in the recipe.

Her deadline for receiving the recipes is Sept. 20.

The proposal guaranty or bid bond must be filled out in dollars and cents and shall be in accordance with the requirements of the special provisions.

When required, predetermined minimum wage rates are included in the proposal. The Dept. will award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder without discrimination on grounds of race, color, sex or national origin. Minority business enterprises will be afforded full opportunity to submit bids pursuant to this advertisement.

The successful bidder, upon execution of a formal contract will be required to furnish to the Gravity Drainage District No. 4 of Cameron Parish a Performance and Payment Bond in penal sums of not less than one hundred percent (100%) and one hundred percent (100%), respectively, of the original amount of the contract.

Plans and specifications may be seen at the District Engineers office, or in Room 100 of the Department's Headquarters Administration Building in Baton Rouge; or in the Office of Public Works, Capitol Annex Building in Baton Rouge. Plans may be obtained from Room 100 in said Administration Building upon payment of the amounts specified above (not to be refunded). Upon request, the Project Engineer will show the work.

Mailing address to request plans and proposal is Department of Transportation and Development, Room 100, Project Control Section, P.O. Box 44245, Capitol Station, Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70804.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive any informalities.

This project is supported in part by Federal Funds and the work must be conducted in accordance with certain requirements of the Federal Government.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF LOUISIANA.
OFFICE OF CONSERVATION, BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA

In accordance with the laws of the State of Louisiana and with particular reference to the provisions of Title 30 of Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, a public hearing will be held in the Conservation Auditorium, First Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North 4th Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at 9:00 a.m., Tuesday, September 28, 1982, upon the application of PEL-TEX OIL CO.

At such hearing the Commissioner of Conservation will consider evidence relative to the issuance of an order pertaining to the following matters relating to the Plan B Sand, Reservoir A, in Little Cheniere Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana:

1. To create a single drilling and production unit for the exploration for and production of gas and condensate from said sand and reservoir and to force pool and integrate all separately owned tracts, mineral leases and other property interests within the proposed unit, with each tract sharing in unit production on a surface acreage basis of participation.

2. To designate a unit operator and a unit well for the proposed unit.

3. To provide that any future replacement and/or alternate unit well for the unit created herein should be exempt from the spacing provisions of Statewide Order No. 29-E.

4. To provide that provisions should be adopted to allow the Commissioner of Conservation to reclassify the unitized reservoir by Supplemental Order, without the necessity of public hearing,should the producing characteristics of the reservoir change and evidence to justify such reclassification is submitted to and accepted by the Commissioner of Conservation.

5. To establish that the gas produced from this sand is eligible for the maximum lawful rate under Section 102, Category 4 of the NGPA of 1978.

6. To consider such other matters as may be pertinent.

The Plan B Sand, Reservoir A, in the Little Cheniere Field in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, is hereby defined as that gas and condensate bearing sand encountered between the depths of 11,957' and 11,990' (electrical log measurements) in the Pel-Tex Oil Company, Inc. - Intermountain Minerals No. A-1 Well, located in Section 20, Township 14, South, Range 9 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana.

A plat outlining the proposed unit is available for inspection in the Office of Conservation in Baton Rouge and Lake Charles, Louisiana.

Beach area hard hit by 'Chris'

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Although tropical storm Chris never reached the status of a hurricane it managed to play havoc with beachfront property and caused the evacuation of several thousand people of lower Cameron Parish Friday night.

The storm, which nad made up in the Gulf of Mexico off Florida, had been very erratic and had originally been predicted to make landfall on the Texas coast.

However, it suddenly changed course during the night and started heading toward Southwest Louisiana and Cameron Parish. This called for quick action on the part of the Cameron parish Civil Defense, under the direction of Hayes "Pete" Picou, Jr.

The local Civil Defense workers had been charting and keeping a close eye on the disturbance since it had made up.

Through the close - knit Civil Defense organization an orderly evacuation was carried out by residents between the time of the 10 p.m. announcement and midnight.

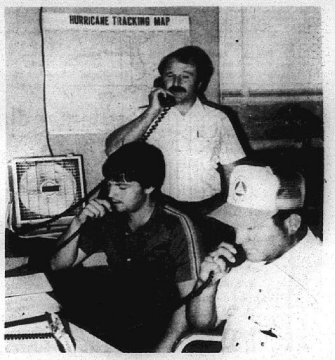
The "all-clear" was announced after the storm had passed through Saturday morning, but leaving most of the lower parish without electricity, which was restored by the local Jeff Davis Electric workers as soon as possible.

On Sunday the clean-up started. The Cameron parish maintenance crew immediately started the huge task of cleaning the debris off the streets where the storm tides had swept up drift and the Louisiana Dept. of Highways cleared up the highway as needed.

It was found that the La. 82, or a part of the "Hug the Coast" highway that skirts the Gulf of Mexico between Holly Beach and Johnson Bayou had been severely damaged with the storm tides washing up huge chunks of asphalt and gobermat matting, across the highway to the other side.

Holly Beach, a community of summer cottages on the Gulf, was the hardest hit with upended trailer houses, cottages washed off foundations and demolished and mud being left at least two inches deep in houses and businesses by the tide.

Nolan Broussard, the owner of Holly Beach Seafood Company came back to find his office washed off the foundation and demolished across the highway and his trailer house washed off it's foundation and heavily damaged.



His flock of over 100 chickens and tame ducks was either scattered out in the marsh or dead with only a few retrieved. His children and grandchildren were helping him retrieve the survivors of the flock and clean up the mess. One granddaughter was even carrying around a sick chicken in her arms and vowing that she would nurse it back to health.

The Jeff Davis Elec. Coop workers were able to restore the electricity by Sunday afternoon, thus saving a freezer full of frozen shrimp in the walk-in commercial cooler.

Broussard was planning to rebuilt with what was left and had no plans to leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Lovelace Hebert, who are by now veterans to fighting the ravages of nature, were surveying the damages to their waterfront cabins, one

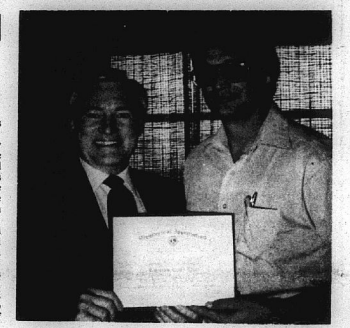
Contract signed for school work

The Cameron parish school board Monday entered into a contract with the Education Treatment Council of Lake Charles to provide counseling and treatment services for parish schools.

The council will provide counseling to deal with school or parent referral problems such as truancy, behavior problems, drug abuse, etc., provided by a certified Master's level social worker.

It will also provide evaluation and testing by a Ph. D. psychologist.



The council also will work with the SAPE teams in regards to drug abuse treatment and prevention. It will also aid with special education, gifted and talented children programs.

The contract was for a 12 month period to be renewed each year thereafter unless cancelled by either party.

The board agreed to pay $9,375 a quarter for the services and the council agreed to provide its services immediately when and where requested by the board. The board will pay mileage in addition to the fee.

Supt. Thomas McCall said the services of the council will enable the school board to meet some of the requirements of new state programs dealing with special edcation that the board has been unable to provide up to now due to a shortage of trained people.

The Cameron parish police jury and sheriff's department also are looking into the possibility of using the council for counseling and screening work in connection with the district court.

J. KELLY NIX, state superintendent of education, receives a certificate of appreciation from the Cameron Lions Club from Baron Thomas, president.

Nix is speaker

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

J. Kelly Nix, Louisiana Superintendent of Education, was the guest speaker at the weekly meeting of the Cameron Lions club last Wednesday at the Cameron Fire Station.

He was presented with a certificate of appreciation by Baron Thomas, Lions president, and was introduced by Adam Conner, supervisor in the Cameron Parish school system.

Nix outlined what is happening in the Louisiana educational system to maintain a quality system of education such as attracting good teacher, maintaining financing, and creating an effective and safe place that is conclusive to learning.

He brought out the fact that other states are watching and copying the Louisiana school system.

"I set standards in education when I took office in 1976, where there were none before which included equalization and uniformity throughout the state, minimum standards in all grade levels, curriculum

'Skeeters due

Heavy rains and extremely high tides produced by tropical storn Chris have flooded mosquito breeding grounds throughout the parish. High larval counts are being found in all areas and will result in heavy infestations of mosquitoes by this weekend, according to Don Menard, Cameron Parish Mosquito Control director.

"Daily monitoring of the entire parish is underway and treatments will be scheduled according to the severity of the problem in each area of the parish. With broods as large as these, heavy reinfestation will also be occurring, which will cause us to have to retreat most areas several times before getting the pests under control," Menard said.

Aerial treatments will be hampered due to the fact that the twin engine Bonanza's spray tank is in the process of being rebuilt, and so all aerial treatments will have to be done with the small Agwagon.

The district welcomes calls from the public and will do its best to spray each areas as soon as possible after mosquitoes invade an area.

Hackberry to get new bank building

The acceptance of a low bid submitted by LeBlanc Construction Co. of Lake Charles to construct a new bank building at Hackberry was approved by the board of directors of Cameron State Bank, according to E. J. Dronet, president.

The new masonry facility will be a full service bank containing over 4,000 square feet plus 2,000 square feet of canopies for drive-in banking which will include two remote drive-in units; a 24 hour Extra Services Teller (ATM) drive-in and night depository.

The building's design will illustrate the Acadian influence so prominent in Southwest Louisiana and Cameron Parish. The new facility will contain two offices, lobby, four teller stations, lounge, drive-in teller, vault with safe deposit box services, and other service facilities, Dronet stated.

For customer convenience, there will be over 20,000 square feet of paving for drives and parking.

The Cameron State Bank has been operating a branch at Hackberry since Nov. 15, 1968, and the new building will be re-located on the corner of Louisiana Highway 27 and Devall Street.

Architect for the new facility is U. E. Hackett, Jr., of Lake Charles.

Ducks Unlimited banquet is Sat.

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Those attending the Cameron Parish "Ducks Unlimited" banquet Saturday night, Sept. 18, at the K.C. Hall in Creole are in for an evening of fun, according to Zeke Wainwright, Chapter Chairman.

The event gets underway at 6:30 p.m. with a cocktail hour, followed by a supurb menu cooked by some of the best local cooks. It consists of shrimp gumbo, chicken gumbo, potato salad, green salad, bread and lemonade.

The tickets, which are $10 each include a one-year DU membership and a subscription to the organization's magazine.

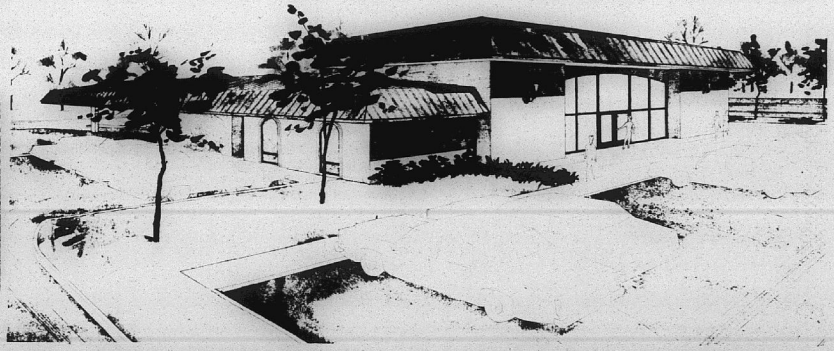
Tickets are sold at the door or futher information may be obtained from Wainwright at 538-2179.

An auction of many beautiful gifts and wildlife related articles will begin after the banquet, with some very valuable one-of-a-kind prints and decoys going on the block as well. There will also be many door prizes awarded which were donated by area merchants.

"The Ducks Unlimited success story", said Wainwright, "is really starting to spread around.

"Banquets much like our chapter event held throughout the country last year contributed towards Ducks Unlimited's national fund-raising effort which raised $30 million during 1981 alone.

"But what's even more important to realize," said Wainwright, "is that this national fund-raising total must increase this year if the North American waterfowl habitat race is to be won."



DU's sportsmen/conservationists founders discovered through surveys conducted forty-five years ago that seventy percent of North America's waterfowl production occurs in Canada. They figured out back in 1937 that holds true today.

Since Federal duck stamp dollars cannot be spent beyond the U.S. borders, sportsmen funds earmarked for waterfowl conservation are not getting to the places where the great percentage

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

Many Grand Chenier folks fled to higher ground after the evacuation was given at approximately 10 p.m. Friday night for "Chris".

With heavy rains and winds it was hard for elderly folk to evacuate at that time of night. Some folks chose to remain on the Chenier and wait out the storm.

There was damage done from branches and fallen trees and some roof damage. Antennas were blown down. A large tree fell on a trailer house in the Grand Chenier area, crushing the medium size trailer; it was a total loss.

Folks remained out of the Parish until about noon Saturday when Chris went inland.

Electricity was off but was restored by midnight Saturday in the Grand Chenier area.

Gilford Miller of Grand Chenier entered a Beaumont, Tex. hospital Monday.

CATECHEISM

MUSING....

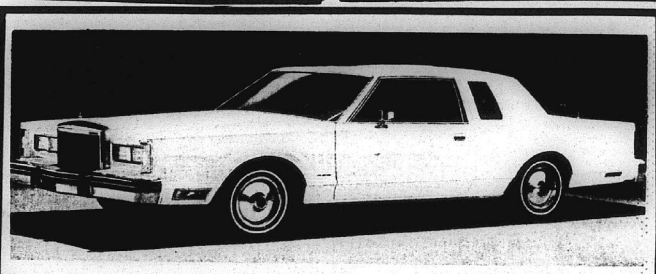
By Bernice Stewart Denny

How many times have you been told "It can't be done," or how many times have you yourself told others, "It can't be done"? Then more times than not some one did what could not be done.

I am often reminded of a favorite story for children, entitled "The Little Engine That Could." Many were the times when I read or narrated it to my own small daughter or to her children in turn. Each time the child seemed to gain new confidence in his own ability.

Jeff, my youngest grandson, decided that if the little engine could climb the mountain he could tie his shoe laces. He persisted for two or three days. Then with a whoop of joy he out, "I made a bow tie. I knew I could! I knew I could!"

One winter in Slidell several years ago my second grandson, Troy, came home with the discouraging announcement that his physical education teacher had promised to fail any child who did not climb to the top of a fairly high pole the next day.



"I cannot climb it," Troy wailed. "It's useless to try. I've never practiced climbing poles. But I cannot afford to fail."

The following afternoon he returned from school, held out two blistered hands for me to see, and announced, "I climbed to the top. Over a third of the class didn't make it, but I couldn't let a little old engine beat me."

A freeze on Social Security cost-of-living increases could cut the benefits of the average retired worker by more than $325 a year. For the average retired couple, the figure would be about $475.

Thank You Everyone...

Thank you for the fine reception you gave to our second annual raffle on a new Lincoln Continental. We still have a few tickets left on this beautiful car and if you want to get in on the drawing you are urged to get yours immediately.

All ticket holders are invited to a free barbecue at 12 noon, Sunday, Sept. 19 at the site of the new KC building in Cameron. The drawing of the winning ticket will be held at 1 p.m.

All funds left after the purchase of the car will be applied on the construction of the new KC hall.

Again, thank all of you for your support of this important project.

Cameron Outdoors

The topic most talked about this week is hunting of the alligators which just got underway a week ago. Some of the hunters are having a small catch but some are doing great. Phillip Trosclair had close to 30 the first day while Gallond Richard had twenty. Now, if they can get the price, it'll make them very happy. Also, Barry Richard and Lester Richard had 8 the first day.

TOLEDO BEND

The Lonnie Harper family from Grand Chenier along with Chris Daniels and Chris Fruge had a nice trip last week picking up bass and real beautiful large white perch. They were fishing with crickets.

RUDY'S FISH N' STOP: OFFSHORE

Red snapper fishing is still hot 40 to 50 miles off Grand Chenier. There were probably 250 or more boats launched at the Grand Chenier park this Labor Day weekend. Some were shrimping the Mermentau River, but most headed offshore. Also, speckle trout fishing was very good.

Talking about the Mermentau River, my friend Gilbert "Poo" Landry and I went Saturday and fished the river, using shrimp for bait and caught three red fish, 16 croackers, 6 catfish and one drum. We returned Sunday morning and met Mano Murphy and fished with him until 1 p.m. and picked up 2 catfish, 10 red fish, 2 croackers and 2 gaspergous. These fish were caught with the start of the tide going out and fishing on the bottom.

To our hunters, don't forget teal season which opens Sept. 18. There are a few teal in but need a good north wind, with cold above us to move a few more in.

9-day teal season opens this Saturday

The nine-day teal season opens at official sunrise Saturday, Sept. 18, and will continue until official sunset Sunday, Sept. 26, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said the daily bag limit is four teal, with a possession limit of eight after the first day of the season.

He reminded waterfowlers that the first segments of the rail and gallinule seasons also open Saturday, Sept. 18, and will run for nine days concurrent with the teal season.

Guidry said the daily bag limit on king and clapper rails is 15, with a possession limit of 30 after opening day. The bag and possession limit on Sora and Virginia rails is 25 in the aggregate.

The daily bag limit on gallinules is 15, with a possession limit of 30 after opening day.

Shooting hours for rails and gallinules are from one-half hour before official sunrise to official sunset.

He said the shooting hours on teal would be strictly enforced.

Guidry said reports from the field indicated daily arrivals of teal flights and predicted that the season would be improved over the previous two teal seasons.

Sweetlake club meets

The Sweetlake Extension Homemakers Club held its meeting Sept. 13 in the Recreation Center. Hostesses were Billie Fruge, Paula Theriot and Grace Robideaux.

The club discussed preparation for Achievement Day. Eddie Mae Faulk and Lora Pennington were selected to conduct registration. Everyone is asked to bring a covered dish for lunch.

A vote was then taken for Club Woman of the Year. The decision was made to buy a gift for Don Neal who helped with our stage decorations for the skit. A skit practice will be held Thursday night at 7 p.m. The skit was discussed fully and final plans were made for it.

The program was given by Nancy Cronan. She first had the club discuss changes in the Educational Committees. She then gave any information needed for Achievement Day which will be Sept. 2

The meeting was adjourned. Secret Pal gifts were given out and refreshments served.

Thank You. . .

I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the voters in district 6 for braving the weather and going out to vote on September 11, 1982.

I would like to thank Harold Savoie for the honorable manner in which he conducted his campaign.

I feel very humble and proud to again be given the opportunity to serve as a member of one of the greatest boards in the state of Louisiana.

I am very proud of the central office staff, faculty members, parents and especially the students of Cameron Parish.

I pledge to continue to work with all the citizens of the parish in the improvement of our school plants and above all the promotion of education.

Sincerely,

Mervyn Taylor

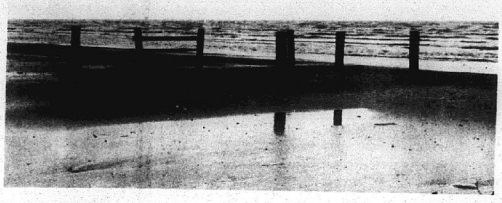
Win Hawkins is honored

Another milestone in Louisiana Ducks Unlimited was set recently with the dedication of the Meadowlands Marsh Project to Win W. Hawkins, outstanding sportsman - conservationist from Lafayette, who maintains a hunting club on Oak Grove.

Dedication ceremonies honoring Mr. Hawkins were held in July, near Dauphin, Manitoba, Canada with a large delegation of Louisiana Ducks Unlimited members present along with Mr. Hawkins.

Ducks Unlimited's Lafayette Committee spearheaded this living tribute to Hawkins for his untiring support of DU since its inception in the late 1930's.

The committee's efforts mark the first time in DU history that a chapter has undertaken such an enormous task, raising over $60,000 from Mr. Hawkins' friends from across the United States.



The single accomplishment ranks among the most outstanding in DU's 45-year history.

The Hawkins Project in Meadowlands Marsh encompasses 253 acres with 3.4 miles of shoreline habitat.

Development cost of the project was $50,600 and contributions in excess of this amount have been dedicated to future project maintenance and operation.

The marsh produces mallards, canvasbacks and redheads, as well as other species of wildlife such as deer, songbirds and shorebirds.

The project is adjacent to Lake Winnepegosis, northeast of Dauphin, Manitoba.

Frisbee team to perform at fair

The Sunkist Sunflyers are coming to the Calcasieu-Cameron Fair Oct. 4 - 10. Audiences will be amazed and entertained by a professional frisbee demonstration team of young athletes, THE JAMMERS, top - ranked World Class Players.

The show is choreographed to music, featuring freestyle - stunt throws and catches, acrobatics, and juggler-style disc handling. Frisbee manipulation techniques - nail and rim delays, kicks, taps, tips and air brushes - and gymnastic windmill catches - and multiple spins - are combined with dance-like precision and flow to amaze anyone who has not as yet experienced freestyle.

Those bold enough to try their skill in the DISC ARCADE could be rewarded with a nice prize. Contestants are invited to throw at a frisbee golf target free of charge. Successful putters win a free disc.

Ducks Unlimited auction set

The Ducks Unlimited Special Projects committee has come up with a variety of auction items for the 1982 Cameron Parish Ducks Unlimited banquet to be held Saturday night, Sept. 18 at the K.C. Hall.

A remington 870 Magnum "The River" commemorates the Mississippi Flyway, a Remington 870 20-gauge will be available, as well as the H & R 20-gauge "Greenwing Special".

Chet Reneson, the new Artist of the Year, has painted "Hunters of the Marsh" which is the DU print of the year and is a limited edition of 3,000 prints which will only be available exclusively at DU fund-raising events across the country.

This year seven excellent suplimentary prints are also available.

A greatly expanded decoy selection is available with a new Hooker Scaup and Tom Taber's "Horse" Mallard.

In addition, there is a limited amount of beautifully carved Canvasbacks by Hooker and thre sets of miniatures.

Other limited edition decoys include a "Greenwing Teal on a box" by Tom Taber, the DU "Gunners Box".

There are also many other "surprises" in store for the annual banquet and auction, according to Carrol "Zeke" Wainwright, Chapter president, and Sidney Theriot, this year's banquet chairman.

The event gets underway at 7 p.m.

Contract

T. L. James and Co. of Ruston will restore the Gulf Intracoastal Waterway between the Mermentau and Calcasieu Rivers to its authorized depth under a maintenance dredging contract of $3,433,270 awarded it by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

According to New Orleans District Engineer Colonel Robert C. Lee, the firm will use much of the dredged material to create new marshland at specified sites along the waterway.

In addition, the material will be allowed to flow into the marshes elsewhere along the south bank of the busy waterway in order to enhance wetlands which have showed decline and subsidence.

Ducks Unlimited

of production takes place.

But through Ducks Unlimited efforts, over $164 million has been raised in the U.S. since 1937, and 80 cents out of every one of those dollars has been sent to DU (Canada) to reserve some 3 million acres of prime habitat encompassing over 1,900 wetland projects.

The only problem in all this is that biologists estimate millions of additional acres of habitat must be reserved in order to stabilize North America's waterfowl population.

When you consider that habitat today is diminishing due to agricultural and development pressures, and that DU is the only private conservation organization involved in the Canadian waterfowl habitat race, you can begin to see the significance attached to the organization's fund - raising events, Wainwright said.

Everyone is invited to come out for the event, he said.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION

OFFICE OF MINERAL RESOURCES ON BEHALF OF THE STATE MINERAL BOARD FOR THE STATE OF LOUISIANA BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA 70821

By virtue of and in conformity with the provisions of Sub-part A-2 of Chapter 7, Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, and other applicable laws, sealed bids will be received in the Office of Mineral Resources, State Land and Natural Resources Building, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, (P.O. Drawer 2827, Baton Rouge, LA 70821) until before the 12th day of October, 1982, at 9:00 a.m., for a lease to explore, drill for and produce oil, gas and any other liquid or gaseous matter in the solution and produced with oil or gas from the following described tracts (Tract Nos. 19196 through 19242) at which time and date the bids will be opened publicly in the State Land and Natural Resources Building, Capitol Complex, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

TRACT 19207 — Cameron Parish, Louisiana - All lands, water bottoms, and minerals (except tax lands) owned by and not under lease or prior lease from the State of Louisiana on August 11, 1982, situated in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, within the following described boundaries: Beginning at the Southwest corner of State Lease No. 6420, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,445,099.92 and Y = 398,489.94; thence East 7,920.00 feet along the South line of said State Lease No. 6420, to the Southeast corner; thence South 3,598.94 feet; thence East 1,340.00 feet to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,454,105.00 and Y = 394,900.00; thence South 1,850.00 feet to the Southeast corner of North Lake Lease No. 10146, on the Northern boundary of Block 72, Grand Cameron, Revised, thence Northwesterly along the boundary of said Lease No. 10146 to its Northwest corner, being the Northeast corner of State Lease No. 10142; thence continue Northwesterly along the boundary of said State Lease No. 10142 and State Lease No. 8680 to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,445,098.92 and Y = 396,765.99; thence North 1,523.00 feet to the point of beginning, estimated to contain approximately 280 acres, as shown outlined in red on a plat on file in the Office of the Secretary of Natural Resources. All bearings are based on Louisiana Lambert Plane Coordinate System (South Zone).

TRACT 19208 — Cameron Parish, Louisiana - All of the lands now or formerly constituting the beds and bottoms of all water bodies of every nature and description, and all islands and other lands formed by accretion or reliction, except those owned by and not under mineral lease from the State of Louisiana on June 29, 1982, situated in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, within the following described boundaries: Beginning at a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,462,518.92 and Y = 394,900.00; thence North 1,523.00 feet to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,462,518.92 and Y = 396,475.00; thence Northwesterly in a straight line to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,458,214.92 and Y = 400,453.00; thence West 5,196.00 feet to a point on the East line of State Lease No. 6420, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,453,018.92 and Y = 400,453.00; thence South 5,553.00 feet, thence East 10,500.00 feet to the point of beginning, estimated to contain approximately 380 acres, as shown outlined in red on a plat on file in the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources. All bearings are based on Louisiana Lambert Plane Coordinate System (South Zone).

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (½) of which is to be a bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the State and one-half (½) of which is to be a rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed three years, and if the bid offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be a paid-up lease and to warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, not even for return by lessor of any payments made under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. The MINIMUM ROYALTIES required by R.S. 30:127 A.(2) (a) except for school board leases, are one-eighth (⅛) of all oil produced and saved or utilized; one-eighth (⅛) of all gas produced and saved or utilized; and one-eighth (⅛) of all casinghead gasoline and other minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas and saved or utilized, which are not specifically mentioned in Act 2009 of 1982 providing a 1/6 minimum royalty for leases affecting school board lands for oil, gas, sulphur, potash, lignite, salt and other solid minerals and to be included and applied thereon will be disregarded to such extent, if at all, as royalty less than the aforesaid statutory minimums will be increased to such statutory minimums by the Board. All bidders are notified that the Board does not obligate itself to accept a bid which offers royalties above the statutory minimums, but reserves the right to accept a bid which offers royalty at the statutory minimums and is considered most advantageous to the State of Louisiana.

The provisions of this notice or advertisement and the relevant statutes establish the mandatory provisions necessary for the formulation of proper bids, and no bid or lease or settlement shall not be deemed to be modified, changed or diminished by resolutions or policy announcements of the Board unless incorporated herein expressly or by reference.

Particular attention is directed to the fact that, pursuant to the provisions of litigation against warranty, the State does not warrant title to and accepts a special provision in the lease permitting the exercise of various remedies provided in the lease to lessor on production of oil and gas by one-half (½), but not below the statutory minimum royalty, both (both) in the event of and pending final and definitive adjudication or other settlement of a bona fide dispute or litigation involving ownership of minerals of title, all upon the terms and conditions thereinafter set forth. Any bid or bids failing including said stipulation is on file in the office of the State Mineral Board on Fourth Floor, of the above address, and available for public inspection by anyone desiring to examine same.

Some tracts available for leasing may be situated in the Louisiana Coastal Zone as defined, in Act 361 of 1978 (LSA-R. S. 49:213). Such tracts may be subject to the guidelines and regulations promulgated by the Coastal Management Section of the Department of Natural Resources.

All leases awarded shall be executed upon terms and conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a delay rental (which shall in no event be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the State's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the State Mineral Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board.

Certified check, cashier's check or bank money order payable to the Office of Mineral Resources for the full amount of the aforesaid cash payment, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid, and no bid will be considered unless submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled and the certified check, cashier's check or bank money order accompanying the bid of the successful bidder shall be immediately negotiated by the Office of Mineral Resources, and the proceeds thereof disbursed in the manner required by law. The successful bidder to whom the lease is awarded on the date of the lease sale shall refund the written lease duly executed within TWENTY (20) DAYS after bidder's receipt of same under penalty of forfeiture of the lease and the aforesaid cash payment previously tendered and negotiated in the event of failure to do so.

NOTE: In the case of all State Agency Lands, herein offered, certified checks, cashier's checks or bank money orders for the cash payment shall be made payable to each respective State Agency; provided that if a sixteenth section, or part thereof, located in a township which is situated in more than one parish, is offered, certified check, cashier's check or bank money order for the full amount of the cash payment shall be made payable to STATE TREASURER. Any Agreement, Assignment or Agreement entered into after the State Mineral Board has awarded such lease and will be approved by the Lessor Agency or Agencies.

Bids may be for the whole or any particularly described portion of the land advertised, but consistently with the policy of the Board as expressed in a resolution dated August 12, 1965, all bidders are hereby notified that bids on portions of tracts should be described by metes and bounds and be accompanied by a transparent plat outlining the exact portion bid upon. The scale of the plat should be 1 inch = 4,000 feet.

The State Mineral Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to grant a lease on any portion of the tract advertised and to withdraw the remainder of the tract.

Grand Chenier areas trees were blown over, power lines were down and the tidal waters crossed the road from the marsh side in several places.

Shelton Ellison, who had just moved into his new home on the marsh side of the highway on Monday night, had to enlist the aid of his family and friends to clean up the marsh grass and debris from the tidal water that covered his entire yard up to a depth of three feet. It required several truck loads to haul it all off.

No total amount figure of damage to the parish has been figured yet, but the mass cleanup has begun.

Because of the strong network of Cameron Parish Civil Defense workers who manned their posts in each community all during the storm there were no casualties.

While the mass cleanup is going on, the parish citizens are keeping a wary eye out on the two more tropical disturbances that are making up out in the Atlantic.

Suffering major damage in the Johnson Bayou area were the school gym and the recreation center which lost portions of their roofs, causing Carrol Trahan, the Police Juror for that area to remark, "Anyone surveying this damage should be able to see that the winds blew harder than 60 miles an hour over here."

guides for teachers, and piloted and revised subject guides, and introduced statewide testing programs", he said.

Because of this upgrading, he pointed out, 89 percent of the 2nd grade students attained a minimum proficiency level for promotion this year in reading and writing and mathematics.

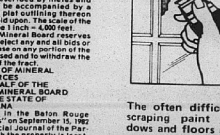
He also set up a remedial program for those who failed.

He developed a calendar of skills to help parents to help their children on a daily program from K-4 grades and hopes to have it all the way through the 12th grade before he is through.

"We are hoping to insure a more quality education in the state by developing programs for the 780,000 students and trying to get the teacher - student ratio lowered", he said.

He also pointed out that Louisiana has made gains in the National A.C.T. scoring, becoming the only state to reach that goal.

Some of the areas he is stressing is the GED program, which served 40,000 people (10 percent of the total graduates) and is increasing a this adult education program by teaching classes at the industrial sites; the special education program serving 80,000 students and the Vocation Education program.



The Vo-Ed program serves 9,000 students in the states and he said that he hopes to expand it to suit the needs of the community to provide the training for the local job market.

There are 1,000 guidance counselors employed in Louisiana and 400 substance abuse counselors working daily with the students.

He also pointed out that he is stressing the basics in education, or the 3-R's of reading, writing, and arithmetic and if, with all the federal cut backs some of the frills will have to be eliminated they will be to keep the basic 3 strong in the system.

He advocated progressive education and the constant upgrading of the system.

"We have good things going on in Louisiana education" he said, "Good teachers and good students and we are creating numerous things to help teachers to get higher pay, and I would urge each of you to support the local schools and get involved."

Personnel matters taken up by board

A number of personnel matters were taken up by the Cameron parish school board at its monthly meeting Monday.

The board approved the hiring of the following new teachers who were hired since the board approved the over-all list of teachers for the year: Daniel Didelot, special education, Cameron elementary; Venise Ortego, special education, South Cameron high; Catherine Murphy, assessment teacher; Mitzi George, gifted/talented teacher; Larry Labue, Cameron elementary; and Tara Johnson, Hackberry high.

Employment of Jessye Roberts as driver for the special education bus and of Diane Delcambre, bus aide, was approved.

Marjorie Conner, special education teacher, South Cameron, was given a leave of absence for the 1982-83 session due to a death in her family.

The resignation of Amos Welch and the appointment of Windell Shane Vincent as his replacement as a janitor at Hackberry high was approved.

Hiring of an additional sweeper at South Cameron high was approved.

Nanette Monsour and Debra Darnutzer, Grand Lake high teachers, were given sabbatical leaves for the second semester for professional growth.

The board replaced Barry Richard as principal representative on the Parish

SECRETARY OF STATE Jim Brown (r) signs bonds totalling $1,326,000 for Waterworks District No. 11 and Fire Protection District No. 14 for Cameron Parish. Looking on during the signing ceremony is Dale Miller, Asst. Treasurer for the Cameron Parish Police Jury. The signing took place in Brown's office in Baton Rouge.

Board takes action on oil & gas topics

The Cameron parish school board took actions on a number of matters dealing with oil and gas activities on school owned sections at its monthly meeting Monday.

Two representatives of the Burton-Sutton Oil Company met with the board to discuss the mineral lease that the company has held on a section of the Johnson Bayou area for many years.

The board had told the company that it was concerned that wells being drilled by other companies on leases adjoining the school section might be draining oil from the school section and that Burton - Sutton had failed to develop the section to its full potential.

The board was not satisfied with the information furnished by the company representatives, and requested that they return at next month's meeting with information on all wells within 660 feet of the school section and with detailed proposals on what the company intends to do in developing the section.

District Attorney Jerry Jones and board Geologist Adam Sturlese informed the company that the board might ask the company to release some of the section unless adequate development is carried out by the company.

In other oil and gas related matters, the board agreed to accept bids on a mineral lease on the South Cameron elementary school site.

It agreed to a request from Charles deGravelles to advertise for bids on a mineral lease on 32 acres of School Section 16-14-3.

It agreed to permit GEO Seismic Services to do seismic work on Sections 16-12-6 and 16-12-5.

Geologist Sturlese reported that a compromise settlement had been reached with several oil companies on a unitization of the Lacassine Refuge Field resulting in the board receiving 14 percent of the unit or about $500 a day in new revenues.

Taylor renamed to school board

Tropical Storm Chris forced the evacuation of lower Cameron Parish on Friday night and early Saturday and possibly as a result only 28.2 percent of the some 5,500 registered voters in the parish went to the polls Saturday.

According to complete but unofficial returns in the District No. 6 School Board race incumbent Mervyn L. Taylor was the apparent winner with 359 votes to his opponent's, Harold J. Savoie, 178.

For the Ward 5 Constable James L. Jinks was the apparent winner with 116 votes while Johnny R. Goodwin had 47, Rogerest L. Romero had 33 and Darrell Gene Trahan had 10.

Voters of Recreation District No. 6 okayed two bond propositions, the first for $2,700,000 to finance the construction of recreation facilities in Ward 3 by a 243 to 111 count and the second, a 5-mill maintenance tax for the recreation facilities, that by a 207 to 129 total.

Incumbent John Breaux held a 1,221 to 335 advantage over challenger Johnny Myers for the 7th Congressional District House of Representatives seat.

For the 7th District seat on the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education John Bertrand had 734 votes while Ginger Falcon had 568. Charles Patterson ran third with 136 votes.

Surface lease bids asked by board

The Cameron parish school board authorized Supt. Thomas McCall to advertise for bids on surface leases on school sections when it met for its monthly meeting Monday.

Seven sections are due to come up for lease, McCall said, but he added that the recession might cause even more to come up due to some persons not renewing their leases.

The board received some record high leases last year, primarily from firms and hunting clubs for waterfowl hunting purposes. However, due to hunting being off last year and the recession it is thought some of these leases might be given up.

In addition to hunting, some sections are leased for trapping and for farming.

On one such farming lease in the Klondike section the board this month received a payment of $12,417.53 as its share of crops raised by Cecil David.

In other matters, the board authorized the advertisement for bids on additions and alterations at South Cameron high school.

It was informed that Charo, Inc. had been given a $16,835 contract for dirt work on some property the board had purchased adjacent to the Hackberry school ground.

Advertisement for bids on phase II of the Grand Lake school alterations and additions was approved.

The superintendent and architect were authorized to make a study of damage done to Johnson Bayou high school by a tropical storm and to make necessary repairs. It was reported a skylight blew off the roof and that the gym floor may have been damaged by water.

HIGHWAY 27 between Holly Beach and Johnson Bayou sufferedmajor damages when tropical storm Chris hit here two weeks ago. The pounding waves washed away a portion of the road for several miles and the highway may have to be relocated. This stretch of the highway has repeatedly been damaged by storms over the years since it runs along the edge of the beach.

$27,000 raised at DU banquet Sat.

Approximately $27,000.00 was raised by the Cameron parish chapter of Ducks Unlimited for the DU program at their annual banquet Saturday night and with their sponsorships, according to Zeke Wainwright, chapter president.

The event was held at the KC hall and started off with a cocktail hour, followed by a gumbo supper.

Cecil Brown, from Eunice, served as auctioneer and was assisted by Sidney Theriot and Wainwright in showing the items for auction.

Local, regional and national DU officers were in attendance at the 5th annual local event.

Winners of the main door prizes which were a 10/30 gun and a Green Wing gun were won by Lenny Dalton and Brandon Hess, respectively; and Fats Dupont won the 3-wheeler.

The DU print of the year "Hunter on the Marsh" by Chet Renson was purchased by Cameron State Bank.

The money raised by the local club will be sent to the National DU to be used in their projects in Canada to promote waterfowl.

WINNERS OF the main door prizes at the Cameron parish Ducks Unlimited banquet were Lenny Dalton, winner of the 10/30 gun, and little Brandon Hess, winner of the Greenwing gun.

Sweeney rites held

Funeral services for Mrs. Lydia Sells Sweeney, 88, of Lake Charles were held Wednesday, Sept. 22, in the Hixson Funeral Home Chapel.

Dr. Woodrow Smith, pastor of University United Methodist Church, and Dr. Carl Lueg, pastor emeritus of First United Methodist Church officiated. Burial was in Highland Memorial Gardens.

Mrs. Sweeney died Monday in her residence.

Born Jan. 4, 1894, in Cameron, she was the daughter of John Sells and Nellie Dorcas Wakefield, members of pioneer Cameron Parish families. Mrs. Sweeney had resided in Lake Charles for 50 years.

She was active in church and civic organizations and in the promotion of education. A member of Calcasieu Chapter 164, Order of the Easter Star, she was honored as worthy matron, district deputy and Grand Esther. She was also affiliated with the Star Club, Amaranth Court No. 7 and the Shriners Auxiliary.

Mrs. Sweeney was past president of the Robert E. Lee Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Lake Charles garden Club and the Enterprise Club. She was a charter member of the Women's Society of Christian Service (WSCS) of the First United Methodist Church of Lake Charles and helped organize and was a charter member of University United Methodist Church.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Althea Feldes, Mrs. Catherine Watson and Mrs. Shirley Patterson, all of Lake Charles, and Mrs. Joyce Arnett of Houston; two sons, Kenneth and Val Sweeney, both of Lake charles; two sisters, Ruby Nell Sells of Lake Charles and Mrs. Rose O'Brien of Denton, Texas; one brother, Pete Sells of Johnson Bayou; one half-sister, Dorothy Bourgeois of Cameron; 19 grandchildren and 21 great-grandchildren.

MERVYN TAYLOR, right, was re-elected for a 4-year term as school board member from District 6 in the recent election. Preston Richard, left, also gained another term after he was unopposed in the election. He represents the Creole area.

Grand Lake man is traffic victim

A 78-year-old Grand Lake man died early Saturday after he was struck by a car near the intersection of La. 384 and Bessie Road just west of Big Lake, according to State Police Troop D.

The fatality was identified as Jaous Thomas, 78. He was taken to Memorial hospital where he later died at 11:05 a.m.

Troopers said the accident occurred at 8:10 a.m. Emma L. Daigle, 64, of Lake charles was driving her vehicle east on La. 384. Thomas was also walking east on La. 384.

When Thomas came to the intersection he turned around and stepped onto the roadway, troopers said.

Daigle was not injured in the mishap.

The death was the 15th reported traffic fatality in Calcasieu Parish for 1982.

Funeral services for Mr. Thomas, 78, of Grand Lake, were held Monday, Sept. 20, from St. Mary of the Lake Catholic Church in Big Lake.

The Rev. Sam Jacobs officiated. Burial was in Big Lake Cemetery under direction of Hixson Funeral Home.

Mr. Thomas died Saturday in a Lake Charles hospital.

He was a native of Delcambre and lived in the Lake Charles area most of his life. He worked for the State of Louisiana as a ferry operator for 12 years and was member of the St. Joseph Society of St. Mary of the Lake Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Docia Thomas; one daughter, Gertrude Thomas; four sons, Joseph G., Leroy, Amos, and L. J. Thomas, all of Lake harles; one sister, Mrs. Weston Castille of Lafayette; 15 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren.

Methodist Supt. to pay visit here

On Sunday, Sept. 26, at 4 p.m., Dr. Jack Cooke, District Superintendent of the Lake Charles District, will convene the Charge Conference for the Wakefield Memorial and the Grand Chenier First United Methodist Churches at Grand Chenier.

The purpose of the meeting is to elect new officers and personnel for 1983. All the persons will be members of the churches. Also goals for the congregations for the new year will be established.

Following adjournment of the Conference light refreshments will be served during a period of fellowship. The churches invite interested friends to come and visit them, Rev. Jim Constable, Pastor, stated.

Football jamboree set

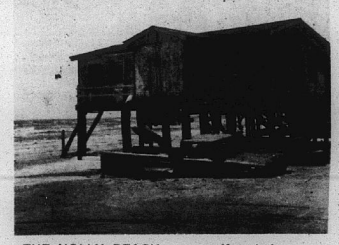
A pee-wee football jamboree will be held on the Tarpon Field at South Cameron high school Saturday, Sept. 25 at 10 a.m.

Pee-wee and little league teams from Cameron, Creole and Grand Chenier will be participating.

Refreshments will be for sale at the event.

Bake sale to be held Fri.

The Cameron Council on Aging Senior Citizens are sponsoring a bake sale Sept. 24 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at the community room of the Calcasieu Marine National Bank. Proceeds will go to programs for the Senior Citizens. They invite everyone to come by.



Families evacuated at Hackberry Thurs.

Ten to 12 families were evacuated about 11 p.m. at Hackberry Thursday when a leak developed in the surface piping of the ethylene system at Cities Service Co.'s Hackberry Natural Gas Liquids (NGL) facilities.

A company spokesman said the leak resulted in some product entering the NGL brine system. As a result, a geyser of brine water containing some ethylene shot through the air and a northerly wind carried the spray in the vicinity of some neighboring homes.

The families were evacuated as a precautionary measure, the spokesman said. The system was shut down, the geyser brought under control and the brine contained, he added.

The spokesman said there were no injuries or fires as a result of the incident. Cause of the incident is under investigation.

Creole bank gets automatic teller machine

The Cameron State Bank has installed a 24-hour automatic teller machine at its Creole branch office, according to E. J. Dronet, bank president.

The machine is similar to the one that has been in operation at the main office in Cameron for about a year.

Bank customers, using special Extra Services Cards, will be able to use the machine after bank hours to most types of banking, including securing cash from savings or checking accounts, making deposits, making payments on loans and checking on current account balances.

Creole customers wishing to secure the Extra Services Cards should make application at the bank.

A similar machine will be installed in the new Hackberry branch bank.

Parents night set at H'berry

The Hackberry High School SAPE' team will sponsor a Parents' Awareness Night Tuesday, Sept. 28, at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium. Plans for the new year will be given, and two films, "The Enablers" and "Intervention" will be shown.

Parents and concerned adults are invited to attend, according to Pamela LaFleur, Principal.

Fines told

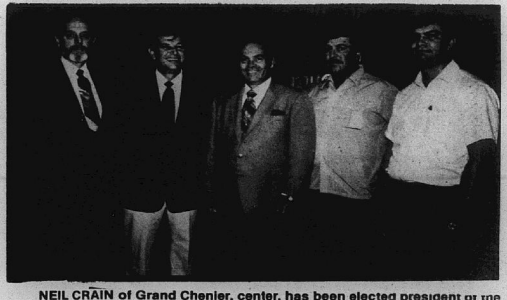
$4,841 was collected through 38th Judicial District Traffic Court during the week of Sept. 13 - 17 on 84 tickets, according to Jerry G. Jones, Cameron Parish District Attorney.

Neil Crain to head offshore association

A luncheon meeting of the Offshore Pipeline Contractors Association of America (OPCA) was held recently to install their 1982 - 1983 officers.

Bill Dore', Pipelines, Inc., was elected Chairman of the Board, and Neil Crain, Crain Brothers, Grand Chenier, was elected president of the association.

Other offices filled were executive vice-president, Jim Buckner, Ingram Marine Constructors; Lanny Martin, Transocean Contractors, was elected vice president of political affairs; and a new office of associate vice - president was filled by Jerry Shea, Jr., Bayou Pipe Coating company, Inc.



David Herring, Sea-Con Services was elected finance committee chairman; Jim Geiger, Santa Fe Engineering and Construction, is the legal committee chairman; and Ivan Garzotto, Pipelines, Inc., is the new secretary - treasurer.

Randy Haynie will be the executive direotor.

This organization is made up of companies in the oil industry concerned in areas as federal regulation, pollution control, inspection, indemnification, and particularly industrial safety. OPCA projects and objectives include working toward the improvement of accessibility of meaningful weather data and descriptive soil conditions in active or prospective areas in the Gulf of Mexico.

During the recently completed legislative session the Offshore Pipeline Contractors Assoc. helped fight against the Coastal Wetlands Environmental Levey (CWEL) which the Governor proposed, and worked on legislation regarding unemployment compensation and the workers' compensation bill.

Also at this luncheon meeting, Lt. Commander Randy Speight of the 8th Coast Guard District spoke to the members on topics concerning offshore safety and the role of the Coast Guard.

ASC elections to be held here soon

Farm community boundaries have been set by the Calcasieu - Cameron parish Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committees in preparation for holding elections for ASC county and community committee members later this year, reported Kirk D. Moore, County Executive Director.

ASC communities are local administrative areas which help provide farmers with effective farm program administration. These areas are reviewed yearly to determine whether boundary changes would benefit farmers, Moore said.

This year Calcasieu Parish will have four communities and Cameron Parish will have three communities. A list of ASC communities and the number of farms within each community is available for inspection at the Calcasieu - Cameron Parish ASCS office.

Moore said that reviewing and setting ASC community boundaries is only the first step in this year's community and county committee members election schedule. Next a voter eligibility list will be compiled and will be open to public inspection.

Nominations for petition, completion of slates, and balloting will follow.

Participation in ASC elections is open to all eligible farmers.

Bench warrants were issued for the following who failed to show up for court: Kirby J. McMahan, 44, Hackberry; Richard Lon Cummings, 24, 707 17th Street, Lake Charles and Paul Vancannon, 24, Rt. 2, Box 85F, Locksburg, Ark.

Migrant education program written up

[EDITOR'S NOTE--The following article entitled: "Cameron Summer School--A Success School", is reprinted from En Route, the Migrant Education Newsletter, Supt. Thomas McCall received a letter from State. Super. Kelly Nix calling attention to the article and congratulating the parish on the program.]

The waters of the Gulf of Mexico, as well as the inland waters of Cameron Parish, give up their bounty of shrimp, crabs, oysters, and especially menhaden or, as locally termed, "poggy" fish, to fishermen and create a fishing port unrivaled in the United States. Appropriately enough, it is also a center for Migrant Education.

The Cameron Parish School Board began its program for the children of migrant fishermen in 1976 and was the second in the country to embark on such an effort.

A summer school for these children is housed at Cameron Elementary School. Instruction in math, reading, arts and crafts, and physical education is offered. A health nurse, cafeteria and recreational trips supplement the curriculum.

The purpose of the school is to aid the students in mastering skills that they may have missed during the school term because of seasonal moves with the fishing indsutry. There are 44 students enrolled this summer.

Students are grouped for language arts and math by grade levels and then regrouped for individual help. A pre-test is given at the beginning of the session for the purpose of targeting areas of weakness and strength. The teachers diagnose the material and gear their instruction accordingly.

Lower elementary math and reading consist of extensive basic skill activities and minimum standards at each level. Listening centers, games, activities and other materials assist the student in learning these skills.

Arts and crafts for the lower elementary students involve finger puppets, finger and tempera painting, painting wooden playmates, marker paintings, foam pillows, color rolls, puzzles and lacing projects.

Upper elementary math students begin with the "Prime Time" program for basic review and progress to "Math Path." A skill drill session reinforces each lesson and a "Fact Sheet" is completed at the conclusion of each week to check progress.

Reading students in grades 7-9 read biographies for the development of reading, thinking and language skills. Brief exercises at the end of every few pages promote active reading. Varied exercises at the end of each biography promote reading and thinking skills. Students arrange events in sequence, recall salient facts, identify the main idea and prepare brief writings on the topic.

Grade 5-6 students use the "RSVP" (Reading, Spelling, Vocabulary and Pronunciation) method. The student receives repeated contact with new words and inceases his ability and pleasure in reading.

A wide variety of arts and crafts are offered the upper elementary students. These consist of such projects as vinyl lacing, craft sticks, art sand mosaics, basket weaving, latch hooking, embroidery and needlepoint.

Physical education classes included volleyball, croquet, badminton, softball and kickball. The students enjoy a weekly swim period at the Cameron pool on Mondays.

The health program involves hearing and vision screening plus an extensive health education program. Nutrition, grooming and health care were some of the subjects covered by the school nurse.

The program concludes with a field trip to Lake Charles for skating, a movie and pizza.

The faculty comprises five veteran teachers, a nurse and a principal. Loretta Conner, grades 5-9 reading teacher, has been with the program since its inception. Wayne Kershaw, grades 5-9 math teacher, and Jimmy Marcantel physical education teacher, have five years experience in the program. Lower elementary teachers Darilyn Canik (math) and Peggy Benoit (reading) have five and three years of service respectively. Mary Richard has replaced Mrs. Benoit this summer while the latter is on leave. Nell Colligan has been the school nurse for three years.

Adam Conner, supervisor of Curriculum and Federal Programs for Cameron Parish, obtains the funding for the program and sets the budget. Wayne Batts serves as the school's principal.

Sue Mhire serves as secretary while Phyllis Ritter is the lunchroom manager. Hilda Bourgeois is the other lunchroom worker.

Summer Migrant School has enjoyed another successful session and students and faculty are looking forward to another summer of fun and learning next year.

Breaux introduces bill on oil fund

Congressman John Breaux has introduced legislation to establish a fund for the sharing of revenues from Outer Continental Shelf (OCS) oil and gas development with coastal states and local governments. To be known as the "Coastal Revenue Sharing Act of 1982", the bill would direct the federal government to return a portion of revenues generated by the Interior Dept's. accelerated offshore lease plan to coastal states and local governments where oil and gas tracts are to be developed.

Breaux has proposed a formula to fairly allocate these revenues so that coastal states and localities can get a percentage of the millions of dollars at stake in the expanded OCS development plans.

"This bill is consistent with other federal programs currently used to return to inland states a portion of the mineral development revenues generated from various mining operations. To me, this bill is a logical extension of these same principles. This bill would insure that coastal states and their local governments will receive a fair share of oil and gas revenues and would be based on the number and proximity of drilling sites to a particular state's borders."

The Breaux bill would begin this revenue sharing operation in fiscal year 1985 and mandates that 50 percent of the revenues returned to the states be immediately passed through to local governments, who would then be free to spend the money without restriction. Furthermore, state governments would also be required to spend 25 percent of their revenues for the preservation and maintenance of coastal areas where the adverse impact of OCS development is greatest.

Coastal states bear the burden of offshore oil and gas production so it is only fair that they receive some portion of the benefits. This bill will hopefully lessen the resistance that some states have towards much needed oil and gas development.

Permits are sought by oil firms

Southeastern Gas Pipeline Co., which had applied for a Corps of Engineers permit, for a 4-inch gas pipeline in the Cameron area, has changed the route of the line and applied for a new permit.

The pipeline will extend between existing pipelines about six miles northeast of Holly Beach and just west of the town of Cameron.

Goldking Production Co. has applied for a permit to construct a board road, drill site, etc. for a proposed well location about five miles northeast of Grand Chenier.

Leo Club has its election

The South Cameron High School Leo Club held its first meeting of the 1982 - 83 school year Tuesday, Sept. 21.

The meeting was called to order by the club President Melvin Boyd. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Tina Baccigalopi. The secretary, Allyson Richard, called roll and gave the financial report.

Melvin Boyd read a list of the rules and regulations.

The meeting was turned over to the club sponsor, Mrs. Booth, who explained the rules to the new members.

Ed Kelly and Paul Coreil talked about the services that the Leo Club renders.

The new officers are: Melvin Boyd, president; Lisa East, vice president; Allyson Richard, secretary-treasurer; Karen Savoie, reporter; Tina Baccigalopi, Lion Tamer; and Susie Fawvor, Tail Twister.

MUSING...

A Chenier tall tale

By BERNICE STEWART DENNY

During the latter half of the past centure there lived at Grand Chenier a man, whom we shall call Ben. According to him, his dog, Daylight, was the most remarkable hunting dog that ever lived. No specialist was he, but a general practioner. Whether he hunted birds or coons or rabbits or drove cattle or caught hogs, Daylight excelled all others.

Ben warned his friends that if one shot at a bird and missed, it would so infuriate Daylight that he would bite the hunter on the leg. Therefore, Ben refused to lend his dog to any but an accomplished hunter.

One day, however, Ben allowed Jed, who was not so good, to hunt with him. Daylight located a covey of quail in some brush. Ben gave the order to flush them. The dog disappeared into the brush; and Ben told Jed to be ready to shoot.

In a moment a quail flew up. Jed shot and killed it. Immediately another flew up. Again Jed shot and hit it. A dozen times this performance was repeated.

Curiously Jed went into the brush himself. There he discovered that old Daylight had driven all the quail into a hole in the ground and was standing with one paw over the opening. He would let only one quail at a time fly out so that Jed might get them all.

At least, the above is the way that Ben told the story.

Tabernacle sets revival

The Gulf Coast Tabernacle of Creole will hold revival Wednesday through Friday, Sept. 22-25 with Homer Pittsinger, of Farmersville, Texas, evangelist as the speaker.

Rev. Pittsinger has been in the ministry for 40 years and has pastored churches in California, Kansas and Texas.

Following a 1980 heart attack, he had open heart surgery. He will testify to this near death experience.

Band names new officers

Carson Nunez has been named president of the South Cameron High School Band.

Other officers elected are: Melvin Boyd, reporter; Kevin Fruge, senior class rep.; Lisa Cormier, junior class rep.; Vera Harmon, sophomore class rep.; and Deanna Hebert, freshman class rep.

Tina Baccigalopi is the drum major and Carlos Frederick is the assistant drum major.

The band is presently working on a spring trip.

Reunion set by '73 class

The Senior Class of 1973 of South Cameron High School will hold a class reunion immediately following the South Cameron - St. Edmond football game on Oct. 1. A dance with music provided by Jerry Furs and the Teardrops will be held at the Grand Chenier Recreation Center.

A $15 donation is needed from alumni in order to defray entertainment expenses. Donations should be sent to Candy Henry Olivier, Rt. 1 Box 139, Cameron, La. 70631.

Creole club plans for Achievement Day

At the Sept. meeting of the Creole Extension Homemakers Club, assistant home economist Nancy Cronan discussed details of the Sept. 25 Cameron Parish Homemakers Achievement Day. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Winnie Mouton with Mrs. Bessie Boudreaux and Mrs. Noon Bonsall serving as cohostesses.

Most importantly, Mrs. Cronan announced that this year's Achievement Day would be held at South Cameron Elementary School in Creole instead of Cameron Elementary School in Cameron due to construction going on at the Cameron school. She said the guest speaker will be Mrs. Chandette Reichel of the LSU Extension Cooperative Service. Her presentation will be "Easy Living."

Members voted in secret to select the club's Woman of the Year. Her identity will be disclosed at Achievement Day at which time she will be given a plaque by the Council.

Appointed to make the club's name tags for Achievement Day were Mrs. Willa Dean Morris and Mrs. Charlotte Bonsall. They will design the tags in keeping with the Day's theme of "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow."

Mrs. Cronan announced that the District Educational Chairmen meeting will be held in Eunice Nov. 10. This meeting takes place only every other year. Members who will be attending are Mrs. Estelle Theriot, Mrs. Margaret Boudoin, Mrs. Charlotte Bonsall and Mrs. Morris.

FALL ARRIVES

Fall starts Thursday, Sept. 23 and there are many signs around such as the cool front which moved in Monday night bringing a temperature of 65 degrees.

The beautiful patches of goldenrods now in bloom along highways and in pastures and the many trees changing their color of leaves also note the season.

TEAL SEASON

Teal season started Saturday, Sept. 18 and many sportsmen turned out for the occasion.

Teal were not so plentiful but most hunters got their limit of four.

Guides for Oak Grove Hunting Club said the water was high in front marshes and the storm Chris had left the marsh full of drift and logs, stopping up boat ditches and leaving drift around blinds.

SMITH BABY

Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Ray Smith of Grand Chenier announce the birth of a son, Robert Norris, Sept. 18 at Memorial hospital, weighing 8 lbs. 2 oz.

Grandparents are Mrs. Betty Smith of Grand Chenier and Dr. and Mrs. John Norris of Lake Charles.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Emma LaBove of Grand Chenier and Mrs. Alma Guillory of Lake Charles.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Gilford Miller of Grand Chenier who spent several days in a Beaumont, Tex. hospital undergoing tests, is back home.

Mrs. Margaret (Julian) Arrant of Grand Chenier is in a Lafayette hospital undergoing tests.

87th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Jeff (Alice) Nunez Saturday had her 87th birthday. Helping her celebrate were friends as well as her two children, Mrs. Ruby Mhire and Ray Nunez, her grandchildren and other relatives.

Sorry, but Mrs. Goldie Nunez's name was left out, along with the hostess on the story of her daughter's baby shower last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Miller are busy adding two rooms to their home.

VISITORS

The Tommy Doland family of Lake charles spent some time in their home here.

Mrs. Roberta Vaughn of Kaplan, mother of Rev. Roland Vaughn of St. Eugene Church, spent the weekend in Grand Chenier.

Mrs. Sue Koonce of Nederland, Tex. spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lee Miller here.

Attending the wedding of Kim Parker and Lawrence Mhire in Monroe Saturday were: Mr. and Mrs. Evans Mhire and boys; Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Richard; Mrs. Edmond Bertrand; Mrs. Rosa Mhire; Mrs. Jan Mhire and children; Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Lee Richard; Pete Rutherford and Kirk; and Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie Perry and family, all of Grand Chenier.

Just three varieties of the many roses that bloom in profusion in Israel are seen on these three issues of the country's postage stamps.

County Agent Report

HAZARDS OF CROP RESIDUES

Cattle can make good use of harvest residues of rice and soybeans. However, certain hazards do exist.

Cattle eating excessive amounts of grains on beans left in the field become acutely ill because of the effects of lactic acid, a product of fermentation. Intoxication from soybean overload often results in death.

Also, livestock should not graze fields or eat bean foliage if Sodium Chlorate was used. For Paraquat there is a 15 day waiting period between treatment and feeding on the foliage and livestock should be removed from treated fields 30 days before slaughter.

CALF CROP

Many factors keep calf crop below 100 percent. Cattlemen have found that strict application of recommended management practices allows almost all cows in the breeding unit to calve each year. Practices include controlled breeding seasons, pre - breeding examination of bulls, pregnancy examination and culling of open cows, a vaccination program including reproductive diseases, and meeting the nutritional needs of the cattle.

CATTLE DEATHS

Cattle mortality across the state has increased in the past few weeks.

Veterinarians are reporting blackleg, anoplasmosis, pulmonary emphysema and pneumonia as the major problems.

Blackleg is a fetal infection disease of young cattle that can be prevented by vaccination at 3 to 6 months of age. A vaccine is available for anaplasmosis, although infection and development of the carier state can still occur.

VEGETABLES TO PLANT

Vegetables than can be planted in October are: cabbage, mustard, turnips, collards, kale, parsley, spinach, leaf lettuce, Chinese cabbage, celery, onions (seed), Swiss chard, shallots, garlic, radishes, carrots, and beets.

RYEGRASS KEEPS

The sowing of ryegrass to extend the greeness of a lawn is an option homeowners can choose as the cold season turns established turfgrasses brown. A more practical use of ryegrass is to hold soil on areas which are sparsely covered by regular lawn grass during the rainy winter months.

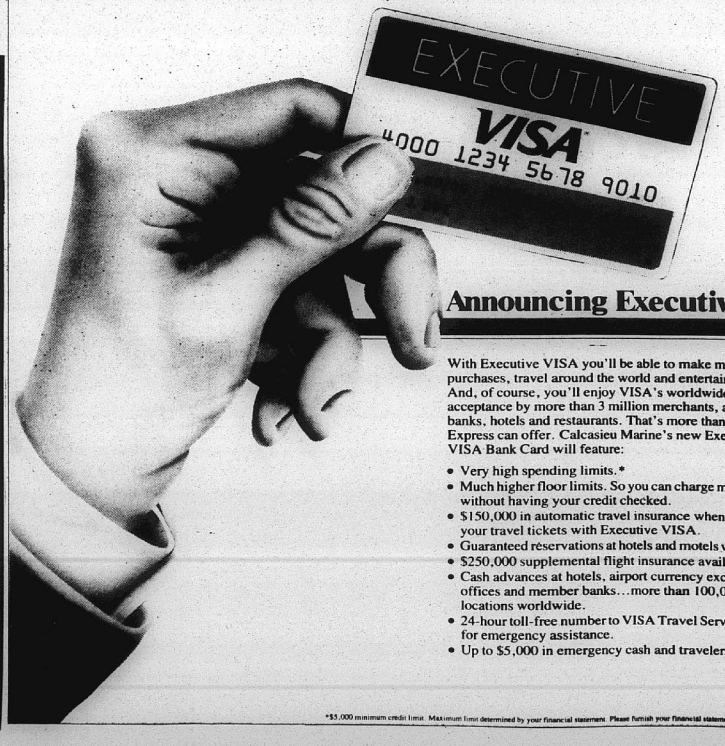
Ryegrass should be sown in mid-October at the rate of 5 to 10 pounds of seed per 1,000 square feet of area.

Cameron Homemakers plan Houston trip

The Sept. meeting of the Cameron Extension Homemakers Club was held Monday at the home of Francis Mudd. Hostesses were Agnes and Sheila Griffin.

Agent Nancy Cronan went over Achievement Day duties.

Carolyn Harper showed a film on natural child birth.



Committees were set up for Achievement Day as follows: Mary Johnson, type awards; Judy Guillory and Angela Jouette, check crafts; Gail LeCompte and Sheila Griffin, sell cakes and cookies. All members to clean up afterward.

Members finalized plans for the trip to Houston. They set 6:30 a.m. as the time to leave; they decided on where they were going and invited Mrs. Cronan as a guest.

Members enjoyed a covered dish supper.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 5 - Description: Located in Little Chenier area. One-half (1/2) mile West of Mermentau River along Little Chenier Highway.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 11 - Description: Three (3) miles West of Calcasieu Lake. Approximately four (4) miles North of Holly Beach.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 13 - Description: South end of Sabine Wildlife Refuge. Five (5) miles North of Gulf of Mexico in Johnson Bayou area.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 14 - Description: Three (3) miles East of Sabine Lake on Starks Canal.

Section 16, Township 15, Range 4 - Description: Approximately one (1) mile North of Highway 82 in Grand Chenier Area. North of Rockefeller Refuge.

(For further information a description map is available to be seen in the School Board Office during normal working hours.)

All bids must be sealed; the envelope marked "Bid - Section 16, Township_____, Range_____" and may be forwarded through the U. S. Mail to the Cameron Parish School Board, P. O. Box W, Cameron, LA 70631. Bidder must offer an annual rental of not less than $1.00 per acre for a lease with a primary term to end September 30, 1987. Annual renewal rentals will be due each year bySeptember 30th, in order to continue the lease in effect. Cash or check in favor of the Cameron Parish School Board for the amount of the annual rental for the first year shall accompany and be deposited with the bid, and the rental thus deposited shall be forfeited to the Board as liquidated damages if the successful bidder fails to enter into written contract in accordance with his bid within ten (10) days after acceptance by the Board.

If farming rights are utilized, bidder may offer annual rental plus a fractional part of not less than one-sixth (1/6) of any and all crops produced and saved during the year. The value of the one-sixth (1/6) share shall not be considered in the awarding of the lease unless the bidder guarantees a specific amount which shall be added to and accompany the bid. Should the one-sixth (1/6) value of crops be less than the cash guarantee paid at the time of the lease, the Cameron Parish School Board shall demand such additional payment as necessary to bring the value adjustment to a full one-sixth (1/6) of crops produced and harvested on any and all listed sections.

The surface rights and privileges granted in the lease are restricted to range, trapping, hunting, farming, and fishing and these rights shall in no way, manner, or form interfere with the granting of a mineral lease or the full utilization of all rights and privileges granted in any mineral lease.

Bids will be received until the hour of 10:00 a.m., Monday, October 11, 1982 at which time all bids received will be opened and considered in public session of the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids received.

Fire drill: at home is a good idea

Shortly after school opens is a good time to have a fire drill at home, according to Barbara Schilde, a home economist and safety specialist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

"Little children enjoy playing school and will find a fire drill fun. Older children like to show off what they've learned in school and even parents and grandparents participate willingly when reminded of 'good years,'" Miss Schilde says.

While planning and holding a fire drill may turn out fun, it's a life-saving practice, she stresses, noting that schools often get through fires without casualties, whereas home fires are often deadly due to panic and lack of preparedness.

The home economist offers these tips on staging a home fire drill:

--Involve every person who lives in the home in planning the fire drill. Take the extra effort to include young children and any elderly persons who reside in the home.

--Draw a plan of the house or apartment, and list fire escape routes and alternate ways to escape in case of fire. Mark escape routes from every room, giving special attention to the bedrooms. Indicate rooms where fires are most likely to occur. Note areas where space heaters or stoves may cause a fire.

--Choose a meeting place outside the home where the family will be able to have a roll call if a fire makes escape necessary. This will keep family members from re-entering a burning home looking for someone who has already left safely. Stress the danger of returning to the smoke-filled home to find a person or retrieve valuables.

--If the home or apartment has more than one story, make plans for an escape that does not depend on the use of stairs because stairways are usually the first areas to fill with toxic smoke and heat. Keep a rope or chain ladder handy for escape from a second-story window. These may be found in hardware stores or bought by mail order.

--Practice ways to discover dangers from fire and smoke and the best ways to escape. If behind a closed door when a fire occurs, feel the door carefully before opening it. If it is hot, leave it closed and seek help from the window. If smoke enters the room from under the door, stuff the crack with bedding, a rolled rug or whatever else is available.

--Practice crawling along the floor to learn the safest way to go through a smoke-filled area. Crawling is recommended because the gases and hot air rise during a fire, making the floor area the safest. Cover the nose and mouth with a damp cloth to cut down the inhalation of the gases and smoke.

--Set dates to have regular fire drills in the home.

--Have set times to check the home for fire hazards and to remove debris or correct dangerous situations, such as wiring, overloading outlets with appliances or use of space heaters without safety precautions.

For more information on safety in the home, Schilde says to contact an agent in the parish office of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

OFFSHORE FISHING

Offshore fishing took a "blow" with tropical storm Chris really slowing down the fishing. I noticed this weekend as I was fishing the Mermentau River even the Sunrise II was parked at the docks. There were a few boats going out fishing but their catches were few in number, however, the ones that went shrimping off the beach out of Grand Chenier did real good. I saw some catches of 160 lbs. of big shrimp to 400 lbs. of medium to large shrimp. The Mermentau River this weekend did produce some fish. Saturday, Lynex and Alice Richard and Mono Murphy caught redfish, caspergous and drum, with Mono catching one redfish going over 5 lbs. Gilbert "Poo" Landry and I had a good trip taking my boat and fishing each set of rocks and cuts. We caught 31 catfish with the largest going 3½ lbs., 8 redfish and 2 croakers. Sunday, Lynex and Alice had 5 redfish, one flounder, 2 caspergous and one drum. Rudy and I picked up 9 redfish with the largest going 4 lbs., 10 nice catfish and Rudy caught one speckle trout going 2½ lbs.

TEAL SEASON

Teal season got off to a good start with some areas having no trouble limiting out, but other areas not near as good, however, all hunters reported two things in common: plenty of hot weather and plenty of mosquitos.

ALLIGATOR SEASON

The alligator hunters that I talked to, over half have tagged out, but there's still quite a few hunters trying to tag out with some having as many as 20 tags left.

Want doves--plant a patch of milo

The early September mourning dove season begins the long hunting seasons that Louisiana has each year. Mourning doves are one of the more sought-after game birds, according to F. J. Ezernack, District Conservationist, U. S. Soil Conservation Service, assisting the Gulf Coast Soil and Water Conservation District. "Louisiana currently has a three-way split season that gives hunters ample opportunity to hunt this erratic-flying bird," Ezernack said.

Recent changes in cropping patterns in Louisiana are proving to be very beneficial to the mourning dove. In the last two cropping seasons, a significant increase in acreage planted to grain sorghum (milo) has occurred. This land use change has had a beneficial impact on doves. They are seed eaters and really go for the seeds of grain sorghum.

On modern - day combines the screens can be set so that very little grain is wasted during harvest, but this leaves very little grain for the doves to feed on. To overcome this problem, Bufort Fontenot, a farmer in Evangeline Parish, is leaving a row of grain sorghum unharvested about every 100 feet over the field. According to Keith Latiolais, SCS District Conservationist in Ville Platte, this row will be bush-hogged, and adjacent strips will be disked. Using this procedure, there will be an abundance of grain available for the doves, and the clean ground will provide an ideal area for the doves to alight in.

In managing a grain sorghum field to increase its use by mourning doves, it is very important to provide a clean landing area where the doves can alight. Doves have very short legs, and unless an area is disked to provide clean ground or the stubble is mowed very low, the doves will not use the area. After harvest of the grain, strips should be bush-hogged and disked to provide "landing strips" for the doves. Without the extra effort of mowing and disking, most grain sorghum fields will receive very light use by mourning doves.

MY VIEWS...

By Jesse Knowles, Chairman
Louisiana Wildlife & Fisheries Commission

I want to thank those readers who responded to my request they contact members of Louisiana's Congressional delegation and express opposition to Rep. Marty Russo's (D-Ill.) bill that would take Pittman-Robertson funds now being used to finance Louisiana's hunter safety training program and divert them to another purpose.

Actually, we're talking about funds that finance the hunter safety training programs in all of the states and territories.

I am happy to report that opposition to the Russo bill at a national level has been great and as of this writing, Russo has only nine co-sponsors and no hearings have been set on the bill.

Readers will recall that Rep. Marty Russo was hunting for some spare federal funds to compensate crime victims, and found a tempting bundle hidden deep in the Department of the Interior.

Each year, Interior receives the proceeds of a 10 percent federal excise tax on handguns, $26,689,277 in 1981, and $153, 948,318 since they became available to the Pittman - Robertson program in 1971.

Using last year's figures, 72.8 percent of the total apportionment available to the hunter safety education program would be lost under provisions of the Russo bill.

The Pittman - Robertson program dates back to 1938 and its funds come from an 11 percent federal excise tax on sporting arms and ammunition, a 10 percent tax on handguns, and an 11 percent tax of archery equipment.

These excise taxes are paid by sportsmen and for 44 years they have willingly paid the taxes because the money has always come back to the states for wildlife restoration, and since 1971 for hunter safety education. The latter being the money from handgun sales.

What sportsmen really objected to when the Russo bill came up is that they have fought at various times to keep the tax on their equipment when efforts were made to lift the excise taxes. They wanted the money to go for wildlife restoration and a good portion of the handgun tax to hunter safety since 1971.

Also, they object to the insinuation that all handguns are used in the commission of crimes, or that handguns are used in most crimes, so the excise tax on handguns should create a slush fund for compensation to victims of crime.

The general Pittman - Robertson funds have formed the financial foundation for wildlife programs in most states. We have been lucky in Louisiana in that the wildlife department receives royalties from minerals on department - owned wildlife refuges.

In many other states, the wildlife departments have to operate solely on license sales and funds such as the Pittman - Robertson program and the Dingell - Johnson fund from fishing equipment excise taxes.

Since 1971, 75 percent of all the money used in hunter safety training in Louisiana has come from this tax on handguns. The Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries has certified well over 47,000 young hunters since its program began in 1969 and was expanded in 1971 when more funds became available through the Pittman - Robertson program.

There are a heck of a lot of parents in Louisiana today who feel a lot more comfortable knowing that their youngsters have been properly trained in the handling of firearms for hunting purposes, or handling firearms in general.

There are 30 states where this training is mandatory before a person can buy his first hunting license. Louisiana hasn't gone that route yet, but there's a chance it will in the future.

If and when it does, the wildlife department will need all the money it can get to certify that many young people each year. And, even without mandatory hunter safety training, it is good to know that department people are certifying thousands of young people each year.

I deeply appreciate the good response to the threat posed by the Russo bill, and will keep you posted regarding it.

Cowbelles begin drive

The Cameron Parish Cowboy Club has begun a membership drive, according to David Richard, president.

Money derived from the club membership dues benefit all sports at McNeese State University with the money this year to go toward the purchase of a bus for the athletic teams.

The Cameron meetings are held the first and third Monday of each month during football season. Dues are $100 per year.

The Cameron Parish member of the club who sells the most memberships will be awarded a trip with the team to see McNeese play Arkansas State in Jonesboro on Oct. 23.

The second place winner will be awarded a trip with the team to see McNeese play Louisiana Tech in Ruston on Nov. 6. This membership drive will continue until the meeting of Oct. 6.

View of Monkey Island Coast Guard station

Coast Guard station to be closed here

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The three remaining Coast Guardsmen who now man the U. S. Coast Guard radio beacon station on Monkey Island have been notified they will be transferred to other stations within the month.

Since all of the equipment has already been removed from the station and the beacons automated, there is nothing left for them to do. The automatic equipment will be maintained by personnel from the U. S. Coast Guard Search and Rescue Station at Sabine Pass, Tex.

The 50 acres that the Coast Guard now owns on each side of the Calcasieu river will probably be put out for lease at public auction or sealed bids, one of the Coast Guard personnel said.

The station, which at one time was a search and rescue station and supported a large personnel during World War II, has been reduced to only a radio beacon station for some time now.

Several attempts by local fishermen and marine interests groups to have it reactivated and to get a boat stationed here permanently have failed.

The original purchase of the land was made in 1875 for the United States Lighthouse Service, and not until many years later did it become known as the United States Coast Guard Station.

The oldest structures there were built in 1942, with family housing, built on pilings, added in 1950.

The land was originally a part of the mainland and on the Coast, just south of Cameron.

However, when the Calcasieu Ship Channel was dug in 1938, it cut off an area to form the island known as Monkey Island.

THE GRAVE OF ..., Ada Crossman, who died in 1901, will soon be one of the last remaining signs of the U. S. Coast Guard's and lighthouse service tenure on Monkey Island at Cameron. (Photo by Geneva Griffith)

Tradition has it that the name was adopted during the early days of World War II when a contingent of Coast Guardsmen were stationed there to protect the beaches from German U-Boats.

The local people saw these uniformed men around the town of Cameron, running back and forth across the island, not doing much that they could see, and referred to them as "Those monkies across the river."

The name Monkey Island caught on and remains to this day.

One lonely grave stands a vigil on the river side of the station. It is the last resting place of a wife of a lighthouse keeper who died 81 years ago. The simple granite marker says Ada, wife of C. F. Crossman, Born Feb. 28, 1852 and died Feb. 13, 1901.

The grave has been tended by each set of Coast Guardsmen who come to the station and the "Torch" is passed on to the next crew as it comes.

Petty Officer Jerry Dorgan, who has been on the station since January says, "They ought to make this place a National Historic monument for this, alone."

One wonders if Ada's gravesite will continue to be kept up when the Coast Guard Station is abandoned.

Texan takes 'leave' from parish jail

Donald Ray Richardson, 24, of Beaumont escaped from custody in Cameron Tuesday afternoon while on a work detail behind the Cameron Parish Courthouse.

Richardson had been arrested on bench warrants Sept. 24. He was charged with two counts of driving under revocation, obstruction of a highway and false swearing on a driver's license application. The parish grand jury was also to consider charges of possession of marijuana with intent to distribute against him.

He was also wanted in Vernon Parish for probation violation.

Cameron Parish deputies said Richardson walked away from the work detail about 3 p.m. A wheelbarrow which he was using and jail clothing were found at a ballpark north of the courthouse.

Church super. visits here

Dr. Jack Cooke, superintendent of the Lake Charles district of the United Methodist Church, conducted the annual conference for the Cameron - Grand Chenier Charge, Sunday, Sept. 26 at 3 p.m. at the Grand Chenier Methodist Church.

The youth choir and members of M.Y.F. led a devotional period which opened the conference, following the meeting, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Cooke and a delegation of church officers from Cameron were in attendance.

KC council may be formed

All men of St. Eugene Catholic church, Grand Chenier, ages 18 years and older are invited to attend a meeting at 1 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 10 at the church hall to consider the forming of a Knights of Columbus Council.

The Orange County Historical Commission in cooperation with Orange County Commissioners Court will dedicate a Texas Historical marker for the Kishi Colony, a group of Japanese who settled in 1908 near the community of Terry, at 2 p.m. Oct. 3 on FM 1135 seven miles southeast of Vidor, Texas.

The marker is located near the homesite of the colony's founder, Kichimatsu Kishi, a veteran of the 1904-05 Russo-Japanese War who bought 3,500 acres of land in the James and William Dyson Survey and brought a colony of 15 Japanese farmers and their families, along with his own wife Fuji and their two children, Taro and Toki, to this country.

The Dysons were natives of Cameron Parish, Louisiana and the survey was one of the oldest land grants in the state of Texas.

Many of the colonists were well educated, and each had a special skill to contribute in making the colony nearly self-sufficient.

Cameron has good job rate

The unemployment rate in Cameron parish dropped one-tenth of a percent in August from July to give the parish a 7.1 percent rate, the fourth smallest in the state.

Only Plaquemines, 5.6 percent; Lincoln, 5.7 percent; and Lafayette, 5.9 percent had lower unemployment rates. (Lafayette moved ahead of Cameron in August. For July, only Plaquemines and Lincoln had lower rates.)

The figures released by the state showed that of Cameron's 4,700 labor force, only 300 persons were listed as unemployed. This was down from 350 in July.

The unemployment rate for the state as a whole was 10.9 percent for August, down from 11 percent in July. The national employment rate was 9.6 percent.

Allen parish continued to have the highest unemployed rate in August, 26.4 percent, but this was down from 27.9 in July.

Blood drive

On Saturday, Nov. 13, South Cameron hospital will sponsor the first community blood drive for residents of Creole and Cameron. The drive is held in conjunction with United Blood Services of Lafayette, the only blood bank who serves the area. UBS keeps on hand a fresh blood supply at South Cameron hospital at all times for emergencies.

Jury meeting

The Seventh District Police Jury Association, made up of police jurors from Southwest Louisiana parishes, will meet at the Creole KC hall at 2 p.m., Friday, Oct. 8.

Congressman John Breaux will be the principal speaker.

At 5 p.m. the Cameron police jury will host the group to a seafood dinner.

SHONTEL BLANCHARD, a freshman at Johnson Bayou High School, has been chosen to represent her school in the Junior Cal-Cam Queen's Contest. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Blanchard of Johnson Bayou.

