Candy sale slated

Camp Fire boys and girls will be out in their neighborhoods during January selling candy. Thirty percent of the Sowela Council's budget for the year comes from the proceeds of the Candy Sale. The youth members will also be earning awards for themselves and their individual clubs.

The top sellers will be treated at a restaurant after the sale is over.

The Sowela Council is a national non-profit youth organizaton serving school age girls and boys in communities nationwide. The Council owns and operates Camp Wi-Ta-Wentin which is used for outdoor activities for members and summer camping sessions.

If you have not been contacted to buy candy call Laura Doxey at 775-5284 or Cindy Sellers at 775-7586.

Hackberry firemen are recognized

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Conner, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ducote, Police Jurors; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Nunez, Creole Fire Chief; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Constance, Holly Beach Fire Chief; and Oscar Reyes, Cameron Fire Chief.

The Fireman of the Year award was a tie. Sharing honors were Mark Granger and Ricky Maddox. A plaque was presented to each.

Patches were presented for years of service to Bynum Shove, 25 years; Jerry Constance, 10 years; Jimmy Brown, Claude Devall, Curtis Fountain, 5 years.

Chief Gerald Landry retired after 11 years of service. He was presented with a gold pocket watch, a token of appreciation for many hours of hard work.

Officers of 1988 were introduced. They are Mark Granger, Chief; Mike Welch and George Shove, assistant chiefs; Ricky Maddox and Jimmy Constance, captains; Jimmy Brown, lieutenant; Butch Silvers, secretary-treasurer; and Robert Silvers, reporter.

On Monday, Jan. 11, at 7 p.m., a C.P.R. class will be held at the fire station by the fire department. The public is invited to attend. Please contact Chuck Wright at 762-4669, if you are interested in attending.

(Lake Charles American Press, Jan. 7, 1921)
CAMERON TO BEGIN TICK ERADICATION

The police jury of Cameron Parish had a meeting Monday afternoon and adopted vigorous measures for the extermination of ticks in their boundaries, during 1921. They authorized H. R. Midkiff, federal inspector for Calcasieu, Jeff Davis and Cameron to buy the necessary medicine, appoint three inspectors and have everything in readiness to begin the campaign April 1.

All cattle in Cameron Parish have been released from quarantine except six or seven thousand head along the line of Calcasieu, and should any cattle cross over in 1921 into Cameron, they will be taken up and dipped at owners expense. The following inspectors have been selected by Mr. Midkiff and will be commissioned by the state: Francis Savore, Fred Eberling and Tom Bonsall.

Mr. Midkiff returned Tuesday morning from the meeting of the Cameron police jury and a brief survey of the work to be done in Cameron to rid the parish of tick this year.

Fur Festival is this week

By Geneva Griffith

The weatherman says it's a good bet that the 32nd annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival will live up to its reputation as the "coldest festival in Louisiana" when the event gets under way Thursday night.

The first event of the festival will be the Little Mister and Miss Cameron Parish contest at 7 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 7, at Cameron Elementary school.

The reigning royalty, Lizza Bailey and Scott Suratt, will crown the new Little Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Parish, who will participate in the other activities of the festival.

On Friday, Jan. 8, parish elimination contests will be held in trap shooting, archery and retriever dog trials.

Also on Friday, the new Miss Cameron Parish will be crowned by outgoing titleholder, Dena Rutherford. King Fur XV will be crowned by the outgoing king, Edward W. Swindell Jr.

The new king was selected by the board of directors of the festival and will be someone from the fur industry, which the festival is saluting this year.

Saturday, Jan. 9, is the big day of the festival and will feature all of the fur skinning contests, trap setting, oyster shucking, archery, dog trials and trap shooting competition as well as duck and goose calling.

Most of the events will be held in the Cameron Elementary school.

The Saturday afternoon parade down Cameron's main street (La. 27/82) will start at 2 p.m.

The parade marshal will be retired state Rep. Conway LeBleu and his wife Virgie. LeBleu completed a long term of service in the Louisiana Legislature last year.

The Louisiana Fur Queen will be announced at the Saturday night program of the festival, and will be chosen from representatives of fur producing parishes in Louisiana.

The schedule of events includes:

Thursday, Jan. 7

• 7 p.m. — Little Mister and Miss Cameron Parish contest and Talent competition, both at Cameron Elementary School auditorium.

Friday, Jan. 8

• 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. — Trap shooting competition (parish elimination) behind Masonic Temple in Cameron.

• 9 a.m. — Junior Archery contest (parish elimination) at Cameron Elementary School or Mosquito Control Barn in event of rain.

• 9 a.m. — Retriever dog trials (parish elimination), half-mile behind Cameron Parish Courthouse.

• 10:30 a.m. — Senior Archery contest (parish elimination) at Cameron Elementary School or Mosquito Control Barn in event of rain.

Saturday, Jan. 9

• 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. — Trap Shooting competition (state contest) behind Masonic Temple in Cameron.

• 8 a.m. — Retriever dog trials (state contest), half-mile behind Cameron Parish Courthouse.

• 9 a.m. — Junior muskrat skinning; Ladies muskrat skinning; Men's muskrat skinning; Junior nutria skinning; Ladies nutria skinning; Men's nutria skinning; Junior trap setting; Senior trap setting. Registration for all these events will be at 8 a.m. in the Cameron Elementary School gymnasium.

• 9 a.m. — Archery Contest (state elimination) at Cameron Elenentary School playground or Cameron Mosquito Control in event of rain.

• 9 a.m. — Registration for Duck and Goose Calling contests begin.

• 11 a.m. — Junior duck and goose calling; senior duck and goose calling.

• Noon (or immediately following trap setting contests) — Ladies oyster shucking contest (registration begins at 11 a.m.), men's oyster shucking contest (registration begins at 11 a.m.).

• 2 p.m. — Parade.

• 7 p.m. — Miss Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival pageant at Cameron Elementary School auditorium.

• 9:30 p.m. — Adult Fur Festival dance at Cameron Recreation Center.

• 9:30 p.m. — Youth Fur Festival dance at Cameron Elementary School gymnasium.

• 10 p.m. — Queen's Ball at Creole Community Center (Formal — admission $20 per couple.)

ACT tests set here

Cameron Parish Junior and Senior students will be able to take the ACT test at two Cameron Parish schools beginning in February. This will eliminate having to drive to Lake Charles or Sulphur to take the test.

Both Hackberry High School and South Cameron High School have been designated as ACT testing sites, according to Uland Guidry, Supervisor of Student Services with the Cameron Parish School Board.

Hackberry High School — April 16.

Students planning to take the ACT should contact the counselor at their respective school for an ACT application and instructions on completing the application. Students making application for the ACT must indicate their choice of test site and the code number for this test site.

For further information relative to the preparation for and taking of the ACT, students should contact the counselor at their respective high school immediately so as to meet the application deadline.

On January 12th we can show you how to take out your frustrations.

With dental implants from Lake Charles Memorial Hospital, you can leave the embarrassment, inconvenience, and discomfort of loose-fitting dentures behind.

One of the most advanced procedures in dental medicine today is now available through The Oral Surgery Center at Lake Charles Memorial Hospital. Because the dental implant procedure is new to this area, we're sponsoring a seminar to tell you more about it. Local oral and maxillofacial surgeons will describe the procedure and its advantages as well as answer any questions you may have.

If you are unable to attend the seminar, please call Memorial Hospital at 494-3125 for a free brochure on dental implants and The Oral Surgery Center.

If you need any or all teeth replaced, you should consider dental implants. Lake Charles Memorial Hospital is currently offering a free X-ray and initial evaluation. Call today to schedule your appointment, 494-3125.

Conservation practices are told by Moore

To participate in the 1988 farm program, Kirk Moore, County Executive Director for the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service for Calcasieu and Cameron parishes, said producers must certify that they have not and will not violate sodbuster and swampbuster regulations during the 1988 crop year.

Farmers who do not certify will be ineligible for program benefits for the 1988 cropyear on all land in which they have an interest Mr. Moore said. Program benefits include price and income supports, disaster payments, crop insurance, Farmers Home Administration loans, farm storage facility loans and other USDA program benefits.

Producers who have recently cultivated highly erodible land or producing an agricultural commodity, must certify that they are producing the crop under an approved conservation plan, if the land has not been exempted from these requirements.

Mr. Moore said highly erodible land is exempt through Jan. 1, 1990, if it was planted to an agricultural commodity or used as conservation use acreage or acreage conservation reserve at least one year between 1981 and 1985.

ASK OSHSNER

Cholesterol and heart

Q. I've been hearing a lot lately about cholesterol in the blood and its primary role in causing coronary heart disease. What is cholesterol and what would be an acceptable level of cholesterol? Mrs. TAC, Bossier City.

A. Dr. Bruce R. Leslie, a specialist in the secton of hypertensive diseases at Ochsner Clinic in New Orleans, says that cholesterol and triglycerides, also known as lipids, are fatty substances in the blood, which can influence the incidence of cardiovascular disease.

There are two kinds of cholesterol. Both travel in the blood as fat-and-protein units called lipoproteins. One can help reduce the amount of excess cholesterol clogging the blood vessels. This is called high-density lipoprotein, or HDL, and is the "good guy" of the two. The other is called low-density lipoprotein or, LDL, and encourages cholesterol buildup in the coronary arteries and elsewhere, Dr. Leslie explains.

All adults, age 20 and over, should be tested for cholesterol levels at least once every five years. This can be done by a simple blood test. At that time, an evaluation can be made by the physician of the presence of other risk factors for heart disease such as hypertension, cigarette smoking, diabetes mellitus, severe obesity and a family history of heart disease.

Patients with cholesterol levels of 200 or less are classified as "desirable blood cholesterol", and should have another test within five years. Patients with cholesterol levels greater than 200 should have a repeat test and the average of the two test results will then be used to guide subsequent decisions.

Patients with high blood cholesterol, those 240 and above, and those borderline cases, 200 to 239, who have two or more other risk factors such as hypertension, obesity, diabetes, etc., should have an analysis of their lipoproteins to determine the LDL or "bad guy" cholesterol levels in the blood.

Treatment usually begins with dietary therapy supervised by registered dietitians and designed to reduce the intake of saturated

CAMERON OUTDOORS

Duck season ends Saturday

By Loston McEvers

DUCK SEASON TO END

The duck and coot season will end Saturday. It was a fair season. We had a few birds in some areas, but very few in most areas. However, I think we had more birds in Southwest Louisiana than up east.

Also closed as of now is the season on rails, gallinules, doves and deer in our area.

The season is still open on geese until Feb. 3. Snipe is open until Feb. 21; woodcock until Feb. 7; quail is open until Feb. 28, also rabbit until Feb. 28 and squirrel will close Jan. 17.

With the hunting coming to an end in about 30 days or so, it'll be time to fish a few redfish and get ready for bass fishing around March 1.

OYSTER NEWS

Our oyster fishermen are still fighting the high water levels at Kinder. As I write this article, the level at Kinder is 14 ft. 2 inches, and it's raining and suppose to rain for a copule of days. Kinder's level has to be below 12 ft. for 48 hours to oyster fish in the permitted areas north of Cameron. It's really been a burden on our local oyster people, both fishermen and buyers. It also shows up in the economy of Cameron Parish, as these fishermen spend a lot of money with their local business people.

COMMMISSION MEETING

Some of the things to be discussed are:

* Update relative to federal regulations for closing of EEZ for redfish, king mackerel and Spanish mackerel. (This is what I was saying in a recent article, about closing of redfish and other species from 3 miles offshore.)

* To discuss redfish and speckle trout quota.

CANADIAN GEESE

As most of you know here in Louisiana, we cannot shoot Canadian geese, better known to us as ring necks. Every once in a while we read an article about the good shooting of Canadian geese in some of the states north of us. It sort of burns your blood, as we can't hunt them. Here's a little of an article I recently read:

In Kentucky for instance, January should be the peak or best for the Canada geese in the state. The outlook for this year for more geese is good. This is next to the Tennessee border and Ohio. Their season opened Dec. 12, and runs through Jan. 30. They claim there will be a quota over 16,000 Canada geese this year in that area, up 1500 from last year.

Now, the best shooting is Ballard County Wildlife Management Area and several private shooting preserves that surround the state's own facility. Hunters are chosen (150 hunters) by application and drawing. That's 150 hunters each day. If one of these hunters doesn't show, a walk-in hunter may hunt in his place.

The private club's out since the WMA offers a one day shoot at $75 per day, which includes blind and guide. There are over 200,000 Canada geese with a quota of 16,500 for the season. When the quota is filled the season closes. Steel shots are a must in the Western Wildlife Zone.

Doesn't this really get to you, to see they have plenty of Canada geese to have a hunting season and we don't. Oh well, maybe one of these days we'll have enough for us to be able to hunt.

NEW HAWG HOLE

Houston County Lake, a 1600 acre lake is near the town of Crockett, Tex. It is a non-heated reservoir, but because it is small and clear, it reacts quickly to warm sunlight. It is fed primarily by small creeks and springs. It maintains a constant water level. Location is between Houston and Dallas, 20 minutes east of I-45 by the town of Crockett. Depth at the dam is 40 feet, with submerged islands and creek channels with sand points and coves, all which are good fishing.

In 1975 the lake received 74,000 fingerlings of Florida strain bass, plus several hundred brood fish in the three to four pound range. Additional stockings were made for three more years. They already had some ten pound native bass, but when Florida strain bass and nature bass get together, the offspring are often very large.

The largest bass taken from the lake was a 14 pound 6½ oz. specimen. It's the largest taken from a non-heated lake in the state of Texas. It was caught on an artificial black lizard. Lots of 13 pounders have come from this lake.

With the catches of all these large bass, the Parks and Wildlife Department has listed Houston County Lake in the top 20 best lakes in Texas.

Most of the large bass are taken in the winter months starting in January. At one marina, they have taken pictures of 20 bass in one month, all going over 10 pounds.

See you at the Festival!

Before the Tax Reform Act, you could deduct all the interest you paid on credit cards, home loans, boat loans, vacation loans—on just about any kind of credit.

Now it's different. Most of your interest payments won't be fully deductible *unless they're on loans secured by your home.

Calcasieu Marine National Bank now provides a way to use your home equity for the credit you need...and get all the interest tax-deductions you deserve.

It's called Home Asset Line, and it's one of the most convenient and flexible ways you'll find to access the loan power of your home.

Here's how Home Asset Line works: You set up your "line" by consolidating your existing loans and credit card balances into one or more loans at Calcasieu Marine. These loans are secured by a first or second mortgage on your home, and there may be some costs incurred by you for items such as attorney's fees for title opinions, appraisal and filing fees. Once your home mortgage is established, however, additional loans may be secured by this same mortgage. This greatly reduces your expenses in maintaining the tax-deductibility of your interest payments when you need additional loans in the future. And, it keeps paperwork to an absolute minimum.

Whenever you need money—for a car, boat, vacation or any worthwhile purpose—your Home Asset Line uses your established home mortgage as security. Each loan has its own interest rate and term, and its own application and approval process. But no matter what the loan is for, it's secured by your home mortgage. And that can preserve all the interest tax-deductions you are entitled to under the new law.

Talk to your Calcasieu Marine banker about how you can have flexible, convenient access to your home equity with Home Asset Line.

*Consult your tax advisor about the new tax laws and their application to your situation. Calcasieu Marine does not offer tax consultation or preparation services.

This year
it can also protect you from the tax man.

32nd Annual Fur & Wildlife Festival

Get ready for the coldest Festival!

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

CAMERON — The weatherman says it's a good bet that the 32nd annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival will live up to its reputation as the "coldest festival in Louisiana" when the event gets under way Thursday night.

The first event of the festival will be the Little Mister and Miss Cameron Parsh contest at 7 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 7, at Cameron Elementary school.

The reigning royalty, Lizza Bailey and Scott Suratt, will crown the new Little Mr. and Mrs. Cameron Parish, who will participate in the other activities of the festival.

On Friday, Jan. 8, parish elimination contests will be held in trap shooting, archery and retriever dog trials.

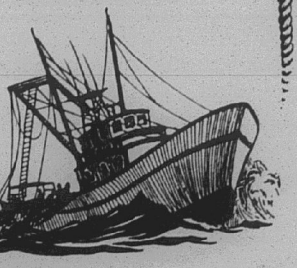
Also on Friday, the new Miss Cameron Parish will be crowned by outgoing titleholder, Dena Rutherford. King Fur XV will be crowned by the outgoing king, Edward W. Swindell Jr.

The new king was selected by the board of directors of the festival and will be someone from the fur industry, which the festival is saluting this year.

Saturday, Jan. 9, is the big day of the festival and will feature all of the fur skinning contests, trap setting, oyster shucking, archery, dog trials and trap shooting competition as well as duck and goose calling.

Most of the events will be held in the Cameron Elementary school.

The Saturday afternoon parade down Cameron's main street (La. 27/82) will start at 2 p.m.



The parade marshal will be retired state Rep. Conway LeBleu and his wife Virgie. LeBleu completed a long term of service in the Louisiana Legislature last year.

The Louisiana Fur Queen will be announced at the Saturday night program of the festival, and will be chosen from representatives of fur producing parishes in Louisiana.

WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS!

On behalf of the citizens of Cameron Parish, I wish to extend to you a big welcome to the Annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival and to Cameron Parish.

We are proud of our Festival because it calls attention to the fact that Cameron Parish is the leading fur producing area in the nation and has one of the most varied and concentrated populations of waterfowl, wildlife and fisheries to be found anywhere on the North American Continent.

Take time while you are in the parish to see some of the examples of this wildlife and fisheries. Visit the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge at Grand Chenier and see waterfowl. Take a look at the shrimp boats tied up at the Cameron wharves. Take a ride down the beach road between Holly Beach and Johnson Bayou and view the longest stretch of accessible beach in Louisiana. Walk the natural trail at the Sabine Refuge, visit their new visitors center and marvel at the thousands of ducks and geese than can be seen feeding in the marshes along the road.

But while you are here in our parish, we do urge you to drive safely. While our long stretches of roads may entice you to drive a little faster, we encourage you not to exceed the speed limit. The 55 m ile limit IS enforced in Cameron Parish and all Cameron Parish Sheriff units are equipped with radar units. We have strict enforcement, not to harass motorists, but to save lives--and we have been successful in these attempts.

We hope you enjoy your visit to the Festival and to our Parish and that you return home safely. And be sure to come back to Cameron Parish again--you're always welcome!!

Your Friend,
James R. Savoie,
Sheriff, Cameron Parish

We are the champions!!

Conway LeBleu

LeBleu to lead parade Saturday

Rep. Conway LeBleu of Cameron, who has served in the House of Representatives for the past 24 years, will be honored by the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival which has named him as the Parade Marshal for this year's festival parade.

Rep. LeBleu, who did not seek re-election in the October primary, will go out of office in March. He will be succeeded by Randy Roach of Lake Charles, who was elected to the post.

Rep. LeBleu represents the 36th District, which takes in all of Cameron parish and a portion of Calcasieu parish.

LeBleu was elected to the Legislature in 1964 after having previously served for four years on the Cameron Parish Police Jury. He served for years on the Appropriation Committee and the Nautral Resources Committee.

The Cameron representative gained the reputation of being one of the best liked and most respected members of the Legislature. He was famed for his Tuesday night seafood supper which he hosted for fellow legislators.

LeBleu's legislative service carried on a tradition started by his great-grandfather, S. P. Henry of Cameron, who served in the Legislature in the late 1800's. He served in the House from 1888 to 1892, in the Senate from 1882 to 1896 and again in the House from 1886 to his death in 1901. He also served two terms as Speaker of the House.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Logree LeBleu of Lake Charles, LeBleu attended McNeese, Colorado A&M and LSU, receiving a degree in Animal Science.

He has been a cattleman for many years and plans to continue that pursuit, as well as do some traveling with his wife, the former Vergie McCall.

will be shown in various Cameron parish schools.

The display is of much interest in Cameron Parish due to the many family connections between the settlers of both parishes.

This 16 panel exhibit was researched through various universities and museums throughout Louisiana as well as from personal interviews with some of Vermilion Parish's oldest citizens.

Film maker Gerard Sellers approached the Vermilion Police Jury in 1986 with his ideas for an oral history project. $6,000 in state funding was secured. The Jury allocated $2,500, which was matched by the Louisiana State Acadian Odyssey Bicentennial Commission. The other $1,000 came from the La. State Division of the Arts.

Phase 1 of the project, encompassing the wetlands areas of the parish, was recently completed.

ERNEST MEAUX of Holly Beach was the winner of the goose calling contest at the 1986 Fur and Wildlife Festival. Afterwards he gave a demonstration for the audience that was so effective that he attracted a flock of geese from a nearby marsh.

Trap setting to be event again in '88

An annual feature of the La. Fur and Wildlife Festival is the trap setting contest, which is divided into junior and senior divisions.

The Cameron parish elimination will be held from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Friday behind the Cameron Masonic Temple. Each senior contestant will set 12 traps.

The three senior contestants with the lowest time will be the finalists and participate in the final contest on the stage during the Saturday night program.

In the junior division each contestant will set six traps.

THE CARNIVAL rides are a big attraction for the kids at the festival each year.

Shucking contest

The men and women oyster shucking contests will be featured during the Saturday program of the La. Fur and Wildlife Festival.

Registration begins at 11 a.m. in the Cameron Elementary gym with the two contests to follow the trap setting contests.

Each contestant will shuck 12 oysters for time in the men's division and six in the women's division. Oysters will be provided but contestants should bring their own knives.

Prizes in each division are $75, $50, $35, $25 and $15.

MUSING...

Trapping important parish industry

By Bernice Denny

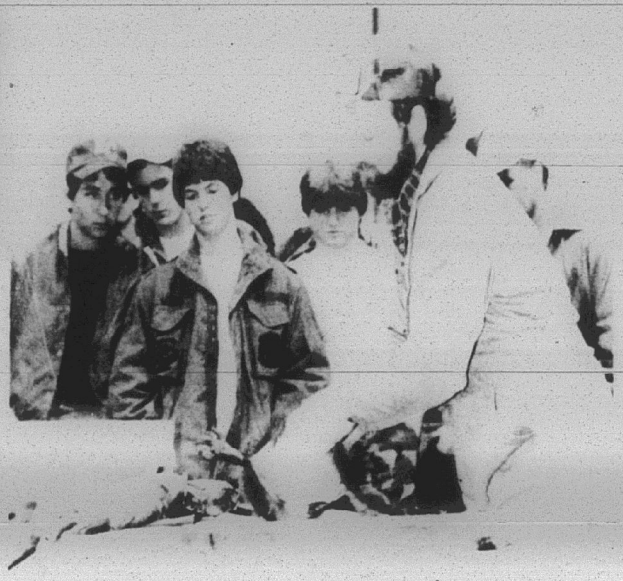
The fur-trapping industry has played an important part in the economy of Cameron since the early days of its settlement--prior even to its becoming a parish.

Having reached its peak in the early 1900's, a decline ensued. In this writer's opinion it was due in part to the Great Depression of the '30's, two world wars, and the overshadowing boom of the oil industry. Each of the above has become history, and the fur industry has once again made its comeback.

The principal fur-bearing animal of Cameron has always been the muskrat. Today there is the nutria, a fairly late comer to the parish.

Methods of trapping have improved greatly during this century. Wise conservaton regulations seek to prevent depletion of wild animal life.

At the beginning of the 1900's hand-dug ditches from the shoreline of the ridges extended out through the marshes to small lakes. The trapper in his pirogue poled out each morning to "run his traps." Or, he bogged through mud to small hills on which he had concealed his weaponry.



Back home he skinned, de-fleshed, and cleaned the pelts, stretched them out and nailed them to barn or crib walls to dry.

Marsh buggies, canals, motor boats, new methods of skinning and drying have made the old ways archaic.

A century ago the marsh was more or less open to any small trapper who lived adjacent to it. The majority of trappers on Grand Chenier trapped directly in front of their homes regardless of land ownership.

Many trappers in those long-ago days moved their whole families with them to some remote spot near their trapping area. They considered the ways of the marsh as sufficient education for their youngsters and schooling as unnecessary fol-de-rol.

The Fur and Wildlife Festival, organized in 1955, pays tribute to the fur industry as well as to all others in Cameron Parish. The festival impresses upon the all the riches, and potentials for its own future and for its contribution to the world.

Funnel cake sale set

The parents of the Grand Lake grade six class will sell funnel cakes during the Cameron Parish Fur Festival. Their booth will be located in front of Cameron State Bank in Cameron, all day Friday and Saturday.

Kaylynn and Ricky Poole, parents of Carrie Poole, will be in charge of the booth and invite everyone to come by. Soft drinks will be sold also.

The fund raiser is to help finance a class field trip in May.

Museum to be open for the festival

The Leesburg Museum in Cameron will be open from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. Friday, Jan. 8, and Saturday, Jan. 9, during the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival.

Louisiana Fur & Wildlife Festival 1988

Welcome

To The 32 Annual Louisiana Fur And Wildlife Festival

Hospitality and friendship are the by-words in Cameron year-round, but it is especially true during our gala winter festival each year, when we celebrate the abundance of the waters and marshlands around us.

The emphasis is on wildlife-with duck calling contests, field trials for retrievers, nutria and muskrat skinning contests, shooting competitions and arts and crafts displays centering around the fish, fowl and furbearers that are so much a part of our culture and economy. But there are also plenty of other things that mark the festive spirit of Southwest Louisiana-parades and beauty queens, abundant good food and lots of fun.

Come join us for one of the most unique festivals in Louisiana, and experience first-hand the delights of one of America's most naturally abundant regions.

We'll make you feel right at home.

Terrebonne girl is Fur Queen

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Karen Engeron, a 17-year-old brunette from Terrebonne Parish, was named Louisiana Fur Queen at the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival Saturday night.

First runner-up was Tiffany Williams representing Vermilion Parish; second was Stephani Bennett of Calcasieu Parish, and third runner-up was Laura Borne of Livingston Parish.

There was a tie for the Miss Personality title between Keri Trotter of Iberia Parish and Miss Williams.

Ed Kelly was in charge of the program and the Rev. Rod Kennedy was master of ceremonies.

* * *

Mrs. Ward Fontenot was narrator of the queen's contest and Mrs. Roberta Broussard was in charge of the beauty contest. Mrs. Wayne Johnson was pianist.

Earlier in the day, his sister, Alice won first place in the ladies' muskrat skinning with two rats in 38 seconds.

All three will represent the Festival in international competition at the National Outdoor Show in Cambridge, Md.

The Fur Queen will be leaving shortly to represent the fur and wildlife festival at the Mardi Gras Ball in Washington, D. C. wearing her black mink and leather coat that was presented to her Saturday night.

She was introduced by Bill Morris, vice president of the festival, and she entertained by singing vocal numbers and playing the flute.

Lisa Roberts, the reigning Fur Queen and the 1987 Louisiana Queen of Queens was introduced and was given a key to the city.

Morris gave the welcome to the festival. Paul Coreil was the master of ceremonies during the Friday night event.

Pageant coordinators were Ruby Dupuie, Donna Vaughn and Deala Guthrie. Assistants were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kershaw and Anne Henry.

The night's entertainment was by the Grand Chenier cheerleaders, the South Cameron Elementary cheerleaders and a dance by Eric Boone and Tony Beard.

Earlier in the day, a tea was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ortego for the festival visitors, and a reception was held Friday in the home Mr. and Mrs. James F. Henry, Jr.

Wilkerson named as Fur Queen

Katheryn Leigh Wilkerson of Creole was named Miss Cameron Parish during the Friday night program of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival.

The South Cameron High School senior is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Wilkerson and was crowned by last year's Miss Cameron, Dena Rutherford.

Tom Mudd of Cameron was named King Fur XX and was crowned by last year's King, Edward Swindell Jr. His identity was revealed by Judge H. Ward Fontenot.

First runner-up in the parish contest was Tamara Lynn Schmidt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dupuie of Creole; second runner-up was Jennifer Tramonte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nick Tramonte of Holly Beach; and third runner-up was Melanie Faulk, daughter of Sherry Dinger of Cameron and the late Michael Faulk.

King Fur XX Mudd is a member of a pioneer Cameron Parish family and has been associated with the fur industry since he was a little boy. He has been a major fur buyer in the area for many years.

Little Miss & Mr. are named

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Amy Marie Racca and Shawn Authement were named "Little Miss and Mr. Cameron Parish" at the opening program of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival held Thursday in the auditorium of South Cameron High School. They were crowned by last year's little King and Queen, Lizza Bailey and Scott Surratt.

Amy is the daughter of Susan and the late Murl Racca; and Shawn is the son of Samuel and Theresa Authement, all of Cameron.

The first runners-up were Jessica Lonthier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lonthier of Grand Lake, and Corey Russell Badon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Badon of Johnson Bayou.

Other contestants who represented their communities in the contest were Toni Kay Nunez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Nunez and Corey Mitchel Kelly, son of Mitchel and Pam Kelly, all of Grand Chenier; Jordon Scott Chesson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Chesson of Grand Lake; Shelly Fontenot, and Michael Fontenot, daughter and son of Susan and Mike Fontenot of Hackberry; Regina Anne McGee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny McGee of Johnson Bayou; and Lacie Baccigalopi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Baccigalopi, and John Mark Montie; son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Montie of Creole.

Winners in the talent contests were the Grand Chenier Elementary Cheerleaders in the group contest, who did an interpretation of the "Cajun Rap". They were also the overall talent. The South Cameron Elementary Cheerleaders came in as first runner-up with their interpretation of "Louisiana Man."

Brittany McDaniel was first place winner in the solo duet contest with a jazz-acrobat number, and runners-up were Eric Boone and Tony Beard with a Kata dance.

Melanie Faulk was the mistress of ceremonies and Dena Rutherford was the narrator for the contest.

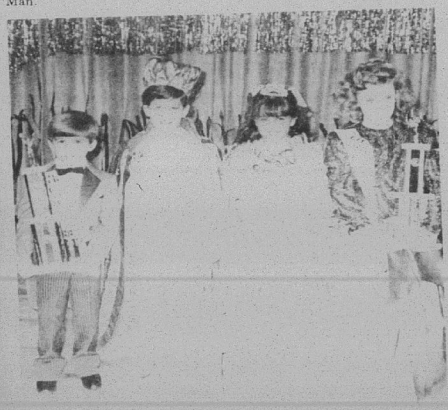
Mrs. Rosilie Perry was program coordinator, assisted by Shirley Bonsall, Sue Mhire, Peggy Benoit, Ruby Kelly and Wes Perry.

Stock show



The annual Cameron parish Livestock Show and Sale will be held on two weekends this year, according to Gary Wicke, Cameron Parish Extension Agent.

Sunday, Jan. 17, will be the beef breeding and steer show starting at 1:30 p.m. Dr. Terry Clement of USL will be judging the beef cattle and steers. Showmanship will follow the regular beef show judged by Tommy Shields, Associate County Agent from Calcasieu Parish.

The swine, rabbit, sheep and broiler show is slated for Friday, Jan. 22, starting at 8 a.m. Saturvicious dog.

Rice meeting

The Louisiana Rice Council's annual meeting will be held Wednesday, Jan. 20, at the Rice Festival Building in Crowley.

Jurors are installed

The oath of office was administered by Clerk of Court Roland Primeaux to two new members and four members who were re-elected to the body.

Election of officers followed with Kenneth Ducote being named president and Carol Trahan, vice-president. The jurors continued the practice they began a few years ago of rotating these two offices among all of the jury members.

Renamed to the post they presently hold were Garner Nunez, parish administrator and treasurer, and Hayes "Pete" Picou, Jr., secretary.

The jury president presented outgoing juror Braxton Blake with a gavel and plaque in appreciation of his services. The other outgoing juror, Lester Richard, Jr., was unable to be present to receive similar awards.

Oyster meeting requested here

At the request of parish oyster fishermen the Cameron Parish Police Jury Monday agreed to ask the Federal Drug and Food Administration to hold a meeting with parish officials and oystermen concerning oystering in Calcasieu Lake.

Oystering in parts of the lake were permitted this year by the federal agency with the provision that it would be closed when the river stage was at 15 feet at Kinder on the Calcasieu River. The higher the river, the more pollution that is washed into the lake.

Rudy Aplin, parish fisherman, told the jury that the oystering has been closed most of the season due to heavy rains and that the fishermen are suffering.

He said that the oystermen were victims of the federal government and that there was no more pollution in the lake than there was ten years ago. He said the government had changed the criteria on determining the pollution.

"We want to find an alternate solution," Aplin said. "None of the fishermen want to be on welfare."

Aplin also told the jury that there were oysters in other parts of Calcasieu Lake and Sabine Lake that could be harvested if purification plants were built to take the impurities from the oysters.

He asked the jury to check into the possibility of getting a state or federal grant to build such a plant.

Paul Coreil, local wildlife and fisheries agent, told the jury there was some interest in putting such plants in Hackberry and Grand Chenier.

He also said there was a possibility of getting the oyster season extended but that this would take a legislative act. He said it was hoped that this could be done at a special session expected to be called by the new governor.

Fight lost on TEDs

The fight by local and other Gulf fishermen to forestall the implementing of the TED regulations on shrimpers apparently has been lost and a meeting will be held at 2 p.m., Tuesday, Jan. 26, at the Cameron multi-purpose building to acquaint fishermen with the requirements.

Paul Coreil, local wildlife and fisheries agent with the Extension Service, said that the turtle excluder devices that will be certified for use on shrimp boats will be explained to the fishermen.

The TEDs, as they came to be called, are scheduled to be mandatory on all shrimp boats in the Gulf effective March 1. They are designed to permit sea turtles, which are on the endangered list, to escape through an opening in the shrimp net.

Fishermen vigorously fought the TEDs stating that they were dangerous, would cause more fuel consumption and would cut the shrimp catch.

CAMERON OUTDOORS

Fall shrimp season slow

By Loston McEvers

FUR & WILDLIFE FESTIVAL

The time was right, the weather was right, so came the 32nd annual Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival. Some say it was cold, but it's suppose to be cold, in fact the coldest festival in our state.

This year's festial was as good as many we've had. Congratulations are in order to all the winners, which is printed in a different part of the paper. Also, congratulations to all who didn't win, you were not losers, you helped make this festival competitive and a successful event for our parish.

SHRIMPING & OYSTERING

The blame for our bad fall shrimp season is said to be not enough rainfall. In fact, most area shrimpers gave it up before the Dec. 21, closing, some as early as the latter part of November.

Most shrimpers who catch 1,000 pounds or more per day will say it's a good day, and 400 to 500 pounds is average, but most were catching less than 100 pounds per day.

In all light, 1987 will fall way short from the 1986 catches.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, who keeps track of catches in our state, has figures for August, September, and October (Fall or white shrimp season).

In August 1987, 9 million pounds of shrimp, weighed after heads were removed, were caught. In August, 1986, 9.6 million pounds of shrimp were caught.

In September, 1987, 8.2 million pounds of shrimp were caught, compared to 9.6 million in September, 1986.

In October 1987, 7.9 million pounds were caught, compared to 13.3 million pounds in October, 1986.

Our spring or brown shrimp season from May to July was average.

The shrimp season in offshore territorial waters remain open through Jan. 30.

It seems our oyster fishermen are having as much bad luck, and lots of those fishing for oysters are shrimpers trying to make a few dollars. The water level control at 12 foot in Kinder has really shut out lots of days of oystering. As I write this the tide is 13.7. It has to be below 12 feet for at least 48 hours to be able to oyster in the lake in Cameron. Well, as it goes, our Commission of Wildlife and Fisheries met in Baton Rouge last Thursday, Jan. 7, and surprised everyone that has to do with redfish.

The Commission found, as records show, our commercial fishermen reached or went over their quota of 1.7 million pounds of redfish. It voted to close commercial fishing on redfish Jan. 15, to Aug. 31, in all Louisiana waters.

Sports fishermen were successful in the legislation last year in putting quotas on redfish and speckle trout on commercial fishermen.

What I'd like to say, not all sports fishermen were behind this, just the big organizations. But to everyone's surprise, commission members voted 4-2 to also close all sports fishing in Louisiana waters effective Jan. 15, to June 1.

Louisiana waters extend from the coast to three miles into the Gulf. Louisiana waters also include inland lakes and bayous.

A Louisiana State University scientist advising the Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries, said his task force had no scientific data to show sports fishing should be closed.

I figured if the feds closed their waters, Louisiana would follow suit. Little brother does what big brother wants.

The big argument is that the redfish is becoming extinct, but with a quota of 1.7 million pounds being reached so fast, there's plenty of redfish out there, it seems to me.

I'll say this, there's a lot of business that will suffer just as much or more than the commercial people by this shut down, as the large inventory of redfish rigs, grubs and other gear, beside the gasoline and boat and motor repairs that will be lost in our economy.

As far as the big restaurants are concerned, they'll blacken catfish, drum, flounder, or tuna, so redfish won't bother them. I guess in two or three years, we'll see a "stop" on some of the fish I mentioned above. I feel I can talk about this, as I wasn't against the commercial fishermen even though I'm a sports fisherman. I hold a lot of respect on both sides.

If we don't get together and go to the next legislative session, this spring in Baton Rouge, and try to work together as commercial and sportsmen, we're doomed. We need a limit of 10 redfish or spec combined and a size as is now on record, because 50 is just too many fish for one angler, especially redfish and speckle trout.

We need to start getting our act together now, and stop fighting each other and try to work together to make both sides happy and something we can all live with.

3 WHEELERS IN NEWS

With a lawsuit by the federal government, some all-terrain vehicles will not be sold any more. The popular 3-wheeler is one being taken out for safety reasons. They claim they have had too many injuries and deaths relating to the three-wheeler.

The Justice Department wanted the owners of these 3-wheelers to be refunded their money and ban all sales. However, no refund will take place, but manufacturers have pulled 3-wheelers out of the 1988 line.

Some of the most popular manufacturers agreed to provide notices to all purchasers of ATV's, warning them of possible risks and to provide free hand books on training to future customers, as well as those who bought models in the past year.

I know I have a 3-wheeler, and it's very dangerous if you do not handle it in a correct manner.

We're with all this cold weather up above us, we may see some woodcocks in our area, and the season is still on until Feb. 7.

A LITTLE MORE ON REDFISH & SPECKLE TROUT

With all the controversy on the redfish and speckle trout industry, we think 1987 was bad, 1988 won't be any better, probably worse.

Lots of people in the state department think blackened redfish on menus across the nation has caused this problem, but the industry had a $100 million impact on the economy before that.

We also have about 200,000 sports fishermen who fish redfish and speckle trout, but they also buy licenses, boats and motors, tackle and tackle boxes, fuel and oil, ice, cold drinks, beer and food and rod-reel and line.

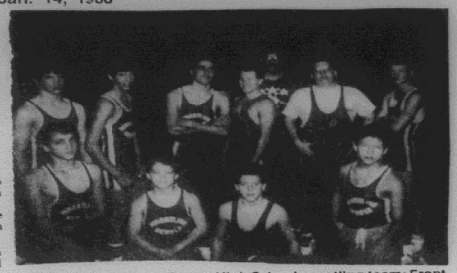
Now our commercial fishermen also buy all of the above, and use local banks to take care of their money transactions.

What's so sad is some groups of sports fishermen are trying to hog it all, but cutting out the commercial fishermen who make their living in this manner is a no-no.

Like one guy says, the fish-for-pay and fish-for-play people were at each other's throat all during the year of 1987.

So it's a quota for commecial fishermen of 1.7 million pounds of redfish and 1 million pounds of speckle trout.

The sports fisherman is allowed to catch a mixture of 50 reds or specs per day. As of 1988 remember a spec's minimum length is 12 inches, while the redfish went up to 15 inches and no more than two fish over 30 inches total length.



Florida, Texas, and Alabama don't allow any commercial fishing of reds and specs, while Mississippi allows 200,000 pound quota.

Sports fishermen in those states are limited to 5 to 10 fish per day.

Now, some say the fishermen frm those states come to our Louisiana waters to catch their fish and we can't stop them.

Things had sort of leveled off, but then here comes the National Marine Fisheries Service saying that the spawning of these fish in the Gulf of Mexico was in bad shape, so as of Jan. 1, 1988, all redfish, commercial and recreational, was to end.

Not that this was so bad, but they want the states to close fishing in inland waters as well.

Parish youths are Players of Week

By ROBERT MANUEL

The Lake Area Quarterback Club of Lake Charles program which awards "Player of the Week" certificates for outstanding performances each week to a boy and girl basketball player, included during their November and December selection, several Cameron Parish players.

From Grand Lake High School, Kay Lynn Breaux and Rhonda Verzwyvelt were selected as "Co-Players of the Week" in their upset victory over Hackberry. From Hackberry, Charlie Seay and sister Monise Seay and from South Cameron, Kris Rutherford and Willie Jackson were named.

At the completion of the 1988 basketball season, the QB Club will sponsor a banquet type social with all "Players of the Week" as their honored guests. The outstanding basketball player in both boys and girls divisions in the Lake area will be recognized.

— TARPONS WIN —

The Tarpons came out strong in the second half to erase Vermilion Catholic's 40-27 half-time lead. Willie Jackson canned 32 and Walter Jones 24 to lead all scores in the offensive fireworks. Don Roland led the team in defensive big plays.

The Lady Tarpons lost a heartbreaker 44-43. The hard working Lady Tarpons made a strong comeback in the second half to narrow the Screaming Eagles 10 point half-time lead to 44-42 with 4 seconds on the clock. The Lady Tarpons' length of court, out-of-bounds play clicked and Kris Rutherford took a jumper from 12 feet out. The shot missed, but a foul put Rutherford right back under the gun with 2 freebies to try for a tie. The first shot hit dead center but the second and tying shot spun around the rim and flipped out. The final score 44-43. Kris Rutherford led a balanced team scoring effort with 14 points.

DISTRICT PLAY

District competition for all Cameron Parish teams will be in full force beginning Friday with Grand Lake at home vs the Reeves Raiders, Hackberry at Starks, Johnson Bayou at Hyatt and South Cameron vs the Gueydan Bears. Girls games begin at 6:30 and boys at 8 p.m.

WRESTLING TOURNEY

South Cameron and Hackberry wrestlers will enter deep waters in the annual Lafayette High School Wrestling Tournament. Thirty-five teams from Division I and II will compete for the all Louisiana individual and team titles.

The meet will be extremely competitive, as the majority of the teams will be from Division I (AAA-AAAA). Division II wrestlers will find the going rough, but should benefit greatly from the competition. The meet will be a day long affair Friday and Saturday of this week.

The annual Cameron Parish Freshman Basketball Tournament for boys and girls will be Saturday at South Cameron High School. Games will begin at 9 a.m. and end with 5 p.m. finals.

Redfish ban to be considered

All fishing for redfish in state territorial waters will be suspended at midnight Friday, Jan. 15, the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries announced today.

The closure applies to both commercial and recreational fishermen.

The commercial fishing ban will remain in force until Aug. 31 while that on recreational fishing will end June 1, said LDWF Secretary, J. Burton Angelle, Sr.

Angelle said the action was taken to relieve pressure on the heavily stressed redfish resource. He noted that it matches the shutdown on redfish instituted Jan. 1 by the federal government for all federal waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

The Louisiana closure was authorized by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission after a public hearing in Baton Rouge.

In closing the commercial harvest, the commission observed a mandate of the 1987 Legislature setting a limit of 1.7 million pounds on the redfish catch for 1987-88.

Biologists told the commission that an estimated 1,727,510 pounds of redfish had been taken since last Sept. 1. A quota will be set for the 1988-89 season.

The commission invoked emergency powers under R.S. 56:22 to suspend sport fishing. No estimate of the recreational catch was immediately available, but experts said that in 1986 it matched the commercial harvest.

Secretary Angelle stressed that in state as well as federal waters, both commercial and sport fishermen would be required to throw back all redfish caught accidentally by net or hook.

The commission approved the redfish closure in two separate resolutions. Fishing for speckled trout and other species remains unaffected.

BULLETIN

The Pilot has learned that the La. Wildlife and Fisheries Commission will meet in Baton Rouge Thursday to reconsider its action on the closing of the redfish fishing season for recreation fishing. However, regardless of its action on this, the closing of redfish fishing for commercial fishermen is expected to remain in effect.

Students are rodeo placers

Cameron Parish students placing at the sixth qualifying rodeo held in Shreveport are Thad Little, saddle broncs, second; Andre Delcambre, second, Corey Billedeaux, third, and Jimmy Saltzman, fourth, calf roping; Chad Mudd, first in boys cutting; Jerry Corley, first in steer wrestling and Hank Brown of Marthaville and David Montie of Creole, first in team roping.

Racca rodeo Assoc. Pres.

Steve Racca of Hackberry has been moved up to president of the Louisiana High School Rodeo Association, Inc., the adult organization that sponsors the high school rodeos. Matt Vincent of Sulphur resigned the post recently because he is moving out of state.

Court holds monthly meet

Court Mary Olive CDA held their monthly meeting Jan. 5, with Regent Brenda Boudreaux presiding. Cora Hendrix, poster contest chairman for the Fur Festival gave a progress report.

Feb. 2, will be the regular husband-wife covered dish supper. Charter members will be honored that night. A regular meeting will follow.

The annual KC/CDA awards banquet will be held Feb. 6, at the KC hall in Creole. Social will be at 6:30 and the banquet will begin at 7 p.m. Anyone wishing to go should contact Brenda Boudreaux or Telsmar Bonsall.

A reception for new members is planned for June 7. For more information call Bernice Bertrand, membership chairman.

DUCK HUNTING CLOSED

Saturday, Jan. 9, saw the closing of the second half of the duck hunting season. There were 31 degrees and some ice for closing day.

Sportsmen stated they had one good weekend, which was at the start of hunting season. After that hunting began going down. The ducks scattered and didn't return. The second half started out poor and was worse at the end.

Sportsmen say the cost of hunting is now doubled what it used to be years back, but they will try again this coming season.

MUSING. . . .

Memories of wintry days on the Chenier

By Bernice Denny

The recent wet, freezing weather has called to mind similar winter days when I was a child in Grand Chenier. I remember the winters then as being much colder than now. Perhaps time and childish impressions are responsible.

In almost all modern homes inclement weather does not bring the additional work that it did in those days.

The house of today with year-round weather control is in wide contrast to the one of yesteryear with its fireplace or big wood-burning heater and the kitchen range. It was imperative that the huge woodbox in the kitchen be filled with kindling and with wood chopped into proper stove lengths.

Fireplace or heater wood was usually piled in a corner of the front porch.

Before retiring for the night, the master of the house covered the coals in the heater with ashes in order to keep them alive. If, in spite of his care, the embers died out, he resorted to his bucket or can of corncobs soaking in coal oil (a forerunner of kerosene) to start a quick fire.

Many of the ladies on the Chenier took great pride in raising pot plants. Among those grown in our home were geraniums of every color, begonias, wandering jew, coleus, rubber plant, snake plant, and Boston, maiden hair, and asparagus ferns. Ordinarily the ferns were kept inside the house, but dozens of the other plants grew in containers set on stairstep shelves on the long south porch.

When the temperature threatened a severe drop, all members of the family aided in bringing the growing plants into the wide hall. If a hard freeze were apparent (no weather reports broadcast in those days), my mother would light one or two lanterns, turn the wicks low, and set them among the potted plants to furnish warmth.

Another precaution was to empty water from the china pitchers sitting in bowls on washstands in bedrooms. The freezing water might cause them to break.

Extra quilts and blankets were placed on beds long before dark. The covers were turned back. Each person's sleeping garment was laid on his bed. A heated sadiron or brick was wrapped in old, soft cloth and placed in many a bed to warm it before its occupant crept in.

Sufficient water had been carried in during daylight hours to insure enough for family use and for heating the next morning to melt the frozen cistern faucet or the old well pump.

Drying clothes in freezing weather created a real problem. In homes where there were infants or small children daily washing was a necessity. Clothes over backs of chairs were placed before fireplace or heater. I often watched my mother carry partly dried clothes upstairs to hang over the rail built around the stairwell.

She would explain: "Warm air rises. They will be dry tomorrow."

The big pantry in our house was north of the kitchen. There were times when the contents of a fruit jar froze and burst its container. Brother and I enjoyed the times when milk froze in the big yellow crocks on pantry shelves. Then Grandmother would scoop out a cupful, mix it with sugar and vanilla, and hand one to each of us. Such a delicious tasting concoction it turned out to be! As we froze our little insides, we hugged the heater all the more.

The farmers had more work to do during freezing weather. There were ears of corn to be shucked and put into stable troughs for the horses. From the barn loft hay must be pitched down for the cattle. Little calves were fed and housed in the "shekay," a shed attached to the barn.

Grandfather brought in shelled corn for Grandmother to heat in big shallow pans in the oven. Then he fed it to the chicken before they paraded into the hen house. It was the opinion of my grandparents that hot food in freezing weather was needed for all, whether they boasted a stomach or a gizzard.

Although I recall only one snowfall during my childhood, I never gave up hopes that some winter it would flutter down in great white drifts.

It is interesting to noted that Cameron children of today--even with their increased scientific knowledge of weather patterns--still anticipate snowstorms comparable to those that our northern states have been experiencing.

Court news

Judge H. Ward Fontenot handed down the following sentences in 38th Judicial District Court to guilty pleas last week:

Pleas to D.W.I. drew fines of $400 and court costs or 30 days in jail, plus 10 days in jail to be suspended on the serving of 2 days in jail or 4 8-hour days of community service to: Gerald P. Hardy, 31, Basile, who was also fined $15 and costs or 1 day for running a red light, and court costs only for driving left of center; Kenneth Alvin Rood, 30, who was also fined court costs for reckless operation; Lane King Gambrell, 41, Alvin, Texas; who was also fined court costs for driving left of center; and James Dennis Hill, 35, Columbia, who had an obstruction of traffic day, Jan. 23 starts off with livestock judging contest at 9:30 a.m. followed by the buyers luncheon at 11:30 a.m.

The 1988 parish Show will be concluded by the annual junior livestock sale starting at 12:30 p.m.

Outdoor Queen

The group was escorted during their stay by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Theriot. They included Dr. and Mrs. Sam Wise, parents of the Outdoor Queen, Lisa Fitzhugh, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Ruark, Jr., Marie Ruark, Carmen Ruark, and Jay Newcomb.

Each year the local festival and the National Outdoor festival exchange delegations, with their respective queens leading the group.

DR. JAMES Sample, pastor of First Baptist Church, Sulphur, will teach the Bible Book of Malachi, at the First Baptist Church of Grand Chenier Sunday through Wednesday evenings at 6:30 on Jan. 17-20. All members of the church are urged to attend and visitors re welcomed to join in this study, according to the pastor, Rev. Jack Tanner.

Home has 76 additions

Seventy-six youngsters moved into the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home in Monroe during 1987.

Olin L. Hall, director of family services, said the youngsters came from Bastrop, Baton Rouge, Goldonna, West Monroe, Oak Grove, Monroe, Hackberry, Springhill, St Amant, Haughton, Vinton, Houma, Olla, Baker, Shreveport, Gonzales, Ringgold, Denham Springs, Epps, Mandeville, Plaquemine, Westlake, Bossier City, Simsboro, Greenwell Springs, Lafayette, Ruston, Princeton, Eunice, Farmerville and Columbia.

Admissions to the Home in 1986 totalled 43 compared to 76 in 1987. And the first week in 1988, four children moved into the Home, coming from Eunice, Livingston, West Monroe and Shreveport.

During 1987, a total of 47 boys and girls were released from the Home, Hall said.

The Home, founded in 1899 by the Louisiana Baptist Convention, is licensed to care for 120 children at a time, with up to 12 in each of the ten cottages on the 110-acre Monroe campus. Entering 1988, the Home was operating near capacity, according to Superintendent, John R. Williams.

Anyone in Calcasieu, Cameron and Beauregard Parishes may refer a child to the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home. This may be done by calling the Children's Home at 318/343-2244 or by writing the Home at Post Office Box 4196, Monroe, LA 71211. In every case, the Children's Home must work with the person or persons having custody of the child being considered for care.

S. Cameron Elem. 4-H meet

Tricia Trahan called the 4-H meeting of the South Cameron Elementary School to order Wednesday, Jan. 4.

Activities they participated in during the past month such as going Christmas caroling, Contest Day, Livestock shows, and giving food baskets were discussed. Winners of the Photography Contest were Kristi Dupuie, first; Michael Brasseaux, second; and Larica Boudreaux, third. The door prize was won by Marlene Domingue.

Jennifer Savoie gave a demonstration on proper care of skin and teeth. The Fur Festival and Livestock shows were discussed.

Next month's contest will be Dairy Posters. The meeting was turned over to the agent, Mrs. Nancy Cronan, who went over the Cameron Clover and showed a film strip on Dairy Products to give members ideas on posters.

She also presented the club with the Best Club of the Month banner.

Changes to be reported

Kirk Moore, County Executive Director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) office for Calcasieu and Cameron parishes urged farmers to report any changes in their farm operations which could affect farm program benefits for 1988.

In order for farmers to obtain full program benefits, farm records must be up-to-date, Mr. Moore said. If a farm will have a new owner effective for 1988, or if a change is made in the operation of an existing unit, the operator or owner should notify the Calcasieu-Cameron parish ASCS office.

Mr. Moore said plans to combine farms or divide a farm should be requested as soon as possible because reconstitutions require special processing as well as ASC Committee approval.

S. Cam.Elem. 4-H club meets

During the Christmas vacation South Cameron Elementary 4-H Club was contacted by Mathew Fontenot, director of Cameron Parish Recreation Center, to sing for the Council on Aging Wednesday, Dec. 23.

Those singing were Kristi Dupuie, Jennifer Savoie, Jared Savoie, Danielle Shay, Tredale Boudreaux, and Larica Boudreaux.

Activity night

The United Methodist Women of the Wakefield Methodist Church will host the Cameron Council on Aging senior citizens at an activity night Sunday, Jan. 17, at 5 p.m. at the church recreation hall.

All parish senior citizens are invited to attend.

Graduation

Graduating from Delta School of Business during winter ceremonies were Crystal Mudd of Cameron, who studied Secretarial/Word Processing; and Holly Venabie of Creole, who studied the Executive Secretary Course.

Court of Honor

The Cameron Scout Troop 210 invites family and friends to their Court of Honor Wednesday, Jan. 20, at 7 p.m. at the Masonic Lodge in Cameron.

Nine million tons of salt are applied to American highways each year for road de-icing.

Road opening to Hackberry

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American Press, Jan. 18, 1918)

LAKE CHARLES TO HACKBERRY

There will soon be an automobile road from Lake Charles to Hackberry, in Cameron Parish, as the stretch of road between the Calcasieu line and that point is being constructed. The earth and grade work is now being done for which Fred G. Lock has the contract.

This stretch of land is about five and one-half miles in length and ends for the present at Hackberry post office. The road will be surfaced with shell and when completed will be the only modern auto road in the parish. The road is expected to be completed and open for traffic inside of two months.

It will make a fine drive from this city through Sulphur to Cameron. There are many interesting places along the way which have never been available to the autoist and no doubt will become very popular when opened to the public. (The road from Calcasieu which connected with this new road was called Calcasieu Highway No. 6.)

(Lake Charles American Press, Jan. 17, 1919)

S. W. SWEENEY COMPLIMENTED FOR WORK IN CAMERON

S. W. Sweeney, who has been clerk of the courts of Cameron Parish for the past eight years and who was in the sheriff's office there for a couple of years prior to that time, has resigned his office to take effect on February 24, as he requested, the resignation having been accepted by Gov. Pleasant.

Mr. Sweeney has purchased a home in Lake Arthur and has moved his family to that place. His health has been bad of late, which was the cause of his resignation, and after he recuperates, he will probably engage in business in Lake Arthur.

Cameron Parish loses a valuable and worthy citizen in the loss of Mr. Sweeney. He was easily the foremost citizen of the parish, a hard worker and identified with every movement for the advancement and development of that parish.

As chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee, it was mainly through his efforts that Cameron Parish always went over the top in every drive. He was also the chairman of the War Savings stamp committee, Red Cross, and other committees which did such splendid work for all war measures. He was also a member of the draft board and never missed filling Cameron's quota in every call that was made on the parish for the draft. Such an active citizen is a distinct loss to any community. It is also a source of congratulations to Lake Arthur that he has become identified with that place.

Although moving away from Cameron Parish, he has not lost sight of its interests. About a year ago he got a movement under way to construct a road from Big Lake to Cameron, which is the greatest project ever launched for the development of that parish, but owing to the war, high prices of material and shortage of labor, the project necessarily had to lie dormant for the time being, but he has again taken it up and hopes to have the project put through in the near future.

State of Louisiana, Executive Department, Baton Rouge, La. Jan. 7, 1918

Hon. S. W. Sweeney,
Cameron, Louisiana

Dear Mr. Sweeney:

I regret very much, indeed to hear that your health is impaired, and on that account you are compelled to resign your position as clerk of the district court of your parish. I know that the good people of your parish will regret very much to lose you. I wish also to say that I appreciate very highly your splendid service not only as clerk of the court, but also in the various war activities in which you have been engaged. It is high type, patriotic men like you that accomplish so much during war times in the preparation of a nation for triumph on the field of battle and ultimate victory. Your co-operation with this office and with the office of the adjutant general has been not only satisfactory but also has exhibited the highest grade of ability and patriotism.

I sincerely trust that your health will quickly improve, and that long life and happiness will follow.

With best wishes to you and yours for the New Year, I am,

Sincerely your,
/s/ R. G. PLEASANT
Governor

Police Jury Briefs

LIQUOR PERMITS

The jury approved the following liquor permits--Joseph D. Simon, Simon's Supermarket, Hackberry; Glynn and Brenda Clement, Glyn's Place, West Creole; and George Hicks, H & H Kwik Stop, Hackberry.

Mrs. Robert Earl Trahan was appointed to the parish library board replacing Mrs. John Prescott who has moved from the parish.

A variance from the Flood Insurance Ordinance was granted to Bill Morris to build a feed store in East Creole. The variance permits him to build the store at ground level instead of being elevated as required by the ordinance.

The jury agreed to advertise for bids on shell.

ROAD ABANDONMENT

The jury voted to abandon a road in District 5 after receiving no objections to the abandonment. It also voted to advertise the abandonment of another road in District 6.

The jury approved for the calling of tax elections in Fire District 10, Water District 10, and Sweetlake Recreation District.

At the request of the Cameron Parish Community Action Agency, they approved a weatherization program for homes that qualify in the parish. Funds received for the program this year total $3,000.

The human body is built around a frame containing 206 bones. The whole works is linked together with 60,000 miles of blood vessels.

Extension of cable and gas is not seen

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Monday heard presentations by representatives of the cable television and natural gas firms that serve the parish but failed to get a commitment from either to extend services to areas of the parish presently unserved by utilities.

Tony Wain, vice-president of Tele-Media Corp. of Calhoun, Ga., owner of the local cable TV system, said his company was installing new equipment to improve service to its present customers but said that he didn't see where service could be extended at this time.

He said that there needed to be 30 homes per mile for the cable to extend to a new area.

Juror Ray Conner of Creole had some criticism of the present system, noting that the local office is only open part of the time and that customers usually get a recording when they call at other times.

"People want to talk to people, not to toll free numbers," Conner declared.

He noted that the system had gone off on New Year's Day during all of the football games.

Billy Rogers, Lake Charles district manager for the Entex Company, told the jury that the parish was being surveyed to determine if gas service could be extended to more areas.

He said that residents living more than 100 feet from a main line could have their own line installed but that it would cost them $3 a foot.

Juror Conner said he thought this was too high. He said that he ran a restaurant but that he didn't charge his customers a service charge to be able to sell them hamburgers.

Rogers promised to see what extensions could be made.

Laws given on strays

The Cameron parish Sheriff's Department reports there have been some questions and confusion on the laws concerning stray animals as administered by the Sheriff's Department.

There is a summary of these laws:

Stray horses, cattle, hogs, sheep and other livestock may be picked up by the department and held until the owner of the livestock redeems them by paying the expenses of impounding and keeping the stock.

After eight days, if the animals are not redeemed, the animals may be sold to the highest bidder.

It is against the law for anyone to release any animal so impounded.

Concerning dogs, any citizen, the sheriff or other police officers may seize any dog not accompanied by its owner or keeper running at large on any road or street or other public place or trespassing on any premises, other than the premises of the owner.

If the dog is wearing a collar bearing a tag showing the name and address of its owner, it shall be impounded and the citizen or officer so seizing and impounding the dog shall immediately thereafter by written notice notify the owner of the dog, at the address disclosed by the tag on the dog's collar, that the dog has been seized and impounded by him, and unless the owner or keeper of the dog shall, within seven days from the receipt of the notice, claim the dog and pay the citizen or officer a fee of one dollar for seizing and a fee of twenty-five cents for each day it is impounded, it shall be disposed of in any humane manner.

Any citizen or officer may kill any dangerous or vicious dog, and no citizen or officer shall be liable to damages or to prosecution by reason of killing any dangerous or large dismissed in court.

Lawson Pearson Schools, Jr., 33, Cameron, was fined $45 and costs or 2 days in jail for disturbing the peace (drunk).

Bruce Evans Aguillard, 27, Basile, was fined $25 or 1 day in jail, with credit for time served for no vehicle registration and a charge of possession of a weapon by a convicted felon was dismissed in court.

Lawrence Cain, Jr., 19, Westlake was fined $150 and costs or 10 days in jail for possession of marijuana.

Benito A. Gonzalez, 37, Cameron was brought up on a probation violation by violating 5 conditions of his probation: his probation was revoked.

Hearing set on deer tags

A public hearing will be held Monday, Jan. 18, on a pending Wildlife and Fisheries Commission regulation that would require the tagging of all deer taken by hunters, the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries announced today.

J. Burton Angelle, Sr., department secretary, said the hearing will be held in Baton Rouge at the Department of Natural Resources Building, 625 N. Fourth St. It will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Angelle said the regulation has cleared Administrative Procedures and is ready for final consideration by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission. If approved at the Feb. 5 commission meeting in Houma, La., it would go into effect for the 1988-89 deer season.

Under the plan, hunters would receive six tags along with their big game license and would affix the tags to the deer taken. The regulation is primarily designed to promote enforcement of bag limits and to supply data for the deer management program.

Angelle invited sportsmen and other interested parties to attend the Jan. 18 hearing and express their views. He said the commission would take all opinions into account before reaching a final decision.

Alex Jones shop burns

A heater malfunction is believed to be the cause of a two-alarm fire early Saturday that destroyed Alex Jones Fashions on 1636 Ryan St., in Lake charles, according to the Lake Charles Fire Department.

Officials said the blaze was reported at 7:11 a.m. and tapped out at 8:34 a.m. Damages were estimated at $100,000 to the building and $50,000 to the contents.

No injuries were reported.

The owners of the building were listed as Jeannie Jones and Debra Alexander.

Donors of toys, food are thanked

The Cameron Youth Council thanks persons who donated new or used toys, clothing and food items for needy families during the Christmas season. The collection of these items benefitted several children and families in Cameron and will be an annual event.

The Cameron Youth Council will meet Thursday, Feb. 4, at 7 p.m. at the Police Jury Building in Cameron. The Council uses volunteers who meet monthly to plan for needed youth programs. Persons interested in serving on the Council are invited to attend the meeting.

School gives Christmas play

A night performance for the public was Dec. 14, followed by two daytime performances for the student bodies of Cameron Elementary and South Cameron Elementary.

The three act presentation was directed by Katie Trahan and Lou Grovenburg, third grade teachers.

Creole club has Christmas party

The evening's program included a gift exchange, games, caroling and a covered dish supper.

Medicare ambulance procedure changed

Medicare ambulance payment procedure changes have been announced by K. H. Hopper, administrator of the South Cameron Hospital ambulance service as follows:

On all Medicare ambulances, Medicare will only pay for services that are in extreme emergency (life threatening). This means that the patient cannot be transported by ambulance, if other means of transportation are possible, (personal vehicle).

If the ambulance is used and it isn't life threatening then the patient will be responsible for the total bill, Medicare will not pay these charges.

Also, Medicare will only pay for mileage to the nearest hospital that can treat you. If this hospital is unable to treat you, then and only then, will Medicare pay for any additional mileage.

If the patient refuses to go to the nearest hospital then the patient is responsible for the additional mileage, Medicare will not pay these charges.

If you have any questions concerning these changes please contact Becky McEvers at South Cameron Memorial Hospital, 542-4111.

Doland, Roach visitors at jury meeting

Senator-elect Jack Doland asked the jurors to come up with their legislative needs as soon as possible so as to get them introduced early in the session. He said that he had learned that while working with the Legislature in his past position as president of McNeese that you had to get bills in the hopper early to get them passed.

Representative-elect Randy Roach said that one of his top priorities would be securing new jobs for this area and working on economic development.

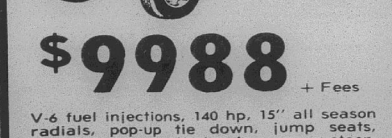
He introduced to the jury Mark Donham, director of the new Southwest Louisiana Community Development Foundation who said the group would be working with the parish to promote new industries.

Roach said he would like to invite the Department of Commerce and Industry to put on a public industrial development program in the parish and the jury agreed to invite them.

Program set for students at Our Lady's

A vocation program for high school religion students will be sponsored by Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish Monday, Jan. 25.

The Rev. Sam Jacobs, director of vocations for the Diocese of Lake Charles, and Sister Mary Gerard Earls, CCVI, associate director, will present the program, according to Msgr. Curtis Vidrine, pastor.



The program will consist of talks and slide rpesentations, and will be held in the parish religious education building, beginning at 7 p.m. The program is especially designed for students in grades nine through 12.

D meeting set Tuesday

Tuesday, Jan. 26, a meeting will be held for southwest Louisiana shrimpers concerning Gulf Turtle Excluder Device (TED) regulations.

Beginning March 1, Gulf of Mexico shrimpers fishing on vessels 25 feet and longer will be required to pull TEDs from the beach out to 15 miles offshore.

All size vessels fishing inland waters (Calcasieu Lake, Calcasieu Ship Channel, Vermilion Bay, etc.) will not be required to pull TEDs if tow times are limited to 90 minutes or less.

Vessels less than 25 feet working offshore (beach to 15 miles offshore) do not have to pull TEDs if the trawl time is limited to 90 minutes or less.

In 1989, the regulations will be extended out to 200 miles offshore.

The TED meeting will be held in the Cameron Parish Multipurpose building behind the courthouse at 2 p.m. Jan. 26, and will be conducted by the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service and the LSU Sea Grant program.

All five TEDs that are currently approved for use by the federal government will be on display at the meeting. They are: National Marine Fisheries TED, Cameron TED, Matagorda TED, Georgia Jumper, and Morrison Soft TED.

Additionally, instructions on construction and installation of these TEDs and test results on shrimp retention for the devices will be available.

Shrimping ends 30th

The shrimping season in Louisiana's offshore territorial waters will close Jan. 30.

The closure will go into effect at 12:01 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 30, as authorized by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

The Jan. 30, closure will apply to all of Louisiana's offshore territorial waters except in the area from where it would apply only from the inside-outside shrimp line seaward for three miles.

In authorizing the Jan. 30, offshore closure the commission also empowered the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries to set special seasons for pink and white shrimp prior to the 1988 spring offshore season if technical data indicates such seasons would be in the best interests of the shrimp industry and the state.

Offshore waters will be reopened by the LDWF Commission at a later date.

DONNA LABOVE points to the Tarpon Project sign in front of the Cameron State Bank which shows that donations for a replica for the South Cameron High School Tarpoon mascot has passed the $1,000 mark.

Tarpon Project now at $1,020

The Tarpon Project is very much alive as additional donations from the Cameron Motel, Howard Romero, Robert Manuel, Brown's Food Mart, Edward Oglesby, E. J. Dronet, Larry's Seafood, Melvin Boudreaux and Butch Crain have pushed total donations thus far to $1,020.

Other donations are forthcoming and as soon as the Tarpon Project account reaches the $4,500 mark, final negotiations for a Tarpon mascot replica will be made.

Present estimate from a Houston firm for a 12-foot Tarpon replica with basic lifelike details, such as fins, tail, eyes, mouth/lip detail, and gill covers, 3 dimensional scales, 3 dimensional fins and tail, flared gills, open mouth, arched fish with polished gel coat to like colors will cost approximtely $4,500 installed.

Anyone desiring to make a contribution can do so by contacting committeemen Robert Manuel, Edward Kelley, Larry Taylor or Baron Thomas or make direct donations to the Tarpon Project at the Cameron State Bank or the Calcasieu Marine Bank.

D.A. gives his annual report

Jerry G. Jones, Cameron Parish District Attorney, announced the following recap of charges and activities of the 38th Judicial District Court in 1987 handled by he and Glenn Alexander and Jennifer bercier, assistant district attorneys.

The Grand Jury was called into session twice and handed down one true bill.

98 juvenile charges were processed, with 7 sent to other courts. 23 reciprocal child support cases were processed, with 16 sent to other states, and 7 received from other states. 10 juvenile cases for custody of the Louisiana Department of Health and Human Resources for neglected and abused children were handled.

There were also 11 probation violations, 19 contempts of court and 5 rules to show cause. One illegal alien was turned over to the border patrol and one extradition was handled from another state.

113 charges were no-billed for plea negotiations, which includes paid court costs, such as issuing worthless check charges which were settled, insufficient evidence, at victim's request or for other reasons.

45 cases were tried before a judge or jury, and 49 motions were heard.

Misdemeanor charges: $58,936 was collected through traffic court on 715 traffic tickets on prepaid fines, and another 706 were processed through court. $29,514 was collected on 339 conservation tickets, and another 338 were processed through court.

Also, reckless operation of a motor vehicle, 72 charges; driving under revocation, 94; DWI, 136; theft, 26; worthless checks, 39; possession of marijuana, 73; weapons charges, 8; disturbing the peace, 171; sexual battery, 3; simple battery, 56; resisting arrest, 37; assault, 15; possession of drug paraphernalia, 34; criminal non-support, 52; aggravated oral sexual battery, 2; trespass, 34; littering 8; criminal mischief, 18; simple criminal damage to property, 17; criminal non-support, 37; discharge non-hazardous waste into state waters, 6; receive stolen goods, 2; attempt to commit a crime, 2; obstruction of justice, 2; contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile, 5; forgery, 3; remaining after being forbidden, 12; telephone harrassment, 2; obscenity, 1; obscene telephone calls, 1; cruelty to juveniles, 1; failure to return leased minerals, 1; interefering with the custody of juveniles, 1; indecent behavior with juveniles, 1; molestation of a juvenile, 3.

