Junior Prophecy

We see Randy, Hugh Hefner, Scroggins, retiring from EnviroSolutions after 35 years of service...saves up enough money to buy the building next to T-Shaques. With business going great, he saves enough money to buy out all of Robert's businesses and hires Jordan, Josh, and Brandon to work for him as security. We see Josh, they can't do that, Trahan going to work for Randy - telling those with fake ID's - they can't do that. On his days off, Josh tries to pursue a career as a tattoo artist, but with his impatience gets the best of him...Sorry Josh! You can't do that. We see Jordan, the Waffle House knockoff, Storm going to work for Waffle House. On those late nights flipping pancakes, he sometimes has to referee the parking lot fights. 35 years down the road, he goes to work for Randy as a security officer. Brandon, Dude whatever, Alleman graduating and coming back to school to steal Juke's job. He dedicated 35 years of service to the school as secretary...but when Randy calls and offers him the job of a lifetime, he cannot resist. He is now known as the "Big Bouncer". Aaron, Wanna trade?, Jinks: with his fascination with trading, he buys F Bay and adds the trade feature - Before getting his new site up and running again, he renames it "ABay". He was also featured on Hurricane Chris's new track, A Jay Jay. Tiffany, I'm smarter than you, Caudill buying stock in the dollar store. With her smarts, she began putting dollar store items on ABay. She makes millions. She then invests her profits into a new port-o-let cleaning fluid called Smurf Juice. We see Lexi, I'm a true sofia, Simon, graduating high school and joining the Army...I guess now she can truly be a real soldier. Casey, Where's the fish at, Romero going to work on a shrimp boat offshore. One night a storm came and flipped the boat. Casey washed on shore of a deserted island...during his time here he found a volleyball that he named Wilson. We see Kandace, It's hot in here, Young going to Lamar with the rest of the crew. One night, all the girls went to a Nelly concert...needless to say...he recruited Kandace as his new backup dancer for his hit - It's Getting Hot in Here! Charmayne, I don't think so, Barentine attending Lamar for dental hygiene - but when Mr. Stinky Breath comes in for a cleaning from Charmayne, she said, "I don't think so!" Since all Charmayne's plans washed down the drain, she decides to call up Kandace and joins her in the Nelly crew. Eh Eh Charmayne, Eh Eh, Kimberly, Bayou Convenience Manager, Trahan graduating high school and going to Lamar. It doesn't take long for Kimbo to see college isn't for her and moves back to the "good ole bayou". She steals Pat's job as manager at Bayou Convenience and lives here in JB for the rest of her life married to DJ. Destiny, Let me call Judd first, Sommer going to Lamar and graduating as an elementary teacher. She and Judd get married and start a family. Soon, they have enough kids to form their own basketball team. Destiny finds her calling designing sports jerseys for the kids. You can also see Destiny's latest designs in the Fashion Department of Bayou Convenience.