7 indicted on drug charges

Cameron Parish District Attorney Jerry Jones filed Monday to extradite former Florida Supreme Court Justice David L. McCain.

St. Lucie County authorities said Monday that McCain has refused extradition in the case.

McCain was arrested at his residence in Fort Pierce, Fla., by St. Lucie County Sheriff's deputies and an FBI agent on a warrant issued in Cameron Parish.

McCain and six other men were indicted by a Cameron Parish Grand Jury on multi-ton marijuana conspiracy charges.

Sheriff James R. Savoie said the other six men have all been contacted by authorities and have agreed to turn themselves in so they can post bond.

All seven men were indicted on counts of conspiracy to distribute a controlled dangerous substance (CDS) and conspiracy to possess with intent to distribute a CDS.

The other six persons were identified as Wilson P. Acosta, 45, of Cameron; Johnnie T. Wilson, 42, of Cameron; Michael A. Bates, 38, of Metairie; Robert Eugene Bosarge, 35, and Herman Reed, 39, both of

David L. McCain

Ocean Springs, Miss., and Gerald Mitchell, 29, of Pass Christian, Miss.

Bonds for the first five were set at $30,000. Mitchell was also indicted on one count of theft and his bond was set at $35,000.

McCain is presently being held in the St. Lucie County Jail on $200,000 bond.

McCain was forced to resign from the Florida Supreme Court in 1975 and later was disbarred.

The CDS involved in the Cameron case reportedly is 10,000 or more pounds of Marijuana. Law enforcement agents said McCain helped to arrange marijuana smuggling operations in Louisiana between May and October 1981.

The Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department, FBI and the U. S. custom Agency cooperated in the investigation of the case.

District Attorney Jones said that McCain is accused of coming to Cameron in May, 1981, and arranging for the motor vessel "Surprise" owned by Acosta to go to Columbia in South America to pick up a load of Marijuana.

Jones said the crew ran into some difficulties in Columbia, failed to get the load and had the boat taken away from them.

(Incidentally, Jones reported, the vessel was picked up in the Atlantic two months ago with a Columbian crew aboard and a load of marijuana. However, this incident did not have anything to do with the Cameron indictments.)

The district attorney said that McCain, Acosta, and the others who made up the crew of the boat, have been charged in conspiring to bring marijuana into the parish.

'Gator season to end

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The statewide alligator season, which began Sept. 4, will end Oct. 3 and most Cameron parish alligator hunters have just about used up all of their tags which were issued to them at the start of the season.

The tags were issued to each hunter on the basis of their land area and amounted to around 18,000 in the whole state.

As each alligator was caught it was immediately tagged on the end of the tail and this tag must stay on it during the entire processing until it reaches the buyer.

Specific, secret skinning instructions were issued to the hunters on the first day of the hunt to insure that no alligators could be harvested for the sale before the season started.

Each year the cut is changed and this year it was a plug cut into the tail.

The season has been carefully controlled and charges pressed against persons possessing untagged alligator hides, and those engaged in indiscriminate alligator hunting.

No "gator" under four feet in length is allowed to be taken and hunting can only be conducted between one-half hour before sunrise and one-half hour after sunset.

Benny Welch, who resides on Oak Grove was issued 13 tags this year.

The number was arrived at by a formula on the land he hunts on, consisting of about 2400 acres on Grand Chenier, Creole and Johnson Bayou.

The 8-foot, over 200 pound speciman he brought in Wednesday afternoon was caught in the "Middle Marsh", between Oak Grove and Creole, in the Kings Bayou area.

He is assisted in the harvest and in the skinning operations by his sons and nephews, which is the way most things are done in Cameron parish, by the family method.

The skinning operation is tedious and must be carefully handled with sharp knives, taking great care to see that there are no cuts made in the valuable hide which will cut down on the price to be received at sale time.

First the cut is made that is

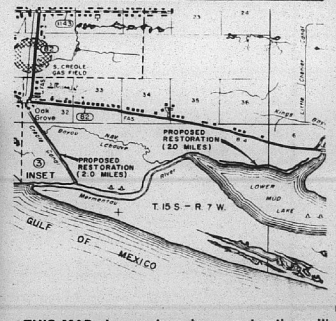
Jury to restore river levees

The Cameron police jury will undertake a new project in the near future - the restoration of about four miles of levees along the north bank of the Mermentau river and Lower Mud Lake and along the Creole canal.

The work, which is expected to cost more than $100,000, will be carried out with money from the special "mitigation fund."

Garner Nunez, Cameron parish police jury treasurer, explained that this is a new fund that has been established to do restoration work in the Louisiana wetlands.

Oil companies, who receive permission to build canals, levees, etc. in the wetland, must contribute to this fund in proportion to the damages that they cause to the marsh. These funds are then used to rebuild the marsh in other areas.



The first project of the police jury is designed to prevent salt water intrusion into the marsh.

The jury recently received a $160,000 check from the Arco Oil Company as payment to the mitigation fund.

The levee work will consist of dredging and placing the fill on the levees. About 57,024 cubic yards of materials will be used to restore the existing embankment.

Comments on the proposed work will be received by the Corps of Engineers until Oct. 12.

Major landowners in the area of the restoration are J. C. Reina, J. B. Meaux, Benjamin Welch, Mrs. Nita Cormier, James R. Savoie, Stephen L. Carter, Lester Richard, Edgar Theriot and Clarence Boudreaux.

THIS MAP shows where levee restoration will be carried out by the Cameron police jury along the Mermentau River and Creole canal.

Contestants are told

Hackberry High School has announced the names of the three girls who will represent the school in the junior and senior queens contests at the Cal-Cam Fair in Sulphur. Charlene Swire will be in the junior division. Angela Mejia and Kimberlie Stout will compete in the senior division.

Charlene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Swire, was selected by her classmates to compete in the junior division which will consist of contestants from grades 8, 9 and 10 only. Charlene, a freshman, is a member of F.H.A., F.B.L.A., Rodeo Club and senior 4-H.

Kimberlie Stout, senior representative, is the daughter of Mrs. L. N. Stout. She is a senior and has participated in F.H.A., F.B.L.A., yearbook staff, student council, track, softball and is a cheerleader. She has been on the Hackberry High School homecoming court for two years.

Angela Mejia, senior representative, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. donald Mejia Sr. She is a senior and is a member of F.H.A., F.B.L.A., senior 4-H and is on the yearbook staff.

The girls will be involved in several functions starting with the fair parade Monday, Oct. 4, at 4 p.m. There will be junior and senior teas on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 5 and 6. The girls will also be presented on stage at the fair grounds. The conclusion will be Oct. 5 for the senior division and Oct. 6 for the junior division.

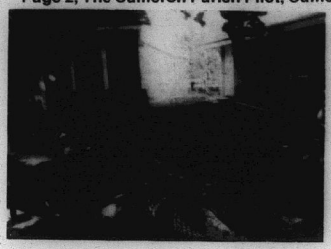
Sewer bids opened



The opening of bids on the extension and upgrading of the sewerage collection system and treatment facilities for the town of Cameron was held Thursday afternoon in the Police Jury Annex.

It was the culmination of work that was started in 1968 under the leadership of W. F. "Frankie" Henry, Jr. who was the police jury member at that time.

He was on hand, as well as the present Police Jury member, Braxton Blake, to witness the opening, done by the Cameron Sewerage District No. 1 Board Members Albert Colligan, Ray Theriot and Brown Watts.

The project will cover the town of Cameron east to the John Sells property, west to the Calcasieu Ship Channel south to the Gulf of Mexico and north to the Louisiana Menhaden plant.

The winner of the contract which will run about $1.2 million dollars, will be announced at the next meeting of the board. The contractor will have 400 calendar days to complete the project.

With the close of Teal season, most of our hunters are waiting on the opening of dove season, which will open Oct. 16 to Nov. 28, in the south zone for the first split season; the second split season will be Dec. 11 to Jan. 5.

SQUIRREL AND RABBIT SEASON

These two seasons both open Saturday, Oct. 2. The squirrel season will close Jan. 10, 1983 and the rabbit season will close Feb. 28, 1983. Both daily bag limits are 8 daily and possession limit of 16 after opening day.

RUDY'S FISH N' STOP OFFSHORE FISHING

Most boats taking the Gulf have found fishing has picked up this weekend, with fine catches of red snappers, barracuda and amberjacks. The seas were fairly calm and some boats went as far as 60 miles out. Closer in to shore there's still catches of speckle trout, croackers and red fish. Francis and Kathy Basso fished off the Cameron Jetties Saturday and picked up 15 croackers and some red fish. The largest red fish went 10 lbs. Hard head catfish were really hard to keep off your hook.

The Mermentau River is still producing some rat reds. With a nice bull red caught every once in a while. Mano Murphy caught one red fish this week over 9 lbs.

GARY'S LANDING LOWERY

This past weekend, Glender, myself and my granddaughter Erica made a trip to our camp in Lowery and fished Saturday with the Lynex Richards and Jack Theriots from Lake Charles; fishing on Lynex's pontoon we picked up a few bass and white perch, but fishing was really slow. The water is beautiful in the Lacassine Refuge, so clear you can see your bait and the fish when it hits.

OUT OF STATE FISHING

Bill Pinch and Eugene Miller, both of Grand Chenier, made a trip to White River in Cotter, Ark., fishing for rainbow trout. They fished 4 days and got their limit of 6 per man each day, with the average of about 3 lbs. for each fish.

Until next week, have an outdoor trip.

Ducks Unlimited proves success

By Jesse Knowles, Chairman
Louisiana Wildlife & Fisheries Commission

The close of the most successful teal season in at least three years and the prospect of an improved fall flight of ducks this year is heartening to Louisiana's estimated 130,000 waterfowlers.

It is anticipated there will be more ducks passing through or wintering in the state, than in the previous two duck seasons.

This is due primarily to greatly improved nesting habitat in Canada. The drought that persisted for two years has been broken and there should be better gunning for ducks when the season in the West Zone opens Saturday, Nov. 6.

The fact that Louisiana duck hunters were able to enjoy relatively fair waterfowl hunting during the past two seasons, held in what rightfully can be termed lean years of duck production, wasn't merely a matter of chance.

Certainly some of that hunting success in spite of generally poor water conditions in the far-flung pothole and prairie regions of Canada was due to the good works of Ducks Unlimited in Canada.

The Department of Wildlife and Fisheries has been a staunch financial supporter of DU for many years, since 1947 when the department's first outright contribution of funds was made to that organization for habitat enhancement in Canada.

The contribution of $42,594 to DU by the state wildlife department back in 1947, made possible by an act of the Louisiana Legislature that provided for 10 percent of each basic hunting license fee be spent for waterfowl restoration, was a historic first for Ducks Unlimited.

Louisiana's pioneering effort to help DU has continued since that initial contribution and is significant in that it established a precedent for state governments to support management of waterfowl populations outside their borders.

In 1965, the states of Ohio and South Carolina also initiated programs making grants available to Ducks Unlimited for Canadian habitat development. These states were joined by Pennsylvania, Arkansas, and Wisconsin in 1968. North Carolina followed in 1969, and Minnesota in 1972.

In 1971, the state of California saw the need to protect the future of its waterfowl resources by contributing for the construction of habitat development projects in the provinces of British Columbia and Alberta. The Californians did so through enactment of a law creating the first state duck stamp.

The California move set the stage for other states which followed with similar stamp laws. Today, some states have programs similar to the one inaugurated in Louisiana in 1947. Individually and collectively, the state programs have a single objective: expanding and enhancing available Canadian wetland habitat for waterfowl use.

At present, the Louisiana wildlife dept. has contributed $2,868,949 to DU since 1947. A final audit of resident hunting licenses sold last year is being made and soon another check will be forwarded to DU. By the start of the new year the dept. will have contributed in excess of $3 million to DU. Our state program has sparked dozens of similar state programs.

The annual contribution of the department is, of course, in addition to vast sums of money flowing annually at private levels to DU from Louisiana. The state leads all other states in the number of sponsor memberships. There are 1,865 in Louisiana and each represents a $200 contribution, or a total of $373,000 from these memberships alone.

When one adds the thousands of $15 memberships and the revenue from Ducks Unlimited dinners and auctions that are held each fall in many communities throughout the state, it becomes clear that Louisiana is one of the foremost supporters of DU, and its many good programs in Canada.

Many of the special DU dinners and auctions are held in October. Make an effort to attend one and do your part to keep the ducks coming south, even in those lean years when water in Canada is in short supply except on the DU project lakes.

Archery hunt season to be Oct. 1-Jan. 20

Louisiana's long archery season for deer opens, Friday, Oct. 1, and will extend through Jan. 20, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

The archery season provides for still hunting only in all open deer hunting areas of the state, including wildlife management areas except Salvador and Pointe-au-Chien WMAs.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said either sex deer may be taken in all areas open for deer hunting with the exception of the two management areas mentioned above.

Seasons on squirrel & rabbits open

Louisiana's squirrel and rabbit hunting seasons open Saturday, Oct. 2, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said the squirrel season will remain open through Jan. 10, 1983. There is a daily bag limit of eight on squirrels, with a possession limit of sixteen after opening day of the season.

He said the rabbit season will extend through Feb. 28, 1983. The daily bag limit on rabbits is eight, with a possession limit of sixteen after opening day.

Guidry said hunters should check the digest of hunting regulations for particulars on squirrel and rabbit hunting in the wildlife management areas.

Artist to be in L.C.

Richard Plasschaert of Waseca, Minnesota, will be the Lake Charles D.U. Sponsor Dinner Artist of the Year for 1982, and will be the guest of honor at the annual dinner at the Lake Charles Hilton on Sept. 30, according to Dr. Richard "Rocky" Kent, 1982 Sponsor Chairman.

Plasschaert's painting of a pair of Mallards in flight was chosen as the design for the 1980-81 Federal Duck Stamp, which was purchased nationwide by waterfowl hunters, stamp collectors, and conservationists. The art prints produced from the same work have become part of an exclusive group of wildlife prints that are collected worldwide by an increasing number of investors.

The Lake Charles Ducks Unlimited Chapter has one of the top-ranking Sponsor events in Louisiana, with approximately 170 members participating in 1981. Membership for 1982 is projected at 200 in 1982, according to Dr. Kent.

"This dinner has become an important social event in Lake Charles and is attended more enthusiastically each year. It's actually Ducks Unlimited's way of saying thanks to our biggest contributors," states Dr. Kent. Ducks Unlimited Sponsors are those who donate $200 or more to D.U. each year.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION
CAMERON PARISH SCHOOL BOARD

By virtue of authority in conformity with the procedures of Section 151 through 158 of Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, sealed bids will be received at the office of the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana, on or before the 11th day of October, 1982 at 10:00 a.m., at which time all bids received will be opened by the Cameron Parish School Board for a lease covering the oil, gas, sulphur, potash, and/or other liquid gaseous hydrocarbon mineral rights in, to, and under the following described property: Beginning at the Southwest Corner of Section 16, T14S, R3W, having Louisiana Lambert Coordinates of X = 1,567,623.14' and Y = 422,461.54'; thence N 02° 24' 28" E approximately 275' with the West line of Section 16 to the South shore line of Grand Lake; thence Easterly approximately 4,000' with the South shore line of Grand Lake to the West Bank of an existing well canal; thence Southerly approximately 3,900' with the South line of Section 16 to the point of beginning estimated to contain approximately 32 acres, more or less, less and except any and all navigable waterways contained therein.

It may be for the whole or any particularly described portions of the above described herein.

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (1/2) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted in the lease and one-half (1/2) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed three years, and if the bid offers an annual rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (1/2) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever either expressed or implied, not even for return by lessor of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. Minimum royalties shall be one-fourth (1/4) of all oil and gas produced and saved; one-eighth (1/8) of the value per long ton of sulphur produced and saved which shall yield not less than $2.00 per long ton; one-eighth (1/8) of the value per ton for all potash produced and saved, which shall yield not less than ten cents (10¢) per ton; and one-fourth (1/4) of all other minerals produced and saved.

All leases awarded shall be executed upon terms and conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a rental (which shall in no event be less than one-half (1/2) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect lessor's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the School Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the School Board.

Any lease granted hereunder shall be on the regular current State Agency form and shall be subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board. Certified Check, Bank Money Order, or Cashier's Check, payable to the Cameron Parish School Board for the full amount of the bonus, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid; and no bid thus submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled; and the cash bonus accompanying the successful bid submitted shall be forfeited to the Cameron Parish School Board should he not return the written lease, duly executed, within twenty (20) days after his receipt of the same.

The Cameron Parish School Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to grant a lease on any portion of the tract advertised in such manner as may appear proper to the best bid offered for the lease on the entire tract.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received until 2:00 PM, Friday, October 8, 1982, at the Cameron Parish School Board Office.

Bids shall be received for furnishing all labor and materials and performing all work for the Construction of Additions and Alterations to Grand Lake High School (Phase II), District No. 4, for the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana.

All as per plans and specifications prepared by Hackett & Bailey, which plans and specifications and proposal forms are on file and available for examination by prospective bidders and other interested parties at the office of Hackett & Bailey, Architects and Civil Engineers, 1440 West McNeese Street, Lake Charles, Louisiana. One copy may be obtained at the above address for a deposit of $50.00 per set which will be refundable upon return of the plans and specification within ten days after the Bid Date.

All bids must be sealed and will be publicly opened and read at the above designated place and time. No proposal may be withdrawn within thirty (30) days after the above scheduled time of opening and the right is reserved to reject any and all bids and to waive informalities.

Bid Bond, equal to not less than five percent (5%) of the bid and made payable to the said Cameron Parish School Board, Cameron, Louisiana, must accompany each bid. The bonds of the low bidder may be held for thirty (30) days or until the contract is signed, whichever is sooner. Performance bond for the construction is required upon execution of the contract equal to one hundred percent (100%) of said Contract. Contract shall be executed within seven (7) days after acceptance of the Contractor.

Official action will be taken at the meeting of the Cameron Parish School Board on October 11, 1982.

The Contractor will be paid on monthly estimates in cash in accordance with the specifications.

Alligators

required, then the skin is carefully cut from around the buttons (the bony spine down the middle of the gator's back).

After the skin is cut all around it is peeled away from the carcus and carefully scraped of all fat and skin then carefully salted down with rock, or commercial, salt such as that used in the fishing industry to make brine water.

This is a very important step because if the skins are not properly salted and preserved they will spoil and rot before they have been sold.

When the skins are rolled and tied and put in a safe place it is time to tend to the meat.

Welch does not sell his meat because to do so the hunter must have a sanitary and health inspected slaughter house and he, like most other local hunters, do not care to go into all of the expense and work for just a short season.

However, he does give away the meat to anyone who wants it.

He says that the choice pieces for pot roasting, frying and barbecuing is the tenderloin, (soft, white tubes of meat on each side of the stomach) and the jowls (soft round globs on each side of the jaws).

All of the meat is edible and different people prefer different parts, which range from snow white to brown.

Welch says that the meat is selling for around $4 a pound where it is being marketed.

He says that he has heard about a lot of "bootlegging" of alligators just for the meat because it is becoming more valuable than the hides.

"When more people eat the meat and learn more about how to prepare it there will be an even bigger demand for it", he said.

Does Welch eat the Meat? No, he doesn't, possibly because he spends so much time on the harvest he does not care to eat it, or possibly because he is also a rancher and meat is so plentiful.

At any rate, he does foresee a great future for the alligator meat as a renewable source of food for years to come.

The sales of the alligator hides will be held just after the season closes and the local hunters are hoping for some very good prices, possibly even topping the $18 to $25 per linear foot they got last year.

Each hunter will sell his hides to the highest bidder on an individual basis and the big companies, such as Miami Corporation in Creole and Crain Bros. on Cameron Meadows in Johnson Bayou will have bids on all of their catches from their shareholders in one lot.

The alligator sale should bring quite a lot of income into the area, which is beginning to feel the effects of the recession.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be opened and publicly read by the Purchasing Section of the Division of Administration, Garden Level West, One American Place, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, P. O. Box 44095, at 10:00 A.M. for the following:

Pilot license class to be offered here

The Cameron Vocational - Technical School is now accepting applications for Ground School for Private Air Pilots Licensing, according to Leslie D. Griffith, director.

The Ground School training class is scheduled for a total of 72 hours of instruction. The topics of instruction include: preflight facts, radio communication, use of flight computer, F. A. regulations, sectional charts, radio navigation, airmans information manual and weight and balance.

The curriculum is a requirement of the Federal Aviation Administration for applicants for a private air pilots certificate. Applicants must have logged ground instruction from an authorized instructor before they are qualified to take the written examinations.

After completion of the written examinations the students will have to pass an oral and flight test on procedures and maneuvers selected by an F. A. A. inspector or examiner to determine the applicants competency in the flight operations on which instruction is required by the flight proficiency provisions of the F. A. A.

The school offers the ground school portion of the requirements and the students have to log their flight time with an approved flight instructor.

Interested students 16 years of age and older may pick up applications in the administrative office at the school on weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. There are no tuition fees for this course. The only expense incurred by the students is for books, insurance and supplies.

Bake sale set at Big Lake Tabernacle

The Big Lake Gospel Tabernacle will sponsor a garage sale Friday and Saturday, Oct. 1 and 2, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. They will also have a bake sale and auction Saturday, Oct. 2. The bake sale will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., the auction will begin at 8 p.m. All activities will be held in the church fellowship hall. All proceeds will go to buy ceiling fans for the church.

Every Monday night Rev. V. A. Watson will be teaching a bible study class at the church at 6:30 p.m.

Rev. Wilfred Johnson is pastor.

Grand Lake plans events

The Grand Lake High School Library will have two special activities beginning Oct. 4 through Oct. 29. There will be a book fair and the 1982 read-a-thon.

The book fair will begin each day at 9 a.m. Parents are invited to attend.

The read-a-thon is sponsored by the Mental Health Association. This year each student in the read-a-thon is asked to read 10 books. The students will recruit sponsors and each sponsor is asked to give 25 cents per book. Every child can win a prize and will be allowed to select their prize from a catalog.

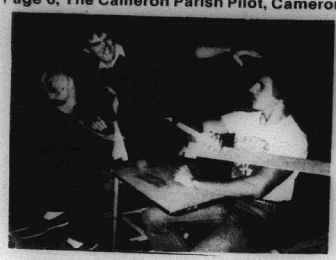
John A. Bertrand Ph.D.

For a candidate to be successful in an election, he must have three things: an understanding and supportive family, an untiring and loyal group of supporters and a majority of the voters who believe in him. I feel extremely grateful to have been blessed with all three in the election held on September 11th, and I wish to publicly thank my family, my many campaign workers and all of the people who voted for me.



I would like to assure all of the people of the Seventh Congressional District that they will have a representative on the BESE Board who is interested in only one thing—THE HIGHEST QUALITY OF EDUCATION FOR OUR CHILDREN NOW AND IN THE FUTURE.

This has been my goal throughout my career in education and I am grateful for the opportunity to contribute even further at the state level.

THANK YOU!

SAPE CLUB members are shown practicing for a play to be presented during SAPE Awareness Week Oct. 4-8 at South Cameron high school.

South Cameron SAPE to give play Monday

South Cameron High School has a new organization, Substance Abuse Prevention in Education, (SAPE). This club was formed from South Cameron's SAPE rap sessions last school year.

The SAPE team, which consists of Theresa Martinez, Mrs. Rosalie Perry, Carl White, Mrs. Debbie Duplechin, Mrs. Donna Nash, and Eddie Benoit, helped organize the club.

The sponsors for the club are Miss Martinez and Mrs. Duplechin.

The first meeting was held Sept. 13.

The following officers were elected: Vashni Frazier, president; Daena Dupont, vice president; Lisa East, secretary; Chris LaLande, reporter; Ginger Bang, treasurer.

On Sept. 19, the SAPE Club sponsored a team of students who attended a high school tug-of-war held in Lake Charles. South Cameron out pulled a number of South Louisiana high schools to take second place.

The SAPE Club is conducting an Awareness Week Oct. 4-8 to inform the student body of what SAPE is all about.

A play, which was written by the president, Vashni Frazier, will be performed on Monday to kick off the activities.

Also a poster contest will be held during that week to emphasize the importance of education about substance abuse.

SAPE club plans many activities

The South Cameron High School S.A.P.E. program is off to a good start. A newly formed S.A.P.E. Club, comprised of students, have joined the SAPE Club comprised of teachers, in making drug education fun.

The team with the aid of the Club is presenting a S.A.P.E. Awareness Week, Oct. 4-8, 1982 for the entire school. The five day program will consist of a period each day of films, speakers, a skit, a sposter contest and/or a pep rally with an anti-drug theme. The purpose of the Awareness is to introduce all students to the S.A.P.E. program and its services.

The team will begin the Wednesday Rap Session after Awareness Week. These sessions are held every Wednesday during lunch recess and are open to the entire student body. Drug education is the primary aim and films, guest speaker and small group discussions are used.

The Club plans to have a dress-up week, a T-shirt Emblem Contst and several more activities in the next few months.

The S.A.P.E. Team is aiming to extend its program from education and awareness to intervention and support to those students who are already involved with drug use.

Anyone in the communities of Cameron, Creole and Grand henier who is interested in this program, may contact any team member for information. The team members are: Kay Alexander, Eddie Benoit, Debbie Duplechin, Teresa Martinez, Donna Nash, Rosalie Perry and Carl White.

Beta Club meets at G.L.

The Beta Club of Grand Lake High School met for the first time Sept. 16.

Plans were made for Beta Convention in Baton Rouge Dec. 9-11. Scholastic contests, held at the convention, were discussed and participants were chosen.

The service project for Oct. was decided, and Jody LaBove will act as chai

Grand Chenier Jr. 4-H club

The Grand Chenier Jr. 4-H Club held their first meeting of the new school year Sept. 14. The meeting was called to order by president Catherine Perry. The Pledge of Allegiance was lead by Norman Hebert and the 4-H Pledge was lead by Toni Mhire.

Secretary, Rhonda Perry called roll. Treasurer, Stacy Perry gave the financial report. Reporter, Becky Theriot reported old and new business.

Chris Nash, Mike Richard and Charles Hebert gave reports on some of the activities that happened over the summer.

The new 4-H leaders were introduced to the club, they are: Rosaline Crain and Mrs. Coral Perry.

Mr. Wicke showed the members how to fill out enrollment cards. Mrs. Cronan presented a slide show on what 4-H is all about.

SHOWN MAKING plans for Achievement Day were Mrs. Rosa Lee Perry, left, and Mrs. Betty McCall, president, of the Grand Chenier Homemakers club.

MUSING. . . .

By Bernice Stewart Denny

Last Tuesday morning Clint and I left our home in Iowa to tour several western states. We plan to travel leisurely and to explore famous sites.

We spent two nights and a day in San Antonio, Tex., with Clint's son and daughter-in-law. Nathan had obtained tickets to the stage play of "The King and I", starring Yul Brynner. We dined at the newly renovated Gunter Hotel that is directly across the street from the theater, which had re-opened the evening before for Yul Brynner's first performance there. I understand that both have been purchased by a Suisse concern.

That afternoon we were ready to embark on a cruise down the San Antonio River in a small open flat boat when a hard shower - unusual for the city - changed our minds. Instead we drove out and viewed the Alamo.

Thursday night was spent at Fort Strockton. Leaving there, we arrived at the dividing line between Texas and New Mexico and moved our watches back an hour to correspond with Mountain Time. Drove to Carlsbad and on to the caverns, which are near White City.

There are caverns and caverns, but none is so huge, so awe-inspiring, so filled with fantastic, mystical beauty as Carlsbad itself. Clint and I rode down in the elevator 750 feet below the surface; then followed the mile and a half winding path back up. Imagine dining in the wide hall 750 feet underground!

Last night we spent in Roswell. Today we drove north as far as Raton. It rained on us the whole way, ranging from light mists to brisk showers. At present the humidity is 80 percent; the temperature 40 degrees, and the barometer is falling. Perhaps I am naive; I had not expected such humidity at the foot of the Rockies.

Tomorrow we drive on to Denver; thence to Salt Lake City; and on up to the Yosemite and the Teton. We hope to visit the Mormon Tabernacle in Salt Lake city and anticipate hearing their marvelous choir.

Only one fly has disturbed the perfection of our trip. In a Las Vegas restaurant the roast beef I ordered tasted like it might have come from a 50-year-old ox butchered four days ago and not cooked. One tiny taste of it was a monstrous too much!! I simply left it on my plate.

S. Cameron Jr. 4-H club

The first meeting of the South Cameron Jr. 4-H Club was held Thursday, Aug. 23 in the auditorium. The following officers were named for 1982-83:

President, Scottie Primeaux; vice president, Dwayne Nunez; secretary, Kristie Vidrine; reporter, Angela Conner; treasurer, Lance McNease; parliamentarian, Roxane Dupre and Calvin Field.

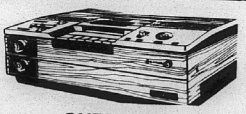
Also the following chairmen were selected:

4-H week, Wes Perry, chairman; Jennifer Canik, Trey Picou, Carl Murphy, co-chairmen.

Fund raising, Alice Welch, chairman; Stephen Boudreaux, Trey Picou and Scott Nunez, co-chairmen.

D. LeBouef rites held

Funeral services for Daniel LeBoeuf, 90, of Sweetlake were held Saturday, Sept. 25, in Hixson Funeral Home Chapel.



The Rev. Steve Conner, Dr. Woodrow Smith, and Glenn Hebert officiated. Burial was in Prien Memorial Park Cemetery.

Mr. LeBoeuf died Thursday in a Lake Charles hospital.

A native of Cameron, he was a retired farmer.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Guy O. (Inez) Park of Lake Charles; five sisters, Mrs. Caroline Agen and Mrs. Agnes Kurucar, both of Sweetlake, Mrs. Lusman Conner of Lake Charles, Mrs. Grace Domingue of Cameron, and Mrs. Theresa Benoit of Grand Chenier.

Also, two brothers, Ralph LeBoeuf of Sweetlake and Monroe LeBocuf of Cameron; four stepdaughters, Mrs. Lillie Ellender, Mrs. Dorothy Thibodeaux and Mrs. Eva Jane Newell, all of Lake Charles, and Mrs. Elaine Hebert of Sweetlake; one grandchild; 13 stepgrandchildren; 28 great-stepgrandchildren, and eight great-great-stepgrandchildren.

Hackberry man shooting victim

Glenn E. Ray, 27, of Hackberry, died from gunshot wounds in an incident at about 10 p.m. Friday, Oct. 1 at a campsite on Choupique Bayou road, several miles west of Sulphur, according to the Calcasieu Parish Sheriff's Department.

He was taken to West Calcasieu-Cameron Hospital where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Ray was reportedly shot an undetermined number of times with a .22 caliber revolver during an argument with another man.

Deputies later arrested a suspect at the Sulphur Police Department. He was identified as Gregory W. Vincent, 23, of Sulphur. Vincent was booked into the parish jail on charges of first - degree murder at 4:07 a.m. Saturday.

Funeral services for Ray were held Monday, Oct. 4, in Hixson Funeral Home chapel in Viton.

The Rev. Lee Perkins officiated. Burial was in Big Woods Cemetery in Edgerly.

A native of Edgerly, Ray had lived in Vinton most of his life until moving to Hackberry a few months ago.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Julie Trahan Ray; one son, Glenn Allen Ray of Hackberry; two daughters, Desiree Ray of Hackberry, and Vinessa Mott of Lake Charles; his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Elton LeJeune of Lake Charles; two brothers, John Patrick Ray of Sulphur and Roger Louis Ray of Lake Charles; two sisters, Beverly Ann Mott of Sulphur and Margie Nell Lambert of Lake Charles; one half-brother, Peddie Lynn LeJeune of Lake Charles; one stepbrother, Bobby Joseph Trahan of Edgerly; his father, John Elton Ray and stepmother, Mrs. Marian Carter Ray of Sulphur, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Autum Ray of Pitkin and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Deville of Edgerly.

Water district to be reactivated in area

Lester Richard, Jr., president of the Cameron parish police jury, Tuesday asked the jury to write board members of Waterworks District No. 9 and ask them to attend a meeting at 7 p.m., Monday, Oct. 11 at the Grand Chenier recereation center to get the district reactivated.

Richard said he wanted to see efforts resumed to get a water system built to serve the communities of Grand Chenier, Little Chenier, Chenier Perdue, Oak Grove and East Creole.

He said that a fire protection district probably would be included also.

This section of Cameron parish is one of the last populated areas of the parish not now served by a public water system.

In other business, Juror Braxton Blake asked the jury to have the body's secretary write letters to the Cameron parish Civil Defense Agency and Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department commending them for the work in the evacuation of the parish for the recent storm Chris.

He also asked that the Jeff Davis Electric Coop be commended for restoring power to the area within 24 hours.

The jury voted to offer a resolution to the Louisiana Police Jury Association asking it to help get Act. No. 416 of the recent legislative repealed. The act, which pertains to the public bid law, requires that on purchases of from $500 to $1500 written price quotations be secured by public bodies. It was felt that this requirement will be too time consuming.

Building permits were approved for the Cameron State Bank, new Hackberry branch bank; River Bend Seafood, Teddy Broussard, business at Grand Chenier; Terry M. Beard, mobile home; and Bryan East, Grand Chenier, residential.

Four persons serving on various parish boards whose terms had expired were reappointed. They were Larry Dyson, Waterworks District 1; Mary Lynn Constance, Johnson Bayou recreation district; Harold Savoie, Waterworks District No. 11; and Mrs. Charles Hebert, Cameron parish library board.

The jury voted to advertise for a new car for use by the road superintendent.

A bid of $28,870 for shelving at the Cameron parish library was approved. Library Interiors of Metairie was the sole bidder.

A 300-foot road right-of-way from Loston McEvers was accepted.

District Attorney Jerry Jones was given permission to do some remodeling in his offices at a cost of $2900.

Juror Brent Nunez announced that Waterworks District 11 in the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area has received $250,000 from the state for the drilling of two water wells and a crossing on the Intracoastal Canal. He asked that the jury express its thanks to Gov. Treen and the Cameron parish legislators.

Lonnie Harper, parish engineer, presented jurors with copies of the parish's solid waste study as approved by the state. He said he believed th state would soon start preparing the parish to implement a solid waste program as all of the parish dumps must be closed within the next few years.

Church dedication

The dedication of the new $100,000 church of the Evening Star Church of God in Christ will be held Sunday, Oct. 10 at 3 p.m., according to Rev. Alfred Perry, pastor.

Superintendent Rev. C. B. Norris of DeRidder will be the speaker.

A special guest at the service will be Bishop John W. White from New Orleans.

Refreshments will be served after the service and the public is invited to attend.

Cameron girl is finalist

Tara Kay LaBove, daughter of A. J. and Stephanie LaBove of Cameron, is one of the ten finalists for the girls division of the Cal-Cam Tiny Tot King and Queen contest.

The final judging of the top ten girls and boys will take place on the fair stage Friday, Oct. 8, at 7 p.m.

Fun Fest set at Lake Arthur

Our Lady of the Lake Family Fun Fest will be held Oct. 8, 9, and 10 at Goretti School in Lake ARthur.

Proceeds will be used to complete the kitchen facility, outdoor covered eating facility and landscaping for the parish's new Christian Unity Center.

The Family Fun Fest begins at 5 p.m. on Friday and at 10 a.m. on Saturday and Sunday.

Unit closed

Dr. Russell R. Conley, Director of the Cameron Parish Health Unit announced today that the Health Unit and all its branch offices will be closed Tuesday, Nov. 2, 1982 for General Election Day and Thursday, Nov. 11 in honor of Veteran's Day. All clinics that are scheduled for those days will be rescheduled.

Fines told

$4,863 was collected through 38th Judicial District traffic court on 89 tickets during the week of Sept. 27 through Oct. 1, according to Jerry G. Jones, Cameron Parish District Attorney.

Certification for Aid to Families with Dependent Children totaled 3 while 21 households were found eligible for Food Stamp benefits.

AFDC grants totaling $3,677 were paid to 26 families for 44 children in the parish.

Food Stamp coupons amounting to $7,855 were authorized for 77 house-

4-H Week is observed here

4-H Clubs all over Cameron parish are celebrating National 4-H Week, Oct. 3-9. 4-H is the youth education program of the Cooperative Extension Service. This informal educational program is conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Louisiana State University, the Parish Police Jury and the Parish School Board and combines the work of federal, state and local Extension staff and volunteer leaders.

Participation in the 4-H program is open to all interested youth between the ages of 9 and 19. The mission of 4-H is to assist youth in acquiring knowledge, developing life skills, and forming attitudes that will enable them to become self-directing, productive and contributing members of society. In the process, 4-H youth apply leadership skills, acquire a positive self-concept and learn to respect and get along with people.

"4-H ain't just cows and cookin". Cameron Parish does have an excellent livestock program and sewing and cooking projects, but it is a lot in between too. This is a sample of the projects we offer: Fur trapping, electricity, citizenship, woodworking, small engines, automotives and child development, just to name a few.

If you would like to learn more about the Cameron Parish 4-H Program talk to your local leader or call Mrs. Nancy Cronan and Gary Wicke, Parish 4-H agents, at 775-5516 for more information.

Oil activities up in parish

Oil and gas activities appear to be picking up in Cameron parish as evidenced by the number of permits for such operations approved by the Cameron parish police jury at its monthly meeting Tuesday.

Permits for oil and gas well sites were approved for Arco Oil and Gas, southeast of Gibbstown; Goldking Production, Little Chenier; Davis Oil Co., offshore well; Transcontinental Oil Corp, three wells, 15 miles south of Sulphur; Mosbacher Production, Grand Lake area; Tee Oil, Lower Mud Lake; First Energy Corp., Sabine Lake; Lamson/Onshore Petroleum, 8 miles southwest of Hayes; Superior Oil, two wells in Grand Chenier area; Amoco Production, three wells in Hackberry area, two on a barge.

The jury also approved pipeline permits for United Gas Pipeline, 1.3 miles of 4.5 inch gas line in Little Chenier area; and .28 miles of 2-3/8 line in Johnson Bayou area.

Seismic permits were approved for Teledyne Exploration in the Sweetlake area and for Phillips Petroleum in the Gulf of Mexico.

Gulf Crafts, Inc. was given permission to dredge a slip to operate a dry dock and shipyard repair facility on the East Fork of the Calcasieu river at Cameron. The jury agreed to shell a road to the site if the company obtains the rights of way.

A request from W. T. Burton Industries to repair and maintain previously constructed levees and install plugs in ditches in the Oyster Bayou area was denied by the jury.

A permit for Arco Oil and Gas for work in a canal near Gibbstown and one for Texas Eastern Transmission for a salt water disposal line into the Mermentau River at Grand Chenier were tabled for further study.

Rice poster contest is announced here

The Rice Council for Market Development, with the support of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service, is sponsoring a "Rice is Nice" poster contest. All Louisiana boys and girls in grades 4, 5, 6 and special education are eligible.

The theme of the poster is : Rice . . . Important To Me, Louisiana, and the World. The poster should be of original design and shall be no larger than 11" x 14" in size. The posters must be postmarked no later than midnight. Nov. 30, 1982. Mail to: Louisiana Rice Council, Route 1, Box 252, Bell City, La. 70630.

Winners will be announced by Jan. 20, 1983. First prize of a $500 savings bond, and 1st, 2nd and 3rd place trophies will be awarded in each age category. Posters will be judged on clarity, originality and creativity. All posters will become the property of the Rice Council.

To be eligible, the following information must be printed on the back of the poster: Name, home address, home phone, parish school and/or organization, teacher and/or leader, school and/or organization address and grade.

Fishing to end on Lacassine

The Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge, located in eastern Cameron Parish will close to fishing and other forms of public use at sunset on Oct. 15, according to Bobby Brown, manager of the refuge.

Brown says that the Oct. 15 date is the normal time that the refuge closes its doors to the public. At this time the refuge begins preparations to receive the hundreds of thousands of ducks and geese that spend the winter in its marshes.

The refuge will reopen to the general public for fishing, sightseeing, birdwatching and other uses on March 1, 1985.

Persons wishing to be on the refuge after the closing date must see special permission from the refuge manager.

Jury association to meet in Creole

The Region Seven Police Jury Association, composed of jurors from eight Southwest Louisiana parishes, will hold their 28th annual meeting at the Creole KC hall on Friday, Oct. 8, according to Kenneth Ducote of Hackberry, association president.

Congressman John Breaux will be the guest speaker. James T. Hays, executive secretary, and William Doran, attorney, both of the Louisiana Police Jury Association, also will speak.

Registration will be from 1 to 2 p.m. followed by a welcome by Mr. Ducote and invocation by Judge Ward Fontenot.

Garner Nunez, secretary of the 7th region, will give the roll call and Lester Richard, president of the Cameron Parish Police Jury, will welcome the jurors.

Among the business to be taken up by the group will be the adoptions of resolutions to present to the state police jury convention, selection of next year's meeting site and the election of new officers.

Bank holiday

The Cameron State Bank announced that all of its offices will be closed Monday, Oct. 11 in observance of Columbus Day.

Lions hold bulb sale

The Cameron Lions Club held their annual door-to-door light bulb sale Thursday, Sept. 30 in the lower Cameron and Sweet-lake - Big Lake areas.

Funds from the profit on this sale will be used to purchase eyeglasses for school children and other needy persons who cannot afford glasses, according to Baron Thomas, Lions club president.

Homemakers hold Achievement Day

"Homemakers, Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow" was the theme of the 1982 Cameron Parish Extension Homemakers Council Achievement Day. Fifty - seven Homemakers attended the one day event which was Saturday, Sept. 25 at the South Cameron Elementary School.

Calling the meeting to order was Mrs. Billie Fruge, council president. The Pledge of Allegiance was led by Mrs. Shirley Bonsall with Mrs. Earline Baccigalopi leading the club collect. Mrs. Nata Hebert gave the welcome. Narrating the Dress Revue was Mrs. Lena Guidry.

Mrs. Claudette Hanks Reichel, Housing and Household Equipment Specialist from LSU, presented a program entitled "The Easy Living Home." She explained with slides and exhibits how to make everyday tasks easier with good planning, especially for the elderly and physically handicapped.

The announcement of the Club Women of the Year was one of the highlights of the day. Each of the five clubs in the parish vote on the woman they feel has helped their club the most during the year. Mrs. Nancy C. Cronan, Extension Agent for Cameron Parish, presented each Club Woman of the Year with a trophy and corsage. A personal gift was also presented to each Club Woman of Year in the form of a poem which highlighted the unique qualities which club members feel make them special.

Another high honor a homemaker can receive is the Outstanding Achievement Day Winner award. Plaques were presented to the women who accumulated the most points on their exhibits in the various contest categories. Mrs. Betty McCall of Grand Chenier placed first. Receiving second place was Mrs. Billie Fruge of Sweetlake. Tying for third place were Mrs. Dorothy Theriot of Grand Chenier and Mrs. Charlotte Bonsall of Creole.

Probably what many though was the most entertaining part of Achievement Day was the performance of skits by each club. Placing first in the skit contest was Creole with their rendition of "A Typical Day in the Life of Early Creole Settlers." They showed how women of yesteryear performed daily tasks of cleaning and scrubbing, cording cotton, spinning yarn, making soap and then ended it with an old fashioned Fais-Do-Do.

The Sweetlake Club received second place for their skit which included homemakers from the good old days, present times and their version of the future.

Pacing third was the Cameron Club. Their skit was totally different in that they focused on the fashions and personalities of homemakers from the early 1900's to projecting what they think will be worn in the future.

The Grand Chenier skit was also excellent and earned the Honorable Mention award. In their skit they featured homemakers in days past, the homemakers of the present day and what homemakers have to look forward to in the future.

Another contest which shows lots of hard work is the Publicity Book Contest. Reporters from each club write news articles all year long highlighting their club events and club Historians clip out the articles and record them in a scrapbook. Placings in the publicity book contest are as follows: Sweetlake, first; Cameron, second; Creole, third; and Grand Chenier Honorable Mention.

The order of placings in the Name Tag Contst are: Grand Chenier, first; Hackberry, second; Sweetlake, third; Creole and Cameron, Honorable Mention.

Striped bass program

By Jesse Knowles, Chairman
Louisiana Wildlife & Fisheries Commission

In the past year or so, I've heard some grumbling by bass fishermen that the wildlife department was putting too much emphasis on the striped bass program, and it would please more sport fishermen if the department paid more attention to improving largemouth black bass fishing throughout the state.

I'd be willing to wager that you've heard some of this talk and wonder if there is any substance to it. Questions that come up include: Are there enough striped bass fishermen to make the program worthwhile? Would angling for largemouth black bass be any better in the big impoundments like Toledo Bend and D'Arbonne Lake if the department had never begun its striped bass program back in 1965? Are those big striped bass eating high on the hog on large-mouth black bass?

Those questions raised by some members of bass clubs and by freshwater anglers who say that catching black bass is becoming more difficult at Toledo Bend and in some of the other big impoundments naturally put pressure on fisheries biologists to come up with some solid answers.

Compounding the welling opposition to striped bass was a movement to get the Louisiana legislature involved. As a former state senator and member of the legislature for 20 years, I can rightfully say that legislators are not fisheries biologists and the best bet is to make those highly qualified fisheries biologists come up with some concrete data that is not scientific double-talk that tends to confuse the average fisherman.

The department has done just that during the recent year or so, and the wildlife commission was presented with a comprehensive report on the stroped bass program at its recent meeting in New Orleans.

What I learned during that detailed report should prove of great interest to black bass fishermen and shed some light on the importance of the striped bass fisheries in other states, an economic plus that could well be duplicated in Louisiana.

Basically, striped bass are anadromous fish. They normally spend most of their lives in saltwater, but migrate to freshwater to spawn. They were once abundant in the Tchefuncte-Bogue Falaya rivers and the Bogue Chitto-Pearl rivers.

In the late 1940s and early 1950s, coastal stream channelization, an accompanying increase in silt loads, destruction of riffle areas, and the filling of estuarine distributaries with silt, destroyed the normal spawning pattern and the native stripers disappeared.

Louisiana fisheries biologists became interested in striped bass when it was discovered that land-locked stripers in the Santee-Cooper reservoir had spawned and reproduced.

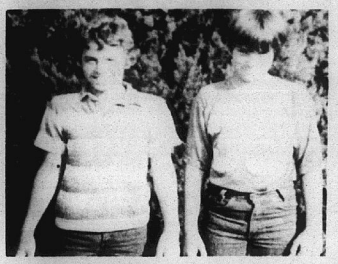
Research in South Carolina showed that striped bass fed primarily on shad, the nuisance fish that takes over most impoundments when it can't be controlled.

Louisiana, like most southeastern states, has a problem with gizzard shad. They overcrowd the impoundments and the problem is compounded by a long growing season, relatively fertile waters, and a lack of sufficient predatory fishes to control the forage fish.

So, Louisiana imported striper fry from South Carolina and began stocking these predatory fish. Eventually, they began hatchery production of stripers to be used in the program.

The real thrust of the recent research to come up with a solid explanation of what striped bass eat had to be stomach analysis. Some 273 stripers were collected from five lakes and impoundments.

The stripers from D'Arbonne contained 100 percent shad. Lake Bistineau stripers showed 65.5 shad, Lake Bruin 95.2 percent. Claiborne Lake showed 94.3 percent. Cane River Lake showed 88.6 perdent.



I'm convinced now that the striped bass fishery is serving the purpose for which it was intended, controlling gizzard shad. I don't fish striped bass but they tell me it's like catching a tarpon on casting tackle. It's great sport. If properly promoted, it will bring a lot of tourists/fishermen like those other states attract.

At any rate, they're not hurting the black bass populations and black bass are my favorites, so I'm happy.

The Fish Division will gladly show the slide presentation and provide the data for bass clubs or other interested groups. All you have to do is ask.

CHARLES HEBERT and Michael Richard, Grand Chenier Jr. 4-H Club, placed in their classes in the Louisiana Brahman Show held in Lake Charles this summer.

NOTICE TO ENTEX CUSTOMERS

OCTOBER 1, 1982

NATURAL GAS RATES WILL BE GOING UP ABOUT 25 PERCENT DURING THE NEXT FEW MONTHS, ACCORDING TO Lee Brown, MANAGER OF ENTEX. TH BULK OF THE INCREASE WILL BECOME EFFECTIVE ON OCTOBER 1, WHEN THE PRICE WILL GO UP ABOUT 17 PERCENT. ANOTHER EIGHT PERCENT WILL BE ADDED TO GAS BILLS ON JANUARY 1. THE INCREASES, WHICH WERE AUTHORIZED BY THE FEDERAL ENERGY REGULATORY COMMISSION, WILL AMOUNT TO ABOUT 22 CENTS PER DAY FOR RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS BEGINNING OCTOBER 1. THE JANUARY INCREASE WILL BRING THE TOTAL INCREASE TO ABOUT 33 CENTS PER DAY.

ON AN ANNUAL BASIS, RESIDENTIAL CUSTOMERS HERE WILL BE PAYING ABOUT $105 MORE TO HEAT THEIR HOMES, COOK, AND HEAT WATER DURING 1983.

UNITED GAS PIPELINE COMPANY FROM WHICH ENTEX BUYS MOST OF ITS SUPPLY OF NATURAL GAS, HAS BEEN AUTHORIZED TO RAISE ITS PRICE IN OCTOBER BY $1.00 PER MCF (1,000 CUBIC FEET). THE PRICE THEN WILL BE $5.03 PER MCF TO ENTEX. (TEN YEARS AGO ENTEX PAID 65 CENTS PER MCF). ENTEX IS JUST PASSING ALONG THIS INCREASE ON A PENNY FOR PENNY BASIS. ENTEX WILL NOT REALIZE ONE ADDITIONAL CENT OF PROFIT FROM THIS PRICE INCREASE.

SINCE OCTOBER IS A MONTH THAT DOES NOT NORMALLY REQUIRE A LOT OF HEATING THE IMPACT OF THIS INCREASE SHOULD BE MINIMAL. THE CUSTOMER WHOSE BILL AMOUNTED TO $70 LAST DECEMBER WILL GET A BILL FOR $81.90 THIS DECEMBER, AND IF JANUARY IS EQUALLY AS COLD AS DECEMBER, THE SECOND PRICE INCREASE WILL BOOST THAT BILL TO ABOUT $88.45.

ENTEX POINTS OUT THAT YOU CAN HELP REDUCE THESE AMOUNTS BY FOLLOWING CERTAIN CONSERVATION PRACTICES. WE ENCOURAGE YOU TO TAKE THE FOLLOWING CONSERVATION MEASURES IF YOU HAVE NOT ALREADY DONE SO:

1. INSULATE ATTICS, WALL, CRAWL SPACES.
2. CAULK AND WEATHERSTRIP.
3. IN WINTER LOWER THE THERMOSTAT TO 68 DEGREES DURING THE DAY AND 55 DEGREES AT NIGHT OR TURN OFF THE FURNACE AT NIGHT.
4. WEAR WARMER CLOTHING, AND HAVE HEAVY BLANKETS ON THE BED AT NIGHT.
5. REDUCE THERMOSTAT SETTING ON WATER HEATER TO MEDIUM.

ENTEX WOULD LIKE TO REMIND YOU THAT ALTHOUGH THE PRICE OF NATURAL GAS WILL INCREASE, IT STILL REMAINS THE NUMBER ONE ENERGY BARGAIN IN LOUISIANA WHEN COMPARED TO ALTERNATE SOURCES OF ENERGY.

Hackberry FBLA has many activities

On Sept. 13, the Hackberry Future Homemakers of America met for their first meeting of the 1982 - 83 school year. Reports on the local Yam and Electric contest, the calendar of events, and the point system were given.

A cause trip was planned for Oct. 23 for the top twenty fund raisers.

An ice cream party will be held Oct. 13 for the class with the largest percentage of FHA membership.

A balloon and clown service, for the community, was formed by the club. For a clown, balloon bouquet, and candy for a party of ten children the price is $15 (50 cents for each additional child). Clowns and a balloon bouquet only will cost $10. Contact Shay Simon at 762-4624, Nita Mire at 762-3950, or Michelle Ducote at 762-3592 for more information.

Also discussed at the meeting was Kris Kringle, a project where the club members secretly do favors for faculty and staff members. The club has decided to have the project Nov. 15 to Dec. 17.

Mrs. Barbara Lee and her son, from Maplewood, put on a puppet show for entertainment after the meeting. Mrs. Lee is a professional clown.

Recognized from last year's Awards Night were Katie Soriez for first in fund raising, Angie Barfield, second in fund raising, Bobby Stansel FHA Sweetheart, and Shay Simon, Miss FHA.

FBLA holds 1st meeting

The Hackberry Chapter of FBLA held its first meeting on Sept. 13 with Mrs. Mary Baker, advisor, presiding.

A brief introduction to FBLA was given to all new members and the annual fund raising drive was presented and approved.

The 1982-83 officers were introduced as follows: President - Anita Mire; vice - president - Shay Simon; secretary - Rhonda Johnson; treasurer - Michelle Ducote; historian - Kim Stout; reporter - Roy Trahan; parliamentarian - Patricia Simon and chaplain - Patrick Walther.

People once believed that if their palms itched they would receive money.

LEGALS

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Acting under the authority of the Legislature of the State of Louisiana, the Cameron Parish School Board will receive sealed bids for the leasing of all surface rights including the rights of range, trapping, hunting, fishing, and farming, on the following described lands:

Section 16, Township 12, Range 13 - Description: Approximately three (3) miles East of Sabine River. Two (2) miles South of Calcasieu Parish Line.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 3 - Description: Partial section (332.96 acres) three (3) miles West of Vermilion Parish line; bordering Grand Lake.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 5 - Description: Located in Little Chenier area. One-half (1/2) mile West of Mermentau River along Little Chenier Highway.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 11 - Description: Three (3) miles West of Calcasieu Lake. Approximately four (4) miles North of Holly Beach.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 13 - Description: South end of Sabine Wildlife Refuge. Five (5) miles North of Gulf of Mexico in Johnson Bayou area.

Section 16, Township 14, Range 14 - Description: Three (3) miles East of Sabine Lake on Starks Canal.

Section 16, Township 15, Range 4 - Description: Approximately one (1) mile North of Highway 82 in Grand Chenier Area. North of Rockefeller Refuge.

(For further information a description map is available to be seen in the School Board Office during normal working hours.)

All bids must be sealed; the envelope marked "Bid - Section 16, Township _____, Range _____" and may be forwarded through the U. S. Mail to the Cameron Parish School Board, P. O. Box 547, Cameron, LA 70631. Bidder must offer an annual rental of not less than $1.00 per acre for a lease with a primary term to end September 30, 1987. Annual renewal rentals will be due each year by September 30th, in order to continue the lease in effect. Cash or check in favor of the Cameron Parish School Board for the amount of the annual rental for the first year shall accompany and be deposited with the bid, and the rental thus deposited shall be forfeited to the Board as liquidated damages if the successful bidder fails to enter into written contract in accordance with his bid within ten (10) days after acceptance by the Board.

If farming rights are utilized, bidder may offer annual rental plus a fractional part of not less than one-sixth (1/6) of any and all crops produced and saved during the year. The value of the one-sixth (1/6) share shall not be considered in the awarding of the lease unless the bidder guarantees a specific amount which shall be added to and accompany the bid. Should the one-sixth (1/6) value of crops be less than the cash guarantee paid at the time of the lease, the Cameron Parish School Board shall demand such additional payment as necessary to bring the value adjustment to a full one-sixth (1/6) of crops produced and harvested on any and all listed sections.

The surface rights and privileges granted in the lease are restricted to range, trapping, hunting, farming, and fishing and these rights shall in no way, manner, or form interfere with the granting of a mineral lease or the full utilization of all rights and privileges granted in any mineral lease.

Bids will be received until the hour of 10:00 a.m., Monday, October 11, 1982 at which time all bids received will be opened and considered in public session of the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids received.

RUN: Sept. 23, 30, Oct. 7

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION
CAMERON PARISH SCHOOL BOARD

By virtue of and in conformity with the procedures of Section 151 through 158 of Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, sealed bids will be received at the office of the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana, on or before the 11th day of October, 1982 at 10:00 a.m., at which time all bids received will be opened by the Cameron Parish School Board for a lease covering the oil, gas, sulphur, potash, and/or other liquid gaseous hydrocarbon mineral rights in, to, and under the following described property: Beginning at the Southwest Corner of Section 16, T14S, R3W, having Louisiana Lambert Coordinates of X = 1,567,623.14' and Y = 422,461.54'; thence N 02° 24' 28" E approximately 2750' with the West line of Section 16 to the South shore line of Grand Lake; thence Easterly approximately 4,000' with the South shore line of Grand Lake to the West bank of an existing well canal; thence Southerly approximately 850' with West bank of existing canal to a point intersecting the South line of Section 16; thence N 89° 21' 27" W approximately 3,900' with the South line of Section 16 to the point of beginning; estimated to contain approximately 322 acres, more or less, less and except any and all navigable waterways contained therein.

Bids may be for the whole or any particularly described portions of the tract advertised herein.

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (1/2) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease and one-half (1/2) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed three years, and if the bid offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (1/2) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, not even for return by lessor of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. Minimum royalties shall be one-fourth (1/4) of all oil and gas produced and saved; one-eighth (1/8) of the value per long ton of sulphur produced and saved which shall yield not less than $2.00 per long ton; one-eighth (1/8) of the value per ton for all potash produced and saved, which shall yield not less than ten cents (10¢) per ton; and one-fourth (1/4) of all other minerals produced and saved.

All leases awarded shall be executed upon terms and conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay (which shall in no event be less than one-half (1/2) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the Board's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease granted by the School Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the School Board.

Any lease granted hereunder shall be on the regular current State Agency form and shall be subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board. Certified Check, Bank Money Order, or Cashier's Check, payable to the Cameron Parish School Board for the full amount of the bonus, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid; and no bid thus submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled; and the cash bonus accompanying the bid of the successful bidder shall be forfeited to the Cameron Parish School Board should he not return the written lease, duly executed, within twenty (20) days after his receipt of the same.

The Cameron Parish School Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to grant a lease on any portion or of the tract advertised for a price not less than proportionate to the best bid offered for the lease on the entire tract.

Court News

Judge H. Ward Fontenot handed down two sentences of nine years each in the Department of Corrections in 38th Judicial District court Thursday to Douglas Warren Freeze, Jr., 32, P.O. Box 198, Cameron and Joseph Russell Weiss (alias Joseph Shea), 38, Gen. Del., Cameron.

Freeze was found guilty of aggravated criminal property damage by a Cameron Parish petit jury on Aug. 27.

It involved the firing of a gun and striking the truck of Bruce Bang in which Roland Trosclair, III was injured when struck by the bullet.

Shea pled guilty after a sanity hearing.

Lyman R. Waller, 20, Rt. 11, Box 67, Lake Charles, was found guilty in a judge trial to distrubiing the peace (drunk) and was fined $35 and costs or one day in jail.

Guilty pleas to D.W.I. charges brought the following sentences: $400 and costs or three days in jail for Wilbert L. Trahan, 34 Lake Charles; William Kenneth Wilhite, 44, Sulphur; and Terry P. Procter, 25, Lafayette.

$350 and costs or 30 days to Gerald W. Desotto, Pineville; and David Jerome Macmillan, 20, Edgewater, Fla., who was also fined $25 and costs or two days for driving left of center.

The following had the suspension of the imposition of their sentences and unsupervised probation for one year: Perry Wayne Comeaux, 2926 Broussard St., Sulphur, who was also fined court costs for speeding 72/55; and Kenneth W. Landry, 20, Iowa, La., who was also fined $45 and costs or three days in jail for displaying power.

A bench warrant was issued for William Floyd Hill, Gen. Del., Cameron for failure to pay fine.

Willis Eugene Deville, 18, Hackberry, had his probation extended one year for a probation violation and was ordered to pay his fine within 30 days.

Prosecuting for the state were Jerry G. Jones, Cameron Parish District Attorney and Glenn Alexander, his assistant.

La. second in U. S. in sentence lengths

Judge H. Ward Fontenot, of the 38th Judicial District Court in Cameron states that a recent study shows that Louisiana trails only West Virginia in the average length of prison sentences handed down by judges.

Contact, Inc. said in its August issue of Corrections Compendium that the average length of sentence is 14½ years in Louisiana. The average in West Virginia is 15 years.

Richard Crane, former attorney for the Louisiana Department of Corrections and a contributing writer to the magazine, said he did not handle that portion of the report and wasn't sure whether the figures represented average total time served or the original sentence of a judge.

Legislators have complained that many criminals get out early because a portion of the original sentence is suspended and state law allows inmates to become eligible for parole after serving one third of an original sentence for most crimes.

The lowest average length of sentence is 15 months in Massachusetts, according to the report.

Texas leads the nation in the total number of inmates, with 31,527, while North Dakota has the fewest with 296, the report said. Louisiana's population is just over 8,300.

Alaska pays the most per day for keeping inmates, $65.71 per prisoner, while Texas appears to pay the least, just over $11 a day per inmate. The cost to Louisiana is just over $27 a day.

Judge Fontenot explained that this might help Cameron parish citizens to understand that the local court's sentences are in line with those in other courts and that Louisiana courts lead the nation in the severity of sentences.

There has been some criticism that some of the court's sentences have been too light on some charges.

The expression "He wears his heart on his sleeve" probably comes from an old English Valentine's Day custom. In the 1700s, a young man used to wear a paper with his loved one's name on his sleeve for several days after the holiday.

Sheriff initiates new watch program

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department has added a new program to be carried out in all of the communities, "The Neighborhood Watch."

Deputy Donald Benoit, of the Crime Prevention Section of the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Dept., announced that the first meeting of the new program will be at the Council on Aging Building in Cameron Friday, Oct. 15, at 9:30 a.m.

A film will be shown called "Senior Power", to be followed by a talk on crime prevention.

This program is guided by the crime prevention coalition, a group of more than 70 national organizations, federal agencies, and state crime prevention offices.

The coalition guides the National Citizen's Crime Prevention Campaign which is a comprehensive public education program that has itzs symbol "Mr. Gruff", a crime prevention dog, which is prominently displayed on all the posters.

Sheriff James R. "Sono" Savoie said "The Neighborhood Watch program consists of four meetings.

"At the meetings the public will be informed on how to use property identification of valuables, the proper locks for doors and windows and proper lighting, and most of all how to be a watchful neighbor.

"In fact", Sheriff Savoie said, "Neighbors working together in cooperation with law enforcement, can make one of the best crime fighting teams there is. We don't ask that anyone take personal risks to prevent crime, the neighborhood watch program leaves the responsibility for apprehending criminals with the law enforcement officers."

Signs will be erected in each community where the citizens attend the four meetings which will be conducted by the Sheriff's office.

They will be erected in prominent places where they will be easily visible to anyone anticipating a burglary or theft crime.

Blood drive to be made here in Nov.

Sandy Hollier of United Blood Service, Lafayette, was the guest speaker at last week's meeting of the Cameron Lions Club.

She was introduced by Roderick Soileau, chief technologist at South Cameron hospital.

Miss Hollier outlined plans for the upcoming "Community Blood Drive" for Cameron parish to be held Saturday, Nov. 13, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at South Cameron hospital.

The event is sponsored by the Cameron Lions club and conducted by the United Blood Service which supplies blood to 29 hospitals in 14 parishes.

The service is a non-profit organization and serves on an all-volunteer basis. All donors who give their blood assures for them and their immediate family members that they are covered for blood replacement for 6 months.

The age limit for donors is from 17 to 65 years of age.

Miss Hollier pointed out that these drives are held in all parishes and this is the first one tor Cameron parish, however, others are planned for May of 1983 and a high school drive in Feb., 1983.

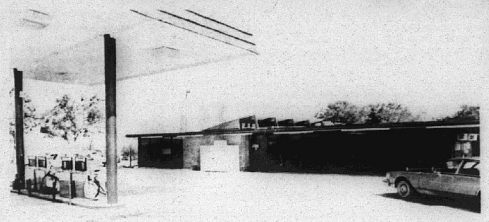
Baron Thomas, Lions president, said that a committee will be appointed to handle the event from the Cameron Lions club.

J. Berton Daigle, who served as chairman of the door-to-door light bulb sale last week, gave a report on the success of the drive. Money received will go toward the sight conservation program of the local club.

RODERICK SOILEAU, chief technologist at South Cameron hospital and Cameron Lion, and Sandy Hollier with United Blood Service, Lafayette, hold blood donors posters to be used for the Cameron Lions Club's first Community Blood Drive.

New business opens in the Creole area

A modern new business complex has been opened in the building formerly used as a medical clinic by Dr. George Dix between Creole and Oak Grove, according to F. O. Theriot, owners of the facilities.



The front portion of the remodeled building contains the Creole Conoco and Superette which will be open 24 hours a day and will feature Conoco gasoline and oil products, fresh meats cut daily, groceries, produce and package liquor and beer.

Also opened in the same building is the Gumbo and Steak House which will be open from 4 p.m. to 4 a.m. daily serving gumbo, steaks, fried shrimp, etc.

Another facility in the building is the Chenier Lounge, serving mixed drinks and beer and open Monday through Saturday.

Rippy Hemsell is the operator of all of the various businesses at the location.

Mr. Theriot is also the owner of Cameron Oil and Gas, the local Conoco distributor.

A NEW BUSINESS complex has opened in the building which was formerly Dr. Dix's clinic between Creole and Oak Grove. It includes the Creole Conoco and Superette, the Gumbo and Steak House and the Chenier Lounge. F. O. Theriot is the owner and Rippy Hemsell is the operator.

J. B. girl fair winner

Shontel Blanchard, 14, was named Miss Personality Plus at the junior queen contest of the Calcasieu - Cameron Fair. This honor is chosen by the contestants.

Shontel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quentine Blanchard of Johnson Bayou and is a student of Johnson Bayou High School.

Fishing to end on Sabine

The 1982 fishing season on the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge will end at sundown on Oct. 15. All impoundments, interior canals, and the Grand Bayou area are included by the closure. These areas will remain closed throughout the winter to protect and maintain waterfowl concentration in the area. The use of gill nets on the refuge are included by this closure. All persons are cautioned against entering these areas after the closure date.

Again this year, the roadside canals along Highway 27 will remain open throughout the winter for canal bank fishing and crabbing. No boats will be allowed in the canals and usage will be limited to daylight hours only. This change is being done on a trial basis and should excessive littering and/or other violations become problems then winter usage will not be continued in the future.

The same 24,000 acres of the refuge will be opened to the public for waterfowl hunting this winter during the duck season. During the hunting season the parking lots adjacent to the hunting area will be for the exclusive use of hunters until 12 AM (noon), also the road canals adjacent to the hunt area will be closed to crabbing and fishing during this time.

No boats may be launched at launching sites during the closure, with the exception of those being used during the duck hunting season.

Board demands well

The Cameron parish school board voted Monday to make a formal demand on the Burton - Sutton Oil Company, which has the lease on a school section in the Johnson Bayou area that the company drill an oil well to stop the drain of oil from the school section by wells on other nearby properties.

The board indicated to two representatives of the firm who were present at the meeting if they did not meet the board demand the board would go to court to try and cancel the company's lease.

While not admitting that adjacent wells might be draining the school board property, the Burton - Sutton representatives said they were willing to submit the evidence to a competent geologist and if he decided the school property was being drained the company would either drill a well or pay the board royalty to make up for the drainage.

But on the recommendation of the school board's geologist, Adam Sturlese, and its legal advisor, District Attorney J. B. Jones, board members said they were satisfied that the board's land was being drained and that they were demanding that Burton - Sutton drill a well to offset the drainage.

Board members said that apparently the school property had been being drained by wells on other property for at least eight years and said this was revenue that could not be recovered.

Record leases given

The Cameron parish school board awarded surface leases totaling $64,579.61 on seven board-owned sections Monday in what was probably the largest such lease awards ever made by the board. Most of the leases went to firms and individuals who intend to use the sections for duck and goose hunting.

Chesson Oil Company submitted the largest bid, 15,000 on Section 16-14-5, outbidding nine other persons.

Other successful bidders were:

Section 16-14-3: Carson Guin, $1664, 5 bidders.

Section 16-12-13: KAB Construction, Lee Fogleman, $10,505, 12 bidders.

16-14-13: The Meyer Group, Vernon Meyer, $10,505, 4 bidders.

16-14-14: Harvey G. Heard, $8,143. 3 bidders.

16-15-4: James E. Mouton, $12,651.50, 10 bidders.

16-15-3: Gene Pratt, $6,111.11. 3 bidders.

No bids were received on Sections 16-15-7 and 16-14-11 and these will be rebid.

Schools sections are leased for three year periods. Bids have been increasing each year the sections have been put up.

The board also accepted a mineral lease on 32 acres in Section 16-14-3. Charles de-Gravelle was the sole bidder with a bonus bid of $6,496 and an annual rental of $3248 for three years with 26 percent of the minerals to go to the school board.

Historical meeting set

The Cameron Parish Historical Society will met at 7 p.m. Monday, Oct. 18 at the police jury building in Cameron, according to Mrs. Ching Conner, president.

The current membership drive will be discussed. Dues are: students, $2; single, $10; couples, $15; patron, $50; and benefactor, $100.

Persons wishing to join may contact any of these persons: Madeline Salina, Hackberry; Mrs. Lee Harrison, Grand Chenier; Willa Dean Morris, Creole; or Mrs. Lena Guidry, Grand Lake-Sweetlake.

Renovation of the old Granger home in Cameron into a museum will be discussed at the meeting.

Jail ministry has new place

The Cameron Jail Ministry, which has been serving the spiritual needs of prisoners in the Cameron parish jail, now has another location for regular meetings.

Pastor Howard Dupuie is now preaching every Saturday at 7 p.m. at Touchet's Cabins in Holly Beach. The public is invited to attend.

Anyone wishing directions or more information may call 775-5464, Cameron.

Rep. Breaux praises jurors

Congressman John Breaux told area police jurors Friday "My hat is off to you" as he knew that they were carrying on despite "local government being in a real crisis period."

Breaux was the featured speaker at the annual meeting of the Region Seven Police Jury Association hosted by the Cameron parish police jury at the Creole K. C. hall.

The congressman noted that under the Reagan administration, more and more governmental programs were being transferred from the federal to the state and local levels despite the fact local government was unable to get additional local funds.

However, he said, much of the blame had to lie with the federal government which for too many years has accustomed the public to ever expanding government benefits without the revenue to back them up.

Concerning revenue sharing, on which local government has come to depend, Breaux said he supported it but predicted it would be funded only at the current level with no cost of living adjustment.

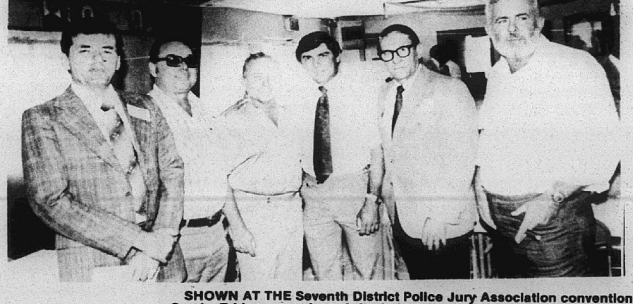
James T. Hays, executive secretary of the Louisiana Police Jury Association, was critical of the state administration for keeping all of the oil and gas severance taxes for state programs and not passing some of it along to local governments.

"We are just going to have to bow our necks and work harder to get the money brought back to the local level," he declared.

Taking up resolutions, the group passed one offered by the Cameron parish police jury urging the legislature to repeal Act 416 pertaining to the public bid law. The jurors objected to the provision that requires juries to secure five telephone bids on purchases between $2500 and $5000 maintaining this was too restrictive.

Other resolutions adopted pertained to limiting the liability of jurors, including jurors in the state hospitalization program and requiring cities to take over parish roads in annexed areas.

Allen Parish was selected as next year's region seven meeting site.



Elected as region seven officers were Kenneth Hebert, president; Sonny Weatherford, vice-president; and Bob Brooks, secretary, all of Allen; and Larry Buller, Evangeline, executive board member.

Cameron parish jurors played important rolls in the meeting. Kenneth Ducote, who was 7th district president this year, presided over the meeting, and Garner Nunez, parish treasurer, called the roll of parishes and recognized guests. Lester Richard, Jr., jury president, welcomed the visitors.

Another local juror, Ray Conner was elected to region's highway committee for the coming year.

In addition to them, others on the program were Judge Ward Fontenot, who gave the invocation, and William Doran, attorney for the state association.

The Cameron police jury hosted a seafood supper for the group following the business meeting.

At jury meet

Grads to be honored

The St. Louis - South Cameron game to be played Friday, Oct. 22, at Tarpon Stadium will be dedicated to the 15-year graduates of South Cameron High School. Reserved seats will be provided for them on the field.

The graduates are: Robert Baccigalopi, Ted Baccigalopi, Gladys Benoit, Gledna Benoit, Patricia Benoit, Ronnie Benoit, Sidgy Benoit, Dewey Boudreaux, Gwen Boudreaux, Ronald Breaux, Wendell Broussard, Mark Brown.

Debbie Jones, Joe Clark, James Conner, Roy Conner, Ronald Delcambre, Gloria Derouen, Patsy Doxey, Anna Guillory, Keith Hebert, Tommy Kershaw, Charlene LaBove, Michael LaBove, Karen K. Miller, Linda Miller, Sandra Miller, Suzanne Nunez, Gladys Peshoff, Ronnie Picou, Paula Richard.

Sharlene Richard, Walter Rome, Arlene Roux, Barkley Roux, Geraldine Savoie, Kathy Savoy, James Savoie, Darrell Swire, Carol Trahan, Carolyn Trahan, Sharon Theriot, Thomas Thornton, Diane Warren, Barbara Williams.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE Conway LeBleu, left, and Police Juror Brent Nunez show happy smiles after reading a letter from Gov. Dave Treen announcing that the Governor has complied with LeBleu's request to appropriate $250,000 for Waterworks District 11 in the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area.

Country shindig set at J. Bayou

The Third Annual Country Shindig will take place at Johnson Bayou High School Saturday, Oct. 16. The day's activities will begin at 9 a.m. with a turkey shoot. Two turkeys will be the maximum allowed to any one player in the contest.

The 'long distance' contest will also begin at 9 a.m. with prizes going to the contestants who hit a softball, using regulation equipment, the greatest distance.

Track events will begin at 10 a.m. with races in the elementary, junior high, high school and open competition. Track events will be run for both boys and girls, women and men.

Lunch, chili with crackers, and sandwiches, will be served from 12 p.m. to 2 p.m.

Bingo will be from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. Bingo prizes include cakes, pies, cobblers, turkeys, hams, tools, decorator sets and many more.

Hackberry FHA has skate-a-thon event

The Hackberry Future Homemakers of America held their annual initiation and skate-a-thon at LaFleur's Roller Rink in Sulphur, Monday, Sept. 20 after school.

Proceeds from the skate-a-thon will go to St. Judes Children's Research Center in Memphis, Tenn. and for some of the local club's expenses. Estimated proceeds are $2000.

Twelve girls were initiated by the club this year. Good sportsmanship was shown even though they had to dress in clothes too large for them, wear garlic strung around their neck, have six pigtails and wear an octagon shaped tag to be signed by onlookers.

Winner for the stinkiest garlic was Lashanda Johnson, most cooperative - Trina LaBauve, most signatures - Krystal LaBove, most times garlic was kissed or eaten - Alysia Mayon, all around best sport - Arlene Tedrow, craziest costume - Michelle LaBove.

Other participants were Marty Boudreaux, Pam East, Becky LaBauve, Michelle LaBauve, Regina Mayon, Charlotte Lanoux, and Lori Mejia.

Special guest at the skate-a-thon was Dolly Dimples, the clown.

MRS. BARBARA LEE, professional clown, is shown with some of the Hackberry FHA members at the skate-a-thon held in Sulphur.

Larica is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Boudreaux and granddaughter of Lilly Guillory and the late Mathew Guillory and Mr. and Mrs. Perry Boudreaux.

Thrif-T-Way Pharmacy of Cameron was Larica's sponsor.

Cowbelles make meatballs

The Cameron Parish Cowbelles met last week at South Cameron High School and made over 5,000 meatballs.

They will be served to people visiting the Cattlemen Association and Cowbelles booth at the Louisiana State Fair.

A brief business session was held by Mrs. Mae Ann Hebert and the order was put in for the magazine rack to be presented to South Cameron hospital to be used in the new solarium.

Officers will be elected at the November meeting of the club to be held at 6:30 p.m., Nov. 3 at the KC Hall.

Plans will also be made at that time for the Christmas party.

People once believed that if their palms itched they would receive money.

Missing story

A story on the J. P. Boudoin Sr. KC fall barbecue held last Sunday apparently went astray in the mail and did not reach the Pilot until several days after last week's issue was out. We are sorry we were unable to publicize this worthwhile event.

Cameron Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

According to our experts at the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, this duck season should be the best we've had in several years. It seems the breeding grounds in Canada have produced lots of large ducks which will be coming south in large flights. As for our marshes with the dry spell we had, plenty feed grasses and native duck food grew fairly well and all the rain we got from Hurricane Chris helped put fresh water back in most marshes, escept where salt water passed over. Let's hope for the best and the last two seasons haven't been what we would call "so good"

RUDY'S FISH N' STOP

Offshore fishing has been a little down, due to the high winds making the seas a little too rough to get out, but inland fishing has been excellent.

James Savoie had some real nice bull reds last week caught out of Rockefeller Refuge. He had a few tipping the scales at 9 lbs.

Mano Murphy is still hitting redfish and flounders, fishing the Mermentau river. He also had a redfish going over 9 lbs. last week.

Sidgey Benoit of Grand Chenier has also been hitting well on the Mermentau river with catches of speckled trout (4 lbs.), flounder (7 lbs.) and redfish. He told me Saturday he's been doing real well the last week or so.

Rudy and I fished the Mermentau river this Saturday, having a great 3½ hours of fishing, hitting the tide just right and the spot also. We ended our day with 9 gaspergoo, one drum, one speckle trout and 32 redfish. Our redfish averaged 2 lbs. with a couple going 3 lbs. These fish are being taken on shrimp. We were fishing on the bottom, but Sidgey Benoit did better cork fishing.

Carlton Styron of Creole, Skipper of the charter fishing boat for Crain Brothers of Grand Chenier hit a school of redfish a couple of weeks ago and picked up two redfrish, one going 36 lbs. and another going 42 lbs.

UNUSUAL CATCH

Ronald Dupuis from Grand Chenier, had an unusual catch a couple of weeks ago - a gold fish, yes a gold fish (on private property). It was 16 inches long, weighing 1 lb., 8 oz. Very beautiful in color.

SHRIMPING

While shrimping in the Gulf has been fairly good, the Mermentau river is not ready yet, as the count Saturday was 160 to 260 per pound, while 68 is what you are looking for. Now some of our lakes and ponds on private property are producing some nice shrimp with a way better count than 68. I think when the strong north winds begin and these shrimp start coming out of our marshes, the river will produce some real nice shrimp.

Until next time, whenever you fish or hunt, remember the safety rules.

LOSTON MCEVERS, Rudy McEvers and Erica Nunez are shown with a nice catch of redfish, gaspergoo and drum.

RONALD DUPUIS holds the 1 lb., 8 oz., 16-inch long fold fish that he caught in Grand Chenier.

McCain indicted by federal jury

A former Florida Supreme Court justice and a Miami man were arrested last weekend on the basis of a federal indictment accusing them of conspiring to smuggle and sell 15 tons of marijuana, a federal prosecutor said Saturday.

The former justice, David McCain, originally was arrested a month ago on Louisiana state charges stemming from the same allegations -- that he and several others plotted to smuggle marijuana into Cameron Parish.

McCain, 51, was picked up Saturday morning at his home in Fort Pierce, Fla., by FBI agents and taken to the St. Lucie County jail, Miami FBI Special Agent-in-Charge Joseph V. Corless said in a news release.

McCain's latest arrest stems from an indictment handed down Thursday by a grand jury in Lafayette. Assistant U. S. Attorney Billy Guin said in Shreveport that it was a sealed indictment and the contents couldn't be disclosed yet.

Guin said Charles Robertson, 70, of Miami, also was indicted. Robertson was arrested Friday in Miami, 130 miles south of Fort Pierce.

Guin said each was indicted on charges of using federally regulated mail and telegraph in the alleged conspiracy.

If convicted on all four charges, Guin said, McCain and Robertson could be imprisoned for 24 years and fined $170,000.