Felony: Multiple DWI, 13; forgery, 1; receiving stolen things, 1; vehicular negligent injury, 1, and criminal conspiracy, 3.

Seedlings being sold

The deadline for placing orders is Jan. 29.

Trees available are: Hardwood - Water Oak, Red Maple, Willow Oak and Southern Red Oak. Pine - Spruce Pine, Virginia Pine, Loblolly and Slash Pine.

You may call your order in or for more information contact the Extension Office at 775-5516 or 774-7443.

Aid offered senior citizens

Tuesday, Feb. 2, is the beginning date of a program to assist senior citizens with preparation for their tax return. A qualified person will be at the Cameron Council on Aging building each Tuesday.

12 not 15 Ft.

In the story in the Pilot last week concerning oystering in Calcasieu Lake, it was stated that the lake was closed to fishing when the river stage was at 15 feet in Kinder. This was in error, the article should have read "12 feet".

Tickets being sold for Rodeo

The Cameron Parish County Agent's office is selling tickets for the 1988 Southwest District Fat Stock Show and Rodeo which will be held at the Burton Coliseum in Lake Charles.

Rodeo performances will be Thursday, Feb. 11, to Saturday, Feb. 13, each night starting at 7:30 p.m. and on Sunday, Feb. 14, at 2:30 p.m.

Tickets for Section V Row 7-8, all seats $9 each, and Section U Row 22 all seats $7 each, are available.

If you wish to purchase tickets, come by the Extension office located in the basement of the courthouse from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Dinner set by Cattlemen

The Cameron Parish Cattlemen and Cowbelles will hold their annual holiday supper and dance Saturday night, Jan. 30, at 6:30 p.m., at the Cameron Multipurpose building.

Each couple attending is asked to bring a covered dish and their recipe, so it can be used in a future cookbook.

Coats found after dance

Redfish meeting set for Feb. 4

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission will hold a public hearing at 10 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 4, in Houma on whether the recreational harvest of redfish should be suspended.

J. Burton Angelle Sr., Secretary of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, said all interested parties are invited to attend and to air their views.

Commission Chairman Joe Palmisano Jr. called for the public hearing after commissioners voted Jan. 14, to rescind an earlier commission action that would have barred sportsmen from taking redfish between Jan. 15, and June 1.

Secretary Angelle explained that the earlier action had been called into question under provisions of the Administrative Procedures Act and the commission held a special meeting Jan. 14, to revoke it.

Angelle noted that a ban on commercial fishing for redfish remains in effect as scheduled from Jan. 15, to Aug. 31. He said the commercial catch had reached the limit of 1.7 million pounds set by the 1987 Legislature, leaving the commission no choice in the matter.

Angelle said the commission will take up the issue of sportfishing for redfish with the help of public input at the Feb. 4, hearing in Houma.

Beef breeding animals and market steers were judged Sunday afternoon, Jan. 17.

On Friday, starting at 8 a.m. sheep, poultry, rabbits, and pigeons will be judged. A dance for exhibitors will be held at 8 p.m. that evening.

On Saturday beef and swine will be judged with the sale of animals to start at 12:30 p.m. The champions will be sold at 1 p.m.

REMEMBER?

(Lake Charles American, Jan. 25, 1907)
CAMERON

Jan. 21--The Farmers are taking advantage of the good weather and preparing their lands for planting. The weather, though somewht cool, is still pleasant. Grass is in and the stock are in good shape.

The election passed off very quietly. Only 94 votes were cast in the parish.

The Leesburg school will close in about six weeks, for the want of funds.

The Rev. Ed Stine has been placed in charge of the Grand Chenier circuit. He preached here Sunday to good congregations.

The Rev. Cambriar said Mass at the Leesburg Catholic Church Sunday.

Mrs. John Portie of Hackberry is visiting her mother, Mrs. Montie on Cow Island.

A. L. Hackett of Holmwood, who has been here for several days, will leave for his home tomorrow. Mr. Hackett while here sold his farm to Jos. Doland for $1,000.

Henry Vaughan's hotel on the beach will soon be open for the reception of visitors. The building is 60 x 90 feet, including the gallery which extends entirely around the building.

Mrs. James Murphy, who has been sick for several days, is improving.

F. Axtell, engineer in charge of this district, was here Saturday.

Miss Ellen Tabachiek, who is teaching the Oak Grove school, spent Sunday with the family of John Gunick. Miss Tabachiek is giving satisfaction to the patrons of her school.

A white frost fell here this morning.

CAPT. LAURENTS PASSES AWAY

Lake Charles friends will be sorry to hear that Capt. William laurents of Cameron has passed away. His death, which occurred Sunday evening, followed a paralysis attack of the day before, but was proceeded by an illness of some days of severe cold, approaching pneumonia.

Capt. Laurents was about 65 years old and had resided in Cameron since the early eighties. He first settled at Grand Chenier, but in 1894 removed to Leesburg where he has since resided. He was active in various lines of business and has been for many years collector of customs at the little port.

He is survived by his wife and three sons, two of them residing in Cameron and the third in Lake Charles.

LETTER TO CAMERON PARISH FROM CONGRESSMAN JIMMY HAYES

Dear Friends,

I would like to offer my sincere apologies for missing all of you who came out for my Mobile Tour visit on Thursday, January 7 in Cameron. I had planned on meeting with you on that day, but was unfortunately stuck overnight in the Dallas-Fort Worth airport due to the ice storm that hit that region. As a consequence, I did not arrive in Louisiana until late Thursday afternoon.

I am acutely aware of the problem facing our commercial fishermen and I understand that their concerns are reiterated frequently during that stop. As you know, the general level of pollution in the Calcasieu River has forced the closing of more than half the oystering season. Following upon a substandard shrimping season, this condition has caused great hardship for those families that depend upon the profits of that industry.

I realize that this situation calls for both long and short-term solutions and I am working on proposals for both. For the long-term, I see several avenues for us to pursue. Most importantly, we need to improve the quality of water found in the Calcasieu River. To accomplish this goal, I am looking into improving Louisiana's share of funds provided by the Clean Water Act. Sewage waste is the No. 1 contributor to our water problems and is the main pollutant affecting our fisheries today and this Act provides for aid to communities who want to combat this problem. With a multi-million dollar fishing industry and our general health at stake, I believe we must be aggressive in our efforts against pollution.

In addition, Sen. John Breaux, Rep. Billy Tauzin, Rep. Lindy Boggs and myself are trying to secure funding for a study, conducted by representatives from both the academic and industrial sectors, which would inspect and critique the present health guidelines that regulate these industries. Incredibly, the standards presently in place are based upon information collected in the 1920's! Obviously, we need to readdress the merits of those antiquated guidelines. Along a similar line, there is the possibility of the Food and Drug Administration sending a shellfish sanitation specialist to Louisiana to work with the State in reviewing health guidelines and monitoring the system.

However, these are only long-term solutions. For the immediate concerns of Cameron Parish, I have listened to your comments on extending the oystering season, changing the bag counts per day, and altering the river stage standards which presently control our season. In conjunction with state agencies such as Health and Human Resources, I am looking for viable alternatives in each area. Futhermore, I am working on the possibility of targeting emergency funds or supplies to the 7th District from the Food and Drug Administration and the Department of Agriculture.

As you can see, there are many alternatives for us to utilize in our efforts to correct the present situation in not only the Calcasieu River, but in other areas as well. Louisiana's culture and economic vitality comes from the richness of its natural resources, both above and below the ground. Consequently, I refuse to allow our great state to be permanently scarred by the mismanagement of these resources and I assure you of my continuing efforts in this direction. Again, thank you for your comments and for coming out to my mobile office last week.

Sincerely,

Jimmy Hayes

False Confidence.

To laugh, talk, and eat normally — that's why you got your dentures. Only now you feel anything but normal. Discomfort, embarrassment, and inconvenience have become part of your daily life.

Unfortunately, you share denture problems with millions of others. Now, Lake Charles Memorial Hospital can put an end to your frustrations. A major advancement in dental technology is being offered through The Oral Surgery Center of Lake Charles Memorial Hospital.

Through a two-phase procedure performed on an outpatient basis, our oral surgeons can provide you with dental implants — tiny titanium fixtures which bond with your bone to provide a secure base for dentures to be attached.

Dental implants allow dentures or a bridge to fit so comfortably and snugly, you can enjoy the confidence and convenience of natural teeth once again.

Lake Charles Memorial Hospital is currently offering a free X-ray and initial evaluation. Call today to schedule your appointment. (318) 494-3125.

Two girls teams battle it out

By ROBERT MANUEL

A rematch of two of Cameron Parish's two outstanding girls basketball teams, Grand Lake and Hackberry, may have resulted in, at least, mutual respect from the two squads for each other.

In an early season encounter the Lady Mustangs had stormed over the Lady Hornets in the annual Hornet invitational basketball tournament with at least a 20 point plus in the championship finals.

A month later, a much improved Hornet team did the unexpected by defeating the Mustangs 44-39 for the Cameron Parish tournament title.

In a rematch a week later at Hackberry, the Lady Mustangs regained the three game series lead with a close 57-55 victory.

Tiffany Seay, freshman, led the Hackberry scoring with 15, followed by Tiffany Kyle and Melanie Blanchard, 10 each.

Rhonda Verzwyvelt led the Lady Horneta with 28 markers followed by Kay Lynn Breaux and Rachel Manuel, 9 each.

Hackberry took a 29-28 half time led with Tiffany Kyle's running 3 point shot on the buzzer as she crossed the center line. Missy Reon, Grand Lake, matched the incredible shot on the buzzer to end the contest at 57-55.

Both teams will now go their separate ways in district competition. Cameron Parish teams will all face stiff competition within their respective districts.

District 9C includes Grand Lake, Hyatt, Johnson Bayou and Reeves.

District 10B has Hackberry, Starks, Lacassine and Singer.

In boys Division 9C, Hyatt and Johnson Bayou rate as top contenders with Grand Lake improving fast. In girls Division 9C Grand Lake and Hyatt are rated top contenders with Johnson Bayou ready to upset their title hopes.

In 10B boys, all 4 teams deserve respect and anything can happen. In 10B girls, 3 of the top rated teams, Hackberry, Lacassine, and last year's Class B state champs, Starks, are all capable of winning all the marbles.

In District 8A boys, North Vermilion, Hanson, Gueydan and South Cameron will be close in determining the district, runner-up and wild card slot.

Chenier team wins

Boys from grades 3 through 8 from schools throughout Louisiana and Texas competed in 17 weight classes.

Other boys competing in the tournament were: Barron Guidry, Marcus Theriot, Sabre Boudreaux, Fred Boudreaux, Michael Richard and Bobby Peshoff.

Jody Lavergne was named outstanding wrestler of the tournament. Rusty Welch won a trophy for most pins in the least time. Rusty had three pins in one minute and 30 seconds.

Exercise class

"Work That Body" is an exercise class that is being offered by Cameron Council on Aging and the Cameron Recreation Center. This exercise class is designed for those who want the benfits of increased circulation and joint mobility, but need the support of a chair, or are confined to a wheelchair.

Classes are Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Cameron Recreation Center. Christy Fonte not is the instructor, according to Grace Carroll, senior co-ordinator.

Games played

Grand Lake started district basketball competition on a winning note taking both boys and girls district games with Reeves.

Hackberry boys defeated Starks but the defending Class B State Champion Starks girls slipped by the Lady Mustangs in a close game.

Friday district games have Hyatt at Grand Lake, Johnson Bayou at Reeves, South Cameron at Hanson and Lacassine at Hackberry.

S. Cameron, H'berry win

Boys: South Cameron 37, Grand Lake 36; South Cameron 31, Hackberry 46. Third place Grand Lake 44, Johnson Bayou 18.

All tournament boys: Derrick Hardy, South Cameron; S. Frey and Tony Thompson, Hackberry; Casey Vincent, Grand Lake and Dale Morris, Johnson Bayou.

Meeting set

The Coastal Concern Association will meet Thursday, Jan. 28, at 7 p.m. in the Police Jury Annex. Election of new officers for the new year starting in March, will be held.

Husband Appreciation Day

By Bernice Denney

If the calendar were not already crowded with special days in recognition of this or that, I would like to start a campaign to establish a Hubband Appreciation Day.

Scarcely does one go by that I do not find myuself grateful for something that my husband has done. The big things we expect of our mates. It is the little tasks accomplished that ease our daily living. The stuck window fixed or the door that scraped the threshold tended to. The shining of that favorite saucepan that burned black while Mrs. So-and-So talked overlong on the telephone.

His taking you out to your favorite restaurant when yo do not feellike preapring a meal or when you are entertaining a number of guests.

His consoling presence when you are grieved. His comforting smile when everything seems to go wrong. His wink and banter when you show him the stunning suit that you know cost too much and that you did not need in the first place.

His treating you like a child when you are weary, or a sweetheart when you feel romantic. His turning to you for advice or deeming you an equal in fulfilling life's duties.

Little deeds, little gestures, yes, but they brighten and enhance the fabric of your daily living. Muse upon all that your other half means to you. Then proclaim your own Husband's Day.

Voters names to be removed from books

A list of Cameron parish residents who have not voted during the past four years and who are subject to having their names removed from the voter registration rolls is published elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

In order to keep their names on the voter list, each person must appear in person at the Registrar of Voters office in Cameron Courthouse not later than Feb. 3, to make reinstatement of registration.

Guste files suit on TEDs

The Louisiana Attorney General's office has filed a law suit against the U.S. Department of Commerce, claiming its requirements that Louisiana shrimpers must use TEDs after March 1, 1988, is illegal and impossible to enforce.

Attorney General William J. Guste, Jr., feels that the National Marine Fisheries Services failed to consider all relevant public data about TEDs and that regulations were adopted without adequate public notice or input.

Season closed on mackerels

Recreational catches in the Gulf of King and Spanish mackerel have been high enough to fill the seasonal quotas by mid-December, say the National Marine Fisheries Service statistics.

Thus, the recreational bag limits for the two groups were reduced to zero in federal waters on Dec. 16, and will continue until July 1, 1988.

Gulf group king mackerel extend from the Flagler-Volusia County Boundary (north of Daytona Beach, Fla.) through Texas.

The commercial fishery for king mackerel in the Gulf west of Florida was closed in early November on reaching its catch quota.

The annual available catch for each species is divided between recreational and commercial fishermen, and catches are to cease as each quota is filled.

For more information contact the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council, Lincoln Center, Suite 881, 5401 West Kennedy Blvd., Tampa, Fla., 33609.

"I took charge. Diabetes no longer controls my life." Diabetes is a disease for life. It doesn't have a cure... it must be managed and controlled. By you.

Prevent the complications of diabetes. Vision loss, kidney damage, impotency, loss of limbs... these are but a few of the complications that arise when diabetes is not controlled. Undetected, these problems can become chronic and eventually require hospitalization. They can even be life-threatening.

Make it a point to see your doctor regularly. If you do not have a physician, contact the Diabetes Center and we will refer you.

The Diabetes Center offers inpatient services complemented by an array of educational and support programs for patients and their families. A team of specially trained professionals including registered nurses, a clinical dietitian and physical therapist, provide additional treatment for patients.

Education is the medicine. Knowing as much as possible about diabetes is the key to controlling it. Advances in research are continually finding new technology and methods for treating this disease.

When you participate in an educational program at the Diabetes Center you are acquiring the most current information available on how to manage your diabetes. You will leave the program feeling that you have acquired useful tools that you can apply to your daily lifestyle.

Know the warning signs

The following symptoms could indicate that your diabetes may not be under control.

- Poor healing of cuts or sores.
- Burning or numbness in legs or feet.
- Dizziness — especially when changing position.
- Double vision.
- Ringing in ears.
- Nocturnal diarrhea.
- Leg pain after walking short distances.
- Dry skin or decreased sweating.

Minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Cameron Parish Waterways Drainage District No. 3, held Tuesday, October 20, 1987, at 2:30 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex.

Members present-Edwin Quinn, Gary Kelley, Bryon Richard and E. J. Dronet.

Member absent-W. F. Henry, Jr.

Others present-Engineer, Lonnie Harper, J. B. Watts, and Mr. Ashful Authement.

A motion was made by Bryon Richard, seconded by Gary Kelley, and unanimously carried to approve the minutes of the Regular Meeting on September 15, 1987.

A motion was made by Bryon Richard, seconded by Gary Kelley, and unanimously carried to approve the Financial Report for the month of September, 1987.

A motion was made by Edwin Quinn, seconded by Bryon Richard, and unanimously carried to approve the following bills for payment:

1. Clipper Office Supply	$39.26
2. Thrifty Way Hashbrnart	18.50
3. Lake Charles Diesel, Inc.	193.53
4. Lake Charles Diesel, Inc.	183.91
5. Equipment Rentals Sales & Service	30,489.18
6. Cameron Parish Pilot	126.00

A motion was made by Edwin Quinn, seconded by Gary Kelley, and unanimously carried to transfer $20,000.00 from the Maintenance Fund to the Construction Fund for payment of new construction (W-1 West Pump Station).

Mr. Ashful Authement was recognized. He expressed concern about the operation of the W-1 West Pump Station and its effects on the surrounding areas. He was assured by Board Members that the pump will only run when flood conditions exist. Mr. Authement also expressed concern about the Cameron-Creole Watershed Project from the standpoint of the effect on shrimp production. He stated that the shrimpers now feel much better about the building of the water control structures in this project, and are now mainly concerned about the management plan for the structures.

Correspondence was received from Diamond Services Corporation of subcontractors to Ronald Adams Contractor, Inc. in the Cameron-Creole Watershed Project, Second Lift and Reshaping of the Calcasieu Lake East Levee. Apparently Diamond Services has not been paid for some of the materials and services provided in connection with this project. It was agreed that copies of the correspondence received will be referred to the Resident Construction Engineer with the Department of Transportation and Development, Mr. Bobby Hennigan, for appropriate action to be taken in order to clear up this matter.

A motion was made by E. J. Dronet, seconded by Edwin Quinn, and unanimously carried that the Board has no objections to delaying commencement of construction on the Cameron-Creole Watershed Project Water Control Structures on Mud Lake, as requested by the contractor, Boh Brothers, Inc., as long as it does not interfere with completion of the project by the allotted 600 days. A copy of Boh Brothers' request for delay will be referred to Mr. Richard Abshire, State Administrative Officer, USDA Soil Conservation Service, along with a statement that there are no objections to such a delay by this Board.

The date of the regular November 30, 1987, at 2:00 p.m. There will also be a Public Hearing set for discussion of the Cameron-Creole Watershed Project Water Control Structures at 5:00 p.m. on that same day at the Grand Lake-Sweetlake Multipurpose Building in Grand Lake.

A motion was made by Gary Kelley, seconded by Bryon Richard, and unanimously carried to authorize Engineer Lonnie Harper to receive bids for Drainage Project No. 1987-06-01, Drainage Improvements in West Creole Area, with bids to be opened on November 30, 1987 at 2:00 p.m.

A motion was made by Edwin Quinn, seconded by E.J. Dronet, and unanimously carried to increase the salaries made to Paula Pool for clerical work performed for the district to a monthly amount of $500 effective October 1, 1987.

A motion was made by Bryon Richard, seconded by E. J. Dronet, and unanimously carried to accept Equipment Rentals Sales & Service, Inc. bid for cleaning the control structure on W-1 West Drainage Canal and inserting grease zerks. Bid is in the amount of $275.00.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

NOTICE OF PUBLICATION
OFFICE OF MINERAL RESOURCES
ON BEHALF OF THE
STATE MINERAL BOARD FOR THE
STATE OF LOUISIANA
BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA

By virtue of and in conformity with the provisions of Sub-part A of Chapter 2, Title 30 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, as amended and other applicable laws, sealed bids will be received in the Office of Mineral Resources, State Land and Natural Resources Building, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, (P.O. Box 2827, Baton Rouge, LA 70821) on or before the 10th day of February, 1988, at 9:00 a.m., for a lease to explore, drill for and produce oil, gas and any other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas on the following described tracts: Tract Nos. 23865 through 23941; at which time and date the bids will be opened publicly in the Land and Natural Resources Building, Capitol Complex, Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

TRACT 23868 - Cameron Parish, Louisiana - All of the lands now or formerly constituting the beds and bottoms of all water bodies of every nature and description and all islands and other lands formed by accretion or reliction, except tax lands, owned by and not under mineral lease from the State of Louisiana on December 9, 1974, situated in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, within the following described boundaries: Beginning at the Northwest corner of State Lease No. 13003 to its Northernmost Southwest corner having coordinates of X = 1,516,650.00 and Y = 486,990.00; thence West 7,800.00 feet; thence North 10,600.00 feet to a point having coordinates of X = 1,513,850.00 and Y = 496,690.00; thence East 2,800.00 feet; thence South 5,300.00 feet to the point of beginning; containing by approximately 105 acres, as shown outlined in red on a plat on file in the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources. All bearings, distances and coordinates are based on Louisiana Coordinate System of 1927 South Zone.

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one half (½) of which is to be bonus as full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease, and one-half (½) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease, for a lease having a primary term which shall not exceed three years, and if the bid offers a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against Lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, not even for return by lessee of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. The MINIMUM ROYALTIES required by R.S. 30:127, as amended, except for school board leases, are one-eighth (1/8th) of all oil produced and saved or utilized, one-eighth (1/8th) of all gas produced and saved or utilized, and one-eighth (1/8th) of all other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas and saved or utilized, which are not specifically mentioned herein. Act 289 of 1982 established a minimum royalty for leases affecting school board lands. Free sulphur, potash, lignite, salt and other solid minerals are to be excluded and any bid thereon will be disregarded to such extent. A bid of a royalty less than the aforesaid statutory minimums will be increased to said statutory minimums by the Board. All bidders are notified that the Board does not obligate itself to accept a bid which offers the aforesaid statutory minimums, but reserves the right to accept a bid which offers in excess of the statutory minimums, and is considered most advantageous to the State of Louisiana.

The provisions of this notice or advertisement and the relevant statutes establish the material considerations necessary for the formulation of proper bids, and this notice or advertisement shall not be deemed to be modified, enlarged or diminished by resolutions or policy expressions of the Board not incorporated herein expressly or by reference.

Particular attention is directed to the fact that, in addition to the aforesaid stipulation against warranty, the State Mineral Board also includes a special provision in the lease permitting lessee to reduce royalties provided in the lease to lesser on production of oil and gas by one-half (½), but not below the statutory minimum of one-eighth (1/8th), in the event of and pending final settlement of any litigation or other settlement of a bona fide dispute or litigation involving title or ownership or title, all upon the terms and conditions to be stated. A full copy of Paragraph 18 of said lease stipulation is on file in the office of the State Mineral Board, Fourth Floor, at the above address, and available for public inspection and anyone desiring to examine same.

Some tracts available for leasing may be situated in the Louisiana Offshore Oil Port (LOOP) Act of 1978 (LSA-R.S. 49:213). Such tracts may be subject to certain limitations and regulations promulgated by the Coastal Energy Impact Section of the Department of Natural Resources.

All leases awarded shall be executed in accordance with forms provided in the current State lease form with applicable addenda attended thereto, including but not limited to the addendum that should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling operations for a well on the lease premises within one year from date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless lessee before such anniversary date: lessee shall pay delay rental, or has in force a valid unitization agreement in force and effect for the lease, which shall provide for the integration of drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. Failure to timely comply with the drilling of offset wells where necessary for protection of the lessor and shall contain the provisions against the assignment in whole of the lease unless approved by the Board. Each lease awarded by lease shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the lease premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board.

All bids must be made by check or bank money order payable to the Department of Natural Resources for the full amount of the aforesaid cash payment, which shall certify and be submitted with each Bid, and no bid may be withdrawn or be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled and the check or bank money order accompanying the successful bidder shall be immediately negotiated by the Office of Mineral Resources, and the proceeds thereof subject to the order required by law. The successful bidder shall be notified of checks, cashier's checks or bank money orders for the cash payment shall be made payable to STATE TREASURER. Any Amendment, Assignment or Agreement entered into after the State Mineral Board has awarded such lease must be approved by the Lessor Agency or Agents.

Bids may be for the whole or any part of any tract described but not of the land advertised, but consistently with the tract described as expressed in a resolution dated August 12, 1965 which does not hereby notified that bids on portions of tracts should be described by metes and bounds and/or accompanied by a sketch or plat outlining thereon the portion bid upon. The scale of said plat shall be 1 inch = 4,000 feet.

The State Mineral Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to lease only a portion of the tract advertised and to withdraw the remainder of the tract.

On & off redfish ban

By Loston McEvers

RED FISH BAN ON, OFF, AND THEN WHAT

It's sort of hard to keep up with the news on our redfish status for sports fishermen. Last week we had a ban to stop all redfishing for both commercial and sports fishermen, but the ban was lifted on sports fishermen of redfish only, by a vote of 6-0 by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission.

With all the protesters, the Commission met again, and lifted the ban, but they will meet again Feb. 4, in Houma and the ban could be reinstated.

A Baton Rouge lawyer had filed a lawsuit because there was proper notice and agreed to drop the lawsuit on behalf of sportsfishermen if the ban would be lifted.

I would hope that the Commission would keep the ban off at least until the legislature meets this spring. That way they could drop the present limit of 50 redfish down to 10 or at least 5 per angler. I agree 50 redfish per angler is entirely too many fish, especially when we have a quota on our commercial fishermen that fish for a living. I only hope that our commissioners, our legislators, along with the commercial and sports fishermen can come to an agreement where everyone may benefit by the right decision.

I don't believe some people realize the economic impact this has on each parish in southwest Louisiana and the state itself.

We know how much our commercial people spent on state licenses, boats, which have state sales tax, equipment, which have state sales tax, gasoline, which has state tax plus state sales tax, oil, which has state sales tax, ice, which has state sales tax and I could go on and on. Now on the sportsmen, the same applies to licenses, boats, equpment, gas, ice, tackle and bait, all which has state sales tax. Also how much federal excise tax is paid on fishing tackle, rod and reels in which some goes back to our state.

Our state is in a great money bind, and we need to consider the impact. What about all the small businesses and large as well, who sell all this merchandise and especially the redfish tackle and grubs; we know they won't be able to give their inventory away and they'll lose, but will still have to pay inventory tax, plus again, how many will go under.

As I see it, we hurt the commercial fishermen, true, but there's more commercial to sports fishermen than I think they realize, as many business rely on this for their livelihood also.

Let's hope politics does not play the big part and what is done is done from the heart and try to consider every side to this situation, to really help save our redfish and still share a part with the people of our great state.

SHRIMPERS & TED

Beginning March 1, all shrimpers shrimping the Gulf of Mexico with a vessel 25 feet or longer, will be required to pull TEDs from the beach out to 15 miles offshore.

Vessels of all sizes, fishing inland waters, like the Calcasieu River, ship channel, Vermilion Bay area and quite a few more, will not be required to use the TED, if they don't troll over 90 minutes.

If you fish from a vessel less than 25 feet, from the beach to 15 miles offshore, you do not have to pull a TED, again if you pull less than 90 minutes, however, in 1989 the regulations will extend from 15 miles offshore to 200 miles offshore.

There are five TEDs approved by the federal government that can be used and they more or less name where they originally were designed. These TEDs, National Marine Fisheries TED, Cameron TED, Georgia Jumper, Matagorda TED and the Morrison Soft TED, will be on display at a meeting to be conducted by the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service and the LSU Sea Grant Program. The meeting will be held for all southwest Louisiana shrimpers, who are concerned about the TED regulation. It will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 26, in the Cameron Multi-Purpose Building behind the Cameron Parish Courthouse.

BASS LIMITS DISCUSSED FOR TOLEDO BEND

Representatives of the state fishery agencies from Texas and Louisiana met recently in an effort to bring better fishing regulations in the waters bordering the two states.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Department met, late in 1987 to discuss bass limits on large mouth bass on Toledo Bend Reservoir, and Caddo Lake.

As of now Texas has a bass limit on their portion of the lake of 10 per day with a 10 inch minimum size in length. On the Louisiana side the bass limit is 15 per day with no minimum length size limit.

The border between the two states on Toledo Bend is the submerged Sabine River Channel. Now the problem is two separate sets of limits for one lake, it is creating a problem for game agents and also for anglers who travel across the state line by boat.

It is hoped that the two departments can agree on a set of bass limits for the lake, both sides being the same.

I wish our Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission could go along with Texas, not only on Toledo Bend but have a 10 inch minimum and a 10 bass daily limit in all our state waters. I know from what I see, we have people taking too many small fish (bass) and also too many in number also.

If you don't realize, the Toledo Bend area is a huge area, where many people go to fish and deer hunt. Toledo Bend has 1200 miles of shoreline, surrounding 181,600 surface acres of fishing waters and 188,220 acres of national forest land, so I guess this sort of makes Toledo Bend a sportsman's paradise.

Louisiana has also opened a new state park on North Toledo Bend. It is located on U.S. 171 about 8 miles west of Zwolle, which contains approximately 1000 acres. There are 10 furnished cabins available and 66 camping sites, a swimming pool and a boat ramp. It is called North Toledo Bend State Park.

Louisiana has also opened another new state park in the Atchafalaya Basin. It is called the Lake Fausse Point State Park and is located approximately 22 miles south of Henderson. It has 8 furnished cabins and a day-use area.

A HUNGRY CATFISH

A ten year old boy from Leola, Ark., was really sure what he had hooked one day while fishing, but with the fish swallowing the bait, hook, sinker and float, he thought of a shark, but he was fishing a farm pond of only one acre square.

After a 30 minute fight, James Stiles landed a 31¼ pound channel catfish and was certified a new state record.

PUBLIC HEARING

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission will hold the first of three public hearings on the 1988-89 hunting season and regulations Feb. 4, in Houma.

These hearings are held annually to enable sportsmen and the general public to comment on any matter pertaining to season dates, bag limits or other regulations governing hunting of the state's resident and migratory game species.

The first hearing will be held at 7 p.m., Thursday, Feb. 4, at the Ramada Inn in Houma and will be followd at 10 a.m. Friday, Feb. 5, by the Commission's formal monthly meeting.

The second public hearing is set for 7 p.m., Wednesday, Feb. 17, at the Civic Center in Ruston.

The final hearing will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, March 3, at the Holiday Inn South at 2501 S. E. Evangeline Thruway in Lafayette. The Commission will meet for its

No more accidental NSFs for you.
Get Calcasieu Marine's new Overdraft Safeguard.

It happens to the best of us. One little mistake in your check register and you've got a sticky situation on your hands.

Fortunately, that's one hassle you can now avoid—just by getting Calcasieu Marine National Bank's new Overdraft Safeguard. You still might make a mistake occasionally, but Overdraft Safeguard can cover your check when there isn't enough money in your account. And that lets you avoid embarrassing returned-check fees at the stores where you shop.

Here's how it works

Overdraft Safeguard is a revolving line of credit tied to your checking account. If Calcasieu Marine receives a check for more than the balance in your checking account, we automatically transfer enough money (in increments of $100 up to your credit limit) from Overdraft Safeguard to cover your check.

Your regular monthly statement will show your credit balance and give you the option of making a small monthly payment, or paying the outstanding balance in full. It prevents regular NSF/overdraft fees at the bank while it eliminates merchant fees and red faces.

You must qualify for Overdraft Safeguard, and there is a $3.00 monthly fee. But, best of all, Overdraft Safeguard gives you the peace of mind that you won't be embarrassed by that occasional mistake that throws your checking account off balance.

Get all the details on adding Overdraft Safeguard to your personal checking account at the Calcasieu Marine branch office nearest you.

New drug abuse program slated

The Cameron Parish Drug Abuse Education and Prevention Advisory Council has recently been formed under the direction of Uland ...idry, Superivsor of Student Services for the Cameron Parish School Board.

The fifteen member Council includes among its members representativ ... the school system, medical p... ession, law enforcement, local government, state agencies and civic organizations. Cameron Parish students currently receive drug education at all grade levels. Included in the curriculum are the "ME-ME" program, the "Say No To Alcohol and Drugs" program, the "Self-Concept Development" program, and various other programs presented as part of the students' health and physical education.

A recent survey by the United States Department of Health and Human Services indicated the first decline in cocaine use by high school seniors in thirteen years. The report also showed that marijuana smoking and other illicit drug use continued a seven-year slide. The Council feels that continued efforts to educate a...d inform the young people of Cameron Parish will facilitate the further decline of substance abuse by Cameron Parish youth.

In keeping with this objective, the Council is currently making plans for the implementation of the All Star Peer Leadership Training Program. This program, designed for high school students, involves a weekend-long training session designed to develop standards of positive behavior. The program, which originated in San Antonio, Texas, in 1972, has achieved great success nationwide. Training is provided in part by former professional athletes, who serve as positive role models for students.

Funding for the session has already been obtained, however, the cooperation and active participation of parents, educators and local community leaders is essential to the successful implementation of the program. The Council is currently making plans for a training session to be held at South Cameron High school in September of 1988. High school students from all parish high schools will participate.

Display at S. Cameron

The pictorial display entitled "From the Rivers to the Prairies: Images and Memories of Vermilion Parish" is currently on display at the South Cameron High School Library. Anyone wishing to view the display may visit the library between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The display attempts to depict the early culture, landscape, history, and chronology of Vermilion Parish.

KC Council banquet set

The John P. Boudoin Sr. KC Council will have their annual Knight of the Year award banquet on Saturday, Feb. 6, at the KC Hall.

The social hour will begin at 6:30 p.m. and the banquet will be held at 7 p.m.

Reward is offered for information

Cameron Parish Crime Stoppers are offering cash rewards up to $1,000 for information that will lead to the arrest, and prosecution of person or persons responsible for the burglary and theft of valuables from the Ebb Danny Kingham home in Sweetlake area.

On Jan. 11, between 7:15 a.m. and 4 p.m., someone entered the Kingham residence and stole valuables amounting to $6,440, including a color TV, video recorder, cabinet, Browning automatic, Minolta camera and rings.

Anyone having information on suspicious activity around the Kingham resident on Jan. 11, such as strange vehicles, or knowledge concerning the stolen items should contact Cameron Parish Crime Stoppers at 775-7867.

The caller does not have to give his or her name, a code number will be assigned.

Crime Stoppers will also pay cash rewards for information that helps to solve any other crime besides the "Crime of the Month."

Council to honor five

Five Southwest Louisiana citizens will be honored by the Boy Scouts of America on Thursday, Jan. 28.

The five will be presented with the Silver Beaver emblem, the highest award that a Scout council can confer. The occasion will be the council's 68th anniversary banquet, scheduled for 7 p.m., in the McNeee State University's Parra Ballroom, according to Truman Stacey of Lake Charles, council president.

Edgar Perkins Jr., of DeQuincy, a past president of the council, will be the master of ceremonies for the banquet, which is expected to draw about 200 adult Scouters from Calcasieu, Cameron, Jeff Davis, Beauregard and Vernon Parishes.

New exercise program set

"Work That Body" is an exercise class that is being offered by Cameron Council on Aging and the Cameron Recreation Center. This exercise class is designed for those who want the benfits of increased circulation and joint mobility, but need the support of a chair, or are confined to a wheelchair.

Classes are Tuesday and Thursday at 10 a.m. at the Cameron Recreation Center. Christy Fontenot is the instructor, according to Grace Carroll, senior co-ordinator.

Jobless rate is up here

While Cameron Parish had the ninth lowest unemployment rate among Louisiana parishes for December, the parish's jobless rate continued to climb. It was 10.8 percent in December, up from 10.2 in November.

According to the Louisiana Dept. of Labor, there were 475 unemployed seeking jobs in the parish and 4,000 employed during December.

The unemployment rate for Louisiana in December was 10.9 percent, up from 10.6 in December. The comparable national rate for December was 5.4 percent, compared to 5.6 in November.

Employees over 55 to be honored

The Cameron Council on Aging will join Cameron Parish employers in honoring persons over 55 who are active in the work force. March 13-19 has been declared "Employ the Older Worker Week". The theme of this year's celebration is "Louisiana's Older Workers ..... We Do Our Share!"

Nominations were accepted from local businesses. Seven persons were nominated as follows:

Five judges will make the award based on the applications.

An awards ceremony will be held Thursday, March 17, at 10 a.m. at the Cameron Recreation Center for all nominees and fellow workers.

A plaque from the governor will be presented to the winner. Awards of recognition will be presented to the nominees.

New buses approved by school board

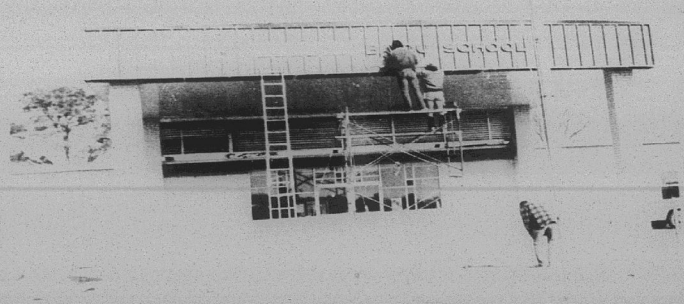
The Cameron Parish School Board at its January meeting approved the purchase of new athletic-activity buses for parish schools as needed when the old buses wear out. The old buses will be used as trade-ins.

The board also approved purchase of new lawn mowers for Cameron Elementary, Hackberry High and South Cameron Elementary schools.

The dates of the 1988 meetings of the board were set on the second Monday of each month.

The resignation of Valarie Galanie, Johnson Bayou teacher, was accepted.

The Board authorized a new Peer Leadership Training program as outlined by Uland Guidry. The board will match federal money for the program scheduled this fall.



Tax aid is offered here

The Volunteer Income Tax Assistant program (VITA) sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service will be available at no charge to lower income individuals in this area.

This service will be available at the Cameron Parish Library in Cameorn on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. For information call 775-5421.

The program is especially targeted to taxpayers who cannot afford professional tax help and are unable to prepare their own returns.

The Internal Revenue Service has trained volunteers to work the VITA sites.

False Confidence.

To laugh, talk, and eat normally — that's why you got your dentures. Only now you feel anything but normal. Discomfort, embarrassment, and inconvenience have become part of your daily life.

Unfortunately, you share denture problems with millions of others. Now, Lake Charles Memorial Hospital can put an end to your frustrations. A major advancement in dental technology is being offered through The Oral Surgery Center of Lake Charles Memorial Hospital.

Through a two-phase procedure performed on an outpatient basis, our oral surgeons can provide you with dental implants — tiny titanium fixtures which bond with your bone to provide a secure base for dentures to be attached.

Dental implants allow dentures or a bridge to fit so comfortably and snugly, you can enjoy the confidence and convenience of natural teeth once again.

Lake Charles Memorial Hospital is currently offering a free X-ray and initial evaluation. Call today to schedule your appointment. (318) 494-3125.

We have had a busy winter in our parish museum. Visitors from around the parish and away have come seeking memories of yesterday.

We have added several new items to our historic collections. One is a beautifully preserved pair of high buttoned shoes worn by Corinne Sweeney Stephens in Grand Chenier in 1907. The shoes are on loan from Mr. and Mrs. Leroy LaPoint of Lake Arthur. Mr. LaPoint is the new postmaster of Grand Chenier.

We have also received, from Norma Jean Blake, of Cameron, swatches of home spun yarn dyed with crushed walnut shells, onion skins and carrot tops.

Especially enjoyable have been the visits from groups of students brought by their teachers and members of the community. From Cameron Elementary Wayne Kershaw, assistant principal; Susan Simmons and Larry LaBue, teachers, Alicia Robertson and Valerie Boullion, parents, brought the seventh grade class.

Denise Trahan, Betty Hicks and Carla Frey, teachers, brought the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of Johnson Bayou, assisted by Connie Trahan, Pam Blanchard, and Linda Touchet, from the community.

We are happy to arrange to open the musem for teachers with groups of students on days other than Wednesday, if this would assist them to bring their groups. Just call 775-5228 and we can plan for this.

If all the students of Cameron Parish could view the museum while we are representing Cameron Parish, Circa 1900, we will have begun a lasting interest in our parish history in their impressionable young minds.

Beginning Feb. 1, we will have a new art display, arranged by Lora Guthrie, art director for the museum. She will show paintings from the collection submitted to the Fur and Wildlife Festival art exhibit. The artists represent Cameron Parish and surrounding areas. This display will remain until April 1.

We hope to see you soon in the museum on Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

RUSTY WELCH, a member of the Grand Chenier Jr. 4-H Club, placed first in the Jr. Muskrat Skinning contest at the Fur Festival. This contest aids in his fur project work for the 4-H club.

1908 Goings-on

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American, Jan. 24, 1908)

Cameron--The Cameron Police Jury met in regular session on the 6th. All members were present except Eugene Miller from the First Ward.

A special election was ordered in the Fourth Ward to vote a three-mill tax for five years for public schools.

The treasurer's report showed $10,278.52 in the treasury. Four thousand dollars were given to the school fund. After paying all outstanding claims, a good surplus is left in the treasury.

The democratic executive committee met on the 14th and fixed the polling places and named the commissioners and clerks of election as follows:

Cow Island—Commissioners, Peter Broussard, Michel Montie and A. Mhire; clerks, M. A. Portie and Jule Miller.

Leesburg—Commissioners, A. A. Roux, Jas. Rutherford, Jr., W. W. McCall; clerks, Emil Jessen and A. Bruckert.

Creole—Commissioners, G. F. Quinn, Mohn Miller, Adam Savoie; clerks, F. Chevalier and Sarazan LeBoeuf.

Berry—Commissioners, E. B. Calhoun, J. L. Miller and J. A. Welch; clerks, J. B. Erbelding and Lewis Simmons.

(Lake Charles American Press, Jan. 27, 1922)

Cameron--Louie LeBeouf has moved back to Cameron from Johnson Bayou where he had been residing for several years.

Mrs. Oscar Savoie has returned home, after having had a plesant visit of two weeks with her folks at Grand Lake.

Miss Zadie Broussard of Grand Lake is visiting her sister, Mrs. Oscar Savoie, for two weeks. She attended the wedding dance of Mr. John Broussard and Miss Euphemie Savoie, and met many friends.

Born—To Mrs. Euclid Conner, Monday, Jan. 16, a boy.

Mrs. Tony Zero of Clinton has arrived for an indefinite stay with her sister, Mrs. G. H. Savoy, the home of their parents having been destroyed by fire.

Levy Trahan has moved back to Cameron from Grand Lake, where he had been farming for two years. His widowed mother being alone, he has moved back with his family to be with her.

PFC THOMAS TRAHAN has completed basic training in the Marine Corps at San Diego, Calif. He will be working as a recruit assistant in Lake Charles for two weeks. Then he will go to Millington Naval Base near Memphis, Tenn., where he will study helicopter maintenance. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Francis Trahan of DeQuincy.

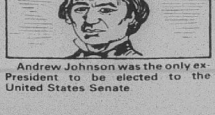
Hearing to be held on redfish Feb. 4

Houma's East Park Recreation Center has been selected as the site for a public hearing Thursday, Feb. 4, on whether the recreational harvest of redfish in state waters should be suspended.



The hearing, which will start at 10 a.m., will be conducted by the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission. The recreation center is on East Park Ave. (Highway 659) in Houma.

All interested parties are invited to attend and express their views, said J. Burton Angelle Sr., secretary of the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

The commission recently voted to halt the recreational harvest of redfish between Jan. 15, and June 1, and then rescinded that action when procedural questions arose.

Sportfishing for redfish in Louisiana waters has continued in the meantime while commercial fishing for the species has been shut down until Aug. 31, owing to a quota imposed by the 1987 Legislature.

The wildlife commisson will hold a public hearing on 1988-89 hunting regulations at 7 p.m., Feb. 4, at the Ramada Inn in Houma.

Parish teams are doing well

By ROBERT MANUEL

In District 9C, girls division, the Lady Hornets took the district lead over the Hyatt Lady Bulldogs with an important home victory of 58-45.

Rhonda Verzwyvelt and Kay Lynn Breaux, blistered the nets for 28 and 18 points respectively. Breaux's 7 of 10 from the outside perimeter was a key factor in opening up the passing lanes to Verzwyvelt. Timely support in the scoring department was provided by Rachel Manuel with 8 and Amy LeBoeuf and Jody Montgomery, 2 each.

The Hornet boys team pushed hard for the district lead but fell just short of an upset victory over the favored Bulldogs.

Never really out of it, the Hornets had to play aggressive but patient catch-up ball that eventually brought them within two points with less than a minute to go. The rally fell short and the Bulldogs slipped away with a 50-46 district win. The Bulldogs now lead the district with a 2-0 record and the Hornets are 1-1.

A balanced scoring effort was led by Larry Broussard, 16; Dale Mansco, 10; Tim Reon, 8; Eric Morgan, 6; Scott Hebert, 3; Chris Cheramie, 2; and David Poole, 1.

HACKBERRY GAMES

The Hackberry teams claimed double victories in 10-B action at Lacassine. The boys swamped the Cardinals 65-28 and the Lady Mustangs claimed a close 52-50 victory that set up a possible split with Starks, when the Lady Panthers return to Hackberry next week to begin the second round of district play.

Brian Beard and Charlie Seay led a host of player substitutes with 21 and 15 points respectively. Joey Gray added 10; Andre Delcambre and Lancey Buford, 5 each; Clement Hewitt, 3; Tim Constance, Orin Strahan and Mikey Devall, 2 each. The Lady Mustangs were led by Monise Seay with 14; DeDe Abshire, 10; Tressa LaFleur and Tiffany Kyle, 7 each; and Tiffany Seay, 6.

Hackberry will be at Singer Tuesday in another tough encounter. The teams will be off Friday but will host Starks Tuesday next week to begin the second round of play.

The Lady Mustangs loss at Starks in the first round was particularly depressing to the team as Marcia Duhon, an outstanding basketball and track athlete, was lost for the season with knee surgery.

JOHNSON BAYOU GAMES

The Johnson Bayou boys and girls evend their district slate at 1-1 with double victories over the Reeves Raiders. The Rebels shot by Reeves 64-61 and the Ldy Rebels rolled over the Lady Raiders 34-23.

Scott Sandifer and Dale Jinks led a good team scoring effort with 20 and 18 respectively. Ricky followed with 9, Scott Romero 8, Jeffery Tramonte 5, and Richard Miller 4.

Sherell Duhon led the team scoring with 11, Tiffany Romero 8, Sonia Trahan and Betsy Coppie 5 each, Erica Laria 4, and April Trahan 1.

Johnson Bayou will host Grand Lake Tuesday in the Cameron Parish Class C District 9C first round final.

SOUTH CAMERON GAMES

In District 8A, the Tarpon teams are holding their own with the boys tied at third place with Gueydan at 2-2. The Lady Tarpons upset the Hanson Lady Tigers for a tie at the top of the heap with each 3-1 records.

In the boys game, the 3-1 Tigers of Hanson never faltered, as they rang up an 85-58 victory. The tall and talented Tigers were just too much for the hopeful Tarpons.

Willie Jackson scored 19; Don Rolland, 12; and Walter Jones, 10, followed by Dennis Hebert and Ronald January, 5 each; Chester Moore, James Varner, Robert Ortego pitched in 3, 2, 1, respectively. John Mire of Hanson led all scorers with 28 points.

The Lady Tarpons climb to the top was by a squeaker as Tiffany LaSalle hit a free throw with 9 seconds left to win 45-44. The two teams now lead the league at 3-1 each. The Lady Tarpons have made a spectacular comeback with three consecutive victories, after an opening loss in district play.

Kris Rutherford led the team scoring effort with 14 points. Renee LaLande followed with 10, Buffy Guthrie 6, Freda Blackwell and Tiffany, 5 each and D'Juana Nunez, 1.

South Cameron will host North Vermilion Tuesday and will also be host for the beginning second round of games Friday with Vermilion Catholic.

RUSTY WELCH had the most pins in the lest time at the 14th annual Lafayette Cajun Elementary Open Wrestling Tournament. He was on the Grand Chenier team.

Byler & Welch winners

Troy and his wife, Lisa, traveled to Little Rock, Ark., for the 1988 State Armwrestling Championships with contestants from eight states. Troy, in the 185 pound division, put seven armwrestlers down and captured the state title undefeated. The first place brought him $100 and a trophy.

Gerald Welch and his wife traveled to Alexandria for the 1988 Louisiana State Powerlifting Championships where Gerald took first place with a new state record squat of 876 pounds, bench press of 518, and a new state record deadlift of 760 pounds which gave him a new state record total of 2155 pounds.

Gerald has squatted more weight than any powerlifter in Louisiana history. He also won best heavy weight lifter at the meet and came home with two trophies.

This is Gerald's third state title along with a national title. His next meet will be in Starkville, Miss., Feb. 27. In June Gerald and his wife will travel to England to represent the USA in the First Natural Worlds.

Hackberry tourney set

Basile, Fairview, South Cameron, Hackberry, Johnson Bayou, St. Martinville, Opelousas and Sulphur will engage in a dual round-robin wrestling tournament.

Wrestling begins at 9 a.m. and concludes at about noon.

Wrestlers go to Beaumont

Louisiana was represented with teams from Hackberry, Fairview, and South Cameron Elementary. Teams from Texas Elementary schools were from Beaumont, Houston and Conroe.

The Arctic tern spends three months of each year in the arctic regions, three months in the Antarctic and almost six months in the air.

Carroll winner

On Saturday, Jan. 23, the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service held the State Fur Contest at Camp Grant Walker.

He was in the Blue Ribbon category and also was the highest scorer in the fur grading section of the test.

The sponsors for this contest were the Cameron Parish Fur and Wildlife Festival, the Miami Corporation, the Louisiana Land and Exploration Co., and the Louisiana Fur Trappers and Alligator Hunters Association, Boone Trapping Supply and the R-P Trapping Supplies.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF LOUISIANA, OFFICE OF CONSERVATION, BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA.

In accordance with the laws of the State of Louisiana, and with particular reference to the provisions of Title 30 of Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, a public hearing will be held in the Conservation Auditorium, 1st Floor, State Land & Natural Resources Building, 625 North 4th Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at 9:00 a.m., on Tuesday, February 23, 1988, upon the application of MOBIL EXPLORATION AND PRODUCING NORTH AMERICA INC.

At such hearing the Commissioner of Conservation will consider evidence relative to the issuance of an Order pertaining to the following matters relating to the 84 Sand, Reservoir A, in the Deep Lake Field, Cameron Parish, Louisiana:

1. To recognize that the 84 Sand, affected by this application is a new onshore reservoir under the provisions of Section 102 of the Natural Gas Policy Act of 1978.

2. To recognize that unitization is not required since production from the reservoir has ceased.

If, at the Public Hearing held in connection with the subject reservoir, the Office of Conservation should require unitization, Mobil Exploration & Producing North America, Inc. proposes the following:

1. To establish rules and regulations governing the exploration for and production of gas and condensate from the above sand and reservoir.

2. To create a single drilling and production unit for the exploration for and production of gas and condensate from the above sand and reservoir.

3. To force pool and integrate all separately owned tracts, mineral leases and other property interests within the unit so created on a surface acre basis of participation.

4. To designate a unit operator and a unit well for the unit so created.

5. To consider such other matters as may pertinent.

The 84 Sand, Reservoir A, in the Deep Lake Field, is defined as being and construed as being that gas and condensate bearing sand encountered between the depths of 14,228' and 14,449' (electrical log measurements) in the Superior Oil Company-State Lease 2038 No. 38 Well, located in Section 34, Township 15 South, Range 3 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana.

A plat is available for inspection in the Office of Conservation in Baton Rouge and Lafayette, Louisiana.

All parties having interest therein shall take notice thereof.

Fishing licenses

By Loston McEvers

COMMERCIAL FISHING LICENSE

If you are a commercial fisherman and haven't gotten your license or licenses, there's a charge going into effect Feb. 1.

Effective then you will no longer be able to operate on a copy of your commercial license application and the receipt from a cashier's check or money order.

In an effort to make commercial licenses more easily obtained, you can get the original license at the office of the Department of Wildife and Fisheries, 7389 Florida Blvd., Baton Rouge, La., or 400 Royal Street, New Orleans, La. They also plan to have your licenses obtained on the spot at other district offices in the future.

If you apply by mail for your commercial licenses, it will take 14 working days to receive the original license. Remember, that's working days, not holidays or Saturdays and Sundays counted in. Example: If you send off for your license Feb. 1, you probably would not receive your original license before Feb. 23 or 24, because you have Lincoln's birthday, Washington's birthday and Mardi Gras, plus the weekends.

Don't forget to remit a cashier's check or bank money order with your renewal or application in time before you want to start fishing. Remember no personal or company checks will be accepted; they will be returned to you and you will have to reapply and send a chasier's check or bank money order.

If you need more information call the license section at 504-925-4999, 504-925-4441, or 504-925-4444.

BOATS - DRINKING IN LOUISIANA

The Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries is cracking down on driving while intoxicated in our state's waterways.

The way Louisiana's Revised Statute of the law is written, the operating of a vehicle while intoxicated. This means any motor vehicle, aircraft and watercraft. The 0.10 percent of alcohol content holds on all of them to be declared legally drunk.

In 1987 the LDWF Task Force patrolled all Louisiana waters to include the three mile Gulf of Mexico limits. There were 8 agents enforcing the DWI law on our waters, with an additional four added. The first month of operation there were 26 DWI citations issued in the southern part of Louisiana.

Louisiana is one of the leading states in the nation in number of registered boats. Orleans and Caddo Parishes rank 1 and 2 in state registered watercraft.

In Louisiana we use boats as means of transportation to work, school, pleasure, duck hunting, fishing, trapping and other lines of work, hauling of merchandise.

Louisiana averages 80 fatalities per year on our waterways.

The Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries offers a boat safety course free to the public if a group requests it.

A fourth DWI conviction can get you 30 years hard labor. A first offender can get a maximum of six months imprisonment, plus a $500 fine.

TUNA & DOLLARS

On the east coast, tuna fishing becomes more than a sport, for many anglers, it's become a business.

Both foreign and domestic demands on bluefin tuna has become an industry. For that reason commercial fishermen are banned from taking the tuna, but sports fishermen are allowed to catch and sell bluefin tuna because of the great demand, especially the Japanese (where sushi or raw meat is popular). In 1986 at some eastern docks, the price jumped to $15 a pound, although the price is usually around $7 per pound. If an angler catches 1000 pounds of tuna, he's made some money.

The limit is (for sports fishermen only) one tuna per day per boat and their catch must be reported. In 1987, 1500 tons or 3 million pounds of tuna were docked, most of it going overseas.

As I mentioned, about 80% is flown by cargo jets to Japan, which means within 4 days of the tuna being caught, it's served in Japanese restaurants. The Japanese consume about 800 tons or 1.6 million pounds of tuna a day.

All of this means a small American balance of trade, but the profits are high and that's why this has come under fire from some conservationists.

They claim the tuna stocks remain too low to let commercial fishermen harvest them, but sports fishermen can still continue to boat and sell the tuna.

Most anglers use heavy tackle, to allow a quick sure catch, which removes most of the sport, but buyers discourage fighting the bluefin tuna, since this removes the fat from the tuna and increases the risk of bruising the meat.

The ban on bluefin tuna harvest was done in 1981, by the International Commission, for the conservation of Atlantic tuna. Now they have an estimated 2000 sports fishermen who actively hunt for tuna along the east coast. They predict that if the number of tuna doesn't rebound strongly, there may be an increased pressure to enforce tougher sports limits.

GATOR SEASON IN FLORIDA

There are only selected areas of Florida that have an alligator season. They do have a license for trappers who catch and kill nuisance alligator. The market for the hides wasn't there, but the meat was taken by one trapper and sold. Burgers, sausages, and smoked ribs were his main way of preparing this gourmet meat.

Smoking is preferred to frying and up to 300 or more pounds was sold, prepared this way.

Back in 1978, these type trappers were licensed, because of complaints of roaming alligators. They don't get paid for catching these gators, but do keep their catches and sell as they can.

The population of the alligator in Florida has grown so that more areas, maybe to include the entire state, is in the making. The season is usually held in late summer.

During last year's alligator season, approximately 1200 gators were harvested by 72 hunters. Much of the gators taken were along the St. John River, which is a bass heaven to bass fishermen; in some north and central Florida lakes and in south Florida's Lake Okeechobee, which is another great spot for large, largemouth bass.

The statewide hunt, if done, will be monitored, and a strict quota will be established for each area. Hunters will be able to sell the meat, which brings about $5 per pound and the Florida Commission will help the hunters sell the hides, which bring them about $25 a foot.

I thought this would be interesting for some of our alligator people to compare our limits or tags system and the prices we receive compared to Florida.

Permit asked for pipeline from Hackberry

The U. S. Dept. of Energy has applied for a Corps of Engineers permit to construct a 12.5 mile long, 36 inch crude oil pipeline to transport crude oil from the Strategic Petroleum Reserve at West Hackberry to connect with a larger pipeline about a mile southwest of Vincent Landing in Cameron and Calcasieu parishes.

Plans for the proposed work are on file in the Office of the District Engineer, U.S. Army Engineer District, New Orleans, Foot of Prytania Street, New Orleans, Louisiana, and may be seen by anyone having interest in the matter. Protests to the proposed work, suggestions for modification thereof, or objections to it, stating reasons therefor, will be received up to Feb. 9.

Canik to head Heart Assoc.

Orrie Canik ws named campaign chairman of the American Heart Association's (Cameron Parish Heart Unit) 1988 fund raising campaign. Coral C. Perry had previously served as chairman for Cameron Parish for many years.

As Campaign Chairman, Canik will coordinate volunteers who will seek contributions and distribute information on how the American Heart Association spent its money in support of research, education and community service.

Canik said this year's campaign goal is $4,883, an increase of $444 over last year's goal.

The American Heart Association is a major health organization of more than two million volunteers dedicated solely to the reduction of early death and disability from heart disease, stroke and related disorders.

Geneva Griffith is the Memorial Chairman for Cameron Parish. This is a year round program to remember a wedding anniversary, a birthday, death of a loved one, an illness, or any other occasion.

Nursing home beds are opposed here

(From American Press)

The executive director of the state nursing home association has expressed an objection to allowing South Cameron Memorial Hospital to operate as both a hospital and a nursing home.

However, in a report to the Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday, jury secretary Hayes Picou says that federal law does allow simultaneous operation of both types of facilities.

Picou and South Cameron Memorial Administrator Kenneth Hopper are involved in an attempt to secure an initial permit for three beds at the hospital to be converted to so-called long-term care use.

So far, bureaucratic entanglements have stymied their efforts, but Picou remains optimistic.

"While we have presently reached a stalemate with the nursing home association," he said, "they and we have both submitted written comments to the state."

Picou said the Louisiana Hospital Board will take both sets of written comments under advisement and inform him of the schedule date for a new hearing.

Elsewhere on Tuesday's agenda, Paul Coreil of the LSU Cooperative Extension Service made his annual report to the jury.

In his presentation, Coreil, whose particular work involves industries including aquaculture, fisheries, fur and alligator and wildlife, made particular note of the fact that many residents of Cameron Parish have turned to commercial fishing in the past year.

Benefit set

The Cameron Volunteer Fire Department will hold a benefit dance and supper for Ricky Sanchez, a local burn victim, Saturday, Feb. 6, at the multi-purpose building behind the courthouse.

The supper will be served from 6 p.m. on with the dance starting at 8 p.m. Music is by Jerry Furs and the Teardrops.

1-800 number

As an additional service to our readers and advertisers, the Cameron Pilot has installed a 1-800 toll free number which may be used anywhere in Louisiana in calling the Pilot's office.

The number is 1-800-737-7377. Or you may remember it better by dialing: 1-800-73-PRESS.

The Pilot office may be contacted at this number from 8 to 5 Monday through Friday.

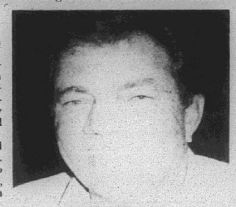
e promoted ameron State

Three employees of Cameron State Bank have been promoted by action of the board of directors, according to Robert W. Furge, president.

Baron G. Thomas was promoted to Executive Vice President. Thomas also serves as Cashier and Chief Operations Officer, having been with the bank since June, 1977. He holds a B. S. and Masters degree from McNeese State University; and is a member of the Cameron Lions Club, South Cameron Athletic Association, and Crime Stoppers, Inc.



He is a graduate of the Banking School for Supervisory Training and the School of Banking of the South. He is married to the former Beverly Sue Rutherford and has four children. They attend Oak Grove Baptist Church.

Ricky W. Guidry was promoted to Senior Vice President and Chief Lending Officer. Mr. Guidry has been with the bank since July, 1982, and has served as Vice President since January, 1983. He holds a B. S. and Masters of Science degree from Louisiana State University; and is a member of the Cameron Parish School Board, Cameron Lions Club, Grand Lake Athletic Association, 4-H Club Advisory Council, and has served as Treasurer of the Grand Lake Recreation District.

Mr. Guidry is a graduate of the Banking School for Supervisory Training, the School of Banking of the South, as well as the National Compliance and National Commercial Lending Schools at the University of Oklahoma, sponsored by the American Bankers' Association. He is married to the former Michelle Theriot and has three children. They are members of St. Mary of the Lake Catholic Church.

Paul Berkey was promoted to Operations Officer and has been with the bank since October, 1984. He is a graduate of the Banking School for Supervisory Training.

Mr. Berkey serves as head of Cameron State Bank's Data Processing Department, located at the Grand Lake Branch. He attends First Baptist Church, Moss Bluff.

Galton Boudreaux

Boudreaux named by Cattlemen

Galton Boudreaux was named president of the Cameron Parish Cattlemen Association at the annual Cameron Cattlemen-Cowbelles banquet and dance held Saturday night at the Cameron Recreation Center.

Other officers named for 1988 are Orrie Canik, vice-president, and Richard Sturlese, secretary-treasurer.

The announcement was made by Ulland Guidry, outgoing president, who was presented with a plaque of appreciation.

Mrs. Sherre Doland was named Cowbelle of the Year by the Cameron Cowbelles. She was presented with a plaque by Mrs. Norma Jean Blake, Cowbelle president.

Mrs. Blake pointed out the outstanding work Mrs. Doland has done as state Cowbelles president, her membership on national boards of the organization, and her work for the local club.

This was followed by a dance with Loston's Swamp Country band providing the music.

Tax aid is offered here

The Volunteer Income Tax Assistant program (VITA) sponsored by the Internal Revenue Service will be available at no charge to lower income individuals in this area.

This service will be available at the Cameron Parish Library in Cameron on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. For information call 775-5421.

The program is especially targeted to taxpayers who cannot afford professional tax help and are unable to prepare their own returns.

The Internal Revenue Service has trained volunteers to work the VITA sites.

Bank seeks new branch approval

Elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot is a legal notice to the effect that the Cameron State Bank has made an application to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation to open a branch of the bank at 2901 Ryan Street in Lake Charles.

The notice invites comments from anyone interested on the application.

Bank President Bob Fruge said this is just a preliminary application and does not necessarily mean that the new branch will be opened.

The Cameron State Bank has its main offices in Cameron with branch offices in Creole, Grand Chenier, Grand Lake-Sweetlake, Hackberry and Johnson Bayou-Holly Beach.

Should the application be approved this would be the first branch of the bank outside of Cameron Parish.

Contribution is made to Baptist Home

Contributions made to the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home in Monroe in memory of deceased persons serve as investments in the lives of girls and boys entrusted to the Home's care.

A memorial gift may be made in whatever amount the donor desires. The name of the person memorialized, along with the name and address of someone to be notified of the gift, may be mailed to the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home, Box 4196, Monroe, La. 71211. Checks should be made payable to the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home.

Yvonne Mhire & Mike Savoy

Savoy & Mhire get promotions

Mrs. Yvonne Mhire has been named manager of the Cameron Branch of the Calcasieu Marine National Bank effective Feb. 29. she had served as assistant manager since 1978.

She replaces Mike Savoy, Cameron manager since 1982, who has been named in charge of the Loan and Review Division of the bank at the main offices in Lake Charles. He is also a vice-president of the bank.

A native of Cameron parish, Mrs. Mhire graduated from Grand Lake High School. she joined the Cameron branch of the bank in 1966 as a bookkeeper. She has completed the American Institute of Banking school, a Supervisory Training School from LSU and a Commercial Lending School from the University of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Mhire is married to Wendell Mhire.

She is past president of the Cameron Parish Recreation District No. 6, and is active in the American Business Women's Association, the Cowbelles, the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, the South Cameron Rodeo Association and the Cameron Parish Livestock committee. She is also a member of Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church.

Mr. Savoy is a native of Jennings and graduated from Jennings High School in 1973 and Northeast State University in 1977. He went to work for the Calcasieu Marine in 1978 in the management trainee program and served as assistant manager of the South City Branch before being transferred to Cameron as manager in 1982.

He and his wife, Carol, have three children, Delana 8, Laruen 4, and Phillip 2. They make their home in Grand Lake.

Mr. Savoy was serving as president of the Cameron Lions Club at the time of his transfer. He is vice-president of the Calcasieu League for Environmental Action and president of the Concerned Citizens of Sweetlake.

Tax booklet available

The Tax Reform Act of 1986 brought about many changes for businesses, which include seafood dealers and commercial fishermen as well.

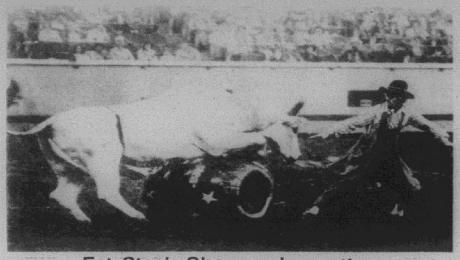
To help with these changes, a booklet entitled "Explanation of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 for Business" will help the taxpayer determine how particular tax changes will affect him, including: the business use of home; health insurance costs of self-employed; capitalizing costs of property; prepaid expenses; modification of depreciation; and employment tax of independent contractors.

The last item is particularly important to seafood processors.

Listed under Employment Taxes-Independent Contractors, it states: "Under a relief provision, a taxpayer is not liable for employment taxes on the payments to a worker (even though, under common-law standards, the worker is an employee) if the taxpayer has a reasonable basis for not treating the worker as an employee (for example, past industry practice)."

For more information call or write Paul Coreil, Area Agent, Fisheries and Wildlife for Cameron and Calcasieu Parishes in the County Agent's office, in the Cameron courthouse.

Youth hurt



Errol B. LaMaire, 14-year-old son of Roselyn and Carroll LaMaire of Grand Lake, is listed in good condition at St. Patrick's hospital after being accidentally shot in the heart with a pellet gun Sunday, Jan. 31, in his home.

His parents met an ambulance in South Lake Charles which took him to Lake Charles Memorial hospital then to St. Patrick's.

Anyone wanting to send letters or cards may send them to Errol B. LaMaire, St. Patrick's Hospital, Room #4132, 524 South Ryan St., Lake Charles, La. 70601.

Fat Stock Show rodeo action

Stock show and rodeo slated

The Annual Southwest District Fat Stock Show and Rodeo will be at Burton Coliseum Feb. 11-14.

Once again the rodeo will feature the Wrangler Pro Bullfights.

Every year the rodeo presents an opening production that blends a western theme and colorful costumes. This year a salute to Buffalo Bill and the first Wild West Shows begins each rodeo performance.

In addition, the company has a unique approach to the traditional rodeo announcer format. Each performance is emceed by a professional rodeo announcer who hosts the rodeo from horseback in the arena using a wireless microphone.

Featured this year will be the Trick Riders of America. Spotlighting the mother and son team, the Griffiths, these performers trick ride, roman ride, perform stunts and produce acts for movies and coliseum shows around the country. The Griffiths salute our American Heritage with two dramatic action-oriented productions focusing on Buffalo Bill and the Civil War.

The rodeo begins Thursday, Feb. 11, at 7:30 p.m. with Calcasieu Marine Bank Night at the rodeo. Calcasieu Marine 12, Discount Night will feature a $2 discount off all rodeo tickets. Other performances are at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday.

Selection of Mudd praised

Sicily Island, La. 71368

Dear Editor:

I would like to congratulate the Cameron Fur Festival on its selection of Mr. Tom Mudd as the fur festival king. "Mr. Tom" is the most deserving person I know for the honor. He's probably the most honest fur buyer I've ever known in my twenty years of dealing with him.

Mr. Tom has always enjoyed the fur business; primarily because he likes people. His main interest has always been to see that the trappers receive a fair and impartial price and grade for their furs.

Awarding this honor to him was a true expression of trust and admiration for a man who dealt directly in the "skin game."

Congratulations on a fine choice.

Sincerely

/s/ Yarbrough Fur Co.,
Jimmy Goode, agent

Contributors are thanked

Dear Editor:

The Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival Board would like to publicly thank the following people and businesses for their donations towards the muskrat skinning, nutria skinning, trap setting, and oyster shucking events held during the 1988 Fur Festival.

* Miami Corporation - cash donation.

* Jones, Jones, and Alexander Law Firm - cash donation.

* Crain Bros., Inc. - cash donation.

* Rockefeller State Wildlife Refuge and State Wildlife Refuge - muskrats for skinning competition.

* Amvina Seafood, Inc./M. J. Forc, Jr. - five sacks of oysters for shucking contests.

Without the generosity and support of the above people, the Louisiana Fur and Willidife Festival outdoor activities would not be successful.

Sincerely,
Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival

THESE WERE the first, second and third place winners in the 1988 Fur and Wildlife Festival poster contest sponsored by the Creole Catholic Daughters, Court Mary Olive #1463, at the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival, held in Cameron.

GRAND LAKE School, grades preschool to sixth, had a visitor from the Lake Charles Police Department, Officer McBeep, a car talking to children about strangers and showed a film, What To Do. Officer Gordon Fontenot and Cathy Oliver made the presentation according to Ernesteen B. Valere, librarian.

Mahogany formerly referred to 67 different kinds of wood that shared similar characteristics and so could be sold in the U.S. under the name mahogany.

Sentences, fines are given in dist. court

Judge H. Ward Fontenot handed down the following sentences to guilty pleas in 38th Judicial District Court Thursday:

Murray J. Daigle, Rayne was found in contempt of court for not showing up for arraignment in September, 1986, and was fined $50 for contempt and $25 plus costs for fishing without a license.

