Principal's Message

Young people today are usually rather indifferent souls. They have no strong passions, neither great hates nor great loves, neither great disillusionments nor great enthusiasms. Their usual understanding of success is an adequate income, a good car, comfortable living, and plenty of leisure time. Some of the greatest sins of modern youth are the sins of omission, of passive thinking. There are many little things that retard men's progress--many small traits and habits that hold them down, keep them little, and hinder them from achieving the maximum success of which they are capable. And perhaps man's greatest obstacle, or most detrimental stumbling block is negative thinking. He rates himself too low.

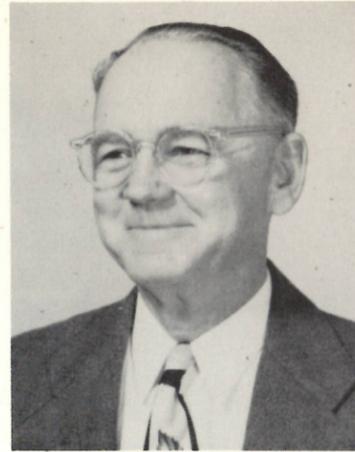

Too many people say inwardly and outwardly, "I can't," when they should say, "I can" or "I shall do my best." The man who succeeds is the man who thinks he can. Successful leaders are always thinkers and doers.

One's mind governs his whole body. If he thinks he is sick, he will be sick. If he thinks he will fail, he will fail. If he thinks he will succeed, he will succeed.

One needs positive thinking, just as he needs positive prayer. Positive prayer is not an escape from life. There is a vast difference between escape and losing oneself. Just as men lose themselves in devotion to a great cause, so men can lose themselves in prayer, thereby finding their true selves.

The soul of youth cannot remain passive very long. If it does not believe in salvation through the cross of Christ, it will seek some other salvation--perhaps through the "church" known as the Communist Party.

Believe in yourself, work, have faith in God and success is yours.

Foreword

This book has been published with the hope that in later days when turning its pages it will help you recall with happiness and joy, a long remembered classmate, a humorous incident, a favorite class, or the teachers who helped mold your character - your carefree happy days of H. H. S.

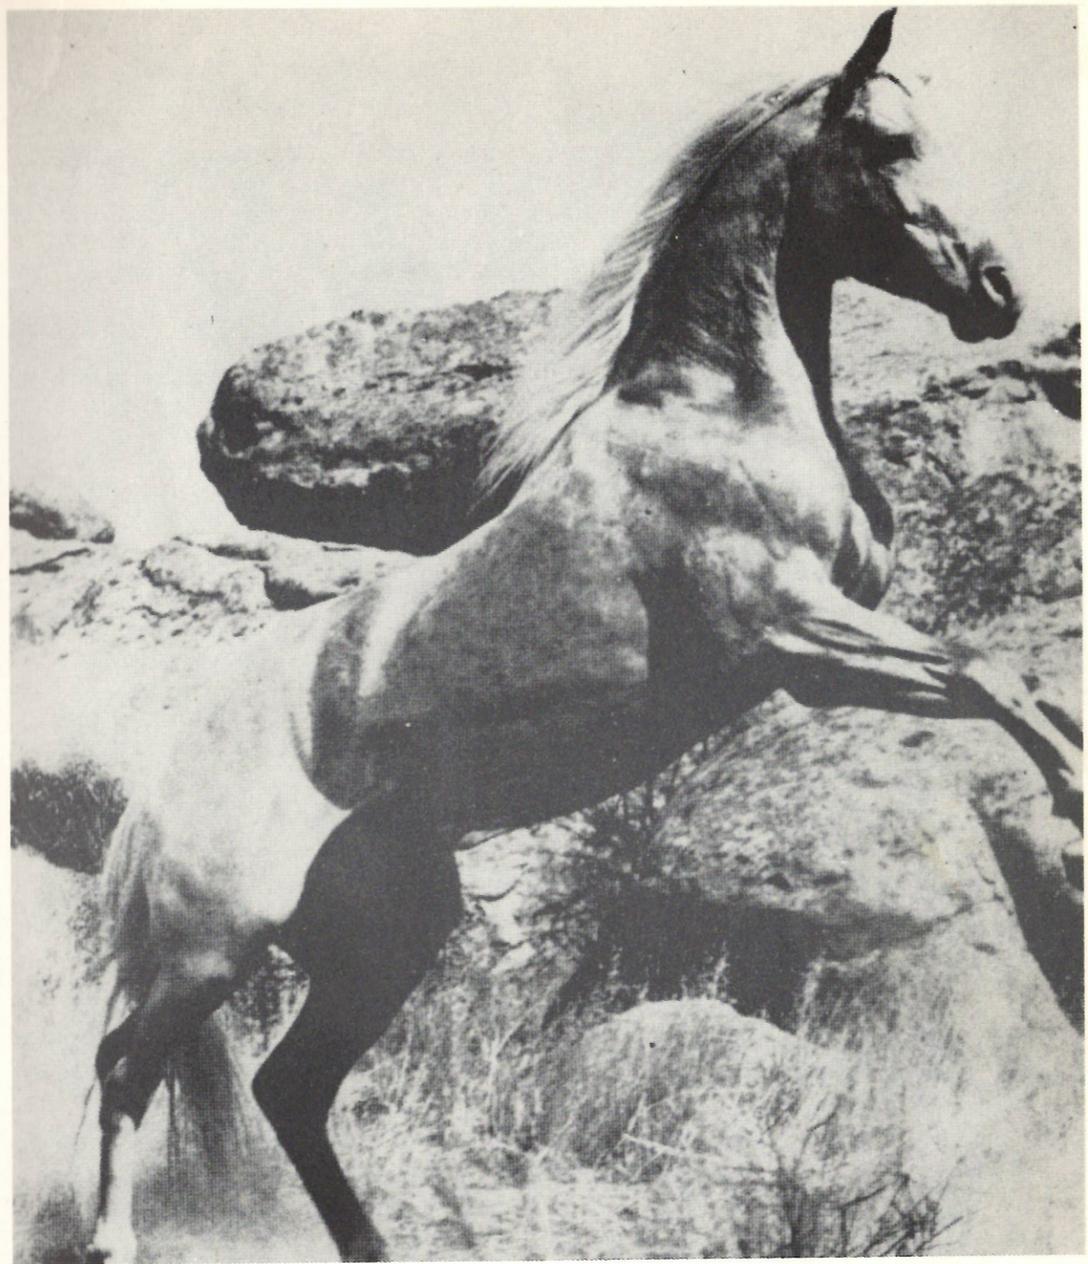

Juanita Williams

Dedication

We are proud of our board member--- prouder than mere words can express. We are indebted to him for being ever alert to the physical needs of our school, for his understanding and for his untiring efforts to give the boys and girls of Hackberry High the best training possible to cope with the problems of life. He has proved a friend to students, teachers, and the community.

Mr. Sanner, we love you--we are proud of you. We humbly dedicate this 1954 ROUND-UP to you as a living memorial of your unfailing interest in the progress of education.