He said the next step was

Escaped prisoner captured Sunday

Judge gives reason for sentence

Judge H. Ward Fontenot this week released his reasons for the sentence he handed down in 38th Judicial District court Oct. 13 on Edward Frank Rainey.

Judge Fontenot sentenced Rainey to ten years in the Louisiana Department of Corrections without benefit of pardon or parole.

On Sunday, Oct. 17 Rainey escaped from the Cameron parish jail at 2:30 p.m. and was recaptured at 11:17 that night and is now back in jail with other pending charges.

Judge Fontenot has not set any bond on him on these charges.

In handing down his sentence on Rainey Judge Fontenot said:

"The defendant is before the Court on the charge of sexual battery. The Court cannot ignore the fact that he has committed an act which is far more serious than this reduced charge to which he has entered a plea of guilty." (Rainey was originally charged with aggravated rape, but the charge was amended to sexual battery).

"This is one of the few times where I think it is appropriate to impose a maximum sentence, which is ten years with the Department of Corrections. It is not to be probated, nor suspended.

"For the record I want to give further reasons for the imposition of the maximum sentence without suspension.

"This sexual assault is of a most reprehensible kind, and a repeat of this kind of crime must be avoided by the most strenuous means.

"Sex criminals are often repeaters, and although this defendant has no sex crimes on his record, it is obvious that he is a multiple offender.

"A rape is always a shocking crime. When it's committed on a young, virginal adolescent by an adult through means of fear and intimidation the deed

A Cameron parish prisoner enjoyed only a little over eight hours of freedom Sunday after he escaped from the custody of the Sheriff's Department.

Edward Frank Rainey, 34, 143 Louie St., Lake Charles, who had been sentenced to ten years in the Louisiana Department of Corrections, without benefit of parole or pardon, on Oct. 13 by Judge H. Ward Fontenot in 38th Judicial District Court, escaped during a church service of the Jail Ministry being held in the Courthouse courtroom at 2:30 p.m.

He was captured at 11:17 p.m. when he drove on the Cameron Ferry No. 2 in a stolen vehicle, which he had taken from an oil well site north of Cameron.

Making the arrest were Tommy Thompson, Cameron parish Deputy Sheriff and James Nunez, a Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries agent.

Rainey is now back in the Cameron parish jail facing additional charges of theft, simple escape, driving under suspension and expired MVI.

This became the second prisoner escape from the Cameron parish jail in the past two weeks.

Earlier Donald R. Richardson, 25, 2609 Magnolia St., Beaumont, Texas, who was facing charges of possession of marijuana with intent to distribute and driving under revocation charges, escaped while on a work detail.

He is still at large.

Marlon Harrison

Harrison is admitted to bar assoc.

Marlon Harrison of Baton Rouge was admitted to the Louisiana Bar Association, Oct. 8 in ceremonies held at Tulane University.

Louisiana Supreme Court Associate Justice Harry Lemmon presided.

During the half time the King's Court will be presented.

Fair winners

Anita Walther and Cecilia Walther were both winners in the Calcasieu - Cameron Fair bubble gum contest.

Anita won first prize with a composite score of 18 inches. Cecilia won second place with a score of 16½ inches.

Mary McCall

Mary McCall on court at McNeese

Mary D. McCall, daughter of Mrs. Diane McCall of Grand Chenier, will be one of the Junior maids on the McNeese State University Homecoming Court Oct. 29 - 30.

She is a graduate of South Cameron High School where she was a cheerleader and a class officer. She was picked as SCHS class favorite and was listed in "Who's Who Among High School Students." She was also Miss Cameron Parish in 1979.

At McNeese she is an office administration major.

Singing set

Gospel singing will be held at 7:30 p.m., Saturday, Oct. 23 at the United Pentecostal Church on School St. in Cameron, according to Pastor Charles Fontenot who invited the public to attend.

David Kennon of DeQuincy will be a special singer.

$3000 donation made to program

Don Bailey, owner of Bailey's Seafood in Cameron, became the first Cameron businessman to respond to Cameron Parish Sheriff James R. "Sono" Savoie's request for donations to the Substance Abuse Prevention Education Program, which was started in Cameron parish last year and has gained widespread acceptance in the school system.

It is based on the theory that if the education against drugs is started at the grassroots level among the school children, drugs can be controlled.

Sheriff Savoie got involved when he volunteered to write to all the businesses on the Cameron parish tax rolls asking for donations to the program.

The sheriff said that he figures the drug education program is one of the most important in the parish and if it saves even one youngster's life, it is worth all the effort and money put into it.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Bailey, owners of the local seafood company, were the first to respond with a $3,000 donation.

Mr. Bailey stated that he gave the donation in memory of his young brother, Van Bailey, who took his own life six months ago in a drug related incident.

The money will be used by the Cameron parish school board in administering the program in the schools.

Robert Hackett dies

Funeral services for Robert O. Hackett, 88, were held Tuesday, Oct. 19, in Hixson Funeral Home Chapel in Lake Charles.

The Rev. Francis Corie, pastor of Sweet Lake United Methodist Church officiated. Burial was in Prien Memorial Park Cemetery with Masonic graveside services.

Mr. Hackett died Sunday in a Lake Charles hospital.

Mr. Hackett was a native of Cameron and had lived in the Sweetlake community 60 years. He was a member and church treasurer of Sweetlake United Methodist Church for a number of years, a member of the Rudolph Krause Masonic Lodge of Lake Charles, a 32nd Degree Mason and a charter member of Habibi Shrine Temple.

He was on the board of directors of the Jeff Davis Electric Co-op for 35 years, was one of the originators of the board of supervisors of the Gulf Coast Soil and Water Conservation District, was a member of the state Farm Bureau and Cattlemen's Assoc., and served in the army in World War I.

Hunting set at Lacassine

A portion of Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge will be open to waterfowl hunting during the regular state duck season (Western Zone - Nov. 6 - Dec. 5 and Dec. 18 - Jan. 11).

Hunting is permitted until 11 a.m., Wednesday through Sunday. Hunters must use steel shot ammunition; lead ammunition may not be in possession anywhere on the refuge. No decoys may be left in the hunting area overnight.

All hunting is on a first-come, first-served basis. No permits or check-ins are required. Hunters may hunt from established refuge blinds.

An Open House will be held Oct. 30 - Nov. 5, to allow hunters to scout the area and construct blinds. Additional special regulations are in effect and all hunters are urged to check at the refuge headquarters (Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge, Route 1, Box 186, Lake Arthur, La. 70549, 318-774-2750) for complete information.

Haynie top fisherman

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Captain T. F. Haynie of Reedville, Virginia has topped all records for the Seacoast Menhaden plant in Cameron with a catch of 63,020,000 fish for the 1982 season.

Captain Haynie was fishing aboard the M/V Palm Beach and was presented with a flag by company manager John Tyree proclaiming the fact that his boat was the top company boat for 1982 to fly from the mast of the boat.

This season catch broke the record set in 1971 by Otis Smith.

The total catch for the Seacoast plant in Cameron during the season this year was 322,653,000 fish, which, along with the other two local menhaden plants helped to make Cameron the leading fishing port in the United States.

Captain Haynie grew up in the fishing industry and his father, Leslie F. Haynie, was a menhaden boat captain for years.

Cameron has both the first and second top boat in the Seacoast company.

Captain J. A. Miller's boat came in with a 56,718,000 catch for the season.

The menhaden fishing fleet has "cut-out" for the season and most of the seasonal workers, many from the eastern coast have gone back home until the next fishing season starts.

Rev. Broussard is 100

By ELORA MONTIE

The Rev. Homer H. Broussard, formerly of Grand Chenier, was honored on his 100th birthday Sept. 4 in the home of his daughter and son-in-law, Vallie and Eugene H. White in Poydras, La.

The celebration was hosted by his children Mrs. Vallie White of Poydras, Mrs. Freida Miller, Chalmette; Charles Broussard of Slidell; Russell Broussard of Poydras, and the 12 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Broussard is the eldest son of Antoine and Aspasie Broussard of Lake Arthur. He was born Sept. 4, 1882 at Tiger Island near Grand Chenier, where he received his early education.

At the age of 20 he sailed to Galveston, Tex. with Captain Charlie Nelson of Grand Chenier who came from Norway. They brought oranges and syrup to Galveston and brought a load of lumber back for buildings on Grand Chenier.

Later in years he moved to Lake Arthur where his parents operated a general merchandise store.

In 1905 he married Myrtle Isadore Walters, who with her parents, had moved south from Illinois. To him and his wife were born seven children.

From 1914 to 1917 Mr. Broussard served as a Custom's Inspector at the Port Arthur, Tex., docks. He also served as watchman for Southern Pacific Railroad until 1926.

In 1932 they moved to New Orleans where he was employed at Public Works.

Mrs. Broussard died in 1940. Later Rev. Broussard married Clara Raggio Vaughan of Lake Arthur. She was the widow of Isaac (Ike) Vaughan, also a native of Grand Chenier.

The Rev. Broussard pastored a church in Lake Arthur. Upon Clara's death,

Treen approves grants for area

Gov. Dave Treen has announced the approval of 13 grants totaling $900,000 from the state Coastal Energy Impact Program (CEIP), four of which are of interest to Cameron parish. They are:

*Louisiana Cooperative Fishery Research Unit, $36,400, for a study of seasonal presence, relative abundance movements and use of habitat types of fish and crustaceans in the Sabine National Wildlife Refuge.

*McNeese State University, $101,056 for an environmental assessment of biological, microbiological & hydrological life forms in Calcasieu Lake.

*LSU Center for Wetland Resources, $68,584, for a study on backfilling as a means of reducing the environmental effects in canals along the South Louisiana coast.

*University of Southwestern Louisiana, $48,891 to study Outer Continental Shelf activities and the effects of this growth and change on the land forms and peoples of coastal Louisiana. The human concerns will be migration, occupational shifts and changes in income, lifestyle and availability of coastal and community resources.

As a part of Coastal Zone Management Program, C.E.I.P. was begun in 1976 under the leadership of then Congressman Treen to aid coastal areas impacted by the production of offshore oil and gas related energy activities.

School board actions are told

A variety of actions were taken by the Cameron parish school board at its October meeting.

Mrs. Marjorie Conner, South Cameron high school special education teacher who had been on leave, was reinstated on the school staff.

Replacing of lights in the Johnson Bayou school and some roof work, necessitated by the recent storm, was approved at a cost of about $15,000.

A letter was read from school board employees thanking the board for the recent pay increase.

The board held a discussion with two parents from Grand Lake high school concerning crowded conditions on some of the buses. The board was informed that one bus is making a double run now to make for smaller loads but that there wasn't enough of a problem to justify adding another bus at this time.

The board heard a presentation on workmen compensation insurance through the Louisiana School Board Association. The representative said the association probably could save the board a sizable amount of money on this insurance and the board agreed to consider the association's proposal when insurance bids are taken next month.

The board authorized the payment of expenses for board members who wish to attend the National School Board Assoc. Convention in San Francisco in april and the state convention in Monroe in February.

a bid of $13,573.60 was accepted from Tab, Inc. of Hackberry on dirt work for the Hackberry high school rodeo area.

A bid of $185,454 was accepted from Realco, Inc. for the construction of a metal shop, weight room and repairs and renovations at Grand Lake school.

The resignation of Jeanette Blake as tutor at Cameron elementary school was accepted and Gaylene Theriot was named to the vacancy.

Bids for track equipment for South Cameron high school were approved for advertising.

Hackberry 4-Hers have fair float

To arouse interest in 4-H activities, the Hackberry Senior 4-H club entered a float in the Cal-Cam Fair parade Monday, Oct. 4 in Sulphur. The theme of Oktoberfest was carried out by the club featuring the "Four H's of October: Harvest, Haying, Hunting and Halloween."

Cooks of the harvest crops were Shawn LaBove and Delia DeBarge, with Brenda East preparing the fruit for canning, Anita Walther and Patricia Simon cut jack-o-lanterns.

Patrick Walther and Paul Constance were handling the hay while Len Temple, Chris Hebert and Darren Savoie were rabbit hunters.

Spectators enjoyed the costumes of Jacky Gray, Janetta Lyons and Laura McHamon.

Other members who helped with or rode on the float were Medina Hardin, James Alleman, Missy Abshire, Damon Delcambre and Tammy Taylor.

Sentences given in court here

The following sentences were handed down by Judge H. Ward Fontenot Wednesday, Oct. 13, in 38th Judicial District Court:

Edward Frank Rainey, 34, 143 Louis St., Lake Charles, was sentenced to 10 years in the Dept. of Corrections with no probation and no parole for sexual battery.

Rainey was indicted by the Cameron parish grand jury on May 12, 1981 for aggravated rape, which was amended to sexual battery, and involved the subject's bringing a female into Cameron parish from Calcasieu parish on april 13, 1981 and committing rape in the Sweetlake area.

He was found guilty by the petit jury on August 23.

Terry Steven Richard, 25, P.O. Box 3, Creole, and Richard K. Duhon, 22, P. O. box 23, Creole, both pled guilty and were sentenced to the following charges: $250 and costs or 30 days in jail, plus 30 days, suspended, and placed on one year unsupervised probation with the condition they violate no more wildlife charges for taking Canadian geese in closed season; and $25 for hunting from a moving vehicle.

Wanda Marie Fontenot, 19, and Larry G. Fontenot, 20, both of Rt. 1, Box 241, Bell City, were fined $65 or 3 days in jail for simple criminal damage to property, and Larry G. Fontenot was also fined $25 for contempt of court. The charges involved the breaking of a window in the Earl J. Ogea home in Sweetlake, the property of Sweetlake Land and Oil Company.

Carl Bradford Phillips, 33 J.B. Rt., Cameron, and Betty June Phillips, 31, J. B. Rt., Cameron, who had originally pleaded not-guilty to charges of illegal sale of alcohol to a minor, each changed their pleas to guilty at the trial and were each fined $125 and costs or 20 days in jail.

Anthony R. Trahan, 19, 307 Putnam St., Abbeville, 10 days in jail for driving under revocation.

Guilty pleas to possession of marijuana charges brought the following sentences: $400 and costs or 45 days in jail for Phillip LeJeune, 19, P.O. Box 189, Cameron; $200 and costs or 30 days in jail for Geraldine Metcalf, 23, Panacea, Fla.; $200 and costs or 30 days for Timothy J. Savoie, 26, P.O. Box 329, Washington, who was also sentenced to 15 days in jail for driving under suspension, $400 and costs or 30 days, plus 125 days, suspended and placed on one year unsupervised probation for D.W.I.; and a charge of displaying power was dismissed in court; $300 and costs or 30 days for Scott L. Morvant, 19, 501 Reynolds Ave., Rayne, and 45 days, suspended, one year unsupervised probation for contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile; 91 days, suspended, two years supervised probation plus $400 and costs for Douglas W. Spicer, 20, MRH Box 295A, Hackberry; and suspend the imposition of the sentence, placed on one year unsupervised probation and pay court costs for William Ander Howes, 20, DeRidder, and Michael Shane Marks, 20, Opelousas, who was also fined $40 and costs or three days for possession of drug paraphernalia and $25 or two days for not abiding by rules of refuge.

Anthony L. Ingram, 20, Houston, Texas, was fined $25 and costs or three days for disturbing the peace (drunk) and one year in the Dept. of Corrections, suspended and two years supervised probation on the condition that he serve 15 days in jail and pay costs for possession of CNSD.

Guilty pleas to D.W.I. charges brought the following sentences: $350 and costs or 30 days in jail for Gary W. Lapoint, 22, Box 184, Creole and Roy G. Rogers, 39, c/o Arrow Construction Co., Cameron; suspension of the imposition of the sentence for one year and one year unsupervised probation and pay costs for Gerald Smith, 19, Rt. 1, Box 207, Cameron, who was also fined $65 and costs or two days for driving left of center; $400 and costs or 30 days for Lonnie W. Broussard, Lake Arthur; and $400 and costs or 45 days for James L. Jernigan, III, 24, Sulphur, who was also sentenced to 15 days in jail, concurrent, for driving under revocation.

Gertie Marie Doucet, 25, J.B. Rt., Cameron, was fined $45 and costs or three days in jail for disturbing the peace.

Darrell L. LeBlanc, 21, was fined $145 and costs or 15 days in jail for simple battery on John Green with a gun.

Edwin F. Rost, 57, Cameron, was sentenced to three days in jail, suspended, and pay costs for theft of a jar of pigs feet from Discount Food Store.

Cameron Outdoors

By Loston McEvers

Not too much to write about on fishing this week as it's been too rough to go offshore and with the locks open on the Mermentau River fresh water has slowed the red fishing down. Shrimping also has been on a slow pace, but there are still a few nice shrimp being caught.

Sabine Refuge and Lacassine Refuge are closed to fresh water fishing as is the Big Burn so that has shot the bass and perch fishing down.

HUNTING

Most people are starting to get their boats and blind structures along with the mud boat ditches ready as duck and goose hunting begins next month. The Oak Grove Hunting Club had their meeting with personnel and guides Sunday night, preparing for the opening next month.

Dove season opened Saturday, but if you didn't have a field with some sort of grain that had been harvested, shooting wasn't too good.

Talking about hunting, here's a little story:

Two of our local sportsmen, John Richard and Jimmie Roberts of Grand Chenier, along with some of their friends, Earl Norwood, Mickey Ardoin and Clay Benton, went black bear hunting on the White River in Ontario, Canada. Now, no one saw any black bear or white or teddy bears, and no deer, but they saw plenty of moose, however, the season wasn't open on moose. John and Clay killed 13 grouse (like a hen) and Jimmie and Earl killed about 20 hooded marganzer. Yes, what we call saw bills over here, and I know they don't shoot them here either, so as the story goes, a fine hunting trip but no bear or deer.

Catch ya' next time!

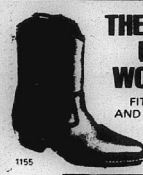
becomes monsterous.

"The suggestion that he was provoked or acted under provocation because a young lady had shorts and a T-shirt with a printed slogan is not a mitigating factor. Our young people dress in ways today which are much more revealing than in times past.

"But this cannot be used as an excuse to prey upon the young and commit sexual crimes upon the vulnerable.



"A sex criminal who is triggered by a young woman's wearing apparel and flirtatious manner can be expected to repeat his crime."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A Public Hearing will be held at 1:30 P. M. on Tuesday, October 26, 1982 in the Contraband Room of the Lake Charles Civic Center.

This Public Hearing will be held in accordance with Act 334 of the 1974 regular session of the Louisiana Legislature and conducted by the Joint Legislative Committee on Transportation, Highways and Public Works.

The purpose of this Public Hearing is to review Highway Construction priorities for the fiscal year 1983-84 for the parishes of Acadia, Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron, Evangeline, and Jefferson Davis, which comprise Highway District 07 based upon the project priorities established by the Highway needs analysis. The Highway needs and priority study was to determine the estimated cost of improving state maintained roads in Louisiana which do not meet a specified minimum tolerable condition for a particular functional class. Act 334 provides for a firm priority listing of the first ensuing year (1983-84) and tentative priorities for each subsequent year through 1988. This provides advice on the status of highway projects contemplated or under preparation.

Copies of the "Louisiana Proposed Construction Program, Fiscal Year 1983-84," and Highway Needs Summary, District 07 are available for review by interested persons at the Office of Highways District 07 Engineers Office at Highway 90 East, Lake Charles, Louisiana and also at the Louisiana Department of Transportation and Development Headquarters Building, 1201 Capitol Access Road, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Room 204.

All interested persons are invited to be present at the above time and place for the purpose of becoming fully acquainted with the proposed program and will be afforded an opportunity to express their views.

Oral testimony will be received. However, in order that all persons desiring to make a statement have an equal opportunity to do so, it is requested that every effort be made to complete individual testimony in as short a period of time as possible. Oral testimony may be supplemented by presenting important facts and documentation in writing. Your cooperation and assistance will be appreciated.

Written statements and comments should be handed to the committee conducting the hearing, or can be mailed to the followign address, postmarked within 10 calendar days following the hearing:

Rev. Broussard moved back to the New Orleans area to make his home with his daughter, her husband and to sons, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene H. White in Poydras.

With his daughter he served as assistant to the administrator of a nursing home. Rev. Broussard then married Elizabeth Polly Taylor, a nurse who retired in 1970.

When asked to what he attributed his longevity he replied, "Good clean living and a closer walk with God."

Rev. Broussard has enjoyed a full life as a farmer, trapper, merchant, construction worker and an ordained minister.

He is the oldest living member of his family. The only one whose life spanned more than a century was Aunt Bonnie Broussard of Pecan Island.

Among the congratulatory messages Rev. Broussard received were letters from President Reagan and Governor Treen.

Helping him celebrate his birthday again on Sunday Oct. 17 at the home of his nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Monlezun in Lake Arthur was his sister Mrs. Antoine (Victoria) Broussard, who is 98.

Attending from Grand Chenier were: John Paul Crain, Bertha Roy, Estelle Doland and Flora Montie. From Creole: Wayne Montie, Mrs. Adrase Nunez, and Edith LaBove.

From Sulphur, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richard. From Crowley, Aloysia Butler. From Lake Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Darbonne and family, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Monlezun, Dr. and Mrs. Lee J. Monlezun, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Monlezun, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Broussard, Mrs. Lucille Duplechain and Dolouris Livingston. From New Orleans area were Mrs. Vallie White, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller and Deettee Seymour, and the honoree, Rev. Broussard.

From Baldwin, Mr. and Mrs. Arrove Longman. From Lafayette, Mr. and Mrs. Don Williams, Diane and Becky.

From Lake Arthur, Mr. and Mrs. Dominique Monlezun, Melba Lou Mack, Mrs. Antoine Monlezun, Mrs. Oscar Lyons and Norman Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Doland, Lloyd LeCour, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Delainy, Carl Baily.

During the afternoon Col. and Mrs. Hector Ponton of Denver, Colo. called to wish Rev. Broussard a happy birthday. Mrs. Ponton is the former Bernadette Monlezun of Lake Arthur.

McCain Indicted

to hold an identification and removal hearing so McCain and Robertson could be moved to Louisiana for arraignment and trial.

Law enforcement agents last month said McCain and six other defendants in the state case tried unsuccessfully to smuggle marijuana from Colombia and Panama to Louisiana. They were indicted by the Cameron Parish Grand Jury.

The FBI said McCain's arrest Saturday involved federal charges stemming from the same alleged offenses.

Former Gov. Claude Kirk appointed McCain to the state Supreme Court in 1970. McCain resigned from the court Aug. 31, 1975, after a state House committee voted to draft articles of impeachment against him. He had been accused of using his state high court position to pressure lower courts into granting favorable rulings for friends and political supporters.

The St. Louis - South Cameron game to be played Friday, Oct. 22, at Tarpon Stadium will be dedicated to the 15-year graduates of South Cameron High School. Reserved seats will be provided for them on the field.

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Acting under the authority of the Legislature of the State of Louisiana, the Cameron Parish School Board will receive sealed bids for the leasing of all oyster rights including the rights of range, trapping, hunting, fishing, and farming, on the following described lands:

Section 16, Township 14, Range 11; DESCRIPTION: Three (3) miles West of Calcasieu Lake. Approximately four (4) miles North of Holly Beach.

Section 16, Township 15, Range 7; DESCRIPTION: 22.46 acres, along the shore, approximately one (1) mile South of the Mermentau River and five (5) miles West of Lower Mud Lake.

All bids must be sealed; the envelope marked "Bid - Section 16, Township ____, Range ____," and may be forwarded through the U. S. Mail to the Cameron Parish School Board, P. O. Box W, Cameron, LA 70631. Bidder must offer an annual rental of not less than $1.00 per acre for a lease with a primary term to end September 30, 1987. Annual renewal rentals will be due each year by September 30th, in order to continue the lease in effect. Cash or check in favor of the Cameron Parish School Board for the amount of the annual rental for the first year shall accompany and be deposited with the bid, and the rental thus deposited shall be forfeited to the Board as liquidated damages if the successful bidder fails to enter into written contract in accordance with his bid within ten (10) days after acceptance by the Board.

If farming rights are utilized, bidder may offer annual rental plus a fractional part of not less than one-sixth (1/6) of any and all crops produced and saved during the year. The value of the one-sixth (1/6) share is not be considered in the awarding of the lease unless the bidder guarantees a specific amount which shall be added to and accompany the bid. Should the one-sixth (1/6) value of the crops be less than the cash guarantee paid at the time of the lease, the Cameron Parish School Board shall demand such additional payment as necessary to bring the total consideration to a full one-sixth (1/6) of crops produced and harvested on any and all listed sections.

The surface rights and privileges granted in the lease are restricted to range, trapping, hunting, farming, and fishing and these rights shall in no way, manner, or form interfere with the granting of a mineral lease or the full utilization of all rights and privileges granted in any mineral lease.

Bids will be received until the hour of 10:00 a.m., Monday, November 8, 1982 at which time all bids received will be opened and considered in public session of the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids received.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS' DAY

The annual L.S.U. Livestock Producers' Day and Departmental Sale will be held on Saturday, nov. 13. The morning program will begin at 9:45 a.m. in the LSU Union with four different sessions: beef cattle; horse; sheep and swine. Producers will have a choice as to which session they want to attend.

Following lunch served by the Block and Bridle Club, a role of departmental livestock will be held at 1:15 p.m. in the beef barn on Dean Lee Drive.

FALL GARDENING

It's time to clear the dean plants from your garden and prepare the soil for a fall planting or a winter rest.

Debris left until next spring provides a place for some insects and diseases to live through the winter.

Roses need a final feeding in late October or early November. They should not be sprayed after cold weather arrives and growth has stopped.

Mid to late fall may be a little too dry for most plants, so water plants regularly during the fall. Dry weather in the fall effects camellias, azaleas and other evergreen quicker than other plants.

PLANT ONIONS NOW

To harvest large, juicy onions next spring, plant seed through October and transplant from mid-October through February.

Seed planted in October will produce onions large enough to live through the winter. Seeds planted later may be damaged or killed by cold weather.

The most popular onion variety in Louisiana is the Red Creole. Other good varieties include Excel, Grano, Crystal and Burgundy.

TREE SEEDLINGS

Forest seedlings will be available again this year through the Louisiana Forestry Department. Seedling available and cost is as follows: Loblolly, and Slash Pines - 10 cents each; Cypress, Spruce, Virginia, and Longleaf Pine - 15 cents each; White Oak, Sweetgum, Cow Oak, Green Ash, Sycamore and Cottonwood - 20 cents each.

Anyone interested in ordering some of these seedlings should contact the County Agents office, 775-5516 or 775-7443 on or before Nov. 15.

NOTE: The above tract is located in an oyster restricted area and all operations in such area must be conducted in strict conformity with the regulations of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission.

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (½) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease, and one-half (½) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed three years, and if the bidder offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse whatsoever, either expressed or implied, not even for return for value of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. The MINIMUM ROYALTIES required by R.S. 30:127, as amended, except for school board lands, are one-eighth (1/8th) of all gas produced and saved or utilized; one-eighth (1/8th) of all oil produced and saved or utilized; and one-eighth (1/8th) of all other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas and saved or utilized, which are not specifically mentioned herein. Act 289 of 1982 establishes a 1/6 minimum royalty for leases affecting school board lands. Free sulphur, potash, lignite, salt and other solid minerals are to be excluded and any bid thereon will be disregarded to such extent. A bid of a royalty less than the aforesaid statutory minimums will be increased to said statutory minimums by the Board. All bidders are notified that the Board does not obligate itself to accept a bid which offers the aforesaid statutory minimums, but reserves the right to accept a bid which offers in excess of the statutory minimums and is considered most advantageous to the State of Louisiana.

The provisions of this notice or advertisement and the relevant statutes establish the minimum considerations necessary for the formulation of proper bids, and this notice or advertisement shall not be deemed to be modified, prejudiced or diminished by resolutions or policy expressions of the Board, unless the Board so shall expressly or by reference.

Bidders are particularly directed to the fact that, in addition to the aforesaid stipulation against warranty, the State Mineral Board also includes a special provision in the lease permitting the lessee to surrender any portion of all or any of the acreage (½), but not below the statutory minimum of one-eighth (1/8th), in the event of and pending final and definitive adjudication or other settlement of a bona fide dispute or litigation involving ownership of the lands, and upon the terms and conditions thereinafter stated. Any bid not complying with including said stipulation is on file in the office of the State Mineral Board, Fourth Floor, at the above address, and available for public inspection by anyone desiring to examine same.

Some tracts are available for leasing may be situated in the Louisiana Coastal Zone as defined in Act 361 of 1978 (LSA-R. S. 49:213). Such tracts may be subject to the rules and regulations promulgated by the Louisiana Coastal Commission of the Department of Natural Resources.

Bids will be received and considered upon terms and conditions provided in the notice last above set forth with applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding) of a well in the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a delay rental (which shall be equal to less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring the commencement for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The annual payment for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the State from drainage, and certain the provisions against the assignment of leases, except as lessee approved by the State Mineral Board. The lessee shall be required to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board.

Each bid must be in the form of a check or bank money order payable to the Office of Mineral Resources for the full amount of the bonus cash payment, said accompany and be submitted by the bidder with the bid submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled and the certified check, cashier's check or bank money order forfeited for the failure of the successful bidder shall be immediately negotiated by the Office of Mineral Resources, and the proceeds thereof disposed of in the manner required by law. The successful bidder to whom the lease is awarded on the date of the lease sale shall return the drilling agreement executed within TWENTY (20) DAYS after bidders are furnished with the forms for execution, and failure to do so shall be cause for forfeiture of the lease and the aforesaid cash payment previously tendered and negotiated in the event of failure to do so.

NOTE: In the case of all State Agency Lands, certified checks, cashier's checks or bank money orders for the cash payment shall be made payable to each respective State Agency's proportionate interest, or part thereof, located in a township which is not wholly in more than one parish, is offered, each certified check, cashier's check or bank money order for the full amount of the cash payment shall be made payable to STATE TREASURER. Any Amendment, Assignment or Agreement entered into after the State Mineral Board has awarded such lease must be executed by the Lessor Agency or Agencies.

Bids may be for the whole or any part fractional or undivided part of the land advertised, but consistently with the policy of the Board as expressed in a resolution dated August 25, 1965, all bidders are hereby notified that bids on portions of tracts should be described by metes and bounds and be accompanied by a transparent plat outlining thereon the portion bid upon. The scale of the plat should be 1inch = 4,000 feet.

The State Mineral Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to grant a lease on any portion of the tract advertised and to withdraw the remainder of the tract.

Unemployment rate here 3rd best in state

Cameron parish's unemployment rate dropped to 6.9 percent in September from 7.3 in August to give the parish the third lowest unemployment rate in the state.

Only Lincoln parish with 4.7 percent and Plaquemine with 5.9 percent had smaller unemployment rates.

Figures released by the Louisiana Dept. of Labor showed that of a work force of 4,750, Cameron parish had only 325 persons unemployed, a drop of 25 persons from 350 in August.

Allen parish (Oakdale) continued to have the highest unemployment figure -- 25 percent, but this was down from 26.9 in August.

The state unemployment rate as a whole dropped to 10.6 percent in September from 11.8 the previous month. The national unemployment rate rose from 9.6 percent in August to 10.1 percent in September.

Chief deputy's job is eliminated here

Sheriff James R. (Sono) Savoie announced this week that he has eliminated the position of chief deputy with the Cameron sheriff's department and has taken over those duties himself.

The change leaves Clifton Cabell of Hackberry, chief deputy since, Savoie took office in July, 1980, without a job. Cabell prior to that time had been Captain of State Troop I in Lafayette and had recently taken retirement.

Sheriff Savoie said he had been thinking about eliminating the chief deputy's position for some time as "I had been handling the biggest part of it any way."

The sheriff said he made his decision after he became upset with the way that Cabell handled the escape of a prisoner from the parish jail Sunday, Oct. 17.

Savoie said that Cabell "pulled the road block at dark without consulting me." He said Cabell should have continued the road block as long as necessary. (The escapee was captured at 11:17 that night as he drove a stolen car on the Cameron ferry.)

The sheriff said the chief deputy's position was eliminated as of Nov. 1 but Cabell left last week as he had two weeks vacation coming.

Cabell said the job elimination caught him by complete surprise. He said he and the sheriff had had some difference of opinion on various matters but he didn't think they were anything that could not be worked out.

"I felt I was giving the job my best shot," he stated. "But he is the sheriff and he knows what he wants to do."

Cabell, who will continue to draw his retirement from the state police system, said he intends to take some time off, to visit with relatives in Virginia and to get some rest. He did not know wha his future plans would be.

Correction made on jail escape here

The story in the Cameron Pilot last week concerning the escape of a prisoner from the Cameron parish jail while attending a religious service was in error in stating that the service was being conducted by the Jail Ministry in the courtroom.

Terry Nelson of the Jail Ministry stated that the service from which the prisoner escaped was being conducted by another local religious group in the courtroom.

She said that the Jail Ministry holds their services inside the jail itself from where it would be very difficult for a prisoner to escape.

Jail Ministry is a local group that has been ministering to the spiritual needs of prisoners in the Cameron parish jail.

Rainey pleads not guilty to escape

Edward Frank Rainey, 33, 143 Louis St., Lake Charles, pleaded not guilty to theft of a 1973 Pontiac car owned by James N. Kratner of Jennings; simple escape from the Cameron Parish Jail; driving under suspension and expired MVI Wednesday, Oct. 20, in Judge H. Ward Fontenot's 38th Judicial District Court and his trial has been set for Dec. 6.

District Attorney Jerry G. Jones states that Rainey would be transported to the State Department of Corrections as soon as possible and will be brought back from there to the local court on the trial date.

Rainey had been sentenced to ten years in the Department of Corrections on Oct. 13 by Judge Fontenot on a charge of sexual battery. He escaped from jail on Oct. 17 while awaiting transfer to the D.O.C., and was apprehended later that night.

The current charges stemmed from that escape try.

Agnes Yvette Trahan, 23, P. O. Box 271, Hackberry, also pleaded not-guilty to three counts of distribution of marijuana, contributing to the delinquency of a minor, and distribution of C.N.S.D. (Methaqualone), and her trial was also set for Dec. 6.

Stephen Britt Vincent, 22, Rt. 1, Box 171, Cameron was sentenced to 6 months in jail, suspended, two years supervised probation and a $500 fine for three counts of possession of CNSD and $300 and costs or 30 days in jail, all to run consecutively for possession of marijuana.

Waterfowl hunting to begin Nov. 6

Duck, goose, and coot hunting in Louisiana will begin Nov. 6, with the opening of the west zone of the state. The first split in the west zone will provide 30 days of hunting, coming to a close at sunset Dec. 5.

The second split in this zone will run from Dec. 18 to Jan. 11.

The first slip in the east zone will run for 16 days, beginning Nov. 20 and ending Dec. 5.

The second split in that zone will open Dec. 8 and extend through Jan. 20, providing 34 days of hunting.

Goose hunting will extend in the west zone through Jan. 26 and in the east zone through Feb. 9.

Hunters will be restricted to the same point system for ducks and the same limit for geese (5 daily) and coots (15 daily) as followed last year.

No more than 2 speckle-bellies are allowed in teh bag, however.

According to LDWF officials Louisiana waterfowlers can look forward to a better duck season due to greatly improved water conditions in the breeding areas and a successful late hatch.

Sabine National Wildlife Refuge will again this year allow public waterfowl hunting on approximately 24,000 acres.

Hunters are restricted to specified areas and must use steel shot only.

Hunting will be allowed on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday during the regular Louisiana western zone season.

Hunters will have to be off the refuge by 12 noon each day.

No permit is needed, however, hunters are required to check out at the refuge check station before leaving the hunt area.

Additional information can be obtained from Sabine Refuge at 762-4620.

Sabine refuge to allow hunting

The Sabine National Wildlife Refuge will open to public waterfowl hunting on Nov. 6 and the refuge hunt will close on Jan. 9, Refuge Manager John R. Walther announced.

Again this year, a total of 24,000 acres will be open to hunting. This area provided excellent hunting opportunities last year with hunters averaging 3 birds per visit, Walther stated.

Hunting will be permitted on three days each week: Wednesday, Saturday, and Sunday. There will be no hunting on Christmas Day. Hunters will be required to shoot steel shot only. Use of lead shot shells, regardless of gauge, will not be permitted. Be cautioned. As in past seasons, reloads will not be permitted because of the problems with identification of shells in the field.

The hunt check station will open two hours before legal shooting hours each hunt day and all hunters will be required to check in before hunting and to check out after completing their hunt.

There are other special regulations which apply to hunting on the refuge, Walther advised. Additional information, copies of hunt regulations, or maps of the hunt areas may be obtained by writing to: Sabine National Wildlife Refuge, MRH Box 107, Hackberry, Louisiana 70645, or calling telephone number: 318-762-4620.

Haunted house

A Haunted House will be held at the American Legion Hall in Creole. Halloween night, Sunday, Oct. 31, at 6:30 p.m. Admission will be 75 cents and the public is invited to attend.

All proceeds will go towards helping pay expenses for Tara Kay LaBove, who will be taking part in "The Little Miss Louisiana Pageant" that will be held in Baton Rouge.

Tara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. LaBove.

Offices closed

Roland Primeaux, Cameron Parish Clerk of Court, announced that the Clerk's office and all other parish offices in the Cameron Courthouse will be closed on Nov. 1 for All Saints Day and on Nov. 11 for Veterans Day.

Lions to sell holiday trees

The Cameron Lions club will conduct their annual Christmas Tree sale on the lot of the Cameron Motel.

The local club has purchased premium grade trees of Scotch pine, which will come in four categories of 3-5 feet, 5-6½ feet, 6½-7½ feet and 7½-9 feet.

The trees are due to arrive in Cameron by Nov. 24.

CYO plans haunted house

Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Youth Organization will have a haunted house Sunday, Oct. 31, from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at Ray Steven's home 4 miles east of Cameron. Admission will be 50 cents per person. Small children should be accompanied by an adult.

Fifth Sunday singing set

The "Fifth Sunday Singing" sponsored by the Baptist and Methodist churches of Cameron, Oak Grove and Grand Chenier will be held Sunday, Oct. 31 beginning at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Cameron.

Special music will be featured and the public is invited to attend.

Spook house slated here

The South Cameron High School band will hold its annual "Spook House" Saturday, Oct. 30, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the Cameron Recreation Center.

Admission is $1 each and children may have their pictures taken in their costumes for $2; bobbing for apples for 50 cents and a witches brew.

Rules given on seawall docking

Area boaters have been notified by Sam R. Battaglia, Director of the Lake Charles Recreation Department, that all boats wishing to dock at the Lake Charles Civic Center Seawall must give advance notice by phone and obtain a special permit.

The permit will allow a maximum stay of 72 hours for boats needing emergency repairs or for purchasing provisions.

Only boats up to 65 feet in length will be allowed to dock.

To obtain a permit contact the City of Lake Charles Recreation Department at 491-1280.

Festival approval asked on sale items

The Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival Board of Directors wishes to make known its policy concerning the selling of items during the Fur Festival by interested groups. The Board has expressed its desire that items advertising the festival or carring a Fur Festival logo be standardized and be approved by a committee established for this purpose.

Items such as caps, Tee-shirts, mugs, aprons, etc. should carry the Fur Festival logo. Any other printing or pictures should be approved by the committee.

The Board also announced that official Fur Festival items will be approved only when being sold by Cameron Parish civic, fraternal or religious organizations.

Any organization interested in selling items of this nature during the Fur Festival may contact one of the following for information:

Bill Morris, 775-5522 or Bonnie Conner, 775-5718.

Directory

A directory of Louisiana Seafood Wholesalers which identifies the kinds of seafood available from each company is being developed by the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service and the LSU Sea Grant Program.

Questionnaires have been mailed out to wholesalers and the directory should be completed and available to the public early next year.

Some cheese left

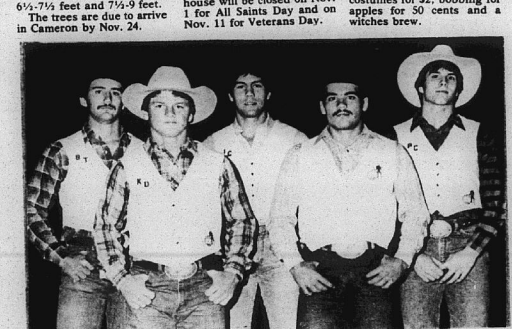
The Cameron Council on Aging has a very small quantity of cheese left to distribute.

Anyone wishing to make an application must contact the Council on Aging office by Nov. 5.

The office is located directly across from the Cameron recreation center.

Voters may be removed here

Elsewhere in this issue is a list of voters in Ward 5, Precinct 1 and Ward 6, Precinct 1 who are subject to having their voter registration cancelled for not living at the address from which they are now registered, as indicated by mail return by registrar of voter's office by the post office.



Mrs. Fae Jones, registrar, said each voter must appear personally at her office in the courthouse on or before Nov. 1 to show cause, if any, why their name should not be cancelled.

Miss Cameron forms ready

Mrs. Ruby Dupuie, who is in charge of the Miss Cameron Parish contest of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, announces that entry forms for the 1983 Festival contest will be available in all of the parish schools on Nov. 1.

The contest will be held Friday night, Jan. 14.

For more information, those interested may contact Mrs. Dupuie at 542-4664.

NORTHWESTERN State University's intercollegiate rodeo team will be represented by eight student members during the professional Louisiana Rodeo Cowboys Association's Championship Finals, Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Shreveport. The LRCA finalists from Northwestern are, from left, Brian Thomas, Natchitoches; Shawn Frey, Eunice; Jef Barney, Beckville, Tex.; Duncan Crain, Grand Chenier and Porter Craig, Zachary.

Duncan Crain in La. rodeo finals

Eight members of Northwestern State University's Intercollegiate rodeo team have qualified in five events to compete this weekend in the Championship Finals of the professional Louisiana Rodeo Cowboys Association.

Only the top 15 money winners in seven events for the 1981-82 season earn positions in the LRCA Championship Finals, which are scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in Hirsch Coliseum in Shreveport.

The LRCA finalists from Northwestern who will be competing for a share of the $17,500 in prize money are Brian Thomas of Natchitoches in steer wrestling, calf roping and team roping; Porter Craig of Zachary in bareback bronc riding; Steve Duhon of Opelousas in steer wrestling; Jeff Barney of Beckville, Tex., in calf roping and Shawn Frey of Eunice, Bubba Avant of Rayville, Duncan Crain of Grand Chenier and Sharlon Barnes in saddle bronc riding.

Going into the three-round LRCA Championship Finals, Thomas ranks fourth in the all-around standings with $4,664.65 won during the year.

In saddle bronc riding, Frey goes into the LRCA Championship Finals in third place. Avant qualified in 10th place, and Crain was 14th.

Bird count set here

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Cameron Parish ranks ninth in the nation in the number of birds sighted, according to the Louisiana Ornothological Society members who attended a meeting in Cameron this weekend to conduct their annual Fall Bird Count.

Members of the society spotted 206 different species of birds, including 3 very rare ones, one being the Lesser Black Gull. Over 60 members throughout the state participated in the count.

The eight other areas that top Cameron are: Santa Barbara, Calif., 212; Freeport, Tex., 204; Oceanside - Vista - Carlsbad, Calif., 200; San Diego, Calif., 198; Morro Bay, Calif., 195; Moss Landing, Calif., 195; Corpus Christi, Tex., 191 and Cocoa, Fla., 190.

However, the Louisiana bird-watchers hope to put Cameron parish higher up on the list nationally by encouraging local bird enthusiasts to put out bird feeders to attract more species and varieties of birds, especially humming birds.

They are asking that anyone locally who is interested in participating in the program, installing feeders, and is willing to let some of the members come during the count period to observe, to contact Mrs. Marianna Tanner, a local member in Cameron.

The state group plans to be back in Cameron parish on Dec. 18 to participate in the annual Christmas count for the National Audibon Society Christmas Bird Count which started 82 years ago.

Dr. Brad McPherson, who is an associate professor of biology at Centenary College in Shreveport, and an avid "bird-watcher" attends each watch with his whole family and some of his students.

He explains that paramount to achieving the maximum number of species and individuals for any given count circle is careful advance planning.

The count is conducted in an area circle that is divided up in a pie-shape with members assigned to each piece.

Permission is obtained from the local landowners by a local contact and the persons assigned to that area spend the whole day there with their binoculars and telescopes for a thorough survey then carefully noting and documenting each bird sighted.

Pevoto Woods is McPherson's assigned area this count. He and his family will spend the day all day Saturday at this Johnson Bayou location.

Other important bird-sight areas in lower Cameron are: the refuges, the Cameron jetties, Willow Island, the Cameron Courthouse, around the plant areas and others.

The Louisiana society meets in Cameron at least twice a year during October and April during the annual bird migrations and say that local landowners have been very cooperative in granting them permission to go on their land for bird-watching.

They are also very anxious to enlist the aid of local hunters who might sight a rare bird while out in the marshes.

They ask that if anyone makes such a sighting to please contact Mrs. Tanner in Cameron so it can be included in the bird count.

Mrs. Frances January

Mrs. January feted on 90th birthday

Mrs. Frances January celebrated her 91st birthday, Saturday, Oct. 24, in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lillie Harrison. Mrs. Emma Frank presented her a corsage, after which the group sang "Happy Birthday."

Mrs. January and the birthday party then feasted on turkey, ham, roast pork, dressing, and a variety of vegetable dishes, cakes and salads.

Friends and relatives attending the celebration included: Donald Ray Frank, Michelle and Tisha, Ben January and Candy, Mr. and Mrs. John Frank, and Phillip Ray January, all of Port Arthur, Tex.; Mrs. Ethel Mae Dozier and Dexter Harrison of Houston, Tex.; and local guests were Mr. and Mrs. Clem January, Mr. and Mrs. John January and Germaine, Mr. and Mrs. Rapheal Bargeman, Mrs. Lorraine DeJohnnette and Mr. and Mrs. Lee J. Harrison.

THESE SOUTH Cameron High School Jr. 4-H club members took part in National 4-H Week by making 4-H emblems for each member. They are: Wes Perry, Calvin Field and Scott Nunez.

Nominations asked

Calcasieu-Cameron parish farmers are asked to nominate a candidate of their choice to be on the ASC community committee ballot, stated Kirk D. Moore, County Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) for Calcasieu-Cameron parish.

The ASC community committee election will begin by mailing of ballots on Nov. 26 and continue through Dec. 6, the election date. The ASC election will be conducted by mail. The four ASC communities in Calcasieu parish are Community I, Wards 1 and 8; Community II, Wards 3 and 2; Community III, Wards 4 and 7; and Community IV, Wards 5 and 6. The three ASC communities in Cameron parish are: Community 1 - Grand Chenier, Creole, Cameron; Community II - Bell City, Lake Arthur, Gueydan; Community III - Hackberry, Johnson Bayou.

ASC committees are responsible for administration of farm programs at the local level. To meet the needs of individual producers, ASC committee members must be concerned and responsible individuals, Moore said. Cameron parish farmers have the opportunity to nominate persons they feel would best serve the farm community.

Anyone eligible to vote in ASC elections is eligible to petition a candidate to appear on the ballot. All petitions must be submitted to the parish ASCS office anytime after Oct. 7 and until Nov. 1, 1982.

Trapping to begin in state on Nov. 25th

Louisiana is again zoned for the 1982-83 trapping season and trapping in the north zone will open Nov. 20, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

The boundary between the north and south zones is Interstate Hwy. 10 from the Texas state line to Baton Rouge; Interstate Hwy. 12 from Baton Rouge to Slidell; and Interstate Hwy. 10 from Slidell to the Mississippi state line.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said the trapping season for beaver, bobcat, coyote, gray fox, mink, muskrat, nutria, opossum, otter, red fox, raccoon, and skunk will extend through Feb. 15, 1983, in the north zone.

He said trapping of furbearers in the south zone will open Dec. 1 and extend through Feb. 28, 1983.

A change in state law now requires that all traps be removed from the field the closing day of the trapping season.

Guidry called attention to special provisions for the tagging of bobcat and otter skins.

In order to obtain federal approval to export bobcat and otter out of the United States, the department is required to insure that only Louisiana trapped otter and bobcat are tagged with Louisiana export tags. In order to accomplish this, special possession tags will be made available to fur buyers.

A blue tag for otter and a red tag for bobcat must be filled out by the trapper at the time the pelt is sold. The information required includes the trapper's name, license number, parish in which caught, and date trapped.

No bobcat or otter pelt shall be purchased from a trapper or be in the possession of a fur buyer without a possession tag. Dealers shall not purchase bobcat or otter pelts without possession tags attached.

Bobcat and otter pelts shall not be shipped from the state without export tags attached. Dealers will obtain export tags for otter and bobcat by providing to the department one completed possession tag for each pelt to be shipped from the state.

Guidry said it shall be illegal to falsify possession tags or attach Louisiana export tags to out-of-state bobcat or otter pelts.

Once possession tags have been received and counted by department personnel, export tags will be mailed immediately.

Trappers shipping bobcat or otter out of state must provide completed possession tags to the department in order to receive export tags, he said.

Mrs. Fontenot gets Sr. Citizen award

Mrs. Ella Fontenot of Grand Lake was chosen Senior Citizen of the month of August.

Mrs. Fontenot is active in the Council on Aging programs and a member of the board of directors.

Mary Lebleu, vice-chairman of the board, is shown awarding Mrs. Fontenot with a plaque and gift certificates from the Boudin Shack, Speedy Tote, and Mud Bug ceramics.

FIRST PLACE winners in the contest sponsored by SAPE at Hackberry high school were: seated, Jamie Devall, Joey Devall, Adrienne Hantz, Monica Hantz. Standing, Karissa Soirez, Johnny LaFleur, Christy Trahan, Paige Clayton, Elmer Sullivan and Sandra McMahon.

SECOND PLACE winners in the Hackberry SAPE contest were: Seated, Will Aucoin, Jeri LaFleur, Farrah Hewitt, Angelia LeGros. Standing, Jolene Simon, Chasitie Mitchell, Dawn Domingue, Letitia Drounett, and Thomasena Goodrich.

THIRD PLACE winners in the Hackberry SAPE team contest were: seated, Angela Seay, Katherine Arnold, Nichole Duhon, Chrissy Schexnider. Standing, Chance LaBove, Joe Welch, Sue Ellen Portie, Wendy LeBlanc and Melissa Mire.

Hackberry winners named in contest

Students in grades K-6 at Hackberry High School participated in an alcohol and drug awareness contest sponsored by the SAPE team. The contest consisted of a one week lesson taught by each teacher. Students then colored a prepared booklet dealing with substance abuse of drugs and alcohol. At the end of the booklet, older students were asked to write about what they had learned.

First place winners were as follows: Kindergarten, Monica Hantz; grade one, Jamie Devall and Karissa Soirez; grade two, Adrienne Hantz and Joey Devall; grade three, Paige Clayton; grade four, Sandra McMahan; grade five, Johnny LaFleu and Elmer Sullivan; grade six, Christy Trahan.

Second place winners were as follows: Kindergarten, Farrah Hewitt; grade one, Angelia Legros and Will Aucoin; grade two, Jeri LaFleur and Joelen Simon; grade three, Chasitie Mitchell; grade four, Dawn Domingue; grade five, Thomasena Goodrich and Letitia Drounett.

Third place winners were as follows: Kindergarten, Katherine Arnold; grade one, Chrissy Schexnider and Angela Seay; grade two, Nichole Duhon and Sue Portie; grade three, Chance LaBove; grade four, Wendy LeBlanc; grade five, Joe Welch and Melissa Mire.

Here is an example of one of the first place winners written by Sandra McMahan of the fourth grade:

"In this time that I have been working in this booklet I have learned that alcohol and drugs aren't just two horrible words. Drugs can lead to very big problems. If you take drugs, the next thing you'll know you will be lying in a churchhouse, in a casket. Alcohol is also very, very dangerous. Imagine what the world would be like if all people drank was beer, wine and whiskey. It wouldn't be a very good place to live. And if everybody was on drugs that wouldn't be nice either. So what I'm trying to write out is that I happen to love this ole world and we are all proud of it. And all that alcohol and drugs do to it is mess it up."

Cowbelles to meet Nov. 3

The November meeting of the Cameron Parish Cowbelles will be held Wednesday, Nov. 3 at 6:30 p.m. at the K.C. Hall in Creole, according to Mrs. MaeAnn Hebert, president.

Election of officers to serve for the coming year will be held and she urges all members to attend.

A discussion on the state convention to be held in Lake Charles in January will also be held.

Broussard is assigned

Marine Cpl. Fred E. Broussard Jr., whose wife, Karen, is the daughter of Martin Theriot of Creole, has departed on a deployment to Okinawa, Japan.

He is a member of 2nd Battalion, 2nd Marines, Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The unit will spent six months overseas as part of the Marine Corps Unit deployment program. The concept is designed to rotate whole battalions or squadrons at a time instead of individuals at separate intervals. In this way, unit integrity is retained and the actual time they spend overseas is shortened.

During the deployment, the command will conduct training exercises with the U. S. 7th Fleet and units of allied nations.

Government...

As I see it

By Jesse Knowles, Chairman
La. Wildlife & Fisheries Commission

A number of sportsmen have been asking me what happened to the Dingell-Johnson expansion legislation that would have returned more than the 10 percent manufacturers level federal tax on sport fishing equipment to the various states to enhance sport fishing.

The answer is pretty simple. The "expansion" would have extended the 10 percent tax to fish hooks, fishing lines, and miscellaneous accessories, plus a three percent manufacturers excise tax on certain recreational boats, boat motors, and boat trailers.

Funds generated would be used by all the states for fisheries restoration projects, waterway improvement programs, construction of new lakes, and boat access areas, and water resource education programs.

The so-called D.-J extension program had the full support of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, countless bass clubs and other fishing organizations, as well as the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

Like so many bills that are introduced in Congress, the expansion package got mangled in the Congressional mill. On August 14, in the early hours of the morning the House-Senate Conference Committee decided to delete Section 286 of HR 4961, the bill that created the Tax Equity and Fiscal Responsibility Act of 1982.

Section 286 was the Dingell-Johnson (D-J) expansion language passed by the Senate and slated for amendment in the Conference Committee by recommendation of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee leadership.

In the amended (House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee; form, it would have included:

1. Transfer of 2/3 of the monies authorized by the Boating Safety and Boating Facilities Improvement Act of 1981 (at least $20 million, possibly as much as $27 million) to the D-J program with one-half earmarked for boating facilities improvement, and one-half for traditional D-J programs.

Source of the funds would have been: an existing 4 cents-a-gallon motor boat fuel tax, and reverted highway fuel tax monies paid by boaters.

2. Earmarking presently collected import duties on fishing tackle, yachts, and pleasure boats to the D-J program (about $20 million annually).

3. Extension of the 10 percent manufacturer's tax on selected items of fishing tackle to additional items of fishing tackle presently not taxed under D-J (about $5 to $7 million).

4. "Deferral language" that would have extended the period of payment of D-J taxes by the manufacturers. (The present payment system does not accomodate the seasonality of fishing tackle and, in fact, increases the cost of D-J taxed fishing tackle items.)

The reason for the D-J expansion measure's failure within the Conference Committee are conjectural at this point. The generally accepted reason is that the House - Senate Conference Committee elected to eliminate, without regard to individual merit, sections of the tax bill that were considered extraneous to the purpose of the legislation.

In a nutshell, the compromise was offered in place of D-J legislation (HR 2250 and S 546) that would have put a three percent manufacturer's tax on certain boats, outboard motors and boat trailers. Boating interests with considerable political power strongly opposed the legislation and the measures were stalled in the Congress.

The compromise would have brought boater's dollars into the D-J fund, a goal of D-J expansion proponents. Boating interests would have gained a continuing appropriation for their Boating Safety and Boating Facilities Improvement Act of 1981 which has never been funded.

With the loss of Section 286 from the tax bill, any possibility of securing significant new monies for the fishery resource is back to square one.

Although I voted with the other commission members in support of the D-J expansion program to increase available fisheries funds, I did so with some reluctance. Although the money would go to a good purpose, it represented increased taxes at a time when there is general rebellion against more taxation.

And, I'd like to issue a word of warning. We have done well with Pittman-Robertson and Dingell-Johnson funds for many years, for well over 40 years with Pittman - Robertson funds. Rep. Marty Russo is trying still to tap the P-R funds to pay for his victims of crime program. If the D-J funds were increased by about $40 million or so a year, someone would go after them. Fisheries could be in trouble if that happened.

There are times when it's best to play the cards you hold. And, with so many people looking around for cash in Washington, I'd play those cards close to my chest.

THE LAST 3-wheeler races of the season will be held this Sunday at the Mud Hole Track on the Little Chenier road beginning at 11 a.m. Here were some of the racers in the races held a few weeks ago.

3-wheeler races set Sunday

A 3-wheeler meet will be held at "Mud Hole Track" Sunday, Oct. 31, beginning at 11 a.m.

The track is located on the Little Chenier road, off Hwy. 27, north of Creole.

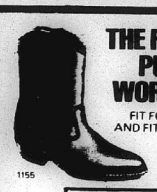
Five events will be held: pulls, drags, flat track, mud race, men and ladies team boot race.

Trophies will be awarded in first through third place in each event, with a high point overall awarded.

Four classes will be featured: 90-125, 175-185, 200, and 250.

For more information call 542-4398, after 5 p.m.

Navigation rules available



Paul Corei, Associate Agent Fisheries and Wildlife for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes, announced that boaters may purchase copies of the new inland navigation rules which took effect December, 1981 from the government printing office at a cost of $2.25 each.

The Inland Navigation Rules Act of 1980 updates and consolidates the old Inland, Great Lake, Western River and regulatory pilot rules that had previously governed navigation on the inland waterways of the United States.

Orders should be addressed to the Superintendent of documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington D.C. 20402.

When ordering, give the name of the Act, Public Law Number 96-591, and the number S/N 022-003-92759-0 on a card attached to the check for payment.

RUN: Oct. 21, 28, Nov. 4

NOTICE FOR BIDS

Acting under the authority of the Legislature of the State of Louisiana, the Cameron Parish School Board will receive sealed bids for the leasing of all surface rights including the rights of range, trapping, hunting, fishing, and farming, on the following described lands:

Section 16, Township 14, Range 11; DESCRIPTION: Three (3) miles West of Calcasieu Lake. Approximately four (4) miles North of Holly Beach.

Section 16, Township 15, Range 7; DESCRIPTION: 22.46 acres, along the Gulf approximately one (1) mile South of the Mermentau River and five (5) miles West of Lower Mud Lake.

All bids must be sealed, the envelope marked "Bid - Section 16, Township _____, Range _____" and may be forwarded through the U. S. Mail to the Cameron Parish School Board, P. O. Box W, Cameron, La. 70631. Bidder must offer an annual rental of not less than $1.00 per acre for a lease with a primary term to end September 30, 1987. Annual renewal rentals will be due each year by September 30th, in order to continue the lease in effect. Cash or check in favor of the Cameron Parish School Board for the amount of the annual rental for the first year shall accompany and be deposited with the bid, and the rental thus deposited shall be forfeited to the Board as liquidated damages if the successful bidder fails to enter into written contract in accordance with his bid within ten (10) days after acceptance by the Board.

If farming rights are utilized, bidder may offer annual rental plus a fractional part of not less than one-sixth (1/6) of any and all crops produced and saved during the year. The value of the one-sixth (1/6) share shall not be considered in the awarding of the lease unless the bidder guarantees a specific amount which shall be added to and accompany the bid. Should the one-sixth share value of the crops be less than the cash guarantee paid at the time of the lease, the Cameron Parish School Board shall demand such additional payment as necessary to bring the actual adjustment to a full one-sixth (1/6) of crops produced and harvested on any and all listed sections.

The surface rights and privileges granted in the lease are restricted to range, trapping, hunting, farming, and fishing and these rights shall in no way, manner, or form interfere with the granting of a mineral lease or the full utilization of all rights and privileges granted in any mineral lease.

Bids will be received until the hour of 10:00 a.m., Monday, November 8, 1982 at which time all bids received will be opened and read in public session of the Cameron Parish School Board in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids received.

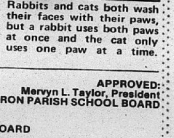
LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF LOUISIANA
OFFICE OF CONSERVATION
BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA

DOCKET NO. PL 82-269

In accordance with the laws of the State of Louisiana, particularly with reference to the provisions of Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended by Act 16 of the Extraordinary Session of 1973, being Chapter 7 of Title 30, and particularly Section 555 (F) of said Act, and the Rules and Regulations enacted thereunder, particularly Rule Numbers 4, 5 and 6 and Regulation 8, a public hearing will be held in the Conservation Auditorium, 1st Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North 4th Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at 9:00 A.M. on November 18, 1982 upon the application of MONTEREY PIPELINE COMPANY.

At such hearing, the Commissioner will consider evidence relative to the issuance of an order authorizing MONTEREY PIPELINE COMPANY to transport intrastate natural gas and to construct, extend and operate facilities or extensions thereof for the purpose of acquisition of gas supplies within a gas supply acquisition service area, which area shall include the Parishes of Cameron and Vermilion, State of Louisiana. Upon establishment of a gas supply acquisition service area, MONTEREY PIPELINE COMPANY may at its option, enlarge or extend its facilities within such area without further public hearing, by construction or acquisition, for the purpose of acquiring additional supplies of natural gas, so long as such additional facilities do not exceed five miles in length and nominal eight inch diameter pipe.

A copy of the application is on file with the Office of Conservation and may be examined during normal business hours.



Comments and views regarding the application should be directed in written form to be received not later than 5:00 P.M., Nov. 17, 1982. Comments will be received at the hearing but should be brief, and not cover the entire matters contained in the written comments. Direct comments to:

Tax free No. is available to fishermen

Paul Coreil, Associate Area Agent Fisheries and Wildlife for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes, reminds commercial fishermen that there are two points to remember when obtaining a tax free number from the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.
A tax free number must be obtained for each vessel or boat used that is eligible for the program.
Tax free numbers expire each year concurrent with the expiration date of the holders commercial fishing license; exemptions, therefore, must be applied for each year.
Anyone planning to construct a new boat to be used in commercial fishing operations can utilize the exemption program.
This will allow for the purchasing of construction material without paying state sales taxes.
The boat builder must, however, obtain a "before the fact" commercial fishing license from LDWF and apply for a tax free number accordingly, before construction begins.
More complete information can be obtained from Mrs. Brown at the state's sales tax section office at (504) 925-7356.

Deer hunting to begin on Nov. 6th

The gun hunting season for deer in a large portion of the state, including many wildlife management areas, will open Saturday, Nov. 6, with still hunting only in Areas 1, 2, 3, 4, and 6, according to the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.
Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said the five areas will provide from nine to 19 days of hunting during the period Nov. 6-24.
Area 5 will open Nov. 26 and provide 17 days of hunting with or without dogs.
Hunters are urged to consult the digest of hunting regulations for details, including regulations for wildlife management areas that will be open for deer hunting.
Guidry cautioned deer hunters, including archers, that they must comply with the provisions for wearing "hunter orange" during the upcoming gun season. The regulations can be found in the digest.
The hunting digest also includes regulations for the taking of either sex deer for those areas opening up, as well as either sex regulations for the wildlife management areas.

THIS IS A scene from the Creole Homemakers Club skit which took first place in competition at the recent Achievement Day. Members who took part in the skit titled "A Typical Day in a Creole Household of Long, Long Ago" were: Mrs. Mayola Wicke, Mrs. Eleanor West, Elvina Trahan, Mrs. Estelle Theriot, Mrs. Margaret Boudoin, Mrs. Earline Baccigalopi, Mrs. Charlotte Bonsall, Mrs. Willa Dean Morris, and Mrs. Rose Boudreaux.

Menhaden film shown to clubbers

Featured at the October meeting of the Creole Extension Homemakers Club was a film on the "Menhaden Industry" shown by member, Mrs. Willa Dean Morris. The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Morris with Mrs. Mayola Wicke and Mrs. Camellia Nunez serving as co-hostesses.

The Menhaden film covered every aspect of this lucrative industry from the catch in the Gulf waters to the processing, to the many products produced. Revealed in the film was the fact that Louisiana leads the nation in menhaden fishing and that Cameron is the number one fishing port.

Various members reported on the recent Achievement Day in which they had participated while president, Mrs. Estelle Theriot reported on the Council meeting which she had attended on October 7 at the Extension office in Cameron.

Mrs. Theriot made the following announcements: an educational chairmen training meeting will be held in Eunice on Nov. 10 at the Acadian Baptist Center. Scheduled to attend are Mrs. Charlotte Bonsall, Mrs. Margaret Boudoin, Mrs. Wicke and Mrs. Morris. A Holiday Foods workshop will be conducted by Anna Kittrell of Entex on either Oct. 28 or Nov. 1 at the Multi-Purpose Building in Grand Lake.

Mrs. Boudoin was appointed to serve as interim club secretary until election of new officers in January.

Scientists in 1979 took a 656-foot column of sediment from the Pacific Ocean floor. It contains a continuous eight-million-year record of many kinds of natural phenomena.

ENGAGED--Mr. and Mrs. Alex Beard, Jr. of Sweetlake announce the engagement of their daughter, Shari, to Glen "Tank" Chaffin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie C. Chaffin of Kinder. The couple will be married at 2 p.m., Nov. 20, at St. Mary of the Lake Catholic Church in Big Lake.

Workshop to be held Mon.

Tired of cooking the same old things for the Holidays? What you need are some new ideas! And that's exactly what you'll get at the Holiday Foods Workshop to be held Monday, Nov. 1 at the Multi-purpose Building in Grand Lake at 6:30 p.m.

Anna Kittrell with Entex will present menu ideas for the holidays and provide recipes to go with it. This workshop is sponsored by the Cameron Parish Extension Homemakers Council. It is free of charge and the public is invited to attend.

Alcohol & Drug Abuse Prevention
of Southwest La., Inc.

P.O. Box 1178
Lake Charles, Louisiana 70602
(318)491-1202

Dear Citizens,

Alcohol and Drug Prevention, Inc. of Southwest La. is a private, non-profit corporation made possible by the Mayors of the fifteen cities in Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron, and Jeff Davis parishes.

First-year funds were donated by concerned councilmen, aldermen, and police juries from local budgets. Membership is open to any citizen fourteen years of age or older who wishes to help wipe-out the alcohol and drug abuse problem facing our communities.

This corporation grew out of the efforts of the Substance Abuse Coordinating Council composed of professionals and laymen in the Lake Charles area who want to coordinate a community-based effort to halt this growing epidemic in our lives.

Here is what we believe:

1. There is no problem too large and overwhelming for raional people who are determined to find a way to over come the problem.

2. While there are few easy solutions to difficult problems, there are usually many simple solutions which come together to destroy the the superstructure of even the most difficult problem.

3. If every rational, caring person in Southwest Louisiana assumes even a small, personal part in working toward solving the problem, we can someday live in a community where all people are free from alcohol and drug-related problems.

Please read this paper carefully. We are asking you to volunteer to serve on citizen committees in you own communities in order to help design a three year plan to deal with alcohol and drug problems.

The forty-four topics listed have been identified for study. We need citizens who will study the problem and make recommendations for our future efforts. Please look at each topic carefully and determine which committee(s) concern you the most. Then fill out the attached form and return it to us. We need help from every citizen!

IT IS BETTER TO LIGHT ONE CANDLE THAN TO CURSE THE DARKNESS!

Sincerely,

Paul N. Savoie

The Drug Prevention Plan

WHAT IS IT....HOW IT WORKS....

Through the use of an organizational outline called the Community Based Plan, citizens in the five-parish area of Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron, and Jeff David will determine the best way to combat alcohol and drug abuse.

The Plan is not a drug prevention program nor does it outline a drug prevention program. What it does is outline a method whereby citizens of the five-parish area can design their own Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention Program.

Citizens in each community will be asked to serve voluntarily on committees which will research, plan and make recommendations for the various components of what will become the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention Program for Imperial Calcasieu.

Funding for the organizational phase is being requested from area municipalities through their respective Mayors. Cities have been asked to give a prorated share of the monies needed to get the program stated.

Once a program has been described by citizen effort, the funding necessary to meet the needs of the program will come primarily from local donations and from all other available sources. The fund-raising component will come into existance when the program has been completely described.

In order to insure an on-going alcohol and drug abuse prevention program, a non-profit corporate structure is being designed. The Board of Directors of this corporation will be composed of the Mayors of five cities and a number of private citizens.

The work during the organizational phase will be under the supervision of the Substance Abuse Coordinating Council which will review the recommendations of each committee and will make recommendations for the alcohol and drug prevention components of the program to the Board of Directors of the non-profit corporation.

Citizens committees will work in each community; each community can develop its own steering committee which will cooperate with the Substance Abuse Coordinating Council.

Thus, we have a Community-Based Plan for a totally unique alcohol and drug abuse prevention program for Southwest Louisiana. Citizens will organize to make recommendations for this program by late February, 1983.

At that time funding needs will be identified as required by the necessary components of the program. Legislative assistance may be sought to develop certain components of the program.

However, the Plan is flexible enough to allow immediate activation of any component of the program at any time money is available. It is hoped that existing organizations will volunteer to take on some of the desired activities as part of their normal program.

Citizens will be looking for ways to involve every segment of the community in the alcohol and drug prevention components, thus eliminating duplication of effort.

In fact, an existing organization may look directly toward the Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention Program for assistance in doing what it is already trying to do.

The Plan seeks to activate the entire five-parish area to look carefully at existing programs, existing efforts, and desired programs and efforts in order to build the most cost-effective alcohol and drug prevention program in existence.

How It's Structured

Started as a grass-roots effort to study ways to deal with the drug problem, Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention of Southwest Louisiana, Inc. is a non-profit corporation which has been structured to wage war on substance abuse.

Any citizen 14 years of age or older may become a member of this organization if he or she "seeks to promote the purposes and objectives of this organization as set out in the charter." Membership fees are $10 for adults and one dollar for students. Fees will be used exclusively to provide information and keep members up-to-date on program developments.

According to the Articles of Incorporation, the program will be governed by a Board of Directors composed of 13 members. Five members of the Board are mayors of cities in Calcasieu, Allen, Beauregard and Jeff Davis Parishes. A Cameron Parish member will be chosen by the Cameron Parish Police Jury from elected public officials.

Mayors serving on the Board for the first year are: Paul Savoie, Lake Charles, President; William T. Cagnon, Jennings; Crayton Pugh, DeRidder; Dennis Sumpter, Sulphur, Treasurer; and Dr. George Mowad of Oakdale. The Cameron representative has yet to be named.

The mayor of Lake Charles will hold a permanent seat on the Board. The Mayors of Jefferson Davis Parish cities Jennings, Welsh, Elton and Lake Arthur; Beauregard Parish cities DeRidder and Merryville; Calcasieu Parish cities Sulphur, Westlake, Dequincy, Vinton and Iowa, and Allen Parish cities Oadale, Kinder and Oberlin will hold seats on a two year rotation basis.

Two of the remaining seven members of the Board will be chosen from the Substance Abuse Coordinating Council. The Council is made up of representatives of various organizations and interest groups such as law enforcement, youth groups and civic organizations. Representing SACC are District Attorney Leonard Knapp, vice president; and Carolyn Allemon, secretary.

Board members selected from the membership are Giles Gilliam, John Latimer, and Joy Clemons. Additionally, another two permanent Board seats will be filled by members of the Trustees.

Alcohol and Drug Abuse Prevention of Southwest Louisiana, Inc. is now spearheading a plan for total community involvement in solving substance problems. The first four months will be devoted to organizing citizen study groups in each parish. Through the efforts of these groups, a plan will be designed for a community-based program for the entire southwest Louisiana area.

Once the plan has been developed, it will be submitted back to the public for their approval and support. The first phase of a three-year-plan should be in operation by September 1983.

How You Can Get Actively Involved

Every citizen in every community has the opportunity to take part in study groups which outline the ultimate alcohol and drug abuse prevention plan.

Alcohol and drug abuse prevention professionals in our area have identified forty four action areas which need additional study. The forty-four topics are grouped in six Action Arenas: Legal Action Arena; Professional Action Arena; Community Action Arena; Parent Action Arena; Workplace Action Arena; and Student Action Arena.

The [Professional Action Arena] includes the work of those persons and agencies who are trained professionally to deal with some aspect of the alcohol and drug problem.

The [Legal Action Arena] includes the work of those persons and agencies involved in lawmaking, law enforcement, and criminal justice agencies as well as citizens who have a special interest in the work of these agencies.

The [Community Action Arena] includes the work of those persons who are concerned with the alcohol and drug abuse problem as it relates to the larger community. Churches, civic organizations, and business and industry will be the major point of focus.

The [Parent Action Arena] will involve parents and other interested citizens and professionals in an organized effort to help parents take a more active part in the lives of their children. This group will concern itself with setting up Parent Groups throughout Southwest Louisiana.

The [Workplace Action Arena] will include employers, employees, citizens, and professionals who are interested in dealing with the problems of adults.

The [Student Action Arena] will include parents, citizens, educators, students, ministers, and business and professional people who have an interest in working to solve drug-related problems among young people.

Citizens in every community may work on as many committees as they wish right in their own neighborhoods, churches, or schools. Their work will be directed by local Action Committees named by the mayors in each community. The chairman of each Action Committee will serve on the Substance Abuse Coordinating Council which oversees the work in the entire five-parish area.

Please read the topics listed in the six Action Arenas listed below. We hope that you will join other citizens in helping us uncover some method of dealing with our problems. If you wish to take part in a committee, please circle the appropriate number and fill in the form on opposite page.

Within the next two weeks, when the forms are in, we will send you written notification of the first meeting of the committee(s) you have chosen. At that time, someone from the Substance Abuse Coordinating Council will be on hand to help get you started on this vitally important work.

"Lets Be Honest About Our Attitudes"!

The whole business of attitudes toward any kind of mood-altering chemicals needs to be examined, particularly in Southwest Louisiana. We have such a double standard:

•we laugh at drunks, make jokes about drinking UNTIL that drunk gets behind a wheel of a car and kills someone we are close to.

•we see "Happy Hours," "Two drinks for the price of one," "Come out and drink as much as you can," and then wonder why people overdose on heavy drinking.

•we say one thing and do another--like discussing the terrible drug problem while sipping our fourth drink.

•we think it's a tragedy when a teenager gets into trouble for smoking pot, but when that kid comes home dead drunk on Saturday night, we're relieved that "it's only alcohol."!

As long as society views the whole idea of substance abuse as a joke, we can't be honest about substance abuse problems. Therefore, we can't really deal effectively with the needed education, prevention, and treatment.

In order to help the public really examine our attitudes about the alcohol and drug abuse problems, area radio, television, and newspapers have joined together to provide information on the problems during Substance Abuse Awareness Week.

Runners in McNeese race Sat.

The McNeese Alumni Race was held Saturday, Oct. 30 at 8:30 A.M. The event consisted of three separate races, 1 mile, 2 miles, and a 6.2 mile race. T-shirts were given to all competitors and trophies were given to overall winners and age-group winners.

Five members of the South Cameron High School Cross-Country Team competed in the 2-mile event and did very well. Top finishers for South Cameron were Richard Nunez (8th - 13:00), Jimbo LeBlanc (11th - 13:09), David Dupont (12th - 13:15), Jerry Nunez (17th - 14:30), and Nat Boyd (19th - 15:15).

David Dupont received an additional honor for winning his individual age group.

Coach Lyle VanHorn, coach of the South Cameron Cross-Country Team, also entered the 6.2 mile event and placed first with a winning time of 34:06.

Jury to help sponsor drug abuse program

Members of the Cameron Parish Police Jury will participate in a "grass-roots" movement against alcohol and drug abuse that is sweeping Southwest Louisiana.

The concept was introduced at an informal meeting of interested officials on Oct. 12, at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Room attended by: Rep. Conway LeBleu, Sen. Cliff Newman, Judge H. Ward Fontenot, District Attorney Jerry G. Jones, Sheriff James Savoie, Superintendent of Schools, Thomas McCall, Police Jury President Lester Richard, Jr. and Police Jurors J. B. Blake, Jr., A. Brent Nunez and Ray Conner.

The effort originates from a needs assessment conducted by alcohol and drug abuse professionals and laymen who met at McNeese State University on Aug. 8.

The study indicated that the scope of the present alcohol and drug abuse problem is such that only total community involvement could affect a positive change.

As a result, a movement is underway to start citizen study groups in each city in Cameron, Calcasieu, Beauregard, Allen and Jeff Davis Parishes. These study groups will look at a total of 44 separate problems and help design an over-all plan of action for the future.

Work on these study committees will be under the direction of a non-profit corporation funded for one year only by pro-rata contributions from every city in the five parish area. The Cameron Parish Police Jury will contribute $4,300.

People who are interested in participating in the Cameron Parish study groups are to call the Police Jury Annex in Cameron for more information.

Exploration is holding steady

Oil and gas exploration appears to be remaining steady in Cameron parish as evidenced by the number of drilling, pipeline and seismic permits approved by the Cameron police jury at its monthly meeting Tuesday.

Drilling permits were approved for Texas Gas Exploration, gas well, West Cameron area; Superior Oil, dredge slip for well in Depp Lake Field; Despot Exploration, Little Chenier area; Koch Exploration, move a drilling rig, Depp Bayou Field; Diamex Company, Grand Chenier area; Conoco, Mallard Bay; Amoco Production, Sweetlake area; Burton-Sutton Oil, Johnson Bayou area; and Amoco Production, Grand Chenier area.

A permit for a 4-inch pipeline was approved for Superior Oil Co. in the North Grand Lake are.

Two seismic permits for Geo Seismic Services in the East and West Cameron offshore areas were tabled because of conflict with shrimping but a permit for the company in the Grand Chenier area and one for Teledyne Exploration in the Sweetlake area were approved.

A permit for Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. to place a 6-inch salt water disposal line from its rand Chenier compressor station in the Mermentau river was approved after the drainage board in that area said it had no objections to the permit.

In other business the jury approved a building permit for an office building for the Waterworks and Swerage District No. 1 in Cameron and a residential permit for John E. Wood in Grand Lake.

A permit for a second entrance road for the Hackberry terminal of Cities Service was approved, as was a permit for Alvin Guidry for a bulkhead at Hackberry.

Liquor permits were approved for Booth's Grocery in Grand Chenier and Creole Conoco at Creole.

The jury approved advertisement for bids for overlaying the Troscair (Front Ridge) road and for two garbage trucks for the Grand Chenier and Sweetlake areas.

Hanna-Abington Ford of DeRidder was the successful bidder on a new car for the parish road superintendent with a bid of $7200.

A hearing on the Coastal Zone Management proposal was set for the jury's Dec. 2 meeting.

The jury agreed to join with the parish Council on Aging in hosting a meeting of the Louisiana Aging Advisory Board on Jan. 13.

The new public boat ramp in Ward 5 was accepted as complete by the jury.

Lyle Crain of Grand Chenier, a former member of the jury, was present and was recognized by the jury.

Cubmaster is named

Carroll Lemaire has been named the new cubmaster of Cub Pack 160 at Grand Lake, it was announced at the regular pack meeting held this week at the Grand Lake multipurpose building.

Lemaire succeeds Patrick Hebert who has moved up to Pack Scout Coordinator.

During the meeting the cubs put on a skit and played a game.

An upcoming trip to be taken by the pack to Rockefeller Refuge was discussed by Mr. Lemaire.

Bobcat Badges were handed out to all members of the pack: Jerome Verzwyvelt, Chad Sullivan, Dwayne Mouton, Robert Guillory, Eric Granger, Ben Moore, Shannon Breaux, Charles Eagleson, John Toerner and Errol Lemaire.

Kevin Breaux and Shawn Moore were also inducted as Den Chiefs for the two dens.

Adult leaders were also introduced to the parents.

They are: Sue Guillory, Sally Toerner, Roseline Lemaire, Peggy Eagleson, Donna Verzwyvelt.

Gale Hebert was introduced as the Den Leader coach; Sue Breaux as the Pack Goofer, and Junior Breaux as the Pack Dad.

The Pack expressed a special thanks to Mrs. Della Nunez and the Grand Lake Recreation Board for the use of the multipurpose building for their monthly meetings.

The public is invited to attend.

Hunting begins Sat.