Nolan James Mallett, Hayes, was fined $100 for taking more than 10 sacks of oysters daily and $50 plus 15 days in jail, suspended, and placed on two years unsupervised probation for taking undersized oysters from a natural reef.

Guilty pleas to reckless driving brought fines of $125 to Randall Benson, 20, Fort Worth, Tex., and Glenna w. Broussard, 59, Rt. 1, Grand Chenier, whose charge was reduced from D. W. I.

Randy Thomas Gilbrist, 39, 1717 Fitzenriter Road, Lake Charles, was found in contempt of court and fined $100 for not showing up at his trial in December and a new trial date was set for him for March 31, on charges of D.W.I. (second), driving under revocation and driving left of center.

Tony W. Smith, 20, P.O. Box 973, Cameron, was sentenced to 2½ years in the Department of Corrections for attempted simple escape from Deputy Adam Doray LaBove; and six months in the parish jail for aggravated battery on Deputy LaBove with a cane knife.

Lee Roy Moore, Jr., 21, Rt. 1, Creole, was fined $65 and costs for speeding 78/55; $25 and costs or 30 days, suspended and one year unsupervised probation for no liability insurance; and $15 for no drivers license in possession.

John David Marcantel, 19, Ville Platte was sentenced to two years in the Department of Corrections, concurrent with time to be served in Evangeline Parish for theft of an outboard motor.

Murray J. Daigle, 28, Rayne, was fined $25 or one day for speeding greater than reasonable and $40 and costs or one day for driving without a license.

Willis Eugene Deville, 24, Edgerly was sentenced to six months in the parish jail, court costs, and credit for time served for possession of stolen things (changed from a felony to a misdemeanor); aggravated assault on a deputy with a wine bottle; two counts of battery on an officer; two counts of resisting arrest; driving under suspension, and failure to maintain control.

That long stick with a soft leather or paddled head used by painters, and especially sign painters, to support the hand that holds the brush is called a mahlstick.

Parish teams are doing well

By ROBERT MANUEL

First round of District play for Grand Lake and Johnson Bayou in District 9C, for Hackberry in District 10B and South Cameron in District 8A ended with at least three girls and two boys teams in good contention for state playoff slots.

The Grand Lake girls are 3-0 after the first round of play. Their big challenge in the second round is to repeat as victors at Hyatt. The Lady Hornets are playing well enough to win it all, but can be beat by either Hyatt or Johnson Bayou if there is any let up in their efforts.

The Johnson Bayou boys in District 9C defeated Grand Lake in a home game 57-54 to take the second place lead. Hyatt at 3-0 is the leader in that district. Johnson Bayou must play Grand Lake at Grand Lake Friday and that could result in a second place tie if the Hornets can make the home court advantage work for them.

Hackberry boys and girls each have one district loss on the road in the first round of play, the boys to Singer and the girls to Starks. The Lady Mustangs could tie for the league lead with a victory over Starks in Tuesday's home game. Hackberry will be at Lacassine Friday in another close one for the girls.

The Lady Tarpons, with a 5-1 district led, could win it all with three more victories. With one victory in the remaining four games, the Lady Tarpons would at least win a second place tie for a playoff spot.

Games this week and next week are: Friday-Hanson at South Cameron. Tuesday-Delcambre at South Cameron; and Friday-South Cameron at North Vermilion.

The deciding games for the District 8A championship is in the making and could happen in this week's games, with league leders Hanson and South Cameron clashing at Creole Friday night.

Hackberry has wrestling meet

By ROBERT MANUEL

Basile, Fairview, Hackberry, Johnson Bayou and South Cameron came together at Hackberry for one last shaping up encounter to prepare for this week's State Division II Wrestling Championship at Baton Rouge Friday and Saturday, Feb. 5-6. The annual meet will be held at the Louisiana School for the Deaf High School complex.

Of the Southwest Louisiana representatives at the Hackberry Round Robin dual meet tournament, the Basile Bearcats held an edge in all dual meet encounteres.

South Cameron, the winner of two state team titles in the last four years dropped down to third place last year. Its team this year doesn't have any returning state champs but will be filling 12 of 13 weights with enough strength and know-how to be a strong challenger in this last week's work load drive for success.

The Hackberry Mustangs have but eight wrestlers but could top most of the team scorers with eight wrestlers that will win in the winners bracket or wrestle back bracket.

Johnson Bayou's Coach Brian McDowell's ten man squad has had its problem in earning success but could be given a big boost if senior George Constance can show the way at state.

Wildlife meet set

The Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission will hold two meetings in Houma this week.

At 10 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 4, a meeting will be held at the East Park Recreaton Center in Houma to consider whether or not the recreational harvest of redfish should be suspended.

At 10 a.m. Friday, Feb. 5, the rgular monthly meeting of the commission will be held at the Ramada Inn in Houma.

Among the business to be considered Friday is the ratification of notice of intent on deer tagging and consideration of readoption of rules in Fur and Refuge Division Wildlife Management Areas and Refuges.

Woodmen have installation of officers

The Woodmen of the World held their regular meeting Thursday, Jan. 28, at the hall in Creole. A new field representative, John Dale Lejune was introduced. He will be contacting members about their insurance update, and changes, so as to give every member an opportunity to get the best out of their insurance, whether paid up or not.

Those installed were: Loston McEvers, president; Pat Nunez, vice-president; Lynn Miller, treasurer; R. J. Quebedeaux, watchman; Woodrow Bertand, escort; Pete Theriot, sentry; Kyle Theriot, musician; Stanley Primeaux, Harry Conner, T. C. Kershaw, trustees. Wilson Conner remains as secretary, being appointed by the national office.

A gumbo supper was served by the ladies court.

Redfish hearing

By Loston McEvers

REDFISH HEARING

The Louisiana Wildlife Commission will meet Feb. 4, at the Houma East Park Recreation Center in Houma. There will be a public hearing on whether the recreational harvest of redfish in state waters should be stopped. The hearing will start at 10 a.m.

The location of the recreation center is on East Park Avenue, Highway 659, Houma.

Any interested person is invited to attend and express their views. If at all possible I will attend and let all of you know the results next week.

The wildlife commission will hold a public hearing on 1988-89 hunting regulations at 7 p.m. the same day, Feb. 4, at the Ramada Inn in Houma. In addition the commission will hold their regular monthly informational meeting at 2 p.m. Feb. 4, and their formal monthly meeting at 10 a.m., Feb. 5.

KING & SPANISH MACKEREL SEASON CLOSED

Recreational catches in the gulf of king and Spanish mackerel have been high enough to fill the seasonal quotas by mid-December. This is by the statistics of the National Marine Federation Service.

The bag limit as of now until July 1, on king and Spanish mackerel are zero, none, you cannot take these two species from north of Daytona Beach, Fla., through Texas in our gulf water.

The commercial fishermen and recreational fishermen are together in allowable catches for each species and are divided among them until a quota is reached.

OFFSHORE SHRIMPING CLOSED

The shrimping season in Louisiana's offshore territorial waters has closed as of last Saturday, Jan. 30. The inland shrimp season is also closed since Dec. 21.

Special seasons can be set by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission for pink and white shrimp prior to the 1988 inshore season, should technical data indicate such seasons would be in the best interest of the shrimp industry and the state.

The offshore waters for shrimping will be open at a later date.

OYSTER-STEADIER

With a lack of rain, especially in the northern part of the state from Kinder, our oyster fishermen have been able to go out every day and are getting their sack limits. Oysters are bringing around $18 per sack.

This is really great, as more and more in our area are depending on this for a living. I wish them the best, as the town of Cameron is really dependent on our fishermen, as our oil industry declines.

READ THIS CAREFULLY

With all the talks and arguments on redfish in our great state of Louisiana, South Carolina has done a change on two species of fish that are very popular.

The spotted sea trout (spec) and redfish (channel bass or spottail bass) are now classified as gamefish, which means in South Carolina you cannot legally net or sell these two fish.

For years concerned saltwater anglers from Texas to the Carolinas have tried in their states to pass legislation to help protect these two species of fish. Little has been done however, with population declining. In fact, Florida was forced to close the redfish season most of 1986.

Boosters to meet at H'berry

CAMERON PARISH RECREATION
DISTRICT NO. 5
GRAND LAKE/SWEETLAKE
REGULAR MEETING
JANUARY 4, 1988

The meeting was called to order by Chairperson Shirley Chesson. All members were present.

It was reported that approximately 195 people attended the New Year's Eve dance. On a motion by Ricky Guidry and seconded by Jolene LaBove, the board moved to sell the uncooked sausage from the New Year's Eve dance for $25.

The board considered several cost cutting measures and a motion by Ricky Guidry and seconded by Joey Babineaux moved to have Sandi McFarland look into the cost of having one phone between the recreation center and the fitness center. This monthly would save approximately $600 per year.

Mrs. McFarland was also instructed to look into the cost of purchasing phone equipment for the recreation center and fitness center to avoid paying the monthly AT&T rental bill of $21.30. These proposals are to be presented to the board at the next regular meeting.

On a motion by Ricky Guidry and seconded by Alton Trahan, Jr., the board moved to hold a special meeting on Wednesday, January 20, 1988 to approve the final 1987 financial report to be turned in to the Police Jury and to approve the 1988 budget.

Sandi McFarland reported that the heater in the wet area has gone out. The motor has been eaten up by chlorine in the whirlpool area. She also reported that the roof is leaking. Mrs. McFarland reported that she has tried on several occasions to call the building contractor, Realco and the architect, Hackett and Bailey, about the problems, but has not gotten a return call. She also reported that the leak through the air conditioner has been fixed by a local contractor. She did report that a plumber will be coming out to look at the drainage problem in the whirlpool area. Sandi also reported that she and Kevin Faulk will make a sign to put in front of the fitness center.

A motion was made by Jolene LaBove that the director get back all keys to the fitness center except for fitness center employees. The motion died for lack of a second. On a motion by Joey Babineaux and seconded by Jolene LaBove, the board moved to change the front door lock and get keys back from all people except employees of the fitness center and recreation district.

The board asked Sandi to place the padlocks back on the outside of the bathroom doors to the swimming pool. This will prevent people from going in the swimming pool when it is closed.

On a motion by Joey Babineaux and seconded by Jolene LaBove, the board moved to have Sandi McFarland run a special for the fitness center in January. There will be a $5.00 per month discount for anyone joining in January and keeping their membership each month. There will be a two month discount for anyone paying for the whole year and a one month discount for anyone paying six months in advance.

On a motion by Joey Babineaux and seconded by Ricky Guidry, the board moved to allow the employees of the fitness center a free membership.

The following holiday schedule was approved on a motion by Ricky Guidry and seconded by Joey Babineaux:

Recreation Center: Easter Sunday, Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve, Christmas Day, New Year's Eve.

Fitness Center: Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve at 6:00 p.m., Christmas Day, New Year's Eve at 6:00 p.m.

On a motion by Joey Babineaux and seconded by Jolene LaBove, the meeting was adjourned.

Regular Meeting
December 2, 1987

The meeting was called to order by Chairperson Shirley Chesson. All members were present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were approved as read.

New Year's Eve Dance Admission tickets were handed out and will be sold by employees and directors of the Recreation District.

Santa is scheduled to visit the Multi-Purpose Building on December 20, 1987 from 2:00 - 4:00 p.m. Santa will arrive by truck. The teenage dance will be December 20.

On a motion by Ricky Guidry and seconded by Joey Babineaux, the board moved to let Russell Faulk use the fitness center for physical therapy once the doctors prescription is furnished. The board acknowledged that anyone needing physical therapy will be offered the same.

Sandi McFarland reported that rain comes in through the air conditioner. The air conditioner needs a top put over it or a gutter where the roof comes down. There is also a need for a vent in the mechanical room. The moisture in the wet area is causing the ceiling to fall. On a motion by Ricky Guidry and seconded by Jolene LaBove, the board moved to have Sandi McFarland check into repairs on the ceiling, the vent, the air conditioner leak, the drainage of the whirlpool and replacement of sauna boards.

On a motion by Alex Beard, Jr. and seconded by Jolene LaBove, the board passed a resolution authorizing an election of a maintenance tax renewal, said election to be held March 16, 1988.

The board moved into executive session to discuss the work times of employees since Becky Poole's resignation on December 1, 1987. When the board came back into session a motion was passed authorizing Betty LaBove to work the Saturday hours at the fitness center. This was done as a cost cutting measure on a motion by Alex Beard, Jr. and seconded by Joey Babineaux. Sandi McFarland was named director of the fitness center in the same motion.

Performances given at Methodist churches

The players acted short pieces for the Call to Worship before the offertory and benediction and a longer play for the sermon. Most of the plays were humorous. All were performed to teach lessons in Christianity.

This troop of three young actors working in Louisiana is called the "Arkianna Unit". It was headed by Danna Oglesby who is from Florida. She was supported by James Rich from Michigan and Becci Flynn from England.

One of the plays done at the Grand Chenier United Methodist Church was in pantomime and very comic. It showed two women who happened to sit next to each other for church services. One woman was very alert and interested in the sermon. The other woman arrived late, interrupted the other woman's attention to sit next to her, moved around adjusting her clothes, finally settled down to hear the sermon. But she began yawning, fighting to stay awake, and ended up using the other woman's shoulder for a pillow while she slept.

The Covenant Players were founded by Charles M. Tanner in 1963. 110 units of 4 to 6 actors tour the U.S., and other places the world over.

Performers with the Covenant Players are considered Missioners. Theirs is a full-time professional job. The starting salary is $25 a week, to be paid after the needs of the ministry are met.

Missions set in parish

The Rev. Cormac Kinkaid, OP, will preach a series of Lenten missions in seven church parishes in the Diocese of Lake Charles, during February and March.

Feb. 20-26, Our Lady of the Assumption Mission Chapel, Johnson Bayou.

Feb. 27-March 4, St. Peter Parish, Hackberry.

March 12-18, Sacred Heart Parish, Creole.

Father Kinkaid, a native of Jersey City, N.J., was graduated from St. Peter College in 1938, and was a salesman for the American Tobacco Co., from 1938 to 1942. With the entry of the U. S. into World War II, he served in the U. S. Army from 1942 to 1946, including service in the European Theater.

He entered the Congregation of the Passionist Fathers in 1946, and was ordained to the priesthood in 1951.

He has been a parish priest and assistant retreat director, and has been a missionary for 30 years.

Teach insurance crunch postponed

By JERRY WISE

The Cameron Parish School Board Monday came up with a temporary solution for a crisis in the school employee medical insurance program.

The board was told that the insuror for the parish teachers and other employees, Blue Cross, had more than doubled the monthly rates, with a family plan going from $110 to $266 a month.

A number of employees have already dropped out of the program and others plan to do so if they cannot get relief, the board was told.

After a lengthy discussion, the board voted to pay the single person rate for each teacher or employee for the next several months until a more thorough study can be made of the problem.

(For married employees who have a family insurance plan the board will only pay the single person rate. The employee will have to pay the additional premium for the family plan.)

The board also agreed to hire an insurance consultant to prepare a proposal on the insurance program which would be put out for bids from various companies.

In the past the board has not paid any of the cost of the insurance for employees and has not been involved in the insurance program. However, Board President Arnold Jones said that if the board does pay some of the insurance cost in the future, the board will have to take over the management of the program.

"The problem is participation," said retired school board member Sybil McCall who serves on the teacher committee which studied the problem. "After the December increase, we ended up with only 42 percent participation. There's no way you can have comprehensive group coverage that way. You need at least 75 percent participation."

GOOD AUDIT

The board received a report from Legislative Auditor representative Lynn Marler that the school board's financial records had been found in good shape and that there were no adverse comments on the books.

SHERIFF'S REQUEST

The board received a letter from Sheriff James Savoie asking the school board to pay a portion of the cost of the $4,357 in legal fees that the sheriff has incurred in defending a suit by a firm that had paid its taxes under protest. The matter was tabled until next month until the board could consult with its legal advisor, the district attorney.

PROPOSAL MADE

The board received a proposal from Ronnie Knowles of the Lincoln National Insurance Co. asking the board to invest some of its idle funds with the company at a fixed rate of 9.25 percent. The board tabled the matter.

BIDS AUTHORIZED

The board authorized the superintendent to advertise for bids on four school buses and on two mowing machines. Some of the buses will replace old activity buses at several schools.

Payment of $2500 to Elie Conner for land rental was approved.

Supervisor Roger Richard reviewed a long list of repairs that need to be made at the schools in the parish.

PERSONNEL

The hiring of the following new teachers was approved:

Cathy Scarborough, math teacher, Johnson Bayou high; Kim Conner, special ed. teacher, South Cameron elementary; Ancil Delaney, social studies/physical education teacher, Grand Lake high; Sabra Bingham, 3rd grade teacher, Grand Lake high; Jendy Trahan, 8th grade teacher, South Cameron high; Beth Young, English teacher, South Cameron high.

Sabbatical leaves were granted to: Kay Palmer, counselor, South Cameron High School for 1988-89; Wanita Harrison, science teacher, South Cameron high, for spring of 1988.

Catholic awards given at Creole

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

John M. "Man" Theriot and Holly Venable were named Knight and Daughter of the Year at the 29th annual Knights and Daughters of the Year award banquet held Saturday night at the K. C. hall in Creole.

The event was sponsored by the J. P. Boudoin, Sr. Council No. 3014, Knights of Columbus and Court Mary Olive No. 1483, Catholic Daughters of America.

Bridget Conner and Trent Guidry were named the outstanding Catholic youths of 1987. They were all cited for their contributions to their organizations and church.

Mrs. Venable was presented a plaque by last year's award recipient, Mrs. Laura Richard, and Mr. Theriot was presented with his award by Jerome Rutherford, also last year's award winner.

Other nominees for the CDA award were: Estelle Theriot, Lorraine Baccigalopi, Janice Broussard, Cindy Vincent, and Brenda Boudreaux.

Other nominees of the K. C. award were: J. P. Boudoin, Telesmar Bonsall, Duane Conner, Robert E. Conner, Wade Dupont, Loston McEvers, Marlo Miller, Kenneth Montie, Jerome Rutherford, Shane Savoie, and Monroe Wicke.

Loston McEvers served as master of ceremonies at the banquet. Howard Lancon gave the invocation and benediction.

Special guests were introduced by McEvers and Brenda Boudreaux, Regent of the CD Court.

Randy Roach, the newly elected State Representative, was the guest speaker and outlined his plans for the upcoming session. He will be sworn in March 14. He announced that he has chosen his legislative aide, Mrs. Myrna Conner, who served for years as the aide to Senator Cliff Newman.

Roach said, "Governor Roemer is going to have to get his man in as speaker of the house in order to get his programs across. I will support Jimmy Dimos, Roemer's man"

"Roemer got 45% of the vote in my district, which seems to support his ideas and platform, so I am going to support him."

He also said that he would like to see Cameron Parish install an Economic Leadership Develop-

Escapee is captured

On Feb. 9, at approximately 8:30 a.m. Bobby Joe Laureano, escaped prisoner from the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Jail was recaptured. Laureano was arrested after he ran a road-block which had been set up by deputies on Hwy. 27 north of the Gibbstown Bridge.

Deputies pursued the vehicle being driven by Laureano. Laureano lost control and ran off the highway into a ditch area off of Hwy. 27. Deputies gave foot pursuit and captured the escapee.

On Feb. 1, 1988, Bobby Joe Laureano had walked off from the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Office while awaiting transfer to the Department of Corrections. Laureano was acting as a trustee at the time of his escape.

Information that led to the arrest of Laureano was obtained through a call received through Cameron Parish Crime Stoppers.

At this time two persons have been arrested who had assisted Laureano in his escape by providing transportation and housing for him and had made arrangements to escort Laureano out of the parish or to another state.

Offices closed

All Cameron parish government offices will be closed on Monday and Tuesday of next week, Feb. 15, and Feb. 16, in observance of Madi Gras and Washington's Birthday.

THE GRAND Chenier elementary cheerleaders placed first in the annual Fur and Wildlife Festival Talent Show with their dance to the "Cajun Rap Song." They were also awarded a trophy for Overall Talent. Standing: Kimberly Sturlese, Tanya Theriot, Michelle Trosclair, Nancy Jo Clark, and Brandi Lavergne. Fishermen meeting is set Feb. 18

Issues of "extreme importance" will be discussed at the February meeting of the Coastal Concern Association, according to Ashful Authement, president.

Important issues to be discussed are the oyster enforcement policy, TED lawsuits, and the election of officers.

The association has invited Burton Angelle, state secretary of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, to explain the policy of dumping confiscated oysters in polluted waters.

Enforcement agents are also expected to attend the meeting.

The local organization is considering contributing $500 toward the Concerned Shrimpers of America Defense Fund. This fund will be used to pay for the lawsuit fighting the TEDs (Turtle Excluder Device).

A majority of the membership must be in attendance at the meeting to legally vote on the new officers of the association and it is very important that everyone attend, said Authement.

Festival meet

A public meeting will be held by the Board of Directors of the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival Thursday, Feb. 18, at 6:30 p.m. in the Police Jury meeting room, according to Braxton Blake, festival president.

Blake stated that the board wants suggestions on how to improve the festival.

Everyone interested in the festival is invited to attend.

Drawing is set

The drawing of commissioners and alternate commissioners to serve at the election polls for the March 8, election, will be held in the Clerk's office in the Cameron Courthouse on Feb. 17, at 10 a.m., according to Roland U. Primeaux, clerk of court.

Registration

Registration for the March 8, election will close Feb. 12, at the end of the working day, according to Ruby Kelley, Registrar of Voters for Cameron Parish.

1-800 number

As an additional service to our readers and advertisers, the Cameron Pilot has installed a 1-800 toll free number which may be used anywhere in Louisiana in calling the Pilot's office.

The number is 1-800-737-7377. Or you may remember it better by dialing: 1-800-73-PRESS.

The Pilot office may be contacted at this number from 8 to 5 Monday through Friday.

Post office cuts window hours

The Cameron post office will adjust retail window hours and an area service concept will be in effect beginning Saturday, feb. 13, says Postmaster Dorothy Theriot.

Retail windows will close an average half-day each week with customer access to post office boxes, vending equipment and will-call service for packages continuing. Full service will continue at designated area facilities. Mail deliveries will not be affected.

"The retail window adjustments are part of a nationwide effort to reduce operating costs, and are necessary to comply with deficit-reduction legislation passed in December," Theriot says.

New hours of operation for the post offices are 9 a.m. - 4:30 p.m. Monday thru Friday and 9-11 a.m. Saturday.

Postmaster Theriot says customers will continue to have usual access to post office boxes and urges customers to use vending equipment located in the lobby to purchase stamps.

Theriot also suggested using Stamps by Mail, a free service available by completing an order form and sending a check to cover purchases. Order forms are available from letter carriers and retail clerks, Theriot adds.

"The decision to reduce the hours we're open was made after carefully examining all our operations to determine a reduction plan that will have the least adverse impact on our customers," Theriot says.

"The deficit-reduction law requires the Postal Service to trim its budget by $1.245 billion over the next 21 months.

"The law limits both capital and operating expenditures," Theriot says. "Capital reductions require the immediate elimination of most building projects and equipment purchases around the nation.

"Two-thirds of the operating reduction costs are being absorbed internally, largely through administrative cutback," Theriot says. "A remaining third must be made through a 10 percent nationwide reduction in retail hours and other, less visible changes."

Big drug bust made

(From American Press)

A major marijuana smuggling operation hit the dust Saturday as a small army of law enforcement officers seized nearly 7 tons of Colombian marijuana being brought in through Choupique Bayou near Carlyss.

One suspect was shot after he reportedly tried to run a road block in a truck filled with bales of marijuana. He was taken to a Lake Charles hospital where he was in serious condition.

Saturday's bust resulted in nine arrests — 'including David K. Placente of Florida, described as a "major participant" in the smuggling operation.

The raid comes after nearly three months of investigation by the U.S. Customs Service, Louisiana State Police, U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Drug Enforcement Agency and the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department.

The smuggling operation was said to have been initially located in the Florida Keys before moving to the Cameron bayous. The alleged smugglers began unloading the maijuana at a desolate boat launch off of Choupique Road shortly after 6:30 p.m.

THESE WERE the Cameron Parish Cattlemen and Cowbelles who attended the state Cattlemen-Cowbelles convention in Bossier City. They included Parish Cattlemen Queen Catherine Perry.

Louisiana Cattlemen hold state meeting

Re-elected to the presidency was Hardin K. Lewis, a cattleman from Alexandria. Lewis succeeded Richard Sturlese from Grand Chenier who was president of the association during 1986.

The Louisiana Cowbelles Association held their annual convention during this same convention and re-elected Betsy Moreland from Homer for president.

The "Miss Congeniality" award went to Dawn Lemoine who represented Rapides Parish. Catherine Lynn Perry from Cameron Parish was the fifth runner-up in the queen's contest.

During the convention the cattlemen attended a beef marketing seminar which stressed the marketing of beef from the producer to the retailer. Cattlemen throughout the country are breeding a leaner breed of beef for the consumes who want leaner beef in their diets.

hit the site about 7:30 p.m. using parachute flares to light up the sky.

Two U.S. Customs helicopters equipped with "nightsun" lamps also swept the area overhead as agents moved in for the arrests.

Over 30 bales of marijuana were left on the bank at the boat launch after unloaders fled the scene. A deserted 20-foot "crab boat" was found floating in the bayou. It was filled with over 20 bales of "pot".

A shrimp boat which allegedly brought in the marijuana was boarded and seized. Everyone aboard was arrested.

Cowbelles to sponsor Beef Cook-Off in May

The Cameron Parish Cowbelles are again sponsoring the local entries in the Louisiana Beef Cook-Off to be held in Baton Rouge May 24, at Louisiana State University.

Louisiana residents are invited to enter the Beef Cook-Off by sending entries to Rt. 3, Box 209, Zachary, La. 70791.

Contestants must be 18 years or older, with non-professional food status.

Any person who has owned one or more head of beef or dairy cattle (or who lives in a household where any person has owned cattle in the 12 months preceding Oct. 1, 1988) is ineligible. Cowbelles are also ineligible.

The entry deadline is April 1, 1988 and entry blanks and rules can be obtained from the committee co-chairmen Mrs. Mayola Wicke, Charlene Boudreaux, or Estelle Theriot.

Recipes using any cut of beef (except organ meats) may be entered in the cook-off. The dish must contain a minimum of one pound of beef, but not more than five.

ment Council which will lead in the diversification of the local economy.

"We cannot depend on oil, we have to look to the future and take care of what we have locally. We need to diversify the economy and bring new industries and jobs here," he said.

He talked about establishing an overall transportation plan for Cameron, looking into short and long range plans and starting legislation toward that end.

Since Burt Angelle is going to retire from the State Wildlife and Fisheries, Gov. Roemer is going to have to appoint a replacement. Roach pointed out that it is very important to Cameron to get a man who recognizes the needs of the parish.

Roach spoke on the many problems that have faced the oyster fishermen this year and said he is going to recommend a 45 day extension on the season, at the special session.

He also spoke on a taxing district for the Highway 171 commission (four laning the highway from Cameron to Shreveport) and said he will back giving the commission power to raise revenue to use locally.

"We want to help make Cameron Parish a parish we can be proud of", he said.

Newly elected Senator Jack Doland was also present and said a few words about his plans for the upcoming session.

"Randy and I will work together to do a good job for Cameron Parish," he said.

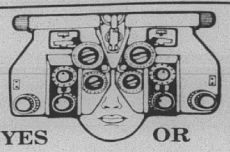
MUSING . . .

By Bernice Denny



Southwest Louisiana in keeping with nearly all of the south at one time boasted of its "treaters." Cameron was no exception.

One by the name of Mazzo did quite a bit of business in old Imperial Calcasieu. When called in to treat an individual, he always requested the family to kill a chicken. Then he carefully examined its gizzard.

The study of this inner organ seemed to increase the treater's prophetic visions. We have an idea that Mazzo was later invited to a chicken dinner or that he was given the chicken to take home as an expression of gratitude.

A treater "treated" for one symptom only. He could not divulge his method lest he lose his gift of healing. Many a treater on his dying bed, so the stories run, taught his magic to a son or to a favored young man to preserve his singular blessing for the benefit of later generations.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

Grand Chenier witnessed snow Friday night, Feb. 5, between 10 and 11 p.m. It covered house tops and grounds and was a beautiful sight. On Sunday morning at 7:30 a.m. snow began falling and lasted until afternoon.

Adults as well as children had much fun making snowballs, and snowmen. Three inches of snow covered the grounds, flowers and trees in our area.

Approximately fifty families made snowmen in their yards. Some families made as many as three.

This reminded folks of our 1973 snow when there was four inches. Then we had snow in 1980 which wasn't as much as Sunday's. This year we had a record low temperature of 26 degrees.

For many younger children this day will be remembered as their first snow.

104TH BIRTHDAY

Congratulations to Mrs. Victoria Monlezun of Lake Arthur who celebrated her 104th birthday this past week. She has many relatives in our area.

HOSPITAL NEWS

Mrs. Annie (Dudley) Thibodeaux of Lake Arthur, formerly of Grand Chenier, was taken Sunday to St. Ptrick's hospital due to a heart attack.

Mrs. Dorothy (Ervin) Bonsall was taken to South Cameron Memorial HOspital with pneumonia. She came home Sunday.

CHESS TOURNAMENT

The Cameron Parish Agate Chess club held a tournament Friday, Feb. 5. The participants competed for cash prizes. A sixth grade student, Leonard Harper of Grand Chenier, won first place receiving $12. Patrick Theriot of Creole, a third grade student, placed second with an $8 prize.

Third place and $4 went to Kimberly Sturlese, a sixth grade student from Grand Chenier, David Batchelor, a third grade student from Grand Chenier, and Dori Taylor, a seventh grade student from Creole, tied for fourth place.

VISITORS

Light beef dishes featured at meeting

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

February is Heart Month and to celebrate the occasion the Cameron Parish Cowbelles had a covered dish dinner at their monthly club meeting.

All of the recipes were taken from the cookbooks published by the American Heart Association, both the first edition and the revised cookbook that has just come out.

The recipes are compiled from personal files in kitchens across the country and is the association's way of demonstrating that eating well can be an adventure in healthy living, as much for the healthy person as for one who suffers from cardiovascular disease.

The American Heart Association cookbooks are dedicated to the pleasures of eating while eating light.

One of the most delicious dishes we have ever tasted was prepared by Mrs. Coral Perry, who is the outgoing president of the Cameron Heart Association. It was "Chinese Beef Skillet", cooked in a wok.

There was an absence of salt in all of these recipes, which is not missed when the spices and herbs are added.

Some of the other dishes that were prepared were: Miniature Meatballs by Mae Ann Hebert; Spaghetti and Meat Sauce by Mayola Wicke; and Denver Chocolate Pudding Cake by Shirley Bonsall.

District titles still undecided

By ROBERT MANUEL

With the postponement of Friday's district games for District 8A,10B and 9C, much is still undecided in all three districts that Cameron Parish teams are involved in.

In District 9C, this week's Tuesday and Friday games should clear the air, but anything can happen and could result in tie situations.

Johnson Bayou boys improved their position by defeating Hyatt at home last Tuesday. They are now tied with Hyatt for the District lead. The Grand Lake Hornets lost to Hyatt and Johnson Bayou in very close games and will challenge the Rebels at home Tuesday and Hyatt away for a share of the playoffs.

The Grand Lake Lady Hornets at 4-0 could wrap up at least a share of the playoff slots by winning one of the two games left on schedule.

The South Cameron boys are out of the playoff picture but the Lady Tarpons could win it all with victories over Delcambre Tuesday at home and over Hanson Wednesday at 3:15 p.m., also at home, and at North Vermilion Friday.

Friday's game was rescheduled Wednesday at 3:15 at South Cameron because of the possibility of three-way ties among the four leading contenders, South Cameron, Hanson, Gueydan and North Vermilion.

The Hackberry Mustangs with one loss, can even their district slate by defeating Singer at home Friday. The split in home games would leave Hackberry and Singer tied up with one loss each. Another game would then be needed to decide the district championship.

District championships and playoff slots must be decided by Tuesday next week.

Cancer meeting

The Cameron Parish chapter of the American Cancer Society will be held Thursday, Feb. 11, at 2:30 p.m. in the Cameron Elementary school library.

Girl Scouts to sell cookies

Girl Scout cookies will be on sale Monday, feb. 15, from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. in Cameron State Bank lobby in Grand Chenier.

They will be sold for the Brownies and Junior troops of this area.

Bandanas are 4-H club topic

The guest speaker of the Cameron Elementary Junior 4-H Club meeting Feb. 3, was Mrs. Jennifer Bercier, who gave a demonstration on decorating bandanas. A bandana completed by Mrs. Bercier at the meeting was won by Brady Richard.

The contest of the month was Dairy and Beef Posters. Winners were: Patrick Clement, first, Beef Poster; Brady Richard, first, Dairy Poster; Patrick Clement, second, Dairy Poster, and Joshua Davis, third, Dairy Poster.

Mrs. Cronan gave a demonstration on "Little Pizzas". Mr. Wicke discussed Achievement Day and the Livestock shows.

Members who participated in the Fur Festival Handicraft Show and the Parish Livestock show were recognized.

Bass awards given

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The annual awards banquet of the LeMesche Bass Club was held Monday night at the WOW hall. Mike King, club president, presided.

Phillip Trosclair was presented with the Kirby Gaspard memorial "Sportsman of the Year" trophy.

Plaques for special recognition were presented to Pete Duhon and Lynex Richard, weighmasters at the bass tournaments, and Geneva Griffith, for club publicity, by Loston McEvers.

June Richard was also recognized for serving as bass tournament secretary.

High point winners of the year were: Carl Broussard and Phillip Trosclair, a tie for first place; Gerald Richard, second; Fredman Theriot and Tom Hess, tie for third; and other winners: Ricky Canik, Mike King, Keno Nunez, Rudy McEvers, A. B. Richard, Darrell Boudoin, Rusty Vincent, Tommy Broussard, Loston McEvers, Jimmy Trahan, Anthony Nunez, Ronnie Picou, Dr. Richard Sanders, Ervin Jacobs, Joe Dupont, Ray Theriot, and Ernest Richard.

New officers were sworn in by Loston McEvers as follows: Carl Broussard, president; Fredman Theriot, vice-president; Loston McEvers, secretary-treasurer; and trustees, J. C. Boudreaux, Anthony Nunez and Mike King.

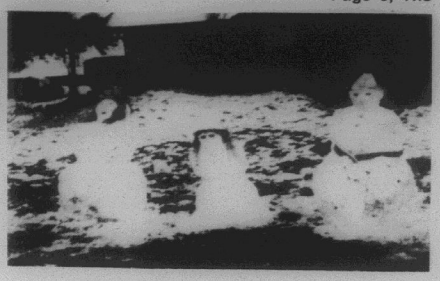
EDWIN LEBLANC
Born: February 3, 1917
Died: January 6, 1988
Laid to Rest: January 8, 1988



During a time like this, we realize how much our family, friends and neighbors really mean to us. Your expression of sympathy will always be remembered by the family of Edwin LeBlanc.

A special thanks to those who stood by us during his sickness and death, to Father Shreve for the beautiful Mass, to Msgrs. Vidrine and Bernard for their spiritual assistance and to Mr. and Mrs. Taylor for the rooms they provided for the family members, to those who sent floral, spiritual tributes and memorial and monetary donations, to the K.C.'s and Catholic Daughters and those who prepared food for the family. A special thanks for the prayers that were said so that we were able to accept and bear our loss.

"I took charge. Diabetes no longer controls my life." Diabetes is a disease for life. It doesn't have a cure... it must be managed and controlled. By you.

Prevent the complications of diabetes. Vision loss, kidney damage, impotency, loss of limbs... these are but a few of the complications that arise when diabetes is not controlled. Undetected, these problems can become chronic and eventually require hospitalization. They can even be life-threatening.

Make it a point to see your doctor regularly. If you do not have a physician, contact the Diabetes Center and we will refer you.

The Diabetes Center offers inpatient services complemented by an array of educational and support programs for patients and their families. A team of specially trained professionals including registered nurses, a clinical dietitian and physical therapist, provide additional treatment for patients.

Education is the medicine. Knowing as much as possible about diabetes is the key to controlling it. Advances in research are continually finding new technology and methods for treating this disease.

When you participate in an educational program at the Diabetes Center you are acquiring the most current information available on how to manage your diabetes. You will leave the program feeling that you have acquired useful tools that you can apply to your daily lifestyle.

Know the warning signs

The following symptoms could indicate that your diabetes may not be under control:

- Poor healing of cuts or sores.
- Burning or numbness in legs or feet.
- Dizziness — especially when changing position.
- Double vision.
- Ringing in ears.
- Nocturnal diarrhea.
- Leg pain after walking short distances.
- Dry skin or decreased sweating.

Cowbelles scrapbook is state winner

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

In celebration of February -- "Heart Month", the Cameron Parish Cowbelles served a covered dish supper at their monthly meeting at the Creole Fire Station.

Each dish was from the American Heart Association cookbook which featured no-salt, low calorie dishes.

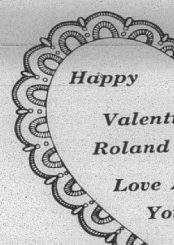
Mrs. Braxton Blake, president, introduced Katheryn Perry, "Cameron Cattleman Queen" who gave a report on her trip to the State Cattleman-Cowbelle convention where she was named fourth runnerup in the state Cattleman Queen contest.

Mrs. Shirley Bonsall reported that the club's scrapbook took the first place award at the state convention and that the new leather cover was made and donated to the club by Floyd Baccigalopi.

Mrs. Blake reported that the local club and the Grand Chenier 4-H club assisted with the Livestock Show buyers lunch last month by furnishing the desserts and serving the food.

The club voted to send a donation to the Louisian acattleman Association Crime Stoppers program.

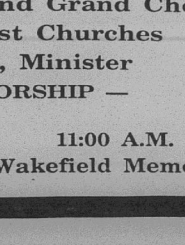
Mrs. Blake explained that in 1985 the LCA, in conjunction with the Louisiana Brand Commission, established the Livestock Crime Stoppers program whereby individuals could receive a reward for providing information leading to arrests and convictions involving livestock crimes.



Mayola Wicke, Estelle Theriot and Charlene Boudreaux wee appointed as Beef Cook-Off Chairmen for the contest to be held in Baton Rouge April 24.

Mrs. Bonsall reported on the Christmas shopping spree that she and Elizabeth Richard went on for the club in which they bought clothing for two boys from Boy's Village and took them out to lunch.

She also reported that 49 brands had been reserved for the quilt the club is having made as a project, and that Feb. 15, is the deadline for getting these quilt squares paid for.



Sherre Doland gave a report on the Bossier City convention and announced that the state council meeting will be March 28, in Alexandria.

Sunday, Feb. 14 is Valentine's Day. Don't forget yours!

Afraid of Failure?

Who isn't? But since none of us is perfect, we often fall short of expectations—our own or someone else's. The important thing is not that we succeed all the time, but that we keep trying. We believe that it's easier to keep trying when we do it with help from each other and from God. We're United Methodists.

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American
Feb. 8, 1907)

Cameron, Feb. 4--A good rain fell here last night accompanied by heavy thunder and lightning. The weather is cooler today.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stine of Grand Chenier, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Effie, to Alva E. Hollister, the marriage to take place on the 7th.

Mrs. S. O. Carter is visiting relatives at Abbeville, Cade and New Iberia.

Mrs. Emile Savoie, who has been seriously ill is improving.

Mrs. Elvin Donahoe, of Johnson's Bayou, is visiting relatives in New Orleans.

George Savoie is attending school at the industrial school at Lafayette.

Mrs. Mary Norwood is stopping with Mrs. C. B. Jones.

W. H. Laurents has rented the Marshall farm and will engage in farming.

Jos. Cormier has bought the lot in which the barber shop is located and will move his family here in the near future.

Jos. Green has sold his farm to F. G. Lock, and will move to Calcasieu Parish.

J. B. Meaux and Bud Stewart passed through yesterday on their way to Port Arthur for a few days visit.

Hon. Eraste Hebert of Grand Lake has announced himself as a candidate for representative from this parish.

A. Bruckert has purchased a phonograph with which he is entertaining his friends.

Mrs. Issac Bonsall has returned home after spending some time with relatives at Westlake.

(Lake Charles American,
Feb. 5, 1909)

Hackberry--The weather has cleared off without any rain. It is getting dry and if it does not rain in a few weeks all the stockmen will have to put up their wind mills.

Aladin Vincent and company were here last Friday, looking over the oil prospects. They expect to put down a well before long.

Mrs. John Portie, who was visiting her relatives on Grand Chenier, returned home a few days ago and reports a pleasant trip.

(Abbeville Meridional,
Feb. 4, 1911)
LAKESIDE LACONICS

The orange trees that seemed to be hurt somewhat by the freeze of a few weeks ago are now putting out new leaves. It would be better if they would wait a bit as a hard cold spell is promised for the last of the month.

We had a little shower Monday which did not come amiss.

Adolph Miller is quite sick again.

There will be considerable intensive farming around Lakeside this year, but we haven't seen any trees for commercial purposes put into the ground as yet.

The lowest point of cold was 20 degrees. It took all the leaves from the more exposed trees but they are all budding out again. These few warm days have pushed them along finely.

The Lowery plant will be worked again this year but a large number of highland crops will be put in for the purpose of reducing feed expenses.

Paul Jolissaint is going to put out two acres in corn, potatoes, etc. Mark Nunemaker is going to do likewise, now it will be quite interesting to see which will do best on their little patches of land.

The Klondike plant will be run again this year as a stock farm under the management of Mr. Causey.

Press, Feb. 14, 1913)
LAND IN CAMERON

There lately has been a considerable demand for Cameron Parish land and although little change has taken place in titles, it is believed development of the rich prairies to the south is but a matter of the near future.

One man from a central northern state came to Lake Charles the other day with $25,000, which he desired to invest in Cameron soil, but he went away without finding a man who desired to sell.

The International Harvester Company owns or controls 300,000 acres of Cameron land and will not turn loose an acre of it; F. A. Ogden, the Houston real estate man, possesses 48,000 acres largely in northern Cameron and northern Calcasieu, and won't sell a bit; while other big holdings remain as tight today as ever; the man who wants to buy a small amount for farming or ranching purposes finds that he cannot purchase unless he pays a price above what the land in its undeveloped state is worth.

It sells, however, when it is turned loose, for from $5 to $100 per acre, depending upon the location and the state of development. The undeveloped would sell for from $5 to $20 per acre, depending upon character and location, while the developed would sell for the higher prices.

Local real estate dealers say that they have within the past few weeks had more requests for Cameron land than at any time in the past, and they take this to mean a near-future development of these lands.

The traction lines which are being built over southern Louisiana, with this city as one of the centers, a probability of the line going into Cameron, and drainage districts being formed in Cameron, all hve had a tendency to awaken people to an appreciation of the value of these idle lands.

DRILLING AT HACKBERRY

Feb. 12.--The Gulf Refining Company of Louisiana and W. W. Bell of Beaumont, Tex., with strong and complete equipment, are each drilling an oil well at Hackberry. The Gulf Refining Co. is drilling near Black Lake and W. W. Bell is drilling about one mile east of the Gulf well. This gives us evidence that the oil companies have confidence in an oil strike at some near future date on our little island, and with reclamation work starting in the immediate future by the Deering Co., we can expect land values to soar in the next few months.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathanial Littles returned from Lake Charles last Monday.--

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hughes, from Vinton, have been spending a few days at Mr. and Mrs. John C. Elender's.

In the next few days Hackberry will have deep water at least seven feet. Mr. Cline's dredge is at work and the dredging will be completed in another week, therefore Kelso Bayou will be opened to deeper navigation. Now, the next important improvement that is needed on our little island is for our people to vote a bond issue for public roads.

Give us good roads and there is no place in the state of Louisiana that would equal our little country to live in. Unfortunately, some of our largest tax payers oppose any steps the young people may take to better our roads conditions.

It is probable they do not understand that a bond issue would be cheaper in the long run and would be a saving against the present method of special tax with so little available cash to only patch up the deeper holes, and the final result is squandering that much money with the same thing over and over each year.

W. W. Bell left today for Beaumont, Tex., on a business mission.

Frank Granger is a Lake Charles visitor today.

Capt. C. C. Duhon went to Lake Charles on business.

Curtis McCain is promoted

Curtis E. McCain, son of Vernon and Jolene McCain of Grand Chenier, has been promoted in the U. S. Air Force to the rank of airman first class.

McCain is an administration specialist at Carswell Air Force Base, Tex., with the 7th Combat Support Group.

His wife, Rebecca, is the daughter of Terry L. Conner of Grand Chenier and Bernice LaLande of Cameron.

Bass fishing near

By Loston McEvers

REDFISH CLOSE - BASS TO OPEN

The good news this week is Lacassine and Sbine Refuges will open March 1, and the MIami Corporation fishing areas such as the Big Burns will open March 19, for freshwater fishing. Bass hawg hunting is around the corner, along with white perch, bream and catfish.

Now the bad news, which is really not so bad, is redfish fishing for sportsmen will close Feb. 15, thru June 1, as voted by the Louisiana Wildlife Commission, at their meeting in Houma, Feb. 4. The commercial fishing is closed until Sept. 1.

This came as no surprise to me as I had been in contact with certain people and it really had to happen. You know, with the five states on the Gulf Coast all in trouble with redfish, such as age groups of these fish to spawn, and with the National Marine Fisheries closing the federal waters and asking the states to help ease this problem, it was almost a must to close redfish for everyone in our state. The five states are Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

There were several actions that could have been taken to ease the pressure on redfish, such as: gear restriction, closed areas, quotas, bag and possession limits and close the season.

Quotas were set for commercial fishermen and the Commission could not set bag and possession limits as this has to be set by the legislature, so closing certain areas would have really caused hard feelings, so I think closing it, period, was best for everyone concerned and at the same time showing the National Fisheries Services, Louisiana, is trying to help out and protect our redfish.

The legislature should meet in March and April and maybe they'll give the Commission, by law, authority to set a bag and possession limit, which should have been done long, long ago.

All of us, sports fishermen and commercial fishermen alike, should try to work together, as to a quota for our commercial fishermen they can live with, and a few fish like 5 or 10 redfish daily and possission-about the same for our sports fishing people.

I guess we as U. S. citizens have had it so good so long we take everything for granted, like the gas and oil shortage, duck and geese shortage and our fish not only the redfish but other species in trouble. With all the good we've had, we'll have to suffer and take some of the bad.

LOUISIANA 1988

FISHING LICENSES

This is a breakdown of what we'll have to pay for fishing licenses (residents only) in Louisiana for 1988, for sports fishing:

Basic Hunting and Fishing, $16; cane pole, $2.50; basic fishing license; $5.50; saltwater license, $5.50.

If you're using the following gear listed below, you'll need a basic fishing license of $5.50, plus, crab traps (limit 10) $10; gill nets (limit to 150 ft.) $25; hoop nets (limit to 5 nets) $20; slat traps (limit to 5 traps) $20; trammel nets (150 ft. maximum) $25; seines (limit to 150 ft.) $25; trawls (16 feet maximum) $25; and oyster tongs, $5.

Residents under 16 years of age and 60 years old or older, who have residence within the state for two years, shall not have to obtain a fishing license. Proof of age must be carried on person.

Persons in the armed forces of the United States on active military duty shall be allowed to use a resident fishing license.

Veterans having a permanent service connected disability classification of 50% or more and who are Louisiana residents or residents who are blind, paraplegic or multiple amputees, who shall show identification and proof of disability, can contact the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries and be issued a license without the payment of any fees.

Here are some of the limits or sizes on some of our most popular freshwater and inland saltwater fish:

Black Bass (largemouth and spotted): 15 daily; white bass, 50 daily; yellow bass, 50 daily; striped or hybred striped bass or a combination fo the two, 5 daily of which no more than two may be 30 inches in length; crappie (white perch, sac-a-lait), 50 daily, except Toledo Bend has no limit.

Buffalo fish (under 16 inches, freshwater drum, gaspergoo) under 12 inches; blue catfish under 14 inches; flathead catfish (spotted, yellow, Opelousas) under 14 inches, or any combination thereof: 25 daily. Other freshwater game fish, no limit. No person shall have in his possession more than twice the daily limit of any kind of game fish. No freshwater game fish may be sold in the state.

LAWSUIT ON TED

The Louisiana Attorney General's office has filed a lawsuit against the U. S. Department of Commerce claiming its requirement that Louisiana shrimpers must use TED's after March 1, 1988, is illegal and impossible to enforce. Attorney General William J. Guste Jr. feels that the National Marine Fisheries Services failed to consider all relevant data about TED's, and that regulations were adopted without adequate public notice or input.

Maybe our Attorney General will have more luck than California, as their Attorney General had filed a lawsuit about the steel shots, however, they lost and the feds won.

SALTWTER FISH

Here's more on saltwater limits and sizes:

Speckle trout, 14 inches maximum length, 50 limit.

Red drum (redfish), closed.

Sheephead, 10 inch minimum length.

Hard shell crabs, 5 inches in width.

Soft shell crabs, 4½ inches in width.

Speckle trout is 50 per day and also that one day possession limit. Taking of female crabs with eggs attached is strictly prohibited.

RULES SET ON INTOXICATED AT SEA

Federal intoxication standards for boaters went into effect Jan. 13. A $100 million budget cut will make the job tougher for the Coast Guard to enforce, due to the lack of funds.

The new standards apply to all vessels on U. S. waters, from small pleasure boats to foreign ships coming into our country. A pleasure boater will be considered drunk if he or she has a blood-alcohol level of .10 percent.

The level for commercial seamen is .04 percent. Drug intoxication will be determined by a set of behavioral considerations. Any standard each individual state has will not be disturbed by the federal standards, if state standards should be lower.

MUSING. . .

Hog butchering

By Bernice Denny

During my childhood on the Chenier one hog was usually butchered during the first cool spell in October, a smaller one during the week before Christmas to be eaten during the holidays, and three or four large ones when January temperatures swooped low.

Prior to their slaughter the animals had been kept in the fattening pen. My grandfather believed that good corn produced the finest meat.

Butchering day itself repulsed and fascinated me in turn. Not unlike Dr. Albert Schweister, I abhorred seeing any form of life destroyed. And yet I missed not a whit of the activities except the actual stabbing of the poor creature. When that moment drew near, I ran as fast as I could to the house and up the stairs to the attic. There I hid in its furthest corner.

Every now and then I would take my fingers out of my ears to learn whether the squeals were audible or had died away. To descend was a fearful decision, for the stabbing might have been delayed.

The men would heat water in a great iron pot, or kettle, that had been set on bricks not too far from a well outside the house yard. The hog would be stabbed in the jugular vein so as to produce instant death. Two men would hold it by its hind legs and drop and lift it alternately in the hot water. Then it was laid on a big clean board and scraped with large butcher knives till all bristles were removed.

The hind legs were slit along the big tendons. End hooks of a singletree (an attachment to a plow) were fastened into each leg. The big central hook of the singletree was attached to the stout limb of a tree, thus permitting the body to hang free. The head had probably been removed earlier. The hog was slit open. The insides were placed in a big tub, washed clean, and carried into the house yard. There a long wooden table had been placed near the smokehouse. All bits of fat were cut off the organs to be used to make lard. Organs were re-washed and set aside.

Cold water was poured over the meat hanging to the tree. Then it was taken down and carried to the cutting table. Each lengthwise half was cut into three parts: hind quarter (ham), rib section (middling), and shoulder.

Part of the meat was cut up for sausages. Other sections wre cut and set aside for helping neighbors to carry home. Spare ribs were deliciously browned for dinner (the noonday meal). Backbones were stewed for the men who preferred them. Brains were scrambled with eggs and seasoning.

I vowed each time that I would refuse to taste the boiled tongue. Each time my grandmother bewitched it into such a tempting dish that I could not resist it.

Grandfather would carry the big cuts of meat into the smokehouse and rub quantities of salt into them. A week or so later, depending on the temperature of the weather, he would soak out the salt in a tub of clear water, dry the meat carefully, and hang it on poles in the smokehouse to be smoked.

A tube half filled with ashes would be placed on bricks under the meat. Coals carried from cookstove or living room heater would be laid on the ashes or a fire would be kindled in the tub each morning. Short sticks of green wood -- hickory preferred, but china usually -- would be placed in the tub. A slow fire with much smoke would be kept going day after day until the meat was thoroughly cured, for safety reasons the fire was allowed to die out before nightfall.

Since artificial casings for sausages were not invented till around 1916 and many farmers did not purchase the ready-made ones even then, hog intestines were used to hold the meat. The small intestines were trimmed of fat, washed, turned inside out, soaked clean, scraped well, and washed again several times.

In the meantime the meat for the stuffing had been ground and seasoned with salt, sage, and both black and red pepper.

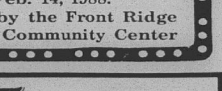
The casings were stuffed, tied at each end, and hung over poles in the smokehouse to be smoked.

The seasoned ground meat for which there were not enough casings were made into patties (called "les boulets" by the French-speaking neighbors, "bullets" by my family). These patties were fried in deep fat, packed into sterilized gallon syrup cans, covered with hot grease on top of which was placed a circle of thick brown paper, and sealed.

The fat of the hog had been cut into small pieces, which were later boiled in a black iron washpot in the back yard. The grease was then strained through two or three thicknesses of cheesecloth into sterile syrup cans and sealed. The brown pieces left in the cloth were rich, crisp, delicious cracklings.

The old Negro woman who helped at butchering time declared, "Chile, dem cracklin's salted is so good dey make a fellah want to slap his pappy!"

The head of the hog was cleaned, the meaty parts boiled tender, picked free of bone, seasoned, mixed with some of the stock, and put into a big brown bowl ("crock", the ladies called it).



It was covered with a plate slightly smaller in diameter than the top of the bowl. On the plate was set a smoothing iron as a weight to press it firm. The next day the appetizing hoghead cheese would be sliced and eaten.

My great-uncle, Johnny Wetherill, always washed the bladder, blew it up and gave it to my brother and me for a ball. We were grateful that it, at least, could not be eaten.

Finally came the perennial joke from one or another of the men: "Well, boys, the only part of the hog that used to be lost was its squeal. Now, Edison has made it possible for us to use even that on a phonograph record."

All the grown-ups would laugh as though they had never heard the witticism before. Poor dears, any saying provocative of laughter must have been welcomed at the end of such a weary day.

I am still baffled. All my life I have listened for that pig-squealing record and have never heard it. Years ago I though that I had found it. Disappointment! The squealing came from a girl listening to an old Frank Sinatra recording.

The earthworm is often known by several other names, including fishworm, angleworm or night crawler.

PHILLIP TROSCLAIR was presented with the "Sportman of the Year" trophy at Lemesche Bass Club annual awards banquet.

Rice farmers OK two state programs

Louisiana rice farmers overwhelmingly approved a referendum that will continue funding of a voluntary rice promotion and market development program.

Of the 416 farmers voting in the referendum, 394 or 95 percent voted for the proposal and 22 voted against it. Balloting took place Jan. 27, in the state's rice producing parishes. The election was authorized by the Louisiana Rice Promotion Board in accordance with Act 104 of the 1972 Louisiana Legislature.

Results are complete but unofficial and must be approved by the Louisiana Rice Promotion Board.

The referendum continues the existing three cents per hundredweight assessment of rough rice for a five year period beginning with the 1988 crop.

Six teams in playoffs

By ROBERT MANUEL

Cameron Parish's varsity basketball programs have reached a new high as the four parish high schools have placed six teams in the state basketball playoffs.

The Grand Lake and South Cameron girls have won their respective district championships, while the Hackberry Mustangs have clinched a runnerup spot, losing 61-60 Tuesday night in a tie-breaking rematch with Singer. Both teams ended with 5-1 records and the rematch was to determine the district champion and runnerup.

The Lady Mustangs and the Johnson Bayou Rebels have wrapped up the runnerup playoff spots in District 10B and 9C respectively. The Lady Rebels will enter playoffs as a wild card.

Girls playoffs will begin either Thursday or Friday of this week whereas boys state playoffs will begin Friday of next week. Wild card and runnerup teams will travel and No. 1 teams will be home team at a local neutral site.

Final standing in District 9-C, 10-B, and 8-A for playoffs are as follows:

District 8-A: Boys, incomplete information.

Playoff games Thursday:

Hackberry and Johnson Bayou will begin playoffs Friday of next week.

Proposals asked here

The Calcasieu JobMatch Office will accept proposals to provide employment and training services for the upcoming fiscal year (July 1, 1988-June 30, 1989). The Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA) allocates federal funds through Titles IIA, IIB, and 8% Vocational education to provide programs to prepare youth and unskilled adults for entry into the labor force and to afford job training to those economically disadvantaged individuals and other individuals facing serious barriers to employment, who are in special need of such training to obtain productive employment.

The multi-parish consortium of Calcasieu, Cameron, and Jefferson Davis received approximately $4 million from the combined three funding sources during this current fiscal year, and the allocation for FY 88/89 is expected to be close to that amount again.

Potential service providers interested in competitively bidding on these funds should contact the Calcasieu JobMatch Office by calling 474-1632. A Request for Proposal packet must be completed and submitted to the JobMatch Office by March 10, for funding consideration.

Shrimping laws are published

The LSU Sea Grant Legal Program recently published the 1987-88 Louisian Shrimp Laws pamphlet which provides a written summary of the state and federal shrimp laws affecting both commercial and recreational shrimp fishermen.

It contains information on licenses, seasons, zones, net requirements and limitations, penalties, and TEDs. It also contains reference maps and the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of persons and agencies that fishermen can contact with questions.

Copies of the publication may be secured from Paul Coreil, marine and wildlife agent for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes. His office is in the Cameron courthouse.

Another trip to N.O.'s Mardi Gras

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

My family and I joined celebrities from all over the nation this weekend at the greatest show in the world — Mardi Gras in New Orleans.

Taking part in the many parades which rolled through the city were television personality Alan Thicke who headed the Baucas parade; party pooch Spuds McKenzie, singers Dolly Parton, Smokey Robinson, Gloria Estefan (of the Miami Sound Machine); sopa opera star Heather Locklear, and many others.

Spuds became the first animal to serve as a grand marshal of a parade, riding low on the glitziest float, the Krewe of Endymin, in a tall director's chair, snout between his paws, nose pointing down, with a hangdog look on his face.

Thousands of people grabbed for cheap beads, aluminum doubloons, plastic cups, furry toys, and unmentionables tossed from the huge, beautifully decorated floats.

Our family joined other families in a huge motorhome (17 in all) on the way down from Baton Rouge to New Orleans.

We picked up more cars on the way and formed a caravan, eventually ending up with 27 people in our party, including some friends from California who had come in especially for Mardi Gras and a visit with my dear friend Lance Graugnard on the Mississippi River in St. James Parish.

This annual tradition of ours starts early Sunday morning so we can park our vehicles and stake out a good spot on the St. Charles Interurban boulevard, straddling the railroad tracks.

The train stops running that morning to make way for the Mardi Gras crowd. Our spot is located midway between interstate 10 and Lee Circle.

We set up a card table and chairs and our cold drink boxes to form a circle for our group and eat our picnic lunches before the prades start.

The cold drink boxes are then used to stand on to be better able to catch the throws from the floats.

Since I do not get up in front next to the floats I stand to the back to get all of the "goodies".

Since this is my third year to

Blake not in investigation of dock board

Braxton Blake, Cameron parish's non-voting member of the Board of Commissioners of the Lake Charles Harbor and Terminal District, apparently is not one of the commissioners being investigated by the Fedeal Bureau of Investigation.

A news story in the Southwest Daily News of Sulphur states that four of the voting commissioners have not been contacted by the FBI and apparently are not included in the investigation. It was not known whether the other three voting commissioners had been contacted.

Since Blake has no vote on the Board, apparently there would be no way he could be involved in the FBI matter.

Education forum set

A public forum on education in the Imperial Calcasieu Region will be held under the auspices of Gov. Elect Buddy Roemer on Tuesday, March 1, at Lake Charles-Boston High School, 1509 Enterprise Blvd. in Lake Charles.

Registration is at 6 p.m.

Following an address by Roemer at 6:30, there will be small group discussions on the following topics: Learning Environment, At-Risk Children, Teacher Compensation and Evaluation, Teacher Certification and Preparation, More Dollars to the Classroom and Instructional Leadership.

All citizens in the five parish area are invited to attend and take part in the forum. For more information contact Ann Knapp at 477-9814, Lake Charles.

Report given by coroner

K. H. Hopper, Deputy Coroner for Cameron Parish, has given the following summary of the cases handled by the coroner's office during 1987:

Total Coroner cases in 1987 were 18, fourteen of which were males and four were females.

The youngest was 18 years old, the victim of a motor vehicle accident, and the oldest was a 72 year old who suffered a coronary.

Four were drowning victims, three males and one female.

Two persons were victims of motor vehicle accidents. Nine were victims of heart disease.

There were two suicides, one from a gunshot wound and one by hanging.

One 25 year old male died from decapitation when he fell from the stern of a shrimp boat.

There were no homicides.

Eight of the victims were Cameron parish residents, 10 were non-residents.

Coroner's cases in 1987 were down by five. Cases in 1986 were 23.

Redfish meet set in N.O.

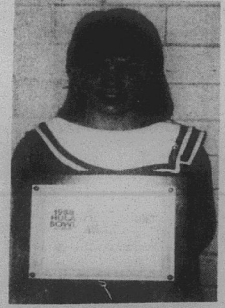
The Red Drum Advisory Panel of the Gulf of Mexico Fishery Management Council will meet in New Orleans on Feb. 26 to review and comment on scientific information related to a proposed rule to prohibit harvest of redfish from federal waters. The meeting will be held at the Sheraton Hotel, 2150 Veterans Boulevard, beginning at 10 a.m.

The panel will review the 1987 stock assessment for Gulf redfish and a stock assessment group report were the basis upon which the Council is proposing the rule to close the fishery for several years.

H'berry girl goes to the Hula Bowl

Shana Thibodeaux, a 10th grade cheerleader from Hackberry High School, was chosen to represent Louisiana as an all star cheerleader at the 1988 Hula Bowl in Honolulu, Hawaii Jan. 8-18. She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Connie Thibodeaux and her sponsor, Mrs. Tara Johnson, on the trip.

The week prior to the Hula Bowl, two public performances were scheduled at college and high school basketball games. For the halftimes, Shana learned special routines aside from those that were to be performed for the Hula Bowl.



Some free time was worked in around the practice and performance schedule and few of the sightseeing excursions were as follows: trip to Pearl Harbor, visit to the Arizona Memorial Ship, tour of Honolulu, visit to Punch Bowl and Diamonhead landmark, a night at Germaines Luau, not to mention the numerous trips to Waikiki beach and the International Market.

During the Hula Bowl, the All Star Cheerleaders performed on the sidelines. They also took part in the halftime extravaganza along with the band, drill team, flag corps and Polynesian dancers.

At the cheerleader banquet which was held the night before they were to leave Honolulu, Shana was one of the three cheerleaders chosen by the coaching staff out of the hundred that were there to receive a "Super Cheerleader" award.

Shana and Coach Johnson were able to work with some of the most competent coaches, staff and cheerleaders there from all over the United States.

The three wanted to say that this trip would not have been possible if it had not been for the community support and fund raising that took place.

Absentee voting

Absentee voting in person for the March 8 "Super Tuesday" presidential primary will be held Feb. 25 through March 1 in the Cameron Parish Registrar of Voters office on the bottom floor of the courthouse in Cameron, according to Ruby Kelley, Registrar.

MUSING . . . .

Parish has good schools

By Bernice Denny

Louisiana has gained the reputation of having a poor educational system. We pause here to say that the Cameron Parish School System ranks among the best in the state.

We have come to believe that every child should be helped in developing himself to the extent of his capacity.

Nothing measures the inequality between one mind and another like education itself. Hence, in doing a good job in furthering better education, parents as well as educators must acknowledge the fact that each child has his own capacity for learning. This is as true for children in the same family as it is for those of widely varying backgrounds.

Too many schools have striven to bring all pupils up to a specified level of achievement. The inevitable result is the neglect of pupils with greater intellectual capacity. In our zeal for democracy in education today we must take care lest we waste our most previous natural resources -- our youth who are endowed at birth with great ability to understand, to create, to achive, to lead.

It would prove equally disastrous to gear the program to the fast learner.

How then can we meet our task of better education for all? The answers are as varied as heads of educational systems themselves. But the answer calls clearly to all who would listen. The indiscriminate grouping of children of widely varying degrees of ability in the same class with the same course of study and the same standards of achievement will frustrate the weakest and reduce the brightest to indifference.

To throw the burden on the teacher of such a class and to say that it is his/her responsibility to meet the individual needs of each student is unfair. The wisest, the most capable of teachers cannot meet the learning problems of all pupils in an overcrowded class within a limited time period.

To censure the principal is equally unfair. In the age-old mathematics of numbers to be taught, numbers to do the teaching, the totality of subjects, and time allotments, he does a magnificent job.

Nor are the school board members and superintendent to be blamed. The curricula comes to them from higher authority; their funds are insufficient. During these days of unheralded change they probably should receive far more gratitude than they get.

Any revision of school programming has to be worked on by all units involved. As every business man knows -- and every householder should -- one's assets must balance one's liabilities.

Just as every child should acquire factual knowledge so should he develop obedience and respect for others. He should acquire self-control, an understanding for values, an appreciation of the beautiful and of the morally good. He should learn to live even as he learns to make a living. And above all he needs to develop spiritually.

We close with a quotation from William O. Douglas: "If we are to receive full service from government, the universities must give us trained men (women), a constant reorientation of university instruction and research not for the mere purpose of increasing technical proficiency but for the purpose of keeping abreast with social and economic change.... Government is no better than its men (women)."

attend I am getting much wiser and from observations on the rules of the game of catching throws.

This year I nailed a sign, "Please throw me something, Mister" to an old mop handle and attached an old indoor basketball goal to the bottom of that.

I had to devise a bag to the bottom of the goal to catch my "goodies" in so I took three mesh onion sacks and sewed them together to form the sack.

This attracted a lot of attention, especially to the men on the floats who wanted to test their skills on hitting the bag.

Young and old alike took turns holding up the sign, which was pretty hard against the strong wind that was blowing.

Those standing nearby were able to scoop up all the throws that missed the bag.

All New Orleans parades have one thing in common — the masked and costumed riders throw beads and plastic toys to the crowds, which scream, scramble and often even scuffle for the trinkets.

One bystander said, "I've been here for 22 years and I still wonder what makes people go bananas over junk jewelry."In a scuffle over a full pack of beads, on which a little black boy and I both had our foot, I remarked to him, "All's fair in love, war and Mardi Gras", but he was as street smart as I was and wouldn't budge a foot, so in order for us to compromise and get on with the business of catching, I gave in and said, "O.K., son, I'll give you half." This worked because he shook his head in agreement and I was able to tear the pack apart and divide with him.

Since my sign drew a lot of attention this year from other bystanders I imagine next year we will see some imitators, so I am already thinking up something new to do.

Local man is sentenced here

Pernell Vincent Miller, 23, Rt. 1, Cameron, pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana with intent to distribute in 38th Judicial District Court last week.

A charge of possession of drug paraphernalia was dismissed against Miller.

Judge Fontenot sentenced Miller to two years in the Department of Corrections, suspended, placed on two years supervised probation, and ordered to pay $10 a month to the probation officer.

He was also fined $100 plus costs, payable over the period of the probation.

PARISH TEAMS

The expected close contest didn't materialize as the Lady Hornets shot a sizzling 50% from the floor to offset any defensive strategies from the Lady Bulldogs. The victory made it a clean sweep of district games at 6-0 and gave the school its first district championship in girls varsity basketball competition.

Hyatt's double teaming of Rhonda Verzwyvelt did very little to offset the final outcome, as the Lady Hornets put 4 players in double figures with Verzwyvelt canning 17, Kay Lynn Breaux 14, Amy Jo LeBouef 12 (6 of 8, 15 footers), and Rachel Manuel 11.

The cold shooting and mistake prone Hornet boys lost their bid for a 3-way tie with a disappointing 64-36 season ending loss to the league leading Hyatt Bulldogs.

Hyatt claimed the 9-C title, Johnson Bayou the runnerup slot and Grand Lake third place.

JOHNSON BAYOU VS REEVES

Johnson Bayou boys wrapped up the 9-C runnerup playoff slot in a convincing 79-52 victory over the Reeves Raiders.

Johnson Bayou placed 4 players in double figures with Dale Jinks bagging 28, Ricky Harrington 21, Scott Romero 11, and Scott Sandifer 10.

The Lady Rebels claimed third place with a 59-21 victory. Three players scored in double figures. Cherelle Duhon tallied 22, Erica Larsa 17, and Tiffany Romero 12.

The Johnson Bayou Rebels will enter the boys state playoff as the Number 2 team in District 9-C whereas the Lady rebels will be hoping for a wild card slot.

HACKBERRY VS SINGER

The Hackberry Mustangs stumped the Singer Hornets 76-55 to earn a 10-B title tie with Singer and the Lady Mustangs claimed the runnerup 10-B girls division playoff slot with a 76-52 victory. Hackberry boys will play off the tie with Singer at Lacassine Tuesday night at 7 p.m.

The Mustangs lone district loss had occurred at Singer and the return game at Hackberry was sweet satisfaction, as the Mustangs dominated the outcome with four players scoring in double figures. Charlie Seay scored 20, Brian Beard 18, Clint Hewitt and Lancey Buford, 12 each. The victory set up the tie breaking game scheduled for Tuesday of this week. The winner will be district champ and the loser, the runnerup in playoff slot No. 2.

The Lady Mustangs scoring onslaught was led by Monise Seay and Tiffany Kyle with 23 each; Melanie Blanchard chipped in 11 and Dee Dee Abshire 8. Tiffany Kyle hit four three pointers to highlight the shooting exhibition.

The Mustangs end their regular season with a 32-7, 5-1 record for boys and the girls 27-9, 4-2 in district.