Senior Will

I, Aaron Jinks, will my "Little Buds" Austin, Dylan, and Blake: my BB skills. Lead the team. To Keylee and Gracie, my study skills and ability to mow a lawn in record time. Make me Proud!!!! To the BB team, my encouragement and support. You have the talent. "Bring it to the Court!!" To Dustin, thanks for your friendship and the good times. Mrs. Stacey, thanks for letting me crash at your house. You probably thought, man did I take this kid to raise!!! To all my friends, my ability to keep school traditions alive and keep making lasting memories. Life is too short to sweat the small stuff, live for today. To my parents, family, and friends my love and appreciation. Thanks for being there for me through everything. You're the best! I, Jordan Storm, want to thank my Mom, Paw Paw, Uncle Kurt, Chris, and Barbara for all the things they did for me. I will Brandon my pitching ability and Jacob my wonderful bull riding skills. To Derek and Joe, keep your head up it gets easier. To Jonathan, I will you my hitting ability in baseball. I, Lexie Simon, will Nicholas, Trac, Brandon and Skylar the confidence to stay strong and believe in yourself. Christy, the courage to always stand up for yourself. You've been like a sister. Mom and Dad, Ya'll are my strength... thanks for always pushing me and catching me when I fall. I Love Ya'll Tara, I will you the courage and strength to start a great life. Keep your head up, good things will come. - love ya sis. Sherry Landry, you help me to stay strong. I know now you're watching down... I miss you. Kendra, thank you so much for staying by my side through everything. You have helped me become a better person. Aunt Juanita, thank you for telling me I could succeed in anything I set my mind to. Mr. Reynolds, I wouldn't have made it here without all of your help. Junior Class, in life you must go through hard things to become stronger... so I will ya'll the strength, courage, and faith with everyday that comes. Senior Class, Thank you for all the great times, please be careful and live life to the fullest. I, Brandon Alleman, thank my parents for giving me that extra push, and to all my teachers for helping me through everything. Mrs. Anne, thanks for taking me under your wing my junior year. Josh Trahan, I will you the power to pass the GEE and to stay off of Tibia & my ability not to bleed and whine about a tattoo. To Jonathan, the ability to field a baseball as well as me and the ability to throw it from second to first. To Nathan, my power to hit homeruns in practice we all know it's the only time I hit the ball. Lil Brandon, my ability to throw the ball as hard as I do. We both know that it's not accurate. To Colton, my ability to catch a pop fly and the ability to throw the ball right and to stop throwing like a girl. Dustin, my ability to pass the rock. I, Josh Trahan, do hereby will to Jonathan my ability to not play every sport known to man. To Nathan, I will my ability to get to school on time. To D-Bo, my good grades in geometry. To Michael, I will my ability to dunk from the free-throw line, with two hands. To Jacob, I will my ability not to hit the ditch every time he drives. To all my friends, I will my eternal friendship. For my cousins still in school, I will you all the willpower to stay in school and finish. And most of all to God thanks for all the blessings in my life and for the determination he has given me to not give up. And last, I will all my books back to school, because I sure don't want to look at them anymore. I, Tiffany Caudill, will the following: Miranda, the strength to get through the next couple of years without causing bodily harm to yourself or mental harm to others. When you get to where I am now I will you the ability to get as far from here as possible. Holla! Allison, you are pretty much my double, therefore the whole package and need nothing willed to you. Just kidding. If you ever feel "weird" or "different", it's because you are. Don't ever be ashamed of that. Embrace it and never feel like you have to fit in. Zach, when others give you trouble, get even instead of telling. Call me if you need some ideas. Mrs. Juanita, I would will you organization, but I cannot will to you what I do not do myself. Mrs. Julie, I will you two new office aides competent enough to take the place of me and Brandon. You have to have someone to stare at you blankly while the phone rings. To everyone else, it's been... interesting. Oh and Eden, the ability to be in everyone's senior will this year. I, Destiny Sommer give a special thanks to those who have had a profound impact on my life throughout the years. God, for giving me the strength to make it through all of life's trials and tribulations. My parents, for the long talks and advice when I needed it. My Grandparents for being there both spiritually and physically, as well as my teachers for everything you all have done for J.B. Dylan thank you for all the memories you allowed me to make, you are a great athlete and I will you responsibility, so you can remember to do your work. Charles, Cody, and Tyler thanks for everything. My cousins Dustin, Austin, Blake, and Caige, my ability to stay out of trouble. To Maddy, Haleigh, Whitney, Katie, and Sarah, stay away from drama. Judd and his family, thanks for the love and support throughout the years, you are all great. To Tabby, I will you the ability to go with the "some things are better left unsaid" saying, it will keep you out of trouble. To Wes, Colton, and Nathan thanks for being there for me. To the Lady Rebels, for the memories, also I will you all the ability to deal with drama, with a team full of girls there is no dodging it. To the class of 2008, thanks for all the memories, and good luck in the future! I, Kandace Young, want to thank my mom and dad for being there for me through everything. I love you both very much. To Damian- the patience to take one day at a time, these are the best years of your life, cherish them. Also the ability to decide if you want to be Michael Jordan or Pimp Master D, and to stop texting nanny and saying "Nanny I NEED to go to town". Never forget that all girlfriends are subject to my approval. I LOVE YOU SO MUCH! Eden- the ability to stay out of FEMA campers on Halloween, ha just playing, and to keep the parties fun when me and Charmayne aren't around. Have a great senior year, it goes by so fast. And never forget we will always be porkers for life. I LOVE YOU! Lexie Call- the ability to live life to the fullest and keep your head up and be the strong girl I know you are. Sometimes life is tough but always goes back to your true friends and family, also the ability to excel in dance and enjoy it. Know that I am always here for you, I'm only a phone call away. I LOVE YOU! Charmayne Barentine, thank my parents for everything. You pushed me to succeed in everything I participated in. I truly appreciate your patience and I love you both very much. Skylar, I leave my basketball jersey, bring forth your hard work and success that I know is in you, have the ability to conquer great feats on the court, allow criticisms to be a driving force to help increase your will succeed. Morgan, the ability to realize your potential. You are a much disciplined athlete, much like myself, have fun, before long you will be graduating, looking back on many wonderful game times. You will always be my "LITTLE BOG". Alexis, never feel any less of yourself because of what you fear others may think. Not all criticism is meant to harm. I was once told, "Criticisms, if accepted, can help you to surpass your own expectations." To the Lady Rebels- thanks for an awesome year, filled with fun memories, outstanding victories, and friendships. I will miss you all dearly. For me- never give up, put your minds to it, and you WILL succeed! Coach Todd and Coach Dale, thank you for a very memorable year. You believed and NEVER did give up!!! Thanks for faith and confidence at a time when others didn't. You pulled us through and continued to believe in us. I, Kimberly Trahan, thank God for letting me get through these 13 years of school. I will to Shelby and Gaylin my car and a tank full of gas to get you back and forth to school. To Eden, my patience to take a minute and chill. To Tabby, my burger flipping ability. To Jonathan, Dustin and Wesley, the power to find a girl and stick to them. To Michael Newkirk, my everlasting love and friendship. I'll miss you and put a good word in for me up there. To Skylar, my SB ability 'cause we know I'm the best. To Morgan, Chelsea, and Dakota, my inner tubes and spot on the river. To my SB team, keep up the good work it'll be over before you think. To my BC's crew, it's been fun but ya'll are not getting rid of me that fast. Thanks to all teachers and staff for putting up with me all these years. Sorry Ms. Julie for never wearing a uniform shirt. To Mom and Dad, thanks for the love, support, and listening when I needed to talk. I love you both. Your little girl is now a woman. To the Class of 2009 - treasure the moments and be there for each other. To my Seniors of 2008, it's been great from kindergarten to now. I've loved every minute. I love ya'll very much.

To our beautiful daughter,

Kimbo, many years have gone by since those days of you crying not to go to school and our crying because we had to make you go. A dollar a day to dry those tears was the ultimate investment and has definitely paid off. Words cannot express how proud we are of the beautiful and intelligent young woman you have become.

As you begin your journey down life's bumpy road
You can only have faith in God & what plans He holds
No matter where that road may lead
There is one thing for certain indeed
We will always love and be proud of you
Whatever plans you chose to do*

*LOVE,
Dad (Mark), Mom, Morgan, Keylee, Gracie
Paw Paw Randy and Maw Maw Vickie*

Live for the moment

Before you know it, it's over