Louisiana's waterfowl hunting season for ducks, geese and coots will open in the west zone Saturday, Nov. 6, according to the Louisiana Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said the first segment for watefowl in the west zone would extend through Dec. 5. The second segment will run from Dec. 18 through Jan. 11.

The goose season will track the duck and coot seasons, he said, but the second segment of goose hunting will extend beyon the duck season through Jan. 26.

Coot hunting will be concurrent with duck hunting only.

Guidry said shooting hours for ducks, geese and coots will be from one-half hour before official sunrise to official sunset. Hunters using department wildlife management areas for waterfown hunting should check the digest of hunting regulations for shooting hours on those areas. This information will be found in the secion dealing with WMAs. Shooting hours vary in some of the areas.

Duck hunters will be shooting this year under the same point system as last year:

Pintail, gadwall, shoveler, wigeon, scaup, teal, red-breasted and American mergansers have a point value of 10.

Ducks assigned a point value of 25 are mallard drakes, mottled ducks, ring-necked ducks, and any duck not assigned a specific point value.

A 70-point value is placed on mallard hens, wood ducks, black ducks, hooded mergansers and redheads.

The canvasback has a point value of 100. There is a closed season on canvasbacks in Caddo, St. Charles, St. Mary parishes, and that portion of Ward 1, formerly designated as Ward 6 of St. Martin parish, and Catahoula Lake in Rapides and LaSalle parishes.

Under the point system, the daily bag limit is reached when the point value of the last bird taken added to the sum of the point values of other birds already taken during that day reaches or exceeds 100 points. The possession limit is twice the daily bag limit.

The coot (poule d'eau) season runs concurrent with duck seasons in both zones and the daily bag limit is 15. The possession limit is 30 after the first day of each segment.

The daily bag limit for geese is five (5) in the aggregate of blue, snow and white-fronted geese of which not more than two (2) may be white - fronted (specklebellies). Possession limit is twice the daily bag limit of geese.

Guidry reminded waterfowlers that duck, goose and coot hunting in the east zone would not open until Saturday, Nov. 20, with the first segment in that zone running through Dec. 5. The second segment is from Dec. 18 through Jan. 20.

The goose season in the east zone will track the duck and coot seasons, but the second portion of goose hunting will run through Feb. 9 in that zone after duck and coot hunting closes.

Beach work approved

By Jesse Knowles, Chairman, La. Wildlife & Fisheries Commission

Approval last week of Gov. Dave Treen's recommendations to stop coastal erosion by the Joint Legislative Committee on Natural Resources set the stage for letting of contracts on eight pilot projects that might result in guidelines for a future coastwise program to halt erosion of the Louisiana coast.

One of the projects approved by the committee calls for pumping sand onto Holly Beach - Peveto Beach on the Cameron parish coast.

This sand pumping, along with re-vegetation to hold the sand intact, could protect a prime coastal hurricane evacuation route that is now threatened with erosion.

Under the program that was proposed by Gov. Treen and endorsed by the committee, the same process of pumped sand with vegetation would be used at Isles Dernieres, off the coast of Terrebonne parish, and the Grande Terre - Cheniere Ronquille barrier islands.

In addition to this, however, the plan calls for the Isles Dernieres project to be supplemented with large rocks to seal a breach in the island, and sand dunes constructed in the back bay area.

These and other projects of the plan that won immediate approval stem from the fact that the most serious, seemingly inexorable, threat to a great part of Louisiana's coastal wildlife and fisheries resources today is the relentless and accelerating annual loss of approximately 40 square miles of coastal marsh.

This progressive marshland loss is a menace to the state's multi - million - dollar seafood, fur and alligator resources. It is an ongoing, gnawing away of the nation's most valuable winter habitat for waterfowl and many species of birdlife.

The coastal area being lost to erosion, saltwater intrusion, susidence and other factors represents the world's most viable and productive estuarine acreage and contains roughly 25 percent of the nation's estuaries.

The rich coastal zone, now in jeopardy, is undoubtedly the most productive in the United States, representing the primary nursery grounds for the shrimp, oysters, crabs and fish caught in coastal waters along the northern Gulf of Mexico.

These fisheries produce over 25 percent of the total commercial catch in the U. S. every year. The dockside value of fisheries landings in 1981 was $194 million.

In Poundage, Louisiana landings accounted for 1.2 billion pounds of comercial catch, making the state the first in the nation. Menhaden, an estuarine - dependent species, led the list with 1.17 billion pounds, valued at $39 million.

The accelerated land loss along the Louisiana coast that has now reached crisis proportions in southeast Louisiana did not occur overnight and remedial action will take a long time.

Inter - acting factor contributing to the loss of land along the coast include both natural and manmade causes.

Natural causes include sea level rise, lowering of the land surface, and erosion. Land surface elevations in the low intra-delta basins along the coast are barely

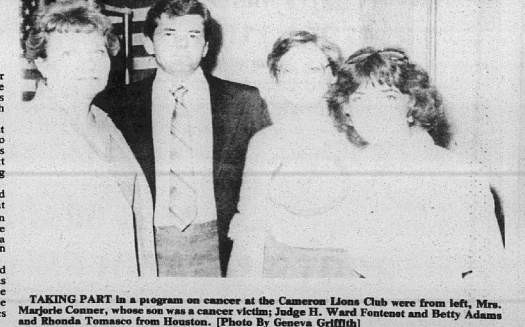
Lions hear about cancer program

Mrs. Rhoda Tomasco, from Houston, Texas was the speaker at the Cameron Lions club meeting, Oct. 27.

She was introduced by Judge H. Ward Fontenot, program chairman.

Mrs. Tomasco was accompanied by Mrs. Betty Adams of Houston and Mrs. Marjorie Conner of Grand Lake, whose son Bubba Stamm died of cancer in September.



Mrs. Tomasco explained about the "Sunshine Kids Foundation" which was formed at the Houston hospital and showed films on the work of the organization and of the "Sunshine Kids Winter Games" held in Winterpark, Colorado.

It is for pediatric cancer patients from all over the United States and the games will be held Next year March 4 - 11 in Winterpark.

Mrs. Tomasco said that there are also plans to develop Sunshine Kids Retreat houses over the next five years to aid the young cancer patients.

She told of having received a donation from students at Grand Lake High School in memory of their classmate Bubba Stamm, who was a patient at the Houston hospital prior to his death.

She stated that it is hoped that the "Sunshine Kids Winter Games" for the young cancer patients will be equivalent to the Olympics for the mentally retarded.

MUSING...

By BERNICE STEWART DENNY

During my childhood my limited wardrobe consisted of three types of clothing; Sunday best, school clothes, and every day ones.

Each summer my mother made me a beautiful little dress to wear to Sunday school and church. Usually it was a fine white organdy fashioned with tucks, trimmed with lace insertion and edging, and worn with a pastel colored satin or raffeta sash.

Occasionally there might be a simpler but dainty new one of dimity or lawn to wear when visiting during the week. Always the best dress of the summer before was lengthened and adjusted for "second to best" wear.

For fall and winter Mother made one of rep or surge or flannel. The latter two fabrics were either of wool or part wool. The ones that I remember best were navy sailor dresses with box pleats falling from trim yokes. The square sailor collars were embellished with red or white soutache braid and nautical emblems.

Each fall I started school with three new cotton prints. Mother chose plain or flower-sprigged material in shades of green, blue, or yellow because of my fair coloring.

How I longed for a pink ready-made dress! She insisted that pink was for brunettes not for her blonde Bernie. Finally, when I was seven, she ordered a light pink one for me. I adored it.

Then there were those all important everyday clothes. They were the too-faded or the patched, or the nearly outgrown ones that had formerly been worn to school.

We children often begged to wear our Sunday clothes that we were outgrowing for everyday.

"They are not appropriate," Mother would say. (And she was correct.) "We'll give your best things to your cousins who are smaller than you."

Then we would go to our aunt's and see her youngsters wearing our Sunday garments as they played in the yard. We were sorely puzzled and a bid resentful.

Mother was ingenious in designing dresses that grew with the child. She made them slightly too big at the start. Then she included hidden tucks in sleeves and skirts and wide hems so that they might be let out.

Poor darling! Since I grew tall rapidly, I must have kept her quite busy practicing her art.

The minute we returned home -- whether from church, visiting, or school -- we were reminded to retire to our rooms and change into our everyday clothes. I hated this little ritual with a passion. I liked being "dressed up."

The everyday dress that I disliked the most was one that Mother had sewed for that very purpose. She had made it for me from a maroon fabric that had resulted from her having ripped apart an old winter dress of her own.

All that winter she would insist that I change into it after school because it was "so nice and warm." Years later I realized that the little frock itself was neat and well made. But, oh, how I detested it! It was years and years after I grew up before I would buy anything red for myself.

I was in high school when I realized how far superior my mother's handmade dresses were to the affordable ready-mades on the market. She was an accomplished seamstress, and she always added her own unique touch to each.

I was a child when the rule of "make over, make do, or do without" was the order of the day.

Today there are those who believe that our runaway economy is about to pull itself out of a recession. Others declare that we are heading straight for a repetition of the 1930 depression. Surely it is time for our population as a whole to learn to "make over, make do, or do without."

Deceased to be honored

The late L. H. J. Primeaux, a deceased member of J. P. Boudoin, Sr. Knights of Columbus Council will be honored at the Msgr. Cramers Assembly, Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus annual memorial service for deceased members on Sunday, Nov. 7.

The service will begin with the celebration of Mass at 9 a.m., in Our Lady Queen of Heaven Church in Lake Charles. Msgr. Irving A. DeBlanc, PA, pastor of the parish and diocesan chaplain for the Knights of Columbus will be the celebrant.

After the Mass, a memorial service will be held in Our Lady Queen of Heaven Knights of Columbus hall, Ernest and West Claude Streets, Lake Charles, followed by a breakfast.

Grand Chenier club members go to meet

4-H officers and leaders from Cameron Parish attended the 4-H Executive Committee on Oct. 6.

Attending from Grand Chenier were Charles Hebert, Toni Mhire, Catherine Perry, Rhonda Perry, Stacy Perry, Michael Richard and Becky Theriot. Mrs. Coral Perry attended the meeting with the 4-Hers.

Charles Hebert was elected to serve as parliamentarian. After the meeting the members attended workshops concerning the proper way to hold a 4-H meeting.

Benefits are given

A total of 30 Cameron Parish families were certified for benefits during September by the Department of Health and Human Resources Office of Family Security, according to Dept. Secretary, Roger P. Guissinger.

Certification for Aid to Families with Dependent Children totaled 4 while 25 households were found eligible for Food Stamp Benefits.

AFDC grants totaling $3992 were paid to 29 families for 49 children in the parish.

Food Stamp coupons amounting to $8852 were authorized for 91 households.

Grand Chenier

By ELORA MONTIE

Duck season opens Saturday, Nov. 6 and sportsmen are busy getting ready. Trucks loaded with cane, towing boats and pirogues were seen going to the leases in the front and back marshes.

Several sportsmen say they have seen more ducks already this season on their leases than in past years.

Guides who guide for Oak Grove Hunting Club in the front marsh state they found tremendous amounts of drift from the storm. Chris, around their blinds, ponds and in their ditches. Salt water which spread all through the marshes from the storm caused a great amount of mosquitoes.

BAPTISM

Bryan Colby, baby son of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Little of Grand Chenier, was baptized Sunday, Oct. 24 at St. Eugene Church with Rev. Roland Vaughn officiating. Godmother was Debra Mire of Charenton. Godfather was Willard Little of Grand Chenier.

Folks attended masses and rosary recited while Rev. Roland Vaughn blessed all graves in the cemeteries of St. Eugene Parish. Graves had been decorated with fresh flowers by loved ones for Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

NEW VEHICLES

Eugene Paul Jones of Grand Chenier recently bought a 1983 Grand Prix Pontiac.

Mr. and Mrs. Danny Boudreaux recently bought a 1983 Delta 88 Oldsmobile.

NEW BABY

Mr. and Mrs. Earl McGrew, Jr. of Grand Chenier announce the birth of a daughter, Addie Louise, Oct. 11 at Memorial hospital in Lake Charles. She weighed 6 lbs. 11 oz.

Grandparents are Earl McGrew, Sr. of Grand Chenier and Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Dubose of Hattisburg, Miss.

Great-grandparents are Mrs. Dove Mae Dubose of Wiggins, Miss., and Benard Hession of Hattisburg, Miss.

Savan Miller of Grand Chenier, who spent some time in Memorial hospital in Lake Charles due to a heart attack, is home now doing well.

Mrs. Arline Crochet, who spent some time in South Cameron hospital is home doing much better.

Chenier club meets

The Grand Chenier Homemakers Club held their monthly meeting Oct. 26 at the home of Mrs. Hilda Crain. Hostesses were Alvenia Miller, Dorothy Dona Booth and friend of New Orleans spent the weekend with Miss Booth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Booth Sr. in Grand Chenier.

Spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Mark Shirley and family in Grand Chenier were Mr. Shirley's parents Mr. and Mrs. Louie Shirley of New Orleans.

Mrs. Sarah Woldron of Lake Charles is spending some time with her brother Sono Crain while his wife is visiting relatives in Sulphur.

Randlyn Crain spent Saturday and Sunday visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Neil Crain in Grand Chenier. She is from Dallas, Texas where she nurses in a hospital there.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Miller and Jennifer of Carencro, and Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Miller and family of Lake Charles, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Clark in Grand Chenier.

Mr. and Mrs. Robeshau and a friend of Welsh visited with Elora Montie Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Evans Mhire spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Eskew in Jennings. Mrs. Eskew was the former Ellen Whitler, who was in the Home Extension Club in Cameron Parish.

Mrs. Mamie Richard and Cheryl Miller attended the wedding of Michelle Richard and Ted Guillard in Moss Bluff Saturday.

Collins, and Hilda Crain.

Highlight of the meeting was the Halloween costume contest. The winner for most original was Mrs. Lida Miller.

The club is making plans for the Miss Cameron Parish Tea. The club is also making plans for the Good Grooming Tea for the 4-H Club, to be held on Dec. 11.

Mrs. Emma Nunez, chairman for citizenship, energy and environmental educational activity, gave a speech.

The November meeting will be on Nov. 30, at 7 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Coralee Perry. There will be crazy gift exchange.

NOTICE OF SALE
$2,700,000
RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON LOUISIANA PARK BONDS SERIES 1982

Time and place for Receipt of bids. Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), for the purchase of all but not less than all of two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) Park Bonds, Series 1982, of the District of the Police Jury Annex Building in Cameron, Louisiana, up to 11:00 o'clock A.M., Louisiana Time, on November 19, 1982, at which time and place the sealed proposals will be publicly opened.

Bond Details. The bonds offered for sale will be dated December 1, 1982; will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered from 1 to 540, both inclusive, in order of maturity, will bear interest payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year until the maturity thereof, and will mature serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

1984	$10,000
1985	150,000
1986	165,000
1987	185,000
1988	210,000
1989	235,000
1990	260,000
1991	290,000
1992	330,000
1993	375,000
1994	410,000
1995	10,000
1996	10,000
1997	10,000
1998	10,000
1999	10,000
2000	10,000
2001	10,000
2002	10,000

The bonds maturing January 1, 1995, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in sealed envelope marked "Bid for $2,700,000 Park Bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fourteen per centum (14%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one half percent (2 1/2%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and bids providing for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of fifty-four thousand dollars ($54,000). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such Board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification number will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccury, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the duly executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on December 14, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or chashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood and Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of a offering circular regarding the Park Bonds, Series 1982, of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and copies of the official bid form are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

Anyone who had ancestors living in the American colonies in 1775 has a reasonable likelihood of being descended from one or more Revolutionary War veterans. A quarter of a million men served on the American side.

Two and a half million men served with either the Confederate or Union Armies during the Civil War. Anyone who had ancestors living in the United States in 1861 has a reasonable likelihood of being descended from one or more Civil War veterans.

How to go about finding this out or proving that the family tradition of "Great-Grandfather (or HIS great-grandfather) serving in The War" is true, can be a puzzle to the family genealogist.

There are guidebooks to help you find solutions.

MILITARY GENEALOGY

Revolutionary War Genealogy and Civil War Genealogy are two separate genealogical research books by George K. Schweitzer, Ph.D., Sc.D. on how to find ancestor military information from these two wars.

Each book is divided into seven chapters giving background and history of the war involved; sources in national, state and other archives; publications, libraries, lists, claims and other records; local and area sources; military unit histories, events, sites, museums, organizations, books, etc.

The American Revolution generated volumes of records, many containing genealogical information on the soldier. After the war, more records developed from bounty lands, bonus pay, back pay and pension applications.

National and State Archives are the first repositories for Civil War records, especially the State for Confederate ancestors. Pensions for Confederate veterans were paid only by the states. Also, it should be remembered that many ancestors served for a state other than the one to which they moved following the Civil War. In some cases there were several moves.

Both these research guides are softcover, 6 x 9 in., Revolutionary War, 106 pages, $8.00; Civil War, 64 pages, indexed, $7.00, available from the author: Dr. George K. Schweitzer, 7914 Gleason, C-1136, Knoxville, Tenn. 37919.

CONFEDERATE INDEX

Index to the Roster of the Confederate Soldiers of Georgia, 1861-1865 is a new publication that alphabetically lists some 80,000 names from the original six-volume Roster compiled by Lillian Henderson, Director of the Confederate Record and Pension Dept. of the state of Georgia. Previously there was no index, names being arranged in the six-volume set by military unit.

Compiled by the staff of Lake Blackshear Regional Library in Americus, Georgia, under directorship of Mrs. Juanita S. Brightwell, this consolidated Index was several years in preparation. With each name it gives a reference to volume and page number where entries may be found in the six-volume Roster.

Hardcover, 6 x 9 in., 520 pages, $31.25 incl. mailing, available from: The Reprint Co., Publishers, P.O. Box 5401, Spartanburg, S. Car. 29304.

RESEARCH CONFERENCE

"Genealogical Research In and Around Our Nation's Capital" is the topic announced for the Second Genealogical Conference to be held November 19-20 at the Quality Inn in Mobile under sponsorship of the University of South Alabama School of Continuing Education.

Speaking at the conference will be three nationally known genealogists: Donald R. Barnes, Richard S. Lackey and Winston Deville. Emphasis is to be on research records available in Washington, D.C. and how to use them. Registration including Friday evening reception is $50.00.

To register or for further information contact: Judith K. Campbell, Univ. of South Ala., Brookley Center, 254 Old Bay Front Drive, Mobile, Al 36615.

RAGAS-BURAS

Gladys Armstrong, Box 21, Buras, La. 70041 seeks info. on Cyprien RAGAS and Catherine Irene BURAS, mar. c1850; a son, Augustin, mar. Sophie Ursule BRENT, 1879; lived in Plaquemines Ph., La.

PIERCE is an English name that can be traced back to Denmark and the tenth century when Manfed was born. He grew up to be a Danish chiefton and had a son, Galfred, who with a Norwegian Viking, Ralph the Ganger, led their people to the warmer climate of Normandy. Here Manfred adopted the name Percy.

His sons went to England with William the Conqueror where they used the name de Percy, later descendants recording versions of Percie, Pers, Pearse and Percy.

In about 1560 Richard Percy II changed his name to Pierce. Three of his sons: Richard, Jr., Captain William and Michael emigrated to America.

PIERCE FAMILY

The Pierces and Their Posterity compiled by Clara Waldron Pierce, James Pierce McClurkin and Graham L. Pierce and published by Lovick Pierce begins with these earliest records of the Pierce family and continues with "Family Lines in the Southern States embracing Virginia, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico."

Phillip Pierce who married Martha Andrews, daughter of Warren and Sarah, who had moved from Virginia to North Carolina c1734 is the proven progenitor of this Pierce line. His ancestry is traced probably back to Capt. William Pierce who married a Lovick.

Lovick Pierce, a son of Phillip and Martha, married Lydia Culpepper c1779 (he had served in the American Revolution). Later they moved to South Carolina and in 1804, on to Georgia. From their ten children descendants spread throughout the south including those well known in the Methodist ministry, education and politics.

This Pierce book is a large volume, 8 ½ x 11 in., hardcover, 319 pages, indexed, $20.00, available from the publisher: Lovick Pierce, 620 Enquirer Ave., Nashville, Tenn. 37205.

Along with family history it reproduces some original records, sketches, photographs and in full page size, full color, the Pierce coat of arms. Separate copies of this may be ordered at $5.00 each.

FAMILY SEMINAR

The first in a planned series of semi-annual Seminars in Family History will be held November 13, 1982 at the Public Library in Gulfport, Miss.

Elizabeth Shown Mills, C.G., F.A.S.G., and Dr. Gary B. Mills, Prof. of History, Univ. of Ala. will speak on: How to do Research in the National Archives Without Going to Washington; The Civil War Claims Commisions; Using Indian, Black and other "Ethnic" Records to Solve Genealogical Problems; and The American Revolution on the Gulf Coast - Contributions of French and Spanish American Colonists.

Directed by the Genealogy Division of the Gulfport Public Library and under private sponsorship, this seminar is being offered without charge. However, registrations will be limited.

GREENE COUNTY

Records of Greene County, Mississippi, Books A & B compiled by Ben and Jean Strickland, P.O. Box 5147, Moss Point, Miss. 39563, are softcover volumes, 8 1/2 x 11 in., indexed, about 135 pages each, $16.00 each, available from the compilers.

Book A contains inscriptions from 49 cemeteries in roughly the northern half of the county and Book B, 53 cemeteries from the southern half. Indexed by surname including maiden name of wives when available, each book contains a map for locating cemeteries by section, range and township.

Greene County as formed in 1811 extended from the Alabama border to the Pearl river. In 1820, Perry County was formed from the western portion of Greene. Since the Greene County courthouse burned in 1875, cemetery inscriptions take on special importance as written records.

Ryegrass useful in holding bare soil

The sowing of ryegrass to entend the greenness of a lawn is a popular option many Louisiana homeowners choose as the cold season turns established turfgrasses brown.

There are no serious management problems with seeding ryegrass over existing lawns, says Dr. Tom Koske, horticulturist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service. Two considerations are the added maintenance and cost of seed.

Ryegrass is a cool-season annual which dies rapidly with the warm temperatures of spring.

A more practical use of rygass is to hold soil on areas which are sparsely covered by regular lawn grass, or to prevent erosion on plots which have been recently developed, mainly for home construction.

"The late planting of warm-season grasses (St. Augustine, Centipede, Bermuda, Etc.) will not keep rains from washing away some topsoil, so ryegrass is most helpful. Too, some turfgrasses don't give complete coverage after one growing season, so a second planting of ryegrass may be helpful," Koske observes.

In north Louisiana, ryegrass should be sown in early October. It should be broadcast on fresh ground or on established lawns at the rate of 5 to 10 pounds per 1,000 square feet of area.

For south Louisiana, wait a few weeks later than in the north to plant. Use the same sowing rate. On fresh ground, Koske says seed germination is better is the surface of the soil is broken or roughened slightly beforehand. He says to provide ample watering until the grass starts to sprout. Later waterings may also be needed in the absence of adequate rainfall.

In the southern part of the state at this time of year, sprigs of permanent grass can be planted among the rye for an early start on spring growth next year, Koske concludes.

For additional information on establishment and care of home lawns, he recommends contacting your local county agent at the parish office of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Reef to be studied in shore work

An experiment using electricity to build barrier reefs is among Gov. Dave Treen's $7 million worth of proposals for studying ways to shore up Louisiana's shrinking coastline.

Under the plan, low-voltage current would be passed through contoured wire mesh in an attempt to pull minerals out of seawater.

If it works, the minerals eventually would form a rock-like barrier to hold back sand that otherwise would flow into the Gulf of Mexico. The sand itself would have to be dredged in.

The experiment in what is called mineral accretion is among $4.6 million in procedures Treen wants to test at four barrier islands.

The others are filling pipeline canals within 2,000 feet of the shoreline; raising low shoreline areas to one foot above sea level and using plants to cut back erosion; and putting rock dams across breaches in the shoreline.

Some of those projects would be tested at other barrier islands including Isle Dernieres off Terrebonne Parish and Cheniere Ronquille, which is near Grand Terre off Jefferson and Plaquemines parishes.

Other proposals include an $828,000 marsh - building program at Pass-a-Loutre in Plaquemines Parish and $1 million to shore up a beach - front hurricane evacuation highway along Holly and peveto beaches in Cameron Parish.

Livestock show will be new festival feature

A new feature of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, scheduled to be held in Cameron Friday and Saturday, Jan. 11 & 12, will be the second annual Cameron parish junior livestock show, according to Associate County Agent Clifford Myers.

The livestock show, opened to all 4-H club members in the parish, will be held Saturday morning at the Cameron recreation center, with judging to start at 9:30 a.m.

There will be no charges for exhibits or for spectators, Mr. Myers stated.

Dairy and beef cattle, quarter horses, swine, sheep, pigeons and rabbits may be entered in the competition. Ribbons and awards, which are financed by the Cameron police jury, will be presented to the winners on the day of the show.

One of the top trophies to be awarded that day will be to the owner of the champion beef animal. This large trophy has been donated by Mr. and Mrs. Conway LeBleu in memory of Mr. LeBleu's grandfather, C.F. Henry. The award will be rotated each year among the winners of this contest.

The Cameron Parish 4-H fur grading contest will also be conducted during the festival.

The Cameron parish 4-H executive council will sell sandwiches and cold drinks during the livestock show.

OTHER EVENTS SCHEDULED for the fur festival include the state muskrat skinning contest and the state fur queen contest. Louisiana's champion rat skinner will receive a fee trip to the National Outdoor Show at Cambridge, Md. to compete in the national contest.

The fur queen will receive a fur stole and a trip to either the Mardi Gras Ball at Washington, D.C. or the Cambridge show.

Carson L. LaBove dies from wreck injuries

A former resident of Cameron parish, Carson L. LaBove, 34, of Lake Charles, died at 7 p.m. Sunday at the Lake Charles Memorial hospital from injuries received Saturday afternoon in an accident on Highway 27 several miles east of Cameron.

Born in Creole June 29, 1928, Mr. LaBove and his family had made their home in Cameron parish until shortly after Hurricane Audrey in 1957 when they moved to Lake Charles. He had been employed by the Schlumberger Company for about eight years.

He was a World War II veteran and a member of the Doxey-Vincent VFW post of Cameron.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Sacred Heart Catholic church in Creole, with burial in the church cemetery under the direction of O'Donnell Funeral Home.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sadie Ann LaBove, one daughter, Carla LaBove and one son, Leonard LaBove all of Lake Charles; his mother, Mrs. Elray LaBove of Cameron; three brothers, Wayburn LaBove of Cameron, Neil LaBove of Port Neches, Tex. and Arnold Lee LaBove of Beaumont, and two sisters, Mrs. Donald Thomas of Emerson, Ark. and Mrs. Frank Hooper of Iota.

Pallbearers were Wayburn LaBove, Arnold LaBove, Neil LaBove, Frank Hooper, Lynn Miller and Alvin White.

* * *

ACCORDING TO State Police Cpl. C.E. Jones the accident occurred at about 4:30 p.m. Saturday four miles east of Cameron.

The LaBove car struck one driven by Louise Cole, 28, of Cameron. The Cole car had stopped to make a left turn into Dr. Cecil Clark's driveway.

The LaBove car in trying to pass the Cole car hit the shoulder of the road and then hit the left front of the other car. It then ran into the ditch and turned over.

Beth LaBove and another passenger in the car, John Knisely, 30, of Lake Charles were thrown from the car. They were taken to the Lake Charles hospital. Louise Cole received minor injuries.

The Schlumberger company car driven by LaBove was a total wreck, the Cole car received $300 in damages.

Theriot now associated with firm

J.O. Theriot is again associated with the O'Donnell Funeral Home in Creole it was announced this week by Joe O'Donnell, owner.

Mr. Theriot founded the business here in 1939 and operated it for 15 years. He then retired, sold the business to his son-in-law; Mr. O'Donnell, and he and his wife moved to Erath.

During the past few years, Mr. Theriot has been manager of the Forest Moro Plantation, which is owned by Dr. M.O. Miller at Vidalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Theriot have now returned to Creole to make their home and to assist with the funeral home.

Mr. O'Donnell also announced that Sidney Savoie of Creole is now associated with the firm as insurance agent.

Jury asks bids on bridge here

The Cameron police jury will open bids at 10:30 a.m. on Friday, Jan. 4 on the construction of a box culvert and a precast concrete bridge along the Davis street drainage ditch adjacent to the fuel bulk storage plant in Cameron.

Dr. Hugh Price dies suddenly

Dr. V. Hugh Price, 45, well known Lake Charles physician and surgeon who had many Cameron parish patients, died at 3:45 p.m. Monday in St. Patrick's hospital.

A native of Covington, Tenn., he had lived in Lake Charles since 1948.

Water rates set

A schedule of water rates for the new water system of the town of Cameron was adopted by the Cameron water works commission last Friday. However the rates will not become official until after a protest meeting is held to give anyone who wishes an opportunity to protest the rates.

The proposed monthly rates are as follows: residences, $3; filling stations, $10; grocery and dry goods stores and bars, $5; cafes and restaurants, $10; washeteria, $1.50 per machine; motels, $7.56 per unit; single apartments, $1.50.

The board said they were not in favor allowing the contractor to cut hard surface roads to install service lines to homes, but said it would be permitted if there were no other way to install the lines.

Knight of Year to be named here Dec. 29th

A member of Cameron Council 3014, Knights of Columbus, will be named Knight of the Year" at a banquet, Saturday night, Dec. 29 at the K. of C. Home in Creole. His name will remain secret until that night when he will be presented a plaque by last year's recipient, J. Burton Daigle.

This will mark the fourth year a Knight is honored for his faithful service to the council, church, and civic affairs in the past year. Other recipients of the award in the past were: Dalton Richard in 1959; Norman McCall in 1960; and Daigle in 1961.

The principal speaker for the evening will be Thomas J. Ragusa, KSC, of Hammond, who is the State Deputy of the Louisiana Jurisdiction of the Knights of Columbus.

The local court of the Catholic Daughters of America will prepare the meal which will be served by the Boy Scouts of the Troop which the council sponsors.

During the meeting Thursday night, members approved cash donations be made to the four priests serving the Cameron, Creole, and Grand Chenier area. Members will also distribute Christmas food baskets to needy families in the area as have been done in previous years.

Council members also approved to make a donation to St. Raphael Council 2006 in Iowa, for a Mass kit to be used at the Seamen's Center in Lake Charles.

Eastern Star to install new officers

The Thelma Hackett Chapter No. 225, Order of the Eastern Star, will install new officers this Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Cameron Masonic Temple. The meeting is open and visitors may attend.

Mrs. Norma Jeanne Blake will be installed as Worthy Matron and Voelkel Dyson as Worthy Patron.

Installing officer will be Annie Osite Lee, past state Grand Matron, who will be assisted by Billie B. Zigler, past Grand Patron and Iner Miller, past Grand Matron, all of Lake Charles.

CHRISTMAS IS JUST FIVE DAYS AWAY.

Baptists set Christmas program Sun.

The First Baptist Church of Cameron will hold its Christmas program Sunday, Dec. 23, at 7:30 p.m. A film entitled "Guiding Star" will be shown and Christmas carols will be sung.

The Rev. Billy Hutson, pastor, invites the public to attend.

Altar Society to sell food

The Altar Society of Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic church will sell gumbo, sandwiches, cakes and coffee at the Fur Festival on Saturday Jan. 12, to raise funds for the shrine which is to be erected in front of proposed new Catholic Church.

Cameron Parish Schools 50 Years Ago

Cameron had only two-room school

(Editor's Note--Last week Archie Hollister began a series of articles on the schools of Cameron parish of 50 years ago. The series is based on a report made by Dr. John M. Foote of the State Department of Education, following a visit to the parish.

(This week, the series continues Dr. Foote's report, covering the schools of the Cameron, Oak Grove and Creole area.)

CAMERON

Cameron is the county seat of the parish, located a mile from the Gulf, on the Calcasieu river. The house is 24 x54 feet with a partition so as to form two rooms. It is painted and ceiled on the interior, is old and in need of repair, and is of very ordinary construction. It is a very inferior building for the county seat to have for school purposes.

The equipment consists of desks for teachers and pupils, a library of eighty-four volumes, a dictionary, twenty-four feet of pulp blackboard per room, a case of maps, shades, a globe, and a number of potplants. The principal is a competent first grade teacher of eleven year's experience, and is serving here the fifth session. The assistant is a third grade teacher of two years' experience. The salaries are sixty and forty dollars, respectively.

Sixty pupils are enrolled in seven grades, and the attendance is forty-two. Programs are kept posted. There is a literary society. The session is eight months. The small site of one-third of an acre is located just to the rear of the court house and adjacent to the parish jail; the site and location are very unsatisfactory, and we are glad to report that steps have been taken to secure a new site of two acres in a more favorable part of the community.

Drinking water is gotten from an artesian well at the court house. There are two toilets of the deep-pit type. The present plant is very inferior and we urgently recommend that better facilities be provided. The people of the district and the entire parish should take sufficient pride in the county seat to see to it that a better and larger school plant is provided at an early date.

OAK GROVE

A modern two-room house, the best in the parish, was recently constructed following the consolidation of two small schools. The building is correctly lighted and ventilated, painted inside and outside, and generally satisfactory as a school plant. The equipment consists of desks for teacher and pupils, forty feet of pulp blackboard, shades and a globe. There is but one teacher here; she holds a second grade certificate and receives a salary of fifty dollars per month.

The enrollment is forty pupils in six grades and the attendance is thirty-two. The daily program is kept posted. As a portion of the funds due this school for the current session were used to assist in the construction of the new house, the session has been reduced to four months.

The two-acre site is well drained, fenced, and beautifully ornamented by the numerous live oak trees that abound.

THE CREOLE AREA

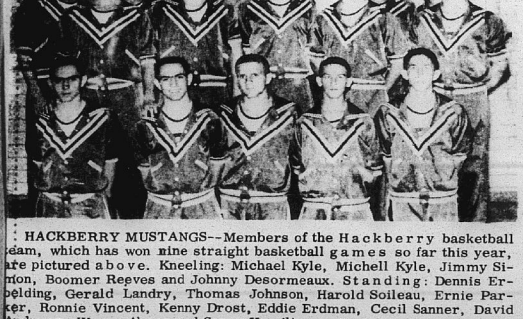
CREOLE

A one-room school having a box house and other conditions which vary but little from those described for other one-room schools. The equipment includes desks for pupils, blackboard, a dictionary, shades, one wall map, a few pot-plants and flowers, a flag, and considerable work of the pupils properly arranged on the walls.

The teacher is a high school graduate and has had several terms at the State Normal; she has had six years' experience, holds a second grade certificate, receives fifty dollars per month, and is serving here the second session. The enrollment is twenty-eight in three grades, and the attendance is perfect. The daily program was posted.

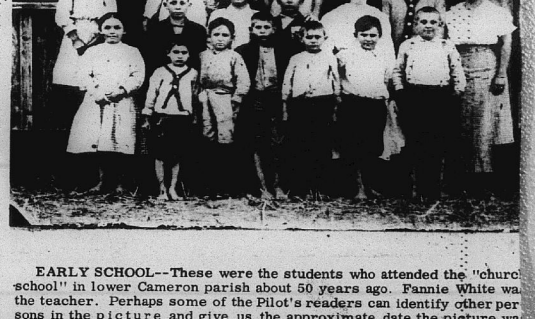
The pupils have taken an active part in the literary society, and the girls are interested in a sewing club. The session is eight months.

CHURCH



The house and other conditions here are generally similar to those above mentioned. The teacher has had five years' experience, holds a first grade certificate, receives sixty dollars per month, and is serving here the first session. The enrollment is fifty-seven in six grades and the attendance is thirty. The daily program is posted. There is a literary society. The session is eight months.

SAVOIE



Another one-room school having house and physical conditions that vary but little from those of schools just above mentioned. The teacher is a graduate of a college in Mississippi, holds a first grade certificate, receives fifty-five dollars per month and is doing good work here for the first session. The enrollment is fifty-two pupils in six grades and the attendance is twenty-eight.

The small attendance was caused partly by the bad

SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA FOR THE PURPOSE OF PROVIDING FUNDS TO PURCHASE, ACQUIRE AND DEVELOP LANDS, AND TO PURCHASE, ACQUIRE, CONSTRUCT AND INSTALL BUILDINGS, MACHINERY, EQUIPMENT AND OTHER FACILITIES FOR A RECREATIONAL PARK NECESSARY TO PROVIDE PROPER RECREATION SERVICE IN SAID DISTRICT; PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS; FIXING THE FORM AND DETAILS OF SAID BOND; AND PROVIDING FOR THE SALE OF SAID BONDS.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted by the Board of Commissioners (hereinafter called the "Board") of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, (hereinafter called the "District") on June 1, 1982, a special election in the District was held on September 11, 1982 on the question of the issuance of general obligation bonds of the District in an amount not to exceed two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the qualified electors of the District voting on the aforesaid question posed in said election voted in favor of such question to incur debt and issue such bonds of the District; and

WHEREAS, the Board has investigated the proceedings heretofore taken authorizing the issuance of said bonds and has found and does hereby determine that the same are regular and have been taken in all respects in due conformity with law; and

WHEREAS, Section 39:569 Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, makes it the duty of the Board to impose and collect annually, in excess of other taxes, a tax on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due on general obligation bonds of the District for each year.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA:

SECTION 1: There are hereby authorized to be issued and sold bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana in the aggregate principal amount of two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District. Said bonds shall be designated "Park Bonds, Series 1982" (hereinafter called the "Bonds"). The Bonds shall be dated December 1, 1982, shall be in the denominations of $5,000, shall be numbered from 1 to 540, both inclusive, in order of maturity, shall be issued upon form payable to bearer, and shall bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding fourteen per centum (14%) per annum, as shall be determined upon the sale of the Bonds, payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year, until the final payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon, but only upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons for such interest as they severally become due. Both principal of and interest on the Bonds shall be payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which, on the dates of payment thereof, shall be legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Bonds shall become due and payable serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT

The Bonds maturing on and after January 1, 1995, shall be redeemable by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event the Bonds shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If the Bonds shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount hereof to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then the Bonds so called for redemption shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

SECTION 3. The Bonds shall be executed in the name of the District by the President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Board by their manual or facsimile signatures, provided that at least one such signature shall be a manual signature, and the corporate seal of the District shall be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted thereon. The coupons to be attached to the Bonds shall be authenticated by the facsimile signatures of the said President and Secretary-Treasurer. The Bonds and coupons pertaining thereto bearing the signatures of officers in office at the date of the signing thereof shall, upon delivery thereof and payment therefor, be valid and binding obligations of the District, notwithstanding that before delivery thereof and payment therefor any or all of the persons whose signatures appear thereon shall have ceased to be such officers.

SECTION 4: The Bonds, the coupons pertaining thereto, and the endorsement of the Secretary of State of the State of Louisiana to appear thereon, shall be in substantially the following respective forms, to with:

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON
PARK BOND, SERIES 1982
OF
RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX
OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON,
STATE OF LOUISIANA

No. $5,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS that Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), a subdivision of the State of Louisiana, acknowledges itself indebted and for value received hereby promises to pay to the bearer hereof the principal sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) on the first day of January, ——(Subject to the right of prior redemption hereinafter mentioned), upon presentation and surrender of this bond, and to pay interest on said principal sum, from the date hereof until said principal sum is paid in full, at the rate of ——per centum (—%) per annum, payable on the first day of January, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on the first day of July and the first day of January in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons therefor attached hereto as the same severally become due. Both principal of and interest on this bond are payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which at the time of such payment is legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

This bond is one of a duly authorized issue of bonds of like date and term herewith, except as to number, denomination, interest rate and maturity, issued by the District under and in strict compliance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisana, approved by a majority of qualified electors of the District voting on the question of the issuance of said bonds at an election held in the District on September 11, 1982, and issued in accordance with proceedings of the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, duly adopted, for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District.

The bonds of the issue of which this bond is a part maturing on and after January 1, 1995, may be called for redemption by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time, upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event this bond shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If this bond shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount hereof to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or profided for, then this bond shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

The full faith and credit of the District are irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due. The District has made or will make provisions for the collection of an annual tax, in excess of all other taxes, on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that this bond is authorized by and is issued in conformity with the requirements of the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana; that all conditions, acts and things required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana to exist, happen and be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one do exist, have happened and have been performed in regular and due time, form and manner as required by law; and that this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one, together with all other indebtedness of the District, do not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation on indebtedness applicable to the District.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Board of Commissioners of the District, has caused this bond to be executed in its name by the President and Secretary-Treasurer of said Board, by their manual or facsimile signatures (provided that one of such signatures hereon shall be a manual signature), the seal of the said District to be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted hereon, the coupons pertaining to this bond to be executed by the facsimile signatures of said President and Secretary-Treasurer, and this bond to be dated the first day of December, 1982.

SECTION 5. Pursuant to law, and particularly pursuant to Section 39:569 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, there is hereby imposed and shall be collected annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the principal and interest falling due on the Bonds in each year, which tax shall be levied and collected by the same officers, at the time and in the same manner as the general taxes of the District. The full faith and credit of the District are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and the interest on the Bonds.

SECTION 6. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Board is hereby authorized and directed to cause the Bonds to be offered at public sale on sealed bids on such date as shall be given by a notice of sale to be published (i) one time at least seven clear calendar days in advance of the date scheduled for the reception of the bids in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and (ii) one time at least forty-eight (48) hours in advance of the date scheduled for the reception of bids, in either The Times Picayune, in New Orleans, Louisiana, the same being a newspaper of general circulation, or, a financial journal or newspaper containing a section devoted to municipal bond news in either of the cities of New Orleans, Louisiana, or New York, New York.

The Board shall meet on the day and at the time selected by the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board for the reception of bids for the Bonds for the purpose of considering and acting upon the bids received. If any of the bids for the Bonds shall be accepted, the Board at such meeting shall adopt proceedings fixing the rate or rates of interest to be borne by the Bonds in accordance with the bid accepted and authorizing such other action pertaining to the issuance, sale and delivery of the Bonds as may be necessary.

SECTION 7. The Notice of Sale shall be in substantially the following form, to-wit:

"NOTICE OF SALE
$2,700,000
RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX
OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA
PARK BONDS,
SERIES 1982

Time and Place for Receipt of Bids. Sealed Proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), for the purchase of all but not less than all of two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) Park Bonds, Series 1982, of the District at the ——, Louisiana, Time, on ——, 1982, at which time and place the sealed proposals will be publicly opened.

Bond Details. The bonds offered for sale will be dated December 1, 1982; will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered from 1 to 540, both inclusive, in order of maturity, will bear interest payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year until the maturity thereof, and will mature serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1984	$10,000
1985	150,000
1986	165,000
1987	185,000
1988	210,000
1989	235,000
1990	260,000
1991	290,000
1991	330,000
1993	375,000
1994	410,000
1995	10,000
1996	10,000
1997	10,000
1998	10,000
1999	10,000
2000	10,000
2001	10,000
2002	10,000

The bonds maturing January 1, 1995, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on and after January 1, 1994, in whole or in part, upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in a sealed envelope "Bid for $2,700,000 Park Bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same single rate from their date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fourteen per centum (14%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one-half percent (1 1/2%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest, provision for providing for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons in the payment of any premium or anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of fifty-four thousand dollars ($54,000). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such Board as liquidated damages, and interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

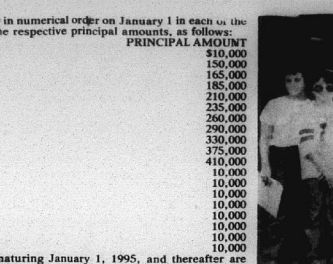
CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers of any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccur4acy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the principal office of the successful bidder in the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on ——, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood and Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of a offering circular regarding the Park Bonds, Series 1982, of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and copies of the official bid form are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 2535 Grasser Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130. or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

Secretary-Treasurer of the Board
Commissioners of Recreation
District No. Six of the Parish
of Cameron, Louisiana

SECTION 8. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the Bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any Bond nor any inaccuracy, error or ommission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular Bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any apying agent for the Bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the Bonds will be paid by the District.



SECTION 9. The proceeds derived from the sale of the Bonds shall be applied to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in said District. The District covenants to and with the purchasers of the Bonds, and with the holders thereof from time to time, that the District shall make no use of the proceeds of the sale of the Bonds or any investment income therefrom which would cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" under Section 103 (c) of the U. S. Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the District shall comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations adopted under such Section 103 (c) so long as any Bond is outstanding.

SECTION 10. This resolution shall take effect immediately upon its adoption, and all prior resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with this resolution be and are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

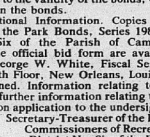
Vegetables to plant

Although fall has arrived, some cold-hardy vegetables can be planted in November, says Craig Roussel, horticulturist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service. These include mustard, turnips, shallots, spinach, cabbage and garlic.

Mustard greens and turnips are two winter vegetables that thrive in Louisiana. Roussel recommends the varieties Florida Broadleaf, Southern Giant Curled, Chinese Evergreen or Tendergreen. Best varieties of turnips are Purple Top, Globe, Seven Tops (for greens only), Shogin, Tokoyo Cross, and Just right.



Any of the shallots can be planted in November. However, onions can be seeded only during the early part of the month in extreme south Louisiana. Varieties best for Louisiana are Bonheur, Delta Giant, Summergreen and Louisiana Evergreen.

For salad lovers, November is also the month to plant spinach and cabbage. Recommended varieties are Long Standing Bloomsdale, Broadleaf Flanders, Hybrid No. 7, Virginia Savoy Hybrid, Melody, America and Viking. Cabbage is seeded in November for late winter and early spring production. Suggested varieties are Rio Verde, Greenboy, Early Round Dutch and Superette.

Garlic varieties for Louisiana are Creole, Italian and Tahiti.

For more information on vegetable gardening, contact the county agent in the parish office of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

above mean high tide, making those areas vulnerable to wave attack.

Barrier islands such as Timbalier, Grand Isle, Grand Terre, and Isle Dernieres provide natural protection from storm surge and hurricanes, but they are rapidly eroding.

Also, tidal passes between barrier islands are widening, to the detriment of the estuaries and coastal marshes. As passes widen, marshes bordering the estuaries are exposed to saltier water and ravaging storms from the gulf.

Human activities in the coastal zone have promoted and accelerated land loss. The mining of ground water, petroleum, salt and sulphur from underground may be causing the land above to sink.

Land loss has been hastened by levee construction along the Mississippi River and its major distributaries. Wetlands are maintained by rivers that carry sediment and nutrients from the uplands.

Also, dredging of canals in the marshes has resulted in much land loss. Years of use cause them to widen as wave wash eats at the soft marsh soil.

It is a big problem that took a long time in the making. I'll be watching the work being done in Cameron with a great deal of interest.

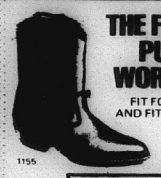
Hackberry FHA plans upcoming activities



The Hackberry Future Homemakers of America held a meeting Monday, Oct. 25 in the high school auditorium with Shay Simon, club president, presiding. Forty-four members were present.

Members drew faculty and staff names for Kris Kringle project, Nov. 15 - Dec. 17 and a club member's name for the Christmas gift exchange, Dec. 13. Rules concerning these activities were discussed.

The purchase of a new 35 mm club camera and club radio-cassette player was approved. It was announced that the club has 48 active and 3 inactive members.

Candy sale and skate-a-thon donations are still being collected. The two winners for the candy sales were Laura McMahan and Angie Barfield. Each received a gift certificate for a tee-shirt from the T-Shirt Scene in Sulphur.

Refreshments were furnished by Delia Debarge, Brenda and Pam East.

Governors sing gospels

FOUR LOUISIANA Governors joined together to sing a hymn at Gospel Singing Day recently at the Governor's Mansion. Appearing left to right to sing "Amazing Grace" are former governors John J. McKeithen, Robert Kennon, Jimmie Davis and Governor David C. Treen. The day-long gospel singing event was "a celebration of our traditional American values," Governor Treen said. More than 10,000 persons of all faiths came from across Louisiana to attend.

Everyone is welcome to come, according to Rev. Morse Pruitt, pastor.

Hunting good in the area

Hunters in the coastal marshes of Southwest Louisiana reported a very good weekend of hunting as the season opened. Most were reporting that they filled their limit of ducks.

The Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries this week released its first waterfowl survey for 1982 for the area.

The department said that water conditions were good throughout the coastal marshes with little water available in the rice belt.

The aerial survey revealed that waterfowl concentrations were found on Sabine and Lacassine Refuges, Rockefeller Refuge, marshes around Pecan Island, and the Atchafalaya Delta Wildlife Management Area in Southwest Louisiana.

It is estimated that there are 1,234,600 ducks and 204,200 coots in the area from the survey.

The ducks are broken down as follows: Mallards - 5,800; Mottled Ducks - 27,600; Gadwell - 594,200; Widgeon - 126,000; Green Wing Teal - 243,600; Blue Wing Teal - 52,500; Shoveler - 20,200; and pintails 150,000 for a total of 1,219,900 dabblers.

It was also estimated that there are 14,700 ringnecks.

Jerry Jones

Jones named president of B.S. council

Jerry G. Jones of Cameron has been elected president of the Calcasieu Area Council of Boy Scouts of America.

Jones is a longtime Scout supporter and has held various positions including scoutmaster, troop committeeman, Cameron SME Chairman, council commissioner and holds the prestigeous Silver Beaver award.

Jones is Cameron Parish's district attorney.

Also elected were: Voris King, past president, Lake Charles; Edgar Perkins Jr., DeQuincy, vice president of administration; Ronald Garrison, Lake Charles, vice president of finance; David Chozen, Lake Charles, vice president of membership - relationships, and Bill Tubre, Lake Charles, council treasurer.

Hackberry man dies in accident Saturday

A 21-year-old Hackberry man was killed Saturday in a one-vehicle accident on La. 27 two miles south of Hackberry, according to State Police Troop D.

The fatality was identified as David V. Benoit.

Troopers said the accident occurred at 4:50 a.m. Benoit was southbound on La. 27 when his vehicle went off the road then back onto it again causing it to roll over. Benoit was ejected and crushed by the rolling vehicle.

Funeral services for Benoit were held Monday, Nov. 8, in the Catholic Hall here.

He had lived most of his life in Hackberry. He was a construction laborer.

Survivors include his father and mother, Hulen Benoit of Shreveport and mrs. Sadie Benoit of Hackberry; one sister, Mrs. Donna Hebert of Broussard, and one half-sister, Candy Celeste Benoit.

Hackberry man burned at DOE site Nov. 3

A 41-year-old Hackberry man received first-degree and second-degree burns Wednesday, Nov. 3, after electrical equipment malfunctioned at the Strategic Petroleum Reserve here, according to the Department of Energy.

The burn victim was identified as Byron Nelson, a maintenance worker at the oil reserve site.

He was taken to West Calcasieu-Cameron Hospital and listed in stable condition. Nelson suffered first-degree burns to his face and second-degree burns to his arms.

DOE officials said the accident occured at approximately 11 a.m. Nelson was making repairs on an electrical pump that serves the site's fire water system.

When the pump malfunctioned, an electrical arcing occurred and burned Nelson. There was no fire or flames in the accident, according to officials.

Since the fire water system and electrical pump were backed up by two diesel pumps, fire protection for the site was not compromised during the accident, officials said.

Rodeo team does well

The Hackberry high school rodeo team did well at the Louisiana high school qualifying rodeo held Nov. 4-6 at Burton Coliseum at Lake Charles.

Tim Little was named all around cowboy and finished first in saddle bronc and steerdogging and third in team roping. He is also the Louisiana High School Rodeo Student Organization president.

Other team members who placed were: Keith Darbonne, 2nd in saddle bronc; Scott Kyle, 1st in bull riding; Paul Doucett, 2nd in calf roping; Mark Trahan, 2nd in bareback, 3rd in steer dogging and 3rd in team roping.

Bank closed

The Cameron State Bank will be closed Thursday, Nov. 11 in observance of Veterans Day.

Sports fishing open on refuge

Those same areas open last year on Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge in southwest Louisiana again will be open for winter sport fishing, according to the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Jesse J. Guidry, department secretary, said the most recent waterways opened to the public by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission at its Nov. 24 meeting in New Orleans are known as the Headquarters Canal, the Union Producing Canal, and Deep Lake.

These waterways are in addition to those that have been open in the past during December, January and February, Guidry said.

Two access waterways to the gulf that have been opened to the public in the past were the Humble Canal, located near the community of Grand Chenier in Cameron parish, and the Rollover Bayou Canal system along the eastern edge of the refuge near Pecan Island in Vermilion parish.

Guidry said a public boat launching ramp at the head of the Humble Canal is available for sport fishermen and that a private launching ramp serves the Rollover route.

He said the designated waterways provide access to the gulf through the refuge, without interfering with extensive duck banding activities and other research programs underway during the winter months.

Guidry said saltwater anglers will be permitted to fish in the bayous flowing from the refuge into the gulf only upstream as far as the water control structures.

The waterways and designated areas provide winter anglers with access to excellent speckled trout, redfish, and flounder fishing, he said.

Board to seek back royalties

The Cameron parish school board learned Monday that some of the oil and gas firms who have leased school board property over the years may owe the board back mineral royalties.

Details of the amount and companies involved were not available as the board discussed the matter in a closed session that lasted nearly an hour.

School Superintendent Thomas McCall said the board went into closed session since there was a possibility that court litigation would be involved.

Lee Bloch of the Louisiana Royalty Auditing Services, who was hired by the board to audit the royalty records of school board lessees, reported to the board in closed session listing firms he has found that have failed to pay the board the amount of royalties due it.

McCall said the school board authorized Bloch and District Attorney Jerry Jones to seek voluntary collections from the firms who owe back royalties. If this should fail, the board is apparently ready to go to court.

The superintendent said the auditing service is working on a percentage of the revenues it recovers and the board would not be out any money even if no money was recovered.

The board discussed Legislative Act 416 which makes it necessary for public bodies to secure five bids o purchases over $500. Supt Thomas McCall said the ac wasn't feasible in small small parish such a Cameron where there migh not even be five dealers located in the parish.

The superintendent read a letter from a Grand Lake parent thanking the board for listening to her concerns about the bus situation at Grand Lake last meeting and commending the board for being so concerned.

The board discussed a new state law that permits the board to buy school buses and then resell them to bus drivers at no interest. Assistant Supt. Robert Ortego said that new buses are so expensive now that this may be the only way that bus drivers can buy their own buses.

The board voted to advertise for two new buses.

Hack. assoc. picks officers

Officers elected by the Hackberry High School Athletic Association Nov. 1 at the school cafeteria were Mitchell Kyle, president; Richard Abshire, vice-president; and Martha Shaugnessy, secretary.

Other business including setting the gate price for basketball games at $1.50 for adults and $1 for students. Preschoolers and over 65 admitted free.

The association approved Coach Broussard's request to purchase some weights to be used for all athletics.

Some rules for elementary basketball programs were established. League play will begin soon. Anyone interested in helping with this program should contact Mitchell Kyle.

Everyone is invited to the next meeting which will be Dec. 6 at 7 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

A meal will be served prior to the metings of the two organiations.

Banquet set

The annual Citizenship Award Banquet of the Doxey - Vincent VFW Post has been set for Saturday, Dec. 4, at the VFW Home in Cameron.

Bids taken by board

The Cameron Parish School Board opened a number of bids at its monthly meeting Monday.

A surface lease on school section 16-14-11 was awarded to Troy Byler, West Cove Seafoods, for $1000. Mrs. Artie Courmier was given the lease on a small acreage in section 16-15-7 on her bid of $25.51.

Kitty Richard of Grand Chenier submitted the only bids, $975 and $925, on surplus generators at South Cameron high school and Cameron elementary school, and was sold the equipment.

Louisiana School Board Insurance Trust submitted the low bid of $37,039 on the board's workman compensation insurance for the year, with the Cameron Insurance Agency also bidding. A representative of the firm which is operated by the state school board association, said that projected dividends and refunds should reduce the board's insurance as much as 45 percent a year.

Contracts for track equipment at South Cameron high school was split among three bidders -- Miller House of Sports, $6,020.19; Athlete's Corner, $4,719.30; and E & M Sports Center, $1,557.50; for a total of $12,297.06.

In other business, the board granted a request from Louisiana Resources Company to install a pipeline on section 16-15-4 for a pyament of $6,004 to the board.

Jan Walker was approved as a new teacher at Grand Lake high school.

BOB SAVOIE takes aim on a passing mallard, something he plans to be doing a lot of when football season is over.

Savoie sportsman for all seasons

Bob Savoie is a sportsman for all seasons, especially the hunting season. But, he should be since he grew up in what is literally, a sportsman paradise.

A native of Creole, Savoie learned to shoot a gun about the same time he learned to walk. And, the nearest shooting range was usually just out his back door where he could take aim at geese and ducks.

"I'm really kinda partial to duck and goose hunting," he said, "but I also like deer hunting and have done about every king of hunting."

He missed the opening of duck hunting last week but plans to make up for it Sunday morning when he'll make his first venture into the marsh.

"With football going on I don't have much time to help get our blind ready," he said, "so my brother-in-law usually takes care of it. When the season is over I'll join him taking care of the blind."

Savoie does some guiding but it's mainly a case of taking friends, relatives and family business associates down for hunting trips.

And, when the goose season begins, he can just walk out his back door for his hunting.

As for his collegiate football career, it's really just beginning. He's been sidelined at various times of his career with leg and shoulder injuries and is now in his first full-time season with the Pokes.

Back in the spring he was shifted from quarterback to defensive back, a position that he prefers playing. However, he injured a shoulder in the spring so its been only recently that he has managed to get in playing time.

"Bob is going to be a good player for us in the defensive backfield," Cowboy assistant coach Tommy Tate said, "It's just going to take some time for him to acclimate to the position and he's just going to have to stick with it and do the best job that he can."

During a prep career, Savoie was both a quarterback and a defensive back at South Cameron High, setting a state career record for pass interceptions with 22. He was also a track and wrestling letterman.

He's backing Derrick Batiste and Neal Lege at the Cowboy free safety position this year and thus far has been credited with four tackles, one pass interception and one blocked pass.

Choir to have anniversary

Ebenezer Baptist Church will observe their third annual choir anniversary Sunday, Nov. 21, at 2:30 p.m. The junior and senior choirs will be performing under the direction of Mrs. Rebecca LaSalle and church musician, Al Bartie.

There will also be guest choirs from Cameron and Lake Charles. The Rev. Jimmy Stevens of Westlake will be guest speaker.

Dinner will be served following the services in the church dining hall.

Mrs. Rebecca LaSalle is the choir president. Mrs. Allie Carter is the vice-president and S. B. House is pastor.

Cowbelles elect new officers recently

Sherry Doland was elected president of the Cameron Parish Cowbelles last week at the KC hall in Creole.

Other officers named are: Mae Ann Hebert, 1st vice president; Hilda Henry, 2nd vice president; Elizabeth Richard, 3rd vice president; Linda Sturlese, secretary treasurer; Glenda Montie, historian; and Shirley Bonsall, parliamentarian.

Committee chairmen appointed were Shirley Bonsall, beef cookoff; Mrs. Wayne Montie, membership; Geneva Griffith, public relations and "Beef for Father's Day"; Virgie LeBleu, legislative, Earline Baccigalopi and Linda Sturlese "Agriculture Day"; and Mayola Wicke, Wayne Montie and Charlene Boudreaux, "Beef Day".

Dec. 1 was set as the date for the annual Christmas party to be held at the KC Hall at 6:30 with the husbands of members as guests. It will be a covered dish supper with each members bringing a dish.

Mrs. Mae Ann Hebert, current president, reminded members that the 1983 dues are now due.

The state convention to be held in Lake Charles in January was discussed. Mrs. Sherry Doland is the chairman of the event.

Tarpon teams to play in jamboree

The South Cameron boys and girls basketball teams will begin their basketball season at the Lake Arthur Jamboree on Saturday, Nov. 13. The girls will play Iota at 2 p.m., while the boys will play Welch at 4 p.m.

The boys and girls varsity teams will begin their regular season on Tuesday, Nov. 16 at Bell City and Friday, Nov. 19 here against Barbe. All girls varsity games will begin at 6:30 and all boys varsity games will begin at 7:30. During holidays there may be changes in the time and these will be announced later.

The 8th and 9th grade boys and girls basketball season will get underway on Nov. 16 at Bell City. Game time is 4 p.m.

On Nov. 17, Grand Lake will be here to play the 8th and 9th graders. There will be four games on tap for that day, beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Tarpon team takes part in race meet

The Calcasieu Parish Cross-Country meet was held at Barbe High School Saturday. The schools competing in the 2.8 mile event were Barbe, LaGrange, St. Louis, Washington, Lake Charles High, South Cameron High.

No team scores were kept, as this race was just a tune up for the individual district meets which are slated for Thursday, Nov. 18. The 5AA District Cross Country meet will be hosted by St. Louis at Chennault Airbase at 2:30 on Nov. 18.

For more information call Coach VanHorn at South Cameron High School.

Individual results were: James LeBlanc, 17:23, 44th; David Dupont, 17:37, 47th; Kevin Saltzman, 18:52, 55th; Jerry Nunez, 19:29, 57th; Nat Boyd, 20:30, 58th

Mrs. Kittrell presented a slide series on menu ideas to "spice-up" the holidays and a recipe booklet was given to all present.

According to Mrs. Billie Fruge, Council President, the workshop was a great success with thirty - two people in attendance.

Spook house is success

The South Cameron High School Band held its second annual Spook House Halloween night and it was a big success.

The highlight of the evening for many smaller children was a vist from "E. T." and a chance to have their picture made with him.

The band would like to thank Sears and Dyson Lumber Co. for their contributions.

Nearly 400 children turned out for the thrills, chills and terrors.

NOTICE OF SALE
$2,700,000
RECREATION DISTRICT
NO. SIX OF THE
PARISH OF CAMERON
LOUISIANA PARK BONDS
SERIES 1982
Time and place for Receipt of bids. Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), for the purchase of all but not less than all of two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) Park Bonds, Series 1982, of the District of the Police Jury Annex Building in Cameron, Louisiana, up to 11:00 o'clock A.M., Louisiana Time, on November 19, 1982, at which time and place the sealed proposals will be publicly opened.

Bond Details. The bonds offered for sale will be dated December 1, 1982; will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered from 1 to 540, both inclusive, in order of maturity, will bear interest payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year until the maturity thereof, and will mature serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

1984	$10,000
1985	150,000
1986	165,000
1987	185,000
1988	210,000
1989	235,000
1990	260,000
1991	290,000
1992	330,000
1993	375,000
1994	410,000
1995	10,000
1996	10,000
1997	10,000
1998	10,000
1999	10,000
2000	10,000
2001	10,000
2002	10,000

The bonds maturing January 1, 1995, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on any interest date on or after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time or in part upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in sealed envelope marked "Bid for $2,700,000 Park Bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be addressed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fourteen per centum (14%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one half percent (2 1/2%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and bids providing for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of fifty-four thousand dollars ($54,000). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such Board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification number will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on December 14, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood and Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of a offering circular regarding the Park Bonds, Series 1982, of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and copies of the official bid form are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

MUSING....

By Bernice Stewart Denny

We are home again after a five-thousand-mile, three - weeks tour of seven western states.

It was on a Sunday morning at a motel in Raton, New Mexico that my husband and I discovered a dead battery in our two-months old car. According to the car clock, the defunct battery had expired at 12:30 the night before.

But the world is filled with kind, accommodating people. Two them, Arleigh and Nellmarie Huff, of Boerne, Texas occupied the room next to our. Mr. Huff took Clint to town to buy a new battery and then helped him install it.

In the meantime, I invited Mrs. Huff into my room to visit. She. too, is a retired classroom teacher and has an only child, a daughter, who, like mine, pursued a home economics course in college.

Before long we were on our way, driving through Raton Pass into Colorado. Through an ever-changing panorama of tall silver blue mountains capped with veils of mist and lower mountains dotted with trees and scattered buildings we drove. I saw my first snow fence; saw cattle in excellent condition grazing contentedly on various ranches.

The day was beautiful; the temperature around sixty degrees at noon."

By that time we had checked into a Colorado Springs motel, lunched, and arranged to take a small tour bus to the top of Pike's Peak. Probably the most famous mountain in American, it has an elevation of 14,110 feet above sea level.

The twenty mile ride to the summit passes Manitou Springs, Santa's North Pole, and the Pike's Peak Ski Area. Snow plows had cleared the narrow road but drifts clung to the mountainside. Various species of trees grew below the timber line.

At midway we stopped at a coffee and curio shop. Believe it or not, coffee is sold there for five cents a cup. I didn't drink any, but Clint said that it was good.

One passenger in the bus grew extremely nervous as she looked through the windows at the precipice and the fathomless depth below. To tell the truth, almost all of us were a bit apprehensive.

She tapped the driver on the shoulder. "Sir, don't you think you are driving too close to the edge?"

"Lady", he answered pleasantly, "have no fear. These wheels are equipped with an electronic device. When the bus veers too near the edge, this device picks the bus up and sits it further away."

"Oh," she breathed in relief. A few seconds later she sat bolt upright and exclaimed, "Shucks!"

At the summit we disembarked and found our way into another and a larger curio shop and quick food center.

Naturally, I went back outside and posed for snapshots beside the Pike's Peak sign. I wanted to prove to my grandchildren that I had really been there.

Vessel traffic system adopted

The Lake Charles Pilots Association has developed a Vessel Traffic System (VTS) which will provide information to all seagoing vessels using the Calcasieu Ship Channel.

This new system will enable all marine and commercial fishing vessels to obtain information on the movements and intentions of large seagoing ships traveling within the system at any given time.

The system will be operated by the Lake Charles Pilots Association and the working channel for the system will be VHF Channel 66 and 66A.

This VHS will cover all of the Calcasieu Ship Channel from the "CC" Buoy to the upper river at the I-10 bridge in Lake Charles.

For more information, contact Cmdr. L. M. Pattin, Supervisor of the Coast Guard Marine Safety Detachment, Lake Charles, telephone (318) 433-3765.

County Agent Report

FALL GARDENS

Fall is cleanup time in the garden - the time to clear away dead plants and other trash from the 1982 growing season.

Debris left until spring provides ideal nesting for overwintering pests and diseases. Therefore, they should be removed from the garden and burned.

Roses should be in good bloom at this time.

An early feeding should be given in early November and then discontinued until pruning in late February or early March. Continue spraying roses at weekly or 10-day intervals with a good fungicide and insecticide to control insects and disease pests if present. After cold weather arrives and the roses are growing poorly, spraying may be discontinued until after the spring pruning.

Be sure to water regularly and abundantly, during dry periods, all plants that require moisture. Camellias, Azaleas and other evergreen are vulnerable to dryness.

TRANSPLANT FRUIT TREES

Although fruit trees can be transplanted any time from late November through February, an early planting date is preferred.

Early planted trees will establish a superior root system prior to spring growth and will be better equipped to cope with a spring or early summer drought. Early planted trees will also grow off faster and develop into productive trees much sooner.

One exception to this rule is citrus. Because of the danger of killing freezes, young citrus trees should be left in their containers and placed under cover or protected until they can be planted in March.

PECAN QUALITY

Homeowners are often disappointed in the yield and quality of pecans produced in their yards. There can be many causes for a loss in pecan quality and yield.

Lack of water during nut development is often responsible for poor quality. Another common cause of poor quality, often resulting in shriveled kernels, is a fungus disease called scab. Poor fertility leading to reduced pecan tree nut quality. Therefore, annual fertilization is important to maintain quality.

To control the many problems that contribute to poor quality, a systematic insect and disease prevention program is recommended.

LIVESTOCK PRODUCERS' DAY

The annual L.S.U. Livestock Producers' Day and Departmental Sale will be held on Saturday, Nov. 13. The morning program will begin at 9:45 a.m. in the LSU Union with four different sessions. Beef cattle; horse, sheep and swine. Producers will have a choice as to which sessions they want to attend.

Following lunch served by the Block and Bridle Club, a role of departmental livestock will be held at 1:15 p.m. in the beef barn on Dean Lee Drive.

TREE SEEDLING

Forest seedlings are available again this year through the Louisiana Forestry Dept. Seedling available and cost is as follows: Loblolly, and Slash Pines, 10 cents each; Cypress, Spruce, Virginia, and Longleaf Pine, 15 cents each; White Oak, Sweetgum, Cow Oak, Green Ash, Sycamore and Cottonwood, 20 cents each.

Anyone interested in ordering some of these seedlings should contact the County Agent's Office, 775-5516 or 775-7443 on or before Nov. 15.

Rutherford rites held

Funeral services for John Elmer "T" Rutherford, 71, of Creole, were held Wednesday, Nov. 10, in Hixson-O'Donnell Funeral Home Chapel.

The Rev. Ray Shaw a officiated. Burial was in Rutherford Cemetery in the Oak Grove community.

Mr. Rutherford died Monday at his residence.

A lifelong resident of Creole, he was a retired ferry engineer for the state of Louisiana. He was amember of the Oak Grove Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Eunice Rutherford; one son, John Rutherford Jr. of Westlake, and two sisters, Mrs. Tabia Carter and Mrs. Alberta Rutherford, both of Cameron.

Pep squad has election

The following have been named officers of the Grand Lake high school pep squad; Tina Hebert, president; Marijo Bourque, vice-president; Debbie Hooper, secretary; Nicole Cheramie, reporter; Renee Phillips, spirit leader. Miss Biagas is sponsor.

Members of the pep squad are Lea LeMaire; Angela Hebert; Lisa Dickinson; Margaret Bourque; Sharon Businelle, Bobbi and Betti Jo Beard; Sonja Royer; Sherry Eagleson; Wanda McCann; Rhonda Lannin; Edith McFarland and Laura Doucet.

A new breakthrough in wood stove efficiency has created stoves that can keep your home as much as 20 percent warmer. The development is called a catalytic combustor. It's from Corning Glass and more than 100 stove manufacturers will soon have combustor-equipped stoves on the market. The combustor reduces creosote buildup as much as 95 percent for safer fires and reduces wood stove air pollution by 70 percent, resulting in a cleaner environment. And that's a fact!

Free brochures about the energy savers are available by writing to Catalytic Combustor, Corning Glass Works, Corning, N.Y. 14830.

Two indicted by grand jury here

The Cameron Parish Grand Jury handed down to true bills of indictment Wednesday, Nov. 3, with James S. Henry Jr. serving as foreman.

Winfred E. Burge, 1128 Enterprise Blvd., Lake Charles, was charged with simple arson on Oct. 14, 1981, of a wood and tin building belonging to Louis A. Newitt, located on the Calcasieu ship channel access road, in Hackberry.

Judge H. Ward Fontenot set bond at $20,000.

Joseph Phillip Coleman, address unknown, was charged with simple kidnapping in 1981 of his children who were in the custody of their mother in Cameron Parish.

Coleman's bond was set at $25,000 by Judge Fontenot.

Warrants of arrests were ordered on both men by the 38th Judicial District Court.

A number of young people are learning all aspects of the fast food business in a program to develop future managers for a major company.

Saving state marshes is SCS concern here

By CHARLES W. SAVANT
DISTRICT CONSERVATIONIST, USDA SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE

Vast, isolated, mysterious, unique, all are adjectives used to describe Louisiana's marshlands. This 3.2 million acre wetland resource stretches from the Sabine River on the Texas border to the Pearl River on the Mississippi state line, and from the Gulf of Mexico some 50 to 100 miles inland.

Conservationists have expressed a great deal of concern about saving unique areas such as the great plains, the everglades, the redwood forests, and other special national resources; but little national identity has been established for the Louisiana marshlands, even though research has shown this area to be one of the most productive in the world.

The coastal marshes of Louisiana counted for over 22% of the total United States fisheries production in 1981, with this industry contributing over 900 million dollars to the state's economy. The marsh area is also one of the leading fur producers, providing an annual trade value of about 18 million dollars.

Over 20 species of ducks winter each year in Louisiana's marshes, which are the primary winter ground for the Mississippi Flyway. The many millions of ducks and geese which migrate to the marsh each year are the unsurpassed waterfowl hunting for sportsmen. About 2 million ducks and over 100 thousand geese are taken annually by hunters in Louisiana.

The American alligator is no longer considered an endangered species in the Louisiana marshlands. In fact, through a closely supervised program administered by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Dept., 14,300 gators were trapped during the 1980-81 season, amounting to 1.7 million dollars in cash value.

Louisiana marshlands and adjacent areas produced 19% of the country's domestic oil and 36% of the natural gas in 1976. Most of the state's total revenues come from severance taxes on oil and gas produced on these lands.

Vast, isolated, mysterious, unique, yes, all these, and also a most valuable resource not only to Louisiana, but to the nation. However, all is not well in the marshlands. According to state - wide studies, Louisiana is losing up to 47 square miles of coastal wetland to open water each year. The tremendous loss of this resource and the potential loss of state revenues has caused much concern in the Louisiana Legislature. Public awareness is lending support to legislative action to do something about this serious wetland condition.

Leading the state's efforts to establish conservation of this valuable resource is Louisiana Senator Samuel B. Nunez, Jr. In his role as President Pro-Tempore of the Senate and as Chairman of the Senate Committee on Natural Resources, Senator Nunez has spearheaded legislative action to deal with this problem.

Through Senator Nunez's work and the cooperation of fellow legislators, a report title Special Projects for Coastal Louisiana, was completed in October 1981. This publication identifies and describes the problems of land loss, coastal erosion, wetlands deterioration, and saltwater intrusion. It proposes short and long range programs and projects to offset these adverse effects. This report led to the preparation and passage of the Coastal Environmental Protection Fund, a 35 - million - dollar investment in coastal protection.

Recognizing the need for technical assistance in evaluating and planning needed conservation measures in the marshlands, Senator Nunez supported 1982 legislation which allocated about 85 thousand dollars of state funds for two coastal zone coordinator positions. The primary duty of a Coastal Zone Coordinator is to work in a liaison capacity between the USDA Soil Conservation Service and the Coastal Management Section of the Louisiana Dept. of Natural Resources.

Conservation planning in coastal marshlands is not new to the Soil Conservation Service in Louisiana. According to Harry Rucker, State Conservationist, the SCS has been actively working with marsh landowners for many years, developing multi-use plans on their land. Rucker points out that most of this planning has taken place in the southwest section of the state. He recognizes the critical need to accelerate planning also in the central and southeast marsh areas of Louisiana.

Echoing this concern are conservation district leaders on Louisiana's seven coastal soil and water consrvation district boards. Harry Post, chairman of the five-parish Crescent Soil and Water Conservation District, sees the urgent need to work with landowners in his district. "We have requests for technical assistance on almost 50% of the 450 thousand acres of coastal marshlands in our area, and we hope to provide the needed technical assistance on most of this land," Post stated. He expressed concern that with the present level of technical assistance available, it will take 10 years to complete the pending requests for planning alone in his district.

With the support of the Louisiana State Soil and Water Conservation Committee, the Crescent District recently purchased a boat to assist in marsh evaluation work and planning. Other coastal districts are also purchasing the specialized equipment needed to do conservation planning in the marshlands.

An interdisciplinary planning approach is being used by SCS district conservationists in evaluating and recommending needed conservation practices on marshlands. The normal planning team consists of a district conservationist, a biologist, a range conservationist, and an engineer, plus a soil scientist where soil surveys are not available.

"The Louisiana marshland is a very complex ecosystem, and evaluation from several specialists is important in developing good multi-use plans," states Jack Cutshall, SCS Range Conservationist. He works frequently as a planning team member and is a specialist in evaluating vegetative conditions in the marshes.

The planning team makes several evaluation stops within the area designated as a "land treatment unit." The team examines existing vegetation, soils, erosion potential, topography, and other features. The base data collected at the various evaluation sites is used to recommend such conservation practices as prescribed burning, critical area treatment, water control structures, and other measures.

The problems facing conservationists and landowners in the Louisiana marshlands are varied and complex. However, with concerted efforts on the local, state and federal levels, one of our most valuable national resource areas, the Louisiana marshes, may be saved for future generations.

Many cost-conscious Christmas shoppers are discovering there's a big difference in price between discs and cassettes. When RCA introduced "On Golden Pond" on discs for about $28, a pre-recorded cassette of the same movie retailed for about $80. Consumer experts point out that discs are usually at least half the price of pre-recorded cassettes.

Of further interest to holiday shoppers is the fact that video discs are now available in stereo. Among the first 11 stereo disc titles from RCA are "Paul Simon in Concert," "Paul McCartney and Wings — Rockshow" and "Pink Floyd at Pompeii."

The video disc is also making movies accessible to all Americans.

Grand Chenier

By ELORA MONTIE

November 6 was the opening of the first half of the split duck season with a clear cool 39 degree temperature. There were many sportsmen from out of town for the occasion.

Reports were quite similar to last year's, with hunters asking what became of the ducks which had been on the leases and where did they go in such a short while. Only a few got their limits from the marsh whereas sportsmen in the back marshes did better with more getting the limit.

FIRST FROST

Chenier had its first frost and everyone is enjoying the cooler weather. The cold front which moved in this past Thursday brought temperatures down to 38 degrees.

BAPTISM

Karrie Hope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bacciglupi was baptized Sunday, Oct. 17, at St. Eugene Church with Rev. Roland Vaughn officiating. God - mother was Kathy Basco of Lake Charles and godfather was Rufus McErves of Creole.

Mrs. Angeline Mhire celebrated her 81st birthday Sunday, Nov. 7, at her home.

Cameron Pilot

27th Year-- Nov. 4
Nov. 18, 1982
Cameron, La.

SHELLY DOLAND, member of the South Cameron Sr. 4-H club, is shown with her Brahman heifer that was named the champion at the 1982 Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport.

Doland state winner

Over 200 Brahman cattle were led into the show ring by their young exhibitors for the junior beef show at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport on oct. 25. Carl Finke of Normangee, Tex. served as judge for the junior show.

Shelly Doland, a South Cameron FFA member, took the title for the grand champion Brahman heifer. Her entry was DCC Sweet Lula 18/0, a senior yearling heifer. Fifteen year old Shelly is from Grand Chenier.

Jeff Hunter of Natchitoches, led the grand champion Brahman bull to the winner's circle.

Stacy Ancelet of Acadia Parish won the reserve grand champion Brahman heifer award.

Brent Gaspard of Calcasieu Parish was the winner of the reserve grand champion bull place with his junior yearling bull.

McCain fights his extradition here

A St. Lucie County, Fla. judge last week gave former Florida Supreme Court Justice David L. McCain 20 more days to challenge his extradition to Louisiana, where he faces marijuana conspiracy charges.

Judge E. P. DeFriest Jr. rejected McCain's challenges to an extradition warrant signed Tuesday by Florida Gov. Bob Graham. But the judge allowed McCain's attorney, Raymond Ford, 20 days to either get it declared illegal in a higher court or recalled by the governor.

McCain, who was forced to resign from the high court in 1975 and disbarred three years later, was arrested Sept. 25 on charges from Cameron Parish, of conspiracy to import and distribute more than five tons of marijuana.

He was freed on $200,000 bond, arrested last month on similar federal charges and given $1 million federal bond. Six Louisiana men are also charged in the case.

Ford argued that to arrest McCain a third time would be a "meaningless formality" and told DeFriest that the federal bono prohibited him from leaving the state without the FBI's approval.

The extradition warrant was served Wednesday morning, when Ford and McCain were in court to argue another motion in the case.

Law enforcement agents say McCain and the other men tried unsuccessfully to smuggle marijuana from Colombia and Panama to Louisiana.

He resigned from the Supreme Court in 1975 after a state House committee voted to draft articles of impeachment accusing him of using his position on the high court to pressure lower judges into granting favorable rulings for friends and political supporters.

Unit closed

Dr. Russell R. Conley, Director of the Cameron Parish Health Unit announced that the Health Unit and all its branch offices will be closed Thursday, Nov. 25 and Friday, Nov. 26 for the Thanksgiving holiday. All clinics that are scheduled for those days will be rescheduled.

Cameron NAACP is first in state

Cameron Parish Branch of NAACP was named the No.1 branch in the state at the 40th annual National Association for the Advancement of Colored People branches and youth councils held in the Civic Center in Thibodaux recently.