SOUTH CAMERON VS NORTH VERMILION

The Lady Tarpons ended a long dry spell by defeating the North Vermilion Lady Patriots 54-31 for the league lead and the District title in 8-A. Its last year of such success was in 1976 under then girls coach, Wayne Batts, now principal at South Cameron High School.

The Lady Tarpons ended the regular season with a 14-11, 8-2 record. They will play Oberlin, a wild card team in the first round.

Chris Rutherford came out of a scoring slump to lead the team with a season high of 25 points, followed by Tiffany LaSalle with 13. The boys ended a disappointing season with another loss.

No fee for duplicate S.S. Card

The Social Security Administration does not charge the public any fee for obtaining an original or duplicate Social Security card or for any of the other Social Security services according to Bill Dixon, Assistant District Manager of the Lake Charles Social Security Office.

Numerous inquiries have been received this week from members of the public about correspondence received from a private company offering to handle the paperwork involved in obtaining a Social Security card for a fee. Such companies have absolutely no connection with the Social Security Administration or the Federal Government.

The public is reminded that applications for new or duplicate Social Security cards are available free of charge at any Social Security office and there is no charge for processing such applications. Usually it takes from 2 to 3 weeks to receive a Social Security card once the application and required evidence are received by Social Security.

Information about obtaining a Social Security card or any other Social Security business can be obtained by calling the Lake Charles Social Security office at 478-0220 from the Lake Charles area and 824-6820 from the Jennings area.

There will also be tours of the hospital's diabetes unit, grocery shopping tips for the diabetic, booths representing many local businesses and much more.

"Legal" refreshments will be served and door prizes will be given away.

About 11 million Americans have diabetes, nearly one in every twenty people. Diabetes is the leading cause of blindness in adults and is a major cuse of heart disease and kidney failure. Diabetes, with its complications, is today's number 3 cause of death by disease in the United States.

an estimated 5 million people have dibetes and do not know it. There is no cure for diabetes but it can be controlled through education, diet and exercise.

Diabetes is a condition which prevents the body from getting all it needs from the food you eat. Your body's digestive system breaks food down into a sugar called "glucose", which your body uses for energy. As the glucose level in your blood rises, a hormone called insulin, which is produced by your pancreas, is released into your bloodstream.

Insulin helps the glucose go from the blood into the cells of your body to be used for energy or stored for future use. If you have diabetes, your body does not produce enough insulin.

The key to diabetes control is medication when rquired,diet and and exercise. Learning to control the disease is the key to a longer, healthier life.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

We all talked about the snow two weeks ago, and the Lemesche bass club got caught right in the middle and had to cancel their banquet the Sunday the ground turned white. However, Monday night saw many members and their families attending a great steak supper prepared by Fredman Theriot.

Philip Trosclair and Carl Broussard received top honors, being tied for the Oustanding Anglers of the year. Also Philip was awarded the Kirby Gaspard Memorial Award (Sportsman of the Year).

Pete Duhon and Lynn Richard received a plaque for being weighmasters for the club. There was a standing ovation for Mrs. Geneva Griffith for a plaque she receiving stating, "To Someone Who Cares". June Richard was thanked for helping out our two weighmasters during the year.

Ricky Canik received an award for catching the largest bass during a tournament and Jimmy Trahan for catching the largest bass outside a fishing tournament.

Tom Hess and Ricky Canik had the largest team stringer of the year. Runnerup in the outstanding angler spot was Gerald Richard. Runnerup in the largest tournament bass was Fredman Theriot. Runnerup in the team stringer was Carl Broussard and Mike King.

New officers were installed by outgoing President Mike King. Officers were as follows: Carl Broussad, president; Fredman Theriot, vice-president; Loston McEvers, secretary-treasurer. Trustees are J. C. Boudreaux, Anthony Nunez and Mike King.

A fun day of fishing is planned Sunday, March 6, in Lacassine Refuge for club members. All members are reminded to keep our policy alive by not keeping any bass under ten inches and don't take more than 7 fish for your limit. Any members wishing to fish may contact Carl Broussard.

Redfish ban in effect

The recreational harvest of redfish in state territorial waters will be suspended Feb. 15 to June 1, 1988, the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries has announced.

J. Burton Angelle, Sr., department secretary, said the closure was enacted by the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission at a special meeting of the commission on Feb. 4, in Houma.

Before taking action, the commission heard opinions expressed by biologists, fishermen and other interested parties at a gathering attended by more than 1,500 people, Angelle said.

The sport fishing closure is designed to take the pressure off the heavily fished resource. Commercial fishing for redfish was closed until Sept. 1, 1988, owing to a quota imposed by the 1987 Legislature.

Sport fishermen will be prohibited from taking redfish starting at 12:01 a.m. Monday, Feb. 15. The ban will remain in effect until 12:01 a.m. Thursday, June 2.

When you buy a purebred puppy from a reputable breeder you'll know pretty much what qualities it will have as an adult.

Living — and Learning — With Diabetes

"Living and Learning With Diabetes" Health Fair — Saturday, February 20, 1988
9 am - 5 pm
The Humana Regional Diabetes Center
Humana Hospital – Lake Charles

If you have diabetes, or know someone who does, you could probably use a good dose of education about diabetes and its treatment. That's why we'd like to invite you to our "Living and Learning with Diabetes" Health Fair at Humana Hospital – Lake Charles.

Come on out Saturday, February 20, from 9 am - 5 pm.

Take a tour of our Diabetes Unit and visit the many fun and informative booths and attractions such as:

- Visiting Chefs — teaching how to convert popular menu items to a "legal" diabetes meal
- Fast Food — how to incorporate fast food into daily diet allowances
- Grocery Shopping — how to read pre-packaged foods and incorporate into your daily diet
- Activities of Daily Living (ADL) — lessons in proper foot care, over-the-counter drug interaction, eye care, exercise, and more
- Diet Teaching — teaching good food habits and diet exchanges
- Diabetic Supplies — featuring the latest in glucose monitoring supplies and more

Plus:

- Refreshments
- Free glucose screenings

We like to say that where diabetes is concerned, education is the best medicine. And the more you learn about diabetes, the better you can live with it — whether you have diabetes or know someone who does.

What are you waiting for? Come to the Health Fair, Saturday, February 20, from 9 am - 5 pm at the Humana Regional Diabetes Center. You'll be one step closer to a better life.

Sabine National Wildlife Refuge will open its interior canals, bayous, ponds, and impoundments to public fishing, crabbing, crayfishing, and shrimp cast netting on March 1, and will remain open until Oct. 15. Legal hours for the public to be on the refuge are from one hour before sunrise to one hour after sunset, Refuge Manager John Walther stated.

Fishing prospects for all three impoundments again appear to be excellent and should provide sport fishermen with good fishing opportunities, Walther continued. Pool 3 continues to improve as a bass fishing area. Pool 1a, adjacent to Highway 27, has a large population of blue channel catfish and fishermen should be in for some fine fishing. Pool 1b, which is south of Pool 1a and adjacent to Highway 27, is expected to produce good crappie fishing this spring. Recent heavy rains have refuge canals holding fresh water and if this condition continues, these canals should have a good population of bass, bream, catfish, and gar in them.

Walther advised that this year the only major change concerns the limit on cast netting for shrimp. During the state inside waters season for shrimp, the refuge limit will be five gallons of "heads on" shrimp per vehicle. During the remainder of the year the shrimp limit will be 5 quarts of "heads on" shrimp per vehicle.

These changes bring the Sabine Refuge limits into close agreement with limits permitted on the State of Louisiana coastal refuges. Also, this change should permit more people to have the opportunity to cast net for shrimp on the refuge. Crab and crayfish limits remain the same as last year, 100 pounds or a 96 quart ice chest per vehicle. The size of ring nets used to catch crabs will be limited to 30 inches in diameter or less on the refuge.

No crab pots or traps are permitted on the refuge. Walther noted that the following sentence was added to the General Provisions of the Fishing Leaflet and it states that "Fishermen will be permitted to enter and park their motor vehicles on the refuge one hour before sunrise to one hour after sunset."

SHIRLEY BONSALL, scrapbook chairman, and Geneva Griffith, publicity chairman, of the Cameron Parish Cowbelles look over their scrapbook that won first place in the state. The leather cover was made by Floyd Baccigalopi.

Oil leasing in 1916

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American Press, Feb. 18, 1916)

CAMERON

Feb. 14--C. F. Henry returned Friday from a short visit to Lake Charles.

John M. Peshoff has recently purchased from Gus Jinnova 120 acres of oil land on St. John Island for a consideration of $500 cash.

Mrs. Sarah LeBleu returned to her home at Lake Charles after having spent the past week the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Henry.

Prof. F. B. Kennedy made a brief business trip to Lake Charles the past week.

Jos. Doxey of Grand Chenier, candidate in the second primary for representative, returned Friday from Johnson Bayou.

Sheriff D. R. Crain and son, Clayton, and C. C. Chadwell went to Little Pecan Island.

John Eagleson and son, Bobbie, of Grand Chenier, was in Cameron Friday and Saturday.

H. T. Farmer, representing the American Tobacco Company, with headquarters at the Rigmaiden Hotel, Lake Charles, transacted business in Cameron Friday and Saturday.

Alfred Eagleson of Black Bayou was in Cameron on business Friday, returning Saturday via steamer Rex.

J. B. Erbelding of Johnson Bayou, candidate in the second primary for representative, was a caller here one day this week.

J. T. Tellote, representing the Mexican-American Trading Co., Inc., of New Orleans, is doing business in Cameron, with headquarters at the Stine Hotel.

J. S. Grunick returned today from Lake Charles.

CHANNEL TO KELSO BAYOU

Residents of the Hackberry district are endeavoring to obtain a small appropriation for clearing out the channel at the entrance of Kelso Bayou. The channel is naturally torturous, and was almost destroyed by the storm last summer. Residents of Lake Charles who spend part of the summer on Calcasieu Lake should feel interested in this movement as Kelso Bayou provides an ideal anchorage on the west side of the lake, and the fishing there is said to be better than at any other point below the Cameron line.

(Abbeville Meridional, Feb. 11, 1911)

LAKESIDE LACONICS

For quite a time Mr. LeBlanc of Abbeville has been bringing fine schooners of corn to Lakeside and Monroe by intercoastal canal. It is fine corn and very much appreciated by the people of this community.

Mr. Nunemaker planted Irish potatoes last week and this week. Mr. Miller is also at the same job.

Mr. Diehl has several peach trees in full blossom. They are not native varieties. The native varieties do not show any signs of life as yet.

Mrs. Jo Miller of Lake Arthur is spending some time visiting the family of Mr. Adolph Miller.

Range cattle are pretty thin and a severe cold spell would cause quite a number to die if shelter and food are not provided.

Very pleasant weather and no rain, but the morning fogs are thick enough to cut with a knife.

Well, the trapping season is over, and if there was not some closed season there would not be an animal left in the country. We wonder if the reckless killing of our little friends in fur is not going to be dearly paid for when the rats and the insects destroy everything in sight. We wonder if the gratis labor of the coon, skunk and other animals who are all the time hunting and destroying the million and one pests of the farmer will not come into remembrance by our farmers too late? Our forest trees are dying from unknown causes. It is Mr. Coon's business to hunt out and destroy the various borers and bugs that are destroying our fine and beautiful live oaks. The others are at similar work all the time and should be appreciated enough to be let alone and allowed to live in happiness.

Pool 3 now has two new boat cross-over units, Walther advised, which provide much easier access into this impoundment. One is located on the east side of the pool just north of Spillway #2. The other unit is located just west of Spillway #3, which is in the Burton Canal on the refuge's north line canal.

For those interested in the exact regulations concerning fishing on the refuge Walther stated, this is how they are listed in the Federal Register: CFR 33:22 - Louisiana.

Grand Lake 4-H meeting

The Grand Lake Jr. 4-H club meeting was held Feb. 4. Those who attended the Parish Livestock show were Seth Guidry, Peter Demary, Greg DeVall, Tina LeJune, Aron Pool, Timmy Daigle, Mark Richard, Carrie Poole, Sharra Payne, Angel Thomas, Dena McComb, Kristy Broussard, Jessica LeBleu, Angela Guidry, and Ginger Broussard.

It was moved by Mr. Erbelding, seconded by Mr. Constance and carried that an agreement by and between Rayne Boudreaux and the Waterworks District No. 10 of the Parish of Cameron for cancellation of servitude and release of building.

STATE OF LOUISIANA — CANCELLATION OF SERVITUDE
PARISH OF CAMERON — AGREEMENT AND RELEASE

This agreement executed this 7th day of January, 1988, by and between Rayne Boudreaux, "Grantor", and the Waterworks District No. 10 of the Parish of Cameron, "Grantee", under the following terms and conditions, to wit:

I.

Reference is made to that certain servitude agreement dated January 28, 1980, executed by Rayne Boudreaux in favor of Waterworks District No. 10 of the Parish of Cameron, which is recorded in Conveyance Book 433, under file no. 163454, records of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, and granting to Grantee herein a servitude covering the surface of the following described property, to-wit:

Beginning at a point on the North right-of-way line of State Route No. 82 which is 4s2.67 feet S 89°31'50" E from the United State Coast and Geodetic Survey horizontal control station PEVOTO, which has Lambert Coordinates x=1,291,199.66 and y=405,037.21, said point of beginning being located in Irregular Section 12, Township 15 South, Range 12 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana; thence running N 00°28'39" W a distance of 40.00 feet; thence turning and running S 89°31'59" E a distance of 40.00 feet; thence turning and running S 00°28'39" E a distance of 40.00 feet to a point on the North Right of Way Line of State Route No. 82, thence turning and running N 89°11'59" W a distance of 40.00 feet to the point of beginning, all the bearings being true and the above described servitude area containing 0.0367 acres, as will more fully appear by reference to the plat attached hereto, the above described property being identified as "Tract A".

II.

The property herein described is no longer of any use to Grantee and Grantee does hereby release said servitude in full unto Grantor including the abandonment to Grantor of the building situated on the surface thereof.

III.

That in exchange for the release of the servitude and the abandoning to Grantor of any buildings situated on the surface thereof Grantor does hereby release the Waterworks District No. 10 of the Parish of Cameron from any and all claims for property damage and acknowledges that the Waterworks District No. 10 of the Parish of Cameron has satisfied all of its obligations to Grantor under the terms of the servitude agreement dated January 28, 1980.

THUS DONE AND SIGNED in Cameron, Louisiana, on the day, month and year hereinabove written.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A Public Hearing will be held at the Lake Charles Civic Center in the Contraband Room; 900 Lakeshore Drive; Lake Charles, Louisiana on Wednesday, March 2, 1988, at 1:00 p.m.

This Public Hearing will be held in accordance with Act 334 of the 1974 regular session of the Louisiana Legislature and conducted by the Joint Legislative Committee on Transportation, Highways and Public Works.

The purpose of this Public Hearing is to review highway construction priorities for the fiscal year 1988-1989 for the Parishes of Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron, and Jefferson Davis which comprise Highway District 07. This review is based upon the project priorities established by the highway needs and analysis, The Highway Needs and Priority study was to determine the estimated cost of improving state maintained roads in Louisiana which do not meet a specified minimum tolerble condition for a particular functional class. Act 334 provides for a firm priority listing of the first ensuing year (1988) and tentative priorities for each subsequent year through 1993. This provides advice on the status of highway project contemplated or under preparation. Copies of the Tentative Proposed Construction Program, Fiscal Year 1988 -1989" and Highway Needs Summary, District 07 are availble for review by interested persons at the Department of Transportation and Development District 07 Administrator's office on Highway 90 East; Lake Charles, Louisiana and also at the Louisiana Department of Transportation and Development Headquarters Building; 1202 Capitol Access Road; Baton Rouge, Louisiana, Room 236.

All interested persons are invited to be present at the above time and place for the purpose of becoming fully acquainted with the proposed program and will be afforded an opportunity to express their views.

Oral testimony will be received. However, in order that all persons desiring to make a statement have an equal opportunity to do so, it is requested that every effort be made to complete individual testimony in as short a period of time as possible. Oral testimony may be supplemented by presenting important facts and documentation in writing. We urge those interested to participate by oral statement and/or submitted written testimony. Your cooperation and assistance will be appreciated.

Written statements and comments should be handed to the committee conducting the hearing, or can be mailed to the following address, postmarked within 10 calendar days following the hearing.

Louisiana, et al No. 9 Original, said three mile line as set out in Interim Report, 1975, decree of the Supreme Court. All bearings are based on Louisiana Lambert Plane Coordinate System (South Zone).

All bids are to offer a CASH PAYMENT, one-half (½) of which is to be bonus in full and adequate consideration for every right granted by the lease and the other half (½) of which is to be rental for the first year of the lease; for the lease to be a primary term which shall not exceed five years, and the first dollars a delay rental the ANNUAL DELAY RENTAL shall not be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment, which lease is to be granted without any warranty or recourse against lessor whatsoever, either expressed or implied, not even for return by lessor of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. The MINIMUM ROYALTIES required by R.S. 30:127, as amended, are one-eighth (1/8th) of all oil produced and saved or utilized, one-eighth (1/8th) of all gas produced and saved or utilized, and one-eighth (1/8th) of all other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with oil or gas and saved or utilized, which are not specifically mentioned herein. Free sulphur, potash, lignite, salt and other solid minerals are to be excluded and any bid thereon will be disregarded to such extent. A bid of a royalty less than the aforesaid statutory minimums will be increased to said statutory minimums by the Board. All bidders are notified that the Board does not obligate itself to accept a bid which offers the aforesaid statutory minimums, but reserves the right to accept a bid which offers in excess of the statutory minimums and is considered most advantageous to the State of Louisiana.

The provisions of this notice or advertisement and the relevant statutes establish the rates, terms, considerations necessary for the formulation of proposals, and this notice or advertisement shall not be deemed to be modified or enlarged or diminished by resolutions or policy expressions of the Board not incorporated herein expressly or by reference.

Notice is given that the State Mineral Board will include in the lease provisions to insure applicable payments attributable to the leased property without regard to adverse title claims, disputes, litigation or title failure. The exact language therein contained is available to any interested bidders at the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources or the Office of Mineral Resources prior to the opening of bids on the tract, and prospective bidders should carefully examine the same prior to submitting any bid therefor.

Some tracts available for leasing may be situated in the Louisiana Coastal Zone as defined in Act No. of 1978 (LSA-R.S. 49:213). Such tracts may be subject to the guidelines and regulations promulgated by the Coastal Management Section of the Department of Natural Resources.

All leases awarded shall be executed in accordance with conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a delay rental (which shall not be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease) which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each, not to exceed the primary term of five years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the leased tract and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the State Mineral Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board. Certified check, cashier's check or bank money order payable to the Office of Mineral Resources for the full amount of the advertised cash payment, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid, and no bid will be considered by the Board unless money may be thereafter withdrawn or cancelled and the certified check, cashier's check or bank money order accompanying the bid of the successful bidder shall be immediately negotiated by the Office of Mineral Resources, and the proceeds thereof disbursed in the manner required by law. The successful bidder to whom the lease is awarded on the date of the lease sale shall return the written lease duly executed, within TWENTY (20) DAYS after bidder's receipt of same under penalty of forfeiture of the lease and the aforesaid cash payment previously tendered and negotiated in the event of failure to do so.

Bids may be for the whole or any particularly described portion of the land advertised, but no bid for less than the whole of the Board as expressed in a resolution dated August 12, 1965, all bidders are hereby notified that bids on portions of tracts should be described by metes and bounds and be accompanied by a sketch or plat outlining thereon the portion bid upon. The scale of the plat should be 1 inch = 2,000 feet.

The State Mineral Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to grant a lease on any portion of the tract advertised and to withdraw the remainder of the tract.

ASCS offers farm services

To assure farmers that they are in compliance with 1988 acreage reduction requirements and eligible for farm program benefits, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service provides pre-measurement and other land measurement services.

Kirk Moore, County Executive Director for the ASC Service for Calcasieu and Cameron parishes, said that at the request of the producer, the agency will stake and measure any type of acreage, or portions thereof.

To be certain that program requirements are met, farmers are required to plant within the stakes that are placed when the land is pre-measured, Mr. Moore said, and report their crop acreages to the ASCS office after planting.

conservation reserve (ACR) and the acreage to plant to program crops. The ACR is cropland removed from production and put into conserving uses under the 1988 acreage reduction programs.

Fishermen meeting is set Feb. 18

Issues of "extreme importance" will be discussed at the February meeting of the Coastal Concern Association, according to Ashful Authement, president.

Important issues to be discussed are the oyster enforcement policy, TED lawsuits, and the election of officers.

The association has invited Burton Angelle, state secretary of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, to explain the policy of dumping confiscated oysters in polluted waters.

Enforcement agents are also expected to attend the meeting.

The local organization is considering contributing $500 toward the Concerned Shrimpers of America Defense Fund. This fund will be used to pay for the lawsuit fighting the TEDs (Turtle Excluder Device).

A majority of the membership must be in attendance at the meeting to legally vote on the new officers of the association and it is very important that everyone attend, said Authement.

Brucellosis deadline nearing for the state

The months are passing quickly for Louisiana's cattle industry, closing on the Oct. 1, 1988 deadline when cattlemen must show a marked reduction in the incidence of brucellosis in herds statewide to head off stiff federal restrictions on movement of state cattle.

Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry Bob Odom outlined consequences of the approaching deadline at the recent annual convention of the Louisiana Cattlemen's Association in Bossier City.

Louisiana is part of a nationwide program, Odom said, aimed at eliminating brucellosis, which causes cows to abort, from the United States. Historically, brucellosis has been the most chronic disease problem in the nation's cattle herds.

A decade ago, the U. S. Department of Agriculture began ranking each state brucellosis-free, A, B, or C categories, depending on state herd tests. Because of Louisiana's climate and extensive swamp areas, it has long been one of the most heavily infected states and is ranked in the lowest, C, category.

Odom told the cattlemen that if the state did not reduce its infection incidence to less than 360 herds by Oct. 1, 1988 and move from Class C to Class B category, the movement of virtually all cattle into other states would be stopped.

"If we don't make it, restrictions will be placed on movement of all sexually intact animals leaving the state," he said. "That is, bulls, heifers and cows would have to be "S" branded and either go to a quarantined feedlot or be slaughtered."

"These animals could no longer move in normal interstate commerce. The only exception would be animals that came from herds in Louisiana that specifically have been certified as Brucellosis free," Odom said.

State veterinarian Dr. William B. Fairchild, who administers the testing and certification program for the department, said the state program has made tremendous gains in recent years, but his veterinarians are redoubling their efforts to insure that Louisiana meets the numbers stipulated by the federal deadline.

"In Jan. 1987 we had 747 quarantined herds. Of those herds 645 had revealed reactors (positive tests for brucellosis). As of Jan. 1, 1988 we had 463 quarantined herds with 358 herds with reactors. That's a big drop, but we've got to maintain a 360 level through the Oct. 1, date of this year."

After the Class B status is reached, Fairchild said, then the state must prove to USDA that it has made further reductions in brucellosis to meet Class A status by Jan. 1, 1990, or again face severe restrictions on movement.

In another aspect of the program, the state Livestock Sanitary Board, which regulates livestock diseases in Louisiana, has put a regulation in place which requires that all cows that have not been vaccinated for brucellosis by Jan. 1, 1989, cannot be sold at state auction barns unless sold to slaughter or a quarantine feed lot unless from a certified free herd, Fairchild said.

Disability benefits told by Soc. Security

Workers in the Lake Charles area suffering from a severe physical or mental impairment should consider applying for Social Security disability benefits when it appears the condition will last 12 months or more, Bill Dixon, Social Security Assitant District Manager in Lake Charles, said recently.

Social security disability benefits can be paid to workers under 65, disabled widows and widowers 50-60, and to unmarried adult children who become disabled before reaching 22.

Under Social Security, a person is considered disabled if he or she has a condition which prevents him or her from doing any substantial gainful work and which has lasted or is expected to last at least 12 months or result in death.

While no payments can be made to a disabled worker, widow or widower for the first five full months of disability, applications should not be delayed.

Before a person applies for disability benefits, it will be helpful if he or she gathers certain information. This will help speed the application process. All it takes is a telephone call to start the process.

This includes:

*The person's Social Security number.

*Date last worked.

*Date person became sick or injured.

*Names, addresses, and telephone numbers of doctors, hospitals, or clinics that provided treatment for the condition and dates of treatment.

*Military service serial number or VA claim number, if available.

*List of kinds of jobs performed in previous 15 years.

*Workers' compensation or other public disability benefit number, if any.

A person should not delay applying if all this information is not available. The people at the Lake Charles Social Security office may be able to help. The telephone number locally is 478-0220 from the Lake Charles area and 824-6820 from the Jennings area.

The first newspaper printed on a train was the Weekly Herald, a single sheet, printed on both sides. It was issued by Thomas Alva Edison and the first known issue was dated Port Huron, Michigan, February 3, 1862.

Hackberry Cheerleaders given recognition

The Hackberry High School Cheerleaders were recently recognized by the Louisiana "Take Pride in America" program for their participation in the litter clean-up at the Nature Trail and West Cove parking lot.

Also, the four groups that worked together on Federal Lands Cleanup Day have been nominated as one organization to compete for award on the National level of "Take Pride in America". Those four groups were the Hackberry Cub Scouts Pack 78, Hackberry Girl Scouts Troop 433, McNeese Wildlife club and the Hackberry High School Cheerleaders.

During March the Hackberry Cub Scouts pack 78, the Hackberry Girl Scouts Troop 433, and the Hackberry High School Cheerleaders will go back to the Sabine Reserve for another day of cleanup. They adopted the Sabine Refuge for a year.

Dieting alone not the answer to weight loss

The old adage, "If first you don't succeed, try and try again," could be adopted by acclamation as the permanent rallying cry of most dieters.

"Trouble is, we try again with the same wrong solutions to our weight problems. If diets work so well, why are we always on one?" asks nutritionist Dr. Beth Reames of the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service.

"Obviously, dieting alone is not the answer to long-term weight control. There is more to solving the weight riddle than cutting back on food and watching the scales creep downward," Reames adds.

"Height-weight tables can help evaluate whether you might have a weight problem, but they don't relate your weight to your specific body fat and fitness status," she says. "You can weigh more than the tables recommend and still be fit, if the excess weight is in muscle, not fat. Overweight is a problem only if the excess pounds are in fat."

Reames says recommended body fat levels for normally active adults are 15-20 percent body fat for women and 10-12 percent for men. Women are judged obese if they carry 30 percent or more body fat. For men, it's 25 percent or more body fat.

Reames notes that what makes the so-called yo-yo effect of rapid weight loss and gain so devastating is that much of the loss may not be fat. However, when it comes to putting the weight back on, much of the added poundage is caused by additional fat.

"These weight fluctuations are more than inconvenient and discouraging. They have a lasting effect on body composition and the efficiency with which the body burns calories," adds Reames.

She says that the wrong kind of weight loss diet can compound the problem of being overweight, even when the diet succeeds in taking off pounds. Twenty to 25 percent of the weight lost on a very low calorie diet is water and lean muscle tissue instead of fat. Frequently, most of the regained weight is fat tissue.

Over time, this weight loss/regain cycle changes body composition by increasing the percentage of body fat. This partly explains the difficulty many overweight people have losing weight.

Reames notes that fat is lazy tissue when compared with the efficiency of muscle in burning calories. Muscle tissue burns 2½ times more calories as fat. As percentage of body fat increases, metabolism slows down and the body burns fewer calories. This explains why some dieters actually gain weight while eating less.

"The best solution to this problem is to combine a well-balanced diet with regular exercise. Consuming a variety of foods in moderation will help keep your body in good nutritional shape while you are losing weight. Avoiding excesses is the key," Reames concludes.

Johnson Bayou 4-Hers meet

The Johnson Bayou 4-H club met Feb. 2. Jessica Logan led the Pledge of Allegiance and Raedella Badon led the 4-H Pledge.

Winners of the Cookie Contest were: Jennifer Tingler and Tina Fontenot. 4-H bandanas were given as prizes. Others participating in the cookie contest were Jessica Leger, Stella Tingler and Rita Tingler.

A fund raiser was discussed.

Mrs. Cronan discussed Achievement Day and the Cameron Clover and gave a demonstration on little pizzas.

Seminar set

All AdvantAge 50 members and other interested residents have been invited to attend a Community Education Seminar sponsored by the Lake Charles Memorial Hospital at 6 p.m., Tuesday, Feb. 23, at the Shearman Conference Center at the hospital.

Following the presentation, there will be a question and answer period and demonstrations of new diagnostic and therapeutic aids and techniques.

There is no admission fee. For more information, call 494-2350.

State finances are bad--Doland

"I've been to the meetings and it is as bad as they say it is." That is how Senator-Elect Jack Doland described the state's financial crisis when he spoke to the DeQuincy Rotary Club last Wednesday.

However, Doland said he felt that he was well-equipped to deal with money shortages since that was a constant problem for him when he was president of McNeese.

Doland said that he would take his oath of office on March 14, with only one goal in mind--to do what he thought was best for Louisiana.

He said he would support the Moffet Plan for state financial reform and would vote for Gov. Elect Roemer's candidate for Senate President, Allen Bares. He said that since the Senate committee assignments were made by the Senate President it was important for Roemer to have someone in that positon who would work with him.

Doland said he was for campaign reform, especially for that which could be enforced.

He said he expects the state budget to be $500 million in the red and that something would have to be done about this at a special session on March 20. This could include taking all of the exemptions off the state sales tax.

Following that session, Doland said another special session is expected to be called to consider the Moffett Plan for financial reform. Passages could be difficult, he said, because it will take a two-thirds vote.

"Other areas that he expects to be considered by the legislature are tort reform ("we are paying too much for insurance"), education ("we have to pay our teachers more"); environment and coastal erosion.

Concerning the latter Doland noted that if something isn't done along the Cameron coast, the coastline will be at Hackberry in the next few years.

Doland said that he will open his Senatorial office at the Econo-Lodge just off IH-210 in South Lake Charles. He said the office will be run by legislative aide, Kim Mhires.

Ask Ochsner. . .

Q. My son, who is 4 years old, recently has started to stutter. How do I handle this? Will he have this problem all his life? Mrs. D.J., Baton Rouge, La.

A. Stuttering is a problem encountered by people of every race, speaking every language, says Rhonda Kelley, Ph.D., a speech pathologist and head of the Ochsner Clinic's section on communicative disorders. It is one of the most common speech dysfunctions affecting, at least briefly, about 40 percent of preschool-aged children in this country.

The term "stuttering" actually refers to several different speech patterns, which have as a common characteristic the disruption of the speaker's speech rhythm. These include repetition of sounds, drawing out of a sound or word, adding sounds within or between words and blocking or difficulty in getting out any sound at all.

There are two forms of stuttering -- primary, and the most common form, developmental. Developmental stuttering generally occurs in children three to five years of age and occurs more often in boys than in girls. Parents often make the developmental form of stuttering worse by calling attention to it and admonishing the child to "slow down" or "don't stutter". It is better for the child if the parents ignore the condition completely as it is usually temporary and, if dealt with properly by parents, will go away within a matter of months.

If the stuttering is persistent, it falls under the primary stuttering category and very often requires treatment. Generally, a patient will be asked to attend one or two sessions a week for a period of six to 12 months. The treatment is a process of education and drill. The patient is taught what causes the condition and, with the supervision of a speech pathologist, learns to control it. For the patient, a great deal of drill in proper speech rhythms, repetition of troublesome sounds and monitoring of his own efforts through tape recording of his speech is involved.

Your child is probably going through the developmental stage of stuttering, which should only be a temporary situation. Patience is the key word here, but the parents of a child are in the best position to determine if the problem exists long-term, says Dr. Kelley. If the condition continues, mention this to your pediatrician.

Q. I've heard we can cut down the risks of cancer by changing what we eat and drink. Just what is the relationship between diet and cancer? Mr. JBM, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

A. Dr. John S. Bolton, an oncologist and co-director of the Ochsner Cancer Institute in New Orleans, says that cancers of the large intestine, cancer of the breast and perhaps cancer of the prostate can most likely be blamed on the American diet, with its high fat content and low fiber intake.

According to Bolton, dietary fat passes into the large intestine, where bacteria chemically converts some of the fat molecules into cancer-causing substances (carcinogens). If these carcinogens remain in the intestine for a while, they begin to act on the cells exposed to them. It also seems plausible that some of the carinogens produced in the intestine are absorbed and carried to other parts of the body, such as the breasts, where they may accumulate and initiate cancers.

Currently there is no effective means of reducing cancer, but there are measures you can take through diet to lower the risks of cancer: cut down on fats, increase fiber-containing foods, and keep trim.

Dr. Bolton recommends that you cut out a lot of fried foods to reduce your fat intake. If you eat meat, choose leaner cuts and reduce the size of the portion. Always trim off the fat. Poultry without the skin is very nutritious and low in fat, but when deep fried in a batter, as is done in fast food restaurants, you lose the advantage of the leaner poultry. You are also eating a tremendous number of calories and consuming fatty acids that you don't need, he says.

Fiber-containing foods, such as fresh or frozen fruits, vegetables, whole grain cereals and whole grain breads, may reduce your chances of getting cancer. Bolton advises you to choose non-fat dairy products, low-fat salad dressings, and fruit for dessert insted of high fat desserts.

Limit your intake of alcohol because heavy use can increase your risks of cancersof the mouth, larynx, throat, esophagus and stomach. And when added to smoking, the risks are higher.

Keeping trim is also very important because a direct link has been found between cancer and people who are obese or overweight. If you are 40 percent overweight, you have a higher risk of cancer of the uterus and cancer of the breast, because fat cells affect the levels of estrogen in the body. Sensible eating habits and regular exercise will help you avoid excessive weight gain, he concludes.

Coastal meet set March 10

A Louisiana Coastal Restoration and Protection Forum will be held thursday, March 10, at 7 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church at the corner of Broad and Kirkman Streets in Lake Charles.

This presentation is sponsored by the Calcasieu Ministerial Association and the Louisiana Coastal Wetlands-Church and Synagogue Stewardship Plan.

The subject to be addressed is "Our Fading Coast Line - How Soon Will It Reach I-10?"

Louisiana is losing more than 50 square miles of coastal area wetlands each year, and much of that loss is natural.

The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Hopper plans retirement

Kenneth H. Hopper, the South Cameron Memorial Hospital Administrator for the past 25 years, has announced that he will retire on March 31. The hospital board is now taking applications for his replacement.

Mr. Hopper has been the administrator of the hospital since it opened on Feb. 1, 1963.

His wife, who had been director of nursing, retired about two months ago.

Hackberry student wins

Four area high school juniors, winners in the Freedoms Foundation Essay contest, were guests Thursday night at a reception hosted by Calcasieu Marine National Bank. Alvin Cormier of Calcasieu Parish, Charissa LeJeune of Jeff Davis Parish, Marcia Ann Manuel from Allen Parish, and Cecilia Walther of Cameron Parish were honored for their winning compositions.

Calcasieu Marine National Bank worked with the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge to sponsor the 1988 Essay Contest. The competition was a 400-word essay on the topic "Will the United States Constitution Survive Another 200 Years?" It was open to eleventh-grade students in Allen, Calcasieu, Cameron and Jeff Davis parishes.

The Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge is a non-profit, nonpartisan and non-sectarian organization which promotes recognition of principles underlying the unique freedoms enjoyed by citizens of the world's free nations. The four winners will attend a three-day Youth Leadership Training Conference next month in Valley Forge, Penn. The Conference is sponsored by the Freedoms Foundation and includes students from all parts of the world.

Cecilia Walther has been president of the Hackberry High 4-H Club and yearbook editor for the past two years. She has served as freshman and junior class president, and was sophomore class treasurer.

Miss Walther is president of her school's chapter of Future Business Leaders of America, and has been its treasurer. She is in her third year as Girl Scout patrol leader. She sings in her church choir, and counts reading, crafts and out-of-doors activities as her hobbies.

Parish loses residents

The length of the statewide recession adversely affected all but four parishes as more than 40,000 residents left the state in search of jobs, according to the latest population estimates.

The July 1, 1987, estimate in Cameron Parish indicates the population has decreased by more than 2 percent since mid-1986. The 231 residents who left the parish during the one-year period caused the population to drop to 9,630.

James Robert Michael, a researcher for Louisiana Tech University's College of Administration and Business, said the extended recession made it "inevitable that people would move out." The latest figures, which estimate the population at 4.46 million, show the number of state residents has fallen by 40,672 since July 1986.

Saying he cannot remember any previous decline in the population of the state, the researcher explained that "the out-migration was so massive it resulted in a reduced population." It takes about a year for population figures to reflect economic factors, he said.

In the five years between 1981 and 1986, manufacturing, mining (which includes the oil industry), agriculture, farm services and water transportation employment fell by about 33 percent, Michael said. People who work in those fields have gone elsewhere seeking jobs.

As residents left most parishes in the state, Allen Parish saw its population increase by 2.5 percent. It gained 551 residents between mid-1986 and mid-1987, which increased its population to 22,299.

Several parishes lost more than 2 percent of their population, according to the latest estimates. A decrease of 231 in Cameron Parish during the 12-month period dropped its population to 9,630 -- a 2.3 percent decrease. Concordia Parish has 502 fewer residents, bringing its population etimate down 2.1 percent to 22,905, St. Mary and Tensas parishes also recorded 2.1 percent drops. St. Mary's loss of 1,377 residents dropped its population estimate to 63,460, while in Tensas the decrease of 175 residents left the figure at 8,099.

The greatest number of residents left Orleans Parish -- 8,170. But since that exodus still leaves the population at 555,641, it reflects only a 1.4 percent loss.

Michael's report indicates the drop in oil and gas prices and sharp downturn in the chemical industry struck southern parishes harder. As a result, a lower number of residents have moved from northern parishes.

Registration set for pre-schoolers

Registration for childen entering a Cameron Parish kindergarten next fall will be held for the various schools as listed below.

Parents of children who will enter first grade and who are not presently enrolled in a Cameron Parish kindergarten are requested to register at the roundup for their area as scheduled for children entering kindergarten.

Childen attending kindergarten at this time are not required to register for first grade.

REGISTRATION SCHEDULE

Hackberry, Thursday, March 3, 10 a.m.

Grand Chenier Elementary, Tuesday, March 8, 10 a.m.

South Cameron Elementary, Tuesday, March 15, 9 a.m.

Grand Lake High, Wednesday, March 16, 10 a.m.

Johnson Bayou High, Thursday, March 17, 10 a.m.

Cameron Elementary, Tuesday, March 22, 1:30 p.m.

Children entering kindergarten for the 1988-89 session must have been born before Oct. 1, 1983. Children entering first grade must have been born before Oct. 1, 1982.

Parents who plan to register children in these roundups are urged to bring a certified copy of a birth certificate to the registration in their area. Parents who do not yet have their children's birth certificates should begin proceedings to secure them. Application forms for birth certificates may be obtained at the Parish Health Unit.

Mrs. Nell Colligan, R.N., Cameron Parish School Nurse, will be attending the roundups to talk with parents about immunizations now required by law before a child begins school. Please bring your child's immunization record for review by Mrs. Colligan at the time of the roundup.

In the Klondike-Lowery area parents should watch for registration news of the school in which they plan to enter their children next fall since they will not be entering a Cameron Parish school.

It is not necessary that the child you are registering be brought to school on the day of registration.

Five playoff games set

By ROBERT MANUEL

The South Cameron Lady Tarpons this week lost a close 53-46 regional playoff game with East Beauregard, while the Hackberry Lady Mustangs and the Grand Lake girls waded through their regional opponents, Doyle and Elizabeth, 47-34 and 48-35, respectively.

The Class A Regional game between the heavily favored East Beauregard Lady Trojans, last year's state runner-up, and the Lady Tarpons had all the earmarks of a state championship game, between two of the best Class A teams in Louisiana.

The Lady Trojans took a commanding 21-10 first quarter lead on the strength of four three pointers, three in successive shots from the Trojans Stacy Thibodeaux. Undaunted, the Lady Tarpons outscored the Trojans 16-12 in the second quarter to close the halftime gap to 26-33.

The Lady Tarpons repeated a third quarter scoring outburst of 16-9 to even the third quarter scoring at 42-42. The score was tied 44 and 46 with two minutes of playing time left. Two successive critical calls, in favor of the desperate Lady Trojans shocked the Lady Tarpons. East Beauregard controlled the outcome of the game from the charity stripe in the final two minutes to win 53-46.

East Beauregard's Stacy Thibodeaux took top scoring honors with five 3-pointers and 5 of 6 free throws for a total 20 points. Kris Rutherford of South Cameron followed with three 3-pointers and four 2-pointers for 19.

Renee LaLande pitched in 9; Tiffany LaSalle 7; Freda Blackwell 6; and Buffy Guthrie notched 4 to round out Tarpon scoring.

South Cameron ended its season at 15-12 overall; 8-2 district and 1-1 in playoff games. East Beauregard is now 25-2 overall.

HACKBERRY WINS

The Hackberry Lady Mustangs fell behind 8-9 in the first quarter but forged ahead 25-20 at the close of the first half. Hackberry outscored Doyle 22-14 in the second half for a 47-34 regional victory.

Hackberry is now 29-9 and will meet Pitkin, a 58-38 winner over Pine Prairie in regional Class B competition.

The Lady Mustangs will play Pitkin (39-3) in the quarterfinals at Westlake High School at 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 25. The two teams are no strangers to each other. The Pitkin Lady Tigers took a hard fought 3 point victory margin in a midway season tournament. The winner will move into the Sweet Sixteen Tournament scheduled for Feb. 29-March 5.

Monise Seay led in rebounds and scoring with 15 points; Tiffany Kyle pitched in 12; Melanie Blanchard 9; Dee Dee Abshire 5; Tressa LaFleur 4; and Tiffany Seay 2.

GRAND LAKE WINS

The Lady Hornets of Grand Lake combined excellent free throw shooting with a stingy defense and good team effort offensively, to subdue the Elizabeth Lady Bulldogs 48-35.

The Grand Lake Lady Hornets forged ahead 14-7 in the first quarter, 27-14 at halftime and 38-21 at the end of three quarters. Elizabeth outscored the Lady Hornets 14-10 in the last quarter. The officials whistled 45 fouls, still the game roared on.

Rhonda Verzwyvelt led all scorers with 21; Ann Cloud led Elizabeth with 16. Verzwyvelt got good scoring support from Kay Lynn Breaux with 15; Rachel Manuel 8 (6 of 6 FT); and Amy Jo LeBoeuf tallied 4 (2-2 FT).

The Grand Lake Lady Hornets, 27-11 overall, will meet Fenton 21-15, in the state quarterfinals at Elton High School at 7 p.m. Thursday, Feb. 25.

The Lady Hornets lost a heartbreaker to Fenton last year in these same quarterfinals. Fenton moved on to the Sweet Sixteen and the Lady Hornet's dream to the Sweet Sixteen was shattered. This is a new ball game, with the winner moving into the Lake Charles "Sweet Sixteen" tournament.

Playoff games Thurs. & Fri.

GIRLS QUARTERFINALS

Thursday, Hackberry vs Pitkin at Westlake High School, 7 p.m.

Thursday, Grand Lake vs Fenton at Elton High School, 7 p.m.

BOYS BI-DISTRICT PLAYOFFS

Friday, Hackberry vs Palmetta at Westlake High School, 7 p.m.

Friday, Johnson Bayou vs Bell Clty at LaGrange at 7 p.m.

Adopt-a-Beach program told

Another program designed to rid Louisiana beaches and barrier islands of debris and litter is the new Adopt-A-Beach program sponsored by the Louisiana Litter Control and Recycling Commission.

The program invites corporations, civic organizations, local government agencies to adopt a minimum of one mile for regular litter patrol at least three times annually. This new program is under the auspices of a task force consisting of coastal management agencies within Department of Natural Resources, Department of Environmental Quality, U. S. Department of Interior and the Louisiana Litter Control and Recycling Commission.

For information on how to adopt a beach, write the Louisiana Litter Control and Recycling Commission. DCRT, P. O. Box 94291, Baton Rouge, Louisiana 70804 or call (504) 925-3806.

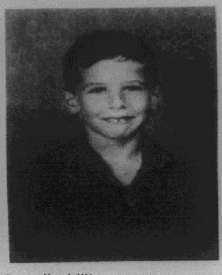
Jackson signs with Grambling

South Cameron High School's All-State running back Willie Jackson is shown above signing a letter of intent to attend Grambling State University from which he has received a 4-year football scholarship.



The 6-2, 210 pound Jackson rushed for 1,765 yards during this past football season and made 18 touchdowns.

Southwest Louisiana Health Counseling Service recently sponsored a poster and essay contest to heighten children's awareness of autism, epilepsy and cerebral palsy in preparation for the 1988 Telethon "Show You Care Show". The five southwest Louisiana parishes were invited to participate. Posters were submitted from grades 3, 4, and 5, essays from 6-12.

The winners included: poster contest--3rd grade: 1st place, Kyle Ross; 2nd place, Eric Welch; 3rd place, Cory Welch, all of Hackberry High School.

First place winners were awarded $25 gift certificates from the Prien Lake Mall Merchants Association. Second and third place winners were awarded passes from the following local businesses: Petro Bowl, Skate City and Heaven on Earth.

The first place winners will also be presented during the agency Telethon on March 19 and 20.

The Poster entries will be displayed in the local banks through March 20.

REMEMBER . . .?
Schooner days

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American Press, Feb. 25, 1916)

Cameron--The schooner Geo. Locke arrived from Galveston Wednesday with a general cargo.

Dr. S. O. Carter of Creole, was in our midst Wednesday.

Alven Nunez of Bell City, returned to his home after having spent several days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Nunez of Creole.

Mrs. Chris Jessen of St. John Island, was shopping in town Wednesday.

Rev. Father Bussink celebrated mass here Sunday.

C. B. Jones returned Monday from a two days' visit to Lake Charles.

Among those registered at the Stine House the past week were: Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Joubert and little son, Howard, of New Orleans; C. B. Peveto, Port Arthur; D. Young, Beaumont; Wm. Cox, Bell City; M. Dupuy, Creole; Rupert Doxie, Grand Chenier; V. Henington, traveling salesman for Helsig and Norwell, Lake Charles; W. B. Legette, Shreveport; C. F. Hayes, representing Murray-Brooks Hardware Co. of Lake Charles.

M. Dupuy returned from Bell City Monday.

CAMERON CATTLE

W. J. Staton, the well-known cattleman, has just returned from the ranges in Cameron parish where he has large herds and reports that the cattle are in excellent condition. The winter has been mild and no further cold snaps of any severity are anticipated this late in the season.

The grass is plentiful owing to the rains, followed by spring weather, which insures plenty of good feed for the stock, keeping them in splendid condition to withstand any severe spell of weather should it happen along.

(Abbeville Meridional, Feb. 25, 1911)

LAKESIDE LACONICS

We had quite a nice little shower a few days ago and our gardens took quite a start.

Adolph Miller is still quite sick. Amar Miller and family are visiting at Adolph Miller's.

Alex Broussard lost a fine horse from some unknown cause; was sick only a few hours, and Clearfe Vincent also lost a fine one in a similar way a few weeks ago.

FUNERALS

LOUIS THEROUX

Graveside services for Louis Theroux, 85, of Hackberry, were held Thursday, Feb. 18, from St. Peter Catholic Church Cemetery.

The Rev. Eugene McKenna officiated.

Mr. Theroux died Tuesday, Feb. 16, in a Sulphur nursing home.

A native of Canada, he lived in Big Lake for many years before moving to Hackberry several years ago.

He was a retired lion tamer with a circus.

MRS. ODELIA H. TRAHAN

Funeral services for Mrs. Odelia H. Trahan, 78, of Big Lake, were held Saturday, Feb. 20, from St. Mary of the Lake Church.

The Rev. James Gaddy officiated. Burial was in Big Lake Cemetery.

Mrs. Trahan died Thursday, Feb. 18, in a Lake Charles hospital.

A native of Big Lake, she lived in Sulphur 25 years before moving back to Big Lake 14 years ago.

Survivors are three sons, John O. and James R. Trahan, both of Big Lake, and Floyd Lee Trahan of Sulphur; two daughters, Mrs. Mary LaCombe of Brookshire, Tex., and Mrs. Suzie Janice of Colorado; one brother, Leslie Hebert of Big Lake; one sister, Mrs. Cornelia LeDoux of Sweetlake, 27 grandchildren and 53 great-grandchildren.

Krewe planned

Plans to organize a Mardi Gras Krewe for Cameron for next year are being made and interested persons may call Velda Roux at 775-5748 or Yvonne Mhire at 775-7107.

A meeting to organize the Krewe will be held later.

The Millers have planted their cane and Irish potatoes. Quite a few potatoes have been put in by the Lakeside folks and some are far enough above ground to get bitten by any cold spell that might happen along.

Mr. Richard paid a flying visit to Arthur Miller's last week.

Monroe plantation loaded the 1910 rice crop last week. There was probably 12 to 15 hundred sacks made on the place. Very little will be put out this year.

Miss Evelina Broussard is staying at Lakeside for a few days.

Quite warm weather and the peach trees are in full bloom.

Mrs. Geo. Haliburton and little girl have been quite sick the past week.

Mrs. Karl Duke Hebert

Hebert-Thomas vows are said at Big Lake

Tammie Kay Thomas and Karl Duke Hebert were married Saturday, Feb. 20, at 10 a.m. at the St. Mary of the Lake Catholic Church. Msgr. James Gaddy officiated the double ring ceremony. Carolyn O'Connell provided music on the organ with Terry Beard as vocalist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Hebert, all of Grand Lake.

Trudy Theriot was the matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Cammie Thomas, Lisa Murphy and Desiree Hebert.

Todd Thomas was the Bible carrier with Ashley Burkham as the miniature bride and Brent Million as the miniature groom and ring bearer.

Steve Thomas served as best man. Richard Hebert, Shane Hebert and Coy Vincent were the groomsmen. Ushers included Troy Thomas and Alan Million.

MR. AND MRS. Ashful Authement of Cameron, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Rebecca Celeste to Gary L. Shipman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Shipman of Oblong, Ill. The wedding is set for Monday, Feb. 29, at the Multi-Purpose Building in Cameron beginning at 2 p.m. Through this means friends and relatives are invited to attend.

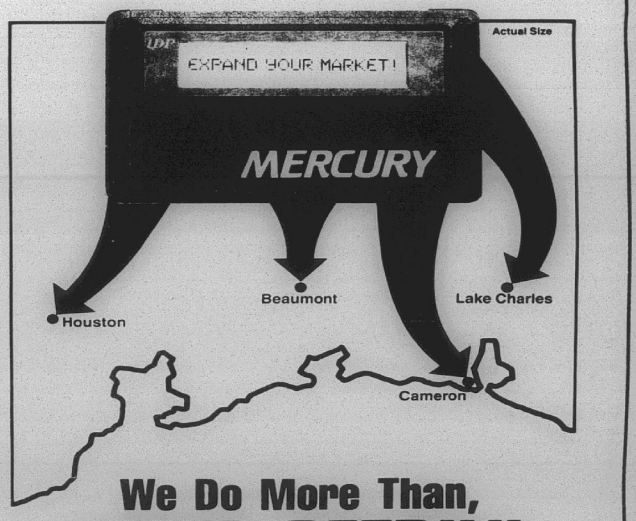
Economic Forecast

By George W. Stone

Financial Consultant, Merrill Lynch

Merrill Lynch Economics expects personal consumption expenditures (what we buy and consume in the retail sector to include new homes, automobiles, furniture, clothing, etc.) to grow by less than 1% this year adjusted for inflation. This growth rate will be roughly half of what it was in 1987 and much less than the average 4.5% over the last four years.



The slowing of consumption and consumer spending was evident in December trade figures, and has led to a short term stabilization of the dollar. Expect however, continued vulnerability until we have sustained trade-deficit improvement.

Bond prices have rallied since the middle of 1987 but should also show interim weakness in the near term until the Federal Reserve further lowers the discount rate. Talk of a discount rate cut is still premature at this point, but lower rates may lie ahead.

Our analysts believe a stock market recovery phase will be ending soon and we could possibly see a test of October 1987 lows. With liquidity high and many investors on the sidelines due to confusion and lack of confidence, probabilities are that we will not go lower than those 1987 levels. Hence, a significant recovery could follow in 1988.

What should you look for now? Investors should focus on themes or sectors that are likely to lead us into the next recovery. The industrial sector, specialty chemicals, out-of-favor and previously neglected groups, possible takeover candidates, the oil service and drilling sectors, agriculture and machine tool stocks for example. Any area which offers high dividends, such as telephone and electric utilities remain a strong focus.

George Stone is a financial consultant with Merrill Lynch in Lake Charles. He is the grandson of Walter Helms, a long time native of Cameron Parish. Kevin Savoie, South Cameron, was state champion in the 155 pound division, winning with a pin, an 18-1 technical fall and a 7-6 final decision.

Mission set at Cameron

The Rev. Cormac Kinkead, CP, of West Springfield, Mass., will preach a Lenten mission for Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish in Cameron from Saturday, March 5, through Friday, March 11.

Father Kinkead will speak at all the Masses of Saturday and Sunday, according to Msgr. Curtis Vidrine, pastor. In addition, Father Kinkead will conduct evening services, Monday through Friday, beginning at 6:30 p.m., in Our Lady Star of the Sea Church.

"All parishioners have been asked to attend, and to bring a friend -- non-Catholic or non-practicing Catholic -- to the mission services," Msgr. Vidrine said.

Father Kinkead was a businessman and served in the U. S. Army from 1942 to 1946 before entering upon seminary studies. He entered the Passionist Congregation, and was ordained in 1951. He has conducted retreats and missions for 30 years.

Cowbelles to meet Mar. 2

The March meeting of the Cameron Parish Cowbelles will be held Wednesday, March 2, at 6:30 p.m. in the Creole Fire Station, according to Mrs. Norma Jean Blake, president.

Singing to be held Thursday

A gospel singing will be held at the Cameron Tabernacle Thursday, Feb. 25, at 7 p.m. conducted by Church and Betty Chambers.

Everyone is invited to attend, according to Rev. Marse Pruitt, pastor.

Bingo to be held Sunday

The Cameron Lions Club will hold a bingo Sunday, Feb. 28, from 2 to 6 p.m. in the Multipurpose Building behind the courthouse, according to Ed Kelley.

There will be nine games with $100 jackpots and one blackout game with a $1,000 jackpot.

Admission is $25 for one player and guest. Free gumbo will be served. Proceeds will be used for Lions Club community projects.

Homemakers have party

The Grand Chenier Home Demonstration Christmas party was held Dec. 9, at the American Legion Hall. Everyone brought goodies and a gift for their secret pal. Christmas carols were sung and a Christmas story was read.

Erosion threat

Johnson Bayou

Dear Editor:

Constance Beach is in coastal Cameron Parish on Louisiana Hwy. 82 at the 19 mile post. A small beach front community of 82 homes and seasonal dwellings, it is Louisiana's fastest disappearing community, having lost 28 homes and trailers since 1982. All this without being hit by storm surges or major hurricanes.

Fifteen homes and three trailers were lost in June of 1986 thru severe beach erosion. From 100 to 150 feet of valuable shorline has been lost to beach erosion since 1978 and over 300 feet since 1957.

While I am very interested in saving Louisiana's wetlands, I strongly feel that we must first save our beaches in order to preserve our marshes. Unless something is started and completed in the immediate future, our coastline will be much further inland.

I implore someone to get off of dead center and take positive action to help this tragic loss of our valuable coastal property. We need help - now!! Tomorrow may be too late!!

Sincerely yours,
/s/ Rodney Guilbeaux, Jr.

Refuge will open March 1

The Lacassine National Wildlife Refuge will open March 1, for fishing, according to Bobby Brown, Manager.

Regulations pertaining to fishing on the refuge are the same as last year. No special permit is required and advance permission to enter the area is not required. Fishermen may not use motors larger than 25 hp. in the refuge impoundment. The refuge will remain open through Oct. 15.

Maps and copies of regulations for the refuge may be obtained by visiting the refuge office, or writing: Lacassine Refuge, Route 1, Box 186, Lake Arthur, La. 70549.

Vegetable plants will be sold at SC

The Vo-Ag department of South Cameron High School will begin selling vegetable plants on Monday, Feb. 29, including tomato, bell pepper, egg plant, cucumber, banana pepper and cayenne pepper.

Fishermen meeting set at Cameron

On Monday, March 7, a commercial fishermen's workshop covering shrimp and fish trawl design and performance will be sponsored by the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service and La. Sea Grant Program. The workshop will begin at 7 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex.

Guest speaker will be Duncan Amos, Fishing Gear Specialist with the Georgia Extension Service/Sea Grant Program. Duncan conducted a similar workshop in Cameron last year on electrolysis and corrosion on boats. Duncan's program topics this year, shrimp trawl and fish trawl design and performance, are topics most fishermen have had many questions on in the past.

All interested commercial fishermen, wives, and other interested parties are invited to attend this free workshop.

For more information contact Paul Coreil at the Cameron Cooperative Extension Service Office at 775-5516 or 775-7443.

Paging system upgraded

Until recently, only tone and voice pager service was offered to Cameron customers of Mercury Cellular and Paging. This is no longer the case.

Mercury has recently and extensively upgraded its paging system throughout the Cameron area. This upgrading was in the form of a digital paging system which can accomodate alpha-numeric pagers and their messages. This new system allows customers in Cameron a choice of using any style of pager, old or new.

The new alphanumeric pagers can hold up to 352 letters or number-characters at a time. This allows users to receive highly detailed and specific instructions. Added pluses include the credit card size of the pagers and their ability to be accessed by personal computers or touch tone phones. All this is accessible through the new system.

The upgrading of the paging system also increases the coverage area. Customers can be confident of receiving pages in Lake Charles, Cameron or Carlyss.

Coverage is extended to all these areas with one local number for the first time. By means of this, some of the long distance charges associated with paging from Cameron have now been eliminated.

Betty Chambers

Chambers to be speaker

Betty Chambers of Sulphur will be the guest speaker for the newly formed Ladies Interfaith of Cameron service at 10 a.m. Thursday, March 3, at the Gulf coast Tabernacle in Cameron.

Everyone is invited to attend. There will be a covered dish luncheon following the meeting. No nursery will be provided.

Bass fishing set

By Loston McEvers

BASS FISHING TO BEGIN

Bass fishing in our two local refuges, Lacassine and Sabine, will begin Tuesday, March 1. With all the rain we had last week, we should not have a water problem.

Remember the Miami Corporation permit fishing, such as the Big Burns, still off limits, and will not open until Saturday, March 19.

The red fishing closed Feb. 15, but bass fishing will make it just right to most anglers. However don't forget, speckle trout fishing is just around the corner, when the weather straightens out.

OYSTER FISHING

All this rain will again have an effect on our oyster fishermen. They have really had it rough this year, as when the river stage at Kinder reaches 12 feet or above, oyster fishermen cannot fish. With our area hard hit from the oil slump, our commercial fishermen have kept this parish going. With shrimping closed, the oyster fishermen have kept local merchants going, with the money they spend in our parish.

Randy Roach, our newly elected State Representative has promised to try and get a 40 day extension for our oyster people. I talked to Mr. Roach personally and he's very much in favor of helping our oyster people and other commercial people as well.

PICTURE

The picture of Rusty Shawn Benson a week or so ago with the large blue catfish was incorrectly stated that he caught the fish with his uncle, which should have been his grandfather, Kenneth Montie. My apologies.!

PUBLIC HEARINGS

A public hearing was held in Ruston Feb. 17, on bag limits and other regulations governing the hunting of the state's resident and migratory game species. There was a meeting last month held in Houma. The third and final meeting is scheduled for 7 p.m., Thursday, march 3, in Lafayette, at the Holiday Inn South on the Evangeline Thruway. While in Lafayette the Wildlife and Fisheries Commission will also hold its regular March meeting, an information meeting at 2 p.m., March 3, and the formal meeting for 10 a.m. March 4, both at the Holiday Inn South.

These meetings are held each year so the public can have an input and state their wishes or thoughts about the upcoming hunting season for 1988-89. This consists of deer, rabbit, squirrel, ducks, coots, geese, doves and other species for Louisiana hunting season.

CATFISH

A couple of weeks ago Rusty Shawn Benson and his grandfather had a 45 pound blue catfish. Well this week he and his father caught two more nice ones. One went 35 pounds and the other 25 pounds.

TRAPPING FUR

The big rain has really hurt our trappers with two to three feet of water over their traps. Some are pulling up and calling it quits for this year. The price has not been so good on nutria as it fell again this week. Muskrats are at a better price holding between 3 and 4 dollars for a top rat.

Lousiana, who's fur industry is "big bucks" to our state, will host an international fur meeting. Fur industry leaders from two continents will meet in the state Feb. 24-26.

Johnny Tarver, Chief of Fur and Refuge Division of the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, said the conference would bring together the newly formed North American Fur Alliance. The organization is working on a program to educate the public about trapping, fur farming and the fur industry in general.

The participants to attend this meeting will be the United States, Canadian Fur Industry, the British Fur Trade Association and the International Fur Trade Federation, which is sending delegates from Copenhagen, Denmark.

The group will get together in Lafayette on Wednesday, Feb. 24, then on Thursday they will tour furbearer habitats at the State Wildlife Refuge in Vermilion Bay and a nearby alligator farm. The group on Friday will hold an all day business meeting at Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge.

The North American Fur Alliance was organized in September 1987 to communicate with the industry.

WHO WILL IT BE

Lots of people are asking the question, who will be the new Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries. As of March 14, Burton Angelle, our present secretary, will be going out. Burt has been in altogether three four-year terms and I must say he is very good at his job. Burt has served each term of the Edwards administration.

Burt has always been fair and tells it like it is. His word is good and his personality is not to be compared. I think we will miss him, and wish him well.

Some of the names who seem to be in the tops for the job coming up are: Mo Cloney, a lawyer from New Orleans. He's a G.C.C.A. man, who some say is the "Redfish Man"; John Newsome, who was undersecretary at one time and a professor at L.S.U.; Richard Young, who is retired from the state (worked for years for Wildlife and Fisheries), and is now a consultant for a timber company; Joe Herring, who is with Fish and Game for Louisiana, a very good friend of mine, and I hear there are a few more names besides these I mentioned.

PRO-CON

As I write this, I just received a call. Our oyster fishermen will fish today and have to stop again as the water level in Kinder is about the 12 foot mark. It has really been hard on our oyster people this year.

Something else I think should be done on the red fishing. I think instead of a quota for the commercial fishermen, they should have a season set for so many days. Like 60, 90 or 120 days.

Lots of commercial fishermen hunt, trap and other jobs to make it, and when they begin to red fish, the quota is reached and there they are with no job. If they knew when the season would be they could take advantage of the fishing and if they didn't they could only blame themselves.

Now, for the sports fishermen, I think a limit of 5 or 10 per fishermen, just one day possession, and no netting for sportsfishermen at all. It is unfair (when and if they reopen the redfishing for sportsmen) for them to be able to net redfish, when the commercial fishermen cannot when a quota or season is over.

Think about some of these things so as to try and talk to our legislators for the special session.

FEEDING PERIODS

Being our bass fishing will begin, I will each week try and print the feeding periods for Friday, Saturday and Sunday of the weekend. Also being that our two refuges, Lacassine and Sabine, will open March 1, on a Tuesday, I'll give 6 days this time.

Tuesday, March 1, best 9:20 a.m., fair 3:30 p.m.

Wednesday, March 2, best 10 a.m., fair 4:10 p.m.

Thursday, March 3, best 10:35 a.m., fair 4:45 p.m.

Friday, March 4, best 11:20 a.m., fair 5:10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.

Saturday, March 5, best 12:05 p.m., fair 5:30 a.m. and 6:20 p.m.

Sunday, March 6, best 12:50 p.m., fair 6:35 a.m. and 7:05 p.m.

Remember change of weather, such as cold front, barometric levels, etc., could delay or speed up the feeding periods.

"I took charge. Diabetes no longer controls my life." Diabetes is a disease for life. It doesn't have a cure... it must be managed and controlled. By you.

Prevent the complications of diabetes. Vision loss, kidney damage, impotency, loss of limbs... these are but a few of the complications that arise when diabetes is not controlled. Undetected, these problems can become chronic and eventually require hospitalization. They can even be life-threatening.

Make it a point to see your doctor regularly. If you do not have a physician, contact the Diabetes Center and we will refer you.

The Diabetes Center offers inpatient services complemented by an array of educational and support programs for patients and their families. A team of specially trained professionals including registered nurses, a clinical dietitian and physical therapist, provide addtional treatment for patients.

Education is the medicine. Knowing as much as possible about diabetes is the key to controlling it. Advances in research are continually finding new technology and methods for treating this disease.

When you participate in an educational program at the Diabetes Center you are acquiring the most current information available on how to manage your diabetes. You will leave the program feeling that you have acquired useful tools that you can apply to your daily lifestyle.

Know the warning signs

The following symptoms could indicate that your diabetes may not be under control:

- Poor healing of cuts or sores.
- Burning or numbness in legs or feet.
- Dizziness — especially when changing position.
- Double vision.
- Ringing in ears.
- Nocturnal diarrhea.
- Leg pain after walking short distances.
- Dry skin or decreased sweating.

Two state champs

Two Hackberry High School sixth grade 4-H members exhibited the grand champion and reserve grand champion market lambs at the annual spring LSU Livestock Show last week and both animals brought top prices at the sale on Saturday.

McDonald's Hamburgers of Baton Rouge bought the grand champion market lamb belonging to Elise Billedeaux. It weighed 113 pounds. The animal was given back to Elise by McDonald's president Charles Valluzzo.

The reserve grand champion lamb was shown by David Devall. The Baton Rouge law firm of Taylor, Porter, Brooks and Phillips paid $1,500 for the 124 pound animal.

Super Tuesday is next week

Cameron Parish citizens will get to vote for the very first time in a genuine presidential preference election during "Super Tuesday," March 8.

This is a closed primary and only registered Republicans can vote for Republican Presidential candidates, and only registered Democrats can vote for the Democratic Presidential candidates.

The following candidates have qualified in Louisiana as Democrats: Frank Ahern, New Orleans; Bruce Babbitt, Arizona; Norbert G. Dennerll Jr., Ohio; Michael S. Dukakis,Massachusetts; David E. Duke, Metairie; Dick Gephardt, Missouri; Al Gore, Tennessee; Gary Hart, Colorado; Jesse L. Jackson, Illinois; Richard B. Kay, Florida; Lyndon LaRouche, Virginia; and Paul Simon, Washington D. C.

(Several of these candidates have since withdrawn.)

Also on the parish ballot is an election of a member of the Republican State Central Committee for the 36th District (Randy Roach's district). Candidates are William B. Hart, Winfield Little, Jr. and Jerry Soileau.

There also are three tax renewal elections in two areas of the parish.

In Cameron Parish Waterworks District No. 10, Johnson Bayou, voters are being asked to renew a 3-mill tax for ten years to operate the district water system.

In Fire Protection District No. 10, also Johnson Bayou, voters are asked to renew a 2-mill tax for 10 years to pay the cost of obtaining water for fire hydrants in the district.

In Recreation District No. 5, the Grand Lake-Sweetlake area, voters are asked to renew a 5 mill tax for 10 years to maintain and operate the district's recreation facilities.

You cannot cross party lines Tues.

Louisianians who are used to crossing party lines when they vote in presidential elections will find things a little different when they vote in the "Super Tuesday" presidential primary next week.

Mrs. Ruby Kelley, Cameron parish registrar of voters, said that Democrats will only be able to vote for Democrats and Republicans may only vote for Republicans in the Tuesday election.

Persons registered as independent or for some other party may not vote for either the Democratic or Republican candidates, although they can vote in the three special tax renewal elections.

Mrs. Kelley said the parish presently has 5483 registered Democrats, 340 registered Republicans and 455 voters registered as independents or other parties.

Sweetheart dance slated

South Cameron High School Sweetheart Dance will be held Friday, March 4, from 7-11 p.m. in the new gymnasium. The Court will be presented at 9:30 p.m.

South Cameron High School students only may attend this dance and all parents are invited to chaperone.

Students will sign in and will not be allowed to return upon signing out.

Storm reporting change is urged

By JERRY WISE

Noting that hurricane season is just around the corner, Creole Police Juror Ray Conner Tuesday at the monthly jury meeting, had a special plea for the Lake Charles television weatherman:

When reporting the location of a hurricane in the Gulf, give the distance of the storm from the Cameron parish coast and not just from Lake Charles.

Conner said he thought the TV station was doing a good job of reporting on hurricanes, but he said their reports could be misleading to Cameron parish residents if the distance of a storm was reported from Lake Charles instead of from the coast, a 40 mile difference. He said this could mean the difference of a safe evacuation for lower Cameron parish residents if they thought the storm was 40 miles further out than it was.

Jury Secretary Pete Picou, who is also the parish's Civil Defense director, noted that the Lake Charles weather bureau was always careful to note the distance of a storm from Cameron and the coast.

He said that Civil Defense officials plan to meet with the Lake Charles TV weatherman in the near future and that they would stress to him the importance of noting the storm distances from the coast.

LIQUOR PERMIT

The jury approved the issuance of a liquor permit to Knights of Columbus Council 5461 of Cameron.

APPOINTMENTS

A number of district board members whose terms had expired were reappointed by the jury as follows: Mervin Chesson and Albert Guidry, Drainage Dist. 8; Ted Joanen and Robert Mhire, Drainage Dist. 5; Benny Welch, Drainage Dist. 4; Alex Beard, Jr., Recreation Dist. 5.

Jody McCall, D. L. Brasseaux and David Richard were named as new board members for Fire Protection Dist. 7.

Rogerest Romero was named to replace Alton Trahan on Drainage Dist. No. 7.

BIDS ASKED

The jury agreed to advertise for bids for the expansion of the Holly Beach fire station by 25 feet and to provide some protection for the building from any future storm surge.

FIRE TRUCK BID

A bid of $114,333 was accepted from Ferrara Firefighting Equipment on a new fire truck.

The jury agreed to advertise notice of intention to abandon road rights-of-way in the Creole and Hackberry areas.

PROCLAMATIONS

The jury adopted resolutions proclaiming March as "Employ the Older Worker Month" and "Beef Month".

They also agreed to an indemnification agreement with Shell Western permitting the jury to use Shell's private road from Hackberry to Gum Cove in order to work on parish roads at Gum Cove. The road is the only access to Gum Cove now that the gum Cove ferry has been shut down.