Mrs. Louise Cole, president of the Cameron branch, was presented an award by Dr. Raphael Cassimere Jr., state awards chairman, and Mrs. Rupert Richardson, state president.

A meeting of the members of the Cameron Branch will be held Friday, Nov. 19, at 7 p.m. in the Calcasieu Marine meeting room to nominate officers and members for the executive committee. The nominating committee elected at the October meeting will submit their report at this meeting.

The NAACP annual meeting will be held Saturday, Dec. 11, at 7 p.m. in the Recreational Center. There will be an annual report on the officers and members of the executive committee.

The Cameron Branch NAACP is sending out over 200 letters reminding members that renewals are due.

The Queen contest, sponsored by the NAACP, has been rescheduled for Friday, Nov. 26, at 7:30 p.m. at the Masonic Hall in Lake Charles. Admission will be $5 for adults and $2 for students. There will also be a bicycle raffle at the event.

Thanksgiving service to be held here

Cameron's Ecumenical Thanksgiving Service will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 24 at the Wakefield Memorial Methodist Church in Cameron.

Friends of all churches in the community and area are invited, as well as anyone who may claim no particular church.

The service, which has been held for a number of years, is rotated among the churches of the community on subsequent years.

Light refreshments will be served following the service.

KC's to hold dance on 24th

Refreshments will be sold. $1 admission will be charged. Parents or guardians are welcome to stay. Chaperones will be there.

Please, no high school students, this is for elementary only.

Over 60s to have supper

The Ladies Auxiliary of Doxey-Vincent VFW Post will sponsor the "Over 60s" monthly supper Sunday, Nov. 21.

Good food and entertainment will be provided with dancing and music by "Poo" Landry and the boys.

The meal will be served at 5 p.m. and all senior citizens are invited to attend, according to Mrs. Phalia Saltzman, Auxiliary president.

Capt. Stone is decorated

Cpt. George W. Stone, son of Horace H. and Barbara Stone, Rt. 1, Bell City, has been decorated with the Army Achievement Medal at Bremerhaven, West Germany.

The medal is awarded to soldiers for achievement or meritorious service and acts of courage.

Stone is with the 4th Transportation Command.

He is a 1982 graduate of the United States Military Academy, West Point, N.Y.

Hainkel to be speaker

John J. Hainkel, Jr., speaker of the Louisiana House of Representatives, will be the guest speaker at the annual Doxey-Vincent VFW Post Citizenship Award Banquet Saturday, Dec. 4, at 7 p.m. at the VFW Hall in Cameron.

Hainkel was elected speaker of the House in 1980, after serving as a member of the body for twelve years.

He represents the 89th Representative District of New Orleans.

Since his first election in 1967 as a representative, Speaker Hainkel has sought needed legislation in education, jobs, consumerism, criminal justice, parks, and preservation. He has helped to provide education to warn of drug abuse, and financial aid to colleges and to parents with special children.

He successfully guided passage of the right-to-work law, the innovative corporation tax credit law for employment, and the new Exhibition Hall in New Orleans. He tightened laws preventing former unscrupulous cemetery practices.

John Hainkel, Jr.

He fought for racing proceeds to fund the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation and the Odyssey (Halfway) House.

Well known for his support for funding the Audubon Park and Zoo, he also pushed the historic preservation district law and funding for the Julia Row townhouses.

LeBleu praised for coliseum transfer

McNeese State University will formally take over the operation of the Burton Coliseum Dec. 1.

An agreement outlining McNeese's specific obligations in operating the coliseum was signed by Dr. Jack Doland, university president, and the Calcasieu Parish Police Jury Tuesday, Nov. 16.

"The university's main purpose in administering this facility is to be of service to the young people and to the agricultural industry of our area. We feel that Burton Coliseum is an asset to southwest Louisiana and will be very useful to McNeese," states Dr. Doland.

Act 333 of the 1982 Legislative Session has obligated $350,000 for 10 years to Burton Coliseum through McNeese. Kenneth Sweeney, vice-president of administration and student affairs at McNeese, will coordinate the activities in Burton Coliseum and work closely with the coliseum committee that was appointed by the Calcasieu Parish Police Jury.

"The reason we got the $350,000 is because of the expertise and ability of Conway LeBleu to work with the legislature in obtaining this 10-year obligation. Many universities have such a facility on or near their campuses and the purposes we will find to use this facility are unlimited. The cost of building such a facility of this type today would be well over $18 million," Dr. Doland says.

Immediate plans call for the university to use the facility for science fairs and seminars, agriculture workshops, FFA judging contests, practice sessions for the rodeo team, social studies fair, stie of the annual intercollegiate rodeo and fat stock show, a back-up for the overlapping scheduling problems with the university's recreation complex, and an alternate site for football, baseball and band practices.

ASC elections to be held in parish

Twenty-four farmers in Calcasieu Parish and fifteen farmers in Cameron parish are in the running for seven Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) community committees, according to Kirk D. Moore, County Executive Director for Calcasieu - Cameron parish.

The mail election for ASC community committee members is being held this month, and ballots will be mailed Nov. 26 to all persons eligible to vote in the committee election, Moore said. This is an election where farmers are elected by other farmers in the community. The final date for mailing voted ballots, or for dropping them off at the parish ASCS office, is Dec. 6. Ballots will be counted on Dec. 13 in the parish ASCS office.

On Dec. 16 the newly elected community committee members will hold a county convention to nominate and elect one county committee member and two alternates, Moore pointed out. The newly-elected county committee member will serve for three years, the alternates for one year.

ASC community committee members not only elect members of the ASC county committee, but also assist the county committee throughout the year in the administration of federal farm programs locally, according to Moore. In Calcasieu and Cameron parishes the principal farm programs are Price Support, Production Adjustment, Agricultural Conservation Program.

In the community committee mail election, farmers in each community will elect three committee members and two alternates, all to serve one-year terms, Moore said.

Moore pointed out that any farmer who is eligible to take part in any ASCS program is eligible to vote in the mail election.

Film to be shown at J.B.

"The Living Word", a new film produced by World Wide Pictures, will be presented by Johnson Bayou Baptist Church Sunday, Nov. 21 at 6:30 p.m. The showing is free, and open to the public.

Featuring narration by Billy Graham and Cliff Barrows, the film weaves together Scripture passages, great works of religious art, music and some of the most stunning color footage ever filmed in the Holy Land.

The Rev. Floyd Petersen, pastor, extends an invitation to all to attend.

APRIL LEGER, Miss Cameron Parish, is shown with the new bumper stickers advertising the 1983 festival to be held in Cameron Jan. 15 and 15.

'Gypsies' are charged here

A band of gypsies found "small pickins" in Cameron parish last weekend when they invaded several local small businesses with the eye to "ripping them off".

When Kenneth Nunez's small grocery store in Grand Chenier was invaded and battered by several members of the band, he called the Cameron parish Sheriff's office, who promptly sent deputies who arrested the six adults, including one woman ready to have a baby, and turned the three children traveling with them over to the welfare department.

Theos Duhon, deputy with the local Sheriff's Department, said they were out of Chicago, Ill. and that the local Sheriff's office is receiving calls from law enforcement offices all over the United States regarding criminal offenses in their districts.

The women have been charged with simple battery and the men with minor traffic offenses in Cameron.

Charged with simple battery were: Mila P. Petrov, Yoba Divikov, Paraska Denikov and Linda Martinov.

Bato Salk Patrov was charged with improper display of license plates and Slobodav Martinovwas charged with littering and improper display of license plates.

Over $1500 in bonds was posted by the band before they were released from jail.

A hold was placed on the subjects for theft charges in St. James and Iberville parishes.

Oil is spilled

About 3,000 barrels of oil were recovered after a spill at the Dept. of Energy's strategic petroleum reserve storage site at West Hackberry, Wednesday, Nov. 10.

Spokesman Don King of the DOE said the spill occurred at 1 a.m. Wednesday and all of the oil had been recovered by 9 a.m. and would be re-injected into underground caverns for storage.

King said workmen were putting oil into the caverns for storage when they noticed a drop in pressure in the line. They shut the pumps down and discovered oil was leaking from an underground pipe.

The spilled oil was drawn off into a pond inside a levee system where it was all recovered, according to King.

No injuries, no environmental damage or other damages were reported. An investigation is underway to determine the cause of the leak, he said.

Mitigation work set

Little Pecan Properties, Ltd. of Lake Charles has applied for a Corps of Engineers permit to dredge a canal, install an earthen closure and flap gate culvert and remove an existing flap gate culvert in the Little Pecan Lake and Bayou area. The site is located about 10 miles northeast of Grand Chenier.

The proposed project is part of a compensatory mitigation project in response to an agreement between the Diamex Company and the Coastal Management Section of the Louisiana Dept. of Natural Resources, the US Fish and Wildlife Service and the National Marine Fisheries Service, concerning a proposed well site advertised by public notice.

Any comments on the proposed project will be received by the Corps until Nov. 22.

Each represented one of the Creole club's educational committees and attended that particular workshop as follows: Mrs. Theriot, Citizenship, Energy, Environment; Mrs. Baccigalopi, Family Life and Youth Development; Mrs. Wicke, Civil Defense, Health and Safety; and Mrs. Boudoin, International.

Baptists meet

The Annual Session of Carey Baptist Association reflected missions as a vital ministry in the Association and that its scope had greatly enlarged since the previous yearly report.

Grand total mission expenses were $1,562,009. Cooperative Program giving, $878,756, total baptisms, 339 and other additions, 1,192.

A grand total budget of $124,943 was adopted for the 1983 year. This included a new port ministry to the seamen which alone has a budget of $19,054. George Wood has been named as director of the seamen's ministry.

The 44 Carey Baptist churches and three missions maintain a central office in Lake Charles at 521 Ford Street in order to coordinate and promote activities and mission emphasis for Carey Baptist. Mrs. H. E. Miller serves as secretary and the Rev. Vernon Chevallier as director of ministries.

Houston River Baptist Church was host for the Monday night session while the Tuesday afternoon and night sessions convened at the First Baptist Church of Gillis, with Dr. Wayne Blankenship presiding over the sessions.

MUSING....

By Bernice Stewart Denny

From Colorado Springs we drove north to Denver; then turned west. Our drive through Colorado was one of the most varied of our trip. We passed Buffalo Bill's grave and through a mountain tunnel; saw St. Mary's Glacier.

Later we drove up and through Berthoud Pass. It has an elevation of 11,307 feet. We stopped, got out, and walked around. It was fun looking down upon clouds below. Then around hairpin curves and to the base of the mountain we went.

At the Continental Divide, Rabbit Ears Pass, an elevation of 9,426 feet, we also stopped and snapped pictures.

We ate lunch in Steamboat Springs, traveled on, and spent the night in Craig.

The next day we drove on to Utah. We saw herds of antelope as well as deer and flocks of magpies along the way. The day before I had spotted an elk on a mountainside.

At Jensen we had the car serviced; then headed for Dinosaur Monument, which has become a center for tourists all over the land. Here workers patiently chip the fossilized bones of prehistoric creatures from a rock face.

These reptilian giants, we were told, lived 140 million years ago. Once buried a mile deep in the earth's crust and then exhumed by upheaval and erosion, these fossils are visible today. Dinosaurs came in sundry sizes and shapes. One of the largest was forty feet tall and weighed more than fifty tons. One of the smallest was about twelve inches in height. The earliest human records found at Dinosaur show that people lived there as early as 5,000 B.C.

We drove on to Heber City to spend the night. Heber Valley is called America's Switzerland. The lush high mountain valley surrounded by spectacular snow-capped peaks made us feel that we were really in the Swiss Alps.

Our motel was at the base of the most beautiful mountain of all. High up from its base bloomed flowers in gold and orange and purple. The girls serving in our dining area told us that the mountain was called Timpanogas.

To us "flatlanders", as Snuffy Smith of comic fame would call us, our brief visit in the his new world of alpine beauty was pure enchantment.

1982 is the year of the American eagle

EDITOR'S NOTE--The following article was submitted by Wilma Guthrie of Cameron, conservation chairman for the Calcasieu Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. Norma Blake and Mary Henry, also of Cameron, are regent and treasurer, respectively, of the chapter.]

The Calcasieu Chapter in cooperation with the conservation committee of the Louisiana Society of the Daughters of the American Revolution calls attention to the fact that 1982 is the Year of the Eagle, June 1982 was named National Bald Eagle Day by President Reagan and our national bird celebrated its 200th anniversary as our nation's symbol.

The American bald eagle, named for its distinctive white head and neck feathers, projects an air of fearlessness, strength, swiftness and unrelenting determination. The eagle's keen vision and skill in flight are legendary. It has eyesight five to six times sharper than a human's. Our country's founding fathers considered these traits to be ideally compatible with the spirit of our young nation and claimed this most magnificent of raptors as America's heraldic bird.

The eagle thus became the symbol of our national sovereignty, appearing in the Great Seal of the United States, the Presidential Seal, many state seals, as insignia for the military branches, on certain U.S. coins and paper money, countless federal documents, buildings and sculptured adornments.

Even today wild and majestic it soars, a wilderness loving bird of striking beauty and fierce independence with size and strength that well represents the nation it symbolizes. Though once bald eagles flew in great numbers from sea to sea, now throughout most of the country the eagle is struggling, not to maintain its honor, but to survive as a species. Due to loss of habitat, the ingestion of deadly pesticides, and human disturbance, it is now endangered or threatened in all the lower forty-eight states.

Although most Louisianians are more accustomed to seeing the great bird on the seal and on our coins and money, we can all be proud that our state does in fact still have bald eagles nesting here as an important native species in the state. Primary nesting area is the coastal marsh between Lafayette and the Mississippi state line. Many are located in Terrebonne Parish.

Louisiana bald eagles, which generally migrate north for the summer, return to the vicinity of their breeding territory in September of October. No other southern state except Florida has more nesting eagles than Louisiana. However, recent statements from concerned organizations claim the bald eagle population in our state is stable and perhaps slowly growing. This slow recovery from near extinction is beginning across the nation, and 1982 has been proclaimed the "Year of the Eagle" to remind all Americans of the need to preserve this species and all wildlife for future generations.

Scientists divide wasps into two groups—social and solitary wasps. Social wasps, such as hornets and yellow jackets, live a community life, while each family of solitary wasps lives by itself.

GRAND PRIZE winners in the Golden Age Ceramic show held here recently were Mrs. Mary Bargemen, left, and Mrs. Ruby Nettles.

JUDGES IN the Golden Age Ceramic show held here recently were Gerald Touchet of Holly Beach and Betty Dartez of Grand Lake.

Golden age ceramic show is held here

The Cameron Council on Aging "Golden Age" Ceramic show was held Nov. 4 and 5 in the fellowship room of the First Baptist Church of Cameron.

Ninety-two finished ceramic articles were entered by Cameron Parish Senior Citizens.

Betty Dartez, owner of the Mud Bug Ceramic Shop in Grand Lake and Gerald Touchet, owner of T and T Ceramic Shop in Holly Beach were the judges.

Mrs. Mary Bargeman received a grand prize for her glazed turkey. Mrs. Ruby Nettles received a grand prize for her cover coat waste basket.

Other first place winners were: Adia Granger, Blanche Authement, Elda Conner and Edna Cunningham.

Second place winners were: Ruby Nettles, Dora Payton, Mary Bargeman, Mamie Gray, Pearl LaBove, Vic Daigle, Elda Conner, June Harper.

Third place winners were: Ruby Nettles, Dora Payton, Ethel Little, Mary Bargeman, Vetar January, Edna Cunningham, Elda Conner, and Blanche Authement.

The Council on Aging would like to express great appreciation to the First Baptist Church, the judges and all of the Senior Citizens for making the show a huge success.

Many of the ceramic articles will be for sale during the Fur Festival in January.

Sarah Josepha Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, is credited with persuading President Lincoln to make Thanksgiving a national holiday.

Catholic religious census to be made

The 35 church parishes of the Diocese of Lake Charles will shortly be conducting a religious census, it has been announced by the Most Rev. Jude Speyrer, Bishop of Lake Charles.

Purpose of the census will be to provide accurate statistics necessary to carry out the diocese's mission, and to provide information necessary for future planning, Bishop Speyrer said.

"We do not really know how many Catholics there are in the Diocese," the bishop pointed out. "There have been estimates ranging from 70,000 to 90,000. We need accurage figures."

The census will also permit the diocese to make contact with Catholic families, active and inactive, and to the alienated and unchurched within the geographic areas of each church parish.

The census will be under the general direction of Msgr. Joseph Bourque, head of the diocesan office of evangelization. Sr. Marian Pohlner, MHSH, and Sr. Eileen Lally, MHSH, members of the Congregation of Mission Helpers of the Sacred Heart, from Baltimore, are in the diocese this year to train lay volunteers to carry out the actual census taking.

Training seminars have been scheduled in these parishes to date: Cameron, Our Lade Star of the Sea, and Grand Chenier, St. Eugene.

VFW meeting held in L.C.

The fall conference of the Fifth District of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary was held recently in Lake Charles.

A joint opening session of the post and auxiliary was held with Floyd Gill, district five commander and Mrs. Jannie Heggie, district five president, presiding.

District chairmen representing DeRidder, Oakdale, Cameron, Sulphur, Moss Bluff, Lake Arthur, Jennings and Lake Charles outlined their respective programs.

Gayle Pitre is elected

Gayle "B.J." Pitre, a first year fashion merchandising student from Hackberry, has been elected reporter of the Bauder Fashion College Student Senate at Arlington, Texas

Elected by the 500 member Bauder student body, Miss Pitre will hold the position of reporter during the 1982-83 school year. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. White of Hackberry, La.

While attending Hackberry High school, she was active in FHA on the local and district and State level and was active in the local, district, state and regional FBLA, she was a member of the yearbook staff and class officer. Miss Pitre was a member of Who's Who and a member of the national Beta Club.

She attended McNeese State University for three years majoring in criminal justice and was a member of the LawEnforcement Fraternity.

At Bauder, Miss Pitre is participating in the Bauder Student Senate and she is a member of the yearbook staff and a modeling major.

Bauder Fashion College is located in Arlington, Texas and is a one and two year school designed to prepare students to move into career opportunities in the field of fashion merchandising, fashion design and interior design

Historical wall to be dedicated

Orange County's Wall of History, a joint project of the Orange County Historical Commission and the Orange County Historical Society, will be unveiled Saturday, Nov. 20 during ceremonies in front of the Orange County Courthouse at 11 a.m.

Located on the east front lawn of the courthouse, the Wall will include pictures of Orange County Judges and the names of all elected officials since Orange County was created in 1852.

Clyde Gray of Woodville, a well known ceramic artist, has prepared the Wall and will be on hand for the ceremonies Saturday.

Funding for the Wall was through public donations of $100 or more, with the donors to be listed in one section on the Wall giving pertinent history or genealogical information when possible.

Frances Reid, Chairman of the Orange County Historical Commission, will represent the commission at the unveiling and Enola Voss will represent the Orange County Historical Society.

Located outside the courthouse, the Wall of History makes pertinent information pertaining to the county and its history available to all interested persons any time.

"It will be a real boon to the Sunday afternoon drivers. It will be an interesting way to learn about Orange County without having to go through all the records," Mrs. Reid noted.

The first English dukedom was created when King Edward III gave his son, the Black Prince, the title of Duke of Cornwall — a title retained today by Prince Charles.

Do you remember? Here is a copy of the Pilot front page from 22 years ago.

Cameron Pilot

10¢ A COPY

FOURTH YEAR--No. 22 CAMERON, LA., FEBRUARY 26, 1960

ON HEART SUNDAY FEB. 28 GIVE TO FIGHT HEART DISEASE

THIS WEEK By Jerry Wise

THE PILOT NOT only has a new look this week, it has a new columnist as well. He is a rather remarkable fellow named Howard Mitchm, who has written a book entitled "Fishing on the Gulf Coast." The column will have the same name and will carry much of the material featured in the book.

Mitcham, lives in true Bohemian style in the French Quarter of New Orleans, gives you the lowdown on all popular game and food fish to be found along our coastline. In fact, he not only tells you how to catch, but how to cook 'em as well.

One of the interesting features of the column and book are the very fine true-to-life etchings which he has made of Gulf Coast fish. They're real collectors items.

A native of Mississippi and a graduate of Louisiana State University, he was one of the school's outstanding art students. He has spent several years in New York City, where his paintings received loud praises from art critics.

He is now associated with his cousin, Ruth A. Mitcham, in a publishing firm known as the Hermit Crab Press, has turned out in addition to the fishing book, a unique illustrated guide book to New Orleans.

HOWARD MITCHAM has this to say concerning "Fishing on the Gulf Coast":

"I don't know much about fishing. Neither does anybody else I know, though some of them catch lots of fish. Ask a dozen experts a question and you'll get a dozen different answers. All the textbooks on the subject are full of warmed-over guesses. Do what the book says and the cussed fish will often do just the opposite. That's why fishing is so darn much fun. A smattering of ignorance gets a chance to pose as wisdom. An illiterate yokel can be a real keen fisherman, while a genius can be a duffer.

"Hence it's a presumptive thing to launch a fishing book on the world. Everybody knows that the prescribed way to write a fishing book is to crib your stuff from the older texts. It has recently been shown that Izaak Walton, himself, snitched a good bit of his stuff from an earlier writer.

"Friends and fishermen: We're all liars and thieves, but ain't we got fun."

BUDDY ELLENDER of Hackberry isn't the only person in the parish who owns an Appaloosa horse. Our Cameron reporter, Mrs. Eldie Cheramie, reports that Robert Penny of Johnson Bayou is the owner of a seven-month-old colt named "Wild Eyes" of this unique breed of horse.

The colt was purchased from Dr. Bob Adams of Oklahoma City. Mr. Penny is the seventh and eight grade teacher at Johnson Bayou school.

RESUMPTION OF bookmobile service to Johnson Bayou will come just as soon as the road, now being blacktopped, is in good enough shape for the big bookmobile to travel over it, says Mrs. Mary Brand, librarian. In the meantime, she says she will be happy to send books out by mail to Johnson Bayou folks. Just drop her a card or call her up.

YOU CAN SEE ALL KINDS OF BOATS . . .

. . . tied up at Cameron docks these days. This vessel, the "Doris Oliver II" out of Panama City, Fla. is fishing for snappers along the Gulf Coast. Capt. Maurice Sothe said that this was the first time the boat had come into Cameron, but that it would make frequent visits here this summer. The boat is fishing for the Clark Seafood Co. of Pascagoula, Miss., and carries an eight-man crew.

BIG PIPELINE JOB PEPS UP BUSINESS

Work began this week on the Mobil-Sinclair-Sinclair-Socony-Mobil (Magnolia) pipeline between Johnson Bayou and Creole and promises to help Cameron business snap out of the winter doldrums.

The line, which will transport gas from Mobil's Cameron Meadows separation plant at Johnson Bayou to the Tennessee Gas Transmission line near Creole, is being built by Sharman, Allen, Gay & Taylor, Inc. of Houston, Texas. The job is expected to take about a month.

The pipeline firm will have about 125 men on the project, many of them to be hired locally. A large number of men lined up at the firm's headquarters in the old Schlumberger building building Monday when hiring began.

In addition, there are six or seven sub-contractors on the job.

The job has brought many families into the area.

Originally scheduled to be a 12-inch line, the project was held up for several weeks when it was decided to change to 16-inch pipe.

Two crews began work this week on the line--both moving west. One group started on the west bank of the Calcasieu river and will push the line across the marsh to Holly Beach. At the same time, another crew started west from Holly Beach toward Johnson Bayou.

The "push" method will be used in laying the line across the marsh. That is, the pipe will be floated on steel oil drums and pushed out ahead of the working crew.

SUBCONTRACTORS include Mike Hooks, Inc., Lake Charles, who is doing dredging for crossing of the Calcasieu river and ship channel; Crain Brothers of Grand Chenier, who are digging the ditch through the marsh; and WHC Construction Co. of Lafayette, which is digging the dry land ditch.

Other sub-contractors include R. L. Lipsey, Longview, Texas, road crossings; J. O. (Red) Willet, Monroe, stringing pipe; Southwest Construction Co., Lake Charles, laying board road; and Bill Barnett, New Orleans, barging in the pipe.

Key personnel for Sharman, Allen here are C. R. Lake, superintendent; R. N. Cain, assistant superintendent; Vic Torson, office manager and B. L. Hicks, purchasing agent.

Heart Sunday to be observed

Heart Sunday will climax the annual Heart Fund Drive in Cameron parish this Sunday, according to J. B. Jones, Jr., parish drive chairman. He said that the parish drive has been very successful to date.

Religious leaders of all faiths have called on the American people to observe Heart Sunday and to support the nationwide fight against heart and circulatory diseases.

Bolo Trosclair named Easter Seals chairman

Roland J. (Bolo) Trosclair has been named the Cameron parish chairman for the 1960 Easter Seals campaign, according to Larry W. Stephenson of Lake Charles, drive chairman for the Calcasieu-Cameron unit of the Louisiana Chapter of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults.

The drive will be held from March 17 through April 17.

Parish has big sales tax rise for the decade

Sales tax collections in Cameron parish have increased 174.40 per cent in the past 10 years, according to a new study of Department of Revenue figures released by the State Department of Commerce and Industry.

Only six other parishes in the state surpassed Cameron in the amount of increase. They were: Plaquemines, 555.64 per cent; West Feliciana, 503.04; Jefferson, 363.88; St. Bernard, 362.98; St. Mary, 203.17; and Lafayette, 198.28.

It was pointed out that the sales tax collections is a good business barometer. The new study indicates that the industrialization and other business growth in Louisiana have caused the expansion of retail sales in the state at approximately the rate of the sales tax collection increase.

Drainage survey being made of town

The state department of public works is presently making a survey of the town of Cameron and will shortly make recommendations on what steps could be taken to provide adequate drainage for the town, Rep. Alvin Dyson reports.

Carroll Hatcher back at Grand Lake

Carroll Hatcher, basketball coach and commerce teacher, is back on the job at Grand Lake high school after six months of active duty with the Army at Fort Benning, Ga.

Coach Hatcher, who graduated from McNeese in 1958, is living in Grand Lake with his wife and two sons.

Science fair is set for Friday

South Cameron high school will hold its first annual science fair between the hours of 1:30 and 9:30 p.m. Friday in the school gymnasium and the general public is invited to come out and see the unusual displays.

Under the leadership of science teacher Sonny McCall, the biology, general science and elementary science students of the school have been working for weeks on various projects and demonstrations.

Some 100 displays, ranging all the way from a model of an oil well to a display on the human eye, have been originated and built by the students.

Outside judges will rate the exhibits and the winners will then go on to the area science fair at McNeese State College March 17-19.

HERE ARE just a few of the models and exhibits to be seen at the fair:

Model of a sulphur mine, Marvin Owen; electric motor and telegraph key, John Alan Duhon; water purification methods, Glenda Nunez; tumors and cancers, Ann Martin; comparison of digestion in plants and animals, J. A. Miller.

The human eye, Robert Conner; model oil well, John Allen Hebert; mercury motor, Lonnie Harper; and combination alarm, Ronnie Gaudet.

Primeaux and Crain head drive

Co-chairmen for the March campaign for members and funds were named this week by Lloyd D. McClatchey, chairman of the Calcasieu-Cameron Chapter, American Red Cross.

They are Eloi Primeaux of Bell City and A. H. "Sono" Crain, of Grand Chenier, Goal of the drive is $4,251, said McClatchey. The campaign will begin Tuesday, March 1, and will be carried on only in areas not reached by Calcasieu United Appeals.

Primeaux will head the Calcasieu phase and Crain the Cameron Parish solicitations.

March is traditionally observed as Red Cross Month, McClatchey pointed out. Money raised will be used for local services such as emergency assistance to servicemen and dependents and disabled veterans and their dependents, first aid, water safety, and home nursing.

Some funds will go to rebuild the now depleted disaster fund.

Texan killed in car wreck near Holly Beach

John Burr Curtis, [illegible] Fort Bolivar, Texas, was killed instantly Thursday afternoon of last week when his car sideswiped a truck four miles west of Cameron near Holly Beach.

Curtis, who was employed as a cook for an offshore service firm, had just finished a job at Morgan City and was presumably on his way home.

He passed another car on a curve on Highway 27 and was in the wrong lane of traffic when his car hit an east-bound truck driven by Alvin Joseph Richard, 33, of Sulphur. The truck was owned by Southwest Construction Co. of Sulphur.

The truck driver was not injured.

Curtis' body was taken to O'Donnell Funeral Home in Creole and later taken to Galveston for burial.

Library tax is explained at Legion meeting

Members of Richard Bros. Post 176, American Legion, heard a discussion of the tax election to be voted on March 15 parishwide to continue the operation of the Cameron parish library.

Speakers were Mrs. Conway LeBleu, a member of the library board, and Mrs. Mary Brand, parish librarian. The meeting was held Thursday, in the KC home in Creole.

After the hurricane in 1957, the Louisiana Junior Chamber of Commerce raised the funds for the library building and the Louisiana state library furnished the books, employees and bookmobile for two years at no cost to the parish.

A two-mill tax will have to be approved to continue the library operation, and Mrs. Brand and Mrs. LeBleu urged the Legionnaires to support the tax. Property owners assessed for less than $2,000 will have their tax paid by the state homestead exemption.

Diel LaLande, parish service officer, explained the new veterans pension bill that becomes effective July 1. Veterans now drawing pensions should not convert to the new plan until they have inquired about the provisions of the new law, he stated. He offered his assistances to any veteran in this matter.

The Legion endorsed Post Commander Edison R. Mhire as a candidate for vice-commander of the Seventh District.

Lions to push road to jetties

The Cameron Lions Club has appointed a committee to try to get a road built from the end of the Bolo Trosclair road out to the jetties on the east side of the Calcasieu river. The road would open up the east side of the river for dock and recreation facilities.

Jimmy Derouen told the club that he had contacted the major property owners along the proposed road and that they had agreed to donate the right-of-way.

Roland J. Trosclair was named chairman of a committee to meet with the police jury on getting the road built.

Support of library millage is urged

The Cameron parish library is more than a building: it is a memorial to victims of Hurricane Audrey, a speaker told the Cameron Lions Club Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles Hebert of Sweetlake, a member of the library board, told the Lions that there had been a movement to build the library several years before the storm, but it had been dropped because of the large expense involved.

Following Audrey, the Louisiana Jaycees gave the $13,000 library building to the parish as a gift and as a memorial to the storm dead and the state library completely equipped and staffed the library for a two-year period.

She urged the Lions to give their full support to the library tax to be voted on March 15 so that the library may continue to operate.

Mrs. Mary Brand, librarian, reported that the library has a tentative budget of $25,000 a year set up for when the parish takes over the operation. She explained that property owners will not have to pay the 2-mill library tax if they are assessed for $2,000, as homestead exemption will cover them.

School Superintendent U. E. Hackett told the club that the library had rendered outstanding service to the schools of the prish, especially in the fact that the schools lost some 6,000 books in the hurricane.

THE CLUB VOTED to assist a TB patient in the eastern part of the parish in securing glasses, and glasses will also be fitted for a needy Cameron child.

It was announced that the Boy Scout troop sponsored by the club has a new scoutmaster--Chief Holstein of the Coast Guard station. His assistants are Martin G. Theriot and William Morris.

President E. J. Dronet again expressed the club's sincere appreciation to the people of Cameron for the outstanding contributions made to the recent crippled children's drive.

Dredging of ship channel is postponed

The maintenance dredging of that portion of the Lake Charles ship channel which goes through Cameron parish has been postponed until after the May session of the Louisiana legislature.

That was the word that State Rep. Alvif Dyson has received from Congressman T. A. Thompson.

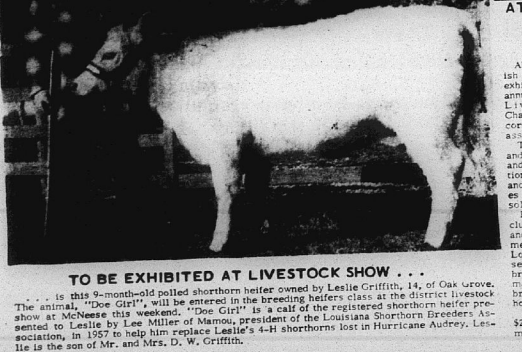
The police jury last month asked the U. S. Corps of Engineers to postpone the dredging to give Mr. Dyson time to introduce a bill in the legislature to appropriate funds to build a retaining dike along the Calcasieu lakefront in the Hackberry area.

Silt from the ship channel dredging has been gradually filling up the lake and making navigation by fishing and oil boats difficult the jury has been told by Hackberry leaders.

Remains found of another of Audrey's dead

The remains of another of Hurricane Audrey's more than 400 victims was found in the marsh near Sweetlake Thursday afternoon of last week. John Duhon made the discovery.

Nothing but the bones were found. There was no clothing or jewelry and the teeth were perfect, making identification impossible. Dr. Stephen Carter of Creole, parish coroner, said he believed the remains to have been that of a young colored male, about 5 feet, 7 inches tall.



The remains, which are at O'Donnell's Funeral Home in Creole, probably will be buried along side of other unknown bodies in one of the local colored cemeteries.

The exact number of persons who perished in Hurricane Audrey has never been definitely established, but Sheriff O. B. Carter says he believes the number is around 411.

New auto repair shop to open here

A new business--the Coastal Auto Repair Shop--will be opened Monday in Cameron by Henry (Hank) Ratcliff and Arthur Coleman. It will be located in the rear of Perry's Esso Service Station.

The shop will do front end alignment, wheel balancing, motor turneups and general overhauling work.

TO BE EXHIBITED AT LIVESTOCK SHOW . . .

. . . is this 9-month-old polled shorthorn heifer owned by Leslie Griffith, 14, of Oak Grove. The animal, "Doe Girl", will be entered in the breeding heifers class at the district livestock show at McNeese this weekend. "Doe Girl" is a calf of the registered shorthorn heifer presented to Leslie by Lee Miller of Mamou, president of the Louisiana Shorthorn Breeders Association, in 1957 to help him replace Leslie's 4-H shorthorns lost in Hurricane Audrey. Leslie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Griffith.

AT DISTRICT LIVESTOCK SHOW

4-H animals to be shown

About a dozen Cameron parish 4-H Club members plan to exhibit livestock at the 21st annual Southwest District Livestock Show in Lake Charles, this weekend, according to Clifford Meyers, assistant county agent.

The show opened Thursday and will end Monday. Hogs and fat lambs are to be auctioned off at 10 a.m. Monday, and the champions in all classes and all fat calves will be sold at 1:30 p.m.

Exhibitors in the show includes members of 4-H clubs and Future Farmers of America from 13 Southwest Louisiana parishes. There are seven classes: fat calves, beef breeding animals, dairy animals, market hogs, fat lambs, breeding lambs and quarter horses.

Showmanship awards of $200 college scholarships are made to the best showmen in the fat calf and dairy animal classes; and $100 to the best showmen in the market hogs Creole, Angus steers.

Isaac Renfro, Grand Lake, Hereford bull.

Leslie Griffith, Oak Grove, shorthorn heifer.

Sentences handed down by Fontenot

Judge H. Ward Fontenot handed down the following sentences last week in 38th Judicial District:

In a judge's trial Edgar B. Davis, 47, Sarasota, Fla. was found guilty of D.W.I. and was fined $350 and costs or 30 days and can keep his drivers license if he attends Substance Abuse classes. He was found not guilty of resisting arrest.

Kevin D. Pilant, 21, Lafayette, who had originally pled not guilty to aggravated battery and simple criminal damage to property, changed his plea to guilty to an amended charge of simple battery on Pat Thunder with a lug wrench and was sentenced to four months in jail with credit for time served, and the other charge was dismissed in court.

Michael S. Chaisson, 20, Crowley, who pled guilty to reckless operation, which was amended from D.W.I. had the imposition of his sentence suspended for six months and placed on probation and ordered to pay court costs.

Guilty pleas to D.W.I. brought fines of $350 plus costs or 30 days in jail for Mario Bentzen, 42, Houma; John T. Soileau, 51, Reeves; and Willie B. Conner, 41, Rt. 1, Cameron, who was also allowed to keep his drivers license on the condition he attend substance abuse classes.

Possession of marijuana charges brought the following sentences: $450 and costs or 30 days, plus five months suspended, and one year unsupervised probation for Dorest Lee Leger, 28. Haves: Wallace L. Trahan, Jr., 18, Hayes; and Ricky James Doucet, 18, 221 Magnalici St., Eunice, had the suspension of their sentences and placed on unsupervised probation for one year and pay court costs.

Douglas Kevin Alexander, 20, Fresno, Calif., was sentenced to three years in the Dept. of Corrections, five years supervised probation, and five months in jail with credit for time served for distribution of marijuana.

Bench warrants were issued for the following who failed to show up in court: Michael O. Smith, 35, Brookhave, Mass.; Jeffery Benjamin Parker, 25, 4141 Burbank, Baton Rouge; Bilson Piaz, 27, 350 Huisasache, Lake Jackson, Tex.; Walter L. Carter, 63, 908 Felicety St., Abbeville; Orval O. Close, 47, 690 Eliza St., Abbeville; Jessie Dyson, Jr., 40, 1007 W. 12th St., Crowley; Ronald Edwards, 36, County Acres Mobile, Rayne; Alfred Albert Grieve, 30, 6250 S.W. 18 Court, Pompano Beach, Fla.; Wesley Hewett, 49, 1409 James St., Morgan City; Jackie Ray Warden, 28, Rt. 5, Box 99B, Leesville; Royla Simon, 33, 2814 Church St., Lake Charles; Louis Calvin Gordon, 53, P.O. Box 5 (Hwy. 26W) Oberlin; John C. Berard, 26, P.O. Box 250, Cecelia; and John N. Gotreaux, 38, P.O. Box 1413, Eunice.

Banking wealth not industry attractor

Concentration of banking wealth doesn't attract new industry to an area, according to Lucien Gunter, president of the Louisiana Independent Association of Banks.

Quoting a recent survey by Fortune Magazine, Gunter pointed out that financing inducements rank 15th in importance when an industry decides to locate a plant site. He said the larger banks of the state have "grossly exaggerated" the importance of concentrating bank deposits in inducing new industry to locate in Louisiana.

Gunter is Senior Vice President of Guaranty Bank and Trust Co. of Gretna.

"For the past six years, Fortune studies have shown that industries go where the resources are located, not where large concentrations of banking funds are amassed within a few metropolitan banks," Gunter said. "Major factors in locating a plant site, continue, as always, to be worker productivity, efficient transportation for materials and products, business climate, tax and energy considerations, in addition to the availability of resources."

He said Louisiana will continue to attract industry because of its natural resources, but should place more emphasis on skilled technical and professional workers. This is because of increased emphasis by American industry upon automation.

Proponents of multi-banking laws, permitting banks to cross parish lines, argue that Louisiana won't attract new industry without increasing the capital base of the metropolitan banks, he said.

"The Fortune survey, one of the most respected in the nation, should answer such false contentions once and for all," Gunter said.

Winter sun can be just as risky as summer sun.

Whether you're having a ball tossing snowballs, or snowplowing down a ski slope, you and your family can avoid the hazards of winter sun by following these sensible tips from the experts:

- Be aware that in high altitude, the thinner atmosphere can make sun exposure riskier than summer sun.
- By applying a waterproof, moisturizing sunscreen you can protect your skin from the winter sun and keep it healthy.

NOTICE OF SALE
$2,700,000
RECREATION DISTRICT
NO. SIX OF THE
PARISH OF CAMERON
LOUISIANA PARK BONDS
SERIES 1982

Time and place for Receipt of bids. Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, (the "District"), for the purchase of all but not less than all of two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) Park Bonds, Series 1982, of the District of the Police Jury Annex Building in Cameron, Louisiana, up to 11:00 o'clock A.M., Louisiana Time, on November 19, 1982, at which time and place the sealed proposals will be publicly opened.

Bond Details. The bonds offered for sale will be dated December 1, 1982, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered from 1 to 540, both inclusive, in order of maturity, will bear interest payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year until the maturity thereof, and will mature serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

1984	$10,000
1985	150,000
1986	165,000
1987	185,000
1988	210,000
1989	235,000
1990	260,000
1991	290,000
1992	330,000
1993	375,000
1994	410,000
1995	10,000
1996	10,000
1997	10,000
1998	10,000
1999	10,000
2000	10,000
2001	10,000
2002	10,000

The bonds maturing January 1, 1995, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Ca'casieu Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in a sealed envelope marked "Bid for $2,700,000 Park Bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fourteen per centum (14%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one half percent (2 1/2%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and bids providing for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of fifty-four thousand dollars ($54,000). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, and the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such Board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the hour of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification number will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on December 14, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood and Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of a offering circular regarding the Park Bonds, Series 1982, of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and copies of the official bid form are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and such information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION
OFFICE OF MINERAL RESOURCES ON BEHALF OF THE STATE MINERAL BOARD FOR THE
STATE OF LOUISIANA

By virtue of and in conformity with the provisions of Sub-part A of Chapter 7, Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, and other applicable laws, sealed bids will be received in the Office of Mineral Resources, State Land and Natural Resources Building, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, P.O. Drawer 2827, Baton Rouge, LA 70821) on or before the 15th day of December, 1982, at 9:00 a.m., for a lease to explore, drill for and produce oil, gas and any other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas on the following described tracts (Tract Nos. 19315 through 19324) at which time and date the bids will be opened publicly in the State Land and Natural Resources Building, Capitol Complex, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

TRACT 19323 -- Cameron Parish, Louisiana -- All of the lands now or formerly constituting the beds and bottoms of all water bodies of every nature and description and all islands and other lands formed by accretion or relliction, except islands, owned by and not under mineral lease from the State of Louisiana on October 13, 1982, situated in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, within the following described boundaries: Beginning at the Southwest corner of State Lease No. 9609, also being the Northwest corner of State Lease No. 8377 and the Northeast corner of State Lease No. 7551, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,439,736.183 and Y = 398,788.86; thence Northwesterly along the boundary of said State Lease No. 7551 to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,436,899 and Y = 399,820; thence Northwesterly along said boundary to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,434,468.32 and Y = 400,231.52; thence North 2,392.05 feet to the Northwest corner of State Lease No. 7556, as amended, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,434,468.32 and Y = 402,623.57; thence Southeasterly and Northeasterly along the boundary of said State Lease No. 7556 to its Northeast corner, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,439,477.32 and Y = 402,809.95; thence East 3,736.183 feet to the intersection with the West line of State Lease No. 9609, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,439,736.183 and Y = 401,809.95; thence South 4,023.11 feet along the West line of said State Lease No. 9609 to the point of beginning, estimated to contain approximately 310 acres, as shown outlined in red on a plat on file in the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources. All bearings are based on Louisiana Lambert Plane Coordinate System (South Zone).

NOTE: It appears according to our records that a portion of this tract is located within the restrictive safety fairway area as set out by the Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army.

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (½) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease and one-half (½) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed three years, and if the bid offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, not even for return by lessor of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. The MINIMUM ROYALTIES required by R.S. 30:127, as amended, except for school board leases, are one-eighth (1/8th) of all oil produced and saved or utilized; one-eighth (1/8th) of all gas produced and saved or utilized; and one-eighth (1/8th) of all other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas and saved or utilized, which are not specifically mentioned herein. Act 289 of 1982 established 1/6 minimum royalty for leases affecting school board lands. Free sulphur, potash, lignite, salt and other solid minerals are to be excluded and any bid therein will be disregarded to such extent. A bid of a royalty less than the aforesaid statutory minimums will be increased to said statutory minimums by the Board. All bidders are notified that the Board does not obligate itself to accept a bid which offers the aforesaid statutory minimums, but reserves the right to accept a bid which offers in excess of the statutory minimums and is considered most advantageous to the State of Louisiana.

The provisions of this notice or advertisement and the relevant statutes establish the material considerations necessary for the formulation of proper bids, and this notice or advertisement shall not be deemed to be modified, enlarged or diminished by resolutions or policy expressions of the Board or staff incorporated herein expressly or by reference.

Particular attention is directed to the fact that, in addition to the aforesaid stipulation against warranty, the State Mineral Board also includes a special provision in the lease permitting lessee to reduce royalties provided in the lease to lesser on production of all and gas by one-half (½), but not below the statutory minimum of one-eighth (1/8th), in the event of and pending final and definitive adjudication of a controversy of a bona fide dispute or litigation involving lessor's ownership of title to upon the terms and conditions therein stated. A full copy of Paragraph 6, including said stipulation is on file in the office of the State Mineral Board, Fourth Floor, at the above address, and available for public inspection by anyone desiring to examine same.

Some tracts are available for leasing may be situated in the Louisiana Coastal Zone as defined in Act 361 of 1978 (LSA-R.S. 49:213). Such tracts may be subject to the guidelines and regulations promulgated by the Coastal Management Section of the Department of Natural Resources.

All leases awarded shall be executed upon terms and conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a delay rental (which shall in no event be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells when necessary to protect the State's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the State Mineral Board. The lessee shall have the right to exert pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board.

Certified check, cashier's check or money order in favor of the Office of Mineral Resources for the full amount of the aforesaid cash payment, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid, and no bid will be considered unless submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled. Any certified check, cashier's check or bank money order accompanying the bid of the successful bidder shall be immediately negotiated by the Office of Mineral Resources, and the proceeds thereof disbursed in the manner required by law. The successful bidder to whom the lease is awarded on the date of the lease sale shall return the written lease, duly executed, within TWENTY (20) DAYS after bidder's receipt of same under penalty of forfeiture of the lease and the aforesaid cash payment previously received and negotiated in the event of failure to do so.

NOTE: In the case of all State Agency Lands herein offered, certified checks, cashier's checks or bank money orders for the cash payment shall be made payable to each respective State Agency, provided that if a six-twenty (6-20) sand, or part thereof, located in a township which is affected in more than one parish, is offered, a certified check, cashier's check or bank money order for the full amount of the cash payment shall be made payable to STATE TREASURER. Any Amendatory Assignment or Agreement entered into after the State Mineral Board has awarded such lease must be approved by the Lessor Agency or Agencies.

Bids may be for the whole or any part, or parts, of the entire portion of the land advertised, but consistently with the rules of the Board as expressed in a resolution dated August 15, 1962, no bid will be favorably notified that bids on portions of tracts should be received in metes and bounds and be accompanied by a separate bid for each tract between the portion bid upon. The scale of the plat attached is 1 inch = 4,000 feet.

The State Mineral Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to grant a lease on any portion of the tract advertised and to withdraw the remainder of the tract.

INCOME TAX SCHOOL

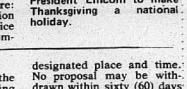
A two-day Income Tax school will be held on Nov. 22 and 23 in Gayle Hall Auditorium on the McNeese State University Campus. Registration begins at 8 a.m. the first day and class will start at 8:30 a.m. and should end by 5 p.m.

Sessions are open to anyone upon the payment of a $7 registration fee. The instructor will use a manual developed by the University of Illinois as a text for the school, the cost of this manual is $20 and will be available on a first come basis.

Some of the topics to be covered are capital gains and losses, net operating losses, bankruptcy and repossessions, miscellaneous and 1982 tax bill, filing and processing, 1981 Economic Recovery Act, what's new, farm problems and urban problems.

SEED RICE MEETING

The annual meeting of the La. Seed Rice Grower's Assoc. will be held Friday, Nov. 19, at the L.S.U. Rice Experiment Station, Crowley beginning at 9 a.m.



Topics to be discussed by Rice Experiment Station and L.S.U. Cooperative Extension Service Personnel are: Rice varieties, foundation seed rice production, rice cultural practices and comments on seed rice regulations.

RICE OUTLOOK

The U.S. rice export estimate has been lowered by the USDA to 82.7 million cwt. from last month's estimated 91.2 million cwt. This decline is attributed primarily to improved production prospects in So. Korea. As a result, projected carryover stocks of US rice are expected to total 50.5 million cwt., about three percent above last year's carryover. Farm prices are now expected to average $7.50 to $8.75 per cwt.

VEGETABLES TO PLANT

Vegetables that can be planted now are mustard, turnips, shallots, spinach, collards, garlic, onions (transplant), cabbage. English peas can be planted in late December.

Sarah Josepha Hale, editor of Godey's Lady's Book, is credited with persuading President Lincoln to make Thanksgiving a national holiday.

Parish 7th lowest in poverty level

Cameron parish has the seventh lowest percent of families in poverty of Louisiana's 64 parishes, according to the State Planning Bulletin.

For 1979, only 11 percent of Cameron's families were listed as being at the poverty level or below. Lafourche parish also had an 11 percent figure.

Parishes with a less poverty percentage than Cameron's are: St. Bernard, 7.4; Jefferson, 7.8; Calcasieu and Lafayette, 10.0; Bossier, 10.2; and St. Tammany, 10.3.

Louisiana as a whole had a 15.1 percent poverty level while the United States' average was 9.6 percent.

North Louisiana parishes of East Carroll, 34.5 percent; Tensas, 34.0 percent; and Madison, 32.9 percent had the highest poverty levels in the state.

The poverty level was down 5.7 percent in Cameron parish from 16.7 percent reported in 1969. Louisiana as a whole was down by 6.4 percent from its 21.5 percent level in 1969. However, the United States as a whole showed only a 1.1 percent drop in poverty in the 10 year period.

Parishes with the lowest poverty level were almost all located in South Louisiana, with the exception of Caddo and Bossier in the Shreveport area.

The poverty thresholds vary according to the number of persons in the family. For example, the threshold for a family of four with two related children under 18 was $7,356 in 1979.

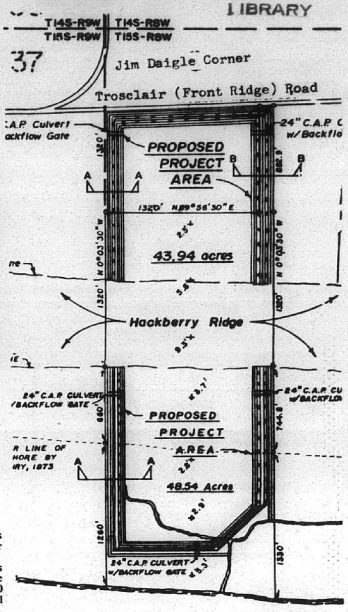
Cameron teachers best paid in state

Cameron Parish's beginning teachers with a bachelors degree jumped from fifth to first in the annual Louisiana Association of Educators Teacher salary Rankings when beginning BA teachers salaries were upped by $1200 over the 1981 schedule. Last year's "number one" in terms of beginning BA salaries, Lafayette Parish, dropped a notch to number two.

Cameron parish teacher salaries ranked first in the state in five of the 10 experience and degree categories; second in one category; and third in the remaining four categories, to make the parish the top paying parish in the state.

St. Mary Parish, which ranked tenth in last year's rankings, moved up to number three in the beginning BA category, with a $1141 increase.

Vermilion Parish beginning BA teachers received a $900 increase at the local level, bringing them up to number four, from number seven in last year's rankings. Ascension Parish went up one step, from sixth to fifth in the beginning BA rankings.



Terrebonne Parish beginning BA teachers dropped from second to sixth place in the rankings when they received a local increase of only $141 for the year.

Plaquemines Parish jumped from twelfth to seventh in the beginning BA rankings with a $583 increase.

St. Charles Parish, which ranked third in the beginning BA rankings last year, and St. James, which ranked fourth last year, fell to eighth and ninth place respectively. West Feliciana Parish rose to the tenth spot in the beginning rankings, from 14th last year.

Cameron Parish teachers salaries at the Maximum BA (10 years experience) level were also number one in this category, up from number four last year. Lafayette Maximum BA salaries went up a notch from third to Water system vote set for Jan. 15th

Citizens of Cameron Parish Waterworks and Fire Protection District No. 9 voted at a public meeting Wednesday at the Grand Chenier Recreation Center to call for a bond issue vote on Jan. 15.

It will be for $4 million to construct a water system for the area, $950,000 for water and $950,000 for fire protection.

It will cover the construction of 69 miles of lines in the Little Chenier, Chenier Perdue, East Creole, Oak Grove, Grand Chenier and North Island areas, which will serve from 700 to 900 users.

Lonnie Harper and Associates was chosen to serve the district as engineers.

The tax, which will be covered by homestead exemption, will include 5 mills for water and 2 mills for fire maintenance.

The water board composed of Pete Picou, president; Melvin Theriot, vice president; Curtis Nunez, secretary; Wyndell Rutherford and Hary "Gino" Conner proposes that it will be a non-metered system.

It will be a $5 flat rate monthly for home users, with an initial $20 hook-up fee.

It is also hoped that the elderly (those over 65 years old) will get it for $2.50 per month.

The commercial rate is proposed to be $10 for the first 10,000 gallons and 70 cents for each additional 1,000 gallons.

It is estimated that it will take approximately one year for the construction of the system after it has been approved.

The water wells probably will be located in the Little Chenier area with lift stations located on other parts of the line. Lonnie Harper stated when he reviewed the system for those attending the meeting.

17,000 gators are harvested

About 17,000 alligators were harvested from the Louisiana marshes and bayous this year, John Newsom, Assistant Secretary of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries said.

Indicating that it was an excellent harvest, he said that early prices on hides were running about $12 a foot and that trappers were selling gator meat at about $2.50 a pound.

The Department issued 18,000 tags, each allowing the holder to bag one alligator, and expects to get about 1,000 tags back. Hide price was down from last year when the average was $18 a foot. The big buyers of alligator hides are processors in Japan, Italy and France. These countries have experienced a reduced value of their currency in exchange for American dollars and this may be one reason for the low prices of hides.

The popularity of alligator meat as table food grew significantly this year. More and more people are learning to prepare and enjoy this delicious meat. Since a gator of moderate size can dress out to almost 100 pounds, the meat could become more valuable than the hide.

The alligator has rebounded quickly from being on the endangered species list. Texas and Florida are considering having controlled harvests of wild gators now that the population has grown to a sufficient size.

Rat poison is available

The Cameron Parish Health Unit announces that rat poison is now available for Cameron Parish residents at the following locations:

Johnson Bayou, Young's Grocery & Grill; Holly Beach, Noel Grocery; Cameron, Health Unit; Creole, Savoie Lumber Company; Grand Lake, Fogleman Grocery; Grand Chenier, Booth's Grocery; and Hackberry, at the Waterworks office.

Crime Watch organized

Deputies from Calcasieu Parish at the request of the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department met with residents of the Boone's Corner area recently for the purpose of forming a Neighborhood Crime Watch.

Deputy Gordon Owens of Calcasieu Parish, who presented the program, said the purpose of the watch is to help farmers prevent such rural crimes as cattle butchering.

He said residents can form patrols to keep an eye on the fields and report any suspicious activities.

The deputy noted that with such cooperative programs between sheriff's departments and citizens, crime in rural areas can be cut.

A rural crime watch was recently formed in Calcasieu Parish.

Holly Beach-Peveto project funds OKed

By Jesse Knowles, Chairman, Louisiana Wildlife & Fisheries Commission

On Nov. 16, the Joint Legislative Budget Committee gave its final go-ahead for $7.7 million of pilot projects seeking ways to shore up Louisiana's eroding coastline.

Part of the O.K'd spending includes $1,020,000 to augment highway money to rebuild the Holly Beach-Peveto area eroded by waves. The plan is to rebuild the damaged highway and protect it from tidal action by three "T-groins" and sand pumped in from the surrounding waters and planted with vegetation.

Other projects range from diversion of freshwater from the Atchafalaya River to benefit marshlands in St. Landry, St. Martin, Lafayette, Vermilion, Iberia and St. Mary parishes; water from the Mississippi River at Caernarvon and Pass-a-Loutre; and reinforcement of barrier islands such as Eastern Isle Dernieres and Grand Terre-Cheniere Ronquille.

Because of great interest in southwest Louisiana of the Holly Beach-Peveto Beach project, I'll try to give you a capsule of what is going to be done there.

Along the shore west of Calcasieu Pass in Cameron Parish is the second most extensive coastal recreational development in the state of Louisiana. Over 700 structures are found in the beachfront communities of Holly Beach, Constance Beach, Chaisson Subdivision and Ocean View Beach.

Louisiana Hwy. 82, the gulf coastal highway, hugs the coastline between Holly Beach and the former beach community of Peveto Beach. The beach is primarily sand between Calcasieu Pass and a point southwest of Johnson Bayou, and the beach ridges are over eight feet above mean sea level west of Peveto Beach and near Calcasieu and less than five feet mean sea level between those two zones.

The shoreline from Holly Beach to Ocean View Beach has been subject to erosion for the past 150 years, as seen by the 1833 survey sections displayed on teh 15-minute USGS topographic quadrangles.

Between Holly Beach and Peveto Beach, the highway, which serves as an important hurricane evacuation route, has been inundated and relocated inland several times since the 1930's.

The highway was severely damaged by Hurricane Audrey in 1957, which also destroyed all recreational development in the area. In 1971, a gobi-block revetment was installed by the Office of Highways along Louisiana Hwy. 82 at Peveto Beach to buffer wave attack and protect the highway.

Recent events along the Holly Beach-Ocean View Beach stretch have prompted renewed concern for the highway and recreational settlement. The gobi-block revetment protecting three miles of highway has exhibited some success, but with unacceptable maintenance costs.

Consequently, $3 million has been appropriated to the Office of Highways for construction of a more solid revetment coupled with a series of T-groins (breakwaters 200 feet offshore and connected to shore by 1.5 foot mean sea level causeways.)

The $1 million sand nourishment program was recommended to augment the proposed revetment and T-groin construction. Such sand nourishment will not only prevent scouring at the foot of the planned revetment, but will also compensate for an expected increase in shoreline erosion in the Ocean View Beach-Con-

18 families get benefits

A total of 18 Cameron Parish families were certified for benefits during October by the Department of Health and Human Resources Office of Family Security.

Certification for Aid to Families with dependent children totaled 3, while 14 households were found eligible for Food Stamp benefits.

AFDC grants totaling $4,520 were paid to 32 families for 54 children in the parish.

Food Stamp coupons amounting to $11,601 were authorized for 98 households.

Permit asked on recreation site

Cameron Recreation District No. 6, which serves the Cameron-Creole area, has applied for two Corps of Engineers permits for work on a 92.48 acre site several miles east of Cameron for use as a recreation center site, ball fields, golf course, etc.

The work will consist of constructing levees around the entire site, and installing five culverts with flatgates so as to provide a means of draining the site.

The site is located just east of Jim Daigle's corner, running south from Trosclair (Front Ridge) road to the Gulf of Mexico.

Any comments on the proposed work will be received by the Corps until Dec. 13.

Clothing drive set

The Thanksgiving clothing drive, sponsored by St. Peter's Catholic Church of Hackberry, will be conducted by Hackberry Serion 4-Hers.

At a special meeting last week, the members agreed to collect, sort and pack clothing for the drive which is being held Thanksgiving week. All members are urged to help collect used but serviceable clothing from their families, friends and neighbors.

These are to be brought to the church hall. Members will meet at the hall on Sunday, Nov. 28 at 1:30 to sort and pack the clothing for shipment.

Everyone in the community is asked to donate clothing, as well as blankets, to the drive.

A contribution to CARE was also decided on as a Thanksgiving project by the club.

Newman will play Dec. 3

Jimmy C. Newman and his Cajun Country Band will play for a dance at the Creole KC hall Friday night, Dec. 3.

Newman a southwest Louisiana native, was the first Cajun to become a member of the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville.

Featured with the band will be a Creole native, Abe Manuel, Jr.

Ticket information may be secured by calling 542-4466 or 542-4462.

Banquet set

The annual Citizenship Award Banquet of the Doxey - Vincent VFW Post has been set for Saturday, Dec. 4, at the VFW Home in Cameron.

Cowbelles give rack to S. C. Hospital

The Cameron Parish Cowbelles has presented a magazine rack to South Cameron Memorial Hospital for the new Solarium.

Above, H. K. Hopper, hospital administrator, accepts the gift from a delegation from the Cowbelles, from left: Mae Ann Hebert, president; Linda Sturlese, secretary; and Sherry Doland, incoming president.

The solarium was recently added to the hosital on the west wing.

Mrs. Vincent is postmaster

Faye E. Vincent has been appointed the new postmaster at Hackberry, according to Sectional Central Manager/Postmaster Norman Schuback of Lafayette.

Mrs. Vincent, 47, a native of Hackberry, has served as post office clerk for the past seven years. The appointment took effect Nov. 13.

Mrs. Vincent graduated from Hackberry High School and is married to Albert Burnell Vincent and they have one daughter.

Stuffed toys are sought

The South Cameron High Lee Club will be collecting stuffed toys after the Thanksgiving holidays to give to the crippled children's camp at Leesville. If you have toys to donate, please call 542-4622 after 4 p.m. and they will be picked up, according to Melvin Boyd, president. The club held its monthly meeting Nov. 19.

Marine poster available

In an effort to acquaint swimmers, boaters, fishermen and offshore workers, who use the Gulf waters with dangerous marine life, the Texas A & M University Sea Grant College Program has produced a four - color "public enemy" poster on dangerous marine organisms.

Featured on the poster are jellyfish, rays, toadfish, bristle worms, catfish, sea urchins, scorpion fish, stargazers, fire sponges and octopi.

The poster is designed to make coastal residents and visitors more aware of problems that might develop with these animals, how to avoid them, and how to treat certain injuries.

Injuries from the various animals range from stings and puncture wounds to electric shocks up to 37 volts from torpedo rays.

Prevention includes care in swimming, surfing and walking on the beach, wearing gloves to handle the animals and care in removing them from fishing books.

The danger of stepping on a buried stingray or other ray can be avoided, Sea Grant Researchers say, by shuffling one's feet along the bottom. A stick may be used to probe along the bottom as well.

To obtain a copy of this 18 x 25 inch poster, request publication No. TAMU-SG-82-403 (Venomous Marine Animals) from the Marine Information Service, Sea Grant College Program, Texas A & M University, College Station, Texas 77843. The cost is $1.

Girl Scouts to aid drive

Members of Girl Scout Troop 171 are planning to help 4-H members with the clothing drive being sponsored by St. Peter's Catholic Church during Thanksgiving week.

Anyone who wishes to donate clothing may call their leader, Rita Walther, after 5 p.m. during the week, if they do not have a way to get the clothing to the church hall.

Tina Silver was elected Patrol Leader; Cecilia Walther, assistant Patrol Leader; and Beverly East, treasurer. New members are Shana Thibodeaux, Sharon Welch, Sirena Vincent and Michelle Swire.

MUSING.....

By Bernice Stewart Denny

Thanksgiving Day seems as American as Indian maize and apple pie.

From America's earliest recorded history our forefathers have thanked God for their blessings. The custom of Thanksgiving, however, did not originate with them. We find in the Old Testament that God often called his people to a time of solemn thanksgiving and that he designated a special thanksgiving offering for them.

The psalmist speaks more than thirty times of giving thanks. Jesus himself admonished his followers to give thanks for all providential blessings.

We, too, observe our national day of thanksgiving for immediate or past blessings. The custom is good.

As a nation and as individuals we have much to rejoice in. Our freedom to live and work and worship as we desire. Our comfortable homes. Our silent servants that work at the flip of a switch. Our cars and boats and planes. Even our brain-saving computerized machines.

Thanksgiving Day is also a time to give thanks for that which we do not have: the unpleasantries of life, its sorrows, its tragedies.

Perhaps the Pilgrims should have thanked God also for their privations and perils. Perils on the ocean. Privations in the new land.. Sickness. Suffering. Grief. Cold. Hunger. Toil. And sweat.

Perhaps they should have been grateful for the suffering that had befallen them, for it was the things endured and overcome that helped make the Pilgrims the strong, courageous people that America is proud to list among its founders.

Perhaps we today should add a sequel to our usual prayer of thanksgiving. Perhaps we should ask God to strengthen us for problems ahead, to help us conquer our over-indulgence in ease, to grant us the stamina to remain whole, unshattered by comforts and material abundance or by discomforts and scarcities.

In any event, may we make this holiday a day of genuine Thanksgiving in recognition of the manifold blessings that are ours.

TOMATO TOPPED AU GRATIN POTATOES

1 package (5.5-oz.) French's Tangy Au Gratin Potatoes
1 can (4-oz.) mushrooms, drained
1 or 2 tomatoes, sliced
1 green onion, chopped
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Prepare potatoes as directed, adding mushrooms. Bake at 400° for 35 minutes. Top with tomatoes, sprinkle with onion, and dot with butter. Bake 10 minutes longer, or until piping hot. 4 to 6 servings.

At the Grand Lake tournament Thursday, Nov. 11, Hackberry girls lost to Grand Lake 24 to 27. Missy Abshire had 9 points.

SHOWN HERE at the November meeting of the Creole Extension Homemakers Club is Mrs. Bessie Boudreaux, left, winner of the door prize which is being presented to her by hostess, Mrs. Margaret Boudoin.

Creole Club plans Christmas party

When the Creole EHC held its November meeting in the home of Mrs. Margaret Boudoin, members finalized plans for the club's annual Christmas party.

The part is set for Tuesday, Dec. 14, at 7 p.m. at the W.O.W. Hall in Creole. Included on the evening's program will be a covered dish supper, games, caroling, and a gift exchange.

Appointed to take charge of the program were Mrs. Rose Boudreaux, Mrs. Willa Dean Morris, and Mrs. Mayola Wicke. Decorations will be handled by Mrs. Earline Baccigalopi, Mrs. Estelle Theriot and Mrs. Wicke.

Members discussed and then selected the club's nominee for the 1982 V.F.W. Citizenship Award.

Two newspaper articles pertaining to health were read to the group by newly appointed club health and safety chairman, Mrs. Bootsy Carter.

Assisting Mrs. Boudoin with hostess duties were Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Theriot.

HOLLY BEACH

stance Beach zone.
A more long-range program might include construction of a groin field over the whole length of the study area.
It's going to be an interesting project to watch. If no action had been taken to prevent erosion between Holly Beach and Ocean View Beach, wave action would have continued to undermine Louisiana Hwy. 82 and recreational camps at Constance Beach.
If the highway revetment and T-groins are constructed as planned, and no additional protection is provided to the downdrift recreational communities, erosion at Constance Beach could threaten many camps.
Increased scouring is expected at the foot of the revetment, and periodic maintenance of the highway may be required. The sand will also improve the quality of the beach for recreational purposes. Therefore, a well-planned beach nourishment program is considered cost-effective.
I'll let readers know when the contracts are awarded. The money has now been approved.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

When Dr. Isaac R. Godwin married Emma B. Wilson in 1867 it was a union of one of the oldest names in English history to one of the oldest in Louisiana history, the bride being a descendant of Governor Claiborne.

GODWIN dates back to the Saxon King Edward the Confessor when Harold Godwin, a national hero and son of a powerful earl, succeeded to the throne after Edward's death in 1066.

Duke William of Normandy brought his invading army across the English Channel this same year of Godwin's succession and changed the course of history when he defeated the Anglo-Saxon defenders and took England under his own rule.

Translating "Divine Friend", the Godwin name goes centuries further back through the Saxons, Danes and Goths.

GODWIN FAMILIES

Godwin by Jamie Ault Grady, 4404 Holston Drive, Knoxville, Tennessee 37914 is a large and interesting book, hardcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 253 pages, indexed, large type, photographs, coat-of-arms in color, $16.50, available from the author.

Thomas and Devereaux Godwin, brothers and nephews of Sir Arthur Godwin, settled in Virginia in 1634. "Thomas" writes the author, "The favorite name of the Godwins, appears in every family of every generation and only by dates of birth and death and to whom they married, can they be distinguished one from the other."

Devereaux, originally a Norman place name and then a surname, became a popular first name in this line of the Godwins. It has many spellings, including Devorax. The American emigrant, Devereaux, first settled on Godwin's Island off the Virginia coast, married Elizabeth, named sons Caesar and Joseph in his will.

John, William and Thomas were all popular names for early progenitors of the Godwin lines. Godwin men served in the American Revolution and in the Civil War from many different locations as this family spread to all parts of the nation.

Among records quoted in this Godwin book are bible, marriage, military, wills, cemetery, census, land, etc

STAGECOACH BULLETIN

Stagecoach Library Bulletin is published bimonthly by the Stagecoach Library for Genealogical Research, 14419 Stagecoach Road, Magnolia, Texas 77355.

Edited by Jeanne Robey Felldin, six issues consti-tuting a membership are available for $11.00 annually or single issues for $4.00 each plus postage. Softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., approx. 30 pages, stapled, indexed, queries free to members.

The first annual Newspaper Column Directory included in the Aug. - Sept. issue has some 12 pages of genealogy columns listed by states, each giving column name, writer, newspaper, address, area covered, if queries are accepted and if free, etc.

This issue also has a new format: two columns of smaller type per page except for queries.

WILLS AND MARRIAGES

Armchair Publications, Rt. 2, Box 895, Hampton, Georgia 30228 has available among its several publications, two separate ones abstracted and compiled by Joyce Hill Gossett from earlier 1800s records of Georgia counties to which many Louisiana connections may be traced.

Oysters is book's topic

Dr. Mike Moody, Seafood Technologist with the LSU Extension Service, has recently completed a new publication called "Louisiana Seafood Delight - Oysters."

The booklet highlights oyster life history, commercial processing and illustrated the two most common shucking methods.

Anyone interested in obtaining a free copy should contact the Cameron Parish Extension office on the basement floor of the Cameron Courthouse.

Fishermen get tax break

Many Cameron and Calcasieu Parish commercial fishermen who are eligible for refund gasoline are not taking advantage of this tax exemption.

On every gallon of gasoline sold 8 cents in state road taxes are added and these tax revenues are used to build and repair roads.

Because commercial fishing boats which burn gasoline do not use state roads they are exempt from this road tax. This applies to all commercial boats utilizing outboard or inboard gasoline engines.

To be eligible for this refund, however, fishermen must apply for partipation in the refund gasoline program by calling or writing Roy Bourgeois in New Orleans at (504) 568-5232. His address is 230 Loyola Ave., 6th Floor, New Orleans, La. 70112. The best time to call is between 8:30 and 9:30 a.m. in the morning.

Shrimp swims 200 miles-- says study

Scientists who punched small plastic strips through thousands of shrimp and released them into the Gulf of Mexico have discovered some surprising facts about their lives and travels.

From 1977 to 1981, 695,911 tagged shrimp were released off Louisiana, Tex., Miss., Ala., and Mexico, and National Marine Fisheries Service figures show shrimpers recovered 42,677 of them for marine biologists seeking new data about shrimp.

"This information has been very valuable to us in determining at what point we get the most pounds and dollars out of the crop, and whether to harvest small or big shrimp," said Terry Leary of the Gulf of Mexico Fisheries Council.

A fisherman in Galveston Bay recovered a shrimp that swam all the way from Calllou Lake, 200 miles away, the farthest any of them traveled.

An intriguing finding is that shrimp appear not to cross the Mississippi River's mouth, so that the scientists monitoring stocks on one side could fail to notice a decline in stocks on the other side.

In addition, "It used to be believed that shrimp live only one year, and it's still clear the majority of them do," said Dr. Edward Kima, Director of the Marine Fisheries lab in Galveston, Tex., "but we've discovered some of them have lived up to three and four years."

The tag, or "streamer" is a small piece of orange or blue plastic one-quarter inch wide.

Shrimpers finding a tagged shrimp in their nets, call the fisheries service and an agent is dispatched to pick it up to sent to Galveston.

Shrimpers received rewards of $500, $100 and $50 from computerized drawings every couple of months.

"I don't know any that didn't turn in", said John Mialjevich, president of the 500 - member Concerned Shrimpers of Louisiana. I feel the people were very cooperative."

Shrimper Charles Racca, 29, of Cameron, won a $100 prize for netting a tagged shrimp with a computer selected winning number.

"I know one fellow who was butterfly netting out of West Cove," Racca said. "He must have caught 50 or 60 of them and never won nothing, I have only found seven or eight and have won twice."

"I've been looking for that $500 shrimp", he said, "and I still got one tagged shrimp in the freezer."

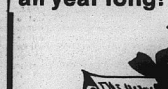
Traveling far into the future is this "Tire of 2001" which has a raised center rib extending above two other rows that flank each side. At highway speeds, the vehicle would travel only on the center rib, dramatically reducing rolling resistance, and improving fuel economy.

When braking or cornering, the center rib in this futuristic tire, designed by Untroyal, a leading American tire maker, would become flush with the outside rows, either mechanically or pneumatically, providing more traction by putting more rubber on the road. This ingenious prototype offers an imaginative glimpse of things to come for drivers — down the road — in the future.

Oysters good in any month

Many people still believe that oysters should not be eaten during any month which does not include the letter "R" in its name, according to Paul Coreil, with the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Service.

This rule is not based on fact. Oysters can be eaten at any time during the year, although special care must be taken with transportation and storage during the warm months.



During the summer, or spawning time for oysters, some oysters may be watery with little flavor or consistency.

However, in many locations, good quality oysters are available throughout the year, and canned or frozen oysters can always be substituted for fresh ones.

The color of normal freshly shucked oysters ranges from a creamy or pale yellow to a brownish gray.

Sometimes, however, the color is affected by the type of organisms on which the oysters are feeding when caught.

The color does not affect the taste of the oysters, in fact, many European gourmets actually prefer the green ones.

PLACING WITH their livestock at the recent state fair in Shreveport were Charles Hebert, 1st and 10th places, and Catherine Berry, 11th. Both also received honorable mention in showmanship.

Neil Crain named to LABI position

The Louisiana Association of Business and Industry (LABI) political action council for state-level elections has named Neil Crain of Grand Chenier as president of its 1983 board of directors.

Crain, vice president of Crain Brothers, Inc., will serve a one-year term as senior officer of the Louisiana Education and Economic Development Political Action Council.

The PAC was organized in 1979 to provide the Louisiana business community a greater voice in seeking and electing business - minded candidates to state executive offices such as governor, lieutenant governor and attorney general, and to governing bodies such as the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education and Public Service Commission, as well as to seats on Louisiana ppellate and state Supreme Court benches.

Also elected LEEDPAC officers for the coming year are vice president, Hollis Graham of Ruston, president of Lincoln Builders, Inc.; secretary, Charles Richard of Amelia, president of Bayou Boeuf Electric, Inc.; and treasurer, Ed Steimel of Baton Rouge, president of LABI.

Unemployment up slightly in Cameron

Unemployment in Cameron parish increased 1.1 percent from September to October, but the parish continued to have one of the lowest unemployment rates in the state.

Unemployment here increased from 6.9 to 8 percent, with the number of persons out of work being given as 400 out of a workforce of 4,975 for October as compared to 325 unemployed in September.

Only three other parishes had lower unemployment figures for October - Lincoln (Ruston), 5 percent; Plaquemines and Lafayette, each with 6.3 percent.

Allen parish continued to have the highest unemployment rate -- 25.1 percent, although this was down from 25.7 from September.

Winners named in festival at J. Bayou

The Johnson Bayou High School Athletic Association held its annual Harvest Festival on Nov. 19. Winners in the fund-raising contests were as follows:

Elementary division: Queen, kindergarten, Jessica Leger, daughter of Barbara Leger; 1st runner-up, 6th grade, Delisa Leger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Leger; 2nd runner-up, 5th grade, Tiffany Romero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Romero.

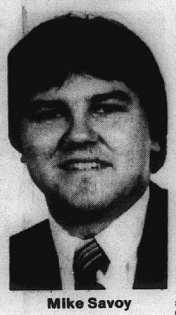
Other contestants in this division were: 10th grade, Louanna Romero, and 8th grade, Sherry Goodwin.

Tot pageant

Registrations are now being taken for contestants in a Tiny Tot pageant to be held on Jan. 8 at the Cameron Elementary school auditorium, with entry forms to be in by Jan. 1, according to Mrs. Angela Jouett.

Contestants do not have to be a resident of Cameron parish to participate.



There will be eight categories. A king and queen and three alternates will be chosen in each division and each will receive trophies, crowns and banners.

The alternates will receive trophies and banners and the other contestants will receive a banner.

For more information contact Mrs. Jouett at 775-5113.

Americans spend more than 320 million days in bed each year because of colds and flu, according to the American Lung Association.

Savoy named bank manager

Mike Savoy

Mike Savoy has been named manager of the Cameron branch of the Calcasieu Marine National Bank, it was announced by William B. Lawton, Chairman of the Board.

Since joining the Calcasieu Marine in May of 1978, Savoy has held the positions of teller, manager trainee, loan officer, assistant manager and acting manager. He is a graduate of Jennings High School and Northeast Louisiana University where he earned a B.A. degree in Communications.

Savoy has completed the A.I.B. courses of Principles of Banking, Real Estate Finance, Analyzing Financial Statements and Introduction of Commercial Lending.

He is a member of the Cameron Lions Club and is married to the former Carol Delaney. They have one daughter, Delana.

Parish deputies are graduated

Charles Precht III, Ron Schultz and Arceneaux "Bubba" January, of the Cameron Sheriff's Department, were among 26 officers from seven area agencies to graduate from the Calcasieu Parish Regional Law Enforcement Training Academy Friday, Nov. 19. The officers each received over 320 hours of instruction in all phases of basic law enforcement.

Louisiana state law requires that peace officers must receive basic training within one year of accepting employment as a police officer. Graduates of Calcasieu Academy are certified by the Louisiana Peace Officer Standards and Training Council.

Calcasieu Academy is a state accredited regional training facility serving law enforcement agencies in the parishes of Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron and Jefferson Davis.

Sentences given

The following sentences were handed down in Judge H. Ward Fontenot's 38th Judicial District Court last week:

Allen Shane Gurin, 33, P.O. Box 1191, Cameron, $400 and costs or 30 days for D.W.I. and $100 and costs or 15 days for driving under revocation, plus 15 days, suspended, consecutive with other charges; and costs of court on each of the following: no vehicle registration, loud and defective mufflers; and no inspection sticker.

Frank Coleman, Jr., 20, Creole, 6 months in jail, suspended, and supervised probation for 5 years and ordered to pay $150 per month for probation violation on a charge of criminal non support.

It's syrup making time on Chenier

By ELORA MONTIE

Syrup making is a vanishing art but the Dudley Swire family of Grand Chenier are still doing it. They recently cut their sugar cane, ground out the juice and then cooked it into cane syrup.

Shown above boiling the syrup are Dudley Swire, Mrs. Elora Vincent and Donald Richard.

After the syrup was cooked Mrs. Dudley Swire was shown putting the syrup in jars after it had cooled.

This process is all done at their home with plenty of help. Their children all play a part in the grinding and cooking. This all takes several days.

Mr. Swire learned the syrup making from his father, the late Henry Swire of Grand Chenier.

MRS. RENA LEBOUEF, nurse, Dr. Richard Sanders, who delivered the baby and Mrs. Eddie Jackson and infant son Jason stand by Mrs. Jackson's bed at South Cameron hospital. Incubator in which the baby stays by the mother's bed is seen in back in the "Rooming In" service.

Babies are being delivered again

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Jason Jackson was born at 11:48 p.m. Monday night at South Cameron Memorial Hospital and became the first planned delivery in a new program started at the hospital.

Dr. Richard Sanders delivered Jason and he was put into an incubator and delivered to his mother's room where he stayed by the side of her bed until she was ready to leave the hospital.

This "rooming in" concept is a new idea to the area and has been put into practice at the hospital.

Jason weighed 7 lbs. 9-3/4 ozs. and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jackson of Cameron.

While in the hospital he was attended by Mrs. Rena LeBoeuf, nurse and was welcomed home by three sisters who had ordered a baby brother.

The delivering of babies at the South Cameron hospital had been discontinued about six years ago and the nursery closed.

However, it will now be a very important function of the local hospital.

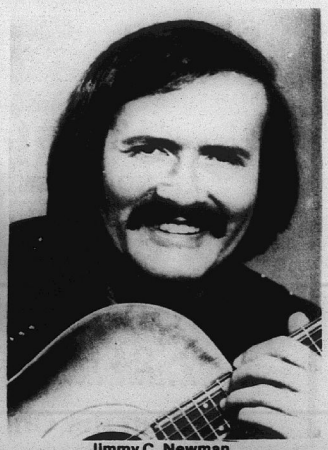
Winner named

Guy Murphy Sr. of Creole was the winner of the bicycle which was raffled off at the Queen's Gala Ball which was sponsored by the Cameron branch NAACP on Nov. 26.

Jim Toff, former news director for KLCL radio station, was guest speaker for the ball. He filled in for Mayor Paul Savoie and presented the NAACP with nine honorary keys to the city of Lake Charles and nine honorary certificates.