PERMITS

A permit was approved for the construction of a seafood processing plant, LeGrand Chenier Seafood Co., north of the Mermentau River by Teddy Broussard.

Welch's Alligator Farm, Grand Chenier, was given a permit for sand mining operations.

J & J Devall, Hackberry, was granted a permit for a pier, boat ramp, loading ramp, etc. on the Calcasieu Ship Channel at Hackberry.

Cameron Parish Drainage District was given a permit to clear growth and storm debris from a marsh bayou at Johnson Bayou.

Parish FBLA members district winners

Cameron Parish was well represented at the 33rd Annual District IV Future Business Leaders of America Leadership Conference held at McNeese State University.

Amy Pool, a senior at Grand Lake High School, presided over the conference as District IV Vice President. The welcome was given by the State President, Wesley Vaughn of Hackberry High School.

Approximately 900 students from the parishes of Allen, Beauregard, Cameron, Jeff Davis, and Vernon attended the conference. Cameron Parish students placed in many of the 23 competitive events. The top one-sixth in each category earned a superior rating and will compete in Baton Rouge March 20-22, with the superior winners from the other districts in the state.

Accounting I: Superior, South Cameron High, Stephanie Nunez; excellent, Grand Lake High, Kem Ogea.

Business Calculations: Superior, Johnson Bayou, Don Morris; Kirk Fruge, Grand Lake.

Advanced Keyboarding: Superior, South Cameron, Thuy Nguyen; excellent, Hackberry, Dana Haley.

Office Procedures: Superior, Hackberry, Leroy Simon; excellent, Grand Lake, Anne Wood; Billie Guillory, Grand Lake.

Public Speaking: Superior, Grand Lake, Tara Faulk.

The Grand Lake chapter would like to publicly thank the parents who prepared and served the food and who provided transportation. Special thanks go to the following businesses of Cameron Parish who provided the funds to buy the first-place plaque in each of the competitive events: Cameron State Bank (4 plaques), Richard Poole Roofing (4 plaques), Debbie Theriot, Richard Feed and Farm Supply, Mud Bug Treasurers, and Roderick Poole Construction.

TEDS ordered to be used

Louisiana shrimpers may defy a federal court order and fish without installing bulky turtle excluder devices in their nets, said a spokesman for an organization of commercial shrimpers.

U. S District Judge Patrick Carr cleared the way Tuesday for enforcement of federal regulations that require shrimpers to use the devices in their nets to save endangered sea turtles.

In a 15-page opinion, Carr brushed aside vehement arguments from shrimpers who said the turtle excluder devices, commonly called TEDs, would ruin their business.

Enforcement of the regulation began on Tuesday, said Suzanne Montero, special agent in charge of the Southeast Region for the National Marine Fisheries Service.

Louisiana's Department of Wildlife and Fisheries is bound, at least for the time being, by a state law forbidding enforcement of the federal law, said Phil Bowman, assistant chief of the seafood division.

"We'll have to consult with legal counsel before we know what to do," he said.

Tee John Mialjevich, spokesman for Concerned Shrimpers of Louisiana, vowed defiance. "I don't care if he upheld it. It's a bad law, and the shrimpers ain't going to live by it," he said.

The law also went into effect in Texas, Mississippi and Alabama waters Tuesday, and it has been in effect in Florida since Jan. 1.

Welches are world champ skinners

The Welch family of Oak Grove came home from the National Outdoor Show at Cambridge, Maryland last week with two world championships and two runnersup. All represented the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival.

Alice Welch, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benny Welch, successfully defended her women's muskrat skinning title by winning it again this year. She is a freshman at McNeese.

Her father, Benny Welch, won the men's nutria skinning contest at the festival also.

Two of her brothers also came in as top winners in their classes at the national show. Yancey Welch was second runnerup in the men's skinning division and Rusty Welch was first runnerup in the junior fur skinning division.

They had won the right to participate in the national show by first place winnings at the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival held in Cameron in January.

They were accompanied on the trip by their parents and Katherine Wilkerson, "Miss Cameron Parish", who won her title at the January festival.

Hospital is approved for nursing beds

The South Cameron Memorial Hospital has received a state certificate of approval to designate three of its beds for nursing home use, it was reported by Police Jury Secretary Pete Picou at the police jury meeting Tuesday.

He said the hospital has one year to put the beds to use for this purpose.

The move will enable the hospital to take in three nursing home patients, for which there is always a demand. This will increase the hospital's daily census and improve the hospital's financial situation.

In recent years, the hospital has had to have additional support from the police jury due to the small number of patients.

Parish teams eliminated from playoffs

By ROBERT MANUEL

The 1988 basketball regular season ended on an optimistic note for seven of the eight basketball teams in Cameron Parish. The Grand Lake boys and girls, the Hackberry boys and girls, the Johnson Bayou boys and girls and the South Cameron girls all worked hard to make the state playoffs.

All of the teams eventually lost but for most it was close and could have been a victory instead of a defeat.

Coaches were proud of their players, and expressed their appreciation to their student body and school community for their support.

Soc. Studies fair winners

The Cameron Elementary fifth grade held a social studies fair Tuesday, March 1. First place winners were Tressa Boudreaux and Shawnna Felton, "The Eruption of a Volcano"; Jeff Wainwright, "Bayou Blues: Lais Disappearing Coastline"; and Amy Landry, "How the Artificial Ear Works".

Second place winners were Asha McDade, "Vietnam War" and John Bourgeois, "Vietnam War."

Benefit to be held 12th

A benefit dance will be held for Ruth Michon at 7 p.m. Saturday, March 12, at the Creole KC Hall. Music will be by Breaking Ground. Gumbo will be sold and there will be a cake sale and auction.

Funds raised will be used to help pay the medical expenses of Michon, who was in an auto accident.

The Cameron elementary wrestlers placed fourth at the annual Cal-Cam Suphur Jr. wrestling tournament held last week.

Ten years and under winners were: First, Matt Saltzman, Derik Blackwell, Ryan Miller; second, Chan Mayard, Chris Irvin, Jared Davidson, Doyle Welding; and third, Shannon Saltzman.

11-14 years: Second, Sam Thompson; third, Ryan Marceaux; and fourth, Randell Williams, Reggie Bellard, and Jonathan Guilbeaux.

Girls teams say thanks

The South Cameron girls basketball team would like to thank the parents, churches, fans from the community, business people, public officials, and school administration for their support all year long and especially in the play-offs.

The girls had a very successful season and have appreciated all your support. Thanks, Coach Johnson.

Trapping season is extended

A 15-day extension of the trapping season in portions of Vermilion and Cameron parishes was announced today by the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries.

J. Burton Angelle Sr., department secretary, said the season in the affected areas would be extended from March 1, to March 15. The normal Feb. 29, closing date will be observed throughout the rest of the state's south zone.

The area that will remain open in Vermilion Parish is bounded by Freshwater Bayou from the Gulf of Mexico to Schooner Bayou, then west on Schooner Bayou to North Prong Bayou, then north on North Prong Bayou to the Intracoastal Waterway, then east on the Intracoastal Waterway to 4-Mile Cutoff, then southeast on 4-Mile Cutoff to Vermilion Bay and then southeast to Southwest Pass and the Gulf of Mexico.

In the southwest portion of Cameron Parish, the open area is bounded by Highway 82 from Sabine Lake east to the Magnolia Canal, then north on the Magnolia Canal to the junction of the Starks Canal, then west on the Starks Canal to the junction of the Burton Canal, then north on the Burton Canal to Black Bayou and then west on Black Bayou to Sabine Lake.

Secretary Angelle said his department had received requests for the season extension from six major land managers in Vermilion and Cameron parishes.

He noted that state biologists had reported muskrat populations in those areas were extremely high and were causing marsh damage. The extension will allow for an increased harvest of muskrats.

Angelle emphasized that the trapping season in the remainder of the south zone would close as scheduled Feb. 29.

He also reminded trappers that all traps must be removed from the trapping grounds on the last day of the season.

CDA holds a meeting on 2nd

The Catholic Daughters in Cameron met Feb. 2. The Catholic Daughter of the Year nominating committee submitted three Daughters to the Court for voting.

This year the K.C. and Catholic Daughter award banquet will be held at 6:30 p.m. Sunday, March 13, at the Cameron Motel Restaurant.

It was decided to have co-chairmen on the calling committee in case the head of the committee cannot be reached. Corrine Willis will be asked to co-chair with Flo LeBlanc and Brenda Nash will co-chair with Julia Racca.

The next month's meeting will be Tuesday, March 2. Each member wishing to participate is asked to bring a crazy gift to be exchanged.

1-800 number

As an additional service to our readers and advertisers, the Cameron Pilot has installed a 1-800 toll free number which may be used anywhere in Louisiana in calling the Pilot's office.

The number is 1-800-737-7377. Or you may remember it better by dialing: 1-800-73-PRESS.

CAMERON OUTDOORS

Wetlands vanishing

By Loston McEvers

COASTAL WETLANDS VANISHING

We keep hearing about coastal erosion, but things are really getting serious. During a 23 year period Louisiana has lost 153 square miles of its coastline.

I heard one time that in 50 years, if something isn't done, Moss Bluff will have beach front homes. Now some of the literature that is out asks the question, when will the Gulf reach I-10 in Lake Charles? Really makes you wonder, doesn't it?

Land about the size of a normal home washes away every 15 minutes or so. Easy day a section as large as a football field vanishes. At the end of the year, 60 square miles is washed from our Louisiana coast. Now, most of this land is our marshes and wetlands, which goes into the Gulf stream.

They call this coastal erosion. This we have known for the last 40 years, and we know the cause, yet we're waiting this long to try and do something to stop this disaster.

Levees are blocking the resupply of sediments from river to marsh. We have over 10,000 miles of man made canals in Louisiana, most of them dug or dredged for oil and gas interests. This has caused marsh losses, put salt water into our marshes and nature is lost.

Here in the state of Louisiana, 40 percent of the nation's coastal wetlands, which are the most productive fish and wildlife habitat in the world are washing away. More than 80 percent of the commercial and recreational catches come from the Gulf of Mexico off the Louisiana coast. Look at all the seafood coming from our marshes. The marshes also consume lots of flood waters to keep it off our ridges when storms come around. Within the next 50 years or so, Cameron Parish will be in the Gulf, if something isn't done.

Louisiana conservationists have been trying to get something done, but the state has no money and the federal government doesn't want to help. We need outside help from large organizations. The Sierra Club, the National Wildlife Federation, Audubon Society and others are not involved, and we don't get much help from Congress on money matters. These organizations are involved with the birds and the bees but don't give a damn about coastal erosion, or at least it seems that way.

Coastal erosion poses more of a threat than pollution. Lakes and bayous that have been contaminated for years can be cleaned and restored. With coastal erosion, there's no tomorrow. Like a sportswriter wrote, "Our habitat isn't being poisoned, it's disinegrating."

We as saltwater anglers and commercial fishermen have a large stake and need to start fighting to help protect our precious land. Our fish, just like our wildlife, depend on habitat for existence.

Remember the time it took you to read this article, another portion of Louisiana coastline has washed into the Gulf. What does our future hold? Without something done, not bright.

There will be a meeting on Thursday, March 10, at 7 p.m. in Lake Charles at the First United Methodist Church, Broad and Kirkman Streets — Louisiana Coastal Restoration and Protection Forum, sponsored by the Calcasieu Ministerial Association and Louisiana Coastal Wetlands, Church and Synagogue Stewardship Plan. If you are able to attend, please do.

Think hard about what's happening and let's try to do something about it.

POLITICS PROVE ME WRONG AGAIN

Well, last week I was so sure that one of the names I mentioned would have been chosen by our new governor Buddy Roemer, but how wrong I was.

Our new Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries is Virginia VanSickle, a woman, from Baton Rouge. She is an assistant director of the Louisiana geological Survey at LSU and is a former deputy secretary and marine biologist for the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries. She now serves on Wildlife and Fisheries transition panel for Governor Roemer.

I wish Virginia VanSickle the best, as she is taking this in a tough time, with all the redfish and other state troubles. We do need to try and cooperate and help this lady out to try and keep our state conservation programs in top order.

Let her know how you feel, she will need our help.

Local folks go to meet

Several representatives from the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival attended the Louisiana Association of Fairs and Festival convention last weekend in Lafayette.

Attending various seminars from the local festival were: Yvonne Mhire, Ruby Dupuis, Kathy Case, Barbara LeBlanc, Roberta Broussard and Bill Pinch.

The highlight of the convention was the Louisiana Queen of Queens contest held Saturday night in the hotel ballroom. 45 reigning Louisiana Fair and Festival queens competed for the coveted Queen of Queens.

The theme was "Winter Wonderland", and the 1987 LAFF Queen, Lisa Roberts, who was also the 1987 Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival Queen crowned her successor, Sherry Smith, of the Kentwood Dairy Festival.

First runnerup to the Queen was Shannon Sullivan, Louisiana Dixie Darling Festival Queen; second runnerup was Angela Marcel, Louisiana Oyster Festival Queen; third runnerup was Dana Randolph, Louisiana Cattle Festival Queen; and fourth runnerup was Karen Engeron, Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival Queen.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

The peach and pear trees and also the rosebuds are in full bloom along the Chenier as spring draws near.

Clover is out thickly in yards, fields, and pastures and roadsides. Many folks here have already had to mow their yards.

Some cattlemen have begun their spring cattle working this past weekend, and are trucking some of their cattle from winter to summer ranges.

Some are preparing their land for potato planting, others are waiting for warmer weather.

Mrs. Alice (Jeff) Nunez, who spent some time in St. Patrick's hospital in Lake Charles this past week, came home Monday, doing much better.

Harris (Sono) Crain, who was taken to a Lake Charles hospital a week ago, is reported doing better and expected home this week.

Mrs. Dorris Sturlese, who was in St. Patrick's hospital in Lake Charles, came home Thursday, Feb. 26, doing well.

Mrs. Rosa Mhire, who was taken to St. Patrick's hospital this past week, came home Friday doing much better.

Lionel Theriot, who has been in a Lake Charles hospital is doing better and expected home this week.

Mrs. Edmond Bertrand was taken to South Cameron Memorial Hospital Monday afternoon.

A big hog boucherie took place at the Dennis Mhire home Sunday. They made sausage, cracklings and had plenty to eat.

BIRTHDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Jones celebrated their son Patrick Paul's, fourth birthday Saturday, Feb. 20, at their home. Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Wood and David of Baton Rouge, Mrs. Lola Quinn of Sweetlake, Mrs. Betty Hicks of Hackberry, Judy Jones and Mrs. Romona Jones, Julie and Amber Trahan, Robyn and Adam Doxey, Michael Boudreaux, JoAnna Perry, Stacey Booth, Miranda and Kaleb Hicks.

Refreshments were served to all.

Mrs. Jann Jones, with her fourth grade catechism class of St. Eugene Catholic Church, toured the nursing homes, Rosewood, Rest Haven, Oak Park Care Center and Lake Charles Care Center in Lake Charles Saturday, Feb. 27.

Students attending were: Kristie Boudreaux, Wilda Mae and Roger Benoit, Nancy Swire, Shelly LeBleu, Missy Richard and Jennifer Peshoff.

Mrs. Bertha Fawvor, Greg Fawvor, and Nina LeBleu assisted the group on their trip.

Mrs. Corrine Canik, Mrs. Emma Ogburn, Mrs. Macilda Theriot, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Doland, Billy Doland, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Richard and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Mayham attended the funeral of Bob Doland in Lake Arthur Thursday.

Attending the 4-H Club livestock show in Baton Rouge this past week were: Mr. and Mrs. Pete Picou and Adrienne, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Theriot, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coreil and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Theriot and family, Mrs. Peggy Mhire and Brandi Mhire and Mr. and Mrs. Huey W. Mhire and family.

VISITORS

Miss Marilyn Miller of New Orleans spent a few days in her home here last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Richard spent Friday night with her brother and family in Jennings. Then Saturday they drove to Lake Arthur where they visited her father, D. A. Hardee and family.

Importance of dairy food told by 4-Her

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

When we were babies, milk was probably our first food. As we got older many other foods were added to our diets, but we still need milk products every day.

Milk is a good source of protein, and provides lots of calcium for strong bones and teeth. It is our main food source of vitamin D and contains some of the B vitamins.

This food group includes whole milk, skim milk and buttermilk and foods made from milk. Other members of this group are cheese, yogurt, cottage cheese and ice cream.

These are some of the important facts 9-year-old Kristi Jo Dupuie brought out in her first place Dairy Foods demonstration she gave at the recent Cameron Parish 4-H contest day held at Grand Lake School.

Kristi Jo, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Dupuie, is a member of the South Cameron Elementary 4-H Club, and won her first place award in her first competition, which included the preparation of a dairy food dish and an informative talk on dairy food.

She prepared her dish, "Hot Cheese Dunk", and "Cajun Bread Sticks", which she serves with her fondue at the annual tea for the Miss Cameron Parish contestants at the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival in January. She also gave her demonstration for the Council on Aging this week in Cameron.

Kristi Jo Dupuie

Kristi is getting very adept in the kitchen, helping her grandmother, Mrs. Jo Ann Nunez, cook breakfast each morning.

She shares her delicious nutritional recipes with us:

HOT CHEESE DUNK

1/2 cup dry milk powder
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1 small clove garlic, minced
3 Tblsp. margarine
3 Tblsp. all purpose flour
2 tsp. chicken boullion granules few drops hot sauce
1½ cups shredded American cheese
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Combine milk powder and 1¼ cup water; mix well and set aside. Cook onion and garlic in margarine until tender. Blend in flour and boullion granules. Add milk mixture and pepper sauce at once. Cook and stir until thickened. Add cheese, stirring to melt. Pour into fondue pot or 1 quart casserole; keep warm, and serve with Cajun bread sticks.

CAJUN BREAD STICKS
(Makes 64 sticks)

One pkg. 8 hamburger buns
One lb. butter
1/4 cup Tony's Creole Seasoning
3 Tblsp. garlic powder

Melt butter and add Creole seasoning and garlic powder. Dip cut sides of buns in butter mixture and bake on a cookie sheet for 30 minutes in 250 degree oven for 30 minutes. Serve and store in an uncovered container.

Club hears about trip to Pacific area

When the Creole Extension Homemakers Club held its February meeting in the home of Mrs. Eleanor West, members saw a filmstrip presentation given by Bud and Ada Broussard of Grand Chenier on the countries of Tahiti, Australia, and New Zealand which they visited in July, 1987.

While showing the films, the Broussards described places visited, and gave facts learned about the people, the cultures, and the history of the three countries.

Mrs. Earline Baccigalopi gave a report on the council meeting which she attended Feb. 9, at the Extension office in Cameron. Important announcements made at the meeting by assistant home economist, Nancy Cronana, were as follows: the fiftieth anniversary of the Cameron Parish Council will be July 9, with plans to made for observing the event; Nell Colligan, Parish Nurse, has a film on "Aids" available to organizations wishing to view it; and the next council meeting will be held April 12, at 1 p.m. in the Extension office at Cameron.

Teacher Appreciation Week, which will be held sometime in March, was discussed by members. The Creole club will be in charge of the observance at both the South Cameron high and elementary schools. Plans will be finalized and a date set for the event at the March meeting.

Following the meeting, members and their guests exchanged Valentines and had a social.

Father Cormac Kinkead

Mission set at Creole

Sacred Heart Catholic Church will sponsor a Lenton Renewal Mission Monday through Friday, March 14-18. The Mission talks will be given each morning at 9 a.m. and each night at 7 p.m. and will include Mass.

Father Cormac Kinkead, a Passionist Father from Jersey City, N.J., will conduct the Mission and speak at all Masses this weekend.

He will also be available for confessions and counseling during the week by appointment.

Father Kinkead was a businessman until he entered the U. S. Army to serve in the European theater in World War II. He later joined the Passionist Fathers and has served as a parish priest, retreat moderator and a missionary.

Monsignor M. J. Bernard, pastor, invites all parishioners, alienated Catholics and the unchurched of the area to attend this week of "spiritual inventory".

Parishioners are encouraged to pray for the success of this mission.

Power Lifters go to state

South Cameron Power Lifters will go to Pineville Saturday, March 12, for the annual State Power Lifting contest.

Participatns in boys division are Spencer Aplin, John Jay LaBove, Jim Curtis and Chad Mudd.

The program will begin at 8:45 a.m. in the Pineville High School gym. Cherie Lancon will participate later this month in the girls state meet to be held, in all probability, at South Beauregard High School.

EMT course to be offered

Sowela Tech of Lake Charles is now accepting applications for the EMT Advanced level course. All interested persons need to go to Sowela to register.

Starting date for this class will be announced at a later date, according to Barbara Dixon of Sowela.

Memorial fund is established

A special memorial fund has been initiated in memory of Dot Sells, well-known area florist and philanthropist, who died last December, according to Msgr. M. J. Bernard, who is temporary administrator of the fund.

Accumulated funds given by friends will be used to help the indigent in the South Cameron area.

Anyone interested may deposit gifts with Calcasieu Marine Bank of Cameron, for the "Dot Sells Memorial Fund", account number 18-246281-20.

Players, coaches named All District

By ROBERT MANUEL

Several basketball players and coaches from the four high schools of Cameron Parish were singled out for All District recognition.

All-District teams will be released by the media, for girls following the completion of the Sweet Sixteen State Tournament. Boys All-District selection will be released some time after the Top 24 State Tournament.

In girls basketball, Grand Lake's Rhonda Verzwyvelt and South Cameron's Kris Rutherford were voted Most Valuable Player in their respective districts. Verzwyvelt's 20 point plus per game average and rebounding gave her the honor.

South Cameron's Kris Rutherford led her district's other outstanding players in all major departments. Her 14.2 district game average was tops among the selected players. Her 72.7% field goal accuracy was also tops. Rutherford has 12 three pointers for the season.

Coaches Don Caldwell of Grand Lake, and Coach Wayne Johnson of South Cameron were voted Coaches of the Year. Both had coached district championship teams. Coach Byron Gibbs of Hackberry, whose team ended the regular district schedule in a tie with Coach Johnny Cooley's Singer team, was named with Cooley as Co-Coaches of the Year for District 10B.

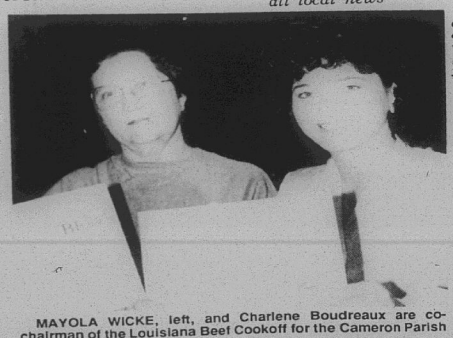
In District 8A girls All-District first team, South Cameron, placed Kris Rutherford on the first five. Rutherford also was named Most Valuable Player in District 8A.

Named to 8A second team All-District from South Cameron were Tiffany LaSalle. All-District honorable mention were Buffy Guthrie, Freda Blackwell and Renee LaLande.

National champions



ALICE WELCH and her father, Benny Welch, of Oak Grove won two world skinning championships in Cambridge, Maryland recently. Alice was named the women's champion muskrat skinner and Benny was named the men's champion nutria skinner. They represented the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival.

Classes set in computers

The Cameron Parish School system is offering adult classes to persons interested in the use of computers in business.

Instructions will include training in computer usage for "Word Processing" and "spreadsheet."

If you are interested, contact the school secretary at the following schools: Johnson Bayou High, Hackberry High and South Cameron High School. Ask that your name be put on the class roster.

Classes will begin after Easter and will continue for 40 hours of instruction. You will be informed of the first class meeting later.

Applications

The Cameron Community Action Agency is accepting applications for assistance with utility bills. All applicants are required to have proof of income and a current unpaid utility bill.

Application forms are available at the Cameron Senior Center from 1 to 3 p.m. Tuesday through Friday. For more information call Frankie Campbell at 775-5145.

Dance postponed

A benefit dance for Ruth Michon at the Creole KC Hall Saturday, March 12, has been postponed until a later date.

Leesburg Notes

By GAY DYSON REEVES, DIRECTOR

ART EXHIBIT

During February, the new art display has attracted visitors to our parish museum. Our art director, Lora Guthrie, has arranged a group of paintings submitted for judging during the Fur and Wildlife Festival.

EARLY TOOL COLLECTION

The collection of early Cameron tools shared by Frankie and Mary Henry has been enriched by an addition from the collection of Jessie A. Daigle, of Cameron.

For those of you who enjoy this kind of collection we have a corn sheller, logging tongs, cotton scale, sheep shearer, rope maker, buckshot mold, needle for sewing leather, sickle, sausage maker and meat grinder, all-purpose buggy wrench, monkey wrench, extension pliers, model T tire tool and wrench, wedge and draw knife and a set of wood and bone handled branding irons, and much more.

Mr. Daigle has been taping his memories of farm life when cotton was the main crop. His stories of those early years will be enjoyed by old and young. We will be happy to play the tapes for you in the museum. We welcome any similar contributions you may wish to make.

PICTURES WANTED

If you have pictures of early Cameron people, buildings or objects, would you have copies made and share them with us? Just write a title for each picture on the back of the picture giving approximate year and names of persons, places or objects.

We will include your picture in our picture book of Cameron history to be shared with museum visitors. Mail them to P.O. Box D, Cameron, La. 70631, or bring them to the museum on Wednesdays, 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Gore, Robertson parish winners

Three district taxes were reviewed in Cameron Parish Tuesday while Republican voters here went against the national trend in making Pat Robertson their first choice for the nominee for president.

According to complete, but unofficial, returns, Fire Protection District 10's proposition for a two-mill, 10-year property tax passed 120-40.

Voters in Waterworks district 10 voted 132-40 in favor of a three-mill, 10-year tax.

In Recreation District 5, voters approved a five-mill, 10-year tax 290-167.

In the Democratic primary, Al Gore was the top vote getter with 476. Dick Gephardt was second at 394 followed by Michael Dukakis with 297. Jesse Jackson received 142 and David Duke 41 with the remaining candidates in single digits.

Robertson had 43 votes in the GOP column followed by George Bush with 36, Bob Dole with 21 and Jack Kemp with 8. Pete DuPont and Al Haig racked up zeroes.

Jerri Soileau had 35 votes for member of the Republican State Central Committee, William Hart had 21 and Winfield Little Jr. 14. Votes for the seat allocated to the 36th Representative District must be added to those in the southern portion of Calcasieu to determine a winner.

Welch on state team

A Cameron Parish man is serving on Governor-to-be Buddy Romer's transition team, and is the only one from the parish serving on the panel.

Benny Welch is serving on the transition advisory panel on wildlife and fisheries issues. The panel members are to make recommendations on wildlife and fisheries proposals important to all citizens of the state.

Welch serves on the board of directors of the Louisiana Alligator Growers Association. He is also a trapper and serves as principal of Grand Chenier Elementary School.

LaBove speaks at convention

Donna LaBove, president of the Cameron Chapter of the American Business Women's Association, recently gave a speech at the Spring ABWA conference in Houston, Texas. The conference was attended by 894 women across the nation.

Mrs. LaBove's speech was about the chapters hosting the Louisiana Tourist Bureau Commissioners at a luncheon in Cameron, featuring local foods and recipes.

Thirteen members from the Les Dames de la Bayou Chapter attend the Regional Convention and were recognized.

Memorial gift told by Bapt. Children's Home

A letter, written to Superintendent John R. Williams at the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home in Monroe, stated: "We have learned of the death of a friend. We enclose a gift to the Children's Home in his memory and appreciate the opportunity of showing respect in this way to one we knew."

Memorial gifts sent to the Baptist Home serve as investments in the lives of boys and girls who must have help, according to Williams.

Memorial gifts may be in any amount. The donor should give the name of the person it memorializes and furnish the name and address of the person's relatives to be notified of the gift. The donor's name and address should also be included. Checks should be made payable to the Louisiana Baptist Children's Home and be mailed to Post Office Box 4196, Monroe, La. 71211.

A gift has been made recently in memory of J. T. Johnson by Hackberry First Baptist Church.

(Abbeville Meridional, March 11, 1911)
LAKESIDE LACONICS

Jos. Richard of Eunice visited at Mr. Miller's Monday, returning to his home Tuesday.

Farming is going on at a fine rate. Albert Miller is planting sweet potatoes and watermelons.

Mr. Jolissant and family spent Sunday with relatives at Shell Beach.

We are in need of rain. Our gardens are dry and cisterns almost so; the lake is very low.

The small amount of damage done at Lakeside by the freeze of the 21st is a matter of much comment by our Lake Arthur friends. All their garden stuff was completely destroyed when but slight damage was done here. Our orange trees continued blooming, figs made new leaves since and potatoes and beans only got hurt on the tips, corn wilted but is growing finely again. The weather is quite warm now and crops are growing as well as can be expected in such dry weather.

DO YOU REMEMBER?
Cotton quarantine

By Keith Hambrick

Press, March 12, 1920)
QUARANTINE FOR CAMERON PROBABLE

All of Cameron Parish and portions of Calcasieu and Jeff Davis parishes will probably be quarantined against the growing of cotton for two or three years, according to the sentiment expressed at a meeting of representative cotton men held in New Orleans yesterday under the auspices of the Louisiana division of the American Cotton Association.

It is suggested that the farmers of Cameron, who are solely dependent upon cotton culture, be paid a sum of money as rental in order they might let their lands lie idle and not be forced into bankruptcy. Commissioner Harry D. Wilson suggests that $200,000 would be a sufficient sum to take care of the do Parish, suggested that 50 cents a bale tax be paid on all cotton grown in the state to obtain money for the fund.

(Lake Charles American Press, March 19, 1920)
CAMERON WILL DIVERSIFY

The farmers of Cameron Parish are showing a splendid spirit in meeting the determination to cease cotton growing in order to exterminate the Mexican pink boll worm.

Paul D. Perkins, parish demonstration agent, is in receipt of many letters inquiring about different varieties of peanut and sorghum seed as well as almost all kinds of garden and field seed. The Cameron farmers do not intend to lie down because they have been deprived of their chief commercial crop.

LEGAL NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE
CAMERON PARISH COASTAL USE PERMIT APPLICATION

Interested parties are hereby notified that the Coastal Management Section of the Cameron Parish Police Jury has received the following apparently complete application for a Coastal Use Permit in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Louisianan Coastal Resources Program and R. S. 49:213.1, the State and Local Coastal Resources Management Act of 1978, as amended. L. C. U. P. Application #880205 CORPS OF ENGINEERS #

Character of Work: Sand Mining approximately 14,630 cubic yards of ridge sand will be removed from this project.

The decision on whether to issue a permit will be based on an evaluation of the probable impacts of the proposed activity in accordance with the state policies outlined in R. S. 49:213.2. The decision will reflect in the national concern for both protection and utilization of important resources. The decision must be consistent with the state program and approved local programs for affected parishes and must represent an appropriate blancing of social, environmental and economic factors. All factors which may be relevant to the proposal will be considered; among these are flood and storm hazards, water quality, water supply, feasible alternative sites, drainage patterns, historical sites economics, public and private benefits, compatibility with the natural and cultural setting and the extent of long term benefits or adverse impacts.

Certificaiton that the proposed activity will not violate applicable water and air quality, laws, standards and regulations will be required before a permit is issued.

Any person may request, in writing, within the comment period specified in this notice, that a public hearing be held to consider this application. Request for public hearings shall state, with particularity, the reasons for holding a public hearing.

Plans for the proposed work may be inspected at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex Building, Coastal Management Division, Courthouse Square, P. O. Box 366, Cameron, Louisiana. (318) 775-5718. Written comments should be mailed within 25 days from the date of this public notice to Cameron Parish Jury, Coastal Management Division, Post Office Box 366, Cameron, Louisiana 70631.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF LOUISIANA, OFFICE OF CONSERVATION, BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA.

In accordance with the laws of the State of Louisiana, and with particular reference to the provisions of Title 30 of Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, a public hearing will be held in the Conservation Auditorium, 1st Floor, State Land & Natural Resources Building, 625 North 4th Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at 9:00 a.m. on Tuesday, April 5, 1988, upon the application of HAMILTON BROTHERS OIL COMPANY.

1. To establish rules and regulations governing the exploration for and production of gas and condensate from the above sand and reservoir.

2. To create a single drilling and production unit for this sand and to force pool and integrate all separately owned tracts, mineral interests and other property interests within the unit so created.

3. To designate a unit well and a unit operator for this unit so created.

4. To provide that any future replacement and/or alternate unit wells shall be exempt from the spacing provisions of Statewide Order No. 29-E.

5. To provide that the Commissioner may reclassify the reservoir by supplemental order and without the necessity of public hearing should such reclassification be warranted.

6. To consider such other matters as may be pertinent.

The 10,200' Sand, Reservoir A, in the Mallard Bay Field, is hereby defined as being that gas and condensate bearing sand encountered between the depths of 10,204' and 10,225' (electrical log measurements) in the Hamilton Brother Oil Company - L. J. Reaux No. 1 Well, located in Section 2, Township 13 South, Range 3 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana.

CAMERON OUTDOORS

Big bass caught

By Loston McEvers

REFUGES PRODUCE BIG BASS

Our two local refuges have been opened for about two weeks and several big bass have been caught already.

Rufus McEvers had a 6 pounder last week along with 3 and 4 pounders. Travis Broussard had some 3 and 4 pounders also. Several other good catches have been reported, however the number of fish is down, but with the rain and cold front, that's to be expected. These are reports from Lacassine Refuge.

Sabine had good reports also of several large bass, one 7 pounder and several in the 5 pound class. Also, reports of some nice catfish being taken.

TRAPPING SEASON EXTENDED

A 15-day extension of the trapping season in portions of Vermilion and Cameron parishes was announced by the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, March 1 to 15.

Areas included are Vermilion Parish, Freshwater Bayou from the Gulf of Mexico to Schooner Bayou and then west of Schooner Bayou to North Prong Bayou, north on North Prong Bayou to the Intercoastal Canal and east on the Intercoastal Canal to 4 Mile Cutoff, southeast on 4 Mile Cutoff to Vermilion Bay and southeast to Southwest Pass and the Gulf of Mexico.

In the southwest portion of Cameron Parish, the open area is bounded by Highway 82 from Sabine Pass to the Magnolia Canal, then north on the Magnolia Canal to the junction of the Starks Canal, then west on the Starks Canal to the junction of the Burton Canal, then north on the Burton Canal to Black Bayou and then west on Black Bayou to Sabine Lake.

The reason is the population of muskrats in these areas needs to be thinned out more, to keep the muskrats from being eaten out.

T.E.D. BACK IN NEWS

Still plenty of hell being raised on the use of the Turtle Excluder Device. Our Louisiana shrimpers do not want to use the device because they claim they were lied to.

Florida started using the device Jan. 1, and the law went into effect in Texas, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana March 1.

Florida shrimpers claim they are losing 50 percent of their catch and our area people say they can't make a living pulling the T.E.D., by losing that much of their catch.

Louisiana has appealed the use of the T.E.D. In 1987 Louisiana Legislature enacted a law forbidding state officials to enforce any law requiring the T.E.D., until it could be proven to be economically feasible and effective in protecting turtles.

The maximum civil penalty is $10,000, but first offenders will probably be fined $5,000 to $7,500.

I wish them well!

WILDLIFE COMMISSION

Lyle (Butch) Crain of Grand Chenier has resigned from the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission. I do wish Butch the best of luck and thank him for all he has done during the term he spent and for his consideration for wildlife and conservation.

The new governor will be appointing new members as they resign or their terms expire.

BIG BURNS

The Big Burns permits are now on sale at most sporting or tackle shops. Rudy's in Creole has theirs in.

TOLEDO BEND

Good fish have been taken out of Toledo Bend in the past two weeks.

Blanc Bonsall and Earl Domingue had a real nice trip. Blanc had a 6 pounder and they caught some real nice bass.

There have been bass up to 8 pounds caught in the last two weeks. Seems like a good start.

Friday, March 11, good, 4:50 a.m. and 5:20 p.m.; fair, 11 a.m.

Saturday, March 12, good, 5:45 a.m. and 6:20 p.m.; fair, 11:55 a.m.

Sunday, March 13, good, 6:45 a.m. and 7-15 p.m.; fair, 12:55 p.m.

Parish Explorers medal winners

In Sweepstakes trophies South Cameron Deputy Explorer Post 215 won second place overall with 150 points, followed by Grand Lake Post 217 in third place overall with 148 points. Iowa tallied 97 for 4th place overall.

Post 219 captured but one team title, that in softball but amassed its majority of points by scoring heavily in the track events.

Tour fire station

The Scouts also toured the Sheriff's office, Wildlife Refuge and other places of interest.

For more information on becoming a Girl Scout call Trudy Regnier at 775-5774.

Rewards offered for theft information

Cameron Parish Crime Stoppers are offering cash rewards up to $750 for information that will lead to the arrest and prosecution of persons responsible for the thefts of outboard motors in Cameron Parish at the following locations:

Taken from the Mobil docks at Grand Chenier, Nov. 11 or 12, were a 1986 25 HP Mercury outboard motor, and a red 6 gallon gas tank.

Also taken was a 15 HP outboard motor - blue, gray and white bearing serial number E001797. "Bonin" and a number, either a social security or drivers license number is etched on mounting bracket. The motor was taken from a boat landing at 193 Mile Boat Store on the Intracoastal Canal, approximately 7 miles south of La. 14. The theft occurred between Nov. 23 and Nov. 26.

Other outboard motor thefts occuring in Cameron Parish in the Hackberry area were a 1977 Johnson 25 HP outboard motor, electric start, white in color, with a short pipe attached to motor for steering. The theft occurred at Guidry's Trailer Park, Hackberry, between Nov. 6 and Nov. 9.

Between Thursday, Jan. 7 and Jan. 9 a 1984 Yamaha outboard engine, was taken from a boat house north of Kelso Bayou on the west side of highway on leased property of John F. White.

Anyone having information or knowledge on the thefts of any of the outboard motors should call Cameron Parish Crime Stoppers at 775-7867. The caller does not have to give his or her name, a code number will be assigned.

Crime Stoppers will also pay cash rewards for information that helps to solve any crime besides the "Crime of the Month".

Program on drugs to be held Mar. 17

The Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department will conduct a series of Drug Awareness Programs throughout the parish. The first is scheduled for Thursday, March 17 at 7 p.m. in the Cameron Recreation Center.

The program, titled "Drug Abuse in Cameron Parish, Some Alternatives," will provide information and an opportunity for input from parents, adults and teens.

The initial program will include testimonies of local recovering addicts, a report of drug and alcohol violations by investigator Theos Duhon and what are some alternatives that can be offered through citizen involvement.

The next presentation will be in Creole, the date to be announced later.

27 children to get First Communion

Twenty-seven children of Sacred Heart Parish in Creole will receive the Holy Eucharist for the first time on Tuesday, March 22.

Msgr. M. J. Bernard, pastor, will celebrate the Mass at 6:30 p.m., and following the Mass there will be a reception in the Catholic Life Center.

Msgr. Bernard and Mrs. Ann Meaux have been preparing the students.

SADD group is formed at Hackberry

Drinking and driving is the Number 1 cause of death for Americans up to age 30.

In an effort to alert and inform students of this problem, Hackberry High School is forming a Student Against Driving Drunk organizatin called SADD. The SADD program is organized to educate students concerning the problem of drinking and driving. This program, founded by Robert Anastas, has been in operation since September, 1981, in Massachusetts.

Students at Hackberry High were introduced to SADD objectives at an assembly Monday morning. Students wishing to join SADD were given a Contract For Life. Thursday night at 7 p.m. these students and their parent are asked to attend a SADD meeting for further discussion of objectives and policies. Contracts will also be signed by students and their parents at this meeting. This meeting will be held in the school auditorium.

Legal Service

Monthly intake of potential legal service clients in Cameron Parish will be held on Thurday, March 17 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Council on Aging, instead of Friday, March 18, 1988 as scheduled.

1st communion set at B. Lake

Thirty-two children of St. Mary of the Lake Parish will receive Holy Communion for the first time on Sunday, March 20. The children will attend Mass at 10 a.m., according to the Msgr. James Gaddy, pastor.

Bonnie Berry, Beverly Baron and their staff have been preparing the students for the event since September, Msgr. Gaddy said.

Loston McEvers if featured

Written by Steve Culpepper, a staff writer, the article was one in a series being published by the Baton Rouge paper on the "moods, attitudes and opinions" of the people that he meets in a swing through south Louisiana prior to Buddy Roemer's inauguration.

Egrets stand adjcent to the roads in Cameron Parish, oblivious to cars that drive by.

Perhaps, like the people here, the birds have grown accustomed to the bustle and buildup the oil companies brought.

Loston McEvers remembers when the buildup broke down.

"November 1985 is when the bird hit the fan," he said. "As far as making money, you can't make no more money."

McEvers said the people who moved in and then out with the oil and gas — "the transients," he calls them — "voted tax after tax" on the people of Cameron Parish. Now those people are gone and the taxes remain.

"It's getting to be the way it used to be around here, with the transients gone, but it just costs more," McEvers said.

"During the heyday I did real good. I got only one stretch of land leased now. Wells I was getting $700 and $800 a month from, I'm now getting $50 a bump. I owned one-third of a half an acre and made $700 a month off that for a couple years until this thing got bad.

"Now there are pipeline companies buying under contract for more than they get for it. They signed those contracts during the boom. Hell, who knew what would happen?"

McEvers, a father of two and grandfather of one, owns an auto parts store and repair shop and a small convenience store, all lumped together as Loston Inc.

"I drove a school bus, worked heavy equipment, worked in the oil patch, taught trade school," he said. Nowadays he has a band called Swamp Country, reports on fishing and hunting for the Cameron Pilot newspaper, runs his small businesses and pays taxes.

"The transients have gone. The oil companies have left because the taxes are too high. Businesses have to pick up the slack," he said. "They can't go much harder on business in Cameron or they're going to close the doors."

Still, McEvers is in favor of lowering the homestead exemption from $75,000 to $50,000 — but no lower. "I feel pro and con, if you know what I mean," he said. "It could hurt some of the poor folks. Some have busted their tails and have 15 or 20 acres of land and they have a home and they're on a fixed income. If they do go too far lowering the homestead exemption, it'll hurt."

McEvers is not in favor of cuts in the state's charity hospital system.

"Too many people need it. I know a young fellow here who was making $2,000 a week and now he's making $900 a month. He clears $177 a week and he's got a wife and son. He told me he's got to let some bills slide, and I bet he doesn't have a lick of insurance. He needs that charity hospital."

McEvers complains that, beside the taxes, the state's worker's compensation insurance costs are too high. The cost of the insurance for his few employees went up 39 percent over 1987, from his paying $5.24 per $100 in employee pay to the current $7.28 per $100.

McEvers said he "voted for Edwards before, back when he was a pretty damn good governor. I didn't vote for him this time." But, he said, Gov.-elect Buddy Roemer "can't come in here and clean it out overnight. But I think Roemer is going in there to — how you say — well if you're going to sweep the floor you need a good broom."

SEDONARY KAY BOULLION, 10 month old daughter of Charles and Mona Boullion of Sulphur, was recently crowned Baby Little Miss Lake Charles and will represent Lake Charles in the Little Miss Louisiana pageant in Baton Rouge in November. Her relatives are Mark and Stephanie White of Cameron.

Arthritis self-help program available

A new arthritis self help program has been introduced by the Arthritis Foundation, Louisiana Chapter. "In Control-Managing Your Arthritis" is a self management program on video developed by the Arthritis Foundation.

The program can be used by an individual in the home or by a group in a community helath program. It works anywhere there's a TV set and a VCR. The program provides information, techiques, and support to help the user develop a self-care regimen. The user will learn about arthritis, pain management, activity management and problem solving.

Louisiana

- Audubon Zoological Park, New Orleans (1 million visitors in 1987)
- Jean Lafitte National Historical Park, includes site of the Battle of New Orleans (1.1 million)
- Louisiana State Museum, in New Orleans French Quarter (450,000)
- Creole Nature Trail (driving and walking), Lake Charles (300,000)

THE ABOVE CHARTER was run with an article in USA Today this week on tourist attractions in oil states of Louisiana, Oklahoma and Texas. The Creole Nature Trail in Cameron Parish was the only Louisiana attraction mentioned outside of New Orleans.

Nature trail is featured

Cameron Parish's Creole Nature Trail got some publicity in an article this week in USA Today on the efforts of the oil states, Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas, to attract tourists to offset the loss of revenues from oil production.

The newspaper, which has the second largest circulation in the nation, listed under the heading "Some high spots for tourists in the Oil Belt" the following attractions for Louisiana along with the visitors they attract annually:

Audubon Zoo, New Orleans, 1 million visitors.

Louisiana State Museum, New Orleans, 450,000 annually.

Creole Nature Trail, Lake Charles, 300,000 visitors annually.

It is to be noted that the Nature Trail was the only attraction outside New Orleans listed in the article.

Although the 300,000 figure probably is far too high an estimate of visitors on the Nature Trail, Bertie Bland of the Southwest Louisiana Conventions and visitors Bureau told the Pilot that visitors are on the increase on the Trail.

She said at present there is no way to estimate the number of visitors each year, however registration forms are being placed at the Sabine National Refuge which visitors will be asked to sign and this should give some idea of the annual number.

Ms. Bland also said that the Nature Trail is being listed in a new edition of the Walking World Atlas giving walking tours from around the world.

The Creole Nature Trail follows the loop of Hwy. 27 through Cameron parish, going through Hackberry, Holly Beach, Creole and Sweetlake-Grand Lake back up to Lake Charles. Side routes off the trail include the visitors walking trail on the Sabine Refuge and visits off the trail to the Holly Beach-Johnson Bayou beaches and the Rockefeller Refuge at Grand Chenier.

Oyster plant told

BY JERRY WISE

The prospects for a new industry for Cameron parish that could employ as many as 100 people was told to the Cameron parish school board at their monthly meeting Monday.

Rudy Aplin of Grand Chenier told the board that he represented a group of Cameron parish investors, who were interested in putting in a oyster depuration plant in Cameron parish to remove the impuratives from oysters taken from Calcasieu Lake.

Aplin asked the board if they would be willing to sell or lease the old Cameron Vo-Tech School facilities on the Front Ridge road near Oak Grove to be used for such plant.

Aplin said there was a good possibility that oystering in the lake may be closed down completely next year due to pollution (the lake was only opened at periods of low water this season.)

He said that a depuration plant would take in polluted oysters and completely purge them of their impuratives in two days using a mixture of Gulf and fresh water to wash away the impurities.

Not only could oysters be used from areas now opened in the lake, areas of the lake that have been closed for years due to pollution could be reopened if the oysters were run through the plant.

Aplin said the new plant might open as many as 100 jobs, including workers in the plant and the fishermen for the oysters in the lake.

He said that the investors were also hoping to process the oysters for sale and try to get 100 percent of their wholesale value. At present the oysters go through 6 or 7 middlemen, which cuts down on the profit to local people, he stated.

By increasing the amount of oysters and eliminating the middlemen, the impact on Cameron parish might go from $5.1 million at present to as much as $20 million, he stated.

Board President Arnold Jones said that while the school board does not anticipate using the old school for school purposes in the future, he felt they would only be interested in leasing the school facilities.

He said the board was interested in the proposal on a lease basis and asked Aplin to come back to the board at a later date with a more concrete offer for the facility.

Church to have revival

The First Baptist Church of Cameron is having a "Together With God" revival March 20-24. Evangelist will be Frank Wood from University Baptist Church. Song leader is Rick Ramsey from Boulevard Baptist Church.

Sunday morning service starts at 10:45 a.m. with dinner on the grounds at noon. Sunday evening service is at 6 p.m.

Monday through Thursday evening services begin at 7 p.m. Choir practice at 6:15 each evening and children booster band will sing at each service.

Noon services each day at 11:45 a.m. in the church fellowship hall.

All are invited to each service. A nursery is provided for each service.

Democrats will vote

Democratic voters will return to the polls on Saturday, March 26 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., as they select congressional district delegates for the Democratic National Convention.

41 delegates and 14 alternates will be elected March 26, while the remainder of Louisiana's 71 delegates and 21 alternates will be selected on June 4. The congressional district delegates will be allocated to presidental candidates that receive 15% or more of the vote in a congressional district.

All delegate candidates are pledged to a particular presidental candidate. Therefore delegate candidates will compete only with others pledged to the same presidential candidate as themselves.

Voters will be allowed to only vote for one presidential candidate's slate of delegate candidates.

While on Super Tuesday, March 8 all regular polling sites will be open, this is not the case on March 26. There will only be one polling site per state representative district, unless it contains more than one parish.

Catholic awards are given two

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Louis J. Hebert and Mable Saltzman were named Knight and Daughter of the Year at the 24th annual Our Lady Star of the Sea Catholic Church banquet held Sunday night at the Cameron Motel Restaurant.

Sponsors of the event were Knights of Columbus Council No. 5461 and CDA Court No. 1898.

Plaques were presented to other KC nominees, James Colligan and Wilton John Benoit, and other CD nominees, Angie Styron and Adenise Trosclair.

The Knight of the Year plaque was presented by Howard Loncon, District KC Deputy, and the Daughter of the Year plaque was presented by last year's winner, Glynn Portie.

Msgr. Curtis Vidrine gave the history of the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Daughters.

The KC organization was created in 1882 in New Haven, Conn., for chairty, brotherhood and patriotism. Twenty years later the KCs established the CDA as a helpmate to the KCs. It was begun in Utica, N.Y., with 60 members. The two organizations now number over 2 million members.

Father Vidrine urged members, when in the nation's capitol, to visit the National KC Headquarters where the KCs have donated a million dollar bell tower and the CDAs have donated five altars to the building.

He also discussed evils facing Christians today, including pornography, homosexuality, promiscuity, drug use, teenage battery, teenage pregnancies, abortion, suicide among teens, etc.

Program set on alcohol, drug abuse

The first of a series of substance abuse programs will be presented to the general public beginning in the Cameron area Thursday, March 17, at 7: p.m. in the multi-purpose building behind the courthouse.

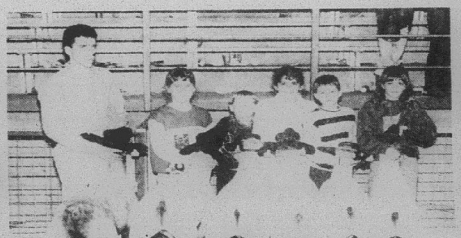
The extent of drug and alcohol abuse in the lower Cameron Parish area will be assessed through panel participants representing the Cameron Parish law enforcement division, the Cameron Parish school board, the medical profession, South Cameron Memorial Hospital and youth and adult support organizations.

TED stay asked

Attorney General William J. Guste, Jr. has asked U. S. District Judge Patrick Carr to stay the effect of his March 1, ruling which requires shrimpers to use turtle excluder devices, or TED's, while trawling.

Also, Guste has filed a notice of appeal with Carr which will move the case to the U. S. Fifth Circuit court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Guste said if a stay is granted, it would postpone enforcement of new federal regulations requiring the use of TED's. He said shrimpers should not be arrested, fined or jailed as allowed by the regulations while appeals are pending.



"We believe in the protection of endangered species, but not by placing the full burden exclusively on the backs of state shrimpers," Guste explained.

Carr ruled that the U. S. Commerce Department's regulations were not harmdul to shrimpers and could be enforced after March 1, the day they were scheduled to take effect.

TED's are box-like structures which attach to shrimp nets and allow sea turtles to pass through unharmed. All shrimpers working within 15 miles of shore must use TED's.

Guste sued Commerce Secretary Malcolm Baldridge last October alleging that the new regulations intended to protect sea turtles would unfairly burden the state's shrimping industry.

Guste says shrimpers will lose some of their normal catch and at least 15 percent of their income because TED's allow many shrimp to pass through the nets. In turn, Louisiana will be paid less taxes by the shrimpers.

College-Career Fair to be held at Burton

Three dozen or more universities, colleges and vocational-technical schools will be represented at the Imperial Calcasieu College/Career Fair at McNeese State University Burton Coliseum Tuesday, March 22.

Sponsored by school counselors from Calcasieu and Cameron parishes the fair is open to high school juniors and seniors.

The purpose of the fair is to acquaint upper level high school students with post-secondary educational and career opportunities, according to Uland Guidry, Supervisor of Student Services with the Cameron Parish schools.

Registration is scheduled from 6-6:30 p.m. in the west entrance foyer of Burton Coliseum. An orientation session will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Information about scholarships, work study and other financial aid programs and procedures for college admission will be discussed in a general session.

Representatives from educational institutions and the armed services will be available to students and parents so they may obtain further information.

Sponsoring counselors urge parents to accompany their children to the fair and participate in their post-high school decision-making.

Lenten penance service set at Creole Mar. 24

A lenten penance service will b conducted in Sacred Heart Churc at Creole Thursday, March 24, a a climax of the penitential season it has been announced by th Most. Rev. Jude Speyrer, Bishop o Lake Charles.

The service will begin at 7 p.m and will consist of an openin prayer, a selection of hymns, pray ers and spiritual readings, and a homily by a member of the dioce san clergy, Bishop Speyrer said

After the homily there will b time for an examination of consci ence and for private confession fo those attending, the bishop said. A number of priests of the diocese will attend to facilitate the hear ing of confessions.

There are three different types of penance services in the Catholic Church, according to Rev. Mr. George Stearns, Vicar for Christian Formation for the diocese. The first is the usual individual and private confession.

The second is a communal service, which includes public prayer and devotion as well as individual and private confessions.

The third is a general penance service and general absolution. The third type is used only in times of dire emergency or great danger, as in time of war for soldiers at the front, Deacon Stearns said.

The penance service at Creole will be of the second type, he pointed out.

"This will be one of five penance services held in different parts of the diocese, and we hope that all Catholics of Cameron Parish will attend this service, as well as those parishioners of Sacred Heart Parish," Deacon Stearns said.

SCHOOL BOARD

REMODELING, REPAIRS

The board discussed two proposed construction projects with Architect Sonny Hackett. One would be the remodeling of the old boys and girls restrooms at South Cameron high school into office space for the counseling department.

The other was the repair to the South Cameron and Johnson Bayou high school tracks. It was agreed to name a committee that would look at tracks at other area schools to try to come up with a surface that will last the longest.

BUS BIDS OPENED

The board awarded two contracts totaling $115,727.49 for the purchase of four 59-60 passenger buses to be used as athletic-activity buses at four parish schools.

Atterbery international submitted the low bid of $76,637.32 on the bus chassis and Bill Seaman's Bus Sale had the low bid of $39,090.17 on the bus bodies.

A low bid of $6,770 was accepted from Quality Lawnmowers for two riding lawnmowers.

SCHOOL CALENDAR

The 1988-89 school calendar was approved as follows:

Aug. 29, 1988--students start school.

Sept. 5, 1988--Labor Day holiday.

Nov. 21-25, 1988--Thanksgiving holidays.

Dec. 19-30, 1988--Christmas holidays.

March 20-24, 1989--Easter Holidays.

June 2, 1989--End of school.

ALLIGATOR EGGS

The board received a request from alligator farmer Jerry G. Jones, Jr. to purchase additional alligator eggs from the board. Supt. Thomas McCall said there were no additional eggs available at this time but that Jones's request would be put on a list should more become available.

BIDS ASKED

The board approved the advertisement for bids for work on the Hackberry high school gym floor and for painting at various schools.

The resignation of Katherine Flavin, Grand Lake teacher, effective May 27 was accepted by the board.

MUSING

By Bernice Denny

It seems that during the past few weeks my husband and I have spent more time in attending funerals than in doing much of anything else.

Four were in Lake Arthur, and three of the deceased were natives of Grand Chenier. They were Mrs. Fleta Broussard Trahan, who was in elementary school with me at the old Grand Chenier Consolidated School. Two were cousins, Mrs. Sadie Vaughan Morris of Lake Charles, who had moved with her family from the Chenier to Lake Arthur when she was a child, and Robert O. Doland, whose family had moved from there to Lake Arthur when he entered high school.

The fourth was Bernard Hartwell of Lowery, a brother to my sister-in-law, Blanche Hollister.

Then on Feb. 29, tragedy again struck our family. My stepson's, Dr. Nathan R. Denny's, wife, Jackie Denny, was killed instantly in a car wreck in Alvin, Tex., a suburb of Houston. We drove over to Houston to the funeral.

The first four had lived fairly long lives. Jackie was but thirty-four and left two small sons.

I find comfort in Milton's belief that "Death is the golden key that opens the palace of eternity."

Musical to be given

The Sanctuary Choir at First Baptist Church of Moss Bluff is preparing for an upcoming Easter Musical titled, "Crucified and Risen:." Events leading up to the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ will be vividly portrayed through drama and song.

Scheduled for Saturday, March 26 and Sunday, March 27 at 7 p.m., the presentation will take place in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church, located on Old Hwy 171 just north of Lake Charles. A nursery will be provided. For further information call 855-9067.

Mrs. Mark Fitzhenry

Fitzhenry-Dimas vows are said in Las Vegas

Christy Dimas and Mark Fitzhenry were united in marriage during a double ring ceremony held Saturday, March 12, at 8 p.m. at The Chapel of The Fountain in Las Vegas, Nev.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dimas of Creole and Mr. Robert B. Fitzhenry and the late Mrs. Edna Walker of Houston, Tex.

Maid of honor was Theresa Townsend and bestman was Robert E. Fitzhenry. Also serving were Ken Townsend and Debbie Fitzhenry.

The bride, an employee of Cogni Seis Development and is a graduate of South Cameron High. The groom is an employee of McDermott Hudson Engineering and is a graduate of Sam Houston High in Houston.

After the wedding, the couple honeymooned in Las Vegas. They will reside in Houston.

Coastline loss is described

By Shirley Haupt
Daily News staff

Man is a vandal destroying his rich natural resources, Rabbi Sherman Stein told a large crowd at the Louisiana Coastal Wetlands forum in Lake Charles.

"There is no justification in the Scripture that gives man the right to exploit the environment, poison the atmosphere, pollute the water and horde their natural resources," Stein admonished the group.

The forum, sponsored by several religious organizations, was designed to promote coastal preservation and restoration and to urge "people of all faiths in Louisiana to accept personal responsibility for environmental stewardship."

Louisiana's vanishing coastline could spell disaster for the state's billion-dollar commercial and recreational fish and wildlife industries unless protected against the forces of man and nature, speakers at a wetlands forum said Thursday.

The state needs to fight coastal erosion through institutional, regulatory and structural measures to develop and implement a comprehensive plan for the management, preservation and restoration of Louisiana's coastal zone, a spokesman for the Coastal Management Division and the Coastal Protection Section of the Department of Natural Resources said.

The Coastal Management Division should be moved to the Department of Environmental Quality, Joel Lindsey told a crowd of people at the Louisiana Coastal Wetlands forum in Lake Charles.

The state should also upgrade the Coastal Protection Section to a division with additional personnel, equipment and adequate funding for coastal restoration and management, Lindsey said.

Gov.-elect Buddy Roemer's environmental panel also recommended the governor introduce legislation which taxes oil and gas production and/or transportation into or through the Louisiana coastal zone — a measure that Lindsey said would generate funds for an expanded coastal environment protection trust fund to finance wetland restoration and protection programs.

The plan also calls for decentralization of the coastal management program and increased public participation, local enforcement and local government input and authority over local uses of wetlands.

Many of the panel's recommendations require legislative action, but Lindsey said he feels the Roemer administration is committed to the preservation of the wetlands and the restoration of the coastal zone.

Each year, Louisiana's marshes produce a commercial fish and shellfish harvest worth $680 million; more than 1.6 billion pounds of fish and shellfish are distributed to the nation each year from Louisiana.

The seafood industry in Calcasieu and Cameron parishes has a dockside value of nearly $50 million and provides a tremendous number of jobs for commercial fishermen and displaced workers who turned to the fishing industry after the decline of the oil and gas industry, Paul Coreil of the LSU Cooperative extension Service said.

Louisiana procudes 40 percent of the nation's wild fur and hides harvest, with an estimated value of $17 million.

Trappers in Southwest Louisiana's 40,000 to 60,000 acres of wetlands harvest two million pelts annually with a value of $4 million to $25 million, said Guthrie Perry, a biologist with the Rockefeller Wildlife Refuge.

More than $9 million in alligator hides and meat is harvested annually in Southwest Louisiana, Perry added.

In addition to the seafood and fur industries, the wetlands, estuaries, barrier beaches and islands of coastal Louisiana are the southern end of the Mississippi flyway, the major U.S. wild fowl migration route, Perry maintained.

Waterfowl hunting in this flyway is valued at $58 million per year. The area provides winter haven for nearly four million ducks and geese as well as white tail deer and white pelicans, Perry added.

Louisiana's rich coastal marshes will vanish unless steps are taken to protect the area. In 1971, biologists at the 84,000-acre Rockefeller Refuge set up to monitoring stations along the beach, Perry said. "Between 1971 and now, 40 feet of coastline have been lost," he added.

Because most of the coast land is owned by small landowners, not large corporations, Perry said it is often difficult and expensive for one individual to accomplish anything to perserve or restore the marsh.

Meeting set

There will be a meeting Tuesday, March 22, at 6:30 p.m. at the Cameron Recreational Complex to organize summer softball leagues for men and women.

Class visits brokers

Recently, the sixth-eighth grade AGATE classes from Hackberry and Grand Lake High Schools went on a field trip to A G Edwards Brokerage Firm in Lake Charles.

The groups are working on a unit about the stock market and learned firsthand how stocks are bought and sold locally and on Wall Street.

Mrs. DeAnn Heinke, financial planner and broker for A G Edwards told the group about prerequisites for a career in this field and about her experiences while working on Wall Street.

The class also toured the Calcasieu Imperial Museum while in Lake Charles. Mrs. Cindy Cormier, teacher and Mrs. Lillie Mae Ducote accompanied the group.

Cam. students honored here

Cameron Elementary "Most Improved" and "Most Outstanding" students were honored with an award ceremony in the school cafeteria. Parents were invited to have lunch with their child after the ceremony.

Most Outstanding students: Kimberly Gaspard, Tracie Weldon, Ryan Billings, Shane Suratt, Mary Ellen Henry, Jennifer Felton, Jeremy Furs, Kim Nguyen, Marisol Leija, Chris Ervin, Clair Hebert, Rachel Fountain, Ryan Nash, Tanya Authement, Patrick Hebert.

Cameron sets registration

Kindergarten registration will be held Tuesday, March 22, at 1:30 p.m. in the Cameron Elementary School cafeteria. Please bring a birth certificate with a state seal and a complete shot record.

If your child was enrolled in pre-kindergarten and will be attending Cameron Elementary you do not need to register him or her for kindergarten. However, if your child will be attending another school in the parish, he or she must also register at that school.

Students must be 5 years old before Oct. 1, 1988, to be able to enroll in kindergarten. You do not need to bring your child to the registration.

Carwash set

A carwash will be held Saturday, March 19, from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Grand Lake in the parking lot of the multi-purpose building and the Big Pasture Fire Station, sponsored by the sixth grade class and their parents.

Cars, trucks, vans, etc. will be hand washed, dried, vacuumed, and deodorized for $5 for cars and up to $10 for large vans.

Both locations are near parks, so the children can play while you have your car cleaned. All proceeds help to finance the class trip to Eureka Springs, Ark. this summer.

Board meeting

The Johnson Bayou Recreation Center board meeting scheduled for Tuesday, Mar. 29, has been changed to Tuesday, Mar. 22, at 5 p.m.

Relays set at S. C.

The annual South Cameron High Tarpon Relays will be staged Friday, March 18, with field events to begin at 3:30 p.m.

South Cameron, Sam Houston, Iowa, Vinton and Johnson Bayou will compete in boys division and Johnson Bayou, Lake Arthur, South Cameron, Vinton and Iowa in the girls division.

The meet will host some of the area's top performers such as Barbe's shot putter Brent LeJeune with a 56 foot throw, Steve Pierson in the shot and discus, Ricky Harrington in pole vault, Norman of Barbe in the mile and Vinton sprinter Ronald Taylor.

Mrs. Posada is honored

Margarita Cortez Posada, wife of the late Peter Anthony Posada, celebrated her 91st birthday Saturday at the multi-purpose building in Cameron. Her two daughters, Bertha Mejias and Maria Posada, both of Cameron; three sons, Carlos, Aurelio, Modesto, along with ten grandchildren, fifteen great grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren joined in the celebration.

The Posada family initially arrived in the United States while touring with the Ataide Circus from Columbia in 1927. Bertha performed as a trapeze artist, Aurelio and Carlos were acrobats and highwire,

They settled in New Orleans until 1976 when Margarita moved to Cameron to be closer to her daughters. Her sons later served in the merchant marines, World War II, the Korean conflict, grandson George Castro served in Vietnam.

G. Lake 4-H

The Grand Lake Senior 4-H Club was highlighted this month by an arts and crafts contest. Winners were Shadd Taylor, first; Toby Aguillard, second; and Shadd Taylor, third.

A presentation was given on fur animals by Kenny Hebert of the Louisiana Wildlife Federation.

CAMERON PARISH
INDUSTRIAL BOOST

Cameron Parish will soon have a system of hard surfaced roads second only to Calcasieu Parish, if the various bond issues which will be submitted to the voters on April 15, carry and the general opinion in the parish is that they will.

At a recent meeting of the police jury, the parish was divided into three road districts and bonds will be voted on in the various wards to provide roads for public highways. In the Grand Lake Ward, they will vote on a bond issue of $100,000. In Wards 1, 2, and 3 a bond issue of $230,000 will be voted and Wards 5 and 6 will vote on a $60,000 bone issue.

About a year and one-half ago the Hackerry district voted bonds and constructed several miles of shell highway.

Attorney E. F. Gayle, who has just returned from a visit to Cameron Parish, states that the feeling down there seems to be unanimous for the various bond issues, as he found in talking to men of influence from different parts of the parish and there was practically no opposition.

There is a natural shell road from Grand Chenier to Cow Island. The main highway to be constructed will be from Grand Chenier to Cameron, the parish seat. There are extensive shell beds in Cameron Parish and these shells will be used in the construction of the roads. When completed the parish will have an excellent system of highways, reaching in all points of that commonwealth.

The police jury passed a resolution asking the conservation board to conserve the shell beds of the parish at least until a time when the proposed highways are completed.

People residing in that parish, together with interested parties in Calcasieu Parish, have not given up the idea of constructing a highway across the marsh connecting with the Big Lake road, which will give direct communication by a hard-surfaced highway to the gulf, through Cameron, the parish seat, giving Cameron an outlet to the outside world other than by boat. It is hoped to have work started on this marsh highway sometime this year.

It's out of this world—a nebula, that is. These masses of glowing gas, millions of miles across, are visible from 900,000 light years away. Each is as large as an entire galaxy like our own.

Attorney Jerry Jones reported that Diamond Services, a subcontractor of Ronald Adams Contractor, Inc., has sued Gravity Drainage District No. 3 of Cameron Parish and the contractor on grounds of non-payment of invoices. Mr. Jones stated that we have a bond that protects us, so he will notify the bonding company to represent us in settling the dispute. There should be no cash outlay or liability as far as the local drainage board is concerned. He stated, however, that we should make no more payment to Ronald Adams Contractor, Inc. until the suit is settled. The amount of the lawsuit is $96,511.00.

Engineer Harper reported that Ancelet & Sons Contractors, the company winning the bid on Project No. 1987-06-01, Drainage Improvements in West Creole Area, should have their performance bond back this week.

An announcement was made of a Preconstruction Conference to be held on January 21, 1988, at 10:00 a.m. at the Soil Conservation Service office in Crowley for the Cameron-Creole Water Control Structures project, Contract no. CC-6.

Minutes of the Regular Meeting of the Cameron Parish Gravity Drainage District No. 3, held Tuesday, January 19, 1988, at 2:30 p.m. at the Cameron Parish Police Jury Annex.

Members Present - Edwin Quinn, E. J. Dronet, Bryon Richard, Gary Kelley, and W. F. Henry, Jr.

Members Absent - None.

Others Present - J. B. Watts.

A motion was made by Bryon Richard, seconded by Gary Kelly, and unanimously carried to approve the minutes of the Regular Meeting of December 15, 1987.

A motion was made by Bryon Richard, seconded by W. F. Henry and unanimously carried to approve the Financial Report for the month of December, 1987.

A motion was made by W. F. Henry, seconded by Bryon Richard, and unanimously carried to approve the following bills for payment:

1. Cameron Parish Clerk of Court	$42.90
2. Lonnie Harper & Associates	619.65
3. Lonnie Harper & Associates	31,801.74
4. Equipment Rentals Sales & Service	13,567.33
5. Equipment Rentals Sales & Service	433.75

In Engineer Lonnie Harper's absence he sent a written report which was presented as follows:

Concerning Project 1986-06-02 W-1 West Pump Station, the only work left to be done is to construct an access road to the pump using ridge sand fill, due to weather conditions this work has not been completed. Also, some fencing is to be done. The pump has been operated, and it worked fine. However, fuel cannot be moved to the pump site until the road is complete.

Concerning Project 1987-06-01 West Creole Drainage Lateral, the contracts have been executed and a work order issued. The contractor will begin work Thursday, January 21, 1988.

It was announced that a pre-construction conference will be held at the Soil Conservation Service office in Crowley on Contract 87-6, Cameron-Creole Watershed Project Water Control Structures, January 21, 1988 at 10:00 a.m. It was agreed that E. J. Dronet will attend.

It was reported that USF&G insurance company will require two signatures on checks in order to write a bond on Treasurer E. J. Dronet. By concensus, the commissioners agreed that this would be too cumbersome, and decided that the bond will not be carried.

It was reported that the short-term CD interest rate has gone below the interest rate paid on balances in the Money Market Investment Accounts, and it was decided that CD's will not be renewed when due, but rates will be watched carefully do that investments can be made accordingly.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

MIAMI PERMIT FISHING

All of us have been waiting for March 15 - that's the day the Big Burns opened and some of the Miami Corporation permit fishing spots opened. Remember to have your permit and fishing license and obey all rules on back of permit and state laws.

The best fishing times this weekend are:

Friday, March 18, 12:39 p.m.
Saturday, March 19, 1:29 p.m.
Sunday, March 20, 2:20 p.m.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB NEWS

The Lemesche Bass Club held their monthly meeting. Carl Broussard, new president of the club, was in charge.