Following the parade of queens and the presentation by Mr. Toff, there was a buffet dinner.

Jimmy Newman to play in Creole Fri.



Jimmy C. Newman and the Cajun Country Band will be performing at the Creole Knights of Columbus Hall Friday, Dec. 3. There will be a dance from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Jimmy Newman, a native of Mamou, has been a member of the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn., as a regular guest since 1956. He was the first Cajun to belong to this organization.

He started out on the Louisiana Hayride show where he performed for two years with such famed artists as Elvis Presley, Faron Young and George Jones.

He has one gold record, Lache Pas La Patate, which was the first gold record in Canada to have French lyrics.

Tickets for the dance will be $9 per person in advance and $10 at the door. For ticket reservations in Creole call 542-2462 or 542-4466, in Lake Charles call 474-1930 and in Sweetlake call 598-2601.

Mrs. David Domingue

Joni Gray is wed to David Domingue

Joni Gray and David Domingue were married in a double ring, candlelight ceremony at 7 p.m., Friday, Nov. 19, in St. Peter's Catholic Church in Hackberry. The Rev. Edward Brunnert officiated.

Parents of the newlywed couple are Douglas and Isabel Gray of Hackberry and Dave and Dot Domingue of Sulphur.

The bride wore a gown of white crepe chiffon. The fitted bodice was adorned with alencon appliques with tiny seed pearls and enhanced with a beaded neckline. The tapered sleeves were appliques with alencon lace and pearls. The A-line skirt was encircled with lace and swept into a chapel length train.

She wore a chapeau of beaded alencon lace with floating veil. She carried a white lace fan of blue silk entwined with her rosary.

Donna Dickerson was matron of honor and Penny Riggs was maid of honor. They wore a two piece floor length ensemble of Persian blue silk accented by a French lace chapeau encircled with silk flowers in shades of blue.

Bridesmaids were Peggy Pearson, Mary Hill, Barbara Stack, Kelli Fenetz, Cheryl Addison and Renee Gray. Flower girl was Cheri Gray and ringbearer was Jody Pearson. Tiffi Seay served as candlelighter and junior bridesmaid.

Best man was Greg Gray. Groomsmen were Butch Little, Bobby Bufford, Bryant Simon, Johnny Poole, T. K. Addison, Ricky Labove, and Tony Fenetz. Ushers were Pat Seay and Ray Stevens.

The choir was composed of Kathaleen Sanner, Mike Allen and Scott Gray.

The bride graduated from Hackberry High School and attended McNeese State University. She is employed by Zapata Haynie Corp. The groom graduated from Sulphur High School and is employed by Texaco, Inc.

For their honeymoon trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the bride choose a hand crochet two piece dress with navy accessories for her going away outfit. The newlyweds will make their home in Hackberry.

Houseflies have taste-sensitive cells on their feet as well as on their mouths.

Hints for Homemakers

TIPS TO HELP YOU

Holiday decorations . . . materials for sewing and handicrafts . . . silverware . . . precision tools . . . flower and vegetable seeds . . . stamp collections. What do all these household items have in common? They all benefit from being kept clean, dry and protected from air and dust.

These are just a few of the items that homemakers are storing in new vacuum sealed heavy duty plastic pouches. The Vacuum Seal-a-Meal® from Dazey that packages food with the touch of a finger is useful for more than food. That's what a lot of smart, economy-minded shoppers are discovering.

FESTIVE POPCORN TREATS

Christmas is the time for giving, sharing, laughter and love. It's packages tied with bright-colored bows and the anticipation of festive taste treats. Most of all, it's the special glow you feel when making something for family and friends.

Start your own holiday tradition by giving pop corn treats—a delicious way to say happy holidays. From the test kitchens of Jolly Time Pop Corn, the featured recipe, Caramel Corn Clusters, is economical and easy to make. Putting your pop corn gifts in decorative reusable containers will keep your thoughtfulness remembered year-'round.

A variety of pop corn recipes (such as Crunchy Fruit Munch [foreground] and Pop Corn Balls), a "how-to" holiday and party crafts section plus how to order your Jolly Time Pop Corn Ball maker and much more are available in The Smith Family Treasury of Favorite Pop Corn Recipes folder. Copies may be obtained by sending the pennant from any Jolly Time product or 25¢ to cover postage and handling, along with your name, address and zip to: Jolly Time Pop Corn Recipes, Box 178, Sioux City, Iowa 51102.

CARAMEL CORN CLUSTERS

1 package of caramels
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup water
2 quarts popped Jolly Time pop corn
2 cup peanuts

Combine caramels, sugar and water in saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and comes to a full boil; continue to stir constantly while mixture boils gently for 5 minutes.

Combine pop corn and peanuts in large baking pan. Pour caramel sauce over pop corn mixture and quickly toss, using two forks until pop corn and peanuts are well coated. Spread mixture on cookie sheets. Let stand until cold, then break into clusters.

COOKING CORNER

DELUXE PINEAPPLE-RUM SAUCE

You'll want to make more than one batch of this mellow-tasting sauce for the holidays. Amber colored and thick with juicy nuggets of pineapple, the rum taste is subtle.

Drizzle a little over ice cream, or cake . . . or gift wrap a jar for a friend!

DELUXE PINEAPPLE-RUM SAUCE

2 tablespoons butter
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
Dash ground cinnamon
1 can (8-1/4 oz.) Dole Crushed Pineapple in Syrup
1 tablespoon lemon juice
3 tablespoons dark rum

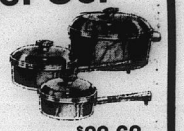
Heat butter and brown sugar together in 9-inch skillet until sugar is melted and lightly carmelized. Remove from heat. Stir in cinnamon, undrained pineapple, lemon juice and 2 tablespoons rum. Heat to simmering. Cook, stirring frequently, until slightly thickened, 5 to 10 minutes. Add remaining tablespoon rum and simmer a minute longer. Serve warm or cold. Makes about 1-1/4 cups sauce.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

Christmas shopping needn't be a hard job this year—if you turn to your hardware store!

You can choose from a variety of quality hand tools for the do-it-yourselfer in convenient sets of either several sizes of the same tool, different tools, or sets in which all the accessories are included.

For example, there's a pocket-size set in a vinyl case holding adjustable wrench, pliers and screwdriver—good for the home, car or boat and made by Crescent.



Also useful is a Nest of Saws with a handle and three interchangeable fine steel blades for cutting wood, plastic or metal. The Home File Pak, also by Nicholson, is a plastic hang-up pouch of four files that will meet every home need. Weller has soldering gun kits complete with extra tips and solder.

Don't be shy about giving a gift with a purpose. Ask any homeowner, and he'll tell you that no one ever has too many top quality tools.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

Over 300 ancestor charts and family group sheets, all for Louisiana families with roots in historic Natchitoches and all gathered together into one volume is a monumental task; but such has been accomplished and the volume recently published by The Natchitoches Genealogical and Historical Association.

Almost 2400 surnames representing major and related family lines reflect a wide range of European origin, many ancestors traced from the 1700s and some from the 1600s.

LOUISIANA AHNENTAFELS

Louisiana Ahnentafels, Ancestor Charts and Family Group Sheets as compiled by Gladys Lovell Sandefur and Hattie Little Whittington is a rare reference book on Louisiana families, this "Ahnentafels" word translating to Table of Ancestors.

Each Family Group (typed out) and Ancestor Chart (photocopied page size) begins with name and address of the person submitting this information.

Names, dates and places for births, marriages, deaths and burials follow; representing locations all over Louisiana, many states and foreign countries. Religion, military service, occupation, Indian heritage, property owned, moves made by an individual, reference to records, etc. may be listed.

Most family group sheets take up one page; others are longer; some families have several group sheets and many families are intra-related.

This book must be seen in order to understand its scope; the amount of data on such a large number of Louisiana families is extraordinary.

Stiffcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., spiral bound, 380 pages, indexed, make checks to Natchitoches Genealogical and Historical Assn., $20.00, order from: Gladys L. Sandefur, 536 Elizabeth St., Natchitoches, La. 71457.

CONFEDERATE MEMORIALS

Confederate Monuments: Enduring Symbols of the South and the War Between the States is of special interest to historians, family and otherwise.

More than a thousand photographs, mostly three or four to the large size pages and all in black and white, picture memorials that 27 states and D.C. have erected to Confederate soldiers.

Louisiana is shown to have forty monuments: in Alexandria, Baton Rouge, Belle Chasse, Benton, Clinton, Franklinton, Homer, Lafayette, Lake Charles, Mansfield, Minden, New Orleans, Plaquemine, St. Francisville, Shreveport, Tallulah, Tangipahoa, Thibodeaux and Winnfield.

Most are located on courthouse grounds and in cemeteries. Seven are at the Mansfield Battle Park and twelve in the New Orleans area. Some are to individuals; some to a particular group; others to all Confederate soldiers. Monuments vary widely from simple plaques to elaborate statuary.

The same is true nationwide, and although once-Confederate states have most of the monuments - Virginia with about 200 - Georgia having some 160 - the majority of states represented were never southern.

Perhaps surprisingly, the dates when these monuments were erected span a hundred years, from the 1870s soon after the Civil War to the recent 1970s. States that have Confederate monuments are:

Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin, plus the District of Columbia.

Ralph W. Widener, Jr., Ph.D., the author of several books, compiled this volume and has written an excellent introduction that provides historical background.

Now in its second printing, stiff cover, 8½ x 11 in., 319 pages, $30.00 including mailing, available from Dr. Widener, P.O. Box 31209, Dallas, Texas 75231-0209.

Good Reading

Cajun Fables and Louisiana French

"Cajun Fables" by Justin Wilson and Jay Hadley, $8.95 hc; and "Fanfou dans les Bayous" by Andre-Paul Perales, $4.95 sc; both publ. by Pelican Publ. Co., available in bookstores.

Reviewed by MARIE WISE

Two more fun books a la Cajun humor and language have recently been published for readers of all ages to collect and enjoy.

Cajun Fables by the well-known humorist, Justin Wilson co-authored by Jay Hadley of Baton Rouge and illustrated in color by Errol Troxclair of White Castle, is Cajun Mother Goose and fairy tale delight.

Goldilocks visits three crawfish and samples stuffed crab. The Three Little Couchons build their houses of rice straw, sugar cane and cypress; then have trouble with a big bad alligator. The Beignet Man has a different variety of adventures than the traditional gingerbread one. Petite Rouge Riding Hood sets out to bring sweet potato pies to her grandmother; encounters an evil bobcat; is rescued by a bayou man with his oyster knife.

Also there are nursery rhymes: Little Jacques Horner eating a crawfish pie; Three Blind Possums who run after the shrimper's wife; Little Mary Plump who sat on a stump eating her sausage and rice; Little Polly Sue who lost her Mardi Gras shoe; Cajun ABC's and others, all a la Cajun.

Fanfou dans les Bayous has an entirely different approach. This is "the adventures of a bilingual elephant in Louisiana" as written by Andre-Paul Perales, French-language supervisor at L.S.U. in Alexandria, and illustrated by Christian Jarlov, French teacher in the Louisiana CODOFIL program.

Fanfou's travels across the state are sketched in black and white comic strip style with conversations in French, translations in back of book.

Arriving in New Orleans from France, Fanfou meets Paul and Louise at the wharf and is shown the sights of New Orleans, Baton Rouge, the rodeo at Angola, St. Francisville, Alexandria, the Kisatchie Forest, Natchitoches, Shreveport, Lake Charles, Lafayette, St. Martinville, Mamou, and back to New Orleans.

Along the way he is introduced to many things Louisiana: sugar cane, old homes, swamps, pecans, parades, baseball, deep sea fishing, tabasco, oil, fais dodo, the superdome and football, music and dancing, assorted eating, people and places; history and tradition.

There's lots of education here about our own state and the French is simple enough to follow if you know the language even a little. Fanfou is fun and he is an entertaining teacher for any age, a la Louisiane.

One out of every three women who has ever smoked has now kicked the cigarette habit. More than 10 million American women have quit smoking, says the American Lung Association, the Christmas Seal people.

Far from being "silly," the goose is said to be one of the most intelligent of all birds.

Farmers to get tax break on gasoline

Hard - pressed Louisiana farmers will get a New Year's Day gift in the form of a tax exemption thanks to State Rep. Francis Thompson and the Farm Bureau Federation.

The 1982 session of the state legislature passed and the Governor signed into law a bill that exempts from the state sales and use tax butane and diesel fuel used in agriculture. The new tax exemption will go into effect on Jan. 1, 1983.

The new tax break, sponsored by Thompson with the strong backing of the Farm Bureau, could save Louisiana farmers up to $12 million annually. The Delhi representative points out that the average farmer spends $500 to $1,000 (for taxes) on diesel and butane.

The measure also includes a refund of the tax commercial fishermen pay on gasoline and special fuels used in their industry, Thompson said.

James Gragnard, President of the Louisiana Farm Bureau, said the tax break on diesel and butane fuels was just one of several significant pro-farm measures backed by Farm Bureau that passed the 1982 Regular Session of the Louisiana Legislature.

Reform of the state inheritance tax law will certainly be a plus for our farmers, Gragnard said.

That bill passed by the legislature and signed by the Governor calls for the gradual phase-out of the state inheritance tax, the Farm Bureau President said.

County Agent Report

By Clifford Myers

WINTER FEEDING OF CATTLE

Nitrate, salt and urea poisonings, carbohydrate overload, and high fiber starvation are feeding management pitfalls that require special care to prevent.

Nitrate poisoning, with acute deaths and abortions, results when cattle eat a sufficient dose of green forages like oats, ryegrass and turnip tops which have accumulated more than .5 percent nitrate on a dry matter basis. Summer cut sorghum or mullet hay is also a potential nitrate risk, particularly hay cut while immature and stunted by drought.

The green winter pasture plants tend to accumulate nitrates in the stems during periods of several days of overcast weather. When the soil is wet and night-time lows are above 70 degrees the risk increases considerably. Under these conditions virtual overbreaks of nitrate poisoning have occurred. One or two days of sunshine and a temperature above 50 degrees allows the excess nitrate to be converted to plant protein. Areas in a pasture heavily shaded by trees can be troublesome.

The non-protein nitrogen feed supplement urea is commonly incorporated into molasses or dry feeds. Urea feeds must be carefully fed in order to prevent ammonia poisoning, a quickly fatal disorder of reminant animals that occurs when an excessive amount of urea is eaten. Molasses-urea supplements must be fed in a lick wheel through which limits rate of consumption.

The most frequent cause of feed related mortality in cattle each winter is carbohydrate overload in which strong acids are produced in the forestomachs. This occurs within 12 to 18 hours after reminants eat much more grain, bread or flour than they are accustomed to receiving staggering diarrhea, dehydration and acidosis of the blood are typical of this often fatal disorder. "It is really important to remember to make any feeding change gradual, giving the animal a chance to adapt to small amounts of the new feed over several days."

Other feeding problems include salt poisoning which occurs when cattle fed salt-meal mixes cannot get to water and "full belly" starvation, often signaled by cows in late pregnancy becoming downers because the forage they are fed is very fibrous, being slowly and poorly digested. The full abdomen and winter hair coat make these thin, protein deficient animals appear to be in good physical condition.

Farelly is new chairman

James C. Farrelly, Metairie, was elected chairman of the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission at its regular monthly public meeting in New Orleans last week.

He succeeds Jesse Knowles of Lake Charles, who served as chairman for the past year.

Wayne C. Ducote, New Orleans attorney, businessman and a member of the commission since 1979, was elected vice chairman.

Farrelly, who was appointed to the commission in early 1979, had served as vice chairman of the commission for the past year.

He is president of the New Orleans Shrimp Company and a past president of the Louisiana Shrimp Association.

Farrelly has also served as an officer of numerous regional and national fisheries management organizations.

Knowles will continue to serve on the seven-man advisory and policy making board of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

Che'Rica LaSalle

Che'Rica is winner at 2 pageants

Pictured is Che'Rica Jenael LaSalle, who was named Sportswear Queen, Overall Sportswear Queen and Photogenic Queen in the 24 - 35 month age group of the Louisiana Beauty of Beauties Contest Nov. 21 at the Lake Charles Civic Center. She was awarded three crowns, three trophies, three banners and roses in the pageant.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin LaSalle of Cameron. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy LaSalle Sr. of Cameron, and Mrs. Loriena Vital of Lake Charles and Mose Lee Jackson, Jr. of Oakdale.

She was also a contestant in the 1982 Blue Jean Dreamgirl in Sulphur where she represented Cameron Parish and was crowned Queen.

She was sponsored by Energy Industries of Cameron.

Musing. . . .

By Bernice Stewart Denny

From Salt Lake City we drove to Provo, Utah, to spend the night. Provo is the Utah County seat and home of the largest Fourth of July celebration in the country, the Provo Freedom Festival. In Provo are the Brigham Young University, the nation's largest private school, and Utah Technical College. It is claimed that Utah County is the garden spot of the state and in many ways of the Intermountain West.

The next day we traveled on to Kanab in the very southern part of the state. We appreciated the scenery through the Hachenda Hills. The rose-red and the copper colored leaves of trees on the hillsides and the wealth of yellow blossoms along the highway left no doubt that autumn was here.

We stopped at Mt. Carmel Junction for gasoline and continued on in a mist of rain. We drove through red hills and coral pink sand dunes.

The coral mountains, washed by water ages ago, resembled huge logs. Coral, gray-green, and dark green, seemed everywhere.

Past Moqui Cave, which harbors over 140 million years of natural history, we entered Kanab Canyon County, crossed Kanab Creek and reached the city of Kanab.

The following day, a glorious sun-filled Sunday, we departed for the Grand Canyon, going by way of the Glen Canyon Dam. And then we spied the road sign, "Welcome to Arizona, the Grand Canyon State."

With the canyon on the right and the high mountains on the left, I felt as though I were riding on the rim of the world.

All along the highway for miles and miles were roadside businesses where Indians were selling hand-made jewelry and rugs.

In Cameron, Arizona, in the Navajo Indian Reservation we toured the trading post and enjoyed a coffee break.

Holiday Hostessing

SOME ENTERTAINING HINTS

Holiday entertaining can be exhilirating... or exhausting. A carefully planned menu can spell the difference.

As most experienced hostesses will attest, one way to avoid frazzled nerves is planning and preparation ahead of time. Having several main dishes tucked in the refrigerator or freezer can leave a hostess more time to deal calmly with last-minute details.

Fruit salad is often a traditional item on the holiday menu. Until recently, that was one dish that simply couldn't be done ahead because cut-up fruits would turn unappetizingly brown.

A growing number of hostesses have discovered the secret of treating cut-up fresh fruits with an ascorbic-citric acid mixture, such as A*C*M Ever-Fresh. With this simple addition, fruit salad made early in the morning still will have fresh appeal at the dinner hour. Flavors will be enhanced as ingredients blend during chilling.

WALDORF SALAD

2 cups diced apples
1 cup seeded grapes, halved
1 cup sliced celery
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
1 teaspoon A*C*M Ever-Fresh
1 tablespoon water
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 cup mayonnaise
Dash of salt
1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped

Dissolve Ever-Fresh in water. Toss apple chunks in mixture to coat. Combine celery, grapes and nuts with apples. Mix mayonnaise, sugar and salt. Fold in cream. Combine dressing with fruit and chill. Serves six.

Making Your World EASIER

Trash Compactor

There is no longer any need for messy garbage under the kitchen sink or smelly cans in the garage, advise home economists from Whirlpool Corporation. With a Trash Masher compactor you can put household trash in its proper place. This convenient appliance can compress a week's worth of normal household trash for an average family of four into a single, portable bag that weighs about 20 pounds.

The tough, disposable trash bag is designed to take punishment and resist rain. It is suitcase-shaped for easy installation, quick removal and has a convenient bag caddy inside the drawer to help take the struggle out of carrying trash out on pick-up day.

At a rate of one compacted bag a week, the total energy cost is under 25¢ based on the national cost per KWH. Only 15 inches wide and counter-top height, it can be easily installed under the counter, or the freestanding model can fit into a pantry or closet. All that's needed is a 115 V outlet. Simply plug it in for an efficient solution to household trash problems.

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF TWO MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($2,500,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA FOR THE PURPOSE OF PROVIDING FUNDS TO PURCHASE, ACQUIRE AND DEVELOP LANDS, AND TO PURCHASE, ACQUIRE, CONSTRUCT AND INSTALL BUILDINGS, MACHINERY, EQUIPMENT AND OTHER FACILITIES FOR A RECREATIONAL PARK NECESSARY TO PROVIDE PROPER RECREATION SERVICE IN SAID DISTRICT; PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS; FIXING THE FORM AND DETAILS OF SAID BONDS; PROVIDING FOR THE SALE OF SAID BONDS; AND REPEALING RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED ON NOVEMBER 19, 1982 AND NOVEMBER 19, 1982 AND RESCINDING SALE OF TWO MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS (12,700,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS OF SAID DISTRICT IN ORDER TO COMPLY WITH LSA-R.S. SECTION 39:562

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted by the Board of Commissioners (hereinafter called the "Board") of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, (hereinafter called the "District") on June 1, 1982, a special election in said District was held on September 11, 1982 on the question of the issuance of general obligation bonds of the District in an amount not to exceed two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the qualified electors of the District voting on the aforesaid question posed in said election voted in favor of such question to incur debt and issue such bonds of the District; and

WHEREAS, the Board has investigated the proceedings heretofore taken authorizing the issuance of said bonds and has found and does hereby determine that the same are regular and have been taken in all respects in due conformity with law; and

WHEREAS, Section 39:569 Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, makes it the duty of the Board to impose and collect annually, in excess of other taxes, a tax on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due on general obligation bonds of the District for each year;

WHEREAS, the Board, on November 3, 1982 adopted a resolution authorizing two million seven hundred thousand ($2,700,000) principal amount of park bonds of the District and on November 19, 1982 adopted a resolution awarding the sale of said bonds to Hward, Weil, Labouisse, Friedrichs, Inc. (collectively, the "Prior Resolutions");

WHEREAS, LSA-R.S. Section 39:562 provides that the District shall not issue general obligation bonds which shall exceed in the aggregate ten percent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of said District, as ascertained by the last assessment prior to the delivery of the bonds;

WHEREAS, the Assessor of Cameron Parish has ascertained that the valuation of property in the District for purposes of LSA-R.S. Section 39:562 to be $25,686,580 as of November 3, 1982 and accordingly it is necessary to rescind the sale of said two million seven hundred thousand ($2,700,000) park bonds to Howard, Weil, Labouisse, Friedrichs, Inc. in order to comply with LSA-R.S. Section 39:562; and

WHEREAS, it is necessary and in the best interest of the District to authorize the issuance of two million five hundred thousand ($2,500,000) of park bonds of the District;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA:

SECTION 1. The Prior Resolutions are hereby repealed and declared to be no force and effect and the sale of said two million seven hundred thousand ($2,700,000) principal amount of park bonds of the District to Howard, Weil, Labouisse, Friedrichs, Inc. is hereby rescinded. The President and Secretary-Treasurer are hereby authorized and directed to return the amount of the good faith check to Howard, Weil, Labouisse, Friedrichs, Inc. and to take such action, including the execution and delivery of documents and instruments, as are considered proper, necessary or advisable in the opinion of counsel to the District to effectuate the rescission of the sale of said two million seven hundred thousand ($2,700,000) park bonds to Howard, Weil, Labouisse, Friedrichs, Inc.

SECTION 2. There are hereby authorized to be issued and sold bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana in the aggregate principal amount of two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District. Said bonds shall be designated "Park Bonds, Series 1982" (hereinafter called the "Bonds"). The Bonds shall be dated December 1, 1982, shall be in the denominations of $5,000, shall be numbered from 1 to 500, both inclusive, in order of maturity, shall be in coupon form payable to bearer, and shall bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding fourteen per centum (14%) per annum, as shall be determined upon the sale of the Bonds, payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year, until the final payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon, but only upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons for such interest as they severally become due. Both principal of and interest on the Bonds shall be payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which, on the dates of payment thereof, shall be legal tender for the public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Bonds shall become due and payable serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1984	$5,000
1985	145,000
1986	160,000
1987	180,000
1988	200,000

1997	5,000
1998	5,000
1999	5,000
2000	5,000
2001	5,000
2002	5,000

The Bonds maturing on and after January 1, 1995, shall be redeemable by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event the Bonds shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If the Bonds shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount of the Bonds to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then the Bonds so called for redemption shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

SECTION 3. The Bonds shall be executed in the name of the District by the President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Board by their manual or facsimile signatures, provided that at least one such signature shall be a manual signature, and the corporate seal of the District shall be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted thereon. The coupons to be attached to the Bonds shall be authenticated by the facsimile signatures of the said President and Secretary-treasurer. The Bonds and coupons pertaining thereto bearing the signatures of officers in office at the date of the signing thereof shall, upon delivery thereof and payment therefor, be valid and binding obligations of the District, notwithstanding that before delivery thereof and payment therefor any or all of the persons whose signatures appear thereon shall have cased to be such officers.

SECTION 4. The Bonds, the coupons pertaining thereto, and the endorsement of the Secretary of State of the State of Louisiana to appear thereon, shall be in substantially the following respective forms, to wit:

"UNITED STATES OF AMERICA
STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON
PARK BOND, SERIES 1982
OF
RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX
OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON,
STATE OF LOUISIANA

No. $5,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENT that Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), a subdivision of the State of Louisiana, acknowledges itself indebted and for value received hereby promises to pay to the bearer hereof the principal sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) on the first day of January (Subject to the right of prior redemption hereinafter mentioned), upon presentation and surrender of this bond, and to pay interest on said principal sum, from the date hereof until said principal sum is paid in full, at the rate of ——per centum (——%) per annum, payable on the first day of January, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on the first day of July and the first day of January in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons therefor attached hereto as the same severally become due. Both principal of and interest on this bond are payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which at the time of such payment is legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

This bond is one of a duly authorized issue of bonds of like date and tenor herewith, except as to number, denomination, interest rate and maturity, issued by the District under and in strict compliance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana, approved by a majority of qualified electors of the District voting on the question of the issuance of said bonds at an election held in the District on September 11, 1982, and issued in accordance with proceedings of the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, duly adopted, for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District.

The bonds of the issue of which this bond is a part maturing on and after January 1, 1995, may be called for redemption by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time, upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event this bond shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If this bond shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount hereof to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then this bond shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

The full faith and credit of the District are irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due. The District has made or will make provisions for the collection of a tax sufficient in excess of all other taxes, on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that this bond is authorized by and is issued in conformity with the requirements of the Constitution and statute of the State of Louisiana; that all conditions, acts and things required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana to exist, happen and be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one do exist, have happened and have been performed in regular and due time, form and manner as required by law; and that this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one, together with all other indebtedness of the District, do not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation on indebtedness applicable to the District.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Board of Commissioners of the District, has caused this bond to be executed in its name by the President and Secretary-Treasurer of said Board, by their manual or facsimile signatures (provided that one of such signatures hereon shall be a manual signature), the seal of the said District to be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted hereon, the coupons pertaining to this bond to be executed by the facsimile signatures of said President and Secretary-Treasurer, and this bond to be dated the first day of ——mber, 1982.

SECTION 5. Pursuant to law, and particularly pursuant to Section 39:569 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, there is hereby imposed and shall be collected annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the principal and interest falling due on the Bonds in each year, which tax shall be levied and collected by the same officers, at the time and in the same manner as the general taxes of the District. The full faith and credit of the District are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and the interest on the Bonds.

SECTION 6. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Board is hereby authorized and directed to cause the Bonds to be offered at public sale on sealed bids on such date as shall be given by a notice of sale to be published (i) one time at least seven clear calendar days in advance of the date scheduled for the reception of the bids in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and (ii) one time at least forty-eight (48) hours in advance of the date scheduled for the reception of bids, in either The Times Picayune, in New Orleans, Louisiana, the same being a newspaper of general circulation, or, a financial journal or newspaper containing a section devoted to municipal bond news in either of the cities of New Orleans, Louisiana, or New York, New York.

The Board shall meet on the day and at the time selected by the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board for the reception of bids for the Bonds for the purpose of considering and acting upon the bids received. If any of the bids for the Bonds shall be accepted, the Board at such meeting shall adopt proceedings fixing the rate or rates of interest to be borne by the Bonds in accordance with the bid accepted and authorizing such other action pertaining to the issuance, sale and delivery of the Bonds as may be necessary.

SECTION 7. The Notice of Sale shall be in substantially the following form, to-wit:

"NOTICE OF SALE
$2,500,000
RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX
OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA
PARK BONDS,
SERIES 1982

Time and Place for Receipt of Bids. Sealed Proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), for the purchase of all but not less than all of two million five hundred thousand dollars (12,500,000) Park Bonds, Series 1982, of the District at the ——, Louisiana, up to 11:00 o'clock A.M., Louisiana time, on ——, 1982, at which time and place the sealed proposals will be publicly opened.

Bond Details. The bonds offered for sale will be dated December 1, 1982; will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered from 1 to 500, both inclusive, in order of maturity, will bear interest payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year until the maturity thereof, and will mature serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1984	$5,000
1985	145,000
1986	160,000
1987	180,000
1988	200,000
1989	220,000
1990	245,000
1991	275,000
1991	305,000
1993	345,000
1994	380,000
1995	5,000$
1996	5,000
1997	5,000
1998	5,000
1999	5,000
2000	5,000
2001	5,000
2002	5,000

The bonds maturing January 1, 1995, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in sealed envelope marked "Bid for $2,500,000 Park Bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eights (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same single rate from their date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fourteen per centum (14%) per annum and the difference between the highest and the lowest rates named may not exceed two and one-half percent (2 1/2%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and bids providing for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana in the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date, but in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such Board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any Bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular Bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the Bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the Bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on ——, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood and Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of a offering circular regarding the Park Bonds, Series 1982, of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and copies of the official bid form are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

Secretary-Treasurer of the Board
Commissioners of Recreation
District No. Six of the Parish
of Cameron, Louisiana

SECTION 8. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the Bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any Bond nor any inaccuracy, error or ommission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular Bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the Bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the Bonds will be paid by the District.

SECTION 9. The proceeds derived from the sale of the Bonds shall be applied to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and isntall buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in said District. The District covenants to and with the purchasers of the Bonds, and with the holders thereof from time to time, that the District shall make no use of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds or any investment income therefrom which would cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" under Section 103(c) of the U. S. Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the District Shall comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations adopted under such Section 103(c) so long as any Bond is outstanding.

SECTION 10. This resolution shall take effect immediately upon its adoption, and all prior resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with this resolution be and are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

NOTICE OF SALE
$2,500,000
RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX
OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA
PARK BONDS,
SERIES 1982

Time and Place for Receipt of Bids. Sealed proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of the parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), for the purchase of all but not less than all of two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) Park Bonds, Series 1982, of the District at the Police Jury Annex Building in Cameron, Louisiana, up to 11:00 o'clock A.M., Louisiana Time, on December 9, 1982, at which time and place the sealed proposals will be publicly opened.

Bond Details. The bonds offered for sale will be dated December 1, 1982; will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered from 1 to 500, both inclusive, in order of maturity, will bear interest payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year until the maturity thereof, and will mature serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1984	$5,000
1985	145,000
1986	160,000
1987	180,000
1988	200,000
1989	220,000
1990	245,000
1991	275,000
1992	305,000
1993	345,000
1994	380,000
1995	5,000
1996	5,000
1997	5,000
1998	5,000
1999	5,000
2000	5,000
2001	5,000
2002	5,000

The bonds maturing January 1, 1995, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in sealed envelope marked "Bid for $2,500,000 Park Bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish Of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) ot one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same single rate from their date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fourteen per centum (14%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one-half percent (2 1/2%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest theron, and bids providing for additional or suplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such Board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy in such number with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on December 28, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished a transcript relative to the bonds with the approving legal opinion of Wood and Dawson, New York New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of a offering circular regarding the Park Bonds, Series 1982, of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and copies of the official bid form are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Commissioners (the "Board") of Waterworks District No. Nine of Cameron Parish, Louisiana (the "District"):

SECTION 1. Subject to the approval of the State Bond Commission, a special election shall be held in the district, and the same is hereby called for January 15, 1983, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of the District two propositions as to (i) whether the District shall incur debt and issue bonds in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed one million nine hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,950,000), to run twenty (20) years from the date thereof, and bearing interest at rates not to exceed seventeen per centum (17%) per annum, for the purpose of providing funds to construct and maintain waterworks systems in the District, title to which shall be in the public, which bonds shall be general obligations of the District and shall be payable from the proceeds of ad valorem taxes levied and collected on all the taxable property in said District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest and redemption premiums, if any, on said bonds as they mature, as authorized by Article 6, Section 33, of the Louisiana Constitution of 1974, and (ii) whether the district shall levy a five (5) mill special tax on all taxable property in the District for the period of ten (10) years, commencing in the year in which such waterworks systems are in operation, for the purpose of maintaining and operating the waterworks systems in the District.

SECTION 2. The Board shall meet at its office at the Grand Chenier Recreation Center in Grand Chenier, Louisiana on January 17, 1983, at six o'clock P.M., and shall, in open public session, proceed to examine and canvass the returns and declare the result of said election.

SECTION 3. The Secretary of the Board is hereby directed to give notice of said election in the form and manner provided by law, said notice to state that the election is to be held on the date hereinbefore mentioned at the polling place(s) hereinafter named, for the purpose of submitting to the vote of the qualified electors of the District the proposition hereinafter mentioned, which notice shall also state that the Board will meet on the date and at the time and place as set forth in Section 2 hereof, in open public session, to examine and canvass the returns and declare the result of said election.

SECTION 4. In the event no election for any public official is held in the District at the same time as the election called by Section 1 hereof, the following provisions shall apply:

A. The polling place(s), commissioner-in-charge, three (3) commissioners of election, and three (3) alternate commissioners of election for each precinct, all of whom meet the qualifications set forth in Part II of Chapter 5 of Title 33 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes, for said election shall be as follows:

B. The compensation of an alternate commissioner shall be twenty five dollars ($25.00), unless said alternate commissioner shall act as a commissioner in which case compensation shall be the same as a certified commissioner. The compensation of a certified commissioner at said election shall be fifty dollars ($50.00) and the compensation of the commissioner-in-charge appointed pursuant to L.R.S. 48:424 shall be one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125.00).

C. The polls for said election shall be opened on the day of such election at the hour of 6:00 o'clock A.M., and shall remain open until and not later than 8:00 o'clock P.M., but all qualified persons who were in line to vote at 8:00 o'clock P.M. shall be permitted to vote.

D. The Board shall, and the officers thereof are hereby directed to, provde for supplying voting machines and furnishing compiled statements of qualified voters, official absentee ballots, tally sheets, and other necessary election supplies, issue any proclamations and notices concerning said election as may be necessary, and otherwise do whatever is necessary to cause said election to be held, the votes compiled and the results promulgated as provided by law, including Chapter 6-A of Title 18 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes.

SECTION 5. In the event the election called by Section 1 hereof is held at the same time as an election in the District for any public official, the Board shall, and the officers thereof are hereby directed to, issue any proclamations and notices concerning said election as may be necessary and otherwise do whatever is necessary to cause said election to be held, the votes compiled and the results promulgated as provided by law, including Chapter 6-A of Title 18 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes.

SECTION 6. The propositions on the ballot to be used in said election shall be in substantially the following forms:

PROPOSITION NO. 1

Shall Waterworks District No. Nine of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, incur debt and issue bonds in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed one million nine hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,950,000), to run twenty (20) years, and bearing interest at rates not to exceed seventeen per centum (17%) per annum, for the purpose of providing funds to construct and maintain waterworks systems in said District, title to which shall be in the public, which bonds shall be general obligations of said District and shall be payable from the proceeds of ad valorem taxes levied and collected on all taxable property in said District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest and redemption premiums, if any, on said bonds as they mature, as authorized by Article 6, Section 33, of the Louisiana Constitution of 1974?

PROPOSITION NO. 2

Shall Waterworks District No. Nine of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, levy a five (5) mill special tax on all the taxable property in said District for the period of ten (10) years, commencing in the year in which such waterworks systems are put in operation, for the purpose of maintaining and operating the waterworks systems in said District?

SECTION 7. The Secretary of the Board is hereby directed to transmit a certified copy of this resolution and a true copy of the notice of election prepared pursuant to Section 3 hereof to the Secretary of State of the State of Louisiana, the Commissioner of Elections of the State of Louisiana, and each clerk of court and registrar of voters in the Parish of Cameron, in sufficient time that the same may be received by them by no later than forty-five days prior to said election.

SECTION 8. The Secretary of the Board is hereby directed to transmit forthwith to the State Bond Commission two (2) certified copies of this resolution. The State Bond Commission is hereby requested to consent to and approve (a) the holding of said election and (b) the issuance of said bonds if authorized at said election.

SECTION 9. This resolution shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

Allen Reed rites held at H'berry

Funeral services for Allen W. Reed, 57, of Fort Stockton, Texas, were held at 10 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 27, in Fort Stockton, Texas. Funeral Home Chapel, with graveside services Monday, Nov. 29 at Hackberry Cemetery.

Mr. Reed died Thursday in an Odessa, Texas hospital following a short illness.

A native of Mullin, Texas, he had lived in Fort Stockton 17 years and was a drilling superintendent for Exxon Oil Co.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Martha "Boo" Devall Reed of Fort Stockton; three sons, Allen Wayne Reed of Hackberry, and James and Chad Reed, both of Fort Stockton; one daughter, Pamela Kovach of Hackberry; three brothers, R. E. Reed of Mineola and W. H. and J. M. Reed, both of Baton Rouge; six sisters, Mrs. Auda Burleson of Fort Worth, Texas, Mrs. Ollie Holland of San Angelo, Texas, Mrs. Helen Ratliff of Brownwood, Texas, Mrs. Deana Langford of Lampasas, Texas, and Mrs. Eva Roberts and Mrs. Ida Pafford, both of Mullin, and three grandchildren.

Trash Compactor

There is no longer any need for messy garbage under the kitchen sink or smelly cans in the garage, advise home economists from Whirlpool Corporation. With a Trash Masher compactor you can put household trash in its proper place. This convenient appliance can compress a week's worth of normal household trash for an average family of four into a single, portable bag that weighs about 20 pounds.

TIPS TO HELP YOU

Holiday decorations ... materials for sewing and handicrafts ... silverware ... precision tools ... flower and vegetable seeds ... stamp collections. What do all these household items have in common? They all benefit from being kept clean, dry and protected from air and dust.

* * *

These are just a few of the items that homemakers are storing in new vacuum sealed heavy duty plastic pouches. The Vacuum Seal-a-Meal® from Dazey that packages food with the touch of a finger is useful for more than food. That's what a lot of smart, economy-minded shoppers are discovering.

* * *

Few things are messier than an almost empty paint can. Yet you hate to throw out that small amount of paint that might be handy for touch-ups. Just pour the remnants into a pouch and seal until you need. Treasured books will also benefit from this kind of protection from damp and mold.

Two perish in 'copter crash

One man is dead and another missing following a helicopter crash Friday morning in the Gulf of Mexico.

The dead man was identified as Keven T. Stanford, 26, of Abbeville.

Roland J. Thiery, 29, of Lawtell and the helicopter pilot, Joe Baggett, were treated and released from South Cameron hospital Friday.

Charles Schneider, a spokesman for Tenneco Oil Co. in Houston said a helicopter owned by Petroleum Helicopters, Inc. of Lafayette crashed into choppy Gulf waters about 9:15 a.m. Friday as it made an approach to a Tenneco platform 25 miles south of Cameron.

A spokesman for the U.S. Coast Guard in Galveston said a Coast Guard helicopter rescued three of the four men who were aboard the downed copter.

Efforts to rescue a fourth man, who apparently slipped out of his life-jacket during rescue operations, continue by the U.S. Coast Guard, PHI, Tenneco crews and fishermen.

"They picked up three people out of the water but the fourth person slipped out of his life jacket and they lost him," said Coast Guard spokesman John Deck.

According to Schneider, the PHI helicopter was taking three employees of Operators, Inc -- a subsidiary of Tenneco -- to the platform.

He said the platform's radio operator lost contact with the PHI helicopter "and when he did not show up they launched a work boat..." Schneider said Provost is an Operators, Inc. employee.

Sonya Guidry shows champ at state fair

Over 400 market lambs were shown by junior exhibitors at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport Oct. 21.

Sonya Guidry, a South Cameron Elementary 4-H Club member took the title for the Grand Champion Market Lamb. His lamb "Peanut", was purchased by Commercial National Bank of Shreveport for $29 a pound.

Sonya also exhibited a second and third place lamb.

Trent Guidry, also a 4-Her from South Cameron Elementary exhibited a first, second and eighth place lamb.

Prisoner escapes

A prisoner awaiting transfer to the state penitentiary at Angola escaped from the Cameron Parish Jail sometime Wednesday, Dec. 1, according to the sheriff's department.

John R. Weiss, 38, of cameron was discovered missing from his cell at an 8:30 p.m. cell check Wednesday. Weiss, who was sentenced to nine years in the state penitentiary for aggravated criminal damage to property in September, was last seen by jailers at approximately 6 a.m. Wednesday when he was brought down from his cell for exercise.

Weiss, also known as Joseph Russell Shea, told deputies he was ill and purportedly asked to go back to his cell.

The escape was the third from the jail in the past two months.

Jury budgets funds for courthouse work

The Cameron parish police jury adopted a $12,041,000 budget for the 1983 fiscal year Tuesday and jurors said they wanted to make it clear that funds were budgeted for repairs to the Cameron parish courthouse.

This assurance apparently was in answer to recent criticism from Sheriff James (Sono) Savoie that the jury wasn't spending enough money on the upkeep of the courthouse.

Juror Kenneth Ducote of Hackberry pointed out that $300,000 was budgeted for 1983 to replace the courthouse air conditioning and to make electrical repairs. He said that the jury planned to budget a similar amount for 1984 for remodeling and renovation of the courthouse.

Savoie, who as sheriff is responsible for the upkeep of the courthouse, has been critical of the jury for not appropriating enough money to get the nearly half century old courthouse in good condition while making extensive additions to the police jury annex.

The 1983 budget represents an increase of approximately $1.5 million over the previous year.

COASTAL ZONE PLAN

In other business, the jury held a hearing on the parish's Coastal Zone Management Plan, which spells out permit procedures for doing work and making improvements in the wetlands of the parish.

Juror Braxton Blake said the plan was "probably as minimal as we could come up with and be approved by the state." He said the jury was against having to establish any more permitting systems but said if the jury hadn't adopted the plan the state would have done it for them.

Dean Roome of Houston, whose family owns land in the Oak Grove area, appeared, made an extensive presentation to the jury on drainage problems in that area and asked the Jury to look into drainage relief for landowners in the area.

The jury postponed final acceptance of the coastal zone plan until its January meeting.

ETC CONTRACT

The jury voted to enter into a contract with the Educational and Treatment Council of Lake Charles to provide counseling srvice for at least eight hours a month at the South Cameron Memorial hospital. This service will enable the hospital to provide nursing home care in the future.

The cost to the jury for this and other services will be $15,000 a year. The parish school board had earlier entered into a contract with the council for counseling work in parish schools.

DOG ORDINANCE

The jury amended the parish dog ordinance to give the sheriff's department the authority to pick up dogs running loose with no vaccination tags. The owner then has 48 hours to reclaim the dog and pay the sheriff's expense not to exceed $25. After five days if not claimed the dogs could be disposed of.

The jury endorsed a joint resolution of the Louisiana House and Senate pertaining to relaxation of new federal regulations on flood insurance. The new regulations might make it impossible for the parish to continue to have flood insurance, it was pointed out.

NEW DISTRICT

A new gravity drainage district to take in the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area will be created at a later date the jury decided and gave notice of intent to create the district.

Monday, Jan. 3 was declared a legal bank holiday in Cameron parish by the jury so that banking institutions can close here for the New Year's holiday.

LIQUOR PERMITS

Liquor permits were approved for Russell Ferguson, Grand Lake; Ray Conner, Creole; and W. H. Carter, Grand Lake.

A permit for a new fire station for Creole was approved as was a non-residential permit for Altus J. Gaspard, Cameron.

APPOINTMENTS

Walter LeBleu was reappointed to the Cameron parish welfare board and Gerald LaBove was renamed to the Cameron parish sewerage district No. 2.

ROAD PROJECT

The low bid of $225,000, submitted by R. E. Heidt Construction Co. was approved for overlay work on Trosclair (Front Ridge) Road. R. L. Abshire was the only other bidder with a bid of $249,760.

Creole Juror Ray Conner urged the contractor to use as much local labor as possible.

GARBAGE DUMP HOURS

Parish garbage dump hours were changed to 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. during winter months and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the summer, with the dumps closed on Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and New Year's. The new hours go into effect Jan. 2. The holiday provision goes into effect for Christmas.

Mardi Gras was declared by the jury as an official holiday in the parish.

The jury agreed to abandon a surface lease given it by Ella Landry and Robert Landry on a small strip of land behind the Creole swimming pool since it is not being used.

A road right of way was accepted from Bernice Greathouse of Grand Lake.

Sunshine Kids group is organized here

Several students at South Cameron High School recently held a "rap session" with Mrs. Rhoda Tomasco, executive director of the Sunshine Kids Foundation, a non-profit organization dedicated to provide activities designed to benefit children who are confronted with life-threatening diseases - especially cancer.

In an effort to expand this program and make it more readily available to Louisiana Sunshine Kids, students at South Cameron High organized a support grou, Friends of the Sunshine Kids. On Dec. 1, Melvyn Boyd was elected president; Vashna Fraser, program chairman; Karen Savoie, vice president; Allyson Richard, secretary-treasurer; Caleb Jeffers, parliamentarian, and Lori Theriot, reporter.

The foundation will sponsor the first annual "Sunshine Kids Winter Games" to be held in March in Winter Park, Colorado. The South Cameron high club has elected to sponsor one child rom Louisiana to attend. Other organizations at the school are also contributing to the fund.

Burleigh is chief again

Kirk Burleigh was re-elected chief of the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department Monday night at the fire station.

Other officers named to serve with Burleigh for the coming year were: Oscar Reyes and Giz Guilbeaux, assistant chiefs; Buck Stevenson, 1st captain; Ronnie Johnson, 2nd captain; Donald Theriot, 1st lieutenant; Jeffery Jouett, 2nd lieutenant; Roland Roux, Jr., secretary; and Ray Burleigh, treasurer.

The annual Christmas party will be held Dec. 17, at 7:30 p.m. at the fire station.

Neighborhood watch meeting

A Neighborhood Watch program for that area of Grand Chenier from the home of Mrs. Jim Bonsall to that of Charlie Davis will be organized at a meeting at 6:30 p.m., Friday, Dec. 10 at the Grand Chenier Methodist Church.

Cameron parish sheriff deputies will be present to provide information on the program. All citizens of that area are invited to attend.

Meeting set

A Drug Abuse and Alcohol Prevention program will be presented by the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department Thursday, Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. in the VFW Hall in Cameron.

The public is invited to attend.

...to close on two eves here

Governor David C. Treen said today that state offices will be closed on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve. The Governor directed state officials to observe the two Fridays as holidays for state employees.

The Christmas and New Year's holidays fall on Saturdays this year. By law, the closest regularly scheduled workday is designated as the day off.

Theriot named Citizen of Year

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Clyde Theriot of Grand Chenier, was named "Citizen of the Year" at the annual Citizenship Award banquet held Saturday night at the VFW hall in Cameron.

Theriot was cited by John Morgan, Commander of Doxey-Vincent VFW Post No. 10019, hosts of the event, for his contribution to various organizations in the parish.

Other nominees for the honor were Dr. Cecil Clark and John Driscoll.

John Driscoll served as Master of Ceremonies and was introduced by Commander Morgan.

Floyd Gill, 5th District Commander, presented a Past Commander pin to John Morgan and Morgan presented certificates to nonmembers.

Mrs. Phalia Saltzman, president of the Ladies Auxiliary, recognized the Gold Star Mothers.

Mrs. Janie Haggie, District 5 president, presented a past president pin to Mrs. Priscilla Morgan.

Wadley Saltzman introduced the past recipients of the citizenship awards and Waldon Doxey presented the citizenship award nominees with certificates.

Rep. Conway LeBleu introduced the guest speaker, Rep. John Hainel of New Orleans, speaker of the La. House of Representatives.

He spoke on the positive side of the economy and stated that crime in the state is also down. He praised Rep. LeBleu for the tremendous job he does for his district in the legislature. He pointed out that revenues for Louisiana this year are 110 million shorter than expected so there had to be cutbacks on programs to balance the budget.

He said that the special session will deal with programs that might be curtailed.

John Driscoll announced that from now on, the annual awards banquet will have a permanent date of the first Saturday in December and that all local organizations will be advised of the fact.

Msgr. Curtis Vidrine, pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic church in Cameron delivered the invocation and the benediction.

Name chosen for parish museum

Articles of Incorporation were approved at the meeting of the newly organized Cameron Parish Historical Society held Monday night in the Police Jury Annex.

The club members chose the name of "Leesburg Museum" for the building the society plans to use as headquarters and in which they plan to house historical items.

Located on Henry Street, the old home was formerly known as the old Bonsall home and is owned by the Cameron parish Police Jury, and formerly housed the Council on Aging offices.

Mrs. Ching Conner, acting president, reported that the Police Jury is in the process of renovating the old home.

She also reported that the society has been receiving some antique items to be housed in the museum and asked members to secure more.

The next meeting will be held on Monday night, Jan. 31 and a speaker is planned.

Mrs. Emma Nunez, club treasurer, reported that dues are coming in and that members who have not paid should send them in now.

5 graduate

Five area residents will be among 283 students to receive their degrees from McNeese State University at commencement exercises set for Friday, Dec. 17, at 7 p.m. in the Lake Charles Civic Center.

The following students will receive their degrees: Carolyn S. Rutherford, Iris Segura and Katie C. Trahan of Creole in early childhood education; Susan Theresa Frey of Hackberry in accounting and Mary Diane McCall of Grand Chenier in word processing.

Family night

The South Cameron High School SAPE team and club will sponsor a Family Night Monday, Dec. 13, at 7 p.m. in the school auditorium.

A discussion of the program's progress will be held and a play will be presented by club members, according to Mrs. Rosalie Perry, SAPE team member.

Letter to. . . .

. . . .the Editor

Grand Chenier, La.
Cameron Parish School Board
Thomas McCall, Superintendent
Cameron, La. 70631
Dear Sir:

I am writing you because of recommendation from assessor Ambrose Savoie about the enormous price I have been charged for the taxes on the old family property of Jim Bonsall.

That property has been in the family for many years. The first bill of sale was signed by Abraham Lincoln. The old home was partly made of logs and put together with pegs. It and all improvements were washed off in Hurricane Audrey and nothing has been rebuilt since.

Mr. Bonsall was a pioneer and helped to build Cameron Parish to what it is today. He started carrying the mail, riding horse back from Grand Chenier to Cameron in 1906. He went one day and came back the next, having to change horses on the way each day. Later he drove a horse and buggy, and was the first owner of a Ford car in the parish.

After 44 years of service and the improvement of black top roads, just as he was nearing 65 years of age, which was to have been retirement age, he received a notice on Thanksgiving Day he would go off in five days. He was not given retirement pay or pension.

An oil company gave us some heavy lumber they didn't want and with my help doing the cutting and him the nailing, we made our first store.

In 1957 Hurricane Audrey came, just as we were getting started good and took the store and destroyed everything in it and also badly damaged our home.

We did not have any insurance or money so, Mr. Bonsall sold some sand from the old place I am talking about that is being so higly taxed. The place is mostly pits or marsh and not suitable for anything.

The taxes last year on the old Bonsall home place were $50.88, which was much too high. This year you have gone up to $85.69, an increase of almost $35.00. Even $35.00 alone should be enough to pay.

Mr. Bonsall has been dead 14 years. He died Aug. 3, 1968 and he did not leave any retirement for me. He was never able to get his business started again in the store because of his age and health. He did a lot for Cameron Parish and was a real pioneer and because of his friendship with President Roosevelt, he was able to get the courthouse. He used to keep his horse feed in the old jail house in Cameron.

Send someone to look at the old place and to re-assess it, and stop by the store and see what a small business I have since so many new stores have opened up against me.

I feel like I am having the life squeezed out of me. I am 79 years old and that is not a good age to be worried about taxes.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Bernie L. Bonsall
(Mrs. James)

Hackberry High School senior 4-H club members and the Girl Scouts recently had a Thanksgiving clothing drive. The clubs collected and boxed approximately 195 pounds of clothing which was donated.

Cameron to host meeting

The West Deanery Pastoral Council of the Diocese of Lake Charles has voted to promote religious vocations and evangelization in the deanery during the coming year.

A series of recommendations for the development of a deanery-wide policy on the promotion of religious vocations were advanced at the deanery council's fall meeting, held in St. Theodore Parish hall in Moss Bluff on Tuesday, Nov. 30.

The recommendations, advanced by a panel of discussion leaders, will be distributed to the 22 church parishes of the West Deanery for study and implementation, according to Mrs. Grace Savoie of Sulphur, deanery council president.

The next meeting of the council will be held in late April, Mrs. Savoie said, with Immaculate Conception Parish of Maplewood as the host. The August meeting will be held in the Cameron Civil Parish area, and the January, 1984 meeting will be held at Immaculate Conception Cathedral Parish in Lake Charles.

A total of 17 of the 22 church parishes of the deanery were represented at the meeting, Mrs. Savoie said.

Some experts estimate that the first dogs were tamed over 12,000 years ago.

The line will be laid not less than 3 feet below the bed of the canal.

Any comments on the proposed work will be received by the Corps until Dec. 17.

County Agent Report

By Clifford Myers

DEFICIENCY DISEASES

Nutritional deficiencies can create health problems for livestock. Weaned calves fed only all grain types of feed such as cracked corn must draw calcium from their own skeleton which can weaken bones. Adequate calcium provided free choice or added to the ration along with Vitamin D will prevent this.

Cattle pastured on acid soils, PH of 6.0 or below, should receive additional phosphorous either through forage fertilization or by continuous feeding of a mineral supplement.

ANTIFREEZE CAN KILL

Ethylene Glycol Antifreeze is a potential source of animal poisoning this time of the year.

Only two or three ounces can prove fatal to pets. Poisoned dogs become weak, stagger, may vomit, develop diarrhea and become comatose. There may be a temporary recovery, but kidney damage causes death or debility within two or three days.

CITRUS IN LANDSCAPE

Citrus trees can be used effectively in Cameron parish landscape as hedges, mars plantings, trellis and even container plants.

Choosing the right variety is the most important part of growing citrus because most varieties should be selected. Once it is selected, proper care should be given such as insect and disease control. Also, fertilizing at the proper times and using the right fertilizer analysis will help to harden them.

Because citrus trees vary in their resistance to injury from freezing, it is important to select those that are more hardy. The most cold resistant in order are: satsumas, followed by kumquats, sour oranges, sweet oranges, grapefruit, lemons and limes being the most cold sensitive.

EVALUATE WEED PROBLEMS

As the 1982 grazing season moves toward a close, it is time for land owners to evaluate this year's week problems. It's easy to forget where weedy "hot spots" are from one year to another and the cost of bringing these problem areas under control is increasing.

Many pastures develop serious late-season seed problems. To name a few, ragweek, marsh elder, cypress weed, bitter weed, goat weed, bull thistle, etc. These weeds become very hard to control as they near maturity. However they can be easily controlled in the young stage.

Some pastures will probably have increased weed pressure throughout 1983.

Two change pleas before trials here

Two men who had previously pleaded not guilty to criminal charges and were slated for trials before a Cameron parish petit jury changed their pleas to guilty Monday.

Judge H. Ward Fontenot, 38th Judicial District Judge issued the following sentences:

Kenneth R. Lovelady, 23, J.B. Rt., Cameron, was sentenced to one year in the Department of Corrections, suspended, and placed on supervised probation for two years, plus a $1500 fine and to pay $200 to the Indigent Defendant Fund for possession of CNSD; and $75 and costs or 15 days for possession of drug paraphrnalia.

Randy L. Johnson, 26, P.O. Box 349, Big Woods Road, Sulphur, was fined $350 and costs or 35 days in jail for D.W.I.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

The Houmas House near Burnside, Louisiana, built c1840 by John S. and Caroline Hampton Preston is one of many plantation homes from Maryland to Texas built by HAMPTON, HARRISON and EARLE family members between the 1620 arrival of the first emigrant and shortly before the Civil War.

Hampton, one of the oldest families in England, is Saxon in origin. This name can be traced back to the 10th century and the reign of King Ethelred.

William Hampton who came to Virginia in 1620 established Poquoson Plantation in 1640 and Hampfield in 1651. Hampton history intertwined with American and United States history as his descendants spread across the south: Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas.

James Harrison who married Elizabeth Hampton in N. Car. in 1773 came from a Danish-English line originating in the 11th century and arriving in Virginia at least before 1684.

Dr. Baylis Wood Earle married Ann Eliza Harrison in Alabama in 1829; both had been born in S. Car. They moved later to Mississippi and, shortly before the Civil War with Thomas and James E. Harrison, moved with several families onward to Texas. One of the unusual things about Eliza was, that in the early 1800, she graduated from college.

Education was an achievement of these three family lines; plus large land ownership, the building of plantations; civil, political and military leadership through four centuries in this country.

THE VENTURERS

The Venturers: The Hampton, Harrison and Earle Families of Virginia, South Carolina and Texas by Virginia G. Maynard is an outstanding book. Expertly written by a former journalist and author, parts of it read like a novel. As family history this is a superb example.

Mrs. Maynard makes this a personalized saga of families whose lives influenced history. She describes people, places, events, clothes, experiences so that the reader feels they have been seen. The amount of information and the scope of this history-genealogy is extraordinary.

Over 4000 descendants of William Hampton, the immigrant, are traced; there are more than 100 photographs of early family members and homes; the index lists some 20,000 names; partial histories of over a hundred allied families are given.

Unusually long, this book has 1114 pages. It is hardcover with book jacket, 6 x 9 in., available at $42.50 from: Southern Historical Press, P.O. Box 738, Easley, S. Car. 29640.

NATCHITOCHES GENEALOGIST

The Natchitoches Geneologist is published biannually by the Natchitoches Genealogical and Historical Assn. Editor is Mrs. Gladys L. Sandefur.

Providing records from the original Natchitoches Parish that covered all or parts of thirteen present day parishes: Caddo, Bossier, Webster, Claiborne, Lincoln, Bienville, Red River, De Soto, Sabine, Vernon, Winn, Grant Natchitoches, this publication is available with membership in the Association.

The October 1982 issue of 63 pages is stiffcover, 8½ x 11 in., stapled, surname indexed. It offers articles on The 100th Birthday of Robeline Baptist Church, The William Jones Family from Wales to Natchitoches, An Index to 1720-1878 Natchitoches Parish Records, A History of Gorum, La.; Marriage, Death and Birth Notices from 1905 issues of The Natchitoches Times; Winn and Natchitoches Parish Marriages, records from Baptist Churches in Middle Creek (Sabine), Pine Hill (LaSalle) and Evergreen (DeSoto); Natchitoches Conveyance Books, 1761-66 and Index to Successions, etc.

Assn. memberships at $10.00 should be sent to the treasurer, Mrs. Janetha Dunahoe, 350 Shoreline Dr., Natchitoches, La. 71457.

Lights on at Hodges Gardens

On Dec. 3, Hodges Gardens, Louisiana's famous "Garden in the Forest," turned on its Christmas lights. Thousands of multi colored lights sparkle around the shores of the lake and along the garden structures. There are also Christmas displays in the gardens and conservatory.

The lights are turned on each evening from 5 p.m. till 9 p.m. through Dec. 23. Admission to the Gardens is free after 5 p.m. for viewing the lights.

These lights at Hodges Gardens and the lighting displays along the Cane River in Natchitoches, are two west central Louisiana Christmas traditions and draw visitors from throughout the country.

Hodges Gardens is located 12 miles south of Many on U. S. Highway 171, approximately halfway between Shreveport and Lake Charles.

Christmas tree now a Louisiana crop

Choosing and cutting your own Christmas tree off a grower's lot is becoming an annual Yuletime outing for many Louisiana families.

Upwards of 50,000 Louisiana-grown trees are now ready for this year's holiday season and nearly 90 percent of those are being sold in choose-and-cut operations, says Dr. Alden Main, forester with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

"More families are enjoying getting out in fresh air of the country and buying a quality tree of their own choosing. Growers like it because it saves on the many costs involved in bringing the tree to the customer," Main adds.

The Virginia pine is the leading species of Christmas tree grown and sold in the state by some 200 tree farmers. It compares favorably with the Scotch pine shipped from northern states, can be grown in half the time, and is much fresher than those from the north which have been harvested in October.

Louisiana trees are making a dent in a market once completely dominated by out-of-state growers. Some northern interests no longer come south because of locally produced trees. The volume of Louisiana trees is starting to merit in-state wholesale operations.

"Ideally, choose-and-cut fields should be located near a metropolitan center where there's a potential for much consumer traffic," Main continues. "It's supply and demand at work. Plantations in more remote rural areas generally cannot get the flow of customers to sell many trees. This means transporting them to marketing centers and perhaps setting up a retail outlet. The space rental and local licenses involved increases the risk of being left with a number of unsold cut trees and losing money."

A listing of choose-and-cut Christmas tree growers is available at each parish office of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Main says anyone in Louisiana contemplating getting into the Christmas tree business should study the local market situation closely. Even growers in the northern United States are seeing their product pass the satugation point. "For every three trees planted, one is sold," he says.

On the surface, growing Christmas trees on idle Louisiana acreage looks like profit waiting to be banked, especially if one only considers that with proper care a marketable tree - 6 to 8 feet is most popular - can be raised in three to five years, while it takes up to 8 years in the colder climates of the United States.

"It's not twice as profitable. While we can grow trees in half the time and turn over land use twice as fast, northern growers don't have nearly the labor and material costs we have in the South. They can get by with a couple of grass cuttings a year, once-a-year shearing and little to no cost for insect, disease and weed controls.

"Here in Louisiana, spraying for insects and diseases starts in March and continues monthly through October. Grass needs cutting at least once a month and an herbicide application for weeds is generally needed three times during the warm months," Main says.

Add to that twice-a-year shearing after the second year to keep a Christmas tree's shape, and production costs can cut significantly into potential profits. "The kind of hand labor needed to properly produce a quality and attractive tree takes someone who knows what he's doing. The seedlings you put in the ground are the cheapest part of the operation. The effort and expenses involved over the next three to five years and proper marketing are the rest of the story," Main concludes.

Tree farming is a good use of idle land, especially on some of the hilly, sandier soils of the state where little else of agricultural importance will grow.

"It's ideal for land that's not being used, but you can't plug some seedlings in the ground and come back a few years later hoping to harvest a quality specimen," Main says. Christmas tree growing is great for the part-time hobbyist, especially someone wanting to do something outdoors. Some grow the trees on small plots and sell less than 100 a year to friends and neighbors, advertising mainly by word-of-mouth and postcard. One lady planted a vacant suburban lot to Christmas trees, some of which she sold and others she gave to local 4-H Club members for distribution to needy families.

From initial research efforts by LSU nearly 20 years ago, a mini-industry of growers spanning the state from near New Orleans to the Arkansas border now plants a half-million trees a year on some 2,000 acres. Main estimates that there'll be 100,000 Louisiana - grown trees available next Christmas.

Howell rites held here

Funeral services for Jesse Baker Howell, 71, of Cameron were held Thursday, Dec. 2, at the Bargeman Memorial Church in Cameron.

The Rev. Joseph Savoie officiated.

Burial was in Ebenezer Baptist Cemetery.

Mr. Howell died Nov. 26. A native of North Carolina, he was a retired fisherman.

Dieting and holidays can be worked out

If you enjoy all the goodies and add a pound or two, will you be able to lose it by making a New Year's resolution? Don't count on it, Patrick advises. She says it's best to avoid extra calories during the holiday season.

If you gain just one pound, it will take you a week to lose it. That is, if you're able to take 500 calories off your daily intake for an entire week. That's what it takes--a deficit of 3500 calories to lose just one pound.

To avoid adding pounds during the holidays, Patrick suggests doing more visiting than nibbling and imbibing at gatherings. She adds these suggestions:

--Eat small portions of high-calorie foods--especially the rich cakes, pies, cookies, nuts and candies associated with Christmas and New Year's.

--Eat more low - calorie vegetables and salads to fill you up so you won't be tempted to eat as many rich disserts.

--At parties, concentrate on meats, cheese, and fresh fruit or vegetable trays rather than the high-calorie chips, dips and sweets. Then remember, you don't need to go eat a big meal, too.

Additional information on weight control is available from a home economist of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service assigned to this parish. A group educational program, called Weight Off Wisely, may be available free for area residents, sponsored by your local Extension home economics organization.

When you get down to it, finding the right floor covering covers a number of factors.

Make sure toys are safe for children

Safety should be the major consideration when selecting toys for holiday gifts, stresses Barbara Schilde, health and safety specialist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Thousands of children are injured every year by unsafe or improperly used toys, she notes, adding that parents should not assume that all store-bought toys are safe playthings.

Grandparents, as well as parents and others, often get swept away by the "cuteness" of a toy and forget to check its safety features. However, it only takes a few seconds to check a toy for safety, she adds.

Miss Schilde offers these shopping guidelines:

--Choose toys appropriate to a child's age and development. Look for the suggested age level printed on the package. The likelihood of younger children playing with the toys chosen for an older child must also be considered.

--Read labels to determine if the toy is non-flammable, flame-retardant or flame-resistant. When buying stuffed animals, look for labels stating whether washable or hygienic materials are used.

--When buying a toy for an infant, make sure that it's soft, durable and too large to be swallowed. If the toy has attached parts, test to make sure they're firmly attached and can't be pulled off by small, but strong, prying fingers.

--Select chemistry sets and electrically operated toys for older children only. Don't allow a child to remove or replace the electrical components.

--Avoid buying toys that produce excessive noise, such as cap pistols, guns and sirens. These may produce hearing impairment if fired too close to a person's ear.

--Avoid buying shooting games, especially those with darts and arrows, unless they will be used in designated areas or outdoors with adult supervision.

--A toy should also be checked for sharp edges or dangerous protrusions. Look for ones with smooth surfaces and blunt edges.

Any toy can be a hazard if not used properly, adds the home economist. Be prepared to instruct children in the use of toys and provide supervision during play. Toys and play equipment should be checked periodically for safety.

Provisions should be made to store or lock bicycles, skates, chemistry sets, electrical toys or hobby kits which are considered safe for an older child, but hazardous for younger children.

The older child may also need to be instructed and reminded to pick up and store playthings or hobby materials after use.

Supervision remains the best safety precaution a parent can provide in helping children enjoy gifts without injury, Schilde concludes.

If you have any questions concerning a toy's safety, contact a home economist in the parish office of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Mrs. Perry reported on the St. Jude's Math-A-Thon contest to be held in November.

Mr. Wicke passed out news letters and showed the club how to make a fire pail. A crossword puzzle on fire safety was played by everyone.

Schools to be visited

The Joint Legislative Subcommittee on Career Education will visit two facilities in the Monroe area Friday, ec. 10.

Subcommittee Chairman Francis Thompson of Delhi, announced that the members will visit the Delta Ouachita Vo-Tech School in West Monroe at 10 a.m. and the Louisiana Training Institute in Monroe at 1 p.m.

Rep. Thompson said the subcommittee will be looking at what's available around the state and what each school offers. "We want to see that there is no duplication in the curricula, see what areas need upgrading and discuss how the 4.4 percent cuts will affect the vo-tech schools," he said.

The visits are the result of a study request by Rep. James David Cain of Dry Creek to examine the administration of vo-tech schools to see if changes are called for. Rep. Cain said he wanted the committee to determine whether the vo-tech schools should be put under the Dept. of Education. They are now under the jurisdiction of the Board of Elementary and Secondary Education.

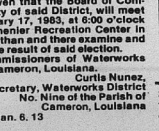
Reminder: Is Your Medicine Cabinet Ready For Cough And Cold Season?

With the "cough and cold" season in high gear, it's a good idea to take a long hard look at your medicine cabinet.



There's no cure for the common cold, but many good products are available to make you and your family more comfortable when you fall victim to achy nose, sore throat, and other symptoms of the season. Fevers from a cold or bout with flu tend to dry out skin, leaving painful chapped lips and a raw red nose.

Your pharmacist will be glad to help you choose a selection of brands to make these minor — but often debilitating — ills go down a little easier.

Here are some basics to have on hand:

- Adult and children's thermometer
- An analgesic type remedy such as aspirin-like compounds
- A medicated lip care product such as Blistex lip ointment or Lip Balm to protect and relieve dry, chapped lips
- A cough preparation
- Nose drops to relieve congestion
- Medicated lozenges for sore throats
- Other lotions or creams for dry skin

The ancients believed the emerald had the power to heal diseases of the eye.

Some experts estimate that the first dogs were tamed over 12,000 years ago.

It Makes Plain Common Sense

Conservation does.

It's common sense to conserve our precious natural resources. Natural gas, for example. With care this clean, efficient, easily-transportable fuel will continue to be the energy base of the industrial Gulf South, from today to the year 2000 and way beyond.

There's little sign that any other source of energy will take its place as the most economical fuel ever found in great quantities. Actually it was the "cheap" fuel that spurred on the Gulf South's economic development.

When gas cost a nickel per MCF (1000 cubic feet), waste was measured in pennies. Now it's measured in dollars and hundreds of dollars.

Daily, as this company buys long-term supplies of gas for distribution to the Gulf South, it faces steadily increasing prices. As much as any company, United Gas knows the cost of waste. Conserve whenever, and wherever you can. The natural gas we save today will be needed tomorrow.

27th Year--No. 8 Dec. 16, 1982 Cameron, La.

Board picks officers

The Cameron parish school board Monday re-elected Mervyn L. Taylor as president and Preston Richard as vice-president for the coming year.

There were no other candidates for the post and the vote was unanimous.

Mr. Taylor, who represents the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area, has served as president for the past 12 years. Mr. Richard, who represents the Creole-Cameron area, has been vice-president for four years.

The board adopted resolutions expressing its appreciation to both men for their services to the parish school system.

Turning to other business, the board accepted the low bid of S. J. LeMoine, Inc. of Benkie of $2,839,000 for the first phase of improvements and additions at South Cameron high school. There were four other bidders on the project. The contract calls for completion in 480 calendar days.

Architect Sonny Hackett said the work will consist of a new physical education, science and shop facilities, a new sewer plant and lift station and the relocation of utilities to make room for the additions.

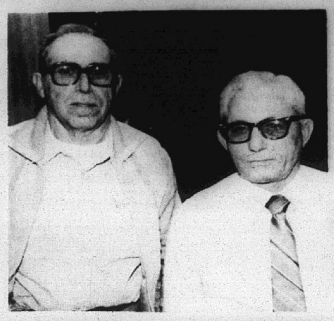
Phase 2, to be bid at a later date, will include a special education wing and renovation of the old section of the school.

Assistant Supt. Robert Ortego told the board that it might have to purchase four new school buses for next school year to replace old buses with the cost expected to go over $100,000 altogether. He said he was considering the advisability of buying diesel buses because of the lower maintenance cost.

Architect Hackett told the board that the cost of utilities for schools probably would double in a few years and said he would like to bring in an energy expert to advise the board on the installation of some type of computer system to save on energy.

The board accepted the resignation of Ruby Dupuie as lunchroom manager at Grand Chenier elementary school and agreed to Shirley Bonsall, now lunchroom manager at South Cameron high, transferring to that position.

However, the board made the transfer conditional upon finding a suitable replacement for Mrs. Bonsall at South Cameron. The board is advertising for applicants.



The board amended its fixed assets policy so that all items valued at less than $50 do not have to be included in inventories.

The board also agreed to look into a boiler and cooler maintenance system for the six boilers in the parish system.

President Taylor told the board that "we ought to be thankful for prosperity in 1982, in view of the hard times that some other public bodies are having."

He said that the board members predecessors of years ago should be thanked for having the foresight of holding on to the school board's 16th sections of land which have produced so much oil and gas revenues for the board in recent years.

He thanks the superintendent and the school board staff for a good job during the past year.

THE CAMERON Parish School Board Monday re-elected Mervyn Taylor, left, as president, and Preston Richard as vice-president for the coming year.

Escapee gets 10 year term

Edward Frank Rainey, 33, 143 Louie St., Lake Charles was sentenced to 10 years in the Dept. of Corrections Monday morning in 38th Judicial District Court by Judge H. Ward Fontenot.

The sentences were 5 years each to run consecutively on simple escape and theft.

This sentence is in addition to another 10 years he received in October for sexual battery.

The Cameron Parish Petit Jury returned a guilty verdict Wednesday afternoon in 38th Judicial District Court against Edward Frank Rainey, 33, 143 Louie Street, Lake Charles, after a 15 minute deliberation on charges of simple escape, theft of a car; driving under suspension and expired inspection sticker.

The charges stemmed from the escape by Rainey from the Cameron Parish jail on Oct. 17, during a jail church service whick was being held in the courtroom.

Rainey stole a car from an oilfield site north of the Cameron courthouse, which belonged to James N. Kratzer of Jennings, and was captured when he drove the stolen car on the Cameron ferry.

He was in jail at that time awaiting a transfer to the Department of Corrections on a conviction of sexual battery on Oct. 13, to which he had been sentenced 10 years in the Department of Corrections, with no probation or parole.

Sentences given

Mark Joseph Fuselier, 26, P.O. Box 575, Cameron, who had originally pleaded not guilty and was slated to be tried by the Cameron Parish Petit Jury changed his plea to guilty to aggravated battery (on David Myers with a gun); possession of an illegal firearm (a 12-guage sawed-off shotgun); and illegal discharge of a weapon on Thursday.

Judge H. Ward Fontenot set Jan. 5, as the date of the sentencing.

The judge handed down the following sentences on guilty pleas:

James R. Spivey, 32, Lafayette, $65, or 7 days in jail for reckless operation; $350 and costs or 45 days in jail for D.W.I. and 10 days for driving under suspension.

Willie McCoy, 23, Cameron, 24 hours in jail for simple criminal damage to property, by damaging a piece of sheetrock in Terry George's trailer.

Shanan Todd Landry, 25, Rt. 1, Cameron, who had originally pleaded not guilty, changed his plea to guilty Wednesday, Dec. 18, in 38th Judicial District Court to theft of livestock, possession of marijuana, possession of drug paraphernalia, and failure to yield to emergency vehicle.

Judge H. Ward Fontenot set Jan. 13, for sentencing.

John R. Smith, 27, Delcambre, pleaded guilty to littering and was fined $35 and costs or 3 days in jail. He pleaded not guilty to disturbing the peace and his trial was set for Jan. 12.

Santa here Sat.

Leo Club plans event

The South Cameron High School Leo Club held its monthly meeting Dec. 14. Melvin Boyd called the meeting to order, Veronica Desonier led the pledge and Allyson Richard called roll.

Guests at this meeting were Ed Kelley and Paul Coreil from the Cameron Lions Club. Mr. Coreil presented the club with a patch for its five-year membership. Mr. Kelley discussed the upcoming Fur Festival and offered help from the Lions Club.

Leo members will usher at the Cameron Auditorium for the Thursday, Friday, and Saturday night activities.

Plans were made to attend the Council on Aging area Christmas parties and do some Christmas caroling.

Bank to be closed on 3rd

All offices of the Cameron State Bank will be closed Friday, Dec. 24 for the Christmas holiday.

The bank will remain open Friday, Dec. 31 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. only and will be closed Monday, Jan. 3 in observance of New Year's Day.

Santa greets elder

Santa Claus was on hand to pass out gifts to members of the CDA Court Mary Olive members and their guests at their annual Christmas party held at the Life Center of the Sacred Heart church Tuesday night, Dec. 7.

Among those attending was Mrs. Amatile Richard, 95, who is the Court's oldest member.

Lynda Dahlen, Court Regent, was in charge of the entertainment for the party. She was assisted by Dolores Boudreaux, Brenda Boudreaux and Mayola Wicke.

The door prize was won by Swinford Baccigalopi.

A covered dish supper was served during the party.

CDA has Yule party

Creole Catholic Daughters had their Christmas party and covered dish supper. Husbands were invited for supper and to exchange gifts.

Regent, Linda Dahlen, opened the meeting with prayer for special intentions.

Officers giving reports were Delores Boudreaux, Linda Dahlen, Mayola Wicke and Cora Hendrix.

Chairmen, Nita Conner, Estelle Theriot, Lola Domingue, gave reports.

Brenda Boudreaux thanked all CDA ladies for helping box clothes. The clothes drive was a huge success.

A youth rally will be held at the Civic Center in Feb. All youths of the parish are invited to attend.

Nominated for CDA of the Year are Bernice Bertrand, Esther Quinn, Brenda Boudreaux, and Cora Hendrix. These will be voted on at the Jan. 4 meeting.

AA meeting

There will be an alcoholics anonymous meeting Tuesday, Dec. 21, at 7 p.m. in the St. Eugene Catholic Church hall in Grand Chenier.

Sweetheart dance to be planned at SCH

Principal Wayne Batts requested of the South Cameron High School Student Council members to be working on a new plan to sponsor the annual Sweetheart Dance.

In other action the council agreed to request all campus clubs to sponsor the decoration of various parts of the school for Christmas; to provide teachers name plates on the outside of each teacher's room; paint a large tarpon behind the goals in the gym.

The council members agreed to write to several other schools to obtain information relative to the establishment of a hall of fame.

The Student Council will spearhead a drive with the assistance of all other clubs in school to purchase a complete video set-up for the South Cameron high school student body.

Mr. Brossard requested from the president of each club a calendar of events for the remainder of this term in order to avoid over-lapping of activities and to avoid interference with school activities.

Club members volunteered to help serve at the luncheon which will be served to Cameron Parish School Board and Administration, Monday, Dec. 13.

Awards night held

The annual Sacred Heart Catholic Church Christmas banquet and awards night was held Saturday, Dec. 11 at the Life Center.

A social hour followed with a buffet type supper. Mr. Clifford Myers, Council chairman, was master of ceremonies. Mr. Myers gave appreciation plaques to Mr. Fredman Theriot and Margie Dimas for Sacred Heart and Willie Bargeman for St. Rose.

The eveing ended with a prayer by Father Louis Perpete.

Make sure Christmas tree is safe

If you traditionally decorate your Christmas tree indeors, there are several safety tips you need to remember, according to Barbara Schilde, health and safety specialist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

As you unpack stored tree lights, take the time to check each set. First, inspect the bulbs to make sure they operate. Then remove the plug from the socket and inspect the wires. Check from one end of the string of lights to the other.

Look for cracked insulation or bare wire, especially where the wire enters a light socket. Look for cracked sockets, also. If cracked insulation, bare wires, or cracked sockets are evident, the set should be discarded, she stresses.

Check the plug to make sure the connections are good. One way to tell without getting a shock is to plug the set into the add-on connector of a second set of lights and plug that set into the connector of the first set. Check to make sure the plugs of both sets fit well with no exposed wires.

All strings of lights are not the same. Lights may be wired in series or parallel circuits. If a bulb goes out on a series circuit, all of the lights go off. In a two-wire parallel set, the remaining lights continue to burn when one burns out.

If you have the parallel circuits and they are miniature Christmas tree lights, try to replace a burned-out lamp with a bulb of the proper voltage size. Even though the other lamps continue to work, they will be subjected to increased electrical power, shortened life, and they could eventually become a fire hazard in the home.

In decorating your tree, do not connect more than 200 miniature lights together through one string or cord. Large lamp sets should not be connected through miniature lamp sets.

Don't use indoor lights outdoors. Use extension cords that are capable of transmitting the current (amps) to the lights without overloading the cord, triggering circuit breakers, or blowing protective fuses. A circuit breaker of fuse which blows when you connect the lights is a signal something is electrically wrong.

If you are buying new miniature Christmas tree lights, look for some certification on the package that the set meets the performance specifications of an independent testing laboratory, such as Underwriters Laboratory with a "UL" label. All sets in this classification will have passed a series of performance tests designed to eliminate hazards.

Be sure to turn lights off when you leave home or go to bed. Always disconnect any electrical appliances by grasping the plug, not by pulling the cord.