New members were introduced. Francis Basco, Travis Broussard and Michael Trahan are the new members and another new member was voted in by the club, Darren Thibodeaux.

A meal was prepared by Fredman Theriot and Loston McEvers.

The club will hold their first tournament of 1988 Sunday, March 20. Partners are as follows.

Francis Basco and Loston McEvers; J. C. Boudreaux and Tommy Broussard; Darrell Boudoin and A. B. Richard; Carl Broussard and Ricky Canik, Travis Broussard and Anthony Nunez; Tom Hess and Mike King; Gerald Richard and Phillip Trosclair; Fredman Theriot and Ray Theriot; Michael Trahan and Keno Nunez; Ernest Richard and Rudy McEvers.

Next month's meeting will be ladies night and Anthony Nunez and Ernest Richard will prepare the meal.

ALCOHOL AND BOATING

With the spring fever in all of us, and fishing spots opening for our freshwater and all of our saltwater fishing getting into full swing, I would like to pass some information about drinking alcohol and driving a boat.

There are over 1200 people who die from boating accidents every year. Ninety percent of them drown. Drowning is the third leading cause of accidental death in the U.S. Over fifty percent of these fatalities involve alcohol. There are over 60,000 boating accidents that cause injury with over $100 million annually lost. Waterways are second only to highways as the scene of accidental deaths in this country. Alcohol causes many of these accidents.

Research shows that four hours exposure to noise, vibration, sun, glare, wind and other motion on the water produces a kind of "boaters hypnosis" or fatigue, which slows reaction time almost as much as if you were legally drunk. Now, you can imagine adding alcohol to the body with all this boating stress and it becomes real dangerous.

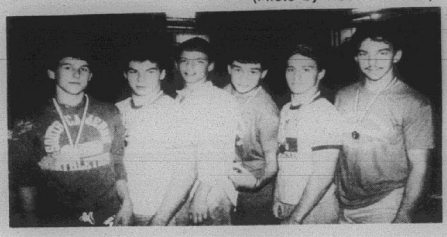
As most of you know, boating is really fun, compared to driving an automobile. When you're boating, there's no speed limits, no traffic signals, no merging lanes and no potholes.

Now alcohol affects your ability to function in three critical ways: your balance, your judgment and your reaction time and this takes place with the first drink you take.

If you're tipsy and lose your balance and fall overboard, numbness occurs faster to your body than when you are sober. Within minutes you may not be able to call for help. Alcohol also intensifies the effects of your ears in water, disorientation occurs by water entering the ears. A drunk person whose head is immersed can become so confused that he swims down to death, instead of up to safety. This explains why some good swimmers who have been drinking suddenly drown with no apparent reason.

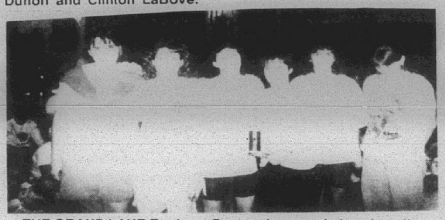
A scale to follow that makes your balance, vision, coordination and judgment off is: if you weight between 100-130 lbs. one drink will make you impaired; 130-160 lbs., two drinks and 160-200, three drinks. Remember there is as much alcohol in a 12 ounce beer as you have in 4 ounces of 12% wine or 1¼ ounces of 86 proof liquor.

Diluting an alcoholic beverage with water or fruit juice slows absorption. Mixing alcohol with a carbonated beverage increased absorption and will intoxicate your more quickly.



A cold shower and coffee will only produce a clean, wide awake drunk. Only your liver can get rid of alcohol. Each drink you consume it takes approximately two hours to sober up.

If you do plan to have a beer while fishing and you're operating the boat, always eat before drinking and limit yourself to one beer every couple of hours.



A law enacted in 1984 makes operating a boat while intoxicated a federal offense, subject to at $1000 fine. Criminal penalties are as high as $5,000. Some states are toughening their boat and booze laws by stiffer penalties and providing more law enforcement.

Jury slashes 1988 budget

By JERRY WISE

Budget cuts totaling $464,212.58 are expected to be ratified by the Cameron Parish Police Jurors at their April 5, regular meeting as they struggle to keep the parish afloat amidst record revenue reductions.

Police Jury President Kenneth Ducote said that jurors have had a number of special meetings in recent weeks to see what could be done to offset the tremendous shortfall of revenue and have come up with the following cuts that now are in effect.

All budgets administered by the Police Jury have been cut 15 percent across the board, for a total of $217,960, with the following budgets cut as follows: General Fund, $74,208; Road and Bridge, $72,645; Courthosue and Jail, $16,451; Criminal Court, $3,505; and Parishwide Garbage, $51,150.

(Special tax districts such as the library, hospital, waterworks, fire protection, etc., are not affected as these districts have their own separate tax revenues.)

All Police Jury employees with families now will have to pay $100 per month of their hospitalization premium and single employees with have to pay $50 per month. This will save $100,000 a year.

The jury hopes to save $90,000 annually by eliminating blanket purchase orders. Individual purchase orders will be required on all items purchased by the jury and only one person in each department will be authorized to sign for the purchase.

Direct telephone lines to Klondike, Hackberry and Lake Charles as well as four local telephone lines were eliminated as of March 9, for a savings of $11,999 a year.

Telephone bills for the District Attorney's office, formerly paid by the jury, will be paid in the future by the District Attorney's office saving the jury $8,726 a year.

All parish vehicles will be parked at work sites and no parish employee will travel to and from work in a parish vehicle or be paid mileage. This will save about $4,150 a year.

Additional cuts of miscellaneous supplies and services have been made immediately including pest control, typewriter and calculator maintenance contracts, radio maintenance contract and the elimination of copy machines, etc. These will total $31,375 a year.

In addition parish road equipment is being "culled" and will be sold including pickups, bulldozers, tractors, etc. This reduction of parish equipment will save the parish money on insurance and maintenance.

Ducote notes that this is just another in a series of the cuts that have been already made. The jury cut its 1987 budget by 42 percent and had already cut the 1988 budget 26 percent prior to now.

However, more cuts probably are still down the line unless additional revenue is found. The parish was facing a $1.5 million deficit this year before the latest cuts and still will be $900,000 short if nothing else is done.

Where did all the money that the jury used have to go?

Ducote said that the parish used to get sizable amounts of federal revenue sharing funds, which are no more. Also the $350,000 in transportation funds that the parish used to get from the state are now down to $100,000.

But the biggest loss has been in the parish's road royalty fund--the 10 percent that the parish receives from oil and gas production on state-owned lands and water bottoms in the parish.

A few years ago the parish received from $350,000 to $400,000 a month in the royalty funds. Today they are down to $100,000 to $105,000 a month, only a third of the former income.

Where is the police jury and the parish headed now? More cuts in services, salaries and possible layoffs? Or will the public be willing to vote a parishwide tax to make up the difference?

Jurors haven't made up their minds yet as to their future course of action, but they probably will have to do so soon.

Ducote said that if the price of oil should rebound from the present $15 or $16 a barrel to $25 a barrel where it was a few years ago, the parish would be back in the black again.

But neither the jury nor anyone else expects this to happen any time soon.

Rep. Roach opens his office here

State Representative Randy Roach, who serves Cameron Parish and the South Lake Charles areas, has announced that Mrs. Myrna Conner is his legislative assistant in Cameron Parish and he has opened an office in Cameron on Asa Street, next to Duhon Refrigeration.

The Cameron telephone number if 542-4687 and the Cameron Parish mailing address is Rt. 2 Box 40-D, Creole, La. 70632.

His Lake Charles office is at 901 Lakeshore Drive, Suite 732 and office hours are 8:30 to 5, Monday thru Saturday.

While the Legislature is in session Rep. Roach may be reached by calling the legislative receptionist at 504-342-6945, the Acadiana delegation at 504-342-0349 or the Rural Caucus at 504-342-0365.

There also is a toll free number of 1-800-737-2474.

ASHFUL AND SHERILL Authement, Cameron fishermen, have started a drive to clean up the waterfront. Here they throw bags of trash into bins they have placed along the waterfront to receive refuse from boats docked there.

Fishermen urge cleanup

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Some local fishermen using the theme, "Throw your plastic in the basket", are using their off-season to carry out a civic project - helping clean up the Cameron waterfront.

Ashful and Sherill Authement, along with their children Ashful, Jr., and Sherill, Jr., and Donald Pugh are constructing sturdy wood and wire covered trash bins and are placing them along the local docks on the waterfront to receive trash.

Since this is an off-season for shrimping they are putting their time to good use to encourage people to bag up their trash and put it in the bins instead of throwing it overboard or along the waterfront.

They have contacted the Cameron Police Jury who has assured that the trash will be picked up twice a week from the bins.

Not acceptable in the bins are cables, lumber and iron, but all household items are welcome, such as bottles, paper, etc.

The trash must be in tied plastic bags.

No benefits available

Representative Randy Roach has been notified by Joseph Guillory, attorney for the Louisiana House of Representives, Committee on Labor and Industrial Relations, that oyster fishermen are not eligible to receive unemployment compensation benefits.

To qualify for unemployment compensation, an individual must work for an employer who makes contributions to the state based on wages paid to their employees. Since the fishermen are self-employed, there are no contributions being made to the state for wages earned. Therefore, these fishermen are not eligible for unemployment compensation benefits.

Oystering may be extended

(From American Press)

A resolution extending the oyster tonging season in Calcasieu Lake was approved Tuesday by the House Committee on Natural Resources.

The resolution is sponsored by Rep. Randy Roach of Lake Charles and co-authored by Reps. Dennis Stine of Sulphur, Vic Stelly of Moss Bluff, James Martin of Welsh and Sen. Jack Doland of Lake Charles.

The oyster tonging season in Calcasieu Lake ended March 15, but health regulations cut the season in half, Roach said.

"Under new health regulations, you can only fish in Big Lake when the river stage in Kinder is 12 feet or more," he said.

This ensures the oysters will be free of pollutants, he said. But it resulted in the 130-day season only being open for 58 days.

"Only 71,000 sacks of oysters were harvested and the Department of Wildlife and Fisheries estimated 300,000 sacks in Big Lake," he said.

This resolution then, changes the opening and closing of the season by two weeks each, to add 30 days.

"This would go into effect upon final passage by the Legislature," Roach said, "thus reopening the season this year and extending it next year."

The resolution was to be debated on the House floor March 23.

Sheriff tells reductions

Sheriff James R. (Sono) Savoie said this week that a big reduction in tax income plus a court ruling is responsible for a reduction in the number of deputies in some parts of Cameron Parish.

The sheriff said there has been no deputies patrolling the Johnson Bayou area in recent weeks because he has had to pull in a deputy from that area to work in Cameron while three other deputies were away attending special schools.

He said these deputies will be back next month and there should be a deputy back on duty at Johnson Bayou then.

In the past, Sheriff Savoie said he was able to take care of such shortages by letting other deputies work overtime to take up the slack. However, a recent court ruling that deputies working overtime must be paid time and a half has made this practice impractical, he stated.

The sheriff also noted that his department will come up with $220,000 in less revenues this year due to a reduction in the law enforcement district tax because of a drop in assessment brought on by the oil and gas crisis.

Players All Dist.

A number of Cameron Parish basketball players earned all district honors, one was the outstanding player and one coach shared coach of the year honors.

In District 8-A, South Cameron's Willie Jackson, center, made the second team, and Walter Jones, guard, was honorable mention.

Named to the District 10-B first team were Charlie Seay and Bryan Beard of Hackberry with Charlie Seay taking outstanding player honors. Lancey Buford and Joey Gray of Hackberry made the second team.

In District 9-C, Dale Jinks, Scott Sandifer and Ricky Harrington, Johnson Bayou, and Larry Broussard and Tim Reon of Grand Lake all made the first team.

Griffith winner

Geneva Griffith, a writer for the Cameron Pilot and Lake Charles American Press, received eight awards at the annual Louisiana Press Women's convention in Alexandria last weekend.

She received second place awards on a feature story in the Pilot, "Mysterious Birds Need Explanation"; news story in the Pilot, "Gulf Eating Away at Cameron's Coastline"; a feature story in the American Press on Benny Welch's alligator farm; a special series in the Press on Hurricane Audrey; and news photo in the Press of the Garland Richard family with a giant alligator.

She also received an honorable mention on a photo essay on the menhaden industry in Cameron Parish.

Bills told

Two notices of intention to introduce bills in the current session of the legislature pertaining to Cameron Parish are to be found in this issue of the Pilot.

One would authorize the Cameron Parish Sheriff to increase expenditures from the Sheriff's salary fund for youth programs.

Another bill would authorize the Cameron Police Jury to create one or more special taxing districts within the parish for the purpose of funding provisions of social and medical services for the needy, handicapped and otherwise disadvantaged residents of the district.

Property listed

A list of property on which parish taxes have not been paid in Cameron Parish is to be found elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot.

This property will be sold at public auction on Wednesday, May 4, to satisfy the tax bills if the taxes are not paid by that date. Interest and advertising costs also will be added to the amount.

Easter hunt

An Easter egg hunt will be held Saturday, April 2, at 10:30 a.m. for ages 0-12 years of age at the Rec-Plex. Everyone wanting to participate is asked to donate one dozen boiled and dyed eggs on Thursday, March 31, delivered to the Rec-Plex.

The Easter Bunny will be there with helium balloons and there will be ice cream cones and prizes for all age divisions.

French dance

A French dance will be held Friday, April 15, at the Cameron Recreation Center, behind the courthouse. Music will be furnished by John LaFossa from Eunice. All proceeds will go towards the building fund of the Front Ridge Community Center.

Book Fair set

A Book Fair will be held at Grand Lake High School March 21-25, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the library, according to Ernesteen Valerie, chairman, who stated:

"Book fairs offer children a wonderful opportunity to select and buy quality books. Children who read and enjoy books at home become better readers. Good readers learn more easily and have more success both in school and in later life."

Walk for Christ

The Sacred Heart Catholic Church is again sponsoring the annual "Walk for Christ" Sunday morning, March 27.

The walk will start at the Creole Knights of Columbus Hall at 7 a.m. and will end at the Sacred Heart Church.

Everyone is invited to participate.

Cake sale set

There will be a benefit cake sale for the Tarpons Thursday, March 31, from 10 a.m. until in front of the Pizza Shoppe in the 7X Square Shopping Center in Creole.

Pie sale set

Apple, lemon, milk, and chocolate pies will be sold. For advance orders call Janice Broussard, 542-4825; Cindy Savoie, 542-4662; Cynthia Conner, 542-4677; or Brenda Boudreaux, 542-4182.

Poison week

The week of March 20-26, is National Poison Prevention Week. South Cameron Memorial Hospital has supplied pamphlets and phone stickers to area elementary schools on poison prevention, emergency phone numbers for poison control center and information on ipecac syrup.

Mascot fund is growing

The Tarpon mascot fund is inching its way forward with additional deposits coming from the sale of Tarpon tie and lapel pins and donations from individuals and organizations. The accounts at the Calcasieu Marine National Bank and the Cameron State Bank now total $1,381.50.

Preliminary negotiations with a Houston firm for a 14 foot, three dimensional fiberglass Tarpon mascot model is $4,500. There is no definite time table, but the mascot could be installed, ready to greet the students in the new school year for 1988 or 1989.

Students from South Cameron are coming up with ideas that provide something in return for donations. South Cameron's eighth grade class, numbering 75, plan car washes and other activities for their contribution.

Winners told in Tarpon Relays

The annual Tarpon Relays went smoothly, despite a wind chill factor that was near freezing. Johnson Bayou and Vinton elected to pass up the competition for fear of possible muscle pulls but others decided to jump in, using good warm-ups as a precaution.

Sowela taking applications

Sowela Technical Institute is currently accepting applications for the Commercial Electricity curriculum.

Instructor Melvin Cox stated that placements for graduates of the claas have been very high. "We have been able to place almost all of our graduates," Cox said. "We recently had a student graduate on Monday and he went to work in Sulphur on Tuesday."

Cox explained that the program is based on a "travel at your own rate" concept. "We have set the time period for completion at 18 months, but I've had some students complete it in six months," he pointed out. Cox added that starting salaries vary but range from six dollars per hour all the way up to $12 and $13 per hour.

Students who wish to register for the course should report to Room 215 at 3820 Legion St., Lake Charles, at 7:45 a.m. any Monday, to file an application for admission to day classes. Students requiring financial assistance may apply for aid from various sources on campus.

Model airshow to be held at Sulphur field

The annual LARKS spring fly-in and airshow will be held Saturday, April 30, and Sunday, May 1. LARKS is the area's Radio Controlled Aircraft flying club. Open flying will take place from 8 a.m. until dusk with the airshow 1 until 3 p.m.

LARKS Flying Field, site of the fly-in and airshow, is located 5.5 miles south on La. 27 and 2.1 miles west on La. 108 in Sulphur.

The show will feature scale and giant scale aircraft, military, vintage, sport and aerobatic models, as well as Broomhilda the flying witch.

In addition there will be aircraft displays, a swap shop and concessions.

LaBove named All-Around at recent rodeo

Carlotta "Tu Tu" LaBove won the All-Around Cowgirl honors at the Hathaway-Welsh rodeo. The South Cameron team also won the team trophy.

Besides winning the all-around title, Tu Tu placed first in the barrel racing, second in the breakaway roping, and third in the girls cutting.

Other contestants from South Cameron placing in the rodeo were Chad Mudd, first in boys cutting, and seventh in steer wrestling; Allen Wainwright, third in calf roping; and Jerry Corley, 8th in steer wrestling.

FBLA parents thanked for aid with food

A letter has been sent to parents of Grand Lake High School FBLA memberts thanking them for the food served to the judges and advisors at the recent FBLA District Conference.

In the letter, Mrs. Connie Buck states:

"Everything was exceptional. The advisors and guests are still talking about all the food.

"Most of all, everyone is still talking about the special parents who so actively support Grand Lake and its FBLA activities."

Chenier club has Jan. meet

The Grand Chenier Home Demonstration meeting was held Jan. 26, in the home of Shirley Bonsall. Hostesses were Shirley Bonsall and Lida Miller.

A white elephant sale was held, profit to go toward the club.

Bass Club tourney

By Loston McEvers

BASS CLUB TOURNAMENT

The Big One opened this past weekend and many can tell you how good the Big Burns was, and how bad it was. Well, with this weather unstable and a new front moving through, fishing can be tough.

Some fine catches were reported, but not as many as expected.

The LeMesche Bass Club held their first outing of the year and this is the way it went:

March 10, pick your partner; April 17, draw; May 15, draw; May 29, husband and wife; June 12, draw; July 10, pick your partner; Aug. 7, draw; Aug. 21, draw.

FRESHWATER CATFISH

Many anglers have been doing good, fishing freshwater catfish. Some are using trot lines, but many are using rod and reel. The upper Mermentau River by Lowery, and also the catfish locks area, Grand Lake, Amoco and Little Pecan Bayou have seen some nice 5 and 6 pound catfish on rod and reel. Most are using shrimp, but some are doing good on cheese and blood bait.

SABINE & LACASSINE REFUGE

Both these areas good, but tough fishing. Not too many limits of bass taken, but some nice bass are being taken. The mosquitoes are bad in Sabine, but if you can bring the spray, just hook up a shiner and you'll catch some nice white perch.

LARGE SPECKLE TROUT

Ben Bridgeman from Slidell, caught an 11 lb. 2 oz. speckle trout, which should have made it the Number 2 spec in the state of Louisiana record books, but he did not weight it on a certified scale, so it is not eligible for the record books.

The firsrt recorded is a 12-6 spec and the Number 2 is a 10-12, so his would have easily made No. 2.

JULY 4th RODEO

The Cameron Parish Fishing Rodeo, held on the July 4th weekend, is beginning to take shape, according to Carl Broussard. He will be getting the group together and find out what onshore activities will take place. As for the fishing end, we will have to check and see if redfish will be legal to catch by July 4. A decision will also have to be made on king mackerel and Spanish mackerel, as these are two more fish which have been on an endangered level.

As this progresses, I'll keep you informed.

THINK ABOUT THIS

I had an article I read in one of my saltwater dealers magazines and thought it interesting enough to pass on.

According to a Colorado State University meteorologist, William M. Gray, we should expect an active Gulf and Atlantic hurricane season for 1988.

He has closely predicted hurricane activity in the past four years. Gray usually makes his predictions in late May, just before the hurricane season begins in June, but he says conditions are shaping up for an active hurricane season this year.

His findings are based on a dissipation of El Nino, a current with above average temperatures in the eastern equatorial Pacific. El Nino and its resulting wind and moisture patterns tend to suppress Atlantic hurricanes. As El Nino weakens, hurricane risk increases.

Last year, Gray predicted four hurricanes and three tropical storms.

The Atlantic and Gulf actually had three hurricanes, and four tropical storms. In his 1987 forecast, it called for 35 days of hurricane or tropical storm activity, and officially recorded there were 36 days.

As you can see, Mr. Gray's predictions were quite accurate.

SHRIMPING

Dates for the opening of shrimp fishing in the state's offshore territorial waters were announced by the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries. This is in the offshore waters south of Zone 3, in the area from the Texas state line to Southwest Pass, near Marsh Island. It will open at 12:01 a.m. Monday, April 4. This was announced by our new Louisiana Department Secretary, Virginia VanSickle.

In the Zone 1 and 2 outside waters, from Southwest Pass, near Marsh Island to the Mississippi state border, shrimping activity will officially begin at 12:01 a.m., Saturday, April 30.

A Commission meeting will be held for the public on proposed dates for the "inshore" shrimp season at 10 a.m. April 28, at the University Center Ballroom on the University of New Orleans campus. The Commission will then set the dates at its formal meeting the next day.

Delcambre is runnerup for All-Around

Andre placed third in steer dogging and second in calf roping.

Other club members who placed were: James Boudreaux, bulls, 2nd; bareback, 6th; Thad Little, saddle bronc, 2nd; and Kenny Kyle, team roping, 4th.

OYSTERING

Our oyster fishermen are hard hit again, and as you read this, I'm sure the tides will again be too high to fish. Our new State Representative Randy Roach has said they would push for a 40 day extension. I sure hope this goes through, as our oyster people sure need more days to try and make up what they have lost.

Cameron flooded

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American Press, March 29, 1929)

BACK WATER FLOODS CAMERON

March 26-The first spring and summer breezes of the Gulf of Mexico this year began during the past week and meeting with the high waters of the Calcasieu River in the Hackberry Island section of Cameron Parish, Monday, backed them up and out over the highway leading south from Sulphur to the Hackberry oil fields. But the depth of the water was not sufficient to stop traffic, according to a report from the office of E. M. Scarborough, superintendent of highways of District No. 5 in Lake Charles Tuesday morning.

From Hackberry Island south to the town of Cameron, parish seat of Cameron Parish, the new grade recently put up for the Gulf Beach highway, Route 104, of the state road system, averages five feet in height, so that when the bridges are put in and the road is opened to traffic, there will be no overflows from tides or south breezes.

For many years there has been a local highway from Sulphur to Hackberry Island. It is a part of Route 104, but up to this time, the state has done nothing on it more than maintenance, except in the marsh section which has been considerably raised with shell and gravel top surfacing from time to time.

This old part of the highway to the Hackerry oil fields is the portion of the Cameron road which was flooded Monday by backwaters out of the Calcasieu Lake and Calcasieu River.

(Abbeville Meridional, March 25, 1911)

LAKESIDE LACONICS

A sprinkle of rain Tuesday evening gives some hope that the long drouth is broken.

Arthur Miller has put in a small crop of oats.

Plowing has been almost entirely discontinued on account of the dryness of the soil. A long slow rain is most badly needed.

The steamship William Kyle from Franklin made a trip to Mermentau for a load of fuel, after which she continued her trip to Orange, Tex.

The birds are very destructive to the early crops that have been planted. They pull up the newly sprouted shoot to get at the seed. They cleaned up an entire planting of sorghum for Mr. Albert Miller.

The water is very low and crabs are plentiful in the river and lake.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

The Grand Chenier school, grades kindergarten through the sixth grade, will have their Easter egg hunt at school Friday, March 25, at 2 p.m. Preschool will have their egg hunt at 1:30 p.m.

Individual parties will follow the egg hunt. Prizes of Easter rabbits were given again this year by Ray Nunez and Elora Montie, who have been donating the prizes for the past 25 years.

SPRING

Sunday, March 20, marked the first day of spring. It was beautiful and cool, 68 degrees.

Folks are working up their gardens for planting. Some have potatoes up and growing.

The cattlemen have begun their spring roundups and are preparing for vaccinating and branding and moving cattle to different ranges.

MONTIE REUNION

The first Montie family reunion was held in Sulphur Aug. 9, 1987 when some 189 descendants were found to be tracing the Montie family tree. We found many variations of name spelling which included Monta, Montet, Monte, Montette, Monty and Monter.

Our families came from France and England in 1785 on a ship which settled in Louisiana.

Our second family reunion will take place Sunday, April 24, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the multi-purpose building, behind the Cameron courthouse.

Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish, your own drinks, ice chest and lawn chairs.

Entertainment will be a French band, The Sauce Piquant Lake Charles Playboys. Gumbo Gator will make an appearance at 2 p.m.

Prizes will be awarded to the oldest person, the oldest married couple, the youngest married couple, the youngest boy and girl and the person who traveled the most distance.

Donations will be collected for some of the expenses.

There is a pay phone, 775-7280, for the convenience of the attendants.

— NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC —

Lead in our environment is a public health issue about which we should all be concerned. Lead is a soft metal which is now known to be harmful to human health if consumed or inhaled. Since lead accumulates in the body, its potential for harm depends upon the level of exposure from all sources.

There are three potential sources for lead to accumulate in the body. The major source is from food, and lead is also inhaled from the air. The other potential source of lead is from your drinking water.

To protect the public's health, public drinking water supplies are governed by the Safe Drinking Water Act under which the United States Environmental Protection Agency sets drinking water standards.

Although there is a high level of compliance with drinking water standards throughout the United States, there is still reason for some concern about certain contaminants which may get into public drinking water supplies, including lead.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:
*If your home or water system has lead pipes, or
*If our home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
*If the home is less than five years old, or
*If you have soft or acidic water, or
*If water sits in the pipes for several hours.

Typically, if lead is present in the drinking water, it enters after the water leaves the local water treatment plant. The most likely source for lead contamination is in the home or residence. The most common cause of lead entering drinking water is corrosion, a reaction between the water and the lead pipes or the lead-based solder.

When water stands in the pipes of a residence for several hours without use, there is a potential for lead to leach, or dissolve, into the water if the lead source is present.

Soft water (water that makes soap suds easily) can be more corrosive and, therefore, has higher levels of dissolved lead. Some home water treatment devices may also make water more corrosive.

It was common practice in the United States through the early 1900's to use lead pipes for interior plumbing. Since the 1930's, copper pipe has been used for residential plumbing. Until 1986, however, lead-based solder was used widely to join copper pipes. Lead-free solder and lead-free materials are now required by federal law for use in new household plumbing and for plumbing repairs. To find out if the plumbing in a residence contains lead, try scratching the pipe with a key or screwdriver. Lead is a soft metal and is dull gray in color. If lead pipes are present they will scratch easily and will be shiny when scratched.

Dissolved lead cannot be seen in water. Testing by a state-approved laboratory is the only way to determine is drinking water has high levels of dissolved lead. Contact the local health department for the name of an approved laboratory. The lab will provide the correct procedures to be followed for a water test.

If the drinking water is determined to have high levels of dissolved lead, or if there is an abiding suspicion of lead contamination because of the presence of soft water, lead pipes, lead solder, and other lead-based plumbing materials, there are ways to minimize exposure.

One way to "flush" each cold-water faucet in a home when water stands more than a few hours. Flushing a cold water faucet means allowing the water to run until it gets as cold as it will get before each use. Normally this may take two or three minutes. Keep in mind that toilet and shower use or doing laundry with cold water will also move water through the plumbing system, and this will reduce the amount of time needed to flush the cold water faucets to five to 30 seconds.

Another way is one of avoidance: do not cook with or consume water from the hot water faucet. Hot water dissolves lead more quickly than cold water. Especially avoid using hot tap water for making baby formula. If hot water is needed for cooking or oral consumption, draw water from the cold water tap and heat it on the stove or in the microwave.

If plumbing repairs or other plumbing work is done, make certain that only lead-free solder and other lead-free materials are used. This is now a federal law.

There are other actions which can be taken by household users to reduce the risk of lead in drinking water. For additional information, please contact the local state health department, or the U.S. EPA. The U. S. EPA has a toll-free hotline dedicated to this subject -- 1-800-426-4791 -- and has also prepared a booklet on this issue.

This information has been approved by the U.S. EPA and meets EPS's lead public notice requirements under Section 1417 of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1986.

Longhorn cattle sale planned at meeting

Plans were made for the upcoming Cajun Longhorn Classic sale at Burton Coliseum, Saturday, May 7. 72 lots will be offered and will include cows, bulls and steers. These animals can be viewed Friday afternoon, May 6.

Beginning at 3 p.m., May 6, is the first annual world qualifying show, featuring seven female classes which will be shown loose in the arena and three bull classes shown at halter. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hoff and Mr. and Mrs. Kaso Kety are in charge of this new event.

The pre-sale party committee, Norma Blake, Roberta Broussard, Connie LeBlanc and Gail Juranka, discussed the arrangements for the pre-sale party Friday evening at the Chateau Charles Hotel, headquarters for the Longhorn breeders. Music will be provided by Jerry Wayne and the Teardrops, featuring Barro on the accordian.

Out of town members attending were: Tommy and Laura Frye, Natchitoches; Gary and Coleen Dunn, Boyce; Reimer and Marcia Calhoun, Mansfield; Larry and Sandra Taylor, Lufkin, Tex.; Wayne Dubose and Norman Hoff, Jasper, Tex.

The Blakes, along with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie LeBlanc and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Juranka hosted a hamburger lunch.

Holy Week services

The following Holy Week services for the Catholic churches have been announced for lower Cameron Parish.

Msgr. M. J. Bernard, pastor of Sacred Heart Church and St. Rose Chapel announce that Monday through Friday services at the Church will be held at 6 p.m., with confessions to be held one half hour before the masses.

Holy Saturday and Easter Vigil Masses will be at 7 p.m.

Easter Sunday Mass at Sacred Heart is at 8:30 a.m. and St. Rose at 10:30 a.m.

Msgr. Curtis Vidrine, pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Church announced that services will be held from Monday through Friday at 6:30 p.m., with confessions before the masses.

The Holy Saturday Easter Vigil Mass will be held at 7 p.m. and Easter Sunday Masses will be 8 and 10 a.m.

Father Robert Shreve announces that St. Eugene Church at Grand Chenier will hold Triduum Services and mass each night Monday through Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Holy Thursday and Good Friday masses will be at 6 p.m.

Easter Vigil Mass will be at 7 p.m. and Easter Sunday Mass at 8 a.m.

MRS. GARBER'S first grade class of Johnson Bayou school made and sold brownies to raise money for the Louisiana Heart Association. The project was the result of a chapter in Social Studies on raising money for a worthy cause. The class was able to donate $51.35.

Beef is topic of Creole Homemakers meeting

The March meeting of the Creole Extension Homemakers Club was held in the home of Mrs. Earline Bacigalopi. A talk on beef was given by assistant home economist, Nancy Cronan since March is "Beef Month."

Cronan's talk was divided into two parts: "The Nutritive Value of Beef" and "Preparing Beef". She listed the many and valuable nutrients found in beef, while at the same time, pointing out that today's beef is leaner and lower in calories than ever and has less cholesterol. She also detailed the many methods that can be used to prepare beef.

Members finalized plans for Teacher Appreciaton Week, March 14-18, when the club will honor the staffs of both South Cameron Elementary and High Schools March 16. They will serve home-made cookies and coffee.

Volunteering to serve were Mrs. Mayola Wicke, Mrs. Dean Morris, Mrs. Estelle Theriot, Mrs. Ina Wicke, and Mrs. Wayne Montie.

Plans for the annual April Cancer Crusade, sponsored by the club in the Creole area, will be finalized at the April meeting.

Cronan announced that the annual meeting of the Lousiana Extension Homemakers will be held April 25-28, at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in New Orleans.

Assisting Mrs. Baccigalopi with hostess duties was Mrs. Winnie Mouton.

MUSING. . . By Bernice Denny

Another Easter season is approaching. Our remembrance of past ones, I dare say, are as varied as our personalities.

For some of us the beautiful religious services meant the most. For others it was the holiday itself that transported them to a reunion with family and friends. For the weary it was a period of rest; for the ill and discouraged, a season of hope; for the bereaved, comfort in the resurrection.

Paramount in the children's memories are probably the Easter egg hunts or the new Easter outfits. Finding the prize egg is about as important to a youngster as winning a sweepstakes would be to an adult -- and just about as rare percentage-wise.

I pause here to offer thanks to the inventor of the plastic Easter egg. It is a year-round commendable toy that teaches coordiantion to tots as they take it apart and put it together again. Into it they cram the most inconceivable items.

There is a group, also, to whom I express gratitude, to whom my praises flow year in and year out. They are the school room mothers. They have never received due recognition on any printed page. They are rarely appreciated except by thankful teachers and the youngsters for whom they provide joyful experiences.

I have been retired many years, but I still recall the long line of faithful room mothers who served my classes. They planned well and executed perfectly. Each year they would insist that I "sit and relax while they took care of everything." And that is exactly what they always did!

As I glanced back to the opening paragraphs of this column, I realize that all the memories mentioned come crowding back. And I see that one personality can be varied indeed!

Recipes available

Three new recipe brochures have been prepared by the Rice Council for Market Development and are available for the asking.

"Winning Ways With Rice" features seven of the recipes that won the Rice Council's "Winning Ways With Rice" contest. The recipes come from the top chefs and restaurateurs from across the country.

"Steve Garvey's All-Star Rice Recipes" contains the favorite rice dishes of baseball star Steve Garvey. The former second baseman for the San Diego Padres is the Rice Council's celebrity spokesman this year. Garvey, an accomplished cook, said he has "prepared and enjoyed rice for as long as I can remember."

All recipes were tested in the Rice Council's kitchen. For copies of these brochures, send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to the Rice Council, Dept. J., P.O. Box 740121, Houston, Tex. 77274.

MR. AND MRS. Doris A. Hebert of Abbeville announce the enggement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Becky Ann, to Phillip James Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Perry Sr., also of Abbeville. The wedding is set for Saturday, April 9, at 2 p.m. at the Maurice home of the groom's parents. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. Allie Nunez and the late Archie Nunez, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Adrien (Chump) Hebert, all of Cameron.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF LOUISIANA, OFFICE OF CONSERVATION, BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA.

In accordance with the laws of the State of Louisiana, and with particular reference to the provisions of Title 30 of Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, a public hearing will be held in the Conservation Auditorium, 1st Floor, State Land & Natural Resources Building, 625 North 4th Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at 9:00 a.m., on Tuesday, April 19, 1988, upon the application of SHELL WESTERN E&P INC.

At such hearing the Commissioner of Conservation will consider evidence relative to the issuance of an Order pertaining to the following matters relating to the A3 Sand, Reservoir A, in the Black Bayou Field, Cameron, Parish, Louisiana:

1. To create a single reservoirwide unit for the production of oil and gas comprised of the entire A3 Sand, Reservoir A.

2. To authorize and approve reservoirwide operation of the proposed unit, and to establish a reservoir or unit allowable therefore.

3. To designate Shell Western E&P Inc. as operator of the reservoirwide unit and program so authorized.

4. To obtain exceptions to the provisions of Statewide Orders Nos. 29-E and 45-I.

5. To consider such other matters as may be pertinent.

The A3 Sand, Reservoir A, in the Black Bayou Field, is defined as that oil and gas bearing sand encountered between the electric log depths of 3,500' and 3,606' in J. B. Watkins (Amoco) No. 259 ST Well, located in Section 7, Township 12 South, Range 12 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana.

A plat is available for inspection in the Office of Conservation in Baton Rouge and Lafayette, Louisiana.

LEGAL NOTICE
STATE OF LOUISIANA, OFFICE OF CONSERVATION, BATON ROUGE, LOUISIANA.

In accordance with the laws of the State of Louisiana, and with particular reference to the provisions of Title 30 of Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950, a public hearing will be held in the Conservation Auditorium, 1st Floor, State Land & Natural Resources Building, 625 North 4th Street, Baton Rouge, Louisiana, at 9:00 a.m., on Tuesday, April 19, 1988, upon the application of SHELL WESTERN E&P INC.

At such hearing the Commissioner of Conservation will consider evidence relative to the issuance of an Order pertaining to the following matters relating to the B2 Sand, Reservoir A, in the Black Bayou Field, Cameron, Parish, Louisiana:

1. To create a single reservoirwide unit for the production of oil and gas comprised of the entire B2 Sand, Reservoir A.

2. To authorize and approve reservoirwide operation of the proposed unit, and to establish a reservoir or unit allowable therefore.

3. To designate Shell Western E&P Inc. as operator of the reservoirwide unit and program so authorized.

4. To obtain exceptions to the provisions of Statewide Orders Nos. 29-E and 45-I.

5. To consider such other matters as may be pertinent.

The B2 Sand, Reservoir A, in the Black Bayou Field, is defined as that oil and gas bearing sand encountered between the electric log depths of 3,497' and 3,826' in J. B. Watkins (Amoco) No. 258 ST Well, located in Section 17, Township 12 South, Range 12 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana.

A plat is available for inspection in the Office of Conservation in Baton Rouge and Lafayette, Louisiana.

All parties having interest therein shall take notice thereof.

Coastal Concern

The monthly meeting of the Coastal Concern organization will be held Thursday, March 31, at 7 p.m. in the Police Jury Annex.

The public is invited to attend.

JOHN BOUDREAUX, Creole, showed the champion Angus heifer at the 1988 LSU Junior Livestock Show in Baton Rouge. Creole Miss Power Girl Pride was also named the champion Louisiana-bred heifer by judge Dr. Jim Newsome.

Zapata Haynie will launch two new boats

United States Senator John B. Breaux will be the keynote speaker at the christening of two menhaden fishing vessels in Houma Saturday, March 26, Charles W. Beck, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Zapata Haynie Corporation, announced.

The christening will begin at 1 p.m. at Quality Shipyards. Mrs. Lois Breaux will serve as sponsor of the Grand Isle and Mrs. Norma Beck will sponsor the Gulf Shore.

Also joining Senator John Breaux at the ceremony will be Congressman Billy Tauzin and John A. Gaughan, Administrator of the U. S. Maritime Administration. Some 300 Zapata Haynie employees from across Louisiana will be in attendance.

"A simultaneous two-boat christening is very unusual," Beck said. "We decided to do it because we wanted to celebrate in a unique way the addition of the Grand Isle and the Gulf Shore to the Zapata Haynie fleet at the start of the 1988 fishing season."

The Grand Isle and the Gulf Shore are two of four additions to Zapata Haynie's fleet of 57 fishing vessels and 36 spotter aircraft that serve five menhaden processing plants in Abbeville, Cameron and DuLac, La.; Moss Point, Miss.; and Reedville, Va. The Grand Isle will join the fleet at the Abbeville plant and the Gulf Shore will be based at Cameron.

The two vessels, along with the Tiger Shoal and Chesapeake Bay, have been converted from oilfield service vessels to replace outmoded equipment in the Zapata Haynie fleet.

"We found that we could convert surplus oilfield service vessels to fishing boats at a fraction of the cost of new building," Beck said. "Both industries benefit in the process because we are helping reduce an oversupply in one while bringing new equipment into another."

Each of the steel-hulled vessels is 166 feet long, has a 38-foot beam, and a 13-foot depth with a 10-foot draft. Each is powered by two Caterpillar D-398 engines, generating a total of 1,700 horsepower. The refrigerated vessels have individual capacities for 500 tons of fish and can reach speeds of 12.5 knots.

Based in Hammond, Zapata Haynie Corporation conducts commercial menhaden fishing and processing operations which produce fish meal, used for livestock feed, and edible oil, which is exported to Europe for use in margarine and as a cooking oil.

Mr. Conner rites held

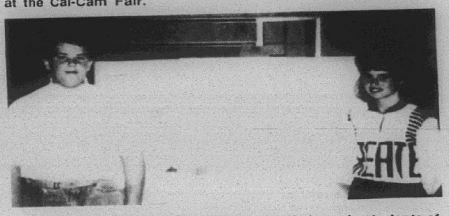
Funeral services for Lee John Conner, 66, of Creole, were held Monday, March 21, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Creole.

The Rev. M. J. Bernard officiated, burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery under direction of Hixson Funeral Home of Creole.

Mr. Conner died Saturday, March 19, in a Lake Charles hospital.

An Army veteran of World War II, he was a retired employee of the Department of Transportation and worked for four years with Crain Brothers. He was a member of American Legion Post 176 of Creole and Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Flora Mae Conner of Creole; three daughters, Mrs. Mary Dolinsky of Dickinson, Tex., Mrs. Annie Coleman of Creole and Mrs. Carol Swanner of Corpus Christi, Tex.; three sons, Bobby Conner of Lake Charles, David Conner of Sioux City, Iowa, and Dale Conner of Creole, and 10 grandchildren.



KRIS RUTHERFORD, senior South Cameron High School basketball player, has been selected, according to her coach Wayne Johnson, to play in the L.H.A.A. East-West All Star Basketball Game Thursday, July 28. All Stars are selected from graduating seniors.

Voting Sat.

Democratic voters will return to the polls on Saturday, March 26 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., as they select congressional district delegates for the Democratic National Convention.

The polling place for District 36 will be at the Cameron Parish Police Jury building.

LEONARD HARPER and Mika Savole, sixth grade students of Mrs. Elizabeth Brasseaux at South Cameron Elementary, are shown displaying their Social Studies Fair project. They placed first at the Regional Fair and will take their project to the State Fair in Baton Rouge April 11.

Cameron Pilot

31st Year--No. 39 Cameron, La. 70631 March 31, 1988

TUNIE FAULK and Kevin Savoie were chosen Queen and King of the annual Sweetheart Dance held at South Cameron High School.

DUTCH CYCLIST Rudolph Bonting, center, is shown with Louetta and Boyd Allen Nunez of Oak Grove who were his hosts when he recently bicycled through Cameron parish on a tour of the United States.

Dutch teacher bikes through

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Boyd Allen Nunez was mowing his yard late Saturday afternoon when a young man on a bicycle stopped on the road and politely asked Nunez if he could pitch his tent in Nunez's yard for the night.

Nunez, who serves as Port Captain for the Cameron ferries, gave the young man permission and then learned that he was playing host to a very interesting personality.

Rudolph (Ruud) Bonting is a Dutch school teacher from Muliasnastraat, Stadskanaal, Holland, who is making a nine month tour of the United States on his bicycle. He landed in Boston in July, 1987, and will end his tour back in Boston in May.

The 24-year-old bicyclist is a teacher of history and geography and has taken a year of sabbatical leave to make this trip to learn more about the United States.

To finance his trip, Ruud saved his money from his year's stint in the armed services of his country. This one year is a requirement of all Dutch men when they finish school, he said.

He speaks English, French, German and Dutch fluently because the foreign languages are required in the school curriculum in Holland.

Bonting left Boston, traveled across the northern part of the country to the west coast, then came across the southern part of the country, always traveling back roads, never the interstates and major arteries, and has come 9,000 miles thus far.

He pitches his tent each night in yards of people he meets along the way and sets up housekeeping in around three minutes. He carries two packs on the front of his bike and two on the back.

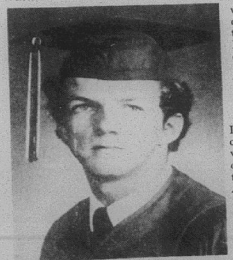
In the packs he carries a portable stove, a pot, two changes of clothes, a windbreaker, tools, extra tires, and his tent.

He has already gone through six tires on his trip, but has had no major breakdowns. When asked about his impressions of people across the United states, he said he has found them to be very friendly.

He has not encountered any unfavorable incidents along the way, but adds that he is very careful and avoids going into places, such as bars, where he might encounter problems.

Since Holland is such a flat country, and so close to the sea, he said he has been particularly impressed with the mountains he has crossed.

He keeps a daily diary on his trip and expects to take his same bike he has been on all the way back with him, along with the impressions he has of all of the friendly people he has met along the way.



Students win

Ben Carpenter of Hackberry won top honors in the elementary division of the Region 5 Science and Engineering Fair held at the Burton Coliseum recently. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Carpenter and attends the fifth grade at Hackberry School. Ben received a trophy for an outstanding project out of 104 projects, and received the Iglinsky Entomology Award.

In the senior division Cecilia Walther received first place in biochemistry along with Leroy Simon who received second in chemistry, and Mike Wright, first place in environmental science. All three students attend Hackberry High School.

Receiving awards during special ceremonies were Cecilia Walther, American Chemical Society Award, U. S. Army Physical Science Award and U. S. Navy, first. Sherry Kibodeaux received the RESTORE (Environmental) Award.

The first, second and third place winners in the junior and senior divisions are eligible to compete in the LSU Science and Engineering Fair to be held Friday and Saturday, April 8-9.

PICTURED ABOVE is Joe Nunez, first place winner in computer applications for business from Sowela Technical Institute in a Phi Beta Lambda State Leadership Conference in Lafayette. He will now participate in National in Cincinnati, Ohio. He is the son of John V. and Evelyn Nunez.

Program set

The Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department, in cooperation with other agencies and organizations, will sponsor the second of a series of Substance Abuse programs at the Creole Fire Station, Tuesday, April 5, at 7 p.m.

The presentations will eventually cover all areas of the parish.

The program's purpose is to inform the public as to the extent of drug and alcohol abuse in Cameron Parish and what different agencies are doing in the fight against drug abuse.

A panel, representing law enforcement, education, supportive organizations, medical, treatment and prevention, will provide information in their respective areas.

Questions from the audience will be taken.

Parents are urged to attend.

Doland reports on the Legislature

By SENATOR JACK DOLAND

The first five days in the State Senate found an unprecedented harmony within the body to give Governor Roemer the power to do what is necessary to save Louisiana from total bankruptcy. The key vote to borrow $1.3 billion and dedicate 1¢ of the present sales tax to pay it off over 10 years was 30 to 7. The legislature will have to agree to the sales tax provision in regular session for it to go into effect.

The right to close agencies, reduce by 20% any agency, lay off employees, close entire agencies, hold back the pay-off of employees and agencies passed by more than thirty votes each time. This shows a strong consensus and only because all know the alternative is complete collapse of state government.

Here is an analogy of the problem: You are Louisiana; you make $30,000 per year and have a home, small savings account and some other assets. For several years due to many factors, you have not made it on the $30,000. You sold some land, used up your savings account, and spent all your assets to make each year work out. This year you are going to be out of money and out of assets on May 1st and have two months to go. Banks won't loan you money any more or only at exorbitant rates so you are finally going to have to live within your means. That is where Louisiana is today. We have drained every special fund ($720,000,000) and are spending over $3000,000,000 more than we make.

Governor Roemer has been authorized by the legislature to do the only thing possible - cut spending until we can make it on our own income and borrow long term to start paying back the many areas we have raided in order to make ends meet. As Senator Maury Chabert (a long time Edwards supporter) said, "he has a plan for Louisiana and even though it hurts, no one has an alternative."

I voted for all of the proposals of the governor because the alternative was to close down state operations. We had no better choice. This state has lived beyond its means for about 6 years. We will meet again in April and if Governor Roemer has not used his unprecedented power properly, we can change it.

There will be closures, layoffs, delay in payments, and whatever is necessary to stave off total collapse. The next two or three weeks will let us know if it has been done fairly. I have confidence in Governor Roemer and believe he will make decisions in the best interest of Louisiana. If he is unfair to any area, I believe the representatives and senators will overrule him. We all know what fair play is.

Season extended

Paul Coreil, Fisheries and Wildlife agent for Cameron and Calcasieu parishes expressed concern about erroneous information that has been put out by the Associated Press concerning the local oyster season.

The original date for the closure of the oyster season was March 29, 1988, but through a resolution put through the special session of the legislature by Sen. Doland and Rep. Roach, the season was extended 32 days or until April 30.

The season is open when Calcasieu River is 12 feet or lower at Kinder. An erroneous news release stated that oystering would be allowed when the river stage is 12 feet or higher.

Coreil said this information should clear up some problems that the oyster fishermen have been having on the correct times they can oyster.

Revival to be held

The Ebenezer Baptist Church of Cameron, will hold its annual Spring Revival Monday, April 4, through Friday, April 8. A lecture will be given each night at 6 p.m. by Rev. Willie Stevens, pastor of Straightway Baptist Church, Moss Bluff. The worship service will be at 7 p.m. nightly.

Rev. Louis Griffin III, pastor of Friendship Baptist Church and Mt. Pilgrim Baptist Church, Baton Rouge, will be the evangelist for the week. Rev. Samuel C. Tolbert, Jr. is pastor of Ebenezer.

Scholarship to be given by teachers

Cameron Association of Educators is accepting scholarship applications for the fall semester.

To be eligible a person must be a junior or senior in the field of education, have a 2.5 average and be a resident of Cameron Parish. Each applicant should also submit a biographical sketch.

Deadline for applying is April 15.

Ogea graduates

Graduation exercises of the Calcasieu Parish Regional Law Enforcement Training Academy were held Friday, March 25. Thirty officers from twelve area agencies received over 280 hours instruction in all phases of basic law enforcement.

Donald Ogea of the Cameron Sheriff's Department was among the graduates.

Aging meet set

The Cameron Council Aging Board of Directors will meet on April 4, and 8, at the Cameron Senior Center at 9:30 a.m. each morning.

All board members are urged to attend. Bids for services for the upcoming year will be opened.

This meeting as all other Council on Aging meetings are open to the public.

Cake sale set

The Cameron Youth Council will sponsor an Easter Cake Sale Saturday, April 2, from 9 a.m. until, in front of the Cameron Post Office.

Inquiry made

Anyone interested in forming a volunteer or auxiliary organization for South Cameron Memorial Hospital is invited to contact Director of Nursing C. Fontenot at 542-2411.

Special meet

The Cameron Parish School Board will have a special meeting at 5 p.m., Wednesday, April 6, to consider action on medical insurance for employees.

Voter list published

Elsewhere in this issue of the Pilot is a legal notice from the Cameron Parish Registrar of Voters, Ruby Kelley, listing parish voters whose registrations are subject to cancellation for not living at the address from which they are registered as indicated by mail returned by the post office.

These voters have until April 15, to come to the Registrar's office in Cameron to show why their names should not be cancelled.

State law requires the Registrar to make periodic checks on the residences of voters.

Conner is on the job

People in Creole area got a surprise Friday morning when they saw Police Juror Ray Conner going around in his pickup truck picking up the garbage.

It was not because the garbage men had been laid off because of the parish's economic crunch. It was because the juror was helpful when a need arose.

The garbage pickup dates had been changed from Monday, Wednesdays and Fridays to Monday and Thursday in the area and was advertised in the paper.

Evidently some people failed to see it and had set their gabage out to be picked up on Friday. When the garbage truck failed to show up they began calling Conner because dogs in the area were attacking the garbage bags.

To oblige the people, Conner got in his truck and picked it up himself.

Reward told in theft

Cameron Parish Crime Stoppers are offering cash rewards up to $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and prosecution of person or persons responsible for the theft of a 1986 Mercury outboard motor, 25 HP, Serial #OA717419.

John Paul Crain, owner, reported that the theft occurred on Jan. 29 or 30. The motor was removed from a flat-bottom boat located at the Exxon Deep Bayou Shell Road, Johnson Bayou.

Anyone having information or knowledge of the theft should call Cameron Parish Crime Stoppers at 775-7867.

The caller does not have to give his or her name, a code number will be assigned.

WHAT A BABY! This calf weighed 146 pounds when born to a cow on the Mervin Chesson farm at Sweetlake last week. The mother is a Guernsey and the father is a Brahman.

Jobless rate about same

The Cameron Parish unemployment rate dropped 1/10th of a percent (13.4 to 13.3) from January to February, according to the La. Dept. of Labor.

The report shows there were 575 persons unemployed in February as compared to 3,725 employed during January, an increase of 50 unemployed persons in a month's time.

This compared with a 12.1 percent jobless rate for the state in February, down from 12.2 in January.

The parish ranked 13th in the state having the lowest unemployment.

The report shows that unemployment benefits paid Cameron parish residents during February totaled $67,540.

Officials to be here Tues.

Congressman Jimmy Hayes and State Representative Randy Roach will be at the Cameron Community Center behind the courthouse at 2 p.m., Tuesday, April 5, to meet with local fishermen and the general public.

They will discuss proposed national and state legislation that will affect fishermen.

Extension Agent Paul Coreil and Legislative Assistant Myrna Conner also will be at the meeting.

Roach to be in his office

State Representative Randy Roach will be in Cameron Tuesday, April 5, and will attend the Cameron Parish Police Jury meeting starting at 10 a.m.

Following the meeting he will be in his Cameron office next to Duhon Refrigeration until 2 p.m. and he invites anyone who wishes to talk to him or discuss legislative matters to contact him there.

Easter service

The annual Easter Sunrise service at the Grand Chenier Park will be held at 7 a.m. on Easter Sunday.

The sponsoring churches are the Grand Chenier Baptist, Oak Grove Baptist and Grand Chenier United Methodist Churches.

Rev. Kenneth Fuselier, pastor of the Oak Grove Baptist Church, will preach the sermon.

Meeting slated

The monthly meeting of the Coastal Concern organization will be held Thursday, March 31, at 7 p.m. in the Poice Jury Annex.

The public is invited to attend.

LAKESIDE LACONICS

Well we have had quite a cool spell of weather, a drop of 40 degrees in 24 hours. It has not reached frost point as yet and it is to be hoped that it won't. Our gardens will surely be a sorry sight if a freeze should spread over the land.

Mr. Adolph Miller, a much respected and well-known citizen, died Feb. 19. He was born over 67 years ago in the neighborhood of Opelousas and is well-known in that section. For some years he lived at Iota and later at Klondike and Lakeside. His wife passed on about a year ago and a son but a few months past. Nine children of a family of twelve remain to mourn his loss and their loss is also the loss of the community.

He was a good man, a good friend and a good neighbor. Although at Lakeside but a year, he was loved and respected by the entire community and his kind presence will be sadly missed. He was a veteran of the Southern Army, serving through the entire war. May the Comforter of all sorrow be the helper of the bereaved family. He was interred at Shell Beach.

Alcie Broussard met with quite an accident. While running some cattle, his pony passed too close to a post striking Mr. Broussard severely on the leg.

Lakeside may be a booming town in a few years if the tale of prospectors is to be believed.

CAMERON CATTLE ROUND-UP

With the coming of spring the stock owners of Grand Chenier are beginning to round up their cattle and other stock, branding them, and preparing them for the market. The Theriot Company during the past week rounded up about 300 head of horses and many cattle.

The cattle are improving very rapidly over the severe winter conditions which prevailed in the Cameron marshes. The high water is fast receding and, with the help of spring weather, the grass is coming out just in time to prevent a great loss of stock.

A. R. McBurney, cattle man of Welsh, was in this section sometime ago and made arrangements for a large sale of cattle during the coming few days. He reported that the condition of the stock was in general very much worse than last year.

The Theriot Company also has about 300 head of pigs to mark this spring. Only a small number, however, have actually been rounded up.

SERIES OF SMALL ROBBERIES

Sunday night some unknown character made several petty attempts to rob several stores of lower Cameron Parish. Though he was unsuccesful in getting away with any large amount of loot, he left no trace of his identity.

Sam LeBoeuf of Cameron was the first victim of the thief. Upon going to his store Monday morning, he found that his cash drawer had been robbed, but fortunately for him he had left less than a dollar in the drawer. There was not any other evidence of a loss, but an ax was found in the store, which no cause could be found for its being there. U. Boudwin on the same night lost two sacks of oats. Peter Boudwin, of Creole, barely escaped having his store looted. Just as an automobile drove up to his store, late in the night, Boudwin flashed a light on the car, but being at a distance from the suspected thieves he was not able to recognize them. The men drove away as rapidly as possible.

SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. Ricks, the principal, is drilling his pupils in a play that will be presented Saturday night in connection with a box supper that will be held for the benefit of the piano fund of Grand Chenier High School. The title of the comedy is "The First Day of School".

Miss Madden, teacher of the third and fourth grades, entertained the assembly Wednesday morning with a play that was well rendered by all characters and the whole audience was kept in merriment. In the play were: Frank Theriot, Recia Vincent, Everett Sweeney, Bernice Vincent, Lynn McCall, and Vergie Bonsall.

Miss Porta, teacher of the seventh grade, will have charge of the program Wednesday morning.

Eugene Theriot, a seventh grade pupil of Grand Chenier, was the lucky boy to get the last place open to Cameron Parish boys in the C. M. T. C. He and Morris East, a ninth grade pupil, will leave for Fort Barrances, Florida, sometime about the 13th of June.

After another week has passed, there are brighter hopes for a track team at Grand Chenier High School. The broad jumpers, shot putters, dashers, and the relay team are the especially bright lights on the team.

Ethelwyn Powell, ninth grade pupil, who has been absent for two weeks due to illness returned to school Monday.

H. O. Lestage, high school teacher, is planning a minstrel show to be given before the close of school. The entire cast will be of boys.

On boat batteries

By Loston McEvers

BOAT BATTERIES VERSUS CAR BATTERIES

I'll try to explain the difference between a car battery and a boat battery. As a parts dealer, I get people who want the cheapest and you can't blame them. However, a car battery will not do the job that a marine battery made especially for boats will do.

The difference is in the construction of the plates. The plates in a marine battery are constructed by using high density oxides for deep cycle service. This allows the battery to be discharged and recharged over and over, without damage to the plates. You cannot do this with a car battery.

In most marine uses, such as trolling motors use and others, you don't have an alternator to keep up with the usage of the battery. To receive the longest possible life from your marine battery, keep it fully charged between uses. Charge it right after use.

A battery will be harmed if you leave it in an uncharged state. During the winter months, if you're not using your marine battery, charge it every 60 days and it will be in good shape when spring time comes around.

FRESHWATER FISHING

Bass fishing is fair in some areas but rather slow in others. Some large bass have come out of the Big Burns this past week. I know of 5 bass over five pounds taken this past week.

The hottest bait is a spinner, chartreuse in color with a silver spinner. Also if you're fishing and working the banks of the canals, a 6 or 8 inch worm will do the trick. Chose your favorite color and use an 1/8 bullet slip sinker.

What I believe right now is we still have cool weather, cold fronts moving through and the water is a little high, so bass fishing will be slow, until these conditions improve. The water is still somewhat cold.

TRIO MAKES TEXAS TRIP

Phillip caught a 6 lb. 1 oz. bass and they all caught 5 pounders or better. They fished three days and on the first day four anglers, including the trio, had 20 bass go 71 pounds, and that my friends is a little better than a 3½ pound average. Phillip and Barry had 10 bass go 41 pounds and that's a little better than a 4 pound average.

Phillip told me in the three days, they caught and released over 200 nice bass. Like he said, this was a trip to remember, and by the pictured I have seen, I don't think anyone could forget a trip like that.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB

The Lemesche Bass Club will hold their regular meeting Monday night, April 4, at 7 p.m. at the W.O.W. hall in Creole. A supper will be served. All members are urged to attend, if you want to fish in the next club tournament, which will be held Sunday, April 17, you have to have your name turned in by this meeting. Drawing of names will take place that night.

FEEDING PERIODS

Friday, April 1, good, 4:10 p.m.; better, 10 a.m.

Saturday, April 2, good, 4:35 a.m. and 4:45 p.m.; better, 10:35 a.m.

Sunday, April 3, good, 6:10 a.m. and 6:30 p.m.; better, 12:20 a.m.

STORIES OF INTEREST

A new redeye bass state record was set in North Carolina. A 2 pound 12 ounce specimen -it broke the old record by more than 12 ounces. This bass is similar to the smallmouth bass and does not grow nearly as large.

In Arkansas's White River, below Bull Shoals Lake, a brown trout was caught, weighing in at 20 pounds 12 ozs. The fish was caught by a fishing guide. This will make a new I.G.F.A. world record, as it was caught on 2 pound test line.

In Virginia a 38 point nontypical white tail deer made a second place listing in the record books. It's the second largest deer ever taken in Virginia. Also, there's a new thid place deer with 19 points.

DEER POACHERS JAILED

Everyone here in Louisiana raises cane because of the stiff fines you may get for deer poaching, but read this sentence a pair of poachers got in Kentucky:

Two Kentucky residents found guilty of hunting deer out of season were sentenced to six months in jail without parole, and fined $1000 each. In addition each had to pay the state $250 to replace the animal each had killed. Yes, you read that correctly, it cost the state about $250 to replace a deer, so they had to pay that also.

The Judge on the case chose to make an example of the two offenders because the county in which they were hunting and killed the deer is completely closed to deer hunting because of an ongoing deer restoration project.

Also, in a similar case another violator was fined $1000 for shooting a hen turkey out of season. The offender had his shotgun confiscated and lost his hunting privileges for one year.

These arrests took place after concerned citizens informed law enforcement officers of the crime.

Rules announced for ASA leagues

At a recent meeting of coaches and managers of the Cameron Parish Sheriff's Department ASA Summer League teams from Cameron, Creole, and Grand Chenier, the group approved the following items:

League play will begin May 2, and an inter-league tournament set for May 21.

Boys play Mondays and Wednesdays and girls play Tuesday and Thursdays. Fridays will be used for make-up games or invitational tournament participation.

Cut-off date for determining boys and girls 18 and under, 13 and under, 12 and under, 10 and under, and 8 and under is Sept. 1.

Boys and girls desiring to play in the Sheriff's Summer League should register with community team managers.

Eighteen and under and 15 and under girls desiring to play should register with Mathew Fontenot, chairman of the Sheriff's coaches and managers or Deputy Robert Manuel, co-ordinator of the program.

Team rosters must be turned in to co-ordinator Robert Manuel prior to any participation in league play.

Cake sale to be held Thurs.

There will be a benefit cake sale for the Tarpons Thursday, March 31, from 10 a.m. until in front of the Pizza Shoppe in the 7X Square Shopping Center in Creole.

Beef referendum set for May 10

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has issued a final rule governing the procedures for conducting the Beef Referendum as authorized by the Beef Promotion and Research Act of 1985.

Referendum voting will be conducted in the Cameron Parish Extension office on May 10, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., according to Gary Wicke, Parish Extension Agent.

Producers and importers unable to vote in person may request an absentee ballot by writing or visiting Hollis D. Chapman, Beef Referendum State Extension Coordinator at 226 Knapp Hall, LSU, Baton Rouge, La. 70803.

Absentee ballots will be available from April 1, until close of business on April 29. Absentee ballots must be returned by mail to the county Extension office by close of business May 3.

All cattle producers who owned or acquired cattle and importers of cattle, beef or beef products during the period of Oct. 1, 1986 through March 31, 1988, are eligible to vote. This also includes 4-H, FFA, and other youth who owned cattle during this time.

The Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will count ballots, determine the eligibility of challenged voters and ballots, and report Referendum results.

SADD chapter has election

Founded in Weyland, Mass., by Robert Anastas in 1981, S.A.D.D is dedicated to addressing the problem of drinking and driving among America's young people.

Some goals include helping to eliminate the drunk driver and save lives, alert and inform students of the dangers of drunk driving, help students deal with the peer pressure which promotes reckless and drunken driving, and to organize a peer counseling program to help students who may have concerns about alcohol.

As part of the S.A.D.D. program, the students of Johnson Bayou High School have pledged to become active in the fight to eliminate this cause of injury and death.

Teachers honored by Homemakers

The above were the scenes at South Cameron High School and South Cameron Elementary School when the Creole Extension Homemakers Club honored the staffs at both schools during Teacher Appreciation Week, March 14-1, by serving homemade cookies and coffee.

MUSING . . . By Bernice Denny

Easter could not have come at a season other than spring. God in his infinite wisdom must have timed the two so that the message of the Resurrection might be better understood in a season of rebirth and renewal. For Jesus: Gethsem - ane, conspiracy and betrayal . . . denial . . . trial and condemnation . . . crucifixion . . . the dark, cold tomb . . . then the glorious resurrection, proof of life everlasting, miracle of miracles . . . Spirit released . . . love divine.

In the plant world, the long, cold winter ... a stage of dormancy . . . seed embryo bursting its tomb-sheath . . . upward flow of sap . . . the revival of withered brown roots . . . exploding bulbs . . . secret commotions all up and down tree and shrub and flower . . . pulsating life . . . another miracle . . . new realities from the grave of winter.

In the animal kingdom an awakening from hibernation . . . emergence of moth and butterfly from their chrysalides . . . a flir of wings and a flash of feathered color . . . the vibrant music of a thousand birds and the z-z-z-te-dum of the insect world . . . newborn animals everywhere, cuddly kittens and shy gray bunnies, long-legged colts, powder-puff chicks and butter-ball pups . . . miracles every one . . . links in the ever lengthening chain of creation and re-creation.

We listen to the melody of wind and rain. We thrill to the beauty of dew-drenched lawns sparkling in the long rays of the morning sun. Breathless, we watch that same sun crimsoning and gilding the western sky at close of day. Lulled by the violet dusk of evening, we meditate upon the countless symbols that a gracious God has shown to us. Each is a promise to a life beyond that which we call life.

In nature, dormancy is temporary. It is repose and recuperation for the purpose of efflorescence. In human lfie, that which some call death is but the releasing of new energies into life eternal.

Spring is an ever recurring evidence of resurrection and renewal. Easter is the repeated promise by a risen Christ of life ever-lasting.

Another thought -- faint as the stirring of gossamer wings -- wafts our way. The beauties and the wonders of Spring are not only symbols of Easter's eternal promise but also manna sent from heaven to feed our hungry souls.

Sissy Penny

Charles Hebert

Penny, Hebert are honored

The Cameron Council on Aging joined the rest of the state in celebrating "Older Workers Week" March 14 - 18, according to Dinah Vaughn, Director. A reception was held on March 17, at the Cameron Rec Plex.

Winners were Sissy Penny and Charlie Hebert.

Judges for the contest were Ruby Kelley, Frances Mudd, Debbie Theriot, Mike Bercier and Paul Coreil.

Special guests included Police Juror George LeBoeuf, Rep. Randy Roach's assistant Myrna Conner, and Millie Woodel and Joyce Carroll from the Calcasieu Council on Aging.

Players all state

Cameron Parish High Schools had seven of its eight basketball teams make the state playoffs and a number of players made all-state.

Monise Seay, a 5'10" junior at Hackberry, was an honorable mention her freshman year, a first team Class C all-stater her sophomore year and her junior year, and a first team Class B all-stater again this year.

Rhonda Verzwyvelt, Grand Lake High School was awarded first team Class C recognition, the first such recognition for basketball from that school.

In Class A, girls all-state selection, Kria Rutherford, a senior at South Cameron High School, received second-team honors.

Cherelle Duhon, Johnson Bayou High School, received honorable mention, Class C. She was the leading scorer and rebounder on the Lady Rebel squad.

In Class B, boys all-state selection, Hackberry's Charlie Seay was awarded second team recognition. The 6'1" senior averaged 20.5 points per game.

Storm reporting

When and if any hurricanes should threaten the Cameron coast this year, special consideration will be given to Cameron parish residents by the Lake Charles television station.

Last month at the request of Police Juror Ray Conner, the Cameron Parish Police Jury wrote KPLC-TV asking when reporting the locations of hurricanes in the Gulf to give the distance from the shore--Cameron parish--in addition to the distance from Lake Charles.

It was pointed out in past years there may have been some confusion on the part of Cameron parish residents when they heard the distance being given between the storm and Lake Charles since Cameron is some 40 miles or so closer to the Gulf.

In a reply to the jury, Steve Bray, the station meterologist, assured them that the station will give the distance of hurricanes from Cameron in addition from Lake Charles.

Governor visits

Thevis is from the Rayne Lions Club and was accompanied by Past District Governor Harold Larcade, also from Rayne.

Thevis commended the local club for their many civic projects and recognized Charlie Hebert, a charter member of the local club.

He told the club that their work on eyeglasses for the needy; contributions to the Leader Dog Program, the Lions Club Crippled Children's Camp and local programs is outstanding.

He also cited the local scholarship program and said that the local club is to be commended on their membership.

He presented a 1987-88 president pin from him and the Lions International President of Lions to Uland Guidry and a frog pin to Geneva Griffith.

Uland Guidry presented four checks to Thevis from the local club, $600 each for the Louisiana Lions Crippled Children Camp; and the Louisiana Eye Foundation; and $299 each for the Arkansas Enterprises for the Blind and the Leader Dog School.

Jury undecided on new tax or layoffs

By JERRY WISE

The Cameron Parish Police Jury Tuesday ratified a total of $464,212.58 of cuts in the 1988 jury budget and authorized the treasurer to apply to the State Bond and Tax Commission for authority to borrow up to $750,000 this year.

Treasurer Garner Nunez told the jury that due to a drastic decline in oil and gas revenues the parish is facing a $900,000 deficit this year even with the nearly half million dollars in cuts just authorized.

Meeting informally prior to the meeting, the jurors discussed the possibility of asking parish taxpayers to vote a tax to help make up the deficit. All agreed that either a tax or a layoff of personnel are probably the only alternatives but several jurors indicated they were not yet ready to make this choice.

One or two jurors indicated that they wanted to talk to citizens in their area further and to get more information on the jury financial condition before making up their minds.

Nunez reminded them that they probably have only a few more weeks to decide if they wish to get a tax electon passed in time for preparation of the 1989 tax rolls.

Jurors had planned to meet with parish employees later in the day Tuesday to discuss the financial crisis with them but decided to postpone this meeting until a course of action can be decided.

It is expected that the jurors will have a called meeting within the next few days to discuss the matter further.

In a related financial matter, the jury voted to give notice of intention to create an ambulance district to include the area in lower Cameron parish that is in the South Cameron Memorial Hospital district.

The ambulance service is operated by the hospital, but the jury has had to subsidize the ambulance service over the years because it did not pay for itself and the hospital did not have the additional funds.

With the jury now short of funds, it is expected that an ambulance tax will have to be passed if the ambulance service is to continue to operate.

Police Jury Briefs

NURSING HOME

Henry Bullock, who heads the group who are building the Golden Doors Nursing Home in the Sweetlake area, reported to the jury that the home site has been purchased and cleared but no date has been set yet on a ground breaking. He said the new home should be completed by Christmas.

BIDS ASKED

The jury agreed to advertise for bids on the sale of 20 pieces of surplus equipment including bulldozers, dump trucks, trailers, etc. as an economy move.

Bids were also asked on the purchase of beepers and air packs for Fire District No. 8 to enable the district to improve its insurance rating.

STATION BIDS

The jury approved of the awarding of a contract to Alfred Palmer for $104,636 for improvements to the Holly Beach fire station.

Variances to the parish's flood insurance building ordinance were approved for Greg Wicke of Creole and Leslie Richard of Cameron.

LIQUOR PERMITS

A temporary liquor permit was approved for Knights of Columbus Council 3014 for a spring barbecue on April 17.

A regular liquor permit was approved for Burnell J. Broussard for Klondike Country Mart in Klondike.

APPOINTMENTS

Whitney Baccigalopi, whose term on the Mosquito Abatement District board has expired, was renamed to the board.

Ronnie Dean Picou was named to Sewerage District No. 1 board and Bobby Joe Doxey was named to Waterworks District No. 1. They replace George LeBouef who resigned when he became a police juror.

Braxton Blake was reappointed as an alternate to the Hwy. 171 Committee.

ROADS

A road right of way in District 5 was abandoned after there were no objections and a road right of way in the Sweetlake area was accepted from J. B. Jones, Jr.

Two to be honored

Thursday, April 7, has been proclaimed as "Alice and Benny Welch Day" in Cameron Parish by the Cameron Parish Police Jury.

Certificates of recognition were presented to the daughter and father at the jury meeting Tuesday in recognition of their accomplishments at the recent National Outdoor Show in Cambridge, Maryland, where they represented the Louisiana Fur and Wildlife Festival and Cameron Parish.

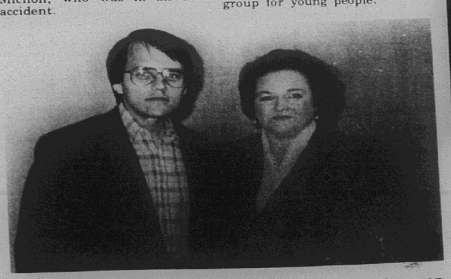
For the fourth year Alice Welch won the world's ladies muskrat skinning championship and her father was the winner of the world's men nutria skinning title.

Dance set

A benefit dance will be held for Ruth Michon at 7 p.m. Saturday, April 9, at the Creole Community Center. Music will be by Breaking Ground.

Gumbo will be sold and there will be a cake sale and auction.

Funds raised will be used to help pay the medical expenses of Michon, who was in an auto accident.



Soileau new administrator

Joe Soileau was introduced at the Cameron Parish Police Jury meeting Tuesday as the new administrator of the South Cameron Memorial Hospital. He succeeds Kenneth Hopper, who recently retired after 25 years in the position.

Soileau, who is a native of Ville Platte, said he would be moving to lower Cameron with his wife and three children as soon as school is over.

He noted that the hospital "isn't really solvent" and will have to make some cuts in its budget. However, he promised not to many any that would jeopardize the quality of its service.

He also said he would like to see hospital volunteer groups organized and possibly a Candy Striper group for young people.

STATE REP. Randy Roach is meeting with citizens of Cameron parish in various locations this week. Above he is shown with his new Cameron parish legislative assistant, Myrna Conner.

Hopper retires after 25 years

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

Friends and co-workers turned out Thursday night at the Creole Fire Station to bid Kenneth Hopper farewell after a 25-year career as administrator of the South Cameron Memorial Hospital.

Dr. Richard Sanders served as master of ceremonies and Dr. Cecil Clark and James S. (Jimbo) Henry, a member of the board of directors of the hospital, presented Hopper with a 25-year plaque of appreciation.

Dr. Clark remarked about Hopper's career at the hospital and stated that he had been there since it first opened.

The hospital had its start when the Louisiana American Legion raised about $65,000 following Hurricane Audrey and donated the funds to the parish towards the construction of a hospital. Lower Cameron citizens later approved a bond issue to provide the additional funds needed for construction.

Dr. Clark, Dr. Stephen Carter and Dr. George Dix were all practicing in lower Cameron at the time and were instrumental in getting the hospital established.

The Lower Cameron Hospital Service District was created with board members Jimmy Derouen, Edicon Mhire, D. Y. Doland, Dr. Carter, Dr. Dix and Dr. Clark appointed by the Police Jury to serve on the board.

Mr. Hopper was appointed by the board to serve as the first hospital administrator and on Feb. 25, 1963, the Hopper family became part of the Cameron Parish community, for his wife, Carol, also joined the staff as the head of the nursing staff.

Mr. Hopper had served as chief x-ray technician at Baton Rouge General Hospital and received his training in New Orleans.

Dr. Lesley Warshaw, Lake Charles, who worked with the local hospital as radiologist spoke about his many years of association with Mr. Hopper.

The new administrator, Joe Soileau, who assumed the dutues as the new director of the hospital was introduced.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

Another year of Easter has come and gone. We had nice weather for all the Easter egg hunts and family gatherings.

Many yards here have beautiful purple and white wisteria, white and blue and yellow iris, roses, azaleas, bridal wreath and more. The trees are also putting out new leaves.

One unusual scene here at the Chenier was an egg tree in Mrs. Peggy Mhire's yard. She hung plastic eggs of many colors from branches.

WILLIAM CODY RUTHERFORD

Pete Rutherford, formerly of here, is in a New Orleans hospital. He is reported doing better.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Swire announce the birth of a son, William Cody, Wednesday, March 30, at Lake Charles Memorial Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs. 6 ozs.

Grandparents are Mrs. Eve Vincent of Grand Chenier and Mr. and Mrs. William McElfresh of California.

The couple's other child is Joseph, 1½.

The annual Rosepine Research Station Research Day will be held Thursday, April 21, according to Gary Wicke, Cameron Parish Extention Agent. The theme is "Capitalizing on the Beef Market." The station is located two miles north of Rosepine on U.S. Highway 171.

Such topics as high density grazing, estrus synchronization of beef cows, using high quality clovers in pasture, etc., will be covered on the tour.

Registration and refreshments will start at 3:30 p.m. If you need more information contact the LSU Extension office in Cameron at 775-5516.

David Montie is All Around

David Montie of Creole won the All Around Cowboy title at the Calcasieu Parish High School Rodeo. Andre Delcambre of Hackberry and Carlotta LaBove of Cameron were runners-up.

Event winners were Thad Little of Hackberry, saddle broncs, second (tie); James Boudreaux of Hackberry, second, bull riding; Carlotta LaBove of Cameron, third, girls cutting; Chad Mudd of Cameron, second, boys cutting; Wade McCain of Grand Chenier, first, steer wrestling; Andre Delcambre, third, steer wrestling; and Jerry Corley of Cameron, fourth, steer wrestling.

David Montie of Creole, first, calf roping; Andre Delcambre, second, calf roping; Carlotta LaBove, first, barrel race; Hank Brown of Marthaville and David Montie of Creole, first, team roping; Jimmy Saltzman and Ken Mudd, both of Cameron, third, team roping; and Dwain Bickham of Pride and Kenny Kyle of Hackberry, fourth, team roping.

The word ye, in such expressions as "Ye Olde Shoppe," is pronounced like the word the. The letter y in Anglo-Saxon indicated the same th sound as apparent in the current spelling.

Nominations to be accepted

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will begin accepting nominations April 5, for election of county committee members under new rules that make it easier for farmers to qualify as candidates and to vote, Stephen Ryker, County Supervisor, said today.

"One important change broadens the definition of a farmer to anyone who has an interest in a farm in the country as owner, tenant or sharecropper," Ryker said. "The new definition also includes the spouse of an eligible farmer. An old requirement that more than half of the candidate's income must come from the farm operation has been dropped.

"The nominating period has been extended to 45 days from the previous 25 days, thus allowing more opportunity for people to run for the committe," Ryker said. "At least three eligible farmer voters, including the nominee, must sign the petition."

Anyone interested in running for the committee can obtain a petition and other information from the FmHA county office ar 1400-D Hwy. 14, Lake Charles, Ryker said.

It's been raining

By Loston McEvers

BAD WEATHER— BAD FISHING

On the good days, when we don't have rain or a new front coming in, fishing has been pretty darn good. The Big Burns has been producing some nice white perch in the large canal back of Crain Brothers camp towards the west. Also bass fishing has been fair with some good stringers being reported and a few big ones reported.

This large amount of rain we've been having hasn't been good on our oyster fishermen either. They did get a 30 day extension but with the high water, they can't go out anyway. I'm afraid if this weather straightens out, it'll start to get hot and the oysters will be milky and that's the end of the season for this year.

STATE NEWS

This is some of the news around the state that has an affect in our area, reported from the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries:

Most of you know shrimping in the state offshore territorial waters opened April 4.

A meeting will be held for the public for inside Louisiana waters, in New Orleans at 10 a.m. April 28, to set the inshore shrimping season.

As we wrote before Virginia VanSickle is the new Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Department Secretary.

It was announced last week that A. Kell McInnis III is the new deputy secretary for the department. McInnis is 37 years old and has been a state assistant attorney general since June 1980. His position will make him second highest administrative officer under VanSickle. He will handle affairs dealing with the legislature and the enforcement department.

Mr. McInnis is an enthusiastic hunter and fisherman. He was state chairman of Ducks Unlimited in 1986 and 87 and has been affiliated with the Louisiana Wildlife Federation, the National Wild Turkey Federation and the Gulf Coast Conservation Association.

Bettsie Baker was named undersecretary of the department. She is 32 years old. In her new position she will direct LDWF's office of Management and Finance, will have authority over personnel, budgets and fiscal matters.

She once was a Public Service Commissioner and helped get customers of Bell $220 million refund from overcharging.

She has served as a vice president and director of research for Empco Inc., a Baton Rouge consulting firm. She also served as a financial analyst and an economic instructor at LSU.

HEARING ON TOLEDO & CADDO LAKE

Public hearings will be held April 13, at 7 p.m. Wednesday, April 13, at North Toledo Bend State Park, seven miles west of Zwolle. Also, April 14, at 7 p.m. the Louisiana State Exhibit Museum in Shreveport.

All are invited to attend to express their views, which will be recorded and taken into account.

There have been lengthy negotiations between the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The new rule would place a length minimum of 12 inches and a creel limit of 10 fish a day on black bass, and also a daily creel limit of 50 crappie (white perch) per day.

The five striped bass daily limit would remain unchanged as well as the unlimited catch of bream.

This would make it easier for enforcement officers, have the same limits as Texas on Toledo Bend.

If you cannot attend this meeting, put your comments in writing and mail to: Bennie J. Fontenot, Chief; Fish Division, LDWF, P.O. Box 15570, Baton Rouge, La. 70895.

JULY 4TH FISHING RODEO

The annual July 4th, Deep Sea and Fishing Rodeo has started to take shape. Carl Broussard of Grand Chenier has been named Commodore for the 1988 rodeo. I did not attend the meeting, so my info is sketchy, but advertisement is the first step to make the booklet. Also, a meeting is to be held with people who participate in the fishing to get input from them to make a better relationship with the anglers. I'll let you know more in the future.

It will be kind of hard to choose some of the fish for the rodeo as their are restrictions on Spanish and king mackerel and also redfish. Some are suppose to open June 1, but as of right now nobody knows.

The first traffic light in America was installed in 1914.

Track meet to be held at J. Bayou

Johnson Bayou High School will host a track meet Friday, April 8.

Competing in boys division are Johnson Bayou, South Cameron, Hackberry, Hyatt and the St. Louis J.V.'s.

Girls division will include Johnson Bayou, South Cameron, Hackberry, Barbe, Washington and Hyatt.

Field events begin at 4 p.m. and running events at 5:30 p.m.

Ask. . . Ochsner

Q. My mother was recently screened for glaucoma by her eye doctor and he said she had early stages of glaucoma. What is glaucoma and what are the symptoms? Is it curable? AG, Donaldsonville, La.

A. Glaucoma is a disease of the eye that affects about one percent of the U. S. population and seven to eight percent of Americans over 65. Early treatment is vital as the condition can lead to blindness.

According to Dr. Tim Johnson, an ophthalmologist at the Ochsner Clinic of Baton Rouge, the normal eye is constantly producing fluid which, in the healthy eye, drains through a network of tissue called the drainage angle. When the drainage pathways become blocked, the buildup causes increased pressure within the eye, causing glaucoma.

There is no pain or blurring of vision associated with glaucoma, thus the increase in pressure can be present for years without the person being aware of it. By the time a deterioration of vision is noticed, the disease is far advanced.

Since glaucoma can only be detected by eye examination, it is important to have regular checkups with an ophthalmologist. Dr. Johnson says. If glaucoma is detected, treatment may consist of any one of the following: medication eye drops, oral medication, eye surgery or laser surgery. All types of treatment help to lower the pressure on the eye and protect the optic nerve from damage.

Persons who have the greater risk of developing glaucoma are those who are diabetic, have a family history of the disease, have a high degree of nearsightedness, or have other vascular disorders. And, Dr. Johnson says the older you get, the more at risk you become.

Dr. Johnson advises anyone who is age 40 and older to visit an ophthalmologist for a regular checkup and to have regular visits at 3 to 4 years intervals thereafter, or as recommended by your doctor

MUSING. . .

By Bernice Denny

Cameron Parish has always abounded in tall tales. Each community has its perennial favorite. Many involve environmental drawbacks on the one hand or blessings on the other.

One day a cattle owner decided to sell a number of full grown steers. He herded them into a strong enclosure and nailed the gate to prevent their breaking out.

Lo and behold! The next morning the pen was empty. The fence was unbroken. It was too high, of course, for them to have jumped over. The gate had not been tampered with. Anyway, no outward bound tracks appeared. The owner was mystified.

"If I didn't know better," he exclaimed, "I'd think them animals took wings and flew!"

About that time he heard a disturbance overhead in the branches of the giant live oaks that surrounded the pen. He looked up. Perched on the limbs were enormous marshland mosquitoes. Slowly he realized that they had devoured his cattle, bones and all.

At this moment they were taunting him by picking their teeth with the horns of his steers.

A tale of blessings was a good season and virgin soil is next.

A prominent Grand Chenier citizen grew such a magnificent crop of Irish potatoes that the ground could not hold them. Each morning he was forced to take his team and wagon to the field to pick up a bushel or more of potatoes from each row. They had simply been forced out of the ground overnight by others enlarging beneath them.

Gladys Gooding played for the New York Rangers, New York Knicks and Brooklyn Dodgers in a single season—as organist.

The largest eyes of all land animals are those of the horse and ostrich—about one and a half times the size of human eyes.

The original title of Gone With The Wind was Tomorrow Is Another Day.

Thanks given on Olympics

Dear Editor:

Special thanks from Special Olympics.

On March 25, at LaGrange Stadium, over 1,000 mentally handicapped individuals participated in The Southwest Area Spring Games. A special kind of love was shared by these people with over 400 volunteers.

Without support from local media, civic groups, schools, businesses, parents, students and guests this day would have been just another day instead of a special day for these handicapped athletes.

From all of us, to all of you, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Sincerely
Southwest Area Games Committee,
Floyd Manuel, Area Director
Danny Guillory, Area Co-director,
Bob Casey, Area Co-director

Hackberry oil

By Keith Hambrick

(Lake Charles American Press, March 27, 1925)

HACKBERRY OIL WELLS

Oil men are still as unshaken in their belief that Hackberry Island is a potential oil field, after having put down more than thirty tests for the golden fluid, as they were twenty years ago and before they had spent more than a million dollars buying leases, lands in fee simple, dredging canals and drilling the island full of holes in search of a dome which they believed exists somewhere in the vicinity.

Not all efforts have been without encouragement. There have always been enough oil and sulphur formations encountered to keep them in high hopes that the very next test will develop something better. With many surface indications and occasional underground surprises luring them on, they are determined yet to find the pool which they have almost, but not quite encountered in the past.

The Yont-Lee Oil Co. of Texas has just finished its tenth test near the middle of section 16 and is now building a new derrick over its eleventh location in section 15 and a little northeast of its last hole. W. T. Burton, who is largely interested in the company's operations in Hackberry, has a dredge at work extending the company's navigation canal farther to the north for the purpose of moving the rig from the old location to the new one.

According to Mr. Burton, who was in Lake Charles today, the Yont-Lee Co. is planning to put down several wells to the northeast of Hackberry Island proper between now and October in order to test out that section of country. In October, said Mr. Burton, the company will begin its Black Lake drilling campaign.

HOOKS AND NOBLE

According to reports some weeks ago, Chas. G. Hooks and C. O. Noble have large holdings to lease and fee simple in Hackberry Island and are scheduled to begin drilling operations about the tenth of April in a block comprising sections 33, 29, 31, and 32 in the southwest part of the island.

It is understood that the new Hooks-Noble location will be south and southwest of the dome which has been pretty well located and has been found to extend northeast and southwest, across the island, a distance of about 2 3/4 miles. It is said that the dome begins near school section No. 16 and extends to the middle of section 30, southwest of the J. M. Vincent old homestead place.

Hackberry Island, where before the Civil War was the sugar plantation of John Y. Kelso, has long been considered a potential oil field. The history of developments there does not date after Spindle Top, where Captain Lucas brought in his famous gusher and astounded the world.

The old settlers in Hackberry Island believed that there was an oil field underneath their farms and pasture lands long before Spindle Top was dreamed of. The year before the Beaumont field was discovered, the father of J. C. Ellender, noting the immense paraffin beds in the southwest corner of section 30, sunk a well there to a depth of 280 feet by means of horse power, somewhat after the fashion of the old-time cotton press or syrup mill.

FIRST INDICATION

The first indication that the oil companies were taking any interest in Hackberry Island came when C. H. Markham, now president of the Illinois Central Railroad and then president of the J. M. Guffey, afterwards the Gulf Refining Co., through W. W. Bell of this city, purchased, fee simple, 60 acres of land in the southwest corner of section 29, paying $30 an acre for it.

The first well put down in the island was by local people and the Gulf Refining Co. near Kelso Bayou. Rock and sulphur were found in all of them. Samples of cores were taken by the Yont-Lee Co. several years ago near these old tests and the Union Sulphur Co. was so favorably impressed with them that it made efforts to buy the immediate locality along the bayous where they were obtained.

All of the first holes put down in the island hit the dome. It was not until the Hackberry Oil Co. about ten years ago put down a test that it was missed. Oscar Bever was driller at the time and with the oil then produced, great excitement spread over all Southwest Louisiana concerning what was believed to be the new field.

Ten years later the Gulf Refining Co. missed the dome in section 32 northeast of the last well of the Hackberry Oil Co.

The next well that missed the dome in Hackberry Island was one put down by the Ryeade-Gulf interests joined by C. O. Noble. This was in 1922 and the location was the east side of section 27.

PIONEERS THERE

Among the pioneer oil men and companies in the Hackberry Island territory were Walter Sharpe of Spindle Top fame, Ed Prater and Walter House. These men organized the Tex-La Oil Co. and drilled two wells in 1902. The first was east of Black Lake and the second was on the west of this body of water.

The Hackberry Oil Co. composed of local people, obtained two producers in Hackberry Island. The first hole was put down in 1914 and the second in 1918. The production in both these wells, however, was so small that the company did not undertake to obtain any of it in a commercial way.

CAMERON SCHOOL BURNS

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the school building at Cameron early last night, April 1. The blaze was noticed by people in the town at about 9:15 o'clock, but had advanced too far to be put under control, although a large crowd had gathered on the scene soon after the flames were discovered.

Nothing was saved from the burned building. The structure, a one-story, two-room building, was comparatively new and occupied a site some little distance from the town on the road to Creole and Grand Chenier.

It was stated that no cause could be given for the starting of the fire. School was in session as usual all day yesterday, and it was stated that there had been a fire in the stove in one of the rooms early in the day. This, however, had gone out, it is believed, before the session ended.

Professor F. B. Kennedy is principal of the school. There is one other teacher.

The school was valued at $4,000 and is said to have been fully covered by insurance. It was built in 1918 soon after the big storm.

The structure was the second school building to be burned down in Cameron in the last few years. About four years ago, a school in the John Sells Community, about six miles from Leesburg, was destroyed by fire.

BRITTANY McDANIEL won "Little Miss Petite LaPan" Beauty Queen in the Iowa Rabbit Pageant on March 12. She is the 5-year-old daughter of Thomas and Debbie McDaniel of Creole. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Baccigalopi and Charles and Jeanette McDaniel.

Thomas named Boss of Year

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

"Together we can make our area grow", was the theme of the annual Boss's Night banquet held Monday by the Les Dames de le Bayou Chapter of the American Business Women's Chapter at Pat's Restaurant.

Baron Thomas, vice-president of Cameron State Bank, was named Boss of the Year and was presented with his award by Dan Dupont, last year's recipient.

Other nominees who were presented certificates of recognition by Donna LaBove, club president, were: Dr. Mark Smythe, Loston McEvers, Sheryl Linn, Hardy Smith, James Colligan, Mrs. Dorothy Theriot, Gene Primeaux, Daniel Dupont, Mrs. Yvonne Mhire, Mrs. Jerry Wainwright, Robert Fruge, Norman McCall, Clarence Vidrine and Bobby Benoit.

Susan Watts gave the welcome.

Patty Cope presented certificates of appreciation to the following for their help to the club: Mrs. Jerry Wainwright, Mrs. Geneva Griffith, and Cameron State Bank.

State Representative Randy Roach, guest speaker, told of the many things the governor and the legislature are doing to get the state out of its serious financial bind.

In discussing the Moss Regional Charity hospital, he said the Governor was to create a five parish hospital district, a new concept to get the state out of the charity hospital business.

He said that with all of the proposed cuts the state will still be $700 million in the red.

Refuge finalist in competition

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

The Sabine National Wildlife Refuge has been named a finalist in the national "Take Pride in America" contest.

The refuge joins 200 individuals and groups from all over the United States who are finalists in the second annual awards program.

The contest is a public lands stewardship campaign supported by nine federal agencies, 43 states and two U. S. territories, as well as numerous private groups and organizations.

Finalists were announced in Washington by the chairman of the Blue Ribbon panel of judges: Interior Secretary Don Hodel, Agriculture Secretary Richard Lyng, and Education Secretary William Bennett.

The finalists represent 45 states and the District of Columbia from over 500 entries.

"These finalists represent the most outstanding resource stewardship activities and volunteer efforts undertaken across the country", Hodel said.

All awards program participants will be invited to Washington, D. C. this summer to participate in a ceremony where the national winners and finalists will be honored.

"Take Pride in America" is a national public awareness campaign to reduce abuse and promote wise use of public lands and resources.

Four local organizations that worked together during 1987 on the project were the Hackberry High School cheer leaders, Cub Scouts Pack 78, Girl Scout Troop 433 and the McNeese State University wildlife students.

A part of their project was to help clean up the grounds and beautify the Refuge headquarters and area in preparation of the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Refuge held last year.

Scholarship

The Cameron Parish Cowbelles are again offering a $500 scholarship to a graduating senior.

The student must attend college for two consecutive semesters and will receive the money in two parts, one after the fall registration and the second after the spring semester.

Requirements for the scholarship are: Cameron Parish resident, a full-time college student, attend a college in Louisiana, maintain a 2.0 average, and major in an agriculture related field.

Applications are available in each school or from Mrs. Elizabeth Richard. The applications must be in to Mrs. Richard, Box 20C, Grand Chenier, La. 70643, by May 1.

STEVE FONTENOT, Westlake, working on his Eagle Scout badge; and Billy Delaney, Biological Technician at Sabine Refuge, stake off locations to plant clumps of oyster grass in "Take Pride in America Project".

Pay cut, tax set by police jury

The effects of Cameron Parish's drastic reduction in revenues came home for 28 parish employees Tuesday night when the police jury voted a 7 percent across-the-board cut for all salaried employees of the parish.

In addition, the jury called for an election on a 10-mill road and bridge maintenance tax to run ten years. The election will be held July 16.

The jurors had earlier made $400,000 in budget cuts, but were still faced with a projected deficit of nearly $900,000 this year without additional revenues.

The salary cuts will affect about 28 parish employees, including the six police jurors, police jury staff, several courthouse employees including the registrar of voters and food stamps supervisors and employees of the district judge and district attorney's offices.

Parish Administrator Garner Nunez estimated that the salary cut will save the parish about $40,000 a year.

He estimated that the 10-mill tax would bring in about $1 million a year which would be enough to take care of the $900,000 deficit. Although the tax will be dedicated to the road and bridge fund, it will free up that much money in the general fund since the parish has been using about $1.1 million out of the general fund for road and bridge work.

Nunez noted that the 10-mill tax is the same size levy that the Cameron Parish School Board was able to get passed in 1986 after it too suffered declining revenues.

Police jurors said that additional cuts may have to be made before the July 16 election.

Council to have meeting

The Cameron Parish Extension Homemakers Council is offering a scholarship to a 1988 graduating senior from Cameron Parish planning to major in home economics or in an agriculture related field. He or she must be a fulltime college student and maintain a 2.0 average.

Applications are due by May 6, and are to be sent to Mrs. David Richard, Rt. 1, Box 20 C, Grand Chenier, La. 70643. Applications can be obtained through the counselor's office at each parish high school.

Art display

Art work from the Cameron Parish Talented Program will be on display at the McNeese State University Library from April 16, through May 5. An opening reception is scheduled for Saturday, April 16, at 2 p.m.

The art work includes pieces by students in grades two through eight. The pieces are executed in a wide variety of media: pencil, oil pastels, charcoal, tempea, acrylic, stained glass, linoleum cut, wood, scratch-board and water color.

Refuge has volunteers

Sabine National Wildlife Refuge had a bevy of volunteer workers on the weekend doing everything from trash pickup to planting grass.

Last weekend Billy Delaney, biological technician, was overseeing a group of Boy Scouts in a marsh erosion control problem.

The boys were digging up clumps of oyster grass in the plentiful areas of the refuge and transporting it to the north boundary of the refuge where they planted it on the North Line Levee to stop levee erosion caused by wind and wave action. The grass is salt and wave tolerant.

The benefits of the grass plantings are erosion control, land stewardship, and ecological education for the Scouts.

Taking part in the project were Boy Scout Troup 86 and Webelo Troops 80 and 82 of Westlake.

Steve Fontenot, from the Westlake Scout troop is also working on his Eagle Scout rank and is working directly under Mr. Delaney to pass this rank on ecological knowledge at the Refuge.

The time the Scout groups and other civic organizations put in working at the refuge is completely volunteer and is appreciated by the Refuge.

Vo Tech school may be leased

The Cameron Parish School Board Monday made a tentative offer to lease the old Cameron Vo-Tech School facilities for $10,000 a year to a local group of investors to put in a plant to purge Calcasieu Lake oysters of their impurities.

District Attorney Jerry Jones told Rudy Aplin, representative of the investors, that they would have to put up a bond to take care of returning the facilities to their original condition should the project fail.

Aplin agreed to come back to the board later with more concrete plans on what remodeling would have to be done at the school.

ASBESTOS REPORT

Supervisor Roger Richard gave the board a report on the nationally mandated asbestos abatement program and said the board would have to have an asbestos program in place by October, 1988.

Although Cameron parish removed all asbestos materials containing fibers from the schools a few years ago, the new program covers asbestos materials such as floor tile.

The board voted to hire Wynn L. White consulting engineers of Alexandria for $31,300 to bring the parish into full compliance with the law by June, 1988.

BUDGET AMENDED

The board amended its budget to include higher royalties than expected on 16 section land and $150,000 more from the state equalizaton fund than expected.

It also approved assistance in the amount of $1,170 to send Belinda Hardie, South Cameron student, and her advisor to the National FBLA Leadership Conference in Cincinnati, Ohio. She is the district FBLA vice president.

At the request of School Board Member Rickey Guidry, the board agreed to write the Department of Environmental Quality concerning testing of the Grand Lake School grounds to see if there has been any seepage from a nearby disposal site.

CONTRACTS AWARDED

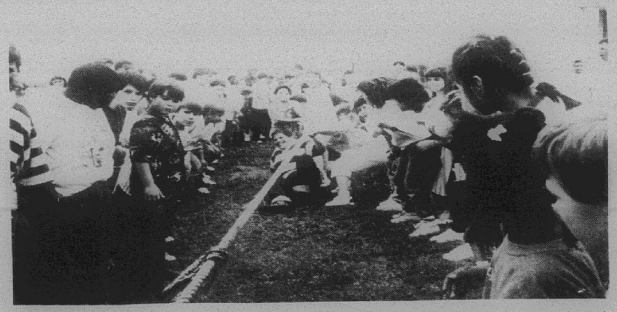
Contracts totaling about $5,000 were awarded to Breaux's Painters for painting at five parish schools.

A $30,682 contract was given to Gentry & Holder for installing a new maple floor at the Hackberry High School gym.

AIDS POLICY

At the request of Mrs. Betty Seay, board member, the board agreed to look into setting up a policy concerning any student or school employees who might contract AIDS. There are no cases reported in the school system at this time.

Historian to speak



W. T. Block, a Beaumont, Tex., historian, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Cameron Parish Historical Society Monday, April 18, at 7 p.m. at the Leesburg Museum.

During the Civil War, all four sets of Block's great-grandparents were living in what is now Cameron Parish: John W. and Sarah Jane Sweeney of Grand Chenier; Duncan and Margaret Peggy Smith of Cameron and Johnson's Bayou; Frederick and Caroline Mathilda Schmidt of Johnson's Bayou; and George Frederick and Augusta Block of Shellbank or Pavell's Island.

He has written four books on Southeast Texas history, two of them being on the steamboat cotton trade of the Sabine and Trinity Rivers.

An upcoming one about the Calcasieu Parish Civil War history is to appear in the May issue of Blue and Gray magazine.

Everyone is invited to attend, according to Mrs. Coral Lee Perry, president of the historical society.

On Wednesday, April 21, at 4 p.m. Jude Theriot of Lake Charles will give a cooking demonstration.

Records are broken at J.B. Relays

The annual Johnson Bayou Relays progressed smoothly under excellent weather conditions and a host of eager competitors.

An extremely well balanced Rebel squad led the field with 114 team points, followed by South Cameron 89, St.Louis J.V. 19, Hackberry 17, and Hyatt 12.

Five of seven of the Rebel relay field records were broken as South Cameron's Steve Pierson set three records and Johnson Bayou's Scott Sandifer and Ricky Harrington set new standards each in one event.

In the girls division, the Barbe Lady Buccaneers, a 4A track power, outscored the Lady Rebels 97 to 59½, followed by South Cameron 40½, Hackberry 21, and Hyatt 1.

Rebel relay records fell in both running and field events.

Tiffany Cross, one of several outstanding Barbe performers led the field with record performances in the 200 m and 800 m runs.

Angie Trahan, Johnson Bayou, set a new record in the shot put as did Melanie Blanchard of Hackberry in the long jump. Lana Kaugh, Barbe, in the discus; Ruth Davidson, Barbe, in the 3200; and Barbe ?, the 1600 m relay.

The flying fish, when pursued by enemies, can soar above the water from two to 15 seconds and cover distances of 45 to 200 yards.

Lift-a-thon to be held at S. Cameron

The South Cameron High School Athletic Department will sponsor a Lift-A-Thon May 18, at 6:30 p.m. in the school gym.

School athletes are signing up sponsors who pledge money per pound that the athlete can bench-press.

All contributions will go to the school athletic fund to purchase weight equipment, uniforms, and other equipment for the athletic program.

The gate receipts from the Tarpon games have not been adequate to cover the expenses of necessary equipment to keep the school athletic program operating on a first class level, according to Coach Parry LaLande.

For this reason the community is being asked by the athletes to help with the Lift-A-Thon.

Grid injury seminar set

A football injury seminar will be held Saturday, April 16, at the Sulphur High School gym.

A number of lectures will be given on various subjects including: arthroscopy of the knee; ankle and shoulder evaluation and recommendations; sprains, strains and contusions; knee rehabilitaton; neck injuries; CPR; and taping and wrapping demonstrations.

Also scheduled to speak will be Larry Gardner of the Sports Medicine Clinic of North Texas, located in Dallas. Gardner is a trainer for the Dallas Cowboys.

The seminar will begin with registration at 7:30 a.m. and the lectures to follow at 8:15 a.m.

Admission is free and all area coaches, trainers and student trainers are invited to attend.

Parish meet is Thurs.

With good warm weather, chances are several Cameron Parish track records will be re-established this Thursday, April 14, when Cameron Parish High School track teams meet for the annual Cameron Parish track meet at Johnson Bayou High School.

The host, Johnson Bayou, will put in a strong bid for the championship but will be challenged by South Cameron, Grand Lake and Hackberry.

Field events will begin at 3:30 p.m. and running events at 6 p.m.

Grand Chenier

By Elora Montie

A cold front, which was a record breaker with 39 degrees, moved in Sunday night surprising everyone. Many folks had already put away their winter clothes. Some covered their vegetables in fear of a frost.

Folks here had begun spring mowing.

MOVE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haitt of Lake Charles this week moved their mobile home from Lake Charles to Grand Chenier near the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Baccigalopi.

VISITORS

Miss Annie Laurie Miller of Baton Rouge spent a few days in her home here. Her guests for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Buckley and Mary Garst, all of Baton Rouge.

Clark Hoffpauir of Crowley spent the weekend in his camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Archee and friends of Lafayette spent the weekend in their home.

Arnold Jones joined his brother, Jerry Jones, on a hunting trip in Texas recently.

Joining the family of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hebert in Ragley Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hebert, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Theriot, Charles Hebert, Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Theriot, and Tommy Nunez, who celebrated the 55 year wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hebert.

Mrs. Mamie Richard, Mrs. Edmond Lee Richard and children visited relatives in Lake Arthur Sunday.

D. D. Vincent and Hubert Miller are spending a few days at the Vincent farm in DeRidder.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gilford Miller attended the VFW convention in Sulphur.

Mrs. Nolia LeMaire of Kaplan spent a few days with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Roberts and Nicole.

Mrs. Bertha Roy spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Mablè East, in Lake Charles.

Birth told

BRITTANY RENEE NUNEZ

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Nunez announce the birth of their second child, Brittany Renee, born at Lake Charles Humana Hospital. She weighed 7 lbs. 15 ozs.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Roland Primeaux of Creole, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Nunez Jr. of Grand Chenier.

A great-grandparent is Mrs. Rosa Boudoin of Creole.

The couple's other child is Bethany, 3½.

Brittany was baptized April 10. Godparents are Vida Landry and Stanley Primeaux.

Teachers are honored at Sacred Heart

The teachers and staff members of the Sacred Heart Catholic Church School of Religion were given a surprise show of appreciation at a reception in their honor Monday night at the Life Center.

Msgr. M. J. Bernard expressed the gratitude of the parish to "These generous people who give of their time and talents to the Christian education of our children out of love for God and fellow parishioners."

He reported that there were 68 students in grades 8 to 11 in the school of religion and 139 students in grades 1 to 7.

Representatives of parents from each class made presentations of corsages, boutonnieres, and certificates of appreciation to: Uland Guidry, coordinator of the high school division; Josie Boudreaux, coordinator; Mary Theriot, secretary of the elementary division; and teachers, Katie Trahan, Sherrie Rogers, Ann Meaux, Wendy Wicke, Myra Rutherford, Jendy Trahan, Rhonda Duhon, Carolyn Daniels, Lisa Savoie, Jeanette Savoie and Olga Mudd.

Also thanked with certificates of appreciation were teachers aides: Charlotte Bonsall, Susan Johnson, Sheila Savoie, Dinah Billings, Angie Theriot, Nelvia Murphy and Twila Savoie, and Carolyn Benoit, refreshment committee chairman.

Linda Gail Conner, Myrna Conner and Tammie Conner were co-chairmen of the reception committee.

Grand Chenier 4-H club has April meeting

The monthly meeting of the Grand Chenier Jr. 4-H Club was held Tuesday, April 5. Brandi Mhire reported on the Dairy Workshop held by the club. Robby Peshoff reported on Challenge Camp and Brandon Hess gave a report on our members helping out at Calcasieu Marine Bank's crawfish boil.

Rusty Welch and Chris McCall gave a demonstration on muskrat conservation and skinning. Ashley Coreil gave a demonstration on selecting good sewing equipment. Nancy Jo Clark demonstrated making French toast. Sandy Booth and Joanna Batchelor gave a demonstration on making Chocolate Chip Cookies. The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Nancy Cronan, who reviewed the Cameron Clover and spoke about contests which will be held at Achivement Day.

MUSING . .

By Bernice Denny

The right of any person to work at a living wage is as necessary to his well-being and to that of society as it is equitable. It is a sad reflection on individuals that some live without working and others work without living.

The ideal situation is to work at what one likes best and can do best. A happy laborer is an enthusiastic one.

Often, however, one is unable to secure the job of his choice. Second best is not to his liking at all. He resents it from the start. He struggles against it. He considers it sheer drudgery. We would urge such a one to realize that he is working without living and that it is time he did something about it.

What can he do? If no other employment is available, then the secret to his success lies in his changing his attitude. It will not be easy. But it is possible through determination and energy.

He might start out by beng thankful that he is physically and mentally capable of handling the task and that he need not be dependent upon others for his welfare. Then he might search to find something good about the job each day.

Henry Giles, an American clergyman of a century ago, phrased it aptly when he wrote: "Man must work. That is certain as the sun. But he may work grudgingly or he may work gratefully; he may work as a machine. There is no work so rude that he may not exalt it; no work so impassive, that he may not breathe a soul into it; no work so dull, that he may not enliven it.

One will be much happier in his work if he takes it in his stride. No person is indispensable. The world will continue to revolve without him. No one can be expected to carry the load of the whole train.

One should arrange his work in an orderly manner and perform it systematically. Is is far better to do one thing at a time than to jump here and there haphazardly.

Some people boast of lying awake at night planning their work for the next day. It appears that almost all of them wind up as insomniacs. We would suggest that they set aside a few minutes each day to outline and concentrate on ways of expediting the next day's task. At the same time they should seek to learn more about their jobs and to discover ways by which they might reach or benefit others through it.

The more knowledge one has of his work the better control he has over it. With control comes confidence. The two are furthered when one keeps his work up to schedule. And one is spared the mental fatigue that comes with that "swamped" feeling.

As scarce as Louisiana jobs are today it behooves each worker to prove that faith in himself and the will to perform results in successful living.

Hearing set on fishing regulations

Hearings will be held April 13-14, to gain public input on a proposed new regulation governing recreational fishing at Toledo Bend Reservoir and Caddo Lake, the Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries announced today.

The two bodies of water straddle the Louisiana-Texas border, and under the regulation, the same game fishing requirements would apply on both sides of the state line.

The first of the two public hearings will be held at 7p.m. Wednesday, April 13, at North Toledo Bend State Park. The park is located about seven miles west of Zwolle.

All fishermen, conservationists and other interested parties are invited to attend and express their views.

The new rule would place a length minimum of 12 inches and a creel limit of 10 fish a day on black bass, and a daily creel limit of 50 on crappie. The present Louisiana daily limit of five on striped bass and unlimited catch of bream would remain unchanged.

Fontenot said the uniform standards would simplify matters for sport fishermen crossing the state line as well as for wildlife agents enforcing the law.

Persons unable to attend the public hearings may put their comments in writing and send them to Bennie J. Fontenot, Chief, Fish Division, Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries, Post Office box 15570, Baton Rouge, La. 70895.

5 in district event

Five area 4-Hers participated in the District Egg Cookery Contest April 7, at Northgate Mall in Lafayette. They are shown in the above picture from left to right: Patrick Hebert, Cameron Elementary; Adrienne Picou, South Cameron High junior; Rhonda Perry, South Cameron High senior; Tredale Boudreaux and Chad Portie, South Cameron Elementary.

Each participant earned the opportunity to go to the district contest by winning their division at Parish Contest Day. Patrick won a blue ribbon in the dessert division. Red ribbon winners were Rhonda and Chad in the illustrated talk and salad division. Tredale and Adrienne were white ribbon winners in the appetizer and main dish categories.

The Cameron Parish School Board met in Special Session on Wednesday, April 6, 1988 at 5:00 p.m. to take action on employee medical insurance.

The medical insurance problem has been discussed by the Board now for three months.

The Board approved specifications to advertise bids on medical insurance for employees.

After a lengthy discussion the Board, upon recommendation of Superintendent Thomas McCall, agreed to pay $50.00 per month toward the single rate premium.

Mr. Arnold Jones and Mr. Preston Richard voted against the motion.

Mr. Jones and Mr. Richard both stated the possibility of a lower tax base in the future due to the state of the economy. This was of great concern to them.

Other Board Members agreed that in future years if income received by the Board from all sources made the insurance contribution impossible, then employees would have to pay all or greater portion of the premium.

PROCLAMATION
STATE OF LOUISIANA
PARISH OF CAMERON

WHEREAS, the Office of the Governor of the State of Louisiana recognizes older individuals as a growing and dynamic segment of the population; and

WHEREAS, traditional retirement patterns are changing and many older individuals seeking secure employment opportunities are faced with common stereotypes and myths associated with older workers; and

WHEREAS, sponsors of the senior employment programs strive to increase public awareness of the plight of the older worker by providing programs such as the Senior Community Service Employment Program and the Job training Partnership Act Older Individual Program; and

WHEREAS, these programs and agencies continue to inform employers of the valuable work-related skills and years of experience found among the older workers, seek to educate both public and private sector employers of the diversity of skills which older workers possess and attempt to match those skills with the needs of the employers;

NOW THEREFORE, WE THE CAMERON PARISH POLICE JURY do hereby proclaim the week of March 13-19, 1988, as "EMPLOY THE OLDER WORKER WEEK".

ADOPTED AND APPROVED, this 1st day of March, 1988.

The following proclamation was offered by Mr. Ray Conner, seconded by Mr. Dousaine Conner and declared duly adopted:

PROCLAMATION
BEEF MONTH IN LOUISIANA

WHEREAS, beef cattle production represents one of the major sources of income in the State of Louisiana, and

WHEREAS, the Louisiana's Cattlemen's Association represents the cattle producers in the State of Louisiana, and

WHEREAS, the month of March has been set aside by the beef cattle industry to represent "BEEF MONTH IN LOUISIANA", and

WHEREAS, the purpose of Beef Month in Louisiana is to educate the Louisiana consumers to the problems involved in producing a continuous supply of wholesome, nutritious and high quality beef at a reasonable price, and

WHEREAS, increased consumer demand would mean an expansion of the Louisiana beef cattle industry to where a greater share of Louisiana beef would be used in Louisiana markets, meaning more business for cattlemen, as well as grain producers and handlers, auction markets, packing plants, farm supply and equipment dealers, and indeed the entire State.

NOW THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that we the Cameron Parish Police Jury do declare the month of March "BEEF MONTH IN LOUISIANA" and ask all of the citizens of Cameron Parish to join with the Louisiana Beef Cattle Industry in its activities during the month.

ADOPTED AND APPROVED, this 1st day of March, 1988.

MORE REGULATIONS

We keep seeing new rules and regulations. If the river state in Kinder is 12 feet, out oyster people cannot oyster. Our shrimpers have to pull a Turtle Excluder Device, to protect a few turtles, and just on the other side of the Gulf, Mexico kills these same turtles just for the eggs. (Our Spanish and king mackerel are limited. Our redfish lost its suntan (blackened redfish) as the season is closed.)

Did you also read how Louisiana shrimpers want to limit shrimpinglicenses so the ones with the license can make more money. They say we sold 6,000 more licenses in the last 10 years than previously. We see the imported shrimp taking over and some of our local shrimp buyers say their people don't want to buy as the prices are higher than imported prices.

I really enjoyed the message out-going Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries J. Burton Angelle Sr. wrote. It's true, Burt has done a lot of good in the 12 years he's been with Wildlife and Fisheries, but has seen a lot of things for the betterment of Louisiana, in which he was put off.

He goes along to say how we have always been a self-funded agency, talking about the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission. Things were bad way back, as I worked for the commission way back, then came the good old oil patch and then we doubled our license fees to keep the ball rolling. Now as the state general fund dries up, they want to share in the wildlife money, but we passed a constitutional amendment to keep this from happening. Now they say it doesn't go into effect before July 1, 1988, so the money of wildlife can still be used in the state's general fund.

I have asked the question, can or will they do this and the answer I got was no. I surely hope they don't mess with that money and I don't think the new governor will do anything to hurt Wildlife and Fisheries.

Let's keep our fingers crossed and hope for the best. The worst is the money borrowed from the fund by Edwin Edwards for the general fund doesn't have to be paid back and that is unfortunate, because just look how good matters would be if we had the money in the Wildlife and Fisheries fund.

Now if Governor Roemer does borrow from the wildlife fund before July 1, I understand it doesn't have to be paid back either. This again would be unfortunate.

FISHING IN OUR AREA

Fishing in our area, especially bass, white perch and bream, has been from good to bad, but if this weather would straighten out, I think the bass fishing would pick up. Let's hope so.

LEMESCHE BASS CLUB

The club held their regular meeting last week with a supper served by Ernest Richard and Anthony Nunez. It was ladies night. The club has a few trophies from previous years that they don't need and will donate to Robert Manuel for this year's Boy Scout fishing outing on Monkey Island.

Drawing of names for the next tournament to be held Sunday, April 17, was as follows:

Bishop will confirm 27

The Most Rev. Jude Speyrer, Bishop of Lake Charles, will be the confirming prelate for a class of 27 high school junior students who will be confirmed in the catholic faith in Sacred Heart Church in Creole on Thursday, April 14.

The students are members of Sacred Heart Parish in Creole and Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish in Cameron. The confirmation ceremony will begin at 7 p.m., according to Msgr. M. J. Bernard, pastor of Sacred Heart Parish, and Msgr. Curtis Vidrine, pastor of Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish.

Members of the Serra Club of Lake charles will attend the ceremony and will present copies of The New Testament to each student being confirmed. Members of the Diocese of Lake Charles chapter of the Knights of St. Gregory the Great will be present to act as escorts for Bishop Speyrer and to represent the adult community of the diocese at large to show support for those being confirmed.

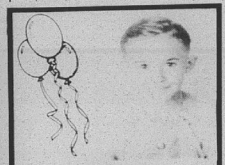
The students of Sacred Heart Parish have been preparing for confirmation under the direction of Msgr. Bernard and Uland Guidry, while those from Our Lady Star of the Sea Parish were prepared by Robert Lalande and Msgr. Vidrine.

Following the confirmation ceremony there will be a reception in the Sacred Heart Life Center, according to Msgr. Bernard.

Cowbelles make plans

Plans for upcoming events were discussed at the monthly meeting of the Cameron Parish Cowbelles Wednesday.

Shirley Bonsall reported on the brand quilt the club is making featuring 50 local brands, which have all been sold. Each person paid $25 to have their brand put on a quilt block and club members will hold a quilting bee to make the quilt. When it is completed all of the participants will have their name put in a drawing and the name drawn will get the quilt.



Mrs. Bonsall also reported on the Ag-Day project of releasing 100 helium filled balloons with the Cattleman slogan, "Real food for real people-Beef", on them.

Mavola Wicke reported on the Beef Month project. Material and beef receipes were distributed at stores, schools, 4-H clubs, to FFA members, etc.

The Cameron Parish Police Jury also passed a resolution declaring March as "Beef Month".

Mrs. Mae Ann Theriot was appointed to head the "Beef for Father's Day" project when a beef roast will be presented to a father at a supper the club will have.

Mrs. Norma Jean Blake urged club members to attend the American National Cattlewomen workshop in Lafayette April 20-22.

TENNIS ANYONE?

ANNOUNCING. . .

The RECREATION COMPLEX has completed the surfacing of 2 tennis courts. Two colors were used. The court's border is deep red and the interior court is dark green.

The surface is more than just a pleasing change. The material and process used in applying this surface allows the ball to grip the court which causes it to bounce higher and can also give you more speed by not allowing your shoes to slip.

This improvement to the courts will make the game easier to learn for the beginner and the experienced player will get more volleys, return the best of serves and work harder for every point. See you at the net!

DOUG KERSHAW, probably Cameron parish's most famous native, is still pulling them in--and appearing with Dolly--after more than 40 years in the entertainment business. He performed at a New Orleans dinner room recently.

television-night club career that has taken him all over the world, but Doug Kershaw, the "Louisiana Man" himself, has made the trip and is still riding high after 43 years in show business.

I got to meet Cameron Parish's best known "home town boy" recently when he was performing at New Orleans' Fairmont Hotel's Blue Room during the same time that I and my wife were in New Orleans for a convention.

Doug, very hospitable and friendly, was eager to talk about his upbringing in Cameron Parish and to tell of his experiences along the road to stardom.

Born in 1936 on a house boat at Teal Ridge (which is near Russell Landing and Lowery in northeast ... with his "Mama Rita" and brothers.

A few years later the family moved to where Russell Landing is now and Doug and his brothers attended the little Cameron Parish school at Lowery and later going on to high school in Lake Arthur and Jennings.

Having neither radio or TV, Doug was forced to create his own entertainment and started playing the fiddle with family members at the age of 5. He made his first "professional" appearance at the age of 9, playing in the old Bucket of Blood Club at Lake Arthur.

As a teenager he began writing songs that he and his brother Rusty recorded for a Crowley record ... and his brother began performing on a Lake Charles television station and their "Rusty and Doug Show" is still fondly remembered by thousands of people in this area who were enjoying their first television sets.

Two years later, Rusty and Doug took their act to West Virginia and a year later in 1957, they went on to "country music heaven"--the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn.

"I haven't played the Opry in quite awhile" Doug told me, "but I have an open invitation to play there any time I want to."

Doug spent two years in the ...

Did you also read how Louisiana shrimpers want to limit shrimping licenses so the ones with the license can make more money. They say we sold 6,000 more licenses in the last 10 years than previously. We see the imported shrimp taking over and some of our local shrimp buyers say their people don't want to buy as the prices are higher than imported prices.

I really enjoyed the message out-going Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries J. Burton Angelle Sr. wrote. It's true, Burt has done a lot of good in the 12 years he's been with Wildlife and Fisheries, but has seen a lot of things for the betterment of Louisiana, in which he was put off.

He goes along to say how we have always been a self-funded agency, talking about the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission. Things were bad way back, as I worked for the commission way back, then came the good old oil patch and then we doubled our license fees to keep the ball rolling. Now as the state general fund dries up, they want to share in the wildlife money, but we passed a constitutional amendment to keep this from happening. Now they say it doesn't go into effect before July 1, 1988, so the money of wildlife can still be used in the state's general fund.

I have asked the question, can or will they do this and the answer I got was no. I surely hope they don't mess with that money and I don't think the new governor will do anything to hurt Wildlife and Fisheries.

Let's keep our fingers crossed and hope for the best. The worst is the money borrowed from the fund by Edwin Edwards for the general fund and just be if life N born befo does This

IN MEMORY OF A SPECIAL FRIEND
ALLEN WAYNE VINCENT
(Four Year Member Of The SCHS RODEO CLUB)

He was a special friend to us all whatever the event
He helped, he yelled
He always went.

Allen Wayne we know you're watching
From your tower in the sky
To keep in touch with all below
'Cause you were such a passionate guy.

A kind, generous, energetic and truly loyal friend
Who epitomized the hopes of all
Somehow helps our hearts to mend

The emptiness caused by your absence
So felt in everybody's heart
We can only wait for the day
We'll join you in that heavenly resort.

All of us miss him a lot
With his laughter and joy
That he brought to each athlete
Both girl and boy

God needed an extra angel
and called Allen to his rest
It is comforting to know
He took the very best.

A few years later the family moved to where Russell Landing is now and Doug and his brothers attended the little Cameron Parish school at Lowery and later going on to high school in Lake Arthur and Jennings.

Having neither radio or TV, Doug was forced to create his own entertainment and started playing the fiddle with family members at the age of 5. He made his first "professional" appearance at the age of 9, playing in the old Bucket of Blood Club at Lake Arthur.

As a teenager he began writing songs that he and his brother Rusty recorded for a Crowley record [illegible] and his brother began performing on a Lake Charles television station and their "Rusty and Doug Show" is still fondly remembered by thousands of people in this area who were enjoying their first television sets.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT...

The fourth annual South Cameron High School Rodeo will be held this weekend at the Cameron Parish Rodeo Arena in Cameron and we truthfully believe that it will be one of the best high school rodeos in Louisiana this year.

This is due to the overwhelming support that we have received from every part of the community--the financial backing by parish business people and supporters, the volunteering of time by the many workers who are needed to put on such a show, the backing of the Police Jury who made the fine rodeo facilities available, the cooperation of the School Board and South Cameron high school officials with the rodeo club, and above all, the wonderful backing that we have received from the parents and the general public.

Without all of you, this rodeo could not be possible. On behalf of the South Cameron Rodeo Association and the South Cameron High SChool Rodeo Club, we say "our most heartfelt thanks to all of you!"

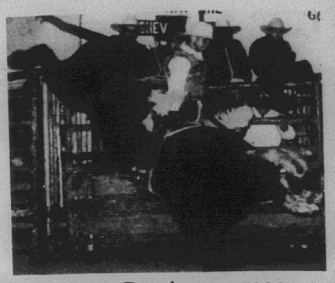
Iceberg 90 miles long . .?

By BERNICE DENNY

It would take a bit of imagination on our part here in Cameron to picture an iceberg 90 miles long. However, one this size broke off the Ross Ice Shelf in Antarctica last October. It is now traveling toward the shipping lanes in a northwesterly direction at the rate of about a tenth of a mile per hour.

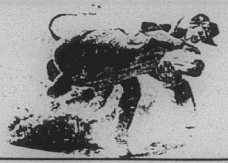


This iceberg, called B-9 by glaciologists--short for Berg 9--carried away nearly a half-year's snowfall from Antarctica. Because of the immensity of this body of ice, it is believed to have caused the oceans of the world to have risen the thickness of ten playing cards.

Meterologists and oceanographers are watching B-9 carefully. They are deeply concerned about the link between global climate, polar ice, and sea level. B-9's course is daily tracked by satellite.

Many predecessors of B-9 were much larger. In 1956, there was one 200 miles long and 60 miles wide. It covered an area of 12,000 square miles--larger than the country of Belgium.

The larger the berg the smaller its outer surface in proportion to its tonnage. Pound for pound less heat gets into the big berg through its exposed surfaces from sun, atmosphere, and sea.



Will B-9 interfere with ships in the southern shipping lanes? It will be interesting to watch its manouvers in the months ahead.

MORE REGULATIONS

We keep seeing new rules and regulations. If the river state in Kinder is 12 feet, out oyster people cannot oyster. Our shrimpers have to pull a Turtle Excluder Device, to protect a few turtles, and just on the other side of the Gulf, Mexico kills these same turtles just for the eggs. (Our Spanish and king mackerel are limited. Our redfish lost its suntan (blackened redfish) as the season is closed.)

Did you also read how Louisiana shrimpers want to limit shrimpinglicenses so the ones with the license can make more money. They say we sold 6,000 more licenses in the last 10 years than previously. We see the imported shrimp taking over and some of our local shrimp buyers say their people don't want to buy as the prices are higher than imported prices.

I really enjoyed the message out-going Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries J. Burton Angelle Sr. wrote. It's true, Burt has done a lot of good in the 12 years he's been with Wildlife and Fisheries, but has seen a lot of things for the betterment of Louisiana, in which he was put off.

He goes along to say how we have always been a self-funded agency, talking about the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission. Things were bad way back, as I worked for the commission way back, then came the good old oil patch and then we doubled our license fees to keep the ball rolling. Now as the state general fund dries up, they want to share in the wildlife money, but we passed a constitutional amendment to keep this from happening.

Now they say it doesn't go into effect before July 1, 1988, so the money of wildlife can still be used in the state's general fund.

I have asked the question, can or will they do this and the answer I got was no. I surely hope they don't mess with that money and I don't think the new governor will do anything to hurt Wildlife and Fisheries.

Let's keep our fingers crossed and hope for the best. The worst is Open ranges brought the first settlers to parish

By GENEVA GRIFFITH

It was the lure of free open range and lush marsh grasses on which cattle could graze that brought the first settlers to Cameron Parish.

JOHNSON FAMILY

Daniel Johnson first came to Johnson Bayou from Sabine Pass, Texas in 1789. He and his wife Susanne Day Johnson sailed along Sabine Lake hunting for a suitable place on which to build their home. His wife chose one place on an inlet, or bayou, and Johnson chose another, with higher land, on which they settled. To this day the two bayous carry the names of "Madame Johnson" after Mrs. Johnson and "Johnson's Bayou" after Daniel.

The Johnsons had a large 2-story home on the north high ridge above Deep Bayou in 1790 and established a cattle ranch.

In 1821 a petition for settlement by Anglo-Americans was made to the governor of the Mexican territory, of which Texas was a part. Johnson Bayou was a part of the "Rio Hondo", the No Man's land between the Sabine and Calcasieu Rivers. Land grants could be obtained until Mexico halted immigration in 1830.

Early settlers were the Griffiths, Greens and Berrys.

GRIFFITH FAMILY

Henry Griffith was born in Washington County, Pennsylvania in 1797. His family were direct descendants of Llewellyn, the last King of Wales, who was the son of Griffith, whose father was Llewellyn the Great, King of Wales who was mortally wounded in a battle with the English in 1282.

He arrived in Louisiana in 1819 and settled on Johnson Bayou, having first laid claim to all of Johnson Bayou from the Calcasieu River to Sabine Lake to start a cattle industry.

In 1824 he married Amelia Barrow, the daughter of Ruben Barrow and Jane Johnson (who was the daughter of the Daniel Johnson.).

The Griffiths built a large two story house facing the Gulf of Mexico and visitors came to stay for weeks at a time, being entertained by gambling, bull fights, horse racing, and bronco busting.

Barrels of whiskey with cups all around the barrel were always handy, along with good food.

He is said to have entertained the legendary Jean LaFitte and Jim Bowie in his home. Bowie had joined in a partnership with LaFitte to smuggle slaves into the country to be sold on the auction block in New Orleans.

In 1825 Griffith went to Texas and chose a site for a second home on the southwest side of the Trinity River aboue Anahuac, known as Old River Cove.

He applied for a Spanish Land Grant and received it in 1830. He lived and reared seven children here six months out of the year, also operating a blacksmith shop run by slaves and paid Mexican labor on his League of Chambers County land. The other six months of the year he lived in his home on Johnson Bayou.

In order to secure a land grant a person had to live on the property for at least six months out of the year.

CATTLE DRIVES

He would drive his cattle, crossing the Sabine River at Blue Buck Point over to Sabine Pass, then down the beach to his Texas property, then to market.

He became a great friend of McFadden, for whom McFadden Beach was named, between Sabine and Galveston. They would join in cattle drives to get their cattle to summer and winter pastures and to market. He was later to also secure a land grant of the League of Land in Wharten County, Texas on which to graze his cattle herds.

Part of his family was to remain on Johnson Bayou and the others on their Texas land.

During the Civil War, Union soldiers forced the Griffiths to butcher some of their cattle for meat to feed the army.

One of Griffith's sons, Joshua, was a boat pilot and was captured by the "Yankees" and forced to pilot a gun boat across the Sabine Bar.

He somehow escaped and made his way back to his home and hid out in the marsh, fed and protected by family members, until the northern troops were repulsed by the Confederates.

Henry Griffith died on his 4,036 acres in Texas, just as the Civil War came to an end, and was buried next to his beloved wife, Milly, in Old River Cove.

LABOVE FAMILY

About the same time James Momroe and Robert Livingston were transacting the sale of the Louisiana Territory in France, the Oak Grove community was settled in 1803 by the Demosthene LaBove Family.

They came to clear the land to raise cotton and livestock. The Bayou leading from the Mermentau River to Oak Grove was named LaBove Bayou after LaBove.

It was not until 1840 that the far eastern end of Oak Grove, near the Bluff of the Mermentau River, was settled by Mrs. Martha Yokum Rutherford.

She had come from Rutherford County, Tennessee with her family, including two brothers, her children and her husband.

Her husband died along the way and the remainder of the family continued on to their destination and to fulfill their dream of settling the land, raising cotton, cattle and oranges.

From this family came the Meauxs, the Welches and the Griffiths, who still reside in the area and have built large individual herds of cattle.

WELCH FAMILIES

Captain James Monroe Welch, who ran a river schooner delivering goods along the coast had docked at the Bluff to offload supplies from Galveston, Texas and had caught the eye of young Martha Rutherford.

She sent one of her slaves on board the schooner to inquire about some supplies from Captain Welch, which insued into a romance that ended in marriage.

They set up a cattle ranch at the Bluff, just west of where the present Mermentau River bridge to Grand Chenier stands today.

Welch served in the Civil War in Griffin's batallion at Sabine Pass and also ran wooden gun ships for the Confederacy to Campochie Mexico to secure arms.

Welch also served in the Louisiana legislature, in addition to his ranching operations. He was highly educated and spoke 5 languages.

Cattlemen in this area moved their cattle to the Cheniere Aux Tigre area for winter grazing.

CATLE DRIVES

These famous cattle drives would take place in the late fall and the herds of cattle would be driven down Hackberry beach, where they would swim across the river and inlets they had to cross. The cowboys who accompanied them on the week's drive would sleep out on the beach at night and eat the food they had brought in their knap sacks.

Meanwhile, the Eastern part of the parish had been discovered and even though it was a vast uninhabited land, families began to migrate there to establish farms and ranches. They reached Grand Chenier by poling flat boats down the Mermentau River in around 1932.

Milledge McCall had married Sarah Martin from Hinds County, Mississippi and some of their first children were born there, then they moved to St Martinville, before they moved down the Mermentau to homestead the Grand Chenier land.

These brave people came into this no-man's land to brave the mosquito swarms and tropical hurricanes to build their cypress pegged homes and start their new life on the frontier.

Isolation was the order of the day and cane grinders, syrup cooking pans, corn mills, spinning and weaving equipment were essential tools in their existence in living off the land.

MORE FAMILIES

More families bagan to move in to Grand Chenier as a part of the movement westward from the Carolinas and Georgia and others who came down the Mississippi River, such as the Dolands, Weatherals, and Sweeneys, etc.

McCall's father, Jessie, had owned most of Avery Island and believed in education for this children, with a stipulation in his will that they each be provided with ample money for an education.

Milledge was educated to be a doctor and became the first doctor on Grand Chenier.

While these settlers were establishing homesites in the southern part of the parish, the French were exploring the ridges to the north, trying to quench their thirst for adventure.

Jean Vileor Theriot had moved into the Lake Arthur area from St. Martinville and later established a claim at Palm-A-Royal, southwest of Lake Arthur.

However, this did not fulfill his dream of a vacherie.

He was seeking more grazing lands to care for his herd of cattle when he wandered down the Mermentau River and in and out of many small streams and bayous when he came upon his dream place on which he built his home.

CHENIER PERDU

He named it Chenier Perdu, meaning "Lost Oak" because of its topography.

After surveying the virgin, uninhabited land, he returned home eager to disclose his newly found fortune.

His wife, the former Clonise Richard, and a son moved into the area in 1847 by skiff by way of Grand Lake, the Mermentau,and Cattail Bayou, landing on the northern side of Chenier Perdu, establishing his home, where the remainder of his family was born.

Once his family was settled, his friends and relatives drove his herd of cattle from Lake Arthur to Grand Lake where the animals swam the narrow western bayou and then followed the west banks of the Mermemtau River to Chenier Perdu.

CATTLE TRAIL

Thus was established the cattle trail that was to be used for many years afterward to drive the steers annually to the cattle markets in Lake Arthur and Mermentau.

Vileor's small herd was to be the beginning of a very large cattle business which over the ensuing years was to grow and flourish on this remote chenier, far exceeding agriculture.

Nonc V'eor, as he was affectinately known, was not a lone settler for very long.

He was soon accompanied by James Dyson, Armegene Conner, and two of his brothers Dolzie and Adolph, who had likewise outgrown the Lake Arthur settlement and headed for the lush green chenier lands.

These early settlers were soon joined by the Italian stowaway, Bartholomie Baccigalopi, who had jumped overboard of his ship and made his way to Vileor's home, who welcomed him to the wild domain of Southwest Louisiana.

These rugged characters overcame the wilds of the vast marshes and soon found a small self-sustaining community seemingly in the midst of nowhere.

They grew cotton, sugar cane, and vegetables of every sort and soon accumulated a thriving cattle raising business.

GOLDEN ERA

A very lasting mark which the great herds of these early days carved out of the marsh and which remains today as a reminder of the "golden" cattle era on Chenier Perdu is the narrow canal that winds its way from the eastern end of the ridge to the Mermentau river.

What had once been a trail here in the marsh was eventually hollowed out and deepened into a canal by the heavy trampling of the large herds of cattle driven annually over the trail to the edge of the Mermentau, then along the west banks northward to the cattle markets.

For over half a century, the canal provided the residents of Chenier Perdu, East Creole and Creole with a link to the Mermentau River and the outside world.

The Civil War years had its impact on this remote segment of the country also.

The Confederate government ordered Vileor to supply the troops of the area with beef, an order which he obeyed faithfully throughout the rampage.

This small community began to grow and soon became a hubbub pf activity.

URSIN PRIMEAUX

So in 1849 Ursin Primeaux in Breaux Bridge, hearing of this paradise, sailed to see this unknown land by skiff down the Mermentau.

He passed up the Chenier Perdu settlement and ventured on about ten miles to a high shell knoll which he claimed and settled.

He barged lumber from Lake Arthur and built a settlement to include a cotton gin, a sugar cane mill, a grist mill and weaving operation.

and his wife moved into the present Creole area and was soon joined by others from the eastern extremity of the area.

In the early settlements brandings were major events and were the forerunners of the modern day rodeos.

Cowboys and often their families would

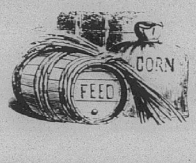
Hauling saddles across river gather for several days to roundup the cattle and brand and earmark them.

The Cattle business was of secondary importance to him, yet it was a "Must" because most of the labor on the farm was done by oxen teams.



They were a multi-purpose animal because they also afforded a means of transportation, plus a supply of meat.

Some of the same cattle herds that have remained with family members are descendants of the very first herds to come to the area.

Ursin soon had many followers and the Brousards, Boudoins, Michons, Benoit, Trahan and Clement families moved in.

Oil activity, a vast fur industry, and recently an alligator industry has come into the area to add to the income, as well as to the hunting of wildlife. However, cattle brought the first pioneers to this area.

In 1855, another pioneer, Sosthene Richard

MORE REGULATIONS

We keep seeing new rules and regulations. If the river state in Kinder is 12 feet, out oyster people cannot oyster. Our shrimpers have to pull a Turtle Excluder Device, to protect a few turtles, and just on the other side of the Gulf, Mexico kills these same turtles just for the eggs. (Our Spanish and king mackerel are limited. Our redfish lost its suntan (blackened redfish) as the season is closed.)

Did you also read how Louisiana shrimpers want to limit shrimpinglicenses so the ones with the license can make more money. They say we sold 6,000 more licenses in the last 10 years than previously. We see the imported shrimp taking over and some of our local shrimp buyers say their people don't want to buy as the prices are higher than imported prices.

I really enjoyed the message out-going Secretary of Wildlife and Fisheries J. Burton Angelle Sr. wrote. It's true, Burt has done a lot of good in the 12 years he's been with Wildlife and Fisheries, but has seen a lot of things for the betterment of Louisiana, in which he was put off.

He goes along to say how we have always been a self-funded agency, talking about the Louisiana Wildlife and Fisheries Commission. Things were bad way back, as I worked for the commission way back, then came the good old oil patch and then we doubled our license fees to keep the ball rolling. Now as the state general fund dries up, they want to share in the wildlife money, but we passed a constitutional amendment to keep this from happening. Now they say it doesn't go into effect before July 1, 1988, so the money of wildlife can still be used in the state's general fund.

I have asked the question, can or will they do this and the answer I got was no. I surely hope they don't mess with that money and I don't think the new governor will do anything to hurt Wildlife and Fisheries.

Let's keep our fingers crossed and hope for the best. The worst is the money borrowed from the fund

Longhorn cattle sale planned at meeting

Plans were made for the upcoming Cajun Longhorn Classic sale at Burton Coliseum, Saturday, May 7. 72 lots will be offered and will include cows, bulls and steers. These animals can be viewed Friday afternoon, May 6.

Beginning at 3 p.m., May 6, is the first annual world qualifying show, featuring seven female classes which will be shown loose in the arena and three bull classes shown at halter. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hoff and Mr. and Mrs. Kaso Kety are in charge of this new event.

The pre-sale party committee, Norma Blake, Roberta Broussard, Connie LeBlanc and Gail Juranka, discussed the arrangements for the pre-sale party Friday evening at the Chateau Charles Hotel, headquarters for the Longhorn breeders. Music will be provided by Jerry Wayne and the Teardrops, featuring Barro on the accordian.

Out of town members attending were: Tommy and Laura Frye, Natchitoches; Gary and Coleen Dunn, Boyce; Riemer and Marcia Calhoun, Mansfield; Larry and Sandra Taylor, Lufkin, Tex.; Wayne Dubose and Norman Hoff, Jasper, Tex.

The Blakes, along with Mr. and Mrs. Charlie LeBlanc and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Juranka hosted a hamburger lunch.

DOUG KERSHAW, probably Cameron parish's most famous native, is still pulling them in--and appearing with Dolly--after more than 40 years in the entertainment business. He performed at a New Orleans dinner room recently.

It's a long way from Teal Ridge in Cameron Parish to a radio-television-night club career that has taken him all over the world, but Doug Kershaw, the "Louisiana Man" himself, has made the trip and is still riding high after 43 years in show business.

I got to meet Cameron Parish's best known "home town boy" recently when he was performing at New Orleans' Fairmont Hotel's Blue Room during the same time that I and my wife were in New Orleans for a convention.

Doug, very hospitable and friendly, was eager to talk about his upbringing in Cameron Parish and to tell of his experiences along the road to stardom.

Born in 1936 on a house boat at Teal Ridge (which is near Russell Landing and Lowery in northeast Louisiana Man", as he fished with his father and struggled to survive with his "Mama Rita" and brothers.