For more safety information, contact a home economist with the local office of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

You can have children make their own Christmas cards by tracing the outline of their hands on red or green construction paper. Cut the hands out and decorate with seasonal greetings.

The world's tallest known cut Christmas tree was a 221 foot Douglas fir erected at a shopping center in Seattle in 1950.

Meeting set

Waterworks District No. 9 will hold a public meeting at the Grand Chenier recreation building Monday, Dec. 20 at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend.

Anyone wishing to enter in the 27th annual Fur and Wildlife Festival Parade should contact Hayes Pete Picou, Jr. at 775-5551. The festival is honoring the shrimp industry this year.

The parade will be held Saturday, Jan. 15.

Oil company seeks permit

Exchange Oil and Gas Corp. has applied for a Corps of Engineers permit to dredge a slip in Bayou Lacassine for access to a proposed well location about 15 miles northeast of Grand Chenier. The well will be Miami Corp. No. 1.

Any suggestions on the proposed work will be received by the Corps until Jan. 3.

JEFF NUNEZ of Grand Chenier observed his 91st birthday Dec. 13 and his wife, Alice, observed her 87th birthday Sept. 18. Their two children, Ray and Mrs. Ruby Mhire of Grand Chenier visited them on Mr. Nunez's birthday.

Bataan March

By Jesse Knowles

NBC's hour-long special presentation Sunday night "Bataan-The Forgotten Hell" stirred a lot of memories for me. As a survivor of the Bataan Death March, it brought into sharp focus a battle that was fought 40 years ago, and the indignities that accompanied the surrender of American and Philippine troops to the Japanese.

What startled me perhaps more than anything else as I watched the dramatic documentary was announcement that about 40 percent of the people living in the United States had not even been born when that tragedy befell American and Philippine troops defending those Pacific islands immediately after the start of World War II.

In listening to the narrative that accompanied the visuals that were fashioned from film clips, still photos, newspaper clippings, and actual interviews with some of the survivors, my thoughts went back those 40 years when some of us were fortunate enough to survive the inhumanity and indignities of our captors.

Alred two days before the 41st anniversary of the infamous attack on Pearl Harbor December 7, 1941, NBC's special drew quite an amazing viewing audience and presented an important lesson in the history of warfare.

It was my feeling that the documentary was highly accurate in most respects. For the benefit of young American men and women I would like to stress that no account of the atrocities inflicted upon the persons who surrendered to the Japanese was exaggerated in the slightest degree. They happened.

Just like the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor, the Bataan Death March will live in infamy. For many Americans who are still alive what happened then can't be swept under the carpet of history. It's still in plain view.

Forty years ago, along with my companions, I learned what the word "expendable" meant. In the global conflict that was World War II, troops and bases in the Pacific were expendable in the early years of the war to allow us to concentrate on defeating Hitler and Germany first.

One thing keeps running through my mind and I'd like to bring it into the open. It might prove more helpful than that glimpse into a dark period in my life when I was a prisoner of war for a number of years.

When America found itself against two formidable foes in World War II, the nation pulled itself up by its boot straps. We showed the world what technology and skill could do. We became the arsenal for the free world. A man by the name of Higgins built landing craft in blocked-off streets of New Orleans. Our factories turned out tanks and planes and weapons in an unending stream to suply our troops and those of our allies with everything necessary to win a war. The allied forces won that war.

After the war, like Americans are wont to do, we began putting our enemies on thier economic feet. We helped them build factories and brought them new standards of living they had never known. I'm not suggesting that we should have done otherwise.

What I am saying is this: America can still be the world leader. Those economic body blows that have us on the ropes today are somehow of our own doing and it is time for us to take stock in what we are doing and where we are going.

A country that can put men on the moon and send others into space on returnable shuttles can turn economic affairs around if it wants to.

We've got to rekindle a spirit that burned 40 years ago and show the world we're still a leader.

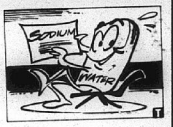
J. B. High to have income tax class

Students at Johnson Bayou High School in Cameron will be among five million youngsters around the nation who will learn how to fill out an income tax return this school year, according to Jack Chivatero, district Director of the Internal Revenue Service.

The vehicle for this tax information is an IRS-sponsored course called Understanding Taxes. The course is offered free to any school interested in participating, he said. During the past year, about 26,000 schools used the course.



Willyhugh Pulver, who ordered the materials this year, estimates that about 50 students will study their responsibilities and rights under the tax law. The main thrust of the course, Mr. chivatero explained, is to teach the students how to fill out a tax return, which form and supporting schedules to use, and when returns must be filed.

Since most students usually have small incomes and will first file the IRS short form 1040-A, a line-by-line explanation is a major part of the course, he said.

The form 1040 and accompanying schedules are also covered, and for schools in rural areas, Mr. Chivatero said the IRS provides a special Farm supplement.

He said the course is designed to run from three to six weeks, and can be taught in classes on economy, social sciences, government, math and business.

IT'S A FACT!

Sodium—a major component of table salt—can be found in drinking water. Amounts of sodium in water vary across the country, but wherever water softeners are used, the sodium content of drinking water is higher.

Many Americans consume two to three times or even more sodium each day than they need to in order to live healthy lives. This excess sodium in the diet is believed to contribute to several diseases, including high blood pressure or hypertension. About 1/4 of your sodium intake comes from the salt you add to food. The experts at the Food Marketing Institute recommend that you check with your doctor to find out if you need to cut down on the sodium in your diet. If so, always check the labels of the foods you eat for the words "salt," "sodium," or "soda." In general, fruits and vegetables contain less sodium than meat, poultry, fish or dairy products. And try different seasonings, such as lemon juice, garlic, basil, bay leaf, paprika or nutmeg. It's a tasty and healthy alternative way to spice up your meals.

Wine: America's New Preference

The popular American drink ...a glass of white wine.

Restaurant owners have seen a remarkable change in American tastes in the last decade. Wine has become the "in" American drink.

In 1980, Americans bought more wine than all other spirits combined. Experts expect the "wine boom" to continue straight through the decade.

Although people have enjoyed wine for centuries... Homer, Pliny and Shakespeare all wrote of the friendliness of wine...custom in recent times has called for cocktails or whiskey before dinner and perhaps a bottle of wine served with the meal.

Now, tastes have turned to "lighter" themes. Along with nouvelle cuisine and its emphasis on dishes that contain less cream and heavy sauces, Americans are more likely to order a glass of wine as an aperitif.

Recognizing these changes, more and more restaurants are making name brand wines available by the glass for their customers. Just as restaurants have stocked well-known whiskeys on their bar to allow for "call brands," now they are displaying well-known wines, such as Blue Nun, in the same manner.

As wine drinking has grown in popularity, so people have developed more discerning tastes. Now, they specify the brand of wine they prefer rather than simply order the "house" wine.

It's a revolution in good taste.

USE OUR NEW blood pressure teller
TO CHECK YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE
High blood pressure is the leading cause of heart attack, stroke and kidney failure. It's called the "silent killer" because the only way to know you have it is to check it — regularly. We make it easy for you — because we want to do everything we can to help you ENJOY your retirement years in prosperity and good health.
free
High blood pressure is NOT a disease of old age — this myth developed because the devastating consequences of the disease — heart attack, stroke, kidney failure — usually occur in older people. That's only because elevated pressure was not detected and controlled when they were younger and "felt great". High blood pressure the "silent killer," rarely gives any symptomatic warnings, but quietly and consistently overtaxes your cardiovascular system, progressively causing damage to many vital organs.
EVEN MILD HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE, UNTREATED, CAN MEAN ACTUAL LOST YEARS OF LIFE . . . for example a man 35 years old with an average pressure of 150 over 100 may reduce his life expectancy by sixteen and one-half years!* Yet high blood pressure can be treated and controlled after consulting with your physician — often with only simple adjustments in lifestyle.
PUT MORE LIFE IN YOUR LIFE by checking with our Blood Pressure Teller regularly.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

"Born in France in the later 1600s, came to Louisiana in early 1700s, married and settled in Avoyelles" was the beginning for many of Louisiana's widely known family names.

Connected by marriage to one another and to almost every other Louisiana family of French or Acadian background, these early Avoyelles families were living on the prairie at least by 1720. The coureurs de bois and Indian traders had been there much earlier.

AVOYELLES FAMILIES

Commentaries on some Avoyelles Families is now in its third edition. The new volume is hardcover, 6 x 9 in., 308 pages, indexed, $21.00 incl. mailing, available from the authors: Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Gremillion, Sr., 4234 Bloomdale Dr., San Antonio, Texas 78218.

William Nelson Gremillion, Sr. was born in Longbridge, La. and his wife, Loucille Edwards whose mother was a Bordelon, was born in Marksville. Their book on ten families of Avoyelles is a combination of history, biography and genealogy with special emphasis on the colonial period up to about 1800. Descendants for some lines are traced into the 1970s for the following major families:

Jean Baptiste RABALAIS dit Matelot, born in France, lived at Pointe Coupee, married Marguerite Bellanger in New Orleans, 1733.

Joseph JOFFRION from Canada whose mother was Catherine Milot dit Laval, married (2nd) at Pointe Coupee in 1752, Marie Jeanne Rabalais, a daughter of the above couple.

Pierre DUCOTE dit Coureur from Flanders married (2nd) in 1749, Marie Magdeleine Cable (Kabel, etc.) from Germany and they lived first at Pointe Coupee.

Dominique Baldony dit COCO from Provence married Elizabeth Rabalais at Pointe Coupee in 1784, both shown as residents of Avoyelles Poste.

Guillaume Gauthier, born at Natchitoches Poste, the son of Rene Gauthier dit LaFleur and Margaret Pelletier, both from Normandy; married in 1742 at Natchitoches, Jean Laurent, whose father was from Brittany and mother from Flanders.

Gabriel Laurent BORDELON, born at Le Havre, was married 1730 in New Orleans to Anne Francoise Roland from Paris. They lived first at Natchez Poste, then in New Orleans, then at Pointe Coupee.

Louis GREMILLION, born in France, married in 1747, within the First German Coast, La., Marie Josephe Robillard from Illinois. Two years later they moved to Pointe Coupee with the first of their 13 children.

Guillaume LEMOINE dit LeNormand, born in Normandy, married in New Orleans, 1725, Marie Sanmerine dit L'Este whose mother was an Edelmier. Their eight children had many Avoyelles descendants.

Jean Gaspard NORMAND dit le Normand dit GASPARD and wife, Marie-Josephe Chenier, moved from Canada to the La. German Coast c1765 where their four sons married into the Peleau, Couvillier, Wichner, and Materne families. Jean Pierre who before 1770 married Marie Marguerite Wichner (Vicner) is listed as both Normand and Gaspard in early records but his descendants as Normand. His brother, Daniel, who before 1773 married Francoise Materne is sometimes shown as Normand but usually as Gaspard, which name his descendants adopted.

Uriah EDWARDS, Jr. and his (2nd) wife, Nancy Lewis, came with their three small sons to Avoyelles in the early 1820s. Born in Virginia of probably Welch ancestry, he came to Louisiana from Kentucky. His sons married into Avoyelles families and had many descendants including the eight sons and three daughters of William Edwards who in 1831 married Francoise Normand, daughter of Pierre Normand and Marguerite Marcotte.

First published in 1976 with a 2nd edition the following year, this 3rd edition of Avoyelles Families represents considerable revision and additional information.

MUSING. . .

By Bernice Stewart Denny

Sitting here, I have been listening to the rain outside and the crackling of burning wood in the fireplace. Perhaps it is that watching the flames and the flying embers has mesmerized me into remembering Christmases of my childhood on the Chenier.

One custom that I had not thought of for a long time was the calling out of "Christmas Gift!" It seems to have originated in the southern states east of the Mississippi. It was brought into Grand Chenier by my great-great-grandparents along with their bag and baggage.

The first person to call out "Christmas Gift" when two met was supposed to receive a gift from the second. I was told that in the antebellum days many individuals carried trinkets around with them to bestow if caught with the greeting of another.

However, in my childhood no gift was given in exchange for the happy greeting. I thought that getting a present would be a lot more fun. The adults never seemed to expect anything. To them it was a fun game.

"Why", one day I asked my mother, "aren't gifts given in exchange for being caught?

"Oh, we all receive plenty of gifts that we can see. The gift that is given is love. Love never wears out, never grows old, is never lost; it lasts forever," she said.

I ran into my grandmother's room, called out "Christmas Gift," closed my eyes and waited to feel her gift of love that I could not see.

A-MUSE-ments Galore at State Museum

Young people will find a-MUSE-ment galore through the fall programs planned at the Louisiana State Museum.

In fact, the top item in the fall schedule is the formation of a new statewide museum group for young people, the Louisiana State Museum Muses. Muses will have special programs and privileges designed especially for their membership category.

Other programs planned by the museum's Education Department include a statewide photography contest for elementary, junior high and high school students; and the museum's annual educational tours and programs, which begin in October.

All museum programs for young people combine education with adventure. The exposure to the history and culture of the state they receive is tempered with hands-on activities, plays, films and dialogue, says Tamra Carboni, the museum's Curator of Education.

Membership in the Muses is $5 annually or free to children of Friends of the Cabildo members. Muses receive free museum admission, discounts on classes, films and performances, first notice of special activities, and special events like "Matinees at the Mint," a series of programs in October, January, April and July, or "Saturdays Are for Young People at LSM," a monthly series.

"Matinees at the Mint" will feature Halloween films, Audubon and Louisiana birds, a jazz concert and films made in New Orleans featuring Laurel and Hardy and Abbott and Costello.

"Saturdays Are for Young People at LSM" includes nine programs designed to expose young people to the museum's resources and to the social and cultural history of Louisiana. Although the description might sound textbookish, the programs are far from dull. Each program features historical background, which may be a tour of a museum facility or a special speaker or performer. The second part of each program is activity-oriented, with a hands-on project designed in keeping with the day's theme.

Enrollment in the Saturday series is limited. A participant may sign up for three of the nine programs for $20. Programs and the months in which they will be presented include: Oktoberfest, October; Vieux Carre' Discovery Tour, November; Victorian Christmas Party, December; Playthings of the Past, January; Mardi Gras Indians, February; St. Joseph's Day, March; Jazz Festival, April; Louisiana Folk Art, May; and Louisiana First Families, June. The Saturday programs and matinees are sponsored by the museum and Friends of the Cabildo.

The student photography contest and exhibition is being held in conjunction with "Louisiana Focus," a showing of photographs from the museum's collection. To enter the contest, students simply explore their neighborhoods and photograph something that makes their home "a special place."

Photographs must be taken within a five-block or one-mile radius of home. They must be at least three-by-five inches and no larger than 11-by-14 inches. Photographs are limited to one per student and must be postmarked by Nov. 5.

Students should enclose a short statement explaining why they chose their subject. Three prizes will be awarded in each category - elementary, junior high and high school. Winning photographs will be displayed at the Louisiana State Museum along with the "Louisiana Focus" exhibition.

Photographs will not be returned, and winning photographs become a part of the permanent collection of the Louisiana State Museum.

The museum, along with Friends of the Cabildo, annually offers three types of programs for school-age children: general tours, comparative house tours, and Mississippi Montage, Louisiana's First Families and Young Explorers programs.

General tours, recommended for grades four through 12, are offered of the Cabildo, Presbytere, U.S. Mint, Arsenal and Jackson House.

Comparative house tours are designed so students can compare their lives to life during a period in Louisiana's history. These tours, recommended for grades four through 12, are offered at Madame John's Legacy and the 1850 House.

Special programs include Mississippi Montage, Louisiana's First Families and Young Explorers. The Mississippi River's impact on our lives is the topic of Mississippi Montage for seventh and eighth-graders. Students learn about the vessels, settlements, agriculture, trade, industry and leisure that comprise the history and life of the people who have lived on the river's banks.

Louisiana's First Families provides an opportunity for fourth through sixth-graders and scout troops to become familiar with the history and culture of the state's Indians. The Indians' progress is traced from their arrival in Louisiana through the handling of artifacts and related activities.

Young Explorers in grades two and three are introduced to Louisiana's past, tracing history through the flags that have flown over the state since the Colonial period. Students participate by assuming the roles of those who explored and developed Louisiana.

For information about Louisiana State Museum programs for young people, contact Tamra Carboni, Curator of Education, Louisiana State Museum, Post Office Box 2458, New Orleans, LA 70116-3290. Phone (504) 568-6994.

Cold Weather Tire Tips

Cold weather means loss of air pressure in tires. That can lead to increased wear and decreased handling ability. Every time the outside temperature drops ten degrees Fahrenheit, the air pressure in your tires decreases about one pound per square inch. If you have radial tires, tire pressure should be checked frequently with an accurate air gauge. Add the air necessary to keep your tires at recommended levels of inflation for maximum safety and wear.

Readying Your Home For the HOLIDAYS

While the fast approaching holidays usher in a time for happy reunions, they also involve extra work in getting households in shape.

To help you minimize the workload in preparing the "holiday home" and maximize results in your schedule, here are some tips from 3M house cleaning experts:

- Don't do everything at once. Stagger chores to keep from overtiring yourself. Drapes, one day, woodwork the next, silver polishing the next, and so on.
- Prepare special dishes and desserts beforehand, then freeze them.
- Select table linens for the feast. Then spray them with Scotchgard Fabric Protector to help prevent stains from spilled food or drink.
- Save yourself last-minute rushing around by preparing dried flower, holly or pine decorations early.
- Be prepared for tracked-in mud or snow and the inevitable spilled drinks—and canapes that land upside-down on the floor. Now is the time to protect your rugs and carpets from soil and stains by shampooing them with Scotchgard Carpet Cleaner + Protector, with a special patented protector ingredient that helps them stay clean longer..
- Once all your preparations are done, you can look ahead with pleasure to the holidays. You've earned the right to relax and enjoy the festivities. Cheers!

Proper air pressure even in cold weather is vital for long wear and safe use of your auto tires.

"Glory to the Newborn King"

The trumpets sounded, bells were rung and everyone came from near and far to admire our Lord. Three wise men brought magnificent gifts of gold, myrrh and frankincense for Him. Let's rejoice together in the memory of that first and most holy Christmas!
We appreciate the friendship you've shown us throughout the year.

8th and 9th grade teams lose games

The South Cameron High 8th grade basketball program has gotten off to a slow start but shows promise for the future. The team has played two games this year and lost both of them.

The team, coached by Henry Griffin, lost to Bell City 37-21 and Grand Lake 47-20.

The 9th grade basketball team also got off to a slow start with losses in their first two games. However, they have started to make a comeback with a win over Johnson Bayou 36-28.

Eric Benoit was the leading offensive weapon with 16 points. They also won their next game defeating Hackberry 41-38. Eric Benoit was the leading scorer with 16 points and Johnny Reina tossed in 12.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION OFFICE OF MINERAL RESOURCES ON BEHALF OF THE STATE MINERAL BOARD FOR THE STATE OF LOUISIANA BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA 70821

By virtue of and in conformity with the provisions of Sub-part A of Chapter 2, Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, and other applicable laws, sealed bids will be received in the Office of Mineral Resources, State Land and Natural Resources Building, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, (P.O. Drawer 2827, Baton Rouge, LA 70821) on or before the 12th day of January, 1983, at 9:00 a.m., for a lease to explore, drill for and produce oil, gas and any other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas on the following described tracts (Tract Nos. 19383 through 19387) at which time and date the bids will be opened publicly in the State Land and Natural Resources Building, at Capitol Complex, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

TRACT 19383 -- BLOCK 14, WEST CAMERON AREA, REVISED, Cameron Parish, Louisiana -- Block 14, West Cameron Area, Revised, Cameron Parish, Louisiana, belonging to the State of Louisiana and not under mineral lease on October 21, 1982, described as follows: Beginning at the Southeast corner of Block 14, West Cameron Area, Revised, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,243,877.23 and Y = 393,790.24; thence West 14,738.05 feet along the South line of said Block 14 to its Southwest corner; thence North 797.15 feet along the West line of said Block 14 to its Northwest corner, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,229,113.18 and Y = 394,587.39; thence Northeasterly in a straight line to the point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,233,756 and Y = 395,989; thence Northeasterly in a straight line to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,235,668 and Y = 396,741; thence Northeasterly in a straight line to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,240,260 and Y = 397,540; thence Northeasterly in a straight line to a point having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,242,670 and Y = 396,400; thence Northeasterly in a straight line to the Northeast corner of said Block 14, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,243,877.23 and Y = 398,438.76; thence South 4,648.52 feet along the East line of said Block 14 to the point of beginning; LESS AND EXCEPT that portion, if any, of State Lease No. 5556, as amended, that may be lying within the above described tract, estimated to contain approximately 1,014.35 acres, as shown outlined in red on a plat on file in the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources. All bearings are based on Louisiana Lambert Plane Coordinate System (South Zone).

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (½) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease and one-half (½) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed five years, and if the bid offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, nor for return by lessor of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. The MINIMUM ROYALTIES required by R.S. 30:127, as amended, are one-eighth (1/8th) of all oil produced and saved or utilized, one-eighth (1/8th) of all gas produced and saved or utilized, and one-eighth (1/8th) of all other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas and saved or utilized, which are not specifically mentioned herein. Free sulphur, potash, lignite, salt and other solid minerals are to be excluded and any bid thereon will be disregarded to such extent. A bid of a royalty less than the aforesaid statutory minimums will be increased to said statutory minimums by the Board. All bidders are notified that the Board does not obligate itself to accept a bid which offers the aforesaid statutory minimums, but reserves the right to accept a bid which offers in excess of the statutory minimums and is considered most advantageous to the State of Louisiana.

The provisions of this notice or advertisement and the relevant statutes establish the material considerations necessary for the formulation of proper bids, and this notice or advertisement shall not be deemed to be modified, enlarged or diminished by resolutions or policy expressions of the Board not incorporated herein expressly or by reference.

Notice is given that the State Mineral Board will include in the lease provisions to insure applicable payments attributable to the leased property without regard to adverse title claims, disputes, litigation or title failure. The exact language therein contained is available to any interested bidders at the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources or the Office of Mineral Resources prior to the opening of bids on the tract, and prospective bidders should carefully examine the same prior to submitting any bid thereafter.

Some tracts available for leasing may be situated in the Louisiana Coastal Zone as defined in Act 361 of 1978 (LSA-R.S. 49:213). Such tracts may be subject to the guidelines and regulations promulgated by the Coastal Management Section of the Department of Natural Resources.

All leases awarded shall be executed upon terms and conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a delay rental (which shall in no event be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of five years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the State's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the State Mineral Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board.

Certified check, cashier's check or bank money order payable to the Office of Mineral Resources for the full amount of the aforesaid cash payment, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid, and no bid thus submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled. The certified check, cashier's check or bank money order of the successful bidder shall be immediately negotiated by the Office of Mineral Resources, and the proceeds thereof disbursed in the manner required by law. The successful bidder to whom the lease is awarded on the date of the lease sale shall furnish a written lease, duly executed, within TWENTY (20) DAYS after bidder's receipt of same under penalty of forfeiture of the lease and the aforesaid cash payment previously tendered and negotiated in the event of failure to do so.

NOTE: In the case of all State Agency Lands, herein offered, certified checks, cashier's checks or bank money orders for the cash payment shall be made payable to each respective State Agency; provided that if a sixteenth section, or part thereof, located in a township which is situated in more than one parish, is offered, a certified check, cashier's check or bank money order for the full amount of the cash payment shall be made payable to STATE TREASURER. Any Amendment, Assignment or Agreement entered into after the State Mineral Board has awarded such lease must be approved by the Lessor Agency or Agency.

Bids may be for the whole or any particular part of the tracts herein advertised, but consistently with the policy of the Board as expressed in a resolution dated August 12, 1965, all bidders are hereby notified that bids on portions of tracts should be described by metes and bounds and be accompanied by a transparent plat outlining thereon the portion bid upon. The scale of the plat should be 1 inch = 4,000 feet.

The State Mineral Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to grant a lease on any portion of the tract advertised and to withdraw the remainder of the tract.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION OFFICE OF MINERAL RESOURCES ON BEHALF OF THE STATE MINERAL BOARD FOR THE STATE OF LOUISIANA BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA 70821

By virtue of and in conformity with the provisions of Sub-part A of Chapter 2, Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, and other applicable laws, sealed bids will be received in the Office of Mineral Resources, State Land and Natural Resources Building, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, (P.O. Drawer 2827, Baton Rouge, LA 70821) on or before the 12th day of January, 1983, at 9:00 a.m., for a lease to explore, drill for and produce oil, gas and any other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas on the following described tracts (Tract Nos. 19429 through 19438) at which time and date the bids will be opened publicly in the State Land and Natural Resources Building, at Capitol Complex, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

TRACT 19429 -- Cameron Parish, Louisiana -- All State owned lands including high and marsh lands and land now or formerly constituting the beds and bottoms of all rivers, creeks, streams, bayous, lagoons, lakes, bays, coves, sounds, inlets and other water bodies, and also all islands and all other lands owned by the State of Louisiana, and not under mineral lease on October 21, 1982, situated in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, within the following described boundaries: Beginning at the Southwest corner of Section 19, Township 15 South, Range 4 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana, said point being on the Western boundary of the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge and Game Preserve, having Lambert Plane Coordinates of X = 1,524,403.02 and Y = 485,824.50; thence North along the Western boundary of said Refuge to its Northwest corner; thence Southeasterly along the Northern boundary of said Refuge to its intersection with the West line of State Lease No. 10183 having Lambert Plane Coordinate of X = 1,527,021.89; thence South approximately 1,000 feet along the West line of said State Lease No. 10183 to a point on the South line of said Section 19; thence Westerly along the South line of said Section 19 to the point of beginning, estimated to contain approximately 580 acres, as shown outlined in red on a plat on file in the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources. All bearings are based on Louisiana Lambert Plane Coordinate System (South Zone).

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (½) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease and one-half (½) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed five years, and if the bid offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, nor for return by lessor of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. The MINIMUM ROYALTIES required by R.S. 30:127, as amended, are one-eighth (1/8th) of all oil produced and saved or utilized, one-eighth (1/8th) of all gas produced and saved or utilized, and one-eighth (1/8th) of all other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas and saved or utilized, which are not specifically mentioned herein. Free sulphur, potash, lignite, salt and other solid minerals are to be excluded and any bid thereon will be disregarded to such extent. A bid of a royalty less than the aforesaid statutory minimums will be increased to said statutory minimums by the Board. All bidders are notified that the Board does not obligate itself to accept a bid which offers the aforesaid statutory minimums, but reserves the right to accept a bid which offers in excess of the statutory minimums and is considered most advantageous to the State of Louisiana.

The provisions of this notice or advertisement and the relevant statutes establish the material considerations necessary for the formulation of proper bids, and this notice or advertisement shall not be deemed to be modified, enlarged or diminished by resolutions or policy expressions of the Board not incorporated herein expressly or by reference.

Particular attention is directed to the fact that, in addition to the aforesaid stipulation against warranty, the State Mineral Board also includes a special provision in the lease permitting lessee to reduce royalties provided in the lease to lesser as production of oil and gas by one-half (½), but not more than the highest minimum of one-eighth (1/8th), in the event of secondary and tertiary and definitive adjudication or other settlement of a boundary dispute or litigation involving lessor's ownership or title, all upon the terms and conditions therein stated. A full copy of Paragraph 18 including said stipulation is on file in the office of the State Mineral Board, Fourth Floor, at the above address, and available for public inspection by anyone desiring to examine same.

Some tracts available for leasing may be situated in the Louisiana Coastal Zone as defined in Act 361 of 1978 (LSA-R.S. 49:213). Such tracts may be subject to the guidelines and regulations promulgated by the Coastal Management Section of the Department of Natural Resources.

Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the State's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the State Mineral Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board.

Certified check, cashier's check or bank money order payable to the Office of Mineral Resources for the full amount of the aforesaid cash payment, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid, and no bid thus submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled. The certified check, cashier's check or bank money order accompanying the bid of the successful bidder shall be immediately negotiated by the Office of Mineral Resources, and the proceeds thereof disbursed in the manner required by law. The successful bidder to whom the lease is awarded on the date of the lease sale shall furnish a written lease, duly executed, within TWENTY (20) DAYS after bidder's receipt of same under penalty of forfeiture of the lease and the aforesaid cash payment previously tendered and negotiated in the event of failure to do so.

NOTE: In the case of all State Agency Lands, herein offered, certified checks, cashier's checks or bank money orders for the cash payment shall be made payable to each respective State Agency; provided that if a sixteenth section, or part thereof, located in a township which is situated in more than one parish, is offered, a certified check, cashier's check or bank money order for the full amount of the cash payment shall be made payable to STATE TREASURER. All operations under leases granted hereunder shall be conducted in accordance with Rules and Regulations promulgated and approved by the State Mineral Board and Wild Life and Fisheries Commission, including but not limited to that restriction regarding drilling operations on the leased premises for drilling and production purposes to be done by road or sweeping of existing waterways. Whether or not determined by the State Mineral Board and the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission that dredging of slips or turning basins is necessary, this will be allowed only in strict compliance with the specifications set forth by the State Mineral Board and the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries Commission. The Commission will be permitted to use the roads and waterways at all reasonable times. The rules and regulations are on file in the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources or the Office of Mineral Resources (State Mineral Board) and copies may be obtained upon request. Such rules and regulations shall be considered a part of the lease whether attached thereto or not.

All revenues received from the granting of said lease or leases shall be used by the State of Louisiana strictly in the manner provided for in the Act of Donation from Rockefeller Foundation referred to above.

Some tracts available for leasing may be situated in the Louisiana Coastal Zone as defined in Act 361 of 1978 (LSA-R.S. 49:213). Such tracts may be subject to the guidelines and regulations promulgated by the Coastal Management Section of the Department of Natural Resources.

Certified check, cashier's check or bank money order payable to the Office of Mineral Resources for the full amount of the aforesaid cash payment, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid, and no bid thus submitted may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled. The certified check, cashier's check or bank money order accompanying the bid of the successful bidder shall be immediately negotiated by the Office of Mineral Resources, and the proceeds thereof disbursed in the manner required by law. The successful bidder to whom the lease is awarded on the date of the lease sale shall furnish a written lease, duly executed, within TWENTY (20) DAYS after bidder's receipt of same under penalty of forfeiture of the lease and the aforesaid cash payment previously tendered and negotiated in the event of failure to do so.

Bids may be for the whole or any particular described portion of the tracts herein advertised, but consistently with the policy of the Board as expressed in a resolution dated August 12, 1965, all bidders are hereby notified that bids on portions of tracts should be described by metes and bounds and be accompanied by a transparent plat outlining thereon the portion bid upon. It was moved by Mr. Ducote, seconded by Mr. Conner and carried, that the floor is now open for comments regarding the proposed uses of funds including federal revenue sharing in the up coming budget for fiscal year 1983. There were no comments.

It was moved by Mr. Ducote, seconded by Mr. Nunez and carried, that the Hearing for the Actual 1983 Fiscal Year Budget be held on December 7, 1982, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. at the Police Jury Building in Cameron.

The following Agreement was offered by Mr. Nunez, seconded by Mr. Conner and declared duly adopted:

AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of the 19th day of November in the year Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-two (1982) by and between FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT NO. 9 OF CAMERON PARISH, LOUISIANA, hereinafter called the Owner, and Lonnie G. Harper & Associates, Inc., hereinafter called the Engineer.

WITNESSETH, that whereas the Owner intends to Construct the Grand Chenier, Little Chenier, Chenier Perdue and Oak Grove Water Systems for FIRE PROTECTION DISTRICT NO. 9, CAMERON PARISH, LOUISIANA. HEREINAFTER SET FORTH AGREE AS FOLLOWS:

I. The Engineer shall furnish professional services for the above Project as hereinafter set forth.

II. The Owner agrees to pay the Engineer as compensation for his services as follows:

1) For his basic services eight percent (8%) of the Project Construction cost, hereinafter referred to as the Basic Rate for making all preliminary feasibility surveys, cost estimates, preparing Engineering plans, specifications and making inspection of construction and preparing estimates for work completed, for the work to be let under contract.

(AND)

2) For his service, one (1%) percent of the Project Construction cost, hereinafter referred to as the rate for layout of work, supervision of construction and preparation of partial and final estimates. While the engineering supervision shall endeavor to protect the Owner against defects and deficiencies in the work of the Contractor, the Engineer does not guarantee the Contractor's performace. The Engineering Inspection shall include a full time "Resident Inspector".

(OR)

3) For his services nine (9%) percent of the Project Construction cost referred to as the rate for making all preliminary surveys, cost estimates, preparing Engineering plans and specifications, layout and supervision of construction work and preparation of partial and final estimates.

After the Plans and Specifications are prepared and same have been approved by the Owner, the proper approving and regulatory agencies, the ENGINEER shall assist the OWNER in advertising for construction bids for the Project.

The ENGINEER will attend the bid opening and tabulate the bid proposals, make an analysis of the bids, and make recommendations on the award of construction contracts.

Assist the OWNER in the preparation of formal contract documents for the award of contracts and secure approval of contracts from the Federal and State Agencies.

The ENGINEER shall provide engineering inspection of construction to check the Contractor's work for general compliance with the drawings and specifications and shall endeavor to protect the OWNER against defects and deficiencies in the work of the Contractor, but he does not guarantee the Contractor's performance. The ENGINEER'S general inspection shall include furnishing a full-time resident inspector.

4) Special services that will be required by the Engineer acting in behalf of the Owner are as follows:

a) Soils investigations-including test borings, related analysis, and recommendations. Copies of reports shall be furnished to the Fire Protection District #9 Board.

b) Detailed mill, ship and/or laboratory inspection of materials and equipment. Copies of the reports shall be furnished to the Fire Protection District #9 Board.

These special services shall be paid for by the owner.

5) Special services that will be performed by the Engineer for which the Owner shall pay actual cost are as follows:

a) Land Surveys, establishment of boundaries and monuments, and right-of-way computations and drafting.

b)Field surveys and plats for land acquisition.

c) Detailed Environmental Assessment Report of the area affected by the Project.

d) Supervising the replacement of all or such parts of the Project as may be damaged by fire or other cause during construction; assisting the OWNER in arranging for continuation of the work should the Contractor default for any reason; and providing inspection of construction over an extended period should the construction contract time be exceeded by more than 25% not occasioned by the ENGINEER.

e) Assistance to the Owner as expert witness in litigation, rising from the development of construction of the Project and in hearings before various approving and regulatory agencies.

6) The Owner shall pay the cost of preparation of plans and specifications, construction and construction supervision. Payments will be made as follows:

a) To the Contractor as progress and/or final estimates as payments become due under this contract, and shall be based on and evidenced by the certified copies of such estimates prepared by the Engineer for the Owner.

b) To the Engineer fees totaling nine (9%) percent of the final construction contract cost. Payments to the Engineer will be made as follows:

When the construction contract plans and specifications for the Project have been completed and approved by the Owner, a sum equal to five percent (5%) of a reasonable estimate of the contract cost of the Project, said sum to be based upon the estimate prepared by the Engineer and approved by the Owner.

When the work of construction inspection and the Project has been completed, a sum equal to four percent (4%) of the actual contract cost of the Project, exclusive of property damage, rights of way costs, and costs of engineering provided however, that at the request of the Engineer partial payments as hereinafter provided may be made to the Engineer for inspection services as the contractor is paid for construction and provided further, that upon completion of all work, the total fee paid to the Engineer for preparation of plans and specifications and engineering inspection shall total nine percent (9%) of the actual cost of the work, exclusive of property damage, rights of way cost and cost of engineering.

Should partial payments be requested by the Engineer for engineering inspection, then monthly after construction work has started and as construction progresses, the Engineer shall submit a statement and the Owner shall make payment to the Engineer an amount not to exceed three and one-half percent (3½ %) of the value of construction completed during the preceding month.

Upon completion of all work to be performed by the Engineer, final payment shall be adjusted to make the total fee paid to the Engineer equal to nine percent (9%) of the total actual construction contract work as hereinbefore provided.

IV Termination of Agreement:

This agreement may be terminated by either party upon seven days written notice should the other party fail substantially to perform in accordance with its terms through no fault of the other. In the event termination due to the fault of others than the Engineer, the Engineer shall be paid for the services performed to termination date, including reimbursements then due, plus any terminal expense.

V. Ownership of Documents:

Drawings and specifications as instruments of services are the property of the Cameroon Parish Police Jury whether the Project for which they are made be executed or not. They are not to be used on other projects except by agreement in writing.

VI. Successors and Assigns:

The Owner and the Engineer each binds himself, his partners, successors, assigns and legal representatives to the other party to this Agreement and to the partners, successors, assigns and legal representatives of such other party in respect of all covenants of this Agreement. Neither the Owner nor the Engineer shall assign, sublet, or transfer his interest in this Agreement without the written consent of the other.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused these present to be executed by their respective officers thereunto duly authorized as of the day and year first above written.

The above Agreement having been brought to a vote, the vote thereon resulted as follows:

On a motion by Michael Styron and seconded by Ladd Wainwright and carried that the following Resolution be adopted:

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF TWO MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($2,700,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA FOR THE PURPOSE OF PROVIDING FUNDS TO PURCHASE, ACQUIRE AND DEVELOP LANDS, AND TO PURCHASE, ACQUIRE, CONSTRUCT AND INSTALL BUILDINGS, MACHINERY, EQUIPMENT AND OTHER FACILITIES FOR A RECREATIONAL PARK NECESSARY TO PROVIDE PROPER RECREATION SERVICE IN SAID DISTRICT; PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT OF SAID BONDS; FIXING THE FORM AND DETAILS OF SAID BONDS; AND PROVIDING FOR THE SALE OF SAID BONDS.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted by the Board of Commissioners (hereinafter called the "Board") of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, (hereinafter called the "District") on June 11, 1982, a special election in the District was held on September 11, 1982 on the question of the issuance of general obligation bonds of the District in an amount not to exceed two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machiner, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the qualified electors of the District voting on the above and foregoing special election voted in favor of such question to incur debt and issue such bonds of the District; and

WHEREAS, the Board has investigated the proceedings heretofore taken authorizing the issuance of said bonds and has found and does hereby determine that the same are regular and have been taken in all respects in due conformity with law; and

WHEREAS, Section 39:569 Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, makes it the duty of the Board to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due on general obligation bonds of the District for each year.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA:

SECTION 1. There are hereby authorized to be issued and sold bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana in the aggregate principal amount of two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District. Said bonds shall be designated "Park Bonds, Series 1982" (hereinafter called the "Bonds"). The Bonds shall be dated December 1, 1982, shall be in the denominations of $5,000, shall be numbered from 1 to 540, both inclusive, in order of maturity, shall be in coupon form payable to bearer and shall bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding fourteen per centum (14%) per annum, as shall be determined upon the sale of the Bonds, payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year, until the final payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon, but only upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons for such interest as they severally become due. Both principal of and interest on the Bonds shall be payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which, on the dates of payment thereof, shall be legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Bonds shall become due and payable serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1984	$10,000
1985	150,000
1986	165,000
1987	185,000

1989	235,000
1990	260,000
1991	290,000
1992	330,000
1993	375,000
1994	410,000
1995	10,000
1996	10,000
1997	10,000
1998	10,000
1999	10,000
2000	10,000
2001	10,000
2002	10,000

The Bonds maturing on and after January 1, 1995, shall be redeemable by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after January 1, 1994, in whole or in part (and if in part, the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event the Bonds shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If the Bonds shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount of the Bonds to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then the Bonds so called for redemption shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

SECTION 3. The Bonds shall be executed in the name of the District by the President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Board by their manual or facsimile signatures, provided that at least one such signature shall be a manual signature, and the corporate seal of the District shall be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted thereon. The coupons to be attached to the Bonds shall be authenticated by the facsimile signatures of the said President and Secretary-Treasurer. The principal and coupons pertaining thereto bearing the signatures of officers in office at the date of the signing thereof shall, upon delivery thereof and payment therefor, be valid and binding obligations of the District, notwithstanding that before delivery thereof and payment therefor any or all of the persons whose signatures appear thereon shall have ceased to be such officers.

SECTION 4. The Bonds, the coupons pertaining thereto, and the execution of the Secretary of State of the State of Louisiana to appear thereon, shall be in substantially the following respective forms, to wit:

PARK BOND, SERIES 1982
OF
RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX
OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON,
STATE OF LOUISIANA

No. $5,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS that Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), a subdivision of the State of Louisiana, acknowledges itself indebted and for value received hereby promises to pay to the bearer hereof the principal sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) on the first day of January, ———— (Subject to the right of prior redemption hereinafter mentioned), upon presentation and surrender of this bond, and to pay interest on said principal sum, from the date hereof until said principal sum is paid in full, at the rate of ———— per centum (————%) per annum, payable on the first day of January, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on the first day of July and the first day of January in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the interest coupons therefor attached hereto as the same severally become due. Both principal of and interest on this bond are payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which at the time of payment is legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

This bond is one of a duly authorized issue of bonds of like date and tenor, herewith, except as to number, denomination, interest rate and maturity, issued by the District under and in strict compliance with the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana, approved by a majority of the qualified electors of the District voting on the question of the issuance of said bonds at an election held in the District on September 11, 1982, and issued in accordance with proceedings of the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, duly adopted, for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District.

The bonds maturing on and after January 1, 1995, may be called for redemption by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after January 1, 1994, in whole or in part, at any time, upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event this bond shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If this bond shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount hereof to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then this bond shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

The full faith and credit of the District are irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due. The District has made or will make provisions for the collection of an annual tax, in excess of all other taxes, on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that this bond is authorized by and is issued in conformity with the requirements of the Constitution and statute of the State of Louisiana; that all acts, conditions and things required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana to exist, happen and be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one do exist, have happened and have been performed in regular and due time, form and manner as required by law; and that this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one, together with all other indebtedness of the District, do not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation on indebtedness applicable to the District.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Board of Commissioners of the District, has caused this bond to be executed in its name by the President and Secretary-Treasurer of said Board, by their manual or facsimile signatures (provided that at least one such signatures hereon shall be a manual signature), the seal of the said District to be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted hereon, the coupons pertaining to this bond to be executed by the facsimile signatures of said President and Secretary-Treasurer, and this bond to be dated the first day of December, 1982.

Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in sealed envelope marked "Bid for $2,700,000 Park Bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate of interest which the bonds of each maturity will bear, which is expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%). Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any rate named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same single rate from their date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fourteen per centum (14%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one-half percent (2-1/2%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and no provision for additional or supplemental coupons will be made. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check, drawn upon a bank or trust company payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of fifty-four thousand dollars ($54,000). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such Board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed bids, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid."

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall be contained in or affix any contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on ——— ——, 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving opinion of Wood & Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of offering circular regarding the Park Bonds, Series 1982, of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, and copies of the official bid form are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Financial Service, Inc., 635 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information respecting the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

Secretary-Treasurer of the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana.

SECTION 8. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the Bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any Bond nor any incorrect printing error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular Bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the Bonds, by reason of the inclusion or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any incorrect printing or omission with respect thereto or any such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such number, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid for by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the Bonds will be paid by the District.

SECTION 9. The proceeds derived from the sale of the Bonds shall be applied to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide adequate recreational service in said District. The District covenants to and with the purchasers of the Bonds, and with the holders thereof from time to time, that the District shall limit the use of the proceeds of the sale of the Bonds or any investment income therefrom which would cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" under Section 103 (c) of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the District shall comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations adopted under such Section 103 (c) so long as any Bond is outstanding.

SECTION 10. This resolution shall take effect immediately upon its adoption, and all prior resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with this resolution be and are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

The following Resolution was offered by Mr. Conner, seconded by Mr. Theriot and declared duly adopted:

RESOLUTION

A RESOLUTION CALLING A SPECIAL ELECTION IN WATERWORKS DISTRICT NUMBER NINE OF CAMERON PARISH, LOUISIANA, FOR THE PURPOSE OF SUBMITTING TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID DISTRICT (I) A PROPOSITION TO INCUR DEBT AND ISSUE BONDS OF SAID DISTRICT IN THE AGGREGATE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT NOT TO EXCEED ONE MILLION NINE HUNDRED FIFTY THOUSAND DOLLARS ($1,950,000) FOR THE PURPOSE OF PROVIDING FUNDS TO CONSTRUCT AND MAINTAIN WATERWORKS SYSTEMS OF SAID DISTRICT, TITLE TO WHICH SHALL BE IN THE PUBLIC, AND (II) A PROPOSITION TO LEVY A SPECIAL TAX ON ALL TAXABLE PROPERTY IN SAID DISTRICT FOR THE PURPOSE OF MAINTAINING AND OPERATING SAID WATERWORKS; PROVIDING FOR NOTICE OF SAID ELECTION; AND OTHERWISE PROVIDING WITH RESPECT TO SAID ELECTION.

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of Commissioners (the "Board") of Waterworks District No. Nine of Cameron Parish, Louisiana (the "District"), that:

SECTION 1. Subject to the approval of the State Bond Commission, a special election shall be held in the district, and the same is hereby called for January 15, 1983, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of the District two propositions as to (i) whether the District shall incur debt and issue bonds in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed one million nine hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,950,000), to run twenty (20) years from the date thereof, and bearing interest at rates not to exceed seventeen per centum (17%) per annum, for the purpose of providing funds to construct and maintain waterworks systems in the District, title to which shall be in the public, which bonds shall be general obligations of the District and shall be payable from the proceeds of ad valorem taxes levied and collected on all the taxable property in said District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest and redemption premiums, if any, on said bonds as they mature, as authorized by Article 6, Section 33, of the Louisiana Constitution of 1974, and (ii) whether the district shall levy a special tax (5) mill special tax on all taxable property in the District for the period of ten (10) years, commencing in the year in which such waterworks systems are put in operation, for the purpose of maintaining and operating the waterworks systems in the District.

SECTION 2. The Board shall meet at its office at Grand Chenier Recreation Center in Grand Chenier, Louisiana on January 17, 1983, at six o'clock P.M., and shall, in open public session, proceed to examine and canvass the returns and declare the result of said election.

SECTION 3. The Secretary of the Board is hereby directed to give notice of said election in the form and manner provided by law, said notice to state that the election is to be held on the date hereinbefore mentioned and at the polling places hereinafter named, for the purpose of submitting to the vote of the qualified electors of the District the proposition hereinafter mentioned, which notice shall also state that the Board will meet on the date and at the time and place as set forth in Section 2 hereof, in open public session, to examine and canvass the returns and declare the result.

SECTION 4. In the event no election for any p... held in the District at the same time as the election called by Section 1 hereof, the following provisions shall apply:

A. The polling places, commissioner-in-charge, three (3) commissioners of election, and three (3) alternate commissioners of election for each precinct, all of whom meet the qualifications set forth in Part II of Chapter 5 of Title 33 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes, for said election shall be as follows:

The compensation of a certified commissioner at said election shall be fifty dollars ($50.00) and the compensation of the commissioner-in-charge appointed pursuant to L.R.S. 46:424 shall be one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125.00).

C. The polls for said election shall be opened on the day of such election at the hour of 6:00 o'clock A.M., and shall be kept open until and not later than 8:00 o'clock P.M., but all qualified persons who were in line to vote at 8:00 o'clock P.M. shall be permitted to vote.

D. The Board shall, and the officers thereof are hereby directed to, provide for supplying voting machines and furnishing complied statements of qualified voters, official absentee ballots, tally sheets, and other necessary election supplies, issue any proclamations and notices concerning said election as may be necessary, and otherwise do whatever is necessary to cause said election to be held, the votes compiled and results promulgated as provided by law, including Chapter 6-A of Title 18 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes.

SECTION 5. In the event the election called by Section 1 hereof is held at the same time as an election in the District for any public official, the Board shall, and the officers thereof are hereby directed to, issue any proclamations and notices concerning said election as may be necessary and otherwise do whatever is necessary to cause said election to be held, the votes compiled and the results promulgated as provided by law, including Chapter 6-A of Title 18 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes.

SECTION 6. The propositions on the ballot to be used in said election shall be in substantially the following forms:

PROPOSITION NO. 1

Shall Waterworks District No. Nine of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, incur debt and issue bonds in an aggregate principal amount not to exceed one million nine hundred fifty thousand dollars ($1,950,000) to run twenty (20) years, and bearing interest at rates not to exceed seventeen per centum (17%) per annum, for the purpose of providing funds to construct and maintain waterworks systems in said District, title to which shall be in the public, which bonds shall be general obligations of said District and shall be payable from the proceeds of ad valorem taxes levied and collected on all taxable property in said District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest and redemption premiums, if any, on said bonds as they mature, as authorized by Article 6, Section 33, of the Louisiana Constitution of 1974?

PROPOSITION NO. 2

Shall Waterworks District No. Nine of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, levy a five (5) mill special tax on all the taxable property in said District for the period of ten (10) years, commencing in the year in which such waterworks systems are put in operation, for the purpose of maintaining and operating the waterworks systems in said District?

FURTHER NOTICE is hereby given that the Board of Commissioners, the governing authority of said District, will meet in open public session on Monday, January 17, 1983, at 6:00 o'clock P.M., at its office at the Grand Chenier Recreation Center in Grand Chenier, Louisiana, and will then and there examine and canvass the returns and declare the result of said election.

By order of the Board of Commissioners of Waterworks District No. Nine of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana.
Adopted and approved this 17th day of November, 1982.

The following Agreement was offered by Mr. Rutherford, seconded by Mr. Theriot and declared duly adopted:

AGREEMENT

THIS AGREEMENT made as of the seventeenth day of November in the year Nineteen Hundred and Eighty-two (1982) by and between WATER WORKS DISTRICT NO. 9 OF CAMERON PARISH, LOUISIANA, hereinafter called the Owner, and Lonnie G. Harper & Associates, Inc., hereinafter called the Engineer.

WITNESSETH, that whereas the Owner intends to Construct the Grand Chenier, Little Chenier, Chenier Perdue and Oak Grove Water and Fire Protection System for WATER WORKS DISTRICT NO. 9, CAMERON PARISH, LOUISIANA, hereinafter called the Project.

NOW, THEREFORE, the Owner and the Engineer for the considerations hereinafter set forth agree as follows:

I. The Engineer agrees to perform professional services for the Project as hereinafter set forth.

II The Owner agrees to pay the Engineer as compensation for his services:

1) For his basic services eight percent (8%) of the Project Construction cost, hereinafter referred to as the Basic Rate for making all preliminary feasibility surveys, cost estimates, preparing Engineering plans, specifications, engineering inspection of construction and preparing estimates for work completed, for the work to be let under contract.

(AND)

2. For his service, one (1%) percent of the Project Construction cost, hereinafter referred to as the rate for layout of work, supervision of construction and preparation of partial and final estimates. While the engineering supervision shall endeavor to protect the Owner against faulty work, and deficiencies in the work of the Contractor, the Engineer does not guarantee the Contractor's performance. The Engineering inspection shall include a full time "Resident Inspector".

(OR)

3) For his services nine (9%) percent of the Project Construction cost referred to as the Basic Rate for all preliminary surveys, cost estimates, preparing Engineering plans and specifications, layout and supervision of construction work and preparation of partial and final estimates.

After the Plans and Specifications are prepared and same have been approved by the appropriate approving and regulatory agencies, the ENGINEER shall assist the OWNER in advertising for construction bids for the Project.

The ENGINEER will attend the bid opening and tabulate the bid proposals, make an analysis of the bids, and make recommendations on the award of construction contracts.

Assist the OWNER in the preparation of formal contract documents for the award of contracts and secure approval of contracts from the Federal and State Agencies.

The ENGINEER shall provide engineering inspection of construction to check the Contractor's work for general compliance with the drawings and specifications and shall endeavor to protect the OWNER against defects and deficiencies in the work of the Contractor, but he does not guarantee the Contractor's performance. The ENGINEER'S general inspection shall include furnishing a full-time resident inspector.

4. Special services that will be negotiated by the Engineer acting in behalf of the Owner are as follows:

a) Soils Investigations:Test borings, test borings, related analysis, and recommendations. Copies of reports shall be furnished to the Water Works District No. 9.

b) Detailed mill, shop and/or laboratory inspection of materials and equipment. Copies of the reports shall be furnished to the Water Works District No. 9.

These special services shall be paid for by the Owner.

5. Special services that will be performed by the Engineer for which the Owner shall pay actual cost are as follows:

a) Land Surveys, establishment of boundaries and monuments, and related office computations and drafting.

b) Field surveys and plats for land acquisition.

c) Detailed Environmental Assessment Report of the area affected by the Project.

d) Supervising the replacement of all or such parts of the Project as may be damaged by fire or other cause during construction; assisting the OWNER in arranging for continuation of the work should the Contractor default for any reason; and providing inspection of construction over an extended period should the construction contract time be extended by more than 25% not occasional by fault of the ENGINEER.

e) Assistance to the Owner as expert witness in litigation rising from the development or construction of the Project and in hearings before various approving and regulatory agencies.

6) The Owner shall pay the cost of preparation of plans and specifications, construction and construction supervision. Payments will be made as follows:

a) To the Contractor on progress and/or final estimates as payments become due under this contract, and shall be based on and evidenced by the certificates of such estimates prepared by the Engineer for the Owner.

b) To the Engineer fees totaling nine (9%) percent of the final construction contract cost. Payments to the Engineer will be made as follows:

When the construction contract plans and specifications for the Project have been completed and approved by the Owner, a sum equal to five percent (5%) of a reasonable estimate of the contract cost of the Project said fee to be based upon an estimate prepared by the Engineer, exclusive of property damage.

When the work of construction inspection and the Project has been completed, a sum equal to four percent (4%) of the actual contract cost of the Project, exclusive of property damage, rights of way costs, and costs of engineering provided however, that at the request of the Engineer partial payments as hereinafter provided may be made to the Engineer for inspection services as the contractor is paid for construction and provided further, that upon completion of all work, the total fee paid to the Engineer for preparation of plans and specifications and engineering inspection shall total nine percent (9%) of the actual cost of the work, exclusive of property damage, rights of way cost and cost of engineering.

Should partial payments be requested by the Engineer for engineering inspection, then monthly after construction work has started and as construction progresses, the Engineer shall submit a statement and be entitled to receive payment to the Engineer an amount not to exceed three and one-half percent (3½%) of the value of construction completed during the preceding month.

Upon completion of all work to be performed by the Engineer, final payment shall be adjusted to make the total fee paid to the Engineer equal to nine percent (9%) of the total actual construction contract cost as hereinbefore provided.

IV. Termination of Agreement:

This agreement may be terminated by either party upon seven days written notice should the other party fail substantially to perform in accordance with its terms through no fault of the other. In the event of termination due to the fault of others than the Engineer, the Engineer shall be paid for the services performed to termination date, including reimbursements then due, plus terminal expense.

V. Ownership of Documents:

Drawings and specifications as instruments of services are the property of the Cameron Paris Police Jury whether the Project for which they are made be executed or not. They are not to be used on other projects except by agreement in writing.

VI. Successors and Assigns:

The Owner and the Engineer each binds himself, his partners, successors, assigns and legal representatives to the other party to this Agreement and to the partners, successors, assigns and legal representatives of such other party in respect of all covenants of this Agreement. Neither the Owner nor the Engineer shall assign, sublet, or transfer his interest in this Agreement without the written consent of the other.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused these present to be executed by their respective officers thereunto duly authorized as of the day and year first above written.

The above agreement having been brought to a vote, the vote thereon resulted as follows:

YEAS: Mr. Hayes P. Picou, Jr., Mr. Harry Conner, Mr. Melvin Theriot, Mr. Wendell Rutherford, Mr. Curtis Nunez.
NAYS: None.
ABSENT OR NOT VOTING: None.
Adopted and approved this 17th day of November, 1982.

2000	10,000	8.50%
2001	10,000	8.50%
2002	10,000	8.50%

The Bonds shall be subject to redemption by the District, at the option of the District, as set forth in the Bond Resolution.

The Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer of the Board are hereby authorized and directed to take such actions as are necessary, advisable and proper to effectuate the preparation, execution and delivery of the Bonds to the Purchaser at the expense of the District in accordance with the provisions of the Bond Resolution and this resolution upon payment in full of the aforesaid amount of the bid for the Bonds.

6. The Board hereby appoints the Chairman of the Board to act in the capacity of President of the Board for the sole purpose of signing the Bonds and coupons appertaining thereto in accordance with the Bond Resolution and signing such other documents as are necessary to effectuate and to effectuate the preparation, execution and delivery of the Bonds.

7. Pursuant to law and especially to Section 39:560, Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, the Board shall impose and collect annually in excess of all other taxes a tax on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the Bonds.

8. This resolution shall take effect upon its passage.

Fishermen to meet on underwater hangs

On Jan. 11, at 7 p.m. an important meeting will be held at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex and all commercial fishermen are invited.

The purpose of this meeting is to allow area shrimpers and fishermen to help in the development of a revised chart of underwater hangs which will cover the offshore waters of Cameron Parish from the beach to 3 miles offshore.

This parishwide chart will be on a 1:80,000 scale, the same as other navigational charts used by most fishermen.

Additionally, a series of smaller hang book charts (1:80,000 scale) are also being developed, which will be about 8½ x 11 inches in size. Each book chart will cover a portion of the Cameron Parish offshore waters, showing the underwater hangs in that specified area. All of the book charts placed side - by - side will give fishermen a complete "map" of Cameron Parish's underwater hangs.

Cameron Parish is one of three areas which were selected by the State Legislature for hang charting. The two other areas are Eloi Bay in St. Bernard Parish and Barataria Bay.

Input from area fishermen is very much needed so that all bad hangs will be definitely included on the chart. It is hoped that the charting of all important hangs will eventually lead to removal.

A new movie that was made in Cameron in 1981 which highlights the menhaden industry will be shown.

Fishermen are encouraged to bring their spouses.

Oil potential great

The U. S. Geological Survey says the onshore and offshore areas of the Gulf Coast and Gulf of Mexico have the greatest oil and gas potential of any area of the country except Alaska.

U.S.G.S. said total gas yet to be found in the Gulf provinces is estimated at 196.2 trillion cubic feet with 124.4 trillion cubic feet onshore and 71.8 trillion cubic feet offshore.

Discovery of this potential gas would double the nation's gas reserves which were estimated at the end of 1980 by the U.S. Energy Information Administration to stand at 199 trillion cubic feet.

U.S.G.S. estimates undiscovered crude oil in the Gulf area at 13.6 billion barrels with 7.1 billion barrels onshore and 6.5 billion barrels offshore.

Total proved reserves of crude oil in the U.S. at the end of 1980 stood at 29.8 billion barrels, according to the EIA, so the U.S.G.S. estimate of potential reserves represents an amount approximately equal to one fourth of the nation's known reserves.

Proved reserves are those quantities of oil and gas that have been found and can be produced with existing technology under existing economic conditions.

Potential reserves are estimated quantities of oil and gas that have not been discovered.

The U.S.G.S. estimates potential crude oil reserves in the U.S. at between 64.3 billion and 105.1 billion barrels.

Potential gas reserves are estimated at something between 474.6 trillion cubic feet and 739.3 trillion cubic feet.

Beach work told

Governor David C. Treen announced publication of a comprehensive report on erosion of Louisiana barrier islands, beaches and wetlands facing the Gulf of Mexico.

The study includes extensive documentation of coastal erosion, and it outlines responses by Governor Treen and the Legislature to urgent coastal problems.

Prepared for the Coastal Management Section of the Department of Natural Resources by Coastal Environments Inc. of Baton Rouge, the study defines critical areas along the coast and recommends protective and remedial projects to deter the progressive annual loss of nearly 50 square miles of coastal islands, beaches and marshlands.

"This annual land loss along the coast is a threat to the state's many resources drawn from the wetlands," Governor Treen said. "It is gnawing away at the nation's most valuable winter habitat for waterfowl. It endangers an area of extensive mineral development critical to Louisiana's economic development."

In addition to mineral resources, Louisiana's coastal marshes and estuaries support primary nursery grounds for the shrimp, oysters, crabs and fish taken in coastal waters in the Gulf. The fisheries produce more than 25 percent of the total commercial catch in the United States every year.

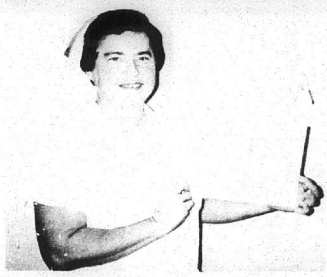
Governor Treen said the state will spend more than $7 million on demonstration projects to slow erosion or help natural rebuilding processes along targeted areas of the coast.

The projects, which will test the different methods for coastal preservation, were approved earlier this year by the Governor, the Joint Legislative Committee on Natural Resources and the Joint Legislative Budget Committee.

Targeted areas include Holly Beach-Peveto Beach restoration in Cameron Parish; East Isle Derneires off Terrebonne Parish; and Grand Terre - Cheniere Ronquille Island restoration and beach nourishment, off Jefferson and Plaquemines parishes.

Other demonstration projects include diversion of sediment carrying waters of the Mississippi and Atchafalaya rivers.

According to the consultants' report, erosion problems are generally the result of the cutoff of sediments which once were deposited during the former overbank flooding of the Mississippi River; waves and storms eating at coastal areas; and subsidence, or gradual sinking of coastal lands.



Hurricanes may account for as much as 90 percent of the shoreline retreat in some areas. According to maps and storm records, Hurricanes Camille (1969) and Frederic (1979) caused loss of 130 feet to 260 feet along the Chenier Plain, and a 100-foot to 200-foot retreat at Holly Beach.

The report listed six hydrologic units along the coastline, noted erosion problems and recommended solutions. Units in this area are:

--Mermentau. Fed by the Atchafalaya River, active sedimentation is taking place; however, canals contribute to erosion. Dredge - spoil could be placed nearby to reduce erosion.

--Calcasieu - Sabine. Although erosion rates are not as high as other areas, it may have serious consequences in the extensive beachfront development. Beach nourishment is recommended to protect Highway 82 near Holly Beach.

Governor Treen said the demonstration projects in the coastal protection program will be funded by the $7 million appropriation from the Coastal Environmental Protection Trust Fund. The projects were recommended by the technical staff of the Coastal Protection Task Force named by the Governor early in 1982.

McNeese to offer classes at S. C.

South Cameron high school will host off-campus registrations by McNeese State University's Office of Community Services at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 5 for undergraduate students who are interested in enrolling in one or more night classes in their home areas.

George Kuffel, coordinator of this off-campus service, says that in order to get the classes started at South Cameron and Jennings, individuals are urged to come to the registration meeting because classes will only be scheduled if sufficient students register for each class.

"Therefore," Kuffel says, "everyone should be prompt for the initial registration period and come prepared to complete the registration procedures and to pay the registration fees; either by cash or check."

Classes available include astronomy, criminal justice, English, education, environmental science, government, health and physical education, history, home economics, music appreciation, philosophy, physical science, psychology, sociology, and speech.

The classes will be taught by McNeese professors and university personnel.

Kuffel said that the courses are made available through the cooperation of the Cameron parish officials and principals. A special "Early Admissions" program will be available at the same locations to certain high school seniors.

"To be eligible for this program," Kuffel says, "the senior must have completed six semesters of high school work with at least an "A" average and have the recommendation of his high school principal."

No ACT score will be required of the seniors, but they must come to the special registration prepared to complete the procedures and pay their fees.

Water rates going up in Hackberry

Effective Jan. 1, 1983, the Hackberry Waterworks Dist. No. 2 water rates will be increased as follows:

Residential: Increase from $3.50 to $4.50 per month. Water truck fillups: a minimum increase of $5 to $10 per fillup and $1.50 per 1000 gallons after the first 1000 gallons.

Commercial and Industrial Meters: an increase of $1 for the first 12,000 gallons and an increase of 20 cents per 1000 gallons thereafter, in lieu of $3.50 per month for the first 15,000 gallons and 30 cents per 1000 gallons thereafter.

NEW Meter rates are: 3/4 inch meter - from $3.50 to $4.50 per month*.

1 inch meter - from $4.40 to 5.40 per month*.

1-1/2 inch meter - from $11.25 to $12.25 per month*.

2 inch meter - from $16.90 to $17.90 per month*.

3 inch meter - from $25.32 to 26.32 per month*.

4 inch meter - from $33.75 to $34.75 per month*.

*for the first 12,000 gallons and $.50 per 1000 gallons thereafter.

New office hours effective Jan. 1, 1983 are:

Monday and Tuesday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 1:30 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Hackberry Water Office will be closed Dec. 24 for the Christmas Holiday and Dec. 31 for the New Year's Holiday.

Traps removal now required last day

A new state law requires that all animal traps be removed from the field on the closing day of trapping season. In the past, trappers were allowed 5 days after the season to get their traps picked up, according to Paul Coreil, associate area agent for fisheries and wildlife.

Also this year for the first time, trappers will be required to fill out a special tag for each otter and bobcat fur he sells. The blue tag for otters and the red tag for bobcats must be filled out by the trapper at the time the pelt is sold.

The information includes the trapper's name, license number, parish in which caught and date trapped. Fur dealers will be keeping the tags until the trappers bring in the pelts.

The tag is required because a federal permit is required to export the furs out of the United States. In order to get the federal permit, the state must prove that all the furs are produced within the state, as some states have closed seasons on otters and bobcats.

Fireworks out

Cameron Fire Chief Kirk Burleigh reminds everyone that there is a parish ordinance in Cameron Fire District against the sale or use of fireworks.

Chief Burleigh also urges everyone to use caution during the holidays and observe safety rules in regard to Christmas lights and to observe a safe holiday season.

CLIFFORD MYERS, right, of Creole, a Knight of St. Sylvester, poses with the Most Rev. Jude Speyrer, Bishop of Lake Charles, at ceremonies held in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception on Sunday, Dec. 12, involving the pontifical Knights of the diocese. It was Sir Clifford's first public function since his investiture into the Order of St. Sylvester.

Absentee vote begins

Absentee voting in the Jan. 15 election for Waterworks and Fireworks District No. 9 is in progress now in the Registrar of Voters Office in the Cameron Courthouse from 8:15 a.m. to 4:15 p.m. each day.

Only the following districts are affected: Cow Island, Ward 1, Precinct 1; Grand Chenier, Ward 2, Precinct 1; and East Creole, Ward 2, Precinct 2.

Absentee voting ends Jan. 8.

Band raising trip funds

South Cameron High Band Boosters are selling tickets for the following prizes to be awarded: 1st Prize - trip to Hawaii for two -- includes air fare and hotel accomodations for one week; 2nd Prize - Intellivision Video Game. 500 tickets will be available. Donation: $20 per ticket.

Proceeds will go to the SCH Band's trip to Hawaii this spring. Tickets may be purchased from any SCH Band Booster.

When al tickets are sold the winner will be announced in the Cameron Pilot.

Gifts taken to "Sunshine Kids"

Representatives of South Cameron High's "Friends of the Sunshine Kids" left for Houston on Monday morning of this week. They have brought gifts collected by the school to the pediatric patients who are being treated for life-threatening diseases.

Both the Sunshine Kids and the Friends of the Sunshine Kids are non-profit organizations whose intentions are to help alleviate the feelings of loneliness and isolation the ill children often experience.

Gifts have already been delivered to two patients in Houston who are from this area: Jacob Owen, a leukemia victim who attends Anacoco Elementary School and Angela Moss, who has osteosarcoma and attends Hornbeck High School.

Sunshine Kids and Friends invite you to watch the Bruce Jenner Christmas Day Special on NBC.

Honor grad

Carolyn Rutherford, a graduate of South Cameron High School recently graduated magna cum laudes from McNeese State University. She is a curriculum and instruction major.

All district

The South Cameron high school football players have been named to all district teams.

Ben Welch, defensive back, was named to the first team on defense and Kim Nunez, tackle, was named to the second team on offense.

We've Got a Big Gas Bill, Too

Like you, we've got a big gas bill. Month in, month out. So big we pay out millions.

Why? Because we buy from others the natural gas we deliver to the Gulf South. United Gas doesn't explore, doesn't drill or produce oil or gas. We're a natural gas transmission company, a vital link between the field and our customers.

We're a company in perpetual motion. As old gas fields become exhausted and before, we buy from new fields. We buy for the present and the unknown demands of the future. Unfortunately, the price of natural gas has risen steadily over the last decade. So we have to pay more and ask our customers to pay more.

And as natural gas grows more valuable, the need for conservation grows more imperative. Conserve. The economic future of our region depends on natural gas. What we save today will be needed tomorrow.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

The last half of the duck season started Saturday, Dec. 18. There was not as big a turnout of sportsmen as for the first half.

Many local sportsmen were too busy with trapping while others had too much water from the rains a few weeks back. The weekend could be considered fair, but the second day was poor. The few ducks on the leases had taken off for higher ground.

WINTER BEGINS

Winter began Tuesday, Dec. 21. We are off to a good start of winter weather. Last Thursday and Friday we had 38 degree temperature with frost both days.

DUPUIS BABY

Mr. and Mrs. Water Keith Dupuis of Lake Charles, formerly of Grand Chenier, announce the birth of a son, Jason Keith, Dec. 20 in Lake charles. He weighed 7 lbs. 11 ozs.

They have a daughter, Amy, 3.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dupuis, formerly of Grand Chenier, who now live in Lake Charles.

VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Gilliam Montie of Port Arthur visited Friday with Mrs. Lazima Baccigalopi and Elora Montie.

Brenda Miller of Florida will be spending Christmas with Mrs. Rosa Mhire and the Evan Mhire family in Grand Chenier. She is Mrs. Rosa Mhire's granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Granitz of Grand Chenier visited recently with the Robby Howards of Quitman.

Mrs. Gussie Mhire last weekend visited her daughter, Karen, and family in Houston. Mrs. Mhire brought her grandson, Bo, with her for the Christmas holidays.

Saturday Mrs. Peggy Mhire and Mrs. Edmond Bertrand visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Richard in Lake Charles.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Roberts had friends from Canada visiting them.

Visiting friends and relatives in Grand Chenier and Chenier Perdue last week was the former Hilda T. Conner of Lake charles.

Here's hoping Christmas holds many happy surprises in store for you. Enjoy it to the fullest!

Mrs. Michael Quienalty

Miss Riggs is wed to Mr. Quienalty

Penny Lynn Riggs became the bride of Michael Charles Quienalty at 2 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 18, in the First Baptist Church of Lake Charles. Dr. William Lacy officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Charley Quienalty of Lake Charles.

Matron of honor was Joni Domingue. Shari Quienalty, Emlyn Wolsefer and Gail Drost were bridesmaids. Lisa Riggs was flower girl.

Best man was Douglas Quienalty. Groomsmen were Michael Carter, Tom Riggs and Michael LaFleur.

Ushers were Terry Young and David Cormier.

The bride graduated from Hackberry High School and from McNeese State University. The groom is a graduate of Alfred M. Barbe High School and is presently attending Brooks Institute of Photography in Santa Barbara, Calif.

The newlywed couple spent their honeymoon in Acapulco and will make their home in Santa Barbara.

Club holds Yule party

The Grand Chenier Homemakers were in the Christmas spirit Tuesday night, Dec. 14, at the American Legion Hall.

The hostesses, Bonnie Theriot, Aline Miller and Sue Theriot, had the hall decorated nicely. Covered dishes were brought by club members.

Everyone enjoyed opening Christmas gifts and singing Christmas carols.

The January meeting will be on Wednesday, Jan. 19 at the home of Mrs. Shirley Bonsall. Helping her with the meeting will be Lida Miller and Beverly Dyson.

Bring articles for "White Elephant Sale". At the meeting the club will draw names for Sunshine Sisters for 1983.

Gift given to home by Hack. wrestlers

Special contributions have been made to the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home in Monroe by the Hackberry High School Wrestling Team in memory of Keith Ardoin; by Mystic Baptist Church in memory of W. C. Whiddon; and by Brush Creek Baptist Church in memory of Phoebe Whitman.

"A memorial gift to the Children's Home is a meaningful and lasting tribute to a friend or loved one who has passed away," Dr. Wade B. East, superintendent, said.

"Such gifts say 'I care' and convey not only love and respect for one who has passed away, but also a desire to see the memory of that person live on in the ministry of the Children's Home in preparing youngsters to meet the challenges (and temptations) of today's world."

The Home's mailing address is Post Office Box 4196, Monroe, La. 71211.

On a motion by Jimmie LaSalle and seconded by Michael Styron that the bid be accepted.

On a motion by Jimmie LaSalle and seconded by Michael Styron and carried that the following resolution be adopted:

A RESOLUTION MAKING CERTAIN FINDINGS CONCERNING THE BIDS AND ACCEPTING THE BEST BID SUBMITTED FOR THE PURCHASE OF TWO MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($2,500,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF PARK BONDS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA; FIXING THE RATES OF INTEREST TO BE BORNE BY SAID BONDS; APPROVING, AUTORIZING AND RATIFYING THE PREPARATION AND DISTRIBUTION OF AN OFFICIAL STATEMENT RELATING TO SAID BONDS; AUTHORIZING THE EXECUTION OF A CERTIFICATE RELATING TO SAID OFFICIAL STATEMENT; AND RATIFYING CERTAIN ACTS IN CONNECTION WITH THE SALE OF SAID BONDS; APPOINTING AN OFFICER TO SIGN SAID BONDS; AND LEVYING A TAX ON ALL PROPERTY SUBJECT TO TAXATION BY SAID DISTRICT.

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted on November 23, 1982 (hereinafter referred to as the "Bond Resolution") by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of the parish of Cameron, Louisiana, (hereinafter referred to as the "District"), a notice of sale (hereinafter referred to as the "Notice of Sale") of $2,500,000 Park Bonds, Series 1982 (hereinafter referred to as the "Bonds"), of the District, was published in accordance with the Bond Resolution, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Camron, Louisiana and in the Times Picayune, a newspaper published in the City of New Orleans, Louisiana, and said Notice of Sale, together with an Official Statement setting forth information with respect to the District and the Bonds was distributed to prospective purchasers of and investors in the Bonds: and

WHEREAS, the Notice of Sale called for sealed proposals for the purchase of the Bonds to be received by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six until 11 o'clock A.M., Louisiana time, on Thursday, December 9, 1982 at the Police Jury Annex Building in Cameron, Louisiana; and

WHEREAS, Section 39:569, Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, makes it the duty of the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six to levy annually a special tax in addition to all other taxes sufficient to pay the interest and the principal falling due on the Bonds in each year;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA:

1. The Board of Commissioners of the District, (hereinafter referred to as the "Board") hereby finds and determines that one (1) bid was submitted at or prior to the time specified in the Notice of Sale, copies of which bid is hereby ordered filed with the minutes of this meeting; of all the bids submitted for the purchase of the Bonds, the bid (hereinafter referred to as the "Bid") of Shearson/American Express, Inc., Scharff & Jones, Inc., Ladd Dinkins & Co., Calcasieu-Marine National Bank, in association with Howard, Weil, LaBouisse, Fredrichs, Inc., Bossier Bank & Trust, Union Planters National Bank (hereinafter referred to as the "Purchaser") as the ones offering to purchase the Bonds at the lowest interest cost to the District as determined in accordance with the provisions of the Notice of Sale; and the Bid has in all respects been submitted in the proper form and in a tithely manner, any defects in the form of the Bid or the manner of its submission, if any, are hereby waived.

2. a. The Board hereby finds and determines that it is necessary and in the best interest of the District to accept the Bid and the Bid shall be and hereby is accepted, the Bid being a bid of par plus a premium of $ None and accrued interest from the date of the Bonds to the date of the payment in full of the purchase price and delivery thereof, the Bonds to bear interest at the rates per annum as set forth in paragraph 4 hereof.

b. Said premium and accrued interest received on the Bonds shall be applied to the payment of the principal of or to the interest on, the Bonds, and shall be deposited in the bank or banks, along with the taxes levied and collected for that purpose.

3. a. All action taken to date by the officers, employees, agents and attorneys of the District with respect to the sale of the Bonds, including the publication as aforesaid of the Notice of Sale, and the form and contents of said Notice of Sale, and the distribution of the Official Statement with regard to the District and the Bonds and the form and contents of said Official Statement, in the respective forms thereof presented and hereby ordered filed with the minutes of this meeting, be and the same hereby are approved, ratified and confirmed.

b. Said Official Statement is hereby adopted and the Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer of the Board are hereby authorized and directed to execute for and on behalf of the District and cause to be delivered to the Purchaser, copies of said Official Statement.

c. The Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer of the Board are hereby authorized to execute for and on behalf of the District and deliver to the Purchaser, the certificate referred to in said Official Statement under the caption "CERTIFICATION AS TO OFFICIAL STATEMENT" substantially in the form set forth in said Official Statement.

4. The Bonds shall be dated as of December 1, 1982, shall be numbered from 1 to 500, both inclusive, shall be in the denomination of $5,000 each, and shall mature serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years 1984 to 2002, both inclusive, in the principal amounts as set forth below, the Bonds maturing in each year to bear interest payable January 1, 1984 and semiannually thereafter each January 1 and July 1, at the rate per annum set forth opposite such year, to wit:

The Bonds shall be subject to redemption by the District, at the option of the District, as set forth in the Bond Resolution.

5. The Chairman and Secretary-Treasurer of the Board are hereby authorized and directed to take such actions as are necessary, advisable and proper to effectuate the preparation, execution and delivery of the Bonds to the Purchaser at the expense of the District in accordance with the provisions of the Bond Resolution and this resolution and upon payment in full of the aforesaid amount of the bid for the Bonds.

6. The Board hereby appoints the Chairman of the Board to act in the capacity of President of the Board for the sole purpose of signing the Bonds and coupons appertaining thereto in accordance with the Bond Resolution and signing such other documents as are necessary, advisable and proper to effectuate the preparation, execution and delivery of the Bonds.

7. Pursuant to law and especially to Section 39:569, Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, this Board shall impose and collect annually in excess of all other taxes a tax on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the Bonds.

8. This resolution shall take effect upon its passage.

ADOPTED AND APPROVED this 9th day of December, 1982.

APPROVED:
DEIL G. LA LANDE
Chairman, Board of Commissioners of District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana

ATTEST:
BARBARA L. LE BLANC
Secretary-Treasurer, Board of Commissioners of the Recreation District
No. Six of the Parish of
Cameron, Louisiana

On a motion by Michael Styron and seconded by Barbara LeBlanc and carried that the bill to Dale Miller in the amount of $1900.00 be paid.

On a motion by Michael Styron and seconded by Ladd Wainwright and carried that the bill for additional work due to error in assessment be paid but forwarded to the assessors office for reimbursement to the board.

On a motion by Jimmie LaSalle and seconded by Ladd Wainwright and carried that the meeting be adjourned at 3:25 P.M.

PROCEEDINGS
CAMERON PARISH RECREATION DISTRICT NO. 6
NOVEMBER 23, 1982

A special meeting of the Cameron Parish Recreation District No. 6 was held on Tuesday, November 23, 1982 at 12:00 P.M. in the Police Jury Annex in the Village of Cameron, Louisiana.

Members present were: Michael Styron, Deil LaLande, Jimmie LaSalle, Shelton LeBlanc, Barbara LeBlanc. Members absent were: Ladd Wainwright, Ruben Morales (Working) Guests were Jerry Jones, Dale Miller, E. J. Dronet, J. B. Blake.

On a motion by Michael Styron and seconded by Shelton LeBlanc and carried that Jerry Jones address the board. Mr. Jones explained that an error had been made in the assessment for the Recreation District, that it should have read $2,500,000.00 instead of $2,700,000.00. Therefore the sale of bonds would have to be based on 10% of the corrected figure.

On a motion by Barbara LeBlanc and seconded by Jimmie LaSalle that the previous bond sale be rescinded.

On a motion by Michael Styron and seconded by Shelton LeBlanc and carried that the bonds be readvertised for sale on December 9, 1982.

On a motion by Michael Styron and seconded by Shelton LeBlanc and carried that Jerry Jones read and explain a resolution to amend the previous bond sale.

On a motion by Michael Styron and seconded by Jimmie LaSalle and carried that the following resolution be adopted;

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF TWO MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($2,500,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA, FOR THE PURPOSE OF PROVIDING FUNDS TO PURCHASE, ACQUIRE AND DEVELOP LANDS, AND TO PURCHASE, ACQUIRE, CONSTRUCT AND INSTALL BUILDINGS, MACHINERY, EQUIPMENT AND OTHER FACILITIES FOR A RECREATIONAL PARK NECESSARY TO PROVIDE PROPER RECREATION SERVICE IN SAID DISTRICT; FIXING THE FORM AND DETAILS OF SAID BONDS; AND REPEALING RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED ON NOVEMBER 3, 1982 AND NOVEMBER 19, 1982 AND RESCINDING SALE OF TWO MILLION SEVEN HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS ($2,700,000) PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS OF SAID DISTRICT IN ORDER TO COMPLY WITH LSA-R.S. SECTION 39:562

WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of a resolution adopted by the Board of Commissioners (hereinafter called the "Board") of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, (hereinafter called the "District") on June 1, 1982, a special election in the District was held on September 11, 1982 on the question of the issuance of general obligation bonds of the District in an amount not to exceed two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District; and

WHEREAS, a majority of the qualified electors of the District voting on the aforesaid question posed in said election voted in favor of such question to incur debt and issue such bonds of the District; and

WHEREAS, the Board has investigated the proceedings heretofore taken authorizing the issuance of said bonds and has found and does hereby determine that the same are regular and have been taken in all respects in due conformity with law; and

WHEREAS, Section 39:569 Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, makes it the duty of the Board to impose and collect annually, in excess of other taxes, a tax on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due on general obligation bonds of the District for each year; and

WHEREAS, the Board on November 3, 1982 adopted a resolution authorizing two million seven hundred thousand dollars ($2,700,000) principal amount of park bonds of the District and on November 19, 1982 adopted a resolution awarding the sale of bonds to Howard, Weil, LaBouisse, Friedrichs, Inc. (collectively, the "Prior Resolutions");

WHEREAS, LSA-R.S. Section 39:562 provides that the District shall not issue general obligation bonds which shall exceed in the aggregate ten percent of the assessed valuation of the taxable property of said District, as ascertained by the last assessment prior to the delivery of the bonds;

WHEREAS, the Assessor of Cameron Parish has ascertained that the valuation of property in the District for purposes of LSA-R.S. Section 39:562 to be $25,686,580 as of November 3, 1982 and accordingly it is necessary to rescind the sale of said two million seven hundred thousand ($2,700,000) park bonds to Howard, Weil, LaBouisse, Friedrichs, Inc. in order to comply with LSA-R.S. Section 39:562; and

WHEREAS, it is necessary and in the best interest of the District to authorize the issuance of two million five hundred thousand ($2,500,000) of park bonds of the District;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON, LOUISIANA:

SECTION 1. The Prior Resolutions are hereby repealed and declared to be no force and effect and the sale of said two million seven hundred thousand ($2,700,000) principal amount of park bonds of the District to Howard, Weil, LaBouisse, Friedrichs, Inc. is hereby rescinded. The President and Secretary-Treasurer are hereby authorized and directed to return the amount of the good faith check to Howard, Weil, LaBouisse, Friedrichs, Inc. and to take such action, including the execution and delivery of documents and instruments, as are considered proper, necessary or advisable in the opinion of counsel to the District to effectuate the recission of the sale of said two million seven hundred thousand ($2,700,000) park bonds to Howard, Weil, LaBouisse, Friedrichs, Inc.

SECTION 2. There are hereby authorized to be issued and sold bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana in the aggregate principal amount of two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service to the District. Said bonds shall be designated "Park Bonds, Series 1982" (hereinafter called the "Bonds"). The Bonds shall be dated December 1, 1982, shall be in the denominations of $5,000, shall be numbered from 1 to 500, both inclusive, in order of maturity, shall be in coupon form payable to bearer, and shall bear interest at such rate or rates, not exceeding fourteen per centum (14%) per annum, as shall be determined upon the sale of the Bonds, payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year, until the final payment of the principal thereof and interest thereon, but only upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons for such interest as they severally become due. Both principal of and interest on the Bonds shall be payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which, on the dates of payment thereof, shall be legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

The Bonds shall become due and payable serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1984	$5,000
1985	145,000
1986	160,000
1987	180,000
1988	200,000
1989	220,000
1990	245,000
1991	275,000
1992	305,000
1993	345,000
1994	380,000
1995	5,000
1996	5,000
1997	5,000
1998	5,000
1999	5,000
2000	5,000
2001	5,000
2002	5,000

The Bonds maturing on and after January 1, 1995, shall be redeemable by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event the Bonds shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If the Bonds shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount of the Bonds to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then the Bonds so called for redemption shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

SECTION 3. The Bonds shall be executed in the name of the District by the President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Board by their manual or facsimile signatures, provided that at least one such signature shall be a manul signature, and the corporate seal of the District shall be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted thereon. The coupons to be attached to the Bonds shall be authenticated by the facsimile signatures of the said President and Secretary-treasurer. The Bonds and coupons pertaining thereto bearing the signatures of officers in office at the date of the signing therof shall, upon delivery thereof and payment therefor, be valid and binding obligations of the District, notwithstanding that before delivery therof and payment therefor any or all of the persons whose signatures appear thereon shall have ceased to be such officers.

SECTION 4. The Bonds, the coupons pertaining thereto, and the endorsement of the Secretary of State of the State of Louisiana to appear thereon, shall be in substantially the following respective forms, to wit:

STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON
PARK BOND, SERIES 1982
OF
RECREATION DISTRICT NO. SIX
OF THE PARISH OF CAMERON,
STATE OF LOUISIANA

No. $5,000

KNOW ALL MEN BY THESE PRESENTS that Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), a subdivision of the State of Louisiana, acknowledges itself indebted and for value received hereby promises to pay to the bearer hereof the principal sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000) on the first day of January, ——(Subject to the right of prior redemption hereinafter mentioned), upon presentation and surrender of this bond, and to pay interest on said principal sum, from date hereof until said principal sum is paid in full, at the rate of ——per centum (——%) per annum, payable on the first day of January, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on the first day of July and the first day of January in each year, upon presentation and surrender of the respective coupons therefor attached hereto as the same severally become due. Both principal of and interest on this bond are payable in any coin or currency of the United States of America which at the time of such payment is legal tender for public and private debts, at the branch of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

This bond is one of a duly authorized issue of bonds of like date and tenor herewith, except as to number, denomination, interest rate and maturity, issued by the District under and in strict compliance with the Constitution and statutes of the State of Louisiana, approved by a majority of qualified electors of the District voting on the question of the issuance of said bonds at an election held in the District on September 11, 1982, and issued in accordance with proceedings of the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, duly adopted, for the purpose of providing funds to purchase, acquire and develop lands, and to purchase, acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in the District.

The bonds of the issue of which this bond is a part maturing on and after January 1, 1995, may be called for redemption by the District, at the option of the District, prior to the stated maturities thereof, on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time, upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

In the event this bond shall be called for redemption, notice of such redemption shall be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York, such publication in each case to be not less than thirty (30) days prior to the date fixed for redemption. If this bond shall have been duly called for redemption and notice of such redemption duly given, and if on or before such redemption date the payment of the principal amount hereof to be redeemed and the interest accrued on such principal amount to the redemption date shall be duly made or provided for, then this bond shall become due and payable on such redemption date and from and after such redemption date interest on the principal amount to be redeemed shall cease to accrue and the coupons representing such interest shall be void.

The full faith and credit of the District are irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due. The District has made or will make provisions for the collection of an annual tax, in excess of all other taxes, on all property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the principal of and interest on this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one as the same respectively become due.

It is hereby certified, recited and declared that this bond is authorized by and is issued in conformity with the requirements of the Constitution and statutes of the State of Louisiana; that all conditions, acts and things required by the Constitution and laws of the State of Louisiana to exist, happen and be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one do exist, have happened and have been performed in regular and due time, form and manner as required by law; and that this bond and the bonds of the issue of which this bond is one, together with all other indebtedness of the District, do not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitation on indebtedness applicable to the District.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Board of Commissioners of the District, has caused this bond to be executed in its name by the President and Secretary-Treasurer of said Board, by their manual or facsimile signatures (provided that at least one of such signatures hereon shall be a manual signature), the seal of the said District to be affixed or a facsimile thereof imprinted hereon, the coupons pertaining to this bond to be executed by the facsimile signatures of said President and Secretary-Treasurer, and this bond to be dated the first day of December, 1982.

SECTION 5. Pursuant to law, and particularly pursuant to Section 39:569 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended, there is hereby imposed and shall be collected annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District sufficient in amount to pay the principal and interest falling due on the Bonds in each year, which tax shall be levied and collected by the same officers, at the time and in the same manner as the general taxes of the District. The full faith and credit of the District are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and the interest on the Bonds.

SECTION 6. The Secretary-Treasurer of the Board is hereby authorized and directed to cause the Bonds to be offered at public sale on sealed bids on such date as shall be given by a notice of sale to be published (i) one time at least seven clear calendar days in advance of the date scheduled for the reception of the bids in a newspaper of general circulation published in the Parish of Cameron, and (ii) one time at least forty-eight (48) hours in advance of the date scheduled for the reception of bids, in either The Times Picayune, in New Orleans, Louisiana, the same being a newspaper of general circulation, or, a financial journal or newspaper containing a section devoted to municipal bond news in either of the cities of New Orleans, Louisiana, or New York, New York.

The Board shall meet on the day and at the time selected by the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board for the reception of bids for the Bonds for the purpose of considering and acting upon the bids received. If any of the bids for the Bonds shall be accepted, the Board at such meeting shall adopt proceedings fixing the rate or rates of interest to be borne by the Bonds in accordance with the bid accepted and authorizing such other action pertaining to the issuance, sale and delivery of the Bonds as may be necessary.

SECTION 7. The Notice of Sale shall be in substantially the following form, to-wit:

"NOTICE OF SALE

PARK BONDS,
SERIES 1982

Time and Place for Receipt of Bids. Sealed Proposals will be received by the Board of Commissioners of Recreation District No.Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana (the "District"), for the purchase of all but not less than all of two million five hundred thousand dollars ($2,500,000) Park Bonds, Series 1982, of the District at the office of ——————, 1982, at which time and place the sealed proposals will be publicly opened.

Bond Details. The bonds offered for sale will be dated December 1, 1982, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $5,000 each, will be numbered from 1 to 500, both inclusive, in order of maturity, will bear interest payable January 1, 1984, and semiannually thereafter on July 1 and January 1 of each year until the maturity thereof, and will mature serially in numerical order on January 1 in each of the years and in the respective principal amounts, as follows:

YEAR	PRINCIPAL AMOUNT
1984	$5,000
1985	145,000
1986	160,000
1987	180,000
1988	200,000
1989	220,000
1990	245,000
1991	275,000
1992	305,000
1993	345,000
1994	380,000
1995	5,000
1996	5,000
1997	5,000
1998	5,000
1999	5,000
2000	5,000
2001	5,000
2002	5,000

The bonds maturing January 1, 1995, and thereafter are subject to redemption at the option of the District on and after January 1, 1994, in whole at any time upon payment of the principal amount thereof, together with the accrued interest thereon to the date of redemption.

Notice of Redemption. At least thirty days' notice of redemption will be given by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in a the Parish of Cameron, and in a financial newspaper or journal published in the City of New York, New York.

Places of Payment. Both principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable at the branch office of Calcasieu-Marine National Bank of Lake Charles in Cameron, Louisiana, or at the option of the holder, at the principal office of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, Louisiana.

Payment and Security. The full faith and credit of the District are pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the District is authorized and required to impose and collect annually, in excess of all other taxes, a tax on all the property subject to taxation by the District, sufficient in amount to pay the interest and the principal falling due each year on the bonds.

Bidding Details. Each bid must be on the official bid form furnished by the undersigned and enclosed in sealed envelope marked "Bid for $2,500,000 Park Bonds of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana" and must be directed to the undersigned. Bidders shall specify the rate or interest which the bonds of each maturity shall bear, to be expressed in multiples of one-eighth (1/8) or one-twentieth (1/20) of one percent (1%).

Bidders are not restricted as to the number of rates that may be named and any named may be repeated, but all bonds maturing on the same date must bear interest at the same single rate from their date to such maturity date. No rate named may exceed fourteen per centum (14%) per annum and the difference between the highest and lowest rates named may not exceed two and one-half percent (2 1/2%). Only one coupon will be attached to each bond for each installment of interest thereon, and bids providing for additional or supplemental coupons will be rejected. No proposal will be considered for less than all the bonds or at a price less than par or which specifies the cancellation of coupons or the payment of any premium offered in anything other than cash. In addition to the price bid, the successful bidder must pay accrued interest from the date of the bonds to the date of the full payment of the purchase price. Each bid must be unconditional and must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company payable to the order of Recreation District No Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana, in the amount of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly after the award of the bonds. The check of the successful bidder will be deposited by the Board of Commissioners, the proceeds of which will be credited to the purchase price on the settlement date or in the event the successful bidder fails to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds, retained by such Board as liquidated damages. No interest will be allowed upon the amount of such good faith check.

Award of the Bonds. Prior to the close of business on the day of opening of sealed proposals, the bonds will be awarded to the responsible bidder or bidders offering to purchase the bonds at such rate or rates of interest as will produce the lowest net interest cost to the District over the life of the bonds, such cost to be determined by deducting the total amount of any premium bid from the aggregate amount of interest payable on all of the bonds from their date until their respective maturities. The right is hereby reserved to reject any or all bids or to waive any irregularity or informality in any bid.

CUSIP Numbers. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bonds nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the bonds will be paid by the District.

Delivery of Bonds; Payment. Delivery of the fully executed bonds will be made at the expense of the District, at the option of the successful bidder at either the office of the Board of Commissioners in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, or at any bank or trust company mutually agreeable to the District and the purchaser in New Orleans, Louisiana, on —— 1982, or as soon thereafter as possible. The purchase price then due, including the amount of the accrued interest, must be paid by a certified or cashier's check drawn upon a solvent bank or trust company in Federal Funds payable to the order of Recreation District No. Six of Cameron Parish, Louisiana. Upon delivery of and payment for the bonds the purchaser will also be furnished with the usual closing documents, including a certificate that no litigation is pending or threatened affecting the issuance of the bonds. The purchaser will also be furnished at the expense of the District with the approving legal opinion of Wood & Dawson, New York, New York, bond counsel, as to the validity of the bonds, which opinion will be printed upon the bonds.

Offering Circular; Additional Information. Copies of a offering circular regarding the Park Bonds, Series 1982, of Recreation District No. Six of the Parish of Cameron, Louisiana and copies of the official bid form are available upon application to Mr. George W. White, Fiscal Service, Inc., 535 Gravier Street, 7th Floor, New Orleans, Louisiana 70130, or to the undersigned. Information relating to the District and its affairs, and further information relating to the bonds, will be furnished upon application to the undersigned.

SECTION 8. It is anticipated that CUSIP identification numbers will be imprinted on the filing panel of the Bonds, but neither the failure to print any such number on any bond nor any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto shall constitute cause for failure or refusal by the successful bidder to accept delivery of and pay for the Bonds in accordance with the terms of its bid. No such CUSIP identification number shall constitute a part of the contract evidenced by the particular Bond upon which it is imprinted and no liability shall attach to the District or any officer or agent thereof, including any paying agent for the Bonds, by reason of such numbers or any use made thereof, including any use thereof made by the District, any such officer or any such agent, or by reason of any inaccuracy, error or omission with respect thereto or in such use. Except for the CUSIP Service Bureau charge for the assignment of such numbers, which shall be the responsibility of and shall be paid by the successful bidder, all expenses in relation to the printing of such numbers on the Bonds will be paid by the District.

SECTION 9. The proceeds derived from the sale of the Bonds shall be applied to purchase, acquire and develop lands. and to purchase. acquire, construct and install buildings, machinery, equipment and other facilities for a recreational park necessary to provide proper recreation service in said District. The District conenants to and with the purchasers of the Bonds, and with the holders therof from time to time, that the District shall make no use of the proceeds of the sale of the Bonds or any investment income therefrom which would cause the Bonds to be "arbitrage bonds" under Section 103(c) of the U. S. Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and the District shall comply with the applicable Treasury Regulations adopted under such Section 103(c) so long as any Bond is outstanding.

SECTION 1o. This resolution shall take effect immediately upon its adoption. and all prior resolutions or parts thereof in conflict with this resolution be and are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

LEGAL NOTICE

STATE OF LOUISIANA,
OFFICE OF CONSERVATION, BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA

In accordance with the laws of the State of Louisiana and with particular reference to the provisions of Title 30 of Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, a public hearing will be held in the Conservation Auditorium, 1st Floor, State Land and Natural Resources Building, 625 North 4th Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at 9:00 a.m., Tuesday, January 25, 1983, upon the application of THE SUPERIOR OIL COMPANY.

At such hearing the Commissioner of Conservation will consider evidence relative to the issuance of an order pertaining to the following matters relating to the 22 Sand, Reservoir A, Grand Lake Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana:

1. To recognize that the 22 Sand, Reservoir A, affected by this application is a New Onshore Reservoir under the provisions of Section 102 of the NGPA of 1978.

2. To recognize that unitization is not confined since the limits of the reservoir underlie a single lease from both a working interest and a royalty interest standpoint, or alternatively:

3. To establish rules and regulations governing the exploration for and production of oil and gas from the 22 Sand, Reservoir A, in the Grand Lake Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana.

4. To create a single drilling and production unit for the exploration for and production of oil and gas from said sand.

5. To force pool and integrate all separately owned tracts, mineral leases and other property interests within the unit so created on a surface acre basis of participation.

6. To designate a unit well and a unit operator for the unit to waive any formalities.

7. To consider such other matters as may be pertinent.

The 22 Sand, Reservoir A, in the Grand Lake Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana, is defined and construed as being that oil and gas bearing sand encountered between the depths of 10,330' and 10,382' (electrical log measurements) in the State Lease 344 #27 Well, located in Township 13 South, Range 4 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana.

A plat outlining the proposed unit is available for inspection in the Office of Conservation in Baton Rouge and Lake Charles, Louisiana.

All parties having interest therein shall take notice thereof.

MUSING.....

.....By Bernice Stewart Denny

Sometime during the Christmas holidays take time to savor the beauty that can never be packaged. Key your senses with the wonder and the glory of this hallowed season.

See the radiance in a small child's eyes and the love that glows in his parents' as they show him the wonderland of Santa and toys. See the gold beams shot from a starry sky or the silver needles of winter rain. See the mist-haloed Christmas lights along the main street of a town and the rainbow colors of window-framed trees within. See the devotion and peace on the countenances of the old couple helping each other down the church steps. In your mind's eye see the halo above the Babe in the manger.

Sometime during Christmas hear the melody of a child's laughter, the prayer of a friend, the click of a grandmother's needles as she knits the last gift, and the muffled sounds from grandfather's workshop as he finishes the little wagon. Hear the majestic swell of a church choir or the wafted harmony of carolers at the nursing home door. Close your eyes and hear the two thousand year old "Peace on earth; good will to men" as shepherds heard of the angelic host.

Sometime during Christmas, take time to sniff of bayberry and pine. Smell the perfume of December roses, the tantalizing aroma of warm plum pudding and ginger cookies. Inhale the tangy scent of cranberries and oranges and the tantalizing odor of browning turkey, breathe deeply of the fragrance and rain-washed air. In imagination take in the incense of frankincense and myrrh.

Sometime during Christmas, taste the raisin pie and spicy tea, the oyster dressing and steaming roast. Relish the crisp salad and icy sherbet. But more than all, quaff deeply of the water of everlasting life.

Sometime during Christmas, feel the cold tingle of outside air, the warmth of an open fire. Feel the softness of a newborn babe, the gentleness of a woman's hand, the strength of a manly arm. If in trouble or heart-break, sense the comfort of a friendly shoulder. Feel the brotherhood around you in the holiday rush. Feel the love of God enfolding you as in a warm, soft cloak. Sense the presence of the infant King, the risen Savior. Feel the true meaning and spirit of Christmas. Feel that life and death hold purpose because long ago, God gave the world His greatest gift, His only begotten Son.

Sometime during this season, take time to absorb through every fiber of your being, the blessings of our Creator and the real meaning of "For God so loved the world..."

A good health plan can reduce your medical expenses. So can planning for good health: practicing good health habits.

FARMERS AND SULPHUR HAVE PLENTY IN COMMON

When we at Freeport drill for sulphur at our Louisiana mines in Plaquemines, Terrebonne and Jefferson Parishes, we are bringing to the surface a key element in the future of the Louisiana farmer and the state's agriculture industry. Most of our sulphur is used in the production of fertilizer—the food for bountiful soil. Freeport Chemical Company, producer of intermediate phosphate chemicals in St. James Parish, is a vital link in the chain that starts with sulphur from Freeport Sulphur Company and ends with fertilizer and bountiful soil.

We're proud to be a Louisiana industry giving employment to hundreds of its citizens. We're also proud to play a role in helping the Louisiana farm industry grow and prosper.

Christmas memories

by LOLA MITCHELL

has been "Christmas" ur house for several s. Not decorations and ay baking, but packages ms purchased from time ime to be wrapped, ed and placed under the at the proper time. s the family grows, so s the Christmas list - and time it takes to make o s e "just right" pur- ses. What's "in" at the time ally influences many of purchases for young- rs. No longer do we think Mother Goose or Disney racters; Snoopy in all his ty can't compete for chil- n's attention these days. Pac-Man, E. T., the urfs, Strawberry Short- ke. Any and everything ries the logo; the plain d simple can't be found. What a difference it was n my day"! A one-trip shopping "spree" had to do it for Mama. She didn't drive and when Papa consented to take the time to go with her, she was prepared to make all her purchases at that one time. And the purchases didn't include wrapping paper. Each of us four kids found our gifts in the chair we had set near the tree before going to bed on Christmas Eve.

One Christmas in particular stands out in my memory. Cousins were with us at that time and in age I was between two of them; all of us were at the age to be getting dolls for Christmas. After we had looked at all our gifts, I noticed one big difference between my doll and theirs - the shoes, or the lack of them.

I found Mama adding wood to the fire in the fireplace and went to her to find an answer to my question.

"Mama, why are their dolls different to mine? They have shoes they can take off and mine doesn't. The shoes are made on."

The truth is, there were no shoes. The material from which the doll was made was painted black in the foot area to represent shoes. Of course, I didn't realize it then - as I do now - but the big difference in the dolls was the cost.

However, Mama, in her wisdom, had an explanation for me. "Yes, they can take the shoes off their dolls and when they do they probably will lose them. Yours won't come off, but you won't be losing them, either."

That satisfied me. Mama was right, as usual.

Today, though, kids are not quite so easy to "put off." All the other kids have Izod shirts, so your kids want Izod shirts and you get them for yours - even though you could get three just as good -- without the alligator. And it has to be designer jeans or nothing, at a cost per pair you could almost outfit a kid with no-name clothes.

We grew up without benefit of electricity, so perishable foods were enjoyed as purchased; there was no way to hold them over. This made fruit a luxury item for us and we always associated it with Christmas. We always got fruit and nuts at Christmas, but seldom during the rest of the year.

Lack of electricity also made the day or so before Christmas very hectic in the baking department. Everything had to be done as close to "the day" as possible since there was no refrigeration.

One thing about Christmas that hasn't changed is the getting together of families. In my growing up years, we sometimes ate dinner (the noon meal) with some of the relatives, sometimes they were with us - and sometimes we went to be with Grandma and Grandpa Cooley in Ragley. Being with the entire family is still a vital part of our Christmas Day.

For many years, a community Christmas tree in Marcantel Settlement was planned for children and adults alike for Christmas Eve. Sometimes names were drawn, sometimes parents put gifts under the tree for the children. These were not expensive gifts, often were hand-made. But love went into the choosing and this made the gift special. And there was all that excitement wating for Santa to call your name so you could go forward and have that jolly old fellow hand you your gift. And then there were all those Christmas goodies everyone had brought to share during a fellowship time after all the gifts were given out.

Why is this not happening today? Do we not care that much any more, or is everyone too busy about too many things to take time for such things as community Christmas trees?

And all this leads us to one question - Are we putting emphasis on the wrong things? Is it absolutely necessary that dolls have shoes? (I see some here belonging to granddaughters, minus shoes, and no dolls have been "put through" more than these. I wonder if they have even noticed the absence of shoes.) Does a pair of name brand jeans or shirt fit or wear better than those without a name or symbol? And does a Strawberry Shortcake nightgown bring on better dreams than one with Mary and her Lamb, or a plain one?

Whatever our status and wherever we find ourselves this Christmas, let us all remember why there is a Christmas - the celebration of the birth of Jesus, the Saviour of the world.

TREE SEEDLINGS

I received notice from the Louisiana Forestry Office that the only seedling request they will be able to fill are: Loblolly Pine, Slash Pine and Green Ash. Therefore, only those who ordered some of these will be able to get seedlings, this winter. Hopefully, we will be able to get the complete order next year.

FOUNDATION SEED RICE

The Louisiana Rice Experiment Station in Crowley is offering to rice farmers the following varieties of Foundation Seed Rice: Leah, LaBelle and Mars. The price is $40.00 per cwt. It has been treated with a fungicide.

For more information and/or to request some of this seed, contact the County Agent's Office in Cameron. Office numbers are 775-5516 or 775-7443.

FORWARD PRICING SEMINAR

A forward pricing seminar will be conducted during the Louisiana Cattlemen's Convention in Lake Charles, Saturday morning, Jan. 22, 1983.

The seminar will be presented by personnel with the Chicago Mercantile Exchange.

Beef cattle producers are cordially invited to attend.

1982 CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE

The 1982 Census of Agriculture forms are now being mailed to farmers and cattlemen. This will be the 22nd nationwide census of agriculture conducted by the Bureau of the Census, U.S. Department of Commerce. The report forms are to be completed for the 1982 agricultural operation of farmers and cattlemen and returned to the Census Bureau by Feb. 15, 1983.

A complete and accurate census is important to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It provides the necessary benchmark data needed to help evaluate and administer current programs. The census of Agriculture data also are valuable to better understand changes in the organization and structure of the sector.

BEET PLANTING

Beets can be planted through Feb. Plant directly into rows that are about a foot or more apart. After the seed germinates, thin the plants to 2 to 4 inches apart. Some thinning can be postponed until the extra plants are large enough for eating the green as well as the roots.

Recommended varieties are: Detroit Dark, Ruby Queen and Crosby Egyptian.

Weather was hot & cold

Temperatures in Cameron Parish had more than 40 degree range during November, according to statistics from the Office of State Climatology.

Temperatures ranged from a high of 84 to a low of 39 in Hackberry and from a high of 87 to a low of 39 at the Rockefeller refuge during the month.

The average for Hackberry was 60.9 degrees and for Reckefeller 63.5.

Rainfall at Hackberry for the month was 5.69 inches, 1.39 inches more than normal. Rainfall at Rockefeller was 2.96 inches.

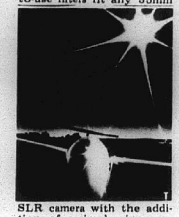
Holiday Hints



Why not turn these holidays into special events to remember? You can capture this year's festivities in an imaginative and exciting way never before possible!

With easy-to-use photographic filters, you can duplicate those dramatic special effects that professional photographers use, and shoot distinctive photos you will cherish for years to come.

The new Changer Kit from the Cokin Creative Filter System contains two of the System's most popular filters, the Sepia and the Star 8. The Changer also includes a three slotted filter holder, an adapter ring for lenses with either a 49 or 52mm filter thread diameter, and a how-to card that shows end-result photos of the same scene shot with and without the filters. All items come packaged in an attractive carrying case.

Use the Sepia filter to create a family portrait with that antique look, or turn holiday lights into starry galaxies with the Star 8. Once you've mastered these two, you can create a whole personal library of special effects by choosing from over 100 filters, masks and frames.

These inexpensive, easy-to-use filters fit any 35mm

SLR camera with the addition of a simple, inexpensive adapter ring, which can be purchased separately.

Not only can you use these special effects for your own holiday album, but if you shoot early enough you can use the filters to create imaginative family greeting cards. After you see for yourself how exciting your photography can be, you will want to put Cokin filters on your gift list for your favorite photographer.

To learn more about how to use filters, send for a copy of the new illustrated handbook. Send one dollar to: Cokin Creative Filter System, Minolta Corporation, P.O. Box 600, Garden City, NY 11530.

Wire twisters used to fasten plastic bags and bread wrappers can be useful for fastening lights to Christmas trees.

CREATE A CAKE TREE

15 Hostess Twinkie * Cakes
1 Hostess Chocolate Cupcake
1 can (1 lb. 5 oz.) vanilla frosting
Few drops each, green, red and yellow food colors
2 cups flaked coconut
1 package (3 oz.) cherry-flavored string licorice
1 package (8 oz.) spice drops and sticks
1 package (7 oz.) peppermint starlite candies

1. Tint 1 1/4 cups frosting green, 3/4 cup red and 1/2 cup yellow. Tint 2 cups coconut green.

2. Frost 13 Twinkie cakes green and roll in tinted coconut. Set aside.

3. Frost remaining 2 Twinkie cakes red and place horizontally one on top of the other, at the center on the lower half of a 16x19-inch tray. This is the base of the tree.

4. Place 2 green-tinted Twinkie cakes perpendicular to the red base. Add 1 Twinkie snack cake vertically on top of the 2 existing vertical Twinkie cakes. This is the "trunk" of the tree. Arrange 5 Twinkie * cakes diagonally on either side of the "trunk."

5. Using a medium-sized star-shaped cookie cutter, cut a cupcake and frost it with yellow frosting. Place on top of the tree.

6. Trim tree with "garland" by cutting different lengths of licorice. Randomly arrange spice drops on "branches" and place one peppermint candy at the tip of each "branch." Use extra frosting, if needed, to attach decorations.

7. Decorate the base of the tree with 7 peppermint candies and 3 spice sticks.

8. Decorate star by placing 1 yellow spice stick at the tip of each point.

Going Out Is In

An increasing number of families are finding they can get more than a good deal on a good meal when they all go out to a fast food restaurant.

The casual atmosphere, relief from cooking and cleaning up and the low cost of most fast food dinners, can help a family find a good deal of togetherness they might not have had elsewhere.

Many families are also getting more than they expected from the drinks at their favorite fast food place. More and more such restaurants are offering cold drinks in foam cups, reports the Society of the Plastics Industry. Foam keeps drinks colder so the drink is enjoyable longer and you can have more drinks and less ice, since the ice melts more slowly. Foam cups even save energy, since it takes less energy to make cups of foam than of paper.

That way, your family can enjoy its togetherness and its meal and feel more secure about the environment.

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

Moses Lambert COTTINGHAM was living in Winn Parish with his wife (Nancy Catherine Woods) and their six children in 1861 when he volunteered for the Confederate Army in the Civil War, enlisting at Monroe, La.

Shortly thereafter his wife died and he was himself very sick with measles. However, the children had to be sent to their grandparents in Alabama; and, since "the railroad tracks had been torn up trying to keep the Yankees from getting to Vicksburg," they could not go by train.

Cirrenia (Rena) Abagail being the oldest, took care of the younger ones including a nine month old brother and two year old sister during the three weeks it took to make the trip by ox wagon. She had only mashed sweet potatoes to feed the baby and she washed clothes every night.

"An old Baptist preacher about seventy years old" who had come to escort them, the oldest boy who was 10, and one black man sent by their father, got the children safely to their relatives.

COTTINGHAM FAMILY

The Cottingham's of Bibb County, Alabama, Vol. 1, compiled by Anna Blanche Cottingham has been reprinted from a limited first edition by Briarwood Press, Rt. 1, Box 221, Hanceville, Ala. 35077 and is available from them at $15.00.

Softcover, 8 ½ x 11 in., 122 total pages, indexed, this genealogy begins with an ancestor chart showing that the compiler was a daughter of the baby brother above, John David Cottingham, born in Winn Parish; and his wife, Laura McDowell, born in Bienville Parish, daughter of John G. McDowell and Margaret Ross.

Her great grandparents and their parents were from Alabama, most of them having migrated from S. Car. and Tenn.

The American Cottinghams and related families are mainly of English, Scotch and Irish origin, progenitors arriving in the early 1600s to Maryland and Virginia. George Cottingham was in Virginia by 1635, and John, who moved from either Va. or Md. was a Carolina planter and early settler of Charlestown by 1680.

The 1790 U.S. Census shows Cottinghams already in Alabama, the next generations to move on to Miss., La. and Texas.

A Volume 2 is being planned to follow this Volume 1, the 2nd to be compiled by Joyce C. Davis, editor of Briarwood Press.

BORDERLANDS SERIES

The Governor of Spanish Louisiana in 1779, Don Bernardo de Galvez, had three principal targets when war broke out between Spain and Great Britain during the time of the American Revolution: the British posts on the east bank of the Mississippi River, Mobile, and Pensacola.

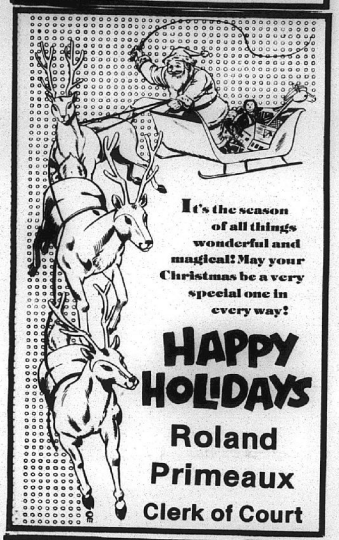
Leading an expedition out of New Orleans, he quickly captured the British Fort Bute on Bayou Manchak just south of Baton Rouge, getting the surrender of Fort Panmure at Natchez as well from Ft. Bute's commander. Then he went on to capture both Mobile and Pensacola.

The Seige of Mobile, 1780, in Maps with Data on Troop Strength, Military Units, Ships, Casualties, and Prisoners of War including a brief history of Fort Charlotte (Conde) by William S. Coker and Hazel P. Coker is Volume IX in the Spanish Borderlands Series available from The Perdido Bay Press, Rt. 2, Box 323, Pensacola, Fla. 32506.

Softcover, 6 x 9 in., 131 pages, indexed, $12.95, its maps and day by day data on this campaign as presented by the Cokers with much documentation will be of special interest to historians.

Alonso de Posada Report, 1686: A Description of the Area of the Present Southern United States in the Seventeenth Century, translated from Spanish and edited by Alfred Barnaby Thomas, Ph. D., is Vol. IV in the Borderlands Series, same format, 77 pages, foldout map, $8.95, available from Perdito Bay Press address above.

Again of interest to historians, this description of a pre-colonial Mississippi Valley (Quivira) and ajoining territories is more than a generation earlier than the French established themselves in Louisiana.



"The applause of a single human being is of great consequence."

Hints for Homemakers

Tip For The Holidays

Holidays...evenings of fun with family and friends... home baked cookies...pies ...cakes... roast turkeys... baked hams...the joys of the season. But after every evening of fun, there's clean-up.

Cleaning the oven is often a dreaded household chore especially during the holidays. But it doesn't have to be—provided you know your oven cleaner. Homemakers say it should be easy to use and, of course, leave the oven clean. It should be non-toxic and non-caustic, pleasant smelling and safe to handle.

One convenient-to-use brand that is non-toxic and non-caustic is Arm & Hammer ® Oven Cleaner. Instead of using lye, this oven cleaner contains organic salts that loosen built-up dirt and grease safely and effectively when heated. And there are no dangerous fumes. In fact, this oven cleaner is so effective, yet safe, it doesn't require a front-panel danger warning or a safety cap. Also, there's no need for rubber gloves, an apron or safety goggles when using it.

Now that you've found a convenient and effective solution to oven cleaning, return to your guests and enjoy this holiday season... and the rest of the year too!

Cantata given at Oak Grove

A different sort of fiberscope, also made by AO Scientific Instruments, is used by veterinarians. It has an easily inserted small diameter 6.3mm, and an 80cm flexible length. With it, veterinarians can diagnose infections and tumors, apply antibiotics internally, locate and remove foreign bodies.

A Christmas Cantata "His Name Is Jesus" was presented at the Oak Grove Baptist Church last Wednesday and at the South Cameron school on Thursday afternoon by the Oak Grove Baptist Church Children's Choir.

The cast made up of pre-schoolers were Jason Shawa, as Joseph; Kristi Jo Dupuie, Mary; David Akins, Casey Capella, Chris Epperson, Desi Gauthreaux, Nancy Pearce, and Beth Roach, as shepherds; Barbie Barber and James Nobles, as angels; and Daniel Capella, Robert Reed, and John Roach, wisemen.

Jimmy Dowd, Joey Nobles, Kristi Shawa and Christi Tooke were the young musicians and bell ringers.

The choir was composed of Stash Barber, Jay Epperson, Dale Gauthreaux, Jared Griffith, Jason Keene, Katie McLean, Jeanne Pearce, Greg Reid, Holly Roberts, Ben Rutherford, Robin Rutherford, Tommy Tooke, Paul Weir, and Rusty Welch.

Kevin Fruge was the narrator and Mrs. Judy Rutherford was the pianist, with Karen Miller the soloist.

Rev. Ray Shawa ended the program with a Christmas message and refreshments were served to all attending in the Church hall.

Unit closed

Dr. Russell R. Conley, Director of the Cameron Parish Health Unit announced that the Health Unit will be closed Friday, Dec. 24, and Friday, Dec. 31 for the Christmas and New Years holidays. All clinics that are scheduled for those days will be rescheduled.

Retirement SS test has been announced

The retirement test for Social Security beneficiaries for next year has been announced according to Donald Saulnier, Manager of the local Social Security office.

Starting January 1, 1983, the amount of earnings a beneficiary may have without affecting his or her Social Security benefits -- the retirement test -- increases from $6,000 to $6,600 for people 65 and over and from $4,440 to $4,920 for people under age 65.

The retirement test is the earnings limit which measures whether a person is retired under Social Security law. Starting Jan. 1, 1983, the age at which the earnings test does not apply drops from 72 to 70. Earnings over the limit reduce the benefit $1 for each $2 in excess earnings.

Also announced was the increase to $370 in the amount of earnings that will count as a quarter of coverage in 1983, up from $340. A quarter of coverage is the measure used to determine whether a worker is eligible for Social Security benefits, with up to 4 quarters of coverage allotted for each year of work. A total of $1,480 in earnings during 1983 will count for 4 quarters of coverage.

The changes are computed each year on the basis of changes in general wage levels.

Miss Hanchey is wed to Mr. Koelemay

Karen Ann Hanchey and Kevin Curtis Koelemay were married Oct. 16 in the Couch Chapel of the First Methodist Church of Shreveport. Dr. Jim Moore officiated the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Lt. Col. Theron A. and Mrs. Hanchey of Haughton. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Precht Sr. of Sweetlake and Mrs. T. H. Hanche Sr. of Lake Charles. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Koelemay of Shreveport.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an organza gown trimmed in chantilly lace and featured a Queen Anne neckline and fitted bodice, also defined in chantilly lace and seed perals. Tiers of lace ruffles cascaded the back of the skirt and formed the chapel length train. A Juliet cap of lace and pearls held her finger tip veil of silk illusion edged with Chantilly lace. She carried a silk bouquet of white and burgundy flowers.

Kathie Hanchey was maid of honor. Galen Babbidge and Sherry Ward were bridesmaids. The attendants wore burgundy gowns trimmed with chantilly lace.

James Koelemay was best man. Alan Koelemay and Gary Jackson were groomsmen. Jim Koelemay and Hormon Jackson were ushers.

A reception was held following the wedding. Serving at the reception were Mrs. Dan England, Mrs. Jeffery Nordyke, Mrs. Bill Zeller, Mrs. Eddy Stevenson, Mrs. Stan Messinger and Mrs. Phyllis Bryant.

Following a wedding trip to Mexico, the couple will make their home in Shreveport.

My Dear People of Cameron Parish:

As we prepare to celebrate again the birth of our Savior, our hearts are filled with gratitude for having received that great joy.

My great concern during these holidays will be your safety, especially our young people. As you know each holiday we have accidents and tragedies to occur. Let us try to end this year without a tragic accident and enjoy our holidays. If this Sheriff's Department can be of any help to make your Christmas safe and happier, don't hesitate to call.

If, during the holiday, any one of you should feel not able to drive safely because of celebrating, I urge you to call the Sheriff's Department or any of the deputies and we will see that you are driven home safely.

And please remember, the new state DWI laws go into effect in 1983 making jail sentences mandatory.

I wish for all of you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy and Safe New Year.

Your Sheriff,
James R. "Sono" Savoie & family

27th Year-- No. 10
Dec. 30, 1982
Cameron, La.

E. J. DRONET, president of Cameron State Bank, presents a check in the amount of $53,547.33 to Cameron Parish Sheriff and Tax Collector James "Sono" Savoie.

LAURI DYSON holds the box for Judge H. Ward Fontenot to draw the name of the winner of the Christmas stocking Dyson Hardware Store gave away. The winner was Freddie Chauvin, Theriot, La.

Bank is largest parish taxpayer

Cameron Parish Sheriff James R. "Sono" Savoie accepted a check in the amount of $53,537.33 this week from E. J. Dronet, president of Cameron State Bank for taxes on the banks assets throughout the parish.

Dronet noted that the bank is the largest single corporation taxpayer in the parish.

One other taxpayer whose taxes are higher is Norman McCall of Cameron who owns several corporations.

Sheriff Savoie noted that the Cameron State Bank pays taxes in all areas of the parish where their offices are located.

The bank has thirty-nine employees residing in Cameron Parish with a current annual payroll and employees benefits exceeding $800,000, Mr. Dronet stated.

Personal income high for parish

Cameron parish ranks 14 among Louisiana parishes in total personal income, according to a recent Louisiana Tech survey, which also showed that Cameron and the 13 parishes ahead of it account for 62 percent of the state's total personal income in 1980, the last year for which parish totals were available. Those parishes accounted for more than 58 percent of the jobs.

Of the 14, most are in the petrochemical - rich area stretching from Baton Rouge down the Mississippi River to New Orleans.

Here are the 14 parishes and their total earned income in billions of dollars:

Orleans, $5.688; East Baton Rouge, $3.083; Caddo, $1.945; Lafayette, $1.542; Calcasieu, $1.300; Terrebonne, $0.849; St. Mary, $0.687; St. Charles, $0.435.

Plaquemines, $0.440; Ascension, $0.334; Iberville, $0.321; St. James, $0.192; West Feliciana, $0.160; Cameron, $0.091.

Each of the 14 parishes averaged more than $17,000 in earned income per job, he said. By comparison, the Louisiana average is $16,300 of earned income per job while the national average is $16,678.

In the other 41 parishes, the average is a little over $13,000," he said. "And the only parish in north Louisiana with relatively high showing is Caddo."

Victim is identified

A body found in the Sabine River north of Shell Island over the weekend has been identified as Gregg Wayne Whittenborn, 35, of Aransas Pass, Texas, according to the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department.

An autopsy showed the victim drowned, deputies said.

The circumstances of the drowning are still under investigation, deputies said.

The body was found by a fisherman about noon Sunday, deputies said.

Program set

The Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department will present a special drug and alcohol abuse program at the Johnson Bayou Recreation Center Monday, Jan. 3, at 6:30 p.m.

Parents and youth are invited to attend. The program will be presented by deputies of the Cameron Sheriff's Department.

Jobless rate still low here

Unemployment in Cameron Parish edged up one-tenth of a percentage point for November but the parish continued to have the fourth lowest rate of unemployment in Louisiana.

The parish's unemployment rate for November was 8.1 percent as compared to 8 percent for October. Of a work force of 4,925 a total of 400 persons were reported out of work.

Lincoln parish (Ruston) continued to have the best unemployment record in the state - 5 percent; followed by Lafayette with 6.6 percent and Plaquemine parish, 6.7 percent.

Allen Parish (Oakdale) continued to have the worst unemployment figures - 25.8 percent.

The unemployment rate for the state as a whole dropped in November to 10.7 percent from the October figure of 11.2 percent.

Unemployment for the Lake Charles area fell from 15 to 14.2 percent.

The national unemployment rate for November was 10.4 percent, compared to 9.9 percent in October.

AA chapter formed here

A Cameron Parish chapter of Alcoholics Anonymous has been organized and meets at the Woodman Hall in Creole at 7 p.m. each Tuesday and Friday.

The meeting is opened to all persons who need help with a drinking problem either personally or in their family.

"If you want to drink that's your business. If you want to stop, that's our business," said a spokesman for the group.

Transplant

James McMillian of Cameron recently underwent a kidney transplant in Herman Hospital in Houston.

Bud's Clydesdales to be in parade

Budweiser's world - renowned Clydesdales, celebrating their 50th year as symbols of Anheuser-Busch, Inc., will participate in the annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival parade in Cameron at 2 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 15. The famed horses also will make a number of appearances in the Lake Charles area.

Since April 7, 1933, when the world's leading brewer acquired a team of Clydesdale horses to celebrate the repeal of Prohibition, the fabled Clydesdales have been thundering their way into the hearts of Americans from coast to coast.

In Lake Charles, the Clydesdales will be stabled at Burton Coliseum on Gulf Highway. They will be on display there from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Friday, Jan. 14.

On Saturday, Jan. 15, the Clydesdales will participate in the Fur Festival Parade and Sunday, Jan. 16, the hitch will be on display from 2 to 5 p.m. at Burton Coliseum in Lake Charles, during a special showing for the Hope Center for Crippled Children.

The Clydesdales will travel to Eunice on Monday, Jan. 17 for showing, from 12 p.m. to 4 p.m., in the Delchamp Mall parking lot.

The hitch will make its last area appearance from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 19 in the parking lot of Prien Lake Mall in Lake Charles.

The Clydesdales' appearances in the Lake Charles area are made possible through the efforts of Southwest Beverage Co., Inc. of Lake Charles, the local distributor for Anheuser - Busch products.

Fifty years ago, August A. Busch, Jr., now honorary chairman of Anheuser-Busch Companies, Inc., surprised his father with the first hitch of Clydesdales.

Today, the champion Clydesdales, with their high-stepping gait, flashing white feathered feet and colorful braided manes, delight millions of Americans every year.

In their 50-year history, the Clydesdales have traveled nearly 1.3 million miles and appeared in nearly 7,000 parades and events, from the annual Tournament of Roses and Macy's Thanksgiving parades to small-town celebrations and fairs.

There are three traveling eight-horse Clydesdale hitch teams, based in St. Louis, Mo.; Merrimack, N.H.; and Romoland, Calif. The three teams log approximately 60,000 miles and make more than 300 appearances annually.

To be selected for one of the three hitches, a horse must be at least three years of age, stand approximately 18 hands high, be bay in color, have four white stockings and feet, a blaze of white on the face and have a black mane and tail.

Anheuser - Busch breeds Clydesdales for its three traveling eight-horse hitches at Grant's Farm in St. Louis County, Mo., where between 20 and 30 foals are born each year.

Hackberry firemen named new officers

The Hackberry Volunteer Fire Department held its annual fireman supper Dec. 13.

Invited guests were Sowela Tech fire instructor Lee Thibodeaux and Lake Charles fire chief Algie Breaux.

New officers for 1983 are as follows: Fire chief, Gerald Landry; assistant fire chief, Chuck Wright; captain of company #1, Dermit Wong; 2nd captain, M. O. LaBove; #1 lieutenant, Doug Welch; 1nd lieutenant, Mike Welch; secretary and treasurer, Butch Silvers; reporter, Danny Welch.

Five and ten year service patches were given to Jerry Constance, 5 years; M. O. LaBove, 10 years; Floyd Silvers, 5 years; Robert Silvers, 10 years.

New members receiving uniforms were Mike Schexnider, Claude Devall, Curtis Fountain, Jimmy Brown. The Fireman of the Year award was won by Michael Welch.

Jubilee Day to be held here Jan. 1

The Cameron Chapter of the NAACP will hold their 5th annual Jubilee Day event Sautrday, Jan. 1. The event will begin at 12 p.m. in the Cameron Courthouse Square and will end with a service at 7:30 p.m. in the Evening Star Church of God in Christ. A dinner will also be served.

Jubilee Day is a day set aside by the NAACP for celebration of their heritage and history.

Mrs. Mabel Bishop will be the mistress of ceremony for the program. Mrs. Louise Cole, president of the Cameron chapter NAACP, will give the introduction of the guest speaker, Dr. Alfred King.

Dr. King, a long time resident of Lake Charles, is a former pastor of the Greater Ebenezer Baptist Church of Lake Charles and is now pastor of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church of Lake Charles.

Dividend

The board of directors of Cameron State Bank and Cameron Banchsares, Inc., has approved paying a divident of $4.50 per share to all stockholders of record Dec. 31, 1982 and payable Jan. 31, 1983, according to E. J. Dronet, President.

This marks the fifteenth consecutive year that the Bank has paid a cash dividend to its shareholders, Dronet added.

Clinic moved

The Cameron Parish Health Unit will no longer conduct clinic at the Grand Lake Recreation Center. As of Jan. 5, clinics will be held in the new Multi Purpose Building. It will continue to be held on the first Wednesday of each month from 1 to 3 p.m.

Water, fire vote set for Jan. 15

Voters in the Little Chenier, Chenier Perdue, East Creole, Oak Grove, Grand Chenier and North Island communities of Cameron parish will get a water and fire protection system if a proposed tax passes on Saturday, January 15.

The propositions submitted to the voters are: (1) authorization to issue $1,950,000 water and $1,950,000 fire protection bonds to fund the project and (2) a 5 mill water and a 2 mill fire protection 10 year maintenance tax to maintain and operate the facilities.

All taxes will be subject to a full homestead exemption with over 90 percent of the project cost being paid by non-resident owners.

The engineers on the project have recommended a minimum monthly rate of $5 per household, $10 per commercial institution for 10,000 gallons and 70 cents per 1,000 gallons thereafter; $25 per plants for 10,000 gallons and 70 cents per 1,000 gallons thereafter, and a $20 hookup charge for residents.

The board of the Waterworks District No. 9 has also voted to charge only 50 percent of the rates, or $2.50 per month minimum, to all persons who are senior citizens.

Art contest entries due by Jan. 12

An art contest again will be held as part of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, according to Lora Guthrie, chairman.

It is opened to Cameron Parish residents for work done during the previous year and will have adult, teen and junior divisions in paintings and drawings.

Entries must be turned in at the Cameron State Bank in Cameron during business hours on Jan. 12. For more information call Mrs. Guthrie at 775-5489.

Absentee vote begins

Absentee voting in the Waterworks District No. 9 and Fire Protection District No. 9 bond elections will continue through Jan. 8 in the registrar of voters office in the courthouse in Cameron.

Absentee voting may be done between 8:15 a.m. and 4:15 p.m.

The election will be held Jan. 15 with voting at precincts in Cow Island, Grand Chenier and East Creole.

Offshore facilities

Energy Industries, Inc. of Cameron has applied for a Corps of Engineers permit to construct an offshore loading facility in Calcasieu Pass in the town of Cameron.

The work will consist of installing seven dolphins, dock and walkway. The structures are to be located within an area about 300 feet long and 75 feet wide.

Any comments on the proposed work will be received by the Corps until Jan. 5.

MSU classes slated here

South Cameron high school will host off-campus registrations by McNeese State University's Office of Community Services at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 5 for undergraduate students who are interested in enrolling in one or more night classes in their home areas.

George Kuffel, coordinator of this off-campus service, says that in order to get the classes started at South Cameron and Jennings, individuals are urged to come to the registration meeting because classes will only be scheduled if sufficient students register for each class.

12 in queen event

Mrs. Ruby Dupuie, chairman of the Miss Cameron Parish contest, announced that 12 contestants will compete at the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival on Friday, Jan. 14 at the Cameron Elementary School.

The winner will be crowned by April Leger, the 1982 Miss Cameron Parish, and will receive an expense paid trip to the National Outdoor show in Cambridge, Maryland.

Contestants are:

The Challenge of Genealogy

by MARIE WISE

Once you begin gathering family genealogical material for yourself and for the future, you must ORGANIZE what you have into "data banks".

This need not be expensive - file folders made from grocery sacks, dividers of salvaged cardboard and a corrugated box (or several) for a filing cabinet will serve the purpose.

But two things are essential for every item of information: it must be identified and it must be readily available. Otherwise even you may forget some of the things you have; and almost surely, will spend valuable time searching for something you "know you have but just can't find."

KEEPING RECORDS

The Handy Guide to Genealogical Record-Keeping by Rosalee Curtis with an introduction by Mary Lewis Ulmer offers a practical system for recording, numbering and filing family data.

Beginning genealogists can use this to understand the basic record forms: ancestor charts, family group sheets, those for research notes and progress and correspondence calendars. Instead of buying the printed forms, you can make your own.

Also, you must understand a filing system and set up a file in order to save the material you have and save yourself time and money.

Evolved from lectures given at genealogical workshops by the author, this simple to understand and use guide is softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., 57 pages, indexed, $11.00 including mailing, available from: Rosalee Curtis, P.O. Box 112, Douglass, Texas 75943.

Mrs. Curtis has had 20 years experience as an educator, writer and genealogist.

TEXAS FRONTIER

Many men from Louisiana served in the Texas Rangers, the Minute Men or in the Texas Frontier Battalions (which frontier also bordered Louisiana).

Texas Rangers, Frontier Batallion, Minute Men, Commanding Officers, 1847-1900 is a six-volume reference set by Frances T. Ingmire that alphabetically lists thousands of men who served in the many different Texas military units of this more than fifty year period.

For each man the following information is given: name, rank, commanding officer, military unit, dates of enlistment and discharge, birthplace, and source of information. Age is often given and sometimes a physical description. Place of birth was usually the same as place of residence at the time of enlistment.

Each volume in this series is softcover, 8 1/2 x 11 in., indexed, the six volume set available at $60.00 or individual volumes as follow: Vol. I, A thru C, 168 pages, $12.50; Vol. II, D-G, 127 pages, $10.50; Vol. III, H-K, 127 pages, $10.50; Vol. IV, L-N, 141 pages, $11.50; Vol. V, O-S, 165 pages, $12.50; Vol. VI, T-Z, 112 pages, $10.50. Add $2.00 postage and handling for each individual volume.

Each volume contains also an overall listing of commanding officers for the units with rank, company, places where stationed, dates, and name of county for the county units.

All information in these volumes has been abstracted and compiled from Muster and Pay Rolls in the Texas State Archives. Available from: Ingmire Publications, 10166 Clairmont Dr., St. Louis, Mo. 63136.

COFFEEWEED POISONING

Sicklepod, also called coffeeweed is the leading poisonous plant to cattle in Louisiana. It has become more prevalent in Cameron Parish in the last few years. There are two species, Cassis Obtusfolia and Cassia Occidentalis, the latter being more poisonous than the other.

The potential for much greater losses rises for and with maturity of the sicklepod. Cattle are more inclined to eat the plant during the first few days, after frost.

It is much more difficult to control than the other coffeeweeds such as rattlebox, tall indigo, etc....in fact Blazer and Basagran, two recommended herbicides for use in soybeans, will give very poor control results on Sicklepods, but excellent control on the tall indigo, etc. However, 2, 4-D at 2x will give excellent control.

RICE AND SOYBEAN CLINIC

The annual Calcasieu - Cameron rice and soybean clinic will be held on Monday, Jan. 10 at the Iowa High School beginning at 3:15 p.m. Various recommended production practices of both rice and soybean will be discussed by L.S.U. Extension Service and Rice Experiment Station personnel. All interested persons are cordially invited to attend.

FRUIT TREE CARE

Now is the time to prune and fertilize fruit trees. Fruit trees are generally pruned only to maintain proper shape and/or balance. However, peaches and plum trees should be pruned annually for production purposes. The center needs to be opened from four main branches. This allows for more sun in summertime. Therefore, they need both sun in the summer and cold temperatures in the winter for best production.

Fertilizer is also very important for fruit trees. In addition to increase production, fertilizer will also help to resist insect and disease problems. The amount to use depends on the kind of fruit trees. Pecans require 2 lbs. per year age, citrus 1 lb. up to 10 lbs. for a 10 year old tree. Do not exceed 10 lbs. per citrus tree regardless of age. Pear trees need one-half lb. per year age. Do not exceed this amount as it will have a tendency to grow rather than produce pears.

VEGETABLES TO PLANT

Vegetables that may be planted in January are beets, carrots, radishes, turnips, mustard, spinach and Irish potatoes.

Copan, the most beautiful of the known Mayan ruins, is a major tourist attraction in Honduras.

More and more American travelers looking for an unspoiled paradise are following the footsteps of Columbus. He discovered Honduras in 1502 and American tourists are now rediscovering this Caribbean country with a 400-mile coast, pine-covered mountains and a relaxed pace of living.

Class on finance to be offered

"Family Financial Management" will be offered for college credit over Channel 18, the Louisiana Public Broadcasting (LPB) System, as a McNeese State University course this spring semester.

The telecorse, "Finance 200" carries three hours credit and will survey financial decisions facing the individual or family, budgeting, insurance, taxes, home purchasing, consumer credit and estate planning.

The classes will be broadcast to the public from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturdays between Jan. 15 and April 23.

Only five class metings on campus are required. These meetings will be on Thursday nights at 6:50 p.m. During these meetings an economic professor will supplement the video-lessons with discussion and review sessions and will administer a midterm and final exam.

There will be a special registration for all telecourses on Saturday, Jan. 8 at 2 p.m. in Kaufman 206 on the McNeese campus.

The University will be closed during the holidays. However, offices will reopen on Jan. 3 and more specific information concerning the spring telecourses will be mailed to each person who calls or writes the Office of Community Services at McNeese after Jan. 2.

Census in progress

The 22nd Census of Agriculture is now in progress.

Farmers in Louisiana and across the nation are requested to aid the census by returning their report forms at the earliest possible date. According to Kirk D. Moore, County Executive Director for the Agricultural Satbilization and Conservation Service, the deadline for returning the census form is Feb. 15, 1983.

The census provides the only uniform set of agricultural data at the county, state and national level, publishing information ranging from acreage, crops and livestock, to interest payments and value of machinery.

Moore pointed out that the most recent Census of Agriculture for Louisiana indicates (1) ninety percent of the state's farms are operated as individual or family-type farms, higher than the national average of 88 percent; (2) seven percent of the farms are partnerships and 2 percent are corporations; (3) fifty seven percent of the farms have operators who own all the land they farm; 28 percent are partowners-operators who both own and rent land and 15 percent are tenants; and (4) the average farmer was 50.7 years of age, only slightly older than the United States average of 50.1 years.

Sentences given in district court here

The following sentences were handed down in Judge H. Ward Fontenot's 38th Judicial District Court Wednesday, Dec. 22, to guilty pleas:

Connie Alexander Arrant, 28, Grand Chenier, was fined $350 and costs or 45 days in jail for possession of marijuana and $50 and costs or 15 days in jail for possession of drug paraphernalia, sentences to run consecutively.

Andrew D. Smith, 25, Rt. 2, Lake Charles, $300 and costs or 45 days in jail for possession of marijuana and 30 days, suspended, and 1 year unsupervised probation for possession of drug paraphernalia.

D.W.I. charges brought a fine of $350 and costs or 45 days to William E. Strickland, 39, Robeline, who was also fined $25 and costs or 2 days in jail for driving left of center and fines of $400 and costs or 45 days in jail to Kirby J. McMahan, 44, Hackberry, who was also fined $30, suspended, and 1 year unsupervised probation for hit and run, with the condition he had no other traffic violations.

Lester L. Brown, 18, 217 S. Ave., Crowley, who was also sentenced to 15 days, suspended, and placed on 1 year unsupervised probation; and Billy L. Pierce, 51, Rt. 1, Cameron, who was also fined $25 for driving left of center.

Willie K. McKay, 23, General Delivery, Cameron was fined $45 and costs or 2 days in jail for disturbing the peace and 1 week in jail for resisting arrest.

Melissa Kay Hobbs, 20, Panama City, Fla. was fined $125 and costs or 10 days, plus 15 days suspended, and 1 year unsupervised probation for disturbing the peace (drunk) and two counts of simple battery.

Steven N. Nevels, 27, Brook Haven, Miss. was fined $35 and costs or 3 days in jail, plus 15 days, suspended for driving under suspension and $57 and costs or 3 days in jail for speeding 44/25.

Bench warrants were issued for the following who failed to show up in court: Charles R. Pipkin, 52, 11 7th Ave., S.W., Cairo, Ga.; jack C. Collins, 23, 124 Gomella, Lafayette; Samuel Edgar Richard, 20, 1110 N. Prater St., Lake Charles; John Thomas Staton, Jr., 43, 2216 Walker Dr., Westlake.

A prayer for aged

EDITOR'S NOTE--One of the Pilot's readers, a senior citizen, asked us to reprint this prayer.]

PRAYER FOR THE AGED

"Lord, Thou knowest better than I know myself that I am growing older, and will some day be old.

"Keep me from getting talkative, and particularly from the fatal habit of thinking I must say something on every occasion.

"Release me from craving to try to straighten out everybody's affairs.

"Keep my mind free from the recital of endless details - give me wings to get to the point.

"I ask for grace enough to listen to the tales of others' pains. Help me to endure them with patience.

"But seal my lips on my own aches and pains - they are increasing and my love of rehearsing them is becoming sweeter as the years go by.

"Teach me the glorious lesson that occasionally it is possible that I may be mistaken.

"Keep me reasonably sweet; I do not want to be a saint - some of them are so hard to live with - but a sour old person is one of the crowning works of the devil.

"Make me thoughtful, but not moody; helpful, but not bossy. With my vast store of wisdom, it seems a pity not to use it all - but Thou knowest, Lord, that I want a few friends at the end."

MUSING...

Your own good luck

By Bernice Stewart Denny

"A happy New Year!" we hope for ourselves and wish for our friends and acquaintances.

How can we have a happy new year? What will 1983 mean to each of us? It is my belief that the coming year will be what God and you and I make of it. We have been created with certain abilities and amounts of intelligence. If we use these gifts and seek God's guidance, we should have a blessed if not a carefree year.

As a child, I had a great-aunt who used to say, "It's always the unexpected that happens, and it's nearly always bad."

My grandmother would respond, "It seems to me that we get pretty much what we expect. If we anticipate the bad, we'll get it. If we expect the good, it usually comes our way."

I liked my grandmother's philosophy. My friends tell me that I am a born optimist. Each morning I wake wondering what nice thing will happen before the day is over. Good things invariably do happen. Oh, ye, there are disappointments, sad events that occur, too, but the wonderful thing is that with God's help I can handle them.

As we wish for a happy year for ourselves, let us be careful that all our desires are not self-centered. Let us think of others and of how we might brighten their year. Let us be understanding and sympathetic, cheerful and helpful. Let us be practical by doing kind deeds and saying the encouraging or comforting word at the opportune moment. And happiness will come back to us as a result.

As we enter 1983, may we cast aside anxiety and fear and dismay. May we allow the beautiful 2,000-year-old promise to permeate our thinking:

"Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you.... Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

Class to be given on TV

"Government 200: American Government Survey" will be offered for college credit over Channel 18, the Louisiana Public Broadcasting (LPB) System, as a McNeese State University course for the 1983 spring semester.

The telecourse carries three hours credit and will survey the theories and principles of American government.

The classes will be broadcast to the public from 11 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturdays Jan. 15 through April 23.

Only five class meetings on campus are required. These meetings will be at 6:50 p.m. on Mondays. During these meetings, a government professor will supplement the videolessons with discussion and review sessions and will administer a mid-term and final exam.

There will be a special registration for all telecourses at 2 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 8 in Kaufman 205 at McNeese.

The university will be closed during the holidays. However, offices will reopen Jan. 3 and more specific information concerning the spring telecourses will be mailed to each person who calls or writes the Office of Community Services at McNeese after Jan. 2.

Permit is sought here

Transcontinental Oil corp. has applied for a Corps of Engineers permit to construct a board road, ring levee, drill site, etc. for a proposed well location about 15 miles south of Sulphur near the Cameron-Calcasieu line.

Any comments on the proposed work will be received by the Corps until Jan. 5.

No netting

Jesse J. Guidry, secretary of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, today reminded commercial fishermen that Bundicks Lake in Beauregard parish is closed to all commercial netting.

He said the lake was closed to commercial netting effective December 20, 1982, by a rule adopted by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission

Gifts taken to hospital

Pack 202, Den 3 Boy Scouts delivered Christmas gifts to the patients and staff at South Cameron Memorial Hospital. Decorated pine cones tied with ribbons and candy were handed out as the young boys sang Christmas carols.

The boys also decorated a Christmas basket of goods and delivered it to a needy, elderly person.

Boys participating were Richard Miller, Chris Daniels, Chris Fruge, Joey Trahan, John Soileau and Danny Harper.

Shrimp catch down, dollar income up

By JESSE KNOWLES
WILDLIFE AND FISHERIES COMMISSION

Although it will be some weeks before statistics on the 1982 shrimp season are available in final form, enough data has been collected by the National Marines Fisheries Service to establish that while shrimp production was down for the past year, dollar income for shrimp fishermen was up.

Those 71.3 million pounds of heads-off shrimp landed in 1981 brought shrimpers about $136.5 million. The preliminary production figure of 57 million pounds in 1982 has already netted shrimpers some $146 million. That's about $10 million more than last year and the figures are far from final. They could go higher.

What happened in gulf and estuarine waters along the Louisiana coast wasn't restricted to this state alone. Shrimp landings during the first nine months of 1982 for the five gulf states were down roughly 25 percent from the same period last year.

Oddly enough, Florida registered the greatest production decline. The shrimp harvest in that state's waters fell 40 percent from 17.3 million pounds last year to 10.3 million pounds for the same period this year.

Louisiana's 17 percent drop was much less than the 30 percent decline reported for Texas. Thus far, marine biologists haven't come up with a good explanation of how and why this marked drop occured.

When one takes a cold look at the catch and price figures that are shaping up for this year, it becomes increasingly plain that the person caught between the rock and the hard place is the housewife. When the shrimp crop is an abundant one, prices are low and better suited to consumers' pocketbooks. When the supply becomes scarce, prices soar and the housewife wails.

Another ironic thing about this business of shrimping is that commercial shrimpers are often caught complaining that the crop was too good for the business. And, those same shrimpers will say there should have been more shrimp available when the very shortage was the reason for the excellent price.

It's much too early in the game to even start hinting, much less start calling shots on what might happen this spring. However, as a man who has followed the shrimp business carefully for most of his adult life, I'm watching those high river stages that have characterized December.

There's a lot of water surging down the rivers these days and if the spring rains and spring run-off is greater than usual, we're going to have a lot of fresh water in the estuaries at a time when post-larval shrimp are moving in from the gulf to mature.

I'm hoping that doesn't happen but the fact remains that what takes place farther up the line in the next two months or so will have a great effect on next year's shrimp crop. Along with the marine biologists in the Seafood Division of the state wildlife department, we'll be watching those developments with great interest.

With inside waters closed at midnight Dec. 20, fresh shrimp reaching processors and eventually retailers will be coming from the gulf. With stocks of shrimp obviously way down from 1981, there's the certainty that prices will continue to remain high until the spring season.

Hopefully, if the spring season is marked with a bountiful catch, there will be plenty of shrimp for everyone ...and at prices we can afford.

Pine beetles still can be a problem

An insect and disease specialist with the Louisiana Office of Forestry warns timberland owners not to be mislet by what might appear to be a lessening of summer's extensive southern pine beetle outbreaks.

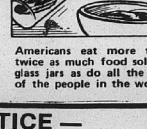
"A lot of people think cold weather kills the beetles. It doesn't, it only slows development," according to Ken Jeane, Louisiana Office of Forestry.

Salvage is still the best control method for this deadly forest enemy, and Jeane says his agency strongly urges landowners who have southern pine beetle infestations to take steps at once to cut a buffer strip ahead of the infested trees. "Infested trees should be salvaged, but it is even more important to cut trees that have not been attacked to stop the beetles' spread," he cautioned.

"There is no way foresters can predict what will happen when warm weather returns, but if previous patterns hold true, we can expect infestations to be very bad come spring," Jeane said.

When southern pine beetle outbreaks occur, the pattern has been for buildups to continue for about two years, then peak the third year, he explained.

"Researchers looking at population dynamics say we can expect a lot of activity from the beetle next spring," Jeane noted.



The forster advises landowners who have pine stands to check for signs of the beetle, including dying foliage or, in some cases, sawdust from holes bored by the insects, and to contact the Office of Forestry for information on how to control the outbreak.

"It is vital that an adequate buffer be removed, but we do not advise that unnecessary clearcutting be carried out, either. That's why it would be better to have one of our foresters inspect the infested area to determine how much and which timber to remove," Jeane said.

Landowners cannot always expect to receive top dollar for beetle-damaged timber, according to Jeane. "Sometimes sawtimber may have to be sold as pulpwood," he said.

"Infested sawlog - size timber can be salvaged for lumber if it is still structurally sound. In some cases, the damage may keep the lumber from being top grade, but it is still good for construction purposes. The amount of damage and how long it has been dead will determine whether the timber will have to go as pulpwood," the forester said.

Jeane cited a case of one landowner who hesitated too long to salvage his infested timber. "He didn't want to cut any tree that was still green. Unfortunately, by the time a tree turns yellowish or brown, the beetles have already left that tree and are in another." The landowner ultimately lost 80 to 100 acres, Jeane estimated, because he waited too long to begin proper control procedures.

Americans eat more than twice as much food sold in glass jars as do all the rest of the people in the world.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

Christmas Day was on the quiet side at the Chenier with no accidents. We enjoyed the 77 degree temperature, with a clear morning to a cloudy, windy afternoon.

HUNTING POOR

Duck hunting is very poor in the Grand Chenier area due to tremendous rain and some Gulf water.

Sportsmen were again very few. Ducks have gone to higher grounds. One sportsman stated he had knee deep water in his blind.

Hunters are hoping the water receeds so they can get in a few hunts before the season is over.

Congratulations to Jennie and Rebecca Theriot of Grand Chenier, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Theriot, who last week each won a $10 certificate in the K-Mart Christmas coloring contest. Each won a first place.

Plan now for transplants for garden

Now is the time to start thinking of transplants for the spring garden, says Dr. Thomas J. Koske, horticulturist with the LSU Cooperative Extension Service.

To ensure a quality transplant, many people grow their own. Gardeners also want the transplants to be ready to use when they are ready to plant. They may also grow their own because they want a clean, healthy transplant of an odd or particular variety. However, to achieve the desired results and not waste time and money, the gardener must know how to grow a good transplant.

Seed quality is important. It is best to have fresh seed, preferably that which has been treated to ensure a vigorous and healthy sprout.

Either plant seed directly in the pot in which the transplant will be grown, or seed into a nursry flat and later move the plants into separate pots. The second method is better, unless you have many transplants.

If using a two-step planting procedure, plant seeds in a fine-textured organic medium, such as peat-lite mix or a straight vermiculite. Once the sprouts have germinated and demonstrated vigor and health, they can be lifted and transplanted into individual pots in a slightly coarser mix.

The temperature at time of sowing and during germination should be fairly warm, 70 degrees Fahrenheit or higher, to ensure quick germination and escape from the damping-off diseases. After plants have broken the soil surface, hold them at a cooler temperature--as much as 10 degrees cooler.

Transplants in a cooler temperature will grow slower but be bushier and greener. The plants should not be overwatered, but not left to dry out either. Overwatering can cause root rots. A slight drying is also a way of holding back transplants to prevent overgrown or too large a transplant.

Most cool-to-warm-season crops, such as tomatoes and peppers, may be grown at temperatures of 65 to 80 degrees F. Cooler season crops such as cabbage and broccoli may be grown at cooler temperatures -- 50 to 75 degrees F. Vine crops, such as cucumbers and watermelons, are normally not transplanted because they do not transplant well. If

All interested citizens, groups, senior citizens and organizations representing the interests of senior citizens are encouraged to attend and to submit comments.

A copy of the entire proposed budget and additional background materials are available for public inspection at the Multipurpose Building during normal business hours. They are also available at the Cameron Parish Library during normal business hours.

McNeese to offer class on oceans

"Oceanus: The Marine Environment" will be offered for college credit over Channel 18, the Louisiana Public Broadcasting (LPB) System, as a McNeese State University course this spring semester.

The telecourse, "Environmental Science 200," carries three hours credit and focuses on the marine environment as a unique feature of the earth and investigates areas of scientific and public concern, including effect on the weather, physical size and diversity of life forms, contributions to the development of man, and the impact of oceanic pollutants.

The classes will be broadcast to the public from 3 p.m. - 4 p.m. on Sundays between Jan. 16 and April 24. In addition, each one hour lesson is replayed on the first half on Monday morning and the second half on Wednesday morning between 7:30 a.m. - 8 a.m.

Only five class meetings on campus are required. These meetings will be on Tuesday nights at 6:30 p.m. During these meetings, Dr. Harold Stevenson, Head of the Department of Environmental Sciences and Microbiology, will supplement the video-lessons with discussion and review sessions and will administer a mid-term and final exam. Dr. Stevenson has extensive experience in marine education and research.

There will be a special registration for all telecourses on Saturday, Jan. 8 at 2 p.m. in Kaufman 206 on the McNeese campus.

Big wolf hunt is held on Chenier

By ELORA MONTIE

At least three wolves have been killed in an all-out wolf hunt started this past weekend on Grand Chenier and from airplanes, jeeps, trucks and horseback.

In recent week, Chenier cattlemen Lionel Theriot, David Doland and others had been missing calves. Theriot figured he had lost 5 or 10 within the last ten days.

Saturday Lyle Crain and Pat Doland flew over the marsh in the Crain Bros. pontoon plane and spotted five wolves. Sunday some 20 or more men on horseback and in trucks and jeeps took to the marsh to try to clean out the pack.

The first kill was made by Clyde Theriot, who bagged a rare Louisiana black wolf at about 5:30 a.m. Sunday morning on Pumpkin Ridge marsh north of his home.

Two airplanes were also used in the hunt, Lyle Crain and Pat Doland in one, and Dudley and James Fawvor III in another. The Fawvors spotted one large balck wolf and took two shots at it with a rifle.

Early Monday morning two more wolves were reported killed and the search continued and Chenier cattlemen made an all out effort to wipe out the entire pack.

Supper to highlight ASCS Day

A spaghetti and meatball supper sponsored by five vendors who furnish conservation materials to Cameron parish farmers will climax the ASCS Day to be observed in the parish Wednesday, June 5.

McCall Farm Supply, Marcantel Feed Store, George Theriot Feed Store, Kelly-Weber Feed Store, and Mudd Feed Store are furnishing the supper. It will be followed by talks on ASCS programs. All Cameron parish farmers, business leaders and organizational heads are being invited.

Charles H. Precht, Sweetlake; Lionel A. Theriot, Grand Chenier, and Francis Klein, Klondike, make up the county ASCS committee. Charles S. Hackett serves as office manager and Geneva Griffith is the clerk.

Each of the four communities in the parish are represented by five community committeemen. They are: Creole, J. B. Meaux, Lynex Richard, J. M. Theriot, A. P. Welch and Traville Broussard; Sweetlake-Big Lake Community, Herman Precht, George Greathouse, Alverd Duhon, Charles W. Hebert and Curtis McCain; Cameron-Johnson Bayou-Hackberry-Conway LeBleu, Sam Little, Frankie Henry, Francis Erbelding, and Wakefield Erbelding; Grand Chenier-Klondike-Percy David, Billy Doland, Valian J. Theriot, Severin Miller, and Cleveland Broussard.

Jean Dimas to attend Boys State

Chosen as the South Cameron High School student whom Richard Brothers Post #176, American Legion will sponsor to Pelican Boy State this year Jean H. Dimas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dimas, will attend this statewide project August 18-26 on the L.S.U. Campus.

Chosen as alternate delegate was Michael Savoie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James "Sano" Savoie.

Selection for this honor is based on leadership, character, honesty, courage, scholarship, and cooperativeness and is made by a panel composed of South Cameron High School faculty members.

The purpose of annually conducting Pelican Boy State is to educate youth in the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibilities of American citizenship. The project also encompasses a plan for training the youthful delegates in the practical mechanics of government.

Two persons named to VFW district posts

Two Cameron parish persons were named to district posts at the spring convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Fifth District, in Sulphur Sunday.

J. Berton Daigle was elected judge advocate for the district, and Mrs. Azalea Landry was elected senior vice-president of the ladies auxiliary.

Other delegates from the local VFW post and auxiliary were Edward Benoit, Edwin Mhire, E.J. Dronet, Mrs. Amos Miller, Mrs. Helaire Hebert, Mrs. Seville Theriot and Mrs. Elina Hebert.

The VFW auxiliary was scheduled to conduct the annual Poppy Daysale in Cameron Tuesday.

Applications to be taken for water

The Cameron water board has announced that it will take application for water service for the new Cameron water system all day Friday, May 24, and until noon on Saturday.

Applications should be filed at the water board office in the Hubert Theriot building across from the bank.

Home water users must put up a $6 deposit, which is equivalent to the cost of two months water service. Business places must also put up a two month deposit.

It was pointed out to water users that they must have a complete break between the old water system which they formerly used and the new town water system. This is a board of health regulation.

Dan Dupont is the superintendent of the new water system.

WE TURN OUR EYES TO THE FUTURE

"It is evident from study of the Holy Scriptures that God created the earth for all creatures------past, present and future," said Tom Thomas Chairman of the Gulf Coast Soil Conservation District, in announcing the annual Soil Stewardship Week observance.

May 19-26 has been set aside as Soil Stewardship Week in the more than 2,900 soil conservation districts over the United States, and the Gulf Coast District will join in the observance. The theme for this year's observance is "We Turn Our Eyes to the Future."

Cattlemen re-elect officers

The following officers were re-elected by the cattlemen: Mark Richard, president; Billy Doland, vice-president; Clifford Myers, secretary-treasurer.

Board members renamed were J. A. Lowery, Archie Berwick, D. Y. Doland, Horace Montie, Horace Mhire, Eraste Hebert and Curtis McCain.

Softball tourney set at Hackberry

An invitational softball tournament will be held Sunday, May 26 at the Hackberry high school softball diamond, according to Harold Buckmaster.

Teams from Hackberry, Sulphur and other towns are scheduled to play in the tourney which will last from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

At least five Southern legislatures made specific provision for raising faculty salaries during 1962.

Drought not disaster yet says committee

The long drought has created serious problems for Cameron rice growers and cattlemen but it is a "little premature" to declare Cameron disaster area at this time.

This is the report from the Cameron parish disaster committee which met last Friday at the courthouse. Since that time a number of small showers have fallen throughout the parish relieving the situation a little.

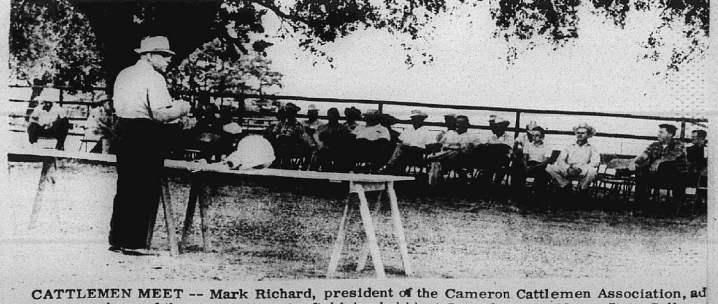
About 60 per cent of the rice allotment in Cameron parish has been planted and much of that rice does not have an even stand the committee was told.

The intracoastal canal is about two feet below normal and the water in Sweetlake contains 30 grains of salt per gallon. This will not hurt the rice unless continued for a prolonged period of time.

Attending the meeting were L. J. Manuel, FHA representative; Hadley A. Fontenot, county agent; Charles S. Hackett, ASCS county office manager; Charles H. Precht, ASCS county chairman; and Terry J. Clement, SCS representative.

The committee agreed that if locks on the intracoastal canal are kept open for boat traffic, rice farmers will suffer a great deal and possibly lose their crops from salt water intrusion.

If water gets too low in the canal, the locks would be opened to allow salt water in to raise the water level.



Pastures are very short, especially in the northern part of the parish.

Evidence of retarded calf growth is prominent, though most of the adult cattle show little decrease in weight. In lower Cameron, cattle usually have an abundant supply of water in ditches and borrow pits. These are dry, except for some that have salt water.

Without rain in the near future, hay will be very short.

Corn planted in Cameron is generally considered to be a poor stand and there is still about 30 percent to be planted.

An ACP funds have been obligated and the ASCS office has been forced to turn down several applications for water wells. Emergency funds are needed, the committee decided to help farmers dig wells. Wells are needed in lower Cameron. Many of them can only be dug when the marshes are dry.