A few years later the family moved to where Russell Landing is now and Doug and his brothers attended the little Cameron Parish school at Lowery and later going on to high school in Lake Arthur and Jennings.

Having neither radio or TV, Doug was forced to create his own entertainment and started playing the fiddle with family members at the age of 5. He made his first "professional" appearance at the age of 9, playing in the old Bucket of Blood Club at Lake Arthur.

As a teenager he began writing songs that he and his brother Rusty recorded for a Crowley record ten but says they must be "in the thousands."

In 1954 at the age of 18, Doug and his brother began performing on a Lake Charles television station and their "Rusty and Doug Show" is still fondly remembered by thousands of people in this area who were enjoying their first television sets.

Two years later, Rusty and Doug took their act to West Virginia and a year later in 1957, they went on to "country music heaven"--the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn.

"I haven't played the Opry in quite awhile" Doug told me, "but I have an open invitation to play there any time I want to."

DRIVE A DIESEL OVER YOUR LAWN.

It looks like a mower. It cuts grass like a mower. But the Kubota G is much more. It's the first lawn and garden tractor of such remarkably small size to have a diesel engine.

There are five different G tractor models, including the G3200 you see here. It has a strong, 10 horsepower 2-cylinder diesel engine and a live front PTO shaft drive to the mower.

Rodeo proceeds aids members

The South Cameron Rodeo Association will sponsor the fourth annual South Cameron High School Rodeo Friday and Saturday, April 15, and 16, at the Cameron Parish Rodeo Arena near Cameron.

The funds from the rodeo go to support the local high school rodeo team. Last year they sponsored all members who made it to the Louisiana State Finals in Sulphur by paying their entry fees.

Also they sponsored all members who made it to the National Finals Rodeo in Pueblo, Colorado by giving each member a cash token to be used for their trip to Colorado. This team consisted of Jennifer Canik, Scottie Primeaux, Chad Mudd, Jimmy Saltzman, Ken Mudd, Carlotta (TuTu) LaBove.

They also were able to give a small cash token to the team members who made the National Little Britches finals in Colorado Springs, Colo. These team members were Carl Murphy, David Montie, Kendall Portie, Trey Picou, Adrienne Picou, Jerry Corley, Jodie Mudd and Sarah Henry.

Each high school rodeo team member is given a school vest to wear throughout the year to show support for their school, club and parish. These members are also given a rodeo team jacket to keep after they have completed their first year of rodeoing.

DOUG KERSHAW, probably Cameron parish's most famous native, is still pulling them in--and appearing with Dolly--after more than 40 years in the entertainment business. He performed at a New Orleans dinner room recently.

It's a long way from Teal Ridge in Cameron Parish to a radio-television-night club career that has taken him all over the world, but Doug Kershaw, the "Louisiana Man" himself, has made the trip and is still riding high after 43 years in show business.

I got to meet Cameron Parish's best known "home town boy" recently when he was performing at New Orleans' Fairmont Hotel's Blue Room during the same time that I and my wife were in New Orleans for a convention.

Doug, very hospitable and friendly, was eager to talk about his upbringing in Cameron Parish and to tell of his experiences along the road to stardom.

Born in 1936 on a house boat at Teal Ridge (which is near Russell Landing and Lowery in northeast siana Man", as he fished with his father and struggled to survive with his "Mama Rita" and brothers.

A few years later the family moved to where Russell Landing is now and Doug and his brothers attended the little Cameron Parish school at Lowery and later going on to high school in Lake Arthur and Jennings.

Having neither radio or TV, Doug was forced to create his own entertainment and started playing the fiddle with family members at the age of 5. He made his first "professional" appearance at the age of 9, playing in the old Bucket of Blood Club at Lake Arthur.

As a teenager he began writing songs that he and his brother Rusty recorded for a Crowley record ten but says they must be "in the thousands."

In 1954 at the age of 18, Doug and his brother began performing on a Lake Charles television station and their "Rusty and Doug Show" is still fondly remembered by thousands of people in this area who were enjoying their first television sets.

Two years later, Rusty and Doug took their act to West Virginia and a year later in 1957, they went on to "country music heaven"--the Grand Ole Opry in Nashville, Tenn.

"I haven't played the Opry in quite awhile" Doug told me, "but I have an open invitation to play there any time I want to."

MORE REGULATIONS

We keep seeing new rules and regulations. If the river state in Kinder is 12 feet, out oyster people cannot oyster. Our shrimpers have to pull a Turtle Excluder Device, to protect a few turtles, and just on the other side of the Gulf, Mexico kills these same turtles just for the eggs. (Our Spanish and king mackerel are limited. Our redfish lost its suntan (blackened redfish) as the season is closed.)

Did you also read how Louisiana shrimpers want to limit shrimpinglicenses so the ones with the license can make more n They say we sold 6,000 licenses in the last 10 years previously. We see the imp shrimp taking over and so our local shrimp buyers say people don't want to buy a prices are higher than imp prices.

I really enjoyed the me out-going Secretary of W and Fisheries J. Burton A Sr. wrote. It's true, Burt has a lot of good in the 12 years been with Wildlife and Fish but has seen a lot of things f betterment of Louisiana, in v he was put off.

He goes along to say hov have always been a self-fu agency, talking about the Lou na Wildlife and Fisheries C mission. Things were bad back, as I worked for the com sion way back, then came the old oil patch and then we dou our license fees to keep the rolling. Now as the state ger fund dries up, they want to s in the wildlife money, but passed a constitutional am ment to keep this from happen

Now they say it doesn't go into effect before July 1, 1988, so the money of wildlife can still be used in the state's general fund.

I have asked the question, can or will they do this and the answer I got was no. I surely hope they don't mess with that money and I don't think the new governor will do anything to hurt Wildlife and Fisheries.

Let's keep our fingers crossed and hope for the best. The worst is the money borrowed from the fund by Edwin Edwards for the general

MRS. CORAL Perry, President of Cameron Parish Historical Society, W. T. Block, Beaumont, Texas historian and author, and Mrs. Gay Reeves, curator of the Leesburg Museum are shown above. Block was the speaker at the Historical Society meeting held Monday night at the museum.

Historian speaks to local group

W. T. Block, a Beaumont, Texas author and historian reviewed an article on the pirates of the Sabine, Calcasieu and Mermentau rivers in Cameron Parish at the meeting of the Cameron Parish historical Society Monday night at the Leesburg museum.

Mr. Block traced the routes of the pirate Jean Lafitte in the area, with proof from Lafitte's original journal, now on display in a Texas historical museum.

He associated him with some of the earliest settlers, who first came to Calcasieu and Cameron parishes.

Mrs. Coral Perry, Society president, introduced Mr. Block and praised his historical writings on Southwest Louisiana and Southeast Texas.

Mrs. Gay Reeves, curator of the Leesburg Museum explained that many of Block's works are on permanent display at the local museum,, which is open to the public each Wednesday in Cameron, east of the Cameron courthouse.

Bus drivers have formed a union

The Cameron Parish School Bus drivers have formed a union in conjuction with the Calcasieu School Bus Drivers to oppose the Governors Educatinal Advisory Committee's proposed changes involving school transportation.

The committee recommended that the state funded portion of school transportation costs be cut 30 million over the next three year. The $10 million per year saving would be reallocated to the classroom.

Among the recommendatins made by the advisory committee were:

*Adopt a base number of miles to be driven (currently there is no minimum)

*Stagger school times to allow more routes by each driver.

*Revise benefits for school bus drives (All new bus drivers would be hired under a new, more modest benefits package not including tenure, and with reduced substitute driver benefits)

*Mandate a new salary schedule for all new drivers hired.

*Increase the distance which local systems may transport high school students from 1 to 2 miles.

Mrs. Sybil Myers, president of the Calcasieu Parish School Bus Drivers Union, met with the local group Thursday in Cameron to discuss the proposed changes.

She pointed out that Louisiana has the best driving record for bus drivers of any state. She said she is afraid that if something is not done now Louisiana might follow the lead of some states who allow 16 and 17 year old students to drive buss s.

Various avenues were explored to make up for the proposed cuts to the school bus drivers if implemented, including new taxes.

The matter will be coming up the second week of the legislature in Baton Rouge.

Officers of the local union are Loretta Seay, president; Winston Theriot, vice-president; Connie trahan, secretary; and Jessye Roux, treasurer.

A petition is being passed opposing the proposed cuts. A copy will be at the local Radio Shack store.

Board will pay $50 on insurance

The Cameron Parish School Board met in Special Session on Wednesday, April 6 to take action on employee medical insurance.

The medical insurance problem has been discussed by the Board now for three months.

The Board approved specifications to advertise for bids on medical insurance for employees.

After a lenghty discussion the Board, upon recommendation of superintendent Thomas McCall, agreed to pay $50 per month toward the single rate premium.

Arnold Jones and Preston Richard voted against the motion.

Mr. Jones and Mrs. Richard both stated the possibility of a lower tax base in the future due to the state of the economy. This was a great concern to them.

Other Board Members agreed that in future years if income received by the Board from all sources made the insurance contribution impossible, then employees would have to pay all or a greater portion of the premium.

New fund raiser idea--cow bingo

The Cameron Parish Chapter of the American Cancer Society has come up with a unique idea for their 1988 fund drive next month, according to Nell Colligan, procedures chairman for the local unit.

It is called "Let the Chips Fall as they May."

The fund raising event consists of a cow on a football size "pasture" (actually, they will use one of the ball fields at the new Cameron Recreation Center).

The field will be sectioned off into 200 squares and two hundred tickets will be sold for $25 each for each square.

The cow will be let loose on the field on June 12 at 3 p.m. and the first square she drops a "chip" on will be the winning square and the one holding the winning square will be awarded $1,000. (The chip is exactly what you imagine).

There will be a concession stand set up at the field to sell cold drinks and food, with Cancer Society and Cameron Cowbelles manning the booth.

Shawn Bonsall, a member of the Grand Chenier 4-H club has donated the use of his prize brahman heifer to be used in the event. She will be decked out in her Sunday best and her name will be "Cancer-Belle."

Jody Roberts is the chairman of this fund raising drive and community chairmen from which tickets may be purchased are: Mrs. Gerald Touchette, Holly Beach; Mrs. Diane Price, Johnson Bayou; Mrs. Sissy Penny, Hackberry; Mrs. Roberts, Cameron; Mrs. Shirley Bonsall, Grand Chenier; Mrs. Shirley Chesson, Grand Lake; and Mrs. Nell Colligan, School Board Office.

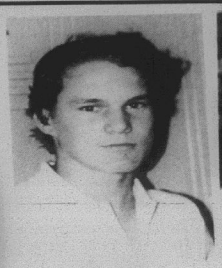
TED law stopped for time being

A federal judge has ordered the government to stop requiring that shrimpers nationwide use turtle excluder devices pending a 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruling on a Louisiana challenge to the regulations, officials said last week.

Shrimpers contend the TEDs are expensive, cumbersome to use, and will drastically cut the size of their catch. Environmentalists say they are necessary to protect endangered and threatened species of turtles.

In his ruling Tueseday, U. S. District Court Judge Patrick Carr of New Orleans said shrimpers have had trouble obtaining the TEDs or adquate training in their use.

The Louisiana attorney general's office and Concerned Shrimpers of Louisiana are challenging the regulations, contending the rules are arbitrary, capricious and not supported by the records of the National Marine Fisheries Service.



In granting the injunction, Carr ruled "the plaintiffs have demonstrated the balance of equities are heavily tilted" in their favor.

There will be a meeting of the Concerned Shrimpers Association at 1 p.m., Thursday, April 27 at the Thibodaux Civic Center to discuss the TED situation.

Volunteers for hospital meeting set

Persons interested in organizing an adult/teen volunteer program at South Cameron Memorial Hospital, are invited to attend an organizational meeting Wednesday, April 27 t 2 p.m. at the hospital.

The Cameron Council on Aging assistance for transportation is available if requested in advance. For further information contact C. Fontenot, Director of Nurses at 542-4111.

Rodeo winners are told here

Joey Gray of Hackberry and Shelly Corbello of Iowa won the All Around Cowboy and Cowgirl awards at the annual South Cameron High School Rodeo held at the Cameron parish Rodeo Arena April 15-16.

Benji Fontenot of Reeves and Liz Hessifer of Sulphur won the All Around runnerup awards.

Michelle Paul of Sibley was crowned the 1988 queen of the South Cameron High School Rodeo this past weekend. She also received the Horsemanship Award. Christi Denison of Iowa was chosen first runner-up and Stacy Perry of Grand Chenier received second runner-up. Miss Perry also won the Miss Congeniality Award. Becky Kelly of Sulphur won the Judges Award.

Other contestants included Missy Ewing and Pamela Benoit, both of Moss Bluff.

The contestants were judged on modeling, poise, knowledge of rodeo rules and regulations and horsemanship.

Judges were Judy Gremillion, Anna Duhon, of Sulphur; May Doris Little, Hackberry; and Ben West, Leesville.

Crowning the new queen was Pamela Bennett, of Moss Bluff, who is the National Miss College Rodeo Queen, filling in for Jamie Hagan, 1987 SCHS Rodeo Queen.

Oystering is extended

During the special session of the Legislature held during the latter part of March, Rep. Randy Roach and Senator Jack Doland were successful in sponsoring a resolution allowing the Calcasieu Lake oyster season to be extended 32 days.

Originally, the Calcasieu Lake oyster season was set to close March 29. However, due to the passage of the above resolution, the season continued and will not close until April 30. This provided two additional days in March and 30 in April (or 32 days total).

The restriction that oyster fishermen can only fish when the Calcasieu River at Kinder is 12 feet or below remains in effect for the entire extension.

As of April 7, the oyster season had been open 150 total days. Only 65 of those days were open to fishing (43%) and 85 days were close due to high water levels in the Calcasieu River (57%).

Representative Roach and Senator Doland plan to pass legislation during the 1988 Regular Session that will permanently set up the structure necessary to extend the oyster season in future years without a year to year resolution.

C.C. meeting

There will be a meeting of the Coastal Concern Thursday, April 28 at 7 p.m. in the Police Jury Annex.

Among the items of business to be addressed is voting on the new by-laws and the board of directors.

Also, proposed legislation on the upcoming session of the legislature will be discussed.

Local church sets program

The Pastor, Kirby Alfred, Sr., officers, and members of Macedonia Baptist Church of Cameron will hold their third annual pastor's aide program Sunday, April 24 at 3 p.m.

Supt. Alfred Perry of the Macedonia Church Of God In Christ of Sulphur and Bargeman Memorial COGIC in Cameron, will be the guest ministers.

Also there will be a Pre-pastor's aide night, Friday, April 22 at 7:30 p.m. Bro. John Noel will be the guest speaker. Everyone is invited to attend.

Applications to be taken

The Cameron Community Action Agency will begin taking new applications for USDA donated food distributed to needy families under the Temporary Emergency Food Assistance Program. All households who desire to participate or continue to participate must commplete a new statement of eligibility in order to receive commodities after June 30.

New applications will be taken April 25 through May 30 from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Cameron Senior Center, Cameron.

An applicant must be a resident of Cameron parish.

An applicant must meet one of the following criteria and documentation of eligibility must be available.

A. Combined gross income of all persons in applicant's household must meet certain guidelines.

B. Applicant's household is composed solely of food stamp recipients.

C. Applicant receives supplemental security income.

D. Applicant's household receives general assistance or aid to families with dependent children.

Doug Kershaw still a Cajun super star

army from 1958 to 1960, and he and Rusty continued to play together after that until 1965 when they went their separate ways. (Rusty now lives in New Orleans and has a band that plays in the French Quarter.)

Doug's career really took off in 1969 when he put out his first Warner Bros album and his friend Johnny Cash invited him on his TV show along with folk singer Bob Dylan.

"Boy did that ever shoot my career up," Doug said. "I was on about every TV show there was for about 10 years after that."

For the past nearly 20 years, the career of Doug Kershaw has been one that any entertainer would be proud of. He has made some 25 albums and currently is making a new one.

He has been in several movies, including "Zachariah," "Medicine Ball Caravan" and "Days of Heaven." The latter, in which he played his fiddle, won high acclaim from the critics.

Doug said he will start filming a new movie, "Force of Justice" in May in which he will play a dramatic role. The plot is this:

"Two brothers go into Mexico and the police trump up charges on one of them and won't release them unless they pay a "humongous" ransom. I'm a colonel in a mercenary army that goes in to rescue them."

Also in the film will be Larry Wilcox ("the blond headed guy in "Chips").

But the bulk of Doug's time is taken up in personal appearances around the country and Europe. He said he was on the road for 40 weeks last year but hopes to cut back to 35 this year.

He is still making appearances on television and will be on the Dolly Parton show on July 30. (A portion of the show was filmed in the New Orleans area.)

Asked about his personal life, Doug said that his marriage, which was performed some years ago in the AstroDome in Houston, is still going strong and he and his wife now have three sons, ages 12, 9 and 1 1/2.

The family lives on a ranch near Greeley, Colorado north of Denver, and they raise a few Arabian horses and calves "for the kids".

Doug reported he is starting a new enterprise that will reflect his south Louisiana upbringing--a Cajun restaurant which he is opening in the Old Union Pacific depot that he bought in Greeley. If it does well, he plans to franchise a chain of Cajun restaurants.

Asked about the rest of his family, Doug said that his mother, "Mama Rita" still lives in Jennings and he has a brother, Peewee, who lives in Galveston. He also said he had "boocoo" of kinfolks in Hackberry, including an uncle, aunts and lots of cousins.

A few years ago Doug purchased the old home place of his grandfather, the late Albert Broussard, at Big Lake and goes there from time to time.

That evening at his show in the Blue Room, you could easily see why Doug Kershaw has kept his audience all of these years. He put in more than an hour of energetic fiddle playing and singing ("Diggy Liggy Lo", "Battle of New Orleans," "Louisiana Man") and then switched to the guitar for the Cajun "National Anthem"--"Jolie Blon"and then to the accordian for "Bourbon Street Queen."

One table of listeners got into the spirit of the French music so much that Doug went over to tell them "you're having too much fun!" When he asked them where they were from, they replied "Cut Off" and Doug indicated that they were his kind of people.

It has been a long way and a bit of time from Teal Ridge in Cameron Parish to stardom but Doug Kershaw is still on that road and enjoying every minute of it.

Support needed for history book

By GAY DYSON REEVES

The sales for "The History of Cameron Parish" have not been encouraging. We began advertising the book in June of 1986, and as of this date we have pre-sold 173 copies. We must pre-sell 600 copies in order to have the book published. The book will be 8½" by 11" in size with about 400 pages. This is a community, non-profit, project.

The history of Cameron Parish is primarily of interest to people living in Cameron Parish. We can't expect other parishes to fund this project. We will never be in a better position to accomplish this dream of having our own parish history book. The book has been written by Cameron Parish people about Cameron Parish people and events.

Because of current economic conditions, no public agency can afford to fund this project for us. No publisher is going to publish it for us without a pre-sale.

Cameron Parish did not exist as a political division until 1870. Before that our land was a part of Calcasieu Parish. Cameron Parish is 118 years old. We have our own history, our own folk tales, our own special identity and memories. These will not be recalled by other parishes. We now have our own parish museum. Let's work together and publish our own parish history book.

The manuscript for the book can be examined in the Leesburg Museum in Cameron on Wednesdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The total cost of one copy is $60. You may reserve your copy by sending $20 with your name, address, and phone number to: Cameron Parish History Book, P.O. Box D, Cameron, La. 70631. The difference of $40 may be paid when the book is published.

If you have further questions, please write, or call 775-5228.

MUSING. . .

By Bernice Denny

Good-humored, kindly laughter lightens the spirits as baking powder does the biscuits. Laughter--in the right key and at the right moment and for the right reason--enlivens the whole day.

Man is the only living being endowed with the power of laughter. Animals moan when they suffer; some even weep; but none can laugh. Does not man's ability to laugh say something about his superiority over othe earthly creatures?

And doesn't the ability of a man to laugh at himself say something about his superiority over the man who can laugh at others but never at himself?

It is a mark of emotional maturity to see the ludicrous within himself and to respond with laughter instead of dismay and flustration. Nearly all children laugh at their own cuteness. Few are able to laugh at uncomplimentary things about themselves. It is a rare trait of character to be able to laugh at oneself. It demonstrates a touch of greatness.

Abraham Lincoln was such a man. He often laughed as he related the anecdote of a man who stopped him one day.

"Sir", said the stranger, "I have an article in my possession that belongs to you."

"How is that?" asked Mr. Lincoln in surprise.

The stranger fished into his pocket brought forth a jackknife and held it out, saying, "Some years ago this knife was placed in my hands with the instruction that I was to keep it until I found a man uglier than myself. I have carried it from that day to this. Sir, allow me to say that I think you are entitled to the knife."

Another president who possessed the knack of laughing at himself was William Howard Taft. He often made fun of his exorbitant weight, which at one timne squashed the scales at 354 pounds.

A favorite story of his was of a small boy who bit his fingernails. The child's nurse would scare him into stopping by saying that people who bit their nails would swell up like an enormous balloon and look silly.

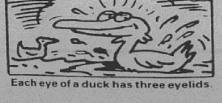
One day the youngster found himself in the same room with Mr. Taft. He gazed at the huge president for a moment or two, then walked up to him and declared, "You sure bit your fingernails a long time; didn't you?"

Neither president would have joked about a moral failure on their part. In laxity of that type they would have accused themselves and would have done everything in their power to redeem themselves.

The ability to laugh goodnaturedly at one's blunders or comical weaknesses is another matter. An individual who can laugh at his or her own foibles or ludicrous defects will never become a pompous, conceited person.

He who can laugh at himself has already discovered the most effective weapon with which to ward off hurt feelings or supersensitive misunderstandings. Such a person is master of the situation.

Monties to have reunion



The Montie families (with a number of different spellings) will hold their second annual reunion at the Multi-Purpose Building in Cameron Sunday, April 24. Bring your own drinks in ice chest, lawn chairs and a covered dish.

Entertainment will be furnished by a French band, The Sauce Piquant Playboys. Gumbeaux Gator will appear at 2 p.m.

Invitations have been sent out, but if you know someone who didn't get an invitation, please remind them to attend.

Prizes will be awarded. Donations will be collected for some of the expenses. However the band and building are already paid for.

Liberty Loan In Cameron

April 19.--Cameron Parish is aflame with enthusiasm on all war subjects and their quota will be trebled, according to reports from parties who have been touring the parish in the interest of the third Liberty loan. The party which left here Monday morning on the boat were Frank Roberts, zone chairman; Rev. J. F. McKenzie, E. R. Henry and L. L. Squires. They were joined by Parish Chairman Sweeney and Supt. McCall at Cameron and held meetings at the latter place, also at Grand Chenier, Oak Grove and Creole, addresses being made by members of the party at each place as well as an illustrated lecture.

Abbe Souris joined the party Thursday and spoke to one of the largest meetings ever held at Creole and also used his illustrated lecture. He speaks in French only. Father P. J. Buissink, local priest of Cameron Parish, was also with the party. Father Buissink has been doing a noble work among the people of Cameron Parish in aid of all war measures, he gladly giving the use of his churches in which to hold meetings, and assisting in every way possible that the war may be prosecuted to a successful issue.

Miss Irene Doxey, chairman of the woman's committee of the third Liberty loan, is also doing good work in the parish and meeting with excellent results. She is the right woman in the right place.

The Lake Charles party returned here last evening accompanied by Father Souris and Father Buissink and last night they held a meeting at Sweet Lake. This morning, most of the party left for Cameron again, where there will be a meeting tonight addressed by Father Souris and he will also give his illustrated lecture in connection.

The party will spend all day at Grand Chenier Saturday at which time there will be a great Liberty loan rally with a parade by the school children and prominent organizations and citizens of that place. They will return here for Sunday and Sunday evening there will be a rally meeting at the city hall at which time Father Souris will be one of the speakers.

Lakeside Laconices

We have been having weekly showers and they have been just the thing for our gardens.

The dewberry crop is extremely short in this section.

This entire section of the country is suffering from a visitation of caterpillars, the wooly kind, and they devour everything in sight, even eating off the corn. Some authorities recommend coal oil emulsion as a destroyer.

Lakeside is getting there on the garden question and by the present signs, we are getting earlier produce than any of the adjoining sections. Strawberries have been on hand in Uncle Robt. Nunemaker's garden for some months. Lettuce, radishes, green onions and cabbage have been on hand all winter, and in about ten days string beans, new potatoes and many other varieties of produce will be matured in abundance.

THE SOUTH CAMERON Elementary 4-H club held a program cover contest at the school in March. First place winner was Danielle Shay; 2nd place, Tammy Thibodeaux and 3rd, Laurie Bonsall.

HONORED AT "Teachers Appreciation Night" April 11, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church were the above. Seated, Wendy Wicke, Myra Rutherford, Rhonda Duhon, Jendy Trahan. Standing, Mary Theriot, Uland Guidry, Josie Boudreaux, Katie Trahan, Lisa Savoie, Jeanette Savoie and Olga Mudd.

Creole homemakers see presentations

Featured at the April meeting of the Creole Extension Homemakers Club held in the home of Mrs. Wayne Montie, were two presentations, one by Mrs. Mayola Wicke, and the other by Mrs. Earline Baccigalopi. Assisting Mrs. Montie with hostess duties was Mrs. Estelle Theriot.

In her demonstration on "stitching" and "quilting", Mrs. Wicke explained many different types of stitching and how each is used in sewing and in quilting. She demonstrated a new method of cross-stitching, and then concluded by displaying a quilt which she presently is making.

Mrs. Baccigalopi gave a reading on "Reduce Family Worries - Worry Less".

Plans for the Cancer Crusade conducted annually by the club in the Creole area during April were finalized. Mrs. Montie volunteered to solicit donations from the business places in Creole, while Mrs. Theriot and Mrs. Baccigalopi will be in charge of contributions from the two area schools.

Mrs. Rose Mae Boudreaux and Mrs. Theriot will handle contributions from businesses in Oak Grove. Members were reminded to bring their own donations to the May meeting.

Mrs. Baccigalopi reported on the council meeting which she had attended on April 12 at the Extension Office in Cameron. Important items discussed were the Leisure Learning Workshop to be held on Aug. 6 at the Creole Community Center. The registration fee of $2 includes lunch. Members attending should bring a covered dish. She announced that the next council meeting, scheduled in July with the date to be announced later, will be held in Grand Lake at the new home of assistant home economist, Nancy Cronan.

Members were reminded of National Library Week, April 18-22. Observance of the event at the Cameron Parish Library will include a slide show on Australia and New Zealand by Bud Broussard on April 19 at 2 p.m. and also a cooking demonstration by Jude Theriot of Lake Charles on April 21 at 4 p.m.

Japan has, on average, three earthquakes a day.

Waterfowl event set

The Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service will sponsor a one day Waterfowl Hunting Business Seminar, Wednesday, May 4, in the Jennings Multi-Purpose Building located on the Jeff Davis Parish Fairgrounds in Jennings.

The theme of the seminar is "Alternatives Thru Hunting Enterprises" and all landowners, rice farmers, and crawfish farmers interested in learning about waterfowl hunting enterprises should plan to attend. The information presented at this meeting will be beneficial in helping a landowner and/or farmer decide if a waterfowl hunting business enterprise can help them better profitize their farm or land as a business.

Topics to be discussed include: (1) developing a waterfowl hunting enterprise, (2) economic considerations, (3) legal aspects of waterfowl enterprises, (4) liability considerations, and (5) a panel discussion conducted by three operators of waterfowl hunting enterprises from southwest Louisiana.

If you have any questions, call Paul Coreil in Cameron at 775-5516 or 775-7443.

Festival set at Zachary

"You never sausage a festival," say planners of the first Zachary Sausage Festival set for Saturday and Sunday, April 30 and May 1. Festival hours are 10 a.m. until midnight Saturday and noon until 7 p.m. Sunday.

There will be two days of fun, food, crafts and games. Included in the food will be sausage po-boys, sausage-on-a-stick, jambalaya, sausage pizza, sausage meat pies and other sausage dishes.

Scheduled are a classic car show, parade, beauty pageant, cooking contest, bands, dancing, fun run, Civil War re-enactment, carnival rides, firefighters' competition, museum tours, bridal and ski show on water and other events.

— NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC —

Lead in our environment is a public health issue about which we should all be concerned. Lead is a soft metal which is now known to be harmful to human health if consumed or inhaled. Since lead accumulates in the body, its potential for harm depends upon the level of exposure from all sources.

There are three potential sources for lead to accumulate in the body. The major source is from food, and lead is also inhaled from the air. The other potential source of lead is from your drinking water.

To protect the public's health, public drinking water supplies are governed by the Safe Drinking Water Act under which the United States Environmental Protection Agency sets drinking water standards.

Although there is a high level of compliance with drinking water standards throughout the United States, there is still reason for some concern about certain contaminants which may get into public drinking water supplies, including lead.

The United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) sets drinking water standards and has determined that lead is a health concern at certain levels of exposure. There is currently a standard of 0.050 parts per million (ppm). Based on new health information, EPA is likely to lower this standard significantly.

Part of the purpose of this notice is to inform you of the potential adverse effects of lead. This is being done even though your water may not be in violation of the current standard.

EPA and others are concerned about lead in drinking water. Too much lead in the human body can cause serious damage to the brain, kidneys, nervous system, and red blood cells. The greatest risk, even with short-term exposure, is to young children and pregnant women.

Lead levels in your drinking water are likely to be highest:
- If your home or water system has lead pipes, or
- If our home has copper pipes with lead solder, and
- If the home is less than five years old, or
- If you have soft or acidic water, or
- If water sits in the pipes for several hours.

Typically, if lead is present in the drinking water, it enters after the water leaves the local water treatment plant. The most likely source for lead contamination is in the home or residence. The most common cause of lead entering drinking water is corrosion, a reaction between the water and the lead pipes or the lead-based solder.

When water stands in the pipes of a residence for several hours without use, there is a potential for lead to leach, or dissolve, into the water if the lead source is present.

Soft water (water that makes soap suds easily) can be more corrosive and, therefore, has higher levels of dissolved lead. Some home water treatment devices may also make water more corrosive.

It was common practice in the United States through the early 1900's to use lead pipes for interior plumbing. Since the 1930's, copper pipe has been used for residential plumbing. Until 1986, however, lead-based solder was used widely to join copper pipes. Lead-free solder and lead-free materials are now required by federal law for use in new household plumbing and for plumbing repairs. To find out if the plumbing in a residence contains lead, try scratching the pipe with a key or screwdriver. Lead is a soft metal and is dull gray in color. If lead pipes are present they will scratch easily and will be shiny when scratched.

Dissolved lead cannot be seen in water. Testing by a state-approved laboratory is the only way to determine is drinking water has high levels of dissolved lead. Contact the local health department for the name of an approved laboratory. The lab will provide the correct procedures to be followed for a water test.

If the drinking water is determined to have high levels of dissolved lead, or if there is an abiding suspicion of lead contamination because of the presence of soft water, lead pipes, lead solder, and other lead-based plumbing materials, there are ways to minimize exposure.

One way to "flush" each cold-water faucet in a home when water stands more than a few hours. Flushing a cold water faucet means allowing the water to run until it gets as cold as it will get before each use. Normally this may take two or three minutes. Keep in mind that toilet and shower use or doing laundry with cold water will also move water through the plumbing system, and this will reduce the amount of time needed to flush the cold water faucets to five to 30 seconds.

Another way is one of avoidance: do not cook with or consume water from the hot water faucet. Hot water dissolves lead more quickly than cold water. Especially avoid using hot tap water for making baby formula. If hot water is needed for cooking or oral consumption, draw water from the cold water tap and heat it on the stove or in the microwave.

If plumbing repairs or other plumbing work is done, make certain that only lead-free solder and other lead-free materials are used. This is now a federal law.

There are other actions which can be taken by household users to reduce the risk of lead in drinking water. For additional information, please contact the local state health department, or the U.S. EPA. The U.S. EPA has a toll-free hotline dedicated to this subject -- 1-800-426-4791 -- and has also prepared a booklet on this issue.

This information has been approved by the U.S. EPA and meets EPS's lead public notice requirements under Section 1417 of the Safe Drinking Water Act Amendments of 1986.

J. Bayou teams win parish tourney

By ROBERT MANUEL

The Johnson Bayou High School boys and girls track teams won 11 and 9 first places respectively in the annual Cameron Parish track meet to easily capture both division championships.

In the boys division, Ricky Harrington of Johnson Bayou upped his own parish record of 12'-10" to 14'-3" in the pole vault. His record setting performance set a new leadership height in the Southwest Louisiana Track Leaders.

Lancy Buford of Hackberry set a new standard in the high jump by upping Mark Young's 1982 record of 6'-0" to 6'-2".

Steve Pierson of South Cameron shattered a long standing discus record of 141'-5" set by Ronnie Delcombre in 1968, with a record throw of 165'-7". Pierson is currently first in Southwest Louisiana Track Leaders in the discus and first in the javelin with a 181'-8½" throw. His 49'-8" in the shot put ranks third in the Southwest Louisiana Track Leaders.

In the girls division, Angie Trahan of Johnson Bayou set a new record in the discus throw and Melanie Blanchard of Hackberry tied Johnson Bayou's Stacy Jinks record of 4'-10" set in 1986.

Trahan's discus throw of 107'-7" broke South Cameron's Lori Vidrine's record of 100'-4" set in 1984. Trahan's throw moved her up to second place in the Southwest Louisiana Track Leaders.

Demonstration

The Grand Lake Junior 4-H meeting was held April 7. Mr. Gary discussed Achievement Day and went over the Cameron clover. Mrs. Darlene discussed the "thank you cards" and we played a game called "Win, Lose or Draw."

FUNERALS

WALTER A. CULP

Walter A. Culp, 77, of Happy Union, Texas, died Tuesday night in a Houston hospital. He was the father of the Rev. Waymon Culp, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Cameron.

Funeral services will be held Friday at the Seth Ward Baptist Church in Plainview, Texas with arrangements by Lemon's Funeral Home of Plainview.

In addition to the one son, Mr. Culp is survived by his wife, Rosa Culp; two daughters, Alice Lavern Hiser, Cleveland, Texas and Jo Della Turpin, Plainview; two brothers, Joel Culp, Plainview and Rev. Truman Culp, Grovers City, Calif.; two sisters, Helen Morrow, Belton, Texas and Louise Stanford, Monahan, Texas; six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Mr. Culp was a retired cotton farmer and was a deacon in the Seth Ward Baptist Church.

If desired, memorial gifts may be made to the First Baptist Church library in Cameron or to the American Heart Association.

MRS. GLADYS RUTH MILLER

Funeral services for Mrs. Gladys Ruth Miller, 76, of Lake Charles were held Thursday, April 14, in the Johnson Funeral Home.

Burial was in Highland Memory Gardens.

Mrs. Miller died April 12 in her residence.

A lifelong resident of Lake Charles, she was a retired teacher, having taught second grade at Cameron Elementary School and Jackson Street Elementary School Lake Charles. She was a member of Moss Bluff Assemblies of God Church.

Survivors are two sons, Chester Miller of Lake Charles and the Rev. Daniel Howard Miller of Springfield, Mo.; one daughter, Mrs. Richard Sarver of Leesville; one brother, George Moore of Texas; two sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Tipps of Sealey, Texas, and Mrs. Matilda Harper of Houston, and nine grandchildren.

4-Hers attend Challenge Camp

About 250 Louisiana 4-H'ers and their adult leaders were "challenged" during a special camp designed to help them "be the best they can be."

The "4-H Challenge Camp" held March 25-27 for 12- and 13-year-old included a variety of activities designed to help them believe in themselves, develop public speaking skills, work as members of a team, make decisions for their lives, set goals for themselves and understand others.

The camp was sponsored by private donations to the Louisiana 4-H foundation and relied heavily on the concept of "peer teaching"-using senior 4-H members from the state 4-H Executive Committee and Fashion Board and collegiate 4-H'ers form Louisiana State University and Southern University as counselors, group leaders and instructors for a number of the activities.

The activities ranged from lectures on developing a positive self-image and choosing the right foods and clothing to discussions of how to handle peer pressure on such issues as drug or alcohol abuse to physical activities requiring group decision-making.

TED rules explained by wildlife agent

Paul Coreil, Area Agent Fisheries and Wildlife for Cameron and Calcasieu Parishes, said there still seems to be some confusion about where TEDs are required in Louisiana.

TED regulations are different for inshore and offshore areas.

The line that divides the two areas..in the Colrigs line which basically follows the beach.

Where it cuts across open water such as passes, it is a purple dashed line on the 1:80.000 NOAA charts.

All boats fishing in inside waters, no matter what size the vessel is or how large the trawl is, do not have to use a TED if tow times are less than 90 minutes.

In offshore waters, shrimp boats under 25 feet in length also do not have to use a TED, if they keep their tow times under 90 minutes.

Any shrimp boat 25 feet long or longer, fishing in offshore waters out to 15 miles offshore, must use a TED.

The coast Guard will not measure a boat, but will go by the length listed on a boat's registration papers.

There are several free publications in the County Agent's office on TEDs.

The booklet TEDS in Louisiana, contains all the current TED regulations, explains each of the approved TEDs and has a summary of the TED testing which has taken place.

There is also two publications giving installation instructions for the Georgia Jumper and the Morrison Soft TED.

KENNY HEBERT with the Louisiana Wildlife Refuge was a guest at the South Cameron Elementary 4-H meeting last month. He talked to the club about furs.

Art display

Art work from the Cameron Parish Talented Program will be on display at the McNeese State University Library from April 16, through May 5. An opening reception is scheduled for Saturday, April 16, at 2 p.m.

The art work includes pieces by students in grades two through eight. The pieces are executed in a wide variety of media: pencil, oil pastels, charcoal, tempera, acrylic, stained glass, linoleum cut, wood, scratch-board and water color.

Aquaculture meeting to be held in B. R.

An outstanding program and audience that promises to be international in scope will highlight the second Louisiana Aquaculture Conference scheduled for Baton Rouge on April 28-29, to be followed on April 30, by an Aquaculture Field Day.

The three days of events, sponsored by the LSU Agricultural Center, will be held at the Bellemont Hotel and at the LSU Agricultural Center's Ben Hur Aquaculture Research Facility south of the main campus.

"This is one of the few conferences in the country directed at aquaculture producers and people who are interested in entering the business," says Larry de la Bretonne, aquaculture specialist with the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service.

"This will be a comprehensive conference aimed at anyone interested in learning about aquaculture opportunities and requirements, along with commercial producers in the southeastern United States."

Featured speaker at the conference banquet will be U. S. Congressman Richard C. Baker.

De la Bretonne notes that this year's events will build on last year's highly successful conference which attracted more than 400 from 12 states. Success of the inaugural conference drew worldwide inquiries, he says.

A trade show featuring some 30 exhibitor booths is already taking shape, he adds.

The program will switch to the LSU campus for the Ben Hur Field Day on April 30. Tour stops at the Aquaculture Research Station will include updates on current research involving hard-shell and soft-shell crawfish, catfish and redfish.

De la Bretonne says that the conference registration fee is $30 and will cover all activities including a copy of the proceedings.

For registration and conference information, de la Bretonne says to contact your parish office of the Extension Service or call (594) 388-2152.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

The Hackberry Jr. 4-H Club would like to say thank you to everyone who helped make Achievement Day a success:

The 183 4-H members for coming.

The parents and bus drivers for bringing them.

The cheerleaders and all of the people who organized and worked in the concession stand.

The people that helped with the typing of the certificates.

The leaders and other adults who came and offered their help.

Danielle Shay for designing the program cover.

Mrs. LaFleur for the use of the school.

Mrs. Betty Seay (Hackberrry School Board Member) for announcing and handing out the Outstanding Awards.

A special thanks also to the judges.

Jeromy Nolan, reporter

Dear Editor:

This letter is written in deep gratitude and thankfulness. First, we thank God. We have seen his work in our community of Grand Lake.

We thank everyone in this community and all of the surrounding towns and parishes for the support we received in helping us make the benefit we had for Russell Faulk a success.

Thanking You In Christ
Russell Faulk Family

Dear Editor:

As reporter of the South Cameron High School Sr. 4-H Club, I would like to thank you for printing our club news throughout the year. We consider your job an important one because it is important that the public be made aware of our club activities. On behalf of our entire club, thanks again!

Sincerely yours,
Sharonda Williams

CAMERON OUTDOORS

Fishing picks up

By Loston McEvers

FISHING PICKS UP

Fishing has been on the rise, but last week's cold front sort of messed up the feeding periods. Some nice bass were taken, but not large in number. A few Speckled Trout have been taken, but not much in size. These were caught at the platforms close to the beach. On the lower part of Big Lake, a few nice catches of specs were taken.

CATFISHING

A few nice blue freshwater catfish were taken this weekend in Little Pecan Bayou and in Grand Lake. I saw one blue cat right at 16 pounds. These were taken on trot lines.

Talking about trot lines, Charlie Jordan of Sulphur, caught a 4 pound albino (white) catfish on a trot line in Choupique Bayou. The tips of the fins and tail were pink and the fish had one pink eye.

WILDLIFE NEWS

Robert Misso has been appointed assistant secretary for Wildlife and Fisheries Department for Louisiana. He was a special projects supervisor for the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington, D. C. He will take this new post on April 18.

Misso's responsibilities will include overseeing wildlife research activities, wildlife management areas and refuges, ecological services review and reporting functions, land acquisition, and waterfowl and wetland conservation efforts in support of the North American Waterfowl Management Plan. He is a former resident of Bossier City.

LOUISIANA'S GREATEST LOSS

Louisiana is losing one of its most valuable resources, the state coastal marshes, which are starved for fresh water, nutrients and sediment which it is not receiving and is eroding away at an alarming rate.

Back in 1970, the state's land loss was 16.5 square miles per year. Now in the late 1980's, the loss rate is approaching 60 square miles per year and by next year it will be more.

It doesn't seem like it, but that's nearly 100 acres a day being lost. Going at this rate, Plaquemine Parish has a projected life span of less than 50 years and Terrebonne Parish less than 100 years.

My biggest question is how many more years does Cameron parish have or even the Lake Charles area.

Some people say the federal government does nothing to stop this erosion, but in 1988 the federal government is spending $9.4 million on wetland restoration. This is only a small fraction of the amount of money it will take to stop the entire wetland loss. Is it enough, fast enough and how much more do we lose before it is stopped or slowed way down.

We do know that man has caused most of this by constructing levees, especially in the Mississippi River area. Also all the canals built by oil companies to get offshore and our marsh management projects.

The worst we can't control, hurricanes or rising sea levels, which washes lots of land into the Gulf of Mexico.

Just think of the loss in revenues that occurs from losing all this wetland. In the fur industry, 40% of the nation's fur comes from the wetlands. All the shrimp and fishing that will be lost from losing our wetlands and there are over 4 million ducks, coots and geese that come every winter.

Every year we lose all this land to erosion and it keeps getting more and more dangerous when we have a storm or hurricane. There are no more barrier islands and not much wetland in front of us to protect us from the storm surges.

To me, no matter how much money the federal government spends, it can never regain the land we've lost. Let's hope it can stop us from losing any more.

As U. S. Senator J. Bennett Johnston said, the federal projects and monies involved obviously shows that the federal government has not turned its back on South Louisiana. These projects include investigations and are not dedicated to public work construction. The worst part is to convince the other 49 states that they should share in the cost of restoring Louisiana's coastal zone.

I guess with all the corruption in Louisiana's state and local government, most of the other states just laugh at us.

I'll say this, with the way the oil companies have deminished, if we lose our wetlands, which will make us lose our way of life and living from crabs, fish, shrimp, oysters, and fur, we may as well give Louisiana to the federal government, let us go out in the Gulf by boat and ask the good old U. S. to take us in. I guess they'll call us the "L.A. Boat Canuns" people.

Inspection of Seafood studied

Louisiana agriculture officials are reviewing several plans for state wide mandatory seafood inspection designed to boost market potential and insure the long-term growth of seafood processing, Commissioner of Agriculture Bob Odom said.

The state currently has more than 40 seafood plants under a voluntary inspection program. However, national trends in seafood consumption and the need to process more of Louisiana's seafood in Louisiana is adding weight to the push to bring all 400 state seafood plants under an inspection program.

U. S. seafood consumption has jumped from 1.5 pounds per person in 1985 to 2.2 pounds in 1987, working with U. S. Department of Commerce officials to develop separate quality control specifications for individual seafoods, including crawfish, catfish, shrimp, oysters and others.

"The move is on at the national level. I feel that in the next two to three years you will see mandatory federal seafood inspection," he said.

TRACT 24068 STATE AGENCY: Cameron Parish, Louisiana - A certain tract of land belonging to and under mineral lease from the Louisiana Department of Transportation and Development being more fully described as follows: A certain tract or parcel of ground situated in the Southeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 18, Township 12 South, Range 8 West, Cameron Parish, Louisiana; said tract or parcel of ground being bounded now or formerly on the North by La. State Highway 931 and/or Alcide Blanchard, Betty B. Faulk, George E. Hebert and Clifford Lanclos; on the East, Southand West by Adolph Hebert, or assigns, and being the same property described in that certain sale dated March 1, 1948 by and between Adolph Hebert, Jr., et ux and the State of Louisiana and recorded at COB 67, Folio 433 under Entry No. 53349 of the records of Cameron Parish, Louisiana, containing approximately 0.9 acres, as shown outlined in red on a plat on file in the Office of the Secretary, Department of Natural Resources.

NOTE: "Lessee agrees not to erect any derrick, tank, warehouse or other equipment or structure on the leased premises nor shall lessee interfere, in any manner with lessor's use of the property. Lessee shall [illegible] of any payments received under the lease or being otherwise responsible to lessee. The MINIMUM ROYALTIES required by R.S. 30:127, as amended, except for school board leases, are one-eighth (1/8th) of all oil produced and saved or utilized; one-eighth (1/8th) of all other liquid or gaseous minerals in solution and produced with the oil or gas and saved or utilized, which are not specifically mentioned herein. Act 289 of 1982 established a 1/4 minimum royalty for leases affecting school board lands. Free sulphur, potash, lignite, salt and other said minerals are to be excluded and any bid thereon will be disregarded to such extent. A bid of a royalty less than the aforesaid statutory minimums will be increased to said statutory minimums by the Board. All bidders are notified that the Board does not obligate itself to accept a bid which offers the aforesaid statutory minimums, but reserves the right to accept a bid which offers in excess of the statutory minimums and is considered most advantageous to the State of Louisiana.

The provisions of this notice or advertisement and the relevant statutes establish the material considerations necessary for the formulation of proper bids, and this notice or advertisement shall not be deemed to be modified, enlarged or diminished by resolutions or policy expressions of the Board not incorporated herein expressly or by reference.

tion of the Department of Natural Resources.

All leases awarded shall be executed upon terms and conditions provided in the current State lease form with all applicable riders appended thereto, including but not limited to provisions as follows: Should lessee fail to begin the actual drilling (spudding in) of a well on the lease premises within one year from the date of the lease, the lease shall terminate as to both parties to the lease, unless on or before such anniversary date, lessee shall pay a delay rental which shall in no event be less than one-half (½) of the aforesaid cash payment offered for the lease), which shall cover the privilege of deferring drilling operations for a period of one year. Upon like payments annually, drilling operations may be further deferred for successive periods of one year each during the primary term of three years. The lease shall provide for the drilling of offset wells where necessary to protect the State's interest and shall contain the provisions against the assignment or sublease of the lease unless approved by the State Mineral Board. The lessee shall have the right to enter into pooling or unitization agreements with respect to development of the leased premises subject to the approval of the State Mineral Board.

Certified check, cashier's check or bank money order payable to the Office of Mineral Resources for the full amount of the aforesaid cash payment, shall accompany and be submitted with each bid, and no bid thus submitted may be

PULS line in operation now

According to Rep. Randy Roach and Senator Jack Doland, the legislative information phone service known as the PULS Line began operation April 18, the first day of the 1988 regular session of the Louisiana Legislature. The phone line is available to callers from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday throughout the legislative session and any other time when either the House or the Senate is in session.

The phone number for the PULS Line is (504) 342-2456.

The PULS Line provides up-to-the-minute information on the status of proposed legislation, as well as schedules for committee hearings. Computers are used to obtain the latest legislative action from the legislative chambers.

It is not necessary that the caller know the specific bill number in order to find out its current status, but having the bill number or some idea of the subject of the bill will speed the process of obtaining the necessary information.

While in Baton Rouge for the legislative session, Rep. Roach may be reached by calling one of the following numbers: (504) 342-6945 (Legislative Receptionist); (504) 342-0349 (Acadiana Delegation); (594) 342-0365 (Rural Caucus).

Dance for Heart benefit set May 21

Volunteers from all over Cameron Parish will take part in a Dance for Heart benefit for the American Heart Association from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, May 21, at the Cameron Recreation Center.

Funds raised will be used to support the Association's program of heart research and education and to fight heart disease and stroke.

Participants will collect donations from friends and relatives. Each person can win prizes based on the amount of money collected.

Dance For Heart demonstrates dance exercises as a benefit to cardiovascular health, according to the local co-ordinator, Jo Nell Askew.

Participation is not limited by age, sex or shape, so anyone can try it.

To support this event, call the American Heart Association at 474-2554 or your local chairman, Orrie Canik at 542-4513 and make plans to join.

Area VIPs will make special guest apperances as they compete against each other for the most funds raised.

Fur, gator meeting set

Of vital interest to the area fur and alligator hunters and interests is the regular meeting of the Louisiana Fur and Alligator Advisory Council to be held Tuesday, May 3, at 10 a.m. at the Wildlife and Fisheries office, 2000 Quail Drive, Baton Rouge.

Items on the agenda include: Report on alligator grading study and discussion of alligator advertising campaign.

Kris Rutherford, parents & coach

Rutherford signed

Kris Rutherford, South Cameron senior point guard, daughter of Leland and Carolyn Rutherford, recently was signed to a full athletic scholarship with Nicholls State University in Thibodaux.

The 3-year-starter on the Lady Tarpon basketball team had impressive credentials. The 5'10" guard and forward standout averaged 17.5 points per game and accounted for 38-3 point shots.

Coach Abadie of Nicholls called his recruit "one of the best shooters in Louisiana."

Inspection of seafood studied

Louisiana agriculture officials are reviewing several plans for state wide mandatory seafood inspection designed to boost market potential and insure the long-term growth of seafood processing, Commissioner of Agriculture Bob Odom said.

The state currently has more than 40 seafood plants under a voluntary inspection program. However, national trends in seafood consumption and the need to process more of Louisiana's seafood in Louisiana is adding weight to the push to bring all 400 state seafood plants under an inspection program.

U. S. seafood consumption has jumped from 1.5 pounds per person in 1985 to 2.2 pounds in 1987, more than a 25 percent increase. Experts predict the increase to continue into the next century. Louisiana is the nation's largest seafood producer.

Large out-of-state seafood buyers are reluctant to pick up the phone and buy crawfish, Odom said, "because they have no idea what they are going to get. And some of them have been burned in the past. More and more they are saying they are not going to buy unless it is inspected."

This crawfish season, Louisiana has five major crawfish processors selling to Sweden. "Everything going to Sweden is inspected. They require it," he said.

Now Louisiana is processing only 18 percent of the seafood caught here. With processing beginning to increase rapidly in the state, it will become more important than ever to have an inspection program in place, he said.

There are about 30 crawfish plants, five catfish plants and a half-dozen shrimp plants under inspection by the department, said Mike Windham, head of the department's meat and poultry inspection programs.

So far, there are no oyster plants being inspected. But several are considering inspection programs for their facilities, Windham said.

Windham said his office is working with U. S. Department of Commerce officials to develop separate quality control specifications for individual seafoods, including crawfish, catfish, shrimp, oysters and others.

"The move is on at the national level. I feel that in the next two to three years you will see mandatory federal seafood inspection," he said.

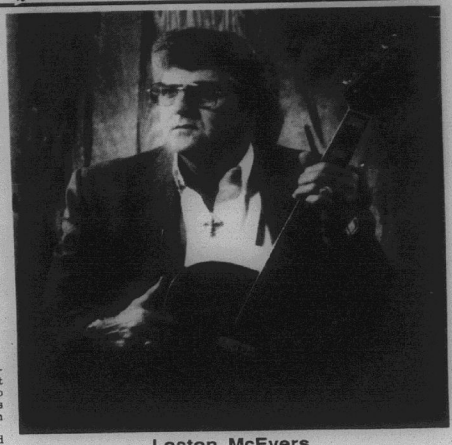
Change told

The Louisiana Department of Wildlife and Fisheries recently announced they will now require the original hard copy of commercial fishing, vessel and gear licenses.

In the past, a copy of the cashier's check or money order used to purchase the license, together with proof that the application was mailed was accepted by enforcement agents in the field.

This will no longer be the case.

All commercial fishermen must either pick up their licenses at the LDWF license office in Baton Rouge or mail their application at least 3 to 4 weeks in advance of the time it will be needed to begin fishing.



Wildlife and Fisheries has indicated they will process applications in about 14 working days with a new processing system.

Anyone wanting to drive to Baton Rouge to pick up their hard copy license over the counter may do so at the LDWF office in the Bon Marche Mall on Florida Blvd., from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Oystering ends Sat.

The oystering season in Calcasieu lake will close at sunset Saturday, April 30, according to Paul Corell, wildlife and fisheries agent with the LSU Extension Service.

The season had been extended through a bill in the recent special session of the Legislature because it had been closed a good many days because of high water. Saturday is the final day of the extension, Coreil reminded.

Loston McEvers

McEvers records two songs here

By Geneva Griffith

After over a 30-year career in the country music field, Creole's Loston McEvers is coming out with his first record.

McEvers has formed his own record company "Swamp Country Records" for his first release, a 45 RPM with two of his own songs, "Abused Little Children" and "POW In Viet Nam" which will come out May 1.

McEvers started his country music singing career in 1956 when he sang for a year, while he was in the military service, with an all-girl band in Reseda, Calif.

He has been writing songs for the last 15 years and has 30 to his credit.

His new record is cut with a 6-piece band called "Swamp Country Band" composed of the following members: Ross Menard, Sulphur, lead guitarist; Robert Miller, Sulphur, second lead guitar; Wilson Miller, Cameron, organ and keyboard; Dennis Richard, Creole, drums; Cliff Benoit, Sulphur, bass guitar; and McEvers, singer and guitar.

Bands he has organized and played with for the last 30 years are "Loston and the Loafers", "Loston's Country Cajuns", and the present band.

The band plays on weekends in night clubs, for benefits, for wedding dances, and organizational events, which will include the upcoming Cameron Parish Fishing Rodeo on July 4.

His new record will be on sale where the band plays and at Rudy's Fish-N-Stop, Creole; Booth's Grocery Store, Grand Chenier; Wilson's Exxon, Cameron; Harvey's Records, Lake Charles; Fogleman's Country Place, Sweetlake; and Evelyn's Club, Holly Beach.

Goodrich is given honor

The National Secondary Education Council announced that Stuart Goodrich of Hackberry High School has been named a Scholastic All-American.

The NSEC has established the Scholastic All-American Scholar Award Program in order to offer deserved recognition to superior students who excel in the academic disciplines. The Scholastic All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or better grade point average.

Stuart was nominated for this award by Sherry Ross, math teacher. Stuart will appear in the Scholastic All-American Scholar Directory, which is published nationally.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommie Goodrich. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Horace Goodrich of Hackberry and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Vines of Hodge.

SC Athletic banquet set

The South Cameron Athletic Banquet is set for Monday, May 2. The meal will be served at 6 p.m. with the award session to follow immediately afterwards.

C. C. meeting is cancelled

Officials of the Coastal Concern organization announced that the meeting originally set for Thursday night, April 28, in the Police Jury Annex has been cancelled.

Clarification

Proceeds from the Buddie Little Club reunion dance held Saturday by the Hackberry Mustang Boosters Club will go to aid the high school athletic program in general.

Although the club would like to see a track built for Hackberry High School this project is in the future and funds raised were not to go for this purpose.

Fuel tax changed

Beginning April 1, wholesalers began applying a 15.1 cents per gallon federal tax on all diesel fuel used on farms and commercial fishing operations. In the past, this excise tax has been applied only to highway use of diesel fuel.

This action is being taken as a result of Public Law 99-499.

According to the Internal Revenue Service, while fishermen have lost the exemption previously enjoyed, they have not lost the credit.

Under the new system, wholesalers will begin applying the 15.1 cents per gallon tax which will be passed through the retailer directly to the fisherman or farmer.

A request for a credit or refund may be done in one of two ways.

A form 4146 may be filed with the income tax at the end of the year requesting a refund of this tax, or a refund may be requested every three months on form 843, provided the usage exceeds $1,000.

On a visit to Cameron recently, Congressman Jimmy Hayes told fishermen there is a strong move in Congress to repeal this portion of the law and go back to tax exemption status for diesel fuel purchases made by commercial fishermen and farmers.

Tabernacle sets revival

The Cameron Tabernacle is having a revival April 28-30 with nightly services at 7 p.m. Rev. Joel Ratcliff is guest pastor.

Rev. Morse Pruitt invites everyone to attend.

Bingo to be held at J.B.

A bingo will be held Sunday, May 1 from 3-5 p.m. at the Johnson Bayou Catholic Renewal Center sponsored by the Knights of Columbus. Money raised will help send the boy scouts to summer camp.

REMEMBER?

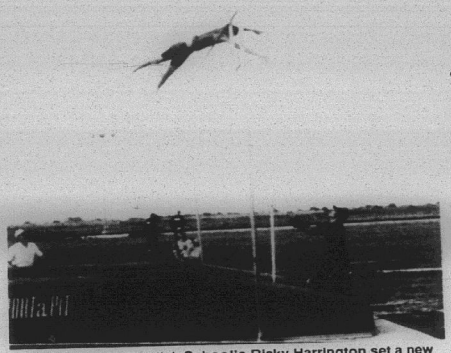
Tick fever is licked

(Lake Charles American Press, April 27, 1923)

H. K. Midkiff, in charge of cattle dipping for Southwest Louisiana for federal authorities and the state livestock sanitary board, stated Thursday that he is very much encouraged with the success with which stockmen have cleared Cameron Parish of the Texas fever tick.

Only five vats are in operation in the parish and they are located along the east boundary of the parish adjoining Vermilion, which is infested with the pest. Two men, he said, are all that are required to look after these vats and any possible reinfestations in that territory.

DO YOU REMEMBER? this photo was taken some time in the 1930's and shows a group of Cameron parish farmers. Note the old car.



SOUTH CAMERON'S Steve Pierson is shown above making a javelin throw in which he ranks first in Southwest Louisiana at 181-8½. He is also first in the discus at 156-5 and third in the shot put at 49-8.

Tarpons second in the district

The South Cameron Tarpons, making their best showing in district track in several years, were runners-up in the District 8A track team title contention. The Lady Tarpons came out a strong third in team points.

In the boys division, Delcambre won the team title with 156 points, followed by South Cameron with 116, Hanson 90, North Vermilion 74, Gueydan 65, and Vermilion Catholic with 20.

In the girls division, Delcambre won the team title with 139, followed by Gueydan with 131, South Cameron 77, Hanson 48, North Vermilion 27, and Vermilion Catholic with 3.

Steve Pierson led the South Cameron individual scoring with three first places, the discus, javelin and shotput.

Others qualifying for regionals were junior shot putter Jim Curtis, freshman Chester Moore in the 100 m, and Don Rolland, a senior, in the 400 m.

Willie Jackson was first in the high jump, 6'5", a school record, and second in the triple jump. The improving Tarpons also qualified their 800 m relay team.

In the girls division, freshman Rachonda Brandon qualified for the regional with a second in the 100 m dash. The Lady Tarpons 400 m relay team also qualified with a second place as did freshman Lana Bertrand in the discus throw.

Other good performances garnering third place points wre Belinda Hardie in the discus, Derrinda Morris in the low hurdles, Dana Willis in the 3200 and the Lady Tarpons 1600 m relay team.

South Cameron boys 400 and 1600 m relay teams also came through with third place team points.

First and second place qualifiers will compete Thursday, back at Franklin for the regional meet.

CAMERON OUTDOORS

Oystering ends

By Loston McEvers

Fishing is still a little slow, but overall catches have been fair. The nice weather (excluding the fronts) has started to turn the bass on. Also a few speckle trout are beginning to turn up at the platforms close to the beach and in Big Lake. I think we'll have a good spec season.

COMMERCIAL FISHERMEN NEWS

Oyster season in Calcasieu Lake will close April 30, as that's the end of the 32 day extension. It's been a bad year for our oyster people, with the high water recorded in Kinder.

Many thanks to Rep. Randy Roach and Senator Jack Doland who were successful in sponsoring a resolution that allowed our oyster people to have this extension.

They plan to pass legislation during this '88 regular session that will permanently set up the structure necessary to extend the oyster season in future years, without a year to year resolution.

Something new is the LDWF will require the original hard copy of your commecial fishing, vessel and gear licenses. A copy of your cashier's check, or money order will not do. Remember, if you don't pick up your licenses at the LDWF office in Baton Rouge, allow 3 to 4 weeks by mail, so do it ahead of time to be sure you have your license on board your vessel.

There has also been a change in diesel fuel taxes. Since April 1, all diesel fuel used on farms and commercial fishing operations is taxed 15.1 cents per gallon federal tax to all wholesalers. Now, you won't lose this tax exemption and may apply for a credit or refund in two ways. One, you may file Form 4136 with your income tax return at the end of each year requesting a refund of this tax, or second, you may apply for a refund every three months using Form 843, provided you used or exceeded $1000.

Congressman Jimmy Hayes told fishermen on a recent trip to Cameron there's a strong move in Congress to repeal this portion of the law and go back to tax exemption status for diesel fuel purchases made by commercial fishermen and farmers.

Another tax, the sales tax exemption is derived if a commercial fisherman has 50 percent of their income from fishing, they pay only one cent sales tax instead of 4 cents per dollar.

Items purchased for your family operation such as groceries, nets, doors, materials used in vessel repairing, diesel and other eligible stuff are subject to only one percent sales tax. You do have to have a tax exempt status card to show, which has a valid tax exempt number on it. You may obtain these cards or renewal cards from Paul Coreil in Cameron at the Louisiana Cooperative Extension Service at the Courthouse.

Also if you read the Cameron Pilot's front page last week, a federal judge has put the TED regulation on hold. I'm happy for our shrimpers.

BIG CAT, BIG BASS, BIG MONEY

Pro bass angler, Jimmy Houston has set a new world record, but not with a bass, this time a catfish.

Jimmy had a 46 pound 2 oz. catfish caught and landed on 15 pound test line.

Billy Glaze was fishing at night for walleye on Green Ferry Lake in central Arkansas when he too thought he had hooked a catfish. He was jigging a spoon and when the fish hit and surfaced, to his surprise he had a big largemouth bass. It weighed in at 15 pounds 15 ozs. and measured 30 inches long. No, it did not break the Arkansas state largemouth bass record, but it was the second largest bass ever caught in Arkansas.

In the megabuck tournament this year, Larry Nixon of Hemphill, Tex., placed first with a $104,000 purse while my good friend, Tommy Martin, also from Hemphill, came in second with $78,000.

TRUST FUND

Something of interest I discovered a few weeks back may be of interest to you.

One of the greatest legislative achievements benefiting wildlife was the expansion of the perpetual trust fund that provides future support for Marsh Island and Rockefeller Wildlife Refuges. This should go a long way towards insuring financial security for these refuges in years to come.

The trust funds are required by the acts of donation by which the refuges were transferred to the state in 1920. A specified portion of oil and gas revenues from respective areas accrue to the trust funds and provide a financial base for continued operation and maintenance of these tracts when mineral resources are depleted.

The 78,000 acres of Marsh Island Refuge were donated by the Russell Sage Foundation and had operated with a $5 million trust fund. Due to inflationary factors, the legislature doubled that amount.

The Rockefeller Refuge land, 84,000 acres, was first owned by E. A. Ilhenny of Avery Island and sold it to the Rockefeller Foundation in 1912.

On Sept. 30, 1920, the Rockefeller Foundation donated complete ownership to the La. Dept. of Wildlife and Fisheries. It has to be operated as a wildlife sanctuary and it has been with a great many research operations being done on the refuge.

This was done by the legislature under then Governor John M. Parker in 1920.

Rockefeller Refuge's 84,000 acres runs 26.5 miles east and west along the Gulf of Mexico in Cameron and Vermilion parishes and 6 miles to the north to the ridges, however with all the soil erosion, I'll bet it isn't 6 miles anymore.

These refuges are self supported and tax payers monies do not support the refuges.

The refuge monies come from oil and gas leases and royalties.

OTHER NEWS

I just had the word--Toledo Bend has been producing some nice bass, but the white perch are really turned on.

Dr. Jerry Hebert from Lake Charles, who has a camp in Grand Chenier, recently made a trip to Toledo Bend with some of his fishing buddies and they caught 400 white perch in two days and they were big enough where you could use a filet knife.

Also in Cameron the redfish are here, but you have to throw them back in as there is no season on them.

I know of two boats who were trying for speckle trout and did catch 13 specs, but caught and released 31 reds. Sure makes you sick, especially when these reds, or should I say 23 were of legal size.

Davis Sailor of the Year in Virginia

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Frank D. Davis, son of Ida L. Huseman Jr. of Cameron, has been selected as the Sailor of the Year for Fighter Squadron-102, Naval Air Station Oceana, Virginia Beach, Va.

Davis was chosen from among all the sailors assigned to the command, and was cited for his outstanding performance of duty, proficiency, leadership, initiative and military bearing.

Msgr. Bernard to be given church honor

A priest from Creole and seven lay people of the Diocese of Lake Charles will be presented with diplomas according them official membership in the Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulchre of Jerusalem in ceremonies scheduled for Friday, May 6, in St. Patrick Convent Chapel in Lake Charles.

The Most Rev. Jude Speyrer, Bishop of Lake Charles, will make the presentations on behalf of Cardinal Maximilien de Furstenburg, Grand Master of the Order in Rome. The diplomas, signed by Cardinal Agostino Caseroli, the Vatican's Secretary of State, will be presented during the celebration of Mass in the convent chapel, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Those to receive diplomas are:

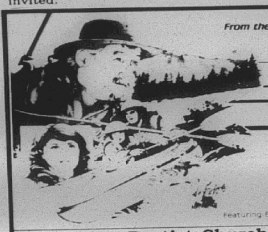
Msgr. M. J. Bernard, pastor of Sacred Heart Parish, Creole; and E. C. Schindler, Mrs. Margaret Schindler, Robert W. Kline, Dr. C. Ray Karam, Joseph J. Tritico, Mrs. Ina Delahoussaye and Mrs. Donna Vanchiere, all of Lake Charles.

Diplomas will also be presented to two members of the Order who are being promoted. Msgr. A. J. Vincent, Vicar for Social Services for the diocese, will receive a diploma promoting him to Knight Commander, and Mrs. Truman Stacey will receive a diploma promoting her to Lady Commander.

Among members of the Order who will attend is E. J. Dronet of Cameron.

The Equestrian Order of the Holy Sepulcre of Jerusalem is one of the oldest of the world's Orders of Chivalry, and traces its origins back to the First Crusade in the Holy Land. Its mission today is the maintenance of a Catholic presence in the Holy Land.

DAR meeting held recently in L. Charles



The Calcasieu Chapter Daughter of the American Revolution (DAR) met recently in the home of Mrs. Joseph A. Brame for its monthly meeting, and a patriotic program by Mrs. John A. Ballintine, who reviewed the book Miracle At Philadelphia, by Catherine Drinker Bowen, reliving the story of the Constitutional Convention of 1787

It was announced the Chapter won the State Tri-color Award for outstanding yearbook, second place in DAR Good Citizenship participation, and third place in 5th grade essay competition for Jamie Johnson's entry. These honors were presented to Chapter Regent, Mrs. W. F. Henry, Jr. during the Louisiana Society DAR annual State Conference recently in Alexandria.

The May meeting will be a luncheon on the 14th at the City Club of Lake Charles, highlighting the use of wildlowers in conservation.

LAKESIDE LACONICS

The rain last Monday night was very welcome to the farmers.

Much to the regret of his playmates, Master Vocherie Richard has fever and was not able to attend school this week. We hope soon to see his bright face and his merry laugh.

Mrs. Arthur Miller spent Monday afternoon very pleasantly with Mr. Adolph Miller and family.

The Lakeside Literary Club cordially invites everybody to be present at their next meeting on April 29.

Our gardens and the rice fields are dry and the green dewberries are drying on the vines.

The lake and river are so low that fish will not bite but crabs are plentiful.

Paul Jolisant has been carrying the mail for a few days while Capt. Haliburton has his boat out for repairs.

Our school teacher returned Monday after taking a vacation of a few days to attend the teachers' convention at Baton Rouge, and reports a fine time was had there. In May, a county convention will be held at Grand Chenier.

The weather is holding up and the farmers are compelled to quit almost all farming operations an' the outlook for the rice farmer is quite a serious one. But on the salt water question, he has more to be anxious on account of the salt from the oil field than from the gulf.

Mr. Edmund Ritchie of Lake Arthur has been traversing this section doing general repair work to clocks, sewing machines, etc.

Mozart Broussard will take parties to the Grand Chenier at regular intervals starting from Morse.

It is reported that the Olive will soon be in commission again. We sincerely hope to see the report verified.

JOHNSON BAYOU MAIL

Port Arthur, Tex., April 28--The launch "Mercedes" came over from Johnson's Bayou with an assorted cargo of freight and a number of passengers. The cargo of the Mercedes included four hundred dozen eggs and several swine. The return cargo will be groceries for the stores on the bayou.

Capt. Loyd Griffith, who runs the Mercedes, has the mail contract for service between the bayou and Port Arthur which is to begin July 1. The present route will be discontinued. The contract was taken at $475 per annum, about half what it costs to carry the mail to Cameron.

Capt. Griffith now makes this port twice a week on schedules, but frequently makes extra trips. The government mail service will require three trips a week. The contract was taken low, had to be taken low in order to obtain the service at all to Port Arthur. Only a freight and passenger boat could carry this mail at this price, but the Bayou people wanted the Port Arthur route, and it had to be cheaper than the Cameron route or it would not have been put in force.
